RULERS OF THE SENATE

Mr. ANDERSON. Mr. President, jointly with Senators Ives, Lehman, Tohey, Green, Humphrey, Hendrickson, Nye, DuPont, Pastore, Kilgore, Murray, Mansfield, Magnuson, Jackson, Douglas, Kennedy, Morse, and Hunt, in accordance with article 1, section 5, of the Constitution of the United States, which declares that "Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings," I now move that the Senate take up for immediate consideration the adoption of rules for the Senate of the Eighty-third Congress.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The Senator has read the motion, but if he will send it to the desk, it will be stated by the clerk.

Mr. ANDERSON. I send the motion to the desk.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

Mr. ANDERSON, jointly with Messrs. Ives, Lehman, Tohey, Green, Humphrey, Hendrickson, Nye, DuPont, Pastore, Kilgore, Murray, Mansfield, Magnuson, Jackson, Douglas, Kennedy, Morse, and Hunt, makes the following motion: "In accordance with article 1, section 5, of the Constitution which declares that "Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings." I now move that this body take up for immediate consideration the adoption of rules for the Senate of the Eighty-third Congress."

DEATH OF SENATOR MCMAHON, OF CONNECTICUT

Mr. TAFT. Mr. President, there is involved a question as to whether the motion just submitted by the Senator from Ohio is in order. I suggest that the Senate adjourn until Tuesday, and the senior Senator from Connecticut (Mr. Bush) is prepared to offer a motion to that effect.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The Senator from Ohio is not making such a motion now, is he?

Mr. TAFT. No. Is there any further business to be transacted before adjournment?

The VICE PRESIDENT. There is a resolution which will be offered in regard to the late Senator from Connecticut (Mr. Bush) is prepared to offer a motion to that effect.

Mr. TAFT. The senior Senator from Connecticut will offer the resolution.

Mr. BUSH. Mr. President, I offer the resolution which I send to the desk, and ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The resolution will be read.

The resolution (S. Res. 10) was read, and the Senate, by unanimous consent, proceeded to its consideration, as follows:

Resolved, That the Senate has heard with profound sorrow and deep regret the announcement of the death of Hon. Brien McMahon, late a Senator from the State of Connecticut.

Resolved, That the Secretary communicate these resolutions to the House of Representatives and transmit them to the family of the deceased.

Mr. BUSH. Mr. President, Senator McMahon was Connecticut's outstanding statesman of modern times. He was respected not only in his State, but elsewhere, by members of both parties. In fact, in 1950 it was the Republicans in Connecticut who sent Senator McMahon back to the United States Senate for his second term.

No son of Connecticut has attained such recognition, both nationally and internationally, as did Senator McMahon while he was a Member of the Senate. This was probably because certain measures which he sponsored in this body had tremendous appeal to the minds and hearts of millions of people, both at home and abroad.

For these reasons, I join with my colleagues, on my first day as a Member of the Senate, in paying tribute to the memory of my highly distinguished predecessor, the late Senator Brien McMahon, of Connecticut.

Mr. PURTELL. Mr. President—

Mr. TAFT. Mr. President, I do not wish to raise the point of order that no debate is in order. A time will be set aside in the near future for memorials to the late Senator McMahon. However, I certainly would not wish to interfere with the desire of the other Senator from Connecticut to make a brief statement, with unanimous consent of the Senate.

The VICE PRESIDENT. Without objection, the Senator from Connecticut is recognized.

Mr. PURTELL. Mr. President, it is with a feeling of deep personal loss that I join with my colleagues from Connecticut in offering tribute to the memory of the late Senator Brien McMahon, who passed away at the death of the late Senator Harris McMahon, of Connecticut. It is most fitting that at the opening of this important session of Congress we recognize the great loss suffered by Connecticut, by our Nation, and by the world because of the death of Senator McMahon.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

The resolution was unanimously agreed to.

Mr. BUSH. Mr. President, as a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased Senator, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday next.

The motion was unanimously agreed to; and (at 1 o'clock and 5 minutes p.m.) the Senate adjourned until Tuesday, January 6, 1953, at 12 o'clock meridian.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SATURDAY, JANUARY 3, 1953

This being the day fixed by the twentieth amendment of the Constitution for the annual meeting of the Congress of the United States, the Members of the House of Representatives of the Eighty-third Congress met in their Hall, and at 12 o'clock noon were called to order by the Speaker of Representatives, Hon. Ralph Roberts.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Bernard Braskamp, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Thou infinite and eternal God, in this first meeting of the Eighty-third Congress, we are humbly beseeching Thee that daily we may be guided and sustained by Thy divine spirit in our high vocation as the chosen representatives of our great Republic.

Grant that in all our deliberations and decisions we may bear clear and unmis- takable testimony that we are seeking to do that which is well pleasing unto Thee and imperative and beneficent for the welfare of our beloved country and mankind.

During this new year may it become increasingly evident to men and nations everywhere that the old world of self-interest and self-aggrandizement, of prejudice and hatred, of isolation and greed, is too small for the growing and magnanimous soul of democracy with its spirit of brotherhood and good will, of mutual understanding and service.

May we be those who cultivate and endeavors to cultivate and achieve a social order which incarnates and exemplifies those spiritual ideals and principles that were enunciated by our Magnificent Lord in His Sermon on the Mount.

Hear us as we bow in adoration and unite in offering unto Thee the prayer of the Prince of Peace, our Saviour:

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name; Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven; give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil; for Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

CALL OF THE ROLL

The clerk. Representatives-elect to the Eighty-third Congress, this is the day fixed by the Constitution of the United States for the meeting of the Eighty-third Congress, and as directed by law the Clerk of the House of Representatives has prepared the official roll of Members-elect. STATEMENT REGARDING CERTAIN CREDENTIALS

The Clerk. The Clerk will state that credentials, regular in form, have been received showing the election of Honorable E. L. Bartlett as Delegate from the Territory of Alaska and of the Honorable Joseph R. Farrington as Delegate from the Territory of Hawaii, and of the Honorable A. Pat-Peace-James as Resident Commissioner from the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

The Clerk will state that since the last regular election of Representatives to the Eighty-third Congress, two changes have occurred, and as a result of which vacancies now exist in the Seventh Congressional District of the State of Illinois occasioned by the death of the late Honorable Adolph J. Sabin, and in the Second Congressional District of the State of Georgia occasioned by the death of the late Honorable Eugene E. Cox.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

The Clerk. The next order of business is the election of a Speaker of the House of Representatives. Nominations are now in order.

Mr. HOPE. Mr. Clerk.

The Clerk. The gentleman from Kansas is recognized.

Mr. HOPE. By authority and by direction and by unanimous vote of the Republican Conference, I have the honor to nominate for Speaker of the House of Representatives the Honorable Joseph W. Martin, Jr., as Representative-elect from the State of Massachusetts to the Eighty-third Congress.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. Clerk.

The Clerk. The gentleman from Arkansas is recognized.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. Clerk, as chairman of the Democratic caucus, I am directed by the unanimous vote of that caucus to present for election to the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Eighty-third Congress, the name of the Honorable Sam Rayburn, a Representative-elect from the State of Texas, the Clerk announced the name of the Honorable Joseph W. Martin, Jr., a Representative-elect from the State of Massachusetts, and the Honorable Sam Rayburn, a Representative-elect from the State of Texas, has been placed upon nomination. Are there further nominations? [After a pause.] Are there further nominations? If there are no further nominations, the Clerk will appoint tellers: The gentleman from Iowa [Mr. LeCompte], the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. Stanley], the gentlewoman from Michigan [Miss Thompson], and the gentlewoman from Missouri [Mrs. Sullivan].

The tellers will take their places at the desk in front of the Speaker's rostrum. The roll will now be called, and those responding will indicate by surname the name of the Honorable Speaker. The tellers will please take their places. The roll will now be called, and those present. The gentleman from Massachusetts, Mr. Rayburn, a Representative-elect of the Eighty-third Congress, was escorted to the chair by the committee of escort.

Mr. Rayburn. Members of the House of Representatives, the result of this ballot was not entirely disappointing to me; I had a slight suspicion it was going like it did.

In January 1947, it was my high privilege and my great pleasure to present to you a great man who made a great Speaker of the Eighty-third Congress. Today I come back to present that same great legislator and great American to be Speaker of the House again, temporarily. But in turning over this gavel, I could not turn it over to a man for whom I have a greater respect or more admiration.

He is going to be fair. I have often remarked that it would be pretty hard for the Speaker to make a strong impression if there are 434 besides him, and it might be a little dangerous, especially politically, and it might develop it would be dangerous physically. So today it is a pleasureable privilege that I have in presenting my successor in this high and honorable position. The Speaker of the House of Representatives should be and is the second officer in power in the Government of the United States. One thing I have tried never to forget, and I know that my successor will never forget it, is the dignity of this high office in protecting, defending, and carrying out the rights, the prerogatives, and the privileges of the House of Representatives.

This is a great body that comes each 2 years fresh from the people. We know their wishes. We try to carry them out when they are wise and in the interest of the country.

I am going to stand by this Speaker in procedure because I know he is going to make proper and fair use of this gavel. I am glad to present him to you because for many, many years we have been close personal friends. He is a man of the type and character who will carry on the high traditions and the office rights, the Speaker's forum · pleasurable, and the prerogatives, and the privileges of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Martin. Massachusetts, Mr. Rayburn, and the gentleman from Massachusetts, Mr. McCormack.

Doorkeeper announced the Speaker-elect of the House of Representatives of the Eighty-third Congress, who was escorted to the chair by the committee of escort.

Mr. Rayburn. Members of the House of Representatives, the result of this ballot was not entirely disappointing to me; I had a slight suspicion it was going like it did.
And when I speak of love and affection for this House, I must say to you that none among us can pay it greater devotion than the man who has so generously presented me to the House, the Honorable Sam Rayburn. Forty years of his life have been spent in serving his country unselfishly, faithfully, and honorably. He has served as Speaker longer than any other man in history. The gavel of this House has never passed from the hand of a nobler man than the gentleman from Texas.

This Eighty-third Congress convenes under a new order. For the first time in 20 years a Republican President is about to take office. The Republican Party is again the majority party in both the Senate and this House. To my Democratic colleagues, I must say I trust you will assume the duties of the majority that only a few months ago we ourselves were the minority party, yet you treated us with the respect that any part of the great two-party system. We shall do as well. To you now falls the mantle of the great two-party system. We shall do as the executive branch. Too often the members of our party have spurned the executive branch. Today, which was established a number of years ago, the Chair will now ask all Members to rise and take the oath of office.

The Members and Delegates-elect rose, and the Speaker administered to them the oath of office.

SWEARING IN OF MEMBERS

The SPEAKER. According to the custom, which was established a number of years ago, the Chair will now ask all Members to rise and take the oath of office.

Mr. REED of New York then administered the oath of office to Mr. MARTIN of Massachusetts.

MAJORITY LEADER

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. Rayburn). Mr. REED. Mr. Speaker, as chairman of the Republican conference, I am directed by that conference to officially notify the House that the gentleman from Indiana, Hon. Charles A. Hatfield, has been selected as majority leader of the House.

MINORITY LEADER

Mr. MILLS. Mr. Speaker, as chair­man of the Democratic caucus, I have been elected to be minority leader of the House. The Democratic Members have selected as minority leader the gentleman from Texas, Hon. Sam Rayburn.

ELECTION OF CLERK, SERGEANT AT ARMS, DOORKEEPER, POST­MASTER, AND CHAPLAIN

Mr. REED. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution (H. Res. 1), which I send to the desk, and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

Resolved, That Lyte O. Snader, of the State of Illinois, be, and he is hereby, chosen Clerk of the House of Representatives;
THE Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That a committee of three Members be appointed from each House of Representatives to join with a committee on the part of the Senate to notify the President of the United States that a quorum of each House has been assembled, and that Congress is ready to receive any communication that he may be pleased to make.

The resolution was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as members of the committee on the part of the House to join a committee on the part of the Senate to notify the President of the United States that a quorum of each House has been assembled, and that Congress is ready to receive any communication that he may be pleased to make, the following gentlemen: Mr. Hat­leck, Mr. Simpson of Pennsylvania, Mr. Ray­burn.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A message from the Senate, by Mr. Carroll, one of its clerks, announced that the Senate had passed a concurrent resolution providing for a joint session of the two Houses on January 6, 1953, to count the electoral votes for President and Vice-President of the United States.

The message also announced that the Senate had adopted the following resolutions:

Senate Resolution 1

Resolved, That a committee consisting of two Senators and two Representatives is of, or appointed by the House of Representatives to wait upon the President of the United States and to inform him that a quorum of each House is assembled and that Congress is ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

Senate Resolution 2

Resolved, That the Secretary inform the House of Representatives that a quorum of the Senate is assembled and that the Senate is ready to proceed to business.

Senate Resolution 3

Resolved, That the House of Representa­tives be notified of the election of Hon. Styles Bauder, a Senator of the State of New Hampshire, as President of the Senate pro tempore, and of J. Mark Twiss, of Maryland, as Secretary of the Senate.

Senate Resolution 10

Resolved, That the Senate has heard with profound sorrow and deep regret the an­nouncement of the death of Hon. Bann Mc­Mahan, late a Senator from the State of Con­necticut.

Resolved, That the Secretary communicate these resolutions to the House of Representa­tives and transmit a copy thereof to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, That as a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, the Senate do adjourn until 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday next.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF THE ASSEMBLY OF THE CONGRESS

Mr. HALLECK. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution (H. Res. 3), which I tend to the desk, and ask for its immediate con­sideration.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the Clerk be instructed to inform the President of the United States that the House of Representatives has elected Joseph W. Martin, Jr., a Representative from the State of Massachusetts, Speaker, and Lyle O. Snader, a citizen of the State of Illinois, Clerk of the House of Representa­tives of the Eighty-third Congress.

The resolution was agreed to.

ADOPTION OF RULES FOR THE EIGHTY-THIRD CONGRESS

Mr. ALLEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution (H. Res. 8).

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the following be, and they are hereby, adopted as the rules of the Eighty-third Congress:

RULE I

DUTIES OF THE SPEAKER

1. The Speaker shall take the chair on every legislative day precisely at the hour to which the House shall have adjourned at the last sitting, immediately call the Members to order, and announce a quorum of the House, or cause the Journal of the proceed­ings of the last day's sitting to be read, if the same has been previously examined and approved by the House.

2. He shall preserve order and decorum, and shall be the judge whether a breach of decorum shall be taking place in the galleries, in the lobby, or in any other part of the House; and shall have power to issue orders, and to act accordingly, for the orderly con­duct in the galleries, or in the lobby, may cause the same to be cleared.

3. He shall have general control, except as provided by rule or law, of the Hall of the House, and of the corridors and passages and the disposal of the unappropriated rooms in the part of the Capitol assigned to the use of the House, until further order.

4. He shall sign all acts, addresses, joint resolutions, and orders of the House, which are, or on the order of the House, and shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal by any Member, on which appeal no Member shall speak more than once, unless by permission of the House.

5. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting; and shall put questions in this form, to wit: "As many as are in favor (as the question may be), say Aye!" and after the affirmative voice is expressed, "As many as are opposed, say No!"; if he doubts, or a division is called for, the House shall adjourn until the next day, when the question shall first rise from their seats, and then those in the negative; if he still doubts, on a count of the House, a quorum of one-fourth of a quorum, he shall name one from each side of the question to tell the Members in the affirmative and negative; which being reported, he shall rise and state the decision.

6. He shall not be required to vote in ordi­nary legislative proceedings, except when his vote would be decisive, or where the House is engaged in voting by ballot; and in cases of a tie vote the Speaker shall be lost.

