

delayed effective date requirements, when an agency for good cause finds that such procedures are “impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest.” See 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B), (d)(3).

For this action, CBP finds that good cause exists to forgo Section 553’s notice and comment requirement because the amendments to the regulations are merely technical, correcting inaccurate amendatory instructions, correcting inadvertent omissions, and adding a minor, non-substantive conforming amendment implementing a technical correction to the CBTPA, as set forth in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021. For the same reasons, CBP finds that good cause exists to forgo Section 553’s 30-day delayed effective date requirement.
