MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD

June 19, 1964

FROM: W. David Sloan

SUBJECT: Immigration and Naturalization Service Files

Yesterday, June 18, 1964, I telephoned Mr. Harold P. Shapiro at the U. S. Department of Justice. He is the person I have been dealing with in connection with the file of the Immigration and Naturalization Service concerning Lee Harvey Oswald and Marina Oswald (Commission Document No. 353). I asked Mr. Shapiro who was the person with the initials "M.N.L." who made the handwritten note on the 45th page of Commission Document No. 353. After checking around, he called me back about an hour later and told me that it was Morton M. Levine.

COMMISSION EXHIBIT NO. 1055
An original passport application, executed and signed by LEE H. OSWALD, which includes a photograph of OSWALD and reflects the stamp indicating passport issued June 25, 1963, was made available to SA EUGENE C. GIES by MURRAY BELLMAN, lawyer, Legal Advisor's Office, U. S. Department of State (USDS), Washington, D. C. This original application was hand carried by SA GIES to the FBI Laboratory and turned over to SA JAMES B. CADIGAN.

The files of the USDS regarding OSWALD were made available for review by Mr. BELLMAN to SAS RALPH E. WILLIS, JR. and EUGENE C. GIES. All specimens of OSWALD's handwriting appearing in these files were photographed. The film packs containing these photographs were hand carried by SAS WILLIS and GIES to FBI Headquarters and turned over to SA CURTISS THOMPSON of the Technical Laboratory.

Reference is made to the letter from Mr. Abram Chayes, the Legal Adviser to the Department of State, dated May 5, 1964 and the memorandum attached thereto. Question No. 1 in that memorandum asks the Department of State to explain the appearance of the word "NO" on the copy of a list of applicants for passports which was sent by telegram from the New Orleans passport office to the passport office in Washington, D. C., on June 24, 1963. The answer given by the Department of State is that "NO" signifies that the message originated in the New Orleans passport office and that this symbol is routinely placed on incoming teletype messages by anyone of the group of employees in the TWX section. The answer goes on to say that the placement of the symbol on this particular message opposite the name of Lee Harvey Oswald was purely coincidental.

As a check upon the accuracy of the Department of State's statement that "NO" signifies that the message came from New Orleans and that such symbols are routinely placed on incoming teletype messages of this type, I personally made an investigation at the passport office of the Department of State this morning at approximately 10:30. The procedures I followed were:

Late in the afternoon of May 19 Mr. William T. Coleman, Jr. and I spoke confidentially with Mr. Abram Chayes, the Legal Adviser, Department of State, and Mr. Richard A. Frank, Attorney, Office of the Legal Adviser, Department of State, in Mr. Chayes' office. We told them that I wanted to make some kind of personal check on the above situation in a way that would give no warning to any employee at the Department of State who might be in a position to take action on the basis of the warning. Coleman and I explained that we did not have any reason to believe, nor did we believe, that any employee would try to do anything improper, but we were of the opinion that all possible precautions should be taken in a matter of this importance in order that there could be no question of its having been carried out correctly.
Mr. Frank and Mr. Chaves agreed to cooperate to the fullest extent and said that I could call Mr. Frank the first thing in the morning and tell him I was coming, and that after I arrived he and I would proceed as directly as possible to the appropriate place in the files to make the checks I had in mind. (At the time that we were conferring it was too late in the day to make these checks immediately.)

The following morning, which was this morning, Mr. Frank telephoned Mr. Frank and advised him that I could come immediately. He said to come ahead. As soon as I got to his office, he telephoned Mr. Edward J. Hickey, Deputy Director of the Passport Office, and advised him that I was in his office, identified me as a member of the staff of the Commission and asked if we could come down to see him. Mr. Frank gave Mr. Hickey no indication of why we wanted to visit him. We then went immediately to Mr. Hickey's office and he asked Mr. Carroll H. Seeley, Assistant Chief of the Legal Division, Passport Office, to come in. I then explained the purpose of my visit. Mr. Hickey and Mr. Seeley immediately consented to my checking their records.
Mr. Hickey then, in my presence, telephoned Mr. Dominic L.
Tucci, Chief of the Records and Communications Branch, Administrative Division, Passport Office, and asked him to come into his office. Mr. Tucci appeared immediately. I again explained the purpose of my visit, and Mr. Tucci said that he could take all of us down to the files at once. We left immediately.

We all went into the large filing room where files of this kind are kept. Mr. Tucci told me that telegrams of this type are kept for three years before being destroyed, and in view of the fact that a great number come in each day, this means that the filing space required is substantial. I told him to give me the telegrams from the New Orleans passport office for June 1963. He took them out of the file drawer in my presence and handed them to me. I looked at very nearly every telegram in the group he gave me, which included all of June. All but two or three out of the approximately 50-60 telegrams I estimate were in the files had the letters "NO" written on them in red pencil. Moreover, in almost all cases the symbol appeared about two-thirds of the way down the page on the right hand side, the same place it appeared on the message containing the name of Lee Harvey Oswald. I next asked Mr. Tucci to show me the telegrams from the New York post office for June 1963. I chose New York simply at random, wanting to check the routine from some office other than New Orleans. He produced them from the file drawer in my presence. Examination of the New York telegrams gave the same result as the examination of the New Orleans telegrams, except that here of course the symbol was "NY" instead of "NO."

I inquired of Mr. Tucci whether there were any written procedural guides or similar documents which would show that the passport office employees were to follow the foregoing procedure of marking incoming telegrams of this type or that simply listed the symbols used. For example, "NO" for "New Orleans." Mr. Tucci did not know whether any written regulations existed, but he said that he would search for them and if any could be found he would see that the Commission received a copy. In the meantime he thought it wise that we ask some employees whether they knew of any such written regulations, and we did so. None of the employees was aware that such procedures had ever been put into written form.

With that, I thanked the men for their cooperation

Subject: Senator John G. Tower's contacts with Lee Harvey Oswald

This afternoon at 1:30 by prearrangement with Mr. Roland Kenneth Tewey, Press Secretary to Senator John G. Tower, I visited Mr. Tewey at the administrative offices of Senator Tower in the Old Senate Office Building. After I arrived Mr. Tewey called in Miss Linda Lee Lovelady, Case Worker on the staff of the Senator. In my presence Mr. Tewey went through that of the entire file relating to Lee Harvey Oswald and then gave me copies of all the documents in that file. I examined the copies and am satisfied that they are in fact complete and accurate copies of the originals as shown. These copies are attached to this memorandum.

According to Mr. Tewey and Miss Lovelady the events pertaining to these documents occurred as follows:

On or shortly before January 26, 1962, Senator Tower's office received a handwritten, undated letter from Lee Oswald. Miss Lovelady, whose job it was and still is is to take care of matters of this nature, routinely sent Oswald's letter on to Mr. Frederick G. Dutton, Assistant Secretary for Congressional Relations, Department of State, with an appropriate cover letter stating that the Senator's office knew nothing about the Oswald affair and was referring the entire matter to the Department of State. This cover letter purported to be signed by the Senator but actually was "signed" by a machine which writes his signature. Shortly thereafter, on February 1, a Mr. Stanfield in the Department of State telephoned the Senator's office and was referred to Miss Lovelady. Miss Lovelady made a memorandum of Mr. Stanfield's call, and she stated that to the best of her recollection that memorandum fairly summarizes the contents of that call.

Subsequently, the Senator's office received a letter from Mr. Dutton dated February 9, 1962, enclosing copies of the correspondence containing the most recent information the Department of State had received from its Moscow Embassy regarding Lee Harvey Oswald. The letter from Mr. Dutton stated that if Senator Tower wished to be kept informed of further developments regarding Mr. Oswald, an officer familiar with the case could be reached on Code 182, extension 5360. Miss Lovelady told me that neither she nor, to her knowledge, anyone else in the Senator's office, specifically including the Senator, ever had anything further to do with the Oswald case or ever contacted the officer at Code 182, extension 5360 with regard to the matter. Furthermore, Senator Tower was not even aware of the Oswald matter and took no part in the actions of his office in the matter.

Miss Lovelady and Mr. Tewey told me that the following disposition of the letter from Oswald was completed routinely and differed in no way from how that office handles other matters of a similar nature. They also told me that the file shown me and the descriptions of the actions taken in respect to it constitute the entire dealings with or concerning Lee Harvey Oswald undertaken by the Senator's office except for two post-assassination matters. The first of these concerns the attached document dated November 22, 1963, and entitled, "Her Correspondence of Lee H. Oswald." It is a statement prepared for the press on November 22, 1963. The history of this is that as soon as Oswald's name was mentioned in connection with the assassination on radio and television Miss Lovelady remembered that the Senator's office had something to do with him in the past and, after an immediate file search, a statement to the press along the lines shown in this document was made. The second matter concerning Oswald that occurred after the assassination is some correspondence with the Secretary of State for the purpose of clearing the Senator from some wild charges that had been made in the foreign and domestic press to the effect that he facilitated Oswald's obtaining a repatriation loan from the Department of State or otherwise helped him to return to the United States. Such charges have no basis whatever in fact, according to Tewey and Lovelady.

Mr. Frederick G. Dutton
Assistant Secretary for Congressional Relations Department of State
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Dutton:

Enclosed is correspondence I have received from Lee H. Oswald relating to apparent efforts on his behalf to return to the United States, along with his wife who is apparently a Soviet citizen.

I do not know Mr. Oswald, or any of the facts concerning his reasons for visiting the Soviet Union, nor what action, if any, this government can or should take on his behalf.

Quite obviously his inquiry should have been addressed to the Executive Branch. For this reason, I am forwarding this correspondence to you for whatever action the Department may consider appropriate.

Sincerely yours,

John G. Tower

MEMORANDUM

Received a call from Mr. Stanfield in Dept. of State regarding request of Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald to return to U.S. from U.S.S.R.

On November 2, 1959, Mr. Oswald swore to the following affidavit:

"I affirm that my allegiance is to the Soviet Socialist Republic."

He requested that his American citizenship be revoked.

He now wishes to return to U.S. with his Soviet wife, who is pregnant.

His mother lives in Vernon and is unable to pay for his return--state dept. will probably finance this on a loan basis.

Senator should not become involved in such a case--therefore State will report to us the course which they follow regarding Lee Harvey Oswald

Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald,
Mikhail Kalinin,
House 4, Apartment 24,
Minsk, USSR.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

We have received your letter of July 15, 1961, in regard to your desire to return to the United States with your wife and to your application for Soviet exit visas.

