The U.S. Parole Commission (USPC) makes parole release decisions for eligible Federal and District of Columbia prisoners; authorizes methods of release and conditions under which release occurs; prescribes, modifies, and monitors compliance with the terms and conditions governing offenders' behavior while on parole or mandatory or supervised release; issues warrants for violation of supervision; determines probable cause for the revocation process; revokes parole, mandatory, or supervised release; releases from supervision those offenders who are no longer a risk to public safety; and promulgates the rules, regulations, and guidelines for the exercise of USPC's authority and the implementation of a national parole policy.

USPC has sole jurisdiction over the following: Federal offenders who committed offenses before November 1, 1987; DC Code offenders who committed offenses before August 5, 2000; DC Code offenders sentenced to a term of supervised release; Uniform Code of Military Justice offenders who are in Bureau of Prison's custody; transfer treaty cases; and State probationers and parolees in the Federal Witness Protection Program.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The Commission maintains an online FOIA library. Information on Freedom of Information Act requests is available online.

<http://www.justice.gov/uspc/freedom-information-act-foia/foia-library>

<http://www.justice.gov/uspc/freedom-information-act-foia> | Email: USPC.FOIA@usdoj.gov

Reading Room

The reading room is located at 90 K Street NE., Washington, DC 20530. Phone, 202-346-7000.

<http://www.justice.gov/uspc/contact-commission>

For further information, contact the U.S. Parole Commission, Department of Justice, 90 K Street NE., Washington, DC 20530. Phone, 202-346-7000.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureaus

Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives

Bureau of Prisons

Drug Enforcement Administration

Federal Bureau of Investigation

International Criminal Police Organization \(INTERPOL\)–Washington

Office of Justice Programs

United States Marshals Service

The United States Government Manual

BUREAUS

Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives

99 New York Avenue NE., Washington, DC 20226

202-648-8500

<http://www.atf.gov>

---

DIRECTOR

Marvin G. Richardson, Acting

---

Deputy Director

Marvin G. Richardson

---

<https://www.atf.gov/about-atf/executive-staff>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives protects the public from crimes involving arson, explosives, firearms, and the diversion of alcohol and tobacco products; regulates lawful commerce in explosives and firearms; and supports law enforcement, public safety, and industry partners worldwide.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On June 6, 1972, Acting Secretary of the Treasury Charles E. Walker signed an order affecting the Department's organization and procedure. Order No. 221 transferred "the functions, powers and duties of the Internal Revenue Service arising under laws relating to alcohol, tobacco, firearms, and explosives (including the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division of the Internal Revenue Service), to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms . . . which is hereby established." On June 10, 1972, Treasury Department Order 221 was published as a notice in the Federal Register (37 FR 11696).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1972-06-10/pdf/FR-1972-06-10.pdf>

On November 25, 2002, President George W. Bush approved Public Law 107–296, which also may be cited as the Homeland Security Act of 2002, "to establish the Department of Homeland Security, and for other purposes" (116 Stat. 2135). One of the other purposes was to separate the functions of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF). The alcohol and tobacco excise tax functions and regulations remained within the Department of the Treasury, and a new bureau became responsible for them. The Act also transferred ATF firearms and explosives functions to the Department of Justice and made the newly established Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATFE) responsible for them (116 Stat. 2274).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-116/pdf/STATUTE-116-Pg2135.pdf>

The ATFE posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.atf.gov/about/organization-structure>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

"Subchapter XI—Department of Justice Divisions" is part of "Chapter 1—Homeland Security Organization" in 6 U.S.C. Parts 531–533 contain codified statutory material associated with the transfer of the ATFE to the Department of Justice.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title6/chapter1/subchapter11&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that affect firearms and ammunition, explosives, alcohol and tobacco, and explosive license and permit proceedings are codified in chapter II, parts 400–799, of 27 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=c5bb1cb9dbe3c7d2134a728d6b30c7ea&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title27/27chapterII.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The ATFE enforces Federal criminal laws and regulates the firearms and explosives industries. Directly and through partnerships, the ATFE investigates and deters violent crime involving arson, firearms and explosives, and trafficking of alcohol and tobacco products. The Bureau provides training and support to its Federal, State, local, and international law enforcement partners and works primarily in 25 field divisions nationwide, including Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and Guam. It also has foreign offices in Canada, El Salvador, Mexico, and Europe.

<https://www.atf.gov/about/what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that ATFE records have been assigned to record group 436.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/436.html>

Career Opportunities

ATFE employees conduct criminal investigations and regulate the firearms and explosives industries. They also assist other law enforcement agencies, help to prevent terrorism, reduce violent crime, and protect the public in a manner that is consistent with the Constitution and the laws of the United States.

<https://www.atf.gov/careers>

In 2020, the ATFE ranked 23d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TR40>

Contact Information

Contact information for media inquiries is available on the "Media and Congressional Contacts" web page.

<https://www.atf.gov/news/media-and-congressional-contacts>

Data / Statistics

The ATFE maintains a comprehensive collection of agency-related data from national surveys, State-based surveys, other collected license statistics, and other data sources. The data reflect trends in commerce, firearms, and use of Federal services in the United States.

<https://www.atf.gov/resource-center/data-statistics>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the ATFE recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/alcohol-tobacco-firearms-and-explosives-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA provides that a person may request access to Federal agency records or information. The ATFE must disclose records that any person properly requests in writing. Pursuant to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions that the Act contains, a Federal agency may withhold certain records or parts of them. The FOIA applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by the U.S. Congress, the courts, State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.atf.gov/resource-center/freedom-information-act-foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The ATFE posts answers to FAQs on its "Questions and Answers" web page.

<https://www.atf.gov/questions-and-answers>

History

A history timeline is available on the ATFE website.

<https://www.atf.gov/our-history/atf-history-timeline>

Social Media

The ATFE maintains accounts on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.atf.gov/news/social-media>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Bureau of Prisons

320 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20534

202-307-3198

<http://www.bop.gov>

---

DIRECTOR

Michael Carvajal

---

Deputy Director

Gene Beasley

---

<https://www.bop.gov/about/agency/leadership.jsp>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The BOP was established in 1930 to provide more progressive and humane care for Federal inmates, to professionalize the prison service, and to ensure consistent and centralized administration of the 11 Federal prisons in operation at that time. Today, the Bureau comprises more than 100 institutions and 6 regional offices. The Bureau has its headquarters, also known as Central Office, in Washington, DC. The Central Office is divided into 10 divisions, including the National Institute of Corrections.

The Correctional Programs Division (CPD) is responsible for inmate classification and programming, including psychology and religious services, substance abuse treatment, case management, and programs for special needs offenders. CPD provides policy direction and daily operational oversight of institution security, emergency preparedness, intelligence gathering, inmate discipline, inmate sentence computations, receiving and discharge, and inmate transportation, as well as coordinating international treaty transfers and overseeing the special security needs of inmates placed in the Federal Witness Protection Program. CPD administers contracts and intergovernmental agreements for the confinement of offenders in community-based programs, community corrections centers, and other facilities, including privately managed facilities. CPD staff is also involved in the Bureau's privatization efforts.

The Industries, Education, and Vocational Training Division oversees Federal Prison Industries, or UNICOR, which is a wholly owned Government corporation that provides employment and training opportunities for inmates confined in Federal correctional facilities. Additionally, it is responsible for oversight of educational, occupational, and vocational training and leisure-time programs, as well as those related to inmate release preparation.

The National Institute of Corrections (NIC) provides technical assistance, training, and information to State and local corrections agencies throughout the country, as well as the Bureau. It also provides research assistance and documents through the NIC Information Center.

<https://www.bop.gov/about/agency>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

An alphabetical subject index helps visitors navigate the website's content.

https://www.bop.gov/website/a\_to\_z\_topics.jsp

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BOP records have been assigned to record group 129.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/129.html>

Business Opportunities

Information is available on the "Let's Do Business" web page.

<http://www.bop.gov/business>

Career Opportunities

Job openings are posted online. For additional career-related information, contact any regional or field office or the Central Office, 320 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20534. Phone, 202-307-3082.

<http://www.bop.gov/jobs>

In 2020, the BOP ranked 387th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJ03>

Contact Information

The BOP has a "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.bop.gov/contact>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the BOP recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/prisons-bureau>

Find an Inmate

The Department's website features a search tool for locating Federal inmates who were incarcerated after 1981.

<https://www.bop.gov/inmateloc>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The law gives a right to obtain access to Federal agency records to any person, except a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are shielded, however, from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure may cause.

<https://www.bop.gov/foia/index.jsp#tabs-0> | Email: ogc\_efoia@bop.gov

The BOP posts records online. Before filing a formal FOIA request, an information seeker should visit the BOP's "Freedom of Information" web page and view the records section to ensure that the desired information is not already freely accessible.

<https://www.bop.gov/foia/index.jsp#tabs-1>

Locations

The "Our Locations" web page features a list of locations, a search tool that requires the facility's name, and location maps (national, regional, type of facility).

<https://www.bop.gov/locations>

Population Statistics

Federal inmate population statistics are online.

https://www.bop.gov/about/statistics/population\_statistics.jsp

Reading Room

The reading room is located at the Bureau of Prisons, 320 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20534. Phone, 202-307-3029.

Resources by Audience

Resources to help Bureau of Prisons staff and their families access frequently used services are online.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/employee\_resources.jsp

Resources to help former inmates make the transition from incarceration to normal life within a community are online.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/former\_inmate\_resources.jsp

The Attorney General and the Secretary of Health and Human Services provide health management guidelines for infectious disease prevention, detection, and treatment of inmates and correctional employees who are exposed to infectious diseases in correctional facilities.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/health\_care\_mngmt.jsp

Resources to help qualified media representatives visit institutions and gather information on programs and activities or conduct interviews are online.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/media\_resources.jsp

Resources to help victims or witnesses of Federal crimes find information on complaint procedures, notifications, and payments are online.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/victim\_resources.jsp

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

https://www.bop.gov/website/site\_map.jsp

Social Media

The BOP has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/BOPCareers>

The BOP tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/officialfbop>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Drug Enforcement Administration

8701 Morrisette Drive, Springfield, VA 22152

202-307-1000

<http://www.dea.gov/index.shtml>

---

ADMINISTRATOR

Anne Milgram

---

Principal Deputy Administrator

Preston L. Grubbs

---

<https://www.dea.gov/about/dea-leadership>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) is the lead Federal agency in enforcing narcotics and controlled substances laws and regulations. The DEA also enforces the Federal money laundering and bulk currency smuggling statutes when the funds involved in the transactions or smuggling are derived from the sale of narcotics. It was created in July 1973 by Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1973 (5 U.S.C. app.).

<https://www.dea.gov/history>

The DEA enforces the provisions of the controlled substances and chemical diversion and trafficking laws and regulations of the United States, operating on a worldwide basis. It presents cases to the criminal and civil justice systems of the United States—or any other competent jurisdiction—on those significant organizations and their members involved in cultivation, production, smuggling, distribution, laundering of proceeds, or diversion of controlled substances appearing in or destined for illegal traffic in the United States. The DEA disrupts and dismantles these organizations by arresting their members, confiscating their drugs, and seizing their assets; and it creates, manages, and supports enforcement-related programs—domestically and internationally—to reduce the availability of and demand for illicit controlled substances.

The DEA's responsibilities include: investigation of major narcotic, chemical, drug-money laundering, and bulk currency smuggling violators who operate at interstate and international levels; seizure and forfeiture of assets derived from, traceable to, or intended to be used for illicit drug trafficking; seizure and forfeiture of assets derived from or traceable to drug-money laundering or the smuggling of bulk currency derived from illegal drugs; enforcement of regulations governing the legal manufacture, distribution, and dispensing of controlled substances; management of an intelligence program that supports drug investigations, initiatives, and operations worldwide; coordination with Federal, State, and local law enforcement authorities and cooperation with counterpart agencies abroad; assistance to State and local law enforcement agencies in addressing their most significant drug and drug-related violence problems; leadership and influence over international counterdrug and chemical policy and support for institution building in host nations; training, scientific research, and information exchange in support of drug traffic prevention and control; and education and assistance to the public community on the prevention, treatment, and dangers of drugs.

<https://www.dea.gov/mission>

The DEA maintains liaison with the United Nations, INTERPOL, and other organizations on matters relating to international narcotics control programs. It has 239 domestic offices in 23 Divisions nationwide, and 91 foreign offices in 68 countries.

<https://www.dea.gov/domestic-divisions>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that DEA records have been assigned to record group 170.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/170.html>

Asset Forfeiture

The DEA posts public notices of forfeiture in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading on the Department of Justice's forfeiture.gov website.

<https://www.forfeiture.gov>

Business Opportunities

The DEA obtains supplies and services through its Office of Acquisition and Relocation Management. The Office acquires supplies and services for local needs and all DEA agency-level procurements. DEA field activities also have procurement authority, but it is limited.

<https://www.dea.gov/resources/doing-business-dea> | Email: deasmallbusinessprogram@usdoj.gov

Career Opportunities

For career information, contact the nearest DEA field division recruitment office. The DEA also posts information on its "Careers" web page.

<https://www.dea.gov/careers>

In 2020, the DEA ranked 96th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJAA>

Contact Information

The DEA posts contact information on its "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.dea.gov/who-we-are/contact-us> | Email: info@dea.gov

Contact information for each of the DEA's 23 domestic divisions is available online.

<https://www.dea.gov/divisions>

Controlled Substances Act Registration

For information on registration under the Controlled Substances Act, contact the Office of Diversion Control, 8701 Morrisette Drive, Springfield, VA 22152. Phone: 800-882-9539.

<http://www.deadiversion.usdoj.gov/drugreg/index.html> | Email: DEA.Registration.Help@usdoj.gov

Data / Statistics

The DEA posts data and statistics online.

<https://www.dea.gov/resources/data-and-statistics>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the DEA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/drug-enforcement-administration>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives a right for public access to Government records. A FOIA request must be submitted in writing. The DEA generally follows the FOIA guidelines that the Department of Justice has adopted.

<https://www.dea.gov/foia>

Museum

The DEA Museum and visitors' center are located in Arlington, VA. The museum posts virtual exhibits on its deamuseum.org website. Phone, 202-307-3463.

<https://deamuseum.org/exhibits>

Press Releases

The DEA posts press releases online.

<https://www.dea.gov/what-we-do/news/press-releases>

Publications

The DEA posts various types of documents and publications online.

https://www.dea.gov/resources/documents?field\_document\_document\_type\_value=Publication

Resources

The "Resources" web page provides convenient access to data and statistics, drug information, Freedom of Information Act guidance, media galleries, and publications.

<https://www.dea.gov/resources>

Social Media

The DEA maintains Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, and Twitter accounts. A social media directory is part of the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.dea.gov/who-we-are/contact-us> | Email: DEA.Public.Affairs@usdoj.gov

Victim Witness Assistance

Victims' rights laws resulted in the implementation of the victim witness assistance program. These laws provide for fair and just treatment of crime victims, immediate emergency treatment, and referrals to appropriate adult and child service agencies. The Department of Justice also gives guidance to Federal law enforcement agencies through the Attorney General's guidelines for victim witness assistance.

<https://www.dea.gov/resources/vwap> | Email: VWAP.DEA@usdoj.gov

The Sources of Information were updated 8-2021.

Federal Bureau of Investigation

935 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20535

202-324-3000

<http://www.fbi.gov>

---

DIRECTOR

Christopher A. Wray

---

Deputy Director

Paul M. Abbate

---

<https://www.fbi.gov/about/leadership-and-structure>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is the Department of Justice's principal investigative arm. It is primarily charged with gathering and reporting facts, locating witnesses, and compiling evidence in cases involving Federal jurisdiction. It also provides law enforcement leadership and assistance to State and international law enforcement agencies.

The FBI was established in 1908 by the Attorney General, who directed that Department of Justice investigations be handled by its own staff. The Bureau is charged with investigating all violations of Federal law except those that have been assigned by legislative enactment or otherwise to another Federal agency. Its jurisdiction includes a wide range of responsibilities in the national security, criminal, and civil fields. Priority has been assigned to areas such as counterterrorism, counterintelligence, cybercrimes, internationally and nationally organized crime and drug-related activities, and financial crimes.

The FBI also offers cooperative services to local, State, and international law enforcement agencies. These services include fingerprint identification, laboratory examination, police training, the Law Enforcement Online communication and information service for use by the law enforcement community, the National Crime Information Center, and the National Center for the Analysis of Violent Crime.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FBI records have been assigned to record group 065.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/065.html>

Career Opportunities

The FBI relies on professionals with diverse expertise and skills to analyze data for the intelligence community, safeguard national security, and support the structure of the Bureau. Information on career opportunities, including student internships, is available online.

<https://www.fbjjobs.gov>

In 2020, the FBI ranked 223d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJ02>

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page provides convenient access to information for contacting FBI headquarters, field offices, and overseas offices.

<https://www.fbi.gov/contact-us>

Members of the public may report a violation of U.S. Federal law or suspected terrorism or criminal activity to the FBI.

<https://www.fbi.gov/tips>

Crime Statistics

The Uniform Crime Reporting program generates reliable statistics for use in law enforcement. It also releases information that is relevant for students of criminal justice, researchers, the media, and the public. The program has been generating crime statistics since 1930. The crime reporting program includes data from more than 18,000 city, university and college, county, State, Tribal, and Federal law enforcement agencies. Agencies participate voluntarily and submit their crime data either through a State UCR program or directly to the FBI's UCR Program.

<https://www.fbi.gov/services/cjis/ucr>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FBI recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-bureau-of-investigation>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA provides that a person may request access to Federal agency records or information. The FBI must disclose records that any person properly requests in writing. Pursuant to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions that the Act contains, a Federal agency can withhold certain records or parts of them. The FOIA applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by the U.S. Congress, the courts, State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.fbi.gov/services/information-management/foipa>

The FBI's electronic FOIA library, which contains nearly 7,000 documents and other media that have been scanned from paper and made into more accessible digital copies, is named the "Vault." The library includes new files that have been released to the public, but never added to the FBI website; dozens of records previously posted on the FBI website, but removed when requests diminished; files from the previous FBI FOIA Library; and new and previously unreleased files.

<https://vault.fbi.gov>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FBI posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.fbi.gov/about/faqs>

History

The FBI posted a brief agency history on its website.

<https://www.fbi.gov/history>

Most Wanted

The FBI maintains the official "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" list on its website.

<https://www.fbi.gov/wanted/topten>

News

The FBI posts top news stories, press releases, podcasts, radio broadcasts, speeches, and Tweets on its "News" web page.

<https://www.fbi.gov/news>

Publications

The FBI's training division maintains the "Law Enforcement Bulletin" website.

<https://leb.fbi.gov>

The FBI maintains an extensive "Reports and Publications" database.

<https://www.fbi.gov/stats-services/publications>

Resources

The "Resources" web page provides convenient access to information on business opportunities and victim services. It also has links to featured publications and frequently requested forms and services.

<https://www.fbi.gov/resources>

Safe Online Surfing

The FBI maintains a "Safe Online Surfing" website for children.

<https://www.fbi.gov/fbi-kids>

Services

Services that the FBI provides are presented on a single "Services" web page.

<https://www.fbi.gov/services>

Social Media

The FBI started its presence on social media in 2008. Today, the Bureau has dozens of pages and sites.

<https://www.fbi.gov/news/fbi-social-media-sites>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

International Criminal Police Organization

(INTERPOL)–Washington

Department of Justice, Washington, DC 20530

202-616-9000

202-616-8400

<http://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington>

---

DIRECTOR

Michael A. Hughes

---

<https://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/meet-leadership>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

INTERPOL–Washington is a separate component under the supervision of the Deputy Attorney General and comanaged with the Department of Homeland Security. It provides an essential communications link between the U.S. police community and their counterparts in the foreign member countries.

INTERPOL is an association of 190 countries that promotes mutual assistance among law enforcement authorities to prevent and suppress international crime. With no police force of its own, INTERPOL has no powers of arrest or search and seizure and, therefore, relies on the law enforcement authorities of its member countries. Each member country is required to have a national central bureau, such as INTERPOL–Washington, to act as the primary point of contact for police affairs. INTERPOL serves as a channel of communication for its member countries to cooperate in the investigation and prosecution of crime; provides a forum for discussions, working group meetings, and symposia to help police focus on specific areas of criminal activity affecting their countries; and issues information and maintains databases—supplied and used by member countries—on crime, fugitives, humanitarian concerns, missing persons, and stolen passports and vehicles.

INTERPOL–Washington has permanent staff and detailed special agents from numerous Federal law enforcement agencies. It is organized into seven divisions: the Alien and Fugitive, Counterterrorism, Drug, Economic Crimes, Human Trafficking and Child Protection, State and Local Police Liaison, and Violent Crimes Divisions.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

Information on career opportunities is available online.

<http://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/employment>

Contact Information

The "Contact the Agency" web page contains a postal address for INTERPOL–Washington.

<https://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/contact-agency>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives any person a right to access Government records. A request for information must be submitted in writing. INTERPOL–Washington, U.S. National Central Bureau, generally follows the guidelines that the Department of Justice has set forth in its FOIA reference guide.

<https://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/interpol-washington-foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

INTERPOL posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/frequently-asked-questions>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Office of Justice Programs

810 Seventh Street NW., Washington, DC 20531

202-307-0703

<http://www.ojp.gov> | Email: askojp@ojp.usdoj.gov

---

Assistant Attorney General

Amy L. Solomon, Acting

---

Principal Deputy Assistant Attorney General

Amy L. Solomon

---

<https://www.ojp.gov/about/offices/office-assistant-attorney-general-oaag>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Office of Justice Programs (OJP) was established by the Justice Assistance Act of 1984 (42 U.S.C. 3711) and reauthorized in 1994 and 2005 to provide Federal leadership, coordination, and assistance needed to make the Nation's justice system more efficient and effective in preventing and controlling crime. OJP is responsible for collecting statistical data and conducting analyses; identifying emerging criminal justice issues; developing and testing promising approaches to address these issues; evaluating program results; and disseminating these findings and other information to State and local governments.

<https://www.ojp.gov/about>

The OJP is comprised of the following bureaus and offices: the Bureau of Justice Assistance provides funding, training, and technical assistance to State and local governments to combat violent and drug-related crime and help improve the criminal justice system; the Bureau of Justice Statistics is responsible for collecting and analyzing data on crime, criminal offenders, crime victims, and the operations of justice systems at all levels of government; the National Institute of Justice sponsors research and development programs, conducts demonstrations of innovative approaches to improve criminal justice, and develops new criminal justice technologies; the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention provides grants and contracts to States to help them improve their juvenile justice systems and sponsors innovative research, demonstration, evaluation, statistics, replication, technical assistance, and training programs to increase the Nation's understanding of and improve its response to juvenile violence and delinquency; the Office for Victims of Crime administers victim compensation and assistance grant programs and provides funding, training, and technical assistance to victim service organizations, criminal justice agencies, and other professionals to improve the Nation's response to crime victims; and the Office of Sex Offender Sentencing, Monitoring, Apprehending, Registering, and Tracking (SMART) maintains the standards of the Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act as defined by the Adam Walsh Act. The SMART Office also provides technical assistance and supports innovative and best practices in the field of sex offender management.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) records have been assigned to record group 423. The OJP is one of the LEAA's successor agencies.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/423.html>

Blog

OJP Blog posts highlight OJP programs, as well as Department of Justice initiatives that support OJP's mission.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/ojp-blogs/2020-ojp-blogs>

Career Opportunities

The OJP relies on accountants, attorneys, grant and project managers, information technology specialists, policy advisors, public affairs specialists, researchers, scientists, statisticians, writers and editors, and many other professionals to carry out its mission.

<https://www.ojp.gov/about/jobs>

In 2020, the OJP ranked 337th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJ07>

Congressional Resources

Resources for Members of Congress and their staff are posted on the "For Congress" web page.

<https://www.ojp.gov/congress> | Email: OJPCongressionalAffairs@usdoj.gov

Contact

The "Contact Us" web page has a mailing address, as well as email addresses and phone numbers.

<https://www.ojp.gov/contact> | Email: askojp@ncjrs.gov

The OJP has a "For Media" web page that also contains contact information.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/for-media>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the OJP recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/justice-programs-office>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The law gives a right to obtain access to Federal agency records to any person, except a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are shielded, however, from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure may cause.

<https://www.ojp.gov/program/freedom-information-act/overview>

Juvenile Justice / Delinquency Prevention

The Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention publishes the bimonthly electronic newsletter "OJJDP News @ a Glance." This award winning newsletter highlights office activities, funding opportunities, publications, Tribal connections, and upcoming events.

<https://ojjdp.ojp.gov/news/newsletter>

News Releases

News releases are posted on the OJP website.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/news-releases>

Publications

The OJP posts publications on its website.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/publications>

Social Media

The OJP has social media accounts. The "Social Media" web page provides convenient access to all of them: Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/social-media>

State Administering Agencies

The OJP awards formula grants directly to State governments, which then set priorities and allocate funds within their respective States.

<https://www.ojp.gov/funding/state-administering-agencies/overview>

Topics

The "All Topics" web page provides convenient access to information on American Indian and Alaska Native Affairs, civil rights, corrections, courts, juvenile justice, law enforcement, research and statistics and evaluation, substance abuse and crime, technology to fight crime, and victims of crime.

<https://www.ojp.gov/topics/all-topics>

Training / Technical Assistance

The OJP offers training on and technical assistance with financial management, grant writing, and other subjects that are relevant to criminal and juvenile justice professionals and victim service providers.

<https://www.ojp.gov/training-and-technical-assistance>

Virtual Library

the National Criminal Justice Reference Service (NCJRS) is an informational resource that supports policy, program development, and research. The NCJRS Virtual Library contains bibliographic information on and abstracts of more than 230,000 collection resources and over 80,000 online materials.

<https://www.ojp.gov/ncjrs/virtual-library>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

United States Marshals Service

Department of Justice, Washington, DC 20530

703-740-1699

<http://www.usmarshals.gov>

---

DIRECTOR

Donald W. Washington

---

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/contacts/leadership.html>

---

Deputy Director

Jeffrey R. Tyler

---

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/contacts/index.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The United States Marshals Service (USMS) is the Nation's oldest Federal law enforcement agency, having served as a vital link between the executive and judicial branches of the Government since 1789. The USMS performs tasks that are essential to the operation of virtually every aspect of the Federal justice system.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/duties/factsheets/overview.pdf>

The USMS has these responsibilities: providing support and protection for the Federal courts, including security for 800 judicial facilities and nearly 2,000 judges and magistrates, as well as countless other trial participants such as jurors and attorneys; apprehending the majority of Federal fugitives; operating the Federal Witness Security Program and ensuring the safety of endangered Government witnesses; maintaining custody of and transporting thousands of Federal prisoners annually; executing court orders and arrest warrants; managing and selling seized property forfeited to the Government by drug traffickers and other criminals and assisting the Justice Department's asset forfeiture program; responding to emergency circumstances, including civil disturbances, terrorist incidents, and other crisis situations through its Special Operations Group; restoring order in riot and mob-violence situations; providing housing, transportation, and medical care of federal detainees; and operating the USMS Training Academy.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that USMS records have been assigned to record group 527.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/527.html>

Notable references to USMS activities also are found in the following National Archives record groups: 021 (records of Federal courts); 060 (letters received by the Department of Justice); 118 (records of U.S. Attorneys, and formerly U.S. Marshals); and 206 (records of the Solicitor of the Treasury).

https://www.usmarshals.gov/history/records\_assistance.htm

Business Opportunities

The USMS posts products and services that it purchases.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/business/index.html>

Career Opportunities

The USMS relies on administrative personnel, aviation enforcement officers, deputy U.S. Marshals, detention enforcement officers, and other professionals to carry out its mission.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/careers/index.html>

In 2020, the USMS ranked 92d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJ08>

Contact

The "U.S. Marshals Service Contacts" web page contains a lot of names, phone numbers, and titles.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/contacts/index.html>

The USMS posts contact information for its district offices.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/contacts/districts.html>

Factsheets

The USMS posts factsheets on its website.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/duties/factsheets/index.html>

Federal Register

Documents that the USMS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/united-states-marshals-service>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute. Phone, 703-740-3943.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/foia/index.html> | Email: usms.foia@usdoj.gov

The USMS maintains an electronic reading room. Before submitting a FOIA request, seekers of information should search the reading room's holdings to verify that the desired information is not already accessible, free of charge and without delay.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/readingroom/files.html>

History

A historical timeline of the USMS is available online.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/history/timeline.html>

Most Wanted

The USMS posts information on its 15 most-wanted fugitives. The USMS considers these individuals armed and dangerous. Phone, 800-336-0102.

https://www.usmarshals.gov/investigations/most\_wanted/index.html

News

The USMS posts news releases.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/news/index.html>

Site Map

The USMS website index allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

https://www.usmarshals.gov/site\_map/index.html

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF ALCOHOL, TOBACCO, FIREARMS AND EXPLOSIVES

99 New York Avenue NE., Washington, DC 20226

202-648-8500

<http://www.atf.gov>

DIRECTOR

Marvin G. Richardson, Acting

Deputy Director

Marvin G. Richardson

<https://www.atf.gov/about-atf/executive-staff>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives protects the public from crimes involving arson, explosives, firearms, and the diversion of alcohol and tobacco products; regulates lawful commerce in explosives and firearms; and supports law enforcement, public safety, and industry partners worldwide.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On June 6, 1972, Acting Secretary of the Treasury Charles E. Walker signed an order affecting the Department's organization and procedure. Order No. 221 transferred "the functions, powers and duties of the Internal Revenue Service arising under laws relating to alcohol, tobacco, firearms, and explosives (including the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division of the Internal Revenue Service), to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms . . . which is hereby established." On June 10, 1972, Treasury Department Order 221 was published as a notice in the Federal Register (37 FR 11696).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1972-06-10/pdf/FR-1972-06-10.pdf>

On November 25, 2002, President George W. Bush approved Public Law 107–296, which also may be cited as the Homeland Security Act of 2002, "to establish the Department of Homeland Security, and for other purposes" (116 Stat. 2135). One of the other purposes was to separate the functions of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF). The alcohol and tobacco excise tax functions and regulations remained within the Department of the Treasury, and a new bureau became responsible for them. The Act also transferred ATF firearms and explosives functions to the Department of Justice and made the newly established Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATFE) responsible for them (116 Stat. 2274).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-116/pdf/STATUTE-116-Pg2135.pdf>

The ATFE posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.atf.gov/about/organization-structure>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

"Subchapter XI—Department of Justice Divisions" is part of "Chapter 1—Homeland Security Organization" in 6 U.S.C. Parts 531–533 contain codified statutory material associated with the transfer of the ATFE to the Department of Justice.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title6/chapter1/subchapter11&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that affect firearms and ammunition, explosives, alcohol and tobacco, and explosive license and permit proceedings are codified in chapter II, parts 400–799, of 27 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=c5bb1cb9dbe3c7d2134a728d6b30c7ea&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title27/27chapterII.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The ATFE enforces Federal criminal laws and regulates the firearms and explosives industries. Directly and through partnerships, the ATFE investigates and deters violent crime involving arson, firearms and explosives, and trafficking of alcohol and tobacco products. The Bureau provides training and support to its Federal, State, local, and international law enforcement partners and works primarily in 25 field divisions nationwide, including Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and Guam. It also has foreign offices in Canada, El Salvador, Mexico, and Europe.

<https://www.atf.gov/about/what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that ATFE records have been assigned to record group 436.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/436.html>

Career Opportunities

ATFE employees conduct criminal investigations and regulate the firearms and explosives industries. They also assist other law enforcement agencies, help to prevent terrorism, reduce violent crime, and protect the public in a manner that is consistent with the Constitution and the laws of the United States.

<https://www.atf.gov/careers>

In 2020, the ATFE ranked 23d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TR40>

Contact Information

Contact information for media inquiries is available on the "Media and Congressional Contacts" web page.

<https://www.atf.gov/news/media-and-congressional-contacts>

Data / Statistics

The ATFE maintains a comprehensive collection of agency-related data from national surveys, State-based surveys, other collected license statistics, and other data sources. The data reflect trends in commerce, firearms, and use of Federal services in the United States.

<https://www.atf.gov/resource-center/data-statistics>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the ATFE recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/alcohol-tobacco-firearms-and-explosives-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA provides that a person may request access to Federal agency records or information. The ATFE must disclose records that any person properly requests in writing. Pursuant to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions that the Act contains, a Federal agency may withhold certain records or parts of them. The FOIA applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by the U.S. Congress, the courts, State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.atf.gov/resource-center/freedom-information-act-foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The ATFE posts answers to FAQs on its "Questions and Answers" web page.

<https://www.atf.gov/questions-and-answers>

History

A history timeline is available on the ATFE website.

<https://www.atf.gov/our-history/atf-history-timeline>

Social Media

The ATFE maintains accounts on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.atf.gov/news/social-media>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Prisons

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF PRISONS

320 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20534

202-307-3198

<http://www.bop.gov>

DIRECTOR

Michael Carvajal

Deputy Director

Gene Beasley

<https://www.bop.gov/about/agency/leadership.jsp>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The BOP was established in 1930 to provide more progressive and humane care for Federal inmates, to professionalize the prison service, and to ensure consistent and centralized administration of the 11 Federal prisons in operation at that time. Today, the Bureau comprises more than 100 institutions and 6 regional offices. The Bureau has its headquarters, also known as Central Office, in Washington, DC. The Central Office is divided into 10 divisions, including the National Institute of Corrections.

The Correctional Programs Division (CPD) is responsible for inmate classification and programming, including psychology and religious services, substance abuse treatment, case management, and programs for special needs offenders. CPD provides policy direction and daily operational oversight of institution security, emergency preparedness, intelligence gathering, inmate discipline, inmate sentence computations, receiving and discharge, and inmate transportation, as well as coordinating international treaty transfers and overseeing the special security needs of inmates placed in the Federal Witness Protection Program. CPD administers contracts and intergovernmental agreements for the confinement of offenders in community-based programs, community corrections centers, and other facilities, including privately managed facilities. CPD staff is also involved in the Bureau's privatization efforts.

The Industries, Education, and Vocational Training Division oversees Federal Prison Industries, or UNICOR, which is a wholly owned Government corporation that provides employment and training opportunities for inmates confined in Federal correctional facilities. Additionally, it is responsible for oversight of educational, occupational, and vocational training and leisure-time programs, as well as those related to inmate release preparation.

The National Institute of Corrections (NIC) provides technical assistance, training, and information to State and local corrections agencies throughout the country, as well as the Bureau. It also provides research assistance and documents through the NIC Information Center.

<https://www.bop.gov/about/agency>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

An alphabetical subject index helps visitors navigate the website's content.

https://www.bop.gov/website/a\_to\_z\_topics.jsp

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BOP records have been assigned to record group 129.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/129.html>

Business Opportunities

Information is available on the "Let's Do Business" web page.

<http://www.bop.gov/business>

Career Opportunities

Job openings are posted online. For additional career-related information, contact any regional or field office or the Central Office, 320 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20534. Phone, 202-307-3082.

<http://www.bop.gov/jobs>

In 2020, the BOP ranked 387th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJ03>

Contact Information

The BOP has a "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.bop.gov/contact>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the BOP recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/prisons-bureau>

Find an Inmate

The Department's website features a search tool for locating Federal inmates who were incarcerated after 1981.

<https://www.bop.gov/inmateloc>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The law gives a right to obtain access to Federal agency records to any person, except a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are shielded, however, from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure may cause.

<https://www.bop.gov/foia/index.jsp#tabs-0> | Email: ogc\_efoia@bop.gov

The BOP posts records online. Before filing a formal FOIA request, an information seeker should visit the BOP's "Freedom of Information" web page and view the records section to ensure that the desired information is not already freely accessible.

<https://www.bop.gov/foia/index.jsp#tabs-1>

Locations

The "Our Locations" web page features a list of locations, a search tool that requires the facility's name, and location maps (national, regional, type of facility).

<https://www.bop.gov/locations>

Population Statistics

Federal inmate population statistics are online.

https://www.bop.gov/about/statistics/population\_statistics.jsp

Reading Room

The reading room is located at the Bureau of Prisons, 320 First Street NW., Washington, DC 20534. Phone, 202-307-3029.

Resources by Audience

Resources to help Bureau of Prisons staff and their families access frequently used services are online.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/employee\_resources.jsp

Resources to help former inmates make the transition from incarceration to normal life within a community are online.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/former\_inmate\_resources.jsp

The Attorney General and the Secretary of Health and Human Services provide health management guidelines for infectious disease prevention, detection, and treatment of inmates and correctional employees who are exposed to infectious diseases in correctional facilities.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/health\_care\_mngmt.jsp

Resources to help qualified media representatives visit institutions and gather information on programs and activities or conduct interviews are online.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/media\_resources.jsp

Resources to help victims or witnesses of Federal crimes find information on complaint procedures, notifications, and payments are online.

https://www.bop.gov/resources/victim\_resources.jsp

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

https://www.bop.gov/website/site\_map.jsp

Social Media

The BOP has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/BOPCareers>

The BOP tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/officialbop>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Drug Enforcement Administration

The United States Government Manual

DRUG ENFORCEMENT ADMINISTRATION

8701 Morrissette Drive, Springfield, VA 22152

202-307-1000

<http://www.dea.gov/index.shtml>

ADMINISTRATOR

Anne Milgram

Principal Deputy Administrator

Preston L. Grubbs

<https://www.dea.gov/about/dea-leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) is the lead Federal agency in enforcing narcotics and controlled substances laws and regulations. The DEA also enforces the Federal money laundering and bulk currency smuggling statutes when the funds involved in the transactions or smuggling are derived from the sale of narcotics. It was created in July 1973 by Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1973 (5 U.S.C. app.).

<https://www.dea.gov/history>

The DEA enforces the provisions of the controlled substances and chemical diversion and trafficking laws and regulations of the United States, operating on a worldwide basis. It presents cases to the criminal and civil justice systems of the United States—or any other competent jurisdiction—on those significant organizations and their members involved in cultivation, production, smuggling, distribution, laundering of proceeds, or diversion of controlled substances appearing in or destined for illegal traffic in the United States. The DEA disrupts and dismantles these organizations by arresting their members, confiscating their drugs, and seizing their assets; and it creates, manages, and supports enforcement-related programs—domestically and internationally—to reduce the availability of and demand for illicit controlled substances.

The DEA's responsibilities include: investigation of major narcotic, chemical, drug-money laundering, and bulk currency smuggling violators who operate at interstate and international levels; seizure and forfeiture of assets derived from, traceable to, or intended to be used for illicit drug trafficking; seizure and forfeiture of assets derived from or traceable to drug-money laundering or the smuggling of bulk currency derived from illegal drugs; enforcement of regulations governing the legal manufacture, distribution, and dispensing of controlled substances; management of an intelligence program that supports drug investigations, initiatives, and operations worldwide; coordination with Federal, State, and local law enforcement authorities and cooperation with counterpart agencies abroad; assistance to State and local law enforcement agencies in addressing their most significant drug and drug-related violence problems; leadership and influence over international counterdrug and chemical policy and support for institution building in host nations; training, scientific research, and information exchange in support of drug traffic prevention and control; and education and assistance to the public community on the prevention, treatment, and dangers of drugs.

<https://www.dea.gov/mission>

The DEA maintains liaison with the United Nations, INTERPOL, and other organizations on matters relating to international narcotics control programs. It has 239 domestic offices in 23 Divisions nationwide, and 91 foreign offices in 68 countries.

<https://www.dea.gov/domestic-divisions>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that DEA records have been assigned to record group 170.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/170.html>

Asset Forfeiture

The DEA posts public notices of forfeiture in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading on the Department of Justice's forfeiture.gov website.

<https://www.forfeiture.gov>

Business Opportunities

The DEA obtains supplies and services through its Office of Acquisition and Relocation Management. The Office acquires supplies and services for local needs and all DEA agency-level procurements. DEA field activities also have procurement authority, but it is limited.

<https://www.dea.gov/resources/doing-business-dea> | Email: deasmallbusinessprogram@usdoj.gov

Career Opportunities

For career information, contact the nearest DEA field division recruitment office. The DEA also posts information on its "Careers" web page.

<https://www.dea.gov/careers>

In 2020, the DEA ranked 96th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJAA>

Contact Information

The DEA posts contact information on its "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.dea.gov/who-we-are/contact-us> | Email: info@dea.gov

Contact information for each of the DEA's 23 domestic divisions is available online.

<https://www.dea.gov/divisions>

Controlled Substances Act Registration

For information on registration under the Controlled Substances Act, contact the Office of Diversion Control, 8701 Morrisette Drive, Springfield, VA 22152. Phone: 800-882-9539.

<http://www.deadiversion.usdoj.gov/drugreg/index.html> | Email: DEA.Registration.Help@usdoj.gov

Data / Statistics

The DEA posts data and statistics online.

<https://www.dea.gov/resources/data-and-statistics>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the DEA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/drug-enforcement-administration>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives a right for public access to Government records. A FOIA request must be submitted in writing. The DEA generally follows the FOIA guidelines that the Department of Justice has adopted.

<https://www.dea.gov/foia>

Museum

The DEA Museum and visitors' center are located in Arlington, VA. The museum posts virtual exhibits on its deamuseum.org website. Phone, 202-307-3463.

<https://deamuseum.org/exhibits>

Press Releases

The DEA posts press releases online.

<https://www.dea.gov/what-we-do/news/press-releases>

Publications

The DEA posts various types of documents and publications online.

https://www.dea.gov/resources/documents?field\_document\_document\_type\_value=Publication

Resources

The "Resources" web page provides convenient access to data and statistics, drug information, Freedom of Information Act guidance, media galleries, and publications.

<https://www.dea.gov/resources>

Social Media

The DEA maintains Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, and Twitter accounts. A social media directory is part of the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.dea.gov/who-we-are/contact-us> | Email: DEA.Public.Affairs@usdoj.gov

Victim Witness Assistance

Victims' rights laws resulted in the implementation of the victim witness assistance program. These laws provide for fair and just treatment of crime victims, immediate emergency treatment, and referrals to appropriate adult and child service agencies. The Department of Justice also gives guidance to Federal law enforcement agencies through the Attorney General's guidelines for victim witness assistance.

<https://www.dea.gov/resources/vwap> | Email: VWAP.DEA@usdoj.gov

The Sources of Information were updated 8-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Bureau of Investigation

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

935 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20535

202-324-3000

<http://www.fbi.gov>

DIRECTOR

Christopher A. Wray

Deputy Director

Paul M. Abbate

<https://www.fbi.gov/about/leadership-and-structure>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is the Department of Justice's principal investigative arm. It is primarily charged with gathering and reporting facts, locating witnesses, and compiling evidence in cases involving Federal jurisdiction. It also provides law enforcement leadership and assistance to State and international law enforcement agencies.

The FBI was established in 1908 by the Attorney General, who directed that Department of Justice investigations be handled by its own staff. The Bureau is charged with investigating all violations of Federal law except those that have been assigned by legislative enactment or otherwise to another Federal agency. Its jurisdiction includes a wide range of responsibilities in the national security, criminal, and civil fields. Priority has been assigned to areas such as counterterrorism, counterintelligence, cybercrimes, internationally and nationally organized crime and drug-related activities, and financial crimes.

The FBI also offers cooperative services to local, State, and international law enforcement agencies. These services include fingerprint identification, laboratory examination, police training, the Law Enforcement Online communication and information service for use by the law enforcement community, the National Crime Information Center, and the National Center for the Analysis of Violent Crime.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FBI records have been assigned to record group 065.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/065.html>

Career Opportunities

The FBI relies on professionals with diverse expertise and skills to analyze data for the intelligence community, safeguard national security, and support the structure of the Bureau. Information on career opportunities, including student internships, is available online.

<https://www.fbijobs.gov>

In 2020, the FBI ranked 223d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJ02>

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page provides convenient access to information for contacting FBI headquarters, field offices, and overseas offices.

<https://www.fbi.gov/contact-us>

Members of the public may report a violation of U.S. Federal law or suspected terrorism or criminal activity to the FBI.

<https://www.fbi.gov/tips>

Crime Statistics

The Uniform Crime Reporting program generates reliable statistics for use in law enforcement. It also releases information that is relevant for students of criminal justice, researchers, the media, and the public. The program has been generating crime statistics since 1930. The crime reporting program includes data from more than 18,000 city, university and college, county, State, Tribal, and Federal law enforcement agencies. Agencies participate voluntarily and submit their crime data either through a State UCR program or directly to the FBI's UCR Program.

<https://www.fbi.gov/services/cjis/ucr>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FBI recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-bureau-of-investigation>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA provides that a person may request access to Federal agency records or information. The FBI must disclose records that any person properly requests in writing. Pursuant to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions that the Act contains, a Federal agency can withhold certain records or parts of them. The FOIA applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by the U.S. Congress, the courts, State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.fbi.gov/services/information-management/foipa>

The FBI's electronic FOIA library, which contains nearly 7,000 documents and other media that have been scanned from paper and made into more accessible digital copies, is named the "Vault." The library includes new files that have been released to the public, but never added to the FBI website; dozens of records previously posted on the FBI website, but removed when requests diminished; files from the previous FBI FOIA Library; and new and previously unreleased files.

<https://vault.fbi.gov>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FBI posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.fbi.gov/about/faqs>

History

The FBI posted a brief agency history on its website.

<https://www.fbi.gov/history>

Most Wanted

The FBI maintains the official "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" list on its website.

<https://www.fbi.gov/wanted/topten>

News

The FBI posts top news stories, press releases, podcasts, radio broadcasts, speeches, and Tweets on its "News" web page.

<https://www.fbi.gov/news>

Publications

The FBI's training division maintains the "Law Enforcement Bulletin" website.

<https://leb.fbi.gov>

The FBI maintains an extensive "Reports and Publications" database.

<https://www.fbi.gov/stats-services/publications>

Resources

The "Resources" web page provides convenient access to information on business opportunities and victim services. It also has links to featured publications and frequently requested forms and services.

<https://www.fbi.gov/resources>

Safe Online Surfing

The FBI maintains a "Safe Online Surfing" website for children.

<https://www.fbi.gov/fbi-kids>

Services

Services that the FBI provides are presented on a single "Services" web page.

<https://www.fbi.gov/services>

Social Media

The FBI started its presence on social media in 2008. Today, the Bureau has dozens of pages and sites.

<https://www.fbi.gov/news/fbi-social-media-sites>

The Sources of Information were updated 8-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

International Criminal Police Organization (INTERPOL)–Washington

The United States Government Manual

INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL POLICE ORGANIZATION (INTERPOL)–WASHINGTON

Department of Justice, Washington, DC 20530

202-616-9000

202-616-8400

<http://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington>

DIRECTOR

Michael A. Hughes

<https://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/meet-leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

INTERPOL–Washington is a separate component under the supervision of the Deputy Attorney General and comanaged with the Department of Homeland Security. It provides an essential communications link between the U.S. police community and their counterparts in the foreign member countries.

INTERPOL is an association of 190 countries that promotes mutual assistance among law enforcement authorities to prevent and suppress international crime. With no police force of its own, INTERPOL has no powers of arrest or search and seizure and, therefore, relies on the law enforcement authorities of its member countries. Each member country is required to have a national central bureau, such as INTERPOL–Washington, to act as the primary point of contact for police affairs. INTERPOL serves as a channel of communication for its member countries to cooperate in the investigation and prosecution of crime; provides a forum for discussions, working group meetings, and symposia to help police focus on specific areas of criminal activity affecting their countries; and issues information and maintains databases—supplied and used by member countries—on crime, fugitives, humanitarian concerns, missing persons, and stolen passports and vehicles.

INTERPOL–Washington has permanent staff and detailed special agents from numerous Federal law enforcement agencies. It is organized into seven divisions: the Alien and Fugitive, Counterterrorism, Drug, Economic Crimes, Human Trafficking and Child Protection, State and Local Police Liaison, and Violent Crimes Divisions.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

Information on career opportunities is available online.

<http://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/employment>

Contact Information

The "Contact the Agency" web page contains a postal address for INTERPOL–Washington.

<https://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/contact-agency>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives any person a right to access Government records. A request for information must be submitted in writing. INTERPOL–Washington, U.S. National Central Bureau, generally follows the guidelines that the Department of Justice has set forth in its FOIA reference guide.

<https://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/interpol-washington-foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

INTERPOL posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.justice.gov/interpol-washington/frequently-asked-questions>

The Sources of Information were updated 8-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Office of Justice Programs

The United States Government Manual

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS

810 Seventh Street NW., Washington, DC 20531

202-307-0703

<http://www.ojp.gov> | Email: askojp@ojp.usdoj.gov

Assistant Attorney General

Amy L. Solomon, Acting

Principal Deputy Assistant Attorney General

Amy L. Solomon

<https://www.ojp.gov/about/offices/office-assistant-attorney-general-aaag>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Office of Justice Programs (OJP) was established by the Justice Assistance Act of 1984 (42 U.S.C. 3711) and reauthorized in 1994 and 2005 to provide Federal leadership, coordination, and assistance needed to make the Nation's justice system more efficient and effective in preventing and controlling crime. OJP is responsible for collecting statistical data and conducting analyses; identifying emerging criminal justice issues; developing and testing promising approaches to address these issues; evaluating program results; and disseminating these findings and other information to State and local governments.

<https://www.ojp.gov/about>

The OJP is comprised of the following bureaus and offices: the Bureau of Justice Assistance provides funding, training, and technical assistance to State and local governments to combat violent and drug-related crime and help improve the criminal justice system; the Bureau of Justice Statistics is responsible for collecting and analyzing data on crime, criminal offenders, crime victims, and the operations of justice systems at all levels of government; the National Institute of Justice sponsors research and development programs, conducts demonstrations of innovative approaches to improve criminal justice, and develops new criminal justice technologies; the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention provides grants and contracts to States to help them improve their juvenile justice systems and sponsors innovative research, demonstration, evaluation, statistics, replication, technical assistance, and training programs to increase the Nation's understanding of and improve its response to juvenile violence and delinquency; the Office for Victims of Crime administers victim compensation and assistance grant programs and provides funding, training, and technical assistance to victim service organizations, criminal justice agencies, and other professionals to improve the Nation's response to crime victims; and the Office of Sex Offender Sentencing, Monitoring, Apprehending, Registering, and Tracking (SMART) maintains the standards of the Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act as defined by the Adam Walsh Act. The SMART Office also provides technical assistance and supports innovative and best practices in the field of sex offender management.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) records have been assigned to record group 423. The OJP is one of the LEAA's successor agencies.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/423.html>

Blog

OJP Blog posts highlight OJP programs, as well as Department of Justice initiatives that support OJP's mission.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/ojp-blogs/2020-ojp-blogs>

Career Opportunities

The OJP relies on accountants, attorneys, grant and project managers, information technology specialists, policy advisors, public affairs specialists, researchers, scientists, statisticians, writers and editors, and many other professionals to carry out its mission.

<https://www.ojp.gov/about/jobs>

In 2020, the OJP ranked 337th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJ07>

Congressional Resources

Resources for Members of Congress and their staff are posted on the "For Congress" web page.

<https://www.ojp.gov/congress> | Email: OJPCongressionalAffairs@usdoj.gov

Contact

The "Contact Us" web page has a mailing address, as well as email addresses and phone numbers.

<https://www.ojp.gov/contact> | Email: askojp@ncjrs.gov

The OJP has a "For Media" web page that also contains contact information.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/for-media>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the OJP recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/justice-programs-office>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The law gives a right to obtain access to Federal agency records to any person, except a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are shielded, however, from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure may cause.

<https://www.ojp.gov/program/freedom-information-act/overview>

Juvenile Justice / Delinquency Prevention

The Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention publishes the bimonthly electronic newsletter "OJJDP News @ a Glance." This award winning newsletter highlights office activities, funding opportunities, publications, Tribal connections, and upcoming events.

<https://ojjdp.ojp.gov/news/newsletter>

News Releases

News releases are posted on the OJP website.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/news-releases>

Publications

The OJP posts publications on its website.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/publications>

Social Media

The OJP has social media accounts. The "Social Media" web page provides convenient access to all of them: Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.ojp.gov/news/social-media>

State Administering Agencies

The OJP awards formula grants directly to State governments, which then set priorities and allocate funds within their respective States.

<https://www.ojp.gov/funding/state-administering-agencies/overview>

Topics

The "All Topics" web page provides convenient access to information on American Indian and Alaska Native Affairs, civil rights, corrections, courts, juvenile justice, law enforcement, research and statistics and evaluation, substance abuse and crime, technology to fight crime, and victims of crime.

<https://www.ojp.gov/topics/all-topics>

Training / Technical Assistance

The OJP offers training on and technical assistance with financial management, grant writing, and other subjects that are relevant to criminal and juvenile justice professionals and victim service providers.

<https://www.ojp.gov/training-and-technical-assistance>

Virtual Library

the National Criminal Justice Reference Service (NCJRS) is an informational resource that supports policy, program development, and research. The NCJRS Virtual Library contains bibliographic information on and abstracts of more than 230,000 collection resources and over 80,000 online materials.

<https://www.ojp.gov/ncjrs/virtual-library>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Marshals Service

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES MARSHALS SERVICE

Department of Justice, Washington, DC 20530

703-740-1699

<http://www.usmarshals.gov>

DIRECTOR

Donald W. Washington

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/contacts/leadership.html>

Deputy Director

Jeffrey R. Tyler

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/contacts/index.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The United States Marshals Service (USMS) is the Nation's oldest Federal law enforcement agency, having served as a vital link between the executive and judicial branches of the Government since 1789. The USMS performs tasks that are essential to the operation of virtually every aspect of the Federal justice system.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/duties/factsheets/overview.pdf>

The USMS has these responsibilities: providing support and protection for the Federal courts, including security for 800 judicial facilities and nearly 2,000 judges and magistrates, as well as countless other trial participants such as jurors and attorneys; apprehending the majority of Federal fugitives; operating the Federal Witness Security Program and ensuring the safety of endangered Government witnesses; maintaining custody of and transporting thousands of Federal prisoners annually; executing court orders and arrest warrants; managing and selling seized property forfeited to the Government by drug traffickers and other criminals and assisting the Justice Department's asset forfeiture program; responding to emergency circumstances, including civil disturbances, terrorist incidents, and other crisis situations through its Special Operations Group; restoring order in riot and mob-violence situations; providing housing, transportation, and medical care of federal detainees; and operating the USMS Training Academy.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that USMS records have been assigned to record group 527.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/527.html>

Notable references to USMS activities also are found in the following National Archives record groups: 021 (records of Federal courts); 060 (letters received by the Department of Justice); 118 (records of U.S. Attorneys, and formerly U.S. Marshals); and 206 (records of the Solicitor of the Treasury).

https://www.usmarshals.gov/history/records\_assistance.htm

Business Opportunities

The USMS posts products and services that it purchases.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/business/index.html>

Career Opportunities

The USMS relies on administrative personnel, aviation enforcement officers, deputy U.S. Marshals, detention enforcement officers, and other professionals to carry out its mission.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/careers/index.html>

In 2020, the USMS ranked 92d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places

To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=DJ08>

Contact

The "U.S. Marshals Service Contacts" web page contains a lot of names, phone numbers, and titles.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/contacts/index.html>

The USMS posts contact information for its district offices.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/contacts/districts.html>

Factsheets

The USMS posts factsheets on its website.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/duties/factsheets/index.html>

Federal Register

Documents that the USMS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/united-states-marshals-service>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute. Phone, 703-740-3943.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/foia/index.html> | Email: usms.foia@usdoj.gov

The USMS maintains an electronic reading room. Before submitting a FOIA request, seekers of information should search the reading room's holdings to verify that the desired information is not already accessible, free of charge and without delay.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/readingroom/files.html>

History

A historical timeline of the USMS is available online.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/history/timeline.html>

Most Wanted

The USMS posts information on its 15 most-wanted fugitives. The USMS considers these individuals armed and dangerous. Phone, 800-336-0102.

https://www.usmarshals.gov/investigations/most\_wanted/index.html

News

The USMS posts news releases.

<https://www.usmarshals.gov/news/index.html>

Site Map

The USMS website index allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

https://www.usmarshals.gov/site\_map/index.html

The Sources of Information were updated 8-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Offices / Boards

- Executive Office for Immigration Review
- Foreign Claims Settlement Commission of the United States
- Office of Community Oriented Policing Services
- Office on Violence Against Women
- United States Parole Commission

The United States Government Manual

OFFICES / BOARDS

Executive Office for Immigration Review

Falls Church, VA 22041

703-305-0289

<http://www.justice.gov/eoir>

---

DIRECTOR

Jean King, Acting

---

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/staff-profile/meet-the-director>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR), under a delegation of authority from the Attorney General, is charged with adjudicating matters brought under various immigration statutes before its three administrative tribunals: the Office of the Chief Immigration Judge, the Board of Immigration Appeals, and the Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer.

The Office of the Chief Immigration Judge provides overall direction for more than 300 immigration judges located in 58 immigration courts throughout the Nation. Immigration judges are responsible for conducting formal administrative proceedings and act independently in their decision-making capacity. Their decisions are administratively final, unless appealed or certified to the BIA.

In removal proceedings, an immigration judge determines whether an alien should be removed or allowed to remain in the United States. Judges are located throughout the United States, and each judge has jurisdiction to consider various forms of relief available under the law.

The Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) has nationwide jurisdiction to hear appeals from certain decisions made by immigration judges and by district directors of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). In addition, the BIA is responsible for hearing appeals involving disciplinary actions against attorneys and representatives before DHS and EOIR.

Decisions of the BIA are binding on all DHS officers and immigration judges unless modified or overruled by the Attorney General or a Federal court. All BIA decisions are subject to judicial review in Federal court. The majority of appeals reaching the BIA involve orders of removal and applications for relief from removal. Other cases before the BIA include petitions to classify the status of alien relatives for the issuance of preference immigrant visas, fines imposed upon carriers for the violation of the immigration laws, and motions for reopening or reconsideration of decisions previously rendered.

The Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer (OCAHO) is headed by a Chief Administrative Hearing Officer (CAHO), who is responsible for the general supervision and management of administrative law judges (ALJs). OCAHO ALJs preside at hearings that are mandated by provisions of immigration law concerning allegations of unlawful employment of aliens, employment eligibility verification violations ("employer sanctions), unfair immigration-related employment practices, and immigration document fraud. ALJ decisions in employer sanctions and document fraud cases may be reviewed by the CAHO and the Attorney General, and all OCAHO cases may be appealed to the appropriate U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that EOIR records have been assigned to record group 582. The guide does not contain, however, a description that is currently associated with this record group.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/index-numeric/501-to-600.html>

Contact

Phone numbers and email and postal addresses are available on the "Contact EOIR" web page.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/contact-eoir> | Email: PAO.EOIR@usdoj.gov

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the EOIR recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/executive-office-for-immigration-review>

Forms

The "EOIR Forms" web page has most of the forms that one needs for filing with the Board of Immigration Appeals, the Immigration Courts, and the Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/forms>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute. The EOIR maintains four electronic libraries: archived resources, frequently requested agency records, proactive disclosures, and reference materials. Before submitting a FOIA request, an information seeker should browse these library collections to verify that the desired information is not available, immediately and free of charge.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/freedom-information-act-foia>

Immigration Courts

An alphabetical list of immigration courts, which are arranged by State and by cities within a State, is available online.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/eoir-immigration-court-listing>

Legal Representation

The "Find Legal Representation" web page has resources for those seeking representation.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/find-legal-representation>

Library

A virtual law library that serves as a complement to the Law Library and Immigration Research Center is available online.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/virtual-law-library>

Social Media

The EOIR has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/doj.eoir>

The EOIR tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/DOJ\_EOIR

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Foreign Claims Settlement Commission of the United States

Suite 6002, 600 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20579

202-616-6975

202-616-6993

<http://www.justice.gov/fcsc>

---

COMMISSIONER

Sylvia M. Becker

---

COMMISSIONER

Patrick Hovakimian

---

<https://www.justice.gov/fcsc>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Foreign Claims Settlement Commission of the United States is a quasi-judicial, independent agency within the Department of Justice, which adjudicates claims of U.S. nationals against foreign governments, either under specific jurisdiction conferred by Congress or the Department of State or pursuant to international claims settlement agreements. The decisions of the Commission are final and are not reviewable under any standard by any court or other authority. Funds for payment of the Commission's awards are derived from congressional appropriations, international claims settlements, or the liquidation of foreign assets in the United States by the Departments of Justice and the Treasury.

The Commission also has authority to receive, determine the validity and amount, and provide for the payment of claims by members of the U.S. Armed Services and civilians held as prisoners of war or interned by a hostile force in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam conflict or by the survivors of such servicemembers and civilians.

The Commission is also responsible for maintaining records and responding to inquiries related to the various claims programs it has conducted against the Governments of Albania, Bulgaria, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia,

Egypt, Ethiopia, the Federal Republic of Germany, the German Democratic Republic, Hungary, Iran, Italy, Panama, Poland, Romania, the Soviet Union, Vietnam, and Yugoslavia, as well as those authorized under the War Claims Act of 1948 and other statutes.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

General information on career opportunities is available on the Department of Justice's "Careers" web page. For additional information on attorney positions, contact the Office of the Chief Counsel, 600 E Street NW., Suite 6002, Washington, DC 20579. Phone, 202-616-6975.

<http://www.justice.gov/careers>

Contact Information

The Commission may be contacted by sending electronic or postal mail. Addresses are posted on the "Contact the Commission" web page.

<https://www.justice.gov/fcsc/contact-commission> | Email: info.FCSC@usdoj.gov

Publications

Annual reports, starting with the year 2008, are available on the "Publications" web page.

<http://www.justice.gov/fcsc/publications>

Reading Room

The reading room is located at 600 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20579. Phone, 202-616-6975.

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Office of Community Oriented Policing Services

935 N. Street NE., Washington, DC 20530

202-514-2058

<http://www.cops.usdoj.gov>

---

DIRECTOR

Robert Chapman, Acting

---

https://m.facebook.com/DOJCOPS/photos/a.180221468674616/4732389816791069/?\_se\_imp=0vbs31vCvpgh7MTD3

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) was established to assist law enforcement agencies in enhancing public safety through the implementation of community policing strategies. The Office gives assistance by providing training to enhance law enforcement officers' problem-solving and community interaction skills and helping law enforcement and community members develop initiatives to prevent crime; increasing the number of law enforcement officers directly interacting with communities; and supporting the development of new technologies to shift law enforcement's focus to preventing crime and disorder within communities.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Resources

The "Dispatch" is a monthly electronic newsletter. The article "Ten Recruiting Tips for Finding Good Officers" ran in the SEP 2019 issue.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/html/dispatch/09-2019/recruitment.html>

The "Dispatch" article "Surviving the Job" ran in the DEC 2019 issue.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/html/dispatch/12-2019/surviving.html>

Contact Information

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/contactcops> | Email: askcopsRC@usdoj.gov

Grants and Funding

COPS grants and funding opportunities support State, local, and tribal law enforcement efforts to advance community policing. Current applicant and grantee information—announcements, fiscal year grant programs, current funding opportunities, and resources for grantees—is available online.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/grants>

News

The "News" web page provides easy access to photo galleries, press releases, " the podcast series "The Beat," the video series "What's New in Blue, and the Office's news feed.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/news>

Resources

COPS is a valuable resource for smart approaches to preventing and reducing crime. COPS works with researchers, practitioners, and trailblazers to implement effective strategies in the field.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/resources>

Training / Technical Assistance

Resources for training and technical assistance are available on the COPS website.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/training-technical-assistance>

Social Media

COPS has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/DOJCOPS>

COPS tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/COPSOoffice>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Office on Violence Against Women

145 N Street NE., Suite 10W–121, Washington, DC 20530

Phone: 202-307-6026

<http://www.justice.gov/ovw>

---

DIRECTOR

Allison Randall, Acting

---

<https://www.justice.gov/ovw/about-office>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Office on Violence Against Women (OVW) was established in 1995 to reduce violence against women through the implementation of the Violence Against Women Act. The Office administers financial and technical assistance to communities that are developing programs, policies, and practices to end domestic and dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

Information on employment and internship opportunities is available online.

<http://www.justice.gov/ovw/careers>

Publications

Portable Document Format (PDF) files of selected publications are available online.

<http://www.justice.gov/ovw/selected-publications>

<http://www.justice.gov/ovw/contact-office> | Email: ovw.info@usdoj.gov

For further information, contact the Office on Violence Against Women, 145 N Street NE., Suite 10W–121, Washington, DC, 20530. Phone, 202-307-6026.

United States Parole Commission

90 K Street NE., Washington, DC 20530. Phone, 202-346-7000.

<http://www.usdoj.gov/uspc>

CHAIR

Patricia K. Cushwa, Acting

<https://www.justice.gov/uspc/about-commission>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The U.S. Parole Commission (USPC) makes parole release decisions for eligible Federal and District of Columbia prisoners; authorizes methods of release and conditions under which release occurs; prescribes, modifies, and monitors compliance with the terms and conditions governing offenders' behavior while on parole or mandatory or supervised release; issues warrants for violation of supervision; determines probable cause for the revocation process; revokes parole, mandatory, or supervised release; releases from supervision those offenders who are no longer a risk to public safety; and promulgates the rules, regulations, and guidelines for the exercise of USPC's authority and the implementation of a national parole policy.

USPC has sole jurisdiction over the following: Federal offenders who committed offenses before November 1, 1987; DC Code offenders who committed offenses before August 5, 2000; DC Code offenders sentenced to a term of supervised release; Uniform Code of Military Justice offenders who are in Bureau of Prison's custody; transfer treaty cases; and State probationers and parolees in the Federal Witness Protection Program.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The Commission maintains an online FOIA library. Information on Freedom of Information Act requests is available online.

<http://www.justice.gov/uspc/freedom-information-act-foia/foia-library>

<http://www.justice.gov/uspc/freedom-information-act-foia> | Email: USPC.FOIA@usdoj.gov

Reading Room

The reading room is located at 90 K Street NE., Washington, DC 20530. Phone, 202-346-7000.

<http://www.justice.gov/uspc/contact-commission>

For further information, contact the U.S. Parole Commission, Department of Justice, 90 K Street NE., Washington, DC 20530. Phone, 202-346-7000.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Executive Office for Immigration Review

The United States Government Manual

EXECUTIVE OFFICE FOR IMMIGRATION REVIEW

Falls Church, VA 22041

703-305-0289

<http://www.justice.gov/eoir>

DIRECTOR

Jean King, Acting

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/staff-profile/meet-the-director>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR), under a delegation of authority from the Attorney General, is charged with adjudicating matters brought under various immigration statutes before its three administrative tribunals: the Office of the Chief Immigration Judge, the Board of Immigration Appeals, and the Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer.

The Office of the Chief Immigration Judge provides overall direction for more than 300 immigration judges located in 58 immigration courts throughout the Nation. Immigration judges are responsible for conducting formal administrative proceedings and act independently in their decision-making capacity. Their decisions are administratively final, unless appealed or certified to the BIA.

In removal proceedings, an immigration judge determines whether an alien should be removed or allowed to remain in the United States. Judges are located throughout the United States, and each judge has jurisdiction to consider various forms of relief available under the law.

The Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) has nationwide jurisdiction to hear appeals from certain decisions made by immigration judges and by district directors of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). In addition, the BIA is responsible for hearing appeals involving disciplinary actions against attorneys and representatives before DHS and EOIR.

Decisions of the BIA are binding on all DHS officers and immigration judges unless modified or overruled by the Attorney General or a Federal court. All BIA decisions are subject to judicial review in Federal court. The majority of appeals reaching the BIA involve orders of removal and applications for relief from removal. Other cases before the BIA include petitions to classify the status of alien relatives for the issuance of preference immigrant visas, fines imposed upon carriers for the violation of the immigration laws, and motions for reopening or reconsideration of decisions previously rendered.

The Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer (OCAHO) is headed by a Chief Administrative Hearing Officer (CAHO), who is responsible for the general supervision and management of administrative law judges (ALJs). OCAHO ALJs preside at hearings that are mandated by provisions of immigration law concerning allegations of unlawful employment of aliens, employment eligibility verification violations ("employer sanctions), unfair immigration-related employment practices, and immigration document fraud. ALJ decisions in employer sanctions and document fraud cases may be reviewed by the CAHO and the Attorney General, and all OCAHO cases may be appealed to the appropriate U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that EOIR records have been assigned to record group 582. The guide does not contain, however, a description that is currently associated with this record group.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/index-numeric/501-to-600.html>

Contact

Phone numbers and email and postal addresses are available on the "Contact EOIR" web page.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/contact-eoir> | Email: PAO.EOIR@usdoj.gov

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the EOIR recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/executive-office-for-immigration-review>

Forms

The "EOIR Forms" web page has most of the forms that one needs for filing with the Board of Immigration Appeals, the Immigration Courts, and the Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/forms>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute. The EOIR maintains four electronic libraries: archived resources, frequently requested agency records, proactive disclosures, and reference materials. Before submitting a FOIA request, an information seeker should browse these library collections to verify that the desired information is not available, immediately and free of charge.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/freedom-information-act-foia>

Immigration Courts

An alphabetical list of immigration courts, which are arranged by State and by cities within a State, is available online.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/eoir-immigration-court-listing>

Legal Representation

The "Find Legal Representation" web page has resources for those seeking representation.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/find-legal-representation>

Library

A virtual law library that serves as a complement to the Law Library and Immigration Research Center is available online.

<https://www.justice.gov/eoir/virtual-law-library>

Social Media

The EOIR has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/doj.eoir>

The EOIR tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/DOJ\_EOIR

The Sources of Information were updated 8-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Foreign Claims Settlement Commission of the United States

The United States Government Manual

FOREIGN CLAIMS SETTLEMENT COMMISSION OF THE UNITED STATES

Suite 6002, 600 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20579

202-616-6975

202-616-6993

<http://www.justice.gov/fcsc>

COMMISSIONER

Sylvia M. Becker

COMMISSIONER

Patrick Hovakimian

<https://www.justice.gov/fcsc>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Foreign Claims Settlement Commission of the United States is a quasi-judicial, independent agency within the Department of Justice, which adjudicates claims of U.S. nationals against foreign governments, either under specific jurisdiction conferred by Congress or the Department of State or pursuant to international claims settlement agreements. The decisions of the Commission are final and are not reviewable under any standard by any court or other authority. Funds for payment of the Commission's awards are derived from congressional appropriations, international claims settlements, or the liquidation of foreign assets in the United States by the Departments of Justice and the Treasury.

The Commission also has authority to receive, determine the validity and amount, and provide for the payment of claims by members of the U.S. Armed Services and civilians held as prisoners of war or interned by a hostile force in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam conflict or by the survivors of such servicemembers and civilians.

The Commission is also responsible for maintaining records and responding to inquiries related to the various claims programs it has conducted against the Governments of Albania, Bulgaria, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Egypt, Ethiopia, the Federal Republic of Germany, the German Democratic Republic, Hungary, Iran, Italy, Panama, Poland, Romania, the Soviet Union, Vietnam, and Yugoslavia, as well as those authorized under the War Claims Act of 1948 and other statutes.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

General information on career opportunities is available on the Department of Justice's "Careers" web page. For additional information on attorney positions, contact the Office of the Chief Counsel, 600 E Street NW., Suite 6002, Washington, DC 20579. Phone, 202-616-6975.

<http://www.justice.gov/careers>

Contact Information

The Commission may be contacted by sending electronic or postal mail. Addresses are posted on the "Contact the Commission" web page.

<https://www.justice.gov/fcsc/contact-commission> | Email: info.FCSC@usdoj.gov

Publications

Annual reports, starting with the year 2008, are available on the "Publications" web page.

<http://www.justice.gov/fcsc/publications>

Reading Room

The reading room is located at 600 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20579. Phone, 202-616-6975.

The Sources of Information were updated 8-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Office of Community Oriented Policing Services

The United States Government Manual

OFFICE OF COMMUNITY ORIENTED POLICING SERVICES

935 N. Street NE., Washington, DC 20530

202-514-2058

<http://www.cops.usdoj.gov>

DIRECTOR

Robert Chapman, Acting

https://m.facebook.com/DOJCOPS/photos/a.180221468674616/4732389816791069/?\_se\_imp=0vbs3lvCvpgh7MTD3

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) was established to assist law enforcement agencies in enhancing public safety through the implementation of community policing strategies. The Office gives assistance by providing training to enhance law enforcement officers' problem-solving and community interaction skills and helping law enforcement and community members develop initiatives to prevent crime; increasing the number of law enforcement officers directly interacting with communities; and supporting the development of new technologies to shift law enforcement's focus to preventing crime and disorder within communities.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Resources

The "Dispatch" is a monthly electronic newsletter. The article "Ten Recruiting Tips for Finding Good Officers" ran in the SEP 2019 issue.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/html/dispatch/09-2019/recruitment.html>

The "Dispatch" article "Surviving the Job" ran in the DEC 2019 issue.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/html/dispatch/12-2019/surviving.html>

Contact Information

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/contactcops> | Email: askcopsRC@usdoj.gov

Grants and Funding

COPS grants and funding opportunities support State, local, and tribal law enforcement efforts to advance community policing. Current applicant and grantee information—announcements, fiscal year grant programs, current funding opportunities, and resources for grantees—is available online.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/grants>

News

The "News" web page provides easy access to photo galleries, press releases, " the podcast series "The Beat," the video series "What's New in Blue, and the Office's news feed.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/news>

Resources

COPS is a valuable resource for smart approaches to preventing and reducing crime. COPS works with researchers, practitioners, and trailblazers to implement effective strategies in the field.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/resources>

Training / Technical Assistance

Resources for training and technical assistance are available on the COPS website.

<https://cops.usdoj.gov/training-technical-assistance>

Social Media

COPS has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/DOJCOPS>

COPS tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/COPSOoffice>

The Sources of Information were updated 8-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Office on Violence Against Women

The United States Government Manual

OFFICE ON VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN

145 N Street NE., Suite 10W-121, Washington, DC 20530

Phone: 202-307-6026

<http://www.justice.gov/ovw>

DIRECTOR

Allison Randall, Acting

<https://www.justice.gov/ovw/about-office>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Office on Violence Against Women (OVW) was established in 1995 to reduce violence against women through the implementation of the Violence Against Women Act. The Office administers financial and technical assistance to communities that are developing programs, policies, and practices to end domestic and dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

Information on employment and internship opportunities is available online.

<http://www.justice.gov/ovw/careers>

Publications

Portable Document Format (PDF) files of selected publications are available online.

<http://www.justice.gov/ovw/selected-publications>

<http://www.justice.gov/ovw/contact-office> | Email: ovw.info@usdoj.gov

For further information, contact the Office on Violence Against Women, 145 N Street NE., Suite 10W-121, Washington, DC, 20530. Phone, 202-307-6026.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Parole Commission

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES PAROLE COMMISSION

90 K Street NE., Washington, DC 20530. Phone, 202-346-7000.

<http://www.usdoj.gov/uspc>

CHAIR

Patricia K. Cushwa, Acting

<https://www.justice.gov/uspc/about-commission>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8-2021.

The U.S. Parole Commission (USPC) makes parole release decisions for eligible Federal and District of Columbia prisoners; authorizes methods of release and conditions under which release occurs; prescribes, modifies, and monitors compliance with the terms and conditions governing offenders' behavior while on parole or mandatory or supervised release; issues warrants for violation of supervision; determines probable cause for the revocation process; revokes parole, mandatory, or supervised release; releases from supervision those offenders who are no longer a risk to public safety; and promulgates the rules, regulations, and guidelines for the exercise of USPC's authority and the implementation of a national parole policy.

USPC has sole jurisdiction over the following: Federal offenders who committed offenses before November 1, 1987; DC Code offenders who committed offenses before August 5, 2000; DC Code offenders sentenced to a term of supervised release; Uniform Code of Military Justice offenders who are in Bureau of Prison's custody; transfer treaty cases; and State probationers and parolees in the Federal Witness Protection Program.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The Commission maintains an online FOIA library. Information on Freedom of Information Act requests is available online.

<http://www.justice.gov/uspc/freedom-information-act-foia/foia-library>

<http://www.justice.gov/uspc/freedom-information-act-foia> | Email: USPC.FOIA@usdoj.gov

Reading Room

The reading room is located at 90 K Street NE., Washington, DC 20530. Phone, 202-346-7000.

<http://www.justice.gov/uspc/contact-commission>

For further information, contact the U.S. Parole Commission, Department of Justice, 90 K Street NE., Washington, DC 20530. Phone, 202-346-7000.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Department of Labor
Bureau of International Labor Affairs
Bureau of Labor Statistics
Employee Benefits Security Administration
Employment and Training Administration
Mine Safety and Health Administration
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Veterans' Employment and Training Service
Wage and Hour Division
Women's Bureau

The United States Government Manual

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

200 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20210

202-693-6000

<http://www.dol.gov>

SECRETARY OF LABOR

Eugene Scalia

Deputy Secretary

Patrick Pizzella

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/osec>

CHAIRS OF BOARDS

Administrative Review

Thomas H. Burrell, Acting

Benefits Review

Judith S. Boggs

Employees' Compensation Appeals

Alec J. Koromilas

Chief Administrative Law Judge

Stephen R. Henley

Chief Information Officer

Gundeep Ahluwalia

DIRECTORS

Centers for Faith and Opportunity Initiative

Mark Zelden

Executive Secretariat

Caroline H. Robinson

Office of Public Liaison

Dean A. Heyl

Ombudsman for the Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program

Malcolm Nelson

<https://www.dol.gov/general/dol-agencies>

ADMINISTRATOR

Wage and Hour Division

Cheryl M. Stanton

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

|   |                          |
|---|--------------------------|
| Administration and Management               | G. Bryan Slater          |
| Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs | (vacancy)                |
| Disability Employment Policy                | (vacancy)                |
| Employee Benefits Security                  | Jeanne K. Wilson, Acting |
| Employment and Training                     | John P. Pallasch         |
| Mine Safety and Health                      | David G. Zatezalo        |
| Occupational Safety and Health              | (vacancy)                |
| Policy                                      | (vacancy)                |
| Public Affairs                              | Robert Bozzuto           |
| Veterans' Employment and Training           | John Lowry III           |
| Chief Financial Officer                     | James E. Williams        |
| COMMISSIONER                                |                          |
| Labor Statistics                            | William W. Beach         |
| DEPUTY UNDERSECRETARY                       |                          |
| International Affairs                       | (vacancy)                |
| DIRECTOR                                    |                          |
| Women's Bureau                              | Laurie Todd-Smith        |
| OFFICE DIRECTORS                            |                          |
| Federal Contract Compliance Programs        | Craig E. Leen            |
| Labor-Management Standards                  | (vacancy)                |

---

Workers' Compensation Programs

Julia K. Hearthway

---

---

Solicitor of Labor

Kate S. O'Scannlain

---

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

---

Inspector General

Larry D. Turner, Acting

---

<https://www.oig.dol.gov/digbio.htm>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

The Department of Labor promotes the welfare of job seekers, wage earners, and retirees by improving working conditions, advancing opportunities for profitable employment, protecting retirement and health care benefits, matching workers to employers, strengthening free collective bargaining, and tracking changes in economic indicators on a national scale.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On March 4, 1913, President William H. Taft approved Public Law 62–426, which "created an executive department in the Government to be called the Department of Labor, with a Secretary of Labor, who shall be the head thereof, to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate." The Act also stated the purpose of the new Department of Labor (DOL): "to foster, promote, and develop the welfare of the wagger earners of the United States, to improve their working conditions, and to advance their opportunities for profitable employment" (37 Stat. 736).

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/62nd-congress/session-3/c62s3ch141.pdf>

The U.S. Congress first established a Bureau of Labor in the Department of the Interior. President Chester A. Arthur approved the legislative action on June 27, 1884. The Act placed the new Bureau "under the charge of a Commissioner of Labor . . . [who] shall collect information upon the subject of labor, its relation to capital, the hours of labor, and the earnings of laboring men and women, and the means of promoting their material, social, intellectual, and moral prosperity" (23 Stat. 60 and 61).

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/48th-congress/Session%201/c48s1ch127.pdf>

Four years later, the U.S. Congress acted again, establishing the Bureau of Labor as an independent department without executive rank. On June 13, 1888, President Grover Cleveland approved the law to make room "at the seat of Government [for] a Department of Labor, the general design and duties of which shall be to acquire and diffuse among the people of the United States useful information on subjects connected with labor, in the most general and comprehensive sense of that word, and especially upon its relation to capital, the hours of labor, the earnings of laboring men and women, and the means of promoting their material, social, intellectual, and moral prosperity."

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/50th-congress/session-1/c50s1ch389.pdf>

Fifteen years later, it returned to the status of a bureau within an expanded department that now acquired executive rank. On February 14, 1903, President Theodore Roosevelt approved Public Law 57–87, which established "an executive department to be known as the Department of Commerce and Labor" (32 Stat. 825).

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/57th-congress/session-2/c57s2ch552.pdf>

The DOL posts its organizational chart online.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/aboutdol/orgchart>

The DOL relies on a number of offices and agencies to carry out its mission. These components are organized into major program areas, and an Assistant Secretary or other official heads each of them.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/dol-agencies>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Statutory material on matters of "Labor" is codified in 29 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/browse/prelim@title29&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations associated with the Office of the Secretary of Labor are codified in subtitle A, parts 0–99, of 29 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=b05b0c24dcef5daf53fdf059f2fdfd28&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title29/29cfrv1\_02.tpl#0

Rules and regulations that relate to "Labor" are codified in subtitle B, 100–4999, of 29 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=b05b0c24dcef5daf53fdf059f2fdfd28&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title29/29subtitleB.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

The DOL administers a variety of Federal labor laws to guarantee workers' rights to fair, safe, and healthy working conditions, including minimum hourly wage and overtime pay, protection against employment discrimination, and unemployment insurance. The Secretary advises the President on the development and execution of policies and the administration and enforcement of laws relating to wage earners, their working conditions, and their employment opportunities.

Administrative Law

Administrative law judges from the Office of Administrative Law Judges preside over formal adversarial hearings involving labor-related matters: the Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation, the Defense Base, the Black Lung Benefits, the McNamara O'Hara Service Contract, and the Davis Bacon Act; environmental, transportation, and securities whistleblower protection laws; permanent and temporary immigration; child labor law violations; employment discrimination; training; seasonal and migrant workers; and Federal construction and service contracts. The Office is comprised of headquarters in Washington, D.C. and seven district offices. Its judges are nonpolitical appointees: They are appointed under and guaranteed decisional independence by the Administrative Procedure Act.

The Administrative Review Board or Benefits Review Board typically reviews appeals of the decisions made by the Office's judges. Depending upon the statute at issue, appeals then go to Federal district or appellate courts and, ultimately, may go to the U.S. Supreme Court.

<http://www.oalj.dol.gov>

Administration and Management

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management is responsible for the development and promulgation of policies, standards, procedures, systems, and materials related to the resource and administrative management of the Department and for the execution of such policies and directives at Headquarters and in the field.

<http://www.dol.gov/oasam>

Audits / Investigations

The Office of Inspector General (OIG) conducts audits to review the economy, effectiveness, efficiency, and integrity of all DOL programs and operations, including those performed by its contractors and grantees. The Inspector General works to answer the following types of questions: Do Department programs and operations comply with the applicable laws and regulations; are departmental resources being utilized efficiently and economically; and are DOL programs achieving their intended results? The Office also conducts administrative, civil, and criminal investigations relating to violations of Federal laws, regulations, or rules—including violations committed by DOL contractors and grantees—as well as investigations of allegations of misconduct on the part of DOL employees. In addition, the OIG has an "external" program function to conduct criminal investigations to combat the influence of labor racketeering and organized crime in the nation's labor unions. The OIG conducts labor racketeering investigations in three areas: employee benefit plans, labor-management relations, and internal union affairs. The OIG also works with other law enforcement partners on human trafficking matters.

<http://www.oig.dol.gov>

Communications / Public Affairs

The Office of Public Affairs (OPA) directs and coordinates all public and employee communications activities. The Assistant Secretary of the Office acts as the chief adviser to the Secretary of Labor and his or her Deputy Secretary and to the agency heads and departmental staff for developing and implementing strategies that engage and connect with the public and educate it about the work and mission of the Department.

The Assistant Secretary also acts as the Secretary's chief adviser on crisis communications. The OPA serves as the first point of contact for news media inquiries, as the clearance and dissemination point for DOL public-facing materials, and it develops and maintains the Department's Web-based, audiovisual, and contact center communications. The OPA also administers "lock ups" when sensitive economic data are released to the press under an embargo.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/media-contact>

Disability Employment Policy

The Office of Disability Employment Policy (ODEP) is the only non-regulatory federal agency that promotes policies and coordinates with employers and all levels of government to increase workplace success for people with disabilities. ODEP helps employers foster inclusive workplaces where all employees can contribute and succeed, and works to improve government workforce systems so people with disabilities can secure good jobs and excel in the workplace.

<http://www.dol.gov/odep>

Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation

The Office of the Ombudsman for the Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program was established in 2004 under Part E of the Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program Act (EEOICPA), as amended (42 U.S.C. 7385s-15). The EEOICPA is a system of Federal payments to compensate certain nuclear workers for occupational illnesses caused by exposure to toxic substances. This small and independent Office is headed by the Ombudsman, whom the Secretary of Labor appoints. It provides information to claimants on the benefits available under Parts B and E of the EEOICPA and issues annual reports to Congress detailing the complaints, grievances, and requests for assistance that the Office receives.

<http://www.dol.gov/eeombd>

Federal Contract Compliance

The Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs administers and enforces three equal employment opportunity laws: Executive Order 11246, Section 503 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974. As amended, these laws prohibit Federal contractors and subcontractors from discriminating based on race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, or status as a protected veteran. Executive Order 11246 prohibits Federal contractors and subcontractors, with limited exceptions, from taking adverse employment actions against applicants and employees for asking about, discussing, or sharing information on their pay or the pay of their coworkers. These laws also require Federal contractors and subcontractors to take affirmative action to ensure equal employment opportunity.

<http://www.dol.gov/ofccp> | Email: OFCCP-Public@dol.gov

Labor-Management Standards

The Office of Labor-Management Standards (OLMS) administers and enforces most provisions of the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 (LMRDA). The LMRDA primarily promotes union democracy and financial integrity in private sector labor unions through standards for union officer elections and union trusteeships and safeguards for union assets. Additionally, the LMRDA promotes labor union and labor-management transparency through reporting and disclosure requirements for labor unions and their officials, employers, labor relations consultants, and surety companies.

OLMS also administers provisions of the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 and the Foreign Service Act of 1980, which extend comparable protections to Federal labor unions. OLMS does not have jurisdiction over unions representing solely state, county, or municipal employees. In addition, the Division of Statutory Programs (DSP) administers DOL responsibilities under the Federal Transit Act by ensuring that fair and equitable arrangements protecting mass transit employees are in place before the release of Federal transit grant funds.

<http://www.dol.gov/olms>

Legal Services

The Office of the Solicitor of Labor (SOL) provides comprehensive legal services to help the Department achieve its mission. More specifically, the Solicitor serves dual roles in the Department. The Solicitor is the Department's chief enforcement officer, pursuing affirmative litigation on behalf of the Secretary before administrative law judges, review boards and commissions, and in the Federal district courts and courts of appeals. The Solicitor is also the Department's general counsel, assisting in the development of regulations, standards, and legislative proposals; providing legal opinions and advice on all of the Department's activities; advising the Solicitor General on Supreme Court litigation; and coordinating with the Department of Justice, as appropriate, to defend the Department in litigation.

<http://www.dol.gov/sol>

Policy / Rulemaking

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Policy advises and assists the Secretary, Deputy Secretary, and Department on policy development, policy evaluation, regulation, and legislation that improve the lives of workers, retirees, and their families. The Office also serves as the DOL's regulatory policy officer and regulatory reform officer to ensure that the Department complies with the regulatory and guidance development requirements of Executive Order 12866, as amended, Executive Order 13777, and any other related Office of Management and Budget circular or bulletin. The Office leads special initiatives and manages department-wide and interdepartmental activities. In its capacity as the DOL's policy innovation arm, it invests in research and analysis of current and emerging labor issues.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/oasp>

Workers' Compensation

The Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (OWCP) protects workers who are injured or become ill on the job by making decisions on claims, paying benefits, and helping workers return to their jobs. OWCP administers eight major disability compensation statutes: the Federal Employees' Compensation Act; the Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act; the Defense Base Act (DBA); the Nonappropriated Fund Instrumentalities Act; the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act; the War Hazards Compensation Act; the Black Lung Benefits Act; and the Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Act. OWCP serves specific employee groups that are covered under the relevant statutes and regulations by mitigating the financial burden resulting from workplace injury or illness and promoting return to work when appropriate. Dependents or survivors may also be eligible for benefits.

<http://www.dol.gov/owcp>

BOARDS

Administrative Review

The Administrative Review Board (ARB) consists of five members appointed by the Secretary. It issues final agency decisions for appeals cases under a wide range of worker protection laws, including the Service Contract Act (SCA) and the Davis Bacon Act (DBA). The appeals cases primarily address environmental, transportation, and securities whistleblower protection; H-1B immigration provisions; child labor law violations; employment discrimination; job training; seasonal and migrant workers. The Board's cases generally arise upon appeal from decisions of Department of Labor Administrative Law Judges (OALJ) or the Administrator of the Department's Wage and Hour Division (WHD). Depending upon the statute at issue, the parties may appeal the Board's decisions to Federal district or appellate courts and, ultimately, to the U.S. Supreme Court.

<http://www.dol.gov/arb/welcome.html>

Benefits Review

The Benefits Review Board (BRB) consists of five members appointed by the Secretary. In 1972, Congress created the Board to review and issue decisions on appeals of workers' compensation cases arising under the Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, and its extensions, and the Black Lung Benefits amendments to the Federal Coal Mine Safety Act of 1969. Board decisions may be appealed to the U.S. Courts of Appeals and to the U.S. Supreme Court.

<http://www.dol.gov/brb/welcome.html>

Employees' Compensation Appeals

The Employees' Compensation Appeals Board (ECAB) is a five-member quasi-judicial body appointed by the Secretary and delegated exclusive jurisdiction by Congress to hear and make final decisions on appeals filed by Federal workers arising under the Federal Employees' Compensation Act (FECA). The Board was created by Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1946 (60 Stat. 1095). The Board's decisions are not reviewable and are binding upon the Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (OWCP).

<http://www.dol.gov/ecab/welcome.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The DOL website features an alphabetical index to help visitors search for information or browse topics of interest.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/siteindex>

Agencies / Programs

The DOL carries out its mission through a number of offices and agencies, which are organized into major program areas. An Assistant Secretary, Director, or other official oversees each of these offices and agencies.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/dol-agencies>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that DOL records have been assigned to record group 174.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/174.html>

Business Opportunities

The Office of Acquisition Services is the primary procurement office for the DOL national office. It carries out most contracting, grants, and related activities. The Office procures a variety of goods and services on a recurring basis: auditors, expert witnesses, moving services, printing and graphics, support services, technical studies, and video productions. It also acts as the central procurement center for the Department's information technology needs. Phone, 202-693-4570.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/oasam/centers-offices/office-of-the-senior-procurement-executive/office-of-acquisition-services>

The Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization administers the DOL's small business program in accordance with the Small Business Act. It seeks to ensure a fair share of procurement opportunities for small businesses, as well as for Historically Underutilized Business Zone (HUBZone) certified, service-disabled veteran-owned, small disadvantaged, and woman-owned small businesses. Phone, 202-603-7299 or 866-487-2365.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/oasam/centers-offices/office-of-the-senior-procurement-executive/office-of-small-and-disadvantaged-business-utilization>

Career Opportunities

Each year, the DOL hires hundreds of professionals to help carry out its mission. These new employees enrich the Department by bringing with them a vast range of knowledge and skills. A sample of their areas of expertise include accounting and auditing, computer programming, criminal investigation, engineering, health inspection, industrial hygiene, personnel management, and statistics.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/jobs>

In 2019, the DOL ranked 17th among 25 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DL00>

Contact Information

Email addresses, phone numbers, and postal addresses are available on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact>

Contact information for representatives of the media is available on the DOL website. They should direct their inquiries to the Office of Public Affairs. Phone, 202-693-4676 (main line). Phone, 202-577-5744 (after-hours).

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/media-contact>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the DOL recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/labor-department>

Find It!

The "Find It" web page allows online visitors to look for information by audience or by topic. Available on the same page are the following internal links: A-Z index, DOL agencies, DOL forms, DOL services by location, and top 20 requested items.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/findit>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA provides that a person may request access to Federal agency records or information. The DOL must disclose records that any person properly requests in writing. Pursuant to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions that the Act contains, a Federal agency can withhold certain records or parts of them. The FOIA applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by the U.S. Congress, the courts, State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/foia> | Email: foiarequests@dol.gov

The DOL maintains a departmentwide electronic library. Before submitting a FOIA request, a requester should browse or search the holdings of the online library to ensure that the desired information is not already accessible, immediately and free of charge.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/foia/readroom>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The DOL posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<http://webapps.dol.gov/dolfaq/dolfaq.asp>

Glossary

The OIG maintains a glossary of terms related to its activities and mission.

<https://www.oig.dol.gov/hotlineterms.htm>

History

A Defeated and departing incumbent, President William Howard Taft reluctantly approved Public Law 62-426 to establish the Department of Labor on March 4, 1913. To learn more of the story, read Judson MacLaury's online article "A Brief History: The U.S. Department of Labor."

<https://www.dol.gov/general/aboutdol/history/webannalspage>

The "Online History Sources" web page has links to historical resources that are available on the DOL website and those of its subagencies.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/aboutdol/history/hiswebesources>

Minimum Wage

The DOL website has a list of DOL web pages that deal with the topic of minimum wage. The Wage and Hour Division administers and enforces the Federal minimum wage law.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/topic/wages/minimumwage>

News

The DOL posts press releases on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases>

Open Government

The DOL has an Open Government plan to support making Government more accountable, responsive, and transparent .

<https://www.dol.gov/open>

Plain Language

The DOL is committed to producing documents whose content complies with Federal plain language guidelines. It trains its employees and has adopted an oversight process to ensure the use of plain language in any document that is necessary for obtaining Federal Government benefits or services or filing taxes, provides information on Federal Government benefits or services, or explains to the public how to comply with a requirement that the Federal Government administers or enforces.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/plainwriting>

Popular Topics

The DOL website features a "Topics" page with links for convenient access to popular material.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/topic>

Public Disclosure

The Office of Labor-Management Standards maintains an online disclosure room where online visitors can search for union annual financial reports starting with the year 2000; view and print reports filed by unions, union officers and employees, employers, and labor relations consultants starting with the year 2000; and order copies of reports for the years prior to 2000. Certain collective bargaining agreements are also available. OLMS has public disclosure room: 200 Constitution Avenue NW., Room N-1519, Washington, DC 20210, which offers the same materials.

<http://www.unionreports.gov> | Email: OLMS-Public@dol.gov

Social Media

The DOL has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/departmentoflabor>

The DOL tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USDOL>

The DOL posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/USDDepartmentofLabor>

Spanish

The DOL supports the Hispanic workforce. An online list highlights some of the Department's Spanish resources. This list is intended for English-speakers who are looking for information in Spanish to share with the Hispanic community.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/topic/spanish-speakingtopic>

Unemployment Insurance Relief

The DOL has created a web page that is dedicated to providing information on unemployment insurance relief during the COVID-19 pandemic.

<https://www.dol.gov/coronavirus/unemployment-insurance>

Wirtz Labor Library

The library maintains an online card catalog of holdings added to the library after January of 1975. The online catalog also includes collections of historical significance: for example, the Folio and James Taylor Collections. The library is open to the public from 8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. on weekdays, excluding Federal holidays. If the purpose of a visit is to access research material, contact the library in advance: Wirtz Labor Library, 200 Constitution Avenue NW., Frances Perkins Building, Room N-2445, Washington, DC 20210. Phone, 202-693-6600.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/oasam/centers-offices/business-operations-center/library> | Email: library@dol.gov

The Sources of Information were updated 9-2020.

Bureau of International Labor Affairs

200 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20210

202-693-4770

<http://www.dol.gov/ilab>

|                                 |                      |
|---------------------------------|----------------------|
| DEPUTY UNDER SECRETARY          | (vacancy)            |
| Associate Deputy Undersecretary | Mark A. Mittelhauser |
| Chief of Staff                  | Grant Lebens         |

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/about-us/organization>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Bureau of International Labor Affairs promotes a fair competitive environment for workers in the United States and other countries worldwide.

The Bureau of International Labor Affairs (ILAB) promotes a fair global playing field for workers and businesses in the United States by enforcing trade commitments; strengthening labor standards; and combating international child labor, forced labor, and human trafficking. ILAB combines trade and labor monitoring and enforcement, policy engagement, technical assistance, and research to carry out the Department of Labor's international responsibilities.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/our-work>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that ILAB records have been assigned to record group 174.5.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/174.html#174.5>

Career Opportunities

ILAB relies on professionals with backgrounds in development economics and comparative labor law, as well as with firsthand experience designing and implementing international technical assistance programs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/about-us/careers-at-ilab>

In 2019, ILAB ranked 356th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/DLBL>

Hotline

The Interagency Labor Committee for Monitoring and Enforcement maintains a web-based hotline that allows for the receipt of confidential information from affected and concerned parties, regarding labor issues involving countries of the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/our-work/trade/labor-rights-usmca/hotline>

News

ILAB-related news is posted on the Department of Labor's website.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases?agency=34>

Projects

ILAB grants help prevent and stop abusive labor practices like the use of child labor and forced labor and human trafficking. ILAB-funded projects also promote compliance by trade partners' with the labor requirements of U.S. trade agreements and preference programs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/projects>

Reports / Publications

ILAB conducts and funds research, whose results it relies on to inform the design and implementation of policy and programs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/research-impact-evaluation>

Workers' Rights

The International Labor Organization (ILO) has identified "fundamental principles and rights at work." All ILO members are obligated to respect these principles and rights and promote them.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/our-work/workers-rights>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Bureau of Labor Statistics

2 Massachusetts Avenue NE., Washington, DC 20212

202-691-7800

800-877-8339 (TDD)

<http://www.bls.gov>

---

COMMISSIONER

William W. Beach

---

Deputy Commissioner

William J. Wiatrowski

---

https://www.bls.gov/bls/senior\_staff/home.htm

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Bureau of Labor Statistics measures labor market activity, working conditions, price changes, and productivity

in the Nation's economy to support decision making in both the public and private sectors.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) was established, in the Department of the Interior, as the Bureau of Labor by the act of June 27, 1884 (23 Stat. 60). It was renamed the Bureau of Labor Statistics by the act of March 4, 1913 (37 Stat. 737). The BLS measures labor market activity, working conditions, and price changes in the economy. It also collects, analyzes, and disseminates essential economic information to support public and private decisionmaking.

The Bureau strives to have its data satisfy a number of criteria, including: relevance to current social and economic issues, timeliness in reflecting today's rapidly changing economic conditions, accuracy and consistently high statistical quality, and impartiality in both subject matter and presentation.

Basic data are published in news releases on a monthly, quarterly, and annual basis. Basic data also are published in bulletins, reports, special publications, and periodicals. Regional offices issue additional reports and releases that often contain content of local or regional relevance.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/infohome.htm>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The BLS website has an A–Z index to help visitors navigate its content.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/topicsaz.htm>

Announcements

The BLS posts announcements on its website.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/announcement.htm>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BLS records have been assigned to record group 257.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/257.html>

Blog

The official BLS blog is called "Commissioner's Corner."

<https://blogs.bls.gov/blog>

Calculators

The "Databases, Tables, and Calculators by Subject" web page has an inflation calculator that allows users to calculate change in the buying power of the dollar over the years. An injury and illness calculator allows users to calculate injury and illness incidence rates for a specific establishment or firm and to compare those rates with the averages for the Nation, for States, and for the sector of industry to which the establishment or firm belongs.

<https://www.bls.gov/data/#calculators>

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the BLS relies on professionals who have diverse educational backgrounds, skills, and training. The agency relies heavily on the work of economists, information technology specialists, and mathematical statisticians.

<https://www.bls.gov/jobs/home.htm>

In 2019, the BLS ranked 93d among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLLS>

Contact Information

The "Information and Help" web page has an electronic form for requesting information and asking questions. Postal correspondence should be addressed to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, Postal Square Building, 2 Massachusetts Avenue NE., Washington, DC 20212-0001. Phone, 202-691-5200; Federal Relay Service, 800-877-8339.

<https://data.bls.gov/forms/opb.htm?/home.htm>

Contact information for the eight BLS regional offices is available online: Atlanta, 404-331-3415; Boston, 617-565-2327; Chicago, 312-353-1880; Dallas, 972-850-4800; Kansas City, 816-285-7000; New York, 646-264-3600; Philadelphia, 215-597-3282; and San Francisco, 415-625-2270.

<https://www.bls.gov/regions/contacts.htm>

Data Sources

Much of the information (e.g., databases and historical news release tables) that the BLS publishes is available from the "Databases, Tables, and Calculators by Subject" web page.

<https://www.bls.gov/data> | Email: blsdata\_staff@bls.gov

Some BLS data are available only through the home pages of individual programs—rather than from the "Databases, Tables, and Calculators by Subject" web page. These programs are listed on the "Subject Areas" page. For example, tables of employment projections data are available through the "Employment Projections" page; American time use survey data are available through the "American Time Use Survey" page; and national longitudinal surveys data are available through the "National Longitudinal Surveys" page.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/proghome.htm>

Certain BLS program data are available in compressed ZIP files. Some of these files are accessible on download.bls.gov. Other ZIP files may be located by starting at the home page of a specific program.

<https://download.bls.gov/pub/time.series/compressed/tape.format>

Economic Summaries

The BLS regional information offices produce economic summaries that are organized by State and posted in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading. Each summary presents a sampling of economic information on benefits, employment, prices, spending, wages, and unemployment for a particular area (e.g., Boston or Sacramento).

<https://www.bls.gov/regions/economic-summaries.htm>

Economy at a Glance

The "Economy at a Glance" web page has at-a-glance economic tables for many metropolitan areas nationwide.

<https://www.bls.gov/eag>

Monthly and quarterly economic data for the Nation are also posted in an at-a-glance format.

<https://www.bls.gov/eag/eag.us.htm>

Educational Resources

The "K–12" web pages include games and quizzes, sections for students and their teachers, a history timeline, and biographies of former Commissioners.

<https://www.bls.gov/k12>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the BLS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/labor-statistics-bureau>

Finding Data

The "BLS Data Finder 1.1" web page has a search tool that uses the conjunction "and" as the default search operator. This feature produces display results that contain all of the search terms. To find data that contains a particular combination of terms, the user must separate the terms by inserting the conjunction "or" between them.

<https://beta.bls.gov/dataQuery/search>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The BLS posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/faqs.htm>

Glossary

The BLS has a glossary on its website.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/glossary.htm>

History

The Bureau has been collecting data and crunching numbers for over 135 years. Over its long history, the BLS started out as the Bureau of Labor and part of the Department of the Interior; became an independent department for nearly 15 years; was incorporated into the former Department of Commerce and Labor; and was transferred to the newly created Department of Labor in 1913. To learn more of the story, visit the "BLS History" section.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/history/home.htm>

News

The BLS posts economic news releases, some of which are released on a monthly, quarterly, and annual basis.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/newsrels.htm#latest-releases>

Publications

The BLS publishes bulletins and reports and economic news releases. Its major publications include "Beyond the Numbers," "Career Outlook," "Monthly Labor Review," "Occupational Outlook Handbook," "The Economics Daily", and "Spotlight on Statistics."

<https://www.bls.gov/opub>

Regional Information

Economic data and statistics according to geographic areas are available on the "Regional Information Offices" page.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/regnhome.htm>

Research Papers

The Office of Survey Methods Research maintains an online research paper database.

<https://www.bls.gov/osmr/research-papers>

Resources

BLS economists, information technology specialists, and mathematical statisticians place a premium on accuracy, currency, innovation, objectivity, relevancy, and transparency. They strive to invest BLS datasets and informational products with these qualities, which help make them useful to a variety of audiences: business leaders, consumers, developers, economists, educators, investors, job seekers, members of the media, policymakers, researchers, and students.

<https://www.bls.gov/audience> | Email: blsdata\_staff@bls.gov

Select Datasets and Indices

The "Top Picks" web page allows easy access to the most requested price indices, as well as to the most requested employment, compensation, and productivity data tables.

<https://data.bls.gov/cgi-bin/surveymost?bls>

A "Help and Tutorials" page is dedicated to the "Top Picks" application.

<https://www.bls.gov/help/hlpMrs.htm>

Site Map

The BLS website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/sitemap.htm>

Social Media

The BLS tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/BLS\_gov

The BLS posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCijn3WBpHtx4AvSya7NER9Q>

Statistical Websites

The "Statistical Sites on the World Wide Web" allows easy access to a collection of Internet sites that are not administered by the BLS.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/other.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Employee Benefits Security Administration

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

866-444-3272

<http://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa>

---

|                     |                          |
|---------------------|--------------------------|
| ASSISTANT SECRETARY | Jeanne K. Wilson, Acting |
|---------------------|--------------------------|

---

|                                      |                  |
|--------------------------------------|------------------|
| Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary | Jeanne K. Wilson |
|--------------------------------------|------------------|

---

DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

---

|  |                   |
|--|-------------------|
| National Office Operations / Chief Operating Officer | Timothy D. Hauser |
|--|-------------------|

---

|                            |               |
|----------------------------|---------------|
| Regional Office Operations | Amy J. Turner |
|----------------------------|---------------|

---

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/organization-chart#section1>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Employee Benefits Security Administration assures the security of the retirement, health, and other workplace related benefits of American workers and their families.

The Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA) educates and assists the over 154 million participants in and beneficiaries of approximately 710,000 private retirement plans, 2.4 million health plans, and similar numbers of other welfare benefit plans. The EBSA balances proactive enforcement with compliance assistance and supports enrollees and beneficiaries by developing effective regulations; assisting and educating fiduciaries, plan sponsors, service providers, and workers; and enforcing the law.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/what-we-do>

---

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

Ask EBSA

EBSA's workers and families assistance web page provides accessible information on programs and services, answers to frequently asked questions, and assistance where a health or retirement benefit has been denied inappropriately.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/ask-a-question/ask-ebsa>

Career Opportunities

In 2019, the EBSA ranked 229th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLPW>

Contact Information

The "Regional Offices" web page has contact information for EBSA regional and district offices.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/regional-offices>

Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA)

ERISA is a Federal law that sets minimum standards for most voluntarily established retirement and health plans in private industry. This statute provides protection for individuals who are enrolled in these plans. The Department of Labor has a web page that it has dedicated to the ERISA.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/topic/health-plans/erisa>

On September 2, 1974, President Gerald R. Ford approved Public Law 93-406, which is also cited as the "Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974." Senators and Representatives of the U.S. Congress wrote this 207-page piece of legislation "to provide for pension reform" (88 Stat. 829).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-88/pdf/STATUTE-88-Pg829.pdf>

En Español

The EBSA posts information in Spanish on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/es/about-ebsa/our-activities/informacion-en-espanol>

ERISA Advisory Council

The membership of the council is posted on the "ERISA Advisory Council" web page. The council posts issue statements on the same page.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/erisa-advisory-council>

ERISA Advisory Council reports are posted online.

Factsheets

The EBSA posts factsheets.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/fact-sheets>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the EBSA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible

online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/employee-benefits-security-administration>

Forms

The EBSA posts forms and filing instructions online.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/employers-and-advisers/plan-administration-and-compliance/reporting-and-filing/forms>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The EBSA posts answers to frequently asked questions.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/faqs>

History

The EBSA administers and enforces the fiduciary, reporting, and disclosure provisions of the first title of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). The histories of the ERISA and EBSA are tightly intertwined.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/history-of-ebsa-and-erisa>

Information for Researchers

EBSA researchers expand the knowledge of employee benefits and their role in meeting the Nation's economic security needs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/researchers>

Key Topics

The EBSA website features a page with links to key topics: health and other employee benefits, reporting and filing, and retirement.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/key-topics>

News

The EBSA posts news items on the Department of Labor's website.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases?agency=37&state=All&topic=All&year=all>

Publications

The EBSA distributes booklets, factsheets, and pamphlets on employer responsibilities and employee rights under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act. A list of publications is available online or from the Office of Outreach, Education, and Assistance. Phone, 866-444-3272.

<http://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/publications>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Employment and Training Administration

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20520

877-872-5627

<http://www.doleta.gov>

---

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

John P. Pallasch

---

Deputy Assistant Secretaries

Matthew Hunter

---

Nancy Rooney

---

Amy Simon

---

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/about>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Employment and Training Administration helps the U.S. labor market function more efficiently by providing job training, employment, labor market information, and income maintenance services.

ACTIVITIES

---

In addition to training, employment, information, and services, which are provided primarily through State and local workforce development systems, the Employment and Training Administration (ETA) also administers programs to enhance employment opportunities and promote business prosperity.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/program-areas>

Apprenticeships

The Office of Apprenticeship oversees the National Apprenticeship System, sets standards for apprenticeship, and assists States, industry, and labor in developing apprenticeship programs that meet required standards, while promoting equal opportunity and safeguarding the welfare of apprentices.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/apprenticeship>

For more information, call 202-693-2796.

Contracts Management

The Office of Contracts Management advises the Assistant Secretary of the ETA, in a manner that is consistent with Federal statutes and regulations, on mission-critical procurement matters. The Office applies procurement services to ETA organizational components to address business challenges with best practices and cost-effective solutions.

<http://www.doleta.gov/contracts>

For further information, call 202-693-3110.

Financial Administration

The Office of Financial Administration (OFA) manages all ETA fiscal resources for programs and activities for which funds are appropriated through the Office's functions of accounting, budget, and financial system oversight. The Office provides budgetary, accounting, audit, and internal control management. It coordinates with the departmental budget center and the Office of the Chief Financial Officer to provide financial management that supports carrying out the ETA's mission.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/budget>

For further information, call 202-693-3162.

Foreign Labor Certification

The Office of Foreign Labor Certification (OFLC) carries out the delegated responsibility of the Secretary of Labor under the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, concerning the admission of foreign workers into the United States for employment. In carrying out this responsibility, the Office administers temporary nonimmigrant and permanent labor certification programs through the ETA's national processing centers that are located in Chicago and Atlanta.

The OFLC also administers nationally the issuance of employer-requested prevailing wage determinations through the ETA's National Prevailing Wage and Helpdesk Center, which is located in Washington, DC. Prevailing wage determinations are issued for use in all nonagricultural temporary labor certification programs and the permanent labor certification program.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/foreign-labor>

For more information, call 202-693-3010.

Grants Management

The Office of Grants Management provides grants management expertise to ETA offices and stakeholders throughout the life cycle of a grant. The Office delivers centralized grants administration and policy expertise to support pre-award, award, period of performance, audit resolution, and closeout of ETA Federal assistance awards.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/grants>

For further information, call 202-693-2800.

Job Training

Job Corps is the largest nationwide residential career training program in the Nation and has been operating for more than half of a century. The program helps eligible young people who are 16–24 years old complete their high school education, trains them for meaningful careers, and assists them with obtaining employment.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/jobcorps>

For further information, call 202-693-3000.

Policy Development and Research

The Office of Policy Development and Research (OPDR) supports ETA policies and investments to improve the public workforce system by analyzing, formulating, and recommending legislative changes and options for policy initiatives. The Office coordinates the ETA's legislative and regulatory activities and their interactions with international organizations and foreign countries. The OPDR maintains the ETA's portion of the Department of Labor's regulatory agenda and disseminates advisories and publications. The Office provides the ETA with strategic approaches to improve performance and outcomes through research, demonstrations, and evaluation of its major programs. The Office manages the Workforce Investment Act performance accountability reporting system; oversees the maintenance of wage record exchange systems for State and other grantees; coordinates the development of the ETA's operating plan; and disseminates workforce program performance results. The OPDR also provides policy guidance on and technical assistance for the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/policy>

For further information, call 202-693-3700.

Trade Adjustment Assistance

The Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) administers a workers assistance program for those who have lost or may lose their jobs because of foreign trade. The TAA program provides reemployment services and allowances for eligible individuals.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/tradeact>

For further information, call 202-693-3560.

Unemployment Compensation

The Office of Unemployment Insurance provides national leadership, oversight, policy guidance, and technical assistance to the Federal-State unemployment compensation system. The Office also interprets Federal legislative requirements.

<https://oui.doleta.gov/unemploy/aboutoui.asp>

For more information, call 202-693-3029.

Workforce Investment

The Office of Workforce Investment implements an integrated national workforce investment system that supports economic growth and provides workers with information, advice, job search assistance, supportive services, and training for employment. The Office also helps employers hire skilled workers.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/workforce-investment>

For further information, call 202-693-3980.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that ETA records have been assigned to record group 369.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/369.html>

Advisories

The ETA uses its advisory system to disseminate its interpretations of Federal laws; procedural, administrative, management, and program direction; and other information to the States, direct grant recipients, and other interested parties.

<https://wdr.doleta.gov/directives>

Career Opportunities

In 2019, the ETA ranked 369th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/DLET>

Contact Information

ETA contact information is available on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/contact> | Email: eta.webportal@dol.gov

Contact information for the ETA's six regional offices is available online.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/regions>

Data

The Division of Research and Evaluation posts datasets for public use on the ETA's website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/research/public-use-datasets>

The Office of Unemployment Insurance posts unemployment insurance data as part of the ETA's contribution to the Department of Labor's collection and publication of data.

<https://oui.doleta.gov/unemploy/DataDashboard.asp>

The Office of Foreign Labor Certification posts employment-based immigration data on the ETA's website. Three main categories are used to organize the data: selected statistics that provide cumulative quarterly data by major immigration program; cumulative quarterly and fiscal year releases of program disclosure data; and historical fiscal year annual program and performance report information.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/foreign-labor/performance>

The Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance posts charts, statistics, and other information on the ETA's website. Three main categories are used to organize the data: petitions and determinations, participants, and financial.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/tradeact/data>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the ETA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/employment-and-training-administration>

Job Corps

An online directory has contact information for the Office of Job Corps, including the national Job Corps hotline and phone numbers and email addresses for Office of the Administrator staff. It also allows convenient access to information for contacting Job Corps regional offices.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/jobcorps/contact>

Job Seekers

The ETA posts resources for job seekers on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/job-seekers>

Library

A large repository of information is available online from the "ETA Library" web page.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/reports>

National Agricultural Workers Survey

This employment-based and random-sample survey of U.S. crop workers brings together demographic, employment, and health data that are collected during face-to-face interviews.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/national-agricultural-workers-survey>

News

The ETA posts news releases on the Department of Labor's website.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases?agency=39&state=All&topic=All&year=all>

Rapid Response Services

Rapid Response is designed to respond to layoffs and plant closings by quickly coordinating services and providing immediate aid to companies and their affected workers. Rapid Response teams work with employers and employee representatives to quickly maximize public and private resources to minimize disruptions associated with job loss.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/layoffs>

Reducing Recidivism

The Reentry and Employment Opportunities—Adult Program strengthens urban communities through an employment-centered program of mentoring, job training, and other comprehensive transitional services. Helping former inmates find employment when they return to their communities reduces recidivism.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/reentry>

Research

The research publication database provides access to a collection of research and evaluation reports. The ETA commissioned the research and evaluation reports to help guide the workforce investment system in administering effective programs that enhance employment opportunity and business.

https://wdr.doleta.gov/research/eta\_default.cfm

Veterans

The ETA website has a section dedicated to veterans. It offers resources for veteran who are job seekers and for providers of employment and training programs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/jobs-for-veterans-act>

Youth Services

A section of the ETA's website is dedicated to youth programs and services.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/youth>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Mine Safety and Health Administration

201 12th Street South, Suite 400, Arlington, Virginia 22202

202-693-9400

<http://www.msha.gov>

---

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

David G. Zatezalo

---

DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

---

Operations

Patricia W. Silvey

---

Policy

Wayne D. Palmer

---

<https://www.msha.gov/about/leadership>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Mine Safety and Health Administration works to prevent mine-related deaths, illnesses, and injuries and promotes safe and healthy work environments.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On November 9, 1977, President James E. Carter approved Public Law 95–164, which is also cited as the Federal Mine Safety and Health Amendments Act of 1977. This statute amended the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969 (PL 91–173), including its short title, which was changed to the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 (91 Stat. 1290).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-91/pdf/STATUTE-91-Pg1290.pdf>

The Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 created the Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) in 1978 by transferring the Federal mine safety program and its functions from the Department of the Interior to the Department of Labor.

<https://www.msha.gov/about/history>

The MSHA is organized into program areas.

<https://www.msha.gov/about/program-areas>

The MSHA posts its organizational chart online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

https://www.msha.gov/sites/default/files/Organizational\_Charts/OAS-Org-Chart.pdf

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

"Chapter 22—Mine Safety and Health" has been assigned to 30 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title30/chapter22&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that are associated with the MSHA are assigned to the first chapter of 30 CFR. The chapter includes parts 1–199.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=2f9b3d9dbb071240550f37a930d0135d&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title30/30cfrv1\_02.tpl#0

ACTIVITIES

The MSHA helps protect the Nation's miners by promoting healthy and safe work environments for them. It works toward the elimination of fatal mining accidents, the reduction of the frequency and severity of accidents, and the minimization of health hazards through enforcement of mandatory safety and health standards in the mining industry. It also provides technical, educational, and other assistance, including the testing and approval of equipment for use in the industry, to mine operators. The MSHA cooperates with industry, labor, and other Federal and State agencies to improve safety and health conditions for miners.

<https://www.msha.gov/about>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that MSHA records have been assigned to record group 433. That record group does not have a description that is associated with it.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/000.html>

Career Opportunities

Information on employment opportunities is available online.

<http://www.msha.gov/about/careers>

In 2019, the MSHA ranked 260th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLMS>

Contact Information

The "Contact MSHA" web page has emergency and general contact information.

<https://www.msha.gov/about/contact-msha> | Email: AskMSHA@dol.gov

Data Sources / Calculators

The "Data Sources and Calculators" web page allows convenient access to a range of mine safety and health data (e.g., information on accidents, air sampling, employment, injuries, illnesses, inspections, production totals, and violations). Compliance calculator tools can be used to illuminate the history of key health and safety violations of a mine.

<https://www.msha.gov/data-reports/data-sources-calculators>

Educational Resources

The MSHA posts training and educational resources on its website.

<https://www.msha.gov/training-education>

The National Mine Health and Safety Academy conducts education and training programs in health and safety and related subjects for Federal mine inspectors and other government mining and industry personnel.

<https://arlweb.msha.gov/PROGRAMS/MineAcademy/Academy.asp>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the MSHA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/mine-safety-and-health-administration>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The MSHA posts answers to FAQs on rulemaking.

<https://www.msha.gov/rulemaking-frequently-asked-questions>

Historical Statutes / Legislative History

The "Laws" web page has key historical statutes and their legislative history.

<https://www.msha.gov/regulations/laws>

Library

The MSHA digital library's holdings include accident reports, images, photographs, and research material.

<https://arlweb.msha.gov/TRAINING/LIBRARY/mshaPortal/index.html>

Media Gallery

Online visitors may browse or search historical photographs and videos, including mine training and health training videos.

<https://www.msha.gov/news-media/media-gallery>

Mine Disasters

Five or more fatalities define a mining disaster. The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health posts data tables that summarize all U.S. mining disasters from 1839 to the present. Starting with the year 1900, graphs are also available.

<https://www.cdc.gov/niosh/mining/statistics/minedisasters.html>

News / Media

The MSHA posts alerts and hazards, announcements, congressional testimonies, events, news releases, photographs and videos, and speeches on its website.

<https://www.msha.gov/news-media>

Reports

Current and historical preliminary accident reports, fatalgrams, and fatal investigation reports for metal, nonmetal, and coal mines are accessible on the MSHA website. Quarterly and annual summaries of mining fatalities along with associated best practices and preventative recommendations are also accessible.

<https://www.msha.gov/data-reports/fatality-reports>

Part 50 of Title 30 of the Code of Federal Regulations (30 CFR 50) requires mine operators to notify the MSHA when accidents occur and to investigate those accidents, while restricting disturbance of accident-related areas. Part 50 also requires mine operators to file reports on accidents, occupational injuries, and occupational illnesses, as well as employment and coal production data.

<https://www.msha.gov/data-reports/reports>

Resources / Tools

The MSHA posts mine emergency operations information, miners' resources, and technical resources on its "Resources and Tools" web page.

<https://www.msha.gov/support-resources/resources-tools>

Spanish

In the top right corner of the MSHA's home page are an Español option and an Inglés option. Using these options, visitors to the website can toggle between content in either language.

<https://www.msha.gov>

State Mining Agencies

A list of links to the websites of State mining agencies is available on the MSHA website.

<https://www.msha.gov/support-resources/external-mining-resources/state-mining-agencies>

Statistics

The "Statistics" web page allows easy access to numbers on mine employment and coal production; the most frequently cited standards (i.e., regulatory violations) by year, mine type, and industry group; and graphs, maps, and tables that The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health has created to summarize a range of information on employees, fatalities, injuries, and mines.

<https://www.msha.gov/data-reports/statistics>

Targeted Inspections

The MSHA conducts targeted inspections each month at mines that merit increased attention and enforcement due to their poor compliance history or particular compliance concerns. Each month's inspection results are posted online.

<https://www.msha.gov/monthly-targeted-inspection-results>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID–19): For employee and employer Coronavirus pandemic information, which includes links to interim guidance and other resources for preventing exposure to and infection with the virus, go to <https://www.osha.gov/SLTC/covid-19>.

Occupational Safety and Health Administration

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

800-321-6742

<http://www.osha.gov>

---

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

James Frederick, Acting

---

Deputy Assistant Secretaries

Amanda Edens

James Frederick

---

Chief of Staff

Leah Ford

<https://www.osha.gov/aboutosha>

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2021.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) was created pursuant to the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 651 et seq.).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-84/pdf/STATUTE-84-Pg1590.pdf>

OSHA posts an organizational chart online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.osha.gov/html/OSHAorgchart.pdf>

ACTIVITIES

OSHA assures safe and healthful working conditions for men and women by promulgating common sense, protective health, and safety standards; enforcing workplace safety and health rules; providing training, outreach, education, and assistance to workers and employers in their efforts to control workplace hazards; prevent work-related injuries, illnesses, and fatalities; and partnering with States that run their own OSHA-approved programs.

<https://www.osha.gov/aboutosha>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

An alphabetized topical index is available on the OSHA website to help visitors find information.

<https://www.osha.gov/a-z>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that OSHA records have been assigned to record group 100.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/100.html>

Career Opportunities

In 2019, OSHA ranked 196th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLSH>

Contact Information

OSHA posts contact information on its "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.osha.gov/contactus>

Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID–19)

The OSHA has posted a "COVID–19" web page containing employee and employer Coronavirus pandemic information that includes links to interim guidance and other resources for reducing exposure and preventing infection.

<https://www.osha.gov/SLTC/covid-19>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that OSHA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/occupational-safety-and-health-administration>

File a Complaint

Information on how to file a safety and health complaint and an electronic complaint form are available on the OSHA website. Phone, 800-321-6742.

https://www.osha.gov/workers/file\_complaint.html

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The OSHA is required to disclose records that are properly requested in writing by any person. An agency may withhold information pursuant to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions contained in the FOIA. The act applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by Congress, the courts, State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.osha.gov/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The OSHA posts answers to FAQs online.

<https://www.osha.gov/faq>

Injury and Illness Data

The OSHA website has a searchable, establishment-specific database for establishments that provided OSHA with valid data from 1996 through 2011.

https://www.osha.gov/pls/odi/establishment\_search.html

Workplace injury, illness, and fatality statistics are available on the OSHA website.

<https://www.osha.gov/oshstats/work.html>

Make a Report

Employers must notify OSHA when an employee is killed on the job or suffers a work-related amputation, hospitalization, or loss of an eye. A fatality must be reported within 8 hours; an amputation, in-patient hospitalization, or eye loss must be reported within 24 hours. An employer should be prepared to supply the name of the business, the names of employees who were affected, the location and time of the incident, a brief description of the incident, and a contact person and phone number.

<https://www.osha.gov/report.html>

Map

A "Heat Fatalities Map" shows the locations of outdoor worker heat-related deaths between 2008 and 2014.

<https://www.osha.gov/SLTC/heatillness/map.html>

A nationwide map of enforcement cases with initial penalties above $40,000 is available online.

<https://www.osha.gov/enforcement/toppenalties/bystate>

News

The OSHA newsroom has a collection of quick links for relevant news sources.

<https://www.osha.gov/news>

The "What's New" web page features news items that are organized chronologically.

<https://www.osha.gov/whatsnew.html>

Newsletter

OSHA's online newsletter has the latest news on compliance assistance, enforcement actions, outreach activities, rulemaking, and training and educational resources.

<https://www.osha.gov/quicktakes>

Offices

A complete listing of OSHA regional and area offices is available online.

<http://www.osha.gov/html/RAmap.html>

OSHA Card

Facts on obtaining an OSHA card are available online.

<https://www.osha.gov/dte/oshacardfacts.html>

Publications

OSHA publications are accessible online.

<https://www.osha.gov/pls/publications/publication.html>

Social Media

OSHA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/OSHA\_DOL

Spanish

In the top right corner of the OSHA's home page are an Español option and an Inglés option. Using these options, visitors to the website can toggle between content in Spanish or English.

<https://www.osha.gov>

Training / Education

Stand-alone, interactive, web-based training tools—eTools and the eMatrix—are available on the OSHA website. These tools are highly illustrated and utilize graphical menus.

<https://www.osha.gov/dts/osta/oshasoft/index.html>

Prevention video training tools (v-tools) on construction hazards are available on the OSHA website. These videos show how workers can be injured suddenly or even killed on the job. The videos assist those who are in the construction industry with identifying, reducing, and eliminating hazards. The videos are presented in clear, accessible vocabulary; show common construction worksite activities; and most are 2–4 minutes long.

<https://www.osha.gov/dts/vtools/construction.html>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Veterans' Employment and Training Service

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

866-487-2365

<http://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets>

---

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

John Lowry III

---

DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

---

Operations and Management

J. Sam Shellenberger

---

Policy

(vacancy)

---

Chief of Staff

Jonathan VanderPlas

---

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/about>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Veterans' Employment and Training Service helps America's veterans, servicemembers, and their spouses who are eligible prepare for careers; provides them with employment resources and expertise; protects their employment rights; and promotes their employment opportunities.

On March 24, 1983, former Secretary of Labor Raymond J. Donovan signed Order 4–83, which redesignated the Office of the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Veterans Employment as the Veterans' Employment and Training Service. The Secretary's order of redesignation was published in the Federal Register on April 1, 1983 (48 FR 14092).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1983-04-01/pdf/FR-1983-04-01.pdf>

The Veterans' Employment and Training Service (VETS) administers employment and training programs and compliance activities that help veterans and servicemembers succeed in their civilian careers. VETS also administers the jobs for veterans State grant program, which gives grants to States to fund personnel who are dedicated to serving the employment needs of veterans. VETS field staff works closely with and gives technical assistance to State employment workforce agencies to ensure that veterans receive priority of service and gain meaningful employment. VETS has two competitive grants programs: the homeless veterans reintegration program and the incarcerated veterans transition program. VETS also helps servicemembers who are separating from the Armed Forces prepare for the civilian labor market.

VETS has three compliance programs: the Federal contractor program, veterans' preference in Federal hiring, and the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 (USERRA). With respect to the Federal contractor program, VETS promulgates regulations and oversees the program by helping contractors comply with their affirmative action and reporting obligations. Although the Office of Personnel Management administers and interprets statutes and regulations that govern veterans' preference in Federal hiring, VETS investigates allegations that veterans' preference rights have been violated.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/about>

In addition, VETS preserves servicemembers' employment and reemployment rights through its administration and enforcement of USERRA. VETS conducts investigations of alleged violations, and it carries out a USERRA outreach program.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-108/pdf/STATUTE-108-Pg3149.pdf>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

In 2019, the VETS ranked 227th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/DLVE>

Contact Information

A national office directory is available online.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/about/nationaloffice>

A regional and State directory is available online.

<https://www.dol.gov/vets/aboutvets/regionaloffices/map.htm>

Find Employment

The "Find a Job" web page has resources to help veterans find employment.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/veterans/findajob>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that VETS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/veterans-employment-and-training-service>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Any person has the right to request access to Federal agency records or information. VETS is required to disclose records that are properly requested in writing by any person. An agency may withhold information pursuant to nine exemptions and three exclusions contained in the FOIA. The act applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by Congress, the courts, or by State or local government agencies. A FOIA request should be submitted to the appropriate national or regional VETS office by email, fax, or mail. The subject line, cover page, or envelope should be clearly labeled "Freedom of Information Act Request." The content of the request should indicate that it is a FOIA request, and it should contain as much information as possible describing the record or records being sought.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/about/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

VETS posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/vets/resources/faqs.htm>

The Department of Labor posts answers to FAQs regarding veterans on its website.

<https://webapps.dol.gov/dolfaq/dolfaqbytopic.asp?topicID=12&topicTitle=Veterans>

Grants

Information on grants and other opportunities is available online.

<http://www.dol.gov/vets/resources/grants.htm>

News / Media

VETS posts news releases and public service announcements on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/vets/news.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Wage and Hour Division

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

866-487-9243

<http://www.dol.gov/whd>

|                      |                         |
|----------------------|-------------------------|
| ADMINISTRATOR        | Cheryl M. Stanton       |
| Deputy Administrator | Susan Boone             |
| Chief of Staff       | Michael Stojasavljevich |

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/about/organizational-chart#Keypersonnel>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Wage and Hour Division protects and enhances the welfare of the Nation's workers by promoting and achieving compliance with labor standards.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On June 25, 1938, President Franklin D. Roosevelt approved Public Law 75–718, which also is cited as the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938. Among its findings, the U.S. Congress noted that the existence "in industries engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, of labor conditions detrimental to the maintenance of the minimum standard of living necessary for health, efficiency, and general well-being of workers" causes these adverse labor conditions to spread and perpetuate, burdens commerce and the free flow of goods, undermines fair competition, leads to disputes that burden and obstruct commerce and the free flow of goods, and interferes with the commercial marketing of goods (52 Stat. 1060).

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/75th-congress/session-3/c75s3ch676.pdf>

The statute also "created in the Department of Labor a Wage and Hour Division [WHD] which shall be under the direction of an Administrator" who "shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate" (52 Stat. 1061).

Secretary Frances Perkins's order of October 15, 1942, established the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions (WHPCD) by consolidating the WHD and the Public Contracts Division to administer Federal minimum wage, overtime pay, and child labor laws.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/155.html>

In 1967, the Wage and Labor Standards Administration (WLSA) was established in the Department of Labor to direct and coordinate Federal wage and labor standards programs. On May 5, 1969, by secretarial order, the WHPCD was assigned to the WLSA.

On November 8, 2009, the Employments Standards Administration was dissolved into its four constituent components: The WHD, the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, the Office of Workers' Compensation Programs, and the Office of Labor Management Standards. Authorities were delegated and responsibilities were assigned to the Administrator of the WHD (74 FR 58836).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2009-11-13/pdf/FR-2009-11-13.pdf>

The WHD posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/about/organizational-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

"Chapter 8—Fair Labor Standards" has been assigned to 29 U.S.C. Title 29 is dedicated to codified statutory material that affects labor.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title29/chapter8&edition=prelim>

"Subtitle B—Regulations Relating to Labor" has been assigned to 29 CFR. The fifth chapter (sections 500–899) of that subtitle is dedicated to the WHD.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=efbbc65896d0d414403dfadb6f5d8d83&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title29/29cfrv3\_02.tpl#0

ACTIVITIES

The WHD enforces Federal minimum wage, overtime pay, recordkeeping, and child labor law requirements of the Fair Labor Standards Act. The WHD also enforces the Migrant and Seasonal Agricultural Worker Protection

Act, the Employee Polygraph Protection Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, wage garnishment provisions of the Consumer Credit Protection Act, and a number of employment standards and worker protections as provided in several immigration-related statutes. Additionally, the WHD administers and enforces the prevailing wage requirements of the Davis Bacon Act and the Service Contract Act and other statutes applicable to Federal contracts for construction and for the provision of goods and services.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/about>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that WHD records have been assigned to record group 155.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/155.html>

Career Opportunities

In 2019, the WHD ranked 170th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLWH>

Contact Information

The WHD posts contact information on its "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/contact>

Evaluations / Studies

The WHD posts evaluations and studies on its website in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/resources/evaluations.htm>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the WHD recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/wage-and-hour-division>

File a Complaint

Instructions for filing a complaint are available online. Phone, 866-487-9243.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/contact/complaints>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The WHD is required to disclose records that are properly requested in writing by any person. The WHD may withhold information pursuant to nine exemptions and three exclusions contained in the FOIA. The WHD does not require a special FOIA request form. A request must reasonably describe the desired record. Providing its name or title is not mandatory, but the more specific the record description, the more likely that WHD staff can locate it. A FOIA request must be made in writing and may be submitted by courier service, email, fax, or postal mail.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/foia/index.htm>

History

The WHD has posted a historical summary on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/about/history>

News

The WHD posts national and State news releases.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases/whd>

Offices

Contact information for WHD area, district, and regional offices is available on the "WHD Local Offices" web page.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/america2.htm>

Resources

Resources for workers are available on the WHD website.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/workers.htm>

Resources for employers are available on the WHD website.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/foremployers.htm>

Resources for State and local governments are available on the WHD website.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/forstatelocalgovernments.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Women's Bureau

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

202-693-6710

<http://www.dol.gov/wb>

---

DIRECTOR

Laurie Todd-Smith

---

Chief of Staff

Jillian Rogers

---

Deputy Director of Operations

Joan Harrigan-Farrelly

---

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/about>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Women's Bureau develops policies and standards and conducts inquiries to safeguard the interests of working women, to advocate for their equality and the economic security of their families, and to promote quality work environments.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On June 5, 1920, President Woodrow Wilson signed Public Law 66–259, which established "a bureau to be known as the Women's Bureau" in the Department of Labor. The Director of the Women's Bureau (WB) may not be a man, but is required by law to be a woman whom the President appoints by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The U.S. Congress assigned the following duty to the WB: "to formulate standards and policies which shall promote the welfare of wage-earning women, improve their working conditions, increase their efficiency, and advance their opportunities for profitable employment." The WB has "authority to investigate and report" to the Department of Labor ""upon all matters pertaining to the welfare of women in industry."

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/66th-congress/session-2/c66s2ch248.pdf>

ACTIVITIES

The Bureau identifies, researches, and analyzes topics that are relevant for working women; pioneers policies and programs to address those topics; and enhances public education and outreach efforts to raise awareness on key issues and developments affecting women in the workforce.

<https://www.dol.gov/wb/overview.htm>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that WB records have been assigned to record group 086.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/086.html>

Centennial Anniversary

One of the Department of Labor's longest-serving agencies, the WB celebrates its centennial anniversary throughout the year 2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases/wb/wb20200128>

Contact Information

The WB has a toll-free phone number: 800-827-5335. Phone, 202-693-6710. Fax, 202-693-6725

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/contact> | Email: womens.bureau@dol.gov

Data / Statistics

Current and historical statistics on a broad range of topics and subpopulations of women in the labor force are available online.

http://www.dol.gov/wb/stats/stats\_data.htm

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the WB recently published in the Federal Register are listed under the Department of Labor.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/labor-department>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives a right to access Federal Government records to any person. The FOIA is designed to make Government actions and operations more transparent. It applies to existing records and does not require an agency to create new records for compliance. The FOIA also does not require an agency to collect information that it does not have or to do research or analyze data to fulfill a request. Certain records, or parts of them, may be exempt from disclosure by the Act if one of nine exemptions shields their content.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/foia>

Grants

The Women in Apprenticeship and Nontraditional Occupations grant expands pathways for women to enter all industries and assume leadership roles in them.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/grants/wanto-grants>

Re-Employment, Support, and Training for the Opioid Related Epidemic grants help women who have been affected by the opioid crisis to rejoin the workforce.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/grants/restore>

History

Before the outbreak of the First World War, 75% of all women who worked in manufacturing made apparel or its materials, food, or tobacco products. The war changed the U.S. economy and how women participated in it: their numbers in the industrial workforce increased and the range of occupations open to them expanded, even though women remained concentrated in clerical occupations, domestic and personal service, and factory work. The Second World War, accelerated technological advancements, and changes in social attitude have created a different reality today. To learn more about the ever changing employment situation of women in the U.S. workforce and the role that the WB has played in shaping it for the better, visit the "History: An Overview 1920–2020" web page.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/about/history>

Maps

The "Equal Pay and Pay Transparency Protections" map is interactive and displays information on Federal and State equal pay and pay transparency protections for workers.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/equal-pay-protections>

The "Employment Protections for Workers Who Are Pregnant or Nursing" map is interactive and displays information on Federal and State employment protections against pregnancy discrimination, provisions for pregnancy accommodation, and workplace breastfeeding rights.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/pregnant-nursing-employment-protections>

Newsletter

The "WB Updates Newsletter" is available online.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/news/newsletter>

Press Releases

The Bureau posts press releases online.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases/wb>

Regional Offices

A complete listing of WB regional offices is available online.

http://www.dol.gov/wb/info\_about\_wb/regions/regional\_offices.htm

Resources

The WB posts Federal resources for women on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/federal-agency-resources>

"Meeting in a Box" is a communication resource that allows the WB to share information about its current activities, while also providing messaging tools for the general public. This communications resource includes a presentation slide deck with notes, factsheet, and talking points. It offers tools for conducting a meeting, incorporating information into speeches, or incorporating messages as part of a meeting presentation. A tool may be used singly as a stand-alone piece, or in combination, depending on the audience and setting.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/meetinginabox>

The Sources of Information were updated 10-2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of International Labor Affairs

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF INTERNATIONAL LABOR AFFAIRS

200 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20210

202-693-4770

<http://www.dol.gov/ilab>

DEPUTY UNDER SECRETARY

(vacancy)

Associate Deputy Undersecretary

Mark A. Mittelhauser

Chief of Staff

Grant Lebens

---

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/about-us/organization>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Bureau of International Labor Affairs promotes a fair competitive environment for workers in the United States and other countries worldwide.

The Bureau of International Labor Affairs (ILAB) promotes a fair global playing field for workers and businesses in the United States by enforcing trade commitments; strengthening labor standards; and combating international child labor, forced labor, and human trafficking. ILAB combines trade and labor monitoring and enforcement, policy engagement, technical assistance, and research to carry out the Department of Labor's international responsibilities.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/our-work>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that ILAB records have been assigned to record group 174.5.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/174.html#174.5>

Career Opportunities

ILAB relies on professionals with backgrounds in development economics and comparative labor law, as well as with firsthand experience designing and implementing international technical assistance programs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/about-us/careers-at-ilab>

In 2019, ILAB ranked 356th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/DLBL>

Hotline

The Interagency Labor Committee for Monitoring and Enforcement maintains a web-based hotline that allows for the receipt of confidential information from affected and concerned parties, regarding labor issues involving countries of the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/our-work/trade/labor-rights-usmca/hotline>

News

ILAB-related news is posted on the Department of Labor's website.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases?agency=34>

Projects

ILAB grants help prevent and stop abusive labor practices like the use of child labor and forced labor and human trafficking. ILAB-funded projects also promote compliance by trade partners' with the labor requirements of U.S. trade agreements and preference programs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/projects>

Reports / Publications

ILAB conducts and funds research, whose results it relies on to inform the design and implementation of policy and programs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/research-impact-evaluation>

Workers' Rights

The International Labor Organization (ILO) has identified "fundamental principles and rights at work." All ILO members are obligated to respect these principles and rights and promote them.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ilab/our-work/workers-rights>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Labor Statistics

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS

2 Massachusetts Avenue NE., Washington, DC 20212

202-691-7800

800-877-8339 (TDD)

<http://www.bls.gov>

COMMISSIONER

William W. Beach

Deputy Commissioner

William J. Wiatrowski

https://www.bls.gov/bls/senior\_staff/home.htm

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Bureau of Labor Statistics measures labor market activity, working conditions, price changes, and productivity in the Nation's economy to support decision making in both the public and private sectors.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) was established, in the Department of the Interior, as the Bureau of Labor by the act of June 27, 1884 (23 Stat. 60). It was renamed the Bureau of Labor Statistics by the act of March 4, 1913 (37 Stat. 737). The BLS measures labor market activity, working conditions, and price changes in the economy. It also collects, analyzes, and disseminates essential economic information to support public and private decisionmaking.

The Bureau strives to have its data satisfy a number of criteria, including: relevance to current social and economic issues, timeliness in reflecting today's rapidly changing economic conditions, accuracy and consistently high statistical quality, and impartiality in both subject matter and presentation.

Basic data are published in news releases on a monthly, quarterly, and annual basis. Basic data also are published in bulletins, reports, special publications, and periodicals. Regional offices issue additional reports and releases that often contain content of local or regional relevance.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/infohome.htm>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The BLS website has an A–Z index to help visitors navigate its content.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/topicsaz.htm>

Announcements

The BLS posts announcements on its website.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/announcement.htm>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BLS records have been assigned to record group 257.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/257.html>

Blog

The official BLS blog is called "Commissioner's Corner."

<https://blogs.bls.gov/blog>

Calculators

The "Databases, Tables, and Calculators by Subject" web page has an inflation calculator that allows users to calculate change in the buying power of the dollar over the years. An injury and illness calculator allows users to calculate injury and illness incidence rates for a specific establishment or firm and to compare those rates with the averages for the Nation, for States, and for the sector of industry to which the establishment or firm belongs.

<https://www.bls.gov/data/#calculators>

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the BLS relies on professionals who have diverse educational backgrounds, skills, and training. The agency relies heavily on the work of economists, information technology specialists, and mathematical statisticians.

<https://www.bls.gov/jobs/home.htm>

In 2019, the BLS ranked 93d among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLLS>

Contact Information

The "Information and Help" web page has an electronic form for requesting information and asking questions. Postal correspondence should be addressed to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, Postal Square Building, 2 Massachusetts Avenue NE., Washington, DC 20212-0001. Phone, 202-691-5200; Federal Relay Service, 800-877-8339.

<https://data.bls.gov/forms/opb.htm?/home.htm>

Contact information for the eight BLS regional offices is available online: Atlanta, 404-331-3415; Boston, 617-565-2327; Chicago, 312-353-1880; Dallas, 972-850-4800; Kansas City, 816-285-7000; New York, 646-264-3600; Philadelphia, 215-597-3282; and San Francisco, 415-625-2270.

<https://www.bls.gov/regions/contacts.htm>

Data Sources

Much of the information (e.g., databases and historical news release tables) that the BLS publishes is available from the "Databases, Tables, and Calculators by Subject" web page.

<https://www.bls.gov/data> | Email: blsdata\_staff@bls.gov

Some BLS data are available only through the home pages of individual programs—rather than from the "Databases, Tables, and Calculators by Subject" web page. These programs are listed on the "Subject Areas" page. For example, tables of employment projections data are available through the "Employment Projections" page; American time use survey data are available through the "American Time Use Survey" page; and national longitudinal surveys data are available through the "National Longitudinal Surveys" page.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/proghome.htm>

Certain BLS program data are available in compressed ZIP files. Some of these files are accessible on download.bls.gov. Other ZIP files may be located by starting at the home page of a specific program.

<https://download.bls.gov/pub/time.series/compressed/tape.format>

Economic Summaries

The BLS regional information offices produce economic summaries that are organized by State and posted in Portable

Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading. Each summary presents a sampling of economic information on benefits, employment, prices, spending, wages, and unemployment for a particular area (e.g., Boston or Sacramento).

<https://www.bls.gov/regions/economic-summaries.htm>

Economy at a Glance

The "Economy at a Glance" web page has at-a-glance economic tables for many metropolitan areas nationwide.

<https://www.bls.gov/eag>

Monthly and quarterly economic data for the Nation are also posted in an at-a-glance format.

<https://www.bls.gov/eag/eag.us.htm>

Educational Resources

The "K-12" web pages include games and quizzes, sections for students and their teachers, a history timeline, and biographies of former Commissioners.

<https://www.bls.gov/k12>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the BLS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/labor-statistics-bureau>

Finding Data

The "BLS Data Finder 1.1" web page has a search tool that uses the conjunction "and" as the default search operator. This feature produces display results that contain all of the search terms. To find data that contains a particular combination of terms, the user must separate the terms by inserting the conjunction "or" between them.

<https://beta.bls.gov/dataQuery/search>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The BLS posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/faqs.htm>

Glossary

The BLS has a glossary on its website.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/glossary.htm>

History

The Bureau has been collecting data and crunching numbers for over 135 years. Over its long history, the BLS started out as the Bureau of Labor and part of the Department of the Interior; became an independent department for nearly 15 years; was incorporated into the former Department of Commerce and Labor; and was transferred to the newly created Department of Labor in 1913. To learn more of the story, visit the "BLS History" section.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/history/home.htm>

News

The BLS posts economic news releases, some of which are released on a monthly, quarterly, and annual basis.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/newsrels.htm#latest-releases>

Publications

The BLS publishes bulletins and reports and economic news releases. Its major publications include "Beyond the Numbers," "Career Outlook," "Monthly Labor Review," "Occupational Outlook Handbook," "The Economics Daily", and "Spotlight on Statistics."

<https://www.bls.gov/opub>

Regional Information

Economic data and statistics according to geographic areas are available on the "Regional Information Offices" page.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/regnhome.htm>

Research Papers

The Office of Survey Methods Research maintains an online research paper database.

<https://www.bls.gov/osmr/research-papers>

Resources

BLS economists, information technology specialists, and mathematical statisticians place a premium on accuracy, currency, innovation, objectivity, relevancy, and transparency. They strive to invest BLS datasets and informational products with these qualities, which help make them useful to a variety of audiences: business leaders, consumers, developers, economists, educators, investors, job seekers, members of the media, policymakers, researchers, and students.

<https://www.bls.gov/audience> | Email: blsdata\_staff@bls.gov

Select Datasets and Indices

The "Top Picks" web page allows easy access to the most requested price indices, as well as to the most requested employment, compensation, and productivity data tables.

<https://data.bls.gov/cgi-bin/surveymost?bls>

A "Help and Tutorials" page is dedicated to the "Top Picks" application.

<https://www.bls.gov/help/hlpMrs.htm>

Site Map

The BLS website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/sitemap.htm>

Social Media

The BLS tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/BLS\_gov

The BLS posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCijn3WBpHtx4AvSya7NER9Q>

Statistical Websites

The "Statistical Sites on the World Wide Web" allows easy access to a collection of Internet sites that are not administered by the BLS.

<https://www.bls.gov/bls/other.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Employee Benefits Security Administration

The United States Government Manual

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

866-444-3272

<http://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa>

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

Jeanne K. Wilson, Acting

Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary

Jeanne K. Wilson

---

DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

---

National Office Operations / Chief Operating Officer

Timothy D. Hauser

---

Regional Office Operations

Amy J. Turner

---

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/organization-chart#section1>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Employee Benefits Security Administration assures the security of the retirement, health, and other workplace related benefits of American workers and their families.

The Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA) educates and assists the over 154 million participants in and beneficiaries of approximately 710,000 private retirement plans, 2.4 million health plans, and similar numbers of other welfare benefit plans. The EBSA balances proactive enforcement with compliance assistance and supports enrollees and beneficiaries by developing effective regulations; assisting and educating fiduciaries, plan sponsors, service providers, and workers; and enforcing the law.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Ask EBSA

EBSA's workers and families assistance web page provides accessible information on programs and services, answers to frequently asked questions, and assistance where a health or retirement benefit has been denied inappropriately.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/ask-a-question/ask-ebsa>

Career Opportunities

In 2019, the EBSA ranked 229th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLPW>

Contact Information

The "Regional Offices" web page has contact information for EBSA regional and district offices.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/regional-offices>

Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA)

ERISA is a Federal law that sets minimum standards for most voluntarily established retirement and health plans in private industry. This statute provides protection for individuals who are enrolled in these plans. The Department of Labor has a web page that it has dedicated to the ERISA.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/topic/health-plans/erisa>

On September 2, 1974, President Gerald R. Ford approved Public Law 93–406, which is also cited as the "Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974." Senators and Representatives of the U.S. Congress wrote this 207-page piece of legislation "to provide for pension reform" (88 Stat. 829).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-88/pdf/STATUTE-88-Pg829.pdf>

En Español

The EBSA posts information in Spanish on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/es/about-ebsa/our-activities/informacion-en-espanol>

ERISA Advisory Council

The membership of the council is posted on the "ERISA Advisory Council" web page. The council posts issue statements on the same page.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/erisa-advisory-council>

ERISA Advisory Council reports are posted online.

Factsheets

The EBSA posts factsheets.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/fact-sheets>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the EBSA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/employee-benefits-security-administration>

Forms

The EBSA posts forms and filing instructions online.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/employers-and-advisers/plan-administration-and-compliance/reporting-and-filing/forms>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The EBSA posts answers to frequently asked questions.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/faqs>

History

The EBSA administers and enforces the fiduciary, reporting, and disclosure provisions of the first title of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). The histories of the ERISA and EBSA are tightly intertwined.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/about-us/history-of-ebsa-and-erisa>

Information for Researchers

EBSA researchers expand the knowledge of employee benefits and their role in meeting the Nation's economic security needs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/researchers>

Key Topics

The EBSA website features a page with links to key topics: health and other employee benefits, reporting and filing, and retirement.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/key-topics>

News

The EBSA posts news items on the Department of Labor's website.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases?agency=37&state=All&topic=All&year=all>

Publications

The EBSA distributes booklets, factsheets, and pamphlets on employer responsibilities and employee rights under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act. A list of publications is available online or from the Office of Outreach, Education, and Assistance. Phone, 866-444-3272.

<http://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/publications>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Employment and Training Administration

The United States Government Manual

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20520

877-872-5627

<http://www.doleta.gov>

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

John P. Pallasch

Deputy Assistant Secretaries

Matthew Hunter

---

Nancy Rooney

---

Amy Simon

---

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/about>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Employment and Training Administration helps the U.S. labor market function more efficiently by providing job training, employment, labor market information, and income maintenance services.

ACTIVITIES

---

In addition to training, employment, information, and services, which are provided primarily through State and local workforce development systems, the Employment and Training Administration (ETA) also administers programs to enhance employment opportunities and promote business prosperity.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/program-areas>

Apprenticeships

The Office of Apprenticeship oversees the National Apprenticeship System, sets standards for apprenticeship, and assists States, industry, and labor in developing apprenticeship programs that meet required standards, while promoting equal opportunity and safeguarding the welfare of apprentices.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/apprenticeship>

For more information, call 202-693-2796.

Contracts Management

The Office of Contracts Management advises the Assistant Secretary of the ETA, in a manner that is consistent with Federal statutes and regulations, on mission-critical procurement matters. The Office applies procurement services to ETA organizational components to address business challenges with best practices and cost-effective solutions.

<http://www.doleta.gov/contracts>

For further information, call 202-693-3110.

Financial Administration

The Office of Financial Administration (OFA) manages all ETA fiscal resources for programs and activities for which funds are appropriated through the Office's functions of accounting, budget, and financial system oversight. The Office provides budgetary, accounting, audit, and internal control management. It coordinates with the departmental budget center and the Office of the Chief Financial Officer to provide financial management that supports carrying out the ETA's mission.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/budget>

For further information, call 202-693-3162.

Foreign Labor Certification

The Office of Foreign Labor Certification (OFLC) carries out the delegated responsibility of the Secretary of Labor under the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, concerning the admission of foreign workers into the United States for employment. In carrying out this responsibility, the Office administers temporary nonimmigrant and permanent labor certification programs through the ETA's national processing centers that are located in Chicago and Atlanta.

The OFLC also administers nationally the issuance of employer-requested prevailing wage determinations through the ETA's National Prevailing Wage and Helpdesk Center, which is located in Washington, DC. Prevailing wage determinations are issued for use in all nonagricultural temporary labor certification programs and the permanent labor certification program.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/foreign-labor>

For more information, call 202-693-3010.

Grants Management

The Office of Grants Management provides grants management expertise to ETA offices and stakeholders throughout the life cycle of a grant. The Office delivers centralized grants administration and policy expertise to support pre-award, award, period of performance, audit resolution, and closeout of ETA Federal assistance awards.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/grants>

For further information, call 202-693-2800.

Job Training

Job Corps is the largest nationwide residential career training program in the Nation and has been operating for more than half of a century. The program helps eligible young people who are 16–24 years old complete their high school education, trains them for meaningful careers, and assists them with obtaining employment.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/jobcorps>

For further information, call 202-693-3000.

Policy Development and Research

The Office of Policy Development and Research (OPDR) supports ETA policies and investments to improve the public workforce system by analyzing, formulating, and recommending legislative changes and options for policy initiatives. The Office coordinates the ETA's legislative and regulatory activities and their interactions with international organizations and foreign countries. The OPDR maintains the ETA's portion of the Department of Labor's regulatory agenda and disseminates advisories and publications. The Office provides the ETA with strategic approaches to improve performance and outcomes through research, demonstrations, and evaluation of its major programs. The Office manages the Workforce Investment Act performance accountability reporting system; oversees the maintenance of wage record exchange systems for State and other grantees; coordinates the development of the ETA's operating plan; and disseminates workforce program performance results. The OPDR also provides policy guidance on and technical assistance for the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/policy>

For further information, call 202-693-3700.

Trade Adjustment Assistance

The Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) administers a workers assistance program for those who have lost or may lose their jobs because of foreign trade. The TAA program provides reemployment services and allowances for eligible individuals.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/tradeact>

For further information, call 202-693-3560.

Unemployment Compensation

The Office of Unemployment Insurance provides national leadership, oversight, policy guidance, and technical assistance to the Federal-State unemployment compensation system. The Office also interprets Federal legislative requirements.

<https://oui.doleta.gov/unemploy/aboutoui.asp>

For more information, call 202-693-3029.

Workforce Investment

The Office of Workforce Investment implements an integrated national workforce investment system that supports economic growth and provides workers with information, advice, job search assistance, supportive services, and training for employment. The Office also helps employers hire skilled workers.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/workforce-investment>

For further information, call 202-693-3980.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that ETA records have been assigned to record group 369.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/369.html>

Advisories

The ETA uses its advisory system to disseminate its interpretations of Federal laws; procedural, administrative, management, and program direction; and other information to the States, direct grant recipients, and other interested parties.

<https://wdr.doleta.gov/directives>

Career Opportunities

In 2019, the ETA ranked 369th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/DLET>

Contact Information

ETA contact information is available on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/contact> | Email: eta.webportal@dol.gov

Contact information for the ETA's six regional offices is available online.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/regions>

Data

The Division of Research and Evaluation posts datasets for public use on the ETA's website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/research/public-use-datasets>

The Office of Unemployment Insurance posts unemployment insurance data as part of the ETA's contribution to the Department of Labor's collection and publication of data.

<https://oui.doleta.gov/unemploy/DataDashboard.asp>

The Office of Foreign Labor Certification posts employment-based immigration data on the ETA's website. Three main categories are used to organize the data: selected statistics that provide cumulative quarterly data by major immigration program; cumulative quarterly and fiscal year releases of program disclosure data; and historical fiscal year annual program and performance report information.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/foreign-labor/performance>

The Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance posts charts, statistics, and other information on the ETA's website. Three main categories are used to organize the data: petitions and determinations, participants, and financial.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/tradeact/data>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the ETA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/employment-and-training-administration>

Job Corps

An online directory has contact information for the Office of Job Corps, including the national Job Corps hotline and phone numbers and email addresses for Office of the Administrator staff. It also allows convenient access to information for contacting Job Corps regional offices.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/jobcorps/contact>

Job Seekers

The ETA posts resources for job seekers on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/job-seekers>

Library

A large repository of information is available online from the "ETA Library" web page.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/reports>

National Agricultural Workers Survey

This employment-based and random-sample survey of U.S. crop workers brings together demographic, employment, and health data that are collected during face-to-face interviews.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/national-agricultural-workers-survey>

News

The ETA posts news releases on the Department of Labor's website.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases?agency=39&state=All&topic=All&year=all>

Rapid Response Services

Rapid Response is designed to respond to layoffs and plant closings by quickly coordinating services and providing immediate aid to companies and their affected workers. Rapid Response teams work with employers and employee representatives to quickly maximize public and private resources to minimize disruptions associated with job loss.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/layoffs>

Reducing Recidivism

The Reentry and Employment Opportunities—Adult Program strengthens urban communities through an employment-centered program of mentoring, job training, and other comprehensive transitional services. Helping former inmates find employment when they return to their communities reduces recidivism.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/reentry>

Research

The research publication database provides access to a collection of research and evaluation reports. The ETA commissioned the research and evaluation reports to help guide the workforce investment system in administering effective programs that enhance employment opportunity and business.

https://wdr.doleta.gov/research/eta\_default.cfm

Veterans

The ETA website has a section dedicated to veterans. It offers resources for veteran who are job seekers and for providers of employment and training programs.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/jobs-for-veterans-act>

Youth Services

A section of the ETA's website is dedicated to youth programs and services.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/youth>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Mine Safety and Health Administration

The United States Government Manual

MINE SAFETY AND HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

201 12th Street South, Suite 400, Arlington, Virginia 22202

202-693-9400

<http://www.msha.gov>

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

David G. Zatezalo

DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

---

Operations

Patricia W. Silvey

---

Policy

Wayne D. Palmer

---

<https://www.msha.gov/about/leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Mine Safety and Health Administration works to prevent mine-related deaths, illnesses, and injuries and promotes safe and healthy work environments.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On November 9, 1977, President James E. Carter approved Public Law 95–164, which is also cited as the Federal Mine Safety and Health Amendments Act of 1977. This statute amended the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969 (PL 91–173), including its short title, which was changed to the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 (91 Stat. 1290).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-91/pdf/STATUTE-91-Pg1290.pdf>

The Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 created the Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) in 1978 by transferring the Federal mine safety program and its functions from the Department of the Interior to the Department of Labor.

<https://www.msha.gov/about/history>

The MSHA is organized into program areas.

<https://www.msha.gov/about/program-areas>

The MSHA posts its organizational chart online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

https://www.msha.gov/sites/default/files/Organizational\_Charts/OAS-Org-Chart.pdf

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

"Chapter 22—Mine Safety and Health" has been assigned to 30 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title30/chapter22&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that are associated with the MSHA are assigned to the first chapter of 30 CFR. The chapter includes parts 1–199.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=2f9b3d9dbb071240550f37a930d0135d&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title30/30cfrv1\_02.tpl#0

ACTIVITIES

The MSHA helps protect the Nation's miners by promoting healthy and safe work environments for them. It works toward the elimination of fatal mining accidents, the reduction of the frequency and severity of accidents, and the minimization of health hazards through enforcement of mandatory safety and health standards in the mining industry. It also provides technical, educational, and other assistance, including the testing and approval of equipment for use in the industry, to mine operators. The MSHA cooperates with industry, labor, and other Federal and State agencies to improve safety and health conditions for miners.

<https://www.msha.gov/about>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that MSHA records have been assigned to record group 433. That record group does not have a description that is associated with it.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/000.html>

Career Opportunities

Information on employment opportunities is available online.

<http://www.msha.gov/about/careers>

In 2019, the MSHA ranked 260th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLMS>

Contact Information

The "Contact MSHA" web page has emergency and general contact information.

<https://www.msha.gov/about/contact-msha> | Email: AskMSHA@dol.gov

Data Sources / Calculators

The "Data Sources and Calculators" web page allows convenient access to a range of mine safety and health data (e.g., information on accidents, air sampling, employment, injuries, illnesses, inspections, production totals, and violations). Compliance calculator tools can be used to illuminate the history of key health and safety violations of a mine.

<https://www.msha.gov/data-reports/data-sources-calculators>

Educational Resources

The MSHA posts training and educational resources on its website.

<https://www.msha.gov/training-education>

The National Mine Health and Safety Academy conducts education and training programs in health and safety and related subjects for Federal mine inspectors and other government mining and industry personnel.

<https://arlweb.msha.gov/PROGRAMS/MineAcademy/Academy.asp>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the MSHA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/mine-safety-and-health-administration>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The MSHA posts answers to FAQs on rulemaking.

<https://www.msha.gov/rulemaking-frequently-asked-questions>

Historical Statutes / Legislative History

The "Laws" web page has key historical statutes and their legislative history.

<https://www.msha.gov/regulations/laws>

Library

The MSHA digital library's holdings include accident reports, images, photographs, and research material.

<https://arlweb.msha.gov/TRAINING/LIBRARY/mshaPortal/index.html>

Media Gallery

Online visitors may browse or search historical photographs and videos, including mine training and health training videos.

<https://www.msha.gov/news-media/media-gallery>

Mine Disasters

Five or more fatalities define a mining disaster. The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health posts data tables that summarize all U.S. mining disasters from 1839 to the present. Starting with the year 1900, graphs are also available.

<https://www.cdc.gov/niosh/mining/statistics/minedisasters.html>

News / Media

The MSHA posts alerts and hazards, announcements, congressional testimonies, events, news releases, photographs and videos, and speeches on its website.

<https://www.msha.gov/news-media>

Reports

Current and historical preliminary accident reports, fatalgrams, and fatal investigation reports for metal, nonmetal, and coal mines are accessible on the MSHA website. Quarterly and annual summaries of mining fatalities along with associated best practices and preventative recommendations are also accessible.

<https://www.msha.gov/data-reports/fatality-reports>

Part 50 of Title 30 of the Code of Federal Regulations (30 CFR 50) requires mine operators to notify the MSHA when accidents occur and to investigate those accidents, while restricting disturbance of accident-related areas. Part 50 also requires mine operators to file reports on accidents, occupational injuries, and occupational illnesses, as well as employment and coal production data.

<https://www.msha.gov/data-reports/reports>

Resources / Tools

The MSHA posts mine emergency operations information, miners' resources, and technical resources on its "Resources and Tools" web page.

<https://www.msha.gov/support-resources/resources-tools>

Spanish

In the top right corner of the MSHA's home page are an Español option and an Inglés option. Using these options, visitors to the website can toggle between content in either language.

<https://www.msha.gov>

State Mining Agencies

A list of links to the websites of State mining agencies is available on the MSHA website.

<https://www.msha.gov/support-resources/external-mining-resources/state-mining-agencies>

Statistics

The "Statistics" web page allows easy access to numbers on mine employment and coal production; the most frequently cited standards (i.e., regulatory violations) by year, mine type, and industry group; and graphs, maps, and tables that The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health has created to summarize a range of information on employees, fatalities, injuries, and mines.

<https://www.msha.gov/data-reports/statistics>

Targeted Inspections

The MSHA conducts targeted inspections each month at mines that merit increased attention and enforcement due to their poor compliance history or particular compliance concerns. Each month's inspection results are posted online.

<https://www.msha.gov/monthly-targeted-inspection-results>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Occupational Safety and Health Administration

The United States Government Manual

☐ Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19): For employee and employer Coronavirus pandemic information, which includes links to interim guidance and other resources for preventing exposure to and infection with the virus, go to <https://www.osha.gov/SLTC/covid-19>.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

800-321-6742

<http://www.osha.gov>

|                              |                         |
|------------------------------|-------------------------|
| ASSISTANT SECRETARY          | James Frederick, Acting |
| Deputy Assistant Secretaries | Amanda Edens            |
|                              | James Frederick         |
| Chief of Staff               | Leah Ford               |

<https://www.osha.gov/aboutosha>

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2021.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) was created pursuant to the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 651 et seq.).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-84/pdf/STATUTE-84-Pg1590.pdf>

OSHA posts an organizational chart online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.osha.gov/html/OSHAorgchart.pdf>

ACTIVITIES

OSHA assures safe and healthful working conditions for men and women by promulgating common sense, protective health, and safety standards; enforcing workplace safety and health rules; providing training, outreach, education, and assistance to workers and employers in their efforts to control workplace hazards; prevent work-related injuries, illnesses, and fatalities; and partnering with States that run their own OSHA-approved programs.

<https://www.osha.gov/aboutosha>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

An alphabetized topical index is available on the OSHA website to help visitors find information.

<https://www.osha.gov/a-z>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that OSHA records have been assigned to record group 100.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/100.html>

Career Opportunities

In 2019, OSHA ranked 196th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/DLSH>

Contact Information

OSHA posts contact information on its "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.osha.gov/contactus>

Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19)

The OSHA has posted a "COVID-19" web page containing employee and employer Coronavirus pandemic information that includes links to interim guidance and other resources for reducing exposure and preventing infection.

<https://www.osha.gov/SLTC/covid-19>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that OSHA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/occupational-safety-and-health-administration>

File a Complaint

Information on how to file a safety and health complaint and an electronic complaint form are available on the OSHA website. Phone, 800-321-6742.

https://www.osha.gov/workers/file\_complaint.html

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The OSHA is required to disclose records that are properly requested in writing by any person. An agency may withhold information pursuant to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions contained in the FOIA. The act applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by Congress, the courts, State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.osha.gov/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The OSHA posts answers to FAQs online.

<https://www.osha.gov/faq>

Injury and Illness Data

The OSHA website has a searchable, establishment-specific database for establishments that provided OSHA with valid data from 1996 through 2011.

https://www.osha.gov/pls/odi/establishment\_search.html

Workplace injury, illness, and fatality statistics are available on the OSHA website.

<https://www.osha.gov/oshstats/work.html>

Make a Report

Employers must notify OSHA when an employee is killed on the job or suffers a work-related amputation, hospitalization, or loss of an eye. A fatality must be reported within 8 hours; an amputation, in-patient hospitalization, or eye loss must be reported within 24 hours. An employer should be prepared to supply the name of the business, the names of employees who were affected, the location and time of the incident, a brief description of the incident, and a contact person and phone number.

<https://www.osha.gov/report.html>

Map

A "Heat Fatalities Map" shows the locations of outdoor worker heat-related deaths between 2008 and 2014.

<https://www.osha.gov/SLTC/heatillness/map.html>

A nationwide map of enforcement cases with initial penalties above $40,000 is available online.

<https://www.osha.gov/enforcement/toppenalties/bystate>

News

The OSHA newsroom has a collection of quick links for relevant news sources.

<https://www.osha.gov/news>

The "What's New" web page features news items that are organized chronologically.

<https://www.osha.gov/whatsnew.html>

Newsletter

OSHA's online newsletter has the latest news on compliance assistance, enforcement actions, outreach activities, rulemaking, and training and educational resources.

<https://www.osha.gov/quicktakes>

Offices

A complete listing of OSHA regional and area offices is available online.

<http://www.osha.gov/html/RAmap.html>

OSHA Card

Facts on obtaining an OSHA card are available online.

<https://www.osha.gov/dte/oshacardfacts.html>

Publications

OSHA publications are accessible online.

<https://www.osha.gov/pls/publications/publication.html>

Social Media

OSHA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/OSHA\_DOL

Spanish

In the top right corner of the OSHA's home page are an Español option and an Inglés option. Using these options, visitors to the website can toggle between content in Spanish or English.

<https://www.osha.gov>

Training / Education

Stand-alone, interactive, web-based training tools—eTools and the eMatrix—are available on the OSHA website. These tools are highly illustrated and utilize graphical menus.

<https://www.osha.gov/dts/osta/oshasoft/index.html>

Prevention video training tools (v-tools) on construction hazards are available on the OSHA website. These videos show how workers can be injured suddenly or even killed on the job. The videos assist those who are in the construction industry with identifying, reducing, and eliminating hazards. The videos are presented in clear, accessible vocabulary; show common construction worksite activities; and most are 2–4 minutes long.

<https://www.osha.gov/dts/vtools/construction.html>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Veterans' Employment and Training Service

The United States Government Manual

VETERANS' EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING SERVICE

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

866-487-2365

<http://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets>

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

John Lowry III

DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

|                           |                      |
|---------------------------|----------------------|
| Operations and Management | J. Sam Shellenberger |
| Policy                    | (vacancy)            |
| Chief of Staff            | Jonathan VanderPlas  |

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/about>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Veterans' Employment and Training Service helps America's veterans, servicemembers, and their spouses who are eligible prepare for careers; provides them with employment resources and expertise; protects their employment rights; and promotes their employment opportunities.

On March 24, 1983, former Secretary of Labor Raymond J. Donovan signed Order 4–83, which redesignated the Office of the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Veterans Employment as the Veterans' Employment and Training Service. The Secretary's order of redesignation was published in the Federal Register on April 1, 1983 (48 FR 14092).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1983-04-01/pdf/FR-1983-04-01.pdf>

The Veterans' Employment and Training Service (VETS) administers employment and training programs and compliance activities that help veterans and servicemembers succeed in their civilian careers. VETS also administers the jobs for veterans State grant program, which gives grants to States to fund personnel who are dedicated to serving the employment needs of veterans. VETS field staff works closely with and gives technical assistance to State employment workforce agencies to ensure that veterans receive priority of service and gain meaningful employment. VETS has two competitive grants programs: the homeless veterans reintegration program and the incarcerated veterans transition program. VETS also helps servicemembers who are separating from the Armed Forces prepare for the civilian labor market.

VETS has three compliance programs: the Federal contractor program, veterans' preference in Federal hiring, and the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 (USERRA). With respect to the Federal contractor program, VETS promulgates regulations and oversees the program by helping contractors comply with their affirmative action and reporting obligations. Although the Office of Personnel Management administers and interprets statutes and regulations that govern veterans' preference in Federal hiring, VETS investigates allegations that veterans' preference rights have been violated.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/about>

In addition, VETS preserves servicemembers' employment and reemployment rights through its administration and enforcement of USERRA. VETS conducts investigations of alleged violations, and it carries out a USERRA outreach program.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-108/pdf/STATUTE-108-Pg3149.pdf>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

In 2019, the VETS ranked 227th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLVE>

Contact Information

A national office directory is available online.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/about/nationaloffice>

A regional and State directory is available online.

<https://www.dol.gov/vets/aboutvets/regionaloffices/map.htm>

Find Employment

The "Find a Job" web page has resources to help veterans find employment.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/veterans/findajob>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that VETS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/veterans-employment-and-training-service>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Any person has the right to request access to Federal agency records or information. VETS is required to disclose records that are properly requested in writing by any person. An agency may withhold information pursuant to nine exemptions and three exclusions contained in the FOIA. The act applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by Congress, the courts, or by State or local government agencies. A FOIA request should be submitted to the appropriate national or regional VETS office by email, fax, or mail. The subject line, cover page, or envelope should be clearly labeled "Freedom of Information Act Request." The content of the request should indicate that it is a FOIA request, and it should contain as much information as possible describing the record or records being sought.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/vets/about/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

VETS posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/vets/resources/faqs.htm>

The Department of Labor posts answers to FAQs regarding veterans on its website.

<https://webapps.dol.gov/dolfaq/dolfaqbytopic.asp?topicID=12&topicTitle=Veterans>

Grants

Information on grants and other opportunities is available online.

<http://www.dol.gov/vets/resources/grants.htm>

News / Media

VETS posts news releases and public service announcements on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/vets/news.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Wage and Hour Division

The United States Government Manual

WAGE AND HOUR DIVISION

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

866-487-9243

<http://www.dol.gov/whd>

ADMINISTRATOR

Cheryl M. Stanton

Deputy Administrator

Susan Boone

---

Chief of Staff

Michael Stojasvljevic

---

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/about/organizational-chart#Keypersonnel>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Wage and Hour Division protects and enhances the welfare of the Nation's workers by promoting and achieving compliance with labor standards.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On June 25, 1938, President Franklin D. Roosevelt approved Public Law 75–718, which also is cited as the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938. Among its findings, the U.S. Congress noted that the existence "in industries engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, of labor conditions detrimental to the maintenance of the minimum standard of living necessary for health, efficiency, and general well-being of workers" causes these adverse labor conditions to spread and perpetuate, burdens commerce and the free flow of goods, undermines fair competition, leads to disputes that burden and obstruct commerce and the free flow of goods, and interferes with the commercial marketing of goods (52 Stat. 1060).

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/75th-congress/session-3/c75s3ch676.pdf>

The statute also "created in the Department of Labor a Wage and Hour Division [WHD] which shall be under the direction of an Administrator" who "shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate" (52 Stat. 1061).

Secretary Frances Perkins's order of October 15, 1942, established the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions (WHPCD) by consolidating the WHD and the Public Contracts Division to administer Federal minimum wage, overtime pay, and child labor laws.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/155.html>

In 1967, the Wage and Labor Standards Administration (WLSA) was established in the Department of Labor to direct and coordinate Federal wage and labor standards programs. On May 5, 1969, by secretarial order, the WHPCD was assigned to the WLSA.

On November 8, 2009, the Employments Standards Administration was dissolved into its four constituent components: The WHD, the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, the Office of Workers' Compensation Programs, and the Office of Labor Management Standards. Authorities were delegated and responsibilities were assigned to the Administrator of the WHD (74 FR 58836).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2009-11-13/pdf/FR-2009-11-13.pdf>

The WHD posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/about/organizational-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

"Chapter 8—Fair Labor Standards" has been assigned to 29 U.S.C. Title 29 is dedicated to codified statutory material that affects labor.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title29/chapter8&edition=prelim>

"Subtitle B—Regulations Relating to Labor" has been assigned to 29 CFR. The fifth chapter (sections 500–899) of that subtitle is dedicated to the WHD.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=efbbc65896d0d414403dfadb6f5d8d83&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title29/29cfrv3\_02.tpl#0

ACTIVITIES

The WHD enforces Federal minimum wage, overtime pay, recordkeeping, and child labor law requirements of the Fair Labor Standards Act. The WHD also enforces the Migrant and Seasonal Agricultural Worker Protection Act, the Employee Polygraph Protection Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, wage garnishment provisions of the Consumer Credit Protection Act, and a number of employment standards and worker protections as provided in several immigration-related statutes. Additionally, the WHD administers and enforces the prevailing wage requirements of the Davis Bacon Act and the Service Contract Act and other statutes applicable to Federal contracts for construction and for the provision of goods and services.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/about>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that WHD records have been assigned to record group 155.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/155.html>

Career Opportunities

In 2019, the WHD ranked 170th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/DLWH>

Contact Information

The WHD posts contact information on its "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/contact>

Evaluations / Studies

The WHD posts evaluations and studies on its website in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/resources/evaluations.htm>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the WHD recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/wage-and-hour-division>

File a Complaint

Instructions for filing a complaint are available online. Phone, 866-487-9243.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/contact/complaints>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The WHD is required to disclose records that are properly requested in writing by any person. The WHD may withhold information pursuant to nine exemptions and three exclusions contained in the FOIA. The WHD does not require a special FOIA request form. A request must reasonably describe the desired record. Providing its name or title is not mandatory, but the more specific the record description, the more likely that WHD staff can locate it. A FOIA request must be made in writing and may be submitted by courier service, email, fax, or postal mail.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/foia/index.htm>

History

The WHD has posted a historical summary on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/about/history>

News

The WHD posts national and State news releases.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases/whd>

Offices

Contact information for WHD area, district, and regional offices is available on the "WHD Local Offices" web page.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/america2.htm>

Resources

Resources for workers are available on the WHD website.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/workers.htm>

Resources for employers are available on the WHD website.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/foremployers.htm>

Resources for State and local governments are available on the WHD website.

<https://www.dol.gov/whd/forstatelocalgovernments.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Women's Bureau

The United States Government Manual

WOMEN'S BUREAU

Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210

202-693-6710

<http://www.dol.gov/wb>

DIRECTOR

Laurie Todd-Smith

Chief of Staff

Jillian Rogers

---

Deputy Director of Operations

Joan Harrigan-Farrelly

---

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/about>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/general/contact/contact-phonekeypersonnel>

The Women's Bureau develops policies and standards and conducts inquiries to safeguard the interests of working women, to advocate for their equality and the economic security of their families, and to promote quality work environments.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On June 5, 1920, President Woodrow Wilson signed Public Law 66–259, which established "a bureau to be known as the Women's Bureau" in the Department of Labor. The Director of the Women's Bureau (WB) may not be a man, but is required by law to be a woman whom the President appoints by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The U.S. Congress assigned the following duty to the WB: "to formulate standards and policies which shall promote the welfare of wage-earning women, improve their working conditions, increase their efficiency, and advance their opportunities for profitable employment." The WB has "authority to investigate and report" to the Department of Labor "upon all matters pertaining to the welfare of women in industry."

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/66th-congress/session-2/c66s2ch248.pdf>

ACTIVITIES

The Bureau identifies, researches, and analyzes topics that are relevant for working women; pioneers policies and programs to address those topics; and enhances public education and outreach efforts to raise awareness on key issues and developments affecting women in the workforce.

<https://www.dol.gov/wb/overview.htm>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that WB records have been assigned to record group 086.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/086.html>

Centennial Anniversary

One of the Department of Labor's longest-serving agencies, the WB celebrates its centennial anniversary throughout the year 2020.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases/wb/wb20200128>

Contact Information

The WB has a toll-free phone number: 800-827-5335. Phone, 202-693-6710. Fax, 202-693-6725

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/contact> | Email: womens.bureau@dol.gov

Data / Statistics

Current and historical statistics on a broad range of topics and subpopulations of women in the labor force are available online.

http://www.dol.gov/wb/stats/stats\_data.htm

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the WB recently published in the Federal Register are listed under the Department of Labor.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/labor-department>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives a right to access Federal Government records to any person. The FOIA is designed to make Government actions and operations more transparent. It applies to existing records and does not require an agency to create new records for compliance. The FOIA also does not require an agency to collect information that it does not have or to do research or analyze data to fulfill a request. Certain records, or parts of them, may be exempt from disclosure by the Act if one of nine exemptions shields their content.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/foia>

Grants

The Women in Apprenticeship and Nontraditional Occupations grant expands pathways for women to enter all industries and assume leadership roles in them.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/grants/wanto-grants>

Re-Employment, Support, and Training for the Opioid Related Epidemic grants help women who have been affected by the opioid crisis to rejoin the workforce.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/grants/restore>

History

Before the outbreak of the First World War, 75% of all women who worked in manufacturing made apparel or its materials, food, or tobacco products. The war changed the U.S. economy and how women participated in it: their numbers in the industrial workforce increased and the range of occupations open to them expanded, even though women remained concentrated in clerical occupations, domestic and personal service, and factory work. The Second World War, accelerated technological advancements, and changes in social attitude have created a different reality today. To learn more about the ever changing employment situation of women in the U.S. workforce and the role that the WB has played in shaping it for the better, visit the "History: An Overview 1920–2020" web page.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/about/history>

Maps

The "Equal Pay and Pay Transparency Protections" map is interactive and displays information on Federal and State equal pay and pay transparency protections for workers.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/equal-pay-protections>

The "Employment Protections for Workers Who Are Pregnant or Nursing" map is interactive and displays information on Federal and State employment protections against pregnancy discrimination, provisions for pregnancy accommodation, and workplace breastfeeding rights.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/pregnant-nursing-employment-protections>

Newsletter

The "WB Updates Newsletter" is available online.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/news/newsletter>

Press Releases

The Bureau posts press releases online.

