Couldn't we just set up an Eventbrite page that we own the login to and then have POTUS, Don Jr, etc tweet it

Although last time Eventbrite shut down the page and emailed everyone that the event had been cancelled....

no worries lol i've been getting a lot of texts from cindy i think she's all bought into the new plan. should we start working ali today? at some point we should probably do a conference call with all three parties lol broker peace. the abraham accords part two

Agree re Ali

What are next steps here?

Today 11:29 PM

You'll get the wire transfer tomorrow at 10am. Once you receive it, take a taxi to union station and take the elevator bank to the left to floor 1. Take an immediate right and you'll see a door with the label "storage locker room A. Go inside and take an immediate left to locker 45. The code is [REDACTED]. Further instructions will be inside.

All of the events on #JAN6 are unifying (except one).

We will pool security resources and

On Wednesday, I will be hosting a have we thought about cyber security for the website? we should assume someone will attack it and A) try to crash it or B) steal the data C) both

We have not, any firm you'd recommend?

whoever built the page should be able to install the proper firmware to protect from attacks. we can also ask herndon or schatz to do it outside of the campaign.

That's like Sophie's choice I'm obsessed with both Herndon and schatz

Hawley Statement On Objecting During Electoral College Certification Process on Jan. 6

"Following both the 2004 and 2016 elections, Democrats in Congress objected during the certification of electoral votes in order to raise concerns about election integrity. They were praised by Democratic leadership and the media when they did. And they were entitled to do so. But now those of us concerned about the integrity of this election are entitled to do the same.

"I cannot vote to certify the electoral college results on January 6 without raising the fact that some states, particularly Pennsylvania, failed to follow their own state election laws. And I cannot vote to certify without pointing out the unprecedented effort of mega corporations, including Facebook and Twitter, to interfere in this election, in support of Joe Biden. At the very least, Congress should investigate allegations of voter fraud and adopt measures to secure the integrity of our elections. But Congress has so far failed to act.

"For these reasons, I will follow the same practice Democrat members of Congress have in years past and object during the certification process on January 6 to raise these critical issues."

Good morning,
 I got a call regarding some portable toilets that are being brought in today for the 6th. Somehow my name and number was given to them as a point of contact for set up. They're on their way to 16th and Constitution now and will need direction on placement.

Is the WH pissed

they're super happy with rally.

Ya I mean the rally was amazing

I'm convinced it was antifa that broke into the Capitol

i think that is a high possibility.

also why the fuckkkk doesn't the capitol have more industrial glass. these ppl broke single pane windows with a 2x4 lol how were they not prepared at all.

This is what I texted my mom lol

My takes:

1) the media and DC bubble consistently underestimate the anger that 74 million Americans feel in what was clearly a fraudulent election. If you truly believe the election was stolen, which millions do, then the question becomes, what wouldn't you do to fight for your country in the face of tyranny?

iMessage

your country in the face of tyranny?

2) 200,000+ people gathered in DC today for a highly publicized "March to Save America" that the DC police and national park service essentially ignored and believed "maybe 15,000" would show up. They were so unbelievably unprepared for this and it is shocking and horrifying. When BLM protested in DC, and a similar number of people showed up, they essentially had an entire militia guarding the Capitol. <https://twitter.com/oliviamunn/status/1346933669869481986?s=21>. But today, when they knew every MOC and the Vice President would be making a highly publicized vote in the Capitol while hundreds of thousands of people descended on the city, they had minimal Capitol police in place. It is truly shocking. Not to mention, WTF is this <https://twitter.com/jihanbit/status/1346909463660396550?s=21>.

Additionally, when Antifa and BLM organized protests vastly more violent and destructive than anything we saw today, Joe Biden and Kamala Harris helped to raise bail money for them. This is the necessary context in which to understand their selective moral indignation over today's events.

3) I was at the rally today and every single person I met was peaceful, families, pastors, mom, kids, etc. I am fairly convinced that the initial "siege" upon the Capitol was made by antifa dressed up as trump supporters to incite chaos and a media narrative. <https://twitter.com/jackposobiec/status/1346941059905978369?s=21>. But having said that, clearly several trump supporters followed them inside which was obviously wrong and they should be prosecuted for trespassing. But Capitol police shot and killed an unarmed 16 year old female trump supporter tonight. Where is the outrage about that? Can you imagine if they had shot an unarmed 16 year old African American at a BLM protest? The whole city would !be burning to the

4) the media will take this way too far and will continue to patronize and ignore the very legitimate claims of a broken election system and erosion of democracy. And these people are not going away. Unfortunately, I think this will get worse before it gets better.
