

The VICE PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Maine withhold his motion for that purpose?

Mr. FRYE. I do.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The Senator from Maine withholds his motion. The Senator from Kansas gives the following notice, which the Secretary will read.

The Secretary read the resolution (S. Res. 3), as follows:

I hereby give notice that when the committees of the Senate are appointed I shall propose the following amendment to the standing rules of the Senate:

"Resolved, That Rule XIX of the standing rules for conducting business in the Senate of the United States be amended by adding the following proviso at the end of the first paragraph of said rule, to wit:

"Provided, That after any question has been considered upon 5 separate calendar days, or when any question has been debated for 10 consecutive hours, it shall be in order for any Senator to rise to a question of privilege and move to close all debate and vote at a fixed time upon the pending question before the Senate after 3 hours' additional consideration. Said motion shall be submitted to the Senate and shall be determined by a yea-and-nay vote. If two-thirds of the Senators present vote in favor of the motion, it shall be declared carried, debate shall close, and a vote taken upon the question as provided in the motion. If less than two-thirds vote for the motion, the same shall be declared lost."

RECESS.

Mr. FRYE. I move that the Senate take a recess until 2 o'clock p. m.

The motion was agreed to; and (at 12 o'clock and 55 minutes p. m.) the Senate took a recess until 2 o'clock p. m., when it reassembled.

The VICE PRESIDENT. Seventy-nine Senators have answered to the roll call. A quorum of the Senate is present. The Senate will receive a message from the House of Representatives.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

William J. Browning, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, appeared and delivered the following message:

Mr. President, I am directed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that a quorum of the House of Representatives has assembled and that CHAMP CLARK, a Representative from the State of Missouri, has been elected Speaker; that South Trimble, a citizen of the State of Kentucky, has been elected Clerk; and that the House is ready to proceed to business.

Also, that a committee of three members has been appointed by the Speaker on the part of the House of Representatives to join a committee of the Senate to wait upon the President of the United States, and to inform him that a quorum of the two Houses has assembled and that Congress is ready to receive any communication he may have to make, and that Mr. UNDERWOOD, Mr. BARTLETT, and Mr. MANN have been appointed members of the committee on the part of the House.

RELATIONS WITH JAPAN AND MEXICO.

Mr. RAYNER. Mr. President, I desire to give notice that I will address the Senate at its convenience upon our relations with Japan and Mexico and the Monroe doctrine as distinguished from the Roosevelt doctrine in connection therewith.

Mr. GALLINGER. I move that the Senate adjourn.

The motion was agreed to; and (at 2 o'clock and 8 minutes p. m.) the Senate adjourned until to-morrow, Wednesday, April 5, 1911, at 12 o'clock meridian.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, April 4, 1911.

This being the day fixed in the proclamation of the President for the assembling of the first session of the Sixty-second Congress, the House met at 12 o'clock noon, and was called to order by Mr. Alexander McDowell, Clerk of the last House.

The Chaplain of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-first Congress, Rev. Henry N. Couden, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Infinite and eternal Spirit, above all, through all, and in us all, from whom cometh all wisdom, power, and goodness. Open Thou our spiritual eyes, quicken our susceptibilities, and make us conscious of Thy presence. The past is ours by inheritance, the future depends upon our use of the present opportunities; make us therefore wise and strong and pure in our generation, that we may move forward to the larger possibilities which wait on the faithful. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it; except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain."

Increase, we beseech Thee, our faith and confidence in that overruling Providence which hitherto has shaped and guided the destiny of our Republic, that each citizen throughout the length and breadth of the land may vie with each in a faithful and patriotic service to his country, and grant, O God our Father, that the coordinate branches of our Government may work in harmony together with Thee; that the sacred rights of the people, civil, political, and religious, may be safeguarded and every legitimate interest advanced till the desert places shall blossom as the rose and peace, prosperity, and happiness fill every home; that the genius of our Republic may find its full fruition in the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ, who taught us to pray:

"Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen."

PROCLAMATION OF THE PRESIDENT.

The Clerk read the following:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES—A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas by the special message dated January 26, 1911, there was transmitted to the Senate and the House of Representatives an agreement between the Department of State and the Canadian Government in regard to reciprocal tariff legislation, together with an earnest recommendation that the necessary legislation be promptly adopted; and

Whereas a bill to carry into effect said agreement has passed the House of Representatives, but has failed to reach a vote in the Senate; and

Whereas the agreement stipulates not only that "the President of the United States will communicate to Congress the conclusions now reached and recommend the adoption of such legislation as may be necessary on the part of the United States to give effect to the proposed arrangement," but also that "the Governments of the two countries will use their utmost efforts to bring about such changes by concurrent legislation at Washington and at Ottawa";

Now, therefore, I, William Howard Taft, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the power vested in me by the Constitution, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the convening of both Houses of the Congress of the United States at their respective Chambers, in the city of Washington, on the 4th of April, 1911, at 12 o'clock noon, to the end that they may consider and determine whether the Congress shall, by the necessary legislation, make operative the agreement.

All persons entitled to act as Members of the Sixty-second Congress are required to take notice of this proclamation.

Given under my hand and the seal of the United States at Washington the 4th day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eleven and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and thirty-fifth.

[SEAL.]

WM. H. TAFT.

By the President:

P. C. KNOX, Secretary of State.

RETIRING ADDRESS OF THE CLERK.

The CLERK. Now that the hour of my departure is at hand, I take the opportunity of expressing my sincere and heartfelt thanks to the Members of the past eight Congresses for their uniform kindness and courtesy to me. [Applause.]

During my eight terms as Clerk 87 Members of Congress have died while in office, and they are silently and patiently waiting beyond the river for the supreme committee on committees to properly place them.

For the Members of the last eight Congresses, living and dead, I have the most profound respect and veneration, and in passing the graves of the dead would in all sincerity drop a tear and a sprig of myrtle upon their last resting places.

And the living, wherever and whenever I meet them, will receive a cordial greeting and a glad hand.

To the Members of the Sixty-second Congress, now assembling, for what they are about to do to me I thank them in advance and wish them well. [Applause and laughter.]

VOTED PRESENT—1.