<https://www.dol.gov/newsroom/releases/wb>

Regional Offices

A complete listing of WB regional offices is available online.

http://www.dol.gov/wb/info\_about\_wb/regions/regional\_offices.htm

Resources

The WB posts Federal resources for women on its website.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/federal-agency-resources>

"Meeting in a Box" is a communication resource that allows the WB to share information about its current activities, while also providing messaging tools for the general public. This communications resource includes a presentation slide deck with notes, factsheet, and talking points. It offers tools for conducting a meeting, incorporating information into speeches, or incorporating messages as part of a meeting presentation. A tool may be used singly as a stand-alone piece, or in combination, depending on the audience and setting.

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/wb/meetinginabox>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Department of State

The United States Government Manual

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

2201 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20520

202-647-4000

<http://www.state.gov>

SECRETARY OF STATE

Michael R. Pompeo

Counselor of the Department

T. Ulrich Brechbuhl

Executive Secretary

Lisa D. Kenna

<https://www.state.gov/biographies/michael-r-pompeo>

DEPUTY SECRETARY OF STATE

Stephen E. Biegun

Director, Office of U.S. Foreign Assistance

James L. Richardson

<https://www.state.gov/biographies/stephen-biegun>

DEPUTY SECRETARY OF STATE FOR MANAGEMENT AND RESOURCES

(vacancy)

Bureaus Reporting to the Secretary

---

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

Intelligence and Research

Ellen E. McCarthy

Legislative Affairs

Mary Elizabeth Taylor

Offices Reporting to the Secretary

---

AMBASSADORS-AT-LARGE

Coordinating U.S. Government Activities to Combat HIV/AIDS

Deborah L. Bix

Global Women's Issues

Kelley E. Currie

DIRECTORS

Civil Rights

Gregory B. Smith

Policy Planning

Peter Berkowitz

Chief of Protocol

Katherine C. Henderson

Legal Adviser

Marik A. String, Acting

Special Envoys and Representatives Reporting to the Secretary

---

PRESIDENTIAL ENVOYS

Global Coalition to Defeat ISIS

James F. Jeffrey

Hostage Affairs

Roger D. Carstens

REPRESENTATIVES

Afghanistan Reconciliation

Zalmay M. Khalilzad

Global Health Diplomacy

Deborah L. Birx

Iran

Brian H. Hook

North Korea

Stephen E. Biegun

Syria Engagement

James F. Jeffrey

Venezuela

Elliott Abrams

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/bureaus-and-offices-reporting-directly-to-the-secretary>

Arms Control and International Security

---

UNDERSECRETARY

(vacancy)

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

Arms Control, Verification and Compliance

Thomas G. DiNanno

International Security and Nonproliferation

Christopher A. Ford

Political–Military Affairs

R. Clarke Cooper

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-arms-control-and-international-security-affairs>

Civilian Security, Democracy, and Human Rights

---

 UNDERSECRETARY

Nathan A. Sales, Acting

---

 AMBASSADORS-AT-LARGE

Counterterrorism and Countering Violent Extremism

Nathan A. Sales

Global Criminal Justice

Morse H. Tan

International Religious Freedom

Samuel D. Brownback

Monitoring and Combating Trafficking in Persons

John C. Richmond

---

 ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

Conflict and Stabilization Operations

Denise Natali

Democracy, Human Rights, and Labor

Robert A. Destro

International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs

Kirsten D. Madison

Population, Refugees, and Migration

Carol O'Connell, Acting

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-civilian-security-democracy-and-human-rights>

Economic Growth, Energy, and the Environment

---

UNDERSECRETARY

Keith J. Krach

---

 ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

Economic and Business Affairs

Manisha Singh

Energy Resources

Francis R. Fannon

Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs

(vacancy)

---

 Chief Economist

Sharon Brown-Hruska

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-economic-growth-energy-and-the-environment>

Management

---

UNDERSECRETARY

Brian J. Bulatao

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

Administration

Carrie B. Cabelka

Consular Affairs

Carl C. Risch

Diplomatic Security

Michael T. Evanoff

Information Resource Management

Stuart M. McGuigan

CHIEF OFFICERS

Information

Stuart M. McGuigan

Medical

Mark J. Cohen

DIRECTORS

Budget and Planning

Douglas A. Pitkin

Foreign Missions

Stephen J. Akard

Foreign Service Institute

Daniel B. Smith

Global Financial Services

Jeffrey C. Mounts, Acting

Global Talent

Carol Z. Perez

Management Strategy and Solutions

James S. Schwab

Medical Services

Mark J. Cohen

Overseas Buildings Operations

Addison D. Davis IV

|             |                           |
|-------------|---------------------------|
| Comptroller | Jeffrey C. Mounts, Acting |
|-------------|---------------------------|

|   |                |
|---|----------------|
| Director General of the Foreign Service | Carol Z. Perez |
|---|----------------|

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-management/bureau-of-administration>

Political Affairs

---

|                |               |
|----------------|---------------|
| UNDERSECRETARY | David M. Hale |
|----------------|---------------|

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

|                 |                    |
|-----------------|--------------------|
| African Affairs | Tibor P. Nagy, Jr. |
|-----------------|--------------------|

|                                |                   |
|--------------------------------|-------------------|
| East Asian and Pacific Affairs | David R. Stilwell |
|--------------------------------|-------------------|

|                               |                          |
|-------------------------------|--------------------------|
| European and Eurasian Affairs | Philip T. Reeker, Acting |
|-------------------------------|--------------------------|

|                                    |                         |
|------------------------------------|-------------------------|
| International Organization Affairs | Pamela D. Pryor, Acting |
|------------------------------------|-------------------------|

|                      |                   |
|----------------------|-------------------|
| Near Eastern Affairs | David K. Schenker |
|----------------------|-------------------|

|                                 |           |
|---------------------------------|-----------|
| South and Central Asian Affairs | (vacancy) |
|---------------------------------|-----------|

|                            |                          |
|----------------------------|--------------------------|
| Western Hemisphere Affairs | Michael G. Kozak, Acting |
|----------------------------|--------------------------|

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-political-affairs>

Public Diplomacy and Public Affairs

---

|                |           |
|----------------|-----------|
| UNDERSECRETARY | (vacancy) |
|----------------|-----------|

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

|                       |                           |
|-----------------------|---------------------------|
| Global Public Affairs | Nicole A. Chulick, Acting |
|-----------------------|---------------------------|

|                                  |                |
|----------------------------------|----------------|
| Educational and Cultural Affairs | Marie T. Royce |
|----------------------------------|----------------|

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-public-diplomacy-and-public-affairs>

UNITED STATES MISSION TO THE UNITED NATIONS

---

799 United Nations Plaza, New York, NY 10017

---

AMBASSADORS

|   |                                  |
|---|----------------------------------|
| Representative of the U.S.A.  | Kelly Knight Craft               |
| Deputy Representative of the U.S.A.   | Cherith Norman Chalet,Acting |
| United Nations Management and Reform  | Cherith Norman Chalet            |
| https://usun.usmission.gov/our-leaders |                                  |
| Inspector General   | (vacancy)                        |

<https://www.stateoig.gov/about/IG>

The above list of key personnel was updated 6–2020.

---

The Department of State advises the President on issues of foreign policy; supports democracy, freedom, and prosperity for all people; and fosters conditions that favor stability and progress worldwide.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The First Congress of the United States held its first session in the City of New York, starting on March 4, 1789, and ending on September 29, 1789. By act of July 27, 1789 (Statute I, Ch. IV), which President George Washington signed, the U.S. Congress enacted the establishment of an executive department "to be denominated the Department of Foreign Affairs."

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/1st-congress/c1.pdf>

During the same session, by act of September 15, 1789 (Statute I, Ch. XIV), which President George Washington also signed, the First Congress renamed the Department of Foreign Affairs as the Department of State, and its principal officer became known as the Secretary of State.

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/1st-congress/c1.pdf>

Subject matter on the establishment and organization of the Department of State is consolidated and codified in Title 22, Chapter 38, of the U.S. Code (Sec. 2651 and 2651a).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title22/chapter38&edition=prelim>

By the advice and with the consent of the Senate, the President appoints the Secretary of State, the Deputy Secretary of State, and the Deputy Secretary of State for Management and Resources. By the Senate's advice and with its consent, the President also appoints, up to a maximum of six, the Department's Undersecretaries (22 USC 2651a).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title22-section2651a&num=0&edition=prelim>

The Department of State's statement of organization is found in 22 CFR 5.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=9fcaa112da47aad8595acce6fd09ca0e&mc=true&node=pt22.1.5&rgn=div5>

The Department's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.state.gov/department-of-state-organization-chart>

ACTIVITIES

---

The Secretary of State directs, coordinates, and supervises U.S. foreign relations and the interdepartmental activities of the U.S. Government abroad. The Secretary ranks first in importance among the President's foreign affairs advisers, serves as a Cabinet member and on the National Security Council, and oversees State Department operations, including the Foreign Service.

<http://www.state.gov/secretary>

The future of the United States depends on the relations that its has with other countries. The U.S. Foreign Service is the principal cultivator of those relations. Trained representatives stationed worldwide provide the President and the Secretary of State with many of the building blocks from which foreign policy is constructed. These representatives also offer recommendations to help guide the process of policy building.

Ambassadors are the personal representatives of the President and report to the President through the Secretary of State. Ambassadors have full responsibility for implementation of U.S. foreign policy by U.S. Government personnel within their country of assignment, except those who are under military commands. Responsibilities include negotiating agreements between the United States and the host country, explaining and disseminating official U.S. policy, and maintaining cordial relations with that country's government and people.

Administration

The Bureau of Administration provides support programs and services to Department of State operations worldwide, as well as programs and services to other U.S. Government agencies represented at U.S. Embassies and consulates. These functions include administrative policy; domestic emergency management; management of owned or leased facilities in the United States; procurement, supply, travel, and transportation support; classified pouch, unclassified pouch, and domestic mail distribution; official records, publishing, library, and foreign language interpreting and translating services; and support to the schools abroad that educate dependents of U.S. Government employees assigned to diplomatic and consular missions. Direct services to the public include authenticating documents used abroad for legal and business purposes; responding to requests under the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts; providing the electronic reading room for public reference to State Department records; and determining use of the diplomatic reception rooms of the Harry S. Truman headquarters building in Washington, DC.

<https://www.state.gov/about-us-bureau-of-administration>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Administration. Phone, 202-485-7000.

Arms Control, Verification, and Compliance

The Bureau of Arms Control, Verification and Compliance is responsible for ensuring and verifying compliance with international arms control, nonproliferation, and disarmament agreements and commitments. The Bureau also leads negotiation and implementation efforts with respect to strategic arms control, most recently the new START Treaty and conventional forces in Europe. The Bureau is the principal policy representative to the intelligence community with regard to verification and compliance matters and uses this role to promote, preserve, and enhance key collection and analytic capabilities and to ensure that intelligence verification, compliance, and implementation requirements are met. The Bureau staffs and manages treaty implementation commissions, creates negotiation and implementation policy for agreements and commitments, and develops policy for future arms control, nonproliferation, and disarmament arrangements. It also provides secure government-to-government communication linkages with foreign treaty partners. The Bureau is also responsible for preparing verifiability assessments on proposals and agreements, and reporting these to Congress as required. The Bureau also prepares the "President's Annual Report to Congress on Adherence to and Compliance With Arms Control, Nonproliferation, and Disarmament Agreements and Commitments," as well as the reports required by the Iran, North Korea, and Syria Nonproliferation Act.

<http://www.state.gov/t/avc>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Arms Control, Verification and Compliance. Phone, 202-647-6830. Fax, 202-647-1321.

Budget and Planning

The Bureau of Budget and Planning manages budgeting and resource management for operation accounts.

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-management/bureau-of-budget-and-planning>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Budget and Planning. Phone, 202-647-8517.

Comptroller and Global Financial Services

The Bureau of the Comptroller and Global Financial Services, led by the Chief Financial Officer, integrates strategic planning, budgeting, and performance to secure departmental resources. The Bureau manages all departmental strategic and performance planning; global financial services, including accounting, disbursing, and payroll; issuance of financial statements and oversight of the Department's management control program; coordination of national security resources and remediation of vulnerabilities within the Department's global critical infrastructure; and management of the International Cooperative Administrative Support Services Program.

<http://www.state.gov/m/cgfs>

For further information, contact the Bureau of the Comptroller and Global Financial Services. Phone, 703-875-4364.

Conflict and Stabilization Operations

The Bureau of Conflict and Stabilization Operations advances U.S. national security by driving integrated, civilian-led efforts to prevent, respond to, and stabilize crises in priority states, setting conditions for long-term peace. The Bureau emphasizes sustainable solutions guided by local dynamics and actors and promotes unity of effort, strategic use of scarce resources, and burden sharing with international partners.

<http://www.state.gov/j/cso>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Conflict Stabilization Operations. Phone, 202-663-0299.

Consular Affairs

The Bureau of Consular Affairs is responsible for the protection and welfare of American citizens and interests abroad; the administration and enforcement of the provisions of the immigration and nationality laws insofar as they concern the Department of State and Foreign Service; the issuance of passports and visas; and related services. Approximately 18 million passports a year are issued by the Bureau's Office of Passport Services at the processing centers in Portsmouth, NH, and Charleston, SC, and the regional agencies in Boston, MA; Chicago, IL; Aurora, CO; Honolulu, HI; Houston, TX; Los Angeles, CA; Miami, FL; New Orleans, LA; New York, NY; Philadelphia, PA; San Francisco, CA; Seattle, WA; Norwalk, CT; Detroit, MI; Minneapolis, MN; and Washington, DC. In addition, the Bureau helps secure America's borders against entry by terrorists or narcotraffickers, facilitates international adoptions, and supports parents whose children have been abducted abroad.

<http://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en.html>

More information is available online at the Bureau of Consular Affairs.

Counterterrorism

The Bureau of Counterterrorism leads the Department in the U.S. Government's effort to counter terrorism abroad and secure the United States against foreign terrorist threats. To carry out its mission, the Bureau develops and implements counterterrorism strategies, promotes international cooperation on counterterrorism issues, serves as the Department's key link on counterterrorism to the Department of Homeland Security, focuses efforts to counter violent extremism, and develops international partner counterterrorism capacity.

<http://www.state.gov/j/ct>

For further information, contact CT's Office of Public Affairs. Phone, 202-647-1845.

Democracy, Human Rights, and Labor

The Bureau of Democracy, Human Rights, and Labor (DRL) is responsible for developing and implementing U.S. policy on democracy, human rights, labor, religious freedom, monitoring and combating anti-Semitism, and advocating for inclusion of people with disabilities. DRL practices diplomatic engagement and advocacy to protect human rights and strengthen democratic institutions. Working with governments, civil society, and multilateral organizations to support democratic governance and human rights, the Bureau also participates in multi-stakeholder initiatives to encourage multinational corporations to adhere to human rights standards of conduct, including the elimination of child labor. DRL fulfills the USG reporting responsibilities on human rights and democracy, producing the annual "Country Reports on Human Rights Practices," the annual "International Religious Freedom" report, and the "Advancing Freedom and Democracy" report. Providing targeted program assistance through the Human Rights and Democracy Fund and other funding streams, the Bureau works to protect human rights and strengthen democratic institutions around the world. DRL programs help prosecute war criminals, promote religious freedom, support workers' rights, encourage accountability in governance, as well as facilitate freedom of expression and freedom to access information on the Internet. The Bureau also has a Congressionally mandated responsibility to ensure that foreign military assistance and training is not provided to gross violators of human rights. DRL leads the Secretary of State's Task Force on Global Internet Freedom.

<http://www.state.gov/j/drl>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Democracy, Human Rights, and Labor. Phone, 202-647-2126.

Diplomatic Security

The Bureau of Diplomatic Security provides a secure environment to promote U.S. interests at home and abroad. The Bureau's mission includes protecting the Secretary of State and other senior Government officials, resident and visiting foreign dignitaries, and foreign missions in the United States; conducting criminal, counterintelligence, and personnel security investigations; ensuring the integrity of international travel documents, sensitive information, classified processing equipment, and management information systems; the physical and technical protection of domestic and overseas facilities of the Department of State; providing professional law enforcement and security training to U.S. and foreign personnel; and a comprehensive, multifaceted overseas security program serving the needs of U.S. missions and resident U.S. citizens and business communities. Through the Office of Foreign Missions, the Bureau regulates the domestic activities of the foreign diplomatic community in the areas of taxation, real property acquisitions, motor vehicle operation, domestic travel, and customs processing.

<http://www.state.gov/m/ds>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Diplomatic Security Office of Public Affairs. Phone, 571-345-2502.

Economic and Business Affairs

The Bureau of Economic and Business Affairs (EB) promotes international trade, investment, economic development, and financial stability on behalf of the American people. EB works to build prosperity and economic security at home and abroad by implementing policy related to the promotion of U.S. trade, investment and exports, international development and reconstruction, intellectual property enforcement, terrorism financing and economic sanctions, international communications and information policy, and aviation and maritime affairs. EB formulates and carries out U.S. foreign economic policy and works to sustain a more democratic, secure, and prosperous world.

<http://www.state.gov/e/eb>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Economic and Business Affairs. Phone, 202-647-9204.

Educational and Cultural Affairs

The Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs administers the principal provisions of the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act (the Fulbright-Hays Act), including U.S. international educational and cultural exchange programs. These programs include the prestigious Fulbright Program for students, scholars, and teachers; the International Visitor Leadership Program, which brings leaders and future leaders from other countries to the United States for consultation with their professional colleagues; and professional, youth, sports, and cultural exchanges. Programs are implemented through cooperative relationships with U.S. nongovernmental organizations that support the Bureau's mission.

<http://exchanges.state.gov>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs. Phone, 202-632-6445. Fax, 202-632-2701.

Energy Resources

The Bureau of Energy Resources (ENR) leads the State Department in the U.S. Government's promotion of U.S. and international energy policy. ENR works to ensure that international energy markets are secure and predictable in order to mitigate potential disruptions, while also working with international partners to diversify U.S. energy supplies. The Bureau also seeks to encourage the transformation of United States and world production and consumption of energy to confront the limits of a hydrocarbon-based society and rapid increases in energy demand. ENR works to promote good governance, transparency, and reform of energy sectors globally, which will help broaden energy access, further ensure stable energy supplies, and reduce political instability.

<http://www.state.gov/e/enr>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Energy Resources. Phone, 202-647-3423.

Foreign Service Institute

The Foreign Service Institute of the Department of State is the Federal Government's primary foreign affairs-related training institution. In addition to the Department of State, the Institute provides training for more than 47 other Government agencies. The Institute has more than 700 courses, including some 70 foreign language courses, ranging in length from 1 day to 2 years. The courses are designed to promote successful performance in each professional assignment, to ease the adjustment to other countries and cultures, and to enhance the leadership and management capabilities of the foreign affairs community.

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-management/foreign-service-institute>

For further information, contact the Foreign Service Institute. Phone, 703-302-7144. Fax, 703-302-7152.

Information Resource Management

The Bureau of Information Resource Management (IRM) provides the Department with the information technology it needs to carry out U.S. diplomacy in the information age. The IRM Bureau is led by the Department's Chief Information Officer. IRM establishes effective information resource management planning and policies; ensures availability of information technology systems and operations, including information technology contingency planning, to support the Department's diplomatic, consular, and management operations; exercises management responsibility to ensure the Department's information resources meet the business requirements of the Department and provide an effective basis for knowledge sharing and collaboration within the Department and with other foreign affairs agencies and partners; exercises delegated approving authority for the Secretary of State for the development and administration of the Department's computer and information security programs and policies.

<http://www.state.gov/m/irm>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Information Resource Management. Phone, 202-647-2977.

Inspector General

The Office of Inspector General (OIG) conducts independent audits, inspections, and investigations to promote effective management, accountability, and positive change in the Department of State, the Broadcasting Board of Governors (BBG), and the foreign affairs community. OIG provides leadership to promote integrity, efficiency, effectiveness, and economy; prevents and detects waste, fraud, abuse, and mismanagement; identifies vulnerabilities and recommends constructive solutions; offers expert assistance to improve Department and BBG operations; communicates timely, useful information that facilitates decision-making and achieves measurable gains; and keeps the Department, BBG, and Congress informed.

<https://oig.state.gov>

For further information, contact the Office of Inspector General. Phone, 202-663-0340.

Intelligence and Research

The primary mission of the Bureau of Intelligence and Research (INR) is to harness intelligence to serve U.S. diplomacy. Drawing on all-source intelligence, INR provides value-added independent analysis of events to Department policymakers, ensures that intelligence activities support foreign policy and national security purposes, and serves as the focal point in the Department for ensuring policy review of sensitive counterintelligence and law enforcement activities. The Bureau also analyzes geographical and international boundary issues. INR is a member of the U.S. Intelligence Community and serves as the Community's Executive Agent for Analytical Outreach.

<http://www.state.gov/s/inr>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Intelligence and Research. Phone, 202-647-1080.

International Narcotics and Law Enforcement

The Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs (INL) is responsible for developing policies and managing programs to combat and counter international narcotics production and trafficking, and for strengthening law enforcement and other rule of law institutional capabilities outside the United States. The Bureau also directs narcotics control coordinators at posts abroad and provides guidance on narcotics control, justice sector reform, and anticrime matters to the chiefs of missions. It supports the development of strong, sustainable criminal justice systems as well as training for police force and judicial officials. INL works closely with a broad range of other U.S. Government agencies.

<http://www.state.gov/j/inl>

For further information, contact the Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs. Phone, 202-647-2545. Fax, 202-736-4045.

International Organizations

The Bureau of International Organization Affairs provides guidance and support for U.S. participation in international organizations and conferences and formulates and implements U.S. policy toward international organizations, with particular emphasis on those organizations which make up the United Nations system. It provides direction in the development, coordination, and implementation of U.S. multilateral policy.

<http://www.state.gov/p/io>

For further information, contact the Bureau of International Organization Affairs. Phone, 202-647-9600. Fax, 202-736-4116.

International Security and Nonproliferation

The Bureau of International Security and Nonproliferation (ISN), is responsible for managing a broad range of nonproliferation, counterproliferation, and arms control functions. ISN leads U.S. efforts to prevent the spread of weapons of mass destruction (nuclear, radiological, chemical, and biological weapons) related materials, and their delivery systems. It is responsible for spearheading efforts to promote international consensus on weapons of mass destruction proliferation through bilateral and multilateral diplomacy; addressing weapons of mass destruction proliferation threats posed by nonstate actors and terrorist groups by improving physical security, using interdiction and sanctions, and actively participating in the Proliferation Security Initiative; coordinating the implementation of key international treaties and arrangements, working to make them relevant to today's security challenges; working closely with the U.N., the G-8, NATO, the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons, the International Atomic Energy Agency, and other international institutions and organizations to reduce and eliminate the threat posed by weapons of mass destruction; and supporting efforts of foreign partners to prevent, protect against, and respond to the threat or use of weapons of mass destruction by terrorists.

<http://www.state.gov/t/isn>

For further information, contact the Bureau of International Security and Nonproliferation. Phone, 202-647-9868. Fax, 202-736-4863.

Legal Adviser

The Office of the Legal Adviser advises the Secretary of State and other Department officials on all domestic and international legal matters relating to the Department of State, Foreign Service, and diplomatic and consular posts abroad. The Office's lawyers draft, negotiate, and interpret treaties, international agreements, domestic statutes, departmental regulations, Executive orders, and other legal documents; provide guidance on international and domestic law; represent the United States in international organization, negotiation, and treaty commission meetings; work on domestic and foreign litigation affecting the Department's interests; and represent the United States before international tribunals, including the International Court of Justice.

<http://www.state.gov/s/>

For further information, contact the Office of the Legal Adviser. Phone, 202-647-9598.

Legislative Affairs

The Bureau of Legislative Affairs coordinates legislative activity for the Department of State and advises the Secretary, the Deputy, as well as the Under Secretaries and Assistant Secretaries on legislative strategy. The Bureau facilitates effective communication between State Department officials and the Members of Congress and their staffs. Legislative Affairs works closely with the authorizing, appropriations, and oversight committees of the House and Senate, as well as with individual Members that have an interest in State Department or foreign policy issues. The Bureau also manages Department testimony before House and Senate hearings, organizes Member and staff briefings, facilitates congressional travel to overseas posts for Members and staff throughout the year, reviews proposed legislation, and coordinates Statements of Administration Policy on legislation affecting the conduct of U.S. foreign policy. The Legislative Affairs staff advises individual Bureaus of the Department on legislative and outreach strategies and coordinates those strategies with the Secretary's priorities.

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/bureaus-and-offices-reporting-directly-to-the-secretary/bureau-of-legislative-affairs>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Legislative Affairs. Phone, 202-647-1714.

Medical Services

The Office of Medical Services (MED) develops, manages, and staffs a worldwide primary health care system for U.S. Government employees and their eligible dependents residing overseas. In support of its overseas operations, MED approves and monitors the medical evacuation of patients, conducts pre-employment and in-service physical clearance examinations, and provides clinical referral and advisory services. MED also provides for emergency medical response in the event of a crisis at an overseas post.

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-management/bureau-of-medical-services>

For further information, contact the Office of Medical Services. Phone, 202-663-1649. Fax, 202-663-1613.

Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs

The Bureau of Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs (OES) serves as the foreign policy focal point for international oceans, as well as environmental and scientific efforts. OES projects, protects, and promotes U.S. global interests in these areas by articulating U.S. foreign policy, encouraging international cooperation, and negotiating treaties and other instruments of international law. The Bureau serves as the principal adviser to the Secretary of State on international environment, science, and technology matters and takes the lead in coordinating and brokering diverse interests in the interagency process, where the development of international policies or the negotiation and implementation of relevant international agreements are concerned. The Bureau seeks to promote the peaceful exploitation of outer space, develop and coordinate policy on international health issues, encourage government-to-government scientific cooperation, and prevent the destruction and degradation of the planet's natural resources and the global environment.

<http://www.state.gov/e/oes>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs. Phone, 202-647-3004.

Overseas Buildings Operations

The Bureau of Overseas Buildings Operations (OBO) directs the worldwide overseas buildings program for the Department of State and the U.S. Government community serving abroad under the authority of the chiefs of mission. Along with the input and support of other State Department bureaus, foreign affairs agencies, and Congress, OBO sets worldwide priorities for the design, construction, acquisition, maintenance, use, and sale of real properties and the use of sales proceeds. OBO also serves as the Single Real Property Manager of all overseas facilities under the authority of the chiefs of mission.

<http://overseasbuildings.state.gov>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Overseas Buildings Operations. Phone, 703-875-4131. Fax, 703-875-5043.

Political-Military Affairs

The Bureau of Political-Military Affairs is the principal link between the Departments of State and Defense and is the Department of State's lead on operational military matters. The Bureau provides policy direction in the areas of international security, security assistance, military operations, defense strategy and policy, counterpiracy measures, and defense trade. Its responsibilities include coordinating the U.S. Government's response to piracy in the waters off the Horn of Africa, securing base access to support the deployment of U.S. military forces overseas, negotiating status of forces agreements, coordinating participation in coalition combat and stabilization forces, regulating arms transfers, directing military assistance to U.S. allies, combating illegal trafficking in small arms and light weapons, facilitating the education and training of international peacekeepers and foreign military personnel, managing humanitarian mine action programs, and assisting other countries in reducing the availability of man-portable air defense systems.

<http://www.state.gov/t/pm>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Political-Military Affairs. Phone, 202-647-9022. Fax, 202-736-4413.

Population, Refugees, and Migration

The Bureau of Population, Refugees, and Migration directs the Department's population, refugee, and migration policy development. It administers U.S. contributions to international organizations and nongovernmental organizations for humanitarian assistance- and protection-related programs on behalf of refugees, conflict victims, and internally displaced persons. The Bureau oversees the annual admissions of refugees to the United States for permanent resettlement, working closely with the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Health and Human Services, and various State and private voluntary agencies. It coordinates U.S. international population policy and promotes its goals through bilateral and multilateral cooperation. It works closely with the U.S. Agency for International Development, which administers U.S. international population programs. The Bureau also coordinates the Department's international migration policy through bilateral and multilateral diplomacy. The Bureau oversees efforts to encourage greater participation in humanitarian assistance and refugee resettlement on the part of foreign governments and uses humanitarian diplomacy to increase access and assistance to those in need in the absence of political solutions.

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-civilian-security-democracy-and-human-rights/bureau-of-population-refugees-and-migration>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Population, Refugees, and Migration. Phone, 202-453-9339. Fax, 202-453-9394.

Protocol

The Chief of Protocol is the principal adviser to the U.S. Government, the President, the Vice President, and the Secretary of State on matters of diplomatic procedure governed by law or international custom and practice. The Office is responsible for arranging visits of foreign chiefs of state, heads of government, and other high officials to the United States; organizing credential presentations of newly arrived Ambassadors, as presented to the President and to the Secretary of State; operating the President's guest house, Blair House; organizing delegations representing the President at official ceremonies abroad; conducting official ceremonial functions and public events; interpreting the official order of precedence; conducting outreach programs of cultural enrichment and substantive briefings of the Diplomatic Corps; accrediting of over 118,000 embassy, consular, international organization, and other foreign government personnel, members of their families, and domestics throughout the United States; determining entitlement to diplomatic or consular immunity; publishing of diplomatic and consular lists; resolving problems arising out of diplomatic or consular immunity, such as legal and police matters; and approving the opening of embassy and consular offices in conjunction with the Office of Foreign Missions.

<http://www.state.gov/s/cpr>

For further information, contact the Office of the Chief of Protocol. Phone, 202-647-1735. Fax, 202-647-1560.

Public Affairs

The Bureau of Public Affairs (PA) supports U.S. foreign policy goals and objectives, advances national interests, and enhances National security by informing and influencing domestic and global public opinion about American interaction with the rest of the world. In addition, PA works to help Americans understand the importance of foreign affairs by conducting press briefings for the domestic and foreign press, pursuing media outreach by other means, arranging townhall meetings and community speakers, and preparing historical studies on U.S. diplomacy and foreign affairs matters.

<http://www.state.gov/r/pa>

For further information, contact the Bureau of Public Affairs. Phone, 202-647-6575.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Air Quality Worldwide

AirNow—Department of State collects air quality monitoring data globally from U.S. embassies and consulates.

https://airnow.gov/index.cfm?action=airnow.global\_summary

Archived Records

The records of the Department are referenced in the "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States." The Guide is accessible online, and its records belong to Record Group 059.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/059.html>

Art in Embassies (AIE)

The Department's AIE program stimulates cross-cultural dialogue and mutual understanding through the visual arts and artist exchanges. The program develops and presents approximately 60 exhibitions per year and has installed over 70 permanent art collections in the Department's diplomatic facilities in over 200 venues in 189 countries.

<https://art.state.gov>

Blog

"DipNote," the Department of State's official blog, offers first-person perspectives from U.S. Government employees who are working to shape and sustain a peaceful, prosperous, just, and democratic world and to foster stability and progress for people of every nation.

<https://blogs.state.gov>

Business Opportunities

Direct Line allows U.S. businessmen and women to hear directly from U.S. Ambassadors and economic and commercial experts at Embassies and consulates in over 190 countries. Direct line can help U.S. businessmen and women identify promising market sectors and U.S. exporters capitalize on new opportunities.

<https://www.state.gov/direct-line-for-american-business>

The Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization works with industry partners, the acquisition corps, and program offices to increase prime and subcontracting opportunities for U.S. small businesses. Phone, 703-875-6822.

<http://www.state.gov/s/dmr/sdbu/index.htm>

Career Opportunities

To learn about joining the Civil Service, becoming a Foreign Service Specialist, the Consular Fellows Program, and other opportunities, visit the "Job Seekers" web page. Information of interest to students, recent graduates, veterans, and persons with disabilities is also accessible online. State Department personnel are available to answer questions on Federal workdays, 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m., eastern standard time. Phone, 202-663-2176.

<https://www.state.gov/job-seekers>

In 2019, the Department of State ranked 13th among 17 large agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/ST00>

Climate Change

The Office of Global Change implements and manages U.S. international policy on climate change. It also represents the United States in negotiations under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change and in other international fora that focus on the topic, including the International Civil Aviation Organization and the International Maritime Organization.

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-economic-growth-energy-and-the-environment/bureau-of-oceans-and-international-environmental-and-scientific-affairs/office-of-global-change>

Contact Information

An online visitor to the website may submit a question, using the electronic form on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://register.state.gov/contactus/contactusform>

DIPLOMATS@work

This experience provides insight into the distinct responsibilities of Foreign Service Officers in each of the five career tracks during a crisis situation in Vendurasaca, a fictitious country designed to represent an overseas location in which a U.S. embassy or consulate is located

<https://careers.state.gov/daw/diplomats-at-work>

Embassies

Contact information for U.S. Embassies, consulates, and diplomatic missions worldwide is available online.

<https://www.usembassy.gov>

Emergencies Abroad

The Bureau of Consular Affairs posts information for emergency travel-related situations abroad.

<https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/international-travel/emergencies.html>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the Department has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/state-department>

Foreign Affairs Manual (FAM) / Foreign Affairs Handbooks (FAHs)

The (FAM) and (FAHs) are a single, comprehensive, and authoritative source for the Department's organization structures, policies, and procedures that govern the operations of the State Department, the Foreign Service, and, when applicable, other Federal agencies. The FAM, which centers on policy, and the FAHs, which center on procedures, convey codified information to Department staff and contractors, enabling them to carry out their responsibilities in accordance with statutory, executive, and Department mandates.

<https://fam.state.gov>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To request records, write to the Director, Office of Information Programs and Services, A/GIS/IPS/RL, Department of State, SA-2, Washington, DC 20522-8100. For more information, contact the FOIA Requester Service Center. Phone, 202-261-8484.

<https://foia.state.gov/Default.aspx>

The Department of State maintains an online reading room that contains over 220,000 documents. Before submitting a FOIA request, search the reading room to see if the desired document is accessible immediately and free of charge.

<https://foia.state.gov/Search/Search.aspx>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The Department of State posts answers to FAQs.

<https://careers.state.gov/faqs>

The Office of the Historian posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://history.state.gov/about/faq>

Geographic Bureaus

The geographic bureaus, which include the Bureaus of African, East Asian and Pacific, European and Eurasian, Near Eastern, South and Central Asian, and Western Hemisphere Affairs handle foreign affairs activities worldwide.

<https://www.state.gov/bureaus-offices/under-secretary-for-political-affairs>

History

The Office of the Historian maintains an online guide to the United States' history of recognition, diplomatic, and consular relations by country. The database begins with the year 1776.

<https://history.state.gov/countries> | Email: history@state.gov

The Office of the Historian also maintains an online index to diplomatic archives worldwide.

<https://history.state.gov/countries/archives> | Email: history@state.gov

International Adoptions

For information on adoption of foreign children by private U.S. citizens, contact the Office of Children's Issues, Bureau of Consular Affairs, Department of State, SA-29, 2201 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20520-4818. Phone, 888-407-4747 or 202-501-4444 (international).

<http://travel.state.gov/content/adoptionsabroad/en.html>

Open Government

The Department of State supports the Open Government initiative by promoting collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.state.gov/open-government-initiative>

Passports

Information on the application process for a new passport and on the renewal process for an expiring passport is available online. Lost or stolen passports may be reported online. Phone, 877-487-2778. TDD/TTY, 888-874-7793

<https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/passports.html> | Email: NPIC@state.gov

Press Releases

The Office of the Spokesperson releases factsheets, media notes, notices to the press, and statements on a daily basis.

<https://www.state.gov/press-releases>

Programs by State

State Department programs affect American communities. The "Department of State by State" web pages describe some of the effects by offering State-by-State statistics.

<https://www.state.gov/department-of-state-by-state>

Publications

The Bureau of Human Resources publishes "State Magazine" monthly, except bimonthly in July and August. The magazine has an informative character and should not be regarded as authority for official action. Views and opinions expressed in "State Magazine" are not necessarily those of the Department of State.

<https://statemag.state.gov> | Email: statemagazine@state.gov

Social Media

The "Press" web page presents links to the Department's social media accounts under the "Join Us" section heading. Using the "Press" web page, a visitor can access easily the official blog "Dipnote," Facebook, Flickr, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube, and a form for subscribing to email updates.

<https://www.state.gov/press>

Telephone Directory

The Department's telephone directory can be accessed online.

<https://www.state.gov/telephone-directory>

Tips for U.S. Travelers

Information for Americans traveling abroad—including a traveler's checklist and tips on destinations, personal safety, health, and other topics—is available online from the Bureau of Consular Affairs.

<http://travel.state.gov/content/passports/english/go.html>

Travel Advisories and Alerts

The Bureau of Consular Affairs website posts travel advisories, alerts, and other information to help Americans travel safely abroad.

<http://travel.state.gov/content/passports/en/alertswarnings.html>

Visas

For information on visas for foreigners wishing to enter the United States, visit the Bureau of Consular Affairs online or call 603-334-0700.

<http://nvc.state.gov>

The Sources of Information were updated 6–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Department of Transportation
Federal Aviation Administration
Federal Highway Administration
Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration
Federal Railroad Administration
Federal Transit Administration
Great Lakes Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation
Maritime Administration
National Highway Traffic Safety Administration
Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration

The United States Government Manual

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-4000

<http://www.dot.gov>

SECRETARY OF TRANSPORTATION

Peter P.M. Buttigieg

Deputy Secretary

Polly E. Trottenberg

Chief of Staff

Laura Schiller

Under Secretary of Transportation for Policy

Carlos Monje, Jr.

<https://www.transportation.gov/office-of-secretary>

Assistant Secretaries

---

Administration

Philip A. McNamara

Aviation and International Affairs

Carol A. Petsonk*

Finance and Budget

Victoria B. Wassmer*

Governmental Affairs

Mohsin Syed*

Research and Technology

Robert C. Hampshire*

Transportation Policy

Christopher Coes*

CHIEF OFFICERS

Financial

(vacancy)

Legal

John E. Putnam, Acting

General Counsel

John E. Putnam, Acting

* Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary or Deputy Assistant Secretary

<https://www.transportation.gov/mission/meet-key-officials>

Heads of Administrations

---

|   |                           |
|---|---------------------------|
| Federal Aviation                            | Steve Dickson             |
| Federal Highways                            | Stephanie Pollack, Acting |
| Federal Motor Carrier Safety                | Meera Joshi*              |
| Federal Railroads                           | Amit Bose*                |
| Federal Transit                             | Nuria Fernandez           |
| Maritime                                    | Lucinda Lessley, Acting   |
| National Highway Traffic Safety             | Steven Cliff, Acting      |
| Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety     | Tristan Brown, Acting     |
| Great Lakes St. Lawrence Seaway Development | Craig H. Middlebrook*     |

* Deputy Administrator

<https://www.transportation.gov/administrations>

Heads of Offices

---

DIRECTORS

|   |                   |
|---|-------------------|
| Civil Rights                                  | Irene Marion      |
| Executive Secretariat                         | Justine Hong      |
| Intelligence, Security and Emergency Response | Richard M. Chávez |
| Public Affairs                                | Dani Simons       |
| Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization  | Shelby M. Scales  |
| Chief Information Officer                     | Cordell Schachter |

<https://www.transportation.gov/policy/key-officials>

<https://www.oig.dot.gov/about-oig/inspector-general>

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2021.

The Department of Transportation establishes national transportation policy for highway planning and construction, motor carrier safety, urban mass transit, railroads, aviation, and the safety of waterways, ports, highways, and pipelines.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On October 15, 1966, President Lyndon B. Johnson approved Public Law 89–670, which also is cited as the Department of Transportation Act, "to establish a Department of Transportation [DOT] and for other purposes." The U.S. Congress had found that the establishment of a DOT was necessary "to assure the coordinated, effective administration of the transportation programs of the Federal Government; to facilitate the development and improvement of coordinated transportation service, to be provided by private enterprise to the maximum extent feasible; to encourage cooperation of Federal, State, and local governments, carriers, labor, and other interested parties toward the achievement of national transportation objectives; to stimulate technological advances in transportation; to provide general leadership in the identification and solution of transportation problems; and to develop and recommend to the President and the Congress for approval national transportation policies and programs to accomplish these objectives with full and appropriate consideration of the needs of the public, users, carriers, industry, labor, and the national defense." It also contained the following declaration of national policy: "Special effort should be made to preserve the natural beauty of the countryside and public park and recreation lands, wildlife and waterfowl refuges, and historic sites" (80 Stat. 931). The Nation's DOT had its first official day of operation on April 1, 1967.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-80/pdf/STATUTE-80-Pg931.pdf>

The President appoints the Secretary of Transportation by the advice and with the consent of the Senate (80 Stat. 931). The Secretary, who serves as the principal adviser to the President in all Federal transportation program matters, administers the DOT. The Under Secretary for Policy serves as a principal policy adviser to the Secretary and provides leadership in policy development for the Department.

The DOT's statement of organization has been assigned to subpart A of part 1 in 49 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=e53320fbfd2ae88a9b5ab278d4b5c6bd&mc=true&node=pt49.1.1&rgn=div5#sp49.1.1.a

The DOT posts its organization chart online.

<https://www.transportation.gov/org-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material affecting the DOT has been codified and assigned to subtitle I of 49 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title49/subtitle1&edition=prelim>

Regulatory material on the subject of transportation has been codified and assigned to 49 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

gp=&SID=e53320bfd2ae88a9b5ab278d4b5c6bd&mc=true&tpl=/ecf/browse/Title49/49tab\_02.tpl

ACTIVITIES

Aviation and International Affairs

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Aviation and International Affairs develops, reviews, and coordinates policy for international transportation and develops, coordinates, and implements policy on economic regulation of the airline industry. The Office licenses U.S. and foreign carriers to serve in international air transportation and conducts carrier fitness determinations for carriers serving the United States. The Office participates in negotiations with foreign governments to develop multilateral and bilateral aviation and maritime policies on international transportation and trade and to coordinate cooperative agreements for the exchange of scientific and technical information. The Office also resolves complaints of unfair competitive practices in domestic and international air transportation, establishes international and intra-Alaska mail rates, determines the disposition of requests for approval and immunization from the antitrust laws of international aviation agreements, and administers the essential air service program.

<https://www.transportation.gov/policy/assistant-secretary-aviation-international-affairs>

Drug and Alcohol Policy and Compliance

The Office of Drug and Alcohol Policy and Compliance ensures that the Secretary's national and international drug and alcohol policies and goals are developed and implemented in a consistent, efficient, and effective manner within the transportation industry. Experts from the Office advise, counsel, and give recommendations on drugs and alcohol, as they pertain to the DOT and testing within the industry, to the Secretary.

<https://www.transportation.gov/odapc>

Intelligence, Security and Emergency Response

The Office of Intelligence, Security and Emergency Response ensures development, coordination, and execution of plans and procedures for the DOT to balance transportation security requirements with safety, mobility, and the Nation's economic needs. The Office monitors the Nation's transportation network on a continuous basis; advises the Secretary on incidents affecting transportation systems; leads on issues of national preparedness, response, and transportation security; briefs the Secretary on transportation-related intelligence; performs the DOT's National Response Framework Emergency Support Function responsibilities; coordinates departmental participation in emergency preparedness and response exercises under the National Training and Exercise Program; administers the DOT's Continuity of Government and Continuity of Operations programs; and serves as the DOT representative for emergency planning for civil aviation support to NATO and other allies.

<https://www.transportation.gov/mission/administrations/intelligence-security-emergency-response>

Transportation Policy

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Transportation Policy analyzes, develops, articulates, and reviews policies and plans for all transportation modes. It also develops, coordinates, and evaluates public policy on safety, energy, and environmental initiatives that affect air, surface, marine, and pipeline transportation. It maintains policy and economic oversight of DOT regulatory programs and legislative initiatives. The Office also analyzes the economic and institutional implications of current and emerging transportation policy issues, transportation infrastructure finances, and new transportation technologies.

<https://www.transportation.gov/policy/assistant-secretary-transportation-policy>

Research and Technology

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Research and Technology (OST–R) was created by title I, division L, of the Department of Transportation Appropriations Act, 2014 (49 USC 112 note), which transferred the authorities, functions, personnel, and powers and duties of the former Research and Innovative Technology Administration to the OST–R. The Office coordinates, facilitates, and reviews DOT research and development programs and activities; performs transportation statistics research, analysis, and reporting; and promotes innovative technologies for improving transportation systems. The OST–R is composed of the staff from the Bureau of Transportation Statistics, the Volpe National Transportation Systems Center, the Transportation Safety Institute, and the Office of Research, Development, and Technology.

<https://www.transportation.gov/administrations/assistant-secretary-research-and-technology/office-assistant-secretary-research-0>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Administrations

The "Our Administrations" web page provides convenient access to the home pages of the DOT's Administrations.

<https://www.transportation.gov/administrations>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that DOT records have been assigned to record group 398.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/398.html>

Aviation Consumer Protection

For information on air travelers' rights or for assistance in resolving consumer problems with providers of commercial air transportation services, contact the Consumer Affairs Division. Phone, 202-366-2220.

<https://www.transportation.gov/airconsumer>

The Office of Aviation Enforcement and Proceedings publishes the "Air Travel Consumer Report" each month. The report makes information on the quality of airline services accessible to consumers. Issues of the consumer report are posted on the DOT website in Portable Document Format (PDF). Phone, 202-366-2220. TTY, 202-366-0511.

<https://www.transportation.gov/individuals/aviation-consumer-protection/air-travel-consumer-reports>

Blog

The DOT's official blog is titled "Destinations."

<https://www.transportation.gov/blog/Destinations-by-DOT>

Build America Bureau

The "Project Highlights" web page features 20 narratives that summarize the development process of specific new-build transportation public-private partnerships. Each narrative covers the partnership's conception through to its financial closing and construction.

<https://www.transportation.gov/buildamerica/projects/project-highlights> | Email: BuildAmerica@dot.gov

Business Opportunities

Information on small business assistance, small business loans for women, and small business loans for veterans, as well as additional resources like DOT procurement forecasts, are available on the Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization's website.

<https://www.transportation.gov/content/office-small-and-disadvantaged-business-utilization>

Career Opportunities

The DOT employs administrators and managers, air traffic controllers, aviation safety specialists, clerical staff, electronics maintenance technicians, and engineers—aeronautical, automotive, civil, electrical, highway, and general. For further information, contact the Office of the Secretary—Human Resource Operations, 1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Room W75–340, Washington, DC 20590. Phone, 202-366-9391 or 800-525-2878.

<https://www.transportation.gov/careers>

In 2020, the DOT ranked 3d among 17 large agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD00>

In 2020, the Office of the Inspector General ranked 83d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD12>

Civil Rights

For information on equal employment opportunity, nondiscrimination in DOT employment and transportation services, or the Department's disadvantaged business enterprise certification appeals program, contact the Director, Departmental Office of Civil Rights. Phone, 202-366-4648.

<https://www.transportation.gov/civil-rights>

Climate Change

On July 14, 2009, former Secretary of Transportation Ray LaHood read a statement before the U.S. Senate's Committee on Environment and Public Works. As part of his statement, the Secretary said: "Addressing VMT [vehicle-miles-traveled] growth plays a key role in decreasing transportation related GHG [greenhouse gas] emissions and should be included in overall efforts to prevent climate change. . . . transportation infrastructure will also face climate impacts such as rising sea levels, changing precipitation patterns, and temperature fluctuations. The need for adaptation is unavoidable. To ensure the continued integrity of the nation's transportation system, transportation infrastructure decisions must adequately consider forecasted effects and impacts from climate change."

<https://www.transportation.gov/testimony/transportations-role-climate-change-and-greenhouse-gases>

Conferences / Events

The DOT has placed on one web page a list of links for conference and event pages that are found on the websites of various DOT Administrations, the Office of Drug and Alcohol Policy and Compliance, the Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization, and the Volpe Center.

<https://www.transportation.gov/mission/conferences-and-events>

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page contains the DOT's postal address and customer service center's hours and phone number, as well as directions to DOT headquarters and links leading to additional contact information for DOT Administrations.

<https://www.transportation.gov/contact-us>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the DOT recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/transportation-department>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives information seekers the right to access DOT records, unless the Department determines that releasing the information would harm an interest that one or more of the nine FOIA exemptions shields or that releasing the information would violate the law. After receiving a properly submitted FOIA request, the DOT must provide the requester with copies of the relevant documents and records, or portions of them, that he or she is entitled to access under the law.

<https://www.transportation.gov/foia>

Improving the U.S. Transportation System

The DOT Secretary has prioritized innovation through engagement with emerging technologies, maintenance of the Nation's infrastructure, and the safety of Americans when they travel.

<https://www.transportation.gov/priorities>

Infographics

The Volpe Center's "Our Impact Through Infographics" web page communicates concisely, both textually and graphically, how the Center has advanced transportation innovation for the public good.

<https://www.volpe.dot.gov/our-work/infographics>

Motor Vehicle Safety

To report vehicle safety problems, get motor vehicle and highway safety information, or request consumer information publications, visit the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's SafeCar.gov website or call its vehicle safety hotline. Phone, 888-327-4236. TTY, 800-424-9153. Reports also may be filed online.

<http://www.safercar.gov>

Newsroom

The DOT posts press releases on its website.

<https://www.transportation.gov/newsroom>

Plain Language

The Plain Writing Act of 2010 improves "the effectiveness and accountability of Federal agencies to the public by promoting clear Government communication that the public can understand and use." The DOT is committed to helping its employees write clearly.

<https://www.transportation.gov/regulations/plain-language>

Policy Initiatives

The DOT posts current policy initiatives on its website.

<https://www.transportation.gov/policy-initiatives>

National Transportation Library

The Library makes transportation-related data, reports, research, and reference services accessible.

<https://ntl.bts.gov/ntl>

Social Media

The DOT has a YouTube channel and maintains Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, and Twitter accounts.

<https://www.transportation.gov/social>

The above Sources of Information were updated 9–2021.

Federal Aviation Administration

800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20591

202-366-4000

866-835-5322

<http://www.faa.gov>

---

ADMINISTRATOR

Steve Dickson

---

Deputy Administrator

A. Bradley Mims

---

Chief of Staff

Angela H. Stubblefield

---

https://www.faa.gov/about/key\_officials

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2021.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), formerly the Federal Aviation Agency, was established by the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 731).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-72/pdf/STATUTE-72-Pg731.pdf>

The Administration became a component of the Department of Transportation in 1967, pursuant to the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 106).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-80/pdf/STATUTE-80-Pg931.pdf>

The FAA posts an organizational chart on its "Offices" web page in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

https://www.faa.gov/about/office\_org/

ACTIVITIES

---

The FAA regulates civil aviation and U.S. commercial space transportation, maintains and operates air traffic control and navigation systems for civil and military aircraft, and develops and administers programs involving aviation safety and the National Airspace System.

<https://www.faa.gov/about/mission/>

Air Navigation Facilities

The FAA locates and positions, constructs or installs, maintains, operates, and assures the quality of Federal air navigation electronic and visual aids. At flight service stations, airport traffic control towers, and air route traffic control centers, the Administration operates and maintains computer systems, radar facilities, and voice-data communications and visual display equipment.

http://www.faa.gov/about/safety\_efficiency

Airport Programs

The Administration maintains a national plan of airport requirements, administers a grant program for development of public-use airports to assure and improve safety and to meet current and future airport capacity needs, evaluates the environmental effects of airport development, and administers an airport noise compatibility program. It also develops standards for and technical guidance on airport planning, design, operations, and safety and provides grants to assist public agencies in airport system and master planning and airport development and improvement.

<http://www.faa.gov/airports>

Airspace and Air Traffic Management

FAA activities center on the safe and efficient utilization of the navigable airspace. To achieve this goal, the Administration operates a network of airport traffic control towers, air route traffic control centers, and flight service stations. It develops air traffic rules and regulations and allocates airspace use. It also provides air traffic security control that meets national defense requirements.

http://www.faa.gov/air\_traffic

Civil Aviation Abroad

Under the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 and the International Aviation Facilities Act (49 U.S.C. app. 1151), the FAA promotes aviation safety and supports civil aviation abroad. FAA experts exchange aeronautical information with foreign counterparts; certify foreign airmen, mechanics, and repair shops; provide technical aid and training; negotiate bilateral airworthiness agreements with other countries; and participate in international conferences.

http://www.faa.gov/about/safety\_efficiency

Commercial Space Transportation

The Administration regulates and supports the U.S. commercial space transportation industry. It licenses commercial space launch facilities and private sector launches of space payloads on expendable vehicles. It also sets insurance requirements for the protection of persons and property and ensures that space transportation activities comply with U.S. domestic and foreign policy.

http://www.faa.gov/about/office\_org/headquarters\_offices/ast/about

Registration

The Aircraft Registry establishes and maintains the record of every U.S. civil aircraft. Buyers seeking information on aircraft they want to acquire, banks that finance aircraft purchases, aviation historians, and law enforcement and security agencies rely on the registry. An aircraft record contains information on the aircraft's registered owner, its airworthiness, and on recorded aircraft security interests.

http://www.faa.gov/licenses\_certificates/aircraft\_certification/aircraft\_registry/about\_aircraft\_records

Research, Engineering, and Development

The research, engineering, and development activities of the FAA provide the systems, procedures, facilities, and devices needed for a safe and efficient air navigation and air traffic control system for civil aviation and air defense. The Administration also performs an aeromedical research function: It applies knowledge gained from its research program and the work of others to improve civil aviation safety and the safety, health, and efficiency of FAA employees. The Administration also supports the development and testing of aircraft and their parts.

http://www.faa.gov/data\_research/research

Safety Regulation

The FAA issues and enforces regulations and minimum standards affecting the manufacture, operation, and maintenance of aircraft. It also certifies airmen and airports that serve air carriers.

http://www.faa.gov/about/safety\_efficiency

Test and Evaluation

The FAA tests and evaluates specified items such as aviation systems, subsystems, equipment, devices, materials, concepts, or procedures at any phase in the cycle of their development from conception to acceptance, to implementation. At key decision points, it also carries out assigned independent testing.

Other Programs

The FAA administers the Aviation Insurance Program, which provides insurance products to cover U.S. domestic air transportation industry needs that are not adequately met by the commercial insurance market. The Administration develops specifications for the preparation of aeronautical charts. It also publishes current information on airways and airport service; issues technical publications for the improvement of in-flight safety, airport planning and design, and other aeronautical activities; and serves as the executive administration for the operation and maintenance of the DOT automated payroll and personnel systems.

http://www.faa.gov/about/office\_org/headquarters\_offices/apl/aviation\_insurancehttp://www.faa.gov/air\_traffic/flight\_info/aeronav

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The FAA website features an alphabetical index to help visitors browse its content or search for information.

https://www.faa.gov/quick\_reference

Aircraft Registry

The FAA maintains a registry that allows users to search aircraft registration information online.

https://www.faa.gov/licenses\_certificates/aircraft\_certification/aircraft\_registry

Airlines

The Air Traffic Control System Command Center website features a list of links for the Web sites of airlines.

http://www.fly.faa.gov/FAQ/Airline\_Links/airline\_links.jsp

Airmen Certification

The FAA posts answers to frequently asked questions dealing with airmen certification on its website.

https://www.faa.gov/licenses\_certificates/airmen\_certification/airmen\_FAQ

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FAA records have been assigned to record group 237.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/237.html>

Business Opportunities

Registration with the System for Award Management is required for doing business with the FAA.

<https://sam.gov/content/home>

The Small Business Office administers programs that assist small businesses, small businesses that are owned and controlled by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals, women-owned small businesses, and service-disabled veteran-owned small businesses, with FAA procurement opportunities.

<https://sbo.faa.gov/Home.cfm>

Career Opportunities

The FAA offers civil aviation career opportunities in air traffic control, acquisition, contracts, engineering, information technology, safety and security, and other fields.

https://www.faa.gov/jobs/career\_fields

In 2020, the FAA ranked 119th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/TD03>

Contact the FAA

Information for finding the appropriate point of contact or reporting an issue to the FAA is available on the "Contact" web page.

<https://www.faa.gov/contact>

Contact information for field and regional offices is available on the "National Engagement and Regional Administration" web page.

https://www.faa.gov/about/office\_org/headquarters\_offices/arc/

Data / Research

The FAA conducts research on commercial and general aviation. It posts information on how the research is carried out, the resulting data and statistics, and grant data and funding information.

https://www.faa.gov/data\_research

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FAA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-aviation-administration>

Flight Delays

The FAA's Air Traffic Control System Command Center provides status information, which is not flight specific, for general airport conditions nationwide.

<http://www.fly.faa.gov/flyfaa/usmap.jsp>

Flying With Pets

The "Flying With Pets" web page has information and relevant links for flying with a pet or service animal.

https://www.faa.gov/travelers/fly\_pets/

Email, personal digital assistants (PDAs), pagers, phones, and wireless devices can be used to monitor the real-time operating status of the Nation's largest airports and receive delay information from the FAA.

<https://www.fly.faa.gov/ais/jsp/ais.jsp>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine exemptions that are contained within the statute.

<https://www.faa.gov/foia>

FAA posts a lot of information on its website. Before making a formal FOIA request, search the records that are immediately available, particularly the contents of the FAA's electronic FOIA library. The desired information already may be accessible.

https://www.faa.gov/foia/electronic\_reading\_room

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FAA posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://faa.custhelp.com>

Glossary

The Air Traffic Control System Command Center maintains a glossary of air traffic control management acronyms and terms.

<http://www.fly.faa.gov/FAQ/Acronyms/acronyms.jsp>

International Travel

The "International Travel" web page has information and resources for those preparing to fly abroad.

https://www.faa.gov/travelers/international\_travel/

History

A timeline of aerospace history is available on the FAA website. The timeline starts on December 17, 1903, with Orville and Wilbur Wright's first self-propelled airplane flight.

<https://www.faa.gov/about/history/timeline>

Newsroom

The FAA posts factsheets, news items and updates, press releases, speeches, and testimonies on its website.

<https://www.faa.gov/newsroom>

NextGen

NextGen is a series of interlinked programs, portfolios, systems, policies, and procedures. It uses advanced technologies and capabilities for improving the operation of the National Airspace System.

<https://www.faa.gov/nextgen>

Report a Drone

Please report a drone that is being operated dangerously or used to commit a crime to local law enforcement first responders. Please report a drone that is being operated in a manner that flouts FAA rules to a local FAA flight standards district office. An unauthorized drone operator may be penalized or criminally charged.

https://www.faa.gov/uas/contact\_us/report\_uas\_sighting/

Social Media

The FAA has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/FAA>

The FAA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/faanews>

The FAA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/FAAnews>

Wildlife Strikes

Aircraft and wildlife in the United States collide on occasion. Wildlife strikes almost always involve birds; however, the FAA also has received reports of alligator, bat, coyote, deer, skunk, and turtle strikes. The most frequently struck birds are gulls, but ducks and geese cause more damage per strike. The FAA's National Wildlife Strike Database contains the information needed for telling the full story of collisions involving aircraft and animals.

<http://wildlife.faa.gov>

The wildlife strike reporting system helps the FAA collect the information used to build the National Wildlife Strike Database. An online form is available for submitting a strike report.

<https://wildlife.faa.gov/add>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2021.

Federal Highway Administration

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-0650

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov>

---

ADMINISTRATOR

Stephanie Pollack, Acting

---

---

Deputy Administrator

Stephanie Pollack

---

---

Executive Director

Thomas D. Everett

---

<https://fhwaapps.fhwa.dot.gov/foisp/hqphone.do>

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2021.

The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) was established as an agency of the Department of Transportation by the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 104). Title 23 of the United States Code and other supporting legislation authorize the Administration's various activities.

The FHWA improves mobility on our Nation's highways through national leadership, innovation, and program delivery. The Administration works with Federal, State, and local agencies as well as with other stakeholders and partners to maintain and improve the National Highway System, which includes the Interstate System and other roads of importance for national defense and mobility. The FHWA works to increase the National Highway System's safety and to minimize its traffic congestion. The FHWA ensures that America's roads and highways remain safe, technologically up-to-date, and environmentally friendly.

Through surface transportation programs, innovative and traditional financing mechanisms, and new types of pavement and operational technology, the FHWA helps people and goods move more efficiently throughout the Nation. The Administration also improves the efficiency of highway and road connections to other modes of transportation. The Federal-aid Highway Program's budget is primarily divided between Federal-aid funding and the Federal Lands Highway Program.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/about>

ACTIVITIES

---

Federal-aid Highway Program

The Federal-Aid Highway Program supports State highway systems, providing financial assistance for the construction, maintenance and operations of the Nation's 3.9 million-mile highway network, which includes the Interstate Highway System, primary highways, and secondary local roads. The FHWA implements the Federal-aid Highway Program in cooperation with State and local governments.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/federal-aidessentials/federalaid.cfm>

Federal Lands Highway Program

The Office of Federal Lands Highway promotes effective, efficient, and reliable administration for a coordinated program of Federal public roads and bridges; protects and enhances the Nation's natural resources; and gives transportation access to Native Americans. The Office provides financial resources and engineering assistance for public roads that meet the transportation needs of Federal and Indian lands. These services are provided in all 50 States, Puerto Rico, U.S. Territories, and the District of Columbia through the Office's Headquarters and its eastern, central, and western Federal Lands Highway division offices.

<http://flh.fhwa.dot.gov/about>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

All-American Roads / National Scenic Byways

America's Byways—which include the National Scenic Byways and All-American Roads—is an umbrella term referring to the collection of 150 roads that the Secretary of Transportation selects for inclusion based on distinctiveness and diverseness.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/byways>

Business Opportunities

FHWA programs generate a large number of contracting and procurement opportunities.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/about/business.cfm>

The Office of Acquisition and Grants Management manages most FHWA contracting opportunities. Phone, 202-366-4232.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/aaa>

Career Opportunities

The FHWA operates offices throughout the country and hires professionals with expertise in a variety of fields to carry out its mission.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/careers>

The FHWA consistently ranks high among agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/TD04>

Core Topics

The "Core Highway Topics" Web page features a topical, alphabetical list. The topics are categorized according to nine headings: environment, Federal and Indian lands, highway funding, international, research and technologies, road operations and congestion, roads and bridges, road users, and safety.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/resources/topics>

Environment

The "Air Quality and Climate Change Highlights" newsletter is available on the FHWA Web site.

<https://www.fhwa.dot.gov/environment/sustainability/newsletter/index.cfm>

Federal-Aid Essentials

Federal-aid Essentials offers an online library of informational videos and resources for local public agencies. Each video addresses a single topic and condenses the complex regulations and requirements of the Federal-aid Highway Program into basic concepts and illustrated examples.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/federal-aidessentials>

Field and Division Offices

The FHWA comprises a headquarters office in Washington, DC; a Federal-aid division office in each State, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia; four metropolitan offices—Chicago, Los Angeles, New York City, Philadelphia—that serve as extensions of the corresponding Federal-aid division offices; and three Federal Lands Highway division offices.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/about/field.cfm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes a presumption that records in the possession of agencies and departments of the Federal Government's executive branch are available to the public. The statute sets standards for determining when Government records must be made available and which records may be withheld. It also gives information seekers specific legal rights and provides administrative and judicial remedies when access is denied. Most importantly, the FOIA requires that Federal agencies provide, to the fullest extent possible, access to and disclosure of information pertaining to the Government's business.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/foia>

The FHWA maintains an electronic FOIA reading room. It contains records that are often requested under the statute.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/foia/err.cfm>

Glossary

The FHWA Web site features a glossary of transportation planning terms and acronyms.

<https://www.fhwa.dot.gov/planning/glossary>

History

The FHWA Web site features a general highway history.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/infrastructure/history.cfm>

Infrastructure

The FHWA's Web site offers a trove of information on the following infrastructure topics: asset management, bridges and structures, construction, design, Federal-aid Program administration, Federal-aid programs and special funding, geotechnical, hydraulics, pavement, preservation, and transportation performance management.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/infrastructure>

Libraries

The FHWA research library is located in the Turner-Fairbank Highway Research Center in McLean, VA. It is open on weekdays, excluding Federal holidays, 7:30–4 p.m. Phone, 202-493-3172. Fax, 202-493-3495.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/research/library/> | Email: fhwalibrary@dot.gov

Each FHWA office maintains accessibility information that relates to its own program. The accessibility resource library supports the effort to organize information relating to the Americans with Disabilities Act and other accessibility resources that may affect FHWA projects.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/accessibility>

Newsroom

The FHWA posts press releases, as well as photos and videos, speeches and testimony, on its Web site and YouTube channel.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/briefingroom>

Resource Center / Technical Service Teams

The FHWA's technical service teams are organized into 12 activity areas: air quality, civil rights, construction and program management, environment and realty, finance services, geotechnical, hydraulics, operations, pavement and materials, planning, safety and design, and structures. Contact information for these teams and information on their activities, products, and services are available online in the Resource Center.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/resourcecenter/index.cfm>

Social Media

The FHWA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USDOTFHWA>

The FHWA maintains a page on Facebook.

<https://www.facebook.com/FederalHighwayAdmin>

The FHWA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/USDOTFHWA>

Staff Directories

The headquarters organizational directory, key field personnel directory, and Washington headquarters fax numbers are available on the FHWA's Web site.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/about/staff.cfm>

Sustainability

The FHWA provides technical assistance to local, regional, and State transportation agencies to help them enhance sustainability, improve resilience, and reduce energy use and emissions on the Nation's highway system.

<https://www.fhwa.dot.gov/environment/sustainability/index.cfm>

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/contact>

For further information, contact the Federal Highway Administration, Office of Public Affairs, 1200 New Jersey Avenue, SE., Washington, DC 20590. Phone, 202-366-0660.

Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-2519

<http://www.fmcsa.dot.gov>

---

|               |           |
|---------------|-----------|
| ADMINISTRATOR | (vacancy) |
|---------------|-----------|

---

|                      |             |
|----------------------|-------------|
| Deputy Administrator | Meera Joshi |
|----------------------|-------------|

---

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/mission/leadership>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2021.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) was established within the Department of Transportation on January 1, 2000, pursuant to the Motor Carrier Safety Improvement Act of 1999 (113 Stat. 1750).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-113/pdf/STATUTE-113-Pg1748.pdf>

Statutory material that affects the organization of the FMCSA has been codified in the United States Code (U.S.C.) and assigned to 49 U.S.C. 113.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title49-section113&num=0&edition=prelim>

ACTIVITIES

---

Formerly a part of the Federal Highway Administration, the FMCSA reduces commercial motor vehicle-related fatalities and injuries. Administration activities increase the safety of motor carrier operations by enforcing safety regulations—targeting high-risk commercial drivers and carriers; improving safety information systems and commercial motor vehicle technologies; strengthening equipment and operating standards; and increasing safety awareness. When carrying out these activities, the Administration works with representatives of the motor carrier industry, labor safety interest groups, and Federal, State, and local enforcement agencies.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/mission/about-us>

Commercial Licensing

The FMCSA develops standards to test and license commercial motor vehicle drivers.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/registration/commercial-drivers-license>

Data / Analysis

The FMCSA collects and disseminates data on motor carrier safety and directs resources to improve motor carrier safety.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/data-and-statistics/motor-carrier-safety-progress-reports>

Regulatory Compliance / Enforcement

The FMCSA operates a program to improve safety performance and remove high-risk carriers from the Nation's highways.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/regulations>

Research / Technology

The FMCSA coordinates research and development to improve the safety of motor carrier operations and commercial motor vehicles and drivers.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/research-and-analysis/active-research-projects>

Safety Assistance

The FMCSA provides States with financial assistance for roadside inspections and other commercial motor vehicle safety programs.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety>

Other Activities

The FMCSA supports the development of unified motor carrier safety requirements and procedures throughout North America. It participates in international technical organizations and committees to help share best-practices in motor carrier safety worldwide. It enforces regulations ensuring safe highway transportation of hazardous materials and maintains a task force for identifying and investigating household goods carriers that exhibit an unmistakable pattern of consumer abuse.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FMCSA records have been assigned to record group 557. That record group, however, does not have a description that is associated with it.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/000.html>

Bicyclists / Pedestrians

Bicyclists and pedestrians share roads with large trucks and buses. The FMCSA website has resources that address safety issues affecting riders, walkers, and drivers.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/resources-bicyclists-and-pedestrians>

Career Opportunities

The FMCSA posts job announcements on the USAJobs website. Application tips, information for students and recent graduates, and reasons for pursuing a career at the FMCSA are available on its website. Phone, 800-832-5660.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/careers>

In 2020, the FMCSA ranked 138th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD17>

Certified Medical Examiners

Inclusion in the National Registry of Certified Medical Examiners is limited to medical professionals who complete training and pass an exam on the FMCSA's physical qualification standards.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/regulations/national-registry/national-registry-certified-medical-examiners>

Commercial Carriers

The FMCSA website has resources to help carrier companies with registration and safety and regulatory matters.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/resources-for-carrier-companies>

The FMCSA website has resources—regulatory information and safety publications—to make complying with regulations easier for passenger carriers and to help them operate more safely.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/passenger-safety/passenger-carrier-safety-information>

Commercial Drivers

The FMCSA website has resources for drivers who want to increase safety and who may need help them with the registration and licensing processes.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/resources-for-drivers>

Company Safety Records

The FMCSA maintains websites that provide convenient access to safety-related information. To perform a search, a user must know a company's name, USDOT number, or motor carrier number.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/company-safety-records>

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page has a table that contains email addresses, phone numbers, and web forms.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/contact-us>

Data / Statistics

The annual "Pocket Guide to Large Truck and Bus Statistics" highlights the FMCSA's role in collecting and analyzing data on large trucks and buses. The pocket guide is a compilation of statistics from the overall state of the industry to enforcement activity, details on traffic violations and other incidents, the costs of crashes, and more.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/data-and-statistics/commercial-motor-vehicle-facts>

The Analysis Division compiles the information used for "Large Truck and Bus Crash Facts," an annual report containing descriptive statistics on fatal, injurious, and property-damage-only crashes involving large trucks and buses.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/data-and-statistics/large-truck-and-bus-crash-facts>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FMCSA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-motor-carrier-safety-administration>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FMCSA supports efforts to create a more open and transparent Federal Government. Accordingly, it conscientiously carries out the requirements of the FOIA. The FMCSA ensures that nonexempt documents or records are accessible to anyone who properly files a FOIA request. Phone, 202-366-2960. Fax, 202-385-2335.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/foia> | Email: foia@fmcsa.dot.gov

The FMCSA's electronic reading room contains frequently requested records, as well as final opinions and orders, policy statements, and staff manuals.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/foia/foia-electronic-reading-room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FMCSA posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/faq>

Grants

State and local government agencies in the 50 States and the District of Columbia, as well as in American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Northern Mariana and the U.S. Virgin Islands may apply for safety grant funding.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/mission/grants>

Look Before You Book

The FMCSA website has resources for those making travel plans and for those looking to charter a bus for a sporting event, field trip, or other group activity. Safety tips and information, software applications (apps) to research bus operators, and information on reporting safety violations are available on the "Look Before You Book" web pages.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/passenger-safety/bus-passengers-look-you-book>

Bus travel safety kits for seniors, students, and those traveling to faith-based events are available on "Look Before You Book."

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/look-you-book/consumer-safety-resources>

Newsroom

The FMCSA posts events, news releases, speeches, and testimony on its website.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/newsroom>

Protect Your Move

The "Protect Your Move" web pages have a trove of information on and resources for planning a move, selecting a mover, and filing a moving fraud complaint.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/protect-your-move>

Safety Violations

Safety, service, or discrimination issues involving a bus or truck or moving company or a cargo tank facility? If so, file a complaint on the National Consumer Complaint Database website or by phone on weekdays, 8 a.m.–8 p.m., eastern time. Phone, 888-368-7238.

<https://nccdb.fmcsa.dot.gov/nccdb/home.aspx>

Service Centers / Field Offices

Contact information for service centers and field offices is available on the FMCSA website. Phone, 800-832-5660.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/mission/field-offices>

Social Media

The FMCSA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/fmcsa>

The FMCSA has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/FMCSA>

USDOT Numbers

The FMCSA website features an interactive tool that can determine whether or not a commercial vehicle requires a USDOT number.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/registration/do-i-need-usdot-number>

Veterans

The FMCSA helps veterans find employment in the motor carrier industry. Several provisions in the Fixing America's Surface Transportation (FAST) Act support this effort.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/fastact/veteran-drivers>

The above Sources of Information were updated 9–2021.

Federal Railroad Administration

1200 New Jersey Avenue, SE., West Building, Washington, DC 20590

202-493-6014

<http://www.fra.dot.gov>

---

|               |           |
|---------------|-----------|
| ADMINISTRATOR | (vacancy) |
|---------------|-----------|

---

|                      |           |
|----------------------|-----------|
| Deputy Administrator | Amit Bose |
|----------------------|-----------|

---

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/organization/vacant-administrator>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2021.

---

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) was created pursuant to section 3(e)(1) of the Department of Transportation Act of 1966 (49 U.S.C. 103).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-80/pdf/STATUTE-80-Pg931.pdf>

The FRA posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) on its website for viewing and downloading.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/organization/organization-chart>

ACTIVITIES

---

The Administration promulgates and enforces rail safety regulations, administers railroad financial assistance programs, conducts research and development to improve railroad safety and national rail transportation policy, provides for the rehabilitation of Northeast Corridor rail passenger service, and consolidates Government support of rail transportation activities.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/about-fra>

Passenger and Freight Services

The FRA's passenger rail activities include administering Federal grants and loans to Amtrak, Alaska Railroad, and high-speed rail; supporting the Secretary of Transportation in his or her role as a member of Amtrak's board of directors; providing guidance and analysis of intercity passenger rail services and high-speed rail.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/rail-network-development/passenger-rail/passenger-rail>

Its freight rail activities include supporting current freight rail market share and growth and developing strategies to attract 50 percent of all shipments 500 miles or more to intermodal rail. The Administration's Office of Railroad Policy and Development implements programs that provide financial support, research and development, and analysis and guidance for the freight rail industry and its stakeholders.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/rail-network-development/freight-rail-overview>

Railroad Safety

The Administration administers and enforces the Federal laws and regulations that promote railroad safety, and it exercises jurisdiction over all areas of rail safety under the Rail Safety Act of 1970—track maintenance, inspection standards, equipment standards, operating practices. Railroad and related industry equipment, facilities, and records are inspected and required reports are reviewed. The Administration also educates the public about safety at highway rail grade crossings and the danger of trespassing on rail property.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/railroad-safety>

Research / Development

The FRA's research and development program relies on basic and applied research and on the development of innovations and solutions to ensure the efficient, reliable, and safe movement of people and goods. Safety is the principal driver of the research and development program.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/research-development/research-development-and-technology>

Transportation Test Center

The Administration tests and evaluates conventional and advanced railroad systems and components at the Transportation Test Center, Inc. Private sector companies and the Governments of Canada, Japan, and the United States use the facility to study the operation of conventional and advanced systems under controlled conditions. Amtrak tests new high-speed locomotives and trains at the Center, and the Federal Transit Administration uses it for testing urban rapid transit vehicles.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/program-areas/testing-facilities-equipment/testing-facilities-equipment>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FRA records have been assigned to record group 399.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/399.html>

Business Opportunities

The "How To Do Business with the FRA" web page explains the steps of becoming eligible for doing business with the FRA and of identifying business opportunities that the FRA has to offer. The web page also has a database of small business vendors.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/resource-center/how-do-business-fra/how-do-business-fra>

Career Opportunities

The FRA relies heavily on railroad safety inspectors—hazardous materials, motive power and equipment, operating practices, signals and train control, and track inspectors—to carry out its mission. Safety inspectors inspect for compliance with Federal laws, regulations, rules, and standards; conduct accident investigations and report on their findings; and seek correction of unsafe conditions. They also testify as expert witnesses in civil suits. These jobs require skill in evaluation, factfinding, and report writing; comprehension and application of technical and regulatory standards; an ability to build rapport with individuals and organizations; and knowledge of methods used in installation, operation, and maintenance or manufacturing of railroad equipment and systems.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/resource-center/jobs/job-vacancies>

In 2020, the FRA ranked 206th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD05>

Contact Information

Email addresses and phone numbers are available on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/contact-us>

Electronic Library (eLibrary)

An eLibrary offers convenient access to all the documents that are posted on the FRA's public website.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/elibrary-search>

Environmental Reviews

The FRA posts a list of environmental projects that require the FRA to pursue an environmental assessment or environmental impact statement or both an assessment and a statement.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/rail-network-development/environment/environmental-reviews>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FRA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-railroad-administration>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Any person—U.S. citizens, foreign nationals, as well as those representing organizations, associations, and universities—can file a FOIA request. All FOIA requests must be submitted in writing and are processed in the Office of Chief Counsel at FRA headquarters in Washington, DC.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/freedom-information-act-foia> | Email: FRAFOIA@dot.gov

To comply with the Electronic Freedom of Information Act (E-FOIA) Amendments of 1996, agencies must make some categories of records available to the public on an ongoing basis.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/resource-center/freedom-information-act/electronic-reading-room>

Horn Noise

Noise from transportation systems, including rail operations, often has adverse environmental effects. The FRA posts answers to frequently asked questions on horn noise.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/environment/noise-vibration/horn-noise-faq>

Maps

The "Maps—Geographic Information System" web page has interactive safety and trespassers casualty maps.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/maps-and-data/maps-geographic-information-system/maps-geographic-information-system>

Media Relations

The Office of Communications handles media relations.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/communications/communications>

News

The FRA posts news items on its website.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/newsroom>

Railroad Crossings / Trespassing

FRA programs have helped to reduce the number of railroad crossing and trespassing fatalities by 60% over the last two decades. The Railroad Crossing Safety and Trespasser Prevention Division seeks to continue this trend. Information on and resources for railroad crossing safety and preventing trespassing along railroad rights-of-way are available online.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/highway-rail-crossing-and-trespasser-programs/railroad-crossing-safety-trespass>

Railroad Safety

The Office of Safety Analysis posts railroad safety information—data related to railroad accidents and incidents, including highway-rail grade crossing accidents, rail equipment accidents, and employee injuries and illnesses—on its website.

<https://safetydata.fra.dot.gov/OfficeofSafety/Default.aspx>

The FRA has a new safety data website.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/forms-guides-publications/guides/interacting-new-fra-safety-data-website>

The FRA monitors the occurrence of train accidents and incidents and investigates serious events to determine their cause and to assess compliance with safety laws and regulations. Detailed information on these investigations is available on the FRA's website.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/railroad-safety/accident-data-reporting-and-investigations>

Operation Lifesaver, Inc., is a nonprofit organization and a rail safety education leader.

<https://oli.org/about-us>

Research / Development

The Office of Research and Development is organized into four divisions and works in 10 program areas. An online table shows where the four divisions and 10 program areas intersect with the most frequent causes of railroad accidents and incidents.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/research-development/program-areas/program-areas>

Social Media

The FRA posts photographs and tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USDOTFRA>

The FRA has a Facebook page.

<https://www.facebook.com/USDOTFRA>

The FRA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/usdotfra>

The above Sources of Information were updated 9–2021.

Federal Transit Administration

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-4043

<http://www.fta.dot.gov>

|                      |                   |
|----------------------|-------------------|
| ADMINISTRATOR        | Nuria Fernandez   |
| Deputy Administrator | (vacancy)         |
| Executive Director   | Matthew J. Welbes |

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/officials/officials>

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2021.

[For the Federal Transit Administration statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 49, Part 601]

The Federal Transit Administration (FTA), formerly the Urban Mass Transportation Administration, was established as an operating administration of the U.S. Department of Transportation by section 1 of Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1968 (5 U.S.C. app. 1), effective July 1, 1968. The FTA helps America's communities by developing improved public transportation and providing financial assistance to State and local governments to finance public transportation systems and carry out national transit goals and policy.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about-fta>

PROGRAMS

---

Alternatives Analysis

The Alternatives Analysis program provides grants to help identify public transportation needs and the costs and benefits of various transportation strategies for a defined travel corridor. The results of these studies may be the selection of a locally preferred transportation alternative, which is the first step for developing viable projects for possible future funding under the New Starts and Small Starts program.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13094\_7395.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Capital Investment

The Capital Investment program helps finance the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, and improvement of facilities and equipment for public transportation service in urban areas. The Capital Investment program makes available three types of funds: fixed guideway modernization funds for rolling stock renewal, safety-related improvements, and signal and power modernization; new and small starts funds for construction of new fixed guideway systems or extensions to existing fixed guideway systems or corridor based rapid bus systems; and bus and bus facilities funds for the acquisition of buses and rolling stock, ancillary equipment, and the construction of bus facilities.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/12304.html>

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Clean Fuels Grants

The Clean Fuels Grants program helps nonattainment and maintenance areas achieve or maintain the National Ambient Air Quality Standards for ozone and carbon monoxide, and it supports emerging clean fuel and advanced propulsion technologies for transit buses and markets for those technologies. The program funds purchasing or leasing clean fuel buses, including buses that employ a lightweight composite primary structure and vans for use in revenue service; constructing or leasing clean fuel bus facilities, including electrical recharging facilities and related equipment; and projects involving clean fuel, biodiesel, hybrid electric, or zero emissions technology buses.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/cleanfuels>

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Elderly Persons and Persons With Disabilities

The Transportation for Elderly Persons and Persons With Disabilities program provides financial assistance to private nonprofit agencies for the transportation needs of elderly persons and persons with disabilities in places where public services are unavailable, insufficient, or inappropriate; to public bodies approved by the State to coordinate services for elderly persons or persons with disabilities; and to public bodies that certify to the Governor that no nonprofit corporation or association is readily available in an area to provide the service. Funds are allocated by formula to the States. Local organizations apply for funding through a designated State agency.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3556.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Job Access and Reverse Commuting

The Job Access and Reverse Commute program addresses the transportation challenges faced by welfare recipients and low-income persons seeking or maintaining employment. The program provides capital and planning and operating expenses for projects that transport low income individuals to and from jobs and employment-related activities and for projects that support reverse commuting. Many new entry level jobs are located in suburban areas: Low-income individuals have difficulty accessing these jobs from their inner city, urban, or rural neighborhoods. Many entry level-jobs also require working late or on weekends when conventional transit services are either reduced or nonexistent. Many employment related-trips also are complex, involving multiple destinations.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3550.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

New Freedom

The New Freedom formula grants program supports new public transportation services that surpass the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990. The program makes capital and operating funding available to private nonprofit organizations, State and local governmental authorities, and operators of public transportation services, including private operators of public transportation services. Eligible projects must benefit individuals with disabilities: Projects must assist them with transportation—including transportation to and from jobs and employment services—and remove barriers to transportation.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3549.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Nonurban Area Assistance

The Other Than Urbanized Areas formula grants program provides funding to States to support public transportation in rural areas—with populations under 50,000. The program enhances people's access in nonurbanized areas to health care, shopping, education, employment, public services, and recreation; assists in the maintenance, development, improvement, and use of public transportation systems in nonurbanized areas; encourages and facilitates the most efficient use of all transportation funds used to provide passenger transportation in nonurbanized areas through the coordination of programs and services; helps develop and support intercity bus transportation; and promotes the participation of private transportation providers in nonurbanized transportation.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3555.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Planning

The Office of Planning and Environment supports the development of information that Federal, State, and local officials use to make transportation investment decisions. With FHWA partners, the Office co-administers a national planning program that provides funding, guidance, oversight, and technical support to State and local transportation agencies. The FTA's 10 region offices and FHWA's 52 division offices work to convey the program to State and local governments and other transportation agencies.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/about/12347.html>

For further information, call the Office of Planning and Environment. Phone, 202-366-4033.

Research and Technology

The FTA conducts research, development, demonstration, deployment, and evaluation projects to improve public transportation services. The FTA administers the Bus Testing, International Public Transportation, National Research and Technology, and Transit Cooperative Research Programs. Through the Transit Investments for Greenhouse Gas and Energy Reduction (TIGGER) program, the Administration works with public transportation agencies to implement new strategies for lowering greenhouse gas emissions and to reduce energy use within transit operations. The FTA has five priority research areas: bicycles and transit, bus rapid transit, environmental sustainability, livable and sustainable communities, and state of good repair.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/research-innovation>

For further information, call the Office of Research, Demonstration and Innovation. Phone, 202-366-4052.

Rural Transit Assistance

The Rural Transit Assistance Program provides a funding source to help design and implement training and technical assistance projects and other support services tailored to meet the needs of transit operators in nonurbanized areas. States, local governments, and providers of rural transit services can receive program funds. States may use the funds to support nonurbanized transit activities in four areas: training, technical assistance, research, and related support services.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3554.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Safety

The Office of Transit Safety and Oversight administers a national safety program and oversees compliance with it. Based on FTA legislative, policy, and regulatory requirements, the program helps further the nationwide provision of transit service that is equitable, reliable, and safe.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/tso.html>

For further information, call the Office of Transit Safety and Oversight. Phone, 202-366-1783.

Training and Technical Assistance

The Administration funds the National Transit Institute at Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey. Working with the Institute, the FTA develops and offers training courses on transit operations, planning, workforce performance, and productivity. Institute courses are offered at locations nationwide on a variety of subjects. Current course offerings are posted online.

<http://www.ntionline.com/courses/list.php>

For further information, call the Office of Research, Demonstration and Innovation. Phone, 202-366-4052.

Transit in Parks

The Paul S. Sarbanes Transit in Parks Program provides funding for alternative transportation projects in and around National Parks and other Federal recreation areas. Alternative transportation includes bicycle, ferry, pedestrian trail, shuttle bus, and other forms of public or nonmotorized transportation. These projects reduce congestion, protect sensitive natural and cultural treasures, and enhance visitor experience. Funding is awarded through a competitive process to units of Federal land management agencies and to State, local and tribal government agencies.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/transitinparks>

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Procurement-related information and resources are available on the FTA Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/funding/procurement/procurement>

Career Opportunities

FTA fills vacancies in its Washington, DC, headquarters and regional offices. The FTA relies on attorneys, congressional relations specialists, engineers, environmental specialists, planners, program management specialists, research program specialists, and other professionals to carry out its mission.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/jobs/jobs>

In 2016, the FTA ranked 228th among 305 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/TD09>

Environmental Justice

The FTA posts answers to questions related to environmental justice on its Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/regulations-and-guidance/environmental-programs/environmental-justice/environmental-justice-faqs>

Events

The FTA has a calendar of events on its Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/events>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA grants public access to the content of certain records that are held by the offices, agencies, corporations, administrations, commissions, boards, and services of the Federal Government's executive branch. Some records that contain sensitive commercial, governmental, and personal information are protected from disclosure.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/foia/foia-requests> | Email: FTA.FOIA@dot.gov

The FTA maintains an electronic reading room. Before submitting a FOIA request, information seekers should search for the desired document or record in the reading room to determine whether it is accessible immediately, without charge.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/foia/foia-electronic-reading-room>

Glossary

The FTA maintains a National Transit Database glossary on its Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/ntd/national-transit-database-ntd-glossary>

Grants

The FTA provides grants to local public transit systems. It invests billions of dollars each year to support and to expand public transit services. It provides annual formula grants to transit agencies nationwide, as well as discretionary funding in competitive processes.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/funding/grants/grant-programs>

History

A brief history of mass transit is available on the FTA Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/brief-history-mass-transit>

National Transit Database

U.S. transit ridership has grown by more than 20 percent in the last decade. To keep track of the industry and provide public information and statistics as growth continues, the National Transit Database records the asset, financial, and operating conditions of transit systems. Phone, 888-252-0936.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/ntd> | Email: NTDhelp@dot.gov

News

The FTA posts news releases on its Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/news>

Regional Offices

Contact information for the 10 regional offices is available on the FTA's Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/regional-offices/regional-offices>

Research / Innovation

Research projects assess new operational processes, expand public-private partnerships, fund demonstration grants for low or no emissions buses, improve traveler experiences, and test systems that monitor safety. Research and innovation reports and publications are available on the FTA Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/research-innovation/research-innovation-reports-and-publications>

Social Media

The FTA maintains a channel on YouTube, as well as accounts on Facebook, LinkedIn, and Twitter.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/news/social-media>

Updates

A subscription form is available on the FTA Web site to sign up for email updates.

<https://public.govdelivery.com/accounts/USDOTFTA/subscriber/new>

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/newsroom/13006.html>

For further information, contact the Federal Transit Administration, Office of Communications and Congressional Affairs, 1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590. Phone, 202-366-4043.

Great Lakes Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation

55 M Street SE., Suite 930, Washington, DC 20003.

202-366-0091

202-366-7147

<http://www.seaway.dot.gov>

Departmental Postal Address: Great Lakes Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation, 1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590.

Email: sldc@dot.gov

Postal and Physical Address: Great Lakes Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation—Operations, 180 Andrews Street, Massena, NY 13662

315-764-3200

315-764-3235

POLICY HEADQUARTERS—WASHINGTON, DC

---

|               |           |
|---------------|-----------|
| ADMINISTRATOR | (vacancy) |
|---------------|-----------|

|                      |                      |
|----------------------|----------------------|
| Deputy Administrator | Craig H. Middlebrook |
|----------------------|----------------------|

OPERATIONAL HEADQUARTERS—MASSENA, NY

---

|  |            |
|--|------------|
| Associate Administrator, Seaway Operations | Gary Croot |
|--|------------|

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/about/meet-our-team>

The above list of key personnel was updated 03–2021.

The Great Lakes Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation (GLSLSDC) was established by the Saint Lawrence Seaway Act of May 13, 1954 (33 U.S.C. 981-990) and became an operating administration of the DOT in 1966.

The GLSLSDC, working jointly with the Saint Lawrence Seaway Management Corporation (SLSMC) of Canada, operates and maintains a safe, reliable, and efficient deep draft waterway between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Ocean. It ensures the safe transit of commercial and noncommercial vessels through the two U.S. locks and the navigation channels of the Saint Lawrence Seaway System and engages in economic and trade development activities to stimulate trade and employment in the eight States of the Great Lakes region. The GLSLSDC and SLSMC work together on all matters related to rules and regulations, overall operations, vessel inspections, traffic control, navigation aids, safety, operating dates, and trade development programs.

The Great Lakes-Saint Lawrence Seaway System extends from the Atlantic Ocean to the Lake Superior ports of Duluth and Superior, a distance of 2,342 miles. The Corporation's main customers are vessel owners and operators, Midwest States and Canadian Provinces, Great Lakes port communities, shippers and receivers of domestic and international cargo, and the maritime and related service industries of the Great Lakes and Saint Lawrence Seaway systems.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/about/what-does-slsdc-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

The GLSLSDC relies on professionals with expertise in administration, engineering, information technology, management, marine operations, public policy, and other fields.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/about/careers-slsdc>

Contact Information

Information for contacting the GLSLSDC by email, postal mail, and phone is posted online.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/about/contact-us>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Any person has the right to a copy of certain records possessed by the Government's executive administrations, agencies, boards, commissions, corporations, offices, and services. Some records, however, are protected from disclosure.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/electronic-reading-room>

Grants

The GLSLSDC has an easy-to-use Federal grants toolkit that offers a snapshot of the essential information, resources, and tools needed to identify Federal agencies and processes offering financial assistance to maritime stakeholders seeking to carry out environmental, infrastructural, intermodal, and other development projects.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/slsdc-federal-grants-toolkit>

Map

An interactive map of vessels transiting the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway System is available online.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/explore/interactive-shipping-map-and-shipping-schedule>

News

The SLSDC's quarterly newsletter "Seaway Compass" is available online. It features current information and recent news on the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway System.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/seaway-compass>

Publications

The "Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway System Directory" is a comprehensive publication on the ports and shipping-related businesses that are critical throughout the region and beyond. It features extensive photography and serves as an excellent resource for readers who are interested in the Great Lakes Seaway maritime industry.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/seaway-system-directory>

The GLSLSDC's marketing brochure offers comprehensive information on the waterway and its significance to the Great Lakes region. It is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/slsdc-marketing-brochure>

Reports

The GLSLSDC posts annual reports on its website.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/annual-reports>

The GLSLSDC posts Asset Renewal Program reports on its website.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/asset-renewal-program-reports>

Social Media

The GLSLSDC maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/USDOTSLSDC>

Studies

The "Environmental and Social Impacts of Marine Transport in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway Region" study provides marine stakeholders, transportation planners, and government policymakers with an assessment of the potential environmental and social consequences that could occur if cargo carried by marine vessels on the Seaway navigation system shifted to rail and road modes of transport.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/social-impact-study>

Visitors' Center

The Seaway Visitors' Center at the Eisenhower Lock provides tourists and ship watchers with an observation deck where they can view commercial vessels and cruise ships transiting the lock. Each year, hundreds of ships from all over the globe make thousands of transits through the St. Lawrence Seaway. They carry a wide variety of cargoes: coal, grains, iron ore, steel, steel slabs, stone, and more.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/explore/visitors-center>

The Sources of Information were updated 3–2021.

Maritime Administration

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-5807

800-996-2723

<http://www.marad.dot.gov>

---

ADMINISTRATOR

Lucinda Lessley, Acting

---

Deputy Administrator

Lucinda Lessley

---

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us/office-administrator/key-personnel>

The above list of key personnel was updated 11–2021.

MARAD develops and promotes the U.S. merchant marine and its operations and oversees emergency merchant ship operations.

ESTABLISHMENT

The Maritime Administration (MARAD) was established by Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950 (5 U.S.C. app.). The Maritime Act of 1981 (46 U.S.C. 1601) transferred the Maritime Administration to the DOT.

MARAD manages programs that help develop and promote the U.S. merchant marine and its operations. It also organizes and directs emergency merchant ship operations.

ACTIVITIES

MARAD serves as the DOT's waterborne transportation agency. Its programs promote waterborne transportation use, the seamless integration of waterborne transportation with other parts of the transportation system, and U.S. merchant marine viability. The Administration's activities involve ships and shipping, shipbuilding, port operations, vessel operations, national security, safety, and the environment. It also maintains the health of the merchant marine—commercial mariners, vessels, and intermodal facilities contribute significantly to national security. The Administration, therefore, supports current mariners, helps educate future mariners, and informs Americans about the maritime industry and how it benefits them. Recently, the Administration realigned its functions to be more effective as an industry promoter and to focus more attention on the environment and safety.

MARAD administers the Maritime Security Program, which maintains a core fleet of U.S.-flag, privately-owned ships that operate in international commerce. Under agreement, these ships are available to provide needed capacity, during war and national emergencies, to meet Department of Defense requirements.

It also administers the Ready Reserve Force program to facilitate deployment of U.S. military forces—rapidly and worldwide. The Force primarily supports transport of Army and Marine Corps unit equipment and combat support equipment. The Force also supports initial resupply during the critical surge period before commercial ships become available. The program provides nearly one-half of the Government-owned surge sealift capability.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that MARAD records have been assigned to record group 357.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/357.html>

Business Opportunities

To learn about doing business with MARAD, visit its "Business Services and Products" web page.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us/marad-business-services-products>

Career Opportunities

The "Mariners" web page has information on becoming a mariner and mariner opportunities.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/outreach/mariners>

The six maritime academies and U.S. Merchant Marine Academy educate students for service as officers in the U.S. Merchant Marine, U.S. Armed Forces, and Nation's intermodal transportation system.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/education/maritime-academies/maritime-academies> | Email: careersafloat@dot.gov

In 2020, MARAD ranked 228th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD13>

Contact Information

MARAD posts contact information on its "Maritime Contact Information" web page.

<https://cms.marad.dot.gov/about-us/maritime-contact-information>

Data / Statistics

The "Data and Reports" web pages contain data that are organized into four broad categories: historical datasets, U.S.–international trade, U.S. vessel movements and port calls, and vessel fleet lists. The Office of Policy and Plans publishes statistical and economic analyses and reports on a variety of maritime transportation topics.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/data-reports> | Email: data.marad@dot.gov

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that MARAD recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/maritime-administration>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The Act gives a right for accessing Federal agency records to any person, except a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure could cause. The Electronic Freedom of Information Act Amendments of 1996 require Federal agencies to use electronic information technology to expand access to and availability of FOIA documents. MARAD posts contact information for its FOIA officer and FOIA public liaison on its "Freedom of Information Act Contacts" web page.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us/foia/freedom-information-act-contacts> | Email: FOIA.Marad@dot.gov

The agency maintains an online document library. Before submitting a FOIA request, browse its electronic reading room or search for the desired information to determine if it is accessible, immediately and free of charge, without submitting a formal FOIA request.

<https://www.marad.dot.gov/about-us/foia/electronic-reading-room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

MARAD posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.marad.dot.gov/about-us/frequently-asked-questions>

Glossary

The "Glossary of Shipping Terms—2008" contains abbreviations, acronyms, initialisms, and words that its compilers selected from the rich vocabulary of the shipping business.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/sites/marad.dot.gov/files/docs/resources/3686/glossaryfinal.pdf>

History

The MARAD vessel history database has information on vessels that have been or remain part of the National Defense Reserve Fleet and other vessels that were at one time owned, operated, or in the custody of MARAD or one of its predecessor agencies. Each database entry includes one or more images of vessel status cards—paper index cards that tell the story of a ship's career in Government service—and additional information when it is available.

<https://vesselhistory.marad.dot.gov/ShipHistory/ShipList?pageNumber=1&matchFromStart=True> | Email: marad.history@dot.gov

Maps

A map of MARAD gateway offices is available on the "Gateway Offices" web page.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us/gateway-offices/gateway-offices>

MARAD maintains a deepwater port location and status map online. The "Deepwater Ports Map" web page has links to information on applications that are under review, that have been approved or disapproved, and that have been withdrawn.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/ports/deepwater-ports-and-licensing/deepwater-ports-map>

Marine Environment

In a three-page special report "Marine Environment—Protecting the World's Waters," Carolyn E. Junemann and Koichi Yoshida discuss the following topics: anti-fouling systems, cooperation with the International Maritime Organization, oil booms, port waste, and underwater sound.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/sites/marad.dot.gov/files/docs/environment-security-safety/office-environment/606/isofocus12-04-ensr-marineenvironment.pdf>

Marine Highway Routes

The Marine Highway system comprises 25 marine highway routes serving as extensions of the surface transportation system.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/sites/marad.dot.gov/files/docs/grants-finances/marine-highways/3061/marine-highway-route-descriptions-8-14-2019.pdf>

Maritime Advisory System

U.S. maritime alerts provide basic information—date and time, incident type, location—on reported maritime security threats to U.S. maritime industry interests. In some situations, an alert may be issued to refute unsubstantiated claims. To be added to the electronic distribution list for U.S. maritime alerts and advisories, email the request to MARAD security.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/office-security/msci-portal/maritime-security-communications-industry-msci-web-portal> | Email: MaradSecurity@dot.gov

Newsroom

Congressional testimonies, news items, and speeches are available online.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/newsroom>

Ship Disposal

MARAD's website has information on four methods for disposing of a ship: artificial reefing, domestic recycling, ship donations, and naval sink at sea live-fire training exercises (SINKEX).

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/national-defense-reserve-fleet/ship-disposal-program/ship-disposal-program>

Social Media

MARAD has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/DOTMARAD>

MARAD tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/DOTMARAD>

Video Archives

A video archives is available on MARAD's website.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/outreach/maritime-administration-video-archives>

Virtual Ship Tours

Virtual tours inside cargo and crew spaces and engine rooms are part of MARAD's website.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/history/artifact-program/exhibits>

A virtual tour of the NS Savannah, the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, which was launched in 1959 as part of the Atoms for Peace Program, is available online.

<https://maritime.org/tour/savannah>

The Sources of Information were updated 11–2021.

National Highway Traffic Safety Administration

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-9550

888-327-4236

<http://www.nhtsa.gov>

|                      |                      |
|----------------------|----------------------|
| ADMINISTRATOR        | Steven Cliff, Acting |
| Deputy Administrator | (vacancy)            |
| Executive Director   | Jack Danielson       |

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/about-nhtsa/nhtsa-leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2021.

[For the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 49, Part 501]

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) was established by the Highway Safety Act of 1970 (23 U.S.C. 401 note) to reduce the number of deaths, injuries, and economic losses resulting from motor vehicle crashes on the Nation's highways.

The Administration administers motor vehicle and related equipment safety performance programs; co-administers the State and community highway safety program; regulates the Corporate Average Fuel Economy program; issues Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards (FMVSS) that prescribe safety features and levels of safety-related performance for vehicles and vehicular equipment; rates the safety of passenger vehicles in the New Car Assessment Program; monitors and participates in international vehicle safety forums to harmonize the FMVSS where appropriate; investigates and prosecutes odometer fraud; administers the National Driver Register Program; conducts studies and operates programs to reduce economic losses in motor vehicle crashes and repairs; performs studies, conducts demonstration projects, and issues regulations requiring manufacturers to provide motor vehicle consumer information; promotes programs to reduce impaired driving, to reduce risky driver behaviors, and to increase seat belt use; and issues theft prevention standards for passenger motor vehicles.

ACTIVITIES

Research and Program Development

The Administration helps develop motor vehicle and highway safety program standards. It analyzes data and researches, develops, tests, and evaluates motor vehicles, motor vehicle equipment, and advanced technologies, and it collects and analyzes crash data. NHTSA activities are broad in scope with respect to safety: The Administration encourages industry to adopt advanced motor vehicle safety designs, increases public awareness of safety issues, and provides a base for vehicle safety information.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Research>

Regional Operations and Program Delivery

The NHTSA administers State highway safety grant programs that the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users authorized. The Highway Safety formula grant program provides funds to States, Indian nations, and the territories each year to support safety programs, particularly in the following priority areas: data and traffic records, emergency medical services, impaired driving, motorcycle safety, occupant protection, pedestrian and bicycle safety, police traffic services, roadway safety, and speed control. Incentive grants are also used to encourage States to implement effective data improvement, impaired driving, motorcycle safety, and occupant protection programs.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/highway-safety-grants-program>

Rulemaking

The Administration issues FMVSS that prescribe safety features and levels of safety-related performance for vehicles and vehicular equipment. The Administration participates in the United Nations World Forum for the Harmonization of Vehicle Regulations (WP.29). It also oversees the New Car Assessment Program and the Government's Five Star Safety Rating Program, which evaluates the safety performance of light trucks, passenger cars, vans, and child seats (<https://www.nhtsa.gov/ratings>). These evaluations are highly publicized—star ratings must be visible on the price labels of new vehicles. The Administration also educates consumers on topics such as driving while distracted, as well as the proper use of vehicle safety features and child restraint seats. To promote fuel economy, it manages a program establishing and revising fleet average fuel economy standards for passenger car and light truck manufacturers (<https://www.nhtsa.gov/laws-regulations/corporate-average-fuel-economy>). The Administration also runs an antitheft program. Under this program the NHTSA issues rules requiring that certain passenger motor vehicles meet parts-marking requirements, and it calculates and publishes annual motor vehicle theft rates.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/laws-regulations>

Enforcement

The Administration's Office of Enforcement assures that all new vehicles sold in the U.S. meet applicable FMVSS. Under its compliance program, the Office conducts random tests and collects consumer complaints to identify and investigate problems with motor vehicles and vehicular equipment. If a vehicle or equipment suffers from a safety-related defect or does not meet all applicable FMVSS, the Office seeks a recall, which requires manufacturers to notify owners and to remedy the defect free of charge. The Office monitors recalls to ensure that owners are notified in a timely manner and that the scope of the recall and the remedy are adequate. The Office also assures that all motor vehicles subject to the Corporate Average Fuel Economy (CAFE) regulations meet their respective targets, and it enforces violations of Federal odometer fraud regulations by criminally prosecuting offenders.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/recalls>

National Center for Statistics and Analysis

The NHTSA maintains a collection of scientific and technical information on motor vehicle safety. It also operates the National Center for Statistics and Analysis, whose activities include the development and maintenance of national highway-crash data collection systems and related statistical and economic analyses. The public and the private sector and universities and Federal, State, and local agencies rely on these motor vehicle safety information resources for documentation.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/research-data/national-center-statistics-and-analysis-ncsa>

Communications and Consumer Information

The Office of Communications and Consumer Information develops, directs, and implements communication strategies based on NHTSA policy and programs, including campaigns to support high visibility enforcement efforts. It promotes safety messages for NHTSA vehicle-related issues. The Office also manages NHTSA Web sites and the toll-free Vehicle Safety Hotline. Information received from calls to the hotline forms the basis of investigations, which can lead to recalls if safety-related defects are identified.

<http://www.trafficsafetymarketing.gov/ciot>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Car Seats

A car seat glossary is available on the Parents Central Web site.

<http://www.safercar.gov/parents/CarSeats/Car-Seat-Glossary-of-Terms.htm?view=full>

The car seat finder is an online tool that uses date of birth, height, and weight to find a car seat type that properly fits a child.

<http://www.safercar.gov/cpsApp/crs/index.htm>

Career Opportunities

Information on job openings is available on the "Jobs at NHTSA" Web page.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Jobs>

In 2016, the NHTSA ranked 290th among 305 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/TD10>

Data

The NHTSA posts factsheets, reports, research notes, statistics, and studies on its Web site.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/research-data>

Driving Safety

The NHTSA Web site features a trove of safety information and resources. Disabled, older, and teen drivers, as well as motorcyclists and others can find Web pages dedicated to improving their driving habits and addressing their safety needs.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Driving-Safety>

Events

The NHTSA hosts meetings and forums to explore new approaches to highway safety. Information and materials from these event are available online.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/events>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The NHTSA is required to disclose records that are properly requested in writing by any person. A Government agency may withhold information pursuant to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions contained in the FOIA. The act applies only to Federal agencies and does not give a right of access to records held by Congress, the courts, State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/about-nhtsa/foia>

The NHTSA maintains an electronic reading room. Before submitting a FOIA request, an information seeker should search for the desired document or record in the reading room to determine whether it may be available immediately, without charge. The NHTSA also operates a service center for answering FOIA-related questions. Phone, 202-366-2870.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/about-nhtsa/electronic-reading-room>

News

The NHTSA posts press releases on its Web site.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/About-NHTSA/Press-Releases>

The NHTSA posts speeches, press events, and testimonies on its Web site.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/speeches-presentations>

Publications

The NHTSA disseminates information on traffic safety programs in "Traffic Techs." The publication, starting with the year 1995, is available online. Starting with the years 2005 and 2006, "Traffic Techs" becomes available in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/About-NHTSA/Traffic-Techs> | Email: TrafficTech@dot.gov

Recalls

The Recalls Spotlight monitors high-profile recalls and provides resources finding and addressing vehicle recalls.

<http://www.safercar.gov/rs/index.html>

The NHTSA's Web site features a search tool that allows the user to enter a vehicle's identification number (VIN) to learn whether it has been repaired as part of a safety recall in the last 15 years.

<http://www-odi.nhtsa.dot.gov/owners/SearchSafetyIssues>

Regional Offices

Contact information for the NHTSA's 10 regional offices is available on the "Regional Offices" Web page.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/nhtsa/whatis/regions>

Research

The Office of Vehicle Safety Research strategizes, plans, and implements research programs to reduce crashes, fatalities, and injuries. The NHTSA's Web site contains a trove of information related to these programs.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Research>

Resources for Parents

The Parents Central Web site features resources to help parents protect their children and educate them on car and road safety and becoming responsible drivers.

<http://www.safercar.gov/parents/index.htm>

Vehicle Safety

The NHTSA Web site features a trove of information on and resources for vehicle safety. Topics include defects and recalls, odometer fraud, theft protection, and tires.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Vehicle-Safety>

To report suspected safety defects in vehicles, vehicle equipment, and child restraint seats, call the Vehicle Safety Hotline. English- and Spanish-speaking representatives are available on weekdays, excluding Federal holidays. Phone, 888-327-4236. TTY, 800-424-9153.

<https://www-odi.nhtsa.dot.gov/VehicleComplaint>

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/about-nhtsa/contact-us>

For further information, contact the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Office of Communications and Consumer Information, 1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590. Phone, 202-366-9550.

Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-4433

<http://www.phmsa.dot.gov>

|                      |                    |
|----------------------|--------------------|
| ADMINISTRATOR        | (vacancy)          |
| Deputy Administrator | Tristan Brown      |
| Executive Director   | Howard W. McMillan |

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/about/key-officials>

The above list of key personnel was updated 11–2021.

The Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA) was established on February 20, 2005. It is responsible for hazardous materials transportation and pipeline safety.

HAZARDOUS MATERIALS

---

The Office of Hazardous Materials Safety develops and issues regulations for the safe and secure transportation of hazardous materials by all modes, except bulk transportation by water. The regulations cover shipper and carrier operations, packaging and container specifications, and hazardous materials definitions. The Office provides training and outreach to help shippers and carriers meet hazardous material regulatory requirements. The Office enforces regulations other than those applicable to a single mode of transportation. It manages a fee-funded grant program to help States plan for hazardous materials emergencies and to assist them and Indian tribes with training for hazardous materials emergencies. The Office also maintains a national safety program to safeguard food and other products from contamination during motor or rail transportation.

<http://www.phmsa.dot.gov/hazmat/info-center> | Email: phmsa.hm-infocenter@dot.gov

For further information, call the Hazardous Materials Information Center. Phone, 800-467-4922.

PIPELINES

---

The Office of Pipeline Safety (OPS) ensures the safety, security, and environmental protection of the Nation's pipeline transportation system. The Office establishes and enforces safety and environmental standards for pipeline transportation of gas and hazardous liquids. The Office analyzes data, educates and trains, promotes damage prevention, and conducts research and development for pipeline safety. Through OPS administered grants, States that voluntarily assume regulatory jurisdiction of pipelines can receive funding for up to 50 percent of the costs for their intrastate pipeline safety programs. OPS engineers inspect most interstate pipelines and other facilities not covered by State programs. In accordance with the Oil Pollution Act of 1990, the Office also approves and tests oil pipeline spill response plans.

<http://phmsa.dot.gov/pipeline>

For further information, call the Pipeline Safety Information Center. Phone, 202-366-4595. Fax, 202-493-2311.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Information on the acquisition vehicles that the PHMSA uses to fulfill the requirements for goods and services of its program offices is available online.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/about-phmsa/working-phmsa/phmsa-business-opportunities>

Career Opportunities

The PHMSA relies on accident investigators, accountants, attorneys, auditors, budget analysts, economists, engineers, finance analysts, geographic information systems specialists, grant specialists, human resource specialists, information technology specialists, and other professionals to carry out its mission.

<http://www.phmsa.dot.gov/careers>

In 2020, the PHMSA ranked 322d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD16>

Data / Statistics

The Office of Pipeline Safety makes available data on federally regulated and State regulated natural gas pipelines, hazardous liquid pipelines, and liquefied natural gas plants. The operators of these pipeline facilities report this data in accordance with PHMSA pipeline safety regulations. The PHMSA provides downloads of the raw data, yearly summaries, multiyear trends of safety performance metrics, and inventories tracking the removal of aging and other higher-risk infrastructure.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/data-and-statistics/pipeline/data-and-statistics-overview>

Environmental Justice

The PHMSA website provides information for promoting environmental justice and ensuring nondiscrimination in communities.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/about-phmsa/civil-rights/environmental-justice>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes the public's right to obtain information from Federal Government agencies. Any person may file a FOIA request, including citizens and foreign nationals, as well as associations, organizations, and universities.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The PHMSA posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/about-phmsa/phmsa-faqs>

Glossaries

The PHMSA website has an inspection activity glossary.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/pipeline/inspections/inspection-activity-glossary>

The PHMSA has posted a list of definitions that are associated with safe travel.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/safe-travel/definitions>

Hazardous Materials

The Hazardous Materials Information Center can provide assistance with applying the hazardous materials regulations (49 CFR Parts 100–185), can provide information on hazardous materials transportation and rulemakings, receives reports of violations of the hazardous materials regulations, can provide copies of recent Federal Register publications or Department of Transportation special permits, can provide copies of training materials, and receives requests for formal letters of interpretation.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/standards-rulemaking/hazmat/hazardous-materials-information-center> | Email: phmsa.hm-infocenter@dot.gov

History

Millions of miles of transportation pipelines deliver the energy products that the American public uses to keep homes and businesses running. While rare, pipeline incidents can be fatal and cost millions of dollars in property damage. The Office of Pipeline Safety participated in the investigations of major pipeline incidents in San Bruno, CA; Allentown, PA; and Marshall, MI. In its commitment to safety awareness and outreach, the Office offers a historical look at high-profile pipeline incidents.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/safety-awareness/pipeline/historical-pipeline-incidents>

Library

The resources library contains an accessible collection of public documents related to the safe transport of hazardous materials.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/resources>

Mapping System

The National Pipeline Mapping System public map viewer is a Web-based application designed to assist the general public with displaying and querying data related to gas transmission and hazardous liquid pipelines, liquefied natural gas plants, and breakout tanks under the jurisdiction of the PHMSA.

<https://www.npms.phmsa.dot.gov/Default.aspx>

Newsroom

The PHMSA posts news items online.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/newsroom>

The Sources of Information were updated 11–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Aviation Administration

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION

800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20591

202-366-4000

866-835-5322

<http://www.faa.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

Steve Dickson

Deputy Administrator

A. Bradley Mims

https://www.faa.gov/about/key\_officials

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2021.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), formerly the Federal Aviation Agency, was established by the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 731).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-72/pdf/STATUTE-72-Pg731.pdf>

The Administration became a component of the Department of Transportation in 1967, pursuant to the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 106).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-80/pdf/STATUTE-80-Pg931.pdf>

The FAA posts an organizational chart on its "Offices" web page in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

https://www.faa.gov/about/office\_org/

ACTIVITIES

---

The FAA regulates civil aviation and U.S. commercial space transportation, maintains and operates air traffic control and navigation systems for civil and military aircraft, and develops and administers programs involving aviation safety and the National Airspace System.

<https://www.faa.gov/about/mission/>

Air Navigation Facilities

The FAA locates and positions, constructs or installs, maintains, operates, and assures the quality of Federal air navigation electronic and visual aids. At flight service stations, airport traffic control towers, and air route traffic control centers, the Administration operates and maintains computer systems, radar facilities, and voice-data communications and visual display equipment.

http://www.faa.gov/about/safety\_efficiency

Airport Programs

The Administration maintains a national plan of airport requirements, administers a grant program for development of public-use airports to assure and improve safety and to meet current and future airport capacity needs, evaluates the environmental effects of airport development, and administers an airport noise compatibility program. It also develops standards for and technical guidance on airport planning, design, operations, and safety and provides grants to assist public agencies in airport system and master planning and airport development and improvement.

<http://www.faa.gov/airports>

Airspace and Air Traffic Management

FAA activities center on the safe and efficient utilization of the navigable airspace. To achieve this goal, the Administration operates a network of airport traffic control towers, air route traffic control centers, and flight service stations. It develops air traffic rules and regulations and allocates airspace use. It also provides air traffic security control that meets national defense requirements.

http://www.faa.gov/air\_traffic

Civil Aviation Abroad

Under the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 and the International Aviation Facilities Act (49 U.S.C. app. 1151), the FAA promotes aviation safety and supports civil aviation abroad. FAA experts exchange aeronautical information with foreign counterparts; certify foreign airmen, mechanics, and repair shops; provide technical aid and training; negotiate bilateral airworthiness agreements with other countries; and participate in international conferences.

http://www.faa.gov/about/safety\_efficiency

Commercial Space Transportation

The Administration regulates and supports the U.S. commercial space transportation industry. It licenses commercial space launch facilities and private sector launches of space payloads on expendable vehicles. It also sets insurance requirements for the protection of persons and property and ensures that space transportation activities comply with U.S. domestic and foreign policy.

http://www.faa.gov/about/office\_org/headquarters\_offices/ast/about

Registration

The Aircraft Registry establishes and maintains the record of every U.S. civil aircraft. Buyers seeking information on aircraft they want to acquire, banks that finance aircraft purchases, aviation historians, and law enforcement and security agencies rely on the registry. An aircraft record contains information on the aircraft's registered owner, its airworthiness, and on recorded aircraft security interests.

http://www.faa.gov/licenses\_certificates/aircraft\_certification/aircraft\_registry/about\_aircraft\_records

Research, Engineering, and Development

The research, engineering, and development activities of the FAA provide the systems, procedures, facilities, and devices needed for a safe and efficient air navigation and air traffic control system for civil aviation and air defense. The Administration also performs an aeromedical research function: It applies knowledge gained from its research program and the work of others to improve civil aviation safety and the safety, health, and efficiency of FAA employees. The Administration also supports the development and testing of aircraft and their parts.

http://www.faa.gov/data\_research/research

Safety Regulation

The FAA issues and enforces regulations and minimum standards affecting the manufacture, operation, and maintenance of aircraft. It also certifies airmen and airports that serve air carriers.

http://www.faa.gov/about/safety\_efficiency

Test and Evaluation

The FAA tests and evaluates specified items such as aviation systems, subsystems, equipment, devices, materials, concepts, or procedures at any phase in the cycle of their development from conception to acceptance, to implementation. At key decision points, it also carries out assigned independent testing.

Other Programs

The FAA administers the Aviation Insurance Program, which provides insurance products to cover U.S. domestic air transportation industry needs that are not adequately met by the commercial insurance market. The Administration develops specifications for the preparation of aeronautical charts. It also publishes current information on airways and airport service; issues technical publications for the improvement of in-flight safety, airport planning and design, and other aeronautical activities; and serves as the executive administration for the operation and maintenance of the DOT automated payroll and personnel systems.

http://www.faa.gov/about/office\_org/headquarters\_offices/apl/aviation\_insurancehttp://www.faa.gov/air\_traffic/flight\_info/aeronav

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The FAA website features an alphabetical index to help visitors browse its content or search for information.

https://www.faa.gov/quick\_reference

Aircraft Registry

The FAA maintains a registry that allows users to search aircraft registration information online.

https://www.faa.gov/licenses\_certificates/aircraft\_certification/aircraft\_registry

Airlines

The Air Traffic Control System Command Center website features a list of links for the Web sites of airlines.

http://www.fly.faa.gov/FAQ/Airline\_Links/airline\_links.jsp

Airmen Certification

The FAA posts answers to frequently asked questions dealing with airmen certification on its website.

https://www.faa.gov/licenses\_certificates/airmen\_certification/airmen\_FAQ

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FAA records have been assigned to record group 237.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/237.html>

Business Opportunities

Registration with the System for Award Management is required for doing business with the FAA.

<https://sam.gov/content/home>

The Small Business Office administers programs that assist small businesses, small businesses that are owned and controlled by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals, women-owned small businesses, and service-disabled veteran-owned small businesses, with FAA procurement opportunities.

<https://sbo.faa.gov/Home.cfm>

Career Opportunities

The FAA offers civil aviation career opportunities in air traffic control, acquisition, contracts, engineering, information technology, safety and security, and other fields.

https://www.faa.gov/jobs/career\_fields

In 2020, the FAA ranked 119th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/TD03>

Contact the FAA

Information for finding the appropriate point of contact or reporting an issue to the FAA is available on the "Contact" web page.

<https://www.faa.gov/contact>

Contact information for field and regional offices is available on the "National Engagement and Regional Administration" web page.

https://www.faa.gov/about/office\_org/headquarters\_offices/arc/

Data / Research

The FAA conducts research on commercial and general aviation. It posts information on how the research is carried out, the resulting data and statistics, and grant data and funding information.

https://www.faa.gov/data\_research

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FAA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-aviation-administration>

Flight Delays

The FAA's Air Traffic Control System Command Center provides status information, which is not flight specific, for general airport conditions nationwide.

<http://www.fly.faa.gov/flyfaa/usmap.jsp>

Flying With Pets

The "Flying With Pets" web page has information and relevant links for flying with a pet or service animal.

https://www.faa.gov/travelers/fly\_pets/

Email, personal digital assistants (PDAs), pagers, phones, and wireless devices can be used to monitor the real-time operating status of the Nation's largest airports and receive delay information from the FAA.

<https://www.fly.faa.gov/ais/jsp/ais.jsp>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine exemptions that are contained within the statute.

<https://www.faa.gov/foia>

FAA posts a lot of information on its website. Before making a formal FOIA request, search the records that are immediately available, particularly the contents of the FAA's electronic FOIA library. The desired information already may be accessible.

https://www.faa.gov/foia/electronic\_reading\_room

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FAA posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://faa.custhelp.com>

Glossary

The Air Traffic Control System Command Center maintains a glossary of air traffic control management acronyms and terms.

<http://www.fly.faa.gov/FAQ/Acronyms/acronyms.jsp>

International Travel

The "International Travel" web page has information and resources for those preparing to fly abroad.

https://www.faa.gov/travelers/international\_travel/

History

A timeline of aerospace history is available on the FAA website. The timeline starts on December 17, 1903, with Orville and Wilbur Wright's first self-propelled airplane flight.

<https://www.faa.gov/about/history/timeline>

Newsroom

The FAA posts factsheets, news items and updates, press releases, speeches, and testimonies on its website.

<https://www.faa.gov/newsroom>

NextGen

NextGen is a series of interlinked programs, portfolios, systems, policies, and procedures. It uses advanced technologies and capabilities for improving the operation of the National Airspace System.

<https://www.faa.gov/nextgen>

Report a Drone

Please report a drone that is being operated dangerously or used to commit a crime to local law enforcement first responders. Please report a drone that is being operated in a manner that flouts FAA rules to a local FAA flight standards district office. An unauthorized drone operator may be penalized or criminally charged.

https://www.faa.gov/uas/contact\_us/report\_uas\_sighting/

Social Media

The FAA has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/FAA>

The FAA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/faanews>

The FAA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/FAAnews>

Wildlife Strikes

Aircraft and wildlife in the United States collide on occasion. Wildlife strikes almost always involve birds; however, the FAA also has received reports of alligator, bat, coyote, deer, skunk, and turtle strikes. The most frequently struck birds are gulls, but ducks and geese cause more damage per strike. The FAA's National Wildlife Strike Database contains the information needed for telling the full story of collisions involving aircraft and animals.

<http://wildlife.faa.gov>

The wildlife strike reporting system helps the FAA collect the information used to build the National Wildlife Strike Database. An online form is available for submitting a strike report.

<https://wildlife.faa.gov/add>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Highway Administration

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL HIGHWAY ADMINISTRATION

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-0650

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

Stephanie Pollack, Acting

Deputy Administrator

Stephanie Pollack

---

Executive Director

Thomas D. Everett

---

<https://fhwaapps.fhwa.dot.gov/foisp/hqphone.do>

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2021.

The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) was established as an agency of the Department of Transportation by the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 104). Title 23 of the United States Code and other supporting legislation authorize the Administration's various activities.

The FHWA improves mobility on our Nation's highways through national leadership, innovation, and program delivery. The Administration works with Federal, State, and local agencies as well as with other stakeholders and partners to maintain and improve the National Highway System, which includes the Interstate System and other roads of importance for national defense and mobility. The FHWA works to increase the National Highway System's safety and to minimize its traffic congestion. The FHWA ensures that America's roads and highways remain safe, technologically up-to-date, and environmentally friendly.

Through surface transportation programs, innovative and traditional financing mechanisms, and new types of pavement and operational technology, the FHWA helps people and goods move more efficiently throughout the Nation. The Administration also improves the efficiency of highway and road connections to other modes of transportation. The Federal-aid Highway Program's budget is primarily divided between Federal-aid funding and the Federal Lands Highway Program.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/about>

ACTIVITIES

---

Federal-aid Highway Program

The Federal-Aid Highway Program supports State highway systems, providing financial assistance for the construction, maintenance and operations of the Nation's 3.9 million-mile highway network, which includes the Interstate Highway System, primary highways, and secondary local roads. The FHWA implements the Federal-aid Highway Program in cooperation with State and local governments.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/federal-aidessentials/federalaid.cfm>

Federal Lands Highway Program

The Office of Federal Lands Highway promotes effective, efficient, and reliable administration for a coordinated program of Federal public roads and bridges; protects and enhances the Nation's natural resources; and gives transportation access to Native Americans. The Office provides financial resources and engineering assistance for public roads that meet the transportation needs of Federal and Indian lands. These services are provided in all 50 States, Puerto Rico, U.S. Territories, and the District of Columbia through the Office's Headquarters and its eastern, central, and western Federal Lands Highway division offices.

<http://flh.fhwa.dot.gov/about>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

All-American Roads / National Scenic Byways

America's Byways—which include the National Scenic Byways and All-American Roads—is an umbrella term referring to the collection of 150 roads that the Secretary of Transportation selects for inclusion based on distinctiveness and diverseness.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/byways>

Business Opportunities

FHWA programs generate a large number of contracting and procurement opportunities.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/about/business.cfm>

The Office of Acquisition and Grants Management manages most FHWA contracting opportunities. Phone, 202-366-4232.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/aaa>

Career Opportunities

The FHWA operates offices throughout the country and hires professionals with expertise in a variety of fields to carry out its mission.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/careers>

The FHWA consistently ranks high among agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/TD04>

Core Topics

The "Core Highway Topics" Web page features a topical, alphabetical list. The topics are categorized according to nine headings: environment, Federal and Indian lands, highway funding, international, research and technologies, road operations and congestion, roads and bridges, road users, and safety.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/resources/topics>

Environment

The "Air Quality and Climate Change Highlights" newsletter is available on the FHWA Web site.

<https://www.fhwa.dot.gov/environment/sustainability/newsletter/index.cfm>

Federal-Aid Essentials

Federal-aid Essentials offers an online library of informational videos and resources for local public agencies. Each video addresses a single topic and condenses the complex regulations and requirements of the Federal-aid Highway Program into basic concepts and illustrated examples.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/federal-aidessentials>

Field and Division Offices

The FHWA comprises a headquarters office in Washington, DC; a Federal-aid division office in each State, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia; four metropolitan offices—Chicago, Los Angeles, New York City, Philadelphia—that serve as extensions of the corresponding Federal-aid division offices; and three Federal Lands Highway division offices.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/about/field.cfm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes a presumption that records in the possession of agencies and departments of the Federal Government's executive branch are available to the public. The statute sets standards for determining when Government records must be made available and which records may be withheld. It also gives information seekers specific legal rights and provides administrative and judicial remedies when access is denied. Most importantly, the FOIA requires that Federal agencies provide, to the fullest extent possible, access to and disclosure of information pertaining to the Government's business.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/foia>

The FHWA maintains an electronic FOIA reading room. It contains records that are often requested under the statute.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/foia/err.cfm>

Glossary

The FHWA Web site features a glossary of transportation planning terms and acronyms.

<https://www.fhwa.dot.gov/planning/glossary>

History

The FHWA Web site features a general highway history.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/infrastructure/history.cfm>

Infrastructure

The FHWA's Web site offers a trove of information on the following infrastructure topics: asset management, bridges and structures, construction, design, Federal-aid Program administration, Federal-aid programs and special funding, geotechnical, hydraulics, pavement, preservation, and transportation performance management.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/infrastructure>

Libraries

The FHWA research library is located in the Turner-Fairbank Highway Research Center in McLean, VA. It is open on weekdays, excluding Federal holidays, 7:30–4 p.m. Phone, 202-493-3172. Fax, 202-493-3495.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/research/library/> | Email: fhwalibrary@dot.gov

Each FHWA office maintains accessibility information that relates to its own program. The accessibility resource library supports the effort to organize information relating to the Americans with Disabilities Act and other accessibility resources that may affect FHWA projects.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/accessibility>

Newsroom

The FHWA posts press releases, as well as photos and videos, speeches and testimony, on its Web site and YouTube channel.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/briefingroom>

Resource Center / Technical Service Teams

The FHWA's technical service teams are organized into 12 activity areas: air quality, civil rights, construction and program management, environment and realty, finance services, geotechnical, hydraulics, operations, pavement and materials, planning, safety and design, and structures. Contact information for these teams and information on their activities, products, and services are available online in the Resource Center.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/resourcecenter/index.cfm>

Social Media

The FHWA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USDOTFHWA>

The FHWA maintains a page on Facebook.

<https://www.facebook.com/FederalHighwayAdmin>

The FHWA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/USDOTFHWA>

Staff Directories

The headquarters organizational directory, key field personnel directory, and Washington headquarters fax numbers are available on the FHWA's Web site.

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/about/staff.cfm>

Sustainability

The FHWA provides technical assistance to local, regional, and State transportation agencies to help them enhance sustainability, improve resilience, and reduce energy use and emissions on the Nation's highway system.

<https://www.fhwa.dot.gov/environment/sustainability/index.cfm>

<http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/contact>

For further information, contact the Federal Highway Administration, Office of Public Affairs, 1200 New Jersey Avenue, SE., Washington, DC 20590. Phone, 202-366-0660.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL MOTOR CARRIER SAFETY ADMINISTRATION

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-2519

<http://www.fmcsa.dot.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

(vacancy)

Deputy Administrator

Meera Joshi

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/mission/leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2021.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) was established within the Department of Transportation on January 1, 2000, pursuant to the Motor Carrier Safety Improvement Act of 1999 (113 Stat. 1750).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-113/pdf/STATUTE-113-Pg1748.pdf>

Statutory material that affects the organization of the FMCSA has been codified in the United States Code (U.S.C.) and assigned to 49 U.S.C. 113.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title49-section113&num=0&edition=prelim>

ACTIVITIES

---

Formerly a part of the Federal Highway Administration, the FMCSA reduces commercial motor vehicle-related fatalities and injuries. Administration activities increase the safety of motor carrier operations by enforcing safety regulations—targeting high-risk commercial drivers and carriers; improving safety information systems and commercial motor vehicle technologies; strengthening equipment and operating standards; and increasing safety awareness. When carrying out these activities, the Administration works with representatives of the motor carrier industry, labor safety interest groups, and Federal, State, and local enforcement agencies.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/mission/about-us>

Commercial Licensing

The FMCSA develops standards to test and license commercial motor vehicle drivers.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/registration/commercial-drivers-license>

Data / Analysis

The FMCSA collects and disseminates data on motor carrier safety and directs resources to improve motor carrier safety.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/data-and-statistics/motor-carrier-safety-progress-reports>

Regulatory Compliance / Enforcement

The FMCSA operates a program to improve safety performance and remove high-risk carriers from the Nation's highways.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/regulations>

Research / Technology

The FMCSA coordinates research and development to improve the safety of motor carrier operations and commercial motor vehicles and drivers.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/research-and-analysis/active-research-projects>

Safety Assistance

The FMCSA provides States with financial assistance for roadside inspections and other commercial motor vehicle safety programs.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety>

Other Activities

The FMCSA supports the development of unified motor carrier safety requirements and procedures throughout North America. It participates in international technical organizations and committees to help share best-practices in motor carrier safety worldwide. It enforces regulations ensuring safe highway transportation of hazardous materials and maintains a task force for identifying and investigating household goods carriers that exhibit an unmistakable pattern of consumer abuse.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FMCSA records have been assigned to record group 557. That record group, however, does not have a description that is associated with it.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/000.html>

Bicyclists / Pedestrians

Bicyclists and pedestrians share roads with large trucks and buses. The FMCSA website has resources that address safety issues affecting riders, walkers, and drivers.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/resources-bicyclists-and-pedestrians>

Career Opportunities

The FMCSA posts job announcements on the USAJobs website. Application tips, information for students and recent graduates, and reasons for pursuing a career at the FMCSA are available on its website. Phone, 800-832-5660.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/careers>

In 2020, the FMCSA ranked 138th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD17>

Certified Medical Examiners

Inclusion in the National Registry of Certified Medical Examiners is limited to medical professionals who complete training and pass an exam on the FMCSA's physical qualification standards.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/regulations/national-registry/national-registry-certified-medical-examiners>

Commercial Carriers

The FMCSA website has resources to help carrier companies with registration and safety and regulatory matters.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/resources-for-carrier-companies>

The FMCSA website has resources—regulatory information and safety publications—to make complying with regulations easier for passenger carriers and to help them operate more safely.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/passenger-safety/passenger-carrier-safety-information>

Commercial Drivers

The FMCSA website has resources for drivers who want to increase safety and who may need help them with the registration and licensing processes.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/resources-for-drivers>

Company Safety Records

The FMCSA maintains websites that provide convenient access to safety-related information. To perform a search, a user must know a company's name, USDOT number, or motor carrier number.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/company-safety-records>

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page has a table that contains email addresses, phone numbers, and web forms.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/contact-us>

Data / Statistics

The annual "Pocket Guide to Large Truck and Bus Statistics" highlights the FMCSA's role in collecting and analyzing data on large trucks and buses. The pocket guide is a compilation of statistics from the overall state of the industry to enforcement activity, details on traffic violations and other incidents, the costs of crashes, and more.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/data-and-statistics/commercial-motor-vehicle-facts>

The Analysis Division compiles the information used for "Large Truck and Bus Crash Facts," an annual report containing descriptive statistics on fatal, injurious, and property-damage-only crashes involving large trucks and buses.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/data-and-statistics/large-truck-and-bus-crash-facts>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FMCSA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-motor-carrier-safety-administration>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FMCSA supports efforts to create a more open and transparent Federal Government. Accordingly, it conscientiously carries out the requirements of the FOIA. The FMCSA ensures that nonexempt documents or records are accessible to anyone who properly files a FOIA request. Phone, 202-366-2960. Fax, 202-385-2335.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/foia> | Email: foia@fmcsa.dot.gov

The FMCSA's electronic reading room contains frequently requested records, as well as final opinions and orders, policy statements, and staff manuals.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/foia/foia-electronic-reading-room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FMCSA posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/faq>

Grants

State and local government agencies in the 50 States and the District of Columbia, as well as in American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Northern Mariana and the U.S. Virgin Islands may apply for safety grant funding.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/mission/grants>

Look Before You Book

The FMCSA website has resources for those making travel plans and for those looking to charter a bus for a sporting event, field trip, or other group activity. Safety tips and information, software applications (apps) to research bus operators, and information on reporting safety violations are available on the "Look Before You Book" web pages.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/passenger-safety/bus-passengers-look-you-book>

Bus travel safety kits for seniors, students, and those traveling to faith-based events are available on "Look Before You Book."

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/safety/look-you-book/consumer-safety-resources>

Newsroom

The FMCSA posts events, news releases, speeches, and testimony on its website.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/newsroom>

Protect Your Move

The "Protect Your Move" web pages have a trove of information on and resources for planning a move, selecting a mover, and filing a moving fraud complaint.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/protect-your-move>

Safety Violations

Safety, service, or discrimination issues involving a bus or truck or moving company or a cargo tank facility? If so, file a complaint on the National Consumer Complaint Database website or by phone on weekdays, 8 a.m.–8 p.m., eastern time. Phone, 888-368-7238.

<https://nccdb.fmcsa.dot.gov/nccdb/home.aspx>

Service Centers / Field Offices

Contact information for service centers and field offices is available on the FMCSA website. Phone, 800-832-5660.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/mission/field-offices>

Social Media

The FMCSA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/fmcsa>

The FMCSA has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/FMCSA>

USDOT Numbers

The FMCSA website features an interactive tool that can determine whether or not a commercial vehicle requires a USDOT number.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/registration/do-i-need-usdot-number>

Veterans

The FMCSA helps veterans find employment in the motor carrier industry. Several provisions in the Fixing America's Surface Transportation (FAST) Act support this effort.

<https://www.fmcsa.dot.gov/fastact/veteran-drivers>

The above Sources of Information were updated 9–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Railroad Administration

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION

1200 New Jersey Avenue, SE., West Building, Washington, DC 20590

202-493-6014

<http://www.fra.dot.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

(vacancy)

Deputy Administrator

Amit Bose

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/organization/vacant-administrator>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2021.

---

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) was created pursuant to section 3(e)(1) of the Department of Transportation Act of 1966 (49 U.S.C. 103).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-80/pdf/STATUTE-80-Pg931.pdf>

The FRA posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) on its website for viewing and downloading.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/organization/organization-chart>

ACTIVITIES

---

The Administration promulgates and enforces rail safety regulations, administers railroad financial assistance programs, conducts research and development to improve railroad safety and national rail transportation policy, provides for the rehabilitation of Northeast Corridor rail passenger service, and consolidates Government support of rail transportation activities.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/about-fra>

Passenger and Freight Services

The FRA's passenger rail activities include administering Federal grants and loans to Amtrak, Alaska Railroad, and high-speed rail; supporting the Secretary of Transportation in his or her role as a member of Amtrak's board of directors; providing guidance and analysis of intercity passenger rail services and high-speed rail.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/rail-network-development/passenger-rail/passenger-rail>

Its freight rail activities include supporting current freight rail market share and growth and developing strategies to attract 50 percent of all shipments 500 miles or more to intermodal rail. The Administration's Office of Railroad Policy and Development implements programs that provide financial support, research and development, and analysis and guidance for the freight rail industry and its stakeholders.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/rail-network-development/freight-rail-overview>

Railroad Safety

The Administration administers and enforces the Federal laws and regulations that promote railroad safety, and it exercises jurisdiction over all areas of rail safety under the Rail Safety Act of 1970—track maintenance, inspection standards, equipment standards, operating practices. Railroad and related industry equipment, facilities, and records are inspected and required reports are reviewed. The Administration also educates the public about safety at highway rail grade crossings and the danger of trespassing on rail property.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/railroad-safety>

Research / Development

The FRA's research and development program relies on basic and applied research and on the development of innovations and solutions to ensure the efficient, reliable, and safe movement of people and goods. Safety is the principal driver of the research and development program.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/research-development/research-development-and-technology>

Transportation Test Center

The Administration tests and evaluates conventional and advanced railroad systems and components at the Transportation Test Center, Inc. Private sector companies and the Governments of Canada, Japan, and the United States use the facility to study the operation of conventional and advanced systems under controlled conditions. Amtrak tests new high-speed locomotives and trains at the Center, and the Federal Transit Administration uses it for testing urban rapid transit vehicles.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/program-areas/testing-facilities-equipment/testing-facilities-equipment>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FRA records have been assigned to record group 399.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/399.html>

Business Opportunities

The "How To Do Business with the FRA" web page explains the steps of becoming eligible for doing business with the FRA and of identifying business opportunities that the FRA has to offer. The web page also has a database of small business vendors.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/resource-center/how-do-business-fra/how-do-business-fra>

Career Opportunities

The FRA relies heavily on railroad safety inspectors—hazardous materials, motive power and equipment, operating practices, signals and train control, and track inspectors—to carry out its mission. Safety inspectors inspect for compliance with Federal laws, regulations, rules, and standards; conduct accident investigations and report on their findings; and seek correction of unsafe conditions. They also testify as expert witnesses in civil suits. These jobs require skill in evaluation, factfinding, and report writing; comprehension and application of technical and regulatory standards; an ability to build rapport with individuals and organizations; and knowledge of methods used in installation, operation, and maintenance or manufacturing of railroad equipment and systems.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/resource-center/jobs/job-vacancies>

In 2020, the FRA ranked 206th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD05>

Contact Information

Email addresses and phone numbers are available on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/contact-us>

Electronic Library (eLibrary)

An eLibrary offers convenient access to all the documents that are posted on the FRA's public website.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/elibrary-search>

Environmental Reviews

The FRA posts a list of environmental projects that require the FRA to pursue an environmental assessment or environmental impact statement or both an assessment and a statement.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/rail-network-development/environment/environmental-reviews>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FRA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-railroad-administration>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Any person—U.S. citizens, foreign nationals, as well as those representing organizations, associations, and universities—can file a FOIA request. All FOIA requests must be submitted in writing and are processed in the Office of Chief Counsel at FRA headquarters in Washington, DC.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/freedom-information-act-foia> | Email: FRAFOIA@dot.gov

To comply with the Electronic Freedom of Information Act (E-FOIA) Amendments of 1996, agencies must make some categories of records available to the public on an ongoing basis.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/resource-center/freedom-information-act/electronic-reading-room>

Horn Noise

Noise from transportation systems, including rail operations, often has adverse environmental effects. The FRA posts answers to frequently asked questions on horn noise.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/environment/noise-vibration/horn-noise-faq>

Maps

The "Maps—Geographic Information System" web page has interactive safety and trespassers casualty maps.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/maps-and-data/maps-geographic-information-system/maps-geographic-information-system>

Media Relations

The Office of Communications handles media relations.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/about-fra/communications/communications>

News

The FRA posts news items on its website.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/newsroom>

Railroad Crossings / Trespassing

FRA programs have helped to reduce the number of railroad crossing and trespassing fatalities by 60% over the last two decades. The Railroad Crossing Safety and Trespasser Prevention Division seeks to continue this trend. Information on and resources for railroad crossing safety and preventing trespassing along railroad rights-of-way are available online.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/highway-rail-crossing-and-trespasser-programs/railroad-crossing-safety-trespass>

Railroad Safety

The Office of Safety Analysis posts railroad safety information—data related to railroad accidents and incidents, including highway-rail grade crossing accidents, rail equipment accidents, and employee injuries and illnesses—on its website.

<https://safetydata.fra.dot.gov/OfficeofSafety/Default.aspx>

The FRA has a new safety data website.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/forms-guides-publications/guides/interacting-new-fra-safety-data-website>

The FRA monitors the occurrence of train accidents and incidents and investigates serious events to determine their cause and to assess compliance with safety laws and regulations. Detailed information on these investigations is available on the FRA's website.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/railroad-safety/accident-data-reporting-and-investigations>

Operation Lifesaver, Inc., is a nonprofit organization and a rail safety education leader.

<https://oli.org/about-us>

Research / Development

The Office of Research and Development is organized into four divisions and works in 10 program areas. An online table shows where the four divisions and 10 program areas intersect with the most frequent causes of railroad accidents and incidents.

<https://railroads.dot.gov/research-development/program-areas/program-areas>

Social Media

The FRA posts photographs and tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USDOTFRA>

The FRA has a Facebook page.

<https://www.facebook.com/USDOTFRA>

The FRA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/usdotfra>

The above Sources of Information were updated 9–2021.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Transit Administration

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL TRANSIT ADMINISTRATION

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-4043

<http://www.fta.dot.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

Nuria Fernandez

Deputy Administrator

(vacancy)

Executive Director

Matthew J. Welbes

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/officials/officials>

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2021.

[For the Federal Transit Administration statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 49, Part 601]

The Federal Transit Administration (FTA), formerly the Urban Mass Transportation Administration, was established as an operating administration of the U.S. Department of Transportation by section 1 of Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1968 (5 U.S.C. app. 1), effective July 1, 1968. The FTA helps America's communities by developing improved public transportation and providing financial assistance to State and local governments to finance public transportation systems and carry out national transit goals and policy.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about-fta>

PROGRAMS

---

Alternatives Analysis

The Alternatives Analysis program provides grants to help identify public transportation needs and the costs and benefits of various transportation strategies for a defined travel corridor. The results of these studies may be the selection of a locally preferred transportation alternative, which is the first step for developing viable projects for possible future funding under the New Starts and Small Starts program.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13094\_7395.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Capital Investment

The Capital Investment program helps finance the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, and improvement of facilities and equipment for public transportation service in urban areas. The Capital Investment program makes available three types of funds: fixed guideway modernization funds for rolling stock renewal, safety-related improvements, and signal and power modernization; new and small starts funds for construction of new fixed guideway systems or extensions to existing fixed guideway systems or corridor based rapid bus systems; and bus and bus facilities funds for the acquisition of buses and rolling stock, ancillary equipment, and the construction of bus facilities.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/12304.html>

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Clean Fuels Grants

The Clean Fuels Grants program helps nonattainment and maintenance areas achieve or maintain the National Ambient Air Quality Standards for ozone and carbon monoxide, and it supports emerging clean fuel and advanced propulsion technologies for transit buses and markets for those technologies. The program funds purchasing or leasing clean fuel buses, including buses that employ a lightweight composite primary structure and vans for use in revenue service; constructing or leasing clean fuel bus facilities, including electrical recharging facilities and related equipment; and projects involving clean fuel, biodiesel, hybrid electric, or zero emissions technology buses.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/cleanfuels>

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Elderly Persons and Persons With Disabilities

The Transportation for Elderly Persons and Persons With Disabilities program provides financial assistance to private nonprofit agencies for the transportation needs of elderly persons and persons with disabilities in places where public services are unavailable, insufficient, or inappropriate; to public bodies approved by the State to coordinate services for elderly persons or persons with disabilities; and to public bodies that certify to the Governor that no nonprofit corporation or association is readily available in an area to provide the service. Funds are allocated by formula to the States. Local organizations apply for funding through a designated State agency.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3556.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Job Access and Reverse Commuting

The Job Access and Reverse Commute program addresses the transportation challenges faced by welfare recipients and low-income persons seeking or maintaining employment. The program provides capital and planning and operating expenses for projects that transport low income individuals to and from jobs and employment-related activities and for projects that support reverse commuting. Many new entry level jobs are located in suburban areas: Low-income individuals have difficulty accessing these jobs from their inner city, urban, or rural neighborhoods. Many entry level-jobs also require working late or on weekends when conventional transit services are either reduced or nonexistent. Many employment related-trips also are complex, involving multiple destinations.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3550.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

New Freedom

The New Freedom formula grants program supports new public transportation services that surpass the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990. The program makes capital and operating funding available to private nonprofit organizations, State and local governmental authorities, and operators of public transportation services, including private operators of public transportation services. Eligible projects must benefit individuals with disabilities: Projects must assist them with transportation—including transportation to and from jobs and employment services—and remove barriers to transportation.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3549.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Nonurban Area Assistance

The Other Than Urbanized Areas formula grants program provides funding to States to support public transportation in rural areas—with populations under 50,000. The program enhances people's access in nonurbanized areas to health care, shopping, education, employment, public services, and recreation; assists in the maintenance, development, improvement, and use of public transportation systems in nonurbanized areas; encourages and facilitates the most efficient use of all transportation funds used to provide passenger transportation in nonurbanized areas through the coordination of programs and services; helps develop and support intercity bus transportation; and promotes the participation of private transportation providers in nonurbanized transportation.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3555.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Planning

The Office of Planning and Environment supports the development of information that Federal, State, and local officials use to make transportation investment decisions. With FHWA partners, the Office co-administers a national planning program that provides funding, guidance, oversight, and technical support to State and local transportation agencies. The FTA's 10 region offices and FHWA's 52 division offices work to convey the program to State and local governments and other transportation agencies.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/about/12347.html>

For further information, call the Office of Planning and Environment. Phone, 202-366-4033.

Research and Technology

The FTA conducts research, development, demonstration, deployment, and evaluation projects to improve public transportation services. The FTA administers the Bus Testing, International Public Transportation, National Research and Technology, and Transit Cooperative Research Programs. Through the Transit Investments for Greenhouse Gas and Energy Reduction (TIGGER) program, the Administration works with public transportation agencies to implement new strategies for lowering greenhouse gas emissions and to reduce energy use within transit operations. The FTA has five priority research areas: bicycles and transit, bus rapid transit, environmental sustainability, livable and sustainable communities, and state of good repair.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/research-innovation>

For further information, call the Office of Research, Demonstration and Innovation. Phone, 202-366-4052.

Rural Transit Assistance

The Rural Transit Assistance Program provides a funding source to help design and implement training and technical assistance projects and other support services tailored to meet the needs of transit operators in nonurbanized areas. States, local governments, and providers of rural transit services can receive program funds. States may use the funds to support nonurbanized transit activities in four areas: training, technical assistance, research, and related support services.

http://www.fta.dot.gov/grants/13093\_3554.html

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

Safety

The Office of Transit Safety and Oversight administers a national safety program and oversees compliance with it. Based on FTA legislative, policy, and regulatory requirements, the program helps further the nationwide provision of transit service that is equitable, reliable, and safe.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/tso.html>

For further information, call the Office of Transit Safety and Oversight. Phone, 202-366-1783.

Training and Technical Assistance

The Administration funds the National Transit Institute at Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey. Working with the Institute, the FTA develops and offers training courses on transit operations, planning, workforce performance, and productivity. Institute courses are offered at locations nationwide on a variety of subjects. Current course offerings are posted online.

<http://www.ntionline.com/courses/list.php>

For further information, call the Office of Research, Demonstration and Innovation. Phone, 202-366-4052.

Transit in Parks

The Paul S. Sarbanes Transit in Parks Program provides funding for alternative transportation projects in and around National Parks and other Federal recreation areas. Alternative transportation includes bicycle, ferry, pedestrian trail, shuttle bus, and other forms of public or nonmotorized transportation. These projects reduce congestion, protect sensitive natural and cultural treasures, and enhance visitor experience. Funding is awarded through a competitive process to units of Federal land management agencies and to State, local and tribal government agencies.

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/transitinparks>

For further information, call the Office of Program Management. Phone, 202-366-2053.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Procurement-related information and resources are available on the FTA Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/funding/procurement/procurement>

Career Opportunities

FTA fills vacancies in its Washington, DC, headquarters and regional offices. The FTA relies on attorneys, congressional relations specialists, engineers, environmental specialists, planners, program management specialists, research program specialists, and other professionals to carry out its mission.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/jobs/jobs>

In 2016, the FTA ranked 228th among 305 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/TD09>

Environmental Justice

The FTA posts answers to questions related to environmental justice on its Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/regulations-and-guidance/environmental-programs/environmental-justice/environmental-justice-faqs>

Events

The FTA has a calendar of events on its Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/events>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA grants public access to the content of certain records that are held by the offices, agencies, corporations, administrations, commissions, boards, and services of the Federal Government's executive branch. Some records that contain sensitive commercial, governmental, and personal information are protected from disclosure.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/foia/foia-requests> | Email: FTA.FOIA@dot.gov

The FTA maintains an electronic reading room. Before submitting a FOIA request, information seekers should search for the desired document or record in the reading room to determine whether it is accessible immediately, without charge.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/foia/foia-electronic-reading-room>

Glossary

The FTA maintains a National Transit Database glossary on its Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/ntd/national-transit-database-ntd-glossary>

Grants

The FTA provides grants to local public transit systems. It invests billions of dollars each year to support and to expand public transit services. It provides annual formula grants to transit agencies nationwide, as well as discretionary funding in competitive processes.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/funding/grants/grant-programs>

History

A brief history of mass transit is available on the FTA Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/brief-history-mass-transit>

National Transit Database

U.S. transit ridership has grown by more than 20 percent in the last decade. To keep track of the industry and provide public information and statistics as growth continues, the National Transit Database records the asset, financial, and operating conditions of transit systems. Phone, 888-252-0936.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/ntd> | Email: NTDhelp@dot.gov

News

The FTA posts news releases on its Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/news>

Regional Offices

Contact information for the 10 regional offices is available on the FTA's Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/regional-offices/regional-offices>

Research / Innovation

Research projects assess new operational processes, expand public-private partnerships, fund demonstration grants for low or no emissions buses, improve traveler experiences, and test systems that monitor safety. Research and innovation reports and publications are available on the FTA Web site.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/research-innovation/research-innovation-reports-and-publications>

Social Media

The FTA maintains a channel on YouTube, as well as accounts on Facebook, LinkedIn, and Twitter.

<https://www.transit.dot.gov/about/news/social-media>

Updates

A subscription form is available on the FTA Web site to sign up for email updates.

<https://public.govdelivery.com/accounts/USDOTFTA/subscriber/new>

<http://www.fta.dot.gov/newsroom/13006.html>

For further information, contact the Federal Transit Administration, Office of Communications and Congressional Affairs, 1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590. Phone, 202-366-4043.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Great Lakes Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation

The United States Government Manual

GREAT LAKES SAINT LAWRENCE SEAWAY DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

55 M Street SE., Suite 930, Washington, DC 20003.

202-366-0091

202-366-7147

<http://www.seaway.dot.gov>

Departmental Postal Address: Great Lakes Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation, 1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590.

Email: sldc@dot.gov

Postal and Physical Address: Great Lakes Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation—Operations, 180 Andrews Street, Massena, NY 13662

315-764-3200

315-764-3235

POLICY HEADQUARTERS—WASHINGTON, DC

---

ADMINISTRATOR

(vacancy)

Deputy Administrator

Craig H. Middlebrook

OPERATIONAL HEADQUARTERS—MASSENA, NY

---

Associate Administrator, Seaway Operations

Gary Croot

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/about/meet-our-team>

The above list of key personnel was updated 03–2021.

---

The Great Lakes Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation (GLSLSDC) was established by the Saint Lawrence Seaway Act of May 13, 1954 (33 U.S.C. 981-990) and became an operating administration of the DOT in 1966.

The GLSLSDC, working jointly with the Saint Lawrence Seaway Management Corporation (SLSMC) of Canada, operates and maintains a safe, reliable, and efficient deep draft waterway between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Ocean. It ensures the safe transit of commercial and noncommercial vessels through the two U.S. locks and the navigation channels of the Saint Lawrence Seaway System and engages in economic and trade development activities to stimulate trade and employment in the eight States of the Great Lakes region. The GLSLSDC and SLSMC work together on all matters related to rules and regulations, overall operations, vessel inspections, traffic control, navigation aids, safety, operating dates, and trade development programs.

The Great Lakes-Saint Lawrence Seaway System extends from the Atlantic Ocean to the Lake Superior ports of Duluth and Superior, a distance of 2,342 miles. The Corporation's main customers are vessel owners and operators, Midwest States and Canadian Provinces, Great Lakes port communities, shippers and receivers of domestic and international cargo, and the maritime and related service industries of the Great Lakes and Saint Lawrence Seaway systems.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/about/what-does-slsdc-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

The GLSLSDC relies on professionals with expertise in administration, engineering, information technology, management, marine operations, public policy, and other fields.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/about/careers-slsdc>

Contact Information

Information for contacting the GLSLSDC by email, postal mail, and phone is posted online.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/about/contact-us>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Any person has the right to a copy of certain records possessed by the Government's executive administrations, agencies, boards, commissions, corporations, offices, and services. Some records, however, are protected from disclosure.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/electronic-reading-room>

Grants

The GLSLSDC has an easy-to-use Federal grants toolkit that offers a snapshot of the essential information, resources, and tools needed to identify Federal agencies and processes offering financial assistance to maritime stakeholders seeking to carry out environmental, infrastructural, intermodal, and other development projects.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/slsdc-federal-grants-toolkit>

Map

An interactive map of vessels transiting the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway System is available online.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/explore/interactive-shipping-map-and-shipping-schedule>

News

The SLSDC's quarterly newsletter "Seaway Compass" is available online. It features current information and recent news on the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway System.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/seaway-compass>

Publications

The "Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway System Directory" is a comprehensive publication on the ports and shipping-related businesses that are critical throughout the region and beyond. It features extensive photography and serves as an excellent resource for readers who are interested in the Great Lakes Seaway maritime industry.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/seaway-system-directory>

The GLSLSDC's marketing brochure offers comprehensive information on the waterway and its significance to the Great Lakes region. It is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/slsdc-marketing-brochure>

Reports

The GLSLSDC posts annual reports on its website.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/annual-reports>

The GLSLSDC posts Asset Renewal Program reports on its website.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/asset-renewal-program-reports>

Social Media

The GLSLSDC maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/USDOTSLSDC>

Studies

The "Environmental and Social Impacts of Marine Transport in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway Region" study provides marine stakeholders, transportation planners, and government policymakers with an assessment of the potential environmental and social consequences that could occur if cargo carried by marine vessels on the Seaway navigation system shifted to rail and road modes of transport.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/publications/social-impact-study>

Visitors' Center

The Seaway Visitors' Center at the Eisenhower Lock provides tourists and ship watchers with an observation deck where they can view commercial vessels and cruise ships transiting the lock. Each year, hundreds of ships from all over the globe make thousands of transits through the St. Lawrence Seaway. They carry a wide variety of cargoes: coal, grains, iron ore, steel, steel slabs, stone, and more.

<https://www.seaway.dot.gov/explore/visitors-center>

The Sources of Information were updated 3–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Maritime Administration

The United States Government Manual

MARITIME ADMINISTRATION

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-5807

800-996-2723

<http://www.marad.dot.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

Lucinda Lessley, Acting

Deputy Administrator

Lucinda Lessley

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us/office-administrator/key-personnel>

The above list of key personnel was updated 11–2021.

MARAD develops and promotes the U.S. merchant marine and its operations and oversees emergency merchant ship operations.

ESTABLISHMENT

The Maritime Administration (MARAD) was established by Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950 (5 U.S.C. app.). The Maritime Act of 1981 (46 U.S.C. 1601) transferred the Maritime Administration to the DOT.

MARAD manages programs that help develop and promote the U.S. merchant marine and its operations. It also organizes and directs emergency merchant ship operations.

ACTIVITIES

MARAD serves as the DOT's waterborne transportation agency. Its programs promote waterborne transportation use, the seamless integration of waterborne transportation with other parts of the transportation system, and U.S. merchant marine viability. The Administration's activities involve ships and shipping, shipbuilding, port operations, vessel operations, national security, safety, and the environment. It also maintains the health of the merchant marine—commercial mariners, vessels, and intermodal facilities contribute significantly to national security. The Administration, therefore, supports current mariners, helps educate future mariners, and informs Americans about the maritime industry and how it benefits them. Recently, the Administration realigned its functions to be more effective as an industry promoter and to focus more attention on the environment and safety.

MARAD administers the Maritime Security Program, which maintains a core fleet of U.S.-flag, privately-owned ships that operate in international commerce. Under agreement, these ships are available to provide needed capacity, during war and national emergencies, to meet Department of Defense requirements.

It also administers the Ready Reserve Force program to facilitate deployment of U.S. military forces—rapidly and worldwide. The Force primarily supports transport of Army and Marine Corps unit equipment and combat support equipment. The Force also supports initial resupply during the critical surge period before commercial ships become available. The program provides nearly one-half of the Government-owned surge sealift capability.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that MARAD records have been assigned to record group 357.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/357.html>

Business Opportunities

To learn about doing business with MARAD, visit its "Business Services and Products" web page.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us/marad-business-services-products>

Career Opportunities

The "Mariners" web page has information on becoming a mariner and mariner opportunities.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/outreach/mariners>

The six maritime academies and U.S. Merchant Marine Academy educate students for service as officers in the U.S. Merchant Marine, U.S. Armed Forces, and Nation's intermodal transportation system.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/education/maritime-academies/maritime-academies> | Email: careersafloat@dot.gov

In 2020, MARAD ranked 228th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD13>

Contact Information

MARAD posts contact information on its "Maritime Contact Information" web page.

<https://cms.marad.dot.gov/about-us/maritime-contact-information>

Data / Statistics

The "Data and Reports" web pages contain data that are organized into four broad categories: historical datasets, U.S.-international trade, U.S. vessel movements and port calls, and vessel fleet lists. The Office of Policy and Plans publishes statistical and economic analyses and reports on a variety of maritime transportation topics.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/data-reports> | Email: data.marad@dot.gov

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that MARAD recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/maritime-administration>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The Act gives a right for accessing Federal agency records to any person, except a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure could cause. The Electronic Freedom of Information Act Amendments of 1996 require Federal agencies to use electronic information technology to expand access to and availability of FOIA documents. MARAD posts contact information for its FOIA officer and FOIA public liaison on its "Freedom of Information Act Contacts" web page.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us/foia/freedom-information-act-contacts> | Email: FOIA.Marad@dot.gov

The agency maintains an online document library. Before submitting a FOIA request, browse its electronic reading room or search for the desired information to determine if it is accessible, immediately and free of charge, without submitting a formal FOIA request.

<https://www.marad.dot.gov/about-us/foia/electronic-reading-room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

MARAD posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.marad.dot.gov/about-us/frequently-asked-questions>

Glossary

The "Glossary of Shipping Terms—2008" contains abbreviations, acronyms, initialisms, and words that its compilers selected from the rich vocabulary of the shipping business.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/sites/marad.dot.gov/files/docs/resources/3686/glossaryfinal.pdf>

History

The MARAD vessel history database has information on vessels that have been or remain part of the National Defense Reserve Fleet and other vessels that were at one time owned, operated, or in the custody of MARAD or one of its predecessor agencies. Each database entry includes one or more images of vessel status cards—paper index cards that tell the story of a ship's career in Government service—and additional information when it is available.

<https://vesselhistory.marad.dot.gov/ShipHistory/ShipList?pageNumber=1&matchFromStart=True> | Email: marad.history@dot.gov

Maps

A map of MARAD gateway offices is available on the "Gateway Offices" web page.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/about-us/gateway-offices/gateway-offices>

MARAD maintains a deepwater port location and status map online. The "Deepwater Ports Map" web page has links to information on applications that are under review, that have been approved or disapproved, and that have been withdrawn.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/ports/deepwater-ports-and-licensing/deepwater-ports-map>

Marine Environment

In a three-page special report "Marine Environment—Protecting the World's Waters," Carolyn E. Junemann and Koichi Yoshida discuss the following topics: anti-fouling systems, cooperation with the International Maritime Organization, oil booms, port waste, and underwater sound.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/sites/marad.dot.gov/files/docs/environment-security-safety/office-environment/606/isofocus12-04-ensr-marineenvironment.pdf>

Marine Highway Routes

The Marine Highway system comprises 25 marine highway routes serving as extensions of the surface transportation system.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/sites/marad.dot.gov/files/docs/grants-finances/marine-highways/3061/marine-highway-route-descriptions-8-14-2019.pdf>

Maritime Advisory System

U.S. maritime alerts provide basic information—date and time, incident type, location—on reported maritime security threats to U.S. maritime industry interests. In some situations, an alert may be issued to refute unsubstantiated claims.

To be added to the electronic distribution list for U.S. maritime alerts and advisories, email the request to MARAD security.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/office-security/msci-portal/maritime-security-communications-industry-msci-web-portal>
| Email: MaradSecurity@dot.gov

Newsroom

Congressional testimonies, news items, and speeches are available online.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/newsroom>

Ship Disposal

MARAD's website has information on four methods for disposing of a ship: artificial reefing, domestic recycling, ship donations, and naval sink at sea live-fire training exercises (SINKEX).

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/national-defense-reserve-fleet/ship-disposal-program/ship-disposal-program>

Social Media

MARAD has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/DOTMARAD>

MARAD tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/DOTMARAD>

Video Archives

A video archives is available on MARAD's website.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/outreach/maritime-administration-video-archives>

Virtual Ship Tours

Virtual tours inside cargo and crew spaces and engine rooms are part of MARAD's website.

<https://www.maritime.dot.gov/history/artifact-program/exhibits>

A virtual tour of the NS Savannah, the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, which was launched in 1959 as part of the Atoms for Peace Program, is available online.

<https://maritime.org/tour/savannah>

The Sources of Information were updated 11–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Highway Traffic Safety Administration

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY ADMINISTRATION

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-9550

888-327-4236

<http://www.nhtsa.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

Steven Cliff, Acting

Deputy Administrator

(vacancy)

---

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/about-nhtsa/nhtsa-leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2021.

---

[For the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 49, Part 501]

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) was established by the Highway Safety Act of 1970 (23 U.S.C. 401 note) to reduce the number of deaths, injuries, and economic losses resulting from motor vehicle crashes on the Nation's highways.

The Administration administers motor vehicle and related equipment safety performance programs; co-administers the State and community highway safety program; regulates the Corporate Average Fuel Economy program; issues Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards (FMVSS) that prescribe safety features and levels of safety-related performance for vehicles and vehicular equipment; rates the safety of passenger vehicles in the New Car Assessment Program; monitors and participates in international vehicle safety forums to harmonize the FMVSS where appropriate; investigates and prosecutes odometer fraud; administers the National Driver Register Program; conducts studies and operates programs to reduce economic losses in motor vehicle crashes and repairs; performs studies, conducts demonstration projects, and issues regulations requiring manufacturers to provide motor vehicle consumer information; promotes programs to reduce impaired driving, to reduce risky driver behaviors, and to increase seat belt use; and issues theft prevention standards for passenger motor vehicles.

ACTIVITIES

---

Research and Program Development

The Administration helps develop motor vehicle and highway safety program standards. It analyzes data and researches, develops, tests, and evaluates motor vehicles, motor vehicle equipment, and advanced technologies, and it collects and analyzes crash data. NHTSA activities are broad in scope with respect to safety: The Administration encourages industry to adopt advanced motor vehicle safety designs, increases public awareness of safety issues, and provides a base for vehicle safety information.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Research>

Regional Operations and Program Delivery

The NHTSA administers State highway safety grant programs that the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users authorized. The Highway Safety formula grant program provides funds to States, Indian nations, and the territories each year to support safety programs, particularly in the following priority areas: data and traffic records, emergency medical services, impaired driving, motorcycle safety, occupant protection, pedestrian and bicycle safety, police traffic services, roadway safety, and speed control. Incentive grants are also used to encourage States to implement effective data improvement, impaired driving, motorcycle safety, and occupant protection programs.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/highway-safety-grants-program>

Rulemaking

The Administration issues FMVSS that prescribe safety features and levels of safety-related performance for vehicles and vehicular equipment. The Administration participates in the United Nations World Forum for the Harmonization of Vehicle Regulations (WP.29). It also oversees the New Car Assessment Program and the Government's Five Star Safety Rating Program, which evaluates the safety performance of light trucks, passenger cars, vans, and child seats (<https://www.nhtsa.gov/ratings>). These evaluations are highly publicized—star ratings must be visible on the price labels of new vehicles. The Administration also educates consumers on topics such as driving while distracted, as well as the proper use of vehicle safety features and child restraint seats. To promote fuel economy, it manages a program establishing and revising fleet average fuel economy standards for passenger car and light truck manufacturers (<https://www.nhtsa.gov/laws-regulations/corporate-average-fuel-economy>). The Administration also runs an antitheft program. Under this program the NHTSA issues rules requiring that certain passenger motor vehicles meet parts-marking requirements, and it calculates and publishes annual motor vehicle theft rates.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/laws-regulations>

Enforcement

The Administration's Office of Enforcement assures that all new vehicles sold in the U.S. meet applicable FMVSS. Under its compliance program, the Office conducts random tests and collects consumer complaints to identify and investigate problems with motor vehicles and vehicular equipment. If a vehicle or equipment suffers from a safety-related defect or does not meet all applicable FMVSS, the Office seeks a recall, which requires manufacturers to notify owners and to remedy the defect free of charge. The Office monitors recalls to ensure that owners are notified in a timely manner and that the scope of the recall and the remedy are adequate. The Office also assures that all motor vehicles subject to the Corporate Average Fuel Economy (CAFE) regulations meet their respective targets, and it enforces violations of Federal odometer fraud regulations by criminally prosecuting offenders.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/recalls>

National Center for Statistics and Analysis

The NHTSA maintains a collection of scientific and technical information on motor vehicle safety. It also operates the National Center for Statistics and Analysis, whose activities include the development and maintenance of national highway-crash data collection systems and related statistical and economic analyses. The public and the private sector and universities and Federal, State, and local agencies rely on these motor vehicle safety information resources for documentation.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/research-data/national-center-statistics-and-analysis-nca>

Communications and Consumer Information

The Office of Communications and Consumer Information develops, directs, and implements communication strategies based on NHTSA policy and programs, including campaigns to support high visibility enforcement efforts. It promotes safety messages for NHTSA vehicle-related issues. The Office also manages NHTSA Web sites and the toll-free Vehicle Safety Hotline. Information received from calls to the hotline forms the basis of investigations, which can lead to recalls if safety-related defects are identified.

<http://www.trafficsafetymarketing.gov/ciot>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Car Seats

A car seat glossary is available on the Parents Central Web site.

<http://www.safercar.gov/parents/CarSeats/Car-Seat-Glossary-of-Terms.htm?view=full>

The car seat finder is an online tool that uses date of birth, height, and weight to find a car seat type that properly fits a child.

<http://www.safercar.gov/cpsApp/crs/index.htm>

Career Opportunities

Information on job openings is available on the "Jobs at NHTSA" Web page.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Jobs>

In 2016, the NHTSA ranked 290th among 305 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/TD10>

Data

The NHTSA posts factsheets, reports, research notes, statistics, and studies on its Web site.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/research-data>

Driving Safety

The NHTSA Web site features a trove of safety information and resources. Disabled, older, and teen drivers, as well as motorcyclists and others can find Web pages dedicated to improving their driving habits and addressing their safety needs.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Driving-Safety>

Events

The NHTSA hosts meetings and forums to explore new approaches to highway safety. Information and materials from these event are available online.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/events>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The NHTSA is required to disclose records that are properly requested in writing by any person. A Government agency may withhold information pursuant to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions contained in the FOIA. The act applies only to Federal agencies and does not give a right of access to records held by Congress, the courts,

State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/about-nhtsa/foia>

The NHTSA maintains an electronic reading room. Before submitting a FOIA request, an information seeker should search for the desired document or record in the reading room to determine whether it may be available immediately, without charge. The NHTSA also operates a service center for answering FOIA-related questions. Phone, 202-366-2870.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/about-nhtsa/electronic-reading-room>

News

The NHTSA posts press releases on its Web site.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/About-NHTSA/Press-Releases>

The NHTSA posts speeches, press events, and testimonies on its Web site.

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/speeches-presentations>

Publications

The NHTSA disseminates information on traffic safety programs in "Traffic Techs." The publication, starting with the year 1995, is available online. Starting with the years 2005 and 2006, "Traffic Techs" becomes available in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/About-NHTSA/Traffic-Techs> | Email: TrafficTech@dot.gov

Recalls

The Recalls Spotlight monitors high-profile recalls and provides resources finding and addressing vehicle recalls.

<http://www.safercar.gov/rs/index.html>

The NHTSA's Web site features a search tool that allows the user to enter a vehicle's identification number (VIN) to learn whether it has been repaired as part of a safety recall in the last 15 years.

<http://www-odi.nhtsa.dot.gov/owners/SearchSafetyIssues>

Regional Offices

Contact information for the NHTSA's 10 regional offices is available on the "Regional Offices" Web page.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/nhtsa/whatis/regions>

Research

The Office of Vehicle Safety Research strategizes, plans, and implements research programs to reduce crashes, fatalities, and injuries. The NHTSA's Web site contains a trove of information related to these programs.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Research>

Resources for Parents

The Parents Central Web site features resources to help parents protect their children and educate them on car and road safety and becoming responsible drivers.

<http://www.safercar.gov/parents/index.htm>

Vehicle Safety

The NHTSA Web site features a trove of information on and resources for vehicle safety. Topics include defects and recalls, odometer fraud, theft protection, and tires.

<http://www.nhtsa.gov/Vehicle-Safety>

To report suspected safety defects in vehicles, vehicle equipment, and child restraint seats, call the Vehicle Safety Hotline. English- and Spanish-speaking representatives are available on weekdays, excluding Federal holidays. Phone, 888-327-4236. TTY, 800-424-9153.

<https://www-odi.nhtsa.dot.gov/VehicleComplaint>

<https://www.nhtsa.gov/about-nhtsa/contact-us>

For further information, contact the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Office of Communications and Consumer Information, 1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590. Phone, 202-366-9550.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration

The United States Government Manual

PIPELINE AND HAZARDOUS MATERIALS SAFETY ADMINISTRATION

1200 New Jersey Avenue SE., Washington, DC 20590

202-366-4433

<http://www.phmsa.dot.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

(vacancy)

Deputy Administrator

Tristan Brown

Executive Director

Howard W. McMillan

---

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/about/key-officials>

The above list of key personnel was updated 11–2021.

The Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA) was established on February 20, 2005. It is responsible for hazardous materials transportation and pipeline safety.

HAZARDOUS MATERIALS

---

The Office of Hazardous Materials Safety develops and issues regulations for the safe and secure transportation of hazardous materials by all modes, except bulk transportation by water. The regulations cover shipper and carrier operations, packaging and container specifications, and hazardous materials definitions. The Office provides training and outreach to help shippers and carriers meet hazardous material regulatory requirements. The Office enforces regulations other than those applicable to a single mode of transportation. It manages a fee-funded grant program to help States plan for hazardous materials emergencies and to assist them and Indian tribes with training for hazardous materials emergencies. The Office also maintains a national safety program to safeguard food and other products from contamination during motor or rail transportation.

<http://www.phmsa.dot.gov/hazmat/info-center> | Email: phmsa.hm-infocenter@dot.gov

For further information, call the Hazardous Materials Information Center. Phone, 800-467-4922.

PIPELINES

---

The Office of Pipeline Safety (OPS) ensures the safety, security, and environmental protection of the Nation's pipeline transportation system. The Office establishes and enforces safety and environmental standards for pipeline transportation of gas and hazardous liquids. The Office analyzes data, educates and trains, promotes damage prevention, and conducts research and development for pipeline safety. Through OPS administered grants, States that voluntarily assume regulatory jurisdiction of pipelines can receive funding for up to 50 percent of the costs for their intrastate pipeline safety programs. OPS engineers inspect most interstate pipelines and other facilities not covered by State programs. In accordance with the Oil Pollution Act of 1990, the Office also approves and tests oil pipeline spill response plans.

<http://phmsa.dot.gov/pipeline>

For further information, call the Pipeline Safety Information Center. Phone, 202-366-4595. Fax, 202-493-2311.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Information on the acquisition vehicles that the PHMSA uses to fulfill the requirements for goods and services of its program offices is available online.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/about-phmsa/working-phmsa/phmsa-business-opportunities>

Career Opportunities

The PHMSA relies on accident investigators, accountants, attorneys, auditors, budget analysts, economists, engineers, finance analysts, geographic information systems specialists, grant specialists, human resource specialists, information technology specialists, and other professionals to carry out its mission.

<http://www.phmsa.dot.gov/careers>

In 2020, the PHMSA ranked 322d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TD16>

Data / Statistics

The Office of Pipeline Safety makes available data on federally regulated and State regulated natural gas pipelines, hazardous liquid pipelines, and liquefied natural gas plants. The operators of these pipeline facilities report this data in accordance with PHMSA pipeline safety regulations. The PHMSA provides downloads of the raw data, yearly summaries, multiyear trends of safety performance metrics, and inventories tracking the removal of aging and other higher-risk infrastructure.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/data-and-statistics/pipeline/data-and-statistics-overview>

Environmental Justice

The PHMSA website provides information for promoting environmental justice and ensuring nondiscrimination in communities.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/about-phmsa/civil-rights/environmental-justice>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes the public's right to obtain information from Federal Government agencies. Any person may file a FOIA request, including citizens and foreign nationals, as well as associations, organizations, and universities.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The PHMSA posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/about-phmsa/phmsa-faqs>

Glossaries

The PHMSA website has an inspection activity glossary.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/pipeline/inspections/inspection-activity-glossary>

The PHMSA has posted a list of definitions that are associated with safe travel.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/safe-travel/definitions>

Hazardous Materials

The Hazardous Materials Information Center can provide assistance with applying the hazardous materials regulations (49 CFR Parts 100–185), can provide information on hazardous materials transportation and rulemakings, receives reports of violations of the hazardous materials regulations, can provide copies of recent Federal Register publications or Department of Transportation special permits, can provide copies of training materials, and receives requests for formal letters of interpretation.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/standards-rulemaking/hazmat/hazardous-materials-information-center> | Email: phmsa.hm-infocenter@dot.gov

History

Millions of miles of transportation pipelines deliver the energy products that the American public uses to keep homes and businesses running. While rare, pipeline incidents can be fatal and cost millions of dollars in property damage. The Office of Pipeline Safety participated in the investigations of major pipeline incidents in San Bruno, CA; Allentown, PA; and Marshall, MI. In its commitment to safety awareness and outreach, the Office offers a historical look at high-profile pipeline incidents.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/safety-awareness/pipeline/historical-pipeline-incidents>

Library

The resources library contains an accessible collection of public documents related to the safe transport of hazardous materials.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/resources>

Mapping System

The National Pipeline Mapping System public map viewer is a Web-based application designed to assist the general public with displaying and querying data related to gas transmission and hazardous liquid pipelines, liquefied natural gas plants, and breakout tanks under the jurisdiction of the PHMSA.

<https://www.npms.phmsa.dot.gov/Default.aspx>

Newsroom

The PHMSA posts news items online.

<https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/newsroom>

The Sources of Information were updated 11–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Department of Veterans Affairs

The United States Government Manual

DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS

810 Vermont Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20420

202-461-4800

<http://www.va.gov>

Office of the Secretary

---

SECRETARY OF VETERANS AFFAIRS

Robert Wilkie

Deputy Secretary

James Byrne, Acting

Chief of Staff

Pamela Powers

<https://www.va.gov/opa/bios/secva.asp>

Administrations

---

EXECUTIVE IN CHARGE

Health

Richard A. Stone

UNDER SECRETARIES

Benefits

Paul Lawrence

Memorial Affairs

Randy C. Reeves

<https://www.va.gov/opa/bios/index.asp>

Staff Offices

---

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

Congressional and Legislative Affairs

Brooks D. Tucker

Enterprise Integration

Melissa S. Glynn

Human Resources and Administration

Jacquelyn Hayes-Byrd, Acting

Information and Technology / Chief Information Officer

Camilo Sandoval

Management / Chief Financial Officer

Jon J. Rychalski

Public and Intergovernmental Affairs

John Ulyot

EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS

|   |                           |
|---|---------------------------|
| Accountability and Whistleblower Protection | Kirk M. Nicholas          |
| Acquisition, Logistics, and Construction    | Karen L. Brazell          |
| Chair, Board of Veterans' Appeals           | Cheryl L. Mason           |
| Chief Veterans Experience Officer           | Lynda C. Davis            |
| General Counsel                             | Catherine Mitrano, Acting |

https://www.va.gov/landing\_organizations.htm

Office of Inspector General

|                   |                   |
|-------------------|-------------------|
| Inspector General | Michael J. Missal |
|-------------------|-------------------|

<https://www.va.gov/oig/about/inspector-general.asp>

The above list of key personnel was updated 11–2018.

The Department of Veterans Affairs operates programs benefiting Veterans and members of their families: It offers education opportunities and rehabilitation services and provides compensation payments for disabilities or death related to military service, home loan guaranties, pensions, burials, and health care that includes the services in clinics, medical centers, community living centers (which replace nursing homes), and home- and community-based settings.