You will recall that further action on your petition for nonquota status for your wife is pending the receipt from you of a copy of your marriage certificate. One copy is sufficient for this purpose, but others will be required later and so I suggest that you obtain three official copies at the same time.

Very truly yours,

John A. McVickar
American Consul

January 5, 1962

Dear Sirs:

This letter is to inform the Embassy of the expiring of my former document of residence in the USSR: д/я Литц през грацисантиве H. 31479 expiration date January 4, 1962, and the granting of a new document: вд на шилесты д/я иностранцкы АА 549666, expiration date, July 5, 1962.

As I have already informed the Embassy, exit visas for myself and my wife have already been granted. I can have mine at anytime, but it will be good for 45 days only. Since I and my wife wish to leave the USSR together, I shall delay requesting my visa until such time as documentation from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the USSR and the American Embassy is completed on my wife.

I'd like to be sure we can leave as soon as all documents are finished since there will be an addition to the family in March.

I would like to make arrangements for a l an from the Embassy or some organization for part of the plane fares. Please look into this and notify me

Yours truly,

Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald,
Ulitsa Kalinina,
House 4, Apartment 24,
Minsk, USSR.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

Your letter of January 5, 1962, was received at the Embassy on January 11. It obviously crossed my letter of January 5 which I presume you have received by now.

On January 13, the Embassy received official notification from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the issuance of an exit visa to your wife valid until December 1, 1962. In order to proceed with her documentation for a U.S. immigrant visa, there is enclosed Form FS-497 which she should complete and return to the Embassy at her earliest convenience.

As you were informed by my letter of January 5, there are several other documents connected with your wife's immigrant visa application which are still lacking. As far as the Embassy is aware, the petition which you filed to classify your wife's visa status has not yet been approved by the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Moreover, evidence required by law to show that your wife will not become a public charge in the United States has not been presented to the Embassy. One possibility, in this regard, would be for your mother or some other close relative in the United States to file an affidavit of support in your wife's behalf. Until these documentary requirements are satisfied, the Embassy will not be able to take final action on your wife's visa application.

In view of these circumstances, you may wish to reconsider your decision to defer your departure until Mrs. Oswald's documentation is complete, particularly inasmuch as it may prove difficult to provide the necessary financial support evidence while you are still in the USSR. Please inform us of your intentions in this matter.

The question which you raise of a loan to defray part of your travel expenses to the United States can be discussed when you come to the Embassy.

We have made note of the fact that you have been issued a new Soviet residence document which will expire on July 5, 1962. We have also noted that Mrs. Oswald is expecting a baby in March.

Very truly yours,

Samuel C. Wise
American Consul

Enclosure:
Form FS-497

when subject and his family would arrive in Fort Worth. She stated that subject had first set the date for his arrival as May, 1963, but that he had changed it to June, 1963. Mrs. OSWALD advised that her husband had written to subject and invited him to come to Fort Worth. Subject replied to this invitation that he did not know where they would be going. Mrs. OSWALD stated that she got the impression from subject’s letters and cards that subject desired to return permanently to the United States. Mrs.
OSWALD promised to advise the local FBI office immediately upon subject’s arrival at Fort Worth.

On June 4, 1962, Mrs. FRANCES VAN COTT, Office of Special Consular Services, USIS, advised that by a telegram dated May 31, 1962, the U. S. Embassy in Moscow had informed the Department of State that subject, his wife and child planned to depart Moscow, Russia, on June 3, 1962, for Rotterdam, Holland, where they would board "Nassau" on June 6, 1962. The SS "Nassau" was scheduled to arrive in New York, New York, June 6, 1962. The Department of State had notified subject’s mother by letter relative to this schedule.

In the "Fort Worth Star Telegram," evening edition, a daily newspaper, Fort Worth, Texas, on June 8, 1962, there appeared a photograph of subject and a headline, "Ex-Marine Reported on Way Back from Russia." This article stated that subject, a former U. S. Marine, who denounced his American citizenship and chose to become a Russian, was reported June 8, 1962, to be on route home. This article went on to state that subject had turned in his American passport October 31, 1959, at the Embassy in Moscow, saying he would "never return to the United States for any reason." This article further quoted subject as having later told American newspaper men that leaving the United States was like "getting out of prison." This article also contained the following information: It quoted subject’s sister-in law, Mrs. M. L. OSWALD, 7313 Davenport, as saying her husband had received frequent letters from his brother indicating he was anxious to return to this country. She said she and members of the family had not learned that subject was on route home. This article stated that subject’s mother, Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD, could not be reached for comment.

This article also stated that subject’s appearance at the American Embassy in Moscow came as a shock to his mother and brother, as he had left Fort Worth following his discharge from the Marines, telling his family he was going to New Orleans in search of a job.

he felt he could not get a job and because he wanted to relieve the financial burden of the family. This article also quoted subject as having said that when he left America it was like "getting out of prison." This article concluded by saying that when subject had visited his family shortly after his release from the Marine Corps he had talked optimistically about the future and that some of his plans had included going to college, writing a book or joining the U.S. Army.

On June 22, 1962, LUCIANA MACDONALD, Assistant Manager, Cabin-Tourist Department, Holland-America Line, 20 Broadway,
New York, New York, advised that the records of Holland-America Line indicated that by a telegram subject, his wife and child had arrived in the United States on June 13, 1962, aboard the SS "Nassau" at Hoboken, New Jersey. Subject, his wife and child traveled tourist class and were destined to 7313 Davenport, Fort Worth, Texas.

On June 22, 1962, the records of Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), 20 East Broadway, New York, New York, revealed that subject, his wife and child, INS file No.
112232262, had arrived in the United States aboard the latter’s on June 13, 1962. This file reflected that subject had U. S.
Passport No. 1733542, that his daughter, JULIE, born February 15, 1955, at Kings, U. S., had the same passport and that subject’s wife, LUCIANA NIKOLAYNNA OSWALD, had Russian Passport KY 37700.
Subject was admitted as a U. S. citizen with a renewed U. S.
Passport. LUCIANA NIKOLAYZNA OSWALD was admitted with an H-1
Immigrant Visa was issued at Moscow on May 24, 1962.

On June 22, 1962, FREDERICK J. WUNDERMANN, Inspector, INS, advised that he had interviewed subject upon his arrival in the United States and that subject had said that he was employed as a mechanic in Russia; that he had threatened to refuse his U. S. citizenship but never carried through with the threat, never voted in Russia and held no position in the Russian Government.

On June 26, 1962, Mrs. ROBERT L. OSWALD, sister-in-law to subject, 7313 Davenport, Fort Worth, stated the subject, his wife and child had arrived in Fort Worth on June 15, 1962, and that they were currently residing at 7313 Davenport, Fort Worth.
Mrs. OSWALD stated she had not notified the local FBI office of subject’s arrival in Fort Worth for the reason that the family had been harrassed by newspaper reporters and that for that reason subject did not desire to leave his residence.
Records of the Passport Office, reviewed by SA HASE, November 22, 1963, reflected LEE HARVEY OSWALD was last issued passport number D-092526 on June 25, 1963, at New Orleans, Louisiana. He indicated proposed travel of three months to one year as a tourist to England, France, Germany, Holland, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR), Finland, Italy and Poland. His application, dated June 24, 1963, at New Orleans, showed he intended to depart New Orleans via ship of the Lykes Line in October - December, 1963, traveling not by organized tour. He showed his mailing address as Post Office Box 30061, New Orleans, Louisiana, and in event of death or accident be requested notification to an aunt, LILIAN MURZEE, 757 French Street, New Orleans. He showed this same address as his own permanent residence. In his application OSWALD identified his wife as MARINA PROSSAKOVA, born July 17, 1941, in USSR, not an American citizen. The passport application described LEE HARVEY OSWALD as a white male, five feet eleven inches tall, with brown hair, grey eyes and occupation as photographer.

It was noted the passport file relating to LEE HARVEY OSWALD had been reviewed by Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) in connection with the visa petition case concerning his wife who was identified as being the subject of INS alien registration file number A12531062 of the Dallas District Office, INS.

FROM: Assistant Commissioner, Examinations

SUBJECT: Waiver of Sanctions re Visa Petition by Lee Harvey Oswald for Marina N. Oswald

This Division concurs in your action denying waiver of sanctions in the subject case. However, such action is not a basis for denying the petition. If you are satisfied that Mr. Oswald is a United States citizen and that his marriage to Marina N. Oswald is valid the petition should be approved. Then the following endorsement under the remarks portion of the petition would be appropriate: "Waiver of sanctions imposed under Section 243(g) of the Act is not authorized".

Under Operation Instructions in the process of being published, in cases certified to this office, we will endorse the petition to reflect the action taken, forward it and notify the appropriate field office of the action taken. The foregoing procedure will not be followed in the subject case since the remarks portion of the petition will have to be altered. Therefore, the entire file including the petition is being returned for appropriate action and notification thereof to the Embassy at Moscow. It is suggested that the endorsement in the remarks portion of the petition be 'X'd out and a separate memorandum be written and attached to the petition notifying of the denial of waiver of sanctions.

Marina N. Oswald

Beneficiary

The beneficiary of the subject petition, Marina N. Oswald, was born in Kostroma, Arkhangelskaya Oblast, U.S.S.R., on July 17, 1941, and now resides with her husband, the petitioner, at Kalinin Street 4, Apt. 28, Uitenhage, U.S.S.R.

The petitioner, Lee Harvey Oswald, was born at New Orleans, Louisiana, on October 18, 1939, and no evidence has been adduced which indicates that he has lost his United States citizenship. His birth in this country has been adequately established. He enlisted in the United States Marine Corps on October 24, 1956, at the age of 17, and was honorably discharged on September 30, 1959. He re-enlisted as a private in the United States Marine Corps Reserve on that date and was given an undesirable discharge therefrom on August 17, 1960. Reasons for such discharge not determined.

On October 31, 1959, the petitioner appeared at the American Embassy in Moscow, U.S.S.R., and made request that his United States citizenship be revoked. He submitted to the Embassy at that time a handwritten statement wherein he stated in part, as follows: "I request for revocation of my American citizenship is made only after the longest and most serious consideration." "I Affirm that my allegiance is to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics." He advised the Embassy that he had contemplated the action for about two years before his discharge from the Marines. The Embassy advises that he was aggressive and arrogant and that he was contemptuous of any efforts in his interest. He gave as his principal reason for desiring expatriation, "I am a Marxist."