Berger

The CLERK. The total number of votes cast is 368. GEORGE W. NORRIS of Nebraska has received 1 vote, HENRY A. COOPER of Wisconsin 16, JAMES R. MANN of Illinois 131, and CHAMP CLARK of Missouri 220. [Applause.] CHAMP CLARK having received a majority of votes, is duly elected Speaker. [Applause.] The following committee will wait upon the Speaker elect and escort him to the chair: Mr. MANN of Illinois, Mr. UNDERWOOD of Alabama, and Mr. VREELAND of New York.

The committee appointed to conduct the Speaker elect to the chair having returned with him,

Mr. MANN said: It is a great office, filled by a great man. [Applause.] I present to you your Speaker, the Hon. CHAMP CLARK. [Long-continued applause.]

ADDRESS OF THE SPEAKER ELECT.

The SPEAKER ELECT. Gentlemen of the House of Representatives, election to the high position of Speaker is an exceptional honor, for which you have my profoundest gratitude. To be a Member of the House, to represent 200,000 American citizens in the more numerous branch of the greatest legislative body on earth, is a distinction to which, in the nature of things, comparatively few men may attain. To be chosen by the Representatives of 92,000,000 people to preside over your deliberations is a signal mark of your favor, for which the best return is to discharge the onerous and important duties of the station to which you have assigned me with such impartiality, constancy, industry, courtesy, and good temper as to expedite the public business, thereby promoting the public weal.

The pleasure of being elected Speaker is much enhanced by the perfect unanimity with which it is conferred by my party fellows and the universal good will with which it is accepted by our collaborators of the minority. [Applause.]

Coming into the Speakership under these fortunate circumstances, the hearty cooperation of all Members of whatever political persuasion is hereby earnestly invoked in maintaining order and decorum and in placing upon the statute books laws for the good of the country and the whole country, working out promptly, patiently, courageously, wisely, and patriotically those measures necessary for the betterment of governmental methods and for the amelioration of the conditions under which we live. [Applause.]

My Democratic brethren, coupled with the joy of once more seeing a House a large majority of which is of my own political faith is a keen sense of our responsibility to our country and our kind. It is an old adage worthy of acceptance that where much is given much is required.

After 16 years of exclusion from power in the House and 14 years of exclusion from power in every department of government, we are restored to power in the House of Representatives and in that alone. We are this day put upon trial, and the duty devolves upon us to demonstrate, not so much by fine phrases as by good works, that we are worthy of the confidence imposed in us by the voters of the land, and that we are also worthy of their wider confidence. [Applause on the Democratic side.] We could not if we would, and we would not if we could, escape this severe test. We will not shirk our duty. We shrink not from the responsibility. That we will prove equal to the situation in which we find ourselves placed through our own efforts and by our own desires there can be no doubt, and the way to accomplish that is to fulfill with courage, intelligence, and patriotism the promises made before the election in order to win the election. [Applause on the Democratic side.] By discharging our duty thoroughly and well, subordinating personal desires to principle and personal ambition to an exalted love of country, we will not only receive the indorsement of the people, but, what is far better, we will deserve their indorsement.

Chief among these promises were:

1. An honest, intelligent revision of the tariff downward, in order to give every American citizen an equal chance in the race of life, and to pamper none by special favor or special privilege; to reduce the cost of living by eradicating the enormities and cruelties of the present tariff bill; and to raise the necessary revenue to support the Government. Bills are already far advanced in preparation looking to the accomplishment of these beneficent ends. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

2. The passage of a resolution submitting to the States for ratification a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States Senators by the popular vote. This resolution has already been introduced and will soon be passed by the House. Let us hope that we will send it to the Senate by the unanimous vote of the House, thereby giving to our action the maximum of force. [Applause.]

3. Such changes in the rules of the House as are necessary for the thorough and intelligent consideration of measures for the public good, several of which changes are accomplished facts; if other changes are deemed wise, they will be promptly made.

I congratulate the House and the country, and particularly do I congratulate the members of the Committee on Ways and Means, upon the success of the important and far-reaching experiment of selecting committees through the instrumentality of a committee, an experiment touching which dire predictions were made and concerning the operation of which grave doubts were entertained, even by some honest reformers.

4. "Economy in the public expense that labor may be lightly burdened." The literal fulfillment of that promise which so nearly affects the comfort and happiness of millions we have begun—and we began at the proper place—by cutting down the running expenses of the House by more than $188,000 per annum. Economy, like charity, should begin at home. That is where we began. We can not with straight faces and clear consciences reform expenses elsewhere unless we reform them here at the fountain head. The Democratic caucus deserves well of the country for taking this long and important step in the direction of economy all along the line.

The Constitution gives the House the practical control of the purse strings of the country, and the House should insist, resolutely and firmly, on exercising that control to the end that the appropriation bills may be reduced to the needs of the Government economically and effectively administered. It is our duty to provide every dollar needed for the proper and economical conduct of the Government, but it is equally our duty to prevent waste and extravagance in public expenditures, for we should never forget that it is a difficult task for millions of families to live now in decency and comfort. Surely it is the part of wisdom, statesmanship, humanitarianism, and patriotism to legislate so as to reduce their burdens to the minimum. The resuscitation of the Holman rule will help along in this matter. No good citizen desires to cripple the Government in any legitimate function, but no good citizen desires that the people be loaded down with unnecessary taxes.

5. The publication of campaign contributions and disbursements before the election. The bill to accomplish that desired reform has been prepared and introduced. It will be speedily passed by the House. The average citizen, whatever his politics, is absolutely honest. He demands honesty and cleanliness in politics; he believes that too much money is spent in election matters; and he proposes to put an end to it. As the Representatives of the average man it is our duty to carry out his patriotic wishes in that regard to the end that all men desirous of serving the public may have a fair chance in politics, and to the end that this puissant Republic, the political hope of the world, may not be destroyed by corruption in elections.

6. The admission of both Arizona and New Mexico as States. [Applause.] I violate no confidence in stating that so far as the House is concerned, they will be speedily admitted and they will be admitted together. [Applause.]

These are a few of the things which we promised. We are not only going to accomplish them, we have already begun the great task. What we have done is only an earnest of what we will do. We this day report progress to the American people. The rest will follow in due course.

No man is fit to be a lawgiver for a mighty people who yields to the demands and solicitations of the few having access to his ear but is forgetful of that vast multitude who may never hear his voice or look into his face. [Applause.]

