HOOR OF DAILY MEETING.

Mr. FRYE. The senior Senator from Illinois [Mr. CULLOM] desired me to state that he is detained from the Chamber to-day by illness. I offer the following resolution, and ask for its present consideration.

Resolved, That the hour of daily meeting of the Senate be 12 o'clock meridian until otherwise ordered.

DEATH OF SENATOR ORVILLE HITCHCOCK PLATT.

Mr. BULKELEY. Mr. President, it is my sad duty to announce to the Senate the death, since the close of the last session of this body, of the senior Senator from Connecticut, Hon. ORVILLE HITCHCOCK PLATT, who died at his summer residence, Washington, Conn., April 21, 1905.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, December 4, 1905.

This day, in compliance with the provisions of the Constitution, the Members-elect of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-ninth Congress assembled in their Hall and were called to order by Mr. ALEXANDER McDOWELL, the Clerk of the last House.

The CLERK. Prayer will be offered by the Chaplain of the last House.

The following prayer was offered by the Rev. HENRY N. COUDEN, D. D., Chaplain of the last House.

Infinite and eternal Spirit, Father of all souls and the giver of all gifts, humbly and devoutly we bow before Thee and acknowledge with gratitude our indebtedness to Thee for all that we are and all that we can hope to be as individuals and as a nation.

From weakness to power, from small to great, from insignificance to a world-wide influence Thou hast led us onward and upward as a nation, and we would not forget that "to whom much is given of him much will be required," "that righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

Forgive, we beseech Thee, our individual and national sins and cleanse us from all iniquity, that with pure motives, high resolves, and noble endeavors we may move forward to yet greater achievements.

Here in Thy sight, under the dome of this great Capitol, we are gathered together, the Senators and Representatives of eighty millions of people, who have committed to their care the interests and welfare of the nation. Grant, O most merciful Father, that with clear conceptions, lofty ideals, and patriotic zeal they may fulfill to the uttermost the obligations resting upon them. Impart unto the Speaker of this House strength and wisdom, that he may guide this body through all its deliberations to the highest and best results.

Be graciously near to the President of these United States, his advisers, and all others in authority, that with unanimity of purpose, guided by the light of heaven, the laws of the land may be faithfully executed and the affairs of state wisely and amicably administered to the uplift of the people and to the honor and glory of Thy holy name.

We thank Thee for the peace and prosperity which prevails throughout our borders and that we are at peace with all the world, and we most fervently pray that these conditions may continue so long as the Republic shall live, in the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ, who taught us, when we pray, to say:

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.

The CLERK. The Clerk will call the roll by States to ascertain if a quorum of the Fifty-ninth Congress is present.

Mr. GRONNA. I ask unanimous consent that the name of my colleague [Mr. MARSHALL] be placed on the roll. The certificate has evidently been lost. There is no contest in the case and no opposition.

Mr. PAYNE. That would not be in order until after the organization of the House.

The CLERK. It would be a matter of unanimous consent. The gentleman from North Dakota asks unanimous consent that the name of his colleague [Mr. MARSHALL] be added to the roll. Is there any objection?

Mr. WILLIAMS. At this stage of the proceedings I shall object. At the proper time that will be in order.

The CLERK. Nominations for Speaker are now in order.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER.

Mr. HEPBURN. I present the name of Hon. JOSEPH G. CANNON, a Representative-elect from the State of Illinois, as a candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-ninth Congress. [Loud applause on the Republican side.]

Mr. HENRY of Texas. I nominate for Speaker a Representative-elect from the State of Mississippi, Hon. JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS. [Loud applause on the Democratic side.]

The CLERK. Are there any other nominations? No others are heard. The following tellers will please take their places at the desk: Mr. DENBY of Michigan, Mr. WEBB of North Carolina, Mr. DICKSON of Illinois, and Mr. BEALL of Texas. The Clerk will call the roll, and Members will answer for whom they wish to vote as their names are called.

Mr. ADAMS of Pennsylvania. I desire to state that my colleague [Mr. CASTOR] is detained at home by illness.