7. He shall have the right to name any Member to perform the duties of the Chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond the legislative day upon which the Member was appointed.

8. That in case of illness, he may make such appointment for a period not exceeding 10 days, with the approval of the House and the time the same is made; and in his absence and omission to make such appointment, the House shall proceed to elect a Speaker pro tem­porum to act during his absence.

RULE II

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

There shall be elected by a viva voce vote, at the commencement of the session, to the House in office until their successors are chosen and qualified, a Clerk, Sergeant at Arms, Doorkeeper, Postmaster, and Chaplain, each of whom shall take an oath to support the Constitution of the United States, and for the true and faithful discharge of the duties of his office, to the best of his knowledge, and to keep the secrets of the House; and each shall appoint all of the employees of his department provided for by law.

Rule III

DUTIES OF THE CLERK

1. The Clerk shall, at the commencement of the first session of Congress, call the attendance of the Members to order, proceed to call the roll of Members by States in alphabetical order, and, in the temporary absence of the Speaker pro tempore, preserve order and decorum, and decide all questions of order subject to appeal by any Member.

2. The Clerk shall cause to be printed and delivered to each Member, or mailed to his address, at the commencement of every regular session of Congress, a list of the reports which it is the duty of any officer or department to make to Congress, referring to the act or resolution and page of the volume of the laws or Journal in which it may be contained, and placing under the name of each Member the dates of reports required of him to be made.

3. He shall note all questions of order, with their decisions, the names of the Members of which shall be printed as an appendix to the Journal of each session, and, as soon as the session is adjourned, return in the library at his office, for the use of the Members and officers of the House, and not to be withdrawn therefrom, two copies of all the books and printed documents deposited there; send, at the end of each session, a printed copy of the Journal thereto and the minutes of the meeting of the legislature of every State and Territory; preserve for and deliver or mail to each Member and Delegate an extra copy, in good binding, of all documents printed by order of either House of Congress to which he belonged; attest and affix the seal of the House to all writs, warrants, and subpensas issued by order of the House, certify to the passage of all bills and joint resolutions, make or approve all contracts, bargains, or agreements relative to furnishing any matter or thing, or for the performance of any labor or service, entered on the journals, or in pursuance of law or order of the House, keep full and accurate accounts of the disbursments made of the moneys received by the House, keep the stationary account of Members and Delegates, and pay them as provided by law. He shall pay to the officers and employees of the Clerk the wages and salaries of the members as provided by law.

4. He shall, in case of temporary absence or disability, designate an official in his office to sign all papers that may require the official signature of the Clerk of the House, and to do all other acts, except such as are provided for by statute, that may be required under the laws or rules of the House to be done by the Clerk. Such official acts, when so done by the designated official, shall be under the same authority as if done by the Clerk of the House. The said designation shall be in writing, and shall be laid before the House and entered on the Journal.

Rule IV

DUTIES OF THE DOOKER

2. The symbol of his office shall be the mace, which shall be borne by him while enforcing order on the floor.

Rule V

DUTIES OF THE POSTMASTER

The Postmaster shall superintend the post office kept in the Capitol and House of Representatives, Delegates, and officers of the House, and be held responsible for the prompt and safe delivery of their mail.

Rule VI

DUTIES OF THE CHAPLAIN

The Chaplain shall attend at the commencement of each day's sitting of the House and open the same with prayer.

Rule VII

DUTIES OF THE MEMBERS

1. Every Member shall be present within the Hall of the House during its sittings, unless excused or necessarily prevented, and shall vote on each question put, unless he has a direct personal or pecuniary interest in the event of such question.

2. Pairs shall be announced by the Clerk, after the completion of the second roll call, from a written list furnished him, and signed by the Member making the statement for, and the Member to whom the statement is addressed. A Member shall be responsible to the House for any statement made for, or on his behalf, which is in error; and all such statements shall be published in the Report as a part of the proceedings, immediately following the names of those not voting, and the Member making the same shall be held liable for the amount for which he shall be held responsible, but once during the same legislative day.

Rule VIII

QUESTIONS OF PRIVILEGE

Questions of privilege shall be, first, those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; second, the rights, reputation, and conduct of Members, individually, in their representative capacity only; and shall have precedence of all other questions, except motions to adjourn.

Rule IX

STANDING COMMITTEES

1. There shall be elected by the House, at the commencement of each Congress, the following standing committees:

(a) Committee on Agriculture, to consist of 27 members.

(b) Committee on Appropriations, to consist of 43 members.

(c) Committee on Armed Services, to consist of 33 members.

(c) Life insurance issued by the Government on account of service in the Armed Forces.
(d) Pensions of all the wars of the United States, general and special.
(e) Adjutant general.
18. Committee on Ways and Means.
(a) Customs, collection districts, and ports of entry and delivery.
(b) Internal security.
(c) Reciprocal trade agreements.
(d) Revenue measures generally.
(e) Revenue measures relating to the Inland Revenue.
(f) The bonded debt of the United States.
(g) The deposit of public moneys.
(h) Transportation and war risks.
20. The following-named committees shall have leave to report at any time on the matters herein stated, namely: The Committee on Appropriations—on the general appropriation bills; the Committee on House Administration—on the rights of a Member to his seat, enrolling bills, and the rejection or return of printing for the use of the House or the Senate; and on all matters of expenditure contained in the contingent fund of the House; the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs—on bills for the forcible disposal of lands granted to railroad companies, and other lands, and for preventing speculation in the public lands; the Committee on Public Works—on bills authorizing the improvement of rivers and harbors; the Committee on Rules—on rules, joint rules, and order of business; the Committee on Veterans' Affairs—on general pension bills; the Committee on Ways and Means—on bills raising revenue.
21. It shall always be in order to call up for consideration a report from the Committee on Rules (except joint rules) and for consideration on the same day it is presented to the House, unless so determined by the Speaker if less than five Members voting, but this provision shall not apply during the last 3 days of the session, and, pending the consideration thereof, the Speaker may entertain any motion that the House adjourn; but after the result is announced he shall not entertain any other dilatory motion until the said report shall have been fully disposed of. The Committee on Rules shall not report any rule or order which shall provide that business under paragraph 7 of rule XXIV shall be set aside by a vote of less than two-thirds of the Members voting; nor shall it report any rule or order which shall provide that any committee shall recommit a bill to the committee of the whole House without direction to the committee to report the bill under the original title: and the motion to recommit being made as provided in paragraph 4 of rule XVI.

22. The Committee on Rules shall present to the House reports concerning rules, joint rules, and order of business, within three days of such time when ordered reported by the committee or signed by the Speaker; and if order is not considered immediately, it shall be referred to the calendar and, if not called up by the Member making the request within the seven legislative days thereafter, any member of the Rules Committee may call it up at any time. Before any report shall be presented to the House, the member designated on the committee shall recognize any member of the Rules Committee seeking recognition for that purpose.

If the Committee on Rules shall make an adverse report on any resolution pending before the committee, providing for an orderly consideration of the House of any public bill or joint resolution, on days when it shall be in order to call up motions to discharge committees it shall be in order for the Speaker to take up such bills for consideration by the House and such jurisdiction of such committee; and, for that purpose, shall study all pertinent reports and direct the discharge of the subcommittee or committee in the executive branch of the Government.

27. (a) Each standing committee (other than the Committee on Appropriations) is authorized to appoint by a majority vote of the committee not more than four professional staff members in addition to the clerical staff assigned to the committee by the Clerk without regard to political affiliations and solely on the basis of fitness to perform the duties of the office. Such personnel shall be assigned to the chairman and ranking minority member of such committee as the committee may deem advisable. Services of professional staff members may be terminated by majority vote of the committee. Professional staff members shall: engage in any work other than committee business and no other duties may be assigned to them.

(b) The clerical staff of each standing committee shall be supervised by a member, who shall be the majority vote of the committee, of not more than six clerks, to be attached to the office of the clerk, to the ranking minority member, and to the professional staff, as the committee may deem advisable. The clerical staff of each committee shall correspondence and stenographic work, both for the committee staff and for the chairman and ranking minority member on matters related to committee work.

(c) The professional staff members of the standing committees shall receive annual compensation not to exceed $8,000. Each staff member shall be paid by the clerk of the committee to notify all members of the committee in the usual way of committee meetings.

28. Each committee shall report to the Clerk of the House within 15 days after December 31 of each year the name, profession, and total salary of each member in addition to the committee to report or cause to be reported promptly to the House any bill or joint resolution making the amendment of the House whereby the bill or joint resolution may be amended, showing by stricken-through type and italics, parallel columns, or otherwise, the text of the change or deletion and the omissions and insertions proposed to be made.

29. No committee of the House, except as provided in clause 25, shall order a roll call except the on the absence of a majority of the members present or when a committee is in session.

30. No committee shall report amendments to a bill or joint resolution unless the amendment is proposed by a majority vote of the committee.

RULE XII
DELEGATES AND RESIDENT COMMISSIONER
The Resident Commissioner to the United States from Puerto Rico shall be elected to serve as additional members on the Committees on Agriculture, Naval Affairs, and Appropriations, and shall have the same powers and privileges as the House in the House of Representatives, and may make any motion except to reconsider.
been had thereon; and if it shall extend beyond 1 day, he shall be entitled to 1 hour to vote, notwithstanding he may have used and said more than once on the same question. 4. If any Member, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker may call the attention of any Member to order; in which case he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted, on motion of another Member to continue it. If that motion be allowed, he shall be liberty to proceed, but not otherwise; and, if the case require it, he shall be liable to censure or such punishment as the House may think proper. 5. If a Member is called to order for words spoken in debate, the Member calling him to order shall indicate the words excepted to,
and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk’s desk and read aloud to the House;
but he shall not be held to answer, nor be subject to the censure of the House therefor, if further debate or other business has interrupted their debate. 6. No Member shall speak more than once on the same question, without leave of the House, unless he be the mover, proposer, or incumbent in the case. 7. If any Member asks to be allowed to speak again, in the case of a pres­ tent action by unanimous voting, if a quorum be present, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it is to be determined. On any other question, any two Members may be appointed to ascertain whether a quorum is present; if the question is one in which a majority of the Members may be present, but not otherwise; and, if further debate or other business has interrupted their debate, the privilege of speaking again may be allowed, but shall not be allowed if the question is one in which a majority of the Members may be present, but not otherwise. 8. Pending a motion to suspend the rules, the Speaker may call the attention of any Member to order; but after the result thereon is announced he shall not entertain a motion till the vote is taken on suspension.
of amendments of the senate

1. any amendment of the senate to any house bill shall be subject to the point of order, it shall be considered by the committee of the whole house on the state of the union if, originating in the house, it shall be referred to a committee of the whole house on the state of the union by the speaker. amendment shall be made by the whole house on the state of the union, and that no amendment be made to any bill or resolution, authorizing or directing (1) the payment of money for property damages, for personal injuries or death for which suit may be instituted under the tort claims procedure as provided for in section 271 of title 28, United States code, for a pension (other than to carry out a provision of law or treaty stipulation); (2) the construction of a bridge across a navigable stream; or (3) the construction of a military or naval record, shall be received or considered in the house by a separate vote on every such amendment. resolution shall be put upon its passage.

2. no amendment of the senate to a general appropriation bill which would be in violation of the provisions of clause 2 of rule XXII, if said amendment had originated in the house, nor any amendment of the senate providing for an appropriation upon any bill other than a general appropriation bill, shall be agreed to by the managers on the part of the house unless specific authority to agree thereto shall be first given by the house. that the question to be ordered to come before the house unless it has been inappropriately referred may, by the direction of the committee of the whole house, be referred to a joint committee of the whole house without debate. when a bill is reported from a committee of the whole house with an adverse recommendation and such recommendation is disagreed to by the house, the bill shall be referred to the committee of the whole house without debate. whenever a bill is reported from a committee of the whole house with an adverse recommendation and such recommendation is disagreed to by the house, the bill shall stand recommitted to the said committee without further action by the house, but before the question of concurrence is submitted it is in order to entertain a motion to refer the bill to any committee, with or without instructions, and when the same is again reported to the house it shall be referred to the committee of the whole house without debate.

4. no bill, memorial, or resolution may, in like manner, be delivered, entered upon the journal, and printed in the recorn, if, originating in the house, it shall be subject to the previous question, and that the question be: shall the bill be engrossed and read a third time? and, if decided in the affirmative, it shall be read the third time by the reading clerk. in full, if demanded by a member, and the question shall then be put upon its passage. 5. any request for a memorand or private bill excluded under this rule shall be returned to the member from whom it was received; which request being made, it shall be referred by the committee of the whole house on the state of the union to the house committee on the subject matter of such amendment, which amendment being germane to the subject matter of the bill shall be considered by such committee. the proceedings of a committee to any committee, with or without instructions, and when the same is again reported to the house it shall be referred to the committee of the whole house without debate.

6. all other bills, memorials, and resolutions may, in like manner, be delivered, entered upon the journal, and printed in the recorn, if, originating in the house, it shall be subject to the previous question, and that the question be: shall the bill be engrossed and read a third time? and, if decided in the affirmative, it shall be read the third time by the reading clerk. in full, if demanded by a member, and the question shall then be put upon its passage. 7. all resolutions of inquiry addressed to the heads of executive departments shall be reported to the house within 1 week after presentation. 8. when a bill, resolution, or memorial is introduced "by request," these words shall be entered upon the journal and printed in the recorn. 9. no bill or joint resolution carrying appropriation shall be reported by any committee not having jurisdiction to report appropriations, nor shall an amendment proposing an appropriation be in order during the consideration of a bill not or joint resolution reported by a committee not having that jurisdiction. these words shall be entered upon the journal and printed in the recorn. 10. all motions or propositions involving a tax or charge upon the people, all proceedings to inquire into the propriety or to inquire into the propriety of appropriations of money or property, or requiring such appropriation to be made, or authorizing payments out of appropriations already made, or releasing any liability of the united states for money or property, or referring any suit or claim, shall be first considered in a committee of the whole house, and a point of order under this rule shall be good at any time before the consideration of a bill has commenced. 11. in committees of the whole house business, their calendar and any order of the day, if, originating in the house, it shall be considered by the committee of the whole house on the state of the union if, originating in the house, it shall be referred to a committee of the whole house on the state of the union for more than the fourth and last three days.
disposed of as the House may determine, as may also Senate bills substantially the same as House bills already favorably reported by a committee, and not required to be considered in Committee of the Whole, be disposed of in the same manner on motion directed to be made by such committee, except as to the time of day, the hour of adjournment, the business in which the House may be engaged at an adjournment, except business in the meantime determined as not to take the business on the Speaker's table is finished, and at the same time each day thereafter as the House may determine. The disposal of all other unfinished business shall be resumed whenever the class of business to which it belongs shall be in order under the rules.

4. After the unfinished business has been disposed of, the Speaker shall call each standing committee in regular order, and then select committees, and each committee when named may call up for consideration any bill reported by it on a previous day and on the House Calendar, and if the Speaker shall not complete the call of the committees before the House shall have had opportunity to call the Standing Calendar, the Speaker may direct the Clerk to call the bills and resolutions therein contained or referred to be considered by the House as a separate and distinct bill or resolution.

7. On Wednesday of each week no business shall be in order except as provided by paragraph 4 of this rule, unless the House by a two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith shall otherwise determine. On such motion there may be debate not to exceed 5 minutes for and against. On a call of committees under this rule bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules; but bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union, and on the Union Calendar, while the House is in the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union to consider a particular bill, such amendment as the designating another bill, may be made; and if either motion be determined in the negative, and further motion in order to make another motion again until the disposal of the matter under consideration or discussion.

