SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Twelve CFR part 5 sets forth the OCC's requirements for national banks and Federal savings associations that seek to engage in certain corporate activities and transactions, including establishing, changing the structure of or the activities performed by, and dissolving OCC-supervised institutions. The filing requirements differ depending on the nature of corporate activity or transaction, ranging from a full application before engaging in an activity or transaction to an after-the-fact notification for informational purposes.

While all similarly categorized corporate activities and transactions are generally subject to identical filing requirements, the OCC's licensing regulations provide expedited review of filings and modified filing requirements in certain circumstances (expedited or reduced filing procedures). The OCC first introduced these expedited or reduced filing procedures in 1996, when the regulations in 12 CFR part 5 were amended to include expedited procedures for certain filings by “eligible banks.”¹ The 1996 amendments also established notice procedures, rather than applications, for certain filings by national banks that were “adequately capitalized” or “well capitalized,” as those terms are defined in the prompt corrective action (PCA) framework set forth in 12 CFR part 6.² Over time, the OCC has amended and expanded these expedited or reduced filing procedures, with current 12 CFR part 5 providing expedited or reduced filing procedures to OCC-supervised institutions that are: (1) either an “eligible bank” or “eligible savings association,” or (2) both “well managed” and “well capitalized.” These procedures reduce the baseline burden for OCC-supervised institutions that satisfy the eligibility criteria, as there is either less burden in preparing the requisite filing for the OCC, reduced
