

CLASSIFICATION FOR UNITED STATES
PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

BY

ADELAIDE R. HASSE

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS
WASHINGTON

CLASSIFICATION
OF
U.S. GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS.

This was found with Mr. Francis Asbury Crandall's material in the drawer of a glass case on the east side of the old library in the H. St. Annex. Mr. Crandall was the first Superintendent of Documents and later became librarian of the office.

Miss Ambler, our present librarian, brought it over with her desk material and turned it over to me to be kept in my locked case with Checklist material. We think it is the working draft of the classification as first used by Miss Adelaide R. Hasse in our library, because some of the oldest books and pamphlets in the library have similar designations on title-pages, in addition to the regular label.

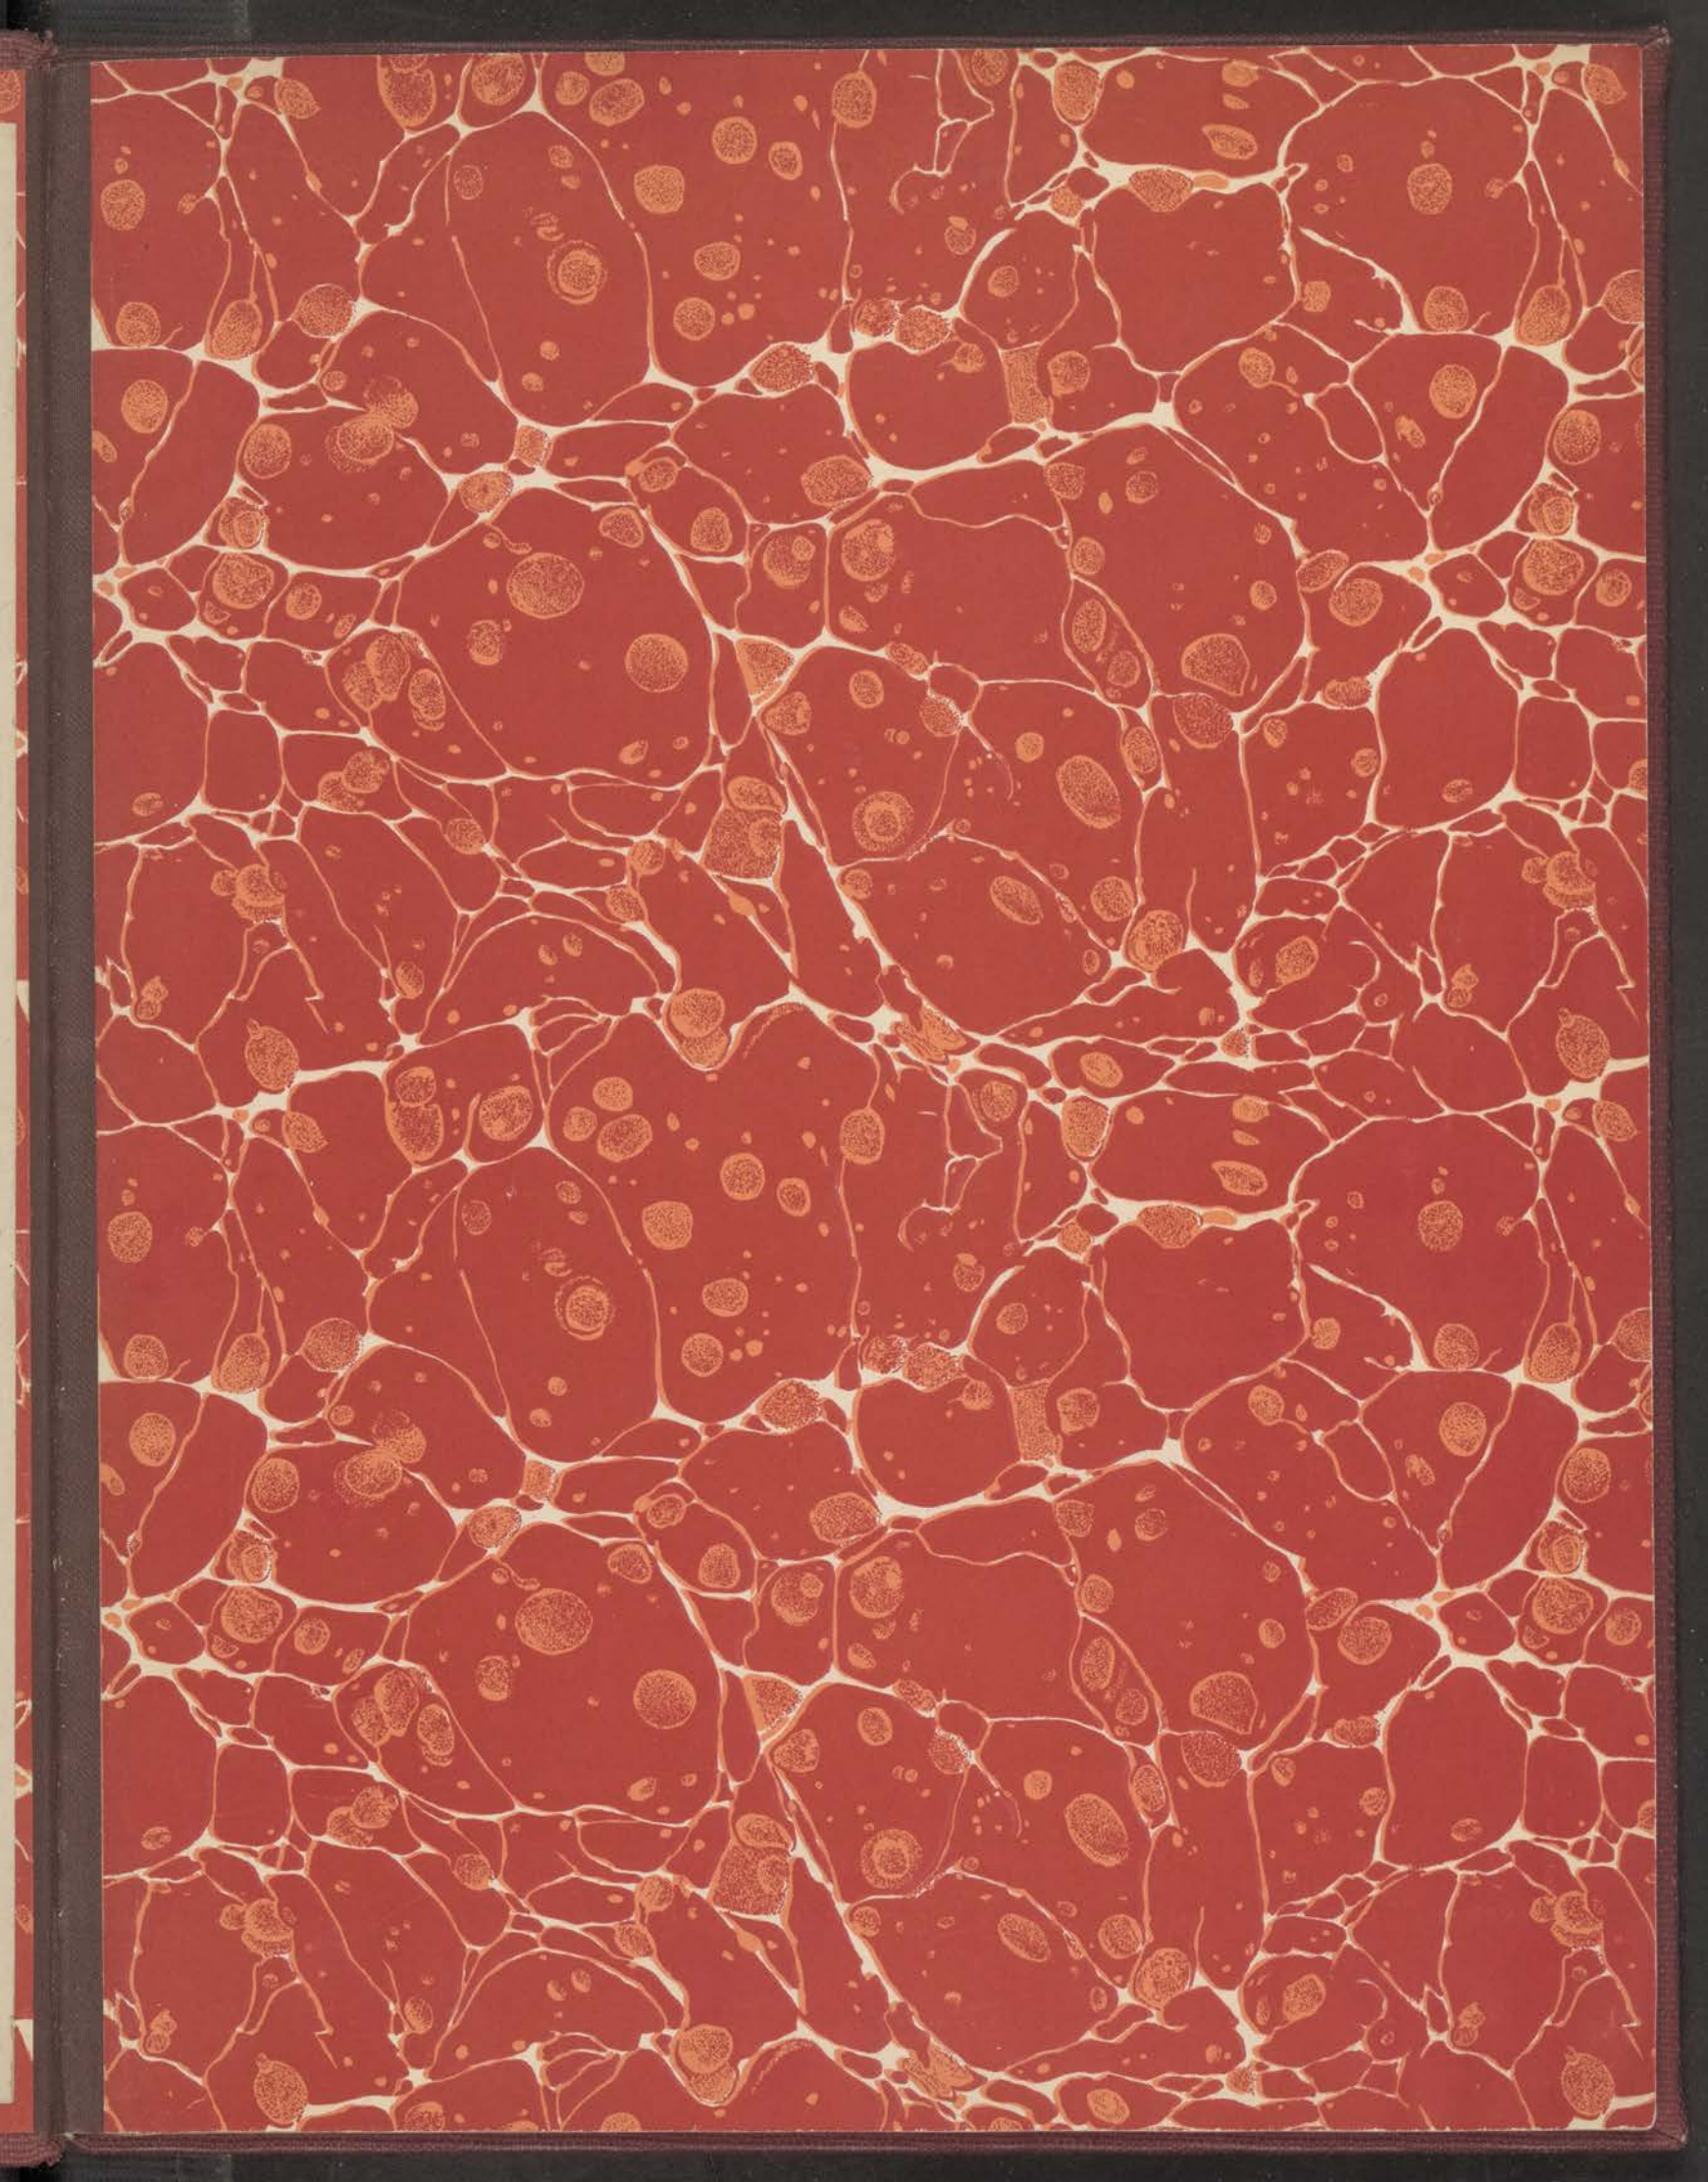

Apparently it is not the original classification. Miss Hasse on the occasion of her visit to the new G. St. Extension library on June 9, 1931, said that sometime she would turn over to us the original of her classification, because she thought it should be with our records. Up to today (Jan. 25, 1932) her original has not been turned over to us. * Is what we have a duplicate typing from her original? † Or is it different? †

Jan. 25, 1932.