6. On the first Tuesday of each month after adjournment of the House, the Speaker shall direct the Clerk to call the bills and resolutions on the Private Calendar. Should objection be made by two or more Members to the consideration of any bill or resolution so called, it shall be recommitted to the committee which reported the bill or resolution called up and no reservation of objection shall be entertained by the Speaker. Such bills and resolutions shall be recommitted in the House as in the Committee of the Whole. No other business shall be in order on this day unless the House, by a two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith, shall otherwise determine. On such motion debate shall be limited to 5 minutes for and 5 minutes against and motions.

On the third Tuesday of each month after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, the Speaker shall direct the Clerk to call the bills and resolutions on the Private Calendar. Should objection be made by two or more Members to the consideration of any bill or resolution so called, it shall be recommitted to the committee which reported the bill or resolution called up and no reservation of objection shall be entertained by the Speaker. Such bills and resolutions shall be recommitted in the House as in the Committee of the Whole. Should objection be made by two or more Members to the consideration of any bill or resolution other than an omnibus bill, it shall be recommitted to the committee which reported the bill or resolution and no reservation of objection shall be entertained by the Speaker.
immediate consideration of such bill or resolution, it shall be referred to its proper calendar, and shall have the same precedence, so far as relates to the same matter, as other bills and resolutions relating in substance to or dealing with the same subject matter, or from the Committee on Rules a motion to discharge shall be res adjudicata for the remainder of that session of Congress. Provided further, That if before any one motion to discharge a committee has been acted upon by the House there are on the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees other motions relating to or dealing with the same subject matter, or from the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees and not acted on during the remainder of the session of Congress.

RULE XXXVIII
CONFERENCE REPORTS
1. (a) The presentation of reports of committees of conference shall always be in conference report when the Journal is being read and while the roll is being called, or the House is dividing on any proposition.
(b) After House conferences on any bill or resolution are between the House and Senate shall have been appointed for 36 hours without having made a report. Nothing in this section shall apply to any report of a detailed statement sufficiently explicit to inform the House what effect such amendments will have upon the measures to which they relate.
2. It shall not be in order to consider the report of a committee of conference until such report and the accompanying statement shall have been printed in the Record, except on either of the 6 days preceding the end of session.
3. Whenever a disagreement to an amendment in the nature of a substitute has been communicated to the House it shall be in order for the managers on the part of the House to propose a substitute which is a modification of the matter in disagreement, but their report shall not include matter not communicated to the committee by either House.

RULE XXXIX
DIRECT EXPENSE
Whenever confidential communications are received from the President of the United States, or whenever the Speaker or any Member of the House may desist that his communications which he believes ought to be kept secret for the present, the House shall be cleared of all persons except the Members and their clerks, so continued during the reading of such communications, the debates and proceedings thereon, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

RULE XXX
READING OF PAPERS
When the reading of a paper other than one upon which a final vote is demanded, and the same is objected to by any Member, it shall be deter

RULE XXXI
HALL OF THE HOUSE
The Hall of the House shall be used only for the purposes of the House, and for the public business and ceremonial occasions.
on the first ballot the ballots shall be repeated until a majority be obtained; and in all baldieing blanks shall be rejected and not taken into account in enumeration of votes or reported by the tellers.

RULE XXXIX MESSAGES

Messages received from the Senate and the President of the United States, giving notice of bills passed or approved, shall be entered in the Journal and published in the Record of that day's proceedings.

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

Estimates of appropriations and all other communications from the executive departments, intended for the consideration of any committees of the House, shall be addressed to the Speaker, and by him referred as provided by clause 3 of rule XXIV.

RULE XI QUALIFICATIONS OF OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

No person shall be an officer of the House, or continue in its employment, who shall be an agent for the prosecution of any claim against the United States, or be interested in any claim otherwise than as an original claimant; and it shall be the duty of the Committee on House Administration to look into and report to the House any isolation of this rule.

RULE XLII GENERAL PROVISIONS

The rules of parliamentary practice compiled in Jefferson's Manual and the provisions of the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946, as amended, shall govern the House in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the House and Joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Mr. EBERHARTER (interrupting reading of resolution). Mr. Speaker, may I ask the Clerk to read in full paragraph 2 (c) of rule 11.

Mr. JAVITS. Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. JAVITS. Mr. Speaker, would an appeal to rule 11 be in order after the rule is read?

The SPEAKER. No amendments will be in order until the resolution is read in its entirety. Then I presume if the gentleman from Illinois moves the previous question none will be in order unless the previous question is voted down. The Clerk continued the reading of the resolution.

Mr. ALLEN of Illinois (interrupting the reading of the resolution). Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the previous question be moved to rule 11 in order after the rule is read.

The SPEAKER. The question is on ordering the previous question.

Mr. JAVITS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The question is on ordering the previous question.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, before I move it I wonder if the Chair would indulge me to inquire of the gentleman from Illinois whether or not he will yield for the purpose of offering an amendment.

Mr. ALLEN of Illinois. I will not yield for the purpose.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order then that it is not in order for the gentleman from Illinois to offer a resolution unless he explains the resolution or permits debate on it before moving the previous question. In other words, in presenting a resolution there must be debate on it before the previous question is put.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would invite the attention of the gentleman from Pennsylvania to the fact that what we are trying to establish is the rules of the House, and the question now is on the previous question offered by the gentleman from Illinois. The Chair overrules the point of order.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order then that this House not having adopted any rules governing the Eighty-third Congress, the gentleman has no right to offer the previous question, so that debate can be had on the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Under the practice established over the years, the motion for the previous question is in order. The Chair holds and overrules the point of order.

The question is on ordering the previous question.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I submit a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, are we proceeding now under the rules we are going to adopt later, and which have not yet been adopted? Under what rules is the House proceeding, or is it proceeding under any rules?

The SPEAKER. The House is proceeding under the general parliamentary rules we have had for many years.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, a further parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, if the rules are not adopted today and the question goes over until next week, if the rules are not adopted today, will there be any parliamentary rules that have not yet been adopted by the Eighty-third Congress?

The SPEAKER. If the rules were not adopted today, we would proceed as we are at this very moment, under general parliamentary law.

Mr. CELLER. Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. CELLER. Mr. Speaker, do I correctly understand that the parliamentary situation is that if the motion for the previous question is not voted down, no opportunity will be given to offer an amendment by way of liberalizing the rules?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman states the situation accurately.

Mr. YATES. Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. YATES. Mr. Speaker, does the resolution offered by the gentleman from Illinois, the further reading of which was dispensed with, contain the rules as they were during the Eighty-second Congress or as they were during the Eighty-third Congress?

The SPEAKER. As they were during the Eighty-second Congress.

Mr. YATES. So that the rules which were in effect during the Eighty-first Congress are not contained in the gentleman's resolution? Is that correct?

The SPEAKER. These are the rules of the Eighty-second Congress.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, a further parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Of course, this matter is very, very important.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appreciates that.

Mr. EBERHARTER. I am not trying to delay the proceedings.

Mr. Halleck. Mr. Speaker, I demand the regular order, and the regular order is the question on the motion for the previous question.

Mr. Mccormack. The Chair can recognize the gentleman from Pennsylvania to submit a parliamentary inquiry, and the Chair is now doing that.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will recognize the gentleman from Pennsylvania.

Mr. EBERHARTER. My parliamentary inquiry is whether or not the House as a body will have any opportunity on the rules of the Eighty-third Congress to amend these rules?

The SPEAKER. Of course, the Chair is neither a clairvoyant nor a prophet, but the rules of the House are always subject to change at the will of the House.

Mr. EBERHARTER. May I ask as a further parliamentary inquiry if a petition to discharge the Committee on Rules from the consideration of an amendment proposed to the rules would have the effect of bringing it to the floor of the House, provided enough signatures were obtained?

The SPEAKER. The Chair cannot foresee that because we have not yet adopted any rules. If the gentleman will submit his inquiry after the rules have been adopted, the Chair will be very glad to answer it.

Mr. EBERHARTER. The Chair means that he will wait to make his ruling under the rules we are going to adopt.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the motion for the previous question.

Mr. CELLER. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were refused.

The motion for the previous question was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the resolution. The resolution was agreed to. A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

MINORITY EMPLOYEES

Mr. Rayburn. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution (H. Res. 6), and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

Resolved, That pursuant to the Legislative Pay Act of 1929, as amended, six minority REPORT ON INCLUSION OF ESCAPE CLAUSES IN TRADE AGREEMENTS—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT TO THE UNITED STATES (H. DOC. NO. 42)

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following communication from the Clerk of the House of Representatives:

The honorable the SPEAKER, House of Representatives.

Sir: I have the honor to transmit herewith, for your information, the enclosed papers. They contain a report on the inclusion of escape clauses in existing trade agreements. Respectfully yours,

Ralph R. Roberts,
Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following communication from the Clerk of the House of Representatives:

The honorable the SPEAKER, House of Representatives.

Sir: I have the honor to transmit herewith, for your information, the enclosed papers. They contain a report on the inclusion of escape clauses in existing trade agreements. Respectfully yours,

Ralph R. Roberts,
Clerk of the House of Representatives.

REPORT ON TRADE AGREEMENT ESCAPE CLAUSES (Pursuant to the Provisions of Section 6 (b) of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951)

Section 6 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951 reads as follows: "(a) No reduction in any rate of duty, or binding of any existing customs or excise treatment, as provided in this Act, shall be permitted unless such reduction or binding shall be consistent with the foreign economic policies of the United States and consistent with the national interest."

(b) The President, as soon as practicable, shall submit to the Congress a report setting forth the escape clauses in existing trade agreements, and shall report to the Congress on the action taken by him under this subsection." 1

Since the report on escape clauses, dated January 10, 1952, was in progress, the President has been unable to report on the action taken by him under this subsection.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following communication from the Clerk of the House of Representatives:

The honorable the SPEAKER, House of Representatives.

Sir: A certificate of election in due form of law, showing the election of the Honorable Garret L. Watkins as a Representative-elect to the Eighty-second Congress from the Second Congressional District of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Honorable John A. Whitaker, has been received and is on file in this office.

Very truly yours,

Ralph R. Roberts,
Clerk of the House of Representatives.

DISCUSSIONS ARE PRESENTLY UNDERWAY BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES AND THE GOVERNMENTS OF SEVERAL COUNTRIES REGARDING THE TRADE AGREEMENTS EXTENSION ACT OF 1951

Discussions are presently underway between the Government of the United States and the Governments of several countries regarding the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951, which proposed section 6 (b), subsection (2), of the Act made applicable to the trade agreements which need further examination, and to the agreements in the supplementary agreement, of an escape clause generally comparable to that provided in the October 13, 1950, Act. Such an escape clause in the Venezuelan agreement would bring it into conformity with section 6 (a) of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951.

The negotiations for a supplementary trade agreement with Venezuela, referred to in the report of January 10, 1952, have been in progress for several months. The United States has requested inclusion in the supplementary agreement a provision that it would become applicable to concessions remaining in the original agreement of December 6, 1934, and in the conventions in the supplementary agreement, of an escape clause generally comparable to the one in the October 13, 1950, Act. Section 11 of the Convention with Switzerland by the agreement of October 13, 1950 (H. Doc. 328, 82d Cong., 2d sess., p. 15), dealing with the inclusion of an escape clause in the Venezuelan agreement would bring it into conformity with section 6 (a) of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951.

The President, as soon as practicable, shall submit to the Congress a report setting forth the escape clauses in existing trade agreements, and shall report to the Congress on the action taken by him under this subsection.

"(b) The President, as soon as practicable, shall submit to the Congress a report setting forth the escape clauses in existing trade agreements, and shall report to the Congress on the action taken by him under this subsection." 1

1 The report of the Senate Committee on Finance, which proposed section 6 in its present form, explained that "the principle of including an escape clause in existing agreements is not mandatory unless such action would be practicable." (See p. 255.)
States are largely tropical products. Imports of most of which result in no, or negligible, competition with United States producers, whereas a relatively high proportion of the concessions granted by the other countries are on products, which compete with domestic production. Furthermore, the Trade Agreements Committee was convinced that an attempt to secure the escape clause will probably lead to the renegotiation of the agreements with these countries and result in a less satisfactory situation than now exists.

Finally, it should be pointed out that all of these three agreements are already subject to unilateral termination, by the United States, on 6 months' notice, pursuant to the requirements of the Trade Agreements Act.

MIDYEAR ECONOMIC REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following communication from the Clerk of the House of Representatives:

The Clerk read as follows:

JULY 19, 1952.

The honorable the Speaker,

The honorable the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Sirs: I have the honor to transmit hereewith an economic report of the President of the United States, received in the office of the Clerk on July 19, 1952, said to contain the midyear economic report of the President of the United States, as required by section 2 (a) of the Employment Act of 1946.

Respectfully yours,

RALPH R. ROBETS,
Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following message from the President of the United States:

On August 23, 1952, the United States signed an agreement with Venezuela which amends and supplements the trade agreement of 1936 between the two countries. In view of a special situation which arose in connection with this agreement, I am submitting the following statement to the Congress:

Subsection (b) of section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951 provides that before entering into negotiations for a trade agreement the President shall submit to the Tariff Commission a list of articles to be considered for specific concessions and that upon receipt of such list "the Commission shall make an investigation and report to the President the findings of the Commission with respect to each such article as to (1) the limit to which such modification, imposition, or continuance may be extended in order to carry out the purpose of such section 356 without causing or threatening serious injury to the domestic industry producing like or directly competitive products; and (2) if increases in duties or additional import restrictions are required to avoid serious injury to the domestic industry producing like or directly competitive products, the other three Commissioners found a rate of 10% of crude petroleum, which was transmitted to Congress to Congress a copy of such agreement, together with a message attached. This agreement contains the midyear economic report of the President of the United States, as required by section 2 (a) of the Employment Act of 1946.

Respectfully yours,

RALPH R. ROBETS,
Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following message from the President of the United States:

In 1950 United States imports from Venezuela of crude petroleum and residual fuel oil amounted to $238 million, or about 8 per cent of our total imports from Venezuela. It is estimated that the 1950 value of trade on which the United States granted improved customs treatment is about $175 million, of which crude petroleum and residual fuel oil new concessions of potential value to Venezuela consist of the binding of existing duty-free entry for iron ore, deposits of which are now being developed.

The new agreement also amends and supplements some of the general provisions of the 1939 agreement. The principal changes are a substantial strengthening of the quota provision so as to safeguard more adequately the value of the reciprocal tariff concessions, an additional reciprocal undertaking with regard to customs formalities, and the inclusion of the standard escape clause in event serious injury should be caused or threatened to domestic industry as a result of the agreement.

As compared to the 1939 agreement, Venezuela grants new or improved concessions on $154 million of imports from the United States in 1950; on $12 million of imports they are withdrawing the 1939 concessions; and on $6 million of imports they apply to imports into Venezuela grants new or improved concessions. This will stimulate considerable new development programs now under way in the Western Hemisphere.

As compared to the 1939 agreement, Venezuela grants new or improved concessions of $154 million of imports from the United States in 1950; on $12 million of imports they are withdrawing the 1939 concessions; and on $6 million of imports they apply to imports into Venezuela grants new or improved concessions.

Thus, when the agreement enters into force, a rate of 5½ cents per barrel will apply to imports into the United States of crude petroleum, topped crude petroleum and fuel oil derived from petroleum which constitutes the greater part of proven oil reserves in the Western Hemisphere.

The supplementary agreement with Venezuela provides for increased trade between the two countries. It will contribute to the security of both countries and will stimulate the development of proven oil reserves in the United States.

