PART I PUBLIC PRINTER'S REPORT

WASHINGTON
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
1911

OFFICE OF
THE PUBLIC PRINTER
WASHINGTON

DECEMBER 5, 1910.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith the annual report of the operations of the Government Printing Office for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1910.

Very respectfully,

SAM'L B. DONNELLY,
Public Printer.

The PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PUBLIC PRINTER.

OFFICE OF THE PUBLIC PRINTER,
Washington, December 5, 1910.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

The report of the transactions of the Government Printing Office for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1910, contains all of the statistical information required by law and an additional statement of the printing and binding executed for Congress, executive and judicial departments, and the independent government establishments, and the total charges for the principal items thereof during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1910.

The total appropriations for salaries, maintenance, and operation of the Government Printing Office were $5,969,688.

The total appropriations, including those for the office of the superintendent of documents, leaves of absence, holidays, and salaries of the legislative employees, as well as those amounts credited by deposits or transfers at the Treasury Department for work performed, amounted to $6,547,435.86. The total disbursements and outstanding obligations amounted to $6,316,130.39, leaving a balance of appropriations unexpended of $231,305.47.

Not considered in the foregoing paragraph is $224,693.24 of earnings not available for expenditure, being the total of unsettled accounts on June 30, 1910, for work done during the fiscal year for the departments for which the office will be reimbursed from funds under control of the departments. The addition of this amount to the balance of $231,305.47, noted above, will show an unused balance of $455,998.71 to the credit of the several appropriations for the year 1910.

The ledger balance of $231,305.47 on June 30, 1910, was composed of the following items: Legislative salaries, office of the Public Printer, for 1910, $19,030.33; general expense, office of superintendent of documents, $41,213.53; leaves of absence, $16,576.72; pay for holidays, $30,199.53; public printing and binding, $124,285.36.

The total balance unexpended in departmental allotments for public printing and binding was $382,997.35, which leaves a deficit in the congressional allotment of $241,851.14.

The office received from the sale of documents under the act of March 28, 1904, extra documents, printing speeches, waste gold leaf, waste paper, stereotype dross, leather scraps, condemned machinery, old material, old horses, and refuse wood the sum of $177,000.43, and deposited same in the Treasury of the United States to the credit of miscellaneous receipts.

The total charges for work performed was $6,324,395.41, and as the scale of charges for the present fiscal year was 5 per cent less than for the preceding fiscal year, the value of the work performed exceeded that of the preceding fiscal year by $414,815.20. The work was performed with an average of 97 employees less than for the preceding fiscal year. The charges for the fiscal year exceeded the cost of maintenance and operation and an increasing efficiency was apparent, therefore an average reduction of 3 per cent in the scale of charges for the fiscal year 1911 was made, the principal decrease being 5 cents per 1,000 ems in the item of plain composition.

The unexpended balance of $30,445.08 of the appropriation for legislative salaries, office of the Public Printer, on June 30, 1910, is in part offset by outstanding pay rolls in the office, due and unpaid on that date, of $11,414.75, leaving an unused balance of $19,030.33.

The unexpended balance of $50,254.25 of the appropriation for leaves of absence on the 30th of June, 1910, is in part offset by outstanding pay rolls in the office, due and unpaid on that date, of $33,677.53, leaving an unused balance of $16,576.72.

Of the appropriation of $200,000 for the payment of holidays there was disbursed $169,800.47, leaving an unused balance of $30,199.53.

Of the appropriation of $220,000 for general expenses, office of the superintendent of documents, settled for by transfer from said appropriation to the appropriation for printing and binding, 1910, there remains an unused balance of $41,213.53.

