Abstract: TSCA section 5 requires manufactures (which includes import) of a "new chemical substance" (i.e., a chemical not listed on the TSCA section 8(b) Inventory) must provide a premanufacture notice (PMN) to EPA at least 90 days prior to commencing manufacture of that chemical and that

EPA review such notice and take appropriate action. Under TSCA, the term "chemical substance" includes microorganisms; the 90-day notice for microorganisms is a Microbial Commercial Activity Notice (MCAN).

Under TSCA section 5, EPA is authorized to determine that a use of a chemical substance is a significant new use and promulgate a significant new use rule (SNUR). In certain instances, persons may pursue a significant new use, thus they must submit a notice and undergo a review. TSCA section 5 requires a significant new use notice (SNUN) from any person who proposes to manufacture or process a chemical for a use EPA determined to be a "significant new use."

TSCA section 5 requires EPA to make one of five possible determinations before concluding its review of submitted notices about risk to human health & the environment from the manufacture, processing, distribution in commerce, use and/or disposal of new chemical substances or significant new uses. EPA's determination on a new chemical substance or new use will dictate how and to what extent the chemical's manufacture, processing, distribution, use, and/or disposal may be restricted. If EPA fails to make a timely determination, fees may be refunded; however, EPA's obligation to make a determination remains. EPA requires the submitter of a PMN or MCAN inform EPA when non-exempt commercial manufacture of the substance in question begins by submitting a Notice of Commencement; EPA would then add the new chemical substance to the TSCA section 8(b) Inventory.

Persons who intend to export a substance identified in a proposed or final SNUR are subject to the export notification provisions of TSCA section 12(b), and regulations that interpret TSCA section 12(b) at 40 CFR part 707; and the associated paperwork activities and burdens approved under OMB Control No. 2070-0030 (EPA ICR No. 0795.16), "Notification of Chemical Exports—TSCA Section 12(b)".

Existing chemicals are chemicals already listed on the TSCA Inventory; and therefore "existing chemical SNURs" are often written to require notice for significant new uses of chemicals already in commerce.