There was no objection.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE PRESIDENT

Mr. HALLECK. Mr. Speaker, your committee appointed on the part of the House to join a like committee on the part of the Senate to notify the President of the United States that a quorum of each House has been assembled and is ready to receive any communication that he may be pleased to make has performed that duty. The President of the United States requested that the committee state that he would communicate to the Congress a message in writing on Wednesday next.

AUTHORITY TO DECLARE RECESS ON JANUARY 6

Mr. HALLECK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that on Tuesday, January 6, 1953, it may be in order for the Speaker to declare a recess at any time subject to the call of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. There was no objection.

AUTHORIZING JOINT SESSION TO COUNT ELECTORAL VOTE

Mr. HALLECK. Mr. Speaker, I offer Senate Concurrent Resolution 1.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That the two Houses of Congress shall meet in the Hall of the House of Representatives on Tuesday, the 6th day of January, 1953, at 1 o'clock postmeridian, pursuant to the requirements of the Constitution of the United States, relative to the election of President and Vice President of the United States, and the President of the Senate shall be their presiding officer; that two tellers shall be previously appointed by the President of the Senate on the part of the Senate and two by the Speaker on the part of the House of Representatives, to whom shall be handed, as they are opened by the President of the Senate, all the certificates and papers purporting to be certificates of the electoral votes, which certificates and papers shall be opened, presented, and acted upon in the alphabetical order of the States, beginning with the letter A; and said tellers, having then read the same in the presence of the two Houses, shall make a list of the votes as they shall appear from the said certificates; and the votes having been counted in the manner and according to the rules by law provided, the result of the same shall be delivered to the President of the Senate, who shall thereupon announce the state of the vote, which announcement shall be deemed a sufficient declaration of the persons, if any, elected President and Vice President of the United States, and, together with a list of the votes, be entered on the Journals of the two Houses.

The resolution was agreed to.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably absent when the roll call was taken, due to the fact that the train on which I was traveling was an hour and a half late. I was here when the oath of office was administered.

MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OFFICE BUILDING COMMISSION

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to the provisions of title 49, sections 175 and 176, United States Code, the Chair appoints the gentleman from New Jersey [Mr. VarchiCloss] and the gentleman from Texas [Mr. Rayburn] members of the House Office Building Commission to serve with himself.
PRIVILEGE OF INTRODUCING BILLS TODAY

Mr. HALLECK. Mr. Speaker, the distinguished Delegate from Hawaii (Mr. PARRISH) is unavoidably absent today due to the death of his mother. I ask unanimous consent that, notwithstanding his absence, he may be permitted to introduce bills today.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Indiana?

There was no objection.

EXTENSION OF REMARKS

Mr. REED of New York (at the request of Mr. HALLECK) was given permission to extend his remarks in the Record.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL TUESDAY NEXT

Mr. HALLECK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that when the House adjourns today it adjourn to meet at noon on Tuesday next.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Indiana?

Mr. RAYBURN. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, and I shall not, may I ask the majority leader what will be the program for next week? Of course, the resolution carried providing for the counting of the electoral votes on Tuesday, but does the gentleman contemplate anything else happening on that day or during the remainder of the week?

Mr. HALLECK. I have not consulted with the Speaker as to whether or not he may recognize Members for extensions of remarks or other requests. That may be determined later. It is our understanding that a message will come up about 11:30 this morning and I am hoping to be back by that time. Therefore, I did have some talk of another message for Friday. But beyond that there is no program.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Indiana?

There was no objection.

JOINT SESSION OF THE CONGRESS

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to make a statement.

After consultation with the majority and minority leaders, and remembering the terrific jams we have had upon the floor upon the occasion of joint sessions of the Congress, with the consent and approval of the floor leaders the Chair has determined that on Tuesday next the doors immediately opposite the Speaker will be open and the doors on the Speaker's left and right, and none other.

No one will be admitted upon the floor of the House who does not have the privilege of the floor of the House.

EXTENSION OF REMARKS

Mr. CELLER. Mr. Speaker, is it in order to ask unanimous consent for extensions in the Record now?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to state that it is his desire not to have requests for extensions of remarks made now. There are four resolutions relative to deceased Members that will be offered and the Chair feels that the introduction of these resolutions should not be delayed. Therefore the Chair will not receive unanimous-consent requests today.

SWERING IN OF A MEMBER

Mr. O'HARA of Minnesota appeared at the bar of the House and took the oath of office.

THE LATE ADOLPH J. SABATH

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. O'BRIEN).

Mr. ALLEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, it is with deep regret and a heavy burden on my heart that I announce to the Members of the House the passing of ADOLPH J. SABATH, who died on November 15, 1952, at the Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Maryland, just 2 days after he was elected for his thirty-fourth consecutive time to this body. Congressman SABATH was born in the city of Chicago, Illinois, April 8, 1866, and came to the United States in 1881. He made his permanent home in Chicago, III., where he attended school. He was graduated from the Chicago College of Law and entered upon the practice of law the same year. He also received the degree of bachelor of laws from Lake Forest University.

Congressman SABATH, after being admitted to the bar, was selected for judge of the municipal court of Chicago, and served as judge until 1906 when he was elected a Member of Congress. He has served in this body ever since, establishing for himself a record of continuous service that has never been equaled by any Member of either body in the history of our country.

He served under eight Presidents and nine Speakers of the House, and was chairman of the cognizant committees of this House. With the exception of the Eightieth Congress he served continuously as chairman of the Rules Committee for the past 14 years.

Congressman SABATH was a Democrat—a good Democrat. He was a member of the county central committee for over 50 years, 36 years as a member of the executive committee and 10 years as chairman. He also was a delegate to national conventions of his party for many years. He represented the people of his district all the years he was in Congress with great ability. He was an honest man and a devoted public servant. We have lost a loyal friend, the country a great legislator. He leaves a loss not only to the people of Illinois, but to the people of America. To his good wife and friends, from the depth of my heart, I extend my sympathy.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. ALLEN).

Mr. ALLEN of Illinois. I want to join with my good friend from Illinois in paying honor to the late Congressman ADOLPH J. SABATH, who was a great American, a great patriot. I believe he had one of the most unusual lives I know of. He came over here as an immigrant and in his life he personified the virtues of perseverance and integrity. He was honored not only by his own people of Chicago but those of the State of Illinois and the Nation.

We may have known him for many years with Mr. SABATH on the Committee on Rules. He was impartial, he was fair, and he was a fighter—a strong fighter, I may say—for the things he thought to be right.

I know every Member of this body will long remember and cherish the close friendship each and every one of us had with our good friend, Judge SABATH.

Mr. O'BRIEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. YATES).

Mr. YATES. Mr. Speaker, I want to join with my good friend the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. O'BRIEN) and many, many other Members in paying our good friend, Judge SABATH, a last farewell. He was a champion of justice and he did his very best all the time to do justice. We do miss him. He was a unique and beloved friend to many people who were fortunate enough to have had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

Congressman SABATH was a unique and wonderful person. He was one of the most consistent and faithful friends of those in foreign countries who see America as a land of hope and glory, of opportunity for even the humblest person—for Congressman SABATH started as a poor, immigrant boy and by his own efforts became one of the leaders of this country. He became, and will continue to be, a symbol of the universality of American citizenship, living proof to all nations of the fact that there is a oneness in American citizenship—that the Constitution of the United States to the same high degree and extent as those fortunate enough to be born in this country knew that there is a oneness in American citizenship—that the Constitution draws no distinction between American citizens regardless of their race, religion, or place of national origin. All languages and all peoples can and do enjoy the benefits and rights guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States to the same high degree and extent as those fortunate enough to be born in this country.

Congressman SABATH was a great friend to me. Since I first came here 4 years ago, his advice has been invaluable to me, and his help tremendous. I will miss him very much.

To his bereaved family, I want to extend my deepest sympathy, with the hope that time will heal the grief they now feel.

Mr. O'BRIEN of Illinois. I yield to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. GORDON).

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, it is with profound sorrow that I announce the death of our beloved dean, the Honorable ADOLPH J. SABATH, which occurred at the United States Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Md., November 6, 1952. The story of our departed colleague is the story of America. He was a champion of the people, a supporter of all progressive legislation, an ardent Democrat, and at 86 years was one of the really important men in the Congress and the United States.

As dean of Congress, he served longer continuously in Congress than any other man in history. He was serving his forty-sixth year or the last year of his term in Congress when he died. He remained an administration and a poverty-stricken village in Bohemia, now a part of Czechoslovakia. He was the exception of 1948 and 1952. He was elected to the Congress in 1907, and served continuously longer than any other Member of the House. He was a member of the Democratic national committee on Immigration and Naturalization, and acquired his title of judge. He became a justice of the peace in 1881 with $2.35 in his pocket and made his way to Chicago.

Our departed colleague studied at night at a business college and later established a successful business. Continuing his studies, he graduated from the Chicago College of Law, was admitted to the bar, and in 1893 commenced active practice.

He was brought to America his mother, his father, and five sisters and brothers. He became active in politics and helped organize, or joined, many social clubs. He was cofounder of the Chicago Orphan Home for Orphans, for which he contributed several building lots and cash. He also built an old peoples home in his birthplace, Zabori, Czechoslovakia.

He became a justice of the peace in Chicago in 1895. In 1897 he was elected police magistrate, where he served until 1907, and acquired his title of judge. He was a member of the central and executive committee of the Democratic party of Illinois and since 1902 was a delegate to all Democratic national conventions with the exception of 1948 and 1952. He was elected to the Congress in 1906 and served continuously to the time of his death.

He served for many years on the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, on the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, and for 23 years as a member of the Committee on Rules, 12 years as its chairman.

Well do I recall his helpfulness in my early days in this body. Many of his colleagues and friends knew him as a man with a golden heart.

The intensity of his convictions and the spirit with which he gave his best to every cause that he championed will long be remembered in this body. He was respected by his neighbors and deeply loved by his many friends.

Adolph Sabath labored for the welfare of the people of the State of Illinois on which he represented, one could find inhabitants of many racial strains. He gave his services to humanitarians of every shade of opinion and color, and it did not matter to him where he had been born. He cared but little for his welfare contributed so much to Adolph Sabath's ability to continue so long past the usual span of human existence and so virilely his service in this Congress. My deepest sympathy also is with his brother, Judge Joseph Sabath, no longer young and recently retired from the bench of Cook County with a record as a jurist which is the pride of Chicago and of Illinois. Adolph Sabath and Joseph Sabath were my friends, whom I loved, and around whom I was enwined the memories of four or five decades, and when the news reached me of the passing of Adolph
I thought of that morning in the Eighty-first Congress which was Adolph’s birthday. Twice he came to me on the floor and said, “Joe telephoned me; Joe, my best, best, best, best.” I thought the heart of Adolph Sabath was as tender as his mind was vibrant. He has written a chapter in the book of America the like of which possibly never will be written again. That chapter was born amid challenges and conflict, and administered over half a century of experience to give those who may wish to preserve as an inspiration and in fond companionship the voice of our beloved colleague and the dean of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

Mr. ARENDS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. O’BRIEN of Illinois. I yield.

Mr. ARENDS. Mr. Speaker, all of us deeply mourn the passing of the beloved dean of the House, ADOLPH SABATH. Forty-six years of continuous service in itself bespeaks the high regard in which he was held by the people he represented. It also bespeaks the great contribution he has made over the years to his party and to the country.

In 1907 he came to the Congress. It would take more than time could possibly permit even to begin to recite a small part of his legislative contributions, and certainly always just and fair in all his actions, in his dealings with his fellow man. With the passing of ADOLPH SABATH we have suffered a great loss. I extend my sincerest sympathy to his family.

Mr. O’BRIEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. Mack].

Mr. MACK of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, the death of ADOLPH SABATH is felt as keenly by me as by anyone in the House of Representatives. When I came here 4 years ago, ADOLPH SABATH was my guiding light. He assisted me when I was a new Member in this body. He was more than a key member of the law firm with which he was associated; he was the key member of the law firm with which he was affiliated for many years, and from which firm he seived his connections during the past 10 years.

I had occasion to frequently confer with him because of the position he occupied as chairman of the Rules Committee. In that capacity he served me and the House, and his opinions were of the most cordial and friendly nature. He was a devoted and militant member of his party, but regardless of his extreme partisan leanings, he proved himself on all occasions to be eminently fair and open-minded in matters pertaining to his official duties, and courteous and cooperative to anyone who sought his counsel in expediting legislative measures, regardless of party.

Congressman SABATH was a man possessed of strong convictions, an aggressive, vigorous, and militant Member of the House, who long will be remembered for his strong determination and demonstrated leadership, and his diligent service to his constituency that he represented so faithfully in Congress for nearly 50 years.

Mr. O’BRIEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. Dawson].

Mr. DAWSON of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I join with you in sending condolences to the family of our lost Member. He was my friend. I remember him as slightly different from most people. A catastrophe occurred in my district where many poor people had a home. I received a check from Adolph Sabath to use in any way I saw fit, to help them.

To my mind he exemplified what the poet meant when he said:

He giveth but little who giveth but tears; He bestoweth his best who bestoweth tears; But he doth better and merits more

Who drives the wolf from the poor man’s door.

Mr. EBERHART. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. O’BRIEN of Illinois. I yield.

Mr. EBERHART. Mr. Speaker, since 1906, when ADOLPH J. SABATH was elected to this body until his passing in the late days of the year 1952, many hundreds of farm men and farmers, as well as his colleagues. I think I am safe in saying that of all of this number there is not one still living today who does not have regret at his passing; but more than that, Mr. Speaker—all who have been fortunate enough to have had the privilege of being a colleague of his have, without doubt, received inspiration from him, because of his outstanding devotion to the public interest; his indefatigable energy in discharging his duties as a Member of this body; in his courage and patience in ever pressing for those ideals and principles in which he believed; and in his unfailing sympathy and friendship for, shall we say—those people—persons—whether as a group or individuals, who yearned for understanding and assistance in their aim of a better life; the aim that is inherent in every human soul. Upon ADOLPH J. SABATH, these could always rely; and those who knew him best were those who loved him most; and his memory will always be numbered as one of his many thousands of friends.

To his widow and the loved ones he leaves behind, I take this heartfelt sympathy; and pray the Almighty to comfort them in the knowledge that he has gone to that reward prepared for those who love their neighbor as themselves.

Mr. O’BRIEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the distinguished gentleman from Texas [Mr. Rayburn].

Mr. RAYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I think the life work of ADOLPH SABATH demonstrated, as well as anything, America and what it stands for, where everybody who deserves an opportunity gets it; where their reward is what they deserve. Coming to this country as a small boy, an immigrant, Adolph Sabath went to work for himself, for his family, and for his country. The fact that he served in Congress longer than any other man in the history of the Congress of the United States, and held longer under the services of men in the House and in the Senate, demonstrates that his people had great faith and confidence in him, and he was one in whom you could put faith and confidence. I was personally deeply devoted to Adolph Sabath. I, along with his loved ones and dear ones, will miss him always.

Mr. O'BRIEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. MCCORMACK].

Mr. MCCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the death of ADOLPH SABATH leaves in the hearts and minds of all who knew him a void that must be hard to fill. ADOLPH SABATH was a remarkable man of outstanding character, intense in his love of God and of his fellow man. His own life was a monument of progressive, constructive effort, and in particular trying to help those less fortunate than himself, as so eloquently expressed by our friend from Illinois [Mr. DAWSON] just a few weeks ago. Adolph and I were very close to one another not only in our official life but also in our social life. I find it difficult to express my thoughts because of the noble character and the profound impression he made upon me through his simplicity. Every time I met him he was an inspiration to me and an example to follow in trying to do what was to be a better man and to lead a better life.

