ICELANDIC LANGUAGE GUIDE

Icelandic is spoken by some 120,000 people in Iceland. This Language Guide will enable you to ask directions, buy things, order a meal, etc. Knowing a little of the language will also help you get along with the people, for they will naturally be pleased to see a stranger showing enough interest in them to try to speak their language.

Icelandic, like English, is spoken differently in different regions. You will be understood everywhere in Iceland if you follow the pronunciation given you in this Guide, which is that used in Reykjavik, but it is always best to try to speak like the people among whom you happen to be.

How to Use the Records and Guide

The records that go with this Guide give you a number of the most important words and phrases in Icelandic. Read the section called Hints on Pronunciation and then listen to the records until you know the Useful Words and Phrases by heart. Repeat each word out loud right after you hear it and say it exactly the way the Icelandic speaker does. Imitate the pronunciation as closely as you can, just as you might mimic someone who has an unusual accent. Try to get every detail of the pronunciation, even the rhythm and intonation. Follow the words in your Guide but use them only as a reminder; if you hear something different from what you see written, go by what you hear. Remember that you can't get the sound of a language from the printed word alone—you have to use your ears even more than your eyes. If you don't have the records and can't get an Icelandic speaker to read the words, you will have to rely on the Hints on Pronunciation.

By the time you have practiced the Useful Words and Phrases several times, you will know what sound each letter stands for in the Guide. You will then be able to pronounce the Additional Expressions even though you have not actually heard them, and you will be able to form sentences of your own by using the section called Fill-in Sentences.

Hints on Pronunciation

All the words and phrases are written in a spelling which you read like English. Each letter or combination of letters is used for the sound it normally represents in English and it always stands for the same sound. Thus, "oo" is always to be read as in too, boot, tooth, roost, never as anything else. Say these words and then pronounce the vowel sound by itself. That is the sound you must use every time you see "oo" in the Pronunciation column. If you should use some other sound—for example, the one in blood or the one in door—you might be misunderstood.

Syllables that are accented—that is, pronounced louder than the others—are written in capital letters. Apostrophes (') are used to show sounds that are pronounced together without any break; for example, "H'YOWLP," meaning "Help."

The words are written in a simplified spelling, like this...

BUTTE.... B_YOOT`
PHOENIX.... FEE-niks
PHILADELPHIA...fil-a-DELf-ya
POUGHKEEPSIE...po-KIP-see
SIOUX CITY... SOO-SIT-ee
WORCESTER...WOOST-ur
SCHENECTADY- ska-NEKT-a-dee

the SYL-la-bles that are pro-NOUNCED
LOUD-er are in
CAP-it-al LET-ters

SPECIAL POINTS

EW stands for a sound we do not have in English. To make it, round your lips to say the oo in boo and without moving them say the i in pit. Example: "TEWT-tew-gew" meaning "twenty."

ER when underlined stands for a sound we do not have in English. It is something like the er in her but you round your lips as you say it. Example: "S'YER" meaning "seven."

AI stands for the sound in aisle, bite, ice. Example: "HAIT-ta" meaning "danger."

"AI" as in "BITE"

KH stands for a sound like the one you make when you clear your throat to spit. Example: "HAIKHT" meaning "slowly."

GH stands for a sound like the one you make when you gargle. Example: "YEGH" meaning "I."

TH as in thick, thin, thump. Example: "THREER" meaning "three."

DH as in this, that, those. Example: "KVAHDH" meaning "what."

USEFUL WORDS AND PHRASES

The following is the exact wording of the Icelandic language records issued with this Guide:

These records give you a few useful phrases in Icelandic. To learn to say these phrases so that you will be understood, imitate the sounds exactly as you hear them. You will hear the English first, followed by the Icelandic; then repeat the Icelandic out loud and say it good and loud. Remember! Repeat every Icelandic phrase right after you hear it.

In the Icelandic Language Guide which should be used with these records, all the phrases you will hear are written both in Icelandic spelling and in a simplified spelling which you read like English.

Listen to the records six or seven times and you will know the phrases by heart.

GREETINGS AND GENERAL PHRASES

FRER-ken

Fröken

There are no family names in Iceland. An Iceland-er's last name is his father's first name with the word for "son" (or "daughter") added to it. When you want to address a person by name, you can use his first and last names together, with the word for Mr., Mrs., or Miss first, or just the first name with Mr., Mrs., or Miss. As:

Mr. John
Sigurdson

HAY-ra YOAN SEE-

Herra Ión
Sigurðsson

A married woman keeps her maiden name, with Mrs. before it.

ALPHABETICAL WORD LIST

In Icelandic the form of a word sometimes changes according to the way it is used in a sentence. For example, when you want to say "Where is a comb?" you use the simple form of the word for "comb," which is "GRAY-dha." But when you say "I want a comb," the form of the word is "GRAY-dhew." In this list the simple form of the word is given; for "comb" you will find "GRAY-dha." For the correct form to use with sentences like "Give me —," "I want —," etc., see pages 20-23, 34-47.
