The VICE PRESIDENT. The proposed unanimous-consent agreement will be read.

The Chief Clerk read as follows:

It is agreed by unanimous consent that further consideration of the credentials of the Senators elect, Mr. SMITH of Illinois and Mr. VARE, of Pennsylvania, be postponed without change or prejudice of their rights until after the reading of the President's message Tuesday, December 6; that during the remainder of to-day's session the only questions to be taken up shall be a resolution notifying the House of Representatives that a quorum of the Senate is ready to proceed to business, a resolution fixing the hour of the daily meeting of the Senate, a resolution appointing a committee of two Senators to join a similar committee of the House of Representatives to wait upon the President of the United States and inform him that a quorum of each House is assembled and that Congress is ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make, and the election of a Chaplain of the Senate.

The VICE PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the proposed unanimous-consent agreement?

Mr. ROBINSON of Arkansas. Mr. President, I think there is no objection to the order asked by the Senator from Kansas.

The VICE PRESIDENT. Without objection, the agreement is entered into.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, December 5, 1927

This day, in compliance with the provisions of the Constitution, the Members elect of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth Congress assembled in their hall and at 12 o'clock noon were called to order by William Tyler Page, Clerk of the last House.

The CLERK. The Chaplain of the last House will lead in prayer.

The Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., Chaplain of the last House, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, in whose presence there is fullness of joy and at Thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore, we humbly acknowledge Thee to be the only true God. Our praise and gratitude rise to Thee and our restraining meekness would say: "Glory be to Thee, O Lord, most high, Thy will be done." In the light of Thy love the valleys of our experience have been exalted and the deep things have been illuminated. At the very front door of this Congress may we realize the sanctity of our commission and know that the measure of our power shall be the measure of our virile, manly virtues. O Holy Spirit shine upon our weakness and press upon our deepest beings; diffuse them through and through with a consuming energy and devotion for our whole beloved land. We pause again and in this solemn stillness breathe an earnest prayer for our Speaker, the Members and officers of this Chamber. Do Thou inspire us with the might of Thy wisdom, the majesty of Thy sacrifices, and the glory of Thy shame. May we not be forced in our labors by the cold motive of duty, but by the urgency of love—love of God, love for the Republic, and an appreciation for all humanity. At the last may we hear the music break on the eternal shores. Amen.

CALL OF THE ROLL

ANSWERED "PRESENT"—5

Longworth

The CLERK. The tellers agree in their tally. The total number of votes cast is 417, of which Hon. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH has received 225 and Hon. FINIS J. GARRETT has received 187; answering "present," 5. Hon. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, a Representative elect from the State of Ohio, having received a majority of all the votes cast, is duly elected Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth Congress. [Applause.]

The gentleman from Connecticut, Mr. TILSON; the gentleman from Illinois, Mr. MADDEN; the gentleman from Wisconsin, Mr. COOPER; the gentleman from Tennessee, Mr. GARRETT; and the gentleman from Texas, Mr. GARNER, will please escort the Speaker elect to the chair, and the Clerk designates the gentleman from Pennsylvania, Mr. BUTLER, the Member longest in continuous service in the House, to administer to the Speaker elect the oath of office prescribed by law.

The committee appointed by the Clerk escorted Mr. LONGWORTH to the Speaker's chair.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. My colleagues of the House of Representatives, it is again my privilege formally to present the Speaker elect of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

This I do gladly because of personal friendship and with pleasure because in the school of experience we have learned that the predictions of two years ago have been vindicated and verified. His ability, firmness, and fairness were demonstrated during the Sixty-ninth Congress. [Applause.] His proven fitness for this distinguished honor—one of the greatest that can come to man—gives us entire confidence in the rectitude of his parliamentary convictions, and makes us rest secure in the assurance that as we labor here together we shall have in this great place one thoroughly equipped by intellect, by character, and by training for the high and arduous labors which he has been chosen to perform.

My colleagues, the Speaker that has been and the Speaker that is to be, Hon. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, of Ohio. [Applause.]

The SPEAKER elect. Gentlewomen and gentlemen of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth Congress, for the second time by your voices I have been chosen to be your presiding officer.

The Speakership of the House of Representatives is one of the great governmental offices of the world. It is, I think, generally agreed that it is second in dignity and importance, together with power and influence upon the future of America, potential at least, only to the Presidency itself.

