

Mr. THURMOND. Mr. President, is there any reason why we cannot take up the amendment now? Is there any reason why we cannot take up the Tunney amendment? We just voted on one Tunney amendment which was identical to this one, except that this one is 8 years instead of 7. I am willing to have a vote on that right now, with no argument whatever. Why can we not vote on that, and vote on this public television matter? It is extremely important. I think the distinguished Senator from Rhode Island is eminently correct. Why should the public have to pay composers and others in Hollywood?

Those people make enough money already. I think the taxpayers of this country should not be called upon to pay. Why can we not act on both of these measures now? As far as I am concerned we can act on the first one, which is the Tunney amendment, and get through in 10 minutes. I am ready to vote on it right now.

Mr. President, I move to table the Tunney amendment.

Mr. PASTORE. No. I hope the Senator would withdraw that. I do not think we ought to do that at all. I do not think we ought to use any pressure tactics.

All I am asking for here is a little bit of justice.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion to table is not debatable.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate stand in adjournment.

Mr. THURMOND. I am asking for time for debate and to go ahead and finish it.

Mr. MANSFIELD. I move that the Senate stand in adjournment until the hour set tomorrow.

Mr. ROBERT C. BYRD. Mr. President, will the Senator from South Carolina withdraw his motion?

Mr. THURMOND. What is that?

Mr. ROBERT C. BYRD. Will the Senator from South Carolina withdraw his motion now?

Mr. THURMOND. Can we not act on the Tunney amendment this afternoon?

Mr. ROBERT C. BYRD. He is gone and we have only 51 Senators.

Mr. THURMOND. He is not here now?

Mr. HOLLINGS. We have only 51 Senators.

Mr. THURMOND. Mr. President, I withdraw the motion reluctantly out of courtesy to the Senator from California, who has left the Chamber.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 9:30 A.M. TOMORROW

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate stand in adjournment until 9:30 a.m. tomorrow morning.

The motion was agreed to; and at 3:01 p.m., the Senate adjourned until Tuesday, February 17, 1976, at 9:30 a.m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES—Monday, February 16, 1976

The House met at 12 o'clock noon.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward G. Latch, D.D., offered the following prayer:

Lord who shall abide in Thy tabernacle? Who shall dwell in Thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.—Psalms 15: 1, 2.

O God, our Father, on this day we call to mind our first President whose towering personality has left his image upon our national life and upon our Capital City. As we listen to his words of wisdom, may we also hear his call to courage in adversity, to faith in times of trouble, and to pray that we may walk humbly with Thee. Grant that the memory of George Washington may strengthen our hearts, steady our spirits, and send us forth into this new day to labor faithfully for the good of our country and for the welfare of all mankind: through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day's proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof.

Without objection, the Journal stands approved.

There was no objection.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to the order of the House of February 9, 1976, the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. HARRIS) to read George Washington's Farewell Address.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. Speaker, I want to express my appreciation to you and to this House for permitting me to present this address 180 years after George Washington presented it. I think it is interesting to note that he presented these remarks as to the future of our Nation on our 20th anniversary as a country, and we present it again here today in our Bicentennial Year, on our 200th anniversary. Many of the problems he speaks to, and many of the predictions he speaks to, still are presented to us as a nation.

It is a great honor, living as I do next to George Washington's home in Mount Vernon, having just placed a wreath on his grave at Mount Vernon this morning, that I am able to present this in our Bicentennial Year.

Mr. Speaker, this is Washington's Farewell Address to the people of the United States.

Mr. HARRIS read the Farewell Address as follows:

To the people of the United States.

FRIENDS AND FELLOW CITIZENS: The period for a new election of a citizen to administer the executive government of the United States being not far distant, and the time actually arrived when your thoughts must be employed in designating the person who is to be clothed with that important trust, it appears to me proper, especially as it may conduce to a more distinct expression of the public voice, that I should now apprise you of the resolution I have formed, to decline being considered among the number of those, out of whom a choice is to be made.

I beg you, at the same time, to do me the justice to be assured, that this resolution has not been taken, without a strict regard to all the considerations appertaining to the relation which binds a dutiful citizen to his country; and that, in withdrawing the tender of service which silence in my situation might imply, I am influenced by no diminution of zeal for your future interest; no deficiency of grateful respect for your past kindness; but am supported by a full conviction that the step is compatible with both.

The acceptance of, and continuance hitherto in the office to which your suffrages have twice called me, have been a uniform sacrifice of inclination to the opinion of duty, and to a deference for what appeared to be your desire. I constantly hoped that it would have been much earlier in my power, consistently with motives which I was not at liberty to disregard, to return to that retirement from which I had been reluctantly drawn. The strength of my inclination to do this, previous to the last election, had even led to the preparation of an address to declare it to you; but mature reflection on the then perplexed and critical posture of our affairs with foreign nations, and the unanimous advice of persons entitled to my confidence, impelled me to abandon the idea.

I rejoice that the state of your concerns, external as well as internal, no longer renders the pursuit of inclination incompatible with the sentiment of duty or propriety; and am persuaded, whatever partiality may be retained for my services, that in the present circumstances of our country, you will not disapprove my determination to retire.

The impressions with which I first undertook the arduous trust, were explained on the proper occasion. In the discharge of this trust, I will only say that I have, with good intentions, contributed towards the organization and administration of the government, the best exertions of which a very fallible judgment was capable. Not unconscious in the outset, of the inferiority of my qualifications, experience, in my own eyes, perhaps still more in the eyes of others, has strengthened the motives to diffidence of myself; and, every day, the increasing weight of years admonishes me more and more, that the shade of retirement is as necessary to me as it will be welcome. Satisfied that if any circumstances have given peculiar value to my services they were temporary, I have the consolation to believe that, while choice and prudence invite me to quit the political scene, patriotism does not forbid it.

In looking forward to the moment which is to terminate the career of my political life, my feelings do not permit me to suspend the deep acknowledgment of that debt of gratitude which I owe to my beloved country, for the many honors it has conferred upon me; still more for the steadfast confidence with which it has supported me; and for the opportunities I have thence enjoyed of manifesting my inviolable attachment, by services faithful and persevering, though in usefulness unequal to my zeal. If benefits have resulted to our country from these services, let it always be remembered to your praise, and as an instructive example in our annals, that under circumstances in which the passions, agitated in every direction, were liable to mislead amidst appearances sometimes dubious, vicissitudes of fortune often discouraging—in situations in which not unfrequently, want of success has countenanced the spirit of criticism—the constancy of your support was the essential prop of the efforts, and a guarantee of the plans, by which they were effected. Profoundly penetrated with this idea, I shall carry it with me to my grave, as a strong incitement to unceasing vows that heaven may continue to you the choicest tokens of its beneficence—that your union and brotherly affection may be perpetual—that the free constitution, which is the work of your hands, may be sacredly maintained—that its administration in every department may be stamped with wisdom and virtue—that, in fine, the happiness of the people of these states, under the auspices of liberty, may be made complete by so careful a preservation, and so prudent a use of this blessing, as will acquire to them the glory of recommending it to the applause, the affection and adoption of every nation which is yet a stranger to it.