On February 20, 1961, the American Embassy at Moscow, received a letter from the petitioner wherein he requested the return of his passport and indicated that he desired to return to the United States, provided no legal proceedings would be instituted against him upon his return. It is noted that he was married to the beneficiary at Uitenhage, U.S.S.R., on April 30, 1961. He appeared at the Embassy on July 8, 1961, on his own initiative in connection with his desire to return to the United States with his wife. He stated that he had originally applied to the Embassy on October 31, 1959, that he would willingly make available to the Soviet Union such information as he had acquired as a Radar Operator in the United States Marine Corps, he had actually never been questioned by the Soviet authorities regarding his life or experiences prior to entering the Soviet Union and that such information had not been furnished to any organization of that Government.
Under existing procedures sanctions may be waived in an individual meritori-ous case for the beneficiary of a petition filed by a reputable relative where no substantial derogatory security information is developed. A substantial amount of derogatory security information has been developed in connection with the petitioner, and it is felt that he does not meet the criteria mentioned as to being reputable and considerable doubt has arisen with respect to any meritorious features of this case. It is reported that on his subsequent visit to the Embassy, he stated he had been completely relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union, and also that much of the bravado and arrogance which characterized his first visit appeared to have left him. These unsupported declarations of the petitioner are not sufficient to relieve the doubts which have arisen regarding his loyalty to the United States. Sanctions will not be waived and the petition will be denied.

It is ORDERED that sanctions imposed under Section 213(g) of the Immigration and Nationality Act be not waived and that the petition be denied.

It is further ORDERED that this case be certified to the Deputy Associate Commissioner, Travel Control, for final decision.

Washington, D.C.

FROM: Samuel N. Reichman, Investigator

Washington, D.C.

SUBJECT: Dallas A12 551 002; Lee Harvey Oswald, Visa Petitioner for wife, Marina N. Oswald.

Following from files of the Passport Office:

1. A memo of December 26, 1961 to the Office of Security, Department of State, indicated:

"Mr. Oswald attempted to renounce United States citizenship but did not, in fact, renounce United States citizenship. Our determination on the basis of the information and evidence presently on record is that Mr. Oswald did not renounce himself and remains a citizen of the United States."

The rather voluminous file indicated that on October 31, 1959, Lee Harvey Oswald appeared at the Embassy in Moscow to renounce citizenship, stating he applied for Soviet citizenship following entry in USSR from Helsinki, October 15. He said action completed two years, main reason "I am a Marxist". The Consul reported attitude arrogant, aggressive; that Oswald stated he had offered Soviets any information he had acquired as enlisted radar operator. Consul reported in view of another case, they proposed delaying executing renunciation until Soviet action known or Department furnished advice.

In a follow-up to the telegram of October 31, 1959, above mentioned, on November 2, 1959 The Embassy at Moscow reported that Oswald had presented his passport and a signed, undated handwritten statement, reading: (mis-spellings as in original). "I Lea Harvy (cq) Oswald do hereby request that your present citizenship in the United States of America, be revoked."

"I have entered the Soviet Union for the express purpose of applying for citizenship in the Soviet Union, through the means of naturalization."

"My request for citizenship is now pending before the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R."

"I take these steps for political reasons. My request for the revocation of my American citizenship is made only after the longest and most serious considerations."

"I affirm that my allegiance is to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

The Embassy reported Oswald stated he had contemplated the action for about two years before his discharge from the Marines; that his appearance was competent; that he was aggressive, arrogant, and uncooperative; did not wish to waste time in discussing questions, etc., being contemptuous of any efforts in his interest, making known he wanted no advice from Embassy; that he knew the provisions of U.S. law on loss of citizenship; in short, displayed all airs of a new sophomore party-liner.

Oswald gave an "principal reason" for decision "I am a Marxist", but declined any further elaboration. However, at one point he alluded to hardships of his mother as a 'worker' but admitted he had never held a job, entering Marines directly from junior year at high school. He claimed his service in Okinawa and elsewhere "gave me a chance to observe American imperialism." He refused to discuss his family beyond stating he was not married, and had a mother in Texas. He offered the information he had been a radar operator in Marines and had voluntarily stated to Soviet officials that as a Soviet citizen he would make known to them such information concerning the Marine Corps and his specialty as he possessed. He intimated he might know something of special interest. It was stated Oswald was presently in a non-tourist status at the Metropole Hotel in Moscow, awaiting action by the Soviets on his citizenship application; that as his Soviet visa and militia registration expired October 22, 1959, he was presently in a technically illegal residence status with tacit consent of Soviets.

The Embassy at Moscow, on November 7, 1959, reported receipt of a letter from Oswald, dated November 5, 1959.
requesting his citizenship be revoked; that his legal right was refused in his appearance on October 31, and he wished to protest such action and the conduct of the consul officer; that his application for Soviet citizenship was pending, and if accepted, he would request his government to lodge a formal protest regarding the incident. The Embassy reported they had advised Oswald by mail of his right to renounce citizenship, such renunciation in manner prescribed by law being valid, and that he might appear on any normal business day and request documents be prepared.

On December 1, 1959, the Passport Office indicated Oswald had departed from Metropole Hotel, whereabouts unknown; that no information known whether Soviet citizenship acquired.

On March 28, 1960, the Passport Office advised Moscow unless and until the Embassy received information or evidence upon which to base a certificate of loss, there appeared to be no further action possible.

On February 28, 1961, the Embassy at Moscow reported a letter received from Oswald, postmarked Minsk, February 5, and another, Moscow, February 11, indicating he was requesting return of passport and desired to return to the United States if they could come to an agreement; re dropping any legal proceedings; that if so, then, he would be free to ask the Russians to allow him to leave; that the Russians at no time had insisted he take up Russian citizenship; that he was living there with non-permanent type papers for a foreigner; that he hoped in recalling the responsibility he had to America, that the Embassy remembers them in doing everything they could to help him since he was an American citizen.

I am not furnishing information from voluminous exchange of correspondence, etc. because it is not felt necessary. However, in an instruction of April 13, 1961, the Passport Office advised Moscow if any questions concerning his residence in Russia and possible commitment of any acts of espionage, and if satisfied he had not extricated himself in any manner and if evidence presented he had arranged to depart from Russia to travel to the United States, passport might be delivered, after being rendered valid for direct return to the United States. The Passport Office was not in a position to advise Oswald whether upon his return to the United States he might be amenable to prosecution for any possible offenses committed in violation of the laws of the United States or of any of its states.

The Passport Office has furnished us the enclosed copy of Despatch No. 29 of July 11, 1961, from the Embassy at Moscow, concerning the citizenship and passport case of Lee Harvey Oswald.

In referring to the despatch No. 29, of July 11, 1961, the Passport Office advised they concurred in the conclusion there was no available information and/or evidence to show Oswald had extricated himself under pertinent laws of the United States. Renewal of passport issued September 10, 1959, was authorized, if no adverse reason was known, to take place upon presentation of evidence he needed the renewal in connection with efforts to return to the United States. It was added the Embassy might perform citizenship function for Oswald, at its discretion, as referred to in final paragraph of despatch. Additionally, the Passport Office stated renewal should be limited to passport needs, and passport should be made valid for direct return to the United States to be delivered personally.

A despatch from Moscow of October 13, 1961 indicated Oswald was having trouble obtaining Soviet exit visas for himself and Soviet wife, and that they had been subject to increasing harassment in Minsk. The Embassy advised Oswald it had no way of influencing action on exit visas, and that the question of passport renewal could be discussed with him personally at the Embassy.

Attention is invited to the memo of December 26, 1961 from Passport Office to the Office of Safety, State Department, quoted in the first portion of this report.

It is presumed you have F.B.I. reports concerning Oswald.

Basis for investigation is petition filed by the SUBJECT’S husband, LEO HARVEY OSMOND, to classify her as a nonquota immigrant. Object of investigation is to secure evidence upon which to base decision regarding waiver of sanctions imposed under Section 243(g) of the Act.

Petitioner has resided in Russia since 1939 and emigrated to that country because of dislike for the United States.

Interview of petitioner’s brother, H. L. OSMOND, disclosed no evidence that petitioner was ever a member of the Communist Party. Investigation conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation Likewise did not establish Communist Party membership of petitioner.

United States birth of petitioner established. Local police checks negative on petitioner.

State Department reports show petitioner has not lost United States citizenship and will probably have passport revalidated for direct return to the United States. State Department also reports definite change in petitioner’s attitude toward United States, indicating he now appreciates freedom and his native country.

Basis for the investigation is referral by the Travel Control Branch, Dallas office, of a petition filed by SUBJECT’S husband, LEO HARVEY OSMOND, to classify her as a nonquota immigrant. Object of the investigation is to secure evidence upon which a determination may be made as to whether the sanctions imposed under Section 243(g) of the Act against nationals of U.S.S.R. can be waived.

By memorandum dated October 6, 1961, the Assistant Director of the Visa Office, Department of State, Washington, D.C., forwarded a petition to classify the SUBJECT as a nonquota immigrant, which petition was executed by the SUBJECT’S husband, LEO HARVEY OSMOND, at Moscow, U.S.S.R., on July 1, 1961. In his memorandum the Assistant Director advised that the petition is a citizen of the United States but furnished no documentary evidence nor were any such documents establishing his citizenship described. The petition gives the petitioner’s United States address as 7313 Davenport, Fort Worth, Texas, and his foreign address as Moscow, U.S.S.R.

On October 17, 1961, R. L. OSMOND, brother of the petitioner, was interviewed at 7313 Davenport, Fort Worth, Texas. Witness OSMOND, who was born in 1934 at New Orleans, Louisiana, is presently employed by the Acme Brick Company, Fort Worth, Texas. He stated that the petitioner was born on October 10, 1939, at New Orleans, Louisiana, and that although he had seen the petitioner’s birth certificate, he had no documentary evidence to corroborate his statement.

The witness declared that the petitioner was a member of the United States Marine Corps from 1956 until sometime in 1959 when he was given an honorable discharge. He stated that following the petitioner’s discharge, he came to Fort Worth for a few months, then went to New Orleans, Louisiana, and on or about October 1959 departed for Russia.

The witness stated that he did not know exactly why the petitioner had decided to emigrate to Russia other than the petitioner had declared he was disgusted with the United States, with the "so-called democracy" that was practiced here, and with the imperialistic ideals of the capitalists in this country.

Mr. OSMOND, who denied that he was ever a member of or affiliated with the Communist Party or any of its affiliates, stated that to his knowledge the petitioner likewise was never a member of or affiliated with the Communist Party. He stated that the petitioner had always been a moody person and had read books and other literature which were too deep for him, the wit-cess. He denied knowing whether the petitioner had ever studied the works of Marx, Lenin, Stalin, or other Communist propagan-

d. The witness declared that he and the petitioner corresponded, and that for the past six or eight months the petitioner has been desirous of returning to the United States. He stated further that the petitioner had advised that he did not want to return to the United States unless the SUBJECT was allowed to come with him. When questioned as to how he felt about his brother bringing the SUBJECT to the United States, he stated that he believed his brother had learned his lesson, and that the SUBJECT would be welcomed if she would accept democracy as practiced in this country.