The several tables of the annual report are taken from the records of the office and are evidence that the accounting system is founded on sound principles and gives all the data required for the proper conduct of a government establishment. The accounts of the office now show the cost of operating each division and section, making it possible for the Public Printer to ascertain the cost of the various operations and determine the comparative efficiency of the supervisory force. Under the present plan the condition of the appropriation and of the finances of the Office are made known daily, a statement being prepared each day which shows the amount of the obligations assumed and the balance available for operating the plant. A monthly statement of the condition of its allotment is furnished to each department and independent office. This effectually prevents the occurrence of a deficit, and whenever an unusual expenditure of money becomes necessary it is possible not only to provide for it in advance but to make a clear statement to Congress of the reason for the transaction.

OVERHEAD CHARGES.

In view of the prevalent opinion that the overhead charges of the Government Printing Office are not as great as that of commercial or privately conducted establishments, I deem it proper to state that while Congress in 1909 eliminated the expenses of the office of the superintendent of documents as an overhead charge against public printing and binding, there remains as overhead charges the items of power, heat, and light, repairs to buildings and plant, maintenance of stables and delivery section, stock rooms, sanitary forces, and payments to employees injured in the service; for watchmen, $49,080; for holidays, $169,800.47; for leaves of absence, $358,423.38; for legislative salaries, which include the office of the Public Printer, the office of the Deputy Public Printer, and the purchasing and accounting sections, $190,003.18.

Our overhead includes all of the items entering into the expenses of operating a commercial shop, with the exception of rent and insurance. The items of rent and insurance are more than offset by the items of leave and holidays, amounting to $528,223.85. As a matter of fact, the expenditure for leave and holidays is sufficient to pay the rent and insurance upon twice the floor space of that occupied by the Government Printing Office in the cities of either New York or Chicago.

The manufacturing divisions of the office, in addition to their own overhead, are required to carry a general overhead charge of 20 per cent.

The sum necessary to pay for leave of absence and holidays should be allowed in one appropriation, and these two items should not be considered in fixing the scale of charges for work performed. The practice of dividing and subdividing appropriations has the effect of increasing the volume of bookkeeping and the work of recording the time of employees and the computation of the pay rolls.

THE WORK OF THE YEAR.

An unusual quantity of rush work was performed during the fiscal year, the largest job consisting of the printing of the blanks used in taking the thirteenth decennial census. During the winter months we were compelled to run a number of our rotary presses continuously on three eight-hour shifts. In no case, however, has the work of the departments been delayed as a result of the failure of the Government Printing Office to deliver printed matter. In February we undertook the work of printing the United States postal cards. On this work many difficulties were met with, particularly owing to paper and mechanical troubles. At the date of the submission of this report, however, the work is up to date. The Government Printing Office printed in the month of October 156,834,000 cards.

The organization of the Government Printing Office has been perfected in detail, the cost-accounting system improved, and particular attention has been given to the practice of economy in the use and purchase of material and supplies. The method of keeping property records and stores accounts has been improved and an orderly and effective rearrangement and organization of the stores division consummated. The Joint Committee on Printing authorized me to change the style of the Congressional Record Index, with the result that a saving of about $30,000 was effected. The Book of Estimates for the next fiscal year will be reduced in size. Extravagant uses of paper no longer occur.

The reorganization of the office of the superintendent of documents referred to in my preceding report has been consummated. The work of binding the reserve for the office of the superintendent of documents was completed during the fiscal year and brought up to date. The revenues of that division showed an increase over the preceding fiscal year of $9,424.88, and there remained in the Treasury at the end of the fiscal year an unused balance of $41,213.53, and $2,873.51 of the salary appropriation was unexpended.

The construction of the passageways recommended in my last annual report has been undertaken. As a result of careful attention to utility and economy in design, we propose to install three bridges connecting the wings of the second, third, and fourth floors at a total expenditure of $2,000. I have not undertaken the construction of the lunch room and the alteration of the eighth or attic floor of the building for the reason that a careful examination of the structure revealed the fact that the builders had installed a dead floor load of 86 pounds per square foot, while the safe carrying capacity of the floor beams is but 110 pounds per square foot, leaving only 24 pounds per square foot for a live load, which is entirely inadequate for any purpose whatever.