As our distinguished minority leader, Mr. RAYBURN, so well said, all who knew ADOLPH SABATH and served with him will miss him very much. I think I can truthfully say there was only one ADOLPH SABATH, that when Adolph was born the mold was broken. As long as any kid knows him, the light from the candle of his life will always be in existence and shine on, for his life was one of goodness, of kindness, of charity, and lovingly devoted to the welfare of others, great faith, and love of his neighbor. All of us who knew ADOLPH SABATH are a little better because of the fact that we knew him.

The whole Nation is the poorer by the death of my most valued late friend ADOLPH J. SABATH.

This venerable Representative, whose tenancy began numbered nearly half a century, devoted himself unstintingly over the years to the betterment of the lot of the average man, and toward the integration of the immigrant into the life of American life.

His record-breaking term of consecutive service of more than 46 years in the House of Representatives bespeaks the esteem in which he was held by the people of his district in Chicago and much more than that, his career will always stand as an exemplary and shining symbol of the opportunities for all under our demo­cratic system in this land of free men. ADOLPH SABATH, in fact, epitomized in the political and legislative fields the contribution which the foreign-born have made, and the descendants are making today, in the building of the greatness of the United States, and in its achievement of world leadership. He was a fighter for the causes in which he deeply believed and vigorously espoused. Yet, I venture to say, that even among those with whom he differed strongly, there is none who does not mourn his passing. His friendships knew no party or factional limitations.

Mr. SABATH'S wise counsel and staunch liberalism will be sadly missed in this Congress. He was a man. Take him for all and all, we shall not look upon his like again. Mrs. McCormack and I extend our deep sympathy to Mrs. Sabath.

Mr. MADDEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. O'BRIEN of Illinois. I yield.

Mr. MADDEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to join with the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. O'BRIEN], Mr. RAYBURN, and Mr. MCCORMACK, and with the Illinois delegation in paying tribute to our departed friend, Congressman Sabath.

I was acquainted with ADOLPH SABATH before I came to Congress 10 years ago. When I became a Member of this House, Congressman SABATH was one of the first persons to extend advice and aid, and I will always remember our departed colleague for those offers of assistance that he extended to me. During his public life he has always fought for the rights of the common man and woman. He was a liberal statesman and humanitarian. As our minority leader stated, Congressman Sabath was a living example of goodness, of kindness, of charity, and truthfully say there was only one ADOLPH SABATH.

Since that day a different Congressman Sabath has passed away. Both were great men. Certainly we can all take encouragement from the story of the world. Each generation has its leaders of the greatest demonstrations following his great speech in convention history.

The young immigrant, ADOLPH SABATH, thought that one of the greatest demonstrations of freedom democrats in action that could come to any nation in the world. At that time, he said, he decided to make public life his career. He came to Congress in 1907 during Theodore Roosevelt's administration and has served continuously until his death a few weeks ago. No Member of Congress in the history of the Nation has equaled his tenure in the House of Representatives.

I extend my sympathy to the wife and family of our departed colleague, Congressman from Illinois, Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Texas [Mr. LYLE]...

Mr. LYLE. Mr. Speaker, may I take this opportunity of extending to the gentleman from Illinois my personal affection for the gentleman from Illinois, Mr. ADOLPH SABATH, who recently passed away. Death is a very complicated matter to speak about, as the last 2 months two chairmen of great committees on which I have served have passed away. Both were big men who contributed greatly to our way of life.

Mr. O'BRIEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Texas [Mr. LYLE].

Mr. RAYBURN. Mr. Speaker, may I express my personal friend, our distinguished minority leader, Mr. RAYBURN, so well said, all who knew ADOLPH SABATH and served with him will miss him very much. I think I can truthfully say there was only one ADOLPH SABATH, that when Adolph was born the mold was broken. As long as any kid knows him, the light from the candle of his life will always be in existence and shine on, for his life was one of goodness, of kindness, of charity, and lovingly devoted to the welfare of others, great faith, and love of his neighbor. All of us who knew ADOLPH SABATH are a little better because of the fact that we knew him.

The whole Nation is the poorer by the death of my most valued late friend ADOLPH J. SABATH.

This venerable Representative, whose tenancy began numbered nearly half a century, devoted himself unstintingly over the years to the betterment of the lot of the average man, and toward the integration of the immigrant into the life of American life.

His record-breaking term of consecutive service of more than 46 years in the House of Representatives bespeaks the esteem in which he was held by the people of his district in Chicago and much more than that, his career will always stand as an exemplary and shining symbol of the opportunities for all under our democratic system in this land of free men. ADOLPH SABATH, in fact, epitomized in the political and legislative fields the contribution which the foreign-born have made, and the descendants are making today, in the building of the greatness of the United States, and in its achievement of world leadership. He was a fighter for the causes in which he deeply believed and vigorously espoused. Yet, I venture to say, that even among those with whom he differed strongly, there is none who does not mourn his passing. His friendships knew no party or factional limitations.

Mr. SABATH'S wise counsel and staunch liberalism will be sadly missed in this Congress.

He was a man. Take him for all and all, we shall not look upon his like again. Mrs. McCormack and I extend our deep sympathy to Mrs. Sabath.

Mr. MADDEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. O'BRIEN of Illinois. I yield.

Mr. MADDEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to join with the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. O'BRIEN], Mr. RAYBURN, and Mr. MCCORMACK, and with the Illinois delegation in paying tribute to our departed friend, Congressman Sabath.

I was acquainted with ADOLPH SABATH before I came to Congress 10 years ago. When I became a Member of this House, Congressman SABATH was one of the first persons to extend advice and aid, and I will always remember our departed colleague for those offers of assistance that he extended to me. Mr. LYLE. Mr. Speaker, may I take this opportunity of extending to the gentleman from Illinois my personal affection for the gentleman from Illinois, Mr. ADOLPH SABATH, who recently passed away. Death is a very complicated matter to speak about, as the last 2 months two chairmen of great committees on which I have served have passed away. and works and strives, success will come. I did not always agree with our great colleague, SABATH, in all of the positions he took on legislative matters or upon political questions. We jousted with each other often on this floor of the House, as you all know, and yet it was a friendly jousting, but throughout the years we did have a very warm affection for each other. I had the pleasure of spending many delightful hours with our genial friend. As was said a moment since, the gentleman from Massachusetts, the mold was broken when ANOTHER SABATH was given to the world. There will never be another like him. He will live in our memories for a long time. Some day, of course, we, all of us, will look forward to seeing ANOTHER SABATH again with that genial smile, that willingness to forget and to forgive and to make amends and one little friendly thing that he did for all of us. We all miss him now, and I am sure that we all join in extending our sincerest sympathies to his family.

Mr. ADOLPH SABATH. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. ELLSWORTH).

Mr. ELLSWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I count it a great honor and a privilege to honor and to memorialize the late Honorable ADOLPH SABATH, of Illinois. I went on the committee of which he was chairman as a new member. I had occasion many times to consult with him in the corridors of the Congress, rather closely acquainted with him. I admired and respected him, as close to us as any member of the House, as you all know, and yet it was a friendship, a friendly jousting, but through the years he was chairman as a new member, and never at any time was I accorded anything but the finest courtesy and all the respect and kindness which I felt so keenly, even though I had not known him intimately for a long time. I just want to take this brief time to say I admired and respected ADOLPH SABATH; that I shall miss him; that I count it as a personal loss to me, and I want to extend my very deep sympathy to the members of his family and to his loved ones.

Mr. O'BRIEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SARLAKE).

Mr. SARLAKE. Mr. Speaker, I was not as close to ADOLPH SABATH as were our names on the roll. However, during my time in Congress and prior to that time, while I served as a secretary, I had the opportunity many occasions to serve with Judge SABATH. I found him to be a true gentleman, a real, genuine and genial character, who will remain a legend of the House of Representatives. I concur in the sentiments already expressed and join in the condolences to his loved ones.

Mr. O'BRIEN of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. ADOLPH SABATH) in the Rules Committee.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

Mr. SPEAKER. Mr. Speaker, ADOLPH SABATH was a kindy man who showed anew each day that he lived his great faith and done his duty for his country, America was good to ADOLPH SABATH and he sought constantly to repay her and to leave her richer by his service.

In his career every lad in every land of national distinction. Few mortal men are privileged to reach the venerable age of four score and six, and fewer still attain such an incom­parable record of service for his country and his people long and distinguished service which is recorded in the annals of Congress. He was a man of all the virtues and a great believer in human rights and humanitarian principles. Throughout his long service in this House extending over a period of 46 years consecutively—more than any other man in the history of the United States Congress—he has constantly championed and fought hard for liberal and constructive legislation. ADOLPH SABATH was not only the greatest Representative of the United States Congress and a great American, but he was a constant exhibitor of the opportunities this great country has to offer to even an immigrant boy who comes here without money, position, or friends. Although born in a foreign country, he fitted well in the American scheme of democracy and, through honesty and rugged individualism, he carved a niche in the world of fame here. He became one of the most loyal Americans I have ever known.

ADOLPH SABATH was a loyal friend, an indefatigable worker, sympathetic and understanding of the problems of all who sought his advice and aid.

May the Great Comforter sustain his loved ones who are left behind. Peace and sympathy to his ashes.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. Speaker, the life of ADOLPH J. SABATH holds a wealth of lessons for all those who would study America to discover what makes her great.

He symbolized the great idea of this Nation: that America is truly the world's land of opportunity for all those of courage and faith, whatever might be their race.

He was a fighter on the side of progress for all the 46 years he served so ably as a Member of this distinguished body of men. He was a great contributor to the well-being of the people of this Nation cannot, by any token, possibly be measured in mere material terms.

Never did I or any of my colleagues fail to deeply admire and appreciate his falling courtesy to those of us who appeared with legislation before the Rules Committee.

I extend my deepest sympathies to the family of our sadly missed Member.

Mr. HELLER. Mr. Speaker, many of us in this House who have had the privilege of knowing our late colleague, the Honorable ADOLPH J. SABATH, will miss him deeply long after this day. We will miss his familiar face, his kind words, and most of all his sound advice. We shall miss his inspiring leadership and his wisdom, his experience and knowledge, his devotion and ardent patriotism to the United States, which received him as an immigrant boy back in 1861 and afforded him the opportunity to rise to great heights of national distinction.

Few mortal men are privileged to reach the venerable age of four score and six, and fewer still attain such an incomparable record of service for his country and his people long and distinguished service which is recorded in the annals of Congress. He was a man of all the virtues and a great believer in human rights and humanitarian principles. Mr. BROWN of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, words are inadequate for me to pay just and deserving tribute to GENE COX. He fearlessly fought for what he thought was right. No one had more courage or exemplified a greater fighting spirit than he. His long service in public life rendered throughout the years was to make the Nation, his State, his community and the home a better place in which to live.

He was a champion of States rights, and stood for the sound constitutional principle that his State was great. He believed in democratic processes. He believed that the people should rule and that they had the capacity to rule.

He was known in every State of the Union for his sound thinking on foreign relations and policies. He respected the views of others, whether he agreed with them or not.

His effective work against communism in this country and abroad will be remembered by all.

He loved people and always extended sympathy to the little fellow in trouble. As a lawyer he was true to his clients, never taking advantage of opposing counsel, and was held in high esteem by the jury.

As a judge he was firm and impartial. As a man he was diligent and energetic, loved and respected by Members on both sides of the aisle. He was a kind and devoted husband and father.

I extend to the family my deepest personal sympathy in his passing.

Mr. DAVIS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, the time comes to speak of a dear friend who has gone from us to the Great Beyond, so many precious memories come to recollection that it is hard to talk at all.

I think at this moment of countless times when my life has been richer and fuller because I was blessed with the friendship of Judge Vinson.

His personality was an extraordinary personality. It was a joy always to come into his presence. His cheery greetings never failed to kindle anew that warm, responsive feeling of friendship which had lived in my heart throughout the years in which I knew him.

As we think and talk of Judge Cox today, it is fitting to recall that he was a lawyer of recognized ability; that as a member of the bar he added distinction and luster to our great legal profession of which lawyers are justly proud.

A judge of the superior courts of Georgia, he demonstrated that he possessed that quality so necessary and essential to all judges, namely, judicial temperament. He enforced the laws with firmness and a determination to protect the law-abiding citizens of his Circuit from the lawless element. It was not possible in his court for the strong to trample upon the little fellow and to impose upon the poor. His presence upon the bench was a guaranty that every party to a case in his court would receive that to which the law entitled him.

Judge Cox first won this reputation as a lawyer, a jurist, and a statesman in his native State and in his home.
surroundings. When he came upon the national arena, those same qualities of intellect, fearlessness, and zeal in fighting for the causes he supported established him on a nation-wide basis the same reputation which he enjoyed at home.

He loved America and American institutions. He believed they were worth fighting for, and he devoted his finest talents and his utmost energy to their preservation. He did not dodge issues. He did not hesitate to take an open, frank, and unequivocal position on any question where he felt it was his duty to take a stand. He would not stoop to hypocrisy or deception. On most questions one knew Judge Cox would generally know without asking him where he stood on current issues, because he was forthright and consistent in his philosophy and his personal code.

He was a power to be reckoned with in any fight. He was a fighter, and he knew the floor of the House. He was not always victorious, but he was always courageous. He possessed those qualities which made one who knew Judge Cox would know where he stood on current issues, because he knew that the most important thing to know was what advice he would give and would deliver on his duty as he saw it so unstintingly to others. There are those of us who feel keenest lash for a fleeting moment can soon be persuaded to believe that Gene Cox had no personal foes. The composition of his fine spirit would not tolerate the harboring of personal malice within him, but as his districts contained people with whom he disagreed and knew him to be unrelenting in his fight against those who would, by subversion or otherwise, seek to harm to this country he so dearly loved.

Within a very short time after I came to this body I only knew Gene Cox by reputation although he represented a district that adjoined mine. I, along with the other people of Georgia and the Nation, knew Gene Cox to be a fighter for that which honest conviction led him to believe was right. We knew that the toughest of foes to those with whom he disagreed and knew him to be unrelenting in his fight against those who would, by subversion or otherwise, seek to harm to this country he so dearly loved.

That was typical of his many acts of kindness. Everywhere he went he touched people with kindness and with personal dignity. Gene Cox could properly be called a great public defender. Anyone in difficulty found him at his side. I have seen him many times rise on the floor of this House in defense of some brother who might have been in momentary difficulty. He was of excellent counsel to all of us. We all respected his views and judgments.

Georgia has produced a great many individualists, men like Alex Stephens and Bob Toombs. Georgia will place Gene Cox in memory and reverence beside those two great patriots. He was one of the few remaining of the old school of statesmanship, men who did not rely upon things political and diplomacy in dealing with issues but who approached issues with the view of what is best for my land.

That was Gene Cox's approach to every question. He was brilliant in debate and never yielded to an adversary by surrendering a point. At the same time he would sometimes compromise a conviction. I did not always agree with him in the positions he took in the Congress, but I never questioned his motive or his sincerity. He did not make decisions for expediency's sake but out of a heart full of sincerity and great love of his country.

During his life he touched the lives of many people. He set a pattern for many to follow. He influenced the lives of a great many individuals. He had the courage of personal convictions that was an inspiration to me. I stated at one time about him that if someone chose to challenge a man, divide the companions, although he never had one in his hand before, he would quickly seize one and accept the challenge. That great trait, coupled with his willingness to make a strong, brave man. That is what he was. They need only put in his epitaph on the headstone of his grave: This is GENE Cox, a truly great statesman.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. FORRESTER].

