Abstract of Information Available

Human remains representing, at least, one individual have been identified. The five lots of associated funerary objects are botanicals; ceramics; faunal; lithics; and objects placed with or near human remains. These individuals and objects were recovered from the Hamby site, 40CF214, in Coffee County, TN, by Charles Faulkner and James E. Cobb in March 1977. This site dates to the Late Middle Woodland (late Owl Hollow), post 600 CE. These individuals and objects were transferred to UTK after the excavation and retained. To our knowledge, no potentially hazardous substances have been used to treat any of the Ancestral remains or associated funerary objects.

Cultural Affiliation

Based on the information available and the results of consultation, cultural affiliation is clearly identified by the information available about the human remains and associated funerary objects described in this notice.

Determinations

Abstract of Information Available

A total of six cultural items have been requested for repatriation. The six objects of cultural patrimony are five stone tools and one clam shell disc bead. It is unknown if the collections were exposed to hazardous substances.

Of the cultural items being requested, four objects of cultural patrimony are large bifacial stone tools made from various material types (Accession 128). As of 2025, one stone tool is missing from the collection. The items were donated to UC Santa Barbara in 1960 by Mrs. Freddie Curtis. Although the exact provenience is unknown, they were reportedly collected from the vicinity of Black Canyon near Mojave in Kern County, CA. The precise date of removal from the site is also unknown, but it is believed to have occurred prior to 1960.

Of the cultural items being requested, one object of cultural patrimony is a chipped stone item made of chert (Accession 250.49). On an unknown date, the item was removed from CA–KERN–455 in Kern County, CA. It was collected by Chester King in 1977 and was later transferred to UC Santa Barbara, though the date of transfer is also unknown.

Of the cultural items being requested, one object of cultural patrimony is a single clam shell disc bead (Accession 829.Kern). The item was collected from the surface of a location referred to as the Bitter Springs site in Kern County, California. The exact provenience and identity of the collector are unknown.

The date of transfer to UC Santa Barbara is also unknown.

Determinations

The UCSB Repository for Archaeological and Ethnographic Collections has determined that:

- The six objects of cultural patrimony described in this notice have ongoing historical, traditional, or cultural importance central to the Native American group, including any constituent sub-group (such as a band, clan, lineage, ceremonial society, or other subdivision), according to the Native American traditional knowledge of an Indian Tribe or Native Hawaiian organization.

- There is a connection between the cultural items described in this notice and the Tejon Indian Tribe.

Requests for Repatriation

Additional, written requests for repatriation of the cultural items in this notice must be sent to the authorized representative identified in this notice under ADDRESSES. Requests for repatriation may be submitted by any lineal descendant, Indian Tribe, or Native Hawaiian organization not identified in this notice who shows, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the requestor is a lineal descendant or a culturally affiliated Indian Tribe or Native Hawaiian organization.

Repatriation of the cultural items in this notice to a requestor may occur on or after September 22, 2025. If competing requests for repatriation are received, the UCSB Repository for Archaeological and Ethnographic Collections must determine the most appropriate requestor prior to repatriation.