The CLERK. The tellers agree in their tally. The result is, for Speaker, Mr. CANNON has received 243 votes, Mr. WILLIAMS 128. Mr. CANNON, having received a majority of the votes cast, is duly elected Speaker of the Fifty-ninth Congress. [Applause.] The Clerk appoints Mr. WILLIAMS of Mississippi, Mr. KEIFER of Ohio, Mr. VREELAND of New York, and Mr. UNDERWOOD of Alabama, a committee to escort the Speaker to his place. [Prolonged applause.]

(When Mr. CANNON appeared with the Members designated, the Members of the House, rising in a body, greeted him with loud and general applause, which was renewed as he ascended to the chair.)

Mr. WILLIAMS. Gentlemen, I have the honor of introducing to the House of Representatives of the Fifty-ninth Congress the Hon. JOSEPH G. CANNON, who will be, and who deserves to be, its Speaker. [Loud applause.]

The SPEAKER. I thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me, particularly as I may be able to consider your action as an indorsement of my services as Speaker of the last Congress. We are here as representatives of the people. This House is the only place where the voice of the majority of the people, without intervening machinery, may directly express itself. [Applause.] Therefore our responsibility, being more direct, is the greater. As your Speaker I shall endeavor to preside over your deliberations with fairness to both parties, and to every individual Member. When I have done that, I may claim to have fairly fulfilled the duties of Speaker under the legislative law.

There is, however, a duty for the whole membership of this House as well as for the Speaker. The House is powerless without a quorum, and the public business will move slowly and unfortunately if Members are absent from the sessions of the House or from the sessions of the committees. Therefore I ask of you not only charity for and patience with my own shortcomings as the presiding officer, but also prompt attendance and diligence on your part, which alone can make our coming session advantageous to the country. [Applause.]

SWEARING IN OF THE SPEAKER.

Mr. BINGHAM, the Member longest in continuous service in the House, was named by the Clerk to administer the oath of office to the Speaker-elect, and the oath was accordingly administered.

SWEARING IN OF MEMBERS AND DELEGATES.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will call the roll by States and Territories; and Members and Delegates, as their names are called, will please come forward to the area in front of the Clerk's desk and take the prescribed oath of office.

The SPEAKER then administered the oath of office to the Members and Delegates presenting themselves.

Mr. BUTLER of Pennsylvania and Mr. COCKS qualified by affirmation.

Mr. GRONNA. Mr. Speaker, I move that the name of my colleague, Mr. Marshall, be added to the roll, the certificate of his election having been lost.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from North Dakota requests unanimous consent that his colleague, Mr. Marshall, from that State, may take the oath of office, his credentials not having arrived.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Pending the request I would like to ask the gentleman if there is any question or contest concerning the election.

Mr. GRONNA. No, sir; no contest or question whatever.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Then I have no objection.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none.

Thereupon Mr. Marshall appeared at the bar and took the oath of office.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mr. HEPBURN submitted a resolution; which was read, as follows:

Resolved, That Alexander McDowell, of the State of Pennsylvania, be, and he is hereby, chosen Clerk of the House of Representatives;

That Henry Casson, of the State of Wisconsin, be, and he is hereby, chosen Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives;

That Frank B. Lyon, of the State of New York, be, and he is hereby, chosen Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives;

That Joseph C. McElroy, of the State of Ohio, be, and he is hereby, chosen Postmaster of the House of Representatives;

That Henry N. Conden, of the State of Michigan, be, and he is hereby, chosen Chaplain of the House of Representatives.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I offer as a substitute for the resolution just submitted the resolution which I send to the desk.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That W. S. Cowherd, of Missouri, be elected Clerk of the House of Representatives; that Charles A. Edwards, of Texas, be elected Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives; that J. R. Taylor, of Arkansas, be elected Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives; that Robert L. Douglass, of South Carolina, be elected Postmaster of the House of Representatives; that Austin Crouch, of Alabama, be elected Chaplain of the House of Representatives.

The question being taken, the substitute offered by Mr. HENRY of Texas was rejected.

The resolution of Mr. HEPBURN was then adopted.

The officers mentioned in the above resolution came to the bar of the House and the oath of office was administered to them by the Speaker.