Mr. FORRESTER. Mr. Speaker, Sunday afternoon at Camilla, Ga., I, with thousands of other sorrowing friends, saw the mortal remains of the distinguished gentleman from Georgia, Hon. Eugene Cox, return to the soil from whence it came. I wish every Member of this body could have been there to see the genuine love and devotion the people of his district, State, and Nation held for him, and to see the neighbors, friends, and, and, it was only as it could be for no real American had reason not to love him and every loyal and informed American did so.

I saw the American flag draped over his casket-enclosed body. It belonged there. I saw gentle hands tenderly remove that flag, fold it, and present it to his widow as a testimony of his fidelity evermore. Through my soul surged the thought, if there was ever a time etiquette would permit our flag to remain with a body, that was the time for only death could separate the two. I thought of his friendship to me over the years, his outstanding and unsurpassed service in this great body and that no longer would that outstanding American be physically present in the Hall of the House. Then, I realized that his spirit would always be present and that we all would be better Americans because of that.

I have seen many lovers of this country, and God bless them all, but I have never seen one greater than Judge Cox. Never have I seen such devotion and zeal for the American way of life at all times. I have served with him as a Member of the House of Representatives, which he had served 28 years. I have seen him in the warmest of debacles when immediately afterward he was ready to shake the hand of his adversary and seek his friendship and forgiveness. That is not true of many people.

I happen to know more about his home life. I know of his deep and most generous and unselfish devotion to his fine wife, children, and his grandchil-

The Second District of Georgia and our State of Georgia were immensely proud of him. They and we will continue to have his spirit as the days go by and America will take his name forever in their hearts. To his widow and children we extend our abiding love and affection.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the distinguished majority leader, the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. HALLECK].

Mr. HALLECK. Mr. Speaker, the bright joys of the holiday season were dimmed for many of us when we were dimmed for so many others in this Chamber, by the shocking news that we had lost one of our most beloved colleagues. Eugene Cox, of Georgia.

Gene Cox was one of my great friends in the House of Representatives. I shall miss him more than I can tell.

His was an outstanding career of servvice to the people of his district and to the people of the Nation.

Some men are clever; others we characterize as brilliant; many are diligent and resourceful. Yet so often they lack that hard-fighting and vigorous spirit of sincerity which distinguishes the truly noble personality.

Gene Cox was a wise man. But beyond that man was a great man with a great spirit of warmth coupled with complete sincerity of purpose. He was a man of principle, a hard-fighting and vigorous champion of what he fervently believed should be the right.

It is perhaps only human that I shall remember Gene Cox primarily as a gene-erous-hearted friend.

But I will never forget his staunch devotion to Americanism, his able talents as a legislator, and his stalwart sense of obligation to serve the Nation he loved with complete loyalty and devotion.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the distinguished gentleman from Ohio [Mr. BROWN].

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, when Gene Cox passed on on Christmas Eve he left a heart in this House because he loved the House of Representatives, which he had served 28 years.

I went to the hospital 2 days before Gene's death to visit with him. He came to the room where I had last seen him before he became ill. He was cheerful, but his whole thought and mind was upon the organization of this new House which took place here today and of the 2 years ahead and of the work that was to be done.

I served with Gene Cox on the Rules Committee. I never knew any individual who had a greater grasp of legislation or who had a more sincere desire to do only that which was best for his country. He placed his country and its welfare beyond all other considerations. When it came that time after time to do that which might not be popular for him at the moment, but which was his own conscience and his judgment, it was to the interest of the America that he loved so deeply and served so well.

We shall all miss Gene Cox here. It will not be the same House of Representatives and the country is the poorer for so many years with Gene away; yet I believe that somehow or other the very fact that he served here will inspire all of us to carry on in the tradition that he established of service to country, of willingness and readiness to do that which he believed right regardless of the cost.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. SMITH].

Mr. SMITH of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I shall not consume much time in a euology of Gene Cox except to express my concurrence in everything that has been said today, particularly by his colleagues from Georgia, who knew him so well. Gene Cox was a man of many parts. I think probably the outstanding features of his life were his great courage, politically and physically, his generosity to a degree greater than most any man I ever knew, and above all his un-falling loyalty to those who could claim his friendship. I served with him for a number of years in the House of Representatives, and during that time I followed his leadership. I would do so again. I have never regretted it. I think Gene Cox was one of the great men of our generation, and those many qualities which he possessed are going to live long in the hearts of the Members who knew him. While he has gone, his influence in this body, I think, will live on for years to come. He was a man who was quick of temper at times, and yet I do not think Gene Cox ever had enmity toward any man. I have seen him in the warmest of debacles when immediately afterward he was ready to shake the hand of his adversary and seek his friendship and forgiveness. That is not true of many people.

I happen to know more about his home life. I know of his deep and most generous and unselfish devotion to his fine wife, children, and his grandchil-just built that way. He was a strong man in every sense of the word; strong in his convictions as he was in his love of his country and his chief reward was to live out his life in the service of his country. When he lost his temper, he always came back and made everything all right with the man that he had lost his temper with. He was a noble soul. He had a great love of life and of his children. I do not think I will ever see such a life as his again.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the distinguished gentleman from New York [Mr. TABER].

Mr. TABER. Mr. Speaker, when Eugene Cox first came to the House he picked out an office right next to mine in the Old House Office Building. I got to know him very well. That acquaintanceship is still continued right down to the end. I have always found him true and straight, having in his heart and in his words the best interests of the United States. Some time we are sorry that he has gone. We are glad that such a fine character lived with us.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield this floor to the distinguished gentleman from Oregon [Mr. ELLSWORTH].

Mr. ELLSWORTH. Mr. Speaker, when I first came here as a new Member 8 years ago, I very shortly became acquainted with Eugene Cox, and I think that this House of Representatives of our late colleague, Eugene Cox, I knew him for the first several years only as a forceful, dynamic speaker. I classified him, as we all do, as a great American. But it was not until I had the pleasure and the honor of serving with him on the Rules Committee that I realized that this legislator, this powerful debater, this great American, was a great character, and, second, his strength was also a human being, a likable man, a man who thoroughly enjoyed doing things for people, doing favors for people. He also, have a great friendship and liking for our late colleague, Eugene Cox. I shall miss him greatly, just as we all will. I feel that in his passing this country has lost one of its greatest Americans.

I extend my sympathy to the members of his family and his loved ones and the people of his State who have lost a great representative.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the distinguished gentleman from Iowa [Mr. Jensen].

Mr. JENSEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to endorse something that has been said on this floor today about our deceased friend and colleague, Eugene Cox. When I heard of the passing of this great friend of mine I was deeply shocked and greatly disturbed, knowing that Eugene Cox will not walk with us again in this Chamber. I had such a high regard for him that I can hardly visualize that he has gone to the Great Beyond.

Eugene Cox and I met when I first came to this House 14 years ago, and from that very moment my admiration and respect for him has grown up to this time. I saw that great, strong, patriotic American stand on the floor of this House and defend with every ounce of strength he had the things which he believed to be fine and big and best for this great America which he loved so dearly.

Gene Cox to me was a symbol of everything that is fine in man. I have not the words to express my true feeling of this great patriot who has gone to his reward. I am sure that every Member of this House who knew him, and as will everyone in his State and in this Nation who knew Gene Cox as we did. But Gene is gone, and we must carry on the Gene Cox would want us to. To fill his shoes and to take his place in this House is possibly beyond the ability of any of us, but we shall attempt to carry on where Gene Cox left off.

My heart goes out to his good wife and family whom he loved so much.

God rest his soul.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the distinguished gentleman from Ohio [Mr. Voris].

Mr. VORIS. Mr. Speaker, others have spoken ably of the fiery eloquence of Eugene Cox, of his great courage, of his great ability as a fighter for the causes in which he believed. In my tribute I merely want to give one instance that will reveal a part of Gene Cox that has been referred to but that many perhaps on this floor have not witnessed.

I looked today at the picture of Gene Cox, our departed friend, and his photograph showed that stern, fiery courager, proud, and indomitable will; I feel it did not show the great heart of the man, his infinite capacity for friendship, and his utterly winsome generosity.

It was my honor and privilege to serve with Gene Cox on a subcommittee that traveled in Europe in the fall of 1947. Our train got to Essen, Germany, and the及以上paragraphand the people there. We then traveled in Europe in the fall of 1947. Our train got to Essen, Germany, and the members of our delegation were not at all common. He was a gentleman in every sense of the word; strong and useful life. I do not think I will ever see such a life as his again exactly for he was built in a mold which was not at all common. He was a gentleman and a leader in every sense of character and devotion. With his daring wife, who is my greatest and good friend, and his children, I shall miss him as long as I can remember friendship and good people.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the distinguished gentleman from New York [Mr. Lytle].

Mr. LyLye. Mr. Speaker, the fine things that a man has done is not at all common. He was a gentleman in every sense of the word; strong and useful life. I do not think I will ever see such a life as his again exactly for he was built in a mold which was not at all common. He was a gentleman in every sense of character and devotion. With his daring wife, who is my greatest and good friend, and his children, I shall miss him as long as I can remember friendship and good people.
South, truly one of the greatest States in the Union. But there was another Georgian who contributed to its finest traditions, the unforgettable Benjamin Hill, and GENE Cox was born. He said something that exemplifies the love of our united country which flowered so beautifully in his country live, lets all things live and all that exemplifies the love of our united heart of GENE Cox:

Traditions, the unforgettable Benjamin G. EBERHARTER.

Toombs and Alexander E. EuGENE Cox, this body loses one of its outstandng traditions. GENE, as we who knew him well addressed him, possessed all the fine in-

From the House of Representatives of the United States of America, and was always considerate of the Speaker, whom Mrs. McCormack and I deeply respect, and his loved ones, I extend the sincerest sympathy. Mr. EBERHARTER, the distinguished gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. McCormack].

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. EBERHARTER].

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in the view of our colleague, E. EuGENE Cox, this body loses one of its outstanding figures of the past three decades. Gene, as we who knew him well addressed him, just about all the finest instincts of a true gentleman. His was one of the keenest intellects I have ever met. His general all-around capacity made him one of the most powerful advocates in any cause to which his interest would be aroused. His influence was a powerful factor in helping to shape the destiny of this body and, therefore, the history of these United States.

Mr. SMITH of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, the death of Eucuss Cox, of Georgia, cannot be to all of us as a severe shock. That was true especially of the older Members of the House. Eucuss Cox and I came to the House together. We both were Members of the Sixty-ninth Congress. From that time until now I have met him as a friend, as a man of strong convictions, and he wavered in support of those convictions.

Where he gave his friendship he never wavered in his loyalty to that friend. He was ever ready to demonstrate that friendship even when it was against his own interests.

He loved the House. He loved his country, and with great fervor he ever battled to keep the country strong and true. Personal friendship was an abiding friendship between us.

We differed considerably, as those who served with both of us know, but there is no one to whom I reflect on Gene Cox as a great friend and a great American. To his fine wife and family I extend my deepest sympathy in their hour of sorrow.

Mr. SMITH of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I desire to extend the many tributes being paid to the memory of our late distinguished colleague, Judge Cox, of Georgia. I can speak with special recollection of the unselfishness which he exhibited to new Members of the House, for I was a beneficiary.
Judge Cox was one of the elder statesmen of the House of Representatives, and one of its most influential Members, but he always had time for a considerate thought or word with any Member. As a Member who served only briefly with him, I want to express my deep appreciation for his courtesy and kindness to me. He was a kind and considerate person, both as a Speaker, but also a kind personal friend.

Mr. HORAN. Mr. Speaker, in the passing of the Honorable Eugene Cox, one of the true pillars of this House is gone.

He ably represented his State and fought for those principles which have made this Nation great. He hated subtle and hypocrisy. He left them with a fierceness that was awesome and inspiring. We will miss him greatly.

I visited Judge Cox while he was in the hospital. As always he was cheerful and courteous. It was a pleasure just to chat with him and to wish him a speedy recovery.

However, the Almighty had decreed otherwise, and Gene Cox lives now only in the memories of those who knew and loved him and to those countless millions whom his life has benefited.

No finer memorial could be.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to pay a tribute to our great, departed friend, colleague, and comrade, Edward Eugene Cox.

When I received the sad news of Gene's death, it was a great blow to me and very hard to realize that he was gone. It is true I knew that his health was none too good in recent months and that the years and hard work had exacted their toll, but it simply had not occurred to me that Gene Cox would ever pass away. He was one of those strong, virile types that we only associate with life and living—never whining, never complaining, never seeming to realize that there is a limit to human energies.

Eugene Cox was a great statesman, patriot and debater, an ardent lover of his country and defender of the faith of his native State and the South. Eager for the fray where issues of principle are involved, time and time again he took a prominent part in the trials and controversies in which he believed.

We remember Judge Cox as a man possessed of the greatest kindness and sincerity. His profound ability in the field of government led him to become one of the most valued servants of this Nation he loved so dearly. With wisdom, he foresaw that these United States are not able to live alone, but rather that they must assert their leadership among the free nations of the world if we are to attain universal peace.

He will be greatly missed by all of us. My sincerest and most heartfelt sympathies are extended to Mrs. Cox and to his children.

Mr. ROGERS of Florida. Mr. Speaker, as we return from our respective districts to take up the duties of the Eighty-third Congress we find that there is a vacancy because of the death of E. Eugene Cox, of Georgia, who was one of the most outstanding and capable leaders of the Congress.

I feel a distinct personal loss in the passing of Gene. I knew of him when he was judge of the superior court in Georgia, prior to the time he entered the halls of Congress, and he was known over the State of Georgia as a distinguished and able jurist. His district joined the county in which I resided and practiced law until 1925, at which time I went to Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

When I came to the Congress in 1945, I found Gene Cox in the Congress as one of its leaders. Being a native fellow of Georgians we formed a friendship that grew through our association. His family and my family, for the past 6 years, lived at the Wardman Park Hotel, and we spent many a happy evening together.

Gene was a man of many virtues; he was especially loyal to his friends and devoted to his wife, Grace; he was a beloved father and regarded his children as his "jewels"; he was a St. Peter with whom he spoke and acted, and yet a St. John with boldness, calmness, kindness, and compassion toward his fellow man. He possessed a noble soul that was filled with the milk of human kindness.

Gene Cox was a man of courage and conviction and stood by his courage and conviction. He was generous, considerate, and tolerant.

We will all miss the excellent courage and leadership of Gene Cox in the Eighty-third Congress. No one in the State of Georgia but the entire Nation can ill afford the loss of this man. To have known him is enrichment. To lose him is desolation. To have memory of him is sturdy equipment.

To his beloved wife and family our expressions of sympathy are the deeper as we measure knowingly the incalculable loss they endure.

May God bless and sustain them in this, their sad hour of sorrow.

Mr. VINSON. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution (H. Res. 9).

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the House has heard with profound sorrow the death of Hon. Edward Eugene Cox, a Representative from the State of Georgia.

Resolved, That the Clerk communicate these resolutions to the Senate and transmit a copy thereof to the family of the deceased.

The resolution was agreed to.

THE LATE HONORABLE WILLIAM G. STIGLER, A REPRESENTATIVE FROM THE STATE OF OKLAHOMA.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. ALBERT].

Mr. ALBERT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I may revise and extend my remarks, and that I may insert with my remarks a tribute to our late colleague, Hon. William G. Stigler, a eulogy by our former colleague, Hon. Toby Morris.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Oklahoma?

There was no objection.

Mr. ALBERT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I may extend my remarks in which to extend their remarks on the life, character, and services of our late colleague, the Honorable William G. Stigler.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Oklahoma?

There was no objection.

