SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Table of Contents

- I. Authority To Grant Waivers
- II. Public Law 115–123 and Public Law 116–20 Waivers and Alternative Requirements

I. Authority To Grant Waivers

The appropriations acts cited in the Table of Contents (Pub. L. 115–123 and Pub. L. 116–20) authorize the Secretary to waive or specify alternative requirements for any provision of any statute or regulation the Secretary administers. This includes requirements in connection with the obligation by the Secretary, or use by the recipient, of grant funds, except for requirements related to fair housing, nondiscrimination, labor standards, and the environment. HUD may also exercise its regulatory waiver authority under 24 CFR 5.110, 91.600, and 570.5.

All waivers and alternative requirements authorized in this notice are based upon a determination by the Secretary that good cause exists and the waiver or alternative requirement is not inconsistent with the overall purposes of title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5301 et seq.) (HCDA). The basis for the waiver and alternative requirement is summarized in this notice.

II. Public Law 115–123 and Public Law 116–20 Waivers and Alternative Requirements

II.A. Waiver and Alternative Requirement To Remove Citizen Advisory Committee Requirements (State of Texas Only)

The Department received a request and justification of good cause from the State of Texas to waive the alternative requirement in the second paragraph of Section V.A.3.c of the notice published in 84 FR 45838 on August 30, 2019 (“the August 2019 Notice”), which requires CDBG–MIT grantees to form one or more citizen advisory committees. These committees are required to meet at least twice a year and solicit and respond to public comments, serving a function to provide increased transparency to the public on the use of the CDBG–MIT allocation. This waiver, as further described below, applies to the following grants allocated to the State: CDBG–MIT for disasters occurring in 2015 to 2017 funded by Public Law 115–123 and subject to the requirements in the August 2019 Notice, as modified by the noticed published in 85 FR 60821 on September 28, 2020 (“the September 2020 Notice”), and CDBG–MIT for disasters occurring in 2018 funded by Public Law 116–20 and subject to the requirements in 86 FR 561 on January 6, 2021 (“the January 2021 Notice”) and the August 2019 Notice and September 2020 Notice. This waiver request aligns with HUD’s requirements included in the notice titled, Common Application, Waivers, and Alternative Requirements for Community Development Block Grant Disaster Recovery Grantees: The Universal Notice, published on January 8, 2025, at 90 FR 1754, as amended by Memorandums 2025–02<sup>1</sup> and 2025–03<sup>2</sup> (“The Universal Notice”). Section III.A.6.a of the Universal Notice does not require the use of citizen advisory committees but instead encourages their use as a means to gather feedback and recommendations from the public at least annually.

The August 2019 Notice requires that following HUD’s approval of the action plan, each grantee must form one or more citizen advisory committees to meet in an open forum, at least twice a year. The primary function of these groups is to provide increased transparency to the public on use of the CDBG–MIT funds by soliciting and responding to public comments and serving as an on-going public forum to continuously provide input into the CDBG–MIT funded projects and programs. Citizen advisory committees could also be a part of the process to prepare the initial CDBG–MIT action plan submitted to HUD, although not expressly required.

The State of Texas reports that despite their efforts to engage and support the citizen advisory committees, member participation and engagement have significantly decreased over the last four years, and these groups no longer serve their intended purpose. The State of Texas describes its good faith attempts to create and maintain citizen advisory committees to include: soliciting membership applications from the public and non-profit sectors across different geographic regions in the state; creating two committees, with leadership positions within the committee, to allow for more stakeholder representation; and holding regularly scheduled meetings to maximize committee turnout.

Despite these efforts, the State reports that citizen advisory committees have become increasingly ineffective due to several challenges, including: a low response during the initial committee member application period; a lack of participation and low attendance at committee meetings; and a lack of interest in committee leadership roles or backfilling vacant positions. These ongoing recruitment, retention, and engagement challenges have resulted in the State spending a disproportionate amount of staff time trying to increase committee participation despite the overall decline in the committee's overall effectiveness.

After reviewing the State's request and based on the good cause provided herein, the Department is waiving the alternative requirement found in the second paragraph of Section V.A.3.c of the August 2019 Notice. HUD notes the State's efforts to try and form a successful citizen advisory group for its CDBG-MIT grants and, in alignment with Section III.A.6.a. of the Universal Notice, waives this requirement. However, if the State decides later that they do wish to work with a citizen advisory group, then the State can determine the cadence of the meetings and how the group would provide feedback to the grantee. This waiver only applies to the second paragraph of Section V.A.3.c as it relates to citizen advisory groups. The State must continue to follow the first paragraph of Section V.A.3.c as it relates to the availability and accessibility of the action plan, substantial amendments, and performance reports, as well as other citizen participation requirements in Section V.A.3.

On the basis of the record<sup>1</sup> developed in the subject investigations, the United States International Trade Commission ("Commission") determines, pursuant to the Tariff Act of 1930 ("the Act"), that an industry in the United States is materially injured by reason of imports of sol gel alumina-based ceramic abrasive grains from China, provided for in subheading 2818.10.20 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States, that have been found by the U.S. Department of Commerce ("Commerce") to be sold in the United States at less than fair value ("LTFV") and subsidized by the government of China.<sup>2 3</sup>

Background

The Commission instituted these investigations effective November 25, 2024, following receipt of petitions filed with the Commission and Commerce by Saint-Gobain Ceramics & Plastics, Inc., Malvern, Pennsylvania. The final phase of the investigations was scheduled by the Commission following notification of a preliminary determination by Commerce that imports of sol gel alumina-based ceramic abrasive grains from China were subsidized within the meaning of section 703(b) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1671b(b)). Notice of the scheduling of the final phase of the Commission's investigations and of a public hearing to be held in connection therewith was given by posting copies of the notice in the Office of the Secretary, U.S. International Trade Commission, Washington, DC, and by publishing the notice in the Federal Register on June 2, 2025 (90 FR 23359). The public hearing in connection with the investigations, originally scheduled for August 7, 2025, was cancelled.<sup>4</sup>

The Commission made these determinations pursuant to §§ 705(b) and 735(b) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1671d(b) and 19 U.S.C. 1673d(b)). It completed and filed its determinations in these investigations on September 19, 2025. The views of the Commission are contained in USITC Publication 5669 (September 2025), entitled Sol Gel Alumina-Based Ceramic Abrasive Grains from China: Investigation Nos. 701-TA-750 and 731-TA-1728 (Final).