NOTIFICATION TO THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. NEEDHAM. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution, which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

Resolved, That the Clerk be instructed to inform the President of the United States that the House of Representatives has elected JOSEPH G. CANNON, a Representative from the State of Illinois, as Speaker, and Alexander McDowell, a citizen of the State of Pennsylvania, as Clerk of the Fifty-ninth Congress.

The resolution was agreed to.

MESSAGE OF NOTIFICATION TO THE SENATE.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. Speaker, I offer the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The resolution was read, as follows:

Resolved, That a message be sent to the Senate to inform that body that a quorum of the House of Representatives has assembled; that JOSEPH G. CANNON, a Representative from the State of Illinois, has been elected Speaker; that Alexander McDowell, a citizen of the State of Pennsylvania, has been elected Clerk, and that the House is ready for business.

The resolution was agreed to.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE.

A message from the Senate, by Mr. PARKINSON, its reading clerk, announced that the Senate has passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Secretary inform the House of Representatives that a quorum of the Senate is assembled, and that the Senate is ready to proceed to business.

Also:

Resolved, That a committee, consisting of two Senators, be appointed, to join such committee as may be appointed by the House of Representatives, to wait upon the President of the United States and inform him that a quorum of each House is assembled and that Congress is ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

And that, in compliance with the foregoing, the Vice-President had appointed as said committee Mr. ALLISON and Mr. MORGAN.

Also:

Resolved, That the Senate, with deep regret, has listened to the announcement of the death of the Hon. ORVILLE HITCHCOCK PLATT, for more than a quarter of a century a member of this body, a period marked by five consecutive elections, as a Senator from the State of Connecticut.

Resolved, That the Secretary communicate a copy of these resolutions to the House of Representatives.

Resolved, That, as a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, the Senate do now adjourn.

COMMITTEE TO WAIT ON THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. McCLEARY of Minnesota. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the following resolution, which I send to the desk and ask to have read:

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker on the part of the House of Representatives, to join the committee appointed on the part of the Senate, to wait on the President of the United States and notify him that a quorum of the two Houses has assembled and that Congress is ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

The SPEAKER appointed as such committee on the part of the House Mr. McCLEARY of Minnesota, Mr. LITTAUER, and Mr. WILLIAMS.

THE RULES.

Mr. DALZELL. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution, which I send to the desk and ask to have read:

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the rules of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-eighth Congress be adopted as the rules of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-ninth Congress, including the standing orders of March 8 and March 14, 1900 (relating to the consideration of pension and claim bills on Fridays), which are hereby continued in force during the Fifty-ninth Congress.

Mr. WILLIAMS rose.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I desire to offer an amendment to that resolution.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Pennsylvania yield?

Mr. DALZELL. Does the gentleman desire time?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I want to offer an amendment to the resolution just reported.

Mr. DALZELL. I can not yield for that purpose. I will yield to the gentleman any reasonable amount of time for the purpose of debate, but not otherwise.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Does the gentleman propose to exhaust his time? Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry. Have I not a right when the gentleman is through to offer an amendment to the pending resolution?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Pennsylvania has the floor and is entitled to the floor. Whether the gentleman from Mississippi will have the right to offer an amendment will depend upon the action of the House; and the gentleman from Pennsylvania has invoked the opinion of the House in the premises.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Another parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker. If the gentleman from Pennsylvania calls for the previous question before he sits down, then I shall have no opportunity to offer an amendment at all.

The SPEAKER. Not if the House sustains the demand for the previous question.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Then I shall ask the gentleman from Pennsylvania to yield to me a moment for the purpose of making a few innocuous observations.

Mr. DALZELL. How much time does the gentleman desire?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Five minutes.

