

Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge

Welcome to the Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge

This refuge is part of a vast National Wildlife Refuge System administered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to conserve and protect wildlife and habitat for the American public. It is one of the oldest and most prestigious national wildlife refuges in America. The refuge encompasses 59,020 acres (about 90 square miles) of native mixed grass prairie and the wildlife that call it home.

Over 40% of the refuge is open for recreation (Public Use Area) while the remainder is closed to protect the animals and their habitats from disturbance. We invite you to explore and enjoy the many wildlife-friendly recreation and education opportunities in the Public Use Area. Please protect your national public lands and the priceless ecological heritage.

Refuge Hours of Operation

Main highways through the refuge are open 24-hours. The Mt. Scott scenic drive, side-roads, pull-outs, picnic areas, and hiking trails close at sunset.
