

FALCONRY

FALCONRY

OCTOBER 1990

INTRODUCTION

This publication supersedes U.S. Air Force Academy Library, Special Bibliography Series Nos. 3, 27, 38 and 54. It is intended to be a comprehensive bibliography of the materials on falcons and falconry that can be found in the U.S. Air Force Academy Library.

FALCONS are being defined as birds belonging to the:

ORDER: Falconiformes
FAMILY: Falconidae
SUBFAMILY: Falconinae
Herpetotherinae
Polihieracinae

Material on the SUBFAMILY: Polyborinae will also be included when found.

FALCONRY is being defined as the art or sport of training birds to attack wild fowl or game, whether the birds be falcon, hawks or eagles.

Generally excluded are references to newspapers, dictionaries and general encyclopedias because of their brief and/or repetitive nature. Exceptions are made for items meriting special consideration.

No attempt has been made to judge the quality of material included other than a determination of relevance to the stated topics. Annotations have been made to indicate inclusion of items in other significant bibliographies; see items 29, 244 and 408.

In an effort to preserve the integrity of the collection, most of the monographic items cited here are housed in the Special Collections Branch of the Academy Library. Many of these works are rare and valuable editions and proper environmental and security precautions must be taken. Most periodical articles cited are in the open periodical stacks, but photocopies may also be found in the Special Collections Branch. Some articles are only available as photocopies. A special effort has been made to obtain copies of the writings of local authors.

This bibliography was compiled and edited by M. Douglas Johnson using Pro-Cite bibliographic software with typing assistance from Loretta A. Dotterer, and editorial guidance from Donald J. Barrett. It was further edited and prepared for printing using Enable work processing software.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY STATEMENT

CLASSIFICATION: SK 321 (FALCONRY)

JUNE 1990

General Purpose: As the falcon is the official mascot of the USAF Academy, a special attempt is made to acquire a collection of materials on falcons and the art and practice of falconry.

Collection Level Intensity: Advanced research.

Geographical Areas: No restrictions.

Chronological Periods: No restrictions.

Types of Material Collected: Monographs, serials, dissertations, theses, translations, bibliographies, government documents, report literature, pamphlets, article reprints/photocopies, special studies, selected art works, novels, regulations and rulings, legislative materials, and other items if suitable for display.

Types of Material Excluded: Promotional literature and advertisements, club notices and newsletters. Although some types of materials are not actively acquired, few materials are specifically excluded.

Other Factors: Most items on falcons will be found in the classes QL and SK, but items may also be found in other classes (i.e., fiction, veterinary medicine). Items dealing with birds of prey likely to include sections on falcons are purchased. Items discussing methods of hunting the cover falconry are also purchased when identified.

Subjects and Collecting Levels: The primary areas on falcons and falconry are:

QL 696.F34 Falconiformes

SK 321 Falconry

An attempt is made to collect all significant publications on falcons and falconry within the following guidelines: New works (monographs, theses, documents, etc.) are collected as announced; multiple copies may be considered if appropriate for display or to meet patron/falconry program demands.

New editions of previously published works are acquired if substantial revisions/additions have been made to the text; to minimize handling, if the earlier edition has significantly appreciated in value; or to meet patron demand. Out-of-print items (rare books) may be obtained through available gift monies or donation. Particular importance is placed on items listed in Harting's Bibliotheca Accipitraria.

Art works relevant to Academy programs or operations may also be obtained through gift funds or donation.

Periodical subscriptions are normally limited to titles published in the United States unless acquired as gifts. Titles collected are those directly relevant to falcons and falconry; no attempt is made to collect broader oriented ornithology titles. Reprints/photocopies of single articles having particular significance or importance may be obtained through interlibrary loan or other sources (gifts, exchange, etc.). Other items (hoods, plates, jewelry, stamps, etc.) suitable for display purposes may be obtained through gift funds or other sources as appropriate.

Published items may be in any language.

Weeding Criteria: No weeding is anticipated as the objective is to have an exhaustive collection of relevant materials.