Toward the end of the past fiscal year a series of experiments were conducted in our power plant to determine the feasibility of burning a cheaper grade of coal. These experiments were very successful, and in the present fiscal year we are burning pea coal at a cost of $4.12 per ton, as against the egg coal burned last year at a cost of $5.79 per ton. Based on the amount of coal burned during the first four months of the present fiscal year the annual saving in the coal bill will amount to not less than $10,000, all of which was made possible by the expenditure of only $800.

The work of standardizing the loose-leaf binders in use in the government departments has been commenced and will be continued during the coming fiscal year. Samples of all job work and blanks printed during the fiscal year will be arranged and classified, with the object of determining the exact grade of paper necessary on all the classes of this work and endeavoring to provide for the running of many forms in combination and on rotary presses.

In June I addressed the following letter to all of the departments and establishments of the Government:

JUNE 11, 1910.

SIR: I have the honor to call your attention to certain matters relative to the work of public printing and binding, and to request that they be given consideration by your department.

I am sending you under separate cover a copy of the list of paper for the public printing and binding furnished the Government Printing Office on the annual paper contracts for the year ending February 28, 1911, and have the honor to respectfully recommend that such instructions be issued in your department as you may deem necessary to insure a strict compliance with the provisions of the printing law, which requires that all paper for the public printing and binding shall be purchased for the use of the several departments through the Government Printing Office upon annual contract, so as to discourage the practice of the departments of furnishing paper for use in the public printing and binding, it not being regarded as consistent with the law to honor requisitions for printing and binding upon paper or material furnished in any manner other than as provided by law.

It is my intention to revise the paper list and, if possible, reduce the number of items carried thereon. However, should you find that the list does not contain all papers of a quality, size, or weight that you deem necessary for use in the work of your department please advise me.

Beginning with the month of October, 1910, the Government Printing Office will be required to perform an unusual amount of work for the Census Bureau, and after the convening of Congress in December the demands upon the Office will be exceptional. In anticipation of this condition you are requested to furnish us with the copy for the annual reports and publications of your department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, at the earliest possible date. We particularly desire you to hasten the transmission of all copy for tabular matter. You can greatly assist us in expediting the publication of these reports by forwarding copy during August.

During the present fiscal year the maximum demands made by the departments upon the Government Printing Office for miscellaneous and job printing were made in the months of February and March, at the time when the congressional work was heaviest, with the result that we were compelled to run overtime in our press room. Is it not possible for your department to order in the month of July (the first month of the fiscal year) at least a nine months' supply of permanent blanks, forms, and other job work? A monthly tabulation of the requisitions received for this class of work during the present fiscal year leads me to conclude that in a number of cases departments anticipate the consumption of printing by the calendar year instead of the fiscal year, with the result that the maximum demand for job printing and miscellaneous work is made upon the Government Printing Office during the first months of the calendar year and at a time when the demands of Congress are heaviest.

The Government Printing Office is now manufacturing loose-leaf binders and binding devices of the standard sizes described in the schedule of the general supply committee. All of these devices can be most economically produced if the Public Printer is advised at the beginning of the fiscal year as to the probable quantity of each design that will be required for the use of your department, and I would suggest that it would be in the interest of economy if your department would place its orders for binding devices with this office.

Respectfully submitted.

SAM'L B. DONNELLY,
Public Printer.

The replies received tend to show that we are carrying an ample variety of paper stock, and I am pleased to report that my suggestion that the greater volume of job work be performed in the summer and autumn months has received almost universal approval and support.

The style book of the Government Printing Office has been revised, with the object of eliminating exceptions and special requirements in departmental work which frequently cause confusion and loss of time. A copy of the revised style book and the decisions of the United States Geographic Board are transmitted herewith as a part of this report.

I have endeavored to cooperate with the Printing Investigation Commission in their efforts to reduce the volume and cost of public printing and binding, and also to carry out the President's policy of economy and efficiency.

