

Nations That Did Not Submit a Comparability Finding Application and Therefore Failed To Obtain Comparability Findings for All Export and Exempt Fisheries

The following nations have fisheries on the LOFF but did not submit a comparability finding application and so are denied comparability findings for all of their fisheries on the LOFF: Benin, Haiti, Iran, and Venezuela.

Discretionary Review of Comparability Findings

In accordance with 50 CFR 216.24(h)(8)(vii), a comparability finding will be terminated or revoked if the Assistant Administrator determines that the requirements of 50 CFR 216.24(h)(6) are no longer being met. If a nation is denied a comparability finding for its fisheries, it may reapply for a comparability finding for the affected fisheries at any time after January 1, 2026.

List of Foreign Fisheries

As part of their applications for comparability findings, nations updated their 2020 Lists of Foreign Fisheries to accurately reflect their current harvesting fisheries. A copy of the LOFF reflecting these changes by nations is published on NMFS' website at <https://www.fisheries.noaa.gov/international-affairs/2025-marine-mammal-protection-act-comparability-finding-determinations>, along with a change report showing fisheries that were added, deleted, or switched since the 2020 LOFF. NMFS based its Comparability Finding determinations on the most current version of the (LOFF), as supplemented by information received from individual harvesting nations during the comparability finding application process and subsequent communications.

Imposition of Import Restrictions

With respect to a harvesting nation for which the Assistant Administrator has denied or terminated a comparability finding for a fishery, the Assistant Administrator, in cooperation with the Secretaries of the Treasury and Homeland Security, shall identify and prohibit the importation of fish and fish products into the United States from the harvesting nation caught or harvested in that fishery from the harvesting nation caught or harvested in that fishery. The Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HTS) codes associated with the prohibited fish and fish products are published here: <https://www.fisheries.noaa.gov/resource/outreach-materials/> harmonized-tariff-codes-marine-mammal-protection-act-import.

This list includes those non-specific HTS codes necessary to encompass the range of probable codes used for products subject to trade restriction. All other fish and fish products not within the scope of the import restrictions and imported under the HTS codes associated with the prohibited fish and fish products must be accompanied by a Certification of Admissibility in accordance with the provisions of 50 CFR 216.24(h)(9).

The HTS codes applicable to the products subject to the requirements of this import restriction may be revised from time to time due to updates to the HTS by the International Trade Commission. Any such changes will be notified to the trade community in accordance with U.S. Custom and Border Protection's (CBP) notification procedures. In addition, NMFS and CBP will monitor operations of the trade restriction and the certification requirement to determine if the list of affected HTS codes can be adjusted to further minimize disruption to trade while maintaining compliance with the MMPA import provisions.

Importers are advised to determine if other NMFS program requirements (e.g., Tuna Tracking and Verification Program, Seafood Import Monitoring Program) or other agency requirements (e.g., Fish and Wildlife Service, State Department, Food and Drug Administration) have Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) data reporting requirements applicable to the HTS codes identified as subject to certification under the MMPA import provisions. In such cases, the other reporting requirements still pertain, in addition to the Certification of Admissibility requirements imposed. The Certification of Admissibility is an information collection subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act and has been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under control number 0648–0651.

Previous Comparability Findings and Current Import Restrictions

In 2019, NMFS revoked the comparability findings for several Mexican gillnet fisheries within the range of the vaquita in the Upper Gulf of California. This specific fishing area refers to a line NMFS designated across the Gulf of California to differentiate the Upper Gulf from the Lower Gulf, noting that fisheries operating in the Lower Gulf were not subject to that import ban. For the purposes of the import restrictions for Mexican fisheries operating in the Upper Gulf of California, this area is defined as waters north of a straight line connecting Puertecitos Pier (30.344825, –114.636688) and Faro de Puerto Lobos (30.268379, –112.863984).

The vaquita is a species of porpoise found in the northern part of the Gulf of California that is on the brink of extinction. The decision was based on the Government of Mexico's failure to demonstrate that it has implemented and enforced a regulatory program, comparable in effectiveness to that of the United States, to govern vaquita-safe commercial fisheries operating in the Upper Gulf of California. Current trade restrictions for these fisheries will remain in effect until such time as the Government of Mexico demonstrates that actions to meet the conditions for comparability findings are implemented and enforced for the denied fisheries. Until such time as the import restrictions imposed by this action are lifted or revised, Certification of Admissibility will be required. More information for importers for fish and fish products from Mexico can be found at: <https://www.fisheries.noaa.gov/foreign/marine-mammal-protection/seafood-import-prohibitions-under-marine-mammal-protection-act>.