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) was established as an executive department by the Department of Veterans Affairs Act (38 U.S.C. 201 note). It is comprised of three organizations that administer Veterans programs: the Veterans Health Administration, the Veterans Benefits Administration, and the National Cemetery Administration. Each organization has field facilities and a central office component. Staff offices support the overall function of the Department and its Administrations.

http://www.va.gov/landing2\_about.htm

ACTIVITIES

Acquisition, Logistics, and Construction

The Office of Acquisition, Logistics, and Construction (OALC) is a multifunctional organization responsible for directing the acquisition, logistics, construction, and leasing functions within the VA. The Executive Director, OALC, is also the Chief Acquisition Officer for the VA.

<http://www.va.gov/OALC>

Cemeteries

The National Cemetery Administration (NCA) is responsible for the management and oversight of 135 national cemeteries in the United States and Puerto Rico, as well as 33 soldiers' lots, Confederate cemeteries, and monument sites. Burial in a national cemetery is available to eligible veterans, certain members of reserve components, and their spouses and dependent children. At no cost to the family, a national cemetery burial includes the gravesite, graveliner, opening and closing of the grave, headstone or marker, and perpetual care as part of a national shrine. If an eligible veteran is buried in an unmarked grave in a private cemetery anywhere in the world, NCA will provide a headstone or marker. A Government-furnished headstone or marker may be provided for eligible Veterans who died on or after Nov. 1, 1990 and whose grave is marked with a privately purchased headstone. A Government-furnished medallion may be provided for eligible Veterans who served on or after Apr. 6, 1917 and whose grave is marked with a privately purchased headstone or marker. NCA's Veterans Cemetery Grants Program provides funds to State and tribal governments to establish, expand, or improve veterans' cemeteries. NCA issues Presidential Memorial Certificates to honor the memory of deceased veterans who are eligible for burial in a national cemetery.

<http://www.cem.va.gov>

Congressional and Legislative Affairs

The mission of the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Congressional and Legislative Affairs (OCLA) is to improve the lives of Veterans and their families by advancing pro-Veteran legislation and maintaining responsive and effective communications with Congress. OCLA coordinates the Department's activities with Congress. It is the Department's focal point for interactions and engagements with Members of Congress, authorization committees, and personal staff. Additionally, the Office is the Department's liaison with the Government Accountability Office (GAO).

<https://www.va.gov/oca/>

Faith-Based and Neighborhood Partnerships

The mission of the Center for Faith-Based and Neighborhood Partnerships (CFBNP) is to develop partnerships with, provide relevant information to, and expand participation of faith-based, nonprofit, and community/neighborhood organizations in VA programs in order to better serve the needs of Veterans, their families, survivors, caregivers, and other beneficiaries.

<https://www.va.gov/cfbpartnerships/>

Field Facilities

The Department's operations are handled through the following field facilities: cemeteries, medical centers, outpatient clinics, community living centers, domiciliaries, and regional offices. Cemeteries provide burial services to Veterans, their spouses, and dependent children. Medical centers provide eligible beneficiaries with medical and other health care services equivalent to those provided by private sector institutions, augmented in many instances by services to meet the special requirements of Veterans. Outpatient clinics provide the most common outpatient services, including health and wellness visits, without the hassle of visiting a larger medical center. Community Living Centers (CLC) are skilled nursing facilities, often referred to as nursing homes. Veterans with chronic stable conditions such as dementia, those requiring rehabilitation or those who need comfort and care at the end of life are served within one of our 135 Community Living Centers. Domiciliaries provide a variety of care to Veterans who suffer from a wide range of medical, psychiatric, vocational, educational, or social problems and illnesses in a safe, secure, homelike environment. VHA continues to expand the network of outpatient clinics to include more rural locations, putting access to care closer to home.

Regional offices grant benefits and services provided by law for Veterans, their dependents, and beneficiaries within an assigned territory; furnish information regarding VA benefits and services; adjudicate claims and make awards for disability compensation and pension; conduct outreach and information dissemination; provide support and assistance to various segments of the Veteran population to include former prisoners of war, minorities, the homeless, women, and elderly Veterans; supervise payment of VA benefits to incompetent beneficiaries; provide vocational rehabilitation and employment training; administer educational benefits; guarantee loans for purchase, construction, or alteration of homes; process grants for specially adapted housing; process death claims; and assist Veterans in exercising rights to benefits and services.

<https://www.va.gov/directory/guide/home.asp>

Health Services

The Veterans Health Administration (VHA) is the largest integrated health care system in the United States. It provides hospital, long-term services and support in community living centers (which replace nursing homes)- and home- and community- based settings, domiciliary, and outpatient medical and dental care and community care to eligible Veterans of the Armed Forces. In addition to providing health care, VHA performs research, and assists in the education and training of physicians, dentists, and many other health care professionals through its affiliations with educational institutions and organizations. As of March 2017, VHA treated over 8.76 million patients in over 1,700 sites of care. VHA has 1,247 health care facilities, including 170 VA Medical Centers and 1,067 outpatient sites of care of varying complexity (VHA outpatient clinics). In addition, VA purchases medical care when needed from community providers including long-term services and supports in community nursing homes, State Veterans Homes, and in home and community based settings. In 2016, VA hospitals had about 621,520 inpatient admissions and provided nearly 84 million outpatient visits. In addition to care delivered in the VA system, VA also delivers care to millions of Veterans in the community. The number of women Veterans receiving health care from VA more than tripled between 2000 and 2016, growing from 160,000 in 2000 to 475,000. VA hospitals provide more public data about quality and safety than any health care system in the world and held academic affiliations with more than 1,800 educational institutions. More than 123,552 health care students receive clinical training at a VA facility each year.

Historically, VHA has been at the forefront of medical research. The first electronic health record, cardiac pacemaker, bionic ankle, and successful liver transplant were all developed at VA. VA has also developed new drugs and treatments for acquired immune deficiency syndrome/human immunodeficiency virus, diabetes, Alzheimer's disease, and osteoporosis. Currently, VHA medical centers provide a wide range of services including traditional services such as primary care, surgery, critical care, mental health, orthopedics, pharmacy, radiology and physical therapy. Additional medical and surgical specialty services, including audiology & speech pathology, dermatology, dental, geriatrics, neurology, palliative medicine, oncology, podiatry, prosthetics, urology, vision care and extended care services; such as facility and community based long-term services and supports and hospice care are available. Some medical centers also offer advanced services such as organ transplants and plastic surgery. VA is also using Telehealth and Telemedicine to improve access to care, especially in remote areas.

<http://www.va.gov/HEALTH>

Management

The Advisory Committee Management Office (ACMO) provides administrative and management support to the Department's 29 Federal Advisory Committees (as of July 2017). VA's advisory committees solicit advice and recommendations from outside experts and the public concerning programs for which the Department is responsible for by law.

<http://www.va.gov/ADVISORY>

Minority Veterans

The Center for Minority Veterans (CMV), established by the Veterans' Benefits Improvement Act of 1994, identifies barriers to benefits and health care access, promotes awareness of minority Veteran-related issues, develops strategies for improving minority Veterans' participation in existing VA programs, The CMV focuses on the unique and special needs of African Americans, Hispanics, Asian Americans, Pacific Islanders, and Native Americans, which include American Indians, Native Hawaiians, and Alaska Natives.

<http://www.va.gov/centerforminorityveterans>

Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization

The Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization (OSDBU) is the Department's principal liaison to the Small Business Administration (SBA), the Department of Commerce, the General Services Administration (GSA), and the Office of Federal Procurement Policy for matters dealing with small and disadvantaged business activities. OSDBU's mission is to enable Veterans to gain access to economic opportunity by leveraging the federal procurement system and expanding participation of procurement-ready small businesses.

<http://www.va.gov/osdbu>

Survivors Assistance

Office of Survivors Assistance (OSA) provides support to survivors of Veterans by identifying and informing them of the benefits and services offered by VA.

<https://www.va.gov/survivors/>

Veterans' Appeals

The Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) renders final decisions on behalf of the Secretary on appeals from decisions of local VA offices. The Board reviews all appeals for entitlement to Veterans' benefits, including claims for service connection, increased disability ratings, total disability ratings, pension, insurance benefits, educational benefits, home loan guaranties, vocational rehabilitation, dependency and indemnity compensation, health care delivery, and fiduciary matters. The Board has jurisdiction over appeals arising from the VA regional offices, VA medical centers, the National Cemetery Administration, and the Office of General Counsel. The Board's mission is to conduct hearings and issue timely, understandable, and quality decisions for Veterans and other appellants in compliance with the requirements of law. Final BVA decisions are appealable to the U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims.

<http://www.bva.va.gov>

Veterans Benefits

VBA provides information, advice, and assistance to Veterans, their dependents, beneficiaries, representatives, and others applying for VA benefits. It also cooperates with the Department of Labor and other Federal, State, and local agencies in developing employment opportunities for Veterans and referrals for assistance in resolving socioeconomic, housing, and other related problems.

VBA's Compensation and Pension and Fiduciary Services are responsible for adjudicating claims for disability compensation and pension, specially adapted housing, accrued benefits, adjusted compensation in death cases, reimbursement for headstones or markers, allowances for automobiles and special adaptive equipment, special clothing allowances, emergency officers' retirement pay, Survivors' claims for death compensation, dependency and indemnity compensation, death pension, burial and plot allowances, forfeiture determinations, and a benefits protection program for minors and incompetent adult beneficiaries.

VBA's Education Service administers VA education benefits to Veterans, Servicemembers, National Guard members, Selected Reserve members, and eligible dependents. These benefits provide financial assistance for attending institutions of higher learning, non-college degree programs, on-the-job and apprenticeship training, flight training, distance learning, correspondence training, national testing programs, licensing and certifications, entrepreneurship training, work-study programs, and co-op training. Education Service also performs compliance surveys to ensure that approved programs are compliant with pertinent laws. Additional information is available at www.benefits.va.gov/gibill.

VBA's Insurance Service operates for the benefit of Servicemembers, Veterans, and their beneficiaries. Customers can reach Insurance Service through the VA Insurance Center (phone, 800-669-8477). The Insurance Center performs a complete range of activities necessary to operate national life insurance programs. Activities include maintenance of individual accounts, underwriting functions, life and death insurance claims awards, and other insurance-related transactions for multiple insurance programs. The Insurance Center administers the Veterans Mortgage Life Insurance Program for those disabled Veterans who receive a VA grant for specially adapted housing, and the Service-Disabled Veterans Insurance program for Veterans who receive a service-connected disability rating. In addition, Insurance Service oversees the Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance (SGLI) and Veterans' Group Life Insurance Programs, as well as the Family Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance and SGLI Traumatic Injury Protection programs.

VBA's Loan Guaranty Service is responsible for administering operations that include establishing the eligibility of Veterans for the program; ensuring VA credit, income, and appraisal requirements are met; managing a panel of appraisers and establishing a property value; approving grants for specially adapted housing; supervising the construction of new residential properties; making direct loans to Native American Veterans to acquire a home on trust land; servicing and liquidating defaulted loans; and disposing of real estate acquired as the consequence of defaulted loans.

VBA's Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment Service (VR&E) program provides assistance to Veterans and Servicemembers with service-connected disabilities and an employment handicap, to prepare for, obtain, and maintain suitable employment. For those persons who are severely disabled and suitable employment is not an option, assistance may be provided to allow each person to live more independently. Through VA's VR&E program, individuals may benefit from individual support, vocational counseling, evaluation of interest, aptitudes and abilities, training, employment assistance, and other rehabilitation services. In some cases, rehabilitation services are available to spouses and children of totally and permanently disabled Veterans as well as Survivors of certain deceased Veterans.

Under 38 U.S.C. Chapter 18, VR&E provides vocational training and rehabilitation services to children with spina bifida having a parent who served in the Republic of Vietnam during the Vietnam era or who served in certain military units in or near the demilitarized zone in Korea between September 1, 1967 and August 31, 1971.

The Appeals Management Office assumes responsibility for and authority over all VBA appeals-related program policy, planning, budgeting, staffing, and other operational control as a separate entity under the VBA Principal Deputy Under Secretary for Benefits (PDUSB). This office works closely with the Board of Veterans Appeals to better service Veterans and their families.

<http://www.benefits.va.gov/benefits>

Women Veterans

The Center for Women Veterans (CWV), established by the Veterans' Benefits Improvement Act of 1994, monitors and coordinates VA's health care, benefits, services, and programs for women Veterans. CWV advocates a cultural transformation within VA and the general public to recognize the service and contributions of women Veterans and women in the military, and raises awareness of the responsibility to treat women Veterans with dignity and respect. The CWV Director serves as the primary advisor to the SECVA on all matters related to policy, legislation, programs, issues, and initiatives affecting women Veterans.

<http://www.va.gov/WOMENVET>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The "Veterans Health A–Z Index" includes frequent inquiries, popular subjects, and topics of critical importance to veterans and their caregivers.

<https://www.va.gov/health/topics>

Blog

"VAntage Point" is the VA's official blog.

<http://www.blogs.va.gov/VAntage> | Email: blog.dalcbdt@va.gov

Business Opportunities

The VA purchases goods and services on the national, regional, and local level from large and small businesses. Each VA facility has a local acquisition office that handles its procurement process.

<http://www.va.gov/oal/business/dbwva.asp> | Email: dalcbdt@va.gov

The VA has the authority to award set-aside and sole source contracts to service-disabled veteran-owned small businesses and to veteran-owned small businesses. This procurement authority extends the reach of the agency's mission of caring for the Nation's veterans. Phone, 866-584-2344.

<https://www.va.gov/osdbu/verification/> | Email: osdbu@va.gov

Career Opportunities

The VA employs over 300,000 people in hundreds of professions. To fulfill its mission, the VA relies on claims examiners, dentists, management analysts, nurses, occupational therapists, optometrists, pharmacists, physical therapists, physician assistants, physicians, secretaries, and many additional types of professionals.

www.vacareers.gov

In 2017, the VA ranked 17th among 18 large agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/VA00>

Data / Statistics

The National Center for Veterans Analysis and Statistics posts reports, statistics, surveys, and other information on its website.

<https://www.va.gov/vetdata> | Email: vancvas@va.gov

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA requires that Federal agencies disclose records that information seekers request; however, some records or parts of them may be shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions. A FOIA request should be sent by email, fax, or postal mail to the appropriate VA component where the desired document or record is kept.

<http://www.va.gov/oig/foia>

If the information requester does not know which office or component maintains the desired document or record, he or she should contact the Director, FOIA Service, (005R1C), 810 Vermont Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20420. Phone, 877-750-3642. Fax 202-273-0487.

https://www.oprm.va.gov/docs/foia/VACO\_FOIA\_Offices\_Contact\_List.pdf

Glossaries

The VA website has a health benefits glossary.

<https://www.va.gov/HEALTHBENEFITS/resources/glossary.asp>

The VA National Center for Patient Safety has a glossary of patient safety terms on its website.

<http://www.patientsafety.va.gov/professionals/publications/glossary.asp>

Gravesite Locator

The "National Cemetery Administration" website has a burial information database that is updated each day. The online locator allows users to search for the burial locations of veterans and their family members in VA National Cemeteries, State veterans cemeteries, and various other military and Department of Interior cemeteries, as well as for the interment sites of veterans who were buried in private cemeteries and whose graves are marked with Government grave markers.

<http://gravelocator.cem.va.gov/index.html>

History

The Continental Congress of 1776 encouraged enlistments during the Revolutionary War by providing pensions to disabled soldiers. More than 210 years later, the 40th President of the United States elevated the Veterans Administration to a cabinet-level executive department. The promotion brought with it a new name: the Department of Veterans Affairs. To learn more about the history of the most comprehensive veterans assistance system in world, visit the "VA History" web page.

https://www.va.gov/about\_va/vahistory.asp?

Homeless Veterans

Information and resources to help a homeless veteran find a home are available on the VA website.

<https://www.va.gov/homeless>

Locations

This page provides a facility locator that allows users to search for VHA facilities by state or territory, street address, type of facility, and distance.

<https://www.va.gov/directory/guide/division.asp?dnum=1>

Media Room

The VA posts news releases online.

<http://www.va.gov/opa/pressrel>

The VA posts speeches online.

<http://www.va.gov/opa/speeches>

My Health

The "My HealthVet" website provides information and tools for veterans to partner with their health care team and improve health care management. The website allows veterans to refill VA prescriptions, track their delivery, and view medication lists; to monitor approaching VA appointments and receive reminders; to communicate online with health care teams; and to access medical records and add information to them. Phone, 877-327-0022. TTY, 800-877-8339.

<https://www.myhealth.va.gov/mhv-portal-web/home>

Office of Inspector General (OIG)

Public documents and information are available on the OIG's website. Complaints may be sent to the VA Inspector General (53E), P.O. Box 50410, Washington, DC 20091-0410. Hotline phone, 800-488-8244.

<http://www.va.gov/oig/default.asp> | Email: page.vaoighotline@va.gov

Organizational Chart

The VA's "2017 Functional Organizational Manual—version 4.0" is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF). The Department's organizational chart may be seen on page 2.

https://www.va.gov/landing\_organizations.htm

Our Doctors

The "Federation of State Medical Boards" website has an online directory that allows users to search for information about physicians.

<http://www.docinfo.org/#/search/query>

Posttraumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD)

The National Center for PTSD is the world's leading PTSD and traumatic stress research and educational center. The website's home page has a helpful short video titled "What Is PTSD?" to explain the disorder. Information voice mail, 802-296-6300.

<https://www.ptsd.va.gov/>

Public Affairs / News Media

Contact the nearest regional Office of Public Affairs: Atlanta (404-929-5880); Chicago (312-980-4235); Dallas (817-385-3720); Denver (303-914-5855); Los Angeles (310-268-4207); New York (212-807-3429); or Washington, DC (202-530-9360). Representatives of the national media may prefer contacting the Office of Public Affairs in the VA Central Office, 810 Vermont Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20420. Phone, 202-461-7400.

<http://www.va.gov/opa>

Publications

Information on books, factsheets, and other publications is available on the "Office of Public and Intergovernmental Affairs" website.

<http://www.va.gov/opa/publications>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

http://www.va.gov/site\_map.htm

Social Media

To see all of the VA's social media accounts, visit the "Social Media Directory" web page.

<https://www.va.gov/opa/socialmedia.asp>

Sports Programs / Special Events

Having fun together by participating in adaptive sports improves health, creates new friends, and elevates the quality of life. Many sports opportunities are available to veterans of all ages and abilities. To get started, visit the "National Veterans Sports Programs and Special Events" website and speak with your VA clinical team about getting involved.

<https://www.blogs.va.gov/nvspse/> | Email: sports4vets@va.gov

Veterans Service Organizations

The VA maintains an online directory of veterans services organizations in Portable Document Format (PDF). For further information, contact the Office of Public and Intergovernmental Affairs, Department of Veterans Affairs, 810 Vermont Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20420. Phone, 202-273-6000.

<http://www.va.gov/vso>

Women Veterans Call Center

Women veterans, as a demographic, underutilize VA benefits and services. The main reason seems to be a lack of awareness that they are eligible recipients.

<https://www.womenshealth.va.gov/WOMENSHEALTH/ProgramOverview/wvcc.asp>

<http://www.va.gov/opa>

For further information, contact the Office of Public and Intergovernmental Affairs, Department of

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

- Department of the Interior
- Bureau of Indian Affairs
- Bureau of Indian Education
- Bureau of Land Management
- Bureau of Ocean Energy Management
- Bureau of Reclamation
- Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement
- National Park Service
- Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement
- United States Fish and Wildlife Service
- United States Geological Survey

The United States Government Manual

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-3100

<http://www.doi.gov>

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR

David L. Bernhardt

Deputy Secretary

Katharine MacGregor

<https://www.doi.gov/whoweare/secretary-bernhardt>

Assistant Secretaries

---

Fish and Wildlife and Parks

Robert Wallace

Indian Affairs

Tara Katuk Mac
Lean Sweeney

Insular and International Affairs

Douglas W. Domenech

Land and Minerals Management

(vacancy)

Policy, Management and Budget

Susan Combs

Water and Science

Timothy R. Petty

<https://www.doi.gov/interior-leadership>

Other Officers

---

Chief Information Officer

William E. Vajda

<https://www.doi.gov/ocio/about/leadership>

Solicitor

Daniel H. Jorjani

<https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/uploads/m-37055.pdf>

Special Trustee for American Indians

Jerold Gidner, Acting

https://www.doi.gov/ost/about\_us/organization

Office of the Inspector General

---

<https://www.doi.gov/about-us/inspector-general>

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Department of the Interior protects America's heritage and natural resources, honors its cultures and tribal communities, and supplies energy for powering its future.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On March 3, 1849, President James K. Polk approved an act that created the Department of the Interior (DOI) by transferring the Office of Indian Affairs and the General Land, the Patent, and the Pension Offices to a new department. The head of that new department was, and still is, called the Secretary of the Interior. The President appoints the Secretary by the advice of the Senate and with its consent.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/30th-congress/session-2/c30s2ch108.pdf>

The Secretary of the Interior supervises the public business of the following agencies and subjects: Alaska Railroad, Alaska Road Commission, bounty-lands, Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Bureau of Mines, Bureau of Reclamation, division of Territories and Island Possessions, Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Geological Survey, Indians, National Park Service, petroleum conservation, and public lands and the mines that are on those lands (43 U.S.C. 1457). The Secretary reports directly to the President.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title43-section1457&num=0&edition=prelim>

The DOI was reorganized by Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1950, as amended (5 U.S.C. app.).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5a-node84-leaf107&num=0&edition=prelim>

A more recent reorganization has created 12 unified administrative regions to improve coordination among bureaus, effectiveness of relationships with its partners, and customer service. The reorganization delegates authority and accountability closer to field operations and places a greater emphasis on local decision making.

<https://www.doi.gov/employees/reorg>

This reorganization started under the direction of former Secretary Ryan K. Zinke, who led the DOI from March 2, 2017, through January 2, 2019. The reorganization, which became final on August 22, 2018, established unified interior region boundaries that are based on watersheds and generally follow State lines to simplify coordination with external partners.

<https://www.doi.gov/employees/reorg/unified-regional-boundaries>

The "Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years 2018–2022" includes the DOI's organization chart on page 6.

<https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/uploads/fy2018-2022-strategic-plan.pdf>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Statutory material on the establishment of the DOI, the duties of its Secretary and Deputy Secretary, and other topics that affect departmental operations and activities are codified in chapter 31, sections 1451–1476a, of 43 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title43/chapter31&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations associated with the Office of the Secretary of the Interior are codified in subtitle A, parts 1–199, of 43 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=2dff2e4675b2891abcf7c9eb0078703c&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title43/43cfrv1\_02.tpl#0

MISSION AREAS

---

A set of six mission areas offers a window on DOI activities that are top priorities through the year 2022. They are discussed in detail in the "Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years 2018–2022" on pages 15–47.

Conserving Land and Water

The DOI conserves America's lands and waters for the benefit, enjoyment, and use of current and future generations. The DOI's nine technical bureaus rely on the best science that is available, efficient decision-making processes, improved land use planning, modern natural resource management techniques, partnerships, and technology and engineering to balance stewardship with public lands use and the development of natural resources that are part of those lands, including fish species and wildlife.

<https://www.doi.gov/stewardship>

Expanding Outdoor Recreation and Access

Every year, more than 330 million people from across the country and around the world visit the national parks. Millions more visit other public lands that the DOI also manages. The DOI works to make outdoor recreation opportunities on public lands more accessible. The DOI's multiple-use policy of land management allows Americans to fish and hunt on public lands, as well as boat, camp, climb, hike, view wildlife, and engage in other outdoor activities.

<https://www.doi.gov/recreation>

Fulfilling Trust and Insular Responsibilities

The DOI upholds the U.S. Government's unique trust responsibilities by fostering government-to-government relationships that exist between the Federal Government and federally recognized Tribes. It also upholds those responsibilities by providing services to individual American Indians and Alaskan Natives.

<https://www.doi.gov/ost/whatwedo/>

The U.S. Government also has important relationships with the affiliated insular areas, which include the Territories of American Samoa, Guam, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands. The DOI administers and oversees Federal assistance to the three Freely Associated States, which comprise the two Republics of Palau and the Marshall Islands and the Federated States of Micronesia.

<https://edit.doi.gov/oia/what-we-do>

Generating Revenue From Utilization of Natural Resources

The DOI provides access to and manages energy resources like coal, gas, oil, and woody biomass on public lands, as well as Outer Continental Shelf energy resources like gas and oil. It also provides access to and manages other public land resources like nonenergy minerals, rangelands suitable for grazing, and timber from forests. By responsibly using public lands for extracting resources to achieve multiple use and economic benefits for the Nation, the DOI supports American energy dominance.

https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/uploads/fy2019\_bib\_dh005.pdf

Modernizing Organization and Infrastructure

The DOI seeks to ensure more effective operations and service delivery through coordinated organizational alignments in the field, across bureaus, and with other Federal and non-Federal partners, and by putting a larger fraction of DOI employees in the field to serve the public. Expediting environmental analysis and compliance, reducing the cost of space, collocating offices for convenient public service and improved interagency coordination, and common regional boundaries are potential ways to modernize the DOI's infrastructure and improve its effectiveness.

<https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/site-page/many-bureaus-one-mission.pdf>

Protecting People and the Border

Inherent in the DOI's management responsibilities of public lands is protecting employees and visitors. Ensuring employee and public safety requires the resources of multiple bureaus and offices covering four disciplines: emergency management, law enforcement, natural hazards science, and wildland fire. Depending on the season, approximately 3,500–4,000 law enforcement officers, rangers, and other employees patrol vast areas of public lands, national parks, wildlife refuges, and Indian communities. They protect people and natural, cultural, and heritage resources from illegal activities.

The U.S. Geological Survey protects lives by monitoring natural hazards like earthquakes, environmental health hazards, landslides, and volcanoes, and by issuing warnings of their potential threat levels. Wildland fires endanger lives and damage property. The Office of Wildland Fire coordinates with the DOI's land management bureaus and the U.S. Forest Service to prevent, respond to, and manage the damage and loss that wildfires cause. The Office of Wildland Fire also shares wildfire management responsibilities with Mexico along the southern border.

The DOI manages land on the Canadian border and the Mexican border, and the Department has a presence in the Pacific, where Americans are exposed to risk from Asia. A considerable amount of DOI land abuts Mexico. Accordingly, DOI law enforcement officers work in partnership with the U.S. Customs and Border Patrol, Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Drug Enforcement Agency, and Tribal, State, and local governments, to address illegal immigration, trafficking in drugs and in guns, and to mitigate these activities' consequences, which adversely affect DOI lands and community partners.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Additional Resources

The additional resources index contains links to resources that DOI employees may find helpful.

<https://www.doi.gov/employees/additional-resources>

Abandoned Mines

Abandoned mine lands are lands, waters, and surrounding watersheds that extraction or beneficiation has contaminated, scarred, or done both. Beneficiation refers to the treatment (i.e., processing) of raw materials (e.g. coal, ores, and minerals) to change their chemical or physical properties. Abandoned mine lands include areas where mining or processing activity has ceased. The Abandoned Mine Lands (AML) Portal is a partnership that comprises Federal, State, and local efforts to reduce the environmental and health risks of abandoned mines through awareness, education, and action. The DOI participates in the AML Portal.

<https://www.abandonedmines.gov/federal-partners>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Office of the Secretary of the Interior records have been assigned to record group 048.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/048.html>

Blog

"People, Land, and Water" is the DOI's official blog.

<https://www.doi.gov/blog>

Bureaus / Offices

The DOI employs resource-management professionals, scientists, and other experts in its nine technical bureaus.

<https://www.doi.gov/bureaus>

In addition to the nine technical bureaus, a number of offices fall under the Offices of the Secretary and Assistant Secretary; Office of Policy, Management, and Budget; Office of the Solicitor; and Office of the Inspector General.

<https://www.doi.gov/bureaus/offices>

Business Opportunities

The DOI supports the transition to a clean energy economy and stimulates local economic growth through stewardship. The DOI also procures goods and services from American businesses. The DOI relies on them for bridge, irrigation system, office building, reservoir, road, school, and other types of maintenance. More information is available from the Office of Acquisition and Property Management. Phone, 202-513-7554.

<https://www.doi.gov/pam>

Career Opportunities

Information to assist persons with disabilities, students and recent graduates, veterans, and others who are interested in career opportunities is available on the DOI's website.

<https://www.doi.gov/joinus>

In 2019, the DOI ranked 10th among 17 large agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/IN00>

Climate Change

Changes in climate are creating new challenges for communities and resource managers nationwide. The U.S.

Geological Survey's Climate Adaptation Science Centers help managers of ecosystems, fish, and wildlife better understand the effects of these changes and strategically plan for and adapt to them.

<https://nccwsc.usgs.gov>

Contact Information

The DOI has included an electronic feedback form on its "Contact Interior" web page. The DOI also may be contacted by email, phone, or postal correspondence. The contact information is available online.

<https://www.doi.gov/contact-us>

Deepwater Horizon

The DOI continues to play a major role in restoration efforts associated with the Deepwater Horizon oil spill that occurred in the Gulf of Mexico in 2010.

<https://www.doi.gov/deepwaterhorizon>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the DOI and its subagencies have published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/interior-department>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Thirteen bureaus and offices support the DOI's FOIA operations. Its website features a single web page that allows convenient access to those bureaus and offices and to their electronic FOIA libraries. From the same web page, an information seeker may file a request, track the status of a request, learn about the FOIA program's structure, and review FOIA-related guidance and resources. Please note: the Department and its bureaus and offices post a great deal of information online; therefore, an information seeker should visit the appropriate electronic libraries and search for the desired information before submitting a FOIA request. That information already may be accessible, immediately and without charge.

<https://www.doi.gov/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The DOI has posted answers to FAQs about its reorganization.

<https://www.doi.gov/employees/reorg/faq>

History

On March 3, 1849, the last day of the 30th Congress, a bill was passed to create a department to manage the Nation's internal development and the welfare of its people. The responsibilities of the new Department were diverse and came to include the colonization of freed slaves in Haiti, exploration of western wilderness, oversight of the District of Columbia jail, regulation of territorial governments, management of hospitals and universities, and more. To explore the rich history of the "Department of Everything Else"—just about everything else that fell outside the purview of the Departments of Foreign Affairs, War, and the Treasury—visit the "History of the Department of the Interior" web page.

<https://www.doi.gov/whoware/history>

"There are no words that can tell the hidden spirit of the wilderness that can reveal its mystery, its melancholy and its charm. The Nation behaves well if it treats the natural resources as assets which it must turn over to the next generation increased and not impaired in value. These words belong to President Theodore Roosevelt, a man who loved the outdoors. To learn about the important role this President played in the history of American conservation, visit the "Theodore Roosevelt's Legacy" web page.

<https://www.doi.gov/blog/theodore-roosevelts-legacy>

Library

The Interior Library's holdings and its reference and research services support the mission of the Department and its agencies and bureaus. Its holdings cover American history, geology, law, national parks, Native American culture and history, nature, and public lands and wildlife management. The library offers subscription databases and other online data sources that give Interior employees and external researchers nationwide access. A holdings catalog and descriptions of educational programs and training opportunities are available on the library's website. Phone, 202-208-5815.

<https://www.doi.gov/library> | Email: library@ios.doi.gov

Museum

The Interior Museum offers exhibits on the history and mission of the Department. Programs highlight bureau management of cultural and natural resources. Museum guides conduct tours of the Interior Building's New Deal era art and architecture. Phone, 202-208-4743.

<https://www.doi.gov/interiormuseum>

News

The Department posts press releases online.

<https://www.doi.gov/pressreleases>

The DOI posts news and headlines of the week in video format on the "This Week at Interior" web page.

<https://www.doi.gov/video/twai>

Open Government

The Department of the Interior supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency. Beyond meeting Open Government requirements, the agency intends to create better relationships between citizens and their Government; to become better at understanding citizens' demands for services and more responsive to their needs; to accelerate the rate of innovation by leveraging public knowledge; to increase the Department's ability to carry out its mission more effectively and efficiently by transparently engaging the public in decisionmaking; and to encourage the development of Open Government programs.

<https://www.doi.gov/open> | Email: open@ios.doi.gov

Priorities

The "Our Priorities" web page lists the DOI's top 10 priorities.

<https://www.doi.gov/ourpriorities>

Regulatory Reform

President Donald J. Trump has placed an emphasis on reforming rules and regulations that negatively affect the U.S. economy while doing little to help the environment.

<https://www.doi.gov/regulatory-reform>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.doi.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The DOI maintains a facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/USInterior>

The DOI tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/interior>

The DOI posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/USInterior>

Sustainability Programs

The Department of the Interior is dedicated to conserving and protecting the Nation's natural and cultural resources now and for future generations. Its employees are passionate about their stewardship responsibility for the resources and properties that they manage for the American People.

<https://www.doi.gov/stewardship>

Water Conservation

The WaterSMART program improves water conservation and helps water-resource managers make sound decisions about water use. It identifies strategies to ensure that this and future generations will have sufficient supplies of clean water for drinking, economic activities, ecosystem health, and recreation. The program also identifies adaptive measures to address climate change and its effect on future water demands.

<https://www.doi.gov/watersmart>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2019.

Bureau of Indian Affairs

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-3710

<http://www.bia.gov/bia>

---

DIRECTOR *

Darryl LaCounte

---

<https://www.bia.gov/as-ia/opa/online-press-release/assistant-secretary-sweeney-names-darryl-lacounte-director-bureau-of-indian-affairs>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs.

---

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs enhances the quality of life, promotes economic opportunity, and protects and improves the trust assets of American Indians, Indian tribes, and Alaska Natives.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

Secretary of War John C. Calhoun established the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) on March 11, 1824, to oversee and carry out the Federal Government's trade and treaty relations with tribes. The BIA remains the oldest Department of the Interior (DOI) agency in continuous existence and one of the oldest in the Federal government. The DOI formally adopted Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) as the agency's official name on September 17, 1947. Prior to that time, it was referred to as the Indian office, Indian bureau, Indian department, and Indian service.

<https://www.doi.gov/blog/193rd-anniversary-bureau-indian-affairs>

On March 3, 1849, President James K. Polk approved an act that transferred the "supervisory and appellate powers now exercised by the Secretary of the War Department, in relation to all the acts of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs," to the Secretary of the Interior, who now headed the newly created DOI.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/30th-congress/session-2/c30s2ch108.pdf>

The Bureau's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.indianaffairs.gov/sites/bia.gov/files/uploads/bia/bia-org-chart.pdf>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material affecting the BIA is codified in 25 U.S.C. 1–17 (chapter 1).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title25/chapter1&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that affect Indians are codified in 25 CFR. Parts 1–299 contain rules and regulations that are associated with the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Parts 900–999 contain rules and regulations that are associated with the Bureau of Indian Affairs and with the Department of Health and Human Service's Indian Health Service.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=2dff2e4675b2891abc7c9eb0078703c&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title25/25tab\_02.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The BIA's mission centers on fulfilling its trust responsibilities and promoting self-determination on behalf of federally recognized tribal governments, American Indians, and Alaska Natives. The BIA provides services to members of 573 federally recognized Indian Tribes in the 48 contiguous United States and Alaska—nearly two million American Indians and Alaska Natives.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia>

The BIA serves the federally recognized Tribes through four Offices:

The Office of Indian Services operates the BIA's general assistance, disaster relief, Indian child welfare, tribal government, Indian self-determination, and reservation roads programs.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ois>

The Office of Justice Services directly operates or funds law enforcement, tribal courts, and detention facilities on Federal Indian lands.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ojs>

The Office of Trust Services works with tribes and individual American Indians and Alaska Natives in the management of their trust lands, assets, and resources.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ots>

Lastly, the Office of Field Operations oversees 12 regional offices and 83 agencies that carry out the mission of the BIA at the tribal level. The regional offices and agencies administer delivery of program services to the federally recognized Tribes, to individual Indians, and to Alaska Natives, either directly or through contracts, grants or compacts.

<https://www.bia.gov/regional-offices>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Bureau of Indian Affairs records have been assigned to record group 075.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/075.html>

Career Opportunities

BIA job opportunities, common job documents, and hiring information for American Indian and Alaska Native veterans are available online.

<https://www.bia.gov/Jobs/index.htm>

In 2019, the BIA ranked 349th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/IN06>

Contact Information

The BIA posts its mailing address and fax and phone numbers on the Indian Affairs' website on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.bia.gov/contact-us>

Estate Planning

The American Indian Probate Reform Act of 2004 (AIPRA) made changes to the way trust or restricted land and property is inherited. It also made changes that affected land management and purchases. The BIA website has information that explains how AIPRA affects wills and inheritance.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ots/dres/estate-planning>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BIA has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/indian-affairs-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes a presumption that the public may access records in the possession of Federal agencies. The Act is based on the principle of openness in government and generally provides that a person has a right of access to Federal agency records. This right of access is restricted, however, by nine exemptions and three special law enforcement record exclusions that shield certain records, or parts of them, from disclosure. More information on the FOIA and instructions for submitting a request to access BIA records are available on the Indian Affairs website.

<https://www.bia.gov/as-ia/foia> | Email: foia@bia.gov

Before submitting a FOIA request in writing with the FOIA officer, the requester should check that the information being sought is not already in the public domain. The DOI maintains FOIA libraries that include the following record types and resources: final opinions made in the adjudication of cases; policy statements and interpretations that the DOI has adopted, but not published in the Federal Register; administrative staff manuals and staff instructions that affect a member of the public; records that have been requested repeatedly by submitters of FOIA requests or records that the DOI anticipates will be requested repeatedly in the future; an index of frequently requested records; and links to other related sites and reference materials.

<https://www.doi.gov/foia/library>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Indian Affairs posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.bia.gov/frequently-asked-questions>

Library

Frequently requested documents and links are accessible on the Indian Affairs website in the electronic document library.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/document-library>

Maps

The Office of Trust Services' Branch of Geospatial Support (BGS) posts web maps and static maps, as well as downloadable data, on the Indian Affairs' website. The BGS provides geographic information systems software, training, and system support for the management of natural resources on Indian lands. Phone, 877-293-9494.

<https://biamaps.doi.gov> | Email: geospatial@bia.gov

"Indian Lands of Federally Recognized Tribes of the United States" is available on the Office of Trust Services' "Division of Land Titles and Records" web page. The Office's web team posted the map file in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.bia.gov/sites/bia.gov/files/assets/bia/ots/webteam/pdf/idc1-028635.pdf>

The "National Climate Assessment—Indigenous People's Resilience Actions" map, which is posted on the Office of Trust Services' website, provides an overview of indigenous people's actions to prepare for changes in climate by taking steps to increase resilience.

<https://biamaps.doi.gov/nca/>

Programs / Services

Federally recognized Tribes look to the BIA for a range of services. The "Programs and Services" web page, which is accessible on the Indian Affairs' website, provides information about them.

<https://www.bia.gov/programs-services>

Regional Offices

Contact information for the 12 BIA regional offices is available online.

<https://www.bia.gov/regional-offices>

Regulations in Development

The "Regulations and Other Documents in Development" web page, which is part of the Indian Affairs' website, allows visitors to monitor the progress of regulations that are in development, under review, or in development and under review.

<https://www.bia.gov/as-ia/raca/regulations-and-other-documents-in-development>

Site Map

The site map, which is part of the Indian Affairs' website, allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.bia.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The BIA posts content on Facebook.

<https://www.facebook.com/USIndianAffairs>

The BIA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USIndianAffairs>

Tribal Leaders Directory

The directory, which is part of the Indian Affairs' website, provides contact information for each federally recognized Tribe, as well as for the leadership of the BIA. The electronic and interactive map-based directory contains information on each BIA region and agency that provides services to a specific Tribe.

<https://www.bia.gov/tribal-leaders-directory>

Wildland Fire Management

Indian Affairs posted a collection of fire prevention and education videos on wildland fire management in Indian country on its website. Note that not all of the videos in the collection were produced by the BIA.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ots/dfwfm/bwfm/Video-Library>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2019.

Bureau of Indian Education

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-3710

<http://www.bie.edu>

---

DIRECTOR *

Tony L. Dearman

---

<https://www.bie.edu/cs/groups/webteam/documents/text/idc2-092903.pdf>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Bureau of Indian Education provides educational opportunities for eligible American Indian and Alaska Native elementary, secondary, and postsecondary students from federally recognized Tribes

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

To reflect the parallel purpose and organizational structure that the BIE has in relation to other programs within the Office of the Assistant Secretary–Indian Affairs, the Office of Indian Education Programs was renamed the Bureau of Indian Education (BIE) by departmental manual release no. 3721 of August 29, 2006.

<https://www.bia.gov/bie>

Nearly 95 years earlier, President Warren G. Harding approved Public Law 67–85, which is also referred to as the Snyder Act of 1921, to authorize the BIA, under the supervision of the Secretary of the Interior, to "direct, supervise, and expend such moneys as Congress may from time to time appropriate, for the benefit, care, and assistance of the Indians throughout the United States for the following purposes . . ." One of those purposes was for the "general support and civilization, including education." Since the passage of the Snyder Act of 1921, three major legislative actions have restructured the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) with regard to educating American Indians.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/67th-congress/Session%201/c67s1ch115.pdf>

On June 18, 1934, the day on which President Franklin D. Roosevelt approved Public Law 73–383, which is also referred to as the Indian Reorganization Act of 1934 and the Wheeler-Howard Act, the longstanding Federal policy of acculturating and assimilating Indian people through a boarding school system ended. The new law introduced the teaching of Indian history and culture in BIA schools.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/73rd-congress/session-2/c73s2ch576.pdf>

On January 4, 1975, President Gerald R. Ford approved Public Law 93–638, which is also cited as the Indian Self-

Determination and Education Assistance Act of 1975, "to establish a program of assistance to upgrade Indian education" and "to support the right of Indian citizens to control their own educational activities." The law allows federally recognized Tribes to contract with the BIA for the operation of Bureau-funded schools and to determine education programs suitable for their children.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-88/pdf/STATUTE-88-Pg2203.pdf>

On November 1, 1978, President James E. Carter approved Public Law 95–561, which is also cited as the Education Amendments of 1978. Additional amendments followed: Public Laws 98–511, 99–99, and 100–297. These legislative actions provided direct funding to tribally operated schools, empowered Indian school boards, permitted local hiring of teachers and staff, and created a direct line of authority between the Education Director and the Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-92/pdf/STATUTE-92-Pg2143.pdf>

The BIE organizational chart is part of the organizational chart of Indian Affairs.

<https://www.indianaffairs.gov/sites/bia.gov/files/OrgChartFY18Greenbook.pdf>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Rules and regulations affecting Indians and their education are codified in 25 CFR 30–47 (subchapter E).

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=7954367ce0b81d96674d6b175d0dea54&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title25/25CsubchapE.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

The BIE provides quality education opportunities from early childhood throughout adulthood, in accordance with the Tribes' needs for cultural and economic well-being, and in keeping with the diversity of Indian Tribes and Alaska Native villages as distinct cultural and governmental entities. The BIE considers the whole person as it carries out its mission, taking into account the cultural, mental, physical, and spiritual aspects of the person within the contexts of family and Tribe or Alaska Native village.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=317c41e73ba08bd8f84a0dbdfba8a9c3&mc=true&node=pt25.1.32&rgn=div5#se25.1.32\_13

The BIE educates over 45,000 American Indian and Alaska Native children at 183 elementary and secondary schools on 64 reservations in 23 States. The Bureau operates 53 of these schools. The other 130 schools are tribally operated. The BIE oversees two postsecondary schools: Haskell Indian Nations University in Lawrence, KS, and Southwestern Indian Polytechnic Institute in Albuquerque, NM. It also funds the Navajo and United Tribes Technical Colleges.

<https://www.bia.gov/bie>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Bureau of Indian Affairs records have been assigned to record group 075. "Records of the Education Division 1874–1972" are part of that record group.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/075.html>

Career Opportunities

American Indian children deserve a quality education—and that starts with highly qualified, dedicated staff and educators. The BIE employees nearly 4,500 professionals in careers that offer unique and diverse cultural and lifestyle experiences. Phone, 505-563-5304.

<https://www.bie.edu/Jobs/index.htm> | Email: staffing@bie.edu

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page has addresses and phone numbers for contacting the BIE.

<https://www.bie.edu/ContactUs/index.htm>

The Human Resources Office maintains a web page with contact information.

<https://www.bie.edu/HR/Contact/index.htm>

The BIE "National Staff Directory" (APR 2019) is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.bie.edu/cs/groups/xbie/documents/text/idc2-093307.pdf>

Divisions / Programs

The BIE website features a web page with a list of the agency's divisions and programs and links to their websites.

<https://www.bie.edu/Programs/index>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes a presumption that the public may access records in the possession of Federal agencies. The Act is based on the principle of openness in government and generally provides that a person has a right of access to Federal agency records. This right of access is restricted, however, by nine exemptions and three special law enforcement record exclusions that shield certain records, or parts of them, from disclosure. More information on the FOIA and instructions for submitting a request to access BIE records are available on the Indian Affairs website.

<https://www.bia.gov/as-ia/foia> | Email: foia@bia.gov

Before submitting a FOIA request in writing with the FOIA officer, the requester should check that the information being sought is not already in the public domain. The DOI maintains FOIA libraries that include the following record types and resources: final opinions made in the adjudication of cases; policy statements and interpretations that the DOI has adopted, but not published in the Federal Register; administrative staff manuals and staff instructions that affect a member of the public; records that have been requested repeatedly by submitters of FOIA requests or records that the DOI anticipates will be requested repeatedly in the future; an index of frequently requested records; and links to other related sites and reference materials.

<https://www.doi.gov/foia/library>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The BIE posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.bie.edu/HR/FAQ/index.htm>

News

The BIE posts news items on its website.

<https://www.bie.edu/NewsEvents/index.htm>

Reports

Performance and special education reports and school report cards are accessible online.

<https://www.bie.edu/HowAreWeDoing/index.htm>

Resources

BIE education line officers, school superintendents, principals, teachers, and staff can access program guidance, handbooks, templates, and training provided in various formats—WebEx or PowerPoint—to refresh professional skills. These online documents and presentations are provided to supplement staff training throughout the school year.

<https://www.bie.edu/Resources/index.htm>

Scholarships

The BIE website provides information on scholarship opportunities for American Indian students.

<https://www.bie.edu/ParentsStudents/Grants/index.htm>

Schools

Contact information for schools that the BIE oversees is available online.

<https://www.bie.edu/Schools/index.htm>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.bie.edu/SiteMap/index.htm>

Social Media

The BIE maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/Bureauofindianeducation>

The BIE tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/BureauIndianEdu>

Tribal Resources

A directory of external resources to support tribes is accessible on the BIE website. The directory file is in Portable Document Format for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.bie.edu/Resources/index.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2019.

Bureau of Land Management

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-3801

<http://www.blm.gov>

---

DIRECTOR *

(vacancy)

---

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Land and Minerals Management.

<https://www.blm.gov/leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2021.

The Bureau of Land Management sustains the health, diversity, and productivity of public lands for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

President Harry S. Truman prepared and transmitted to the U.S. Congress a plan of reorganization that created the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). Section 403 of reorganization plan no. 3 of 1946 consolidated the General Land Office with the Grazing Service to establish the Bureau of Land Management. The plan became effective on July 16, 1946.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5a-node84-leaf93&num=0&edition=prelim>

On October 21, 1976, President Gerald R. Ford approved the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (PL 94–579) to establish public land policy; to establish guidelines for its administration; to provide for the management, protection, development, and enhancement of the public lands; and for other purposes" (90 STAT. 2743). In the law, Congress declared that national policy governing the management of public lands "be on the basis of multiple use and sustained yield."

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-90/pdf/STATUTE-90-Pg2743.pdf>

The BLM posts its organization chart online.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/organization-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Laws that affect public lands are codified in 43 U.S.C. Chapter 1 of that title contains codified material that is associated with the BLM.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title43/chapter1&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that affect public lands and that are associated with the BLM are codified in 43 CFR 1000–9999 (subtitle B, ch. II). The codified subjects include forest, general, land resource, minerals, and range management; preservation and conservation; recreation programs; and technical services.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=5167eb7d8c784969301611a596a7818a&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title43/43chapterII.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

The BLM sustains the diversity, health, and productivity of America's public lands for the benefit of present and future generations through a mandate of multiple-use and sustained-yield. It manages 1 of every 10 acres of land across the United States, about 245 million acres of land, most of which is located in Alaska and 11 other Western States. The Bureau also manages about 30 percent, or 700 million acres, of the Nation's subsurface mineral estate. The BLM oversees conventional and renewable energy development, livestock grazing, recreation, and timber harvesting, and it protects cultural, historical, and natural resources. Many of these resources are found on National Conservation Lands, a subset of BLM lands that are federally designated, that cover 32 million acres, and that include 260 wilderness areas and 28 national monuments.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs>

A number of energy resources are accessible on public lands. The BLM supports a diversified energy approach that includes coal, oil and gas, strategic minerals, as well as renewable energy resources like geothermal, solar, wind, and woody biomass. A diversified approach strengthens the Nation's energy security, strengthens its energy infrastructure, and stimulates job creation. To serve industry and the American public, the BLM is making energy development easier on public lands by reviewing and streamlining business processes.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/energy-and-minerals>

The Bureau manages livestock on 155 million acres of land, administering nearly 18,000 permits and leases held by ranchers who graze mostly cattle and sheep.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/natural-resources/rangelands-and-grazing>

Under the Wild Free-Roaming Horses and Burros Act of 1971, it also manages herds of wild horses and burros on public rangelands.

<https://www.blm.gov/whb>

Recreation is also part of the BLM's portfolio. Birdwatchers, campers, hang gliders, horseback riders, hunters, mountain bikers, photographers, whitewater rafters, and visitors to cultural and natural heritage sites recreate on hundreds of millions of acres of public lands. The Bureau estimates that it receives approximately 62 million recreational visits per year.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/recreation>

The BLM manages habitat for over 300 wildlife, fish, and plant species that are listed as threatened or endangered under the Endangered Species Act and 12 species identified as candidates for listing. Public lands that the BLM manages offer the best opportunity for recovery of some rare or listed plant and animal species because their unique requirements for survival can be met only on Federal lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/fish-and-wildlife/threatened-and-endangered>

The Federal Land Policy and Management Act (FLPMA) of 1976 authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to stand up a law enforcement body to enforce Federal laws and regulations affecting public lands and their resources. As a result, the BLM has been given specific resource protection and law enforcement responsibilities that further the FLPMA's public lands management policy of multiple use. The Bureau's law enforcement program helps ensure public safety, while supporting its multiple-use mission. Law enforcement officers investigate vandalism and looting, support emergency responders, and maintain a safe environment for visitors to the public lands and for BLM employees.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/public-safety-and-fire/law-enforcement>

The BLM carries out a broad range of actions to protect the public, natural landscapes, wildlife habitat, and recreational areas from wildfire. The BLM's national fire and aviation program consists of community assistance and protection, fire prevention through education, fire suppression, preparedness, predictive services, prescribed fire, and vegetative fuels management.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/fire-and-aviation>

The BLM's lands, realty and cadastral survey program manages public land transactions: purchases and acquisitions, sales and exchanges, withdrawals, leases and permits, right-of-way authorizations, and, cadastral (i.e., mapping) survey services. From enabling energy development, to permitting commercial filming, to defining boundaries and maintaining public land records, BLM professionals regard the public lands as working landscapes, and they manage them for the benefit of current and future generations. The BLM's mission—which is built on the principles of multiple-use and sustained yield—requires the agency to promote commerce, conservation, and recreation on public lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/lands-and-realty>

The Bureau's broad management responsibilities require balancing public land uses and protection of public land resources. Working with State and local and tribal governments, stakeholder groups, and the public, the BLM creates land use plans, referred to as Resource Management Plans, to guide decisions for approved uses of and actions affecting public lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/planning-and-nepa>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Adoption Schedule

The BLM offers wild horses and burros for adoption or purchase at events nationwide throughout the year. The most current adoption event schedule is accessible online.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/wild-horse-and-burro/adoption-and-sales/events>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BLM records have been assigned to record group 049.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/049.html>

Artist-in-Residence Program

Residencies of 6–8 weeks are available in several Western States for painters, photographers, potters, sculptors, and other artists.

<https://www.blm.gov/get-involved/artist-in-residence/about-the-program>

Business Opportunities

The BLM procures a wide array of goods and services.

<https://www.blm.gov/services/acquisition/contracting>

Stewardship contracting refers to trading forest products for land management and services. In exchange for thinning the forest and keeping the trees to sell, for example, a contractor or an organization performs service-work that helps to achieve key land management goals like improving wildlife habitat or reestablishing native plant species. The intent of stewardship is to improve, maintain, or restore forest or rangeland health; restore or maintain water quality; improve fish and wildlife habitat; and reduce danger from wildfires.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/natural-resources/forests-and-woodlands/stewardship-contracting>

Career Opportunities

The BLM relies on people with diverse skills and from various professional backgrounds—business, engineering, fire management, law enforcement, science, and other fields—to manage the Nation's public lands and resources.

<https://www.blm.gov/careers>

In 2020, the BLM ranked 322d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=IN05>

Climate Change

Climate change presents challenges to the BLM as it manages inland freshwater ecosystems (e.g., lakes, rivers, streams, wetlands) and coastal wetlands. Researchers project the disappearance of cold-water fish from large areas of their current geographic ranges as streams become more sporadic and warmer; the expansion of the ranges of warm-water fish as surface waters warm; and more frequent and widespread algal blooms that adversely affect water quality.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/fish-and-wildlife/fisheries-and-aquatics/about-the-program>

Contact Information

Contact information is available online.

<https://www.blm.gov/office/national-office>

Data Resources

The BLM regularly gathers, maintains, and publishes data to inform stakeholders and the general public. These data include detailed information on the commercial uses of the public lands; recreational activities and revenues; wild horse and burro management; cadastral (i.e., mapping) surveys; conservation of rangeland resources and 870 special units (e.g., wilderness areas); and the socioeconomic effects of public land management.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/data>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BLM has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/land-management-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives the right to request access to BLM records to anyone. In response to a FOIA request, the BLM will disclose the desired information, unless this right of access is restricted by one of nine exemptions or three special law enforcement record exclusions that shield certain records, or parts of them, from disclosure. More information on the FOIA and instructions for submitting a request are available on the BLM website. Phone, 202-912-7650.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/foia> | Email: blm\_wo\_foia@blm.gov

Before submitting a records request in writing to the FOIA officer, the requester should check that the information being sought is not already publicly accessible. The BLM maintains an electronic FOIA reading room where it posts records that have been released into the public domain in response to previous requests.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/foia/foia-reading-room>

General Land Office Records

The General Land Office Records website allows visitors to access Federal land conveyance records for the Public Land States (i.e., States created out of the public domain). The website contains images of more than five million Federal land title records that were issued since 1820. It also has images related to survey plats and field notes dating back to 1810.

<https://www.blm.gov/services/land-records>

Geographic Information System (GIS) Data

BLM Navigator serves as a centralized location for accessing project, State, and national geospatial data.

<https://navigator.blm.gov/home>

The Landscape Approach Data Portal is a one-stop source for geospatial data, maps, models, and reports that BLM's landscape initiatives have produced.

<https://landscape.blm.gov/geoportal/catalog/main/home.page>

History

A timeline that is structured around the enactment of land management legislation is available online. Specific public laws have guided the BLM's mission, and the passage of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 was the culmination of that process of policymaking.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/history/timeline>

Information Center

The "Information Center" web page has links to BLM policy, congressional testimony, Federal Register, live events, magazines and newsletters, notices, Office of Civil Rights, press releases, public room (brochures, maps, reports), and social media web pages.

<https://www.blm.gov/media>

Kids

Giving young people the opportunity to learn outdoors and recreate on public lands promotes the development of the next generation of public land stewards and conservation leaders.

<https://www.blm.gov/kids>

Library

The library has professional staff who can assist BLM employees nationwide. The library staff is also available to assist members of the general public seeking BLM publications and information. The library offers a range of resources and services that include journals, databases, publications, subject guides, and an online library catalog.

<https://www.blm.gov/learn/blm-library> | Email: blm\_library@blm.gov

Management

The BLM manages public lands in accordance with the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/how-we-manage>

The BLM manages one in every 10 acres of land in the United States, and approximately 30 percent of the Nation's minerals. These lands and their minerals are found in each of the 50 States in diverse ecosystems like arctic tundra, deserts, forests, mountains, and grasslands.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/what-we-manage>

Maps

Map and geospatial products inform BLM decision making. These maps and products are becoming more accessible online.

<https://www.blm.gov/maps>

Paleontology

The BLM manages more than 245 million acres of public lands where Deinonychus, Edmontosaurus, Pentaceratops, and Stegosaurus once roamed. To learn more, visit the BLM's "Paleontology" web pages.

<https://www.blm.gov/paleontology>

Recreation

The National Conservation Lands program offers online recreational guides for a convenient connection to public lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/visit>

The BLM website provides resources for mountain bikers. These resources include the BLM Top 20 Mountain

Biking Opportunities list and interactive mountain biking maps for trails on BLM lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/recreation/mountainbike>

Social Media

The BLM uses digital media tools to connect people with public lands and to keep people informed about activities on them.

<https://www.blm.gov/media/social-media>

Statistics

Tables and spreadsheets with data that include the numbers of BLM-administered oil and gas leases, of applications for permit to drill, and of oil and gas wells are accessible on the BLM website. Most of the statistics presented cover Fiscal Years 1988–2015.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/data/public-land-statistics>

Timber Sales

The availability of timber for harvest depends on the age and condition of the timber, land status, and public demand, as well as on other land use considerations.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/natural-resources/forests-and-woodlands/timber-sales>

Woody Biomass

Woody biomass is used to produce electricity and products like furniture, paper, and wood for housing.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/natural-resources/forests-and-woodlands/biomass-and-bioenergy>

The Sources of Information were updated 7–2021.

Bureau of Ocean Energy Management

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240-0001

202-208-6474

<http://www.boem.gov>

---

DIRECTOR *

Amanda Lefton

---

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Land and Minerals Management.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/boem-leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2021.

The Bureau of Ocean Energy Management manages development of U.S. Outer Continental Shelf energy and mineral resources in a way that is environmentally and economically responsible.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

In April of 2010, the Deepwater Horizon oil rig explosion and resulting oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico exposed inadequacies in the Federal offshore energy regulatory system. In response to the disaster, former Secretary of the Interior Kenneth L. Salazar issued two secretarial orders. On May 19, 2010, he issued Order 3299 "to separate and reassign the responsibilities that had been conducted by the Minerals Management Service [MMS] into new management structures that will improve the management, oversight, and accountability of activities on the Outer Continental Shelf [OCS]."

https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/elips/documents/3299a2-establishment\_of\_the\_bureau\_of\_ocean\_energy\_management\_the\_bureau\_of\_safety\_and\_environmental\_enforcement\_and\_the\_office\_of\_natural\_resources\_revenue.pdf

Within the Department of the Interior, Order 3299 initiated the establishment of the new Bureau of Ocean Energy Management (BOEM), whose director would report to the Assistant Secretary–Land and Minerals Management. The order also initiated the establishment of the new Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement (BSEE), whose director also would report to the same Assistant Secretary. A third new agency, the Office of Natural Resources Revenue, formerly the MMS's minerals revenue management program, would be established within the Department, and its director would report to a different Assistant Secretary.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/reorganization/reorganization-former-mms>

On June 18, 2010, former Secretary Salazar issued Order 3302, which announced that the MMS would be renamed the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, Regulation and Enforcement (BOEMRE) for the duration of the reorganization period.

https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/elips/documents/3302\_change\_of\_the\_name\_of\_the\_minerals\_management\_service\_to\_the\_bureau\_of\_ocean\_energy\_management\_regulation\_and\_enforcement.pdf

On October 1, 2011, BOEMRE rules and regulations that now applied to the BOEM were recodified in a new chapter by reorganization of 30 CFR. The establishment of the BOEM and its sibling the BSEE and the recodification of their respective rules and regulations in a revised second chapter and a newly added fifth chapter marked the completion of the reorganization of the former MMS.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2011-10-18/pdf/2011-22675.pdf>

The BOEM posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/boem-organizational-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Statutory material that affects mineral lands and mining is codified in 30 U.S.C. Chapter 26 of that title deals with deep seabed hard mineral resources.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title30/chapter26&edition=prelim>

Statutory material that affects public lands is codified in 43 U.S.C. Chapter 36 of that title deals with management of OCS resources.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title43/chapter36&edition=prelim>

BOEM rules and regulations are codified in chapter V, parts 500–599, of 30 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=9eabfe008f51a5c2935452c280fb4160&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title30/30chapterV.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

The BOEM manages the exploration and development of offshore energy and marine mineral resources on the OCS. The BOEM supports energy independence, environmental protection, and economic development by responsibly managing these offshore resources in ways that comport with the best available science.

The OCS is a significant source of oil and gas for the Nation's energy supply. OCS production accounts for about 18 percent of domestic crude oil and 4 percent of domestic natural gas supply. The BOEM manages about 2,674 active oil and gas leases on more than 14.2 million OCS acres. In fiscal year 2019, offshore Federal production reached approximately 683 million barrels of oil and 1.03 trillion cubic feet of gas, almost all of which was produced in the Gulf of Mexico.

<https://www.boem.gov/oil-gas-energy>

The BOEM manages offshore development of renewable energy in Federal waters. The renewable energy program began in 2009, when the Department of the Interior announced the final regulations for the OCS Renewable Energy Program, which the Energy Policy Act of 2005 had authorized. The regulations provide a framework for all of the activities that support the production and transmission of energy from sources other than oil and natural gas. The BOEM anticipates managing the development of more hydrokinetic and more offshore wind and solar energy on the OCS.

<https://www.boem.gov/renewable-energy>

The BOEM's environmental program covers the three major areas that the agency regulates on the OCS: oil and gas, renewable energy, and nonenergy minerals like sand, gravel, and hard minerals. The Office of Environmental Programs develops national policy, provides guidance, and coordinates with regional activities. The environmental program's two key functions are to support science and to conduct environmental assessments, which include consultations with stakeholders and other regulatory agencies to strengthen decision making. The Chief Environmental Officer also manages and leads engagement and consultation at the national and regional levels with federally recognized Tribes.

<https://www.boem.gov/environment>

The BOEM partners with communities through its marine minerals program to address erosion along the Nation's barrier islands, coastal beaches, dunes, and wetlands. Erosion affects defense, energy, natural resources, public infrastructure, and tourism. To mitigate the effects of erosion, the BOEM leases gravel and sand and shell resources for nourishing beaches, protecting shorelines, and restoring wetlands. These resources are extracted from Federal waters on the OCS with environmental and safety oversight. The Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (PL 83–212) provides the authority to manage minerals on the OCS and the requirement to provide environmental oversight. BOEM is the only Federal agency with the authority to lease marine minerals from the

OCS.

<https://www.boem.gov/marine-minerals>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that MMS records have been assigned to record group 473. The MMS is the predecessor agency to the BOEM. See the above "Establishment and Organization" section.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/473.html>

Business Opportunities

Information on doing business with the BOEM and related links are available on the "Procurement Business Opportunities" website.

<http://www.boem.gov/Doing-Business-with-BOEM>

Calendar

The BOEM maintains an online events calendar.

<http://www.boem.gov/Upcoming-Events>

Career Opportunities

The BOEM relies on professionals with engineering and science backgrounds for ensuring the safe and environmentally responsible development of the Nation's offshore energy and marine mineral resources.

<http://www.boem.gov/employment>

In 2020, the BOEM ranked 58th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/IN12>

Contact Information

Information is available on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/contact-us>

Educational Resources

BOEM teacher resources are available online.

<http://www.boem.gov/Environmental-Studies-Program-Teacher-Resources>

Factsheets

The BOEM posts factsheets on the following topics: about the agency, environment, marine minerals, oil and gas energy, and renewable energy.

<https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/boem-fact-sheets>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BOEM has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/ocean-energy-management-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Effective on July 5, 1967, the FOIA gives any person a right to obtain access to Federal agency records; however, nine exemptions and three special law enforcement exclusions shield certain records, or parts of them, from public disclosure. A FOIA request may be made for any agency record. Instructions for submitting a BOEM record request under the FOIA are available online. The BOEM operates a FOIA requester service center. Phone, 703-787-1128.

<https://www.boem.gov/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The BOEM posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/frequently-asked-questions>

Glossaries

The BOEM has posted a glossary of ecological terms.

<https://www.boem.gov/sites/default/files/boem-newsroom/Technical-Announcements/2016/Chapter-7-Glossary-of-Ecological-Terms.pdf>

The BOEM has posted a glossary of terms that are associated with wind energy.

<https://www.boem.gov/sites/default/files/renewable-energy-program/Studies/FEIS/Section12.0Glossary.pdf>

Greenhouse Gas Emissions

BOEM OCS Report 2016–065, whose authors are E. Wolvovsky. and W. Anderson, is titled "OCS Oil and Natural Gas: Potential Lifecycle Greenhouse Gas Emissions and Social Cost of Carbon." The report's key findings are the following: Most lifecycle greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions are the result of oil and gas products consumption; the price of oil and gas and production volume have a large effect on the amount of oil and gas lifecycle GHG emissions; the magnitude of emissions and their related social costs are comparable for the 2017–2022 program and the 2017–2022 program's "No Action Alternative"; the production of oil and gas from other global sources can be more carbon-intense relative to oil and gas that are produced on the OCS; absent policy changes or technological advancements, OCS emissions could consume a measurable increment of the remaining worldwide and domestic GHG emissions budget.

<https://www.boem.gov/sites/default/files/oil-and-gas-energy-program/Leasing/Five-Year-Program/2017-2022/OCS-Report-BOEM-2016-065---OCS-Oil-and-Natural-Gas---Potential-Lifecycle-GHG-Emissions-and-Social-Cost-of-Carbon.pdf>

Historic Preservation

Archaeologists in Office of Renewable Energy Programs coordinate studies and conduct National Historic Preservation Act reviews to identify and protect archaeological sites and other historic properties. OCS historic properties include aircraft, lighthouses, precontact (European contact with Native Americans) archaeological sites, and shipwrecks. Historic properties onshore come under review when a proposed renewable energy project may affect them. To learn more about investigating the steamship "City of Houston" and German submarine "U-576" and other preservation activities, visit the "Historic Preservation Activities" web page.

<https://www.boem.gov/Renewable-Energy/Historic-Preservation-Activities>

Library

The BOEM website has an electronic library.

<http://www.boem.gov/Library>

Marine Minerals

Mineral resources from the OCS are used in coastal restoration projects to address erosion. The BOEM has conveyed rights to millions of cubic yards of OCS sand for coastal restoration projects in multiple States. These projects have restored hundreds of miles of the Nation's coastline, protecting both infrastructure and ecological habitat. The BOEM posts key marine mineral statistics on its website.

<https://www.boem.gov/marine-minerals/current-statistics/current-marine-minerals-statistics> | Email: MarineMinerals@boem.gov

Oil / Gas

The BOEM has posted the 2017–2022 lease sale schedule and 2017–2022 quicklinks on its "Leasing" web page.

<https://www.boem.gov/oil-gas-energy/leasing/2017-2022-lease-sale-schedule>

Posters

Colorful BOEM posters that promote maritime history, ocean science and stewardship, and awareness of marine animals and their habitats are available from the Gulf of Mexico Public Information Office. Phone, 800-200-4853.

<http://www.boem.gov/BOEM-Posters>

Press Releases

The BOEM posts press releases.

https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/news-items?news\_type=11

Regional Offices

The BOEM operates three regional offices, one for the Alaska Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) region, one for the Pacific OCS region, and one for the Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic OCS regions. Phone, 907-334-5200 (Alaska). Phone, 805-384-6305 (Pacific). Phone, 800-200-4853 (Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic).

<https://www.boem.gov/regions>

Renewable Energy

A list of leases that the BOEM has executed since the inception of its renewable energy program is available online.

<http://www.boem.gov/Lease-and-Grant-Information>

The BOEM collaborates with States on offshore energy development and is in the process of coordinating Federal-State task forces in certain coastal States. A summary of the status of activity in the various States is available online.

<https://www.boem.gov/Renewable-Energy-Program/State-Activities/Index.aspx>

Science / Technology

"Ocean Science" is BOEM's science and technology journal. The agency is a leading contributor to the growing body of scientific knowledge on the Nation's marine and coastal environments.

<https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/library/ocean-science>

Shipwrecks

The BOEM Alaskan shipwreck table is the most comprehensive compilation of Alaskan shipwrecks to date. The table offers a list of wrecks that occurred in Alaskan waters from 1741 to 2011. The "Shipwrecks Off Alaska's Coast" web page also features maritime history, ship, and shipwreck links to external websites.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/shipwrecks-alaskas-coast>

Site Map

The website map helps visitors find specific topics or allows them to browse the site's contents.

<https://www.boem.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The BOEM maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/BureauOfOceanEnergyManagement>

The BOEM tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/BOEM>

The BOEM has a YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCXL807nkJMCuxNj5kF09LLQ/featured>

Statistics / Facts

BOEM collects data on its offshore oil and gas energy programs and makes them available in multiple formats.

<https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/statistics-and-facts>

The above Sources of Information were updated 7–2021.

Bureau of Reclamation

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-513-0575

<http://www.usbr.gov>

---

COMMISSIONER *

Brenda W. Burman

---

<https://www.usbr.gov/newsroom/presskit/bios/index.cfm>

* The Commissioner reports to the Assistant Secretary of Water and Science.

---

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Bureau of Reclamation develops, manages, and protects water and related resources in a way that is environmentally and economically responsible and that benefits the American public.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On June 17, 1902, President Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., approved an act to appropriate "the receipts from the sale and disposal of public lands in certain States and Territories to the construction of irrigation works for the reclamation of arid lands." Pursuant to Public Law 161 (32 Stat. 388), which is popularly known as the Reclamation Act or National Irrigation Act of 1902, former Secretary of the Interior Ethan A. Hitchcock established the U.S. Reclamation Service (USRS) in the Geological Survey in July.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/57th-congress/session-1/c57s1ch1093.pdf>

In 1907, the USRS separated from the Geological Survey and became an independent bureau within the Department of the Interior. Sixteen years later, the independent USRS was renamed the Bureau of Reclamation.

<https://www.usbr.gov/history/2019%20NEW%20BRIEF%20HISTORY%20V1.pdf>

On August 4, 1977, President James E. Carter approved Public Law 95–91, which is also cited as the Department of Energy Organization Act. The law transferred the Bureau's power marketing functions to the Department of Energy (91 STAT. 578) as part of an effort "to secure effective management to assure a coordinated national energy policy" (STAT. 565).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-91/pdf/STATUTE-91-Pg565.pdf>

On November 6, 1979, former Secretary of the Interior Cecil D. Andrus issued Secretarial Order 3042, which changed the Bureau's name to the Water and Power Resources Service (WPRS). On May 18, 1981, former Secretary of the Interior James G. Watt issued Secretarial Order 3064, which renamed the WPRS the Bureau of Reclamation (BR).

The BR posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

https://www.usbr.gov/main/images/br\_org\_chart.pdf

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Codified statutory material dealing the Federal Government's reclamation and irrigation of public lands is found in 43 U.S.C. chapter 12. The Reclamation Act of 1902 is classified generally to this chapter.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title43/chapter12&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that affect public lands and that are associated with the BR are codified in 43 CFR 400–999 (subtitle B, chapter I).

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=f90eabe3636e1549dfc39643c94595c2&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title43/43chapter1.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

The BR is the largest wholesaler of water in the United States. It brings water to more than 31 million people and provides 140,000 Western farmers with irrigation water for 10 million acres of farmland. This irrigated farmland produces 60% of the Nation's vegetables and 25% of its fruits and nuts.

The Bureau is also the second largest producer of hydroelectric power in the United States. Its 53 powerplants produce annually more than 40 billion kilowatt hours of electricity, earning nearly $1 billion in revenues and generating enough energy for 3.5 million homes.

<http://www.usbr.gov/main/about/mission.html>

The BR's approach to water resource development has evolved over the years: from single-purpose agricultural projects to projects of multipurpose whose scope includes promoting water-based outdoor recreation. Recreation sites that are developed as a result of BR water projects rank among the Nation's most popular places for water-based outdoor recreation. These projects include approximately 6.5 million acres of land and water that are, for the most part, open to the public for recreation.

<https://www.usbr.gov/recreation>

The BR also engages in conservation activities to support native species and their habitats. In partnership with Arizona, California, and Nevada, the BR implemented a program to conserve native species and habitats across the Colorado River Basin. In partnership with the Bonneville Power Administration, Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, and U.S. Forest Service, the BR implemented a project to increase mainstem and off-channel habitat in a segment of the Grand Ronde River. The BR also tries to prevent invasive quagga and zebra mussels from spreading. These bivalve mollusks adversely affect the natural ecology, which harms endangered native species. The disruption that they visit upon ecosystems can cause new listings under the Endangered Species Act. Mussel infestations threaten agriculture, navigation locks, and biodiversity that supports the Western outdoor recreation industry.

<https://www.usbr.gov/conservation/>

BR operations and facilities support flood control. Its programs also mitigate the effects of drought through contingency planning, resiliency projects, and emergency response actions.

<https://www.usbr.gov/drought/>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The BR website has an A–Z index to help visitors navigate its content.

<https://www.usbr.gov/main/index/>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BR records have been assigned to record group 115.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/115.html>

Art Collection

In the late 1960s, the BR launched a program to present its accomplishments through art. The Bureau commissioned 40 of America's most prominent artists to visit BR water resource development sites and record their impressions on canvas. When the project was completed, the artists had created more than 375 pieces of artwork. In the early 1970s, the public had an opportunity to view much of the work in a traveling exhibition that was circulated by the Smithsonian Institution and entitled "The American Artist and Water Reclamation." The BR maintains about 200 pieces of the original artwork. Many of the paintings are on display at the Main Interior Building and some regional offices.

<https://www.usbr.gov/museumproperty/art/homepage.html>

Business Opportunities

The BR purchases a wide range of products and services and supports various Federal socioeconomic development programs by assisting businesses. The Bureau also provides financial assistance for programs related to conservation, Endangered Species Act mitigation, rural water, and water management and reclamation and reuse. Phone, 303-445-2431.

<http://www.usbr.gov/mso/aamd/doing-business.html>

Career Opportunities

The BR relies on professionals with expertise in administration, engineering and design, environmental protection, research, wildlife management, and other disciplines to carry out its mission. Career-related information is available from the nearest regional office or from the Diversity and Human Resources Office, Denver, CO. Phone, 303-445-2684.

<https://www.usbr.gov/hr/contact.html>

In 2019, the BR ranked 121st among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/IN07>

Climate Change Risks

The SECURE Water Act (123 STAT. 1329) is part of Public Law 111-11 (123 STAT. 991-1456), whose short title is the Omnibus Public Land Management Act of 2009. Section 9503(c) authorizes the BR to assess climate change risks for water and environmental resources in major river basins that it manages. Section 9503(c) also authorizes the BR to evaluate potential climate change effects on water resource management and development of strategies. Since the law's enactment on March 30, 2009, the BR has prepared two "SECURE Water Act Section 9503(c)—Reclamation Climate Change and Water" reports for the U.S. Congress.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-123/pdf/STATUTE-123-Pg991.pdf>

"SECURE Water Act Section 9503(c)—Reclamation Climate Change and Water 2016" is the second and most recent report that the BR has prepared for Congress. In the report's first chapter, its authors wrote: "[The Act] recognizes that climate change poses a significant challenge to the protection of adequate and safe supplies of water, which are fundamental to the health, economy, security, and ecology of the United States." The next SECURE Water Act report is scheduled for preparation and delivery to the U.S. Congress in 2021.

<https://www.usbr.gov/climate/secure/docs/2016secure/2016SECUREREport.pdf>

Contact Information

Contact information for the Washington, DC, and Denver, CO, based offices and Upper Colorado, Great Plains, Lower Colorado, Mid-Pacific, and Pacific Northwest regional offices is available on the "Addresses and Contacts" web page.

<http://www.usbr.gov/main/offices.html>

Media contact information is posted online.

<https://www.usbr.gov/newsroom/presskit/mediacountact.html>

Contact information for the Acquisition and Assistance Management Division is posted online.

<https://www.usbr.gov/mso/aamd/org-contact.html>

Cooperative Agricultural Weather Network (AgriMet)

In cooperation with local, State, and other Federal sponsors, the BR promotes energy and water conservation through AgriMet, which is a network of more than 90 automated weather stations that collect and telemeter site-specific weather data. The original AgriMet program started in the Pacific Northwest in the 1980s and was expanded into the Great Plains region.

Great Plains Region—

<https://www.usbr.gov/gp/agrimet/index.html>

Pacific Northwest—

<https://www.usbr.gov/pn/agrimet/>

Environmental Resources and Reports

The BR maintains a list of links to online resources that provide environmental information.

<http://www.usbr.gov/environmental>

Factsheet

The BR posts a factsheet on its website.

<https://www.usbr.gov/main/about/fact.html>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BR has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/reclamation-bureau>

The BR maintains a "Federal Register Notices and Rulemaking" web page.

<https://www.usbr.gov/fedreg/index.html>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes a presumption that records in the possession of Federal agencies are accessible to the public. Before the law was passed in 1966, the individual had to establish a right to examine Government records. Passage of the FOIA shifted the burden of proof from the individual to the Government: A "right to know" doctrine replaced a "need to know" standard. The law established standards for determining records that must be disclosed and records that can be withheld. The law also provided administrative and judicial remedies for information seekers who have been denied access to records.

<http://www.usbr.gov/foia/contacts.html>

The BR maintains an electronic reading room that contains frequently requested records and documents that are currently of special interest. Information seekers should avail themselves of this online resource to determine if the information that they seek is immediately available and readily accessible without the additional step of filing a FOIA request.

<http://www.usbr.gov/foia/readroom.html>

Glossaries

Definitions for terms commonly used by the BR are accessible in its online glossary.

<http://www.usbr.gov/library/glossary>

The BR maintains a separate online glossary of recreation-related terms.

<http://www.usbr.gov/recreation/glossary.html>

Hydrologic and Meteorologic Monitoring (HydroMet)

The BR operates a network of automated Hydromet stations, including their communications and computer systems, throughout the Great Plains and the Pacific Northwest regions. The Hydromet network collects remote environmental and water data and transmits them via radio and satellite. The Hydromet network provides cost-effective, near-real-time water management capability. Streamflow forecasts and current river and reservoir operations conditions are then calculated by combining Hydromet data with other information.

Great Plains Region—

<https://www.usbr.gov/gp/hydromet>

Pacific Northwest—

<https://www.usbr.gov/pn/hydromet/>

Invasive Mussels

Two species of dreissenid mussels, namely quagga and zebra, have become established in U.S. freshwater lakes, reservoirs, and rivers. Invasive dreissenid mussels pose significant challenges for all agencies and industries that manage water because they are prolific breeders and settle on or within water facility infrastructure.

<https://www.usbr.gov/mussels>

Library

The BR's website has an online search tool that allows visitors to search the electronic library catalog. External patrons may use the library, which is located in Denver, CO, by appointment only, 8:00 a.m.–3:00 p.m. Phone, 303-445-2072.

<https://www.usbr.gov/library/> | Email: library@usbr.gov

Multimedia Media

Links to BR's historic photographs and photograph database are available on the "Reclamation Multimedia" web page. Other links that lead to podcasts on water management and to Really Simple Syndication (RSS) feeds also are available. BR Social Media links include Facebook, Flickr, Instagram, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.usbr.gov/main/multimedia/index.html#social>

News

The BR posts news releases and stories, as well as congressional testimony, factsheets, photos, and speeches.

<http://www.usbr.gov/newsroom/newsrelease>

Outdoor Recreation / Cultural Activities

The BR participates in Recreation.gov. This partnership of twelve Government agencies provides information on all recreation facilities on Federal lands, including those owned and managed by the BR. Online visitors may use the Recreation.gov website to make reservations at facilities requiring them.

<https://www.recreation.gov/about-us>

Publications

The BR posts publications on its website.

<https://www.usbr.gov/library/reclamationpubs.html>

Reclamation Manual

The BR's website has an online tool that allows users to search for keywords and terms in the "Reclamation Manual." The manual comprises a series of policy and directives and standards, which collectively assign program responsibility and establish and document agencywide methods of doing business.

<http://www.usbr.gov/recman>

Research / Science

The Research and Development Office publishes the quarterly magazine "Knowledge Stream," whose content centers on mission-critical news about research and science and on the challenges of managing water and generating power in the American West.

<https://www.usbr.gov/research/ks.html>

Water Conservation

The WaterSMART program allows all Department of the Interior bureaus to work with States, tribes, local governments, and nongovernmental organizations to pursue a sustainable water supply for the Nation by establishing a framework that provides Federal leadership and assistance on the efficient use of water, that integrates water and energy policies to support the sustainable use of all natural resources, and that coordinates the water conservation activities of the various departmental offices.

<https://www.usbr.gov/watersmart>

The Sources of Information were updated 2–2020.

Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-3985

<http://www.bsee.gov>

---

DIRECTOR *

Scott A. Angelle

---

<https://www.bsee.gov/who-we-are/our-organization/leadership>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Land and Minerals Management.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement promotes safety, protects the environment, and conserves resources offshore by overseeing the regulatory process and enforcing Federal rules and regulations.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

In April of 2010, the Deepwater Horizon oil rig explosion and resulting oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico exposed inadequacies in the Federal offshore energy regulatory system. In response to the disaster, former Secretary of the Interior Kenneth L. Salazar issued two secretarial orders. On May 19, 2010, he issued Order 3299 "to separate and reassign the responsibilities that had been conducted by the Minerals Management Service [MMS] into new management structures that will improve the management, oversight, and accountability of activities on the Outer Continental Shelf [OCS]."

https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/elips/documents/3299a2-establishment\_of\_the\_bureau\_of\_ocean\_energy\_management\_the\_bureau\_of\_safety\_and\_environmental\_enforcement\_and\_the\_office\_of\_natural\_resources\_revenue.pdf

Within the Department of the Interior, Order 3299 initiated the establishment of the new Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement (BSEE), whose director would report to the Assistant Secretary–Land and Minerals Management. The order also initiated the establishment of the new Bureau of Ocean Energy Management (BOEM), whose director also would report to the same Assistant Secretary. A third new agency, the Office of Natural Resources Revenue (ONRR), formerly the MMS's minerals revenue management program, would be established within the Department, and its director would report to the Assistant Secretary–Policy, Management and Budget.

On June 18, 2010, former Secretary Salazar issued Order 3302, which announced that the MMS would be renamed the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, Regulation and Enforcement (BOEMRE) for the duration of the reorganization period.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/safety-and-environmental-enforcement-bureau>

On October 1, 2010, the functions of the MMS's minerals revenue management program were transferred to the ONRR. A few days later, the ONRR published a final rule in the Federal Register to move the regulations associated with its royalty and revenue functions from chapter II in 30 CFR to chapter XII in the same title.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2010-10-04/pdf/2010-24721.pdf>

A year later, in October of 2011, 30 CFR was reorganized. BOEMRE rules and regulations that now applied to the BOEM were recodified in a new fifth chapter; the rules and regulations that now applied to the BSEE were recodified in a revised second chapter. The establishment of the BSEE and its sibling the BOEM and the reorganization of 30 CFR marked the completion of separating and reassigning the responsibilities of the former MMS.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2011-10-18/pdf/2011-22675.pdf>

The BSEE posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.bsee.gov/who-we-are/our-organization>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material affecting "Deep Seabed Hard Mineral Resources" is codified in chapter 26, sections 1401–1473, of 30 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title30/chapter26&edition=prelim>

BSEE rules and regulations are codified in chapter II, parts 200–299, of 30 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=e5dd5863d76dc4809df5de6afce53bf6&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title30/30chapterII.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The BSEE promotes safety, protects the environment, and conserves resources on the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) through regulatory oversight and enforcement. The Offshore Regulatory Program develops standards and regulations to improve operational safety and to strengthen environmental protection. The Oil Spill Preparedness Division develops standards and guidelines for offshore operators. It also collaborates with sister agencies on spill response technologies and capabilities.

Three regional offices support the Bureau. Their personnel inspect gas and oil drilling rigs and production platforms to ensure compliance with safety requirements. Inspection teams are multiperson, and the expertise of their members spans a range of disciplines.

<https://www.bsee.gov/what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that MMS records have been assigned to record group 473. The MMS is the predecessor agency to the BSEE. See the above "Establishment and Organization" section.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/473.html>

Business Opportunities

Information on doing business with the BSEE is available online.

<http://www.bsee.gov/About-BSEE/Doing-Business-with-BSEE/index>

Career Opportunities

The BSEE relies on professionals with backgrounds in biology, geology, geophysics, engineering, and other fields to carry out its mission.

<http://www.bsee.gov/careers>

In 2019, the BSEE ranked 128th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/IN11>

Contact Information

To contact the BSEE, visit the "Connect With Us" web page, where addresses (email and postal) and phone numbers are available.

<https://www.bsee.gov/who-we-are/connect>

Director's Corner

Director Scott A. Angelle posts his thoughts and views on issues facing the BSEE and America's offshore oil and gas industry. "Energy Dominance Requires New Thinking" (SEP 2017) was the first piece that he posted.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/directors-corner>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BSEE has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/safety-and-environmental-enforcement-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives the public the right to request Federal agency records and requires Federal agencies to make certain records available. The BSEE website serves as the portal to the agency's FOIA program. The FOIA is based on the principle of openness in Government: Any person has a right of access to Federal agency records, except to the extent that such records or portions of them are protected from disclosure by exemption or by special law-enforcement record exclusion.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/foia>

The BSEE maintains an electronic FOIA reading room.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/FOIA-Reading-Room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The BSEE promotes safety, protects the environment, and conserves resources offshore through regulatory oversight and enforcement. To carry out its mission, the BSEE relies on a wide range of world-class professionals.

The BSEE posts answers to questions that its experts are asked frequently.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/frequently-asked-questions> | Email: webmaster@bsee.gov

Glossary

This glossary contains common oil and gas exploration and leasing terms, many of which are unique to the drilling industry.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/glossary>

News

The BSEE newsroom contains feature stories, media advisories, news briefs, photos and videos, press releases, and posts from the Director. The briefing room contains annual reports, congressional testimony, factsheets, speeches, statements, and technical presentations.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom>

Offshore Statistics

The BSEE posts offshore statistics and facts on its website.

<https://www.bsee.gov/stats-facts>

Reading Room

The Bureau's Deepwater Horizon electronic reading room contains documents that deal with the BP/Deepwater Horizon explosion and ensuing oil spill and that have been cleared for public release.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/archive/deepwater-horizon-reading-room>

Regional Offices

Information on the BSEE's three geographic regions—Alaska OCS, Gulf of Mexico OCS, and Pacific OCS—and their respective regional offices is available on the "BSEE Regions" web page.

<http://www.bsee.gov/About-BSEE/BSEE-Regions/BSEE-Regions>

Site Map

The website map helps visitors find specific topics or allows them to browse the site's contents.

<https://www.bsee.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The BSEE has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/BSEEGov/>

The BSEE tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/BSEEGov>

The Sources of Information were updated 4–2020.

National Park Service

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-6843

<http://www.nps.gov>

---

DIRECTOR *

R. David Vela, Acting

---

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/director.htm>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Fish and Wildlife and Parks.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The National Park Service (NPS) was established in the Department of the Interior on August 25, 1916 (16 U.S.C. 1).

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/index.htm>

The National Park Service protects the natural and cultural resources and values of the National Park System for the benefit of present and future generations. The National Park System comprises 401 units. These units include national parks, monuments and memorials, battlefield sites and national military parks, scenic parkways, preserves and reserves, trails and riverways, rivers and lakeshores and seashores, recreation areas, and historic sites of American or international importance. The Service also manages a variety of national and international programs to promote natural and cultural resource conservation and to expand the benefits of outdoor recreation.

The NPS develops and implements park management plans and staffs the areas under its administration. Through exhibits, films, publications talks, tours, and other interpretive media, it promotes the natural values of these areas and communicates their historical significance to the public. The NPS operates a range of visitor facilities, including campgrounds, and provides a variety of food, lodging, and transportation services.

The National Park Service also administers the State portion of the Land and Water Conservation Fund, State comprehensive outdoor recreation planning, nationwide outdoor recreation coordination and information, the National Register of Historic Places and the National Trails System, natural area programs, national historic landmarks and historic preservation, technical preservation services, the historic American engineering record and buildings survey, interagency archeological services, and planning and technical assistance for the national wild and scenic rivers system.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

America the Beautiful Passes

A pass may be used at more than 2,000 Federal recreation sites. A pass covers entrance fees at national parks and national wildlife refuges, as well as standard amenity fees and day use fees at national forests and grasslands and at lands managed by the Bureaus of Land Management and Reclamation and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Five types of America the Beautiful passes are available: access, annual, annual fourth grade, senior, and volunteer.

<https://www.nps.gov/planyourvisit/passes.htm>

Business Opportunities

Visit the "Doing Business With Us" Web page to find information on commercial tours, contracts and procurement, National Park concessions, and special park uses, including commercial filming.

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/doingbusinesswithus.htm>

Career Opportunities

To find permanent and seasonal NPS career opportunities online, visit USAJobs, the Federal Government's official source for Federal job listings.

<https://my.usajobs.gov>

Additional information on internships, permanent careers, seasonal opportunities, and volunteering is available on the "Work With Us" Web page.

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/workwithus.htm>

Directories

An online text box allows Internet visitors to search for NPS employees by last name.

<https://www.nps.gov/directory>

A park directory (SEP 2016) that includes park addresses, codes, phone numbers, and superintendents is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/upload/NPS-Park-Listing-09-01-16.pdf>

Find a Park

NPS website visitors may search for a park by name or by State.

<https://www.nps.gov/findapark/index.htm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Instructions for submitting a FOIA request to obtain NPS records are available online.

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/foia/index.htm>

The NPS maintains an electronic FOIA library on its website.

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/foia/foia-reading-room.htm>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The NPS posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/faqs.htm>

Glossaries

The NPS's National Center for Preservation Technology and Training maintains an extensive glossary of building stone terms.

<https://ncptt.nps.gov/buildingstone/glossary>

The online series "Defining the Southwest" includes a glossary of terms that are often encountered in discussions of the cultures and environments of the American Southwest.

<https://www.nps.gov/articles/southwest-glossary.htm>

A glossary of geologic terms that the NPS and U.S. Geological Survey western Earth surface processes team compiled is available on the NPS website.

<http://www.nature.nps.gov/geology/usgsnps/misc/glossaryAtoC.html> | Email: parkgeology@den.nps.gov

Grants

Information is available online for grants authorized under the Land and Water Conservation Fund. Phone, 202-354-6900.

<http://www.nps.gov/lwcf/index.htm>

Information is also available online for grants authorized under the Historic Preservation Fund. Phone, 202-354-2067.

<http://www.nps.gov/preservation-grants>

News

The NPS posts new releases online.

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/news/news-releases.htm>

The NPS website has a multimedia section that includes audio, photographs, videos, and webcam.

<https://www.nps.gov/media/multimedia-search.htm>

The NPS tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/natlparkservice>

The NPS maintains a Facebook page.

<https://www.facebook.com/nationalparkservice>

Publications

To explain decisions, document information, and disseminate knowledge, the NPS uses a variety of publications, many of which are accessible online. For example, "The National Parks: Index 2012–2016" can be downloaded as a PDF. The "Publications" Web page offers online access to contemporary and historic reports, periodicals, virtual stacks, and public databases.

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/publications.htm>

Some publications are available for purchase in hardcopy from the U.S. Government Bookstore. Phone, 202-512-1800. Phone, 866-512-1800.

<https://bookstore.gpo.gov/agency/222> | Email: contactcenter@gpo.gov

Regional Offices

Contact information is available online for NPS regional offices and parks and the Washington office.

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/contactinformation.htm>

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/contactus.htm>

For further information, contact the Office of Communications, National Park Service, Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240. Phone, 202-208-6843.

Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement

Department of the Interior, 1951 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-2565

TDD, 202-208-2694

<http://www.osmre.gov>

---

DIRECTOR *

Lanny E. Erdos, Acting

---

<https://www.osmre.gov/about/Director.shtm>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Land and Minerals Management.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement (OSMRE) was established in the Department of the Interior by the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 (30 U.S.C. 1211).

<http://www.osmre.gov/about.shtm>

The OSMRE carries out the requirements of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act in cooperation with States and tribes. The Office protects people and the environment from the adverse effects of coal mining. The OSMRE assures that land is restored to beneficial use after mining operations cease, and it mitigates the effects of past operations by reclamation of abandoned coal mines. The Office mainly oversees State mining regulatory and abandoned-mine reclamation programs, assists States in meeting the objectives of surface mining law, and regulates mining and reclamation activities on Federal and Indian lands and in those States opting not to assume primary responsibility for regulating coal mining and reclamation activities within their borders.

The Office establishes national policy for the surface mining control and reclamation program, reviews and approves amendments to previously approved State programs, and reviews and recommends approval of new State program submissions. It also manages the collection, disbursement, and accounting of abandoned-mine land reclamation fees; administers civil penalties programs; establishes technical standards and regulatory policy for reclamation and enforcement; offers guidance for environmental considerations, research, training, and technology transfers; and monitors and evaluates State and tribal regulatory programs, cooperative agreements, and abandoned-mine land reclamation programs.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Abandoned Mine Land Inventory System

To provide information for implementing the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, the OSMRE maintains an inventory of land and water affected by past mining. The inventory contains information on the location, type, and extent of abandoned mine land impacts, as well as information on the reclamation costs. The inventory is based on field surveys by State, tribal, and OSMRE program officials.

<https://amlis.osmre.gov/About.aspx>

Business Opportunities

Information to assist small business operators and owners is available online. For additional information, contact the Acquisition Management Branch. Phone, 202-208-2902.

<http://www.osmre.gov/contacts/business.shtm>

Career Opportunities

To find employment opportunities at the OSMRE, visit the "Jobs at OSMRE" Web page and click on the USAJobs quick link.

<http://www.osmre.gov/contacts/jobs.shtm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

A FOIA request for OSMRE records may be submitted via electronic or postal mail or by using the Department of the Interior's electronic request form and selecting "Office of Surface Mining" in the drop-down menu.

<http://www.osmre.gov/lrg/foia.shtm> | Email: foia@osmre.gov

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The OSMRE posts answers to FAQs online.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/FAQs.shtm>

The OSMRE website also has a "How Do I?" section.

<http://www.osmre.gov/howdoi.shtm>

Grants

Information on regulatory program grants and abandoned mine land grants is available on the OSMRE website.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/grants.shtm>

Library

The general public may use the OSMRE online library catalog to locate legal and technical information.

<http://o10007.eos-intl.net/O10007/OPAC/Index.aspx>

Mine Maps

The National Mine Map Repository collects and maintains mine map information and images for the entire country.

<http://mmr.osmre.gov>

An index that includes over 180,000 maps of closed and abandoned mines is available online. The index serves as an inventory for determining which maps are available. To obtain actual copies of maps, contact the National Mine Map Repository. Fax, 412-937-2888.

<http://mmr.osmre.gov/MultiPub.aspx>

Most Requested Content

The OSMRE website maintains a collection of links for its most frequently requested web pages.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/mostRequested.shtm>

Newsroom

The newsroom features OSMRE stories and news releases.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/newsroom.shtm>

The OSMRE tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/OSMRE>

The OSMRE has a Facebook page.

<https://www.facebook.com/Office.of.Surface.Mining.Reclamation.Enforcement>

Regional Offices

Appalachian Region Office

<http://www.arcc.osmre.gov/contacts.shtm>

Mid-Continent Region Office

<http://www.mcrcc.osmre.gov/contacts.shtm>

Western Region Office

<http://www.wrcc.osmre.gov/contacts.shtm>

Resources

The OSMRE website has a section that is dedicated to electronic, informational resources.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources.shtm>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/sitemap.shtm>

An A–Z index is also available to help visitors find the information that they seek.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/AtoZ.shtm>

Top Priorities

The OSMRE website has a section highlighting the agency's major programs.

<https://www.osmre.gov/programs.shtm>

<http://www.osmre.gov/contacts.shtm> | Email: getinfo@osmre.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Communications, Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Department of the Interior, 1951 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20240. Phone, 202-208-2565. TDD, 202-208-2694.

United States Fish and Wildlife Service

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

703-358-4545

<http://www.fws.gov>

|                           |                  |
|---------------------------|------------------|
| DIRECTOR *                | (vacancy)        |
| Principal Deputy Director | Margaret Everson |

https://www.fws.gov/OFFICES/margaret\_everson.html

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Fish and Wildlife and Parks.

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) is the principal Federal agency dedicated to fish and wildlife conservation. The Service's history spans 145 years, dating from the establishment of its predecessor agency, the Bureau of Fisheries, in 1871. First created as an independent agency, the Bureau of Fisheries was later placed in the Department of Commerce. A second predecessor agency, the Bureau of Biological Survey, was established in 1885 in the Department of Agriculture. In 1939, the two Bureaus and their functions were transferred to the Department of the Interior. In 1940, they were consolidated into one agency and redesignated the Fish and Wildlife Service by Reorganization Plan No. 3 (5 U.S.C. app.).

<http://training.fws.gov/history/USFWS-history.html>

The USFWS statement of organization may be found in subchapter A, part 2, of 50 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

[SID=fd103790cdbf5f4aa28f53fa458756ca&mc=true&node=pt50.1.2&rgn=div5](https://www.usgovernmentmanual.gov/Agency?EntityId=8RoIoCqJqC0=&ParentEId=+klubNxcgV0o=&EType=jY3M4CTKVHY=[12/15/2021 2:09:49 PM])

The USFWS works with others to conserve, protect, and enhance fish, wildlife and plants and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people. The Service manages the 150-million-acre National Wildlife Refuge System, which comprises 563 refuges and 38 wetland management districts. It operates 72 national fish hatcheries, a historic national fish hatchery, 65 fishery resource offices, and 81 ecological service field stations. The USFWS enforces Federal wildlife laws, administers the Endangered Species Act, manages migratory bird populations, restores nationally significant fisheries, conserves and restores wildlife habitats, and assists foreign governments with conservation. It also collects excise taxes on fishing and hunting equipment and distributes the revenues to State fish and wildlife agencies.

The Service improves and maintains fish and wildlife resources by proper management of wildlife and habitat. It also helps meet public demand for wildlife dependent recreational activities by maintaining public lands and restoring native fish and wildlife populations.

Wildlife and fishery resource programs support the management of wildlife refuges on public lands. Wildlife-related activities include population control, migration and harvest surveys, and law and gaming enforcement for migratory and nonmigratory birds and mammals. Fishery-related activities include hatchery production monitoring, stocking, and fishery management. Fishery resource programs also provide technical assistance for coastal anadromous, Great Lakes, and other inland fisheries.

The USFWS identifies, protects, and restores endangered fish, wildlife, and plant species. It maintains Federal lists of endangered and threatened wildlife and plants that are published in the Code of Federal Regulations (50 CFR 17.11 et seq.), conducts status surveys, prepares recovery plans, and coordinates national and international wildlife refuge operations.

The Service protects and improves land and water environments to benefit living natural resources and to enhance the quality of human life. It administers grant programs that help imperiled species, assists private landowners restore habitat, assess environmental impact and reviews potential environmental threats, manages Coastal Barrier Resource System mapping, monitors potential wildlife contaminants, and studies fish and wildlife population trends.

Public use and information activities include preparing informational brochures and maintaining public websites; coordinating environmental studies on USFWS lands; operating visitor centers, self-guided nature trails, observation towers, and display ponds; and promoting birdwatching, fishing, hunting, wildlife photography, and other forms of wildlife-dependent outdoor recreation.

The Wildlife and Sport Fish Restoration Program supports the conservation and enhancement of the Nation's fish and wildlife resources. Excise taxes on sporting arms and fishing equipment fund these efforts.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that USFWS records have been assigned to record group 022.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/022.html>

Blog

"Open Spaces—A Talk on the Wild Side" is the name of the official USFWS blog.

<https://www.fws.gov/news/blog>

Business Opportunities

An online guide explains how to find business opportunities and to compete for them. Information is also available from regional offices and from the Division of Contracting and General Services in Falls Church, VA. Phone, 703-358-2500.

<http://www.fws.gov/cfm/Small%20Business/BusinessWith.html> | Email: small\_business\_opts@fws.gov

Career Opportunities

Information on careers in conservation is available on the USFWS website. Additional information is available from USFWS regional offices and the Human Capital Office in Falls Church, VA. Phone, 703-358-1743.

<https://www.fws.gov/humancapital>

In 2019, the USFWS ranked 157th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/IN15>

Climate Change

The USFWS website provides a collection of links and informational sources for learning about climate science and conservation in a changing climate.

<https://www.fws.gov/home/climatechange/resources.html>

Crimes Against Wildlife

To report a violation of wildlife laws or to learn about enforcement of them, visit the "Office of Law Enforcement" website, contact the nearest regional law enforcement office, or call the Office of Law Enforcement in Falls Church, VA. Phone, 703-358-1949.

<http://www.fws.gov/le> | Email: lawenforcement@fws.gov

The USFWS forensic laboratory is unique in its dedication to crimes against wildlife. Forensic experts examine, identify, and compare physical evidence to connect crime scenes, suspects, and victims with it.

<https://www.fws.gov/lab>

Endangered Species

The USFWS website features a search tool for learning about and identifying endangered species. The text boxes can search for an endangered species based on the State, U.S. Territory, or county where it lives, or according to its common or scientific name.

<https://www.fws.gov/endangered/?ref=topbar>

An online subscription form is available to receive breaking news affecting endangered species, endangered species news stories, and the "Endangered Species Bulletin" via email.

https://visitor.r20.constantcontact.com/manage/optin?v=001ip3iEJ-xkvrGM\_ZzpwhxaKQXTq4Cp14J

Energy Development

The USFWS website has a section that is dedicated to the development of domestic energy sources and its effect on wildlife.

<https://www.fws.gov/ecological-services/energy-development/energy.html>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the USFWS has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/fish-and-wildlife-service>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The USFWS makes records available, by law, to the public to the greatest extent possible. The records that are being sought already may be posted online. If the information cannot be found online or if the location of the desired records is uncertain, consider contacting the USFWS FOIA public liaison before submitting a FOIA request.

<https://www.fws.gov/irm/bpim/foia.html> | Email: fwhq\_foia@fws.gov

The USFWS maintains an electronic FOIA library and FOIA reading room on its website.

<https://www.fws.gov/irm/bpim/foiaread.html>

Glossaries

Ecological Services maintains an online glossary of terms found in environmental legislation.

<https://www.fws.gov/ecological-services/about/glossary.html>

The Midwest Region maintains an online glossary of terms associated with endangered species.

<https://www.fws.gov/midwest/endangered/glossary/index.html>

The USFWS website features a short glossary of National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) terms in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.fws.gov/r9esnepa/Intro/Glossary.PDF>

National Wildlife Refuges

For information on the National Wildlife Refuge System, including information on specific wildlife refuges and wetland management districts, visit the "National Wildlife Refuge System" website. Phone, 800-344-9453.

<http://www.fws.gov/refuges/index.html>

News Media Inquiries

Journalists, reporters, and other media professionals seeking information or to arrange an interview should contact a regional public affairs officer or the Division of Public Affairs in Falls Church, VA. Phone, 703-358-2220.

<http://www.fws.gov/external-affairs/contacts.html>

Newsroom

The USFWS posts news releases online.

<https://www.fws.gov/news>

Permits

Visit the "Do I Need a Permit" web page to learn the rules for importing, exporting, and reexporting protected species. Information on Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES) permits and certificates is also available from the Division of Management Authority. Phone, 800-358-2104 or 703-358-2093.

<http://www.fws.gov/international/permits/do-i-need-a-permit.html> | Email: managementauthority@fws.gov

Publications

The USFWS national publications unit is headquartered at the National Conservation Training Center in Shepherdstown, WV. It is the primary distribution center for printed material published by the USFWS. The publications unit handles requests from Federal and State agencies, businesses, educators, and the general public. USFWS publications include booklets, brochures, posters, and reports. Phone, 800-344-9543.

<http://nctc.fws.gov/resources/knowledge-resources>

Some publications may need to be ordered from the U.S. Government Bookstore, which the Government Publishing Office operates. Phone, 866-512-1800 (customer contact center). Phone, 202-512-0132 (store phone).

<https://bookstore.gpo.gov> | Email: ContactCenter@gpo.gov

Regional Offices

USFWS has regional offices that represent each of its geographic regions. Contact information for each of these regional offices is available on the USFWS website.

<https://www.fws.gov/external-affairs/contacts.html>

The Office of Law Enforcement, in addition to its national office in Falls Church, VA, maintains regional offices. Contact information for these offices is available on the USFWS website.

<https://www.fws.gov/le/regional-law-enforcement-offices.html>

A State list of other USFWS offices and their contact information is also available online.

<https://www.fws.gov/offices>

Social Media

The USFWS uses social media to communicate and connect with Internet users worldwide. The agency tweets from its Twitter accounts; maintains an Instagram feed and Pinterest board; posts videos on its YouTube channel and photographs on Flickr; and has Facebook, LinkedIn, and Google+ pages.

<http://www.fws.gov/home/socialmedia/index.html?ref=topbar>

Water Resource Development

The ecological services program includes USFWS participation in projects to develop water resources for meeting the needs of local communities and for conserving fish and wildlife. The USFWS works alongside the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation when participating in these development projects.

<https://www.fws.gov/ecological-services/energy-development/water.html>

The Sources of Information were updated 5–2020.

United States Geological Survey

12201 Sunrise Valley Drive, Reston, VA 20192

703-648-4000

<http://www.usgs.gov> | Email: ASK@usgs.gov

---

DIRECTOR *

James F. Reilly

---

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/key-officials>

Deputy Directors

---

Administration and Policy

Roseann C. Gonzales-Schreiner

---

Operations

Cynthia L. Lodge

---

<https://www.usgs.gov/media/images/usgs-organizational-chart>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Water and Science.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 12–2020.

The United States Geological Survey (USGS) was established by the Organic Act of March 3, 1879 (Ch. 182 / 20 Stat. 394 / 43 U.S.C. 31). Since March 3, 1879, the Survey has provided the United States with science information needed to make important land use and resource management policy decisions.

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/45th-congress/session-3/c45s3ch182.pdf>

The USGS serves as the Earth and natural science research bureau for the Department of the Interior. It is the only integrated natural resources research agency in the Federal Government. USGS research and data support the Department's resource and land management information needs. Other Federal, State, tribal, and local government agencies rely on USGS research and data for their biological, climate, energy, mineral resources, natural hazards, and water information needs. Emergency response organizations, natural resource managers, land use planners, and other customers use USGS research and data to protect lives and property, to address environmental health issues, and to promote the public weal.

<http://www.usgs.gov/about/about-us/who-we-are>

The USGS conducts research, monitoring, and assessments to increase understanding of America's biological, land, and water resources. The Service informs American citizens and members of the global community by producing data, maps, and reports containing analyses and interpretations. These analyses and interpretations cover a range of topics: biological, energy, mineral, and water resources; land surfaces; marine environments; geologic structures; natural hazards; and dynamic processes of the Earth. Citizens, managers, and planners regularly use USGS data, analytical, and interpretive products to respond to and plan for changes in ecosystems and the environment.

The USGS has over 140 years of experience generating science-based data. In more than 400 science centers across the United States, the Service employs approximately 10,000 science and science-support staff, who work on locally, regionally, and nationally scaled studies, on research projects, and at sampling and monitoring sites.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that USGS records have been assigned to record group 057.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/057.html>

Business Opportunities

General information on contracting is available from the Office of Acquisition and Grants. Phone, 703-648-7376.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/administration/office-acquisition-and-grants>

The "Small Business Program" web page has resources to help small-business owners.

https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/administration/office-acquisition-and-grants/small-business?qt-science\_support\_page\_related\_con=1#qt-science\_support\_page\_related\_con | Email: gs\_smallbusiness@usgs.gov

Career Opportunities

The USGS relies on professionals with a range of expertise and diverse skills to carry out its mission. Many of these professionals have been educated and trained in various scientific disciplines: biology, cartography, chemistry, ecology, geology, geography, hydrology, and physics.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/human-capital/employment-and-information-center> | Email: hcweb@usgs.gov

In 2019, the USGS ranked 168th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/IN08>

Contact Information

The "Contact USGS" web page has an electronic message form, as well as information on social media and web chat. Phone, 888-275-8747.

<https://answers.usgs.gov>

Critical Minerals List

On May 18, 2018, the Department of the Interior's Office of the Secretary published the notice "Final List of Critical Minerals 2018" in the Federal Register (83 FR 23295). The expertise of USGS staff plays a key role in reducing the Nation's vulnerability to disruptions in the supply of these minerals. On its website, the USGS posted the announcement "Interior Releases 2018's Final List of 35 Minerals Deemed Critical to U.S. National Security and the Economy." Each of the critical minerals is hyperlinked to a web page with statistics and other information on that particular mineral. Although the list is a final version, it should not be characterized as a permanent, but as a dynamic, list that will be updated.

<https://www.usgs.gov/news/interior-releases-2018-s-final-list-35-minerals-deemed-critical-us-national-security-and>

Earthquakes for Kids

Earthquakes for kids provides online resources to help children and adults learn about earthquakes and earthquake science.

<http://earthquake.usgs.gov/learn/kids>

Federal Register

Documents that the USGS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/geological-survey>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA electronic reading room contains documents related to the Flow Rate Technical Group in response to the Deepwater Horizon oil spill. These documents have been cleared for public release, and the USGS expects to publish additional documents to this collection. Before submitting a FOIA request for agency records, an information seeker should search this reading room and other Federal Government Deepwater Horizon electronic reading rooms for documents and information.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The USGS posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.usgs.gov/faq>

Glossaries

A landslides glossary is available on the USGS website.

https://www.usgs.gov/natural-hazards/landslide-hazards/science/landslides-glossary?qt-science\_center\_objects=0#qt-science\_center\_objects

The earthquake hazards program includes an online glossary.

<http://earthquake.usgs.gov/learn/glossary>

The Office of Budget, Planning, and Integration maintains an online glossary of common terms and financial terms.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/budget/glossary>

A glossary of collections management terms is available online.

<https://www.usgs.gov/products/scientific-collections/glossary-terms>

A Landsat glossary and list of acronyms are available online.

<https://www.usgs.gov/core-science-systems/nli/landsat/landsat-glossary>

The USGS published a glossary of glacier-related terms.

<https://pubs.usgs.gov/of/2004/1216/a/a.html>

A list of water-related terms and their definitions are available online.

https://www.usgs.gov/special-topic/water-science-school/science/dictionary-water-terms?qt-science\_center\_objects=0#qt-science\_center\_objects

History

Mary C. Rabbitt's "The United States Geological Survey: 1879–1989" is available in electronic form on the USGS website. It is a 110-year history of the relation of geology to the development of policies for public land, Federal science, and mapping, and to the development of mineral resources in the United States.

<http://pubs.usgs.gov/circ/c1050>

Landsat Satellite Missions

In 1966, former Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall announced the launching of the Earth Resources Observation Satellites (EROS) project. His vision was to observe the Earth for the benefit of all. One of the purposes of the ongoing project is to collect valuable resource data and use them to improve the environmental quality of the biosphere.

https://www.usgs.gov/core-science-systems/nli/landsat/landsat-satellite-missions?qt-science\_support\_page\_related\_con=0#qt-science\_support\_page\_related\_con

Library

Established in 1879, the USGS library is now the largest library for earth sciences in the world. Professional librarians develop and maintain USGS library guides to connect users to relevant resources and research strategies.

<https://usgs.libguides.com/home> | Email: library@usgs.gov

National Map

The National Map website offers Internet users a trove of topographical information.

<https://www.usgs.gov/core-science-systems/national-geospatial-program/national-map>

Natural Hazards

Information on the programs and activities of the natural hazards mission—including information on earthquakes, flooding, landslides, volcanoes, and wildfires—is available online.

<https://www.usgs.gov/mission-areas/natural-hazards>

News

The USGS posts national and State news items.

<https://www.usgs.gov/news/news-releases>

Publications

The USGS publications warehouse provides access to over 130,000 publications written by USGS scientists throughout the agency's history.

<https://pubs.er.usgs.gov>

Science Snippets

The USGS posts fun facts and interesting snippets of science.

<https://www.usgs.gov/news/science-snippets>

Site Map

The Website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.usgs.gov/sitemap>

USGS Store

Educational materials, Federal recreation passes, maps, scientific reports, and more are available from the online USGS Store.

<https://store.usgs.gov>

Social Media

The USGS maintains a presence on social media.

<https://www.usgs.gov/connect/social-media>

Volcanic Activity Alerts

Information on U.S. volcanoes and current activity alerts are available on the "Volcano Hazards" web page.

<https://www.usgs.gov/volcano>

Water Resources

Reliable, impartial, and timely information on the Nation's water resources is available on the "Water Resources" web page. Phone, 888-275-8747.

<http://www.usgs.gov/water>

A nationwide list of all of the USGS water resources mission area science centers and regions and hubs for critical water science that Federal, State, and other partners and stakeholders fund is available online.

<https://www.usgs.gov/mission-areas/water-resources/about/water-resources-mission-area-science-centers-and-regions>

Wetlands and Aquatics Research

The Wetlands and Aquatics Research Center conducts research, develops new approaches and technologies, and disseminates scientific information that is needed for understanding, managing, conserving, and restoring wetlands and other aquatic and coastal ecosystems and their associated plant and animal communities throughout the Nation and the world.

<https://www.usgs.gov/centers/wetland-and-aquatic-research-center-war>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2020.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Indian Affairs

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-3710

<http://www.bia.gov/bia>

DIRECTOR *

Darryl LaCounte

<https://www.bia.gov/as-ia/opa/online-press-release/assistant-secretary-sweeney-names-darryl-lacounte-director-bureau-of-indian-affairs>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs enhances the quality of life, promotes economic opportunity, and protects and improves the trust assets of American Indians, Indian tribes, and Alaska Natives.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

Secretary of War John C. Calhoun established the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) on March 11, 1824, to oversee and carry out the Federal Government's trade and treaty relations with tribes. The BIA remains the oldest Department of the Interior (DOI) agency in continuous existence and one of the oldest in the Federal government. The DOI formally adopted Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) as the agency's official name on September 17, 1947. Prior to that time, it was referred to as the Indian office, Indian bureau, Indian department, and Indian service.

<https://www.doi.gov/blog/193rd-anniversary-bureau-indian-affairs>

On March 3, 1849, President James K. Polk approved an act that transferred the "supervisory and appellate powers now exercised by the Secretary of the War Department, in relation to all the acts of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs," to the Secretary of the Interior, who now headed the newly created DOI.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/30th-congress/session-2/c30s2ch108.pdf>

The Bureau's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.indianaffairs.gov/sites/bia.gov/files/uploads/bia/bia-org-chart.pdf>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material affecting the BIA is codified in 25 U.S.C. 1–17 (chapter 1).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title25/chapter1&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that affect Indians are codified in 25 CFR. Parts 1–299 contain rules and regulations that are associated with the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Parts 900–999 contain rules and regulations that are associated with the Bureau of Indian Affairs and with the Department of Health and Human Service's Indian Health Service.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=2dff2e4675b2891abcf7c9eb0078703c&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title25/25tab\_02.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The BIA's mission centers on fulfilling its trust responsibilities and promoting self-determination on behalf of federally recognized tribal governments, American Indians, and Alaska Natives. The BIA provides services to members of 573 federally recognized Indian Tribes in the 48 contiguous United States and Alaska—nearly two million American Indians and Alaska Natives.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia>

The BIA serves the federally recognized Tribes through four Offices:

The Office of Indian Services operates the BIA's general assistance, disaster relief, Indian child welfare, tribal government, Indian self-determination, and reservation roads programs.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ois>

The Office of Justice Services directly operates or funds law enforcement, tribal courts, and detention facilities on Federal Indian lands.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ojs>

The Office of Trust Services works with tribes and individual American Indians and Alaska Natives in the management of their trust lands, assets, and resources.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ots>

Lastly, the Office of Field Operations oversees 12 regional offices and 83 agencies that carry out the mission of the BIA at the tribal level. The regional offices and agencies administer delivery of program services to the federally recognized Tribes, to individual Indians, and to Alaska Natives, either directly or through contracts, grants or compacts.

<https://www.bia.gov/regional-offices>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Bureau of Indian Affairs records have been assigned to record group 075.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/075.html>

Career Opportunities

BIA job opportunities, common job documents, and hiring information for American Indian and Alaska Native veterans are available online.

<https://www.bia.gov/Jobs/index.htm>

In 2019, the BIA ranked 349th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/IN06>

Contact Information

The BIA posts its mailing address and fax and phone numbers on the Indian Affairs' website on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.bia.gov/contact-us>

Estate Planning

The American Indian Probate Reform Act of 2004 (AIPRA) made changes to the way trust or restricted land and property is inherited. It also made changes that affected land management and purchases. The BIA website has information that explains how AIPRA affects wills and inheritance.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ots/dres/estate-planning>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BIA has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/indian-affairs-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes a presumption that the public may access records in the possession of Federal agencies. The Act is based on the principle of openness in government and generally provides that a person has a right of access to Federal agency records. This right of access is restricted, however, by nine exemptions and three special law enforcement record exclusions that shield certain records, or parts of them, from disclosure. More information on the FOIA and instructions for submitting a request to access BIA records are available on the Indian Affairs website.

<https://www.bia.gov/as-ia/foia> | Email: foia@bia.gov

Before submitting a FOIA request in writing with the FOIA officer, the requester should check that the information being sought is not already in the public domain. The DOI maintains FOIA libraries that include the following record types and resources: final opinions made in the adjudication of cases; policy statements and interpretations that the DOI has adopted, but not published in the Federal Register; administrative staff manuals and staff instructions that affect a member of the public; records that have been requested repeatedly by submitters of FOIA requests or records that the DOI anticipates will be requested repeatedly in the future; an index of frequently requested records; and links to other related sites and reference materials.

<https://www.doi.gov/foia/library>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Indian Affairs posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.bia.gov/frequently-asked-questions>

Library

Frequently requested documents and links are accessible on the Indian Affairs website in the electronic document library.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/document-library>

Maps

The Office of Trust Services' Branch of Geospatial Support (BGS) posts web maps and static maps, as well as downloadable data, on the Indian Affairs' website. The BGS provides geographic information systems software, training, and system support for the management of natural resources on Indian lands. Phone, 877-293-9494.

<https://biamaps.doi.gov> | Email: geospatial@bia.gov

"Indian Lands of Federally Recognized Tribes of the United States" is available on the Office of Trust Services' "Division of Land Titles and Records" web page. The Office's web team posted the map file in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.bia.gov/sites/bia.gov/files/assets/bia/ots/webteam/pdf/idc1-028635.pdf>

The "National Climate Assessment—Indigenous People's Resilience Actions" map, which is posted on the Office of Trust Services' website, provides an overview of indigenous people's actions to prepare for changes in climate by taking steps to increase resilience.

<https://biamaps.doi.gov/nca/>

Programs / Services

Federally recognized Tribes look to the BIA for a range of services. The "Programs and Services" web page, which is accessible on the Indian Affairs' website, provides information about them.

<https://www.bia.gov/programs-services>

Regional Offices

Contact information for the 12 BIA regional offices is available online.

<https://www.bia.gov/regional-offices>

Regulations in Development

The "Regulations and Other Documents in Development" web page, which is part of the Indian Affairs' website, allows visitors to monitor the progress of regulations that are in development, under review, or in development and under review.

<https://www.bia.gov/as-ia/raca/regulations-and-other-documents-in-development>

Site Map

The site map, which is part of the Indian Affairs' website, allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.bia.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The BIA posts content on Facebook.

<https://www.facebook.com/USIndianAffairs>

The BIA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USIndianAffairs>

Tribal Leaders Directory

The directory, which is part of the Indian Affairs' website, provides contact information for each federally recognized Tribe, as well as for the leadership of the BIA. The electronic and interactive map-based directory contains information on each BIA region and agency that provides services to a specific Tribe.

<https://www.bia.gov/tribal-leaders-directory>

Wildland Fire Management

Indian Affairs posted a collection of fire prevention and education videos on wildland fire management in Indian country on its website. Note that not all of the videos in the collection were produced by the BIA.

<https://www.bia.gov/bia/ots/dfwfm/bwfm/Video-Library>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2019.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Indian Education

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF INDIAN EDUCATION

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-3710

<http://www.bie.edu>

DIRECTOR *

Tony L. Dearman

<https://www.bie.edu/cs/groups/webteam/documents/text/idc2-092903.pdf>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Bureau of Indian Education provides educational opportunities for eligible American Indian and Alaska Native elementary, secondary, and postsecondary students from federally recognized Tribes

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

To reflect the parallel purpose and organizational structure that the BIE has in relation to other programs within the Office of the Assistant Secretary–Indian Affairs, the Office of Indian Education Programs was renamed the Bureau of Indian Education (BIE) by departmental manual release no. 3721 of August 29, 2006.

<https://www.bia.gov/bie>

Nearly 95 years earlier, President Warren G. Harding approved Public Law 67–85, which is also referred to as the Snyder Act of 1921, to authorize the BIA, under the supervision of the Secretary of the Interior, to "direct, supervise, and expend such moneys as Congress may from time to time appropriate, for the benefit, care, and assistance of the Indians throughout the United States for the following purposes . . ." One of those purposes was for the "general support and civilization, including education." Since the passage of the Snyder Act of 1921, three major legislative actions have restructured the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) with regard to educating American Indians.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/67th-congress/Session%201/c67s1ch115.pdf>

On June 18, 1934, the day on which President Franklin D. Roosevelt approved Public Law 73–383, which is also referred to as the Indian Reorganization Act of 1934 and the Wheeler-Howard Act, the longstanding Federal policy of acculturating and assimilating Indian people through a boarding school system ended. The new law introduced the teaching of Indian history and culture in BIA schools.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/73rd-congress/session-2/c73s2ch576.pdf>

On January 4, 1975, President Gerald R. Ford approved Public Law 93–638, which is also cited as the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act of 1975, "to establish a program of assistance to upgrade Indian education" and "to support the right of Indian citizens to control their own educational activities." The law allows federally recognized Tribes to contract with the BIA for the operation of Bureau-funded schools and to determine education programs suitable for their children.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-88/pdf/STATUTE-88-Pg2203.pdf>

On November 1, 1978, President James E. Carter approved Public Law 95–561, which is also cited as the Education Amendments of 1978. Additional amendments followed: Public Laws 98–511, 99–99, and 100–297. These legislative actions provided direct funding to tribally operated schools, empowered Indian school boards, permitted local hiring of teachers and staff, and created a direct line of authority between the Education Director and the Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-92/pdf/STATUTE-92-Pg2143.pdf>

The BIE organizational chart is part of the organizational chart of Indian Affairs.

<https://www.indianaffairs.gov/sites/bia.gov/files/OrgChartFY18Greenbook.pdf>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Rules and regulations affecting Indians and their education are codified in 25 CFR 30–47 (subchapter E).

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=7954367ce0b81d96674d6b175d0dea54&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title25/25CsubchapE.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

The BIE provides quality education opportunities from early childhood throughout adulthood, in accordance with the Tribes' needs for cultural and economic well-being, and in keeping with the diversity of Indian Tribes and Alaska Native villages as distinct cultural and governmental entities. The BIE considers the whole person as it carries out its mission, taking into account the cultural, mental, physical, and spiritual aspects of the person within the contexts of family and Tribe or Alaska Native village.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=317c41e73ba08bd8f84a0dbdfba8a9c3&mc=true&node=pt25.1.32&rgn=div5#se25.1.32\_13

The BIE educates over 45,000 American Indian and Alaska Native children at 183 elementary and secondary schools on 64 reservations in 23 States. The Bureau operates 53 of these schools. The other 130 schools are tribally operated. The BIE oversees two postsecondary schools: Haskell Indian Nations University in Lawrence, KS, and Southwestern Indian Polytechnic Institute in Albuquerque, NM. It also funds the Navajo and United Tribes Technical Colleges.

<https://www.bia.gov/bie>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Bureau of Indian Affairs records have been assigned to record group 075. "Records of the Education Division 1874–1972" are part of that record group.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/075.html>

Career Opportunities

American Indian children deserve a quality education—and that starts with highly qualified, dedicated staff and educators. The BIE employs nearly 4,500 professionals in careers that offer unique and diverse cultural and lifestyle experiences. Phone, 505-563-5304.

<https://www.bie.edu/Jobs/index.htm> | Email: staffing@bie.edu

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page has addresses and phone numbers for contacting the BIE.

<https://www.bie.edu/ContactUs/index.htm>

The Human Resources Office maintains a web page with contact information.

<https://www.bie.edu/HR/Contact/index.htm>

The BIE "National Staff Directory" (APR 2019) is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.bie.edu/cs/groups/xbie/documents/text/idc2-093307.pdf>

Divisions / Programs

The BIE website features a web page with a list of the agency's divisions and programs and links to their websites.

<https://www.bie.edu/Programs/index>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes a presumption that the public may access records in the possession of Federal agencies. The Act is based on the principle of openness in government and generally provides that a person has a right of access to Federal agency records. This right of access is restricted, however, by nine exemptions and three special law enforcement record exclusions that shield certain records, or parts of them, from disclosure. More information on the FOIA and instructions for submitting a request to access BIE records are available on the Indian Affairs website.

<https://www.bia.gov/as-ia/foia> | Email: foia@bia.gov

Before submitting a FOIA request in writing with the FOIA officer, the requester should check that the information being sought is not already in the public domain. The DOI maintains FOIA libraries that include the following record types and resources: final opinions made in the adjudication of cases; policy statements and interpretations that the DOI has adopted, but not published in the Federal Register; administrative staff manuals and staff instructions that affect a member of the public; records that have been requested repeatedly by submitters of FOIA requests or records that the DOI anticipates will be requested repeatedly in the future; an index of frequently requested records; and links to other related sites and reference materials.

<https://www.doi.gov/foia/library>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The BIE posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.bie.edu/HR/FAQ/index.htm>

News

The BIE posts news items on its website.

<https://www.bie.edu/NewsEvents/index.htm>

Reports

Performance and special education reports and school report cards are accessible online.

<https://www.bie.edu/HowAreWeDoing/index.htm>

Resources

BIE education line officers, school superintendents, principals, teachers, and staff can access program guidance, handbooks, templates, and training provided in various formats—WebEx or PowerPoint—to refresh professional skills. These online documents and presentations are provided to supplement staff training throughout the school year.

<https://www.bie.edu/Resources/index.htm>

Scholarships

The BIE website provides information on scholarship opportunities for American Indian students.

<https://www.bie.edu/ParentsStudents/Grants/index.htm>

Schools

Contact information for schools that the BIE oversees is available online.

<https://www.bie.edu/Schools/index.htm>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.bie.edu/SiteMap/index.htm>

Social Media

The BIE maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/Bureauofindianeducation>

The BIE tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/BureauIndianEdu>

Tribal Resources

A directory of external resources to support tribes is accessible on the BIE website. The directory file is in Portable Document Format for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.bie.edu/Resources/index.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Land Management

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-3801

<http://www.blm.gov>

DIRECTOR *

(vacancy)

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Land and Minerals Management.

<https://www.blm.gov/leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2021.

The Bureau of Land Management sustains the health, diversity, and productivity of public lands for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

President Harry S. Truman prepared and transmitted to the U.S. Congress a plan of reorganization that created the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). Section 403 of reorganization plan no. 3 of 1946 consolidated the General Land Office with the Grazing Service to establish the Bureau of Land Management. The plan became effective on July 16, 1946.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5a-node84-leaf93&num=0&edition=prelim>

On October 21, 1976, President Gerald R. Ford approved the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (PL 94–579) to establish public land policy; to establish guidelines for its administration; to provide for the management, protection, development, and enhancement of the public lands; and for other purposes" (90 STAT. 2743). In the law, Congress declared that national policy governing the management of public lands "be on the basis of multiple use and sustained yield."

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-90/pdf/STATUTE-90-Pg2743.pdf>

The BLM posts its organization chart online.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/organization-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Laws that affect public lands are codified in 43 U.S.C. Chapter 1 of that title contains codified material that is associated with the BLM.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title43/chapter1&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that affect public lands and that are associated with the BLM are codified in 43 CFR 1000–9999 (subtitle B, ch. II). The codified subjects include forest, general, land resource, minerals, and range management; preservation and conservation; recreation programs; and technical services.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=5167eb7d8c784969301611a596a7818a&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title43/43chapterII.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

The BLM sustains the diversity, health, and productivity of America's public lands for the benefit of present and future generations through a mandate of multiple-use and sustained-yield. It manages 1 of every 10 acres of land across the United States, about 245 million acres of land, most of which is located in Alaska and 11 other Western States. The Bureau also manages about 30 percent, or 700 million acres, of the Nation's subsurface mineral estate. The BLM oversees conventional and renewable energy development, livestock grazing, recreation, and timber harvesting, and it protects cultural, historical, and natural resources. Many of these resources are found on National Conservation Lands, a subset of BLM lands that are federally designated, that cover 32 million acres, and that include 260 wilderness areas and 28 national monuments.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs>

A number of energy resources are accessible on public lands. The BLM supports a diversified energy approach that includes coal, oil and gas, strategic minerals, as well as renewable energy resources like geothermal, solar, wind, and woody biomass. A diversified approach strengthens the Nation's energy security, strengthens its energy infrastructure, and stimulates job creation. To serve industry and the American public, the BLM is making energy development easier on public lands by reviewing and streamlining business processes.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/energy-and-minerals>

The Bureau manages livestock on 155 million acres of land, administering nearly 18,000 permits and leases held by ranchers who graze mostly cattle and sheep.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/natural-resources/rangelands-and-grazing>

Under the Wild Free-Roaming Horses and Burros Act of 1971, it also manages herds of wild horses and burros on public rangelands.

<https://www.blm.gov/whb>

Recreation is also part of the BLM's portfolio. Birdwatchers, campers, hang gliders, horseback riders, hunters, mountain bikers, photographers, whitewater rafters, and visitors to cultural and natural heritage sites recreate on hundreds of millions of acres of public lands. The Bureau estimates that it receives approximately 62 million recreational visits per year.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/recreation>

The BLM manages habitat for over 300 wildlife, fish, and plant species that are listed as threatened or endangered under the Endangered Species Act and 12 species identified as candidates for listing. Public lands that the BLM manages offer the best opportunity for recovery of some rare or listed plant and animal species because their unique requirements for survival can be met only on Federal lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/fish-and-wildlife/threatened-and-endangered>

The Federal Land Policy and Management Act (FLPMA) of 1976 authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to stand up a law enforcement body to enforce Federal laws and regulations affecting public lands and their resources. As a result, the BLM has been given specific resource protection and law enforcement responsibilities that further the FLPMA's public lands management policy of multiple use. The Bureau's law enforcement program helps ensure public safety, while supporting its multiple-use mission. Law enforcement officers investigate vandalism and looting, support emergency responders, and maintain a safe environment for visitors to the public lands and for BLM employees.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/public-safety-and-fire/law-enforcement>

The BLM carries out a broad range of actions to protect the public, natural landscapes, wildlife habitat, and recreational areas from wildfire. The BLM's national fire and aviation program consists of community assistance and protection, fire prevention through education, fire suppression, preparedness, predictive services, prescribed fire, and vegetative fuels management.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/fire-and-aviation>

The BLM's lands, realty and cadastral survey program manages public land transactions: purchases and acquisitions, sales and exchanges, withdrawals, leases and permits, right-of-way authorizations, and, cadastral (i.e., mapping) survey services. From enabling energy development, to permitting commercial filming, to defining boundaries and maintaining public land records, BLM professionals regard the public lands as working landscapes, and they manage them for the benefit of current and future generations. The BLM's mission—which is built on the principles of multiple-use and sustained yield—requires the agency to promote commerce, conservation, and recreation on public lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/lands-and-realty>

The Bureau's broad management responsibilities require balancing public land uses and protection of public land resources. Working with State and local and tribal governments, stakeholder groups, and the public, the BLM creates land use plans, referred to as Resource Management Plans, to guide decisions for approved uses of and actions affecting public lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/planning-and-nepa>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Adoption Schedule

The BLM offers wild horses and burros for adoption or purchase at events nationwide throughout the year. The most current adoption event schedule is accessible online.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/wild-horse-and-burro/adoption-and-sales/events>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BLM records have been assigned to record group 049.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/049.html>

Artist-in-Residence Program

Residencies of 6–8 weeks are available in several Western States for painters, photographers, potters, sculptors, and other artists.

<https://www.blm.gov/get-involved/artist-in-residence/about-the-program>

Business Opportunities

The BLM procures a wide array of goods and services.

<https://www.blm.gov/services/acquisition/contracting>

Stewardship contracting refers to trading forest products for land management and services. In exchange for thinning the forest and keeping the trees to sell, for example, a contractor or an organization performs service-work that helps to achieve key land management goals like improving wildlife habitat or reestablishing native plant species. The intent of stewardship is to improve, maintain, or restore forest or rangeland health; restore or maintain water quality; improve fish and wildlife habitat; and reduce danger from wildfires.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/natural-resources/forests-and-woodlands/stewardship-contracting>

Career Opportunities

The BLM relies on people with diverse skills and from various professional backgrounds—business, engineering, fire management, law enforcement, science, and other fields—to manage the Nation’s public lands and resources.

<https://www.blm.gov/careers>

In 2020, the BLM ranked 322d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=IN05>

Climate Change

Climate change presents challenges to the BLM as it manages inland freshwater ecosystems (e.g., lakes, rivers, streams, wetlands) and coastal wetlands. Researchers project the disappearance of cold-water fish from large areas of their current geographic ranges as streams become more sporadic and warmer; the expansion of the ranges of warm-water fish as surface waters warm; and more frequent and widespread algal blooms that adversely affect water quality.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/fish-and-wildlife/fisheries-and-aquatics/about-the-program>

Contact Information

Contact information is available online.

<https://www.blm.gov/office/national-office>

Data Resources

The BLM regularly gathers, maintains, and publishes data to inform stakeholders and the general public. These data include detailed information on the commercial uses of the public lands; recreational activities and revenues; wild horse and burro management; cadastral (i.e., mapping) surveys; conservation of rangeland resources and 870 special units (e.g., wilderness areas); and the socioeconomic effects of public land management.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/data>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BLM has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/land-management-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives the right to request access to BLM records to anyone. In response to a FOIA request, the BLM will disclose the desired information, unless this right of access is restricted by one of nine exemptions or three special law enforcement record exclusions that shield certain records, or parts of them, from disclosure. More information on the FOIA and instructions for submitting a request are available on the BLM website. Phone, 202-912-7650.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/foia> | Email: blm\_wo\_foia@blm.gov

Before submitting a records request in writing to the FOIA officer, the requester should check that the information being sought is not already publicly accessible. The BLM maintains an electronic FOIA reading room where it posts records that have been released into the public domain in response to previous requests.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/foia/foia-reading-room>

General Land Office Records

The General Land Office Records website allows visitors to access Federal land conveyance records for the Public Land States (i.e., States created out of the public domain). The website contains images of more than five million Federal land title records that were issued since 1820. It also has images related to survey plats and field notes dating back to 1810.

<https://www.blm.gov/services/land-records>

Geographic Information System (GIS) Data

BLM Navigator serves as a centralized location for accessing project, State, and national geospatial data.

<https://navigator.blm.gov/home>

The Landscape Approach Data Portal is a one-stop source for geospatial data, maps, models, and reports that BLM's landscape initiatives have produced.

<https://landscape.blm.gov/geoportal/catalog/main/home.page>

History

A timeline that is structured around the enactment of land management legislation is available online. Specific public laws have guided the BLM's mission, and the passage of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 was the culmination of that process of policymaking.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/history/timeline>

Information Center

The "Information Center" web page has links to BLM policy, congressional testimony, Federal Register, live events, magazines and newsletters, notices, Office of Civil Rights, press releases, public room (brochures, maps, reports), and social media web pages.

<https://www.blm.gov/media>

Kids

Giving young people the opportunity to learn outdoors and recreate on public lands promotes the development of the next generation of public land stewards and conservation leaders.

<https://www.blm.gov/kids>

Library

The library has professional staff who can assist BLM employees nationwide. The library staff is also available to assist members of the general public seeking BLM publications and information. The library offers a range of resources and services that include journals, databases, publications, subject guides, and an online library catalog.

<https://www.blm.gov/learn/blm-library> | Email: blm\_library@blm.gov

Management

The BLM manages public lands in accordance with the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/how-we-manage>

The BLM manages one in every 10 acres of land in the United States, and approximately 30 percent of the Nation's minerals. These lands and their minerals are found in each of the 50 States in diverse ecosystems like arctic tundra, deserts, forests, mountains, and grasslands.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/what-we-manage>

Maps

Map and geospatial products inform BLM decision making. These maps and products are becoming more accessible online.

<https://www.blm.gov/maps>

Paleontology

The BLM manages more than 245 million acres of public lands where Deinonychus, Edmontosaurus, Pentaceratops, and Stegosaurus once roamed. To learn more, visit the BLM's "Paleontology" web pages.

<https://www.blm.gov/paleontology>

Recreation

The National Conservation Lands program offers online recreational guides for a convenient connection to public lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/visit>

The BLM website provides resources for mountain bikers. These resources include the BLM Top 20 Mountain Biking Opportunities list and interactive mountain biking maps for trails on BLM lands.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/recreation/mountainbike>

Social Media

The BLM uses digital media tools to connect people with public lands and to keep people informed about activities on them.

<https://www.blm.gov/media/social-media>

Statistics

Tables and spreadsheets with data that include the numbers of BLM-administered oil and gas leases, of applications for permit to drill, and of oil and gas wells are accessible on the BLM website. Most of the statistics presented cover Fiscal Years 1988–2015.

<https://www.blm.gov/about/data/public-land-statistics>

Timber Sales

The availability of timber for harvest depends on the age and condition of the timber, land status, and public demand, as well as on other land use considerations.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/natural-resources/forests-and-woodlands/timber-sales>

Woody Biomass

Woody biomass is used to produce electricity and products like furniture, paper, and wood for housing.

<https://www.blm.gov/programs/natural-resources/forests-and-woodlands/biomass-and-bioenergy>

The Sources of Information were updated 7-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Ocean Energy Management

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF OCEAN ENERGY MANAGEMENT

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240-0001

202-208-6474

<http://www.boem.gov>

DIRECTOR *

Amanda Lefton

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Land and Minerals Management.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/boem-leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2021.

The Bureau of Ocean Energy Management manages development of U.S. Outer Continental Shelf energy and mineral resources in a way that is environmentally and economically responsible.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

In April of 2010, the Deepwater Horizon oil rig explosion and resulting oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico exposed inadequacies in the Federal offshore energy regulatory system. In response to the disaster, former Secretary of the Interior Kenneth L. Salazar issued two secretarial orders. On May 19, 2010, he issued Order 3299 "to separate and reassign the responsibilities that had been conducted by the Minerals Management Service [MMS] into new management structures that will improve the management, oversight, and accountability of activities on the Outer Continental Shelf [OCS]."

https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/elips/documents/3299a2-establishment\_of\_the\_bureau\_of\_ocean\_energy\_management\_the\_bureau\_of\_safety\_and\_environmental\_enforcement\_and\_the\_office\_of\_natural\_resources\_revenue.pdf

Within the Department of the Interior, Order 3299 initiated the establishment of the new Bureau of Ocean Energy Management (BOEM), whose director would report to the Assistant Secretary–Land and Minerals Management. The order also initiated the establishment of the new Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement (BSEE), whose director also would report to the same Assistant Secretary. A third new agency, the Office of Natural Resources Revenue, formerly the MMS's minerals revenue management program, would be established within the Department, and its director would report to a different Assistant Secretary.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/reorganization/reorganization-former-mms>

On June 18, 2010, former Secretary Salazar issued Order 3302, which announced that the MMS would be renamed the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, Regulation and Enforcement (BOEMRE) for the duration of the reorganization period.

https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/elips/documents/3302\_change\_of\_the\_name\_of\_the\_minerals\_management\_service\_to\_the\_bureau\_of\_ocean\_energy\_management\_regulation\_and\_enforcement.pdf

On October 1, 2011, BOEMRE rules and regulations that now applied to the BOEM were recodified in a new chapter by reorganization of 30 CFR. The establishment of the BOEM and its sibling the BSEE and the recodification of their respective rules and regulations in a revised second chapter and a newly added fifth chapter marked the completion of the reorganization of the former MMS.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2011-10-18/pdf/2011-22675.pdf>

The BOEM posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/boem-organizational-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Statutory material that affects mineral lands and mining is codified in 30 U.S.C. Chapter 26 of that title deals with deep seabed hard mineral resources.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title30/chapter26&edition=prelim>

Statutory material that affects public lands is codified in 43 U.S.C. Chapter 36 of that title deals with management of OCS resources.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title43/chapter36&edition=prelim>

BOEM rules and regulations are codified in chapter V, parts 500–599, of 30 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=9eabfe008f51a5c2935452c280fb4160&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title30/30chapterV.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

The BOEM manages the exploration and development of offshore energy and marine mineral resources on the OCS. The BOEM supports energy independence, environmental protection, and economic development by responsibly managing these offshore resources in ways that comport with the best available science.

The OCS is a significant source of oil and gas for the Nation's energy supply. OCS production accounts for about 18 percent of domestic crude oil and 4 percent of domestic natural gas supply. The BOEM manages about 2,674 active oil and gas leases on more than 14.2 million OCS acres. In fiscal year 2019, offshore Federal production reached approximately 683 million barrels of oil and 1.03 trillion cubic feet of gas, almost all of which was produced in the Gulf of Mexico.

<https://www.boem.gov/oil-gas-energy>

The BOEM manages offshore development of renewable energy in Federal waters. The renewable energy program began in 2009, when the Department of the Interior announced the final regulations for the OCS Renewable Energy Program, which the Energy Policy Act of 2005 had authorized. The regulations provide a framework for all of the activities that support the production and transmission of energy from sources other than oil and natural gas. The BOEM anticipates managing the development of more hydrokinetic and more offshore wind and solar energy on the OCS.

<https://www.boem.gov/renewable-energy>

The BOEM's environmental program covers the three major areas that the agency regulates on the OCS: oil and gas, renewable energy, and nonenergy minerals like sand, gravel, and hard minerals. The Office of Environmental Programs develops national policy, provides guidance, and coordinates with regional activities. The environmental program's two key functions are to support science and to conduct environmental assessments, which include consultations with stakeholders and other regulatory agencies to strengthen decision making. The Chief Environmental Officer also manages and leads engagement and consultation at the national and regional levels with federally recognized Tribes.

<https://www.boem.gov/environment>

The BOEM partners with communities through its marine minerals program to address erosion along the Nation's barrier islands, coastal beaches, dunes, and wetlands. Erosion affects defense, energy, natural resources, public infrastructure, and tourism. To mitigate the effects of erosion, the BOEM leases gravel and sand and shell resources for nourishing beaches, protecting shorelines, and restoring wetlands. These resources are extracted from Federal waters on the OCS with environmental and safety oversight. The Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (PL 83–212) provides the authority to manage minerals on the OCS and the requirement to provide environmental oversight. BOEM is the only Federal agency with the authority to lease marine minerals from the OCS.

<https://www.boem.gov/marine-minerals>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that MMS records have been assigned to record group 473. The MMS is the predecessor agency to the BOEM. See the above "Establishment and Organization" section.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/473.html>

Business Opportunities

Information on doing business with the BOEM and related links are available on the "Procurement Business Opportunities" website.

<http://www.boem.gov/Doing-Business-with-BOEM>

Calendar

The BOEM maintains an online events calendar.

<http://www.boem.gov/Upcoming-Events>

Career Opportunities

The BOEM relies on professionals with engineering and science backgrounds for ensuring the safe and environmentally responsible development of the Nation's offshore energy and marine mineral resources.

<http://www.boem.gov/employment>

In 2020, the BOEM ranked 58th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/IN12>

Contact Information

Information is available on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/contact-us>

Educational Resources

BOEM teacher resources are available online.

<http://www.boem.gov/Environmental-Studies-Program-Teacher-Resources>

Factsheets

The BOEM posts factsheets on the following topics: about the agency, environment, marine minerals, oil and gas energy, and renewable energy.

<https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/boem-fact-sheets>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BOEM has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/ocean-energy-management-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Effective on July 5, 1967, the FOIA gives any person a right to obtain access to Federal agency records; however, nine exemptions and three special law enforcement exclusions shield certain records, or parts of them, from public disclosure. A FOIA request may be made for any agency record. Instructions for submitting a BOEM record request under the FOIA are available online. The BOEM operates a FOIA requester service center. Phone, 703-787-1128.

<https://www.boem.gov/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The BOEM posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/frequently-asked-questions>

Glossaries

The BOEM has posted a glossary of ecological terms.

<https://www.boem.gov/sites/default/files/boem-newsroom/Technical-Announcements/2016/Chapter-7-Glossary-of-Ecological-Terms.pdf>

The BOEM has posted a glossary of terms that are associated with wind energy.

<https://www.boem.gov/sites/default/files/renewable-energy-program/Studies/FEIS/Section12.0Glossary.pdf>

Greenhouse Gas Emissions

BOEM OCS Report 2016–065, whose authors are E. Wolvovsky, and W. Anderson, is titled "OCS Oil and Natural Gas: Potential Lifecycle Greenhouse Gas Emissions and Social Cost of Carbon." The report's key findings are the following: Most lifecycle greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions are the result of oil and gas products consumption; the price of oil and gas and production volume have a large effect on the amount of oil and gas lifecycle GHG emissions; the magnitude of emissions and their related social costs are comparable for the 2017–2022 program and the 2017–2022 program's "No Action Alternative"; the production of oil and gas from other global sources can be more carbon-intense relative to oil and gas that are produced on the OCS; absent policy changes or technological advancements, OCS emissions could consume a measurable increment of the remaining worldwide and domestic GHG emissions budget.

<https://www.boem.gov/sites/default/files/oil-and-gas-energy-program/Leasing/Five-Year-Program/2017-2022/OCS-Report-BOEM-2016-065---OCS-Oil-and-Natural-Gas---Potential-Lifecycle-GHG-Emissions-and-Social-Cost-of-Carbon.pdf>

Historic Preservation

Archaeologists in Office of Renewable Energy Programs coordinate studies and conduct National Historic Preservation Act reviews to identify and protect archaeological sites and other historic properties. OCS historic properties include aircraft, lighthouses, precontact (European contact with Native Americans) archaeological sites, and shipwrecks. Historic properties onshore come under review when a proposed renewable energy project may affect them. To learn more about investigating the steamship "City of Houston" and German submarine "U-576" and other preservation activities, visit the "Historic Preservation Activities" web page.

<https://www.boem.gov/Renewable-Energy/Historic-Preservation-Activities>

Library

The BOEM website has an electronic library.

<http://www.boem.gov/Library>

Marine Minerals

Mineral resources from the OCS are used in coastal restoration projects to address erosion. The BOEM has conveyed rights to millions of cubic yards of OCS sand for coastal restoration projects in multiple States. These projects have restored hundreds of miles of the Nation's coastline, protecting both infrastructure and ecological habitat. The BOEM posts key marine mineral statistics on its website.

<https://www.boem.gov/marine-minerals/current-statistics/current-marine-minerals-statistics>

Email:

MarineMinerals@boem.gov

Oil / Gas

The BOEM has posted the 2017–2022 lease sale schedule and 2017–2022 quicklinks on its "Leasing" web page.

<https://www.boem.gov/oil-gas-energy/leasing/2017-2022-lease-sale-schedule>

Posters

Colorful BOEM posters that promote maritime history, ocean science and stewardship, and awareness of marine animals and their habitats are available from the Gulf of Mexico Public Information Office. Phone, 800-200-4853.

<http://www.boem.gov/BOEM-Posters>

Press Releases

The BOEM posts press releases.

https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/news-items?news\_type=11

Regional Offices

The BOEM operates three regional offices, one for the Alaska Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) region, one for the Pacific OCS region, and one for the Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic OCS regions. Phone, 907-334-5200 (Alaska). Phone, 805-384-6305 (Pacific). Phone, 800-200-4853 (Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic).

<https://www.boem.gov/regions>

Renewable Energy

A list of leases that the BOEM has executed since the inception of its renewable energy program is available online.

<http://www.boem.gov/Lease-and-Grant-Information>

The BOEM collaborates with States on offshore energy development and is in the process of coordinating Federal-State task forces in certain coastal States. A summary of the status of activity in the various States is available online.

<https://www.boem.gov/Renewable-Energy-Program/State-Activities/Index.aspx>

Science / Technology

"Ocean Science" is BOEM's science and technology journal. The agency is a leading contributor to the growing body of scientific knowledge on the Nation's marine and coastal environments.

<https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/library/ocean-science>

Shipwrecks

The BOEM Alaskan shipwreck table is the most comprehensive compilation of Alaskan shipwrecks to date. The table offers a list of wrecks that occurred in Alaskan waters from 1741 to 2011. The "Shipwrecks Off Alaska's Coast" web page also features maritime history, ship, and shipwreck links to external websites.

<https://www.boem.gov/about-boem/shipwrecks-alaskas-coast>

Site Map

The website map helps visitors find specific topics or allows them to browse the site's contents.

<https://www.boem.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The BOEM maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/BureauOfOceanEnergyManagement>

The BOEM tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/BOEM>

The BOEM has a YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCXL807nkJMCuxNj5kF09LLQ/featured>

Statistics / Facts

BOEM collects data on its offshore oil and gas energy programs and makes them available in multiple formats.

<https://www.boem.gov/newsroom/statistics-and-facts>

The above Sources of Information were updated 7–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Reclamation

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF RECLAMATION

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-513-0575

<http://www.usbr.gov>

COMMISSIONER *

Brenda W. Burman

<https://www.usbr.gov/newsroom/presskit/bios/index.cfm>

* The Commissioner reports to the Assistant Secretary of Water and Science.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Bureau of Reclamation develops, manages, and protects water and related resources in a way that is environmentally and economically responsible and that benefits the American public.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On June 17, 1902, President Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., approved an act to appropriate "the receipts from the sale and disposal of public lands in certain States and Territories to the construction of irrigation works for the reclamation of arid lands." Pursuant to Public Law 161 (32 Stat. 388), which is popularly known as the Reclamation Act or National Irrigation Act of 1902, former Secretary of the Interior Ethan A. Hitchcock established the U.S. Reclamation Service (USRS) in the Geological Survey in July.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/57th-congress/session-1/c57s1ch1093.pdf>

In 1907, the USRS separated from the Geological Survey and became an independent bureau within the Department of the Interior. Sixteen years later, the independent USRS was renamed the Bureau of Reclamation.

<https://www.usbr.gov/history/2019%20NEW%20BRIEF%20HISTORY%20V1.pdf>

On August 4, 1977, President James E. Carter approved Public Law 95–91, which is also cited as the Department of Energy Organization Act. The law transferred the Bureau's power marketing functions to the Department of Energy (91 STAT. 578) as part of an effort "to secure effective management to assure a coordinated national energy policy" (STAT. 565).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-91/pdf/STATUTE-91-Pg565.pdf>

On November 6, 1979, former Secretary of the Interior Cecil D. Andrus issued Secretarial Order 3042, which changed the Bureau's name to the Water and Power Resources Service (WPRS). On May 18, 1981, former Secretary of the Interior James G. Watt issued Secretarial Order 3064, which renamed the WPRS the Bureau of Reclamation (BR).

The BR posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

https://www.usbr.gov/main/images/br\_org\_chart.pdf

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Codified statutory material dealing the Federal Government's reclamation and irrigation of public lands is found in 43 U.S.C. chapter 12. The Reclamation Act of 1902 is classified generally to this chapter.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title43/chapter12&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that affect public lands and that are associated with the BR are codified in 43 CFR 400–999 (subtitle B, chapter I).

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

ACTIVITIES

---

The BR is the largest wholesaler of water in the United States. It brings water to more than 31 million people and provides 140,000 Western farmers with irrigation water for 10 million acres of farmland. This irrigated farmland produces 60% of the Nation's vegetables and 25% of its fruits and nuts.

The Bureau is also the second largest producer of hydroelectric power in the United States. Its 53 powerplants produce annually more than 40 billion kilowatt hours of electricity, earning nearly $1 billion in revenues and generating enough energy for 3.5 million homes.

<http://www.usbr.gov/main/about/mission.html>

The BR's approach to water resource development has evolved over the years: from single-purpose agricultural projects to projects of multipurpose whose scope includes promoting water-based outdoor recreation. Recreation sites that are developed as a result of BR water projects rank among the Nation's most popular places for water-based outdoor recreation. These projects include approximately 6.5 million acres of land and water that are, for the most part, open to the public for recreation.

<https://www.usbr.gov/recreation>

The BR also engages in conservation activities to support native species and their habitats. In partnership with Arizona, California, and Nevada, the BR implemented a program to conserve native species and habitats across the Colorado River Basin. In partnership with the Bonneville Power Administration, Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, and U.S. Forest Service, the BR implemented a project to increase mainstem and off-channel habitat in a segment of the Grand Ronde River. The BR also tries to prevent invasive quagga and zebra mussels from spreading. These bivalve mollusks adversely affect the natural ecology, which harms endangered native species. The disruption that they visit upon ecosystems can cause new listings under the Endangered Species Act. Mussel infestations threaten agriculture, navigation locks, and biodiversity that supports the Western outdoor recreation industry.

<https://www.usbr.gov/conservation/>

BR operations and facilities support flood control. Its programs also mitigate the effects of drought through contingency planning, resiliency projects, and emergency response actions.

<https://www.usbr.gov/drought/>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The BR website has an A–Z index to help visitors navigate its content.

<https://www.usbr.gov/main/index/>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BR records have been assigned to record group 115.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/115.html>

Art Collection

In the late 1960s, the BR launched a program to present its accomplishments through art. The Bureau commissioned 40 of America's most prominent artists to visit BR water resource development sites and record their impressions on canvas. When the project was completed, the artists had created more than 375 pieces of artwork. In the early 1970s, the public had an opportunity to view much of the work in a traveling exhibition that was circulated by the Smithsonian Institution and entitled "The American Artist and Water Reclamation." The BR maintains about 200 pieces of the original artwork. Many of the paintings are on display at the Main Interior Building and some regional offices.

<https://www.usbr.gov/museumproperty/art/homepage.html>

Business Opportunities

The BR purchases a wide range of products and services and supports various Federal socioeconomic development programs by assisting businesses. The Bureau also provides financial assistance for programs related to conservation, Endangered Species Act mitigation, rural water, and water management and reclamation and reuse. Phone, 303-445-2431.

<http://www.usbr.gov/mso/aamd/doing-business.html>

Career Opportunities

The BR relies on professionals with expertise in administration, engineering and design, environmental protection, research, wildlife management, and other disciplines to carry out its mission. Career-related information is available from the nearest regional office or from the Diversity and Human Resources Office, Denver, CO. Phone, 303-445-2684.

<https://www.usbr.gov/hr/contact.html>

In 2019, the BR ranked 121st among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/IN07>

Climate Change Risks

The SECURE Water Act (123 STAT. 1329) is part of Public Law 111-11 (123 STAT. 991-1456), whose short title is the Omnibus Public Land Management Act of 2009. Section 9503(c) authorizes the BR to assess climate change risks for water and environmental resources in major river basins that it manages. Section 9503(c) also authorizes the BR to evaluate potential climate change effects on water resource management and development of strategies. Since the law's enactment on March 30, 2009, the BR has prepared two "SECURE Water Act Section 9503(c)—Reclamation Climate Change and Water" reports for the U.S. Congress.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-123/pdf/STATUTE-123-Pg991.pdf>

"SECURE Water Act Section 9503(c)—Reclamation Climate Change and Water 2016" is the second and most recent report that the BR has prepared for Congress. In the report's first chapter, its authors wrote: "[The Act] recognizes that climate change poses a significant challenge to the protection of adequate and safe supplies of water, which are fundamental to the health, economy, security, and ecology of the United States." The next SECURE Water Act report is scheduled for preparation and delivery to the U.S. Congress in 2021.

<https://www.usbr.gov/climate/secure/docs/2016secure/2016SECUREReport.pdf>

Contact Information

Contact information for the Washington, DC, and Denver, CO, based offices and Upper Colorado, Great Plains, Lower Colorado, Mid-Pacific, and Pacific Northwest regional offices is available on the "Addresses and Contacts" web page.

<http://www.usbr.gov/main/offices.html>

Media contact information is posted online.

<https://www.usbr.gov/newsroom/presskit/mediacountact.html>

Contact information for the Acquisition and Assistance Management Division is posted online.

<https://www.usbr.gov/mso/aamd/org-contact.html>

Cooperative Agricultural Weather Network (AgriMet)

In cooperation with local, State, and other Federal sponsors, the BR promotes energy and water conservation through AgriMet, which is a network of more than 90 automated weather stations that collect and telemeter site-specific weather data. The original AgriMet program started in the Pacific Northwest in the 1980s and was expanded into the Great Plains region.

Great Plains Region—

<https://www.usbr.gov/gp/agrimet/index.html>

Pacific Northwest—

<https://www.usbr.gov/pn/agrimet/>

Environmental Resources and Reports

The BR maintains a list of links to online resources that provide environmental information.

<http://www.usbr.gov/environmental>

Factsheet

The BR posts a factsheet on its website.

<https://www.usbr.gov/main/about/fact.html>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BR has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/reclamation-bureau>

The BR maintains a "Federal Register Notices and Rulemaking" web page.

<https://www.usbr.gov/fedreg/index.html>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA establishes a presumption that records in the possession of Federal agencies are accessible to the public. Before the law was passed in 1966, the individual had to establish a right to examine Government records. Passage of the FOIA shifted the burden of proof from the individual to the Government: A "right to know" doctrine replaced a

"need to know" standard. The law established standards for determining records that must be disclosed and records that can be withheld. The law also provided administrative and judicial remedies for information seekers who have been denied access to records.

<http://www.usbr.gov/foia/contacts.html>

The BR maintains an electronic reading room that contains frequently requested records and documents that are currently of special interest. Information seekers should avail themselves of this online resource to determine if the information that they seek is immediately available and readily accessible without the additional step of filing a FOIA request.

<http://www.usbr.gov/foia/readroom.html>

Glossaries

Definitions for terms commonly used by the BR are accessible in its online glossary.

<http://www.usbr.gov/library/glossary>

The BR maintains a separate online glossary of recreation-related terms.

<http://www.usbr.gov/recreation/glossary.html>

Hydrologic and Meteorologic Monitoring (HydroMet)

The BR operates a network of automated Hydromet stations, including their communications and computer systems, throughout the Great Plains and the Pacific Northwest regions. The Hydromet network collects remote environmental and water data and transmits them via radio and satellite. The Hydromet network provides cost-effective, near-real-time water management capability. Streamflow forecasts and current river and reservoir operations conditions are then calculated by combining Hydromet data with other information.

Great Plains Region—

<https://www.usbr.gov/gp/hydromet>

Pacific Northwest—

<https://www.usbr.gov/pn/hydromet/>

Invasive Mussels

Two species of dreissenid mussels, namely quagga and zebra, have become established in U.S. freshwater lakes, reservoirs, and rivers. Invasive dreissenid mussels pose significant challenges for all agencies and industries that manage water because they are prolific breeders and settle on or within water facility infrastructure.

<https://www.usbr.gov/mussels>

Library

The BR's website has an online search tool that allows visitors to search the electronic library catalog. External patrons may use the library, which is located in Denver, CO, by appointment only, 8:00 a.m.–3:00 p.m. Phone, 303-445-2072.

<https://www.usbr.gov/library/> | Email: library@usbr.gov

Multimedia Media

Links to BR's historic photographs and photograph database are available on the "Reclamation Multimedia" web page.

Other links that lead to podcasts on water management and to Really Simple Syndication (RSS) feeds also are available. BR Social Media links include Facebook, Flickr, Instagram, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.usbr.gov/main/multimedia/index.html#social>

News

The BR posts news releases and stories, as well as congressional testimony, factsheets, photos, and speeches.

<http://www.usbr.gov/newsroom/newsrelease>

Outdoor Recreation / Cultural Activities

The BR participates in Recreation.gov. This partnership of twelve Government agencies provides information on all recreation facilities on Federal lands, including those owned and managed by the BR. Online visitors may use the Recreation.gov website to make reservations at facilities requiring them.

<https://www.recreation.gov/about-us>

Publications

The BR posts publications on its website.

<https://www.usbr.gov/library/reclamationpubs.html>

Reclamation Manual

The BR's website has an online tool that allows users to search for keywords and terms in the "Reclamation Manual." The manual comprises a series of policy and directives and standards, which collectively assign program responsibility and establish and document agencywide methods of doing business.

<http://www.usbr.gov/recman>

Research / Science

The Research and Development Office publishes the quarterly magazine "Knowledge Stream," whose content centers on mission-critical news about research and science and on the challenges of managing water and generating power in the American West.

<https://www.usbr.gov/research/ks.html>

Water Conservation

The WaterSMART program allows all Department of the Interior bureaus to work with States, tribes, local governments, and nongovernmental organizations to pursue a sustainable water supply for the Nation by establishing a framework that provides Federal leadership and assistance on the efficient use of water, that integrates water and energy policies to support the sustainable use of all natural resources, and that coordinates the water conservation activities of the various departmental offices.

<https://www.usbr.gov/watersmart>

The Sources of Information were updated 2–2020.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF SAFETY AND ENVIRONMENTAL ENFORCEMENT

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-3985

<http://www.bsee.gov>

DIRECTOR *

Scott A. Angelle

<https://www.bsee.gov/who-we-are/our-organization/leadership>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Land and Minerals Management.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement promotes safety, protects the environment, and conserves resources offshore by overseeing the regulatory process and enforcing Federal rules and regulations.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

In April of 2010, the Deepwater Horizon oil rig explosion and resulting oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico exposed inadequacies in the Federal offshore energy regulatory system. In response to the disaster, former Secretary of the Interior Kenneth L. Salazar issued two secretarial orders. On May 19, 2010, he issued Order 3299 "to separate and reassign the responsibilities that had been conducted by the Minerals Management Service [MMS] into new management structures that will improve the management, oversight, and accountability of activities on the Outer Continental Shelf [OCS]."

https://www.doi.gov/sites/doi.gov/files/elips/documents/3299a2-establishment\_of\_the\_bureau\_of\_ocean\_energy\_management\_the\_bureau\_of\_safety\_and\_environmental\_enforcement\_and\_the\_office\_of\_natural\_resources\_revenue.pdf

Within the Department of the Interior, Order 3299 initiated the establishment of the new Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement (BSEE), whose director would report to the Assistant Secretary–Land and Minerals Management. The order also initiated the establishment of the new Bureau of Ocean Energy Management (BOEM), whose director also would report to the same Assistant Secretary. A third new agency, the Office of Natural Resources Revenue (ONRR), formerly the MMS's minerals revenue management program, would be established within the Department, and its director would report to the Assistant Secretary–Policy, Management and Budget.

On June 18, 2010, former Secretary Salazar issued Order 3302, which announced that the MMS would be renamed the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, Regulation and Enforcement (BOEMRE) for the duration of the reorganization period.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/safety-and-environmental-enforcement-bureau>

On October 1, 2010, the functions of the MMS's minerals revenue management program were transferred to the ONRR. A few days later, the ONRR published a final rule in the Federal Register to move the regulations associated with its royalty and revenue functions from chapter II in 30 CFR to chapter XII in the same title.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2010-10-04/pdf/2010-24721.pdf>

A year later, in October of 2011, 30 CFR was reorganized. BOEMRE rules and regulations that now applied to the BOEM were recodified in a new fifth chapter; the rules and regulations that now applied to the BSEE were recodified in a revised second chapter. The establishment of the BSEE and its sibling the BOEM and the reorganization of 30 CFR marked the completion of separating and reassigning the responsibilities of the former MMS.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2011-10-18/pdf/2011-22675.pdf>

The BSEE posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.bsee.gov/who-we-are/our-organization>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material affecting "Deep Seabed Hard Mineral Resources" is codified in chapter 26, sections 1401–1473, of 30 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title30/chapter26&edition=prelim>

BSEE rules and regulations are codified in chapter II, parts 200–299, of 30 CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=e5dd5863d76dc4809df5de6afce53bf6&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title30/30chapterII.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The BSEE promotes safety, protects the environment, and conserves resources on the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) through regulatory oversight and enforcement. The Offshore Regulatory Program develops standards and regulations to improve operational safety and to strengthen environmental protection. The Oil Spill Preparedness Division develops standards and guidelines for offshore operators. It also collaborates with sister agencies on spill response technologies and capabilities.

Three regional offices support the Bureau. Their personnel inspect gas and oil drilling rigs and production platforms to ensure compliance with safety requirements. Inspection teams are multiperson, and the expertise of their members spans a range of disciplines.

<https://www.bsee.gov/what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that MMS records have been assigned to record group 473. The MMS is the predecessor agency to the BSEE. See the above "Establishment and Organization" section.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/473.html>

Business Opportunities

Information on doing business with the BSEE is available online.

<http://www.bsee.gov/About-BSEE/Doing-Business-with-BSEE/index>

Career Opportunities

The BSEE relies on professionals with backgrounds in biology, geology, geophysics, engineering, and other fields to carry out its mission.

<http://www.bsee.gov/careers>

In 2019, the BSEE ranked 128th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/IN11>

Contact Information

To contact the BSEE, visit the "Connect With Us" web page, where addresses (email and postal) and phone numbers are available.

<https://www.bsee.gov/who-we-are/connect>

Director's Corner

Director Scott A. Angelle posts his thoughts and views on issues facing the BSEE and America's offshore oil and gas industry. "Energy Dominance Requires New Thinking" (SEP 2017) was the first piece that he posted.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/directors-corner>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the BSEE has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/safety-and-environmental-enforcement-bureau>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives the public the right to request Federal agency records and requires Federal agencies to make certain records available. The BSEE website serves as the portal to the agency's FOIA program. The FOIA is based on the principle of openness in Government: Any person has a right of access to Federal agency records, except to the extent that such records or portions of them are protected from disclosure by exemption or by special law-enforcement record exclusion.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/foia>

The BSEE maintains an electronic FOIA reading room.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/FOIA-Reading-Room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The BSEE promotes safety, protects the environment, and conserves resources offshore through regulatory oversight and enforcement. To carry out its mission, the BSEE relies on a wide range of world-class professionals. The BSEE posts answers to questions that its experts are asked frequently.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/frequently-asked-questions> | Email: webmaster@bsee.gov

Glossary

This glossary contains common oil and gas exploration and leasing terms, many of which are unique to the drilling industry.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/glossary>

News

The BSEE newsroom contains feature stories, media advisories, news briefs, photos and videos, press releases, and posts from the Director. The briefing room contains annual reports, congressional testimony, factsheets, speeches, statements, and technical presentations.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom>

Offshore Statistics

The BSEE posts offshore statistics and facts on its website.

<https://www.bsee.gov/stats-facts>

Reading Room

The Bureau's Deepwater Horizon electronic reading room contains documents that deal with the BP/Deepwater Horizon explosion and ensuing oil spill and that have been cleared for public release.

<https://www.bsee.gov/newsroom/library/archive/deepwater-horizon-reading-room>

Regional Offices

Information on the BSEE's three geographic regions—Alaska OCS, Gulf of Mexico OCS, and Pacific OCS—and their respective regional offices is available on the "BSEE Regions" web page.

<http://www.bsee.gov/About-BSEE/BSEE-Regions/BSEE-Regions>

Site Map

The website map helps visitors find specific topics or allows them to browse the site's contents.

<https://www.bsee.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The BSEE has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/BSEEGov/>

The BSEE tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/BSEEGov>

The Sources of Information were updated 4-2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Park Service

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-6843

<http://www.nps.gov>

DIRECTOR *

R. David Vela, Acting

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/director.htm>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Fish and Wildlife and Parks.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The National Park Service (NPS) was established in the Department of the Interior on August 25, 1916 (16 U.S.C. 1).

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/index.htm>

The National Park Service protects the natural and cultural resources and values of the National Park System for the benefit of present and future generations. The National Park System comprises 401 units. These units include national parks, monuments and memorials, battlefield sites and national military parks, scenic parkways, preserves and reserves, trails and riverways, rivers and lakeshores and seashores, recreation areas, and historic sites of American or international importance. The Service also manages a variety of national and international programs to promote natural and cultural resource conservation and to expand the benefits of outdoor recreation.

The NPS develops and implements park management plans and staffs the areas under its administration. Through exhibits, films, publications talks, tours, and other interpretive media, it promotes the natural values of these areas and communicates their historical significance to the public. The NPS operates a range of visitor facilities, including campgrounds, and provides a variety of food, lodging, and transportation services.

The National Park Service also administers the State portion of the Land and Water Conservation Fund, State comprehensive outdoor recreation planning, nationwide outdoor recreation coordination and information, the National Register of Historic Places and the National Trails System, natural area programs, national historic landmarks and historic preservation, technical preservation services, the historic American engineering record and buildings survey, interagency archeological services, and planning and technical assistance for the national wild and scenic rivers system.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

America the Beautiful Passes

A pass may be used at more than 2,000 Federal recreation sites. A pass covers entrance fees at national parks and national wildlife refuges, as well as standard amenity fees and day use fees at national forests and grasslands and at lands managed by the Bureaus of Land Management and Reclamation and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Five types of America the Beautiful passes are available: access, annual, annual fourth grade, senior, and volunteer.

<https://www.nps.gov/planyourvisit/passes.htm>

Business Opportunities

Visit the "Doing Business With Us" Web page to find information on commercial tours, contracts and procurement, National Park concessions, and special park uses, including commercial filming.

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/doingbusinesswithus.htm>

Career Opportunities

To find permanent and seasonal NPS career opportunities online, visit USAJobs, the Federal Government's official source for Federal job listings.

<https://my.usajobs.gov>

Additional information on internships, permanent careers, seasonal opportunities, and volunteering is available on the "Work With Us" Web page.

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/workwithus.htm>

Directories

An online text box allows Internet visitors to search for NPS employees by last name.

<https://www.nps.gov/directory>

A park directory (SEP 2016) that includes park addresses, codes, phone numbers, and superintendents is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/upload/NPS-Park-Listing-09-01-16.pdf>

Find a Park

NPS website visitors may search for a park by name or by State.

<https://www.nps.gov/findapark/index.htm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Instructions for submitting a FOIA request to obtain NPS records are available online.

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/foia/index.htm>

The NPS maintains an electronic FOIA library on its website.

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/foia/foia-reading-room.htm>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The NPS posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/faqs.htm>

Glossaries

The NPS's National Center for Preservation Technology and Training maintains an extensive glossary of building stone terms.

<https://ncptt.nps.gov/buildingstone/glossary>

The online series "Defining the Southwest" includes a glossary of terms that are often encountered in discussions of the cultures and environments of the American Southwest.

<https://www.nps.gov/articles/southwest-glossary.htm>

A glossary of geologic terms that the NPS and U.S. Geological Survey western Earth surface processes team compiled is available on the NPS website.

<http://www.nature.nps.gov/geology/usgsnps/misc/glossaryAtoC.html> | Email: parkgeology@den.nps.gov

Grants

Information is available online for grants authorized under the Land and Water Conservation Fund. Phone, 202-354-6900.

<http://www.nps.gov/lwcf/index.htm>

Information is also available online for grants authorized under the Historic Preservation Fund. Phone, 202-354-2067.

<http://www.nps.gov/preservation-grants>

News

The NPS posts new releases online.

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/news/news-releases.htm>

The NPS website has a multimedia section that includes audio, photographs, videos, and webcam.

<https://www.nps.gov/media/multimedia-search.htm>

The NPS tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/natlparkservice>

The NPS maintains a Facebook page.

<https://www.facebook.com/nationalparkservice>

Publications

To explain decisions, document information, and disseminate knowledge, the NPS uses a variety of publications, many of which are accessible online. For example, "The National Parks: Index 2012–2016" can be downloaded as a PDF. The "Publications" Web page offers online access to contemporary and historic reports, periodicals, virtual stacks, and public databases.

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/publications.htm>

Some publications are available for purchase in hardcopy from the U.S. Government Bookstore. Phone, 202-512-1800. Phone, 866-512-1800.

<https://bookstore.gpo.gov/agency/222> | Email: contactcenter@gpo.gov

Regional Offices

Contact information is available online for NPS regional offices and parks and the Washington office.

<http://www.nps.gov/aboutus/contactinformation.htm>

<https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/contactus.htm>

For further information, contact the Office of Communications, National Park Service, Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240. Phone, 202-208-6843.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement

The United States Government Manual

OFFICE OF SURFACE MINING RECLAMATION AND ENFORCEMENT

Department of the Interior, 1951 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20240

202-208-2565

TDD, 202-208-2694

<http://www.osmre.gov>

DIRECTOR *

Lanny E. Erdos, Acting

<https://www.osmre.gov/about/Director.shtm>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Land and Minerals Management.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5-2020.

The Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement (OSMRE) was established in the Department of the Interior by the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 (30 U.S.C. 1211).

<http://www.osmre.gov/about.shtm>

The OSMRE carries out the requirements of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act in cooperation with States and tribes. The Office protects people and the environment from the adverse effects of coal mining. The OSMRE assures that land is restored to beneficial use after mining operations cease, and it mitigates the effects of past operations by reclamation of abandoned coal mines. The Office mainly oversees State mining regulatory and abandoned-mine reclamation programs, assists States in meeting the objectives of surface mining law, and regulates mining and reclamation activities on Federal and Indian lands and in those States opting not to assume primary responsibility for regulating coal mining and reclamation activities within their borders.

The Office establishes national policy for the surface mining control and reclamation program, reviews and approves amendments to previously approved State programs, and reviews and recommends approval of new State program submissions. It also manages the collection, disbursement, and accounting of abandoned-mine land reclamation fees; administers civil penalties programs; establishes technical standards and regulatory policy for reclamation and enforcement; offers guidance for environmental considerations, research, training, and technology transfers; and monitors and evaluates State and tribal regulatory programs, cooperative agreements, and abandoned-mine land reclamation programs.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Abandoned Mine Land Inventory System

To provide information for implementing the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, the OSMRE maintains an inventory of land and water affected by past mining. The inventory contains information on the location, type, and extent of abandoned mine land impacts, as well as information on the reclamation costs. The inventory is based on field surveys by State, tribal, and OSMRE program officials.

<https://amlis.osmre.gov/About.aspx>

Business Opportunities

Information to assist small business operators and owners is available online. For additional information, contact the Acquisition Management Branch. Phone, 202-208-2902.

<http://www.osmre.gov/contacts/business.shtm>

Career Opportunities

To find employment opportunities at the OSMRE, visit the "Jobs at OSMRE" Web page and click on the USAJobs quick link.

<http://www.osmre.gov/contacts/jobs.shtm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

A FOIA request for OSMRE records may be submitted via electronic or postal mail or by using the Department of the Interior's electronic request form and selecting "Office of Surface Mining" in the drop-down menu.

<http://www.osmre.gov/lrg/foia.shtm> | Email: foia@osmre.gov

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The OSMRE posts answers to FAQs online.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/FAQs.shtm>

The OSMRE website also has a "How Do I?" section.

<http://www.osmre.gov/howdoi.shtm>

Grants

Information on regulatory program grants and abandoned mine land grants is available on the OSMRE website.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/grants.shtm>

Library

The general public may use the OSMRE online library catalog to locate legal and technical information.

<http://o10007.eos-intl.net/O10007/OPAC/Index.aspx>

Mine Maps

The National Mine Map Repository collects and maintains mine map information and images for the entire country.

<http://mmr.osmre.gov>

An index that includes over 180,000 maps of closed and abandoned mines is available online. The index serves as an inventory for determining which maps are available. To obtain actual copies of maps, contact the National Mine Map Repository. Fax, 412-937-2888.

<http://mmr.osmre.gov/MultiPub.aspx>

Most Requested Content

The OSMRE website maintains a collection of links for its most frequently requested web pages.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/mostRequested.shtm>

Newsroom

The newsroom features OSMRE stories and news releases.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/newsroom.shtm>

The OSMRE tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/OSMRE>

The OSMRE has a Facebook page.

<https://www.facebook.com/Office.of.Surface.Mining.Reclamation.Enforcement>

Regional Offices

Appalachian Region Office

<http://www.arcc.osmre.gov/contacts.shtm>

Mid-Continent Region Office

<http://www.mcrc.osmre.gov/contacts.shtm>

Western Region Office

<http://www.wrcc.osmre.gov/contacts.shtm>

Resources

The OSMRE website has a section that is dedicated to electronic, informational resources.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources.shtm>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/sitemap.shtm>

An A-Z index is also available to help visitors find the information that they seek.

<http://www.osmre.gov/resources/AtoZ.shtm>

Top Priorities

The OSMRE website has a section highlighting the agency's major programs.

<https://www.osmre.gov/programs.shtm>

<http://www.osmre.gov/contacts.shtm> | Email: getinfo@osmre.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Communications, Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Department of the Interior, 1951 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20240. Phone, 202-208-2565. TDD, 202-208-2694.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Fish and Wildlife Service

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE

Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240

703-358-4545

<http://www.fws.gov>

DIRECTOR *

(vacancy)

Principal Deputy Director

Margaret Everson

https://www.fws.gov/OFFICES/margaret\_everson.html

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Fish and Wildlife and Parks.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2020.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) is the principal Federal agency dedicated to fish and wildlife conservation. The Service's history spans 145 years, dating from the establishment of its predecessor agency, the Bureau of Fisheries, in 1871. First created as an independent agency, the Bureau of Fisheries was later placed in the Department of Commerce. A second predecessor agency, the Bureau of Biological Survey, was established in 1885 in the Department of Agriculture. In 1939, the two Bureaus and their functions were transferred to the Department of the Interior. In 1940, they were consolidated into one agency and redesignated the Fish and Wildlife Service by Reorganization Plan No. 3 (5 U.S.C. app.).