During the fiscal year machinery was purchased as follows:

| Num-ber or-dered. | Description.                                       | Cost.       |

RECOMMENDATIONS.

I renew the recommendation made in my last report to the effect that the site west of the H street annex building be improved by the construction of a seven-story fireproof factory building for use during the period which will soon arrive when for purposes of economy. Congress will undoubtedly provide for the demolition of the old structure and the erection of a building ample for the uses of the Government as a miscellaneous supplies stores and mailing department. On a site opposite and south of the Government Printing Office building the new post-office structure is now under construction and steps should be taken to provide for the installation, in the Government Printing Office, convenient to the new post-office, of shipping facilities for the distribution direct from the Government Printing Office of all government publications. We now operate a mailing department for the issuance of the Congressional Record and the transmission of documents to public libraries, and on two occasions during the past year we have given the use of sections of the old building to other government establishments for the purpose of wrapping and mailing publications. At the present time the product of the Government Printing Office is hauled to the different departments and bureaus, where it is wrapped and addressed and then again hauled to the post-office and from the post-office to the railway shipping point. The Government Printing Office shipped direct from the work-room, by registered mail, during the past year 399,556 post-office money-order books.

SUBSTITUTION OF AUTOMOBILES FOR HORSES AND WAGONS.

The cost of maintaining the stables of the Government Printing Office during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1910, including the items of supplies, feed, rent, repairs, shoeing, light, and wages of foreman and stablemen, amounted to $18,447.37. The average number of horses kept during the year was 23. Eliminating from the above sum the cost of rent, repairs to harness and wagons, and light, the cost per horse for the year was $658.78. Counting three hundred and thirteen working days for the year, the per diem cost for each horse was $2.10½. The officials of the Washington Navy-Yard, Bureau of Standards, Potomac Electric Power Company, Adams Express Company, the Terminal Taxicab Company, and the firms of Woodward & Lothrop, Chapin-Sacks Manufacturing Company, and Dulin & Martin, all of whom have substituted automobiles for horses and wagons, have courteously permitted the representatives of the Public Printer to examine their costs of operation and maintenance, from which examination, we concluded as follows:

The present Government Printing Office truck equipment consists of seven 1-horse wagons and six 2-horse wagons, requiring 7 and 14 horses, respectively; to replace this equipment would require three 1-ton trucks and three trucks of from 3 to 5 tons capacity. The estimated cost of maintaining this equipment is as follows:

|                                              |                  |          |
|----------------------------------------------|------------------|----------|
| 6 operators, at $2.40 per day               | (one-sixth time) | $751.20 |
| 6 messengers, at $2.40 per day              | (one-sixth time) | 751.20   |
| Labor in garage, at $6 per day              |                  | 1,878.00 |
| Material for charging and renewing batteries |                  | 850.00   |
| Cost of repairs, including new tires         |                  | 3,000.00 |
| Current                                      |                  | 360.00   |
| Total                                        |                  | 7,590.40 |

The depreciation on these machines is about 10 per cent, and will amount to about $2,500 per annum, which is not included in the above figures. The total cost of the stables, including miscellaneous supplies, feed, repairs to harness, wagons, etc., shoeing, gas, electricity, and wages of foreman and stablemen, but not including rent or the wages paid drivers and messengers, is $16,047.37.

If automobiles replace the wagons, it would so reduce the stable equipment that the total transportation expense would not exceed $11,000 per annum, as against $16,000 for all-horse service, exclusive of the wages of drivers, which amounts to $6,009.60 per annum. This will bring the total cost for all-horse service to about $22,000, and as the cost for automobiles and carriage service, including mail wagon, combined is estimated at $11,000, there would be a saving of approximately $11,000.

The printing of the Sunday eulogy editions of the Record during the last session of Congress required an extra expenditure of $7,803.27. It is recommended that in the future the Sunday eulogy edition be printed on Monday and delivered on Tuesday morning with the regular Monday issue. If this plan is adopted, the volume of Sunday work will be greatly reduced and a considerable saving will result therefrom.

