INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

[Investigation No. 731–TA–1738 (Final)]

Polypropylene Corrugated Boxes From Vietnam; Determination

On the basis of the record¹ developed in the subject investigation, the United States International Trade Commission (“Commission”) determines, pursuant to the Tariff Act of 1930 (“the Act”), that an industry in the United States is materially injured by reason of imports of polypropylene corrugated boxes (“PC boxes”) from Vietnam, provided for in subheading 3923.10.90 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States, that have been found by the U.S. Department of Commerce (“Commerce”) to be sold in the United States at less than fair value (“LTFV”).^{2,3}

Background

The Commission instituted this investigation effective March 18, 2025, following receipt of petitions filed with the Commission and Commerce by CoolSeal USA Inc., Perrysburg, Ohio; Intoplast Group Corporation, Livingston, New Jersey; SeaCa Plastic Packaging, Kent, Washington; and Technology Container Corp., Desoto, Texas, alleging that an industry in the United States is materially injured and threatened with material injury by reason of subsidized imports of PC from China and LTFV imports of PC boxes from China and Vietnam. The Commission scheduled the final phase of the investigation following notification of preliminary determinations by Commerce that imports of PC boxes from China were being sold at LTFV within the meaning of 733(b) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1673b(b)) and subsidized within the meaning of section 703(b) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1671b(b)). Notice of the scheduling of the final phase of the Commission’s investigations and of a public hearing to be held in connection therewith was given by posting copies of the notice in the Office of the Secretary, U.S.

International Trade Commission, Washington, DC, and by publishing the notice in the Federal Register on August 26, 2025 (90 FR 41595).⁴ The public hearing in connection with the investigations, scheduled for January 21, 2026, was cancelled.⁵

The investigation schedules became staggered when Commerce did not align its antidumping duty investigation with respect to PC boxes from Vietnam with its antidumping and countervailing duty investigations with respect to PC boxes from China and reached earlier final determinations on imports of PC boxes from China. On March 9, 2026, the Commission issued final affirmative determinations in its antidumping and countervailing duty investigations of PC boxes from China (91 FR 11988, March 11, 2026). Following notification of a final determination by Commerce that imports of PC boxes from Vietnam were being sold at LTFV within the meaning of section 735(a) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1673d(a)), notice of the supplemental scheduling of the final phase of the Commission’s antidumping duty investigation with respect to PC boxes from Vietnam was given by posting copies of the notice in the Office of the Secretary, U.S. International Trade Commission, Washington, DC, and by publishing the notice in the Federal Register of May 29, 2026 (91 FR 32093).

The Commission made this determination pursuant to § 735(b) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1673d(b)). It completed and filed its determination in this investigation on July 6, 2026. The views of the Commission are contained in USITC Publication 5759 (July 2026), entitled Polypropylene Corrugated Boxes from Vietnam: Investigation No. 731–TA–1738 (Final).

By order of the Commission.

Issued: July 6, 2026.

Lisa Barton,

Secretary to the Commission.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Effective September 25, 2025, the Commission established a general schedule for the conduct of the final phase of its investigations on silicon metal from Angola, Laos, Thailand, Australia, and Norway (90 FR 54365, November 26, 2025) following preliminary determinations by the U.S. Department of Commerce (“Commerce”) that imports of silicon metal from Laos and Thailand were being subsidized by the government of Laos and Thailand (90 FR 46384 and 90 FR 46388, September 26, 2025) and imports of silicon metal from Angola and Laos were being sold in the United States at less than fair value (“LTFV”) (90 FR 46807 and 90 FR 46810, September 30, 2025). Notice of the scheduling of the final phase of the Commission’s investigations and of a public hearing to be held in connection therewith was given by posting copies of the notice in the Office of the Secretary, U.S. International Trade Commission, Washington, DC, and by publishing the notice in the Federal Register on November 26, 2025 (90 FR 54365).¹ All persons who requested the ² 91 FR 29457 (May 20, 2026).

⁴ Due to the lapse in appropriations and ensuing cessation of Commission operations, the Commission tolled its schedule for this proceeding. The schedule was revised in subsequent notices published in the Federal Register on November 26, 2025 (90 FR 54369) and December 18, 2025 (90 FR 59202).

On February 23, 2026, Commerce published in the Federal Register its final affirmative countervailing duty determinations with respect to silicon metal from Laos and Thailand (91 FR 8425 and 91 FR 8436, February 23, 2026) and antidumping duty determinations with respect to silicon metal from Angola and Laos (91 FR 8407 and 91 FR 8419, February 23, 2026). The Commission subsequently issued its final determinations that an industry in the United States was materially injured by reason of imports of silicon metal from Laos that were found by Commerce to be sold in the United States at LTFV and subsidized by the government of Laos. The Commission also determined that an industry in the United States was threatened with materially injured by reason of imports of silicon metal from Angola that were found by Commerce to be sold in the United States at LTFV. The Commission further determined that imports of silicon metal from Thailand found by Commerce to be subsidized by the government of Thailand were negligible and terminated the countervailing duty investigation concerning Thailand. (91 FR 18004, April 9, 2026).

On June 30, 2025, Commerce published in the Federal Register its final affirmative countervailing duty and antidumping duty determinations with respect to imports of silicon metal from Australia and Norway (91 FR 39593, 91 FR 39597, 91 FR 39598, and 91 FR 39601, June 30, 2026). Accordingly, the Commission currently is issuing a supplemental schedule for the final phase of its investigations on imports of silicon metal from Australia and Norway.

This supplemental schedule is as follows: the deadline for filing supplemental party comments on Commerce's final antidumping and countervailing duty determinations is 5:15 p.m. on July 10, 2026. Supplemental party comments may address only Commerce's final determinations regarding imports of silicon metal from Australia and Norway. These supplemental final comments may not contain new factual information and may not exceed five (5) pages in length. The supplemental staff report in the final phase of this proceeding will be placed in the nonpublic record on July 27, 2026, and a public version will be issued thereafter.

For further information concerning this proceeding see the Commission's notice cited above and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, part 201, subparts A and B (19 CFR part 201), and part 207, subparts A and C (19 CFR part 207).

Additional written submissions to the Commission, including requests pursuant to section 201.12 of the Commission's rules, shall not be accepted unless good cause is shown for accepting such submissions, or unless the submission is pursuant to a specific request by a Commissioner or Commission staff.

In accordance with sections 201.16(c) and 207.3 of the Commission's rules, each document filed by a party to the proceeding must be served on all other parties to the proceeding (as identified by either the public or BPI service list), and a certificate of service must be timely filed. The Secretary will not accept a document for filing without a certificate of service.