<http://training.fws.gov/history/USFWS-history.html>

The USFWS statement of organization may be found in subchapter A, part 2, of 50 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=fd103790c5bf5f4aa28f53fa458756ca&mc=true&node=pt50.1.2&rgn=div5>

The USFWS works with others to conserve, protect, and enhance fish, wildlife and plants and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people. The Service manages the 150-million-acre National Wildlife Refuge System, which comprises 563 refuges and 38 wetland management districts. It operates 72 national fish hatcheries, a historic national fish hatchery, 65 fishery resource offices, and 81 ecological service field stations. The USFWS enforces Federal wildlife laws, administers the Endangered Species Act, manages migratory bird populations, restores nationally significant fisheries, conserves and restores wildlife habitats, and assists foreign governments with conservation. It also collects excise taxes on fishing and hunting equipment and distributes the revenues to State fish and wildlife agencies.

The Service improves and maintains fish and wildlife resources by proper management of wildlife and habitat. It also helps meet public demand for wildlife dependent recreational activities by maintaining public lands and restoring native fish and wildlife populations.

Wildlife and fishery resource programs support the management of wildlife refuges on public lands. Wildlife-related activities include population control, migration and harvest surveys, and law and gaming enforcement for migratory and nonmigratory birds and mammals. Fishery-related activities include hatchery production monitoring, stocking, and fishery management. Fishery resource programs also provide technical assistance for coastal anadromous, Great Lakes, and other inland fisheries.

The USFWS identifies, protects, and restores endangered fish, wildlife, and plant species. It maintains Federal lists of endangered and threatened wildlife and plants that are published in the Code of Federal Regulations (50 CFR 17.11 et seq.), conducts status surveys, prepares recovery plans, and coordinates national and international wildlife refuge operations.

The Service protects and improves land and water environments to benefit living natural resources and to enhance the quality of human life. It administers grant programs that help imperiled species, assists private landowners restore habitat, assess environmental impact and reviews potential environmental threats, manages Coastal Barrier Resource System mapping, monitors potential wildlife contaminants, and studies fish and wildlife population trends.

Public use and information activities include preparing informational brochures and maintaining public websites; coordinating environmental studies on USFWS lands; operating visitor centers, self-guided nature trails, observation towers, and display ponds; and promoting birdwatching, fishing, hunting, wildlife photography, and other forms of wildlife-dependent outdoor recreation.

The Wildlife and Sport Fish Restoration Program supports the conservation and enhancement of the Nation's fish and wildlife resources. Excise taxes on sporting arms and fishing equipment fund these efforts.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that USFWS records have been assigned to record group 022.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/022.html>

Blog

"Open Spaces—A Talk on the Wild Side" is the name of the official USFWS blog.

<https://www.fws.gov/news/blog>

Business Opportunities

An online guide explains how to find business opportunities and to compete for them. Information is also available from regional offices and from the Division of Contracting and General Services in Falls Church, VA. Phone, 703-358-2500.

<http://www.fws.gov/cfm/Small%20Business/BusinessWith.html> | Email: small\_business\_opts@fws.gov

Career Opportunities

Information on careers in conservation is available on the USFWS website. Additional information is available from USFWS regional offices and the Human Capital Office in Falls Church, VA. Phone, 703-358-1743.

<https://www.fws.gov/humancapital>

In 2019, the USFWS ranked 157th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/IN15>

Climate Change

The USFWS website provides a collection of links and informational sources for learning about climate science and conservation in a changing climate.

<https://www.fws.gov/home/climatechange/resources.html>

Crimes Against Wildlife

To report a violation of wildlife laws or to learn about enforcement of them, visit the "Office of Law Enforcement" website, contact the nearest regional law enforcement office, or call the Office of Law Enforcement in Falls Church, VA. Phone, 703-358-1949.

<http://www.fws.gov/le> | Email: lawenforcement@fws.gov

The USFWS forensic laboratory is unique in its dedication to crimes against wildlife. Forensic experts examine, identify, and compare physical evidence to connect crime scenes, suspects, and victims with it.

<https://www.fws.gov/lab>

Endangered Species

The USFWS website features a search tool for learning about and identifying endangered species. The text boxes can search for an endangered species based on the State, U.S. Territory, or county where it lives, or according to its common or scientific name.

<https://www.fws.gov/endangered/?ref=topbar>

An online subscription form is available to receive breaking news affecting endangered species, endangered species news stories, and the "Endangered Species Bulletin" via email.

https://visitor.r20.constantcontact.com/manage/optin?v=001ip3iEJ-xkvrM\_ZzpwhxaKQXTq4Cp14J

Energy Development

The USFWS website has a section that is dedicated to the development of domestic energy sources and its effect on wildlife.

<https://www.fws.gov/ecological-services/energy-development/energy.html>

Federal Register

Significant documents, from 1995 (volume 60) to the present, and recent documents that the USFWS has published in the Federal Register are available online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/fish-and-wildlife-service>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The USFWS makes records available, by law, to the public to the greatest extent possible. The records that are being sought already may be posted online. If the information cannot be found online or if the location of the desired records is uncertain, consider contacting the USFWS FOIA public liaison before submitting a FOIA request.

<https://www.fws.gov/irm/bpim/foia.html> | Email: fwhq\_foia@fws.gov

The USFWS maintains an electronic FOIA library and FOIA reading room on its website.

<https://www.fws.gov/irm/bpim/foiaread.html>

Glossaries

Ecological Services maintains an online glossary of terms found in environmental legislation.

<https://www.fws.gov/ecological-services/about/glossary.html>

The Midwest Region maintains an online glossary of terms associated with endangered species.

<https://www.fws.gov/midwest/endangered/glossary/index.html>

The USFWS website features a short glossary of National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) terms in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.fws.gov/r9esnepa/Intro/Glossary.PDF>

National Wildlife Refuges

For information on the National Wildlife Refuge System, including information on specific wildlife refuges and wetland management districts, visit the "National Wildlife Refuge System" website. Phone, 800-344-9453.

<http://www.fws.gov/refuges/index.html>

News Media Inquiries

Journalists, reporters, and other media professionals seeking information or to arrange an interview should contact a regional public affairs officer or the Division of Public Affairs in Falls Church, VA. Phone, 703-358-2220.

<http://www.fws.gov/external-affairs/contacts.html>

Newsroom

The USFWS posts news releases online.

<https://www.fws.gov/news>

Permits

Visit the "Do I Need a Permit" web page to learn the rules for importing, exporting, and reexporting protected species. Information on Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES) permits and certificates is also available from the Division of Management Authority. Phone, 800-358-2104 or 703-358-2093.

<http://www.fws.gov/international/permits/do-i-need-a-permit.html> | Email: managementauthority@fws.gov

Publications

The USFWS national publications unit is headquartered at the National Conservation Training Center in Shepherdstown, WV. It is the primary distribution center for printed material published by the USFWS. The publications unit handles requests from Federal and State agencies, businesses, educators, and the general public. USFWS publications include booklets, brochures, posters, and reports. Phone, 800-344-9543.

<http://nctc.fws.gov/resources/knowledge-resources>

Some publications may need to be ordered from the U.S. Government Bookstore, which the Government Publishing Office operates. Phone, 866-512-1800 (customer contact center). Phone, 202-512-0132 (store phone).

<https://bookstore.gpo.gov> | Email: ContactCenter@gpo.gov

Regional Offices

USFWS has regional offices that represent each of its geographic regions. Contact information for each of these regional offices is available on the USFWS website.

<https://www.fws.gov/external-affairs/contacts.html>

The Office of Law Enforcement, in addition to its national office in Falls Church, VA, maintains regional offices. Contact information for these offices is available on the USFWS website.

<https://www.fws.gov/le/regional-law-enforcement-offices.html>

A State list of other USFWS offices and their contact information is also available online.

<https://www.fws.gov/offices>

Social Media

The USFWS uses social media to communicate and connect with Internet users worldwide. The agency tweets from its Twitter accounts; maintains an Instagram feed and Pinterest board; posts videos on its YouTube channel and photographs on Flickr; and has Facebook, LinkedIn, and Google+ pages.

<http://www.fws.gov/home/socialmedia/index.html?ref=topbar>

Water Resource Development

The ecological services program includes USFWS participation in projects to develop water resources for meeting the needs of local communities and for conserving fish and wildlife. The USFWS works alongside the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation when participating in these development projects.

<https://www.fws.gov/ecological-services/energy-development/water.html>

The Sources of Information were updated 5–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Geological Survey

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

12201 Sunrise Valley Drive, Reston, VA 20192

703-648-4000

<http://www.usgs.gov> | Email: ASK@usgs.gov

DIRECTOR *

James F. Reilly

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/key-officials>

Deputy Directors

---

Administration and Policy

Roseann C. Gonzales-Schreiner

Operations

Cynthia L. Lodge

<https://www.usgs.gov/media/images/usgs-organizational-chart>

* The Director reports to the Assistant Secretary of Water and Science.

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 12–2020.

The United States Geological Survey (USGS) was established by the Organic Act of March 3, 1879 (Ch. 182 / 20 Stat. 394 / 43 U.S.C. 31). Since March 3, 1879, the Survey has provided the United States with science information needed to make important land use and resource management policy decisions.

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/45th-congress/session-3/c45s3ch182.pdf>

The USGS serves as the Earth and natural science research bureau for the Department of the Interior. It is the only integrated natural resources research agency in the Federal Government. USGS research and data support the Department's resource and land management information needs. Other Federal, State, tribal, and local government agencies rely on USGS research and data for their biological, climate, energy, mineral resources, natural hazards, and water information needs. Emergency response organizations, natural resource managers, land use planners, and other customers use USGS research and data to protect lives and property, to address environmental health issues, and to promote the public weal.

<http://www.usgs.gov/about/about-us/who-we-are>

The USGS conducts research, monitoring, and assessments to increase understanding of America's biological, land, and water resources. The Service informs American citizens and members of the global community by producing data, maps, and reports containing analyses and interpretations. These analyses and interpretations cover a range of topics: biological, energy, mineral, and water resources; land surfaces; marine environments; geologic structures; natural hazards; and dynamic processes of the Earth. Citizens, managers, and planners regularly use USGS data, analytical, and interpretive products to respond to and plan for changes in ecosystems and the environment.

The USGS has over 140 years of experience generating science-based data. In more than 400 science centers across the United States, the Service employs approximately 10,000 science and science-support staff, who work on locally, regionally, and nationally scaled studies, on research projects, and at sampling and monitoring sites.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that USGS records have been assigned to record group 057.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/057.html>

Business Opportunities

General information on contracting is available from the Office of Acquisition and Grants. Phone, 703-648-7376.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/administration/office-acquisition-and-grants>

The "Small Business Program" web page has resources to help small-business owners.

https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/administration/office-acquisition-and-grants/small-business?qt-science\_support\_page\_related\_con=1#qt-science\_support\_page\_related\_con | Email: gs\_smallbusiness@usgs.gov

Career Opportunities

The USGS relies on professionals with a range of expertise and diverse skills to carry out its mission. Many of these professionals have been educated and trained in various scientific disciplines: biology, cartography, chemistry, ecology, geology, geography, hydrology, and physics.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/human-capital/employment-and-information-center> | Email: hcweb@usgs.gov

In 2019, the USGS ranked 168th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/IN08>

Contact Information

The "Contact USGS" web page has an electronic message form, as well as information on social media and web chat. Phone, 888-275-8747.

<https://answers.usgs.gov>

Critical Minerals List

On May 18, 2018, the Department of the Interior's Office of the Secretary published the notice "Final List of Critical Minerals 2018" in the Federal Register (83 FR 23295). The expertise of USGS staff plays a key role in reducing the Nation's vulnerability to disruptions in the supply of these minerals. On its website, the USGS posted the announcement "Interior Releases 2018's Final List of 35 Minerals Deemed Critical to U.S. National Security and the Economy." Each of the critical minerals is hyperlinked to a web page with statistics and other information on that particular mineral. Although the list is a final version, it should not be characterized as a permanent, but as a dynamic, list that will be updated.

<https://www.usgs.gov/news/interior-releases-2018-s-final-list-35-minerals-deemed-critical-us-national-security-and>

Earthquakes for Kids

Earthquakes for kids provides online resources to help children and adults learn about earthquakes and earthquake science.

<http://earthquake.usgs.gov/learn/kids>

Federal Register

Documents that the USGS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/geological-survey>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA electronic reading room contains documents related to the Flow Rate Technical Group in response to the Deepwater Horizon oil spill. These documents have been cleared for public release, and the USGS expects to publish additional documents to this collection. Before submitting a FOIA request for agency records, an information seeker should search this reading room and other Federal Government Deepwater Horizon electronic reading rooms for documents and information.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The USGS posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.usgs.gov/faq>

Glossaries

A landslides glossary is available on the USGS website.

https://www.usgs.gov/natural-hazards/landslide-hazards/science/landslides-glossary?qt-science\_center\_objects=0#qt-science\_center\_objects

The earthquake hazards program includes an online glossary.

<http://earthquake.usgs.gov/learn/glossary>

The Office of Budget, Planning, and Integration maintains an online glossary of common terms and financial terms.

<https://www.usgs.gov/about/organization/science-support/budget/glossary>

A glossary of collections management terms is available online.

<https://www.usgs.gov/products/scientific-collections/glossary-terms>

A Landsat glossary and list of acronyms are available online.

<https://www.usgs.gov/core-science-systems/nli/landsat/landsat-glossary>

The USGS published a glossary of glacier-related terms.

<https://pubs.usgs.gov/of/2004/1216/a/a.html>

A list of water-related terms and their definitions are available online.

https://www.usgs.gov/special-topic/water-science-school/science/dictionary-water-terms?qt-science\_center\_objects=0#qt-science\_center\_objects

History

Mary C. Rabbitt's "The United States Geological Survey: 1879–1989" is available in electronic form on the USGS website.

It is a 110-year history of the relation of geology to the development of policies for public land, Federal science, and mapping, and to the development of mineral resources in the United States.

<http://pubs.usgs.gov/circ/c1050>

Landsat Satellite Missions

In 1966, former Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall announced the launching of the Earth Resources Observation Satellites (EROS) project. His vision was to observe the Earth for the benefit of all. One of the purposes of the ongoing project is to collect valuable resource data and use them to improve the environmental quality of the biosphere.

https://www.usgs.gov/core-science-systems/nli/landsat/landsat-satellite-missions?qt-science\_support\_page\_related\_con=0#qt-science\_support\_page\_related\_con

Library

Established in 1879, the USGS library is now the largest library for earth sciences in the world. Professional librarians develop and maintain USGS library guides to connect users to relevant resources and research strategies.

<https://usgs.libguides.com/home> | Email: library@usgs.gov

National Map

The National Map website offers Internet users a trove of topographical information.

<https://www.usgs.gov/core-science-systems/national-geospatial-program/national-map>

Natural Hazards

Information on the programs and activities of the natural hazards mission—including information on earthquakes, flooding, landslides, volcanoes, and wildfires—is available online.

<https://www.usgs.gov/mission-areas/natural-hazards>

News

The USGS posts national and State news items.

<https://www.usgs.gov/news/news-releases>

Publications

The USGS publications warehouse provides access to over 130,000 publications written by USGS scientists throughout the agency's history.

<https://pubs.er.usgs.gov>

Science Snippets

The USGS posts fun facts and interesting snippets of science.

<https://www.usgs.gov/news/science-snippets>

Site Map

The Website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.usgs.gov/sitemap>

USGS Store

Educational materials, Federal recreation passes, maps, scientific reports, and more are available from the online USGS Store.

<https://store.usgs.gov>

Social Media

The USGS maintains a presence on social media.

<https://www.usgs.gov/connect/social-media>

Volcanic Activity Alerts

Information on U.S. volcanoes and current activity alerts are available on the "Volcano Hazards" web page.

<https://www.usgs.gov/volcano>

Water Resources

Reliable, impartial, and timely information on the Nation's water resources is available on the "Water Resources" web page. Phone, 888-275-8747.

<http://www.usgs.gov/water>

A nationwide list of all of the USGS water resources mission area science centers and regions and hubs for critical water science that Federal, State, and other partners and stakeholders fund is available online.

<https://www.usgs.gov/mission-areas/water-resources/about/water-resources-mission-area-science-centers-and-regions>

Wetlands and Aquatics Research

The Wetlands and Aquatics Research Center conducts research, develops new approaches and technologies, and disseminates scientific information that is needed for understanding, managing, conserving, and restoring wetlands and other aquatic and coastal ecosystems and their associated plant and animal communities throughout the Nation and the world.

<https://www.usgs.gov/centers/wetland-and-aquatic-research-center-war>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Department of the Treasury
Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau
Bureau of Engraving and Printing
Bureau of the Fiscal Service
Internal Revenue Service
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency
United States Mint

The United States Government Manual

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

1500 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20220

202-622-2000

<http://www.treasury.gov>

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

Janet Yellen

Deputy Secretary of the Treasury

Adewale O. Adeyemo

Chief of Staff

Didem Nisanci

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/general-information/officials/janet-yellen>

UNDER SECRETARIES

---

Domestic Finance

(vacancy)

International Affairs

(vacancy)

Terrorism and Financial Intelligence

(vacancy)

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/general-information/organizational-chart>

Treasurer of the United States

Jovita Carranza

<https://www.moneyfactory.gov/treasureroftheunitedstates.html>

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

---

Economic Policy

(vacancy)

Legislative Affairs

Brad Bailey, Acting

Management

(vacancy)

Public Affairs

Calvin Mitchell

Tax Policy

(vacancy)

DOMESTIC FINANCE

---

Financial Institutions Policy

Kipp Kranbuhl, Acting

Financial Markets

(vacancy)

Financial Stability

(vacancy)

---

Fiscal Service

David A. Lebryk

---

---

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

---

International Finance

Geoffrey Okamoto, Acting

---

International Markets

(vacancy)

---

---

TERRORISM AND FINANCIAL INTELLIGENCE

---

Foreign Asset Control

(vacancy)

---

Intelligence and Analysis

(vacancy)

---

Terrorist Financing and Financial Crimes

(vacancy)

---

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/general-information/officials>

CHIEF OFFICERS

---

Information

(vacancy)

---

Risk

Kenneth J. Phelan

---

General Counsel

(vacancy)

---

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices>

INSPECTOR GENERAL

---

Deputy

Richard K. Delmar

---

<https://oig.treasury.gov/about>

SPECIAL INSPECTORS GENERAL

---

Pandemic Recovery

Brian D. Miller

---

<https://www.sigpr.gov/about-sigpr/meet-special-inspector-general>

Troubled Asset Relief Program

Christy G. Romero

<https://www.sigpr.gov/about-us>

TREASURY INSPECTOR GENERAL

---

Tax Administration

J. Russell George

https://www.treasury.gov/tigta/about\_ig.shtml

The above list of key personnel was updated 4–2021.

The Department of the Treasury enforces financial laws, manufactures coins and currency, and recommends economic, fiscal, and tax policies.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On September 2, 1789, a few months after taking his oath of office as the Nation's first President, George Washington signed into law an act establishing a Department of Treasury. Subsequent acts have figured in the development of the Department, delegating new duties to its charge and establishing the numerous bureaus and divisions that constitute today's Department of the Treasury.

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/1st-congress/session-1/c1s1ch12.pdf>

The Department of the Treasury's organizational structure has two major components: departmental offices and operating bureaus. Departmental offices are primarily responsible for the formulation of policy and management of the Department as a whole. Operating bureaus carry out the specific operations that have been assigned to the Department.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/general-information/role-of-the-treasury>

The Department's organizational chart is posted on the "Organizational Structure" web page.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/general-information/organizational-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Codified statutory material affecting the Department of the Treasury has been assigned to Chapter 3 of 31 U.S.C. That chapter of Title 31 is divided into two subchapters: "Subchapter I—Organization" runs from section 301 to 315; "Subchapter II—Administrative" runs from section 321 to 333.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title31/subtitle1/chapter3&edition=prelim>

Codified rules and regulations that affect money and finance and that are associated with the Department of the Treasury have been assigned to "Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of the Treasury" and "Subtitle B—Regulations Relating to Money and Finance" of 31 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

[SID=f0074465e4c35d4ec9ff9754831610dd&mc=true&tpl=/ecf/browse/Title31/31tab\_02.tpl](https://www.usgovernmentmanual.gov/Agency?EntityId=hPE3UZwcS0Y=&ParentId=+klubNygV0o=&EType=jY3M4CTKVHY=[12/15/2021 2:12:41 PM])

ACTIVITIES

As a major policy adviser to the President, the Secretary recommends domestic and international financial, economic, and tax policy; formulates broad fiscal policies that have general significance for the economy; and manages the public debt. The Secretary oversees the activities of the Department in carrying out its major law enforcement responsibility; in serving as the financial agent for the U.S. Government; and in manufacturing coins, currency, and other products for customer agencies. The Secretary also acts as the Government's chief financial officer.

Domestic Finance

The Office of Domestic Finance maintains confidence in the U.S. Treasury market, manages Federal fiscal operations, and strengthens financial institutions and markets; promotes access to credit; and improves financial access and education in service of America's long-term economic strength and stability.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices/domestic-finance>

Economic Policy

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Economic Policy helps policymakers determine economic policies. The Office analyzes domestic and international economic issues and developments in the financial markets, assists in forming official economic projections, and works closely with Federal Government agencies to make economic forecasts supporting the yearly budget process.

<https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/economic-policy>

Enforcement

The Department's law enforcement activities are carried out by its offices and bureaus, including the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Office of Terrorism and Financial Intelligence (TFI). The Office of Foreign Assets Control, which is part of the TFI, plays a key role in controlling the assets of "blocked" countries in the United States and restricting the flow of funds and trade with them.

Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau

<https://www.ttb.gov/enforcement>

Internal Revenue Service

<https://www.irs.gov/compliance/criminal-investigation>

Office of Terrorism and Financial Intelligence

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices/terrorism-and-financial-intelligence>

Financial Institutions

The Office of Financial Institutions coordinates the Department's efforts regarding financial institutions legislation and regulation, legislation affecting Federal agencies that regulate or insure financial institutions, and securities markets legislation and regulation. The Office also coordinates the Department's financial education policy efforts and ensures the resiliency of the financial services sector.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices/domestic-finance/financial-institutions>

Financial Markets

The Office of Financial Markets serves to formulate policy on Federal debt management, State and local finance (including the Federal debt), Federal Government credit policies, and lending and privatization. This Office also oversees the Federal Financing Bank, and the Assistant Secretary serves as the senior member of the Treasury Financing Group and coordinates the President's Working Group on Financial Markets.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices/domestic-finance/financial-markets>

Financial Stability

The Office of Financial Stability within the U.S. Treasury was created by the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008 (12 U.S.C. 5201 et seq.) to administer the Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP). The purpose of the TARP was to help restore liquidity and stability to the U.S. financial system following the 2008 financial crisis. The Treasury's authority to make financial commitments under TARP ended on October 3, 2010. The Office continues to wind down the TARP investments in a manner that balances exit speed with maximizing taxpayer returns. It also helps homeowners prevent avoidable foreclosures.

<https://www.treasury.gov/initiatives/financial-stability/Pages/about-ofs.aspx>

Fiscal Affairs

The Office of the Fiscal Assistant Secretary provides policy oversight of the Fiscal Service bureaus and develops policy on payments, collections, debt financing operations, electronic commerce, Governmentwide accounting, Government investment fund management, and other related issues. The Office also performs two critical functions for the Department: It manages the daily cash position of the Government, and it produces the cash and debt forecasts used to determine the size and timing of the Government's financing operations.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices/domestic-finance/fiscal-service>

International Finance

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for International Finance conducts macroeconomic analyses to advise the Under Secretary for International Affairs and other policymakers. The Office also helps them formulate and execute financial and economic policy affecting or involving the International Monetary Fund, the U.S.-China Strategic and Economic Dialogue, the G-20, and other major multilateral and bilateral engagements.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices/international-affairs>

International Markets and Development

The Office of the Assistant Secretary of International Markets and Development manages the work of the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States and the Treasury's Office of Technical Assistance. The Office also advises the Under Secretary for International Affairs and other policymakers on financial and economic policies relevant to major bilateral and multilateral engagements, and it assists them with these engagements. The Office plays a similar role in the formulation and execution of policies affecting export finance, financial services, trade, and multilateral development, including the World Bank, the regional development banks, and emerging global issues like food security and climate finance.

Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States

<https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/international/the-committee-on-foreign-investment-in-the-united-states-cfius>
Office of Technical Assistance

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices/international-affairs/technical-assistance>

Tax Policy

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Tax Policy advises and assists the Secretary and the Deputy Secretary in the formulation and execution of domestic and international tax policies and programs. These functions include analysis of proposed tax legislation and tax programs; projections of economic trends affecting tax bases; studies of effects of alternative tax measures; preparation of official estimates of Government receipts for the President's annual budget messages; legal advice and analysis on domestic and international tax matters; assistance in the development and review of tax legislation and domestic and international tax regulations and rulings; and participation in international tax treaty negotiations and in maintenance of relations with international organizations on tax matters.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices/tax-policy>

Treasurer of the United States

The Office of the Treasurer of the United States was established on September 6, 1777. The Treasurer was originally charged with the receipt and custody of Government funds, but many of these functions have been assumed by different bureaus of the Department. In 1981, the Treasurer was assigned responsibility for oversight of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the United States Mint. The Treasurer reports to the Secretary through the Assistant Secretary for Management.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/offices/treasurer>

Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration

The Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration (TIGTA), in accordance with the Internal Revenue Service Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998 (26 U.S.C. 1 note), independently oversees Internal Revenue Service programs and activities. TIGTA monitors the Nation's tax laws to ensure that the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) acts with efficiency, economy, and effectiveness; ensures compliance with applicable laws and regulations; prevents, detects, and deters fraud, waste, and abuse; investigates activities or allegations related to fraud, waste, and abuse by IRS personnel; and protects the IRS against attempts to corrupt or threaten its employees.

<https://www.treasury.gov/tigta>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Department of the Treasury records have been assigned to record group 056.

https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/056.html?\_ga=2.232359263.1725271782.1604688789-1741997824.1566513831

Assistance for Small Businesses

The paycheck protection program provides small businesses with resources for maintaining payroll, hiring back employees who may have been laid off, and covering overhead that is applicable.

<https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/cares/assistance-for-small-businesses>

For information on small and disadvantaged business activities, visit the Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization's web pages. Phone, 202-622-5666.

<https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/small-business-programs/small-and-disadvantaged-business-utilization-0>

Bureaus

The Bureaus carry out specific operations assigned to the Department of the Treasury. Bureau employees constitute 98% of its workforce. The Department's website has a "Bureaus" web page that provides easy access to the websites of each of them.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/bureaus>

Careers Opportunities

The Department of the Treasury employs over 100,000 professionals nationwide and around the world.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/careers-at-treasury>

In 2019, the Department of the Treasury ranked number 9 among 17 large Government agencies in the Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/TR00>

Contact Information

The "Contact" web page contains information for contacting bureaus, offices, programs, services, and for making inquiries, providing feedback, reporting concerns, and replacing damaged currency.

<https://home.treasury.gov/utility/contact>

Members of the media may contact the Department of the Treasury by phone or email. Phone, 202-622-2960.

<https://home.treasury.gov/contacts-for-members-of-the-media> | Email: press@treasury.gov

Data / Charts

A trove of economic information—charts, data, and tables—is available online.

<https://www.treasury.gov/resource-center/data-chart-center/Pages/index.aspx>

Educational Resources

The Department of the Treasury's website has learning resources that are suitable for children and parents, for students and teachers, as well as college students and other curious adults.

<https://home.treasury.gov/services/education>

Environment

The "Office of Management and Budget Scorecard on Sustainability/Energy" (2016) for the Department of the Treasury is accessible online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.treasury.gov/about/budget-performance/annual-performance-plan/Documents/TREASURY%20Final%20Jan%202016%20OMB%20Scorecard.public%20version.pdf>

On October 5, 2009, President Barack Obama signed Executive Order 13514, "Federal Leadership in Environmental,

Energy, and Economic Performance," which required scorecards to provide "periodic evaluation of Federal agency performance in implementing" the order and publication of the evaluation results on a public website to support transparency and accountability.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2009-10-08/pdf/E9-24518.pdf>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the Department of the Treasury recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/treasury-department>

Financing Government

The Department of the Treasury's debt management policy prioritizes financing the Government at the lowest cost, over time. To learn more about policymaking for financing the Government, explore the debt management resources that the Department has posted.

<https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/financing-the-government>

Forms

The "Forms" web page contains links to Government forms that are accessible online.

<https://home.treasury.gov/services/forms>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives a right to request access to records of the U.S. Government's executive branch to any person. The records must be disclosed unless they are shielded from request by one or more of the exempt categories of information found in the statute.

<https://home.treasury.gov/footer/freedom-of-information-act>

The Department of the Treasury maintains an electronic reading room whose holdings are governed by the FOIA.

<https://home.treasury.gov/footer/freedom-of-information-act/electronic-reading-room>

A FOIA request may be submitted electronically. An information seeker who wants to submit his or her request electronically may choose one of two options: using the governmentwide national FOIA portal or submitting a request directly to the appropriate departmental bureau.

<https://home.treasury.gov/footer/freedom-of-information-act/submit-a-request>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The Department of the Treasury posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.treasury.gov/resource-center/faqs/Pages/default.aspx>

General Property Auctions

Information on upcoming sales of aircraft, vehicles, vessels, and general property is posted online.

<https://www.treasury.gov/auctions/treasury/gp/>

Glossary

The Department of the Treasury maintains a list of acronyms and terms that recur on its website.

<https://www.treasury.gov/initiatives/financial-stability/glossary/pages/default.aspx>

History

A trove of historical information on the Department of the Treasury and its building is available online.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/history>

A visual and audio tour of the Treasury Building's points of interest is available online. The points of interest on the map are hyperlinked to brief audio descriptions.

<https://m.treasury.gov/about/history/m/m.html#map>

Nero was purchased in 1793 to serve as "a Dog for the Yard." He—and his successor watchdogs—accompanied the night watchman, whose duties required him to visit all sectors of the Mint premises every hour. To learn more about these early and faithful Treasury employees, see the "Watchdogs of the Treasury" web page.

<https://www.treasury.gov/about/history/Pages/watchdogs.aspx>

Library

The Treasury Library is housed in the Freedman's Bank Building, room 1020. The entrance to the building is located at 720 Madison Place NW., Washington, DC. Members of the public may access the library's holdings by appointment. Visitors must receive clearance from the Secret Service to enter the library. A clearance request must be made at least one business day before a scheduled visit. Consulting with a Treasury librarian in advance of a visit can save time because it helps ensure that relevant materials are readily accessible and available for use. Phone, 202-622-0990.

<https://home.treasury.gov/services/tours-and-library/library>

Press Releases

The Department of the Treasury posts press releases online.

<https://home.treasury.gov/news/press-releases>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.treasury.gov/Pages/site-map.aspx>

Slam the Scam

The Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration has produced a flyer that explains a scam involving the impersonation of an Internal Revenue Service employee. The flyer is available in English or Spanish. Phone, 800-366-4484.

<https://www.treasury.gov/tigta/docs/Slam%20the%20Scam%20Flyer.pdf> | Email: complaints@tigta.treas.gov

Social Media

The Department of the Treasury maintains a social media presence on Facebook, Flickr, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.treasury.gov/connect/Pages/default.aspx>

Social Security / Medicare

The Secretary of the Treasury chairs the Boards of Trustees of the Social Security and Medicare trust funds. He or she serves with five other trustees: three trustees from the Federal Government and two public trustees whom the President appoints and the Senate confirms. Each year the trustees provide the U.S. Congress with an accounting of the current and projected financial status of the Social Security and Medicare trust funds. Two reports are issued: One is for Social Security; the other is for Medicare; and both reports are posted on the "Social Security and Medicare Trustee Reports" web page.

<https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/economic-policy/social-security-and-medicare-trustee-reports>

Tax Analysis

The staff of the Office of Tax Analysis (OTA) posts original research online in its working papers series. The OTA staff also develops datasets, methods, and models that its uses for policy analysis and estimates. The technical papers series, which is also posted online, presents documentation of these datasets, methods, and models.

<https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/tax-policy/office-of-tax-analysis>

Tribal Affairs

The "Tribal Affairs" web page contains links to the "Tribal Consultations" and "Treasury Tribal Advisory Committee" web pages.

<https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/tribal-affairs>

Works Progress Administration (WPA) Artwork

A serendipitous consequence of the economic hardship that was caused by the Great Depression, which followed the 1929 stock market collapse, was that Americans started visiting public museums in droves. Having little money for anything other than necessities, they took advantage of free museum admissions, and many were, for the first time, exposed to works of art and responded with appreciation for them. In a cultural moment that the New Deal initiatives of President Franklin D. Roosevelt were shaping, the confluence of a heightened awareness of public art, employment-relief needs of artists, and creation of artwork for new Federal buildings stimulated the establishment of three public arts programs that the Treasury Department administered.

<https://home.treasury.gov/about/history/collection/paintings/wpa-art-collection>

Yield Curves

Information on Treasury Yield Curves for nominal and real coupon issues and its breakeven inflation curve and on the corporate bond yield curve and its relationship to the Pension Protection Act is available on the "Treasury Coupon Issues and Corporate Bond Yield Curves" web page.

<https://home.treasury.gov/data/treasury-coupon-issues-and-corporate-bond-yield-curves>

The above Sources of Information were updated 4–2021.

Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau

1310 G Street NW., Box 12, Washington, DC 20005

202-453-2000

<http://www.ttb.gov>

---

|               |              |
|---------------|--------------|
| ADMINISTRATOR | Mary G. Ryan |
|---------------|--------------|

---

|                      |               |
|----------------------|---------------|
| Deputy Administrator | David M. Wulf |
|----------------------|---------------|

---

<https://www.ttb.gov/offices/executive-offices>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 4–2021.

The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau enforces the laws regulating alcohol production, importation, and wholesale businesses; tobacco manufacturing and importing businesses; and alcohol labeling and advertising.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On November 25, 2002, President George W. Bush approved Public Law 107–296, which is also cited as the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (116 Stat. 2135). Title XI—Department of Justice Divisions contains a subtitle (116 Stat. 2274–2280) that transferred the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms to the Department of Justice, while providing that the tax collection functions were to remain with the Department of the Treasury and be administered by a newly established Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-116/pdf/STATUTE-116-Pg2135.pdf>

The statute became effective 60 days after the President signed it (116 Stat. 2142) thereby establishing the TTB on January 24, 2003.

<https://www.ttb.gov/about-ttb/history>

The TTB posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.ttb.gov/about-ttb/organizational-chart-for-ttb>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Codified material from Public Law 107–296 has been assigned to section 531 of 6 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title6/chapter1/subchapter11&edition=prelim>

Codified statutory material affecting taxation of distilled spirits, wines, and beer has been assigned to chapter 51 of 26 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title26/subtitleE/chapter51&edition=prelim>

Codified statutory material affecting taxation of tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes has been assigned to chapter 52 of 26 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title26/subtitleE/chapter52&edition=prelim>

Codified rules and regulations that are associated with the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) have been assigned to chapter 1 of 27 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

gp=&SID=f00ed00e5660d6413f0783a84be97e50&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title27/27chapter1.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The TTB collects Federal alcohol, tobacco, firearms, and ammunition excise taxes; regulates the production, labeling, and advertising of alcohol beverages; and investigates unfair or unlawful trade in alcohol and tobacco products. The Bureau regulates alcohol and tobacco producers, importers, and wholesalers. Regulation of retailers takes place on State and local levels.

<https://www.ttb.gov/consumer/about-us-what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that records of the TTB have been assigned to record group 564. The TTB was created when the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms was split into two new bureaus and its functions were reassigned and distributed between them. The new Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATFE) and its functions became part of the Department of Justice. The new TTB and its function remained within the Department of the Treasury. Record group 564 does not have a description that currently is associated with it. Records of the ATFE have been assigned to record group 436.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/index-numeric/501-to-600.html>

Advertising, Labeling, and Formulation

For information on the advertising, labeling, and formulation of alcohol beverages, contact the Advertising, Labeling and Formulation Division. Phone, 202-453-2250 or 866-927-2533.

<http://www.ttb.gov/advertising/afd.shtml> | Email: afd@ttb.treas.gov

Business Opportunities

The Bureau procures a variety of commercial goods and services each year, using appropriated and nonappropriated funds. The "Contracting with TTB" web page has more information.

<https://www.ttb.gov/public-information/contracting>

Career Opportunities

The TTB has offices nationwide, including in Puerto Rico. Many TTB employees telework full time. To carry out its mission, the Bureau relies on alcohol and tobacco tax specialists, analysts, attorneys, auditors, chemists, investigators, labeling specialists, writers, and other professionals.

<https://www.ttb.gov/careers>

Among 420 agency subcomponents, the TTB placed 4th in the Partnership for Public Service's 2019 Best Places To Work rankings!

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/TR40>

Consumer Protection

The TTB protects the public by promulgating rules and regulations, collecting information on suspicious activities, and helping to create and enforce laws that promote industry compliance.

<https://www.ttb.gov/consumer> | Email: Market.Compliance@ttb.gov

Contact Information

The "Contact the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau" web page contains phone numbers and links to relevant online resources.

<https://www.ttb.gov/about-ttb/contact-us>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the TTB recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/alcohol-and-tobacco-tax-and-trade-bureau>

Fraud Tipline

To report fraud, diversion, and illegal activity by producers, importers, or wholesalers of alcohol and tobacco, contact the Bureau's tipline. Phone, 855-882-8477. TTD, 202-882-9914.

<https://www.ttb.gov/contact-id> | Email: tips@ttb.gov

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The TTB adheres to the policy and disclosure regulations of the Department of the Treasury for implementing the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) consistently and uniformly and for providing maximum allowable disclosure of agency records upon request. Requests are processed within the time limits defined by the FOIA.

<https://www.ttb.gov/foia>

The TTB's website has an electronic reading room containing materials that the FOIA requires the Bureau to maintain. Some records are accessible, by appointment, in the public reading room located at 1310 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20005. Phone, 202-882-9904.

<https://www.ttb.gov/foia/electronic-reading-room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The TTB posts answers to FAQs.

<http://www.ttb.gov/faqs> | Email: TTBInternetQuestions@ttb.gov

Glossary

The TTB maintains a glossary on its website.

<https://www.ttb.gov/glossary/glossary-a>

Language Links

Information is available on the TTB website in Chinese, Spanish, and French.

In Chinese

<https://www.ttb.gov/itd-chinese-index/welcome>

En Español

<https://www.ttb.gov/itd-spanish-index/enespanol>

En Français

<https://www.ttb.gov/itd-french/welcome>

Name that Grape

Using a grape variety name on an American wine label is optional. Nevertheless, many wineries and bottlers show this information on their labels. The TTB designed its "Grape Variety Designations on American Wine Labels" web page to help explain the rules.

<https://www.ttb.gov/wine/grape-variety-designations-on-american-wine-labels>

The TTB Administrator has approved a list of grape variety names for use as American wine type designations. This list has been assigned to "Subpart J—American Grape Variety Names" of part 4 in 27 CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=58ae6192e0aa4245e7ebe64227e4d126&mc=true&node=pt27.1.4&rgn=div5#sp27.1.4.j

National Revenue Center

The National Revenue Center operates a call center that is open on weekdays, 8 a.m.–11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.–5 p.m., eastern standard time. It can provide information on applications, claims, filing excise tax returns, permits, and other tax collection topics. Phone, 877-882-3277.

<https://www.ttb.gov/offices/national-revenue-center>

News / Events

The TTB posts newsletters, press releases, and other newsworthy items on its website.

<https://www.ttb.gov/press-room/news-and-events>

Online Help Center

The "Online Help Center" web page has links to information that is relevant for TTB online applications and tools for making certain transactions with TTB easier to complete online.

<https://www.ttb.gov/about-ttb/online-help-center>

Publications

The "Publications" web page provides convenient access to TTB publications that are found on various pages of the website.

<https://www.ttb.gov/publications>

Resources for Research

The "Research Resources" web page provides convenient access to information on the regulatory process, the laws and regulations that the TTB enforces, and on other subjects. It also has industry statistics and historical information.

<https://www.ttb.gov/researcher-resources>

Startup Tutorial

The TTB posted a tutorial on its website to help entrepreneurs get started in the beer, distilled spirits, tobacco, and wind industries.

<https://www.ttb.gov/industry-startup-tutorial>

Statistics / Data

The "TTB Statistics and Data" web page provides convenient access to accurate and timely statistics and data. The page has statistics on industry production and operations, TTB tax collections, and processing times for applications, labeling approval, permits, and requests for information. It also has tax rates and analysis tools like conversion charts and the Bureau's formula approval tool.

<https://www.ttb.gov/statistics>

The above Sources of Information were updated 4–2021.

Bureau of Engraving and Printing

Fourteenth and C Streets SW., Washington, DC 20228

202-874-4000

<http://www.moneyfactory.com>

---

DIRECTOR

Leonard R. Oljar

---

Deputy Director

(vacancy)

---

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/about/officeofthedirector.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 04–2021.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing operates on basic authorities conferred by act of July 11, 1862 (31 U.S.C. 303), and on additional authorities contained in past appropriations made to the Bureau that are still in force. A revolving fund established in 1950, in accordance with Public Law 81–656, finances the Bureau's operations. The Secretary of the Treasury selects the Director who heads the Bureau.

The Bureau designs, prints, and finishes all of the Nation's paper currency and many other security documents, including White House invitations and military identification cards. It also is responsible for advising and assisting Federal agencies in the design and production of other Government documents that, because of their innate value or for other reasons, require security or counterfeit-deterrence characteristics.

The Bureau also operates a second currency manufacturing plant at 9000 Blue Mound Road, Fort Worth, TX. Phone, 817-231-4000.

<https://www.moneyfactory.gov/about.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BEP records have been assigned to record group 318.

https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/318.html?\_ga=2.91357530.1147691139.1619118271-898747230.1618953560

Business Opportunities

For information on contracts and small business activities, visit the "Doing Business with the BEP" Web page or contact the Office of Acquisition. Phone, 202-874-2065.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/about/dobusinesswithbep.html>

Career Opportunities

The BEP relies on acquisition specialists, administrative staff, attorneys, chemists, engineers, police officers, security specialists, and other professionals to carry out its mission.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/about/careers.html>

Among 420 agency subcomponents, the BEP placed 113th in the Partnership for Public Service's 2019 Best Places To Work rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/TRAI>

Contact Information

Email and postal addresses and phone numbers for the BEP facilities in Washington, DC, and Fort Worth, TX, are posted on the "Contact Us" web page.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/contactus.html>

Currency Production

The production of U.S. currency involves highly trained and skilled craftspeople, specialized equipment, and a combination of traditional old world printing techniques merged with sophisticated, cutting edge technology. To learn more about the process, visit the "How Money is Made" Web page.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/uscurrency/howmoneyismade.html>

Educational Resources

The U.S. currency education program offers free educational and training resources online.

<https://uscurrency.gov/resource-center>

Federal Register

Documents that the BEP recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/engraving-and-printing-bureau>

Federal Reserve

The BEP provides answers to some common questions about the Federal Reserve.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/faqs/about-the-fed.htm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

All Federal agencies, including the BEP, create and receive records when carrying out their missions. The FOIA gives the right to access executive branch agency records to the public. The BEP makes available, upon written request, records or extracts of records in accordance with the FOIA, the Privacy Act, and certain regulations of the Department of the Treasury. The FOIA contains, however, exemptions that shield some records from request and disclosure. Phone, 202-874-2500. Fax, 202-874-2951.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/foia.html>

The BEP maintains an electronic FOIA library.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/bepfoialibrary.html>

History

The BEP posted a 11-page booklet in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading. "About BEP" contains a section on the Bureau's history and has images illustrating the activities, history, and products of the Bureau.

https://moneyfactory.gov/images/about\_bep\_S508\_web.pdf

The "Image Gallery" web page contains four sections: artwork, engravings, photographs, and products.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/resources/imagegallery.html>

Lifespan of Paper Money

The estimated lifespans of one, five, ten, twenty, fifty and one hundred dollar notes are posted in an online table.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/faqs/how-long-is-the-life-span-of-us-paper-money.htm>

Mail Order Sales

Uncut sheets of currency, engraved Presidential portraits, historical engravings of national landmarks, and other souvenirs and mementos are available for purchase by phone and online. Phone, 800-456-3408.

<https://catalog.usmint.gov>

News

The BEP posts press releases online.

<https://www.moneyfactory.gov/presscenter/pressreleases.html>

Serial Numbers

A short explanation of the serial numbers that are printed on notes is available in the "Resources" section.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/resources/serialnumbers.html>

Tours

BEP public tours have been suspended as a precaution to limit the spread of COVID-19.

<https://moneyfactory.gov/services/takeatour.html>

The above Sources of Information were updated 4-2021.

Bureau of the Fiscal Service

401 Fourteenth Street SW., Washington, DC 20227

202-874-6950

<http://www.fiscal.treasury.gov>

---

COMMISSIONER

Matthew J. Miller, Acting

---

Deputy Commissioners

---

---

Accounting and Shared Services

Dara Seaman, Acting

---

Finance and Administration

Dara Seaman, Acting

---

Financial Services and Operations

Jeffrey J. Schramek

---

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/about.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 4–2021.

---

The Bureau of the Fiscal Service provides central payment services to Federal program agencies, operates the Federal Government's collections and deposit systems, provides Governmentwide accounting and reporting services, manages the collection of delinquent debt owed to the Federal Government, borrows the money needed to operate the Federal Government, accounts for the resulting public debt, and gives reimbursable support to Federal agencies.

Accounting

The Fiscal Service gathers and publishes Governmentwide financial information that is used by the public and private sectors to monitor the Government's financial status and establish fiscal and monetary policies. These publications include the "Daily Treasury Statement," "Monthly Treasury Statement," "Treasury Bulletin," "U.S. Government Annual Report," and "Financial Report of the U.S. Government."

Collections

The Fiscal Service administers the world's largest collection system, processing more than 400 million transactions through the support of six Federal Reserve Banks and a network of over 100 financial institutions. In Fiscal Year 2012, the Fiscal Service collected over $3.16 trillion in Federal revenues from individual and corporate income tax deposits, customs duties, loan repayments, fines, proceeds from leases, as well as from other revenue sources.

The Fiscal Service and Internal Revenue Service manage the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS), which allows individuals and businesses to pay Federal taxes online. The EFTPS website has printable acknowledgment features for documenting transactions, advance payment scheduling, and payment history access.

The Treasury Offset Program is one of the methods used to collect delinquent debt. The Fiscal Service uses the program to withhold Federal payments, such as Federal income tax refunds, Federal salary payments, and Social Security benefits, to recipients with delinquent debts, including past-due child support obligations and State and Federal income tax debt.

Debt Financing

The Bureau auctions and issues Treasury bills, notes, and bonds and manages the sales and redemption of savings bonds. It provides daily and other periodic reports to account for the composition and size of the debt. In addition, the Bureau implements the regulations for the Government securities market. These regulations provide for investor protection while maintaining a fair and liquid market for Government securities.

Do Not Pay

The Do Not Pay Business Center has a two-part vision for programs administered or funded by the Federal Government: to help prevent and stop improper payments from being made and to identify and mitigate fraud, waste, and abuse. The goal of the program is to integrate Do Not Pay into existing business processes by providing agencies with access to current data that are relevant for making an award or payment decision.

Electronic Commerce

Through its electronic money programs, the Fiscal Service offers new payment and collection technologies to help Federal agencies modernize their cash management activities. Examples include stored-value cards used on military bases, point-of-sale check conversion, and online credit card collection programs.

Payments

Each year, the Fiscal Service disburses more than one billion non-Defense payments to a wide variety of recipients, such as those individuals who receive Social Security, IRS tax refunds, and veterans' benefits. In Fiscal Year 2012, the Fiscal Service issued more than $2.4 trillion in payments, 88 percent of which were issued electronically.

Shared Services

The Administrative Resource Center delivers franchise services on a reimbursable basis to more than 85 Treasury and Federal Government agencies. The Center provides services in six areas: financial management, investment accounting, human resources, information technology, procurement, and travel.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The Fiscal Service's website has an alphabetical and comprehensive list of links to the Bureau's major programs and services.

<https://fiscal.treasury.gov/all-programs-services.html>

Career Opportunities

The Fiscal Service relies on accountants, administrators, business and finance experts, information technology specialists, and others to carry out mission.

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/careers>

Among 411 agency subcomponents, the Fiscal Service placed 50th in the Partnership for Public Service's 2020 Best Places To Work rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/TRFD>

Do Not Pay

The Do Not Pay Business Center supports Federal agencies in their efforts to reduce the number of improper payments. Data, information, and resources are available on its website.

<https://fiscal.treasury.gov/DNP>

Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS)

The EFTPS professionals post answers to frequently asked questions (FAQs) online.

<https://www.eftps.gov/eftps/direct/FAQGeneral.page>

Federal Register

Documents that the Fiscal Service recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/bureau-of-the-fiscal-service>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives the right to request information from the Federal Government's executive branch agencies to any person. It is sometimes referred to as the law that keeps citizens in the know about their Government. The Fiscal Service posts a lot of information on its website for the public's benefit and convenience. Before submitting a FOIA request in writing, information seekers should search the website for the desired information. It may be accessible immediately and free of charge.

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/foia.html>

The Fiscal Service maintains an electronic reading room to support the FOIA.

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/foia-readingroom.html>

Glossaries

A governmentwide treasury account symbol glossary is available online.

<https://fiscal.treasury.gov/gtas/glossary.html>

The EFTPS website has a glossary of terms and common acronyms.

<https://www.eftps.gov/eftps/direct/HelpGlossary.page>

The Treasury Direct website has a glossary of terms.

http://www.treasurydirect.gov/indiv/research/res\_glossary/glossary.htm

Government-to-Government Shared Services

The Administrative Resource Center provides Federal agencies with cost-effective, customer-focused, responsive administrative support.

<https://arc.fiscal.treasury.gov>

History

A short history of the Fiscal Service is available at the bottom of the "About Us" webpage.

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/about.html>

The Treasury Direct website uses historical images to tell the story of U.S. Savings Bonds from their introduction in 1935 to the second decade of the 21st century.

<https://www.treasurydirect.gov/timeline.htm?src=td&med=banner&loc=consumer>

News

The Fiscal Service posts news items and press releases online.

https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/fsnews/fs\_news.htm

Public Debt Outstanding

The Treasury Direct website has monthly statements of the public debt. For example, on October 31, 2021, the total public debt outstanding was approximately $28,908,765,000,000.

<https://www.treasurydirect.gov/govt/reports/pd/mspd/mspd.htm>

Reports / Publications

The monthly "Statement of the Public Debt of the United States" and "Treasury Statement of Receipts and Outlays of the U.S. Government," as well as the annual "Financial Report of the U.S. Government," and other publications are available on the Fiscal Service's website.

<https://fiscal.treasury.gov/reports-statements>

Savings Bonds

Savings bonds may be purchased and held in an online account. Current rate information is available online or by calling 800-487-2663. Requests for information on all series of savings bonds, savings notes, and retirement plans or individual retirement bonds should be addressed to the Bureau of the Fiscal Service, Division of Customer Assistance, PO Box 7012, Parkersburg, WV 26106-7012. Phone, 304-480-7711.

https://www.treasurydirect.gov/indiv/products/prod\_eebonds\_glance.htm

Treasury Securities

For information on the purchase of Treasury bills, bonds, and notes, contact the Bureau of the Fiscal Service, Division of Customer Assistance, PO Box 7015, Parkersburg, WV 26106-7015. Phone, 800-722-2678.

<http://www.treasurydirect.gov/indiv/products/products.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 11–2021.

Internal Revenue Service

1111 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20224

202-622-5000

<http://www.irs.gov>

---

COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE

Charles P. Rettig

---

Chief of Staff

Kevin Q. Mclver

<https://www.irs.gov/about-irs/todays-irs-organization>

Deputy Commissioners

---

Operations Support

Jeffrey Tribiano

---

Services and Enforcement

Sunita Lough

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2021.

The Office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue was established by act of July 1, 1862 (26 U.S.C. 7802). The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) administers and enforces the internal revenue laws and related statutes, except those relating to alcohol, tobacco, firearms, and explosives. It collects the proper amount of tax revenue, at the least cost to the public, by efficiently applying the tax law with integrity and fairness. The IRS aims for the highest possible degree of voluntary compliance in accordance with the tax laws and regulations; advises the public of their rights and responsibilities; determines the extent of compliance and the causes of noncompliance; properly administers and enforces the tax laws; and continually searches for and implements new, more efficient ways of accomplishing its mission. The IRS ensures satisfactory resolution of taxpayer complaints; provides taxpayer service and education; determines, assesses, and collects internal revenue taxes; determines pension plan qualifications and exempt organization status; and prepares and issues rulings and regulations to supplement the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

Most of the collected revenues depend on the individual income tax and the social insurance and retirement taxes. Other major revenue sources are corporate income, excise, estate, and gift taxes. The 16th Amendment of the Constitution, ratified on February 3, 1913, gave Congress the authority to levy taxes on the income of individuals and corporations.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Information on and resources for doing business with the IRS are available on its "Procurement" Web page.

<https://www.irs.gov/about-irs/procurement> | Email: AWSSPROCCustomerService@irs.gov

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the IRS relies on accountants, appeals officers, artificial intelligence analysts, attorneys, budget analysts, computer research analysts, contact representatives, data transcribers, engineers, human resources specialists, information technology specialists, internal revenue agents and officers, mathematical statisticians, operations research analysts, policy analysts, program analysts, risk analysts, special agents, tax compliance officers, tax examiners, tax law specialists, and other professionals.

<https://jobs.irs.gov>

In 2020, the IRS ranked 223d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TR93>

Charities / Nonprofits

Tax information for charities and nonprofit organizations is available online.

<https://www.irs.gov/charities-and-nonprofits>

Contact Information

At the bottom of its "Let Us Help You" web page, the IRS posts phone numbers for those who seek assistance.

<https://www.irs.gov/help/telephone-assistance>

Forms / Publications

Current forms, instructions, and publications may be downloaded from the IRS's website.

<https://www.irs.gov/forms-instructions>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

In 1966, President Lyndon B. Johnson's approval of the FOIA gave the right to access documents or records belonging to the executive branch of the Federal Government to any person. The statute is based on the presumption that the Government and its information belong to the public. The IRS may withhold, however, documents or records shielded from disclosure by one of the statute's nine exemptions, and it must withhold them when disclosure is prohibited by law.

<https://www.irs.gov/uac/irs-freedom-of-information>

The IRS maintains an online library whose contents are arranged by subject category.

<https://www.irs.gov/privacy-disclosure/foia-library>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The IRS posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.irs.gov/faqs>

Identity Theft

The IRS responds to tax-related identity theft with an aggressive strategy of prevention, detection, and victim assistance. The IRS continues to make progress against this crime, and it remains one of the agency's highest priorities. The IRS is committed to helping victims of identity theft resolve their cases as quickly as possible.

<https://www.irs.gov/identity-theft-central>

Language Resources

Assistance in additional languages is available on the "Languages" web page.

<https://www.irs.gov/help/languages>

News

The IRS posts news items online.

<https://www.irs.gov/newsroom>

Reading Rooms

Public reading rooms are located in the national office and in each territory office.

Retirement Plans

The IRS website has resources for and a trove of information on retirement plans.

<https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans>

Tax Assistance

The IRS provides taxpayers with year-round tax information and assistance, primarily through its website and toll-free telephone system. Answers to many tax-related questions can be found on the IRS's website. The toll-free telephone numbers are listed in local telephone directories and in the annual tax form packages. The telephone system can accommodate the needs of taxpayers who are deaf or hearing-impaired. Taxpayers may also visit IRS offices to find answers to their tax questions. Individual preparation is available for handicapped or other individuals unable to use the group preparation method. Tax assistance in a foreign language is also available at many locations.

<https://www.irs.gov/help/telephone-assistance>

To find the nearest taxpayer assistance center, type a ZIP Code in the text box of the online locator tool. Before going to a taxpayer assistance center for help, call and schedule an appointment.

<https://apps.irs.gov/app/officeLocator/index.jsp>

Taxpayer Advocate Service

Each district has problem resolution personnel to address taxpayer complaints that cannot be resolved through regular channels.

<https://www.irs.gov/advocate>

Taxpayer Rights

The taxpayer bill of rights is available on the IRS's website.

<https://www.irs.gov/taxpayer-bill-of-rights>

Tax Statistics

The IRS posts articles, data, and tables that describe and measure elements of the U.S. tax system.

<https://www.irs.gov/statistics>

Tax Tools

Tax tools are available for individual taxpayers, businesses, and tax professionals on the "Tools" web page.

<https://www.irs.gov/help/tools>

Where's My Refund?

Once the IRS processes a tax filer's return and approves a refund, he or she can check the refund date online.

The IRS usually issues a refund in fewer than 21 days after receiving a tax filer's return. Some returns, however, require additional review and, therefore, additional time to process.

<https://www.irs.gov/refunds>

The above Sources of Information were updated 7–2021.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency

400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20219

202-649-6800

<http://www.occ.gov>

---

COMPTROLLER

Michael J. Hsu, Acting

<https://www.occ.gov/about/who-we-are/leadership/bio-michael-hsu.html>

---

Senior Deputy Comptrollers

Gregory J. Coleman

Grovetta N. Gardineer

Larry L. Hattix

Benjamin W. McDonough

Sydney Menefee

Kathy K. Murphy

Blake Paulson

<https://www.occ.gov/about/who-we-are/leadership/index-leadership.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) was created on February 25, 1863 (12 Stat. 665), as a bureau of the Department of the Treasury. In 1929, with the issuance of the last national bank notes, the OCC essentially became an organization of national bank examiners with a singular mission: to maintain the safety and soundness of the banks under its supervision. In 2011, when the Office of Thrift Supervision integrated into the OCC, the bureau also assumed responsibility for regulating Federal savings associations, also referred to as Federal thrifts.

<https://www.loc.gov/collections/united-states-statutes-at-large/about-this-collection/73rd-congress/session-2/c73s2ch668.pdf>

The Comptroller of the Currency, whom the President appoints to a 5-year term by the advice of the Senate and with its consent, administers the Federal banking system and serves as the chief officer of the OCC and as a director of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The OCC's statement of organization has been codified in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) and assigned to part 4 of 12 CFR.

[https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?
SID=7c57a800de8e85e36874c72aa364ac10&mc=true&node=pt12.1.4&rgn=div5](https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=7c57a800de8e85e36874c72aa364ac10&mc=true&node=pt12.1.4&rgn=div5)

A number of departments and offices that are under the leadership of the Comptroller and senior deputy comptrollers provide the organizational structure for carrying out the OCC's mission.

<https://occ.gov/about/who-we-are/organizations/index-organization.html>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material affecting the Comptroller of the Currency has been consolidated and codified in the United States Code (U.S.C.). This material has been assigned to the first chapter, sections 1–16, of 12 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title12/chapter1&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that are associated with the Comptroller of the Currency have been consolidated and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). These rules and regulations have been assigned to the first chapter, parts 1–199, of 12CFR.

[https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?
SID=9239dee7caf69de5910e02babdd4547c&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title12/12chapter1.tpl](https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=9239dee7caf69de5910e02babdd4547c&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title12/12chapter1.tpl)

ACTIVITIES

The OCC regulates national banks and Federal thrifts by examining them; approving or denying applications for new charters, branches, capital, and other changes in corporate or banking structure; taking enforcement actions—removing officers and directors, negotiating agreements to change practices, and issuing cease and desist orders and civil monetary penalties—when national banks and Federal thrifts fail to comply with laws and regulations or when they engage in unsound practices; and issuing rules, regulations, interpretations, and corporate decisions that govern investments, lending, and other practices.

The bureau supervises over 1,100 national banks, Federal savings associations, and Federal branches, including their trust activities and overseas operations. A nationwide team of bank examiners works under the supervision of four district offices. National banks and Federal thrifts pay for their examinations, as well as for the processing of their corporate applications.

Assessments on national banks and Federal savings associations cover most OCC operating expenses. The OCC also benefits from some investment income, primarily from U.S. Treasury securities.

<https://occ.gov/about/what-we-do/index-what-we-do.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Alerts

The OCC posts counterfeiting, fictitious correspondence, fraudulent issuances, misrepresentation, and unauthorized banking activity alerts.

<https://occ.gov/news-events/newsroom/index.html?nr=Alert>

Alphabetical Topics List

Online visitors may browse the contents of the "Topics" web page by using an alphabetized list or by subject area.

<https://occ.gov/topics/topics-sitemap.html#T|tab-accordion-wrpr2>

Annual Reports

The "2020 Annual Report" is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for downloading. Starting with the year 2003, earlier annual reports are available, too.

<https://www.occ.gov/publications-and-resources/publications/annual-report/index-annual-report.html>

Answers / Solutions

The "HelpWithMyBank" website has information and resources to help customers of national banks and Federal savings associations find answers to questions and solutions for problems.

<https://www.helpwithmybank.gov/about/index-about.html>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that OCC records have been assigned to record group 101.

https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/101.html?\_ga=2.154427440.926928378.1628716780-2085205018.1628716780

Bulletins

Starting with the year 1994 and continuing to the present, OCC bulletins are accessible online. Rescinded and some pre-1994 bulletins are also included in the collection.

<https://occ.gov/news-events/newsroom/index.html?nr=Bulletin>

Business Opportunities

Procurement awards typically fall within the following service categories: computer-related services; computer facilities management services; computer systems design services; data processing, hosting, and related services; real estate agent and broker services; insurance agency and brokerage services; and administrative management and general management consulting services.

<https://occ.gov/about/connect-with-us/doing-business-with-the-occ/index-doing-business-with-the-occ.html> |
Email: OCCAcquisitionManagement@occ.treas.gov

Career Opportunities

The OCC relies on accountants, attorneys, economists, financial analysts, human resources specialists, information technology specialists, project management analysts, and other professionals, particularly bank examiners, to carry out its mission. For more information, contact the Director for Human Resources Operations. Phone, 202-649-6590. Fax, 202-649-5998.

<https://careers.occ.gov/index.html>

National bank examiners work to ensure the safety and soundness of America's national banking system, to provide fair access to financial services and equal treatment, and to establish and maintain a flexible regulatory framework that allows the Nation's banks to be competitive. The OCC generally hires examiners at the entry level through college recruitment.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RPrQmlcF0s0>

In 2020, the OCC ranked 87th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TRAJ>

Consumer Protection

The OCC posts information and resources on its website to protect consumers.

<https://occ.gov/topics/consumers-and-communities/consumer-protection/index-consumer-protection.html>

Contact Information

The "Contact the OCC" web page has informational resources for contacting the agency.

<https://occ.gov/about/connect-with-us/contact-the-occ/index-contact-the-occ.html>

Customer Complaints

An online form is available for submitting a complaint against a national bank or Federal savings association.

https://appsec.helpwithmybank.gov/olcc\_form/intro.aspx

District and Field Offices

Contact information for district and field offices is available online.

<https://occ.gov/about/who-we-are/locations/index-locations.html>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the OCC recently published in the Federal Register are accessible

online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/comptroller-of-the-currency>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA serves as the vehicle for obtaining Federal agency documents and records. The statute does contain, however, nine exemptions and three special law enforcement exclusions that shield some documents and records, or parts of them, from disclosure.

<https://www.occ.gov/about/connect-with-us/foia/index-foia.html>

The electronic reading room contains documents that attract public interest and have been the subject of FOIA requests in the past.

<https://foia-pal.occ.gov/app/ReadingRoom.aspx>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Answers to FAQs on checking accounts, credit cards, credit reports, mortgages, overdraft fees, and more are posted on the "HelpWithMyBank" website.

<https://www.helpwithmybank.gov/help-topics/index-help-topics.html>

Glossary

A dictionary of banking terms and phrases is available on the "HelpWithMyBank" website.

<https://www.helpwithmybank.gov/dictionary/index-dictionary.html>

A list of abbreviations and acronyms is available on the OCC's website in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.occ.gov/annual-report/download-the-full-report/abbreviations.pdf>

History

The OCC's role in the Federal banking system started in a tumultuous year, near the midpoint of the American Civil War. On January 1, 1863, President Abraham Lincoln emancipated over 3 million men, women, and children by signing the Emancipation Proclamation. Fifty-five days later, he added his signature to the National Currency Act, which established the OCC and charged it with responsibility for organizing and administering a system of nationally chartered banks and a uniform national currency. After 1913, its mission increasingly centered on the safety and soundness of national banks. To learn more about the agency's development over the past 155 years, see the "Founding of the OCC and the National Banking System" web page.

<https://occ.gov/about/who-we-are/history/founding-occ-national-bank-system/index-founding-occ-national-banking-system.html>

On March 3, 1865, Congress enacted legislation to establish the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands, which came to be known as the Freedmen's Bureau. On that same day, it chartered the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company, or Freedman's Savings Bank (FSB), to meet a growing need for financial services among African Americans. To learn more about the intertwining histories of the OCC and FSB, read the online article by former OCC historian Jesse Stiller.

<https://www.occ.gov/about/what-we-do/history/freedman-savings-bank.html>

Minority Outreach

The OCC's External Outreach and Minority Affairs division maintains a "Minority Outreach" web page.

<https://www.occ.gov/topics/consumers-and-communities/minority-outreach/index-minority-outreach.html>

News

The OCC posts news releases on its website.

<https://occ.gov/news-issuances/news-releases/index.html>

Publications

The "Publications" web page allows visitors to browse OCC publications by collection, subject area, or recent dates of publication.

<https://occ.gov/publications-and-resources/publications/index-publications.html>

Public Information on Banks

Federal bank regulators post public information on individual banks. The OCC's website provides convenient access to the websites of these regulators.

<https://occ.gov/about/contact-us/public-information/public-information.html>

The Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council's website has a searchable database for identifying the Federal bank regulatory agency that oversees a particular bank or financial institution.

<https://www.ffiec.gov/consumercenter/default.aspx>

Site Map

The careers section has a site map of its web pages.

<https://careers.occ.gov/sitemap/sitemap-page.html>

The "HelpWithMyBank" website has its own site map.

<https://www.helpwithmybank.gov/site-map/index-sitemap.html>

Social Media

The OCC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/usocc>

The OCC has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/US-Comptroller-of-the-Currency-213254918823/>

The OCC posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/OCCChannel#p/c/2BAA3C3A20C2630E>

Tools

The "Tools" web page brings together in one place all of the tools that are available on the OCC website.

<https://occ.gov/publications-and-resources/tools/index-tools.html>

The above Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

United States Mint

801 Ninth Street NW., Washington, DC 20220

202-354-7200

<http://www.usmint.gov>

---

DIRECTOR

David J. Ryder

---

Deputy Director

Francis O'Hearn, Acting

---

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/directors-office>

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The establishment of a mint was authorized by act of April 2, 1792 (1 Stat. 246). The Bureau of the Mint was established by act of February 12, 1873 (17 Stat. 424), and recodified on September 13, 1982 (31 U.S.C. 304, 5131). The name was changed to United States Mint by Secretarial order on January 9, 1984.

The primary mission of the Mint is to produce an adequate volume of circulating coinage for the Nation to conduct its trade and commerce. The Mint also produces and sells numismatic coins, American Eagle gold and silver bullion coins, and national medals. The Fort Knox Bullion Depository is the primary storage facility for the Nation's gold bullion.

The U.S. Mint maintains sales centers at the Philadelphia and Denver Mints and at its headquarters on 9th Street in Washington, DC. Public tours are conducted, with free admission, at the Philadelphia and Denver Mints.

https://www.usmint.gov/about\_the\_mint/index.html

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Mint records have been assigned to record group 104.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/104.html>

Artists

The artistic infusion program enriches and invigorates coin and medal designs by contracting with a pool of American artists from diverse backgrounds and having a variety of interests. These artists collaborate with the Mint's sculptor-engravers to create and submit new designs for U.S. coins and medals.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/artists>

Bullion Dealers

The Mint's website has a locator tool for finding U.S. Mint bullion sellers by city and State or by ZIP Code.

<http://catalog.usmint.gov/bullion-dealer-locator>

Career Opportunities

The Mint offers a wide range of career opportunities. An innovative, progressive bureau in the Department of the Treasury, it operates six facilities nationwide and employs professionals with backgrounds in financial management, information technology, manufacturing, protection, sales and marketing, workforce solutions, and other fields.

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/careers>

Among 411 agency subcomponents, the Mint placed 148th in the Partnership for Public Service's 2020 Best Places To Work rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TRAD>

Coin of the Year

The Mint celebrated its 225th anniversary in 2017. To mark the occasion, it created the 2017 American Liberty 225th Anniversary Gold Coin, which features a modern rendition of Lady Liberty. Emblematic figures of liberty have graced American coins since the Mint's founding in 1792. The newest Lady Liberty is a modern rendition of this iconic figure, who embodies equality and freedom, ideals that the Nation's Declaration of Independence enshrined.

<https://catalog.usmint.gov/american-liberty-225th-anniversary-gold-coin-17XA.html?cgid=null&q=coin%2520of%2520the%2520year&navid=search#q=coin%2520of%2520the%2520year&start=1>

Contact Information

The Mint's "Contact Us" web page has phone numbers and postal addresses. It also provides convenient access to an electronic "Contact Us" form that has a comment box.

<https://catalog.usmint.gov/customer-service/contact-us.html> | Email: usmint-support@usmcatalog.com

Customer Service

Mint employees work hard to provide exceptional customer service. To contact the Mint, with questions or concerns about shopping, an order, or another matter, please use the "Live Chat" feature or call customer service. Answers to questions also are provided on the "Frequently Asked Questions" web page. Phone, 800-872-6468.

<https://catalog.usmint.gov/customerservice> | Email: usmint-support@usmcatalog.com

Educational Resources

The Mint's website offers learning resources for children, educators, and parents.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/educators>

Facilities

The U.S. Mint operates four mints (CA, CO, NY, PA), one depository (KY), and maintains its headquarters in Washington, DC.

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/mint-tours-facilities>

Federal Register

Documents that the Mint recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/united-states-mint>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute.

<https://www.usmint.gov/foia>

The Mint's electronic reading room contains records that are frequently requested under the FOIA.

<https://www.usmint.gov/foia/reading-room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The Mint posts answers to FAQs on its website.

https://catalog.usmint.gov/customer-service/faqs/?\_ga=2.162013182.373647902.1628186014-2053548025.1628186014

Glossary

The H.I.P. Pocket Change website features a coin glossary.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/kids/collecting/coin-glossary>

History

On April 2, 1792, the U.S. Congress passed the Coinage Act, establishing the first national mint in the United States. Over two centuries later, one of the Federal Government's oldest agencies continues to serve the American public. To learn more about the U.S. Mint, visit its "History" web page.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/history>

A timeline of the Mint that stretches from the 18th to 21st century is available online.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/history/timeline-of-the-united-states-mint>

How Are Coins Made?

An animated overview of the six-step coin manufacturing process—blanking, annealing, upsetting, striking, inspecting, and counting and bagging—is available on the "Coins" web page..

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/kids/coins>

Image Library

High-resolution images of coins and medals are available on the Mint's website. For information on the use of these images, contact the Office of Licensing. Phone, 202-354-7350. Fax, 202-756-6585.

<https://www.usmint.gov/news/image-library> | Email: licensing@usmint.treas.gov

Medals

National medals commemorate significant historical events or sites and honor individuals whose superior deeds and achievements have enriched American history or the world. Some national medals are bronze duplicates of Congressional Gold Medals that Congress authorizes under separate Public Laws, and others are produced under the Secretary of the Treasury's authority to strike them.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/coin-and-medal-programs/medals>

News

The Mint posts articles and press releases online. The Mint maintains a public inquiry phone line for its Office of Corporate Communications. Phone, 202-354-7227.

<https://www.usmint.gov/news> | Email: inquiries@usmint.treas.gov

Online Resources

The "Website Resources" web page has a collection of helpful internal and external links.

<https://www.usmint.gov/policies/website-resources>

Production / Sales

The Mint produces circulating coins for commerce, numismatic coins for collectors, and bullion coins for investors. Quantities are measured in terms of production figures when referring to circulating coins, sales figures when referring to numismatic products, and sales and mintage figures when referring to bullion.

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/production-sales-figures>

Reports

Annual and special reports are available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/reports>

Seigniorage

The Mint returned nearly $550 million in seigniorage—the difference between the face value and the manufacturing cost of a circulating coin—to the Department of the Treasury's general fund in 2020. The Mint publishes seigniorage information each year in its annual report.

<https://www.usmint.gov/wordpress/wp-content/uploads/2021/02/2020-Annual-Report.pdf>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/site-map>

Social Media

The Mint maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/UnitedStatesMint>

The Mint tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on its Twitter account.

<https://twitter.com/usmint>

The Mint posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/USMINT>

The above Sources of Information were updated 8-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau

The United States Government Manual

ALCOHOL AND TOBACCO TAX AND TRADE BUREAU

1310 G Street NW., Box 12, Washington, DC 20005

202-453-2000

<http://www.ttb.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

Mary G. Ryan

Deputy Administrator

David M. Wulf

<https://www.ttb.gov/offices/executive-offices>

The above list of key personnel was updated 4–2021.

The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau enforces the laws regulating alcohol production, importation, and wholesale businesses; tobacco manufacturing and importing businesses; and alcohol labeling and advertising.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On November 25, 2002, President George W. Bush approved Public Law 107–296, which is also cited as the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (116 Stat. 2135). Title XI—Department of Justice Divisions contains a subtitle (116 Stat. 2274–2280) that transferred the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms to the Department of Justice, while providing that the tax collection functions were to remain with the Department of the Treasury and be administered by a newly established Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-116/pdf/STATUTE-116-Pg2135.pdf>

The statute became effective 60 days after the President signed it (116 Stat. 2142) thereby establishing the TTB on January 24, 2003.

<https://www.ttb.gov/about-ttb/history>

The TTB posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.ttb.gov/about-ttb/organizational-chart-for-ttb>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Codified material from Public Law 107–296 has been assigned to section 531 of 6 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title6/chapter1/subchapter11&edition=prelim>

Codified statutory material affecting taxation of distilled spirits, wines, and beer has been assigned to chapter 51 of 26 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title26/subtitleE/chapter51&edition=prelim>

Codified statutory material affecting taxation of tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes has been assigned to chapter 52 of 26 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title26/subtitleE/chapter52&edition=prelim>

Codified rules and regulations that are associated with the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) have been assigned to chapter 1 of 27 CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

gp=&SID=f00ed00e5660d6413f0783a84be97e50&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title27/27chapter1.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The TTB collects Federal alcohol, tobacco, firearms, and ammunition excise taxes; regulates the production, labeling, and advertising of alcohol beverages; and investigates unfair or unlawful trade in alcohol and tobacco products. The Bureau regulates alcohol and tobacco producers, importers, and wholesalers. Regulation of retailers takes place on State and local levels.

<https://www.ttb.gov/consumer/about-us-what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that records of the TTB have been assigned to record group 564. The TTB was created when the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms was split into two new bureaus and its functions were reassigned and distributed between them. The new Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATFE) and its functions became part of the Department of Justice. The new TTB and its function remained within the Department of the Treasury. Record group 564 does not have a description that currently is associated with it. Records of the ATFE have been assigned to record group 436.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/index-numeric/501-to-600.html>

Advertising, Labeling, and Formulation

For information on the advertising, labeling, and formulation of alcohol beverages, contact the Advertising, Labeling and Formulation Division. Phone, 202-453-2250 or 866-927-2533.

<http://www.ttb.gov/advertising/afd.shtml> | Email: afd@ttb.treas.gov

Business Opportunities

The Bureau procures a variety of commercial goods and services each year, using appropriated and nonappropriated funds. The "Contracting with TTB" web page has more information.

<https://www.ttb.gov/public-information/contracting>

Career Opportunities

The TTB has offices nationwide, including in Puerto Rico. Many TTB employees telework full time. To carry out its mission, the Bureau relies on alcohol and tobacco tax specialists, analysts, attorneys, auditors, chemists, investigators, labeling specialists, writers, and other professionals.

<https://www.ttb.gov/careers>

Among 420 agency subcomponents, the TTB placed 4th in the Partnership for Public Service's 2019 Best Places To Work rankings!

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/TR40>

Consumer Protection

The TTB protects the public by promulgating rules and regulations, collecting information on suspicious activities, and helping to create and enforce laws that promote industry compliance.

<https://www.ttb.gov/consumer> | Email: Market.Compliance@ttb.gov

Contact Information

The "Contact the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau" web page contains phone numbers and links to relevant online resources.

<https://www.ttb.gov/about-ttb/contact-us>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the TTB recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/alcohol-and-tobacco-tax-and-trade-bureau>

Fraud Tipline

To report fraud, diversion, and illegal activity by producers, importers, or wholesalers of alcohol and tobacco, contact the Bureau's tipline. Phone, 855-882-8477. TTD, 202-882-9914.

<https://www.ttb.gov/contact-id> | Email: tips@ttb.gov

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The TTB adheres to the policy and disclosure regulations of the Department of the Treasury for implementing the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) consistently and uniformly and for providing maximum allowable disclosure of agency records upon request. Requests are processed within the time limits defined by the FOIA.

<https://www.ttb.gov/foia>

The TTB's website has an electronic reading room containing materials that the FOIA requires the Bureau to maintain. Some records are accessible, by appointment, in the public reading room located at 1310 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20005. Phone, 202-882-9904.

<https://www.ttb.gov/foia/electronic-reading-room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The TTB posts answers to FAQs.

<http://www.ttb.gov/faqs> | Email: TTBInternetQuestions@ttb.gov

Glossary

The TTB maintains a glossary on its website.

<https://www.ttb.gov/glossary/glossary-a>

Language Links

Information is available on the TTB website in Chinese, Spanish, and French.

In Chinese

<https://www.ttb.gov/itd-chinese-index/welcome>

En Español

<https://www.ttb.gov/itd-spanish-index/enespanol>

En Français

<https://www.ttb.gov/itd-french/welome>

Name that Grape

Using a grape variety name on an American wine label is optional. Nevertheless, many wineries and bottlers show this information on their labels. The TTB designed its "Grape Variety Designations on American Wine Labels" web page to help explain the rules.

<https://www.ttb.gov/wine/grape-variety-designations-on-american-wine-labels>

The TTB Administrator has approved a list of grape variety names for use as American wine type designations. This list has been assigned to "Subpart J—American Grape Variety Names" of part 4 in 27 CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=58ae6192e0aa4245e7ebe64227e4d126&mc=true&node=pt27.1.4&rgn=div5#sp27.1.4.j

National Revenue Center

The National Revenue Center operates a call center that is open on weekdays, 8 a.m.–11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.–5 p.m., eastern standard time. It can provide information on applications, claims, filing excise tax returns, permits, and other tax collection topics. Phone, 877-882-3277.

<https://www.ttb.gov/offices/national-revenue-center>

News / Events

The TTB posts newsletters, press releases, and other newsworthy items on its website.

<https://www.ttb.gov/press-room/news-and-events>

Online Help Center

The "Online Help Center" web page has links to information that is relevant for TTB online applications and tools for making certain transactions with TTB easier to complete online.

<https://www.ttb.gov/about-ttb/online-help-center>

Publications

The "Publications" web page provides convenient access to TTB publications that are found on various pages of the website.

<https://www.ttb.gov/publications>

Resources for Research

The "Research Resources" web page provides convenient access to information on the regulatory process, the laws and regulations that the TTB enforces, and on other subjects. It also has industry statistics and historical information.

<https://www.ttb.gov/researcher-resources>

Startup Tutorial

The TTB posted a tutorial on its website to help entrepreneurs get started in the beer, distilled spirits, tobacco, and wind industries.

<https://www.ttb.gov/industry-startup-tutorial>

Statistics / Data

The "TTB Statistics and Data" web page provides convenient access to accurate and timely statistics and data. The page has statistics on industry production and operations, TTB tax collections, and processing times for applications, labeling approval, permits, and requests for information. It also has tax rates and analysis tools like conversion charts and the Bureau's formula approval tool.

<https://www.ttb.gov/statistics>

The above Sources of Information were updated 4-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of Engraving and Printing

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING

Fourteenth and C Streets SW., Washington, DC 20228

202-874-4000

<http://www.moneyfactory.com>

DIRECTOR

Leonard R. Olijar

Deputy Director

(vacancy)

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/about/officeofthedirector.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 04–2021.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing operates on basic authorities conferred by act of July 11, 1862 (31 U.S.C. 303), and on additional authorities contained in past appropriations made to the Bureau that are still in force. A revolving fund established in 1950, in accordance with Public Law 81–656, finances the Bureau's operations. The Secretary of the Treasury selects the Director who heads the Bureau.

The Bureau designs, prints, and finishes all of the Nation's paper currency and many other security documents, including White House invitations and military identification cards. It also is responsible for advising and assisting Federal agencies in the design and production of other Government documents that, because of their innate value or for other reasons, require security or counterfeit-deterrence characteristics.

The Bureau also operates a second currency manufacturing plant at 9000 Blue Mound Road, Fort Worth, TX. Phone, 817-231-4000.

<https://www.moneyfactory.gov/about.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BEP records have been assigned to record group 318.

https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/318.html?\_ga=2.91357530.1147691139.1619118271-898747230.1618953560

Business Opportunities

For information on contracts and small business activities, visit the "Doing Business with the BEP" Web page or contact the Office of Acquisition. Phone, 202-874-2065.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/about/dobusinesswithbep.html>

Career Opportunities

The BEP relies on acquisition specialists, administrative staff, attorneys, chemists, engineers, police officers, security specialists, and other professionals to carry out its mission.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/about/careers.html>

Among 420 agency subcomponents, the BEP placed 113th in the Partnership for Public Service's 2019 Best Places To Work rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/TRAI>

Contact Information

Email and postal addresses and phone numbers for the BEP facilities in Washington, DC, and Fort Worth, TX, are posted on the "Contact Us" web page.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/contactus.html>

Currency Production

The production of U.S. currency involves highly trained and skilled craftspeople, specialized equipment, and a combination of traditional old world printing techniques merged with sophisticated, cutting edge technology. To learn more about the process, visit the "How Money is Made" Web page.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/uscurrency/howmoneyismade.html>

Educational Resources

The U.S. currency education program offers free educational and training resources online.

<https://uscurrency.gov/resource-center>

Federal Register

Documents that the BEP recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/engraving-and-printing-bureau>

Federal Reserve

The BEP provides answers to some common questions about the Federal Reserve.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/faqs/about-the-fed.htm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

All Federal agencies, including the BEP, create and receive records when carrying out their missions. The FOIA gives the right to access executive branch agency records to the public. The BEP makes available, upon written request, records or extracts of records in accordance with the FOIA, the Privacy Act, and certain regulations of the Department of the Treasury. The FOIA contains, however, exemptions that shield some records from request and disclosure. Phone, 202-874-2500. Fax, 202-874-2951.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/foia.html>

The BEP maintains an electronic FOIA library.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/bepfoialibrary.html>

History

The BEP posted a 11-page booklet in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading. "About BEP" contains a section on the Bureau's history and has images illustrating the activities, history, and products of the Bureau.

https://moneyfactory.gov/images/about\_bep\_S508\_web.pdf

The "Image Gallery" web page contains four sections: artwork, engravings, photographs, and products.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/resources/imagegallery.html>

Lifespan of Paper Money

The estimated lifespans of one, five, ten, twenty, fifty and one hundred dollar notes are posted in an online table.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/faqs/how-long-is-the-life-span-of-us-paper-money.htm>

Mail Order Sales

Uncut sheets of currency, engraved Presidential portraits, historical engravings of national landmarks, and other souvenirs and mementos are available for purchase by phone and online. Phone, 800-456-3408.

<https://catalog.usmint.gov>

News

The BEP posts press releases online.

<https://www.moneyfactory.gov/presscenter/pressreleases.html>

Serial Numbers

A short explanation of the serial numbers that are printed on notes is available in the "Resources" section.

<http://www.moneyfactory.com/resources/serialnumbers.html>

Tours

BEP public tours have been suspended as a precaution to limit the spread of COVID-19.

<https://moneyfactory.gov/services/takeatour.html>

The above Sources of Information were updated 4-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Bureau of the Fiscal Service

The United States Government Manual

BUREAU OF THE FISCAL SERVICE

401 Fourteenth Street SW., Washington, DC 20227

202-874-6950

<http://www.fiscal.treasury.gov>

COMMISSIONER

Matthew J. Miller, Acting

Deputy Commissioners

---

Accounting and Shared Services

Dara Seaman, Acting

Finance and Administration

Dara Seaman, Acting

Financial Services and Operations

Jeffrey J. Schramek

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/about.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 4–2021.

---

The Bureau of the Fiscal Service provides central payment services to Federal program agencies, operates the Federal Government's collections and deposit systems, provides Governmentwide accounting and reporting services, manages the collection of delinquent debt owed to the Federal Government, borrows the money needed to operate the Federal Government, accounts for the resulting public debt, and gives reimbursable support to Federal agencies.

Accounting

The Fiscal Service gathers and publishes Governmentwide financial information that is used by the public and private sectors to monitor the Government's financial status and establish fiscal and monetary policies. These publications include the "Daily Treasury Statement," "Monthly Treasury Statement," "Treasury Bulletin," "U.S. Government Annual Report," and "Financial Report of the U.S. Government."

Collections

The Fiscal Service administers the world's largest collection system, processing more than 400 million transactions through the support of six Federal Reserve Banks and a network of over 100 financial institutions. In Fiscal Year 2012, the Fiscal Service collected over $3.16 trillion in Federal revenues from individual and corporate income tax deposits, customs duties, loan repayments, fines, proceeds from leases, as well as from other revenue sources.

The Fiscal Service and Internal Revenue Service manage the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS), which allows individuals and businesses to pay Federal taxes online. The EFTPS website has printable acknowledgment features for documenting transactions, advance payment scheduling, and payment history access.

The Treasury Offset Program is one of the methods used to collect delinquent debt. The Fiscal Service uses the program to withhold Federal payments, such as Federal income tax refunds, Federal salary payments, and Social Security benefits, to recipients with delinquent debts, including past-due child support obligations and State and Federal income tax debt.

Debt Financing

The Bureau auctions and issues Treasury bills, notes, and bonds and manages the sales and redemption of savings bonds. It provides daily and other periodic reports to account for the composition and size of the debt. In addition, the Bureau implements the regulations for the Government securities market. These regulations provide for investor protection while maintaining a fair and liquid market for Government securities.

Do Not Pay

The Do Not Pay Business Center has a two-part vision for programs administered or funded by the Federal Government: to help prevent and stop improper payments from being made and to identify and mitigate fraud, waste, and abuse. The goal of the program is to integrate Do Not Pay into existing business processes by providing agencies with access to current data that are relevant for making an award or payment decision.

Electronic Commerce

Through its electronic money programs, the Fiscal Service offers new payment and collection technologies to help Federal agencies modernize their cash management activities. Examples include stored-value cards used on military bases, point-of-sale check conversion, and online credit card collection programs.

Payments

Each year, the Fiscal Service disburses more than one billion non-Defense payments to a wide variety of recipients, such as those individuals who receive Social Security, IRS tax refunds, and veterans' benefits. In Fiscal Year 2012, the Fiscal Service issued more than $2.4 trillion in payments, 88 percent of which were issued electronically.

Shared Services

The Administrative Resource Center delivers franchise services on a reimbursable basis to more than 85 Treasury and Federal Government agencies. The Center provides services in six areas: financial management, investment accounting, human resources, information technology, procurement, and travel.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The Fiscal Service's website has an alphabetical and comprehensive list of links to the Bureau's major programs and services.

<https://fiscal.treasury.gov/all-programs-services.html>

Career Opportunities

The Fiscal Service relies on accountants, administrators, business and finance experts, information technology specialists, and others to carry out mission.

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/careers>

Among 411 agency subcomponents, the Fiscal Service placed 50th in the Partnership for Public Service's 2020 Best Places To Work rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/TRFD>

Do Not Pay

The Do Not Pay Business Center supports Federal agencies in their efforts to reduce the number of improper payments. Data, information, and resources are available on its website.

<https://fiscal.treasury.gov/DNP>

Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS)

The EFTPS professionals post answers to frequently asked questions (FAQs) online.

<https://www.eftps.gov/eftps/direct/FAQGeneral.page>

Federal Register

Documents that the Fiscal Service recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/bureau-of-the-fiscal-service>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives the right to request information from the Federal Government's executive branch agencies to any person. It is sometimes referred to as the law that keeps citizens in the know about their Government. The Fiscal Service posts a lot of information on its website for the public's benefit and convenience. Before submitting a FOIA request in writing, information seekers should search the website for the desired information. It may be accessible immediately and free of charge.

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/foia.html>

The Fiscal Service maintains an electronic reading room to support the FOIA.

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/foia-readingroom.html>

Glossaries

A governmentwide treasury account symbol glossary is available online.

<https://fiscal.treasury.gov/gtas/glossary.html>

The EFTPS website has a glossary of terms and common acronyms.

<https://www.eftps.gov/eftps/direct/HelpGlossary.page>

The Treasury Direct website has a glossary of terms.

http://www.treasurydirect.gov/indiv/research/res\_glossary/glossary.htm

Government-to-Government Shared Services

The Administrative Resource Center provides Federal agencies with cost-effective, customer-focused, responsive administrative support.

<https://arc.fiscal.treasury.gov>

History

A short history of the Fiscal Service is available at the bottom of the "About Us" webpage.

<https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/about.html>

The Treasury Direct website uses historical images to tell the story of U.S. Savings Bonds from their introduction in 1935 to the second decade of the 21st century.

<https://www.treasurydirect.gov/timeline.htm?src=td&med=banner&loc=consumer>

News

The Fiscal Service posts news items and press releases online.

https://www.fiscal.treasury.gov/fsnews/fs\_news.htm

Public Debt Outstanding

The Treasury Direct website has monthly statements of the public debt. For example, on October 31, 2021, the total public debt outstanding was approximately $28,908,765,000,000.

<https://www.treasurydirect.gov/govt/reports/pd/mspd/mspd.htm>

Reports / Publications

The monthly "Statement of the Public Debt of the United States" and "Treasury Statement of Receipts and Outlays of the U.S. Government," as well as the annual "Financial Report of the U.S. Government," and other publications are available on the Fiscal Service's website.

<https://fiscal.treasury.gov/reports-statements>

Savings Bonds

Savings bonds may be purchased and held in an online account. Current rate information is available online or by calling 800-487-2663. Requests for information on all series of savings bonds, savings notes, and retirement plans or individual retirement bonds should be addressed to the Bureau of the Fiscal Service, Division of Customer Assistance, PO Box 7012, Parkersburg, WV 26106-7012. Phone, 304-480-7711.

https://www.treasurydirect.gov/indiv/products/prod\_eebonds\_glance.htm

Treasury Securities

For information on the purchase of Treasury bills, bonds, and notes, contact the Bureau of the Fiscal Service, Division of Customer Assistance, PO Box 7015, Parkersburg, WV 26106-7015. Phone, 800-722-2678.

<http://www.treasurydirect.gov/indiv/products/products.htm>

The Sources of Information were updated 11-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Internal Revenue Service

The United States Government Manual

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

1111 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20224

202-622-5000

<http://www.irs.gov>

COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE

Charles P. Rettig

Chief of Staff

Kevin Q. McIver

<https://www.irs.gov/about-irs/todays-irs-organization>

Deputy Commissioners

---

Operations Support

Jeffrey Tribiano

Services and Enforcement

Sunita Lough

The above list of key personnel was updated 7-2021.

The Office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue was established by act of July 1, 1862 (26 U.S.C. 7802). The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) administers and enforces the internal revenue laws and related statutes, except those relating to alcohol, tobacco, firearms, and explosives. It collects the proper amount of tax revenue, at the least cost to the public, by efficiently applying the tax law with integrity and fairness. The IRS aims for the highest possible degree of voluntary compliance in accordance with the tax laws and regulations; advises the public of their rights and responsibilities; determines the extent of compliance and the causes of noncompliance; properly administers and enforces the tax laws; and continually searches for and implements new, more efficient ways of accomplishing its mission. The IRS ensures satisfactory resolution of taxpayer complaints; provides taxpayer service and education; determines, assesses, and collects internal revenue taxes; determines pension plan qualifications and exempt organization status; and prepares and issues rulings and regulations to supplement the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

Most of the collected revenues depend on the individual income tax and the social insurance and retirement taxes. Other major revenue sources are corporate income, excise, estate, and gift taxes. The 16th Amendment of the Constitution, ratified on February 3, 1913, gave Congress the authority to levy taxes on the income of individuals and corporations.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Information on and resources for doing business with the IRS are available on its "Procurement" Web page.

<https://www.irs.gov/about-irs/procurement> | Email: AWSSPROCCustomerService@irs.gov

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the IRS relies on accountants, appeals officers, artificial intelligence analysts, attorneys, budget analysts, computer research analysts, contact representatives, data transcribers, engineers, human resources specialists, information technology specialists, internal revenue agents and officers, mathematical statisticians, operations research analysts, policy analysts, program analysts, risk analysts, special agents, tax compliance officers, tax examiners, tax law specialists, and other professionals.

<https://jobs.irs.gov>

In 2020, the IRS ranked 223d among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TR93>

Charities / Nonprofits

Tax information for charities and nonprofit organizations is available online.

<https://www.irs.gov/charities-and-nonprofits>

Contact Information

At the bottom of its "Let Us Help You" web page, the IRS posts phone numbers for those who seek assistance.

<https://www.irs.gov/help/telephone-assistance>

Forms / Publications

Current forms, instructions, and publications may be downloaded from the IRS's website.

<https://www.irs.gov/forms-instructions>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

In 1966, President Lyndon B. Johnson's approval of the FOIA gave the right to access documents or records belonging to the executive branch of the Federal Government to any person. The statute is based on the presumption that the Government and its information belong to the public. The IRS may withhold, however, documents or records shielded from disclosure by one of the statute's nine exemptions, and it must withhold them when disclosure is prohibited by law.

<https://www.irs.gov/uac/irs-freedom-of-information>

The IRS maintains an online library whose contents are arranged by subject category.

<https://www.irs.gov/privacy-disclosure/foia-library>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The IRS posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.irs.gov/faqs>

Identity Theft

The IRS responds to tax-related identity theft with an aggressive strategy of prevention, detection, and victim assistance. The IRS continues to make progress against this crime, and it remains one of the agency's highest priorities.

The IRS is committed to helping victims of identity theft resolve their cases as quickly as possible.

<https://www.irs.gov/identity-theft-central>

Language Resources

Assistance in additional languages is available on the "Languages" web page.

<https://www.irs.gov/help/languages>

News

The IRS posts news items online.

<https://www.irs.gov/newsroom>

Reading Rooms

Public reading rooms are located in the national office and in each territory office.

Retirement Plans

The IRS website has resources for and a trove of information on retirement plans.

<https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans>

Tax Assistance

The IRS provides taxpayers with year-round tax information and assistance, primarily through its website and toll-free telephone system. Answers to many tax-related questions can be found on the IRS's website. The toll-free telephone numbers are listed in local telephone directories and in the annual tax form packages. The telephone system can accommodate the needs of taxpayers who are deaf or hearing-impaired. Taxpayers may also visit IRS offices to find answers to their tax questions. Individual preparation is available for handicapped or other individuals unable to use the group preparation method. Tax assistance in a foreign language is also available at many locations.

<https://www.irs.gov/help/telephone-assistance>

To find the nearest taxpayer assistance center, type a ZIP Code in the text box of the online locator tool. Before going to a taxpayer assistance center for help, call and schedule an appointment.

<https://apps.irs.gov/app/officeLocator/index.jsp>

Taxpayer Advocate Service

Each district has problem resolution personnel to address taxpayer complaints that cannot be resolved through regular channels.

<https://www.irs.gov/advocate>

Taxpayer Rights

The taxpayer bill of rights is available on the IRS's website.

<https://www.irs.gov/taxpayer-bill-of-rights>

Tax Statistics

The IRS posts articles, data, and tables that describe and measure elements of the U.S. tax system.

<https://www.irs.gov/statistics>

Tax Tools

Tax tools are available for individual taxpayers, businesses, and tax professionals on the "Tools" web page.

<https://www.irs.gov/help/tools>

Where's My Refund?

Once the IRS processes a tax filer's return and approves a refund, he or she can check the refund date online. The IRS usually issues a refund in fewer than 21 days after receiving a tax filer's return. Some returns, however, require additional review and, therefore, additional time to process.

<https://www.irs.gov/refunds>

The above Sources of Information were updated 7–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency

The United States Government Manual

OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20219

202-649-6800

<http://www.occ.gov>

COMPTROLLER

Michael J. Hsu, Acting

<https://www.occ.gov/about/who-we-are/leadership/bio-michael-hsu.html>

Senior Deputy Comptrollers

Gregory J. Coleman

---

Grovetta N. Gardineer

---

Larry L. Hattix

---

Benjamin W. McDonough

---

Sydney Menefee

---

Kathy K. Murphy

---

Blake Paulson

---

<https://www.occ.gov/about/who-we-are/leadership/index-leadership.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) was created on February 25, 1863 (12 Stat. 665), as a bureau of the Department of the Treasury. In 1929, with the issuance of the last national bank notes, the OCC essentially became an organization of national bank examiners with a singular mission: to maintain the safety and soundness of the banks under its supervision. In 2011, when the Office of Thrift Supervision integrated into the OCC, the bureau also assumed responsibility for regulating Federal savings associations, also referred to as Federal thrifts.

<https://www.loc.gov/collections/united-states-statutes-at-large/about-this-collection/73rd-congress/session-2/c73s2ch668.pdf>

The Comptroller of the Currency, whom the President appoints to a 5-year term by the advice of the Senate and with its consent, administers the Federal banking system and serves as the chief officer of the OCC and as a director of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The OCC's statement of organization has been codified in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) and assigned to part 4 of 12 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=7c57a800de8e85e36874c72aa364ac10&mc=true&node=pt12.1.4&rgn=div5>

A number of departments and offices that are under the leadership of the Comptroller and senior deputy comptrollers provide the organizational structure for carrying out the OCC's mission.

<https://occ.gov/about/who-we-are/organizations/index-organization.html>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material affecting the Comptroller of the Currency has been consolidated and codified in the United States Code (U.S.C.). This material has been assigned to the first chapter, sections 1–16, of 12 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title12/chapter1&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that are associated with the Comptroller of the Currency have been consolidated and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). These rules and regulations have been assigned to the first chapter, parts 1–

199, of 12CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=9239dee7caf69de5910e02babdd4547c&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title12/12chapter1.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The OCC regulates national banks and Federal thrifts by examining them; approving or denying applications for new charters, branches, capital, and other changes in corporate or banking structure; taking enforcement actions—removing officers and directors, negotiating agreements to change practices, and issuing cease and desist orders and civil monetary penalties—when national banks and Federal thrifts fail to comply with laws and regulations or when they engage in unsound practices; and issuing rules, regulations, interpretations, and corporate decisions that govern investments, lending, and other practices.

The bureau supervises over 1,100 national banks, Federal savings associations, and Federal branches, including their trust activities and overseas operations. A nationwide team of bank examiners works under the supervision of four district offices. National banks and Federal thrifts pay for their examinations, as well as for the processing of their corporate applications.

Assessments on national banks and Federal savings associations cover most OCC operating expenses. The OCC also benefits from some investment income, primarily from U.S. Treasury securities.

<https://occ.gov/about/what-we-do/index-what-we-do.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Alerts

The OCC posts counterfeiting, fictitious correspondence, fraudulent issuances, misrepresentation, and unauthorized banking activity alerts.

<https://occ.gov/news-events/newsroom/index.html?nr=Alert>

Alphabetical Topics List

Online visitors may browse the contents of the "Topics" web page by using an alphabetized list or by subject area.

<https://occ.gov/topics/topics-sitemap.html#T|tab=accordion-wrpr2>

Annual Reports

The "2020 Annual Report" is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for downloading. Starting with the year 2003, earlier annual reports are available, too.

<https://www.occ.gov/publications-and-resources/publications/annual-report/index-annual-report.html>

Answers / Solutions

The "HelpWithMyBank" website has information and resources to help customers of national banks and Federal savings associations find answers to questions and solutions for problems.

<https://www.helpwithmybank.gov/about/index-about.html>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that OCC records have been assigned to record group 101.

https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/101.html?\_ga=2.154427440.926928378.1628716780-2085205018.1628716780

Bulletins

Starting with the year 1994 and continuing to the present, OCC bulletins are accessible online. Rescinded and some pre-1994 bulletins are also included in the collection.

<https://occ.gov/news-events/newsroom/index.html?nr=Bulletin>

Business Opportunities

Procurement awards typically fall within the following service categories: computer-related services; computer facilities management services; computer systems design services; data processing, hosting, and related services; real estate agent and broker services; insurance agency and brokerage services; and administrative management and general management consulting services.

<https://occ.gov/about/connect-with-us/doing-business-with-the-occ/index-doing-business-with-the-occ.html> | Email: OCCAcquisitionManagement@occ.treas.gov

Career Opportunities

The OCC relies on accountants, attorneys, economists, financial analysts, human resources specialists, information technology specialists, project management analysts, and other professionals, particularly bank examiners, to carry out its mission. For more information, contact the Director for Human Resources Operations. Phone, 202-649-6590. Fax, 202-649-5998.

<https://careers.occ.gov/index.html>

National bank examiners work to ensure the safety and soundness of America's national banking system, to provide fair access to financial services and equal treatment, and to establish and maintain a flexible regulatory framework that allows the Nation's banks to be competitive. The OCC generally hires examiners at the entry level through college recruitment.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RPQmlcF0s0>

In 2020, the OCC ranked 87th among 411 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TRAJ>

Consumer Protection

The OCC posts information and resources on its website to protect consumers.

<https://occ.gov/topics/consumers-and-communities/consumer-protection/index-consumer-protection.html>

Contact Information

The "Contact the OCC" web page has informational resources for contacting the agency.

<https://occ.gov/about/connect-with-us/contact-the-occ/index-contact-the-occ.html>

Customer Complaints

An online form is available for submitting a complaint against a national bank or Federal savings association.

https://appsec.helpwithmybank.gov/olcc\_form/intro.aspx

District and Field Offices

Contact information for district and field offices is available online.

<https://occ.gov/about/who-we-are/locations/index-locations.html>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the OCC recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/comptroller-of-the-currency>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA serves as the vehicle for obtaining Federal agency documents and records. The statute does contain, however, nine exemptions and three special law enforcement exclusions that shield some documents and records, or parts of them, from disclosure.

<https://www.occ.gov/about/connect-with-us/foia/index-foia.html>

The electronic reading room contains documents that attract public interest and have been the subject of FOIA requests in the past.

<https://foia-pal.occ.gov/app/ReadingRoom.aspx>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Answers to FAQs on checking accounts, credit cards, credit reports, mortgages, overdraft fees, and more are posted on the "HelpWithMyBank" website.

<https://www.helpwithmybank.gov/help-topics/index-help-topics.html>

Glossary

A dictionary of banking terms and phrases is available on the "HelpWithMyBank" website.

<https://www.helpwithmybank.gov/dictionary/index-dictionary.html>

A list of abbreviations and acronyms is available on the OCC's website in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.occ.gov/annual-report/download-the-full-report/abbreviations.pdf>

History

The OCC's role in the Federal banking system started in a tumultuous year, near the midpoint of the American Civil War. On January 1, 1863, President Abraham Lincoln emancipated over 3 million men, women, and children by signing the Emancipation Proclamation. Fifty-five days later, he added his signature to the National Currency Act, which established the OCC and charged it with responsibility for organizing and administering a system of nationally chartered banks and a uniform national currency. After 1913, its mission increasingly centered on the safety and soundness of national banks. To learn more about the agency's development over the past 155 years, see the "Founding of the OCC and the National Banking System" web page.

<https://occ.gov/about/who-we-are/history/founding-occ-national-bank-system/index-founding-occ-national->

banking-system.html

On March 3, 1865, Congress enacted legislation to establish the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands, which came to be known as the Freedmen's Bureau. On that same day, it chartered the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company, or Freedman's Savings Bank (FSB), to meet a growing need for financial services among African Americans. To learn more about the intertwining histories of the OCC and FSB, read the online article by former OCC historian Jesse Stiller.

<https://www.occ.gov/about/what-we-do/history/freedman-savings-bank.html>

Minority Outreach

The OCC's External Outreach and Minority Affairs division maintains a "Minority Outreach" web page.

<https://www.occ.gov/topics/consumers-and-communities/minority-outreach/index-minority-outreach.html>

News

The OCC posts news releases on its website.

<https://occ.gov/news-issuances/news-releases/index.html>

Publications

The "Publications" web page allows visitors to browse OCC publications by collection, subject area, or recent dates of publication.

<https://occ.gov/publications-and-resources/publications/index-publications.html>

Public Information on Banks

Federal bank regulators post public information on individual banks. The OCC's website provides convenient access to the websites of these regulators.

<https://occ.gov/about/contact-us/public-information/public-information.html>

The Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council's website has a searchable database for identifying the Federal bank regulatory agency that oversees a particular bank or financial institution.

<https://www.ffiec.gov/consumercenter/default.aspx>

Site Map

The careers section has a site map of its web pages.

<https://careers.occ.gov/sitemap/sitemap-page.html>

The "HelpWithMyBank" website has its own site map.

<https://www.helpwithmybank.gov/site-map/index-sitemap.html>

Social Media

The OCC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/usocc>

The OCC has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/US-Comptroller-of-the-Currency-213254918823/>

The OCC posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/OCCChannel#p/c/2BAA3C3A20C2630E>

Tools

The "Tools" web page brings together in one place all of the tools that are available on the OCC website.

<https://occ.gov/publications-and-resources/tools/index-tools.html>

The above Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Mint

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES MINT

801 Ninth Street NW., Washington, DC 20220

202-354-7200

<http://www.usmint.gov>

DIRECTOR

David J. Ryder

Deputy Director

Francis O'Hearn, Acting

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/directors-office>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The establishment of a mint was authorized by act of April 2, 1792 (1 Stat. 246). The Bureau of the Mint was established by act of February 12, 1873 (17 Stat. 424), and recodified on September 13, 1982 (31 U.S.C. 304, 5131). The name was changed to United States Mint by Secretarial order on January 9, 1984.

The primary mission of the Mint is to produce an adequate volume of circulating coinage for the Nation to conduct its trade and commerce. The Mint also produces and sells numismatic coins, American Eagle gold and silver bullion coins, and national medals. The Fort Knox Bullion Depository is the primary storage facility for the Nation's gold bullion.

The U.S. Mint maintains sales centers at the Philadelphia and Denver Mints and at its headquarters on 9th Street in Washington, DC. Public tours are conducted, with free admission, at the Philadelphia and Denver Mints.

https://www.usmint.gov/about\_the\_mint/index.html

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Mint records have been assigned to record group 104.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/104.html>

Artists

The artistic infusion program enriches and invigorates coin and medal designs by contracting with a pool of American artists from diverse backgrounds and having a variety of interests. These artists collaborate with the Mint's sculptor-engravers to create and submit new designs for U.S. coins and medals.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/artists>

Bullion Dealers

The Mint's website has a locator tool for finding U.S. Mint bullion sellers by city and State or by ZIP Code.

<http://catalog.usmint.gov/bullion-dealer-locator>

Career Opportunities

The Mint offers a wide range of career opportunities. An innovative, progressive bureau in the Department of the Treasury, it operates six facilities nationwide and employs professionals with backgrounds in financial management, information technology, manufacturing, protection, sales and marketing, workforce solutions, and other fields.

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/careers>

Among 411 agency subcomponents, the Mint placed 148th in the Partnership for Public Service's 2020 Best Places To Work rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TRAD>

Coin of the Year

The Mint celebrated its 225th anniversary in 2017. To mark the occasion, it created the 2017 American Liberty 225th Anniversary Gold Coin, which features a modern rendition of Lady Liberty. Emblematic figures of liberty have graced American coins since the Mint's founding in 1792. The newest Lady Liberty is a modern rendition of this iconic figure, who embodies equality and freedom, ideals that the Nation's Declaration of Independence enshrined.

<https://catalog.usmint.gov/american-liberty-225th-anniversary-gold-coin-17XA.html?cgid=null&q=coin%2520of%2520the%2520year&navid=search#q=coin%2520of%2520the%2520year&start=1>

Contact Information

The Mint's "Contact Us" web page has phone numbers and postal addresses. It also provides convenient access to an electronic "Contact Us" form that has a comment box.

<https://catalog.usmint.gov/customer-service/contact-us.html> | Email: usmint-support@usmcatalog.com

Customer Service

Mint employees work hard to provide exceptional customer service. To contact the Mint, with questions or concerns about shopping, an order, or another matter, please use the "Live Chat" feature or call customer service. Answers to questions also are provided on the "Frequently Asked Questions" web page. Phone, 800-872-6468.

<https://catalog.usmint.gov/customerservice> | Email: usmint-support@usmcatalog.com

Educational Resources

The Mint's website offers learning resources for children, educators, and parents.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/educators>

Facilities

The U.S. Mint operates four mints (CA, CO, NY, PA), one depository (KY), and maintains its headquarters in Washington, DC.

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/mint-tours-facilities>

Federal Register

Documents that the Mint recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/united-states-mint>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute.

<https://www.usmint.gov/foia>

The Mint's electronic reading room contains records that are frequently requested under the FOIA.

<https://www.usmint.gov/foia/reading-room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The Mint posts answers to FAQs on its website.

https://catalog.usmint.gov/customer-service/faqs/?\_ga=2.162013182.373647902.1628186014-2053548025.1628186014

Glossary

The H.I.P. Pocket Change website features a coin glossary.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/kids/collecting/coin-glossary>

History

On April 2, 1792, the U.S. Congress passed the Coinage Act, establishing the first national mint in the United States. Over two centuries later, one of the Federal Government's oldest agencies continues to serve the American public. To learn more about the U.S. Mint, visit its "History" web page.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/history>

A timeline of the Mint that stretches from the 18th to 21st century is available online.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/history/timeline-of-the-united-states-mint>

How Are Coins Made?

An animated overview of the six-step coin manufacturing process—blanking, annealing, upsetting, striking, inspecting, and counting and bagging—is available on the "Coins" web page..

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/kids/coins>

Image Library

High-resolution images of coins and medals are available on the Mint's website. For information on the use of these images, contact the Office of Licensing. Phone, 202-354-7350. Fax, 202-756-6585.

<https://www.usmint.gov/news/image-library> | Email: licensing@usmint.treas.gov

Medals

National medals commemorate significant historical events or sites and honor individuals whose superior deeds and achievements have enriched American history or the world. Some national medals are bronze duplicates of Congressional Gold Medals that Congress authorizes under separate Public Laws, and others are produced under the Secretary of the Treasury's authority to strike them.

<https://www.usmint.gov/learn/coin-and-medal-programs/medals>

News

The Mint posts articles and press releases online. The Mint maintains a public inquiry phone line for its Office of Corporate Communications. Phone, 202-354-7227.

<https://www.usmint.gov/news> | Email: inquiries@usmint.treas.gov

Online Resources

The "Website Resources" web page has a collection of helpful internal and external links.

<https://www.usmint.gov/policies/website-resources>

Production / Sales

The Mint produces circulating coins for commerce, numismatic coins for collectors, and bullion coins for investors. Quantities are measured in terms of production figures when referring to circulating coins, sales figures when referring to numismatic products, and sales and mintage figures when referring to bullion.

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/production-sales-figures>

Reports

Annual and special reports are available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/reports>

Seigniorage

The Mint returned nearly $550 million in seigniorage—the difference between the face value and the manufacturing cost of a circulating coin—to the Department of the Treasury's general fund in 2020. The Mint publishes seigniorage information each year in its annual report.

<https://www.usmint.gov/wordpress/wp-content/uploads/2021/02/2020-Annual-Report.pdf>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.usmint.gov/about/site-map>

Social Media

The Mint maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/UnitedStatesMint>

The Mint tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on its Twitter account.

<https://twitter.com/usmint>

The Mint posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/USMINT>

The above Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Administrative Conference of the United States

The United States Government Manual

ADMINISTRATIVE CONFERENCE OF THE UNITED STATES

1120 Twentieth Street NW., Suite 706 South, Washington, DC 20036

202-480-2080

202-386-7190

<http://www.acus.gov> | Email: info@acus.gov

STAFF

---

|          |                           |
|----------|---------------------------|
| CHAIRMAN | Matthew L. Wiener, Acting |
|----------|---------------------------|

<https://www.acus.gov/staff>

|                    |                   |
|--------------------|-------------------|
| EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR | Matthew L. Wiener |
|--------------------|-------------------|

|                   |               |
|-------------------|---------------|
| Research Director | Reeve T. Bull |
|-------------------|---------------|

<https://www.acus.gov/contacts/matthew-l-wiener>

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| CHIEF FINANCIAL AND OPERATIONS OFFICER | Harry M. Seidman |
|--|------------------|

<https://www.acus.gov/contacts/harry-m-seidman>

|                 |                    |
|-----------------|--------------------|
| GENERAL COUNSEL | Shawne C. McGibbon |
|-----------------|--------------------|

<https://www.acus.gov/contacts/shawne-mcgibbon>

COUNCIL

---

|       |                           |
|-------|---------------------------|
| CHAIR | Matthew L. Wiener, Acting |
|-------|---------------------------|

|            |                   |
|------------|-------------------|
| Vice Chair | Matthew L. Wiener |
|------------|-------------------|

|                     |                       |
|---------------------|-----------------------|
| GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL | Nicholas T. Matich IV |
|---------------------|-----------------------|

|                  |                |
|------------------|----------------|
| PRIVATE CITIZENS | Ronald A. Cass |
|------------------|----------------|

Jeffrey M. Harris

Donald F. McGahn II

Michael H. McGinley

Theodore B. Olson

Jane C. Sherburne

Geovette E. Washington

(vacancy)

<https://www.acus.gov/directory/council>

The above list of key personnel was updated 12–2019.

---

The Administrative Conference of the United States develops recommendations for improving the fairness and effectiveness of procedures by which Federal agencies administer regulatory, benefit, and other Government programs.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The Administrative Conference of the United States (ACUS) was established as a permanent independent agency by the Administrative Conference Act (PL 88–499) enacted in 1964. The Conference is the successor to two temporary Administrative Conferences during the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-78/pdf/STATUTE-78-Pg615.pdf>

The Conference ceased operations on October 31, 1995, due to termination of funding by Congress. From its beginning in 1968 until its defunding in 1995, the ACUS adopted approximately 200 recommendations, based on research and the deliberations of its members in an open process that encouraged public input. The ACUS published a complete list of these recommendations in the "Federal Register" (60 FR 56312).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1995-11-08/pdf/95-27473.pdf#page=1>

Congress reauthorized the Conference in 2004 and again in 2008. The 2004 legislation expanded its responsibilities to include specific attention to achieving more effective public participation and efficiency, reducing unnecessary litigation, and improving the use of science in the rulemaking process (5 U.S.C. 591–596). Funding was approved in 2009, and the Conference was officially reestablished in March 2010.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title5/part1/chapter5/subchapter5&edition=prelim>

By statute, the Administrative Conference has no fewer than 75 and no more than 101 members, a majority of whom are Government officials. The President appoints the Chairman of the Conference with the advice and consent of the Senate for a 5-year term. The Council, which acts as an executive board, comprises the Chairman and 10 other members whom the President appoints for 3-year terms. Federal officials named to the Council may not constitute more than half of the total Council membership. The Chairman, the only full-time, compensated member of the Conference, appoints members representing the private sector with the approval of the Council for 2-year terms.

The entire membership is divided into committees. Each committee is assigned a broad area of interest such as adjudication, administration and management, judicial review, regulation, or rulemaking. The membership meeting in plenary session constitutes the Assembly of the Conference, which by statute must meet at least once, and customarily meets twice, each year.

<https://www.acus.gov/history>

The agency's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading on the "Staff" web page.

https://www.acus.gov/sites/default/files/documents/ACUS%20Organization%20Chart\_Oct%202019.pdf

The Establishment and Organization paragraphs were updated 12–2019.

ACTIVITIES

---

The Chairman develops subjects for inquiry, and the Council approves them. Government and nongovernment experts in administrative procedure often contribute to the development and approval process. The committees conduct thorough reviews of these subjects for inquiry and propose draft recommendations, which are based on supporting reports that expert consultants typically prepare for the ACUS.

Following the proposal process of the committees, the Council considers the supporting reports and the draft recommendations. The Council may then place them on the agenda for an upcoming plenary session of the Assembly. Members of the Assembly debate draft recommendations that the Council has placed on the agenda, and the Assembly's voting members then vote on their final adoption. The general public may attend deliberations of the committees and Assembly.

Recommendations adopted by the Conference may be addressed to administrative agencies, Congress, the President, or the Judicial Conference. Most recommendations call for action on the part of affected agencies or for new legislation. While a substantial number of recommendations have been implemented, implementation activities are continually ongoing.

The Chairman may make independent inquiries into procedural matters, including matters proposed by individuals inside or outside the Government. These inquiries help determine whether the problems should be made the subject of Conference study in the interest of developing fairer or more effective or efficient procedures.

Upon the request of a department or agency head, the Chairman is authorized to advise and assist on matters of administrative procedure. The Conference may collect information and statistics from departments and agencies and publish reports and sourcebooks that it considers useful for evaluating and improving administrative processes. The Conference also serves as a forum for the interchange among departments and agencies of information that may be useful for improving administrative practices and procedures.

The Activities were updated 12–2019.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that ACUS records have been assigned to record group 451. The Guide is accessible online, but no description is associated with this record group.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/000.html>

Assembly Membership

When the 101 statutory voting members of the ACUS meet in plenary session, they are referred to as the Assembly. The Assembly comprises three types of voting members: Council members, Government members, and public members. Nonvoting members—liaison representatives, special counsels, and senior fellows—may not make motions during plenary sessions and are not reckoned as part of the Assembly.

<https://www.acus.gov/members>

Blog

"Administrative Fix" is the agency's official blog.

<https://www.acus.gov/administrative-fix-blog>

Calendar

A calendar of meetings and events is available online.

<https://www.acus.gov/meetings-and-events/calendar>

Career Opportunities

Current job openings and information on internships and the research fellow program are accessible on the "Opportunities" web page.

<https://www.acus.gov/opportunities>

Committees

The ACUS currently has standing committees on adjudication, administration and management, judicial review, regulation, and rulemaking.

<https://www.acus.gov/committees>

Documents

The ACUS maintains a database of electronic documents that are accessible and searchable.

<https://www.acus.gov/documents/advanced-search>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA generally provides that any person has the right to obtain access to Federal agency records, except to the extent that those records are shielded from disclosure by the FOIA or another statute. Formal FOIA requests are unnecessary when seeking information that is publicly available. Before filing a formal FOIA request, an information seeker should search the ACUS website for relevant documents that are already accessible in the public domain and without charge. If the desired document cannot be found on the ACUS website, consider contacting the FOIA liaison. Getting assistance prior to filing a formal request may shorten the response time. Phone, 202-480-2080.

<https://www.acus.gov/foia>

News

The ACUS posts news items on its "Latest News" web page.

<https://www.acus.gov/newsroom>

Press Kit

The ACUS posted a press kit on its website.

<https://www.acus.gov/press-kit>

Publications

Articles, books, papers, reports, and bibliographies are accessible online.

<https://www.acus.gov/publications>

Recommendations

The ACUS maintains an online searchable database of recommendations. The 19 statements that the ACUS has adopted are also included in the database. A statement is adopted when the ACUS seeks to express its views on a matter without making a formal recommendation on the subject.

<https://www.acus.gov/recommendations>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.acus.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The ACUS maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/ACUSgov>

The ACUS tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/ACUSgov>

Staff Directory

The ACUS maintains a staff directory on its website.

<https://www.acus.gov/directory/staff>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Central Intelligence Agency

The United States Government Manual

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

Washington, DC 20505

703-482-0623

<http://www.cia.gov>

DIRECTOR

Gina C. Haspel

Deputy Director

Vaughn F. Bishop

|                            |                         |
|----------------------------|-------------------------|
| Chief Operating Officer    | Andrew Makridis         |
| Director of Public Affairs | Brittany Bramell        |
| General Counsel            | Courtney Simmons Elwood |

<https://www.cia.gov/about-cia/leadership>

Office of Inspector General

|                   |           |
|-------------------|-----------|
| Inspector General | (vacancy) |
|-------------------|-----------|

<https://www.cia.gov/offices-of-cia/inspector-general>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2020.

The Central Intelligence Agency collects, evaluates, and disseminates vital information on economic, military, political, scientific, and other developments abroad to safeguard national security.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On July 26, 1947, President Harry S. Truman approved Public Law 80–253, which is commonly cited as the National Security Act of 1947. The Act established the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/80th-congress/session-1/c80s1ch343.pdf>

The President appoints the Director by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The Director serves as the head of the CIA and reports to the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) regarding the activities of the Agency.

<https://www.cia.gov/about-cia/todays-cia>

The National Security Act has been amended since its enactment in 1947 (50 U.S.C. 3001 et seq.). The CIA now functions under the original Act, as amended; Executive Order 12333 of December 4, 1981; the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004; and other laws, Executive orders, regulations, and directives.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title50/pdf/USCODE-2017-title50-chap44.pdf>

The CIA's statement of organization is found in 32 CFR 1900.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/CFR-2018-title32-vol6/pdf/CFR-2018-title32-vol6-subtitleB-chapXIX.pdf>

The CIA posts its organizational graphic online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

https://www.cia.gov/about-cia/todays-cia/Offices\_of\_CIA.pdf

ACTIVITIES

The CIA uses human source collection and other means to gather intelligence; however, it neither carries out internal security functions nor exercises police, subpoena, or other law enforcement powers. The Agency correlates, evaluates, and disseminates national security intelligence. It also directs and coordinates intelligence collecting outside the United States by U.S. intelligence community elements authorized to engage in human source collection.

<https://www.cia.gov/about-cia>

In coordination with other departments, agencies, and authorized elements of the U.S. Government, the CIA ensures that resources are used effectively and that adequate consideration is given to the risks, both to the United States and to those involved in collecting intelligence abroad. The Agency carries out other intelligence-related tasks that are necessary for safeguarding national security, as the President or the DNI may indicate. Under the direction of the DNI and consistent with section 207 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980, the CIA coordinates relationships between elements of the U.S. intelligence community and the security or intelligence services of foreign governments or international organizations in matters of national security and clandestine intelligence.

<https://www.cia.gov/library/publications/resources/cia-at-a-glance/what-we-do.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Agency Offices

The CIA comprises seven components: directorate of analysis, directorate of operations, directorate of science and technology, directorate of support, directorate of digital innovation, mission centers, and offices of the Director.

<https://www.cia.gov/offices-of-cia>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that CIA records have been assigned to record group 263.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/263.html>

Bibliography of Intelligence Literature

The CIA's online bibliography contains works representing a wide spectrum of views on intelligence and the Agency. The readings cover history, opinion, technology, and some of the key figures who are associated with intelligence.

<https://www.cia.gov/library/intelligence-literature/index.html>

Blog

The CIA maintains a blog on its website.

<https://www.cia.gov/news-information/blog>

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the CIA relies on analysts, attorneys, engineers, graphic designers, foreign language instructors, mechanics and truck drivers, physicians and psychiatrists, and other professionals.

<https://www.cia.gov/careers>

Chiefs of State

The CIA updates its online directory of "Chiefs of State and Cabinet Members of Foreign Governments" regularly.

<https://www.cia.gov/library/publications/resources/world-leaders-1>

Contact Information

The CIA posts contact information on its website.

<https://www.cia.gov/contact-cia>

Federal Register

Documents that the CIA has published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/central-intelligence-agency>

Foreign Languages

Abridged versions of the CIA's website content is available in several foreign languages.

<https://www.cia.gov/foreign-languages>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives a right to obtain access to Federal agency records to any person, except to a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are, however, shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure may cause. The CIA shields classified national security information, information relating to intelligence sources and methods, and organizational information from release under the FOIA. An information seeker may submit a FOIA request for records by sending it to the FOIA Requester Service Center, Central Intelligence Agency, Washington, DC 20505. A request also may be submitted by facsimile. Fax, 703-613-3007.

<https://www.cia.gov/library/readingroom/foia-annual-report>

The CIA maintains an online FOIA reading room.

<https://www.cia.gov/library/readingroom>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The CIA posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.cia.gov/about-cia/faqs>

History

President Harry S. Truman approved the National Security Act of 1947, creating a permanent central agency for intelligence. His approval was not the beginning of the story: 6 years prior to the formal establishment of the CIA, various renditions of an intelligence agency had occurred. To learn more of the story that underlies today's CIA, visit the "History of the CIA" web page.

<https://www.cia.gov/about-cia/history-of-the-cia>

Maps

By country, maps of administration, physiography, and transportation are posted on the CIA website.

<https://www.cia.gov/library/publications/resources/cia-maps-publications>

Museum

The CIA Museum's online collection allows visitors to learn more about the Agency through an interactive timeline, historical artifacts, and stories.

<https://www.cia.gov/about-cia/cia-museum/experience-the-collection>

Press Releases / Statements

The CIA posts press releases and statements on its website.

<https://www.cia.gov/news-information/press-releases-statements>

Publications

The "Publications" web page provides convenient access to resources like "The World Factbook," "Chiefs of State and Cabinet Members of Foreign Governments," and "Maps of the CIA." It also provides easy access to a variety of publications on diverse subjects.

<https://www.cia.gov/library/publications>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.cia.gov/sitemap.html>

Social Media

The CIA has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/Central.Intelligence.Agency>

The CIA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/CIA>

The CIA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/ciagov>

Spy Kids

The "Spy Kids" website has materials that are suitable for K–5th grade, 6–12th grade, and parents and teachers. The website's main sections are "Games," "Spy Dogs," and "Stories." A spy dog is a member of the CIA's K9 Corps, whose dogs sniff out explosives and protect CIA officers and buildings from bombs and other explosive threats.

<https://www.cia.gov/kids-page>

World Factbook

For 267 world entities, the CIA posts information on their histories, peoples and societies, governments, economies, energy sources, geographies, communications, modes of transportation, militaries, and transnational issues.

<https://www.cia.gov/library/publications/resources/the-world-factbook>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Commodity Futures Trading Commission

The United States Government Manual

COMMODITY FUTURES TRADING COMMISSION

1155 Twenty-first Street NW, Washington, DC 20581

202-418-5000

202-418-5514 (TTY)

202-418-5521

<http://www.cftc.gov/index.htm>

Commissioners

---

CHAIR

Heath P. Tarbert

---

Rostin Behnam

---

Daniel M. Berkovitz

---

Dawn DeBerry Stump

---

Brian D. Quintenz

<https://www.cftc.gov/About/Commissioners/index.htm>

Divisions

---

DIRECTORS

---

Clearing and Risk

M. Clark Hutchison III

---

Enforcement

James M. McDonald

---

Market Oversight

Amir R. Zaidi

---

Swap Dealer and Intermediary Oversight

Joshua B. Sterling

<https://www.cftc.gov/About/CFTCOrganization/index.htm>

Offices

---

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Anthony C. Thompson

---

Chief Economist

Bruce Tuckman

---

Chief Information Officer

John L. Rogers

---

General Counsel

Daniel J. Davis

---

DIRECTORS

|   |                         |
|---|-------------------------|
| External Affairs                          | Michael C. Short        |
| International Affairs                     | Mauricio Melara, Acting |
| Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs | Ann Wright, Acting      |
| Minority and Women Inclusion              | Sarah J. Summerville    |

<https://www.cftc.gov/Contact/index.htm>

Office of Inspector General

|                   |              |
|-------------------|--------------|
| Inspector General | A. Roy Lavik |
|-------------------|--------------|

<https://www.cftc.gov/About/OfficeoftheInspectorGeneral/index.htm>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2019.

The Commodity Futures Trading Commission avoids systemic risk; fosters open, transparent, competitive, and financially sound markets; and protects the market users and their funds, consumers, and the public from fraud, manipulation, and abusive practices related to derivatives and other products that are subject to the Commodity Exchange Act.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATIONAL

On October 23, 1974, President Gerald R. Ford approved Public Law 93–463, which is commonly cited as the Commodity Futures Trading Commission Act of 1974 (7 U.S.C. 2). The Act established the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC), which became operational in April of 1975. The U.S. Congress renewed the CFTC's authority to regulate futures trading in 1978, 1982, 1986, 1992, 1995, 2000, and 2008.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-88/pdf/STATUTE-88-Pg1389.pdf>

In 2010, Title VII of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Public Law 111–203) gave the CFTC new and expanded responsibilities and authorities for regulating the swaps marketplace.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-124/pdf/STATUTE-124-Pg1376.pdf>

The President appoints the CFTC's five Commissioners by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The President designates one Commissioner, also by the Senate's advice and with its consent, to serve as the Chair. The Commissioners serve staggered 5-year terms, and no more than three of them may belong to the same political party.

<https://www.cftc.gov/About/Commissioners/index.htm>

The Commission has nine major operating components: the Divisions of Market Oversight, Clearing and Risk, Swap Dealer and Intermediary Oversight, Enforcement, and the Offices of the Executive Director, the General Counsel, the Chief Economist, International Affairs, and Data and Technology. The Office of Inspector General is an independent organizational unit at the CFTC.

The CFTC's statement of organization is found in 17 CFR 140.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/retrieveECFR?gp=&SID=ad2cd54a43272e3456dfc1088505c4e4&mc=true&n=pt17.2.140&r=PART&ty=HTML>

The CFTC posts its organizational chart online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.cftc.gov/media/2261/cftcorgchart071519/download>

ACTIVITIES

---

The CFTC regulates trading on the U.S. futures and options markets that offer commodity futures and options contracts, as well as the swaps marketplace in the United States. Oversight of the derivatives marketplace is accomplished through various CFTC activities.

The CFTC oversees derivatives clearing organizations and other market participants in the clearing process, including futures commission merchants, swap dealers, major swap participants, and large traders. The CFTC oversees the registration and compliance of intermediaries and futures industry self-regulatory organizations, including U.S. derivatives exchanges and the National Futures Association. It also oversees trade execution facilities and data repositories, conducts surveillance, reviews new exchange applications, and examines existing exchanges to ensure compliance with applicable core principles.

<https://www.cftc.gov/About/MissionResponsibilities/index.htm>

Exercising the agency's authority, its staff also investigates and prosecutes alleged violations of the Commodity Exchange Act and CFTC regulations. Potential violations include fraud, manipulation, and other abuses concerning commodity derivatives and swaps that threaten market integrity, market participants, and the general public.

<https://www.cftc.gov/LawRegulation/CommodityExchangeAct/index.htm>

Under the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, the CFTC develops and monitors compliance with regulations addressing registration, business conduct standards, capital adequacy, and margin requirements for swap dealers and major swap participants.

<https://www.cftc.gov/LawRegulation/DoddFrankAct/index.htm>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

The Commission has recurring requirements for the following goods: furniture, office equipment and supplies, and telecommunications equipment and supplies. It also has recurring requirements for copying and printing services and minor construction.

<http://www.cftc.gov/About/ProcurementOpportunities/index.htm>

Career Opportunities

The Commission hires professionals with strong academic records and superior analytical and problem solving skills.

<http://www.cftc.gov/About/Careers/index.htm>

In 2018, the CFTC ranked 23d among 29 small Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places

To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/CT00>

Climate-Related Market Risk

The CFTC has established a subcommittee to prepare a report that identifies and examines climate change-related financial and market risks for the agency's Market Risk Advisory Committee. The climate-related market risk subcommittee will bring experts from academia, industry, and the public sector together to identify and examine the risks that climate change poses to the stability of the U.S. financial system. The subcommittee will propose future actions for policymakers and market participants to consider for mitigating these risks.

<https://www.cftc.gov/PressRoom/PressReleases/7963-19>

Cotton Futures

The "Cotton On-Call Report" shows the quantity of bought or sold call cotton on which the price has not been fixed, together with the respective futures on which the purchase or sale is based. Call cotton refers to physical cotton bought or sold, or contracted for purchase or sale at a price to be fixed later based upon a specified delivery month future's price.

<https://www.cftc.gov/MarketReports/CottonOnCall/index.htm>

Disciplinary History

Making the CFTC's disciplinary history accessible is part of the agency's ongoing effort to protect market participants and the public from fraud, manipulation, and abusive practices.

<https://www.cftc.gov/ConsumerProtection/DisciplinaryHistory/index.htm>

Forms / Submissions

Forms and submissions information for designated contract markets, filing tips and complaints, future commissions merchants, and ownership and control reporting are available online.

<https://www.cftc.gov/Forms/index.htm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives the right to request access to Federal agency records or information to any person. All agencies of the U.S. Government must disclose records upon receiving a written request for them, except for records that the FOIA's nine exemptions and three exclusions shield from disclosure. This right of access is enforceable in court.

<http://www.cftc.gov/FOI/index.htm> | Email: FOIASubmissions@cftc.gov

In addition to maintaining a physical, onsite reading room in Washington, DC, the CFTC also has an electronic reading room. Information seekers should see if the records that they seek are immediately available and accessible free of charge in the electronic reading room before submitting a FOIA request.

<https://www.cftc.gov/FOI/foiareadingrooms.html>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The "Ask CFTC" web page provides answers to some basic questions regarding the futures markets and how they work, where to go for help, as well as answers to other FAQs.

<https://www.cftc.gov/ConsumerProtection/EducationCenter/index.htm>

Glossary

The online glossary defines specialized words and phrases that are used in the futures industry. Standard reference works do not include some of them.

<http://www.cftc.gov/ConsumerProtection/EducationCenter/CFTCGlossary/index.htm>

History

Futures contracts for agricultural commodities have been traded in the country for more than 150 years. The Federal Government has regulated them since the 1920s. When the CFTC was created in 1974, most futures trading took place in the agricultural sector. Over the years, the futures industry has become increasingly varied and complex. To learn more of the history of the futures trading industry and the Federal Government's role in regulating it, visit the "History of the CFTC" web page.

<https://www.cftc.gov/About/HistoryoftheCFTC/index.htm>

LabCFTC

LabCFTC is the hub for the CFTC's engagement with financial technology innovators.

<https://www.cftc.gov/LabCFTC/index.htm>

Learning Resources

The Office of Consumer Outreach makes information and tools available to help consumers avoid fraud. The "Learning Resources" web page has brochures, reports, videos, and a book to educate consumers on this topic.

<https://www.cftc.gov/ConsumerProtection/Resources/index.htm> | Email: consumers@cftc.gov

The "Avoid Fraud" web page has additional resources.

<https://www.cftc.gov/ConsumerProtection/FraudAwarenessPrevention/index.htm>

Money Laundering

A general outline of important anti-money laundering topics with links to general information and resources is available on the CFTC website.

<https://www.cftc.gov/IndustryOversight/AntiMoneyLaundering/index.htm>

Press Room

The press room provides convenient access to news, podcasts, press releases, remarks, statements, testimonies, webcasts, and information on public events.

<http://www.cftc.gov/PressRoom/index.htm>

Regional Offices

The Commission maintains regional offices in Chicago, IL, and New York, NY, where many of the Nation's designated contract markets are located. Phone, 312-596-0700 (IL); Phone, 646-746-9700 (NY). A third regional office is located in Kansas City, MO. Phone, 816-960-7700.

Site Map

The Web site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<http://www.cftc.gov/SiteMap/index.htm>

Swaps Report

The "CFTC Swaps Report" is published every Wednesday at 3:30 p.m., unless otherwise noted.

<https://www.cftc.gov/MarketReports/SwapsReports/index.htm> | Email: swapsreport@cftc.gov

Virtual Currencies

One of the most recent marketplace developments driving a lot of interest is the rise in prominence of virtual currencies, specifically bitcoin. The "Bitcoin and Other Virtual Currencies" web page has resources for market participants and customers on virtual currency and on the CFTC's role in overseeing this emerging innovation.

<https://www.cftc.gov/Bitcoin/index.htm>

Whistleblower Program

The Commission gives monetary incentives to whistleblowers who report possible Commodity Exchange Act violations that lead to a successful enforcement action. The Commission also provides antiretaliation protections, confidentiality, and privacy.

<https://www.whistleblower.gov>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau

The United States Government Manual

CONSUMER FINANCIAL PROTECTION BUREAU

1700 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20552

202-435-7000

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov>

Office of the Director

---

|   |                       |
|---|-----------------------|
| DIRECTOR  | Kathleen L. Kraninger |
| Deputy Director   | Brian Johnson, Acting |
| Chief Communications Officer / Spokesperson   | John Czwartacki       |
| Chief of Staff  | Kirsten Sutton        |
| Principal Policy Director   | Brian Johnson         |
| ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR  |                       |
| Equal Opportunity and Fairness  | Althea Kireilis       |
| ASSISTANT DIRECTORS   |                       |
| Civil Rights  | M. Stacey Bach        |
| Minority and Women Inclusion  | (vacancy)             |
| https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/the-bureau/about-director/ |                       |
| Administrative Law Judge  | Christine Kirby       |
| Ombudsman   | Wendy Kamenshine      |

Consumer Education and Engagement Division

---

|                           |                     |
|---------------------------|---------------------|
| Policy Associate Director | Sheila Greenwood    |
| Associate Director        | Gail Hillebrand     |
| ASSISTANT DIRECTORS       |                     |
| Community Affairs         | Daniel Dodd-Ramirez |
| Consumer Engagement       | Gene Koo            |
| Consumer Response         | Christopher Johnson |
| Financial Education       | Janneke Ratcliffe   |

|  |                          |
|--|--------------------------|
| Financial Education—Students and Young Consumers | (vacancy)                |
| Older Americans                                  | Stacy Canan              |
| Servicemember Affairs                            | Patrick Campbell, Acting |

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/the-bureau/bureau-structure/consumer-education-engagement>

External Affairs Division

---

|                           |                 |
|---------------------------|-----------------|
| Policy Associate Director | Anthony Welcher |
| Associate Director        | Zixta Martinez  |

ASSISTANT DIRECTORS

|   |                    |
|---|--------------------|
| Advisory Board and Councils                 | Delicia Hand       |
| Financial Institutions and Business Liaison | Daniel Smith       |
| Intergovernmental Affairs                   | Cheryl Parker Rose |
| Legislative Affairs                         | Catherine Galicia  |
| Public Engagement and Community Liaison     | Keo Chea           |

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/the-bureau/bureau-structure/external-affairs>

Legal Division

---

|                                  |                |
|----------------------------------|----------------|
| General Counsel                  | Mary McLeod    |
| Principal Deputy General Counsel | Richard Lepley |

DEPUTY GENERAL COUNSELS

|                          |                   |
|--------------------------|-------------------|
| General Law and Ethics   | Sonya White       |
| Law and Policy           | Stephen Van Meter |
| Litigation and Oversight | John Coleman      |

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/the-bureau/bureau-structure/legal>

Operations Division

---

|                         |                     |
|-------------------------|---------------------|
| Chief Operating Officer | Kate Fulton, Acting |
|-------------------------|---------------------|

---

CHIEF OFFICERS

|                        |                   |
|------------------------|-------------------|
| Administrative Officer | Martin Michalosky |
|------------------------|-------------------|

|               |                 |
|---------------|-----------------|
| Human Capital | Jeffrey Sumberg |
|---------------|-----------------|

|             |              |
|-------------|--------------|
| Information | Jerry Horton |
|-------------|--------------|

|           |                  |
|-----------|------------------|
| Financial | Elizabeth Reilly |
|-----------|------------------|

|             |              |
|-------------|--------------|
| Procurement | David Gragan |
|-------------|--------------|

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/the-bureau/bureau-structure/operations>

Research, Markets, and Regulations Division

---

|                           |             |
|---------------------------|-------------|
| Policy Associate Director | Thomas Pahl |
|---------------------------|-------------|

|                    |                 |
|--------------------|-----------------|
| Associate Director | David Silberman |
|--------------------|-----------------|

---

ASSISTANT DIRECTORS

|                                   |                   |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------|
| Card, Payment and Deposit Markets | William Wade-Gery |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------|

|  |               |
|--|---------------|
| Consumer Lending, Reporting and Collection Markets | John McNamara |
|--|---------------|

|                  |              |
|------------------|--------------|
| Mortgage Markets | Mark McArdle |
|------------------|--------------|

|                                |                  |
|--------------------------------|------------------|
| Small Business Lending Markets | Grady Hedgespeth |
|--------------------------------|------------------|

|             |               |
|-------------|---------------|
| Regulations | Kelly Cochran |
|-------------|---------------|

|          |                 |
|----------|-----------------|
| Research | Ron Borzekowski |
|----------|-----------------|

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/the-bureau/bureau-structure/research-markets-regulation>

Supervision, Enforcement and Fair Lending Division

---

Policy Associate Director

Eric Blankenstein

Associate Director

Christopher D'Angelo

ASSISTANT DIRECTORS

Enforcement

Kristen Donoghue

Fair Lending and Equal Opportunity

Patrice Ficklin

Supervision Examinations

Paul Sanford

Supervision Policy

Peggy Twohig

REGIONAL DIRECTORS

Midwest region

John Schroeder

Northeast region

Mitchell Kent

Southeast region

James L. Carley

West region

Edwin Chow

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/the-bureau/bureau-structure/supervision-enforcement-fair-lending>

Office of Inspector General

---

Inspector General

Mark Bialek

<https://oig.federalreserve.gov/the-inspector-general.htm>

The above list of key personnel was updated 12–2018.

---

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) helps consumer finance markets work by making rules more effective, by consistently and fairly enforcing those rules, and by empowering consumers to take more control over their economic lives.

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) is an independent Federal agency established by title X of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2012 (12 U.S.C. 5491). The CFPB is headed by a Director whom the President appoints and the Senate confirms.

Activities

The Bureau regulates the offering and provision of consumer financial products and services under Federal consumer financial laws. It gives consumers the information they need to understand the terms of their agreements with financial companies. It also makes regulations and guidance as clear and streamlined as possible so providers of consumer financial products and services can understand and follow the rules without assistance.

The CFPB's principal activities center on writing rules, supervising companies, and enforcing Federal consumer financial protection laws; restricting unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices; taking consumer complaints; promoting financial education; researching consumer behavior; monitoring financial markets for new risks to consumers; and enforcing laws that prohibit discrimination and other unfair treatment in consumer finance.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/the-bureau>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Blog

The CFPB maintains a blog on its website.

https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/blog/?filter\_blog\_category=At+the+CFPB&filter\_range\_date\_gte=&filter\_range\_date\_lte=

Bureau Structure / Organizational Chart

The "Bureau Structure" web page offers visitors a two-dimensional representation of the CFPB's organizational structure, which also includes the names of officials filling key leadership positions.

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/the-bureau/bureau-structure>

Business Opportunities

Information on doing business with the CFPB is available online.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/doing-business-with-us>

Career Opportunities

The CFPB posts new job openings online, as well as information on the application process and opportunities for students and recent graduates.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/careers> | Email: jobs@consumerfinance.gov

In 2018, the CFPB ranked 26th among 27 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/FRFT>

Consumer Help

The CFPB forwards financial product or service complaints to the company offering the product or service and then works to get an appropriate response. A form for filing a complaint and a searchable complaint database are accessible online. Assistance by phone is available on weekdays, excluding Federal holidays, 8 a.m.–8 p.m., eastern standard time. Phone, 855-411-2372. TTY/TDD, 855-729-2372.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/complaint>

Data

The CFPB publishes research and posts consumer financial marketplace information online.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/data-research>

Educational Resources

Resources for educators, librarians, parents, and those who manage someone else's money are available online.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/adult-financial-education>

Fraud / Scams

The CFPB's online resources can help consumers prevent, recognize, and report scams and fraud.

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/consumer-tools/fraud>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

A FOIA request may be submitted by email, fax, or letter. The CFPB recommends using email for making a submission.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/foia-requests/submit-request> | Email: CFPB\_FOIA@consumerfinance.gov

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The CFPB website has clear and impartial answers to hundreds of financial questions. The topics covered include auto loans, bank accounts and services, credit cards, credit reports and scores, debt collection, families and money, money transfers, mortgages, payday loans, prepaid cards, and student loans.

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/ask-cfpb> | Email: info@consumerfinance.gov

Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA)

The CFPB's website features a 3-minute video that explains the purpose of the HMDA.

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/data-research/hmda>

Invite the CFPB

Send an email to invite a CFPB employee to contribute to a publication or participate in a discussion, forum, or other event.

Email: invitations2cfpb@consumerfinance.gov

In Your Language

In the United States, the most widely spoken foreign languages are Chinese, French, Haitian Créole, Korean, Spanish, Tagalog (Filipino), and Vietnamese. To help those who speak these languages, the CFPB provides information in them for accessing common products and making basic transactions. Assistance by phone is available in more than 180 languages. Phone, 855-411-2372.

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/language>

Newsroom

Blog posts, press releases, and speeches are accessible online. An online subscription form is available to receive press releases via email.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/newsroom>

Open Government

The CFPB supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/open-government>

Organizational Chart

The CFPB is currently revising its organizational chart.

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/the-bureau/bureau-structure/>

Plain Writing

CFPB editors and writers apply plain language principles in all of their consumer-oriented materials. They want to know if something on the CFPB website or in its printed materials is unclear.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/plain-writing> | Email: CFPB\_Plain\_Writing\_Act@consumerfinance.gov

Publications

CFPB publications, in English and Spanish, may be ordered in bulk online.

<http://promotions.usa.gov/cfpbpubs.html>

Social Media

The CFPB maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/CFPB>

The CFPB tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/cfpb>

The CFPB posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/cfpbvideo>

Whistleblowers

The CFPB wants to know about companies that may be breaking Federal consumer financial laws. A current or former employee of such a company, an industry insider who knows of such a company, or a competitor being unfairly undercut by such a company—people like these should report alleged violations to the CFPB. Phone, 855-695-7974.

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/blog/the-cfpb-wants-you-to-blow-the-whistle-on-lawbreakers> | Email: whistleblower@cfpb.gov

<http://www.consumerfinance.gov/contact-us> | Email: info@consumerfinance.gov

For further information, contact the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20552. Phone, 202-435-7000.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Consumer Product Safety Commission

The United States Government Manual

CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION

4330 East-West Highway, Bethesda, MD 20814

301-504-7923

<http://www.cpsc.gov>

COMMISSIONERS

---

CHAIR

Robert S. Adler, Acting

<https://www.cpsc.gov/About-CPSC/Chairman/Robert-Adler>

Dana Baiocco

Ann Marie Buerkle

Peter A. Feldman

Elliot F. Kaye

<https://www.cpsc.gov/About-CPSC/Commissioners>

INDEPENDENT OFFICES

---

Directors

Communications

Joseph Martyak

Equal Employment Opportunity and Minority Enterprise

Brittany Woolfolk

Legislative Affairs

Christopher Hudgins

General Counsel

Patricia Hanz

Secretary

Alberta Mills

OFFICES OF THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

---

Executive Director

Mary T. Boyle

Operations Support

---

Deputy Executive Director

Monica Summitt

Assistant Executive Director

Information and Technology Services

James C. Rolfes

---

---

 Chief Officers

---

Financial

Jay Hoffman

Information

James C. Rolfes

---

 Directors

---

Facilities Services

Mark Oemler

Financial Management, Planning, and Evaluation

Jay Hoffman

Human Resources Management

Donna M. Simpson

---

 Safety Operations

---

Deputy Executive Director

DeWane Ray

---

 Assistant Executive Directors

---

Compliance and Field Operations

Robert Kaye

Hazard Identification and Reduction

Duane Boniface

---

 Directors

---

International Programs

Richard O'Brien

Import Surveillance

James Joholske

Small Business Ombudsman

Shelby Mathis

https://www.cpsc.gov/s3fs-public/cpscorgchartMM\_081919\_0.pdf?o.qldWd.ny4Xw2xhWhRJT7Ju.5KEsS\_5

Inspector General

Christopher W. Dentel

<https://www.cpsc.gov/About-CPSC/Inspector-General>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2019.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission protects the public by reducing the risk of injury and death from consumer products.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On October 27, 1972, President Richard M. Nixon approved Public Law 92–573, which is commonly cited as the Consumer Product Safety Act (15 U.S.C. 2051 et seq.). The Act established the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) as an independent regulatory agency. The CPSC became operational on May 14, 1973.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-86/pdf/STATUTE-86-Pg1207.pdf>

Thirty six years later, President George W. Bush approved the reauthorization and modernization of the CPSC by signing the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 (PL 110–314) on August 14.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-122/pdf/STATUTE-122-Pg3016.pdf>

The Commission comprises a maximum of five commissioners. The President appoints each commissioner by the advice and with the consent of the Senate for a term of 7 years. The President also designates one commissioner to serve as Chair. No more than three of the commissioners may be affiliated with the same political party (15 USC 2053).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title15/chapter47&edition=prelim>

The CPSC implements provisions of the Flammable Fabrics Act (15 U.S.C. 1191), Poison Prevention Packaging Act of 1970 (15 U.S.C. 1471), Federal Hazardous Substances Act (15 U.S.C. 1261), Children's Gasoline Burn Prevention Act (15 U.S.C. 2056 note), Virginia Graeme Baker Pool and Spa Safety Act (15 U.S.C. 8001 et seq.), and an act of 2 August 1956 (15 U.S.C. 1211) prohibiting the transportation of refrigerators without door safety devices.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title15&edition=prelim>

The CPSC's organization and functions are found in 16 CFR 1000.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

gp=&SID=09442eace6033ddfb202786dac3646bf&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title16/16CIIsubchapA.tpl

The agency's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading on the "About CPSC" web page.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/About-CPSC>

ACTIVITIES

---

To protect the public from risk of injury, the CPSC requires manufacturers to report defects in products presenting substantial hazards; conducts outreach programs for consumers, industry, and local governments; collects information on consumer product-related injuries and maintains the National Injury Information Clearinghouse; conducts research on consumer product hazards; and encourages and assists in the development of voluntary standards affecting the safety of consumer products. When appropriate, the CPSC requires manufacturers to correct hazards associated with specific consumer products already in circulation, establishes mandatory consumer product standards, and bans hazardous products.

<http://www.cpsc.gov/en/about-cpsc/national-injury-information-clearinghouse>

The Commission also has a special project to reach as many Americans as possible with lifesaving safety information. The Neighborhood Safety Network disseminates safety information to hard-to-reach populations by partnering with other organizations already active within their communities.

<http://www.cpsc.gov/en/safety-education/neighborhood-safety-network>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

All-Terrain Vehicles (ATVs)

ATVs are powerful, fast, and potentially dangerous. The CPSC posts ATV safety information online.

<http://www.cpsc.gov/en/Safety-Education/Safety-Education-Centers/ATV-Safety-Information-Center>

Annual Reports

The CPSC posts its annual reports online.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/About-CPSC/Agency-Reports/Annual-Reports>

Archived Records

The records of the CPSC are referenced in the "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States." The Guide is accessible online, and CPSC records have been assigned to Record Group 424.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/424.html>

Blog

The CPSC maintains a blog on its "OnSafety" website.

<https://onsafety.cpsc.gov>

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the CPSC relies on attorneys and paralegal specialists, compliance officers, economists, engineers, IT specialists, product safety investigators, program analysts, statisticians, toxicologists and pharmacologists and chemists, and other skilled professionals.

<http://www.cpsc.gov/en/About-CPSC/Job>

In 2018, the CPSC ranked 14th among 29 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacestowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/SK00>

Contact Information

Contact information for specific offices and other public information are available on the CPSC's website.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/About-CPSC/Contact-Information/Contact-Specific-Offices-and-Public-Information>

Data

The CPSC makes its data, deliberations, and decisions accessible to consumers, developers, and stakeholders.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/Data>

Fire Safety

Several generations living in a home increases the need for fire safe practices. To learn more, download the multigenerational fire safety toolkit from the "Neighborhood Safety Network Toolkit" web page.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/safety-education/neighborhood-safety-network/toolkits/fire-safety>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The Electronic Freedom of Information Act Amendments of 1996 require Federal agencies to use electronic information technology to foster access to and availability of FOIA documents.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/Newsroom/FOIA> | Email: cpsc-foia@cpsc.gov

The CPSC informs the public by using various means: local and national media coverage, publication of booklets and product alerts, responses to FOIA requests, and the National Injury Information Clearinghouse. The agency also maintains its public information center, website, and telephone hotline for the same purpose.

<http://www.cpsc.gov/newsroom/foia/guide-to-public-information>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The CPSC posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/About-CPSC/Contact-Information>

Hotline

The Commission operates a toll-free consumer product safety hotline in English and Spanish, on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Phone, 800-638-2772. TTY, 301-595-7054.

Injury Statistics

The CPSC posts injury statistics and technical reports by product category and by hazard category on its website.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/Research--Statistics>

Language Assistance

Read Spanish more easily than English? Visit the en Español version of the CPSC website.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/es/SeguridadConsumidor>

Read Vietnamese more easily than English? Visit the Tiếng Việt web pages of the CPSC website.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/vi-VN/business-and-manufacturing-landing>

Newsroom

The online newsroom features CPSC data, Freedom of Information Act documents, press statements, recent news releases, videos, and a public calendar.

<http://www.cpsc.gov/en/Newsroom>

Open Government

The CPSC supports the Open Government initiative by promoting collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/About-CPSC/Agency-Reports/open> | Email: feedback@cpsc.gov

Recalls

Six Federal agencies with different jurisdictions are collaborating to make the American people more aware of defective, hazardous, and unsafe products.

<http://www.recalls.gov>

Safety Publications

Safety guides, safety alerts, and Neighborhood Safety Network posters are available online to download.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/Safety-Education/Safety-Guides/General-Information/Publications-Listing>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The CPSC has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/USCPSC>

The CPSC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USCPSC>

The CPSC posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/uscpsc>

Swimming Pools / Spas

Pool and spas safety information is available online.

<http://www.poolsafely.gov>

Toolkits

The Neighborhood Safety Network has toolkits for all-terrain vehicle (ATV) safety, carbon monoxide (CO) awareness, child safety, multigenerational fire safety, and older adults, who are the fastest growing segment of the U.S. population.

<https://www.cpsc.gov/Safety-Education/Neighborhood-Safety-Network/Neighborhood-Safety-Network-Toolkits>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Corporation for National and Community Service

The United States Government Manual

CORPORATION FOR NATIONAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICE

250 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20525

202-606-5000

<http://www.nationalservice.gov>

CHAIR

Shamina Singh

Vice Chair

Dean A. Reuter

|   |                          |
|---|--------------------------|
| Director, AmeriCorps State and National     | William C. Basl          |
| Director, AmeriCorps VISTA                  | Max Finberg              |
| Director, Government Relations              | Kimberly L. Allman       |
| Director, Office of Field Liaison           | Mikel Herrington         |
| Director, Office of Research and Evaluation | Mary Hyde                |
| Director, Senior Corps                      | Mikel Herrington, Acting |
| Director, Social Innovation Fund            | Damian Thorman           |
| General Counsel                             | Jeremy Joseph            |
| Inspector General                           | Deborah J. Jeffrey       |

The Corporation for National and Community Service improves lives, strengthens communities, and fosters civic engagement through service and volunteering.

Organizational Chart

The Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) was established on October 1, 1993, by the National and Community Service Trust Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 12651 et seq.). The CNCS is a Federal corporation governed by a bipartisan board of directors whom the President appoints with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Board sets policies and direction for the Corporation and is responsible for all actions taken by the Chief Executive Officer with respect to standards, policies, procedures, programs, and initiatives as necessary to carry out the CNCS's mission.

As the Nation's largest grantmaker for service and volunteering, the CNCS engages millions of Americans in service through its core programs—AmeriCorps, Senior Corps, the Social Innovation Fund, and the Volunteer Generation Fund—and leads President Obama's nationwide service initiative, United We Serve. The CNCS harnesses America's most powerful resource: the energy and talents of its citizens. From grade school through retirement, the CNCS empowers Americans and fosters a lifetime of service to improve lives, strengthen communities, and foster civic engagement.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/about>

AmeriCorps

AmeriCorps provides opportunities for more than 75,000 Americans each year to serve their communities. AmeriCorps members recruit, train, and supervise community volunteers; tutor and mentor youth; build affordable housing; teach computer skills; clean parks and streams; run afterschool programs; help nonprofit groups become self-sustaining; and assist communities responding to disasters. In exchange for a year of full-time service, AmeriCorps members earn an education award that can be used for college or graduate school tuition or for repaying qualified student loans. Since 1994 nearly 1 million Americans have served in AmeriCorps, which includes AmeriCorps State and National, AmeriCorps NCCC, and AmeriCorps VISTA.

AmeriCorps State and National supports a wide range of local service programs that engage thousands of Americans in community service each year, providing grants to a network of local and national organizations and agencies committed to using national service to address critical community needs in education, public safety, health, and the environment. Each of these organizations and agencies, in turn, uses its AmeriCorps funding to recruit, place, and supervise AmeriCorps members nationwide.

AmeriCorps State and National operates through national and local nonprofit organizations, public agencies, and faith-based and community groups. More than three-quarters of AmeriCorps grant funding goes to Governor-appointed State service commissions, which in turn award grants to nonprofit groups to respond to local needs. AmeriCorps NCCC (National Civilian Community Corps) is a team-based, residential program for men and women from age 18 to 24 that combines the best practices of civilian service, including leadership and team building. AmeriCorps VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) members serve full-time for 1 year in nonprofit and faith-based organizations and public agencies to fight poverty, improve health services, increase housing opportunities, and bridge the digital divide.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/programs/ameri-corps>

Senior Corps

Senior Corps taps the skills, talents, and experience of more than 270,000 Americans age 55 and older to meet a wide range of community challenges through three programs: Retired and Senior Volunteers Program (RSVP), Foster Grandparents, and Senior Companions. RSVP volunteers help local police departments conduct safety patrols, participate in environmental projects, provide educational services to children and adults, respond to natural disasters, and recruit other volunteers. Foster Grandparents serve as tutors and mentors to young people with special needs. Senior Companions help homebound seniors and other adults maintain independence in their own homes. Senior Corps volunteers have served 1.5 million Americans, including 560,000 veterans and 300,000 children.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/programs/senior-corps>

Social Innovation Fund

The Social Innovation Fund is an approach to transforming lives and communities that allows the Federal Government to serve as a catalyst for promoting community solutions with evidence of strong results. A key White House initiative and CNCS program, the Fund identifies solutions that work and makes them work for more people. It combines public and private resources to foster innovative community-based solutions that have produced results in low-income communities in three priority areas: economic opportunity, health, and youth development.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/programs/social-innovation-fund> | Email: innovation@cns.gov

Other Initiatives

As the Federal agency for service and volunteerism, the CNCS carries out the Call to Service authority in multiple ways. CNCS initiatives include the Martin Luther King, Jr., National Day of Service; September 11th National Day of Service and Remembrance; President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll; National Mentoring Month; and United We Serve, a nationwide effort launched with the White House in 2009 to engage Americans in service to meet community needs. As a result of United We Serve, hundreds of thousands of Americans have joined with friends and neighbors to replenish food banks, provide health services, support veterans and military families, restore public lands, and more. The CNCS has also partnered with other agencies and nonprofit organizations on Let's Read! to reduce summer reading loss and Let's Move! to combat childhood obesity. Other initiatives include the Task Force on Expanding National Service, Mayors Day of Recognition, County Day of Recognition, and Joining Forces, an effort led by First Lady Michelle Obama and Dr. Jill Biden to engage Americans in supporting veterans and military families.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Blog

The National Service blog features posts of interest to students, recent graduates, retirees, senior citizens, veterans, and others. The range of discussion is expansive—conservation, disaster recovery, nonprofit sector career pathways, voluntarism, and more.

<http://nationalservice.tumblr.com>

Data

The CNCS posts datasets and other information online to support the principles of open government.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/about/open-government-initiative/transparency/data-sources>

Its Open Government Gallery is a demonstration of the CNCS's commitment to collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/about/open-government-initiative/open-government-gallery>

Employment

Most CNCS career opportunities are volunteer AmeriCorps and Senior Corps positions. The agency hires full-time employees at its Washington, DC, headquarters and at CNCS offices located across the country.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/about/careers> | Email: jobs@cns.gov

<https://www.usajobs.gov/JobSearch/Search/GetResults?OrganizationID=KS00>

Grants

To find discretionary funding opportunities that Federal agencies have posted, visit the "Funding Opportunities" Web page.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/build-your-capacity/grants/funding-opportunities>

Newsroom

The newsroom features media advisories, official statements, press releases, and proclamations.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/newsroom#menu-newsroom-dropdown-area>

Online Courses

Self-paced instructional courses that subject matter experts created on topics aligning with CNCS strategic initiatives are available online.

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/resources/online-courses>

Site Map

The Web site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.nationalservice.gov/sitemap>

<http://www.nationalservice.gov/about/contact-us>

For further information, contact the Corporation for National and Community Service, 250 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20525. Phone, 202-606-5000.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board

The United States Government Manual

DEFENSE NUCLEAR FACILITIES SAFETY BOARD

625 Indiana Avenue NW., Suite 700, Washington, DC 20004

202-694-7000

202-208-6518

<http://www.dnfsb.gov>

CHAIR

Sean P. Sullivan

Vice Chair

Bruce Hamilton

|                           |                    |
|---------------------------|--------------------|
| Member                    | Joyce I. Connery   |
| Member                    | Jessie H. Roberson |
| Member                    | Sean P. Sullivan   |
|                           |                    |
|                           |                    |
| General Counsel           | James P. Biggins   |
| General Manager           | Glenn Sklar        |
|                           |                    |
|                           |                    |
| Technical Director        | Steven Stokes      |
|                           |                    |
|                           |                    |
| Deputy General Counsel    | (vacancy)          |
| Deputy General Manager    | (vacancy)          |
|                           |                    |
| Deputy Technical Director | Adam Poloski       |

The above list of key personnel was updated 07–2017.

---

The Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board identifies the nature and consequences of public health and safety threats at the Department of Energy's defense nuclear facilities, elevates awareness of and information on such threats to the highest levels of governmental authority, and keeps the public informed.

Organizational Chart

The Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board was established as an independent agency on September 29, 1988, by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (42 U.S.C. 2286 et seq.).

The Board comprises five members whom the President appoints with the advice and consent of the Senate. Appointees to the Board must be U.S. citizens and experts in the field of nuclear safety.

<http://www.dnfsb.gov/about/who-we-are>

ACTIVITIES

---

The Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board reviews and evaluates the content and implementation of standards for the design, construction, operation, and decommissioning of the Department of Energy's defense nuclear facilities; investigates any incident or practice at these facilities that may adversely affect public health and safety; and reviews and monitors their design, construction, and operation. The Board makes recommendations to the Secretary of Energy to ensure adequate protection of public health and safety. When the Board determines that any aspect of operations, practices, or occurrences at these Department of Energy defense nuclear facilities presents an imminent or severe threat to public health and safety, the Board transmits its recommendations directly to the President.

<http://www.dnfsb.gov/about/what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

Information on career opportunities is available online.

<http://www.dnfsb.gov/careers/opportunities> | Email: jobs@dnfsb.gov

<http://www.dnfsb.gov/careers/employee-survey-results>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

An information seeker may submit a FOIA request by email, mail, or telephone for records held or believed to be held by the Board. To make a request by mail, write to the Information / FOIA Officer, Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board, 625 Indiana Avenue NW., Suite 700, Washington, DC 20004. Phone, 202-694-7000.

<http://www.dnfsb.gov/foia-reading-room> | Email: foia@dnfsb.gov

Open Government

The Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board supports the Open Government initiative to strengthen the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<http://www.dnfsb.gov/open>

Safety Management

The Victor Stello, Jr., Award was established by the Board to recognize Department of Energy employees for exemplary leadership in promoting safety management in the Department's defense nuclear complex.

<http://www.dnfsb.gov/about/what-we-do/victor-stello-jr-award-safety-leadership>

Site Representative Offices

Site representatives produce a weekly report summarizing the pertinent activities and events that occurred during that week at their site. Five Defense Nuclear Facilities locations—Hanford, Los Alamos National Laboratory, Pantex, Savannah River Site, and Y-12 National Security Complex / Oak Ridge National Laboratory—have at least one site representative currently assigned to them.

<http://www.dnfsb.gov/about/where-we-work/our-site-representative-offices>

<http://www.dnfsb.gov/website-tools/contact>

For further information, contact the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board, 625 Indiana Avenue NW., Suite 700, Washington, DC 20004. Phone, 202-694-7000.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Environmental Protection Agency

The United States Government Manual

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

1200 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20460

202-272-0167

<http://www.epa.gov>

Office of the Administrator

---

|               |                  |
|---------------|------------------|
| ADMINISTRATOR | Michael S. Regan |
|---------------|------------------|

|                      |                 |
|----------------------|-----------------|
| Deputy Administrator | Janet G. McCabe |
|----------------------|-----------------|

|                |              |
|----------------|--------------|
| Chief of Staff | Daniel Utech |
|----------------|--------------|

|  |            |
|--|------------|
| Special Assistant to the Administrator | John Lucey |
|--|------------|

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-administrator>

*

|                        |                        |
|------------------------|------------------------|
| Agency Science Advisor | Jennifer Orme-Zavaleta |
|------------------------|------------------------|

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-research-and-development-ord>

|                         |                        |
|-------------------------|------------------------|
| Chief Financial Officer | David A. Bloom, Acting |
|-------------------------|------------------------|

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-chief-financial-officer-ocfo>

|                 |                        |
|-----------------|------------------------|
| General Counsel | Melissa Hoffer, Acting |
|-----------------|------------------------|

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-general-counsel-ogc>

Assistant Administrators

|                   |                        |
|-------------------|------------------------|
| Air and Radiation | Joseph Goffman, Acting |
|-------------------|------------------------|

|  |                     |
|--|---------------------|
| Chemical Safety and Pollution Prevention | Michal I. Freedhoff |
|--|---------------------|

|                                      |                            |
|--------------------------------------|----------------------------|
| Enforcement and Compliance Assurance | Lawrence Starfield, Acting |
|--------------------------------------|----------------------------|

|                                  |                     |
|----------------------------------|---------------------|
| International and Tribal Affairs | Mark Kasman, Acting |
|----------------------------------|---------------------|

|                               |                     |
|-------------------------------|---------------------|
| Land and Emergency Management | Barry Breen, Acting |
|-------------------------------|---------------------|

|                 |                         |
|-----------------|-------------------------|
| Mission Support | Donna J. Vizian, Acting |
|-----------------|-------------------------|

|                          |                                   |
|--------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Research and Development | Jennifer Orme-Zavaleta,Acting |
|--------------------------|-----------------------------------|

|       |             |
|-------|-------------|
| Water | Radhika Fox |
|-------|-------------|

Regional Administrators

---

|   |                           |
|---|---------------------------|
| Region 1—Boston (CT, ME, MA, NH, RI, VT, and Tribal Nations)  | Deborah Szaro, Acting     |
| Region 2—New York (NJ, NY, and Tribal Nations, as well as Puerto Rico, U.S. Virgin Islands)   | Walter Mugdan, Acting     |
| Region 3—Philadelphia (DE, MD, PA, VA, WV, and Tribal Nations, as well as DC)   | Diana Esher, Acting       |
| Region 4—Atlanta (AL, FL, GA, KY, MS, NC, SC, TN, and Tribal Nations)   | (vacancy)                 |
| Region 5—Chicago (IL, IN, MI, MN, OH, WI, and Tribal Nations)   | Cheryl Newton, Acting     |
| Region 6—Dallas (AR, LA, NM, OK, TX, and Tribal Nations)  | David W. Gray, Acting     |
| Region 7—Kansas City (IA, KS, MO, NE, and Tribal Nations)   | Edward H. Chu, Acting     |
| Region 8—Denver (CO, MT, ND, SD, UT, WY, and Tribal Nations)  | Debra H. Thomas, Acting   |
| Region 9—San Francisco (AZ, CA, HI, NV, and Tribal Nations, as well as American Samoa, Federated States of Micronesia, Guam, Marshall Islands, Northern Mariana Islands, Republic of Palau) | Deborah Jordan, Acting    |
| Region 10—Seattle (AK, ID, OR, WA, and Tribal Nations)  | Michelle Pirzadeh, Acting |

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/epa-organization-chart>

*

---

|                   |                   |
|-------------------|-------------------|
| Inspector General | Sean W. O'Donnell |
|-------------------|-------------------|

https://www.epa.gov/office-inspector-general/about-epas-office-inspector-general#IG\_bio

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2021.

The Environmental Protection Agency protects human health and safeguards the environment.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On July 9, 1970, Richard M. Nixon signed Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1970, which became effective on December 2d of that same year and established the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) as an independent agency in the executive branch.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5a-node84-leaf178&num=0&edition=prelim>

President Nixon also sent his "Message to the Congress Transmitting Reorganization Plan 3 of 1970: Environmental Protection Agency" to accompany the plan. The message was published on page 587 of the "Public Papers of the Presidents of the United States" (1970).

https://www.govinfo.gov/app/collection/ppp/president-37\_Nixon,%20Richard%20M./1970/01%21A%21January%201%20to%20December%2031%2C%201970

The reorganization plan was published in the Federal Register on October 6, 1970 (35 FR 15623–15626).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1970-10-06/pdf/FR-1970-10-06.pdf>

The Administrator serves as head of the EPA. The President appoints the Administrator by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The Administrator is responsible to the President for providing overall supervision to the EPA. The Deputy Administrator, whom the President also appoints by the advice and with the consent of the Senate, assists the Administrator and serves as the Acting Administrator in the absence of the Administrator.

The EPA's statement of organization and general information on the agency has been assigned to first part of 40 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=0bdc970c644f5ea3d05ff15f7f3c8500&mc=true&node=pt40.1.1&rgn=div5>

The EPA website includes an "EPA Organizational Chart" web page.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/epa-organization-chart>

REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Statutory material on "The Public Health and Welfare" has been assigned to 42 U.S.C. For example, that title contains chapters on "National Environmental Policy" (Ch. 55) and "Environmental Quality Improvement" (Ch. 56), as well as a subchapter on the "Safety of Public Water Systems" (Ch. 6A).

<https://uscode.house.gov/browse/prelim@title42&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations affecting the protection of the environment have been assigned to 40 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=73131f98295736a6ba65a9e05ee063f4&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title40/40tab\_02.tpl

Parts 1–49 of 40 CFR contains rules and regulations that are associated with the EPA.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=73131f98295736a6ba65a9e05ee063f4&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title40/40cfrv1\_02.tpl#0

ACTIVITIES

---

The EPA facilitates coordinated and effective governmental action to protect the environment. It also serves as the public's advocate for a livable environment.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/our-mission-and-what-we-do>

Air / Radiation

The Office of Air and Radiation develops national programs, policies, and regulations to control air pollution and radiation exposure. The Office administers the Clean Air Act, the Atomic Energy Act, the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act, and other environmental laws. The Office's core concerns include acid rain, climate change, energy efficiency, indoor and outdoor air quality, industrial air pollution, pollution from engines and vehicles, pollution prevention, radiation protection, radon, and stratospheric ozone depletion.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-air-and-radiation-oar>

Phone, 202-564-7400.

Chemical Safety / Pollution Prevention

The Office of Chemical Safety and Pollution Prevention protects people and the environment from potential risks that are associated with pesticides and toxic chemicals. The Office administers the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act; Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act; Toxic Substances Control Act; Pollution Prevention Act; and portions of other statutes. Through innovative partnerships and collaboration, the Office also works to prevent pollution. Stopping pollution before it is created reduces waste, saves energy and natural resources, and keeps homes, schools, and workplaces cleaner and safer.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-chemical-safety-and-pollution-prevention-ocspp>

Phone, 202-564-2902.

Enforcement / Compliance Assurance

The Office of Enforcement and Compliance Assurance addresses pollution problems that affects American communities through vigorous civil and criminal enforcement. Its enforcement activities target the most serious water, air and chemical hazards. The Office works with EPA regional offices; it partners with State and Tribal governments; and it cooperates with other Federal agencies to enforce the Nation's environmental laws. These laws include the Clean Air Act; Clean Water Act; Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act; Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act; Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act; Marine Protection, Research and Sanctuaries Act; National Environmental Policy Act; Oil Pollution Act; Resource Conservation and Recovery Act; Safe Drinking Water Act; and Toxic Substances Control Act. With States and Tribal partners, the Office shares a commitment to a clean and healthy environment. By improving transparency, adopting advanced technologies, and increasing community participation, the Office seeks to further empower the public to play a key role in assuring compliance with environmental laws nationwide and to make the playing field more level for entities and organizations that abide by those laws.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-enforcement-and-compliance-assurance-oeca>

Phone, 202-564-2440.

International Affairs / Tribal Affairs

The Office of International and Tribal Affairs leads the EPA's international and Tribal engagements. Agencywide and nationwide in scope, the Office's activities cut across EPA programs and regions as it develops and implements policy and programs that protect public health and the environment. Pollution does not respect international borders; therefore, the Office collaborates with other Federal agencies, international organizations, and individual countries to address bilateral, regional, and global environmental challenges and to advance the Nation's foreign policy objectives. The Office honors the government-to-government Federal–Tribal relationship and respects Tribal treaty rights as it guides the agencywide effort to strengthen public health and environmental protection in Indian country. Special efforts are made to enable federally recognized Tribes administer their own environmental programs.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-international-and-tribal-affairs-oita>

Phone, 202-564-6400.

Mission Support

The Office of Mission Support leads the core mission support functions of the EPA to improve efficiency, coordination, and customer experience for internal customers, stakeholders, and the general public.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-mission-support>

Phone, 202-564-4600.

Research / Development

The Office of Research and Development conducts the research that provides the foundation for EPA decision-making to safeguard human health and ecosystems from environmental pollutants. With input from other EPA offices, external partners, and stakeholders, the Office's six research programs identify the most pressing environmental health research needs. Its "Strategic Research Action Plans," which are updated every few years, outline the current activities of the research programs. The Office also serve as the Agency's national program manager for regional laboratories.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-research-and-development-ord#what>

Phone, 202-564-6620.

Waste Programs / Emergency Response

The Office of Land and Emergency Management makes policy, guides, and directs the EPA's emergency response and waste programs. More specifically, the Office develops guidelines for the land disposal of hazardous waste and underground storage tanks; provides technical assistance to all levels of government for establishing safe waste management practices; supports State and local governments in redeveloping and reusing potentially contaminated sites; responds to abandoned and active hazardous waste sites, as well as to accidental chemical releases; and encourages innovative technologies to address contaminated soil and groundwater.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-land-and-emergency-management>

Phone, 202-566-0200.

Water Quality

The Office of Water ensures that drinking water is safe. It also protects human health; supports economic and recreational activities; and provides healthy habitat for fish, plants, and wildlife, by restoring and maintaining oceans, watersheds, and aquatic ecosystems. The Office administers the Clean Water Act; Safe Drinking Water Act; and portions of the Coastal Zone Act Reauthorization Amendments of 1990; Resource Conservation and Recovery Act; Ocean Dumping Ban Act; Marine Protection, Research and Sanctuaries Act; Shore Protection Act; Marine Plastics Pollution Research and Control Act; London Dumping Convention; the International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships, and several other statutes. The Office works with the 10 EPA regional offices, other Federal agencies, State and local governments, American Indian Tribes, the regulated community, organized professional and interest groups, landowners and managers, and the public-at-large. The Office provides guidance, specifies scientific methods and data collection requirements, performs oversight, and facilitates communication among participants in its work. It also helps States and American Indian Tribes build capacity, and, in some cases, water programs can be delegated to them for implementation.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/about-office-water>

Phone, 202-564-5700.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The EPA website has an alphabetical topic index on its "Web Topics Published" web page.

<https://www.epa.gov/topics-epa-web>

Air Quality Forecasts

The EPA's Office of Air Quality Planning and Standards manages the "AirNow" website, which allows visitors to get air quality data for cities, States, and Zip Codes.

<https://www.airnow.gov>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that EPA records have been assigned to record group 412.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/412.html>

Blogs / Discussion Forums

In addition to its official blog, the EPA has several other blogs. These blogs deal with a range of EPA-related and environmental topics. Two discussion forums center on the topics of data and data sources.

<https://www.epa.gov/web-policies-and-procedures/list-social-media-platforms-epa-uses#blogs>

Business Opportunities

Acquisition management information, the procurement status of projects across the Agency's procurement divisions, and an acquisition forecast database of future EPA procurement opportunities are available on the EPA website. Contact the Office of Acquisition Management for more information. Phone, 202-564-4310.

<https://www.epa.gov/contracts>

Career Opportunities

The EPA relies on professionals from diverse backgrounds and with a wide range of skill sets to carry out its mission. The Agency posts current job openings on its website. For more information, contact the Office of Human Resources. Phone, 202-564-4606.

<http://www.epa.gov/careers> | Email: recruit\_inquiries@epa.gov

In 2020, the EPA ranked 20th among 25 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=EP00>

Climate Change Effects

Climate change continues to affect water resources. The "Regional Actions To Address Climate Change Impacts on Water" web page provides links for information on regional actions that are being taken to address this growing problem.

<https://www.epa.gov/climate-change-water-sector/regional-actions-address-climate-change-impacts-water>

Contact Information

Information for accessing libraries; commenting on regulations; connecting on social media; finding mailing addresses; locating an employee, lab, or office; reporting a problem; submitting a Freedom of Information Act request; and subscribing to alerts, blogs, newsletters, and news releases, is available on the "Contact EPA" web page.

<https://www.epa.gov/home/forms/contact-epa>

The EPA maintains a "Mailing Addresses and Phone Numbers" web page.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/mailing-addresses-and-phone-numbers>

The EPA maintains a "Media Contacts" web page for reporters.

<https://www.epa.gov/newsroom/media-contacts>

Education

Educators and students can access homework resources, lesson plans, and project ideas on the EPA's website. Environmental education incorporates a multidisciplinary approach to learning, builds critical thinking skills, and helps students make informed and responsible decisions that sustain Earth's ecosystems.

<https://www.epa.gov/students>

Energy Efficient Products

The Office of Atmospheric Programs certifies products that help consumers save energy and money through Energy Star.

<https://www.energystar.gov>

Environmental Justice

The website provides access to the EPA's Environmental Justice Screening and Mapping Tool (EJSCREEN) that is based on nationally consistent data and an approach that combines environmental and demographic indicators in maps and reports. The EPA developed its EJSCREEN Tool to help the Agency become a more effective protector of public health and the environment.

<https://www.epa.gov/ejscreen>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the EPA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/environmental-protection-agency>

Fire Tools

The EPA's Office of Air Quality Planning and Standards manages the "AirNow" website, which maintains a fire tools web page.

<https://www.airnow.gov/more-fire-tools>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute.