My study of history and my experience of two years in this office have convinced me, however, that no man, no matter of how great ability, can be a successful Speaker unless he gains and retains during his term the respect and confidence of his colleagues. That I have been in a measure successful, as your reception would seem to indicate, is due in major part to the fact that I have succeeded in these two respects.

To you of my party, to-day the great majority party of the United States, who have with unanimity cast your votes for my reelection to this high office, I tender my most profound and heartfelt thanks, not so much for the office itself as for the evidence of your conception of my worthiness to fill it.

I am particularly pleased to have received the votes of gentlemen who have been seated on my party's side of the aisle for the past four years, but who on two previous occasions have preferred to vote for a candidate for Speaker other than the one proposed by the Republican majority. I welcome your return to the Republican Party, where you rightfully belong. [Applause on the Republican side.] I like to row in the same boat with that fine old veteran of a hundred political battles, HENRY ALLEN COOPER, and with NELSON and FREAR and all of you. [Applause.]

To you seated upon the present minority side of the aisle, who cast your votes, as you were in honor bound to do, for your chosen leader, I am no less indebted, because of the expression of esteem and confidence you gave me at the close of the session of the last Congress, and have repeated this morning.

If there is one cloud upon my happiness to-day it is the thought that from the next Congress, of which I hope and expect to be a Member, the leader of the minority, on his own motion and by his own will, will be absent. During the more than 25 years that I have held public office I have known, often intimately, all of the outstanding public men of the period, but among them all I have never known a finer character than FINIS GARRETT—student, scholar, debater of the first order, orator, a master unexcelled in the use of the English language, patriot, a gentleman in all that fine old English word implies—he possesses all the qualities that make for my ideal of what an American statesman ought to be. [Applause, the Members rising.]

We are entering upon a session during which grave problems will confront us. I hope most sincerely that we may be able to meet and solve them with as little bitterness and partisanship as possible. I hope that while we may be widely divided in our opinions upon what is best for the country, our differences may always be based upon fundamental economic principles and never upon questions of geography, race, or, above all, of religion. [Applause.] Thus we shall continue upon the path laid out by the fathers of the Constitution, which has brought us to a condition of happiness, prosperity, and world influence undreamt of by them, and in the future, as generations succeed each other, will lead us onward and upward to heights that no other country has ever attained or ever will attain.

But whatever may eventuate of this, be well assured that, so far as it lies in the power of the Speaker, the honor and dignity of this House will be at all times upheld, and the rights of the minority and of each individual Member of full and free debate and of making record upon all important questions will be fully protected. [Applause.]

And now one word before I take the solemn oath of office. In the circumstances and conditions with which I find myself surrounded, possessing, as I believe I do, the esteem and good will of all my colleagues in the proportion which I similarly entertain for each one of them, I say, and I say it with the utmost sincerity, that I had rather be Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States than hold any other office in the gift of the American people. Need I say more to evidence my happiness at again being called upon to serve you?

I am prepared to take the oath.

Mr. BUTLER administered the oath of office to the Speaker.

SWEARING IN OF MEMBERS

The SPEAKER administered the oath of office to the Members and Delegates, the Members and Delegates presenting themselves as their names were called by States and Territories, in the area in front of the Speaker's desk, taking the oath prescribed by law.

Mr. BUTLER and Mr. GRIEST qualified by affirmation.

REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT JAMES M. BECK

While the Speaker was administering the oath of office to the various Members and Delegates, when the State of Pennsylvania was called, the following occurred:

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I object to the oath at this time being administered to Mr. JAMES M. BECK, a Representative elect from the State of Pennsylvania, upon the ground that there is a question as to his eligibility under the Constitution of the United States, there being a question as to whether he was an inhabitant of the State of Pennsylvania at the time of his election, as is required by the Constitution. Later I shall present a resolution upon the subject.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, we do not object to Mr. BECK temporarily standing aside, but it is definitely understood that it in no way prejudices his position before this House. We maintain that no Member, not even the Speaker himself, has the power to deny the right to take the oath of office to a man who presents his credentials from the State from which he comes. With that understanding we are perfectly willing that he shall temporarily step aside.

The SPEAKER. The Chair asks the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. BECK] to temporarily step aside.

Mr. BECK stepped aside, and the oath of office was administered to the other Members elect from the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, I request the oath be now administered to the Representative from Pennsylvania [Mr. BECK].

