SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34–106139; File No. SR–NASDAQ–2026–064]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of a Proposed Rule Change To Amend Equity 4, Rule 4120 Regarding Trading Halts

August 14, 2026.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (''Act''),[1] and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[2] notice is hereby given that on August 3, 2026, The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC (''Nasdaq'' or ''Exchange'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''SEC'' or ''Commission'') the proposed rule change as described in Items I and II below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to amend the previously approved but not yet operative Equity 4, Rule 4120 to update that rule text to reflect intervening rule changes incorporated in Nasdaq's current operative Rule 4120. Nasdaq also proposes to make related conforming changes to other Nasdaq rules.

While these amendments are effective upon filing, the Exchange has designated the proposed amendments to be operative on August 10, 2026.

The text of the proposed rule change is available on the Exchange's website at https://listingcenter.nasdaq.com/rulebook/nasdaq/rulefilings, and at the principal office of the Exchange.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

Nasdaq proposes to amend Equity 4, Rule 4120 to make operative the rule framework that the Commission previously approved in SR–Nasdaq–2022–017,[3] as amended, and to update that approved but not yet operative rule text so that it reflects amendments that have been incorporated into Nasdaq's current operative Rule 4120 since approval of that filing. Nasdaq also proposes related conforming changes to other Nasdaq rules that reference Rule 4120.

Although the Commission approved that framework, the rule text did not become operative immediately. Implementation of the revised halt framework was dependent on industry readiness, including readiness by other exchanges to implement corresponding changes. During the period in which the approved Rule 4120 framework remained inoperative, Nasdaq continued to amend its current operative Rule 4120 through separate rule changes. As a result, the previously approved but dormant Rule 4120 framework must now be conformed to the current operative text of Rule 4120 before it becomes operative. To the extent the applicable rule text has not changed since the Commission's approval of SR–Nasdaq–2022–017, however, Nasdaq is not proposing substantive changes to that text, and the proposed rules remain consistent with the rules approved in that filing.

This proposal is therefore designed to avoid implementing an outdated version of Rule 4120. The proposal preserves the structure and core regulatory framework approved in SR–Nasdaq–2022–017, while incorporating intervening updates that are reflected in Nasdaq's current operative Rule 4120. As proposed in SR–Nasdaq–2022–017, the Exchange would replace the entirety of the currently operative Rule 4120 with the Rule 4120 herein proposed. The Exchange believes that making these updates before the approved framework becomes operative will promote clarity, consistency, and transparency for Members, issuers, and market participants.

Background

Rule 4120 sets forth Nasdaq's authority and procedures with respect to trading halts, trading pauses, regulatory halts, operational halts, and the resumption of trading following such events. The previously approved Rule 4120 framework was designed to conform Nasdaq's rules to amendments to the Nasdaq UTP Plan, including Amendment 50,[4] which established common cross-market concepts and procedures for regulatory and operational halts. The framework incorporated UTP Plan-based definitions and concepts and reorganized Rule 4120 to address authority to initiate Regulatory Halts, procedures for initiating Regulatory Halts, Regulatory Halts initiated by other markets, resumption of trading after a Regulatory Halt, and Operational Halts. That filing was intended to harmonize certain halt and resumption procedures across self-regulatory organizations and to provide greater transparency regarding regulatory and operational halts.

The approved framework also moved certain existing provisions into a more organized structure and updated related cross-references in other Nasdaq rules.