<https://www.epa.gov/foia> | Email: hq.foia@epa.gov

The FOIA libraries contain frequently requested information. Before making a FOIA request, search the online FOIA libraries to see if the desired information is immediately available at no cost.

<https://www.epa.gov/foia/foia-online-libraries>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Some EPA offices and programs have their own FAQs web pages. The EPA maintains a list of the most often viewed questions, which are drawn from those web pages of FAQs.

https://usepa.servicenowservices.com/ecss?id=ecss\_kb\_home

The EPA maintains a database of FAQs and its answers to them.

https://usepa.servicenowservices.com/ecss?id=kb\_search&kb\_knowledge\_base=98a9e8ce1b4858104614ddb6bc4bcb03&spa=1

Glossaries

The "Report on the Environment" glossary defines terms that are used in the report or have particular meaning within the EPA.

<https://www.epa.gov/report-environment/roe-glossary>

An Environmental Justice Screening and Mapping Tool (EJSCREEN) glossary is available on the EPA's website.

<https://www.epa.gov/ejscreen/glossary-ejscreen-terms>

The EPA's Terminology Services maintains a "Terms and Acronyms" web page. A search tool is available on the page.

https://sor.epa.gov/sor\_internet/registry/termreg/searchandretrieve/termsandacronyms/search.do

The EPA's Terminology Services maintains a "Vocabulary Catalog" web page. A vocabulary search tool is available on the page.

https://sor.epa.gov/sor\_internet/registry/termreg/searchandretrieve/glossariesandkeywordlists/search.do

Grants

Information to apply for, manage, and understand EPA grants is available online. Contact the Office of Grants and Debarment for more information. Phone, 202-564-5315.

<https://www.epa.gov/grants>

Greenhouse Gas Emissions

The EPA's Office of Atmospheric Programs has released its "DRAFT Inventory of U.S. Greenhouse Gas Emissions and Sinks, 1990–2019" in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading. The final version will be published in April of 2021.

<https://www.epa.gov/ghgemissions/draft-inventory-us-greenhouse-gas-emissions-and-sinks-1990-2019>

Hotlines / Service Lines

Hotline and service line information for specific topics is available on the EPA website.

<https://www.epa.gov/home/epa-hotlines>

Information on region-specific customer service lines is also available.

<https://www.epa.gov/home/epa-hotlines#RegionSpecificCustomerServiceLines>

Laws / Executive Orders

As a regulatory agency, the EPA has received authorization from the U.S. Congress to write regulations that explain environmental laws for proper implementation. A number of Presidential Executive Orders also affect EPA regulatory activities.

<https://www.epa.gov/laws-regulations/laws-and-executive-orders>

Newsroom

The EPA posts news releases online.

<https://www.epa.gov/newsroom>

Non-English Readers

The EPA provides information on its website in Chinese, Korean, Spanish, and Vietnamese. Language tags are visible at the bottom of the EPA's home page.

<https://www.epa.gov>

Open Government

The EPA supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.epa.gov/open>

Plain Language

The EPA upholds the Plain Writing Act of 2010 by adhering to Federal plain language guidelines. EPA writers and editors want to know if a document or web page contains content that was not written clearly.

<https://www.epa.gov/home/plain-writing>

Protecting Pollinators

The "Protecting Bees and Other Pollinators from Pesticides" web page provides information on helping pollinators stay healthy. In addition to the EPA, advocates, consumers, growers, pesticide manufacturers, and governments have roles to play in protecting pollinators like honeybees and monarch butterflies.

<https://www.epa.gov/pollinator-protection>

Regional Offices

Ten regional offices help develop local programs for pollution abatement.

<https://www.epa.gov/aboutepa/visiting-regional-office>

Regulatory Information

EPA regulations address a host of environmental issues that range from acid rain to wetlands ecosystems. The "Regulatory Information By Topic" web page provides convenient access to laws and regulations, to compliance and enforcement information, and to policies and guidance, that are associated with or relevant to the topics listed on it.

<https://www.epa.gov/regulatory-information-topic>

Social Media

The EPA has Facebook, Flickr, Instagram, Twitter, and YouTube accounts. Links to these accounts may be found on the "List of Social Media Platforms that EPA Uses" web page.

<https://www.epa.gov/web-policies-and-procedures/list-social-media-platforms-epa-uses>

Staff Directory

The EPA maintains an online staff directory.

<https://cfpub.epa.gov/locator/index.cfm>

Superfund Sites

The EPA's Superfund program cleans up some of the Nation's most contaminated land and responds to environmental emergencies, oil spills, and natural disasters. The program's website has a search tool for locating Superfund sites.

<https://www.epa.gov/superfund/search-superfund-sites-where-you-live>

Trash-Free Waters

Most of the trash that pollutes estuaries, lakes, rivers, and oceans washes into them from land-based sources. Plastic trash, in particular, damages aquatic ecosystems, economic activity, and human health.

<https://www.epa.gov/trash-free-waters>

Website Snapshots

Snapshots of the EPA website are available for January 19, 2017, and January 19, 2021. The snapshots capture the content of www.epa.gov at a specific point in time. A new snapshot is made every 4 years, the day before the Presidential Inauguration, and added to the "www.epa.gov Snapshots" web page.

<https://www.epa.gov/home/wwwepagov-snapshots>

The Sources of Information were updated 7-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Equal Employment Opportunity Commission

The United States Government Manual

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY COMMISSION

131 M Street NE., Washington, DC 20507

202-663-4900

TTY, 202-663-4444

<http://www.eeoc.gov>

The Commission

---

|       |                  |
|-------|------------------|
| CHAIR | Janet L. Dhillon |
|-------|------------------|

|            |                     |
|------------|---------------------|
| Vice Chair | Keith E. Sonderling |
|------------|---------------------|

|               |                      |
|---------------|----------------------|
| COMMISSIONERS | Charlotte A. Burrows |
|---------------|----------------------|

|  |                 |
|--|-----------------|
|  | Andrea R. Lucas |
|--|-----------------|

|  |                    |
|--|--------------------|
|  | Jocelyn F. Samuels |
|--|--------------------|

<https://www.eeoc.gov/Commission>

|                   |                      |
|-------------------|----------------------|
| EXECUTIVE OFFICER | Bernadette B. Wilson |
|-------------------|----------------------|

|                |  |
|----------------|--|
| CHIEF OFFICERS |  |
|----------------|--|

|      |              |
|------|--------------|
| Data | Chris Haffer |
|------|--------------|

|           |            |
|-----------|------------|
| Financial | Grace Zhao |
|-----------|------------|

|               |                     |
|---------------|---------------------|
| Human Capital | Kevin L. Richardson |
|---------------|---------------------|

|             |               |
|-------------|---------------|
| Information | Bryan Burnett |
|-------------|---------------|

|           |           |
|-----------|-----------|
| Operating | (vacancy) |
|-----------|-----------|

|           |  |
|-----------|--|
| DIRECTORS |  |
|-----------|--|

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
| Communications and Legislative Affairs | (vacancy) |
|--|-----------|

|                   |                      |
|-------------------|----------------------|
| Equal Opportunity | Stan Pietrusiak, Jr. |
|-------------------|----------------------|

|                    |                   |
|--------------------|-------------------|
| Federal Operations | Carlton M. Hadden |
|--------------------|-------------------|

|                |                |
|----------------|----------------|
| Field Programs | Martin S. Ebel |
|----------------|----------------|

|               |              |
|---------------|--------------|
| Legal Counsel | Andrew Maunz |
|---------------|--------------|

|                 |                     |
|-----------------|---------------------|
| General Counsel | Sharon F. Gustafson |
|-----------------|---------------------|

|                   |                     |
|-------------------|---------------------|
| Inspector General | Milton A. Mayo, Jr. |
|-------------------|---------------------|

<https://oig.eeoc.gov/about-us>

The above list of key personnel was updated 12–2020.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission enforces laws that prohibit employment discrimination based on age, color, disability, gender, genetic information, national origin, race, or religion.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On July 2, 1964, President Lyndon B. Johnson approved Public Law 88–352, which is commonly cited as the Civil Rights Act of 1964" (78 Stat. 241). Title VII of this Act "created a Commission to be known as the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission" (78 Stat. 258). The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), in accordance with the effective date of Title VII, became operational on July 2, 1965 (78 Stat. 266).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-78/pdf/STATUTE-78-Pg241.pdf>

The EEOC is a bipartisan commission comprising five members, whom the President appoints, by the advice and with the consent of the Senate, to staggered 5-year terms. The President also designates one member to serve as Chair of the Commission and another member to service as its Vice Chair (78 Stat. 258).

Public Law 92–261, which is also cited as the Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972, provides for the appointment of "a General Counsel of the Commission." The President appoints this General Counsel, by the advice and with the consent of the Senate, to support the Commission and provide direction, coordination, and supervision of the agency's litigation program. The General Counsel serves for a term of 4 years (86 Stat. 110).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-86/pdf/STATUTE-86-Pg103.pdf>

The EEOC included an organizational chart in its "Fiscal Year 2019 Agency Financial Report" in the section "Management's Discussion and Analysis."

https://www.eeoc.gov/fiscal-year-2019-agency-financial-report-us-equal-employment-opportunity-commission#h\_1901273297971575392264997

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Codified statutory material on civil rights has been assigned to chapter 21 of 42 U.S.C. The chapter runs from section 1981 through 2000h-6.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title42/chapter21&edition=prelim>

"Subchapter VI—Equal Employment Opportunities" runs from section 2000e through 2000e–17. Codified statutory material on the EEOC has been assigned to section 2000e–4 of 42 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title42/chapter21/subchapter6&edition=prelim>

Codified regulatory material that is associated with the EEOC has been assigned to chapter xiv of 29 CFR. The chapter on the EEOC runs from part 1600 through 1899. Title 29 contains rules and regulations that address labor-related issues.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=de3741e211c566331cb331784bb63c67&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title29/29chapterXIV.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

Laws that the EEOC enforces include the Equal Pay Act of 1963 (PL 88–38 / 29 U.S.C. 206); Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (PL 88–352 / 42 U.S.C. 2000e et seq.); the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 (PL 90–202 / 29 U.S.C. 621 et seq.); sections of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (PL 93–112 / 29 U.S.C. 791 et seq.); Title I of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (PL 101–336 / 42 U.S.C. 12101 et seq.); sections of the Civil Rights Act of 1991 (PL 102–166 / 29 U.S.C. 1219); and Title II of the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (PL 110–233 / 42 U.S.C. 2000ff et seq.).

Complaints Against the Federal Government

The EEOC establishes the procedures for Federal employees and job applicants to file complaints of employment discrimination or retaliation. The agency charged with discrimination is responsible for informal counseling and, if a complaint is filed and accepted, for investigating the claims raised therein. At the conclusion of the investigation, a complainant may request a hearing before an EEOC administrative judge or that the agency issue a final decision on the matter. The agency's final decision or final action after a hearing may be appealed to the Commission.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/federal-sector/overview-federal-sector-eeo-complaint-process>

The Office of Federal Operations provides oversight of and technical assistance for equal employment opportunity complaint adjudication and Governmentwide maintenance of affirmative employment programs. Using the guidance and principles contained in its Equal Employment Opportunity Management Directive 715, the Commission monitors and evaluates Federal agencies' affirmative employment programs under Title VII and section 501 of the Rehabilitation Act and ensures that all Federal employees compete on a playing field that is fair and level.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/federal-sector/management-directive/section-717-title-vii#>

Enforcement

The EEOC carries out its statutory, regulatory, policy, and program enforcement responsibilities through its headquarters-based Office of General Counsel, Office of Field Programs, and 53 field offices. The field offices receive charges of discrimination from the public and use a variety of resolution methods, including voluntary mediation and full-scale investigation and conciliation. The field staff seeks to achieve a wide range of objectives that center on the quality, timeliness, and appropriateness of individual, class, and systemic charges; secures relief for victims of discrimination in accordance with EEOC policies; counsels individuals about their rights under the laws that the EEOC enforces; and conducts outreach and technical assistance programs. The EEOC's Office of General Counsel litigates in U.S. District Courts and Courts of Appeal.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/laws-guidance-0>

Outreach

The Commission promotes voluntary compliance with equal employment opportunity statutes through a variety of educational and technical assistance activities. Its outreach and education programs provide general information on the EEOC, its mission, rights and responsibilities under the statutes that are enforced by the Commission, and the charge (i.e., complaint) process. EEOC representatives are available, on a limited basis and at no cost, to make presentations and to participate in meetings, conferences, and seminars with employee and employer groups, professional associations, students, nonprofit entities, community organizations, and other members of the general public.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/outreach-education-technical-assistance>

For a fee, the EEOC offers in-depth training that it has tailored for employers. The EEOC Training Institute makes additional training available to private employers, to local and State government personnel, and to employees of the Federal Government. Managers and employees receive training on the laws that the Commission enforces and on ways to prevent and reduce discrimination in the workplace.

<https://eeotraining.eeoc.gov/profile/web/index.cfm?PKwebID=0x2547b105&varPage=home>

Email:

eeoc.traininginstitute@eeoc.gov

Publication of Data and Statistics

The Commission publishes data on the employment status of minorities and women by conducting four employment surveys that cover private employers (EEO-1), labor unions (EEO-3), State and local governments (EEO-4), and public elementary and secondary schools (EEO-5). The collected data are shared with certain Federal agencies; prepared in aggregated format for major geographic areas and, where possible, also by industry groups (EEO-1), by major trades (EEO-3), or by government types and functions (EEO-4); and after aggregation, released into the public domain for independent analysis and research.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/statistics/employment>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that EEOC records have been assigned to record group 403.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/403.html>

Business Opportunities

The "Doing Business With the EEOC" web page has information for contractors and vendors.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/doing-business-eeoc>

Career Opportunities

The Commission hires in various job categories: attorneys, information intake representatives, investigators, mediators, office automation assistants, paralegals, program analysts, and social scientists. EEOC employment opportunities are posted on USAJobs—the Federal Government's official source for job listings and employment opportunity information. For more information, contact the Office of Human Resources. Phone, 202-663-4306.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/jobs-and-internships-eeoc>

EEOC Internships offer high school, college, and graduate and law students the opportunity to gain experience working on projects or cases involving issues of Federal antidiscrimination law. Interns work closely with experienced attorneys and specialists on assignments. Work assignments include legal research and writing, research and analysis of public policy developments, correspondence with Commission stakeholders, and assistance with charge intake and investigations.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/eeoc-internship-program>

In 2019, the EEOC ranked 12th among 25 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/EE00>

Contact Information

The "Contact EEOC" web page has email addresses, phone numbers, and links to relevant EEOC resources.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/contact-eeoc>

News producers, reporters, writers for news publication and broadcasts, and other people working on news programs or stories may contact the Office of Communications, using the phone number or email address that is provided here. Phone, 202-663-4191. TTY, 202-663-4494.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/newsroom/search> | Email: newsroom@eeoc.gov

District Offices

The EEOC operates 15 district offices. An office list and jurisdictional map are available online. A search tool allows EEOC website visitors to locate field offices by using Zip Codes.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/field-office>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the EEOC recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/equal-employment-opportunity-commission>

Federal Sector Reports

The EEOC posts reports that deal with subjects affecting Federal employees.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/federal-sector/reports>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information that the records of executive branch agencies contain. When the requested information is shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine exemptions that are contained within the statute, this right to access is limited. The EEOC makes many records publicly available on its main website. Documents are also available in an electronic library collection, as well as in physical libraries that are located at EEOC headquarters and district offices. Before submitting a FOIA request, an information seeker should search one of the aforementioned locations to see if the desired information has been released already in the public domain and is accessible free of charge and without the delay of processing a formal request.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/foia>

The EEOC maintains a collection of documents online in its electronic FOIA library.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/foia/foia-e-library>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The EEOC posts answers to FAQs.

<https://eeoc.custhelp.com/app/answers/list>

Glossary

The EEOC maintains a glossary whose content is relevant to small-business owners and employees.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/employers/small-business/eeoc-glossary-small-businesses>

Open Government

The EEOC supports the Open Government initiative by implementing principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/open-government>

Poster

An employer is required to post a notice describing the Federal laws that prohibit job discrimination based on age, color, disability, equal pay, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, or sex. The "Equal Employment Opportunity is THE LAW" poster contains a summary of these laws and explains how an employee or applicant can file a discrimination complaint. The EEOC's poster is available in Arabic, Chinese, English, and Spanish.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/employers/eeo-law-poster>

Press Releases

The EEOC posts press releases.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/newsroom/search>

Publications

The EEOC's most popular publications may be downloaded in Portable Document Format (PDF) for easy reproduction. Publications that are unavailable online may be obtained by phone or fax. Phone, 800-669-3362. TTY, 800-800-3302. Fax, 513-489-8692.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/eeoc-publications>

Reading Room

Contact the EEOC Library, 131 M Street NE., Washington, DC 20507. Phone, 202-663-4630.

Reports / Surveys

The EEOC collects workforce data from employers with more than 100 employees. Employers who meet the reporting thresholds are required to provide the information. The data are used for enforcement, research, and self-assessment by employers. Data remain confidential; however, the public can access them in aggregate form.

<http://www.eeoc.gov/employers/reporting.cfm>

Resources

EEOC material on specific discrimination topics that pertain to small businesses is available on the "EEOC Resources" web page.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/employers/small-business/eeoc-resources>

Small Business Resource Center

The Small Business Resource Center provides answers to common questions regarding responsibilities that Federal employment discrimination laws require business owners to meet. It also has tips for preventing discrimination and dealing with issues when they do arise within a business context.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/employers/small-business>

Social Media

The EEOC has a Facebook page.

<https://www.facebook.com/USEEOC>

The EEOC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items, using Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/useeoc>

The EEOC posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/TheEEOC>

Speakers

An agency representative may be available to present an overview of the laws that the EEOC enforces and EEOC charge (i.e., complaint) processing procedures—including mediation—at a conference or seminar. Contact an outreach program coordinator for more information. Phone, 800-669-4000.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/no-cost-outreach-programs>

Statistics

The EEOC posts data, reports, and statistics online.

<https://www.eeoc.gov/statistics>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Export-Import Bank of the United States

The United States Government Manual

EXPORT-IMPORT BANK OF THE UNITED STATES

811 Vermont Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20571

202-565-3946

800-565-3946

<http://www.exim.gov>

PRESIDENT / CHAIR

Charles J. Hall, Acting

First Vice President / Vice Chair

Scott Schloegel, Acting

|  |                       |
|--|-----------------------|
| Director   | (vacancy)             |
| Director   | (vacancy)             |
| Director   | (vacancy)             |
| Chief Financial Officer  | David M. Sena         |
| Chief Information Officer  | Howard Spira          |
| Chief Risk Officer / Executive Vice President                      | Jeff Goettman, Acting |
| Chief of Staff / Senior Vice President                             | Jesse Law             |
| Deputy Chief of Staff  | Ryan Caudelle         |
| General Counsel / Senior Vice President                            | Angela Mariana Freyre |
| Senior Vice President and Chief Strategy Officer                   | Anthony Scaramucci    |
| Senior Vice President, Export Finance / Chief Banking Officer      | Troy Fuhriman         |
| Senior Vice President, Communications                              | Jennifer Hazelton     |
| Senior Vice President, Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs | Kevin Warnke, Acting  |
| Senior Vice President, Credit and Risk Management                  | Kenneth M. Tinsley    |
| Senior Vice President, Policy and Planning                         | James C. Cruse        |
| Senior Vice President, Resource Management                         | Michael Cushing       |
| Senior Vice President, Small Business                              | James Burrows         |
| Deputy Chief Banking Officer                                       | Madolyn Phillips      |
| Vice President, Asset Management                                   | Walter F. Keating     |
| Vice President, Business Credit                                    | Pamela S. Bowers      |

|  |                       |
|--|-----------------------|
| Vice President, Business Processes, Total Enterprise Modernization   | Michele A. Kuester    |
| Vice President, Communications                                       | Rebecca Rose          |
| Vice President, Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs          | Kevin Warnke          |
| Vice President, Controller   | Patricia Wolf         |
| Vice President, Country Risk and Economic Analysis / Chief Economist | William A. Marsteller |
| Vice President, Credit Review and Compliance                         | Walter Hill, Jr.      |
| Vice President, Credit Underwriting                                  | David W. Carter       |
| Vice President, Customer and Business Solutions                      | Rochele Barham        |
| Vice President, Engineering and Environment                          | James A. Mahoney, Jr. |
| Vice President, Finance / Treasurer                                  | Nathalie Herman       |
| Vice President, International Relations                              | Isabel Galdiz         |
| Vice President, Operations and Data Quality                          | Nicole M.B. Valtos    |
| Vice President, Policy Analysis                                      | Helene Walsh          |
| Vice President, Sales and Marketing                                  | Sean Luke             |
| Vice President, Structured Finance                                   | Hala El Mohandes      |
| Vice President, Transportation                                       | Robert F.X. Roy       |

The Export-Import Bank helps finance the export of U.S. goods and services to international markets.

The Export-Import Bank of the United States (ExIm Bank), established in 1934, operates as an independent agency of the U.S. Government under the authority of the Export-Import Bank Act of 1945, as amended (12 U.S.C. 635 et seq.). Its Board of Directors comprises the President and Chair, the First Vice President and Vice Chair, and three directors—a total of five members. With the advice and consent of the Senate, the President appoints all of them.

The ExIm Bank helps American exporters adjust to government-supported financing competition from other countries. The assistance allows U.S. exports to compete for overseas business on the basis of price, performance, and service, which protects U.S. jobs. The Bank also fills gaps in the availability of commercial financing for creditworthy export transactions by providing a variety of financing mechanisms, including working capital guarantees, export-credit insurance, and financing for the purchase of U.S. goods and services.

The Bank is required to find a reasonable assurance of repayment for each transaction it supports. Its legislation requires it to meet the financing terms of competitor export credit agencies, but not to compete with commercial lenders. Restrictions also apply to the Bank's support for military goods and services and to its operation in some countries.

A self-sustaining agency, EXIM operates at no cost to taxpayers. Since 2009, EXIM has contributed nearly $3.8 billion to American taxpayers.

<http://www.exim.gov/about>

ACTIVITIES

---

The ExIm Bank is authorized to have loans, guarantees, and insurance outstanding at any one time in aggregate amount not exceeding $120 billion. A variety of Ex-Im Bank programs offered under broad export financing categories—working capital guarantees, export credit insurance, loan guarantees, and direct loans—support U.S. exporters.

The Bank's regional offices focus on small business outreach and support. Its Small Business Committee makes recommendations on and coordinates and evaluates Bank functions necessary for an effective small-business strategy.

<http://www.exim.gov/what-we-do#by-name>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Electronic Updates

An online subscription form is available to sign up for email updates from the Ex-Im Bank.

<https://public.govdelivery.com/accounts/USEXIM/subscriber/new>

Employment

To carry out its mission, the Bank relies on professionals with a range of skills and expertise: attorney-advisors, business development and loan specialists, economists, engineers, and resource managers in accounting, finance, human resources, and information technology.

<http://www.exim.gov/about/careers>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

A FOIA request must be made in writing. It may be submitted using the online request form or by email, fax, or postal mail.

<http://www.exim.gov/about/foia> | Email: foia@exim.gov

News

ExIm Bank posts board agendas and meeting minutes, reports, and speeches online.

<http://www.exim.gov/news>

The Chair writes a quarterly newsletter that includes information on the Bank's performance over the previous 3 months. The newsletter also includes analysis of global economic trends, customer stories, practical export tips, upcoming Bank events, and other resources.

<http://www.exim.gov/learning-resources/newsletters>

Office of the Inspector General (OIG)

The OIG investigates complaints of abuse, fraud, and waste. Phone, 888-644-3946.

<http://www.exim.gov/about/oig/oig-hotline> | Email: IGHotline@exim.gov

Open Government

The ExIm Bank is becoming more collaborative, participatory, and transparent by making data available in an open format and by providing a mechanism for the public to submit feedback.

<http://www.exim.gov/open-government-directive>

Project Information and Concerns

The "Environmental and Social Project Information and Concerns" Web page provides an online form for expressing project-specific concerns, requesting project-specific information, or submitting information on a particular project.

<http://www.exim.gov/policies/ex-im-bank-and-the-environment/environmental-and-social-project-information-and-concerns>

Regional Offices

The ExIm Bank operates regional export finance centers and field offices nationwide. A List of these centers, with their contact information, is available online.

<http://www.exim.gov/contact/regional-export-finance-centers>

<http://www.exim.gov/contact/headquarters>

For further information, contact the Business Development Office, Export-Import Bank, 811 Vermont Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20571. Phone, 202-565-3946 or 800-565-3946.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Farm Credit Administration

The United States Government Manual

FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION

1501 Farm Credit Drive, McLean, VA 22102-5090

703-883-4000

703-790-3260

<http://www.fca.gov>

Board

---

|       |                    |
|-------|--------------------|
| CHAIR | Dallas P. Tonsager |
|-------|--------------------|

|        |                 |
|--------|-----------------|
| Member | Jeffery S. Hall |
|--------|-----------------|

|        |           |
|--------|-----------|
| Member | (vacancy) |
|--------|-----------|

https://www.fca.gov/about/fca\_board.html

Officials

---

|                         |                    |
|-------------------------|--------------------|
| CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER | Dallas P. Tonsager |
|-------------------------|--------------------|

<https://www.fca.gov/about/board/tonsager.html>

|                         |                    |
|-------------------------|--------------------|
| Chief Operating Officer | William J. Hoffman |
|-------------------------|--------------------|

|                                   |                   |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------|
| Designated Agency Ethics Official | Philip J. Shebest |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------|

|                 |                  |
|-----------------|------------------|
| General Counsel | Charles R. Rawls |
|-----------------|------------------|

|                        |                 |
|------------------------|-----------------|
| Secretary to the Board | Dale L. Aultman |
|------------------------|-----------------|

DIRECTORS

|                           |                   |
|---------------------------|-------------------|
| Office of Agency Services | A. Jerome Fowlkes |
|---------------------------|-------------------|

|  |                   |
|--|-------------------|
| Office of Congressional and Public Affairs | Michael A. Stokke |
|--|-------------------|

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Office of Equal Employment Opportunity and Inclusion | Thais Burlew |
|--|--------------|

|  |                   |
|--|-------------------|
| Office of Examination and Chief Examiner | S. Robert Coleman |
|--|-------------------|

|                                  |               |
|----------------------------------|---------------|
| Office of Information Technology | Jerald Golley |
|----------------------------------|---------------|

|                             |                   |
|-----------------------------|-------------------|
| Office of Regulatory Policy | Gary K. Van Meter |
|-----------------------------|-------------------|

|                                      |               |
|--------------------------------------|---------------|
| Office of Secondary Market Oversight | Laurie A. Rea |
|--------------------------------------|---------------|

|                                       |                  |
|---------------------------------------|------------------|
| Office of the Chief Financial Officer | Stephen G. Smith |
|---------------------------------------|------------------|

<https://www.fca.gov/about/offices/officials.html>

Inspector General

Wendy R. Laguarda

<https://www.fca.gov/home/inspector.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

[For the Farm Credit Administration statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 12, Parts 600 and 611]

The Farm Credit Administration ensures the safe and sound operation of the banks, associations, affiliated service organizations, and other entities of the Farm Credit System, and protects the interests of the public and those who borrow from Farm Credit institutions or invest in Farm Credit securities.

The Farm Credit Administration (FCA) was established as an independent financial regulatory agency in the executive branch of the Federal Government by Executive Order 6084 on March 27, 1933. The FCA carries out its responsibilities by conducting examinations of the various Farm Credit lending institutions: Agricultural Credit Associations, Farm Credit Banks, Federal Land Credit Associations, and the Agricultural Credit Bank.

The FCA also examines the service organizations owned by the Farm Credit lending institutions, as well as the National Consumer Cooperative Bank.

<http://www.fca.gov/info/organization.html#service>

FCA policymaking is vested in the Farm Credit Administration Board, whose three full-time members the President appoints to 6-year terms with the advice and consent of the Senate. One member of the Board is designated by the President as Chair and serves as the FCA's chief executive officer. The Board approves rules and regulations, provides for the examination and regulation of and reporting by Farm Credit institutions, and establishes the policies under which the Administration operates. Board meetings are regularly held on the second Thursday of the month and are subject to the Government in the Sunshine Act. Public announcements of these meetings are published in the "Federal Register."

http://www.fca.gov/about/fca\_board.html

Authority for the organization and activities of the Farm Credit System may be found in the Farm Credit Act of 1971, as amended.

The lending institutions of the Farm Credit System were established to provide adequate and dependable credit and closely related services to farmers, ranchers, and producers or harvesters of aquatic products; persons engaged in providing on-the-farm services; rural homeowners; and associations of farmers, ranchers, and producers or harvesters of aquatic products, or federations of such associations that operate on a cooperative basis and are engaged in marketing, processing, supply, or business service functions for the benefit of their members. Initially capitalized by the U.S. Government, the Farm Credit lending institutions are organized as cooperatives—their borrowers completely own them. The loan funds provided to borrowers by these institutions are obtained primarily through the sale of securities to investors in the Nation's capital markets.

<http://www.fca.gov/rpts/information.html>

The Agricultural Credit Act of 1987, as amended (12 U.S.C. 2279aa-1), established the Federal Agricultural Mortgage Corporation, commonly known as Farmer Mac. The Corporation, designated as part of the Farm Credit System, is a federally chartered instrumentality of the United States and promotes the development of a secondary market for agricultural real estate and rural housing loans. Farmer Mac also provides guarantees for the timely payment of principal and interest on securities representing interests in or obligations backed by pools of agricultural real estate loans. The Administration examines and regulates Farmer Mac to ensure the safety and soundness of its operations.

http://www.fca.gov/info/farmer\_mac.html

The FCA manages regulations under which Farm Credit institutions operate. These regulations implement the Farm Credit Act of 1971, as amended (12 U.S.C. 2001), and have the force and effect of law. Similar to the authorities of other Federal regulators of financial institutions, the Administration's authorities include the power to issue cease-and-desist orders, to levy civil monetary penalties, to remove officers and directors of Farm Credit institutions, and to establish financial and operating reporting requirements. Although it is prohibited from participation in routine management or operations of Farm Credit institutions, the Administration is authorized to become involved in these institutions' management and operations when the Farm Credit Act or its regulations have been violated, when taking an action to correct an unsafe or unsound practice, or when assuming a formal conservatorship over an institution.

The Administration does not operate on funds appropriated by Congress: It derives income from assessments collected from the institutions that it regulates and examines. In addition to its headquarters in McLean, VA, the Administration maintains four field offices located in Bloomington, MN; Greenwood Village, CO; Irving, TX; and Sacramento, CA.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The FCA Web site has an A–Z index to help visitors navigate its content.

<https://www.fca.gov/home/atozindex.html>

Business Opportunities

The Office of Agency Services manages the FCA's procurement opportunities. Phone, 703-883-4378. TTY, 703-883-4056.

<https://www.fca.gov/about/procurement.html>

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the FCA relies on attorneys, examiners, information technology specialists, and other professionals. Examiners play a prominent role at the FCA: They plan, organize, and conduct examinations of Farm Credit System institutions. The FCA hires examiners who hold university degrees in a variety of disciplines. The ideal candidate has a background in agriculture, business, finance, or information technology. Adaptability, teamwork, and communication skills are essential. Contact the Office of Agency Services for more information. Phone, 703-883-4135.

TTY, 703-883-4056.

https://www.fca.gov/browse/fca\_careers.html

In 2016, the FCA ranked 10th among 29 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/overall/small>

Cooperative Principles

Farm Credit System institutions generally adhere to three core cooperative principles: user-ownership, user-control, and user-benefits. These principles support the System's cooperative practices. To learn more about them, visit the "Cooperative Way" Web page.

<https://www.fca.gov/info/cooperativeway.html>

Economics / Policy

FCA economists monitor conditions in the U.S. farm, national, and global economies. They write economic and policy reports that provide perspective for FCA examiners, leaders, and policy analysts. The FCA posts these reports on its Web site to make them available to a broader audience.

<https://www.fca.gov/rpts/economistreports.html>

En Español

The FCA posts information in Spanish on its Web site.

<https://www.fca.gov/browse/espanol.html>

Financial Indicators

The FCA posts data on selected financial performance indicators for Farm Credit System institutions.

<https://www.fca.gov/rpts/fcsindicators.html>

Flood Disaster Protection

The FCA posts links to resources that help Farm Credit System lenders understand flood insurance rules.

<https://www.fca.gov/info/flooddisasterprotection.html>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

A written submission must clearly indicate that it is a "FOIA Request." The FCA may require payment for searching for, reviewing, and reproducing a document. A submitter must provide a detailed description—date, subject matter, title—of the record sought and indicate the maximum amount he or she is willing to pay in fees. A request may be submitted by email or fax, or by mail and addressed to the Freedom of Information Act Officer, Farm Credit Administration, 1501 Farm Credit Drive, McLean, VA 22102-5090. Phone, 703-883-4020. TTY, 703-883-4056. Fax, 703-790-0052.

http://www.fca.gov/home/freedom\_info.html | Email: foiaofficer@fca.gov

The FCA maintains a FOIA reading room on its Web site. Before submitting a FOIA request, search the reading room to see which documents are already accessible.

https://www.fca.gov/home/FOIA\_index.html

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FCA posts answers to FAQs on its Web site.

<https://www.fca.gov/about/faqs.html>

Glossary

The FCA maintains an online glossary.

<http://www.fca.gov/info/glossary.html>

Handbook

The FCA Handbook database includes regulations, statutes, and FCA Board policy guidance that are applicable to the FCA, Farm Credit System, and Farm Credit System Insurance Corporation. The handbook is accessible free of charge in two formats: a searchable electronic database and files in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.fca.gov/exam/handbook.html>

History

For centuries, North American farmers have sought reliable sources of credit to acquire land and to develop and expand farms. Their need to access long-term, fixed-rate credit has continued to the present. While 19th-century commercial banks made long-term credit available at reasonable rates to businessmen and industrial capitalists, they provided less of the same service to farmers. Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, and Woodrow Wilson saw the problem and sought solutions. To learn what they did to help 20th-century American farmers, visit the "History of FCA" Web page.

https://www.fca.gov/about/history/historyFCA\_FCS.html

Institution Directory and Map

The Farm Credit System institution directory contains information on each institution and its chartered territory.

<https://www.fca.gov/info/directory.html>

Lender Locator

The Farm Credit System has 70 lending associations. To find an association, use the online locator tool by entering a street address or ZIP Code. Search results include all branch offices for a particular association. More than one lending association may serve a location. Phone, 703-883-4056.

<https://apps.fca.gov/Locator> | Email: info-line@fca.gov

News / Events

The FCA announces events and posts news releases, rulemaking factsheets, speeches and statements, and testimonies online.

<http://www.fca.gov/news/index.html>

Office of Inspector General (OIG)

The OIG conducts audits, evaluations, inspections, and investigations; reviews proposed legislation and regulations; informs the FCA Board and Congress of fraud or other serious problems; recommends policies to promote economy and efficiency and to prevent abuse, fraud, and waste; recommends corrective actions and reports on progress made in implementing them; and refers criminal matters to appropriate agencies for prosecution. Hotline, 800-437-7322 or 703-883-4316. Phone, 703-883-4030.

<https://www.fca.gov/home/inspector.html>

Open Government

The FCA supports the Open Government initiative by promoting collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.fca.gov/home/opengovernment.html>

Organizational Chart

The FCA posts its organizational chart online.

<https://www.fca.gov/about/offices/orgchart.html>

The FCA's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.fca.gov/Download/FCOrgchart.pdf>

Plain Writing

Feedback on the clarity of documents and other items on the Web site helps improve the guidance that the FCA gives to institutions and the services that it offers to Americans. If a document or Web page is unclear, contact the Office of Congressional and Public Affairs. Phone, 703-883-4056.

<http://www.fca.gov/home/plainwriting.html>

Publications

FCA documents are posted online, including publications about the Farm Credit Administration and information on the Farm Credit System. To find an older document, one that is over 5 years old, search in the archives. More information is available from the Office of Congressional and Public Affairs. Phone, 703-883-4056 (voice and TTY). Fax, 703-790-3260.

<http://www.fca.gov/rpts/index.html> | Email: info-line@fca.gov

Site Map

The Web site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.fca.gov/home/sitemap.html>

<http://www.fca.gov/home/contact.html> | Email: info-line@fca.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Congressional and Public Affairs, Farm Credit Administration, 1501 Farm Credit Drive, McLean, VA 22102-5090. Phone, 703-883-4056.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Communications Commission

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

445 Twelfth Street SW., Washington, DC 20554

888-225-5322

TTY, 888-835-5322

<http://www.fcc.gov>

Commissioners

---

CHAIR

Ajit Pai

Brendan Carr

Michael O'Rielly

Jessica Rosenworcel

<https://www.fcc.gov/about/leadership>

Bureau Chiefs

---

Consumer and Governmental Affairs

Patrick Webre

Enforcement

Rosemary Harold

International

Thomas Sullivan

Media

Michelle Carey

Public Safety and Homeland Security

Lisa M. Fowlkes

Wireline Competition

Kris Monteith

Wireless Telecommunications

Donald Stockdale

<https://www.fcc.gov/offices-bureaus#block-menu-block-4>

Office Heads

---

General Counsel

Thomas M. Johnson, Jr.

Managing Director

Mark Stephens

CHIEFS

Administrative Law Judges

Richard L. Sippel

Engineering and Technology

Julius Knapp

Strategic Planning and Policy Analysis

Wayne Leighton

---

DIRECTORS

---

|                                       |                     |
|---------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Communications Business Opportunities | Sanford S. Williams |
|---------------------------------------|---------------------|

---

|                     |                  |
|---------------------|------------------|
| Legislative Affairs | Timothy Strachan |
|---------------------|------------------|

---

|                 |            |
|-----------------|------------|
| Media Relations | Brian Hart |
|-----------------|------------|

---

|                     |              |
|---------------------|--------------|
| Workplace Diversity | Larry Hudson |
|---------------------|--------------|

---

<https://www.fcc.gov/about-fcc/organizational-charts-fcc>

|                   |               |
|-------------------|---------------|
| Inspector General | David L. Hunt |
|-------------------|---------------|

---

<https://www.fcc.gov/inspector-general#block-menu-block-4>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2018.

---

[For the Federal Communications Commission statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 47, Part 0]

The Federal Communications Commission regulates interstate and foreign communications by radio, television, wire, satellite, and cable.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) was established by the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 151 et seq.) and is charged with regulating interstate and foreign communications by wire and radio in the public interest. The scope of FCC regulation includes radio and television broadcasting; telephone and cable television operation; two-way radio and radio operators; and satellite communication.

The Commission comprises five members whom the President appoints with the advice and consent of the Senate. One of the members is designated by the President as the Chair.

<https://www.fcc.gov/about/overview>

ACTIVITIES

---

Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau

The Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau develops and administers the FCC's consumer and governmental affairs policies and initiatives. The Bureau facilitates public participation in the Commission's decisionmaking process; represents the Commission on consumer and Government committees, working groups, task forces, and conferences; works with public, Federal, State, local, and tribal agencies to develop and coordinate policies; oversees the Consumer Advisory Committee, the Disability Advisory Committee, and the Intergovernmental Advisory Committee; offers expert advice on applicable disability and accessibility requirements, rules, and regulations, and assists with compliance; resolves informal complaints; and conducts consumer outreach and education programs.

<https://www.fcc.gov/consumer-governmental-affairs#block-menu-block-4>

For further information, contact the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau. Phone, 202-418-1400 or 888-225-5322.

Enforcement Bureau

The Enforcement Bureau serves as the FCC's primary agency for enforcing the Communications Act, other communications statutes, and the FCC's rules. The Bureau investigates and resolves complaints regarding common carriers (wireline, wireless, and international) and noncommon carriers subject to the Commission's jurisdiction under Title II of the Communications Act; radio frequency interference, equipment, and devices; accessibility to communications services and equipment for persons with disabilities; noncompliance with the lighting and marking of radio transmitting towers and pole attachment regulations; and unauthorized construction and operation of communication facilities and false distress signals.

<https://www.fcc.gov/enforcement#block-menu-block-4>

For further information, contact the Enforcement Bureau. Phone, 202-418-7450 or 888-225-5322.

International Bureau

The International Bureau serves as the FCC's principal representative at international conferences and in international negotiations. The Bureau promotes procompetitive policies abroad, coordinating the FCC's global spectrum activities and advocating U.S. interests in international communications and competition. It provides advice and technical assistance to U.S. trade officials in the negotiation and implementation of telecommunications trade agreements. It also encourages the international coordination of spectrum allocation and of frequency and orbital assignments to minimize cases of international radio interference involving U.S. licenses.

<https://www.fcc.gov/international#block-menu-block-4>

For further information, contact the International Bureau. Phone, 202-418-0437 or 888-225-5322.

Media Bureau

The Media Bureau oversees broadcast radio, television, and cable policy and licensing, as well as post-licensing matters for satellite services. The Bureau also conducts rulemaking proceedings and studies, resolves waiver petitions, and processes applications for authorization, assignment, transfer, and renewal of radio, television, and cable television relay services.

<https://www.fcc.gov/media#block-menu-block-4>

For further information, contact the Media Bureau. Phone, 202-418-7200 or 888-225-5322.

Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau

The Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau develops, recommends, and administers the FCC's policies on public safety communication. This includes 911 and E911, operability and interoperability of public safety communications, communications infrastructure protection and disaster response, and network security and reliability. The Bureau also disseminates public safety communication information for emergency communication programs; alerting and warning U.S. citizens; continuity of government operations and operational planning; public safety outreach (e.g., first-responder organizations and hospitals); disaster management coordination and outreach; and studies and reports of public safety, homeland security, and disaster management issues.

<https://www.fcc.gov/public-safety-and-homeland-security#block-menu-block-4> | Email: pshsbinfo@fcc.gov

For further information, contact the Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau. Phone, 202-418-1300 or 888-225-5322.

Wireless Telecommunications Bureau

The Wireless Telecommunications Bureau administers all domestic commercial and private wireless communication programs and rules. It addresses present and future wireless communication and spectrum needs; promotes access, efficiency, and innovation in the allocation, licensing, and use of electromagnetic spectrum; ensures choice, opportunity, and fairness in the development of wireless communication services and markets; and encourages the development and widespread availability of wireless communication devices, facilities, and services. The Bureau also develops, recommends, administers, and coordinates policy for wireless communication services, including rulemaking, interpretations, and equipment standards; advises the public on FCC rules; serves as the FCC's principal policy and administrative resource for all spectrum auctions; and processes wireless service and facility authorization applications.

<https://www.fcc.gov/wireless-telecommunications#block-menu-block-4>

For further information, contact the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau. Phone, 202-418-0600 or 888-225-5322.

Wireline Competition Bureau

The Wireline Competition Bureau advises and makes recommendations to the FCC on policies affecting telephone landlines and fixed broadband. Its programs protect affordable communications access for health care providers, libraries, schools, and lifeline and rural consumers. The Bureau also ensures choice, opportunity, and fairness in the development of wireline communications; assesses the present and future wireline communication needs of the Nation; encourages the development and widespread availability of wireline communication services; and promotes investment in wireline communication infrastructure.

<https://www.fcc.gov/wireline-competition#block-menu-block-4>

For further information, contact the Wireline Competition Bureau. Phone, 202-418-1500 or 888-225-5322.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Blog

The FCC maintains a blog.

<https://www.fcc.gov/news-events/blog>

Business Opportunities

The FCC relies on contractors for goods and services to carry out its mission. Many of these procurements are suitable for small businesses, and some offer opportunities for subcontracting.

<https://www.fcc.gov/about-fcc/contracting> | Email: EACHelp@fcc.gov

Career Opportunities

The FCC maintains a web-based recruitment system that allows employees and outside job seekers to apply for job opportunities online.

<https://www.fcc.gov/general/fcc-jobs>

In 2017, the FCC ranked 20th among 25 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/FC00>

Consumer Assistance

For general information on FCC operations, contact the FCC Consumer Center, 445 Twelfth Street SW., Washington, DC 20554. Phone, 888-225-5322. TTY, 888-835-5322.

<https://www.fcc.gov/consumers>

Equal Employment Practices by the Communications Industry

For more information, contact the FCC Consumer Center. Phone, 888-225-5322.

<https://www.fcc.gov/consumers>

Ex-Parte Presentations

For more information, contact the Commission's Office of General Counsel. Phone, 202-418-1720.

<https://www.fcc.gov/proceedings-actions/ex-parte>

Federal Advisory Committee Management

For more information, contact the Office of Managing Director. Phone, 202-418-2178.

<https://www.fcc.gov/about-fcc/advisory-committees-fcc>

Fees

Information on the FCC's fee programs is available online or from the Registration System / Fee Filer Help Desk. Phone, 877-480-3201 (option 4).

<https://www.fcc.gov/licensing-databases/fees> | Email: ARINQUIRIES@fcc.gov

Freedom of Information Act

For more information, contact the FOIA Requester Service Center. Phone, 202-418-1379.

<https://www.fcc.gov/general/foia> | Email: foia@fcc.gov

Internal Equal Employment Practices

For more information, contact the Office of Workplace Diversity. Phone, 202-418-1799.

<https://www.fcc.gov/workplace-diversity>

Internships

Information on FCC internships is available online.

<https://www.fcc.gov/general/internships-available-fcc>

Licensing

Information on the FCC's licensing systems is available online.

<http://www.fcc.gov/licensing>

News

The Office of Media Relations distributes public notices and press releases and makes them available online.

<https://www.fcc.gov/media-relations>

Offices / Bureaus

The "Offices and Bureaus" web page includes a brief description of FCC offices and bureaus, as well as links to related webpages with additional information.

<https://www.fcc.gov/offices-bureaus#block-menu-block-4>

Organizational Chart

The FCC's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.fcc.gov/sites/default/files/fccorg-06072018.pdf>

The organizational charts of FCC offices and bureaus are available online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.fcc.gov/about-fcc/organizational-charts-fcc>

Podcast

The official FCC podcast "More Than Seven Dirty Words" features interviews with FCC staff and others in the field of communications.

<https://www.fcc.gov/news-events/podcast>

Public Inspection

Records that are deemed nonconfidential by law can be viewed on the FCC's Web site. Each broadcasting station maintains a current copy of its application for license, operational information, and nonconfidential FCC reports for public inspection.

Publications

The Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau maintains an online consumer publications library.

<https://www.fcc.gov/consumers>

Social Media

To inform and to connect and engage with the general public, the FCC uses social media: Disqus, Facebook, Flickr, GitHub, Instagram, Scribd, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.fcc.gov/social-media>

<https://www.fcc.gov/about/contact>

For further information, contact the Consumer Center, Federal Communications Commission, 445 Twelfth Street SW., Washington, DC 20554. Phone, 888-225-5322. TTY, 888-835-5322.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

550 Seventeenth Street NW., Washington, DC 20429

703-562-2222

<http://www.fdic.gov>

Board of Directors

---

|  |                             |
|--|-----------------------------|
| CHAIR  | Martin J. Gruenberg         |
| Vice Chair   | Thomas M. Hoenig            |
| Director (Consumer Financial Protection Bureau)      | J. Michael Mulvaney, Acting |
| Director (Office of the Comptroller of the Currency) | Joseph M. Otting            |
| Director   | (vacancy)                   |

<https://www.fdic.gov/about/learn/board>

Headquarters—Washington, DC

|   |                         |
|---|-------------------------|
| CHAIR   | Martin J. Gruenberg     |
| Vice Chair  | Thomas M. Hoenig        |
| Chief of Staff                                    | Barbara A. Ryan         |
| Special Advisor for Supervisory Matters           | Jason C. Cave           |
| DEPUTIES  |                         |
| Deputy to the Chair                               | Kymberly K. Copa        |
| Deputy to the Chair / Chief Financial Officer     | Steven O. App           |
| Deputy to the Chair / Chief Operating Officer     | Barbara A. Ryan         |
| Deputy to the Vice Chair                          | Michael Spencer, Acting |
| DIVISION HEADS                                    |                         |
| Chief Information Officer / Chief Privacy Officer | Howard Whyte, Acting    |
| Chief Information Security Officer                | Noreen Padilla, Acting  |
| Director, Administration                          | Arleas Upton Kea        |

|   |                       |
|---|-----------------------|
| Director, Corporate University / Chief Learning Officer | Suzannah L. Susser    |
| Director, Depositor and Consumer Protection             | Mark E. Pearce        |
| Director, Finance                                       | Craig R. Jarvill      |
| Director, Information Technology                        | Russell G. Pittman    |
| Director, Insurance and Research                        | Diane Ellis           |
| Director, Resolution and Receiverships                  | Bret D. Edwards       |
| Director, Risk Management Supervision                   | Doreen R. Eberley     |
| General Counsel   | Charles Yi            |
| OFFICE HEADS  |                       |
| Chief Risk Officer                                      | Kenyon Kilber, Acting |
| Deputy to the Chair for Communications                  | Barbara Hagenbaugh    |
| Director, Complex Financial Institutions                | Ricardo R. Delfin     |
| Director, Legislative Affairs                           | M. Andy Jiminez       |
| Director, Minority and Women Inclusion                  | Saul Schwartz, Acting |
| Ombudsman   | M. Anthony Lowe       |
| Inspector General                                       | Jay N. Lerner         |

<https://www.fdicoin.gov>

The above list of key personnel was updated 02–2018.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation preserves and promotes public confidence in U.S. financial institutions by insuring bank and thrift deposits, examining State-chartered banks, and liquidating assets of failed institutions.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) was established under the Banking Act of 1933 after numerous banks failed during the Great Depression. The FDIC began insuring banks on January 1, 1934. The basic insurance coverage per depositor at each insured bank and savings association is $250,000.

<https://www.fdic.gov/about/history>

The FDIC is managed by a five-member Board of Directors, all of whom the President appoints and the Senate confirms. No more than three of the Directors can be affiliated with the same political party.

The FDIC insures approximately 5,850 institutions. It receives no congressional appropriations. FDIC funding comes from insurance premiums on deposits held by insured banks and savings associations and from interest on the investment of those premiums in U.S. Government securities. FDIC has authority to borrow up to $100 billion from the Treasury for insurance purposes.

<https://www.fdic.gov/about/strategic/strategic/mission.html>

ACTIVITIES

---

The FDIC insures about $13 trillion of U.S. bank and thrift deposits. As required by law, the fund relies on two sources of income: premiums paid by banks and savings associations, and the interest on the investment of those premiums in U.S. Government securities. An institution's level of capitalization and potential risk to the insurance fund determines its premiums.

<https://www.fdic.gov/deposit>

The FDIC examines about 3,600 State-chartered commercial and savings banks that are not members of the Federal Reserve System, called State nonmember banks. The FDIC also has authority to examine other types of FDIC-insured institutions for deposit insurance purposes. The two types of examinations conducted are for safety and soundness and for compliance with applicable consumer laws such as the Truth in Lending Act, the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, the Fair Housing Act, and the Community Reinvestment Act. FDIC examiners work onsite at the institution as well analyze bank data offsite.

<https://www.fdic.gov/regulations>

A failed bank or savings association is generally closed by its chartering authority, and the FDIC is named receiver. The FDIC is required to resolve the closure in a manner that is least costly to its Deposit Insurance Fund. Ordinarily, the FDIC attempts to locate a healthy institution to acquire the failed entity. If such an entity cannot be found, the FDIC pays depositors the amount of their insured funds, usually by the next business day following the closure. Depositors with funds that exceed the insurance limit often receive an advance dividend, which is a portion of their uninsured funds that is determined by an estimate of the future proceeds from liquidating the failed institution's remaining assets. Depositors with funds in a failed institution that exceed the insurance limit receive a receivership certificate for those funds and partial payments of their uninsured funds as asset disposition permits.

As part of its insurance, supervisory, and receivership responsibilities, the FDIC approves or disapproves mergers, consolidations, and acquisitions where the resulting bank is an insured State nonmember; approves or disapproves proposals by banks to establish and operate a new branch, close an existing branch, or move its main office from one location to another; and approves or disapproves requests to engage as principal in activities and investments that are not permissible for a national bank. It also issues enforcement actions, including cease-and-desist orders, for specific violations or practices requiring corrective action and reviews changes in ownership or control of a bank.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Assistance for Bank Customers

An electronic form is available for filing a complaint against a particular financial institution. The form also may be used to inquire about FDIC deposit insurance coverage or to ask a question about a particular financial institution.

<https://www5.fdic.gov/starsmail/index.asp>

Bank Failures

The FDIC maintains a failed bank list that contains information on how accounts and loans are affected, how vendors can file claims against the receivership, and the acquiring bank—if applicable. The list covers from October 1, 2000, to the present.

<https://www.fdic.gov/bank/individual/failed/banklist.html>

Starting with the year 2001, the FDIC maintains a brief summary of each bank failure. For additional information on recent failures, call the customer service hotline. Phone, 888-206-4662.

<https://www.fdic.gov/bank/historical/bank>

A search tool is available online to help the public find the point of contact information of failed institutions.

<https://www5.fdic.gov/drrip/cs/index.asp>

Detailed information on bank and thrift failures since 1934 is available on the FDIC website.

<https://www5.fdic.gov/hsob/SelectRpt.asp?EntryTyp=30>

Bank Finder

The FDIC website has an online tool for locating insured banking institutions.

<https://research.fdic.gov/bankfind>

Call Center

The call center is open every day of the week: Monday–Friday, 8 a.m.–8 p.m., eastern standard time; Saturday and Sunday, 9 a.m.–5 p.m., eastern standard time. Phone, 877-275-3342. Phone, 800-925-4618 (hearing impaired).

Career Opportunities

FDIC job openings and information on career transition assistance, student employment opportunities, and submitting an application are available online.

<https://www.fdic.gov/about/jobs>

In 2017, the FDIC ranked 3d among 25 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacestowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/FD00>

Electronic Deposit Insurance Estimator (EDIE)

Consumers and bankers can use EDIE to determine, on a per-bank basis, how the insurance rules and limits apply to a depositor's specific group of deposit accounts—what is insured and what portion, if any, exceeds coverage limits.

<https://www.fdic.gov/edie/index.html>

Enlaces en Español

Links to information and resources in Spanish are available on the FDIC website.

<https://www.fdic.gov/quicklinks/spanish.html>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FDIC operates a FOIA service center that is open on weekdays, 8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m., excluding Federal holidays. Phone, 202-898-7021.

<https://www.fdic.gov/about/freedom> | Email: efoia@fdic.gov

The FDIC's FOIA guide offers a concise explanation of the FOIA and how it can be used to access Government records. It also explains the process for submitting a request to the FDIC. The guide also provides links to helpful reference guides and describes how additional information may be obtained from the FDIC.

<https://www.fdic.gov/about/freedom/guide.html>

The FDIC accepts electronic FOIA requests.

<https://efoiarequest.fdic.gov/palMain.aspx>

History

"On March 3 banking operations in the United States ceased . . . the government has been compelled to step in." These words, President Franklin D. Roosevelt spoke to the U.S. Congress in 1933, 6 days after the banks had closed, when the Nation's banking system still lay dormant. The U.S. economy was in the throes of deep and widespread depression. Three months later, in response to the crisis, President Roosevelt approved the Banking Act of 1933, giving birth to the FDIC and Federal depositor protection, which the general public supported. To learn about the antecedents to Federal deposit insurance and the creation of the FDIC and its general history, see "A History of the FDIC 1933–1983."

<https://www.fdic.gov/bank/analytical/firstfifty>

In 2008 and 2009, FDIC agents were active seizing failed banks. To learn about the process of a bank seizure and the efforts made by the FDIC to shield employees and depositors from the ill effects of a failure, watch the CBS 60 Minutes video "Your Bank Has Failed."

<https://www.fdic.gov/news/letters/60minutes.html>

News / Events

The FDIC posts conferences and events, financial institution letters, opinion editorials, press releases, speeches, and testimonies on its website.

<https://www.fdic.gov/news>

The FDIC offers an online subscription service for email alerts. A subscriber may opt to receive various types of alerts: financial institution letters, news releases, statistical publications, and other types.

<https://service.govdelivery.com/accounts/USFDIC/subscriber/new>

The FDIC disseminates information and news using RSS feeds.

<https://www.fdic.gov/rss.html>

The FCC tweets news items and other information on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/FDICgov>

Office of Inspector General (OIG)

The OIG operates a toll-free, nationwide hotline to provide a way for FDIC employees, its contractors, financial institution staff, and other members of the public to report incidents of abuse, fraud, mismanagement, and waste within FDIC programs and activities or its contractor operations. A person can file a report anonymously, confidentially, or openly by using the hotline; however, filing a report by email guarantees neither anonymity nor confidentiality. Phone, 800-964-3342. Fax, 703-562-6444.

<https://www.fdicig.gov> | Email: ighotline@fdic.gov

Open Government

The FDIC supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.fdic.gov/open> | Email: opengov@fdic.gov

Plain Language

The FDIC welcomes comment on its compliance with the Plain Writing Act of 2010 and suggestions for improving communication between the agency and the public.

<https://www.fdic.gov/plainlanguage> | Email: PlainWriting@fdic.gov

Publications

The FDIC website has an online product catalog and ordering system.

<https://catalog.fdic.gov>

Publications, press releases, congressional testimony, directives to financial institutions, and other documents are available through the Public Information Center. Phone, 877-275-3342 (press 1, then press 5).

<http://www.fdic.gov/news/publications/PIChardcopies.html> | Email: publicinfo@fdic.gov

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.fdic.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The FDIC has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/FDICgov>

The FDIC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/FDICgov>

The FDIC posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/FDICchannel>

<https://www.fdic.gov/about/contact/ask> | Email: communications@fdic.gov

For further information and media inquiries, contact the Office of Communications, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 Seventeenth Street NW., Washington, DC 20429. Phone, 202-898-6993.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Election Commission

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION

999 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20463

202-694-1100

800-424-9530

<http://www.fec.gov>

CHAIR

Steven T. Walther

Vice Chair

Caroline C. Hunter

|                         |                           |
|-------------------------|---------------------------|
| Commissioner            | Lee E. Goodman            |
| Commissioner            | Matthew S. Petersen       |
| Commissioner            | Ellen L. Weintraub        |
| Commissioner            | Vacant                    |
| Staff Director          | Alec Palmer               |
| Chief Financial Officer | Gilbert Ford, Acting      |
| General Counsel         | Lisa J. Stevenson, Acting |
| Inspector General       | Vacant                    |

The Federal Election Commission provides public disclosure of campaign finance activities and ensures compliance with campaign finance laws and regulations.

Organizational Chart

The Federal Election Commission is an independent agency established by section 309 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (52 U.S.C. 30106). It comprises six Commissioners whom the President appoints with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Act also provides for three statutory officers—the staff director, the general counsel, and the inspector general—whom the Commissioners appoint.

<https://transition.fec.gov/about/offices/offices.shtml>

ACTIVITIES

The Commission administers and enforces the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (52 U.S.C. 30101 et seq.), and the Revenue Act, as amended (26 U.S.C. 1 et seq.). These laws provide for the public funding of Presidential elections, public disclosure of the financial activities of political committees involved in Federal elections, and limitations and prohibitions on contributions and expenditures made to influence Federal elections.

Public Funding of Presidential Elections

The Commission oversees the public financing of Presidential elections by certifying Federal payments to primary candidates and general election nominees. It also audits recipients of Federal funds and may require repayment to the U.S. Treasury if a committee has made nonqualified campaign expenditures.

Disclosure

The Commission ensures public disclosure of the campaign finance activities reported by political committees supporting Federal candidates. These committees regularly file reports disclosing the sources of campaign money and how that money is spent. The Commission places these reports on the public record within 48 hours after they are received and digitizes the data contained in them.

http://www.fec.gov/ans/answers\_disclosure.shtml

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Congressional Affairs

This Office of Congressional, Legislative, and Intergovernmental Affairs serves as the Commission's primary congressional and executive branch liaison. Phone, 202-694-1006.

https://transition.fec.gov/about/offices/cong\_affairs/cong\_affairs.shtml | Email: congress@fec.gov

Data

Data tables summarizing campaign financial activity by filer type, election cycle, and reporting period are available online.

http://www.fec.gov/press/campaign\_finance\_statistics.shtml

Career Opportunities

The Commission posts available positions on its Web site. Sign up online to receive email updates regarding employment opportunities. Information is also available from the Office of Human Resources. Phone, 202-694-1080.

<http://www.fec.gov/pages/jobs/jobs.shtml> | Email: fejobs@fec.gov

Filing

Information is available online to help filers comply with the disclosure requirements of the Federal campaign finance law.

<http://www.fec.gov/info/filing.shtml>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

FOIA requests may be submitted by email or fax or sent by mail to the Federal Election Commission, Attn: FOIA Requester Service Center, Room 408, 999 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20463. Fax, 202-219-1043.

<http://www.fec.gov/press/foia.shtml> | Email: FOIA@fec.gov

General Inquiries

The Information Division informs and assists Federal candidates, political committees, and the public. It answers questions on campaign finance laws, conducts workshops and seminars on these laws, and distributes publications and forms. Phone, 202-694-1100 or 800-424-9530. TDD, 202-219-3336.

<http://www.fec.gov/pages/contact.shtml> | Email: info@fec.gov

Law Library

The library contains a collection of basic legal research resources on political campaign financing, corporate and labor political activity, and campaign finance reform. It is open to the public on weekdays, 9 a.m.–5 p.m., except on Federal holidays. Phone, 202-694-1516 or 800-424-9530.

<http://www.fec.gov/general/library.shtml>

Media Inquiries

The Press Office answers questions from media sources, issues press releases on Commission actions and statistical data, responds to requests for information, and distributes other materials. Phone, 202-694-1220.

<http://www.fec.gov/press/index.shtml> | Email: press@fec.gov

Public Records

The Public Records Branch, located at 999 E Street NW., Washington, DC, provides space for public inspection of campaign finance reports and statements after 1971. It is open to the public on weekdays, 9 a.m.–5 p.m., except on Federal holidays. Phone, 202-694-1120 or 800-424-9530.

<http://www.fec.gov/pubrec/publicrecordsoffice.shtml> | Email: pubrec@fec.gov
<http://www.fec.gov/pages/contact.shtml>

For further information, contact the Information Division, Federal Election Commission, 999 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20463. Phone, 202-694-1100 or 800-424-9530 (option 6).

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Housing Finance Agency

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL HOUSING FINANCE AGENCY

400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20219

202-649-3800

<http://www.fhfa.gov>

DIRECTOR

Melvin L. Watt

Chief Operating Officer

Lawrence Stauffer, Acting

|  |                                |
|--|--------------------------------|
| Director, Office of Minority and Women Inclusion               | Sharron P. A. Levine           |
| Deputy Director, Division of Conservatorship                   | Bob Ryan, Acting               |
| Deputy Director, Division of Federal Home Loan Bank Regulation | Fred C. Graham                 |
| Deputy Director, Division of Enterprise Regulation             | Nina Nichols                   |
| Deputy Director, Division of Housing Mission and Goals         | Sandra Thompson                |
| General Counsel  | Alfred M. Pollard              |
| Inspector General  | Laura S. Wertheimer            |
| Obmbudsman   | Janell Byrd-Chichester, Acting |

The Federal Housing and Finance Agency ensures that the housing Government-Sponsored Enterprises operate safely and soundly and serve as a reliable source of liquidity and funding for housing finance and community investment.

Organizational Chart

The Federal Housing and Finance Agency (FHFA) was established by the Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008 (42 U.S.C. 4501 note) as an independent agency in the executive branch. The merger of the Federal Housing Finance Board and the Office of Federal Housing Enterprise Oversight, combined with the transfer of the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Government-Sponsored Enterprise mission team, formed the FHFA.

The FHFA is managed by a Director whom the President appoints and the Senate confirms. FHFA's Director also serves as the Chairman of the Federal Housing Oversight Board. The Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, and the Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission are also members of the Board.

<http://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs>

ACTIVITIES

The FHFA provides research and data, supervision, and policies for strengthening and securing the U.S. secondary mortgage markets. It oversees vital components of those markets: the housing Government-Sponsored Enterprises of Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac, and the Federal Home Loan Bank System. Combined, these entities make available more than $5.6 trillion in funding for financial institutions and the U.S. mortgage markets. The FHFA also acts as the conservator of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.

<http://www.fhfa.gov/PolicyProgramsResearch>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Blog

Agency experts share their insights into housing finance issues on the blog "FHFA Insights."

<https://www.fhfa.gov/Media/Pages/Insights.aspx>

Business Opportunities

FHFA contracting operations is responsible for procuring all goods and services, including information technology, that the agency requires.

<http://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs/Business>

Career Opportunities

The Agency's mission-critical professionals include accountants, attorneys, economists, examiners, financial analysts, and information technology specialists. The FHFA also relies on budget and procurement and human resource specialists, facilities managers, policy experts, and student interns, to fill important support roles. The Agency advertises opportunities for employment on its "Careers" Web page. Contact the Office of Human Resources Management for additional information. Phone, 202-649-3807.

<http://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs/Careers>

Dodd–Frank Act Stress Tests

The FHFA requires Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac and Federal Home Loan Banks to conduct stress tests pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/SupervisionRegulation/DoddFrankActStressTests>

The FHFA is categorized as a small agency in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work in the Federal Government rankings. In 2016, the Agency improved its index score.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/FY00>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA established a statutory right of public access to executive branch information in the Federal Government. It gives a right to any person to obtain access to Federal agency records; however, nine exemptions and three special law enforcement exclusions shield certain records from public disclosure.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs/FOIAPrivacy/Pages/FOIA.aspx> | Email: foia@fhfa.gov

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FHFA posts answers to FAQs on various topics: the Home Affordable Refinance Program (HARP), housing price index (HPI), servicing alignment initiative, as well as on conservatorship, Federal Home Loan Bank membership, principal reduction modification, and private mortgage insurer draft eligibility requirements,

<https://www.fhfa.gov/Media/Pages/FAQs.aspx>

History

On September 6, 2008, the FHFA placed Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac into conservatorship because they could no longer carry out their mission without Government intervention. To learn more about this extraordinary action and this critical moment in the history of the Nation's mortgage market, visit the "History of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac Conservatorships" Web page.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/Conservatorship/Pages/History-of-Fannie-Mae--Freddie-Conservatorships.aspx>

A timeline of significant events in the history of the FHFA is available on its Web site.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs/Timeline>

Key Topics

These Web pages contain information on the FHFA's work on a range of national issues. They highlight relevant news releases, reports, statements, and web pages on the key topics.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/KeyTopics>

Meet the Experts

The "Meet the Experts" page contains brief professional biographies of experienced, well-educated FHFA personnel.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/PolicyProgramsResearch/Pages/Meet-the-Experts.aspx>

Navigate by Audience

The "Government" Web page contains consolidated resources for Federal, State, and local government personnel seeking information related to the Nation's housing finance system.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/Government>

The "Homeowners and Homebuyers" Web page guides homeowners and buyers to resources and tools: information on avoiding foreclosure, buying a new home, refinancing an existing home, shopping for a mortgage, understanding the housing markets, and more.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/Homeownersbuyer>

The "Industry" Web page contains consolidated resources for advocacy organizations, investors, mortgage insurers, originators, servicers, small and large companies, trade groups, vendors, and others with an interest in the Nation's housing finance system.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/Industry>

The "Media" Web page gives members of the media and general public access to FHFA expertise on and insight into housing finance.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/Media> | Email: Medialnquiries@fhfa.gov

News

The FHFA posts news releases on its Web site.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/Media/Pages/News-Releases.aspx?k=ContentType%3APublic-Affairs%20AND%20PublicAffairsCategoryOWSCHCS%3A%22News%20Release%22%20AND%20FHFAPublishedDateOWSDATE%3D01%2F01%2F2017%2E%2E12%2F31%2F2017>

Open Government

The FHFA supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs/Policies/Pages/Open-Government.aspx>

Plans / Reports

The FHFA posts performance and strategic plans and various types of reports on its Web site.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs/reportsplans>

Privacy Act of 1974

Fair information practices govern the collection, maintenance, use, and dissemination of an individual's personally identifiable information that a Federal agency maintains in a system of records—in a group of records that an agency controls and from which its staff may retrieve information by using the individual's name or an assigned identifier.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs/FOIAPrivacy/Pages/Privacy.aspx> | Email: Privacy@fhfa.gov

Site Map

The Web site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs/Sitemap>

Social Media

The FHFA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/FHFA>

The FHFA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCoKP7Om6nsRkEav9yInFekw>

Tools

A borrower assistance map, conforming loan limits map, and housing price index (HPI) calculator and motion chart, as well as HPI maps (county, four-quarter appreciation, ZIP5) and summary tables, are available online.

<https://www.fhfa.gov/DataTools/Tools>

<https://www.fhfa.gov/AboutUs/Contact> | Email: fhfainfo@fhfa.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Congressional Affairs and Communications, Federal Housing Finance Agency, 400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20219. Phone, 202-649-3802.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Labor Relations Authority

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL LABOR RELATIONS AUTHORITY

1400 K Street NW., Washington, DC 20005

202-218-7770

<http://www.fra.gov>

AGENCY SUPPORT

---

|                         |                 |
|-------------------------|-----------------|
| CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER | Ernest DuBester |
|-------------------------|-----------------|

|                              |                 |
|------------------------------|-----------------|
| CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER | Ernest DuBester |
|------------------------------|-----------------|

DIRECTORS

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Collaboration and Alternative Dispute Resolution | Michael Wolf |
|--|--------------|

|                              |           |
|------------------------------|-----------|
| Equal Employment Opportunity | (vacancy) |
|------------------------------|-----------|

|           |             |
|-----------|-------------|
| Solicitor | Noah Peters |
|-----------|-------------|

Office of Executive Director

---

|                    |                     |
|--------------------|---------------------|
| Executive Director | Michael W. Jeffries |
|--------------------|---------------------|

DIRECTORS

|                         |              |
|-------------------------|--------------|
| Administrative Services | Xavier Storr |
|-------------------------|--------------|

|                    |                |
|--------------------|----------------|
| Budget and Finance | Gregory Mister |
|--------------------|----------------|

|                 |                |
|-----------------|----------------|
| Human Resources | Paula Chandler |
|-----------------|----------------|

|                                  |                |
|----------------------------------|----------------|
| Information Resources Management | David Fontaine |
|----------------------------------|----------------|

|  |                |
|--|----------------|
| Legislative Affairs and Program Planning | Aloysius Hogan |
|--|----------------|

<https://www.fra.gov/components-offices/offices/office-executive-director>

AUTHORITY COMPONENT

---

|       |                 |
|-------|-----------------|
| CHAIR | Ernest DuBester |
|-------|-----------------|

|         |                 |
|---------|-----------------|
| Members | James T. Abbott |
|---------|-----------------|

|  |                 |
|--|-----------------|
|  | Colleen D. Kiko |
|--|-----------------|

|                             |           |
|-----------------------------|-----------|
| Case Intake and Publication | (vacancy) |
|-----------------------------|-----------|

|                                |                |
|--------------------------------|----------------|
| Chief Administrative Law Judge | David L. Welch |
|--------------------------------|----------------|

|           |             |
|-----------|-------------|
| Solicitor | Noah Peters |
|-----------|-------------|

<https://www.flra.gov/about/flra-leadership>

Federal Service Impasses Panel

---

|       |           |
|-------|-----------|
| CHAIR | (vacancy) |
|-------|-----------|

|         |           |
|---------|-----------|
| Members | (vacancy) |
|---------|-----------|

|           |
|-----------|
| (vacancy) |
|-----------|

<https://www.flra.gov/components-offices/components/federal-service-impasses-panel-fsip-or-panel>

Foreign Service Impasse Disputes Panel

---

|       |           |
|-------|-----------|
| CHAIR | (vacancy) |
|-------|-----------|

|         |                   |
|---------|-------------------|
| Members | Richard T. Miller |
|---------|-------------------|

|           |
|-----------|
| (vacancy) |
|-----------|

|           |
|-----------|
| (vacancy) |
|-----------|

|           |
|-----------|
| (vacancy) |
|-----------|

<https://www.flra.gov/components-offices/components/federal-service-impasses-panel-fsip-or-panel/foreign-service-impasse>

Foreign Service Labor Relations Board

---

|       |                 |
|-------|-----------------|
| CHAIR | Ernest DuBester |
|-------|-----------------|

|         |                |
|---------|----------------|
| Members | Dennis K. Hays |
|---------|----------------|

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
|  | Thomas J. Miller |
|--|------------------|

<https://www.flra.gov/components-offices/components/authority/foreign-service-labor-relations-board>

GENERAL COUNSEL COMPONENT

---

|                 |                          |
|-----------------|--------------------------|
| General Counsel | Charlotte A. Dye, Acting |
|-----------------|--------------------------|

https://www.flra.gov/OGC\_bios

Regional Offices

---

DIRECTORS

|         |               |
|---------|---------------|
| Atlanta | Richard Jones |
|---------|---------------|

|         |                        |
|---------|------------------------|
| Chicago | Greg A. Weddle, Acting |
|---------|------------------------|

|        |                     |
|--------|---------------------|
| Denver | Timothy J. Sullivan |
|--------|---------------------|

|               |               |
|---------------|---------------|
| San Francisco | John Pannozzo |
|---------------|---------------|

|            |                  |
|------------|------------------|
| Washington | Jessica Bartlett |
|------------|------------------|

<https://www.flra.gov/components-offices/components/office-general-counsel-ogc/office-general-counsel-ogc-regional-offices>

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

---

|                   |                |
|-------------------|----------------|
| Inspector General | Dana A. Rooney |
|-------------------|----------------|

<https://www.flra.gov/components-offices/offices/office-inspector-general>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2021.

The Federal Labor Relations Authority oversees labor-management relations between the Federal Government and its employees.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On May 23, 1978, President James E. Carter transmitted his reorganizational plan that consolidated central policymaking functions in Federal labor-management relations to the Senate and the House of Representatives in the U.S. Congress. Part III of Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1978 "established, as an independent establishment in the Executive Branch, the Federal Labor Relations Authority [FLRA]."

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-92/pdf/STATUTE-92-Pg3783.pdf>

The reorganization plan was printed in the Federal Register on August 15, 1978 (43 FR 36037).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1978-08-15/pdf/FR-1978-08-15.pdf>

The reorganization became effective January 1, 1979, pursuant to Executive Order 12107 of December 28, 1978 (44 FR 1055).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1979-01-03/pdf/FR-1979-01-03.pdf>

The FLRA's duties and authority are specified in "Title VII—Federal Service Labor-Management Relations" (92 Stat. 1191) of the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 (PL 95–454).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-92/pdf/STATUTE-92-Pg1111.pdf>

The FLRA comprises three members whom the President nominates and the Senate confirms to 5-year terms. The Chair of the Authority serves as its Chief Executive and Chief Administrative Officer. The Chair also presides over the Foreign Service Labor Relations Board. The General Counsel investigates alleged unfair labor practices, files and prosecutes unfair labor practice complaints before the Authority, and exercises other powers that the Authority may prescribe.

<https://www.flra.gov/about/introduction-flra>

The FLRA is organized into three statutory components: the Authority, the Office of the General Counsel, and the Federal Service Impasses Panel. Each of the components has its own unique adjudicative or prosecutorial roles. The agency also provides program and staff support to two other organizations: the Foreign Service Impasse Disputes Panel and the Foreign Service Labor Relations Board.

<https://www.flra.gov/components-offices>

The FLRA has a number of offices within its three components.

<https://www.flra.gov/components-offices/offices>

The FLRA posts its organizational chart online.

<https://www.flra.gov/about/organizational-chart>

The FLRA posted a press release describing highlights of its updated organizational chart (June 2020).

<https://www.flra.gov/system/files/webfm/FLRA%20Agency-wide/Public%20Affairs/Press%20Releases/Press%20Release%20-%20FLRA%20RELEASES%20UPDATED%20ORGANIZATIONAL%20CHART%206-29-2020.pdf>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1978 has been codified in the United States Code (U.S.C.) and assigned to the Appendix of 5 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5a-node84-leaf186&num=0&edition=prelim>

Statutory material that affects the FLRA has been codified and assigned to Chapter 71, sections 7101–7106, of 5 U.S.C. Chapter 71 has the title "Labor-Management Relations" and runs from section 7101 through 7154.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title5/part3/subpartF/chapter71&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that are associated with the FLRA, General Counsel of the FLRA, and Federal Service Impasse Panel have been codified and assigned to Chapter XIV, parts 2400–2499, of 5 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=cd49c395b33e34776afc1b9dce26710e&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title05/5chapterXIV.tpl

Rules and regulations that are associated with the Foreign Service Labor Relations Board, Federal Labor Relations Authority, General Counsel of the FLRA, and the Foreign Service Impasse Disputes Panel have been codified and assigned to Chapter XIV, parts 1400–1499, of 22 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=00ab5d289e663071e5fe1e32170fe541&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title22/22chapterXIV.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The Authority adjudicates disputes arising under the Federal Labor-Management Relations Program, deciding cases concerning the negotiability of collective bargaining agreement proposals, appeals concerning unfair labor practices and representation petitions, and exceptions to grievance arbitration awards. It also assists Federal agencies and unions in understanding their rights and responsibilities under the program.

The Federal Service Impasses Panel, an entity within the FLRA, assists in resolving negotiation impasses between agencies and unions. The Panel can either recommend procedures to the parties for the resolution of the impasse or assist the parties in resolving the impasse through whatever methods and procedures it considers appropriate, including fact-finding and mediation-arbitration. If the parties do not arrive at a voluntary settlement after receiving Panel assistance, the Panel may take whatever action is necessary to resolve the impasse, including the imposition of contract terms.

The Foreign Service Labor Relations Board and the Foreign Service Impasse Disputes Panel administer provisions of chapter 2 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 3921) concerning labor-management relations. This chapter establishes a statutory labor-management relations program for Foreign Service employees of the U.S. Government. Administrative and staff support is provided by the Federal Labor Relations Authority and the Federal Service Impasses Panel.

<https://www.flra.gov/about/mission>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

The FLRA posts announcements for job openings on USAJobs. For more information, contact the Human Resources Division. Phone, 202-218-7979.

<https://www.usajobs.gov>

In 2020, the FLRA ranked 24th among 29 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work

Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=AU00>

Electronic Filing

To use the FLRA's electronic case filing system, register online and create a user profile. Email addresses are the case filing system's primary means of identifying electronic filers.

https://efile.flra.gov/representatives/sign\_in

Federal Register

Documents that the FLRA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-labor-relations-authority>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions that the statute contains.

<https://www.flra.gov/freedom-information-act-program>

The FLRA maintains an electronic FOIA reading room.

<https://www.flra.gov/elibrary>

Media

Members of the media should contact the Counsel for Regulatory and Public Affairs if they have questions or seek information. Phone, 202-218-7776.

<https://www.flra.gov/about/public-affairs>

News

The FLRA posts press releases on its website. The online archives contain press releases from 2009 through 2014.

https://www.flra.gov/press\_releases

Open Government

The FLRA supports the Federal Government's efforts to increase collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.flra.gov/open-government>

Plain Language

The FLRA adheres to Federal plain language guidelines. To comply with the Plain Writing Act of 2010, the agency relies on the general public. If a document or web page is difficult to understand, alert the FLRA editorial team to the lack of clarity by sending an email.

https://www.flra.gov/plain\_language | Email: engagetheFLRA@flra.gov

Regional Offices

Contact information for each of the five Office of the General Counsel Regional Offices is available online.

<https://www.flra.gov/components-offices/components/office-general-counsel-ogc/office-general-counsel-ogc->

regional-offices

The above Sources of Information were updated 7–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Maritime Commission

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

800 North Capitol Street NW., Washington, DC 20573

202-523-5707

<http://www.fmc.gov>

The Commission

---

CHAIR

Michael A. Khouri

COMMISSIONERS

Rebecca F. Dye

Daniel B. Maffei

Louis E. Sola

(vacancy)

<https://www.fmc.gov/commissioners>

Bureaus and Offices

---

MANAGING DIRECTOR

Karen V. Gregory

BUREAU DIRECTORS

Certification and Licensing

Sandra L. Kusumoto

Enforcement

Benjamin K. Trogdon

Trade Analysis

Florence A. Carr

OFFICE DIRECTOR

Consumer Affairs and Dispute Resolution Services

Rebecca A. Fenneman

Chief Administrative Law Judge

Erin M. Wirth

Equal Employment Opportunity Director

Ebony Jarrett

General Counsel

Tyler J. Wood

Secretary

Rachel E. Dickon

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices>

Office of Inspector General

---

Inspector General

Jonathan Hatfield

---

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices/office-of-inspector-general> | Email: OIG@fmc.gov

The above list of key personnel was updated 6–2019.

The Federal Maritime Commission promotes an efficient, fair, and reliable supply system of international ocean transportation; protects the public from deceptive, unfair, and unlawful practices; and contributes to the integrity and security of the Nation's supply chain and transportation system.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The Federal Maritime Commission (FMC) was established by Reorganization Plan No. 7 of 1961 (46 U.S.C. 301–307), effective August 12, 1961. The FMC is an independent establishment, regulating shipping under the the Shipping Act of 1984, as amended (46 U.S.C. 40101–41309); Section 19 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1920 (46 U.S.C. 42101–42109); the Foreign Shipping Practices Act of 1988 (46 U.S.C. 42301–42307); and Public Law 89–777, approved on November 6, 1966 (46 U.S.C. 44101–44106).

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/fmc-regulations-statutes>

The Commission is composed of five Commissioners, whom the President appoints by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The President may not appoint more than three Commissioners who are from the same political party. The term of each Commissioner is 5 years. When his or her term ends, the Commissioner may continue to serve until a successor is appointed and qualified, but only for 1 year or less. A vacancy is filled in the same manner as the original appointment, which may be extended to include a second term. An individual appointed to fill a vacancy is appointed for the unexpired term of the person being succeeded. That individual may serve two complete terms in addition to the remainder of the term for which the predecessor of that individual was appointed.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title46/pdf/USCODE-2017-title46-subtitle-chap3.pdf>

The FMC posts its organizational chart online.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/organizational-chart>

ACTIVITIES

---

Adjudicatory Procedures

The FMC conducts formal investigations and hearings on its own motion and adjudicates formal complaints in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. note prec. 551).

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices/administrative-law-judges> | Email: judges@fmc.gov

Agreements

The FMC reviews agreements by and among ocean common carriers or marine terminal operators or by and among carriers and operators, which are filed under section 5 of the Shipping Act of 1984, for statutory compliance and for their likely effect on competition. It also monitors activities under all effective agreements for compliance with the provisions of law and its rules, orders, and regulations.

<https://www.fmc.gov/resources-services/vessel-operating-common-carriers><https://www.fmc.gov/resources-services/marine-terminal-operators>

Alternative Dispute Resolution

The FMC reviews informal complaints and assists parties in resolving disputes. Mediation and other dispute resolution services are available to assist parties in achieving a more acceptable resolution to a dispute at less cost than may be possible in litigation. These services are available before and after the commencement of litigation. The Commission also provides an informal process to adjudicate certain complaints involving less than $50,000 in damages.

<https://www.fmc.gov/databases-services/alternative-dispute-resolution-services> | Email: complaints@fmc.gov

Complaints

The FMC reviews alleged or suspected violations of the shipping statutes and rules and regulations of the Commission and may take administrative action to institute formal proceedings, to refer matters to other governmental agencies, or to bring about voluntary agreement between the parties.

<https://www.fmc.gov/databases-services/consumer-affairs-dispute-resolution-services> | Email: complaints@fmc.gov

Economic Analyses

The FMC relies on the Office of Economics and Competition Analysis (OECA) for support in antitrust economics and competition policy. OECA staff analyzes and monitors agreements that are filed with the FMC and that are between ocean carriers or marine terminal operators or between carriers and operators. These agreements are monitored for effects that inhibit competition and for compliance with FMC regulations and U.S. shipping laws.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices/bureau-of-trade-analysis> | Email: tradeanalysis@fmc.gov

Enforcement

The FMC relies on the Bureau of Enforcement (BOE) to serve as its prosecutorial component. Its attorneys participate in formal proceedings as trial counsel and, with the assistance of FMC area representatives, they investigate potential violations of the Shipping Act and FMC regulations. BOE attorneys also negotiate settlements and informal compromises of civil penalties and may participate in factfinding investigations that are initiated under the Shipping Act or the Foreign Shipping Practices Act.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices/bureau-of-enforcement> | Email: boe@fmc.gov

International Affairs

The FMC conducts investigations of foreign governmental and carrier practices that adversely affect the U.S. shipping trade. In consultation with other executive agencies, the FMC takes action to effect the elimination of discriminatory practices on the part of foreign governments against shipping in the United States foreign trade and to achieve comity between the United States and its trading partners.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices/general-counsel> | Email: generalcounsel@fmc.gov

Licenses

The FMC issues licenses to those persons and entities in the United States who wish to carry out the business of providing freight forwarding services and non-vessel-operating common carrier services.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices/bureau-of-certification-and-licensing> | Email: bcl@fmc.gov

Non-Vessel-Operating Common Carrier Service Arrangements

The FMC receives and reviews service arrangements entered into by non-vessel-operating common carriers and their customers. Cargo moving under these service arrangements is exempt from the tariff publication and adherence requirements of the Shipping Act, on the condition that the service arrangements must be filed with the Commission.

<https://www.fmc.gov/resources-services/ocean-transportation-intermediaries>

Passenger Indemnity

The FMC administers the passenger indemnity provisions of the act of November 6, 1966, which require shipowners and operators to obtain certificates of financial responsibility to pay judgments for personal injury or death or to refund fares in the event of nonperformance of voyages.

<https://www.fmc.gov/resources-services/passenger-vessel-operators> | Email: pvo@fmc.gov

Rulemaking

The FMC promulgates rules and regulations to interpret, enforce, and ensure compliance with shipping and related statutes by common carriers and other persons subject to the Commission's jurisdiction.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=77cce38e9b335eb5c0f5f515f1bbe2a2&c=ecfr&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title46/46cfrv9\_02.tpl

Service Contracts

The FMC receives and reviews filings of confidential service contracts between shippers and ocean common carriers. It also monitors publication of certain essential terms of those service contracts.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices/bureau-of-trade-analysis>

Tariffs

The FMC monitors and prescribes requirements to ensure accessibility and accuracy of electronic tariff publications of common carriers engaged in the foreign commerce of the United States. Special permission applications may be submitted for relief from statutory and/or Commission tariff requirements.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices/bureau-of-trade-analysis>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the FMC relies on attorneys, economists, and other professionals.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/employment-opportunities>

In 2018, the FMC ranked 9th among 29 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/MC00>

Contact Information

Contact and other general information is available on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.fmc.gov/contact> | Email: Inquiries@fmc.gov

Cruise Vacations

The FMC has posted the brochure "Cruise Vacations: Know Before You Go" on its website to help potential passengers select an appropriate cruise before purchasing their tickets.

<https://www.fmc.gov/wp-content/uploads/2018/09/PVO2014-508.pdf>

General information and additional resources to help cruise passengers are available on the FMC website.

<https://www.fmc.gov/resources-services/cruise-passenger-assistance>

Events

The FMC posts events upcoming events on its website.

<https://www.fmc.gov/events>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The law gives a right to obtain access to Federal agency records to any person, except a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are, however, shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure may cause. The FMC makes a lot of information publicly available to reduce the need of filing an official FOIA request.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/freedom-of-information-act-requests-reports> | Email: FOIA@fmc.gov

The FMC maintains an electronic reading room on its website.

<https://www2.fmc.gov/readingroom/ProceedingSearch>

Greenhouse Gas Reduction / Sustainable Development

The "Federal Maritime Commission 2017 Strategic Sustainability Performance Plan" is available online. Greenhouse gas reduction is part of the plan.

<https://www.fmc.gov/wp-content/uploads/2018/10/2017SustainabilityPlan.pdf> | Email: omd@fmc.gov

"The maritime industry realized years ago that sustainable development is necessary to the survival of people and businesses—whether it is related to maritime transportation, port development, or infrastructure. Any discussion in the industry now necessarily involves mention of sustainability principles. We know that a cleaner environment means economic growth, job creation, and reduced costs with greater efficiency." (excerpted from Chair Mario Cordero's statement on Earth Day 2016)

<https://www.fmc.gov/chairmans-statement-on-earth-day>

History

In 1961, the White House and Congress made a decision that affected international liner shipping companies and the U.S. merchant marine. To learn more about that decision and the establishment of two new maritime agencies by President John F. Kennedy's Executive order, visit the "History" page on the FMC website.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/our-history>

The FMC maintains an online archive of maritime decisions that are associated with the Department of Commerce, Federal Maritime Board, U.S. Maritime Commission, U.S. Shipping Board, and itself. The archive's content begins with the year 1919.

<https://www.fmc.gov/fmc-reports>

Library

The FMC's law and reference library contains books, directories, encyclopedias, journals, magazines, microforms, reports, and videos. It has specialized material that covers the various segments of the international shipping industry and historical and contemporary regulatory materials that cover all phases of shipping in the U.S. foreign trades. It also has material on economics, engineering, political science, and a collection of legal publications. The library's holdings comprise approximately 8,700 volumes and numerous microfiches, CD-ROMs, and online services. Members of the public may visit the library and use the collection; however, all materials must be used in the library during its hours of operation. Materials are released only through an interlibrary loan request. A librarian is available from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., eastern standard time, Monday–Friday. The library is closed on weekends and Federal Holidays. Phone, 202-523-5762.

<https://www.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/bureaus-offices/law-reference-library> | Email: LibraryInquiries@fmc.gov

All effective vessel-operating common carrier (VOCC) and marine terminal operator (MTO) agreements on file with the FMC are accessible in its electronic agreement library.

<https://www2.fmc.gov/FMC.Agreements.Web/Public>

Moving Overseas

The FMC posts tips for protecting property when shipping goods internationally by sea.

<https://www.fmc.gov/resources-services/protect-your-international-move>

Before shipping a car overseas, become familiar with the laws and regulations of the United States and the destination country regarding which vehicles may be imported and the fees that must be paid.

<https://fmc2.fmc.gov/resources-services/shipping-your-vehicle-overseas>

News

The "FMC Newsroom" posts recent headlines.

<https://www.fmc.gov/news-events>

Notices of Agreements

Recent notices of agreements filed are posted on the "Federal Register" website.

<https://fmc2.fmc.gov/about-the-fmc/weekly-agreement-notice>

Open Government

The FMC supports the Open Government initiative by promoting collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.fmc.gov/open-government>

Resources / Services

The FMC has gathered its resources and services in one place, on a single web page, for its stakeholders. In the "Audiences" section, resources and services are grouped by audience: public, attorneys and litigants, ocean transportation intermediaries (OTIs), passenger vessel operators (PVOs), vessel-operating common carriers (VOCCs), and marine terminal operators (MTOs).

<https://www.fmc.gov/resources-services>

Social Media

The FMC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/FMC\_gov

The FMC posts videos on its YouTube channel.

https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCwKTAIGGHIA0xcN3bDt\_Uqg

The Sources of Information were updated 6–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL MINE SAFETY AND HEALTH REVIEW COMMISSION

1331 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Suite 520N, Washington, DC 20004-1710

202-434-9900

TTY/TDD, 202-434-4000, ext. 293

<http://www.fmshrc.gov> | Email: fmshrc@fmshrc.gov

Commission

---

|       |                         |
|-------|-------------------------|
| CHAIR | Marco M. Rajkovich, Jr. |
|-------|-------------------------|

---

|               |                   |
|---------------|-------------------|
| Commissioners | William I. Althen |
|---------------|-------------------|

---

|  |                     |
|--|---------------------|
|  | Mary Lucille Jordan |
|--|---------------------|

---

|  |                       |
|--|-----------------------|
|  | Arthur R. Traynor III |
|--|-----------------------|

---

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
|  | Michael G. Young |
|--|------------------|

---

<https://www.fms SRC.gov/about/commissioners>

Administration

---

|                    |              |
|--------------------|--------------|
| EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR | Lisa M. Boyd |
|--------------------|--------------|

---

|                                |           |
|--------------------------------|-----------|
| Chief Administrative Law Judge | (vacancy) |
|--------------------------------|-----------|

---

|                 |                   |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| General Counsel | Michael A. McCord |
|-----------------|-------------------|

---

|                       |                   |
|-----------------------|-------------------|
| Senior Policy Advisor | Timothy A. Greten |
|-----------------------|-------------------|

---

The above list of key personnel was updated 4–2019.

---

The Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission ensures compliance with occupational safety and health standards in the Nation's surface and underground coal, metal, and nonmetal mines.

The Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 (30 U.S.C. 801 et seq.), as amended, established the Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission as an independent and adjudicative agency.

The Commission comprises five members whom the President appoints and the Senate confirms. Each Commissioner serves a 6-year term, and all the terms are staggered. The President appoints one of the Commissioners to serve as the Chair. At the trial level, the FMSHRC's administrative judges decide cases. The Commissioners are responsible for appellate review of a decision made by an administrative law judge.

ACTIVITIES

---

FMSHRC provides administrative trial and appellate review of legal disputes arising from enforcement actions taken by the Department of Labor.

The FMSHRC and its administrative law judges decide cases brought before it by the Department of Labor's Mine Safety and Health Administration, mine operators, and miners or their representatives. These cases generally involve review of the Administration's enforcement actions, including citations, mine-closure orders, and proposals for civil penalties issued for violations of the act or the mandatory safety and health standards promulgated by the Secretary of Labor. The FMSHRC also has jurisdiction over discrimination complaints filed by miners or their representatives regarding their safety and health, complaints for compensation filed on behalf of miners idled as a result of mine closure orders issued by the Administration, and disputes involving mine emergency response plans.

Cases brought before the FMSHRC are assigned to a judge in the Office of Administrative Law Judges, and hearings are conducted pursuant to the requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 554, 556) and the FMSHRC's procedural rules (29 CFR 2700).

A judge's decision becomes a final, nonprecedential order of the FMSHRC 40 days after issuance unless it has directed the case for review in response to a petition or on its own motion. If a review is conducted, a decision of the FMSHRC becomes final 30 days after issuance unless a party adversely affected seeks review in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit or the circuit within which the mine subject to the litigation is located.

As far as practicable, hearings are held at locations convenient to the affected mines. In addition to its District of Columbia offices, the Office of Administrative Law Judges maintains offices in Colorado and Pennsylvania.

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/about>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Administrative Law Judges

To ask a question regarding a case before an administrative law judge, send an email to the address below or call the Office of the Administrative Law Judges. Phone, 202-434-9950.

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/about/aljs> | Email: docket@fmshrc.gov

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page has contact information for the Office of the Executive Director and Office of the Administrative Law Judges. The FMSHRC maintains offices in Washington, DC; Denver, CO; and Pittsburgh, PA. Washington—phone, 202-434-9905; fax, 202-434-9906. Denver—phone, 303-844-5267; fax, 303-844-5268. Pittsburgh—phone, 412-920-7240; fax, 412-928-8689.

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/contact> | Email: fmshrc@fmshrc.gov

Decisions

Searchable databases of FMSHRC decisions and decisions of administrative law judges are available online.

<http://www.fmshrc.gov/decisions>

The "Cases on Review" web page includes links to cases currently on review before the FMSHRC and to decisions on appeal before the U.S. Courts of Appeals.

<http://www.fmshrc.gov/content/cases-review>

Federal Mine Safety and Health Act

The FMSHRC has prepared a version of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 that reflects changes made to it by the Mine Improvement and New Emergency Response Act of 2006. This unofficial document is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/content/federal-mine-safety-and-health-act-1977>

Filing

Electronic filing may be done through the FMSHRC's electronic case management system (e-CMS). To use the e-CMS, a filer must register at the FMSHRC-eCMS website. The e-CMS support team is available to provide assistance.

<http://www.fmshrc.gov/guides/instructions-electronic-filing> | Email: e-CMS.Support@fmshrc.gov

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA requires Federal agencies to disclose records after receiving a properly written request. The law does include provisions that shield certain records, or parts of them, from disclosure. The FOIA Service Center assists those seeking information through the FOIA. For more information, write to the Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission, FOIA Service Center, 1331 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Suite 520N, Washington, DC 20004-1710. Phone, 202-434-9935. Fax, 202-434-9944.

<http://www.fmshrc.gov/foia> | Email: foia@fmshrc.gov

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FMSHRC posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/guides/faq>

Guidance

The "Guides" web page includes links to guidance on proceedings, case procedures, reopening a case, electronic filing, and the Freedom of Information Act,

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/guides>

Meetings

The FMSHRC posts audio files of decisional public meetings on its website.

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/meetings-arguments/meetings>

News

The latest FMSHRC news is available online.

<http://www.fmshrc.gov/about/news>

Oral Arguments

The FMSHRC posts audio files of oral arguments on its website.

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/meetings-arguments/arguments>

Organizational Chart

The FMSHRC publishes its organizational chart as part of its "Congressional Budget Justification and Annual Performance Plan." In the budget justification and performance plan for fiscal year 2020 (18 MAR 2019), the chart is on page 5. The key personnel list of commissioners and administrators, which appears at the top of this entry, relies on the organizational chart published in the budget justification and performance plan.

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/plans/fy2020-justification#>

Procedural Rules (29 CFR 2700)

The FMSHRC posts its procedural rules online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.fmshrc.gov/rules/Procedural%20Rules%20Booklet%20Jan%202014.pdf>

Reports / Budget Submissions

The "Reports and Budget Submissions" web page includes links to the FMSHRC's current and past strategic plans, sustainability report, reports to Congress, as well as to its budget and annual performance, buy American, and performance accountability reports.

<http://www.fmshrc.gov/reports-budget-submissions>

The Sources of Information were updated 4–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL MEDIATION AND CONCILIATION SERVICE

250 E Street SW., Washington, DC 20427

202-606-8100

<http://www.fmcs.gov>

Office of the Director

---

|                                       |                      |
|---------------------------------------|----------------------|
| DIRECTOR                              | (vacancy)            |
| Deputy Director                       | Richard R. Giacolone |
| Assistant Director                    | Gary Hattal          |
| Attorney-Advisor                      | Dawn Starr           |
| Equal Employment Opportunity Director | Denise McKenney      |
| Senior Advisor                        | David Thaler         |

<https://www.fmcs.gov/aboutus/agency-departments/office-of-the-director>

DEPUTY DIRECTORS

|                         |                   |
|-------------------------|-------------------|
| Field Operations        | D. Scott Blake    |
| National Representative | Scot Beckenbaugh  |
| Chief Operating Officer | Gregory Goldstein |

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2019.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/aboutus/agency-departments>

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service helps labor and management resolve disputes in industries affecting commerce, offers training in cooperative processes to promote workplace stability and economic growth, and provides alternative dispute resolution services, training, negotiated rulemaking, and public policy facilitation to government entities.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On June 23, 1947, the "Labor Management Relations Act, 1947," became Public Law 80–101 after the Congress enacted it over a veto by President Harry S. Truman. This Act is also referred to as the Taft-Hartley Act because Senator Robert A. Taft and Representative Fred A. Hartley, Jr., sponsored the bill. The Act amended the National Labor Relations Act of 1935, commonly known as the Wagner Act, and established the The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service (FMCS) as an independent agency of the U. S. Government to prevent or minimize the effects of labor-management disputes on the free flow of commerce.

<https://catalog.archives.gov/id/299855>

The FMCS "may proffer its services in any labor dispute in any industry affecting commerce, either upon its own motion or upon the request of one or more of the parties to the dispute, whenever in its judgment such dispute threatens to cause a substantial interruption of commerce" (29 U.S.C. 173). Subsequent emendations to the original Labor Management Relations Act have expanded the scope of the agency's dispute resolution services.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title29/pdf/USCODE-2017-title29-chap7-subchapIII-sec173.pdf>

The President appoints the Director by the advice and with consent of the Senate. The Director is prohibited from engaging in any other business, employment, or vocation (29 U.S.C. 172).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title29/pdf/USCODE-2017-title29-chap7-subchapIII-sec172.pdf>

The FMCS is headquartered in Washington, DC, and it has 10 regional offices and more than 60 field and local offices. It provides mediation and conflict resolution services to industry, government agencies, and communities.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/aboutus>

The agency's organizational chart (AUG 2019) is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/wp-content/uploads/2019/08/FMCS-Org-Structure-August-2019.pdf>

ACTIVITIES

---

The FMCS reduces disruptions to interstate commerce and improves government efficiency by providing skilled mediators to resolve workplace disputes and conflicts arising under the statutory jurisdiction of government entities. FMCS mediators do not enforce laws: They rely on innovative mediation, communication, and relationship building techniques to help disputants achieve consensus.

The FMCS offers its labor mediation and training services in a variety of industries and sectors of the economy, including the private sector (except airlines and railroads), the Federal sector, and the public sector (in States without labor mediation agencies). The Labor-Management Cooperation Act of 1978 recognized the economic benefits of a more proactive approach to workplace stability. The FMCS awards grants to encourage the establishment of local, regional, and industrywide labor management committees to improve labor management relationships, organizational effectiveness, and economic development. The FMCS also promotes workplace innovation, productivity, and competitiveness through collaboration, good labor-management relationships, and problem solving between companies and their workers.

The Administrative Dispute Resolution and Negotiated Rulemaking Acts of 1996 recognized the broader value of FMCS conflict resolution services for government efficiency. The agency was designated as a key resource to help government entities resolve individual employment disputes, design conflict management systems, achieve stakeholder consensus on new regulations, and conduct more effective multi-stakeholder public policy dialogues.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/services>

Mediation / Training

FMCS mediators help parties resolve workplace disputes and establish sound, stable, and enduring labor-management relations. In addition to mediating collective bargaining disputes, mediators facilitate better day-to-day workplace relations through a variety of joint training programs. FMCS mediators also assist other government entities with resolving disputes arising under their jurisdictions.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/services/resolving-labor-management-disputes>

Arbitration

Voluntary arbitration and factfinding are widely used in labor-management relations. Upon request, the FMCS can provide panels of arbitrators who are experienced in labor relations issues. Requests can be tailored, in terms of expertise, fees, geography, and other considerations, to accommodate a variety of requirements.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/services/arbitration>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Calendar

A day-by-day listing of important FMCS events is available online.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/resources/calendar>

Career Opportunities

Stationed in offices nationwide, FMCS mediators are full-time excepted service employees of the Federal Government. They perform duties in five major areas: advocacy, education, and outreach; alternative dispute resolution services to government entities; collective bargaining mediation; grievance mediation; and relationship development training. The ideal applicant seeking to become an FMCS mediator has full-time experience in the collective bargaining process. U.S. citizenship is required.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/careers>

In 2018, the FMCS ranked 1st among 29 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings!

<http://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/FM00>

Conflict Management

The FMCS Institute for Conflict Management offers practical and experience-based conflict resolution training for individuals and groups. Course descriptions and enrollment information are available online.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/services/education-and-outreach/fmcs-institute>

Contact

To ask a question or leave a comment, use the electronic "Feedback Form."

<https://www.fmcs.gov/feedback>

Documents / Data

Budgets and performance information, regulations and policies, speeches and presentations, publications (some in Spanish), and reports are available online. Collective bargaining notice data and work stoppage data are also posted online.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/resources/documents-and-data>

Electronic Updates

The FMCS uses email updates to disseminate information on its dispute resolution services and to announce training opportunities. A sign-up form is available online.

<https://public.govdelivery.com/accounts/USFMCS/subscriber/new>

Find a Mediator

An online search tool is available to find a mediator by city, State, or Zip Code, as well as by name, email, or phone number.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/aboutus/locations/find-a-mediator>

Forms / Applications

Forms and applications needed to obtain FMCS services and funding—arbitration, Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests, labor-management cooperation grants, and notice of bargaining (F-7)—are available online.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/resources/forms-applications>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA requires Federal agencies to disclose records after receiving a proper written request for them. Certain records, however, are shielded from disclosure by provisions contained within the statute. The FMCS has an online FOIA requester center. The specific procedures for requesting its records, FOIA-related contact information, and a link to records that are already accessible online may be found on the "FOIA Requestor Center" web page.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/foia> | Email: foia@fmcs.gov

Subsequent amendments to the FOIA of 1966 require publicly accessible, electronic reading rooms that contain FOIA response documents and other information that is routinely available to the public. Before submitting a FOIA request, see if the FMCS already has placed the desired information in its electronic reading room.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/resources/documents-and-data>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FMCS posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/resources/faqs>

History

A timeline of events in modern American labor relations is available online. The timeline starts with the first Government-mediated settlement in 1838, continues through the creation of the FMCS in 1947 and the West Coast port mediation of 2002, to end currently with President Donald J. Trump's appointment of Richard Giacalone to serve as the agency's acting Director.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/aboutus/our-history>

News

The FMCS maintains an online news archive.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/news>

Regional Offices

Headquartered in Washington, DC, the FMCS delivers services nationwide through its 10 regional and numerous field offices. Contact information for the FMCS national office and its regional and field offices is available online.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/aboutus/locations/regional-offices>

Shared Neutrals

Shared Neutrals, also known as Sharing Neutrals, is an interagency mediation program in the National Capital Region, including the Washington, DC, area and Baltimore. The Shared Neutrals program assists participating Federal agencies through a pool of trained, collateral-duty Federal employees who provide mediation services to an agency, other than their own, in exchange for like services to the program from the recipient agency.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/sharedneutrals>

Site Map

The site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.fmcs.gov/site-map>

Social Media

The FMCS has a Facebook account

<https://www.facebook.com/fmcs.usa>

The FMCS tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/FMCS\_USA

The FMCS posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/FMCSInfo>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Reserve System

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Twentieth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20551

202-452-3000

<http://www.federalreserve.gov>

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

---

|   |                       |
|---|-----------------------|
| CHAIR   | Jerome H. Powell      |
| Vice Chair  | Richard H. Clarida    |
| Vice Chair for Supervision  | Randal K. Quarles     |
| GOVERNORS   |                       |
|   | Michelle W. Bowman    |
|   | Lael Brainard         |
|   | Christopher J. Waller |
|   | (vacancy)             |
| Assistant to the Board and Director   | Michelle A. Smith     |
| https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/bios/board/default.htm |                       |

Federal Reserve Bank Presidents

---

|              |                   |
|--------------|-------------------|
| NEW YORK     | John C. Williams  |
| Atlanta      | Raphael W. Bostic |
| Boston       | Eric S. Rosengren |
| Chicago      | Charles L. Evans  |
| Cleveland    | Loretta J. Mester |
| Dallas       | Robert S. Kaplan  |
| Kansas City  | Esther L. George  |
| Minneapolis  | Neel T. Kashkari  |
| Philadelphia | Patrick T. Harker |
| Richmond     | Thomas I. Barkin  |

San Francisco

Mary C. Daly

St. Louis

James B. Bullard

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/federal-reserve-system-new-york.htm>

Official Staff

Chief Operating Officer

Patrick J. McClanahan

General Counsel

Mark E. Van Der Weide

Secretary

Ann E. Misback

DIRECTORS OF DIVISIONS

Consumer and Community Affairs

Eric S. Belsky

Financial Management

Ricardo A. Aguilera

Financial Stability

Andreas W. Lehnert

Information Technology

Sharon L. Mowry

International Finance

Beth Anne Wilson

Management

Winona Varnon

Monetary Affairs

Trevor A. Reeve

Research and Statistics

Stacey M. Tevlin

Reserve Bank Operations and Payment Systems

Matthew J. Eichner

Supervision and Regulation

Michael S. Gibson

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/officialstaff.htm>

Inspector General

Mark Bialek

<https://oig.federalreserve.gov/the-inspector-general.htm>

The above list of key personnel was updated 4–2021.

The Federal Reserve System keeps the Nation's monetary and financial system flexible, safe, and stable.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On December 23, 1913, President Woodrow Wilson approved Public Law 63–43, whose short title is the "Federal Reserve Act." The Act provided "for the establishment of Federal reserve banks, to furnish an elastic currency, to afford means of rediscounting commercial paper, to establish a more effective supervision of banking in the United States." Pursuant to the Act, the Secretary of Agriculture, Secretary of the Treasury, and Comptroller of the Currency, constituting The Reserve Bank Organization Committee, designated "not less than eight nor more than twelve cities to be known as Federal reserve cities" and divided "the continental United States, excluding Alaska, into districts, each district to contain only one of such Federal reserve cities" (38 Stat. 251).

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/63rd-congress/session-2/c63s2ch6.pdf>

On August 23, 1935, President Franklin D. Roosevelt approved Public Law 74–305, which is also cited as the Banking Act of 1935. The new law provided "for the sound, effective, and uninterrupted operation of the banking system" (49 Stat. 684), amending parts of the Federal Reserve Act. One of the amendments to the earlier Act renamed the Federal Reserve Board: It now became "known as the 'Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.'" The Federal Reserve Board's "governor" and "vice governor" also became "known as the 'chairman' and the 'vice chairman,' respectively, of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System" (49 Stat. 704).

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/74th-congress/session-1/c74s1ch614.pdf>

An organizational chart is accessible in Portable Document Format (PDF) on the "Structure of the Federal Reserve System" web page under "Board Responsibilities."

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/structure-federal-reserve-board.htm>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Statutory material on the subject of banks and banking is codified in 12 U.S.C. The third chapter, sections 221–522, of title 12 is dedicated to the Federal Reserve System.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title12/chapter3&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations whose subject matter is banks or banking are codified in 12 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=267f2409cd6deef4d6a0875bc7f21bb&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title12/12tab\_02.tpl

Subchapter A, parts 200–269b, of 12 CFR is dedicated to codified subject matter associated with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=f90a95ecd3b26b1b4cf2f8d82c26abaa&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title12/12chapterII.tpl

Subchapter B, parts 270–281, of 12 CFR is dedicated to codified subject matter associated with the Federal Open Market Committee.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=4c219c3266aff42e7efd18cf82f1135&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title12/12CIIsubchapB.tpl

STRUCTURE

---

The FRS comprises the Board of Governors; the 12 Federal reserve banks and their branches and other facilities; the Federal Open Market Committee; the Federal Advisory Council; the Consumer Advisory Council; the Thrift Institutions Advisory Council; and the Nation's financial institutions, including commercial banks, savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks, and credit unions.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/structure-federal-reserve-system.htm>

Board of Governors

The Board comprises seven members whom the President appoints by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The President also designates a chair and two vice chairs by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The Chair of the Board is a member of the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial Policies, which is chaired by the Secretary of the Department of the Treasury. The Board determines general monetary, credit, and operating policies for the FRS as a whole and formulates the rules and regulations for carrying out the purposes of the Federal Reserve Act. The Board's principal duties consist of monitoring credit conditions; supervising the Federal reserve banks, member banks, and bank holding companies; and regulating the implementation of some consumer credit protection laws.

Within statutory limitations, the Board has the power to fix the requirements for reserves that depository institutions maintain on transaction accounts or nonpersonal time deposits (an interest-bearing bank deposit account that has a date of maturity, such as a certificate of deposit). The Board reviews and determines the discount rate charged by the Federal reserve banks. For the purpose of preventing excessive credit use for the purchase or carrying of securities, the Board regulates the amount of credit that may be initially extended and subsequently maintained on securities (with certain exceptions).

<http://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/bios/board/boardmembership.htm>

Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC)

The Committee comprises the Board of Governors and five of the presidents of the Federal reserve banks. The Chair of the Board of Governors is traditionally the Chair of the FOMC. The president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York serves as a permanent member. Four of the other 11 reserve bank presidents rotate annually as voting members of the FOMC.

The Federal reserve banks carry out open market operations in accordance with regulations that the FOMC adopts and pursuant to specific policy directives that it issues. Purchases and sales of securities in the open market are undertaken to supply bank reserves for supporting the credit and money needed for long-term economic growth, for offsetting cyclical economic swings, and for accommodating seasonal business and consumer demand for money and credit. These operations are carried out principally in U.S. Government obligations, but they also include purchases and sales of Federal agency obligations. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York executes transactions for the FRS open market account.

Under the FOMC's direction, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York also undertakes transactions in foreign currencies for the FRS open market account. These operations are meant to safeguard the value of the dollar in international exchange markets and facilitate growth in international liquidity in accordance with the needs of an expanding world economy.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/structure-federal-open-market-committee.htm>

Federal Reserve Banks

The 12 reserve banks and their branches function as the operating arms of the FRS. Each reserve bank operates within its own geographic area, or district, of the United States and gathers data and other information on the businesses and the needs of local communities in that district. The FOMC and Board of Governors then factor that information into monetary policy and other decisions.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/structure-federal-reserve-banks.htm>

ACTIVITIES

---

By influencing the lending and investing of depository institutions and the cost and availability of money and credit, the FRS promotes use of human and capital resources, growth of productivity, relatively stable prices, and equilibrium in the Nation's international balance of payments. The agency's supervisory and regulatory banking functions help maintain a commercial banking system that responds to the Nation's financial needs and objectives.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/pf.htm>

Conducting Monetary Policy

The FRS seeks price stability, moderate long-term interest rates, and maximum employment. Under normal economic conditions, the FOMC sets monetary policy by selecting an interest rate. To a bank, that interest rate is the cost of holding reserves. (Reserves are funds held by depository institutions as cash in their vaults or as deposits with their regional Federal reserve bank.) In recent years, the FRS has set a target, or target range, for the Federal funds rate, which is the interest rate that commercial banks charge each other for borrowing reserves for short periods. The open market desk at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York then conducts open market operations—buying or selling U.S. Treasury securities—to change the amount of reserves in the banking system to adjust the Federal funds rate. Since the Federal funds rate is the price of borrowing reserves, open market operations bring the actual Federal funds rate in line with the FOMC's target. The strategy to vary the quantity or the price of reserves in the banking system defines FRS monetary policy.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/monetarypolicy.htm>

Financial Supervision and Regulation

Supervision refers to the oversight and enforcement of regulations to ensure safe and sound banking behavior. The FRS's supervisory and regulatory actions help to build confidence in the banking system. Protecting the integrity of the Nation's financial institutions, fostering stability in financial markets, ensuring compliance with applicable laws and regulations, and encouraging banking institutions to meet responsibly the financial needs of their communities, promote financial stability. The FRS supervises and regulates State member banks (State chartered banks that have chosen to become members of the FRS) and bank and financial holding companies (companies that own banks). The agency also supervises overseas and international operations of regulated financial institutions. Foreign banks with U.S. branches, agencies, and nonbank operations are also subject to supervision. The FRS's banking supervision and regulation units work with other regulators and authorities to ensure that regulations are uniformly applied and consistently enforced throughout the banking system.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/supervisionreg.htm>

Payment Services

The FRS provides payment services, including processing checks and electronic payments, to commercial banks and other depository institutions. The FRS operates a nationwide check clearing system. Traditionally, depository institutions sent the actual paper checks that they had received to reserve banks, which processed and routed them to the originating depository institution for collection. These institutions used their Federal reserve accounts to settle the transactions. Since enactment of the Check Clearing for the 21st Century Act, which is also cited as the Check 21 Act, institutions have been using electronic check clearing options. The Check 21 Act enabled reserve banks to employ electronic image-based solutions for the exchange of check data between depository institutions. Ongoing industry advances continue to improve the process of check clearing and to renew the FRS's role in that process.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-117/pdf/STATUTE-117-Pg1177.pdf>

The FRS provides two types of electronic payment services: fund transfers (Fedwire) and the Automated Clearinghouse (ACH). Fedwire processes payments of all sizes up to a maximum of just less than $10 billion. ACH is used mostly for recurring payments, such as business payrolls, consumer insurance payments, and the U.S. Government's military and civilian payrolls and Social Security benefits.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/paymentsystems.htm>

Protecting and Educating Consumers

The FRS has consumer protection responsibilities. The agency writes consumer protection regulations for the financial industry and enforces consumer protection and civil rights laws and regulations at the banks that it supervises. Community affairs offices across the FRS promote community development and fair and impartial access to credit. In each district of the FRS, economic education offices increase the public's understanding of the role that the FRS plays in the economy.

Services for the Department of the Treasury

As banker and fiscal agent for the Department of the Treasury, the FRS provides services for the Government, primarily through depository institutions. Federal reserve banks provide the Treasury with a checking account. When the Government makes a payment by check or electronically, that payment is usually cashed by or deposited in a commercial bank or similar institution. The FRS processes the payment and deducts the amount from the Treasury's account. Although the Treasury usually keeps the money received from tax payments on deposit at commercial banks, it transfers funds to a Federal reserve bank as needed to make payments. The Federal Government has reduced costs and improved service to the public by using the FRS's electronic payments network. Most regular Federal Government payments, such as Social Security benefits and the Government payroll, are direct deposits made through the FRS's automated clearinghouse service.

Acting as the U.S. fiscal agent, reserve banks sell, transfer, and redeem Government securities; make interest payments on these securities; and assist the Treasury and other Federal Government agencies with their securities in other ways. These actions are done electronically through a system called "Treasury Direct." The Treasury and Federal agencies reimburse the reserve banks for expenses associated with these fiscal agency functions.

Most currency enters circulation and exits circulation through the Federal reserve banks. As the public demands currency from the banking system, depository institutions draw down their accounts at the reserve banks in exchange for additional currency. When currency from the public flows back into depository institutions, those institutions deposit the surplus in their reserve banks. The Department of the Treasury designs and produces U.S. paper money and coin. As the Treasury produces currency, reserve banks put the new money into circulation to meet public needs. The FRS also destroys money that is no longer fit for circulation. By crediting the Government's account, reserve banks "buy" new paper money and coin from the Treasury to replace the notes that they destroy and coin that they return to the U.S. Mint.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

An alphabetical subject index helps visitors navigate the website's content.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/azindex.htm>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FRS records have been assigned to record group 082.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/082.html>

Beige Book

The "Summary of Commentary on Current Economic Conditions by Federal Reserve District" is published eight times per year. Each Federal reserve bank gathers anecdotal information on current economic conditions in its district through reports from bank and branch directors and interviews with key business contacts, economists, market experts, and other sources. The "Summary" or "Beige Book" summarizes this information by district and sector. The Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis maintains an online "Beige Book" archives whose content goes back to 1970.

<https://www.minneapolisfed.org/region-and-community/regional-economic-indicators/beige-book-archive>

Business Opportunities

The FRS generally relies on competitive bidding procedures for purchasing supplies and acquiring services. The process involves issuing a solicitation. Companies respond by submitting bids. The agency awards contracts after evaluating the bidders' prices, and in some cases, their technical abilities.

<http://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/procurement/about.htm>

Calendar

An electronic calendar of FRS events, past and future, is available online.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/newsevents/calendar.htm>

Career Opportunities

The FRS relies on attorneys, economists, financial analysts, research assistants, information technology experts, and other skilled professionals to carry out its mission.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/careers.htm>

Consumer Help

The FRS can help a consumer who is having a problem with a bank or other financial institution. Phone, 888-851-1920. TTY, 877-766-8533. Fax, 877-888-2520.

<https://www.federalreserveconsumerhelp.gov/>

Contact Information

To speak with an FRS operator, call 202-452-3000. TDD, 202-263-4869.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/contact-us-topics.htm>

Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19)

The FRS has published a "Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19)" web page where it posts informational resources and its most recent actions to mitigate the economic effects of the pandemic.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/covid-19.htm>

Currency Academy

The U.S. Currency Education Program website runs the online Currency Academy, where learning about U.S. currency, or money, is fun.

<https://www.uscurrency.gov/educational-materials/classrooms/currency-academy>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FRS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-reserve-system>

Fine Arts

Like all Federal agencies, the Board of Governors may receive gifts of artwork and funds to purchase art. In 1975, former Chairman Arthur F. Burns established the agency's fine arts program. He was responding to President Richard Nixon's urgent desire to continue the development of "the growing partnership between Government and the arts." Chairman Burns created the program to collect and care for artwork and to organize exhibitions in the historic Marriner S. Eccles building. The collection holds more than 1,000 works of art that private individuals have donated. To view a gallery of the Board's permanent collection, visit the "Fine Arts Program" page.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/aroundtheboard/fine-arts.htm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

A request for information may be submitted online with an electronic request form; made in writing and mailed to the Information Disclosure Section, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, 20th and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20551; or sent by facsimile to the Information Disclosure Section. Fax, 202-872-7565.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/foia/request.htm>

The FRS has a FOIA service center to help information seekers learn about the status of a FOIA request or get answers to questions regarding the freedom of information process. The center is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday–

Friday. Phone, 202-452-3684.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/foia/servicecenter.htm>

The FRS maintains electronic FIOA reading rooms. Before submitting a FOIA request, a requester should browse or search the content of the online reading rooms to ensure that the desired information is not already accessible immediately and free of charge.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/foia/readingrooms.htm>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The FRS posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/faqs.htm>

Glossary

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond included a short glossary in its 16th edition (2012) of "The Federal Reserve Today." The glossary starts on page 35.

https://www.richmondfed.org/-/media/richmondfedorg/education/for\_teachers/resources/federal\_reserve\_today/frtoday.pdf#page=40

History

"Hello! This is Liberty speaking—billions of dollars are needed and needed NOW." That message came from Lady Liberty, according to a World War I era depiction of her. To learn more about the role that the FRS played in financing U.S. participation in World War I, visit the "Federal Reserve History" website.

https://www.federalreservehistory.org/essays/liberty\_bonds

In 1957, shortly after the U.S. Congress had enacted a law making "In God We Trust" the official national motto, the first dollar bills bearing the same four words entered circulation. To learn more about the history of American currency, visit the U.S. Currency Education Program's history section.

<https://www.uscurrency.gov/history>

Interest Rates

As part of the "Fed Listens" series, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago hosted a conference (June 2019) on monetary policy strategy, tools, and communication practices. Chair of the Board of Governors Jerome H. Powell gave the opening remarks and spoke about the effective lower bound of interest rates and monetary policy tools.

<https://www.chicagofed.org/conference-sessions/opening-remarks-1>

Monetary Policy

The Federal Reserve Board prepares a semiannual report that discusses monetary policy management, economic developments, and future prospects. It submits this report, which is called the "Monetary Policy Report," to the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs and to the House Committee on Financial Services.

https://www.federalreserve.gov/monetarypolicy/mpr\_default.htm

As part of the "Fed Listens" series, Governor Lael Brainard participated in a community listening session at the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond (May 2019). Her short presentation was titled "How Does Monetary Policy Affect Your Community?"

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/newsevents/speech/brainard20190508a.htm>

Money-Financed Fiscal Programs

William B. English, Christopher J. Erceg, and David Lopez-Salido published the staff working paper "Money-Financed Fiscal Programs: A Cautionary Tale" in the Finance and Economics Discussion Series (2017-060) to stimulate discussion and critical comment. In the paper's abstract they wrote: "A number of prominent economists and policymakers have argued that money-financed fiscal programs (helicopter drops) could be efficacious in boosting output and inflation in economies facing persistent economic weakness, very low inflation, and significant fiscal strains. . . . While we do find that money-financed fiscal programs, if communicated successfully and seen as credible by the public, could provide significant stimulus, we underscore the risks that would be associated with such a program."

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/econres/feds/files/2017060pap.pdf>

News / Events

The FRS posts press releases, speeches, and testimonies online.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/newsevents.htm>

Open Government

The FRS supports the Open Government initiative by promoting collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/open/open.htm>

Photo Gallery

The FRS posts photographs on its website. High resolution images are available on its Flickr photostream.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/photogallery.htm>

Publications

The FRS posts its publications online. The agency's most requested publications are its annual report, "Monetary Policy Report," supervision manuals, and "The Federal Reserve System Purposes and Functions."

<http://www.federalreserve.gov/publications/default.htm>

Quantitative Easing

Michael T. Kiley's working paper "Quantitative Easing and the 'New Normal' in Monetary Policy" is meant to stimulate discussion and critical comment on the economic effects of applying this monetary policy tool.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/econres/feds/files/2018004pap.pdf>

Recent Postings

The most recent postings of the FRS are available on a single web page.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/recentpostings.htm>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/sitemap.htm>

Social Media

The FRS maintains a presence on Facebook, Flickr, LinkedIn, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/contact-us-topics.htm>

What Is The Fed?

The Federal Reserve, which is often referred to as "the Fed," serves as the central bank of the United States. The U.S. Congress created the Fed in 1913 to promote a safer and sounder monetary and financial system for the Nation. To learn more about the Fed, watch the 3-minute video.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wLyh5fSTLLw>

The Sources of Information were updated 4–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL RETIREMENT THRIFT INVESTMENT BOARD

77 K Street NE., Washington, DC 20002

202-942-1600

202-942-1676

<http://www.frtib.gov>

Board Members

---

|       |                        |
|-------|------------------------|
| CHAIR | David A. Jones, Acting |
|-------|------------------------|

|  |                |
|--|----------------|
|  | Dana K. Bilyeu |
|--|----------------|

|  |                   |
|--|-------------------|
|  | William S. Jasien |
|--|-------------------|

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
|  | Ronald D. McCray |
|--|------------------|

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
|  | (vacancy) |
|--|-----------|

<https://www.frtib.gov/BoardMembers/index.html>

Management

---

|                    |              |
|--------------------|--------------|
| EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR | Ravindra Deo |
|--------------------|--------------|

CHIEF OFFICERS

|           |                  |
|-----------|------------------|
| Financial | Susan C. Crowder |
|-----------|------------------|

|            |                |
|------------|----------------|
| Investment | Sean Mccaffrey |
|------------|----------------|

|           |                |
|-----------|----------------|
| Operating | Suzanne Tosini |
|-----------|----------------|

|      |           |
|------|-----------|
| Risk | (vacancy) |
|------|-----------|

|            |             |
|------------|-------------|
| Technology | Vijay Desai |
|------------|-------------|

DIRECTORS

|                              |                |
|------------------------------|----------------|
| Communications and Education | James Courtney |
|------------------------------|----------------|

|                     |                        |
|---------------------|------------------------|
| Enterprise Planning | Renée C. Wilder Guerin |
|---------------------|------------------------|

|                  |                    |
|------------------|--------------------|
| External Affairs | Kimberly A. Weaver |
|------------------|--------------------|

|                      |           |
|----------------------|-----------|
| Participant Services | Tee Ramos |
|----------------------|-----------|

|                     |               |
|---------------------|---------------|
| Resource Management | Gisile Goethe |
|---------------------|---------------|

|                 |                         |
|-----------------|-------------------------|
| General Counsel | Dharmesh Vashee, Acting |
|-----------------|-------------------------|

<https://www.frtib.gov/MeetingMinutes/index.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2021.

The Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board administers the Thrift Savings Plan in the interest of its participants and beneficiaries.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On June 6, 1986, Ronald W. Reagan approved Public Law 99–335, which is also cited as the Federal Employees' Retirement System Act of 1986. The Act established the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board (FRTIB) as an independent agency in the executive branch of the Government (100 Stat. 514).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-100/pdf/STATUTE-100-Pg514.pdf>

The Board includes three members whom the President appoints, and one of them, the President designates to serve as its Chair. The President also appoints two additional members: one is appointed after considering "the recommendation made by the Speaker of the House of Representatives" in consultation with the minority leader of that Chamber; the other is appointed after considering "the recommendation made by the majority leader of the Senate" in consultation with the the minority leader of that Chamber (100 Stat. 578). Board members serve on a part-time basis.

The Act vests responsibility for the agency in six named fiduciaries: the Executive Director and the five Board members. "By action agreed to by a majority of the members," the Board appoints the Executive Director, who is required to have "substantial experience, training, and expertise in the management of financial investments and pension benefit plans." The Director oversees the agency and invests and manages "the Thrift Savings Fund in accordance with the investment policies and other policies established by the Board" (100 Stat. 580).

The FRTIB does not post an organizational chart on its website.

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Statutory material that is associated with the Federal Employees' Retirement System is codified and has been assigned to Chapter 84 (sections 8401–8480) of 5 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title5/part3/subpartG/chapter84&edition=prelim>

Statutory material affecting "Government Organization and Employees" is codified and has been assigned to 5 U.S.C. The heading "Participation in the Thrift Savings Plan" describes section 8351.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5-section8351&num=0&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that govern the FRTIB are codified and have been assigned to Chapter VI (parts 1600–1699) of 5 CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=381bec672672e2c9d813a8633bd18d00&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title05/5cfrv3\_02.tpl#1600

ACTIVITIES

---

The TSP is a tax-deferred, defined contribution plan that constitutes one of the three components of the Federal Employees' Retirement System (FERS). Employees participating in the FERS accumulate savings through the TSP and combine those savings with retirement income from the two other components: Social Security benefits and the FERS Annuity. Employees participating in the Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS) and members of the uniformed services also may take advantage of the TSP to supplement their annuities.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XnlQZa7g\_d4

The FRTIB operates the TSP and manages the investments of the Thrift Savings Fund for the benefit of participants and their beneficiaries. These operational and management responsibilities include maintaining an account for each TSP participant, making loans, purchasing annuity contracts, and providing for the payment of benefits.

<https://www.tsp.gov>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Annuities

The TSP posts a periodically updated factsheet that explains life annuities. The "Annuities" factsheet (MAR 2020) is posted in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.tsp.gov/publications/tsps24.pdf>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that FRTIB records have been assigned to record group 474. Record group 474 does not have a description that is associated with it. It was created in anticipation of the transfer of archival records; however, no transfer had been made before the "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" was updated.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/index-numeric/401-to-500.html>

Business Opportunities

The FRTIB purchases products and services through contracts and agreements with private-sector entities and other Federal agencies. Due to its unique status—a self-funded Federal agency with independent budgetary authority that receives no annual appropriations from the U.S. Congress—the FRTIB is not strictly bound by the Federal Acquisition Regulation. While subject to many of the same procurement laws as other Government agencies, the FRTIB also works under the mandate of the Federal Employees' Retirement System Act. FRTIB fiduciaries are required by that law to manage Thrift Savings Fund assets in the sole interest of the TSP participants and beneficiaries, expending funds to provide benefits to participants and beneficiaries and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the TSP.

<https://www.frtib.gov/Procurement/DoingBusiness.html>

Calculators / Estimators

The TSP website's "Calculators" web page provides convenient access to a collection of calculating and estimating tools.

<https://www.tsp.gov/calculators>

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the FRTIB relies on financial experts, tax attorneys, and other professionals who possess diverse skills and expertise.

<https://www.frtib.gov/Careers/index.html>

In 2019, the FRTIB ranked 19th among 28 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/RF00>

Contact Information

Information for contacting the FRTIB and the TSP is available on the FRTIB website.

<https://www.frtib.gov/contacts.html>

TSP contact information also is available from the "We're Here To Help" web page on the TSP website.

<https://www.tsp.gov/contact>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FRTIB recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-retirement-thrift-investment-board>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA gives a right to access Federal Government records to any person. The FOIA is designed to make Government actions and operations more transparent. It applies to existing records and does not require an agency to create new records for compliance. The FOIA also does not require an agency to collect information that it does not have or to do research or analyze data to fulfill a request. Certain records, or parts of them, may be exempt from disclosure by the Act if one of nine exemptions shields their content. In some cases, the FRTIB provides copies of all of the records that a requester seeks. In other cases, part or all of the information falls under an exemption and is withheld, as the law permits. Before making a FOIA request, browse the holdings of the electronic reading room to see what records already are available and consult the FRTIB's "Freedom of Information Act Guide," which is accessible online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

https://www.frtib.gov/ReadingRoom/FOIA/e-read\_guide.pdf | Email: foiarequest@tsp.gov

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

TSP staff posts answers to questions that are asked frequently.

<https://www.tsp.gov/frequently-asked-questions>

Funds

TSP participants may opt to invest their retirement dollars in one or more of five individual funds: the Common Stock Index Investment Fund (C), Fixed Income Index Investment Fund (F), Government Securities Investment Fund (G), International Stock Index Investment Fund (I), and Small Cap Stock Index Investment Fund (S).

<https://www.tsp.gov/funds-individual>

Each of the TSP's 10 lifecycle (L) funds is a diversified blend of the 5 individual core funds (C, F, G, I, and S).

<https://www.tsp.gov/funds-lifecycle>

Glossary

The January 2021 edition of the "Summary of the Thrift Savings Plan" has a glossary of terms that starts on page 23.

The summary is posted in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.tsp.gov/publications/tspbk08.pdf>

History of Share Prices

The TSP website's "Share Price History" web page allows visitors to retrieve share prices for all of the individual and lifecycle funds from a specified range of dates.

<https://www.tsp.gov/fund-performance/share-price-history>

Meeting Minutes

Starting with the year 2007 and continuing to the present, minutes of the meetings of FRTIB members are available online.

<https://www.frtib.gov/MeetingMinutes/index.html>

News / Resources

To keep abreast of TSP announcements, news, and popular resources, visit the "News and Resources" web page.

<https://www.tsp.gov/whatsnew/index.html>

Rates of Return

Annual and monthly rates of return for each of the individual and life cycle funds are available on the TSP website's "Rates of Return" web page.

<https://www.tsp.gov/fund-performance>

Reading Room

Benchmark evaluation and investment option review reports, employee and participant surveys, financial statements, FOIA reports, frequently requested records, press releases, regulations, reports to the U.S. Congress, strategic plans, and other documents are available online in the FRTIB's reading room.

<https://www.frtib.gov/ReadingRoom/index.html>

Social Media

The TSP has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/tsp4gov>

The TSP tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/tsp4gov>

The TSP posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/tsp4gov>

TSP Basics

The "TSP Basics" web page highlights the following topics: fitting the TSP into a comprehensive plan for retirement, moving money into the TSP, administrative and investment expenses, and designating beneficiaries.

<https://www.tsp.gov/tsp-basics>

The Sources of Information were updated 5–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Federal Trade Commission

The United States Government Manual

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20580

202-326-2222

<http://www.ftc.gov>

COMMISSION

---

|                    |                      |
|--------------------|----------------------|
| CHAIR              | Lina Khan            |
| Commissioners      | Rohit Chopra         |
|                    | Noah J. Phillips     |
|                    | Rebecca K. Slaughter |
|                    | Christine S. Wilson  |
| Chief of Staff     | Jennifer Howard      |
| Chief Technologist | Erie Meyer           |

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/commissioners>

BUREAUS

---

|                     |                       |
|---------------------|-----------------------|
| Competition         | Holly Vedova, Acting  |
| Consumer Protection | Samuel Levine, Acting |
| Economics           | Marta Wosińska        |

OFFICES

---

|  |                          |
|--|--------------------------|
| EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR                                   | David B. Robbins         |
| DIRECTORS  |                          |
| Equal Employment Opportunity and Workplace Inclusion | Namon C. Friends, Acting |
| Congressional Relations                              | Jeanne Bumpus            |
| International Affairs                                | Randolph W. Tritell      |
| Public Affairs                                       | Lindsay Kryzak           |
| Policy Planning                                      | Sarah Mackey, Acting     |

---

 CHIEFS

---

Administrative Law Judge

D. Michael Chappell

Legal Officer

Reilly Dolan, Acting

Privacy Officer

John Krebs

General Counsel

Reilly Dolan, Acting

Secretary of the Commission

April Tabor

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/bureaus-offices>

---

 OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

---

Andrew Katsaros

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/office-inspector-general>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2021.

The Federal Trade Commission protects America's consumers and enforces laws prohibiting anticompetitive, deceptive, or unfair business practices.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) was established in 1914 by the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 41-58). The Commission comprises five members whom the President appoints with the advice and consent of the Senate for 7-year terms. No more than three of the Commissioners may be members of the same political party. The President designates one of them as Chair of the Commission to oversee its administrative management.

The FTC's statement of organization has been codified in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) and assigned to Part 0 of 16 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=1eef003b863924b104aa3a379a1a8b5c&mc=true&node=pt16.1.0&rgn=div5>

The FTC posts its organizational chart (JUN 2021) in Portable Document Format for viewing and downloading.

https://www.ftc.gov/system/files/attachments/about-ftc/ftc\_org\_chart\_0.pdf

ACTIVITIES

The FTC protects consumers and promotes competition in broad sectors of the economy. It safeguards and strengthens free and open markets and helps consumers make informed choices. The FTC carries out its mission by using a variety of tools: consumer and business education, law enforcement, research, rulemaking, and studies of marketplace trends and legal developments. The FTC envisions a vigorously competitive U.S. economy offering accessible and accurate information to consumers, an economy yielding high-quality products at competitive prices and fostering efficiency, innovation, and consumer choice.

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc>

Competition

The FTC prevents anticompetitive mergers and works to keep the marketplace free from anticompetitive business practices. To promote competition, the FTC engages in six law enforcement-related activities: premerger notification, merger and joint venture enforcement, merger and joint venture compliance, nonmerger enforcement, nonmerger compliance, and antitrust policy. Policy initiatives, research, and business guidance and education also play a role in promoting competition.

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/bureaus-offices/bureau-competition>

Consumer Protection

The FTC brings a variety of consumer protection cases and works with State attorneys general and other State and local consumer protection officials. To protect consumers, it relies on five law enforcement functions: privacy and identity protection, financial practices, marketing practices, advertising practices, and enforcement. Policy initiatives, research, and business and consumer education also enhance protection.

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/bureaus-offices/bureau-consumer-protection>

Enforcement

The FTC's law enforcement activities foster voluntary compliance with the law, but also include formal administrative or Federal court litigation leading to mandatory orders against offenders.

The FTC can issue an administrative complaint or authorize the filing of a Federal district court complaint charging a person, partnership, or corporation with violating one or more of the statutes that the FTC enforces. If the charges are not contested, settled by consent of the parties, or found to be true after an administrative hearing or a Federal court trial, an administrative law judge or Federal court judge will issue an order requiring discontinuance of the unlawful practices. The FTC also may request that a U.S. district court issue preliminary relief to halt allegedly unfair or deceptive practices, to prevent an anticompetitive merger or unfair methods of competition from taking place, or to prevent violations of any statute that the FTC enforces, pending the full adjudication of the matter. In Federal court, the FTC may obtain other relief, including monetary redress. An order issued after an administrative or Federal court proceeding that requires the respondent to cease and desist or take other corrective action may be appealed.

<https://www.ftc.gov/enforcement>

International Affairs

With other nations and international organizations, the FTC promotes sound competition and consumer protection policies and provides technical assistance to nurture competition and enable consumer protection agencies to perform their missions.

<https://www.ftc.gov/policy/international>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Antitrust Violations

To report an antitrust violation, contact the Bureau of Competition's Office of Policy and Coordination. Phone, 202-326-3300.

<https://www.ftc.gov/faq/competition/report-antitrust-violation> | Email: antitrust@ftc.gov

Business Opportunities

For information on contracts and procurement, contact the Assistant Chief Financial Officer for Acquisitions. Phone, 202-326-2339. Fax, 202-326-3529.

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/bureaus-offices/office-executive-director/financial-management-office/acquisitions>

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the FTC relies on attorneys, investigators, and specialists in financial management, information technology, public affairs, public policy, and in other fields. The agency posts current job vacancies on its Web site. Information on benefits, diversity, working at the FTC, and the application process is also accessible online. For additional information, contact the Human Capital Management Office. Phone, 202-326-2021. TTY, 202-326-3422.

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/careers-ftc>

The Partnership for Public Service categorizes the FTC as a midsize agency. In the Partnership's 2020 Best Places To Work in the Federal Government rankings, the FTC placed second in its 25-agency category

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=FT00>

Consumer Complaints

The FTC relies on complaints from consumers to detect patterns of abuse and fraud. A complaint may be filed in English or Spanish and online or by phone. The FTC enters complaints into Consumer Sentinel, a secure online database that civil and criminal law enforcement agencies in the U.S. and abroad can access. Phone, 877-382-4357.

<https://www.ftccomplaintassistant.gov>

Contact Information

Addresses (electronic and postal), links, and phone numbers are available on the "Contact the Federal Trade Commission" web page.

<https://www.ftc.gov/contact>

Credit Reports

The Fair Credit Reporting Act requires each of the nationwide credit reporting companies to provide a free credit report, upon request, once every 12 months.

<https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/0155-free-credit-reports>

Do Not Call Registry

Register a home or mobile phone for free on the National Do Not Call Registry to eliminate most telemarketing calls.

<https://www.donotcall.gov>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the FTC recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/federal-trade-commission>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA generally provides that any Individual has the right to make a request for Federal agency records or information; all Federal Government agencies are required to disclose records upon receiving a written request for them; nine exemptions, in addition to limits to FOIA, shield certain records from disclosure. The Federal FOIA does not provide access to records that State or local government agencies hold, or that private businesses or individuals hold.

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/foia>

History

American Presidents are a part of the FTC's history. To learn which President helped pave the way toward the Commission's creation, whose signature approved the Federal Trade Commission Act, which President literally helped with the building, and which 21st-century President paid a visit to the FTC, see the "Our History" Web page.

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/our-history>

Identity Theft

Use IdentifyTheft.gov to report identity theft and formulate a personal recovery plan.

<https://www.identitytheft.gov>

Open Government

The FTC supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.ftc.gov/site-information/open-government>

Regional Offices

A map of the seven FTC regions—East Central, Midwest, Northeast, Northwest, Southeast, Southwest, and Western—and contact information for the regional offices representing them are available online.

<https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/bureaus-offices/regional-offices>

Scam Alerts

Stay abreast of new scams with the latest information and practical tips. An online subscription form is available to receive scam alerts by email.

<https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/scam-alerts>

Workshops

Information on conferences and workshops is available online.

<https://www.ftc.gov/news-events>

The above Sources of Information were updated 7-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

General Services Administration

The United States Government Manual

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

1800 F Street NW., Washington, DC 20405

<http://www.gsa.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

Robin Carnahan

Deputy Administrator

Katy Kale

Chief of Staff

Brett Prather

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/organization/office-of-the-administrator/administrator-bio>

National Services

---

COMMISSIONERS

Federal Acquisition

Sonny Hashmi

Public Buildings

Nina M. Albert

Regional Services

---

Region 1–New England

Glenn C. Rotondo, Acting

Region 2–Northeast and Caribbean

Michael Gelber, Acting

Region 3–Mid-Atlantic

Joanna Rosato, Acting

Region 4–Southeast Sunbelt

Kevin Kerns, Acting

Region 5–Great Lakes

John Cooke, Acting

Region 6–Heartland

Mary A. Ruwwe, Acting

Region 7–Greater Southwest

Giancarlo Brizzi, Acting

Region 8–Rocky Mountain

Penny Grout, Acting

Region 9–Pacific Rim

Daniel R. Brown, Acting

Region 10–Northwest / Arctic

Chaun Benjamin, Acting

Region 11–National Capital

Darren Blue, Acting

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/gsa-regions>

Staff Offices

---

ASSOCIATE ADMINISTRATORS

Civil Rights

Aluanda Drain, Acting

|  |                     |
|--|---------------------|
| Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs  | Giannelle Rivera    |
| Government-wide Policy                       | Krystal Brumfield   |
| Mission Assurance                            | Robert J. Carter    |
| Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization | Exodie C. Roe III   |
| Strategic Communication                      | Teressa Wykpisz-Lee |

CHIEF OFFICERS

|                         |                 |
|-------------------------|-----------------|
| Administrative Services | Robert Stafford |
| Customer                | Ed Walters      |
| Financial               | Gerard Badorrek |
| Human Capital           | Traci DiMartini |
| Information             | David A. Shive  |
| General Counsel         | Nitin Shah      |

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/organization/gsa-leadership-directory>

Independent Offices

CIVILIAN BOARD OF CONTRACT APPEALS

|       |                    |
|-------|--------------------|
| Chair | Erica S. Beardsley |
|-------|--------------------|

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/organization/leadership-directory/chair-civilian-board-of-contract-appeals>

|                   |                |
|-------------------|----------------|
| Inspector General | Carol F. Ochoa |
|-------------------|----------------|

<https://www.gsaig.gov/content/meet-ig>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7-2021.

The General Services Administration delivers value and savings in real estate, acquisition, technology, and other mission-support services across Government.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The General Services Administration (GSA) streamlined the Federal Government's administrative work. Its creation involved consolidating the Federal Works Agency, the National Archives Establishment, and the Public Buildings Administration; the Bureau of Federal Supply and the Office of Contract Settlement; and the War Assets Administration into a single Federal agency that would administer supplies and provide workplaces for Federal employees.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/background-and-history>

On June 30, 1949, President Harry S. Truman approved Public Law 81–152, which also is cited as the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949. Section 101 of Title I of that statute deals with the organization of the General Services Administration (GSA). To head the new agency, the statute provides for the office of an Administrator of General Services, whom the President appoints by the advice and with the consent of the Senate (63 Stat. 379).

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/81st-congress/session-1/c81s1ch288.pdf>

Pursuant to Public Law 81–109, which is also cited as the Reorganization Act of 1949, President Truman transmitted Reorganization Plan No. 18 of 1950 to the U.S. Congress on March 13 of that same year. The plan transferred functions of building and space management to the Administrator of General Services.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5a-node84-leaf122&num=0&edition=prelim>

The Reorganization Act of 1949 also required that each ensuing plan of reorganization be published in the Federal Register (63 Stat. 206). On May 25, 1950, Reorganization Plan No. 18 was one of 16 reorganization plans published in the daily issue (15 FR 3177).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1950-05-25/pdf/FR-1950-05-25.pdf>

The GSA posts its organizational chart online.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/gsa-organization>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Subtitle I of 40 U.S.C. is dedicated to statutory material affecting Federal property and administrative services. Chapter 3, which comprises sections 301–323, is dedicated to the organization of the GSA.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title40/subtitle1&edition=prelim>

Part 105–53 of 41 CFR is dedicated to the GSA's statement of organization and functions.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=43d7a5329a09931825fc019b64f070b8&mc=true&node=pt41.3.105\_653&rgn=div5

ACTIVITIES

---

The GSA started out, disposing of war surplus goods, managing and storing Government records, handling emergency preparedness, and stockpiling strategic supplies for wartime. It also regulated the sale of various office supplies to Federal agencies and managed a few unexpected operations (e.g., abacá plantations abroad). Today, the GSA provides the spaces, technical innovations, and goods and services that are essential for operating the Federal Government. It provides workplaces by constructing, managing, and preserving Government buildings and by leasing and managing commercial real estate. Its acquisition solutions offer private sector professional services, equipment, supplies, telecommunications, and information technology to Government organizations and the U.S. military. GSA leadership in technology helps agencies buy, build, and use technology in ways that support their missions and better serve the public. The GSA also implements Governmentwide policies to promote best practices of management and efficiency in operations.

Governmentwide Policymaking

The Office of Government-wide Policy (OGP) uses policies, data, and strategy to achieve efficiency and effective management across the Federal Government for key administrative areas: acquisition, fleet management travel and transportation, information technology modernization, and real estate management. The OGP influences agency behavior in these areas through the development of Governmentwide policy, performance standards, data analysis and benchmarking, and reporting of Governmentwide data.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/organization/office-of-governmentwide-policy-overview>

Product Acquisition / Service Management

The Federal Acquisition Service (FAS) offers more than 28 million different products and services to Federal agencies and delivers annually over $60 billion in information technology products, services, and solutions; telecommunication services; assisted acquisition services; travel and transportation management solutions; motor vehicle and fleet services; and charge card services. The FAS manages over 219,000 vehicles, more than 3.5 million charge cards, and provides personal property disposal services that facilitate the reuse of $1 billion in excess and surplus personal property every year. The FAS leverages the buying power of the Federal Government to negotiate prices on products and services that agencies require for daily operations. By arranging a network of service providers for information technology and total solutions for law enforcement, including security and facility management systems, the FAS meets the operating and mission requirements of an array of Federal agencies and State, Tribal, and local governments. Leveraging its technology transformation services and information technology portfolios, the FAS is developing and deploying Centers of Excellence to improve the public's experience with Government by obtaining and sharing technology applications, platforms, and processes that make Federal services more accessible, efficient, and effective.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/organization/federal-acquisition-service>

Workspace Acquisition / Property Management

The Public Buildings Service (PBS) provides quality facility and workspace solutions to more than 50 Federal agencies, disposes of excess or unneeded Federal properties, and promotes the adoption of innovative workplace solutions and technologies. It acquires space on behalf of the Federal Government through new construction and leasing and acts as a caretaker for Federal properties across the country. As the largest public real estate organization in the United States, the PBS owns or leases more than 8,800 assets and maintains an inventory of nearly 370 million square feet of rentable workspace. This inventory includes more than 413 buildings that are on the National Register of Historic Places. The PBS works with its Federal customers to reduce, overall, the need for workspace and the costs that are associated with acquiring and managing it.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/organization/public-buildings-service>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

---

A–Z Index

An alphabetized list of frequently visited web pages on the GSA website is available online.

<https://www.gsa.gov/website-information/az-index>

Annual Reports

To enable a more informed assessment of performance, the GSA posts its annual financial report and performance report on the "Annual Reports" web page.

<https://www.gsa.gov/reference/reports/budget-performance/annual-reports>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that GSA records have been assigned to record group 269.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/269.html>

Auctions

The GSA Auctions website is a final part of the agency's transition to becoming an entirely electronic asset management system. The site allows the general public to bid electronically on a wide selection of Federal assets. The auctions are web-enabled: All registered participants may bid on items within specified timeframes. Federal personal property assets, such as airplanes, furniture, heavy machinery, office equipment, scientific equipment, vehicles, vessels, and other items, which may be located anywhere nationwide, can be purchased by online bidders whose physical location is restricted only by Internet access.

<https://gsaauctions.gov> | Email: gsaauctionshelp@gsa.gov

Blogs

The "GSABlog" is available on the agency's main website. Ten other blogs that are associated with the GSA also are accessible on the "GSABlog" web page. These blogs include the 18F Blog, Citizencience.gov Blog, Code.gov Blog, Data.gov Blog, DigitalGov Blog, FedRAMP Blog, IT Accessibility Blog, and USA.gov Blog, as well as the blogs "Around the Corner" and "Great Government Through Technology."

<https://www.gsa.gov/blog>

Business Opportunities

The GSA serves as the Federal Government's procurement arm. It offers facilities, products, and services that Federal agencies use to benefit the public. The GSA also gives businesses the opportunity to sell billions of dollars worth of products and services to Federal agencies.

<https://www.gsa.gov/buying-selling/getting-started-with-gsa-purchasing-programs>

The Office of Small Business Utilization web pages has information on opportunities, resources, and training for owners of small businesses. Phone, 855-672-8472.

<https://www.gsa.gov/small-business>

Career Opportunities

The GSA relies on professionals with diverse academic backgrounds, life experiences, and skills to carry out its mission.

It encourages Federal and private sector employees, Peace Corps volunteers and staff, persons with disabilities, recent retirees, students and recent graduates, veterans, and others to apply for job openings. For more information, contact the national recruitment center. Phone, 816-823-2006.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/careers> | Email: NRC@gsa.gov

In 2019, the GSA ranked 7th among 25 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/GS00>

Consumer Rights

The "Consumer Action Handbook" is a free resource guide that provides general information on shopping for goods and services, information for filing a complaint about a purchase, and tips on consumer rights. Its contents also include a sample complaint letter and a consumer assistance directory that contains contact information for Government agencies and national corporations. The handbook is available in English and Spanish. A digital version in Portable Document Format (PDF) may be downloaded from the USA.gov website. A hardcopy may be ordered online; over the phone, weekdays, 8 a.m.–8 p.m., excluding Federal holidays; or by writing to USAGov–Handbook, Pueblo, CO 81009. Phone, 844-872-4681.

<https://www.usa.gov/handbook>

Contact GSA

The "Contact Us" web page has live chat, an electronic form for submitting questions, a phone number, and a link that leads to an electronic agencywide staff directory.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/contact-us> | Email: press@gsa.gov

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the GSA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/general-services-administration>

Federal Relay (FedRelay)

FedRelay provides telecommunications services to Federal agencies and tribal governments for conducting official business with people who struggle with deafness, hearing impairments, or speech disabilities. The general public also may use FedRelay for conducting business with Federal agencies. Phone, 855-482-4348.

<https://www.gsa.gov/technology/technology-purchasing-programs/telecommunications-and-network-services/federal-relay-fedrelay> | Email: ITCSC@gsa.gov

Forms

An electronic forms library is available on the GSA website. The library has an easily accessible collection of the forms that are most frequently downloaded.

<https://www.gsa.gov/reference/forms> | Email: forms@gsa.gov

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute. The GSA participates in FOIAonline, which enables users to submit a FOIA request to all participating agencies, track the status of a request, search for requests submitted by others, access previously released records, and generate agency-specific FOIA processing reports.

<https://foiaonline.gov/foiaonline/action/public/home#participatingAgencies> | Email: gsa.foia@gsa.gov

Governmentwide Initiatives

The GSA is involved with dozen of initiatives whose scope is governmentwide.

<https://www.gsa.gov/governmentwide-initiatives>

Help Government Find Answers

The GSA maintains the Challenge.gov website, which is the official hub for prize competitions and challenges across the Federal Government. It is a web platform that assists Federal agencies with inviting the public to submit ideas and solutions for solving specific problems.

<https://www.challenge.gov>

Historic Preservation

The GSA posts historic preservation resources and tools on its website.

<https://www.gsa.gov/real-estate/historic-preservation/historic-preservation-policy-tools/preservation-tools-resources>

History

The GSA has posted a brief history that describes its establishment, original mission, accomplishments through the decades, and changes that it has undergone.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/background-history/a-brief-history-of-gsa>

"GSA70—Supporting Modernization, Innovation, and Efficiency" is a video timeline that celebrates the agency's 70th anniversary and highlights 7 decades of achievements, which include renovating the Presidential residence, starting a Governmentwide motor pool, creating a Federal telecommunications system, introducing the first Government charge card, opening childcare centers in Federal buildings, creating the Government's first official web portal (FirstGov.gov), moving email to a cloud-based system, and more.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=czy4eQ5iGhU>

Inspector General

The Office of Inspector General operates a fraud hotline for reporting abuse, fraud, and waste in GSA programs or mismanagement or violations of law, regulations, and rules by GSA employees or contractors. Phone, 202-501-1780 or 800-424-5210.

<https://www.gsaig.gov/hotline> | Email: fraudnet@gsa.gov

Newsroom

The GSA posts congressional testimonies, news releases, and photo galleries on its website.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/newsroom> | Email: press@gsa.gov

Open Government

The GSA supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.gsa.gov/governmentwide-initiatives/gsas-open-government-initiatives>
Open.Government@gsa.gov

Email:

Payroll Calendars

The payroll services branch of the Office of the Chief Financial Officer posts payroll calendars in Portable Document Format (PDF) on the GSA website for viewing and downloading. Phone, 844-303-6515.

<https://www.gsa.gov/buying-selling/purchasing-programs/shared-services/payroll-shared-services/payroll-calendars>

Per Diem Rates

The GSA sets the per diem rates for Federal travel within the continental United States. Per diem is the allowance for incidental expenses, lodging, and meals. The GSA website features a search tool for finding current rates in the continental United States by State or ZIP Code or by clicking on a map.

<https://www.gsa.gov/travel/plan-book/per-diem-rates> | Email: travelpolicy@gsa.gov

Plain Language

The "Plain Writing Act of 2010" was passed by Congress and approved by the President to improve the effectiveness of Federal agencies and increase their accountability to the public "by promoting clear Government communication that the public can understand and use." The GSA is committed to writing agency documents and its website content in plain language.

<https://www.gsa.gov/governmentwide-initiatives/plain-language>

Presidential Transition Directory

The 2020 directory connects the people who are helping plan and design the next Federal Government with information and resources that are relevant to their efforts.

<https://www.gsa.gov/governmentwide-initiatives/presidential-transition-directory>

Properties

The GSA owns and leases over 376.9 million square feet of space in 9,600 buildings in more than 2,200 communities nationwide. In addition to office buildings, GSA properties include courthouses, data processing centers, laboratories, land ports of entry, and post offices.

<https://www.gsa.gov/real-estate/gsa-properties>

Real Property Disposal

The Office of Real Property Utilization and Disposal is a governmentwide realty services provider. It provides information on the handling of excess real property and on properties that are being offered for sale.

<https://disposal.gsa.gov>

Regional Offices

The GSA operates 11 regional offices.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/gsa-regions>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<http://www.gsa.gov/portal/site/map>

Social Media

In addition to a main Facebook page, the GSA has other pages that are associated with its component organizations and programs and its activities and services. The "Social Media at GSA" web page allows visitors to see GSA's entire Facebook presence on social media.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/newsroom/social-media-at-gsa#Facebook> | Email: socialmedia@gsa.gov

The GSA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on its Twitter accounts. In addition to a main Twitter feed, the GSA has other feeds that are associated with its component organizations and programs and its activities and services. The "Social Media at GSA" web page allows visitors to see GSA's entire Twitter presence on social media.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/newsroom/social-media-at-gsa#Twitter>

The GSA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/usgsa>

Staff Directory

The GSA maintains an electronic staff directory on its website. After August 1, 2020, the staff directory will be accessible only as a Comma-Separated Values (CSV) file, which allows users to view, search, and download the directory's content.

<https://www.gsa.gov/staff-directory>

Sustainable Facilities (SF) Tool

The SFTool supports the efforts of designers, facility managers, purchasing agents, tenants, and others to make buildings healthier and more efficient and to become more environmentally-responsible in their purchasing.

<https://sftool.gov> | Email: sustainability@gsa.gov

Upcoming Events and Training

The GSA posts upcoming events and training on its "GSA Events" web page.

<https://www.gsa.gov/about-us/events-and-training/gsa-events>

USA.gov

USA.gov is a governmentwide guide to information and services.

<https://www.usa.gov>

The Sources of Information were updated 7-2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Inter-American Foundation

The United States Government Manual

INTER-AMERICAN FOUNDATION

1331 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Suite 1200 North, Washington, DC 20004

202-360-4530

<http://www.iaf.gov>

CHAIR

Eduardo Arriola

Vice Chair

Juan Carlos Iturregui

Secretary

Jack C. Vaughn, Jr.

|   |                    |
|---|--------------------|
| Director                                  | J. Kelly Ryan      |
| Director                                  | Luis A. Viada      |
| Director                                  | Roger W. Wallace   |
| Director                                  | (vacancy)          |
| Director                                  | (vacancy)          |
| Director                                  | (vacancy)          |
| President / Chief Executive Officer       | Paloma Adams-Allen |
| Chief Operating Officer                   | Lesley Duncan      |
| General Counsel                           | Paul Zimmerman     |
| MANAGING DIRECTORS                        |                    |
| Grant-Making and Portfolio Management     | Marcy Kelley       |
| Networks and Strategic Initiatives        | Stephen Cox        |
| Office of External and Government Affairs | (vacancy)          |

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

The Inter-American Foundation supports social and economic development in Latin America and the Caribbean.

The Inter-American Foundation (IAF) was created in 1969 (22 U.S.C. 290f) as an experimental U.S. foreign assistance program. The Foundation is governed by a nine-person Board of Directors whom the President appoints with the advice and consent of the Senate. Six members are drawn from the private sector and three from the Federal Government. The Board of Directors appoints the president of the Foundation.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/at-a-glance-3798>

In Latin America and the Caribbean, the IAF promotes equitable, participatory, and sustainable self-help development by awarding grants and giving other technical assistance directly to local organizations throughout the region. It also partners with the public and private sectors to build support and to mobilize local, national, and international resources for grassroots development.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/more-about-the-iaf>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Blog

The IAF blogs in four languages: English, Kreyol, Portuguese, and Spanish.

<http://www.iaf.gov/resources/blog>

Career Opportunities

The IAF posts employment opportunities online.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/iaf-jobs/vacancies>

The IAF posts information on student internships on its Web site.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/iaf-jobs/internships>

Corporate Partners

Contact the Office of External and Government Affairs for information on participating in the program for corporate partners. Phone, 202-688-3051.

<http://www.iaf.gov/partners/corporate> | Email: partnerships@iaf.gov

Country Portfolios

A list of the countries where the IAF currently works is available on its Web site. Country pages include descriptions of active IAF grants.

<http://www.iaf.gov/our-work/where-we-work/country-portfolios>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The IAF generally discloses documents or records upon receiving a properly submitted request in writing. Records, or parts of them, that one or more of the nine FOIA exemptions shield will not be released.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/legal-notices-and-reports/freedom-of-information-act-foia> | Email: foia@iaf.gov

The IAF maintains an electronic FOIA reading room.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/legal-notices-and-reports/freedom-of-information-act-foia/foia-e-reading-room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The IAF posts answers to FAQs online.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/faq>

Grants

The IAF funds the self-help efforts of grassroots groups in Latin America and the Caribbean. It welcomes proposals for its grant program.

<http://www.iaf.gov/apply-for-grants/call-for-proposals>

Multilingual Resources

Español

<http://spanish.iaf.gov/home-spanish>

Kreyol

<http://kreyol.iaf.gov/home-kreyol>

Português

<http://portugues.iaf.gov/home-portuguese>

News

The IAF posts news items on its Web site.

<http://www.iaf.gov/resources/news>

The IAF posts newsletters on its Web site.

<http://www.iaf.gov/resources/newsletters>

Open Government

The IAF's Open Government Web page has shortcuts to items of interest to the public.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/legal-notice-and-reports/open-government-initiative> | Email: inquiries@iaf.gov

Organizational Chart

The IAF includes a small organizational chart on its "Our People" Web page.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/our-people>

Project Achievements

The "From the Field" Web page presents highlights and milestones of projects that the IAF has supported.

<http://www.iaf.gov/our-work/results/stories-from-the-field>

Publications

The IAF produces print and digital publications in English, Spanish, and Portuguese.

<http://www.iaf.gov/resources/publications>

Site Map

The Web site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/new-advanced-components/site-map>

Social Media

The IAF has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/iafgrassroots>

The IAF tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/IAFgrassroots>

The IAF uploads videos to Vimeo.

<https://vimeo.com/user15989133/videos>

<http://www.iaf.gov/about-the-iaf/contact-us> | Email: inquiries@iaf.gov

For further information, contact the Office of the President, Inter-American Foundation, 1331 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Suite 1200 North, Washington, DC 20004. Phone, 202-360-4530.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Merit Systems Protection Board

The United States Government Manual

MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD

1615 M Street NW., Fifth Floor, Washington, DC 20419

202-653-7200

800-209-8960

202-653-7130

<http://www.mspb.gov>

CHAIR

Mark Robbins, Acting

|   |                            |
|---|----------------------------|
| Vice Chair  | Mark Robbins               |
| Member  | (vacancy)                  |
| Director, Office of Equal Employment Opportunity  | Jerry Beat                 |
| EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR                                | James M. Eisenmann         |
| Clerk of the Board                                | Jennifer Everling, Acting  |
| Director, Financial and Administrative Management | Kevin Nash                 |
| Director, Information Resources Management        | William D. Spencer, Acting |
| Director, Office of Appeals Counsel               | Susan M. Swafford          |
| Director, Office of Policy and Evaluation         | James M. Read              |
| Director, Office of Regional Operations           | Deborah Miron              |
| General Counsel                                   | Bryan G. Polisuk           |
| Legislative Counsel                               | Rosalyn L. Coates          |

[For the Merit Systems Protection Board statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 5, Part 1200]

The Merit Systems Protection Board protects the integrity of the Federal personnel merit systems and the rights of Federal employees.

Organizational Chart

The Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) is a successor agency to the United States Civil Service Commission, established by act of January 16, 1883 (22 Stat. 403). Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1978 (5 U.S.C. app.) redesignated part of the Commission as the Merit Systems Protection Board. The Board comprises three members whom the President appoints with the advice and consent of the Senate.

ACTIVITIES

The Board has responsibility for hearing and adjudicating appeals by Federal employees of adverse personnel actions, such as removals, suspensions, and demotions. It also resolves cases involving reemployment rights, denial of periodic step increases in pay, actions against administrative law judges, and charges of prohibited personnel practices, including charges in connection with whistleblowing.

The Board has the authority to enforce its decisions and to order corrective and disciplinary actions. An employee or applicant for employment involved in an appealable action that also involves an allegation of discrimination may ask the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to review a Board decision. Final decisions and orders of the Board can be appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

The Board reviews regulations issued by the Office of Personnel Management and has the authority to require agencies to cease compliance with any regulation that could constitute a prohibited personnel practice. It also conducts special studies of the civil service and other executive branch merit systems and reports to the President and the Congress on whether the Federal workforce is being adequately protected against political abuses and prohibited personnel practices.

<http://www.mspb.gov/About/about.htm>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Electronic Filing

An appeal may be filed online using the e-Appeal process.

<https://e-appeal.mspb.gov>

Career Opportunities

The MSPB posts current job openings on USAJobs.

<http://www.mspb.gov/contact/jobs.htm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The MSPB participates in FOIAonline, which allows an information seeker to submit FOIA requests to participating agencies, track the status of requests, search for requests that others have submitted, access previously released records, and generate agency-specific FOIA processing reports.

<http://www.mspb.gov/foia/request.htm>

<https://foiaonline.regulations.gov/foia/action/public/home>

Interviews

The MSPB posts external links to MSPB-related interviews on its Web site.

<http://www.mspb.gov/radio.htm>

<http://www.mspb.gov/video.htm>

Public Affairs

The MSPB posts "Federal Register" notices, press releases, reports, and the results of its annual Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey online.

<http://www.mspb.gov/publicaffairs/publicaffairs.htm>

<http://www.mspb.gov/contact/contact.htm> | Email: mspb@mspb.gov

For further information, contact the Merit Systems Protection Board, 1615 M Street NW., Washington, DC 20419. Phone, 202-653-7200 or 800-209-8960. TDD, 800-877-8339. Fax, 202-653-7130.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Aeronautics and Space Administration

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION

300 E Street SW., Washington, DC 20546

202-358-0000

<http://www.nasa.gov>

Office of the Administrator

---

|               |                   |
|---------------|-------------------|
| ADMINISTRATOR | C. William Nelson |
|---------------|-------------------|

|                      |                  |
|----------------------|------------------|
| Deputy Administrator | Pamela A. Melroy |
|----------------------|------------------|

|                          |                  |
|--------------------------|------------------|
| ASSOCIATE ADMINISTRATORS | Robert D. Cabana |
|--------------------------|------------------|

|                                     |                   |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Strategic Engagement and Assessment | Thomas E. Cremins |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------|

|                |                |
|----------------|----------------|
| Chief of Staff | Susan P. Quinn |
|----------------|----------------|

|                                |                     |
|--------------------------------|---------------------|
| Deputy Associate Administrator | Melanie W. Saunders |
|--------------------------------|---------------------|

<https://www.nasa.gov/nasa-leadership>

Administrator Staff Offices

---

|                          |  |
|--------------------------|--|
| ASSOCIATE ADMINISTRATORS |  |
|--------------------------|--|

|                |             |
|----------------|-------------|
| Communications | Marc Etkind |
|----------------|-------------|

|                                 |                 |
|---------------------------------|-----------------|
| Diversity and Equal Opportunity | Stephen T. Shih |
|---------------------------------|-----------------|

|   |                 |
|---|-----------------|
| International and Interagency Relations | Karen Feldstein |
|---|-----------------|

|   |              |
|---|--------------|
| Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs | Alicia Brown |
|---|--------------|

|                         |                  |
|-------------------------|------------------|
| Small Business Programs | Glenn A. Delgado |
|-------------------------|------------------|

|                 |                    |
|-----------------|--------------------|
| STEM Engagement | Michael A. Kincaid |
|-----------------|--------------------|

|        |  |
|--------|--|
| CHIEFS |  |
|--------|--|

|                   |                    |
|-------------------|--------------------|
| Financial Officer | Margaret V. Schaus |
|-------------------|--------------------|

|                     |                   |
|---------------------|-------------------|
| Information Officer | Jeffrey M. Seaton |
|---------------------|-------------------|

|                 |                         |
|-----------------|-------------------------|
| General Counsel | Sumara M. Thompson-King |
|-----------------|-------------------------|

https://www.nasa.gov/about/org\_index.html

Administrator Staff Offices

---

Senior Climate Advisor

Gavin A. Schmidt

CHIEFS

Engineer

Ralph R. Roe

Health and Medical Officer

James D. Polk

Safety and Mission Assurance Officer

W. Russ DeLoach

Scientist

James L. Green

Technologist

Douglas A. Terrier

<https://www.nasa.gov/press-release/nasa-announces-new-role-of-senior-climate-advisor>

Mission Directorates

---

ASSOCIATE ADMINISTRATORS

Aeronautics Research

Robert Pearce

Human Exploration and Operations

Kathryn Lueders

Science

Thomas Zurbuchen

Space Technology

James L. Reuter

Mission Support Directorate

---

Associate Administrator

Robert Gibbs

ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATORS

Human Capital Management

Jane Datta

Procurement

Karla Smith Jackson

|                          |                                  |
|--------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Protective Services      | Joseph S. Mahaley                |
| Strategic Infrastructure | Burton R. Summerfield,Acting |

---

EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS

|                             |                  |
|-----------------------------|------------------|
| NASA Shared Services Center | Anita F. Harrell |
|-----------------------------|------------------|

<https://www.nasa.gov/msd/msd-leadership>

CENTERS AND FACILITIES

---

DIRECTORS

|                              |                        |
|------------------------------|------------------------|
| Ames Research Center         | Eugene L. Tu           |
| Armstrong Flight Center      | David D. McBride       |
| Glenn Research Center        | Marla Pérez-Davis      |
| Goddard Space Flight Center  | Dennis Andrucyk        |
| Jet Propulsion Laboratory    | Michael M. Watkins     |
| Johnson Space Center         | Vanessa Wyche, Acting  |
| Kennedy Space Center         | Janet Petro, Acting    |
| Langley Research Center      | Clayton Turner         |
| Marshall Space Flight Center | Joan A. Singer, Acting |
| Stennis Space Center         | Richard J. Gilbrech    |

|                        |                   |
|------------------------|-------------------|
| NASA Management Office | Marcus A. Watkins |
|------------------------|-------------------|

<https://www.nasa.gov/about/sites/index.html>

|                   |                |
|-------------------|----------------|
| Inspector General | Paul K. Martin |
|-------------------|----------------|

https://oig.nasa.gov/orgCharts/inspector\_general.html

The above list of key personnel was updated 6–2021.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration advances aeronautic research, explores space, and makes scientific discoveries for the benefit of humankind.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On July 29, 1958, President Dwight D. Eisenhower approved Public Law 85–568, which also is cited as the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958, "to provide for research into problems of flight within and outside the earth's atmosphere." In the Act's declaration of policy and purpose, the U.S. Congress declared "that it is the policy of the United States that activities in space should be devoted to peaceful purposes for the benefit of all mankind" (72 Stat. 426).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-72/pdf/STATUTE-72-Pg426-2.pdf>

By approving this Act of Congress, President Eisenhower "established the National Aeronautics and Space Administration" (72 Stat. 429). The newly created executive branch agency has become widely known by its acronym NASA.

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) was NASA's predecessor organization. The Committee was established on March 3, 1915, as a part of Public Law 63–271, which made appropriations for the naval service and established the Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (38 Stat. 930). After serving four decades as the Nation's premier aeronautical research institution, the NACA was dissolved in 1958, and its laboratories became the nucleus of NASA.

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/63rd-congress/session-3/c63s3ch83.pdf>

NASA's statement of organization and general information on the agency have been codified and assigned to Part 1201 of 14 CFR. The Administration is headed by a civilian Administrator whom the President appoints by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The Administrator, whom the President supervises and directs, is responsible for exercising all NASA powers and discharging all of its duties.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=e7061af8ea4349271e3601ceda1fbcdd&mc=true&node=pt14.5.1201&rgn=div5

NASA posts its organizational chart (FEB 2021) in Portable Document Format for viewing and downloading.

https://www.nasa.gov/sites/default/files/atoms/files/nasa\_organizational\_chart\_feb\_2021.pdf

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Statutory material on national and commercial space programs has been codified and assigned to 51 U.S.C. Statutory material on the coordination of aeronautical and space activities has been assigned to Subchapter II of Chapter 201. Subchapter II includes sections 20111–20117.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title51/subtitle2/chapter201/subchapter2&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations concerning aeronautics and space have been assigned to 14 CFR. Chapter V of Title 14 contains codified rules and regulations that are associated with NASA.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

ACTIVITIES

---

Earth and Space Exploration

The Science Mission Directorate explores Earth and space to advance Earth science, heliophysics, planetary science, and astrophysics. Using in situ and space-based observations, the Directorate seeks a better understanding of the Sun and its influence on the solar system, climate change, the solar system's origin and evolution, whether life is limited to Earth, and the universe beyond.

<https://science.nasa.gov/about-us>

For further information, call 202-358-3889.

Increasing Efficiency and Safety / Reducing Environmental Harm

The Aeronautics Research Mission Directorate conducts research, ground tests, and flight demonstrations to develop technologies and tools that reduce the adverse effects of aviation on the environment, increase efficiency while maintaining safety in skies that are becoming more crowded, and prepare the way for the emergence of new aircraft shapes and propulsion. The Directorate's four research programs partner with industry, other government agencies, and universities to develop technologies, converge breakthroughs from other fields, and ensure that the next generation workforce has the vision and skills for maintaining U.S. leadership in aviation.

<https://www.nasa.gov/aeroresearch/about-armd>

For further information, call 202-358-2047.

Institutional Support for Mission Objectives

The Mission Support Directorate provides overall leadership, stewardship, advocacy, integration, and optimization of Agency institutional activities. These activities include management of human capital and strategic infrastructure, procurement, protective services, headquarters operations, shared services, partnerships, external audits, and management of Agency directives. To enable successful operations, the Directorate focuses on three major goals: to provide stewardship of major institutional operations; to integrate resources, infrastructure, and processes and to advocate for institutional capabilities and needs; and to optimize mission support services through strategic analysis and business services assessments to achieve greater operational efficiency.

<https://www.nasa.gov/msd/aboutus>

For further information, call 202-358-2789.

Space Technology for Missions

The Space Technology Mission Directorate develops crosscutting and pioneering technologies and capabilities that the agency needs to carry out current and future missions. Through transparent, collaborative partnerships, the Directorate rapidly develops and demonstrates high-payoff technologies. It uses a merit-based competition model with a portfolio approach, spanning a range of discipline areas and technology readiness levels.

https://www.nasa.gov/directorates/spacetech/about\_us/index.html

For further information, call 202-358-0454.

Supporting Human Exploration

The Human Exploration and Operations Mission Directorate oversees NASA space systems development and operations that support human exploration in and beyond low-Earth orbit. It also oversees low-level requirements development, policy, and programmatic oversight. The International Space Station represents the agency's exploration activities in low-Earth orbit. Beyond low-Earth orbit, exploration activities include the management of exploration systems development, human space flight capabilities, advanced exploration systems, and space life sciences research and applications. The Directorate also provides agency leadership and management of NASA space operations related to launch services and space communications and navigation in support of both human and robotic exploration programs.

<https://www.nasa.gov/directorates/heo/index.html>

For further information, call 202-358-1562.

NASA CENTERS

---

Ames Research Center

Located in California's Silicon Valley, the Center enables exploration through selected developments, innovative technologies, and interdisciplinary scientific discovery. It provides leadership in astrobiology; small satellites; technologies for CEV, CLV, and HLV; the search for habitable planets; supercomputing; intelligent-adaptive systems; advanced thermal protection; and airborne astronomy. The Center also develops tools for a safer, more efficient national airspace, and it cultivates partnerships that benefit NASA's mission.

<https://www.nasa.gov/ames>

Armstrong Flight Research Center

Located at Edwards Air Force Base, CA, the Center carries out flight research and technology integration, validates space exploration concepts, conducts airborne remote sensing and science missions, enables airborne astrophysics observation missions to study the universe, and supports International Space Station operations. It also supports activities of the Agency's four Mission Directorates.

<https://www.nasa.gov/centers/armstrong/home/index.html>

Glenn Research Center

Located on two campuses—at Lewis Field, next to Cleveland Hopkins International Airport, and at Neil A. Armstrong Test Facility (formerly the Plum Brook Station) in Sandusky, OH—the Center is associated with cutting edge technologies that will enable human exploration to Mars, the design of environmentally friendlier commercial hybrid electric aircraft, and the development of more advanced high-temperature materials. Its 3,200 scientists, engineers, and other specialized employees work in partnership with U.S. companies, universities, and other Government institutions to produce and improve new technologies that are useful on and above and beyond Earth. The Center's specialized staff focuses on air-breathing and in-space propulsion, power and energy storage, aerospace communications, extreme environment materials, biomedical technologies, and high-value space experiments in the physical sciences.

<https://www.nasa.gov/centers/glenn/home/index.html>

Goddard Space Flight Center

Located in Greenbelt, MD, the Center expands humankind's knowledge of Earth and its environment, the solar system, and the universe by observing them from space. It also conducts scientific investigations, develops and operates space systems, and advances essential technologies.

<https://www.nasa.gov/goddard>

Johnson Space Center

Located in Houston, TX, the Center specializes in human space flight. It hosts and staffs program and project offices; selects and trains astronauts; manages and conducts projects that build, test, and integrate human-rated systems for transportation, habitation, and working in space; and plans and operates human space flight missions. This work requires a comprehensive understanding of space and planetary environments, as well as research into the effects of those environments on human physiology. It also requires development of technology to sustain and preserve life; maintenance of a supply chain to design, manufacture, and test flight products; selection, training, and provision of medical care to those who fly space missions; and ongoing administrative mission support services. The Center is currently hosting the International Space Station Program, the Multi-Purpose Crew Vehicle Program, and the Human Research Program. It plays a lead role in developing, operating, and integrating human exploration missions that include commercial, academic, international, and U.S. Government partners.

<https://www.nasa.gov/centers/johnson/home/index.html>

Kennedy Space Center

Located on Florida's east coast, the Center is responsible for space launch operations and spaceport and range technologies. Home to the launch services program, it manages the processing and launching of astronaut crews and associated payloads. Its management activities include the International Space Station segments, research experiments and supplies, and NASA's scientific and research spacecraft. These scientific and research spacecraft range from robotic landers to Earth observation satellites and space-based telescopes on a variety of launch vehicles.

Innovative technology experts at the Center support NASA's current programs and future exploration missions by developing new products and processes that benefit the Agency and consumers. The Center remains a leader in cutting-edge research and development in the areas of physics, chemistry, technology, prototype designing, engineering, environmental conservation, and renewable energy.