I suggest to my fellow Members on both sides of the big aisle—which is the line of demarcation betwixt us as political partisans, but not as American citizens or American Representatives—that he serves his party best who serves his country best. [Applause.]

I am now ready to take the oath and ask that it be administered by Mr. TALBOTT of Maryland.

The oath of office was administered to the Speaker by Mr. TALBOTT of Maryland.

And that in compliance with the foregoing the Vice President had appointed as said committee Mr. GALLINGER and Mr. BACON.

SELECTION OF SEATS.

Mr. FOSTER of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I offer the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk, and move its adoption.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Illinois offers a resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 6.

Resolved, That the House do now proceed to draw seats for Members and Delegates of the present Congress, and when names of Members absent from the city or on account of sickness are called that seats be selected by their colleagues, the drawing to be in the following manner:

The Clerk shall place in a box, prepared for that purpose, a number of small balls, of marble or other material, equal to the number of Members and Delegates, which balls shall be consecutively numbered and thoroughly intermingled, and at such hour as shall be fixed by the House for that purpose, by the hands of a page, draw said balls one by one from the box and announce the number as it is drawn, upon which announcement the Member or Delegate, whose name on a numbered alphabetical list shall correspond with the number on the ball, shall advance and choose his seat for the term for which he is elected.

Before said drawing shall commence, each seat shall be vacated and so remain until selected under this rule, and any seat having been selected shall be deemed forfeited if left unoccupied before the call of the roll is finished; and whenever the seats of Members or Delegates shall have been drawn, no proposition for a second drawing shall be in order during that Congress.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. MADDEN. Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Illinois will state it.

Mr. MADDEN. The gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr. CARY] sent a message to me, requesting me, on account of his absence, to draw his seat for him when his number was called. I notice the resolution provides that the colleagues of Members who are absent shall draw for them. The question is whether under this resolution as drawn I would be authorized to comply with the request of the gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr. CARY].

The SPEAKER. That is not a parliamentary inquiry. That is an inquiry with respect to a question of fact. The Chair has no objection to the gentleman from Illinois doing it if the House has none.

Mr. MADDEN. I ask unanimous consent, then, Mr. Speaker, that I may be allowed to draw for the gentleman who made the request.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MADDEN] asks unanimous consent to be allowed to draw a seat for the gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr. CARY]. Is there objection?

Mr. FOSTER of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say one word before the resolution is adopted, so that all may understand it. We have realized that there are not sufficient seats on this side of the aisle to accommodate all of the Democrats who have been elected, so that it is necessary for some of us to take seats on the other side of the aisle. Heretofore the practice, when this side was in the majority, was to select the row of seats next to the wall over there; so that our people would be compelled, under this arrangement, to take the tier of seats over there on that side, next to the wall.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I think it may be understood that no Member on this side of the House will take a seat in the further tier of seats to the left of the Speaker, so that it will be left clear for Members on that side of the House.

The SPEAKER. All Members will understand, then, that that is the agreement. The question is on the adoption of the resolution offered by the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. FOSTER]. The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

Mr. MADDEN. Now, Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I may be allowed to draw a seat for Mr. CARY, who is absent.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois for unanimous consent to draw a seat for the gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr. CARY], who is absent? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none, and it is so ordered.

Mr. BURLESON. Mr. Speaker, pending the drawing of the seats under the resolution, I ask unanimous consent that Hon. JOSEPH G. CANNON, of Illinois, ex-Speaker of this House; Hon. H. H. BINGHAM, of Pennsylvania; the Hon. JAMES R. MANN, of Illinois, the minority leader selected at this session of Congress; and Hon. SERENO E. PAYNE, of New York, on the Republican side; and Hon. OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD, of Alabama; Hon. W. A. JONES, of Virginia; Hon. J. F. TALBOTT, of Maryland; and Hon. JOHN J. FITZGERALD, of New York, on the Democratic side, be permitted to select seats where they see fit.

Mr. CLAYTON. Mr. Speaker, I was going to ask leave to amend the request of the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I suggest that, in accordance with the action taken in the last House on this same subject, the gentleman from Texas [Mr. BURLESON] assent to the additional proposal that the same privilege be given to the gentleman from Ohio [Gen. SHERWOOD] and to the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. DALZELL].

Mr. BURLESON. In pursuance of an agreement with the gentleman from Illinois, I accept that amendment.

Mr. CLAYTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN] add to his request the name of the gentleman from Texas [Mr. HENRY], the chairman of the Committee on Rules soon to be appointed.

Mr. BURLESON. I have no objection.

Mr. BARTLETT. I have no objection, Mr. Speaker, to the privilege being given to the gentlemen who have been named and who were at the last session of Congress entitled to select their seats, but I give notice that I shall object to any additional gentlemen being given that privilege. Of course, that covers the gentleman from New York and the gentleman from Texas.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas [Mr. BURLESON] for unanimous consent to allow the gentlemen named to select their seats?

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection that these men who have been suggested be allowed to select their seats, but I do not know where on any occasion heretofore the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations or the chairman of the Committee on Rules has been accorded this privilege.

Mr. MANN. I would suggest to the gentleman from Georgia that the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations in the last House was accorded that privilege when Mr. Tawney was chairman, and I think the same privilege ought to be accorded now to the chairman of that committee in the new Congress.

Mr. BARTLETT. Then I withdraw my objection.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas [Mr. BURLESON] for unanimous consent? There was no objection.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I suggest that before we begin to draw seats the Doorkeeper be instructed to see to it that everybody except Members and others entitled to the floor shall retire.

Mr. MANN. It will be impossible, Mr. Speaker, for Members to take their places back of the rail unless other people retire.

The SPEAKER. All persons within the Hall of the House, except Members and others entitled to the floor, will now retire, and the Doorkeeper and Sergeant at Arms will enforce this order.

All Members, except those to whom the privilege of drawing their seats in advance has been extended, will please retire behind the railing. Members, as their names are called, will select their seats, Democrats on the right side until it is filled, Republicans on the left side, and then Democrats over on the left side beyond the Republicans.

Members then proceeded to draw their seats in accordance with the above provisions.

THE RULES.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I offer the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Texas offers a resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 11.

Resolved, That the following shall be the rules of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-second Congress—

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, pending the reading of the rules, I desire to submit a request for unanimous consent.