Mr. ALBERT. Mr. Speaker, it is with a heavy heart that I advise the House of the death during the recent congressional adjournment of one of the finest friends I have ever had, the late Honorable William G. Stigler, of the Second Congressional District of Oklahoma.

Mr. Stigler was elected to this House in a special election held March 7, 1944. He served continually until his death.

Bill Stigler was born July 1, 1891, and at Edmond, Okla., in the eastern part of our State, named in honor of his father. He died in the same community on August 21, 1952.

He was born, lived, and died among the people of eastern Oklahoma, which were dearer to him than all the places of the earth. Mrs. Stigler and their two lovely daughters survive him.
WILLIAM G. STIGLER was truly one of Oklahoma's finest citizens and public servants. He has left behind him a long and noble record of service to his State and Nation.

Of Choctaw Indian descent, he was once attorney for the Choctaw Tribe. He knew more about Indian problems and accomplished more in this body in the field of Indian legislation, affecting the Five Civilized Tribes, than any other Member of Congress in the history of our country.

BILL STIGLER was a soldier and a leader among the veterans of Oklahoma. He was a combat veteran of World War I. In 1934 he was department commander of the American Legion. He was the best informed man on veterans' affairs that I have ever known.

Congressman Stigler came to this House with broad experience as a lawyer and legislator. He served in our State senate and was president pro tempore of that body.

Bill loved his friends, who indeed were legion. He was kind. He was generous. He was noted for the noblest traits of generosity so characteristic of his race.

BILL STIGLER was a great patriot. A proud first American, he always put American law and service above every other energy he had to the service of his country and to the performance of the duties of the high office to which his people entrusted him.

I have never had a finer friend. As long as I live, Bill Stigler will live in my memory. I have lost a friend. Our country has lost a statesman. I extend to Mrs. Stigler and their lovely daughters my deepest sympathy.

Mr. Speaker, under leave heretofore granted, I now include as a part of my remarks a eulogy prepared by our friend and former colleague, the Honorable Toby Morris, of Lawton, Okla.:

EULOGY OF HON. WILLIAM G. STIGLER BY TONY MORRIS

It was my honor and pleasure to serve, as his colleague in the United States House of Representatives, for about 1/2 of the 8 years that the late Honorable William G. Stigler represented this State. I knew him well, and I knew him as a true and valued friend. I had known him for many years before my service began in Congress, in January 1947, but until then I knew him only as association as Members of Congress that I was honored by his warm friendship.

I have never known a man more devoted to the highest ideals of public service than Bill Stigler. Honest thought was that of the welfare of the good people who he had the honor to represent, in the Second District of Oklahoma, and also of his beloved State and Nation.

And, not only did he sincerely have the welfare of the people in mind, at all times, but he labored continuously to promote such welfare. Whether in his office answering mail of constituents and attending to other official business, he was always examining witnesses and documents, and studying proposed legislation, or engaging in the legislative process, he maintained an exhibited always a keen interest in and a profound knowledge of what was transpiring. He was a most indefatigable, but always concentrating on the work at hand and knew it all as an expert. His service was invaluable. I have had the privilege, and Nation, and his Oklahoma colleagues, often affectionately referred to him as a good Indian. He was one, in fact and in truth. No nobler epithet could, in my judgment, be used. He was one-fourth Choctaw Indian in blood. He was devoted to the preservation of Indian customs and was recognized as one of the outstanding authorities in the United States Senate on Indian legislation generally. But what we meant by this expression was that he was a good man, good husband and father, good citizen, good legislator, and was truly one of the best in each category.

For some time before his death, Bill Stigler was the Democratic congressional delegation in the House. We sought and relied upon his advice concerning many matters. He was always ready, willing, and able to unselfishly assist us in any way possible.

BILL STIGLER, who was a distinguished Oklahoma lawyer and prominent member station in life, among which were Oklahoma State senator; member of the State soldiers' relief commission; departmental commander of the American Legion for the State of Oklahoma; executive vice president of the Choctaw Area Council of the Boy Scouts of Oklahoma, and natural attorney for the Choctaw Indian Nation for 7 years.

These accomplishments are proof enough of his outstanding ability. However, in conclusion, I wish to say that he had not only great ability, but good heart and big heart. He loved his friends, his State, his Nation. He loved justice and right. He loved humanity. He knew that:

"The night has a thousand eyes and the day but one,
Yet the light of a whole world dies with the setting sun.
The mind has a thousand eyes and the heart but one,
Yet the light of a whole life dies when its close comes on." ~

May God bless his good wife and family who mourn the passing of this noble man.

The great Second District of Oklahoma, which Congressman Stigler represented at the time of his death, is now represented by a New Member who took its oath of office today, a distinguished young Oklahoman. It is my pleasure at this time to recognize Congressman Stigler's successor, the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. ALBERT).

Mr. EDMONDEON, Mr. Speaker, it is an honor to address this House on one's first day as a Member, but that honor is multiplied many times by the fact that I have an opportunity to say a few words in behalf of a man who was not only a dear friend but also a great Oklahoman and a great American, a man who held the office of Congress¬man from the Second District of Oklahoma for many years, and a man who, had he chosen to run again in the primary last spring, would still be holding that office. As long as I live, I have no question of the fact that he won an unifying place in the hearts of the people of my district. The farmer, the veteran, the school teacher, the businessman, the working people, the men and women of the Second District in Oklahoma have all lost a true friend.

To Mrs. Stigler and to Bill's lovely daughters I am proud to occasion to join in a message of sympathy, and I now wish that Bill Stigler's memory may live on in the hearts of all his fellow citizens, as it will in mine.

Mr. ALBERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. WICKERSHAM).

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I came to Congress nearly 12 years ago. At that time, and ever since, there has been one in Oklahoma who has been esteemed more highly than our late friend, the Honorable Bill Stigler. He could have been easily elected governor, or other high position, but he might have aspired in our great State of Oklahoma; he was head of our legislature for several years. He has piloted through Congress many most worthwhile measures pertaining to benefits to Indians.

BILL STIGLER was capable, honest, efficient, courteous, and cooperative; I would say he was a "good Indian." He felt a keen and abiding interest in all things that were good and wholesome; as a "good scout." Bill was very active as American Legion department commander of our great State for many years. Bill Stigler was a delegate from Oklahoma on Appropriations. Bill Stigler died with his boots on.

I am sure he would want us to remember Tennyson's great words:

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no meaning of the bar When I put out to sea.

BILL STIGLER will be remembered many, many years."
Mr. STEED. Mr. Speaker, in the few brief years I have had the honor and privilege of serving in this House I have been impressed many times by the frequency with which our colleagues are stricken down by death in the performance of their daily duties. Each time as we pause in our labors to pay our respects to those who have given their service to their country, I know of no case in which it could be more truly stated that overwork had hastened the day of death of any of our colleagues than the case of the late William Stigler, of Oklahoma.

In the last few years that Mr. Stigler served here he was not in good health and for many months he had to make the decision whether or not to shirk his duty here or to risk his life. For too long a time he made the decision in favor of the service of his country, as a soldier, as a public servant. Unfortunately he waited too long, and the days of rest and pleasure he had envisioned back at his home in Stigler, Oklahoma, had to pass. As late as 1950 he had stayed too long in performance of his work and had drained his vitality to the point where he could not survive. Whatever else may be said of him, I think the most impressive thing in his life is the supreme devotion to duty and his great love for public service carried him to the point where he literally did give his life in the service of his country. He had offered himself in the service of his country as a soldier, then as a public servant.

He occupied a unique position in this House during the time he served here because he was a member of that great race known as the American Indians. In our lifetime no man who traced his racial heritage to these great people gave a better example of the many contributions that have been made to our Nation by these American Indians. Here American Indians have given to this country than did Mr. Stigler.

He was of a gentle character. When I first came here, one of the impressions made upon me, and which I shall always remember, was that in making the acquaintance of other Members of the House I found no man who had anything but the finest and warmest feeling for Mr. Stigler. If it can honestly be said that a Member served over a period of years in this House and made no man his enemy, that can be said of Bill Stigler. It seemed that everyone who knew him applauded his fine character and his generosity and fairness and loved him for those qualities.

Mr. ALBERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. STIGLER).

Mr. STIGLER. Mr. Speaker, I join with my colleagues from Oklahoma and other Members of the House of Representatives in paying a sincere tribute to a great Oklahoman, a great American, William G. Stigler. Our State and our Nation have profited by his life and by his service and will be poorer because of his loss.

Mr. Stigler was an outstanding lawyer in Oklahoma. He served in the Senate before coming to the House of Representatives. When I served in the State Senate I was very conscious of the record and the work that Senator Stigler had done before he came to this Congress.

When I came here I found a man who, though very busy on the Committee on Appropriations, busy in representing his district and his Nation, still had time to help a freshman Congressman get started to begin service in this House, a man of heart, a man of character, a man believed sincerely in the finest ideals of this Nation. He worked to that end both in the State of Oklahoma and in his service here in this House of Representatives. I join in the sincere sympathy that we extend to Mrs. Stigler and to his two daughters.

Mr. RAYBURN. Mr. Speaker, Bill Stigler, as I knew him, was one of the finest men I have ever known. He was good and great. He was a good legislator, a real statesman.

His type of man we can ill afford to lose. My sympathy goes out to all of his loved ones.

Mr. BELCHER. Mr. Speaker, it came as a distinct shock to me when I received a telegram advising me of the death of Honorable William G. Stigler of the Second Congressional District of Oklahoma. I had known that Bill was not in good health, but I had no idea that he was so seriously ill.

Bill Stigler and I had been personal friends for many, many years. I first met him through his activities in the Oklahoma Department of the American Legion. I was active in helping him be elected as department commander for the State of Oklahoma. I had worked with, and associated with, him in Legion activities from that time to the time of his death.

Bill was a man who had many friends because he was a friendly man. He was a great humanitarian, and spent many years of his life helping veterans, widows, and orphans. Bill was a hard, aggressive worker, a man who took his duties seriously. Perhaps that characteristic hastened his death. Regardless of his physical condition, Bill so loved his friends and his buddies that he was willing to make any personal sacrifice for them.
planning and looking ahead to his term in the Senate, not knowing that already, hidden away in his body, was a dread cancer which was to take his life in a few short months.

I sat in the great Democratic National Convention in Chicago and heard his name offered to the great convention as a possibility for the highest office in this land. His name did not go in nomination because we knew then that he was on his deathbed. His family tell that Brien knew that he was to die. No generous tribute paid to him by the men and women who attended that convention. In a few days he went beyond to his Maker.

Mr. Speaker, as one who knew him well for many years, I want the Record to show that I am paying this tribute as an old friend. I extend my very deep sympathy to his lovely wife, his daughter, his mother, and his brothers and sisters.

I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. Patterson).

Mr. Speaker, it is always an occasion of sadness when a great and good man dies, and this is especially true when he had reached such a high goal in life and American statesman, Senator, and outstanding American.

To Mrs. McMahon and their young and lovely daughter Patricia I extend my most sincere condolences. As the Griffiths of Yale, Americans will realize that a great Senator has passed on and taken his rightful place in the choir of angels.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. Sadalak).

Mr. Sadalak. Mr. Speaker, I wish to associate myself with the remarks that have been made by our colleagues, Tom Dono and Jim Patterson.

At the time of his death, I had known him for a long time, and had the privilege of serving in the same Congress with him for three terms. We got along well and enjoyed the presence of each other. As the Griffiths, I think and am convinced that the great love and esteem and affection that the people of Connecticut had for Brien McMahon was truly manifested in the overwhelming majority which was tendered to him when he was reelected to his second term, and it was also indicated at the very largely attended funeral, which I also had the honor to attend and to pay my respects to his memory.

As has been mentioned, he was under 50 years of age when he was called to his Maker in the prime of his life, when his star was in the ascendency, because he had made his mark early in the Senate soon after he commenced his first term in 1944. He was stricken down in the prime of his life, only in his forty-ninth year, and in the early days of his second term in the great Democratic National Convention in Chicago, which was held at a time when the Great Depression and the threat of war were upon us. It is a great pity and a great tragedy that the Congress has lost him, and it is a greater pity and a greater tragedy that his State and his Nation have lost him, because he had so much to give in the difficult years that lie ahead.

Just a year ago, I remember very well, I visited with him in his home. He was planning and looking ahead to his term in the Senate, not knowing that already, hidden away in his body, was a dread cancer which was to take his life in a few short months.

sion for the work for 1953. I so well remember one item when we came to it. The request was for $5,000,000 for research on cancer. He raised the question immediately, according to the then prevailing climate, that that was enough. Was that enough? There was some question, and we finally arrived at a figure of around $6,000,000, which the Appropriations Committee was kind enough to endorse as a desirable thing to do. That was enough.

The request was for $6,000,000, a man's lifetime for humanity, in my opinion. I could point out many, many things that have not been said about Brien McMahon's work in this particular project. It has been so broad, it has been so big that this body has so kindly given me the American State. MAHON's sound program. There is no man in this country who has not contributed as much up to the present time alone. You can go through what was said about Brien McMahon and you can read the scientific journals, not time were they each pay tribute to this great man. Indeed, Brien McMahon was able to look beyond this narrow-July 16, 1962—life for what he considered right, he made an effort to avert it—his real value was in the day-to-day work of the committee, as an upholder of the peace, for the realities of statecraft than that, in itself, is worth a man's lifetime for humanity, in my opinion.

With still a freshman Senator, he assisted in writing the law governing our atomic program. He fought harder and more effectively than any other American to establish the principle of civilian control. He served with wisdom and distinction as the chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy; America's atomic enterprise stands as a monument to his work.

Brien McMahon hated the atomic weapons program that has been forced to build—he longed for the day when these dreadful instruments of destruction could be abolished from the earth. But so long as self-defense left no alternative, he believed that we must maintain and increase our atomic lead. Yet he never supposed that armaments, standing by themselves, could furnish us real and lasting security. He saw that peace was not simply a matter of building more guns and bombs—he saw that real peace was at bottom a matter of the spirit, a matter of creating the kind of society whose norms are peace, decency and brotherhood. And so he never ceased working for such a world. Three years ago, when he took the floor of the Senate to argue on behalf of the hydrogen bomb program, he said also that this Nation dedicate itself to a great moral crusade with peace with justice. He summoned us to wage peace and launch a mighty effort to take the Conventional Forces of the Communist world away from their tyrannical rulers and win them over to the side of freedom.

No man in public life had greater respect for the realities of statecraft than Brien McMahon—and no man had a deeper, or more unquenchable sense of idealism.

This blend of practicality and vision was reflected in his work as a high-ranking member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He was able to look beyond this present crisis and into international strife—beyond to a world in which the wondrous power of the atom would be used to heal the sick, and to bring new dignity to the wretched and hungry of the earth.

The hearts of Connecticut, of this country, of the Nation's scientists, acting as friend and adviser, giving and taking with earnestness, simplicity, and charm. His unique genius lay in a happy blend of an almost unique capability for the solution of practical realities. He was concerned and made proposals to deal with the international problems of human want and misery.
At the same time, he was acutely aware of the needs for national defense, down to the last step of securing adequate congressional appropriations for this purpose.

Of particular interest to Federation of American Scientists is a proposal made in his late address delivered by wire from a Boston hospital on June 14 to the Democratic State Convention in Hartford. He said, 'We need, I think, a little group of dedicated men and women to take a fresh look at the control problem [atomic energy on an international scale].'

A similar proposal, initiated by Federation of American Scientists last fall was transmitted to the White House on behalf of Federation of American Scientists, Brien McMahon. At the end, as at the beginning, he stood shoulder to shoulder with American scientists.