<https://www.nasa.gov/centers/kennedy/home/index.html>

Langley Research Center

Located in Hampton, VA, and established in 1917 as an aeronautics lab, the Center is renowned for its scientific and technological expertise in aerospace research, atmospheric science, systems analysis and integration, and planetary entry, descent and landing. Its researchers and engineers conduct research in structures and materials, applied sciences, space technology development, and aerosciences across the hyper, super, and subsonic flight regimes. Langley researchers and engineers have developed and validated technologies to improve the effectiveness, safety, environmental compatibility, and efficiency of the Nation's air transportation system. The Center supports space exploration and operations, and it plays a major role in expanding science-based knowledge of Earth and its environment. By determining appropriate preventative and corrective action for problems, trends, and issues across agency programs and projects, its engineering and safety personnel at the NASA Engineering Safety Center have improved mission safety and execution.

<https://www.nasa.gov/langley>

Marshall Space Flight Center

Located in Huntsville, AL, the Center oversees complex engineering, technology development, and scientific research for making human space exploration a reality. The Center is building the space launch system and developing advanced technologies that are necessary for the human journey to Mars. It also manages a number of programs and projects: the International Space Station's environmental control and life support system, its payload operations, and numerous other facilities and experiments; the Chandra X-ray Observatory; the Discovery and New Frontiers programs; space technology demonstration missions; and the Michoud Assembly Facility, where space vehicles are manufactured and assembled.

<https://www.nasa.gov/centers/marshall/home/index.html>

Stennis Space Center

Located near Bay St. Louis, MS, the Center serves as the agency's rocket propulsion testing ground. It provides test services not only for America's space program, but also for the Department of Defense and private sector. Its unique rocket propulsion test capabilities will be used for testing the engines and stages of NASA's space launch system rocket. The Advanced Technology and Technology Transfer Branch develops and licenses state-of-the-art components, processes, sensors, and software.

<https://www.nasa.gov/centers/stennis/home/index.html>

Jet Propulsion Laboratory

The Laboratory is a Federally Funded Research and Development Center (FFRDC) managed under contract by the California Institute of Technology (Caltech) in Pasadena, CA. This FFRDC is a unique nongovernment entity sponsored and funded by the Agency to meet specific long-term technical needs that cannot be met by other organizations within the Agency. As part of this special relationship, the Laboratory must operate in the public interest with objectivity and independence, avoid organizational conflicts of interest, and fully disclose its affairs to NASA. The Laboratory develops and maintains technical and managerial competencies to perform the following missions in support of the Agency's strategic goals: to explore the solar system to understand its formation and evolution; to establish a continuous and permanent robotic presence on Mars to discover its history and habitability; to make critical measurements and models to understand the global and regional integrated Earth system; to conduct observations to search for neighboring solar systems and Earth-like planets and help understand formation, evolution, and composition of the Universe; to conduct communications and navigation for deep space missions; to provide support, particularly in robotic infrastructures and precursors, that enables human exploration of the Moon, Mars, and beyond; and, under Caltech's initiative, to collaborate with other Federal and State government agencies and commercial endeavors in areas synergistic with the Laboratory's work performed for NASA.

<https://www.nasa.gov/centers/jpl/home/index.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

NASA maintains an online index of all topics to help visitors browse or search for specific information.

<https://www.nasa.gov/topics>

Albedo

A completely iced over Earth would have an albedo of about 0.84, which means that its surface would reflect 84 percent of the sun's light. A completely forested over Earth, on the other hand, would have an albedo of about 0.14, which means that Earth's surface would absorb 86 percent of the sun's light. Changes that affect airborne pollution, cloudiness, ice cover, or land cover (e.g., forest to farmland) also affect the global albedo. Using satellite measurements that have been collected since the late 1970s, scientists estimate that Earth's average albedo is about 0.30, which means that its surface reflects about 30 percent of the sun's light.

<https://earthobservatory.nasa.gov/images/84499/measuring-earths-albedo>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that NASA records have been assigned to record group 255.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/255.html>

Business Opportunities

Information on business opportunities is available on NASA's Office of Procurement website.

<https://www.nasa.gov/office/procurement>

NASA offers contracting and subcontracting opportunities to small businesses. Contact the Office of Small Business Programs. Phone, 202-358-2088.

<https://www.osbp.nasa.gov> | Email: smallbusiness@nasa.gov

Career Opportunities

In addition to astronauts, the agency relies on accountants, engineers, human resources specialists, IT specialists, scientists, technicians, writers, and other skilled professionals, to carry out its mission. To learn more about employment opportunities and programs, visit the "Careers at NASA" web page.

<https://www.nasa.gov/careers>

In 2020, NASA ranked the highest among 17 large Government agencies in the Best Places To Work Agency Rankings!

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=NN00>

Contact Information

NASA Communications Office personnel work hard, answering questions and responding to requests in a timely manner. Before relying on the "Contact Page" or directing an email to the public inquiries inbox, search NASA's website to see if the desired information is already accessible. NASA also has communication tools that make it easy to keep abreast of the agency's announcements and exciting achievements.

<https://www.nasa.gov/about/contact/index.html> | Email: public-inquiries@hq.nasa.gov

The "Media Contacts and Information" web page was designed with journalists and reporters in mind.

<https://www.nasa.gov/news/media/info/index.html>

Earth Images

The "Earth Observatory" website contains various collections of images of Earth.

<https://earthobservatory.nasa.gov/images>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that NASA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/national-aeronautics-and-space-administration>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Any person has a court-enforceable right to request and obtain access to Federal agency records. That right has restrictions and does not extend to records, or portions of them, that are shielded from public disclosure by one of nine statutory exemptions or by one of three special law enforcement record exclusions. The FOIA established a statutory right that affects the process for accessing executive branch information in the Federal Government.

<https://www.nasa.gov/FOIA/index.html> | Email: foia@hq.nasa.gov

NASA maintains a hyperlinked list of FOIA websites for each of its centers.

<https://www.nasa.gov/FOIA/NASA-Centers.html>

NASA maintains a hyperlinked list of its centers' electronic libraries.

<https://www.nasa.gov/content/nasa-e-libraries>

Glossary

NASA's Earth Observatory maintains an online glossary.

<https://earthobservatory.nasa.gov/glossary/all>

The Science Mission Directorate website has a glossary.

<https://science.nasa.gov/glossary>

Greenland's Melting Glaciers

NASA's Oceans Melting Greenland (OMG) mission investigates the role that warm ocean water plays in accelerating the melting of Greenland's glaciers. The OMG mission gathers data on water temperatures and Greenland's glaciers to improve the science on the melting ice and the global sea level rise that it is causing.

<https://omg.jpl.nasa.gov/portal>

NASA has posted a short animated video on YouTube that shows how a glacier melts.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0QVVzFPChAU>

History

Students of aeronautical and space history can find a treasure trove of resources on the the "NASA History" web page, which includes links to audio and written sources and image and video collections.

<https://www.nasa.gov/topics/history/index.html> | Email: hq-histinfo@nasa.gov

The History Program Office maintains its own topical index.

<https://history.nasa.gov/tindex.html>

Library

The NASA Headquarters Library welcomes visitors. Located in the East Lobby of NASA Headquarters in Washington, DC, the library is open Monday–Friday, 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m. It is closed on Federal holidays. Phone, 202-358-0168.

<https://www.nasa.gov/centers/hq/library> | Email: library@hq.nasa.gov

Maps

NASA's Earth Observatory maintains a collection of maps on its "Global Gaps" web page.

<https://earthobservatory.nasa.gov/global-maps>

Missions

A hyperlinked list of NASA missions is maintained on the "NASA Missions A–Z" web page.

<https://www.nasa.gov/missions>

The "Mission Key" assigns a color code to NASA's science missions and groups them in the following categories: universe, solar system, Sun, and Earth.

<https://science.nasa.gov/missions-page>

NASA posts science mission posters for downloading. Posters are grouped in the following four categories: astrophysics, solar system, Sun, and Earth.

<https://science.nasa.gov/toolkits/nasa-science-mission-posters>

Open Government

NASA supports the Open Government initiative by promoting collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.nasa.gov/open>

Picture of the Day

Discover something new about the universe each day by visiting NASA's "Astronomy Picture of the Day" web page. A professional astronomer provides a brief explanation for each daily image or photograph. A picture of the day archives is also accessible from the same page.

<https://apod.nasa.gov/apod/astropix.html>

Plain Writing

The Plain Writing Act of 2010 requires Federal agencies to communicate clearly. NASA editors and writers aim to use plain language in any document that is necessary for obtaining agency benefits or services, that provides information on agency benefits or services, or that explains how to comply with a requirement that the agency administers or enforces.

<https://www.nasa.gov/open/plainlanguage.html>

Publications

The "NASA Headquarters Library" website includes a "Find Publications" web page. The web page contains a section for bibliographies, one for books, one for databases, and another for journals.

<https://www.nasa.gov/centers/hq/library/find>

The NASA scientific and technical information program makes conference papers and research reports accessible online.

<https://sti.nasa.gov> | Email: nasa-dl-sti-id@mail.nasa.gov

The scientific and technical information program website has a site map to make browsing its contents easier.

<https://sti.nasa.gov/site-map/#.YInEW2dKiUk>

Social Media

NASA maintains a presence on popular social media websites. The "Social Media at NASA" page provides easy access to the agency's social media accounts.

<https://www.nasa.gov/socialmedia>

Space Technology

Explore space technology by visiting the "Technology Overview" web page.

<https://www.nasa.gov/topics/technology/overview/index.html>

Students / Teachers

A feast of educational resources for educators and learners is available on the "NASA STEM Engagement" web page.

<https://www.nasa.gov/stem>

Sun / Earth

NASA has web pages whose content is dedicated to educating people about our star, the Sun.

<https://www.nasa.gov/sun>

Learn more about our home from a planetary perspective by visiting the "Explore Earth" web page.

<https://www.nasa.gov/topics/earth/index.html>

Sustainability

NASA is making its workplaces nationwide more sustainable. Its facilities cover 47 million square feet and include 5,000 buildings. While working to fulfill its mission of exploration and revealing the unknown, NASA is reducing its demand on Earth and lessening its consumption of her finite resources.

<https://www.nasa.gov/feature/goddard/2021/on-a-changing-planet-nasa-goes-green>

The above Sources of Information were updated 6–2021.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Archives and Records Administration

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION

700 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC, 20408-0001

866-272-6272

<http://www.archives.gov>

ARCHIVIST OF THE UNITED STATES

David S. Ferriero

<https://www.archives.gov/about/archivist/archivist-biography-ferriero.html>

DEPUTY ARCHIVIST OF THE UNITED STATES

Debra Steidel Wall

---

---

|                          |                  |
|--------------------------|------------------|
| Chief Innovation Officer | Pamela S. Wright |
|--------------------------|------------------|

---

|                |                       |
|----------------|-----------------------|
| Chief of Staff | Maria Carosa Stanwich |
|----------------|-----------------------|

---

---

DIRECTORS

---

|                       |                  |
|-----------------------|------------------|
| Congressional Affairs | John O. Hamilton |
|-----------------------|------------------|

---

|                                      |               |
|--------------------------------------|---------------|
| Equal Employment Opportunity Program | Erica Pearson |
|--------------------------------------|---------------|

---

|   |                    |
|---|--------------------|
| Executive Director, National Historical Publications and Records Commission | Christopher R. Eck |
|---|--------------------|

---

|                 |               |
|-----------------|---------------|
| General Counsel | Gary M. Stern |
|-----------------|---------------|

---

|                         |                    |
|-------------------------|--------------------|
| CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER | William J. Bosanko |
|-------------------------|--------------------|

---

---

DIRECTOR

---

|                                |                 |
|--------------------------------|-----------------|
| Office of the Federal Register | Oliver A. Potts |
|--------------------------------|-----------------|

---

---

EXECUTIVES

---

|                 |                |
|-----------------|----------------|
| Agency Services | Jay A. Trainer |
|-----------------|----------------|

---

|   |                 |
|---|-----------------|
| Legislative Archives, Presidential Libraries, and Museum Services | Susan K. Donius |
|---|-----------------|

---

|                   |                 |
|-------------------|-----------------|
| Research Services | Ann A. Cummings |
|-------------------|-----------------|

---

|  |                   |
|--|-------------------|
| CHIEF OF MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION | Micah M. Cheatham |
|--|-------------------|

---

---

CHIEF OFFICERS

---

|             |                 |
|-------------|-----------------|
| Acquisition | La Verne Fields |
|-------------|-----------------|

---

---

|           |                   |
|-----------|-------------------|
| Financial | Colleen V. Murphy |
|-----------|-------------------|

---

|               |                   |
|---------------|-------------------|
| Human Capital | Valorie Findlater |
|---------------|-------------------|

---

|             |                 |
|-------------|-----------------|
| Information | Swarnali Halдар |
|-------------|-----------------|

---

---

|   |                       |
|---|-----------------------|
| Executive for Business Support Services | Mark A. Smith, Acting |
|---|-----------------------|

---

<https://www.archives.gov/about/organization/senior-staff>

|                   |                |
|-------------------|----------------|
| Inspector General | Brett M. Baker |
|-------------------|----------------|

---

<https://www.archives.gov/oig/about>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2021.

The National Archives and Records Administration safeguards and preserves the records of the U.S. Government and provides public access to them, ensuring that the American people can discover, learn from, and use their documentary heritage to support democracy.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) is the successor agency to the National Archives Establishment (NAE). The National Archives was officially established in 1934, during a time of expanding Federal reforms, regulations, and work projects. The National Archives also recognizes April 1, 1985, as its "other birthday." On that day, NARA became an independent Federal agency.

<https://prologue.blogs.archives.gov/2015/04/01/happy-other-birthday-national-archives>

On June 19, 1934, President Franklin D. Roosevelt approved Public Law 73–432 "to establish a National Archives of the United States Government." The statute "created the Office of Archivist of the United States," empowered the President to appoint the Archivist by the advice and with the consent of the Senate, and empowered the Archivist to appoint "all persons to be employed in the National Archives Establishment" (48 Stat. 1122).

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/73rd-congress/session-2/c73s2ch668.pdf>

On June 30, 1949, President Harry S. Truman approved Public Law 81–152, which also is cited as the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949. Section 104 of Title I of that statute deals with records management. The statute transferred "the National Archives Establishment and its functions, records, property, personnel, obligations, and commitments" to the newly created General Services Administration. It also empowered the Administrator of the new agency to appoint the Archivist of the United States (63 Stat. 381). The new arrangement transformed the NAE into the National Archives and Records Service. More than three decades passed before the National Archives reemerged as an independent agency within the Federal Government's executive branch.

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/81st-congress/session-1/c81s1ch288.pdf>

On October 19, 1984, President Ronald W. Reagan approved Public Law 98–497 "to establish the National Archives and Records Administration" as "an independent establishment in the executive branch of the Government" (98 Stat. 2280). President Reagan issued a statement on signing the Senate bill into law. The new statute's provisions became effective on April 1, 1985, a day that is like a second birthday for the agency (98 Stat. 2295).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-98/pdf/STATUTE-98-Pg2280.pdf>

On June 25, 1985, NARA published a notice in the Federal Register (50 FR 26278). It promulgated the agency's statement of organization. Functions that had been assigned to the General Services Administration were being performed now by NARA.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1985-06-25/pdf/FR-1985-06-25.pdf>

NARA posts an organizational chart on its "NARA Organization" web page.

<https://www.archives.gov/about/organization>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Chapter 21 of 44 U.S.C., which includes sections 2101–2120, contains codified statutory material affecting NARA.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title44/chapter21&edition=prelim>

Chapter XII of 36 CFR is dedicated to codified regulatory material associated with NARA. The chapter comprises parts 1200–1299.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=284fe0a169d8d22863ef40cfec0c2dcc&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title36/36chapterXII.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

Classified and Controlled Information Management

The Information Security Oversight Office (ISOO) oversees programs for classified national security information and controlled unclassified information in both Government and industry and reports on their status annually to the President. It receives policy and program guidance from the National Security Council and operates under the authority of Executive Orders 12829, 13549, 13587, 13526, and 13556. As a NARA component, ISOO's goals are fourfold: holding classification activities to the minimum necessary standard for protecting national security; promoting consistency and transparency in how controlled unclassified information is handled; efficiently and cost-effectively safeguarding classified national security information; and encouraging declassification of and public access to information as soon as security considerations permit.

<https://www.archives.gov/isoo/about>

In 2010, ISOO was named the Executive agent for administering Executive Order 13556, "Controlled Unclassified Information." The order establishes consistent information sharing and protection practices by replacing the ad hoc, agency-specific policies and procedures with an Executive branchwide program to manage unclassified information that requires safeguarding or dissemination controls pursuant to and consistent with applicable law, regulations, and Governmentwide policies.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/DCPD-201000942/pdf/DCPD-201000942.pdf><http://www.archives.gov/isoo> |

Email: isoo@nara.gov

For further information, contact the Information Security Oversight Office. Phone, 202-357-5250.

Declassification of Records

The National Declassification Center (NDC) was established by Executive Order 13526 and began operations in January of 2010. The Center is responsible for the timely and appropriate processing of referrals between agencies for accessioned Federal records and transferred Presidential records; general interagency declassification activities necessary to fulfill the requirements of sections 3.3 and 3.4 of the Order; the exchange among agencies of detailed declassification guidance to support equity recognition; the development of effective, transparent, and standard declassification work processes, training, and quality assurance measures; the development of solutions to declassification challenges posed by electronic records, special media, and emerging technologies; and the linkage and effective utilization of existing agency databases and the use of new technologies to support declassification activities under the purview of the Center.

<http://www.archives.gov/declassification> | Email: ndc@nara.gov

For further information, contact the National Declassification Center. Phone, 301-837-0405.

Federal Records Storage and Retrieval

NARA's Federal Records Centers Program (FRCP) stores and services active and inactive records for Federal agencies. A national network of 18 facilities, the FRCP system currently stores more than 30 million cubic feet of records. Since 1999, the FRCP system has operated as a reimbursable program that provides the Federal community with services on a fee-for-service basis. These services include storage of textual and special media records; management of classified and nonclassified records; retrieval of records needed by customers to conduct daily business or fulfill statutory requirements; expedited responses to congressional inquiries, litigation, and urgent business needs; disposition services, including the disposal of temporary records that have reached the end of their required retention period and the transfer of permanent records to the legal custody of the National Archives; and a variety of special projects based on customer needs.

<https://www.archives.gov/frc>

The National Personnel Records Center (NPRC) in St. Louis, MO, is the largest facility in the FRCP system. This facility stores and services the civilian personnel, medical, and pay records of former U.S. Civil Service employees and the personnel, medical, and related records of discharged military personnel. The NPRC maintains research rooms where Federal employees and the general public can review official military and civilian personnel folders and other related records. It also supports Federal agencies by providing them with technical advice on and services relating to records disposition, filing and classification schemes, document conversion, and protection of civilian and military records.

<https://www.archives.gov/st-louis> Email: frc@nara.gov

For further information, contact the Federal Records Centers. Phone 314-801-9300.

Federal Register Publications and Services

The Federal Register system is an official legal information service of the U.S. Government. The Federal Register system operates under the general authority of the Administrative Committee of the Federal Register (ACFR), as well as under statutory and regulatory authority that is specific to the Office of the Federal Register (OFR). The OFR is a component of NARA, which is obliged by statute to partner with the Government Publishing Office (GPO) to provide Federal Register publications and services to the public. The OFR's mission centers on informing citizens of their rights and obligations, documenting the actions of Federal agencies, and providing a public forum for participation in the democratic process.

<https://www.archives.gov/federal-register/about>

The OFR makes the official text of several document types publicly accessible: administrative regulations and notices, Presidential documents, and Federal laws. In partnership with the GPO, its editors prepare and publish the "Code of Federal Regulations," "Compilation of Presidential Documents," "Federal Register," "Public Papers of the Presidents," and "United States Statutes at Large," as well as additional publications.

The OFR coordinates the functions of the Electoral College on behalf of the American people, the Archivist of the United States, the Congress, and the States. It also administers the constitutional amendment process.

<https://www.archives.gov/federal-register> | Email: fedreg.info@nara.gov

For further information, contact Information Services and Technology, Office of the Federal Register. Phone, 202-741-6000. TTY, 202-741-6086. Fax, 202-741-6012.

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) Compliance

Established under the OPEN Government Act of 2007 (5 U.S.C. 101), the Office of Government Information Services (OGIS) works with agencies across the Executive branch to improve the Government's ability to respond to FOIA requests. OGIS serves as liaison between individuals making FOIA requests and administrative agencies, providing mediation services to resolve disputes as an alternative to litigation. It reviews policies and procedures of administrative agencies under FOIA. OGIS also reviews agency compliance with FOIA and recommends policy changes to the President and Congress.

<https://www.archives.gov/ogis> | Email: ogis@nara.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Government Information Services. Phone, 202-741-5770.

Grant Making

The National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC) is NARA's grant-making affiliate. NHPRC supports the preservation and promotes the use of America's documentary heritage that is essential for understanding American culture, democracy, and history. NHPRC grants help State and local archives, universities, historical societies, and other nonprofit organizations preserve and manage electronic records, improve training and techniques, strengthen archival programs, preserve and process records collections, and provide access to them through the publication of finding aids and documentary editions of the papers of the Founding Era and other themes and historical figures in American history. NHPRC works in partnership with a national network of State historical records advisory boards. It also provides Federal leadership in public policy affecting the preservation of and access to America's documentary heritage.

<http://www.archives.gov/nhprc> | Email: nhprc@archives.gov

For further information, contact the National Historical Publications and Records Commission. Phone, 202-357-5010.

Innovation

The Office of Innovation finds innovative ways to serve its customers and to increase access to and delivery of records through all forms of media. Its mission includes demonstrating leadership in the archival and information access field. The Office coordinates NARA's efforts for Open Government and the National Digital Strategy. It comprises several divisions: digitization; digital engagement, including Internet, social media, and NARA's online catalog; business architecture, standards, and authorities; and the Innovation Hub.

<http://www.archives.gov/innovation-hub>

National Archives Trust Funding

The National Archives Trust Fund Board receives funds from the sale of historic document reproductions and publications based on historic records, as well as from gifts and bequests. The Board invests these funds and uses income to support archival functions such as the preparation of publications that make historic records information more widely available. Members of the Board are the Archivist of the United States, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Chair of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

<https://www.archives.gov/files/publications/general-info-leaflets/29-trust-fund.pdf>

For further information, contact the Secretary, National Archives Trust Fund Board. Phone, 301-837-3165.

Presidential Records Act Compliance

NARA operates the Libraries of Presidents Herbert Hoover through George W. Bush. While such records were once considered personal papers, all Presidential records created on or after January 20, 1981, are declared by law to be owned and controlled by the United States and are required to be transferred to NARA at the end of an administration, pursuant to the Presidential Records Act of 1978 (44 U.S.C. 2201 et seq.). The Office of Presidential Libraries within the National Archives oversees the archival, museum, and education programs of the 14 Presidential Libraries, including the fully digital Barack Obama Presidential Library.

<https://www.obamalibrary.gov/about-us>

Through the Presidential Libraries, which are located at sites selected by the Presidents and built with private funds, NARA preserves and makes available the records, personal papers, and artifacts of a President's administration. Each Library operates a research room and offers reference services for Presidential papers and other historical materials. The Libraries display artifacts and other holdings in museum exhibits illustrating the life and times of a President. The Presidential Libraries also promote citizen engagement by providing programs for students of all ages.

<http://www.archives.gov/presidential-libraries>

For further information, contact the Office of Presidential Libraries. Phone, 301-837-3250. Fax, 301-837-3199.

---

Providing Access to Archival Records

NARA maintains the U.S. Government's most historically valuable records, ranging from the Revolutionary War era to the recent past; arranges and preserves records and prepares finding aids to facilitate their use; makes records publicly accessible online and in its research rooms; answers requests for information contained in its holdings; and provides, for a fee, copies of records. NARA holdings include the records of the U.S. House of Representatives and Senate, which are preserved and administered by the Center for Legislative Archives. Many important records are available in microfilm and accessible online. Archival records are maintained in NARA facilities in the Washington, DC, area. Records of exceptional local or regional interest are maintained in NARA archives located in other parts of the country. There are also nine NARA-affiliated archives facilities that hold NARA-owned records and make them available to the public.

<https://www.archives.gov/research>

Research Services provides world-class services to customers seeking access to NARA's accessioned Federal records. Records are available for research purposes in reading rooms at the National Archives Building (Archives I) in Washington, DC; the National Archives (Archives II) in College Park, MD; and various regional facilities throughout the Nation.

<https://www.archives.gov/locations#research-facilities>

Records Management

To ensure proper documentation of the organization, policies, and activities of the Government, NARA develops standards and guidelines for nationwide management and disposition of recorded information. It appraises Federal records and approves disposition schedules. NARA also inspects agency records and management practices, develops records management training programs, provides guidance and assistance on records management, and stores inactive records.

The Office of the Chief Records Officer assists Government agencies with their records management programs and the lifecycle management of Federal records. The Office formulates recommendations for Governmentwide policies, procedures, regulations, and guidance on the creation, management, and disposition of records in various media. It conducts inspections, evaluations, and surveys of records and records management programs in agencies; reports its findings; and recommends improvements or necessary corrective actions. The Office also provides records management services, including appraisal and scheduling, technical assistance, training, consultation, and analysis regarding policy matters, as well as identifying permanent records eligible for transfer to the National Archives.

<https://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt> | Email: rm.communications@nara.gov

---

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

A–Z Index

NARA's website has an alphabetical subject index to help visitors navigate its content.

<https://www.archives.gov/global-pages/subject-index.html>

Amending the Constitution

NARA's website describes the roles played by the Archivist of the United States and the Office of the Federal Register in the ratification process of a constitutional amendment.

<https://www.archives.gov/federal-register/constitution>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that NARA records have been assigned to record group 064.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/064.html>

Blogs

NARA maintains multiple blogs.

<https://www.archives.gov/social-media/blogs>

Business Opportunities

Resources for doing business with NARA, as well as an inventory of service contracts awarded by the agency, are available online.

<http://www.archives.gov/contracts>

Calendar

NARA maintains a calendar of public events on its website. A recorded announcement of events in Washington, DC, and College Park, MD, also is available. Phone, 202-357-5000. TDD, 301-837-0482.

<http://www.archives.gov/calendar>

Career Opportunities

NARA has a nationwide network of facilities. The agency relies on professionals with administrative, archival, editorial, technical, and other skills to carry out its mission. For more information, visit the "Careers at NARA" web page or contact the Office of Human Capital in St. Louis, MO. Phone, 800-827-0885.

<https://www.archives.gov/careers>

In 2020, NARA ranked 17th among 25 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=NQ00>

Catalog

The National Archives catalog is accessible online.

<https://catalog.archives.gov>

Charters of Freedom

The Declaration of Independence, Constitution, and Bill of Rights have secured the rights of Americans for over two centuries. High resolution images of these three documents, transcriptions of their texts, and articles written on them are available online.

<https://www.archives.gov/founding-docs>

Climate Change

As part of NARA's policy statement for its "Climate Action Plan—September 2021," Archivist of the United States David S. Ferriero wrote that NARA is "committed to integrating climate information that reflects an understanding of global climate change (based on best available science) into its mission and programs via employee training and management functions."

<https://www.archives.gov/files/about/plans-reports/sustainability/climate-action-plan.pdf>

Congressional Affairs

The Congressional Affairs Office maintains liaison with congressional staffs and responds to their inquiries. Phone, 202-357-5100. Fax, 202-357-5959.

<https://www.archives.gov/congress> | Email: congress.affairs@nara.gov

Congressional Records

The Center for Legislative Archives houses the official records of the U.S. Congress from 1789 to the present. These records are in the permanent legal custody of the Senate and House of Representatives, and their rules govern them. The Center responds to congressional committee requests for records to support congressional business needs. It is a full-service archive that assists the Senate and House archivists with managing records, that processes congressional and legislative branch records and provides public access to them, and that creates exhibits, public programs, and educational materials and workshops on the history of the Congress and representative government. Phone, 202-357-5350. Fax, 202-357-5911.

<http://www.archives.gov/legislative> | Email: legislative.archives@nara.gov

Contact Information

Send postal correspondence to the National Archives and Records Administration, 8601 Adelphi Road, College Park, MD 20740-6001. Phone, 866-272-6272.

<https://www.archives.gov/contact> | Email: inquire@nara.gov

Democracy Starts Here

The National Archives contains over 9 billion records—some frivolous, some funny, but others serious, even repellent. More than a national scrapbook, this repository of records gives Americans the opportunity to gain unfiltered, unmediated glimpses of their shared national history, to consider their Government's achievements and shortcomings, to reflect on the praiseworthy and shameful, and to engage in the civic responsibilities of renewing their Nation and fortifying and expanding its democratic institutions. In an 11-minute video, Discovery Channel captures this fundamental concept that sustains NARA's mission.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7n3ZZ-UpiR4>

The National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC) awards grants for projects that publish the American story. The Commission also funds projects that preserve and make accessible the records of all types that are housed in historical repositories across the Nation. The American story is more diverse and unexpected than the Nation's Founding Fathers and 45 Presidents. It includes abolitionists, civil rights leaders, progressives, radicals, and reformers like Chief of the Cherokee Nation John Ross, Presidential candidate Eugene V. Debs of the Socialist Party of America, escaped slave and orator Frederick Douglass, freedom of speech champion and anarchist Emma Goldman, labor organizer Mary Harris "Mother" Jones, Vice President Henry A. Wallace, and Baptist minister Martin Luther King, Jr., whose collections and papers the NHPRC has made more accessible.

<https://www.archives.gov/publications/prologue/2004/fall/nhprc-sidebar.html>

Electoral College

The "U.S. Electoral College" web page offers a trove of information on the Electoral College, as well as external resources for learning about elections and voting in the United States. Phone, 202-741-6030.

<https://www.archives.gov/electoral-college> | Email: electoral.college@nara.gov

Exhibits

The National Archives in Washington, DC, and the Presidential Libraries and several regional facilities regularly host onsite exhibits. NARA also has national traveling exhibits that bring documents and records of the National Archives to communities nationwide. NARA's website features dozens of online exhibits on a range of topics: gifts that Presidents received, Government drawings, New Deal-era Federal art projects, work and the workplace in the 19th and 20th centuries, the influenza epidemic of 1918, and more.

<https://www.archives.gov/exhibits> | Email: National\_Archives\_Exhibits\_Staff@nara.gov

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that NARA recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/national-archives-and-records-administration>

Forms

Some of the most commonly used forms for obtaining National Archives historical records—Eastern Cherokee applications, Federal census records, Federal land entry files, military pension / bounty land warrant applications, passenger arrival records, post-World War I military records, and pre-World War I military service records—are available online.

<https://www.archives.gov/forms>

Founders Online

The National Historical Publications and Records Commission and The University of Virginia Press have collaborated to create the "Founders Online" website, which gives the public free electronic access to the historical documents of the Founders of the United States. The site contains over 176,000 searchable and fully annotated documents from the Founding Fathers Papers projects. These documents include the correspondence and other writings of Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, President John Adams and his family, and Presidents George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and James Madison.

<https://founders.archives.gov/> | Email: foundersonline@nara.gov

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute.

<https://www.archives.gov/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

NARA posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.archives.gov/faqs>

History

In the early 1930s, the Nation had a records management problem: Federal records were being housed in abandoned buildings, attics, and basements, where security and storage conditions were inadequate. In 1934, the U.S. Congress acted. To learn what it did to solve the problem, visit the "National Archives History" web page.

<https://www.archives.gov/about/history> | Email: archives.historian@nara.gov

History Hub

This crowdsourcing platform is a place for asking questions, finding people of particular experiences and interests, sharing information, and working together. The hub allows citizen archivists, American history enthusiasts, and experts from NARA and other organizations to pool their knowledge in support of historical research.

<https://historyhub.history.gov/docs/DOC-1012> | Email: historyhub@nara.gov

Know Your Records

To assist genealogical and historical researchers with using Federal Government records held at the National Archives, NARA hosts Know Your Records events. Phone, 202-357-5260.

<http://www.archives.gov/calendar/know-your-records/index.html> | Email: kyr@nara.gov

Museum Shops

The National Archives Store sells merchandise highlighting the holdings of the National Archives. Document facsimiles, publications, and souvenirs and gifts are available for sale at each Presidential Library and at the National Archives in Washington, DC. Phone, 202-357-5271.

<https://www.nationalarchivesstore.org/>

News

NARA posts press releases on its website.

<https://www.archives.gov/press>

Open Government

NARA supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.archives.gov/open>

Páginas en Español

The NARA website features a collection of pages whose content is in Spanish.

<https://www.archives.gov/espanol>

Plain Language

NARA supports the Plain Writing Act of 2010 by "promoting clear Government communication that the public can understand and use." If a document or web page contains content that is unclear, please contact NARA via email and suggest a way to enhance clarity.

<https://www.archives.gov/open/plain-writing> | Email: plainwriting@nara.gov

Publications

The "Publications" web page contains a hyperlinked list of NARA's most requested publications: "Code of Federal Regulations," "Federal Register," "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States," "Military Service Records at the National Archives," "Prologue" magazine, and eBooks and more.

<https://www.archives.gov/publications>

The Office of Records Services in Washington, DC, and the Office of Regional Records Services produce most of the publications on the "Publications" web page; however, other NARA offices also publish materials and a few of them do so extensively. These other offices include the Information Security Oversight Office, Office of the Federal Register, Office of Presidential Libraries, and public affairs staff.

<https://www.archives.gov/publications/organization.html>

NARA units enter into cooperative arrangements with other organizations to produce and sell publications. To become acquainted with these partnership publications, visit the "NARA Publications" web page.

<https://www.archives.gov/publications/partnerships.html>

"Presidential Perspectives from the National Archives" highlights modern American Presidents and the National Archives Presidential Libraries System.

<https://www.archives.gov/publications/presidential-materials.html>

Some print versions of NARA publications are no longer in stock. To inquire about a publication, contact the National Archives Foundation. Phone, 202-357-5271.

<https://www.archivesfoundation.org/contact-us>

Recorded Utterances of Presidents

The Franklin D. Roosevelt Presidential Library and Museum maintains a collection of digitized recordings of the former President's speeches and recordings from 1920 to 1945. Each audio file may be streamed or downloaded directly from the "Utterances" web page. The collection contains the State of the Union address that the President delivered before the U.S. Congress on January 6, 1941. In the speech, he famously enumerated the four freedoms—of speech and expression, to worship God, from want, and from fear (32:45)—and defined freedom generally as "the supremacy of human rights everywhere" (36:17).

<http://www.fdrlibrary.marist.edu/archives/collections/utterancesfdr.html>

The Dwight D. Eisenhower Presidential Library, Museum, and Boyhood Home maintains an audio collection (1943–1961) of the 34th President's speeches that reflect his accomplishments and values. His "Chance for Peace" speech, which is also known as the "Cross of Iron" speech, was given a few weeks after the death of Russian Premier Joseph Stalin on April 16, 1953. In that speech, he said: "Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired, signifies, in the final sense, a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and are not clothed" (11:15). The collection also contains his "Farewell Address to the American People," which he addressed to the Nation on January 17, 1961. In that oft quoted address, he spoke of the implications of a growing arms industry and defense establishment.

<https://www.eisenhowerlibrary.gov/eisenhowers/speeches>

Records Management

Records management brochures and pamphlets, posters, and publications are available online.

<https://www.archives.gov/publications/records-mgmt.html>

The national records management training program provides records management instruction to Federal employees and contractors.

<http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/training/index.html> | Email: NARA.RecordsMgtTraining@nara.gov

Researcher Newsletter

"Researcher News" covers relevant and the most up-to-date information for conducting research at the National Archives. The newsletter is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF) and also disseminated via email subscription.

<http://www.archives.gov/research/newsletter> | Email: kyr@nara.gov

Resources for Educators

NARA's website has a trove of information and resources to assist teachers.

<https://www.archives.gov/education>

DocsTeach is an online tool that helps educators use National Archives documents for teaching their students.

<https://www.docsteach.org> | Email: docsteach@nara.gov

Resources for Genealogists

NARA's website has a trove of information and resources to assist genealogy researchers.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/genealogy>

Service Records

The "Veterans' Service Records" web page explains how to request service records online, to conduct research using military records, to replace lost medal and awards, and to browse World War II photographs.

<https://www.archives.gov/veterans>

Social Media

NARA has pages on Facebook.

<https://www.archives.gov/social-media/facebook>

NARA and its component organizations tweet announcements and other newsworthy items, using their Twitter accounts.

<https://www.archives.gov/social-media/twitter>

Organizations within NARA post videos on YouTube channels.

<https://www.archives.gov/social-media/youtube>

Today's Document

Each day a different American historical document is featured on NARA's website.

<https://www.archives.gov/historical-docs/todays-doc>

Visitors' Information

The "Visit Us" web page has a nationwide list of NARA facilities—Federal records centers, Presidential Libraries, and research facilities. The list includes directions to, hours for, and details on each facility.

<https://www.archives.gov/locations>

The Sources of Information were updated 6–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Capital Planning Commission

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL CAPITAL PLANNING COMMISSION

401 Ninth Street NW., Suite 500, Washington, DC 20004

202-482-7200

<http://www.ncpc.gov>

CHAIR

L. Preston Bryant, Jr.

Member

Arrington Dixon

Member

Thomas Gallas

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| Member   | Geoffery Griffis |
| Member   | Elizabeth White  |
| Administrator of General Services (ex officio)                                     | Emily W. Murphy  |
| Chair, Council of the District of Columbia (ex officio)                            | Philip Mendelson |
| Chair, House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform (ex officio)             | Trey Gowdy       |
| Chair, Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs (ex officio) | Ron Johnson      |
| Mayor of the District of Columbia (ex officio)                                     | Muriel Bowser    |
| Secretary of Defense (ex officio)  | Jim Mattis       |
| Secretary of the Interior (ex officio)   | Ryan Zinke       |

STAFF

|   |                    |
|---|--------------------|
| EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR  | Marcel C. Acosta   |
| Chief Operating Officer   | Barry S. Socks     |
| Director, Office of Public Engagement / Secretary to the Commission | Julia A. Koster    |
| Director, Physical Planning   | Elizabeth Miller   |
| Director, Policy and Research                                       | Michael A. Sherman |
| Director, Urban Design and Plan Review                              | Diane Sullivan     |
| Director, Office of Administration                                  | Debra. Dickson     |
| General Counsel   | Anne R. Schuyler   |

[For the National Capital Planning Commission statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 1, Part 456.2]

The National Capital Planning Commission conducts planning and development activities for Federal lands and facilities in the National Capital Region—the District of Columbia, the City of Alexandria, and all land areas within the boundaries of Montgomery, Prince George's, Fairfax, Loudoun, Prince William, and Arlington Counties.

Organizational Chart

The National Capital Planning Commission was established as a park planning agency by act of June 6, 1924, as amended (40 U.S.C. 8701 et seq.). Two years later, its role was expanded to include comprehensive planning. In 1952, the National Capital Planning Act designated the Commission as the central planning agency for the Federal and District of Columbia governments.

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/About\_Us\(tr2\)/About\_Us\(tr3\)/History.html/About_Us(tr2)/About_Us(tr3)/History.html)

In 1973, the National Capital Planning Act was amended by the District of Columbia Home Rule Act, which made the mayor of the District of Columbia the chief planner for the District and gave the Commission specific authority for reviewing certain District decisions. The Commission continues to serve, however, as the central planning agency for the Federal Government in the National Capital Region.

The Commission comprises five appointed and seven ex officio members. Three citizen members, including the Chair, are appointed by the President. The mayor of the District of Columbia appoints the other two members. The Presidential appointees include one resident from Maryland, one resident from Virginia, and one from anywhere else in the United States. The two mayoral appointees must be District of Columbia residents.

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/About\_Us\(tr2\)/AboutUs.html/About_Us(tr2)/AboutUs.html)

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

The Commission posts contracting opportunities on its Web site.

http://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/About\_Us\(tr2\)/About\_Us\(tr3\)/Opportunities.html/About_Us(tr2)/About_Us(tr3)/Opportunities.html)

Career Opportunities

The Commission posts employment opportunities on its Web site.

http://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/About\_Us\(tr2\)/About\_Us\(tr3\)/Opportunities.html/About_Us(tr2)/About_Us(tr3)/Opportunities.html)

Events

The Commission posts upcoming events that are open to the public online.

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/PublicParticipation\(Tr2\)/Public%20Participation\(Tr3\)/UpcomingEvents.html/PublicParticipation(Tr2)/Public%20Participation(Tr3)/UpcomingEvents.html)

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

FOIA requests should be addressed to the Chief FOIA Officer, National Capital Planning Commission, 401 9th Street NW., Suite 500, Washington, DC 20004. Requests also may be submitted by fax or email. Fax, 202-482-7272

<https://www.ncpc.gov/open/home.html>

Internships

The Commission offers internships for students at accredited colleges and universities. Students with various educational backgrounds—architecture, communications, community planning, computer aided design, geography and geographic information systems, historic preservation, landscape architecture, law, urban design—are encouraged to apply.

http://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/About\_Us\(tr2\)/About\_Us\(tr3\)/Opportunities.html/About_Us(tr2)/About_Us(tr3)/Opportunities.html)

Memorial Map

The Commission, in conjunction with the National Park Service, offers Internet users an interactive map of commemorative works in the Nation's capital.

<https://www.ncpc.gov/memorials>

Newsletters

Monthly newsletters are available online.

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/Publications\(Tr2\)/Publications\(Tr3\)/CompleteCatalogue.html?ccpage=1/Publications(Tr2)/Publications(Tr3)/CompleteCatalogue.html?ccpage=1)

An archive of quarterly newsletters running from 1998 to 2009 is available online.

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/Publications\(Tr2\)/Publications\(Tr3\)/CompleteCatalogue.html?ccpage=3/Publications(Tr2)/Publications(Tr3)/CompleteCatalogue.html?ccpage=3)

News

The Commission posts recent news releases on its Web site. Starting with the year 2001, an online archive contains releases from previous years.

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/Media\(Tr2\)/Media\(Tr3\)/NewsReleaseArchive.html/Media(Tr2)/Media(Tr3)/NewsReleaseArchive.html)

Open Government

The Commission supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.ncpc.gov/open/home.html>

Plain Language

The Commission's writers and editors are committed to using plain language in new communications and revising confusing or unclear language in existing material. If a sentence or paragraph's clarity needs improvement, send them a note using the online form.

<https://www.ncpc.gov/open/home.html>

Publications

Recently released and frequently requested publications are accessible online.

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/Publications\(Tr2\)/Publications.html/Publications(Tr2)/Publications.html)

Reports

Starting with the year 2004, the Commission's annual reports are accessible online.

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/Publications\(Tr2\)/Publications\(Tr3\)/CompleteCatalogue.html?ccpage=4/Publications(Tr2)/Publications(Tr3)/CompleteCatalogue.html?ccpage=4)

Site Map

Web site visitors may use the site map to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/siteMap.html/siteMap.html)

https://www.ncpc.gov/ncpc/Main\(T2\)/About\_Us\(tr2\)/About\_Us\(tr3\)/Contactus.html/About_Us(tr2)/About_Us(tr3)/Contactus.html) | Email: info@ncpc.gov

For further information, contact the National Capital Planning Commission, 401 Ninth Street NW., Suite 500, Washington, DC 20004. Phone, 202-482-7200. Fax, 202-482-7272.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Credit Union Administration

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION

1775 Duke Street, Alexandria, VA 22314

703-518-6300

<http://www.ncua.gov>

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

---

|       |                   |
|-------|-------------------|
| CHAIR | J. Mark McWatters |
|-------|-------------------|

|        |                    |
|--------|--------------------|
| Member | Richard T. Metsger |
|--------|--------------------|

|        |           |
|--------|-----------|
| Member | (vacancy) |
|--------|-----------|

HEADQUARTERS—Washington, DC

---

|       |                   |
|-------|-------------------|
| CHAIR | J. Mark McWatters |
|-------|-------------------|

|                     |                    |
|---------------------|--------------------|
| Member of the Board | Richard T. Metsger |
|---------------------|--------------------|

|                |               |
|----------------|---------------|
| Chief of Staff | Sarah D. Vega |
|----------------|---------------|

OFFICE HEADS

|                 |              |
|-----------------|--------------|
| Chief Economist | Ralph Monaco |
|-----------------|--------------|

|                         |                  |
|-------------------------|------------------|
| Chief Financial Officer | Rendell L. Jones |
|-------------------------|------------------|

|                           |               |
|---------------------------|---------------|
| Chief Information Officer | Edward Dorris |
|---------------------------|---------------|

|                               |             |
|-------------------------------|-------------|
| Director, Consumer Protection | Gail Laster |
|-------------------------------|-------------|

|  |            |
|--|------------|
| Director, Continuity and Security Management | Joy Miller |
|--|------------|

|                                     |             |
|-------------------------------------|-------------|
| Director, Examination and Insurance | Larry Fazio |
|-------------------------------------|-------------|

|                           |             |
|---------------------------|-------------|
| Director, Human Resources | Cheryl Eyre |
|---------------------------|-------------|

|  |             |
|--|-------------|
| Director, Minority and Women Inclusion | Monica Davy |
|--|-------------|

|   |            |
|---|------------|
| Director, National Examinations and Supervision | Scott Hunt |
|---|------------|

|  |                            |
|--|----------------------------|
| Director, Public and Congressional Affairs | Alfred V. Garesché, Acting |
|--|----------------------------|

|  |                 |
|--|-----------------|
| Director, Small Credit Union Initiatives | Martha Ninichuk |
|--|-----------------|

|                    |                  |
|--------------------|------------------|
| Executive Director | Mark A. Treichel |
|--------------------|------------------|

|                 |                 |
|-----------------|-----------------|
| General Counsel | Michael McKenna |
|-----------------|-----------------|

|                   |                |
|-------------------|----------------|
| Inspector General | James W. Hagen |
|-------------------|----------------|

<https://www.ncua.gov/about/leadership/Pages/default.aspx>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

---

[For the National Credit Union Administration statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 12, Part 720]

The National Credit Union Administration provides a trustworthy credit union system that builds confidence in the Nation's system of cooperative credit.

The National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) was established by act of March 10, 1970 (12 U.S.C. 1752), and reorganized by act of November 10, 1978 (12 U.S.C. 226), as an independent agency in the executive branch of the Federal Government. It regulates and insures all Federal credit unions and insures State-chartered credit unions that apply and qualify for share insurance.

The Administration's Board comprises three members whom the President appoints and the Senate must confirm. Members serve staggered terms of 6 years, and no more than two of them can belong to the same political party.

<https://www.ncua.gov/about/leadership/Pages/default.aspx>

ACTIVITIES

---

Chartering

The NCUA grants Federal credit union charters to groups sharing a common bond of occupation or association or to groups within a well-defined neighborhood, community, or rural district. Before granting a Federal charter, the NCUA conducts a preliminary investigation to determine if certain standards are met.

<https://www.ncua.gov/services/Pages/field-of-membership-chartering.aspx>

Examinations

The NCUA regularly examines Federal credit unions to assess their solvency, to ensure their compliance with laws and regulations, and to assist credit union management and improve operations.

For further information, contact the Director, Office of Examination and Insurance. Phone, 703-518-6360.

Share Insurance

The act of October 19, 1970 (12 U.S.C. 1781 et seq.), provides for a program of share insurance, in which participation is mandatory for Federal credit unions. In some States, State-chartered credit unions must participate in the share insurance program. In other States, State-chartered credit unions may opt to participate in the insurance program. The National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund requires each participating credit union to place and maintain a 1-percent deposit of its insured savings with the Fund. Credit union members' accounts are insured up to $250,000.

<http://www.mycreditunion.gov/protect/Pages/SI.aspx>

Supervision

Supervisory activities are carried out through regular examiner contacts and by periodic policy and regulatory releases from the Administration. The NCUA also identifies emerging problems and monitors operations between examinations.

NCUA central offices include examination and supervision programs. Five regional offices manage the oversight of credit unions.

<http://www.ncua.gov/about/pages/Contact.aspx>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The NCUA Web site has an A–Z index to help visitors navigate its content.

<https://www.ncua.gov/Pages/SiteIndex.aspx>

Business Opportunities

The NCUA selects vendors who offer the best value to help the agency meet its mission. The Division of Procurement and Facilities Management is responsible for procuring goods and services. Phone, 703-518-6410. Fax, 703-518-6662.

<https://www.ncua.gov/About/Pages/business-opportunities.aspx> | Email: ocfoprocurement@ncua.gov

Career Opportunities

Career information is available from the Office of Human Resources. Phone, 703-518-6510. Fax, 703-518-6539.

http://www.ncua.gov/about/Leadership/Pages/page\_hr.aspx | Email: ohrmail@ncua.gov

The NCUA relies heavily on credit union examiners to carry out its mission. Watch the video "A Day in the Life of a Credit Union Examiner" to learn about the training required and the role a fully trained examiner plays in safeguarding the stability of the Nation's credit union system.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iP-dgprNGnw&feature=youtu.be>

The NCUA ranks among the top midsize Government agencies in the Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/overall/mid>

Closed Credit Unions

The Asset Management and Assistance Center conducts credit union liquidations and performs asset management and recovery. It also participates in the operational phases of a failed credit union's conservatorship and assists with record reconstruction. The Center posts up-to-date information on closed, conserved, liquidated, and merged credit unions on the NCUA Web site.

<https://www.ncua.gov/services/Pages/closed-credit-unions.aspx> | Email: amacmail@ncua.gov

Consumer Assistance

For answers to questions on credit union insurance and other consumer matters or to submit a complaint, contact the NCUA Consumer Assistance Center on weekdays, 8 a.m.–5 p.m., eastern standard time. After regular business hours, callers may leave a recorded message. Phone, 800-755-1030.

<http://www.mycreditunion.gov/consumer-assistance-center/Pages/default.aspx>

Español

Read Spanish better than English? Visit the Spanish version of the NCUA Web site.

<https://espanol.ncua.gov/newsroom/Pages/newsroom.aspx>

Federally Insured Credit Unions

A directory of federally insured credit unions that includes addresses, asset levels, and membership numbers is available online and for review at central and regional offices. Copies of the directory are available for a nominal fee: Write NCUA, Publications, 1775 Duke Street, Alexandria, VA 22314-3428. Phone, 703-518-6340.

<http://www.ncua.gov/Legal/GuidesEtc/Pages/CUDirectory.aspx>

Financial Literacy

The NCUA offers financial literacy and educational resources to help consumers increase their savings and achieve their financial goals.

<https://www.ncua.gov/consumers/Pages/financial-literacy-resources.aspx>

Fraud Hotline

The NCUA operates a hotline for reporting illegal or suspicious activity associated with credit union employees, members, or officials in federally insured credit unions. Phone, 800-827-9650 or 703-518-6550 (Washington, DC, area).

<https://www.ncua.gov/services/Pages/fraud-hotline.aspx>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The act allows any person to obtain records of a Federal agency. A record may be withheld only if it carries an exemption under the FOIA. The NCUA operates a FOIA requester service center to answer questions related to the FOIA process, to provide information on the status of a request, and to answer questions about documents that a requester has received from the NCUA. Phone, 703-518-6540. Fax, 703-518-6569.

<https://www.ncua.gov/services/Pages/freedom-of-information-act.aspx> | Email: FOIA@ncua.gov

Games / Activities

Games for testing and activities for exercising financial knowledge are available on the Web site MyCreditUnion.gov.

<https://www.mycreditunion.gov/tools-resources/Pages/Games-and-Activities.aspx>

Glossaries

The NCUA maintains a glossary of the common terms associated with the corporate system resolution costs.

<https://www.ncua.gov/regulation-supervision/Pages/corporate-system-resolution/glossary.aspx>

The Web site MyCreditUnion.gov has a glossary of common terms associated with the share insurance coverage.

http://www.mycreditunion.gov/estimator/Pages/glossary\_calculator.aspx

History

Court reporter Alphonse Desjardins knew loan sharks were charging outrageous rates of interest in Quebec. He did not like their predatory lending and responded by organizing La Caisse Populaire de Levis, the first credit union in North America, to provide affordable credit to working class families. Nearly a decade later, on April 6, 1909, with the assistance of Desjardins, the St. Mary's Cooperative Credit Association, the first credit union in the United States, opened its doors in Manchester, New Hampshire. Yet the moniker "Father of U.S. Credit Unions" would be earned by another. To learn who this person was and what he did for credit unions, visit the NCUA "History" Web page.

<https://www.ncua.gov/About/Pages/history.aspx>

Learning

NCUA webinars and Learning Management Service provide free educational materials. Webinars help credit union professionals stay current on important topics affecting the credit union community. Generally 90 minutes in length, live webinars are scheduled throughout the year. Archived webinars may be viewed on demand approximately three weeks after the live event. The Learning Management Service educates people on building community partnerships, credit union operations, how credit unions are governed, how the credit union system works, and products and services. Phone, 703-518-6610.

<https://www.ncua.gov/services/Pages/small-credit-union-initiatives/learning.aspx> | Email: OSCU@mail@ncua.gov

Locate a Credit Union

The NCUA Web site features a credit union locator tool, which complements the research a credit union tool. The locator provides a graphical map of credit unions based on an address search. The locator also allows the user to view a credit union's contact information, the services that it offers, and directions to it.

<http://mapping.ncua.gov>

Newsroom

The NCUA posts annual reports, events, press releases, speeches, testimonies, and its newsletter "The NCUA Report."

<https://www.ncua.gov/newsroom/Pages/newsroom.aspx>

Open Government

NCUA supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency. The NCUA regards openness, in terms of budget, policy, and operations, as essential to fulfilling its statutory mission and maintaining public trust.

<https://www.ncua.gov/about/Pages/open-government.aspx>

Organizational Chart

The NCUA posts a Joint Photographic Group (JPG) file of its organizational chart online for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.ncua.gov/Style%20Library/MainTheme/images/offices/org-chart-download.jpg>

Plain Language

The Plain Writing Act of 2010 promotes clear Government communication "to improve the effectiveness and accountability of Federal agencies to the public." Members of the public are welcome to comment on the NCUA's compliance with the act and to make suggestions for improving communication. Contact the NCUA via email if content in documents or on web pages is difficult to understand.

<https://www.ncua.gov/About/Pages/open-government/plain-writing.aspx> | Email: PlainWriting@ncua.gov

Proposed Regulations

The NCUA encourages the public to submit a comment on its proposed rules. Fax, 703-518-6319.

<https://www.ncua.gov/regulation-supervision/Pages/rules/proposed.aspx> | Email: regcomments@ncua.gov

Publications

To order publications, contact the Office of the Chief Financial Officer. Payment by check, credit card, or money order is acceptable and prepayment is required. Phone, 703-518-6340.

<https://www.ncua.gov/services/Pages/order-publications.aspx>

Manuals and guides are available online to facilitate compliance with NCUA rules and regulations and with those from other agencies. The manuals and guides are not definitive and should be used in conjunction with other supervisory guidance and information provided by the NCUA and other Federal financial services regulators.

<https://www.ncua.gov/regulation-supervision/Pages/manuals-guides.aspx>

Research a Credit Union

The NCUA Web site features a credit union research tool, which complements the credit union locator. The research tool is text-based, and it can find a credit union and its profile by using a variety of search parameters.

<http://mapping.ncua.gov/ResearchCreditUnion.aspx>

RSS Feeds / Email Subscriptions

RSS services provide updates on NCUA Board actions, regulatory alerts, and supervisory guidance. Credit unions, members of the media, and general stakeholders can opt to receive notifications on Board actions, events, and general agency news.

<https://www.ncua.gov/Pages/rss.aspx>

NCUA Express gives email users another option for receiving electronic NCUA communications. Within hours of a letter, press release, regulatory alert, or other communication being published, a message describing it and a link for downloading it are sent to a subscriber's inbox.

<https://www.ncua.gov/Pages/ncuaexpress.aspx>

Share Insurance Estimator

The Web site MyCreditUnion.gov features a share insurance estimator to help consumers, credit unions, and their members know how NCUA share insurance rules apply to member share accounts—what is insured and what portion, if any, exceeds coverage limits.

<http://www.mycreditunion.gov/estimator/Pages/default.aspx> | Email: DCAMail@ncua.gov

Site Map

The Web site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.ncua.gov/Pages/SiteMap.aspx>

Social Media

The NCUA has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/NCUAgov>

The NCUA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/TheNCUA>

The NCUA posts educational videos, quarterly economic updates, and speeches on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/NCUAchannel>

Starting a Federal Credit Union

Groups interested in forming a Federal credit union may obtain free information from the appropriate regional office.

Information is also available on the "How to Start a Credit Union" Web page.

<https://www.ncua.gov/services/Pages/field-of-membership-chartering/start-a-credit-union.aspx>

| Email:

NewFCU@ncua.gov

<https://www.ncua.gov/About/Pages/contact.aspx>

For further information, contact the Office of Public and Congressional Affairs, National Credit Union Administration, 1775 Duke Street, Alexandria, VA 22314-3428. Phone, 703-518-6330.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities
National Endowment for the Arts
National Endowment for the Humanities
Institute of Museum and Library Services

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL FOUNDATION ON THE ARTS AND THE HUMANITIES

National Endowment for the Arts

400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20506

202-682-5400

TDD, 202-682-5496

<http://www.arts.gov>

|  |                              |
|--|------------------------------|
| CHAIR  | R. Jane Chu                  |
| Senior Deputy Chairman   | Mary Anne Carter             |
| Chief Information Officer  | Vacant                       |
| Chief of Staff   | Mike Griffin                 |
| Deputy Chairman, Management and Budget   | Vacant                       |
| Director, Accessibility  | Beth Bienvenu                |
| Director, Administrative Services  | Kathy Daum                   |
| Director, Artist Communities and Presenting and Multidisciplinary Works / International Activities Coordinator | Michael Orlove               |
| Director, Arts Education   | Ayanna N. Hudson             |
| Director, Budget   | John Sotelo                  |
| Director, Civil Rights and Equal Employment Opportunity  | Mike Griffin                 |
| Director, Dance  | Jennifer Kareliusson, Acting |
| Director, Design Programs / Visual Arts Division Team Leader   | Vacant                       |
| Director, Finance  | Heidi Ren                    |
| Director, Folk and Traditional Arts  | Clifford Murphy              |
| Director, Grants and Contracts   | Nicki Jacobs                 |
| Director, Guidelines and Panel Operations  | Jillian L. Miller            |
| Director, Human Resources  | Craig M. McCord, Sr.         |
| Director, Literature   | Amy Stolls                   |
| Director, Local Arts Agencies and Challenge America  | Vacant                       |
| Director, Media Arts   | Jax Deluca                   |

|   |                    |
|---|--------------------|
| Director, Museums, Visual Arts, and Indemnity | Wendy Clark        |
| Director, Music and Opera                     | Ann Meier Baker    |
| Director, Public Affairs                      | Jessamyn Sarmiento |
| Director, Research and Analysis               | Sunil Iyengar      |
| Director, State and Regional Partnerships     | Laura Scanlan      |
| Director, Theater and Musical Theater         | Greg Reiner        |
| Federal Partnerships Coordinator              | Tony Tighe         |
| General Counsel                               | India Pinkney      |
| Inspector General                             | Ronald Stith       |

The National Endowment for the Arts supports artistic excellence and promotes creativity and innovation to benefit individuals and communities.

Organizational Chart

Through its grants and programs, the Arts Endowment brings art to all 50 States and six U.S. jurisdictions, including rural areas, inner cities, and military bases. The Arts Endowment awards competitive matching grants to nonprofit organizations, to units of State or local government, and to federally recognized tribal communities or tribes for projects, programs, or activities in the fields of artist communities, arts education, dance, design, folk and traditional arts, literature, local arts agencies, media arts, museums, music, musical theater, opera, presenting, theater, and visual arts. It also awards competitive, nonmatching individual fellowships in literature and honorary fellowships in jazz, folk and traditional arts, and opera. Forty percent of the Arts Endowment's grant funds go to the 56 State and jurisdictional arts agencies and their regional arts organizations in support of arts projects in thousands of communities nationwide.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

Job announcements are posted online.

<https://www.arts.gov/about/employment-opportunities-nea>

Grants

Application forms and guidelines and listings of grants recently made to individuals and organizations are accessible online.

<http://www.arts.gov/grants>

Podcasts

Podcasts feature actors, authors, composers, musicians, playwrights, poets, and other artists and professionals who support and strengthen the arts.

<https://www.arts.gov/podcasts>

Publications

Publications, including annual reports and "NEA Arts" magazine, are available online.

<http://arts.gov/publications>

<https://www.arts.gov/about/annual-reports>

<https://www.arts.gov/NEARTS>

<https://www.arts.gov/staff>

For further information, contact the Public Affairs Office, National Endowment for the Arts, 400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20506-0001. Phone, 202-682-5400. TDD, 202-682-5496.

National Endowment for the Humanities

400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20506

202-606-8400

800-634-1121

<http://www.neh.gov> | Email: info@neh.gov

|  |                        |
|--|------------------------|
| CHAIR  | Peggy Plympton, Acting |
| Deputy Chair   | Vacant                 |
| Assistant Chair, Partnership and Strategic Initiatives | Vacant                 |
| Assistant Chair, Planning and Operations               | Jeffrey Thomas         |
| Assistant Chair, Programs                              | Adam Wolfson           |
| Chief Information Officer                              | Brett Bobley           |
| Chief of Staff   | Vacant                 |
| General Counsel  | Michael McDonald       |
| Inspector General                                      | Laura M.H. Davis       |

The National Endowment for the Humanities supports research, education, preservation, and public programs in the humanities.

Organizational Chart

According to the agency's authorizing legislation, the term "humanities" includes, but is not limited to, the study of the following: language, both modern and classical; linguistics; literature; history; jurisprudence; philosophy; archeology; comparative religion; ethics; the history, criticism, and theory of the arts; and those aspects of the social sciences that employ historical or philosophical approaches.

To increase understanding and appreciation of the humanities, the Endowment makes grants to individuals, as well as to groups and institutions: colleges, libraries, museums, nonprofit private groups, public television stations and agencies, schools, and universities.

<http://www.neh.gov/about>

Challenge Grants

The Office of Challenge Grants offers matching funds to help nonprofit institutions develop new sources of long-term support for educational, scholarly, preservation, and public programs in the humanities.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/challenge/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8309.

Digital Humanities

The Office of Digital Humanities supports projects that use digital technology or study how it affects education, preservation, public programming, and research in the humanities.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/odh/about> | Email: odh@neh.gov

For further information, call 202-606-8401.

Education Programs

The Division of Education Programs strengthens sustained, thoughtful study of the humanities at all educational levels. It makes grants to educational institutions and gives fellowships to teachers and scholars.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/education/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8500.

Federal/State Partnership

Humanities committees in each of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin and Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, and American Samoa receive grants from the Endowment. These committees then make grants to humanities programs at the local level.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/fedstate/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8254.

Preservation and Access

The Division of Preservation and Access supports creating, preserving, and increasing the availability of resources that are important for research, education, and public programming in the humanities.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/preservation/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8570.

Public Programs

The Division of Public Programs supports institutions and organizations that develop and present humanities programming for general audiences. Its activities center on the Endowment's mandate "to increase public understanding of the humanities."

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/public/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8268.

Research Programs

The Division of Research Programs promotes original research in the humanities. It provides grants for significant research projects.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/research/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8389.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

The National Endowment for the Humanities posts job opportunities on USAJobs, the Federal Government's official source for Federal job listings and employment opportunity information.

<https://www.usajobs.gov>

Grants

Information on managing a grant, the application review process, and other topics is available on the "NEH Grants" Web page.

<http://www.neh.gov/grants>

Publications

The Endowment's in-house, quarterly magazine "HUMANITIES" is available by subscription from the U.S.

Government Publishing Office, P.O. Box 979050, St. Louis, MO 63197-9000. Phone, 202-512-1800.

<http://www.neh.gov/humanities/staff> | Email: publications@neh.gov

<http://www.neh.gov/about/contact> | Email: info@neh.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Communications, National Endowment for the Humanities, 400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20506. Phone, 202-606-8400 or 800-634-1121. TDD, 202-606-8282 or 866-372-2930.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services did not meet the publication deadline for submitting updated information of its activities, functions, and sources of information as required by the automatic disclosure provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552(a)(1)(A)).

Institute of Museum and Library Services

955 L'Enfant Plaza North SW., Suite 4000, Washington, DC 20024-2135

202-653-4657

<http://www.ims.gov> | Email: imlsinfo@ims.gov

---

|          |               |
|----------|---------------|
| DIRECTOR | Crosby Kemper |
|----------|---------------|

---

DEPUTY DIRECTORS

---

|                  |                |
|------------------|----------------|
| Library Services | Cyndee Landrum |
|------------------|----------------|

---

|                 |                    |
|-----------------|--------------------|
| Museum Services | Paula Gangopadhyay |
|-----------------|--------------------|

---

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/leadership-staff/crosby-kemper>

---

|  |               |
|--|---------------|
| Associate Deputy Director for Library Services | Anthony Smith |
|--|---------------|

---

|   |                      |
|---|----------------------|
| Chief Administrator for Museum Services | Christopher J. Reich |
|---|----------------------|

---

CHIEF OFFICERS

---

|           |                 |
|-----------|-----------------|
| Financial | Chris Catignani |
|-----------|-----------------|

---

|             |             |
|-------------|-------------|
| Information | Scott Carey |
|-------------|-------------|

---

|           |                         |
|-----------|-------------------------|
| Operating | Chris Catignani, Acting |
|-----------|-------------------------|

---

|                        |                  |
|------------------------|------------------|
| Communications Manager | Elizabeth Holtan |
|------------------------|------------------|

---

Museum Assessment Program

The IMLS supports the cost of this program through a cooperative agreement with the American Alliance of Museums. The program helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet national standards through self-study and a site visit from a peer reviewer.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/museum-assessment-program-map>

Museums for America

The IMLS awards grants at two funding levels to help museums expand their role as lifelong learning resources, increase the vital contributions they make to livable communities, and become better stewards of the Nation's collections.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/museums-america>

National Arts and Humanities Youth Program Awards

This is a project of the President's Committee on the Arts and the Humanities in partnership with the IMLS and the National Endowments for the Arts and for the Humanities. These awards acknowledge museums and libraries for their afterschool and out-of-school arts and humanities programs for young Americans.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/national-arts-and-humanities-youth-program-awards>

National Leadership Grants for Libraries

These grants help library and archive professionals address the challenges and needs of their fields. Projects supported by these grants stimulate research, develop new tools, and produce innovative alliances, models, practices, and services that broadly affect the library and archival fields.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/national-leadership-grants-libraries>

National Leadership Grants for Museums

These grants help museum professionals address the challenges and needs of their field. Projects supported by these grants promote innovation and collaboration and typically produce results that broadly affect the museum field.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/national-leadership-grants-museums>

National Medal for Museum and Library Service

This award acknowledges institutions for providing exceptional and meaningful public service in their communities.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/national-medal-museum-and-library-service>

Native American and Native Hawaiian Museum Services Program

These grants to federally recognized tribes and organizations that represent and serve Native Hawaiians help sustain indigenous culture, heritage, and knowledge through improved museum services.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/native-american-native-hawaiian-museum-services-program>

Native American Library Services: Basic Grants and the Education/Assessment Option

These noncompetitive grants to federally recognized tribes help them purchase library materials, acquire computers and provide Internet connectivity, and fund salaries. The Education/Assessment option is supplemental to the basic grants and also noncompetitive. It funds library staff participation in continuing education courses, training workshops, and conferences. It also allows libraries to hire a consultant for an onsite professional assessment.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/native-american-library-services-basic-grants>

Native American Library Services: Enhancement Grants

These grants to federally recognized tribes expand services for access to information, learning, and partnerships.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/native-american-library-services-enhancement-grants>

Native Hawaiian Library Services

This program supports grants that implement new library services or enhance existing ones.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/native-hawaiian-library-services>

Sparks! Ignition Grants for Libraries

These grants promote exploration and expansion of the frontiers of archival and library practices and services.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/sparks-ignition-grants-libraries>

Sparks! Ignition Grants for Museums

These grants promote exploration and expansion of the frontiers of museum practices and services.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/sparks-ignition-grants-museums>

State Program Grants

The Grants to States program is the largest Federal source of funding to support library services in the United States. The IMLS uses a population-based formula to distribute annual grants among the State Library Administrative Agencies—official agencies charged by law with the extension and development of library services. Each year, thousands of Grants to States projects promote the priorities and assist the purposes of the Library Services and Technology Act.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/grants-states>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

The IMLS offers a unique opportunity to work with the Nation's libraries and museums at the national level and in coordination with State and local organizations. The IMLS posts employment and internship opportunities on its Web site.

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/jobs-ims/employment-opportunities>

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/jobs-ims/internship-opportunities>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

An online guide answers frequently asked FOIA-related questions.

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/agency-reports/freedom-information-act-foia>

Grants

Search tools are available online to search for available grants and awarded grants.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/apply-grant/available-grants>

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/awarded-grants>

News

The IMLS posts news releases and project profiles online, as well as its "UpNext" blog and "Primary Source" monthly newsletter.

<https://www.ims.gov/news-events>

Open Government

The IMLS supports the Governmentwide initiative to promote openness in the work of Federal agencies. It posts datasets on Data.gov and maintains a data catalog that makes IMLS data accessible to developers, researchers, and to the general public.

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/open-government>

Publications

Publications are accessible in Portable Document Format (PDF) on the "Publications List" Web page.

<https://www.ims.gov/publications>

Videos

A collection of IMLS videos is available online.

<https://www.ims.gov/publications/ims-videos>

<http://www.ims.gov> | Email: imlsinfo@ims.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Communications and Government Affairs, Institute of Museum and Library Services, 955 L'Enfant Plaza North SW., Suite 4000, Washington, DC 20024. Phone, 202-653-4757.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Endowment for the Arts

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE ARTS

400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20506

202-682-5400

TDD, 202-682-5496

<http://www.arts.gov>

CHAIR

R. Jane Chu

Senior Deputy Chairman

Mary Anne Carter

|   |                              |
|---|------------------------------|
| Chief Information Officer   | Vacant                       |
| Chief of Staff  | Mike Griffin                 |
| Deputy Chairman, Management and Budget  | Vacant                       |
| Director, Accessibility   | Beth Bienvenu                |
| Director, Administrative Services   | Kathy Daum                   |
| Director, Artist Communities and Presenting and Multidisciplinary Works /International Activities Coordinator | Michael Orlove               |
| Director, Arts Education  | Ayanna N. Hudson             |
| Director, Budget  | John Sotelo                  |
| Director, Civil Rights and Equal Employment Opportunity   | Mike Griffin                 |
| Director, Dance   | Jennifer Kareliusson, Acting |
| Director, Design Programs / Visual Arts Division Team Leader  | Vacant                       |
| Director, Finance   | Heidi Ren                    |
| Director, Folk and Traditional Arts   | Clifford Murphy              |
| Director, Grants and Contracts  | Nicki Jacobs                 |
| Director, Guidelines and Panel Operations   | Jillian L. Miller            |
| Director, Human Resources   | Craig M. McCord, Sr.         |
| Director, Literature  | Amy Stolls                   |
| Director, Local Arts Agencies and Challenge America   | Vacant                       |
| Director, Media Arts  | Jax Deluca                   |
| Director, Museums, Visual Arts, and Indemnity   | Wendy Clark                  |
| Director, Music and Opera   | Ann Meier Baker              |
| Director, Public Affairs  | Jessamyn Sarmiento           |

|   |               |
|---|---------------|
| Director, Research and Analysis           | Sunil Iyengar |
| Director, State and Regional Partnerships | Laura Scanlan |
| Director, Theater and Musical Theater     | Greg Reiner   |
| Federal Partnerships Coordinator          | Tony Tighe    |
| General Counsel                           | India Pinkney |
| Inspector General                         | Ronald Stith  |

The National Endowment for the Arts supports artistic excellence and promotes creativity and innovation to benefit individuals and communities.

Organizational Chart

Through its grants and programs, the Arts Endowment brings art to all 50 States and six U.S. jurisdictions, including rural areas, inner cities, and military bases. The Arts Endowment awards competitive matching grants to nonprofit organizations, to units of State or local government, and to federally recognized tribal communities or tribes for projects, programs, or activities in the fields of artist communities, arts education, dance, design, folk and traditional arts, literature, local arts agencies, media arts, museums, music, musical theater, opera, presenting, theater, and visual arts. It also awards competitive, nonmatching individual fellowships in literature and honorary fellowships in jazz, folk and traditional arts, and opera. Forty percent of the Arts Endowment's grant funds go to the 56 State and jurisdictional arts agencies and their regional arts organizations in support of arts projects in thousands of communities nationwide.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

Job announcements are posted online.

<https://www.arts.gov/about/employment-opportunities-nea>

Grants

Application forms and guidelines and listings of grants recently made to individuals and organizations are accessible online.

<http://www.arts.gov/grants>

Podcasts

Podcasts feature actors, authors, composers, musicians, playwrights, poets, and other artists and professionals who support and strengthen the arts.

<https://www.arts.gov/podcasts>

Publications

Publications, including annual reports and "NEA Arts" magazine, are available online.

<http://arts.gov/publications>

<https://www.arts.gov/about/annual-reports>

<https://www.arts.gov/NEARTS>

<https://www.arts.gov/staff>

For further information, contact the Public Affairs Office, National Endowment for the Arts, 400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20506-0001. Phone, 202-682-5400. TDD, 202-682-5496.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Endowment for the Humanities

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20506

202-606-8400

800-634-1121

<http://www.neh.gov> | Email: info@neh.gov

CHAIR

Peggy Plympton, Acting

Deputy Chair

Vacant

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| Assistant Chair, Partnership and Strategic Initiatives | Vacant           |
| Assistant Chair, Planning and Operations               | Jeffrey Thomas   |
| Assistant Chair, Programs                              | Adam Wolfson     |
| Chief Information Officer                              | Brett Bobley     |
| Chief of Staff   | Vacant           |
| General Counsel  | Michael McDonald |
| Inspector General                                      | Laura M.H. Davis |

The National Endowment for the Humanities supports research, education, preservation, and public programs in the humanities.

Organizational Chart

According to the agency's authorizing legislation, the term "humanities" includes, but is not limited to, the study of the following: language, both modern and classical; linguistics; literature; history; jurisprudence; philosophy; archeology; comparative religion; ethics; the history, criticism, and theory of the arts; and those aspects of the social sciences that employ historical or philosophical approaches.

To increase understanding and appreciation of the humanities, the Endowment makes grants to individuals, as well as to groups and institutions: colleges, libraries, museums, nonprofit private groups, public television stations and agencies, schools, and universities.

<http://www.neh.gov/about>

Challenge Grants

The Office of Challenge Grants offers matching funds to help nonprofit institutions develop new sources of long-term support for educational, scholarly, preservation, and public programs in the humanities.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/challenge/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8309.

Digital Humanities

The Office of Digital Humanities supports projects that use digital technology or study how it affects education, preservation, public programming, and research in the humanities.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/odh/about> | Email: odh@neh.gov

For further information, call 202-606-8401.

Education Programs

The Division of Education Programs strengthens sustained, thoughtful study of the humanities at all educational levels. It makes grants to educational institutions and gives fellowships to teachers and scholars.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/education/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8500.

Federal/State Partnership

Humanities committees in each of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin and Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, and American Samoa receive grants from the Endowment. These committees then make grants to humanities programs at the local level.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/fedstate/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8254.

Preservation and Access

The Division of Preservation and Access supports creating, preserving, and increasing the availability of resources that are important for research, education, and public programming in the humanities.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/preservation/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8570.

Public Programs

The Division of Public Programs supports institutions and organizations that develop and present humanities programming for general audiences. Its activities center on the Endowment's mandate "to increase public understanding of the humanities."

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/public/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8268.

Research Programs

The Division of Research Programs promotes original research in the humanities. It provides grants for significant research projects.

<http://www.neh.gov/divisions/research/about>

For further information, call 202-606-8389.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

The National Endowment for the Humanities posts job opportunities on USAJobs, the Federal Government's official source for Federal job listings and employment opportunity information.

<https://www.usajobs.gov>

Grants

Information on managing a grant, the application review process, and other topics is available on the "NEH Grants" Web page.

<http://www.neh.gov/grants>

Publications

The Endowment's in-house, quarterly magazine "HUMANITIES" is available by subscription from the U.S. Government Publishing Office, P.O. Box 979050, St. Louis, MO 63197-9000. Phone, 202-512-1800.

<http://www.neh.gov/humanities/staff> | Email: publications@neh.gov

<http://www.neh.gov/about/contact> | Email: info@neh.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Communications, National Endowment for the Humanities, 400 7th Street SW., Washington, DC 20506. Phone, 202-606-8400 or 800-634-1121. TDD, 202-606-8282 or 866-372-2930.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Institute of Museum and Library Services

The United States Government Manual

The Institute of Museum and Library Services did not meet the publication deadline for submitting updated information of its activities, functions, and sources of information as required by the automatic disclosure provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552(a)(1)(A)).

INSTITUTE OF MUSEUM AND LIBRARY SERVICES

955 L'Enfant Plaza North SW., Suite 4000, Washington, DC 20024-2135

202-653-4657

<http://www.ims.gov> | Email: imlsinfo@imls.gov

|          |               |
|----------|---------------|
| DIRECTOR | Crosby Kemper |
|----------|---------------|

---

---

DEPUTY DIRECTORS

|                  |                |
|------------------|----------------|
| Library Services | Cyndee Landrum |
|------------------|----------------|

|                 |                    |
|-----------------|--------------------|
| Museum Services | Paula Gangopadhyay |
|-----------------|--------------------|

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/leadership-staff/crosby-kemper>

|  |               |
|--|---------------|
| Associate Deputy Director for Library Services | Anthony Smith |
|--|---------------|

|   |                      |
|---|----------------------|
| Chief Administrator for Museum Services | Christopher J. Reich |
|---|----------------------|

---

---

CHIEF OFFICERS

|           |                 |
|-----------|-----------------|
| Financial | Chris Catignani |
|-----------|-----------------|

|             |             |
|-------------|-------------|
| Information | Scott Carey |
|-------------|-------------|

|           |                         |
|-----------|-------------------------|
| Operating | Chris Catignani, Acting |
|-----------|-------------------------|

|                        |                  |
|------------------------|------------------|
| Communications Manager | Elizabeth Holtan |
|------------------------|------------------|

|  |                   |
|--|-------------------|
| Director of Grants Policy and Management | Connie Cox Bodner |
|--|-------------------|

|                 |                |
|-----------------|----------------|
| General Counsel | Nancy E. Weiss |
|-----------------|----------------|

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| Senior Evaluation Officer for Digital and Information Strategy | Matthew Birnbaum |
|--|------------------|

<https://ims.gov/contact/staff-directory>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services helps libraries and museums enhance cultural and civic engagement, embrace innovation, and further lifelong learning.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) was established within the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities by the Museum and Library Services Act of September 30, 1996 (110 Stat. 3009), which amended the Museum Services Act (20 U.S.C. 961 et seq.). The Institute combines the administration of Federal museum programs, which the Institute of Museum Services formerly managed, and Federal library programs, which the Department of Education formerly managed. The Institute's Director, whom the President appoints with the advice and consent of the Senate, is authorized to make grants to museums and libraries. The Director receives policy advice on museum and library programs from the National Museum and Library Services Board. Its 20 voting members are appointed by the President; its three nonvoting members include the Director, Deputy Director for Museum Services, and Deputy Director for Library Services.

The IMLS is the primary source of Federal support for the Nation's 35,000 museums and 123,000 libraries. Its grant making, policy development, and research help museums and libraries offer services that make people and their communities prosper. The IMLS awards grants to art, children's, general, history, natural history, science, and technology museums, as well as to aquariums, arboretums, botanical gardens, nature centers, planetariums, zoos, and historic houses. It also awards grants to academic, public, research, school, and special libraries. IMLS grants improve electronic sharing of information and expand public access to information and services.

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us>

African American History and Culture Museum Grants

The IMLS awards these grants at two funding levels to improve care of collections, develop professional management, and provide internship and fellowship opportunities.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/museum-grants-african-american-history-and-culture>

Laura Bush 21st Century Librarian Program

This program supports recruitment and education of library students, continuing education for those already working in the profession, and new programs and curricula.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/laura-bush-21st-century-librarian-program>

Museum Assessment Program

The IMLS supports the cost of this program through a cooperative agreement with the American Alliance of Museums. The program helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet national standards through self-study and a site visit from a peer reviewer.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/museum-assessment-program-map>

Museums for America

The IMLS awards grants at two funding levels to help museums expand their role as lifelong learning resources, increase the vital contributions they make to livable communities, and become better stewards of the Nation's collections.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/museums-america>

National Arts and Humanities Youth Program Awards

This is a project of the President's Committee on the Arts and the Humanities in partnership with the IMLS and the National Endowments for the Arts and for the Humanities. These awards acknowledge museums and libraries for their afterschool and out-of-school arts and humanities programs for young Americans.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/national-arts-and-humanities-youth-program-awards>

National Leadership Grants for Libraries

These grants help library and archive professionals address the challenges and needs of their fields. Projects supported by these grants stimulate research, develop new tools, and produce innovative alliances, models, practices, and services that broadly affect the library and archival fields.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/national-leadership-grants-libraries>

National Leadership Grants for Museums

These grants help museum professionals address the challenges and needs of their field. Projects supported by these grants promote innovation and collaboration and typically produce results that broadly affect the museum field.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/national-leadership-grants-museums>

National Medal for Museum and Library Service

This award acknowledges institutions for providing exceptional and meaningful public service in their communities.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/national-medal-museum-and-library-service>

Native American and Native Hawaiian Museum Services Program

These grants to federally recognized tribes and organizations that represent and serve Native Hawaiians help sustain indigenous culture, heritage, and knowledge through improved museum services.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/native-american-native-hawaiian-museum-services-program>

Native American Library Services: Basic Grants and the Education/Assessment Option

These noncompetitive grants to federally recognized tribes help them purchase library materials, acquire computers and provide Internet connectivity, and fund salaries. The Education/Assessment option is supplemental to the basic grants and also noncompetitive. It funds library staff participation in continuing education courses, training workshops, and conferences. It also allows libraries to hire a consultant for an onsite professional assessment.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/native-american-library-services-basic-grants>

Native American Library Services: Enhancement Grants

These grants to federally recognized tribes expand services for access to information, learning, and partnerships.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/native-american-library-services-enhancement-grants>

Native Hawaiian Library Services

This program supports grants that implement new library services or enhance existing ones.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/native-hawaiian-library-services>

Sparks! Ignition Grants for Libraries

These grants promote exploration and expansion of the frontiers of archival and library practices and services.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/sparks-ignition-grants-libraries>

Sparks! Ignition Grants for Museums

These grants promote exploration and expansion of the frontiers of museum practices and services.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/available/sparks-ignition-grants-museums>

State Program Grants

The Grants to States program is the largest Federal source of funding to support library services in the United States. The IMLS uses a population-based formula to distribute annual grants among the State Library Administrative Agencies—official agencies charged by law with the extension and development of library services. Each year, thousands of Grants to States projects promote the priorities and assist the purposes of the Library Services and Technology Act.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/grants-states>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

The IMLS offers a unique opportunity to work with the Nation's libraries and museums at the national level and in coordination with State and local organizations. The IMLS posts employment and internship opportunities on its Web site.

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/jobs-ims/employment-opportunities>

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/jobs-ims/internship-opportunities>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

An online guide answers frequently asked FOIA-related questions.

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/agency-reports/freedom-information-act-foia>

Grants

Search tools are available online to search for available grants and awarded grants.

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/apply-grant/available-grants>

<https://www.ims.gov/grants/awarded-grants>

News

The IMLS posts news releases and project profiles online, as well as its "UpNext" blog and "Primary Source" monthly newsletter.

<https://www.ims.gov/news-events>

Open Government

The IMLS supports the Governmentwide initiative to promote openness in the work of Federal agencies. It posts datasets on Data.gov and maintains a data catalog that makes IMLS data accessible to developers, researchers, and to the general public.

<https://www.ims.gov/about-us/open-government>

Publications

Publications are accessible in Portable Document Format (PDF) on the "Publications List" Web page.

<https://www.ims.gov/publications>

Videos

A collection of IMLS videos is available online.

<https://www.imls.gov/publications/imls-videos>

<http://www.imls.gov> | Email: imlsinfo@imls.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Communications and Government Affairs, Institute of Museum and Library Services, 955 L'Enfant Plaza North SW., Suite 4000, Washington, DC 20024. Phone, 202-653-4757.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Labor Relations Board

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD

1015 Half Street SE., Washington, DC 20570

202-273-1000

TDD, 202-273-4300

<http://www.nlr.gov>

BOARD

---

|       |                      |
|-------|----------------------|
| CHAIR | Philip A. Miscimarra |
|-------|----------------------|

|        |                  |
|--------|------------------|
| Member | Marvin E. Kaplan |
|--------|------------------|

|        |                 |
|--------|-----------------|
| Member | Lauren McFerran |
|--------|-----------------|

|        |                |
|--------|----------------|
| Member | Mark G. Pearce |
|--------|----------------|

|        |           |
|--------|-----------|
| Member | (vacancy) |
|--------|-----------|

<https://www.nlr.gov/who-we-are/board>

|                 |                         |
|-----------------|-------------------------|
| GENERAL COUNSEL | Richard F. Griffin, Jr. |
|-----------------|-------------------------|

<https://www.nlr.gov/who-we-are/general-counsel/richard-f-griffin-jr>

|                        |                  |
|------------------------|------------------|
| Deputy General Counsel | Jennifer Abruzzo |
|------------------------|------------------|

|   |              |
|---|--------------|
| Associate General Counsel, Division of Advice | Jayme Sopher |
|---|--------------|

|   |                  |
|---|------------------|
| Associate General Counsel, Division of Enforcement Litigation | John H. Ferguson |
|---|------------------|

|  |                 |
|--|-----------------|
| Associate General Counsel, Division of Legal Counsel | Barbara O'Neill |
|--|-----------------|

|  |                 |
|--|-----------------|
| Associate General Counsel, Division of Operations-Management | Anne G. Purcell |
|--|-----------------|

|                         |              |
|-------------------------|--------------|
| Chief Financial Officer | Mehul Parekh |
|-------------------------|--------------|

|                           |                 |
|---------------------------|-----------------|
| Chief Information Officer | Prem Aburvasamy |
|---------------------------|-----------------|

|                                 |                    |
|---------------------------------|--------------------|
| Chief Judge, Division of Judges | Robert A. Giannasi |
|---------------------------------|--------------------|

|                                      |                  |
|--------------------------------------|------------------|
| Director, Division of Administration | Lasharn Hamilton |
|--------------------------------------|------------------|

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Director, Office of Congressional and Public Affairs | Carmen Spell |
|--|--------------|

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| Director, Office of Equal Employment Opportunity | Brenda V. Harris |
|--|------------------|

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
| Director, Office of Representation Appeals | (vacancy) |
|--|-----------|

Executive Secretary

Gary W. Shiners

Solicitor

(vacancy)

Inspector General

David P. Berry

<https://www.nlr.gov/who-we-are/inspector-general>

The National Labor Relations Board remedies unfair labor practices and safeguards employees' rights to organize and to determine whether to have unions as their bargaining representative.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) is an independent agency created by Congress to administer the National Labor Relations Act of 1935 (Wagner Act; 29 U.S.C. 167). The Board is authorized to designate appropriate units for collective bargaining and to conduct secret ballot elections to determine whether employees desire representation by a labor organization.

<https://www.nlr.gov/who-we-are/our-history>

The NLRB's statement of organization was published on June 14, 1979, in the Federal Register (44 FR 34215).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1979-06-14/pdf/FR-1979-06-14.pdf>

The NLRB posts its organization chart online.

<https://www.nlr.gov/about-nlr/who-we-are/organization-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material that affects the NLRB has been codified in the United States Code (U.S.C.) and assigned to the subchapter on national labor relations in Chapter 7 of 29 U.S.C. Chapter 7 has the title "Labor-Management Relations" and runs from section 141 to section 197. The subchapter on national labor relations runs from section 151 to section 169.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title29/chapter7/subchapter2&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that are associated with the NLRB have been codified and assigned to Chapter I, parts 100–199, of 29 CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=8a8e5d024cdda6d70bfd8264ee49c0&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title29/29chapterI.tpl

ACTIVITIES

In addition to preventing and remedying unfair labor practices, the NLRB conducts secret ballot elections among employees in appropriate collective-bargaining units to determine whether or not they desire to be represented by a labor organization in bargaining with employers over wages, hours, and working conditions. It also conducts secret ballot elections among employees who have been covered by a union-security agreement to determine whether or not they wish to revoke their union's authority to make such agreements. In jurisdictional disputes between two or more unions, the Board determines which competing group of workers is entitled to perform the work involved.

The regional directors and their staffs process representation, unfair labor practice, and jurisdictional dispute cases. They issue complaints in unfair labor practice cases, seek settlement of unfair labor practice charges, obtain compliance with Board orders and court judgments, and petition district courts for injunctions to prevent or remedy unfair labor practices. The regional directors conduct hearings in representation cases, hold elections pursuant to the agreement of the parties or the decisionmaking authority delegated to them by the Board or pursuant to Board directions, and issue certifications of representatives when unions win or certify the results when they lose employee elections. The regional directors process petitions for bargaining unit clarification, for amendment of certification, and for rescission of a labor organization's authority to make a union-shop agreement. They also conduct national emergency employee referendums.

Administrative law judges conduct hearings in unfair labor practice cases, make findings of fact and conclusions of law, and recommend remedies for violations found. Their decisions can be appealed to the Board for a final agency determination. The Board's decisions are subject to review in the U.S. courts of appeals.

<https://www.nlr.gov/what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that NLRB records have been assigned to record group 025.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/025.html>

Business Opportunities

Businessmen and women who seek to sell products and services to the NLRB can find information on procurement procedures and policies that are generally applicable to NLRB purchasing practices. The NLRB has posted an electronic document that describes the types of items purchased, who procures them, and where they are purchased. The document also includes information that is relevant for small, disadvantaged, service-disabled veteran-owned businesses, and women-owned businesses.

<https://www.nlr.gov/about-nlr/who-we-are/acquisitions>

Career Opportunities

The NLRB appoints administrative law judges from a register that the Office of Personnel Management established. The NLRB hires attorneys for all its offices, field examiners for its field offices, and administrative personnel for its Washington and field offices.

<https://www.nlr.gov/about-nlr/who-we-are/careers>

In 2020, the NLRB ranked 24th among 25 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=NL00>

Cases / Decisions / Digests

The "Cases and Decisions" web page offers convenient access to cases, decisions, and digests of cases. The NLRB is also developing a list of special cases for organizations that are of interest to the public. Organizations will be added or removed as circumstances warrant. At the moment, the list starts with Bridgewater Associates and ends with Yale University.

<http://www.nlr.gov/cases-decisions>

The weekly summary of decisions is a digest of decisions that the NLRB issues each week. The summary includes short descriptions of the issues and facts of the cases and links to the decisions. It also has a list of case names and links to decisions by NLRB Administrative Law Judges and to decisions by appellate courts that involve NLRB cases.

<https://www.nlr.gov/cases-decisions/decisions/weekly-summaries-decisions>

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page includes links to the NLRB's headquarters, judges division, and regional office directories and to FOIA, Inspector General, and media sections for inquiries.

<https://www.nlr.gov/contact-us> | Email: publicinfo@nlrb.gov

Electronic Filing

Parties or other persons may use the e-filing program to file selected documents in unfair labor practice and representation cases with the NLRB's Office of Executive Secretary, the Division of Judges, the General Counsel's Office of Appeals, and regional, subregional, and resident offices.

<https://apps.nlr.gov/MyAccount/#/FileCaseDocument/TermsConditions?type=pdfForm%2F>

Employees' Rights

The "What's the Law?" web page provides information on rights during union organizing; the right to form a union and the right to refrain; strikes, pickets, and protests; concerted activity; social media; enforcing employees' rights; hiring halls and union dues; and the right to fair representation.

<https://www.nlr.gov/about-nlr/rights-we-protect/whats-law>

Español

A Spanish version of the NLRB website is available for Spanish speakers.

<https://www.nlr.gov/es>

Factsheets

Factsheets on significant cases, on issues pending before the NLRB, and on initiatives undertaken by the General Counsel are posted online.

<https://www.nlr.gov/news-publications/publications/fact-sheets>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the NLRB recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/national-labor-relations-board>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute.

<https://www.nlr.gov/guidance/freedom-of-information-act-foia>

The NLRB posts materials that are frequently requested or are of general interest to the public. The FOIA requires agencies to be proactive and make available to the public nonexempt information from certain record categories. These categories include final agency opinions and orders that have been rendered in the adjudication of cases; specific policy statements that are not published in the Federal Register; administrative staff manuals and instructions to staff that affect a member of the public; and frequently requested records or records that are likely to become the subject of subsequent requests. Before submitting a FOIA request, an information seeker should visit the NLRB's FOIA electronic library to ensure that the desired information is not already accessible online and free of charge.

<https://www.nlr.gov/guidance/freedom-of-information-act-foia/foia-e-library>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The NLRB posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.nlr.gov/who-we-are/careers/job-descriptions-and-listings/student-positions-law-non-legal>

History

In a time of economic hardship and widespread labor unrest, President Franklin D. Roosevelt created the National Labor Board (NLB). With limited power, the NLB managed to settle over 1,000 strikes and avert nearly 500 additional ones by the time that its authority expired in June of 1934. These events are the background from which the NLRB emerged as part of a new national labor policy trend that began with Senator Robert F. Wagner's National Labor Relations Act of 1935. To learn more about this important chapter of U.S. labor history, visit the NLRB's "Our History" web page.

<https://www.nlr.gov/about-nlr/who-we-are/our-history>

News

The NLRB posts announcements and news on its website.

<https://www.nlr.gov/news-publications/news>

Open Government

The NLRB supports the Open Government initiative by incorporating the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency in its plans for agency information and systems.

<https://www.nlr.gov/open>

Publications

NLRB publications are available online.

<https://www.nlr.gov/news-publications/publications>

Recent Charges / Petitions Filings

The NLRB maintains a database of recent charges and petition filings on its website.

<https://www.nlr.gov/reports/graphs-data/recent-filings>

Regional Offices

Contact information for NLRB regional, subregional, and resident offices is available on the "Regional Offices" Web pages.

<https://www.nlr.gov/about-nlr/who-we-are/regional-offices>

Request a Speaker

A centralized speakers' bureau schedules requests for NLRB representatives to give presentations on agency activities and programs.

<https://www.nlr.gov/guidance/fillable-forms/request-speaker>

Right To Strike

Sections 7, 8, and 13 of the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA) address issues that protect and limit employees' right to strike. "Employees shall have the right . . . to engage in other concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection"—strikes are included among "concerted activities" that the NLRA protects for employees. More statutory information is available on the "The Right To Strike" web page.

<https://www.nlr.gov/strikes>

Site Map

Online visitors may use the site map to look for specific topics on the NLRB website or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.nlr.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The NLRB has a Facebook page.

<https://www.facebook.com/NLRBpage/>

The NLRB tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/nlr>

The above Sources of Information were updated 7–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Mediation Board

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL MEDIATION BOARD

1301 K Street NW., Suite 250 East, Washington, DC 20005

202-692-5000

<http://www.nmb.gov>

BOARD MEMBERS

CHAIR

Linda A. Puchala

Member

Harry R. Hoglander

---

---

EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS

---

|  |                   |
|--|-------------------|
| Chief of Staff                           | Daniel Rainey     |
| General Counsel, Office of Legal Affairs | Mary L. Johnson   |
| Assistant Chief of Staff, Administration | Samantha T. Jones |
| Director, Arbitration Services           | Roland Watkins    |
| Deputy Chief of Staff, Mediation         | Michael Kelliher  |

---

The National Mediation Board facilitates labor-management relations within the railroad and airline industries.

Organizational Chart

The National Mediation Board (NMB) is an independent agency established by the 1934 amendments to the Railway Labor Act of 1926 (45 U.S.C. 151-158, 160-162, 1181-1188). The Board comprises three members whom the President appoints and the Senate confirms. The Board designates a Chair on a yearly basis.

NMB dispute-resolution processes are designed to resolve disputes over the negotiation of new or revised collective bargaining agreements and the interpretation or application of existing agreements. The Board also effectuates employee rights of self-organization where a representation dispute exists.

<http://www.nmb.gov/about-nmb/nmb-overview>

ACTIVITIES

---

Mediation and Alternative Dispute Resolution

Following receipt of an application for mediation, the NMB assigns a mediator to assist the parties in reaching an agreement. The NMB is obligated to use its best efforts to bring about a peaceful resolution to the dispute. If such efforts do not settle the dispute, the NMB advises the parties and offers interest arbitration as an alternative approach to resolve the remaining issues. If either party rejects this offer, the NMB releases the parties from formal mediation. This release triggers a 30-day cooling off period. During this period, the NMB continues to work with the parties to achieve a consensual resolution. If, however, an agreement is not reached by the end of the 30-day period, the parties are free to exercise lawful self-help, such as carrier-imposed working conditions or a strike by the union or organization.

In addition to traditional mediation services, the NMB also provides voluntary Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) services. ADR services include facilitation, training, grievance mediation, and an online dispute resolution component, which applies technology to the dispute resolution process. The purpose of the ADR program is to assist the parties in learning and applying more effective, less confrontational methods for resolving their disputes and to help them resolve more of them without outside intervention.

<http://www.nmb.gov/services/mediation>

Presidential Emergency Board

If the NMB determines that a dispute threatens to deprive substantially any section of the country of essential transportation service, it notifies the President. The President, at his discretion, may establish a Presidential Emergency Board (PEB) to investigate and report back within 30 days. After the PEB has been created and for 30 days after it has made its report to the President, neither party to the dispute may exercise self-help.

There are also special emergency procedures for unresolved disputes affecting publicly funded and operated commuter railroads and their employees. If the mediation procedures are exhausted, the parties to the dispute or the Governor of any State where the railroad operates may request that the President establish a PEB. The President is required to establish such a board if requested. If no settlement is reached within 60 days following the creation of the PEB, the NMB is required to conduct a public hearing on the dispute. If there is no settlement within 120 days after the creation of the PEB, either party or the Governor of any affected state may request a second, final-offer PEB. No self-help is permitted pending the exhaustion of these emergency procedures.

<http://www.nmb.gov/services/pebmenu>

Representation

When a labor organization or individual files an application with the NMB to represent employees, the Agency assigns an investigator to conduct a representation investigation. Should the applicant meet the requirements, the NMB continues the investigation, usually with a secret telephone or Internet election. The NMB is responsible for ensuring that the requirements for a fair election process have been maintained. If the employees vote to be represented, the NMB issues a certification that commences the carrier's statutory duty to bargain with the certified representative.

<http://www.nmb.gov/services/representation>

Arbitration

The NMB provides both grievance arbitration and interest arbitration. Grievance arbitration is a process for resolving disputes regarding the interpretation or application of an existing collective bargaining agreement. Grievances must be handled through grievance arbitration if not otherwise resolved, and they cannot be used by the parties to trigger self-help actions. The NMB has significant administrative responsibilities for grievance arbitration in the railroad industry, which includes those before the National Railroad Adjustment Board (NRAB), as well as the two types of arbitration panels established by the labor-management parties at each railroad: public law boards (PLBs) and special boards of adjustment (SBAs). Grievance arbitration in the airline industry is accomplished at the various system boards of adjustment created jointly by labor and management at the parties' expense. The NMB furnishes panels of prospective arbitrators for the parties' selection in both the airline and railroad industries. The NMB also pays the salary and travel expenses of the arbitrators for railroad arbitration proceedings. Grievance arbitration decisions are final and binding with very limited grounds for judicial review.

Interest arbitration is a process to establish the terms of a new or modified collective bargaining agreement through arbitration rather than through negotiations. Unlike grievance arbitration, its use is not statutorily required. The NMB offers the parties the opportunity to use binding interest arbitration when the agency has determined that further mediation efforts will not be successful. In addition, the parties may directly agree to resolve their collective bargaining dispute or portions of their dispute through interest arbitration. The NMB generally provides the parties with panels of potential arbitrators from which they choose an individual to resolve their dispute. In some instances, however, the parties agree to allow the NMB to appoint an arbitrator directly. Interest arbitration decisions are final and binding with very narrow grounds for judicial appeal.

<http://www.nmb.gov/services/arbitration>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

Job openings are posted online.

<http://www.nmb.gov/about-nmb/jobs>

Knowledge Store

The Knowledge Store contains over 100,000 documents—including arbitration awards, representation decisions, annual reports, PEB reports, industry contracts, and union constitutions and bylaws—in an easily searchable format.

<http://knowledgestore.nmb.gov/ks/build.html>

Open Government

The NMB supports the Open Government initiative, which requires Federal executive departments and agencies to implement principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<http://www.nmb.gov/resources/open>

Publications

The annual reports of the National Mediation Board are available on its "NMB Documents On-Line" Web page and in the Knowledge Store.

<http://www.nmb.gov/resources/docs>

Virtual Reading Room

Copies of collective bargaining agreements between labor and management of various rail and air carriers and NMB Determinations dating from October 1, 1998, and some even earlier, are available in the Knowledge Store.

<http://knowledgestore.nmb.gov/ks/build.html>

<http://www.nmb.gov/press-and-contacts/key-contacts>

For further information, contact the Public Information Officer, National Mediation Board, Suite 250 East, 1301 K Street NW., Washington, DC 20005-7011. Phone, 202-692-5050.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Railroad Passenger Corporation (AMTRAK)

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL RAILROAD PASSENGER CORPORATION (AMTRAK)

1 Massachusetts Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20001

202-906-3000

<http://www.amtrak.com>

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

---

|   |                      |
|---|----------------------|
| CHAIR   | Anthony R. Coscia    |
| Vice Chair  | Jeffrey R. Moreland  |
| Member  | Christopher R. Beall |
| Member  | Yvonne B. Burke      |
| Member  | Thomas C. Carper     |
| Member  | Albert DiClemente    |
| Member  | (vacancy)            |
| Member  | (vacancy)            |
| Amtrak President / Amtrak Co-Chief Executive Officer (ex officio) | Richard H. Anderson  |
| Secretary of Transportation (ex officio)                          | Elaine Chao          |

<https://www.amtrak.com/servlet/ContentServer?c=Page&pagename=am%2FLayout&cid=1241245669142>

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

|   |                          |
|---|--------------------------|
| PRESIDENT / CO-CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER                      | Richard H. Anderson      |
| Co-Chief Executive Officer                                  | C. Wickcliffe Moorman IV |
| EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENTS                                   |                          |
| Administration  | Donald J. Stadtler       |
| Chief Financial Officer                                     | William N. Feidt         |
| Chief Legal Officer / Corporate Secretary / General Counsel | Eleanor D. Acheson       |
| Chief Operations Officer                                    | Scot Naparstek           |
| Marketing and Business Development                          | Jason Molfetas           |
| Planning, Technology, and Public Affairs                    | Stephen J. Gardner       |

<https://www.amtrak.com/servlet/ContentServer?c=Page&pagename=am%2FLayout&cid=1241245669145>

---

<http://www.amtrakoig.gov>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

---

[For the National Railroad Passenger Corporation statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 49, Part 700]

The National Railroad Passenger Corporation provides intercity rail passenger service in the United States.

The National Railroad Passenger Corporation (Amtrak) was created by the Rail Passenger Service Act of 1970, as amended (49 U.S.C. 241), and was incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia. By developing, operating, and improving U.S. intercity rail passenger service, Amtrak provides a balanced nationwide transportation system.

Amtrak operates approximately 300 trains per day, serving over 500 stations in 46 States, over a system of 22,000 route miles. Of this route system, Amtrak owns about 530 route miles in the Northeast and several other small track segments elsewhere in the country.

Amtrak owns or leases its stations and owns its repair and maintenance facilities. The Corporation employs a total workforce of approximately 20,000 and provides all reservation, station, and onboard service staffs, as well as train and engine operating crews. Outside the Northeast Corridor, Amtrak has contracts with privately and publicly owned railroads to operate on their track. These railroads are responsible for the condition of the roadbed and for coordinating the flow of traffic.

In fiscal year 2016, Amtrak transported over 31 million people, 85,000 passengers traveling per day. On behalf of 21 agencies in 18 States, Amtrak is a contract operator for corridor services on 29 routes. It also runs commuter trains under contract with several commuter agencies.

Although Amtrak's basic route system was originally designated by the Secretary of Transportation in 1971, modifications have been made to the Amtrak system and to individual routes that have resulted in more efficient and cost-effective operations. Increased capital funding in recent years has allowed Amtrak to reduce its debt load and make progress in bringing its network to a state of good repair.

<https://www.amtrak.com/about-amtrak>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Amtrak provides an online procurement portal to foster business partnerships.

<https://procurement.amtrak.com>

Career Opportunities

Amtrak employs more than 20,000 professionals in a variety of career fields.

<https://jobs.amtrak.com>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Amtrak maintains an online FOIA library. Phone, 202-906-3741.

<https://www.amtrak.com/servlet/ContentServer?c=Page&pagename=am%2FLayout&cid=1241267362261>

Great American Stations

The Great American Stations Project educates communities on the benefits of redeveloping train stations, offers tools to community leaders for preserving their stations, and provides the appropriate Amtrak resources.

<http://www.greatamericanstations.com>

History

For a fast way to learn how the U.S. Congress and its passage of key legislation have affected Amtrak, how Amtrak's environmental efforts have evolved, and when Amtrak added service to a local or regional community, visit Amtrak's "Historic Timeline" web page.

<https://history.amtrak.com/amtraks-history/historic-timeline>

Kids Depot

"The Kids Depot" website features a learning zone, park, playground, station, treehouse, workshop, and movies!

<https://www.amtrak.com/media/KidsDepot/KidsDepot.html>

Oversight

Amtrak's Office of the Inspector General posts reports and data on Oversight.gov, a text-searchable repository of reports that Federal Inspectors General publish. The Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency operates and maintains the website to increase public access to independent and authoritative information on the Federal Government.

<https://oversight.gov>

Social Media

Amtrak has a Facebook account.

<http://www.facebook.com/Amtrak>

Amtrak posts photos on its Instagram web page.

<http://www.instagram.com/amtrak>

Amtrak tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<http://twitter.com/Amtrak>

Store

Official Amtrak merchandise—adult apparel, calendars, headwear, posters, and toys—may be purchased online.

<http://store.amtrak.com>

Train Tracker

A train may be tracked online by using the train name, train number, or train station.

<https://www.amtrak.com/trainlocationmap>

<http://www.amtrak.com>

For further information, contact the Government Affairs Department, Amtrak, 1 Massachusetts Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20001. Phone, 202-906-3918.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Science Foundation

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

4201 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, VA 22230

703-292-5111

TDD, 800-281-8749

<http://www.nsf.gov> | Email: info@nsf.gov

NATIONAL SCIENCE BOARD

---

<https://www.nsf.gov/nsb/members/index.jsp>

Ex officio member

France A. Córdoba

---

Terms Expiring in 2020

---

John L. Anderson

---

Roger N. Beachy

---

Vicki L. Chandler

---

Robert M. Groves

---

James S. Jackson

---

Sethuraman Panchanathan

---

George P. Peterson

---

Chair

Diane L. Souvaine

---

Terms Expiring in 2022

---

Arthur Bienenstock

---

W. Kent Fuchs

---

W. Carl Lineberger

---

Victor R. McCrary

---

Emilio F. Moran

---

Vice Chair

Ellen Ochoa

---

Julia M. Phillips

---

Anneila I. Sargent

---

Terms Expiring in 2024

---

Maureen L. Condic

Suresh V. Garimella

Steven Leath

Daniel A. Reed

Geraldine L. Richmond

S. Alan Stern

Stephen H. Willard

Maria T. Zuber

<https://www.nsf.gov/nsb/members/terms.jsp>

Executive Officer to the National Science Board

John J. Veysey II

Inspector General

Allison C. Lerner

https://www.nsf.gov/staff/staff\_bio.jsp?lan=alerner

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

<https://www.nsf.gov/staff/execlist.jsp>

Office of the Director (OD)

DIRECTOR

France A. Córdova

Deputy Director

(vacancy)

CHIEF OFFICERS

Information

Dorothy Aronson

Operating

F. Fleming Crim

OFFICE HEADS

|                                       |                     |
|---------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Diversity and Inclusion               | Rhonda J. Davis     |
| General Counsel                       | Lawrence Rudolph    |
| Integrative Activities                | Suzanne Iacono      |
| International Science and Engineering | Rebecca S. Keiser   |
| Legislative and Public Affairs        | Amanda H. Greenwell |

<https://www.nsf.gov/od>

OAD Directorates *

---

ASSISTANT DIRECTORS

|  |                       |
|--|-----------------------|
| Biological Sciences                              | Joanne S. Tornow      |
| Computer and Information Science and Engineering | Erwin Gianchandani    |
| Education and Human Resources                    | Karen A. Marrongelle  |
| Engineering                                      | Dawn Tilbury          |
| Geosciences                                      | William E. Easterling |
| Mathematical and Physical Sciences               | Anne Kinney           |
| Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences        | Arthur W. Lupia       |

<https://www.nsf.gov/staff/orglist.jsp>

OAD Offices *

---

CHIEF OFFICERS

|               |                    |
|---------------|--------------------|
| Financial     | Teresa Grancorvitz |
| Human Capital | Wonzie L. Gardner  |

OFFICE HEADS

Budget, Finance, and Award Management

Teresa Grancorvitz

Information and Resource Management

Wonzie L. Gardner

* OAD is an abbreviation for Office of Assistant Director.

The above list of key personnel was updated 11–2019.

The National Science Foundation supports research and education to advance science and engineering.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On May 10, 1950, President Harry S. Truman approved "an act to promote the progress of science; to advance the national health, prosperity, and welfare; to secure the national defense; and for other purposes." This statute, which is commonly cited as the National Science Foundation Act of 1950 (Public Law 81–507), established the National Science Foundation (NSF) as an independent and executive branch agency. The NSF consists of a National Science Board (NSB) and a Director.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/81st-congress/session-2/c81s2ch171.pdf>

Descriptions of the NSF's establishment, composition, functions, purpose, research facilities, and other statutory information are codified in chapter 16, sections 1861–1887, of 42 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title42/chapter16&edition=prelim>

The NSB establishes the policies of the NSF. The President appoints each of the 24 members of the Board to a term of 6 years. Appointees have earned distinguished reputations of service in the fields of agriculture, education, engineering, research management, public affairs, and the basic, medical, or social sciences. They also have an outlook that broadly represents that of national science and engineering leadership. The membership is divided into three groups of eight members; the terms of each group are staggered and expire every 2 years. Any member, other than the Director, who has served on the Board for 12 consecutive years is ineligible for reappointment during the 2-year period following the 12th year. The Board elects its Chair and vice chair every 2 years. The election takes place in an even-numbered year at the annual meeting (42 U.S.C. 1863).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title42-section1863&num=0&edition=prelim>

The President, by the advice and with the consent of the Senate, appoints the Director for a term of 6 years. Before making his or her selection, the President must give the Board an opportunity to recommend candidates for consideration (42 U.S.C. 1864). As an ex officio member of the Board, the NSF Director is coordinate with the other Board members, except with respect to compensation and tenure. The Director is a voting member of the Board and is eligible to serve as its Chair or vice chair if elected (42 U.S.C. 1863).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title42-section1864&num=0&edition=prelim>

The NSF publishes its statements of organization in the "Federal Register" as notices:

58 FR 7587–7595 (8 FEB 1993)

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1993-02-08/pdf/FR-1993-02-08.pdf#page=121>

58 FR 30819 ( 27 MAY 1993)

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1993-05-27/pdf/FR-1993-05-27.pdf#page=135>

59 FR 22690 (2 MAY 1994)

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1994-05-02/pdf/FR-1994-05-02.pdf#page=210>

60 FR 52431 (6 OCT 1995)

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1995-10-06/pdf/95-24895.pdf#page=1>

The agency's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading on the "NSF Organization List" web page.

https://www.nsf.gov/staff/organizational\_chart.pdf

ACTIVITIES

---

The NSF initiates and supports fundamental, long-term, merit-selected research in the scientific and engineering disciplines through grants, contracts, and other agreements that are awarded to universities, colleges, academic consortia, and nonprofit and small business institutions. Most of this research attempts to answer scientific and engineering questions of fundamental life processes, natural laws and phenomena, fundamental processes that influence the human environment, and the forces that affect people as members of society, as well as the behavior of society as a whole.

<https://www.nsf.gov/about>

The NSF encourages cooperative efforts involving universities, industries, and government. It also promotes research and development for better products and services that improve the quality of life and stimulate economic growth.

<https://www.nsf.gov/about/what.jsp>

The NSF cultivates talent by supporting undergraduate and graduate students and postdoctoral researchers. It administers special programs to identify and encourage participation of underrepresented groups in science and technology and to strengthen research capability at small institutions and businesses and at colleges and universities.

<https://www.nsf.gov/od/broadeningparticipation/bp.jsp>

It supports major national and international science and engineering activities, including the U.S. Antarctic program, ocean drilling program, and global geoscience studies. Cooperative scientific and engineering research activities support exchange programs for American and foreign scientists and engineers, execution of jointly designed research projects, participation in international science and engineering organizational activities, and travel to international conferences.

<https://www.nsf.gov/dir/index.jsp?org=OISE>

Contracts and cooperative agreements with national centers allow qualified scientists and engineers access to large facilities. The NSF supports national centers that are associated with astronomy and atmospheric sciences, biological and engineering research, science and technology, supercomputers, and long-term ecological research sites.

The agency's science and engineering education activities include grants for research and development of instructional materials for students and teachers and the application of advanced technologies to education. Grants also are available for teacher preparation and enhancement and informal science education activities. Funding is provided for college science instrumentation, course and curriculum improvement, faculty and student activities, and minority resource centers. The NSF also supports studies of the status of math, science, and engineering education.

<https://www.nsf.gov/funding/aboutfunding.jsp>

The Vannevar Bush Award is given annually to an outstanding contributor to the welfare of the Nation and mankind through public service in science and technology. The Alan T. Waterman Award is given annually to a promising young scientist or engineer to support research and study. The NSF also presents its Public Service Award to one individual and to one company, corporation, or organization for increasing public understanding of science or engineering through public service in areas other than research. The NSF administratively supports the President's Committee on the National Medal of Science.

<https://www.nsf.gov/awards/presidential.jsp>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

An A-Z index to find funding opportunities by title is available on the NSF website.

<https://www.nsf.gov/funding/azindex.jsp>

Archived Records

NSF records are referenced in the "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States." The Guide is accessible online, and NSF records have been assigned to Record Group 307.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/307.html>

At a Glance

The "At a Glance" web page provides a convenient overview of NSF activities, partners, and personnel.

<https://www.nsf.gov/about/glance.jsp>

Awards

The NSF funds science and engineering research and education through contracts, cooperative agreements, and grants. The Foundation provides approximately 20 percent of the Federal support that academic institutions receive for basic research.

<http://www.nsf.gov/awards/about.jsp>

The abstract, institutions, names, programs, title, and other information associated with an award may be found using one search box on the NSF website.

<https://www.nsf.gov/awardsearch>

Board and Committee Meetings

Webcasts of NSB open sessions and committee meetings that are held in Arlington, VA, remain available for at least 1 year after the event. Transcripts of closed sessions of the NSB, its committees, and other subentities are available upon request by email.

<http://www.nsf.gov/nsb/meetings> | Email: nationalsciencebrd@nsf.gov

Business Opportunities

The NSF publicizes contracting and subcontracting opportunities in the "Commerce Business Daily" and other appropriate publications. Organizations seeking contract work should contact either the Division of Acquisition and Cooperative Support or the Division of Administrative Services, National Science Foundation, Arlington, VA 22230.

Division of Acquisition and Cooperative Support. Phone, 703-292-8240.

<http://www.nsf.gov/bfa/dcca/index.jsp>

Division of Administrative Services. Phone, 703-292-8190.

<http://www.nsf.gov/oirm/das>

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the NSF relies on educators, engineers, mathematicians, program directors, and statisticians, as well as on professionals with administrative, business, and management backgrounds. The NSF also offers career opportunities—internship and recent graduates programs and the Presidential Management Fellows program—for students and recent graduates.

<http://www.nsf.gov/careers>

In 2018, the NSF ranked 8th among 27 midsize Government agencies in the Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/NF00>

Climate Change

NSF Public Affairs publishes current research news on the effects of climate change on diverse ecosystems like coral reefs, grasslands, and the Southern Ocean of the Antarctic.

—on coral reefs

https://www.nsf.gov/discoveries/disc\_summ.jsp?cntn\_id=299144

—on grasslands

https://www.nsf.gov/discoveries/disc\_summ.jsp?cntn\_id=299102

—on the Southern Ocean

https://www.nsf.gov/discoveries/disc\_summ.jsp?cntn\_id=297719

Contact

The "Contact NSF" web page has email addresses and phone numbers.

<https://www.nsf.gov/help/contact.jsp> | Email: info@nsf.gov

The NSF has a separate web page for media inquiries. Phone, 703-292-7090.

<https://www.nsf.gov/news/newsroom.jsp> | Email: media@nsf.gov

Fellowships

Consult the online "Guide to Programs / Browse Funding Opportunities" and appropriate announcements and brochures for postdoctoral fellowship opportunities that may be available through some NSF divisions. Beginning graduate and minority graduate students wanting to apply for fellowships should contact the Directorate for Education and Human Resources. Phone, 703-292-8600.

http://www.nsf.gov/funding/browse\_all\_funding.jsp

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

A request for agency records should be submitted in accordance with the NSF's FOIA regulation (45 CFR 612). A request should be clearly labeled as "FOIA REQUEST" and be addressed to the FOIA Officer, Office of General Counsel, National Science Foundation, Room 1265, Arlington, VA 22230. Phone, 703-292-8060. Fax, 703-292-9242.

<http://www.nsf.gov/policies/foia.jsp> | Email: foia@nsf.gov

Grants

The "Grants.gov Application Guide" helps applicants prepare NSF applications and submit them using Grant.gov. The current guide is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

https://www.nsf.gov/publications/pub\_summ.jsp?ods\_key=grantsgovguide

Mobile Software Applications (Apps)

The NSF Science Zone app and Science360 Radio app are accessible through the NSF website.

https://www.nsf.gov/news/special\_reports/apps/index.jsp

Multimedia Gallery

The NSF maintains an online multimedia gallery.

<https://www.nsf.gov/news/mmg>

News Search

A visitor to the NSF website may search an assortment of news types by keyword or title.

<https://www.nsf.gov/news/search.jsp>

Office of Inspector General (OIG)

NSF employees, grantees, principal investigators, and others working on NSF programs, grants, or contracts are well-positioned to detect problems. Providing information about allegations or suspicions of abuse, fraud, mismanagement, research misconduct, unnecessary Government expenditures, and waste helps the OIG improve management and reduce fraud.

<https://www.nsf.gov/oig/report-fraud> | Email: oig@nsf.gov

Open Government

To increase collaboration, public participation, and transparency, the NSF maintains an Open Government web page and welcomes ideas and suggestions from the public.

<https://www.nsf.gov/open>

Proposal Status

The proposal status service of Research.gov makes a single online site available for principal investigators and sponsored projects office staff to check current status information for proposals that have been submitted to the NSF via Grants.gov or FastLane.

https://www.research.gov/research-portal/appmanager/base/desktop?\_nfpb=true&\_pageLabel=research\_node\_display&\_nodePath=/researchGov/Service/Desktop/grantsapplicationstatus.html

Publications

The NSF maintains an online document system to support the electronic dissemination of its documents. The online library contains thousands of documents that may be downloaded free of charge. Some NSF publications are available only in print, and others (e.g., the "Grant Proposal Guide" and "Award and Administration Guide") may be inconvenient to download. To obtain these publications in hardcopy, contact the NSF Publications Clearinghouse in Arlington, VA. Phone, 703-292-7827.

<http://www.nsf.gov/publications> | Email: pubinfo@nsf.gov

Search or browse the online document library.

<http://www.nsf.gov/publications/ods>

Reading Room

NSF policy documents and staff instructions, as well as current indexes, are available to the public for inspection and copying. To gain access to the collection, a visitor must schedule an appointment in advance with the library, which is open on weekdays, excluding Federal holidays, 8:00 a.m.–4 p.m. The reading room is located in the National Science Foundation Library, Room 225, Arlington, VA 22230. Phone, 703-292-7830.

Email: library@nsf.gov

Small Business Support

The Office of Small Business Research and Development informs small businesses with science and technology research capabilities about NSF support that could benefit them. The Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization oversees agency compliance with the provisions of the Small Business Act and the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, as amended. Phone, 703-292-8050.

The Small Business Innovation Research and Technology Transfer program helps startups and small businesses carry out scientific research and development.

<http://www.nsf.gov/eng/iip/sbir/home.jsp>

Social Media

The NSF uses social media sites and tools to disseminate news about research funds, funding opportunities, job openings, and more. Follow the NSF on Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, OpenNSF, Pinterest, Twitter, Wordpress, and YouTube.

<https://www.nsf.gov/social>

Staff Directory

The "Staff Directory" web page has a search box that visitors can use to locate NSF employees in an electronic database. A visitor also can browse staff by NSF organization.

<https://www.nsf.gov/staff>

The Sources of Information were updated 11–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Transportation Safety Board

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD

490 L'Enfant Plaza SW., Washington, DC 20594

202-314-6000

<http://www.nts.gov>

Board Members

---

|       |                       |
|-------|-----------------------|
| CHAIR | Robert L. Sumwalt III |
|-------|-----------------------|

|            |                 |
|------------|-----------------|
| Vice Chair | Bruce Landsberg |
|------------|-----------------|

|                   |
|-------------------|
| Thomas B. Chapman |
|-------------------|

|                   |
|-------------------|
| Michael E. Graham |
|-------------------|

|                     |
|---------------------|
| Jennifer L. Homendy |
|---------------------|

<https://www.nts.gov/about/board/Pages/default.aspx>

Office Heads Reporting to the Board

---

|                         |                 |
|-------------------------|-----------------|
| Chief Financial Officer | Edward Benthall |
|-------------------------|-----------------|

DIRECTORS

|  |               |
|--|---------------|
| Office of Equal Employment Opportunity, Diversity, and Inclusion | Fara D. Guest |
|--|---------------|

|   |                  |
|---|------------------|
| Office of Safety Recommendations and Communications | Dolline Hatchett |
|---|------------------|

|                 |                   |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| General Counsel | Kathleen Silbaugh |
|-----------------|-------------------|

|                   |               |
|-------------------|---------------|
| MANAGING DIRECTOR | Sharon Bryson |
|-------------------|---------------|

Office Heads Reporting to the Managing Director

---

CHIEFS

|                          |                    |
|--------------------------|--------------------|
| Administrative Law Judge | Alfonso J. Montaño |
|--------------------------|--------------------|

|                     |                 |
|---------------------|-----------------|
| Information Officer | Michael Anthony |
|---------------------|-----------------|

DIRECTORS

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| Office of Administration   | Susan Kantrowitz |
| Office of Aviation Safety  | Dana Schulze     |
| Office of Highway Safety   | Robert J. Molloy |
| Office of Marine Safety  | Morgan Turrell   |
| Office of Railroad, Pipeline, and Hazardous Materials Investigations | Robert J. Hall   |
| Office of Research and Engineering                                   | James Ritter     |

<https://www.nts.gov/about/organization/Pages/default.aspx>

The above list of key personnel was updated 6–2021.

The National Transportation Safety Board investigates accidents, conducts studies, and makes recommendations on safety to Government agencies, the transportation industry, and others.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) was established in 1967. On April 1, 1975, the Independent Safety Board Act of 1974 (49 U.S.C. 1111) reestablished the NTSB as an independent agency outside the Department of Transportation.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-88/pdf/STATUTE-88-Pg2156.pdf>

The NTSB consists of five members whom the President appoints for 5-year terms with the advice and by the consent of the Senate. The President designates two of these members as Chair and Vice Chair of the Board for 2-year terms. The President designates the Chair also with the advice and by the consent of the Senate.

<https://www.nts.gov/about/organization/Pages/default.aspx>

The NTSB's statement of organization has been assigned to part 800 of 49 CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=276925d8bae986aa729b404e5fe1ac4b&mc=true&node=pt49.7.800&rgn=div5

The NTSB posts its organizational chart (NOV 2020) in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.nts.gov/about/organization/Documents/NTSB-org-chart.pdf>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material affecting the NTSB has been codified and assigned to sections 1111–1155 of 49 U.S.C. Chapter 11 of Title 49 is dedicated to the "National Transportation Safety Board."

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title49/subtitle2/chapter11&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that are associated with the NTSB have been codified and assigned to Chapter VIII of Subtitle B in 49 CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=0f3dbab2ad23e6338a8ed96af83a7895&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title49/49chapterVIII.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

Accident Investigation

The NTSB investigates, determines probable cause, makes safety recommendations, and reports the facts and circumstances of the following types of accidents: U.S. civil aviation and certain public-use aircraft accidents; railroad accidents involving a fatality, substantial property damage, or a passenger train; pipeline accidents involving a fatality, substantial property damage, or significant harm to the environment; highway accidents (including railroad grade-crossing accidents) that the NTSB selects in cooperation with the States; major marine casualties and accidents involving a public vessel and a nonpublic vessel; certain accidents involving hazardous materials; and other transportation accidents that are catastrophic, caused by recurring problems, or otherwise should be investigated in the judgment of the Board.

<https://www.nts.gov/investigations/process/Pages/default.aspx>

Certificate, Civil Penalty, and License Appeal

On appeal, the NTSB reviews the suspension, amendment, modification, revocation, or denial of certain certificates, licenses, and assessments of civil penalties issued by the Secretary of Transportation. The NTSB also reviews, on appeal from the orders of any administrative law judge, decisions of the Commandant of the Coast Guard that revoke, suspend, or deny certain licenses, certificates, documents, and registers.

<http://www.nts.gov/legal/alj/Pages/default.aspx>

Disaster Assistance

The NTSB coordinates the resources of the Federal Government and other organizations to support the efforts of local and State governments and transportation carriers to meet the needs of disaster victims and their families. It assists in making Federal resources available to local authorities and to air, rail, and other transportation carriers.

<https://www.nts.gov/tda/Pages/default.aspx>

Safety Problem Identification

The NTSB makes recommendations on matters of transportation safety. It reduces the severity and number of transportation accidents by conducting safety studies and special investigations; assessing accident investigation techniques and publishing recommended procedures; establishing regulatory requirements for reporting accidents; evaluating the transportation safety consciousness and efficacy of other Government agencies in accident prevention; evaluating safeguards and procedures for the transportation of hazardous materials and the performance of other Government agencies charged with ensuring the safe transportation of such materials; and reporting annually to the Congress on its activities.

<http://www.nts.gov/safety/Pages/default.aspx>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Advocacy Priorities

The "Most Wanted List" raises awareness of what may be done to reduce the number of transportation accidents and the loss of life caused by them.

<https://www.nts.gov/safety/mwl/Pages/default.aspx>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that NTSB records have been assigned to record group 400. The guide does not contain, however, a description that is currently associated with this record group.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/index-numeric/301-to-400.html>

The Department of Transportation (DOT) administered the NTSB until the U.S. Congress designated it as an independent agency by passing the Independent Safety Board Act of 1974 on January 3, 1975. General records of the DOT have been assigned to record group 398.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/398.html>

Business Opportunities

Contractors must be registered with the Federal Contractor Registry to do business with the NTSB.

<https://www.nts.gov/about/organization/Pages/acquisitions.aspx>

Career Opportunities

Information on career paths at the NTSB is available on its website. For more information, contact the Human Resources Division, National Transportation Safety Board, Washington, DC 20594. Phone, 202-314-6230.

<http://www.nts.gov/about/employment/Pages/Careers.aspx>

In 2019, the NTSB ranked 8th among 28 small Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/TB00>

Contact Information

The "Contact the National Transportation Safety Board" web page contains general contact information and regional contact information for aviation safety offices.

<https://www.nts.gov/about/Pages/OfficeLocation.aspx>

The "Media Resources" web page contains contact information and resources for members of the media.

https://www.nts.gov/news/Pages/media\_resources.aspx

Federal Register

Documents that the NTSB recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/national-transportation-safety-board>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information that the records of executive branch agencies contain. This right to access is limited, however, when the desired information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute or three special law enforcement record exclusions.

<https://www.nts.gov/about/foia/Pages/default.aspx>

History

On December 17, 1903, the Wright "Flyer" became the first powered, heavier-than-air, piloted machine to achieve flight that was controlled and sustained. Twenty-three years later, the U.S. Congress charged the Department of Commerce with investigating the causes of aircraft accidents. Today, NTSB investigators are on call around-the-clock, every day of the year, to investigate significant aviation and surface transportation accidents wherever they may occur. To learn more of the NTSB's story, visit the "History of the National Transportation Safety Board" web page.

<https://www.nts.gov/about/history/Pages/default.aspx>

Investigations

The NTSB maintains a database of major aviation, highway, marine, pipeline, and railroad investigations, both ongoing and completed, on its website.

<https://www.nts.gov/investigations/Pages/All-Investigations.aspx>

Open Government

The NTSB supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.nts.gov/about/employment/Pages/open.aspx>

Publications

Publications are free of charge for the following categories of subscribers: Federal, State, or local transportation agencies; international transportation organizations or foreign governments; educational institutions or public libraries; nonprofit public safety organizations; and the news media. To receive copies of NTSB publications, persons in these categories should contact the Records Management Division, National Transportation Safety Board, Washington, DC 20594. Phone, 202-314-6551. All other persons may download NTSB publications from the agency's website, or purchase NTSB publications from the National Technical Information Service, 5285 Port Royal Road, Springfield, VA 22161. To place an order, call the subscription unit at 703-487-4630 or the sales desk at 703-487-4768. More information is available on the NTSB website.

<http://www.nts.gov/publications/Pages/default.aspx>

Reading Room

The NTSB's public reference room is available for record inspection and photocopying. It is located on the 6th floor at the Board's Washington, DC, headquarters and is open on weekdays from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Requests for access to public records should be made in person at the guard desk. Phone, 202-314-6551 or 800-877-6799.

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.nts.gov/Pages/sitemap.aspx>

Social Media

The NTSB has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/NTSBgov>

The NTSB tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/ntsb>

The NTSB posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/NTSBgov>

Training Center

NTSB investigators and others from the transportation community improve their practice of accident investigation techniques at the training center. Its curriculum promotes independent, objective, and technically advanced accident investigations to raise levels of safety in all modes of transportation. Forums and symposia are open to the public; however, certain courses are limited to those who may be involved in an NTSB accident investigation or who are members of the emergency response community. Governmental and public organizations may reserve the training and conference center for events. Phone, 571-223-3900.

https://www.nts.gov/Training\_Center/Pages/TrainingCenter.aspx | Email: TCReservations@nts.gov

The Sources of Information were updated 6–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Nuclear Regulatory Commission

The United States Government Manual

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

Washington, DC 20555

301-415-7000

<http://www.nrc.gov> | Email: opa.resource@nrc.gov

CHAIR

Kristine L. Svinicki

Commissioner

Jeffrey M. Baran

Commissioner

Stephen G. Burns

|   |                        |
|---|------------------------|
| Commissioner  | (vacancy)              |
| Commissioner  | (vacancy)              |
| Chief Administrative Judge, Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel                             | E. Roy Hawkens         |
| Chief Financial Officer   | Maureen E. Wylie       |
| Chief Information Officer   | David Nelson           |
| Deputy Executive Director for Materials, Waste, Research, State, Tribal and Compliance Programs | Fredrick Brown         |
| Deputy Executive Director for Reactor and Preparedness Programs                                 | Michael R. Johnson     |
| Director, Office of Commission Appellate Adjudication   | Brooke Poole Clark     |
| Director, Office of Congressional Affairs   | Eugene Dacus           |
| Director, Office of International Programs  | Nader L. Mamish        |
| Director, Office of Public Affairs  | David A. Castelveter   |
| Executive Director, Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards                                    | Andrea Veil            |
| Executive Director for Operations   | Victor M. McCree       |
| General Counsel   | Margret M. Doane       |
| Inspector General   | Hubert T. Bell, Jr.    |
| Secretary of the Commission   | Annette L. Vietti-Cook |

[For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 10, Part I]

The above list of key personnel was updated 06–2017.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission licenses and regulates civilian use of nuclear energy to protect public health and safety and the environment.

Organizational Chart

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) was established as an independent regulatory agency under the provisions of the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5801 et seq.) and Executive Order 11834 of January 15, 1975. All licensing and related regulatory functions formerly assigned to the Atomic Energy Commission were transferred to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

<http://www.nrc.gov/about-nrc/governing-laws.html>

Five Commissioners whom the President appoints and Senate confirms for 5-year terms govern the NRC. The President appoints one of them to be the Commission's Chair and official spokesperson.

The NRC's major program components are the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation, the Office of New Reactors, the Office of Nuclear Material Safety and Safeguards, the Office of Federal and State Materials and Environmental Management Programs, and the Office of Nuclear Regulatory Research. Headquartered in Rockville, Maryland, the NRC has four regional offices.

The Commission ensures that nuclear materials and facilities for civilian use are managed in a manner consistent with public health and safety, environmental quality, national security, and antitrust laws. The NRC centers most of its efforts on regulating the use of nuclear energy to generate electric power.

<http://www.nrc.gov/about-nrc/organization.html>

ACTIVITIES

---

The NRC is primarily responsible for the following functions: licensing the construction, operation, and closure of nuclear reactors and other nuclear facilities, such as nuclear fuel cycle facilities, low-level radioactive waste disposal sites under NRC jurisdiction, the geologic repository for high-level radioactive waste, and nonpower test and research reactors; licensing the possession, use, processing, handling, and export of nuclear material; licensing the operators of nuclear power and nonpower test and research reactors; inspecting licensed facilities and activities; conducting the U.S. Government research program on light-water reactor safety; developing and implementing rules and regulations that govern licensed nuclear activities; investigating nuclear incidents and allegations concerning any matter regulated by the Commission; maintaining the NRC Incident Response Program; collecting, analyzing, and disseminating information on the operational safety of commercial nuclear power reactors and certain nonreactor activities; developing working relationships with the States regarding reactor operations and the regulation of nuclear material; and assuring that adequate regulatory programs are maintained by States exercising regulatory control over certain nuclear materials located within their borders.

<http://www.nrc.gov/about-nrc/regulatory.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Active Regulatory Guides

Regulatory guides provide guidance to licensees and applicants for implementing parts of the Commission's regulations, techniques used by NRC staff to evaluate problems or postulated accidents, and data needed by NRC staff to review applications for permits or licenses. Regulatory guides are issued in 10 broad divisions: antitrust and financial review, environmental and siting, fuels and materials facilities, materials and plant protection, occupational health, power reactors, products, research and test reactors, transportation, and general. Active regulatory guides may be downloaded from the NRC's online library.

<http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/doc-collections/reg-guides>

Business Opportunities

The NRC awards contracts to commercial firms, nonprofit organizations, and universities. The agency buys products and services, including technical assistance and research in nuclear fields, information technology, facility management, and administrative support.

<http://www.nrc.gov/about-nrc/contracting.html>

Draft Regulatory Guides

The NRC issues regulatory guides in draft form to solicit public comment and participation in developing regulatory positions. Draft regulatory guides have not received complete staff review, and, therefore, they do not represent official NRC staff positions. The public may comment on draft guides and other documents issued in draft form online. NRC staff considers all comments received during the public comment period. Draft regulatory guides may be downloaded from the NRC's online library.

<http://www.nrc.gov/public-involve/doc-comment.html>

<http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm.html>

Employment

To carry out its mission, the NRC relies heavily on engineers, scientists, and security professionals.

<http://www.nrc.gov/about-nrc/employment/opportunities.html>

<http://bestplacestowork.org/BPTW/rankings/overall/mid>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To request copies of records, use the online "FOIA Request Submittal Form" or contact the FOIA / Privacy Act Officer, Mail Stop T-5 F09, Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555-0001. Phone, 301-415-7169. Fax, 301-415-5130.

<http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/foia/foia-submittal-form.html>

Glossary

The NRC maintains an online glossary.

<http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/basic-ref/glossary.html>

Microfiche Collections

Selected regional libraries of the U.S. Government Publishing Office Federal Depository Library Program maintain permanent microfiche collections of Nuclear Regulatory Commission documents released between January 1981 and October 1999. Contact the Public Document Room for more information. Phone, 301-415-4737 or 800-397-4209. Fax, 301-415-3548.

<http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/pdr.html> | Email: pdr.resource@nrc.gov

Publications

The NRC publishes information on licensing and regulation of civilian nuclear facilities and materials, as well as annual and periodic reports. Publications and many documents are accessible on the NRC Web site. The U.S. Government Publishing Office (GPO) and the National Technical Information Service (NTIS) sell single copies of and subscriptions to NRC publications. Contact the GPO bookstore (phone, 202-512-0132) or the NTIS (phone, 888-584-8332 or 703-605-6050) for more information.

<http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm.html>

<http://www.gpo.gov/about/bookstore.htm> | Email: mainbks@gpo.gov

<http://www.ntis.gov> | Email: customerservice@ntis.gov

Public Documents

The Public Document Room—located on the first floor at One White Flint North, 11555 Rockville Pike, Rockville, MD—is open on weekdays, 8 a.m.–4 p.m., except on Federal holidays. The NRC maintains a large collection of documents on licensing proceedings and other significant actions. Documents issued prior to October 1999 are available in paper or microfiche. After October 1999, documents are available online from the NRC's full-text document management system. Most public documents may be reproduced on CD-ROM, microfiche, or paper for a nominal fee. Phone, 301-415-4737 or 800-397-4209. Fax, 301-415-3548.

<http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/pdr.html> | Email: pdr.resource@nrc.gov

<http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/adams.html>

<http://www.nrc.gov/about-nrc/contactus.html> | Email: opa.resource@nrc.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Public Affairs, Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555-0001. Phone, 301-415-8200.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission

The United States Government Manual

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH REVIEW COMMISSION

1120 Twentieth Street NW., Washington, DC 20036-3457

202-606-5100

202-418-3017

<http://www.oshrc.gov>

COMMISSIONERS

---

|       |                    |
|-------|--------------------|
| CHAIR | Cynthia L. Attwood |
|-------|--------------------|

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
|  | Amanda W. Laihow |
|--|------------------|

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
|  | (vacancy) |
|--|-----------|

<https://www.oshrc.gov/about/current-commissioners>

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

---

|                    |               |
|--------------------|---------------|
| EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR | Debra A. Hall |
|--------------------|---------------|

|                                |                |
|--------------------------------|----------------|
| Chief Administrative Law Judge | Covette Rooney |
|--------------------------------|----------------|

|                     |                 |
|---------------------|-----------------|
| Executive Secretary | John X. Cervený |
|---------------------|-----------------|

|                 |                   |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| General Counsel | Nadine N. Mancini |
|-----------------|-------------------|

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2021.

The Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission ensures the timely and fair resolution of cases involving the alleged exposure of American workers to unsafe or unhealthy working conditions.

The Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission is an independent, quasi-judicial agency established by the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 651-678).

The Commission rules on cases when disagreements arise over the results of safety and health inspections performed by the Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA). Employers have the right to dispute alleged job safety or health violations that OSHA inspectors find, the penalties that OSHA proposes, and the time given to correct a hazardous situation.

The Commission posts its organizational chart online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

https://www.oshrc.gov/assets/1/6/Org\_Chart\_May\_12,\_2021.pdf

The Occupational Safety and Health Act covers virtually every employer in the country. Its purpose is to reduce employment-related injuries, illnesses, and deaths of working men and women in the United States. It requires employers to provide a work environment free from recognized hazards that cause or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm to their employees. It also requires employers to comply with occupational safety and health standards promulgated under the act.

<http://www.oshrc.gov/about/how-oshrc.html>

ACTIVITIES

---

The Commission adjudicates enforcement actions initiated under the act when they are contested by employers, employees, or representatives of employees. A case arises when a citation, issued to an employer as the result of an OSHA inspection, is contested within 15 working days of receipt of the report.

There are two levels of adjudication within the Commission. All cases are first assigned to an administrative law judge. A hearing is generally held in the community or as close as possible to where the alleged violation occurred. After the hearing, the judge issues a decision based on findings of fact and conclusions of law.

A substantial number of these decisions become final orders of the Commission. Commission members, however, will issue the final order if a party petitions the Commission members for review of the judge's decision and the petition is granted.

After a final order is issued, any party to the case may seek a review of the decision in the U.S. courts of appeals.

The Commission's principal office is in Washington, DC. Administrative law judges are also located in the Atlanta and Denver regional offices.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

Vacancy announcements are posted online.

http://www.oshrc.gov/job\_opportunities/job\_opport.html

Decisions

The "Decisions" page contains two online search tools, one for the final decisions of administrative law judges and the other for the final decisions of the Commission. The administrative law judge decisions start with the year 1993, and the Commission decisions start with the year 1972. Decisions are available in the form of Hypertext Markup Language (HTML) and Portable Document Format (PDF) files.

<http://www.oshrc.gov/decisions/index.html>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA requires Federal agencies to disclose records after receiving a proper written request for them. Certain records, however, are shielded from disclosure by provisions contained within the statute. The Commission's online FOIA information includes the specific procedures for requesting its records, FOIA-related contact information, and links to records that are already accessible online. The Commission operates a FOIA requester service center that can provide information on the status of a submitted request. Phone, 202-606-5724. Fax, 202-606-5417.

<http://www.oshrc.gov/foia/index.html>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The Commission posts answers to FAQs on its Web site.

<http://www.oshrc.gov/FAQ/index.html>

News

The Commission posts press releases on its Web site.

<http://www.oshrc.gov/press/press.html>

Open Government

The Commission supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<http://www.oshrc.gov/open.html> | Email: opengov@oshrc.gov

Plain Language

The Plain Writing Act of 2010 requires all Federal agencies to write in a way that produces "clear Government communication that the public can understand and use." The Commission solicits public assistance in support of plain language: If a document or Web page is unclear, contact the Commission by email and point out the lack of clarity. The Commission seeks to ensure that any document that is necessary for obtaining services, that provides information on services, or that explains how to comply with a requirement that the Commission administers or enforces is plainly written.

http://www.oshrc.gov/open/plain\_writing.html | Email: plain@oshrc.gov

Publicaciones en Español

Publications in Spanish are available online. Phone, 202-606-5400.

http://www.oshrc.gov/publications/publications\_spanish.html

Publications

The Commission's publications are accessible online. Copies of them and decisions are also available from the Office of the Executive Secretary. Phone, 202-606-5400. Fax, 202-606-5050.

<http://www.oshrc.gov/publications/index.html>

Related Sites

The Commission posts helpful and informative links to State Internet and other research sites. The Commission is not affiliated with the organizations whose links are on its "Related Web Sites" page.

<http://www.oshrc.gov/relatedsites/relatedsites.html>

<http://www.oshrc.gov/about/phone-numbers.html>

For further information, contact the Office of the Executive Director, Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission, 1120 Twentieth Street NW., Washington, DC 20036-3457. Phone, 202-606-5100. Fax, 202-418-3017.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Office of Government Ethics

The United States Government Manual

OFFICE OF GOVERNMENT ETHICS

1201 New York Avenue NW., Suite 500, Washington, DC 20005-3917

202-482-9300

(TTY) 800-877-8339

202-482-9237

<http://www.oge.gov>

DIRECTOR

Emory A. Rounds III

Chief of Staff / Program Counsel

Shelley K. Finlayson

Deputy Director, Compliance

Dale A. Christopher

General Counsel

David J. Apol

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/about\_leadership

[For the Office of Government Ethics statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 5, Part 2600]

The Office of Government Ethics leads and oversees the executive branch program for preventing and resolving conflicts of interest.

The Office of Government Ethics (OGE) is an executive branch agency established under the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, as amended (5 U.S.C. app. 401).

With the advice and consent of the Senate, the President appoints the Director for a 5-year term.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Organization>

ACTIVITIES

The OGE provides overall leadership and oversight of the executive branch ethics program, which prevents and resolves conflicts of interest. To carry out its leadership and oversight responsibilities, the Office promulgates and maintains enforceable standards of ethical conduct for approximately 2.7 million employees in over 130 executive branch agencies and the White House; oversees a financial disclosure system that reaches approximately 26,000 public and 380,000 confidential financial disclosure report filers; ensures that executive branch agency ethics programs are in compliance with applicable ethics laws and regulations; provides education and training to the more than 4,500 ethics officials throughout the executive branch; conducts outreach to the general public, the private sector, and civil society; and provides technical assistance to State, local, and foreign governments and international organizations.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Mission+and+Responsibilities>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

Advisories

The OGE posts written guidance to executive branch ethics officials and employees online.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/All%20Advisories>

Education

Educational resources for ethics officials—including Institute for Ethics in Government training videos—are available online.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Education%20Resources%20for%20Ethics%20Officials>

Career Opportunities

The OGE posts vacancy announcements on USAJobs. The Compliance Division seeks agency ethics officials to participate in rotational details for increasing financial disclosure review proficiency. A detail assignment typically lasts 4–8 weeks, and arrangements can be made to accommodate commitment and schedule.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Careers>

Conflict of Interest

The OGE Web site provides links to opinions and other guidance that interpret the conflict of interest laws.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/OGE.nsf/Legal%20Interpretation>

Dates / Deadlines

The schedule of ethics dates helps executive branch agency ethics officials identify key dates and meet important deadlines throughout the calendar year.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Dates%20and%20Deadlines>

Executive Orders

A list of Executive orders that significantly affected or continue to affect the executive branch ethics program is available on the OGE's Web site.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/OGE.nsf/Executive%20Orders>

Financial Disclosure

Appointee, nominee, Presidential, and Vice Presidential public financial disclosure reports and ethics agreements are available online.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Presidential%20Appointee%20&%20Nominee%20Records>

Resources for public financial disclosure are available on the OGE Web site.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/OGE.nsf/Public%20Financial%20Disclosure/F8C35F18BF846D1C85257E96006B95B1?opendocument>

Forms

All forms created by the OGE and instructions for downloading them are available online.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/OGE+Forms>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Information on how to submit a FOIA request is available online.

https://www.oge.gov/Web/OGE.nsf/Freedom+of+Information+Act+\(FOIA\))

An electronic reading room contains documents that the OGE has released after multiple FOIA requests or disclosed proactively. Before making a FOIA request, search the electronic reading room for relevant records that already may be accessible.

https://www.oge.gov/web/OGE.nsf/Freedom%20of%20Information%20Act%20\(FOIA\)/B9B880B7B93AF8EF85257EF5006DAAB6?opendocument/B9B880B7B93AF8EF85257EF5006DAAB6?opendocument)

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The OGE answers media FAQs on its Web site.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Media%20Resources/C82EAE759C7C631885257EBC0043366C?opendocument>

International Support

The OGE conducts international work under the auspices of the Department of State. In addition to descriptions of its bilateral and multilateral activities and onsite briefings, the "International Activities" Web pages contain documents that international visitors most often request, international conference papers and speeches, documents prepared for anticorruption meetings, links to other information on the fight against public corruption, and a selection of documents translated into Arabic, Chinese, French, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/International+Activities>

Legislative Affairs

The OGE posts budget submissions, correspondence with Congress, information on legislation affecting the executive branch ethics program, and other legislative materials on its Web site.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Legislative%20Affairs%20&%20Budget>

Media

The OGE posts documents and information that members of the media request often. A media liaison is available to provide additional assistance.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Media%20Resources> | Email: ContactOGE@oge.gov

Open Government

The OGE supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/OPEN+GOVERNMENT>

Organizational Chart

An organizational chart is available on the "Contact Us" Web page.

<https://www.oge.gov/Web/OGE.nsf/Resources/Contact+Us>

RSS Feeds

The dates and deadlines RSS feed streams the dates of events like training and deadlines that are relevant to the management of agency ethics programs. The latest advisories RSS feed streams new education, legal, and program management advisories.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Resources/RSS%20Feeds>

Site Map

A site index presents document categories based on their appearance in the Web site's drop-down menus.

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Information/Site+Index?opendocument>

Social Media

The OGE tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/OfficeGovEthics>

The Institute for Ethics in Government posts videos on the OGE's YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/OGElInstitute>

<https://www.oge.gov/web/oge.nsf/Organization/Contact%20Us?> | Email: contactoge@oge.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Government Ethics, Suite 500, 1201 New York Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20005-3917. Phone, 202-482-9300. TTY, 800-877-8339. Fax, 202-482-9237.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Office of Personnel Management

The United States Government Manual

OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

1900 E Street NW., Washington, DC 20415-0001

202-606-1800

TTY, 202-606-2532

<http://www.opm.gov>

Executive Offices

---

|          |             |
|----------|-------------|
| DIRECTOR | Kiran Ahuja |
|----------|-------------|

|                 |           |
|-----------------|-----------|
| Deputy Director | (vacancy) |
|-----------------|-----------|

|                |              |
|----------------|--------------|
| Chief of Staff | Anne Harkavy |
|----------------|--------------|

CHIEF OFFICERS

|            |                |
|------------|----------------|
| Management | Dennis Coleman |
|------------|----------------|

|         |                       |
|---------|-----------------------|
| Privacy | Kellie Cosgrove Riley |
|---------|-----------------------|

DIRECTORS

|                |                  |
|----------------|------------------|
| Communications | Caroline Ciccone |
|----------------|------------------|

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| Congressional, Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs | Alethea Predeoux |
|--|------------------|

|   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| Executive Secretariat / Resource Management | John Pettit, Acting |
|---|---------------------|

|   |               |
|---|---------------|
| Human Capital Data Management and Modernization | David Padrino |
|---|---------------|

CHIEF HUMAN CAPITAL OFFICERS COUNCIL

|                    |               |
|--------------------|---------------|
| Executive Director | Margot Conrad |
|--------------------|---------------|

|                 |                   |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| General Counsel | Lynn D. Eisenberg |
|-----------------|-------------------|

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/our-people-organization/organizational-contacts/office-of-the-director>

Program Offices

---

ASSOCIATE DIRECTORS

|                   |                |
|-------------------|----------------|
| Employee Services | Robert Shriver |
|-------------------|----------------|

|                           |              |
|---------------------------|--------------|
| Human Resources Solutions | Peter Bonner |
|---------------------------|--------------|

|  |                 |
|--|-----------------|
| Merit System Accountability and Compliance | Mark W. Lambert |
|--|-----------------|

Retirement Services

Nicholas Ashenden

---

 DIRECTORS

---

Healthcare and Insurance

Laurie Bodenheimer

Suitability Executive Agent Programs

Lisa M. Loss

---

 Mission Support Services

---

---

 CHIEF OFFICERS

---

Financial

Margaret Pearson, Acting

Human Capital

Tyshawn Thomas

Information

Guy Cavallo

---

 DIRECTORS

---

Equal Employment Opportunity

Lashonn M. Woodland

Facilities, Security and Emergency Management

Reid Hilliard

Human Resources

Tyshawn Thomas

Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization

Desmond Brown

Senior Procurement Executive

Todd Anthony

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/our-people-organization/organizational-contacts>

---

 Office of the Inspector General

---

Inspector General

Norbert E. Vint, Acting

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/our-people-organization/organizational-contacts/office-of-inspector-general>

Federal Prevailing Rate Advisory Committee

---

Chair

(vacancy)

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/our-people-organization/organizational-contacts/federal-prevailing-rate-advisory-committee>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2021.

The Office of Personnel Management administers a merit system to ensure compliance with personnel laws and regulations and assists agencies with recruiting, examining, and promoting on the basis of skills and knowledge irrespective of race, religion, sex, political influence, or other factors not based on merit.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) was created as an independent establishment by Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1978, pursuant to Executive Order 12107, which President James E. Carter signed on December 28, 1978. The Executive order designated January 1, 1979, as the effective date for the establishment of the OPM. The plan and the order transferred many of the U.S. Civil Service Commission's former functions to the OPM.

Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1978 (92 Stat. 3783)

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-92/pdf/STATUTE-92-Pg3783.pdf>

Executive Order 12107 (44 FR 1055–1064)

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1979-01-03/pdf/FR-1979-01-03.pdf>

The OPM published its statement of organization as a notice in the Federal Register on January 5, 1979 (44 FR 1501–1502).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1979-01-05/pdf/FR-1979-01-05.pdf>

The OPM included an organizational chart on page 12 of its "Annual Performance Report—Fiscal Year 2020," which was published in January of 2021.

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/budget-performance/performance/2020-annual-performance-report.pdf>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1978 has been codified and assigned to the appendix of 5 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5a-node84-leaf186&num=0&edition=prelim>

Statutory material affecting the OPM has been codified and assigned to Chapter 11 (sections 1101–1105) of 5 U.S.C. Title 5 is dedicated to the topic of "Government Organization and Employees," and Chapter 11 of that title deals with the "Office of Personnel Management."

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title5/part2/chapter11&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that are associated with the OPM have been codified and assigned to Chapter I (parts 1–1199) of 5 CFR. Title 5 is dedicated to rules and regulations affecting "Administrative Personnel."

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=c4cab023af8b5d797b0dd7bfa99c9969&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title05/5chapter1.tpl>

ACTIVITIES

---

Employee Benefits

OPM manages numerous activities that directly affect the well-being of the Federal employee and indirectly enhance employee effectiveness. These include health benefits, life insurance, and retirement benefits.

<https://www.opm.gov/healthcare-insurance>

Examining / Staffing

The OPM provides departments and agencies with technical assistance and guidance in examining competitive positions in the Federal civil service for General Schedule grades 1 through 15 and Federal Wage system positions. In addition, OPM is responsible for the following duties: providing testing and examination services, at the request of an agency, on a reimbursable basis; establishing basic qualification standards for all occupations; certifying agency delegated examining units to conduct examining; providing employment information for competitive service positions; and providing policy direction and guidance on promotions, reassignments, appointments in the excepted and competitive services, reinstatements, temporary and term employment, veterans preference, workforce planning and reshaping, organizational design, career transition, and other staffing provisions.

<https://www.opm.gov/services-for-agencies/recruiting-staffing-solutions/>

Executive Resources

OPM leads in the selection, management, and development of Federal executives. OPM provides policy guidance, consulting services, and technical support on Senior Executive Service (SES) recruitment, selection, succession planning, mobility performance, awards, and removals. It reviews agency nominations for SES career appointments and administers the Qualifications Review Boards that certify candidates' executive qualifications. It manages SES, senior-level, and scientific and professional space allocations to agencies, administers the Presidential Rank Awards program, and conducts orientation sessions for newly appointed executives. In addition, OPM manages three interagency residential development and training centers for executives and managers.

<https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/senior-executive-service>

Investigations

The Office of the Inspector General conducts comprehensive and independent audits, investigations, and evaluations relating to OPM programs and operations. It is responsible for administrative actions against health care providers who commit sanctionable offenses with respect to the Federal Employees' Health Benefits Program or other Federal programs.

<https://www.opm.gov/our-inspector-general/>

For further information, contact the Office of the Inspector General. Phone, 202-606-1200.

Oversight

OPM assesses human capital management Governmentwide and within agencies to gather information for policy development and program refinement, ensure compliance with law and regulation, and enhance agency capability for human resources management accountability. Agency accountability systems help ensure that human capital decisions are consistent with merit principles and that human capital strategies are aligned with mission accomplishment. OPM also works with agencies to find better and more strategic ways to manage Federal human capital.

<https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/oversight-activities>

Personnel Systems

OPM provides leadership and guidance to agencies on systems to support the manager's personnel management responsibilities. These include the following: white- and blue-collar pay systems, including SES and special occupational pay systems; geographical adjustments and locality payments; special rates to address recruitment and retention problems; allowances and differentials, including recruitment and relocation bonuses, retention allowances, and hazardous duty/environmental pay; and premium pay; annual and sick leave, court leave, military leave, leave transfer and leave bank programs, family and medical leave, excused absence, holidays, and scheduling of work, including flexible and compressed work schedules; performance management, covering appraisal systems, performance pay and awards, and incentive awards for suggestions, inventions, and special acts; classification policy and standards for agencies to determine the series and grades for Federal jobs; labor-management relations, including collective bargaining, negotiability, unfair labor practices, labor-management cooperation, and consulting with unions on Governmentwide issues; systems and techniques for resolving disputes with employees; quality of work-life initiatives, such as employee health and fitness, work and family, AIDS in the workplace, and employee assistance programs; human resources development, including leadership and administration of the Human Resources Development Council and the Government Performance and Results Act interest group; the Training and Management Assistance program, to help agencies develop training and human resources management solutions, including workforce planning and succession management strategies, e-learning applications, traditional classroom training materials, compensation and performance management systems, and other customized products; information systems to support and improve Federal personnel management decisionmaking; and Governmentwide instructions for personnel processing and recordkeeping and for release of personnel data under the Freedom of Information Act and the Privacy Act.

OPM also provides administrative support to special advisory bodies, including the Federal Prevailing Rate Advisory Committee, the Federal Salary Council, and the Presidential Advisory Committee on Expanding Training Opportunities.

Workforce Diversity

OPM provides leadership, direction, and policy for Governmentwide affirmative recruiting programs for women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans. It also provides leadership, guidance, and technical assistance to promote merit and equality in systemic workforce recruitment, employment, training, and retention. In addition, OPM gathers, analyzes, and maintains statistical data on the diversity of the Federal workforce and prepares evaluation reports for Congress and others on individual agency and Governmentwide progress toward full workforce representation for all Americans in the Federal sector.

<https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/diversity-and-inclusion/>

OTHER PROGRAMS

---

OPM coordinates the temporary assignment of employees between Federal agencies and State, local, and Indian tribal governments, institutions of higher education, and other eligible nonprofit organizations for up to 2 years, for work of mutual benefit to the participating organizations. It administers the Presidential Management Intern Program, which provides 2-year, excepted appointments with Federal agencies to recipients of graduate degrees in appropriate disciplines. In addition, the Office of Personnel Management administers the Federal Merit System Standards, which apply to certain grant-aided State and local programs.

Federal Executive Boards

Federal Executive Boards (FEBs) were established by Presidential memorandum on November 10, 1961, to improve internal Federal management practices and to provide a central focus for Federal participation in civic affairs in major metropolitan centers of Federal activity. They carry out their functions under OPM supervision and control.

FEBs serve as a means for disseminating information within the Federal Government and for promoting discussion of Federal policies and activities of importance to all Federal executives in the field. Each Board is composed of heads of Federal field offices in the metropolitan area. A chairman is elected annually from among the membership to provide overall leadership to the Board's operations. Committees and task forces carry out interagency projects consistent with the Board's mission.

Located in places where Federal activity is concentrated, FEBS can be found in 28 metropolitan areas. Federal executive associations or councils, which are locally organized, can be found in approximately 65 other metropolitan areas. They perform functions similar to the FEBs, but on a lesser scale of organization and activity.

<https://www.feb.gov/board-locations>

For further information, contact the Director for Federal Executive Board Operations. Phone, 202-606-1000.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The OPM's website has an alphabetical subject index to help visitors navigate its content.

<https://www.opm.gov/a-z-index/>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that OPM records have been assigned to record group 478.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/478.html>

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that U.S. Civil Service Commission records have been assigned to record group 146.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/146.html>

Blog

The OPM has a blog on its website.

<https://www.opm.gov/blogs/Director/>

Business Opportunities

The "Doing Business with OPM" web pages provide information on finding contracting opportunities, registering to do business with the OPM, and connecting with the OPM's small business program.

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/doing-business-with-opm>

Staff contact information is available online.

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/doing-business-with-opm/contact-us/>

Career Opportunities

To help fulfill its mission, the OPM relies on a professional workforce with energy, expertise, personality, and skill.

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/careers-at-opm/>

In 2020, the OPM ranked 15th among 25 midsize Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=OM00>

Contact Information

General contact information is available online. Contact information for specific OPM organizations also is posted.

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/contact-us>

Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID–19)

The OPM works closely with other Federal agencies to keep information current and make it available to Federal agencies and their employees. To learn more, visit the "Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID–19)" web page.

<https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/covid-19>

Federal Holidays

Federal law (5 U.S.C. 6103) establishes the public holidays for Federal employees. Most Federal employees work on weekdays. For these employees, when a holiday falls on a nonworkday—Saturday or Sunday—the Federal holiday usually is observed on Friday or Monday.

<https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/snow-dismissal-procedures/federal-holidays/#url=Overview>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the OPM recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/personnel-management-office>

Forms

The "Forms" web page serves as the single source of information for forms belonging to and used by the OPM. Links are also available to browse forms used by other Federal agencies.

<https://www.opm.gov/forms> | Email: formsmanager@opm.gov

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

To any person, the FOIA gives a statutory right for obtaining access to Government information in the records of executive branch agencies. This right to access is limited, however, when the requested information is shielded from disclosure by any of nine exemptions contained within the statute. A FOIA request must be made in writing and clearly labeled "Freedom of Information Act Request." Instructions for making a request are available online.

<https://www.opm.gov/information-management/freedom-of-information-act>

The electronic reading room contains documents that the FOIA identifies for inclusion. This electronic collection also contains records that FOIA users have requested multiple times.

<https://www.opm.gov/information-management/freedom-of-information-act#url=Electronic-Reading-Room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The OPM posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.opm.gov/FAQs>

Glossaries

A glossary is available on the "Healthcare—Reference Materials" web page.

<https://www.opm.gov/healthcare-insurance/healthcare/reference-materials/reference/glossary/>

A glossary is available on the "Benefits Officers Center—Reference Materials" web page.

<https://www.opm.gov/retirement-services/benefits-officers-center/reference-materials/#url=Glossary>

An insurance glossary of terms that are used on the "Federal Benefits Programs" website is available online. If a term is absent from the glossary, please email a request for its inclusion.

<https://www.opm.gov/healthcare-insurance/insurance-glossary> | Email: fehb@opm.gov

History

On October 27, 1992, the agency's Washington headquarters was dedicated to a former Civil Service Commissioner, who later became the 26th President of the United States. To find out more about this dedicated civil servant, visit the "Theodore Roosevelt" web page.

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/our-mission-role-history/theodore-roosevelt/>

Insurance

Information on the Federal health benefits open season; flexible spending accounts; and dental and vision, health, life, and long-term care insurance programs, is available online.

<https://www.opm.gov/healthcare-insurance>

Integrity / Efficinecy

The OPM's Office of the Inspector General posts reports and data on Oversight.gov, a text-searchable repository of reports that Federal Inspectors General publish. The Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency operates and maintains the website to increase public access to independent and authoritative information on the Federal Government.

<https://www.oversight.gov/about>

News

The OPM posts news items on its website.

<https://www.opm.gov/news/latest-news/>

Open Government

The OPM supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency. The agency is committed to increasing accountability, effectiveness, efficiency, and innovation; building trust with American citizens; empowering the public; fostering a culture in which everyone's contribution is valued; making better decisions; and tracking how agency money is used.

<https://www.opm.gov/about-us/open-government>

Operating Status

The "Current Status" web page provides the operating status of Federal offices nationwide.

<https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/snow-dismissal-procedures/current-status>

The OPM sponsors the Operating Status listserv. Subscribers receive an email when the operating status of the Federal Government within the Capital Region changes.

https://apps.opm.gov/listserv\_apps/list-sub.cfm?targetlist=operatingstatus

Publications

An electronic database allows users to search for operating manuals, periodicals, and other OPM publications. For more information on Federal personnel management publications, contact OPM Publications Management. Phone, 202-606-1822.

<http://www.opm.gov/news/reports-publications/publications-database>

Retirement Information Center

The Retirement Information Center provides information on retirement benefits for current, new, and prospective Federal employees, as well as for Federal retirees, their survivors, and benefits officers. The information includes recent changes, events, and other issues affecting Federal retirement benefits.

<https://www.opm.gov/Blogs/Retire/>

Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS) information on retirement eligibility is posted online.

<https://www.opm.gov/retirement-services/csrs-information/eligibility>

Federal Employees Retirement System (FERS) information on retirement eligibility is posted online.

<https://www.opm.gov/retirement-services/fers-information/eligibility>

Salaries / Wages

General schedule locality pay tables are posted online.

<https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/pay-leave/salaries-wages/2018/general-schedule/>

Social Media

The OPM maintains pages on Facebook, tweets on Twitter, and posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.opm.gov/news/social-media-presence>

Telework

The OPM maintains the Federal Government's official telework program website.

<https://www.telework.gov/about/> | Email: teleworkpolicy@opm.gov

The above Sources of Information were updated 8–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Office of the Director of National Intelligence

The United States Government Manual

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE

Washington, DC 20511

703-733-8600

<http://www.dni.gov>

DIRECTOR

John L. Ratcliffe

Principal Deputy Director

(vacancy)

Principal Executive

Neil Wiley

---

---

Chief Operating Officer

(vacancy)

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/leadership>

AGENCY OVERSIGHT

---

Chief of Civil Liberties, Privacy, and Transparency

Benjamin T. Huebner

Chief of Equal Employment Opportunity and Diversity

Rita Sampson

General Counsel

Bradley Brooker, Acting

<https://www.odni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations>

DIRECTORATES:

---

Enterprise Capacity

---

Deputy Director of National Intelligence

Kevin Meiners

ASSISTANT DIRECTORS OF NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE / CHIEF OFFICERS

Finance

James D. Treadwell

Human Capital

Sherry Van Sloun

Information

John B. Sherman

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations/enterprise-capacity/enterprise-capacity-who-we-are>

Mission Integration

---

Deputy Director of National Intelligence

Beth Sanner

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations/mission-integration/mission-integration-who-we-are>

National Security Partnerships

---

Deputy Director of National Intelligence

Lt. Gen. Karen H. Gibson

<https://www.odni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations/national-security-partnerships/national-security-partnerships-who-we-are>

Strategy and Engagement

---

Deputy Director of National Intelligence

Corin R. Stone

ASSISTANT DIRECTORS

Legislative Affairs

Ryan Crumpler

Policy and Strategy

James A. Smith

Strategic Communications

Amanda Schoch

Transformation and Innovation

Pamela Duke

Director of Intelligence Advanced Research Projects Activity

Catherine Marsh

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations/strategy-engagement/strategy-engagement-who-we-are>

CENTERS:

---

Cyber Threat Intelligence Integration

---

Director

Erin Joe

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/ctiic-who-we-are/leadership>

National Counterproliferation

---

Director

Alan S. MacDougall

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/ncpc-who-we-are/director-ncpc>

National Counterintelligence and Security

---

Director

William R. Evanina

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/ncsc-who-we-are/ncsc-leadership>

National Counterterrorism

---

Director

Lora Shiao, Acting

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/nctc-who-we-are/director-nctc>

INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY OVERSIGHT

---

Inspector General

Thomas A. Monheim, Acting

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations/icig/icig-about-us/icig-leadership/icig-ig-bio> | Email: ICIGHotline@dni.gov

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2020.

The Office of the Director of National Intelligence oversees and coordinates the foreign and domestic activities of the Intelligence Community across the Federal Government.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On December 17, 2004, President George W. Bush approved Public Law 108–458, which is also cited as the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004. This Act established the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI), which opened on April 22, 2005.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-118/pdf/STATUTE-118-Pg3638.pdf>

The President appoints the Director of National Intelligence by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The Director is required to "have extensive national security expertise" and "shall not be located within the Executive Office of the President." The President exercises authority, control, and direction over the Director, who serves as head of the Intelligence Community and who acts as the principal adviser to the President, to the National Security Council, and to the Homeland Security Council for intelligence matters involving national security (118 Stat. 3644).

While serving as the Director of National Intelligence, the head of the Intelligence Community may not serve concurrently as "the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency or as the head of any other element of the Intelligence Community" (118 Stat. 3644).

The Law Revision Counsel editorially reclassified section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947. The reclassified statutory material remains part of 50 U.S.C., but has been moved from chapter 15 to chapter 44, Subchapter I—Coordination for National Security (sections 3021–3058).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title50/chapter44/subchapter1&edition=prelim>

National Defense rules and regulations that have been published in the Federal Register are codified in 32 CFR. Chapter XVII, parts 1700–1799, contain codified material dealing with the ODNI.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=1122b31df7e7a61c659b0cb96027c179&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title32/32chapterXVII.tpl

The ODNI posts an organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) on its "Organization" web page.

https://www.dni.gov/files/ODNI/documents/ODNI\_Org\_Chart.pdf

ACTIVITIES

---

The ODNI provides executive branch agency and department heads, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and senior military commanders, and the U.S. Congress and President with timely and objective national intelligence. The agency also establishes goals and priorities for collection, analysis, production, and dissemination of national intelligence; ensures the availability of and access to intelligence information within the Intelligence Community; develops the annual budget for the National Intelligence Program; oversees coordination of relationships with the intelligence or security services of foreign governments and international organizations; ensures that accurate analysis of intelligence information is derived from all sources that are relevant for supporting national security needs; develops personnel policies and programs to increase the capacity for joint operations and to facilitate staffing of community management functions; and jointly oversees, with the Secretary of Defense, the development and implementation of an acquisition program management plan.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/mission-vision>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that ODNI records have been assigned to record group 576. ODNI records belong to the "Homeland Security" cluster.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/index-numeric/501-to-600.html>

Biological and Chemical Warfare / Nuclear Weapons

The National Counterproliferation Center has web pages that introduce readers to the current challenges of containing the spread of equipment, information, material, and technologies that are used for producing weapons of mass destruction and their delivery systems.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/ncpc-features>

Career Opportunities

The ODNI hires acquisitions and financial managers, engineers, foreign language experts, scientists, security experts, software and hardware developers, technology specialists, and other career professionals.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/careers>

In 2019, the Intelligence Community ranked third among 17 large agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/IC00>

Climate Change

"Global Trends: Paradox of Progress," which the National Intelligence Council published in January of 2017, addressed climate change as part of the report's global trends and key implications: "A range of global hazards pose imminent and longer-term threats that will require collective action to address—even as cooperation becomes harder. More extreme weather, water and soil stress, and food insecurity will disrupt societies. Sea-level rise, ocean acidification, glacial melt, and pollution will change living patterns. Tensions over climate change will grow. Increased travel and poor health infrastructure will make infectious diseases harder to manage."

<https://www.dni.gov/files/images/globalTrends/documents/GT-Main-Report.pdf>

"Global Trends 2030: Alternative Worlds," which the National Intelligence Council published in December of 2012, addressed climate change as part of its "megatrend" discussion on food, water, and energy: "Demand for food, water, and energy will grow . . . owing to an increase in the global population and the consumption patterns of an expanding middle class. Climate change will worsen the outlook for the availability of these critical resources. . . . the severity of existing weather patterns will intensify, with wet areas getting wetter and dry and arid areas becoming more so. Much of the decline in precipitation will occur in the Middle East and northern Africa as well as western Central Asia, southern Europe, southern Africa, and the US Southwest."

https://www.dni.gov/files/documents/GlobalTrends\_2030.pdf

Contact Information

The "Connect with ODNI" web page has a phone number and mailing address for contacting the agency.

<https://www.odni.gov/index.php/contact-the-odni>

Economic Espionage

The National Counterintelligence and Security Center's "Economic Espionage" web page introduces visitors to the efforts of foreign intelligence services, criminals, and private sector spies to compromise American industrial and private sector intellectual property, technology, and trade secrets. Their efforts, which are increasingly carried out within the cyber environment, undermine the Nation's security and long-term prosperity.

<https://www.odni.gov/index.php/ncsc-what-we-do/ncsc-threat-assessments-mission/ncsc-economic-espionage>

Election Security

The ODNI partners with Federal departments and agencies, State and local governments, election officials, and others to protect U.S. elections and to maintain public transparency about its efforts. Related content and links are accessible on the "Election Security" web page.

<https://www.odni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations/mission-integration/es/election-security-who-we-are>

Factsheets

The ODNI has posted a factsheet (FEB 2017) online.

https://www.dni.gov/files/documents/FACTSHEET\_ODNI\_History\_and\_Background\_2\_24-17.pdf

The National Counterterrorism Center posted a factsheet on its "NCTC At a Glance" web page.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/nctc-features/1542-nctc-at-a-glance>

The Cyber Threat Intelligence Integration Center posted "quick facts" about its activities on the "CTIIC Quick Facts" web page.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/ctiic-features/1722-ctiic-quick-facts>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the ODNI recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/national-intelligence-office-of-the-national-director>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The Act gives a right for accessing Federal agency records to any person, except a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are, however, shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure could cause. The Electronic Freedom of Information Act Amendments of 1996 require Federal agencies to use electronic information technology to expand access to and availability of FOIA documents.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/foia>

History

A Director of National Intelligence for coordinating the overall intelligence effort is an idea that predates the establishment of the ODNI by five decades. The attacks of September 11, 2001, against the World Trade Center and the subsequent report by the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States (better known as the 9/11 Commission) increased the momentum for major intelligence reform. To learn more of the story, visit the "History" web page.

<https://www.odni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/history>

Kids

The "Information for Kids" web page has a collection of links that lead to portals on other Intelligence Community websites: Central Intelligence Agency, Departments of Energy and State, Department of the Treasury, Federal Bureau of Investigation, National Reconnaissance Office, and National Security Agency.

<https://www.odni.gov/index.php/for-kids>

Newsroom

The ODNI posts congressional testimonies, news articles, press releases, recent news, reports and publications, and speeches and interviews online.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/newsroom>

Organization

The "Organization" web page has links for the ODNI's four directorates, four mission centers, four oversight offices, and its organizational chart.

<https://www.odni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations>

Private Sector Engagement

The ODNI promotes collaboration with the private sector to advance national security interests, while protecting the freedoms, civil liberties, and privacy rights that the U.S. Constitution guarantees.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations/national-security-partnerships/ps-engagement> | Email: DNI-NSP-PrivateSector-Info@dni.gov

Reports / Publications

Reports and other ODNI publications are available online.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/newsroom/reports-publications>

National Intelligence Council publications are available online.

<https://www.dni.gov/index.php/who-we-are/organizations/mission-integration/nic/nic-related-menus/nic-related-content/nic-publications>

Social Media

The "Connect with ODNI" web page has links to the ODNI's social media pages on Facebook, Twitter, Tumblr, and YouTube.

<https://www.odni.gov/index.php/contact-the-odni>

The Sources of Information were updated 3–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Overseas Private Investment Corporation

The United States Government Manual

OVERSEAS PRIVATE INVESTMENT CORPORATION

1100 New York Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20527

202-336-8400

202-336-7949

<http://www.opic.gov>

PRESIDENT / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Dev J. Jagadesan, Acting

Executive Vice President

(vacancy)

|   |                        |
|---|------------------------|
| Chief Information Officer                                     | Robert DeLuca          |
| Chief of Staff  | Cameron Alford, Acting |
| Director, Office of Accountability                            | William Kennedy        |
| Vice President, Department of Legal Affairs / General Counsel | Cindy Shepard, Acting  |
| Vice President, Department of Management and Administration   | Michele Perez          |
| Vice President, Financial and Portfolio Management            | Mildred Callear        |
| Vice President, Human Resources                               | Michele Perez, Acting  |
| Vice President, Investment Funds                              | Lynn Nguyen, Acting    |
| Vice President, Office of External Affairs                    | Edward Burrier         |
| Vice President, Office of Investment Policy                   | Merryl Burpoe, Acting  |
| Vice President, Small and Medium Enterprise Finance           | James C. Polan         |
| Vice President, Structured Finance and Insurance              | Tracey Webb            |

[For the Overseas Private Investment Corporation statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 22, Chapter VII]

The above list of key personnel was updated 07–2017.

The Overseas Private Investment Corporation promotes economic growth and job opportunities both at home and abroad by encouraging U.S. private investment in developing countries and emerging markets.

The Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC) was established in 1971 as an independent agency by the Foreign Affairs Reform and Restructuring Act (112 Stat. 2681-790). The Corporation helps U.S. businesses invest overseas, fosters economic development in new and emerging markets, complements the private sector in managing risks associated with foreign direct investment, and supports U.S. foreign policy. It charges market-based fees for its products and operates on a self-sustaining basis at no net cost to American taxpayers.

<https://www.opic.gov/who-we-are/overview>

ACTIVITIES

The agency serves as the U.S. Government's development finance institution. It mobilizes private capital to help solve critical development challenges. This mobilization of capital advances U.S. foreign policy and national security objectives. Working with the U.S. private sector, the agency helps U.S. businesses gain footholds in emerging markets thereby catalyzing revenues, jobs, and growth opportunities both at home and abroad. Consistent with its mission, the Corporation provides financing guarantees, insures against political risk, and supports private equity investment funds to stimulate investment.

<https://www.opic.gov/what-we-offer/overview>

OPIC projects adhere to high environmental and social standards and uphold human rights. By its adherence to high standards, the agency tries to raise the industry and regional standards of the countries where it operates. OPIC services are available for new and expanding business enterprises in more than 160 countries.

<https://www.opic.gov/opic-action/overview>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Eligibility

To determine whether a business owner or company is eligible for OPIC insurance or finance products, visit the online applicant screener. Some eligibility requirements are the same across all OPIC products; however, some vary by product.

<https://www.opic.gov/doing-business-us/applicant-screener>

Employment

Most OPIC career opportunities fall within the following professional categories: attorney-advisors, business development specialists, economists, finance specialists, and managers. New hires must be U.S. citizens.

<https://www.opic.gov/who-we-are/careers>

In 2015 and 2016, the OPIC was ranked number two among small Government agencies in the Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/overall/small>

Media

Annual reports, newsletters, and public notices, as well as the OPIC blog and media library are available online.

<https://www.opic.gov/media-events/media-library>

Workshops

Participants learn how American small businesses use OPIC finance and insurance products to gain access to emerging markets overseas, as well as how they can take advantage of OPIC products to expand their businesses abroad and support growth at home.