Mr. DALZELL. I yield five minutes to the gentleman from Mississippi.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, my purpose in arising, which will remain a purpose unaccomplished, was to get the opportunity of offering an amendment to the resolution—the amendment providing that the rules of the Fifty-eighth Congress should be adopted “for not longer than thirty days.” The object which I had in view in offering that amendment was to secure to the House of so-called Representatives of the American people an opportunity to adopt its own rules by amending in a manner satisfactory to itself the rules of the last House. I hope the membership of the House understands that the only door whereby I can make an entrance in order to offer that amendment is that made by voting down the demand for the previous question, which in due time will be made by the gentleman from Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, there have been from time immemorial almost “blanket Indians” upon the majority side—people who were dissatisfied with the rules. A majority even of the majority sometimes is frequently dissatisfied with the rules so adopted in this body as to cut them off from all right to propose amendments even; they—some of them—know that these rules have been adopted not so much for the purpose of manacled the minority party in the Chamber as for the purpose of manacled the minority of the majority on that side of the Chamber. [Applause on the Democratic side.] Now, those of you who are in earnest about wanting to get an opportunity for an expression of the views of the American people’s Representatives during this Congress will vote “No!” when the gentleman from Pennsylvania calls the previous question, or attempts to call it, and those of you who are willing in advance to be manacled, and especially the kids in the House who afterwards will have no views whatsoever, have at least had your eyes opened by the public announcement I have just made. If you will vote down the previous question and give an opportunity to adopt the amendment of which I have spoken, then at the end of thirty days the majority of this Chamber—the Republicans in this Chamber—will have an opportunity to vote such rules as they think just and fair, not only to the minority party (and from the majority we expect but little consideration), but to themselves and to the country.

Mr. OLMSTED. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Wait a minute; I have just a few moments.

Mr. OLMSTED. We will give you more time.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, there is a great difference of opinion growing up in the ranks of the Republican party. [Applause on Democratic side.] The La Follette idea, the Cummins idea, the new Massachusetts free-trade material idea, all sorts of new stand-pat ideas come in upon us on the breezes from the West and from the Northeast, all of them from people pretending at any rate to want to revise the present exorbitant tariff schedules, to do something for the extension of foreign markets for the American farmer and manufacturer, to do something in behalf of freer, broader reciprocal trade relations with the nations of the earth. Right here at the threshold I tell you if you adopt this resolution when you adopt the previous question upon it you have adopted rules that will render you just as helpless as a bird trying to fly in an asphalt lake. Now I yield to the gentleman for a question.

Mr. OLMSTED. Mr. Speaker, I simply wanted to ask the gentleman from Mississippi in what important particular the manacles in operation during the last Congress, and which we are about to put in operation during the present Congress, differ from the manacles imposed by the party to which the gentleman from Mississippi belongs during the last Congress in which it was in the majority.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, there is an old saying of the logicians that the poorest thing that pretends to be an argument and is not is an “et tu quoque.” [Laughter.] It may have been true that at some time in the past when we were the majority party we wanted to keep down our minority in our party, and it is true to-day that you want to do it, but there never was a time when any Democratic House was ever run by precisely these rules, nor if it had been would it be a justification of them.

The SPEAKER. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. WHARTON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Mississippi yield for a question?

Mr. WILLIAMS. If the gentleman from Pennsylvania will extend my time so as to enable me to answer it.

Mr. DALZELL. I will extend the gentleman’s time.

The SPEAKER. How much time does the gentleman from Pennsylvania yield?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Just sufficient time to answer the question.

Mr. DALZELL. I yield one minute.

Mr. WHARTON. The gentleman from Mississippi used an expression in his remarks concerning the “kids” in the House. I would like to have him explain that expression of “kids” in the House. [Applause.]

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, with that degree of reverence which the personal appearance of my interrogator excites in my mind [laughter and applause] I should say that he is perhaps the last person in the House who ought to ask the question. [Laughter and applause.]

Mr. DALZELL. Mr. Speaker, I think we all learned through the medium of the public press that at the Democratic caucus the gentleman from Mississippi was given power and directed to speak for the minority. Where he gets any authority to speak for the minority of the majority I do not know. I recognize his right, however, when he undertakes to speak for those who are in favor of tariff revision. Now, these rules have been the rules of the House of Representatives ever since the Fifty-first Congress. They were the rules of the Fifty-second Congress—a Democratic Congress, presided over by Speaker Crisp. They were the rules of the Fifty-third Congress, presided over by a Democratic Speaker. The gentleman says not exactly the same rules, but they are substantially the same rules. The difference amounted to nothing at all, and I confess to some surprise that any objection is made on the part of the gentleman from Mississippi when I refer to what took place at the meeting of the Fifty-eighth Congress, when, without objection or protest on the part of the gentleman from Mississippi or anyone on that side of the House, the rules were adopted.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Will the gentleman permit an interruption?