Mary A. Hartwell

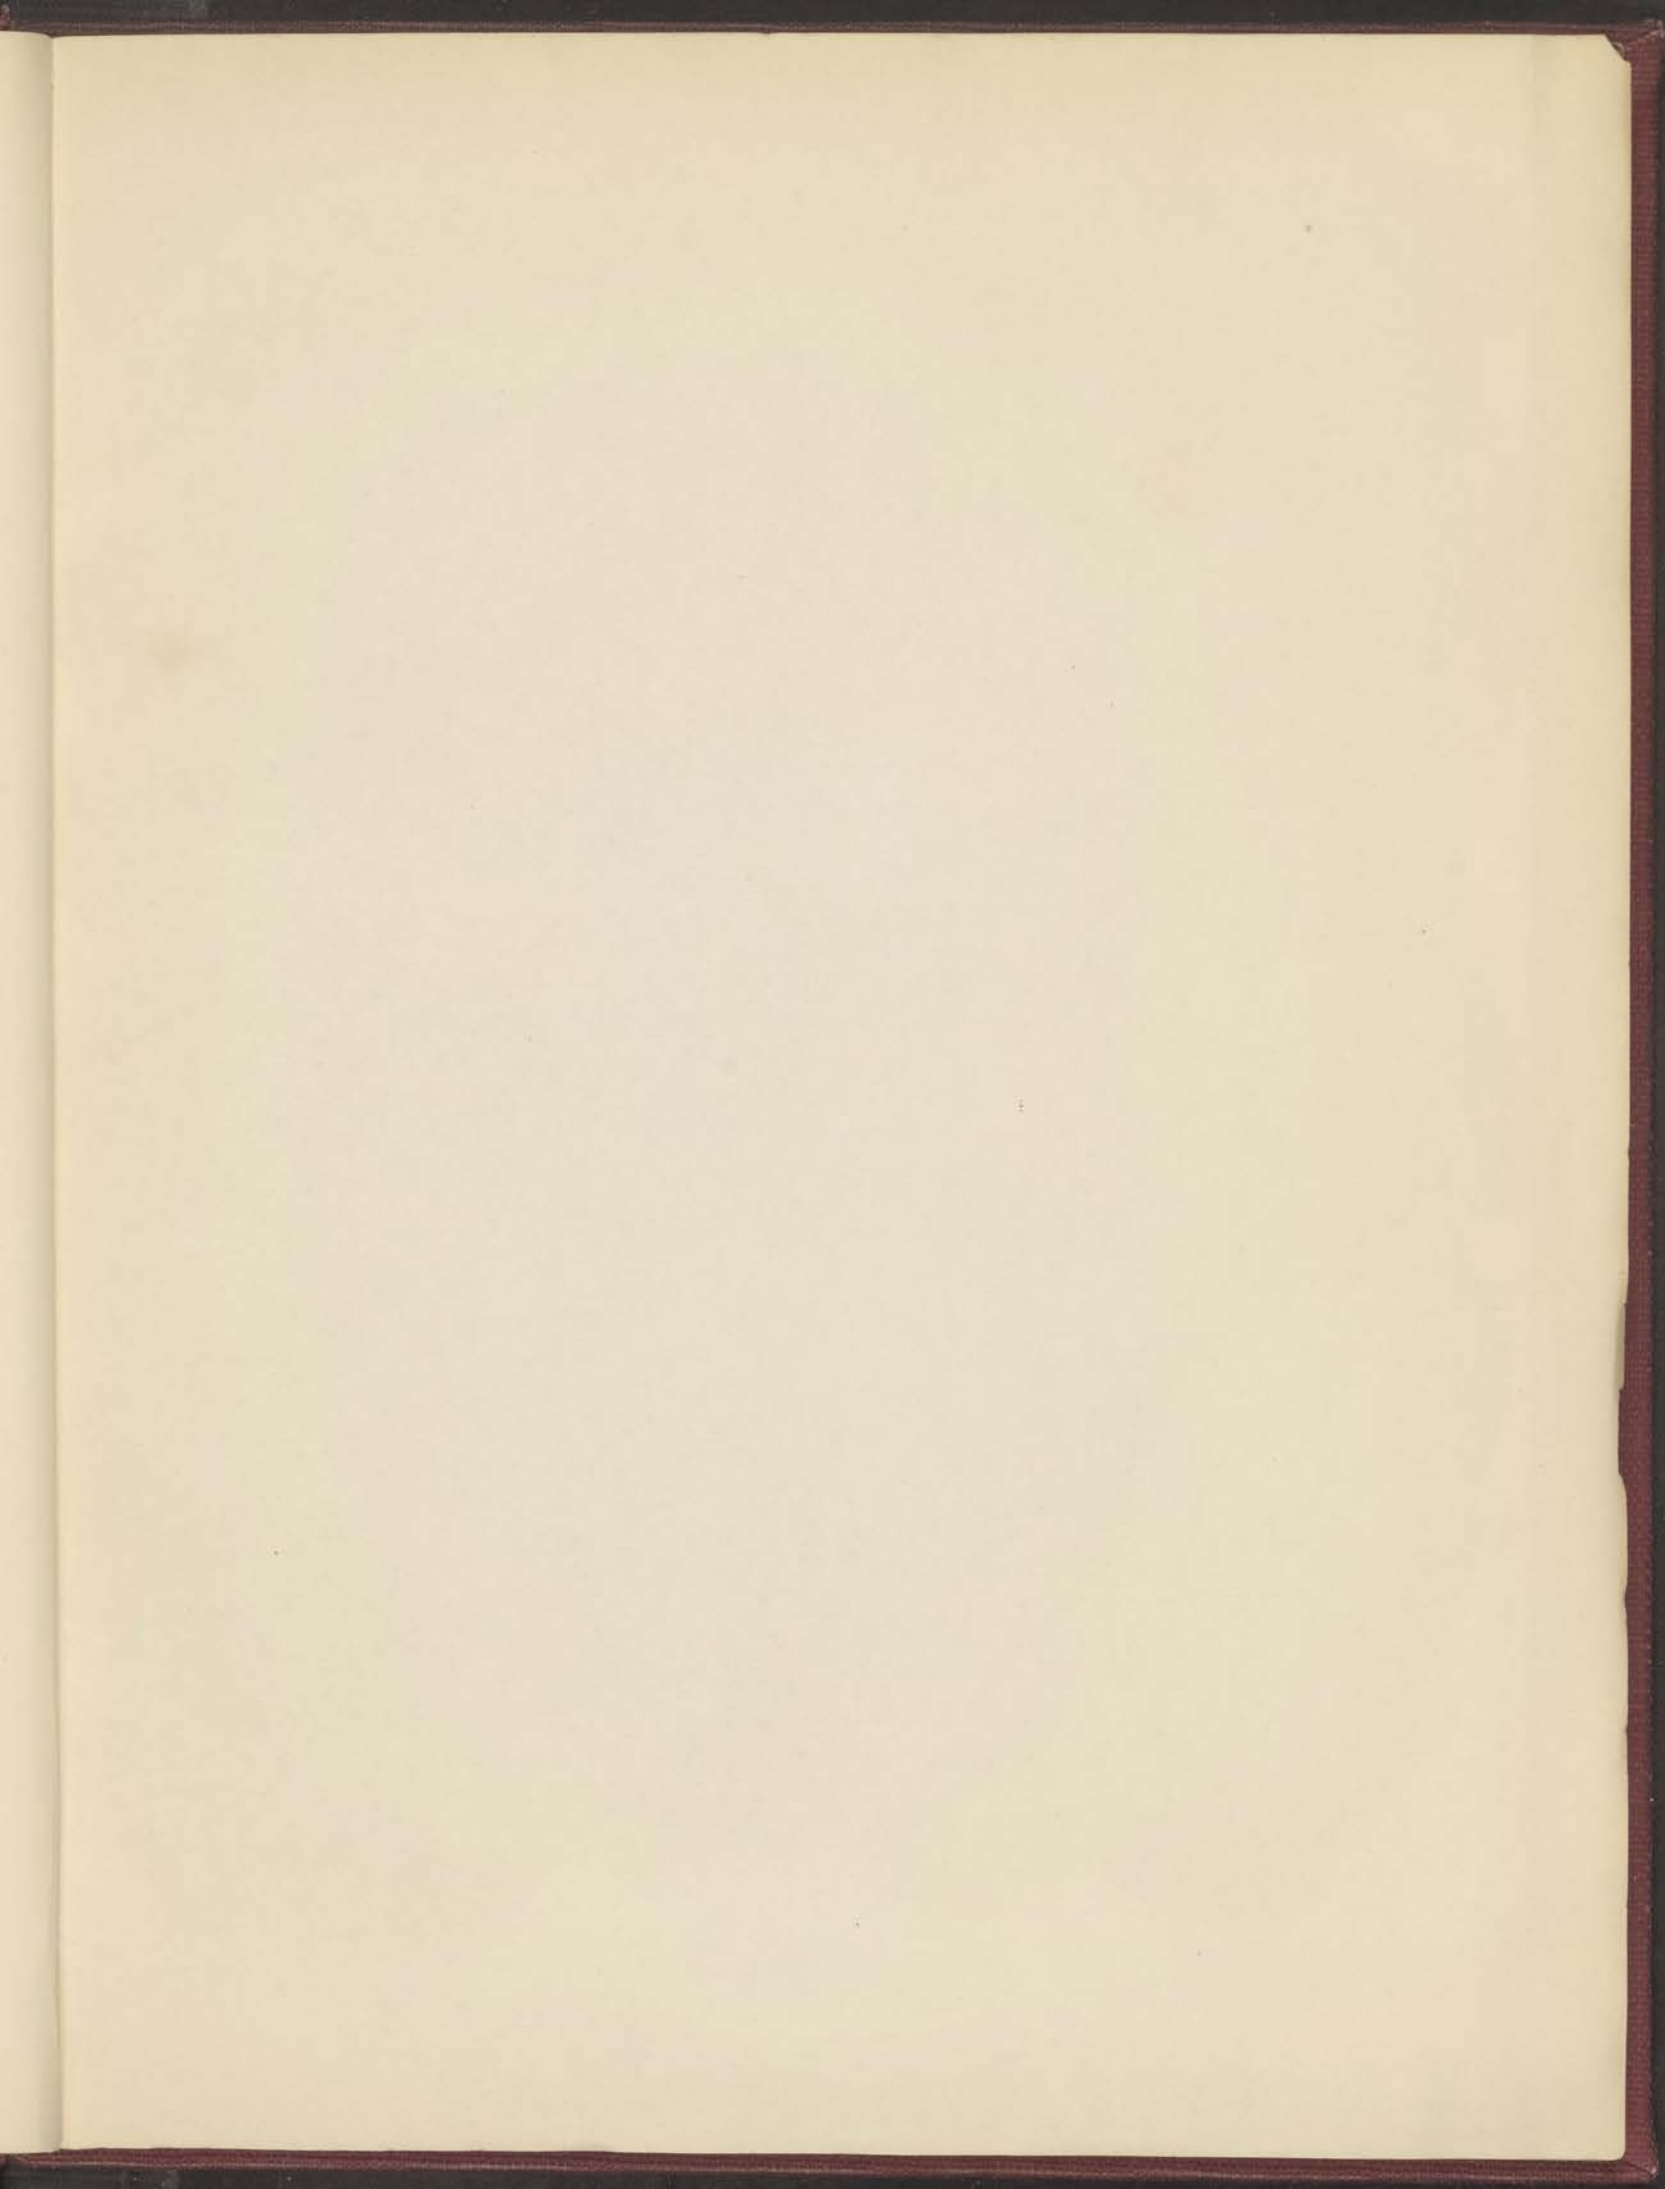

* On October 3, 1933, Miss Hasse presented to the Public Documents Library what she called the "original classification." (Bound in a separate volume)
† A different typing, with additions and alterations. In all probability it is the set that Miss Hasse turned over to Mr. Crandall when she resigned from the Superintendent of Documents Office. It evidently was considered a "working tool" for the Office, but not the original. Annotations on p. 9 and 17 of this first numbered set are manuscript additions made by William Leander Post, a later Superintendent of Documents.

Mary A. Hartwell
June 4, 1934.
