Resolved, That David S. Barry, of Rhode Island, be, and he is hereby, elected Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper of the Senate.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. President, I send to the desk an amendment to that resolution.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The amendment will be stated.

The SECRETARY. It is proposed as an amendment to strike out the words "David S. Barry, of Rhode Island," and to insert in lieu thereof the words "Charles P. Higgins, of Missouri."

The VICE PRESIDENT. The question is on the amendment offered by the Senator from Virginia.

The amendment was rejected.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The question is on the adoption of the original resolution.

The resolution was agreed to.

Mr. LODGE. I offer, under the same order, the resolution which I send to the desk.

The resolution (S. Res. 7) was read, considered, and agreed to, as follows:

HOUSE OF DAILY MEETING.

Mr. LODGE submitted the following resolution (S. Res. 9), which was read, considered, and agreed to:

DEATH OF REPRESENTATIVE JOHN LAWSON BURNETT.

Mr. BANKHEAD. Mr. President, I send to the desk resolutions for which I ask immediate consideration. I give notice that at some future date I shall ask the Senate to set apart a time for the purpose of paying tribute to the memory of the deceased Representative.

The resolutions (S. Res. 10) were read, considered by unanimous consent, and unanimously agreed to, as follows:

Resolved, That the Senate has heard with deep sensibility the announcement of the death of Hon. JOHN LAWSON BURNETT, late a Representative from the State of Alabama.

Resolved, That the Secretary communicate these resolutions to the House of Representatives.

Mr. BANKHEAD. As a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased Representative, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

The motion was unanimously agreed to; and (at 12 o'clock and 50 minutes p. m.) the Senate adjourned until to-morrow, Tuesday, May 20, 1919, at 12 o'clock meridian.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, May 19, 1919.

The House met at 12 o'clock noon.

This being the day fixed in the proclamation of the President for the assembling of the first session of the Sixty-sixth Congress, the Clerk of the last House, Mr. South Trimble, called the House to order.

The Chaplain of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fifth Congress, Rev. Henry N. Couden, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Father in Heaven, once more in the swift flight of time Thou hast brought us to a new Congress, now convened in extraordinary session by the President of the United States of America.

Under the changed conditions in human events the call is imperative and will tax the ingenuity and statesmanship of its Members. Great are the problems confronting it. Questions of moment wait upon it for solution. Hence we pray for Thy wisdom to guide it, Thy strength to sustain it, Thy courage to inspire it to deliberate yet speedy action.

Let Thy blessing descend upon the Speaker of this House and the Representatives of the people that he may guide with a firm and strong hand its Members to the highest and best solution of the great questions at home and abroad; that its acts may be to the best interests of all concerned and redound to the glory of the living God, our Heavenly Father.

Since the Sixty-fifth Congress passed into history two of its Members who had been elected to serve in this Congress have been called to the larger life. Their work well done, strong friendships formed, their going brings sadness to many hearts. We pray for those who knew and loved them, especially their respective families, that they may be comforted by the eternal hope of the immortality of the soul. This we ask in the name of Him who died and rose again. Amen.

PROCLAMATION OF THE PRESIDENT.

The CLERK. The Clerk will read the proclamation of the President.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER.

The CLERK. The next business in order is the election of the Speaker. Nominations for Speaker are in order.

Mr. TOWNER. Mr. Clerk, I am authorized by the unanimous action of the Republican conference to place in nomination for Speaker of the House of Representatives for the Sixty-sixth Congress Mr. FREDERICK HUNTINGTON GILLETT, of Massachusetts. [Applause.]

The CLERK. Are there any further nominations?

Mr. RUCKER. Mr. Clerk, I have always been frank with the House, and I am going to be frank with it now. If it were possible, I would like to postpone the election of Speaker for about two years, to give time and opportunity to some of our boys who have remained at home to get here. [Applause and laughter.] I see many new faces over there on the Republican side, and I fear they, like the lean and hungry Cassius, are dangerous to Democratic success in this contest.

Mr. Clerk, this is an important function we are called upon to perform—the election of a Speaker for the Sixty-sixth Congress. The office of Speaker is a high, important, and responsible position. I have inquired diligently among the gentlemen sitting on this side of the aisle, and I learn that the distinguished gentleman whose name was just presented by the gentleman from Iowa [Mr. TOWNER] is a man of unimpeachable character, of great learning, long experience, a man who has proven good and true in every capacity in which he has been tried. The CONGRESSIONAL RECORD which I have read recites his splendid achievements and fully justifies the high esteem in which his friends on this side of the House hold him. [Applause on Republican side.] I am very glad to hear that applause. The CONGRESSIONAL RECORD also shows that the distinguished gentleman whose name I shall present has time and time again received the unqualified approval of every man upon the Republican side. [Applause.] You have said that he is a brave man, a learned man, an impartial man, just such a man as should preside over this House in this day of harmony and good will, and now I am going to put to the test my good friends on that side, and, notwithstanding the unavoidable absence for two years of many gentlemen who sincerely desired to be here, I am going to ask this House to reelect to the office which he has so well filled so long, and in which he has served his country with such distinguished ability, that great American citizen, CHAMP CLARK, of Missouri. [Applause.]