Mr. DALZELL. Certainly.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Perhaps, in explanation of the fact we did not protest at that time, I might say that we were expecting a stalwart and strenuous protest to come from a Republican Member whom I now have in my eye. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Mr. DALZELL. Of course, Mr. Speaker, I have no idea whom the gentleman is to whom the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. WILLIAMS] refers. [Laughter.] But I would suggest to him that our friends upon the other side of the House—and I do not mean to be cruel—are in a less fortunate position, perhaps, as to entering protest now than they were at the meeting of the Fifty-eighth Congress.

I ask for the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. DALZELL] demands the previous question.

The question was taken; and the Speaker announced that the ayes seemed to have it.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Division, Mr. Speaker; and in order to save time we will just have the yeas and nays.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Mississippi demands the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The question was taken; and there were—yeas 228, nays 126, not voting 31, as follows:

SWEARING IN A MEMBER.

After the first call of the roll:

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from Texas [Mr. Burleson] present, and does the gentleman desire to take the oath of office?

Mr. BURLESON. Yes, sir; I desire to be sworn in and take the oath.

Mr. Burleson appeared at the bar and took the oath of office.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will call the names of those not answering upon the first roll call.

The call of the roll was completed as above recorded.

So the previous question was ordered.

Mr. GAINES of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, my name was not called. I desire to vote.

The SPEAKER. Was the gentleman paying attention when his name should have been called, and failed to hear it?

Mr. GAINES of Tennessee. I was.

The SPEAKER. Call the gentleman's name.

The name of Mr. GAINES of Tennessee was called, and he voted "no."

The result of the vote was then announced as above recorded.

The question was taken; and the resolution was agreed to.

DAILY HOUR OF MEETING.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I ask present consideration of the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That until otherwise ordered the daily hour of meeting of the House of Representatives shall be 12 o'clock meridian.

The question was taken; and the resolution was agreed to.

DIGEST AND MANUAL.

Mr. CHARLES B. LANDIS. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That there be printed 2,000 copies of the Digest and Manual of the Rules and Practice of the House of Representatives for the first session of the Fifty-ninth Congress, the same to be bound and distributed under the direction of the Speaker and Clerk of the House.

The question was taken; and the resolution was agreed to.

SPECIAL EMPLOYEES.

Mr. HEPBURN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That John T. Chancy be continued in the services of the House in his present position during the Fifty-ninth Congress.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution which I send to the desk.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That during the Fifty-ninth Congress, and until the organization of the Sixtieth Congress, Isaac R. Hill be authorized to act as special employee of the House of Representatives and receive compensation at the rate of $1,500 per annum; that Felton B. Knight and Joseph J. Sinnott be authorized to act as special messengers of the House of Representatives, each to receive compensation at the rate of $1,200 per annum, and that James F. English be authorized to act as special chief page of the House of Representatives at the rate of $900 per annum, and $500 additional for services as pair clerk.

Said officers shall at all times be under the direction and control of the Speaker of the House, and they shall be subject to removal by him for cause at any time.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection?

Mr. TAWNEY. I desire to ask the gentleman from Texas if this is the usual resolution?

Mr. HENRY of Texas. It is the usual resolution.

Mr. TAWNEY. Is it the same number of employees that they had last year?

Mr. HENRY of Texas. It is the same number, and the same salaries as they had last session.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

DRAWING OF SEATS.

Mr. TAWNEY. Mr. Speaker, I offer the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the House do now proceed to draw seats for Members and Delegates of the present Congress, in pursuance of Rule

XXXII, and when names of Members absent from the city or on account of sickness are called, that seats be selected by their colleagues: And provided, That in selecting seats the precedents of the Fifty-second and Fifty-fourth Congresses be followed, whereby the section of seats next the main aisle on the minority side were given to the majority side, leaving any further excess of majority Members to be accommodated in the seats on the extreme left of the minority side.