Here, perhaps, I ought to stop. But a solicitude for your welfare, which cannot end with my life, and the apprehension of danger, natural to that solicitude, urge me, on an occasion like the present, to offer to your solemn contemplation, and to recommend to your frequent review, some sentiments which are the result of much reflection, of no inconsiderable observation, and which appear to me all important to the permanency of your felicity as a people. These will be offered to you with the more freedom, as you can only see in them, the disinterested warnings of a parting friend, who can possibly have no personal motives to bias his counsel. Nor can I forget, as an encouragement to it, your indulgent reception of my sentiments on a former and not dissimilar occasion.

Interwoven as is the love of liberty with every ligament of your hearts, no recommendation of mine is necessary to fortify or confirm the attachment.

The unity of government which constitutes you one people, is also now dear to you. It is justly so; for it is a main pillar in the edifice of your real independence; the support of your tranquility at home; your peace abroad; of your safety; of your prosperity; of that very liberty which you so highly prize. But, as it is easy to foresee that, from different causes and from different quarters much pains will be taken, many artifices employed, to weaken in your minds the conviction of this truth; as this is the point in your political fortress against which the batteries of internal and external enemies will be most constantly and actively (though often covertly and insidiously) directed; it is of infinite moment, that you should properly estimate the immense value of your national union to your collective and individual happiness; that you should cherish a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment to it; accustoming yourselves to think and speak of it as of the palladium of your political safety and prosperity; watching for its preservation with jealous anxiety; discountenancing whatever may suggest even a suspicion that it can, in any event, be abandoned; and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest, or to enfeeble the sacred ties which now link together the various parts.

For this you have every inducement of sympathy and interest. Citizens by birth, or choice, of a common country, that country has a right to concentrate your affections. The name of American, which belongs to you in your national capacity, must always exalt the just pride of patriotism, more than any appellation derived from local discriminations. With slight shades of difference, you have the same religion, manners, habits, and political principles. You have, in a common cause, fought and triumphed together; the independence and liberty you possess, are the work of joint counsels, and joint efforts, of common dangers, sufferings and success.

But these considerations, however powerfully they address themselves to your sensibility, are greatly outweighed by those which apply more immediately to your interest.—Here, every portion of our country finds the most commanding motives for carefully guarding and preserving the union of the whole.

The north, in an unrestrained intercourse with the south, protected by the equal laws of a common government, finds in the production of the latter, great additional resources of maritime and commercial enterprise, and precious materials of manufacturing industry.—The south in the same intercourse, benefitting by the same agency of the north, sees its agriculture grow and its commerce expand. Turning partly into its own channels the seamen of the north it finds its particular navigation invigorated; and while it contributes, in different ways, to nourish and increase the general mass of the national navigation, it looks forward to the protection of a maritime strength, to which itself is unequally adapted. The east, in a like intercourse with the west, already finds, and in the progressive improvement of interior communications by land and water, will more and more find a valuable vent for the commodities which it brings from abroad, or manufactures at home. The west derives from the east supplies requisite to its growth and comfort—and what is perhaps of still greater consequence, it must of necessity owe the secure enjoyment of indispensable outlets for its own productions, to the weight, influence, and the future maritime strength of the Atlantic side of the Union, directed by an indissoluble community of interests as one nation. Any other tenure by which the west can hold this essential advantage, whether derived from its own separate strength; or from an apostate and unnatural connection with any foreign power, must be intrinsically precarious.

While then every part of our country thus feels an immediate and particular interest in union, all the parts combined cannot fail to find in the united mass of means and efforts, greater strength, greater resource, proportionably greater security from external danger, a less frequent interruption of their peace by foreign nations; and, what is of inestimable value, they must derive from union, an exemption from those broils and wars between themselves, which so frequently afflict neighboring countries not tied together by the same government; which their own rivalry alone would be sufficient to produce, but which opposite foreign alliances, attachments, and intrigues, would stimulate and embitter.—Hence likewise, they will avoid the necessity of those overgrown military establishments, which under any form of government are inauspicious to liberty, and which are to be regarded as particularly hostile to republican liberty. In this sense it is, that your union ought to be considered as the main prop of your liberty, and that the love of the one ought to endear to you the preservation of the other.

These considerations speak a persuasive language to every reflecting and virtuous mind and exhibit the continuance of the union as a primary object of patriotic desire. Is there a doubt whether a common government can embrace so large a sphere? Let experience solve it. To listen to mere speculation in such a case were criminal. We are authorized to hope that a proper organization of the whole, with the auxiliary agency of governments for the respective subdivisions, will afford a happy issue to the experiment. It is well worth a fair and full experiment. With such powerful and obvious motives to union, affecting all parts of our country, while experience shall not have demonstrated its impracticability, there will always be reason to distrust the patriotism of those who, in any quarter, may endeavor to weaken its hands.

In contemplating the causes which may disturb our Union, it occurs as matter of serious concern, that any ground should have been furnished for characterizing parties by geographical discriminations,—northern and southern—Atlantic and western; whence designing men may endeavor to excite a belief that there is a real difference of local interests and views. One of the expedients of party to acquire influence within particular districts, is to misrepresent the opinions and aims of other districts. You cannot shield yourselves too much against the jealousies and heart burnings which spring from these misrepresentations; they tend to render alien to each other those who ought to be bound together by fraternal affection. The inhabitants of our western country have lately had a useful lesson on this head: they have seen, in the negotiation by the executive, and in the unanimous ratification by the senate of the treaty with Spain, and in the universal satisfaction at the event throughout the United States, a decisive proof how unfounded were the suspicions propagated among them of a policy in the general government and in the Atlantic states, unfriendly to their interests in regard to the Mississippi. They have been witnesses to the formation of two treaties, that with Great Britain and that with Spain, which secure to them everything they could desire, in respect to our foreign relations, towards confirming their prosperity. Will it not be their wisdom to rely for the preservation of these advantages on the union by which they were procured? Will they not henceforth be deaf to those advisers, if such they are, who would sever them from their brethren and connect them with aliens?

To the efficacy and permanency of your Union, a government for the whole is indispensable. No alliances, however strict, between the parts can be an adequate substitute: they must inevitably experience the infractions and interruptions which all alliances, in all times, have experienced. Sensible of this momentous truth, you have improved upon your first essay, by the adoption of a constitution of government, better calculated than your former, for an intimate union, and for the efficacious management of your common concerns. This government, the offspring of our own choice, uninfluenced and unawed, adopted upon full investigation and mature deliberation, completely free in its principles, in the distribution of its powers, uniting security with energy, and containing within itself a provision for its own amendment, has a just claim to your confidence and your support. Respect for its authority, compliance with its laws, acquiescence in its measures, are duties enjoined by the fundamental maxims of true liberty. The basis of our political systems is the right of the people to make and to alter their constitutions of government.—But the constitution which at any time exists, until changed by an explicit and authentic act of the whole people, is sacredly obligatory upon all. The very idea of the power and the right of the people to establish government, presuppose the duty of every individual to obey the established government.

All obstructions to the execution of the laws, all combinations and associations under whatever plausible character, with the real design to direct, control, counteract, or awe the regular deliberations and action of the constituted authorities, are destructive of this fundamental principle, and of fatal tendency.—They serve to organize faction, to give it an artificial and extraordinary force, to put in the place of the delegated will of the nation the will of party, often a small but artful and enterprising minority of the community; and, according to the alternate triumphs of different parties, to make the public administration the mirror of the ill concerted and incongruous projects of faction, rather than the organ of consistent and wholesome plans digested by common councils, and modified by mutual interests.