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I object, and offer the following privileged resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the resolution offered by the gentleman from Tennessee.

The Clerk read as follows:

Whereas it is charged that JAMES M. BECK, a Representative elect to the Seventieth Congress from the State of Pennsylvania, is ineligible to a seat in the House of Representatives for the reason that he was not at the time of his election an inhabitant of the State of Pennsylvania in the sense of the provision of the Constitution of the United States (par. 5 of sec. 2, Art. I) prescribing the qualifications for Members thereof; and whereas such charge is made through a Member of the House and on his responsibility as such Member, upon the basis, as he asserts, of records and papers evidencing such ineligibility:

Resolved, That the question of the prima facie right of JAMES M. BECK to be sworn in as a Representative from the State of Pennsylvania of the Seventieth Congress, as well as of his final right to a seat therein as such Representative, be referred to Committee on Elections

No. 2; and until such committee shall report upon and the House decide such question and right, the said JAMES M. BECK shall not be sworn in nor be entitled to the privileges of the floor; and said committee shall have power to send for persons and papers and examine witnesses on oath relative to the subject matter of this resolution.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, the information which has come to me that led to this resolution is, of course, a matter that will require proof. The statement briefly is that the gentleman from Pennsylvania was for long an inhabitant of New York, of New Jersey, and of the District of Columbia, having no residence of any kind or character in the State of Pennsylvania. That on the 6th of September last, or about that time, the gentleman registered in the city of Philadelphia; and that he at about that time caused himself to be assessed for some kind of taxes, he not having theretofore paid any taxes at that point; and at some time, the time being wholly indefinite, a lease was taken by the gentleman from Pennsylvania upon an apartment in the city of Philadelphia, which apartment has been but seldom, if ever, occupied by him; that it is not in fact the place of his domicile or his residence; that he has not been and was not at the time of his election in November an inhabitant in a constitutional sense of the State from which elected. That is a matter which requires investigation by a committee in order that the privileges of the House as well as the rights of the district and the individual may be properly protected. I therefore, Mr. Speaker, move the previous question upon the resolution.

Mr. SNELL. Before the gentleman moves the previous question will he yield—

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I yield.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, it is not my desire to debate this question at this time, because I fully appreciate that the real facts in the investigation must come before an Elections Committee, which is the proper procedure in the House. I simply desire at this time to say that there is no Elections Committee No. 2, and it would be better if his resolution were referred to one of the Elections Committees, and I also desire to ask the gentleman if he will not permit me to offer this substitute for his resolution, not that I want debate, but in order that vote may come upon a direct affirmative proposition. My resolution is simply that the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. BECK] be now permitted to take the oath of office.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I will say I do not think I should yield to the gentleman to offer that substitute, because we can vote upon this resolution which I have offered without there being the necessity of even a preliminary investigation. The question of whether the gentleman is entitled to his seat, as the substitute implies, is a matter of doubt raised by the Constitution itself and can only be properly determined by an investigation, and therefore I can not yield for that purpose.

Now, just a word about the committee to which the gentleman from New York referred. I looked over the personnel of the Committees on Elections, assuming that they would be substantially as they have been, and the reason I selected Committee No. 2 was because there was no member upon that committee from the State of Pennsylvania. Rare, indeed, it is when you find any committee of importance in this House upon which there is not from one to three gentlemen from Pennsylvania as members. [Applause.]

Mr. SNELL. Will the gentleman yield to me for a short statement of about two minutes?

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I yield to the gentleman.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, we are confronted with the same question that has arisen two or three times during my membership of the House. Some Member has arisen and questioned the right of another Member to take the oath of office. I maintain that in this preliminary stage of the proceedings that no man has that right. Every one of us with accredited credentials from the several States started on the same footing as far as the right to take the oath of office is concerned. Now let us see just what the actual facts are.

The gentleman from Pennsylvania has presented uncontested credentials from the sovereign State of Pennsylvania, and no man denies that. That is all any Member has at the present time, and is all the Constitution requires up to this stage of the proceedings. If we had the time, I would like to have them read and placed in evidence before the House. I deny that any Member, or even the Speaker himself, has the power during the preliminary organization of this House, by a resolution such as the gentleman from Tennessee has read to us, to prevent any man from taking this oath. [Applause.] What few precedents I have been able to examine in the short time allowed since this matter has been called to my attention lead me to think that there has been no direct precedent up to this time for refusing the right to take the oath, and I see no reason why any Member of this House should desire to deprive the gentleman from Pennsylvania from exercising his accredited right, and I trust the motion for the previous question will be voted down. [Applause.]

Mr. BERGER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I yield for a brief statement.

Mr. BERGER. I would like to state that eight or nine years ago I presented a certificate of election duly signed by the secretary of state of Wisconsin, but I was not permitted to take my oath. This has happened to me twice. [Laughter.] I wish to add just one more word. This evidently is one of the chickens that has come home to roost. [Laughter.]

Mr. SNELL. The vote on the Republican side is against the previous question.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. It is very fortunate for gentlemen on that side that the gentleman from New York is there to inform them. [Laughter.] Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the motion to order the previous question on the resolution presented by the gentleman from Tennessee.

The question was taken, and the Speaker announced that the "noes" appeared to have it.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I ask for the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will call the roll. Those in favor of ordering the previous question on the resolution offered by the gentleman from Tennessee will answer "yea"; those opposed will answer "nay."

The question was taken; and there were—yeas 159, nays 245, answered "present" 1, not voting 29, as follows:

SWEARING IN OF A MEMBER

Mr. LETTS, of the second district of the State of Iowa, appeared at the bar of the House and took the oath of office.

REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT JAMES M. BECK

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, I offer a substitute for the resolution offered by the gentleman from Tennessee [Mr. GARRETT] and move the previous question on the same.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from New York offers a substitute for the resolution offered by the gentleman from Tennessee [Mr. GARRETT], which the clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the gentleman from Pennsylvania, Mr. BECK, be now permitted to take the oath of office.

The previous question was ordered.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the substitute offered by the gentleman from New York.

The substitute was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The question now recurs on the resolution as amended by the substitute.

The resolution was agreed to.

SWEARING IN OF MEMBERS

Mr. BRITTEN. Mr. Speaker, I was not in the Hall when the oath was administered to Representatives elect from the State of Illinois, and I would like to take the oath now.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will administer the oath now to the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. BECK] and to the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. BRITTEN].

Mr. BECK, of the first district of the State of Pennsylvania, and Mr. BRITTEN, of the ninth district of the State of Illinois, appeared at the bar of the House and took the oath of office.

REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT JAMES M. BECK

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I offer a privileged resolution.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Tennessee offers a privileged resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 1

Resolved, That the right of JAMES M. BECK to a seat in the House of Representatives of the Seventieth Congress be referred to the Committee on Elections No. 2, which committee shall report thereon so soon as practicable, and said committee shall have power to send for persons and papers and examine witnesses on oath relative to the subject matter of this resolution.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, there are some whereases in the resolution that I do not care to have reported in connection with it because they are precisely the same as the whereases contained in the other resolution, but they should be printed in connection with the resolution.

The SPEAKER. They will be ordered printed.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

Mr. TILSON. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me a question of order should be interposed. Is this matter in order until the rules are adopted? There are no rules existing for the appointment of committees, therefore it seems to me that a question of order ought to be raised now rather than allow the matter to go by default and thereby establish a precedent.

I wish to say that I have no objection to a resolution providing for an investigation of any facts in connection with the right of this Member to retain his seat.

Mr. SNELL. And I suggest that the gentleman withhold his resolution and offer it later in the day.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. It is immaterial to me when the matter is presented. Of course, in fact, there will be no committees to-day, but I do want to present the resolution.

Mr. TILSON. The rules will be adopted soon I hope, and then the gentleman can have a reference of his resolution to the proper committee when raised.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I may say again that the Committee on Elections No. 2 was selected simply because, upon glancing at the directory, I found there was no one from Pennsylvania a member of that committee in the past Congress.

Mr. TILSON. If the gentleman will yield, I will state that there are in contemplation some changes in the committees of the House. This may possibly be one of those committees, though I do not think it will be. However, that is possible, so I suggest to the gentleman that he withhold his resolution until the rules are adopted and there is such a committee. Then it will be in order to consider his resolution.

Mr. GARNER of Texas. Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Let me ask the gentleman from Connecticut is it not going to be possible to find one major committee of this House on which a Pennsylvanian will not have to go? [Laughter.]

Mr. TILSON. The gentleman will have to consult the list of committees when they are appointed.

Mr. GARNER of Texas. Will the gentleman from Connecticut agree that as soon as the rule is adopted, the gentleman from Tennessee can be recognized and that the resolution may then be acted upon?

Mr. TILSON. Certainly; I agree to that.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. It is a privileged resolution.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Tennessee [Mr. GARRETT] withdraw the resolution?

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I withhold the resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a substitute for the resolution just offered by the gentleman from Oregon, and upon that I ask for a separation of the resolution just read in order that the name of Rev. James Shera Montgomery as Chaplain may be voted upon separately.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Indiana asks unanimous consent that the resolution be so separated that the office of Chaplain may be voted on separately. Is there objection?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the substitute offered by the gentleman from Indiana.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That South Trimble, of the State of Kentucky, be, and he is hereby, chosen Clerk of the House of Representatives;

28. Rule XI, clause 51b, strike out entire clause.

29. Renumber clauses in Rules X and XI.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, the first part of the resolution that was read at the desk needs no explanation at this time. It simply adopts the rules as they existed at the close of the Sixty-ninth Congress.

For several years there has been a good deal of discussion among Members about abolishing certain committees that have no real work to do in the House. During the latter part of the last session the Rules Committee considered this proposition for a considerable time, but we were unable at that time to make a definite arrangement or agreement. I will appreciate the fact that you can not do anything as radical as abolishing certain standing committees of the House, changing others, and creating new ones without practically a unanimous agreement. And in this case we have that, or at least as far as the Rules Committee is concerned. I think there is no one on either side but that will agree that it is foolish and ridiculous for us to carry from year to year 16 committees that have practically no work to do in connection with the work of the House and are only deadwood, used simply to furnish assignments to Members. The majority of the committees that we are abolishing have not met in several years and there is no probability that there will be any work for them in the immediate future.

Now, if I may have your attention, I will explain in detail what we are proposing to do at this time. We are abolishing the Alcoholic Liquor Traffic Committee, the Committee on Railways and Canals, the Committee on Woman Suffrage, the Committee on Industrial Arts and Expositions, and 11 expenditure committees and the Mileage Committee. We are creating in place of the 11 expenditure committees one expenditure committee of 21 members that will have jurisdiction of expenditures for all executive departments and do all the work the whole 11 could have done. This committee will be provided with a room, a clerk, and everything that is necessary to do certain work that is desired to be done in connection with the work of the Appropriations Committee, and also along other various lines.

It is also proposed to change the work done by the Mileage Committee to the Committee on Accounts. That committee has all of the equipment, clerks, and so forth, to do it without added expense.

Now we propose to increase the membership of the Interstate Commerce Committee from 21 to 23 members; the membership of the Judiciary Committee from 21 members to 23 members; the Committee on Civil Service from 13 members to 21 members; the Committee on Claims from 15 members to 21 members; the Committee on Flood Control from 15 members to 21 members; the Committee on Invalid Pensions from 15 members to 21 members; the Committee on Pensions from 15 members to 21 members; the Committee on War Claims from 15 members to 21 members; the Committee on Patents from 17 members to 21 members; the Committee on Labor from 15 members to 21 members; Immigration Committee from 17 members to 21 members; Committee on Education from 15 members to 21 members; Census Committee 15 members to 21 members; Committee on Territories from 15 members to 21 members.

As a general summing up of what we have done in regard to the total number of committee assignments in the House, we have eliminated 129 assignments, but of those 129 assignments there were 17 in the last Congress that never were filled, so that we are really eliminating only 112, and in lieu of those that we have eliminated we are creating 86 definite committee assignments—assignments on active working committees of the House. Therefore every Member who receives assignment under the present plan will be assigned to a committee that has something to do with the everyday work and progress of the House. Further, of the Members who are affected by this elimination of assignments 54 had over four or more committee assignments and there were 79 Members in the last Congress who had over four assignments.

Considerable thought and attention have been given to this, and we believe that these recommendations will tend toward more efficient work in the House, and certainly the new Members should be very much interested in this change, because it assures every one of them being appointed on some committee that has real, definite work to do.

I would be very glad to answer any questions that anyone cares to ask.

Mr. McKEOWN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. Yes.

Mr. McKEOWN. Do the Committees on Expenditures referred to by the gentleman cover the independent offices expenditure committee?

Mr. SNELL. It is intended to cover all of them.

Mr. LANHAM. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. Yes.

Mr. LANHAM. I am quite in sympathy with the effort to reduce the number of committees and to eliminate some that are useless, but one or two of those committees have some functions and are called upon occasionally to meet and take some action with reference to some bills introduced into the House. What will be the procedure with reference to the change of jurisdiction of these committees? Where will the jurisdiction be transferred?

Mr. SNELL. The jurisdiction of the Committee on Mileage is transferred to the Committee on Accounts. At the present time there is nothing definite in mind beyond what has already been taken care of.

Mr. LANHAM. I call to mind one committee which has had occasional meetings and which has had some business before it in the last few sessions of Congress. I refer to the Committee on Industrial Arts and Expositions. While it is not anticipated that anything will arise with reference to that particular committee in the near future, yet something may. Should not the jurisdiction of that committee be transferred to the jurisdiction of some other committee of the House?

Mr. SNELL. That question has been discussed somewhat, and if in the future we find that there is need to transfer its jurisdiction to some other committee, that will be done.

Mr. EDWARDS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. Yes.

Mr. EDWARDS. How have the committee assignments been divided with respect to the majority and minority committees—the 23 and the 21 Members?

Mr. SNELL. I suppose exactly the same as they always have been divided. The Committee on Rules has nothing to do with that; that is a matter for the Committee on Committees.

Mr. EDWARDS. Has the committee given any attention to the consolidation of the Election Committees?

Mr. SNELL. Our original program was to consolidate them; but the one remaining chairman—that is, the chairman of Elections No. 1, that was not to be abolished—made such a good case for retaining all of them for them that we finally decided it was better to keep the whole three.

Mr. CHINDBLOM. Mr. Speaker, if any such question arises as that suggested by the gentleman from Texas [Mr. LANHAM], the Speaker will always refer the bills to the committee which he believes has jurisdiction of the subject matter of the bills. The Speaker can determine the question when the question is presented.

Mr. LAGUARDIA. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. Yes.

Mr. LAGUARDIA. Is the reason for abolishing the Committee on Alcoholic Liquor Traffic, of which I had the honor to be a member, based on the fact that the Committee on Rules is convinced that there is no more traffic in liquor?

Mr. SNELL. I do not know that we looked for any reason for abolishing it, for everyone knows it has nothing to do now.

Mr. BLANTON. Mr. Speaker, in the Sixty-ninth Congress the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MOORE] introduced a rule to abolish the 11 committees on expenditures. That rule was pending before the Committee on Rules for two years. I congratulate the Committee on Rules and the gentleman from New York [Mr. SNELL] on finally adopting the suggestions made by the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MOORE] to abolish these 11 useless committees.

Mr. KINCHELOE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. Yes.

Mr. KINCHELOE. If I understood the gentleman correctly this committee has increased only two committees from 21 members—the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee and the Committee on the Judiciary?

Mr. SNELL. Yes.

Mr. KINCHELOE. Is there any specific reason why that was done?

Mr. SNELL. It is hard for me to give a specific reason, but I might say that we did it primarily because we were requested by our friends on the Democratic side of the House.

Mr. COOPER of Wisconsin. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from New York permit me to offer an amendment to his resolution?

Mr. SNELL. I do not believe that I could open this to amendment at the present time. If I did, there would be several others who would desire to offer amendments.

Mr. COOPER of Wisconsin. Will the gentleman permit me to state what I wish to propose?

Mr. SNELL. I yield to the gentleman for a question.

Mr. COOPER of Wisconsin. It is to strike out the words "Sixty-ninth," where they appear before the word "Congress," and insert the words "Sixty-eighth." Those rules were very highly complimented by the distinguished Speaker at the conclusion of that session.

Mr. SNELL. He is not entirely responsible for the rules, as you know. Mr. Speaker, this has been unanimously agreed to by the Committee on Rules; also the Committee on Accounts have done a great amount of work on this subject and are earnestly in favor of its adoption.

I am sure the whole proposition is in the interest of better efficiency in the House and will meet the whole-hearted approval of the American people.