Mr. TAWNEY. Mr. Speaker, just one word in explanation of the effect of this resolution. Upon its adoption this section of seats on my left, on the other side of the aisle, would be selected by Republicans as their names are called, and then the excess of Republicans would have to select their seats in the last row on the extreme left of the Hall, commonly known as the "Cherokee Strip." That will seat twenty-one. This section to my left will seat thirty-five. That will leave the minority the three middle sections between the last section on the left of the Hall and the one on my left, and these three sections will furnish enough seats, and more than enough, to seat all the minority Members. I would say that this division of the seats was made first in the Fifty-second Congress and again in the Fifty-fourth Congress, when the majority was nearly as large as it is at the present time on the majority side of the House.

Mr. WILLIAMS. The gentleman from Minnesota is mistaken in one respect. The majorities in those Congresses were not nearly as large as the majority in this one, but very much larger.

Mr. TAWNEY. In the Fifty-fourth Congress.

Mr. WILLIAMS. In the Fifty-fourth Congress the Republicans had 134 majority in the House, whose membership was 357. In that House the Democrats numbered 104, Republicans 245, and Populists 7. The Republicans had a majority over the Democrats of 141 and over all told of 134. In the Fifty-second Congress, with a membership of only 333, the Republicans had only 88 Members, while the Democrats had 231 and the Populists had 14, so that the Democrats had a majority over the Republicans of 153, and over all of 14 less than that, or 139.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I hope the Democracy will always remain of an equal mind upon the question of never administering to anyone else a dose which it is not prepared in its turn to take. I find after examining the precedents—and I will frankly say that I was very much disappointed when, after examination, I found them so—that in the Fifty-second Congress we did take the seats up to that aisle, the first one beyond the middle aisle. We took them upon the principle of keeping the majority as nearly as possible together in a compact body, and the minority as nearly as possible together in a compact body; and although our majority then was not only absolutely larger but very much larger in percentage, because of the comparative smallness of the membership at that time, yet it is a precedent which we ourselves have set. It was done in the Fifty-second Congress by unanimous consent, and again in the Fifty-fourth Congress, when, by unanimous consent, the Republicans took the seats up to the first aisle of the left of the center aisle, their majority then being 134.

I had contemplated making objection to unanimous consent, but under the circumstances, all the precedents considered, I think it fair not to do so, and shall not.

Mr. BARTLETT. Does the resolution provide for the colleagues of absent Members drawing their seats?

Mr. TAWNEY. It does.

Mr. BARTLETT. I understood it to apply only to absence on account of sickness.

Mr. TAWNEY. Absence for any cause.

Mr. BARTLETT. Does it read that way.

Mr. TAWNEY. Mr. Speaker, I should like to have that part of the resolution read once more, or the provision for drawing seats for absent Members.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the resolution.

The resolution was again read.

Mr. TAWNEY. I ask for a vote on the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the adoption of the resolution?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Minnesota allow me to ask him a question?

Mr. TAWNEY. Yes.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. I should like to ask him if the latter portion of the resolution is not contrary to all precedents up to this time? In other words, does not his resolution direct on which side of the Chamber a Member shall take his seat, and has it not heretofore been allowed that a Member might take his seat where he desired, merely agreeing by unanimous consent which portion of the House belonged to the Republicans and which to the Democrats?

Mr. TAWNEY. I will say that the latter part of the resolution has heretofore been agreed to by unanimous consent, and we ask now to agree to consideration of the entire resolution by unanimous consent, and if the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD] fears the effect of that precedent, I have no objection to withdrawing that part of the resolution and asking that the division of seats on the floor be made by unanimous consent.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I merely wish to say to the gentleman that for a hundred years this House has assembled and agreed on the seats which the Members should occupy without anything being forced down the throat of the minority by a vote of the majority. I am sure that the minority are willing to do what is courteous and proper under the circumstances, and I do not think the gentleman should set a precedent by saying, "By a vote of this House we will force you to take your seats where we direct you."

Mr. WILLIAMS. If that be the meaning of the resolution, I have certainly misunderstood it. I understand that the gentleman from Minnesota is now asking unanimous consent.

Mr. TAWNEY. For the consideration of this resolution.