Mr. OSWALD stated that insofar as he knows the petitioner had no friends, former employers, or other relatives in the Fort Worth area. He declared that his mother, MARGUERITE OSWALD, lives somewhere in West Texas, but he was unable to give the name of the town, stating that he had very little contact with his mother now.

The witness reiterated that he felt the petitioner was just a "mixed up kid" who had become embittered, possibly over some-ting that happened while he was in the armed forces.

By memorandum dated October 27, 1961, the Dallas office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation granted clearance to conduct an investigation of the petitioner. With their letter was furnished a copy of an investigative report made by S/ A V. FAN on July 3, 1961. This report corroborates the information furninished by R. L. OSWALD and covers an interview with the petitioner's mother. She furnished no information indicating the petitioner was ever a member of or affiliated with the Communist Party and expressed surprise that he had gone to Russia to live. Nothing in the Bureau report establishes Communist Party membership by the petitioner. The Bureau report indicates that the petitioner had announced his United States citizenship and sought to become citizen of Russia. This information was furnished by the petitioner's mother.

On October 25, 1961, the New Orleans office of this Service was requested to furnish a certificate covering the petitioner's birth. The request was returned with an endorsement reflecting

Dallas, Texas - 1/25/62    - 3 -
AL 530 645

the petitioner's birth at New Orleans, Louisiana, on October 18, 1939, and advising that a certificate of birth would be secured and forwarded. To date no such certificate has been received.

A check of the records of the Fort Worth Police Department and the Tarrant County Sheriff's Office failed to disclose any record which could be identified as relating to the petitioner.

On December 8, 1961, a return was received from the Identification Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation showing the only record of the petitioner was his enlistment in the United States Marine Corps.

A return from the Intelligence Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation referred to the aforementioned Federal Bureau of Investigation report which is a part of the file.

The Office of Naval Intelligence advised in response to a request for a check of their records that the petitioner was given an undesirable discharge from the Marine Corps Reserve on August 17, 1960, grounds for the discharge were not given. The Office of Naval Intelligence also advised that on November 41, 1959, the Naval Attaché at Moscow had advised that the petitioner had renounced his citizenship and had offered to furnish the Soviet any information he possessed on the United States radar system. It was also reported that the petitioner was an aviation electronics operator while serving with the Marine Air Control Squadron in Japan and Taiwan.

Return on the agency check from the Central Intelligence Agency furnished no record but made reference to the Department of State for possible information on the petitioner.

On January 19, 1962, a report was received from the Washington District Office of this Service which contained a resume of the State Department's file on the petitioner together with a copy of Foreign Service Despatch No. 89 from the American Embassy at Moscow. These reports show that the petitioner has not renounced his United States citizenship and indicates that his American Passport, which expired on September 10, 1961, will be renewed solely for a direct return to the United States.

The petitioner appeared at the American Embassy at Moscow on October 31, 1959, to renounce his United States citizenship, giving his main reason as being that he was a Marxist. He is re-

Dallas, Texas - 1/25/62    - 4 -

reported as having been at that time arrogant, aggressive, and declared he had offered the Soviet any information he had acquired as an enlisted radar operator. Action on his request was delayed, and he subsequently filed a complaint with the Embassy protesting that he had been denied his legal rights when his request for renouncing his citizenship was not granted on October 31, 1959.
The petitioner was advised as to how he could formally renounce his citizenship, and that he should appear at the Embassy if he desired to prosecute his application.

He did not pursue his request, and during the early part of 1961 began expressing his desire to return to the United States if he could return without proceedings being instituted against him.

The Embassy could find no evidence that the petitioner had ever acquired U.S.S.R. citizenship. The petitioner and the Embassy are having difficulties in securing exit permits from Soviet officials.

The Embassy reports indicate that the petitioner has had change of attitude since he first appeared on October 31, 1959, and also indicate that he has been relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union and has acquired a new understanding and appreciation of the United States and the meaning of freedom.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

We have your letter of March 12, 1961 in which you state that it would not be convenient for you to visit the Embassy in Moscow, and that you do not believe that it would be appropriate to request permission from the Soviet authorities in Minsk to travel to Moscow for this purpose.

The Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs has always assured the Embassy that it interposes no objections or obstacles to visits to the Embassy on the part of American citizens in the Soviet Union. As stated in our previous letter a final determination of your present American citizenship status can only be made on the basis of a personal interview. Certain statements of legal force relating to your citizenship status should be made under oath in the presence of a consular officer.

We suggest that you inform us in advance of any intention to visit the Embassy so as to be assured of an appointment without delay. You may, however, drop in at any time during normal office hours. You may wish to present this letter to the authorities in Minsk in connection with an application for permission to travel to Moscow.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

I refer to your letter of November 1, 1961, regarding your documentation by the Soviet authorities.

The Soviet passport which you have is the type issued to persons considered by the Soviet authorities to have no citizenship (slym litsa bez poklonenii), either of the Soviet Union or any other country. You do not have the passport issued to individuals acknowledged to be foreigners (vidno obshche litsa obshchestnosti).

On this date, Special Agents ODUM and MC NEELY went to the Texas School Book Depository (TSBD) building, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas, where R. S. TRULY, an employee of TSBD made available paper and tape in the shipping area of TSBD on the first floor. He advised that while LEE HARVEY OSWALD was an employee of TSBD from October 16, 1963, to November 22, 1963, he had access to this area.

The paper he made available was described as sixty-pound paper, 24 inches wide, and he stated this is used in all wrapping at TSBD. The tape he made available is gummed, brown paper tape, three inches wide, made on sixty-pound paper stock. He stated that all paper and tape are ordered from the same sources and the suppliers for all tape and paper used in TSBD since October 16, 1963, are the same sources.

Using the original paper sack found at the window on the sixth floor of TSBD, November 22, 1963, from which the shots killing President JOHN F. KENNEDY were apparently fired, a replica sack was made in the same manner as the original had apparently been made, to the same dimensions, and using the paper and tape provided by Mr. TRULY.

Dear Mr. Oswalds,

Reference is made to your letter of December 27, 1963, concerning your desire to return to the United States.

The Embassy has not yet been notified of the issuance of Soviet exit visas to you or your wife. Presumably, in your case, an exit visa cannot be issued until you are in possession of a valid passport.

In reply to your questions, a passport can normally be extended at the Embassy within a single full working day if we are informed of your arrival in advance. Following issuance, the passport will be yours to keep until the completion of your travel.

Your wife's immigrant visa application will take somewhat longer to formulate inasmuch as she still lacks an approved visa petition and an affidavit of support or offer of employment. In regard to this latter requirement, there is enclosed an instruction sheet describing various types of satisfactory evidence which may be submitted in your wife's behalf.

Considering the documentation necessary, you may wish to proceed to the United States alone in order to facilitate the issuance of your wife's visa.

Sincerely yours,

Commission Exhibit No. 1078
Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald,
U.S. Consul
Hanoi, Viet Nam

Dear Mr. Oswald:

Your letter of January 5, 1962, was received at the Embassy on January 11. It obviously crossed my letter of January 7 which I presume you have received by now.

On January 13 the Embassy received official notification from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the issuance of an exit visa to your wife valid until December 31, 1962, in order to proceed with her documentation for a U.S. immigrant visa, there is enclosed Form FS-447 which she should complete and return to the Embassy at her earliest convenience.

As you were informed by my letter of January 7, there are several other documents connected with your wife's immigrant visa application which are still lacking. As far as the Embassy is aware, the petition which you filed to classify your wife's visa status has not yet been approved by the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Therefore evidence required by law to show that your wife will not become a public charge in the United States has not been presented to the Embassy. One possibility, in this regard, would be for your mother or some other close relative in the United States to file an affidavit of support in your wife's behalf. Until these documentary requirements are satisfied, the Embassy will not be able to take final action on your wife's visa application.

In view of these circumstances, you may wish to reconsider your decision to defer your departure until Mrs. Oswald's documentation is complete, particularly inasmuch as it may prove difficult to provide the necessary financial support evidence while you are still in the USSR. Please inform us of your intentions in this matter.

The question which you raise of a loan to defray part of your travel expenses to the United States can be discussed when you come to the Embassy.

We have made note of the fact that you have been issued a new Soviet residence document which will expire on July 5, 1962. We have also noted that Mrs. Oswald is expecting a baby in March.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Oswald:

I have your letter of January 23, 1962, and assume that by now you have received my letter of January 21.

The Soviet exit visa in your wife's passport is valid until December 1, 1962.

The Embassy is not yet in a position to issue your wife's visa for two reasons. First, an approved visa petition for your wife has not yet been received from the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Second, it is not yet clear that the affidavit of support which you submitted, without other evidence substantiating your financial ability to sponsor your wife, satisfies the public charge provision of the law. The Embassy has requested that action on your visa petition be expedited and that careful consideration be given to your affidavit of support. In regard to the letter, at this time I can only repeat my previous suggestion that you request your mother to file an affidavit of support on behalf of your wife.

Although the Embassy is making every effort to complete action on your wife's visa application as soon as possible, it seems highly unlikely that the visa can be issued in time to permit her to travel before your child is born. Most airlines will not accept passengers during the ninth month of pregnancy. Therefore, it would seem advisable for you to plan for the baby to be born before you leave for the United States.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

In your letter of January 5, 1962, you asked whether you could obtain a loan to cover part of the cost of your transportation back to the United States. We are prepared to take your application for a loan. You should send us the following information in an original and two copies:

1. Your name in full.
2. Place and date of birth.
3. Number, place, and date of issue of your last passport.
4. Periods and places of residence in the United States, and periods, places and purpose of residence abroad.
5. Previous means of livelihood or support, including occupation, salary, where terminated, and name and address of last employer.
6. Full name, age, relationship, and nationality of dependents who will travel with you.
7. Personal funds or property in the United States or abroad, estimate of amount, exact location and person or institution in charge of them.
8. Efforts made to obtain funds from private sources and the results thereof.
9. Any previous advances of United States government funds received (indicate amount, from whom and when).
10. Estimated amount which you and your dependents will require for repatriation (expressed in dollars). Please note that it is necessary to indicate just how much of the cost of your return trip you can pay yourself.
11. Names and addresses of relatives, friends, employers or other interested organizations which may be asked to provide funds for you and your dependents.
12. Permanent or last address in the United States to which you desire to return.

