SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Authority for This Rulemaking

The FAA's authority to issue rules regarding aviation safety is found in Title 49 of the United States Code. Subtitle I, Section 106 describes the authority of the FAA Administrator. Subtitle VII, Aviation Programs, describes in more detail the scope of the agency's authority. This rulemaking is promulgated under the authority described in Subtitle VII, Part A, Subpart I, Section 40103. Under that section, the FAA is charged with prescribing regulations to assign the use of the airspace necessary to ensure the safety of aircraft and the efficient use of airspace. This regulation is within the scope of that authority as it modifies the Air Traffic Services (ATS) route structure as necessary to preserve the safe and efficient flow of air traffic within the National Airspace System.

History

The FAA published an NPRM for Docket No. FAA-2025-2049 in the Federal Register (90 FR 35992; July 31, 2025), proposing to establish the Helena (HLN), MT, Very High Frequency Omnidirectional Range/Tactical Air Navigation (VORTAC) as a Domestic Low Altitude Reporting Point in the state of Montana. Interested parties were invited to participate in this rulemaking effort by submitting written comments on the proposal to the FAA. No comments were received.

Incorporation by Reference

Domestic Low Altitude Reporting Points are published in paragraph 7001 of FAA Order JO 7400.11, Airspace Designations and Reporting Points, which is incorporated by reference in 14 CFR 71.1 on an annual basis. This document amends the current version of that order, FAA Order JO 7400.11K, dated August 4, 2025, and effective September 15, 2025. These amendments will be published in the next update to FAA Order JO 7400.11. FAA Order JO 7400.11K, which lists Class A, B, C, D, and E airspace areas, air traffic service routes, and reporting points, is publicly available as listed in the ADDRESSES section of this document.

The Rule

This action amends 14 CFR part 71 by establishing Helena VORTAC as a Domestic Low Altitude Reporting Point in the state of Montana. The reporting point will be located at "lat. 46°36'24.557 " N, long. 111°57'12.511" W."

Regulatory Notices and Analyses

The FAA has determined that this regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. It, therefore: (1) is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that only affects air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this rule, when promulgated, does not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Environmental Review

The FAA has determined that this action of establishing the Helena (HLN) MT, VORTAC as a Domestic Low Altitude Reporting point qualifies for categorical exclusion under the National Environmental Policy Act (42 U.S.C. 4321, et seq.) and in accordance with FAA Order 1050.1G, FAA National Environmental Policy Act Implementing Procedures, paragraph B-2.5(a) which categorically excludes from further environmental impact review rulemaking actions that designate or modify classes of airspace areas, airways, routes, and reporting points (see 14 CFR part 71, Designation of Class A, B, C, D, and E Airspace Areas; Air Traffic Service Routes; and Reporting Points); and paragraph B-2.5(k), which categorically excludes from further environmental impact review the publication of existing air traffic control procedures that do not essentially change existing tracks, create new tracks, change altitude, or change concentration of aircraft on these tracks. As such, this action is not expected to result in any potentially significant environmental impacts. The FAA has determined that no extraordinary circumstances exist that warrant preparation of an environmental assessment or environmental impact study.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

2021 Interim Final Rule

On October 7, 2021, HUD published an interim final rule titled “Extension of Time and Required Disclosures for Notification of Nonpayment of Rent” (86 FR 55693) (the “2021 interim final rule”). During the COVID–19 pandemic, Congress created the Emergency Rental Assistance (ERA) program, funded through the Department of Treasury, to assist households facing financial hardship and housing instability. ERA funding made over $46 billion available to households and landlords to assist with rent and utilities payments. HUD published the 2021 interim final rule to ensure that tenants in public housing and PBRA-assisted units who were eligible for ERA funding were afforded notice of the funding and had the opportunity to secure the funding before a lease termination for nonpayment of rent. The 2021 interim final rule addressed the COVID–19 emergency and future emergencies in three ways.

First, the 2021 interim final rule provided that during a national emergency when funding is available to assist with nonpayment of rent, the Secretary may determine that tenants facing eviction for nonpayment of rent must be provided with adequate time and notice to secure that funding. Upon the Secretary’s determination, PHAs or owners seeking to evict tenants for nonpayment of rent must provide information on accessing the funds at the direction of the Secretary. Second, the 2021 interim final rule extended the lease termination time period to at least 30 days following the above-described notification. Third, the 2021 interim final rule provided that for public housing, the Secretary may require that all tenants be provided immediate notice of the availability of emergency funding. Pursuant to the 2021 interim final rule, HUD also issued a joint Public and Indian Housing (PIH) and Housing notice on October 7, 2021 (Notices PIH 2021–29 and H 2021–06) providing supplemental guidance.

2023 Proposed Rule

On December 1, 2023, HUD published a proposed rule seeking to make the 2021 interim final rule generally applicable and no longer contingent on the existence of a national emergency or the availability of emergency rental assistance (88 FR 83877). The public comment period for the proposed rule ended on January 30, 2024. HUD received 316 comments. These comments were received from individuals, landlords, tenants, property owners (“owners”), housing agencies, housing cooperatives, non-profit housing organizations, non-profit organizations representing seniors or individuals with disabilities, housing associations, case managers for individuals experiencing homelessness, churches, law firms, etc.