The request is, that the rules as set out in the resolution just read be printed in the RECORD of to-day's proceedings for the benefit of Members, in order that they may inspect them tomorrow morning; that the first reading of the resolution be dispensed with, and that the resolution for the consideration of the rules go over until tomorrow, to be taken up immediately after the reading of the Journal and after the reading of the President's message should it be received.

Mr. MANN. I suggest—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Texas yield to the gentleman from Illinois?

Mr. HENRY of Texas. I yield for a question.

Mr. MANN. I do not wish to ask the gentleman a question. I desire to make a suggestion.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. I yield for the suggestion.

Mr. MANN. I suggest to the gentleman that in asking unanimous consent he also ask to have a sufficient number of copies of the resolution printed in ordinary resolution form for the use of Members of the House.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. How many would the gentleman like to have?

Mr. MANN. Oh, 500.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. I make that modification of my request, that it include the printing of 500 copies of the proposed rules in document form.

The SPEAKER. You have heard the request of the gentleman from Texas for unanimous consent. Is there objection?

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman further whether it would be feasible to have the proposed rules printed in connection with the rules of the last House, in parallel columns, so that Members may be easily able to tell what changes are proposed.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. I hardly see how that would be feasible, but I will state to the gentleman that the rules of the Fifty-third and the Sixty-first Congress have been printed in parallel columns, and there are some extra copies of those, and other copies can be printed.

Mr. MANN. Of course, Members of the House, except those who have been studying the rules of the Fifty-third Congress, or who served in the Fifty-third Congress, are not as familiar with the rules of that Congress as they are with the rules of the last Congress. I see no reason why it is not easily feasible to print in parallel columns the proposed rules and the rules of the last Congress, as a matter of information.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. I suggest to the gentleman that that is hardly feasible. The other rules are printed in parallel columns, and can be placed in the RECORD alongside those proposed to-day. I should like to accommodate the gentleman, but think it is hardly practicable.

Mr. MANN. I am very frank to say to the gentleman that if they are not printed that way, I shall take the rules, clip them up myself, and put them in parallel columns. I think it would be very easy for the printing clerk to have them printed in that way.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Personally I should be very glad to extend to the gentleman every facility possible for such comparison.

Mr. DALZELL. I would like to ask the gentleman from Texas a question.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. I will yield.

Mr. DALZELL. Are these proposed rules printed in pamphlet form?

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Not as I offer them.

Mr. DALZELL. The only access Members of the House can have to the rules will be in the RECORD tomorrow morning?

Mr. HENRY of Texas. No; there will be 500 copies in document form, and they will also be printed in the RECORD. They will appear in the RECORD at 8 o'clock, and I shall insist that the documents be here as early as the gentleman wishes.

Mr. DALZELL. But Members of the House will have no opportunity to study the rules.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Yes; there will be opportunity to study the rules and to discuss them. As the gentleman from Pennsylvania knows, he has already personally seen a copy of the rules about as introduced to-day.

Mr. DALZELL. I have not. I have seen the rules of the Fifty-third Congress and of the Sixty-first Congress, but I have not seen the rules as now reported.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Some gentlemen on that side of the House have seen them, as there has been no effort to prevent their inspection.

Mr. MANN. I will suggest to the gentleman that if he wishes to call up his resolution to-morrow, when the rules will not be so that they are available until to-morrow morning, it will be difficult for Members to determine what changes are made by the new rules, and it is very advisable to have them printed in parallel columns, so that Members can see just what changes have been made.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. I have no objection to their being printed in parallel columns, and, Mr. Speaker, will ask to modify my original request to that extent, and to make the number of copies to be printed in document form 1,000 instead of 500.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none, and it is so ordered.

Comparison of the rules of the Sixty-first Congress, third session, with the proposed rules of the Sixty-second Congress, first session, House of Representatives.

He shall pay to the officers and employees of the House of Representatives, the last day of each month, the amount of their salaries that shall be due them; and when the last day of the month falls on Sunday he shall pay them on the day next preceding.

DUTIES OF THE SERGEANT AT ARMS.

1. 3. After a bill which has been favorably reported shall have been upon either the House or the Union Calendar for three days any Member may file with the Clerk a notice that he desires such a bill placed upon a special calendar to be known as the "Calendar for Unanimous Consent." On days when it shall be in order to move to suspend the rules the Speaker shall, immediately after the approval of the Journal, direct the Clerk to call the bills upon the "Calendar for Unanimous Consent." 5. If a Member is called to order for words spoken in debate, the Member calling him to order shall indicate the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's desk and read aloud to the House; but he shall not be held to answer, nor be subject to the censure of the House therefor, if further debate or other business has intervened.

6. No Member shall speak more than once to the same question without leave of the House, unless he be the mover, proposer, or introducer of the matter pending, in which case he shall be permitted to speak in reply, but not until every Member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

7. While the Speaker is putting a question or addressing the House no Member shall walk out of or across the hall, nor, when a Member is speaking, pass between him and the Chair; and during the session of the House no Member shall wear his hat, or remain by the Clerk's desk during the call of the roll or the counting of ballots, or smoke upon the floor of the House; and the Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper are charged with the strict enforcement of this clause. Neither shall any person be allowed to smoke upon the floor of the House at any time. (This prohibition applies to Members as well as others.)

RULE XV.

ON CALLS OF THE ROLL AND HOUSE.

1. Upon every roll call the names of the Members shall be called alphabetically, by surname, except when two or more have the same surname, in which case the name of the State shall be added; and if there be two such Members from the same State, the whole name shall be called; and after the roll has been once called, the Clerk shall call in their alphabetical order the names of those not voting; and thereafter the Speaker shall not entertain a request to record a vote for announce a pair unless the Member's name has been noted under clause 3 of this rule. (This did not apply in the rule of the Fifty-third Congress.)

2. In the absence of a quorum, 15 members, including the Speaker, if there is one, shall be authorized to compel the attendance of absent Members, and in all calls of the House (clause 2 takes the place of clause 3 in Rule XV of Fifty-third Congress, with which compare) the doors shall be closed, the names of the Members shall be called by the Clerk, and the absentees noted (transposed in the rule of the Fifty-third Congress); and those for whom no sufficient excuse is made may, by order of a majority of those present, be sent for and arrested, wherever they may be found, by officers to be appointed by the Sergeant at Arms for that purpose, and their attendance secured and retained; and the House shall determine upon what condition they shall be discharged. Members who voluntarily appear shall, unless the House otherwise direct, be immediately admitted to the Hall of the House, and they shall report their names to the Clerk to be entered upon the Journal as present.