The CLERK. Are there any further nominations? If not, the nominations will be closed. The Clerk will appoint as tellers to count the votes the gentleman from New York [Mr. SANFORD], the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. DENISON], the gentleman from South Dakota [Mr. GANDY], and the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. VINSON], who will please take their places at the desk. The Clerk will call the roll and the Members will designate by name whom they desire to elect as Speaker.

The tellers having taken their places, the House proceeded to vote viva voce for Speaker. The following is the vote in detail:

At the conclusion of the roll,

The CLERK said: The result of the ballot as agreed to by the tellers is as follows:

Total number of votes cast, 400. Mr. GILLET received 228 and Mr. CLARK of Missouri received 172. Mr. GILLET, having received a majority of all the votes cast, a quorum being present and voting, is declared duly elected Speaker of the Sixty-sixth Congress. [Applause.] The Clerk appoints as a committee to notify Mr. GILLET of his election and to escort him to the chair Mr. CLARK of Missouri, Mr. MANN, of Illinois, and Mr. MONDELL, of Wyoming.

The committee appointed to conduct the Speaker elect to the chair having returned with him,

Mr. CLARK of Missouri said:

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives, out of 37 Speakers Massachusetts has had 5. This is the first time that the fatherhood of the House and the Speakership of the House have merged in one man. The gentleman you have elected has served 26 years. He has scholarship, experience, high character, and I hope that he will write his name among the very scanty list of great Speakers. [Applause and laughter.]

I have the pleasure and the honor of introducing to you the next Speaker of the House, Hon. FREDERICK H. GILLET. [Applause.]

ADDRESS OF THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER elect, on taking the chair, said:

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives, I thank you for this cordial demonstration. I wish I could hope that this gavel will never be needed to check any less friendly and good-tempered disturbance. But I recognize this momentous session must bring periods of stress and excitement when it will be hard for us all to preserve that moderation and decorum befitting the dignity of this body.

I hope that the good feeling and mutual respect which exists to-day, although it may at times be clouded and dimmed, will, at the end of this Congress, be no less general and genuine. [Applause.]

To you who have conferred upon me this high office I feel the deepest gratitude. Both my training and my taste have made it attractive to me. There is no other in the world for which I would exchange it. Perhaps I ought to throw a ring into the sea to propitiate the gods. I have served under five Speakers, Crisp, Reed, Henderson, Cannon, and Clark, all men of high character and great ability, some of them men of extraordinary ability, and I have now no ambition except by an honorable and acceptable performance of my duty to prove myself not unworthy of that exalted company and of your partiality. To achieve that I ask your aid and cooperation. [Applause.]

There are facing this Congress problems so grave and so difficult as to demand our most industrious application and combined wisdom. Upon our success in solving them hangs the immediate prosperity and the future development of the Nation. They are so momentous that they may well sober partisanship and disarm prejudice. I am sure you will enter upon your task with high purpose, and I pledge you it will be my aim to exercise the power you have conferred upon me fairly, impartially, judicially, and with scrupulous regard for the rights and for the feelings of every Member of the House. [Applause.]

I am now ready to take the oath of office, and I ask that it be administered by Mr. CANNON, of Illinois. [Applause.]

The oath of office was administered by Mr. CANNON.

During the swearing in of Members, when the State of Wisconsin was called, the following occurred:

Mr. DALLINGER. Mr. Speaker, I object to the swearing in at this time of VICTOR BERGER, a Representative elect from the State of Wisconsin [applause], for the reason that he is now under conviction and sentence by a United States court for a violation of the law of the United States. I wish to state for the information of the House that at the proper time I shall offer a resolution providing that the question of the eligibility of Mr. BERGER to a seat in this House be referred to a special committee in accordance with the precedents established by the House of Representatives in similar cases. [Applause.]

Mr. BERGER. Mr. Speaker, I understand this is a question of the highest personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. This is not the time to recognize the gentleman for that. Until the swearing in of the Members is completed the Chair can not recognize the gentleman.

The swearing in of the Members was completed.

Whereas such charge is made through a Member of the House, and on his responsibility as such Member, and on the basis, as he asserts, of public records and papers evidencing such an ineligibility:

Resolved, That the question of the prima facie right of VICTOR BERGER to be sworn in as a Representative of the State of Wisconsin of the Sixty-sixth Congress, as well as of his final right to a seat therein as such Representative, be referred to a special committee of nine Members of the House, to be appointed by the Speaker; and until such committee shall report upon and the House decide such question and right, the said VICTOR BERGER shall not be sworn in nor be permitted to occupy a seat in this House; and said committee shall have power to send for persons and papers and examine witnesses on oath relative to the subject matter of this resolution.
