America's Authentic Government Information

FDsys is...

- A Content Management System ensuring content integrity and authenticity
- A Preservation Repository guaranteeing long-term preservation and access to digital Government content
- An Advanced Search Engine combining extensive metadata creation with modern search technology

Why FDsys?

- Access is free.
- About 50 different collections of Government information are available, including Congressional materials, Presidential publications, and Federal Agency resources.
- Millions of documents are available, some dating back to the early 1900s.
- Searching is easy, advanced, and precise.
- Authentic, digitally signed PDF documents are available, ensuring document integrity.
- The information is preserved for permanent public access.

How Can I Use It?

- Search multiple publications from a single search box.
- Construct complex search queries.
- Narrow search results by filtering, sorting, and searching within results.
- Access multiple file formats for each search result.
- Access metadata in standard XML formats.
- Browse by collection, Congressional committee, and date.
- Utilize a searchable online help system.

Millions of free documents are available in FDsys,
and more are added every day.