3. On the demand of any Member, or at the suggestion of the Speaker, the names of Members sufficient to make a quorum in the Hall of the House who do not vote shall be noted by the Clerk and recorded in the Journal, and reported to the Speaker with the names of the Members voting, and be counted and announced in determining the presence of a quorum to do business. (This clause supersedes in part clause 2 of Rule XV, Fifty-third Congress.)

4. Whenever a quorum fails to vote on any question, and a quorum is not present and objection is made for that cause, unless the House shall adjourn there shall be a call of the House, and the Sergeant at Arms shall forthwith proceed to bring in absent Members, and the yeas and nays on the pending question shall at the same time be considered as ordered. If those voting on the question and those who are present and decline to vote shall together make a majority of the House, the Speaker shall declare that a quorum is constituted, and the pending question shall be decided as the majority of those voting shall appear. And thereupon further proceedings under the call shall be considered as dispensed with. At any time after the roll call has been completed, the Speaker may entertain a motion to adjourn, if seconded by a majority of those present, to be ascertained by actual count by the Speaker; and if the House adjourns, all proceedings under this section shall be vacated. But this section of the rule shall not apply to the sessions of Friday night until further order of the House. (This clause is a complete innovation from the rule in the Fifty-third Congress.)

RULE XVI.

2. When a motion has been made, the Speaker shall state it or (if it be in writing) cause it to be read aloud by the Clerk before being debated, and it shall then be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment.

3. When any motion or proposition is made, the question, Will the House now consider it? shall not be put unless demanded by a Member.

4. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but (the words "to fix the day to which the House shall adjourn" and "to take a recess" in clause 4 of the rule of the Fifty-third Congress are omitted here) to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question (which motions shall be decided without debate), to postpone to a day certain, to refer, or to amend, or postpone indefinitely; which several motions shall have precedence in the foregoing order; and no motion to postpone to a day certain, to refer, or to postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall be again allowed on the same day at the same stage of the question. After the previous question shall have been ordered on the passage of a bill or joint resolution one motion to recommit shall be in order, and the Speaker shall give preference in recognition for such purpose to a Member who is opposed to the bill or joint resolution. (See clause 1, Rule XVII, of the Fifty-third Congress for motion to recommit.)

5. The hour at which the House adjourns shall be entered on the Journal. (The motion to fix day, for a recess, etc., contained in this clause of the rule of the Fifty-third Congress is here omitted.)

6. On the demand of any Member, before the question is put, a question shall be divided if it include propositions so distinct in substance that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain.

7. A motion to strike out and insert is indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost shall neither preclude amendment nor motion to strike out and insert; and no motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

8. Pending a motion to suspend the rules, the Speaker may entertain one motion that the House adjourn; but after the result thereon is announced he shall not entertain any other dilatory motion till the vote is taken on suspension.

9. At any time after the reading of the Journal, it shall be in order, by direction of the appropriate committees ("after the expiration of the morning hour" was the rule in the Fifty-third Congress), to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the purpose of considering bills raising revenue, or general appropriation bills.

Whenever a Committee of the Whole House or of the Whole House on the state of the Union finds itself without a quorum, [which shall consist of one hundred Members,] (a quorum of the committee was formerly the same as that of the House) the Chairman shall cause the roll to be called, and thereupon the committee shall rise, and the Chairman shall report the names of the absentees to the House, which shall be entered on the Journal; but if on such call a quorum shall appear, the committee shall thereupon resume its sitting without further order of the House.

3. All motions or propositions involving a tax or charge upon the people; all proceedings touching appropriations of money, or bills making appropriations of money or property, or requiring such appropriation to be made, or authorizing payments out of appropriations already made, or releasing any liability to the United States for money or property, [or referring any claim to the Court of Claims,] (not contained in rule of Fifty-third Congress) shall be first considered in a Committee of the Whole, and a point of order under this rule shall be good at any time before the consideration of a bill has commenced.

4. In Committees of the Whole House business on their calendars may be taken up in regular order (order of consideration changed from the rule of the Fifty-third Congress, being determined by the committee, instead of by the House, as formerly), or in such order as the committee may determine, unless the bill to be considered was determined by the House at the time of going into committee, but bills for raising revenue, general appropriation bills, and bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors shall have precedence.

5. When general debate is closed by order of the House, any Member shall be allowed five minutes to explain any amendment he may offer, after which the Member who shall first obtain the floor shall be allowed to speak five minutes in opposition to it, and there shall be no further debate thereon, but the same privilege of debate shall be allowed in favor of and against any amendment that may be offered to an amendment; and neither an amendment nor an amendment to an amendment shall be withdrawn by the mover thereof unless by the unanimous consent of the committee.

6. The committee may, by the vote of a majority of the members present, at any time after the five-minute debate has begun upon proposed amendments to any section or paragraph of a bill, close all debate upon such section or paragraph, or, at its election, upon the pending amendments only (which motion shall be decided without debate); but this shall not preclude further amendment, to be decided without debate. (Compare with clause 6 of this rule in the Fifty-third Congress.)

7. A motion to strike out the enacting words of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried shall be considered equivalent to its rejection. Whenever a bill is reported from a Committee of the Whole with an adverse recommendation and such recommendation is disagreed to by the House, the bill shall stand recommitted to the said committee without further action by the House, but before the question of concurrence is submitted it is in order to entertain a motion to refer the bill to any committee, with or without instructions, and when the same is again reported to the House it shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole without debate.

8. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in Committees of the Whole House so far as they may be applicable.

RULE XXIV.

Eighth. Orders of the day. (This clause supersedes in part clauses 1, 2, and 5 of Rule XXIV of the Fifty-third Congress.)