I ask for a vote.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

FORMER REPRESENTATIVE HON. GORDON LEE

Mr. CRISP. Mr. Speaker, with genuine sorrow I announce to the House that on November 7 Hon. Gordon Lee, who for 22 years honored Georgia as a Member of this House, passed away at his home in Chickamauga, Ga.

Mr. Lee was one of nature's noblemen, and he loved his fellow man and in return was loved by all who knew him. For the last two years of his life he was practically bedridden; therefore he was not a candidate for reelection to the Seventieth Congress. During his long illness he was bright and cheerful and displayed his usual good fellowship, and was an inspiration to those friends who had the privilege of seeing him.

The citizens of the seventh congressional district always desired to honor him for they knew his worth and character, and they never withheld from him any honor he sought. During his life he served his people lovingly and faithfully, and like Caesar of old his love for them was such that he remembered them in his will. It will undoubtedly interest you, his colleagues who knew and loved him, to know that Mr. Lee left practically his entire fortune of over a million dollars for the founding of a high school in Chickamauga, Ga., for the education of mountain boys and girls. Under the provisions of the will a trust fund was created for the purpose of lending money to them to enable them to obtain an education to equip themselves for citizenship. Thus, while his physical day of earthly usefulness is ended, his loving act will for many years to come go on. Verily, "The good men do lives after them."

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. LEATHERWOOD, by unanimous consent (at the request of Mr. COLTON), was granted leave of absence for five days on account of sickness.

SENATE

TUESDAY, December 6, 1927

The Chaplain, Rev. Z. Barney T. Phillips, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, who in the former time didst lead our fathers forth into a wealthy place, give Thy grace, we humbly beseech Thee, to us their children, that we may always approve ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land, defend our liberties, preserve our unity. Save us from violence, discord, and confusion, from pride and arrogance, and from every evil way. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those with whom we intrust in Thy name the authority of governance. In our prosperity fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble suffer not our trust in Thee to fail; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL MESSAGE

Mr. Latta, one of the secretaries of the President, was announced and said:

Mr. President, I am directed by the President of the United States to deliver to the Senate a message in writing.

The message was received by the Assistant Doorkeeper [C. A. Loeffler] and handed to the Vice President.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The Chair lays before the Senate a message from the President of the United States, which will be read.

The Chief Clerk read the message, as follows:

MEMBERS OF THE CONGRESS: It is gratifying to report that for the fourth consecutive year the state of the Union in general is good. We are at peace. The country as a whole has had a prosperity never exceeded. Wages are at their highest range, employment is plentiful. Some parts of agriculture and industry have lagged; some localities have suffered from storm and flood. But such losses have been absorbed without serious detriment to our great economic structure. Stocks of goods are moderate and a wholesome caution is prevalent. Rates of interest for industry, agriculture, and government have been reduced. Savers and investors are providing capital for new construction in industry and public works. The purchasing power of agriculture has increased. If the people maintain that confidence which they are entitled to have in themselves, in each other, and in America, a comfortable prosperity will continue.

CONSTRUCTIVE ECONOMY

Without constructive economy in Government expenditures we should not now be enjoying these results or these prospects. Because we are not now physically at war, some people are disposed to forget that our war debt still remains. The Nation must make financial sacrifices, accompanied by a stern self-denial in public expenditures, until we have conquered the disabilities of our public finance. While our obligation to veterans and dependents is large and continuing, the heavier burden of the national debt is being steadily eliminated. At the end of this fiscal year it will be reduced from about $26,600,000,000 to about $17,975,000,000. Annual interest, including war savings, will have been reduced from $1,055,000,000 to $870,000,000. The sacrifices of the people, the economy of the Government, are showing remarkable results. They should be continued for the purpose of relieving the Nation of the burden of interest and debt and releasing revenue for internal improvements and national development.

Not only the amount but the rate of Government interest has been reduced. Callable bonds have been refunded and paid, so that during this year the average rate of interest on the present public debt for the first time fell below 4 per cent. Keeping the credit of the Nation high is a tremendously profitable operation.

TAX REDUCTION

The immediate fruit of economy and the retirement of the public debt is tax reduction. The annual saving in interest between 1925 and 1929 is $212,000,000. Without this no bill to relieve the taxpayers would be worth proposing. The three measures already enacted leave our Government revenues where they are not oppressive. Exemptions have been increased until 115,000,000 people make but 2,500,000 individual taxable returns, so that further reduction should be mainly for the purpose of