You should also sign and return the enclosed affirmation in three copies.

Any loan of this type is payable on demand. The recipient must keep the Department of State informed of his address in the United States until such time as he has liquidated his indebtedness. After repatriation, the recipient will not be furnished a passport for travel abroad until he has reimbursed the Government.

With reference to our previous correspondence on the subject of the support affidavit requirement for your wife, we have been informed that any proof which you can submit showing that you have employment to which you can return will be sufficient evidence to meet the public charge provision of the immigration law. This of course is not the only kind of evidence that you may use. An affidavit of support by your mother or other close relative would be equally effective.

Dear Sir,

Having been informed by you over the telephone on April 7 that all necessary papers have been completed in relation to my wife's American entry visas, I assume that she will be able to enter the U.S.S.R. and that the transportation problem, i.e., the money problem, will not arise. My relatives in the U.S. have informed me that the Embassy has approached them, on my behalf, for money for tickets to the U.S.

I assure you my relatives are quite unable to assist in this matter, that is why I had to apply to the Embassy for a loan.

I request that restrictions toward my relatives be stopped.

Also, I request that my approval to re-enter application be honored as soon as possible, so that my wife and I can leave the U.S.S.R.

In regards to when you do finally call us to Moscow, whether by telegram or letter, you should not fail to specify through which point of exit my wife and I should be made out to, of course, it should be the same as my wife's designated point of exit.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

We have received your recent letter concerning your desire to return to the United States. Your earlier letter of December, 1960 which you mentioned in your present letter does not appear to have been received at the Embassy.

Inasmuch as the question of your present American citizenship status can be finally determined only on the basis of a personal interview, we suggest that you plan to appear at the Embassy at your convenience. The consular section of the Embassy is open from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

The Embassy was recently informed by the Department of State that it had received an inquiry from your mother in which she said that she had not heard from you since December, 1959 and was concerned about your whereabouts and welfare.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

We have your letter of March 12, 1961 in which you state that it would not be convenient for you to visit the Embassy in Moscow, and that you do not believe that it would be appropriate to request permission from the Soviet authorities in Minsk to travel to Moscow for this purpose.

The Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs has always assured the Embassy that it interposes no objections or obstacles to visits to the Embassy on the part of American citizens in the Soviet Union. As stated in our previous letter a final determination of your present American citizenship status can only be made on the basis of a personal interview. Certain statements of legal force relating to your citizenship status should be made under oath in the presence of a consular officer.

We suggest that you inform us in advance of any intention to visit the Embassy so as to be assured of an appointment without delay. You may, however, drop in at any time during normal office hours. You may wish to present this letter to the authorities in Minsk in connection with an application for permission to travel to Moscow.

Mr. Lee H. Oswald,

Dear Mr. Oswald:

We have received your loan application and have noted the birth of your daughter June Lee on February 25. We have been authorized to advance you an amount not to exceed $500 to help defray the cost of travel to an American port of entry of yourself and your family. You will of course be expected to use the cheapest available mode of transportation. As you probably know, an immigrant visa will not be available to your wife for the ship you cross. You will be asked to sign a promissory note for the funds at the time you receive them.

We are prepared to accept the various evidence you have submitted as adequate proof of your ability to support your wife after her arrival in the United States.

We have not yet received the approved visa petition for your wife. Meanwhile, you may wish to come to Moscow by yourself to obtain the renewal of your passport and the inclusion of your daughter therein. (Three separate pictures of her, size 2 1/2 x 3 inches by 2 1/2 x 3 inches will be necessary). While you are here, you can register the birth of your child at the Embassy. Please bring with you her birth certificate. You can also inquire about travel arrangements while you are here. After your return to Texas, as soon as you have received word from us that your wife’s visa petition has been approved, you can submit your passport to the GTO for your exit visa. After your visa is issued, you can leave Moscow definitively with your wife and daughter, come to Moscow where we will issue her an American immigrant visa. At the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Moscow she can have your daughter immediately included on her Soviet foreign passport. This passport will then be forwarded to you by the Ministry to the Moscow GTO, where your wife can personally pick it up. Whatever transit visas you may require can be obtained during this final stay in Moscow, which should last less than one week. You can leave for the United States directly from here.

In answer to the question raised in your recent letter, you should request Macht as the point of exit on your visa. Although we anticipate that for economy reasons rail travel through Macht to a point of embarkation will be required, it would be a good extra measure of precaution if you could have Kosov airport noted as an alternative exit point. Your wife's visa permits her to exit at any border point.

Dear Sir:

We refer to your inquiry in which you ask what is necessary to do for presenting application for obtaining immigration visa for entry into the United States of America. The Embassy has received from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the USSR your passport with exit visa.

You can now prepare for presenting the application taking the following steps:

1. Certificate of Birth. Two certified copies of Certificate of Birth are required from each person desiring to immigrate. The certificate must indicate the date and place of birth and the names of parents. The certificate must also indicate that it is recorded from the official records. Photo copies are acceptable under condition that they represent the original to the Consulate employee.

Certificate of Birth which cannot be obtained.

In rare instances it will probably be impossible to obtain a Certificate of Birth by reason of the destruction of official records or refusal of authorities to issue such a document. In such a case, a certificate of baptism, in two copies, can be presented for examination under conditions that herein are indicated; the date and place of birth, data about parents, and that the baptism took place soon after birth. If it is not possible to submit a certificate of baptism, then a close relative, preferably the mother of the applicant, must fill out two Information copies in which the date and place of birth of applicant must be indicated, the full names of both parents and the maiden name of the mother. This information must be officially registered in the presence of an official having the right to register such official documents.
3. Photographs. Three separate photographs, size 1.5 x 2 inches, taken full face without head wear, against a white background on fine grade paper. Photographs are required from all immigrants regardless of age.

4. Certificate of Marriage. All married persons must present two copies of the Certificate of their marriage. Documentation of the dissolution of any former marriage must also be presented in two copies (or for example, certificate of death of one of the spouses, decision of the Court on divorce or annulment of the marriage).

6. X-ray photograph of chest and analysis - 1 copy.

7. Certificate of inoculation against smallpox.

2. Sero logical analysis of blood ( Wasserman).

7. Translations. All documents, if they are not in the Russian or English language, must be accompanied by certified translation in the English language. Translations of the documents must be in two copies and certified by competent translator under oath confirmed in the presence of a notary.

You must make all efforts to acquire the indicated documents. In the event there are any circumstances which make them impossible to obtain, you may come without them. In such a case, it is necessary for you to bring information as to the impossibility of obtaining them.

The applicant for the immigrant visa must appear at the Embassy for a medical examination and, if it is necessary, sign under oath his own application for issuance of the American Immigration visa in the presence of the Consul. The Consulate fee for the Immigration visa is 22.50 rubles. (C25.00)

Before arriving in Moscow for obtaining the visa, for your personal information you must prove that you have the means for travel to the United States when it is demanded. A ticket from Moscow to New York by plane costs approximately 400 rubles. Tickets by ship cannot be reserved in Moscow. Arrangements for the trip must be handled by you personally although the Embassy will give you help.

The Embassy also does not provide accommodations. At the time of arrival in Moscow you must have a place to stay and have sufficient funds for the hotel and other necessities during your stay in Moscow.

There will be no necessity for you to leave Moscow and to return directly to your former place of abode because you will receive your passport with the necessary Soviet and American visas in OYIR (possibly "Division of visas and registration") in Moscow. For the passport the Soviet department in Moscow requires payment of approximately 35.00 rubles.

Your relatives in America may, if so desired, transmit money for you directly to the Foreign Trade Bank in Moscow thru any one of its correspondent banks in the United States, for example, the Chase Bank in New York City.

Finally when you have all the documents enumerated in this letter please advise us that you are prepared to present your documents when you are requested to do so. DO NOT SEND US ANY DOCUMENTS AT THE PRESENT TIME. When we receive your letter, you will be advised the date when you can bring your documents to us so that you would be able to process the official application for obtaining a visa (this sentence crossed out in ink.)

You should consider that it will be necessary for you to spend at least ten (10) days in Moscow and perhaps longer depending on how long it is required to process the documents and to obtain the ticket. Therefore, it is advisable that you try to arrive here in the beginning of the week, preferably on Monday or Tuesday. Do not send your documents and photographs by mail, but bring them personally. The Embassy is located at 19/21 Chalkowsky Street, close to the center of the Revolution, is open from 9 A.M. to 6 P.M., on Saturday until 1 P.M., and closed on Sunday. Telephone number of Embassy is 02-00-10.
If we do not receive any information from you in the course of 60 days, we will assume that you have renounced your intention to immigrate to the United States and your name will be stricken from the list of persons waiting their turn for entry into the U.S.A.

Yours truly,

J. P. MATLOCK
Consul of the United States of America

OPERATIONS MEMORANDUM

TO: Ambassador ENNSZELL

FROM: Embassy WASHINGTON

SUBJECT: Third Country Shelter Arrangement

REF: Our 00, January 21, 1962, and previous correspondences, Department’s 61-60-1, December 5, 1961, and 62-60-1, March 9, 1962, to Moscow (copies attached)

Transmitted here are pertinent portions of the case file of Maria Nikolaevna GUSEIN, born 1935, the wife of American citizen Lee Harvey GUSEIN. As you will note, the Defense and Naturalization Service forwarded to us GUSEIN’s petition for complete status for his wife, but refused to lift the sanctions imposed by Section 212(a)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Therefore, no visa can be issued to Mme. GUSEIN at this office. The Department reprimanded in its 61-60-1, December 5, 1961, that Mrs. GUSEIN apply for her visa in a third country.

For your information, Mr. GUSEIN is a former U.S. Marine who came to the Soviet Union in 1959 with the intention of settling there. He subsequently experienced a change of heart and is now attempting to return to the United States with his Soviet wife and infant daughter (born in February, 1960). The Department has authorized renewal of GUSEIN’s passport valid for direct travel to the United States, and has also authorized a reissuance to him on his child’s behalf. A separate passport and exit visa has been received for Mrs. GUSEIN and herself. She has apparently been promised that she will receive permission to leave the Soviet Union whenever he is ready to travel.

It will be noted from the attached case file that the Department has previously received an advisory opinion that Mrs. GUSEIN’s affiliation with the Soviet trade union can be considered involuntary as defined by Section 212(a)(3)(l)(1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Therefore, there appear to be no security reasons for refusing her a visa, provided of course that no further derogatory information comes to light during the formal visa interview.

Perhaps the most questionable aspect of Mrs. GUSEIN’s application is the work evidence which has been presented to overcome the public charge provision of the Act. The Embassy has conducted considerable correspondence with Mr. GUSEIN concerning this point. It appears that he can find no work in the United States who is able and willing to execute an affidavit of support for his wife. Furthermore, GUSEIN has been unable to obtain na-

Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

Your letter of January 5, 1962, was received at the Embassy on January 12. It obviously crossed my letter of January 5 which I presume you have received by now.

On January 13 the Embassy received official notification from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the issuance of an exit visa to your wife valid until December 1, 1962. In order to proceed with her documentation for a U.S. immigrant visa, there is enclosed Form FS-177 which she should complete and return to the Embassy at her earliest convenience.

As you were informed by my letter of January 5, there are several other documents connected with your wife's immigrant visa application which are still lacking. As far as the Embassy is aware, the petition which you filed to classify your wife's visa status has not yet been approved by the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Moreover, evidence required by law to show that your wife will not become a public charge in the United States has not been presented to the Embassy. One possibility, in this regard, would be for your mother or some other close relative in the United States to file an affidavit of support in your wife's behalf. Until these documentary requirements are satisfied, the Embassy will not be able to take final action on your wife's visa application.

In view of these circumstances, you may wish to reconsider your decision to defer your departure until Mrs. Oswald's documentation is complete, particularly inasmuch as it may prove difficult to provide the necessary financial support evidence while you are still in the USSR. Please inform us of your intentions in this matter.

The question which you raise as to a loan to defray part of your travel expenses to the United States can be discussed when you come to the Embassy.

We have made note of the fact that you have been issued a new Soviet residence document which will expire on July 5, 1962. We have also noted that Mrs. Oswald is expecting a baby in March.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Oswald:

The Embassy has received your letter and enclosures of January 16, 1962. Regarding the visa petition for your wife, we are attempting to get an early decision from the Immigration and Naturalization Service and will of course inform you as soon as we receive word here.

We shall retain on file the affidavit and other documentation which you sent, although there is considerable doubt about their adequacy to meet the provisions of U.S. immigration laws. You may be sure that this question will be fully explored. Meanwhile, I cannot urge you strongly enough to attempt to obtain a support affidavit from a close relative in the United States, in order to insure that your wife will be able to travel with you. There is no other documentation now required from you.

Should you and your wife depart after your child is born, it will be a fairly simple matter here to have the child included in your American passport. You will be required to submit the child's birth certificate and photographs.

Sincerely yours,

Joseph B. Norbury

Dear Mr. Oswald:

In your letter of January 5, 1962, you asked whether you could obtain a loan to cover part of the cost of your transportation back to the United States. We are prepared to take your application for a loan. You should send us the following information in an original and two copies:

1. Your name in full.
2. Place and date of birth.
3. Number, place, and date of issue of your last passport.
4. Periods and places of residence in the United States, and periods, places and purpose of residence abroad.
5. Previous name of livelihood or support, including occupation, salary, when terminated, and name and address of last employer.
6. Full name, age, relationship, and nationality of dependents who will travel with you.
7. Personal funds or property in the United States or abroad, estimate of amount, exact location and person or institution in charge of them.
8. Efforts made to obtain funds from private sources and the results thereof.
9. Any previous advances of United States Government funds received (indicate amount, from whom and when).
10. Estimated amount which you and your dependents will require for repatriation (expressed in dollars). Please note that it is necessary to indicate just how much of the cost of your return trip you can pay yourself.
11. Names and addresses of relatives, friends, employers or other interested organizations which may be asked to provide funds for you and your dependents.

(13) Permanent or last address in the United States to which you desire to return.

You should also sign and return the enclosed affirmation in three copies.

Any loan of this type is payable on demand. The recipient must keep the Department of State informed of his address in the United States until such time as he has liquidated his indebtedness. After repatriation, the recipient will not be furnished a passport for travel abroad until he has reimbursed the Government.

With reference to our previous correspondence on the subject of the support affidavit requirement for your wife, we have been informed that any proof which you can submit showing that you have employment to which you can return will be sufficient evidence to meet the public charge provision of the immigration law. This is of course not the only kind of evidence that you may use, an affidavit of support by your mother or other close relative would be equally effective.

Very truly yours,

Commission Exhibit No. 1103
Mr. Lee H. Oswald,
Minsk,
Kalinin St.t, Apt.2h.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

We have received your loan application and have noted the birth of your daughter June Lee on February 15. We have been authorized to advance you an amount not to exceed $500 to help defray the cost of travel to an American port of entry of yourself and your family. You will of course be expected to use the cheapest available mode of transportation. As you probably know, an immigrant discount will be available to your wife for the steamship crossing. You will be asked to sign a promissory note for the funds at the time you receive them.

We are prepared to accept the various evidence you have submitted as adequate proof of your ability to support your wife after her arrival in the United States.

We have not yet received the approved visa petition for your wife. Meanwhile, you may wish to come to Moscow by yourself to obtain the renewal of your passport and the inclusion of your daughter therein. (Three separate pictures of her, size 2½ to 3 inches by 2½ to 3 inches will be necessary). While you are here, you can register the birth of your child at the Embassy. Please bring with you her birth certificate. You can also inquire about travel arrangements while you are here. After your return to Minsk, as soon as you have received word from us that your wife's visa petition has been approved, you can submit your passport to the OVIR for your exit visa. After your visa is issued, you can leave Minsk definitively with your wife and daughter, come to Moscow, where we will issue her an American immigrant visa. At the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Moscow she can have your daughter immediately included on her Soviet foreign passport. This passport will then be forwarded by the Ministry to the Moscow OVIR, where your wife can personally pick it up. Whatever transit visas you all may require can be obtained during this final stay in Moscow, which should last less than one week. You can leave for the United States directly from here.

Very truly yours,

Joseph B. Norbury

Dear Mr. Oswald:

In answer to the question raised in your recent letter, you should request Preston as the point of exit on your visa. Although we anticipate that for economy reasons rail travel through Preston to a port of embarkation will be required, it would be a good extra measure of precaution if you could have Moscow airport noted as an alternative exit point. Your wife's visa permits her to exit at any border point.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

I am pleased to inform you that the Embassy is now in a position to take final action on your wife's visa application. Therefore, you and your wife are invited to come to the Embassy at your convenience when your wife has gathered the documents listed in the attached Form DSL-869.

The Embassy has on file two copies of your wife's birth certificate and one copy of her marriage certificate. Therefore, she need bring only one more copy of her marriage certificate, three photographs, an X-ray, serological analysis and certification of smallpox inoculation.

As you were notified previously, three photographs of your daughter and a copy of her birth certificate will also be necessary for the Consular Report of Birth and the amendment of your passport.

As I mentioned in my previous letter, you should request that Brest (and also Moscow Airport if possible) be designated as exit points in your Soviet exit visa.

Please notify the Embassy when to expect you.

Very truly yours,

- September: 8 rubles;
- October: 9 rubles;
- November: 7 rubles;

Marina Oswald in discussing Oswald's reading habits, said that he read generally histories or biographies and she recalled specifically that he read biographies of Hitler, Kennedy and KRUSHCHEV. She is not clear, however, whether he read those books in New Orleans or Dallas. She did recall that he read a book by Maria Nemrue, "Time to Live and Time to Die," and that he read a book about Pever, the U-2 Pilot. Other than that, she cannot specifically recall what case he checked out of the Dallas library. (C. D. 733, p. 454.)

Marina in her testimony has admitted that Oswald read books of the "Historical Nature," and that he read books by Marx and a two-volume History of the United States. (Marina Oswald 552, 736, 738, 743, and 736C.) Some of Oswald's associates in Texas mentioned that he read books by Marx and Lenin, etc. (Book 56, p. 194, Paul Gregory 165-167, etc.) Katherine Ford also mentioned that Oswald read some books about how to be a spy. (Ford 249.)

You are aware of the fact that in testifying that he liked the movie, "We Were Strangers" to meet with the demands of a president of Cuba, and the movie, "Madrid." (Marina Oswald.)

There is testimony to the effect that Oswald read many Soviet magazines. (See Exhibit 37.) He has received a letter from F. M. in Russia, saying that a letter to a Russian magazine. (C. D. 43, Item 164; C. D. 229, p. 162.) With a note, the Russian Embassy and was to subscribe to Pravda or Izvestia or such magazines as, Cenac. (C. D. 46, 209.) He said he saw Oswald with a magazine called Cenac, Bouke 56.) (C. D. 46, 209.)

Oswald read the Russian Opera and Ballet, entitled "Queen of Spades" by Tchaikovsky. (C. D. 735 at pp. 31, 38, 135 and 463.) On page 463 of this same document it is noted that Marina said Oswald was very fond of this opera and often played a record of its music.
In November of 1962, Oswald purchased a subscription to the Soviet labor magazine, Kokhod. (61) On July 28, 1962, while staying in this period, Oswald wrote to the teaming of Lenin Trotsky and the Soviet Publishers, but apparently didn’t get them. (See Exhibit 1117.)

The following is a list of finding materials found in the Chronology:

The RAWTEX Oswald wrote a letter to M. D. to the Soviet labor magazine "Kokhod" and sent 1.50 as payment. Subscription ran for a period of October 1962 to September 1963. (321 p. 2)

Six-page letter addressed "DeLoe Lee and Daughter," signed "Freedom - 1965 On" (331 p. 2)

In the letter, the writer talks of subscription to Russian magazines and asks DeLoe Lee and Daughter he is forwarding another Russian magazine to them. He also tells DeLoe Lee how to repair his record player. The writer then asks DeLoe to stop and tell that the basic idea of freedom is, "All with the Nation" is contained in the verse: "All with the Nation, To freedom, with the rifle." (753 p. 2)

On this date (October 27, 1962) Oswald mailed a subscription for the Labor Magazine, U.S. (321 p. 2)

Letter dated October 27, 1962, from M. D. to the Soviet labor magazine, U.S., asking him if he could change the address to Feas F. New York. (321 p. 2)

Letter dated October 27, 1962, from Lee, M. D., acknowledging receipt of Oswald's subscription to the Soviet labor magazine, U.S. and advising him to send him a subscription to the International Economic Review." (321 p. 2)

During January 1963, Oswald again wrote to the Soviet labor magazine, U.S., and requested the "Kokhod" (61) and another political magazine, "Brusila" (the Russian name of "Voice") and 3224 magazine, bought 69 copies were at 193-69. One of the copies was at 193-69 South St. (321 p. 2)

Oswald wrote to the Labor Magazine, U.S. and informed him that the subscription was handed out to the Soviet labor magazine, "Kokhod." (61) He also distributed 3224-69 magazine entitled "The Crime Against Cuba," by Galito F. LaMunt, printed by "Dundie Publishing" in New York City. (603 p. 759)

Found among Oswald's possessions were October 7, 1963 letter to an unknown date and October 20, 1963 letter to "M. D." (321 p. 32)

Oswald's letter to the Labor Magazine, U.S. dated October 20, 1963, at 291-69, New York, New York, New York, and forwarded to 291-69 South St. 26th Street, Irving, Texas. The letter was sent by "F. T." on November and asked Oswald to send two copies one on Subatomic Physics and another on Biological Research. (321 p. 759)

According to records of Dallas Public Library, 1963 Commerce Street, Dallas, LEE H. OSWALD withdrew a book entitled "The Star and the Sardines" by the date 1963, the book peaks out against the U. S. State Department dealings with the people of South America during the twentieth century. (753 p. 402, 403)

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to the telephone call of Mr. Norman Redlich of your staff on July 22, 1964, requesting the preparation of visual aids depicting the whereabouts of Lee Harvey Oswald after the assassination and the location of eyewitnesses who saw Oswald in the vicinity of the Tippit killing.