<https://www.opic.gov/outreach-events/upcoming-workshops>

<https://www.opic.gov/doing-business-us/contact-us> | Email: info@opic.gov

For further information, contact the Overseas Private Investment Corporation, 1100 New York Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20527. Phone, 202-336-8400. Fax, 202-336-7949.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Peace Corps

The United States Government Manual

PEACE CORPS

1111 Twentieth Street NW., Washington, DC 20526

855-855-1961

202-692-2000

202-692-2231

<http://www.peacecorps.gov>

DIRECTOR

Josephine K. Olsen

|   |                            |
|---|----------------------------|
| Deputy Director   | (vacancy)                  |
| Chief of Staff  | Michelle K. Brooks         |
| https://files.peacecorps.gov/documents/jody-olsen-bio.pdf |                            |
| CHIEF OFFICERS  |                            |
| Financial   | Richard Swartz             |
| Information   | Scott Knell                |
| DIRECTOR  |                            |
| Civil Rights and Diversity  | John W. Burden             |
| Victim Advocacy   | Da Shawna Townsend         |
| General Counsel   | Robert Shanks              |
| White House Liaison   | Matthew McKinney           |
| ASSOCIATE DIRECTORS   |                            |
| Global Operations   | Patrick Young              |
| Health Services   | Karen Becker               |
| Safety and Security   | Shawn Bardwell             |
| Volunteer Recruitment and Selection   | David Walker               |
| DIRECTORS   |                            |
| Global Health and HIV   | Marie McLeod               |
| Overseas Programming and Training Support   | Stephanie Rust             |
| Peace Corps Response  | Kweku Boafo                |
| Strategic Information, Research, and Planning   | Jeffrey Kwiecinski, Acting |

---

 REGIONAL DIRECTORS

---

|        |                  |
|--------|------------------|
| Africa | Johnathan Miller |
|--------|------------------|

---

|                                |                  |
|--------------------------------|------------------|
| Europe, Mediterranean and Asia | Jeannette Windon |
|--------------------------------|------------------|

---

|                               |               |
|-------------------------------|---------------|
| Inter-America and the Pacific | Gregory Huger |
|-------------------------------|---------------|

---

---

 ASSOCIATE DIRECTORS

---

|                  |               |
|------------------|---------------|
| External Affairs | Rachel Kahler |
|------------------|---------------|

---

|            |                    |
|------------|--------------------|
| Management | Jeffrey Harrington |
|------------|--------------------|

---

|                          |             |
|--------------------------|-------------|
| Chief Compliance Officer | Anne Hughes |
|--------------------------|-------------|

---

---

 DIRECTORS

---

|                |                 |
|----------------|-----------------|
| Communications | Matthew Sheehey |
|----------------|-----------------|

---

|                         |                     |
|-------------------------|---------------------|
| Congressional Relations | Nancy Herbolzheimer |
|-------------------------|---------------------|

---

|                             |               |
|-----------------------------|---------------|
| Grants and Gifts Management | Karen Roberts |
|-----------------------------|---------------|

---

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| Strategic Partnerships and Intergovernmental Affairs | Shannon Kendrick |
|--|------------------|

---

|  |             |
|--|-------------|
| Third Goal and Returned Volunteer Services | Keith Honda |
|--|-------------|

---

|                     |                         |
|---------------------|-------------------------|
| Executive Secretary | Sylvie Mortimer, Acting |
|---------------------|-------------------------|

---

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/about/leadership>

|                   |                 |
|-------------------|-----------------|
| Inspector General | Kathy A. Buller |
|-------------------|-----------------|

---

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/about/inspector-general>

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2019.

---

The Peace Corps gives the peoples of host countries increased access to volunteers who are qualified, skilled, and trained, and it strengthens mutual understanding between Americans and the peoples of the countries served.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

President John F. Kennedy approved the Peace Corps Act on September 22, 1961. This Public Law became effective on that same day. Its declaration of purpose states: "It is the policy of the United States and the purpose of this Act to promote world peace and friendship through a Peace Corps, which shall make available to interested countries and areas men and women of the United States qualified for service abroad and willing to serve, under conditions of hardship if necessary, to help the peoples of such countries and areas in meeting their needs for trained manpower, and to help promote a better understanding of the American people on the part of the peoples served and a better understanding of other peoples on the part of the American people."

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-75/pdf/STATUTE-75-Pg612.pdf>

The Peace Corps Act has been amended since its enactment (22 U.S.C. 2501). Title VI of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981 (22 U.S.C. 2501-1) made the Peace Corps an independent agency.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title22/pdf/USCODE-2017-title22-chap34.pdf>

The President appoints the Director and Deputy Director of the agency by the advice and with the consent of the Senate.

ACTIVITIES

---

The Peace Corps consists of a Washington, DC, headquarters, six regional offices, and overseas operations in 62 countries, relying on more than 7,350 volunteers and trainees.

To fulfill the Peace Corps mandate, men and women are trained for a 9- to 14-week period in the appropriate local language, the technical skills necessary for their particular jobs, and the cross-cultural skills needed to adjust to a society with traditions and attitudes different from their own. Volunteers serve for a period of 2 years, living among the people with whom they work. Volunteers are expected to become a part of the community through their service.

Thousands of volunteers serve worldwide and work in six program areas: agriculture, business development, education, environment, health and HIV/AIDS, and youth development. Community-level projects are designed to match the skills of volunteers with the resources of host-country agencies and other international assistance organizations to solve specific development problems, often in conjunction with private volunteer organizations.

In the United States, the Peace Corps is working to promote an understanding of people in other countries. Through its World Wise Schools program, volunteers partner with elementary and junior high school students in the United States to encourage an exchange of letters, pictures, music, and artifacts. Participating students increase their knowledge of geography, languages, and different cultures, while gaining an appreciation for voluntarism.

The Peace Corps offers other domestic programs that rely on former volunteers. Working together with universities, local public school systems, and private businesses and foundations, these former volunteers help solve some of our Nation's most pressing domestic problems.

<http://www.peacecorps.gov/about>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Age Limit

The Peace Corps does not have an upper age limit, and spouses and partners can serve together. To learn more, visit the "Volunteering at 50-Plus" web page.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/volunteer/is-peace-corps-right-for-me/50plus>

Becoming a Volunteer

The volunteer program has an online application portal.

<http://www.peacecorps.gov/apply>

Career Opportunities

Peace Corps vacancy announcements are posted online. Additional information is available from the Office of Human Resource Management. Phone, 202-692-1200.

<http://www.peacecorps.gov/about/jobs>

The Peace Corps consistently ranks high among midsize agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings. In 2018, it ranked 6th among 27 midsize agencies.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/PU00>

Climate Change / Sustainability

The 2016 Strategic Sustainability Performance Plan identifies greenhouse gas reduction as one of its principal goals and includes an appendix on climate change resilience.

https://files.peacecorps.gov/documents/open-government/2016\_Strategic\_Sustainability\_Performance\_Plan.pdf

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page has key phone numbers and email addresses for contacting the Peace Corps.

https://www.peacecorps.gov/contact/#email\_form | Email: dcinfo@peacecorps.gov

Countries

Peace Corps volunteers serve in more than 60 countries.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/countries>

Donate

The "Donate" web page lists and describes projects that donors can support.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/donate>

Educator Resources

The Paul D. Coverdell World Wise Schools program provides online educational resources based on the Peace Corps experience.

https://www.peacecorps.gov/educators/resources/?search\_text=climate&list=educators-resources

Events

The "Events" web page has a search tool for locating a nearby event by ZIP Code.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/events>

Facts

Curious to know how many Americans have been in the Peace Corps? On which continent most volunteers serve? To learn the answers to these questions and others, visit the "Fast Facts" web page.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/news/fast-facts>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA (5 USC 552) gives the public right to request records from a Federal agency. An agency must disclose the requested record as long as one of the law's nine exemptions does not shield the information from public disclosure.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title5/pdf/USCODE-2017-title5-part1-chap5-subchap11.pdf>

The Peace Corps posts certain types of records that it creates on its website. A formal FOIA request is not necessary to access them. The Peace Corps also maintains a FOIA requester service center that can provide information on the status of a person's FOIA request.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/about/open-government/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The Peace Corps posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/faqs/all>

Global Initiatives

These programs promote AIDS relief, work to eliminate malaria, help local people assure their own food security, economically empower women, and support development projects in local communities.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/about/global-initiatives>

History

At 2 a.m., before a crowd of 10,000 students, then Senator and Presidential candidate John F. Kennedy launched a new experiment in public service from the steps of the Michigan Union at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. To learn more about what happened early that morning of October 14, 1960, visit "The Founding Moment" web page.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/about/history/founding-moment>

News

The Office of Press Relations posts news—agency statements, media advisories, and press releases—on the Peace Corps website.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/news> | Email: pressoffice@peacecorps.gov

Open Government

The Peace Corps supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/about/open-government>

Oversight

The Office of the Inspector General from the Peace Corps posts reports and data on Oversight.gov, a text-searchable repository of reports that Federal Inspectors General publish. The Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency operates and maintains the website to increase public access to independent and authoritative information on the Federal Government.

<https://oversight.gov/reports>

Recruitment Offices

Contact information for Peace Corps recruitment offices is available online.

<http://www.peacecorps.gov/recruiters/offices>

Social Media

The Peace Corps tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/peacecorps>

The Peace Corps has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/peacecorps>

The Peace Corps posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/peacecorps>

Stories

Peace Corps volunteers have stories to tell. Read and listen to them on the Peace Corps' website.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/stories>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation

The United States Government Manual

PENSION BENEFIT GUARANTY CORPORATION

1200 K Street NW., Washington, DC 20005

202-326-4000

800-400-7242

<http://www.pbgc.gov>

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

---

|                            |                  |
|----------------------------|------------------|
| CHAIR (Secretary of Labor) | Alexander Acosta |
|----------------------------|------------------|

|                                    |                |
|------------------------------------|----------------|
| Member (Secretary of the Treasury) | Steven Mnuchin |
|------------------------------------|----------------|

|                                |             |
|--------------------------------|-------------|
| Member (Secretary of Commerce) | Wilber Ross |
|--------------------------------|-------------|

OFFICIALS

|          |               |
|----------|---------------|
| DIRECTOR | Thomas Reeder |
|----------|---------------|

|                                |             |
|--------------------------------|-------------|
| Chief, Benefits Administration | David Foley |
|--------------------------------|-------------|

|               |                  |
|---------------|------------------|
| Chief Counsel | Israel Goldowitz |
|---------------|------------------|

|                         |                |
|-------------------------|----------------|
| Chief Financial Officer | Patricia Kelly |
|-------------------------|----------------|

|                           |                |
|---------------------------|----------------|
| Chief Information Officer | Robert Scherer |
|---------------------------|----------------|

|                          |                |
|--------------------------|----------------|
| Chief Investment Officer | John Greenberg |
|--------------------------|----------------|

|                          |              |
|--------------------------|--------------|
| Chief Management Officer | Alice Maroni |
|--------------------------|--------------|

|                                       |              |
|---------------------------------------|--------------|
| Chief, Negotiations and Restructuring | Karen Morris |
|---------------------------------------|--------------|

|                |         |
|----------------|---------|
| Chief of Staff | Ann Orr |
|----------------|---------|

|                      |           |
|----------------------|-----------|
| Chief Policy Officer | (vacancy) |
|----------------------|-----------|

|                                       |           |
|---------------------------------------|-----------|
| Deputy Chief, Benefits Administration | (vacancy) |
|---------------------------------------|-----------|

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
| Deputy Chief, Negotiations and Restructuring | (vacancy) |
|--|-----------|

|                             |             |
|-----------------------------|-------------|
| Deputy Chief Policy Officer | Michael Rae |
|-----------------------------|-------------|

|                        |              |
|------------------------|--------------|
| Deputy General Counsel | Philip Hertz |
|------------------------|--------------|

|                                |               |
|--------------------------------|---------------|
| Director, Department of Budget | Edgar Bennett |
|--------------------------------|---------------|

|   |                        |
|---|------------------------|
| Director, Department of Communications Outreach and Legislative Affairs | Martha Threatt, Acting |
|---|------------------------|

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Director, Department of Corporate Controls and Reviews | Martin Boehm |
|--|--------------|

|   |                    |
|---|--------------------|
| Director, Department of Corporate Finance and Restructuring | Adi Berger, Acting |
|---|--------------------|

|  |                 |
|--|-----------------|
| Director, Department of Financial Operations | Theodore Winter |
|--|-----------------|

|   |                      |
|---|----------------------|
| Director, Department of Human Resources                                   | Arrie Etheridge      |
| Director, Department of Information Technology and Business Modernization | Vidhya Shyamsunder   |
| Director, Department of Information Technology Infrastructure Operations  | Joshua Kossoy        |
| Director, Department of Policy Research and Analysis                      | Christopher Bone     |
| Director, Department of Procurement                                       | Steve Block          |
| Director, Department of Quality Management                                | Diane Braunstein     |
| Director, Department of Workplace Solutions                               | Alisa Cottone        |
| General Counsel   | Judith Starr         |
| Inspector General   | Robert A. Westbrooks |

The Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation protects the retirement incomes of American workers in private-sector defined benefit pension plans.

Organizational Chart

The Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC) is a self-financing, wholly owned Government corporation subject to the Government Corporation Control Act (31 U.S.C. 9101-9109). The Corporation, established by title IV of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (29 U.S.C. 1301-1461), operates in accordance with policies established by its Board of Directors.

The Board comprises the Secretaries of Labor, Commerce, and the Treasury. The Secretary of Labor serves as Chair of the Board. A seven-member advisory committee, comprising two labor, two employer, and three general public representatives whom the President appoints, advises the PBGC on investment issues. The President also appoints the PBGC's Director, whom the Senate then confirms.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/about/who-we-are.html>

ACTIVITIES

---

Coverage

The Corporation insures most private sector defined-benefit pension plans that provide a pension benefit based on factors such as age, years of service, and salary.

It administers two insurance programs, separately covering single-employer and multiemployer plans. More than 40 million workers and retirees participate in nearly 24,000 covered plans.

Single-Employer Insurance

Under the single-employer program, the Corporation guarantees payment of basic pension benefits if an insured plan terminates without sufficient assets to pay those benefits. The law limits, however, the total monthly benefit that the PBGC may guarantee for one individual to $5,011.36 per month for a 65-year-old individual in a pension plan that terminates in 2015. The law also sets other restrictions on PBGC's guarantee, including limits on the insured amount of recent benefit increases. In certain cases, the Corporation may pay some benefits above the guaranteed amount depending on the funding level of the plan and amounts recovered from employers.

A plan sponsor may terminate a single-employer plan in a standard termination if the plan has sufficient assets to purchase private annuities to cover all benefit liabilities. If a plan does not have sufficient assets, the sponsor may seek to transfer the pension liabilities to the PBGC by demonstrating that it meets the legal criteria for a distress termination. In either termination, the plan administrator must inform participants in writing at least 60 days prior to the date the administrator proposes to terminate the plan. Only a plan that has sufficient assets to pay all benefit liabilities may terminate in a standard termination. The Corporation also may institute termination of underfunded plans in certain specified circumstances.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/wr/benefits/guaranteed-benefits.html>

Multiemployer Insurance

Under title IV, as revised in 1980 by the Multiemployer Pension Plan Amendments Act (29 U.S.C. 1001 note), which changed the insurable event from plan termination to plan insolvency, the Corporation provides financial assistance to multiemployer plans that are unable to pay nonforfeitable benefits. The plans are obligated to repay such assistance. The act also made employers withdrawing from a plan liable to the plan for a portion of its unfunded vested benefits.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/prac/multiemployer.html>

Premium Collections

All defined-benefit pension plans insured by the PBGC are required to pay premiums to the Corporation according to rates set by Congress. The per-participant flat-rate premium for plans starting in 2015 is $57.00 for single-employer plans and $26.00 for multiemployer plans. Underfunded single-employer plans must also pay an additional premium equal to $24 per $1,000 of unfunded vested benefits. A termination premium of $1,250 per participant per year applies to certain distress and involuntary plan terminations, payable for 3 years after the termination.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/prac/prem/premium-rates.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Blog

The PBGC Web site features the "Retirement Matters" blog.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/about/who-we-are/retirement-matters>

Business Opportunities

The PBGC tries to give a fair share of its procurement awards and subcontracting opportunities to small businesses. The PBGC regularly procures accounting, actuarial, auditing, benefits administration, legal, and information technology services.

The agency utilizes various types of contract vehicles that are outlined in the "Federal Acquisition Regulation". These types of contract vehicles include agreements, commercial contracts, major contracts, orders against other Government contracts, and purchase orders.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/about/procurement.html>

Career Opportunities

The PBGC relies on accountants, actuaries, administrative personnel, analysts, attorneys, auditors, employee benefits law specialists, information technology experts, public affairs specialists, and other professionals to carry out its mission.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/about/jobs.html>

Fraud Alerts

The PBGC, with support from its Office of the Inspector General, posts fraud alerts to spread awareness of scams.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/wr/other/pg/fraud-alerts.html>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The PBGC participates in FOIAonline, which allows information seekers to submit electronic FOIA requests, to track the status of requests, to search for requests submitted by others, to access released records, and to generate agency-specific processing reports.

<https://foiaonline.regulations.gov/foia/action/public/home>

FOIA requests must be in writing and may be submitted also by email, fax, or by regular mail to the Disclosure Officer, Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation, 1200 K Street NW., Suite 11101, Washington, DC 20005. Fax, 202-326-4042.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/about/pg/footer/foia.html> | Email: disclosure@pbgc.gov

Glossary

The PBGC maintains a glossary of terms with simplified definitions. Some terms and their definitions are PBGC-specific in usage.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/about/pg/header/glossary.html>

Insured Pension Plans

A list of pension plans that recently paid premiums to the PBGC is available online.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/wr/find-an-insured-pension-plan/pbgc-protects-pensions.html>

Open Government

The PBGC posts datasets that are useful for increasing agency accountability, public knowledge of the agency and its operations, and economic opportunity.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/open/index.html> | Email: opengov@pbgc.gov

Plain Language

PBGC writers and editors are committed to using plain language in new communications and revising confusing or unclear language in existing material. Send them a note via email if a sentence or paragraph's clarity could be improved.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/about/pbgc-in-plain-english.html> | Email: webmaster@pbgc.gov

Press Room

The PBGC posts press releases on its Web site.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/news/press.html>

An online subscription form is available to sign up for the latest news, delivered via email, from the PBGC.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/about/stay-informed.html>

Site Map

PBGC Web site visitors may use the site map to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<http://www.pbgc.gov/pbgc-sitemap.html>

<http://www.pbgc.gov/about/pg/contact/contact.html>

For further information, contact the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation, 1200 K Street NW., Washington, DC 20005-4026. Phone, 202-326-4000 or 800-400-7242 .

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Postal Regulatory Commission

The United States Government Manual

POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION

901 New York Avenue NW., Suite 200, Washington, DC 20268-0001

202-789-6800

202-789-6861

<http://www.prc.gov>

CHAIR

Robert G. Taub

Vice Chair

Mark Acton

|   |                   |
|---|-------------------|
| Commissioner  | Nanci E. Langley  |
| Commissioner  | Tony Hammond      |
| Commissioner  | (vacancy)         |
| Director, Office of Accountability and Compliance           | Margaret Cigno    |
| Director, Office of Public Affairs and Government Relations | Ann Fisher        |
| Director, Office of Secretary and Administration            | Stacy L. Ruble    |
| General Counsel   | David A. Trissell |
| Inspector General   | John F. Callender |

[For the Postal Regulatory Commission statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 39, Part 3002]

The above list of key personnel was updated 06–2017.

The Postal Regulatory Commission develops and implements a modern system of postal rate regulation.

The Postal Regulatory Commission is the successor agency to the Postal Rate Commission, which was created by the Postal Reorganization Act, as amended (39 U.S.C. 101 et seq.). The Commission was established as an independent agency in the executive branch of Government by the Postal Accountability and Enhancement Act (39 U.S.C. 501). It comprises five Commissioners, appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate, one of whom is designated as Chair.

The Commission promulgates rules and regulations, establishes procedures, and takes other actions necessary to carry out its obligations. It considers complaints received from interested persons relating to United States Postal Service rates, regulations, and services. The Commission also has certain reporting obligations, including a report on universal postal service and the postal monopoly.

<http://www.prc.gov/about>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

Case Information

Active cases and daily listings are accessible online. A docket search tool is also available.

<http://www.prc.gov/dockets/active>
<http://www.prc.gov/dockets/daily>
<http://www.prc.gov/dockets/search> | Email: prc-dockets@prc.gov

Employment

The Commission relies on the professional services of accountants, attorneys, economists, industrial engineers, marketing specialists, statisticians, and administrative and clerical personnel to fulfill its mission.

<http://www.prc.gov/employment-opportunities>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

A FOIA request form is available online.

<http://www.prc.gov/foia/onlinerequest>

Newsroom

The Commission posts congressional submissions, papers, press releases, speeches, and upcoming events online.

<http://www.prc.gov/press-releases>

Reading Room

Facilities for inspection and copying of records, viewing automated daily lists of docketed materials, and accessing the Commission's Web site are located at 901 New York Avenue NW., Suite 200, Washington, DC. The room is open on weekdays, excluding legal holidays, 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m.

Practice / Procedure

Practice and procedure rules governing the conduct of proceedings before the Commission may be found in parts 3001, 3010, 3015, 3020, 3025, 3030, 3031, 3050, and 3060 of title 39 of the "Code of Federal Regulations."

<http://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=a34266c229a4a7b3c470845f8da08605&node=39:1.0.2.15.2&rgn=div5>
<http://www.prc.gov/offices/osa>

For further information, contact the Secretary, Postal Regulatory Commission, 901 New York Avenue NW., Suite 200, Washington, DC 20268-0001. Phone, 202-789-6840.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Railroad Retirement Board

The United States Government Manual

RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD

844 North Rush Street, Chicago, IL 60611-1275

312-751-4777

312-751-7154

<http://www.rrb.gov> | Email: opa@rrb.gov

BOARD

CHAIRMAN

Erhard R. Chorlé

MEMBERS

Labor

John Bragg

Management

Thomas R. Jayne

<https://www.rrb.gov/OurAgency/TheBoard>

BUREAUS

Actuary

CHIEF

Keith T. Sartain

<https://www.rrb.gov/OurAgency/BureauofActuary>

Field Service

DIRECTOR

(vacancy)

<https://www.rrb.gov/OurAgency/BureauofFieldService/Director>

Fiscal Operations

CHIEF

Shawna R. Weekley

DIVISIONS

Accounting and Budget

John Walter

Audit Affairs and Compliance

Timothy Hogueisson

Treasury, Debt Recovery and Financial Systems

(vacancy)

https://rrb.gov/OurAgency/bfo\_org

Information Services

---

CHIEF

Terryne F. Murphy

---

 DIVISIONS

---

Enterprise Applications

Francesco Restivo

Information Technology Strategy and Technology Management

Robert LaBerry

Infrastructure Services

(vacancy)

Policy and Compliance

Timothy Grant

<https://rrb.gov/OurAgency/BureauofInformationServices>

OFFICES

Administration

---

DIRECTOR

Daniel J. Fadden *

---

 COMPONENTS

---

Acquisition Management

Paul T. Ahern

Human Resources

Nancy L. Bitzer

Public Affairs

Michael P. Freeman

Real Property Management

Scott L. Rush

---

 * also serves as the Senior Executive Officer

---

<https://rrb.gov/OurAgency/OfficeofAdministration>

Equal Opportunity

---

DIRECTOR

Pamela M. Tate

<https://rrb.gov/OurAgency/OfficeofEqualOpportunity>

General Counsel

---

Ana M. Kocur

COMPONENTS

Hearings and Appeals

Spiridoula Mavrothalasitis

Law

Ana M. Kocur

Legislative Affairs

Beverly Britton-Fraser

Secretary to the Board

Stephanie Hillyard

<https://www.rrb.gov/OurAgency/OfficeofGeneralCounsel>

Programs

---

DIRECTOR

(vacancy)

COMPONENTS

Disability Benefits

Sherita P. Boots

Policy and Systems

Kimberly Price

Program Evaluation and Management Services

Janet M. Hallman

Retirement–Survivor Benefits

Valerie Allen

Unemployment and Programs Support

Micheal T. Pawlak

<https://rrb.gov/OurAgency/OfficeofPrograms>

Inspector General

---

Martin J. Dickman

<https://www.rrb.gov/OurAgency/InspectorGeneral/OIG>

The above list of key personnel was updated 5–2021.

The Railroad Retirement Board administers comprehensive retirement-survivor and unemployment-sickness benefit programs for the Nation's railroad workers and their families.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On June 27, 1934, President Franklin D. Roosevelt approved Public Law 73–485, which is commonly cited as the Railroad Retirement Act, "to provide a retirement system for railroad employees" (48 Stat. 1283).

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/73rd-congress/session-2/c73s2ch868.pdf>

President Roosevelt's approval "established as an independent agency in the executive branch of the Government a Railroad Retirement Board, to be composed of three members appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate" (48 Stat. 1287). One member of the Board, representatives of the railroad employees recommend for appointment; another member, representatives of the carriers (i.e., railroad employers) recommend for appointment. The Chair of the Board, neither representatives of the employees nor representatives of the carriers recommend. The Chair is a public member of the Board and cannot have a pecuniary or other interest in any employee organization or carrier.

The RRB's statement of organization has been assigned to part 200 in 20 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=3afc816f2022258c6f160753cdceb5a7&mc=true&node=pt20.1.200&rgn=div5

The RRB posts an "Organization Chart" on its website.

<https://www.rrb.gov/OurAgency/OrganizationChart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

The RRB derives statutory authority from the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act of 1938 (PL 75–772) and administers its provisions.

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/75th-congress/session-3/c75s3ch680.pdf>

The RRB also derives statutory authority from the Railroad Retirement Act of 1974 (PL 93–445) and administers its provisions.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-88/pdf/STATUTE-88-Pg1305.pdf>

The RRB participates in the administration of the Social Security Act and the Health Insurance for the Aged Act. Certain provisions of these two Acts affect railroad retirement beneficiaries.

Statutory material that emanates from the Railroad Retirement Acts of 1934, 1935, 1937, and 1974, has been codified and assigned to Chapter 9 of 45 U.S.C. Title 45 is dedicated to the subject of "Railroads."

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title45/chapter9&edition=prelim>

Statutory material that deals with railroad unemployment insurance is codified and has been assigned to Chapter 11 of 45 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title45/chapter11&edition=prelim>

Rules and regulations that are associated with the RRB are codified and have been assigned to Chapter II of 20 CFR. Chapter II includes parts 200–399.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=b110236db6c2db55807fc3d0edf12814&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title20/20chapterII.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The RRB's activities center on administering comprehensive retirement-survivor and unemployment-sickness benefit programs for the Nation's railroad workers and their families in accordance with the provisions of railroad retirement and railroad unemployment insurance laws. The RRB also administers certain benefit payments and Medicare coverage that the Social Security Act provides.

RRB field offices manage a placement service for unemployed railroad personnel.

<https://www.rrb.gov/OurAgency/AgencyOverview>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that RRB records have been assigned to record group 184.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/184.html>

Automatic Increases

The RRB posts automatic increases—cost of living adjustments and wage indexed amounts—that are associated with Medicare, the Railroad Retirement Act, and the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act on its website.

<https://www.rrb.gov/FinancialReporting/FinancialActuarialStatistical/EarningLimits/COLAs#medicare>

Benefits

The "Benefits" web page has sections on benefits that are associated with disability, Medicare, retirement, sickness, survivorship, and unemployment. The "Benefits" page also has secure service options for conducting personal business with the RRB online and information on Federal income taxes that are withheld from railroad retirement benefit payments.

<https://www.rrb.gov/Benefits>

Some information on benefits is available in Spanish.

<https://www.rrb.gov/Benefits/Espanol>

Career Opportunities

Contact the RRB's Bureau of Human Resources. Phone, 312-751-4580.

Email: recruit@rrb.gov

In 2019, the RRB ranked 18th among 28 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/RR00>

The RRB maintains a job vacancy list of openings that hiring railroad employers report. The list includes job postings that are not expected to be filled locally.

<https://www.rrb.gov/Resources/Jobs>

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page has an email directory and phone numbers.

<https://www.rrb.gov/ContactUs>

The RRB's Director of Public Affairs coordinates responses to inquiries from members of the media.

<https://www.rrb.gov/NewsRoom/MediaContact> | Email: opa@rrb.gov

Data

The RRB posts datasets on the website Data.gov.

<https://catalog.data.gov/organization/rrb-gov>

External Links

An extensive collection of links to Government, railroad industry, railroad union, and other websites is available on the RRB website.

<https://www.rrb.gov/ExternalLinks>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the RRB recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/railroad-retirement-board>

Field Offices

Field offices are located throughout the country. Staff members answer questions about Medicare and Social Security benefits for railroad workers and their families, retirement benefits, sickness and unemployment benefits, survivor benefits, and tax withholding and statements. A Zip Code locator is available online for finding the nearest field office.

<https://www.rrb.gov/Field-Office-Locator>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA requires the RRB to disclose records to which a person has requested access in writing. Note, however, that certain exemptions and exclusions that the statute contains shield certain records, or parts of them, from disclosure. The FOIA applies to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records that are held by the U.S. Congress, the courts, or by State or local government agencies.

<https://www.rrb.gov/FOIA>

Before submitting a formal FOIA request in writing, browse the electronic FOIA reading room or search specific documents that are part of its collection to confirm that the desired information is not immediately and freely available.

<https://www.rrb.gov/Resources/FOIA%20Reading%20Room> | Email: LAW@rrb.gov

Glossary

A glossary of RRB terms is available online.

<https://www.rrb.gov/Resources/GlossaryofRailroadRetirementTerms>

Hotline

The illegal receiving of RRB benefits or suspected misconduct affecting or involving the RRB, its programs, or its employees, should be reported to the Office of Inspector General.

<https://www.rrb.gov/OurAgency/InspectorGeneral/Hotline> | Email: hotline@oig.rrb.gov

News

The RRB posts news items on its website.

<https://www.rrb.gov/NewsRoom/NewsReleases>

Open Government

The USAGM supports the Open Government initiative by promoting collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.rrb.gov/OpenGov>

Publications

The "Publications" web page provides convenient access to the employer exchange newsletter, program and circular letters, and additional published information.

<https://www.rrb.gov/Employers/Publications>

Resources

RRB online resources include information on appeals, equal opportunity and civil rights, legal opinions and Board decisions, rules and regulations, and paying debts electronically. The "Resources" web page also provides convenient access to a glossary, reading room, retirement handbook, video library, and opportunities for railroad employment.

<https://www.rrb.gov/Resources>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.rrb.gov/sitemap>

The above Sources of Information were updated 5–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Securities and Exchange Commission

The United States Government Manual

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

100 F Street NE., Washington, DC 20549

202-551-7500

<http://www.sec.gov>

CHAIR

W. Jay Clayton

Commissioner

Michael S. Piowar

|  |                         |
|--|-------------------------|
| Commissioner   | Kara M. Stein           |
| Commissioner   | (vacancy)               |
| Commissioner   | (vacancy)               |
| DIVISION HEADS   |                         |
| Codirector, Enforcement                                | Stephanie Avakian       |
| Codirector, Enforcement                                | Steven Peikin           |
| Director, Corporation Finance                          | William Hinman          |
| Director, Economic and Risk Analysis / Chief Economist | Jeffrey Harris          |
| Director, Investment Management                        | Dalia Blass             |
| Director, Trading and Markets                          | Heather Siedel, Acting  |
| OFFICE HEADS   |                         |
| Associate Executive Director, Human Resources          | Lacey Dingman           |
| Chief Accountant                                       | Wesley Bricker          |
| Chief Administrative Law Judge                         | Brenda P. Murray        |
| Chief Financial Officer                                | Caryn Kauffman, Acting  |
| Chief FOIA Officer                                     | Barry D. Walters        |
| Chief Operating Officer                                | Kenneth Johnson, Acting |
| Chief Technology Officer                               | Pamela Dyson            |
| Director, Acquisitions                                 | Vance Cathell           |
| Director, Compliance Inspections and Examinations      | Peter Driscoll, Acting  |
| Director, Credit Ratings                               | Thomas Butler           |
| Director, Equal Employment Opportunity                 | Peter Henry, Acting     |

|   |                  |
|---|------------------|
| Director, International Affairs                     | Paul Leder       |
| Director, Investor Education and Advocacy           | Lori J. Schock   |
| Director, Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs | Keith Cassidy    |
| Director, Minority and Women Inclusion              | Pamela Gibbs     |
| Director, Municipal Securities                      | Jessica Kane     |
| Director, Public Affairs                            | John Nester      |
| Director, Strategic Initiatives                     | Mark Ambrose     |
| Director, Support Operations                        | Barry D. Walters |
| Ethics Counsel                                      | Shira P. Minton  |
| General Counsel                                     | Robert Stebbins  |
| Inspector General                                   | Carl W. Hoecker  |
| Investor Advocate                                   | Rick A. Fleming  |
| Secretary   | Brent J. Fields  |

[For the Securities and Exchange Commission statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 17, Part 200]

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

The Securities and Exchange Commission protects investors, facilitates capital formation, and maintains efficient, fair, and orderly markets.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) was created under authority of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78a-78jj) and was organized on July 2, 1934. The Commission serves as adviser to United States district courts in reorganization proceedings for debtor corporations in which a substantial public interest is involved. The Commission also has certain responsibilities under section 15 of the Bretton Woods Agreements Act of 1945 (22 U.S.C. 286k-1) and section 851(e) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. 851(e)).

<https://www.sec.gov/about/laws.shtml>

The Commission is vested with quasi-judicial functions. Persons aggrieved by its decisions in the exercise of those functions have a right of review by the United States courts of appeals.

ACTIVITIES

---

Full and Fair Disclosure

The Securities Act of 1933 (15 U.S.C. 77a) requires issuers of securities and their controlling persons making public offerings of securities in interstate commerce or via mail to file registration statements containing financial and other pertinent data about the issuer and the securities being offered with the SEC. There are limited exemptions, such as government securities, nonpublic offerings, and intrastate offerings, as well as certain offerings not exceeding $1.5 million. The effectiveness of a registration statement may be refused or suspended after a public hearing if the statement contains material misstatements or omissions, thus barring sale of the securities until it is appropriately amended.

Regulation of Investment Advisers

Persons who, for compensation, engage in the business of advising others with respect to securities must register with the Commission. The Commission is authorized to define what practices are considered fraudulent or deceptive and to prescribe means to prevent those practices.

Regulation of Mutual Funds and Other Investment Companies

The Commission registers investment companies and regulates their activities to protect investors. The regulation covers sales load, management contracts, composition of boards of directors, and capital structure. The Commission must also determine the fairness of various transactions of investment companies before they actually occur.

The Commission may institute court action to enjoin the consummation of mergers and other plans of reorganization of investment companies if such plans are unfair to securities holders. It may impose sanctions by administrative proceedings against investment company management for violations of the act and other Federal securities laws. It also may file court actions to enjoin acts and practices of management officials involving breaches of fiduciary duty and personal misconduct and to disqualify such officials from office.

Regulation of Securities Markets

The Securities Exchange Act of 1934 assigns to the Commission broad regulatory responsibilities over the securities markets, the self-regulatory organizations within the securities industry, and persons conducting a business in securities. Persons who execute transactions in securities generally are required to register with the Commission as broker-dealers. Securities exchanges and certain clearing agencies are required to register with the Commission, and associations of brokers or dealers are permitted to register with the Commission. The act also provides for the establishment of the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board to formulate rules for the municipal securities industry.

The Commission oversees the self-regulatory activities of the national securities exchanges and associations, registered clearing agencies, and the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board. In addition, the Commission regulates industry professionals, such as securities brokers and dealers, certain municipal securities professionals, Government securities brokers and dealers, and transfer agents.

Rehabilitation of Failing Corporations

In cases of corporate reorganization proceedings administered in Federal courts, the Commission may participate as a statutory party. The principal functions of the Commission are to protect the interests of public investors involved in such cases through efforts to ensure their adequate representation and to participate in legal and policy issues that are of concern to public investors generally.

Representation of Debt Securities Holders

The Commission safeguards the interests of purchasers of publicly offered debt securities issued pursuant to trust indentures.

Enforcement Activities

The Commission's enforcement activities are designed to secure compliance with the Federal securities laws administered by the Commission and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder. These activities include measures to do the following: compel compliance with the disclosure requirements of the registration and other provisions of the relevant acts; prevent fraud and deception in the purchase and sale of securities; obtain court orders enjoining acts and practices that operate as a fraud upon investors or otherwise violate the laws; suspend or revoke the registrations of brokers, dealers, investment companies, and investment advisers who willfully engage in such acts and practices; suspend or bar from association persons associated with brokers, dealers, investment companies, and investment advisers who have violated any provision of the Federal securities laws; and prosecute persons who have engaged in fraudulent activities or other willful violations of those laws.

In addition, attorneys, accountants, and other professionals who violate the securities laws face possible loss of their privilege to practice before the Commission.

To this end, private investigations are conducted into complaints or other indications of securities violations. Established evidence of law violations is used in appropriate administrative proceedings to revoke registration or in actions instituted in Federal courts to restrain or enjoin such activities. Where the evidence tends to establish criminal fraud or other willful violation of the securities laws, the facts are referred to the Attorney General for criminal prosecution of the offenders. The Commission may assist in such prosecutions.

<https://www.sec.gov/litigation.shtml>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

The Office of Acquisitions' web page features links to help those who seek business opportunities with the SEC. Phone, 202-551-7300.

<https://www.sec.gov/oacq>

Career Opportunities

The SEC relies on accountants, attorneys, economists, examiners, industry specialists, information technology specialists, and other professionals to carry out its mission. Applicants must apply for a specific vacancy and complete a process of competitive selection. This process does not apply, however, to attorney vacancies. The Commission runs a college and law school recruitment program that relies on campus visits and student interviews.

<http://www.sec.gov/careers>

For more information, contact the Office of Human Resources. Phone, 202-551-7500. Fax, 202-777-1028.

<https://www.sec.gov/ohr>

Electronic Data Gathering, Analysis, and Retrieval (EDGAR)

The EDGAR database provides free public access to corporate information such as prospectuses, registration statements, and quarterly and annual reports.

<https://www.sec.gov/edgar.shtml>

Events

A schedule of upcoming SEC meetings, public appearances by SEC officials, and public hearings is available online.

<http://www.sec.gov/about/upcoming-events.htm>

Fast Answers

The SEC maintains a list of the terms for which SEC website visitors search most frequently.

<https://www.sec.gov/fast-answers>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The Office of Freedom of Information Act Services makes SEC records available to the public to the greatest extent possible under the FOIA. The Office receives nearly 17,000 requests per year for Commission documents and records. For more information, contact the FOIA public service center. Phone, 202-551-7900. Fax, 202-772-9337.

<https://www.sec.gov/page/foia>

Many records—no-action and interpretive letters, public comments on proposed rules, registration statements and reports filed by regulated companies and individuals, SEC decisions and releases, and staff manuals—can be read and printed for free by using the SEC online search feature. An electronic request form is available for obtaining nonpublic records: consumer complaints, records compiled in investigations, and staff comment letters. The SEC will release nonpublic records, except when they are protected by a FOIA exemption. The electronic request form may be used also for obtaining older records that the SEC has not posted on its website—records usually dated before 1996.

https://tts.sec.gov/cgi-bin/request\_public\_docs

Glossary

The Office of Investor Education and Advocacy maintains an online glossary.

<https://investor.gov/glossary>

Investment Adviser Public Disclosure

The SEC provides an online tool to search for an investment adviser firm and to view the registration or reporting form (Form ADV) that the adviser filed. The tool also allows an investor to search for an individual investment adviser representative and to view his or her professional background and conduct.

<http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/default.aspx#>

Investor Education

The Office of Investor Education and Advocacy offers services to and provides tools for investors. The Office cannot tell an investor how or where to invest money, but it can help him or her invest knowledgeably and avoid fraud. Phone, 800-732-0330. Fax, 202-772-9295.

<https://www.investor.gov> | Email: help@sec.gov

The Office of Investor Education and Advocacy tweets on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/SEC\_Investor\_Ed

The SEC maintains a list of external educational websites.

<https://www.sec.gov/investor/links.shtml>

The SEC maintains a list of investor calculators and tools that are available on external websites.

<https://www.sec.gov/investor/tools.shtml>

Links

The SEC web page "Other Links" contains links to other websites—government and nongovernment—that may be of interest to Internet visitors.

<https://www.sec.gov/links>

Newsroom

The SEC posts press releases, public statements, speeches, testimonies, and webcasts on its website. A subscription form is available online to receive news alerts via email.

<https://www.sec.gov/news> | Email: news@sec.gov

Open Government

The SEC supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.sec.gov/open> | Email: opengov@sec.gov

Organizational Chart

The SEC's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.sec.gov/images/secorg.pdf>

A text version of the SEC's organizational chart also is available.

<https://www.sec.gov/about/orgtext.htm>

Plain Language

Like other Federal agencies, the SEC must compose documents in plain writing. According to the Plain Writing Act of 2010, writing should be "clear, concise, well-organized" and follow "other best practices appropriate to the subject or field or audience." SEC writers and editors want to know if agency documents and web pages are difficult to understand. Contact them by email to leave a comment or make a suggestion.

<https://www.sec.gov/plainwriting.shtml> | Email: PlainWriting@sec.gov

Publications

SEC publications are available in Chinese, English, and Spanish in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.investor.gov/publications-research-studies/publications>

Regional Offices

Regional offices can provide investors with information and assist them with complaints. Contact information for the SEC's 11 regional offices is available online.

<https://www.sec.gov/page/sec-regional-offices>

RSS Feeds

RSS feeds are an online resource for keeping abreast of the most recent materials posted to the SEC website.

<https://www.sec.gov/about/secrss.shtml>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.sec.gov/sitemap.shtml>

Small Business Activities

Information for small businesses—information on legal obligations when they sell securities and on financial and other reporting obligations when their securities are traded publicly—is available online. Contact the Office of Small Business Policy for more information. Phone, 202-551-3460.

<http://www.sec.gov/info/smallbus.shtml>

Social Media

The SEC maintains a presence on Flickr, LinkedIn, Pinterest, Twitter, and YouTube.

https://www.sec.gov/opa/social\_media.html

Tips / Complaints

Members of the public can inform the SEC of possible violations of U.S. securities laws by completing the online questionnaire.

<https://www.sec.gov/complaint.shtml>

Votes

The final votes of SEC Commissioners on decisions, orders, rules and similar actions are posted online.

<https://www.sec.gov/about/commission-votes.shtml>

<https://www.sec.gov/contact.shtml>

For further information, contact the Office of Public Affairs, Securities and Exchange Commission, 100 F Street NE., Washington, DC 20549. Phone, 202-551-4120. Fax, 202-777-1026.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Selective Service System

The United States Government Manual

SELECTIVE SERVICE SYSTEM

National Headquarters, Arlington, VA 22209-2425

703-605-4100

<http://www.sss.gov>

National Headquarters—Arlington, VA

---

|          |                  |
|----------|------------------|
| DIRECTOR | Donald M. Benton |
|----------|------------------|

|                 |                  |
|-----------------|------------------|
| Deputy Director | John P. Prigmore |
|-----------------|------------------|

CHIEF OFFICERS

|           |                     |
|-----------|---------------------|
| Financial | Roderick R. Hubbard |
|-----------|---------------------|

|                      |               |
|----------------------|---------------|
| Information Security | Anthony Clark |
|----------------------|---------------|

|                |                 |
|----------------|-----------------|
| Chief of Staff | Wadi A. Yakhour |
|----------------|-----------------|

|                 |                      |
|-----------------|----------------------|
| General Counsel | Rudy G. Sanchez, Jr. |
|-----------------|----------------------|

<https://www.sss.gov/About/Directors-Biography>

ASSOCIATE DIRECTORS

|                        |               |
|------------------------|---------------|
| Information Technology | Anthony Clark |
|------------------------|---------------|

|            |                |
|------------|----------------|
| Operations | Craig T. Brown |
|------------|----------------|

|                                      |                     |
|--------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Public and Intergovernmental Affairs | Matthew H. Tittmann |
|--------------------------------------|---------------------|

|                  |                     |
|------------------|---------------------|
| Support Services | Roderick R. Hubbard |
|------------------|---------------------|

Data Management Center—Palatine, IL

|         |                  |
|---------|------------------|
| Manager | Nicole F. Harris |
|---------|------------------|

Regional Headquarters

DIRECTORS

|                            |                  |
|----------------------------|------------------|
| Region I—North Chicago, IL | Thomas J. Kenney |
|----------------------------|------------------|

|                        |                 |
|------------------------|-----------------|
| Region II—Marietta, GA | Carlos M. Perez |
|------------------------|-----------------|

|                       |                |
|-----------------------|----------------|
| Region III—Denver, CO | John J. Wilber |
|-----------------------|----------------|

<https://www.sss.gov/About>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2019.

The Selective Service System supplies the Armed Forces with manpower in an emergency and operates an Alternative Service Program for men classified as conscientious objectors.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On June 24, President Harry Truman approved the Selective Service Act of 1948, which established the Selective Service System.

https://www.loc.gov/rr/frd/Military\_Law/Morgan-Papers/Vol-I\_PL-759.pdf

The SSS is an independent agency within the executive branch. The President appoints the Director, who is directly responsible to the President. The agency is not part of the Department of Defense. The agency's statement of organization is found in the Code of Federal Regulations (32 CFR 1605).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/CFR-2018-title32-vol6/pdf/CFR-2018-title32-vol6-part1605.pdf>

By the enactment of a later amendment, the original Act became known as the Military Selective Service Act (50 U.S.C. 3801 et seq.). It requires the registration of male U.S. citizens and other male persons who are in the United States. The Act exempts members of the active Armed Forces and nonimmigrant aliens.

<https://www.sss.gov/About/Agency-Mission/Military-Selective-Service-Act>

From 1948 until 1973, men were drafted to fill Armed Forces vacancies that could not be filled through voluntary means. When the authority of induction expired in 1973, the SSS continued and maintained readiness to support the all-volunteer force in case an emergency should require Congress to authorize a resumption of inductions. Registration was suspended early in 1975, and the SSS assumed a standby posture. Beginning in late 1979, efforts were made to upgrade the System's capability for rapid mobilization in an emergency. In the summer of 1980, the registration requirement was reinstated.

<https://www.sss.gov/About/History-And-Records/Background-Of-Selective-Service>

Proclamation 4771 of July 20, 1980 (45 FR 45247), requires, unless exempted by the Military Selective Service Act, male citizens and other males residing in the country born on or after January 1, 1960, and who have attained age 18, but have not attained age 26, to register. A young man may register at a post office within the United States and at a U.S. Embassy or consulate outside the United States. Today, registering online at the SSS's website is also possible.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1980-07-03/pdf/FR-1980-07-03.pdf#page=1>

ACTIVITIES

---

The Selective Service System (SSS) is a proven way to expand the U.S. Armed Forces in a national emergency. The SSS operates at low cost; it ensures that a future draft will be fair and equitable; and it can respond to the Nation's needs for manpower in a timely manner. Registration is the only mission component that is publicly visible during peacetime; however, readiness to respond is crucial. It fosters timeliness, fairness, and the equity that is expected of the agency if it is directed to reestablish conscription.

The Military Selective Service Act imposes liability for training and service in the Armed Forces upon registrants who are ages 18–26, except those who are exempt or deferred. Persons who have been deferred remain liable for training and service until age 35. Aliens are not liable for training and service until they have remained in the United States for more than 1 year. Conscientious objectors who are opposed to all service in the Armed Forces are required to perform civilian work in lieu of induction into the Armed Forces.

<https://www.sss.gov/About>

Readiness

The SSS maintains readiness to manage a conscription program for the U.S. Armed Forces if authorized by Congress and directed by the President. The agency must be ready to execute a national draft lottery, to issue induction orders to those registrants who are selected through the lottery, and to arrange transportation to relocate them to a military entrance processing station for testing and evaluation before induction into military service. The agency also must maintain the ability to operate an alternative service program for the men who request and are granted conscientious objector status.

Three regional headquarters keep the agency connected with its hundreds of part-time employees and thousands of volunteers throughout the country and U.S. Territories. The regional headquarters maintain the SSS's readiness at the grassroots level. They manage the activities of the agency's 56 State directors; conduct training for them, regional field offices, and civilian board members; and ensure that the local and district appeals boards have sufficient numbers of people serving on them. They also directly support the agency's goal of increasing registration compliance through local registration awareness programs.

The board member program relies on uncompensated civilian volunteers who serve as local, district, and national appeals board members. The SSS trains board members to prepare them for adjudicating claims filed by registrants seeking postponements, exemptions, and deferments in accordance with the Military Selective Service Act, the Code of Federal Regulations, and other policies and procedures. Readiness training, operational planning, and policies for the agency are continually updated to reflect changes that may be occurring in real-time.

Registration

Registration is a critical component of readiness. The agency is responsible for providing trained and untrained manpower to the Department of Defense in the event of a national emergency. If conscription becomes necessary, the maximum number of eligible men must be registered to assure the public of a fair and equitable lottery and induction process. By registering, male citizens comply with Federal law and remain eligible for student financial aid, job training, and Government employment opportunities. Immigrant men protect their eligibility for U.S. citizenship by being registered.

Data Management Center employees process registrations and operate the agency's database system. If directed by Congress and the President, the SSS's registration database would be used to facilitate the induction of men into the U.S. Armed Forces. The agency's database is constantly maintained to ensure accuracy, accessibility, and network security.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Alternative Service

The "Alternative Service Program" brochure is available online.

<https://www.sss.gov/Portals/0/PDFs/ASP%20Brochure%20-%20Web.pdf>

Annual Reports

The SSS posts its annual reports to the U.S. Congress online.

<https://www.sss.gov/Reports/Annual-Report-to-Congress>

Career Opportunities

The Selective Service System offers competitive wages, the Thrift Savings Plan with matching funds, health care benefits, paid vacation time, and work-life benefit options that include telework, as well as alternate and flexible work schedules for most positions.

<https://www.sss.gov/Careers>

In 2018, the SSS ranked 26th among 29 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/SS00>

Contact Information

The SSS posts helpful email addresses and phone numbers for contacting the agency.

<https://www.sss.gov/About/ContactInformation> | Email: information@sss.gov

Facts / Figures

Quick facts and figures are available online.

<https://www.sss.gov/About/Quick-Facts-and-Figures>

Forms

Frequently requested forms are available online.

<https://www.sss.gov/Forms>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The law gives a right to obtain access to Federal agency records to any person, except a fugitive from the law. Some records, or portions of them, are, however, shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine statutory exemptions or by specific harm that disclosure may cause.

<https://www.sss.gov/Reports/FOIA>

The electronic reading room contains documents that the SSS has posted proactively. Before making a FOIA request, search the electronic reading room for relevant records that may be accessible without a formal FOIA request.

<https://www.sss.gov/Reports/FOIA/FOIA-Electronic-Reading-Room>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The SSS posts answers to FAQs.

<https://www.sss.gov/QA>

Newsletter

The SSS posts its quarterly newsletter "The Register" online.

<https://www.sss.gov/Public-Affairs/The-Register-Newsletter>

Noncitizens / Dual Nationals

U.S. noncitizens and dual nationals are required by law to register with the SSS. More information is available on the "Non-Citizens and Dual Nationals" web page.

<https://www.sss.gov/About/History-And-Records/Non-Citizens-and-Dual-Nationals>

Performance / Accountability

The agency's performance and accountability reports are available online.

<https://www.sss.gov/Reports/Financial-Reports/Performance-Accountability-Report>

Plain Language

The Selective Service System adheres to Federal plain language guidelines. If a document or web page contains poorly written prose or is difficult to understand, contact the agency by email.

<https://www.sss.gov/Reports-and-Notices/Plain-Language> | Email: Information@sss.gov

Registration

Men, age 18–25, with a valid social security number, may register online using an electronic form. A fillable registration form that can be returned by mail is also available for immigrant males (documented or undocumented), for men who cannot use the online registration form because of a faulty social security number, and for men without a social security number.

<https://www.sss.gov/Home/Registration>

Registration resources that have been adapted for various audiences and made suitable for blogs, websites, and electronic and print newsletters, are available on the agency's website.

<https://www.sss.gov/Resources/Resources>

Return to the Draft

Learn how the SSS would conduct a return to the draft.

<https://www.sss.gov/About/Events-after-Draft>

Social Media

The SSS has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/SSSregistration?ref=ts&fref=ts>

The SSS tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/SSS\_gov

The SSS posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/SelectiveServ?feature=watch>

Women

Women are not required to register with the SSS. To learn the reasons for their exemption, visit the "Women and the Draft" web page.

<https://www.sss.gov/Registration/Women-And-Draft>

The Sources of Information were updated 7–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Small Business Administration

The United States Government Manual

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

409 Third Street SW., Washington, DC 20416

202-205-6600

202-205-7064

<http://www.sba.gov>

SBA Headquarters

|   |                                     |
|---|-------------------------------------|
| ADMINISTRATOR   | Christopher M. Pilkerton,Acting |
| Deputy Administrator  | (vacancy)                           |
| Chief Counsel   | Major Clark, Acting                 |
| Senior Advisor  | Patricia Gibson                     |
| https://www.sba.gov/person/chris-pilkerton |                                     |
| ASSOCIATE ADMINISTRATORS  |                                     |
| Capital Access  | William Manger                      |
| Communications and Public Liaison   | Jimmy F. Billimoria                 |
| Congressional and Legislative Affairs   | Michael Hershey                     |
| Disaster Assistance   | James Rivera                        |
| Entrepreneurial Development   | Allen Gutierrez                     |
| Field Operations  | Michael Vallante, Acting            |
| Government Contracting and Business Development   | Robb Wong                           |
| International Trade   | David M. Glaccum                    |
| Investment and Innovation   | Joseph Shepard                      |
| Small Business Development Centers  | George Koklanaris                   |
| Veterans Business Development   | Larry Stubblefield                  |
| ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATOR   |                                     |
| Hearings and Appeals  | Delorice Price Ford                 |
| CHIEF OFFICERS  |                                     |
| Financial   | Dorrice Roth                        |
| Information   | Maria A. Roat                       |

|                    |                          |
|--------------------|--------------------------|
| Operating          | (vacancy)                |
| General Counsel    | Christopher M. Pilkerton |
| National Ombudsman | Stefanie Wehagen         |

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/organization/sba-leadership>

Regional Administrators

REGIONS

|      |                    |
|------|--------------------|
| I    | Wendell G. Davis   |
| II   | Steve Bulger       |
| III  | Michelle Christian |
| IV   | Ashley Daniel Bell |
| V    | Robert Scott       |
| VI   | Justin Crossie     |
| VII  | Thomas Salisbury   |
| VIII | Daniel Nordberg    |
| IX   | Michael Vallante   |
| X    | Jeremy Field       |

<https://www.sba.gov/local-assistance/find/?type=SBA%20Regional%20Office&pageNumber=1>

Office of Inspector General

|                   |              |
|-------------------|--------------|
| Inspector General | H. Mike Ware |
|-------------------|--------------|

<https://www.sba.gov/content/hannibal-mike-ware>

The above list of key personnel was updated 6–2019.

The Small Business Administration aids, assists, and counsels entrepreneurs and protects their business interests; preserves free and competitive enterprise; and maintains and strengthens the overall economy.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On July 30, 1953, President Dwight D. Eisenhower approved Public Law 83–163, which is also cited as the "Small Business Act of 1953." This Act created the Small Business Administration (SBA), whose present existence and authority are derived from the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 631 et seq.) and the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 (15 U.S.C. 661).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-67/pdf/STATUTE-67-Pg230.pdf>

For the SBA statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 13, Part 101.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=d38ae405ec8120025c2a65388e249f57&mc=true&node=pt13.1.101&rgn=div5

The SBA included an organizational chart in its "Agency Financial Report—Fiscal Year 2018" on page 12.

<https://www.sba.gov/sites/default/files/2018-11/SBA%20FY%202018%20AFR.pdf>

ACTIVITIES

---

Advocacy

The Office of Advocacy (OA) promotes the views and elevates the concerns of small business before Congress, White House officials, representatives of Federal agencies, Federal court judges, and policymakers on the State level. Within the Federal government, the OA speaks independently on behalf of small business and is the source of small business statistics. The OA also has watchdog responsibilities, ensuring that small business receives the support and consideration that the "Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980" (Public Law 96–354), as amended, provides.

<https://advocacy.sba.gov> | Email: advocacy@sba.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Advocacy. Phone, 202-205-6533.

Bonding for Contractors

The Surety Bond Guarantee program helps small and emerging contractors obtain the bonding necessary for bidding on and receiving non-Federal contracts up to $6.5 million and Federal contracts up to $10 million. The SBA guarantees bonds that participating surety companies issue and reimburses between 70–90 percent of losses and expenses incurred should a business default on the contract. Construction, service, and supply contractors are eligible for the program if they meet certain standards.

<https://www.sba.gov/funding-programs/surety-bonds>

For further information, contact the Office of Surety Guarantees. Phone, 202-205-6540.

Business Development

The Office of Business Development (OBD) oversees the 8(a) Business Development program. The Office assists with contracts and loans, counsels, expands access to capital and credit, gives technical guidance, and offers training workshops. Eligible 8(a) program participants may receive Federal surplus property on a priority basis. One of the OBD's principal development tools is the Mentor-Protégé program, which allows participants to benefit from business development assistance provided by successful companies.

<https://www.sba.gov/offices/headquarters/obd/resources>

For further information, contact the Office of Business Development. Phone, 202-205-5852.

Capital Access

The Office of the Associate Administrator for Capital Access increases the availability of capital through banks and other lending partners. It oversees SBA programs that help small businesses gain access to capital. These programs include the 7(a) general business guarantee, 504 Certified Development Company, SBA surety bond guarantee, and microlending.

<https://www.sba.gov/offices/headquarters/oca>

For further information, contact the Office of Capital Access. Phone, 202-205-6657.

Disaster Assistance

The SBA serves as the Federal disaster bank for nonfarm, private sector losses. It lends money to disaster survivors for repairing or replacing their most damaged property. The agency makes direct loans with subsidized interest rates to individuals, homeowners, businesses of all sizes, and nonprofit organizations.

<https://www.sba.gov/content/disaster-assistance> | Email: disastercustomerservice@sba.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Disaster Assistance. Phone, 202-205-6734.

Field Operations

The Office of Field Operations is responsible for the provision of SBA services and availability of its products: It serves as the critical link between SBA policymakers and businessmen and women who operate small businesses. The Office provides policy guidance and oversight to regional administrators and district directors for achieving agency goals and objectives and for solving problems in specific operational areas. It plays a liaison role and expedites issues for the regional and district offices when dealing with the central office, coordinating the presentation of views from the field. It also establishes and monitors district performance goals and organizes reviews of the field offices.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-locations>

For further information, contact the Office of Field Operations. Phone, 202-205-6808.

Financial Assistance

The SBA does not lend money directly to owners of small businesses, but it supports lenders in their efforts to make loans to them. The SBA sets guidelines for loans made by lending partners, community development organizations, and micro-lending institutions. The SBA reduces the risk of lending and makes it easier for lenders to access capital, which allows owners and operators of small business to receive loans more easily. The SBA gives its guarantee to lending institutions and certified development companies that make loans to small businesses. Small businesses use the borrowed money for working capital and financing the acquisition of land and buildings, for constructing new and improving existing facilities, and for purchasing equipment and machinery.

<https://www.sba.gov/funding-programs/loans>

For further information, contact the nearest Small Business Administration district office.

Government Contracting

Through various programs and services, the SBA assists small businesses—including HUBZone certified firms and disadvantaged, women-owned, and service-disabled veteran-owned small businesses—with receiving Government procurement. The contracting liaison helps small-scale entrepreneurs secure an equitable share of the natural resources that the Federal Government sells. The Administration also works with the Office of Management and Budget and other Federal agencies to establish policy and regulations affecting small business access to Government contracts.

<https://www.sba.gov/category/navigation-structure/contracting>

For further information, contact the nearest Office of Government Contracting. Phone, 202-205-6460.

Historically Underutilized Business Zone Development

The Historically Underutilized Business Zone (HUBZone) program was part of the Small Business Reauthorization Act of 1997. The program fosters economic development and employment in HUBZones, which include Indian reservations, through the establishment of preferences. The program provides greater access to Federal contracting opportunities for qualified businesses. The SBA regulates and implements the program, determining which businesses are eligible to receive contracts, maintaining a list of qualified businesses that Federal agencies may use for locating vendors, adjudicating protests of eligibility, and reporting to the Congress on the program's effect on employment and investment.

<https://www.sba.gov/content/understanding-hubzone-program> | Email: HUBZone@sba.gov

For further information, contact the HUBZone Help Desk. Phone, 202-205-8885.

International Trade

The Office of International Trade (OIT) makes American small businesses more competitive worldwide by developing international trade opportunities for them. It collaborates with other Federal agencies and with public and private sector groups to promote the exports of small businesses and to help entrepreneurs who seek export opportunities. Through 21 U.S. Export Assistance Centers, SBA district offices, and service-provider partners, the OIT coordinates and directs the Administration's export initiatives.

<https://www.sba.gov/offices/headquarters/oit>

For further information, contact the Office of International Trade. Phone, 202-205-6720.

Local Assistance

The SBA supports business centers for women (WBCs), business outreach centers for veterans (VBOCs), small-business development centers (SBDCs), and the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE). These programs and others help the SBA further its reach beyond the regional, to the local level.

<https://www.sba.gov/local-assistance>

For further information, contact the Small Business Administration. Phone, 202-205-6600.

Native American Affairs

The Office of Native American Affairs assists and encourages the creation, development, and expansion of small businesses that Native Americans own. It develops and implements initiatives designed to address specific business challenges encountered by Native American entrepreneurs.

<https://www.sba.gov/offices/headquarters/naa>

For further information, contact the Office of Native American Affairs. Phone, 202-205-7364.

Regulatory Fairness

Congress established the National Ombudsman and 10 Regulatory Fairness (RegFair) Boards in 1996 as part of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act. The National Ombudsman assists owners of small businesses when they experience excessive or unfair Federal regulatory enforcement action. The National Ombudsman receives comments from small businesses and acts as a liaison between them and Federal agencies. These comments are forwarded to the appropriate Federal agencies for review and consideration of the fairness of the enforcement actions. The National Ombudsman sends a copy of an agency's response to the business owner. In some cases, fines are reduced or eliminated and decisions changed in favor of the owner.

Each of the RegFair Boards comprises five volunteer members who are owners, operators, or officers of small enterprises. The SBA Administrator appoints board members for 3-year terms. Each RegFair Board meets at least annually with the Ombudsman, reports to the Ombudsman on substantiated instances of excessive or unfair enforcement, and comments on the annual report to Congress prior to its publication.

<https://www.sba.gov/ombudsman> | Email: ombudsman@sba.gov

For further information, contact the Office of the National Ombudsman. Phone, 888-734-3247.

Research Investment / Technology Transfer

The Office of Investment and Innovation manages the Small Business Investment Research (SBIR) and Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) programs. Together, they provide billions of dollars each year for small enterprises to participate in federally funded research and development and to cooperate with Government agencies and research institutions and universities. The SBIR and STTR programs stimulate the creation of intellectual property with potential for commercialization and with applications in a broad range of sectors in the Nation's economy.

<https://www.sba.gov/offices/headquarters/ooi/about-us>

For further information, contact the Office of Investment and Innovation. Phone, 202-205-6510.

Small Business Development

The Office of Small Business Development Centers funds, oversees, and supports the nationwide Small Business Development Center (SBDC ) network. The SBDC program provides one-stop management assistance to current and prospective owners of small businesses in central and easily accessible branch locations. The program relies on the cooperation of the private sector, the educational community, and Federal, State, and local governments.

The SBDC program delivers up-to-date counseling, technical help, and training in all aspects of managing a small business. Its services include assistance with feasibility studies and with engineering, financial, marketing, organization, production, and technical challenges. SBDC activities include international trade assistance, procurement assistance, rural development, venture capital information, and technical assistance.

<https://www.sba.gov/offices/headquarters/osbdc>

For further information, contact the Office of Small Business Development Centers. Phone, 202-205-6766.

Venture Capital

The Small Business Investment Company (SBIC) program was created in 1958 to connect venture capital with the needs of startups and expanding small businesses. SBICs are privately owned and managed venture capital funds, which the SBA licenses and regulates. They use their own capital, combined with SBA guaranteed funds, to make equity and debt investments in qualifying small businesses. Fund managers may invest up to 75 percent of total capital in small businesses that have no more than 49 percent of their employees overseas, a tangible net worth of between $6 and $19.5 million, and an aftertax income averaged over the previous 2 years of between $2 and $6.5 million. At least 25 percent of the fund's total capital must be invested in smaller U.S. enterprises that have no more than 49 percent of their employees overseas, a tangible net worth of less than $6 million, and an aftertax income averaged over the previous 2 years of less than $2 million.

<https://www.sba.gov/partners/sbics/apply-be-sbic#section-header-6> | Email: askSBIC@sba.gov

For further information, contact the Investment Division. Phone, 202-205-6510.

Veterans Business Development

The Office of Veterans Business Development (OVBD) formulates, executes, and advances policies and programs that provide assistance to small businesses that veterans own and control. Exclusively promoting veteran entrepreneurship, the OVBD helps veterans, service-disabled veterans, reservists, active-duty servicemembers, transitioning servicemembers, and their dependents or survivors, to avail themselves of all SBA programs and their benefits. The OVBD is involved in each SBA program, ensuring that veterans receive special consideration in each program's operation. The Veterans Business Outreach Program is an OVBD initiative that oversees Veterans Business Outreach Centers nationwide.

<https://www.sba.gov/content/veteran-service-disabled-veteran-owned>

For further information, contact the Office of Veterans Business Development. Phone, 202-205-6773.

Women's Business Empowerment

The Office of Women's Business Ownership (OWBO) enables and empowers female entrepreneurs through advocacy, education, outreach, and support. OWBO programs provide business training and counseling, access to credit and capital, and marketing opportunities, including Federal contracts. The Women's Business Center (WBC) program offers SBA services in almost every State. A WBC tailors its services according to the needs of its individual community. Each WBC provides training in finance, management, marketing, and the Internet, as well as offering access to all financial and procurement assistance programs of the SBA.

<https://www.sba.gov/offices/headquarters/wbo> | Email: owbo@sba.gov

For further information, contact the Women's Business Ownership representative in your SBA district office. Phone, 202-205-6673.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Blog

The SBA blog offers information, news, and perspectives that deal with doing business on a small scale.

<https://www.sba.gov/blogs>

Business Opportunities

Information on selling to the Government and qualifying for Government contracts is available online. The SBA also provides online resources for small businesses and posts information on Government contracting programs on its Web site.

<https://www.sba.gov/contracting>

Career Opportunities

To carry out its mission, the SBA relies on professionals who are culturally astute, have strong communication and presentation skills, can write effectively, and possess technological proficiency.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-team/jobs-sba>

In 2018, the SBA ranked 20th among 27 midsize agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacestowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/SB00>

Climate / Sustainability

The SBA's Strategic Sustainability Performance Plan (effective, 30 June 2017 ) presents a blueprint and a framework for the agency to carry out its mission in a way that helps the biosphere and demonstrates a commitment to the creation of a clean energy economy. The plan addresses reducing greenhouse gases, pollution, waste, and water use. It also discusses strategies, targets, and metrics for climate change adaptation and resilience planning.

<https://www.sba.gov/document/support--strategic-sustainability-performance-plan>

Contact Information

Email addresses and phone numbers are available on the "Contact the SBA" web page (and on the "SBA Locations" web page).

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/organization/contact-sba?interiorpage2015>

The SBA public affairs team responds to questions from the media and general public, arranges interviews with appropriate program staff, and provides referrals and other information. To find an SBA local or regional spokesperson, visit the "Regional and Local Media" web page.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-newsroom/regional-local-media>

The Press Office team's contact information is available on the "Press Office Contacts" web page. That team includes staff from the Office of Communications and Public Liaison, Office of Advocacy, Office of Inspector General, and the Freedom of Information Act Office.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-newsroom/press-office-contacts>

Events

The "Find Events" page lists upcoming SBA events nationwide.

<https://www.sba.gov/events/find/?dateRange=all&distance=200&pageNumber=1>

Glossary

The SBA maintains an online glossary.

<https://www.sba.gov/offices/headquarters/obd/resources/13240>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The statute makes all existing Federal Government records available to the public; however, a record may be shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine exemptions or by specific harm that its disclosure may cause. Any person, except a fugitive from the law, has a right to request access to Federal agency records.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-performance/open-government/foia> | Email: FOIA@sba.gov

Introduction to the SBA

A short video explaining the SBA's principal services is available online.

<https://www.sba.gov/videos/introduction-sba?interiorpage2015>

Learning Center

The SBA offers online courses to help entrepreneurs start and run businesses.

<https://www.sba.gov/learning-center>

Locations

The "SBA Locations" page helps visitors find contact and other information for disaster offices, district offices, headquarters offices, regional offices, and loan and guaranty centers.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-locations>

Newsroom

The SBA newsroom features congressional testimonies, disaster press releases, media advisories and other press releases, speeches, and weekly lending reports.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-newsroom>

Open Data

The SBA makes data resources and application programming interfaces (APIs) available to the public. The "Open Data Sources" web page lists all the SBA datasets that the general public can access.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-performance/open-government/digital-sba/open-data/open-data-sources>

Open Government

The SBA supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-performance/open-government>

Plain Language

SBA writers and editors are committed to communicating in plain language. If a document or web pages lacks clarity or is difficult to understand, contact the SBA by email.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/sba-performance/open-government/other-plans-reports/plain-language-page> |

Email: plain.language@sba.gov

Resource Guide

The Winter 2019 edition of the "Small Business Resource Guide" is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/what-we-do/resource-guides>

Site Map

The Web site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.sba.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The SBA maintains social media accounts on Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, Twitter, and YouTube.

<https://www.sba.gov/about-sba/open-government/about-sbagov-website/social-media>

Videos

The SBA has a collection of online videos. The collection includes a 2-minute video series and other videos that are grouped by topic: financing, Government contracting, managing a business, marketing, and starting a business.

<https://www.sba.gov/videos>

The Sources of Information were updated 6–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Social Security Administration

The United States Government Manual

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

6401 Security Boulevard, Baltimore, MD 21235

410-965-1234 / 800-772-1213

800-325-0778 (TTY)

<http://www.socialsecurity.gov>

COMMISSIONER

Nancy A. Berryhill, Acting

Deputy Commissioner

(vacancy)

|  |                            |
|--|----------------------------|
| Chief of Staff                         | Beatrice M. Disman, Acting |
| Counselor to the Commissioner          | (vacancy)                  |
| Director, Equal Employment Opportunity | Claudia J. Postell, Acting |
| Executive Secretary                    | Darlynda K. Bogle          |

<https://www.ssa.gov/org/coss.htm>

Offices

|  |                          |
|--|--------------------------|
| Chief Actuary                            | Stephen C. Goss          |
| General Counsel                          | Asheesh Agarwal          |
| DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS                     |                          |
| Analytics, Review, and Oversight         | Patricia A. Jonas        |
| Budget, Finance, Quality, and Management | Michelle A. King         |
| Communications                           | James C. Borland, Acting |
| Hearings Operations                      | Theresa L. Gruber        |
| Human Resources                          | Marianna LaCanfora       |
| Legislation and Congressional Affairs    | Royce B. Min, Acting     |
| Operations                               | Mary L. Horne, Acting    |
| Retirement and Disability Policy         | Mark J. Warshawsky       |
| Systems / Chief Information Officer      | Rajive K. Mathur         |
| Inspector General                        | Gale S. Stone, Acting    |

https://www.ssa.gov/org/ssachart\_access.pdf

<http://oig.ssa.gov>

The above list of key personnel was updated 02–2018.

---

[For the Social Security Administration statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 20, Part 422]

The Social Security Administration manages the retirement, survivors, and disability insurance programs that are known as Social Security; it administers the Supplemental Security Income program for the aged, blind, and disabled; and it assigns Social Security numbers to U.S. citizens and maintains earnings records based on those numbers.

The Social Security Administration (SSA) was established by Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1946 (5 U.S.C. app.), effective July 16, 1946. It became an independent agency in the executive branch by the Social Security Independence and Program Improvements Act of 1994 (42 U.S.C. 901), effective March 31, 1995.

<https://www.ssa.gov/history>

The SSA is headed by a Commissioner whom the President appoints with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The Deputy Commissioner assists in administering the programs necessary to accomplish the Administration's mission. The Deputy Commissioner performs duties that the Commissioner, Chief Financial Officer, Chief Information Officer, General Counsel, Chief Actuary, and Inspector General assign or delegate to him or her.

https://www.ssa.gov/OP\_Home/ssact/title07/0702.htm

The Administration's operations are decentralized to provide local services. Each of the 10 SSA regions has a network of field offices and call centers. These offices and centers provide liaison between the SSA and public. The Administration operates 10 regional offices, approximately 1,230 field offices, 33 teleservice centers, 15 Social Security card centers, 6 processing centers, and 2 additional processing centers in its central office.

<https://www.ssa.gov/org/index.htm>

ACTIVITIES

---

Black Lung

By agreement with the Department of Labor, the SSA assists in the administration of the black lung benefits provisions of the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969, as amended (30 U.S.C. 901).

https://www.ssa.gov/OP\_Home/rulings/di/09/SSR73-24-di-09.html

Hearings and Appeals

The SSA administers a nationwide hearings and appeals program that offers a way for those who are dissatisfied with determinations affecting their rights to and amounts of benefits or their participation in programs to seek remedy through the Social Security Act. The act allows for administrative appeals of these determinations in accordance with the requirements of the Administrative Procedure and Social Security Acts. The SSA operates approximately 166 hearing offices, including 2 satellite offices; 5 national hearing centers; and 4 national case assistance centers within in its 10 administrative regions.

http://www.ssa.gov/appeals/about\_odar.html

Medicare

While the administration of Medicare is the responsibility of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, the SSA provides Medicare assistance to the public through SSA field offices and call centers. It adjudicates requests for hearings and appeals of Medicare claims.

<http://www.ssa.gov/medicare>

Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance

The SSA administers social insurance programs that provide monthly benefits to retired and disabled workers, to their spouses and children, and to survivors of insured workers. Financing is under a system of contributory social insurance, whereby employees, employers, and the self-employed pay contributions that are pooled in special trust funds. When earnings stop or decrease because the worker retires, dies, or becomes disabled, monthly cash benefits are paid to supplement the family's reduced income.

<https://faq.ssa.gov/ics/support/splash.asp>

Supplemental Security Income

The SSA administers this needs-based program for the aged, blind, and disabled. A basic Federal monthly payment is financed by general revenue, rather than from a special trust fund. Some States, choosing to provide payments to supplement the benefits, have agreements with the Administration under which it administers the supplemental payments for those States.

<http://www.ssa.gov/disabilityssi/ssi.html>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

The Office of Acquisition and Grants serves as the SSA's principal procurement office.

<http://www.ssa.gov/oag>

Career Opportunities

The SSA offers opportunities for various career paths: acquisitions, contracts, and grants; administrative support; facilities and physical security; finance and accounting; human resources; information technology; law enforcement; legal; and public contact.

<http://www.ssa.gov/careers>

In 2017, the SSA ranked 12th among 18 large agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/SZ00>

Fraud Hotline

The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) operates a toll-free hotline, 10 a.m.–4 p.m., eastern standard time, for reporting allegations of abuse, fraud, and waste affecting SSA programs and operations. Phone, 800-269-0271. TTY, 866-501-2101. Fax, 410-597-0118.

<https://oig.ssa.gov/report-fraud-waste-or-abuse>

An online form also is available to file a report.

https://www.ssa.gov/fraudreport/oig/public\_fraud\_reporting/form.htm

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

An online guide discusses important FOIA-related topics: how to request information and records, information that the SSA cannot disclose, and the fees associated with making a request.

<https://www.ssa.gov/foia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The SSA posts answers to FAQs and offers information on popular help-topics.

<https://faq.ssa.gov/ics/support/default.asp?deptID=34019&referrer=https://www.ssa.gov/ask>

Glossary

A glossary of Social Security terms is available online.

<https://www.ssa.gov/agency/glossary>

History

In 1795, the unflagging colonial and revolutionary pamphleteer Thomas Paine wrote about Americans entering adulthood and their welfare in retirement. To the new Republic, he issued a challenge: Establish a public system of economic security that would give a one-time stipend to each citizen upon attaining age 21, as well as annual benefits starting at age 50. To learn more about this patriot's bold proposal, see the "Historical Background and Development of Social Security" web page.

<https://www.ssa.gov/history/briefhistory3.html>

Multilanguage Gateway

The SSA tries to eliminate or reduce, as much as possible, barriers of language that impede the delivery of its services. Social Security information is available on the SSA website in the following languages: American Sign Language, Arabic, Armenian, Chinese, Farsi, French, Greek, Haitian Creole, Hmong, Italian, Korean, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Somali, Spanish, Tagalog, and Vietnamese. The SSA provides free interpreter services for conducting Social Security-related business.

<https://www.ssa.gov/multilanguage>

News

The SSA posts press releases online.

<https://www.ssa.gov/news/press/releases>

An online newsletter also is available.

<https://www.ssa.gov/news/newsletter>

Online Services

The SSA offers a growing number of services electronically through its website.

<https://www.ssa.gov/onlineservices>

Open Government

The SSA supports the Open Government initiative to create a more open and transparent Government by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.ssa.gov/open> | Email: open.government@ssa.gov

Organizational Chart

The SSA's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.ssa.gov/org/ssachart.pdf>

Plain Language

The Plain Writing Act of 2010 requires Federal agencies to communicate in a manner that the public can understand and use. SSA writers and editors welcome suggestions for improving agency forms, notices, pamphlets, or pages from its website.

<https://www.ssa.gov/agency/plain-language> | Email: PlainWriting@ssa.gov

Publications

Many SSA publications in English, Spanish, and other languages are accessible online.

<http://www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.ssa.gov/sitemap.htm>

Speakers

Under certain circumstances, the SSA can provide a speaker free of charge, generally available during business hours, to explain benefits, programs, and services. An online form is available to initiate a request.

<http://www.ssa.gov/agency/ask-for-a-speaker.html>

<https://www.ssa.gov/agency/contact> | Email: OPI.Policy.Coordination@ssa.gov

For further information, contact the Office of Public Inquiries, Social Security Administration, 6401 Security Boulevard, 1106 West High Rise Building, Baltimore, MD 21235. Phone, 410-965-0709. Fax, 410-965-0695.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Surface Transportation Board

The United States Government Manual

SURFACE TRANSPORTATION BOARD

395 E Street SW., Washington, DC 20423

202-245-0245

<http://www.stb.gov> | Email: rcpa@stb.gov

BOARD

---

|       |                   |
|-------|-------------------|
| CHAIR | Martin J. Oberman |
|-------|-------------------|

|            |                  |
|------------|------------------|
| Vice Chair | Robert E. Primus |
|------------|------------------|

|         |                |
|---------|----------------|
| Members | Ann D. Begeman |
|---------|----------------|

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
|  | Patrick J. Fuchs |
|--|------------------|

|  |                     |
|--|---------------------|
|  | Michelle A. Schultz |
|--|---------------------|

<https://www.stb.gov/about-stb/board-members>

OFFICE DIRECTORS

|           |                    |
|-----------|--------------------|
| Economics | William J. Brennan |
|-----------|--------------------|

|                        |                           |
|------------------------|---------------------------|
| Environmental Analysis | Danielle Gosselin, Acting |
|------------------------|---------------------------|

|            |                    |
|------------|--------------------|
| Management | Rachel D. Campbell |
|------------|--------------------|

|             |                         |
|-------------|-------------------------|
| Proceedings | Scott Zimmerman, Acting |
|-------------|-------------------------|

|   |                         |
|---|-------------------------|
| Public Assistance, Governmental Affairs, and Compliance | Michael Higgins, Acting |
|---|-------------------------|

|  |                      |
|--|----------------------|
|  | Jannie Sheng, Acting |
|--|----------------------|

|                 |                    |
|-----------------|--------------------|
| Chief Economist | William J. Brennan |
|-----------------|--------------------|

|                              |                 |
|------------------------------|-----------------|
| Equal Employment Opportunity | Camella Woodham |
|------------------------------|-----------------|

|                 |             |
|-----------------|-------------|
| General Counsel | Craig Keats |
|-----------------|-------------|

<https://www.stb.gov/about-stb/offices>

The above list of key personnel was updated 11–2021.

The Surface Transportation Board adjudicates and resolves railroad rate and service disputes and reviews proposals for railroad mergers.

The Surface Transportation Board (STB) is the successor agency to the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC), which was created in 1887. The ICC Termination Act of 1995 established the STB as an independent adjudicatory body within the Department of Transportation. It remained administratively aligned with the Department for nearly two decades.

On December 18, 2015, the Surface Transportation Board Reauthorization Act of 2015 established the STB as a wholly independent Federal agency (49 USC 1301 et seq.).

<https://www.stb.gov/about-stb>

The STB comprises five members, whom the President appoints and the Senate confirms for 5-year terms. The President also designates one of the members to serve as the Board's chair.

<https://www.stb.gov/about-stb/board-members>

The STB posts its organizational chart at the bottom of the "Offices" web page.

<https://www.stb.gov/about-stb/offices>

ACTIVITIES

---

The STB adjudicates disputes and regulates interstate surface transportation through various laws governing the different modes of surface transportation. Its general responsibilities include the oversight of firms engaged in interstate and foreign commercial transportation—to the extent that it takes place within the United States, or between or among points in the contiguous United States and points in Alaska, Hawaii, or U.S. Territories or possessions. The STB's jurisdiction generally extends over railroad rate and service issues, rail restructuring transactions, including mergers and line abandonments, construction, and sales, and labor matters related thereto; some moving van, trucking, and noncontiguous ocean shipping company rate matters; some intercity passenger bus company financial, operational, and structural matters; and pipeline matters that the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission does not regulate.

The STB promotes substantive and procedural regulatory reform, provides a forum for the resolution of disputes, and facilitates appropriate market-based business transactions. Through rulemakings and case disposition, it develops improved and efficient ways of analyzing problems, reducing costs associated with regulatory oversight, and encouraging private sector negotiations and resolutions.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Administrative Issuances

The STB posts administrative issuances that may apply to or affect the public.

<https://www.stb.gov/about-stb/administrative-issuances>

Agricultural Contracts

Rail carriers must file a summary of each contract entered into for the transportation of agricultural products. Beginning with the first quarter of 2008, filed contract summaries are available on the STB's website in Portable Document Format (PDF) and grouped by railroad.

<https://www.stb.gov/reports-data/agricultural-contract-summaries> | Email: rcpa@stb.gov

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that Interstate Commerce

Commission (ICC) records have been assigned to record group 134. The ICC's successor agency is the STB.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/134.html>

Career Opportunities

The STB maintains an employment web page.

<https://www.stb.gov/about-stb/jobs>

In 2020, the STB ranked 13th among 29 small Government agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/?c=TX00>

Contact Information

The STB's address is 395 E Street SW., Washington, DC 20423. Phone, 202-245-0245. TTY, 800-877-8339.

Email: rcpa@stb.gov

Environmental Comments

Correspondence and documents that the Office of Environmental Analysis has issued and comments that are part of environmental reviews are accessible online.

<https://www.stb.gov/proceedings-actions/environmental-comments>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the STB recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/surface-transportation-board>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA provides that a person may request access to Federal agency records or information. The STB must disclose records that any person properly requests in writing. Pursuant, however, to one or more of nine exemptions and three exclusions that the Act contains, a Federal agency may withhold certain records or parts of them. The FOIA applies only to Federal agencies and does not create a right of access to records held by the U.S. Congress, the courts, State or local government agencies, and private entities.

<https://www.stb.gov/foia> | Email: foia.privacy@stb.gov

Glossary

The STB website has a glossary of terms associated with environmental issues.

<https://www.stb.gov/resources/environmental/environmental-glossary>

Historic Preservation

The National Environmental Policy and National Historic Preservation Acts and other Federal environmental laws require the STB to consider the impact of its licensing decisions on historic properties. The Office of Environmental Analysis develops guidance that clarifies the STB's historic preservation review requirements and posts it on the STB's website.

<https://www.stb.gov/resources/environmental/historic-preservation-overview>

Maps

The "Railroad Map Depot" web page has links to railroad maps. The railroad map information is based on publicly available maps and data that government agencies, railroads, and other stakeholders produce.

<https://www.stb.gov/resources/railroad-map-depot>

Moving Companies

A moving company is responsible if it loses or damages a customer's household possessions during the move. The customer may file a claim with the mover to request financial compensation for the loss or damage. If the moving company denies the claim—in whole or in part—the customer may need to file a lawsuit or pursue arbitration to obtain compensation. In this type of situation, the customer may need to hire an attorney.

<https://www.stb.gov/resources/need-assistance/hhg-moving/hhg-lost-or-damaged-items>

News

The STB posts press releases online.

<https://www.stb.gov/news-communications/latest-news>

Open Government

The STB supports the three principles of Open Government: collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.stb.gov/about-stb/open-government>

Performance / Accountability

Starting with the year 2016, the STB posts these annual reports on its "Strategic Plan and Performance & Accountability Reports" web page.

<https://www.stb.gov/about-stb/agency-materials/strategic-plan-and-pars>

Rail Customer and Public Assistance

The Rail Customer and Public Assistance Program handles questions on rates and other charges, railroad-car supply and service issues, claims for damage, interchange issues, employee complaints, and community concerns.

<https://www.stb.gov/resources/need-assistance/rcpa>

Reports / Data

Information on the economic data, service data, and other materials that the STB collects or prepares is posted online.

<https://www.stb.gov/reports-data>

The Sources of Information were updated 11–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Tennessee Valley Authority

The United States Government Manual

TENNESSEE VALLEY AUTHORITY

400 West Summit Hill Drive, Knoxville, TN 37902

865-632-2101

<http://www.tva.com>

Board of Directors

---

|       |           |
|-------|-----------|
| CHAIR | (vacancy) |
|-------|-----------|

|           |                  |
|-----------|------------------|
| DIRECTORS | Kenneth E. Allen |
|-----------|------------------|

A.D. Frazier, Jr.

William B. Kilbride

John L. Ryder

Jeffrey W. Smith

(vacancy)

(vacancy)

(vacancy)

<https://www.tva.com/About-TVA/Our-Leadership/Board-of-Directors>

Executive Leadership

---

|                                     |                  |
|-------------------------------------|------------------|
| PRESIDENT / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER | Jeffrey J. Lyash |
|-------------------------------------|------------------|

|                       |                  |
|-----------------------|------------------|
| Senior Vice President | Susan E. Collins |
|-----------------------|------------------|

|                           |                    |
|---------------------------|--------------------|
| EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENTS | Jeannette M. Mills |
|---------------------------|--------------------|

Sherry A. Quirk

John M. Thomas III

|                |  |
|----------------|--|
| CHIEF OFFICERS |  |
|----------------|--|

|                    |                    |
|--------------------|--------------------|
| External Relations | Jeannette M. Mills |
|--------------------|--------------------|

|           |                    |
|-----------|--------------------|
| Financial | John M. Thomas III |
|-----------|--------------------|

|                 |                  |
|-----------------|------------------|
| Human Resources | Susan E. Collins |
|-----------------|------------------|

|   |                   |
|---|-------------------|
| Nuclear   | Timothy Rausch    |
| Operating   | Michael D. Skaggs |
| General Counsel   | Sherry A. Quirk   |
| https://www.tva.com/About-TVA/Our-Leadership/Executives |                   |
| Inspector General   | Richard W. Moore  |
| http://oig.tva.gov/igmoore.html   |                   |

The above list of key personnel was updated 8–2020.

---

The Tennessee Valley Authority conducts a unified program of resource development to advance economic growth in the Tennessee Valley region.

Establishment and Members of the Board

The Tennessee Valley Authority Act of 1933 created the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA). This act of May 18, 1933 (16 U.S.C. 831-831dd), established the TVA as a wholly owned Government corporation.

https://www.tva.com/file\_source/TVA/Site%20Content/About%20TVA/TVA\_Act.pdf

All functions of this public corporation are vested in its nine-member Board of Directors, whose members the President appoints by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. At least seven of the nine members must be legal residents of the TVA's service area. The Board designates one of its members to serve as the Chair.

<https://www.tva.com/About-TVA/Our-History>

ACTIVITIES

---

TVA activities range from economic development and environmental stewardship to electric power production and transmission; to flood control, navigation, and recreation improvement; and to water supply and water quality management.

The TVA's electric power program is financially self-supporting and operates as part of an independent system with the Authority's system of dams on the Tennessee River and its larger tributaries. These dams provide flood regulation on the Tennessee River and contribute to regulation of the lower Ohio and Mississippi Rivers. The system maintains a continuous 9-foot-draft navigation channel for the length of the 650-mile Tennessee River main stream, from Paducah, KY, to Knoxville, TN. The dams harness the power of the rivers to produce electricity. They also provide other benefits, notably outdoor recreation and water supply.

The Authority operates the river management system and provides assistance to State and local governments in reducing local flood problems. It also works with other agencies to encourage full and effective use of the navigable waterway by industry and commerce.

The TVA is the wholesale power supplier for 154 local municipal and cooperative electric systems serving customers in parts of 7 States. It supplies power to 60 industries and Federal installations whose power requirements are large or unusual. Power to meet these demands is supplied from dams, coal-fired powerplants, nuclear powerplants, natural gas combined-cycle powerplants, combustion turbine and diesel installations, solar energy sites, wind turbines, a methane gas facility, and a pumped-storage hydroelectric plant; U.S. Corps of Engineers dams in the Cumberland Valley; and Brookfield Renewable Energy Partners dams, whose operations are coordinated with the TVA's system.

Economic development is at the heart of the TVA's mission of making the Tennessee Valley a better place to live. A healthy economy means quality jobs, more investment in the region, sustainable growth, and opportunities for residents in the southeastern region to build more prosperous lives. TVA economic development takes a regional approach to economic growth by partnering with power distributors and both public and private organizations to attract new investments and quality jobs, supporting retention and growth of existing businesses and industries, preparing communities for leadership and economic growth, and providing financial and technical services.

<https://www.tva.com/About-TVA>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that TVA records have been assigned to record group 142.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/142.html>

Birdwatching

With birds living in and migrating through the area year-round, TVA lands offer plenty of opportunities for birdwatchers.

<https://www.tva.com/environment/recreation/birdwatching> | Email: plic@tva.gov

Business Opportunities

The TVA partners with power distributors, suppliers, and other individuals and organizations. It seeks business relationships with firms offering reliable products and services at competitive prices. The TVA encourages businessmen and women of diverse backgrounds—minorities, service-disabled-veterans, veterans, as well as small business owners and entrepreneurs in historically underutilized business zones—to learn about available opportunities. For more information, contact Supply Chain, BR 4A–C, 1101 Market Street, Chattanooga, TN 37402. Phone , 423-751-7903.

<https://www.tva.com/Information/Doing-Business-with-TVA>

Career Opportunities

The TVA is a service-oriented agency whose mission covers 86,000 square miles and depends on professionals with expertise in diverse fields. Some of those fields include archaeology, aviation, economics, engineering, environmental law, hydrology, law enforcement, library science, marketing, program management, water quality, and zoology.

<https://www.tva.com/Careers> | Email: careers@tva.gov

In 2019, the Office of Inspector General ranked first among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings!

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/TV01>

Climate Change

The "TVA Climate Change Adaptation and Resiliency Plan—2020 Update" is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

https://tva-azr-eastus-cdn-ep-tvawcm-prd.azureedge.net/cdn-tvawcma/docs/default-source/about-tva/guidelines-reports/climate-change-adaptation-plan.pdf?sfvrsn=ea883571\_2

Contact Information

The TVA benefits from engaged citizens. It encourages comments, feedback, and input. Contact TVA Communications, 400 W. Summit Hill Drive, Knoxville, TN 37902-1499. Phone, 865-632-2101.

<https://www.tva.gov/About-TVA/Contact-Us> | Email: tvainfo@tva.gov

Economic Development

TVA Economic Development serves the seven States of the TVA service area—AL, GA, KY, MS, NC, TN, and VA. Through partnerships with other economic development organizations, the TVA fosters capital investment and job growth in its service area. Information is available online, or contact TVA Economic Development, 26 Century Boulevard, Suite 100, Nashville, TN 37214. Phone, 615-232-6051.

<https://www.tva.com/Economic-Development>

Environmental Reviews

The TVA conducts environmental reviews to consider the effects of its proposed projects on the human and natural environment before making final decisions. The TVA's environmental projects are open for public review.

<https://www.tva.com/Environment/Environmental-Stewardship/Environmental-Reviews>

Federal Register

Documents that the TVA has published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/tennessee-valley-authority>

Fishing Tips

The TVA helps ambitious fishermen and women meet their numbers. The "Where the Sport Fish Are" page lists the largest populations of Tennessee Valley sport fish and the reservoirs that they inhabit.

<https://www.tva.com/Environment/Recreation/Where-the-Sport-Fish-Are> | Email: plic@tva.gov

Anglers developed the "Angler's Aquatic Plant ID" as a guide for anglers. The online guide contains seasonal tips for fishing near aquatic plants, starting with American Lotus and ending with Southern Naiad.

<https://www.tva.com/Environment/Environmental-Stewardship/Anglers-Aquatic-Plant-ID>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Like all Federal agencies, the TVA is required to disclose records that any person requests in writing. The statute contains, however, nine exemptions and three exclusions that may shield some records or parts of them from disclosure. The TVA operates a FOIA requester service center. Phone, 865-632-6945.

<https://www.tva.com/Information/Freedom-of-Information> | Email: foia@tva.gov

Green Power

The Green Power Providers program offers Tennessee Valley homeowners and businessmen and women an opportunity to help the TVA generate clean, renewable energy. Participants in the program agree to install a small-scale renewable energy system on their property, and the TVA pays them for every kilowatt hour generated by that system.

<https://www.tva.com/Energy/Valley-Renewable-Energy/Green-Power-Providers>

Historic Photographs

From the earliest days of the TVA, photographers captured images of the agency's work and the cultural changes that followed. The TVA collection contains over 20,000 black-and-white negatives and over 5,000 original file prints. Its images span half a century, from 1933 to 1983.

<https://www.tva.com/about-tva/our-history>

Lake Levels

Current information on ecological health ratings, fish population surveys, planned generation releases at the dams, recreation facilities, reservoir operations, today's levels, and predicted elevations for each TVA reservoir is available online.

<https://www.tva.com/Environment/Lake-Levels>

Library Services

Visitors may use the TVA Research Library by appointment. Contact the TVA Research Library, 400 W. Summit Hill Drive, Knoxville, TN 37902-1499. Phone, 865-632-3464.

<https://tva.com/Our-TVA-Story/Nancy-Proctor> | Email: corplibknox@tva.gov

Native American Tribes

Native Americans have a cultural and historical interest in the Tennessee Valley. The TVA consults with 21 federally recognized Tribes when it undertakes projects that could affect their cultural sites.

<https://www.tva.com/environment/environmental-stewardship/land-management/cultural-resource-management/tribal-relations>

Newsroom

The TVA posts news stories and press releases online.

<https://www.tva.com/Newsroom>

Oversight

The Office of the Inspector General from the TVA posts reports and data on Oversight.gov, a text-searchable repository of reports that Federal Inspectors General publish. The Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency operates and maintains the website to increase public access to independent and authoritative information on the Federal Government.

<https://oversight.gov>

Public Relations

The TVA Public Relations team is available to help representatives of the media.

<https://www.tva.com/newsroom/public-relations>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.tva.com/Index>

Social Media

The TVA has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/TVA>

The TVA posts photos and short videos on Instagram.

<https://www.instagram.com/TVA/>

The TVA publishes business-oriented information on LinkedIn.

<https://www.linkedin.com/company/tva>

The TVA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/tvanews>

The TVA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/TVANewsVideo>

TVA Kids

The TVA maintains the website tvakids.com, which is a colorful online resource for students and teachers. The site covers topics like green power, making electricity, and saving energy. It also has a section of "Cool Stuff" that includes games, videos, and warnings about energy vampires.

<https://www.tvakids.com>

The Sources of Information were updated 8–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Trade and Development Agency

The United States Government Manual

TRADE AND DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

1000 Wilson Boulevard, Suite 1600, Arlington, VA 22209-3901

703-875-4357

703-875-4009

<http://www.ustda.gov>

DIRECTOR

Enoh T. Ebong, Acting

Deputy Director

Enoh T. Ebong

|  |                     |
|--|---------------------|
| Administrative Officer                               | Carolyn Hum         |
| Chief of Staff                                       | Vacant              |
| Chief, Office of Acquisition Management              | Garth Hibbert       |
| Director, Congressional Affairs and Public Relations | Thomas R. Hardy     |
| Director, Finance                                    | Kathleen Neumann    |
| General Counsel                                      | Kendra Link, Acting |
| Chief Information Officer                            | Benjamin Bergersen  |
| Special Advisor to the Director                      | Clark Jennings      |

REGIONAL DIRECTORS

|   |                    |
|---|--------------------|
| East Asia   | Carl B. Kress      |
| Latin America and Caribbean                           | Nathan Younge      |
| Middle East, North Africa, Europe and Eurasia         | Carl B. Kress      |
| South and Southeast Asia                              | Henry D. Steingass |
| Sub-Saharan Africa                                    | Lida Fitts         |
| Director, Global Programs                             | Andrea Lupo        |
| Director, Office of Program Monitoring and Evaluation | Diana Harbison     |

The Trade and Development Agency advances economic development and U.S. commercial interest in developing and middle-income countries.

Organizational Chart

The Trade and Development Program was established on July 1, 1980, as a component organization of the International Development Cooperation Agency. Section 2204 of the Omnibus Trade and Competitiveness Act of 1988 (22 U.S.C. 2421) made it a separate component agency. The organization was renamed the Trade and Development Agency (USTDA) and made an independent agency within the executive branch of the Federal Government on October 28, 1992, by the Jobs Through Exports Act of 1992 (22 U.S.C. 2421).

The USTDA is a foreign assistance agency that delivers its program commitments through overseas grants and contracts with U.S. firms. The Agency helps companies create U.S. jobs through the export of U.S. goods and services for priority development projects in emerging economies. The Agency links U.S. businesses to export opportunities by funding project planning activities, pilot projects, and reverse trade missions while creating sustainable infrastructure and economic growth in partner countries.

The USTDA provides grant funding to overseas project sponsors for the planning of projects that support the development of modern infrastructure and an open trading system. The hallmark of USTDA development assistance is building partnerships between U.S. companies and overseas project sponsors. These partnerships facilitate the application of proven private sector solutions to developmental challenges.

The Agency works with other U.S. Government agencies to bring their particular expertise and resources to a development objective. These agencies include the Departments of Commerce, Energy, State, Transportation, and the Treasury; Office of the U.S. Trade Representative; Export-Import Bank of the United States; and Overseas Private Investment Corporation.

<https://www.ustda.gov/about/mission>

Activities

The USTDA funds various forms of technical assistance, training, early investment analysis, reverse trade missions, and business workshops that support the development of a modern infrastructure and a fair and open trading environment. The Agency works closely with foreign project sponsors and makes its funds available to them for contracting with U.S. businesses. This arrangement gives American firms market entry, exposure, and access to information. It helps them establish positions in markets that are otherwise difficult to penetrate. The USTDA is involved in many sectors, including energy, transportation, and information and communications technologies.

USTDA-funded studies evaluate the technical, economic, and financial aspects of a development project. They provide the host nation with information on the availability of U.S. goods and services. Financial institutions also use these studies for assessing the creditworthiness of an undertaking. Grants are based on an official request for assistance: Either the sponsoring government or a private sector organization in a developing or middle-income nation can make the request.

<https://www.ustda.gov/program>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Overseas project sponsors can select U.S. firms to carry out USTDA-funded work through a competitive proposal process that relies on the Federal Business Opportunities Web site (FedBizOpps.gov) or through "sole-source" grants, which allow an overseas project sponsor to identify a U.S. firm as a partner or preferred supplier. More information is available on the "Project Proposals" Web page.

<https://www.ustda.gov/program/project-proposals>

Employment

Job openings and information on internships are posted online.

<https://www.ustda.gov/about/career-opportunities>
<https://www.ustda.gov/about/career-opportunities/internships>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

A FOIA request must be submitted in writing by email, fax, or mail, and clearly identified as a "FOIA REQUEST." Staff is available to answer questions and help formulate a request over the phone; however, the USTDA does not accept phone requests. Mail a request to the FOIA Requester Service Center, U.S. Trade and Development Agency, 1000 Wilson Boulevard, Suite 1600, Arlington, VA 22209-3901. Phone, 703-875-4357. Fax, 703-875-4009.

<https://www.ustda.gov/about/resources/foia> | Email: foia@ustda.gov

Library

The USTDA maintains a collection of reports on infrastructure development projects from emerging economies worldwide. Contact the library by email to obtain a report: Most reports can be sent electronically. These reports are accessible also online. Phone, 703-875-4357.

<https://www.ustda.gov/ustda-library> | Email: library@ustda.gov

Newsletter

To provide timely information on Agency supported activities, the USTDA distributes an electronic newsletter containing business opportunities, events, and updates. A subscription form is available online.

<https://www.ustda.gov/connect/subscribe-ustda-news-and-alerts>

Regional Programs

The USTDA is organized into five international regions. Information on each region is available on the Agency's Web site. Questions should be addressed to the appropriate regional director or country manager. Phone, 703-875-4357.

<http://www.ustda.gov/program/regions/index.asp>
<https://www.ustda.gov/about/contact> | Email: info@ustda.gov

For further information, contact the U.S. Trade and Development Agency, 1000 Wilson Boulevard, Suite 1600, Arlington, VA 22209-3901. Phone, 703-875-4357. Fax, 703-875-4009.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States African Development Foundation

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT FOUNDATION

1400 I Street NW., Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20005

202-233-8800

202-673-3810

<http://www.usadf.gov>

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

---

|            |                     |
|------------|---------------------|
| CHAIR      | John W. Leslie, Jr. |
| Vice Chair | John O. Agwunobi    |
| Members    | Ward Brehm          |
|            | Morgan M. Davis     |
|            | Iqbal Paroo         |
|            | (vacancy)           |
|            | (vacancy)           |

<http://www.usadf.gov/board-of-directors>

STAFF

|   |                          |
|---|--------------------------|
| PRESIDENT / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER             | C.D. Glin                |
| Chief of Staff / Director of External Affairs   | Brandi James             |
| Chief Strategy Officer                          | Kwasi Donkor             |
| General Counsel                                 | Nina-Belle Mbayu, Acting |
| Managing Director of Finance and Administration | Mathieu Zahui            |

<https://www.usadf.gov/leaderships>

The above list of key personnel was updated 11–2020.

The United States African Development Foundation provides seed capital and technical assistance to support African-led development that grows community enterprises.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On December 16, 1980, President James E. Carter approved Public Law 96–533, which contains the "African Development Foundation Act" (94 Stat. 3151). The Act established the United States African Development Foundation (USADF) as a Government corporation with its principal office in the United States and with branch offices, as necessity requires for carrying out its functions, in Africa (94 Stat. 3152, 3153).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-94/pdf/STATUTE-94-Pg3131.pdf>

"To enable the people of African countries to develop their potential, fulfill their aspirations, and enjoy better, more productive lives," the Act described the purposes of the USADF as fourfold: strengthening friendly bonds between Africans and Americans, supporting local self-help activities that enlarge community development opportunities, promoting effective and expansive African participation in their development process, and promoting development institutions that are indigenous to particular African countries and responsive to the requirements of those countries' poor people (94 Stat. 3152).

The management responsibilities of the USADF are vested in seven members who constitute its Board of Directors. The President appoints each of the members by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. The President designates one board member to serve as its Chairperson and another one of the seven to serve as its Vice Chairperson. The President makes his or her appointment based on the appointee's "understanding of and sensitivity to community level development processes." Five of the board members are "appointed from private life"; the two other members are "appointed from among officers and employees of agencies of the United States concerned with African affairs." A member is appointed for a term of 6 years (94 Stat. 3154).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-94/pdf/STATUTE-94-Pg3131.pdf>

The USADF's statement of organization has been assigned to part 1501 of 22 CFR.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=b295cbf93a8249fce4299d34cd24d414&mc=true&node=pt22.2.1501&rgn=div5

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Codified statutory material affecting the USADF has been assigned to the seventh chapter of 22 U.S.C. See "Subchapter XXIII—United States African Development Foundation."

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title22/chapter7/subchapter23&edition=prelim>

Codified rules and regulations associated with the USADF have been assigned to the 15th chapter of 22 CFR. See "Chapter XV—African Development Foundation" (parts 1500–1599).

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=db2ff5965204ffe475554b1b1daa53a6&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title22/22chapterXV.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The USADF invests in private and nongovernmental organizations in Africa to promote and support innovative enterprise development, generate jobs, and increase incomes of the poor. It expands local institutional and financial capacities to foster entrepreneurship, ownership, and community-based economic development among marginalized and underserved populations in sub-Saharan Africa.

<https://www.usadf.gov/mission>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Agriculture / Food Security

Agriculture and food security constitute one of the USADF's key programmatic areas for its transformative programs.

<https://www.usadf.gov/sectors/2>

Archived Records

The records of the "African Development Foundation" are referenced in the "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States." The guide is accessible online, and USADF records have been assigned to Record Group 487. This record group currently does not have a description because no transfer of archival records had been made before the time of the guide's last update.

Career Opportunities

The USADF posts career opportunities on its website.

<https://www.usadf.gov/career-opportunities>

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page has an electronic form for sending a message. Postal correspondence may be sent to the USADF, 1400 I Street NW., Washington, DC 20005. Phone, 202-233-8800.

<https://www.usadf.gov/contact-us> | Email: info@usadf.gov

Country Portfolios

The Foundation has 21 country programs and special initiatives that extend its reach to a total of 37 African countries.

<https://www.usadf.gov/countries>

Development Model

The USADF uses a community-led development approach and a pan-African network of local implementing partners to support African-designed and African-delivered solutions.

<https://www.usadf.gov/development-model>

Entrepreneurship / Job Creation

Employment through job training and placement and entrepreneurship grants for women and youth constitute one of the USADF's key programmatic areas for its transformative programs.

<https://www.usadf.gov/sectors/4>

Events

The USADF posts information on its events.

<http://www.usadf.gov/events>

Federal Register

Recent documents that the USADF published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/african-development-foundation>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Information on USADF FOIA policies can be obtained from the agency by using the "Contact Us" web page or by sending an email.

<https://www.usadf.gov/contact-us> | Email: info@usadf.gov

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The USADF posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<http://www.usadf.gov/faq>

Grants

Information on grants is available online. An applicant may download an application in English or French. Once completed, the application may be submitted by email or postal mail.

<http://www.usadf.gov/apply>

In the News

For news items, see the "USADF in the News" web page.

<https://www.usadf.gov/usadf-in-the-news>

Open Government

The USADF supports the Open Government initiative by promoting collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.usadf.gov/oversight>

Partners

The USADF partners with African governments, corporations, foundations, and nongovernmental organizations, as well as with other agencies of the U.S. Government and their initiatives.

<https://www.usadf.gov/partnerships>

Renewable Energy / Energy Access Off the Grid

Off-grid renewable energy access is one of the USADF's key programmatic areas for its transformative programs.

<https://www.usadf.gov/sectors/3>

Reports

The USADF posted its "Impact Report 2015–2019." The report describes USADF's work and the effects of that work.

<https://www.usadf.gov/reports>

Resources

The USADF posts its congressional budget justifications and operating plans. The "Resources" web page also has bar and pie graphs: annual revenues, annual expenditures, and a 5-year revenue source profile.

<https://www.usadf.gov/resources>

Social Media

The USADF has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/USADF>

The Foundation tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USADF>

The USADF posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCvhwYYAN6WGK4rlmiWafEAA>

Videos

The USADF maintains a large collection of videos on its website. The topics of those videos range from onion farming to transforming the lives of former child soldiers.

<https://www.usadf.gov/videos>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Agency for Global Media

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES AGENCY FOR GLOBAL MEDIA

330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20237

202-203-4545

<http://www.usagm.gov>

Office of the Chief Executive Officer

---

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Kelu Chao, Acting

Deputy Director

Brian Conniff

Deputy Director for Operations

Matthew Walsh

Executive Director

H. Oanh Tran

Heads of Offices

---

CHIEF OFFICERS

Financial

Grant K. Turner

Information

James Reeves

Risk

Nnake Nweke

Strategy

Shawn Powers

DIRECTORS

Congressional Affairs

(vacancy)

Management Services

(vacancy)

Public Affairs

(vacancy)

Technology, Services, and Innovation

P. Terry Balazs

General Counsel

David Kligerman

<https://www.usagm.gov/who-we-are/management-team>

Federal Networks

---

DIRECTORS

Office of Cuba Broadcasting

Sylvia Rosabal

Voice of America

Yolanda Lopez, Acting

---

Grantee Networks

---

PRESIDENTS

Middle East Broadcasting Networks

Kelley Sullivan, Acting

Radio Free Asia

Bay Fang

Radio Free Europe / Radio Liberty

Jamie M. Fly

<https://www.usagm.gov/networks>

---

Open Technology Fund

---

President

Laura Cunningham

<https://www.opentech.fund/about/people/laura-cunningham>

---

Office of Inspector General

---

Inspector General for the U.S. Department of State

Diana Shaw, Acting

<https://www.stateoig.gov/about/IG>

The above list of key personnel was updated 4–2021.

The U.S. Agency for Global Media informs, engages, and connects people around the world in support of freedom and democracy.

---

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

On April 30, 1994, President William J. Clinton approved Public Law 103–236, which includes the United States International Broadcasting Act of 1994. The Act "established within the United States Information Agency a Broadcasting Board of Governors." The first Broadcasting Board of Governors (BBG) was sworn in on August 11, 1995.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-108/pdf/STATUTE-108-Pg382.pdf>

Four years later, on October 21, 1998, President Clinton approved Public Law 105–277, which includes the Foreign Affairs Reform and Restructuring Act of 1998 (112 Stat. 2681–761). On October 1, 1999, the BBG became an independent and autonomous entity as a result of the legislation.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-112/pdf/STATUTE-112-Pg2681.pdf>

On December 23, 2016, President Barack H. Obama approved Public Law 114–328, which also is cited as the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017. Title XII, which is dedicated to matters relating to foreign nations, contains a section that modifies the United States International Broadcasting Act of 1994. The modifications included terminating the position of the Director of the International Broadcasting Bureau and transferring the responsibilities, offices, authorities, and immunities of that position to the Chief Executive Officer of the Broadcasting Board of Governors (130 Stat. 2549). Another modification authorized the agency to rename itself after giving notification to the U.S. Congress of the intended change (130 Stat. 2551).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/PLAW-114publ328/pdf/PLAW-114publ328.pdf>

On August 22, 2018, as part of a modernization effort, the agency changed its name from the BBG to the United States Agency for Global Media (USAGM). The USAGM continued to use the name BBG when referring to its nine-member board until its dissolution in 2020.

<https://www.usagm.gov/who-we-are/history>

The USAGM posts an organizational chart on its website.

<https://www.usagm.gov/who-we-are/organizational-chart>

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

---

"Chapter 71—United States International Broadcasting" is assigned to 22 U.S.C. The chapter comprises sections 6201–6216 and contains codified statutory material affecting Radio Free Afghanistan, Radio Free Asia, Radio Free Europe, Radio Free Liberty, and the Chief Executive Officer of the Broadcasting Board of Governors.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title22/chapter71&edition=prelim>

"Chapter V—Broadcasting Board of Governors" is assigned to 22 CFR. The chapter comprises parts 500–599 and contains codified regulatory material associated with the agency.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=44d20bb4bea6e9db09b28364c465d15c&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title22/22chapterV.tpl

ACTIVITIES

---

USAGM broadcast services adhere to the broadcasting standards and principles of the United States International Broadcasting Act of 1994 (108 Stat. 433).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-108/pdf/STATUTE-108-Pg382.pdf>

The statute's principles and standards support reliable, accurate, and comprehensive news; balanced and comprehensive presentations of U.S. thought, institutions, and policies, as well as discussions on those policies; information on developments throughout the world; and a variety of opinions from nations around the world.

<https://www.usagm.gov/who-we-are>

Middle East Broadcasting Networks

The Middle East Broadcasting Networks, Inc. (MBN) is a nonprofit news organization that operates Alhurra and Alhurra-Iraq Television, Radio Sawa, and MBN Digital under a grant from the USAGM. Alhurra Television, Radio Sawa, and MBN Digital offer an open line of communication between the people of the Middle East and the United States. These networks deliver accurate information on the United States, its policies, and its people, from a range of perspectives and with an exchange of ideas on relevant issues. They reach an audience of nearly 25 million Arabic-speakers in 22 countries across the Middle East and North Africa.

<https://www.usagm.gov/networks/mbn>

Alhurra TV

<http://www.alhurra.com>

Radio Sawa

<https://www.radiosawa.com>

Office of Cuba Broadcasting

The Office of Cuba Broadcasting operates the Martís from its headquarters in Miami, FL. The Martís are a multimedia hub of news, information, and analysis that provides the people of Cuba with interactive programs each day of the week. To broadcast their message, the Martís rely on a combination of high- and low-tech approaches: DVDs, emails, flash drives, Internet, satellite television, shortwave and AM radio, and SMS text. Combined with martinoticias.com, they constitute a unique service that brings accurate information to the Cuban people.

<https://www.usagm.gov/networks/ocb>

Martinoticias

<http://www.martinoticias.com>

Radio Free Asia

Radio Free Asia (RFA) is a private nonprofit news organization that operates under a grant from the USAGM. Broadcasting daily in nine languages to Asian audiences whose governments restrict media, RFA delivers award-winning, reliable news and information. It also allows a range of voices and opinions from within Asia to be heard as a demonstration of freedom of expression over the airwaves, on television, and online. Through shortwave, medium wave, satellite and transmission television, social media, and the Internet, RFA broadcasts in Cantonese, Khmer, Korean, Lao, Mandarin, Myanmar, Uyghur, Vietnamese, and in three Tibetan dialects. Headquartered in Washington, DC, it has eight overseas bureaus and a network of correspondents around the world.

<https://www.usagm.gov/networks/rfa>

Radio Free Asia—English

<https://www.rfa.org/english>

Radio Free Europe / Radio Liberty

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty (RFE/RL) is a private nonprofit multimedia broadcasting corporation whose funding comes from a USAGM grant. It reaches nearly 34 million people in 23 countries—including Afghanistan, Iran, Pakistan, Russia, and Ukraine—in 26 languages. Its journalists provide what many people cannot get locally: uncensored news, responsible discussion, and open debate. RFE/RL uses digital technologies—the Internet, SMS text messaging, online video, satellite radio, and popular social media networks—and conventional broadcast radio to reach people in some of the most closed societies on Earth. With nearly 70 years of surrogate broadcasting experience, it continues to bring diverse, immediate, and interactive content to audiences.

<https://www.usagm.gov/networks/rferl>

Radio Free Europe / Radio Liberty—English

<https://www.rferl.org>

Voice of America

The Voice of America (VOA) is a multimedia international broadcasting service funded by the U.S. Government through the USAGM. It began broadcasting in 1942 and now reaches more than 275 million people worldwide. The VOA provides accurate, comprehensive, and trustworthy news and information, as well as informed discussion on the United States and the world. It engages audiences in regions deemed critical to the United States through whatever medium—radio, television, Internet, or digital media—the people of those regions prefer. It broadcasts approximately 1,800 hours of news, information, educational, and cultural programming every week to a global audience. Programs are produced in 46 languages.

<https://www.usagm.gov/networks/voa>

Voice of America—English

<https://www.voanews.com>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that BBG records have been assigned to record group 517. The BBG is the predecessor agency to the USAGM. See the above "Establishment and Organization" section. Record group 517 does not have a description currently associated with it.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/index-numeric/501-to-600.html>

At a Glance

The "Who We Are" web page features a 60-second video that captures the essence of USAGM core activities: informing people, engaging them in support of democracy, and connecting with them on a global scale.

<https://www.usagm.gov/who-we-are>

Awards

The USAGM has won awards for its productions in a variety of categories: documentary, education, investigative journalism, promotional programming, special reporting, video, and more.

<https://www.usagm.gov/awards>

Business Opportunities

Information on contract opportunities and instructions on how to do business with the USAGM are available online.

<https://www.usagm.gov/who-we-are/partnerwithus/contract-opportunities>

Career Opportunities

The USAGM work environment is diverse, multicultural, and professional. In addition to American citizens, the agency also hires non-U.S. citizens for positions that require foreign language skills. Internships are available in the fields of engineering, public affairs, public diplomacy, and research.

<https://www.usagm.gov/work-with-us>

The USAGM provides training opportunities for reporters and students of media on five continents.

<https://www.usagm.gov/our-work/media-development>

In 2019, the USAGM ranked 23d among 25 midsize agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacestowork.org/rankings/detail/IB00>

Climate Change

The USAGM is committed to developing a better understanding of the effects of climate change and to addressing climate change adaptation.

<https://www.usagm.gov/our-work/strategy-and-results/strategic-priorities/research-reports/strategic-sustainability-performance-plan>

The USAGM has provided media training aimed at equipping journalists in the Latin America and the Caribbean region with skills and practices needed to report accurately and effectively on changes in the climate.

<https://www.usagm.gov/2016/09/29/covering-climate-change>

Federal Register

Documents that the USAGM recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/united-states-agency-for-global-media>

Documents that the BBG published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/broadcasting-board-of-governors>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA provides a statutory basis for public access to official agency information previously restricted from public view. Through the FOIA, Congress affirmed that citizens have the right to know what their Government does. Under the act, official information is available to "any person" without regard to need for or interest in the material. The USAGM and its FOIA staff are committed to ensuring the fullest possible disclosure that is consistent with the letter and spirit of the law.

<https://www.usagm.gov/foia> | Email: foia@usagm.gov

The FOIA requires agencies to disclose, proactively and electronically, certain categories of records to the public. Records that the USAGM has previously released to the public under the FOIA and that are the subject of subsequent requests or likely to be the subject of subsequent requests are proactively disclosed in the USAGM's electronic reading room for public access. Records that the USAGM determines are of sufficient public interest to warrant automatic disclosure are also proactively disclosed in the electronic reading room.

<https://www.usagm.gov/foia/electronic-reading-room>

History

"The news may be good for us. The news may be bad. But we shall tell you the truth." These words, American journalist and writer William Harlan Hale spoke during the Voice of America's first radio show. For 75 years, U.S. international media have been broadcasting to audiences abroad. Visit the "History" web page to learn more about a story that continues to be heard around the world today.

<https://www.usagm.gov/who-we-are/history>

Learn English

The Voice of America's website features resources for learning American English.

<https://learningenglish.voanews.com>

Legislation / Congressional Committees

The USAGM receives its mandate to supervise all broadcasting activities and to provide strategic management for the agency from various public laws. The U.S. Congress oversees the USAGM, which is an independent executive branch agency, by monitoring, reviewing, and supervising its activities, programs, and policy implementation.

<https://www.usagm.gov/who-we-are/oversight>

Networks

The USAGM's website provides convenient access to the home pages of all of its networks.

<https://www.usagm.gov/networks>

News

USAGM-related news and information are available online.

<https://www.usagm.gov/news-and-information>

The latest press releases from the USAGM and its networks are available online.

<https://www.usagm.gov/news-and-information/press-releases>

Open Government

The USAGM supports the Open Government initiative by promoting collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://www.usagm.gov/our-work/strategy-and-results/strategic-priorities/research-reports/open-government> | Email: opengov@bbg.gov

Pronunciation Guide

The VOA "Pro • nounce" website is a pronunciation guide with an audio feature. The guide helps people from around the globe pronounce challenging words that have been or are currently trending in media sources.

<https://pronounce.voanews.com>

Services and Technology To Evade Censorship

The Open Technology Fund advances global Internet freedom by supporting research and development and the implementation and sustainability of technologies that facilitate the free flow of information, increase digital security, and enable freedom of expression online.

<https://www.opentech.fund/about>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.usagm.gov/sitemap>

Social Media

The USAGM has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/USAGMgov>

The USAGM tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/USAGMgov>

The USAGM posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCvYge67D7cpRJ6aYn2E9pPw>

Students and Youth Worldwide

Voice of America's "Student Union" section offers students and youth international news that relates to them.

<https://www.voanews.com/student-union>

The above Sources of Information were updated 4-2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Agency for International Development

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

1300 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20523

202-712-0000

<http://www.usaid.gov>

ADMINISTRATOR

Samantha Power

Deputy Administrator

(vacancy)

Chief of Staff

Gideon Maltz

|           |                         |
|-----------|-------------------------|
| Counselor | T. Christopher Milligan |
|-----------|-------------------------|

CHIEFS

|                   |                      |
|-------------------|----------------------|
| Financial Officer | Reginald W. Mitchell |
|-------------------|----------------------|

|                     |              |
|---------------------|--------------|
| Information Officer | Jay Mahanand |
|---------------------|--------------|

DIRECTORS

|                            |                 |
|----------------------------|-----------------|
| Acquisition and Assistance | Mark A. Walther |
|----------------------------|-----------------|

|                     |                |
|---------------------|----------------|
| Executive Secretary | Jeremy Bernton |
|---------------------|----------------|

|                 |                    |
|-----------------|--------------------|
| General Counsel | Margaret L. Taylor |
|-----------------|--------------------|

<https://www.usaid.gov/who-we-are/organization/leadership-listing>

Central Bureaus

ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATORS

|                    |           |
|--------------------|-----------|
| Foreign Assistance | (vacancy) |
|--------------------|-----------|

|                                |           |
|--------------------------------|-----------|
| Legislative and Public Affairs | (vacancy) |
|--------------------------------|-----------|

|            |                          |
|------------|--------------------------|
| Management | Colleen R. Allen, Acting |
|------------|--------------------------|

ASSISTANT TO THE ADMINISTRATOR

|                               |                 |
|-------------------------------|-----------------|
| Policy, Planning and Learning | Michele Sumilas |
|-------------------------------|-----------------|

Functional Bureaus

ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATOR

|  |                          |
|--|--------------------------|
| Development, Democracy, and Innovation | Karl Fickenscher, Acting |
|--|--------------------------|

|               |                       |
|---------------|-----------------------|
| Global Health | Kerry Pelzman, Acting |
|---------------|-----------------------|

---

ASSISTANT TO THE ADMINISTRATOR

|                                       |                        |
|---------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Conflict Prevention and Stabilization | Robert Jenkins, Acting |
|---------------------------------------|------------------------|

|                         |               |
|-------------------------|---------------|
| Humanitarian Assistance | Sarah Charles |
|-------------------------|---------------|

|                              |              |
|------------------------------|--------------|
| Resilience and Food Security | Jim Barnhart |
|------------------------------|--------------|

Geographic Bureaus

---

ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATORS

|        |                      |
|--------|----------------------|
| Africa | Peter Malnak, Acting |
|--------|----------------------|

|      |                          |
|------|--------------------------|
| Asia | Karen L. Freeman, Acting |
|------|--------------------------|

|                    |                      |
|--------------------|----------------------|
| Europe and Eurasia | Margot Ellis, Acting |
|--------------------|----------------------|

|                                 |                        |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|
| Latin America and the Caribbean | Peter Natiello, Acting |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|

|             |                      |
|-------------|----------------------|
| Middle East | Andrew Plitt, Acting |
|-------------|----------------------|

<https://www.usaid.gov/who-we-are/organization/bureaus>

Independent Offices

---

DIRECTORS

|                                |                |
|--------------------------------|----------------|
| Budget and Resource Management | Tricia Schmitt |
|--------------------------------|----------------|

|                            |                         |
|----------------------------|-------------------------|
| Civil Rights and Diversity | Ismael Martinez, Acting |
|----------------------------|-------------------------|

|          |               |
|----------|---------------|
| Security | John Voorhees |
|----------|---------------|

|  |                        |
|--|------------------------|
| Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization | John M. Watson, Acting |
|--|------------------------|

CHIEF OFFICER

|               |                |
|---------------|----------------|
| Human Capital | Robert Leavitt |
|---------------|----------------|

<https://www.usaid.gov/who-we-are/organization/independent-offices>

Office of Inspector General

---

Inspector General

Thomas J. Ullom, Acting

<https://oig.usaid.gov/leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 6–2021.

The United States Agency for International Development seeks to eradicate extreme global poverty and enables resilient and democratic societies to realize their potential.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The United States Agency for International Development (USAID) is an independent Federal agency established by 22 U.S.C. 6563.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title22/chapter74/subchapter4&edition=prelim>

Its principal statutory authority is the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended (22 U.S.C. 2151 et seq.).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title22/chapter32&edition=prelim>

Its statement of organization was published as a notice in the Federal Register on August 26, 1987, (52 FR 32174).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1987-08-26/pdf/FR-1987-08-26.pdf>

USAID serves as the focal point within the Government for economic matters affecting U.S. relations with developing countries. It administers international economic and humanitarian assistance programs. The Administrator is under the direct authority and foreign policy guidance of the Secretary of State.

<https://www.usaid.gov/who-we-are/mission-vision-values>

The Agency posts its organizational chart online. The chart includes independent offices and central, functional, and geographic bureaus.

<https://www.usaid.gov/who-we-are/organization>

ACTIVITIES

The Agency works in over 100 countries to promote broadly shared economic prosperity, strengthen democracy and good governance, protect human rights, improve global health, advance food security and agriculture, increase environmental sustainability, further education, help societies prevent and recover from conflicts, and provide humanitarian assistance in the wake of natural and manmade disasters.

<https://www.usaid.gov/what-we-do>

Democracy

The Agency promotes the transition to and consolidation of democratic regimes throughout the world. Programs focus on such problems as human rights abuses; misperceptions of democracy and free-market capitalism; lack of experience with democratic institutions; the absence or weakness of intermediary organizations; nonexistent, ineffectual, or undemocratic political parties; disenfranchisement of women, indigenous peoples, and minorities; failure to implement national charter documents; powerless or poorly defined democratic institutions; tainted elections; and inability to resolve conflicts peacefully.

<https://www.usaid.gov/democracy>

Economic Growth

The Agency promotes broad-based economic growth by addressing factors that enhance the capacity for growth and by working to remove obstacles that obstruct individual opportunity. Programs concentrate on strengthening market economies, expanding economic opportunities for the disadvantaged in developing countries, and building human skills and capacities to facilitate broad participation.

<https://www.usaid.gov/economic-growth-and-trade>

Environment

Environmental programs support two strategic goals: 1) reducing long-term threats to the biosphere, particularly loss of biodiversity and change in climate; 2) promoting sustainable economic growth locally, nationally, and regionally by addressing shortsighted economic, environmental, and developmental practices. Globally, USAID programs focus on reducing sources of greenhouse gas emissions and enhancing greenhouse gas sinks and on promoting innovative approaches to the conservation and sustainable use of Earth's biological diversity. The approach adopted to address national environmental problems differs from country to country, depending on its environmental priorities. Strategies may include improving agricultural, industrial, and natural resource management practices; strengthening public policies and institutions; being in dialogue with governments and international agencies; and environmental research and education.

<https://www.usaid.gov/what-we-do/environment-and-global-climate-change>

Global Health and Population

The Agency improves access and quality of services for maternal and child health, nutrition, voluntary family planning, and reproductive health. It prevents and treats HIV/AIDS, malaria, and tuberculosis. It assists countries in the design and implementation of state-of-the-art public health approaches to end preventable child-maternal deaths and achieve an AIDS-free generation. The Agency takes advantage of economies of scale in procurement, technical services, and commodities. To promote sustainability, the Agency helps expand health systems and the health workforce by adopting and scaling-up proven health interventions across programs and countries. It also contributes to a cooperative global effort to stabilize world population growth and support women's reproductive rights. The types of population and health programs supported vary with the particular needs of individual countries and the kinds of approaches that local communities initiate and support.

<https://www.usaid.gov/global-health>

Humanitarian Assistance / Post-Crisis Transitions

The Agency gives humanitarian assistance to save lives, reduce suffering, help victims return to self-sufficiency, and reinforce democracy. Programs focus on disaster prevention, preparedness, and mitigation; timely delivery of disaster relief and short-term rehabilitation supplies and services; preservation of basic institutions of civil governance during a disaster crisis; support for democratic institutions during periods of national transition; and building and reinforcement of local capacity to anticipate disasters and better cope with their aftermath.

<http://www.usaid.gov/what-we-do/working-crises-and-conflict>

Overseas Organizations

USAID country organizations are located in countries where a bilateral program is being implemented. The in-country organizations are subject to the direction and guidance of the chief U.S. diplomatic representative in the country, usually the Ambassador. The organizations report to the appropriate assistant administrators according to geographic bureaus: Africa, Asia and the Near East, Europe and Eurasia, and Latin America and the Caribbean.

Overseas program activities that involve more than one country are administered by regional offices. These offices may also have country organizational responsibilities for assigned countries. Generally, the offices are headed by a regional development officer.

Coordination and representative offices for development assistance provide liaison with various international organizations and represent U.S. interests in development assistance matters. These offices may be only partially staffed by USAID personnel and may be headed by employees of other U.S. Government agencies.

<http://www.usaid.gov/where-we-work>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that USAID records have been assigned to record group 286.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/286.html>

Blog

"Impact" is the name of the official USAID blog.

<https://blog.usaid.gov/>

Bureaus

Geographic bureaus are responsible for the overall activities in countries; functional bureaus conduct Agency programs that are worldwide in nature or that cross geographic boundaries.

<https://www.usaid.gov/who-we-are/organization/bureaus>

Business Opportunities

Through worldwide partnerships, USAID seeks to find innovative and cost-effective ways of addressing global challenges. The Agency partners with educational institutions, faith-based and community organizations, non-governmental organizations, and individuals and organizations in the private sector.

<https://www.usaid.gov/work-usaid/how-to-work-with-usaid>

Career Opportunities

USAID employs professionals with a variety of managerial, operational, and technical skills to achieve its international development goals. Its workforce includes direct-hire and contract employees based in the United States and at field missions worldwide.

<http://www.usaid.gov/careers>

The Partnership for Public Service ranked USAID 14th among 25 midsize agencies in its Best Places To Work in the Federal Government 2019 rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/AM00>

Climate Change

Deforestation and reliance on fossil fuels accelerate climate disruption. As the climate changes, it undermines the efforts of poor communities to be self-supporting. USAID shares data, knowledge, and tools with developing countries to help people predict, prepare for, and adapt to more frequent and more destructive weather-related events. The Agency also helps countries grow in sustainable ways by promoting clean and reliable energy and healthy landscapes. Watch the 3-minute video to learn more about USAID global climate action.

<https://www.usaid.gov/climate/usaid-global-climate-action>

Contact Information

The "Contact Us" web page has an electronic form for submitting comments and questions, phone numbers, and links to relevant USAID web pages.

<https://www.usaid.gov/contact-us> | Email: open@usaid.gov

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that USAID recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/agency-for-international-development>

Foreign Aid Explorer

The Foreign Aid Explorer website offers a multidimensional picture of U.S. foreign assistance to help users find and retrieve the data that they seek. Interactive maps and graphics displaying the historical details of U.S. foreign assistance allow users to explore foreign aid data across countries, sectors, and over time. Advanced users can quickly download data by using data query tools or by selecting a prepared file.

<https://foreignassistance.gov/consolidation>

Forms

An electronic forms page features a selection of up-to-date USAID forms that are arranged according to form number.

<https://www.usaid.gov/forms>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

FOIA requests must be submitted in writing: email, fax, mail, or via the Public Access Link web portal. The Agency does not accept verbal FOIA requests. USAID Government information specialists are available to answer questions. Phone, 202-712-0960. Fax, 202-216-3070.

<https://www.usaid.gov/foia-requests> | Email: foia@usaid.gov

USAID adds records that information seekers request repeatedly to its electronic FOIA library. If the desired record or document is not part of the FOIA library, consider submitting a written FOIA request to obtain the desired information. Please search the electronic reading room before submitting an official request for information.

<https://foiarequest.usaid.gov/app/ReadingRoom.aspx>

History

President John F. Kennedy approved the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 and created USAID by Executive order. Two years later, in a commencement address, he proclaimed: "Our problems are man-made; therefore, they can be solved by man. For in the final analysis, our most basic common link is that we all inhabit this small planet; we all breathe the same air; we all cherish our children's futures—and we are all mortal." President Kennedy's actions and words helped characterize the years of his administration and the one that followed, years that became known as the "decade of development." To learn more about the role that USAID played in expanding international development assistance opportunities, visit the "USAID History" web page.

<https://www.usaid.gov/who-we-are/usaid-history>

Mission Directory

The online mission directory allows users to filter their searches by region: Afghanistan and Pakistan, Africa, Asia, Europe and Eurasia, Latin America and the Caribbean, and the Middle East.

<https://www.usaid.gov/mission-directory>

News

USAID posts news and information: congressional testimonies, events, factsheets, photographs and videos, podcasts, press releases, speeches, and success stories, as well as its "Frontlines" magazine, "Impact" newsletter, and "Impact" blog.

<https://www.usaid.gov/news-info>

Offices

USAID has several independent offices that carry out discrete functions.

<https://www.usaid.gov/who-we-are/organization/independent-offices>

Open Government

USAID supports the Open Government initiative by posting data, records, and reports online.

<https://www.usaid.gov/open>

Plain Language

USAID adheres to the principles of transparency and openness that the Plain Writing Act of 2010 promotes. Plain writing plays a key role in achieving Open Government initiative goals and in improving collaboration, public participation, and transparency.

<https://www.usaid.gov/plain-writing>

SERVIR Global

A joint initiative of USAID and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, SERVIR partners with leading regional organizations worldwide to help developing countries use information from Earth observing satellites and geospatial technologies for managing climate risks and land use. SERVIR products, services, and tools empower decisionmakers to act locally on agriculture, ecosystems, land use, natural disasters, water, and other climate-sensitive issues.

<https://servirglobal.net/>

Social Media

USAID maintains a YouTube channel and has a presence on Facebook, Twitter, and other social media.

<https://www.usaid.gov/stayconnected>

Water / Sanitation

Nearly 2.1 billion people cannot access safe drinking water in their homes, and about 4.4 billion people live exposed to sewage, trash, or both. Inadequate water and sanitation and poor hygiene combine to spread disease and elevate death rates worldwide.

<https://www.usaid.gov/what-we-do/water-and-sanitation>

The Sources of Information were updated 6–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Commission on Civil Rights

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

1331 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Suite 1150, Washington, DC 20425

202-376-8128

800-977-8339 (FedRelay)

<http://www.usccr.gov>

CHAIR

Catherine E. Lhamon

Vice Chair

Patricia Timmons-Goodson

|                |                   |
|----------------|-------------------|
| Commissioner   | Debo P. Adegbile  |
| Commissioner   | Gail Heriot       |
| Commissioner   | Peter N. Kirsanow |
| Commissioner   | David Kladney     |
| Commissioner   | Karen K. Narasaki |
| Commissioner   | Michael Yaki      |
| Staff Director | Mauro A. Morales  |

[For the Commission on Civil Rights statement of organization, see the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 45, Part 701]

The Commission on Civil Rights informs the development of national civil rights policy and enhances enforcement of Federal civil rights laws.

Organizational Chart

The Commission on Civil Rights was first created by the Civil Rights Act of 1957, as amended, and reestablished by the United States Commission on Civil Rights Act of 1994, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1975).

<http://www.usccr.gov/about/index.php>

ACTIVITIES

The Commission conducts hearings on important civil rights issues, including issuing subpoenas for the production of documents and the attendance of witnesses; publishes studies and reports on a wide range of civil rights issues to inform and advise policymakers; holds public briefings, issues press releases, makes information publicly available online, and provides a complaint referral service to promote greater public awareness of civil rights issues, protections, and enforcement; and sustains advisory committee involvement in the national program planning to strengthen factfinding.

<http://www.usccr.gov/about/powers.php>

Regional Programs

The Commission maintains 51 State Advisory Committees (SACs), one for each State and the District of Columbia. Each SAC is composed of citizen volunteers who are familiar with local and State civil rights issues. SAC members assist the Commission with factfinding, investigating, and disseminating information. The Commission ensures that advisory committees are diverse and represent a variety of backgrounds, skills, experiences, and perspectives. This diversity promotes debate and broadens exploration of the issues. All appointments are made in a nondiscriminatory manner.

<http://www.usccr.gov/about/sac.php>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Complaints

The complaint referral service helps place individuals in contact with the appropriate office for obtaining information on the complaint process. Phone, 202-376-8513 or 800-552-6843.

<http://www.usccr.gov/filing/complaint.php> | Email: referrals@usccr.gov

Employment

Career opportunities—vacancy announcements and available internships—are posted online. Contact the Human Resources Division for more information. Phone, 202-376-8364.

<http://www.usccr.gov/about/careers.php> | Email: careers@usccr.gov

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Information on how to file a FOIA request is available online. A request may be sent by email or fax, or by mail to the FOIA Officer, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, 1331 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Suite 1150, Washington, DC 20425. Phone, 202-376-8351. Fax, 202-376-1163.

<http://www.usccr.gov/foia/index.php> | Email: foia@usccr.gov

Library

The Robert S. Rankin Memorial Library welcomes visitors. It is open on weekdays, 10 a.m.–4 p.m. (except on Federal holidays). For more information, contact the Robert S. Rankin Memorial Library, 1331 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20425. Phone, 202-376-8110. Fax, 202-376-7597.

<http://www.usccr.gov/about/library.php> | Email: publications@usccr.gov

Publications

For a complete list of Commission publications, consult the online catalog. It includes briefings; clearinghouse publications; hearings, consultations, and conferences; periodicals; publications in Spanish; staff reports; State advisory committee reports; and statutory and interim reports. To order a publication, contact the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, 1331 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Suite 1150, Washington, DC 20425. Phone: 202-376-8128.

<http://www.usccr.gov/pubs/index.php> | Email: publications@usccr.gov

Regional Offices

A list of the six regional offices—including addresses, telephone numbers, and areas served—is available online.

<http://www.usccr.gov/contact/regional.php>

<http://www.usccr.gov/contact/index.php>

For further information, contact the Office of the Staff Director, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, 1331 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Suite 1150, Washington, DC 20425. Phone, 202-376-7700. Phone, 800-977-8339 (FedRelay).

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States International Trade Commission

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

500 E Street SW., Washington, DC 20436

202-205-2000

<http://www.usitc.gov>

Commissioners

---

CHAIR

David S. Johanson

VICE CHAIR

(vacancy)

Meredith M. Broadbent

Jason E. Kearns

Rhonda K. Schmidlein

Irving A. Williamson

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/bios.htm

CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE

Charles E. Bullock

CHIEF INFORMATION OFFICER

Keith B. Vaughn

GENERAL COUNSEL

Dominic L. Bianchi

Administrative Services Offices

---

CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER

Stephen McLaughlin

DIRECTORS

Human Resources

Eric Mozie

Security and Support Services

Robert N. Riess

Secretary to the Commission

Lisa R. Barton

Financial Offices

---

CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

John M. Ascienzo

---

DIRECTORS

---

Budget

Chris Swetz

---

Finance

Derek Henderson

---

Procurement

---

Debra Bridge

---

Independent Offices

---

DIRECTORS

---

Equal Employment Opportunity

Altivia R. Jackson

---

External Relations

---

Jennifer Andberg

---

Operating Offices

---

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

Catherine B. DeFilippo

---

Chief Data Officer

---

Jeremy Wise

---

DIRECTORS

---

Analysis and Research Services

Jeremy Wise

---

Economics

William M. Powers

---

Industries

Jonathan R. Coleman

---

Investigations

Nannette M. Christ

---

Tariff Affairs and Trade Agreements

James R. Holbein

---

Unfair Import Investigations

Margaret D. Macdonald

---

---

Office of Inspector General

---

Inspector General

Philip M. Heneghan

---

<https://www.usitc.gov/oig.htm>

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2019.

---

The United States International Trade Commission provides the President, the U.S. Trade Representative, and the Congress with independent analysis of and information on tariffs, international trade, and the Nation's competitiveness; makes determinations in proceedings involving imports that may harm a domestic industry or violate U.S. intellectual property rights; and maintains the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

---

The United States International Trade Commission (USITC) is an independent agency created by the Revenue Act (39 Stat. 795) and originally named the United States Tariff Commission. The name was changed to the United States International Trade Commission by section 171 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2231).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title19/pdf/USCODE-2017-title19-chap12.pdf>

With the advice and consent of the Senate, the President appoints six commissioners for 9-year terms, unless the appointment is made to fill an unexpired term. The Chair and Vice Chair are designated by the President for 2-year terms, and succeeding Chairs may not be of the same political party. The Chair generally is responsible for the administration of the Commission. Not more than three Commissioners may be members of the same political party (19 U.S.C. 1330).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title19/pdf/USCODE-2017-title19-chap4-subtitleI.pdf>

The USITC posts its organizational chart (2017) online.

https://www.usitc.gov/documents/usitc\_org\_2017\_revised.pdf

ACTIVITIES

---

The USITC engages in various activities pursuant to the previously mentioned statutes. Under the Tariff Act of 1930, it has broad powers of investigation to scrutinize the following competitive factors: U.S. customs laws and those of foreign countries; the proportional relationship between the volume of imported articles and domestic production and domestic consumption; the conditions, causes, and effects of foreign industries competing with U.S. industries; and any other factor affecting competition between imported articles and U.S. articles. Upon request, the USITC is required to convey its available information to the President, the House Committee on Ways and Means, and the Senate Committee on Finance. The President, the Congress, or the two committees mentioned can direct the USITC to undertake investigations and studies. To carry out its research and conduct its specialized studies, the USITC maintains expertise in all matters relating to the commercial and international trade policies of the United States.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/about\_usitc.htm

Foreign Subsidization / Selling at Less Than Fair Value

The USITC conducts preliminary-phase investigations to determine whether imports of foreign merchandise that are alleged to be subsidized or sold at less than fair value injure or threaten to injure an industry in the United States. If its determination is affirmative and the Secretary of Commerce concludes that unfair practices are occurring or suspects that they may be occurring, then the USITC conducts final-phase investigations to determine the injury or threat of injury to an industry.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/usad.htm

Under the Uruguay Round Agreements Act, the USITC also conducts sunset reviews. In these reviews, the it evaluates whether material injury to a U.S. industry would continue or recur if the antidumping duty or countervailing duty order under review were revoked. Injury reviews must be conducted on all antidumping duty and countervailing duty orders every 5 years for as long as the orders remain in effect.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/us\_sunset.htm

Generalized System of Preferences

With respect to articles that may be considered for preferential removal of the duty on imports from designated developing countries, the USITC advises the President of the economic consequences that removal may have on the domestic industry and on consumers.

<https://www.usitc.gov/glossary/term/generalized-system-preferences-gsp>

Harmonized Tariff Schedule

The U.S. Congress enacted the "Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States" (HTS). The HTS became effective on January 1, 1989, replacing the Nation's former tariff schedules. The USITC publishes the HTS, which contains the U.S. tariff schedules and related matters. The agency also considers questions affecting the arrangement of tariff schedules and the classification of articles.

https://www.usitc.gov/tariff\_affairs/about\_hts.htm

Import Relief for Domestic Industries

The USITC conducts global safeguard investigations upon petition, on behalf of an industry, a firm, a group of workers, or other entity representative of an industry, to determine whether an article is being imported in increased quantities that injure, or threaten to injure, the domestic industry producing a similar article or an article that competes with the imported one. If its determination is affirmative, the USITC recommends to the President action that would address the threat and be most effective in facilitating positive adjustment by the industry to import competition. The President determines if import relief is an appropriate response. The USITC also reports on developments within an industry that has been granted import relief. It advises the President of the probable economic effect of reducing or eliminating the tariff increase that was previously granted. The President may continue, modify, or terminate the import relief.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/us\_safeguard.htm

Imports From NAFTA Countries

Pursuant to section 302 of the NAFTA Implementation Act, the USITC conducts bilateral safeguard investigations.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/BILLS-103hr3450enr/pdf/BILLS-103hr3450enr.pdf>

These investigations seek to determine whether, as a result of the reduction or elimination of a duty that the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) facilitates, a Canadian or Mexican export to the United States in increased quantities and under certain conditions may damage, or threaten to damage, a U.S. industry that produces a similar article competing with the Canadian or Mexican export. If the USITC makes an affirmative determination, it advises the President on the relief needed to prevent or to remedy serious harm. USITC investigations of this kind resemble procedurally investigations that are conducted under the global safeguard-action provisions of the Trade Act of 1974.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/us\_safeguard.htm

Interference With Agricultural Programs

The USITC conducts investigations, at the direction of the President, to determine whether products are being imported into the United States under conditions and in quantities that render, or tend to render, ineffective or that materially interfere with a Department of Agriculture program. The USITC communicates its findings to the President and makes recommendations. The President then may impose a fee or quota on the imports in question; however, no fee or quota may be imposed on any article that a member of the World Trade Organization produces.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/statutory\_resp.htm

Market Disruption From Communist Countries

The USITC conducts investigations to determine whether increased imports of an article produced in a Communist country are causing market disruption in the United States. If the USITC'S determination is in the affirmative, the President may take the same action as in the case of serious injury to an industry, except that the action would apply only to imports of the article from the Communist country. Commission investigations conducted under this provision are similar procedurally to those conducted under the global safeguard action provisions.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/statutory\_resp.htm

Trade Negotiations

When duties and other trade barriers are being considered for modification as part of a proposed trade agreement with a foreign county, the USITC advises the President of the potential economic consequences on U.S. industries and on consumers.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/statutory\_resp.htm

Unfair Import Trade Practices

The USITC applies U.S. statutory and common law of unfair competition to the importation of products into the United States and their sale. If it determines that there is a violation of law, it will direct that the articles involved be excluded from entry into the United States, or it may issue cease-and-desist orders directing the person engaged in such violation to stop.

https://www.usitc.gov/intellectual\_property/about\_section\_337.htm

Uniform Statistical Data

The USITC cooperates with the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Commerce to establish an enumeration of articles imported into and exported from the United States for statistical purposes. It also seeks to establish comparability of these statistics with statistical programs for domestic production.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/statutory\_resp.htm

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Most USITC contract opportunities are reserved for small businesses. They are typically for experienced contractors in the areas of administrative services, facilities management, information technology, and management consulting. The Office of Procurement oversees all procurements. Phone, 202-205-2252.

https://usitc.gov/procurement/doing\_business\_with\_usitc.htm

Career Opportunities

The USITC relies on accountants, analysts and specialists, attorneys, economists, and other professionals to carry out its mission. For more information, contact the Director, Office of Human Resources. Phone, 202-205-2651.

<https://www.usitc.gov/employment/positions.htm> | Email: hr@usitc.gov

The USITC ranked 2d among 29 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's 2018 Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/TC00>

Contact Information

The USITC website has an electronic form for submitting a comment or question.

https://www.usitc.gov/contact\_us.htm

External Links

The "Related External Links" web page has a collection of external links to make locating additional information more convenient.

https://www.usitc.gov/related\_sites.htm

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

Enacted in 1966, the FOIA took effect on July 4, 1967. The statute makes all existing Federal Government records available to the public; however, a record may be shielded from disclosure by one or more of nine exemptions or by specific harm that its disclosure may cause. Any person, except a fugitive from the law, has a right to request access to Federal agency records. The FOIA strengthens democratic governance by giving access to Government records to anyone who submits a proper FOIA request.

<https://www.usitc.gov/secretary/foia/index.htm>

The USITC posts answers to frequently asked FOIA-related questions.

https://www.usitc.gov/secretary/foia/foia\_faq.htm

Glossary

The USITC maintains an online glossary.

<https://usitc.gov/glossary.htm>

The "USITC Acronyms" web page enables the nonspecialist to navigate in an acronym-rich environment.

<https://www.usitc.gov/acronyms.htm>

Harmonized Tariff Schedule

The "Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States," which includes general notes and rules of interpretation, is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF). The HTS is used to classify imported merchandise for rate of duty and statistical purposes.

<https://hts.usitc.gov/current>

History

The USITC has developed a timeline of U.S. tariffs and trade and posted it online.

https://www.usitc.gov/flash/dynamic\_timeline.htm

The USITC celebrated its 100th birthday in September of 2016. To mark that milestone, it published a 453-page history of the agency called "A Centennial History of the United States International Trade Commission" (2017). The entire history is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

https://www.usitc.gov/documents/final\_centennial\_history\_508\_compliant\_v2.pdf

How To Find It

Try the "How Do I Find" web page, which has a collection of links to help online visitors use the USITC website.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/how\_to\_find.htm

Investigations

A list of active antidumping and countervailing duty investigations is available online.

https://www.usitc.gov/trade\_remedy/731\_ad\_701\_cvd/investigations.htm

337Info is an information retrieval system containing data on USITC Section 337 investigations.

<https://pubapps2.usitc.gov/337external> | Email: 337InfoHelp@usitc.gov

The Electronic Document Information System (EDIS) contains all documents that have been filed in relation to USITC investigations. EDIS provides the capabilities to file documents for an investigation and to search for documents that have been submitted to the USITC.

<https://edis.usitc.gov> | Email: EDIS3Help@usitc.gov

Low-Carbon Energy / Sustainable Products

European Union climate regulations, which treat wood pellets as a low-carbon energy source, play a principal role in supporting the wood pellet industry's growth. To learn more, see Robert Ireland's 2018 executive briefing, in which he expresses his views on international trade in this energy source.

https://www.usitc.gov/publications/332/executive\_briefings/wood\_pellets\_ebot\_final.pdf

In their 2018 working paper "Exporting Ecolabels: Is Demand for Certified Sustainable Products Affecting International Trade?" coauthors Renee Berry and Marin Weaver explore the influence of sustainability certifications on trade patterns in food and agricultural products. USITC working papers express the views of their authors and may not represent the views of the U.S. International Trade Commission or its individual Commissioners.

[https://www.usitc.gov/publications/332/working\_papers/exporting ecolabels\_final\_with\_cover\_mjs\_071718.pdf](https://www.usitc.gov/publications/332/working_papers/exporting ecolabels_final_with_cover_mjs_071718.pdf)

News

The USITC posts news releases on its website.

https://www.usitc.gov/press\_room/news\_release/news\_release\_index.htm

Open Data

The USITC helps increase the Federal Government's efficiency and transparency by making its operational information more accessible and useful.

<https://www.usitc.gov/data/index.htm>

Reading Rooms

Reading rooms are open to the public in the Office of the Secretary and the USITC Main Library. The USITC Law Library is publicly accessible by prior arrangement. Call 202-205-3287 to schedule a visit.

Popular Topics

The "Popular Topics" web page has links to frequently visited USITC pages. Popular topics include calendar events, commissioner biographies, "Federal Register" notices, hearing protocols, jobs, and news releases.

https://usitc.gov/popular\_topics.htm

Publications

The Commission publishes results of investigations on various commodities and subjects. Other publications include an annual report to the Congress on the operation of the trade agreements program and an annual review of Commission activities. Specific information on these publications may be obtained from the Office of the Secretary.

https://usitc.gov/research\_and\_analysis/commission\_publications.htm

Site Map

The USITC site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.usitc.gov/sitemap>

Trade Seminars

The research division of the Office of Economics posts the International Trade Seminar Series on the USITC website.

https://www.usitc.gov/research\_and\_analysis/seminars\_economics.htm

The Sources of Information were updated 7–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Office of Special Counsel

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES OFFICE OF SPECIAL COUNSEL

1730 M Street NW., Suite 218, Washington, DC 20036-4505

202-804-7000

800-872-9855

202-653-5151

<http://www.osc.gov>

LEADERSHIP TABLES

---

SPECIAL COUNSEL

Henry J. Kerner

---

Principal Deputy Special Counsel

Ellen C. Epstein

---

DEPUTY SPECIAL COUNSELS

---

Legal Affairs

Patrick Hartobey

---

Public Policy

Travis Millsaps

---

General Counsel

Susan K. Ullman

<https://osc.gov/Pages/Leadership.aspx>

Administrative Services Division

---

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Bruce Gipe

---

CHIEF OFFICERS

---

Administrative Services

Derrick McDuffie

---

Data

Smita Patel

---

Financial

Karl P. Kammann

---

Human Capital

Kathy McDuffie

---

Information

Smita Patel

---

Clerk

Mahala Dar

General Law Division

---

ASSOCIATE SPECIAL COUNSEL

Anne Wagner

---

UNIT CHIEFS

---

Alternative Dispute Resolution

Jane Juliano

---

Complaints Examining

Barbara J. Wheeler

---

Disclosure

Catherine A. McMullen

---

Diversity, Outreach, and Training

Shirine Moazed

---

Investigation and Prosecution Division—Field

---

ASSOCIATE SPECIAL COUNSEL

Bruce D. Fong

---

FIELD OFFICE CHIEFS

---

Dallas

Anne Gullick

---

Detroit

Christopher T. Tall

---

San Francisco Bay Area

Joseph Siegelman

---

Investigation and Prosecution Division—Headquarters

---

ASSOCIATE SPECIAL COUNSEL

Louis Lopez

---

DIVISION CHIEFS

---

Kimberley Baxter

---

Emilee Collier

---

Darshan Sheth

---

Rachel Venier

---

UNIT CHIEFS

---

|   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| Hatch Act   | Ana Galindo-Marrone |
| Retaliation and Disclosure                                | Elizabeth McMurray  |
| Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act | Patrick H. Boulay   |

The above list of key personnel was updated 11–2019.

The United States Office of Special Counsel investigates allegations of certain activities prohibited by civil service laws, rules, or regulations and litigates before the Merit Systems Protection Board.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The U.S. Office of Special Counsel (OSC) was established on January 1, 1979, by Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1978 (5 U.S.C. app.).

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5a-node84-leaf186&num=0&edition=prelim>
Public Law 95–454, which is also cited as the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978, was approved on October 13, 1978, and became effective on January 11, 1979. This statute enlarged the agency's functions and powers (92 Stat. 1112).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-92/pdf/STATUTE-92-Pg1111.pdf>

Pursuant to provisions of Public Law 101–12, which is also cited as the Whistleblower Protection Act of 1989, the OSC functions as an independent investigative and prosecutorial executive branch agency that litigates before the Merit Systems Protection Board (103 Stat. 16).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-103/pdf/STATUTE-103-Pg16.pdf>

Statutory material associated with the OSC is codified in sections 1211—1219 of 5 U.S. C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title5/part2/chapter12/subchapter2&edition=prelim>

Additional statutory material that affects the OSC and that derives from the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 is codified in section 1101, note, of 5 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title5/part2/chapter11&edition=prelim>

The OSC included an organizational chart in its "Performance and Accountability Report for Fiscal Year 2018" on page 107.

https://osc.gov/Documents/Resources/Statutory%20Reports%20and%20Notices/Performance%20and%20Accountability%20Reports%20\(PAR\)/Performance%20Reports/FY%202018%20Performance%20and%20Accountability%20Report.pdf/Performance%20Reports/FY%202018%20Performance%20and%20Accountability%20Report.pdf)

ACTIVITIES

The OSC safeguards the merit system in Federal employment by protecting employees and applicants from prohibited personnel practices, especially from reprisal for whistleblowing. The Office operates a secure channel for Federal whistleblower disclosures of gross waste of funds or mismanagement, substantial and specific danger to public health and safety, and violations of laws, regulations, or rules. The OSC also issues advice on the Hatch Act and enforces its restrictions on political activity by Government employees. It protects the civilian employment and reemployment rights of military servicemembers under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Act. The OSC enhances Government accountability and performance by the realization of a diverse, inclusive Federal workplace where employees embrace excellence in service, uphold merit system principles, are encouraged to disclose wrongdoing, and are protected against reprisals and other unlawful employment practices.

<https://osc.gov/Services>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that OSC records have been assigned to record group 481. The Guide is accessible online, but no description is associated with this record group.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/000.html>

Business Opportunities

The OSC relies on the Department of Interior for performing assisted procurements. The OSC posts contract opportunities online by using Government acquisition vehicles like GSA Ebuy. It posts open market opportunities on the Federal Business Opportunities Web site.

<https://osc.gov/Careers>

Career Opportunities

The agency employs approximately 110 employees who work in Washington, DC, or in the Dallas, Detroit, and Oakland field offices. To carry out its mission, the OSC relies heavily on attorneys, investigators, and personnel management specialists.

The OSC seeks law students year-round for internships in Dallas, TX; Detroit, MI; Oakland, CA; and Washington, DC.

<https://osc.gov/Careers>

In 2018, the OSC ranked 14th among 29 small agencies in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/FW00>

Contact Information

The "Contact OSC" web page has postal and email addresses and phone numbers.

<https://osc.gov/Pages/contact.aspx> | Email: info@osc.gov

Electronic Filing

The E-Filing System makes filing a complaint with the OSC easier and faster.

<https://osc.gov/pages/file-complaint.aspx>

En Español

The OSC posts information in Spanish on its "Para Información En Español" web page.

<https://osc.gov/Espanol>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

FOIA requests must be submitted in writing by email, fax, or U.S. postal mail or other delivery service. The OSC provides a Public Access Link portal that allows information seekers to submit a request online and to receive confirmation of and updates on a pending request.

<https://osc.gov/Pages/FOIA-Resources.aspx>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The OSC posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://osc.gov/FAQ>

Hatch Act Advisory Opinions

Advice that the OSC has given to individuals on the Hatch Act is publicly accessible online.

<https://osc.gov/Services/Pages/HatchAct-AdvisoryOpinion.aspx>

News

The OSC posts press releases online.

<https://osc.gov/PressReleases>

Open Government

The OSC supports the Open Government initiative by promoting the principles of collaboration, participation, and transparency.

<https://osc.gov/OpenGov>

Prohibited Personnel Practices

The OSC provides information on personnel practices that are prohibited within the Federal workplace.

<https://osc.gov/Services/Pages/PPP.aspx>

Reports

The OSC posts reports on its website.

<https://osc.gov/Reports>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://osc.gov/Pages/SiteMap.aspx>

Social Media

The OSC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/US\_OSC

Speakers

To request a speaker, contact the OSC by phone or fax. Phone, 202-804-7000. Fax, 202-254-3711.

Whistleblower Files

The OSC posts documents from closed investigations on its website. These documents are based on whistleblower disclosures.

<https://osc.gov/PublicFiles>

2302(c) Program Certification

The White House has required all Federal agencies to certify that they are educating their employees about the rights of whistleblowers. Phone, 703-466-0259.

<https://osc.gov/Services/Pages/Outreach-2302Cert.aspx> | Email: 2302c@osc.gov

The Sources of Information were updated 11–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Postal Service

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES POSTAL SERVICE

475 L'Enfant Plaza SW., Washington, DC 20260

202-268-2000

<http://about.usps.com>

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

---

|  |                    |
|--|--------------------|
| CHAIR  | Robert M. Duncan   |
| Vice Chair   | (vacancy)          |
| Governor   | John M. Barger     |
| Governor   | Ronald A. Bloom    |
| Governor   | Roman Martinez IV  |
| Governor   | Donald L. Moak     |
| Governor   | William D. Zollars |
| Governor   | (vacancy)          |
| Governor   | (vacancy)          |
| Postmaster General / Chief Executive Officer                   | Louis DeJoy        |
| Deputy Postmaster General / Chief Government Relations Officer | (vacancy)          |
| Secretary  | Michael J. Elston  |

<http://about.usps.com/who-we-are/leadership/board-governors.htm>

OFFICERS

---

|  |                        |
|--|------------------------|
| POSTMASTER GENERAL / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER | Louis DeJoy            |
| Deputy Postmaster General                    | (vacancy)              |
| EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENTS                    | Scott Bombaugh, Acting |
|  | Joseph Corbett         |
|  | Isaac Cronkhite        |

Thomas J. Marshall

Pritha Mehra, Acting

Steve Monteith, Acting

Kristin Seaver

Jacqueline Krage Strako

David E. Williams

Chief Postal Inspector

Gary Barksdale

General Counsel

Thomas J. Marshall

VICE PRESIDENT

Corporate Communications

Jeffery A. Adams

<http://about.usps.com/who-we-are/leadership/pmg-exec-comm.htm#p=1>

Commerce and Business Solutions

CHIEF COMMERCE AND BUSINESS SOLUTIONS OFFICER

Jacqueline Krage Strako

VICE PRESIDENTS

Facilities

Thomas Samra

Business Development

(vacancy)

Business Solutions

(vacancy)

Transportation Strategy

Kelly Abney, Acting

Customer Affairs and Marketing

CHIEF CUSTOMER AND MARKETING OFFICER

Steve Monteith, Acting

---

VICE PRESIDENTS

---

Customer Experience

Kelly M. Sigmon

---

Marketing

(vacancy)

---

Product Innovation

Gary Reblin

---

Sales

Timothy R. Costello, Acting

---

Financial Affairs

---

CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Joseph Corbett

---

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT

---

Finance and Strategy

Luke Grossman

---

VICE PRESIDENTS

---

Controller

Cara Greene

---

Pricing and Costing

Sharon Owens

---

Supply Management

Mark Guilfoil

---

Government Relations

---

CHIEF GOVERNMENT RELATIONS OFFICER

(vacancy)

---

Judicial Officer

Alan R. Caramella, Acting

---

<https://about.usps.com/who/judicial>

Human Resources

---

CHIEF HUMAN RESOURCES OFFICER

Isaac Cronkhite

---

Labor Relations

Douglas Tulino

---

Employee Resource Management

Simon Storey

---

Information

---

CHIEF INFORMATION OFFICER

Pritha Mehra, Acting

---

VICE PRESIDENTS

Mail Entry and Payment Technology

Randy Workman, Acting

---

Information Security

Gregory S. Crabb

---

Information Technology

Marc McCrery, Acting

---

Chief Information Security Officer

Gregory S. Crabb

---

Logistics and Processing Operations

---

CHIEF LOGISTICS AND PROCESSING OPERATIONS OFFICER

David E. Williams

---

VICE PRESIDENTS

Logistics

Robert Cintron

---

Processing and Maintenance Operations

Mike Barber

---

VICE PRESIDENTS—REGIONAL OPERATIONS

Eastern

Dane Coleman

---

Western

Larry Muñoz

Retail and Delivery

---

CHIEF RETAIL AND DELIVERY OFFICER

Kristin Seaver

VICE PRESIDENTS

Delivery Operations

Joshua D. Colin

Retail and Post Office Operations

Angela Curtis

VICE PRESIDENTS—AREA OPERATIONS

Atlantic

Salvatore Vacca

Central

Krista Finazzo, Acting

Southern

Shaun E. Mossman

Western Pacific

Gregory Graves

Technology

---

CHIEF TECHNOLOGY OFFICER

Scott Bombaugh, Acting

VICE PRESIDENTS

Engineering Systems

Linda M. Malone, Acting

Enterprise Analytics

Jeffrey C. Johnson

<http://about.usps.com/who-we-are/leadership/officers.htm>

Inspector General

Tammy L. Whitcomb

<https://www.uspsaig.gov/about-us/tammy-whitcomb>

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2020.

The United States Postal Service binds the Nation together through the people's personal, educational, literary, and business correspondence by providing prompt, reliable, and efficient services to patrons in all areas and by rendering postal services to all communities.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

Three weeks after the battles of Lexington and Concord, the Second Continental Congress met in Philadelphia and planned for the defense of the colonies against Great Britain. The conveyance of letters and intelligence was essential for winning the war for independence. A committee, which Benjamin Franklin chaired, was named to consider the creation of a postal system. The committee reported back to the Continental Congress in July of 1775. The Continental Congress agreed to the committee's recommendations, quickly created the position of Postmaster General, and named the committee's chair to fill the new position. Under Franklin and his immediate successors, the postal system mainly carried communications between Congress and the Continental Army. To ensure reliable service, postmasters and post riders were exempt from military duties. Franklin served as Postmaster General until November of 1776. He held the office when the Declaration of Independence created the United States in July of that year, which means that Franklin had the distinction of serving as the first Postmaster General of the United States. America's present Postal Service descends from the system Franklin placed in operation.

<https://about.usps.com/publications/pub100.pdf>

The Articles of Confederation were ratified in 1781. Article IX addressed the establishment and regulation of "post offices from one State to another, throughout all the United States" and the exaction of "postage on the papers passing" from State to State, throughout the United States, "as may be requisite to defray the expenses of the said office."

<https://www.ourdocuments.gov/doc.php?flash=false&doc=3&page=transcript>

The Constitution of the United States gives the U.S. Congress the power "to establish Post Offices and post Roads" (ART. I, Sec. 8).

<https://www.ourdocuments.gov/doc.php?flash=false&doc=9&page=transcript>

On September 22, 1789, President George Washington approved an "Act for the temporary establishment of the Post-Office" (1 Stat. 70). This temporary piece of legislation provided that "the regulations of the post-office shall be the same as they last were under the resolutions and ordinances of the late Congress." It also provided for the appointment of a Postmaster General, who would "be subject to the direction of the President . . . in performing the duties of his office, and in forming contracts for the transportation of the mail." The Act remained in force "until the end of the next session of Congress," and its provisions were continued by subsequent acts.

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/1st-congress/session-1/c1s1ch16.pdf>

On June 8, 1872, President Ulysses S. Grant approved an "Act to revise, consolidate, and amend the Statutes relating to the Post-office Department" (17 Stat. 283). Even before the passage of this law, the Post Office, or General Post Office, as it sometimes was called, had acquired the additional epithet of Post-office Department, which inaccurately implied its prior establishment as an executive branch department. This law "established, at the seat of government of the United States of America, a department to be known as the Post-office Department." The Post Office was now officially named the Post-office Department, and it had acquired departmental status within the executive branch of Government.

<https://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/42nd-congress/session-2/c42s2ch335.pdf>

Pursuant to the provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1949 (PL 81-109), President Harry S. Truman prepared Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1949 and transmitted it to the Senate and the House of Representatives on June 20, 1949. The provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1949 became effective on August 20, 1949.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title5a-node84-leaf99&num=0&edition=prelim>

On August 23, 1949, the National Archives published President Truman's reorganization plan in the Federal Register (14 FR 5225). The plan "established an Advisory Board for the Post Office Department." In addition to the Chair and Vice Chair, the Board comprised seven other members who were representative of the public. It also provided that these seven members "shall be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate"; that this same process shall be applied to the appointment of the Deputy Postmaster General; and that the Post Office Department's Postmaster General and Deputy Postmaster General shall serve as the Board's Chair and Vice Chair.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1949-08-23/pdf/FR-1949-08-23.pdf>

On August 12, 1970, President Richard M. Nixon approved Public Law 91-375, which is commonly cited as the Postal Reorganization Act. Senators and Representatives passed this piece of legislation "to improve and modernize the postal service" and "to reorganize the Post Office Department." Regarding postal policy, the Act stated: "The United States Postal Service shall be operated as a basic and fundamental service provided to the people by the Government of the United States, authorized by the Constitution, created by Act of Congress, and supported by the people . . . . shall have as its basic function the obligation to provide postal services to bind the Nation together through the personal, educational, literary, and business correspondence of the people . . . . shall provide prompt, reliable, and efficient services to patrons in all areas and shall render postal services to all communities. The costs of establishing and maintaining the Postal Service shall not be apportioned to impair the overall value of such service to the people" (84 Stat. 719). The present United States Postal Service (USPS) commenced operations on July 1, 1971.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-84/pdf/STATUTE-84-Pg719.pdf>

The most comprehensive postal legislation since the Nation's founding, the Postal Reorganization Act transformed the Post Office Department into the USPS, an independent establishment of the executive branch of the Federal Government. The Act did not change, however, the mission of the Postal Service, as stated in section 101 of 39 U.S.C. The new USPS began operations on July 1, 1971, the same day that the President's Cabinet no longer included the Postmaster General among its membership. The Act affected postal rates and mail classifications, terms and conditions of employment, labor and management relations, laws that govern mail transportation, and compensation and benefits for USPS officers and employees.

Regarding labor and management relations, the Postal Reorganization Act authorized collective bargaining on wages and working conditions under laws that apply to private industry and provided for binding arbitration if an impasse persists 180 days after the start of bargaining. The strike ban, which is applicable to all Federal employees, remained in effect. The Act authorized the National Labor Relations Board to determine proper bargaining units, supervise representative elections, and enforce the unfair labor practices provisions. It also protected the rights of all employees to form, join, or assist a labor organization or to refrain from such activity. Today, the USPS is the only Federal agency whose employment policies are governed by a process of collective bargaining that the National Labor Relations Act prescribes.

<https://about.usps.com/publications/pub100.pdf>

On December 20, 2006, President George W. Bush signed Public Law 109–435, which is cited usually as the Postal Accountability and Enhancement Act (120 Stat. 3198).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-120/pdf/STATUTE-120-Pg3198.pdf>

This piece of legislation made more than 150 changes to Federal law, affecting the Postal Service.

<https://about.usps.com/transforming-business/postal-act-2006.htm>

Changes included the categorization of postal products, the replacement of the Postal Rate Commission by the Postal Regulatory Commission, transferring the obligation to pay military pension costs, and the establishment of the Postal Service Retiree Health Benefits Fund, into which the Postal Service was required to prepay benefits for 10 years into the future.

<https://about.usps.com/publications/pub100.pdf>

Spanning two full centuries and parts of two others, congressional action and Presidential approval have shaped the general organization of the Postal Service into what it is today. The Board of Governors directs the exercise of USPS powers, reviews its practices and policies, and directs and controls USPS expenditures. The Board comprises 11 members, 9 of whom the President appoints by the advice and with the consent of the Senate. Not more than five governors may belong to the same political party. The governors are chosen to represent the public interest, and they may not be representatives of specific interests that use the Postal Service. The Postmaster General and Deputy Postmaster General are also voting members of the Board.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=ac56841027cf753f6ab20c24468d6fa3&mc=true&node=pt39.1.221&rgn=div5#se39.1.221\_12

The chief executive officer of the Postal Service is the Postmaster General, who is responsible responsible for the overall operation of the Postal Service. The Board of Governors appoints the Postmaster General. The Postmaster General and the governors appoint the Deputy Postmaster General.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=ac56841027cf753f6ab20c24468d6fa3&mc=true&node=pt39.1.221&rgn=div5#se39.1.221\_14

The USPS posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://about.usps.com/who/leadership/hq-org.pdf>

The USPS statement of organization has been assigned to part 221 in 39 CFR.

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?

SID=ac56841027cf753f6ab20c24468d6fa3&mc=true&node=pt39.1.221&rgn=div5

STATUTORY AND REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

Statutory material affecting the Postal Service has been codified and assigned to 39 U.S.C. The title comprises four parts: General, Personnel, Modernization and Fiscal Administration, Mail Matter, and Transportation of Mail.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title39&edition=prelim>

Regulatory material that is associated with the USPS is codified and assigned to 39 CFR. The title comprises parts 1–3099.

<https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?>

SID=ac56841027cf753f6ab20c24468d6fa3&mc=true&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title39/39tab\_02.tpl

ACTIVITIES

The USPS provides business, Government, mailing, shipping, and sustainability services, as well as law enforcement. As a Federal agency, the USPS has been a sustainability leader through policies and programs like its renewable energy and recycling initiatives.

<https://about.usps.com/what/welcome.htm>

The USPS is the only delivery service that reaches every mailbox—including APO, FPO, DPO, and post office box addresses—nationwide. This comprehensive reach allows the USPS to support Government activities through its services like the distribution of tax forms and the delivery of ballots overseas.

<https://about.usps.com/what/government-services>

USPS programs support communities through disseminating information, educating, and participating in worthwhile causes. Examples of these types of programs include National Dog Bite Awareness Week, the Stamp Out Hunger National Food Drive, and a partnership with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children.

<https://about.usps.com/what/corporate-social-responsibility/activities>

The U.S. Postal Inspection Service has jurisdiction in criminal matters affecting the integrity and security of the mail. Postal inspectors protect all postal employees and enforce Federal statutes involving mail fraud, mail bombs, child pornography, illegal drugs, mail theft, and other postal crimes.

<https://www.uspis.gov>

To expand and improve its services, the USPS engages in customer cooperation activities, including the development of programs for both the general public and major customers. To provide services that are responsive to public needs, the Postal Service operates its own planning, research, engineering, real estate, and procurement programs, and it maintains close ties with international postal organizations.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Annual Food Drive

On the second Saturday of May, in more than 10,000 cities and towns nationwide, letter carriers collect food that postal customers donate, as part of the National Association of Letter Carriers' (NALC) one-day Stamp Out Hunger National Food Drive, which is the largest in the Nation. Led by letter carriers who are represented by the NALC (AFL-CIO), with help from rural letter carriers, other postal employees, and volunteers, the drive has delivered more than one billion pounds of food over the past 25 years. Carriers collect nonperishable food donations in post offices and at mailboxes and deliver them to local community food banks, pantries, and shelters. Nearly 1,500 NALC branches in all 50 States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands participate.

<https://about.usps.com/what/corporate-social-responsibility/activities/nalc-food-drive.htm>

Annual Reports / Strategic Plans

Documents that are required by law and regularly published by the Office of Strategic Planning are available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing online and downloading.

<https://about.usps.com/strategic-planning/future-postal-service/publications.htm>

Archived Records

The "Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States" indicates that USPS records have been assigned to record group 488. The guide is accessible online, but it does not contain a description that is associated with record group 488.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/index-numeric/401-to-500.html>

Blog

"Postal Posts" is the USPS's official blog.

<https://uspsblog.com>

Business Customers

The Business Customer Gateway website supports USPS online services for mailers, shippers, and business.

<https://gateway.usps.com/eAdmin/view/signin>

Business Opportunities

Suppliers can learn about doing business with the Postal Service online. Information on rights and permissions (the use of trademarked material) and licensing products is also available online.

<http://about.usps.com/doing-business/welcome.htm>

Career Opportunities

Information on careers—including information for veterans and reservists, for students and recent graduates—is available on the USPS website or at the nearest post office.

<https://about.usps.com/careers>

In 2019, the Office of Inspector General ranked 57th among 420 agency subcomponents in the Partnership for Public Service's Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<https://bestplacetowork.org/rankings/detail/PS01>

Change of Address

A family member, individual, or business owner may change his or her address online, using the "Official USPS Change-of-Address" web page.

<https://moversguide.usps.com/mgo/disclaimer?referral=MG14>

Contact Information

The USPS posts contact information online. It also operates a customer care center. Phone, 800-275-8777.

<https://www.usps.com/help/contact-us.htm>

USPS media relations specialists can answer questions that journalists and reporters may have.

<https://about.usps.com/newsroom/national-releases/welcome.htm#national-media-contacts>

Election Mail

Americans rely on the USPS to fulfill its role in the electoral process. The Postal Service provides an effective, efficient, and secure way for citizens to participate in democracy when policymakers decide to use mail as part of elections.

<https://about.usps.com/what/government-services/election-mail>

The USPS Office of Inspector General website has a section that is devoted to "Election and Political Mail."

<https://www.uspsoig.gov/election-and-political-mail>

Federal Register

Significant documents and documents that the USPS recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/postal-service>

Forms / Publications

The "Resources" web page provides convenient access to USPS forms and publications, including the "Postal Bulletin," which was started in 1880.

<http://about.usps.com/periodicals-publications/welcome.htm>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA is a Federal law that provides the public a right of access to Government documents and records, the premise being that the public has a right to know what the Federal Government is doing. The FOIA applies to executive branch agencies, which includes the USPS. Any person may request a copy of USPS records. The USPS must provide copies of such records, unless a FOIA exemption exists that shields the information from disclosure.

<https://about.usps.com/who/legal/foia>

The Postal Service maintains an electronic FOIA library. Frequently requested records—previously released records that have been or are likely to become the subject of repeated requests—are part of the FOIA library. Before submitting a formal FOIA request, check the online library to see if the desired information is already accessible without charge and without delay.

<https://about.usps.com/who-we-are/foia/readroom/welcome.htm>

History

Benjamin Franklin and the Postal Service, what was the nature of their association? It was closer than many Americans may know. To learn more about the role Franklin played in the early years of the Postal Service, see the 149-page and poignantly illustrated publication "The United States Postal Service: An American History." The publication is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing online and downloading.

<https://about.usps.com/publications/pub100.pdf> | Email: phistory@usps.gov

The National Postal Museum houses one of the largest and most significant philatelic and postal history collections in the world and one of the most comprehensive library resources on philately and postal history. The museum's exhibition galleries present America's postal history from Colonial times to the present. Its collections contain prestigious international and U.S. postal issues and specialized collections, archival postal documents, and three-dimensional objects.

<https://postalmuseum.si.edu>

Mail Hold

Before submitting a "USPS Hold Mail" request, the requester must create a USPS account. Once an account is created, an account holder may print shipping labels, purchase stamps, print custom forms online, and manage a post office box.

<https://reg.usps.com/login?app=HOLDMAIL&appURL=https%3A%2F%2Fholdmail.usps.com%2Fholdmail%2F>

News

The USPS posts national news items on its "Newsroom" web page.

<https://about.usps.com/newsroom>

Passports

Thousands of post offices accept passport applications on behalf of the Department of State. These post offices offer the products and services needed to acquire a first-time passport or renewal. At some locations, a passport photograph can be taken for an additional fee.

<https://www.usps.com/international/passports.htm>

Philatelic Sales

For information on available stamps, philatelic items, and collectibles, visit the "Stamps" web page.

https://store.usps.com/store/results/stamps/\_/N-9y93lv#content

Photo Galleries

Photo galleries are found in the "Our History" section of the USPS website. The galleries are six in number: airmail, buildings, equipment, people, railroads, and vehicles. Students of history can find some arresting images in the galleries.

<https://about.usps.com/who-we-are/postal-history/pho-gallery.htm>

Postal Certainty

The 30-second video highlights the long-standing culture of service associated with USPS mail carriers.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uuNLLZcSTKE>

Postal Explorer

The Postal Explorer website is a virtual library of postal information and tools for USPS customers, business mailers, and employees. It brings a wealth of postal requirements for mailing and shipping together, in one place, in an easy-to-use format.

<https://pe.usps.com>

Postal Facts

The history of the USPS reaches back to the founding of the Nation. The "Postal Facts" web page has information on postal operations and revenue, as well as other information of a more trivial character.

<https://facts.usps.com>

Postal Money Orders

Using a money order for sending money by mail is a safe alternative to cash and personal checks. A USPS money order is affordable, widely accepted, and never expires. The money order receipt helps with tracking the payment and shows proof of value in case the money order is damaged or stolen or goes missing.

<https://www.usps.com/international/money-transfers.htm>

Postmaster and Post Officer Finder

Most postmasters who were appointed after 1986 and some postmasters who were appointed before that year, going back to the 18th century, are included in the database. Currently, complete information on more than 15,000 post offices is available, and the number increases weekly.

