SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: NSF is publishing this new system of records notice (SORN) for the system entitled, "Standard Application Process (NSF-83)," to support the collection and maintenance of requests submitted by researchers and other individuals for access to confidential data assets held by certain federal agencies and units comprising the United States Federal Statistical System, as required by section 303(a) of the Foundations for Evidence-Based Policymaking Act of 2018 (the Act), 44 U.S.C. 3583.<sup>1</sup> In

<sup>1</sup> The current participating member agencies and units of the U.S. Federal Statistical System are listed but non-participating agencies, including those not in the United States Federal Statistical System have the ability to apply to participate: Federal Bureau of Economic Analysis (Department of Commerce); Bureau of Justice Statistics (Department of Justice); Bureau of Labor Statistics (Department of Labor); Bureau of Transportation Statistics (Department of Transportation); Census

December 2022, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) fulfilled the Act's requirement to establish a standard application process (SAP), including a SAP program management office (PMO), which serves to standardize project-related governance processes and facilitate sharing of resources, information, and tools between SAP working groups and the portal developers.

The NSF National Center for Science and Engineering Statistics (NCSES), as one of the Federal Statistical System agencies, has been designated by OMB to carry out the PMO responsibilities for the SAP, which includes the establishment of this Privacy Act system of records to support the SAP. The SAP marks an important milestone for the federal statistical system. For the first time, primary statistical agencies and units have coordinated and agreed to use the same application (i.e., common form) for access to their restricted-use data assets.

Applications with the SAP must be for a statistical purpose and will be reviewed by the agency or agencies with ownership of the data. Applicants can use the SAP to apply for access to data from multiple agencies for the same project and track the application as it moves through the review process. The SAP collects information about individuals, as needed to assess or determine whether their requests for access to data can be granted, consistent with applicable privacy and confidentiality restrictions under Federal law, which will vary from agency to agency (for example, an agency may need to know citizenship status in cases where data access is legally limited to U.S. citizens). Participating agencies each have their own data security training which covers the handling of Personally Identifiable Information within their agencies. For Bureau (Department of Commerce); Center for Behavioral Health Statistics and Quality (Department of Health and Human Services); Economic Research Service (Department of Agriculture); Energy Information Administration (Department of Energy); Microeconomic Surveys Unit (Federal Reserve Board); National Agricultural Statistics Service (Department of Agriculture); National Animal Health Monitoring System (Department of Agriculture); National Center for Education Statistics (Department of Education); National Center for Health Statistics (Department of Health and Human Services); National Center for Science and Engineering Statistics (National Science Foundation); Office of Research, Evaluation, and Statistics (Social Security Administration); and Statistics of Income Division (Internal Revenue Service). These agencies shall be responsible for publishing their own SORNs if they choose to establish and maintain any additional or separate agency system(s) of records to track or evaluate requests (applications) received through the SAP by NSF.

questions about specific programs, datasets, or data files, applicants are asked to contact the data-owning agency or agencies. When an application is approved, the authorizing agency will guide the user through the process of gaining access. Users with questions about existing applications or arrangements for use of restricted-use data should contact the relevant agency directly.

This SORN describes below what records about individuals are to be collected and maintained in the system (e.g., applications for access to data assets, system account information, and other system records documenting the review and grant or denial of such applications), and how these records are to be used, shared, and secured. Application data to be collected through the SAP is limited to information that is relevant and reasonably necessary for a participating statistical agency or unit to determine whether to grant or deny access to data assets, consistent with applicable law, regulation, and policy governing such access. The collection of these records through the SAP online portal has already been approved by OMB under the Paperwork Reduction Act (see OMB Control No. 3145-0271).

The system does not duplicate any other existing NSF or Government-wide systems of records under the Privacy Act. In accordance with subsection (r) the Privacy Act, at 5 U.S.C. 552a(r), and Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular No. A-108, in addition to publication in the Federal Register, NSF has also submitted notice of the establishment of this system of records to OMB and to the appropriate Congressional committees. All NSF SORNs, including this one may be viewed at www.nsf.gov/privacy.