Enclosed are four glossy prints each of the following visual aids which were prepared from information selected by the Commission from documented records:

1. Whereabouts of Lee Harvey Oswald between 12:33 P. M. and 1:50 P. M. on November 22, 1963. The distances indicated are based upon speedometer readings recorded by Inspector Leo J. Gauthier while tracing the described route in an automobile on August 17, 1964.

2. Location of eyewitnesses to the movements of Lee Harvey Oswald in the vicinity of the Tippit killing.

The enclosed visual aids were previously approved by Mr. Redlich and comply with his referenced telephone call.

Commission Exhibit No. 1121

Dear Sirs,

As per instructions I am writing to inform you of the process and progress of our visas.

We have approved the local "QUEP" office and the results are not disarming. However, there have been some unusual and erratic stories on my wife at her place of work. While we were still in Mexico, the foreman at her place of work notified that she and I were to leave for the purpose of visas. Then there followed the usual, "story of the people meeting, in which in her absence, she was accosted and her friends at work warned against speaking with her. However, these tactics are quite useless, and my wife stood up well, without getting into trouble.

We are continuing the process and will keep you informed as to the overall picture.

Sincerely yours,
Lee H. Oswald

Dear Sirs:

Here are the copies of the wedding certificate and birth certificate requested by the Embassy in relation with the entrance visas into the U.S. for my wife, Marina N. Oswald.

If other copies of these documents are necessary of if other documents are required please inform us.

Yours truly,
Lee H. Oswald

Dear Sirs,

Since my American passport was stamped "Valid only for direct travel to the U.S." I would like to know if it would be permissible for me to travel through Poland to Berlin by train, when I leave Nurni, since I cannot afford to fly direct from Moscow to New York.

My relations are also unable to help me, financially.

I believe I could catch a military hop back to the States, from Berlin.

If the Embassy can advise or assist me I would appreciate it.

Perhaps a letter from the Embassy explaining my position, which I could then show the military in Berlin, would assist me to get a hop.

I sincerely hope you will give attention to my request.

Thank you

TO: the American Embassy

Dear Sir;

I am hereby requesting the Offices of the American Embassy and the Ambassador of the United States, Pr. Thompson, to act upon my case in regards to my application to the Soviet authorities for an exit visa.

This application was made on July 20, 1961, and although three months have already elapsed I have not received this visa. There was no difficulty with the application itself or with the supporting documents including my valid American passport No. 171752, which was returned to me on July 9, 1961, at the American Embassy in Moscow, where it had been kept for safekeeping.

I have made repeated inquiries to the proper offices in Minsk but have, as yet, to receive a satisfactory answer.

I believe there is justification for an official inquiry, directed to the department of "Internal Affairs, Prop. Stalin 15, Minsk," and the offices of the "address and passport office," Ulitsa Moskova, Colonel Petrashof, director.

Also, I believe it is doubly important for an official inquiry, since there have been systematic and concerted attempts to intimidate my wife into withdrawing her application for an visa. I have notified the Embassy in regard to these incidents by the local authorities in regard to my wife, these incidents had resulted in my wife being hospitalized for a five day

Memorandum

TO: VC - Mr. John E. Oates
FROM: SOV - Robert M. O'Gara

SUBJECT: Operation of Sanctions Exposed by Section 213(g) of the Immigration and Nationality Act in Case of Mrs. Marina N. Oswald

It has come to the attention of SOV that in approving the petition seeking visas, Mrs. Marina N. Oswald non-quo states the fact intended by law. The effect of the visa is to bind the sending government against the issuance of the visa exposed by Section 213(g) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. It would, therefore, be necessary for Mrs. Oswald to proceed to a third country to there apply for a visa to the United States. Instead of receiving a visa at Moscow she has, Leo Harvey Oswald, to document for a return to the US as an alien citizen.

Leo Harvey Oswald is an American citizen, the resident from the US and decided to reside permanently in the Soviet Union. Although he made known to the embassy his infant’s intentions to return to the embassy, he has not received the reply. When the ambassy was contacted with the idea of arriving in the Soviet Union, he requested passport facilities to return to the US. After the consideration of the request, the embassy made the decision that Oswald is still an American citizen; the embassy has been authorized to issue him a passport for return to the US and SOV has authorized a loan of $3000 to enable him to travel to the US with his infant’s wife and presently until arrival.

SOV believes it is in the interest of the US to get Leo Harvey Oswald and his family out of the Soviet Union and in their way to this country as soon as possible. In unstable country, these actions are entirely unpredictable, Oswald may well refuse to leave the USSR or subsequently attempt to return there if we should make it impossible for him to be accompanied from Moscow by his wife and child.

Such action on our part also would permit the Soviet Government to receive a loan which it has issued in order to aid its people. We believe that the separation of a family, the United States Government had imposed a forced separation by refusal to issue for a visa. Accordingly, the Soviet Government in cooperation with the SOV Government in cooperation with the US Government

Also to be considered is the fact that we have granted a loan of $3000, sufficient only to bring the family to New York. There is a strong possibility that a New York or other welfare agency will have to support the family during a stay-over in New York and pay for their onward travel to Texas since Oswald only has a total fund of $700. A doctor to a third country would require additional United States funds.

SOV recommends that the 73b be asked to reconsider an urgent basis its decision regarding the 213(g) waiver for Mrs. Oswald.

In view of the foregoing, it is recommended that a telegram be sent to the Embassy at Moscow advising it to withhold action on the recent G on the subject OPERATIONS: Case of Mrs. Marina N. Oswald. In this connection, the Embassy’s mission No. 2434 of March 15 which asked that a decision on the petition and waiver could be expected, apparently was motivated in part by the fact that Oswald is using his funds while awaiting documentation.

7/152- Mr. Lewis - US Central Office indicated telephonically that case had been carefully considered and decision made at Assistant to Deputy Director's convenience level. Therefore, although not wishing to comment on direction of request. In fact that any further reviewing of case should come from the Branch or Acting Administrator.

Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald,

House 4, Apartment 24,
Minsk, USSR.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

Reference is made to your letter of December 27, 1961, concerning your desire to return to the United States.

The Embassy has not yet been notified of the issuance of Soviet exit visas to you or your wife. Presumably, in your case, an exit visa cannot be issued until you are in possession of a valid passport.

In reply to your questions, a passport can normally be extended at the Embassy within a single full workday if we are informed of your arrival in advance. Following issuance, the passport will be yours to keep until the completion of your travel.

Your wife's immigrant visa application will take somewhat longer to formulate inasmuch as she still lacks an approved visa petition and an affidavit of support or offer of employment. In regard to this latter requirement, there is enclosed an information sheet describing various types of satisfactory evidence which may be submitted in your wife's behalf.

Considering the documentation necessary, you may wish to proceed to the United States alone in order to facilitate the issuance of your wife's visa.

Sincerely yours,

Samuel G. Wise

On November 22, 1963, when Lee Harvey Oswald came to him standing at the bus stop just across the street and Mrs. Earlene Roberts

June 8, 1964

November 27, 1963
6:45 a.m.

Report of my participation in the activities surrounding the assassination of

PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

I awoke at 6:30 a.m. on November 22, 1963. At 7:00 a.m. I looked through the window in the hotel in Fort Worth, Texas which overlooked the parking lot in which provisions had been made for President Kennedy to address the public at 8:30 a.m. At that time there was a considerable gathering. It had been raining and most of the people were in raincoats and carried umbrellas.
Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. O'Brien came into my room and also viewed the area from my window.

At 8:30 a.m. the day was overcast, but the rain had stopped. President Kennedy proceeded to the platform and addressed the very enthusiastic crowd. He then returned to the hotel and had breakfast during which he also made an address which was televised. Following this, he left by motorcade for the airport. The crowds along the road were very enthusiastic.

On arrival in Dallas, Texas there was a long motorcade. Mrs. Lincoln, the President's Secretary, and I were in what Mr. Bohn called the VIP car, which followed the cars containing the local and national representatives. The motorcade proceeded; the crowds on the roadway were overwhelming, large and enthusiastic past the main buildings. As we neared the viaduct, the crowds thinned out somewhat at the square and we made a right turn. As we were about to make this turn, something happened forward but we were not exactly aware what had happened, however, we did realize that something was wrong. Our motorcade then proceeded at a much more rapid rate and went to the Trade Mart. Upon arriving at the Mart, Chief Hendrix and I passed through the dining area and secured the aid of the Secret Service who had no knowledge of the exact whereabouts of the motorcade. Agent Burger commandeered a car and a police escort led us at a rapid rate to the hospital arriving there between three and five minutes following the arrival of the President.

I went directly to the Emergency Room on the ground floor of the hospital and Mrs. Kennedy was seated in a folding chair directly beside the door of the small room in which the President was being observed. I immediately entered the room, went to the head of the table and viewed the President. It was evident that death was imminent and that he was in a hopeless condition. Fluids had been started and he was being given extra cardiac massage. The team was working to supply "O" Rh negative blood and I informed them that his blood group was "O", Pb positive. Due to the nature of the condition my direct services to him at that moment would have interfered with the action of the team which was in progress.

