Abstract of Information Available

Human remains representing, at least, two individuals have been identified. The 41 lots of associated funerary objects are ceramics, lithics, shell, bone, soil samples, organics, radiocarbon samples, and daub. The materials associated with 40HA210, Lupton Site, Heritage Place Tract were excavated in Chattanooga, Hamilton County, Tennessee, by Dr. Nicholas Honerkamp and R. Bruce Council of UTC's Jeffrey L. Brown Institute of Archaeology in two phases of excavations in November 1984 and April 1985. Excavated materials, not including Ancestral remains were housed at UTC. Project reports from 1985 and 1990 indicate Ancestral remains were transferred to the McClung Museum of Natural History and Culture at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville (UTK), where they were housed until they were transferred to UTC on May 15, 2025. There are no known potentially hazardous substances used to treat any of the Ancestral remains or associated funerary objects.

Cultural Affiliation

Based on the information available and the results of consultation, cultural affiliation is clearly identified by the information available about the human remains and associated funerary objects described in this notice.

Determinations

The UTC has determined that:

- The human remains described in this notice represent the physical remains of two individuals of Native American ancestry.

- The 41 lots of objects described in this notice are reasonably believed to have been placed intentionally with or near individual human remains at the time of death or later as part of the death rite or ceremony.