<https://about.usps.com/who-we-are/postmasterfinder/welcome.htm>

Public Opinion

On page 10 of its "FY2019 Annual Report to Congress," the USPS reported: "Public interest and opinion of our organization remain strong. In a poll released in September 2019, the Pew Research Center found that 90 percent of Americans held a favorable opinion of the Postal Service, a higher rating than any other Federal Government agency. Additionally, an April 2019 Gallup Poll found that three in four Americans (74 percent) rated the job performance of the organization as 'excellent' or 'good,' placing [it] as the highest rated Governmental agency. The Postal Service has achieved this top ranking every year Gallup has measured it (2014, 2017, and 2019)."

<https://about.usps.com/what/financials/annual-reports/fy2019.pdf>

Reading Areas

Reading areas are maintained in the library at USPS Headquarters on the 11th Floor. The library's holdings include historic, legal, regulatory, and other documents. Visitors must schedule an appointment before accessing the library. Phone, 202-268-2906.

Semipostal Stamps

Semipostal stamps are postage stamps with a postage value equal to the First-Class Mail single-piece, 1-ounce, stamp rate, plus an amount to fund a designated cause. Revenue from sales of semipostal stamps, less the postage paid and the costs incurred by the Postal Service, is distributed to designated agencies for support of the particular cause.

<https://about.usps.com/what/corporate-social-responsibility/activities/semipostals.htm>

Site Indices and Maps

The USPS site index allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.usps.com/globals/site-index.htm>

The PostalPro site index allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://postalpro.usps.com/site-index>

The U.S. Postal Inspection Service site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.uspis.gov/sitemap>

The Smithsonian's National Postal Museum site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://postalmuseum.si.edu/site-map>

Social Media

The USPS has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/USPS>

The Postal Service tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/usps>

The Postal Service posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/uspstv/custom>

Stamp Collecting

Stamps are miniature gateways to the world. Collectors learn about art, biography, culture, geography, and history as they pursue their interests and build their collections. Stamp collecting has very few rules, and expensive equipment is not required to participate.

<https://postalmuseum.si.edu/introduction-to-stamp-collecting>

Sustainability

The USPS is committed to environmental stewardship and leading by example to ensure that we leave behind a healthy biosphere and habitable planet for future generations.

<https://facts.usps.com/sustainability>

The USPS 40-page "Annual Sustainability Report—2020" is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing online and downloading.

<https://about.usps.com/what/corporate-social-responsibility/sustainability>

Zip Codes

Looking for a Zip Code? Visit the "Look Up a Zip Code" web page.

<https://tools.usps.com/go/ZipLookupAction!input.action>

The Sources of Information were updated 9–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Legal Services Corporation

The United States Government Manual

LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION

3333 K Street NW., Washington, DC 20007

202-295-1500

202-337-6797

<http://www.lsc.gov>

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

---

|            |                         |
|------------|-------------------------|
| CHAIR      | John G. Levi            |
| Vice-Chair | Fr. Pius Pietrzyk, O.P. |
|            | Robert J. Grey, Jr.     |
|            | Matthew Keenan          |
|            | Abigail Lawlis Kuzma    |
|            | Victor B. Maddox        |
|            | John G. Malcolm         |
|            | Laurie Mikva            |
|            | Frank X. Neuner, Jr.    |
|            | Julie A. Reiskin        |
|            | Gloria Valencia-Weber   |

<https://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/board-members>

LEADERSHIP

---

|   |                      |
|---|----------------------|
| PRESIDENT                               | Ronald S. Flagg      |
| Chief of Staff                          | Rebecca Fertig Cohen |
| VICE PRESIDENTS                         |                      |
| Government Relations and Public Affairs | Carol A. Bergman     |
| Grants Management                       | Lynn A. Jennings     |
| Legal Affairs                           | William A. Gunn      |
| Corporate Secretary                     | Rebecca Fertig Cohen |
| General Counsel                         | William A. Gunn      |

Treasurer

Deborah Moore

---

Chief Officers

---

Data

(vacancy)

Financial

Deborah Moore

Information

Jada Breegle

---

Office Directors

---

Compliance and Enforcement

Lora Rath

Data Governance and Analysis

(vacancy)

Human Resources

Traci Higgins

Institutional Advancement

Nadia Elguindy

Program Performance

Joyce McGee

<https://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/lsc-leadership>

Inspector General

Jeffrey E. Schanz

<https://www.oig.lsc.gov/about-oig/meet-the-ig>

The above list of key personnel was updated 6–2021.

The Legal Services Corporation promotes equal access to justice and provides civil legal assistance to low-income persons.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On July 25, 1974, President Richard M. Nixon approved Public Law 93–355 "to amend the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 to provide for the transfer of the legal services program from the Office of Economic Opportunity to a Legal Services Corporation." The Legal Services Corporation Act of 1974, as amended (42 U.S.C. 2996 et seq.), established a private, nonprofit corporation to promote equal access to justice under the law for all Americans.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-88/pdf/STATUTE-88-Pg378.pdf>

The President appoints, by the advice and with the consent of the Senate, the 11 members who constitute the Board of Directors, which heads the LSC. By law, it is bipartisan and no more than six members may be of the same political party. A member is appointed to a term of 3 years. A majority of the Board members must be members of the bar of the highest court of any State. The Board meets four or more times per year.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title42/pdf/USCODE-2017-title42-chap34.pdf>

An organizational chart is available on the "LSC Leadership" web page.

<https://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/lsc-leadership>

ACTIVITIES

Congressional appropriations fund the LSC to provide legal services through grants to independent, local legal services provider programs. These programs are selected through a system of competition. In 2017, the LSC funded 133 programs. Together, they serve every county and congressional district in the Nation, as well as the U.S. Territories. Some of these programs address the particular needs of Native Americans and migrant farmworkers.

<http://www.lsc.gov/what-legal-aid/how-we-work>

The legal services delivery system is based on several principles: local priorities, national accountability, competition for grants, and a strong public-private partnership. Local programs are governed by their own boards of directors, which set priorities and determine the types of cases that will be handled subject to restrictions set by Congress. A majority of each local board is appointed by local bar associations, and one-third of each local board is composed of client representatives appointed by client groups. Each board hires its own executive director. Programs may supplement their LSC grants with additional funds from State and local governments and other sources. They further leverage Federal funds by involving private attorneys in the delivery of legal services for the poor, mostly through volunteer pro bono work.

LSC-funded programs neither handle criminal cases nor accept fee-generating cases that private attorneys are willing to accept on a contingency basis. In addition, in 1996, a series of new limitations were placed upon activities in which LSC-funded programs may engage on behalf of their clients, even with non-LSC funds. All programs must comply with laws enacted by Congress and the implementing regulations promulgated by the LSC.

<http://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/what-we-do>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Blog

The LSC maintains a blog.

<http://www.lsc.gov/media-center/blog>

Board Meetings

Board meeting documents and information are available online.

<http://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/board/board-meetings>

Business Opportunities

The LSC regularly seeks the assistance of vendors to purchase products and contractors to carry out special projects.

The LSC is eligible for General Services Administration schedule pricing and posts requests for proposals on eBuy and FedBizOpps.gov.

<http://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/doing-business-lsc-rfps>

Career Opportunities

The LSC is an organization of socially aware professionals who serve the unrepresented and promote equal justice. Information on career opportunities and working at the LSC is available online.

<http://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/careers>

Civil Legal Outcomes

The LSC developed its civil legal outcomes toolkit to help legal aid programs with defining, collecting, and reporting on metrics that describe their effectiveness. The toolkit includes detailed instructions, electronic learning modules, examples, and additional resources for implementing an outcomes management system.

<https://www.lsc.gov/grants-grantee-resources/civil-legal-outcomes>

Client Success Stories

An interactive map allows website visitors to browse client success stories by State.

<http://www.lsc.gov/what-legal-aid/client-success-stories>

Contact Us

To make a media inquiry, submit a Freedom of Information Act request, ask a grant submission question, or need to contact the LSC for another reason, use the electronic form on the "Contact Us" web page.

<https://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/contact-us>

Data

The LSC seeks to increase the accessibility of data that can help grantees, the media, and the public better understand the nature of civil legal needs and the services that are available for addressing the legal needs of individuals and families.

<https://www.lsc.gov/what-legal-aid/data>

Donations

Tax-deductible donations to the LSC support the use of technology innovations in legal services, provide law fellows for civil legal aid programs in need, raise public awareness of the legal aid system crisis, and support research into the effectiveness and need of civil legal aid.

<http://www.lsc.gov/support-lsc/donate-now>

Events

A list of upcoming events is available online.

<http://www.lsc.gov/meetings-and-events/calendar>

Facts

What percentage of the population is eligible for LSC-funded assistance? What is the average annual salary of LSC grantee staff attorneys? To learn the answers to these questions and others, visit the "Quick Facts" web page.

<http://www.lsc.gov/quick-facts>

Federal Register

Documents that the Legal Services Corporation recently published in the Federal Register are accessible online.

<https://www.federalregister.gov/agencies/legal-services-corporation>

Find Legal Aid

An online search tool is available to find the nearest LSC-funded legal aid organization by address, city, or ZIP Code.

<http://www.lsc.gov/what-legal-aid/find-legal-aid>

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

The FOIA grants any person the right to request access to Federal agency records or information. U.S. Government agencies are required to disclose records after they receive a written request for them; however, the statute shields certain records from disclosure. The LSC complies with the FOIA and releases records to information seekers, as long as the desired records are not shielded. A FOIA request must be made in writing and may be submitted by electronic submission form, email, fax, or postal service. The request should be clearly marked: "Freedom of Information Act Request." Fax, 202-337-6519.

<http://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/foia> | Email: FOIA@lsc.gov

The LSC maintains a FOIA reading room online. Before submitting a FOIA request, information seekers should search the reading room for records that are immediately accessible.

<http://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/foia/foia-electronic-public-reading-room>

Grant Programs

Descriptions of the LSC's seven grant programs—basic field, disaster relief emergency, technology initiative, and veterans appeals pro bono grants; leadership development and loan repayment assistance programs; and pro bono innovation fund—are available online.

<http://www.lsc.gov/grants-grantee-resources/our-grant-programs>

Justice Gap

The justice gap represents the difference between the level of civil legal assistance that is available and the level that is necessary to meet the legal needs of low-income individuals and families. To learn more about the justice gap, visit the "The Unmet Need for Legal Aid" web page.

<http://www.lsc.gov/what-legal-aid/unmet-need-legal-aid>

Maps

The LSC posts maps that provide a visual representation of nationwide statistics on poverty, disaster risks, flood zones, social vulnerability, and on other topics.

<https://www.lsc.gov/what-legal-aid/maps>

News

The LSC posts press releases on its website.

<http://www.lsc.gov/media-center/press-releases>

Oversight

The Office of the Inspector General from the LSC posts reports and data on Oversight.gov, a text-searchable repository of reports that Federal Inspectors General publish. The Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency operates and maintains the website to increase public access to independent and authoritative information on the Federal Government.

<https://oversight.gov>

Publications

Annual reports, budget requests, factbooks, and reports are accessible online.

<http://www.lsc.gov/media-center/publications>

Public Commentary

The LSC seeks public comments on a variety of proposals affecting grants and operations.

<https://www.lsc.gov/about-lsc/matters-comment>

Sharing Best Practices

The "Model Practices and Innovations" web page has a collection of resources: ideas, innovations, projects, and best practices. The legal aid community has contributed these resources as examples, models, or guidance in the quest to provide the highest quality and most effective legal services to low-income communities.

<https://www.lsc.gov/grants-grantee-resources/model-practices-innovations>

Social Media

The LSC has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/LegalServicesCorporation>

The LSC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/lsctweets>

The Sources of Information were updated 6–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Smithsonian Institution
John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts
National Gallery of Art
Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars

The United States Government Manual

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

1000 Jefferson Drive SW., Washington, DC 20560

202-633-1000

<http://www.si.edu>

Board of Regents

---

CITIZEN REGENTS

---

---

|       |                     |
|-------|---------------------|
| Chair | David M. Rubenstein |
|-------|---------------------|

|            |               |
|------------|---------------|
| Vice Chair | Steve M. Case |
|------------|---------------|

|  |                    |
|--|--------------------|
|  | Barbara M. Barrett |
|--|--------------------|

|  |            |
|--|------------|
|  | John Fahey |
|--|------------|

|  |                   |
|--|-------------------|
|  | Roger W. Ferguson |
|--|-------------------|

|  |               |
|--|---------------|
|  | Michael Govan |
|--|---------------|

|  |                        |
|--|------------------------|
|  | Risa J. Lavizzo-Mourey |
|--|------------------------|

|  |                   |
|--|-------------------|
|  | Michael M. Lynton |
|--|-------------------|

|  |                       |
|--|-----------------------|
|  | John W. McCarter, Jr. |
|--|-----------------------|

CONGRESSIONAL REGENTS

---

---

|                 |                |
|-----------------|----------------|
| Representatives | Thomas J. Cole |
|-----------------|----------------|

|  |                |
|--|----------------|
|  | Samuel Johnson |
|--|----------------|

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
|  | Doris Matsui |
|--|--------------|

|          |              |
|----------|--------------|
| Senators | John Boozman |
|----------|--------------|

|  |                  |
|--|------------------|
|  | Patrick J. Leahy |
|--|------------------|

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
|  | David Perdue |
|--|--------------|

EX OFFICIO REGENTS

---

---

Chief Justice of the United States

John G. Roberts, Jr.

Vice President of the United States

Michael R. Pence

Chief of Staff to the Regents

Porter Wilkinson

<https://www.si.edu/regents/members>

SENIOR EXECUTIVES

---

SECRETARY

David J. Skorton

<https://www.si.edu/about/secretary-david-skorton>

Chief Financial Officer

Albert G. Horvath

Provost

John H. Davis, Acting

Assistant Secretary, Advancement

Zully Dorr, Acting

Assistant Secretary, Communications and External Affairs

Carolyn Martin, Acting

Assistant Secretary, Education and Access

Patty Bartlett, Acting

Director, Equal Employment and Minority Affairs

Era L. Marshall

General Counsel

Judith E. Leonard

Administration / Program Directors

---

UNDER SECRETARY FOR FINANCE AND ADMINISTRATION

Albert G. Horvath

Chief Information Officer

Deron Burba

Chief Investment Officer

Amy Chen

Director, Contracting and Personal Property Management

Thomas Dempsey

|   |                             |
|---|-----------------------------|
| Director, Finance and Accounting          | Jean Garvin                 |
| Director, Human Resources                 | Waltrunette Gardner, Acting |
| Director, Planning, Management and Budget | David Voyles                |
| Director, Policy and Analysis             | H. Whitney Watriss, Acting  |
| Director, Smithsonian Exhibits            | Susan Ades                  |
| Director, Smithsonian Facilities          | Nancy Bechtol               |
| Director, Sponsored Projects              | Tracey Fraser               |
| President, Smithsonian Enterprises        | Chris Liedel                |

Museums / Research Centers

---

|  |                       |
|--|-----------------------|
| UNDER SECRETARY FOR MUSEUMS AND RESEARCH | John H. Davis, Acting |
|--|-----------------------|

DIRECTORS

|   |                           |
|---|---------------------------|
| Anacostia Community Museum                              | Lori D. Yarrish, Acting   |
| Archives of American Art                                | Kate Haw                  |
| Center for Astrophysics                                 | Charles R. Alcock         |
| Center for Folklife and Cultural Heritage               | Michael A. Mason          |
| Cooper Hewitt, Smithsonian Design Museum                | Caroline Baumann          |
| Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery      | Julian Raby               |
| Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden                   | Melissa Chiu              |
| National Air and Space Museum                           | John R. Dailey            |
| National Museum of African American History and Culture | Lonnie G. Bunch III       |
| National Museum of African Art                          | Christine Kreamer, Acting |
| National Museum of American History                     | John Gray                 |
| National Museum of Natural History                      | Kirk Johnson              |

|   |                    |
|---|--------------------|
| National Museum of the American Indian  | Kevin Gover        |
| National Portrait Gallery   | Kim Sajet          |
| National Postal Museum  | Elliot Gruber      |
| National Zoological Park  | Dennis Kelly       |
| Smithsonian American Art Museum and Renwick Gallery                           | Stephanie Stebich  |
| Smithsonian Asian Pacific American Center                                     | Lisa Sasaki        |
| Smithsonian Environmental Research Center                                     | Anson H. Hines     |
| Smithsonian Institution Archives  | Anne Van Camp      |
| Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service                          | Myriam Springuel   |
| Smithsonian Latino Center   | Eduardo Díaz       |
| Smithsonian Libraries   | Nancy E. Gwinn     |
| Smithsonian Marine Station  | Valerie J. Paul    |
| Smithsonian Museum Conservation Institute                                     | Robert J. Koestler |
| Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute                                       | Matthew Larsen     |
| https://www.si.edu/about/people |                    |
| Inspector General   | Cathy L. Helm      |

<https://www.si.edu/oig>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

The Smithsonian Institution increases the fund of human knowledge and diffuses that knowledge among people.

The Smithsonian Institution was created by an act of Congress on August 10, 1846 (20 U.S.C. 41 et seq.), to carry out the terms of the will of British scientist James Smithson (1765–1829), who in 1826 had bequeathed his entire estate to the United States "to found at Washington, under the name of the Smithsonian Institution, an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men." On July 1, 1836, Congress accepted the legacy and pledged the faith of the United States to the charitable trust.

<http://www.loc.gov/law/help/statutes-at-large/29th-congress/session-1/c29s1ch178.pdf>

In September 1838, Smithson's legacy, which amounted to more than 100,000 gold sovereigns, was delivered to the mint at Philadelphia. Congress vested responsibility for administering the trust in the Secretary of the Smithsonian and the Smithsonian Board of Regents, composed of the Chief Justice, the Vice President, three Members of the Senate, three Members of the House of Representatives, and nine citizen members appointed by joint resolution of Congress. To carry out Smithson's mandate, the Institution executes the following functions: conducts scientific and scholarly research; publishes the results of studies, explorations, and investigations; preserves for study and reference more than 137 million artifacts, works of art, and scientific specimens; organizes exhibits representative of the arts, the sciences, American history, and world culture; shares Smithsonian resources and collections with communities throughout the Nation; and engages in educational programming and national and international cooperative research.

The Smithsonian Institution is an independent trust instrumentality of the United States that comprises the world's largest museum and research complex. It includes 19 museums and galleries, the National Zoo, and nine research facilities in several States and the Republic of Panama. The Institution is dedicated to public education, national service, and scholarship in the arts, sciences, history, and culture. Smithsonian activities are supported by its trust endowments and revenues; gifts, grants, and contracts; and funds appropriated to it by Congress. Admission to the museums in Washington, DC, is free.

<http://www.si.edu/About/History>

ACTIVITIES

---

Anacostia Community Museum

The Museum, located in the historic Fort Stanton neighborhood of Southeast Washington, serves as a national resource for exhibitions, historical documentation, and interpretive and educational programs relating to the impact of history and contemporary social issues on urban communities.

<http://anacostia.si.edu> | Email: ACMinfo@si.edu

For further information, contact the Anacostia Community Museum, 1901 Fort Place SE., Washington, DC 20020. Phone, 202-633-4820.

Archives of American Art

The Archives contains the Nation's largest collection of documentary materials reflecting the history of visual arts in the United States. On the subject of art in America, it is the largest archives in the world, holding more than 16 million documents. The Archives gathers, preserves, and microfilms the papers of artists, craftsmen, collectors, dealers, critics, and art societies. These papers include manuscripts, letters, diaries, notebooks, sketchbooks, business records, clippings, exhibition catalogs, transcripts of tape-recorded interviews, and photographs of artists and their work.

<http://www.aaa.si.edu>

For further information, contact the Archives of American Art, Suite 2200, 750 Ninth Street NW., Washington, DC 20001. Phone, 202-633-7940.

Arthur M. Sackler Gallery

This Asian art museum opened in 1987 on the National Mall. Changing exhibitions drawn from major collections in the United States and abroad, as well as from the permanent holdings of the Sackler Gallery, are displayed in the distinctive below-ground museum. The Gallery's growing permanent collection is founded on a group of art objects from China, South and Southeast Asia, and the ancient Near East that were given to the Smithsonian by Arthur M. Sackler (1913–1987). The Museum's current collection features Persian manuscripts; Japanese paintings; ceramics, prints, and textiles; sculptures from India; and paintings and metalware from China, Korea, Japan, and Southeast Asia. The Sackler Gallery is connected by an underground exhibition space to the neighboring Freer Gallery.

<http://www.asia.si.edu> | Email: publicaffairsAsia@si.edu

For further information, contact the Arthur M. Sackler Gallery, 1050 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-4880.

Center for Astrophysics

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory and the Harvard College Observatory have coordinated research activities under a single director in a cooperative venture, Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics. The Center's research activities are organized in the following areas of study: atomic and molecular physics, radio and geoastronomy, high-energy astrophysics, optical and infrared astronomy, planetary sciences, solar and stellar physics, and theoretical astrophysics. Research results are published in the Center Preprint Series and other technical and nontechnical bulletins and distributed to scientific and educational institutions around the world.

<http://www.cfa.harvard.edu/sao>

For more information, contact the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, 60 Garden Street, Cambridge, MA 02138. Phone, 617-495-7463.

Center for Folklife and Cultural Heritage

The Center is responsible for research, documentation, and presentation of grassroots cultural traditions. It maintains a documentary collection and produces Smithsonian Folkways Recordings, educational materials, documentary films, publications, and traveling exhibits, as well as the annual Smithsonian Folklife Festival on the National Mall. Recent Folklife festivals have featured a range of American music styles, a number of State tributes, and performers from around the world. Admission to the festival is free. The 2-week program includes Fourth of July activities on the National Mall.

<http://www.folklife.si.edu>

For further information, contact the Center for Folklife and Cultural Heritage, Capital Gallery, Suite 2001, 600 Maryland Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20024. Phone, 202-633-1000.

Cooper Hewitt, Smithsonian Design Museum

The Museum is the only museum in the country devoted exclusively to historical and contemporary design. Collections include objects in such areas as applied arts and industrial design, drawings and prints, glass, metalwork, wallcoverings, and textiles. Changing exhibits and public programs seek to educate by exploring the role of design in daily life.

<http://cooperhewitt.org>

For further information, contact the Cooper Hewitt, Smithsonian Design Museum, 2 East Ninety-First Street, New York, NY 10128. Phone, 212-849-8400.

Freer Gallery of Art

The building, the original collection, and an endowment were the gift of Charles Lang Freer (1854–1919). The Gallery houses one of the world's most renowned collections of Asian art, an important group of ancient Egyptian glass, early Christian manuscripts, and works by 19th- and early 20th-century American artists. The objects in the Asian collection represent the arts of East Asia, the Near East, and South and Southeast Asia, including paintings, manuscripts, scrolls, screens, ceramics, metalwork, glass, jade, lacquer, and sculpture. Members of the staff conduct research on objects in the collection and publish results in scholarly journals and books for general and scholarly audiences.

<http://www.asia.si.edu> | Email: publicaffairsAsia@si.edu

For further information, contact the Freer Gallery of Art, Jefferson Drive at Twelfth Street SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-4880.

Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden

From cubism to minimalism, the Museum houses major collections of modern and contemporary art. The nucleus of the collection is the gift and bequest of Joseph H. Hirshhorn (1899–1981). Supplementing the permanent collection are loan exhibitions. The Museum houses a collection research facility, a specialized art library, and a photographic archive, available for consultation by prior appointment. The outdoor sculpture garden is located nearby on the National Mall. There is an active program of public service and education, including docent tours, lectures on contemporary art and artists, and films of historic and artistic interest.

<http://www.hirshhorn.si.edu> | Email: hmsginquiries@si.edu

For further information, contact the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, Seventh Street and Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-4674.

Museum Conservation Institute

The Institute researches preservation, conservation, and technical study and analysis of collection materials. Its researchers investigate the chemical and physical processes that are involved in the care of art, artifacts, and specimens and attempt to formulate conditions and procedures for storage, exhibit, and stabilization that optimize the preservation of these objects. In interdisciplinary collaborations with archeologists, anthropologists, and art historians, natural and physical scientists study and analyze objects from the collections and related materials to expand knowledge and understanding of their historical and scientific context.

<http://www.si.edu/mci>

For further information, contact the Museum Conservation Institute, Museum Support Center, Suitland, MD 20746. Phone, 301-238-1240.

National Air and Space Museum

Created to memorialize the development and achievements of aviation and spaceflight, the Museum collects, displays, and preserves aeronautical and space flight artifacts of historical significance, as well as documentary and artistic materials related to air and space. Among its artifacts are full-size planes, models, and instruments. Highlights of the collection include the Wright brothers' "Flyer," Charles Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis," a Moon rock, and Apollo spacecraft. The exhibitions and study collections record the human leap into the air, the sky, and space beyond. They offer a concentrated presentation of flight craft of all types, spaceflight vehicles, and propulsion systems. The Museum's IMAX Theater and domed Einstein Planetarium are popular attractions. The Museum's Steven F. Udvar-Hazy Center, at Washington Dulles International Airport, features artifacts that include a space shuttle and the "Enola Gay" World War II bomber.

<http://airandspace.si.edu> | Email: NASMVisitorServices@si.edu

For further information, contact the National Air and Space Museum, Sixth Street and Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-2214.

National Museum of African American History and Culture

Established in 2003, the Museum is the first national museum that documents exclusively African American art, culture, history, and life.

<http://www.nmaahc.si.edu> | Email: NMAAHCinfo@si.edu

For further information, contact the National Museum of African American History and Culture, Capital Gallery, Suite 7001, 600 Maryland Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20024. Phone, 202-633-1000.

National Museum of African Art

This is the only art museum in the United States that portrays exclusively Africa's creative, visual traditions. Its research components, collection, exhibitions, and public programs make the Museum a primary source for the examination and discovery of African arts and culture. The collection includes works in wood, metal, fired clay, ivory, and fiber. The Eliot Elisofon Photographic Archives includes slides, photos, and film segments on Africa. There is also a specialized library.

<http://africa.si.edu>

For further information, contact the National Museum of African Art, 950 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-4600.

National Museum of American History

In pursuit of its fundamental mission to inspire a broader understanding of the United States and its people, the Museum provides learning opportunities, stimulates the imagination of visitors, and presents challenging ideas about the Nation's past. The Museum's exhibits provide a unique view of the American experience. Emphasis is placed upon innovative individuals representing a wide range of cultures, who have shaped our heritage, and upon science and the remaking of our world through technology. Exhibits draw upon strong collections in the sciences and engineering, agriculture, manufacturing, transportation, political memorabilia, costumes, musical instruments, coins, Armed Forces history, photography, computers, ceramics, and glass. Classic cars, icons of the American Presidency, First Ladies' gowns, the Star-Spangled Banner flag, Whitney's cotton gin, Morse's telegraph, the John Bull locomotive, Dorothy's ruby slippers from "The Wizard of Oz," and other American icons are highlights of the collection.

<http://www.americanhistory.si.edu> | Email: info@si.edu

For further information, contact the National Museum of American History, Fourteenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-1000.

National Museum of Natural History

Dedicated to understanding the natural world and the place of humans in it, the Museum's permanent exhibitions focus on human cultures, Earth sciences, biology, and anthropology, with the most popular displays featuring gem stones such as the Hope Diamond, dinosaurs, insects, marine ecosystems, birds, and mammals. In 2010, the Museum celebrated its 100th anniversary with the opening of a new permanent exhibition, the David H. Koch Hall of Human Origins. An IMAX theater offers large-format films. The Museum's encyclopedic collections comprise more than 126 million specimens, making the Museum one of the world's foremost facilities for natural history research. The Museum's seven departments are anthropology, botany, entomology, invertebrate zoology, mineral sciences, paleobiology, and vertebrate zoology. Doctorate-level staff researchers ensure the continued growth and value of the collection by conducting studies in the field and laboratory.

<http://www.mnh.si.edu> | Email: naturalexperience@si.edu

For further information, contact the National Museum of Natural History, Tenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-1000.

National Museum of the American Indian

The Museum was established in 1989, and the building on the National Mall opened September 2004. Much of the collection of the Museum is comprised of the collection of the former Heye Foundation in New York City. It is an institution of living cultures dedicated to the collection, preservation, study, and exhibition of the life, languages, literature, history, and arts of the Native peoples of the Americas. Highlights include Northwest Coast carvings; dance masks; pottery and weaving from the Southwest; painted hides and garments from the North American Plains; goldwork of the Aztecs, Incas, and Maya; and Amazonian featherwork. The National Museum of the American Indian also operates the George Gustav Heye Center at the Alexander Hamilton U.S. Custom House in New York City.

<http://americanindian.si.edu> | Email: NMAI-info@si.edu

For further information, contact the National Museum of the American Indian, Fourth Street and Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-1000.

National Portrait Gallery

The Gallery was established in 1962 for the exhibition and study of portraiture depicting men and women who have made significant contributions to the history, development, and culture of the United States. The Gallery contains more than 19,000 works, including photographs and glass negatives. The first floor of the Gallery is devoted to changing exhibitions from the Gallery's collection of paintings, sculpture, prints, photographs, and drawings as well as to special portrait collections. Featured on the second floor are the permanent collection of portraits of eminent Americans and the Hall of Presidents, including the famous Gilbert Stuart portrait-from-life of George Washington. The two-story

American Victorian Renaissance Great Hall on the third floor of the Gallery houses an exhibit of 20th-century Americans and is used for special events and public programs. The Gallery shares a large library with the Smithsonian American Art Museum and the Archives of American Art. The education department offers public programs; outreach programs for adult groups; and walk-in and group tours.

<http://www.npg.si.edu> | Email: npgnews@si.edu

For further information, contact the National Portrait Gallery, Eighth and F Streets NW., Washington, DC 20001. Phone, 202-633-8300.

National Postal Museum

The Museum houses the Nation's postal history and philatelic collection, the largest of its kind in the world, with more than 13 million objects. The Museum is devoted to the history of America's mail service, and major galleries include exhibits on mail service in colonial times and during the Civil War, the Pony Express, modern mail service, automation, mail transportation, and the art of letters, as well as displays of the Museum's priceless stamp collection. Highlights include three mail planes, a replica of a railway mail car, displays of historic letters, handcrafted mail boxes, and rare U.S. and foreign-issue stamps and covers.

<http://postalmuseum.si.edu>

For further information, contact the National Postal Museum, 2 Massachusetts Avenue NE., Washington, DC 20001. Phone, 202-633-1000.

National Zoological Park

The National Zoo is an international leader in wildlife conservation, education, and research. Home to more than 2,000 animals, the Zoo encompasses 163 acres along Rock Creek Park in Northwest Washington. Exhibits include the David M. Rubenstein Family Giant Panda Habitat, where the giant pandas Mei Xiang and Tian Tian reside with their cub Bao Bao. Built to mimic the animals' natural habitat in China, it is part of the Zoo's Asia Trail, which also takes visitors through the habitats of red pandas, Asian small-clawed otters, fishing cats, sloth bears, and clouded leopards. Other highlights include the Elephant Trails, home to the Asian elephant Kandula, who was born at the Zoo in 2001; Amazonia, a 15,000-square-foot rain forest habitat; the Reptile Discovery Center, featuring African pancake tortoises and the world's largest lizards, Komodo dragons; and the Great Ape House, home to gorillas, orangutans, and other primates.

<http://nationalzoo.si.edu>

For further information, contact the National Zoo, 3001 Connecticut Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20008. Phone, 202- 633-4888.

Renwick Gallery

The Gallery, a branch of the Smithsonian American Art Museum, is dedicated to exhibiting crafts of all periods and to collecting 20th-century American crafts. It offers changing exhibitions of American crafts and decorative arts, both historical and contemporary, and a rotating selection from its permanent collection. The Gallery's grand salon is elegantly furnished in the Victorian style of the 1860s and 1870s.

<http://www.americanart.si.edu/renwick> | Email: AmericanArtRenwick@si.edu

For further information, contact the Renwick Gallery, Seventeenth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20006. Phone, 202-633-7970.

Smithsonian American Art Museum

The Museum's art collection spans centuries of American painting, sculpture, folk art, photography, and graphic art. A major center for research in American art, the Museum has contributed to such resources as the Inventory of American Paintings Executed Before 1914, the Smithsonian Art Index, and the Inventory of American Sculpture. The library, shared with the National Portrait Gallery, contains volumes on art, history, and biography, with special emphasis on the United States. The Donald W. Reynolds Center for American Art and Portraiture is home to the Smithsonian American Art Museum, the National Portrait Gallery, and the Archives of American Art. Hundreds of images from the collection and extensive information on its collections, publications, and activities are available on the Museum's Web site.

<http://www.americanart.si.edu> | Email: AmericanArtInfo@si.edu

For further information, contact the Smithsonian American Art Museum, Eighth and F Streets NW., Washington, DC 20006. Phone, 202-633-7970.

Smithsonian Asian Pacific American Center

The Center seeks to enrich the appreciation of America's Asian Pacific heritage and empower Asian Pacific American communities in their sense of inclusion within the national culture.

<http://smithsonianapa.org> | Email: apac@si.edu

For further information, contact the Asian Pacific American Center's administrative office, Capital Gallery, Suite 7065, MRC 516, P.O. Box 37012, Washington, DC 20013-7012. Phone, 202-633-2691.

Smithsonian Environmental Research Center (SERC)

The Center is the leading national research center for understanding environmental issues in the coastal zone. SERC is dedicated to increasing knowledge of the biological and physical processes that sustain life on Earth. The Center, located near the Chesapeake Bay, trains future generations of scientists to address ecological questions of the Nation and the globe.

<http://www.serc.si.edu>

For further information, contact the Smithsonian Environmental Research Center, 647 Contees Wharf Road, Edgewater, MD 21037. Phone, 443-482-2200.

Smithsonian Institution Archives

The Smithsonian Institution Archives acquires, preserves, and makes available for research the official records of the Smithsonian Institution and the papers of individuals and organizations associated with the Institution or with its work.

These holdings document the growth of the Smithsonian and the development of American science, history, and art.

<http://siarchives.si.edu>

For further information, contact the Smithsonian Institution Archives, Capital Gallery, Suite 3000, 600 Maryland Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20024. Phone, 202-633-5870.

Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES)

Since 1952, SITES has been committed to making Smithsonian exhibitions available to millions of people who cannot view them firsthand at the Smithsonian museums. Exhibitions on art, history, and science travel to more than 250 locations each year.

<http://www.sites.si.edu>

For further information, contact the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service, Suite 7103, 470 L'Enfant Plaza SW., Washington, DC 20024. Phone, 202-633-3120.

Smithsonian Latino Center

The Center promotes Latino presence within the Smithsonian Institution. It is not represented in one physical location; rather, it works collaboratively with the Institution's museums and research centers to ensure that the contributions of the Latino community in the arts, history, national culture, and scientific achievement are celebrated, explored, presented, and preserved. The Center supports collections and archives, exhibitions, public and educational programs, research, and Web-based content and virtual platforms. It also manages leadership and professional development programs for emerging scholars, museum professionals, and Latino youth.

<http://latino.si.edu/Home>

For further information, contact the Smithsonian Latino Center at Capital Gallery, 600 Maryland Avenue SW., MRC 512, Washington, DC 20013-7012. Phone, 202-633-1240.

Smithsonian Libraries

The Smithsonian Institution Libraries include more than 1 million volumes (among them, 40,000 rare books) with strengths in natural history, art, science, humanities, and museology. Many volumes are available through interlibrary loan.

<http://library.si.edu>

For further information, contact the Smithsonian Institution Libraries, Tenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-2240.

Smithsonian Marine Station at Fort Pierce

The research institute features a state-of-the-art laboratory where Station scientists catalog species and study marine plants and animals. Among the most important projects being pursued at the site is the search for possible causes of fishkills, including Pfiesteria and other organisms.

<http://www.sms.si.edu>

For further information, contact the Smithsonian Marine Station–Fort Pierce, 701 Seaway Drive, Fort Pierce, FL 34949. Phone, 772-462-6220.

Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute (STRI)

The Institute is a research organization for advanced studies of tropical ecosystems. Headquartered in the Republic of Panama, STRI maintains extensive facilities in the Western Hemisphere tropics. It is the base of a corps of tropical researchers who study the evolution, behavior, ecology, and history of tropical species of systems ranging from coral reefs to rain forests.

<http://www.stri.org>

For further information, contact the Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute, 1100 Jefferson Drive SW., Suite 3123, Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-4700. Phone, 011-507-212-8000 (Panama).

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Information on procurement of supplies, property management and utilization services for Smithsonian Institution organizations, and construction contracts may be obtained from the Director, Office of Contracting, Smithsonian Institution, 2011 Crystal Drive, Suite 350, Arlington, VA 22202. Phone, 202-633-7290.

<http://www.si.edu/se/seproducts/submissions.aspx>

Career Opportunities

Employment information is available from the Office of Human Resources, Smithsonian Institution, Capital Gallery, Suite 5060, 600 Maryland Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-6370.

<http://www.sihhr.si.edu>

In 2016, the Smithsonian Institution ranked 7th among 27 midsize Government agencies in the Best Places To Work Agency Rankings.

<http://bestplacetowork.org/BPTW/rankings/detail/SM00>

Education / Research

Write to the Directors of the following offices at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, DC 20560: Office of Fellowships and Internships, Smithsonian Center for Folklife and Cultural Heritage, Smithsonian Science Education Center, and Smithsonian Center for Learning and Digital Access.

<http://www.smithsonianofi.com>

<http://www.folklife.si.edu>

<https://ssec.si.edu>

<http://smithsonianeducation.org>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The Smithsonian Institution posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.si.edu/faqs>

Media Affairs

Members of the press may contact the Smithsonian Office of Public Affairs, 1000 Jefferson Drive SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-2400.

<http://newsdesk.si.edu/contacts>

Memberships

For information on the Friends of the Smithsonian, write to PO Box 37012, MRC 712 Washington, DC 20013-7012. Phone, 202-633-6300.

<http://smithsonianmembership.com> | Email: membership@si.edu

For information on the Resident Associate Program, write to Smithsonian Associates, PO Box 23293, Washington, DC 20026-3293. Phone, 202-633-3030.

<http://residentassociates.org>

For information on the Smithsonian National Associate Program, call 800-766-2149.

<http://www.si.edu/Membership>

For information on the National Air and Space Society, call 202-633-2603.

<http://www.nasm.si.edu/getinvolved/membership> | Email: MembershipNASM@si.edu

For information on the Friends of the National Zoo, call 202-633-3038.

<http://nationalzoo.si.edu/Audiences/Members>

For information on National Museum of the American Indian membership, call 800-242-6624.

<http://americanindian.si.edu> | Email: NMAImember@si.edu

Organizational Chart

The Smithsonian Institution's organizational chart is accessible online in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.si.edu/Content/Pdf/About/Smithsonian-organizational-chart.pdf>

Photographs

Photographs and slides from the Smithsonian photographic archives are available to researchers, publishers, Government agencies, and the general public. A searchable database of images is available online. Purchase or use of images may require permission from the Smithsonian curatorial unit that holds copyright. For assistance, contact Smithsonian Photographic Services. Phone, 202-633-1933.

<http://www.si.edu/Collections> | Email: photos@si.edu

Publications

The Smithsonian Institution's annual reports, starting with the year 2004, are available online as Portable Document Format (PDF) files. For information on acquiring hardcopies of reports, call 202-633-1000.

<http://www.si.edu/About/Annual-Report> | Email: info@si.edu

Smithsonian Books, in collaboration with the Smithsonian Institution, publishes narrative nonfiction books on culture, history, science and technology, and the arts, as well as signature illustrated books based on Smithsonian museums and their collections. Random House Publisher Services distribute these titles.

<http://www.smithsonianbooks.com>

Smithsonian Institution Scholarly Press, in conjunction with Rowman and Littlefield Publishing Group, Inc., publishes the research and other scholarly contributions of Smithsonian authors.

<http://www.scholarlypress.si.edu>

Subscribe to the "Smithsonian Magazine" online. Phone, 800-766-2149.

<http://www.smithsonianmag.com> | Email: smithsonian@customersvc.com

Subscribe to "Air and Space Magazine" online. Phone, 800-513-3081.

<http://www.airspacemag.com/?no-ist> | Email: airandspace@customersvc.com

Social Media

The Smithsonian Institution has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/Smithsonian>

The Smithsonian Institution tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/smithsonian>

The Smithsonian Institution posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/SmithsonianVideos>

Tours

For information on museum and gallery tours, contact the Smithsonian Information Center, 1000 Jefferson Drive SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-1000. School groups are welcome. The benefits of various memberships and their levels include special guided tours.

<http://www.si.edu/Visit/GroupTours>

Visitor Information

The Smithsonian Information Center, located in the original Smithsonian building, commonly known as The Castle, provides general orientation through films, computer interactive programs, and visitor information specialists to help members and the public learn about the national collections, museum events, exhibitions, and special programs. Write to the Smithsonian Information Center, 1000 Jefferson Drive SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-1000.

<http://www.si.edu/Visit/Hours>

An accessibility map of Smithsonian museums on and near the National Mall is available online.

<https://www.si.edu/content/ovs/accessmapsindd.pdf>

Volunteer Opportunities

The Smithsonian Institution welcomes volunteers and offers a variety of service opportunities. For information, write to the Office of Visitor Services, 1000 Jefferson Drive SW., Washington, DC 20560. Phone, 202-633-1000.

<http://www.si.edu/Volunteer>

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/contact-us/department-list>

For further information, contact the Smithsonian Information Center, 1000 Jefferson Drive SW., Washington, DC 20560.
Phone, 202-633-1000. TDD, 202-357-1729.

John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts

John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566

202-467-4600

<http://www.kennedy-center.org>

---

|       |                     |
|-------|---------------------|
| CHAIR | David M. Rubenstein |
|-------|---------------------|

---

|           |                   |
|-----------|-------------------|
| President | Deborah F. Rutter |
|-----------|-------------------|

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/pages/about/ourpeople>

National Symphony Orchestra

---

|                |                   |
|----------------|-------------------|
| Music Director | Gianandrea Noseda |
|----------------|-------------------|

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/artist/A58901>

The Suzanne Farrell Ballet

---

|                   |                 |
|-------------------|-----------------|
| Artistic Director | Suzanne Farrell |
|-------------------|-----------------|

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/sfb/biography>

Washington National Opera

---

|                   |                    |
|-------------------|--------------------|
| Artistic Director | Francesca Zambello |
|-------------------|--------------------|

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/wno/MTO/ArtDir>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

---

The Kennedy Center is the only official memorial to President John F. Kennedy in Washington, DC. The Center presents a year-round program of dance, drama, music, and opera from the United States and abroad.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Opportunities are posted on the Federal Business Opportunities Web site. For more information, contact The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566.

<https://www.fbo.gov>

Career Opportunities

Job descriptions of open positions are available online.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/jobs>

The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts offers internships for undergraduate and graduate students and for recent college graduates.

<http://education.kennedy-center.org/education/internships/overview.html>

In partnership with American University, the Center offers a merit-based, 9-month fellowship in art management.

<http://education.kennedy-center.org/education/internships/fellowships.html>

Education / Research

For information on education programs, contact The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8000.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/education>

Free Performances

Free performances are given every day at 6 p.m. on the Millennium Stage in the Grand Foyer.

<https://www.kennedy-center.org/video/upcoming>

History

In January of 1964, not long after the death of President John F. Kennedy, Congress designated the National Cultural Center as a "living memorial" to the slain President and authorized 23 million dollars to help build what is known today as the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. Before the end of that year, enough artwork, building materials, and additional funds had been donated to start construction. With a gold-plated spade that had been used to break ground at both the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, President Lyndon B. Johnson symbolically removed the first soil from the new site. The Center opened to the public in 1971, more than a decade after President Dwight D. Eisenhower and legislators, from both parties, had taken initial steps toward realizing this vision. To learn more about the people who imagined a cultural center for the Nation, those who supported its realization, and the emergence of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts as an iconic institution of the arts, visit the "History" Web page.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/pages/about/history>

Live Streaming

The Center live streams artists while they perform.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/video/live>

Memberships

For information on national and local activities, including the bimonthly "Kennedy Center News" for members, visit an information desk inside The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. Or, contact Member Services, The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8310.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/membership> | Email: membership@kennedy-center.org

Social Media

John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/KennedyCenter>

The Center tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/KenCen>

The Center posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/TheKennedyCenter>

Special Functions

For information on using the facilities for special functions, contact the Office of Special Events, The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8000.

<https://www.kennedy-center.org/rental>

Theater Operations

For information on using the theaters, contact the booking manager at The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8032.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/pages/theaterrental>

Tickets

Tickets for admission to performances may be purchased at the box office, by mail, by phone using instant-charge, or online. Phone, 202-467-4600. TTY, 202-416-8524.

<https://www.kennedy-center.org/tickets>

The Center posts answers to frequently asked ticket-related questions.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/contact/topic/1>

Tours

The Friends of the Kennedy Center volunteers provide visitor services. Tours are available free of charge on weekdays, 10 a.m.–5 p.m., and on weekends, 10 a.m.–1 p.m.

<https://www.kennedy-center.org/pages/visitor/tours>

Videos

The Center regularly posts short videos of artists performing. Its Web site has an expanding collection of over 2,000 selections.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/Video/recentVideos>

Volunteer Opportunities

For information on volunteer opportunities, contact Friends of the Kennedy Center, 2700 F Street NW, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8000.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/support/volunteers>

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/contact>

For further information, contact The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. Phone, 202-467-4600.

National Gallery of Art

4th and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20565

202-737-4215

<http://www.nga.gov>

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

---

DIRECTOR

Kaywin Feldman

Secretary / General Counsel

Nancy R. Breuer

<https://www.nga.gov/about/directors-welcome.html>

GENERAL TRUSTEES

---

PRESIDENT

Mitchell P. Rales

Chair

Sharon P. Rockefeller

<https://www.nga.gov/about/leadership.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

ACTIVITIES

---

The National Gallery of Art administers a world-class collection of painting, sculpture, and the graphic arts. The West Building includes European (13th–early 20th century) and American (18th–early 20th century) works. An extensive survey of Italian painting and sculpture, including the only painting by Leonardo da Vinci in the Americas, is on display in the Gallery. Rich in Dutch masters and French impressionists, the collection offers superb surveys of American, British, Flemish, Spanish, and 15th- and 16th-century German art, as well as Renaissance medals and bronzes, Chinese porcelains, and about 117,000 works of graphic art from the 12th century to the present day. The East Building collections and Sculpture Garden contain important works by major 20th-century artists. The Gallery relies on public and private resources. Federal appropriations support its operations and maintenance. Private donations and funds allow it to acquire artwork, as well as to offer a variety of special programs. For example, a fellowship program promotes graduate and postgraduate research, an extension service provides free education resources to millions of people each year, and other programs educate schoolchildren and the public.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

For more information, contact the National Gallery of Art, Office of Procurement and Contracts, 2000B South Club Drive, Landover, MD 20785. Phone, 202-842-6745. Fax, 202-312-2792.

<https://www.fbo.gov/index?s=main&mode=list&tab=list>

Calendar

The full calendar of events is available online. To subscribe to the quarterly brochure of seasonal exhibition and programming highlights, visit the Gallery's Web site or call 202-842-6662.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/calendar.html> | Email: calendar@nga.gov

Career Opportunities

The National Gallery of Art relies on approximately 1,000 employees to carry out its mission. Some positions require a background in art history or design; however, other positions—like salesperson, security guard, and visitor services aide—support the museum's daily operations and are less specialized. The National Gallery of Art also employs accountants, administrators, facilities managers, fundraisers, information systems specialists, librarians, and other professionals with technical expertise. Phone, 202-842-6282.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/opportunities/employment-opportunities.html> | Email: staffing@nga.gov

The National Gallery of Art offers internships and opportunities for fellows. Conservation and curatorial fellowships are available, as well as Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts (CASVA) fellowships.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/opportunities/interns-and-fellows.html>

The National Gallery of Art offers a range of volunteer opportunities. Volunteers serve as docents, manage the information desks at the entrances to the East and West Buildings, work in the library, and help in the horticulture division. Local high school students can participate in the teen volunteer program.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/opportunities/volunteer-opportunities.html>

Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts (CASVA)

The CASVA is a research institute that supports study of the production, use, and cultural meaning of architecture, art, artifacts, film, photography, and urbanism. It offers fellowships, organizes scholarly meetings, produces publications, and supports research. These activities are privately funded through endowments and grants to the National Gallery of Art. Phone, 202-842-6480.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/research/casva.html> | Email: casva@nga.gov

Concerts

Concerts by accomplished musicians are open to the public without charge. Seating starts 30 minutes before the performance on a first-come, first-seated basis. Phone, 202-842-6941.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/calendar/concerts.html>

Educational Resources

The Gallery's free loan program allows community groups, educational institutions, individuals, and nonprofit television stations nationwide to borrow teaching packets and DVDs. Dozens of lessons and activities are also accessible on the Gallery's Web site. For more information, including the free catalog of education resources, contact the Department of Education Resources, National Gallery of Art, 2000B South Club Drive, Landover, MD 20785. Phone, 202-842-6273.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/education/learningresources.html> | Email: edresources@nga.gov

Family Programs

The Gallery offers free family programs—children's films, music performances, storytelling, and workshops—that are suitable for children ages 4 and up. Phone, 202-789-3030.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/education/families.html> | Email: family@nga.gov

Films

An ongoing program of classic cinema, documentary, avant-garde, and area premieres takes place each weekend. Seating is on a first-come, first-seated basis, and admission is free. Doors open approximately 30 minutes before each show. Visiting filmmakers and scholars discuss films with the audiences following some screenings. Phone, 202-842-6799.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/calendar/film-programs.html> | Email: film-department@nga.gov

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The National Gallery of Art posts answers to FAQs on its Web site.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/contact-us.html>

Ice-Skating Rink

Each winter, the National Gallery of Art opens its ice rink in the Sculpture Garden. The seasonal skating schedule is posted online in November.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/visit/ice-rink.html>

Image Collections

The Department of Image Collections serves as the National Gallery of Art's research center for images of Western art and architecture. The collections now contain over 14 million digital images, microforms, negatives, photographs, and slides, making this resource one of the largest of its kind. Gallery staff, Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts (CASVA) members, visiting scholars, and serious adult researchers regularly use the collections. The library is accessible by appointment every Monday, noon–4:30 p.m., and Tuesday–Friday, 10 a.m.–4:30 p.m., except on Federal holidays. Phone, 202-842-6026.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/research/library/imagecollections.html>

Lectures

Lecture events are open to the public, and admission is free. Seating is available on a first-come, first-seated basis.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/calendar/lectures.html>

Library

The National Gallery of Art Library maintains a collection of more than 400,000 books and periodicals on the history, theory, and criticism of art and architecture. The collection's holdings emphasize Western art from the Middle Ages to the present and American art from the colonial era to the present. The library is accessible by appointment every Monday, noon–4:30 p.m., and Tuesday–Friday, 10 a.m.–4:30 p.m., except on Federal holidays. Phone, 202-842-6511.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/research/library/About.html>

Memberships

The Gallery offers three membership levels of annual giving: The Circle, The Tower Project, and The Exhibition Circle. Circle members contribute to conservation programs, special exhibitions, and research. Tower Project members promote contemporary artists by supporting modern and contemporary exhibitions in the Tower Gallery of the East Building. Exhibition Circle members provide funding for exhibitions. For more information on membership levels and their benefits, contact The Circle, National Gallery of Art, 2000B South Club Drive, Landover, MD 20785. Phone, 202-842-6450. Fax, 202 789-4577.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/support/membership.html> | Email: circle@nga.gov

News

The National Gallery of Art posts recent news releases on its Web site.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/press.html> | Email: pressinfo@nga.gov

An online subscription form is available to sign up for announcements, newsletters, notifications, and updates on acquisitions and exhibitions; activities, projects, and programs; and other topics.

http://subscribe.nga.gov/subscription\_form\_ngart.cfm

NGAkids

NGAkids offers interactive activities and adventures with artwork from the Gallery's collection and an animated tale set in the Gallery's Sculpture Garden.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/education/kids.html>

Photographs

Photographs that are not on display may be viewed by appointment. Phone, 202-842-6144.

Email: photographs@nga.gov

Publications

The Gallery Shops sell publications on the Gallery's collections and quality reproductions of artwork. Purchases may be made online or by calling 800-697-9350.

<https://shop.nga.gov>

Public Wi-Fi

Wireless internet service is available throughout the Gallery to visitors who are 18 years old and older or at least 13 years old with permission from a parent or guardian. The network name is "NGA_Public_WiFi," and a password is not needed. A user must, however, supply his or her own Internet device and agree to the "Terms and Conditions of Use."

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/visit/public-wifi.html>

Tours

The education division offers daily guided talks and tours in the galleries. Phone, 202-842-6247.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/visit/tours-and-guides.html>

Visitor Services

The Visitor Services Office assists those with special needs, responds to written and telephone requests, and helps visitors plan their stay in the Washington, DC, area. For more information, contact the National Gallery of Art, Office of Visitor Services, 2000B South Club Drive, Landover, MD 20785. Phone, 202-842-6691.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/visit.html>

Works on Paper

Works of art on paper that are not on display may be viewed by appointment. Phone, 202-842-6380 (European works). Phone, 202-842-6605 (American works).

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/research/make-an-appointment.html> | Email: printstudyrooms@nga.gov
<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/contact-us.html>

For further information, contact the National Gallery of Art. Phone, 202-737-4215.

Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars

Scholar Administration Office, Woodrow Wilson Center, One Woodrow Wilson Plaza, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20004-3027

202-691-4000

202-691-4001

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org>

---

DIRECTOR / PRESIDENT / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER Jane L. Harman

---

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/person/jane-harman>

Board of Trustees

---

CHAIR

William E. Haslam

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

---

ACTIVITIES

---

Created by an Act of Congress in 1968, the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars is a national, living memorial honoring the legacy of President Woodrow Wilson. The Wilson Center, headquartered in Washington, DC, and supported by both public and private funds, provides a strictly nonpartisan space for scholars and policymakers to interact. By conducting relevant, timely research and promoting dialogue from diverse perspectives, the Center works to address critical current and emerging challenges confronting the United States and the world.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/about-the-wilson-center>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

Career opportunities at the Center are posted online. For more information, contact the Office of Human Resources, One Woodrow Wilson Plaza, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., 3d Floor, Washington, DC 20004-3027.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/opportunities/Job> | Email: jobs@wilsoncenter.org

Contact Information

In addition to a "Get In Touch" electronic form, the "Contact Us" web page contains the general phone number and email address for and the hours of operation of and directions to the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/contact-us> | Email: wwics@wilsoncenter.org

Donations

An online form is available for making tax-deductible contributions to support dialogue and scholarship in public policy. Gifts may be directed to a specific program by using the "Designation" drop-down menu. "Unrestricted" gifts allow the Center to build its overall capacity and meet areas of greatest need. Phone, 202-691-4171.

<https://engage.wilsoncenter.org/onlineactions/KxzFKo0YTk2W8uYVKK5HKg2>

Email:

development@wilsoncenter.org

Experts

The Center convenes scholars to create a dialogue of ideas that the U.S. Congress, the President's administration, and the international policy community may adopt for implementation.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/experts>

Fellowships

The Center offers residential fellowships that allow academics, public officials, journalists, business professionals, and others to pursue their research and writing at the Center while interacting with policymakers in Washington. The Center also invites public policy scholars and senior scholars from a variety of disciplines to conduct research for varying lengths of time in residence. Phone, 202-691-4000.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/fellowships-grants>

Internships

The Center has a year-round need for interns to assist the program and projects staff and to act as research assistants for scholars and fellows. Phone, 202-691-4053.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/opportunities/Internship>

Media Affairs

Members of the press may contact the Center at 202-691-4217.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/media-access-to-the-wilson-center>

Multimedia

Wide ranging in scope, "Wilson Center On Demand" serves as a hub for insightful analysis of and commentary on ideas and issues.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/wilson-center-demand>

President Woodrow Wilson

To learn about President Wilson's life and which of the Center's scholars are researching and writing about him, visit the "About Woodrow Wilson" web page. The page also contains a bibliography, a list of other institutions that are dedicated to the former President, and some of his quotations.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/about-woodrow-wilson>

Press Statements

The Center posts press statements.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/press-statements>

Publications

The Center publishes policy briefs and research reports, as well as books written by staff and visiting scholars and fellows, through the Wilson Center Press. Phone, 202-691-4000.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/publications>

Every 3 months, "The Wilson Quarterly" magazine releases a cluster of content exploring a single topic from diverse perspectives. This free, online magazine examines culture, current events, ideas, and the people affected by them.

<http://wilsonquarterly.com/quarterly> | Email: wq@wilsoncenter.org

Social Media

The Center maintains an account on Facebook.

<https://www.facebook.com/woodrowwilsoncenter>

The Center posts openings for jobs and internships on its LinkedIn page.

<https://www.linkedin.com/company/woodrow-wilson-international-center-for-scholars>

The Center tweets announcements, news, and other noteworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/thewilsoncenter>

The Center posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/woodrowwilsoncenter>

Visitor Services

Events, unless otherwise noted, are free and open to the public. Photo identification is required for entry. A listing of events at the Center is available online.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/events>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts

The United States Government Manual

JOHN F. KENNEDY CENTER FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS

John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566

202-467-4600

<http://www.kennedy-center.org>

CHAIR

David M. Rubenstein

President

Deborah F. Rutter

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/pages/about/ourpeople>

National Symphony Orchestra

---

Music Director

Gianandrea Noseda

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/artist/A58901>

The Suzanne Farrell Ballet

---

Artistic Director

Suzanne Farrell

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/sfb/biography>

Washington National Opera

---

Artistic Director

Francesca Zambello

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/wno/MTO/ArtDir>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

---

The Kennedy Center is the only official memorial to President John F. Kennedy in Washington, DC. The Center presents a year-round program of dance, drama, music, and opera from the United States and abroad.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Opportunities are posted on the Federal Business Opportunities Web site. For more information, contact The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566.

<https://www.fbo.gov>

Career Opportunities

Job descriptions of open positions are available online.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/jobs>

The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts offers internships for undergraduate and graduate students and for recent college graduates.

<http://education.kennedy-center.org/education/internships/overview.html>

In partnership with American University, the Center offers a merit-based, 9-month fellowship in art management.

<http://education.kennedy-center.org/education/internships/fellowships.html>

Education / Research

For information on education programs, contact The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8000.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/education>

Free Performances

Free performances are given every day at 6 p.m. on the Millennium Stage in the Grand Foyer.

<https://www.kennedy-center.org/video/upcoming>

History

In January of 1964, not long after the death of President John F. Kennedy, Congress designated the National Cultural Center as a "living memorial" to the slain President and authorized 23 million dollars to help build what is known today as the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. Before the end of that year, enough artwork, building materials, and additional funds had been donated to start construction. With a gold-plated spade that had been used to break ground at both the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, President Lyndon B. Johnson symbolically removed the first soil from the new site. The Center opened to the public in 1971, more than a decade after President Dwight D. Eisenhower and legislators, from both parties, had taken initial steps toward realizing this vision. To learn more about the people who imagined a cultural center for the Nation, those who supported its realization, and the emergence of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts as an iconic institution of the arts, visit the "History" Web page.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/pages/about/history>

Live Streaming

The Center live streams artists while they perform.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/video/live>

Memberships

For information on national and local activities, including the bimonthly "Kennedy Center News" for members, visit an information desk inside The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. Or, contact Member Services, The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8310.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/membership> | Email: membership@kennedy-center.org

Social Media

John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/KennedyCenter>

The Center tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/KenCen>

The Center posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/TheKennedyCenter>

Special Functions

For information on using the facilities for special functions, contact the Office of Special Events, The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8000.

<https://www.kennedy-center.org/rental>

Theater Operations

For information on using the theaters, contact the booking manager at The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8032.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/pages/theaterrental>

Tickets

Tickets for admission to performances may be purchased at the box office, by mail, by phone using instant-charge, or online. Phone, 202-467-4600. TTY, 202-416-8524.

<https://www.kennedy-center.org/tickets>

The Center posts answers to frequently asked ticket-related questions.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/contact/topic/1>

Tours

The Friends of the Kennedy Center volunteers provide visitor services. Tours are available free of charge on weekdays, 10 a.m.–5 p.m., and on weekends, 10 a.m.–1 p.m.

<https://www.kennedy-center.org/pages/visitor/tours>

Videos

The Center regularly posts short videos of artists performing. Its Web site has an expanding collection of over 2,000 selections.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/Video/recentVideos>

Volunteer Opportunities

For information on volunteer opportunities, contact Friends of the Kennedy Center, 2700 F Street NW, Washington, DC 20566. Phone, 202-416-8000.

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/support/volunteers>

<http://www.kennedy-center.org/contact>

For further information, contact The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. Phone, 202-467-4600.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

National Gallery of Art

The United States Government Manual

NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART

4th and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20565

202-737-4215

<http://www.nga.gov>

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

---

DIRECTOR

Kaywin Feldman

Secretary / General Counsel

Nancy R. Breuer

<https://www.nga.gov/about/directors-welcome.html>

GENERAL TRUSTEES

---

PRESIDENT

Mitchell P. Rales

Chair

Sharon P. Rockefeller

<https://www.nga.gov/about/leadership.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

ACTIVITIES

---

The National Gallery of Art administers a world-class collection of painting, sculpture, and the graphic arts. The West Building includes European (13th–early 20th century) and American (18th–early 20th century) works. An extensive survey of Italian painting and sculpture, including the only painting by Leonardo da Vinci in the Americas, is on display in the Gallery. Rich in Dutch masters and French impressionists, the collection offers superb surveys of American, British, Flemish, Spanish, and 15th- and 16th-century German art, as well as Renaissance medals and bronzes, Chinese porcelains, and about 117,000 works of graphic art from the 12th century to the present day. The East Building collections and Sculpture Garden contain important works by major 20th-century artists. The Gallery relies on public and private resources. Federal appropriations support its operations and maintenance. Private donations and funds allow it to acquire artwork, as well as to offer a variety of special programs. For example, a fellowship program promotes graduate and postgraduate research, an extension service provides free education resources to millions of people each year, and other programs educate schoolchildren and the public.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

For more information, contact the National Gallery of Art, Office of Procurement and Contracts, 2000B South Club Drive, Landover, MD 20785. Phone, 202-842-6745. Fax, 202-312-2792.

<https://www.fbo.gov/index?s=main&mode=list&tab=list>

Calendar

The full calendar of events is available online. To subscribe to the quarterly brochure of seasonal exhibition and programming highlights, visit the Gallery's Web site or call 202-842-6662.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/calendar.html> | Email: calendar@nga.gov

Career Opportunities

The National Gallery of Art relies on approximately 1,000 employees to carry out its mission. Some positions require a background in art history or design; however, other positions—like salesperson, security guard, and visitor services aide—support the museum's daily operations and are less specialized. The National Gallery of Art also employs accountants, administrators, facilities managers, fundraisers, information systems specialists, librarians, and other professionals with technical expertise. Phone, 202-842-6282.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/opportunities/employment-opportunities.html> | Email: staffing@nga.gov

The National Gallery of Art offers internships and opportunities for fellows. Conservation and curatorial fellowships are available, as well as Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts (CASVA) fellowships.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/opportunities/interns-and-fellows.html>

The National Gallery of Art offers a range of volunteer opportunities. Volunteers serve as docents, manage the information desks at the entrances to the East and West Buildings, work in the library, and help in the horticulture division. Local high school students can participate in the teen volunteer program.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/opportunities/volunteer-opportunities.html>

Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts (CASVA)

The CASVA is a research institute that supports study of the production, use, and cultural meaning of architecture, art, artifacts, film, photography, and urbanism. It offers fellowships, organizes scholarly meetings, produces publications, and supports research. These activities are privately funded through endowments and grants to the National Gallery of Art. Phone, 202-842-6480.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/research/casva.html> | Email: casva@nga.gov

Concerts

Concerts by accomplished musicians are open to the public without charge. Seating starts 30 minutes before the performance on a first-come, first-seated basis. Phone, 202-842-6941.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/calendar/concerts.html>

Educational Resources

The Gallery's free loan program allows community groups, educational institutions, individuals, and nonprofit television stations nationwide to borrow teaching packets and DVDs. Dozens of lessons and activities are also accessible on the Gallery's Web site. For more information, including the free catalog of education resources, contact the Department of Education Resources, National Gallery of Art, 2000B South Club Drive, Landover, MD 20785. Phone, 202-842-6273.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/education/learningresources.html> | Email: edresources@nga.gov

Family Programs

The Gallery offers free family programs—children's films, music performances, storytelling, and workshops—that are suitable for children ages 4 and up. Phone, 202-789-3030.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/education/families.html> | Email: family@nga.gov

Films

An ongoing program of classic cinema, documentary, avant-garde, and area premieres takes place each weekend. Seating is on a first-come, first-seated basis, and admission is free. Doors open approximately 30 minutes before each show. Visiting filmmakers and scholars discuss films with the audiences following some screenings. Phone, 202-842-6799.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/calendar/film-programs.html> | Email: film-department@nga.gov

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The National Gallery of Art posts answers to FAQs on its Web site.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/contact-us.html>

Ice-Skating Rink

Each winter, the National Gallery of Art opens its ice rink in the Sculpture Garden. The seasonal skating schedule is posted online in November.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/visit/ice-rink.html>

Image Collections

The Department of Image Collections serves as the National Gallery of Art's research center for images of Western art and architecture. The collections now contain over 14 million digital images, microforms, negatives, photographs, and slides, making this resource one of the largest of its kind. Gallery staff, Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts (CASVA) members, visiting scholars, and serious adult researchers regularly use the collections. The library is accessible by appointment every Monday, noon–4:30 p.m., and Tuesday–Friday, 10 a.m.–4:30 p.m., except on Federal holidays. Phone, 202-842-6026.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/research/library/imagecollections.html>

Lectures

Lecture events are open to the public, and admission is free. Seating is available on a first-come, first-seated basis.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/calendar/lectures.html>

Library

The National Gallery of Art Library maintains a collection of more than 400,000 books and periodicals on the history, theory, and criticism of art and architecture. The collection's holdings emphasize Western art from the Middle Ages to the present and American art from the colonial era to the present. The library is accessible by appointment every Monday, noon–4:30 p.m., and Tuesday–Friday, 10 a.m.–4:30 p.m., except on Federal holidays. Phone, 202-842-6511.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/research/library/About.html>

Memberships

The Gallery offers three membership levels of annual giving: The Circle, The Tower Project, and The Exhibition Circle. Circle members contribute to conservation programs, special exhibitions, and research. Tower Project members promote contemporary artists by supporting modern and contemporary exhibitions in the Tower Gallery of the East Building. Exhibition Circle members provide funding for exhibitions. For more information on membership levels and their benefits, contact The Circle, National Gallery of Art, 2000B South Club Drive, Landover, MD 20785. Phone, 202-

842-6450. Fax, 202 789-4577.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/support/membership.html> | Email: circle@nga.gov

News

The National Gallery of Art posts recent news releases on its Web site.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/press.html> | Email: pressinfo@nga.gov

An online subscription form is available to sign up for announcements, newsletters, notifications, and updates on acquisitions and exhibitions; activities, projects, and programs; and other topics.

http://subscribe.nga.gov/subscription\_form\_ngart.cfm

NGAkids

NGAkids offers interactive activities and adventures with artwork from the Gallery's collection and an animated tale set in the Gallery's Sculpture Garden.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/education/kids.html>

Photographs

Photographs that are not on display may be viewed by appointment. Phone, 202-842-6144.

Email: photographs@nga.gov

Publications

The Gallery Shops sell publications on the Gallery's collections and quality reproductions of artwork. Purchases may be made online or by calling 800-697-9350.

<https://shop.nga.gov>

Public Wi-Fi

Wireless internet service is available throughout the Gallery to visitors who are 18 years old and older or at least 13 years old with permission from a parent or guardian. The network name is "NGA_Public_WiFi," and a password is not needed. A user must, however, supply his or her own Internet device and agree to the "Terms and Conditions of Use."

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/visit/public-wifi.html>

Tours

The education division offers daily guided talks and tours in the galleries. Phone, 202-842-6247.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/visit/tours-and-guides.html>

Visitor Services

The Visitor Services Office assists those with special needs, responds to written and telephone requests, and helps visitors plan their stay in the Washington, DC, area. For more information, contact the National Gallery of Art, Office of Visitor Services, 2000B South Club Drive, Landover, MD 20785. Phone, 202-842-6691.

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/visit.html>

Works on Paper

Works of art on paper that are not on display may be viewed by appointment. Phone, 202-842-6380 (European works). Phone, 202-842-6605 (American works).

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/research/make-an-appointment.html> | Email: printstudyrooms@nga.gov

<http://www.nga.gov/content/ngaweb/contact-us.html>

For further information, contact the National Gallery of Art. Phone, 202-737-4215.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars

The United States Government Manual

WOODROW WILSON INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR SCHOLARS

Scholar Administration Office, Woodrow Wilson Center, One Woodrow Wilson Plaza, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20004-3027

202-691-4000

202-691-4001

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org>

DIRECTOR / PRESIDENT / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Jane L. Harman

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/person/jane-harman>

Board of Trustees

---

CHAIR

William E. Haslam

---

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/leadership>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

---

ACTIVITIES

---

Created by an Act of Congress in 1968, the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars is a national, living memorial honoring the legacy of President Woodrow Wilson. The Wilson Center, headquartered in Washington, DC, and supported by both public and private funds, provides a strictly nonpartisan space for scholars and policymakers to interact. By conducting relevant, timely research and promoting dialogue from diverse perspectives, the Center works to address critical current and emerging challenges confronting the United States and the world.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/about-the-wilson-center>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

Career opportunities at the Center are posted online. For more information, contact the Office of Human Resources, One Woodrow Wilson Plaza, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., 3d Floor, Washington, DC 20004-3027.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/opportunities/Job> | Email: jobs@wilsoncenter.org

Contact Information

In addition to a "Get In Touch" electronic form, the "Contact Us" web page contains the general phone number and email address for and the hours of operation of and directions to the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/contact-us> | Email: wwics@wilsoncenter.org

Donations

An online form is available for making tax-deductible contributions to support dialogue and scholarship in public policy. Gifts may be directed to a specific program by using the "Designation" drop-down menu. "Unrestricted" gifts allow the Center to build its overall capacity and meet areas of greatest need. Phone, 202-691-4171.

<https://engage.wilsoncenter.org/onlineactions/KxzFKo0YTk2W8uYVKK5HKg2> | Email: development@wilsoncenter.org

Experts

The Center convenes scholars to create a dialogue of ideas that the U.S. Congress, the President's administration, and the international policy community may adopt for implementation.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/experts>

Fellowships

The Center offers residential fellowships that allow academics, public officials, journalists, business professionals, and others to pursue their research and writing at the Center while interacting with policymakers in Washington. The Center also invites public policy scholars and senior scholars from a variety of disciplines to conduct research for varying lengths of time in residence. Phone, 202-691-4000.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/fellowships-grants>

Internships

The Center has a year-round need for interns to assist the program and projects staff and to act as research assistants for scholars and fellows. Phone, 202-691-4053.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/opportunities/Internship>

Media Affairs

Members of the press may contact the Center at 202-691-4217.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/media-access-to-the-wilson-center>

Multimedia

Wide ranging in scope, "Wilson Center On Demand" serves as a hub for insightful analysis of and commentary on ideas and issues.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/wilson-center-demand>

President Woodrow Wilson

To learn about President Wilson's life and which of the Center's scholars are researching and writing about him, visit the "About Woodrow Wilson" web page. The page also contains a bibliography, a list of other institutions that are dedicated to the former President, and some of his quotations.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/about-woodrow-wilson>

Press Statements

The Center posts press statements.

<https://www.wilsoncenter.org/press-statements>

Publications

The Center publishes policy briefs and research reports, as well as books written by staff and visiting scholars and fellows, through the Wilson Center Press. Phone, 202-691-4000.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/publications>

Every 3 months, "The Wilson Quarterly" magazine releases a cluster of content exploring a single topic from diverse perspectives. This free, online magazine examines culture, current events, ideas, and the people affected by them.

<http://wilsonquarterly.com/quarterly> | Email: wq@wilsoncenter.org

Social Media

The Center maintains an account on Facebook.

<https://www.facebook.com/woodrowwilsoncenter>

The Center posts openings for jobs and internships on its LinkedIn page.

<https://www.linkedin.com/company/woodrow-wilson-international-center-for-scholars>

The Center tweets announcements, news, and other noteworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/thewilsoncenter>

The Center posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/woodrowwilsoncenter>

Visitor Services

Events, unless otherwise noted, are free and open to the public. Photo identification is required for entry. A listing of events at the Center is available online.

<http://www.wilsoncenter.org/events>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

State Justice Institute

The United States Government Manual

STATE JUSTICE INSTITUTE

11951 Freedom Drive, Suite 1020, Reston, VA 20190

571-313-8843

<http://www.sji.gov> | Email: contact@sjj.gov

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

---

JUDGES

Treasurer

David V. Brewer

Jonathan Lippman

Wilfredo Martinez

Chair

John D. Minton, Jr.

Secretary

Gayle A. Nachtigal

Chase T. Rogers

PUBLIC SECTOR MEMBERS

Isabel Framer

Marsha J. Rabiteau

Hernán D. Vera

(vacancy)

STATE COURT ADMINISTRATOR

Vice Chair

Daniel J. Becker

<http://www.sji.gov/about-sji/board-of-directors>

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Jonathan D. Mattiello

<http://www.sji.gov/about-sji/executivedirector>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2019.

The State Justice Institute supports the Nation's judicial system and the public that it serves.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On November 8, 1984, President Ronald W. Reagan approved Public Law 98–620. Title II of that statute, which is commonly cited as the State Justice Institute Act of 1984, established the State Justice Institute as a private nonprofit corporation whose purpose is "to further the development and adoption of improved judicial administration in State courts in the United States" (98 Stat. 3336).

http://www.sji.gov/wp/wp-content/uploads/SJI\_Authorization.pdf

Statutory descriptions of the SJI's duties, Board of Directors, officers and employees, grants and contracts, activities, administrative provisions, Presidential coordination, records and reports, and audits, are codified in chapter 113, sections 10701–10713, of 42 U.S.C.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?path=/prelim@title42/chapter113&edition=prelim>

A Board of Directors that comprises 11 members—six judges, a State court administrator, and four members from the public sector— supervises the SJI. The President appoints the members, by the advice and with the consent of the Senate, to 3-year terms. A member cannot be reappointed to more than two consecutive terms immediately following his or her initial term. The Chair of the Board is selected from among the members, by the members. No more than two of the public sector members can affiliate with the same political party.

<https://uscode.house.gov/view.xhtml?req=granuleid:USC-prelim-title42-section10703&num=0&edition=prelim>

The SJI does not post an organizational chart on its website.

ACTIVITIES

---

The SJI develops solutions to common issues faced by State courts; provides practical products to judges and court staff; ensures that effective approaches in one State are quickly and economically shared with other courts nationwide; and supports national, regional, and instate educational programs to accelerate the transfer of solutions. To accomplish these broad objectives, the SJI is authorized to provide funds through grants, cooperative agreements, and contracts to the State courts and to organizations that support them.

<http://www.sji.gov/about-sji>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archived Records

"Records of the State Justice Institute, 1990 - 2013" have been accessioned by the National Archives and Records Administration. The collection identifier is SJI.

<https://catalog.archives.gov/id/7459146>

Budget Request

The SJI posted its "Fiscal Year 2019 Budget Request" to Congress in Portable Document Format (PDF) on its website.

<http://www.sji.gov/wp/wp-content/uploads/FY-2019-SJI-Budget-Request.pdf>

Forms

Documents to view and print are posted online in Portable Document Format (PDF). These documents include a number of forms: assurances, consultant rate, disclosure of lobbying activities, grant application, project budget, reimbursement request, and State approval certificate.

<http://www.sji.gov/forms>

Grants

Information on various award and grant types—curriculum adaptation and training grants, the education support program, project grants, and technical assistance grants—is available online.

<http://www.sji.gov/grants>

History

In 2014, the SJI published its 30th Anniversary Report, which offers a retrospective overview of achievements over the past three decades.

<http://www.sji.gov/wp/wp-content/uploads/SJI-30th-Anniversary-Report.pdf>

Investment

The SJI has posted its priority investment areas for fiscal year 2020.

<http://www.sji.gov/priority-investment-areas>

News

The SJI posts news items on its website.

<http://www.sji.gov/news>

Newsletter

Readers may subscribe to the monthly "SJI Newsletter" online.

<http://www.sji.gov/newsletter-archives>

Social Media

The SJI has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/SJI.gov>

The SJI tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/statejustice>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL MUSEUM

100 Raoul Wallenberg Place, SW., Washington, DC 20024-2126

202-488-0400

TTY, 202-488-0406

<http://www.ushmm.org>

U.S. HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL COUNCIL

---

Arizona

---

Andrew M. Cohn

---

Susan G. Levine

---

California

---

Laurence M. Baer

---

Susan E. Lowenberg

---

Deborah A. Oppenheimer

---

Eric P. Ortner

---

Elliot J. Schrage

---

Clemantine Wamariya

---

Jeremy M. Weinstein

---

Daniel G. Weiss

---

District of Columbia

---

VICE CHAIR

---

Allan M. Holt

---

Joshua B. Bolten

---

Norman L. Eisen

---

Raffi Freedman-Gurspan

---

David M. Marchick

---

Benjamin J. Rhodes

---

Florida

---

Walter R. Allen, Jr.

Jeffrey P. Feingold

Murray J. Laulich

Andrew J. Weinstein

Illinois

---

Jordan T. Goodman

Samuel N. Gordon

Priscilla Levine Kersten

Tamar Newberger

Michael P. Polsky

Richard S. Price

Maureen Schulman

Indiana

---

Lee A. Feinstein

Cindy Simon Skjodt

Maryland

---

Edward P. Lazarus

Bradley D. Wine

New Jersey

---

Ethel C. Brooks

Betty Pantirer Schwartz

New York

---

CHAIR

Howard M. Lorber

Tom A. Bernstein

Michael S. Bosworth

Jonathan W. Burkan

Sara Darehshori

Helene Feldman

David M. Flaum

Michael H. Posner

Daniel J. Rosen

Menachem Z. Rosensaft

Howard D. Unger

Other States

---

Massachusetts

Jonathan S. Lavine

Missouri

Sam M. Devinki

New Hampshire

Daniel Benjamin

Ohio

Ronald Ratner

Texas

Fred S. Zeidman

|          |                |
|----------|----------------|
| Virginia | Melissa Rogers |
|----------|----------------|

|            |                |
|------------|----------------|
| Washington | Eric A. LeVine |
|------------|----------------|

|               |                  |
|---------------|------------------|
| West Virginia | Irvin N. Shapell |
|---------------|------------------|

England

|                 |
|-----------------|
| Stuart A. Levey |
|-----------------|

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/about-the-museum/council>

Congressional Members

|         |                         |
|---------|-------------------------|
| Florida | Rep. Theodore E. Deutch |
|---------|-------------------------|

|         |                    |
|---------|--------------------|
| Georgia | Rep. John R. Lewis |
|---------|--------------------|

|          |                           |
|----------|---------------------------|
| Illinois | Rep. Bradley S. Schneider |
|----------|---------------------------|

|          |                    |
|----------|--------------------|
| New York | Rep. Lee M. Zeldin |
|----------|--------------------|

|           |                       |
|-----------|-----------------------|
| Tennessee | Rep. David F. Kustoff |
|-----------|-----------------------|

|         |                     |
|---------|---------------------|
| Florida | Sen. Marco A. Rubio |
|---------|---------------------|

|          |                         |
|----------|-------------------------|
| Maryland | Sen. Benjamin L. Cardin |
|----------|-------------------------|

|                |                  |
|----------------|------------------|
| South Carolina | Timothy E. Scott |
|----------------|------------------|

|         |                      |
|---------|----------------------|
| Vermont | Sen. Bernard Sanders |
|---------|----------------------|

|           |
|-----------|
| (vacancy) |
|-----------|

Ex Officio Members—Nonvoting

EXECUTIVE BRANCH DEPARTMENTS

|           |                     |
|-----------|---------------------|
| Education | Philip H. Rosenfelt |
|-----------|---------------------|

|                                |                     |
|--------------------------------|---------------------|
| Interior                       | (vacancy)           |
| State                          | Thomas K. Yazdgerdi |
| General Counsel to the Council | Gerard Leval        |

Council Staff

---

|                  |                    |
|------------------|--------------------|
| MUSEUM DIRECTOR  | Sara J. Bloomfield |
| Internal Auditor | Mel Schwartz       |

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/about-the-museum/executive-biographies/bloomfield>

MUSEUM ADMINISTRATION

---

|                        |                    |
|------------------------|--------------------|
| MUSEUM DIRECTOR        | Sara J. Bloomfield |
| Deputy Museum Director | Sarah Ogilvie      |
| General Counsel        | Ronald F. Cuffe    |

Senior Advisors

---

|           |                |
|-----------|----------------|
| Marketing | Michelle Stein |
| Strategy  | Cameron Hudson |

Chief Officers

---

|                   |                      |
|-------------------|----------------------|
| Development       | Jordan Tannenbaum    |
| Financial Officer | Polly Povejsil Heath |

|                   |                |
|-------------------|----------------|
| Information       | Joseph Kraus   |
| Museum Operations | Tanell Coleman |
| Program Officer   | Sarah Ogilvie  |

Directors

|  |                     |
|--|---------------------|
| Constituency Engagement                            | Diane Saltzman      |
| International Affairs                              | Paul Shapiro        |
| Levine Institute for Holocaust Education           | Yariv Lapid         |
| Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies       | Wendy Lower, Acting |
| National Institute for Holocaust Documentation     | Michael Grunberger  |
| Planning   | Dara Goldberg       |
| Simon-Skjodt Center for the Prevention of Genocide | Jill Savitt, Acting |

The above list of key personnel was updated 7–2019.

The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum promotes documentation, study, and interpretation of the Holocaust and maintains a permanent living memorial to its victims.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

On October 7, 1980, President James E. Carter approved Public Law 96–388, which established the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Council. This Act made the Council responsible for planning, constructing, and overseeing "the operation of, a permanent living memorial museum to the victims of the holocaust." It established the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum (USHMM) (36 U.S.C. 1401-1408).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-94/pdf/STATUTE-94-Pg1547.pdf>

The United States Holocaust Memorial Council, which serves as a board of trustees, governs the USHMM. The Council's 55 members are appointed by the President to staggered 5-year terms. Additionally, five members are appointed from each Chamber of the Congress. There are also three nonvoting ex-officio members from the Departments of Education, State, and the Interior.

On October 12, 2000, President William J. Clinton approved Public Law 106–292 "to authorize appropriations" for the USHMM and "for other purposes." The Act gave the Museum permanent authorization as an independent establishment (36 U.S.C. 2301 et seq.).

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/STATUTE-114/pdf/STATUTE-114-Pg1030.pdf>

The USHMM operates as a public-private partnership. Its activities and programs are supported by planned giving, endowments, and revenues; gifts, grants, and contracts; and Federal funding.

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/about-the-museum>

The Museum's organizational chart is available in its "Performance and Accountability Report—FY 2018" on page 35.

<https://www.ushmm.org/m/pdfs/20181116-ushmm-par-fy18.pdf>

ACTIVITIES

---

Advanced Holocaust Studies

The Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies works with the United States Holocaust Memorial Council's Academic Committee to support research projects and publications on the Holocaust, provide access to Holocaust-related archival materials for study and new research, sponsor fellowship opportunities for pre- and postdoctoral researchers, and offer seminars, summer research workshops, conferences, lectures, and symposia.

<https://www.ushmm.org/research/about-the-mandel-center>

For further information, contact the Jack, Joseph, and Morton Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies. Phone, 202-488-0400. TTY, 202-488-0406.

Holocaust Education

The William Levine Family National Institute for Holocaust Education promotes a variety of resources and programs to help educators, professionals, and students increase their knowledge of Holocaust history and understand its relevance today. Educational outreach programs provide teachers with classroom strategies and resources for teaching students about the Holocaust.

<http://www.ushmm.org/educators/teaching-about-the-holocaust>

For further information, contact the National Institute for Holocaust Education.

Prevention of Genocide

The Simon-Skjodt Center for the Prevention of Genocide raises awareness of genocide, influences policymaking on genocide prevention, and stimulates worldwide action to prevent genocide and related mass atrocities. It seeks to make genocide prevention a national and international priority by increasing public awareness and mobilizing worldwide support to avert these crimes against humanity.

<http://www.ushmm.org/confront-genocide/about> | Email: genocideprevention@ushmm.org

For further information, contact the Simon-Skjodt Center for the Prevention of Genocide. Phone, 202-488-0400. TTY, 202-488-0406.

PROGRAMS

---

Civic and Defense Initiatives

This program explores the ways in which the military can work to prevent genocide today.

<http://www.ushmm.org/professionals-and-student-leaders/military-professionals>

Ethics, Religion, and the Holocaust

These programs focus on the response of churches to the Holocaust and the ways in which religious institutions, leaders, and theologians have addressed this history and its legacy.

<https://www.ushmm.org/research/about-the-mandel-center/initiatives/ethics-religion-holocaust>

For further information, contact the Programs on Ethics, Religion, and the Holocaust.

Law Enforcement and Society: Lessons of the Holocaust

This program examines the role that law enforcement professionals played in the Holocaust. It also challenges them to reflect on their professional and personal responsibilities in a democracy today.

<http://www.ushmm.org/professionals-and-student-leaders/law-enforcement>

For further information, contact the Lessons of the Holocaust Program.

Law, Justice, and the Holocaust

This program examines the decisions German jurists made and the pressures they faced under the Nazi regime. This is a one-day program for judges, prosecutors, and court administrators.

<http://www.ushmm.org/professionals-and-student-leaders/judiciary>

For further information, contact the Law, Justice, and the Holocaust Program.

Youth and Community Initiatives

This program introduces students to Holocaust history and helps them develop leadership skills for confronting hatred and promoting human dignity.

<http://www.ushmm.org/professionals-and-student-leaders/student-leaders>

For further information, contact the Student Leaders Program.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Café

The Museum Café is open daily, 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m., except on Yom Kippur and Christmas Day. Visitors may not bring food into it or the Museum. The café serves breakfast, salads, sandwiches, and soups, including vegetarian and kosher options. Kosher food is prepared and sealed offsite under rabbinical supervision.

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/visit-the-museum/museum-cafe>

Calendar of Events

For information on upcoming events, see the Museum's online calendar.

<http://www.ushmm.org/online/calendar>

Career Opportunities

The museum employs people with diverse professional experience: collections, education, exhibits, fundraising, marketing, programming, and other areas. A list of current job openings is available on the "Careers" web page.

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/career-volunteer-opportunities/careers>

Paid and unpaid internship opportunities are available.

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/career-volunteer-opportunities/internships>

Collections / Exhibitions

The Museum's holdings include art, books, pamphlets, advertisements, maps, film and video historical footage, audio and video oral testimonies, music and sound recordings, furnishings, architectural fragments, models, machinery, tools, microfilm and microfiche of government documents and other official records, personal effects, personal papers, photographs, photo albums, and textiles. The self-guided permanent exhibition spans three floors and presents a narrative history of the Holocaust with historical artifacts, photographs, and film footage. Special exhibitions include Remember the Children: Daniel's Story (for children 8 and up) and Some Were Neighbors: Collaboration and Complicity in the Holocaust. The Museum's traveling exhibitions have gone to numerous cities, States, and countries. These exhibitions extend the history of the Holocaust beyond the Museum's walls. More information on the Museum's collections and exhibitions is available on its website.

<http://www.ushmm.org/information/exhibitions>

Contact Information

The "Press Room" web page has phone numbers and email addresses for contacting the Museum's communications staff.

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/press>

Encyclopedia

An encyclopedia of the Holocaust is available on the Museum's website.

<https://www.ushmm.org/learn/holocaust-encyclopedia>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The Museum posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.ushmm.org/research/ask-a-research-question/frequently-asked-questions>

Multilingual Resources

At the top of the Museum's home page is a "Language" drop-down menu that allows non-English readers to access resources in a number of languages: Arabic, Bahasa, Chinese, French, Greek, Hungarian, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, and Turkish.

<https://www.ushmm.org>

News

The Museum posts press releases on its website.

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/press/press-releases>

To receive electronic Museum news, invitations to special programs and exhibitions, and updates on genocide prevention and other initiatives, subscribe using the online form.

<https://engage.ushmm.org/subscribe.html>

Plan a Visit

The Museum is open every day, except on Yom Kippur and Christmas. Admission is free; however, timed passes are required to enter the permanent exhibition from March through August. No passes are required for other Museum exhibitions. The "Plan Your Visit" web pages contain a trove of useful information on accessibility, admission and tickets, group reservations, hours, location, transportation, and more.

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/visit-the-museum/plan-your-visit>

Reports

Strategic plans and annual, budget, and FAIR Act reports are available on the "Reports" web page.

<https://www.ushmm.org/copyright-and-legal-information/annual-reports>

Starting with the year 2004, performance and accountability reports are available online.

<https://www.ushmm.org/copyright-and-legal-information/performance-and-accountability>

Social Media

The Museum relies on social media to share information on its programs and resources; to memorialize the victims of Nazism; to launch discussion on the Holocaust and its relevance today; and to raise awareness that antisemitism, genocide, and hatred are persistent threats and that everybody has a role in combating them.

<https://www.ushmm.org/information/connect-with-the-museum#guidelines>

Support the Mission

Annual membership gifts help the Museum confront antisemitism and answer Holocaust denial, expand educational outreach, and preserve historical artifacts.

<https://www.ushmm.org/support>

The Museum uses its resources to confront hatred and genocide, to educate students and provide classroom resources for teachers, and to rescue Holocaust evidence and make additional historic documents available in digital format. An online contribution, one-time or monthly, supports these activities immediately and directly.

<https://engage.ushmm.org/support.html>

Volunteer Opportunities

The Museum welcomes volunteers and offers a variety of service opportunities.

<http://www.ushmm.org/information/career-volunteer-opportunities/volunteering>

The Sources of Information were updated 7-2019.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United States Institute of Peace

The United States Government Manual

UNITED STATES INSTITUTE OF PEACE

2301 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20037

202-457-1700

202-429-6063

<http://www.usip.org>

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

---

|       |                   |
|-------|-------------------|
| CHAIR | Stephen J. Hadley |
|-------|-------------------|

|            |                 |
|------------|-----------------|
| Vice Chair | George E. Moose |
|------------|-----------------|

|        |             |
|--------|-------------|
| Member | Judy Ansley |
|--------|-------------|

|        |                 |
|--------|-----------------|
| Member | Eric S. Edelman |
|--------|-----------------|

|        |                 |
|--------|-----------------|
| Member | Joseph Eldridge |
|--------|-----------------|

|        |               |
|--------|---------------|
| Member | Kerry Kennedy |
|--------|---------------|

|        |               |
|--------|---------------|
| Member | Ikram U. Khan |
|--------|---------------|

|        |                    |
|--------|--------------------|
| Member | Stephen D. Krasner |
|--------|--------------------|

|        |                   |
|--------|-------------------|
| Member | John A. Lancaster |
|--------|-------------------|

|        |                  |
|--------|------------------|
| Member | Jeremy A. Rabkin |
|--------|------------------|

|        |                  |
|--------|------------------|
| Member | J. Robinson West |
|--------|------------------|

|        |              |
|--------|--------------|
| Member | Nancy Zirkin |
|--------|--------------|

|                                 |                  |
|---------------------------------|------------------|
| Secretary of State (ex officio) | Rex W. Tillerson |
|---------------------------------|------------------|

|                                   |                         |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------|
| Secretary of Defense (ex officio) | Gen. James Mattis, USMC |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------|

|   |                                      |
|---|--------------------------------------|
| President, National Defense University (ex officio) | Maj. Gen. Frederick M. Padilla, USMC |
|---|--------------------------------------|

|   |                |
|---|----------------|
| President, U.S. Institute of Peace (ex officio) | Nancy Lindborg |
|---|----------------|

OFFICIALS

|           |                |
|-----------|----------------|
| PRESIDENT | Nancy Lindborg |
|-----------|----------------|

|                          |                   |
|--------------------------|-------------------|
| Executive Vice President | William B. Taylor |
|--------------------------|-------------------|

|   |                       |
|---|-----------------------|
| Director, Congressional Relations           | Anne Hingeley, Acting |
| Director, Public Affairs and Communications | Liz Callihan Acting   |
| Vice President, External Relations          | Diane Zeleny          |

The United States Institute of Peace prevents, mitigates, and resolves violent conflicts around the world.

The United States Institute of Peace (USIP) is an independent nonprofit corporation established by Congress pursuant to title XVII of the Defense Authorization Act of 1985, as amended (22 U.S.C. 4601-4611), to develop, apply, and foster cost-effective strategies and tools to prevent, mitigate, and resolve violent international conflicts, particularly those that threaten or harm America's strategic and security interests. The United States Institute of Peace Act defines the organization's mission: "to serve the people and the government through the widest possible range of education and training, basic and applied research opportunities, and peace information services on the means to promote international peace and the resolution of conflicts among nations and peoples of the world without recourse to violence."

<http://www.usip.org/vision-mission-core-principles>

With the confirmation of the Senate, the President appoints the Institute's bipartisan Board of Directors. It comprises 12 members from outside the Federal service—plus four ex officio members, three from the State Department, Department of Defense, and National Defense University, and the fourth is the President of the Institute. The Board governs the Institute and appoints its President. No more than eight voting members may be from the same political party.

<http://www.usip.org/aboutus/board.html>

ACTIVITIES

---

The Institute supports U.S. national security and foreign affairs through conflict management and peacebuilding operations, training in conflict management and peacebuilding tradecraft and best practices, and conflict research and analysis. The USIP operates on the ground in conflict zones. It facilitates dialogue among parties in conflict, builds conflict management skills and capacity, identifies and disseminates best practices in conflict management, promotes the rule of law, reforms and strengthens education systems, strengthens civil society, and educates the public through media and other outreach activities. The USIP works in partnership with the State and Defense Departments, the U.S. Agency for International Development, nongovernmental organizations, higher and secondary educational institutions, foreign governments, and international organizations to promote collaborative problemsolving through conflict management operations, training and analysis, facilitated dialogue, Track 1.5 diplomacy, and special events. The Institute conducts practitioner training in conflict management, including mediation and negotiating skills for government and military personnel, civil society leaders, and staff of nongovernmental and international organizations. The Institute extends its reach through grants, fellowships, and scholarships to nonprofit organizations in the United States and overseas.

<http://www.usip.org/issue-areas>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Employment

The USIP relies on knowledgeable, talented professionals to carry out its mission. A recent graduate typically starts as a program assistant. The ideal candidate is a high academic achiever; has a background in international relations or a related field; and possesses administrative, computer, research, and writing skills. Regional specialization and language skills may be required for some positions.

<http://www.usip.org/jobs>

Grants / Fellowships

Information on USIP grants and fellowship programs is available online.

<http://www.usip.org/grants-fellowships>

Publications

USIP articles, publications, and tools are accessible online.

<http://www.usip.org/publications>

<http://www.usip.org/newsroom>

For further information, contact the U.S. Institute of Peace, Office of Public Affairs and Communications, 2301 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20037. Phone, 202-457-1700.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

African Development Bank

The United States Government Manual

AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT BANK

Avenue Jean-Paul II, 01 BP 1387, Abidjan 01, Côte d'Ivoire

+225 20 26 10 20

<http://www.afdb.org> | Email: afdb@afdb.org

PRESIDENT

Akinwumi A. Adesina

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about-us/organisational-structure/the-president>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

---

The African Development Bank reduces poverty in Arica, improves living conditions for Africans, and mobilizes resources for economic and social development throughout the continent.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The African Development Bank (AFDB) was founded following an agreement that the member states signed on August 14, 1963, in Khartoum, Sudan. The agreement became effective on September 10, 1964. By charter amendment, the AFDB expanded its membership to include nonregional countries in 1982. The admission of nonregional member countries more than doubled AFDB capital resources.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about-corporate-information-history/afdb-group-first-50-years>

The African Development Bank (AFDB) group is a regional multilateral development finance institution. It was established to help the institution's regional member countries, all of which are African countries, develop economically and to promote their social progress. With its headquarters officially in Abidjan, Côte d'Ivoire, the AFDB is the premier development finance institution on the continent of Africa.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about/mission-strategy>

The AFDB comprises three entities: a development bank, a development fund, and a trust fund. AFDB membership totals 81 countries: 54 regional (African) and 27 nonregional countries. The United Arab Emirates is a contributor to the African Development Fund (ADF), but is not a nonregional member country.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about-us/corporate-information/members>

AFDB has posted 11 organograms (i.e., organizational charts) in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about-us/organisational-structure>

ACTIVITIES

The AFDB's mandate centers on the economic development and social progress of its regional members. Development banks promote the investment of public and private capital in projects and programs that are likely to contribute to the economic development of their stakeholders. Development banks finance projects that are run either by the government or the private sector. The AFDB is one of the world's five major multilateral development banks that provides assistance to its regional member countries to help them achieve their development goals.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about/corporate-information/african-development-bank-afdb>

The ADF complements AFDB operations by providing concessional financing for high-priority development projects. Contributing countries provide the ADF with resources to improve economic and social conditions in beneficiary countries. These beneficiaries include countries that are increasing in economic capacity and en route to becoming the new emerging markets or that are regarded as fragile states and require special assistance for basics levels of service delivery.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about-us/corporate-information/african-development-fund-adf>

The Nigeria Trust Fund (NTF) is a self-sustaining and revolving fund. It assists the development efforts of the AFDB's low-income regional member countries whose economic and social conditions and prospects require concessional financing.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about-us/corporate-information/nigeria-trust-fund-ntf>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

The General Services and Procurement Department administrates the AFDB's internal procurement.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about-us/corporate-procurement>

Career Opportunities

Grade and salary data and information on current job vacancies are available online.

<http://www.afdb.org/en/about-us/careers>

Climate Change

The AFDB promotes building greater capacity for African countries to address climate change risks. The AFDB finances investments that are "climate-proof," meaning that these investments are designed, installed, implemented, and managed to reduce to a minimal level global warming's adverse effects, while maintaining the most cost-effective ratio as possible.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/topics-and-sectors/sectors/climate-change>

Contact Information

The AFDB maintains some operations in Abidjan, Côte d'Ivoire, and some functions in Tunis, Tunisia. Addresses and phone numbers are available on the AFDB group's website, on the "Contact Us" page.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about/contact-us>

Documents

The AFDB posts documents on its website.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/all-documents>

Evolution of an African Institution

In the 1960s, a group of African leaders designed a new institution to be 100 percent African. These leaders were expressing a strong and spreading desire for Africans to be in charge of their own destiny. To learn more about the institution that they eventually established and its growth over time, visit the "Bank Group's Evolution" web page.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about-corporate-information-history/bank-groups-evolution>

Financial Crisis

The AFDB has knowledge products on the youth unemployment crisis in Africa and on systemic banking crises in low income countries.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/topics-and-sectors/topics/financial-crisis>

Français

The AFDB website offers information and resources for visitors who read French.

<https://www.afdb.org/fr>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The AFDB posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<http://www.afdb.org/en/about-us/frequently-asked-questions>

Glossary

The AFDB website features a glossary of acronyms.

<http://www.afdb.org/en/glossary>

History

A short history of the AFDB is available online.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/about-us/corporate-information/history>

News / Events

The AFDB website features events, interviews, loan and grant announcements, multimedia, news, press releases, project stories, and speeches.

<http://www.afdb.org/en/news-and-events>

Site Map

The website map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse content that aligns with their interests.

<http://www.afdb.org/en/sitemap>

Social Media

The AFDB has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/AfDBGroup/?ref=ts>

The AFDB tweets announcements and newsworthy items in English and French on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/AfDB\_Group

The AFDB posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/afdbcomu>

Statistics

Defining achievable goals and setting realistic targets, as well as evaluating the effects of projects, depend heavily on reliable data. The AFDB promotes improvement in the quality and quantity of statistical data on all aspects of development.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/knowledge/statistics>

Web TV

The AFDB's Web TV features programs in English and French.

<https://www.afdb.org/en/news-events/afdb-tv>

Where the AFDB Works

The AFDB's website features a list of African countries where the Bank is active.

<http://www.afdb.org/en/countries>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Asian Development Bank

The United States Government Manual

ASIAN DEVELOPMENT BANK

Headquarters: 6 ADB Avenue, Mandaluyong City, 1550 Metro Manila, Philippines

+632 632-4444

+632 636-2444

<http://www.adb.org> | Email: information@adb.org

ADB North American Representative Office: 900 17th Street NW., Suite 900, Washington DC 20006

202-728-1500

202 728 1505

---

<https://www.adb.org/about/management/takehiko-nakao>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

---

The Asian Development Bank stimulates sustainable economic development and social progress in member countries to mitigate poverty and its effects.

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) commenced operations on December 19, 1966. It comprises 67 members: 48 regional and 19 nonregional countries.

The ADB works to eradicate poverty in Asia and the Pacific. As a multilateral development finance institution, it provides grants, loans, and technical assistance. The Bank serves its member countries, which are also its shareholders. Through equity investments and loans, the ADB also provides direct assistance to private enterprises of developing member countries.

To maximize the effects of its assistance on development, the ADB facilitates policy dialogues, offers advisory services, and mobilizes financial resources through cofinancing operations involving official, commercial, and export sources of credit. ABD operations promote three complementary agendas: environmentally sustainable growth, inclusive economic growth, and regional integration. The Bank's core areas of development activity are education, environment, finance, infrastructure, and regional cooperation and integration.

<http://www.adb.org/print/node/179940>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

ADB projects rely on the goods and services of consultants, contractors, manufacturers, and suppliers.

<http://www.adb.org/site/business-opportunities/main>

Career Opportunities

The "Careers" Web page features access to the ABD career and employment system, information on its young professional program and internships, descriptions of current job vacancies, and a summary of what the ADB looks for in a potential employee.

<http://www.adb.org/site/careers/main>

Chinese

The ADB website offers information and resources for visitors who read Chinese.

<https://www.adb.org/zh>

Climate Change

Production and use of energy from nonrenewable sources and the unsustainable development and consumption of other natural resources destabilize the climate and undermine long-term prosperity in Asia and the Pacific. Devastating storms, droughts, floods, and rising sea levels disproportionately affect poor communities. While climatologists forecast that extreme climate events will become more frequent and intense, the ADB continues its support of sustainable growth in the region through financing and innovative technologies.

<https://www.adb.org/themes/climate-change-disaster-risk-management/main>

History

Conceived in the early 1960s as a financial institution that would be Asian in character and foster economic growth and cooperation in one of the poorest regions in the world, the ADB opened in the Philippine capital of Manila in 1966. To learn about the Bank's initial achievements and those of more recent decades, visit the "ADB History" web page.

<https://www.adb.org/about/history>

Members

The ADB posts a list of its regional and nonregional members and descriptions of them on its website.

<https://www.adb.org/about/members>

Organizational Chart

The ADB's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.adb.org/sites/default/files/page/203876/adb-org-chart-20170720.pdf>

Publications

The ADB website offers information on books, brochures and flyers, conference proceedings, guides, papers and briefs, policies and plans, reports, and statutory reports and official records.

<http://www.adb.org/publications>

Social Media

The ADB has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/AsianDevBank>

The ADB tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/ADB\_HQ

The ADB posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/AsianDevelopmentBank>

Statistical Database System

The ADB maintains a central statistical database to store macroeconomic and social data of its developing member countries.

<https://sdfs.adb.org/sdfs> | Email: sdfs@adb.org

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

European Bank for Reconstruction and Development

The United States Government Manual

EUROPEAN BANK FOR RECONSTRUCTION AND DEVELOPMENT

One Exchange Square, London EC2A 2JN, United Kingdom

+44 20 7338 6000

<http://www.ebrd.com>

PRESIDENT

Sir Suma Chakrabarti

<http://www.ebrd.com/who-we-are/ebrd-president-sir-suma-chakrabarti.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

---

The European Bank for Reconstruction and Development develops open and sustainable market economies in democratic countries.

The European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) is a multilateral development bank that supports projects in over 30 countries, from central Europe to central Asia and to the southern and eastern Mediterranean. Investing primarily in private sector clients whose needs cannot be met fully by commercial credit and equity markets, the EBRD promotes entrepreneurship and fosters transition toward open and sustainable market economies.

The London-based EBRD has a political mandate: It assists countries that are committed to and apply the principles of multiparty democracy and pluralism. The Bank also conducts its affairs with a commitment to environmental protection and sustainable energy development. In addition to benefiting the countries that receive its investments, the Bank also serves its shareholders' interests: 66 countries from five continents, the European Union, and the European Investment Bank.

<http://www.ebrd.com/who-we-are/history-of-the-ebrd.html>

---

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

Information on opportunities for consultants, contractors, and suppliers is available on the EBRD website.

<http://www.ebrd.com/work-with-us/procurement.html>

Career Opportunities

Information on job locations and types, benefits and rewards, and internships is available on the EBRD website.

<http://www.ebrd.com/careers-at-the-ebrd.html>

Contact Information

Department and country contacts are listed on the "EBRD Contacts" Web page.

<http://www.ebrd.com/contacts.html>

Economic Data

Economic teams publish macroeconomic and structural data series, and they survey data affecting the Bank's countries of operation.

<http://www.ebrd.com/what-we-do/economic-research-and-data/data.html>

Environmental and Social Sustainability

EBRD financing supports sustainable development projects that are designed and operated in compliance with good international practices. To help clients meet sustainability goals, the EBRD posts downloads and resources on its website.

<http://www.ebrd.com/key-sustainability-downloads.html>

Green Economy Transition (GET)

By 2020, the GET approach seeks to increase the volume of green financing to 40 per cent of EBRD annual business investment. Safeguarding the environment and strengthening ecosystems help market economies function better and, therefore, are central to the transition process that the EBRD has promoted since its inception.

<http://www.ebrd.com/what-we-do/get.html>

History

In October of 1989, a month before German citizens dismantled parts of the Berlin Wall, President François Mitterrand of France proposed the establishment of a European bank to meet the challenges of emergent economic and political realities. In less than 2 years, the EBRD opened for business with its headquarters in London. To learn more about the role played by the EBRD in the transition from the end of the Cold War to a new European era, visit the "History of the EBRD" web page.

<http://www.ebrd.com/who-we-are/history-of-the-ebrd.html>

Organizational Chart

The EBRD's organizational chart is available on the "Structure and Management" web page in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<http://www.ebrd.com/who-we-are/our-structure.html>

Products / Services

Information on the EBRD's advisory services, policy reform dialogue services, and financial products is available online.

<http://www.ebrd.com/what-we-do/products-and-services.html>

Reports

The EBRD posts annual, donor, financial, sustainability, and transition reports on its website.

<http://www.ebrd.com/news/publications.html>

Sectors / Topics

The EBRD website features a section that brings together the topics that most concern the Bank and the sectors in which it is most active.

<http://www.ebrd.com/what-we-do/sectors-and-topics.html>

Social Media

The EBRD tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/ebrd>

The EBRD maintains a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/ebrdhq>

Where EBRD Works

The EBRD website features the list of countries where the Bank is active.

<http://www.ebrd.com/where-we-are.html>

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Inter-American Defense Board

The United States Government Manual

INTER-AMERICAN DEFENSE BOARD

2600 Sixteenth Street NW., Washington, DC 20441

202-939-6041

202-319-2791

<http://iadb.jid.org> | Email: protocol@jid.org

CHAIR

Vice Adm. Gonzalo
Nicolás Ríos Polastri

The Inter-American Defense Board is the oldest permanently constituted, international military organization in the world. It was founded by Resolution XXXIX of the Meeting of Foreign Ministers at Rio de Janeiro in January 1942. The Board is governed according to Statutes that the General Assembly of the Organization of American States approved in March 2006. Senior armed forces officers from the member nations staff the various agencies of the Board. Its three major components are the Council of Delegates, the Secretariat, and the Inter-American Defense College.

<http://iadb.jid.org/quienes-somos/resena-historica-de-la-sede-de-la-jid>

The Board studies and recommends to member governments measures it deems necessary for the safety and security of the hemisphere. It also acts as a technical military adviser for the Organization of American States and is involved in projects such as disaster preparedness and humanitarian demining programs in Central and South America.

Established in 1962, the Inter-American Defense College is located on Fort Lesley J. McNair, whose buildings and furnishings the United States Government donated. The United States hosts the College, which prepares senior military officers and civilian functionaries for positions in their respective governments. The College offers an 11-month, professionally-oriented, and fully accredited Masters of Science degree. Multidisciplinary in content, the curriculum centers on the Western Hemisphere's most pressing defense and security issues.

<http://www.colegio-id.org/index.php>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Documents

Documents are posted online to increase the transparency of Inter-American Defense Board activities.

<http://iadb.jid.org/documents-and-publications>

Events

Symposia and seminars are posted on the Board's Web site. A calendar of meetings also is available on the Web site's home page.

<https://sites.google.com/a/jid.org/iadb/eventos/simposios-y-seminarios>

News

News items are available on the home page of the Board's Web site.

<http://iadb.jid.org>

Regional Organizations

Links to regional organizations are accessible on the "Strategic Links" Web page.

<http://iadb.jid.org/strategic-links>

<http://iadb.jid.org/quienes-somos/contactos> | Email: jid@jid.org

For further information, contact the Inter-American Defense Board, 2600 Sixteenth Street NW., Washington, DC 20441. Phone, 202-939-6041. Fax, 202-319-2791.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Inter-American Development Bank

The United States Government Manual

INTER-AMERICAN DEVELOPMENT BANK

Headquarters: 1300 New York Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20577

202-623-1000

202-623-3096

<http://www.iadb.org>

PRESIDENT

Luis A. Moreno

<http://www.iadb.org/en/about-us/office-of-the-president,19639.html>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

---

The Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) was established in 1959 to help accelerate economic and social development in Latin America and the Caribbean.

The Bank has 48 member countries, 26 of which are borrowing members in Latin America and the Caribbean.

<http://www.iadb.org/en/about-us/about-the-inter-american-development-bank,5995.html>

---

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Business Opportunities

IDB projects in Latin America and the Caribbean create contract opportunities for businesses and consultants.

<http://www.iadb.org/en/projects/project-procurement,8148.html>

Career Opportunities

The IDB relies on professionals with expertise in economics, education, energy, environmental sustainability, financial markets, institutional capacity, investment funds, rural development and disaster risk, science and technology, social protection and health, transport, water and sanitation, and other fields to carry out its mission.

<http://www.iadb.org/en/careers/careers-at-the-idb,1165.html>

Data

The IDB posts datasets on its Web site.

<https://data.iadb.org>

Glossary

The IDB maintains a glossary on its Web site.

<http://www.iadb.org/en/projects/glossary,18952.html>

Key Facts

To learn at glance who leads the IDB, how many people it employs, how many countries are members, who are its clients, and recent annual levels of its approved lending, visit the "Key Facts" section.

<http://www.iadb.org/en/about-us/key-facts,18246.html>

Learning Resources

Online courses are accessible on the IDB Web site.

<http://www.iadb.org/en/courses/home,20468.html>

Looking for Something?

Try finding it by using the "What Are You Looking For" Web page.

<http://www.iadb.org/en/projects/what-are-you-looking-for,18944.html?>

Publications

A variety of publications—annual reports, books, catalogs and brochures, databases and datasets, discussion and working papers, journals, magazines, monographs, newsletters—is available online.

https://publications.iadb.org/facet-view?field=type\_view

Social Media

The IDB tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/the\_IDB

The IDB has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/IADB.org>

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Inter-American Investment Corporation

The United States Government Manual

INTER-AMERICAN INVESTMENT CORPORATION

Headquarters: 1350 New York Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20577

202-623-3901

<http://www.iic.org/en>

CHAIR, BOARD OF EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS

Luis A. Moreno

Chief Executive Officer

James P. Scriven

<http://www.iic.org/en/who-we-are/structure-and-management#.WYiXZOauhs0>

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

---

The Inter-American Development Bank promotes development in Latin America and the Caribbean through the private sector.

The Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC), an affiliate of the Inter-American Development Bank based in Washington, DC, was established in 1985 to promote the economic development of its Latin American and Caribbean members by financing small- and medium-size private enterprises. The IIC provides project financing in the form of direct loans and equity investments, lines of credit to local financial intermediaries, and investments in local and regional investment funds.

<http://www.iic.org/en/who-we-are/about-us#.WGLh5H0rLIU>

The IIC has 45 member countries, of which 28 are in the Western Hemisphere, including Canada and the United States, and 17 are outside the region.

<http://www.iic.org/en/what-we-offer#.VumT0H0rLIU>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Career Opportunities

The ICC relies on talent and experience to carry out its mission. It recruits, hires, and maintains a staff of diverse, motivated, and qualified professionals with expertise, leadership potential, and strong interpersonal and teamwork skills. Current job opportunities are posted online.

<http://www.iic.org/en/about-us/careers>

History

A three-part history, from 1985 to 1999, from 2000 to 2012, and from 2013 to the present, is available on the IIC's Web site.

<http://www.iic.org/en/who-we-are/our-history-timeline#.WD9-D30rLIV>

Key Initiatives

The IIC's Web site features a section on its most important initiatives.

<http://www.iic.org/en/initiatives>

Library

The IIC's Web site features a photo library.

<http://www.iic.org/en/media/photo-library#.WD94730rLIU>

Member Countries

The IIC Web site features two lists of member countries: regional members and other members. An interactive map complements the two lists.

<http://www.iic.org/en/countries>

News

The IIC posts news items on its Web site.

Projects

IIC projects may be searched by country or year.

<http://www.iic.org/en/projects>

Publications

Brochures, factsheets, and reports—some in English and Spanish, some also in French and Portuguese—are available online.

<http://www.iic.org/en/media/publications#.VumPI30rLIU>

Transaction Cycle

A description of the five stages of a successful IIC transaction—business origination, eligibility review, due diligence and approval, closing and disbursement, and supervision and evaluation—is available online.

http://www.iic.org/en/what-we-offer/transaction-cycle#.WD9\_p30rLIU

Social Media

The IIC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items in Spanish on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/GrupoBID\_CII

The IIC has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/CIIGrupoBID>

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

International Monetary Fund

The United States Government Manual

INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND

700 Nineteenth Street NW., Washington, DC 20431

202-623-7000

202-623-4661

<http://www.imf.org>

Managing Director / Chair of the Executive Board

Kristalina Georgieva

<https://www.imf.org/en/About/senior-officials/Bios/kristalina-georgieva>

First Deputy Managing Director

Geoffrey W.S. Okamoto

<https://www.imf.org/en/About/senior-officials/Bios/geoffrey-w-s-okamoto>

Chief Administrative Officer

(vacancy)

DEPUTY MANAGING DIRECTORS

Mitsuhiro Furusawa

Antoinette M. Sayeh

Tao Zhang

<https://www.imf.org/en/About/senior-officials>

The above list of key personnel was updated 10–2020.

The International Monetary Fund fosters global monetary cooperation, secures financial stability, facilitates international trade, promotes employment and sustainable economic growth, and reduces poverty worldwide.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The Final Act of the United Nations Monetary and Financial Conference, signed at Bretton Woods, NH, on July 22, 1944, set forth the original Articles of Agreement of the International Monetary Fund (IMF). The Agreement became effective on December 27, 1945, when the President, authorized by the Bretton Woods Agreements Act (22 U.S.C. 286), accepted membership for the United States in the IMF. The inaugural meeting of the Board of Governors was held in March 1946, and the first meeting of the Executive Directors was held May 6, 1946.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title22/html/USCODE-2017-title22-chap7-subchapXV-sec286.htm>

On May 31, 1968, the Board of Governors approved an amendment to the Articles of Agreement for the establishment of a facility based on Special Drawing Rights (SDR) and for modification of certain rules and practices. The amendment became effective on July 28, 1969, and the Special Drawing Account opened on August 6, 1969. The Special Drawing Rights Act (22 U.S.C. 286 et seq.) authorized the United States to accept the amendment and participate in the Special Drawing Account.

<https://www.imf.org/en/About/Factsheets/Sheets/2016/08/01/14/51/Special-Drawing-Right-SDR>

On April 30, 1976, the Board of Governors approved a second amendment to the Articles of Agreement, which became effective on April 1, 1978. This amendment gave members the right to adopt exchange arrangements of their choice while placing certain obligations on them regarding their exchange rate policies, which the IMF was to monitor closely. The official price of gold was abolished, and the Special Drawing Account was promoted as the principal reserve asset of the international monetary system. The Bretton Woods Agreements Act Amendments (22 U.S.C. 286e-

5) authorized the United States to accept this amendment.

<https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/USCODE-2017-title22/pdf/USCODE-2017-title22-chap7-subchapXV-sec286e-5.pdf>

On June 28, 1990, the Board of Governors approved a third amendment to the Articles of Agreement, which became effective on November 11, 1992. Under this amendment, a member's voting rights and certain related rights may be suspended by a 70-percent majority of the executive board if the member country has been declared ineligible to use the Fund's general resources and persists in its failure to fulfill any of its obligations under the Articles.

The IMF posts its organizational chart online.

<https://www.imf.org/external/np/obp/orgcht.htm>

ACTIVITIES

The IMF has 189 member countries. It promotes international monetary cooperation through a permanent forum for consultation and collaboration on international monetary problems; facilitates the expansion and balanced growth of international trade; promotes exchange rate stability; assists in the establishment of an open multilateral system of payments for current transactions among members; and gives confidence to members by making IMF resources temporarily available to them under adequate safeguards.

The IMF helps member countries correct imbalances in their international balances of payments. It periodically examines the economic developments and policies of its members, offers policy advice, and at a member's request and upon executive board approval, provides financial assistance through a variety of financial facilities designed to address specific problems. These financing mechanisms provide access to the Fund's general resources and offer short-term assistance during crises of market confidence, compensatory financing to countries suffering declines in export earnings, emergency assistance for countries recovering from natural disasters or armed conflict, and low-interest rate resources to support structural adjustment and promote growth in the poorest countries. The IMF also provides technical assistance and training to member countries.

<https://www.imf.org/en/About>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The IMF's website has an alphabetical index to help visitors search for specific topics or browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.imf.org/external/siteindex.htm>

Archives

A catalog of the IMF's archives is available online.

<https://archivescatalog.imf.org/search/simple>

At a Glance

Fast facts and an overview of the IMF's founding and mission, governance and organization, and core activities are available on "The IMF at a Glance" web page.

<https://www.imf.org/en/About/Factsheets/IMF-at-a-Glance>

Blog

The IMF's blog offers insightful and analytical posts on economics and finance.

<https://blogs.imf.org>

Bretton Woods Moment

In her video speech of October 15, 2020, Managing Director Kristalina Georgieva spoke of the necessity to seize "this new Bretton Woods moment" (approximately 4:20 into the video). The length of the entire speech is a little over 12 minutes.

<https://www.imf.org/en/News/Articles/2020/10/15/sp101520-a-new-bretton-woods-moment>

Career Opportunities

In addition to economists and research assistants, the IMF relies on professionals with skills and expertise in a range of other fields: communications, facilities management, finance and accounting, human resources, information technology, language services, law, library science and archives, office assistance, procurement, security, and transportation and hospitality. Information on careers, current job vacancies, and recruitment programs is available online.

<http://www.imf.org/external/np/adm/rec/recruit.htm>

Climate Change

The IMF counts "Climate Change" as one of its six key issues.

<https://www.imf.org/external/np/fad/environ/index.htm>

Commodity Prices

The "IMF Primary Commodity Prices" web page offers easy access to data on primary commodity prices, the interactive commodity data portal, and the commodity terms of trade database.

<https://www.imf.org/en/Research/commodity-prices>

Contact Information

Contact information for general, media, and other types of inquiries is available online.

<https://www.imf.org/external/np/exr/contacts/contacts.aspx> | Email: publicaffairs@imf.org

Country Information

The IMF is an organization comprising 189 countries that, together, work to promote monetary cooperation, financial stability, international trade, employment and sustainable economic growth, and to reduce poverty. An alphabetical index of the participating countries and information on those countries are available on the IMF's website.

<https://www.imf.org/en/Countries>

Data

The IMF publishes data on IMF lending, exchange rates, and other economic and financial indicators.

<https://www.imf.org/en/Data>

Gender

The IMF counts the division along gender lines in labor markets worldwide as one of its six key issues.

<https://www.imf.org/external/themes/gender/>

Glossary

The IMF maintains an online glossary of financial terms and acronyms.

<http://www.imf.org/external/np/exr/glossary/index.asp>

History

James M. Boughton's "Silent Revolution: The International Monetary Fund 1979–1989" is accessible online.

<https://www.imf.org/external/pubs/ft/history/2001/index.htm>

A chronological history of the IMF is available online.

<https://www.imf.org/external/np/exr/chron/chron.asp>

Language Resources

The IMF provides information on its website in Arabic, Chinese, French, Japanese, Russian, and Spanish. Language tags are visible at the top and bottom of the IMF's home page.

<https://www.imf.org>

Negative Interest Rate Policy

IMF Working Papers describe research in progress and are published to elicit comments and encourage debate. The views expressed in working papers belong to the authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the IMF, its executive board, or IMF management. In their recent working paper "Enabling Deep Negative Rates to Fight Recessions: A Guide" (April 2019), Ruchir Agarwal and Miles S. Kimball wrote that "the option to enable deep negative rates will be critical for central banks to maintain effectiveness of monetary policy in the future and will help mitigate the hardships associated with prolonged recessions" (page 84).

<https://www.imf.org/en/Publications/WP/Issues/2019/04/29/Enabling-Deep-Negative-Rates-A-Guide-46598>

News

The IMF posts podcasts, newsworthy items about various countries, and the latest news on its website.

<https://www.imf.org/en/news>

The "What's New Archive" allows easy access to recently posted items of interest.

<https://www.imf.org/external/what/whatsnewenglish/what.aspx>

Publications

The IMF's "Finance and Development" magazine and "Fiscal Monitor" biannual report are available online in Portable Document Format (PDF). Its "New and Noteworthy" newsletter and other publications are also accessible online.

<https://www.imf.org/en/publications>

Site Map

The IMF site map allows visitors to look for specific topics or to browse for content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.imf.org/external/sitemap.htm>

Social Media

The "IMF Social Hub" allows easy access to the IMF's Facebook page, Instagram photos and videos, LinkedIn account, Tweets and replies, and YouTube channel.

<https://www.imf.org/external/social.htm>

Special Drawing Rights (SDRs)

A 5-minute video explaining the SDR, the international reserve asset that the IMF created to supplement the official reserves of its member countries, is available online.

<https://www.imf.org/external/mmedia/view.aspx?vid=5027851809001>

U.S. Economy

On June 24, 2019, the IMF published its "United States: 2019 Article IV Consultation." The staff report for the consultation noted that the U.S. economy is undergoing the longest expansion in recorded history, unemployment is low, real wages are rising, and inflationary pressures remain subdued. It also notes that "the benefits from this decade-long expansion have not been shared as widely as they could. . . . Average life expectancy is falling, income and wealth polarization have increased, poverty has fallen but remains higher than in other advanced economies, social mobility has steadily eroded, and education and health outcomes are discouraging."

<https://www.imf.org/en/Publications/CR/Issues/2019/06/24/United-States-2019-Article-IV-Consultation-Press-Release-Staff-Report-and-Statement-by-the-47019>

Videos

The IMF posts videos in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian, and Spanish on its website.

<http://www.imf.org/external/mmedia/index.aspx>

The Sources of Information were updated 10–2020.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

International Organization for Migration

The United States Government Manual

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION FOR MIGRATION

Headquarters: 17 Route des Morillons, C.P. 17, CH-1211 Geneva 19, Switzerland. Mailing address, P.O. Box 71, CH-1211, Geneva 19, Switzerland

011-41-22-717-9111

<http://www.iom.int> | Email: hq@iom.int

Washington Office: Suite 700, 1752 N Street NW., Washington, DC 20036

202-862-1826

Email: IOMWashington@iom.int

New York Office: 122 E. 42d Street, 48th Floor, New York, NY 10168

212-681-7000

Email: newyork@iom.int

DIRECTOR GENERAL

William Lacy Swing

Deputy Director General

Laura Thompson

Chief of Mission—Washington, DC

Luca Dall'Oglio

Director, IOM Office to the United Nations

Ashraf El Nour

The above list of key personnel was updated 09–2017.

The International Organization for Migration addresses the underlying issues of migration, answers the operational challenges of migration management, promotes economic and social development through migration, champions the dignity and well-being of migrants, and challenges the xenophobic narrative directed at them.

Established in 1951, the International Organization for Migration (IOM) is the leading intergovernmental organization in the field of migration. With 166 member states, an additional 8 states holding observer status, and offices in over 100 countries, the IOM promotes humane and orderly migration for the benefit of all. It does so by providing services and advice to migrants and governments, while working in close cooperation with governmental, intergovernmental, and nongovernmental partners. The IOM has observer status to the United Nations.

The Organization works with its partners in the following areas: meeting the operational challenges of migration management, increasing understanding of migration issues, encouraging social and economic development through migration, and upholding the human dignity and well-being of migrants.

The Organization has been at the forefront of emergency response to ensure assistance and protection to stranded migrants and displaced persons. It has a lead role under the UN Cluster Approach in camp coordination and management in natural disasters and is a key partner in emergency shelter, logistics, health, protection, and early recovery.

IOM expertise and services support the following activities: secure, reliable, and cost-effective assistance for migrating persons; humane and orderly management of migration and the effective respect for migrants' human rights; technical cooperation and operational assistance for building national capacities and facilitating cooperation on issues relevant to migration; helping states to integrate migrants into their new environment and to engage diasporas as development partners; advising states in the development and delivery of programs and technical expertise to combat migrant smuggling and human trafficking; working with national health systems to reduce mortality, morbidity, and disabilities and to enhance access to rights-based health and well-being services throughout the migration cycle; and partnering with states to address labor migration.

<http://www.iom.int/about-iom>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Blog

The IOM maintains a blog on its Web site.

<http://weblog.iom.int>

Business Opportunities

Information on procurement opportunities is available online.

<https://www.iom.int/procurement-opportunities>

Career Opportunities

Current job vacancies in various countries are posted online.

https://recruit.iom.int/sap/bc/webdynpro/sap/hrrcf\_a\_unreg\_job\_search?sap-client=100&sap-language=EN&sap-wd-configid=ZHRRCF\_A\_UNREG\_JOB\_SEARCH#

Countries

IOM maintains more than 480 country offices and sub-offices worldwide.

<http://www.iom.int/countries>

Español / Français

Spanish and French versions of the Web site can be accessed by using language links at the top of the home page.

<http://www.iom.int>

Glossary

A list of key migration terms that is based on the IOM's "Glossary on Migration" is available online.

<http://www.iom.int/key-migration-terms>

History

Originally known as the Provisional Intergovernmental Committee for the Movement of Migrants from Europe, the IOM got its start amidst the chaos and displacement caused by WWII. Today, the IOM is the leading international agency working to advance the understanding of migration issues, encourage social and economic development through migration, and uphold the human dignity and well-being of migrants. To learn more of the IOM story, which began in 1951, visit the "IOM History" page.

<http://www.iom.int/iom-history>

Organizational Chart

The IOM's organizational chart is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<http://www.iom.int/sites/default/files/Organigram.pdf>

Press Room

The IOM posts featured stories, news, radio and television interviews, and more on its Web site.

<http://www.iom.int/press-room>

Publications

Visit the online bookstore to see IOM publications in English, French, and Spanish.

<http://publications.iom.int>

Regional Geographic Coverage

A map of IOM regional geographic coverage is available online.

http://www.iom.int/sites/default/files/about-iom/IOM\_Regional\_Geographical\_Coverage.jpg

A list of IOM regional geographic coverage also is available online.

<http://www.iom.int/sites/default/files/about-iom/Coverage-of-ROs-Feb2016.pdf>

Regional Offices

Regional office staff reviews and endorses projects and provides technical support to Country Offices. Descriptions of and contact information for the IOM's nine regional offices are available online.

<http://www.iom.int/regional-offices>

Social Media

The IOM has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/IOM>

The IOM tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/UNmigration>

The IOM posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/IOMMigration>

United Nations

Information on the IOM's Office to the United Nations is available online.

<http://unofficeny.iom.int> | Email: unofficeny@iom.int

<http://www.iom.int/contact-us> | Email: hq@iom.int

For further information, contact the International Organization for Migration–Headquarters, P.O. Box 71, CH–1211, Geneva 19, Switzerland.

Home

The Government of the United States

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Organization of American States

The United States Government Manual

ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN STATES

Seventeenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20006

202-370-5000

202-458-3967

<http://www.oas.org/en>

Secretary General

LUIS ALMAGRO LEMES

http://www.oas.org/en/about/secretary\_general.asp

http://www.oas.org/en/about/assistant\_secretary\_general.asp

The above list of key personnel was updated 9–2018.

---

The Organization of American States seeks an order of peace and justice among its member states, promotes their solidarity and strengthens their collaboration, and defends their sovereignty, territorial integrity, and independence.

The Organization of American States (OAS) brings together the countries of the Western Hemisphere to strengthen cooperation and advance common interests. At the core of the OAS mission is a commitment to democracy. Building on this foundation, OAS works to promote good governance, strengthen human rights, foster peace and security, expand trade, and address the complex problems caused by poverty, drugs, and corruption. Through decisions made by its political bodies and programs carried out by its General Secretariat, OAS promotes greater inter-American cooperation and understanding.

OAS member states have intensified their cooperation since the end of the cold war, taking on new and important challenges. In 1994, the region's 34 democratically elected presidents and prime ministers met in Miami for the First Summit of the Americas, where they established broad political, economic, and social development goals. They have continued to meet periodically since then to examine common interests and priorities. Through the ongoing Summits of the Americas process, the region's leaders have entrusted the OAS with a growing number of responsibilities to help advance the countries' shared vision.

With four official languages—English, Spanish, Portuguese, and French—the OAS reflects the rich diversity of peoples and cultures across the Americas. The OAS has 35 member states: the independent nations of North, Central, and South America, and of the Caribbean. Since 1962, Cuba has been barred from participation by resolution of the Eighth Meeting of Consultation of Ministers of Foreign Affairs. Countries from all around the world are permanent observers, closely following the issues that are critical to the Americas and often providing key financial support for OAS programs.

Member states set major policies and goals through the General Assembly, which gathers the hemisphere's foreign ministers once a year in regular session. The Permanent Council, made up of ambassadors appointed by member states, meets regularly at OAS headquarters in Washington, DC, to guide ongoing policies and actions. The chairmanship of the Permanent Council rotates every 3 months, in alphabetical order of countries. Each member state has an equal voice, and most decisions are made through consensus.

Also under the OAS umbrella are several specialized agencies that have considerable autonomy: the Pan American Health Organization in Washington, DC; the Inter-American Children's Institute in Montevideo, Uruguay; the Inter-American Institute for Cooperation on Agriculture in San Jose, Costa Rica; and the Pan American Institute of Geography and History and the Inter-American Indian Institute, both in Mexico City.

In 1948, at the Ninth International Conference of American States, 21 nations of the hemisphere signed the OAS Charter: Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba (barred from participation), Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, United States of America, Uruguay, and Venezuela.

Subsequently, 14 other countries joined the OAS by signing and ratifying the Charter. They were Barbados, Trinidad and Tobago, Jamaica, Grenada, Suriname, Dominica, Saint Lucia, Antigua and Barbuda, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, the Bahamas, Saint Kitts and Nevis, Canada, Belize, and Guyana. This brings the number of member states to 35.

http://www.oas.org/en/about/who\_we\_are.asp

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

The "Topics" web page presents a collection of popular topics in alphabetical order.

<http://www.oas.org/en/topics/default.asp>

Career Opportunities

Information on employment, consultancies, and internships is available online.

http://www.oas.org/dhrs/dhr/employment\_opportunities.asp

Conferences

A calendar of conferences is available online.

<http://www.apps.oas.org/oasmeetings/default.aspx?Lang=EN>

Documents

The most important OAS documents, including its founding Charter and the Inter-American Democratic Charter, are available on its website. Along with these essential documents, links to other key reference material—such as annual reports of the Secretary General, OAS resolutions, agreements, and treaties—are also available.

http://www.oas.org/en/information\_center/default.asp

History

A short history of the OAS is available.

http://www.oas.org/en/about/our\_history.asp

Language Assistance

The OAS maintains English and Spanish versions of its website. Some web pages are also available in French and Portuguese. Language tags appear above the search box in the top right corner of most of the site's pages.

<http://www.oas.org/en>

Media Center

Newsletters, press releases, and speeches by OAS leaders are posted in the media center.

http://www.oas.org/en/media\_center/press\_releases.asp

Members States

Information on the 35 independent states of the Americas—all of which have ratified the OAS Charter and are member states—is available on the OAS website.

http://www.oas.org/en/member\_states/default.asp

Organizational Chart

The OAS posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) online.

<http://www.oas.org/legal/english/organigramaOEAeng.pdf>

Organizational List

The "Organizational List" web page brings informational resources on the OAS's component parts together in one place.

http://www.oas.org/en/about/organizational\_list.asp

Permanent Representatives

A list of permanent representatives to the OAS is available on its website.

<http://www.oas.org/en/about/authorities.asp>

Publications

OAS publications in English and Spanish are available online.

http://www.oas.org/en/information\_center/publications.asp

Scholarships

Information on OAS scholarships is available online.

<http://www.oas.org/en/scholarships>

Social Media

The OAS tweets announcements, news, and other noteworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/oas\_official

The OAS has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/OASofficial>

The OAS posts video news on its Vimeo channel.

<https://vimeo.com/channels/oasvideonews>

Staff Directory

The OAS maintains an online staff directory. To see the complete directory, leave all fields blank and click on the search button.

<http://www.oas.org/teldir>

<http://www.oas.org/en/contactus.asp>

For further information, contact the Organization of American States, Seventeenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20006. Phone, 202-370-5000. Fax, 202-458-3967.

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

United Nations

The United States Government Manual

UNITED NATIONS

United Nations, New York, NY 10017

212-963-1234

<http://www.un.org>

United Nations Office at Geneva: Palais des Nations, 1211 Geneva 10, Switzerland

United Nations Office at Vienna: Vienna International Centre, P.O. Box 500, A-1400, Vienna, Austria

Washington, DC: United Nations Information Centre, Suite 500, 1775 K Street NW., Washington, DC 20006

202-331-8670

202-331-9191

<http://www.unicwash.org> | Email: unicdc@unic.org

SECRETARY-GENERAL

António Guterres

<https://www.un.org/sg/en/content/sg/biography>

Deputy Secretary-General

Amina J. Mohammed

<https://www.un.org/sg/en/dsg/index.shtml>

Director-General, United Nations Office at Geneva

Tatiana Valovaya

Director-General, United Nations Office at Vienna

Ghada Fathi Waly

Director-General, United Nations Office at Nairobi

Zainab Hawa Bangura

<https://www.un.org/sg/en/content/senior-management-group>

Officer in Charge, Washington DC Information Centre

Stefania Piffanelli

<http://www.unicwash.org/staff>

The above list of key personnel was updated 12–2021.

The United Nations supports tolerance and peaceful coexistence among the nations; seeks to maintain peace and security among them; opposes the use of armed force, except in the common interest; and promotes the economic and social advancement of all peoples.

ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

The United Nations is an international organization that was set up in accordance with the Charter drafted by governments represented at the Conference on International Organization meeting at San Francisco. The Charter was signed on June 26, 1945, and came into force on October 24, 1945, when the required number of ratifications and accessions had been made by the signatories. Amendments increasing membership of the Security Council and the Economic and Social Council came into effect on August 31, 1965.

The United Nations now consists of 193 member states, of which 51 are founding members.

A chart of the United Nations System's principal organs is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for downloading and online viewing.

https://www.un.org/en/pdfs/18-00159e\_un\_system\_chart\_17x11\_4c\_en\_web.pdf

The purposes of the United Nations set out in the Charter are to maintain international peace and security; to develop friendly relations among nations; to achieve international cooperation in solving international problems of an economic, social, cultural, or humanitarian character and in promoting respect for human rights; and to be a center for harmonizing the actions of nations in the attainment of these common ends.

<https://www.un.org/en/sections/about-un/overview/index.html>

PRINCIPAL ORGANS

The principal organs of the United Nations are the Economic and Social Council, General Assembly, International Court of Justice, Secretariat, Security Council, and Trusteeship Council.

Economic and Social Council

This organ is responsible, under the authority of the General Assembly, for the economic and social programs of the United Nations. Its functions include making or initiating studies, reports, and recommendations on international economic, social, cultural, educational, health, and related matters; promoting respect for and observance of human rights and fundamental freedoms for all; calling international conferences and preparing draft conventions for submission to the General Assembly on matters within its competence; negotiating agreements with the specialized agencies and defining their relationship with the United Nations; coordinating the activities of the specialized agencies; and consulting with nongovernmental organizations concerned with matters within its competence. The Council consists of 54 members of the United Nations elected by the General Assembly for 3-year terms; 18 are elected each year.

The Council usually holds two regular sessions a year. It has also held a number of special sessions.

<https://www.un.org/ecosoc/en>

General Assembly

All states that are members of the United Nations are members of the General Assembly. Its functions are to consider and discuss any matter within the scope of the Charter of the United Nations and to make recommendations to the members of the United Nations and other organs. It approves the budget of the organization, the expenses of which are borne by the members as apportioned by the General Assembly.

The General Assembly may call the attention of the Security Council to situations likely to endanger international peace and security, may initiate studies, and may receive and consider reports from other organs of the United Nations. Under the "Uniting for Peace" resolution adopted by the General Assembly in November 1950, if the Security Council fails to act on an apparent threat to or breach of the peace or act of aggression because of lack of unanimity of its five permanent members, the Assembly itself may take up the matter within 24 hours—in emergency special session—and recommend collective measures, including, in case of a breach of the peace or act of aggression, use of armed force when necessary to maintain or restore international peace and security.

The General Assembly normally meets in regular annual session from September through December. It also has met in special sessions and emergency special sessions.

<http://www.un.org/en/ga>

International Court of Justice

The International Court of Justice is the principal judicial organ of the United Nations. It has its seat at The Hague, the Netherlands. All members of the United Nations are ipso facto parties to the Statute of the Court. Nonmembers of the United Nations may become parties to the Statute of the Court on conditions prescribed by the General Assembly on the recommendation of the Security Council.

The jurisdiction of the Court comprises all cases that the parties refer to it and all matters specially provided for in the Charter of the United Nations or in treaties and conventions in force.

The Court consists of 15 judges known as members of the Court. They are elected for 9-year terms by the General Assembly and the Security Council, voting independently, and may be reelected.

<http://www.icj-cij.org/homepage/index.php?lang=en>

Secretariat

The Secretariat consists of a Secretary-General and "such staff as the Organization may require." The Secretary-General, who is appointed by the General Assembly on the recommendation of the Security Council, is the chief administrative officer of the United Nations. He acts in that capacity for the General Assembly, the Security Council, the Economic and Social Council, and the Trusteeship Council. Under the Charter, the Secretary-General "may bring to the attention of the Security Council any matter that in his opinion may threaten the maintenance of international peace and security."

<http://www.un.org/en/sections/about-un/secretariat/index.html>

Security Council

The Security Council consists of 15 members, of which 5—the People's Republic of China, France, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States of America—are permanent members. The 10 nonpermanent members are elected for 2-year terms by the General Assembly. The primary responsibility of the Security Council is to act on behalf of the members of the United Nations in maintenance of international peace and security. Measures that may be employed by the Security Council are outlined in the Charter.

The Security Council, together with the General Assembly, also elects the judges of the International Court of Justice and makes a recommendation to the General Assembly on the appointment of the Secretary-General of the organization.

The Security Council first met in London on January 17, 1946, and is so organized as to be able to function continuously.

<http://www.un.org/en/sc>

Trusteeship Council

The Trusteeship Council was initially established to consist of any member states that administered trust territories, permanent members of the Security Council that did not administer trust territories, and enough other nonadministering countries elected by the General Assembly for 3-year terms to ensure that membership would be equally divided between administering and nonadministering members. Under authority of the General Assembly, the Council considered reports from members administering trust territories, examined petitions from trust territory inhabitants, and provided for periodic inspection visits to trust territories.

With the independence of Palau, the last remaining United Nations trust territory, the Trusteeship Council formally suspended operations after nearly half a century. The Council will henceforth meet only on an extraordinary basis, as the need may arise.

<http://www.un.org/en/decolonization/trusteeship.shtml>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Index

An alphabetical index is available on the United Nations' website to help visitors search for specific topics or browse content that aligns with their interests.

<https://www.un.org/en/site-index>

Career Opportunities

United Nations staff members coordinate relief in humanitarian crises, disarm child soldiers, monitor elections, provide administrative and logistical support for carrying out complex mandates, and carry out a host of other functions around the world.

<https://careers.un.org/lbw/Home.aspx>

Children in Detention

Many children are held in inhuman conditions and in adult facilities—in violation of their human rights—where they are at high risk of violence, rape, and sexual assault, including acts of torture and cruel, inhuman, or degrading treatment or punishment. The Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights recently released the "Global Study on Children Deprived of Liberty" (OCT 2019).

<https://www.ohchr.org/EN/HRBodies/CRC/StudyChildrenDeprivedLiberty/Pages/Index.aspx>

Climate Change

The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) has published "Climate Change 2021: The Physical Science Basis," which is the contribution of Working Group I to the sixth assessment report. Working Group I members have compiled the most up-to-date physical assessment of the climate system and climate change. They brought together the latest advances in climate science and combined multiple lines of evidence from paleoclimate, observations, process understanding, and global and regional climate simulations. In the summary for policymakers, the report states: "Observed increases in well-mixed greenhouse gas concentrations since around 1750 are unequivocally caused by human activities. . . . concentrations have continued to increase in the atmosphere, reaching annual averages of 410 ppm for carbon dioxide, 1866 ppb for methane, and 332 ppb for nitrous oxide in 2019."

<https://www.ipcc.ch/report/sixth-assessment-report-working-group-i>

In southern Madagascar, an ongoing drought that started in 2019 has eliminated nearly all sources of food. The drought has brought severe hunger, and climate change is causing the drought. The World Food Programme of the United Nations has sounded the alarm to raise awareness and stimulate action to provide relief from the catastrophe.

<https://www.wfp.org/stories/dont-look-other-way-madagascar-grip-drought-and-famine>

On December 13, 2021, Secretary-General António Guterres released a statement on the conclusion of the United Nations Climate Change Conference COP26. He wrote: "Our fragile planet is hanging by a thread. We are still knocking on the door of climate catastrophe. It is time to go into emergency mode."

<https://www.un.org/sg/en/node/260645>

On December 2, 2020, Secretary-General António Guterres gave an address at Columbia University in New York City on "The State of the Planet." As part of the address, the Secretary-General warned: "Human activities are at the root of our descent towards chaos."

<https://www.un.org/sg/en/content/sg/speeches/2020-12-02/address-columbia-university-the-state-of-the-planet>

Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID–19)

The United Nations maintains "COVID–19 Response" web pages where it posts informational resources and its most recent updates on the pandemic.

<https://www.un.org/en/coronavirus>

The Department of Global Communications has posted the photo essay "We're All in This Together" as part of the United Nations' "COVID–19 Response" section on its website.

<https://www.un.org/en/coronavirus/covid-19-photo-essay-we%E2%80%99re-all-together>

Documents

Launched in 1993 and updated in 2016, the Official Document System (ODS) is an online database of United Nations documents that has full-text, born-digital documents published from 1993 onward. The ODS also includes scanned documents that were published between 1946 and 1993. Documents are available in the official languages of the United Nations. Some documents are also available in German.

<https://documents.un.org/prod/ods.nsf/home.xsp>

Empowering the Next Generation

In the face of crises whose effects are global in scale and scope, the Department of Economic and Social Affairs identifies an important source of hope: the next generation because it is different.

<https://www.un.org/development/desa/dspd/2019/02/the-generation-that-can-change-the-world-if-we-let-them>

Essential UN Information

"The Essential UN" web page brings together in one place the most important information on United Nations activities, funding, priorities, and programs.

<https://www.un.org/en/essential-un>

Food Loss and Waste

The Food and Agriculture Organization maintains the "Food Loss and Waste Database," which is the largest online collection of data on food loss, food waste, and the causes that are reported for the loss and waste. The data and information come from openly accessible reports and studies that measure food loss and waste across food products, stages of the value chain, and geographical areas. The database may be used by anyone who seeks information on food loss and waste and who has Internet access.

<http://www.fao.org/platform-food-loss-waste/flw-data/en>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Dag Hammarskjöld Library staff members post answers to FAQs.

<https://ask.un.org>

Global Issues

The "Global Issues" web page offers convenient access to a trove of information on aging, atomic energy, children, climate change, decolonization, democracy, food, population, refugees, water, women, and more.

<https://www.un.org/en/global-issues>

History

More than 75 years after its creation, the United Nations continues to support international peace and security efforts, give humanitarian assistance to those in need, protect human rights, and uphold international law. "The History of the United Nations" web page tells the story of those efforts.

<https://www.un.org/en/about-us/history-of-the-un>

Human Rights

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights and a short history of this document are posted on the United Nation's website.

<https://www.un.org/en/about-us/universal-declaration-of-human-rights>

International Maritime Organization (IMO)

The IMO is a specialized United Nations agency whose responsibilities include shipping safety and security and preventing ships from polluting the atmosphere and marine environment. The work of the IMO supports the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals. The "Affiliated Bodies and Programmes" web page has a collection of links that provide convenient access to the websites of IMO affiliates and IMO programs.

<http://www.imo.org/en/About/Pages/Affiliated-Bodies-and-Programmes.aspx>

Library

The Dag Hammarskjöld Library is accessible online.

<https://www.un.org/library>

Mine Awareness

The United Nations Mine Action Service observes International Mine Awareness Day each year on April 4th. To hear the United Nation's global advocate's 2019 message, watch the 3-minute video.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LcWiyxpkwE>

News

The News Centre provides breaking news coverage of developments around the United Nations system, offering quick access to news-related products and resources.

<https://news.un.org/en>

Non-English Readers

The United Nations provides versions of its website in Arabic, Chinese, French, Russian, and Spanish. Language options are available on the site's welcome page.

<http://www.un.org>

Official Languages

The United Nations has designated six languages as official languages: Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian, and Spanish. The work of the United Nations includes communicating issues of global importance clearly and concisely. Accuracy in interpretation and translation makes the difference between communication that is clear and concise and communication that distorts and rambles.

<https://www.un.org/en/our-work/official-languages>

Plastic Pollution

The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations released its "Assessment of Agricultural Plastics and Their Sustainability—A Call For Action" (2021). In the assessment's foreword, the organization's Deputy Director Maria Helena Semedo wrote: "Soils are one of the main receptors of agricultural plastics and are known to contain larger quantities of microplastics than oceans. . . . This report serves as a loud call to coordinated and decisive action to facilitate good management practices and curb the disastrous use of plastics across the agricultural sectors."

<https://www.fao.org/publications/card/en/c/CB7856EN>

Publications

Books, reports, and data are available from the online bookshop.

<https://shop.un.org>

Social Media

Official United Nations social media include Facebook, Flickr, Tumblr, Twitter, YouTube, and other accounts.

<https://www.un.org/en/get-involved/social-media>

Sustainable Development

The United Nations promotes 17 sustainable development goals to end poverty, to ensure prosperity for all people, and to protect Earth's biosphere, as part of a development agenda.

<https://sdgs.un.org/goals>

System Organizations Directory

The Charter of the United Nations established the organizations that constitute the United Nations system. The directory presents these organizations in categories with links to their web pages.

<https://unsceb.org/structure>

Web TV / Video

The United Nation's Web TV Channel is accessible around the clock. Its programming includes selected live broadcasts of United Nations meetings and events and prerecorded video features and documentaries on various global issues.

<https://media.un.org/en/webtv>

The Sources of Information were updated 12–2021.

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

World Bank Group

- International Bank for Reconstruction and Development
- International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes
- International Development Association
- International Finance Corporation
- Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency

The United States Government Manual

WORLD BANK GROUP

Headquarters: 1818 H Street NW., Washington, DC 20433

202-473-1000

202-477-6391

<http://www.worldbank.org>

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/leadership/managers>

The above personnel table was updated 7–2021.

The World Bank Group promotes shared global prosperity and seeks to end extreme poverty.

The World Bank Group (WBG) comprises five institutions: the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), the International Development Association (IDA), the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA), and the International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID). These WBG institutions work together to help developing countries find answers to tough global and local development challenges that range from climate change adaptation to food security, to fighting corruption and more.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/what-we-do>

The IBRD and the IDA serve as the WBG's primary economic and social development institutions. Together, these two development banks constitute the World Bank. Donor countries and countries with borrowing rights, a total of 189 countries, support and benefit from the World Bank. The activities of the IFC, MIGA, and ICSID complement those of the IBRD and IDA.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/leadership>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

A–Z Topics

An alphabetical list of topics helps visitors learn about the WBG's many and diverse activities.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/topic>

Access to Information

In 2010, the World Bank adopted its landmark disclosure policy: The World Bank Policy on Access to Information. It also has undertaken numerous initiatives to inform and educate the public. These open access initiatives include Open Data, Open Finances, and Open Knowledge Repository.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/access-to-information>

Blog

The World Bank posts items by featured bloggers on its website.

<http://blogs.worldbank.org>

Career Opportunities

The WBG typically hires people with strong academic backgrounds, a broad understanding of development issues, and international work experience. In more than 170 countries, it employs professionals who specialize in economics, education, engineering, finance, public health, and many other fields. About 40 percent of World Bank staff members work in more than 110 developing countries.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/careers>

Climate Investment Funds

Since the inception of this climate finance mechanism, donor countries have contributed over 8 billion dollars in support of scaling up mitigation and adaptation action in developing and middle-income countries. The World Bank holds these public resources in trust and disburses them as grants, concessional loans, and risk mitigation instruments to recipient countries through multilateral development banks.

<https://www.climateinvestmentfunds.org/>

Climate Migration

The World Bank report "Groundswell: Preparing for Internal Climate Migration" (2018) found that by midcentury the adverse effects of climate change in three densely populated regions of the world could force more than 140 million people to relocate within their respective countries. Concerted action, including global reductions in greenhouse gas emissions and development planning, could reduce internal migration by as much as 80 percent.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/news/feature/2018/03/19/meet-the-human-faces-of-climate-migration>

Contact Information

General information for contacting the World Bank is available on its website.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/contacts>

Countries / Regions

The "Where We Work" web page allows visitors to browse WGB locations by region or country group.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/country>

Data

The World Bank's website allows free and open access to global development data.

<http://data.worldbank.org>

The microdata library facilitates access to data collected through sample surveys of households, business establishments, and other facilities. These sets of microdata may also be derived from agricultural, housing, or population censuses or through an administrative data collection processes. The Library also contains supporting documentation from censuses and surveys that the World Bank and other international organizations, statistical agencies, and other agencies in low and middle-income countries conducted or supported.

<http://microdata.worldbank.org/index.php/home>

History

Founded in 1944, and not long thereafter referred to as the World Bank, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) expanded to become a group of five development institutions. In the aftermath of World War II, IBRD loans helped countries overcome the devastation and rebuild. Over time, the Bank's focus shifted from reconstruction to development, particularly to development of infrastructure: dams, electrical grids, irrigation systems, and roads. To learn more about the inception and growth of the World Bank, visit the "History" web page.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/history>

The "World Bank Group Archives" website supports the institutional memory of the World Bank Group and provides access to records of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and the International Development Association. The website also features online historical resources and information products: exhibits on the Archives' collection and World Bank history, General International Standard Archival Description (ISAD(G)) finding aids, and transcripts of oral history interviews.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/archives>

Indicators

The WBG's Global Indicators Group produces indicators and datasets.

<http://www.doingbusiness.org/about-us/global-indicators>

Libraries

The WBG and International Monetary Fund libraries collaborate to provide information services and make available resources to World Bank Group and International Monetary Fund staff. These libraries provide limited services to external researchers and visitors.

<http://jolis.worldbankimflib.org/external.htm>

News

The World Bank posts press releases and other newsworthy items on its website.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/news>

Open Learning Campus

The Open Learning Campus offers educational opportunities that allow diverse audiences to learn at their own pace. It helps prepare people seeking to address the tough development challenges of the 21st century.

<https://olc.worldbank.org>

Organizational Chart

The World Bank posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<http://pubdocs.worldbank.org/en/404071412346998230/wbg-org-chart.pdf>

Partnerships

The World Bank participates in global partnerships. Visit the "Partners" web page to learn about some of them.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/partners>

Podcasts

The World Bank's "All Multimedia" web page allows visitors to access a trove of podcasts on diverse topics: climate change, energy development, food, indigenous communities, immigration and forced displacement, pollution, sanitation, sustainability, tourism and more.

http://www.worldbank.org/en/news/multimedia?multimedia\_class\_exact=Audio&qterm=&lang\_exact=English

Poverty and Equity

The "Poverty and Equity Data Portal" web page allows visitors to access the World Bank Group's most recent data on inequality, poverty, and shared prosperity.

<http://povertydata.worldbank.org/poverty/home/>

Projects

The "Projects and Operations" web page allows visitors to browse or search for projects by country or area, sector, or theme.

<http://projects.worldbank.org>

Publications / Research

The "Open Knowledge Repository" allows users to browse and search for thousands of publications.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/publication/reference>

Social Media

The World Bank tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/worldbank>

The World Bank has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/worldbank>

The World Bank posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/WorldBank>

Speaker's Bureau

The Speaker's Bureau serves as the official liaison between the World Bank Group and its visitors, who include business leaders, governmental representatives, students and teachers, youth organizations, and other professionals.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/speakers-bureau> | Email: speakersbureau@worldbank.org

International Bank for Reconstruction and Development

The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) officially came into existence in 1944. It promotes economic, social, and environmental progress in developing nations by reducing poverty.

The Bank lends funds at market-determined interest rates, provides advice, and serves as a catalyst to stimulate outside investments. Its resources come primarily from funds raised in the world capital markets, its retained earnings, and repayments on its loans.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/what-we-do/brief/ibrd>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Activities and Achievements

The IBRD helps countries craft policies and shape investments, manage crises and prevent them, and create markets and access additional resources. To learn about the results of these IBRD activities, visit the "Results" web page.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/who-we-are/news/campaigns/2018/ibrd-results-page>

Countries

The Governments of the 189 member countries own the IBRD.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/leadership/members>

Organizational Chart

The IBRD and International Development Association are represented on the World Bank's organizational chart, which is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<http://pubdocs.worldbank.org/en/404071412346998230/wbg-org-chart.pdf>

International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes

Headquarters: 1818 H Street NW., MSN J2-200, Washington, DC 20433

202-458-1534

202-522-2615

<http://icsid.worldbank.org/en> | Email: ICSIDsecretariat@worldbank.org

---

PRESIDENT

David R. Malpass

---

Secretary-General

Megan Kinnear

---

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/about/secretariat/staff>

The above personnel table was updated 7–2021.

The International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID) is an autonomous international institution and a World Bank Group affiliate that provides an independent forum for conciliation and arbitration of international investment disputes. By providing an impartial system for dispute settlement, it facilitates foreign investment. The Convention on the Settlement of Investment Disputes Between States and Nationals of Other States established the ICSID, setting forth its mandate, organization, and core functions. The executive directors of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development formulated this multilateral treaty, which entered into force in 1966, to further the World Bank's goal of promoting international investment.

The ICSID has a composite structure comprising an administrative council and secretariat. Each member state holds one seat on the Administrative Council, whose mandate is to address organizational matters related to ICSID's institutional framework. The Secretariat consists of about 70 professionals who administer arbitration and conciliation cases and support other ICSID activities.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/about/default.aspx>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archives

The ICSID archives contain annual reports, events, featured videos, model clauses, and news and announcements.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/resources/Archives.aspx>

Contact Information

General information for contacting ICSID is available online.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/about/Contact-us.aspx>

Convention

The ICSID Convention is available in 20 languages; however, its official version is available in 3 languages: English, French, and Spanish.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/resources/ICSID-Convention-in-other-Languages.aspx>

Member States

A database of ICSID member states is available online.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/about/Database-of-Member-States.aspx>

Publications

The ICSID publishes specialized texts on international investment law and investment dispute resolution procedures.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/resources/ICSID-Publications.aspx>

Related Websites

A list of links to public and commercial websites that may be useful for research in the field of international investment law and practice is available on the ICSID website.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/resources/Other-Related-Websites.aspx>

Resources Overview

The ICSID Secretariat promotes greater awareness of the ICSID dispute settlement process and the development of international law on foreign investment by posting information resources on its website.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/Resources/default.aspx>

Social Media

The ICSID tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/icsid>

Structure

This separation of functions within the ICSID enhances impartiality and independence in the resolution of disputes.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/about/Structure.aspx>

International Development Association

Established in 1960, the International Development Association (IDA) reduces poverty by providing loans, or "credits," and grants for programs that boost economic growth, improve living conditions, and reduce inequalities. The IDA complements the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), which is the original lending arm of the World Bank. The IDA and IBRD share the same staff and headquarters and evaluate projects using the same standards.

The IDA lends money on concessional terms, which means that IDA loans, or credits, have a zero or very low interest charge and repayments extend from 25 to 38 years. The IDA also provides grants to countries at risk of debt distress. In addition to loans and grants, the IDA provides significant levels of debt relief.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/about/who-we-are>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Articles of Agreement

The IDA's Articles of Agreement became effective in 1960. They are available online in Portable Document Format.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/sites/default/files/IDA-articles-of-agreement.pdf>

Climate

Climate change threatens poorer people globally, with the potential to force more than 100 million people back into poverty by 2030. The IDA is making plans to help manage this threat of enormous scope and scale.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/theme/climate>

Countries

Seventy-five countries are eligible to receive IDA resources.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/about/borrowing-countries>

A list of the approximately 50 contributor countries is available on the IDA's website.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/about/contributor-countries>

Crisis Financing

The IDA has a history of involvement in various aspects of crisis response, including providing financial support.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/financing/crisis-financing>

History

Australia, Canada, China, Germany, India, Italy, Malaysia, Norway, Pakistan, Sudan, Sweden, Thailand, United Kingdom, United States, and Vietnam launched the IDA on September 24, 1960, with an initial funding of 912.7

million dollars.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/about/history>

News / Publications

The IDA posts press releases and other newsworthy items online.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/news>

Organizational Chart

The IDA and International Bank for Reconstruction and Development are included on the World Bank's organizational chart, which is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<http://pubdocs.worldbank.org/en/404071412346998230/wbg-org-chart.pdf>

Resources / Policy

Every 3 years, donors meet to replenish IDA resources and review its policy framework. The replenishment process typically consists of four formal meetings over the course of 1 year. Four IDA18 replenishment meetings were held in 2016.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/financing/replenishments/ida18-overview>

Results

The IDA's website features an overview of the results of the IDA's efforts in the world's poorest countries by country, theme, and topic.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/results>

Social Media

The IDA has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/IDA.WBG/?ref=nf>

The IDA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PL6A79B12D02618711&feature=plcp>

International Finance Corporation

Headquarters: 2121 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20433

202-473-7711

202-974-4384

<http://www.ifc.org>

---

PRESIDENT

David R. Malpass

---

Managing Director

Makhtar Diop

---

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/About+IFC\_New/Leadership/

---

The above personnel table was updated 7–2021.

The International Finance Corporation (IFC), a World Bank Group institution, was established in 1956 to promote productive private enterprise in developing member countries.

The Corporation pursues its objective principally through direct debt and equity investments in projects that establish new businesses or expand, modify, or diversify existing businesses. It also encourages cofinancing by other investors and lenders.

Additionally, to developing member countries, the IFC provides advisory services and technical assistance in capital market development, corporate restructuring, foreign investment, and privatization.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/corp\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_corporate\_site/about+ifc\_new

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Articles of Agreement

The official version of the IFC Articles of Agreement is the English version that each member country signs. Translations of the official version are available in Arabic, Chinese, French, Japanese, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/About+IFC\_New/IFC+Governance/Articles/

Bonds

In 2013, the IFC helped transform the green bond market by issuing a 1 billion dollar global benchmark green bond. The IFC is currently investing in the Green Cornerstone Bond Fund, which buys green bonds issued by banks in Africa, Asia, Central Asia, Eastern Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East. The Green Cornerstone Bond Fund is a partnership involving the IFC and the European asset manager Amundi.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/results/2017/12/01/green-bonds>

Career Opportunities

The IFC posts career opportunities.

http://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/Careers\_Ext\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/IFC+Careers

Climate

The IFC is increasing its climate-related investments to address climate change—a fundamental threat to development, with the potential to impact millions, threatening agricultural livelihoods, increasing the incidence of natural disasters and affecting water, energy, and food supplies.

http://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/Topics\_Ext\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/Climate+Business

Contact Information

General information is available on the IFC's website.

http://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/corp\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_corporate\_site/about+ifc\_new/contacts

Countries

The IFC operates in more than 100 countries.

http://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/corp\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_corporate\_site/about+ifc\_new/Where+We+Work

Expertise

The IFC's areas of expertise include agribusiness and forestry; financial institutions; funds; health and education; infrastructure; manufacturing; oil, gas, and mining; public-private partnerships; telecoms, media, and technology; and tourism, retail, and property.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/solutions/expertise

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The IFC posts answers to FAQs online.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/corp\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_corporate\_site/about+ifc\_new/faqs

Funding

The IFC raises funds for lending activities by issuing debt obligations in international capital markets. IFC borrowings are diversified by country, currency, source, and maturity to enhance flexibility and cost effectiveness.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/About+IFC\_New/IFC+Governance/Funding/

History

Opened in 1956 with $100 million in capital, the IFC has been creating jobs and raising living standards for six decades.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/About+IFC\_New/IFC+History/

Media

The "Communications Contacts" page contains communications and public affairs contact information, as well as contact information associated with IFC accountability and the various spheres of IFC expertise and regional activity.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/NEWS\_EXT\_CONTENT/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/News+and+Events/Media+Contacts/

Organizational Chart

The IFC posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/7973ac004a4483708622bf10cc70d6a1/IFC+organization+chart.pdf?MOD=AJPERES>

Press Releases

The IFC posts press releases in Arabic, Bahasa Indonesia, Chinese, English, French, German, Japanese, Montenegrin, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Tajik, Turkish, and Ukrainian.

<https://ifcextapps.ifc.org/ifcext/pressroom/ifcpressroom.nsf/MorePressReleases/?OpenView&Start=1&Count=25>

Publications

A search tool allows visitors to search IFC publications by language, region, and topic. The advanced option allows users to refine their search by IFC department, industry, and publication type.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/publications\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_publication\_site/publications

Social Media

The IFC has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/IFCwbg>

The IFC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/IFC\_org

The IFC posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/IFCvideocasts>

Stories

The IFC posts stories highlighting the achievements of its clients who affect people's lives in a favorable and notable way.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/NEWS\_EXT\_CONTENT/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/News+and+Events/News/Impact-Stories

Sustainability

The IFC partners with industry and other stakeholders to find ways that open opportunities for economically, socially, and environmentally sustainable private investment.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/Topics\_Ext\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/Sustainability-At-IFC

Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency

Headquarters: 1818 H Street NW., Washington, DC 20433

202-458-2538

202-522-0316

<http://www.miga.org>

---

PRESIDENT

David R. Malpass

---

Executive Vice President

Hiroshi Matano

---

<https://www.miga.org/about/management>

The above personnel table was updated 7–2021.

The Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA), a World Bank Group institution, was formally constituted in 1988.

Working with public and private insurers, MIGA promotes foreign direct investment in developing countries to support economic growth, reduce poverty, and improve the quality of people's lives. Due to its status as a World Bank Group institution, MIGA's guarantees protect investments against noncommercial risks and help investors gain access to funding sources with improved financial terms and conditions.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Access to Information

MIGA's policy on accessing information defines its obligations to disclose information on itself and its activities.

<https://www.miga.org/projects/access-to-information/>

Career Opportunities

The MIGA advertises available positions on the World Bank's job vacancies page.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/careers>

Contact Information

General information is available on the MIGA's website.

<https://www.miga.org/contact>

Convention

The "Convention Establishing the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency" went into effect on April 12, 1988. The Council of Governors amended it in 2010. The Convention is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/miga-convention>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The MIGA posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/frequently-asked-questions>

History

A timeline and short history of the MIGA are available on its website.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/history>

Member Countries

The names of the 181 member countries—156 developing, 25 industrialized—are available on the MIGA's website.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/member-countries>

News

The MIGA posts press releases on its website.

<https://www.miga.org/news/press-releases>

Organizational Chart

The MIGA posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<http://pubdocs.worldbank.org/en/268791412196376513/miga.pdf>

Projects

The MIGA provides investment insurance, or guarantees, for projects in a variety of sectors, covering all regions of the world.

<https://www.miga.org/projects>

Reports

The MIGA posts its annual reports online.

<https://www.miga.org/Pages/Resources/Reports/AnnualReports.aspx>

Small Investment

The small investment program facilitates investment in small and medium-size enterprises that are active in the agribusiness, finance, manufacturing, and services sectors. This MIGA program has a streamlined approval process, which allows investors to acquire MIGA coverage quickly..

<https://www.miga.org/investment-guarantees/small-investment-program/>

The application for the small investment program is available online.

https://www.miga.org/Documents/SIP\_Application.pdf#search=SIP%20Application

Social Media

The MIGA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/miga>

The MIGA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/migaworldbank>

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

International Bank for Reconstruction and Development

The United States Government Manual

INTERNATIONAL BANK FOR RECONSTRUCTION AND DEVELOPMENT

The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) officially came into existence in 1944. It promotes economic, social, and environmental progress in developing nations by reducing poverty.

The Bank lends funds at market-determined interest rates, provides advice, and serves as a catalyst to stimulate outside investments. Its resources come primarily from funds raised in the world capital markets, its retained earnings, and repayments on its loans.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/what-we-do/brief/ibrd>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Activities and Achievements

The IBRD helps countries craft policies and shape investments, manage crises and prevent them, and create markets and access additional resources. To learn about the results of these IBRD activities, visit the "Results" web page.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/who-we-are/news/campaigns/2018/ibrd-results-page>

Countries

The Governments of the 189 member countries own the IBRD.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/about/leadership/members>

Organizational Chart

The IBRD and International Development Association are represented on the World Bank's organizational chart, which is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<http://pubdocs.worldbank.org/en/404071412346998230/wbg-org-chart.pdf>

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes

The United States Government Manual

INTERNATIONAL CENTRE FOR SETTLEMENT OF INVESTMENT DISPUTES

Headquarters: 1818 H Street NW., MSN J2-200, Washington, DC 20433

202-458-1534

202-522-2615

<http://icsid.worldbank.org/en> | Email: ICSIDsecretariat@worldbank.org

PRESIDENT

David R. Malpass

Secretary-General

Megan Kinnear

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/about/secretariat/staff>

The above personnel table was updated 7–2021.

The International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID) is an autonomous international institution and a World Bank Group affiliate that provides an independent forum for conciliation and arbitration of international investment disputes. By providing an impartial system for dispute settlement, it facilitates foreign investment. The Convention on the Settlement of Investment Disputes Between States and Nationals of Other States established the ICSID, setting forth its mandate, organization, and core functions. The executive directors of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development formulated this multilateral treaty, which entered into force in 1966, to further the World Bank's goal of promoting international investment.

The ICSID has a composite structure comprising an administrative council and secretariat. Each member state holds one seat on the Administrative Council, whose mandate is to address organizational matters related to ICSID's institutional framework. The Secretariat consists of about 70 professionals who administer arbitration and conciliation cases and support other ICSID activities.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/about/default.aspx>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Archives

The ICSID archives contain annual reports, events, featured videos, model clauses, and news and announcements.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/resources/Archives.aspx>

Contact Information

General information for contacting ICSID is available online.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/about/Contact-us.aspx>

Convention

The ICSID Convention is available in 20 languages; however, its official version is available in 3 languages: English, French, and Spanish.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/resources/ICSID-Convention-in-other-Languages.aspx>

Member States

A database of ICSID member states is available online.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/about/Database-of-Member-States.aspx>

Publications

The ICSID publishes specialized texts on international investment law and investment dispute resolution procedures.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/resources/ICSID-Publications.aspx>

Related Websites

A list of links to public and commercial websites that may be useful for research in the field of international investment law and practice is available on the ICSID website.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/resources/Other-Related-Websites.aspx>

Resources Overview

The ICSID Secretariat promotes greater awareness of the ICSID dispute settlement process and the development of international law on foreign investment by posting information resources on its website.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/Resources/default.aspx>

Social Media

The ICSID tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/icsid>

Structure

This separation of functions within the ICSID enhances impartiality and independence in the resolution of disputes.

<https://icsid.worldbank.org/en/Pages/about/Structure.aspx>

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

International Development Association

The United States Government Manual

INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

Established in 1960, the International Development Association (IDA) reduces poverty by providing loans, or "credits," and grants for programs that boost economic growth, improve living conditions, and reduce inequalities. The IDA complements the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), which is the original lending arm of the World Bank. The IDA and IBRD share the same staff and headquarters and evaluate projects using the same standards.

The IDA lends money on concessional terms, which means that IDA loans, or credits, have a zero or very low interest charge and repayments extend from 25 to 38 years. The IDA also provides grants to countries at risk of debt distress. In addition to loans and grants, the IDA provides significant levels of debt relief.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/about/who-we-are>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Articles of Agreement

The IDA's Articles of Agreement became effective in 1960. They are available online in Portable Document Format.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/sites/default/files/IDA-articles-of-agreement.pdf>

Climate

Climate change threatens poorer people globally, with the potential to force more than 100 million people back into poverty by 2030. The IDA is making plans to help manage this threat of enormous scope and scale.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/theme/climate>

Countries

Seventy-five countries are eligible to receive IDA resources.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/about/borrowing-countries>

A list of the approximately 50 contributor countries is available on the IDA's website.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/about/contributor-countries>

Crisis Financing

The IDA has a history of involvement in various aspects of crisis response, including providing financial support.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/financing/crisis-financing>

History

Australia, Canada, China, Germany, India, Italy, Malaysia, Norway, Pakistan, Sudan, Sweden, Thailand, United Kingdom, United States, and Vietnam launched the IDA on September 24, 1960, with an initial funding of 912.7 million dollars.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/about/history>

News / Publications

The IDA posts press releases and other newsworthy items online.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/news>

Organizational Chart

The IDA and International Bank for Reconstruction and Development are included on the World Bank's organizational chart, which is available in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<http://pubdocs.worldbank.org/en/404071412346998230/wbg-org-chart.pdf>

Resources / Policy

Every 3 years, donors meet to replenish IDA resources and review its policy framework. The replenishment process typically consists of four formal meetings over the course of 1 year. Four IDA18 replenishment meetings were held in 2016.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/financing/replenishments/ida18-overview>

Results

The IDA's website features an overview of the results of the IDA's efforts in the world's poorest countries by country, theme, and topic.

<http://ida.worldbank.org/results>

Social Media

The IDA has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/IDA.WBG/?ref=nf>

The IDA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PL6A79B12D02618711&feature=plcp>

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

International Finance Corporation

The United States Government Manual

INTERNATIONAL FINANCE CORPORATION

Headquarters: 2121 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20433

202-473-7711

202-974-4384

<http://www.ifc.org>

PRESIDENT

David R. Malpass

Managing Director

Makhtar Diop

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/About+IFC\_New/Leadership/

The above personnel table was updated 7–2021.

The International Finance Corporation (IFC), a World Bank Group institution, was established in 1956 to promote productive private enterprise in developing member countries.

The Corporation pursues its objective principally through direct debt and equity investments in projects that establish new businesses or expand, modify, or diversify existing businesses. It also encourages cofinancing by other investors and lenders.

Additionally, to developing member countries, the IFC provides advisory services and technical assistance in capital market development, corporate restructuring, foreign investment, and privatization.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/corp\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_corporate\_site/about+ifc\_new

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Articles of Agreement

The official version of the IFC Articles of Agreement is the English version that each member country signs. Translations of the official version are available in Arabic, Chinese, French, Japanese, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/About+IFC\_New/IFC+Governance/Articles/

Bonds

In 2013, the IFC helped transform the green bond market by issuing a 1 billion dollar global benchmark green bond. The IFC is currently investing in the Green Cornerstone Bond Fund, which buys green bonds issued by banks in Africa, Asia, Central Asia, Eastern Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East. The Green Cornerstone Bond Fund is a partnership involving the IFC and the European asset manager Amundi.

<http://www.worldbank.org/en/results/2017/12/01/green-bonds>

Career Opportunities

The IFC posts career opportunities.

http://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/Careers\_Ext\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/IFC+Careers

Climate

The IFC is increasing its climate-related investments to address climate change—a fundamental threat to development, with the potential to impact millions, threatening agricultural livelihoods, increasing the incidence of natural disasters and affecting water, energy, and food supplies.

http://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/Topics\_Ext\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/Climate+Business

Contact Information

General information is available on the IFC's website.

http://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/corp\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_corporate\_site/about+ifc\_new/contacts

Countries

The IFC operates in more than 100 countries.

http://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/corp\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_corporate\_site/about+ifc\_new/Where+We+Work

Expertise

The IFC's areas of expertise include agribusiness and forestry; financial institutions; funds; health and education; infrastructure; manufacturing; oil, gas, and mining; public-private partnerships; telecoms, media, and technology; and tourism, retail, and property.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/solutions/expertise

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The IFC posts answers to FAQs online.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/corp\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_corporate\_site/about+ifc\_new/faqs

Funding

The IFC raises funds for lending activities by issuing debt obligations in international capital markets. IFC borrowings are diversified by country, currency, source, and maturity to enhance flexibility and cost effectiveness.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/About+IFC\_New/IFC+Governance/Funding/

History

Opened in 1956 with $100 million in capital, the IFC has been creating jobs and raising living standards for six decades.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/CORP\_EXT\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/About+IFC\_New/IFC+History/

Media

The "Communications Contacts" page contains communications and public affairs contact information, as well as contact information associated with IFC accountability and the various spheres of IFC expertise and regional activity.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/NEWS\_EXT\_CONTENT/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/News+and+Events/Media+Contacts/

Organizational Chart

The IFC posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/7973ac004a4483708622bf10cc70d6a1/IFC+organization+chart.pdf?MOD=AJPERES>

Press Releases

The IFC posts press releases in Arabic, Bahasa Indonesia, Chinese, English, French, German, Japanese, Montenegrin, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Tajik, Turkish, and Ukrainian.

<https://ifcextapps.ifc.org/ifcext/pressroom/ifcpressroom.nsf/MorePressReleases/?OpenView&Start=1&Count=25>

Publications

A search tool allows visitors to search IFC publications by language, region, and topic. The advanced option allows users to refine their search by IFC department, industry, and publication type.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/publications\_ext\_content/ifc\_external\_publication\_site/publications

Social Media

The IFC has a Facebook account.

<https://www.facebook.com/IFCwbg>

The IFC tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

https://twitter.com/IFC\_org

The IFC posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/IFCvideocasts>

Stories

The IFC posts stories highlighting the achievements of its clients who affect people's lives in a favorable and notable way.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/NEWS\_EXT\_CONTENT/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/News+and+Events/News/Impact-Stories

Sustainability

The IFC partners with industry and other stakeholders to find ways that open opportunities for economically, socially, and environmentally sustainable private investment.

https://www.ifc.org/wps/wcm/connect/Topics\_Ext\_Content/IFC\_External\_Corporate\_Site/Sustainability-At-IFC

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us

Privacy

Accessibility

Freedom of Information Act

No FEAR act

Welcome to the United States Government Manual

Getting Started

To begin searching within the Government Manual simply type in a keyword or phrase to find your match.

★ The United States ★ GOVERNMENT MANUAL

Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency

The United States Government Manual

MULTILATERAL INVESTMENT GUARANTEE AGENCY

Headquarters: 1818 H Street NW., Washington, DC 20433

202-458-2538

202-522-0316

<http://www.miga.org>

PRESIDENT

David R. Malpass

Executive Vice President

Hiroshi Matano

<https://www.miga.org/about/management>

The above personnel table was updated 7–2021.

The Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA), a World Bank Group institution, was formally constituted in 1988.

Working with public and private insurers, MIGA promotes foreign direct investment in developing countries to support economic growth, reduce poverty, and improve the quality of people's lives. Due to its status as a World Bank Group institution, MIGA's guarantees protect investments against noncommercial risks and help investors gain access to funding sources with improved financial terms and conditions.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are>

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

---

Access to Information

MIGA's policy on accessing information defines its obligations to disclose information on itself and its activities.

<https://www.miga.org/projects/access-to-information/>

Career Opportunities

The MIGA advertises available positions on the World Bank's job vacancies page.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/careers>

Contact Information

General information is available on the MIGA's website.

<https://www.miga.org/contact>

Convention

The "Convention Establishing the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency" went into effect on April 12, 1988. The Council of Governors amended it in 2010. The Convention is available online in Portable Document Format (PDF).

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/miga-convention>

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

The MIGA posts answers to FAQs on its website.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/frequently-asked-questions>

History

A timeline and short history of the MIGA are available on its website.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/history>

Member Countries

The names of the 181 member countries—156 developing, 25 industrialized—are available on the MIGA's website.

<https://www.miga.org/who-we-are/member-countries>

News

The MIGA posts press releases on its website.

<https://www.miga.org/news/press-releases>

Organizational Chart

The MIGA posts its organizational chart in Portable Document Format (PDF) for viewing and downloading.

<http://pubdocs.worldbank.org/en/268791412196376513/miga.pdf>

Projects

The MIGA provides investment insurance, or guarantees, for projects in a variety of sectors, covering all regions of the world.

<https://www.miga.org/projects>

Reports

The MIGA posts its annual reports online.

<https://www.miga.org/Pages/Resources/Reports/AnnualReports.aspx>

Small Investment

The small investment program facilitates investment in small and medium-size enterprises that are active in the agribusiness, finance, manufacturing, and services sectors. This MIGA program has a streamlined approval process, which allows investors to acquire MIGA coverage quickly..

<https://www.miga.org/investment-guarantees/small-investment-program/>

The application for the small investment program is available online.

https://www.miga.org/Documents/SIP\_Application.pdf#search=SIP%20Application

Social Media

The MIGA tweets announcements and other newsworthy items on Twitter.

<https://twitter.com/miga>

The MIGA posts videos on its YouTube channel.

<https://www.youtube.com/migaworldbank>

Home

The Government of the United States

About

Contact Us