However combinations or associations of the above description may now and then answer popular ends, they are likely, in the course of time and things, to become potent engines, by which cunning, ambitious, and unprincipled men, will be enabled to subvert the power of the people, and to usurp for themselves the reins of government; destroying afterwards the very engines which have lifted them to unjust dominion.

Towards the preservation of your government and the permanency of your present happy state it is requisite, not only, that you steadily discountenance irregular opposition to its acknowledged authority, but also that you resist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however specious the pretext. One method of assault may be to effect, in the forms of the constitution, alterations which will impair the energy of the system; and thus to undermine what cannot be directly overthrown. In all the changes to which you may be invited, remember that time and habit are at least as necessary to fix the true character of governments, as of other human institutions:—that experience is the surest standard by which to test the real tendency of the existing constitution of a country:—that facility in changes, upon the credit of mere hypothesis and opinion, exposes to perpetual change from the endless variety of hypothesis and opinion: and remember, especially, that for the efficient management of your common interests in a country so extensive as ours, a government of as much vigor as is consistent with the perfect security of liberty is indispensable. Liberty itself will find in such a government with powers properly distributed and adjusted, its surest guardian. It is, indeed, little else than a name, where the government is too feeble to withstand the enterprise of faction, to confine each member of the society within the limits prescribed by the laws, and to maintain all in the secure and tranquil enjoyment of the rights of person and property.

I have already intimated to you the danger of parties in the state, with particular references to the founding them on geographical discrimination. Let me now take a more comprehensive view, and warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party generally.

This spirit, unfortunately, is inseparable from our nature, having its root in the strongest passions of the human mind.—It exists under different shapes in all governments, more or less stifled, controlled, or repressed; but in those of the popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy.

The alternate domination of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge natural to party dissension, which in different ages and countries has perpetrated the most horrid enormities, is itself a rightful despotism. But this leads at length to a more formal and permanent despotism. The disorders and miseries which result, gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an individual; and, sooner or later, the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purpose of his own elevation on the ruins of public liberty.

Without looking forward to an extremity of this kind, (which nevertheless ought not be entirely out of sight) the common and continual mischiefs of the spirit of party are sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it.

It serves always to distract the public councils, and enfeeble the public administration. It agitates the community with ill founded jealousies and false alarms; kindles the animosity of one part against another; foment occasional riot and insurrection. It opens the door to foreign influence and corruption, which finds a facilitated access to the government itself through the channels of party passions. Thus the policy and the will of one country are subjected to the policy and will of another.

There is an opinion that parties in free countries are useful checks upon the administration of the government, and serve to keep alive the spirit of liberty. This within certain limits is probably true; and in governments of a monarchical cast, patriotism may look with indulgence, if not with favor, upon the spirit of party. But in those of the popular character, in governments purely elective, it is a spirit not to be encouraged. From their natural tendency, it is certain there will always be enough of that spirit for every salutary purpose. And there being constant danger of excess, the effort ought to be, by force of public opinion, to mitigate and assuage it. A fire not to be quenched, it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent it bursting into a flame, lest instead of warming, it should consume.

It is important likewise, that the habits of thinking in a free country should inspire caution in those intrusted with its administration, to confine themselves within their respective constitutional spheres, avoiding in the exercise of the powers of one department, to encroach upon another. The spirit of encroachment tends to consolidate the powers of all the departments in one and thus to create, whatever the form of government, a real despotism. A just estimate of that love of power and proneness to abuse it which predominate in the human heart, is sufficient to satisfy us of the truth of this position. The necessity of reciprocal checks in the exercise of political power, by dividing and distributing it into different depositories, and constituting each the guardian of the public weal against invasions of the others, has been evinced by experiments ancient and modern: some of them in our country and under our own eyes.—To preserve them must be as necessary as to institute them. If, in the opinion of the people, the distribution or modification of the constitutional powers be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the constitution designates.—But let there be no change by usurpation; for though this, in one instance, may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed. The precedent must always greatly overbalance in permanent evil any partial or transient benefit which the use can at any time yield.

Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of patriotism, who should labor to subvert these great pillars of human happiness, these firmest props of the duties of men and citizens. The mere politician, equally with the pious man, ought to respect and to cherish them. A volume could not trace all their connections with private and public felicity. Let it simply be asked, where is the security for property, for reputation, for life, if the sense of religious obligation desert the oaths which are the instruments of investigation in courts of justice? and let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect, that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle.

It is substantially true, that virtue or morality is a necessary spring of popular government. The rule, indeed, extends with more or less force to every species of free government. Who that is a sincere friend to it can look with indifference upon attempts to shake the foundation of the fabric?

Promote, then, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion, it should be enlightened.

As a very important source of strength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible, avoiding occasions of expense by cultivating peace, but remembering also, that timely disbursements, to prepare for danger, frequently prevent much greater disbursements to repel it; avoiding likewise the accumulation of debt, not only by shunning occasions of expense, but by vigorous exertions, in time of peace, to discharge the debts which unavoidable wars may have occasioned, not ungenerously throwing upon posterity the burden which we ourselves ought to bear. The execution of these maxims belongs to your representatives, but it is necessary that public opinions should co-operate. To facilitate to them the performance of their duty, it is essential that you should practically bear in mind, that towards the payment of debts there must be revenue; that to have revenue there must be taxes; that no taxes can be devised which are not more or less inconvenient and unpleasant; that the intrinsic embarrassment inseparable from the selection of the proper object (which is always a choice of difficulties,) ought to be a decisive motive for a candid construction of the conduct of the government in making it, and for a spirit of acquiescence in the measures for obtaining revenue, which the public exigencies may at any time dictate.

Observe good faith and justice toward all nations; cultivate peace and harmony with all. Religion and morality enjoin this conduct, and can it be that good policy does not equally enjoin it? It will be worthy of a free, enlightened, and, at no distant period, a great nation, to give to mankind the magnanimous and too novel example of a people always guided by an exalted justice and benevolence. Who can doubt but, in the course of time and things, the fruits of such a plan would richly repay any temporary advantages which might be lost by a steady adherence to it; can it be that Providence has not connected the permanent felicity of a nation with its virtue? The experiment, at least, is recommended by every sentiment which ennobles human nature. Alas! is it rendered impossible by its vices?

In the execution of such a plan, nothing is more essential than that permanent, inveterate antipathies against particular nations and passionate attachments for others, should be excluded; and that, in place of them, just and amicable feelings towards all should be cultivated. The nation which indulges towards another an habitual hatred, or an habitual fondness is in some degree a slave. It is a slave to its animosity or to its affection, either of which is sufficient to lead it astray from its duty and its interest. Antipathy in one nation against another disposes each more readily to offer insult and injury, to lay hold of slight causes of umbrage, and to be haughty and intractable when accidental or trifling occasions of dispute occur. Hence, frequent collisions, obstinate, envenomed, and bloody contests. The nation, prompted by ill will and resentment; sometimes impels to war the government, contrary to the best calculations of policy. The government sometimes participates in the national propensity, and adopts through passion what reason would reject; at other times, it makes the animosity of the nation subservient to projects of hostility, instigated by pride, ambition, and other sinister and pernicious motives. The peace often, sometimes perhaps the liberty of nations, has been the victim.

So likewise, a passionate attachment of one nation for another produces a variety of evils. Sympathy for the favorite nation, facilitating the illusion of an imaginary common interest; in cases where no real common interest exists, and infusing into one the enmities of the other, betrays the former into a participation in the quarrels and wars of the latter, without adequate inducements or justifications. It leads also to concessions, to the favorite nation, of privileges denied to others, which is apt doubly to injure the nation making the concessions, by unnecessary parting with what ought to have been retained, and by exciting jealousy, ill will, and a disposition to retaliate in the parties from whom equal privileges are withheld; and it gives to ambitious, corrupted or deluded citizens who devote themselves to the favorite nation, facility to betray or sacrifice the interests of their own country, without odium, sometimes even with popularity; gliding with the appearances of a virtuous sense of obligation, a commendable deference for public opinion, or a laudable zeal for public good, the base or foolish compliances of ambition, corruption, or infatuation.

As avenues to foreign influence in innumerable ways, such attachments are particularly alarming to the truly enlightened and independent patriot. How many opportunities do they afford to tamper with domestic factions, to practice the arts of seduction, to mislead public opinion, to influence or awe the public councils!—Such an attachment of a small or weak, toward a great and powerful nation, dooms the former to be the satellite of the latter.

Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence. (I conjure you to believe me fellow citizens) the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake; since history and experience prove, that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government. But that jealousy, to be useful, must be impartial, else it becomes the instrument of the very influence to be avoided, instead of a defense against it. Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike for another, cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots, who may resist the intrigues of the favorite, are liable to become suspected and odious; while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people, to surrender their interests.

The great rule of conduct for us, in regard to foreign nations, is, in extending our commercial relations, to have with them as little political connection as possible. So far as we have already formed engagements, let them be fulfilled with perfect good faith:—Here let us stop.

Europe has a set of primary interests, which to us have none, or a very remote relation. Hence, she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves, by artificial ties, in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics, or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities.

Our detached and distant situation invites and enables us to pursue a different course. If we remain one people, under an efficient government, the period is not far off when we may defy material injury from external annoyance; when we may take such an attitude as will cause the neutrality we may at any time resolve upon, to be scrupulously respected; when belligerent nations, under the impossibility of making acquisitions upon us, will not lightly hazard the giving us provocation, when we may choose peace or war, as our interest, guided by justice, shall counsel.

Why forego the advantages of so peculiar a situation? Why quit our own to stand upon foreign ground? Why, by interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalry, interest, humor, or caprice?

It is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliance with any portion of the foreign world; so far, I mean, as we are now at liberty to do it; for let me not be understood as capable of patronizing infidelity to existing engagements. I hold the maxim not less applicable to public than private affairs, that honesty is always the best policy. I repeat it, therefore, let those engagements be observed in their genuine sense. But in my opinion, it is unnecessary, and would be unwise to extend them.

Taking care always to keep ourselves by suitable establishments, on a respectable defensive posture, we may safely trust to temporary alliances for extraordinary emergencies.

Harmony, and a liberal intercourse with all nations, are recommended by policy, humanity, and interest. But even our commercial policy should hold an equal and impartial hand; neither seeking nor granting exclusive favors or preferences; consulting the natural course of things; diffusing and diversifying by gentle means the streams of commerce, but forcing nothing; establishing with powers so disposed, in order to give trade a stable course, to define the rights of our merchants, and to enable the Government to support them, conventional rules of intercourse, the best that present circumstances and mutual opinion will permit, but temporary, and liable to be from time to time abandoned or varied as experience and circumstances shall dictate; constantly keeping in view, that it is folly in one nation to look for disinterested favors from another; that it must pay with a portion of its independence for whatever it may accept under the character; that by such acceptance, it may place itself in the condition of having given equivalents for nominal favors, and yet of being reproached with ingratitude for not giving more. There can be no greater error than to expect, or calculate upon real favors from nation to nation. It is an illusion which experience must cure, which a just pride ought to discard.

In offering to you, my countrymen, these counsels of an old and affectionate friend, I dare not hope they will make the strong and lasting impression I could wish; that they will control the usual current of the passions, or prevent our nation from running the course which has hitherto marked the destiny of nations, but if I may even flatter myself that they may be productive of some partial benefit, some occasional good; that they may now and then recur to moderate the fury of party spirit, to warn against the mischiefs of foreign intrigue, to guard against the impostures of pretended patriotism; this hope will be a full recompense for the solicitude for your welfare by which they have been dictated.

How far, in the discharge of my official duties, I have been guided by the principles which have been delineated, the public records and other evidences of my conduct must witness to you and to the world. To myself, the assurance of my own conscience is, that I have, at least, believed myself to be guided by them.

In relation to the still subsisting war in Europe, my proclamation of the 22d of April, 1793, is the index to my plan. Sanctioned by your approving voice, and by that of your representatives in both houses of congress, the spirit of that measure has continually governed me, uninfluenced by any attempts to deter or divert me from it.

After deliberate examination, with the aid of the best lights I could obtain, I was well satisfied that our country, under all the circumstances of the case, had a right to take, and was bound, in duty and interest, to take a neutral position. Having taken it, I determined, as far as should depend upon me, to maintain it with moderation, perseverance and firmness.

The considerations which respect the right to hold this conduct, it is not necessary on this occasion to detail. I will only observe that, according to my understanding of the matter, that right, so far from being denied by any of the belligerent powers, has been virtually admitted by all.

The duty of holding a neutral conduct may be inferred, without any thing more, from the obligation which justice and humanity impose on every nation, in cases in which it is free to act, to maintain inviolate the relations of peace and amity towards other nations.

The inducements of interest for observing that conduct will best be referred to your own reflections and experience. With me, a predominant motive has been to endeavor to gain time to our country to settle and mature its yet recent institutions, and to progress, without interruption, to that degree of strength, and consistency which is necessary to give it, humanly speaking, the command of its own fortunes.

Though in reviewing the incidents of my administration, I am unconscious of intentional error, I am nevertheless too sensible of my defects not to think it probable that I may have committed many errors. Whatever they may be, I fervently beseech the Almighty to avert or mitigate the evils to which they may tend. I shall also carry with me the hope that my country will never cease to view them with indulgence; and that, after forty-five years of my life dedicated to its service, with an upright zeal, the faults of incompetent abilities will be consigned to oblivion, as myself must soon be to the mansions of rest.

Relying on its kindness in this as in other things, and actuated by that fervent love towards it, which is so natural to a man who views in it the native soil of himself and his progenitors for several generations; I anticipate with pleasing expectation that retreat in which I promise myself to realize, without alloy, the sweet enjoyment of partaking, in the midst of my fellow citizens, the benign influence of good laws under a free government—the ever favorite object of my heart, and the happy reward, as I trust, of our mutual cares, labors and dangers.

UNITED STATES,

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A message in writing from the President of the United States was communicated to the House by Mr. Marks, one of his secretaries.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following communication from the Clerk of the House of Representatives:
FEBRUARY 13, 1976.

HON. CARL ALBERT,
The Speaker,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D.C.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: I have the honor to transmit herewith a sealed envelope from the White House, received in the Clerk's Office at 12:10 P.M. on Friday, February 13, 1976, and said to contain H.R. 5247, An Act to authorize a local public works capital development and investment program, to amend the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 to increase the anti-recessionary effectiveness of the program, and for other purposes, and a veto message thereon.

With kind regards, I am,
Sincerely,

EDMUND L. HENSHAW, JR.,
Clerk, House of Representatives.

PUBLIC WORKS EMPLOYMENT ACT OF 1975—VETO MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES (H. DOC. NO. 94-367)

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following veto message from the President of the United States:

To the House of Representatives:

I am returning without my approval H.R. 5247, the Public Works Employment Act of 1975.

Supporters of this bill claim that it represents a solution to the problem of unemployment. This is simply untrue.

The truth is that this bill would do little to create jobs for the unemployed. Moreover, the bill has so many deficiencies and undesirable provisions that it would do more harm than good. While it is represented as the solution to our unemployment problems, in fact, it is little more than an election year pork barrel. Careful examination reveals the serious deficiencies in H.R. 5247.

First, the cost of producing jobs under this bill would be intolerably high, probably in excess of $25,000 per job.

Second, relatively few new jobs would be created. The bill's sponsors estimate that H.R. 5247 would create 600,000 to 800,000 new jobs. Those claims are badly exaggerated. Our estimates within the Administration indicate that at most some 250,000 jobs would be created—and that would be over a period of several years. The peak impact would come in late 1977 or 1978, and would come to no more than 100,000 to 120,000 new jobs. This would represent barely a one tenth of one percent improvement in the unemployment rate.

Third, this will create almost no new jobs in the immediate future, when those jobs are needed. With peak impact on jobs in late 1977 or early 1978, this legislation will be adding stimulus to the economy at precisely the wrong time: when the recovery will already be far advanced.

Fourth, Title II of the bill provides preferential treatment to those units of government with the highest taxes without any distinction between those jurisdictions which have been efficient in holding down costs and those that have not.

Fifth, under this legislation it would be almost impossible to assure taxpayers that these dollars are being responsibly and effectively spent.

Effective allocation of over $3 billion for public works on a project-by-project basis would take many months or years. The provision that project requests be approved automatically unless the Commerce Department acts within 60 days will preclude any useful review of the requests, and prevent a rational allocation of funds.

Sixth, this bill would create a new urban renewal program less than two years after the Congress replaced a nearly identical program—as well as other categorical grant programs—with a broader, more flexible Community Development block grant program.

I recognize there is merit in the argument that some areas of the country are suffering from exceptionally high rates of unemployment and that the Federal Government should provide assistance. My budgets for fiscal years 1976 and 1977 do, in fact, seek to provide such assistance.

Beyond my own budget recommendations, I believe that in addressing the immediate needs of some of our cities hardest hit by the recession, another measure already introduced in the Congress, H.R. 11860, provides a far more reasonable and constructive approach than the bill I am vetoing.

H.R. 11860 targets funds on those areas with the highest unemployment so that they may undertake high priority activities at a fraction of the cost of H.R. 5247. The funds would be distributed exclusively under an impartial formula as opposed to the pork barrel approach represented by the bill I am returning today. Moreover, H.R. 11860 builds upon the successful Community Development Block Grant program. That program is in place and working well, thus permitting H.R. 11860 to be administered without the creation of a new bureaucracy. I would be glad to consider this legislation more favorably should the Congress formally act upon it as an alternative to H.R. 5247.

We must not allow our debate over H.R. 5247 to obscure one fundamental point: the best and most effective way to create new jobs is to pursue balanced economic policies that encourage the growth of the private sector without risking a new round of inflation. This is the core of my economic policy, and I believe that the steady improvements in the economy over the last half year on both the unemployment and inflation fronts bear witness to its essential wisdom. I intend to continue this basic approach because it is working.

My proposed economic policies are expected to foster the creation of 2 to 2.5 million new private sector jobs in 1976 and more than 2 million additional jobs in 1977. These will be lasting, productive jobs, not temporary jobs payrolled by the American taxpayer.

This is a policy of balance, realism, and common sense. It is an honest policy which does not promise a quick fix.

My program includes:

- Large and permanent tax reductions that will leave more money where it can do the most good: in the hands of the American people;
- Tax incentives for the construction of new plants and equipment in areas of high unemployment;
- Tax incentives to encourage more low and middle income Americans to invest in common stock;
- More than $21 billion in outlays for important public works such as energy facilities, wastewater treatment plants, roads, and veterans' hospitals representing a 17 percent increase over the previous fiscal year;
- Tax incentives for investment in residential mortgages by financial institutions to stimulate capital for home building.

I have proposed a budget which addresses the difficult task of restraining the pattern of excessive growth in Federal spending. Basic to job creation in the private sector is reducing the ever-increasing demands of the Federal Government for funds. Federal Government borrowing to support deficit spending reduces the amount of money available for productive investment at a time when many experts are predicting that we face a shortage of private capital in the future. Less investment means fewer jobs and less production per worker.

Last month, under our balanced policies, seasonally adjusted employment rose by 800,000. That total is almost three times as large as the number of jobs that would be produced by this legislation and the jobs those men and women found will be far more lasting and productive than would be created through another massive public works effort.

I ask the Congress to act quickly on my tax and budget proposals, which I believe will provide the jobs for the unemployed that we all want.

GERALD R. FORD.

THE WHITE HOUSE, February 13, 1976.

The SPEAKER. The objections of the President will be spread at large upon the Journal, and the bill and message will be printed as a House document.

Mr. RONCALIO. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that further consideration of the bill and veto message from the President on the bill (H.R. 5247) be postponed until Thursday, February 19, 1976.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wyoming?

There was no objection.

"OUR LITTLE PARADISE"

(Mr. ALBERT asked and was given permission to extend his remarks at this point in the RECORD and to include extraneous matter.)

Mr. ALBERT. Mr. Speaker, the January 1976 issue of Soil Conservation, the official magazine of the Soil Conservation Service, has an interesting article in it about a successful outdoor classroom project for elementary students in Wewoka, Okla. It was written by Anne Zack of the Information Division of the Soil Conservation Service. I hope my colleagues will read it with as much interest as I have.

The article follows:

"OUR LITTLE PARADISE"

(By Anne Zack)

Elementary students in Wewoka, Oklahoma, call their outdoor classroom "Our Little Paradise."

When it's time to go outdoors for classwork, "they brighten up as if I had waved a magic wand," said Neva Chelf, one of the teachers at Wewoka Elementary School southeast of Oklahoma City.

Now in its second year of use, the outdoor classroom covers 7 acres of privately owned land within three short blocks of the school. The use of the land was donated by Albert Norvell, a rancher and cooperater with the Seminole County Conservation District.

"Our Little Paradise" is on a hilly site with meadows, fossil deposits, and a pond. Twenty-six species of trees grow there—an unusually large number for that part of Oklahoma. These include hickory, oaks, and pecan, as well as less common species in the area such as wild plum.

The size of the tract and the variety of resources offer many different learning opportunities. In planning the outdoor classroom, teachers assigned each class an area of responsibility outdoors to tie in with its area of concentration in the science program indoors. The students suggested and planned their specific projects.

First graders are building and maintaining a rock garden, and second graders, a flower garden. Third, fourth, and fifth graders study and maintain the pond, bird feeders, and a weather station. Sixth graders are mapping the outdoor classroom and identifying trees as well as taking charge of general maintenance.

Keeping the concept of the total environment in mind, Wewoka teachers try to weave all these separate lessons into an understanding of the interdependence of life systems.

In addition to their science projects, the students use "Our Little Paradise" for other subjects. It is a source of illustrations for math problems and an inspiration for art and poetry, for instance.

Special education teachers are finding the outdoor classroom to be an invaluable aid. One teacher explained that her students learn to write and spell more easily by writing in sand because the "feel" of the sand around their fingers helps them remember what they have written.

Interest in an outdoor classroom began in 1973 when Mrs. Chelf and four other Wewoka Elementary School teachers attended a 3-week National Science Foundation workshop in Colorado. Camilla Nash, principal of the school, gave her enthusiastic support to the outdoor classroom project.

John Chelf, SCS district conservationist in Wewoka and husband of Neva Chelf, helped with a conservation plan, and the Seminole County Conservation District donated planting materials and funds for the project. Several townspeople contributed money or volunteered their services. John Chelf said one source of pride in the outdoor classroom is that it is a community project developed entirely with local funds.

The students were involved in developing the outdoor classroom from the beginning, said Mrs. Nash. That is nothing new for Wewoka Elementary School. Students have participated in environmental projects on the school grounds for the last 5 years.

For example, 2 years ago students contributed nickels, dimes, and quarters to buy plants to protect an eroded terrace in front of the school. A committee of students accompanied teachers to a nursery to select the plants. The students planted their pyracantha, yellow and white euonymus, holly, and ground cover on the terrace. They still water those plants, which is about the only maintenance they need. And they have stopped sliding down the terrace, which caused the erosion in the first place.

"The students' care in maintaining their school grounds and outdoor classroom proves that when children are given an active part in improving their environment, they do respond with a sense of responsibility," said Mrs. Nash.

"We take the environment too much for granted. If we don't make a conscious effort to take care of it, it will be destroyed.

"This is something children should learn early in their lives, and it is the most important lesson 'Our Little Paradise' can teach."

THE 200TH ANNIVERSARY

The SPEAKER. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Wyoming (Mr. RONCALIO) is recognized for 30 minutes.

Mr. RONCALIO. Mr. Speaker, this is a fitting day not only to hear the annual reading of George Washington's Farewell Address, but also to observe what men of current greatness and achievement have advanced as their theory as to what George Washington may have felt were he alive today, and, more particularly, what he might have written on his 200th birthday in 1932.

John Sanford, an author of renown, had published a book entitled, "A More Goodly Country." It contains a letter from the grave on what the author surmised as to what would be Washington's observations on his 200th birthday back in the year 1932. I believe it will be enjoyable reading for all to whom today's CONGRESSIONAL RECORD has a deep and special meaning, as it does to this Member from Wyoming, and I am sure to other Members who have the same feelings concerning the subject addressed today.

Mr. Speaker, the "Letter From the Grave" follows:

LETTER FROM THE GRAVE

FROM WASHINGTON ON HIS 200TH BIRTHDAY

Sirs: I take my penn in Hand to correct some Misapprehensions which came into Being at my Death, & which have persisted until the present Time. I am not concerned with these erroneous beliefs insofar as they touch upon Events, for Events, under the forme of Govt known as a Republick, are susceptible of as many Interpretations as there are men to make them. But I begg leave to say that I am most deeply concernd with such Beliefs where they relate to Character. My owne Character, Sirs, has been most grievously misunderstood.

Whether willfully or otherwise, this Misunderstanding has been fostered by some of the very best people, to such an extent that I now find some of the very worst speaking my name in the same connexion as Thos Paine, Andw Jackson, & A. Lincoln, Esqs, to cite but three Instances of the tortious Mingling which I have reference to. It cannot fall to be noted that I do not include the Honble Thos Jefferson, nor can my reason for the Omission be obscure: Mr. Jefferson was at least a Gentleman. The others, whatever their Accomplishments may have been, & however great their Contributions to the power and independency of the United States, were members of the Mobility.

To put the matter flatly, Sirs, I deplord the notion of Equality all my Life, even such a fictitious Equality as the Constitution guarantes, & similarly, all my Death—especially since being joind here by Mr Hamilton—I have deplord the constant encroachment of that fiction upon the reality. If this trend should continue without Lett or Hindrance, I make free to say that the evil day cannot be far removd when the Tresspass will have been compleated, & the Squatter become the Sovereigne.

Sirs, this must not come to pass. It was toward no such dismal End that I spent my 67 yrs on earth. It was not for this that I accompanied that Lobster, Genl Braddock, among the Savvages in the wilderness of Penn's Sylvania, that I servd 6 yrs without remuneration as Commdr in chf of the Continental army, or that I accepted the office of the Presidency to the Negleckt of my Affairs & family. It is humilitating in the extrem to find it necessary to point to a Career which one might suppose would speak for itself. That I delgn to call attention to it should prove the Depths of my Anxiety. I do strongly believe, Sirs, that if what was fought for & won in my time should be lost without a fight in yours, it were far better for our Interests that we should still be under the dominion of the Crowne.

This correspondence, I venture to remind you, is for your Private perusal only, & once read and assimilated, it were prudent to Destroy it. Trusting to your Discretion, then, I should like to anlmadvert upon what I feel is the cardinal Sinn of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries: the Spirit of Doubt. Persons of Substance & quality have suffered their minds to become poysond with the fear that, after all's said, they do hold their Havings by the will of the Mob, & that the course of wisdom is to placate, to trimm and truckle, in the hope that the Mob, pacifyd by such outward Deference, will live & lett live. Nothing, Sirs, could be further from the Truth. Indeed, the reverse is true, for the only limit to the demands of Inferiors is the sum-total possessed by their Betters, their Bloode included. Who, Sirs, can deny that Shays' Rebellyon might well have ended as the French revolution began—with the Knife?

It was with no such intention that our owne War of Independency was fomented: we who had a tangible Stake in the Colloyns did not propose to break the shackles of King George only to bend the knee to King Tom, Dick, or Harry. It is no secret among ourselves that we purposed to rule the new World. In order to achieve that aime, Sirs, it was indispensable to assure that while our battels would be fought by the Many, the profits would inure to the Few. In the raising of slogans to rally support from an apathetick Yeomanry & a hostile Artizan-class, great risks had to be run in the respect that words seeming at the time to promiss Everything might later be constrewd to yield Nothing, nor were we invariably successful in this due to the Rantings of such plebeians as Paine, Benj Franklin, S. Adams, & others. But that which was possible to us, we did do. Item: we officerd the army with Gentlemen. Item: we establishd a Continental Congress of Gentlemen. Item: a Gentleman wrote the Declaration, & 56 Gentlemen signd it, but not one Artizan nor one Farmer that workd with his hands. Item: through the genius of Mr. Hamilton, we funded all certificates of Debt issyued to soldiers during the War, & despite Mr Madison's unreasonable opposition, we managed to conceal that Gentlemen bought up those certificates from needy Veterans at 5 cents on the dollar and cashd them at Par. And lastly, item: we shewd the proper hostility to a certain Event in France, the excesses of which bore too close a relation to our owne Popular temper.

It was but natural, therefore, that the Constitution would emboddy the Principles for which we had suffered so much Irritation, & sacrificed so much Money & time. That Document, I rejoice to say, has a noble ring to it even now, & none of the Amendments—aye, not even the 13th—injures the Tone given it by the Signers, all of whom, here beside me as I write, are satisfyd with their work. Structurally, the Country is much as it was when we confided it to your Care, & from a legalistick point-of-view, notwithstanding an Extension here & an Elaboration there, what you have is on the Whole what we fashiond for you, to wit: a Nation with a strong and unrepresentative central Govt; a spate of Tradition & Language rendered harmless by judicial misconstruction; & a two-party System of succession & self-perpetuation immutable enough to assure the ascendancy of Property; to say naught of a People now long tutord to condemn Revolt as unAmerican.

With so much in your favor, Sirs, nevertheless you have wrought so poorly as to fill us with Apprehention & Dismaye. You are haunted (to change a figure of Speech coind in the middle of the last Century) by the Spectre of Democracy—and well you may be. But the way in which to lay that Ghoast is not to temporize with it, but to oppose it by Force, to put it down with cold Steele and hott Ledd, as Genl Wayne did with his mutineers. But mark you, Sirs, if you wait for the Ghoast with hatt in hand, good God and God damn, you will find yourself with Aims in it! With Mr. Hamilton and the rest, Sirs, I say put this Brute the People down!

Be assurd that I am, Sirs, with most unfeignd Regard, your ever obedt servt.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. RONCALIO. Mr. Speaker, without it being considered a precedent, I ask unanimous consent that all Members who desire to do so may have permission to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material in the RECORD and also in that portion of the RECORD entitled "Extensions of Remarks."

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wyoming?

There was no objection.

WHY CAN'T DR. BURNS HIT HIS MONETARY TARGETS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. PATMAN) is recognized for 30 minutes.

Mr. PATMAN. Mr. Speaker, this Nation is struggling to emerge from the worst recession since the Great Depression of the 1930's. The one thing necessary for our continued recovery and growth is confidence in the economy.

To create an atmosphere of confidence we need a moderate and steady growth in money supply—a sensible monetary policy. Steady growth is vital. Wild swings in the growth rate, and rapidly changing policies only lead to confusion and, understandably, overcaution.

Mr. Speaker, Dr. Burns has set what he describes as moderate monetary growth targets for our Bicentennial year of 4.5–7.5 percent for M₁ and 7.5–10 percent for M₂. Naturally, I would prefer that the bottom limits of these target ranges be set higher, but I am much more concerned about Dr. Burns' ability to hit any announced targets.

Of course, the Congress would be in a much better position to judge these money supply projections if it had more timely data on the deliberations of the Open Market Committee. We need to know—in specifics—what these targets mean in terms of employment, prices, and economic growth. The Open Market Committee receives detailed projections in these areas from its staff, but it refuses to share this information with the Congress.

We can only judge the future, Mr. Speaker, by the past. In the last two years Dr. Burns has not come close to hitting the growth targets he established. In 1974 the narrowly defined money supply (M_1) grew by 4.66 percent. This growth rate, already too low, fell in 1975 to 4.17 percent. This is below the level of growth generally accepted as necessary for a healthy economy.

In view of this past performance it is interesting to note that Dr. Burns is lowering from 5 to 4.5 percent the lower range of the growth target for the narrowly defined money supply (M_1).

My own suspicions that this is a ploy to make Dr. Burns' failures look better was echoed by Mr. Alan Abelson who observed in the February 9, 1976 issue of Barron's:

What occasions our present awe of Dr. Burns' capacity for contrivance is the Fed's latest action on the monetary front. You may recall that a while back, after due and sober deliberation, it set a target for growth of the money supply of 5% to 7½% a year. For reasons not entirely clear, but probably numbering among them sheer ineptitude, it has failed to come anywhere near even the lower limit of that range. So, what do you do? Well, what Dr. Burns did is simple and simply beautiful: unable to reach the target, he lowered the target!

What is perhaps even worse is the wild fluctuations in the money supply on a month-to-month basis. In January 1975,

M_1 shrank at a frightening 5.09 percent annual rate. Just two months later it was growing at the rate of 13.24 percent per year. This growth rate was reduced in April, but rocketed to 14.19 percent in June, only to plummet to 3.71 percent the following month. Nor has more recent history seen any improvement. The growth rate for M_1 in October, November and December of last year was -0.82, 9.41 and -3.25 percent, respectively.

The following table shows the actual money supply and its growth rate for the last 2 years—it is a bleak picture:

Date	Amount (billions)	M_1 growth target	Actual growth	Amount (billions)	M_2 growth target	Actual growth	Date	Amount (billions)	M_1 growth target	Actual growth	Amount (billions)	M_2 growth target	Actual growth

Now the Fed, Mr. Speaker, is attempting to dismiss the M_1 measurement as being of little consequence. Dr. Burns observes that there are "profound uncertainties" in the behavior of the narrowly defined money supply and that the Fed is giving more weight to the broader measurements of the money supply such as M_2 .

Unfortunately, Dr. Burns' record in achieving his established goals for M_2 growth has been as poor as for M_1 . In the past twenty-three months Dr. Burns has missed his goal for M_2 growth eighteen times, and only achieved his goal five times. Of the five times he achieved his goal twice, and did so by barely reaching the bottom of the range.

This poor performance, Mr. Speaker, on both M_1 and M_2 leads to one of two possible conclusions. One conclusion for this failure is that Dr. Burns and the Open Market Committee are incompetent and unable to attain the established goals. The other conclusion is that Dr. Burns is setting false goals, ones that he has no intention of trying to attain in order to placate the Congress, and the people, while he secretly operates as he pleases.

Regardless of which conclusion you believe, there is only one course of action available—the removal of Dr. Arthur Burns from his position on the Board of Governors. The problem lies not in the choice of targets so much as Dr. Burns' failure to come close to hitting them.

In a period that requires confidence in our leaders charged with responsibility for our economic growth only the foolhardy can maintain faith in Dr. Burns.

QUARTERLY REPORTS*

*All alphanumeric characters and monetary amounts refer to receipts and expenditures on page 2, paragraphs D and E of the Quarterly Report Form.

The following quarterly reports were submitted for the third calendar quarter 1974:

(NOTE.—The form used for report is reproduced below. In the interest of economy in the RECORD, questions are not repeated, only the essential answers are printed, and are indicated by their respective letter and number.)

FILE ONE COPY WITH THE SECRETARY OF THE SENATE AND FILE TWO COPIES WITH THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

PLACE AN "X" BELOW THE APPROPRIATE LETTER OR FIGURE IN THE BOX AT THE RIGHT OF THE "REPORT" HEADING BELOW:

"PRELIMINARY" REPORT ("Registration"): To "register," place an "X" below the letter "P" and fill out page 1 only.

Year: 19-----	REPORT	QUARTER
(Mark one square only)

- NOTE ON ITEM "A".—(a) IN GENERAL. This "Report" form may be used by either an organization or an individual, as follows:
- (i) "Employee".—To file as an "employee", state (in Item "B") the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer". (If the "employee" is a firm [such as a law firm or public relations firm], partners and salaried staff members of such firm may join in filing a Report as an "employee".)
 - (ii) "Employer".—To file as an "employer", write "None" in answer to Item "B".
- (b) SEPARATE REPORTS. An agent or employee should not attempt to combine his Report with the employer's Report:
- (i) Employers subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their agents or employees.
 - (ii) Employees subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their employers.

A. ORGANIZATION OR INDIVIDUAL FILING:

- 1. State name, address, and nature of business.
- 2. If this Report is for an Employer, list names of agents or employees who will file Reports for this Quarter.

NOTE ON ITEM "B".—Reports by Agents or Employees. An employee is to file, each quarter, as many Reports as he has employers, except that: (a) If a particular undertaking is jointly financed by a group of employers, the group is to be considered as one employer, but all members of the group are to be named, and the contribution of each member is to be specified; (b) if the work is done in the interest of one person but payment therefor is made by another, a single Report—naming both persons as "employers"—is to be filed each quarter.

B. EMPLOYER.—State name, address, and nature of business. If there is no employer, write "None."

NOTE ON ITEM "C".—(a) The expression "in connection with legislative interests," as used in this Report, means "in connection with attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation." "The term 'legislation' means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either House of Congress, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either House"—§ 302(e).

(b) Before undertaking any activities in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

(c) After beginning such activities, they must file a "Quarterly" Report at the end of each calendar quarter in which they have either received or expended anything of value in connection with legislative interests.

C. LEGISLATIVE INTERESTS, AND PUBLICATIONS in connection therewith:

- 1. State approximately how long legislative interests are to continue. If receipts and expenditures in connection with legislative interests have terminated, place an "X" in the box at the left, so that this Office will no longer expect to receive Reports.
- 2. State the general legislative interests of the person filing and set forth the specific legislative interests by reciting: (a) Short titles of statutes and bills; (b) House and Senate numbers of bills, where known; (c) citations of statutes, where known; (d) whether for or against such statutes and bills.
- 3. In the case of those publications which the person filing has caused to be issued or distributed in connection with legislative interests, set forth: (a) Description, (b) quantity distributed; (c) date of distribution, (d) name of printer or publisher (if publications were paid for by person filing) or name of donor (if publications were received as a gift).

(Answer items 1, 2, and 3 in the space below. Attach additional pages if more space is needed)

4. If this is a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) rather than a "Quarterly" Report, state below what the nature and amount of anticipated expenses will be; and if for an agent or employee, state also what the daily, monthly, or annual rate of compensation is to be. If this is a "Quarterly" Report, disregard this item "C4" and fill out item "D" and "E" on the back of this page. Do not attempt to combine a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) with a "Quarterly" Report.

AFFIDAVIT

NOTE ON ITEM "D."—(a) In General. The term "contribution" includes anything of value. When an organization or individual uses printed or duplicated matter in a campaign attempting to influence legislation, money received by such organization or individual—for such printed or duplicated matter—is a "contribution." "The term 'contribution' includes a gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money, or anything of value, and includes a contract, promise, or agreement, whether or not legally enforceable, to make a contribution"—Section 302(a) of the Lobbying Act.

(b) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN EMPLOYER.—(1) In General. Item "D" is designed for the reporting of all receipts from which expenditures are made, or will be made, in accordance with legislative interests.

(ii) Receipts of Business Firms and Individuals.—A business firm (or individual) which is subject to the Lobbying Act by reason of expenditures which it makes in attempting to influence legislation—but which has no funds to expend except those which are available in the ordinary course of operating a business not connected in any way with the influencing of legislation—will have no receipts to report, even though it does have expenditures to report.

(iii) Receipts of Multipurpose Organizations.—Some organizations do not receive any funds which are to be expended solely for the purpose of attempting to influence legislation. Such organizations make such expenditures out of a general fund raised by dues, assessments, or other contributions. The percentage of the general fund which is used for such expenditures indicates the percentage of dues, assessments, or other contributions which may be considered to have been paid for that purpose. Therefore, in reporting receipts, such organizations may specify what that percentage is, and report their dues, assessments, and other contributions on that basis. However, each contributor of $500 or more is to be listed, regardless of whether the contribution was made solely for legislative purposes.

(c) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN AGENT OR EMPLOYEE.—(1) In General. In the case of many employees, all receipts will come under Items "D 5" (received for services) and "D 12" (expense money and reimbursements). In the absence of a clear statement to the contrary, it will be presumed that your employer is to reimburse you for all expenditures which you make in connection with legislative interests.

(ii) Employer as Contributor of $500 or More.—When your contribution from your employer (in the form of salary, fee, etc.) amounts to $500 or more, it is not necessary to report such contribution under "D 13" and "D 14," since the amount has already been reported under "D 5," and the name of the "employer" has been given under Item "B" on page 1 of this report.

D. RECEIPTS (INCLUDING CONTRIBUTIONS AND LOANS):

Fill in every blank. If the answer to any numbered item is "None," write "None" in the space following the number.

Please answer "yes" or "no": -----
- 14. In the case of each contributor whose contributions (including loans) during the "period" from January 1 through the last days of this Quarter total $500 or more:

Attach hereto plain sheets of paper, approximately the size of this page, tabulate data under the headings "Amount" and "Name and Address of Contributor"; and indicate whether the last day of the period is March 31, June 30, September 30, or December 31. Prepare such tabulation in accordance with the following example:

REPORT

PURSUANT TO FEDERAL REGULATION OF LOBBYING ACT

P	QUARTER
	1st	2d	3d	4th

NOTE ON ITEM "A".—(a) IN GENERAL. This "Report" form may be used by either an organization or an individual, as follows:

- (1) "Employee".—To file as an "employee", state (in Item "B") the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer". (If the "employee" is a firm [such as a law firm or public relations firm], partners and salaried staff members of such firm may join in filing a Report as an "employee".)
 - (2) "Employer".—To file as an "employer", write "None" in answer to Item "B".
- (b) SEPARATE REPORTS. An agent or employee should not attempt to combine his Report with the employer's Report:
- (1) Employers subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their agents or employees.
 - (2) Employees subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their employers.

A. ORGANIZATION OR INDIVIDUAL FILING:

1. State name, address, and nature of business.

2. If this Report is for an Employer, list names of agents or employees who will file Reports for this Quarter.

NOTE ON ITEM "B".—Reports by Agents or Employees. An employee is to file, each quarter, as many Reports as he has employers, except that: (a) If a particular undertaking is jointly financed by a group of employers, the group is to be considered as one employer, but all members of the group are to be named, and the contribution of each member is to be specified; (b) if the work is done in the interest of one person but payment therefor is made by another, a single Report—naming both persons as "employers"—is to be filed each quarter.

B. EMPLOYER.—State name, address, and nature of business. If there is no employer, write "None."

NOTE ON ITEM "C".—(a) The expression "in connection with legislative interests," as used in this Report, means "in connection with attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation." "The term 'legislation' means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either House of Congress, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either House"—§ 302(e).

(b) Before undertaking any activities in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

(c) After beginning such activities, they must file a "Quarterly" Report at the end of each calendar quarter in which they have either received or expended anything of value in connection with legislative interests.

C. LEGISLATIVE INTERESTS, AND PUBLICATIONS in connection therewith:

1. State approximately how long legislative interests are to continue. If receipts and expenditures in connection with legislative interests have terminated, place an "X" in the box at the left, so that this Office will no longer expect to receive Reports.

2. State the general legislative interests of the person filing and set forth the specific legislative interests by reciting: (a) Short titles of statutes and bills; (b) House and Senate numbers of bills, where known; (c) citations of statutes, where known; (d) whether for or against such statutes and bills.

3. In the case of those publications which the person filing has caused to be issued or distributed in connection with legislative interests, set forth: (a) Description, (b) quantity distributed; (c) date of distribution, (d) name of printer or publisher (if publications were paid for by person filing) or name of donor (if publications were received as a gift).

(Answer items 1, 2, and 3 in the space below. Attach additional pages if more space is needed)

4. If this is a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) rather than a "Quarterly" Report, state below what the nature and amount of anticipated expenses will be; and if for an agent or employee, state also what the daily, monthly, or annual rate of compensation is to be. If this is a "Quarterly" Report, disregard this item "C4" and fill out item "D" and "E" on the back of this page. Do not attempt to combine a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) with a "Quarterly" Report.◀