Mr. WILLIAMS. For the consideration of the resolution?

The SPEAKER. The resolution is a matter of privilege.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I thought he was asking unanimous consent for the passage of the resolution. Hitherto, as the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD] says, this has been a matter of agreement by unanimous consent.

Several MEMBERS. Why not ask unanimous consent?

Mr. WILLIAMS. As far as I am concerned, I am perfectly willing that it shall be done in that way.

Mr. TAWNEY. Mr. Speaker, in view of the statement of the gentleman from Mississippi that there is no objection to the arrangement provided for in the latter part of the resolution, I ask unanimous consent to withdraw that and to adopt the former part of the resolution, which has always been adopted by a vote of the House. Then I will ask unanimous consent that the division of seats be made as contemplated by the latter part of the resolution by unanimous consent.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the resolution in the form indicated by the gentleman from Minnesota, and read the first part of it.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the House do now proceed to draw seats for Members and Delegates of the present Congress, in pursuance of Rule XXXII, and when names of Members absent from the city or on account of sickness are called, that seats be selected by their colleagues.

The resolution was agreed to.

Mr. TAWNEY. I now ask unanimous consent that in the drawing of seats this section to my left be set aside for the Republican Members as their names are called, and that the section on the extreme left of the House be likewise reserved for the Republican Members, leaving the other sections in the center of the Democratic side for the Democratic Members, and this side, in addition to the other seats indicated, for the Republicans.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Minnesota?

There was no objection.

Mr. BURKE of South Dakota. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that before this rule is enforced the Hon. J. WARREN KEIFER, an ex-Speaker of this House, be permitted to draw his seat; that the Hon. HENRY H. BINGHAM, a Member from Pennsylvania, and the "Father of the House;" the Hon. JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS, of Mississippi, leader of the minority, and those Members who have served twenty years, or who were Members of the Fiftieth Congress and have served continuously until the present time, also be permitted to draw their seats.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, to that request I shall be forced to make an objection. One word in explanation. I think if we give Members with twenty years' service their seats you will have broken down the line of demarcation, and the next time it will be Members with eighteen years' service, and then fifteen years, and there will be no end to it. I think it would be better to make the request in the usual form for the ex-Speaker who has a seat upon the floor, the leader of the majority, and the leader of the minority, and, of course, the "Father of the House."

Mr. BURKE of South Dakota. Then, Mr. Speaker, I will change my request, and also include the gentleman from New York [Mr. PAYNE] with those I have already named.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from South Dakota asks unanimous consent that the gentleman from Ohio, Mr. KEIFER, an ex-Speaker of this House; the gentleman from New York, Mr. PAYNE; the gentleman from Mississippi, Mr. WILLIAMS; and the gentleman from Pennsylvania, Mr. BINGHAM, the "Father of the House," be permitted to choose their seats.

Mr. BURKE of South Dakota. Mr. Speaker, I would like also to include the gentleman from New York, Mr. KETCHAM, who has served thirty-four years as a Member of this House.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I think it is better, Mr. Speaker, that we should keep within the precedents.

Mr. BURKE of South Dakota. In the Fifty-seventh Congress

the gentleman from Tennessee [Mr. Richardson], who was the predecessor of the gentleman from Mississippi as leader of the minority, made a similar request for Mr. Creamer, of New York, because he had been a Member of the House so many years.

Mr. WILLIAMS. It seems very ungracious to object, but I do not see for the life of me where it would stop if we once enter upon this line. It is such an ungracious thing that I hate to do it, but I can see no end to it.

Mr. BURKE of South Dakota. The gentleman from Mississippi objects, and I will withdraw my last request for the gentleman from New York, Mr. KETCHAM.

The SPEAKER. Then the gentleman's request includes the gentleman from Ohio, Mr. KEIFER, an ex-Speaker of the House; the gentleman from New York, Mr. PAYNE; the gentleman from Mississippi, Mr. WILLIAMS, and the gentleman from Pennsylvania, Mr. BINGHAM. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none.

Mr. TAWNEY. Mr. Speaker, I call for the reading of Rule XXXII.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the rule.

The Clerk read as follows:

RULE XXXII.
DRAWING OF SEATS.

1.
