Abstract of Information Available

Human remains representing, at least, two individuals have been identified. The 25 associated funerary objects are two lots, faunal remains; five lots, ceramic sherds, pipe fragments, mixed items; 14 lots, chipped stone items; one lot, ground stone items; one lot, botanical materials; and two lots, freshwater shell. The locality, identified in museum records as Mouth of the Kiamichi is located in Red River County, Texas and was disturbed by Warren K. Moorehead and E.S. Byington in 1915 as part of an expedition to Texas for RSPI (then known as the Phillips Academy Department of Archaeology). It is likely that the Mouth of the Kiamichi locality represents Wright Plantation (44RR7) or Fasken Mound (41RR14), which are also known collectively as the Kiomatia Mounds; archeologists have dated these sites to 900–1250 CE and 1250–1440 CE, respectively, and acknowledge they are ancestral Caddo sites.

There is no known presence of any potentially hazardous substances.

Cultural Affiliation

Based on the information available and the results of consultation, cultural affiliation is clearly identified by the information available about the human remains and associated funerary objects described in this notice.

The RSPI has determined that:

- The human remains described in this notice represent the physical remains of two individuals of Native American ancestry.
- The 25 objects described in this notice are reasonably believed to have been placed intentionally with or near individual human remains at the time of death or later as part of the death rite or ceremony.
- There is a connection between the human remains and associated funerary objects described in this notice and the Caddo Nation of Oklahoma.

Repatriation of the human remains and associated funerary objects described in this notice to a requestor may occur on or after January 15, 2026. If competing requests for repatriation are received, the RSPI must determine the most appropriate requestor prior to repatriation. Requests for joint repatriation of the human remains and associated funerary objects are considered a single request and not competing requests. #### Abstract of Information Available

Human remains representing, at least, one individual have been identified. No associated funerary objects are present. On an unknown date, the individual (VM-056) was removed from an unknown geographic location, possibly in Montgomery County, Ohio. On an unknown date, the individual was obtained by Raymond C. Vietzen (1907–1995). Vietzen, an avocational archaeologist, collector, and author, established the Indian Ridge Museum in Elyria, Ohio, and the Archaeological Society of Ohio (formerly the Ohio Indian Relic Collectors Society). The Indian Ridge Museum, founded in the 1930s, served as Vietzen's laboratory and repository, and it remained in operation until the mid-1990s. After Vietzen's death, the facility fell into disrepair, and most of the items he had acquired and housed at the museum were sold. In 1998, the Ohio Historical Society (presently the Ohio History Connection) removed ancestral human remains and some of the remaining items from the facility and temporarily housed them at the Ohio Historical Society. In October of 2003, these remains were transferred from the Ohio Historical Society to Mercyhurst College (presently Mercyhurst University).

While there is no record regarding potentially hazardous substances having been used to treat the human remains, paper and an unidentified adhesive are present. It is unknown when the paper and adhesives were applied. The human remains may have been treated with an unidentified preservative coating, consolidant, or sealant. It is unknown when this unidentified substance may have been applied.
