

change seeks to clarify the terms of the one-month fee waiver for Cboe Silexx. The proposed change clarifies the terms of the Silexx fee schedule by removing language regarding the proration of monthly fees. Further, the proposed change clarifies the terms of the one-month fee waiver of Cboe Silexx by describing that the fee waiver applies only for the calendar month in which the subscription began and therefore may be for less than 30 days. Additionally, the proposed change is not unfairly discriminatory because it applies equally to all new users of the Cboe Silexx in that no new User will be entitled to a prorated monthly fee or a fee waiver outside of the calendar month in which the subscription to Cboe Silexx began. The Exchange believes that by increasing the consistency and clarity of the Cboe Silexx fee schedule, the proposed changes promote just and equitable principles of trade and remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system.

Finally, the Exchange notes that use of the Cboe Silexx is discretionary and not compulsory, as Users can choose to route orders, including to Cboe Options, without the use of the Cboe Silexx. Indeed, Cboe Silexx is not an exclusive means of trading, and if market participants believe that other products, vendors, front-end builds, etc. available in the marketplace are more beneficial or cost effective than Cboe Silexx, they may simply use those products instead, including for routing orders to the Exchange, indirectly or directly. The Exchange makes Cboe Silexx available as a convenience to market participants, who will continue to have the option to use any order entry and management system available in the marketplace to send orders to the Exchange and other exchanges; the platforms are merely alternatives offered by the Exchange.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed fee schedule changes will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. The proposed fee schedule changes will not impose any burden on intramarket competition that are not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act because the proposed changes will apply to similarly situated participants uniformly, as described above.

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed fee schedule changes will impose any burden on intermarket competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act because the proposed changes apply only to Cboe Options. Additionally, Cboe Silexx is similar to types of products that are widely available throughout the industry, at similar prices. Further, the proposed fee schedule changes relate to an optional platform. As discussed, the use of the platform continues to be completely voluntary and market participants will continue to have the flexibility to use any entry and management tool that is proprietary or from third-party vendors, and/or market participants may choose any executing brokers to enter their orders. Cboe Silexx is not an exclusive means of trading, and if market participants believe that other products, vendors, front-end builds, etc. available in the marketplace are more beneficial than Cboe Silexx, they may simply use those products instead, including for routing orders to the Exchange, indirectly or directly. Use of the functionality is completely voluntary.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

The Exchange neither solicited nor received comments on the proposed fee schedule change.
