Abstract of Information Available

Human remains representing, at least, four individuals have been identified. The two associated funerary objects are pottery sherds and soil.

At minimum four individuals were believed to have been removed from a site known as Davenport Farm in Ulster County, New York sometime in the mid-20th century. The human remains and associated funerary objects were excavated from land owned by Bruce Davenport at an unknown time by archaeologist Mary Ann Niemczycki. Geographical affiliation of the Davenport Farm site is consistent with the archaeologically documented territory of the Delaware Nation, Delaware Tribe of Indians, Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe, and Stockbridge Munsee Community.

Cultural Affiliation

Based on the information available and the results of consultation, cultural affiliation is reasonably identified by the geographical location or acquisition history of the human remains and associated funerary objects described in this notice.

Determinations

The University at Buffalo, SUNY, Department of Anthropology has determined that:

- The human remains described in this notice represent the physical remains of four individuals of Native American ancestry.

- The two objects described in this notice are reasonably believed to have been placed intentionally with or near individual human remains at the time of death or later as part of the death rite or ceremony.

- There is a connection between the human remains and associated funerary objects described in this notice and the Delaware Nation, Oklahoma; Delaware Tribe of Indians; Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe; and the Stockbridge Munsee Community, Wisconsin.

Abstract of Information Available

A total of four lots of cultural items have been requested for repatriation from 22CS502 (Owl Creek/Shiloh Church Mounds). The four lots of cultural objects consist of one lot lithics, one lot Native American ceramics, one lot faunal remains, and one lot organic materials.

The site 22CS502 was excavated by MDAH archaeologist Moreau B. Chambers in 1935. The collection from this excavation was curated at Louisiana State University and transferred to MDAH in 2005.

Through Tribal consultation, these four lots of unassociated funerary objects were identified as culturally affiliated with The Chickasaw Nation. To our knowledge, no potentially hazardous substances were used to treat any of the unassociated funerary objects.

Determinations

The Mississippi Department of Archives and History has determined that:
