Saddleback Valley Unified District, CA, Application No. 882552, Request for Review, CC Docket No. 02-6 (filed Sept. 16, 2014)

[1] See Streamlined Process for Resolving Requests for Review of Decisions by the Universal Service Administrative Company, CC Docket Nos. 96-45 and 02-6, WC Docket Nos. 02-60, 06-122, 08-71, 10-90, 11-42, and 14-58, Public Notice, 29 FCC Rcd 11094 (WCB 2014). Sections 54.719(b) and 54.1718(a)(1) of the Commission's rules provide that any person aggrieved by an action taken by a division of USAC, after first seeking review at USAC, may seek review from the Commission. Sections 54.719(c) and 54.1718(a)(3) of the Commission's rules provide that parties seeking waivers of the Commission's rules shall seek review directly from the Commission. In this Public Notice, we have reclassified as Requests for Waiver any appeals seeking review of a USAC decision that appropriately should have requested a waiver of the Commission's rules. Similarly, we have reclassified as Requests for Review any appeals seeking a waiver of the Commission's rules but that are, in fact, seeking review of a USAC decision.

Rural Health Care, Inc., and ENA Healthcare Services seek clarification of whether administrative offices and data centers can be included when calculating the rurality percentage of a consortium under section 54.607(b) of the Commission's rules. The eligibility of administrative offices and offsite data centers for program support under section 54.615 does not grant them status as health care provider sites. ORDER

Adopted: August 26, 2025 Released: August 26, 2025

By the Chief, Wireless Telecommunications Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. We hereby extend the existing waiver of section 20.19(b) of the Commission's rules to permit handset manufacturers to continue to use the temporary volume control standard to certify new handset models as hearing aid compatible.[1] We extend the waiver by two years with a new expiration date of September 29, 2027, unless a new volume control standard becomes effective through Commission action prior to this date. Under this two-year extension, new handset models may continue to be certified as hearing aid-compatible as long as the handset models meet the requirements of the temporary volume control standard as well as all other aspects of the 2019 American National Standards Institute (ANSI) Standard used to certify handset models as hearing aid compatible.[2] We also require CTIA, in coordination with the Telecommunications Industry Association (TIA), to file two progress reports updating us on the status of achieving the milestones set out in the TIA update that CTIA links to in its Petition for Extension of Waiver.[3] We take these steps to ensure that new handset models can continue to be certified as hearing aid compatible as well as to encourage the prompt development of a permanent volume control standard that the Commission can incorporate into its rules.

II. BACKGROUND

2. In 2017 the Commission adopted a volume control requirement for certifying new handset models as hearing aid compatible.[4] While the Commission adopted a volume control

CTIA's petition includes a link to a TIA status update on the development of a permanent volume control standard. This update includes a link to a more detailed TIA status update.

[4] Amendment of the Commission's Rules Governing Hearing Aid-Compatible Mobile Handsets, WT Docket No. 07-250, Report and Order and Order on Reconsideration, 32 FCC Rcd 9063, 9073–74, para. 23 (2017). The Commission modified its wireless hearing aid compatibility rules by adopting a volume control requirement similar to the requirement for wireline phones and affirmed its belief that a volume control requirement that specifies certain levels of amplification as an element of hearing aid compatibility is just as necessary for wireless handsets as it is for (continued….)

requirement, the Commission did not adopt a specific volume control standard. Instead, the Commission noted that an industry approved technical standard was nearing completion and, once the Commission adopted this standard into its rules, compliance with this standard would constitute compliance with the Commission's new wireless volume control requirement.[5]

3. In September 2019, the ANSI Committee filed a petition with the Commission asking the Commission to replace the existing 2011 ANSI Standard referenced in the Commission's rules with the new 2019 ANSI Standard.[6] Like the 2011 ANSI standard, the 2019 ANSI Standard addresses acoustic and inductive coupling between wireless handset models and hearing aids.[7] The 2019 ANSI Standard, however, also includes the wireless volume control technical standard referenced by the Commission in 2017.[8] The 2019 ANSI standard specifically incorporates by reference the TIA 5050 Standard that addresses volume control requirements for wireless handset models.[9] In February 2021, as requested by ANSI and commenters, the Commission adopted the 2019 ANSI Standard for determining hearing aid compatibility.[10] After a two-year transition period, on June 5, 2023, the 2019 ANSI Standard was set to become the exclusive testing standard for determining hearing aid compatibility.[11]

4. On December 16, 2022, the Alliance for Telecommunications Industry Solutions (ATIS) filed a petition for a limited, interim waiver of sections 20.19(b)(1) and (3) of the Commission rules to allow wireless handset models to satisfy a reduced volume control testing methodology—instead of the full ANSI/TIA Volume Control Standard incorporated into the 2019 ANSI Standard—in order to be certified as hearing aid compatible.[12] ATIS argued that the standard that ANSI asked the Commission to adopt was fundamentally flawed because it uses a pulsed-noise signal, which it claimed was insufficiently voice like to be compatible with many modern codecs.[13]

5. On April 14, 2023, the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau (WTB) released an order extending the transition period for exclusive use of the 2019 ANSI Standard from June 5, 2023 to December 5, 2023.[14] WTB took this step to ensure that handset manufacturers could continue to certify new handset models with hearing aid compatibility features using the 2011 ANSI standard that did not include volume control requirements while the Commission considered ATIS's waiver petition.[15]

6. On September 29, 2023, WTB conditionally granted in part ATIS's request for a limited waiver of the 2019 ANSI Standard's volume control testing requirements.[16] Under the terms of the temporary standard, a handset model may be certified as hearing aid-compatible under the 2019 ANSI Standard if it meets the volume control testing requirements described in the HAC Waiver Order as well as all other aspects of the 2019 ANSI Standard.[17] WTB limited use of the temporary standard to a two-year period to allow time for the development of a new, full volume control standard and for its incorporation into the wireless hearing aid compatibility rules.[18] The HAC Waiver Order also required ATIS to file a letter with the Commission a year after the temporary volume control standard went into effect updating the Commission on the development of a permanent volume control standard and any issues that had arisen with respect to the development of this standard.[19]

7. On September 27, 2024, ATIS submitted the required letter to the Commission.[20] ATIS's letter included an attachment prepared by TIA that summarized the status of the development of a new volume control standard. ATIS's letter stated that significant progress had been made by industry in developing a new standard and that TIA expected the approval process for the new standard to happen using only the minimum amount of time required for ANSI approval.[21]

8. On July 2, 2025, CTIA filed a Petition for Extension of Waiver requesting that handset manufacturers be permitted to continue to use the temporary volume control standard to certify handset models as hearing aid-compatible until a new permanent volume control standard becomes effective or at a minimum for at least two years after the expiration of the current waiver.[22] CTIA argues that without the extension handset manufacturers will not be able to continue to certify new handset models as hearing aid-compatible because they cannot meet the requirements of the full volume control standard.[23] CTIA states that continued use of the temporary volume control standard will allow consumers to have some volume control functionality while a new standard is developed. CTIA asserts that the extension will be limited in duration because TIA has made significant progress in developing a permanent volume control standard and should complete its work during the first half of 2026.[24] CTIA's petition includes a link to a TIA update that supports this completion date.[25]

9. On July 8, 2025, WTB released a Public Notice seeking comment on CTIA's petition.[26] The Public Notice sought comment on whether the Commission should grant CTIA's petition to extend use of the temporary volume control standard beyond the upcoming September 29, 2025 expiration date and, if so, for how long.[27] While commenters agree that we should extend use of the temporary volume control standard,[28] there is disagreement about how long we should extend it and under what conditions. Most industry commenters argue that the extension should remain effective until such time as a new volume control standard becomes effective.[29] Industry Organizations and Samsung support this position but indicate that at a minimum the extension should be for at least two years after the expiration of the current waiver.[30] Accessibility Organizations, however, argue that the extension should be limited to one-year after expiration of the current waiver and that we should require updates that are tied to the quarterly project milestones that are included in the TIA update that CTIA links to in its petition.[31]

10. In an ex parte letter filed on August 11, 2025, Accessibility Organizations express concern that the section 20.19(b) waiver only requires handset manufacturers to disclose a handset model's actual conversational gain rather than meet net gain levels that have been demonstrated to meet the needs of those with hearing loss who do not wear hearing aids as well as those with hearing loss who do wear hearing aids.[32] Accessibility Organizations state that for this reason the Commission should replace the temporary volume control standard with the new standard as soon as it is approved and published.[33] Consumer Technology Association (CTA) and CTIA filed responses to this letter. With respect to the conversational gain issue that Accessibility Organizations raise, CTA states "that the gain requirement remains an open issue with the standards group, underscoring the need for additional time to develop a consensus, workable standard."[34] Similarly, CTIA states that "[t]he Commission should allow time for issues such as gain requirements to be resolved among the multistakeholder technical experts

We note that CTIA requests that the Commission grant its extension request sufficiently in advance of the September 29, 2025, expiration date so that the wireless industry can have certainty with respect to the regulatory standard for handsets coming onto the market in the latter half of 2025. ## III. DISCUSSION

11. Section 1.3 of the Commission's rules provides that the Commission may "on its own motion or on petition" suspend a rule "for good cause shown, in whole or in part, at any time."[37] The Commission may find that the "good cause shown" standard is met when: (1) "special circumstances warrant a deviation from the general rule" and (2) "such deviation will serve the public interest."[38] In this case, we find good cause to extend the existing waiver of section 20.19(b) for use of the temporary volume control standard until September 29, 2027, unless a new volume control standard becomes effective through Commission action prior to this date.

12. All commenters agree that without an extension, the existing waiver will expire before a new standard can be finalized and adopted. As CTA states, an extension will allow "sufficient time to revise the volume control testing methodology to ensure accurate testing of volume control on handsets . . . ."[39] Industry Organizations "urge the Commission to extend the present waiver deadline . . . ."[40] The Mobile & Wireless Forum (MWF) states that it "wholly agrees that an extension of the current waiver is both needed to assure the continued availability of compliant devices and warranted given the ongoing work on an updated and effective standard to replace the current problematic version."[41] NCTA—The Internet & Television Association (NCTA) states that granting the extension "will ensure that . . . individuals with hearing loss continue to receive the highest quality offerings while stakeholders . . . work to implement and codify a new volume testing standard for hearing-aid-compatible . . . devices."[42] Samsung "urges the Commission to promptly extend the interim volume control standard . . . ."[43] TIA states that while its TR-41 Volume Control Task Group (VCTG) has made substantial progress, its work "will not be completed by the existing waiver's expiration on September 29, 2025."[44] Accessibility Organizations "acknowledge that standard-setting processes take time," and "additional time may be necessary to complete the standards revision process . . . ."[45]

13. While commenters support extending the existing section 20.19(b) waiver, there is disagreement on the length of the extension. CTIA "requests that the waiver be extended until the Commission updates its rules to reflect the updated volume control standard," but "under all circumstances, not less than two years from the expiration of the current waiver."[46] Samsung and Industry Organizations support CTIA's position but state that they do not view iterative extensions to be the best approach here.[47] Other commenters either state they support CTIA's petition without commenting on the length of the extension[48] or argue that the waiver should be opened ended until the Commission's rules are updated and a new standard becomes effective.[49] These parties argue that a time-limited extension, such as two years, is inefficient and creates regulatory uncertainty. Accessibility Organizations, on the other hand, argue for a one-year extension of the waiver and assert that the new volume control standard should become the new temporary standard once it is balloted and approved while the Commission goes through the rulemaking process to incorporate the new standard into the section 20.19 hearing loss compatibility rules.[50] Accessibility Organizations support their position by stating that the balloting and approval process signifies consensus among the stakeholders participating in the revision effort and, therefore, that the new standard could be made effective with minimal additional lead time.[51] Accessibility Organizations, however, do not address the procedural process the Commission would use to make the pending volume control standard the new temporary standard after it is balloted and approved.

14. We find that the record provides good cause to extend the existing section 20.19(b) waiver beyond its current expiration date of September 29, 2025. Just as with the initial waiver grant, no parties oppose CTIA's extension request.[52] Extending the existing waiver will allow handset manufacturers to continue to be able to certify new handset models as hearing aid-compatible and will allow consumers with hearing loss who purchase new hearing aid-compatible handset models to have a measurable level of volume control functionality.[53] Further, extending use of the temporary waiver is consistent with the policy objective of the Commission's hearing loss compatibility rules. These rules are based on the principle that consumers with hearing loss should have the same access to the newest and most advanced handset models as consumers without hearing loss.[54] In addition, extending use of the existing section 20.19(b) waiver will help handset manufacturers and service providers transition to the 100% hearing aid compatibility requirement by allowing them to replace existing non-hearing aid-compatible handset models with new hearing aid-compatible handset models.[55] As a result, we find that there are special circumstances that warrant extending the existing section 20.19(b) waiver beyond its current September 29, 2025 expiration date and doing so is in the public interest.

15. While we extend the section 20.19(b) waiver beyond its current expiration date, we agree with Accessibility Organizations that the extension should not be open-ended as CTIA and other commenters request.[56] Although CTIA requests that the waiver be extended until the Commission revises its rules to reflect the updated volume control standard, it also asks that at a minimum the Commission should extend the waiver for "not less than two years from expiration of the current waiver."[57] CTIA's petition is premised on the new standard being balloted and approved by ANSI during the second quarter of 2026.[58] In support of this premise, CTIA's petition links to a TIA report which sets out this end date and demonstrates how the VCTG will meet this deadline.[59] As CTIA states, the VCTG has "made substantial progress and projects to complete its work in the second quarter of 2026."[60] CTIA's petition and reply comments repeatedly assert that the VCTG is "making good progress on a permanent replacement volume testing methodology"[61] and that its request is "time-limited in light of the substantial progress made in developing a revised standard . . . ."[62]

16. Like CTIA, Industry Organizations and Samsung argue that the waiver should be extended until the Commission updates it rules reflecting a new volume control standard but under all circumstances, not less than two years from the expiration of the current waiver.[63] Other commenters emphasize that the extension will be of limited duration given the progress that the VCTG had made.[64] Industry Organizations state that the VCTG "anticipates that it will complete its work in the second quarter of 2026."[65] MWF underscores that the new standard "is on track for completion next year"[66] and NCTA states that "the VCTG has made substantial progress . . . ."[67] Likewise, TIA states that "the waiver will be limited in duration due to the substantial progress already made by the VCTG, which is working towards an expected approval of the TIA-5050 next year."[68]

17. Based on CTIA's assertions and as supported by the comments of other parties, we find that a two-year extension appropriately balances the need to ensure the development and incorporation into the Commission's rules of a workable volume control technical standard with the need to ensure that consumers with hearing loss have access to full volume control functionality as soon as possible. We base this decision on the statements of CTIA, TIA, and other commenters that a new volume control standard will be available in the second quarter of 2026 and with the expectation that ANSI, or another appropriate party, will petition the Commission at that time to incorporate the new standard into the Commission's section 20.19 hearing loss compatibility rules. We further base our decision on the statements of CTIA, Industry Organizations, and Samsung that two years is an acceptable amount of time to extend the waiver.[69] Our decision gives the VCTG additional time to finalize a new volume control standard while continuing to allow consumers with hearing loss to purchase new hearing aid-compatible handset models that have a measurable level of volume control functionality.[70]

18. Extending the waiver for a period longer than two years or leaving the deadline open-ended, as CTIA and other parties advocate, is unnecessary given the statements by CTIA, TIA, and other parties that the new standard will be balloted and approved by ANSI during the second quarter of 2026. Our goal is to ensure that the process of developing a new standard comes to a conclusion without further delay during the second quarter of 2026. As Accessibility Organizations point out, it has been eight years since the Commission adopted a volume control requirement, and we still do not have a workable volume control standard incorporated into the Commission's hearing aid compatibility rules.[71] Extending the waiver in an open-ended way as CTIA and other parties advocate could encourage further delay in the development of a new volume control standard. We endorse neither an indefinite waiver of section 20.19(b) nor a decision to effectively repeal the codified volume control rule through grant of an indefinite waiver.

19. While we do not believe that the extension should be open-ended, we also disagree with Accessibility Organizations' argument that the extension should be limited to a year.[72] As CTIA states, it is reasonably foreseeable that a one-year extension would simply lead to another request next year to extend the section 20.19(b) waiver.[73] Adopting a one-year extension would mean that the extension would terminate on September 29, 2026. Given that the new volume control standard will not be balloted and approved by ANSI until the second quarter of 2026, it seems highly likely that we would receive another request before September 29, 2026, to again extend the section 20.19(b) waiver. Our decision to extend the waiver by two years at this time avoids this problem and allows adequate time for the incorporation of the new volume control standard into the Commission's hearing loss compatibility rules after the standard is balloted and approved by ANSI during the second quarter of 2026. Our approach is also more efficient in that it requires parties to participate in one rulemaking proceeding rather than two as Accessibility Organizations suggest.[74]

20. Further, a two-year extension provides handset manufacturers with more regulatory certainty then a one-year extension which is something commenters emphasize is necessary with respect to handset manufacturers being able to continue to use the temporary volume control standard.[75] While Accessibility Organizations is correct that the temporary volume control standard only requires handset manufacturers to disclose a handset model's actual conversational gain, they fail to acknowledge that once ANSI and TIA approve and publish a new volume control standard additional time will be needed before the new standard can be made the controlling standard.[76] Typically, when the Commission adopts a new hearing aid compatibility technical standard it also allows for a transition period before the new standard becomes the exclusive testing standard.[77] During this transition period, testing labs can adjust their testing equipment or buy new equipment and the Commission's Office of Engineering and Technology can provide handset manufacturers and testing labs with testing guidance.[78] Typically, test labs only invest in new equipment and software after it becomes clear that the Commission will require compliance with a new standard.[79] While the balloting and approval process may signify consensus among the stakeholders participating in the revision effort,[80] it does not signify that handset manufacturers and testing labs agree that the new standard should be made immediately effective prior to it being incorporated into the Commission's section 20.19 hearing loss compatibility rules. Further, Accessibility Organizations does not address the procedural process the Commission would use to recognize the balloted and approved standard as the new temporary standard.

21. We are conscious, however, of Accessibility Organizations' concern that the process to develop a new volume control standard needs to keep moving along expeditiously to reach its conclusion.[81] In order to keep the process on track, we extend the update requirement that we adopted as part of the existing section 20.19(b) waiver.[82] Specifically, we agree with Accessibility Organizations' suggestion to require progress reports on the accomplishment of the quarterly milestones identified in TIA's update that CTIA links to in its petition.[83] We require CTIA, in coordination with TIA, to submit by December 31, 2025, an update that informs the public whether the third and fourth quarter 2025 milestones were met and if not why they were not met, and a second update by June 30, 2026, that informs the public whether the first and second quarter 2026 milestones were met and if not met, why they were not met.[84] While CTIA argues that updates are unnecessary,[85] we find that requiring these periodic updates will hold CTIA and TIA accountable for their statements that the extension will be of a short duration and that the new standard will be balloted and approved by ANSI in the second quarter of 2026. Further, these updates will be available to the public and consumers will be able to review these updates and be kept informed on the development and finalization of the new standard even though they may not directly participate in the VCTG.[86]

22. Accordingly, CTIA in coordination with TIA, must file updates with WTB concerning the completion of the tasks referenced in TIA's update concerning the Delta-POLQA and ETSI DTS/STQ-314 testing methodologies for measuring distortion.[87] The pending December 31, 2025 update will address test plan development and initial lab testing/analysis/define normalization for the two test methodologies, as well as, the status of the audio file preparation for the ETSI DTS/STQ-314 testing

These pending updates must be filed electronically using the Commission's Electronic Comment Filing System in WT Docket Nos. 23-388 and 20-3.[89]

23. For the foregoing reasons, we find good cause exists under the special circumstances of this case and that it is in the public interest to extend the existing waiver of section 20.19(b) by two years with a new expiration date of September 29, 2027, unless a new volume control standard becomes effective prior to this date. Under this extension of the section 20.19(b) waiver, new handset models may continue to be certified as hearing aid-compatible as long as the handset models meet the requirements of the temporary volume control standard as well as all other aspects of the 2019 ANSI Standard used to certified handset models as hearing aid compatible. In addition, as discussed above, we require CTIA, in coordination with TIA, to submit updates to the Commission that will keep the public informed on the progress of finalizing a new volume control standard that CTIA and TIA indicate will be balloted and approved during the second quarter of 2026.

ET Docket No. 25-260

Comment Date: September 26, 2025
Reply Comment Date: October 14, 2025

By this Public Notice, we seek comment on a request by Securaplane Technologies, Inc. (Securaplane) to waive Section 15.205(a) of the Commission's rules to allow its Range Controlled Radar (RCR) system that operates with a center frequency of 5.8 GHz to radiate non-spurious emissions into the 5.35-5.46 GHz restricted frequency band.[1]

The RCR is an intrusion detection sensor installed in aircraft wheel wells to detect movement within two to eight feet of the device. It is part of a security system typically armed moments before the aircraft is parked and vacated and is automatically disabled when airborne.[2]

Securaplane explains that it obtained the rights to the RCR from the original manufacturer (United Technologies Corporation Fire & Security) but has had to substitute a component for one that is no longer available. While this substitution meets Federal Aviation Administration guidelines, it expands the transmitted signal bandwidth from approximately 225 megahertz to 725 megahertz. This expansion results in non-spurious emissions in the 5.35-5.46 GHz restricted band.[3]

Section 15.205(a) of the Commission's rules permits only spurious emissions in the 5.35-5.46 GHz band.[4] Securaplane states that it explored other pathways to certification for the RCR and determined that a waiver of Section 15.205(a) is the most appropriate course of action. It explains that the current configuration poses no risk of harmful interference to aircraft systems and fully redesigning the RCR would halt aircraft production at several manufactures for a significant amount of time. It further indicates that the RCR meets all other certification requirements.[5]

ORDER

Adopted: August 27, 2025 Released: August 27, 2025

By the Acting Chief, Media Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we re-codify language that was inadvertently eliminated from sections 73.3801(f)(6)(iii), 73.6029(f)(6)(iii), and 74.782(g)(6)(iii) of the Commission's rules (Rules) relating to information that must be provided in "non-expedited" applications for ATSC 3.0 service.[1] This amendment to the Rules does not change any regulatory obligations.

II. BACKGROUND

2. In the Next Gen TV First Report and Order, the Commission authorized television broadcasters to use the Next Gen TV transmission standard, also called ATSC 3.0, on a voluntary, market-driven basis.[2] The Commission established a process for considering applications to deploy ATSC 3.0 service, which includes coverage requirements for a Next Gen TV station's ATSC 1.0 simulcast signal.[3] As part of that process, the Commission affords expedited processing and a presumption in favor of grant to applications that provide ATSC 1.0 simulcast service to at least 95 percent of the predicted population within the station's original noise limited service contour (NLSC), while applicants that do not satisfy this threshold must provide a more robust public interest showing with their application and will be considered on a case-by-case basis.[4] The required information that must be contained in applications that do not qualify for expedited processing (i.e., "non-expedited" applications) was set forth in sections 73.3801(f)(6)(iii), 73.6029(f)(6)(iii), and 74.782(g)(6)(iii) of the Rules.[5]

[2] See Authorizing Permissive Use of the "Next Generation" Broadcast Television Standard, GN Docket No. 16-142, Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 32 FCC Rcd 9930 (2017) (Next Gen TV First Report and Order). In this item, the Commission determined that broadcasters deploying ATSC 3.0 generally must continue to deliver current-generation digital television service, using the ATSC 1.0 transmission standard, to their viewers through local simulcasting, which is effectuated through voluntary partnerships that broadcasters seeking to provide Next Gen TV service enter into with other broadcasters in their local markets. See id. at 9937-58, paras. 11-59.

[4] Id.

[5] Id. ("In addition to information regarding any population that will lose 1.0 service as a result of the simulcast arrangement, such applications must contain the following information: (1) whether there is another possible simulcast partner(s) in the market that would result in less 1.0 service loss to existing viewers and, if so, why the Next Gen TV broadcaster chose to partner with a station creating a larger service loss; (2) what steps, if any, the station plans to take to minimize the impact of the 1.0 service loss (e.g., providing ATSC 3.0 dongles, set-top boxes, or gateway devices to viewers in the loss area); and (3) the public interest benefits of the simulcast arrangement and a showing of why the station believes the benefit(s) of granting the application outweigh the harm(s)."). See 47 CFR

3. Subsequently, in the Next Gen TV Third Report and Order, the Commission modified its ATSC 3.0 rules to, among other things, permit Next Gen TV stations to license multicast streams aired over an ATSC 1.0 multicast host.[6] The Commission also made updates to the required information for ATSC 3.0 applications in sections 73.3801(f)(6)(i)-(ii), 73.6029(f)(6)(i)-(ii), and 74.782(g)(6)(i)-(ii) of the Rules in order to facilitate multicast licensing, but it did not make changes to the requirements for non-expedited applicants set forth in sections 73.3801(f)(6)(iii), 73.6029(f)(6)(iii), and 74.782(g)(6)(iii).[7] However, after Federal Register publication of the Next Gen TV Third Report and Order, these subsections were removed from the Code of Federal Regulations.

III. DISCUSSION

4. We find that the deletion of subsections 73.3801(f)(6)(iii), 73.6029(f)(6)(iii), and 74.782(g)(6)(iii) of the Rules from the Code of Federal Regulations was inadvertent, and, thus, re-codify this language. The Next Gen TV First Report and Order codified these provisions to provide clarity about the information that must be provided by non-expedited applicants for ATSC 3.0 service.[8] The Commission never stated or implied in the Next Gen TV Third Report and Order that it intended to rescind these subsections. As noted above, the Next Gen TV Third Report and Order specifically referred to these provisions as remaining applicable.[9] Accordingly, we amend the Rules as set out in the Appendix by including the inadvertently deleted subsections that set forth the required information non-expedited applications must include to show that such applications are in the public interest.

5. We find that notice and comment procedures are unnecessary under the "good cause" exception of the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) because re-codifying the inadvertently deleted subsections merely restores the provisions setting forth the showing that must be made by non-expedited applicants that the Commission adopted in the Next Gen TV First Report and Order.[10] The Commission did not state or imply that it intended to change or eliminate subsections 73.3801(f)(6)(iii), §§ 73.3801(f)(6)(iii) (2023), 73.6029(f)(6)(iii) (2023), 74.782(g)(6)(iii) (2023); Next Gen TV First Report and Order, 32 FCC Rcd at 10005, 10009, and 10013 (App. B – Final Rules); Federal Communications Commission, Authorizing Permissive Use of the "Next Generation" Broadcast Television Standard, Final Rule, 83 Fed. Reg. 4998 (Feb. 2, 2018).

For purposes of the ATSC 3.0 rules a "multicast" stream(s) refers to a video programming stream other than the primary video programming stream; that is, a stream other than the station's primary video programming stream. See, e.g., 47 CFR § 73.3801(i).

[7] See Next Gen TV Third Report and Order at 6451, 6453, and 6455 (App. B – Final Rule Changes); see also id. at 6426, para. 23 n.109 ("While the Bureau will consider proposals that would use more than one multicast stream (airing primary programming), such proposals will require the public interest showing under the non-expedited processing standard."); id. at 6426, para. 23, n.11 ("The non-expedited process allows the Bureau to collect additional information that will be used to ensure the proposed use is in the public interest."); id. at 6427, para. 24 ("Applications seeking to use a multicast stream to supplement the service provided by their primary stream will be considered by the Media Bureau under the process for non-expedited applications.") (citing 47 CFR §§ 73.3801(f)(5)-(6), 73.6029(f)(5)-(6)); id. at 6427, para. 25 ("We therefore allow any Next Gen TV station to apply for this relief under the non-expedited process, but emphasize that all applicants must demonstrate why this relief is in the public interest and outweighs any potential harms.").

73.6029(f)(6)(iii), and 74.782(g)(6)(iii) in the Next Gen TV Third Report and Order.[11] Consequently, we find notice and comment procedures are unnecessary for this action.[12]

6. We also conclude that good cause exists to make this change effective immediately upon publication in the Federal Register, pursuant to section 553(d)(3) of the Administrative Procedure Act.[13] An expedited effective date is necessary to restore the rule in the Code of Federal Regulations as originally adopted by the Commission, which included codified provisions informing non-expedited applicants of the existing requirements for information that must be included in non-expedited applications and to allow the Bureau to promptly act upon such requests. Failure to make the rule change effective immediately may result in confusion among regulated entities as to the required showing and thereby impact the Bureau's ability to determine if applications are in the public interest, and thereby delay broadcasters' ability to commence ATSC 3.0 operation and provide new, innovative services to the public.

IV. PROCEDURAL MATTERS

7. Regulatory Flexibility Act. Because these rule changes are being adopted without notice and comment, the Regulatory Flexibility Act[14] does not apply.

8. Paperwork Reduction Act. This document does not contain new or modified information collection requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA), 44 U.S.C. §§ 3501-3521. In addition, therefore, it does not contain any new or modified information collection burden for small business concerns with fewer than 25 employees, pursuant to the Small Business Paperwork Relief Act of 2002, 44 U.S.C. § 3506(c)(4).

9. Congressional Review Act. The Bureau has determined, and the Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, concurs that this rule is non-major under the Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. § 804(2). The Bureau will send a copy of this Order to Congress and the Government Accountability Office pursuant to the Congressional Review Act.[15]

V. ORDERING CLAUSES

10. IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to the authority contained in sections 1, 4, 5(c)(1), 7, 301, 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151, 154, 155(c)(1), 157, 301, 303, and 47 CFR §§ 0.61, 0.283, this Order IS ADOPTED and WILL BECOME EFFECTIVE immediately upon publication in the Federal Register.

Unless otherwise specified, the following procedures and dates apply to the application(s) (the Section 214 Discontinuance Application(s)) listed in the Appendix.

The Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau), upon initial review, has found the Section 214 Discontinuance Application(s) listed herein to be acceptable for filing and subject to the procedures set forth in Section 63.71 of the Commission's rules.[1] The application(s) request authority, under section 214 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended,[2] and section 63.71 of the Commission's rules,[3] to discontinue, reduce, or impair certain domestic telecommunications service(s) (Affected Service(s)) in specified geographic areas (Service Area(s)) as applicable and as fully described in each application.

In accordance with section 63.71(f) of the Commission's rules, the Section 214 Discontinuance Application(s) listed in the Appendix will be deemed granted automatically on September 27, 2025, the 31st day after the release date of this public notice, unless the Commission notifies any applicant(s) that their grant will not be automatically effective.[4] We note that the date on which an application for Commission authorization is deemed granted may be different from the date on which applicants are authorized to discontinue service ("Authorized Date"). Any applicant whose application has been deemed granted may discontinue their Affected Service(s) in their Service Area(s) on or after the authorized discontinuance date(s) specified in the Appendix, in accordance with their filed representations. Accordingly, pursuant to section 63.71(f), and the terms outlined in each application, absent further Commission action, each applicant may discontinue the Affected Service(s) in the Service Area(s) described in their application on or after the authorized discontinuance date(s) listed in the Appendix for that application. applicable. Should no petitions for reconsideration, applications for review, or petitions for judicial review be timely filed, the proceeding(s) listed in this Public Notice shall be terminated, and the docket(s) will be closed.

Comments objecting to the application(s) listed in the Appendix must be filed with the Commission on or before September 11, 2025. Comments should refer to the specific WC Docket No. and Comp. Pol. File No. listed in the Appendix for the Section 214 Discontinuance Application. Persons making oral ex parte presentations are reminded that memoranda summarizing the presentation must (1) list all persons attending or otherwise participating in the meeting at which the ex parte presentation was made, and (2) summarize all data presented and arguments made during the presentation. If the presentation consisted in whole or in part of the presentation of data or arguments already reflected in the presenter's written comments, memoranda or other filings in the proceeding, the presenter may provide citations to such data or arguments in his or her prior comments, memoranda, or other filings (specifying the relevant page and/or paragraph numbers where such data or arguments can be found) in lieu of summarizing them in the memorandum. Documents shown or given to Commission staff during ex parte meetings are deemed to be written ex parte presentations and must be filed consistent with rule 1.1206(b). In proceedings governed by rule 1.49(f) or for which the Commission has made available a method of electronic filing, written ex parte presentations and memoranda summarizing oral ex parte presentations, and all attachments thereto, must be filed through the electronic comment filing system available for that proceeding, and must be filed in their native format (e.g., .doc, .xml, .ppt, searchable .pdf). Participants in this proceeding(s) should familiarize themselves with the Commission's ex parte rules.

WIRELINE COMPETITION BUREAU SEEKS COMMENT ON TWO PERIODIC TRACED ACT OBLIGATIONS REGARDING STIR/SHAKEN CALLER ID AUTHENTICATION

WC Docket No. 17-97

Comments Due: (30 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register)
Reply Comments Due: (45 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register)

By this Public Notice, the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) seeks comment concerning two recurring statutory obligations under the Telephone Robocall Abuse Criminal Enforcement and Deterrence Act (TRACED Act). First, as required annually, the Bureau seeks comment on whether the extensions granted by the Commission for implementation of the STIR/SHAKEN caller ID authentication framework should be revised or extended. Second, the Bureau seeks comment to inform the Commission's second triennial assessment of the efficacy of the STIR/SHAKEN caller ID authentication framework as a tool to combat illegal robocalls.

I. COMMENTS SOUGHT ON STIR/SHAKEN IMPLEMENTATION EXTENSIONS

In the TRACED Act, Congress instructed the Commission to "assess any burdens or barriers" to the implementation of STIR/SHAKEN that certain providers might face, and "upon a public finding of undue hardship," authorized the Commission to delay STIR/SHAKEN implementation deadlines "for a reasonable period of time."[1] In its initial assessment conducted in 2020, the Commission granted three categorical implementation extensions based on undue hardship,[2] and it added a third undue hardship extension in 2023.[3] Only two such extensions remain for (1) providers that cannot obtain the Service

[3] Call Authentication Trust Anchor, WC Docket No. 17-97, Sixth Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 38 FCC Rcd 2573, 2614-15, paras. 79-82 (2023) (Sixth Caller ID Authentication Order and Further Notice) (granting an extension to small voice service providers that originate calls via satellite using North American Numbering Plan (NANP) numbers). Pursuant to the TRACED Act, providers also have a continuing extension for the portions of their networks that rely on technology that cannot initiate, maintain, or terminate session internet protocol (SIP) calls. See TRACED Act § 4(b)(5)(B); 47 U.S.C. § 227b(b)(5)(B); 47 CFR § 64.6304(d); Second Caller ID Authentication Report and Order, 36 FCC Rcd at 1892-96, paras. 66-70. Because this extension was not granted on the basis of undue hardship, we do not address it further in this Public Notice. See TRACED Act § 4(b)(5)(B); 47 U.S.C. § 227b(b)(5)(B). Additionally, providers that lack control over the network infrastructure necessary to implement STIR/SHAKEN are exempt from implementing STIR/SHAKEN. See Call Authentication Trust Anchor, Implementation of TRACED Act Section 6(a)—Knowledge of Customers by Entities with Access to

Provider Code (SPC) token necessary to participate in STIR/SHAKEN, and (2) small voice service providers that originate calls via satellite using North American Numbering Council (NANC) numbers.[4]

The TRACED Act further instructs the Commission to annually "consider revising or extending" any extension granted due to undue hardship, including whether an extension remains necessary.[5] To comply, the Commission has directed the Bureau to annually "reevaluate" and "revise or extend" any such extension "as necessary."[6] As part of this evaluation, the Bureau may lengthen a granted extension and it can also decrease, but not expand, the scope of entities that are entitled to such an extension.[7]

Pursuant to the TRACED Act and section 64.6304(f) of the Commission's rules, we seek comment to enable our annual reevaluation of the remaining STIR/SHAKEN undue hardship implementation extensions. When considering whether a hardship is "undue" under the TRACED Act, and whether an extension is for a "reasonable amount of time," the Commission has found it appropriate to balance the hardship of compliance due to "the burdens and barriers to implementation" faced by a provider or class of providers with the benefit to the public of implementing STIR/SHAKEN expeditiously.[8] With that in mind, we seek comment on whether the Bureau should revise or extend the two remaining extensions.

Extension for Providers That Cannot Obtain an SPC Token. We seek comment on the extension for providers that cannot obtain an SPC token. To participate in STIR/SHAKEN, a provider must obtain an SPC token through the STIR/SHAKEN governance system.[9] Because access to a token is necessary for participation in STIR/SHAKEN, the Commission initially granted providers unable to obtain a token an indefinite extension until they were able to receive a token.[10] In May 2021, the STIR/SHAKEN Governance Authority revised the Token Access Policy to enable more providers to obtain a token.[11] In its November 2024 Eighth Caller ID Authentication Report and Order, the Commission required, inter alia, that all providers with a STIR/SHAKEN implementation obligation obtain an SPC token from the STIR/SHAKEN Policy Administrator, but declined to repeal the indefinite SPC token extension.[12]

As this is not an undue hardship extension, we also do not address it further in this Public Notice.

The extension for services scheduled for section 214 discontinuance expired on June 30, 2022, and the extension for non-facilities-based and facilities-based small voice service providers ended on June 30, 2022, and June 30, 2023, respectively. See id.; Second Caller ID Authentication Report and Order, 36 FCC Rcd at 1877-82, paras. 40-48; Call Authentication Trust Anchor, WC Docket No. 17-97, Fourth Report and Order, 36 FCC Rcd 17840, 17844, para. 9 (2021).

In its most recent annual evaluation, the Bureau declined to terminate or modify the extension so staff could assess the number of providers still claiming the extension in their most recent Robocall Mitigation Database submissions and the merit of those claims.[13] To supplement this assessment, we seek comment on the types and number of providers that remain unable to obtain a token and the barriers to token access for these providers, in light of the changes to the Token Access Policy. Is there anything that can be done to make tokens available to these providers? Does the extension remain necessary?

Extension for Small Voice Service Providers Originating Calls via Satellite Using NANP Numbers. We seek comment on the Commission's extension for small voice service providers that originate calls via satellite using North American Numbering Plan (NANP) numbers. The Commission adopted this indefinite extension concluding that the balance of benefits and burdens counseled "against requiring such providers to implement" STIR/SHAKEN.[14] We seek comment on the current benefits, burdens, and barriers to STIR/SHAKEN implementation by small voice service providers that originate calls via satellite using NANP numbers. Have these benefits, burdens, and barriers changed since the Commission adopted the extension and if so, how? Do the justifications for the extension still apply? Have any abuses occurred due to this extension, or are any abuses likely to result if the extension is continued? What impact does the extension have on the Commission's longstanding goal of achieving ubiquitous deployment of the STIR/SHAKEN framework? Is it necessary for the extension to remain indefinite, or would it be more appropriate to modify the extension to provide a known end date?

II. COMMENTS SOUGHT ON STIR/SHAKEN EFFICACY

Section 4(b)(4) of the TRACED Act directs the Commission to, every three years, "assess the efficacy of the technologies used for [the] call authentication frameworks" implemented pursuant to the TRACED Act and "based on the assessment . . . revise or replace the call authentication frameworks . . . if the Commission determines it is in the public interest to do so."[15] The Commission must submit to Congress "a report on the findings of the assessment" and any actions taken by the Commission "to revise or replace the call authentication frameworks."[16] Before conducting the assessment under the TRACED Act, the Commission is required to provide public notice and an opportunity to comment.[17] The Commission submitted its first such triennial report to Congress on December 20, 2022, finding that STIR/SHAKEN is effective at authenticating caller ID information.[18] Through this Public Notice, the Bureau seeks comment to inform the Commission's second triennial assessment on the efficacy of STIR/SHAKEN, which remains the only call authentication framework currently implemented pursuant to the TRACED Act.

adopted in the Eighth Caller ID Authentication Report and Order will go into effect on September 18, 2025. Wireline Competition Bureau Announces Effective Date for STIR/SHAKEN Rules, WC Docket No. 17-97, Public Notice, DA 25-730 (WCB rel. Aug. 19, 2025).

In the First Triennial Report, the Bureau established a standard for conducting its assessment that is based on "how well [STIR/SHAKEN] effectuates the authentication of caller ID information."[19] Although the Bureau considered applying alternative standards, such as STIR/SHAKEN's "impact on preventing illegally spoofed robocalls, or preventing all illegal robocalls," it agreed with the majority of commenters that assessing STIR/SHAKEN under such standards "would fail to account for the fact that, while a critical tool in protecting consumers from illegal spoofing, the STIR/SHAKEN framework is only one facet of the larger campaign by the Commission and industry to combat illegal robocalls."[20] The Bureau seeks comment on whether it should maintain, revise, or replace this standard for its second assessment of the efficacy of STIR/SHAKEN.

In the three years that have passed since the Commission conducted its first triennial assessment, providers have gained more experience implementing the STIR/SHAKEN framework. The Commission has also adopted rules expanding STIR/SHAKEN implementation obligations to cover gateway providers and non-gateway intermediate providers, in addition to voice service providers.[21] Now, all providers with control over the network infrastructure necessary to authenticate calls are required to implement STIR/SHAKEN for session internet protocol (SIP) calls unless subject to an exemption or extension.[22] With these developments in mind, we seek comment on how well STIR/SHAKEN effectuates the authentication of caller ID information today. Are there ways STIR/SHAKEN could be more effective at authenticating caller ID information? Do any specific factors limit STIR/SHAKEN's efficacy, and what solutions might resolve these issues? Have there been other developments, such as industry changes or evolution in technologies, that affect the efficacy of STIR/SHAKEN, and how should any such developments be factored into our assessment? Do any commenters believe the Commission should revise STIR/SHAKEN or replace it with a different framework? We also seek comment on the efficacy of STIR/SHAKEN under any alternative standard proposed by commenters.

WIRELESS TELECOMMUNICATIONS BUREAU ANNOUNCES UPDATED LIST OF AMATEUR SERVICE CLUB AND MILITARY RECREATION STATION CALL SIGN ADMINISTRATORS

By this Public Notice, the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau (WTB) announces that Central Alabama Volunteer Exam Coordinator (Central Alabama VEC) is authorized to serve as a Club Station Call Sign Administrator (CSCSA).

On October 21, 1998, the FCC adopted a Report and Order reinstituting the use of volunteer organizations for the purpose of processing applications for amateur radio service club and military recreation station licenses.[1] On January 3, 2000, WTB announced that beginning March 1, 2000, we would accept requests from organizations interested in processing applications for amateur service club and military recreation station call signs and that each selected organization would be designated as a CSCSA.[2] A CSCSA is an amateur radio organization that has tax-exempt status under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and agrees to provide voluntary, uncompensated and unreimbursed services for processing applications for club and military recreation station licenses. It must agree to submit applications to the FCC in an electronic batch file, to retain the application information for at least 15 months, and to make the application information available to the FCC upon request. The CSCSA may collect all necessary information in any manner of its choosing, including creating its own forms.

In response to the January 3, 2000 Public Notice, we granted requests from three amateur radio organizations requesting to be designated as CSCSAs.[3] On January 5, 2001, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) issued a Public Notice announcing that it would only accept applications for new, modified, or renewed amateur service club and military recreation station licenses from a CSCSA.[4] Specifically, the January 5, 2001, Public Notice clarified that to obtain a new amateur service club station or military recreation station license, or to modify or renew an amateur service club station or military recreation station license, an operator must file its application with one of the CSCSAs identified by the

On January 7, 2025, the Bureau received a request from Central Alabama VEC to become an authorized CSCSA. The request demonstrated tax-exempt status, compliance with CSCSA requirements, and completion of an electronic batch file through a pilot autogrant filing project.[5] Consistent with the procedures outlined in the January 3, 2000 Public Notice, we therefore announce the additional designation of Central Alabama VEC as a CSCSA. On May 31, 2024, AT&T Enterprises, LLC filed a notification of the pro forma assignment of AT&T Corp.'s interest in the cable landing licenses listed below to AT&T Enterprises, LLC, effective May 30, 2024.

AT&T Corp. was a direct subsidiary of AT&T Inc., a Delaware corporation. In a corporate reorganization, AT&T Corp. was merged with AT&T Enterprises, Inc., a direct wholly owned subsidiary of AT&T Inc. with AT&T Enterprises, Inc. being the surviving entity after the merger. AT&T Inc. then transferred 100% direct ownership in AT&T Enterprises, Inc. to BellSouth Mobile Data Inc. (BSMD), a Georgia corporation and a direct wholly owned subsidiary of AT&T Inc. BSMD then transferred 100% direct ownership in AT&T Enterprises, Inc. to AT&T DW Holdings, Inc. (DWH), a Delaware corporation and a direct wholly owned subsidiary of BSMD. AT&T Enterprises, Inc. was then converted to a Delaware limited liability company named AT&T Enterprises, LLC. Finally, DWH transferred 100% direct ownership of AT&T Enterprises, LLC to AT&T Wireline Holdings, Inc. (AWH), a Delaware corporation that is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of DWH. Consequently, upon completion of the restructuring, AT&T Enterprises, LLC holds the interests in the cable systems listed below and is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of AWH and remains an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of AT&T Inc.

Following the pro forma transaction AT&T Enterprises, LLC is a licensee for the following cable systems: (1) Americas-1 (SCL-LIC-20190326-00009); (2) Asia America Gateway (SCL-LIC-20070824-00015); (3) Columbus II (SCL-LIC-20190326-00010); (4) Endeavour (SCL-LIC-20070621-00009); (5) GOKI (SCL-LIC-20110329-00009); (6) Japan-United States (SCL-LIC-19981117-00025, SCL-MOD-20071130-00020, SCL-MOD-20130227-00002); (7) St. Thomas-St. Croix (SCL-LIC-20220114-00004); (8) Taino-Carib (SCL-LIC-20180702-00019); and (9) Trans-Pacific Express (SCL-LIC-20070222-00002). On August 27, 2025, we granted the request for special temporary authority (STA) filed by AT&T Enterprises, LLC (AT&T Enterprises) to allow the continued operation of the U.S. Virgin Islands to Puerto Rico segment (i.e., the “West Segment”) of the Americas-II submarine cable system (SCL-LIC-19980429-00019, SCL-MOD-20191202-00038). ORDER

Adopted: August 28, 2025 Released: August 28, 2025

By the Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) resolves the Requests for Review by North American Local, LLC (North American Local) and Telrite Corporation (Telrite) of decisions made by the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) to recover funds disbursed under the Lifeline program.[1] We deny North American Local's Request for Review in whole and Telrite's in part. We find that USAC correctly determined that North American Local improperly received Lifeline program support for subscribers who lived outside of its eligible telecommunications carrier (ETC) designated service area. We also find that USAC correctly determined that Telrite improperly received Lifeline program support for subscribers who lived outside of its ETC designated service area. However, we grant Telrite's Request for Review in part because it passed through the full amount of program support to subscribers as required by program rules.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Section 214(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the Act) provides that a common carrier designated as an ETC is eligible to receive universal service support throughout the service area for which the designation is received, as established by the state commission or the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).[2] Lifeline ETCs may receive Federal Lifeline support in the amount of up to $9.25 per month per qualifying low-income household,[3] with an additional $25 per month for each qualifying household residing on Tribal lands,[4] however, they may only claim support for subscribers who reside within their designated service areas.[5] Additionally, Lifeline ETCs must certify that they will pass through the full amount of Lifeline program support to qualifying low-income consumers and that they received any non-federal regulatory approvals necessary to implement the rate reduction.[6]

3. North American Local Factual Background. North American Local first petitioned the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin (PSCW) for a facilities-based ETC designation in February 2014,[7] and was designated as an ETC throughout the non-rural areas of Wisconsin in June 2014.[8] More than three years later, North American Local submitted a petition with the PSCW to expand its ETC designation throughout the entire state of Wisconsin, which was granted on April 16, 2018.[9]

4. On March 1, 2019, USAC released an audit report that found, among other things, that North American Local improperly received Lifeline program support for subscribers who lived outside of its designated service areas.[10] USAC's report found that North American Local's ETC designation was for all non-rural areas of Wisconsin, but that it claimed support for 615 subscribers outside of these designated areas from February 27, 2015 (the earliest possible North American Local subscriber start date) through the end of the audit period, which was February 28, 2017.[11] North American Local filed an appeal to USAC on November 5, 2019,[12] which USAC denied on March 23, 2020.[13] North American Local then filed a Request for Review to the Commission on June 8, 2020, arguing that USAC should have interpreted the 2014 ETC designation as applying to all Tribal areas in Wisconsin and that USAC lacked authority to recover for time periods outside of its audit period.[14] On July 16, 2020, North American Local filed a supplement to its Request for Review arguing again for reversal of the USAC audit decision and further alleging that USAC incorrectly applied its audit findings outside of the audit period.[15]

5. Telrite Factual Background. Telrite first received approval from the Arkansas Public Service Commission (Arkansas PSC) as an ETC in 2010, with a designation for a service area of the non-rural service area of AT&T Arkansas,[16] and in 2024, sought approval for an ETC designation to serve the entire state of Arkansas.[17]

6. On August 22, 2018, USAC released an audit report that found, among other things, that Telrite claimed subscribers in December 2015 and June 2016 in areas where the company was not designated as an ETC and it did not pass through the full amount of Lifeline support to other subscribers.[18] USAC then issued a recovery letter on January 31, 2019, affirming the findings and stating USAC's intention to recover funding from Telrite in connection with these subscribers.[19] On April 1, 2019, Telrite appealed the audit report to USAC.[20] USAC issued an Administrator's Decision Letter on October 30, 2020, denying Telrite's appeal.[21] On December 29, 2020, Telrite sought review from the Commission, arguing that service area designation recovery should be overturned on the bases that it reasonably believed it was authorized to receive support in the at-issue areas, that the Commission lacks jurisdiction to determine that support was provided outside of its designated service area, and that Telrite properly confirmed that the subscribers were eligible for Lifeline support.[22] It also argues that it properly passed through its Lifeline support to subscribers because they were given their full allotment of minutes for the month.[23]

III. DISCUSSION

7. Based on our review of the record, we resolve the Requests for Review as discussed below.[24]

8. North American Local Request for Review. We deny North American Local's Request for Review because the PSCW's applicable designation order unambiguously excluded rural areas from North American Local's designated ETC service area. North American Local does not dispute that it received Lifeline program support for subscribers outside of the geographic area determined to be its designated service area.[25] Instead, it contends that USAC misinterpreted the PSCW's designation as not encompassing all Tribal areas and argues that USAC should not have recovered for support provided outside of the period subject to the audit.[26]

9. We disagree with North American Local's contention that USAC erred by not interpreting the North American Local 2014 ETC Order to include all Tribal areas of Wisconsin. The PSCW's order consistently and unambiguously states that the designation was for all non-rural areas of Wisconsin without differentiating between Tribal and non-Tribal areas,[27] concluding that "North American is designated as an ETC, for the purpose of receiving Lifeline support, throughout the non-rural areas of Wisconsin."[28] Further, nowhere does the North American Local 2014 ETC Order differentiate between Tribal and non-Tribal areas of the state, so any Tribal areas that fall within North American Local's designation would need to be in non-rural areas. Based on a plain language reading of the 2014 ETC Order and related PSCW documentation for North American Local, it is clear that the ETC designation did not apply to rural Tribal areas of Wisconsin, and any disbursements to North American Local to those areas would have been improper.

10. North American Local bases its contention that rural Tribal areas fall within its designation on a statement in its 2014 ETC application that requested designation as an ETC "through the nonrural area of Wisconsin for local exchange services including the tribal areas of the state for the purpose of receiving federal universal service support [sic]"[29] coupled with a statement in the North American Local 2014 ETC Order that "it is in the public interest to designate North American as an ETC in the areas for which North American requests such designation."[30] With respect to Tribal areas, the [27] North American Local 2014 ETC Order at 1, 3, 7.

[28] North American Local 2014 ETC Order at 7. Earlier references in the Order to geographic scope are also consistent with a designation for non-rural areas of Wisconsin. North American Local 2014 ETC Order at 3 ("It is reasonable and in the public interest to designate North American as an ETC for the purpose of receiving Lifeline support in the non-rural areas of Winsconsin, as indicated in its application and consistent with this Decision"), 7 ("Since North American has requested the ETC status for the entirety of the non-rural areas of the state . . . .").

statement requesting designation for "the nonrural area of Wisconsin . . . including the tribal areas" is best read as a request for designation of Tribal areas in non-rural areas. Even if the term "including" in North American Local's 2014 ETC application could be read as expanding upon the non-rural areas listed before it,[31] the Commission does not have discretion to interpret Wisconsin's ETC designation order because the Wisconsin PSC has jurisdiction in this matter.[32] Although we rely on the language in the actual designation order as determinative, to ensure that USAC's understanding of the designation was consistent with the PSCW's, USAC confirmed with the PSCW that the 2014 ETC order does not distinguish between Tribal and non-Tribal lands.[33] Therefore, North American Local's claim that the PSCW specifically included rural Tribal areas in its designated ETC service area is unfounded.

11. Notably, North American Local filed a second Wisconsin ETC application on December 21, 2017 after communicating with the USAC auditor earlier that same month.[34] In its 2017 request for ETC designation in Wisconsin, North American Local sought ETC designation throughout the entire state.[35] North American Local explicitly states in its ETC application that some of its customers resided outside its ETC designated service area requiring it to request an expanded ETC designation for the entire state.[36] This remedial action taken by North American Local is consistent with a finding that the North American Local 2014 ETC Order's designation was for non-rural areas only without differentiating Tribal from non-Tribal areas, and therefore excluded any rural Tribal areas until the time North American Local received the designation from the PSCW that covered the entire state of Wisconsin on April 16, 2018.

12. We reject North American Local's contention that USAC was not authorized to recover funding for periods outside of the audit period. Program audits check compliance with the Commission's rules and can identify areas of non-compliance.[37] The program audits can and do uncover rule violations that persisted for periods beyond specified audit periods, as is the case in this matter. The Commission has determined that it should recover funding in instances where there is a violation of program rules that implement the statute or substantive program goal."[38] An ETC receiving Lifeline support outside of its

ETC designation area violates the Commission's rules implementing section 214(e)(1) of the Act, which makes universal service support available to an ETC throughout its designated service area.[39] It is within the Commission's long-standing authority and precedent to recover funding that Lifeline ETCs obtain in violation of Commission rules.[40]

13. For similar reasons, we disagree with North American Local that USAC acted in an arbitrary and capricious manner. North American Local claims that by recovering outside of the audit period "this audit [] unreasonably breaks with well-established audit procedures limiting findings to the audit period."[41] North American Local offers no evidence of actual USAC or Commission audit procedures limiting the ability of the Commission to recover only for violations occurring during the selected audit period. Its submission of other Lifeline audits, including an admission that there has been at least one Lifeline audit with a recovery outside of the audit period, is not persuasive. Even if one could agree that USAC's actions deviated with established program procedures, we find that there is a "rational connection between the facts found and the choice made."[42] North American Local's receipt of Lifeline program funds for areas that were not part of its ETC designated service area is a clear violation of a Commission rule that implements the statute.[43] In North American Local's case, USAC found that 28% (615 of 2,233) of its subscribers were outside of its designated service area.[44] We find that for this egregious violation, USAC's decision on recovery was correct.

14. We also reject North American Local's contention that USAC's decision was "unjust, discriminatory and inequitable," which it supports with an analysis showing that the per-subscriber recovery for this Request for Review is significantly higher than the per-subscriber recovery for other audit findings.[45] We are unpersuaded that we should consider a comparison of this recovery to other audits and fact scenarios that are unrelated to this matter as this is well outside the scope of this review. Furthermore, North American Local's claim fails to consider that the per-subscriber recovery would be significantly higher for this audit because North American Local received a Tribal enhancement of $25 for nearly every subscriber at issue in this Request for Review.[46] Finally, North American Local's unsupported assertion that USAC violated its due process rights is unfounded because the Act and

Commission's rules provide fair notice that its conduct was prohibited and the audit response and appeals process provide an opportunity to be heard.[47]

15. Telrite Request for Review. We next deny Telrite's Request for Review and find that USAC properly concluded that Telrite violated the Commission's rules for the Lifeline program by seeking and receiving support for services outside of its designated ETC service area. However, we partially grant Telrite's Request for Review and find that it properly passed through the full amount of Lifeline program support by ensuring that the subscribers at issue had their full allotment of minutes.

16. Like North American Local, Telrite does not dispute that it received Lifeline program support for subscribers outside of its designated ETC service area. It instead contends that the Commission cannot recover because it "reasonably believed" that it could receive support for those areas founded on the Arkansas PSC's non-response to its filing of served ZIP codes, claims that the Commission lacks authority to find that services were provided outside of the service area, and contends that it properly confirmed that the subscribers at issue were eligible for support.

17. We reject Telrite's claim that the Commission cannot recover because the Arkansas PSC has jurisdiction to make designations and because of its allegedly reasonable belief that it could receive Lifeline support in the areas at issue. Telrite contends it could provide service in the areas at issue because it sent the Arkansas PSC a Notification of the ZIP Codes it served in June 2012 that did not address designations, and the Arkansas PSC did not disaffirm that it had designations in these areas.[48]

18. Authority to receive Lifeline support comes from the Act and Commission's rules, and, in Telrite's case, the decision about Telrite's designated ETC service area needed to have come in the form of an affirmative written decision from the Arkansas PSC.[49] Therefore, Telrite's theory of an expanded ETC designation because the Arkansas PSC did not react to its Notification filing fails on three accounts. First, the Notification could not plausibly be read as a request for a designation for additional areas. Telrite's Notification does not mention that the listed ZIP Codes fell outside of its 2010 service area designation, and it states that the purpose of the Notification is to refresh the record in the proceeding, without mentioning the possibility of expanding its service area.[50] Second, not disclaiming an ETC's statement about the areas it serves cannot constitute a designation of those areas because designations must be in writing.[51] The Arkansas PSC has a formal process for designating service areas in writing, as evidenced by its initial approval by designation order of Telrite's service areas in 2010.[52]

[52] See In the Matter of the Application of Telrite Corporation for Certification as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier (Low-Income Only), Arkansas Public Service Commission Docket No. 10-078-U, Order No. 3 (Arkansas (continued….)

Third, the Arkansas PSC did later disclaim that the ZIP Codes listed in the Notification were designated areas when General Staff of the Arkansas PSC sought to dismiss Telrite's pending 2023 petition to expand its designation, specifying that no action had been taken on the company's petition.[53] Moreover, Telrite petitioned the Arkansas PSC in 2024 for ETC designation to serve the entire state of Arkansas, seemingly in recognition of the fact that it did not yet possess the expanded authority it claimed to have.[54] The Arkansas PSC ultimately granted the company's renewed petition to expand its service area in 2024, well after the time period at issue.[55]

19. Also, while the Arkansas PSC has jurisdiction to make the service area designations, the Commission and USAC have responsibility and authority to recover for violations of program rules, including rules limiting support to service areas designated by states.[56] Contrary to Telrite's position, the Commission's rules implementing the Act and precedent for the Lifeline program permit recovery from Telrite.[57] USAC's recovery was premised on a violation of section 54.201(b), which Telrite contends it cannot plausibly violate because that section imposes obligations on state commissions, not ETCs. Although the specific subsection cited by USAC does not specifically apply to ETCs, other related provisions do.[58] Pursuant to the Act, a service area is the geographic area that determines "universal service obligations and support mechanisms."[59] And under a subsection cited in the one USAC relied on, an ETC's approval to receive universal service support is limited to services provided in its service area.[60]

Therefore, an ETC such as Telrite commits a violation of Lifeline program rules when it seeks and receives support for subscribers outside of its designated service area.

20. Furthermore, Telrite is incorrect that there can be no recovery on the ground that the subscribers met the eligibility requirements for the Lifeline program because complying with the eligibility requirements is merely compliance with one provision of the Lifeline program rules. The fact that the subscribers at issue may have been qualifying low-income households under the Commission's Lifeline eligibility rules does not entitle Telrite to receive USF support for them without regard to other program requirements.[61] Even if those consumers meet the eligibility requirements for Lifeline, ETCs may not claim Lifeline support for subscribers residing outside of their designated service areas.[62] Telrite must comply with all applicable rules for the Lifeline program, including the rules regarding an ETC's designated service area, which were implemented pursuant to statutory obligations.[63] For these reasons, we deny Telrite's Request for Review of USAC's audit finding regarding Telrite's provisioning of Lifeline service to households outside its designated service area.

21. Finally, we grant Telrite's Request for Review in part because it complied with the requirement to "pass through the full amount of support" to the subscribers when it provided the full monthly level of minutes for households to access at the beginning of the month.[64] USAC determined that Telrite violated the rule for households who did not receive a new allotment of minutes for the audited month[65] after they did not use any of their allotted minutes in the previous month. Rather than wiping-out existing service quantities at the end of the month and then restoring the same quantities, Telrite instead allowed the full allotment to remain in place.[66] As monthly allotments do not roll over to the next month, a full allotment of minutes was made available to each at-issue subscriber during the audited period.[67] The fact that Telrite did not perform a superfluous administrative step of zeroing out unused minutes at the end of the month and adding new minutes at the beginning did not impact the services available to subscribers. For this reason, we grant Telrite's Request for Review and vacate USAC's recovery for failure to pass through Lifeline program support for the at-issue subscribers included on the company's reimbursement request for the audited period.

Adopted: August 28, 2025 Released: August 28, 2025

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) addresses UTPhone Inc.'s (UTPhone's) appeal[1] of three audit decisions made by the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) concerning UTPhone's compliance with the Lifeline program's rules. We grant UTPhone's appeal regarding two of the three matters addressed in the audit decisions. However, we deny UTPhone's appeal involving the third matter because UTPhone violated Lifeline's requirement to pass through the Lifeline benefit when it claimed inactive subscribers.

II. BACKGROUND

2. The Lifeline program provides support for communications services provided by eligible telecommunications carriers (ETCs) to qualifying low-income consumers.[2] An ETC may only receive support for the number of qualifying low-income consumers it serves,[3] and an ETC must certify that it will pass through the full amount of Lifeline support it receives to the subscriber.[4] In the 2012 Lifeline Order, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) adopted uniform re-certification procedures and required ETCs to re-certify the eligibility of ETCs' base of subscribers as of June 1, 2012 by December 31, 2012, and to report their results by January 31, 2013.[5]

3. On February 10, 2014, USAC's Internal Audit Division issued an audit report regarding UTPhone's compliance with the Lifeline program rules for the audit period focused on January 2013.[6] UTPhone exclusively provided service to low-income consumers, including those who participated in the federal Lifeline program and the Oklahoma Lifeline Service Plan.[7] Among other findings, USAC determined that: (1) UTPhone violated federal Lifeline rules when it purportedly failed to comply with a state rule applicable to the Oklahoma Lifeline Service Program that required Eligible Telecommunications Carriers to review subscribers' eligibility documentation on an annual basis[8]; (2) UTPhone violated the section 54.403(a)(1) pass-through rules when it claimed subscribers for multiple months who de-enrolled prior to the end of a billing period that spanned multiple calendar months without receiving a full month of service[9]; and (3) UTPhone violated the Commission's rules regarding annual re-certification when it did not de-enroll subscribers who failed re-certification within five-days of the deadline for completing re-certification.[10] On June 27, 2014, UTPhone filed its Request for Review of the recoveries and post-audit actions discussed above.[11]

III. DISCUSSION

4. Based on review of the record, we grant-in-part and deny-in-part UTPhone's Request for Review. We discuss our assessment of each decision below.

5. Annual Re-certification. In its audit, USAC found that UTPhone failed to comply with the Commission's rules for the Lifeline program when it purportedly did not comply with an Oklahoma Corporation Commission rule requiring Oklahoma ETCs to review subscribers' documentation demonstrating proof of program eligibility.[12] We grant UTPhone's request to reverse USAC's post-audit action because while states may require additional proof of eligibility standards for their own state Lifeline programs, and providers should adhere to those requirements, such state eligibility standards are not relevant to a compliance review of federal Lifeline program support.

6. In the 2012 Lifeline Order, the Commission adopted a federal uniform standard for the re-certification of Lifeline subscribers.[13] However, it recognized that "states may wish to impose additional requirements where they have their own Lifeline programs" and left room for states "to supplement the federal re-certification methodology with their own procedures specifically tailored to state-specific program requirements."[14] The Commission adopted this flexibility for states in section 54.416(c) of its rules, specifying that a state "may impose additional [re-certification] standards on eligible telecommunications carriers operating in their states to ensure compliance with state Lifeline programs."[15] Consistent with section 54.416(c), Oklahoma had a state rule that required each ETC that provided service to Oklahoma Lifeline Service Program customers to annually "review documentation for each Lifeline Service Program participant, for the purpose of determining their continued eligibility for Lifeline Service Program credits."[16]

7. In the Audit Report, USAC interpreted section 54.416(c) as "[requiring] ETCs operating in States mandating Lifeline support to adhere to the standards established by the state."[17] USAC accordingly found that UTPhone violated section 54.416(c) when UTPhone purportedly failed to review subscribers' documentation demonstrating eligibility of participation in the Oklahoma Lifeline Service Program on an annual basis.[18]

8. USAC's decision should be reversed because section 54.416(c) does not impose state proof of eligibility standards on the federal Lifeline program. Section 54.416(c) by its plain text, instead permits a state to supplement the Commission's uniform federal rules governing the re-certification of Lifeline subscribers with rules governing its state Lifeline program.[19] There is nothing in either the text of section 54.416(c), or the Commission's guidance expressed in the 2012 Lifeline Order, that speaks of the Commission enforcing state rules regarding re-certification in state Lifeline programs against ETCs. We find that UTPhone is not required to comply with Oklahoma's state Lifeline proof of eligibility requirements to be in compliance with federal Lifeline program rules, and as such we do not address whether UTPhone complied with Oklahoma's state Lifeline Service Program requirements.

9. De-enrollment Deadline. In its audit, USAC found that UTPhone failed to meet the deadline to complete its re-certification process because UTPhone had not de-enrolled subscribers that failed re-certification by December 31, 2012.[20] We grant UTPhone's request to reverse USAC's recovery because this determination conflated the deadline to complete re-certifications with the potentially later deadline to de-enroll subscribers who failed re-certifications, and UTPhone completed de-enrollments by that de-enrollment deadline.[21]

10. The deadline to complete re-certifications for the time period at issue was December 31, 2012.[22] ETCs were required to de-enroll a subscriber who failed re-certification, however, the de-enrollment deadline was to be within "five business days after the expiration of the subscriber's time to respond to the re-certification efforts."[23] UTPhone did not miss the December 31, 2012 re-certification

[17] UTPhone Audit at 9 (citing 47 CFR § 54.416(c)).

[18] There is no evidence in the UTPhone Audit or in the UTPhone Request for Review that the Oklahoma Corporation Commission took any monetary action against UTPhone for failure to review subscribers' proof of eligibility documentation. In the Audit Report, USAC also recommended against a recovery because UTPhone had confirmed "its subscribers' continued eligibility through a review of subscriber re-certification forms." See UTPhone Audit at 5; 47 CFR § 54.410(f). USAC did, however, require submission of a summary of policies and procedures to address compliance with state rules. UTPhone Audit at 9.

deadline on account of not completing de-enrollments by that deadline.[24] ETCs had five business days after re-certification was complete to de-enroll subscribers, and therefore were permitted to de-enroll subscribers after December 31, 2012 in certain limited circumstances. For example, for a failed re-certification completed on December 31, 2012, the deadline to de-enroll was January 8, 2013, which is five business days after December 31, 2012 (after accounting for holidays and weekends). Further, the 2012 Lifeline Order also makes numerous references to re-certification being complete by the end of 2012 without making any reference to de-enrollment or that de-enrollment for failure to complete re-certification is part of the re-certification process.[25] Pursuant to section 54.405(e)(4), UTPhone completed de-enrollment of subscribers that failed re-certification by the de-enrollment deadline specified in section 54.405(e)(4) of the Commission's rules.[26]

11. The violation is based on a single reference in the October 2012 Lifeline Re-Certification Public Notice that "[t]he re-certification process is not considered 'complete' until the ETC has de-enrolled all subscribers that failed to respond to a re-certification request or are no longer eligible."[27] This statement does not support a de-enrollment deadline of December 31, 2012, for two reasons. First, context shows that this reference to completing re-certification is meant to highlight the obligation of an ETC to report the results of the re-certification process to the Commission and USAC by January 31, 2013, not establish a de-enrollment deadline.[28] Second, the Lifeline Re-Certification Public Notice in the same section, notes that in the states where state agencies perform re-certification, ETCs need to be given enough notice by states so that they can "initiate all de-enrollments by December 31, 2012," which is consistent with a five-business day de-enrollment period.[29] This approach is also consistent with our current rules, in which subscribers that fail to pass the database check for recertification have 60 days to certify their eligibility, and if they fail to certify within this 60-day window, they are automatically de-enrolled from NLAD within five business days.[30]

12. Pass-Through Reimbursement. In its audit, USAC found that UTPhone violated section 54.403(a) when it claimed subscribers for two months of service who received less than 30 days of service, and did not pass through the full benefit.[31] Section 54.403(a) requires that an ETC "pass through the full amount of support to the qualifying low-income consumer."[32] We agree with USAC's recovery on the basis that UTPhone violated the pass-through provision when it claimed support for two calendar months even though UTPhone provided service during one billing cycle and the subscribers disconnected service before the second billing service began, resulting in no pass through of the benefit for the second month.

13. This issue surfaced with ETC billing cycles that did not align with the Lifeline program support cycle based on calendar months. For example, as illustrated in the audit report, if a subscriber on a billing cycle running from December 21, 2012 to January 20, 2013 de-enrolled on January 2, 2013, such that they received only twelve days of service from UTPhone, UTPhone should have properly received reimbursement for that subscriber for the December 2012 Form 497 and passed that support on to the customer, without being required to submit a pro rata claim for December 2012.[33] UTPhone, however, claimed the subscriber on the subsequent January 2013 Form 497 for an additional month of support, without passing through that support.[34]

14. UTPhone asserts that it was proper for UTPhone to claim reimbursement for both months because "ETCs are not required or even permitted to make pro rata claims for Lifeline support."[35] UTPhone argues that they did not violate the pass-through rules because "claims in Lifeline may be based on accounts in which the subscriber was active at any point in the month" and the subscriber "was claimed in both December and January because he or she was active in both months."[36] UTPhone argues that after the 2012 Lifeline Order, the relevant period for Lifeline claims is a calendar month and not a subset of a month based on a subscriber's billing cycle, and further that there is no "billing cycle rule" date by which accounts must be active until to qualify for support.[37]

15. Here, UTPhone has misapplied the use of calendar months for reimbursement, and it incorrectly asserts that "[t]here is no double-counting or double-recovery by UTPhone."[38] While the Bureau has previously found that pro-rata monthly reporting for reimbursements was not required and that ETCs could seek a full month's support even if the subscriber was served for less than a month,[39] the Bureau further cautioned that the rules do not "permit an ETC to be reimbursed twice for serving a customer during a particular time period."[40]

16. In the example from above, reimbursing UTPhone for both the December 2012 and January 2013 calendar months would pay it twice for services provided during the December 21, 2012 to January 20, 2013 billing cycle, despite the fact that it only provided service for 12 days during that cycle. The violation occurred when UTPhone received additional support for January 2013 for the two days in January for which it already received support in December 2012 as part of the December 21, 2012 to January 2, 2013 billing cycle, and there was no subsequent billing cycle to pass through the January 2013 support to the subscriber. Under UTPhone's theory, for a subscriber that started service on December 31, but then cancels the next day on January 1, UTPhone could receive Lifeline support for both December and January, even though the customer would only have been billed for 2 days and UTPhone would have only been able to pass through one month of support, just because the subscriber was active in both calendar months.

17. UTPhone raised the hypothetical of a "second account with the same billing cycle" that disconnected on January 21 and asserted that "in USAC's view, it would be permissible to claim this account because it was disconnected after the end of the billing cycle," even though it would have left a "ten-day period during which this second account was inactive."[41] The distinction here, which UTPhone

In granting requests for review from USAC decisions that found ETCs out of compliance for failing to seek pro-rata reimbursements, the Bureau noted that the ETCs had argued that "there is no harm to the program because they used an end of the month 'snapshot-date' to calculate support and thus did not claim support for subscribers who terminated service before the end of the month but did claim support for subscribers who started service during the month." Id. at 9835, para. 4.

does not recognize, is that UTPhone would have been able to pass through the January 2013 support to the subscriber in this hypothetical, since there would have been a new billing cycle, the low-income household would have been able to receive the Lifeline benefit, and therefore there would not be a violation of the pass-through rules.

18. Regardless of the relevant billing cycle for reimbursement submissions, UTPhone violated the rules when it claimed subscribers for two calendar months while only passing through the benefit of a single month's billing cycle. As explained above, section 54.403 is clear that the entire benefit must be passed through to claimed subscribers and failure to do so is a violation of Commission rules. The fact that the Commission later adopted a calendar month claims cycle also does not provide any evidence in favor of reversing USAC's recovery on the basis that UTPhone violated the Commission's pass-through rules.[42]

IV. ORDERING CLAUSES

19. ACCORDINGLY, IT IS ORDERED, pursuant to the authority contained in sections 1-4 and 254 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151-154 and 254, and sections 0.91, 0.291, 54.405, 54.416, and 54.722(a) of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR §§ 0.91, 0.291, 54.405, 54.416, and 54.722(a), that the Request for Review filed by the Petitioner IS GRANTED-IN-PART and DENIED-IN-PART as discussed herein.

20. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that pursuant to section 1.102(b)(1) of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 1.102(b)(1), this Order SHALL BE EFFECTIVE upon release.

[42] In the 2015 Lifeline Order the Commission established a uniform "snapshot date" wherein providers would submit claims of the subscribers they had provided a month of service to on the first of the subsequent month. Lifeline and Link Up Reform and Modernization, et al., WC Docket No. 11-42 et al., Second Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, Order on Reconsideration, Second Report and Order, and Memorandum Opinion and Order, 30 FCC Rcd 7818, 7898–99, paras. 241–43 (2015). Prior to the creation of a uniform snapshot date, and during the time period at question in UTPhone's appeal, to avoid the problem of providers failing to pass-through the full benefit to subscribers, USAC encouraged providers to take a "'snapshot' of their Lifeline subscriber base at a particular time each month and claim support for the number of Lifeline subscribers in the snapshot." Id. at 7898, n.477 (quoting USAC Training, Changes to the Lifeline Disbursement Process and New FCC Form 497, Transition to Payment on Actuals and Filing New FCC Form 497 at 15 (Aug. 23, 2012)). Here, there is no indication that UTPhone adopted any snapshot date and instead sought two months of reimbursement for a single time-period.

APPLICATIONS OF NEW CINGULAR WIRELESS PCS, LLC AND USCELLULAR FOR CONSENT TO ASSIGN LOWER 700 MHz AND 3.45 GHz LICENSES

NRUF REPORTS AND LNP REPORTS PLACED INTO THE RECORD, SUBJECT TO THE PROTECTIVE ORDER

CC Docket No. 99-200

In connection with the Commission's review of the applications seeking Commission consent to assign several Lower 700 MHz and 3.45 GHz licenses from various subsidiaries and affiliates of United States Cellular Corporation (UScellular) to New Cingular Wireless PCS, LLC, an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of AT&T Inc. (AT&T) (collectively, the Applicants), the Commission is examining information contained in the biannual Numbering Resource Utilization and Forecast (NRUF) reports filed by wireless telecommunications carriers,[1] carrier-specific local number portability (LNP) data related to wireless telecommunications carriers, and further disaggregated monthly carrier-specific local number portability data (Carrier-to-Carrier LNP Data) related to wireless telecommunications carriers. These data may assist the Commission in assessing the competitive effects of the transaction. Accordingly, the NRUF reports for all wireless telecommunications carriers for December 2024 and the monthly LNP reports for all wireless telecommunications carriers for January 2024 through December 2024 are being placed in the record in these proceedings, subject to the provisions of a protective order.[2] Future NRUF and LNP reports will be placed in the record in these proceedings, subject to the provisions of a protective order, as they become available.

Section 251 of the Communications Act grants the Commission jurisdiction over the North American Numbering Plan (NANP) and related telephone numbering issues.[3] To monitor better the way numbering resources are used within the NANP and allocate NANP resources efficiently, the Commission requires telecommunications carriers to provide the Commission with a utilization report of their current inventory of telephone numbers and a five-year forecast of their numbering resource requirements.[4] LNP data are collected by the LNP Administrator and provided to the Commission.

The Commission has recognized that disaggregated, carrier-specific forecast and utilization data should be treated as confidential and should be exempt from public disclosure under 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(4).[5] The NRUF and LNP reports are being placed into the record subject to the provisions of a

Pursuant to the protective order, outside persons participating or intending to participate in the proceeding who are not involved in competitive decision-making activities and who have signed the Acknowledgment of Confidentiality attached to the protective order may review the NRUF and LNP data. We emphasize that persons seeking to review the NRUF and LNP data must have adequate protections in place to prevent improper use or disclosure of the information.

Affected parties have until Monday, September 8, 2025 to oppose the limited disclosure of their NRUF and LNP data pursuant to the protective order.[6] In addition, affected parties will have five business days after the filing of an acknowledgment of confidentiality to object to the release of their data to a particular person who requests permission to review it.

NRUF/LNP PROTECTIVE ORDER

Adopted: August 28, 2025 Released: August 28, 2025

By the Chief, Wireless Telecommunications Bureau:

1. In connection with the Commission's review of the transactions at issue in this proceeding, the Commission is examining information contained in the Numbering Resource Utilization and Forecast (NRUF) reports filed by carriers engaged in the provision of wireless telecommunications services[1] (Wireless Telecommunications Carriers) and disaggregated, carrier-specific local number portability (LNP) data related to Wireless Telecommunications Carriers. We find that such materials are necessary to develop a more complete record on which to base the Commission's decision. We also anticipate that parties participating in the proceeding may seek to review this data.

2. Section 251 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, grants the Commission jurisdiction over the North American Numbering Plan (NANP) and related telephone numbering issues.[2] In order to better monitor the way numbering resources are used within the NANP and efficiently allocate NANP resources, the Commission requires telecommunications carriers to provide the Commission with a utilization report of their current inventory of telephone numbers and a five-year forecast of their numbering resource requirements—the NRUF report.[3] LNP data are collected by the LNP Administrator and provided to the Commission. The Commission has recognized that disaggregated, carrier-specific forecast and utilization data should be treated as confidential and should be exempt from general public disclosure under 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(4).[4]

3. While we are mindful of the highly sensitive nature of such information, we are also mindful of the right of the public to participate in this proceeding in a meaningful way. Therefore, consistent with past practice,[5] the NRUF reports and LNP data will not be available to the public except pursuant to the terms of this NRUF/LNP Protective Order; we will make such information available to participants in this proceeding, but limit such access to their Outside Counsel of Record and Outside

Consultants whom they retain to assist them in this proceeding, and their Outside Counsel's and Outside Consultants' employees. We conclude that the procedures we adopt in this NRUF/LNP Protective Order give appropriate access to the public while protecting particularly competitively sensitive information from improper disclosure, and that the procedures we adopt thereby serve the public interest.[6] conditions of this NRUF/LNP Protective Order, and file the Acknowledgment with the Commission, so that it is received at least five business days prior to such person's reviewing or having access to the NRUF/LNP Confidential Information. Each Wireless Telecommunications Carrier shall have an opportunity to object to the disclosure of its NRUF/LNP Confidential Information to any such person. A Wireless Telecommunications Carrier must file any such objection at the Commission and serve it on Counsel representing, retaining, or employing such person within five business days after that person's Acknowledgment has been filed with the Commission. Until any timely objection is resolved by the Commission in favor of the person seeking access and, if a motion for a judicial stay is timely filed, until such a motion is acted upon, a person subject to an objection from a Wireless Telecommunications Carrier shall not have access to that carrier's NRUF/LNP Confidential Information.[7] If an objection is not timely filed with the Commission, the Commission will nonetheless consider the objection and retains its discretion to prohibit further access to NRUF/LNP Confidential Information by the Reviewing Party until the objection is resolved.

6. Review of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information. A Reviewing Party shall contact Judith Dempsey, Judith.Dempsey@fcc.gov, Office of Economics and Analytics, or Susannah Larson, Susannah.Larson@fcc.gov, Wireless Telecommunications Bureau, to receive instructions on how to obtain and review NRUF/LNP Confidential Information. A Reviewing Party may temporarily load onto a computer NRUF/LNP Confidential Information. Once loaded, any files containing NRUF/LNP Confidential Information shall be password protected immediately. The NRUF/LNP Confidential Information may not be stored on a computer after being analyzed. After the analysis is complete, the results of such analysis may be stored by saving the results (but not the original underlying NRUF/LNP Confidential Information) to a mobile data storage medium. All files containing NRUF/LNP Confidential Information shall be deleted from the computer as soon as practicable. The mobile storage medium containing the results shall be stored securely and a record kept of any persons given access to them.

7. Use of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information. Persons obtaining access to NRUF/LNP Confidential Information under this NRUF/LNP Protective Order shall use the information solely for the preparation and conduct of this proceeding before the Commission and any subsequent judicial proceeding arising directly from this proceeding and, except as provided herein, shall not use such information for any other purpose, including without limitation business, governmental, or commercial purposes, or in other administrative, regulatory, or judicial proceedings. Should the Commission rely upon or otherwise make reference to the contents of any NRUF/LNP Confidential Information in its decision in this proceeding, it will do so either by redacting any NRUF/LNP Confidential Information from the public version of the decision and by making the unredacted version of the decision available only to a court and to those persons entitled to access to NRUF/LNP Confidential Information under this NRUF/LNP Protective Order or by aggregating the NRUF/LNP Confidential Information such that no information of any Wireless Telecommunications Carrier (other than the Applicants) is revealed.

8. Permissible Disclosure. A Reviewing Party may discuss and share the contents of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information with another Reviewing Party, with Support Personnel, as appropriate, and with the Commission and its staff. A Wireless Telecommunication Carrier's own NRUF/LNP Confidential Information may also be disclosed to employees and Counsel of the carrier.

9. Filings with the Commission. A Reviewing Party may in any document that it files in this proceeding disclose NRUF/LNP Confidential Information only if it complies with the following procedure. The party shall file in the Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS) as confidential one copy of the filing containing NRUF/LNP Confidential Information (the "NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing") and an accompanying cover letter. The cover or first page of the NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing and each page of the NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing that contains or discloses NRUF/LNP Confidential Information must be clearly marked "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION—SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER IN WT DOCKET NO. 25-150 before the Federal Communications Commission." The cover letter shall also contain this legend. The NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing will not be placed in the Commission's public file. The party shall also submit in ECFS a copy of the filing in redacted form, i.e., containing no Confidential Information (the "Redacted NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing").[8] The Redacted NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing and the accompanying cover letter shall be stamped "REDACTED—FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION." The cover letter accompanying the Redacted NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing shall state that the party is filing a redacted version of the filing. Each Redacted NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing shall have the same pagination as the NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing from which it is derived. To the extent that any page of the NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing contains any type of Confidential Information and non-confidential information, only the Confidential Information (of whatever type) shall be redacted and the page of the unredacted Confidential Filing shall clearly distinguish among the various types of Confidential Information and the non-confidential information. One copy of each Redacted NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing and the accompanying cover letter must also be sent by email to Susannah Larson, Susannah.Larson@fcc.gov. Parties should not provide courtesy copies of pleadings containing NRUF/LNP Confidential Information to Commission staff unless the Bureau so requests, and any such courtesy copies shall be submitted under seal.

[7] An objection ordinarily will first be ruled upon by the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau (Bureau). If the Bureau rejects the objection, the objecting party will be provided 10 business days to file an Application for Review with the Commission; if an Application for Review is not filed within that time, the NRUF/LNP Confidential Information shall be made available to the Reviewing Party. If an Application for Review is timely filed and is denied by the Commission, the objecting party will be provided 10 business days to seek a judicial stay of the Commission's Order; if a motion for stay is not filed within that time, the NRUF/LNP Confidential Information shall be made available to the Reviewing Party.

10. Non-Disclosure of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information. Except as provided under this NRUF/LNP Protective Order, NRUF/LNP Confidential Information shall not be disclosed further.

11. Protection of Stamped NRUF/LNP Confidential Information. A Reviewing Party shall have the obligation to ensure that access to NRUF/LNP Confidential Information is strictly limited as prescribed in this NRUF/LNP Protective Order. A Reviewing Party shall further have the obligation to ensure that NRUF/LNP Confidential Information is used only as provided in this NRUF/LNP Protective Order.

12. Requests for Additional Disclosure. If any person requests disclosure of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information outside the terms of this NRUF/LNP Protective Order, such a request will be treated in accordance with sections 0.442 and 0.461 of the Commission's rules.

13. Client Consultation. Nothing in this NRUF/LNP Protective Order shall prevent or otherwise restrict Outside Counsel from rendering advice to their clients relating to the conduct of this proceeding and any subsequent judicial proceeding arising therefrom and, in the course thereof, relying generally on examination of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information; provided, however, that in rendering such advice and otherwise communicating with such client, Outside Counsel shall not disclose NRUF/LNP Confidential Information.

14. No Waiver of Confidentiality. Disclosure of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information as provided herein by any person shall not be deemed a waiver by any affected party of any privilege or entitlement to confidential treatment of such NRUF/LNP Confidential Information. Reviewing Parties, by viewing this material agree: (1) not to assert any such waiver; (2) not to use NRUF/LNP Confidential Information to seek disclosure in any other proceeding; and (3) that accidental disclosure of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information shall not be deemed a waiver of any privilege or entitlement.

15. Subpoena by Courts, Departments, or Agencies. If a court or a federal or state department or agency issues a subpoena for or orders the production of NRUF/LNP Confidential

[8] If a party is not able to submit filings via ECFS, it must submit two copies each of the NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing and Redacted NRUF/LNP Confidential Filing, along with their respective cover letters, to the Office of the Secretary, Federal Communications Commission, via first-class or overnight U.S. Postal Service mail addressed to 45 L Street, NE, Washington, DC 20554, or via commercial courier (any deliveries not by U.S. Postal Service) to 9050 Junction Drive, Annapolis Junction, MD 20701.

Information that a party has obtained under terms of this NRUF/LNP Protective Order, such party shall promptly notify the Commission and each affected Wireless Telecommunications Carrier of the pendency of such subpoena or order. Consistent with the independent authority of any court, department, or agency, such notification must be accomplished such that the Commission and each affected Wireless Telecommunications Carrier has a full opportunity to oppose such production prior to the production or disclosure of any NRUF/LNP Confidential Information.

16. Violations of NRUF/LNP Protective Order. Should a Reviewing Party violate any of the terms of this NRUF/LNP Protective Order, such Reviewing Party shall immediately convey that fact to the Commission. Further, should such violation consist of improper disclosure of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information, the violating person shall take all necessary steps to remedy the improper disclosure. The Commission retains its full authority to fashion appropriate sanctions for violations of this NRUF/LNP Protective Order, including but not limited to suspension or disbarment of Counsel or Outside Consultants from practice before the Commission, forfeitures, cease and desist orders, and denial of further access to NRUF/LNP Confidential Information in this or any other Commission proceeding. Nothing in this NRUF/LNP Protective Order shall limit any other rights and remedies available to the affected Wireless Telecommunications Carriers at law or in equity against any person using NRUF/LNP Confidential Information in a manner not authorized by this NRUF/LNP Protective Order.

17. Termination of Proceeding. The provisions of this NRUF/LNP Protective Order shall not terminate at the conclusion of this proceeding. Within two weeks after conclusion of this proceeding and any administrative or judicial review, Reviewing Parties shall destroy or return to the Commission all NRUF/LNP Confidential Information and all copies of the same. No material whatsoever containing NRUF/LNP Confidential Information may be retained by any person having access thereto, except Outside Counsel and Outside Consultants may retain, under the continuing strictures of this NRUF/LNP Protective Order, two copies of pleadings (one of which may be in electronic format) prepared in whole or in part by that party that contain NRUF/LNP Confidential Information, and one copy of orders issued by the Commission or Bureau that contain NRUF/LNP Confidential Information. All Reviewing Parties shall certify compliance with these terms and shall deliver such certification to the Commission not more than three weeks after conclusion of this proceeding. The provisions of this paragraph regarding retention of NRUF/LNP Confidential Information shall not be construed to apply to the Commission or its staff.

18. Questions. Substantive questions concerning this Protective Order should be addressed to Judith Dempsey, Judith.Dempsey@fcc.gov, Office of Economics and Analytics; Susannah Larson, Susannah.Larson@fcc.gov, Wireless Telecommunications Bureau; and Joel Rabinovitz, Joel.Rabinovitz@fcc.gov.

19. Authority. This Order is issued pursuant to sections 4(i), 214, and 310(d) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 154(i), 214, and 310(d), section 4 of the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(4), and authority delegated under section 0.331 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 0.331, and is effective upon its adoption.

ORDER

Adopted: August 28, 2025 Released: August 28, 2025

By the Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we grant the request of Peoples Communications, Inc. (Peoples) to reverse the decision of the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) to recover Rural Health Care (RHC) Program support for funding year 2017.[1] Based on our de novo review of the record, we find insufficient basis to conclude that a conflict of interest existed that compromised the competitive bidding process.[2] We also dismiss as moot the related request to waive the competitive bidding rules filed by The University of Texas Health Science Center at Tyler (UT-Tyler), the health care provider that received the RHC Program-supported services from Peoples.[3]

[1] Request for Review and Waiver of Peoples Communications, Inc., WC Docket No. 02-60 (Sept. 25, 2023) (Peoples Request for Review). USAC initiated recovery on December 30, 2022 for the 12 funding request numbers listed in Appendix A.

[2] The Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) conducts de novo reviews of requests for review of decisions issued by USAC. 47 CFR § 54.723(a).

[3] Request for Review and Waiver of The University of Texas Health Science Center at Tyler, WC Docket No. 02-60 (filed Feb. 17, 2023) (UT-Tyler Waiver Request). UT-Tyler filed a replacement pleading on March 16, 2023, after its initial filing was submitted without having been identified as confidential. Although it captions its pleading as a Request for Review and Waiver, UT-Tyler effectively seeks only a rule waiver "to the extent necessary to reverse the Commitment Adjustment Letters ("COMADs") issued by the Universal Service Administrative Co. on December 30, 2022." UT-Tyler Waiver Request at 1. We treat UT-Tyler's pleading herein as a waiver request exclusively.

II. BACKGROUND

2. The RHC Program consists of two support mechanisms: The Telecommunications (Telecom) Program and the Healthcare Connect Fund Program.[4] The mechanism at issue here, the Telecom Program, subsidizes the difference between the rates in the health care provider's rural area and rates for comparable services available in urban areas within the health care provider's state.[5]

3. Like other programs supported by the Universal Service Fund, the RHC Program uses competitive bidding as an open, competitively neutral process to identify the most cost-effective option for eligible services.[6] Applicants for Telecom Program funding must make a bona fide request for eligible services by posting an FCC Form 465 to USAC's website for review by prospective bidders, and the posting must remain open for at least 28 days, after which applicants are allowed to select a service provider.[7] Once the applicant has selected a provider and entered into a service contract, the applicant must submit its request for funding to USAC by filing an FCC Form 466.[8] The applicant uses the FCC Form 466 to verify the type of services ordered and to certify that the selected service provider is the most cost-effective option.[9] After review, USAC issues a funding commitment in accordance with the Commission's rules.

4. To protect the neutrality and integrity of the competitive bidding process, a service provider cannot be involved in the preparation of the health care provider's FCC Form 465 or the service provider selection process.[10] Consultants or other parties working on behalf of the health care provider that have an ownership interest, sales commission arrangement, or other financial stake with respect to a bidding service provider are also prohibited from performing any of the same tasks on behalf of the health care provider.[11] In addition, the individual listed as the contact person on the FCC Form 465 may not be affiliated with a service provider that participates in the bidding process.[12]

5. The current matter concerns a single funding year but is part of a multi-year series of events involving UT-Tyler, its consultants, and its service providers as they sought to participate in the Telecom Program. For funding years 2012-2016, UT-Tyler's consultant was ABS Telecom, LLC (ABS Telecom), which assisted UT-Tyler to obtain RHC Program support by completing application forms and conducting bid evaluations.[13] During this time, ABS Telecom simultaneously operated as a "channel partner" (i.e., sales agent) for Windstream Communications, LLC, (Windstream), which UT-Tyler selected as its service provider for funding years 2012-2016.[14] In 2020, we determined that the dual role served by ABS Telecom through its managing partner, Gary Speck, created an impermissible conflict of interest that impaired UT-Tyler's ability to hold a fair and open competitive bidding process.[15] As a result, we directed USAC to recover funding disbursed or rescind funding commitments issued to UT-Tyler over the five-year period ending with funding year 2016.[16]

6. In March 2016, as it began preparations for funding year 2017, UT-Tyler (at the suggestion of ABS Telecom) switched consultants, replacing ABS Telecom with CFT Filings, LLC (CFT Filings).[17] Amy Speck, the wife of Gary Speck, filed documents with the Texas Secretary of State in February 2016 to establish CFT Filings, listing herself as the entity's managing member.[18] Staff from Windstream represent that the Specks sought to position CFT Filings as an entity that would perform RHC Program consulting work for health care providers while ABS Telecom would continue to represent service providers, including Peoples.[19] To effectuate the separation between ABS Telecom and CFT Filings, Amy Speck was removed as the managing member of CFT Filings in May 2016, and in her place Warren Lai was designated the managing member.[20]

The Consolidated Audit is a USAC-conducted performance audit involving UT-Tyler, CFT Filings, and the service provider Consolidated Communications of Fort Bend Company whose findings includes evidence related to the formation of CFT Filings. The Consolidated Audit is also involved in a separate decision by USAC that UT-Tyler is appealing. See Request for Review and Waiver of The University of Texas at Tyler, WC Docket No. 02-60 (filed Aug. 22, 2024). In the Windstream Order, we noted that the formation of CFT Filings was undertaken "presumably to address the perceived conflict of interest" that involved Gary Speck's dual role as UT-Tyler's consultant and Windstream's sales agent. See Windstream Order, 35 FCC Rcd at 10316, n.26.

7. In October 2016, with the assistance of CFT Filings, UT-Tyler requested services for funding year 2017 and, after conducting the required competitive bidding, selected Peoples as its service provider.[21] Peoples, which at the time maintained a channel partner agreement with ABS Telecom, was the only entity to bid on UT-Tyler's service request.[22] USAC granted 12 funding requests for funding year 2017 support for services provided by Peoples to UT-Tyler's Andrews Center Clinic facility.[23]

8. On February 4, 2022, USAC's Audit and Assurance Division (AAD) released the results of a performance audit of Peoples' compliance with RHC Program rules for funding year 2017. AAD concluded that UT-Tyler's relationship with CFT Filings violated RHC Program conflict of interest rules because ABS Telecom management maintained a "direct relationship" with both Peoples and CFT Filings through Amy Speck.[24] AAD reached this conclusion based in part on its review of "public records" that identified Amy Speck as a managing member of CFT Filings.[25] Relying on the results of AAD's audit, USAC issued Commitment Adjustment (COMAD) letters to Peoples on December 30, 2022, seeking recovery of the funding year 2017 disbursements issued for the Andrews Center Clinic.[26] Peoples timely appealed USAC's decision on February 13, 2023, and USAC denied this appeal on the merits.[27] Peoples now requests reversal of USAC's decision to issue COMADs, maintaining that the basis for USAC's decision – the conflict of interest involving UT-Tyler, Peoples, ABS Telecom, and CFT Filings – did not exist.[28] UT-Tyler separately maintains that, even if such a conflict existed, special circumstances warrant a waiver of the competitive bidding rules because UT-Tyler and Peoples could not have known of the conflict and the conflict did not impact the bidding process.[29]

[23] See Appendix A.

[24] Peoples Audit at p. 8. In reaching its finding, AAD relied on the Hospital Networks Management Order.

[25] Id. at 8. AAD cites to a corporationwiki.com entry for support that apparently did not reflect the removal of Amy Speck as the managing member of CFT Filings in May 2016. That entry currently lists Amy Speck as "Managing Member" despite also listing CFT Filings as no longer active. See Corporation Wiki, CFT Filings LLC, https://www.corporationwiki.com/p/2rgtul/cft-filings-llc (last visited Aug. 11, 2025). To support its finding of a conflict of interest, AAD also relied on UT-Tyler's statement that its "subsequent research indicated that CFT Filings might have been created and/or controlled by the owners of ABS." Peoples Audit at 8.

[26] See Letter from Universal Service Administrative Company to Gena Von Reyn, Peoples Communications, Inc. at 4 (July 28, 2023) (included as Exhibit E to Peoples Request for Review) (Peoples Decision Letter). See also Peoples Request for Review, Exhibit A (including 12 COMADs dated December 30, 2022); UT-Tyler Request for Review, Confidential Exhibit 1 (including 10 COMADs dated December 30, 2022). Appendix A identifies the 10 out of 12 funding requests that are the subject of UT-Tyler's waiver request.

[27] See Peoples Decision Letter at 4. UT-Tyler did not appeal USAC's decision and instead timely filed its request to waive the competitive bidding rules directly with the Commission. See 47 CFR § 54.719(c) (parties seeking waivers of the Commission's rules shall seek relief directly from the Commission).

[28] Peoples Request for Review at 5-8.

[29] UT-Tyler Waiver Request at 8-9. Peoples also requests a waiver as an alternative form of relief. See Peoples Request for Review at 8-14. In addition, Peoples maintains that upholding USAC's decision would have a "chilling effect" on prospective future service providers unable "to uncover a potential conflict of interest that is not apparent after due inquiry." Peoples Request for Review at 15.

III. DISCUSSION

9. Based on our review of the record, we find that there are insufficient grounds to conclude that a conflict of interest existed that prevented UT-Tyler from conducting a fair and open competitive bidding process. We therefore grant Peoples' request to reverse USAC's decision to recover funding, and direct USAC to rescind the COMAD letters issued in connection with the 12 funding request numbers (FRNs) listed in Appendix A. We also dismiss as moot UT-Tyler's request to waive the competitive bidding rules.

10. Grant of Peoples's Request for Review. AAD's audit of Peoples, which formed the factual predicate for USAC's COMAD decisions, concluded that a "direct relationship" between ABS Telecom and CFT Filings through Amy Speck created a conflict of interest.[30] We reach a different conclusion, finding instead that the record falls short of establishing the type of relationship among program participants previously found to form an impermissible conflict of interest. In Hospital Networks Management, the precedent relied upon by AAD in its audit of Peoples, the dual role relationship involving an individual simultaneously serving as president of the apparent service provider and as a health care consortium consultant presented a clear conflict of interest.[31] Similarly, in Windstream, the relationship between the health care provider and service provider was indisputable and flagrant: Gary Speck's name was listed on the FCC Form 465 as UT-Tyler's agent while he at the same time served, through ABS Telecom, as a sales agent for Windstream.[32] By contrast, the record in this matter does not conclusively link Amy Speck (and by extension Gary Speck and ABS Telecom) to Warren Lai and CFT Filings in October 2016 when UT-Tyler commenced the competitive bidding process.[33] At that time, Amy Speck was no longer affiliated with CFT Filings, according to Texas Secretary of State records, having been replaced months earlier by Warren Lai as managing member, who was designated as UT-Tyler's contact person on its FCC Forms 465.[34] Additionally, unlike in Hospital Networks Management and Windstream, Warren Lai and CFT Filings did not serve as sales agents for Peoples while simultaneously serving as a consultant to UT-Tyler. We conclude that the weight of the evidence favors granting the relief sought by Peoples as there was no apparent conflict of interest at the time USF funding was sought.[35]

11. Peoples maintains that the relationship among ABS Telecom, CFT Filings and its principals did not amount to a conflict of interest.[36] Although we agree the relationship here does not amount to a conflict of interest, we caution that our decision today should not be construed to mean a conflict of interest exists only when it is as blatant as those found in Hospital Networks Management and Windstream. An impermissible conflict of interest, no matter how convoluted or surreptitious, will be [32] Windstream Order, 35 FCC Rcd at 10319, para. 15.

[33] UT-Tyler states that while undergoing competitive bidding it was unaware of a relationship between CFT Filings and the Specks, between CFT Filings and ABS Telecom, or between Warren Lai and any service providers. See Peoples Audit at 17; UT-Tyler Request for Review at 5-6.

[34] Peoples Request for Review at 7 and Exhibit C.

[35] We note that UT-Tyler states that "after the procurement," it uncovered information "suggesting that CFT Filings may have been created and/or controlled by the owners of ABS Telecom but found no evidence that CFT Filings received sales commissions from Peoples and no other evidence of rule violations." found whenever there is a relationship between or among health care providers, service providers, and their consultants that improperly undermines the fairness and openness of the competitive bidding process.[37] Determining whether such a conflict of interest exists is ultimately a case-by-case inquiry based on a careful examination of the record. Our examination of the present record finds no such conflict.[38]

12. Dismissal of UT-Tyler's Waiver Request. UT-Tyler requests a waiver of the competitive bidding rules "to the extent necessary to reverse" the COMADs at issue in this proceeding.[39] In light of the foregoing grant of People's request to rescind the COMADs, we dismiss as moot UT-Tyler's waiver request.[40]

IV. ORDERING CLAUSES

13. ACCORDINGLY, IT IS ORDERED, pursuant to the authority contained in sections 1-4 and 254 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151-154 and 254, and sections 0.91, 0.291, and 54.722(a) of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR §§ 0.91, 0.291, and 54.722(a), the Request for Review and Waiver filed by Peoples Communications, Inc. on September 25, 2023, IS GRANTED to the extent described herein.

14. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, pursuant to authority contained in sections 1-4 and 254 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151-154 and 254, sections 0.91, 0.291, and 54.722(a), 47 CFR §§ 0.91, 0.291, and 54.722(a), that the applications identified in Appendix A ARE REMANDED to USAC for further action in accordance with the terms of this Order.

15. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that, pursuant to the authority contained in in sections 1-4 and 254 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151-154 and 254, and sections 0.91, 0.291, 1.3 and 54.722(a) of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR §§ 0.91, 0.291, 1.3 and 54.722(a), the Request for Waiver filed by The University of Texas Health Science Center at Tyler on February 17, 2023, IS DISMISSED AS MOOT to the extent described herein.

[37] See Promoting Telehealth Order, 34 FCC Rcd at 7410-11, para. 162 (providing a non-exhaustive list of actions that violate the Commission's "fair and open" competitive bidding standard, including impermissible relationships between a service provider and an applicant and between an applicant's consultant and its service provider).

[38] Having found that no conflict of interest existed that compromised the competitive bidding process conducted by UT-Tyler, we need not address Peoples' claim that upholding USAC's decision would have a "chilling effect" on prospective future service providers.

[40] Although we dismiss UT-Tyler's waiver request as moot, we note our disagreement with UT-Tyler's position that because Peoples was the only service provider to submit bids, its choice of vendor was not affected by any possible conflict of interest. See UT-Tyler Waiver Request at 8; see also Peoples Request for Review at 12-13 (stating that "[e]ven if there was a relationship between CFT [Filings] and ABS [Telecom], no evidence has been presented to suggest that such relationship had any effect on [UT-Tyler's] choice of vendor . . . ."). In the Windstream Order, we explained that "[e]ven the perception of a relationship between a service provider and applicant could lead prospective bidders to believe that bidding will not be conducted in a fair and open matter and depress participation in the bidding process" and, therefore, the presence of only one bidder "is not necessarily evidence of a lack of harm to the competitive bidding process." Windstream Order, 35 FCC Rcd at 10324, para. 22.

16. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that, pursuant to the authority delegated in section 1.102(b)(1) of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 1.102(b)(1), this order SHALL BE EFFECTIVE upon release.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

By the Deputy Associate General Counsel:

1. By this Memorandum Opinion and Order, we vacate as moot the initial decision in the above-captioned proceeding,[1] dismiss as moot exceptions filed by Patrick Sullivan and Lake Broadcasting, Inc. (Lake),[2] dismiss as moot the application for assignment of FM translator station W238CE, and terminate this proceeding. We take this action because Michael S. Rice, the president, director, and sole shareholder of Lake at all times relevant to this proceeding, and whose qualifications to be a Commission licensee are at issue, is deceased.

2. In 2014, the Media Bureau designated Mr. Sullivan (assignor) and Lake's (assignee) Application for Consent to Assignment of License of FM Translator Station W238CE, Montgomery, Alabama, for a hearing to determine: (a) the effects of Michael S. Rice's felony convictions on his qualifications and/or the qualifications of Lake to be a Commission licensee; (b) the effects of the misrepresentation and lack of candor by Mr. Rice's broadcast companies on his qualifications and/or the qualifications of Lake to be a Commission licensee; (c) whether, in view of the foregoing, Mr. Rice and/or Lake is qualified to be a Commission licensee; and (d) whether the license assignment application should be granted.[3]

3. Administrative Law Judge Jane Halprin (ALJ) denied the application, finding that the applicants had not demonstrated that Mr. Rice, Lake's then-president, director, and sole shareholder, was qualified to be a Commission licensee because they did not introduce any evidence on one of the two character issues specified in the Hearing Designation Order.[4] The ALJ also noted that the circumstances surrounding Mr. Rice's withdrawal from the hearing proceeding raised the issue of "abuse of the Commission's processes" as an additional factor potentially bearing on his character.[5] Sullivan and Lake filed exceptions to the initial decision, which remain pending and ripe for disposition.[6]

4. On August 14, 2025, counsel for the estate of Mr. Rice informed the Commission that Mr. Rice was deceased.[7] Mr. Rice is no longer president, director, or agent for Lake.[8]

5. Due to these developments, we find that the matters pending before us are moot, and we exercise our delegated authority under 47 CFR § 0.251(c) to terminate this proceeding.[9]

6. Accordingly, it is ORDERED pursuant to 47 CFR § 0.251(c) that the Initial Decision, FCC 19M-03, IS VACATED; the exceptions to the Initial Decision, filed July 1, 2019, and responsive pleadings ARE DISMISSED as moot; the Application for Consent to Assignment of License of FM Translator Station W238CE, Montgomery, Alabama, IS DISMISSED as moot; and this proceeding IS TERMINATED.

7. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that copies of this Order shall be emailed and sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to: Patrick Sullivan (Assignor),[10] Aaron P. Shainis (counsel for Lake Broadcasting, Inc. (Assignee)),[11] and William Knowles-Kellett (Enforcement Bureau).

The Initial Decision did not reach a conclusion regarding the other character issue specified in the Hearing Designation Order, which related to Mr. Rice's felony convictions.

FCC ANNOUNCES A TRIBAL WORKSHOP HOSTED BY COALITION OF LARGE TRIBES, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 2025

By this Public Notice, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) announces a workshop for Tribal Nations and Native Hawaiian organizations (NHOs) designed to provide information on a broad range of FCC initiatives that support the deployment of communications infrastructure and services nationwide, including on Tribal lands. Topics will include an overview of proposed changes to the Commission's National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) rules, recent changes to FCC pole attachment rules, updates on technology transitions, as well as others. The workshop will also provide an opportunity to learn more about the FCC's rulemaking process and ways that Tribal Nations and NHOs can share their views and interests to help inform FCC proceedings.

- Date and Time: Thursday, September 11, 2025, at 1:15 p.m. - 4:00 p.m. CT
- Where: Mystic Lake Center in Prior Lake, Minnesota, during the Coalition of Large Tribes Quarterly Meeting.
- Registration: The workshop is free, but registration is required. To pre-register, please email your name, title, Tribal affiliation, and contact information, with the subject line, "September Workshop," to Native@fcc.gov. Onsite registration will be available, but space may be limited.
- Who should consider attending? Tribal government leaders, Tribal service providers and IT managers, government and community planners and managers, Tribal enterprise specialists, and representatives of Tribal community-based organizations are all persons who should consider attending FCC Tribal Workshops.

The agenda, slide decks, and other meeting materials will be posted to the FCC Workshop event page when made available.

Tribal Consultation Opportunity

Following the workshop, FCC staff will be available to consult in-person regarding potential changes to the FCC's NEPA rules on September 11, 2025, from 4:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. CT. Federally-recognized Tribal Nations and NHOs interested in consulting should send an email to Native@fcc.gov with the subject line, "Consultation – September 11".

Additional Tribal Consultation opportunities may be announced in the future on the Office of Native Affairs and Policy webpage at www.fcc.gov/Native.

Background: The FCC adopted a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (FCC 25-47) on August 7, 2025, under WTB Docket No. 25-217, to take a fresh look at the Commission's environmental rules to account for recent amendments to NEPA under the 2023 Fiscal Responsibility Act (FRA). In addition, in January, President Trump issued Executive Order 14154 titled "Unleashing American Energy," which called upon "all agencies [to] prioritize efficiency and certainty over any other objectives" in revising agency regulations implementing NEPA. In light of the changes to the legal landscape and consistent with the objectives of that Executive Order, the FCC seeks comment on how we should revise Commission rules to streamline the environmental review process, promote efficiency, and encourage deployment of infrastructure that results in more competition and technological innovation.

The FCC is also taking this opportunity to seek comment on whether there are parts of our environmental rules that are now unnecessary or outdated and should be deleted. Given the Commission's environmental rules are entwined with our historic preservation rules, we also seek comment on any impact to our National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA) framework and examine what rule changes, if any, might be appropriate.

Ex Parte Requirements: Tribal Nations and NHOs, like other interested parties, should file comments, reply comments, and ex parte presentations in the public record in order to put facts and arguments before the Commission in a manner such that they may be relied upon in the decision-making process. The Commission, however, will exempt ex parte presentations involving elected and appointed leaders, and duly appointed representatives, of federally-recognized Tribal Nations and NHOs from the disclosure requirements in permit-but-disclose proceedings (47 CFR § 1.1206) and the prohibitions on presentations during the Sunshine Agenda period (47 CFR § 1.1203). Specifically, presentations from elected and appointed leaders or duly appointed representatives of federally-recognized Tribal Nations or NHOs to Commission decision makers shall be exempt from disclosure. To be clear, while the Commission recognizes that consultation is critically important, we emphasize that the Commission will rely in its decision-making only on those materials that are placed in the public record for this proceeding.

Reasonable Accommodations

Reasonable accommodations for people with disabilities are available upon request by sending an e-mail to: FCC504@fcc.gov or calling the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau at 202-418-0530 (voice). Include a description of the accommodation you will need and tell us how to contact you if we need more information. Please make your request as early as possible as we may be unable to fulfill last-minute requests.

WIRELINE COMPETITION BUREAU REMINDS RIP-AND-REPLACE PROGRAM RECIPIENTS OF THEIR SEPTEMBER 30, 2025 STATUS UPDATE FILING OBLIGATION

WC Docket No. 18-89

The Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) reminds Recipients[1] in the Secure and Trusted Communications Networks Reimbursement Program (Rip-and-Replace Program or Program) of their obligation to file status updates with the Federal Communications Commission every 90 days, beginning on the date on which the Bureau approved Recipients' applications, until the obligation to file expires.[2] All Recipients were required to file the last status update on or before July 2, 2025.[3] Accordingly, all Recipients must file their next status update on or before September 30, 2025. ## WIRELINE COMPETITION BUREAU ANNOUNCES POSTING OF 2025 TARIFF REVIEW PLAN FOR EXOGENOUS COST FILINGS BY RATE-OF-RETURN CARRIERS THAT ELECTED INCENTIVE REGULATION FOR BUSINESS DATA SERVICES

WC Docket Nos. 25-94, 17-144

By this Public Notice, the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) announces the release of the 2025 tariff review plan (TRP) workbooks for rate-of-return local exchange carriers (carriers) that elected incentive regulation for their business data services (BDS) pursuant to the Rate-of-Return BDS Order to calculate exogenous cost adjustments to their tariffed BDS rates.[1] The TRP workbooks are posted on the Commission's website at: https://www.fcc.gov/wireline-competition/2025-2026-trp-midcourse-exogenous-cost-filings.

The 2025 Tariff Review Plan Order requires rate-of-return carriers that elected BDS incentive regulation to file TRP workbooks reflecting any exogenous cost adjustment for Telecommunications Relay Service (TRS), North American Numbering Plan Administration (NANPA), and regulatory fees in BDS rates to be effective October 1, 2025.[2] The TRP workbooks adjust BDS rates using the most recent factors for TRS contribution fees, NANPA contribution fees, and regulatory fees for interstate telecommunications service providers.[3] The TRP workbooks gross-up the going-forward exogenous cost adjustment to BDS rates for TRS and remove the gross-up amounts for NANPA and regulatory fees from existing rates. As the Bureau explained in the 2025 Tariff Review Plan Order, the exogenous cost adjustment for TRS must be "grossed up" to spread the entire adjustment over the remaining months in the tariff year.[4] Additionally, exogenous cost adjustments for regulatory fees and NANPA fees reflected in rates effective November 1, 2024[5] are required by the Commission's rules to be "grossed up" to spread the entire adjustments over the remaining 11 months of fiscal year 2025 (November 1, 2024 to September 30, 2025) as regulatory fees and NANPA fees are fiscal year obligations.[6] The Commission's rules require these gross-up amounts to be removed from rates effective October 1, 2025.[7]

The TRP workbooks posted on the Commission's website were prepared by the National Exchange Carrier Association (NECA) for electing carriers for which NECA files BDS rates and are designed to ensure that carriers make exogenous cost and rate adjustments in accordance with the Commission's rules.[8] Carriers that do not participate in the NECA tariff should also file a TRP.[9] Commission staff reviewed the TRP workbooks released today and carriers are encouraged to use them. Carriers may alternatively create and submit their own TRP workbooks, as long as those TRP workbooks comply with the Commission's rules. Carriers should submit their TRP workbooks, data, and formulas in an Excel format rather than a PDF format.[10] For exogenous cost tariff filings to be effective October 1, 2025, tariff filings made on 15 days' notice are due on September 16, 2025 and tariff filings made on 7 days' notice are due on September 24, 2025.[11]

Consistent with the 2025 Tariff Review Plan Order, the October 1, 2025 exogenous cost filing and rate adjustment is optional for electing carriers if the total amount of such exogenous cost adjustments would either increase rates or meet a de minimis threshold of $1,040.00, which is the current standard tariff filing fee.[12] Finally, we remind carriers submitting tariff revisions reflecting exogenous cost adjustments that they must pay the $1,040.00 standard tariff filing fee through the payment system in the Commission's Registration System (CORES).[13]

MEDIA BUREAU TAKES ACTION TO FACILITATE ATSC 3.0 TRANSITION BY CLARIFIYING PROCEDURES

The FCC has been taking steps to accelerate the transition to ATSC 3.0—the next-generation standard that will enable local broadcasters to offer TV viewers the best possible experience. By this Public Notice, the Media Bureau (Bureau) further encourages this transition by clarifying its processing practices for ATSC 3.0 license applications to ensure that any licensees interested in transitioning to ATSC 3.0 are aware of the regulatory support available.[1] Specifically, we (1) clarify what methods may be used to determine if an application qualifies for expedited processing; (2) reaffirm the Bureau's commitment to processing non-expedited applications; and (3) remind licensees of the flexibility included in existing rules and precedent.

Clarification of ATSC 3.0 Predicted Population Loss Calculations. Commission rules require full-power and Class A stations that transition to ATSC 3.0 to simulcast the station's primary video programming stream in ATSC 1.0.[2] The rules provide for expedited processing of the applications of transitioning stations that select for simulcasting an ATSC 1.0 host facility that provides service to at least 95 percent of the predicted population within the noise limited service contour (NLSC) of the transitioning station's original ATSC 1.0 facility.[3] While the rule makes specific reference to the population within the transitioning station's NLSC, we clarify that the Bureau has and will continue to consider Longley-Rice terrain analysis for purposes of calculating the population within the NLSC in order to determine whether an application qualifies for expedited processing.[4]

Continued Commitment to Processing of Non-Expedited Applications. ATSC 3.0 applications that do not meet the 95 percent coverage threshold are processed as "non-expedited" applications. The Bureau can and does process non-expedited applications, and we reaffirm our commitment to do so. Such applications will be considered on a case-by-case basis based on their individual merits and will be processed as expeditiously as the specific facts of the application permit.[5] We encourage licensees that wish to convert their station to ATSC 3.0, but believe they cannot meet the 95 percent threshold for expedited processing, to contact Video Division (Division) staff if further guidance is needed.

[3] 47 CFR §§ 73.3801(f)(5), 73.6029(f)(5). Applications that meet the standard for expedited processing should be processed within 15 business days after public notice of the filing. Authorizing Permissive Use of the "Next Generation" Broadcast Television Standard, GN Docket No. 16-142, Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 32 FCC Rcd 9930, 9948 para. 34 (2017) (First Report and Order).

As part of our public interest analysis for non-expedited applications, we remind applicants that the Bureau has considered certain elements favorably, including factors that may minimize the impact of a transition on viewers, and we will continue to take such information into account when considering non-expedited ATSC 3.0 applications. For instance, in evaluating the population that is predicted to lose service due to lack of coverage from a transitioning station's ATSC 1.0 host station, the Bureau has offset a portion of the total viewer loss to credit populations that will continue to be served by another station with the same network affiliation as the transitioning station.[6] In addition, the Bureau is able and willing to consider additional factors that could demonstrate that a specific transition has minimal negative viewer impact and is in the public interest.[7] Such applications should clearly describe the impact of the transition on viewers and include supporting information and data, such as relevant contour overlap maps. Such applicants are encouraged to coordinate with Division staff as necessary.[8]

Existing Flexibility for Transitioning Stations. We also remind applicants that existing rules and precedent include elements that provide flexibility in order to support stations transitioning to ATSC 3.0.

- ATSC 3.0 stations are only required to simulcast their primary stream in an ATSC 1.0 format; they are not required to simulcast any multicast stream.[9]

[5] The requirements of non-expedited applications can be found in 47 CFR §§ 73.3801(f)(6)(iii), 73.6029(f)(6)(iii), 74.782(g)(6)(iii). We note that these rules were inadvertently deleted from the Code of Federal Regulations and we have released an order restoring the provisions as the Commission previously directed that they remain applicable. See Media Bureau Corrects Inadvertent Rule Elimination, Order, DA 25-761 (2025); Authorizing Permissive Use of the "Next Generation" Broadcast Television Standard, GN Docket No. 16-142, Third Report and Order and Fourth Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 38 FCC Rcd 6409 at 6451, 6453, and 6455 (App. B – Final Rule Changes) (2023) (Third Report and Order).

[6] This may include a station with different class of service (e.g., a full power station's loss area is covered by an LPTV station) or a station outside the transitioning station's Designated Market Area (DMA), especially where viewers in the loss area are located in the adjacent DMA and would be unlikely to rely on the transitioning station for service. See, e.g., Application of Gray Television Licensee, LLC for Modification of a License for DTV Application, LMS File No. 0000185199 (granted Apr. 7, 2022); Application of Graham Media Group, San Antonio, Inc. for Modification of a License for DTV Application, LMS File No. 0000238284 (granted May 3, 2024).

[7] For example, an applicant could commit to provide ATSC 3.0 converter boxes to viewers who would otherwise lose service. The Bureau may also take into account whether loss areas are otherwise "well-served," as we do in channel substitution proceedings when evaluating the impact of the proposal on viewers. See, e.g., Third Periodic Review of the Commission's Rules and Policies Affecting the Conversion to Digital Television, MB Docket No. 07-91, Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 22 FCC Rcd. 9478, 9493, para. 38 (2007) ("The Commission is generally most concerned where there is a loss of an area's only network or NCE TV service, or where the loss results in an area becoming less than well served, i.e., served by fewer than five full-power over-the-air signals."); Amendment of Section 73.622(j), Table of Allotments, Television Broadcast Stations (Knoxville, Tennessee), MB Docket No. 23-244, Report and Order, 38 FCC Rcd 9304 (MB 2023) (finding that viewer loss areas created by the proposed channel substitution are well-served and grant is in the public interest). Full power and Class A stations may also seek waiver to "flash cut" to ATSC 3.0. See Authorizing Permissive Use of the "Next Generation" Broadcast Television Standard, GN Docket No. 16-142, Second Report and Order on Reconsideration, 35 FCC Rcd 6793, 6807, para. 28 (2020) (establishing standards for waiver of the simulcast requirement).

[8] The Commission anticipated a 60 business day processing period for non-expedited applications. First Report and Order, 32 FCC Rcd at 9947-48, para. 34. The Bureau has and will continue to process well-pled applications in an expeditious manner.

- The "substantially similar" requirement applies only to a station's primary stream and not to multicast streams, advertisements, promotions for upcoming programs, or programming features that are based on the enhanced capabilities of ATSC 3.0, such as hyper-localized content, interactive or other special programming features, enhanced video formats, or personalization of programming.[10]
- The 95 percent predicted population threshold for expedited treatment does not apply to a station's multicast streams, except where the multicast stream is being used to satisfy the station's children's television programming obligations.[11]
- Stations may utilize more than one ATSC 1.0 host station through a simulcast agreement to reach the 95 percent predicted population threshold for expedited processing.[12]
- Low power television (LPTV) and TV translator stations do not have any simulcast requirements, but may provide simulcasts in ATSC 1.0 on a voluntary basis.[13]
- LPTV and TV translator stations are permitted to host ATSC 1.0 and ATSC 3.0 signals for full-power and Class A stations.[14]

MEDIA BUREAU ANNOUNCES A PHASED RESUMPTION OF FIRST-COME, FIRST-SERVED PROCESSING OF APPLICATIONS FOR MAJOR CHANGES FOR CLASS A, LPTV, AND TV TRANSLATOR STATIONS AND APPLICATIONS FOR NEW LPTV AND TV TRANSLATOR STATIONS

By this Public Notice, the Media Bureau (Bureau) announces that, beginning today, the Commission is initiating a phased process to lift the current freeze on major changes for Class A television, low power television (LPTV), and television (TV) translator stations, in its entirety, and permit the filing of applications for new LPTV and TV translator stations.[1] Outlined below are the dates relating to the phased process and procedures that applicants must follow when filing during these opportunities. The Appendix outlines instructions for filing applications in LMS.

All changes not designated as major are considered minor changes. See 47 CFR § 73.3572(a)(3) (Class A); 47 CFR § 74.787(b)(2) (LPTV and TV translators).

Freeze on minor change applications (including displacement applications) for Class A, LPTV, and TV translator stations is also lifted. |

Phase 1: Temporary Major and Minor Modification Filing Freezes

While most major modifications are currently frozen, in August 2024 the Bureau lifted its freeze on major modifications, with certain restrictions, in order to permit Class A, LPTV, and TV translator stations to file for channel changes.[2] Effective at 11:59 p.m. ET, today – September 3, 2025, the Bureau is reinstituting a freeze on all applications for major changes for Class A, LPTV, and TV translator stations. In addition, at 6:00 p.m. ET, October 15, 2025, the Bureau will institute a freeze on all minor change applications for Class A, LPTV, and TV translator stations[3] and displacement applications for LPTV and TV translator stations.[4] These freezes are necessary in order to provide a stable database for stations to prepare for the filing of major modification applications, as discussed below. Applicants that file a major or minor modification application during these temporary freezes will be dismissed without consideration and will need to re-file once the freezes are lifted.

Phase 2: Expanded Major Modification Filing Opportunity

In order to allow existing Class A, LPTV, and TV translator stations to modify their facilities to better serve their viewers and adapt to market changes since application freezes were implemented on such changes,[5] we will provide existing stations an opportunity to file major modification applications prior to new station applications.[6] Beginning at 12:01 a.m. ET, October 22, 2025, the Bureau will lift the major modification application filing freeze and accept, on a first-come, first-served basis, applications for all major changes to Class A, LPTV, and TV translator stations including those that propose relocations of no more than 121.0 km from the station's antenna reference coordinates. At 12:01 a.m. ET, October 22, 2025, the Bureau will also lift the temporary freeze on all minor modification and displacement applications.

We are imposing a distance limit on major changes in order to ensure that existing stations are able to implement facility modifications that maximize service to their existing viewers and markets before we permit new station applications or moves by existing stations that practically amount to a new station (i.e., stations that may seek to forego serving their existing viewers or markets and relocate to distant locations). We believe the 121.0 km distance limit also balances the flexibility needs of existing stations to address changes in the broadcast marketplace over the past 15 years (including their local market), while attempting to preserve service that viewers have come to rely upon to the greatest extent possible. Major change applications submitted during this filing opportunity must comply with the distance limit set forth herein and otherwise comply with the Commission's part 73 and 74 rules.[7] All other applications will be dismissed and will need to be re-filed.

Phase 3: Temporary Reinstitution of Major and Minor Application Filing Freezes

At 6:00 p.m. ET, December 3, 2025, all applications for major changes for Class A, LPTV, and TV translator stations will once again be frozen. At 6:00 p.m. ET, January 14, 2026, the Bureau will also institute a temporary freeze on all minor change applications for Class A, LPTV, and TV translator stations[8] and displacement applications for LPTV and TV translator stations.[9] These freezes are being reinstituted in order to provide a stable database for stations to prepare for the complete lifting of the freeze on major modification applications and for applicants to prepare for the opportunity to seek new stations. Applicants that file applications during these temporary freezes will be dismissed and will need to re-file once the freezes are lifted.

Phase 4: Resumption of Minor and Major Modification Filings and Commencement of Filing For New LPTV and TV Translator Stations

Beginning at 12:01 a.m. ET, January 21, 2026, we will lift the freezes and begin accepting, on a first-come, first-served basis, all major change and minor change applications (including displacement applications). At the same time, we will lift the freeze and begin accepting, on a first-come, first-served basis, applications for new LPTV and TV translator stations.[10] These filings opportunities will remain available indefinitely unless the Commission determines that a new freeze is warranted. There will be no geographical restrictions or any other limitations on applications for minor modification, major modification, or applications for new LPTV and TV translator stations beyond the operating parameters

[7] To be clear, stations may voluntarily change channels during this opportunity so long as the proposed change otherwise complies with the Commission's rules and any facility relocation is no greater than 121.0 km.

[9] See 47 CFR § 74.787(a)(4). Class A stations are not eligible for displacement.

[10] The acceptance of applications for new Class A stations is limited by statute and therefore applications for new Class A stations will not be accepted during this filing opportunity. See Community Broadcasters Protection Act of 1999, Pub. L. No. 106-113, 113 Stat. and enumerated restrictions set forth in parts 73 and 74 of the Commission's rules.[11] Because the 2010 LPTV Freeze prevented the commencement of a nationwide filing opportunity for new LPTV and TV translator stations,[12] we believe that it is appropriate to permit both unrestricted major modification applications and new station applications at the same time, just as would have been allowed should the new station opportunity have proceeded in 2010. By the time this phase occurs, existing stations will have been provided ample opportunity to maximize their facilities in order to address changes in their service areas/local markets (e.g. demographic changes, marketplace demands, etc.) since 2010 – including through channel sharing arrangements,[13] voluntarily change channels,[14] and facility relocations of up to 121.0 km.[15]

Application Filing and Processing Procedures

Each applicant should carefully read the instructions to its application, as well as this Public Notice, to ensure that each response, which constitutes a certification or material representation, is accurate and complete.[16] We also remind applicants that they must certify that, at the time of filing, they have sufficient finances to construct and operate the facility,[17] and there is reasonable site assurance for the site specified in the application.[18]

Applications Filing Instructions and Fees. Class A station major modification applications must be filed electronically via the Commission's Licensing and Management System (LMS) on FCC Form

[11] Once again, applications filed during this opportunity may not propose facilities that would cause impermissible interference to other authorized full power, Class A, and LPTV/translator stations, including valid construction permits for same, and any earlier-filed application for new or modify facility including earlier-filed applications for minor change. See 47 CFR §§ 74.793(e)-(h) (defining the levels of protection to the authorized facilities of full power, Class A, LPTV and TV translator stations). Minor modification and displacement applications will be restricted to the distance relocation limits and any other restrictions set forth in the Commission's rules. See 47 CFR §§ 73.3572(a)(2), (3) and 74.787(a)(4), (b).

2100 – Schedule E and applicants are be required to pay the requisite fee for a major change application ($5,000.00).[19] LPTV and TV translator applications for new stations or major changes to existing stations must be filed electronically via LMS on FCC Form 2100 – Schedule C and applicants are be required to pay the requisite fee for a major change application ($910.00).[20] Filing instructions are provided in the Appendix.

First-Come, First-Served Processing and Settlements. All major change and new station applications will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis and will be "cut off" daily for purposes of determining mutually exclusive (MX) applications.[21] Applications filed during these opportunities may not propose facilities that would cause impermissible interference to other proposed or authorized full power, Class A, and LPTV/translator stations, including valid construction permits and any earlier-filed application for a new or modified facility – including earlier-filed applications for minor (including displacement) or major change.[22] Applicants will be given an opportunity to resolve MX applications through settlement or engineering amendment that may be submitted either prior or during a settlement window to be announced by the Bureau by separate public notice.[23] Following the close of the settlement window, remaining MX applications will be resolved through competitive bidding.[24]

Acceptability of Applications. Applicants will be permitted to input information in their applications prior to any filing opportunities, but should not submit their application prior to the dates and times set forth above for any given opportunity. Applications that are submitted before the freezes are lifted will be dismissed without consideration. The Bureau will conduct an initial review of all applications filed during these opportunities for compliance with the filing parameters set forth in this Public Notice and all relevant technical and legal rules. It will dismiss any application that is unacceptable for filing. An applicant will have one opportunity to file a minor curative amendment to a dismissed application and a petition for reconsideration, requesting reinstatement of the application nunc

[20] 47 CFR § 1.1104, Table 6. Instructions for filing new station and major change applications are contained in the Appendix.

[21] See 47 CFR §§ 74.787(a)(3) and 73.3572(e). When the distance between the facilities proposed in two or more applications does not meet the minimum distance separation requirements specified in 47 CFR §§ 74.793(e)-(h), the applications are treated as mutually exclusive. For first-come, first-served application filing opportunities, applications are considered "cut-off" from competing MX applications on the day they are filed. See 47 CFR § 73.3564(c).

[22] See 47 CFR §§ 74.793(e)-(h) (defining the levels of protection to the authorized facilities of full power, Class A, LPTV and TV translator stations).

[23] See 47 U.S.C. § 309(j)(6)(E); 47 CFR § 73.5002(d). All settlements filed during the settlement window will be required to comply with the provisions of 47 U.S.C. § 311(c) and 47 CFR § 73.3525, including, inter alia, the settlement reimbursement restrictions. Further, engineering amendments submitted during the settlement window must be minor, as defined by the applicable rules, and must not create new mutual exclusivities or application conflicts. See 47 CFR §§ 73.3572(a)(3), 74.787(b)(2). MX applications from prior filing opportunities, see, e.g., supra note 2, must be protected. Those applicants are permitted to propose resolution of such conflicts and we encourage them to attempt to do so prior to commencement of new filing opportunities announced by this Public Notice. We will consider waiver of any freeze instituted by this Public Notice to resolve such MX situations. As new filing opportunities commence, the ability to resolve existing MX applications by technical resolution will likely increasingly become more limited.

pro tunc.[25] Any curative amendment may only propose minor changes, must comply with all relevant rules, and may not result in any new MX applications. Bureau staff will not reinstate the application of an applicant that is unable to cure all defects (including any defects not previously identified by the Bureau staff). This process will ensure the timely evaluation of processing of all applications and issuance of construction permits.[26]

Petitions to Deny. Once a singleton application is found to be legally and technically acceptable, the application will be accepted for filing, which will commence the 30-day period for filing petitions to deny.[27] For MX applications that are subject to competitive bidding, petitions to deny may be filed against the winning bidder's long-form application within fifteen (15) days following the issuance of a public notice announcing that the long-form application has been accepted for filing.[28] Petitions to deny must be filed in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Commission's rules.[29] Electronic submissions are encouraged, though petitions to deny may be filed electronically or by paper.

- Electronic Filers. Petitions to Deny may be filed electronically using the Internet through the Commission's Licensing and Management System (LMS) at https://enterpriseefiling.fcc.gov/dataentry/login.html.[30]
- Paper Filers: Parties who choose to file by paper must file an original and one copy of each filing. Filings can be sent by hand or messenger delivery, by commercial courier, or by the U.S. Postal Service. All filings must be addressed to the Secretary, Federal Communications Commission and to the Attention of the Chief of the Video Division, Media Bureau. It is also encouraged to submit a courtesy copy by e-mail to: Shaun.Maher@fcc.gov.
    - Hand-delivered or messenger-delivered paper filings for the Commission's Secretary are accepted between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. ET by the FCC's mailing contractor at 9050 Junction Drive, Annapolis Junction, MD 20701. All hand deliveries must be held together with rubber bands or fasteners. Any envelopes and boxes must be disposed of before entering the building.[31]

[25] The amendment and petition for reconsideration must be filed within 30 days of the dismissal of the application and follow all procedures. 47 CFR § 1.106. See also Media Bureau Announces Procedures and Requirements for November 1-November 8, 2023, Low Power FM Filing Window, Public Notice, 38 FCC Rcd 6660 (MB 2023).

[26] Construction permits will be issued for a period of 3 years. See 47 CFR §§ 73.3598(a), 74.780(bbb). To the extent an applicant takes its licensed facility silent during construction of modified facility, we remind licensees of the 12-month automatic expiration provision of section 312(g) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended. 47 U.S.C. §312(g); see also 47 CFR §§ 73.1740(c), 74.763(c). Stations must notify the Commission of any silence as required by the rules. See 47 CFR §§ 73.1635(a), 73.1740(a)(4), 74.763(b).

[27] See 47 CFR § 73.3584(c). The rule states that the Petition to Deny must be filed "within 30 days of the FCC Public Notice proposing the application for grant." Id. Here, the Bureau will consider that to occur on the date the application is accepted for filing and appears on the "Applications Public Notice" in the Commission's Daily Digest. See FCC Daily Digest, https://www.fcc.gov/proceedings-actions/daily-digest (last visited Aug. 15, 2025).

[28] See 47 CFR §§ 73.5006(a), (b).

A copy of the petition to deny, opposition or reply must be served on the other parties to the proceeding. See 47 CFR § 1.49.

[31] Hand-delivered or messenger delivered paper filings are NOT be accepted at FCC Headquarters.

- Commercial overnight mail (other than U.S. Postal Service Express Mail and Priority Mail) must be sent to 9050 Junction Drive, Annapolis Junction, MD 20701.
- Postal Service first-class, Express, and Priority mail must be addressed to 45 L Street, NE, Washington, DC 20554.

Local Public Notice Requirements. If and when a major modification application or new station application is accepted for filing, the applicant must provide a public notice to inform its local community about its proposal.[32] The initial filing of a major change or new station application does not trigger the local public notice requirements. Rather, the acceptance for filing starts an applicant's local public notice obligations.[33] Specifically, once an application is accepted for filing, an LPTV/TV translator applicant for a new station or major modification must give local notice by posting notice online, either (1) on the station website or a website affiliated with the station, the applicant, or its parent entity, or (2) on a publicly accessible, locally targeted website.[34] The online notice must be posted for 30 consecutive days following the acceptance of the application for filing.[35] A Class A major modification applicant must provide an on-air public announcement containing the text set forth in section 73.3580(b)(1)(i).[36] The on-air notice must be aired six times between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 11:00 p.m. (Monday-Friday) over the course of four consecutive weeks following the acceptance of the application for filing.[37]

Amendments to Applications. Each applicant must continue to maintain the accuracy and completeness of the information in its application. Each applicant must notify the Commission, by electronically filing an amendment, of any substantial change that may be of decisional significance to the application.[38]

This action is taken by the Chief, Media Bureau, pursuant to authority delegated by sections 0.61 and 0.283 of the Commission's rules.[39]

Stations not broadcasting during all or a portion of the period during which on-air announcements are required must instead provide online notice. 47 CFR § 73.3580(b)(1)(vi). The applicant may air the first on-air announcement as early as the date of release of the acceptance public notice, but not later than the fifth business day following release of the acceptance public notice. 47 CFR § 73.3580(b)(1)(ii).

[39] 47 CFR §§ 0.61 and 0.283. The decision to impose limitations on the filing and processing of modification applications is procedural in nature, and therefore is not subject to the notice and comment and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act. See 5 U.S.C. § 553(b)(A), (d); see also, e.g., Neighborhood TV Co. v. FCC, 742 F.2d 629, 637-38 (D.C. Cir. 1984) (holding that the Commission's filing freeze is a procedural rule not subject to the notice and comment requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act); *Buckeye Cablevision, Inc. v. We also find good cause not to delay the freeze instituted today on currently available Class A, LPTV, and TV translator major modifications until after publication in the Federal Register because such delay would undermine the purpose of the freeze to create a stable database in order for prospective applicants to evaluate potential station modifications and expeditiously provide enhanced or new television service to viewers.

ORDER

Adopted: September 11, 2025 Released: September 11, 2025

By the Acting Chief, Enforcement Bureau:

1. The Enforcement Bureau (Bureau) of the Federal Communications Commission (Commission or FCC) has entered into a Consent Decree with T-Mobile US, Inc. (T-Mobile or Company) to resolve the Bureau's investigation into whether the Company violated the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (Act),[1] and the Commission's equipment marketing rules by marketing the REVVL 7 PRO 5G smartphone prior to obtaining an FCC equipment authorization. These laws ensure that devices that emit radio frequency radiation comply with the Commission's technical requirements and do not interfere with authorized communications. To settle this matter, T-Mobile will implement a compliance plan and will pay a $7,000 voluntary contribution.

2. After reviewing the terms of the Consent Decree and evaluating the facts before us, we find that the public interest would be served by adopting the Consent Decree and terminating the referenced investigation regarding T-Mobile's compliance with the Commission's equipment marketing rules, as set forth in section 302(b) of the Act and sections 2.803(b) and 2.1204(b) of the Commission's rules.[2]

3. In the absence of material new evidence relating to this matter, we do not set for hearing the question of T-Mobile's basic qualifications to hold or obtain any Commission license or authorization.[3]

4. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to section 4(i) of the Act and the authority delegated by sections 0.111 and 0.311 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR §§ 0.111, 0.311, the attached Consent Decree IS ADOPTED and its terms incorporated by reference.

5. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the above-captioned matter IS TERMINATED.

II. BACKGROUND

3. Legal Framework. Section 302 of the Act authorizes the Commission to promulgate reasonable regulations to minimize harmful interference by equipment that emits radio frequency (RF) energy.[4] Specifically, section 302(b) of the Act provides that "[n]o person shall manufacture, import, sell, offer for sale, or ship devices or home electronic equipment and systems, or use devices, which fail to comply with regulations promulgated pursuant to this section."[5] The purpose of section 302 of the Act is to ensure that radio transmitters and other electronic devices meet certain standards to control interference before they reach the market.[6]

4. The Commission carries out its responsibilities under section 302 of the Act in two ways. First, the Commission establishes technical requirements for transmitters and other equipment to minimize their potential for causing interference to authorized radio services. Second, the Commission administers an equipment authorization program to ensure that equipment reaching the United States market complies with the Equipment Marketing Rules.[7] In sum, the Rules require, among other things, that RF devices be tested for compliance and satisfy the applicable technical and other requirements prior to marketing.[8] In particular, section 2.803(b)(1) of the Rules prohibits the marketing of RF devices unless

[8] The term "marketing" is defined in the Rules to mean the "sale or lease, or offering for sale or lease, including advertising for sale or lease, or importation, shipment, or distribution for the purpose of selling or leasing or offering for sale or lease." 47 CFR § 2.803(a).

the device has first been properly authorized, identified, labeled, and complies with the applicable technical standards, with limited exceptions.[9]

5. Sections 2.1203 and 2.1204 of the Rules outline the conditions under which RF devices may be imported into the United States.[10] Generally, an RF device can only be imported if it has received an equipment authorization from the FCC, or if it does not require such authorization but still complies with FCC technical and administrative regulations.[11] In addition to requirements imposed directly on importers, section 2.1204(b) of the Rules states that "[t]he ultimate consignee must be able to document compliance with the selected import condition and the basis for determining the import condition applied."[12]

6. Factual Background. T-Mobile is a publicly-traded corporation that provides wireless service to approximately 130 million subscribers throughout the United States.[13] T-Mobile operates two main brands, T-Mobile and Metro by T-Mobile, that provide wireless service and a wide selection of wireless devices, including smartphones, wearables, tablets, home broadband routers, and other mobile communication devices that are manufactured by various suppliers.[14]

7. T-Mobile began offering the REVVL line of smartphones to provide consumers a lower-price but feature-rich smartphone option.[15] In 2023, T-Mobile selected Wingtech International Inc. to develop and manufacture the REVVL 7 PRO 5G for T-Mobile.[16]

8. In a May 14, 2024 press release, T-Mobile publicly announced that the REVVL 7 PRO 5G would be available for sale on May 23, 2024.[17] After the announcement, but prior to making it available for sale, T-Mobile promoted the REVVL 7 PRO 5G across its retail locations and websites, incorporating advertisements on deal pages, product pages, and those targeting specific demographics, including video content.[18]

9. On May 23, 2024, the REVVL 7 Pro 5G first became available for purchase on its websites and in T-Mobile and Metro by T-Mobile stores.[19] On May 29, 2024, the REVVL 7 PRO 5G officially received its equipment authorization.[20] During the time period between the device being available for sale and the device being certified, T-Mobile sold thousands of the smartphones.[21]

10. On October 1, 2024, the Bureau issued a Letter of Inquiry (LOI) to the Company directing it to submit a sworn written response to a series of questions relating to T-Mobile's marketing of

smartphones, including the REVVL 7 PRO 5G.[22] Specifically, the LOI asked the Company to explain why the REVVL 7 PRO 5G was marketed prior to receiving an FCC equipment authorization[23] and to document compliance with the import condition under which the REVVL 7 PRO 5G was imported into the U.S.[24] The Company timely responded to the LOI.[25] Thereafter, on April 2, 2025, T-Mobile submitted a Supplemental LOI Response in which it provided additional information.[26] In its LOI Response, the Company stated that it "generally relies on manufacturers to ensure that FCC equipment authorization procedures are met" and that "compliance with FCC rules are routinely memorialized in the agreement between T-Mobile and the manufacturer."[27] In its Supplemental LOI Response, the Company stated that the terms of its contract with Wingtech served as documentation of the import condition. The Commission, however, disagrees that the terms of the Company's agreement with Wingtech satisfied the documentation requirements for the import condition set forth in section 2.1204(b) of the Rules. The Company nevertheless has stated that it "will take further steps to ensure that it has a record of its equipment suppliers' compliance with Section 2.1203 and 2.1204 of the Rules pertaining to importation, which will further document T-Mobile's compliance with 2.1204(b) regarding conditions of import."[28]

11. T-Mobile and the Bureau subsequently engaged in settlement negotiations. To resolve this matter, the Company and the Bureau enter into this Consent Decree and agree to the following terms and conditions.

The Bureau further agrees that, in the absence of new material evidence, it will not use the facts developed in the Investigation through the Effective Date, or the existence of this Consent Decree, to institute any new proceeding on its own motion against the Company concerning the matters that were the subject of the Investigation, or to set for hearing the question of the Company's basic qualifications to be a Commission licensee or hold Commission licenses or authorizations based on the matters that were the subject of the Investigation.[29]

16. Admission of Facts. T-Mobile admits solely for the purpose of this Consent Decree and for Commission civil enforcement purposes, and in express reliance on the provisions of paragraph 15 herein, that paragraphs 6 through 10 are a true and accurate description of the facts underlying the Investigation.

17. Compliance Officer. Within thirty (30) calendar days after the Effective Date, the Company shall designate a senior corporate manager with the requisite corporate and organizational authority to serve as a Compliance Officer and to discharge the duties set forth below. The person designated as the Compliance Officer shall be responsible for developing, implementing, and administering the Compliance Plan and ensuring that the Company complies with the terms and conditions of the Compliance Plan and this Consent Decree. The designated Compliance Officer will also have the authority to suspend the Company's planned launch and marketing activities of devices that are subject to the Equipment Marketing Rules, should compliance issues arise. In addition to the general knowledge of the Communications Laws necessary to discharge his or her duties under this Consent Decree, the Compliance Officer shall have specific knowledge of the Equipment Marketing Rules prior to assuming his/her duties.

18. Compliance Plan. For purposes of settling the matters set forth herein, the Company agrees that it shall, within sixty (60) calendar days after the Effective Date, develop and implement a Compliance Plan designed to facilitate future compliance with the Communications Laws and with the terms and conditions of this Consent Decree. With respect to the Equipment Marketing Rules, the Company will implement, at a minimum, the following procedures.

(a) Operating Procedures. Within sixty (60) calendar days after the Effective Date, the Company shall establish Operating Procedures that all Covered Employees must follow to help facilitate the Company's compliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules, including establishing and enforcing strict distribution controls. The Company's Operating Procedures shall include internal procedures and policies specifically designed to ensure that the Company complies with the Equipment Marketing Rules including, but not limited to:

i. Develop Compliance Checklist. The Company shall maintain a compliance checklist that identifies the steps that Covered Employees must follow to facilitate compliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules when marketing (within the meaning of 47 CFR § 2.803(a)) a device covered by those rules.

ii. Enhanced Contractual Obligations. The Company has revised and will maintain templates for contract documents for new products the Company intends to sell in the United States that include more specific references to compliance with the Rules, including 47 CFR § 2.1204. The revised templates confirm the legal obligation of the manufacturer under the contract to provide the Company with documentation demonstrating compliance with the selected import condition and the basis for determining the import condition applied prior to the Company's acceptance of delivery of the product.

iii. Import Compliance Verification. Prior to accepting delivery of any devices subject to the Equipment Marketing Rules, the Company will conduct a compliance verification by confirming that the manufacturer has received an equipment authorization for the device, or the device is otherwise eligible for importation under an exception in the Rules.

iv. Compliance Officer Review. No fewer than forty-eight (48) hours prior to the intended marketing or sale of any device requiring FCC equipment authorization, the Compliance Officer will verify that such equipment authorization has been granted. In the event a device lacks a valid grant of equipment authorization, the Compliance Officer will immediately notify all relevant departments, prohibiting marketing or sales activities until certification is obtained.

(b) Compliance Manual. Within ninety (90) calendar days after the Effective Date, the Compliance Officer shall develop and distribute a Compliance Manual to all Covered Employees. The Compliance Manual shall explain the Equipment Marketing Rules and requirements and set forth the Operating Procedures that Covered Employees shall follow to help ensure the Company's compliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules. The Company shall periodically review and revise the Compliance Manual as necessary to confirm that the information set forth therein remains current and accurate. The Company shall distribute any revisions to the Compliance Manual promptly to all Covered Employees.

(c) Compliance Training Program. The Company shall establish and implement a Compliance Training Program on compliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules and the Operating Procedures. As part of the Compliance Training Program, Covered Employees shall be advised of the Company's obligation to report any noncompliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules under paragraph 19 of this Consent Decree and shall be instructed on how to disclose noncompliance to the Compliance Officer. All Covered Employees shall be trained pursuant to the Compliance Training Program within ninety (90) calendar days after the Effective Date, except that any person who becomes a Covered Employee at any time after the initial Compliance Training Program shall be trained within thirty (30) calendar days after the date such person becomes a Covered Employee. The Company shall repeat compliance training on an annual basis, and shall periodically review and revise the Compliance Training Program as necessary to ensure that it remains current and complete and to enhance its effectiveness.

19. Reporting Noncompliance. The Company shall report any material noncompliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules and with the terms and conditions of this Consent Decree within thirty (30) calendar days after discovery of such noncompliance. Such reports shall include a detailed explanation of: (i) each instance of noncompliance; (ii) the steps that the Company has taken or will take to remedy such noncompliance; (iii) the schedule on which such remedial actions will be taken; and (iv) the steps that the Company has taken or will take to prevent the recurrence of any such noncompliance. Such noncompliance reports shall include an affidavit or declaration consistent with section 1.16 of the Rules and be subject to the accuracy requirements of section 1.17 of the Rules.[30] All reports of noncompliance shall be submitted electronically to the Spectrum Enforcement Division, at EB-SED-Response@fcc.gov.

20. Compliance Reports. The Company shall file compliance reports with the Commission one hundred twenty (120) calendar days after the Effective Date, twelve (12) months after the Effective Date, twenty-four (24) months after the Effective Date, and thirty-six (36) months after the Effective Date.

(a) Each Compliance Report shall include a detailed description of the Company's efforts during the relevant period to comply with the terms and conditions of this Consent Decree and the Equipment Marketing Rules. In addition, each Compliance Report shall include a certification by the Compliance Officer, as an agent of and on behalf of the Company, stating that the Compliance Officer: (i) has personal knowledge that the Company: (a) has established and implemented the Compliance Plan; and (b) has utilized the Operating Procedures since the implementation of the Compliance Plan; and (ii) is not aware of any instances of noncompliance with the terms and conditions of this Consent Decree, including the reporting obligations set forth in paragraph 19 of this Consent Decree.

(b) The Compliance Officer's certification shall be accompanied by a statement explaining the basis for such certification and shall comply with section 1.16 of the Rules and be subscribed to as true under penalty of perjury in substantially the form set forth therein.[31]

(c) If the Compliance Officer cannot provide the requisite certification, the Compliance Officer, as an agent of and on behalf of the Company, shall provide the Commission with a detailed explanation of the reason(s) why and describe fully: (i) each instance of noncompliance; (ii) the steps that the Company has taken or will take to remedy such noncompliance, including the schedule on which proposed remedial actions will be taken; and (iii) the steps that the Company has taken or will take to prevent the recurrence of any such noncompliance, including the schedule on which such preventive action will be taken.

(d) All Compliance Reports shall be submitted electronically to the Spectrum Enforcement Division at EB-SED-Response@fcc.gov.

21. Termination Date. Unless stated otherwise, the requirements set forth in paragraphs 17 through 20 of this Consent Decree shall expire thirty-six (36) months after the Effective Date.

22. Voluntary Contribution. Without waiver of or prejudice to any rights, arguments, or legal defenses T-Mobile may have in any other proceeding, the Company will pay a voluntary contribution to the United States Treasury in the amount of seven thousand dollars ($7,000) within thirty (30) calendar days of the Effective Date. The Company acknowledges and agrees that upon execution of this Consent Decree, the Voluntary Contribution shall become a "Claim" or "Debt" as defined in 31 U.S.C. § 3701(b)(1).[32] Upon an Event of Default, all procedures for collection as permitted by law may, at the Commission's discretion, be initiated. The Company shall send electronic notification of payment to the Spectrum Enforcement Division's mailbox at EB-SED-Response@fcc.gov on the date said payment is made. Payment of the Voluntary Contribution must be made by credit card using the Commission's Registration System (CORES) at https://apps.fcc.gov/cores/userLogin.do, ACH (Automated Clearing House) debit from a bank account, or by wire transfer from a bank account. ## II. BACKGROUND

3. Legal Framework. Section 302 of the Act authorizes the Commission to promulgate reasonable regulations to minimize harmful interference by equipment that emits radio frequency (RF) energy.[4] Specifically, section 302(b) of the Act provides that "[n]o person shall manufacture, import, sell, offer for sale, or ship devices or home electronic equipment and systems, or use devices, which fail to comply with regulations promulgated pursuant to this section."[5] The purpose of section 302 of the Act is to ensure that radio transmitters and other electronic devices meet certain standards to control interference before they reach the market.[6]

4. The Commission carries out its responsibilities under section 302 of the Act in two ways. First, the Commission establishes technical requirements for transmitters and other equipment to minimize their potential for causing interference to authorized radio services. Second, the Commission administers an equipment authorization program to ensure that equipment reaching the United States market complies with the Equipment Marketing Rules.[7] In sum, the Rules require, among other things, that RF devices be tested for compliance and satisfy the applicable technical and other requirements prior to marketing.[8] In particular, section 2.803(b)(1) of the Rules prohibits the marketing of RF devices unless

[8] The term "marketing" is defined in the Rules to mean the "sale or lease, or offering for sale or lease, including advertising for sale or lease, or importation, shipment, or distribution for the purpose of selling or leasing or offering for sale or lease." 47 CFR § 2.803(a).

the device has first been properly authorized, identified, labeled, and complies with the applicable technical standards, with limited exceptions.[9]

5. Sections 2.1203 and 2.1204 of the Rules outline the conditions under which RF devices may be imported into the United States.[10] Generally, an RF device can only be imported if it has received an equipment authorization from the FCC, or if it does not require such authorization but still complies with FCC technical and administrative regulations.[11] In addition to requirements imposed directly on importers, section 2.1204(b) of the Rules states that "[t]he ultimate consignee must be able to document compliance with the selected import condition and the basis for determining the import condition applied."[12]

6. Factual Background. T-Mobile is a publicly-traded corporation that provides wireless service to approximately 130 million subscribers throughout the United States.[13] T-Mobile operates two main brands, T-Mobile and Metro by T-Mobile, that provide wireless service and a wide selection of wireless devices, including smartphones, wearables, tablets, home broadband routers, and other mobile communication devices that are manufactured by various suppliers.[14]

7. T-Mobile began offering the REVVL line of smartphones to provide consumers a lower-price but feature-rich smartphone option.[15] In 2023, T-Mobile selected Wingtech International Inc. to develop and manufacture the REVVL 7 PRO 5G for T-Mobile.[16]

8. In a May 14, 2024 press release, T-Mobile publicly announced that the REVVL 7 PRO 5G would be available for sale on May 23, 2024.[17] After the announcement, but prior to making it available for sale, T-Mobile promoted the REVVL 7 PRO 5G across its retail locations and websites, incorporating advertisements on deal pages, product pages, and those targeting specific demographics, including video content.[18]

9. On May 23, 2024, the REVVL 7 Pro 5G first became available for purchase on its websites and in T-Mobile and Metro by T-Mobile stores.[19] On May 29, 2024, the REVVL 7 PRO 5G officially received its equipment authorization.[20] During the time period between the device being available for sale and the device being certified, T-Mobile sold thousands of the smartphones.[21]

10. On October 1, 2024, the Bureau issued a Letter of Inquiry (LOI) to the Company directing it to submit a sworn written response to a series of questions relating to T-Mobile's marketing of

smartphones, including the REVVL 7 PRO 5G.[22] Specifically, the LOI asked the Company to explain why the REVVL 7 PRO 5G was marketed prior to receiving an FCC equipment authorization[23] and to document compliance with the import condition under which the REVVL 7 PRO 5G was imported into the U.S.[24] The Company timely responded to the LOI.[25] Thereafter, on April 2, 2025, T-Mobile submitted a Supplemental LOI Response in which it provided additional information.[26] In its LOI Response, the Company stated that it "generally relies on manufacturers to ensure that FCC equipment authorization procedures are met" and that "compliance with FCC rules are routinely memorialized in the agreement between T-Mobile and the manufacturer."[27] In its Supplemental LOI Response, the Company stated that the terms of its contract with Wingtech served as documentation of the import condition. The Commission, however, disagrees that the terms of the Company's agreement with Wingtech satisfied the documentation requirements for the import condition set forth in section 2.1204(b) of the Rules. The Company nevertheless has stated that it "will take further steps to ensure that it has a record of its equipment suppliers' compliance with Section 2.1203 and 2.1204 of the Rules pertaining to importation, which will further document T-Mobile's compliance with 2.1204(b) regarding conditions of import."[28]

11. T-Mobile and the Bureau subsequently engaged in settlement negotiations. To resolve this matter, the Company and the Bureau enter into this Consent Decree and agree to the following terms and conditions.

The Bureau further agrees that, in the absence of new material evidence, it will not use the facts developed in the Investigation through the Effective Date, or the existence of this Consent Decree, to institute any new proceeding on its own motion against the Company concerning the matters that were the subject of the Investigation, or to set for hearing the question of the Company's basic qualifications to be a Commission licensee or hold Commission licenses or authorizations based on the matters that were the subject of the Investigation.[29]

16. Admission of Facts. T-Mobile admits solely for the purpose of this Consent Decree and for Commission civil enforcement purposes, and in express reliance on the provisions of paragraph 15 herein, that paragraphs 6 through 10 are a true and accurate description of the facts underlying the Investigation.

17. Compliance Officer. Within thirty (30) calendar days after the Effective Date, the Company shall designate a senior corporate manager with the requisite corporate and organizational authority to serve as a Compliance Officer and to discharge the duties set forth below. The person designated as the Compliance Officer shall be responsible for developing, implementing, and administering the Compliance Plan and ensuring that the Company complies with the terms and conditions of the Compliance Plan and this Consent Decree. The designated Compliance Officer will also have the authority to suspend the Company's planned launch and marketing activities of devices that are subject to the Equipment Marketing Rules, should compliance issues arise. In addition to the general knowledge of the Communications Laws necessary to discharge his or her duties under this Consent Decree, the Compliance Officer shall have specific knowledge of the Equipment Marketing Rules prior to assuming his/her duties.

18. Compliance Plan. For purposes of settling the matters set forth herein, the Company agrees that it shall, within sixty (60) calendar days after the Effective Date, develop and implement a Compliance Plan designed to facilitate future compliance with the Communications Laws and with the terms and conditions of this Consent Decree. With respect to the Equipment Marketing Rules, the Company will implement, at a minimum, the following procedures.

(a) Operating Procedures. Within sixty (60) calendar days after the Effective Date, the Company shall establish Operating Procedures that all Covered Employees must follow to help facilitate the Company's compliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules, including establishing and enforcing strict distribution controls. The Company's Operating Procedures shall include internal procedures and policies specifically designed to ensure that the Company complies with the Equipment Marketing Rules including, but not limited to:

i. Develop Compliance Checklist. The Company shall maintain a compliance checklist that identifies the steps that Covered Employees must follow to facilitate compliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules when marketing (within the meaning of 47 CFR § 2.803(a)) a device covered by those rules.

ii. Enhanced Contractual Obligations. The Company has revised and will maintain templates for contract documents for new products the Company intends to sell in the United States that include more specific references to compliance with the Rules, including 47 CFR § 2.1204. The revised templates confirm the legal obligation of the manufacturer under the contract to provide the Company with documentation demonstrating compliance with the selected import condition and the basis for determining the import condition applied prior to the Company's acceptance of delivery of the product.

iii. Import Compliance Verification. Prior to accepting delivery of any devices subject to the Equipment Marketing Rules, the Company will conduct a compliance verification by confirming that the manufacturer has received an equipment authorization for the device, or the device is otherwise eligible for importation under an exception in the Rules.

iv. Compliance Officer Review. No fewer than forty-eight (48) hours prior to the intended marketing or sale of any device requiring FCC equipment authorization, the Compliance Officer will verify that such equipment authorization has been granted. In the event a device lacks a valid grant of equipment authorization, the Compliance Officer will immediately notify all relevant departments, prohibiting marketing or sales activities until certification is obtained.

(b) Compliance Manual. Within ninety (90) calendar days after the Effective Date, the Compliance Officer shall develop and distribute a Compliance Manual to all Covered Employees. The Compliance Manual shall explain the Equipment Marketing Rules and requirements and set forth the Operating Procedures that Covered Employees shall follow to help ensure the Company's compliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules. The Company shall periodically review and revise the Compliance Manual as necessary to confirm that the information set forth therein remains current and accurate. The Company shall distribute any revisions to the Compliance Manual promptly to all Covered Employees.

(c) Compliance Training Program. The Company shall establish and implement a Compliance Training Program on compliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules and the Operating Procedures. As part of the Compliance Training Program, Covered Employees shall be advised of the Company's obligation to report any noncompliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules under paragraph 19 of this Consent Decree and shall be instructed on how to disclose noncompliance to the Compliance Officer. All Covered Employees shall be trained pursuant to the Compliance Training Program within ninety (90) calendar days after the Effective Date, except that any person who becomes a Covered Employee at any time after the initial Compliance Training Program shall be trained within thirty (30) calendar days after the date such person becomes a Covered Employee. The Company shall repeat compliance training on an annual basis, and shall periodically review and revise the Compliance Training Program as necessary to ensure that it remains current and complete and to enhance its effectiveness.

19. Reporting Noncompliance. The Company shall report any material noncompliance with the Equipment Marketing Rules and with the terms and conditions of this Consent Decree within thirty (30) calendar days after discovery of such noncompliance. Such reports shall include a detailed explanation of: (i) each instance of noncompliance; (ii) the steps that the Company has taken or will take to remedy such noncompliance; (iii) the schedule on which such remedial actions will be taken; and (iv) the steps that the Company has taken or will take to prevent the recurrence of any such noncompliance. Such noncompliance reports shall include an affidavit or declaration consistent with section 1.16 of the Rules and be subject to the accuracy requirements of section 1.17 of the Rules.[30] All reports of noncompliance shall be submitted electronically to the Spectrum Enforcement Division, at EB-SED-Response@fcc.gov.

20. Compliance Reports. The Company shall file compliance reports with the Commission one hundred twenty (120) calendar days after the Effective Date, twelve (12) months after the Effective Date, twenty-four (24) months after the Effective Date, and thirty-six (36) months after the Effective Date.

(a) Each Compliance Report shall include a detailed description of the Company's efforts during the relevant period to comply with the terms and conditions of this Consent Decree and the Equipment Marketing Rules. In addition, each Compliance Report shall include a certification by the Compliance Officer, as an agent of and on behalf of the Company, stating that the Compliance Officer: (i) has personal knowledge that the Company: (a) has established and implemented the Compliance Plan; and (b) has utilized the Operating Procedures since the implementation of the Compliance Plan; and (ii) is not aware of any instances of noncompliance with the terms and conditions of this Consent Decree, including the reporting obligations set forth in paragraph 19 of this Consent Decree.

(b) The Compliance Officer's certification shall be accompanied by a statement explaining the basis for such certification and shall comply with section 1.16 of the Rules and be subscribed to as true under penalty of perjury in substantially the form set forth therein.[31]

(c) If the Compliance Officer cannot provide the requisite certification, the Compliance Officer, as an agent of and on behalf of the Company, shall provide the Commission with a detailed explanation of the reason(s) why and describe fully: (i) each instance of noncompliance; (ii) the steps that the Company has taken or will take to remedy such noncompliance, including the schedule on which proposed remedial actions will be taken; and (iii) the steps that the Company has taken or will take to prevent the recurrence of any such noncompliance, including the schedule on which such preventive action will be taken.

(d) All Compliance Reports shall be submitted electronically to the Spectrum Enforcement Division at EB-SED-Response@fcc.gov.

21. Termination Date. Unless stated otherwise, the requirements set forth in paragraphs 17 through 20 of this Consent Decree shall expire thirty-six (36) months after the Effective Date.

22. Voluntary Contribution. Without waiver of or prejudice to any rights, arguments, or legal defenses T-Mobile may have in any other proceeding, the Company will pay a voluntary contribution to the United States Treasury in the amount of seven thousand dollars ($7,000) within thirty (30) calendar days of the Effective Date. The Company acknowledges and agrees that upon execution of this Consent Decree, the Voluntary Contribution shall become a "Claim" or "Debt" as defined in 31 U.S.C. § 3701(b)(1).[32] Upon an Event of Default, all procedures for collection as permitted by law may, at the Commission's discretion, be initiated. The Company shall send electronic notification of payment to the Spectrum Enforcement Division's mailbox at EB-SED-Response@fcc.gov on the date said payment is made. Payment of the Voluntary Contribution must be made by credit card using the Commission's Registration System (CORES) at https://apps.fcc.gov/cores/userLogin.do, ACH (Automated Clearing House) debit from a bank account, or by wire transfer from a bank account. NOTICE OF INTENT TO BEGIN PROCEEDINGS TO WITHDRAW RECOGNITION AS AN ACCREDITED TEST LABORATORY

By the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Pursuant to our authority under sections 302(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the Act),[1] the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology (OET) provides notice to Telecommunication Technology Labs, CAICT (TTL or Company) that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) intends to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of TTL as an accredited test laboratory, pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and (e) of the Commission's rules, as adopted in its recent Equipment Authorization Integrity Report and Order.[2] TTL may respond to this Notice by October 14, 2025, to demonstrate why the Commission should not begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition on the basis that the Company is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined under section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[3]

II. BACKGROUND

2. Legal Framework. Under section 302 of the Act, the Commission has adopted technical standards and authorization procedures for equipment that emits radio frequency (RF) energy and that can cause harmful interference to radio communications.[4] In doing so, the Commission has authorized the use of test labs and has established appropriate standards and qualifications for those labs.[5] The Commission will not recognize any test lab that fails to meet all of the appropriate standards, including standards that concern the integrity and trustworthiness of the test lab. In the Equipment Authorization Integrity R&O, the Commission adopted rules to promote the integrity of our equipment authorization program and to protect our communications equipment supply chain from entities posing unacceptable risks to national security.[6] These rules "ensure that the . . . measurement facilities (test labs) . . . that participate in our equipment authorization program are not subject to ownership, direction, or control by untrustworthy actors that pose a risk to national security."[7]

3. Section 2.951(d) of the Commission's rules provides that the Commission will withdraw its recognition of any laboratory that is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined by section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[8] Section 2.902 partly defines "owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of" to mean any entity in which any other entity "directly or indirectly possesses or has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters affecting the subject entity," or any entity that "acts in any other capacity at the order or request of another entity or whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in majority part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[9] This rule further provides that "prohibited entities" include entities that have been determined to be a foreign adversary by the Secretary of Commerce, based on Executive Branch sources, and are listed in 15 CFR § 791.4.[10]

4. Factual Background. TTL is an accredited test laboratory based in Beijing that is recognized by the FCC to test a wide range of RF devices for compliance with applicable FCC rules.[11] In test reports submitted to support equipment certifications, TTL CAICT has described itself as "an ISO/IEC 17025:2005 accredited test laboratory under American Association for Laboratory Accreditation (A2LA) with lab code 7049.01" and as an "FCC accredited test laboratory[12] (CN1349), and ISED accredited test laboratory (CAB identifier:CN0066)."[13] Since its initial accreditation in 2007, TTL has performed testing that contributed to thousands of equipment certifications, including grants held by Huawei Technology Co., Ltd. and ZTE Corporation, entities whose equipment was included on the FCC's Covered List as of March 12, 2021.[14] TTL is also a department within the China Academy of Information and Communications Technology (CAICT).[15] CAICT is a "scientific research institute

[11] TTL is accredited by A2LA and recognized by the FCC to test unintentional radiators, ISM (industrial, scientific, and medical Equipment), intentional radiators, UPCS, U-NII without DFS Intentional Radiators, U-NII with DFS Intentional Radiators, UWB Intentional Radiators, White Space Device Intentional Radiators, Commercial Mobile Services, General Mobile Radio Services, Citizens Broadband Radio Services, Microwave and Millimeter Bands Radio Services, RF Exposure, and Hearing Aid Compatibility. TTL (FCC designation number CN1349) was last recognized by the FCC on July 31, 2024, with a recognition expiration date of July 23, 2026.

[12] While the FCC may recognize a foreign test lab (measurement facility) pursuant to section 2.951 of the Commission's rules, the FCC does not itself accredit such labs. See 47 CFR § 2.951(a), (e).

directly under the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology (MIIT),"[16] which itself is an agency under the State Council of the People's Republic of China (PRC or China).[17] The U.S. Department of Commerce, based on numerous Executive Branch sources, has determined that the PRC is a foreign adversary.[18]

III. DISCUSSION

5. The PRC is a prohibited entity that is identified within section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[19] OET has tentatively determined that TTL is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of the PRC, a prohibited entity pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[20] Therefore, OET hereby provides notice of the Commission's intent to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of TTL, as required by section 2.951(e) of the Commission's rules.

6. TTL identifies itself as "Telecommunication Technology Labs, CAICT" and identifies its website address as "www.caict.ac.cn" within test lab reports that it produces for FCC equipment certification applications.[21] As a "scientific research institute directly under the [MIIT] of China,"[22] CAICT appears to hold responsibility for the development and implementation of Chinese telecommunications strategies and policy.[23] The MIIT is a policy arm of the State Council of the PRC that appears to be responsible for developing communications networks and security policies and for monitoring and regulating the entities that comprise the communications industry within China.[24] MIIT-regulated entities within China appear to include the providers of telecommunications services and the manufacturers of telecommunications equipment, as well as the test laboratories that facilitate the authorization of RF equipment that is marketed and operated in U.S. homes, businesses, and government agencies.

7. Accordingly, we tentatively determine that the PRC "directly or indirectly . . . has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters" that affect TTL

NOTICE OF INTENT TO BEGIN PROCEEDINGS TO WITHDRAW RECOGNITION AS AN ACCREDITED TEST LABORATORY

By the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Pursuant to our authority under sections 302(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the Act),[1] the Acting Chief of the Office of Engineering and Technology (OET) provides notice to Chongqing Academy of Information and Communications aka Chongqing Academy of Information and Communications Technology (CAIC or Company)[2] that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) intends to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of CAIC as an accredited test laboratory, pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and (e) of the Commission's rules, as adopted in its recent Equipment Authorization Integrity Report and Order.[3] CAIC may respond to this Notice by October 14, 2025, to demonstrate why the Commission should not begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition on the basis that the Company is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined under section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[4]

II. BACKGROUND

2. Legal Framework. Under section 302 of the Act, the Commission has adopted technical standards and authorization procedures for equipment that emits radio frequency (RF) energy and that can cause harmful interference to radio communications.[5] In doing so, the Commission has authorized the use of test labs and has established appropriate standards and qualifications for those labs.[6] The Commission will not recognize any test lab that fails to meet all of the appropriate standards, including standards that concern the integrity and trustworthiness of the test lab. In the Equipment Authorization Integrity R&O, the Commission adopted rules to promote the integrity of our equipment authorization program and to protect our communications equipment supply chain from entities posing unacceptable risks to national security.[7] These rules "ensure that the . . . measurement facilities (test labs) . . . that participate in our equipment authorization program are not subject to ownership, direction, or control by untrustworthy actors that pose a risk to national security."[8]

However, the Company uses Chongqing Academy of Information and Communications Technology in test reports. See, e.g., FCC, Office of Engineering and Technology, Test Report for NOBO Automotive Technologies Co., Ltd., https://apps.fcc.gov/oetcf/eas/reports/TestFirmSearchResultApps.cfm?attachment_application_id=558044&show_records=10 (FCC ID 2A7V5-IN90-OS-1) (last visited Sept. 4, 2025).

3. Section 2.951(d) of the Commission's rules provides that the Commission will withdraw its recognition of any laboratory that is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined by section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[9] Section 2.902 partly defines "owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of" to mean any entity in which any other entity "directly or indirectly possesses or has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters affecting the subject entity," or any entity that "acts in any other capacity at the order or request of another entity or whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in majority part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[10] This rule further provides that "prohibited entities" include entities that have been determined to be a foreign adversary by the Secretary of Commerce, based on Executive Branch sources, and are listed in 15 CFR § 791.4.[11]

4. Factual Background. CAIC is an accredited test laboratory based in Chongqing, People's Republic of China that is recognized by the FCC to test a wide range of RF devices for compliance with applicable FCC rules.[12] CAIC is accredited by the American Association for Laboratory Accreditation (A2LA) in accordance with ISO/IEC 17025:2017 with certification number 4897.01[13] and FCC lab designation number CN1239.[14] Since its initial accreditation in 2018, CAIC has performed testing that contributed to more than 170 equipment certifications.[15] According to CAIC's A2LA accreditation information, CAIC shares the same domain name (caict.ac.cn) as Telecommunications Technologies Labs, CAICT (TTL).[16] TTL is a department within China Academy of Information and Communications Technology (CAICT).[17] CAICT is a "scientific research institute directly under the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology (MIIT),"[18] which itself is an agency under the State Council of the People's Republic of China (PRC or China).[19] The U.S. Department of Commerce has determined, based on numerous Executive Branch sources, that the PRC is a foreign adversary.[20]

[12] CAIC is accredited by the American Association for Laboratory Accreditation (A2LA) and recognized by the FCC to test unintentional radiators, ISM (industrial, scientific, and medical Equipment), intentional radiators, UPCS, U-NII without DFS Intentional Radiators, U-NII with DFS Intentional Radiators, Commercial Mobile Services, General Mobile Radio Services, Citizens Broadband Radio Services, and RF Exposure. CAIC (FCC designation number CN1239) was last recognized by the FCC on April 9, 2024, with a recognition expiration date of April 8, 2026.

III. DISCUSSION

5. The PRC is a prohibited entity that is identified within section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[21] OET has tentatively determined that CAIC is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of the PRC, a prohibited entity pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[22] Therefore, OET hereby provides notice of the Commission's intent to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of CAIC, as required by section 2.951(e) of the Commission's rules.

[22] 47 CFR §§ 2.902, 2.951(d).

6. CAIC shares the same domain name (caict.ac.cn) as TTL.[23] As noted, TTL is a department within CAICT.[24] As a "scientific research institute directly under the [MIIT] of China,"[25] CAICT appears to hold responsibility for the development and implementation of Chinese telecommunications strategies and policy.[26] The MIIT is a policy arm of the State Council of the PRC that appears to be responsible for developing communications networks and security policies and for monitoring and regulating the entities that comprise the communications industry within China.[27] MIIT-regulated entities within China appear to include the providers of telecommunications services and the manufacturers of telecommunications equipment, as well as the test laboratories that facilitate the authorization of RF equipment that is marketed and operated in U.S. homes, businesses, and government agencies.

7. Accordingly, we tentatively determine that the PRC "directly or indirectly . . . has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters" that affect CAIC because the PRC controls MIIT, which in turn controls CAICT.[28] We further tentatively determine that CAIC acts "at the order or request of another entity," or is an entity "whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in majority part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[29] CAIC thus appears to be subject to control by and direction of the PRC, via the CAICT and the MIIT.

8. In accordance with the Commission's rules, CAIC has until October 14, 2025, to respond to this Notice of Intent to Begin Proceedings to Withdraw Recognition.[30] In any response, CAIC must fully address whether the Company is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of the PRC. The response must be provided in English and must be accompanied by official business documents, including an English-language translation, that support the Company's position and by supporting sworn declarations of individuals with personal knowledge that are signed in accordance with section 1.16 of the Commission's rules.[31] All documents must include the FCC docket number and lab designation number(s) referenced in the caption and be e-mailed to Jamie Coleman at jamie.coleman@fcc.gov. By the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Pursuant to our authority under sections 302(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the Act),[1] the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology (OET) provides notice to TUV Rheinland/CCIC (Ningbo) Co., Ltd. (TUV/Ningbo or Company) that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) intends to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of TUV/Ningbo as an accredited test laboratory, pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and (e) of the Commission's rules, as adopted in its recent Equipment Authorization Integrity Report and Order.[2] TUV/Ningbo may respond to this Notice by October 14, 2025, to demonstrate why the Commission should not begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition on the basis that the Company is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined under section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[3]

II. BACKGROUND

2. Legal Framework. Under section 302 of the Act, the Commission has adopted technical standards and authorization procedures for equipment that emits radio frequency (RF) energy and that can cause harmful interference to radio communications.[4] In doing so, the Commission has authorized the use of test labs and has established appropriate standards and qualifications for those labs.[5] The Commission will not recognize any test lab that fails to meet all of the appropriate standards, including standards that concern the integrity and trustworthiness of the test lab. 3. Section 2.951(d) of the Commission's rules provides that the Commission will withdraw its recognition of any laboratory that is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined by section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[8] Section 2.902 partly defines "owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of" to mean any entity in which any other entity "directly or indirectly possesses or has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters affecting the subject entity," or any entity that "acts in any other capacity at the order or request of another entity or whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in majority part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[9] This rule further provides that "prohibited entities" include entities that have been determined to be a foreign adversary by the Secretary of Commerce, based on Executive Branch sources, and are listed in 15 CFR § 791.4.[10]

4. Factual Background. TUV/Ningbo is an accredited test laboratory based in Ningbo, Zhejiang, China that is recognized by the FCC to test a wide range of RF devices for compliance with applicable FCC rules.[11] According to the American Association for Laboratory Accreditation (A2LA), TUV/Ningbo's accreditation states that the laboratory is accredited in accordance with the recognized International Standard ISO/IEC 17025:2017 general requirements for the competence of testing and calibration laboratories.[12] Since its initial accreditation, TUV/Ningbo has performed testing that contributed to hundreds of equipment certifications.[13] TUV/Ningbo is connected to the Chinese government through its partnership with the China Certification & Inspection Group Co., Ltd. (CCIC Group), a state-owned enterprise.[14] As a branch of the CCIC Group, TUV/Ningbo is directly tied to a state-owned enterprise with significant connections to and oversight from the government of the People's Republic of China (PRC or China). The U.S. Department of Commerce has determined that the PRC is a foreign adversary.[15]

III. DISCUSSION

5. The PRC is a prohibited entity that is identified within section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[16] OET has tentatively determined that TUV/Ningbo is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of the PRC, a prohibited entity pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[17] Therefore, OET hereby provides notice of the Commission's intent to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of TUV/Ningbo, as required by section 2.951(e) of the Commission's rules.

6. TUV/Ningbo identifies itself as "TÜV Rheinland / CCIC (Ningbo) Co., Ltd." and identifies its website address as "www.tuv.com" within test lab reports that it produces for FCC equipment certification applications.[18] The TUV/Ningbo joint venture is subordinate to the CCIC Group. The CCIC Group's website lists China Certification & Inspection Group Ningbo, Co., Ltd., part of the TUV/Ningbo joint venture, as one of its subsidiaries in China.[19] The CCIC Group is a state-owned enterprise, established with the approval of the State Council of the PRC and under the supervision of the State-owned Assets Supervision and Administration Commission of the State Council (SASAC).[20] SASAC exercises comprehensive control and oversight over state-owned assets and enterprises, with its functions directly mandated by the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist Party.[21]

7. Accordingly, we tentatively determine that the PRC "directly or indirectly . . . has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters" that affect TUV/Ningbo because the PRC controls the State Council and SASAC, which in turn controls the CCIC Group.[22] We further tentatively determine that TUV/Ningbo acts "at the order or request of another entity," or is an entity "whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in majority part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[23] TUV/Ningbo thus appears to be subject to control by and direction of China, via the CCIC Group, the SASAC, and the State Council of the PRC.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO BEGIN PROCEEDINGS TO WITHDRAW RECOGNITION AS AN ACCREDITED TEST LABORATORY

Adopted: September 8, 2025 Released: September 8, 2025

By the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Pursuant to our authority under sections 302(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the Act),[1] the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology (OET) provides notice to UL-CCIC Company Limited (UL-CCIC or Company)[2] that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) intends to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of UL-CCIC as an accredited test laboratory, pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and (e) of the Commission's rules, as adopted in its recent Equipment Authorization Integrity Report and Order.[3] UL-CCIC may respond to this Notice by October 14, 2025, to demonstrate why the Commission should not begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition on the basis that the Company is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined under section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[4]

II. BACKGROUND

2. Legal Framework. Under section 302 of the Act, the Commission has adopted technical standards and authorization procedures for equipment that emits radio frequency (RF) energy and that can cause harmful interference to radio communications.[5] In doing so, the Commission has authorized the use of test labs and has established appropriate standards and qualifications for those labs.[6] The Commission will not recognize any test lab that fails to meet all of the appropriate standards, including standards that concern the integrity and trustworthiness of the test lab. In the Equipment Authorization Integrity R&O, the Commission adopted rules to promote the integrity of our equipment authorization program and to protect our communications equipment supply chain from entities posing unacceptable risks to national security.[7] These rules "ensure that the . . . measurement facilities (test labs) . . . that participate in our equipment authorization program are not subject to ownership, direction, or control by untrustworthy actors that pose a risk to national security."[8]

[2] China Certification & Inspection Group Co., Ltd. and UL, LLC, executed an Amended and Restated Joint Venture Contract, dated October 28, 2022, pursuant to which each entity holds a fifty-percent (50%) equity and voting interest. The amended and restated agreement extended the original agreement executed on June 26, 2002, through which UL-CCIC provides inspection and verification, certification, and testing services in China and internationally.

3. Section 2.951(d) of the Commission's rules provides that the Commission will withdraw its recognition of any laboratory that is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined by section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[9] Section 2.902 partly defines "owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of" to mean any entity in which any other entity "directly or indirectly possesses or has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters affecting the subject entity," or any entity that "acts in any other capacity at the order or request of another entity or whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in majority part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[10] This rule further provides that "prohibited entities" include entities that have been determined to be a foreign adversary by the Secretary of Commerce, based on Executive Branch sources, and are listed in 15 CFR § 791.4.[11]

4. Factual Background. UL-CCIC is an accredited test laboratory with American Association for Laboratory Accreditation (A2LA) Certificate No. 4829.01 based in Suzhou, China that is recognized by the FCC to test a wide range of RF devices for compliance with applicable FCC rules.[12] In test reports submitted to support equipment certifications, UL-CCIC has described itself as being an "ISO/IEC 17025:2017" accredited test laboratory under the A2LA, and as an FCC accredited test laboratory[13] (FCC Designation No. CN1247) (CAB identifier: CN0073). Since its initial accreditation in 2018, UL-CCIC has performed testing that has contributed to hundreds of equipment certifications.[14] The [12] UL-CCIC is accredited by A2LA and recognized by the FCC to test Electrical and Electronic Equipment, IT Equipment, Sound and Television Broadcast Receivers and Associated Equipment, Household Appliances, Electric Tools and Similar Equipment, General Lighting Equipment, Short-range Devices, Mobile and Portable Radio and Digital Cellular Radio, Industrial Scientific and Medical Equipment, RLAN Devices, Short Range Devices, and Wireless communication devices. UL-CCIC (FCC designation number CN1247) was last recognized by the FCC on August 4, 2025, with a recognition expiration date of June 30, 2026. UL-CCIC is identified in the A2LA database as UL-CCIC Company Limited (A2LA Certificate No. 4829.01) at https://customer.a2la.org/index.cfm?event=directory.detail&labPID=1A48F604-8B30-4293-AD52-5DF57032B52E (last visited Sep. 4, 2025).

[13] While the FCC may recognize a foreign test lab (measurement facility) pursuant to section 2.951 of the Commission's rules, the FCC does not itself accredit such labs. See 47 CFR § 2.951(a), (e).

[14] See e.g., Beijing Roborock Technology Co., Ltd., FCC ID 2AN2O-RRE0VSP01, RSS-247 Issue 3, Test Report No. 4791759006-1 (granted July 15, 2025). Certification test reports and other equipment authorization documents can be found on the Commission's website by searching for the FCC ID in OET's equipment authorization database, https://apps.fcc.gov/oetcf/eas/reports/GenericSearch.cfm (last visited Sep. 4, 2025).

U.S. Department of Commerce, based on numerous Executive Branch sources, has determined that the People's Republic of China (PRC or China) is a foreign adversary.[15]

III. DISCUSSION

5. The PRC is a prohibited entity that is identified within section 2.902 of the Commission's rules. OET has tentatively determined that UL-CCIC is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of the PRC, a prohibited entity pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[16] Therefore, OET hereby provides notice of the Commission's intent to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of UL-CCIC, as required by section 2.951(e) of the Commission's rules.

6. UL-CCIC identifies itself as "UL-CCIC Company Limited" and identifies its website address as "www.ul.com" within test lab reports that it produced for FCC equipment certification applications.[17] UL-CCIC is a joint venture between UL LLC and the CCIC Group that is incorporated in the PRC and provides testing, inspection, and certification services to manufacturers in China.[18] The CCIC Group is a state-owned enterprise, established with the approval of the State Council of the PRC and under the supervision of the State-owned Assets Supervision and Administration Commission of the State Council (SASAC).[19] SASAC exercises comprehensive control and oversight over state-owned assets and enterprises, with its functions directly mandated by the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist Party.[20]

7. Accordingly, we tentatively determine that the PRC "directly or indirectly . . . has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters" that affect UL-CCIC because the PRC has, at a minimum, negative control of the Company.[21] We further tentatively determine that UL-CCIC acts "at the order or request of another entity" or is an entity "whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[22] UL-CCIC thus appears to be subject to control by and direction of the PRC.

Section 2.951(d) of the Commission's rules provides that the Commission will withdraw its recognition of any laboratory that is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined by section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[9] Section 2.902 partly defines "owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of" to mean any entity in which any other entity "directly or indirectly possesses or has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters affecting the subject entity," or any entity that "acts in any other capacity at the order or request of another entity or whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in majority part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[10] This rule further provides that "prohibited entities" include entities that have been determined to be a foreign adversary by the Secretary of Commerce, based on Executive Branch sources, and are listed in 15 CFR § 791.4.[11]

NOTICE OF INTENT TO BEGIN PROCEEDINGS TO WITHDRAW RECOGNITION AS AN ACCREDITED TEST LABORATORY

By the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Pursuant to our authority under sections 302(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the Act),[1] the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology (OET) provides notice to CVC Testing Technology Co., Ltd (CVC or Company) that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) intends to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of CVC as an accredited test laboratory, pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and (e) of the Commission's rules, as adopted in its recent Equipment Authorization Integrity Report and Order.[2] CVC may respond to this Notice by October 14, 2025, to demonstrate why the Commission should not begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition on the basis that the Company is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined under section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[3]

II. BACKGROUND

2. Legal Framework. Under section 302 of the Act, the Commission has adopted technical standards and authorization procedures for equipment that emits radio frequency (RF) energy and that can cause harmful interference to radio communications.[4] In doing so, the Commission has authorized the use of test labs and has established appropriate standards and qualifications for those labs.[5] The Commission will not recognize any test lab that fails to meet all of the appropriate standards, including standards that concern the integrity and trustworthiness of the test lab. In the Equipment Authorization Integrity R&O, the Commission adopted rules to promote the integrity of our equipment authorization program and to protect our communications equipment supply chain from entities posing unacceptable risks to national security.[6] These rules "ensure that the . . . measurement facilities (test labs) . . . that participate in our equipment authorization program are not subject to ownership, direction, or control by untrustworthy actors that pose a risk to national security."[7]

3. Section 2.951(d) of the Commission's rules provides that the Commission will withdraw its recognition of any laboratory that is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined by section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[8] Section 2.902 partly defines "owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of" to mean any entity in which any other entity "directly or indirectly possesses or has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters affecting the subject entity," or any entity that "acts in any other capacity at the order or request of another entity or whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in majority part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[9] This rule further provides that "prohibited entities" include entities that have been determined to be a foreign adversary by the Secretary of Commerce, based on Executive Branch sources, and are listed in 15 CFR § 791.4.[10]

4. Factual Background. CVC is an accredited test laboratory based in Guangzhou that is recognized by the FCC to test a wide range of RF devices for compliance with applicable FCC technical rules.[11] Since its initial accreditation in 2023, CVC has performed testing that contributed to the granting of approximately seven equipment authorization certifications.[12] This CVC laboratory is one of several regional testing labs under the CVC umbrella.[13] However, it has recently come to our attention that CVC is a subsidiary of the China National Electrical Apparatus Research Institute Co., Ltd.,[14] which itself is a subsidiary of the China National Machinery Industry Corporation (Sinomach), a state-owned enterprise that is directly managed by the central government of the People's Republic of China (PRC or China).[15] The U.S. Department of Commerce has determined that the PRC is a foreign adversary.[16]

[11] CVC is accredited by the American Association for Laboratory Accreditation and recognized by the FCC to test unintentional radiators, ISM (industrial, scientific, and medical Equipment), intentional radiators, U-NII without DFS Intentional Radiators, U-NII with DFS Intentional Radiators, UWB Intentional Radiators, Commercial Mobile Services, General Mobile Radio Services. CVC (FCC designation number CN1282) was last recognized by the FCC on June 12, 2024, with a recognition expiration date of February 28, 2026.

III. DISCUSSION

5. The PRC is a prohibited entity that is identified within section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[17] OET has tentatively determined that CVC is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of the PRC, a prohibited entity pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[18] Therefore, OET hereby provides notice of the Commission's intent to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of CVC, as required by section 2.951(e) of the Commission's rules.

6. CVC identifies itself as "a professional third-party quality technology service brand integrating basic research, standardization, testing, certification, calibration and related extension services."[19] Also, as noted above, CVC is a subsidiary of the China National Electrical Apparatus Research Institute Co., Ltd.,[20] which itself is a subsidiary of the China National Machinery Industry Corporation (Sinomach), [21] a state-owned enterprise that is directly managed by the central government of the PRC.[22]

7. Accordingly, we tentatively determine that the PRC "directly or indirectly . . . has the power (whether or not exercised) to determine, direct, or decide important matters" that affect CVC because the PRC controls Sinomach, which in turn controls the China National Electrical Apparatus Research Institute Co., Ltd. [23] We further tentatively determine that CVC acts "at the order or request of another entity," or is an entity "whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in majority part, including being part of a governmental structure or hierarchy."[24] CVC thus appears to be subject to control by and direction of the PRC, via the China National Electrical Apparatus Research Institute and Sinomach.

8. In accordance with the Commission's rules, CVC has until October 14, 2025, to respond to this Notice of Intent to Begin Proceedings to Withdraw Recognition.[25] In any response, CVC must fully address whether the Company is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of the PRC. Any response must be provided in English and must be accompanied by official business documents, including an English-language translation, that support the Company's position and by supporting sworn declarations of individuals with personal knowledge that are signed in accordance with section 1.16 of the Commission's rules.[26] All documents must include the FCC docket number and lab designation number(s) referenced in the caption and be e-mailed to Jamie Coleman at jamie.coleman@fcc.gov. enterprise that is directly managed by the central government of the People's Republic of China (PRC or China).[17] The U.S. Department of Commerce has determined that the PRC is a foreign adversary.[18]

III. DISCUSSION

5. The PRC is a prohibited entity that is identified within section 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[19] OET has tentatively determined that CVC Shenzhen is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of the PRC, a prohibited entity pursuant to sections 2.951(d)(1) and 2.902 of the Commission's rules.[20] Therefore, OET hereby provides notice of the Commission's intent to begin proceedings to withdraw its recognition of CVC Shenzhen, as required by section 2.951(e) of the Commission's rules.

In accordance with Section 212 of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, this Small Entity Compliance Guide (Guide) is intended to help small entities—small businesses, small organizations (non-profits), and small governmental jurisdictions—comply with the rules adopted in the above-referenced Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) rulemaking dockets. This Guide is not intended to replace or supersede these rules, but to facilitate compliance with the rules. Although we have attempted to cover all parts of the rules that might be especially important to small entities, the coverage may not be exhaustive. This Guide cannot anticipate all situations in which the rules apply. Furthermore, the Commission retains the discretion to adopt case-by-case approaches, where appropriate, that may differ from this Guide. Any decision regarding a particular small entity will be based on the statute and any relevant rules.

In any civil or administrative action against a small entity for a violation of rules, the content of the Guide may be considered as evidence of the reasonableness or appropriateness of proposed fines, penalties or damages. Interested parties are free to file comments regarding this Guide in the above referenced docket and the appropriateness of its application to a particular situation. The Commission will then consider whether the recommendations or interpretations in the Guide are appropriate in that situation. The Commission may decide to revise this Guide without public notice to reflect changes in its approach to implementing a rule, or it may clarify or update the text of the Guide. ## I. OBJECTIVES OF THE PROCEEDING

On December 13, 2024, the Commission released a Report and Order (FCC 24-127) that made targeted modifications to the rules governing the letters of credit (LOCs) that recipients of high-cost support awarded through competitive processes are required to obtain.[1]

The Report and Order made three changes: first, it changed the rules that dictate how recipients of high-cost support may obtain letters of credit from United States banks. In order to be eligible to issue these LOCs, a United States bank was previously required to have a Weiss bank safety rating of B- or better. Now, a United States bank is required to be "well capitalized" according to rules issued by the federal agencies responsible for supervising banks.[2] This change will allow more United States banks to issue LOCs, which will increase flexibility and lower costs for participants in programs that require LOCs.

Second, the Report and Order allows Rural Digital Opportunity Fund (RDOF) support recipients to reduce the value of their LOC to one year of their total support if they have deployed broadband to 10% of their required locations by the end of their second year of support.[3] Previously, recipients were required to have deployed broadband to 20% of their required locations by the end of their second year of support. This change does not impact future deployment obligations beyond the second year of support. This change will allow RDOF support recipients that have made significant progress toward their deployment obligations to reduce the value of their LOCs and to free up capital that can be used to deploy broadband more quickly.

Third, the Report and Order made permanent a previous waiver that allows Connect America Fund Phase II (CAF II) support recipients that have met each of their deployment and reporting obligations to follow the RDOF LOC rules, which require LOCs to have a lower value than the CAF II LOC rules.[4] This change will allow CAF II recipients that have met the program's obligations to save money on their LOC, and to use that money on broadband deployment.

II. COMPLIANCE REQUIREMENTS

A. Eligibility for U.S. Banks to Issue Letters of Credit (47 CFR §§ 54.315(c)(2)(i)(B); 54.804(c)(2)(i)(B); 54.1016(a)(2)(i)(B); 54.1508(c)(1)(ii)).

In order to receive support, recipients for CAF II, RDOF, the 5G Fund, and Stage 2 of the fixed Uniendo a Puerto Rico Fund or the fixed Connect USVI Fund must obtain a letter of credit from a United States bank that is well-capitalized, as defined by bank regulations promulgated by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Reserve, or the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

B. Eligibility for CAF II Support Recipients that have met each of their Deployment and Reporting Obligations to Follow the RDOF LOC rules (47 CFR § 54.315(c)(1)(iii)).

The revised rules allow CAF II support recipients that have met each of their deployment and reporting obligations to follow the RDOF LOC rules and obtain LOCs at reduced values.[5]

C. Eligibility for RDOF Support Recipients to Reduce the Value of their LOC to One Year of Support.

RDOF support recipients that have deployed service to 10% of their required locations by the end of their second year of support may reduce the value of their LOC to one year of support.[6] Previously, RDOF support recipients were required to have deployed service to 20% of their locations by the end of their second year of support in order to reduce the value of their LOC to one year of support.

III. RECORDKEEPING AND REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The Report and Order contains new information collection requirements for recipients to obtain a letter of credit from a United States bank that it is well-capitalized, as discussed above in section II(A).

IV. IMPLEMENTATION DATE

The rules in the Report and Order became effective on March 26, 2025, except for 47 CFR §§ 54.315(c)(2)(i)(B), 54.804(c)(2)(i)(B), 54.1016(a)(2)(i)(B), and 54.1508(c)(1)(iii) which shall become effective on August 25, 2025.

I. OBJECTIVES OF THE PROCEEDING

The Report and Order strengthens oversight of telecommunications certification bodies (TCBs), measurement facilities (test labs), and laboratory accreditation bodies that take part in the Commission's equipment authorization (EA) program by adopting rules to help ensure such entities are not owned by, or subject to the direction or control of, untrustworthy actors that pose a risk to our national security.[1] In conjunction with our previously established EA program rules that prohibit authorization of equipment that poses a risk to national security, these rules promote the integrity of our EA program, strengthen national security, and advance the Commission's comprehensive strategy that reinforces a secure and resilient communications supply chain. The rules adopted in the Report and Order will help the Commission identify entities that federal government agencies or Congress have determined pose national security risks and exclude these untrustworthy entities from participation in our EA program, helping to ensure the integrity of the program.

II. COMPLIANCE REQUIREMENTS

Transition Periods and Provisions for Compliance with the Rules (47 CFR §§ 2.902, 2.949, 2.950, 2.951, 2.960, and 2.962)

To implement the objectives of this proceeding, the Commission identifies, pursuant to federal agency or congressional determinations, a class of "prohibited entities" that pose national security threats and therefore could adversely affect the trustworthiness of, or otherwise undermine the public's confidence in, a TCB, test lab, or laboratory accreditation body that is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity, as defined at 47 CFR § 2.902. Second, we prohibit from participation in our equipment authorization process, any TCB, test lab, or laboratory accreditation body that is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity. This includes a prohibition on the reliance on or use of, for purposes of equipment authorization, any such TCB or test lab, for both certification and supplier's declaration of conformity (SDoC). Third, we will consider a TCB, test lab, or laboratory accreditation body as "owned by" a prohibited entity when a prohibited entity has, possesses, or otherwise controls an equity or voting interest of 10% or more in the TCB, test lab, or laboratory accreditation body. Fourth, we adopt expanded reporting requirements to require that all TCBs, test labs, and laboratory accreditation bodies seeking Commission recognition certify to the Commission that they are not owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity and report all equity or voting interests of 5% or greater by any entity. We will not recognize, and will revoke recognition of, any TCB, test lab, or laboratory accreditation body that fails to provide, or provides false or inaccurate, information or certification. Finally, we clarify our process for withdrawing recognition from test labs and laboratory accreditation bodies.

All recognized TCBs, test labs, and laboratory accreditation bodies must certify to the Commission within 30 days after the effective date of the rules, and thereafter with each request for recognition, that they are not owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity in accordance with § 2.902 of the Commission's rules. In addition, all recognized TCBs, test labs, and laboratory accreditation bodies must report to the Commission within 90 days after the effective date of the rules, and thereafter with each request for recognition, all equity or voting interests of 5% or greater by any entity. The Commission will not recognize, and will revoke any existing recognition of, any TCB, test lab, or laboratory accreditation body that: (1) is owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity pursuant to § 2.902; (2) fails to provide, or provides a false or inaccurate, certification, as required; or (3) fails to provide, or provides false or inaccurate, information regarding equity or voting interests of 5% or greater.

III. RECORDKEEPING AND REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The Report and Order contains new or modified information collection requirements to identify and verify entities that pose unacceptable risks to our national security through their participation in our equipment authorization program.

- Certification requirements to implement our prohibition on recognition of TCBs, test labs, and laboratory accreditation bodies that are subject to ownership or direction or control of a prohibited entity (47 CFR §§ 2.949(b)(5) and (d)(1); 2.951(a)(10) and (c)(1); 2.960(a)(2); and 2.962(d)(9)(i)).
    - Recognized TCBs, test labs, and laboratory accreditation bodies, as well as parties seeking FCC recognition, must submit certification to the Commission that the TCB, test lab, or laboratory accreditation body is not owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity pursuant to 47 CFR 2.902.
    - Certification must be provided within 30 days after the effective date of the final rules, and within 30 days after any relevant change to the required information takes effect. Parties seeking recognition as a TCB, test lab, or laboratory accreditation body must provide certification in conjunction with their request for recognition.
- Reporting requirements (47 CFR §§ 2.903(b); 2.949(b)(6) and (d)(2); 2.951(a)(11) and (c)(2); 2.960(a)(3); and 2.962(d)(9)(ii)).
    - All recognized TCBs, test labs, and laboratory accreditation bodies must report, within 90 days after the effective date of the rules, all equity or voting interests of 5% or greater by any entity.
    - Recognized TCBs, test labs, and laboratory accreditation bodies submit an updated report with each subsequent request for recognition and within 30 days after any change to entities that own 5% or more of its equity or voting interests.
    - Parties seeking recognition as a TCB, test lab, or laboratory accreditation body must report all equity or voting interests of 5% or greater by any entity in conjunction with their request for recognition.
    - Additional reporting requirements apply to entities named on the Covered List, a list of communications equipment and services that are deemed to pose an unacceptable risk to the national security of the United States or the security and safety of United States persons, and that is as described at in subpart DD of part 1 of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. § 1.50000 et seq.
        - Each entity named on the Covered List must provide to the Commission the full name, mailing address or physical address (if different from mailing address), email address, and telephone number of each of that named entity's associated entities (e.g., subsidiaries or affiliates).
        - The information regarding each entity's associated entities must be provided within 30 days after the effective date of each updated Covered List and no later than 30 days after any changes to such information occurs.

- Recordkeeping requirements to implement the prohibition, for purposes of SDoC authorization, on the use of test labs that are owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity (47 CFR § 2.938(b)(2)).
    - For equipment subject to the SDoC process, the responsible party must maintain a written and signed certification that, as of the date of testing, the test laboratory performing the testing is not owned by, controlled by, or subject to the direction of a prohibited entity.
    - The Commission may request additional information regarding the test site, test equipment, or the qualifications of the company or individual performing the test for the SDoC process, including documentation identifying any entity that has equity or voting interests of 5% or greater in the test lab.

IV. IMPLEMENTATION DATE

The rules in the Report and Order, except for the rules identified immediately below, shall become effective 30 days after publication of the text or summary thereof in the Federal Register.

The following rules in the Report and Order require approval by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act: 47 CFR 2.903(b); 2.911(d)(5)(ii); 2.929(c)(2), (d)(1)(ii); 2.932(e)(2); 2.938(b)(2); 2.949(b)(5)-(6), (d); 47 CFR 2.950 (c)(1)-(2), (d)(1)-(2), and (e)(1)-(2); 2.951(a)(10)-(11), (c); 2.960(a)(2)-(3); 2.962(d)(9); 2.1033(b)(3), (c)(3), and 2.1043(b)(2)(i)(C), (b)(3)(i)(C). The Office of Engineering and Technology will establish and announce the effective date of these sections in a document published in the Federal Register after completion of OMB review.

Prior to a final rule correction published in the Federal Register, the Commission had incorrectly indicated that the effective date of 47 CFR 2.950(c)-(e) in their entirety were delayed indefinitely.

PAYMENT METHODS AND PROCEDURES FOR FISCAL YEAR 2025 REGULATORY FEES

On August 29, 2025, the Commission released the FY 2025 Regulatory Fees Report and Order.[1] This document is available for viewing at http://www.fcc.gov/regfees. Regulatory fee payments must be received by the Commission no later than 11:59 PM, Eastern Daylight Time, on September 25, 2025.[2] While FY 2025 regulatory fees will not become effective until the Order is published in the Federal Register, regulatees, at their own discretion, may submit payments at any time before the FY 2025 regulatory fees due date.

YOU MUST BE REGISTERED WITH A USERNAME AND PASSWORD TO USE CORES

The Commission has discontinued the use of the Fee Filer system and incorporated this payment system into the Commission Registration System (CORES). To use CORES, you need to be registered with the FCC at https://apps2.fcc.gov/fccUserReg/pages/login.htm. Once your FCC username is registered and verified, you can access CORES and select the option to associate your existing FRN to that username, if you have not already done so. To make a FY 2025 regulatory fee payment, login to the following website using your username and password: https://apps.fcc.gov/cores/userLogin.do.

MANDATORY USE OF THE COMMISSION REGISTRATION SYSTEM (CORES)

All regulatory fee payors are required to use CORES for fee filing and payment via Automated Clearing House (ACH), Visa or MasterCard debit card, or credit card. Licensees and regulatees must first enter CORES with a valid username and password at: https://apps2.fcc.gov/fccUserReg/pages/login.htm, and follow the online prompts to review their data and submit an electronic fee payment. The use of CORES to pay regulatory fees is mandatory, and payments in the form of checks, money orders, and cashier's checks will not be accepted.[3] To make a wire transfer payment, please enter CORES and submit your fee information, and then complete and fax your financial institution's wire cover memo and an electronic FCC Form 159 (or equivalent) to the Commission at (202) 418-2843, or send an e-mail to RROGWIREFAXES@fcc.gov at least one hour before initiating the wire transfer (but on the same business day) so as not to delay crediting the account. Please include your FRN, Voucher Number,

Only credit card, ACH, and wire transfer payments will be accepted. Please make sure that your electronic fee payment is made and the transaction is complete by the due date for FY 2025 regulatory fees.

[3] Payors should note that this change will mean that entities that have previously paid both regulatory fees and application fees at the same time by paper check will no longer be able to do so because regulatory fees payments by paper check will no longer be accepted.

Please see the following link, https://www.fcc.gov/licensing-databases/fees/wire-transfer, for information on initiating a wire transfer. Please note that most wire transfers initiated after 6:00 p.m. (EDT) will be credited the next business day. Please also note that an ACH, credit card, or MasterCard or Visa debit card transaction could take several days for the payment to be transferred from a financial institution to the Commission. Therefore, any automated notification you receive from the Commission or Pay.gov following submission of your payment is an acknowledgement of submission, and not an acknowledgement that the funds have been received by the Commission. As a precaution, fee payors should always check their bank and credit card statements to ensure that the funds have actually been transferred to the Commission by the regulatory fee payment due date.

LIMITATIONS ON CREDIT CARD TRANSACTIONS

In accordance with Treasury Financial Manual, Volume I, Part 5, Chapter 7000, Section 7055.20, Transaction Maximums, the highest amount that can be charged on a credit card for transactions with federal agencies is $24,999.99.[4] Transactions greater than $24,999.99 will be rejected. This limit applies to single payments or bundled payments of more than one bill. Multiple transactions to a single agency in one day may be aggregated and treated as a single transaction subject to the $24,999.99 limit. Customers who wish to pay an amount greater than $24,999.99 should consider available electronic alternatives such as Visa or MasterCard debit cards, ACH debits from a bank account, and wire transfers. Each of these payment options is available after submitting regulatory fee information through CORES. Further details will be provided regarding payment methods and procedures at the time of FY 2025 regulatory fee collection in Fact Sheets, available at https://www.fcc.gov/regfees.

[4] Customers who owe an amount on a bill, debt, or other obligation due to the federal government are prohibited from splitting the total amount due into multiple payments. Splitting an amount owed into several payment transactions violates the credit card network and the Bureau of Fiscal Service rules. An amount owed that exceeds (continued….)

Regulatory fee payments that exceed the U.S. Treasury limit and are rejected by Treasury, causing a payment not to meet the required payment deadline, will be subject to interest, fees, and a 25% late payment penalty.

ELECTRONIC FILING AND PAYMENT PROCEDURES FOR ALL ENTITIES

All fee payors must enter CORES to begin the process of filing and paying FY 2025 regulatory fees. The CORES login is located at: https://apps.fcc.gov/cores/userLogin.do. After logging in with your username and password, select the "Manage Existing FRNs | FRN Financial | Bills and Fees" option, then select "Regulatory Fee Manager" to start the process of paying FY 2025 regulatory fees. It is the responsibility of each fee payor to determine its regulatory fee obligation. Although the Commission makes every effort to assure the accuracy of the information contained in CORES, the Commission cautions fee payors that any errors in the information contained in CORES do not relieve fee payors of their responsibility to pay their fees correctly. If necessary, fee payors must make adjustments, corrections, additions, or deletions to the information contained in CORES to pay all of their fee obligations.

For assistance with regulatory fee rates/calculations, exemption status and de minimis questions, please contact the Financial Operations help desk at (877) 480-3201, Option #6. For technical assistance with making payments through CORES, please contact the CORES help desk at (877) 480-3201, Option #1.

PAYMENT METHODS

Licensees and regulatees may pay their regulatory fees by any of the following methods:

- Credit card (online) via CORES
- Wire transfer (submit via CORES)
- ACH/debit from bank account (online) via CORES
- Visa or MasterCard debit cards (online) via CORES

Checks, Money Orders, and Cashier's Checks are No Longer Accepted for Payment of Regulatory Fees.[5]

Credit Card (online):

- The FCC accepts Visa, MasterCard, Discover, and American Express.
- To pay online by credit card, fee payors must first submit electronic filing information through the $24,999.99 maximum, may not be split into two or more payment transactions in the same day by using one or multiple cards. Also, an amount owed that exceeds the $24,999.99 maximum may not be split into two or more transactions over multiple days by using one or more cards. Treasury Financial Manual, Volume I, part 5, Chapter 7000, Section 7055.30, Prohibition on Splitting Transactions.

[5] Payors should note that this change will mean that entities that have previously paid both regulatory fees and application fees at the same time by paper check will no longer be able to do so because regulatory fees payments by paper check will no longer be accepted.

CORES, and will then have the option to pay online by choosing the "Pay by Credit Card" option.
- Limitations on credit card transactions: As noted previously, the U.S. Treasury will reject credit card transactions greater than $24,999.99 from a single credit card in a single day.

Any automated notification you receive from the Commission or Pay.gov following submission of your credit card payment is an acknowledgement of submission, and not an acknowledgement that the funds have been received by the Commission. As a precaution, fee payors should always check their bank statements to ensure that the funds have actually been transferred to the Commission by the regulatory fee payment due date.

Wire Transfer:
A wire transfer is a transaction that is initiated through a bank, authorizing the bank to wire funds from an account to the U.S. Treasury, New York, New York. All payments made by wire transfer payable to the Commission must be supported by faxing the "Wire Transfer Instructions" from CORES to the Commission at (202) 418-2843 at least one hour before initiating the wire transfer (but on the same business day) so as not to delay crediting their account. The Wire Transfer Instructions can also be e-mailed to RROGWIREFAXES@fcc.gov. These instructions contain valuable information (e.g. FRN, Voucher Number, Payer Name, and the Amount of the Wire) that will help to post the payment more quickly, and avoid costly delays that could result in penalties and interest for missing the payment due date. Please note that most wire transfers initiated after 6:00 p.m. (EDT) will be credited the next business day, and wires initiated outside of the United States may take additional time. Fee payors should discuss arrangements (including bank closing schedules, and bank wire transaction fees for which the Commission is not responsible) with their bankers several days before they plan to make the wire transfer to allow sufficient time for the transfer to be initiated and completed before the deadline, especially if the wire transfer is an international one. Complete instructions for making wire payments are posted at https://www.fcc.gov/licensing-databases/fees/wire-transfer. Fee payors are responsible for obtaining confirmation from their financial institution that payment was successfully debited from the designated account(s) prior to the deadline to avoid additional fees.

As a reminder, all regulatory fees MUST be filed, submitted and paid through CORES with the exception of wire transfers, which are initiated from the payor's financial institution. If you have any questions, please contact the Financial Operations help desk at 877-480-3201, Option 6. In addition, we urge all entities who send wire transfer payments to include the Voucher Number, Payor Name, and Payor FRN in the wire description area.

When initiating the wire transfer, please provide the bank with the following information to complete the transfer:

ACH Payments, Visa Debit Cards and MasterCard Debit Cards (Debit from Bank Account):

- To pay online from a bank account, fee payors must first submit their electronic filing information via CORES; licensees will then have the option to pay online by choosing the "Pay from Bank Account" option. Note: Fee payors are strongly encouraged to contact their financial institutions to confirm that the correct routing number for this method of payment is being used. Fee payors should also verify with their bank that their account has authorization to accept ACH or debit card transactions, as applicable to the payment method fee payors choose. The payor's bank may request the FCC's Company ID # 2700000103. Please also note that any automated notification you receive from the Commission or Pay.gov following submission of your payment is an acknowledgement of submission, and not an acknowledgement that the funds have been received by the Commission. As a precaution, fee payors should always check their bank statements to ensure that the funds have actually been transferred to the Commission by the regulatory fee payment due date.
- Fee payors may choose to pay by ACH using personal checking, personal savings, business checking, and business savings.
- For purposes of meeting the filing deadline, the Commission will consider payment to be received when account information is successfully accepted. Funds may not clear for up to 2 business days. Fee payors are responsible for obtaining confirmation from their financial institution that payment was successfully debited from the designated account(s) prior to the deadline to avoid additional fees.

DE MINIMIS REGULATORY FEE LEVEL

Regulatees whose total FY 2025 annual regulatory fee liability, including all categories of regulatory fees for which payment is due, is $1,000 or less are exempt from payment of FY 2025 regulatory fees. Thus, if the sum total of all annual FY 2025 regulatory fees is $1,000 or less, your fees are considered de minimis, and you do not have to pay FY 2025 regulatory fees. If your fees are de minimis, you will not need to report this exemption to the Commission. The de minimis threshold applies only to filers of annual regulatory fees (not regulatory fees paid through multi-year wireless filings), and it is not a permanent exemption. Rather, each regulatee will need to re-evaluate and re-calculate its regulatory fee liability each year in order to determine whether they meet the de miminis exemption established by the Commission's annual regulatory fee order. Regulatees are responsible for calculating their total fee obligation to determine whether they qualify for this de minimis exemption. The Commission reserves the right to request documentation that supports a de minimis exemption claim.

Installment payment of FY 2025 regulatory fee debt

All fee payors seeking to pay their FY 2025 regulatory fees in installments will be permitted to make a partial payment of their FY 2025 regulatory fee, and are encouraged, to pay as much of their FY 2025 regulatory fee as possible by September 25, 2025.[7]

All fee payors that intend to request installment payment of all or the unpaid balance of their FY 2025 regulatory fees must submit their installment payment requests by September 25, 2025 to avoid assessment of a 25% late payment penalty, interest, and costs on their FY 2025 regulatory fee debt. Fee payors may request an installment payment plan electronically, by sending their requests to regfeerelief@fcc.gov. A request may be combined in a single filing with a waiver and deferral request made on financial hardship grounds.[8] Only those fee payors who demonstrate that they cannot pay their FY 2025 regulatory fees in full by September 25, 2025 will be granted installment payment relief.[9]

Waiver, reduction and deferral on financial hardship grounds

The Commission's standard for granting a waiver request under section 1.1166 of its rules has not changed. The Commission may waive, reduce or defer payment of a regulatory fee in a specific instance if a regulatee demonstrates good cause for the relief sought and that waiver, reduction, or deferral of the fee promotes the public interest. Fee relief may be granted, but only to those regulatees "unambiguously articulating 'extraordinary circumstances' outweighing the public interest in recouping the cost of the Commissions regulatory services."[10]

A request for waiver or reduction of a FY 2025 regulatory fee[11] based on financial hardship must be filed on or before September 25, 2025 and accompanied by either (i) full payment of the FY 2025 regulatory fee or (ii) a request to defer payment with all financial documents the fee payor determines are sufficient to demonstrate financial hardship;[12] no additional documents will be accepted for consideration after a party's waiver request has been filed.[13] A party seeking relief under section 1.1166 from payment of its FY 2025 regulatory fees based on financial hardship may file a single request for all forms of relief sought.[14] Parties are directed to file their requests electronically by emailing their requests, together with all supporting financial documents, to the following email address: regfeerelief@fcc.gov.[15]

In order to prove financial hardship sufficient to justify a waiver, a regulatee must show that it lacks sufficient funds to pay its FY 2025 regulatory fee in full while maintaining service to the public.[16] Among the documents that a business entity fee payor may wish to include to prove financial hardship sufficient to justify a waiver are: tax returns, a balance sheet and profit and lost statement (audited if possible), cashflow projections for the next twelve months, a list of officers and highest paid individual employees with each person's compensation. For individual fee payors, such documents might include wage statements, documents disclosing non-wage income, such as rental income; real estate valuations and mortgage documents; bank, credit card and loan statements; account numbers and balances for all cash accounts and investments; monthly income and expense summaries; and tax returns. A request filed by a party on "red light" under section 1.1910 of the Commission's rules will be dismissed.[17]

Waiver or reduction of fees on other grounds.

Requests for waiver or reduction of FY 2025 regulatory fees on any grounds other than financial hardship may be combined in a single filing and must be filed by September 25, 2025 or accompanied by full payment of the FY 2025 regulatory fee. Parties are directed to file their requests electronically by emailing their requests, together with all supporting documents, to the following email address: regfeerelief@fcc.gov. A request filed by a party on "red light" under section 1.1910 of the Commission's rules will be dismissed.[18]

Applicants state that, other than what has been disclosed, neither Charter, nor entities and individuals that hold a 10% or greater interest in Charter or Charter Holdings, also hold interests in any other provider of domestic telecommunications services. Supplement at 23.

transaction, Cox[11] and the Licensees, would be indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries of Charter Communications Holdings, LLC (Charter Holdings), a Delaware limited liability and holding company.[12]

Description of the Proposed Transaction

On May 16, 2025, CEI, Charter, and Charter Holdings, entered into an agreement under which Charter will acquire Cox and the Licensees from CEI, for a combination of cash and Charter Holdings' common and convertible preferred units that are directly or indirectly exchangeable into Charter common stock.[13] Applicants state that post-transaction, CEI will own an approximate 23.4% equity interest and 24% voting interest in Charter,[14] on an as-converted, as-exchanged basis,[15] through CEI's indirect ownership of common units and convertible preferred units in Charter Holdings.[16] Following the consummation of the proposed transaction, Charter Holdings will indirectly wholly own and control Cox's residential broadband, video, mobile, and voice businesses; its advertising and enterprise businesses; and its Segra, UPN, and RapidScale businesses.[17]

[11] Applicants state that, as part of the pro forma restructuring of Cox that will occur immediately prior to the consummation of the proposed transaction, Cox Communications, Inc. will be converted to a limited liability company. Lead Application at 7, n.1.

[12] Id. at 5, Public Interest Statement at 17-18. Post-consummation, the following U.S. entities will hold a 10% or greater interest in Charter Holdings: (1) CCH II, LLC (CCH II) (62.3% equity and 61.6% voting), a Delaware limited liability company and wholly owned subsidiary of Charter; (2) Cox NewCo (23.4% equity and 24.0% voting), a Delaware entity newly formed for the purposes of this transaction; and (3) Advance Newhouse Partnership (A/N Partnership) (8.4% equity and 8.6% voting), a New York Partnership. Id. at 5, 7, and 9. Cox NewCo will be wholly owned by CEI. Id. at 8. Applicants note that A/N Partnership's direct post-consummation interest in Cox will be 8.4% equity and 8.6% voting but will rise to 9.9% equity and 10.2% voting due to various different types of shares that A/N Partnership holds in Charter Holdings and the dilution of outstanding stock as of March 31, 2025. Id. at 9, n.8. A/NPC Holdings LLC, a New York limited liability company, holds 99% equity and voting of A/N Partnership. Supplement at 10; id., Exh. A at 7.

[13] Lead Application, Public Interest Statement at 16-17. Applicants state that the post-consummation combined company also will assume Cox's outstanding net debt and finance leases. Id., Public Interest Statement at 17.

[14] Id., Public Interest Statement at 17-18. Applicants note that these percentages assume Charter's recent acquisition of Liberty Broadband Corporation (Liberty Broadband/Charter Transaction), a transaction that Applicants assert will not require regulatory approval, closes concurrently with the proposed transaction. Id., Public Interest Statement at 17, n.60. As a result, Liberty Broadband will cease to be a direct shareholder in Charter, and the three Liberty Broadband nominees currently sitting on the Charter Board will resign. Id.; see also Supplement, 9-10, n.6. Applicants state that although John Malone, a U.S. citizen, currently holds an approximately 14% voting interest in Charter, through his approximately 49% voting interest in Liberty Broadband, following the consummation of the Liberty Broadband/Charter Transaction, Mr. Malone will no longer hold a 10% or greater direct or indirect voting or equity interest in Charter, nor will Mr. Malone be a disclosable interest holder in, or affiliate of, Charter. Supplement at 9, n.5; id., Exh. A (Pre-Consummation Charter Ownership) at 7, n.1; id. at 23, n.24 (stating that, post-consummation, neither John Malone nor Liberty Broadband will be considered an affiliate of Charter); see also supra note 10.

[15] Lead Application, Public Interest Statement at 17-18. Applicants state that, at closing, it is likely that CEI's actual interest in Charter Holdings will be higher than 23.4% equity and 24.0% voting, but also note that CEI is prohibited from acquiring directly or indirectly, a voting or equity interest, greater than 30% in Charter. Id., Public Interest Statement at 18, n.61; Supplement at 13, n.13.

[16] Lead Application, Public Interest Statement at 18.

[17] Id., Public Interest Statement at 18-19. Applicants provide further details of the structure of the proposed transaction, including post-consummation board members, different types of stocks that Charter will issue to CEI, and certain pro forma restructuring that will occur within Cox immediately prior to consummation of the proposed transaction. Id., Public Interest Statement at 18-21.

Statement of Public Interest

Applicants assert that a grant of the Applications would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity.[18] Applicants claim that the proposed transaction will produce public interest benefits,[19] including, among other benefits: bolstering competition across all relevant services while enhancing scale and incentives to invest;[20] yielding a stronger consumer broadband competitor;[21] enhancing the competitive mobile wireless marketplace;[22] promoting video competition and consumer choice;[23] and expanding enterprise competition—especially for enterprises that span both Charter's and Cox's service areas.[24] Applicants also claim that the proposed transaction will not result in public interest harms.[25] According to the Applicants, there will be no adverse horizontal effects on competition because there is only a limited overlap between the companies' respective service territories.[26]

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Applications have been found, upon initial review, to be acceptable for filing. The Commission reserves the right to return any application if, upon further examination, it is determined to be defective and not in conformance with the Commission's rules and policies.

Interested parties may file comments and reply comments on or before the dates indicated on the first page of this document. Comments should be filed in WC Docket No. 25-233 and in File Nos. [19] Id., Public Interest Statement at 23-58.

[20] Id., Public Interest Statement at 24-27. Applicants claim that the proposed transaction will provide additional scale, thus, creating synergies and operating efficiencies that will lead to lower costs to serve the combined company's customers. Id., Public Interest Statement at 25.

[21] Id., Public Interest Statement at 27-37. Applicants claim that the proposed transaction will benefit consumers across the combined company's footprint by establishing a stronger service provider that is able to adapt and improve as the broadband marketplace continues to undergo a significant, pro-consumer competitive revolution. Id., Public Interest Statement at 27. Applicants also cite competitive pricing, faster broadband, and tailored customer premises equipment as reasons that the proposed transaction will yield a stronger broadband competitor. Id., Public Interest Statement at 32-36.

[22] Id., Public Interest Statement at 37-48. Applicants assert that the proposed transaction will enable the combined company to offer Spectrum Mobile, the fastest growing mobile wireless service in the United States, to consumers in Cox's footprint, thus, enhancing competition in the overall mobile wireless landscape. Id., Public Interest Statement at 37. According to the Applicants, the broader geographic reach of the combined network will likely spur increased competitive responses from the largest wireless service providers. Id., Public Interest Statement at 47.

[23] Id., Public Interest Statement at 48-55. Applicants note that the proposed transaction will result in consumers in Cox's footprint gaining access to Charter's more innovative and competitive video products. Id., Public Interest Statement at 48-51.

[24] Id., Public Interest Statement at 55-58. Applicants also assert public interest benefits arising from growing competitive opportunities for serving advertisers, enabling Charter to leverage its customer service practices to more customers, and strengthening the U.S. job market and enhance national and public safety. Id., Public Interest Statement at 58-78.

[25] Id., Public Interest Statement at 55-68.

[26] Id., Public Interest Statement at 68. Applicants state that the overlaps of mass-market footprints between Charter and Cox is de minimis and provide a description of the geographic areas in which both Charter and CEI, and their respective affiliates, provide services. Supplement at 25. Applicants explain that Charter and CEI, through their operating subsidiaries, offer domestic telecommunications services throughout their respective mass-market footprints, by providing CMRS services, on a resale basis, and wireline interstate and intrastate services, such as local interconnection and switched access services. Id.

WIRELESS TELECOMMUNICATIONS BUREAU SEEKS COMMENT ON A REQUEST FOR WAIVER OF THE PRIORITY ACCESS LICENSE AGGREGATION LIMIT IN A PROPOSED ASSIGNMENT OF LICENSES FROM CITIZENS BAND LICENSE COMPANY, LLC TO COLORADO CELLULAR, INC. DBA VIAERO

Comments/Petitions Due: September 17, 2025

By this Public Notice, the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau (WTB) seeks comment on a request for waiver filed by Citizens Band License Company, LLC (CBLC) and NE Colorado Cellular, Inc. dba Viaero Wireless (Viaero) (CLBC and Viaero together, the Applicants) of section 96.31(a) of the Commission's rules, which would allow Viaero to exceed the four Priority Access License (PAL) channel limit.[1] The Applicants' proposed assignment of licenses was accepted for filing on September 3, 2025.[2]

On August 26, 2025, Applicants filed an application for assignment pursuant to section 310(d) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended,[3] seeking the Federal Communications Commission's consent to an assignment of ten PALs.[4] According to the Applicants, under the proposed assignment, CBLC would sell ten PALs to Viaero in seven counties in Colorado.[5] Applicants assert that the proposed assignment would result in Viaero exceeding the four PAL channel limit in the seven counties at issue.[6] Specifically, the Applicants state that the proposed assignment would result in Viaero holding six PAL

By this notice, we also announce the opening of a docket, WT Docket No. 25-274, which is captioned "Citizens Band License Company, LLC's and NE Colorado Cellular Inc.'s Assignment Application and Waiver Request," for review of the proposed assignment application and accompanying waiver request, and we articulate the ex parte status of discussions related to the proposed transaction.

channels in the following three Colorado counties: Huerfano, Prowers, and Saguache, and holding five PAL channels in the following four Colorado counties: Alamosa, Conejos, Lincoln, and Rio Grande.[7]

Under the Commission's rules, Priority Access Licensees are subject to an aggregation limit of up to four PALs in any county-based license area at any given time.[8] The Applicants request a waiver of section 96.31(a) of the Commission's rules.[9] We seek comment on the Applicants' waiver request.[10]

Ex Parte Rules. Pursuant to section 1.1200(a) of the Commission's rules,[11] the Commission may adopt modified or more stringent ex parte procedures in particular proceedings if the public interest so requires. We announce that this proceeding will be governed by permit-but-disclose ex parte procedures that are applicable to non-restricted proceedings under section 1.1206 of the Commission's rules.[12] This proceeding shall be treated as a "permit-but-disclose" proceeding in accordance with the Commission's ex parte rules.[13] Entities or persons making ex parte presentations must file a copy of any written presentation or a memorandum summarizing any oral presentation within two business days after the presentation (unless a different deadline applicable to the Sunshine period applies). Entities or persons making oral ex parte presentations are reminded that memoranda summarizing the presentation must: (1) list all persons attending or otherwise participating in the meeting at which the ex parte presentation was made; and (2) summarize all data presented and arguments made during the presentation. If the presentation consisted in whole or in part of the presentation of data or arguments already reflected in the presenter's written comments, memoranda or other filings in the proceeding, the presenter may provide citations to such data or arguments in his or her prior comments, memoranda, or other filings (specifying the relevant page and/or paragraph numbers where such data or arguments can be found) in lieu of summarizing them in the memorandum. Documents shown or given to Commission staff during ex parte meetings are deemed to be written ex parte presentations and must be filed consistent with rule 1.1206(b). In proceedings governed by rule 1.49(f) or for which the Commission has made available a method of electronic filing, written ex parte presentations and memoranda summarizing oral ex parte presentations, and all attachments thereto, must be filed through the electronic comment filing system available for that proceeding, and must be filed in their native format (e.g., .doc, .xml, .ppt, searchable .pdf).[14] Participants in this proceeding should familiarize themselves with the Commission's ex parte rules.

Comment Period and Filing Procedures. Interested parties may file comments and/or petitions to deny on or before the dates indicated on the first page of this document. All pleadings, ex parte submissions, and other filings for this proceeding shall be filed using the Commission's Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS). Pleadings ex parte submissions, and other filings should refer to WT Docket No. 25-274 when filing in response to this Public Notice.

NOTICE CONCERNING EX PARTE STATUS OF INFORMATION SUBMITTED TO THE CONSUMER PROTECTION AND ACCESSIBILITY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Consumer Protection and Accessibility Advisory Committee (CPAAC) is a federal advisory committee created to advise the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) and make recommendations on a wide array of consumer protection and accessibility matters specified by the Commission.[1] It is organized under, and operates in accordance with, the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA).[2]

Under the FACA, the Commission is responsible for oversight of the CPAAC, including its working groups and any subcommittees.[3] As a result, FCC Commissioners and staff may participate in or attend meetings or other activities held by both the CPAAC and its working groups and subcommittees. For this reason, we hereby announce that, pursuant to section 1.1200(a) of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 1.1200(a), presentations to the CPAAC, including to its working groups and subcommittees, and at any roundtable discussions sponsored by the CPAAC, as well as presentations between CPAAC members (including members of any working groups and subcommittees) and FCC Commissioners or staff incidental to and in connection with such CPAAC meetings or roundtable discussions, will be treated as exempt presentations for ex parte purposes.[4]

This exemption covers presentations from CPAAC members to FCC Commissioners and staff in other settings only to the extent that the CPAAC members are presenting the views of the CPAAC or its working groups, as opposed to an individual member's own views or that of a member's organization. We find that this modification of the ex parte rules is in the public interest because it will allow the CPAAC to develop and shape its advice and recommendations to the Commission more efficiently and effectively. Furthermore, this treatment is consistent with that afforded to prior advisory committees. The treatment of ex parte presentations specified in this notice shall apply to this and future terms of the CPAAC unless modified by a subsequent public notice.

We recognize that some issues may be addressed by the CPAAC that are the subject of pending FCC proceedings. The Commission will not rely in these proceedings on any information submitted to the CPAAC, or to any of its working groups, subcommittees or sponsored roundtables, or information

[4] Exempt presentations are not subject to the restrictions and reporting requirements that otherwise would apply to ex parte presentations and presentations made during the Sunshine Agenda Period. See 47 CFR § 1.1204(a) (providing that exempt ex parte presentations are not subject to the prohibitions in sections 1.1203 and 1.1208 and the disclosure requirements in section 1.1206). See also 47 CFR § 1.1202(a), (b) (definitions of "presentation" and "ex parte presentation").

ORDER

By the Chief, Disability Rights Office, Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau:

1. By this Order, the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) grants ClearCaptions, LLC (ClearCaptions), a waiver of the volume control reset requirement in section 68.317 of the Commission's rules.[1] Under section 68.317, wireline telephones may exceed the maximum volume specified in the rule, but must automatically reset to a lower level after the telephone is hung up.[2] Telephones covered by this waiver can be used by persons with hearing loss without the need to turn the volume back up before each use.

2. Background. Pursuant to the Commission's streamlined waiver process,[3] ClearCaptions seeks a waiver of the volume control reset provisions for its Blue telephone devices, model 2.0, and any future versions of the Blue telephone with a different model designation, so long as those models do not contain any technical changes to the volume control reset functionality (together, Blue Telephones).[4] ClearCaptions seeks this waiver "so that people with hearing disabilities can use the telephone without having to turn the volume back up before each use"[5] and states that Blue Telephones may be used with either the public switched telephone network (PSTN) or Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) services.[6]

3. Volume Control Standard. Section 68.317 of the Commission's rules governs the provision of volume control on wireline telephones used with the PSTN and telephonic equipment used with advanced communications services (ACS) such as VoIP service (ACS telephonic CPE).[7] Wireline telephones and ACS telephonic CPE that are manufactured or imported for use in the United States on or after February 28, 2020, must comply with the volume control standard in section 68.317(h).[8]

4. This volume control standard uses a unit of volume measurement called "Conversational Gain" to specify amplification levels.[9] To help ensure that people with hearing loss can use a telephone, the volume control standard allows the receive amplification to exceed the specified maximum level (24 dB Conversational Gain), provided that the amplification level automatically resets to a lower level (no more than 24 dB Conversational Gain) after the telephone is hung up.[10] As outlined in section 68.317(h), the reset requirement is designed to help minimize the likelihood of harming individuals with normal hearing who may use the telephone after someone else has increased the volume beyond a certain level.[11] However, the reset requirement can hinder effective use of a telephone by consumers with hearing loss who regularly require amplification above the specified maximum.[12] Therefore, the Commission in the 2001 Tandy Corporation Waiver Order adopted a streamlined process for handling requests for waiver of the reset requirement to allow Part 68 registration of telephones specifically designed to meet such consumers' needs.[13] For devices manufactured pursuant to such waivers, a person with hearing loss can use the telephone without having to turn the volume back up before each use.[14]

5. Streamlined Waiver Process. The streamlined waiver process adopted in the 2001 Tandy Corporation Waiver Order was modified in the 2018 ClearCaptions Waiver Order and Volume Control Reset Waiver Public Notice for use with the current volume control standard.[15] Pursuant to this streamlined process, petitioners that satisfy five safety conditions will ordinarily receive the grant of a waiver. Those conditions are:

> (1) The volume reset override switch shall be labeled as such and located on the PSTN telephone or ACS telephonic CPE in such a way as not to be accessible to accidental engagement.

(2) A bright indicator light shall be prominently displayed on the front of the PSTN telephone or ACS telephonic CPE and shall light up when the override is engaged, and the telephone is placed in an off-hook condition.

(3) Next to the light shall be a warning that the amplification is at a high level.

(4) A caution on using the volume reset override switch shall be included in the users' manual.

(5) The PSTN telephone or ACS telephonic CPE shall include a warning printed in Braille that can be securely attached to the back of the handset, or, if the telephone has only a headset, above the dial buttons, to indicate that a high-volume setting may be engaged.[16]

6. A party may request a volume control reset waiver for a device by certifying its compliance with the aforementioned five safety conditions.[17] The request must be signed "by a company representative or officer responsible for its truthfulness."[18] If the request is in order and if no other issues are present that preclude a grant, the Commission will issue an order granting the waiver request.[19] The party receiving such a waiver may then pursue equipment approval under the applicable Part 68 rules.[20]

7. Discussion. We grant a waiver of the volume control reset requirements in section 68.317(h) to ClearCaptions for the Blue Telephones because we find that ClearCaptions has properly certified compliance with the streamlined waiver conditions of the Tandy Corporation Waiver Order, as modified by the 2018 ClearCaptions Waiver Order and the Volume Control Reset Waiver Public Notice.[21] Grant of the combined waiver will afford persons with hearing loss the option of using their telephones without the need to turn the volume back up each time they use the phone. ClearCaptions may therefore proceed to request certification from a Telecommunications Certification Body or to submit a Supplier's Declaration of Conformity pursuant to Part 68 of the Commission's rules.[22]

8. We condition the grant of this waiver on the following requirements for the Blue Telephones: (1) the volume reset override switch shall be labeled as such and located on the phone in such a way as to not be accessible to accidental engagement; (2) a bright indicator light shall be prominently displayed on the front of the phone and shall light up when the override is engaged and the phone is placed in an off-hook condition; (3) next to the light shall be a warning that the amplification is at a high level; (4) a caution on the use of the volume reset override switch shall be included in the users' manual; and (5) the phone shall include a warning printed in Braille that can be securely attached to the back of the handset, or, if the phone has only a headset, above the dial buttons, to indicate that a high-volume setting may be engaged.

prior authorization to perform feeder link and telemetry, tracking, and command (TT&C) operations using five satellites.[4] On August 29, 2025, the Satellite Programs and Policy Division within SB granted-in-part and deferred-in-part AST's modification application, as amended in the first instance, authorizing AST to deploy 20 additional satellites and to perform TT&C operations using those satellites.[5]

For the full requested 248-satellite constellation, in addition to the authority already granted and the requests that have previously been accepted for filing, AST seeks authority to provide SCS in the United States using the following frequency bands: 698-716 MHz (Earth-to-space), 728-746 MHz (space-to-Earth), 758-768 MHz (space-to-Earth), 788-798 MHz (Earth-to-space), 824-849 MHz (Earth-to-space), and 869-894 MHz (space-to-Earth). AST further seeks authority to operate in the mobile-satellite service (MSS) outside the United States using the following frequency bands: 617-652 MHz, 728-821 MHz, 852-894 MHz, and 902-960 MHz (space-to-Earth); and 663-748 MHz, 777-798 MHz, 807-862 MHz, and 880-915 MHz (Earth-to-space). AST likewise requests to perform feeder link operations in the 45.5-47 GHz (Earth-to-space) band. Also in addition to operations already granted and the requests that have previously been accepted for filing, for 20 authorized satellites and 223 requested satellites, AST requests to perform feeder link operations in the 37.5-42 GHz (space-to-Earth), 47.2-50.2 GHz (Earth-to-space), and 50.4-51.4 GHz (Earth-to-space) bands. We seek comment on these requests and associated waiver requests to enable the proposed SCS network.[6]

Lease Arrangements

AST and AT&T filed a long-term spectrum manager lease notification informing the Commission of a lease whereby AST satellites would provide SCS to AT&T's terrestrial network on certain 800 MHz Cellular A and B Block spectrum as well as certain Lower 700 MHz A, B, and C Block spectrum licensed to AT&T in CONUS and Hawaii.[7] AST and AT&T seek waivers to enable the proposed SCS network.[8] We seek comment on these leases and associated waiver requests.

AST and Verizon filed a long-term spectrum manager lease notification informing the Commission of a lease whereby AST satellites would provide SCS to Verizon's terrestrial network on 800 MHz Cellular spectrum licensed to Verizon in CONUS and Hawaii.[9] AST and Verizon seek waivers to enable this SCS network.[10] We seek comment on these leases and associated waiver requests.

AST and FirstNet

AST and FirstNet filed an administrative update to FirstNet's 700 MHz Public Safety Broadband Nationwide License informing the Commission of a contractual agreement whereby AST would provide SCS in the 758-768 MHz (space-to-Earth) and 788-798 MHz (Earth-to-space) bands (i.e. Band 14) that are licensed to FirstNet.[11]

When the Commission adopted its SCS rules, it recognized FirstNet's unique structure and adopted alternative procedures for FirstNet and its partners to satisfy the SCS criteria.[12] We note that AST and FirstNet attached a report purportedly showing that AST's satellite system can effectively complement service over Band 14, which is assigned exclusively for use by FirstNet.[13] Consequently, we seek comment generally on the application filed jointly by AST and FirstNet. Moreover, we also seek comment on: (1) whether the AST Interference Study is appropriate, including expected average capacity/throughput per satellite beam and average user throughput using FirstNet's 700 MHz spectrum; and (2) whether AST's proposal to offer SCS on Band 14 will impact in any way public safety operations outside FirstNet's spectrum, particularly to operations on the adjacent narrowband segment of the 700 MHz band.

Waiver Requests

Under the Commission's rules, satellite operators and terrestrial wireless licensees may enter into spectrum manager leases for the provision of SCS when a single licensee holds all the co-channel licenses on the relevant SCS band throughout one of six GIAs or when multiple co-channel licensees collectively holds all co-channel licenses in a particular SCS band throughout one of six GIAs.[14] According to AST, AT&T, and Verizon, AT&T and Verizon's 800 MHz Cellular and AT&T's Lower 700 MHz licenses do not cover the entire CONUS GIA. Thus, AST, AT&T, and Verizon request waivers of section 1.9047(d) of the Commission's rules as it pertains to the CONUS GIA.[15] Relatedly, AST requests a waiver of section 25.125(a) of the Commission's rules which requires that the applicant of an SCS space station authorization has a lease arrangement with one or more terrestrial wireless licensees that hold all co-channel licenses throughout a GIA.[16] We seek comment on these waiver requests.

Under the Commission's rules, 800 MHz Cellular licensees have exclusive rights within their licensed Cellular Geographic Service Areas and are permitted to serve Unserved Areas within 50 contiguous square miles on a secondary, unprotected basis without FCC filings.[17] To expand service beyond this 50 square mile Unserved Area, 800 MHz Cellular licensees must file FCC Form 601 seeking prior approval from the Commission.[18] AST, AT&T, and Verizon assert that the unique geographic service areas of their 800 MHz Cellular licenses results in some areas of the CONUS and Hawaii GIAs being ineligible for SCS without waiver, and thus request waivers to enable SCS across both GIAs.[19] We seek comment on this waiver request.

In addition, under the Commission's rules, terrestrial device equipment authorization grantees must modify existing, or obtain new, equipment authorizations for previously certified terrestrial devices to reflect those devices' approval to operate under a part 25 MSS allocation and applicable SCS rules.[20] AST asserts that a waiver of the SCS handset rules is necessary to increase connectivity to wireless subscribers and first responders, and thus requests waiver of the Commission's rules so that handsets within AST's network that are certified prior to June 29, 2024, but not authorized for SCS operations, may receive SCS.[21] We seek comment on this waiver request.

Procedural Matters

Ex Parte Rules. Pursuant to section 1.1200(a) of the Commission's rules,[22] the Commission may adopt modified or more stringent ex parte procedures in particular proceedings if the public interest so requires. We announce that this proceeding will be governed by permit-but-disclose ex parte procedures that are applicable to non-restricted proceedings under section 1.1206 of the Commission's rules.[23] This proceeding shall be treated as a "permit-but-disclose" proceeding in accordance with the Commission's ex parte rules.[24] Entities or persons making ex parte presentations must file a copy of any written presentation or a memorandum summarizing any oral presentation within two business days after the presentation (unless a different deadline applicable to the Sunshine period applies). Entities or persons making oral ex parte presentations are reminded that memoranda summarizing the presentation must: (1) list all persons attending or otherwise participating in the meeting at which the ex parte presentation was made; and (2) summarize all data presented and arguments made during the presentation. If the presentation consisted in whole or in part of the presentation of data or arguments already reflected in the presenter's written comments, memoranda or other filings in the proceeding, the presenter may provide citations to such data or arguments in his or her prior comments, memoranda, or other filings (specifying the relevant page and/or paragraph numbers where such data or arguments can be found) in lieu of summarizing them in the memorandum. Documents shown or given to Commission staff during ex parte meetings are deemed to be written ex parte presentations and must be filed consistent with rule 1.1206(b). In proceedings governed by rule 1.49(f) or for which the Commission has made available a method of electronic filing, written ex parte presentations and memoranda summarizing oral ex parte presentations, and all attachments thereto, must be filed through the electronic comment filing system available for that proceeding, and must be filed in their native format (e.g., .doc, .xml, .ppt, searchable .pdf).[25] Participants in this proceeding should familiarize themselves with the Commission's ex parte rules.

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we deny a request for review from Knology Total Communications, Inc. f/k/a/ Graceba Total Communication (Knology) of the Universal Service Administrative Company's (USAC) audit findings that, among other items, Knology failed to follow certain rules governing our Uniform System of Accounts (USOA).[1] We further deny Knology's alternative request for a waiver of our accounting rules. We therefore direct USAC to recover $386,035 in Universal Service Fund (USF) high-cost support based on the three audit findings.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Knology is a rural, rate-of-return incumbent local exchange carrier headquartered in Ashford, Alabama. During the audit year, 2020, Knology served approximately 894 subscribers through traditional copper and fiber-to-the-home facilities.[2] In 2012, prior to the relevant audit, Knology purchased the study area that was the focus of the audit from Graceba Total Communication,[3] acquiring its assets and property records.[4] According to Knology, the "vast majority" of plant, total plant in service, and cable and wire facilities in the acquired service area existed prior to its purchase of the carrier.[5] During the 2020 USAC audit period, Knology received High-Cost Loop support (HCLS), Connect America Fund (CAF)

Broadband Loop Support (BLS), and CAF Intercarrier Compensation support (ICC) from the high-cost program, totaling $1.6 million.[6]

3. Incumbent local exchange carriers subject to rate-of-return regulation develop their revenue requirements, used to calculate both rates and high-cost universal service support, in accordance with a four-step process. First, carriers record their costs, including investments and expenses, into various accounts in accordance with the USOA prescribed by Part 32 of the Commission's rules.[7] Second, carriers assign the costs in those accounts to regulated and non-regulated activities in accordance with Part 64 of the Commission's rules to ensure that the costs of non-regulated activities will not be recovered by regulated service rates or through universal service support.[8] Third, carriers separate the regulated costs between the interstate and intrastate jurisdictions, as well as among cost categories, in accordance with the Commission's Part 36 separations rules.[9] Finally, carriers apportion the interstate regulated costs among the interexchange services and rate elements that form the cost basis for their interstate access tariffs pursuant to the Commission's Part 69 rules, as well as for high-cost universal service support pursuant to Part 54.[10]

4. Rate-of-return carriers like Knology are subject to the Commission's Part 32 financial accounting rules for recording costs, investments, and expenses.[11] Section 32.2000(e)(1)-(4) of the Commission's rules requires carriers to establish and maintain basic property records to preserve detailed information for each class of property recorded in several plant accounts comprising its balance sheet.[12] The property records must preserve: the identity, vintage, location and original cost of units of property; original and ongoing transactional data (plant account activity) in terms of such units; and any other specific financial and cost accounting information which is needed to support regulatory, cost, tax, management and other specific accounting information needs and requirements.[13] In addition, the basic property records must be (1) subject to internal accounting controls, (2) auditable, and (3) equal to the total investment reflected in the property control accounts and total cost allocations, and (4) maintained throughout the life of the property.[14] The basic property records must consist of continuing and supplemental property records that clearly detail the information needed to meet all of the foregoing requirements.[15]

5. Section 54.320 of the Commission's rules states that eligible telecommunications carriers (ETCs) "authorized to receive universal service high-cost support are subject to random compliance audits and other investigations to ensure compliance with program rules and orders."[16] The rule further requires ETCs to "retain all records required to demonstrate to auditors that the support received was consistent with the universal service high-cost program rules."[17] Records must be "maintained for at least ten years from the receipt of funding,"[18] and "[a]ll such documents shall be made available upon request to the Commission and any of its Bureaus or Offices, the Administrator, and their respective auditors."[19] As the Commission previously stated, "[t]he burden is on recipients of high-cost funding to retain records sufficient to demonstrate that the funding they receive is consistent with the rules of the high-cost programs."[20]

6. USAC performed an audit of USF high-cost support disbursements to Knology for the year ending December 31, 2020.[21] At the conclusion of its examination, USAC issued its audit report dated April 2, 2024, which included five findings of non-compliance with our rules for the audited period.[22] USAC recommended the recovery of $386,035 in high-cost support for the relevant audit period and that Knology implement a Corrective Action Plan to improve its documentation and data retention procedures.[23] Of the five audit findings, Knology appealed three to USAC:

- Finding No. 1: Improper Continuing Property Records;
- Finding No. 2: Inadequate Documentation (Payroll Transactions); and
- Finding No. 3: Improper Allocation Methodology.[24]

7. USAC denied Knology's appeal on November 24, 2024.[25] In its decision, USAC determined that "Knology failed to maintain a complete detailed [continuing property records] for cable and wire facility (CWF) equipment, did not provide adequate documentation to support the accuracy of its time entry reporting or payroll expense transactions, and did not use cost-causative factors to allocate corporate expenses."[26]

8. Knology timely filed a request seeking review of USAC's denial with the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) pursuant to sections 54.719, 54.722, and 1.3 of the Commission's rules.[27] Knology seeks the Bureau's review of the same three audit findings it appealed to USAC, raising the same arguments and noting USAC's "rigid analysis calling for recovery of support for violations of the letter of the rules even where Commission precedent (and other USAC audits) have focused on ensuring that a high-cost support recipient's records provide the information necessary to validate the recipient's cost reporting[.]"[28] Alternatively, Knology petitions for a waiver of the Commission's rules "to ensure more effective implementation of overall policy, promote equity, and avoid the hardship that would be caused by the loss of support[.]"[29] Requests for review of USAC decisions are subject to de novo review by the Bureau.[30]

III. DISCUSSION

9. Based on our de novo review, the Bureau finds no error in the three audit findings issued by USAC for which Knology seeks review or in USAC's conclusions regarding the violations of our rules. Commission precedent has long recognized that recipients of high-cost support bear the burden to retain records sufficient to demonstrate that the funding they receive is consistent with the rules of the high-cost programs.[31] The records Knology presented to USAC fall short of those required by the Commission's rules to ensure compliance and to support the disbursement of high-cost support in 2020. For the reasons discussed below, we find that Knology failed to adequately maintain and present the continuing property records required by our accounting rules, notwithstanding the limited data it provided to USAC. We further find that Knology failed to maintain and present records for the allocution of payroll expenses. We also find that Knology misinterpreted and thus misapplied the hierarchy of principles for the allocation of common costs. Lastly, we do not find good cause to waive our accounting rules because no special circumstances justify deviation from our rules in this case.

A. Knology Failed to Maintain Continuing Property Records

10. We affirm USAC's finding regarding Knology's failure to maintain and present continuing property records for CWF equipment. We agree with USAC's audit finding and determination on appeal that Knology's asset roll-forward schedules for 2017, 2018, and 2019 are insufficient records to support its CWF asset costs.[32] Thus, Knology was unable to support $8,024,180 of CWF equipment reported, and we agree with USAC's audit finding for the recovery of high cost support in the amount of $307,419.[33]

11. In its petition, Knology argues that providing an asset roll forward of all CWF fulfills the intent of the Commission's rules by substantiating the existence and value of CWF[34] and that the proposed recovery amount is inconsistent with our rules.[35] The Bureau disagrees that the asset roll forward fulfills the requirements of section 32.2000(e).[36] Despite Knology's assertions to the contrary, an asset roll forward, in and of itself, does not provide the information required by section 32.2000(e) to clearly detail all the information needed to support the regulatory, cost, tax, management, and accounting information. We agree with USAC that the asset roll forward "grouped CWF assets by account number and did not provide any information regarding the individual assets within each account."[37] Specifically, Knology did not provide underlying information forming the basis of its asset roll forward describing the individual units, their physical locations, original cost, and costs associated with their installation as required by section 32.2000(e).[38] While Knology argues that the asset roll forward provided information for each class of property, it nevertheless acknowledges that its "inherited property records revealed no additional information for the in-service assets, including in-service dates."[39]

12. We are further unpersuaded by Knology's argument that USAC could have selected records of new additions for certain years during a "virtual site visit" on November 14, 2023, covering central office equipment (COE), but failed to do so.[40] USAC requested continuing property records as part of the audit on at least six separate occasions, and Knology failed to provide the continuing property records for CWF required by our rules, instead relying solely on its asset roll forward schedule.[41] Knology cannot shift its own obligations under our accounting rules to complain that USAC failed to request records during a virtual site visit or to request an actual field visit.[42]

13. Knology further argues that even if the Bureau concludes that it failed to maintain records of its CWF in accordance with our rules, USAC's recommendation to disallow Knology's CWF equipment in its entirety for the review period is inconsistent with the Commission's rules and precedent.[43] In support, Knology argues that USAC's audit finding conflicts with other similar audits in which carriers failed to maintain continuing property records but USAC found "no monetary effect" for the violations because it was able to verify key facts about the assets through the audit process.[44]

14. We reject these arguments and conclude that the full recovery of the high-cost support amount resulting from this audit finding is warranted and consistent with past precedent based on Knology's failure to substantiate costs for which it sought high-cost support due to inadequate continuing property records. The Commission has long recognized that "funds disbursed from the high-cost . . . support mechanism[] in violation of a Commission rule that implements the statute or a substantive program goal

In its appeal, Knology apparently suggests that it should not be held responsible, and have its high-cost support reduced, for the lack of records because it presented all records it possessed after acquiring Gracebo in 2012. See id. at 5, 8. We disagree. Our rules and precedent make clear that following a corporate merger, consolidation, or acquisition, a surviving corporate entity must comply with all program rules and requirements. In this regard, we expect a carrier, such as Knology, that acquires and assumes the obligations of an existing eligible telecommunications carrier that receives USF support to conduct all necessary due diligence commensurate with such a transaction, including, for instance, compliance with the receipt of high-cost support and program rules.

should be recovered."[45] In this regard, we highlight that a support recipient bears the burden of demonstrating compliance with the Commission's rules to justify the high-cost support it sought and received.[46] Although Knology repeatedly argues to the contrary,[47] we find that full recovery of the amount in this instance is consistent with our precedent and warranted due to the company's failure to substantiate its receipt of high-cost support with records required by the Commission's rules.[48] For example, in Nemont, the Bureau affirmed the disallowance of the entire support amount associated with the audit findings due to a lack of supporting documentation for the receipt of high-cost support from a rate of return carrier, stating that "[m]aintaining appropriate documentation to support information submitted in cost studies used to determine universal service support is critical to the Commission's ability to ensure that high-cost support is provided appropriately."[49] Recently, we likewise upheld recovery of the full support amount related to a rate-of-return carrier's inability to provide documentation for its payroll expense allocations to substantiate the support it received, noting that "funds disbursed from the high-cost . . . support mechanism[] in violation of a Commission rule that implements the statute or a substantive program goal should be recovered."[50]

15. Similarly in the instant appeal, Knology failed to comply with the Commission's rules by not maintaining and making available, as required, documentation supporting CWF asset costs for which it sought and received high-cost support.[51] Without accurate data and documentation to substantiate these costs, USAC was unable to determine whether Knology received the proper amount of universal service support related to these costs and, thus, unable to guard against waste, fraud, and abuse of the USF. We disagree with Knology's contention that an indeterminate amount of support is warranted rather than the disallowance of support for its CWF during the audit period.[52] Knology is attempting to shift its responsibility for properly documenting its costs to the auditor. As our precedent makes clear, it is "not the responsibility of the auditors or within the scope of [an] audit for the auditors to recalculate, reconstruct, or correct [a carrier's] records."[53] Accordingly, we agree with USAC's disallowance of Knology's CWF in its entirety due to insufficient documentation and the full recovery of associated support based on this audit finding.

16. We further find that Knology's reliance on unrelated audits by USAC of other incumbent local exchange carriers (ILECs) that failed to maintain detailed property records is misplaced. In one audit case, the ILEC similarly failed to follow our continuing property records; however, the ILEC provided USAC with other evidence enabling USAC to properly calculate depreciation expense and the associated depreciation for the High Cost program.[54] In contrast, Knology's submission of asset roll forwards documentation did not provide the detailed information required by our rules governing continuing property records to substantiate the support it sought and received.[55] Moreover, Knology's argument that it provided to USAC "visual documentation" of COE during the "Virtual Site Visit" is of little value given its failure to provide the required records for CWF.[56] We fail to see how evidence of its COE adequately fulfilled Knology's requirement to maintain continuing property records for CWF, as USAC found in the present audit.

17. Similarly, Knology's reliance on other unrelated audits for its contention that the removal of unsupported costs, such as its CWF costs, "has no basis in the Commission's rules[]" is misplaced.[57] The other audit inquiries cited by Knology, concerning other incumbent local exchange carriers that failed to maintain continuing property records, do not establish precedent for the proposition that the full recovery of support is unjustified. Importantly, as Knology itself recognizes in its Request for Review,[58] in the prior audits, which occurred from 1998 to 1999, the Commission subsequently declined to further investigate the carriers that failed to follow our recordkeeping requirements due to subsequent reforms of local and long distance telecommunications markets and setting of interstate access charges.[59] We disagree that the audit inquiries stand for the proposition that USAC may not recommend the removal of unsupported costs and that the Commission cannot recover associated universal service support based on its finding that a carrier failed to properly maintain continuing property records in accordance with Section 32.2000(e)(1)-(4).[60] We find for the reasons discussed above that the full removal of unsupported costs is consistent with Commission precedent.

B. Knology Did Not Maintain Adequate Documentation to Support its Payroll Allocation

18. We likewise affirm USAC's finding that Knology failed to maintain and provide adequate documentation to support the allocation of payroll expenses.[61] USAC was unable to confirm the actual payroll expense amounts Knology should have reported and appropriately deducted the payroll expense from the balances reported by Knology. Without the required records, we agree with USAC's recommendation for the recovery of legacy support in the amount of $153,197 during the disbursement period.

19. As part of the audit, USAC requested documentation from Knology, including payroll distribution reports and timesheets for certain employees, to determine whether it accurately reported its cost study balances.[62] Knology provided some documentation for employees for the relevant time period that USAC selected.[63] However, USAC found that Knology "did not provide adequate documentation to support the accuracy of its time entry reporting or payroll expense transactions."[64] According to USAC, Knology provided employee listings that included names and positions but no other supporting documentation to demonstrate whether the payroll expenses were based on direct labor hours or an allocation supported by cost-causative factors.[65] USAC concluded that Knology failed to comply with our document retention rules, and therefore, its payroll balances reported for high-cost purposes were not adequately substantiated.[66] USAC recommended the deduction of the unsubstantiated payroll expense and related benefit cost and payroll tax from amounts reported in accounts 6232, 6423, and 6623 for Knology's high cost filings.[67]

20. Knology, however, contends that its payroll records were maintained consistent with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) and "provided meaningful support for [its] payroll expenses as reported for USF purposes[.]"[68] Based on its records and production to USAC, Knology argues it "substantiated each employee inquiry" for the audit and that USAC incorrectly indicated that Knology "failed to respond" to the request for payroll records.[69] Knology further contends that USAC's removal of all payroll expenses is inconsistent with section 64.901(b)(3)(ii) and that it should be permitted to allocate payroll expenses based on a general allocator calculated from its ILEC and CLEC data using a ratio of all expenses directly assigned or attributed to its regulated ILEC and nonregulated CLEC pursuant to section 64.901(b)(3)(iii).[70]

21. Based on our de novo review of the record, we find that Knology failed to maintain and provide adequate payroll records to substantiate its cost allocation.[71] While Knology argues that it provided USAC with all payroll records in its possession for the selected employees,[72] the mere act of producing a spreadsheet of payroll records does not, in and of itself, fulfill its obligation to substantiate its allocation based on direct hours or cost causative factors as required by section 64.901(b)(3).[73] USAC did not find that Knology failed to produce payroll records, but rather, it was unable to verify the accuracy or reasonableness of the cost allocation based on the payroll records Knology did provide.[74] Based on our review of the payroll records, we agree with USAC that the spreadsheet was not adequate "to support the accuracy of its time entry reporting or payroll expense transactions[]" and that Knology's payroll distribution report did not support its payroll allocation methodology.[75] Even assuming that the spreadsheet is accurate, we find that the information provided on the spreadsheet did not allow us to allocate expenses to the regulated and unregulated entities. Thus, like USAC, we are unable to determine or corroborate the actual payroll expense amounts Knology should have reported and find that Knology was not in compliance with sections 54.320(b), 32.12, and 64.901(b)(3) of the Commission's rules.[76]

22. As we discussed above concerning Knology's failure to follow our rules to provide continuing property records for CWF, we also disagree with Knology that the total recovery of $153,197 in high-cost support based on its noncompliance is unwarranted and inconsistent with Commission precedent.[77] Knology failed to comply with the Commission's rules by not having, as required, supporting documentation available to USAC for its payroll expense allocations of its employees.[78] As a result, USAC was unable to determine whether Knology received the proper amount of universal service support related to these payroll expenses. Knology contends that there may be some indeterminate but proper amount of "personnel expense for regulated assets," but, as we explained above, Knology cannot shift its responsibilities onto USAC to arbitrarily determine what portion of payroll was recoverable and what portion should be allocated to its unregulated business in light of failure to maintain and provide adequate documentation.[79] We find that the full recovery of the support amount is consistent with our precedent and warranted in this case due to the lack of documentation that substantiates the allocation of expenses from which it received high-cost support.[80] Therefore, we agree with USAC's disallowance of Knology's payroll expense in its entirety due to insufficient documentation.

23. Knology further argues that even if the Commission concludes that USAC did not err in not accepting Knology's allocator, USAC should have followed the "hierarchy of principles" under section 64.901(b)(3) to allocate common costs based on a general allocator.[81] In addition to the Commission's Part 32 financial accounting rules for recording costs, investments and expenses,[82] section 64.901(b)(3) requires that common costs be grouped into homogeneous cost categories based on the direct analysis of the origin of costs themselves.[83] If a carrier cannot allocate common cost categories based on direct analysis, then it must allocate common cost categories using an indirect, cost-causative linkage to another cost category for which a direct assignment or allocation is available.[84] If no adequate direct or indirect measure can be devised, a carrier must allocate the cost category using "a general allocator computed by using the ratio of all expenses directly assigned or attributed to regulated and nonregulated activities."[85]

24. Knology asserts that under this hierarchy, in a case such as this where USAC does not accept its allocator, USAC should have required it to allocate costs based on a general allocator.[86] Under such a reading, a carrier could disregard our requirement to maintain documentation for determining direct or cost-causative allocation of costs where a general allocator could be more advantageous, effectively rendering extraneous the hierarchy to first directly assign costs and second allocate based on cost-causative linkage. We find such an interpretation of section 64.901(b)(3) to be unreasonable in light of the rule's plain language and history,[87] and decline to apply the general allocator under the present circumstances.

25. In this case, Knology was not able to apply the hierarchy of principles to directly analyze the origin of its payroll costs or use indirect, cost-causative linkage because, as discussed above, Knology failed to maintain the records required to substantiate its payroll allocution in violation of our rules.[88] If Knology maintained the required payroll records and applied the hierarchy of principles pursuant to section 64.901(b)(3), USAC would have been capable of accurately determining the correct separation and allocation of payroll expenses by direct analysis, indirect, cost-causative linkage, or application of a general allocator.[89] We find it unreasonable to apply a general allocator to Knology's payroll transactions in order to calculate high-cost support in light of its failure to maintain adequate documentation. Here, Knology did not maintain or present the required documentation to USAC, and therefore, USAC was unable to verify the accuracy of its records nor substantiate the appropriate separation method under section 64.901(b). Without the required records, Knology cannot simply require USAC to assume the application of a general allocator under section 64.901(b)(3)(iii) to substantiate high-cost support.[90] The purpose of the Commission's cost allocation rules is to protect ratepayers from bearing the costs and risks of nonregulated activities,[91] and it is particularly true that ratepayers should not bear the costs when a carrier's own violations of the Commission's rules prevented USAC from correctly applying our cost assignment rules. We therefore direct USAC to proceed with the recovery of support related to Knology's non-compliance with the Commission's rules for inadequate documentation of payroll transactions.

C. Knology Did Not Properly Calculate a General Allocator Ratio in Accordance with Section 64.901(b)(3)(iii)

26. As part of the audit and pursuant to section 64.901(b)(3), USAC reviewed Knology's affiliate transactions for administrative charges and common expenses to determine how it separated costs between regulated and nonregulated affiliates.[92] In the audit report, USAC found that these common costs were allocated to regulated and nonregulated "based on an average of revenue and the number of Incumbent Local Exchange Carrier (ILEC) Markets in the region, which are not cost-causative factors."[93]

27. Knology acknowledges in its Request for Review that pursuant to section 64.903(b)(3)(ii), it "allocate[d] indirect costs to the affiliates based on an average of revenue and [m]arket locations."[94] In other words, "[Knology] uses data on both the number of locations served and the revenue generated by the regulated and unregulated affiliates to allocate administrative expenses and common costs between [the affiliates]."[95] Knology contends that USAC erred in its analysis of these indirect, common costs between regulated and unregulated affiliates.[96] First, Knology contends that USAC incorrectly concluded that administrative and management costs are not cost-causative.[97] Second, Knology argues that even if such costs are not cost-causative, USAC must apply the general allocator under section 64.901(b)(3)(iii).[98] Knology's reading and argument for the application of section 64.901(b)(3) are incorrect.

28. The Commission explained that under the cost allocation hierarchy, ". . . all costs with either a direct or an indirect causal link to either regulated or nonregulated activities will be directly assigned to the appropriate activity. The remaining costs will then be apportioned between the regulated and nonregulated activities. Cost causational attribution factors will be used whenever possible, and the remaining costs will be apportioned on the basis of a general allocator."[99] In this regard, ". . . common costs should be allocated based upon a direct measure of relative use if possible, otherwise on an indirect measure of use[.]"[100]

29. We find that Knology improperly allocated administrative and management costs under section 64.901(b)(3). In this instance, we have no evidence in the record to determine that the general costs for "administrative expenses and management costs" were assigned by an indirect, cost-causative linkage to a cost category based on analysis of the costs origin as required by section 64.901(b)(3)(ii).[101] We are not persuaded by Knology's contention that that market locations and relative revenues are cost-causative simply because they "bear directly" on administrative costs.[102] While in the context of calculating a general allocator ratio under section 64.901(b)(3)(iii), we nevertheless find the Commission's observation that revenues are not cost-causative instructive here: "revenues measure only the ability of an activity to bear costs, and not the amount of resources used by the activity."[103] We find that Knology's allocation of common costs based on revenues and market locations is not cost-causative and not in accordance with our rule requiring cost-causative linkage to another cost category, or group of cost categories, for which a direct assignment or allocation is available under section 64.901(b)(3)(ii). In making this determination, we continue to ensure that common costs for nonregulated activities are not subsidized by regulated affiliates, and ultimately the USF. Thus, based on the record, we find that USAC did not err in concluding that Knology's application of revenues in determining the allocation of common costs pursuant to section 64.901(b)(3)(ii) was incorrect.[104]

30. Knology further argues that USAC should have applied the general allocator under section 64.901(b)(3)(iii) for the allocation of the administrative and management costs. At the outset, we note that during the audit and the direct appeal to USAC, Knology appeared to argue for the allocation of common costs using a general allocator under section 64.901(b)(3)(iii) based on its ratio that was calculated using revenues and market locations.[105] In the present appeal, however, Knology now argues that the Commission should "direct USAC to apply its general allocator of 64 percent to allocate the expenses [for administrative and management costs]."[106] According to Knology, the 64 percent was calculated from its "ILEC and CLEC data using the ratio of all expenses directly assigned or attributed to its regulated ILEC and nonregulated CLEC."[107]

31. Assuming that Knology's common costs could not be directly or indirectly assigned after a thorough audit review of documentation in accordance with the cost allocation hierarchy, section 64.901(b)(3)(iii) provides that a cost category shall be allocated using a general allocator "computed by using the ratio of all expenses directly assigned or attributed to regulated and nonregulated activities."[108] To the extent Knology seeks to apply a ratio that is derived based on revenues as noted by USAC in the audit and USAC appeal, such a ratio would be improper under section 64.901(b)(3)(iii) to allocate its costs for administrative charges and common expenses.[109] As Knology recognizes, that section specifically states that a "general allocator [is] computed by using the ratio of all expenses directly assigned or attributed to regulated and nonregulated activities."[110] As the rule unambiguously states, the general allocator is to be determined based on a ratio of expenses, not revenues.[111] Moreover, the Commission expressly excluded a carrier's revenues as a factor when proposing and adopting a general allocator for common costs in order to prevent subsidization of nonregulated activities by regulated operations.[112] Because the record is unclear as to whether the general allocator ratio of 64 percent is calculated using revenues or whether Knology provided the necessary documentation for USAC's review as part of the audit, we find it improper to apply the general allocator for the allocation of common expenses and administrative charges in contravention of section 64.901(b)(3)(iii) following the conclusion of the audit and USAC appeal.

D. Knology Has Not Demonstrated Good Cause Required for a Waiver of the Commission's Rules

32. Knology argues alternatively that, to the extent the Commission concludes that it has not substantially complied with its requirements, the Commission should "waive its rules to ensure Knology does not lose its high-cost support."[113] Knology argues that a waiver is appropriate in this case because despite the lack of required documentation, USAC is able "to confirm that Knology's equipment and expenses are genuine and its costs are reasonably allocated[]" and the waiver would "ensure more effective implementation of overall policy, promote equity, and avoid the hardship that would be caused by the loss of support to a rural ILEC."[114]

33. Generally, the Commission's rules may be waived for good cause shown.[115] Waiver of the Commission's rules is appropriate only if both: (1) special circumstances warrant a deviation from the general rule, and (2) such deviation will serve the public interest.[116] We do not find good cause justifying a waiver here. We do not agree that a financial hardship, if any, from the loss of high-cost support as a result of violating our accounting rules constitutes special circumstances for a waiver of our accounting rules. The fact that a provider may be harmed by not receiving high-cost support it was not able to fully substantiate is not unique to Knology and, thus, does not constitute special circumstances. Otherwise, a waiver would always be justified in the context of USF support, inconsistent with the FCC's waiver rules. With regard to the public interest, we note the purpose of our cost allocation rules is "to protect ratepayers from bearing the costs and risks of nonregulated activities" and "to deter unreasonable cost shifting both from cost misallocations of joint and common costs and from affiliate transactions."[117] In this case, a waiver of our accounting rules that would permit Knology to retain high-cost support that USAC cannot verify as accurate and reasonable due to a lack of documentation and the improper allocation methodology directly contravenes the significant public interest of protecting ratepayers. The precedents cited by Knology are not persuasive.[118] In those cited cases, the Bureau granted waivers to incumbent local exchange carriers that failed to timely file certain data to receive local switching support based on finding special circumstances for each of the late filings and that the public interest would be served due to the impacts to ensure consumers have access to just, reasonable and affordable rates from the loss of local switching support.[119] In contrast, as explained above, we do not find special circumstances based on any hardship resulting from the loss of support and the significant public interest in protecting taxpayers

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we grant in part and deny in part a request filed by Marquette Adams Telephone Cooperative (MATC) seeking review of a decision of the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC).[1] We conclude that USAC properly sought recovery of federal universal service fund (USF or Fund) high-cost support provided to MATC based on the company's failure to comply with the Commission's rules for the six findings at issue and deny MATC's request for waiver of the applicable rules. We direct USAC to proceed with the recovery for four of the six findings as indicated herein and remand two findings to USAC for further review of the appropriate recovery amount.

II. BACKGROUND

2. MATC is an incumbent rate-of-return local exchange carrier (ILEC) offering exchange and exchange access telecommunications services in Marquette and Adams counties in Wisconsin, Study Area Code 330908.[2] The audit of MATC performed by CliftonLarsenAllen (auditor) on USAC's behalf covered the 2020 disbursement period.[3] At that time, MATC's wholly-owned subsidiary, Marquette Adams Communications, LLC (MAC) also provided broadband internet access, video, and long distance service. Since then, however, MATC and MAC have combined operations and now "operate[] as a single entity" as of the end of 2023.[4] During the relevant audit review period, MATC received Connect America Fund Broadband Loop Support (CAF BLS), High Cost Loop Support (HCLS), and Connect

America Fund Intercarrier Compensation (CAF ICC) support from the high-cost program totaling more than $3.2 million.[5]

3. Incumbent local exchange carriers subject to rate-of-return regulation develop their revenue requirements, used to calculate both rates and high-cost universal service support, in accordance with a four-step regulatory process. First, carriers record their costs, including investments and expenses, into various accounts in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts (USOA) prescribed by Part 32 of the Commission's rules.[6] Second, carriers assign the costs in those accounts to regulated and non-regulated activities in accordance with Part 64 of the Commission's rules to ensure that the costs of non-regulated activities will not be recovered by regulated service rates or through universal service support.[7] Third, carriers separate the regulated costs between the interstate and intrastate jurisdictions, as well as among cost categories, in accordance with the Commission's Part 36 separations rules.[8] Finally, carriers apportion the interstate regulated costs among the interexchange services and rate elements that form the cost basis for their interstate access tariffs pursuant to the Commission's Part 69 rules, as well as for high-cost universal service support pursuant to Part 54.[9]

4. The revised audit report was released on December 14, 2023 and identified eight findings of non-compliance and recommended a recovery action of $178,494 against MATC for the overpayment of support during the relevant audit period.[10] In response, USAC issued a letter to recover $168,747.[11] On February 12, 2024, MATC filed a partial request for review with USAC, seeking reversal or revision of six of the eight findings in audit report as follows.[12] MATC did not appeal the remaining findings.[13]

III. DISCUSSION

A. Improper Valuation of Affiliate Transaction

6. The affiliate transactions rules in section 32.27 are intended to protect the local ratepayer by preventing "the ability of carriers to shift the investment risk of nonregulated activities to the regulated entity and its ratepayers."[17] Sections 32.27(a)-(c) of the Commission's rules "require incumbent LECs, in transactions with their affiliates, to account for those transactions in 'direct' fashion, i.e., by recording the revenue or expenses associated with the transaction at the prevailing price (if the transaction qualifies for such treatment) or fair market value in the appropriate investment or expense accounts" or by alternative means specified in section 32.27(b) (for asset transfers) or section 32.27(c) (for exchanges of services).[18] Section 32.27(b) addresses "[a]ssets sold or transferred between a carrier and its affiliate," and, as applicable here, states that "[w]hen the total aggregate annual value of the asset(s) does not reach or exceed $500,000, the asset(s) shall be recorded at net book cost."[19] Section 32.27(c) states that "other services" i.e., services other than tariffed services or non-tariffed services that qualify for prevailing price valuation, "sold by or transferred to a carrier from its affiliate . . . shall be recorded at no more than the lower of fair market value and fully distributed cost."[20] In the case of services for which the "aggregate annual value of that service" is below $500,000, the carrier must record the transaction at fully distributed cost.[21] Section 32.27(d) describes how a sale of an asset or service qualifies for "prevailing price valuation."[22]

7. In the 2023 Audit Report, the auditor found that MATC had "leased plant vehicles from [its] affiliate" and because the transaction was "an asset transfer of less than $500,000 in value between" MATC and its affiliate, "the transaction was to be recorded at net book cost" pursuant to section 32.27(b).[23] Instead, the auditor found that MATC's "valuation of the transaction was recorded at fully distributed cost," resulting in MATC overstating its account balances and the auditor recommending $47,834 in recovery.[24]

8. In MATC's response to the finding, MATC indicated that it understood that the transaction "was not appropriately valued at net book cost" and stated that it would "revalue this transaction to reflect an appropriate depreciation rate on the affiliate assets, and to reflect an appropriate expense calculation on the ILEC books."[25]

9. However, MATC later appealed the finding to USAC, claiming that the lease was "properly valued at fully distributed cost" pursuant to section 32.27(c) of the Commission's rules because "[v]ehicle leases from an affiliate constitute services."[26] MATC also claimed that its "fully distributed cost for the leases in question included a rate of return of 10% on the vehicles, which is standard under rate-of-return ILEC accounting requirements," and indicated the auditor "appear[ed] to have used a depreciation rate of 10 years in its calculations," while the Rural Utilities Service had noted a 17% "median depreciation rate for vehicles."[27]

10. USAC denied MATC's appeal, stating that the auditor had appropriately applied section 32.27(b).[28] USAC also found that MATC "did not provide additional documentation with its appeal to substantiate its claim."[29] MATC now seeks review of USAC's denial claiming that USAC's determination that the leasing of motor vehicles is an asset transfer subject to section 32.27(b) of the Commission's rules was "an incorrect interpretation of the Commission's rules" and that MATC had accurately recorded the "leases as services at fully distributed cost" pursuant to section 32.27(c) of the Commission's rules.[30] MATC also reiterates its claim that the auditor's "cost effect calculation" was "overstated" and "should be recalculated" due to the auditor's use of "an effective depreciation rate of 10 years" which MATC claims "is significantly higher than the industry standard of 5 years."[31] MATC also raised the new claim that auditor's "cost effect calculation" included "amounts that were redistributed and also disallowed in" the improper distribution of overhead expenses finding as discussed below, "effectively double-counting those amounts."[32]

11. Alternatively, MATC seeks a waiver of 32.27(b). As a general matter, MATC claims that a waiver of the rules associated with all of the auditor's findings would serve the public interest because "[a]ny recovery of support will negatively impact MATC's ability" to deploy and operate voice and broadband networks.[33] Moreover, MATC claims that the "Commission should be especially hesitant to authorize the recovery of USF funding that has already been disbursed and spent" given that at the time MATC filed its request, a Supreme Court decision was pending on the Fifth Circuit's holding that "Universal Service Fund . . . contributions are a 'misbegotten tax' levied in violation of the nondelegation doctrine of Article I, § 1 of the Constitution."[34] The Supreme Court has since overturned the Fifth Circuit's decision.[35] MATC claims that special circumstances warrant waiver of the rules associated with all the findings given that "MATC has essentially had to revisit the entire audit in order to address these issues" because the auditor issued a revised audit report in 2023 that included findings that MATC claims that the auditor had indicated were "verbal" and thus would not be included in the report.[36] Specific to this finding, MATC also claims that "[a] waiver would allow MATC to properly realize the cost and efficiency benefits of leasing vehicles from its affiliate," which MATC claims "was the original intention of distinguishing between asset transfers and the provision of services and supplies under the affiliate transaction rules."[37]

12. We agree with USAC that the auditor properly applied section 32.27(b) to MATC's lease of its affiliate's plant vehicles and thus the auditor should have recorded the motor vehicle leases at net book cost.[38] MATC makes the conclusory claim that "plant leases from an affiliate to a carrier are a service, not an asset transfer," citing a 2018 tariff investigation order as precedent for when the Commission applied section 32.27(c) to another carrier's lease.[39] However MATC fails to note the difference between a finance lease, which would constitute the transfer of an asset so that 32.27(b) would apply, and an operating lease.

13. To determine whether a lease constitutes a transfer of an asset, it must be determined whether the lease at issue is a finance lease.[40] A finance lease "is effectively a purchase of the underlying asset—the lessor transfers the right to control the use of the underlying identified asset to the lessee for a period of time in exchange for consideration."[41] To be considered a finance lease, the lease must meet one of the following criteria: 1) "[t]ransfers ownership of the asset by the end of the lease term;" 2) "[g]rants the lessee the option to purchase the asset, and that option is reasonably certain to be exercised;" 3) "[t]he lease term is for the major part of the remaining economic life of the asset;" 4) "[t]he present value of the lease payments plus any residual value guarantee equals or exceeds substantially all of the asset's fair value;" or 5) "[t]he asset is of such specialized nature that only the lessee can use it without major modifications."[42]

14. Here, MATC's lease agreement for the motor vehicles had a term of {[ ]}[43] The length of the initial term in addition to the fact that the lease could potentially go on indefinitely, satisfies the criterion of having a lease term that "is for the major part of the remaining economic life of the asset," which qualifies the lease as a finance lease.[44] MATC does not make any arguments about why the auditor should have instead treated its lease of motor vehicles as an operating lease that should have been subject to section 32.27(c).[45]

15. We also are not persuaded by MATC's claim that auditor improperly applied a depreciation rate of 10 years in calculating the recovery.[46] MATC did not raise this issue until it appealed the audit report,[47] and then only provided evidence to suggest that the Rural Utilities Service (RUS) had determined a median rate for depreciation for motor vehicles is closer to 5 years.[48] MATC has failed to explain why it was improper for the auditor to use the same depreciation rate used by MATC when calculating the support recovery and why the auditor should have instead used the median depreciation rate determined by RUS.[49]

16. However, while we agree with the auditor's application of section 32.27(b) and its use of a 10-year depreciation rate, we remand this finding to USAC to address MATC's claims that the auditor in effect double recovered support for this finding and the finding for improper distribution of overhead expenses that we affirm below.[50] Based on the auditor's audit report, it does appear that the auditor made adjustments for some of the same line items for both findings.[51] Accordingly, we remand this finding to USAC and instruct USAC to remove any instances of double recovery and recalculate the cost effect for this finding.

17. We separately decline to waive section 32.27(b). Generally, the Commission's rules may be waived for good cause shown.[52] A petition for waiver of the Commission's Part 32 rules must "expressly demonstrate[]" that: (1) "existing peculiarities or unusual circumstances warrant a departure from a prescribed procedure or technique;" (2) "a specifically defined alternative procedure or technique will result in a substantially equivalent or more accurate portrayal of operating results or financial condition, consistent with the principles" of Part 32; and (3) "the application of such alternative procedure will maintain or improve uniformity in substantive results among telecommunications companies."[53]

18. As an initial matter, we disagree with MATC's claims that it would generally serve the public interest to waive the rules associated with the auditor's findings. While it is the Commission's goal to promote the deployment and operation of voice and broadband services in rural areas and recovering MATC's support will mean that MATC will have less support to accomplish this goal,[54] we have also found that "[h]olding that the public interest prong of the waiver standard is met whenever a carrier is faced with a reduction in support would effectively negate the public interest requirement, as this criterion would be met any time application of a rule resulted in reduced support."[55] The Commission must balance its goal of supporting the deployment and operation of voice and broadband networks with its responsibility as steward of the Universal Service Fund to protect it from waste, fraud, and abuse, and here we find on balance that ensuring that we are protecting ratepayers by enforcing the affiliate transactions rules outweighs the potential impact on MATC's ability to deploy broadband.[56] We find on balance that incentivizing carriers to maintain accurate records so that the Commission can ensure that support is being used properly weighs more in favor of the public interest.[57] Specific to this finding, MATC failed to allege any "existing peculiarities or unusual circumstances" that warrant a departure from section 32.27(b). In addition, MATC does not provide any support or analysis for its claims that waiving the rule would "allow MATC to properly realize the cost and efficiency benefits of leasing vehicles from its affiliates . . . ."[58] MATC cites the Joint Cost Order to explain that "subjecting [asset transfers and the provision of services] to the same valuation requirements 'would discourage, if not eliminate, the incentive for certain service activities to be provided in a more efficient manner than that which the regulated entity would alone achieve," however, as we discussed above, by virtue of being a finance lease, the lease is treated as an asset transfer and MATC's argument fails to recognize the distinction between finance and operating leases and their different treatment under accounting rules.[59] MATC does not explain how waiving the rule would be consistent with the Commission's goal of "prevent[ing] cost shifting to ratepayers by means of improper transfer pricing."[60] Moreover, while MATC cites several situations where the Bureau waived section 32.27 to permit carriers "to avoid unnecessary expense,"[61] in these cases the relevant Divisions of the Bureau emphasized the "limited" or "short" duration of the leases and that these short-term leases were connected to one-time corporate transactions, like a sale or separation of affiliated companies—such unusual circumstances are not present here.[62] For the same reasons, MATC did not "expressly demonstrate" that the factors for waiving a part 32 rule have been met—for example, it does not even address how "the application of such alternative procedure will maintain or improve uniformity in substantive results as among telecommunications companies."[63]

B. Inaccurate Continuing Property Records

19. Section 254(e) states a "carrier that receives [universal service] support shall use that support only for the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which the support is intended."[64] To this end, the Commission's rules require that rate-of-return carriers maintain and establish accurate continuing property records (CPR) that include certain details, including "the description, location, date of placement, the essential details of construction, and the original cost . . . of the property record units."[65] A "carrier is required by Part 32 to maintain a detailed inventory and other records of its telecommunications plant in service so that the equipment may be readily spot-checked for proof of physical existence."[66] The Commission's rules also make clear that "[c]arriers authorized to receive universal service high-cost support are subject to random compliance audits and other investigations to ensure compliance with program rules and orders."[67] Carriers are required to "retain all records required to demonstrate to auditors that the support received was consistent with the universal service rules" and must maintain such documentation "for at least ten years from the receipt of funding."[68]

Carriers must make such documentation available upon request to the Commission, the Bureau, and USAC.[69] Carriers failing to comply with public interest obligations or any other terms and conditions of the high-cost support program "may be subject to further action, including . . . reductions in support amounts."[70]

20. In verifying the footage of buried fiber optic (BFO) during a site visit, the auditor determined that "only a portion of the entire footage sampled from the CPR was supported in the field" and concluded that MATC "contained inaccurate CPRs for their [Cable and Wire Facilities (C&WF)] account balance (account 2410) as reported in its High Cost filings."[71] As a result, the auditor found that the monetary effect was $51,392.[72] In response to the initial audit finding, MATC acknowledged that "[a] lack of information in [its] records hampered [its] ability to reconcile [its] property records to [its] mapping system, leading to problems locating the assets in the field," and also stated that it would "update [its] record keeping procedures to identify all assets accurately."[73]

21. However, in its appeal of the final Audit Report to USAC, MATC challenged the finding claiming that after working with "multiple consultants" on its CPRs, several issues were identified, including that the auditor "mistakenly interpreted" the "beginning balance as of December 31, 2016" used by MATC's consultant as the "2016 additions," which MATC claims "caused [the auditor] to incorrectly determine only a portion of MATC's BFO was supported by its CPRs."[74] MATC claims it shared with the auditor "the prior CPRs that the 2016 beginning balance was based upon . . . but [the auditor] declined to integrate this information into its audit findings."[75] Moreover, MATC acknowledged that its "CPRs do not necessarily correctly describe the location of a given asset in each exchange," because "certain construction invoices covering assets deployed in both of its exchanges were split evenly between them in the books rather than allocated specifically" and the audit sample did not include both exchanges.[76] MATC claims to have explained the issues to the auditor and provided further documentation, but the auditor did not revise its findings to account for this information.[77] MATC conceded that "its CPRs require better maintenance and [it] has committed to doing so."[78] USAC denied the appeal, finding that MATC "did not submit any supporting documentation with its appeal for USAC to review to substantiate its arguments."[79]

22. In its request for review of USAC's denial, MATC acknowledges that "although the CPR reviewed does overstate the BFO in MATC's Brooks exchange, CPRs for its other exchanges plus other records do support MATC's total BFO," and that the auditor "used . . . inflated balances in [its] audit report, creating an inaccurate calculation" of support to be recovered.[80] MATC also claims that the auditor refused to correct an overstatement by "approximately 60%" of the monetary effect calculation due to the BFO that was part of the sample being "erroneously overheaded by MATC at year end 2016 with legitimate costs of other assets, which were neither part of the asset sampled nor verified by the auditor during the audit,"[81] and that MATC requests that the Commission either "reverse USAC's determination entirely or, at a minimum, reverse its monetary effect calculation."[82]

23. Alternatively, MATC seeks waiver of sections 32.2000(e) and (f)(1)-(2) of the Commission's rules. In addition to the general arguments MATC makes for waiving the rules associated with all of the findings, MATC argues that this particular "violation of the rule is minor" given that "the only inaccuracy in MATC's records is the location (i.e., which exchange) of the BFO," and the auditor's calculation of the cost effect was determined using the "percentage of all of MATC's BFO, not just the sample," which resulted in overstating the impact as compared to the "actual, real impact."[83]

24. The support recipient bears the burden of demonstrating compliance with the Commission's rules to justify the high-cost support received.[84] Based on our review of the record and the circumstances before us, we find that full recovery of the amount recommended in the audit finding is warranted due to the company's non-compliance with the Commission's rules. MATC is attempting to shift responsibility for properly documenting its costs to the auditor and prolong the audit by claiming, without support, that the auditor disregarded the additional information that MATC provided to "substantiate its BFO" and "correct" what MATC claims are calculations that are "overstated by approximately 60%."[85] The Bureau has found that it is "not the responsibility of the auditors or within the scope of [an] audit for the auditors to recalculate, reconstruct, or correct [a carrier's] records."[86] Rather, the Bureau has held it is a carrier's "responsibility to comply with the Commission's rules by maintaining complete, accurate records."[87] To allow for such post-audit corrections "would increase the time and cost of the audit," and would "improperly shift the responsibility for properly documenting costs from the carrier to the auditors."[88]

25. Even if it were the auditor's responsibility to use MATC's evidence to try to reconstruct or correct MATC's CPRs, MATC does not provide evidence to support its claims that it raised concerns with the auditor during the audit, MATC did not raise its concerns in response to the audit report to give the auditor an opportunity to respond to MATC's claims, and it is not clear whether the Exhibits that MATC is using to support its appeal contain information that was shared with the auditors.[89] Without further information, MATC does not demonstrate that the auditor failed to exercise "reasonable care and professional skepticism" in conducting the audit.[90] The Bureau has also declined requests to require auditors to consider late-filed evidence, finding that "requiring auditors to accept new evidence after their reports have been finalized would unnecessarily prolong and increase the costs of audits and make it difficult for auditors to draw final conclusions about an auditee's compliance."[91] These same considerations apply here, where MATC conceded the auditor's findings and now in the context of its appeal is raising new claims that were not included in its audit response, potentially prolonging an audit for a finding of $51,392 as compared to the over $3.2 million in high-cost support that MATC received during the audit period.[92]

26. The Commission has stated "funds disbursed from the high-cost . . . support mechanism[] in violation of a Commission rule that implements the statute or a substantive program goal should be recovered."[93] Here, MATC failed to comply with the Commission's rules by not having, as required,[94] accurate CPRs that can "readily be spot-checked for proof of physical existence,"[95] which MATC acknowledges.[96]. The Bureau has found that "[m]aintaining appropriate documentation to support information submitted in cost studies used to determine universal service support is critical to the Commission's ability to ensure that high-cost support is provided appropriately."[97] Accordingly, MATC is only entitled to retain support for which it can demonstrate it was entitled to receive during the course of the audit.

27. We also decline to waive sections 32.2000(e) and (f)(1)-(2) of the Commission's rules. As an initial matter, we addressed above why we were not persuaded by MATC's general claims about waiving the rules related to all of the auditor's findings that MATC chose to appeal.[98] Specific to this claim, despite MATC's characterization as its error as "minor,"[99] we find on balance that incentivizing carriers to maintain accurate records so that the Commission can ensure that support is being used properly weighs more in favor of the public interest than permitting a carrier to retain its support. We are also not convinced that MATC satisfies the other condition for waiving Part 32 of the Commission's rules, requiring MATC to "expressly demonstrate[]" certain factors.[100]

28. Here, the issues result from an error on MATC's part which is not an "existing peculiarity or unusual circumstances."[101] Moreover, rather than proposing a "specifically defined alternative procedure or technique,"[102] MATC is instead asking us to overlook an error in MATC's records. And finally, MATC does not explain why overlooking MATC's error "will maintain or improve uniformity in substantive results as among telecommunications companies."[103] Rather, we find doing so would more likely undermine such goals.

C. Support Not Used For Intended Purposes

29. Under federal law, high-cost support provided to an eligible telecommunications carrier (ETC) must be used "only for the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which the support is intended."[104] In 2015, the Commission released a public notice reminding carriers of their obligation to use high-cost support for its intended purposes.[105] The public notice contained a "non-exhaustive" list of expenditures that cannot be recovered through the high-cost program because they are "not necessary to the provision of supported services."[106] In 2018, noting recent "large-scale abuses in the recovery of expenses that are unrelated to the provision of . . . universal service supported services," the Commission codified in section 54.7(c) of the Commission's rules an updated non-exhaustive list of expenses categories that cannot be recovered through high-cost support.[107] Prior to (and since) the effective date of this change to section 54.7, paragraph (a) of the rule included the above-quoted language from section 254(e).[108]

30. During its audit of MATC, the auditor reviewed MATC's general ledger and supporting documentation and found ineligible expense transactions "related to legal retainer, gifts, memberships, dues, subscriptions, donations, scholarships, etc., that were not necessary for the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities."[109] The auditor stated that because the Commission's 2018 Ineligible Expenses Order was released during the audit's data period, "the FCC rule effective during the audit period [47 CFR § 54.7(a)] states, 'a carrier that receives federal universal service support shall use that support only for the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which the support is intended.'"[110] The auditor also indicated that it relied on the Commission's 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice.[111] The auditor found that MATC "should have removed the entire value of these unallowable transactions during its cost study process," and recommended a cost recovery of $23,969.[112] MATC responded by acknowledging "some ineligible expenses" had been "included in the High Cost filing," citing a "misunderstanding of notice effective date and inadequate procedures for identifying ineligible expenses."[113]

31. However, MATC later appealed the finding, claiming that the Commission's 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice "does not . . . support many of the exclusions that [the auditor] identifies."[114] For example, MATC claimed that its Buried Cable Expenses "are routine inventory adjustments for materials directly used for maintaining and upgrading MATC's buried cable" despite not being "adjusted out of materials for each individual project."[115] MATC also identified certain expenses that were not specifically identified as excludable in the Commission's 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice but were identified by the auditor as excludable, including legal retainers, employee uniforms, and certain dues.[116] USAC denied the appeal, explaining that even though the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice did not specifically state that the expenses identified by MATC are unallowable, the Commission's list was "non-exhaustive" and the fact such expenses were not specifically on the list does not preclude a finding that they are ineligible.[117]

32. In its request for review of USAC's denial, MATC reiterates its claims that the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice did not specifically list the expenses identified by the auditor and "USAC made no attempt to discuss this fact or explain its finding to the contrary."[118] MATC also claims that USAC lacks the authority "to make interpretations of Commission policy or rules, such as determining what other expenses may or may not be included in a non-exhaustive list," and that rather than MATC having the burden of demonstrating the expenses were allowable, "it is up to the auditor to support its conclusions appropriately in the first place."[119] Alternatively, MATC seeks waiver of section 54.7(a) of the Commission's rules and the Commission's 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice claiming that it would be in the public interest to "allow MATC to properly recover and continue to deploy broadband in a timely and efficient manner," and noting that because the Commission's 2018 Ineligible Expenses Order "was not effective during the audit period, the monetary impact calculated by

[the auditor] should not be recovered."[120] MATC also acknowledges that some of the expenses that the auditor listed as disallowed "were misidentified in its records" and claims to have "since corrected these records and implemented better accounting measures to avoid future issues."[121]

33. MATC has failed to meet its burden of showing that the expenses at issue were for the "provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which the support is intended,"[122] and thus full recovery for the expenses is warranted.[123] While we acknowledge that the Commission did not list all of the expenses at issue in this audit in its 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice, it made very clear that the list it provided was "non-exhaustive" and put carriers on notice that they have the burden to ensure their support is being used for its intended purpose by stating "ETCs should take all necessary steps to ensure that they and their agents, contractors, consultants, and representatives scrupulously adhere to the rules governing legacy high-cost and Connect America Fund program support."[124]

34. We also disagree with MATC's claim that USAC could not affirm the auditor's exclusion of expenses not included in the non-exhaustive list that the Commission provided in the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice.[125] As an initial matter, we note that it was the auditor, not USAC, that identified the ineligible expenses, applying section 54.7(a) of the Commission's rules and the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice. While we acknowledge that USAC cannot "make policy, interpret unclear provisions of the statute or rules, or interpret the intent of Congress,"[126] we disagree that USAC is unable to determine whether support is being used for its intended purposes. As noted above, there is nothing to suggest that the auditor or USAC were limited to just the specific examples in determining which expenses were ineligible, and we disagree that USAC is "mak[ing] policy, interpret[ing] unclear provisions of the statute or rules, or interpret[ing] the intent of Congress" by applying the guidance provided by the Commission to affirm the auditor's identification of expenses that are ineligible.[127] Moreover, while MATC claims it was the auditor's responsibility to support its findings that the expenses were unallowable,[128] MATC appears to be shifting its responsibility to comply with the rules to the auditor that only has what is reported as expenses and any documentation provided by MATC to support its conclusions. The Commission has previously stated "[t]he burden is on recipients of high-cost funding to retain records sufficient to demonstrate that the funding they receive is consistent with the rules of the high-cost programs."[129] If MATC disagreed with the auditor's findings, then MATC had the opportunity to dispute the auditor's findings and provide evidence to demonstrate that the expenses were connected to the intended purpose of the support.[130] Instead, MATC conceded that its "inadequate procedures for identifying ineligible expenses caused some ineligible expenses to be included in the High Cost filing"[131] and only later reversed course to raise these issues in its appeal and request for review of USAC's denial.

35. Irrespective of USAC's authority to affirm an auditor's identification of ineligible expenses beyond the examples identified in the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice, the Bureau has the authority to review USAC's decisions de novo.[132] The Commission has previously held that "[a]bsent statutory requirements to the contrary or factors warranting a heightened standard, the Commission generally applies the 'preponderance of the evidence' standard in informal agency adjudications."[133] We find that MATC has not demonstrated that the excluded expenses are related to the provision, maintenance, or upgrading of supported services by the preponderance of evidence. While the auditor disallowed expenses "related to legal retainer, gifts, memberships, dues, subscriptions, donations, scholarships, etc., that were not necessary for the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities,"[134] MATC only very generally describes in its appeal and request for review which expenses should not be disallowed, makes conclusory statements about the expenses being allowable, and does not provide any evidence for its claims that they are allowable expenses.

36. For example, while MATC claims that its Buried Cable Expenses were "directly used for maintaining and upgrading MATC's buried cable," the fact that the expenses were not "adjusted out of materials for each individual project" makes it difficult to determine whether the expenses were directly related to the carrier's supported services.[135] MATC is responsible for maintaining accurate books and providing the information necessary to the auditor to conduct its audit. As we noted above, it is a carrier's "responsibility to comply with the Commission's rules by maintaining complete, accurate records" and the Bureau has found that auditors are not required to accept late filed evidence.[136] Without further evidence about how these expenses are tied to MATC's provision, maintenance, or upgrading of supported services, MATC has failed to meet its burden to show that these expenses were for the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which high-cost support is intended.

37. In its appeal, MATC also claims that legal retainers, employee uniforms, and dues were improperly excluded by the auditor, but it is not clear for which specific expenses MATC is continuing to seek relief for in its request.[137] MATC explains in its request for review that some of the records for legal retainers, employee uniforms, and dues were "misidentified" and instead were "special costs for attending educational seminars" that MATC claims are allowable expenses.[138] MATC also appears to now concede that dues "are not includable."[139] To the extent MATC is seeking relief for these expenses, it is not clear how the auditor could have known that these were includable expenses when MATC made an error in its records and did not dispute the auditor's findings in its response to audit.

38. If MATC is still seeking to have support associated with these expenses restored, MATC makes no effort to explain how these expenses are connected to the intended purpose of support or provide evidence to support such a claim and therefore has failed to meet its burden. Instead, MATC argues in its appeal that the auditor should not have excluded these expenses because they were not identified in the non-exhaustive list in the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice.[140] Regarding dues, the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice explicitly explained that support could not be recovered for "[m]embership fees and dues in clubs and organizations."[141] Even though the 2018 Ineligible Expenses Order later clarified that this extended to dues for industry organizations, the 2018 Ineligible Expenses Order stated that only new prohibitions would be applied on prospective basis.[142] The prohibition on dues was an existing prohibition, and the FCC's decision to later provide more clarity on what it meant did not preclude a finding based on the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice that dues for a trade association would be prohibited.

39. We also decline to waive section 54.7(a) of the Commission's rules or the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice.[143] Waiver of the Commission's rules is appropriate only if both: (1) special circumstances warrant a deviation from the general rule, and (2) such deviation will serve the public interest.[144] For the reasons explained above, we are not persuaded by MATC's general claim that a waiver is in the public interest.[145] Moreover, we are not persuaded that there are any special circumstances that warrant a waiver. MATC cites the delay in receiving the audit findings as a reason that we should waive support recovery.[146] But MATC was on notice prior to the first audit report being issued that the auditor had made these findings and MATC had a chance to respond at that time.[147] Although the auditor informed MATC that some of the findings were oral and it was not planning to take any action,[148] MATC had a second chance to respond once it was clear that the auditor was going to take action,[149] and MATC was even provided with additional time to respond after MATC initially did not take the auditor up on the opportunity to provide a response.[150] While we acknowledge the burden of having to go back and review the records to prepare a response, preparation of a revised audit report is not an unusual situation and, moreover, we see no reason why this occurrence would justify MATC's use of high-cost support for ineligible expenses. Specific to this finding, MATC reiterates its claim that USAC should not recover support because the clarifications in the Commission's 2018 Ineligible Expenses Order were not effective until after the audit period,[151] but we have explained above that the Bureau made clear that the list of examples in the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice was non-exhaustive so that carriers and auditors were on notice that other expenses may also be excludable.[152] MATC has cited no special circumstances that warrant waiver, and as the Commission has previously explained, a carrier's "dissatisfaction with the amounts currently available to it under the existing" high-cost support mechanism "does not constitute a 'special circumstance' that would justify a waiver."[153]

D. Inadequate Documentation

40. As discussed above, section 54.320 of the Commission's rules states that carriers receiving high-cost support "are subject to random compliance audits and other investigations to ensure compliance with program rules and orders."[154] The rule further requires ETCs to "retain all records required to demonstrate to auditors that the support received was consistent with the universal service high-cost program rules" for a 10-year period.[155] As the Commission previously explained, "[t]he burden is on recipients of high-cost funding to retain records sufficient to demonstrate that the funding they receive is consistent with the rules of the high-cost programs."[156]

41. The auditor reviewed MATC's general ledger and C&WF CPR and determined that MATC "did not have adequate documentation to substantiate the value for one asset sample."[157] As a result, the auditor recommended that USAC recover $20,790.[158] MATC responded that the asset was "in the company's network" despite the fact that it "was not found in the exchange where it was recorded in the CPRs."[159] MATC also explained that it was developing "[p]rocesses and procedures for document retention and recording in proper exchange as well as for future changes in employee and outside consulting professionals."[160]

42. MATC then appealed the finding, claiming that the asset at issue was "an addition to its BFO . . . incorrectly overheaded in 2016, with a number of other minimal assets that are typically not separately identified as CPR assets."[161] Accordingly, MATC claims the asset was not within the 10-year record retention period and that the auditor "refused to remove this asset from the sample" even though MATC had raised this issue with the auditor.[162] USAC denied MATC's appeal, finding that MATC "did not provide adequate documentation to demonstrate that transactions were recorded in the proper amount and to the proper general ledger account."[163]

43. MATC seeks review of USAC's denial, raising the new claim that the sample selected by the auditor {[ ]} which MATC states "illustrates the flaw in [the auditor's] sampling of the 12-31-2016 balances rather than the individual assets."[164] MATC also claims that the 2016 overheads "were never part of the asset and should not have been part of the overstated asset balance," and that they should not have been "removed by [the auditor], since [the auditor] did not verify the existence of the items included in the overhead allocation."[165] MATC claims that even though it brought this to the auditor's attention while undergoing the audit, the auditor did not make any corrections.[166] MATC also takes issues with the fact that the auditor determined that depreciation for the asset should be {[ ]}, while MATC claims the depreciation should be {[ ]}.[167] Alternatively, MATC seeks a waiver, claiming that because the asset "is almost 20 years old and almost fully depreciated" the asset "did not have a material impact on MATC's USF receipts in 2018."[168] Although MATC concedes it had inadequate documentation for the asset, it claims "USAC would be recovering support that MATC did not actually receive."[169]

44. We agree with USAC that the support associated with the asset sample should be fully recovered. MATC is again seeking to shift the burden of properly documenting its costs to the auditor and seeking to prolong the audit. As we explained above, it is not an auditor's responsibility to "recalculate, reconstruct, or correct [a carrier's] records."[170] Here, MATC conceded that the asset was "erroneously overheaded by MATC in 2016" and that it "did not have appropriate documentation to support the asset".[171] The auditor calculated the recovery based on the sufficient, appropriate evidence the auditor collected from MATC's records by "removing the unsupported balances" from MATC's filings for the relevant periods, using a depreciation that is consistent with what the records indicated from the sample.[172]

45. Even if the auditor had the responsibility to consider the evidence that MATC claims without support to have brought to the auditor's attention, such as the fact that MATC "erroneously overheaded" certain costs,[173] and the auditor "did not verify the existence of the items included in the overhead allocation,"[174] MATC again waited until after the audit report was finalized to formally raise these concerns so that the auditor did not have the opportunity to respond to the allegations that it had improperly "refused" to address these issues and should have made such corrections. The audit report indicates that MATC simply acknowledged that the existence of the asset "in the company's network" in response to the audit and claimed it was unable to produce documentation to substantiate the balances "due to a lack of effective retention policy and procedures, a change of outside consulting professionals, and employee turnover."[175] Without further information, MATC does not demonstrate that the auditor failed to exercise "reasonable care and professional skepticism."[176] Moreover, for the same reasons that we discuss above, accepting new claims regarding evidence raised upon appeal and outside the context of the audit would unnecessarily prolong and increase the costs of an audit for a finding of $20,790 as compared to the over $3.2 million that MATC received in high-cost support during the audit period.[177]

46. Nor are we convinced by MATC's argument that there is a "flaw in [the auditor's] sampling of the 12-31-2016 balances" because the sample {[ ]}.[178] The auditor made clear it reviewed a non-statistical, judgmental sample.[179] MATC raises this issue for the first time in its request for review and does not provide any explanation or support for its conclusory claim that a sample {[ ]} is flawed, and we see no evidence to suggest that the auditor did not properly exercise its judgment in determining the sample.[180]

47. We also deny MATC's request for waiver.[181] In addition to not being persuaded by MATC's general waiver claims,[182] MATC acknowledged that it failed to maintain accurate records and we are not persuaded an error constitutes special circumstances that warrants deviating from precedent.[183] Despite MATC's claims that USAC would be over-recovering support for the sampled asset and that the error "did not have a material impact on MATC's USF receipts in 2018,"[184] the Bureau has been clear that "[m]aintaining appropriate documentation to support information submitted in cost studies used to determine universal service support is critical to the Commission's ability to ensure that high-cost support is provided appropriately," and has recovered support based on a carrier's existing documentation regarding its costs.[185] Apart from its general waiver claims, MATC has not explained why it would serve the public interest to deviate from the Bureau's precedent.[186]

in Account 6112 for motor vehicle expenses.[187] Additionally, the section states "[c]redits shall be made to this account for amounts transferred to Construction and/or to other Plant Specific Operations Expense accounts."[188]

49. During the audit, the auditor reviewed MATC's overhead clearing reports.[189] The auditor found that "account 6112 motor vehicle expense improperly included customer operations expenses, corporate operations expenses, and plant non-specific operations expense accounts" and recommended that USAC recover $18,936.[190] MATC indicated in its response to the audit that its "procedures to spread the motor vehicle expenses were not clear and appropriate," and stated that it "will develop clear procedures and instructions for properly spreading the motor vehicle expenses to construction and to the related plant specific operations expense accounts."[191]

50. However, MATC then appealed the finding. MATC claimed that it "allocates vehicle expenses based on use," and was "not aware of any prohibition" of its allocation of expenses to non-plant related accounts such as "customer operations, corporate operations, or non-regulated operations" when some of the vehicle's use is for these purposes.[192] USAC denied the appeal stating that "FCC rules do not have any exceptions for not allocating 100% of vehicle expenses," and finding that the FCC's rules do not "permit allocation of vehicle expense based on use."[193]

51. MATC seeks review of USAC's denial, claiming that the auditor and MATC misinterpreted section 32.6112(b) "to limit credits to accounts exclusively to those specifically listed (i.e., Construction or Plant Specific)" and that instead, the rule does not prevent MATC from "crediting its motor vehicle expenses to other accounts."[194] MATC also raises the new claim that because there are expenses in Account 6112 related to the lease for which the auditor already disallowed expenses under its first finding, "the monetary impact and proposed recovery for [this finding] are significantly overstated."[195] Alternatively, MATC requests that the Bureau waive section 32.6112 of the rules, claiming that its allocation "more accurately reflects the company's actual financial situation, without subverting the purpose of Part 32 of the rules" given that the auditor's calculation of the cost effect "artificially inflated allocation to the regulated operations" due to the fact that the "other expense accounts" to which MATC actually allocates its motor vehicle expenses "are not allocated between regulated and non-regulated operations in the same percentages as the Construction and Plant Specific accounts."[196]

52. We find that recovery associated with this finding is warranted, subject to a remand to remove any instances of double recovery, and agree with USAC that section 32.6112 of the rules limits the type of credits carriers can make to Account 6112 to only those amounts transferred to construction and/or other plant specific operations expense accounts.[197] In responding to petitions for reconsideration of the order establishing the uniform systems of accounts, the Commission stated that a party "also requested clarification of the difference in clearance instructions for accounts 6112, 6113, 6114, 6116, and 6512 . . . which permit clearances only to construction or other plant specific operations accounts."[198] The Commission clarified "[t]he instructions for the five accounts in question provide for clearance to construction and other plant specific expense accounts leaving behind amounts which (a) would relate to other expense account groups (plant nonspecific, customer operations, and corporate operations) and (b) those expenses which would require highly arbitrary allocations if those accounts were forced to zero balances."[199] MATC has not cited to any Commission documents or other evidence to support its more expansive reading of the rule, nor did it dispute the auditor's finding at the time of the audit despite having an opportunity to respond.

53. We also are not convinced we should waive the Commission's rule to permit MATC to allocate its motor vehicle expenses based on use.[200] As noted above, we are not persuaded by MATC's general claims for seeking waiver of all the rules related to the auditor's findings, including MATC's public interest claims.[201] Moreover, specific to this finding, we do not find that MATC has expressly demonstrated that a waiver is warranted as required by section 32.18 of the Commission's rules.[202] MATC does not expressly demonstrate that there are any "existing peculiarities or unusual circumstances" that would justify a waiver.[203] Instead, MATC just explains it takes a different approach by crediting its motor vehicle expenses to other accounts not permitted by the rule.[204] Although MATC claims that its "practice more accurately reflects the company's actual financial situation, without subverting the purpose of Part 32 of the rules," explaining that the "other expense accounts are not allocated between regulated and non-regulated operations in the same percentages as the Construction and Plant specific accounts,"[205] it does not provide evidence to support these claims.[206] Finally, MATC does not demonstrate or even address how permitting MATC to use its alternative approach "will maintain or improve uniformity in substantive results as among telecommunications companies."[207]

54. However, as we explained above, we remand this finding to USAC and direct USAC to recalculate the cost effect calculation for this finding to remove any instances of double recovery for this finding and the improper valuation of affiliate transaction finding.[208]

F. Improper Inclusion of Non-Regulated Assets

55. Part 64 of the Commission's rules governs an incumbent local exchange carrier's allocation of joint and common costs between activities regulated under Title II of the Communications Act of 1934 and nonregulated activities. The Commission established these rules to protect ratepayers from bearing the costs and risks of nonregulated activities. The rules are intended to deter unreasonable cost shifting both from cost misallocations of joint and common costs and from affiliate transactions.[209] Section 64.901(b) describes principles for assigning or allocating costs to regulated and nonregulated activities,[210] including that incumbent local exchange carriers shall allocate central office equipment and outside plant investment costs between regulated and nonregulated activities based on the peak "relative regulated and nonregulated usage" projected over a three-year period.[211] Accordingly, spare (or reserve) capacity shall be allocated "based on how the incumbent local exchange carrier projects that the deployed plant will be used during the three-year period."[212]

56. During the audit, the auditor reviewed MATC's C&WF route allocation and found that MATC had only allocated its dark fiber to regulated usage.[213] Finding that MATC should have also allocated a portion of its dark fiber to non-regulated usage based on the usage of the investment, the auditor recommended recovery of $14,933 which is the result of allocating the dark fiber in same proportion as MATC allocates its in-use fiber.[214] MATC responded that "[b]ased on fiber usage," MATC "removed the lease fibers from [its] network and allocated the spares on the fibers left in the network."[215] The auditor cited this response, but clarified that MATC should have first allocated the costs associated with spares between regulated and non-regulated uses and then removed the costs related to non-regulated leased assets.[216] MATC claimed that it was "unaware of any rules on sequential order for the removal of leased fibers" and indicated it would "update [its] procedures for the removal of leased fibers."[217]

57. MATC appealed the finding, claiming that the auditor had "over-allocated MATC dark fiber to its affiliate," because MATC's affiliate does not make unregulated use of MATC's dark fiber due to the fact that "[t]he dark fiber in question does not extend beyond its ILEC boundary."[218] USAC denied the appeal, reiterating that that "dark fiber should have been allocated upon the usage of the investment rather than only on the regulated usage of the investment," and accordingly MATC "must ensure allocation of dark fiber is based on the in-use portion of the same section of cable costs submitted for High Cost Program purposes."[219]

58. MATC seeks review of USAC's denial, claiming that the auditor's finding was "not supported by 'appropriate sufficient evidence' or any rational basis in law," because the auditor and

USAC did not identify any non-regulated use of the fiber and did not provide an explanation for why it allocated "half of the unleased fiber strands to the leased fiber, and half to the fiber in use[] by the ILEC operation."[220] MATC reiterates that "it is not possible to make non-regulated use" of the dark fiber because its "fiber is provisioned for the ILEC or affiliate operations separately upon deployment, and ILEC-provisioned fibers do not connect to anything in its affiliate operation service area and vice versa."[221] As an alternative, MATC seeks waiver of section 64.901(b) in order to permit MATC "to accurately account for and recover its fiber investment."[222] MATC explains that in order to save costs by making use of existing higher-capacity inventory rather than purchasing brand new sections of matching-capacity fiber, some of the fiber in the auditor's sample has more capacity than the rest of fiber deployed in the network and it does not make sense to allocate the additional capacity to non-regulated uses because the additional capacity is not able to be used.[223] For the remaining fiber in the auditor's sample, MATC explains where there is fiber that is "partially used" by the ILEC, "partially leased, and partially unused (but usable . . . )," MATC allocates the unused fiber to the ILEC operation because to do otherwise "would increase the price of leased fiber above a competitive rate and would have the effect of preventing MATC from successfully leasing it in the first place."[224]

59. We disagree with MATC that USAC erred in affirming the auditor's finding that MATC should have allocated its dark fiber between regulated and non-regulated use. MATC fails to meet its burden of proof by not citing to any Commission precedent or other authority to support its claims that MATC can allocate its spares based on how it actually provisions spares.[225] Instead, the Commission's rules are clear that the allocation "shall be based upon the relative regulated and nonregulated usage of the investment during the calendar year when nonregulated usage is greatest in comparison to regulated usage during the three calendar years beginning with the calendar year during which the investment usage forecast is filed."[226] NECA reporting guidelines confirm that "[f]or cost study and USF purposes, carriers are required to allocate spare plant between the regulated and non-regulated operations whenever the associated in-use plant is used for both purposes. Carriers should use a reasonable and defensible allocation methodology."[227] For purposes of identifying the in-use plant, we consider a cable as a whole to be a facility that consists of strands of fiber. To allocate the cost of the cable conduit for Part 64, we look at how all the fiber strands are being used within the cable conduit for regulated and nonregulated activities. To the extent some strands are spares, we look to how the lit strands in the cable conduit are being used to determine how the spare strands should be allocated. Exhibit 9 of MATC's request shows that its in-use fiber is used for both ILEC (i.e., regulated) and CLEC (i.e., non-regulated) uses.[228]

[225] See 2019 Sandwich Isles Order, 34 FCC Rcd at 598, para. 43 (stating that the Commission uses a preponderance of the evidence standard for informal agency adjudications). We acknowledge MATC claims to have explained to the auditor how it provisions its fiber and produced an Exhibit it shared with the auditor that shows its fiber is separately assigned to the ILEC and CLEC. MATC Request at 19. However, MATC fails to explain why the auditor's decision to not reference this evidence negates MATC's failure to allocate the spares consistent with the Commission's rules.

[227] NECA Reporting Guidelines § 4.23 at 3.

[228] MATC Request at 158, 161, Exh. 9.

60. We also disagree with MATC's claims that the auditor and USAC failed to give "any basis for allocating the fiber" in equal proportion to the leased fiber and the fiber used by the ILEC.[229] The auditor explains in the audit report that it allocated the spare fiber in proportion to the in-use fiber,[230] which includes fiber that is leased.[231] Accordingly, the auditor's allocation is a reasonable and defensible given it is based on the demonstrated usage of the fiber.[232]

61. We also decline to waive section 64.901(b) to permit MATC to allocate all of its dark fiber to regulated uses.[233] In addition to not being persuaded by the more general special circumstances and public interest claims that MATC raised applicable to its request for waiver of all the rules related to the auditor's findings,[234] we are not convinced that waiving section 64.901(b) would serve the public interest. The Commission was clear that there should be a balance between costs being allocated to the regulated sector and costs being allocated to nonregulated sector, and that it has an objective of "promot[ing] an equitable sharing of common costs."[235] MATC has made business decisions about how it will allocate its fiber that it claims will reduce its costs. However, MATC does not claim or demonstrate that this balance would be maintained if MATC is able to allocate all of its spare fiber to regulated use. Moreover, while MATC makes general claims about various savings and efficiencies that result from its various business decisions and that it "would increase the price of leased fiber above a competitive rate" if MATC were to allocate the spare fiber like the auditor,[236] MATC does not provide support for those claims or address the costs to the general public if MATC is able to allocate the costs associated with all of its spares to regulated use.

ORDER

By the Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we grant in part a Request for Review filed by Cross Telephone Company, L.L.C. (Cross Telephone) asking the Commission to review a Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) decision affirming an Audit Report concluding Cross Telephone over-recovered high-cost universal service support during the audit period.[1] While we agree with Cross Telephone that USAC erred in finding it violated section 36.2(c)(2) of the Commission's separations rules with respect to an affiliate transaction, we conclude on alternative grounds that Cross Telephone improperly recorded the expenses associated with the purchase of interexchange transport service from an affiliate as a capital investment-related expense. The inclusion of this expense as a recoverable expense inflated Cross Telephone's plant-specific operation costs, resulting in an improper overpayment of millions of dollars in high-cost support.[2] We thus direct USAC to proceed with the recovery of approximately $5.2 million in support from Cross Telephone.[3]

II. BACKGROUND

2. Cross Telephone is a rate-of-return incumbent local exchange carrier providing telecommunications exchange services, including local access, long distance, and Internet services to residential and business customers in northeastern Oklahoma.[4] During the 2015 audit disbursement

[1] Request for Review by Cross Telephone Company L.L.C. (SAC No. 431985) of Decision of the Universal Service Administrator, WC Docket No. 10-90 (filed Sept. 3, 2019) (Cross Telephone Request). Cross Telephone incorporated by reference the arguments made in its appeal to USAC of the findings in the initial audit report. See id. at 10, Ex. 1 (USAC Appeal). We note the audit originally covered disbursements for the year ending December 31, 2015, but was expanded to review 2012, 2013, 2014, and 2016 with respect to Finding No. 1, the subject of the Cross Telephone Request. See USAC Appeal, Attach. A, at 1 (Audit Report). In addition, we note that while Cross Telephone's Request contains a header with the words "Privileged and Confidential," it has been publicly available in the Commission's Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS) for the past six years. Further, the Commission's rules provide that "[c]asual requests (including simply stamping pages "confidential") which do not comply with the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section will not be considered." 47 CFR § 0.459(c). We therefore are not treating the filing as confidential.

period, Cross Telephone received more than $6.2 million from legacy high-cost support mechanisms, including High Cost Loop support (HCLS), Interstate Common Line Support (ICLS), and Local Switching Support (LSS).[5] In 2016, Cross Telephone elected to receive model-based support pursuant to the Alternative Connect America Model (A-CAM) mechanism.[6]

3. Incumbent local exchange carriers subject to rate-of-return regulation develop their revenue requirements, used to calculate both rates and high-cost universal service support, in accordance with a four-step regulatory process.[7] First, carriers record their costs, including investments and expenses, into various accounts in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts (USOA) prescribed by Part 32 of the Commission's rules.[8] Second, carriers assign the costs in those accounts to regulated and non-regulated activities in accordance with Part 64 of the Commission's rules to ensure that the costs of non-regulated activities will not be recovered by regulated service rates or through universal service support.[9] Third, carriers separate the regulated costs between the interstate and intrastate jurisdictions, as well as among cost categories, in accordance with the Commission's Part 36 separations rules.[10] Finally, carriers apportion the interstate regulated costs among the interexchange services and rate elements that

[5] HCLS provides support to rate-of-return carriers that experience high loop-related costs by deducting costs in excess of a specified benchmark from the state jurisdiction and adding them to the interstate jurisdiction. See 47 CFR § 54.1301(a). ICLS also supports high local loop costs by providing rate-of-return carriers with the difference between their interstate common line costs (i.e., the portion of the local loop assigned to the interstate jurisdiction) and their interstate common line end-user revenues, which are limited due to the cap on subscriber line charges. In 2016, the Commission transformed ICLS into the Connect America Fund Broadband Loop Support (CAF BLS) mechanism, which subsidizes carriers with high local loop costs in the interstate jurisdiction for both voice and consumer broadband-only loops. See Connect America Fund et al., WC Docket No. 10-90 et al., Report and Order, Order and Order on Reconsideration, and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 31 FCC Rcd 3087, 3091, para. 5 (2016) (2016 Rate-of-Return Reform Order). LSS was provided to small carriers because, historically, it was difficult for small carriers to scale switching expenses for operations with fewer customers. In the USF/ICC Transformation Order, the Commission eliminated LSS and moved recovery of associated expenses to the Access Recovery Charge (ARC), a monthly fee assessed on end-users, and Connect America Fund-Intercarrier Compensation (CAF ICC), which provides support to the extent otherwise-eligible revenue cannot be recovered through the ARC. Connect America Fund et al., Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, WC Docket No. 10- 90 et al., 26 FCC Rcd 17663, 17760, para. 257 (2011) (USF/ICC Transformation Order), aff'd sub nom. In re: FCC 11-161, 753 F.3d 1015 (10th Cir. 2014).

[6] Wireline Competition Bureau Authorizes 35 Rate-of-Return Companies to Receive More than $51 Million Annually in Alternative Connect America Cost Model Support and Announces Offers of Revised A-CAM Support Amounts to 191 Rate-of-Return Companies to Expand Rural Broadband, WC Docket No. 10-90, Public Notice, 31 FCC Rcd 13328 (WCB 2016) (authorizing Cross Telephone to receive A-CAM I support as a glide path carrier, receiving less A-CAM support in 2016 than it received in legacy support in 2015).

[7] Although some rate-of-return carriers remain subject to the regulatory processes described here, including Cross Telephone for the audit period in question, the Commission in 2018 adopted forbearance from these rules for carriers that had elected A-CAM I or II and also elected incentive regulation for their broadband data services offerings. Regulation of Business Data Services for Rate-of-Return Local Exchange Carriers, WC Docket Nos. 17-144 et al., Report and Order, Second Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 33 FCC Rcd 10403, 10447-51, paras. 125-37 (2018). Therefore, while Cross Telephone opted into the A-CAM program in 2016, Cross Telephone remained subject to these processes while it continued to receive cost-based support.

form the cost basis for its interstate access tariffs pursuant to the Commission's Part 69 rules, as well as for receiving high-cost universal service support pursuant to Part 54.[11]

4. USAC initiated an audit on July 7, 2016 of Cross Telephone's compliance with the Commission's legacy high-cost program rules.[12] The Audit Report released October 4, 2018 contained eight findings of non-compliance.[13] Cross Telephone challenged Finding No. 1, in which the Auditor concluded Cross Telephone incorrectly categorized expenses paid to an affiliate, MBO Video LLC (MBO Video), for DS1 interexchange transport service in its cost studies and high-cost filings, resulting in an overpayment of support of about $8.25 million over the relevant disbursement period.[14] Specifically, the Auditor found the affiliate transaction amounted to a sale lease-back transaction triggering section 36.2(c)(2) of the Commission's rules.[15] This rule requires rate-of-return carriers to include the capital cost of the affiliate property rented and associated expenses, such as depreciation cost, as if the reporting carrier owned the property for purposes of the Part 36 interstate/intrastate separations process and to exclude the rental expenses paid to the affiliate.[16]

5. In its appeal of Finding No. 1 to USAC, Cross Telephone argued that (1) the transaction was a purchase of service and not a rent or lease of property and therefore section 36.2(c)(2) did not apply and (2) an earlier audit did not identify an issue with the affiliate transaction, and therefore any new guidance should apply prospectively.[17] In denying the appeal, USAC again found section 36.2(c)(2) applicable and stated it "must audit regulated entities consistent with all applicable FCC rules and lacks the authority to apply Part 36.2(c) prospectively."[18] Cross Telephone then filed the instant request for review with the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) pursuant to sections 54.719-54.722 of the Commission's rules.[19] Requests for review are subject to de novo review by the Bureau.[20]

III. DISCUSSION

6. We overturn in part USAC's denial of Cross Telephone's appeal, but on different grounds we find that USAC should recover high-cost support because of the company's failure to correctly categorize the expenses associated with the affiliate transaction with MBO Video. First, we agree with Cross Telephone that the transaction at issue in Finding No. 1 is not an affiliate transaction covered by section 36.2(c)(2) as it does not involve the leasing or renting of property from an affiliate and is instead a purchase of services. However, notwithstanding the inapplicability of section 36.2(c)(2), we find that Cross Telephone incorrectly reported expenses paid for services obtained from its affiliate, in its cost studies and HCLS filing, as expenses associated with Category 1 facilities plant owned by Cross Telephone, which is not the case. Based on this finding, we direct USAC to recover the resulting overpayment of support to Cross Telephone in the amount of $5,228,767.

A. Section 36.2(c)(2) is Not Applicable Here

7. Cross Telephone's appeal focuses on Finding No. 1 that the purchase of transport services from an affiliate amounted to a substantial lease of property, triggering the affiliate transaction rule contained in Section 36.2(c)(2).[21] Section 36.2(c)(2) requires cost-based carriers to treat property rented from an affiliate, if substantial, as if it were owned by the reporting carrier for the purpose of separating intrastate and interstate investments and expenses under Part 36. The rule also requires the exclusion of the property rental expense from the "operations of the company making the separation."[22]

8. Prior to 1998, Cross Telephone purchased interexchange transport services from Southwestern Bell to carry traffic from Cross Telephone's Warner, Oklahoma, central office to a meet-point with Southwestern Bell and AT&T in Tulsa, Oklahoma.[23] In the late 1990s, MBO Video, a Cross Telephone affiliate, constructed a fiber network used to offer services to other carriers.[24] In 1998, Cross Telephone entered into a General Contract for Services with MBO Video and began obtaining transport service from MBO Video (instead of Southwestern Bell) to carry traffic between Warner and an interexchange carrier point-of-presence (POP) in Tulsa, Oklahoma.[25] Contemporaneously with the service agreement, Cross Telephone entered into an Equipment Lease whereby Cross Telephone leased to MBO Video four dark fibers from its central office in Warner to the "AT&T POP Location" in Muskogee, Oklahoma.[26] In 2008, the parties updated the terms of the service agreement by entering into the MBO Master Service Agreement.[27] Per Cross Telephone, the MBO Master Service Agreement superseded the General Contract for Services on the Tulsa route but "did not replace the Equipment Lease," which continued to govern the lease of dark fiber from Cross Telephone to the affiliate for the Muskogee route.[28]

9. Over the relevant audit period,[29] Cross Telephone reported circuit expenses totaling more than $11.5 million for the DS1 transport service purchased from MBO Video.[30] These expenses represented between 13% and 23% of the total operating expenses reported by Cross Telephone in its cost study filings during this period.[31] According to Cross Telephone, it paid less for the transport services purchased from MBO Video than it did for the services purchased from Southwestern Bell prior to 1998.[32] Cross Telephone also claims it "always" accounted for the transport purchased from MBO Video in the same manner it accounted for transport purchased from Southwestern Bell: "as a purchase of services" pursuant to both Parts 32 and 36.[33] Nonetheless, from 1997 to 1998 when Cross Telephone switched to MBO Video, the amount reported in a subaccount for circuit expenses in Account 6230, central office transmission expense, increased by more than 7,000%, from $10,057 to $742,657.[34] The increase in this account does not appear to have been offset through expense reductions in other similar or related accounts.[35] The substantial increase in circuit expenses reported, in turn, increased the reported loop expenses for, and the support received, from ICLS and HCLS for Cross Telephone.[36]

10. Referencing section 36.2(c)(2), the Auditor found Cross Telephone included amounts in its cost studies and HCLS filing in account 6230 for circuit expense for "substantial rent expense paid to an affiliate for the use of interexchange plant assets owned by the affiliate."[37] The Auditor stated that notwithstanding the fact that the agreement between Cross Telephone and its affiliate is styled as a service contract rather than a lease of plant assets, the application of rule 36.2(c)(2) was required "because of the mechanics of the Part 36 jurisdictional cost allocation process and the resulting impacts to the Part 36 cost study and [HCLS] support results when large interexchange expenses are included in lieu of the related interexchange plant facilities."[38]

11. On appeal to USAC, Cross Telephone again argued the affiliate transaction was a purchase of services and not a sale and lease-back transaction triggering section 36.2(c)(2) as addressed in the Commission's declaratory ruling in Moultrie.[39] Alternatively, Cross Telephone argued that reliance on the findings in a prior audit on the accounting treatment of these expenses dictates application of the Auditor's finding in a subsequent audit only prospectively.[40] USAC denied the appeal, stating "the distinction is irrelevant as section 36.2(c)(2) is applicable to the lease of property or the lease of a service, when the lease is between the regulated entity and its affiliate and is substantial in amount."[41]

12. In the instant appeal, Cross Telephone essentially raises the same arguments addressed by USAC.[42] Upon de novo review of the record, we find that Cross Telephone is correct that the transaction at issue is a purchase of services and not the renting or leasing of property from an affiliate, and thus section 36.2(c)(2) is inapplicable.

13. Section 36.2(c)(2) by its terms applies to "property rented from affiliates" and not the purchase of service from affiliates and governs the "treatment of rented property, related expenses, and lease payments."[43] The MBO Master Service Agreement, through which Cross Telephone obtains transport service, is styled as a purchase of service. Moreover, the agreement has none of the hallmarks of a "contract that purports to be a service contract" but must be "treated as a lease of property."[44] For example, there are no terms and conditions in the MBO Master Service Agreement that would give the purchaser/customer the right to possess, control or operate the underlying facilities. While the agreement allows Cross Telephone to resell the service, section 8.7(a)(2) states the "Customer is responsible for ensuring that it and its customers comply with MBO's Acceptable Use Policy . . ." when using the service.[45] MBO Video can also cancel any service prior to commencement without liability if it deems "such action is necessary to prevent or to protect against fraud or to otherwise protect its personnel, agents, facilities or Services . . ."[46] Section 8.8 also clearly states no title is conveyed to Cross Telephone, and section 8.11 states the provision of services does not create a partnership or joint venture.[47]

14. Thus, the Auditor's and USAC's reliance on Moultrie is misplaced. In Moultrie, the Commission found the substantial sale and lease-back of assets, including motor vehicles, land and buildings, and equipment triggered the application of section 36.2(c)(2).[48] The carrier in that instance sold assets to an affiliate who then entered into a lease of the assets back to the carrier.[49] Thus, the carrier operated and controlled the assets pursuant to a lease but no longer owned the assets. As the Commission explained, "[i]f an incumbent carrier were to sell large portions of its non-loop related plant to an affiliate, and then lease[s] back those assets and include[s] the lease payment as an expense, the carrier's cost study would be skewed to decrease its assets, and increase its operational expenses, thus resulting in a higher per-loop cost."[50] Section 36.2(c)(2) thus requires the rate-of-return carrier to treat the leased property as [43] 47 CFR § 36.2(c)(2); Moultrie, 16 FCC Rcd at 18247, para. 10.

[44] The Commission has adopted the definition of a "lease" as contained in the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) lease accounting standards to be "a contract, or part of a contract, that conveys the right to control the use of identified property, plant and equipment (an identified asset) for a period of time in exchange for consideration." 47 CFR § 32.1410(l)(1); Connect America Fund, ETC Annual Report and Certifications, Establishing Just and Reasonable Rates for Local Exchange Carriers, Developing a Unified Intercarrier Compensation Regime, WC Docket Nos. 10-90 et al., Report and Order, Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, and Order on Reconsideration, 33 FCC Rcd 11893, 11939, para. 156 (2018). In its request, Cross Telephone also points to the criteria considered by the Internal Revenue Service when determining whether an agreement is a lease of property or the purchase of a service. See Declaration of Warren R. Fischer, QSI Consulting, Inc., at 21 (Jan. 4, 2019) (attached to Cross Telephone Request, Exh. 1, Attch. B). These factors include "whether or not—(A) the service recipient is in physical possession of the property, (B) the service recipient controls the property, (C) the service recipient has a significant economic or possessory interest in the property, (D) the service provider does not bear any risk of substantially diminished receipts or substantially increased expenditures if there is nonperformance under the contract, (E) the service provider does not use the property concurrently to provide significant services to entities unrelated to the service recipients, and (F) the total contract price does not substantially exceed the rental value of the property for the contract period." 26 U.S.C. § 7701(e)(1).

[48] Moultrie, 16 FCC Rcd at 18244, para. 4. That is not to say section 36.2(c) only applies to sale and lease-back transactions, as the language is broader and would include any affiliate transaction involving the renting or leasing of real and personal property if substantial in amount. See Request for Review of a Decision of the Universal Service Administrator by Big Bend Telephone Company, Inc., WC Docket No. 10-90, Order, DA 25-489 at para. 20 (WCB rel. its own and exclude the lease expense from its telephone operations for purposes of the Part 36 separations process.[51]

15. In contrast, Cross Telephone leased dark fiber to MBO Video for a transport route to Muskogee, Oklahoma and separately purchased service from the affiliate, using different, MBO Video-owned property, to transport traffic on a different route to Tulsa. The two arrangements are separate, and even if they were considered together do not constitute a sale and lease-back of property. Accordingly, we find the MBO Master Service Agreement, for the purchase of transport service from MBO Video on the Warner-Tulsa route does not trigger the application of section 36.2(c)(2).

B. Nonetheless Cross Telephone Improperly Accounted for the Expenses

16. While we find section 36.2(c)(2) inapplicable to Cross Telephone's purchase of transport service from affiliate MBO Video, we nonetheless find Cross Telephone improperly accounted for the cost of the interexchange transport service purchased from its affiliate by recording it as an expense associated with plant it owns. Instead of Cross Telephone so recording the cost, which is clearly in error as Cross Telephone did not own the underlying fiber, Cross Telephone should have recorded the expense in Account 6540, access expense, which includes "amounts paid by interexchange carriers or other exchange carriers to another exchange carrier for the provision of carrier's carrier access."[52] Amounts recorded in Account 6540 are not included in the calculation of HCLS, which provides support for the last mile of connection to customer premises for rural carriers.[53] The misallocation of the expense also reduced the cost and support available for ICLS and LSS. In total, the erroneous recording of the interexchange transport service expense resulted in an over-payment of about $5.2 million in support to Cross Telephone during the relevant audit period.[54]

17. The USOA spelled out in Part 32 provides instructions for maintaining a system of financial accounts in a manner that permits uniform application of the Commission's other regulatory processes. Among the prescribed accounts are investment and property accounts (including telecommunications plant in service, or "plant"), expense accounts, and revenue accounts.[55] Telecommunications plant in service includes accounts for a variety of properties, including specific accounts for the carrier's investment in plant used directly in the provision of telecommunications service,[56] such as central office switching (Account 2210), central office transmission equipment (Account 2230), and cable and wire facilities (Account 2410), as well as property used for general support purposes (Account 2110), such as land and motor vehicles.[57]

18. The four major expense account groups recorded under the USOA are Plant Specific Operations, Plant Nonspecific Operations, Customer Operations, and Corporate Operations.[58] Plant Specific Operations expense accounts are used to record "costs related to specific kinds of telecommunications plant" investment owned by the recording carrier.[59] Particularly relevant here, Plant Specific Operations expense account 6230 (central office transmission expense), where Cross Telephone recorded its interexchange transport service expense with MBO Video, is to be used to record expenses associated with the maintenance and operation of the carrier's circuit equipment plant recorded as investment held in Account 2230.[60] Plant Nonspecific Operations expense accounts are used to record a variety of expenses associated with the operation of the telecommunications network but not directly associated with the reporting carrier's plant specific investment.[61] Account 6540, where Cross Telephone should have recorded the expense, is a Plant Nonspecific Operations expense account.[62] Customer Operations expense accounts include expenses related to sales and marketing and other customer service-related expenses.[63] Corporate Operations expenses include costs associated with executive and administrative activities.[64]

19. The universal service legacy programs are intended to support a carrier's high local loop or switching costs. As discussed above, Cross Telephone purchased transport service from MBO Video for the Warner-Tulsa route starting in 1998.[65] For HCLS purposes, Cross Telephone reported the expense associated with the transport purchased from MBO Video in Plant-Specific expense Account 6230–Rents subaccount[66] during the audit period even as Cross Telephone argues on appeal that the MBO Master Service Agreement is a purchase of service and not a lease/rent of property.[67] Cross Telephone appears to [66] The Commission previously required carriers to further disaggregate expense account data into five basic subsidiary accounts – (1) Salary and Wages, (2) Benefits, (3) Rents, (4) Other Expenses, and (5) Clearances. See Comprehensive Review of Accounting Requirements and ARMIS Reporting Requirements for Incumbent Local Exchange Carriers: Phase I, Report and Order, 15 FCC Rcd 8690, 8694-96, paras. 5-10 (2000) (ARMIS Reporting). The use of subaccounts was required for all expense accounts, though the "rents" subaccount applied only to plant-specific expense accounts. See 47 CFR § 36.302(c)(2). Although the Commission eliminated this "expense matrix" in 2000, the Commission stated it "expect[ed] companies to keep such data available and be prepared to provide it to the Commission, should the Commission make such a request." ARMIS Reporting, 15 FCC Rcd at 8694, para. 7. Carriers continue to report expenses by sub-account for HCLS purposes because only the portions of some accounts associated with benefits and rent are included in the calculation of support. See, e.g., 47 CFR § 54.1305(f) (requiring the reporting of "the benefits and rent proportions of operating expenses").

have done so for every year since 1998.[68] As a result, Cross Telephone received high-cost universal service support for this transport expense even though the expense is not associated with Plant Specific Operations investment held by Cross Telephone. If Cross Telephone had not recorded the transport expense as associated with its plant specific investment, then those costs would have been included with Cross Telephone's interexchange cost categories for purposes of receiving cost-based support and recovered through its intercarrier compensation rates.

20. Although Cross Telephone argued it should have reported the transport expense in the Account 6230-Other subaccount instead of the Account 6230-Rent subaccount,[69] the distinction is irrelevant as neither subaccount is appropriate for expenses not associated with central office circuit equipment owned by Cross Telephone and reported in Account 2230. The interexchange transport expense does not relate to Cross Telephone's central office transmission plant, as required by the Commission's rules.[70] Cross Telephone should have instead recorded the expense as a plant nonspecific operations expense. Account 6540 (Access Expenses) is the only plant-nonspecific account suitable for recording the transport expense.[71] Expenses recorded in Account 6540 are not recoverable through universal service.[72] In the interstate jurisdiction, account 6540 access expenses are directly assigned to the interexchange category, and therefore not recovered through HCLS and ICLS.[73] Instead, the interexchange transport service expenses would be recovered through intercarrier rates or directly from customers, as permitted under the Commission's rules.[74] Accordingly, we find Cross Telephone received

[73] Pursuant to section 36.354, Account 6540 access expenses are directly assigned to the appropriate jurisdiction. 47 CFR § 36.354. Under section 69.401(e), access expenses assigned to the interstate jurisdiction are assigned to the interexchange category. Id. § 69.401(e). [74] The Commission expressly declined to support interexchange service, as distinct from access to interexchange service. Universal Service First Report and Order, 12 FCC Rcd at 8819, para. 77. universal service support for transport-related expenses that legacy high-cost mechanisms are not intended to support.[75]

21. Cross Telephone separately argues that because an earlier audit did not identify an issue with the affiliate transaction, any new guidance should apply prospectively.[76] As noted above, we do not find a violation of the affiliate transaction rule in section 36.2(c)(2) and instead find Cross Telephone did not correctly account for the cost of transport service purchased from the affiliate. Accordingly, Cross Telephone's argument that the lack of prior audit finding as to section 36.2(c)(2) precludes reaching such a finding in a subsequent audit is moot. That said, "[n]either the Bureau nor USAC is precluded from reaching a finding of non-compliance in subsequent audits when an earlier audit failed to make such findings."[77]

22. Monetary Effect.[78] The incorrect categorization of interexchange transport expenses for the years 2010-2014 resulted in the overstatement of plant-specific operations expenses in the amount of $11,512,510 and the understatement of plant-nonspecific operations expenses of $11,512,510, which affected HCLS, ICLS, and LSS disbursements. Specifically, the reduction of plant-specific operations expenses and the inclusion of non-loop (i.e., interexchange) imputed rate base in Cross Telephone's high-cost program filing decreased HCLS, ICLS, and LSS support. The monetary effect of this finding relative to disbursements for the 12-month period ended December 31, 2015, and for the additional years for the 12-month periods ending December 31, 2012, 2013, 2014, and 2016 is calculated to be an overpayment of $5,228,767 and is summarized by support mechanism and disbursement period as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) denies two Requests for Review and Waiver of Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) decisions filed by West Kentucky Rural Telephone Cooperative Corp, Inc. (WKY)[1] and Duo County Telephone Cooperative Corp, Inc. (Duo).[2] We agree with USAC and find these carriers failed to separate and exclude the cost of nonregulated activities for the spare fiber contained within their fiber optic cable facility as required by section 64.901(b) of the Commission's rules.[3] The inclusion of these costs based on the carrier's future intended use of the spare fiber resulted in consumers paying more than a reasonable share of the common costs of the facility and resulted in the overpayment of support to these carriers. We direct USAC to proceed with support recovery of $182,416 from WKY[4] and $69,968 from Duo, reflecting the difference between WKY and Duo's 100% cost-assignment approach and proper cost allocation based on actual usage. Because both requests involve similar factual circumstances and address the same legal issue, i.e., the misallocation of dark fiber investment, we address both requests in this Order.

[4] CliftonLarsonAllen, LLP (Auditor) recommended that USAC recover a total of $224,385 from WKY for five findings of noncompliance with the Commission's rules, but it also noted that the fifth finding of noncompliance had an offsetting monetary effect of $40,091. See West Kentucky Rural Telephone Cooperative Corp, Inc., Limited Review Performance Audit on Compliance with the Federal Universal Service Fund High Cost Support Mechanism Rules, USAC Audit No. HC2022LR029 at 2 (Jan. 31, 2023) (attached to WKY Request, Exh. 2) (WKY Audit Report). Based on these findings, USAC sought recovery of the net amount, $184,294. See id. at 3. WKY has only appealed finding number 1, which recommended recovery of $182,416 for the misallocation of costs under section 64.901(b)(4). See id. at 2; WKY Request at 2-3.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Both WKY and Duo are incumbent local exchange rate-of-return carriers headquartered in Kentucky.[5] WKY provides high-speed Internet and telephone service to over 22,000 residential and business subscribers in the western region of Kentucky,[6] and Duo provides broadband and voice service to more than 10,000 subscribers in south central Kentucky.[7] Both carriers participate in the legacy High Cost Program, and receive High Cost Loop Support (HCLS), Connect America Fund Intercarrier Compensation (CAF ICC) support, and Connect America Fund Broadband Loop Support (CAF BLS).[8] In 2020, WKY and Duo respectively received more than $9.6 and $9.8 million in support from these three support programs.[9]

3. Incumbent local exchange carriers subject to rate-of-return regulation develop their revenue requirements, used to calculate both rates and high-cost universal service support, in accordance with a four-step regulatory process. First, carriers record their costs, including investments and expenses, into various accounts in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts (USOA) prescribed by Part 32 of the Commission's rules.[10] Second, carriers assign the costs in those accounts to regulated and nonregulated activities in accordance with Part 64 of the Commission's rules to ensure that the costs of nonregulated activities will not be recovered by regulated service rates or through universal service support.[11] Third, carriers separate the regulated costs between the interstate and intrastate jurisdictions, as well as among cost categories, in accordance with the Commission's Part 36 separations rules.[12] Finally, carriers apportion the interstate regulated costs among the interexchange services and rate elements that form the cost basis for their interstate access tariffs pursuant to the Commission's Part 69 rules, as well as for high-cost universal service support pursuant to Part 54.[13]

4. WKY and Duo were the subject of audits covering the 2020 disbursement period.[14] In both cases, the Auditor determined the carriers violated section 64.901 of the Commission's rules,[15] which dictates how a carrier allocates costs between its regulated and nonregulated operations.[16] This

5. In both audits at issue here, the Auditor determined that the carrier improperly allocated certain spare fiber strands contained within its in-use fiber sheaths to its regulated telecommunications account by directly assigning those costs to cable and wire facilities (C&WF) category 1.[20] The Auditor determined that, rather than directly assigning those costs associated with spare fiber strands to C&WF category 1, the carriers should have allocated the costs associated with the spare fiber strands based on the usage of the in-use fiber strands in those sheaths, in accordance with the Commission's rules governing cost allocations for outside plant investment costs.[21] The Auditor recalculated the carriers' costs with the proper allocation, and recommended the recovery of $184,294 from WKY (including $182,416 under audit finding #1) and $69,968 from Duo for the improper overpayment of support.[22]

6. Both carriers appealed the decisions to USAC,[23] and USAC's High Cost Division issued decision letters seeking recovery of $184,294 from WY and $69,968 from Duo.[24] The carriers argued that under the Commission's rules, it was appropriate to directly assign the costs related to spare fiber strands based on the language of section 64.901(b)(2), and that direct assignment took priority over the language of section 64.901(b)(4), which governs cost allocation for outside plant investment costs.[25] Additionally, the carriers argued that when directly assigning the costs of the spare fiber strands, they properly assigned the entirety of those costs to regulated activities, because they intended to use those spare fiber strands for regulated activities in the future.[26] The carriers also alternatively argued that they had properly allocated the spare fibers, in accordance with section 64.901(b)(4).[27]

7. USAC denied both appeals.[28] USAC determined the carriers failed to properly follow the Commission's cost allocation rules.[29] USAC disagreed with the carriers' argument that direct assignment under section 64.901(b)(2) takes priority over reverting to any remaining cost causative linkage, such as relative usage, to assign common costs.[30] USAC noted that while "[c]ommon costs are allocated between regulated and nonregulated activities in accordance with a hierarchy," "central office equipment and outside plant investment costs are allocated based on relative usage," and thus the hierarchy of common costs does not apply to spare fiber, which is an outside plant investment.[31] USAC also disagreed with the carriers' assertion they had properly accounted for their spare fiber costs under section 64.901(b)(4), because the carriers failed to provide sufficient documentation to support such a finding.[32]

8. Both parties subsequently appealed USAC's denial to the Commission,[33] arguing USAC made an "erroneous determination that spare fiber strands were improperly accounted for . . . under 47 C.F.R. § 64.901."[34] In the alternative, the carriers requested a waiver of section 64.901(b)(4).[35] Requests for review of USAC decisions are subject to de novo review by the Bureau.[36]

III. DISCUSSION

9. We agree with the Auditor's determination, affirmed by USAC on appeal, that both carriers improperly accounted for their spare fiber strands. The carriers have also failed to demonstrate good cause to justify a waiver of the Commission's Part 64 cost allocation rules.

10. Section 201(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the Act) requires that only reasonable investments and expenses be recovered through regulated interstate rates—a requirement we have historically enforced through the "used and useful" standard.[37] This foundational standard "seeks to ensure that carriers are compensated for the use of their property to provide regulated services, balanced by the equitable principle that ratepayers should not be forced to pay a return except on investments that can be shown to benefit them within a reasonable period of time."[38] Universal service funding is intended "to support existing subscribers, rather than some potential future need[.]"[39]

11. Section 254(k) of the Act further prohibits incumbent local exchange carriers from using support funding to subsidize services that are subject to competition.[40] Consumers who ultimately bear the costs of the Commission's universal service support programs should "bear no more than a reasonable share of the joint or common costs of facilities used to provide those services."[41] The Commission's rules thus require rate-of-return carriers to allocate cost between regulated and nonregulated activities with section 64.901 setting forth the methodology for this cost allocation.[42] Section 64.901(b)(2) of the Commission's rules specifically requires carriers to directly assign costs to "regulated or nonregulated activities whenever possible."[43] Section 64.901(b)(3) provides that "[c]osts which cannot be directly assigned to either regulated or nonregulated activities" because they are not entirely assignable to either regulated or nonregulated activities are known as "shared" or "common costs" and are allocated between regulated and nonregulated use based on a hierarchy of principles set forth in section 64.901(b)(3).[44] Section 64.901(b)(4) separately requires carriers to allocate the costs of central office equipment and outside plant investment[45] between regulated and nonregulated activities based on a forecast of the relative regulated and nonregulated usage during a three calendar year period beginning with the current calendar year.[46] As the Commission has stated, forecasting for usage per section 64.901(b)(4) is required "only [for] investment in facilities that are shared between regulated and nonregulated uses."[47]

12. The carriers here argue that they properly assigned the entire cost of their spare fiber strands directly to regulated activities per section 64.901(b)(2) based on their intended use of the fiber at some point in the future to meet their broadband deployment obligations.[48] Direct assignment is not permissible when a facility is used for both regulated and nonregulated activities. rules, which is the first step of the four-step process rate of return carriers must follow,[49] carriers must separately identify costs solely assignable to regulated activities, costs solely assignable to nonregulated activities, and costs "incurred jointly or in common, which will be allocated between regulated and nonregulated activities."[50] Put differently, costs that are not entirely attributable to either regulated or a nonregulated activity cannot be directly assigned per section 64.901(b)(2).

13. In the instant case, the spare fiber was not in use. The carrier can thus not evaluate past or actual usage of the facility to allocate cost. When this occurs, the Commission has looked at other in-use facilities to determine usage and cost allocation. For example, when discussing the Part 36 process, the Commission has said that the "separations rules generally require carriers to apportion the cost of such facilities among categories on the basis of working network facilities,"[51] and has stated that "if an ILEC assigns 60 percent of the costs of the working facilities in a trunk to the narrowband loop category, 60 percent of the spare facilities in that trunk also [are] assigned to narrowband loop."[52] Similarly, the National Exchange Carrier Association (NECA) states that "[f]or cost study and USF purposes, carriers are required to allocate spare plant between the regulated and non-regulated operations whenever the associated in-use plant is used for both purposes."[53]

14. The Auditor here found the carriers' working network facilities, i.e., the in-use fiber, apportioned among regulated and nonregulated activities.[54] Accordingly, the carriers could not have directly assigned the spare fiber cost entirely to C&WF Category 1 regulated activities per section 64.901(b)(2), as the in-use cost was not entirely associated with a regulated or nonregulated activity. These costs must therefore be treated as shared or common costs under the Commission's rules. Section 64.901(b)(4) sets forth the allocation of shared costs associated with central office equipment and outside plant using a three year forecast "beginning with the calendar year during which the investment usage forecast is filed."[55] The spare fiber at issue here is considered outside plant as it connects a subscriber's premises to the central office exchange.

15. To forecast usage under section 64.901(b)(4), "a carrier must measure the comparative 'usage' of the regulated and nonregulated services sharing network facilities."[56] The Commission does not dictate the method by which carriers must apportion the regulated and nonregulated cost but the methodology must be a reasonable usage-based methodology.[57] The methodology must "roughly reflect[] the relative extent to which the shared facilities are being used by customers of each service."[58] In the case of spare facilities, however, there is no actual or historic regulated or nonregulated usage of the spare fiber to determine a reasonable usage forecast because the facility is not operational.[59]

Analyzing the comparative usage of other fibers in-use in the conduit to forecast future use, as the Auditor did, is a reasonable approach.

16. The carriers here suggest that even if they were not allowed to directly assign their entire spare fiber cost to regulated activities per section 64.901(b)(2), then under section 64.901(b)(4) their intended use of the spare fiber as entirely allocated to regulated activities is sufficient for purposes of satisfying the three year cost allocation forecast requirement.[60] WKY and Duo cite no support for this position, and allowing a carrier to subjectively dictate forecasted use for cost allocation without any comparative basis of past use of working facilities raises serious concerns. A carrier would have the incentive to forecast use in a manner to maximize support recovery for regulated activities. The carrier could thus subjectively shift the cost of potential, future nonregulated activities to regulated services supported by federal and state high-cost funding; "[a]s a consequence, ratepayers would be bearing a portion of the costs of deploying networks used to provide nonregulated activities in the future."[61] We thus find the subjective intent approach suggested by these two carriers is an unreasonable cost allocation under section 64.901(b)(4). Allowing carriers to subjectively allocate the cost of their facilities without looking at the use of other working loops in the fiber conduit would contravene section 254(k) of the Act and create a significant loophole in the Part 64 separations process for the treatment of central office equipment and outside plant. Accordingly, we agree with USAC that WKY and Duo failed to show that the costs of the spare fiber were properly allocated between regulated and nonregulated activities and deny the requests.

17. We also deny both carriers' requests for waiver. A waiver is appropriate if good cause is shown.[62] The Commission has found good cause exists "where special circumstances warrant a deviation from the general rule, such deviation serves the public interest, and a waiver would be consistent with the principles underlying the rule."[63] In these cases, the carriers have not provided evidence of special circumstances that warrant a deviation from the plain language of section 64.901(b)(4).[64] The carriers instead argue that accepting USAC's determination would discourage providers from investing in nonregulated services, such as expanding beyond their regulated areas, and thus impede the timely

[59] The non-operational status of the fiber also raises a separate issue as to whether the cost should be in the carriers' cost study at all. As challengers mention, Part 32 of the Commission's rules does allow the reservation of facilities for future use but on a limited basis. See WKY Request at 4; Duo Request at 4. Section 32.2002 states "This account shall include the original cost of property owned and held for no longer than two years under a definite plan for use in telecommunications service. If at the end of two years the property is not in service, the original cost of the property may remain in this account so long as the carrier excludes the original cost and associated depreciation from its ratebase and ratemaking considerations . . . ." 47 CFR § 32.2002(a); *see also Request for Review of a Decision of the Universal Service Administrator by Big Bend Tel. Sufficient facts are not in the record to determine when the fiber in question was deployed and when and if the carriers ever reserved the dark fiber for future use in Account 2002.

buildout of broadband and increase the digital divide.[65] This policy argument, even if accepted, would not constitute special circumstances. Moreover, we disagree. Section 64.901(b)(4) expressly contemplates the need for carriers to make investments in their network while considering the future use of those networks,[66] and expressly allows for costs to be assigned to regulated activities based on their reasonably projected future usage.[67]

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we deny a request filed by Rural Telephone Service Company, Inc. (Rural Telephone) seeking review of a decision of the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC).[1] We conclude that USAC properly sought recovery of Universal Service Fund (USF or Fund) high-cost support provided to Rural Telephone. We further find that Rural Telephone failed to establish good cause to alternatively waive the Commission's rules. Accordingly, we direct USAC to recover approximately $3 million in improperly paid support. In neither its Petition for Review nor its Request for Waiver does Rural Telephone directly contest USAC's findings that it violated specific cost accounting rules or the specific determination of the amount recoverable based on these rule violations but instead concentrates on certain procedural and constitutional claims that we address one-by-one.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Rural Telephone, a section 501(c)(12) non-profit cooperative, is an incumbent rate-of-return local exchange carrier offering broadband and voice services with approximately 5,000 access lines in rural western Kansas in study area code 411826.[2] Until 2019, Rural Telephone received full legacy cost-based support.[3] During the relevant audit review period, Rural Telephone received more than $19.2

[2] See FCC Review and Waiver Petition at 1-2.

[3] Id. at 3. Legacy support is provided through three primary support mechanisms, 1) the high-cost loop support (HCLS) mechanism, 2) the Connect America Fund broadband loop support (CAF-BLS) mechanism, and 3) the Connect America Fund Intercarrier Compensation (CAF-ICC) mechanism. HCLS provides support to rate-of-return carriers that experience high loop-related costs by deducting costs in excess of a specified benchmark from the state jurisdiction and adding them to the interstate jurisdiction. See 47 CFR § 54.1301(a). CAF-BLS subsidizes carriers with high local loop costs in the interstate jurisdiction for both voice and consumer broadband-only loops. See Connect America Fund et al., WC Docket No. 10-90 et al., Report and Order, Order and Order on Reconsideration, and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 31 FCC Rcd 3087, 3091, 3119-20, paras. 5, 86-87 (2016) (2016 Rate-of-Return Reform Order). CAF ICC support provides support to the extent otherwise-eligible revenue cannot be recovered through the carrier's Access Recovery Charge. Connect America Fund et al., Report and Order and (continued….)

million in legacy high-cost support.[4] In 2019, Rural Telephone voluntarily elected to receive support awarded on a fixed basis determined by a model through the Alternative Connect America Model II (A-CAM II) program in lieu of the receipt of cost-based support.[5] In 2023, Rural Telephone accepted the Commission's offer of Enhanced A-CAM support, which provided additional funding in exchange for a commitment to deploy robust broadband to more locations.[6]

3. Incumbent local exchange carriers subject to rate-of-return regulation develop their revenue requirements, used to calculate both rates and high-cost universal service support, in accordance with a four-step regulatory process. First, carriers record their costs, including investments and expenses, into various accounts in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts (USOA) prescribed by Part 32 of the Commission's rules.[7] Second, carriers assign the costs in those accounts to regulated and nonregulated activities in accordance with Part 64 of the Commission's rules to ensure that the costs of nonregulated activities will not be recovered by regulated service rates or through universal service support.[8] Third, carriers separate the regulated costs between the interstate and intrastate jurisdictions, as well as among cost categories, in accordance with the Commission's Part 36 separations rules.[9] Finally,

[4] Audit Report at 8. In 2011, Rural Telephone received legacy support through the following mechanisms: CAF-ICC, HCLS, Interstate Common Line Support (ICLS), Safety Value Support (SVS), and Local Switching Support (LSS). ICLS supported high local loop costs by providing rate-of-return carriers with the difference between their interstate common line costs (i.e., the portion of the local loop assigned to the interstate jurisdiction) and their interstate common line end-user revenues, which are limited due to the cap on subscriber line charges. In 2016, the Commission transformed ICLS into the CAF-BLS mechanism. See 2016 Rate-of-Return Reform Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 3119-20, paras. 5, 86-87. In limited circumstances, certain support recipients may continue to be eligible to receive additional HCLS pursuant to the Safety Valve Support mechanism. See 47 CFR § 54.305(d)-(e). LSS, however, was eliminated effective July 1, 2012, with all switching investments incorporated into the Commission's 2011 CAF-ICC reforms. USF/ICC Transformation Order, 26 FCC Rcd at 17760, para. 257.

carriers apportion the interstate regulated costs among the interexchange services and rate elements that form the cost basis for their interstate access tariffs pursuant to the Commission's Part 69 rules, as well as for high-cost universal service support pursuant to Part 54.[10]

4. When Rural Telephone received cost-based support, it was subject to the Commission's Part 32 financial accounting rules for recording costs, investments and expenses. Under section 64.901 of the Commission's rules, it was required to "separate [its] regulated costs from nonregulated costs" and to use an "attributable cost method of cost allocation for such purpose."[11] Additionally, as an eligible telecommunications carrier (ETC), under section 54.320(a) of the Commission's rules, Rural Telephone is "subject to random compliance audits and other investigations to ensure compliance."[12] Under section 54.320(b), ETCs like Rural Telephone must retain all records required to demonstrate to auditors that the support received was consistent with the universal service high-cost program rules "for at least ten years from the receipt of funding," and shall make "[a]ll such documents . . . available upon request."[13] We further note that in addition to this document retention rule, there are other document retention obligations and requirements relating to the receipt of support and that also requires that this information be made available to USAC and the Commission, including rules that may apply longer document retention periods.[14] As the Commission has previously explained, "[t]he burden is on recipients of high-cost funding to retain records sufficient to demonstrate that the funding they receive is consistent with the rules of the high-cost programs."[15]

5. In 2016, USAC's Audit and Assurance Division (AAD) commenced an audit of the legacy support Rural Telephone received in 2013 based on data reported by the carrier in 2011 and 2012 (Reporting Period).[16] On January 11, 2023, Rural Telephone received the results of this audit.[17] The Audit Report made 16 findings of non-compliance with the Commission's rules.[18] The Audit Report further recommended the recovery of $3,010,269 against Rural Telephone for the overpayment of support.[19] On January 12, 2023, USAC notified Rural Telephone that it would commence withholding of its high-cost support payments for a period of four months to recover the funds that Rural Telephone owed the U.S. Government.[20] The Audit Report was adjusted on January 17, 2023, after USAC had completed its evaluation of Rural Telephone's responses.[21] On March 13, 2023, the Audit Report was then revised to make minor adjustments to a table totaling the audit results. The January 11, 2023 report, however, correctly reported individual findings. Both revised reports, i.e., the January 17, 2023 and the March 13, 2023 revised reports, were treated and marked as confidential.[22]

6. On March 24, 2023, Rural Telephone filed with USAC a Request for Review and Motion for Stay (Review Petition), partially appealing the audit findings and seeking to enjoin the recovery of support.[23] USAC denied this request on August 16, 2023.[24] On October 13, 2023, Rural Telephone filed its Request for Review and Waiver Petition with the Commission, seeking dismissal of the audit findings and enjoinment of support recovery or, in the alternative, waiver of the Commission's rules to permit Rural Telephone to receive uninterrupted A-CAM II and Enhanced A-CAM support. Pending this review process, USAC did not initiate withholding of Rural Telephone's support payments for the purpose of support recovery.

The date on the executive summary of July 7, 2022, represents the date of when AAD received the Beneficiary's responses to the findings. That date does not represent when the report is issued/released as final. It took this step, consistent with the Commission's guidance, to revise its appeal to reflect the correct Audit Report ID: HC2016BE001 and the recovery amount, consistent with the revisions made to the audit report on March 13, 2023. USAC further indicated that it would still consider the appeal timely filed in compliance with 47 CFR § 54.720(b). 7. In its Request for Review and Waiver Petition, Rural Telephone challenges AAD's findings in the Audit Report based on claims that the support recovery violates Commission rules, common law, and certain clauses of the U.S. Constitution. In brief, Rural Telephone asserts that the Commission should reverse the audit findings for the following reasons: (1) USAC violated the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) by charging Rural Telephone with the failure to meet information collection requirements that were not yet effective;[25] (2) an uncodified Commission rule limits the timeframe over which an audit may be conducted to "within five years of the final delivery of service for the funding year in question," and the Audit Report was finalized more than a decade after the 2011 Reporting Period;[26] (3) the timeline over which USAC completed its audit violated the Administrative Procedure Act (APA)'s proscription against unreasonable delays in agency action;[27] (4) the Audit Report demands unjustified "forfeit" of all USF support paid and is not limited to improperly claimed support; (5) the Commission cannot withhold, modify, or impose penalties relating to the receipt of A-CAM support except in accordance with section 54.320(d) of the Commission's rules, and any attempt to do so through offset would constitute a breach of contract;[28] (6) the process followed by USAC in completing its audit and addressing its appeal deprived Rural Telephone of procedural due process protections guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution;[29] (7) the "forfeit" of the full amount of support associated with each of the audit findings constitutes an Excessive Fine prohibited by the Eight Amendment of the U.S. Constitution;[30] and (8) the imposition of such a forfeiture violates the Commission's limitations period set forth in section 1.80(c)(2) of the Commission's rules.[31]

8. Rural Telephone alternatively seeks waiver of the rules that USAC finds it violated in its Audit Report and the associated support recovery.[32]

III. DISCUSSION

9. Requests for review of USAC decisions are subject to de novo review by the Bureau.[33] A recipient of high-cost support must prove compliance by a preponderance of the evidence, consistent with the methodology set forth in Part 32, including the production of requisite documentation.[34] We reject each of the contentions made by Rural Telephone in its Petition for Review and reject Rural Telephone's request for waiver. We affirm AAD's findings.

A. Petition for Review

1. The Paperwork Reduction Act Does Not Prohibit Support Recovery

10. We reject Rural Telephone's contention that AAD's findings that Rural Telephone failed to produce sufficient documentation of its compliance during the Reporting Period under section 54.320(b) of the Commission's rules, and the associated recovery of support, is barred by the PRA.[35] We also find that AAD in its Audit Report properly found that Rural Telephone violated section 54.320(b).

11. Section 54.202(e) of the Commission's rules, which preceded the adoption of section 54.320(b) and which went into effect on January 23, 2008, set forth record retention requirements for ETCs participating in high-cost programs.[36] In the 2011 USF/ICC Transformation Order, the Commission re-designated section 54.202(e) as new section 54.320(b) and extended the retention requirement from five to ten years, a rule which became effective on May 8, 2012.[37] Rural Telephone asserts that as of February 1, 2011, the Office and Management Bureau (OMB)'s approval of the information collection in section 54.202(e) had expired, and therefore, any consequences relating to the failure to retain documents associated with cost studies completed after February 1, 2011 and preceding May 8, 2012 (the date that section 54.320(b)'s information collection requirement received OMB approval) cannot be given legal effect.[38]

12. Rural Telephone is incorrect in its assertion that no document retention requirement applied to the Reporting Period. On November 30, 2010, the Commission received an extension of its OMB approval without change of the then currently approved information collection for, inter alia, section 54.202(e) (OMB 3060-1112), until November 30, 2013,[39] and on November 26, 2013, it received an emergency extension of this approval until November 30, 2014.[40] Section 54.202(e) required retention of all records necessary to demonstrate that support received was consistent with Commission rules, for a

Pursuant to the amendment and recodification of this rule, the Commission deleted the recordkeeping requirement (i.e., 47 CFR § 54.202(e)) from OMB Control Numbers 3060-1081 and 3060-0774 but not OMB Control Number 3060-1112.

We note that the Commission obtained approval for the deletion of section 54.202(e) information requirements from OMB Control Numbers 3060-1081 and 3060-0774, but not OMB Control Number 3060-1112. This amendment, however, was not approved by OMB until 2012, so even if this deletion were to control, the collection set forth in section 54.202(e) was still effective in 2011.

five year period, from the receipt of support.[41] In this case, the payments associated with the Reporting Period occurred in 2013.[42] At minimum, Rural Telephone was required to keep records associated with the Reporting Period through 2018, marking five years from 2013 when Rural Telephone received payment based on its cost study for 2011. The Audit was initiated in 2016, at which time Rural Telephone was required to produce all documentation supporting payments received in 2013, well within the five-year document retention period set by section 54.202(e) of the Commission's rules.

13. Although the information collection requirements of section 54.202(e) were in effect for the duration of 2011, section 54.320(b) applied to those documents associated with payments received in 2013. More relevantly, we find that the application of section 54.320(b) of the Commission's rules to the 2013 payment year (which was after the effective date of the rule), is not a retroactive application of a rule simply because the records associated with the 2013 payments preceded the adoption of the rule.[43] Courts have held that a rule is impermissibly retroactive if it directly alters the "past legal consequences of past actions,"[44] but section 54.320(b), when applied to payments received in 2013, only changes the prospective consequences of not retaining records that carriers were required to retain as of the effective date of the rule (May 8, 2012) and that should have been retained in accordance with section 54.202(e). Moreover, the application of section 54.320(b) in this instance is not "secondarily retroactive" by affecting carrier expectations or impairing rights associated with section 54.202(e) because there was no vested right or reasonable expectation in 2013 that Rural Telephone could dispose of records associated with the Reporting Period in 2016 without consequence.[45] Accordingly, we find that the PRA does not bar the recovery of support received in 2013, and we uphold the Audit Report findings that Rural Telephone failed to maintain adequate documentation in several separate instances as required by section 54.320(b), which was in effect at the time the payments were made.[46]

2. The Audit Was Timely Completed

14. Next, we reject Rural Telephone's arguments that the audit was untimely and therefore cannot be sustained. Rural Telephone first claims that the audit was "unlawful" because under an uncodified Commission rule, such an audit must be initiated and completed within five years of the violation.[47] Rural Telephone then asserts that the extended timeline over which the audit was completed violates section 555(b) of the APA which provides that "[w]ith due regard for the convenience and Ass'n v. FCC*, 567 F.3d 659, 670 (D.C. Cir. 2009) (explaining that a secondarily retroactive law would "impair[] the future value of past bargains").

[46] We also note that when adopting section 54.202(e) of the Commission's rules, the Commission specifically noted that the rule would not alter preexisting document retention obligations and requirements to make such documentation available, including rules that applied longer document retention periods. See 2007 Comprehensive Review Order, 22 FCC Rcd at 16385, para. 24 ("To the extent other rules or any other law require or necessitate documents be kept for longer periods of time (e.g., to support the account balances in the Part 32 Uniform System of Accounts, continuing property records, pole attachment calculations, plant equipment age, cost, or useful life, depreciation rates), we do not alter, amend, or supplant such rule or law.").

[47] See FCC Review and Waiver Petition at 12-17.

necessity of the parties ... and within a reasonable time each agency shall proceed to conclude a matter presented to it."[48] Below, we reject each of these arguments.

a. No Commission Rule Limits the Audit Timeline

15. Rural Telephone asserts that AAD's audit findings are invalid because it was required by Commission rules to complete its audit by December 31, 2017, within five years, but instead did not complete this audit until January 2023.[49] Rural Telephone claims that in its 2007 Comprehensive Review Order, the Commission adopted a rule that limited the timeframe for completion of USAC audits to five years after "final delivery of service for the funding year in question," despite any language in that Order or in subsequent releases that appears to characterize this rule as a policy statement.[50] Rural Telephone argues that the Commission has demonstrated a clear intent to so bind itself through the use of obligatory language to describe this rule,[51] use of the APA-required rulemaking process to adopt this "rule," and publication of the "rule" in Federal Register,[52] and that subsequent attempts to characterize this "rule" as a policy statement are post hoc rationalizations for more discretion without following APA rule repeal requirements.[53] Rural Telephone thus asserts that USAC lacked the authority to issue audit findings in 2023 and to institute the process for recovery of support at that time.[54]

16. We disagree with Rural Telephone's assertions.[55] In contrast to legislative rules, agency policy statements lack the force of law. Such statements "announc[e] motivating factors the agency will consider, or tentative goals toward which it will aim, in determining the resolution of a substantive question of regulation,"[56] including how it will enforce agency actions.[57] In contrast, rules impose

In addition to referring to language in the 2007 Comprehensive Review Order, Rural Telephone points to language in the Commission's 2004 Schools and Libraries Fifth Report and Order, that Rural Telephone states was the precursor and basis for the five-year time limit applicable to the high-cost support program. Schools and Libraries Universal Service Support Mechanism, CC Docket No. 02-6, Fifth Report and Order and Order, 19 FCC Rcd 15808, 15819 (2004) (Schools and Libraries Fifth Report and Order).

[55] The Wilderness Society v. Norton, 434 F.3d 584, 595 (D.C. Cir. 2006) (explaining that when determining whether an agency pronouncement is a binding rule or policy statement, courts have recognized two lines of inquiry: 1) whether the agency's actual language identifies "rights or obligations" or indicates agency discretion, or 2) whether the "agency's expressed intentions" indicate that the agency meant to characterize the pronouncement as a rule). As indicated above, we find that under either line of inquiry, the Commission squarely pronounced a policy.

"binding norms," restrict agency discretion, impose specific standards, and are treated by agencies as controlling.[58] Courts have explained that "an agency pronouncement will be considered binding as a practical matter if it either appears on its face to be binding, or is applied by the agency in a way that indicates it is binding,"[59] including situations where parties "'can rely on [the pronouncement] as a norm or safe harbor by which to shape their actions.'"[60]

17. We acknowledge that certain language in the 2007 Comprehensive Review Order and the Schools and Libraries Fifth Report and Order,[61] has a compulsory undertone by describing the administrative limitations period as a timeframe "in which the Commission or the Administrator will determine that a violation has occurred among recipients of [support],"[62] or in which "USAC and the Commission shall carry out any audit or investigation,"[63] respectively. for the E-Rate program in more definitive terms, i.e., the policy operates "to provide beneficiaries with certainty and closure in the E-rate applications and funding processes," and "strikes an appropriate balance between preserving the Commission's fiduciary duty to protect the fund against waste, fraud and abuse and the beneficiaries' need for certainty and closure."[64] Nonetheless, both the Schools and Libraries Fifth Report and Order and the 2007 Comprehensive Review Order also refer to the statement as being "a policy,"[65] and the 2007 Comprehensive Review Order specifically explains that such a "general policy … would provide [support recipients] with some [rather than absolute] certainty of the time within which an audit or further review of funding may occur."[66] Accordingly, when placed in the greater and proper context, neither the language in the 2007 Comprehensive Review Order nor the language in the Schools and Libraries Fifth Report and Order give rise to the conclusion that the administrative limitations period was intended to be an uncodified rule.

18. Further, the administrative limitations period was closely tied with the five-year period associated with the document retention rule that was in effect at the time.[67] The Commission made clear that the document retention rule would not alter, amend, or supplant any rules that required or necessitated documents be kept for longer periods of time (e.g., to support the account balances in the Part 32 Uniform System of Accounts, continuing property records, pole attachment calculations, plant equipment age, cost, or useful life, depreciation rates) and to provide those documents upon request.[75] If those documents could not be utilized to demonstrate compliance, however, after the five-year term ended, the requirement that they be maintained for longer periods of time would have little to no legal purpose.

19. From a practical standpoint, while the Commission has some control on the timing in which an audit is initiated, it has much less control over when an audit is completed, as it is dependent on several factors, unique to the level of complexity associated with the carrier's cost reporting, the nature of its record maintenance and organization, and the carrier's participation in the audit process. Such factors simply cannot be fully evaluated in advance of an audit's initiation. Although Rural Telephone places special emphasis on the publication of the pronouncement in the Federal Register, the APA requires publication of both rules and general statements of policy, and thus such publication cannot serve as "evidence" of the agency's intentions.[68] For all these reasons, the Commission's discussions regarding the administrative limitations policy do not clearly and unambiguously indicate an intent to place rigid limits on its broad authority to investigate noncompliance with the Communications Act and the Commission's rules.[69]

20. Further, the Commission has not established any norm, safe harbor, or even reasonable expectation that the administrative limitations period would insulate a carrier from overpayment of support. On multiple occasions, dating back to the 2011 Reporting Period, the Commission has completed audit investigations and/or ordered the recovery of support more than five years after it was paid.[70] The Commission has also stated that its statutory and constitutional obligation to recover support overpaid transcends any purported rule that would limit the Commission's investigatory authority. Even assuming arguendo that the Commission had intended to bind itself to a rule limiting investigations and audits of overpaid support to five years, the Commission has asserted that it would have lacked the authority to impose such a rule.[71]

b. The Audit Timeline Did Not Violate the APA

21. Rural Telephone further asserts that the "ten-year delay" in completing its audit violates the proscription in section 555(b) of the APA against unreasonable delays in agency action.[72] In addition to stating that the duration of the audit is inherently unreasonable, Rural Telephone makes two primary contentions relating to the delay: 1) the public interest policies underlying the Enhanced A-CAM program would be undermined if USAC were allowed to continue with offset measures directed at future Enhanced A-CAM support payments[73] and 2) the passage of time has prejudiced Rural Telephone's ability to defend itself against the audit findings.[74] We reject these arguments and find that Rural Telephone has failed to demonstrate that the timespan over which the audit was conducted breaches the Commission's administrative duties under Section 555(b) of the APA.

22. The Commission recognizes its duty and responsibility to take timely action to identify, resolve and recover support. Whether a delay is unreasonable for section 555 purposes, however, is contextual and can only be evaluated based on a several factors, including, inter alia, the "rule of reason,"[75] the kind of timeline in which Congress has indicated the Commission should act, the effect of delays on public welfare (with delays in the "sphere of economic regulation" being more tolerable), and the nature and effect on interests potentially prejudiced.[76] The "rule of reason" must take into consideration the number and complexity of issues involved, the limited resources the agency has to complete this kind of evaluation, and the number of entities that must be evaluated.[77]

23. As the Commission has previously explained, there are no Congressionally imposed time limits on the investigation and recovery of support.[78] The Commission's cost accounting rules can be complex, requiring both legal and technical accounting expertise, and the audit process is inherently iterative and interactive. In 2010, the Commission provided approximately $3 billion in legacy support to support telecommunications services in high-cost areas.[79] Audits may be conducted randomly or based on indications of fraud, waste or abuse but are conducted on a carrier-by-carrier basis. In 2011, in response to a report issued by the Government Accounting Office, the Commission began to ramp up the depth and number of audits for the high-cost program.[80] The financial harm to Rural Telephone caused by the delay is limited because there was no withholding or modification of support payments pending the outcome of the audit. Rather, Rural Telephone has received a benefit from a delayed recovery by retaining these funds during the audit without accounting for inflation or payment of interest.[81] In contrast, the proposed relief that Rural Telephone seeks would cause direct harm to the public interest. As the Commission has explained, audits are designed to prevent the kinds of "market distortions arising from misuse or misallocation of USF support explicitly recognized by Congress in section 254(k) of the [Communications Act] and directly implicated by cost allocation errors."[82] For these reasons, the time span between the Reporting Period and the initiation of the audit does not cross the reasonableness threshold warranting invalidation of the audit findings.[83]

24. Further, the resolution Rural Telephone seeks—the invalidation of the audit findings and enjoinment of support recovery—is likely not cognizable under section 555(b). Judicial precedent suggests that the APA permits a suit to compel agency action but does not provide an independent ground for dismissing agency action.[84] Relatedly, a significant body of precedent holds that undue prejudice caused by even inexcusable delay cannot be asserted against the United States when protecting a public interest.[85] While a few courts have declined to enforce an agency action due to delay, it appears that these cases are limited to situations where delayed action calls into question the efficacy and reasonableness of permitting the agency action to move forward, such as might occur when the agency's remedy of injunctive relief proscribes future conduct that could not possibly occur because of changed

In this regard, we note that the Commission could not even begin to evaluate whether the payments associated with the 2011 Reporting Period were issued in accordance with the Communications Act and associated Commission rules until the end of 2013, the year in which such payments were received because of the administrative timeline for the true-up of projections.

circumstances or undoes agreements and policies, independently undertaken by parties, that have essentially remedied or resolved the concern during the extended delay.[86]

25. Rural Telephone generally puts forth a different and significantly broader interpretation of when a delay might warrant a decision to deny enforcement of an agency action, asserting that such denial is appropriate "when the passage of time between the events in question and the agency's remedy have so changed the underlying situation that enforcement of an order would undermine more government policies than it would advance."[87] Rural Telephone then asserts that under this broad reading, the Commission cannot reasonably proceed with an offset that targets payments receivable through different fixed-support programs, such as payments to be received through the Enhanced A-CAM program.[88] It argues that offset of fixed support payments received through a program that has different policy objectives and parameters undermines the program's objectives, including the goals of preserving and advancing voice and broadband service in areas served by rate-of-return carriers and extending certainty and predictability of support.[89] It further characterizes legacy support as an "obsolete" and "outdated" program.[90]

26. We disagree with the Rural Telephone's interpretation of when agency action should not be enforced due to the passage of time. The audit findings and the related recovery simply returns Rural Telephone to the status quo ante but for its rule violations. Unlike those few exceptional situations giving rise to the invalidation of agency action, the audit findings and support recovery do not proscribe future conduct that can no longer possibly occur, even if offset would potentially affect future payments.[91] Rural Telephone has not experienced, due to the timeline over which the audit was completed, compounding injuries in the form of continuously withheld support,[92] nor has it been denied other [86] See, e.g., Emhart, 907 F.2d at 379-80 (stating that "enforcement of the order now not only would undermine more labor policies that it would advance, but also would mock reality," as two intervening collective bargaining agreements adopted and reinstated the procedures that the agency had found objectionable because such procedures were previously based on unilateral decisions, and where the ordered remedy would only apply to a plant that had closed years earlier); *NLRB v. We note that while Rural Telephone cites the British Airways Board vs. Port Authority case for the proposition that delays "can threaten introduction of new technology," it does not tie this proposition specifically to its subsequent arguments that recovery of support through offset should be disallowed. We note that this case invalidated a local ban on certain federally-authorized test flights resulting from a local authority's failure to promulgate certain noise standards. While the basis for the decision is a bit unclear, it focuses on preemption, the scope of the local authority's delegated power, and the impact of the authority's behavior on commerce. *See generally British Airwaves Bd. v. [91] See id. at 3-4. Rural Telephone cites Emhart for the very broad the proposition that delayed agency action should not be enforced when such enforcement has become largely ineffectual in promoting "any reasonable policy" but this is clearly not the case here. See infra Paragraph 50 and n.174.

Rural Telephone cites Olivetti for the general proposition that delayed enforcement can become penal or confiscatory when the remedy would exceed any remedial purpose, but this decision specifically focused on the fact that the opportunities, such as participation in the Enhanced A-CAM program. The offset of payments is only one method available to recover support, and therefore, the argument that offset somehow undermines Enhanced A-CAM objectives is a red herring. For these reasons, we cannot conclude that the facts at hand necessitate the relief Rural Telephone is seeking under the judicial precedent.

27. We also reject Rural Telephone's contention that the Commission should not enforce the audit findings because the timeline of the audit has resulted in undue prejudice. Rural Telephone's primary contention is that due to the passage of time, its ability to defend itself against USAC's allegations has been impaired by the unavailability of witnesses, the dimming of memories, changed personnel, death of personnel, changes in ownership of affiliates, and the loss of pertinent records.[93] More specifically, Rural Telephone states that "[l]ocating old paper records … is difficult, if not impossible," since it had "gradually digitized its records since 2009;"[94] that it had migrated to a new financial accounting system in 2013 and had, in 2020, decommissioned the server for the initial system "due to cyber-security concerns;"[95] that four "key individuals . . . have either retired, died, or no longer work at Rural Telephone;"[96] that USAC demanded access to records that were never in its possession;[97] and that it is being unfairly penalized for following guidance that was provided as part of a 2008-2009 audit conducted by USAC's external audit team, KPMG LLC (KPMG audits), on USAC's behalf and approved by USAC.[98]

28. These circumstances, however, do not demonstrate actual prejudice caused by the duration of the audit. Rural Telephone describes issues it has had with obtaining or producing relevant records but does not provide details that specifically tie these issues to the length of the audit process. Moreover, it has failed to demonstrate that it took all due precautions to prevent the loss of records it possessed. And while Rural Telephone states that it might have received and submitted testimonial evidence from key personnel, it does not explain whether such information would have been appropriately confined to its proper role of "interpreting or corroborating documentary or physical information" nor does Rural Telephone contend that such interpretation and corroboration would likely have been considered sufficient by USAC to support its cost accounting.[99]

29. While Rural Telephone asserts that it should not be penalized for not having records originally held by third party entities and associated with certain transactions, which it asserts it could neither obtain at the time of the transaction nor obtain during the audit process, and which might not ever have existed, we disagree.[100] In support of this argument, Rural Telephone suggests that the record

[100] In support of its contention that it cannot be held accountable for records it never held, Rural Telephone cites a case involving two separate statutory limitations period for the issuance of citations for the failure to create a record and the failure to maintain a record, and a "strained" attempt to conflate the two types of violations by treating the failure to create a record as a continuing violation. See AKM LLC, 676 F.3d at 756. In making its finding, USAC is

"retention" requirement in section 54.320(b) cannot be interpreted to include records never held.[101] We find this argument to be specious. USAC auditors must conduct audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, which requires USAC to obtain sufficient and appropriate evidence to substantiate the audit findings. If Rural Telephone submitted data that cannot be substantiated by its records as the proper amount or assigned to the appropriate ledger under the Commission rules, Rural Telephone has not demonstrated "to auditors that the support received was consistent with the universal service high-cost program rules."[102]

30. Rural Telephone also asserts that in 2011, it had reasonably relied on USAC guidance received as part of the prior KPMG audits and it should not have been required to defend this reliance 15 years later.[103] Rural Telephone, however, has not specifically shown that its reliance on the guidance and findings of the KPMG audits caused it to destroy or lose records that it would have otherwise retained, thus tying this claim into the assertion that the audit delay specifically prejudiced Rural Telephone. AAD has clarified that the scope of its testing differed from the scope of KPMG's audit testing, and that AAD identified issues under the rules that were not examined or commented on as part of the KPMG audit.[104] Because AAD examined different issues than those identified through the KPMG audit, even if related to similar transactions, Rural Telephone had no reasonable basis to assume it need not retain records specifically relating to these issues. As the Bureau recently held, reporting carriers cannot reasonably rely on earlier audit findings to bind subsequent determinations, nor would it limit the Commission's de novo review; audits differ in scope and depth and as a result USAC can identify issues that it failed to identify previously.[105] Accordingly, we find no basis for invalidating AAD's findings and forgiving the associated amounts based solely on the timeline over which the audit was initiated and concluded.

c. Rural Telephone was not prejudiced by AAD's actions while conducting the audit

31. Rural Telephone claims that the administrator had the obligation, under section 213(c) of the Communications Act to "calculate a reasonable estimate of overpayment over regulated cost rather than recover all support" when original costs are not known or cannot be known.[106] Rural Telephone also points to several part 32 Commission rules that allow for the reporting carrier to submit estimates.[107] Rural Telephone states that after it provided USAC with "all the data that was reasonably available," USAC bore the burden of presenting a methodology by which it determined that Rural Telephone's submissions were insufficient to provide a reasonable estimate, the method by which it made its own estimate, and the evidence it used to make such estimate.[108] The failure of USAC to provide such estimate and methodology, asserts Rural Telephone, is prejudicial to Rural Telephone's ability to challenge several findings in the Audit Report. It stresses that USAC carried the burden of "adducing a reasoned presentation supporting the reliability of its methodology."[109]

32. Rural Telephone cites section 213(c) of the Communications Act as requiring the Commission to estimate costs when original costs cannot be determined. Rural Telephone is misinterpreting section 213(c), a subsection of a statutory provision that is a reservation of Commission discretion to gather information related to the original valuation of common carrier property at the time of "its dedication to public use," and which has primarily been invoked by the Commission in the context of its authority to govern the rates, terms, and conditions of interstate communications to allow a return on investment in capital and assets.[110] Section 213(c) is not only inapposite here but also does not require the Commission to take any action, nor does it provide a carrier any specific relief from its obligation to exercise due diligence in identifying, maintaining, and locating the requisite records because of its self-determined "reasonable" efforts. Similarly, the rules that Rural Telephone cites in further support of its contention that USAC was required to make estimates and furnish a methodology for making such estimates, only permit the reporting carrier to submit estimates of original costs. We note that one of these rules even specifically provides that "when estimates are used, the company shall be prepared to furnish the Commission with the particulars of such estimates."[111] Accordingly, Rural Telephone was not prejudiced by AAD's failure to produce estimates on behalf of Rural Telephone or provide a methodology by which it had done so.

33. Rural Telephone more generally states that it has been prejudiced by the inability to access AAD's calculations and methodology despite repeated requests.[112] Although it does not specifically describe the calculations and methodology requested that resulted in an inability to respond to USAC Findings, it does provide citations to the Audit Report where it made certain challenges to two audit findings: 1) Finding No. 1: Improper Accounting of Affiliate Lease, and 2) Finding No. 8: Improper Affiliate Transactions.[113] More specifically, Rural Telephone asserted that before determining improper reporting of a substantial affiliate lease transaction as an operating lease in contradiction to section 36.2(c) of the Commission's rules, USAC was required to define when a lease should be considered an operating or capital lease and clarify what a "substantial" intercarrier contract is with reference to either a "dollar amount and/or percentage of revenue and/or expense in the rules."[114] We disagree. As recently affirmed by the Bureau, "an affiliate transaction should be considered substantial when the amount of investment involved in the affiliate transaction skews the separations results to sizably increase the amount of support received by the beneficiary."[115] Improper reporting resulting in overpayment of millions clearly skews and distorts a cost study,[116] and in this case, the cost of the asset, the face value of the transaction, and the effect of not capitalizing the transaction[117] all lead to the irrefutable conclusion that the transaction was substantial. Given these circumstances, the audit findings are consistent with the Commission's interpretation of section 36.2(c) and fully supported by the record, and Rural Telephone is entitled to no further explanation.

[110] The statute permits the Commission to require carriers to produce a statement showing the original cost of property at the time of its "dedication to public use," and in the event that such cost data cannot be provided through accounting records or other sources, to require, at its discretion, that carriers provide estimates in the manner it proscribes. 47 U.S.C. § 213(e). Policy and Rules Concerning Rates for Competitive Common Carrier Services and Facilities Authorizations Therefor, CC Docket 79-252, Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 84 FCC 2d 445, 458, para. 39 (1981) ("Section 213, for example, invests the Commission with the power to investigate the carrier's rate base to assure that the rates charged reflect accurately the cost of the property used to provide the service.")

34. Finding Number 8 determined that Rural Telephone failed to properly account for certain lease payments for motor vehicles that Rural Telephone leased from its affiliate under section 32.27(b)(1)-(3) of the Commission's rules.[118] Rural Telephone responded to the audit findings with the assertion that it was not "supplied with the detail behind the analysis completed by the USAC audit team related to the number of employees per position related to the number of assigned vehicles per position."[119] USAC explains that despite receiving certain information from Rural Telephone, it was "unable to conclude that the multiple vehicles assigned to one employee should be considered used and useful as there are 47 more vehicles than actual employees," and "there were two individuals assigned to a vehicle that were not listed on the employee listing."[120] We find that this determination is reasonable under a case-specific analysis as it cannot be determined whether the payments were necessary for the provision of regulated service and otherwise prudent.[121]

35. USAC must determine whether Rural Telephone has demonstrated compliance, consistent with the methodology set forth in Part 32, including the production of requisite documentation but need not provide specific estimates to accommodate the financial interests of Rural Telephone or any other party in the absence of such proof.[122] Such assertion would push the burden to USAC to determine what portion of support should be deemed recoverable. As recently restated by the Bureau in its Big Bend Order, it is "not the responsibility of the auditors or within the scope of the audit for the auditors to recalculate, reconstruct, or correct [the carrier's] records, or examine financial records from years outside of the audited year to determine what [the carrier's] support levels should have been."[123] Accordingly, AAD has demonstrated that Rural Telephone failed to adequately meet its burden of proof.

B. Support Recovery is Not a Breach of Contract

36. Rural Telephone next asserts that the offsetting of its overpaid support by withholding Enhanced A-CAM support payments is a breach of the Commission's contractual offer and undermines the program's goals.[124] Rural Telephone states that the Commission entered into a contractual relationship with rate-of-return carriers that accepted Enhanced A-CAM in lieu of other forms of support through an unambiguous agreement with mutuality of consideration.[125] Rural Telephone asserts that pursuant to this agreement, support may only be withheld or reduced for the failure to meet program requirements in accordance with section 54.320(d) of the Commission's rules and cannot be used to offset any overpayments made in other programs.[126]

37. We reject these contentions. Support may be recovered through various methods including direct payments and payment plans in addition to offsets. We have already explained several times that having the authority to recover support is necessary for the Commission to fulfill its statutory mandate to fairly administer the universal service program.[127] So too has the Commission long held that ETCs have "no property interest in or right to continued support, nor any right to support other than provided for by our rules."[128] Further, long-standing precedent has maintained that absent some clear indication that the legislature intends to bind itself contractually, the presumption is that "a law is not intended to create private contractual or vested rights but merely declares a policy to be pursued until the legislature shall ordain otherwise."[129] Accordingly, "because the Commission has direct statutory authority to administer support and to recover such support . . . , the Commission need not even reach the

1. The Length of the Audit Did Not Violate Procedural Due Process Rights Guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment to the US Constitution

38. Rural Telephone next asserts that the length of the audit violates the procedural protections set forth in the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution.[131] Rural Telephone asserts that it has a property interest and statutory entitlement to receive A-CAM II and Enhanced A-CAM support that it has been authorized to receive in accordance with Commission rules, and that these interests are paramount to other public and governmental interests in the expedited resolution of these audit findings and recovery of support.[132] It identifies the Commission's primary interest as the fulfillment of its statutory requirement to make available communications services with adequate facilities at reasonable charges, which is directly advanced by Rural Telephone's uninterrupted receipt of universal service support.[133] Rural Telephone explains that USAC's processes pose "a profound possibility of erroneous deprivation," and any increased administrative burdens on USAC to increase the speed of its audits do not outweigh these interests.[134]

39. Rural Telephone is invoking a balancing test that courts use to determine the level and extent of procedural protections that must be afforded before a governmental deprivation of life, liberty or property.[135] In order for the Fifth Amendment due process protections to be available to Rural Telephone, however, it must first establish that the audit results and subsequent recovery action deprive it of entitlements to life, liberty, or property.[136] We hold that they do not, and on this basis alone, we reject Rural Telephone's due process claims. The Commission and courts have held that there is no entitlement to universal service support, and especially to such support that is improperly paid.[137] The Commission has recognized that, unlike the those benefits which the courts have stated are a protected statutory entitlement, there are no specific statutory bars to the recovery of USF support based on equity or fault that might indicate Congressional intent to create an entitlement.[138] Further, USF support is dissimilar to other entitlements as it is directed to, and must be used, only in accordance with the public welfare purposes for which it is disbursed, and in accordance with several statutory and regulatory prescriptions and policies.[139]

40. Nonetheless, even assuming arguendo that Rural Telephone had a protected property right or other entitlement in the receipt of cost-based USF support, Rural Telephone has received adequate due process. The essence of such process is having notice and opportunity to be heard, proportionate to the potential deprivation.[140] We reject any notion that the audit process and this de novo appeal process do not provide Rural Telephone a meaningful opportunity to be heard. The Commission and judicial precedent have already determined that the audit process and the informal adjudication of audit findings provides sufficient due process under the Constitution and the APA.[141] Accordingly, based on the above analysis, and based on our conclusion below that the USAC and the Commission are not required to provide estimates to fill in the gaps in documentation, we find that Rural Telephone received all process due.

C. Identification of Recoverable Support in Certain Audit Findings Does Not Constitute a Civil Forfeiture Nor Does it Constitute an Excessive Fine

41. Rural Telephone characterizes the audit findings as a civil forfeiture to the extent that they are "neither solely remedial nor repayment of a debt."[142] Rural Telephone asserts that the ordered recovery is not "merely remedial but punitive," since USAC is divesting Rural Telephone of support associated with costs properly recoverable.[143] Any recovery of support that the Commission was required to provide to meet its mandate to provide support that is both "explicit and sufficient" to preserve and advance universal service, asserts Rural Telephone, is "unlawful."[144] More specifically, Rural Telephone contends that in failing to provide a "reasonable estimate of any over-payment," and instead including in the total of overpaid support, "expenses that are properly recoverable," USAC is taking punitive action.[145] Rural Telephone asserts, consistent with its arguments above, that under section 213(c) of the Communications Act and sections 32.2005(a), 32.2000(b)(2)(ii), and 32.2000(f)(4) of the Commission's rules, "[i]f USAC was unable to determine any excess above regulated costs, it had an obligation to calculate a reasonable estimate."[146] Rural Telephone then identifies findings where it alleges that USAC failed to provide such estimates.[147] Rural Telephone asserts that requiring recovery of support received in excess of the amount that is not recoverable under the Commission's USF rules violates the Excessive Fines Clause of the Eighth Amendment because it is uncorrelated to the specific harm associated with such overpayment.[148]

42. In recovering all support that Rural Telephone could not adequately document rather than recovering some portion of this support based on an estimate, the Commission is not recovering more support than owed. Pursuant to the requirements of Part 32, support recipients carry the burden of demonstrating reported costs are accurate and consistent with requirements; unless such burden is successfully carried, the support recipient is not eligible to receive the support regardless of whether certain costs would otherwise be compensable.[149] While USF should be explicit, sufficient and predictable, the sufficiency principle does "not guarantee all local telephone service providers a sufficient return on investment," only that there will be "sufficient funding of customers, not providers"; the "[p]redictability principle … requires only predictable rules that govern distribution of universal service subsidies, and not predictable funding amounts …."[150] Under these circumstances, full support recovery associated with potentially recoverable costs does not constitute a fine, penalty or forfeiture because it does not deprive a carrier of support that it would otherwise be eligible to receive but merely returns a support recipient to the status quo ante;[151] the payments are not Rural Telephone's "own funds," but rather public funds to which Rural Telephone was not entitled.[152] The Commission has rejected claims that recovery of support constitutes a fine, penalty, or forfeiture, distinguishing sanctions that serve a retributive or deterrent purposes from those that merely return an overpaid support recipient to the status quo ante.[153]

With respect to Finding No. 2, Rural Telephone asserts that USAC was required to estimate the excess over cost or fair market value as excludable from recoverable cost rather than all amounts paid to affiliates. See id. at 39. With respect to Finding No. 4, Rural Telephone asserts that USAC failed to estimate the amounts "related to providing regulated telephone service," when identifying amounts improperly claimed for non-regulated assets. See id.

43. Because support recovery is not a penalty or punishment for improper cost accounting even where such recovery might include costs that would otherwise be recoverable if properly supported, the Eighth Amendment's Excessive Fines Clause is not applicable. In order to violate the Eighth Amendment's prescription against excessive fines, a civil action must both constitute a penalty and be disproportionate to the harm caused.[154] The Commission has limited support recovery to that which Rural Telephone has been unable to demonstrate that it may receive in accordance with Commission rules and requirements, consistent with the burden of proof standards set well in advance of Rural Telephone's receipt of support.[155]

44. Finally, consistent with the findings that recovery of overpaid support in accordance with USAC audit findings is not a forfeiture, we find that the statute of limitations set forth in section 1.80(c)(2) of the Commission's rules,[156] which prohibits forfeitures imposed under section 220(d)[157] when a violation occurs more than five years prior to the issuance of a notice of apparent liability, does not

D. Conclusion

45. As noted above, upon de novo review, we agree with and uphold AAD's several findings in the Audit Report and independently find that Rural Telephone has failed to demonstrate compliance with the Commission's rules for high-cost program disbursements for calendar year 2011. In so holding, we address and reject each of Rural Telephone's claims that the Audit Report has violated Commission rules, statutory procedural requirements, and Constitutional rights. For all the foregoing reasons, we find that, by a preponderance of the evidence, Rural Telephone has received support to which it was not entitled and that it must now repay.[159]

IV. RURAL TELEPHONE HAS NOT DEMONSTRATED GOOD CAUSE FOR WAIVER

46. We next consider Rural Telephone's petition for waiver of the Commission's rules cited in support of the audit findings,[160] and find that Rural Telephone has failed to demonstrate "good cause" to grant the requested waiver relief. Petitioners seeking waiver under section 1.3 of the Commission's rules must establish "good cause" for such waiver by demonstrating that special circumstances warrant deviation from the rule when applied to the petitioner(s) and that such deviation better serves the public interest than strict adherence to the rule.[161] In assessing waiver requests, the Commission considers whether particular facts make strict compliance with the rule inconsistent with the public interest as well as questions of hardship, equity, or more effective implementation of overall policy on an individual basis.[162]

47. As an initial matter, to the extent that Rural Telephone repeats arguments to demonstrate special circumstances that are based on factual claims or legal theories that are addressed and denied above, we reject them as grounds for a waiver. For example, Rural Telephone argues that special circumstances include reliance on cost accounting guidance provided in the KPMG audits, prejudicial delay, including the inability to access certain records, breach of contract, and violations of the PRA.[163] Each of these arguments were addressed and rejected above, and we find no reason to reconsider these contentions here.

48. Rural Telephone asserts that "special circumstances" warrant a waiver because the audit "purports to administer" a cost-based USF mechanism that has been replaced.[164] Rural Telephone cites other cases where the Commission has granted waivers when its methodology for calculating USF support has changed.[165] While it is true that the Commission has waived certain rules when proposed or contemplated rule modifications could make administrative requirements obsolete or could compound administrative burdens unnecessarily,[166] the fact that Rural Telephone no longer participates in legacy support mechanisms does not render its past conduct unimportant. Although A-CAM programs are based on different policy considerations and have different objectives, those differences do not invalidate the legitimacy of legacy support programs nor do they make meaningless any review of cost accounting practices.

49. Similarly, while the Commission at times has granted waivers—often temporary—to alleviate "financial strain" on small companies,[167] it has not done so where the result would be a party receiving or keeping support that it should not receive under our rules. Rather than seeking temporary relief from unexpected financial circumstances or relief from unique circumstances outside its control, Rural Telephone is seeking an unjustified windfall in the form of relief from the obligation to repay support that was erroneously disbursed.[168] Any negative consequences arising from reliance on such overpayment, particularly when caused by Rural Telephone's own cost accounting and data retention practices, cannot justify waiver. If it were to so justify waiver, the exception would subsume the rule.[169]

50. Finally, Rural Telephone asserts that a waiver would serve the public interest because offsets would cause support payments to be redirected from providing service to underserved and unserved areas, could cause it to {[ ]} and inhibit its ability to provide continued service in its service area.[170] Rural Telephone, however, is conflating its own interest with the public interest.[171] Offsetting support may interfere with Rural Telephone's business plans and overall liquidity, but the consequences for errors in cost accounting must be borne by the support recipient receiving support.[172] Indeed, to consider any financial consequences associated with the recovery of overpaid support as contrary to the public interest because such consequences could potentially divert a support recipient from fulfilling its current public interest obligations would selectively limit a carrier's accountability and undermine the Commission's stewardship obligations in the management and administration of the Universal Service Fund.[173] Accordingly, for all of the reasons described above, we find that Rural Telephone has failed to show good cause for waiver.

    - National consultation and one-on-one consultation

These Tribal Consultations are in furtherance of the Commission's government-to-government relationship as described in the Commission's Tribal Policy Statement.

Background: The FCC adopted a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (FCC 25-47) on August 7, 2025, under WTB Docket No. 25-217, to take a fresh look at the Commission's environmental rules to account for recent amendments to NEPA under the 2023 Fiscal Responsibility Act (FRA). In addition, in January, President Trump issued Executive Order 14154 titled "Unleashing American Energy," which called upon "all agencies [to] prioritize efficiency and certainty over any other objectives" in revising agency regulations implementing NEPA. In light of the changes to the legal landscape and consistent with the objectives of that Executive Order, the FCC seeks comment on how we should revise Commission rules to streamline the environmental review process, promote efficiency, and encourage deployment of infrastructure that results in more competition and technological innovation. Comments are due September 18, 2025, and Reply Comments are due October 3, 2025.

The FCC is also taking this opportunity to seek comment on whether there are parts of its environmental rules that are now unnecessary or outdated and should be deleted. Given the Commission's environmental rules are entwined with its historic preservation rules, we also seek comment on any impact to the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA) framework and examine what rule changes, if any, might be appropriate.

FCC Ex Parte Requirements: Tribal Nations and NHOs should file comments, reply comments, and ex parte presentations in the public record in order to put facts and arguments before the Commission in a manner such that they may be relied upon in the decision-making process. The Commission, however, will exempt ex parte presentations involving elected and appointed leaders, and duly appointed representatives, of federally-recognized Tribal Nations and NHOs from the disclosure requirements in permit-but-disclose proceedings (47 CFR § 1.1206) and the prohibitions on presentations during the Sunshine Agenda period (47 CFR § 1.1203). Specifically, presentations from elected and appointed leaders or duly appointed representatives of federally-recognized Tribal Nations or NHOs to Commission decision makers shall be exempt from disclosure. To be clear, while the Commission recognizes that consultation is critically important, we emphasize that the Commission will rely in its decision-making only on those materials that are placed in the public record for this proceeding.

Reasonable Accommodations

Reasonable accommodations for people with disabilities are available upon request by sending an e-mail to: FCC504@fcc.gov or calling the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau at 202-418-0530 (voice). Include a description of the accommodation you will need and tell us how to contact you if we need more information. Please make your request as early as possible as we may be unable to fulfill last-minute requests.

NON-STREAMLINED PLEADING CYCLE ESTABLISHED

Comments Due: September 22, 2025
Reply Comments Due: September 29, 2025

By this Public Notice, the Wireline Competition Bureau seeks comment from interested parties on an application filed by MNX Legacy Company, LLC (MNX Legacy) and Spectrotel Services, LLC (Spectrotel) (together, Applicants), pursuant to section 214(a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and section 63.04 of the Commission's rules,[1] requesting Commission consent to transfer control of Mosaic NetworX, LLC (Mosaic NetworX) to Spectrotel.[2]

Mosaic NetworX, a Delaware limited liability company, is a non-facilities-based reseller of IP-based business data services and other communications services to small and medium-sized business (SMB) and enterprise customers in the United States and select foreign countries.[3]

Mosaic NetworX offers domestic telecommunications services in Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, Nevada, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.[4] Mosaic NetworX is a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of MNX Legacy Company, LLC, which is a Delaware limited liability company that does not offer any form of communications services.[5]

Spectrotel, a Delaware limited liability company, is a non-facilities based competitive local exchange carrier (LEC) and interexchange carrier that provides resold voice and IP-based data services to SMB and enterprise customers across the United States.[6] Spectrotel is wholly owned indirectly by Spectrotel Ultimate Holdings, LLC, a Delaware holding company, which is managed by Grain

[2] Domestic Section 214 Application for the Transfer of Control of Mosaic NetworX LLC to Spectrotel Services, LLC, WC Docket No. 25-244 (filed Aug. 6, 2025) (Application). Applicants also filed a supplement to the Application on August 18, 2025. Letter from Matthew A. Brill and Michael H. Herman, Counsel for Spectrotel Services, LLC, and Brian Erickson, President of Mosaic NetworX, LLC, to Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary, FCC, WC Docket No. 25-244 (filed Aug. 18, 2025) (Supplement). Any action on the Application is without prejudice to Commission action on other related, pending applications.

Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company.[7] Spectrotel is ultimately controlled by David J. Grain, a U.S. citizen.[8] For more detailed ownership information, please refer to the Application and Supplement.[9]

Pursuant to the terms of the proposed transaction, Spectrotel Holding Company, LLC, a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Spectrotel, will purchase all of the outstanding equity interests in Mosaic NetworX.[10] As a result of the transaction, Mosaic NetworX will become an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Spectrotel.[11] Thus, David J. Grain will hold ultimate control of Mosaic NetworX.[12]

Applicants assert that a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity.[13] Because the proposed transaction is more complex than those accepted for streamlined treatment, and in order to analyze whether the proposed transaction would serve the public interest, we accept the Application for non-streamlined processing.[14]

No Referral to Executive Branch Agencies: The Commission determined in the Executive Branch Review Process Order that it would not routinely refer to the Executive Branch "standalone applications to transfer control of domestic section 214 authority."[15] The Commission, however, retains the discretion to refer a domestic-only section 214 transaction should it find that a particular application may raise national security, law enforcement, foreign policy, or trade policy concerns for which it would benefit from the advice of the Executive Branch.[16] Applicants state that the Application involves the transfer of control of a carrier that holds only domestic section 214 authority.[17] Accordingly, consistent with the decision in the Executive Branch Review Process Order, we find the Application does not require a referral to the Executive Branch. We do not find any special circumstances that warrant referral of this Application to the Executive Branch agencies. While we are not referring the Application, we will provide a courtesy copy of this public notice to the Executive Branch agencies.[18]

By the Chief, Audio Division, Media Bureau

1. The Media Bureau (Bureau) has before it the above-captioned application (Application) for renewal of the license for FM Translator station K250BA, New Orleans, Louisiana (Translator), which was filed on March 5, 2020 by FC New Orleans, Inc. (Licensee).[1] We also have before us an informal objection (Objection) to the Application filed by Crocodile Broadcasting Corporation, Inc.[2] For the reasons set forth below, we grant in part and deny in part the Informal Objection, and adopt the attached Consent Decree between the Bureau and Licensee. The Consent Decree resolves the Bureau's investigation into Licensee's compliance with sections 74.1231(b) and 74.1263(b) of the Commission's rules (Rules),[3] which requires FM translators to retransmit the signal of its primary station and prohibits the origination of programming. These same matters are the focus of the Objection and a January 17, 2020 inspection by the Enforcement Bureau.[4]

2. The Bureau and Licensee have negotiated the terms of the attached Consent Decree adopted herein, in which Licensee agrees to make a voluntary contribution of four thousand dollars ($4,000) to the United States Treasury and undertake a three-year compliance plan to ensure that it operates in a manner that complies with the requirements related to operation of FM Translator stations. In exchange, the Bureau agrees to terminate its investigation into the matters discussed above in paragraph 1.[5] After reviewing the terms of the Consent Decree, we find that the public interest will be served by its approval and by terminating all pending proceedings relating to the Bureau's consideration of potential violations of the Rules. A copy of the Consent Decree is attached hereto and incorporated by reference.

3. We find that the Translator has served the public interest, convenience and necessity during its most recent license term and that grant of the Application is warranted pursuant to section

Accordingly, upon Licensee fully and timely satisfying its obligation to pay the voluntary contribution in the manner set forth in Paragraph 14 of the attached Consent Decree, we will grant the Application.

4. ACCORDINGLY, IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to sections 4(i) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended,[7] and by the authority delegated by sections 0.61, 0.204, 0.283, and 1.93(b) of the Rules,[8] the Consent Decree attached hereto IS ADOPTED without change, addition, or modification.

5. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that, the investigation by the Media Bureau of the matters noted above IS TERMINATED, and the Informal Objection filed by Crocodile Broadcasting Company, Inc. on March 11, 2022, Pleading File No. 0000186526, IS GRANTED IN PART AND OTHERWISE DENIED.

6. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that pursuant to section 74.1281 of the Rules, a copy of this Order and Consent Decree and all related investigatory materials SHALL BE RETAINED in the above-captioned Station's records until grant of the next license renewal application, which will be filed on or before February 1, 2028.

7. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that, copies of this Order shall be sent, by First Class and Certified Mail, Return Receipt Requested, to FC New Orleans, Inc., 3401 Academy Drive, Metairie, LA 70003. Copies shall also be sent by email to Licensee, its representative, Mark B. Denbo, Smithwick & Belendiuk, P.C, and the objector, Crocodile Broadcasting Company, Inc.

II. BACKGROUND

3. As reflected in Section 74.1231(b) of the Rules, the purpose of FM translator stations is to retransmit the signal of a primary AM or FM radio broadcast station or another translator station. Section 74.1263(b) of the Rules provides that an FM translator station is not permitted to radiate when it is not retransmitting its primary station.[11] Thus, an FM translator may not operate when its primary station is not operating and cannot originate programming. These rules ensure that FM translator stations remain secondary services that improve the signal of their associated primary station and do not compete with full service stations that have greater public service responsibilities.

4. When Licensee acquired the Translator in December 2018, the Translator was producing programming for the HD-2 channel of KVDU(FM), Houma, Louisiana, Facility ID No. 34528, (KVDU) and also rebroadcasting KVDU's HD-2 signal. On January 17, 2020, an agent from EB's New Orleans Office inspected the Translator and determined that it was in violation of section 74.1263(b) of the Commission's rules because the Translator was continuously radiating when the signals of its primary station KVDU were not being retransmitted. EB subsequently issued the Notice on February 10, 2020. Licensee filed the Application on March 5, 2020.

[11] Limited exceptions allowing FM translators associated with Class D "daytimer" AM stations to continue operating at night and any FM translator to air brief financial support announcements and warnings of imminent danger are not applicable to time period at issue in this proceeding. See 47 CFR § 74.1231(f).

5. The facilities of KVDU were damaged by Hurricane Ida on August 29, 2021, causing KVDU to go silent. On March 11, 2022, Crocodile Broadcasting Corporation, Inc., filed the Objection. The Objection alleges that the Translator has been originating programming rather than rebroadcasting the HD-2 signal of KVDU since at least August 2021 and possibly even before the damage to KVDU's licensed tower. In response to the Objection, Licensee acknowledges that the Translator operated when KVDU was not on the air and originated programming. Licensee states that although it was aware that KVDU's transmitter was off the air due to storm damage, it incorrectly believed that it was permitted to originate programming over the Translator because of the emergency situation. Licensee further explains that it had no communications counsel at the time and believed that it was providing a valuable service, including weather updates, to the local Spanish-speaking radio audience.

6. Beginning April 14, 2022, the Translator changed its primary station to KTIB(AM), Thibodaux, Louisiana (Facility ID No. 36183) (KTIB). Licensee reports that, as was the case with KDVU, it provides programming for broadcast on KTIB, and the Translator rebroadcasts the KTIB signal. Licensee asserts that it is currently in full compliance with section 74.1263(b) and all other Communications Laws, because it now understands that the Translator is not permitted to originate broadcast signals or to radiate at all when its primary station is not also on the air. Licensee reports that it has undertaken remedial action including establishing internal controls to ensure that, should circumstances in the future cause station KTIB or another future primary station to cease broadcasting, the Translator will immediately cease broadcasting until such time as its primary station returns to the air.

III. TERMS OF AGREEMENT

7. Adopting Order. The parties agree that the provisions of this Consent Decree shall be incorporated by reference by the Bureau in an Adopting Order without change, addition, deletion, or modification.

8. Jurisdiction. Licensee agrees that the Bureau has jurisdiction over it and the matters contained in this Consent Decree and has the authority to enter into and adopt this Consent Decree.

9. Effective Date. The Parties agree that this Consent Decree shall become effective on the Effective Date as defined herein. As of the Effective Date, the Parties agree that this Consent Decree shall have the same force and effect as any other order of the Commission.

10. Violations. The Parties agree that any violation of the Adopting Order or the terms of this Consent Decree, in whole or in part, shall constitute a separate violation of a Commission order, entitling the Commission, or its delegated authority to exercise any rights and remedies attendant to the enforcement of a Commission order.

11. Admission of Facts. Licensee admits for the purpose of this Consent Decree and for Commission civil enforcement purposes, and in express reliance on the provisions of paragraph 12 herein, that paragraphs 4 to 6 of this Consent Decree are a true and accurate description of the facts underlying the Investigation. By entering into this Consent Decree, Licensee makes no admission of liability of any Communications Law and the Bureau makes no finding of any liability or violation.

12. Termination of Investigation. In express reliance on the covenants and representations in this Consent Decree and to avoid further expenditure of public resources, the Bureau agrees to terminate the Investigation, including granting the Objection in part and otherwise denying it, and to take the actions specified in paragraph 16. In consideration for the termination of the Investigation, Licensee agrees to the terms, conditions, and procedures contained herein, including the actions specified in paragraphs 14, 17 and 18. The Bureau further agrees that, in the absence of new material evidence, it will not use the facts developed in the Investigation through the Effective Date, or the existence of this Consent Decree, to institute on its own motion or in response to any petition to deny or other third-party objection, any new proceeding, formal or informal, or take any action on its own motion or recommend any such action by the Commission against Licensee concerning the matters that were the subject of the Investigation. The Bureau also agrees that, in the absence of new material evidence, it will not use the facts developed in the Investigation through the Effective Date, or the existence of this Consent Decree, to institute on its own motion or recommend any proceeding, formal or informal, to set for hearing the question of Licensee's basic qualifications to be a Commission licensee or hold Commission licenses or authorizations.[12]

13. Subsequent Investigations. This Consent Decree shall not prevent the Commission from investigating new evidence of noncompliance by Licensee with the Communications Laws or from adjudicating complaints or other adjudicatory pleadings filed by third parties against the Licensee for alleged violations of the Communications Laws or for any alleged misconduct, regardless of when such misconduct took place. Further, except as expressly provided herein, Licensee acknowledges that the Commission retains the discretion and authority to propose sanctions against Licensee, including the issuance of notices of apparent liability for forfeiture, for any apparent willful and/or repeated violation by Licensee of the Rules or Act. The Commission's adjudication of any complaints or potential violations will be based solely on the record developed in subsequent proceedings.

Licensee agrees to pay the Voluntary Contribution in two consecutive monthly installments (each an Installment Payment) of Two Thousand dollars ($2,000) each, until the Voluntary Contribution is paid in full. Licensee agrees that each Installment Payment shall be due and received by the United States Treasury on or before the first day of each calendar month (Due Date), with the first such Installment Payment due and received by the United States Treasury on or before the first day of the first full month after the Effective Date. Licensee acknowledges and agrees that upon execution of this Consent Decree, the Voluntary Contribution and each Installment Payment shall become a "Claim" or "Debt" as defined in section 3701(b)(1) of the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996.[13] On the date that each Installment Payment is made, Licensee shall send notification of the payment via email to Irene.Bleiweiss@fcc.gov. After an Event of Default has occurred under this Consent Decree, the unpaid amount of the Voluntary Contribution shall accrue interest, computed using the U.S. Prime Rate in effect on the date of the Event of Default plus 4.75%, from the date of the Event of Default until payment in full. Upon an Event of Default, the then unpaid amount of the Voluntary Contribution, together with interest, any penalties permitted and/or required by the law, including but not limited to 31 U.S.C. § 3717 and administrative charges, plus the costs of collection, litigation and attorneys' fees, shall become immediately due and payable, without notice, presentment, demand, protest, or notice of protest of any kind, all of which are waived by Licensee.

16. Grant of Application. Licensee hereby agrees to waive any claims it may otherwise have under the Equal Access to Justice Act[17] relating to the matters addressed in this Consent Decree.

23. Severability. By the Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we deny a request filed by Hart Telephone Company, Inc. (Hart) seeking review of a decision of the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC).[1] We conclude that USAC properly sought recovery of federal universal service fund (USF or Fund) high-cost support provided to Hart as the company did not meet its burden to substantiate its claims with adequate documentation, in compliance with Commission rules. We also conclude that the requested waiver of those rules is not appropriate given the facts of this situation. We therefore direct USAC to proceed with the recovery of $279,584 in improperly paid support.[2]

II. BACKGROUND

2. Hart is a rural, rate-of-return incumbent local exchange carrier headquartered in Hartwell, Georgia offering broadband and voice services. Hart's service areas include Hartwell, Float Shoals, Cross Roads, Maretts, Reed Creek, and Montevideo.[3] During the 2018 audit disbursement period, Hart received more than $2.1 million from legacy high-cost support mechanisms, including Connect America Fund Broadband Loop Support (CAF BLS), and Connect America Fund Intercarrier Compensation Support (CAF ICC).[4]

We note that while the Hart Telephone's Request for Review filing contains a header with the words "Privileged and Confidential," it has been publicly available in the Commission's Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS) for the past three years. Further, the Commission's rules provide that "[c]asual requests (including simply stamping pages "confidential") which do not comply with the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section will not be considered." 47 CFR § 0.459(c). We therefore are not treating Hart Telephone's Request for Review as confidential.

[4] Audit Report at 6. Interstate Common Line Support (ICLS) supports high local loop costs by providing rate-of-return carriers with the difference between their interstate common line costs (i.e., the portion of the local loop assigned to the interstate jurisdiction) and their interstate common line end-user revenues, which are limited due to the cap on subscriber line charges. ICLS subsequently became the CAF BLS mechanism, which subsidizes carriers with high local loop costs in the interstate jurisdiction for both voice and consumer broadband-only loops. See

3. Incumbent local exchange carriers subject to rate-of-return regulation develop their revenue requirements, used to calculate both rates and high-cost universal service support, in accordance with a four-step regulatory process. First, carriers record their costs, including investments and expenses, into various accounts in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts (USOA) prescribed by Part 32 of the Commission's rules.[5] Second, carriers assign the costs in those accounts to regulated and nonregulated activities in accordance with Part 64 of the Commission's rules to ensure that the costs of nonregulated activities will not be recovered by regulated service rates or through universal service support.[6] Third, carriers separate the regulated costs between the interstate and intrastate jurisdictions, as well as among cost categories, in accordance with the Commission's Part 36 separations rules.[7] Finally, carriers apportion the interstate regulated costs among the interexchange services and rate elements that form the cost basis for their interstate access tariffs pursuant to the Commission's Part 69 rules, as well as for high-cost universal service support pursuant to Part 54.[8]

4. In 2019, USAC's Audit and Assurance Division (AAD) initiated an audit of Hart's compliance with the Commission's rules for the High-Cost Program for the 2018 disbursement period.[9] The audit report identified seven findings of non-compliance and recommended the recovery of $279,584 against Hart for the overpayment of support during the relevant audit period.[10] Hart filed a partial request for review with USAC, seeking to vacate portions of two of the findings in the USAC Audit Report:

- Finding No. 1: Inaccurate Cost Study Adjustment – Assets and Expenses
- Finding No. 2: Improper Inclusion of Non-Regulated Amounts and Support Not Used for Intended Purpose of Federal Universal Support.[11]

5. These two findings of noncompliance resulted in an overpayment of support in the amount of $158,274 for finding No. 1; and, $60,966.33, which are a portion of the expenses for finding No. 2.[12]

6. USAC denied Hart's request for review on May 17, 2022.[13] Hart then filed a request seeking review of USAC's denial with the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau).[14] Specifically, Hart seeks review of USAC's finding that Hart was required to provide documentation of individual building values to support its Part 64 allocations, and USAC's rejection of 100 percent of expenses for training seminars and legal retainers on the ground that a portion of the expenses may be unrelated to the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services.[15] Simultaneously, Hart filed a request seeking waiver of the section 54.320(b) pursuant to sections 1.3 or 32.18 of the Commission's rules.[16] Requests for review of USAC decisions are subject to de novo review by the Bureau.[17]

III. DISCUSSION

A. Finding No. 1: Inaccurate Cost Study Adjustment - Assets and Expenses

7. We affirm USAC's finding that Hart did not provide sufficient documentation to justify the allocation of land and building values between regulated and nonregulated operations pursuant to section 64.901 of the Commission's rules. Accordingly, we agree with USAC that Hart made inaccurate allocations in its cost adjustments for certain assets and expense accounts for the 2018 audit disbursement period, which is based on high-cost data filed by Hart in 2016 and 2017.[18] Under the foundational "used and useful" standard, the Commission has adopted rules that "seek to ensure that carriers are compensated for the use of their property to provide regulated services, balanced by the equitable principle that ratepayers should not be forced to pay a return except on investments that can be shown to benefit them within a reasonable period of time."[19] Section 254(k) of the Communications Act further prohibits incumbent local exchange carriers from using services that are not competitive to subsidize services that are subject to competition, and directs the Commission to establish rules to ensure that services supported by the USF "bear no more than a reasonable share of the joint or common costs of facilities used to provide those services."[20] The Commission's rules thus require rate-of-return carriers to allocate cost between regulated and nonregulated activities, with section 64.901 setting forth the methodology for this cost allocation.[21] Section 64.901(b)(2) of the Commission's rules specifically requires carriers to directly assign costs to "either regulated or nonregulated activities whenever possible."[22]

8. Section 54.320(b) of the Commission's rules further requires all carriers receiving high-cost support to "retain all records required to demonstrate to auditors that the support received was consistent with the universal service high-cost program."[23] Carriers must also maintain these records for "at least ten years from the receipt of funding [and] [a]ll such documents shall be made available upon request."[24]

9. As part of the audit, AAD obtained and examined Hart's supporting documentation for 17 cost study adjustments to its 2016 high-cost data to determine whether Hart accurately calculated the adjustments.[25] AAD identified several unsupported cost allocations. Relevant to this appeal, AAD found that Hart did not provide documentation to support the allocation of the land and building values assigned to the regulated and nonregulated entities, which Hart used to derive the land and building allocation factors to allocate cost amongst Hart and its nonregulated affiliates.[26]

10. During the audit, Hart provided updated floor space studies, square footage data, building Continuing Property Records (CPRs), and its Cost Allocation Manual (CAM). AAD found this documentation insufficient, however, to support the reported cost allocations.[27] Specifically, AAD found that Hart's CPRs did not contain individual building values, which were necessary to verify the building allocation factors used to split costs between regulated and nonregulated operations.[28] AAD noted that because these individual buildings were used for different segments of the business, various allocation factors were derived based on their stated values to allocate costs, and that Hart admitted that it was not able to separate costs for each building in its CPR due to the length of time the buildings have been in place.[29] AAD stated that without access to those values, AAD could not confirm the validity of the allocation methodology reflected in the CAM.[30] Hart also claimed that its CPRs tied to total balances in the audited financial statements,[31] and that while it could not provide individual building-level costs, the aggregate total was verifiable and audited.[32]

11. As a result of the insufficient information provided by Hart, AAD concluded that the regulated costs associated with these buildings reported for high-cost purposes, including those costs recorded in Accounts 2121 (Buildings), 2122 (Furniture), and 2123 (Office Equipment), were not accurate.[33] In the absence of sufficient documentation to support the land and building values underlying the CAM allocation factors, AAD determined that the entire regulated balance associated with these accounts could not be used for the cost study.[34] The cumulative monetary effect of these deficiencies resulted in an overpayment of high-cost support of $158,274 for the 2016 disbursement year.[35]

12. Hart asserted to AAD that it had not observed significant changes to building square footage to justify a full update to its CAM and did not submit documentation to back up its assertions.[36] AAD rejected Hart's position, emphasizing that aggregate reconciliation does not satisfy the documentation requirements under section 54.320(b) of the Commission's rules.[37] Carriers are required to retain records necessary to demonstrate the accuracy of their reported data and compliance with program rules.[38] Because Hart did not retain and could not reconstruct individual building values, or clearly explain how the allocation percentages were derived, AAD found the reported allocations to be unsupported and unverifiable.[39] The identified overpayment, totaling more than $158,000, was deemed recoverable by USAC.

13. In its appeal to USAC, Hart continued to argue that as a Class B rate-of-return carrier, it follows industry-standard mass asset accounting, and its updated building allocation meets FCC requirements for assigning common costs.[40] Additionally, Hart argued that it was willing to conduct a detailed building-level analysis, if USAC deemed it necessary, to avoid removal of 100% of its building values from the cost study.[41] Hart submitted revised square footage data and CPRs at AAD's request, stating that these updates had minimal impact on the CAM results.[42] Hart also claimed that its CPRs tied to total balances in the audited financial statements[43] and that while it could not provide individual building-level costs, the aggregate total was verifiable and audited.[44] On appeal, USAC agreed with AAD that Hart is indeed "an eligible carrier receiving High Cost funds and they must maintain their records to demonstrate compliance as they are subject to an audit."[45] USAC also confirmed that "Hart Telephone failed to retain and maintain records for the 10-year period, in accordance with FCC rules."[46]

14. In its appeal to the FCC, Hart argued that it provided records consistent with Part 32 accounting purposes, which allows aggregate accounting, and that no rule requires building-level detail.[47] It also contended that section 54.320(b) mandates record retention, not creation, and does not grant USAC discretion to demand new or more granular records.[48] Finally, Hart submitted a request for waiver of the document retention rule.[49] Hart argues that strict application of the document retention rule is not justified, as no Commission orders require carriers otherwise subject to Part 32 to provide records with specificity.[50]

15. After de novo review, we uphold USAC's finding that Hart failed to provide adequate documentation supporting the allocation of its land and building costs between regulated and non-regulated operations.[51] The Commission has consistently held that recipients of universal service support bear the burden of compliance with program rules, including documentation under section 54.320(b). For instance, in Sandwich Isles, the Commission disallowed millions in claimed expenditures where the carrier failed to provide adequate support, emphasizing that unsupported costs may be recovered in full to preserve the integrity of the Fund and ensure compliance with program requirements.[52] Similarly here, Hart failed to provide documentation to demonstrate that any portion of the CAM was correct. Full disallowance is appropriate and necessary to make the Fund whole.

16. In its appeal to the Bureau, Hart asserted that, as a Class B rate-of-return carrier, it is permitted under Part 32 of the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts to aggregate land and building accounts and is not required to maintain building-level records.[53] While Part 32 permits such aggregation for accounting purposes, it does not relieve carriers of their separate obligation under section 54.320(b) to retain documentation sufficient to demonstrate that universal service support was received consistent with program rules. Even where detailed records are not required for general ledger accounting, carriers must still be able to demonstrate their cost allocations and support claims submitted for High-Cost funding. The obligation under section 54.320(b) is not to create documentation on demand, but to retain records that are adequate to substantiate the support claimed and the methods used to allocate common costs.[54]

17. Here, Hart used individual building allocations in its CAM to distinguish between regulated and non-regulated expenses.[55] However, it did not retain records identifying the value of each building or explaining how those values informed the allocation methodology.[56] Without such documentation, Hart could not demonstrate that its cost allocations satisfied section 64.901(a) requirements, separating regulated and nonregulated costs.[57] The submitted CPRs reflected only aggregate balances, which could not be reconciled to the specific building-level allocations claimed in the cost study.[58] This non-verifiable detail undermined any assurances that Hart's allocations complied with section 64.901(a). There was no path forward to determine whether nonregulated costs had been excluded from regulated accounts. As a result, USAC and AAD were unable to verify the accuracy of Hart's allocations, and the entire regulated portion of the building account was disallowed.[59]

18. While Hart argued that aggregate cost data is "reliable,"[60] FCC rules under section 54.320(b) require that carriers retain all records required to demonstrate support was received consistent with program rules.[61] Section 64.901(a) requires apparent separation of regulated and nonregulated costs,[62] not merely aggregated totals that cannot "match exactly" to underlying building-level costs.[63] Hart itself admitted that "[it] does not maintain separate costs for each building."[64] This admission confirms that Hart could not satisfy the standard of 64.901(a), since the rule requires separation to be evidenced at the cost level, not reconstructed after the fact.

19. The purpose of section 64.901(a) is to validate accuracy of the regulated versus non-regulated cost allocations, not just the total costs.[65] It is not the role of auditors to reconstruct or retroactively validate unsupported claims, particularly when a carrier seeks to justify cost allocation only after an audit has identified deficiencies.[66] The problem is not the timing of Hart's request, but that the analysis, even if performed, would not provide the verifiable support necessary to demonstrate that the previously claimed costs complied with section 64.901(a), separating regulated versus nonregulated costs.[67] As in Sandwich Isles, where the Commission disallowed costs in full, we find that USAC appropriately disallowed the reported amounts and sought recovery to preserve program integrity.[68]

20. Waiver. We also deny Hart's request for waiver of section 54.320(b).[69] Under longstanding Commission precedent, a waiver may be granted only where the petitioner demonstrates that special circumstances warrant a deviation from the general rule and that such deviation would serve the public interest.[70] Hart argues that it adhered to generally accepted industry practices for Class B carriers and, in the absence of Commission orders requiring carriers subject to Part 32 to provide building-level records, it reasonably relied on aggregate records permissible under Part 32.[71] However, this does not establish special circumstances under the Commission's waiver standard. As the Sandwich Isles Order makes clear, the burden is on the carrier to retain documentation sufficient to support cost allocations claimed for high-cost support.[72] Hart is not relieved of an independent obligation to substantiate cost allocations.

21. Hart's reliance on the Elite Program Specialists and Allband Communications Cooperative, is unpersuasive.[73] In Elite Program Specialists, the Bureau granted relief from a procedural requirement, whereas in this case, the deficiency is substantive in nature.[74] Elite Program Specialists does not excuse documentation issues or establish that a waiver is warranted in the absence of waste, fraud and abuse. Similarly, in Allband Communications Cooperative, the Bureau allowed waiver of study area boundary rules to preserve eligibility but did not address documentation requirements or disallowance for unsupported past claims.[75] Neither supports the proposition that a waiver is appropriate where a carrier does not meet the evidentiary requirement. The obligation under section 54.320(b) is not just procedural, it ensures that support is traceable to documented costs.

22. Hart also argues that strict disallowance is harsh and that, even without precise records, the majority of costs were related to regulated operations.[76] However, this argument misinterprets the Commission's burden-of-proof framework. Carriers, not the Commission or USAC, bear the responsibility of demonstrating the allowability of claimed costs.[77] Without documentation, there is no basis for determining what portion, if any, of the claimed costs was permissible. The Commission has consistently upheld full recovery in such cases, not as a penalty, but as a compensatory measure to protect the Fund.[78] Granting a waiver here would undermine audit integrity as inconsistent with the Commission's oversight responsibilities and the integrity of the Fund.[79] In the absence of evidence demonstrating that support was received appropriately and in accordance with program rules, recovery is required. Accordingly, Hart has not met the waiver standard, and its request is therefore denied.

B. Finding No. 2: Improper Inclusion for Non-Regulated Amounts and Support Not Used for Intended Purpose of Federal Universal Support

23. We affirm USAC's finding that Hart included nonregulated costs in its high-cost filings. We agree that the training and legal retainer costs were unrelated to telephone facilities and instead covered topics like set-top boxes and general advisory services. Accordingly, we agree with USAC that Hart improperly included expenses for nonregulated activities not used for the intended purpose of the Fund.

24. Under section 64.901(a), carriers must allocate costs between regulated and nonregulated activities to prevent cross-subsidization and ensure only eligible costs are included in support calculations.[80] Section 54.7(a) further requires that high-cost support be used solely for the "provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which the support is intended."[81]

25. As part of USAC's 2019 audit, AAD reviewed Hart's general ledger for the twelve month period ending December 31, 2016. Specifically, AAD reviewed 74 expense transactions totaling $1,488,495, 19 affiliate transactions totaling $82,667, and related support for cost study adjustments.[82] USAC AAD concluded that Hart failed to exclude non-allowable expenses, resulting in a finding of non-compliance with sections 64.901(a) and 54.7(a).[83] The monetary effect of these disallowances totaled

$116,089.[84] AAD identified 22 transactions where nonregulated or ineligible expenses were included in Hart's cost study.[85] These included meal and travel expenses, prohibited membership dues, and food and beverage expenses unrelated to service provisions, which were tied to an annual employee meeting and a retirement luncheon.[86] AAD noted that some events included substantial extracurricular activities, such as golf tournaments and zip-lining, or sessions unrelated to supported services, such as set-top box discussions.[87] AAD also concluded that the legal retainer fee covered broad services like newsletters and general advisory support, which are not sufficiently linked to high-cost service provision.[88] AAD concluded that these expenses were not necessary for the provision, maintenance, or upgrade of supported services and therefore should have been excluded from Hart's cost study.[89] USAC notified Hart that the cumulative monetary effect of these disallowed expenses would be subject to recovery, totaling $116,089.[90]

26. In its appeal to USAC, Hart disputed the disallowances of expenses totaling $60,966.33.[91] Specifically, Hart disputed its Training Seminar Related Expenses and legal retainer fee, which it asserted were necessary for the provision of maintenance, and upgrading of supported services.[92] Similarly, Hart contends that they relied upon a retainer agreement with communications counsel to provide timely guidance on a variety of questions concerning the Universal Service program and its regulations and obligations.[93] Hart explained that, as a small provider with limited internal resources, it relies on industry trainings and legal counsel to remain compliant with state, federal, and local regulatory requirements – including tariff filings, plant permitting, cybersecurity, and cost study compliance.[94] Hart argued these functions are preconditions to delivering supported voice and broadband services, consistent with section 54.7(a) and common industry practice.[95] "Hart does not have the internal resources to be able to keep up with the everchanging regulatory, accounting, and technological landscapes . . . ."[96] Hart contends that its legal counsel and the Training Seminars attended by Hart's officers and staff are thus necessary for the "provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which the high-cost support is intended."[97]

27. Hart further maintained that the 2018 High-Cost support Expense Exclusion Order does not categorically prohibit training or legal expenses necessary to maintain operational expertise, and that meals associated with work-related travel may be recoverable as reasonable per diem expenses.[98] Hart maintains that it provided adequate documentation to support these expenses and was not notified of deficiencies by AAD during the audit process.[99] In its appeal to USAC, Hart further emphasized that it already allocated these expenses through its CAM, which accounts for ineligible portions, and thus USAC's full disallowance was inappropriate.[100] USAC denied the appeal, affirming AAD's prior finding and reiterating that "Hart Telephone included non-regulated costs in its cost study balances reported for High Cost program purposes."[101]

28. In its appeal to the Bureau, Hart argued that USAC misapplied the statute in disallowing "costs incurred attending ordinary telecommunications conferences relevant to the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of telecommunication services, and . . . a legal retainer fee that covered 'general inquiries' in addition to inquiries relating to universal service."[102] Hart defined the Training Seminar Related expenses as "third-party training and educational meetings to obtain the latest knowledge relevant to the provision of services and to federal, state and local regulatory requirements."[103] It continued to argue that, as a small, independent carrier, its membership in associations and attendance at seminars is essential to staying informed of evolving FCC rules and maintaining necessary practices, including cybersecurity and accounting, and that the "benefits of these seminars in the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of supported services is clear."[104] Finally, Hart argues that USAC's concerns are already addressed in the way Hart accounts for the expenses; it "reduces the amount of the expenses at issue, in order to account for any portions of the expenses that are not directly and solely related to supported facilities and operations."[105]

29. We affirm USAC's determination that Hart included non-regulated and ineligible expenses in its high-cost cost study submissions, in violation of sections 64.901(a) and 54.7(a) of the Commission's rules. Hart argued that its training seminar expenses and legal retainer are directly related to the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of supported services, and therefore should be eligible for high-cost support.[106] Hart stated that the Commission's 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice identified personal travel, personal vehicles, and gifts as impermissible uses of support and asserts that its training seminars and legal services are nothing like those examples and do not involve waste, fraud, or abuse.[107] Hart further argued that these costs were included as part of its corporate operations expenses, which are subject to a CAM allocator that removes ineligible costs, and therefore should not have been excluded in full.[108]

30. We reject these arguments. First, while the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice did provide examples of ineligible expenses, it expressly stated that its list was "non-exhaustive" and reminded carriers that they bear the burden of ensuring that support is used "only for the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which support is intended."[109] Thus, even if Hart's expenses do not resemble the examples cited, the 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice made it reasonably foreseeable that costs not directly and verifiably tied to supported operations would be disallowed. The 2018 Eligible Expenses Order reaffirmed this principle, clarifying that expenses incurred partly for recoverable business uses and partly for non-recoverable purposes must be properly allocated and that unsupported portions may be denied in full.[110] The Commission made clear that its conclusions reflected pre-existing law, not new obligations.[111]

31. Second, while training seminars and legal advice may in some cases further support operations, Hart has not demonstrated that the expenses at issue were solely or even primarily related to high-cost eligible services. Hart has failed to meet its burden of showing that the expenses at issue were for the "provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which the support is intended,"[112] and full recovery for the expenses is warranted.[113] The 2015 Ineligible Expenses Public Notice put carriers on notice that they have the burden to ensure their support is being used for its intended purpose by stating "ETCs should take all necessary steps to ensure that they and their agents, contractors, consultants, and representatives scrupulously adhere to the rules governing legacy high-cost and Connect America Fund program support."[114] The record shows that the seminars included sessions on topics beyond supported facilities, such as video set-top boxes and general business matters, and that the legal retainer included broad services like newsletters and general advisory support.[115] Hart provided no documentation breaking down or allocating these costs between eligible and ineligible purposes. Without verifiable support, neither the seminars nor the retainer can be properly included in Hart's high-cost studies.

32. Finally, Hart's reliance on its CAM allocator is misplaced.[116] Allocators do not convert ineligible costs into allowable ones. The Commission requires that carriers first ensure that only permissible costs are entered into regulated accounts; allocating collective expenses that already include ineligible items does not satisfy this obligation.[117] As in Sandwich Isles, unsupported claims may be disallowed in their entirety, and the burden rests squarely on the carrier to demonstrate compliance.[118] Because Hart failed to substantiate that any portion of its seminar or legal retainer expenses was allowable, USAC properly disallowed them in full.

33. Based on de novo review, we find that Hart failed to demonstrate that the disallowed training and legal expenses were eligible for high-cost support under 47 CFR §§ 64.901(a) and 54.7(a).

commenced voluntary Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings, and currently are operating as debtors-in-possession subject to bankruptcy court oversight.[4]

Bluebird MidWest is a Delaware limited liability company established as an acquisition vehicle for purposes of the proposed transaction and currently has no other business activities.[5] Bluebird MidWest is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Missouri Network Alliance, LLC (MNA), a Missouri limited liability company that provides telecommunications and Internet services to wholesale and enterprise customers.[6] MNA is a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bluebird Network, LLC (Bluebird Network), a Missouri limited liability company that operates fiber network and data center facilities and is a service provider offering Internet and transport services to carriers and enterprise customers in Missouri, Illinois, Kansas, Iowa and the surrounding states.[7] Bluebird Network is indirectly controlled and managed by various entities that are part of the Macquarie Group, a diversified multinational financial group, headquartered and organized in Australia.[8]

Pursuant to the terms of the proposed transaction, on May 22, 2025, transaction-related parties entered into an Asset Purchase Agreement (Agreement), pursuant to which Bluebird MidWest proposes to acquire substantially all of the Everstream DIP Licensees' assets used in the business and assume certain related liabilities in a sale authorized by the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas (Bankruptcy Court).[9] Subsequent to entering into the Agreement, the Everstream DIP Licensees, their parent entity, and certain of their affiliates filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the United States Code in the Bankruptcy Court.[10] Since the filing of these petitions, the Everstream DIP Licensees and their affiliates have continued to operate in the ordinary course as debtors-in-possession under the Bankruptcy Court's oversight.[11] On May 29, 2025, Licensees filed notices pursuant to Section 63.03(d)(2) of the Commission's rules in connection with the pro forma transfer of control and assignment of the Licensees that resulted from the filing of the bankruptcy petitions.[12] On August 1, 2025, the Bankruptcy Court issued an order approving the sale of the Licensees' business to Bluebird MidWest. Following the consummation of the proposed transaction, substantially all of the business of the Licensees will become part of the assets and liabilities of the Bluebird enterprise.[13] Bluebird will be directly managed and controlled by its direct parent, MNA.[14]

Applicants assert that a grant of the Application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity.[15] Because the proposed transaction is more complex than those accepted for streamlined treatment, and in order to analyze whether the proposed transaction would serve the public interest, we

No Referral to Executive Branch Agencies: The Commission determined in the Executive Branch Review Process Order that it would not routinely refer to the Executive Branch "standalone applications to transfer control of domestic section 214 authority."[17] The Commission, however, retains the discretion to refer a domestic-only section 214 transaction should it find that a particular application may raise national security, law enforcement, foreign policy, or trade policy concerns for which it would benefit from the advice of the Executive Branch.[18] Applicants state that the Application involves the transfer of control of assets and customers of the Licensees that involve only domestic section 214 authority and that, consistent with the decision in the Executive Branch Review Process Order, the Application does not require a referral to the Executive Branch.[19] We do not find any special circumstances that warrant referral of this Application to the Executive Branch agencies. ORDER

By the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. By this order, we grant a request by Lumi United Technology (Lumi) to waive Sections 15.519(a) and 15.519(a)(2) of our rules governing ultrawideband (UWB) devices for its smart door lock for residential use.[1] For the reasons discussed below, we find there is good cause to grant Lumi's request.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Lumi seeks authorization to manufacture and market its smart door locks for residential use, called the Aqara Smart Lock U400, that operates in the 6-10 GHz range.[2] In its waiver request, Lumi claims that its lock is safer compared to locks that use authentication alone, via Bluetooth Low Energy (BLE) to unlock doors, as those systems are susceptible to man-in-the-middle and relay types of attacks.[3] In contrast, Lumi's system employs additional UWB functionality to acquire ranging information, which determines the user's location in proximity to the lock before the device grants access.[4] This enables the credentials to be authenticated via the BLE, and verify the user's proximity via UWB, ensuring that the lock can only be opened by an authorized user.[5] Lumi's waiver request pertains only to the UWB aspect of its locking system.

3. Lumi's lock system will operate under the Commission's Part 15 rules governing the UWB device operation. Part 15 permits low-power radio frequency devices to operate without an individual license from the Commission.[6] Unlicensed transmitters using UWB technology, which are governed by Subpart F of Part 15, employ very narrow or short-duration pulses that result in very large transmission bandwidths.[7] UWB devices share frequency bands with authorized radio services and, like all unlicensed devices, may not cause harmful interference to authorized radio services and must accept interference that may be caused by the operation of other stations and devices.[8]

4. To allow its lock system to be certified and marketed, Lumi asks us to waive Sections 15.519(a) and 15.519(a)(2) of the Commission's rules.[9] Section 15.519(a) requires UWB devices to be hand-held and not employ a fixed infrastructure.[10] Section 15.519(a)(2) prohibits the use of antennas mounted on outdoor infrastructure, such as the outside of a building or a telephone pole.[11] Lumi claims that although these locks will be installed on the outside of structures, they are inherently part of the structure, operate sporadically, have limited range, are unlikely to cause interference, and are similar to previous waivers the Commission has granted.[12]

5. The Office of Engineering and Technology (OET) issued a Public Notice on February 25, 2025, seeking comment on Lumi's waiver request.[13] In response, the Commission received three comments, all of which support granting the waiver request.

III. DISCUSSION

6. We are authorized to grant a waiver under Section 1.3 of the Commission's rules if the petitioner demonstrates good cause for such action.[14] Good cause, in turn, may be found and a waiver granted "where particular facts would make strict compliance inconsistent with the public interest."[15] To make this public interest determination, the waiver cannot undermine the purpose of the rule, and there must be a stronger public interest benefit in granting the waiver than in applying the rule.[16]

7. The technical and operational standards in Part 15 were adopted to ensure that UWB devices do not cause harmful interference to authorized radio services.[17] As discussed below, we find nothing in the record to indicate that Lumi's devices would differ from other UWB devices such that they would pose an increased risk of causing harmful interference to authorized radio services. As an initial matter, we note that just like all UWB devices, Lumi's lock system will emit signals at very low power, consistent with the UWB handheld rules.[18] The current rules allow power levels up to -41.3 dBm in the 6 to 10 GHz range in which this device is designed to operate, and Lumi is not seeking a waiver of these requirements.[19]

8. When adopting the UWB rules and designating devices to be handheld, and antennas not to be mounted on outdoor infrastructure, the Commission was concerned about the development of a large communications system and its adverse impact on authorized services.[20] Essentially, the underlying purpose of the rule is to avoid the development of large-scale communication systems that could adversely impact authorized services and to ensure that UWB devices only transmit when they are sending information to an associated receiver. In response to those concerns, Lumi states that its UWB door locks are consistent with the underlying purpose of the rules, as its device operates individually, not as part of a broader network, and is limited to residential locations.[21] Lumi also notes that although its device will be installed on the outside of the structures, they are inherently part of the structure, will operate only sporadically, have minimal range, and are unlikely to cause interference due to their low-power, short-interval UWB signals.[22]

9. In its request, Lumi explains that the system operates in such a way that the UWB session does not initiate until credential authentication has first taken place.[23] A typical UWB operation begins with a BLE interaction between the device and the door lock, ensuring that the access credential is within range for two-way UWB communication.[24] The door lock then sends a UWB signal to the device, initiating a UWB session. This two-way communication will last no longer than 1 millisecond. If a connection cannot be established or is lost, the system will retry, but will not transmit more than 1 millisecond every 100 milliseconds.[25] If UWB communication remains unsuccessful, the system will fall back to a non-UWB method of access verification.[26] Additionally, Lumi's UWB locks do not communicate with each other over UWB, regardless of their location.[27] In essence, Lumi's UWB lock only interacts with access credentials, and not with other UWB locks.[28] Based on the device's operational characteristics and its intended use, it appears highly unlikely that the device is capable of creating a large-scale communication network or causing harmful interference to licensed services.

10. Other factors give us added confidence that Lumi's system will not increase the risk of harmful interference. Lumi claims that it expects its door locks to be used an average of only about 8 times per day, resulting in a daily UWB signal emission duration of "well under" a second.[29] Because the door lock system will emit signals at power levels consistent with our rules, these signals will be unable to reach authorized services outside the premises of the door lock locations. These characteristics (using a low power level, emitting UWB signals for a very short duration, and being used sparingly) serve to minimize the risk of harmful interference.

11. When adopting the UWB rules initially, the Commission was particularly concerned about the risk of harmful interference to authorized airborne or satellite services. We find that Lumi's system is well designed to minimize this risk due to its antenna orientation, beamwidth, and how it will be marketed. Lumi's system uses a directional antenna with a beam pattern primarily in the azimuthal plane.[30] This ensures that emissions are directed closer to the ground, reducing the potential for interference to satellite receivers. Lumi's system will also be marketed exclusively for residential use,[31] and we are incorporating additional provisions to set a limit on sales volume and require Lumi to halt its sales if harmful interference is reported.[32] Taking all of these elements together, we do not believe that Lumi's system will increase the risk of harmful interference to authorized services.[33]

12. We also find support in the record for granting the waiver.[34] Parties generally favored granting the waiver on the grounds that similar UWB door locks are already operating pursuant to previous waivers without any reports of harmful interference.[35] They claim that Lumi's devices are practically similar to handheld devices. Similar technologies, such as digital vehicular keys, are already widely used today, and extending the entry mechanism to building entry applications will extend the same benefits of safety, security, and convenience to consumers.[36]

13. Finally, considering the importance of security and the low risk of harmful interference, we find a stronger public interest benefit in granting the waiver than in applying the rule. Lumi's UWB Door Locks will enhance safety for users and others by facilitating secure access to homes and apartments, and, because they will incorporate UWB-based proximity detection features, they will

(spelling out a scenario that describes how a typical door lock sequence will take place: Lume states that typically a door lock will connect via BLE to the user's device when the user is about 24 feet of the lock's proximity and has access credentials. The UWB module turns on when the user is typically 12 feet from the door, and will be turned off by the time the user reaches the door. Lumi states that in this scenario, the UWB "on time" would be about 3 seconds, but the transmission time would be 30 milliseconds or less. As a result, the Lumi door lock will emit a UWB signal for well under a second a day).

provide better security than devices that rely solely on Bluetooth technology that can be exploited by security attacks.[37]

14. For all of these reasons, we conclude that a grant of the waiver would not undermine the purpose of the rule and there is good cause to waive Sections 15.519(a) and 15.519(a)(2) of the Commission's rules to permit the certification, marketing, and operation of Lumi's UWB lock devices. Grant of this waiver is conditioned on the following:

1) Lumi's device shall be certified by the Commission via an accredited Telecommunication Certification Body, and the certification application shall include a copy of this waiver order;
2) UWB sessions shall only be initiated following the discovery process and successful realization of qualifying credentials via 2.4 GHz Bluetooth operation;
3) UWB sessions shall only proceed until either the system identifies the user's intent to open the door or the user leaves the area by exiting the perimeter;
4) The UWB session shall not activate until a Bluetooth Low Energy connection has been made and the user's access credential has been identified;
5) The UWB session shall be terminated upon successful door opening sequence;
6) The ranging cycle occurs no more frequently than once every 100 milliseconds;
7) The UWB system shall only transmit when sending information to an associated receiver;
8) UWB operations shall be confined to the 6-10 GHz frequency range with an antenna that has its main beam in the azimuthal plane;
9) Lumi shall submit, annually for the first three years after the date of grant of this waiver, a report that identifies any known interference complaints and their resolution;
10) Lumi shall sell no more than 100,000 units per year;
11) Lumi shall be prepared to halt the sale and marketing of devices subject to this waiver if OET so directs.

15. Accordingly, pursuant to authority in Sections 0.31, 0.241, and 1.3 of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. §§ 0.21, 0.241, and 1.3, and Sections 4(i), 302, 303(e), and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 154(i), 302, 303(e), and 303(r), IT IS ORDERED that the Request for Waiver filed by Lumi IS GRANTED consistent with the terms of this Order. ORDER

By the Acting Chief, Office of Engineering and Technology:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. By this order, we grant a request by Xthings Industry LLC (Xthings), formerly U-Tec Group Inc.[1] to waive Sections 15.519(a) and 15.519(a)(2) of our rules governing ultrawideband (UWB) devices for its smart lock for residential use.[2] For the reasons discussed below, we find there is good cause to grant Xthings' request.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Xthings seeks authorization to manufacture and market its smart door lock system for residential use, called the Ultraloq, that operates in the 6-10 GHz range.[3] Xthings states that its lock system will operate under the Commission's Part 15 rules governing UWB device operation.[4] Part 15 permits low-power radio frequency devices to operate without an individual license from the Commission.[5] Unlicensed transmitters using UWB technology, which are governed by Subpart F, employ very narrow or short-duration pulses that result in very large transmission bandwidths.[6] UWB devices share frequency bands with authorized radio services and, like all unlicensed devices, may not cause harmful interference to authorized radio services and must accept interference that the operation of other stations and devices may cause.[7]

3. To allow for the certification and marketing of its lock system, Xthings requests that we waive Sections 15.519(a) and 15.519(a)(2) of the Commission's rules.[8] Section 15.519(a) requires UWB devices to be hand-held and not employ a fixed infrastructure.[9] Section 15.519(a)(2) prohibits the use of antennas mounted on outdoor infrastructure, such as the outside of a building, a telephone pole, or any fixed infrastructure.[10] Xthings claims that its device will not create harmful interference, will not undermine the purpose of the rule, is similar to other devices previously approved by the Commission, and is in the public interest.[11]

4. The Office of Engineering and Technology (OET) issued a Public Notice on February 25, 2025, seeking comment on Xthings' waiver request.[12] In response, the Commission received three comments, all of which support granting the waiver request.

III. DISCUSSION

5. We are authorized to grant a waiver under Section 1.3 of the Commission's rules if the petitioner demonstrates good cause for such action.[13] Good cause, in turn, may be found and a waiver granted "where particular facts would make strict compliance inconsistent with the public interest."[14] To make this public interest determination, the waiver cannot undermine the purpose of the rule, and there must be a stronger public interest benefit in granting the waiver than in applying the rule.[15]

to 10 GHz range in which this device is designed to operate, and Xthings is not seeking a waiver of these requirements.[18]

7. When adopting the UWB rules and designating devices to be handheld and not permitting antennas to be mounted on outdoor infrastructure, the Commission was concerned about the development of a large communications system and its adverse impact on authorized services.[19] In response to those concerns, Xthings states that its device operates similarly to other devices already approved by the Commission under similar Part 15 rule waivers, will not create a large-scale communication network as the intent of the rule dictates, will not cause harmful interference to the licensed users of the band, and will be in public interest.[20]

8. We agree. Based on this device's operational and technical characteristics, it is unlikely that Xthings' device will be capable of creating a large communication system that could impact authorized devices, as the purpose of the rule dictates.[21] First, UWB communications only occur after credential authentication has taken place via Bluetooth Low Energy, and a legitimate credential is detected near the access control device.[22] Second, once initiated, UWB communication is extremely brief, lasting only 1 millisecond.[23] If that fails, the system falls back to an alternative mechanism that does not employ UWB.[24] Third, the Xthings device does not communicate with other devices off the property.[25] Even in cases where multiple adjacent residences use the same Xthings product, the devices will not communicate with each other over UWB.[26] Fourth, in instances where multiple access credentials are present, communication will not occur simultaneously. Instead, it will be time-multiplexed on the same 500 MHz bandwidth channel.[27]

9. In addition to not being able to form a large communication system, we also do not believe that the Xthings' device will increase the risk of harmful interference to authorized services. The Xthings device emits UWB signals for extremely brief moments, as explained above, and operates at very low power levels already authorized by the Commission's rules.[28] In effect, the device would likely emit a UWB signal for less than one second per device, at most a few times a day, and only when a valid credential is nearby.[29]

10. Similarly, the device's antenna design, installation height, and operation being similar to previously approved devices also give us further confidence that it will not increase the risk of harmful interference. The device's readers use directional type antennas with beam patterns primarily in the azimuthal plane to minimize interference to satellite services.[30] Additionally, Xthings' device will be deployed in the entranceways of residential units, closer to the ground, which will help keep emissions low.[31]

11. We are also restricting the annual sale volume of Xthings' lock system to no more than 100,000 devices per year, and adding reporting provisions.[32] In sum, we do not believe that deploying these devices – operating infrequently, at already low power levels, with antennas pointing in the azimuthal plane, and operating low to the ground – will increase the risk of harmful interference. The Commission also has experience with similar door locks operating under a similar waiver process, and we are not aware of any instances of harmful interference caused by those devices.[33] Based on that, we do not believe that the Xthings lock system will be any different.

12. We also find support in the record, which shows that all interested parties supported granting the waiver.[34] Parties generally favored granting the waiver on the grounds that similar UWB door locks are already operating pursuant to previous waivers without any reports of harmful interference.[35] They claim that Xthings devices are practically handheld devices. Similar technologies, such as digital vehicular keys, are already widely used today, and extending the same entry mechanism design to building entry applications will extend the same safety, security, and convenience benefits to consumers.[36]

13. Finally, considering the importance of security and the low risk of harmful interference, we find a stronger public interest benefit in granting the waiver than in applying the rule. Xthings devices provide enhanced security compared to other lock systems that use Bluetooth alone. Such Bluetooth-only locks are more vulnerable to security breaches because they cannot determine the actual location of the user and can permit attackers to gain access via "man-in-the-middle" or relay-type attacks.[37] By contrast, Xthings' system uses UWB functionality to acquire ranging information, which determines the user's actual location in proximity to the lock before access is granted.[38] Additionally, Xthings describes how access credentials on the phone can be managed to control physical access, providing customers with added security and control.[39]

14. For these reasons, we conclude that there is good cause to waive Sections 15.519(a) and 15.519(a)(2) of the Commission's rules to permit the certification, marketing, and operation of Xthings' UWB lock devices. This waiver is conditioned on the following conditions:

ORDER

Adopted: September 9, 2025 Released: September 9, 2025

By the Acting Chief, Enforcement Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. By this Order, the Enforcement Bureau (Bureau) of the Federal Communications Commission (Commission or FCC) directs the companies named in Appendix A (each, a Company; collectively, the Companies) to cure their deficient Robocall Mitigation Database (RMD) certifications or explain why the Bureau should not remove each Company's certification from the RMD. The Companies' RMD filings are deficient because they failed to respond to one or more traceback requests from the industry traceback consortium, which is contrary to their certifications in the RMD.[1] Removal of a Company's certification from the RMD would require all intermediate providers and voice service providers[2] to cease accepting all calls directly from the Company.[3] Each Company must provide its response to this Order to the Bureau no later than 14 days after the Order is released.[4]

[2] For purposes of this order, we use the term "voice service provider' consistent with the definition of "voice service" in section 64.6300 of our rules. See 47 CFR § 64.6300(o). As such, the term "voice service provider" excludes intermediate providers (i.e., gateway providers and non-gateway intermediate providers), as those terms are defined in section 64.6300. See id. § 64.6300(d), (g), (i).

II. BACKGROUND

2. The FCC established the RMD in 2020 to promote transparency and effective robocall mitigation.[5] On March 16, 2023, the Commission adopted amendments to section 64.6305 of its rules in the Sixth Caller ID Authentication Order that enhanced the information requirements for RMD certifications and expanded the obligation to submit a robocall mitigation plan for new and existing filers.[6] On May 18, 2023, the Commission adopted additional amendments to section 64.6305 in the Seventh Call Blocking Order that required all providers to include a commitment to respond fully to traceback requests within 24 hours in their RMD certifications.[7] Both of these rule amendments took effect on February 26, 2024.[8]

3. Under the amended rule, voice service providers, gateway providers, and non-gateway intermediate providers[9] must submit several pieces of information in their RMD certifications and assent to comply with certain requirements under penalty of perjury. As relevant here, section 64.6305 requires voice service providers, gateway providers, and non-gateway intermediate providers to certify, under penalty of perjury, that all calls that they originate, carry, or process are subject to a robocall mitigation program, and such programs must include "a commitment to respond within 24 hours to all traceback requests from the Commission, law enforcement, and the industry traceback consortium."[10] In addition, a voice service provider, gateway provider, or non-gateway intermediate provider that files a certification in the RMD certifies that "all of the calls . . . on its network are subject to a robocall mitigation program consistent with 47 CFR § 64.6305(b), which shall include . . . a commitment to respond fully and within 24 hours to all traceback requests from the Commission, law enforcement, and the industry traceback consortium."[11] Each of the Companies made this certification in the RMD.[12] However, each of the

4. The Bureau may remove a certification from the RMD that is deficient.[14] To do so, the Commission first contacts the provider, notifying it that its certification is deficient, explaining the nature of the deficiency, and giving the provider an opportunity to cure the deficiency.[15] If the provider fails to cure the deficiency, the Bureau will release an order finding that a provider's certification is deficient based on the available evidence and direct the provider to, within 14 days, cure the deficiency in its certification and notify the Bureau that the deficiency has been cured, or explain why the Bureau should not remove the Company's certification from the RMD.[16] If the provider fails to cure the deficiency or provide a sufficient explanation why its certification is not deficient within that 14-day period, the Bureau will release an order removing the provider's certification from the RMD.[17]

5. On April 14, 2025, the Bureau issued a Notification of Deficient Robocall Mitigation Database Certification to the Companies (Notification).[18] The Notification informed the companies that their certifications were deficient because "each Company has not responded to at least one traceback request from the ITG" and instructed them to "cure the deficiency by responding to each traceback request issued by the ITG."[19]

III. DISCUSSION

A. The Companies' Certifications Are Deficient Because Each Company Failed to Respond to One or More Traceback Requests

6. None of the Companies responded to the Notification. Moreover, none of the Companies has cured its RMD certification deficiency by responding to the applicable traceback request(s) identified in Appendix B. Thus, each Company's RMD certification remains deficient.

B. The Companies Must Cure or Face Removal from the RMD and Mandatory Call Blocking

7. The Bureau may remove deficient certifications from the RMD after providing sufficient notice and opportunity to cure.[20] The Notification informed each Company that its certification was deficient, and granted it 14 days from the date of the Notification to cure the deficiency by responding fully to past traceback requests and thereafter responding to any future traceback requests within 24 hours as required by section 64.1200(n)(1) of the Commission's rules and the Company's certification in the RMD.[21]

8. This Order affords each Company a final opportunity to cure its deficiency by responding fully to each traceback request identified in Appendix B that was issued by the ITG to the Company, and thereafter responding fully to any future traceback requests within 24 hours of the request.[22] Alternatively, each Company may explain why its certification is not deficient.[23]

9. Each Company shall file its response with the Bureau within fourteen (14) calendar days of the date of this Order.[24] Failure to cure the deficiency or provide a sufficient explanation why the Company's certification is not deficient will result in its removal.[25] Removal of a Company's certification from the RMD will require all voice service providers and intermediate providers to cease accepting calls directly from that Company.[26] Furthermore, each Company shall not be permitted to refile until both the Bureau and WCB determine that the Company has addressed and resolved the deficiencies in its RMD certification.

ORDER

Adopted: September 9, 2025 Released: September 9, 2025

By the Acting Chief, Enforcement Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. By this Order, the Enforcement Bureau (Bureau) of the Federal Communications Commission (Commission or FCC) directs Ananya traders llc (Ananya or Company) to cure the deficiencies in the Company's Robocall Mitigation Database (RMD) certification and notify the Bureau that the deficiencies have been cured; or to file a response explaining why the Bureau should not remove the Company's certification from the RMD.[1] The Company's RMD certification is deficient because (a) the certification lacks newly-required information; and (b) a robocall mitigation plan with required information was not provided.[2] Removal of a Company's certification from the RMD would require all intermediate providers and voice service providers[3] to cease accepting all calls directly from the Company.[4] The Company must provide its response to this Order to the Bureau no later than 14 days after the Order is released.[5]

II. BACKGROUND

2. The FCC established the RMD in 2020 to promote transparency and effective robocall mitigation.[6] On March 16, 2023, the Commission adopted amendments to section 64.6305 of its rules in the Sixth Caller ID Authentication Order that enhanced the information requirements for RMD certifications and expanded the obligations to submit a robocall mitigation plan for new and existing

[2] See 47 CFR § 64.6305(d)-(e). While the Company filed a certification in the RMD on July 6, 2022, it never uploaded the robocall mitigation plan required by our rules. See Ananya traders llc (No. RMD0008583), FCC, Robocall Mitigation Database (filed July 6, 2022), https://fccprod.servicenowservices.com/rmd?id=rmd_form&table=x_g_fmc_rmd_robocall_mitigation_database&sys_id=f7e059301b8f7c1093d3a820f54bcbd5&view=sp (Ananya RMD Certification).

[3] For purposes of this order, we use the term "voice service provider' consistent with the definition of "voice service" in section 64.6300 of our rules. See 47 CFR § 64.6300(o). As such, the term "voice service provider" excludes intermediate providers (i.e., gateway providers and non-gateway intermediate providers), as those terms are defined in section 64.6300. See id. § 64.6300(d), (g), (i).

filers.[7] On May 18, 2023, the Commission adopted additional amendments to section 64.6305 in the Seventh Call Blocking Order that required all providers to include a commitment to respond fully to traceback requests within 24 hours in their RMD certifications.[8] Both of these rule amendments took effect on February 26, 2024, and all filers were required to update their RMD certifications to provide the newly required information, including robocall mitigation plans with required information, by that same date.[9]

3. Under the amended rule, voice service providers, gateway providers, and non-gateway intermediate providers[10] must submit several pieces of information in their RMD certifications. First, a provider must certify that all calls that it originates on its network are subject to a robocall mitigation program, that any prior certification has not been removed by Commission action and that it has not been prohibited from filing in the RMD, and whether it has fully, partially, or not implemented STIR/SHAKEN on the Internet Protocol portions of its network.[11] Second, the provider must upload a robocall mitigation plan that describes the specific reasonable steps the provider has taken to avoid originating, carrying, or processing illegal robocall traffic as part of its robocall mitigation program based on the role(s) it serves in the call chain,[12] including: (a) a description of the effective measures it is taking to prevent new and renewing customers from originating illegal robocalls (if it is a voice service provider); (b) a description of any call analytic system(s) that it utilizes, including those operated by a third-party vendor; and (c) a description of the procedures it is using to know its upstream providers.[13] Third, the provider must provide its business name, address, and other identifying information, including contact information for a person responsible for addressing robocall mitigation-related issues, and its principals, affiliates, subsidiaries, and parent companies.[14] Fourth, the provider must include certain other information, including: (a) the role it is playing in the call chain; (b) detailed information supporting any claimed STIR/SHAKEN implementation extension or exemption; (c) a statement whether it or any affiliated entity has been subject to a Commission or other law enforcement agency action or investigation in the prior two years due to suspected involvement with illegal robocalling or spoofing, or due to a deficiency in its RMD certification; and (d) the provider's commitment to respond fully to traceback requests within 24 hours.[15]

4. The Bureau may remove a certification from the RMD that is deficient.[16] To do so, the Commission first contacts the provider, notifying it that its certification is deficient, explaining the nature of the deficiency, and giving the provider an opportunity to cure the deficiency.[17] If the provider fails to cure the deficiency, the Bureau will release an order finding that a provider's certification is deficient based on the available evidence and direct the provider to, within 14 days, cure the deficiency in its certification and notify the Bureau that the deficiency has been cured, or explain why the Bureau should not remove the Company's certification from the RMD.[18] If the provider fails to cure the deficiency or provide a sufficient explanation why its certification is not deficient within that 14-day period, the Bureau will release an order removing the provider's certification from the RMD.[19]

5. The Wireline Competition Bureau (WCB) conducted a review of certifications in the RMD and identified providers that failed to update their RMD certifications (including robocall mitigation plans) with the newly required information by the February 26, 2024 deadline to comply with section 64.6305, as amended.

6. Ananya filed its certification in the RMD on July 6, 2022.[20] On September 6, 2024, WCB notified Ananya that its certification was noncompliant with section 64.6305 because the Company had failed to submit an updated RMD certification, including a robocall mitigation plan with the required information, by the February 26, 2024 deadline.[21] Additionally, WCB informed the Company that it "must submit an updated certification and updated robocall mitigation plan in the Robocall Mitigation Database by Monday, October 7, 2024."[22] After this second deadline, the Company still had not updated their RMD certification or uploaded a robocall mitigation plan with the required information; as a result, WCB referred the Company to the Bureau to initiate removal proceedings.

7. Ananya is a domestic voice service provider with a registered address in Sheridan, WY.[23] Between June 13, 2024, and May 14, 2025, Ananya has appeared in 298 tracebacks as an originating, gateway, or non-responsive provider for suspected illegal calls.[24] For months, Ananya apparently transmitted hundreds of fraudulent calls that impersonated financial institutions and companies like Amazon.[25] Brand impersonation calls have persisted for years and are harmful to consumers and company brand reputations.[26] The RMD "serves an essential role" in protecting consumers against illegal robocalls and its effectiveness "requires that providers exercise the highest level of diligence in making and maintaining accurate submissions."[27]

A. The Company's Certification Is Deficient Because It Lacks Required Information

8. The Commission's rules required all voice service providers, gateway providers, and non-gateway intermediate providers to provide compliant RMD certifications by February 26, 2024.[28] WCB notified the Company that its RMD certification was noncompliant with section 64.6305 because it had failed to update its certification, including a robocall mitigation plan, with required information by February 26, 2024, and that it had until October 7, 2024 to update its certification.[29] Following WCB's notification, the Company did not update its RMD certification despite having an additional opportunity to update its certification.[30] Thus, Ananya's certification is deficient because it lacks required information, including a compliant robocall mitigation plan.[31]

B. The Company Must Cure or Face Removal from the RMD and Widespread Call Blocking

9. The Bureau may remove deficient certifications from the RMD after providing sufficient notice and opportunity to cure.[32] We direct the Company to cure its deficient RMD certification and notify the Bureau that the deficiencies have been cured or explain why the Bureau should not remove the

Adopted: September 9, 2025 Released: September 9, 2025

By the Chief, Policy and Licensing Division, Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. On April 4 and 5, 2024, the County of Los Angeles, California (County), licensee of the Los Angeles Regional Interoperable Communications System (LA-RICS) network, filed three applications and a request for waiver[1] of section 90.307 of the Commission's rules.[2] The County seeks a waiver of this rule, which limits the height of control stations in the 470-512 MHz band (T-Band) to 31 meters (100 feet) height above average terrain (HAAT), so that the County's fire department may operate control stations at certain fire stations. By this Order, we conditionally grant a waiver of section 90.307, and, on our own motion, waive additional rules necessary for the County to operate as proposed.

II. BACKGROUND

2. LA-RICS is an interoperable, digital, trunked radio network that provides an integrated wireless voice and data communications system that will support more than 34,000 first responders and local mission-critical personnel.[3] The LA-RICS system operates a narrowband data system in the 470-512 MHz bands and voice communications in both the 700 MHz (utilizing public narrowband frequencies) and 470-512 MHz bands.[4] The County seeks to add three control stations with HAAT exceeding 31 meters.[5]

3. The County states that its fire department stations, which have the duty of protecting the county from forest fires, are located in mountainous areas, which exceed 31 meters HAAT. The County states that "fire stations must have control stations in the building, in order to maintain communications with dispatched fire equipment."[6] The County notes that the Commission promulgated the T-Band control station height rule in 1971, but the County states that there is no discussion regarding its adoption in the text of the decision order.[7] Therefore, the County argues that "it is impossible to determine the Commission's rationale for adoption of the rule section."[8] The County "surmises that the Commission was concerned that certain control stations would be placed at the 'edges' of the land mobile radio permitted radius around TV Sharing cities that interference to TV stations might be caused."[9]

III. DISCUSSION

4. The Commission may grant a request for waiver if it is shown that: (i) the underlying purpose of the rule(s) would not be served or would be frustrated by application to the instant case, and that a grant of the requested waiver would be in the public interest; or (ii) in view of unique or unusual factual circumstances of the instant case, application of the rule(s) would be inequitable, unduly burdensome or contrary to the public interest, or the applicant has no reasonable alternative.[10]

5. Before we evaluate the control station height waiver, we examine whether the proposed operation would require waiver of any other rules. Two of the three proposed control stations[11] would operate on spectrum in the TV Channel 15 band (476-482 MHz), which is co-channel with Digital Class A TV Station KTLD-CD, Bakersfield, California. Section 90.307(c) of the Commission's rules states that, "[m]obile units and control stations operating on the frequencies available for land mobile use in any given urbanized area shall afford protection to co-channel and adjacent channel television stations in accordance with the values set forth in table C in § 90.309 and paragraph (d) of this section . . . ."[12] Section 90.309, Table C requires a minimum distance of 249 kilometers (155 miles) between the associated base station and a protected co-channel TV Station, based on the control station power level.

6. The County's associated base station on TV Channel 15 is call sign WQJX513, located at Verdugo Peak, Glendale, California. While the distance between Station WQJX513 and protected TV Station KTLD-CD is 141.7 kilometers (88 miles) and is thus considered short spaced in Table C for any control station ERP, the proposed control stations are farther from Station KTLD-CD than the base station is to Station KTLD-CD.[13] The proposed control stations are not placed at the edge of the Station WQJX513 service area closest to Station KTLD-CD, and thus, we conclude that they would not increase interference potential to Station KTLD-CD. Accordingly, on our own motion, we find that a waiver of section 90.307(c) and section 90.309 is warranted.

7. Next, we note that in 2008, the Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau (Bureau) granted a waiver to the County to operate in the TV Channel 15 band,[14] which is not allocated for land mobile radio use in the Los Angeles urbanized area.[15] The Bureau has granted subsequent applications to [10] 47 CFR § 1.925(b)(3).

[11] File Nos. 0011011813, 0011011815. The proposed control station in the third application, File No. 0011013939, would operate in the TV Channel 14 (470-476 MHz) and 16 (482-488 MHz) bands and have no television spacing issues.

[12] 47 CFR § 90.307(c).

[13] The proposed control stations are 168.8 and 184.4 kilometers (104.9 and 114.6 miles), respectively, from Station KTLD-CD.

[15] 47 CFR § 90.303

the County for additional operations in the TV Channel 15 band consistent with the Channel 15 Order.[16] We conclude that the instant proposed control stations would similarly be covered under the Channel 15 Order.

8. We now turn to the requested control station antenna height waiver of section 90.307. The County contends that it "has no reasonable alternative at [the requested] sites, as the critical dispatch alarming and incident information is transmitted from [its] radio system."[17] For each application, the County states that "the building has a HAAT above 31 meters (100 feet)."[18] We agree that the County has no reasonable alternative because the mounting surfaces (the fire station roofs) all exceed 31 meters HAAT, making it impossible to mount an antenna without exceeding 31 meters HAAT. We also agree with the County that the fire stations at the requested sites have the duty of protecting Los Angeles County from forest fires, and therefore, a grant of the requested waiver would be in the public interest.

IV. CONCLUSION

9. Based on the information before us, we conclude that the County has demonstrated the criteria set forth under the waiver standard, and that grant of its request for waiver of Commission rules to enable it to operate control stations as proposed is warranted. We therefore grant the request for waiver, subject to the following condition:

> A waiver of sections 90.307, 90.307(c) and 90.309 is granted on a secondary basis to all current and future full power and Class A TV stations. By Order DA 25-831 released on September 9, 2025.

V. ORDERING CLAUSES

10. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to Sections 1, 4(i) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151, 154(i), and 303(r), and section 1.925 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 1.925, the December 30, 2023 Request for Waiver of Los Angeles, California filed in conjunction with applications File Nos. 0011011813, 0011011815, and 0011013939, ARE GRANTED as conditioned herein.

11. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that the applications, File Nos. 0011011813, 0011011815, and 0011013939, SHALL BE PROCESSED in accordance with this Order and the Commission's rules.

ORDER

Adopted: September 9, 2025 Released: September 9, 2025

By the Chief, Policy and Licensing Division, Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. On August 17, 2023, the Town of Tiverton, Rhode Island (Tiverton, or the Town) filed a modification application for Station WPMC285, a public safety private land mobile radio (PLMR) system which operates in the 470-512 MHz band (T-Band), accompanied by a request for waiver[1] of sections 90.305(a) and 90.307(d) of the Commission's rules.[2] For the reasons below, we grant the requested waiver as conditioned herein.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Tiverton operates a single-site radio system under call sign WPMC285 on frequency pair 482/485.9625 MHz in the TV Channel 16 band (482-488 MHz). The Town seeks a waiver of section 90.305(a) to add a second base station located outside the 80-kilometer (50-mile) radius area around Boston, Massachusetts in which fixed stations are normally authorized under the rules.[3] Additionally, the Town seeks a waiver of section 90.307(d) for this site to operate less than 145 kilometers from adjacent channel TV Station WPXQ-TV, TV Channel 17, Newport, Rhode Island.[4] The proposed site is located 55 kilometers (34.2 miles) from Station WPXQ-TV.

3. On May 23, 2025, the Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau (Bureau) issued a public notice[5] seeking comment on the application and waiver request. The Enterprise Wireless Alliance (EWA) filed comments in support of the City's requests.[6] EWA states that "[t]he extension beyond the permitted T-Band market radius is de minimis given Tiverton's existing authorization for this same channel at a site less than 2.5 miles away, but within the 80-kilometer/50-mile radius around the T-Band market. Granting a waiver would not be precedential but would be consistent with waivers granted to other entities."[7]

[2] 47 CFR §§ 90.305(a), 90.307(d) (respectively stating that the transmitter site(s) for base stations shall be located not more than 80 kilometers (50 miles) of the geographic centers of the urbanized areas listed in 47 CFR § 90.303; and the minimum distance between a land mobile base station which has associated mobile units and a protected adjacent channel television station is 145 kilometers (90 miles)).

III. DISCUSSION

4. To obtain a waiver, a petitioner must demonstrate either that: (i) the underlying purpose of the rule(s) would not be served or would be frustrated by application to the present case, and that a grant of the waiver would be in the public interest; or (ii) in view of unique or unusual factual circumstances of the instant case, application of the rule(s) would be inequitable, unduly burdensome, or contrary to the public interest, or the applicant has no reasonable alternative.[8] An applicant seeking a waiver faces a high hurdle and must plead with particularity the facts and circumstances that warrant a waiver.[9]

5. The Town states that it "is in dire need of improved coverage and building penetration in its historical downtown business district."[10] The Town states that "only land mobile sharing locations that meet the 145 km separation distance are located well to the North and East of the City of Boston."[11] Tiverton states that the new transmitter site "will enhance coverage of the public safety radio system within the Town and surrounding areas. The current system is lacking in coverage particularly within buildings and in hard to reach locations. This coverage 'hole' subjects first responders and the public to dangerous situations."[12] The Town argues that the distance the site being proposed exceeds the 50-mile limit of Section 90.305(a) (0.838 miles) is de minimis.[13] The Town asserts that a waiver grant is in the public interest and would "provide enhanced public safety radio services to the citizens of Tiverton."[14]

6. Regarding the Fifty-Mile Waiver Request, we find that the Town satisfies the first prong of the waiver standard, in that it has shown that the underlying purpose of section 90.305(a) would not be frustrated by grant of a waiver in the present case. In 2001, the Commission stated that under sections 90.305(a) and (b)[15], "PLMR base stations operating in the 470-512 MHz band (which also constitutes TV channels 14 through 20) may be located only within 50 miles of the geographic centers of certain cities listed in Section 90.303, and associated mobile units shall operate within 30 miles of the base station, thus creating a circular area with a radius of 80 miles (80-mile area) within which PLMR stations may operate without interference from television stations."[16] The Commission stated that waiver requests that do not involve extension of the 80-mile limit are more likely to receive favorable treatment than requests involving extension of the limit, and that such operation would not adversely impact television stations because television stations are already required to protect land mobile stations operating within that area.[17] Because the Town's base station is only 0.838 miles outside the 50-mile limit and the mobile area of operation is located within 80 miles of Boston, we find that the Town's operations would likely not interfere with TV stations entitled to protection. Thus, we find that the underlying purpose of section 90.305(a) would not be served by application of the rule in this instance. Moreover, we have waived section 90.305(a) previously under similar circumstances.[18]

7. The Town seeks a waiver of section 90.307(d) for the new site to operate at 55 kilometers/34.2 miles from adjacent channel TV Station WPXQ-TV, TV Channel 17, Newport, Rhode Island.[19] Tiverton indicates that Station WPXQ-TV was licensed in 2019 by the FCC's Media Bureau at a distance of 113.2 km from the center of the Boston Metropolitan Area.[20] The Town states that "only land mobile sharing locations that meet the 145 km separation distance are located well to the North and East of the City of Boston."[21] Tiverton provided an engineering analysis purporting to demonstrate that "the proposed license application meets the 0 dB D/U interference protection criteria. There is no overlap between the Desired and Undesired contour plots."[22]

8. We have independently reviewed Tiverton's TV engineering analysis and agree with its conclusions. The generally accepted protection criterion for a contour analysis between a PLMR station and an adjacent channel TV station is zero dB at the TV station's Grade B contour.[23] Based on the non-overlap of the Town's 64 dBu interfering contour with Station WPXQ-TV's 64 dBu Grade B service contour, we agree that the Town would provide the requisite zero dB protection to the TV station.[24] Moreover, the Town's existing base station has operated short-spaced to Station WPXQ-TV with no reported interference issues. We conditionally grant the TV Spacing Waiver Request with a requirement that the Town's operation at this site is secondary to all full-power and other primary television stations, and it must eliminate any interference caused by its facilities to Station WPXQ-TV's viewers.

9. Finally, Tiverton has shown that a waiver is in the public interest by improving the Town's radio coverage for first responders, allowing continued use of a spectrally-efficient shared radio system, and maintaining interoperability with other T-Band public safety agencies in the greater Boston

IV. CONCLUSION

10. Based on the information before us, we conclude that the Town has demonstrated the criteria set forth under the waiver standard, and that grant of its requests for waiver of Commission rules to enable it to modify its public safety radio system as proposed is warranted. We therefore grant the requests for waiver, subject to the following condition:

> A conditional waiver of section 90.305(a) for location 3 is granted for operation in the TV Channel 16 band (482-488 MHz). WC Docket Nos. 25-264 & 25-265

Comments Due: September 25, 2025

Unless otherwise specified, the following procedures and dates apply to the application(s) (the Section 214 Discontinuance Application(s)) listed in the Appendix.

The Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau), upon initial review, has found the Section 214 Discontinuance Application(s) listed herein to be acceptable for filing and subject to the procedures set forth in Section 63.71 of the Commission's rules.[1] The application(s) request authority, under section 214 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended,[2] and section 63.71 of the Commission's rules,[3] to discontinue, reduce, or impair certain domestic telecommunications service(s) (Affected Service(s)) in specified geographic areas (Service Area(s)) as applicable and as fully described in each application.

In accordance with section 63.71(f) of the Commission's rules, the Section 214 Discontinuance Application(s) listed in the Appendix will be deemed granted automatically on October 11, 2025, the 31st day after the release date of this public notice, unless the Commission notifies any applicant(s) that their grant will not be automatically effective.[4] We note that the date on which an application for Commission authorization is deemed granted may be different from the date on which applicants are authorized to discontinue service ("Authorized Date"). Any applicant whose application has been deemed granted may discontinue their Affected Service(s) in their Service Area(s) on or after the authorized discontinuance date(s) specified in the Appendix, in accordance with their filed representations. Accordingly, pursuant to section 63.71(f), and the terms outlined in each application, absent further Commission action, each applicant may discontinue the Affected Service(s) in the Service Area(s) described in their application on or after the authorized discontinuance date(s) listed in the Appendix for that application. For purposes of computation of time when filing a petition for reconsideration, application for review, or petition for judicial review of the Commission's decision(s), the date of "public notice" shall be the later of the auto grant date stated above in this Public Notice, or the release date(s) of any further public notice(s) or order(s) announcing final Commission action, as

[2] 47 U.S.C. § 214.

[3] 47 CFR § 63.71.

[4] See 47 CFR § 63.71(f)(1) (stating, in relevant part, that an application filed by a non-dominant carrier "shall be automatically granted on the 31st day… unless the Commission has notified the applicant that the grant will not be automatically effective.").

applicable. Should no petitions for reconsideration, applications for review, or petitions for judicial review be timely filed, the proceeding(s) listed in this Public Notice shall be terminated, and the docket(s) will be closed.

Comments objecting to the application(s) listed in the Appendix must be filed with the Commission on or before September 25, 2025. Comments should refer to the specific WC Docket No. and Comp. Pol. File No. listed in the Appendix for the Section 214 Discontinuance Application. Comments should include specific information about the impact of the proposed discontinuance on the commenter, including any inability to acquire reasonable substitute service. Comments may be filed using the Commission's Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS). Electronic Filers: Comments may be filed electronically using the Internet by accessing the ECFS: https://www.fcc.gov/ecfs. Filers should follow the instructions provided on the Web site for submitting comments. Generally, only one copy of an electronic submission must be filed. In completing the transmittal screen, filers should include their full name, U.S. Postal Service mailing address, and the applicable docket number.

Paper Filers: Parties who choose to file by paper must file an original and one copy of each filing. Filings can be sent by hand or messenger delivery, by commercial courier, or by the U.S. Postal Service. All filings must be addressed to the Secretary, Federal Communications Commission. Hand-delivered or messenger-delivered paper filings for the Commission's Secretary are accepted between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. by the FCC's mailing contractor at 9050 Junction Drive, Annapolis Junction, MD 20701. All hand deliveries must be held together with rubber bands or fasteners. Any envelopes and boxes must be disposed of before entering the building. Commercial courier deliveries (any deliveries not by the U.S. Postal Service) must be sent to 9050 Junction Drive, Annapolis Junction, MD 20701. Filings sent by U.S. Postal Service First-Class Mail, Priority Mail, and Priority Mail Express must be sent to 45 L Street NE, Washington, DC 20554.

This proceeding(s) shall be treated as a "permit-but-disclose" proceeding(s) in accordance with the Commission's ex parte rules.[5] Persons making ex parte presentations must file a copy of any written presentation or a memorandum summarizing any oral presentation within two business days after the presentation (unless a different deadline applicable to the Sunshine period applies). Persons making oral ex parte presentations are reminded that memoranda summarizing the presentation must (1) list all persons attending or otherwise participating in the meeting at which the ex parte presentation was made, and (2) summarize all data presented and arguments made during the presentation. If the presentation consisted in whole or in part of the presentation of data or arguments already reflected in the presenter's written comments, memoranda or other filings in the proceeding, the presenter may provide citations to such data or arguments in his or her prior comments, memoranda, or other filings (specifying the relevant page and/or paragraph numbers where such data or arguments can be found) in lieu of summarizing them in the memorandum. Documents shown or given to Commission staff during ex parte meetings are deemed to be written ex parte presentations and must be filed consistent with rule 1.1206(b). In proceedings governed by rule 1.49(f) or for which the Commission has made available a method of electronic filing, written ex parte presentations and memoranda summarizing oral ex parte presentations, and all attachments thereto, must be filed through the electronic comment filing system available for that proceeding, and must be filed in their native format (e.g., .doc, .xml, .ppt, searchable .pdf). Telxius USA, a Florida company, Telxius Puerto Rico, a Puerto Rico company, and Telxius America, a Uruguay company, are majority-owned, indirect subsidiaries of Telefonica S.A. (Telefonica), whose shares are publicly-traded on the Madrid Stock Exchange.

The following individuals and entities have a 10% direct or indirect interest in the Applicants: (1) Telxius America, a Uruguay company (100% direct equity and voting interests in Telxius Puerto Rico); (2) Telxius Telecom S.A. (Telxius Parent), a Spain company (100% direct equity and voting interests in Telxius America and Telxius USA, and indirect 100% equity and voting interests in Telxius Puerto Rico); (3) Telefonica, a Spain company (as of February 6, 2025, 70% direct equity and voting interests in Telxius Parent and indirect 70% equity and voting interests in Telxius USA, Telxius Puerto Rico, and Telxius America); (4) Pontegadea Inversiones, S.L. The Applicants state that no other individual or entity holds a 10% or greater direct or indirect voting or equity interest in them.

Cable System Design and Capacity.

The SAm-1 Cable is a ring configuration submarine cable system that is approximately 25,000 kilometers in length and consists of the following segments:

1. Boca Raton, Florida – San Juan, Puerto Rico (approximately 1958 kilometers);
2. San Juan, Puerto Rico – Fortaleza, Brazil (approximately 4386 kilometers);
3. Fortaleza, Brazil – Santos, Brazil (approximately 4074 kilometers);
4. Salvador Branch, connecting a branching unit on the Fortaleza-Santos Segment with Salvador, Brazil (approximately 286 kilometers);
5. Rio de Janeiro Branch, connecting a branching unit on the Fortaleza-Santos Segment with Rio de Janeiro, Brazil (approximately 225 kilometers);
6. Santos, Brazil – Las Toninas, Argentina (approximately 2155 kilometers);
7. Valparaiso, Chile – Arica, Chile (approximately 1877 kilometers);
8. Arica, Chile – Lurin, Peru (approximately 1311 kilometers);
9. Lurin, Peru – Puerto San Jose, Guatemala (approximately 3807 kilometers);
10. Segment M1, connecting a branching unit on the Lurin-Puerto San Jose Segment with a second branching unit off the coast of Ecuador (approximately 680 kilometers);
11. Segment M2, connecting the branching unit off the coast of Ecuador with Punta Carnero, Ecuador (approximately 112 kilometers);
12. Segment M3, connecting the branching unit off the coast of Ecuador with Mancora, Peru (approximately 226 kilometers);
13. Segment K-1, connecting Puerto Barrios, Guatemala with Boca Raton, Florida (approximately 1742 kilometers);
14. Segment G1.1-G1.2. connecting San Juan, Puerto Rico with Barranquilla, Colombia (approximately 1417 kilometers); and,
15. Segment G1.3, connecting Punta Cana, Dominican Republic with BU5 (approximately 86 kilometers).

Each segment has up to four fiber pairs per segment, with each fiber pair having a current design capacity of 10.8 Terra bits per second (Tbps), except Segments M1, M3, G1.1-G1.2 and G1.3 each of which have two fiber pairs.

Cable Landings.

SAm-1 has cable landing stations in Boca Raton, Florida; Isla Verde, Puerto Rico; Punta Cana, Dominican Republic; Fortaleza, Brazil; Salvador, Brazil; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Santos, Brazil; Las Toninas, Argentina; Valparaiso, Chile; Arica, Chile; Lurin, Peru; Mancora, Peru; Punta Carnero, Ecuador; Puerto San Jose, Guatemala; and Puerto Barrios, Guatemala.

Ownership of the SAm-1 System.

Telxius USA will continue to own and control the cable landing station in Boca Raton, Florida and that portion of the SAm-1 system's wet segment in the U.S. territorial sea extending seaward from Florida. Telxius Puerto Rico will continue to own and control the cable landing station in Isla Verde, Puerto Rico and that portion of the SAm-1 system's wet segment in the U.S. territorial sea extending seaward from Puerto Rico. Telxius America will continue to own and control that portion of the SAm-1's wet segment in international waters.

The other portions of the cable system in foreign territorial waters and the cable landing stations in the foreign points are all owned and controlled by various Telxius entities. The Applicants state that none of these affiliates use the U.S. endpoints of the cable system and thus are not required to be licensees on SAm-1 under section 1.767(h)(2) of the Commission's rules. 47 CFR § 1.767(h)(2).

Regulatory Classification.

SAm-1 is currently operated on a non-common carrier basis and the Applicants propose to continue operation as a non-common carrier cable. They state that they sell capacity through individually negotiated indefensible rights of use (IRUs) and capacity leases, the terms of which will vary depending on the characteristics and needs of the particular capacity purchaser. The Applicants also state that SAm-1 competes with multiple other cables systems including Americas II, ARCOS-1, AMX-1, CFX-1, Curie, GlobeNet, Monet, PCCS, Seabras-1 and South American Crossing.

The Applicants have provided information and demonstrated that the proposed operation of the cable on a non-common carrier basis satisfies the requirements set forth in National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners v. FCC, 525 F.2d 630, 642 (D.C. Cir 1976) (NARUC I), cert. denied, 425 U.S. 992 (1976*). See also Submarine Cable Landing License Report and Order*, 16 FCC Rcd at 22202-22203, paras. 69-70; Review of Commission Consideration of Applications under the Cable Landing License Act, IB Docket No. 00-106, Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 15 FCC Rcd 20789, 20815-18, paras. 62-67 (2000).

National Security/Law Enforcement Review.

The Applicants request that the Commission condition grant of the application on its continued compliance with the December 9, 2022 LOA. The Applicants state that they are in compliance with the December 9, 2022 LOA and will continue to comply with the LOA. The Applicants also note that ownership and operation details of the SAm-1 have not changed since the Executive Branch agencies last reviewed them in 2022.

Pursuant to Commission rules, we exercised our discretion and did not refer this application to the Executive Branch for national security, law enforcement, foreign policy and trade policy review. Unlike most cable landing license applications, this application involves an existing facility with a mitigation agreement specific to the cable system and that was agreed to in 2022. The application does not propose any changes to the cable system since the December 9, 2022 LOA was entered into and there have been no substantive changes in the foreign ownership since then. Finally, the Applicants requested that the Commission condition grant of the application on its continued compliance with the December 9, 2022 LOA. Thus, we found that this application presents a low or minimal risk to national security, law enforcement, foreign policy, and trade policy. Public Notice at 5. Although we did not refer this application, we provided a courtesy copy of the accepted for filing public notice to the Executive Branch agencies. Id., citing Executive Branch Review Process Order, 35 FCC Rcd 10927, 10941, para. 36, n. 99 (2020); see also id. at 10957, para 81, n. 205. The agencies did not file comments.

Conditions and Requirements.

The Applicants shall each comply with and abide by the routine reporting requirements specified in section 1.767(g) of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 1.767(g).

Telxius USA, Telxius Puerto Rico, and Telxius America each certify that they are affiliated with foreign carriers that are presumed to have market power in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Guatemala and Peru. The Applicants shall each comply with and abide by the reporting requirements in section 1.767(l), 47 CFR §1.767(l), for the U.S.-Argentina, U.S.-Brazil, U.S.-Chile, U.S.-Colombia, U.S.-Dominican Republic, U.S.-Ecuador, U.S.-Guatemala, and U.S.-Peru routes.

We grant the Applicant’s request and condition grant of the application on Telxius USA, Telxius Puerto Rico and Telxius America's continued compliance with commitments and undertakings contained in the December 9, 2022 LOA. A copy of the December 9, 2022 LOA is publicly available and may be viewed on the FCC website through the International Communications Filing System (ICFS) by searching for the appropriate file number (SCL-LIC-20250423-00013) and accessing the “Attachment” tab in the Application Information page for the record.

A failure to comply and/or remain in compliance with any of these commitments and undertakings shall constitute a failure to meet a condition of the cable landing license and thus grounds for declaring the license terminated without further action on the part of the Commission. Failure to meet a condition of the grant of this cable landing license application may also result in monetary sanctions or other enforcement action by the Commission.

License Term.

The South America-1 submarine cable system is currently operating and its present license expires March 26, 2026. The new license will be effective upon the expiration of the present license and will expire on March 26, 2051.

Proposed Fourth Quarter 2025 Universal Service Contribution Factor

CC Docket No. 96-45

In this Public Notice, the Office of Managing Director (OMD) announces that the proposed universal service contribution factor for the fourth quarter of 2025 will be 0.381 or 38.1 percent.[1]

Rules for Calculating the Contribution Factor

Contributions to the federal universal service support mechanisms are determined using a quarterly contribution factor calculated by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission).[2] The Commission calculates the quarterly contribution factor based on the ratio of total projected quarterly costs of the universal service support mechanisms to contributors' total projected collected end-user interstate and international telecommunications revenues, net of projected contributions.[3]

USAC Projections of Demand and Administrative Expenses

Pursuant to section 54.709(a)(3) of the Commission's rules,[4] the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) submitted projections of demand and administrative expenses for the fourth quarter of 2025.[5] Under the Commission's direction and the Commission's rules[6], the Wireline Competition Bureau (WCB), in consultation with OMD, directed USAC to apply $100 million in unused Schools & Libraries (E-Rate) program funds to offset the $628.68 million projected E-Rate program demand for the quarter. This offset reduces the fourth quarter 2025 contribution factor to a level below what the contribution factor would have been based on USAC's filings.[7]

| TOTAL | $2,109.84 | $75.59 | -$32.02 | $2,153.41 |

USAC Projections of Industry Revenues

USAC submitted projected collected end-user telecommunications revenues for October 2025 through December 2025 based on information contained in the Telecommunications Reporting Worksheet (FCC Form 499-Q)[8]. Accordingly, the total projected collected interstate and international end-user telecommunications revenues for the fourth quarter 2025 is as follows:

$7.870473 billion

Adjusted Contribution Base

To determine the quarterly contribution base, the FCC decreases the fourth quarter 2025 estimate of projected collected interstate and international end-user telecommunications revenues by the projected revenue requirement to account for circularity and decrease the result by one percent to account for uncollectible contributions. Accordingly, the quarterly contribution base for the fourth quarter of 2025 is as follows:

Adjusted Quarterly Contribution Base for Universal Service Support Mechanism

= (Fourth Quarter 2025 Revenues - Projected Revenue Requirement) * (100% - 1%)
= ($7.870473 billion - $2.153410 billion) * 0.99

Unadjusted Contribution Factor

Using the above-described adjusted contribution base and the total program collection (revenue requirement) from the table above, the proposed unadjusted contribution factor for the fourth quarter of 2025 is as follows:

[8] USAC Filings of Quarterly Contribution Base at 5.

Contribution Factor for Universal Service Support Mechanisms

= Total Program Collection / Adjusted Quarterly Contribution Base
= $2.153410 billion / $5.659892 billion
= 0.380468

Unadjusted Circularity Factor

USAC will reduce each provider's contribution obligation by a circularity discount approximating the provider's contributions in the upcoming quarter. Accordingly, the proposed unadjusted circularity factor for the fourth quarter of 2025 is as follows:

Unadjusted Circularity Factor for Universal Service Support Mechanisms

= Total Program Collection / Projected Fourth Quarter 2025 Revenues
= $2.153410 billion / $7.870473 billion

Proposed Contribution Factor

The Commission has directed OMD to announce the contribution factor as a percentage rounded up to the nearest tenth of one percent.[9] Accordingly, the proposed contribution factor for the fourth quarter of 2025 is as follows:

Proposed Circularity Discount Factor

The Commission also has directed OMD to account for contribution factor rounding when calculating the circularity discount factor.[10] Accordingly, the proposed circularity factor for the fourth quarter of 2025 is as follows:

0.274620[11]

Conclusion

If the Commission takes no action regarding the projections of demand and administrative expenses and the proposed contribution factor within the 14-day period following release of this Public [11] The proposed circularity discount factor = 1 + [(unadjusted circularity discount factor – 1) * (unadjusted contribution factor / proposed contribution factor)]. The proposed circularity discount factor is calculated in a spreadsheet, which means that internal calculations are made with more than 15 decimal places.

Notice, they shall be deemed approved by the Commission.[12] USAC shall use the contribution factor to calculate universal service contributions for the fourth quarter of 2025. USAC will reduce each provider's contribution obligation by a circularity discount approximating the provider's contributions in the upcoming quarter.[13] USAC includes contribution obligations less the circularity discount in invoices sent to contributors. Contribution payments are due on the dates shown on the invoice. Contributors will pay interest for each day for which the payments are late. Contributors failing to pay contributions in a timely fashion may be subject to the enforcement provisions of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and any other applicable law. In addition, contributors may be billed by USAC for reasonable costs of collecting overdue contributions.[14]

The FCC also emphasizes that carriers may not markup federal universal service line-item amounts above the contribution factor.[15] Thus, carriers may not, during the fourth quarter of 2025, recover through a federal universal service line item an amount that exceeds 38.1 percent of the interstate telecommunications charges on a customer's bill.

In addition, under the limited international revenues exception (LIRE) in section 54.706(c) of the Commission's rules, a contributor to the universal service fund whose projected collected interstate end-user telecommunications revenues comprise less than 12 percent of its combined projected collected interstate and international end-user telecommunications revenues shall contribute based only on projected collected interstate end-user telecommunications revenues, net of projected contributions.[16] The rule is intended to exclude from the contribution base the international end-user telecommunications revenues of any entity whose annual contribution, based on the provider's interstate and international end-user telecommunications revenues, would exceed the amount of its interstate end-user revenues.[17] The proposed contribution factor exceeds 12 percent, which the FCC recognizes could result in a contributor being required to contribute to the universal service fund an amount that exceeds its interstate end-user telecommunications revenue. Should a contributor face this situation, the contributor may petition the Commission for waiver of the LIRE threshold.[18]

MEDIA BUREAU REMINDS UNITED STATES-BASED FOREIGN MEDIA OUTLETS OF NEXT SEMI-ANNUAL DISCLOSURE DEADLINE

Reports Due by October 11, 2025

Section 1085 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 (NDAA) amended the Communications Act of 1934 (the Communications Act) to add section 722, which requires all "United States-based foreign media outlets" to submit to the Commission a report containing: 1) the name of such outlet; and 2) a description of the relationship of such outlet to the foreign principal of such outlet, including a description of the legal structure of such relationship and any funding that such outlet receives from such principal.[1] The report is to be submitted no later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of the NDAA and no less frequently than every 6 months thereafter.[2] As the previous report was due on April 11, 2025, the deadline for outlets to submit the next NDAA report to the Commission is October 11, 2025.

The Commission has established an e-mail inbox, at ndaareport@fcc.gov, that outlets should use to submit the reports. Respondents should format the reports as Adobe® Acrobat® (PDF) or Microsoft® Word documents and attach them to the e-mail. The e-mail submitting the report should include a subject or caption referring to the NDAA disclosure requirement and the name of the outlet. Respondents are reminded that the contents of the reports are subject to the provisions of the United States Code governing statements or representations made before the Commission.[3]

For purposes of this disclosure requirement, the NDAA provides that the term "United States-based foreign media outlet" means an entity that (A) produces or distributes video programming (as defined in section 602 of the Communications Act) that is transmitted, or intended for transmission, by a multichannel video programming distributor (as defined in such section) to consumers in the United States; and (B) would be an agent of a foreign principal for purposes of the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938 (FARA) (22 U.S.C. § 611 et seq.) but for section 1(d) of FARA (22 U.S.C. § 611(d)).[4] The Communications Act defines the term "video programming" as "programming provided by, or generally considered comparable to programming provided by, a television broadcast station."[5] The term "multichannel video programming distributor" means "a person such as, but not limited to, a cable operator, a multichannel multipoint distribution service, a direct broadcast satellite service, or a television receive-only satellite program distributor, who makes available for purchase, by subscribers or customers, multiple channels of video programming."[6]

The NDAA provides that the term "foreign principal" has the meaning given such term in Section 1(b)(1) of FARA (22 U.S.C. § 611(b)(1)).[7] Section 1(b)(1) of FARA provides that "a government of a foreign country and a foreign political party" are included in the definition of a "foreign principal."[8] Section 1(c) of FARA provides that, except "as provided in subsection (d) of this section, the term 'agent of a foreign principal' means (1) any person who acts as an agent, representative, employee, or servant, or any person who acts in any other capacity at the order, request, or under the direction or control, of a foreign principal or of a person any of whose activities are directly or indirectly supervised, directed, controlled, financed, or subsidized in whole or in major part by a foreign principal, and who directly or through any other person--(i) engages within the United States in political activities for or in the interests of such foreign principal; (ii) acts within the United States as a public relations counsel, publicity agent, information-service employee or political consultant for or in the interests of such foreign principal; (iii) within the United States solicits, collects, disburses, or dispenses contributions, loans, money, or other things of value for or in the interest of such foreign principal; or (iv) within the United States represents the interests of such foreign principal before any agency or official of the Government of the United States; and (2) any person who agrees, consents, assumes or purports to act as, or who is or holds himself out to be, whether or not pursuant to contractual relationship, an agent of a foreign principal as defined in clause (1) of this subsection."[9]

Section 1(d) of FARA states that the "term 'agent of a foreign principal' does not include any news or press service or association organized under the laws of the United States or of any State or other place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, or any newspaper, magazine, periodical, or other publication for which there is on file with the United States Postal Service information in compliance with section 3611 of Title 39, published in the United States, solely by virtue of any bona fide news or journalistic activities, including the solicitation or acceptance of advertisements, subscriptions, or other compensation therefor, so long as it is at least 80 per centum beneficially owned by, and its officers and directors, if any, are citizens of the United States, and such news or press service or association, newspaper, magazine, periodical, or other publication, is not owned, directed, supervised, controlled, subsidized, or financed, and none of its policies are determined by any foreign principal defined in subsection (b) of section 611, or by any agent of a foreign principal required to register under this subchapter."[10]

Consistent with the requirements of the NDAA, the Commission will transmit to Congress a report that summarizes the contents of the reports submitted by United States-based foreign media outlets within 90 days from the date of enactment, and not less frequently than every 6 months thereafter.[11] As the Commission transmitted the previous report on or before May 9, 2025, the Commission will transmit the next report on or before November 7, 2025. In addition, the Commission will make publicly available on its website each report submitted by a United States-based foreign media outlet no later than the earlier of (1) 30 days after the outlet submits its report to the Commission or (2) the date on which the

By this Public Notice, the Wireline Competition Bureau seeks comment from interested parties on an application filed by Plains Internet, LLC (Plains) and Visionary Communications, LLC (Visionary) (together, Applicants), pursuant to section 214(a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and section 63.04 of the Commission's rules,[1] requesting consent for the transfer of all of Plains' Rural Digital Opportunity Fund (RDOF) authorized support and related buildout and service obligations in Wyoming Study Area Code (SAC) 519024 (Transferring SAC) to Visionary.[2]

Plains, a Texas limited liability company, provides broadband and voice services using fiber and licensed and unlicensed spectrum to approximately 5,300 residential and business customers in rural communities in New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, and Wyoming.[3] Plains is a designated Eligible Telecommunications Carrier (ETC) in Wyoming,[4] and the Commission has authorized Plains to receive RDOF support in Wyoming to provide service to an estimated 243 locations in the Transferring SAC.[5]

A, Long-Form Applicants and Winning Bidders at 21-22 (WCB/OEA 2021) (authorizing Plains to receive RDOF support in Wyoming). The Commission has directed the Wireline Competition Bureau to adopt revised location obligations no later than the end of program's sixth year using a listing of all qualifying locations within eligible areas. See Rural Digital Opportunity Fund et al., WC Dockets 19-126, 10-90, Order, 35 FCC Rcd 686, 709, para. 45 (2020). Plains also participates in the Lifeline program in Wyoming, and Visionary commits to continue participation after consummation of the transaction. Restated Application at 11. Plains states that it plans to relinquish its ETC designation in the Transferring SAC in Wyoming following the consummation of this proposed transaction. Id.

Visionary, a Wyoming limited liability company, provides domestic IP-enabled services, broadband services, and other communications services using a combination of fiber and fixed wireless services to residential and business customers in Colorado, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, Washington, and Wyoming.[6] Visionary has been separately designated as an ETC by the Wyoming Public Service Commission and Colorado Public Utilities Commission,[7] and the Commission has authorized Visionary to receive RDOF support for unserved locations in its SACs in each of these states.[8] Applicants also state that the Transferring SAC overlaps in areas where Visionary already has fiber and fixed wireless facilities.[9] Specifically, Applicants report that Visionary's existing network offers broadband service capable of meeting 100/20 Mbps speeds to 201 of the 243 estimated Broadband Serviceable Locations Units (BSLUs) in the Transferring SAC but is capable of providing 1000/500 Mbps service (the speeds that Plains committed to provide in exchange for RDOF support) to only one of these BSLUs.[10] Visionary is indirectly wholly-owned by Visionary Broadband Holdings, LLC (Visionary Holdings),[11] and is ultimately managed and controlled by the Visionary Holdings Board.[12] Visionary Holdings' 10% or greater owners are: Visionary Broadband Management Holdings, LLC, a Delaware limited liability holding company (12% direct equity interest); GTCR Broadband Aggregator LP, a Delaware limited partnership and holding company (56% direct equity interest); and Visionary Broadband Seller, Inc., a Wyoming investment corporation (22% direct equity interest).[13]

Pursuant to the terms of the proposed transaction, Plains has agreed to assign its RDOF support, future RDOF support, and the RDOF obligations for the Transferring SAC to Visionary, and Visionary has agreed to accept those funds and assume Plains' obligations, subject to any required regulatory approvals.[14] As part of the transaction, Plains has also agreed to provide Visionary with any work product relating to the Transferring SAC, and the two companies have agreed to work together to effectuate the transition of Plains' RDOF obligations in the Transferring SAC to Visionary.[15] Specifically, Visionary will be acquiring (1) the full amount of RDOF support for the Transferring SAC that Plains has received prior to the consummation of the transaction, less any amounts Plains has expended for the provision, maintenance, and upgrade of services and facilities in the Transferring SAC, and (2) the right to receive future RDOF support for the Transferring SAC following consummation.[16]

Applicants contend that a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity.[17] Applicants assert there will be "no reduction in competitors in the [Transferring SAC], there will be no negative impact on competition in the communications market anywhere in the United States, and the transaction will further facilitate the implementation of the Commission's important RDOF program goals."[18] Applicants also assert that the transaction "will not result in any harms to either company's existing customers and will accelerate Visionary's ongoing efforts to expand broadband service to unserved and underserved rural areas of Wyoming."[19] Applicants maintain that Visionary has the necessary managerial and technical experience to assume the responsibility of deploying RDOF-supported voice and broadband services in the Transferring SAC.[20] Finally, Applicants state that Visionary possesses the financial means to assume Plains' RDOF obligations in the Transferring SAC and that the transaction will not result in any adverse changes to the buildout plans.[21]

Because the proposed transaction would involve the exchange and assumption of Universal Service Fund high-cost mechanism obligations, in order to analyze whether the proposed transaction would serve the public interest, we accept the Application for non-streamlined processing.[22]

ORDER

By the Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) denies the petition filed by CRC Communications LLC (CRC) seeking waiver of section 54.320(d) of the Federal Communications Commission's (FCC or Commission) rules "and any other applicable rules."[1] We affirm that CRC will be subject to the relevant Connect America Fund (CAF) Phase II auction non-compliance measures if it does not serve the required number of locations pursuant to its CAF Phase II auction obligations.[2] It would not serve the public interest to provide relief simply because most of the affected locations already happen to be served or will be served. CRC abdicated its responsibility to meet its obligations and has failed to demonstrate good cause to warrant the relief requested.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Otelco, Inc. (Otelco), CRC's parent company, submitted a short-form application to participate in the CAF Phase II auction pursuant to the program rules and was found qualified to bid.[3] Oteclo then bid in the auction where it identified the areas where it would like to provide service meeting the CAF Phase II auction obligations, the performance tier and level of latency at which it proposed to provide service, and the level of support it would need to offer voice and broadband service meeting the relevant performance obligations.[4]

3. Otelco successfully outbid another auction participant in certain areas in Massachusetts.[5] Otelco then assigned all of its winning bids to CRC.[6] CRC filed a long-form application seeking to be authorized to receive support for winning bids in exchange for the deployment of voice and broadband to locations covered by its assigned winning bids.[7] In October 2019, CRC was authorized to receive $921,505 over 10 years in CAF Phase II auction support to offer voice and broadband at speeds of at least 25/3 Mbps to 772 locations in Massachusetts.[8]

4. For the CAF Phase II auction, carriers must offer voice and broadband service meeting the relevant performance requirements to a set number of locations by certain interim service milestones.[9] The number of locations they are required to serve is based on the Connect America Cost Model's (CAM) estimate of how many locations are in the eligible census blocks in the carrier's service area, and compliance with service milestones is determined on a state-level basis—i.e., the Bureau will confirm a carrier is serving the required location totals across all of its eligible census blocks within a state, rather than on a census block-by-census block basis.[10] More specifically, CAF Phase II auction carriers must offer voice and broadband service meeting the relevant performance obligations to 40% of the required number of locations by December 31, 2022; 60% of the required number of locations by December 31, 2023; 80% of the required number of locations by December 31, 2024; and 100% of the required number of locations by December 31, 2025.[11] Carriers are required to report the locations where they are offering service meeting the required performance obligations in the High Cost Universal Broadband (HUBB) portal and certify the data on an annual basis.[12]

5. The Commission takes compliance with the terms and conditions of the CAF Phase II auction support program seriously and imposes non-compliance measures if the requirements are not met. If a CAF Phase II auction carrier fails to meet the interim service milestones, it will be subject to non-compliance measures that scale with the extent of non-compliance, including additional reporting requirements, withholding of future support, and recovery of support already paid.[13] For the final 100% service milestone, if a CAF Phase II auction carrier fails to serve at least 95% of its required number of locations, the Commission requires that the Bureau recover "an amount of support that is equal to 1.89 times the average amount of support per location received in the state over the six-year period for the relevant number of locations the [carrier] has failed to offer service to, plus 10 percent of the [carrier's] total [CAF] Phase II support received in the state over the six-year period for deployment."[14] Carriers must pay the required support recovery within six months after support recovery is initiated, or the Bureau will direct the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) to draw on the carrier's letter of credit.[15] CAF Phase II auction carriers are also subject to other non-compliance measures including, but not limited to, the Commission's enforcement procedures and penalties, reductions in support amounts, potential revocation of Eligible Telecommunications Carrier (ETC) designation, and suspension or debarment.[16]

6. Despite certifying in the HUBB that it had met the 40% and 60% service milestones, CRC learned in April 2024 that the wireless company it had partnered with to meet its CAF Phase II auction obligations, WiValley-MA Inc. (WiValley) had become "insolvent" and would not be meeting the terms of the agreement it had with CRC.[17] CRC "engaged a third-party consultant to evaluate the network, to confirm existing coverage, and to recommend any necessary improvements and modifications to the existing network," and it was at that time that CRC determined that "many locations" that CRC had originally certified in the HUBB portal as being served pursuant to its CAF Phase II auction obligations were not in fact being offered broadband at the CAF Phase II auction speeds.[18] CRC investigated options for potentially transferring its CAF Phase II auction support and obligations to another carrier but claims "such efforts have been unsuccessful because of the significant amount of work to be done and the impending FCC deadlines for completion of the project."[19] In January 2025, CRC notified the Bureau that it would not meet the 80% service milestone.[20]

7. CRC's Petition. In May 2025, CRC filed a petition seeking waiver of section 54.320(d) of the Commission's rules along with any other applicable rules and proposing to return support for all of the CBGs where it was authorized for CAF Phase II auction support without the additional 89% from the multiplier and 10% return of support.[21] Specifically, CRC claims there is good cause to waive the non-compliance measures because it "performed its due diligence in selecting" WiValley to partner in meeting its obligations, "pursu[ed] alternative options for preserving existing operations and fulfilling its [CAF Phase II auction] deployment obligations," and "could not have known at the time it was authorized" that another service provider, Spectrum Northeast, LLC (Spectrum), would be awarded Massachusetts Broadband Infrastructure (MBI) Gap Networks Grant Program funds to deploy broadband at speeds of 100/100 Mbps in CRC's CAF Phase II auction service area.[22] CRC also explains that support would be repaid more quickly if the Bureau were to grant relief, rather than waiting until the end of the deployment period to initiate support recovery once CRC misses the 100% service milestone.[23] Additionally, CRC argues that relief would be consistent with the Bureau's deduplication precedent because if relief were granted, the areas that CRC will not serve pursuant to its CAF Phase II auction obligations will not be left unserved because most of the locations are covered by Spectrum's MBI Gap Networks Grant funds or are otherwise served with broadband at speeds that exceed the 25/3 Mbps that CRC is required to offer pursuant to its CAF Phase II auction authorization.[24]

III. DISCUSSION

8. Generally, the Commission's rules may be waived for good cause shown.[25] Waiver of the Commission's rules is appropriate only if both: (1) special circumstances warrant a deviation from the general rule, and (2) such deviation will serve the public interest.[26]

9. We do not find good cause to grant CRC's requested waiver and waive section 54.320(d) of the Commission's rules or any additional non-compliance measures for CRC.[27] CRC has not established that special circumstances warrant a waiver. CRC's parent company bid in the auction, and CRC filed a long-form application seeking to be authorized for support fully aware of the obligations an authorized CAF Phase II auction carrier would be required to fulfill and the objective calculation the Bureau would use to recover support if CRC could not meet these obligations. Now, CRC claims that it is "unable to fulfill its duties" as an authorized CAF Phase II auction carrier because its subcontractor WiValley has become insolvent and had not actually been meeting the terms of its contract all along.[28] CRC does not explain how it failed to notice that it was not actually offering service meeting the Commission's requirements despite CRC so certifying in the HUBB for its 40% and again for its 60% milestones.[29]

10. For much of the support term, CRC appears to have abdicated its responsibility to meet the CAF Phase II auction obligations. While authorized CAF Phase II auction recipients are permitted to enter into agreements with other carriers to help meet their obligations subject to applicable restrictions like ETC requirements,[30] the Bureau was clear that the CAF Phase II auction recipient, as the ETC, has the responsibility of fulfilling the CAF Phase II auction obligations by offering the required service to consumers.[31] It is unclear how CRC could have simultaneously offered the CAF Phase II auction service to consumers while also being totally unaware that it was not offering service that met the Commission's requirements. In fact, CRC not only certified that it was offering the required service to the locations it submitted in the HUBB, it also certified that it had met the 40% and 60% service milestones, which meant it avoided the support withholding that would have been imposed if CRC had accurately reported its deployment.[32]

[29] CRC has made corrections to its HUBB reporting and as of March 7, 2025 has certified offering service to 235 locations or approximately 30% of its required locations, although more than half are reported at speeds of 10/1 Mbps rather than the required 25/3 Mbps. Universal Service Administrative Company, Connect America Fund Broadband Map, https://data.usac.org/publicreports/caf-map/ (last visited Sept. 3, 2025). CRC previously certified enough locations in the HUBB at speeds of 25/3 Mbps to at least meet its 40% service milestone (i.e., CRC was required to offer service meeting the applicable CAF Phase II auction requirements to approximately 309 locations at a minimum) and its 60% service milestone (i.e., CRC was required to offer service meeting the applicable CAF Phase II auction requirements to approximately 464 locations at a minimum).

11. Accordingly, we are not persuaded that special circumstances exist because CRC "performed its due diligence in selecting a subcontractor," and then later "pursu[ed] alternative options for preserving existing operations and fulfilling its CAF [Phase II auction] deployment obligations" once it was clear WiValley would not perform.[33] While CRC may have conducted due diligence in its initial selection of WiValley, it then neglected its responsibility to meet its obligations for a large portion of the support term. Moreover, CRC may have had more options for meeting or transferring its obligations if it had exercised proper oversight, fulfilled its responsibility as the carrier required to offer the service, and discovered early on that WiValley was not meeting the terms of the contract rather than waiting until it was notified that WiValley was insolvent before it "engaged a third-party consultant to evaluate the network deployed by WiValley . . . ."[34] Instead, CRC is coming in late in the deployment period to seek relief, after it has received the benefit of receiving years of CAF Phase II auction support, including support that would have otherwise been withheld given CRC's noncompliance.

12. While we acknowledge CRC's claims that most of the locations in its CAF Phase II auction service area are already served with broadband at speeds that exceed 25/3 Mbps or might be served by Spectrum with state funding,[35] CRC's expected default is entirely independent of these conditions. These conditions thus do not constitute special circumstances that warrant waiver. Again, CRC explains that the reason it is unable to meet its obligations or transfer its obligations to another carrier is due to WiValley's insolvency and failure to meet the terms of the contract, and the fact that this issue was discovered too late in the CAF Phase II auction deployment term for CRC or another carrier to meet the obligations within the required timeframe.[36] We also note that to the extent CRC defaults on these areas, we will be recovering support from CRC, so there will be no duplicative support in the defaulted areas.[37]

13. For these reasons, we do not find that the Bureau's deduplication precedent cited by CRC is applicable here.[38] In RiverStreet Communications of Virginia, Inc.'s (RiverStreet) situation, RiverStreet and Cox came to an agreement that RiverStreet would relinquish certain CBGs within its Rural Digital Opportunity Fund (RDOF) area to prevent duplicative funding where the other service provider had an enforceable commitment to serve every location in the affected CBGs.[39] Such agreement was reached early on in the RDOF support term.[40] There was no indication that RiverStreet would not have met its obligation to serve the area but for the duplicative funding. As a result, the Bureau found it would serve the public interest to permit RiverStreet to relinquish the affected CBGs to maximize the use of public funding in the county and further the Commission's responsibility to coordinate with other agencies and deduplicate funding.[41] To ensure no Americans are left behind, we have only deduplicated funding where an entire CBG is covered by duplicative funding, except in the narrow, unique circumstance of locations on Tribal land.[42] This allows us to avoid the inefficient duplicative funding while ensuring universal service.[43]

14. In comparison, other factors led CRC to make the business decision to not fulfill its obligations and then come to us requesting relief. CRC has not sufficiently demonstrated that some of these factors were unforeseeable or preventable, and in areas where CRC is seeking relief where locations are unserved, the facts materially differ.[44] We are not convinced that it would serve the public interest to relieve CRC of some of the required support recovery simply because most of the affected locations already happen to be served or will be served.[45] Taking such action would undermine auction integrity to give CRC relief from the required support recovery due to the fact that most of the areas are coincidentally served or will be served. CRC sought authorization fully on notice of the terms of the CAF Phase II auction program, that its authorization was conditioned on meeting the terms and conditions of the program, and of the objective calculation that would be used to determine the required support recovery if it did not meet these obligations.[46] CAF Phase II auction bidders may have bid differently in the auction if they knew they could abdicate their responsibility to meet the CAF Phase II auction obligations, but then would not be subject to applicable non-compliance measures because an area was served or would be served pursuant to another funding award regardless of other factors.[47]

15. In these specific circumstances, we find that on balance the public interest is served by maintaining auction integrity and applying the full extent of the applicable support recovery rules that CRC agreed to be subject to by seeking authorization. Although the CAF Phase II auction program was intended to support the deployment of service in unserved areas,[48] we also have an obligation as stewards of the public's funds to ensure that carriers seeking relief made a good faith effort to meet the requirements of the program.[49]

Tribal boundaries do not neatly align with CBGs, and the Tribe typically in these scenarios has not explicitly granted consent to a carrier's network deployment on Tribal land. See, e.g., Connect America Fund et al., WC Docket No. 10-90 et al., Order, 39 FCC Rcd 9751 (WCB 2024).

16. We are also not persuaded that being able to recover a portion of the required support recovery "more quickly" if we were to grant relief shifts the balance so that it would be in the public interest to grant relief.[50] While we would potentially recover money sooner than waiting until the end of the deployment period plus the one year cure period if we granted CRC's requested relief,[51] this would not negate the fact that we would be recovering less support than required and would be undermining auction integrity. Moreover, it is unclear whether CRC intends to remain in the CAF Phase II auction program for the locations it has already certified serving in the HUBB. To the extent that CRC intends to fully withdraw from the CAF Phase II auction because it is unable to meet its obligations, we have permitted carriers that have fully withdrawn to default prior to the end of the deployment term so that we can initiate support recovery sooner, but have not provided any additional relief for such carriers absent a finding of good cause.[52] Additionally, carriers that default on only some CBGs within their service area have the option of petitioning the Bureau for a waiver to pay a portion of the required support recovery early if the Bureau determines there is good cause to grant the request.[53]

By this Public Notice, the Wireline Competition Bureau seeks comment from interested parties on an application filed by Point Broadband Fiber Holding, LLC (Point Broadband) and the City of Colquitt, Georgia (Colquitt, together with Point Broadband, Applicants), pursuant to section 214(a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and sections 63.04 of the Commission's rules,[1] requesting Commission approval for the acquisition of Point Broadband's Rural Digital Opportunity Fund (RDOF) buildout and service obligations associated with census blocks (the entire Study Area Code 229033) (Assigned Census Blocks), covering 2,000 locations in Miller County, Georgia, by Colquitt.[2]

Point Broadband, a Delaware limited liability company, is a provider of communications services using fixed wireless technology in Georgia and other states.[3] Point Broadband is designated as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier (ETC) in Georgia and the Commission has authorized Point Broadband to receive $4,241,074.70 in RDOF support for 2,000 locations in the Assigned Census Blocks.[4]

Colquitt, a Georgia municipality in Miller County, currently provides broadband Internet access service to approximately 270 customers.[5] Colquitt does not have any 10% or greater owner nor is Colquitt affiliated with any other provider of domestic telecommunications services.[6] Applicants state that Colquitt does not currently receive any high-cost Universal Service Fund support.[7] In connection with the proposed transaction, Colquitt is filing with the Georgia Public Service Commission an application for designation as an ETC for the Assigned Census Blocks.[8]

Pursuant to the terms of the proposed transaction, Colquitt will acquire certain assets Point Broadband acquired with RDOF support, as well as unexpended RDOF support, and the right to receive future RDOF support for the Assigned Census Blocks.[9] Colquitt will also assume Point Broadband's RDOF obligations in the Assigned Census Blocks.[10] Point Broadband has also agreed to provide Colquitt with its engineering plans, pole attachment rights, power, real property, and transport services that it has created for the Assigned Census Blocks, and to transfer customer accounts to Colquitt.[11]

Applicants assert that a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity.[12] Applicants state that Colquitt has both the necessary managerial and technical experience and requisite financial means to assume the responsibility of deploying RDOF-supported voice and broadband service in the Assigned Census Blocks.[13] Applicants state that Colquitt has set aside dedicated capital to fund the costs of deploying the network facilities to provide RDOF-supported service in the Assigned Census Blocks and does not anticipate the need to borrow money or incur debt in order to meet the milestone and performance measurement standards.[14] Applicants further state that the proposed transaction will not result in any adverse alteration to the buildout plans Point Broadband submitted to the Commission for the Assigned Census Blocks as part of its long-form application to the Commission.[15] Colquitt commits to meeting the buildout milestones and performance obligations established for the Assigned Census Blocks, including the upcoming 60% buildout milestone.[16] Applicants assert that the proposed transaction will accelerate Colquitt's ongoing efforts to expand broadband service to unserved

Applicants state that, following the consummation of the proposed transaction, Colquitt will be solely responsible for complying with Universal Service Fund requirements and Commission rules and will continue to assume all risks and consequences of noncompliance with program requirements, including default recovery of support and potential forfeiture penalties, in all supported areas. Id. at 7.

[13] Id. at 8. Applicants note that Colquitt already provides broadband service in the city and has relationships with vendors to assist with construction and operation of the supported network going forward. Id. Applicants state that Colquitt plans to add five towers to increase customer capacity and note that the addition of fixed wireless and a proposed fiber optic deployment covering about 160 miles creates the potential to accommodate an additional 2,300 to 3,000 customers throughout the region that includes the Assigned Census Blocks. Id. at 9.

ENFORCEMENT BUREAU EXTENDS DEADLINE FOR 2025 EEO AUDITS AND ISSUES FURTHER GUIDANCE TO RESPONDENTS

On August 8, 2025, the Enforcement Bureau (EB) issued Equal Employment Opportunity audit letters for 2025 to randomly selected radio and television stations.[1] EB hereby extends the deadline to October 17, 2025, for stations to upload responses to their FCC-hosted online public inspection file (OPIF). Further, regarding paragraph two of the audit letter requesting certain audit data from respondents, EB issues the following additional guidance for questions 2(b)(vi)(a-b), (vii-viii) (the Inquiries).

In coordination with the Media Bureau, EB finds that, in order to protect privacy and confidential business information from public disclosure, pursuant to section 1.3 of the Commission's rules (Rules),[2] good cause exists to waive the requirement that responses to the Inquiries be uploaded to a station's OPIF. The responses to the Inquiries should instead be submitted under separate cover via email to the Enforcement Bureau at EB-EEO@fcc.gov. The email should also include a statement indicating that the remaining audit data was uploaded to a station's OPIF. Additionally, we clarify that station employment units with fewer than five full-time employees (defined by section 73.2080(e)(1) of the Rules as employees regularly assigned to work 30 hours a week or more)[3] are exempt from responding to the Inquiries.[4] Finally, respondents are not required to include advertising contracts in response to the Inquiries.[5]

ORDER

By the Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we deny the Amended Compliance Plan (Sequoia Fourth Compliance Plan) of Sequoia Wireless, LLC (Sequoia or Company).[1] As detailed below, Sequoia did not demonstrate that it has the financial and technical capability necessary to operate in the Lifeline program. Without an approved compliance plan, a non-facilities-based carrier such as Sequoia is not eligible to participate in the Lifeline program.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Pursuant to section 254(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (Act), a carrier must be designated as an eligible telecommunications carrier (ETC) to receive reimbursement for providing Lifeline service to qualified low-income consumers.[2] The Act also requires that an ETC must "offer the services that are supported by Federal universal service support mechanisms . . . either using its own facilities or a combination of its own facilities and resale of another carrier's services."[3] State commissions have primary responsibility for designating ETCs, and the Federal Communications

Commission (FCC or Commission) has authority to designate as ETCs carriers that are not subject to the jurisdiction of a state commission.[4]

3. In the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order, the Commission granted conditional forbearance from the Act's requirement that telecommunications carriers seeking to become Lifeline-only ETCs provide service at least partially over their own facilities, subject to the following conditions: (1) the carrier must comply with certain 911 and enhanced 911 public safety requirements; and (2) the carrier must file, and the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) must approve, a compliance plan providing specific information regarding the carrier and its service offerings and outlining the measures the carrier will take to implement the obligations contained in the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order, as well as further safeguards against waste, fraud and abuse as the Bureau may deem necessary.[5] The Commission concluded that review and approval of all Lifeline-only ETC compliance plans "is a critical element" of granting forbearance from the Act's "own facilities" requirement of 47 U.S.C. § 214(e)(1)(A).[6] Carriers that are granted conditional forbearance under these provisions have the same duties as traditional facilities-based or partially facilities-based ETCs to offer the supported service and advertise the availability of such service and the charges therefor using media of general distribution throughout their service areas.[7]

4. For all carriers seeking to avail themselves of this conditional grant of forbearance, a compliance plan must have certain minimum requirements, as spelled out in the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order and the Bureau's Compliance Plan Public Notice.[8] At a minimum, compliance plans should provide: (1) information about the carrier and the Lifeline plans it intends to offer, including detailed information demonstrating that the carrier is financially and technically capable of providing the supported Lifeline service in compliance with the Commission's rules,[9] detailed information, including geographic locations, of the carrier's current service offerings, the terms and conditions of each Lifeline service plan offering, and all other certifications required under section 54.202 of the Commission's rules; (2) a detailed explanation of how the carrier will comply with the Commission's rules relating to the determination of subscriber eligibility for Lifeline services; (3) a detailed explanation of how the carrier will comply with the forbearance conditions relating to public safety and 911/E-911 access; (4) a detailed explanation of how the carrier will comply with the Commission's marketing and disclosure requirements for participation in Lifeline; and (5) a detailed explanation of the carrier's procedures and efforts to prevent program integrity issues in connection with Lifeline funds.[10] With respect to demonstrating a provider's financial and technical capacity, the Commission has noted that among the relevant considerations would be whether the applicant previously offered "services to non-Lifeline consumers, how long it has been in business, whether the applicant intends to rely exclusively on USF disbursements to operate, whether the applicant receives or will receive revenue from other sources, and whether it has been subject to enforcement action or ETC revocation proceedings in any state."[11]

5. ETCs must adhere to these requirements designed to protect both consumers and the Universal Service Fund (USF or Fund).[12] Carriers may not receive reimbursement from the Lifeline program if they do not have an approved compliance plan.[13] The Bureau must deny a compliance plan approval request if it does not conform to the requirements in the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order.[14]

6. Sequoia's Lifeline Compliance Plan. Sequoia Wireless is a California limited liability company and wireless reseller.[15] Sequoia is seeking approval of its compliance plan in order to avail itself of the Commission's conditional forbearance from the "own facilities" requirement.[16] On July 18, 2023, Sequoia (then Join LifeLine, LLC) filed its initial compliance plan with the Commission seeking forbearance from the "own facilities" requirement as per the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order,[17] and thereafter, submitted revised compliance plans on August 14, 2023 as Join LifeLine LLC d/b/a Join LifeLine Wireless,[18] on October 9, 2023 as Join LifeLine LLC d/b/a Sequoia Wireless, LLC,[19] and on May 13, 2024, the Company submitted its most recent compliance plan reflecting a name change to Sequoia Wireless, LLC.[20] All four compliance plans note that the Company "does intend to rely exclusively on [Universal Service Fund] disbursements to operate."[21] Sequoia's Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Mr. R. Indran C. (Indy) Nelson confirmed in videoconference meetings on February 9, 2024 and February 29, 2024, that the Company will exclusively rely on the USF for operational support, and that Sequoia has no other significant sources of income apart from the USF and California Lifeline funds.[22]

The statutory requirements for approving a provider's entry into the ACP differ in a number of significant ways from the approval process for provider entry into the Lifeline program. A provider being granted entry into ACP does not guarantee that a provider will also be granted approval to participate in Lifeline as an ETC.

III. DISCUSSION

7. We deny Sequoia's Amended Compliance Plan because Sequoia failed to demonstrate that it will provide Lifeline service in compliance with the Commission's rules. Specifically, Sequoia has not shown its financial and technical capability as required by the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order.[23] As the Commission stated in the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order, among the relevant considerations for an ETC showing its financial and technical capability is demonstrating whether the applicant previously offered services to non-Lifeline consumers, how long it has been in business, whether the applicant intends to rely exclusively on USF reimbursements to operate, whether the applicant receives or will receive revenue from other sources, and whether it has been subject to any enforcement actions or ETC revocation proceedings in any state.[24] As further discussed below, we find Sequoia lacking in most of these areas.

8. Financial Capability. We find that Sequoia has failed to demonstrate the Company's financial capability to provide Lifeline service because it has expressed that it will depend almost entirely the federal USF Lifeline reimbursements and other government funding to operate. Assessing to what extent an ETC is reliant on the Fund as part of its revenue stream is essential in order to determine whether the ETC is financially capable of providing Lifeline service.[25]

9. In all four of its compliance plans, Sequoia stated that it will be exclusively reliant on the federal USF or the California LifeLine program, a state government assistance program that is similar to the federal Lifeline program, to operate, and it failed to provide information concerning any other significant sources of revenue.[26]

10. Heavy reliance on government funding puts both subscriber service and program integrity at risk. The Commission has long stated that "whether an [ETC] applicant intends to rely exclusively on USF disbursements to operate" and "whether the applicant receives or will receive revenue from other resources" are relevant considerations for whether an applicant can demonstrate technical and financial capacity to provide Lifeline service[27] as required by section 54.202.[28] Having sufficient financial resources outside of USF funds can help ensure that a Lifeline service provider can cover its day-to-day and overall operational and business expenses, address unexpected events and maintain stability and continuity of service to subscribers.[29] The federal Lifeline program is also not a guaranteed

[28] 47 CFR § 54.202(a)(4).

source of funding, and there could be periods of reduced support during which ETCs must continue to operate. For example, in the event of a funding hold instituted pursuant to the Commission's procedures[30] or fines, ETCs must have the capacity to meet their statutory obligations to offer and advertise the availability of services.[31] Sequioa's anticipated financial dependence on the Lifeline program raises serious questions about its ability to address and comply with potential holds[32] or enforcement and recovery actions while also ensuring continuity of service to Lifeline households.

11. Although Sequoia firmly stated that it intends to "rely exclusively on USF disbursements to operate,"[33] and made similar statements in the three earlier iterations of its compliance plan which remain pending with the Bureau,[34] the Company also asserts that because it receives funds from the California LifeLine program, which is supported by another funding source, it will not be exclusively reliant on the USF to operate.[35] Sequoia receiving funding from the California LifeLine program would not assuage our concerns because the California LifeLine Program is another government subsidy program. A heavy or substantial reliance on USF and other government subsidies would be concerning enough, but Sequoia's business model introduces even more risk because of its complete dependence on the Lifeline program (and California LifeLine) for financial solvency. In its initial compliance plan submission, Sequoia stated that its "aim is to transition from the [Affordable Connectivity Program] to Lifeline service . . . allowing [Sequoia] the means to financially stay solvent."[36]

12. Sequoia has not provided evidence of any significant revenue streams outside of the California LifeLine program, identified no other significant financial resources, and has not reported serving a significant number of subscribers.[37] In Bureau staff's meetings with Sequoia, the Company did not indicate that it had any other present streams of revenue apart from the California LifeLine program, and it noted that the Company also does not intend to offer service to any significant degree beyond the California and federal Lifeline programs. Sequoia did discuss future plans to sell accessories for communications devices when meeting with the Bureau. In its Fourth Compliance Plan, Sequoia memorialized those plans stating that it "intend[s] to offer accessories and gadgets as value adds to customers, will offer Top-Up plans at $5/GB, and are designing a device buyback program to offer secondary market device purchases from both [its] customers and those of the open market, which [the Company] would refurbish and offer to [its] customers through an upgrade program."[38] We are unable to rely on these proposals or future business projections, but must base our decision on the Company's actual current financial situation and business status as reported by Sequoia to the Bureau.

13. Technical Capability. We also find that Sequoia has failed to demonstrate that it has the technical capability to properly comply with the Commission's rules and its public interest obligations as a Lifeline service provider. The Company is newly operating as a service provider, with a short history only dating back to 2023.[39] Since beginning operations, the company has made no discernable effort to acquire customers through general telecommunications and broadband service offerings, and seemingly exists with the sole business plan to operate within state and federal low-income programs. Additionally, the Company has not provided sufficient evidence to demonstrate that it would have the technical and human resources to significantly address customer service concerns, maintain network operations over time, or properly ensure compliance with Commission rules, like the Commission's usage requirements for the Lifeline program.[40]

14. In its Fourth Compliance Plan submission, Sequoia began its technical capability discussion with a narrative concerning a planned door-to-door canvassing campaign of households in Palm Springs, California and noted it could potentially provide service to five Tribal communities in southern California which are not currently receiving federal Lifeline service.[41] This is merely a small-scale marketing proposal. Sequoia provides no details of how it will operate more broadly and fails to provide evidence of any plans to start and run a non-subsidy business.

15. To the extent it has a plan for who will run its enterprise, as discussed further below, we find that the only member of Sequoia's team with experience in the Commission's programs or telecommunications outside of Sequoia's ACP participation has a history of questionable practices for other providers in the ACP. In its meeting with Bureau staff, Sequoia characterized its advisory team as a small team with a company CEO that has no known prior experience at senior leadership levels or in the telecommunications sector.[42] There is also no identified staff in the Fourth Compliance Plan with commensurate experience with the ability to fill this gap in knowledge.[43] Sequoia has submitted information regarding its personnel to the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity (CPCN).[44] Sequoia's California CPCN Application identifies four employees, and three advisory board members.[45] The only employee that appears to have any telecommunications background outside of Sequoia's ACP participation is Patrick Hardy.[46] Notably, Mr. Hardy was identified in Notices of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture and Order Initiating Removal Proceeding for Tone Communication Services LLC and City Communications, Inc. as a manager for City Communications and the agent responsible for using the same set of benefit qualifying persons to enroll numerous households in ACP,[47] in violation of ACP rules.[48] This apparent willful violation of the Commission rules for the ACP by a member of Sequoia's team raises serious questions about Sequoia's technical capability to operate in accordance with the program integrity rules of the Lifeline program.[49]

16. In the instant matter, the Bureau sought additional information from Sequoia relevant to the carrier's ability to participate in the Lifeline program. Sequoia filed a revised compliance plan that does not sufficiently address the issues identified above.[50] The only financial information that Sequoia provided to the Bureau were projections of potential future business with no actual financial statements offered or subscriber counts provided.[51] The fact that Sequoia submitted four iterations of its compliance plan and did not include any specific financial information further reinforces our view that the Company does not meet the requirements established by the Commission.[52] Based on its failure to provide additional sufficient information and based on our understanding of Seqouia's financial and technical capabilities, we conclude that it would not be appropriate to approve the compliance plan and allow Sequoia to operate in the Lifeline program.

17. Finally, the fact that Sequoia was authorized to operate in the California LifeLine program is inapposite to our inquiry into whether Sequoia has financial and technical capability under the standards for the federal Lifeline program. The CPUC has a separate process and requirements for carriers seeking approval to become a California LifeLine service provider.[53] The CPUC's approval of Sequoia's participation as a California LifeLine service provider does not qualify Sequoia's federal Lifeline program compliance plan.[54] As the Commission determined in the Connect America Fund Phase II auction, "the fact that a state deemed an applicant to have sufficient financial qualifications for its own program at a certain point in time would not necessarily show that an applicant has sufficient qualifications"[55] for the Commission's program. We believe that a similar approach is appropriate here and are not persuaded by Sequoia's participation in the California LifeLine program when its compliance plan submission to the Commission is so lacking and fails to adequately address the Commission's requirements.

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we deny the Third Amended Compliance Plan submitted by Tempo Telecom, LLC (Tempo) identifying a potential acquisition by Insight Mobile, Inc. (Insight).[1] As detailed below, Tempo and Insight (the Entities) did not demonstrate that Insight has the financial and technical capability necessary to operate in the Lifeline program. Thus, Tempo may continue to offer the Lifeline benefit, only if the acquisition by Insight does not proceed and only in accordance with Tempo's previously approved Lifeline compliance plan.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Pursuant to section 254(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (Act), a carrier must be designated as an eligible telecommunications carrier (ETC) to receive reimbursement for providing Lifeline service to qualified low-income consumers.[2] The Act also requires that an ETC must "offer the services that are supported by Federal universal service support mechanisms . . . either using its own facilities or a combination of its own facilities and resale of another carrier's services."[3] State commissions have primary responsibility for designating ETCs, and the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) has authority to designate as ETCs carriers that are not subject to the jurisdiction of a state commission.[4]

will take to implement the obligations contained in the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order, as well as further safeguards against waste, fraud, and abuse as the Bureau may deem necessary.[5] The Commission concluded that review and approval of all Lifeline-only ETC compliance plans "is a critical element" of granting forbearance from the Act's "own facilities" requirement of 47 U.S.C. § 214(e)(1)(A).[6] Carriers that are granted conditional forbearance under these provisions have the same duties as traditional facilities-based or partially facilities-based ETCs to offer the supported service and advertise the availability of such service and the charges therefor using media of general distribution throughout their service areas.[7]

4. For all carriers seeking to avail themselves of this conditional grant of forbearance, a compliance plan must meet certain minimum requirements, as spelled out in the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order and the Bureau's Compliance Plan Public Notice.[8] At a minimum, compliance plans should provide: (1) information about the carrier and the Lifeline plans it intends to offer, including detailed information demonstrating that the carrier is financially and technically capable of providing the supported Lifeline service in compliance with the Commission's rules,[9] detailed information, including geographic locations, of the carrier's current service offerings, the terms and conditions of each Lifeline service plan offering, and all other certifications required under section 54.202 of the Commission's rules; (2) a detailed explanation of how the carrier will comply with the Commission's rules relating to the determination of subscriber eligibility for Lifeline services; (3) a detailed explanation of how the carrier will comply with the forbearance conditions relating to public safety and 911/E-911 access; (4) a detailed explanation of how the carrier will comply with the Commission's marketing and disclosure requirements for participation in Lifeline; and (5) a detailed explanation of the carrier's procedures and efforts to prevent program integrity issues in connection with Lifeline funds.[10] With respect to demonstrating a provider's financial and technical capacity, the Commission has noted that among the relevant considerations would be whether the applicant previously offered "services to non-Lifeline consumers, how long it has been in business, whether the applicant intends to rely exclusively on USF disbursements to operate, whether the applicant receives or will receive revenue from other sources, and whether it has been subject to enforcement action or ETC revocation proceedings in any state."[11]

approval request if it does not conform to the requirements in the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order.[14] Approval of a compliance plan is limited to the entity, and its ownership, as they are described in the compliance plan.[15] Any material changes in ownership or control require modification of the compliance plan that must be approved by the Bureau in advance of the those changes.[16]

6. Tempo's Lifeline Compliance Plan. Tempo is a Georgia limited liability company and wireless reseller.[17] Tempo's Compliance Plan (Compliance Plan) originally was filed in 2012 under the name of Birch Communications, Inc. ("Birch") and it received approval of its original Lifeline compliance plan from the Bureau on August 8, 2012.[18] On December 18, 2012, Birch notified the Commission that the prepaid wireless Lifeline service at issue in its original Compliance Plan would be provided by a separate legal entity known as Now Communications, LLC ("Now Comm"). The Commission acknowledged these changes in corporate structure in a December 20, 2012 Public Notice, and confirmed that the previously approved Compliance Plan applied to Now Comm.[19] Through letters dated September 17, 2013 and January 9, 2014, Now Comm notified the Commission that it changed its name to Tempo Telecom, LLC.[20] On July 25, 2022, Tempo filed its Amended Compliance Plan seeking an approval for changes in Tempo's corporate structure, but "no change in the ultimate ownership and control of Tempo."[21] The Commission approved this plan on September 21, 2022.[22] On April 28, 2023, Tempo filed its Second Amended Compliance Plan that, most significantly, describes a planned acquisition by Insight.[23] The Second Amended Compliance Plan explains that upon approval, "Insight

Mobile's management team will be responsible for day-to-day oversight of Tempo's operations."[24] It further noted that upon close of the transaction, Tempo would be "affiliated with Excess Telecom," (Excess) which participated in the Affordable Connectivity Program (ACP).[25] While the Second Amended Compliance Plan was still pending, Tempo filed its Third Amended Compliance Plan that provides additional information regarding "how Tempo will benefit from [Insight's] new management team that will leverage its extensive experience in implementing and executing robust compliance processes."[26] Although Insight does not currently provide telecommunications services,[27] Insight's management team, which holds "dual roles at both Insight Mobile and Excess Telecom," is purportedly "highly knowledgeable about compliance with the Commission's rules governing low-income programs" through their experience with Excess in the ACP.[28]

III. DISCUSSION

7. We deny Tempo Telecom's Third Amended Compliance Plan because the Entities failed to demonstrate that Tempo, after acquisition by Insight, would provide Lifeline service in compliance with the Commission's rules. Specifically, Tempo after the planned acquisition by Insight, has not shown its financial and technical capability as required by the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order.[29] As the Commission stated in the 2012 Lifeline Report and Order, among the relevant considerations for an ETC showing its financial and technical capability is whether the applicant previously offered services to non-Lifeline consumers, how long it has been in business, whether the applicant intends to rely exclusively on USF reimbursements to operate, whether the applicant receives or will receive revenue from other sources, and whether it has been subject to any enforcement actions or ETC revocation proceedings in any state.[30] As further detailed below, we have significant concerns about the post-transaction company's reliance on USF support and Insight's ownership and management team's history of compliance issues in the ACP.

8. Financial Capability. We find that the Entities failed to demonstrate Tempo's financial capability to provide Lifeline service under its new ownership by Insight. To show financial capability, the Bureau requested that the Entities provide additional information, including subscriber trends, financial resources to support participation in the Lifeline Program, and audited financial statements.[31]

9. With respect to the subscriber counts, Tempo reported that it had {[ ]} non-Lifeline/ACP subscribers as of 2023, demonstrating that it is heavily reliant on USF reimbursements in Lifeline (and previously, the ACP) to operate.[32] Insight itself does not currently provide any telecommunications services and therefore has no subscribers.[33] The relevant subscriber data reveals that the Entities have limited service-based revenue streams outside of the Commission's affordability programs. Given the Entities' heavy reliance on the Commission's subsidy programs for its operations, we find that Tempo, operating under new ownership by Insight, has not demonstrated the ability to operate as a telecommunications provider without revenue from the Commission's programs.

10. Heavy reliance on federal funding puts both subscriber service and program integrity at risk. The Commission has long stated that "whether an [ETC] applicant intends to rely exclusively on USF disbursements to operate" and "whether the applicant receives or will receive revenue from other resources" are relevant considerations for whether an applicant can demonstrate technical and financial capacity to provide Lifeline service[34] as required by section 54.202.[35] Having sufficient financial resources outside of USF funds can help ensure that a Lifeline service provider can cover its day-to-day and overall operational and business expenses, address unexpected events, and maintain stability and continuity of service to subscribers.[36] The federal Lifeline program is also not a guaranteed source of funding, and there could be periods of reduced support during which ETCs must continue to operate. For example, in the event of a funding hold instituted pursuant to the Commission's procedures[37] or fines, ETCs must have the capacity to meet their statutory obligations to offer and advertise the availability of services.[38] The Entities' financial dependence on the Lifeline program raises serious questions about their ability to address and comply with potential holds[39] or enforcement and recovery actions while also ensuring continuity of service to Lifeline households.

11. In its June 10, 2024 email seeking supplemental information, Bureau staff asked Tempo for information about other financial sources not tied to providing communications services but that might support the Lifeline ETC in its operations.[40] The Entities stated that they would have access to financial resources outside of the telecommunications sector if Tempo were acquired by Insight. Specifically, they explain, "Insight Mobile, which is 100 percent owned by Shadi Aslemand, {[

]}[41] The Entities did not, however, support these assertions about other financial resources with the documentation that the Bureau requested.

12. In response to Bureau requests for audited financial statements for Tempo, Insight, and any affiliated entities that also provide communication services in the same email, Tempo Telecom sent unaudited financial statements, as did parent company Lingo Management, LLC. Tempo's affiliated entity upon the potential close of the transaction, Excess, provided audited financial statements for 2021-2022, and unaudited financial statements for 2023 because the 2023 audit was not yet complete. Though they were requested, Insight did not provide audited or unaudited financial statements for 2021 through 2023,[42] but instead provided a letter presented as a "bank letter" but penned by an attorney for Cobby Pourtavosi and Shadi Aslemand, and not by a bank or other financial institution.[43] The letter explains that {[

13. The Entities did not substantiate their claim of adequate post-transaction funds or provide a direct connection between Insight's or Insight's owner's financial resources and the post-transaction financial capability of Tempo under the ownership of Insight. The "bank letter" did not specify what portion of funds would be devoted to Tempo and its operations in Lifeline post-acquisition. The "bank letter" states that {[

]}[45] Based on the information in this letter, it appears that Insight is not 100% owned by Shadi Aslemand as was claimed in the Third Amended Compliance Plan,[46] but potentially by multiple persons and entities. The conflicting information and lack of clarity surrounding the Entities' financial status fall well short of the assurances needed for the Bureau to deem an entity financially capable to participate in the Lifeline program and able to withstand a potential lapse in Lifeline program support.

14. Technical Capability. We also find that the Entities have failed to demonstrate that Tempo, under the ownership of Insight, has the technical capability to properly comply with the Commission's rules and its public interest obligations as a Lifeline service provider.

15. As described above, Tempo has operated as a wireless reseller since 2012 and has been providing Lifeline services since 2013.[47] Insight Mobile holds international Section 214 authority from the Commission to provide global facilities-based and resale service, but is not providing telecommunications services.[48] As Insight is currently providing no telecommunications services, it is unclear that Insight demonstrates necessary technical capabilities.

16. Tempo presents a plan under which Insight's management team would lead Tempo after the acquisition.[49] By Insight's own admission in the Third Amended Compliance Plan, this is the same management team that is responsible for Excess. Insight claims that its management team, "through its experience with Excess Telecom, is knowledgeable about compliance with the Commission's rules governing low-income programs."[50] Insight and Excess share the same owners,[51] Chief Operations Officer, Chief Compliance Officer and Vice President, Operations.[52]

17. This plan, however, is a concern for the Bureau because Excess had significant compliance issues in ACP.[53] Excess's former operations in the ACP and the predecessor Emergency Broadband Benefit (EBB) program raise concerns about its ability to operate in accordance with the program integrity rules of the Lifeline program.[54] In August 2022, the FCC's Office of Inspector General (OIG) presented an EBB and ACP provider that was later confirmed to be Excess with an analysis of its claims data that raised serious questions regarding Excess' compliance with EBB and ACP usage requirements.[55] OIG requested that the provider demonstrate that it was compliant with those rules.[56] After investigating, the provider disclosed to OIG that it improperly implemented the usage requirements, made improper enrollments associated with the National School Lunch Program's Community Eligibility Provision, and failed to comply with its other compliance obligations.[57] All told, the provider "voluntarily repaid approximately $50 million," or approximately one-third, of the total EBB and ACP funds it received for service claims between June 2021 and July 2022.[58] It was later reported by the Wall Street Journal that "Excess Telecom voluntarily repaid $49.4 million that the inspector general said it had improperly claimed between June 2021 and July 2022, which matches the time frame of improper claims and amount repaid identified in the FCC-OIG ACP Advisory."[59] An acquisition by Insight with the same management as Excess, as proposed, would raise serious concerns about Tempo's technical capability of operating as a Lifeline service provider in accordance with the Commission's rules. The Bureau has not been provided anything that diminishes those concerns.

18. In the instant matter, we find that the Entities have not presented information sufficient to allow the Bureau to approve Tempo's Third Amended Compliance Plan. We did not receive information demonstrating the companies' requisite financial or technical capabilities. Today's action does not impact Tempo's currently approved Lifeline compliance plan provided that the acquisition by Insight does not proceed.[60]

ORDER

By the Acting Chief, Enforcement Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. By this Order, the Enforcement Bureau (Bureau) of the Federal Communications Commission (Commission or FCC) removes the certification of chase tech llc (chase tech or Company) from the Robocall Mitigation Database (RMD). The Company's RMD certification was found to contain false information regarding the Company as it submitted personal identification information (PII) of an individual who is unaffiliated with the Company, thus making the certification deficient under the Commission's rules. The Bureau notified the Company of this deficiency on April 14, 2025, and provided the Company an opportunity to cure the deficiency or explain why the Bureau should not remove the Company's certification from the RMD.[1] The Company failed to do either. Removal of a Company's certification from the RMD requires all intermediate providers and voice service providers to cease accepting all calls directly from the Company.[2] Furthermore, the Company shall not re-file an RMD certification without the prior approval of the FCC's Wireline Competition Bureau (WCB) and the Bureau.

II. BACKGROUND

2. The FCC established the RMD in 2020 to promote transparency and effective robocall mitigation.[3] On March 16, 2023, the Commission adopted amendments to section 64.6305 of its rules in the Sixth Caller ID Authentication Order that enhanced the information requirements for RMD certifications.[4] This rule amendment took effect on February 26, 2024, and required all existing filers to update their RMD certifications to provide the newly-required information and newly-required or updated robocall mitigation plans by that same date.[5]

3. Under the amended rule, voice service providers, gateway providers, and non-gateway intermediate providers[6] must submit several pieces of information in their RMD certifications, such as the provider's business name, address, and other identifying information, including contact information for a person responsible for addressing robocall mitigation-related issues, and its principals, affiliates, subsidiaries, and parent companies.[7] The Commission's rules require an officer of the provider filing a certification in the RMD to declare, under penalty of perjury, that the information included in the certification is true and correct.[8] The submission of false or inaccurate information makes a certification deficient and may result in an enforcement action against the filer.[9]

4. The Bureau may remove a certification from the RMD that is deficient.[10] Moreover, where a violation of section 64.6305 of the Commission's rules is willful, the deficient certification may be removed from the RMD under a two-step expedited procedure.[11] First, the Bureau issues a notice to the provider informing it that its certification is deficient and represents a willful violation, explains the nature of the deficiency and the willful violation, and allows 10 days for the provider to cure the deficiency or explain why its certification is not deficient.[12] Second, if the provider fails to cure or establish that there is no deficiency within the 10-day period, the Bureau releases an order removing the provider's certification from the Robocall Mitigation Database.[13]

5. Chase tech submitted its RMD certification on November 11, 2024.[14] The Bureau's investigation determined that the Company's RMD certification was deficient because it contained false certification data. Specifically, the Company used the PII of an individual who is unaffiliated with the Company in the following fields: business address, robocall mitigation contact name, contact business address, and contact telephone number.[15] WCB has removed the unauthorized PII from the Company's certification,[16] but the certification continues to be deficient because the Company has not submitted any accurate information in those four required fields in response to the RMD Notice.[17]

6. On April 14, 2025, the Bureau sent a RMD Notice requiring chase tech, within 10 days of the date of the Notice, to cure its deficiency and notify the Bureau of the same, or inform the Bureau why it should not be removed from the RMD.[18] Accordingly, the deadline to comply with the RMD Notice was April 24, 2025. The Company failed to cure the deficiency within the 10-day cure period, and it still has not cured the deficiency as of the date of this Order.

III. DISCUSSION

A. The Company's RMD Certification Is Deficient and Will Be Removed

7. The Commission finds that the Company has a deficient RMD certification because it failed to submit truthful and accurate information in its certification. The Company submitted false certification contained PII belonging to an individual unaffiliated with the Company in the following fields: business address, robocall mitigation contact name, contact business address, and contact telephone number.[19] We also find that the Company's submission of the PII of an individual who is unaffiliated with the Company in the Company's RMD certification constitutes a willful violation of section 64.6305. As noted above, the relevant PII of this individual was extensive and included the person's name, address, and phone number. Erroneously entering this kind of personal information into multiple fields in the RMD, and then certifying upon penalty of perjury that this information is accurate, can only be viewed as willful behavior because, at the very least, it evinces a careless disregard of the obligation to populate the RMD with accurate information, as required by our rules. Furthermore, despite a notification from the Bureau that the Company's certification was deficient and represented a willful violation, and a final opportunity to cure the deficiency or explain why the Company should not be removed,[20] the Company failed to respond or cure the deficiency. Therefore, the Company's RMD certification warrants removal.

8. We remove the Company's certifications from the RMD as of the release date of this Order. Once removed, all intermediate providers and voice service providers must cease accepting

Reply Comments Due: October 3, 2025

By this Public Notice, the Wireline Competition Bureau seeks comment from interested parties on an application filed by Winn Telephone Company d/b/a Winn Telecom (Winn) and BW Broadband, Inc. (BW Broadband) (together, Applicants), pursuant to section 214(a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and section 63.04 of the Commission's rules,[1] requesting Commission consent for the acquisition of certain assets of Winn by BW Broadband.[2]

Winn, a Michigan corporation, provides service as an incumbent local exchange carrier (LEC) in the Winn exchange located in the Townships of Deerfield and Freemont, Isabella County, Michigan (Winn Exchange) and provides competitive LEC services in multiple other Michigan exchanges outside the Winn Exchange.[3]

BW Broadband, a Michigan corporation formed for the purposes of the proposed transaction, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Blanchard Telephone Association, Inc. (Blanchard),[4] a Michigan holding company that also wholly owns: (i) Blanchard Telephone Company (Blanchard Telephone), a Michigan corporation, providing service as a rural incumbent LEC in the Blanchard exchange in Broomfield and

On August 18, 2025, Applicants filed a supplement to their domestic section 214 application. Letter from Michael G. Olivia, Counsel to the Applicants, to Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary, FCC, WC Docket No. 25-236 (filed. Aug. 18, 2025) (Supplement). Any action on the Application is without prejudice to Commission action on other related, pending applications.

Applicants state that Winn has a license to provide local exchange service to all zones and exchange areas in the state of Michigan but does not offer service in all the areas in which it is licensed to provide such service. Id. at 2. Applicants also report that Winn currently provides LEC services as an incumbent LEC or competitive LEC to residential and business customers in 67 Michigan exchanges, including operating as a competitive LEC in the Blanchard exchange, and that the proposed transaction will not impact Winn's current service in the other exchanges. Id. at 7. Applicants state that while Winn is licensed as a competitive LEC in the Blanchard exchange of Blanchart Telephone, there is "no material overlap" in any of the service areas of Winn and Blanchard, as Blanchard operates exclusively in its own exchange. Id. at 4.

Rolland Townships, Isabella County, and Millbrook and Wheatland Townships, Mecosta County, Michigan;[5] and (ii) Central Michigan Communication Inc., which provides long distance and communications resale service to Blanchard Telephone.[6] Applicants state that the Winn exchange in which Winn provides incumbent LEC service is adjacent to the Blanchard Exchange in which Blanchard Telephone provides incumbent LEC service.[7]

Applicants report that Winn receives legacy cost-based-support and Lifeline support, and that prior to completing this transaction, they intend to ensure that BW Broadband will become eligible to receive such support after the closing of the proposed transaction and pursuant to all required regulatory approvals by the Commission and the Michigan Public Service Commission.[8]

Pursuant to the terms of the proposed transaction, Blanchard would acquire the assets of Winn that are utilized to provide Winn's incumbent LEC operations within the Winn Exchange.[9] Applicants state that, post-consummation, Winn would then cease providing local exchange service in the Winn exchange, and BW Broadband will become the incumbent LEC in the Winn exchange, as the successor to Winn.[10]

Applicants assert that a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity.[11] Because of the adjacency Applicants have identified between their incumbent LEC service areas, the proposed transaction does not qualify for presumptive streamlined treatment under the Commission's rules, and we accept the Application for non-streamlined processing.[12]

PUBLIC SAFETY AND HOMELAND SECURITY BUREAU AND WIRELESS TELECOMMUNICATIONS BUREAU SEEK COMMENT ON SAFER BUILDINGS COALITION PETITION FOR RULEMAKING ON PART 90 SIGNAL BOOSTERS

RM-12009

Comments Due: October 16, 2025
Reply Comments Due: October 31, 2025

The Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau and Wireless Telecommunications Bureau (collectively, the Bureaus) seek comment on a Petition for Rulemaking filed by the Safer Buildings Coalition (SBC). SBC requests the Commission revise section 90.219 of its rules to update and modify the regulatory framework for deployment of industrial signal boosters under Part 90 of the Commission's rules.[1]

SBC Proposed Rule Changes

The SBC notes that Part 90 signal boosters play a crucial role in mitigating "wireless dead zones" inside "buildings, tunnels and other areas" where critical public safety radio communications would "normally be blocked."[2] It states, however, that the "regulatory framework established in 2013" for industrial signal boosters "left significant implementation gaps."[3] The SBC believes those regulatory gaps have led to "poorly deployed or designed signal booster systems" that now cause "critical problems that directly impact public safety operations and first responder safety."[4]

Specifically, the SBC submits that while section 90.219 requires signal booster operators to obtain "express consent" from the licensee of the frequencies the booster is intended to re-transmit, the

[1] The Safer Buildings Coalition Petition for Rulemaking (filed Jul. 22, 2025) (Petition) citing 47 CFR § 90.219 (specifying technical and operational rules for use of signal boosters in the Private Land Mobile Radio Services). See also 47 CFR § 90.7 (defining a signal booster as a "device at a fixed location which automatically receives, amplifies, and retransmits on a one-way or two-way basis, the signals received from base, fixed, mobile, and portable stations, with no change in frequency or authorized bandwidth").

[2] Petition at 5 citing Amendment of Parts 1, 2, 22, 24, 27, 90 and 95 of the Commission's Rules to Improve Wireless Coverage Through the Use of Signal Boosters, Report and Order, 28 FCC Rcd 1663 (2013). The SBC notes that "[w]hile signal boosters are not the only possible solution for correcting poor public safety communications coverage inside buildings, they do play an essential role and are likely to continue doing so for the foreseeable future." Id. at 5.

[3] Id. at 6.

[4] Id. The SBC states its "[r]oot cause analysis reveals three primary categories of problems requiring immediate attention" including: (1) "Failure of System Installers and Designers to Follow FCC Rules," (2) "Lack of RF Design and Installation Competency," and (3) "Regulatory Framework Gaps from 2013 Rulemaking." Id.

rule "provides no specific guidelines for how consent is requested, granted, or tracked."[5] The SBC thus proposes the Commission modify section 90.219 to establish a "structured authorization framework using proven frequency coordination precedents to establish clear procedures for requesting, evaluating, granting, and tracking rebroadcast consent while maintaining frequency licensee control over their spectrum rights."[6] The SBC also proposes the Commission modify section 90.219 to require signal booster operators to register both Class A and Class B signal boosters in a registration database managed by the Commission, and update the requirements for manufacturer labeling of Part 90 signal booster devices.[7]

The Bureaus Seek Comment on SBC Petition

We seek comment on the SBC's Petition and its proposed rule changes. In particular, we seek comment on whether parties agree with the SBC that improperly deployed signal boosters cause interference to public safety radio communications and whether the problem is as pervasive as SBC claims.[8] If so, we seek comment on the extent parties believe SBC's proposed revisions to section 90.219 of the Commission's rules will address the problem.

We also seek comment on whether alternative solutions, beyond what SBC proposes, exist to address interference from improperly deployed signal boosters. For instance, we seek comment on whether the Commission's rules should require part 90 signal boosters to have a self-monitoring capability and automatically shut down if the device detects that its improperly installed. We note that the Commission has similar rules for consumer signal boosters designed to operate on commercial wireless spectrum.[9]

Interested parties may file comments on or before October 16, 2025. Interested parties may file replies on or before October 31, 2025.

Ex Parte Rules

Ex Parte Rules. The proceeding shall be treated as a "permit-but-disclose" proceeding in accordance with the Commission's ex parte rules. Persons making ex parte presentations must file a copy of any written presentation or a memorandum summarizing any oral presentation within two business days after the presentation (unless a different deadline applicable to the Sunshine period applies). [6] Petition at 4. The SBC says that the lack of formal guidelines in the Commission's rules "severely impacts the ability of frequency licensees to 'maintain a reasonable level of control over these [signal booster] operations in order to resolve interference problems'[] as contemplated by the Commission's 2013 framework." Id. at 6.

By the Chief, Video Division, Media Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The Video Division, Media Bureau (Bureau), has before it a petition for rulemaking (Petition), as amended, by Kansas Public Telecommunications Service, Inc. (Kansas Public or Licensee), the licensee of noncommercial educational PBS member television station KPTS(TV) (KPTS or Station), channel *8, Hutchinson, Kansas (Hutchinson).[1] Kansas Public requests that the Bureau substitute channel *33 for channel *8 in the Table,[2] with the technical parameters specified in the Petition.

II. BACKGROUND

2. In support of its channel substitution request, the Petitioner asserts that allowing the Station to move from a VHF to a UHF channel would serve the public interest by improving signal reception for viewers.[3] According to the Petitioner, KPTS, as a VHF station, has had "a long history" of viewer reception issues following its digital conversion.[4] In support, the Petitioner observes that the Commission has recognized that "'VHF channels have certain characteristics that have posed challenges for their use in providing digital television service,' including 'propagation characteristics of these channels [that] allow undesired signals and noise to be receivable at relatively farther distances.'"[5] Additionally, the Petitioner notes that the Commission has observed "'large variability in the performance (especially intrinsic gain) of indoor antennas available to consumers, with most antennas receiving fairly well at UHF and the substantial majority not so well to very poor at high-VHF.'"[6]

3. An engineering statement provided by the Petitioner confirms that the proposed channel *33 contour would provide full principal community coverage to Hutchinson.[7] The proposed move to channel *33 from channel *8 is not predicted to create a loss of service to any viewers.[8] In fact, the Petition supports a finding that the proposed channel change is predicted to result in service to more viewers, both through better signal quality and an expanded coverage area.[9] Petitioner's engineering statement also confirms that the proposed channel substitution contour would not cause impermissible interference to any other licensed facilities.[10] The proposed channel *33 facility would remain at its licensed transmission site and operate at an effective radiated power of 1000 kW and height above average terrain (HAAT) of 244 meters.[11]

III. DISCUSSION

4. We believe that the Petitioner's channel substitution proposal for KPTS warrants consideration. KPTS is currently operating on channel *8 and the substitution of channel *33 for channel *8 in the Table will allow the Station to improve its over-the-air reception within its coverage area and is not predicted to result in viewer loss. We believe channel *33 can be substituted for channel *8 at Hutchinson as proposed, in compliance with the principal community coverage requirements of section 73.618(a) of the Commission's rules (Rules),[12] at coordinates 38-03'-21.4" N. and 97-46'-36.1" W. In addition, we find that this channel change meets the technical requirements set forth in section 73.622(a) of the Rules.[13]

5. We propose to substitute channel *33 for channel *8 for KPTS at Hutchinson with the following specifications:

| City and State | DTV Channel | DTV Power (kW) | Antenna HAAT (m) |

6. Accordingly, we seek comment on the proposed amendment of the Table of TV Allotments, section 73.622(j) of the Rules,[14] for the community listed below, to read as follows:

| | Channel No. | |
|---|---|---|
| City and State | Present | Proposed |
| Hutchinson, Kansas | *8, 19, 35 | 19, *33, 35 |

IV. PROCEDURAL MATTERS

7. Showings Required. Comments are invited on the proposal discussed in this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM). The Petitioner or any proponent that expresses interest in the allotment will be expected to answer whatever questions are presented in initial comments. The petitioner of a proposed allotment is required to file comments even if it only resubmits or incorporates by reference its former pleadings. The petitioner must restate its present intention to apply for the channel if it is allotted

By the Chief, Video Division, Media Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The Video Division, Media Bureau (Bureau), has before it a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM)[1] issued in response to a Petition for Rulemaking filed by theDove Media, Inc. (TDM or Petitioner),[2] the permittee of a new NCE television station to serve Jacksonville, Oregon (Jacksonville), with Facility ID No. 791569 (Station).[3] Petitioner requests that the Bureau substitute channel *24 for channel *4 at Jacksonville in the Table of TV Allotments (Table) of the Commission's rules (Rules),[4] with the technical parameters specified in the Petition. TDM filed comments in support of the Petition, stating its intention to apply for a construction permit for channel *24, and if authorized, to promptly construct the facility.[5] No other comments were received. For the reasons below, we conclude that the public interest would be served by substituting channel *24 for channel *4 at Jacksonville.

[1] Amendment of Section 73.622(j), Table of TV Allotments, Television Broadcast Stations (Jacksonville, Oregon), MB Docket No. 25-215, Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, DA 25-583 (MB July 8, 2025) (NPRM).

[2] Petition of theDove Media, Inc., LMS File No. 0000270072 (filed Apr. 30, 2025, as amended on May 16, 2025) (Petition). The Petitioner amended its Petition to correct the authorized and proposed latitude listed in the engineering exhibit. Allotments in the Table of TV Allotments designated by an asterisk (*) are reserved for noncommercial educational (NCE) use. 47 CFR § 73.622(a).

II. BACKGROUND

2. In support of its channel substitution request,[6] the Petitioner asserts in its Petition and in comments that the proposed channel substitution will serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity because it will enable the Station to provide a more robust over-the-air signal while avoiding the well-documented indoor reception issues with digital VHF stations.[7] The Petitioner states that the Commission has recognized that VHF channels have certain characteristics that pose challenges for their use in providing digital television service, including propagation characteristics that allow undesired signals and noise to be receivable at relatively farther distances.[8] Additionally, the Petitioner notes that the Commission has observed "large variability in the performance (especially intrinsic gain) of indoor antennas available to consumers, with most antennas receiving fairly well at UHF and the substantial majority not so well to very poor at high-VHF."[9]

3. An engineering statement provided by the Petitioner states that the proposed channel *24 contour would provide full principal community coverage to Jacksonville.[10] The Petitioner's engineering statement confirms that the proposed channel substitution contour would not cause impermissible interference to any other full-power and Class A television facilities[11] and because the Station is unbuilt, there would be no loss of existing television service to the public.[12] Furthermore, the proposed channel *24 facility would remain at the transmission site

[6] The Petitioner makes several claims in its Petition, including that the channel substitution is permissible (1) "under the Commission's intraband television channel exchanges policy;" (2) "because this proposal is for an exchange rather than deletion of a channel reservation, the Commission's policy disfavoring dereservation of noncommercial educational stations would not be implicated;" and (3) "because this proposal seeks an exchange for a vacant commercial channel and there is no existing commercial station licensee to jointly petition, section 1.420(h) of the Commission's rules is inapposite." Petition at 2. As we stated in the NPRM, we find that these additional arguments are not relevant to the request or our conclusions. NPRM at n.4. The Petitioner does not refute this position in its comments, and, as a result, we decline to address them.

[8] NPRM at para. 2; Petition at 4, citing Innovation in the Broadcast Television Bands: Allocations, Channel Sharing and Improvements to VHF, ET Docket No. 10-235, Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 25 FCC Rcd 16498, 16511, para. 42 (2010) (Channel Sharing NPRM).

[10] NPRM at para. 3; Petition, Engineering Statement at 2; TDM Comments at 2.

[11] NPRM at para. 3; Petition, Engineering Statement at 2-3. The Petitioner acknowledges that the proposed channel substitution will displace low-power television station KDSO-LD, Medford, Oregon (Facility ID 125327). The Petitioner states that KDSO-LD is licensed to TDM and carries the programming to be aired on the new Station, and, therefore, its displacement would present no loss in service to the public. NPRM at n.9; Petition at 5. We note that as a secondary station KDSO-LD is not eligible for protection and whether it is displaced is not pertinent to our analysis.

specified in its CP and proposes to operate at an effective radiated power of 6 kW and height above average terrain (HAAT) of 413 meters.[13]

III. DISCUSSION

4. We find that channel *24 can be substituted for channel *4 at Jacksonville, as proposed, in compliance with the principal community coverage requirements of section 73.618 of the Rules,[14] at coordinates 42-17-51.4" N+ and 122-45-04.1" W-. In addition, we find that this channel substitution meets the technical requirements set forth in section 73.622(a) of the Rules.[15] Further, we find that the substitution of channel *24 for channel *4 in the Table will allow Petitioner to construct its new facility on a UHF channel and avoid the known viewer reception issues on its currently authorized VHF channel. Because this is a new, unbuilt facility, the change in channel will not result in any viewer loss. Accordingly, we conclude it is in the public interest to substitute channel *24 for channel *4 with the following specifications:

| City and State | Channel | Power (kW) | Antenna HAAT (m) | Service Pop. |
| Jacksonville, Oregon | *24 | 6 | 413 | 315,258 |

5. We also conclude that good cause exists to make this channel change effective immediately upon publication in the Federal Register, pursuant to section 553(d)(3) of the Administrative Procedure Act.[16] An expedited effective date is necessary in this case to ensure that TDM can commence operatation of the new station as quickly as possible.[17]

IV. PROCEDURAL MATTERS

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority contained in sections 4(i), 5(c)(1), 303(g), (r) and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 154(i), 155(c)(1), 303(g), (r), and 307(b), and sections 0.61, 0.204(b), and 0.283 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR §§ 0.61, 0.204(b), and 0.283, IT IS ORDERED that, effective immediately upon the date of publication in the Federal Register, the Table of TV Allotments, section 73.622(j) of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 73.622(j), IS AMENDED, with respect to the community listed below, to read as follows:

Reply Comments Due: October 31, 2025

The Wireline Competition Bureau seeks comment on a Petition for Declaratory Ruling filed by Far Homes, Inc. d/b/a Tin Can (Tin Can).[1] In its Petition, Tin Can requests that the Federal Communications Commission (Commission) declare that, "for purposes of the Commission's rules, Tin Can's service providing restricted access to whitelisted contacts through the Public Switched Telephone Network ('PSTN')" does not constitute interconnected Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) for purposes of the applicability of "VoIP-related provisions of Title II of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended."[2] In the alternative, if the Commission determines that Tin Can services do constitute interconnected VoIP, Tin Can requests that that Commission waive regulatory requirements applicable to interconnected VoIP services for Tin Can's service for good cause shown.[3] In its Petition, Tin Can "commits to voluntarily complying with the Commission's requirements applicable to VoIP providers for 911 and E911 functionality for its restricted whitelisted offering."[4]

II. BACKGROUND

3. Legal Framework. All telecommunications carriers providing interstate telecommunications services and certain providers of interstate telecommunications (collectively, Service Providers), with certain exceptions, are required to file annually an FCC Form 499-A, also known as the Annual Worksheet,[2] and file quarterly an FCC Form 499-Q, also known as the Quarterly Worksheet.[3] A Service Provider must timely file Quarterly Worksheets by February 1, May 1, August 1, and November 1 of each year, and Annual Worksheets by April 1 of each year.[4]

[4] See, e.g., 2024 Annual Worksheet Instructions at Attachs. B, D. If a deadline falls on a weekend or holiday, the deadline is extended to the following business day. See Universal Service Administrative Co., When to File –

4. The Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC), as the Commission's administrator of the USF, uses the revenue projections submitted in the Quarterly Worksheets to determine and invoice each Service Provider's monthly universal service contribution obligation to the USF.[5] The TRS Fund administrator, Rolka Loube, LLC (Rolka Loube), uses Annual Worksheet filings to determine each Service Provider's annual or monthly TRS Fund contribution amounts.[6] The NANP administrator's billing and collection agent, Welch LLP (Welch), and the local number portability (LNP) administrator, Telcordia Technologies, Inc. d/b/a iconectiv (iconectiv), respectively, use Annual Worksheet filings to determine Service Providers' required payments for NANP and LNP administration.[7] Further, the Commission implemented rules for annual regulatory fees for regulated entities which must pay regulatory fees based on interstate and international end-user revenues as reported in Annual Worksheets.[8]

5. Because USAC, Rolka Loube, iconectiv, Welch, and the Commission rely on Worksheets to determine respective payment requirements for administration of the USF, TRS Fund, LNP, NANP, and federal regulatory fees, the accuracy and timeliness of Worksheet filings are vital. Service Providers that do not timely submit accurate Worksheets or otherwise fail to make contributions in a full and timely manner obtain an unfair competitive advantage over other Service Providers that do comply with the reporting provisions of the Commission's rules, and fully pay USF, TRS Fund, LNP, NANP, and federal regulatory fee assessments as required under the Commission's Rules.

6. Regulated entities doing business with the Commission must also maintain information in CORES.[9] The Commission's rules provide that any person doing business with the Commission must obtain a unique 10-digit FRN.[10] When registering for an FRN, an entity's name, entity type, contact name and title, address, valid email address, and taxpayer identification number must be provided.[11] Information provided when registering for an FRN must be kept current.[12] Accurate information in CORES allows Commission staff to contact regulated entities quickly without wasting valuable resources[13] and facilitates efficient recordkeeping, management of financial systems and reporting requirements, and debt collection by the Commission.[14]

7. Factual Background. VHC is a company incorporated in Delaware as of May 17, 2000. VHC wholly owns three subsidiaries that conduct business in the United States and each were incorporated in Delaware – VBI, Vonage America LLC, and Vonage Worldwide Inc. On September 22,

2023, USAC referred VHC to the Bureau for Worksheet violations. On November 16, 2023, the Bureau issued a Letter of Inquiry (LOI) to VHC concerning its and its subsidiaries' compliance with the Act and the Commission's rules. On January 31, 2024, VHC responded to the LOI. On February 29, 2024, the Bureau requested additional information concerning VBI. On March 8, 2024, VHC provided a supplemental LOI response. In addition, VHC subsequently disclosed as part of the Investigation potential late payment violations related to VBI and potential non-payment and Worksheet violations, some of which related to Nexmo Inc., a Delaware corporation that was merged into VBI on December 31, 2021.

8. Between February 1, 2018, and April 1, 2024, VHC and VBI did not file or did not timely file certain of their respective Quarterly and/or Annual Worksheets. During that time, VHC and VBI, respectively, committed at least 28 Worksheet violations, which included 14 untimely Quarterly Worksheets, 7 untimely Annual Worksheets, and 7 Quarterly Worksheets not filed. Additionally, on July 24, 2006, VHC registered for FRN 0015311582. FRN 0015311582 is the FRN used on VHC's Worksheets. VHC did not maintain current information for this FRN.

9. Between 2020 and 2023, VHC submitted inaccurate Annual Worksheets. In July 2024, VHC submitted revised Annual Worksheets. As a result, the administrators of the USF, NANP, and the TRS Fund as well as the Commission's Office of Managing Director (OMD) determined that VHC underpaid its contributions to the USF, assessments for administration of the NANP, contributions to the TRS Fund, and federal regulatory fees, respectively. Specifically, USAC determined that the Company failed to pay its USF contributions in a full and timely manner between 2020 to 2023. USAC assessed a true-up in the amount of $3,016,497.85. Welch determined that the Company failed to pay its NANP assessments in a full and timely manner between 2020 through 2023 and assessed a total true-up of $4,749.12. Rolka Loube determined that the Company failed to pay its TRS Fund contributions in a full and timely manner for the plan years 2020/2021 through 2023/2024 and assessed a total true-up of $1,109,047.08. OMD determined that the Company failed to pay its federal regulatory fees for Fiscal Years 2020 through 2023 in a full and timely manner and assessed a total true-up of $270,347.91. VHC timely paid its true-up assessments.

10. To settle this matter, the Bureau and VHC enter into this Consent Decree and agree to the following terms and conditions.

23. Interest, Charges for Collection, and Acceleration of Maturity Date. After an Event of Default has occurred under this Consent Decree, the then unpaid amount of the Settlement Payment shall accrue interest, computed using the U.S. Prime Rate in effect on the date of the Event of Default plus 4.75%, from the date of the Event of Default until payment in full. 25. Severability. The Parties agree that if any of the provisions of the Consent Decree shall be held unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, such unenforceability shall not render unenforceable the entire Consent Decree, but rather the entire Consent Decree shall be construed as if not containing the particular unenforceable provision or provisions, and the rights and obligations of the Parties shall be construed and enforced accordingly.

26. Invalidity. In the event that this Consent Decree in its entirety is rendered invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, it shall become null and void and may not be used in any manner in any legal proceeding.

27. Subsequent Rule or Order. 28. Successors and Assigns. The Company agrees that the provisions of this Consent Decree shall be binding on its successors, assigns, and transferees.

29. Final Settlement. The Parties agree and acknowledge that this Consent Decree shall constitute a final settlement between the Parties with respect to the Investigation.

II. BACKGROUND

3. Legal Framework. All telecommunications carriers providing interstate telecommunications services and certain providers of interstate telecommunications (collectively, Service Providers), with certain exceptions, are required to file annually an FCC Form 499-A, also known as the Annual Worksheet,[2] and file quarterly an FCC Form 499-Q, also known as the Quarterly Worksheet.[3] A Service Provider must timely file Quarterly Worksheets by February 1, May 1, August 1, and November 1 of each year, and Annual Worksheets by April 1 of each year.[4]

[4] See, e.g., 2024 Annual Worksheet Instructions at Attachs. B, D. If a deadline falls on a weekend or holiday, the deadline is extended to the following business day. See Universal Service Administrative Co., When to File –

4. The Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC), as the Commission's administrator of the USF, uses the revenue projections submitted in the Quarterly Worksheets to determine and invoice each Service Provider's monthly universal service contribution obligation to the USF.[5] The TRS Fund administrator, Rolka Loube, LLC (Rolka Loube), uses Annual Worksheet filings to determine each Service Provider's annual or monthly TRS Fund contribution amounts.[6] The NANP administrator's billing and collection agent, Welch LLP (Welch), and the local number portability (LNP) administrator, Telcordia Technologies, Inc. d/b/a iconectiv (iconectiv), respectively, use Annual Worksheet filings to determine Service Providers' required payments for NANP and LNP administration.[7] Further, the Commission implemented rules for annual regulatory fees for regulated entities which must pay regulatory fees based on interstate and international end-user revenues as reported in Annual Worksheets.[8]

5. Because USAC, Rolka Loube, iconectiv, Welch, and the Commission rely on Worksheets to determine respective payment requirements for administration of the USF, TRS Fund, LNP, NANP, and federal regulatory fees, the accuracy and timeliness of Worksheet filings are vital. Service Providers that do not timely submit accurate Worksheets or otherwise fail to make contributions in a full and timely manner obtain an unfair competitive advantage over other Service Providers that do comply with the reporting provisions of the Commission's rules, and fully pay USF, TRS Fund, LNP, NANP, and federal regulatory fee assessments as required under the Commission's Rules.

6. Regulated entities doing business with the Commission must also maintain information in CORES.[9] The Commission's rules provide that any person doing business with the Commission must obtain a unique 10-digit FRN.[10] When registering for an FRN, an entity's name, entity type, contact name and title, address, valid email address, and taxpayer identification number must be provided.[11] Information provided when registering for an FRN must be kept current.[12] Accurate information in CORES allows Commission staff to contact regulated entities quickly without wasting valuable resources[13] and facilitates efficient recordkeeping, management of financial systems and reporting requirements, and debt collection by the Commission.[14]

7. Factual Background. VHC is a company incorporated in Delaware as of May 17, 2000. VHC wholly owns three subsidiaries that conduct business in the United States and each were incorporated in Delaware – VBI, Vonage America LLC, and Vonage Worldwide Inc. On September 22,

2023, USAC referred VHC to the Bureau for Worksheet violations. On November 16, 2023, the Bureau issued a Letter of Inquiry (LOI) to VHC concerning its and its subsidiaries' compliance with the Act and the Commission's rules. On January 31, 2024, VHC responded to the LOI. On February 29, 2024, the Bureau requested additional information concerning VBI. On March 8, 2024, VHC provided a supplemental LOI response. In addition, VHC subsequently disclosed as part of the Investigation potential late payment violations related to VBI and potential non-payment and Worksheet violations, some of which related to Nexmo Inc., a Delaware corporation that was merged into VBI on December 31, 2021.

8. Between February 1, 2018, and April 1, 2024, VHC and VBI did not file or did not timely file certain of their respective Quarterly and/or Annual Worksheets. During that time, VHC and VBI, respectively, committed at least 28 Worksheet violations, which included 14 untimely Quarterly Worksheets, 7 untimely Annual Worksheets, and 7 Quarterly Worksheets not filed. Additionally, on July 24, 2006, VHC registered for FRN 0015311582. FRN 0015311582 is the FRN used on VHC's Worksheets. VHC did not maintain current information for this FRN.

9. Between 2020 and 2023, VHC submitted inaccurate Annual Worksheets. In July 2024, VHC submitted revised Annual Worksheets. As a result, the administrators of the USF, NANP, and the TRS Fund as well as the Commission's Office of Managing Director (OMD) determined that VHC underpaid its contributions to the USF, assessments for administration of the NANP, contributions to the TRS Fund, and federal regulatory fees, respectively. Specifically, USAC determined that the Company failed to pay its USF contributions in a full and timely manner between 2020 to 2023. USAC assessed a true-up in the amount of $3,016,497.85. Welch determined that the Company failed to pay its NANP assessments in a full and timely manner between 2020 through 2023 and assessed a total true-up of $4,749.12. Rolka Loube determined that the Company failed to pay its TRS Fund contributions in a full and timely manner for the plan years 2020/2021 through 2023/2024 and assessed a total true-up of $1,109,047.08. OMD determined that the Company failed to pay its federal regulatory fees for Fiscal Years 2020 through 2023 in a full and timely manner and assessed a total true-up of $270,347.91. VHC timely paid its true-up assessments.

10. To settle this matter, the Bureau and VHC enter into this Consent Decree and agree to the following terms and conditions.

ORDER

Adopted: September 18, 2025 Released: September 18, 2025

By the Chief, Policy and Licensing Division, Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we grant the County of Aroostook, Maine (Aroostook) a waiver of the eligibility requirements in Section 90.35(a) of the Commission's rules, to allow it to license a channel from the Industrial/Business (I/B) pool and use it for internal public safety and first responder communications.[1]

II. BACKGROUND

2. On March 4, 2025, Aroostook filed three applications seeking to license a VHF channel from the Industrial/Business (I/B) Pool and use it as a second channel for its fifteen site conventional private land mobile radio (PLMR) system.[2] In its waiver request, Aroostook states that its radio system is "vital to the safety of the citizens and First Responders in Aroostook County" but that the "infrastructure is End of Life."[3] Therefore, it seeks to replace its aging infrastructure with a new radio system but says that construction of the new system has been delayed "for more than two (2) years" due to a "lack of available frequencies."[4] Aroostook notes that, without a waiver, it will be "forced to sacrifice an entire channel at all our sites" thereby resulting in a "bottleneck" for radio communications throughout the county.[5]

[1] County of Aroostook, Application, Universal Licensing System (ULS) File nos. 0011470989, 0011471092, 0011471220 (received Mar. 4, 2025) (Aroostook Applications). See also Attachment to Aroostook Applications labeled "90.35 WAIVER" (attached Mar. 4, 2025) (Waiver Request);

[2] See Aroostook Applications. Specifically, Aroostook seeks to license I/B Pool frequency 150.950 MHz at all base station locations throughout its system licensed under call signs WSGX804, WRCF218 and KXB489. It also seeks to license its mobile units as well on frequency 150.950 MHz. See ULS File no. 0011471220.

[3] Waiver request at 1. See also Letter from Carol DiCaro, AFC Team Leader, APCO International, to the Federal Communications Commission at 1 (May 1, 2025) (APCO Supplemental Statement) (noting that Aroostook's radio system serves "a rural population of over 67,000 people" in a county spanning "over 6800 square miles in the Northern part of the State").

[4] Waiver request at 1. See also APCO Supplemental Statement at 1-2 (stating that Aroostook has "secured federal and local grant funding for a new County wide radio system, consisting of 15 fixed sites, which will service most of the populated areas of the County" but that Aroostook "must obligate their grant funding before the start of calendar year 2026").

[5] Waiver request at 1.

3. In support of its waiver request, Aroostook includes a letter from its Commission-certified frequency coordinator, the Association of Public Safety Communications Officials, International (APCO), confirming the lack of available Public Safety Pool VHF channels for Aroostook's proposed operation.[6] In a second letter, APCO states that it and Aroostook "conducted exhaustive frequency searches for public safety VHF channels north of Line A" but "[d]ue to the presence of the State of Maine's VHF trunking system and allocations to local government entities, there are no public safety (PW) frequencies available in the area."[7] Nonetheless, APCO indicates that I/B Pool frequency 150.950 MHz "cleared coordination with Canada… on [the] three pending [Aroostook] applications"[8]

4. Aroostook also includes a letter from a Commission-certified I/B Pool frequency coordinator, AAA, affirming that it concurs with Aroostook's proposal to license the I/B Pool frequency 150.950 MHz at all fifteen base station sites listed on Aroostook's applications as well as for associated mobile units.[9]

5. On June 27, 2025, the Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau (Bureau) released a public notice seeking comment on Aroostook's applications and waiver request.[10] In the public notice, the Bureau requested comment from any party that would be affected by Aroostook's proposed operation on the I/B Pool channel.[11] In a response to the public notice, the Enterprise Wireless Alliance (EWA) says it "supports the waiver request" from Aroostook and "supports all legitimate requests to use spectrum that otherwise is lying fallow when the applicant's requirements cannot be fulfilled with spectrum allocated for its use."[12]

III. DISCUSSION

6. To obtain a waiver of the Commission's rules, a petitioner must demonstrate either that (i) the underlying purpose of the rule(s) would not be served or would be frustrated by application to the present case, and that a grant of the waiver would be in the public interest;[13] or (ii) in view of unique or unusual factual circumstances of the instant case, application of the rule(s) would be inequitable, unduly burdensome, or contrary to the public interest, or the applicant has no reasonable alternative.[14] We conclude that Aroostook has demonstrated that its request should be granted under the second prong of the waiver standard.

7. Section 90.35(a) of the Commission rules limits eligibility for licensing channels from the I/B pool to entities performing commercial, educational, philanthropic or other business-related activities.[15] Absent the requested waiver, Aroostook, a public safety licensee, would be ineligible to license the requested I/B channel and use it for its internal public safety and first responder communications. APCO, on behalf of Aroostook, indicates that Aroostook intends to use the I/B Pool channel for dispatching services for the county sheriff and notes that the system will also be used for "needed interoperability with the Maine State Police and the United States Border Patrol."[16]

8. We find it persuasive that APCO certified that no additional PS Pool channels could be identified from the VHF band for the proposed system.[17] The Bureau has previously acknowledged the lack of available Public Safety Pool frequencies in the VHF band in Maine.[18] We also acknowledge the difficulty of identifying clear VHF channels in the coordination zone with Canada.[19] Bureau staff performed its own database search for licensees operating on Public Safety pool channels in and around Aroostook county and agrees that the VHF band is congested in this region.[20] Furthermore, Bureau staff finds it persuasive that Aroostook included a letter from a Commission-certified I/B pool frequency coordinator affirming their concurrence with Aroostook's proposal to license the I/B Pool channel listed on its applications.[21] We also note that EWA, the only party to respond Bureau's public notice, indicated that it supports Aroostook's waiver request.[22]

9. Consequently, in view of these circumstances, we find application of the eligibility requirements in Section 90.35(a) would be unduly burdensome because it would require Aroostook to identify a PS pool channel outside the VHF band for its conventional radio system and thereby lose the ability to interoperate with Maine State Police and the United States Border Patrol.[23] Moreover, we find it in the public interest for Aroostook to deploy a conventional PLMR system which will provide "dispatching services for the Sheriff's Office and several smaller Public Safety Departments" serving a "rural population of over 67,000 people."[24] Therefore, we grant Aroostook a waiver of the eligibility requirements in Section 90.35(a) of the Commission's rules and allow it to license the channel from the I/B pool it listed on its applications, and use it in its proposed conventional PLMR system for internal public safety and first responder communications.

[20] Bureau staff searched the ULS for PLMR stations licensed under the radio service codes PW (Public Safety Pool, Conventional) and YW (Public Safety Pool, Trunked) within 100 kilometers of the center of Aroostook County and found almost 200 active call signs licensed to operate on frequencies in the VHF band (150-170 MHz).

[22] EWA Letter at 1.

[23] See APCO Supplemental Statement at 1. See also e.g., State of Maine Order, 27 FCC Rcd 8894, para. 11 (stating that the Bureaus find it "unduly burdensome to require Maine to build a statewide radio system on frequency bands higher than the VHF band—where adequate radio coverage is difficult to achieve—solely to use frequencies from the Public Safety Pool").

[24] Waiver Request at 1.

10. Finally, we note that Aroostook will operate its conventional PLMR system on a shared basis on the I/B pool channel listed on its applications.[25] Aroostook therefore must accept any subsequent licensing of the I/B pool channels to licensees eligible in I/B service, which may require that it share the channels within its operating area consistent with the Commission's rules.[26]

IV. ORDERING CLAUSES

11. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that the waiver request associated with ULS File Nos. 0011470989, 0011471092, 0011471220 filed by the County of Aroostook, Maine pursuant to Section 1.925 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 1.925, IS GRANTED and the associated application SHALL BE PROCESSED accordingly.

12. This action is taken under delegated authority pursuant to Sections 0.191 and 0.392 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR §§ 0.191, 0.392.

For purposes of computation of time when filing a petition for reconsideration, application for review, or petition for judicial review of the Commission's decision(s), the date of "public notice" shall be the later of the auto grant date stated above in this Public Notice, or the release date(s) of any further public notice(s) or order(s) announcing final Commission action, as applicable. Should no petitions for reconsideration, applications for review, or petitions for judicial review be timely filed, the proceeding(s) listed in this Public Notice shall be terminated, and the docket(s) will be closed.

Comments objecting to the application listed in the Appendix must be filed with the Commission on or before October 3, 2025. Comments should refer to the specific WC Docket No. and Comp. Pol. File No. listed in the Appendix for the Section 214 Discontinuance Application. Comments should include specific information about the impact of the proposed discontinuance on the commenter, including any inability to acquire reasonable substitute service. Comments may be filed using the Commission's Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS). Electronic Filers: Comments may be filed electronically using the Internet by accessing the ECFS: https://www.fcc.gov/ecfs. Filers should follow the instructions provided on the Web site for submitting comments. Generally, only one copy of an electronic submission must be filed. In completing the transmittal screen, filers should include their full name, U.S. Postal Service mailing address, and the applicable docket number.

Paper Filers: Parties who choose to file by paper must file an original and one copy of each filing. Filings can be sent by hand or messenger delivery, by commercial courier, or by the U.S. Postal Service. All filings must be addressed to the Secretary, Federal Communications Commission. Hand-delivered or messenger-delivered paper filings for the Commission's Secretary are accepted between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. by the FCC's mailing contractor at 9050 Junction Drive, Annapolis Junction, MD 20701. All hand deliveries must be held together with rubber bands or fasteners. Any envelopes and boxes must be disposed of before entering the building. Commercial courier deliveries (any deliveries not by the U.S. Postal Service) must be sent to 9050 Junction Drive, Annapolis Junction, MD 20701. Filings sent by U.S. Postal Service First-Class Mail, Priority Mail, and Priority Mail Express must be sent to 45 L Street NE, Washington, DC 20554.

This proceeding shall be treated as a "permit-but-disclose" proceeding in accordance with the Commission's ex parte rules.[5] Persons making ex parte presentations must file a copy of any written presentation or a memorandum summarizing any oral presentation within two business days after the presentation (unless a different deadline applicable to the Sunshine period applies). Persons making oral ex parte presentations are reminded that memoranda summarizing the presentation must (1) list all persons attending or otherwise participating in the meeting at which the ex parte presentation was made, and (2) summarize all data presented and arguments made during the presentation. If the presentation consisted in whole or in part of the presentation of data or arguments already reflected in the presenter's written comments, memoranda or other filings in the proceeding, the presenter may provide citations to such data or arguments in his or her prior comments, memoranda, or other filings (specifying the relevant page and/or paragraph numbers where such data or arguments can be found) in lieu of summarizing them in the memorandum. Documents shown or given to Commission staff during ex parte meetings are deemed to be written ex parte presentations and must be filed consistent with rule 1.1206(b). In proceedings governed by rule 1.49(f) or for which the Commission has made available a method of electronic filing, written ex parte presentations and memoranda summarizing oral ex parte presentations, and all attachments thereto, must be filed through the electronic comment filing system available for that proceeding, and must be filed in their native format (e.g., .doc, .xml, .ppt, searchable .pdf). Participants in this proceeding should familiarize themselves with the Commission's ex parte rules.

People with Disabilities: To request materials in accessible formats for people with disabilities (braille, large print, electronic files, audio format), send an e-mail to fcc504@fcc.gov or call the Consumer & Governmental Affairs Bureau at 202-418-0530.

SPACE BUREAU RELEASES UPDATED LIST OF INCUMBENT EARTH STATIONS IN THE 4.0-4.2 GHZ BAND IN THE CONTIGUOUS UNITED STATES

GN Docket No. 20-305

With this Public Notice, the Space Bureau (the Bureau)[1] releases an updated list of those Fixed Satellite Service (FSS) earth stations in the 4.0-4.2 GHz band within the contiguous United States that the Bureau previously found satisfy the criteria to be classified as incumbent earth stations for purposes of the earlier 3.7-4.2 GHz band (C-band) transition,[2] which is now complete.[3] This updated list, which is current as of this public notice release date, reflects changes (in almost all cases, registration/ license surrenders or antenna removals) since the most recent version of the list of incumbent earth stations released on March 3, 2023.[4] The Bureau also is including a changelog to assist in the identification of changes made in the incumbent earth station list since the previous list.[5]

This updated list takes into account, among other things, filings made in the International Communications Filing System (ICFS) by earth station operators to update ICFS to remove inactive antennas, including responses filed in response to the Bureau's 90-Day Public Notices[6] identifying earth

[1] The Space Bureau officially launched on April 11, 2023. See Press Release, FCC Space Bureau & Office of International Affairs to Launch Next Week (rel. April 7, 2023). All references in this document to the International Bureau refer to filings made with, or actions taken by, the International Bureau prior to the establishment of the Space Bureau.

[2] See 47 CFR § 27.1411(b)(3); Expanding Flexible Use of the 3.7 to 4.2 GHz Band, GN Docket No. 18-122, Report and Order and Order of Proposed Modification, 35 FCC Rcd 2343 (2020) (3.7 GHz Report and Order).

[3] The practical work of the lower band transition was completed in 2023, and the relocation cost reimbursement program officially ended as of August 21, 2025. Wireless Telecommunications Bureau Announces Wind Down of the 3.7–4.2 GHz Relocation Payment Clearinghouse, GN Docket No. 18-122, WT Docket No. 21-333, Public Notice, DA 25-735 (WTB Aug. 21, 2025). The Commission has also initiated a Notice of Inquiry about making some or all of the 3.98–4.2 GHz portion of the band available for more intensive use. In the Matter of Upper C-band (3.98 to 4.2 GHz), Notice of Inquiry, FCC 25-13 (Feb. 28, 2025).

station antennas that are reportedly no longer operational or are not C-band antennas, or where the ICFS registration included over-registered C-band antennas.[7] Surrendered calls signs and inactive individual antennas closed in ICFS have been removed from the incumbent earth station list. The updated list also reflects a variety of changes to earth station registrations, including address or coordinate corrections, registration assignments, and other ministerial updates since release of the March 2023 Incumbent Earth Station List.

As a reminder, all incumbent earth stations that continue to operate in the 4.0-4.2 GHz band must maintain a valid, up-to-date registration in ICFS. For instance, incumbent earth station operators continue to be subject to the requirement under Commission rules of filing timely renewal applications when their authorizations are due to expire.[8] In addition, when incumbent earth station operators assign earth station antennas in transactions not requiring prior Commission approval, they are required under Commission rules to notify the Commission within 30 days of consummation of the assignment.[9] Finally, incumbent earth station operators who terminate operations in the 4.0-4.2 GHz band at one or more earth station antennas are required pursuant to the Commission's rules to notify the Commission when those earth station antennas are no longer operational.[10]

For ease of identification, the list of earth stations includes the following information from the ICFS database: (1) Licensee/Registrant/Applicant name; (2) Earth Station Callsign; (3) Site ID; (4) Antenna ID; (5) number of antennas/dishes associated with that Antenna ID; (6) site address; (7) GPS coordinates of the antenna; and (8) File Number(s) of current authorization and/or pending application.[11]

[7] Over-registered antennas in this context are C-band antennas that were included in an earth station registration application and granted in subsequent registration, but do not currently exist at the site. See May 2022 Public Notice, at 2. For instance, the antennas may never have been built.

[9] 47 CFR § 25.119(f). Timely notification of such assignments is particularly important for incumbent C-band earth stations to avoid possible denial of interference protection.

[11] Certain C-band certifications were timely filed in association with File Numbers that have since been superseded by later filings; in the list, those earth stations can be identified by the subsequent File Number. The status of an earth station antenna under the 3.7 GHz Report and Order pertains only to the reception of satellite transmissions on 3.7-4.2 GHz by fixed earth stations and transportable (temporary fixed) earth stations.

Updated Incumbent C-Band Earth Station List September 18, 2025 – Explanatory Notes

This Appendix is based on current information in ICFS as of September 18, 2025. The List represents staff determinations about which earth stations have satisfied the criteria for incumbent earth station status set forth in Expanding Flexible Use of the 3.7 to 4.2 GHz Band, Report and Order and Order of Proposed Modification, 35 FCC Rcd 2343, 2392, para. 116 (2020) (3.7 GHz Report and Order). This List relates only to operations in the 3700-4200 MHz band, and is limited to earth stations located in the contiguous United States, which may elect the lump sum option under the terms of the 3.7 GHz Report and Order. The machine-generated Changelogs show changes as compared with the October 8, 2021 List and March 14, 2022 List. To the extent there are discrepancies between this List and the Changelogs, the List is determinative.

ApplicantName – the name in IBFS of the Applicant in the case of a pending Application, or of the Licensee or Registrant in the case of a current authorization.

Callsign, FileNumber, & Filing State – the callsign that designates a particular authorization. The associated FileNumber identifies the Application that includes the details of the current authorization. Filing State is either "current" or "pending."

Red Light – as presented here, denotes presence of "red light" status if there is a pending Application affecting this Callsign subject to a "red light." Under its "red light" rules, the Commission may not grant license applications from Applicants who have outstanding debts to the U.S. Government. See 47 CFR § 1.1910(b)(2). The applicant is informed that action will be withheld on the application until full payment or arrangement to pay any non-tax delinquent debt owed to the Commission is made and/or that the application may be dismissed. Id. Normal practice regarding pending Applications from parties with "red light" issues is to include such Applications on Accepted for Filing Public Notices, but withhold grant of the application until the red light issue is resolved. This List follows that practice by including pending Applications that have satisfied the requirements for Incumbent Earth Station status, but marking those subject to the "red light" rules in the "Redlight" column. Any Commission action taken prior to the payment of delinquent non-tax debt owed to the Commission is contingent and subject to rescission. Id.

AppType & Accepted for Filing PN – AppTypes available in IBFS for this Band. The information included in IBFS for pending Modification applications (MOD & MFS) to current authorizations depends on the status of its review. If a pending Modification application has not been placed on Accepted for Filing Public Notice, the specific modifications requested are not reflected in IBFS in the MOD application but only in an Attachment to the Modification application. If a Modification application has been placed on Accepted for Filing Public Notice, the modifications requested are included in the IBFS data fields.

Class of Earth Station – which of the two classes of earth stations that may qualify for Incumbent status -- Fixed Earth Stations (FES) and Temporary Fixed Earth Stations (TFE).

SiteID – the designation by the Applicant of a particular site for the location of antennas under the specific Callsign.

AntennaID & Quantity – the designation by the Applicant of a particular antenna or antenna type. Often, an AntennaID represents a particular Manufacturer and Model of antenna – information that also is in IBFS. The quantity represents the number of antennas associated with that AntennaID at that site.

Site Address and GPS Coordinates – the address and the GPS coordinates of the particular SiteID.

"Callsign Removed" - includes both cases where Callsigns have been surrendered by the authorization holder and cases where Callsigns have been terminated by operation of DA 21-81, DA 21-893, or DA 21-1206.

"Callsign Added" - often reflects situations in which the authorization holder as of October 2021 has assigned a subset of existing incumbent earth station antennas under a single Callsign to a new authorization holder. Assignment applications in IBFS only apply to situations where all the antennas under a Callsign are being assigned. When an authorization holder is assigning only a subset of antennas, Commission staff has directed the assignor to file a MOD closing out those antennas from its Callsign and the assignee to file a new REG for those antennas, which will be carried under a new Callsign

"New FileNumber" - indicates that there is a new filing for that Callsign. If the new Filenumber is "current," it has become the current authorization - such as a renewal. If the new Filenumber is "pending," the details of that filing can be found, at a minimum, as an attachment to that filing in IBFS.