2. Business on the Speaker's table shall be disposed of as follows: Messages from the President shall be referred to the appropriate committees without debate. Reports and communications from heads of departments, and other communications addressed to the House, and bills, resolutions, and messages from the Senate may be referred to the appropriate committees in the same manner and with the same right of correction as public bills presented by Members; but House bills with Senate amendments which do not require consideration in a Committee of the Whole may be at once disposed of as the House may determine, as may also Senate bills substantially the same as House bills already favorably reported by a Committee of the Whole, be disposed of in the same manner on motion directed to be made by such committee. (This clause supersedes in part clause 1, Rule XXIV, Fifty-third Congress.)

tions and private bills which have been inappropriately referred may, by the direction of the committee having possession of the same, be properly referred in the manner originally presented; and an erroneous reference of a petition or private bill under this clause shall not confer jurisdiction upon the committee to consider or report the same.

3. All other bills, memorials, and resolutions may, in like manner, be delivered, indorsed with the names of Members introducing them, to the Speaker, to be by him referred, and the titles and references thereof and of all bills, resolutions, and documents referred under the rules shall be entered on the Journal and printed in the Record of the next day, and correction in case of error of reference may be made by the House, without debate, in accordance with Rule XI, on any day immediately after the reading of the Journal, by unanimous consent, or on motion of a committee claiming jurisdiction, or on the report of the committee to which the bill has been erroneously referred.

4. When a bill, resolution, or memorial is introduced "by request," these words shall be entered upon the Journal and printed in the Record.

5. All resolutions of inquiry addressed to the heads of executive departments shall be reported to the House within one week after presentation.

RULE XXIII.

OF COMMITTEES OF THE WHOLE HOUSE.

1. In all cases, in forming a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall leave his chair after appointing a Chairman to preside, who shall, in case of disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or lobby, have power to cause the same to be cleared.

2. Whenever a Committee of the Whole House or of the Whole House on the state of the Union finds itself without a quorum, which shall consist of one hundred Members, the Chairman shall cause the roll to be called, and thereupon the committee shall rise, and the Chairman shall report the names of the absentees to the House, which shall be entered on the Journal; but if on such call a quorum shall appear, the committee shall thereupon resume its sitting without further order of the House.

3. All motions or propositions involving a tax or charge upon the people; all proceedings touching appropriations of money, or bills making appropriations of money or property, or requiring such appropriation to be made, or authorizing payments out of appropriations already made, or releasing any liability to the United States for money or property, or referring any claim to the Court of Claims, shall be first considered in a Committee of the Whole, and a point of order under this rule shall be good at any time before the consideration of a bill has commenced.

4. In Committees of the Whole House business on their calendars may be taken up in regular order, or in such order as the committee may determine, unless the bill to be considered was determined by the House at the time of going into committee, but bills for raising revenue, general appropriation bills, and bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors shall have precedence.

5. When general debate is closed by order of the House, any Member shall be allowed five minutes to explain any amendment he may offer, after which the Member who shall first obtain the floor shall be allowed to speak five minutes in opposition to it, and there shall be no further debate thereon, but the same privilege of debate shall be allowed in favor of and against any amendment that may be offered to an amendment; and neither an amendment nor an amendment to an amendment shall be withdrawn by the mover thereof unless by the unanimous consent of the committee.

6. The committee may, by the vote of a majority of the members present, at any time after the five-minute debate has begun upon proposed amendments to any section or paragraph of a bill, close all debate upon such section or paragraph, or, at its election, upon the pending amendments only (which motion shall be decided without debate); but this shall not preclude further amendment, to be decided without debate.

7. A motion to strike out the enacting words of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried shall be considered equivalent to its rejection. Whenever a bill is reported from a Committee of the Whole with an adverse recommendation and such recommendation is disagreed to by the House, the bill shall stand recommitted to the said committee without further action by the House, but before the question of concurrence is submitted it is in order to entertain a motion to refer the bill to any committee, with or without instructions, and when the same is again reported to the House it shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole without debate.

8. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in Committees of the Whole House so far as they may be applicable.

RULE XXIV.

2. Business on the Speaker's table shall be disposed of as follows: Messages from the President shall be referred to the appropriate committees without debate. Reports and communications from heads of departments, and other communications addressed to the House, and bills, resolutions, and messages from the Senate may be referred to the appropriate committees in the same manner and with the same right of correction as public bills presented by Members; but House bills with Senate amendments which do not require consideration in a Committee of the Whole may be at once disposed of as the House may determine, as may also Senate bills substantially the same as House bills already favorably reported by a committee of the House, and not required to be considered in Committee of the Whole, be disposed of in the same manner on motion directed to be made by such committee.

3. The consideration of the unfinished business in which the House may be engaged at an adjournment, except business in the morning hour, shall be resumed as soon as the business on the Speaker's table is finished, and at the same time each day thereafter until disposed of, and the consideration of all other unfinished business shall be resumed whenever the class of business to which it belongs shall be in order under the rules. (This clause supersedes in part clause 5 of this rule in the Fifty-third Congress.)

4. After the unfinished business has been disposed of, the Speaker shall call each standing committee in regular order, and then select committees, and each committee when named may call up for consideration any bill reported by it on a previous day and on the House Calendar, and if the Speaker shall not complete the call of the committees before the House passes to other business, he shall resume the next call where he left off, giving preference to the last bill under consideration: Provided, That whenever any committee shall have occupied the morning hour on two days, it shall not be in order to call up any other bill until the other committees have been called in their turn. (This clause supersedes and takes the place of clause 4 of this rule in the Fifty-third Congress.)

5. After one hour shall have been devoted to the consideration of bills called up by committees, it shall be in order, pending consideration or discussion thereof, to entertain a motion to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union; or, when authorized by a committee, to go into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union to consider a particular bill, to which motion one amendment only, designating another bill, may be made; and if either motion be determined in the negative, it shall not be in order to make either motion again until the disposal of the matter under consideration or discussion. (This clause supersedes in part clause 6 of the rule in the Fifty-third Congress.)

6. On Friday of each week, after the unfinished business (substituted for "morning hour") has been disposed of, it shall be in order to entertain a motion that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House to consider business on the Private Calendar; and if this motion fails, then public business shall be in order as on other days. (Supersedes third paragraph of clause 6 of this rule in the Fifty-third Congress.)

RULE XXV.

PRIORITY OF BUSINESS.

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided by a majority without debate.

RULE XXVI.

PRIVATE AND DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA BUSINESS.

1. Friday in every week shall be set apart for the consideration of private business, unless otherwise determined by the House.

2. The House shall on each Friday at 5 o'clock p. m. take a recess until 8 o'clock, at which evening session private pension bills, bills for the removal of political disabilities, and bills removing charges of desertion only shall be considered; said evening session not to extend beyond 10 o'clock and 30 minutes. (Substituted for clause 3 in this rule of the Fifty-third Congress.)

3. The second and fourth Mondays in each month, after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, shall, when claimed by the Committee on the District of Columbia, be set apart for the consideration of such business as may be presented by said committee.

4. On Wednesday of each week no business shall be in order except as provided by paragraph 4 of Rule XXIV unless the House by a two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith shall otherwise determine. On such a motion there may be debate not to exceed five minutes for and against. On a call of committees under this rule bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules; but bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. This rule shall not apply during the last two weeks of the session. It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a motion for a recess on any Wednesday except during the last two weeks of the session. (This clause was first adopted March 1, 1909, and has no analogy with any rule of preceding Congresses.)

RULE XXVII.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS OF THE SESSION.

All business before committees of the House at the end of one session shall be resumed at the commencement of the next session of the same Congress in the same manner as if no adjournment had taken place.

RULE XXVIII.

CHANGE OR SUSPENSION OF RULES.

1. No rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of the Members voting, a quorum being present; nor shall the Speaker entertain a motion to suspend the rules except on the first and third Mondays of each month, preference being given on the first Monday to individuals and on the third Monday to committees, and during the last six days of a session.

2. All motions to suspend the rules shall, before being submitted to the House, be seconded by a majority of tellers, if demanded.

3. The consideration of the unfinished business in which the House may be engaged at an adjournment, except business in the morning hour, shall be resumed as soon as the business on the Speaker's table is finished, and at the same time each day thereafter until disposed of, and the consideration of all other unfinished business shall be resumed whenever the class of business to which it belongs shall be in order under the rules.

5. After one hour shall have been devoted to the consideration of bills called up by committees, it shall be in order, pending consideration or discussion thereof, to entertain a motion to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union; or, when authorized by a committee, to go into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union to consider a particular bill, to which motion one amendment only, designating another bill, may be made; and if either motion be determined in the negative, it shall not be in order to make either motion again until the disposal of the matter under consideration or discussion.

6. On Friday of each week, after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, it shall be in order to entertain a motion for the House to resolve itself into Committee of the Whole House to consider business on the Private Calendar in the following order: On the second and fourth Fridays of each month preference shall be given to the consideration of private pension claims and bills removing political disabilities and bills removing the charge of desertion. On every Friday except the second and fourth Fridays the House shall give preference to the consideration of bills reported from the Committee on Claims and the Committee on War Claims, alternating between the two committees.

7. On Wednesday of each week no business shall be in order except as provided by paragraph 4 of this rule, unless the House by a two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith shall otherwise determine. On such a motion there may be debate not to exceed five minutes for and against. On a call of committees under this rule bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules; but bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. This rule shall not apply during the last two weeks of the session. It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a motion for a recess on any Wednesday except during the last two weeks of the session.

8. The second and fourth Mondays in each month, after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, shall, when claimed by the Committee on the District of Columbia, be set apart for the consideration of such business as may be presented by said committee.

RULE XXV.

RULE XXVI.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS OF THE SESSION.

RULE XXVII.

CHANGE OR SUSPENSION OF RULES.

1. No rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of the Members voting, a quorum being present; nor shall the Speaker entertain a motion to suspend the rules except on the first and third Mondays of each month, preference being given on the first Monday to individuals and on the third Monday to committees, and during the last six days of a session.

2. All motions to suspend the rules shall, before being submitted to the House, be seconded by a majority by tellers, if demanded.

3. When a motion to suspend the rules has been seconded, it shall be in order, before the final vote is taken thereon, to debate the proposition to be voted upon for forty (changed from 30 minutes. Compare this clause with clause 1, Rule XVII, "Previous question," Fifty-third Congress) minutes, one-half of such time to be given to debate in favor of and one-half to debate in opposition to such proposition; and the same right of debate shall be allowed whenever the previous question has been ordered on any proposition on which there has been no debate.

4. Any Member may present to the Clerk a motion in writing to discharge a committee from further consideration of any public bill or joint resolution which may have been referred to such committee. All such motions shall be entered in the Journal and printed on the calendar under an appropriate heading. Immediately after the Unanimous Consent Calendar shall have been called on any Monday, it shall be in order to call up any such motion which shall have been entered at least seven days prior thereto. Recognition for such motions shall be in the order in which they have been entered. Such motions before being submitted to the House shall be seconded by a majority by tellers. If a second be ordered, debate on such motion shall be limited to twenty minutes, one-half thereof in favor of the proposition and one-half in opposition thereto. Such motions shall have precedence over motions to suspend the rules and shall require for adoption an affirmative vote of a majority of the membership of the House. Whenever such a motion shall prevail the bill so taken from the consideration of a committee shall thereupon be placed upon its appropriate calendar, and upon call of the committee from which any bill has been so taken it may be called for consideration by any Member prior to any bill reported by said committee at a date subsequent to the discharge of said committee. (This clause, adopted June 17, 1910, has no analogy with any previous rule.)

RULE XXIX.

CONFERENCE REPORTS.

1. The presentation of reports of committees of conference shall always be in order, except when the Journal is being read, while the roll is being called, or the House is dividing on any proposition. And there shall accompany every such report a detailed statement sufficiently explicit to inform the House what effect such amendments or propositions will have upon the measures to which they relate.

2. It shall not be in order to consider the report of a committee of conference until such report and the accompanying statement shall have been printed in the Record, except on either of the six days preceding the end of a session. (This clause was adopted in 1902.)

RULE XXX.

SECRET SESSION.

Whenever confidential communications are received from the President of the United States, or whenever the Speaker or any Member shall inform the House that he has communications which he believes ought to be kept secret for the present, the House shall be cleared of all persons except the Members and officers thereof, and so continue during the reading of such communications, the debates and proceedings thereon, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

RULE XXXI.

READING OF PAPERS.

When the reading of a paper other than one upon which the House is called to give a final vote is demanded, and the same is objected to by any Member, it shall be determined without debate by a vote of the House.

RULE XXXII.

DRAWING OF SEATS.

1. At the commencement of each Congress, immediately after the Members and Delegates are sworn in, the Clerk shall place in a box, prepared for that purpose, a number of small balls, of marble or other material, equal to the number of Members and Delegates, which balls shall be consecutively numbered and thoroughly intermingled, and at such hour as shall be fixed by the House for that purpose, by the hands of a page, draw said balls one by one from the box and announce the number as it is drawn, upon which announcement the Member or Delegate whose name on a numbered alphabetical list shall correspond with the number on the ball shall advance and choose his seat for the term for which he is elected.

2. Before said drawing shall commence each seat shall be vacated and so remain until selected under this rule, and any seat having been selected shall be deemed forfeited if left unoccupied before the call of the roll is finished; and whenever the seats of Members and Delegates shall have been drawn, no proposition for a second drawing shall be in order during that Congress.

RULE XXXIII.

Immediately after the Unanimous Consent Calendar shall have been called on any Monday, it shall be in order to call up any such motion which shall have been entered at least 7 days prior thereto. Recognition for such motions shall be in the order in which they have been entered. When such motion shall be called up, the bill shall be read by title only prior to a second being ordered by tellers, and no such motion shall be entertained as to a bill or joint resolution the title of which contains more than 100 words; after the reading of the bill by title the motion shall not be submitted to the House unless seconded by a majority by tellers; if such motion fails of a second, it shall be immediately stricken from the calendar and shall not be thereafter placed thereon. If a second be ordered, debate on such motion shall be limited to 20 minutes, one-half thereof in favor of the proposition and one-half in opposition thereto. Such motions shall have precedence over motions to suspend the rules, and shall require for adoption an affirmative vote of a majority of the membership of the House. Whenever such a motion shall prevail, the bill so taken from the consideration of a committee shall thereupon be placed upon its appropriate calendar, and upon call of the committee from which any bill has been so taken it may be called up for consideration by any Member prior to any bill reported by said committee at a date subsequent to the discharge of said committee; Provided, No Member shall have upon such calendar more than two motions at the same time.

RULE XXVIII.

CONFERENCE REPORTS.

1. The presentation of reports of committees of conference shall always be in order, except when the Journal is being read, while the roll is being called, or the House is dividing on any proposition. And there shall accompany every such report a detailed statement sufficiently explicit to inform the House what effect such amendments or propositions will have upon the measures to which they relate.

2. It shall not be in order to consider the report of a committee of conference until such report and the accompanying statement shall have been printed in the Record, except on either of the six days preceding the end of a session.

RULE XXIX.

SECRET SESSION.

Whenever confidential communications are received from the President of the United States, or whenever the Speaker or any Member shall inform the House that he has communications which he believes ought to be kept secret for the present, the House shall be cleared of all persons except the Members and officers thereof, and so continue during the reading of such communications, the debates and proceedings thereon, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

RULE XXX.

READING OF PAPERS.

1. At the commencement of each Congress, immediately after the Members and Delegates are sworn in, the Clerk shall place in a box, prepared for that purpose, a number of small balls, of marble or other material, equal to the number of Members and Delegates, which balls shall be consecutively numbered and thoroughly intermingled, and at such hour as shall be fixed by the House for that purpose, by the hands of a page, draw said balls one by one from the box and announce the number as it is drawn, upon which announcement the Member or Delegate whose name on a numbered alphabetical list shall correspond with the number on the ball shall advance and choose his seat for the term for which he is elected.

2. Before said drawing shall commence each seat shall be vacated and so remain until selected under this rule, and any seat having been selected shall be deemed forfeited if left unoccupied before the call of the roll is finished; and whenever the seats of Members and Delegates shall have been drawn, no proposition for a second drawing shall be in order during that Congress.

RULE XXXII.

HALL OF THE HOUSE.

The Hall of the House shall be used only for the legislative business of the House and for the caucus meetings of its Members, except upon occasions where the House by resolution agree to take part in any ceremonies to be observed therein; and the Speaker shall not entertain a motion for the suspension of this rule.

RULE XXXIII.

OF ADMISSION TO THE FLOOR.

1. The persons hereinafter named, and none other, shall be admitted to the Hall of the House or rooms leading thereto, viz: The President and Vice President of the United States and their private secretaries, judges of the Supreme Court, Members of Congress and Members-elect, contestants in election cases during the pendency of their cases in the House, the Secretary and Sergeant at Arms of the Senate, heads of departments, foreign ministers, governors of States, the Superintendent of the Capitol Building and Grounds, the Librarian of Congress and his assistant in charge of the Law Library, the Resident Commissioner to the United States from Porto Rico, the Resident Commissioners from the Philippine Islands, such persons as have, by name, received the thanks of Congress, ex-Members of the House of Representatives who are not interested in any claim or directly in any bill pending before

The southerly half of the east gallery shall be assigned exclusively for the use of the families of Members of Congress, in which the Speaker shall control one bench; and on request of a Member the Speaker shall issue a card of admission to his family, which shall include their visitors, and no other person shall be admitted to this section.

2. Stenographers and reporters, other than the official reporters of the House, wishing to take down the debates and proceedings may be admitted by the Speaker to the reporters' gallery over the Speaker's chair, under such regulations as he may, from time to time, prescribe; (the remainder of this clause consists of amendments made from time to time down to February, 1909) and he may assign one seat on the floor to Associated Press reporters, one to the Sun Press Association, one to the United Press Association, one to the New York Herald Syndicate, and one to the Hearst News Service, and regulate the occupation of the same. The rule for paying witnesses subpoenaed to appear before the House or either of its committees shall be as follows: For each day a witness shall attend, the sum of $2; for each mile he shall travel in coming to and going from the place of examination, the sum of 5 cents each way; but nothing shall be paid for traveling when the witness has been summoned at the place of trial.

RULE XXXVIII.

The clerks of the several committees of the House shall, within three days after the final adjournment of a Congress, deliver to the Clerk of the House all bills, joint resolutions, petitions, and other papers referred to the committee, together with all evidence taken by such committee under the order of the House during the said Congress and not reported to the House; and in the event of the failure or neglect of any clerk of a committee to comply with this rule the Clerk of the House shall, within three days thereafter, take into his keeping all such papers and testimony.