Within the short perspective of 6 years since the Atomic Energy Act became law, this monument to Brien McMahon's efforts has gained general acceptance as part of our way of life. Brien McMahon, it has been said, wrote atomic history, the first chapter of which is atomic organization on a national scale. In that chapter and in the traditions of American citizen-scientists, his name will remain enshrined.

I wish I had time to tell this House about many more projects. It so happened that Brien McMahon had no idea a year ago that he had this disease, and I had no idea that I had it in my family. My wife is just alive today.

Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. DODD. I yield.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, no one could be more deserving of the fine tribute paid to him by the late distinguished Senator from Connecticut, the Honorable Brien McMahon.

I concur fully in the statement which has been made by the present chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, Hon. Carl Durham, of North Carolina, to the effect that no one in the country has contributed more to our national defense program than the late Senator McMahon.

I have been a member of the joint committee since its creation under law in 1946, when the first chairmanship was assumed by Senator Froman of Connecticut. I am thoroughly acquainted with the work he did in this field. I know how he put the force of his personality behind the recent expansion program in the field of atomic energy, how he put force into the hydrogen program; I know how he carried on his great work to keep America ahead in this field.

I am of the opinion that there was no one in the United States, aside from the great scientists themselves, who was more versed in this field than Brien McMahon. He obtained his knowledge of it in the shortest possible time as a result of his own initiative and without the desire to work and by the great effort he put into his assignment as a member of the joint committee.

I join my colleagues from the State of Connecticut and from all the other States of the country in expressing profound sympathy to the family of Senator Brien McMahon.

Mr. DODD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have five legislative days in which to extend their remarks on the life and character of Senator McMahon.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Connecticut?

There was no objection.

Mr. DODD. Mr. Speaker, I offer a privileged resolution (H. Res. 11).

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the House has heard with profound sorrow of the death of Hon. Brien McMahon, United States Senator from the State of Connecticut.

Resolved, That the Clerk communicate these resolutions to the Senate and transmit a copy thereof to the family of the deceased.

The resolution was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. HALLECK. Mr. Speaker, I move that as a further mark of respect to our deceased colleagues the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to; accordingly (at 4 o'clock and 47 minutes p.m.), Mr. Speaker, I move that the House adjourn until Tuesday, January 6, 1953, at 12 o'clock noon.

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

The following executive communications were submitted subsequent to the adjournment of the Eighty-second Congress, second session:

1637. A letter from the Secretary of the Army, transmitting a letter from the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, dated June 1, 1953, submitting a report, together with accompanying papers and an illustration, on a cooperative beach erosion control study of the shore line of the California, Santa Barbara and Ventura Counties from Carpinteria to Point Mugu, appendix I, prepared under the provisions of section 2 of the River and Harbor Act approved on July 3, 1930, as amended and supplemented. The following quarterly reports were submitted for the third calendar quarter 1952:

(1) Text form used for reports is reproduced below. In the interest of economy questions are not repeated, only the answers are printed and are indicated by their respective letter and number. Also for economy in the Record, lengthy answers are abridged.)

File two copies of the Secretary of the Senate and file three copies with the Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Place an “X” below the appropriate letter or figure in the box at the right of the “Report” heading below:

"PRELIMINARY" Report ("Registration"): To "register," place an “X” below the letter "P" and fill out page 1 only.

"QUARTERLY" Report: To indicate which one of the four calendar quarters is covered by this Report, place an “X” below the appropriate figure. Fill out both page 1 and page 2 and as many additional pages as may be required. The first additional page should be numbered as page "3," and the rest of such pages should be "4," "5," "6," etc. Preparation and filing in accordance with instructions will accomplish compliance with all quarterly reporting requirements of the Act.

REPORT

Pursuant to Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year: 19_____</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

NOTE ON ITEM "A"—(a) In General: This "Report" form may be used by either an organization or an individual as follows:

(i) "Employer."—To file as an "employee," state in Item "B" the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer." (If the "employee" is a "firm" [such as a law firm or public relations firm], partners and salaried staff members of such firm may join in filing a Report as an "employee").

(ii) "Employer."—To file as an "employee," write "None" in answer to Item "B." (b) Separate Reports. An agent or employee should not attempt to combine his Report with the employer's Report.

(i) Employers subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their agents or employees.

(ii) Employees subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their employers.

A. ORGANIZATION OR INDIVIDUAL FILING

(1) State name, address, and nature of business; (2) If this Report is for an Employer, list names of agents or employees who will file Reports for this Quarter.

B. EMPLOYER

State name, address, and nature of business. If there is no employer, write "None."

---

NOTE ON ITEM "B"—Reports by Agents or Employees

An employee is to file, each quarter, as many Reports as he has employers; except that:

(a) If a particular undertaking is jointly financed by a group of employers, the group is to be considered as one employer, but all members of the group are to be named, and the contribution of each member is to be specified; (b) If the work is done in the interest of one person but payment therefor is made by another, a single Report naming both persons as "employers" is to be filed each quarter.

B. EMPLOYER

---

NOTE ON ITEM "C"—(a) The expression "in connection with legislative interests," as used in this Report, means "in connection with attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation." The term 'legislation' means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either House of Congress, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either House.—Section 302 (e).

(b) Before undertaking any activities in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

(c) After beginning such activities, they must file a "Quarterly" Report at the end of each calendar quarter in which they have either received or expended anything of value in connection with legislative interests.

C. LEGISLATIVE INTERESTS, AND PUBLICATIONS in connection therewith:

1. State approximately how long legislative interests are to continue. If receipts and expenditures in connection with legislative interests have terminated, place an "X" in the box at the left, so that this Office will no longer expect to receive Reports.

2. State the general legislative interests of the person filing and set forth the specific legislative interests by reciting:
   (a) Short titles of statutes and bills; (b) House and Senate numbers of bills, where known; (c) Citations of statutes, where known; (d) Whether for or against such statutes and bills.

3. In the case of those publications which the person filing has caused to be issued or distributed, in connection with legislative interests, set forth: (a) Description, (b) Quantity distributed, (c) Date of distribution, (d) Name of printer or publisher if publications were paid for by person filing, or name of donor.

(Answer items 1, 2, and 3 in the space below. Attach additional pages if more space is needed.)

4. If this is a Preliminary Report (Registration) rather than a Quarterly Report, state below what the nature and amount of anticipated expenses will be; and if for an agent or employee, state also what the daily, monthly, or annual rate of compensation is to be. If this is a Quarterly Report, disregard this item "C 4" and fill out Items "D" and "E" on the back of this page. Do not attempt to combine a Preliminary Report (Registration), with a Quarterly Report.

AFFIDAVIT

[Omitted in printing]
D. RECEIPTS (INCLUDING CONTRIBUTIONS AND LOANS):

Fill in every blank. If the answer to any numbered item is "None," write "None" in the space following the number.

Receipts (other than loans):

1. $[amount]  Dues and assessments
2. $[amount]  Gifts of money or anything of value
3. $[amount]  Prints or duplicated matter received as a gift
4. $[amount]  Receipts from sale of printed or duplicated matter
5. $[amount]  Received for services (e.g., salary, fee, etc.)
6. $[amount]  Total for this Quarter (Add items "1" through "5")
7. $[amount]  Received during previous Quarters of calendar year
8. $[amount]  Total from Jan. 1 through this Quarter (Add "6" and "7")

Loans Received:

- "The term 'contribution' includes a..."—Sec. 302 (a).
- "Total now owed to others on account of loans:
- "Borrowed from others during this Quarter:
- "Repaid to others during this Quarter:

Note on Item "D": (a) In General. The term "contribution" includes anything of value. When an organization or individual uses printed or duplicated matter in a campaign attempting to influence legislation, money received by such organization or individual—whether or not legally enforceable, to make a contribution"—Section 302 (a) of the Lobbying Act.

(b) If This Report Is For An Agent Or Employer. (i) In General. Item "D" is designed for the reporting of all receipts from which expenditures are made, or will be made, in accordance with legislative interests.

(ii) Receipts of Business Firms and Individuals. A business firm (or individual) which is subject to the Lobbying Act by reason of expenditures which it makes in attempting to influence legislation—but which has no funds to expend except those which are available in the ordinary course of operating a business not connected in any way with the influencing of legislation—will have no receipts to report, even though it does have expenditures to report.

(iii) Receipts of Multipurpose Organizations. Some organizations do not receive any funds which are to be expended solely for the purpose of attempting to influence legislation. Such organizations make such expenditures out of a general fund raised by dues, assessments, or other contributions. The percentage of the general fund which is used for such expenditures indicates the percentage of dues, assessments, or other contributions which may be considered to have been paid for that purpose. Therefore, in reporting receipts, such organizations may specify what that percentage is, and report their dues, assessments, and other contributions on that basis. However, each contributor of $500 or more is to be listed, regardless of whether the contribution was made solely for legislative purposes.

(c) If This Report Is For An Agent Or Employer. (i) In General. In the case of many employees, all receipts will come under items "D 1" (received for services) and "D 12" (expense money and reimbursements). In the absence of a clear statement to the contrary, it will be presumed that your employer is to reimburse you for all expenditures which you make in connection with legislative interests.

(ii) Employer as Contributor of $500 or More. When your contribution from your employer (in the form of salary, fee, etc.) amounts to $500 or more, it is not necessary to report such contribution, under "D 13" and "D 14," since the amount has already been reported under "D 6," and the name of the "employer" has been given under Item "D" on page 1 of this report.

Contributors of $500 or more: (from Jan. 1 through this Quarter)

- Have there been such contributors?
- [Answer: "Yes" or "No"]:

- In the case of each contributor whose contributions (including loans) during the "period" from January 1 through the last day of this Quarter, total $500 or more:

- Attach hereto plain sheets of paper, approximately the size of this page, tabulate data under the headings "Amount" and "Name and Address of Contributor," and indicate whether the last day of the period is March 31, June 30, September 30, or December 31. Prepare such tabulation in accordance with the following example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Amount</th>
<th>Name and Address of Contributor</th>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>$1,750.00</td>
<td>The Roe Corporation, 3511 Doe Bldg., Chicago, Ill.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

$3,250.00 Total

Note on Item "E": (a) In General. "The term 'expenditure' includes a payment, distribution, loan, advance, deposit, or gift of money or anything of value and includes a contract, promise, or agreement, whether or not legally enforceable, to make an expenditure"—Section 302 (b) of the Lobbying Act.

(b) If This Report Is For An Agent Or Employer. In the case of many employees, all expenditures will come under telephone and telegraph (item "E 6") and travel, food, lodging, and entertainment (item "E 7").

E. EXPENDITURES (INCLUDING LOANS) in connection with legislative interests:

Fill in every blank. If the answer to any numbered items is "None," write "None" in the spaces following the number.

Expenditures (other than loans):

1. $[amount]  Public relations and advertising services
2. $[amount]  Wages, salaries, fees, commissions (other than item "1")
3. $[amount]  Gifts or contributions made during Quarter
4. $[amount]  Prints or duplicated matter, including distribution costs
5. $[amount]  Office overhead (rent, supplies, utilities, etc.)
6. $[amount]  Telephone and telegraph
7. $[amount]  Travel, food, lodging, and entertainment
8. $[amount]  All other expenditures
9. $[amount]  Total for this Quarter (add "1" through "8")
10. $[amount]  Expended during previous Quarters of calendar year
11. $[amount]  Total from January 1 through this Quarter (add "9" and "10")

Loans Made to Others:

- "The term 'expenditure' includes a..."—Sec. 302 (b).
- "Total now owed to person filing:"
- "Repayment received during this Quarter:"

- 15. Recipients of Expenditures of $10 or More:

- In the case of expenditures made during this Quarter by, or on behalf of, the person filing: Attach plain sheets of paper approximately the size of this page and tabulate data as to expenditures under the following headings: "Amount," "Date or Dates," "Name and Address of Recipient," "Purpose." Prepare such tabulation in accordance with the following example:

The following registrations were submitted for the third calendar quarter 1952:

(Note.—The form used for registration is reproduced below. In the interest of economy, questions are not repeated, only the answers are printed, and are indicated by their respective letter and number. Also for economy in the Record, lengthy answers are abridged.

File two copies with the Secretary of the Senate and file three copies with the Clerk of the House of Representatives:

Place an "X" below the appropriate letter or figure in the box at the right of the "Report" heading below:

"Preliminary" Report ("Registration"); To "register," place an "X" below the letter "P" and fill out page 1 only.

"Quarterly" Report: To indicate which one of the four calendar quarters is covered by this Report, place an "X" below the appropriate figure. Fill out both page 1 and page 2 and as many additional pages as may be required. The first additional page should be numbered as page "3," and the rest of such pages should be "4," "5," "6," etc. Preparation and filing in accordance with instructions will accomplish compliance with all quarterly reporting requirements of the Act.

NOTE ON ITEM "A"—(a) In General. This "Report" form may be used by either an organization or an individual, as follows:
1. "Employees"—To file as an "employee", state (in Item "B") the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer". (If the "employee" is a firm [such as a law firm or public relations firm], partners and salaried staff members of such firm may join in filing a Report as an "employee").
2. "Employer"—To file as an "employer", write "None" in answer to Item "B".

NOTE ON ITEM "B"—Reports by Agents or Employees. An employee is to file, each quarter, as many Reports as he has employers; except that: (a) If a particular undertaking is jointly financed by a group of employers, the group is to be considered as one employer, but all members of the group are to be named, and the contribution of each member is to be specified; (b) if the work is done in the interest of one person but payment therefor is made by another, a single Report—naming both persons as "employers"—is to be filed each quarter.

NOTE ON ITEM "C"—(a) The expression "in connection with legislative interests," as used in this Report, means "in connection with attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation." The term 'legislation' means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either House of Congress, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either House.

NOTE ON ITEM "D"—(a) Definitions. Short titles of statutes and bills (b) House and Senate numbers of bills, where known; (c) Citations of statutes, where known; (d) Whether for or against such statutes and bills.

NOTE ON ITEM "E"—(a) The amount of compensation received or expended in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

NOTE ON ITEM "F"—Whether for or against such statutes and bills. If "None," write "None" in answer to Item "F".

C. LEGISLATIVE INTERESTS, AND PUBLICATIONS in connection therewith:

1. State approximately how long legislative interests are to continue. If receipts and expenditures in connection with legislative interests have terminated, place an "X" in the box at the left, so that this Office will no longer expect to receive Reports.

3. In the case of those publications which the person filing has caused to be issued or distributed, in connection with legislative interests, set forth: (a) Description, (b) quantity distributed, (c) date of distribution, (d) name of printer or publisher (if publications were paid for by person filing) or name of donor (if publications were received as a gift).

NOTE ON ITEM "G"—(a) The amount of compensation received or expended in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

NOTE ON ITEM "H"—Whether for or against such statutes and bills. If "None," write "None" in answer to Item "H".

NOTE ON ITEM "I"—Whether for or against such statutes and bills. If "None," write "None" in answer to Item "I".

AFFIDAVIT

[Omitted in printing]
The Chaplain, Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, D. D., offered the following prayer:

"Our Father God, here at this noon-tide altar of devotion which our fathers builded and on which, with their founding faith, they cut deep the devout consecration, "In God we trust," we humbly bow with the deathless assurance that only to our eternal Father God is our refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms." We pray Thy blessing on these servants of the people's will, whose judgments must weigh vast issues and whose minds must face tangled problems. In Thy light may they see light and in Thy straight path may they not stumble. In all the deliberations begun this day, we pray that their motives may be kept clean, their vision clear, their actions pure, their speech guarded, their appraisals fair, and their integrity unbetrayed. We ask it in the dear Redeemer's name. Amen.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE
