Notice of Proposed Issuance of Letter of Offer Pursuant to Section 36(b)(1) of the Arms Export Control Act

Annex

Item No. vii

(vii) Sensitivity of Technology:

1. The Switchblade 300 (SB300) is a loitering, self-contained, tube-launched, lightweight, man-portable, day/night, direct-fire precision guided-missile system. It is capable of line-of-sight and beyond line-of-sight engagements, enabled by a live video feed from the missile to the fire control system (FCS).

This capability provides small tactical units with organic, responsive precision fires. An operator can fly to the target area, loiter, wave off, or engage a target. A small, forward-firing fragmentation warhead defeats stationary or moving personnel and light vehicles while reducing potential collateral damage.

2. The highest level of classification of defense articles, components, and services included in this potential sale is Controlled Unclassified Information.

3. If a technologically advanced adversary were to obtain knowledge of the specific hardware and software elements, the information could be used to develop countermeasures that might reduce weapon system effectiveness or be used in the development of a system with similar or advanced capabilities.

4. A determination has been made that the recipient can provide substantially the same degree of protection for the sensitive technology being released as the U.S. Government. This sale is necessary in furtherance of the U.S. foreign policy and national security objectives outlined in the Policy Justification.

5. All defense articles and services listed in this transmittal have been authorized for release and export to the recipient.
