PREFACE

The "consolidated index of Congressional documents" for the third session of the Fifty-eighth Congress, herewith presented, is the eleventh in the series prepared in the Office of the Superintendent of Documents in compliance with the requirements of section 62 of the printing law of January 12, 1895.

The composition of the Congressional reserve has been noticeably affected by the passage of the act of January 20, 1905, amending that of January 12, 1895. By the amendatory act Congress directed that the "usual number" of reports on private bills and on simple and concurrent resolutions should no longer be printed, cutting off entirely the supply that was formerly included in the bound volumes sent to depository libraries. Private bills are defined in the act as bills for the relief of private parties, bills granting pensions, bills removing political disabilities, and bills for the survey of rivers and harbors. Accordingly, in making up the reserve for the third session of the Fifty-eighth Congress, all such reports ordered printed after January 20, 1905, have necessarily been omitted, while those ordered printed on or before that date, as well as all reports on public bills ordered printed during the session, have been included.

The same act, however, provides that all reports shall be included in the thirty sets of bound volumes furnished to the Senate and House libraries. The excepted reports will accordingly be bound by themselves for these libraries in supplementary volumes, which will be distinguished from the others by bearing letters (Vol. A, etc.) instead of volume numbers, and to which no serial numbers will be assigned.

In consequence of this change in the law a very large number of the Senate and House reports included in the index can not be furnished to depository libraries, though the instances where such missing reports are of general interest will be few. No change is made in the printing of the Senate and House documents.

The following changes in the schedules of volumes in previous indexes should be noted:

Volume 110 of the House documents of the first session of the Fifty-sixth Congress, which was scheduled as containing House document 727, the Primer of forestry, in two parts, has been issued and contains one part only. There will be no second part of House document 727, and part 2 of the Primer of forestry will not be included among the documents of that Congress.

Volume 24 of the Senate documents of the second session of the Fifty-eighth Congress, being the report of the Isthmian Canal Commission, 1899-1901, has been issued in two parts, the first part containing the text and the second the maps. They receive the serial numbers 4609 vol. 1, and 4609 vol. 2. In like manner volume 118 of the House documents, being the Bulletin of the Bureau of Fisheries for 1903, will be in three parts, with serial numbers 4744 vol. 1, 4744 vol. 2, and 4744 vol. 3. On the other hand, volume 32 of the Senate documents will not be issued at all, and serial number 4617 will remain blank, as the Journal of the Congress of the Confederate States, Senate document 234, will be complete in seven volumes instead of eight.

The documents included in this index number 4,421, divided as follows: Senate reports, 1,777; House reports, 1,959; Senate documents, 202; House documents, 483. The Senate reports will be bound in 7 volumes (of which two are lettered), the House reports in 5 (of which two are lettered), the Senate documents in 17, and the House documents in 122, making a total of 151 volumes for the session.