The cost of the installation ($40,000) and maintenance of storage batteries has caused me to defer their installation. I recommend that instead of installing the storage batteries, for the purpose of protection against breakdown, particularly during the sessions of Congress, that authority be granted to connect the Government Printing Office with the Capitol power plant. The installation of the equipment, conduit, and necessary wiring from the Government Printing Office to a suitable point in the basement of the Senate Office Building will cost $14,000. By making this connection power can be secured from the excellent and adequate Capitol plant in case of breakdown in the Government Printing Office.

During the first and second sessions of the Sixty-first Congress there was printed a total of 46,023 bills, resolutions, reports, and miscellaneous orders. Of this number only 687 were enrolled. The bills are set in 14-point Roman type and are made up with a 12-point slug (about one-sixth of an inch) between the lines. The paper used in this work cost $28,626.75. By spacing the lines in bill and resolution work with a 6-point slug instead of 12-point, the quantity of paper consumed can be reduced about one-fourth, except in bills making one page, and the labor saving in presswork will be material. The size of type page now used allows sufficient blank space upon margins to permit of the marking of amendments, riders, notations, and references.

While the Public Printer has authority to arrange the work in such manner and use such material as will be in the interest of economy, the regulation of the volume of public documents issued is a power that rests entirely with Congress. In this respect I desire to make one recommendation, as follows:

That, for the purpose of determining the number of each public document to be printed, publications be divided into documents of three classes.

Class A to consist of documents printed solely for the use of Congress in the transaction of its business and of which a number sufficient to supply a copy to each member of the House and Senate, copies for the permanent records of the Government, and copies for the press shall be printed, a total of about 500, and no more, the type to be remelted immediately after printing.

Class B to consist of those documents that are of necessity printed solely for the use of Congress and necessary for the transaction of its business, of which the maximum number to be printed shall be 1,000 copies, the type to be held sixty days in case a reprint should be deemed necessary.

Class C to consist of those reports and documents containing matter of such interest to the general public as to render their distribution to public libraries justifiable, and also those containing matter of historical and scientific value. Of this class of matter electrotypes or stereotype plates shall be made, and only those documents included in Class C shall be distributed to depository libraries and supplied to Members of Congress for distribution.

Bearing on this matter, I call your attention to the fact that during the second session of the Sixty-first Congress, December 6, 1909, to June 30, 1910, there were printed at the Government Printing Office 664 Senate documents, consisting of 30,811 pages; 917 Senate reports, a total of 7,915 pages; 1,049 House documents, a total of 62,923 pages; 1,737 House reports, a total of 8,237 pages, an aggregate of 109,886 pages.

Of these documents and reports a great number was necessary solely for the proper transaction of the public business, and consisted of communications, petitions, and memorials.

The following examples might be cited:

Letter from the Public Printer reporting on traveling expenses paid during the fiscal year to employees of the Government Printing Office.

Property in possession of the Sergeants-at-Arms.

Statements of departments showing documents received and distributed during the fiscal year.

Letters transmitting copies of correspondence relating to claims against the United States.

Statement of expenditures from contingent funds of departments, consisting of statements of traveling expenses, etc.

It would seem that the supplying of each member and officer of committees of both Houses with copies and the furnishing of a required number of copies for the press would be sufficient to give the desired publicity to all documents relating to the routine business of the Government and the everyday transactions of the Houses of Congress.

I am of the opinion that the division of documents into three classes can be made by designation when they are introduced, and in the case of documents that appear incidental to the transaction of the business of the House and Senate the classification can be made by the Public Printer. The number and distribution of the documents of Class C should be determined annually by the Joint Committee on Printing, and the Public Printer should conform to a schedule to be prepared by the Joint Committee. The adoption of this plan will greatly facilitate the operation of the valuation scheme of Congressional distribution, which has been suggested by the Joint Printing Investigation Commission as a substitute for the present plan.

Respectfully submitted.
