Brief History of the Monthly Catalog

The Printing Act of 1895 specified two products for the description and collocation of public documents.

- The Catalogue of the Public Documents of the [...] Congress and of All Departments of the Government of the United States (Document Catalogue) fulfilled the requirement for a "comprehensive index of public documents" to be prepared "at the close of each regular session of Congress."
- The Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications (MoCat) met the stipulation for a "Monthly Catalogue ... which shall show the publications printed during a month, where [those publications are] obtainable, and the price thereof."

Thus, the original relationship was a current awareness listing (in the MoCat) and a permanent, authoritative, and comprehensive catalog (in the Document Catalogue).

In 1947, the cost and perennial difficulty of compiling the Document Catalogue led the Superintendent of Documents to recommend to the Joint Committee on Printing that the Catalogue be discontinued after the edition for 1940 was completed. The MoCat began to serve in the capacity of a single source for bibliographic information, fulfilling the requirements of the 1895 act, which stand to this day in 44 USC §1710-1711.

From 1895 until 1976, the Government Printing Office (GPO) arranged and described documents according to its own standards and systems. A major revision of the appearance and functionality of the MoCat took place in July 1976. GPO catalogers began producing machine-readable cataloging records (MARC) conforming to Anglo-American Cataloging Rules (AACR), Library of Congress Subject Headings (LCSH), the Ohio College Library Center (later the Online Computer Library Center, OCLC) bibliographic standards and formats, and other applicable national level standards. Since that time, GPO has gradually expanded the emphasis of its cataloging and indexing program from the production of a single printed product to the creation and maintenance of a database of high-quality, standards-based bibliographic records. These records are used by GPO and the library community to support an expanding array of bibliographic control activities.

The bibliographic data used to produce this abridged paper edition is also used to produce a compact disk/read-only memory (CD-ROM) and a World Wide Web (WWW) edition. The Web edition links users directly from bibliographic citations to electronic publications, and assists the public to locate information in depository libraries and through GPO sales. GPO bibliographic data is also available to individual libraries directly from GPO and from a variety of commercial sources for the creation of high quality local databases and public access catalogs.

The first part of the book is devoted to a general history of the United States from its discovery by Christopher Columbus in 1492 to the present time. It covers the early years of settlement, the struggle for independence, the formation of the Constitution, and the growth of the nation to its present boundaries. The second part of the book is devoted to a detailed history of the United States from 1789 to the present time. It covers the early years of the Republic, the struggle for independence, the formation of the Constitution, and the growth of the nation to its present boundaries. The third part of the book is devoted to a detailed history of the United States from 1789 to the present time. It covers the early years of the Republic, the struggle for independence, the formation of the Constitution, and the growth of the nation to its present boundaries.

Catalog Arrangement

Bibliographic entries in the Monthly Catalog (MOCAT) are arranged in Superintendent of Documents classification number order. Each record is also assigned a unique catalog number—a two-digit prefix representing the catalog year, followed by a sequential number beginning with “1” in the first issue of each year. Within this arrangement, the publications of each Government author are further identified by the name and address of the issuing agency.

Catalog entries in this catalog may be accessed by title keyword index (alphabetical list of truncated titles, arranged by important words selected from publication titles).

Please consult the CD-ROM version of the MOCAT for indexing accessed by:

- Keyword
- Author
- Title
- Series/Report Number
- Subject
- Stock Number
- Contract Number
- Classification Number

Indexes in the CD-ROM version of the Monthly Catalog will cumulate from the beginning of the calendar year through the current issues.

Abbreviations

Abbreviations used in the bibliographic entries are those described in the Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, 2nd ed, and the GPO Classification Manual: A Practical Guide in the Superintendent of Documents Classification System.

The first of these is the question of the origin of the human race. It is generally admitted that the human race is descended from a common ancestor, but the question of the origin of this ancestor is still a matter of dispute. Some authorities believe that the human race originated in Africa, while others believe that it originated in Asia. The question is still open, and it is one of the most important questions in the history of the human race.

The second question is the question of the development of the human race. It is generally admitted that the human race has developed from a lower state to a higher state, but the question of the nature of this development is still a matter of dispute. Some authorities believe that the human race has developed from a lower state to a higher state, while others believe that it has developed from a higher state to a lower state. The question is still open, and it is one of the most important questions in the history of the human race.

The third question is the question of the future of the human race. It is generally admitted that the human race will continue to develop, but the question of the nature of this development is still a matter of dispute. Some authorities believe that the human race will continue to develop from a lower state to a higher state, while others believe that it will continue to develop from a higher state to a lower state. The question is still open, and it is one of the most important questions in the history of the human race.

Federal Depository Library Program

The Federal Depository Library Program was established by Congress to provide free public access to Government publications. Nearly 1,350 public, academic, State, and law libraries serve as information links with the Federal Government by maintaining collections of Government publications. Collections are tailored to local needs and are open to the public. Fifty-three of the libraries are designated as regional depository libraries with responsibility for permanently retaining material and for providing inter-library loan and reference services in their regions.

Copies of documents no longer available through the GPO sales program can usually be found in regional depository collections.

To determine which depository libraries have selected publications listed in this catalog, use the Locator Service at the Superintendent of Documents World Wide Web site, http://www.access.gpo.gov/su_docs/dpos/adpos400.html.