I went out in the corridor and spoke to Mrs. Kennedy. She expressed a desire to be in the room, realizing that death was imminent and that it was so right to be as close as she could, I overrode the protests of some of the people in the room and brought Mrs. Kennedy inside the door where she stood and with my arm protecting her, she momentarily rested her head on my shoulder. At one point she knelt in prayer for a few seconds and then arose and stood quietly. The cardiac pacemaker machine was brought in and was being prepared to be used, however, at this moment one of the doctors said there was no use as his life was gone, which I verified.

I told Mrs. Kennedy that the President was dead. She walked to the table, touched the foot and kissed the instep, then walked to the side of the table and felt his hand. The upper portion of his body was covered with a white cloth. A Priest, name is not known, was in the emergency room during this period and stepped forward and anointed the President and gave the last rites. I asked him to recite the prayers for the dead, which he did and the response was made by Mrs. Kennedy and me. I then walked out of the room with Mrs. Kennedy, who again sat on the chair and expressed her desire to remain with the President's body continually until he was returned to the White House.

At this point, I stopped to someone and asked for the Superintendent of the hospital and with a Secret Service Agent ordered him to get with dispatch a conveyance and a casket to carry the body back to Washington. I spoke to Dr. Clark at this time who was the neurosurgeon in charge of the activity, and informed him that I would like the necessary papers and to expedite departure of the body from that area. At this time the medical examiner for the city of Dallas came in and I explained to him the necessity of quick action. He said that the remains could not be moved and that further examinations would have to be done there as this was a homicide case and they would have to go through procedures at that point. I informed him again that it was essential that we have him moved immediately as Mrs. Kennedy was going to stay exactly where she was until such movement was effected. With some difficulty, one of the local judges appeared and I asked him to make the necessary arrangements. After having called the local sheriff on the phone, some confusion resulted in this delay. By that time the casket had arrived and the body was transferred to it.

I supervised the transfer and the room was vacated. Mrs. Kennedy proceeded to follow the casket. At this point, I again examined the room and they had cleaned the room. The roses which had been in the car with the President were in the wastebasket, however, and two roses which had broken off were lying on the floor. I picked them up and put them in my pocket. I then followed the cortège to the emergency room entrance and rode in the ambulance beside the coffin with Mrs. Kennedy sitting at the head of the coffin on the small chair. Clint Hill was with her; I can not remember exactly who else was at this moment. On the way to the plane, we rode in silence for awhile. I then reached into the pocket and took out the roses I had gotten from the floor and gave them to Mrs. Kennedy saying what they were. She took them, put them in her jacket pocket, smiled and thanked me.

We arrived at the plane and the casket was carried by members of the Secret Service and some of the Air Force people to the Presidential compartment in which the chairs had been removed from one side, and the coffin placed in this area.

Throughout the plane trip, Mrs. Kennedy sat in the vicinity of the coffin talking to Mr. O'Connell and various close members of the party. During the course of the flight, determination of the immediate action on arrival in Washington was made to assure complete compliance with Mrs. Kennedy's wishes. I spoke to her while kneeling on the floor so I would be at the level of her face rather than leaning forward, and expressed complete desire of all of us and especially of myself to comply with her wishes, stating that it was necessary that the President be taken to a hospital prior to going to the White House. She questioned why and I stated it must be determined, if possible, the type of bullet used and compare this with future material found. I stated frankly that I had no preference, that it could be any hospital, but that I did feel that, if possible, it should be a military hospital for security measures. The question was answered by her stating that she wanted the President taken to Bethesda Naval Hospital. Arrangements were made on the ground for departure to Walter Reed Army Hospital or Bethesda Naval Hospital, as the case may be.

Mrs. Kennedy decided that she would accompany the body to Bethesda Naval Hospital and ride in the ambulance. I assured Mrs. Kennedy at this point that I would remain with the President until he was returned to the White House. The body was carried by the Secret Service and assisted by the members of the Air Force "I" crew. The body was removed from the plane by an elevated truck at the level of the exit from the plane. Mrs. Kennedy, the Attorney General, members of the Secret Service and I were on the platform which was lowered to the ground level. The casket was removed by the same group and placed in the waiting ambulance. I was the last to alight from the platform.

Mrs. Kennedy, the Attorney General and Clint Hill rode with the body in the rear compartment of the ambulance. The driver, Paul Landis and I rode in the driver's compartment to the hospital. Mrs. Kennedy upon arrival at the hospital went to the 17th floor with the members of the party. The body was taken to the mortuary where I met it and observed its transfer to the table. The examination was performed by Commander Nurse and members of his staff. Also present were Admiral Kenny, Admiral Galloway, and Captain Canada. General McHugh had remained in the vicinity of the President constantly throughout this time.

I made numerous trips to the 17th floor for reassurance to those in that area and to supply them with some idea of the contemplated departure time. On one of those occasions, Mrs. Kennedy spoke to me in the bedroom.

of the suite expressing her appreciation which was greatly valued by me and which I will long remember. The body of the President was fully clothed in a blue suit, white shirt, tie, socks and shoes. His hair was combed in the usual fashion and his appearance in the casket gave no evidence of the injury he had received. During the examination we received a call from the 17th floor in regard to Mrs. Kennedy's wedding ring which was in place on the ring finger in the appropriate position. This ring I removed personally and carried to her on the 17th floor and gave it to her in person. The original casket which had been used to transport the body from Dallas had been mahogany colored and of metallic composition. This was replaced by a solid mahogany wooden casket. The casket was again placed in the United States Navy ambulance at Mrs. Kennedy's request and Mrs. Kennedy rode in the ambulance section with the Attorney General and Clint Hill. I accompanied the President's body back to the White House where it was taken immediately to the East Room and placed on a dais. On arrival, the guard was stationed and there were several priests who said prayers for the dead. Mrs. Kennedy then at the completion of these rites retired to the second floor.

I have no knowledge as to whether Mrs. Kennedy ever viewed the body after it left the hospital in Dallas.

The following day we had a request for the St. Christopher medal which the President always carried in his wallet. The wallet and the rest of the clothes had been taken into custody of the Secret Service and was obtained by Mr. O'Leary and the St. Christopher medal given to Mrs. Kennedy. It was stated that she wished to have this placed in the casket with the President's body.

II. CONCLUSIONS REGARDING RUSSIA

ROBERT LEE OSWALD, 7313 Davenport Street, Fort Worth, Texas, was on April 27, 1960, employed as a salesman for Hemphill Company of Fort Worth. ROBERT LEE OSWALD stated that he had been a brother of subject who was believed to be in Moscow, Russia. ROBERT related that his brother had obtained an honorable discharge from the U. S. Marine Corps in September, 1959, and after visiting his mother in Fort Worth for a period of about three days left Fort Worth with the expressed intention of going to New Orleans, Louisiana, to resume his former employment in export-import work. ROBERT stated that the entire family was later shocked to learn that subject had gone to Russia where he had renounced his United States citizenship and had applied for citizenship in the Soviet Union.

ROBERT LEE OSWALD also stated that he had never known the subject to have had any sympathy for or connection with communism before this incident occurred.

ROBERT OSWALD stated that he has had no contact in any manner or form with any individual known by him to be a Soviet official or stationed in any way with Soviet establishments. He also stated that so far as he knows, neither his mother nor any other member of this family have had any contact whatsoever with Soviet officials or with Soviet establishments.

ROBERT LEE OSWALD stated that he would immediately contact the FBI in the event he were contacted by Soviet officials. He also stated that neither he nor his mother has been requested to furnish any items of personal identification to the subject in Russia and that in the event he were to receive such a request, he would immediately contact the FBI.

On April 28, 1960, Mrs. MARGUERITE C. OSWALD, who was then employed at Methodist Orphans Home, 111 Harring Avenue, Waco, Texas, volunteered the following information:

Mrs. OSWALD stated that she had been very much upset and uneasy concerning her son, LEE HARVEY OSWALD, since she learned during the Fall of 1959, with much to her surprise that he had gone to Moscow, Russia, where he had renounced his United States citizenship and had apparently sought Soviet citizenship. She stated that following his discharge from the U. S. Marine Corps in September, 1959, he visited her for a few days in Fort Worth and left town stating that he was going to New Orleans, Louisiana, to resume his employment with an export-import company at New Orleans. She stated that subject had engaged in export-import employment for a brief period of time prior to his enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps. Mrs. OSWALD also stated that subject had mentioned something about his desire to travel and said something also about the fact that he might go to Cuba.

Mrs. OSWALD stated that shortly after subject arrived in New Orleans, she received the following letter postmarked at New Orleans, Louisiana, from subject:

"Dear mother:

"Well I have booked passage on a ship to Europe, I would of had to sooner or later, and I think it's best that I do now. Just remember above all else that my values are very different from Roberts or yours.

"It is difficult to tell you how I feel. Just remember this is what I must do. I did not tell you about my plans because you could hardly be expected to understand. Lee."

Mrs. OSWALD stated that she was very much shocked and surprised later to learn that he had gone to Moscow. She stated that she had no idea as to how he arrived there but that she does know that he had saved up about $1000 from his services in the U. S. Marine Corps. She stated that he did not previously discuss with her any intention to go to Moscow, Russia. She also stated that he had never shown any proclivities for the ideologies of communism. She stated that he had never expressed any sympathy for Russia or the communist system. She stated that subject was always a studious type and was informal and that he read books that were considered "dean." Mrs. OSWALD stated that she would not have been surprised to have heard that subject had gone to, 'say, South America or Cuba, but that it had never entered her mind that he might go to Russia or that he might try to go to Russia."

Mrs. OSWALD stated that she would gladly report any contacts made with her by Soviet officials. She volunteered her eagerness to cooperate in any way possible. She stated that she had not been requested to furnish any items of personal identification to subject in Russia. She volunteered the information that subject had taken with him his birth certificate when he left Fort Worth. She promised to advise the FBI immediately in the event any contacts were made with her by Soviet officials or by Soviet establishments in this connection.

A check of the files of Office of Naval Intelligence, Eighth Naval District, U. S. Naval Station in Algiers, Louisiana, on April 18, 1961, revealed that this file contained a Photostat of a telegram from the Department of State, Moscow, dated October 31, 1959, at 7:50 A.M. This telegram stated in part that subject who was twenty years of age and unmarried, carrying passport No. 1752244, issued September 10, 1959, had appeared at the Embassy to renounce his American citizenship and had applied in Moscow for Russian citizenship following his entry into the USSR from Helsinki. This telegram advised further that subject's mother's address in the United States was 4936 Collingwood Street, Fort Worth, Texas. This telegram quoted subject as having said he had contemplated this matter during the last two years. Main reason "American Marxist"; attitude arrogant and aggressive. Subject had recently been discharged from the U. S. Marine Corps. Subject was further quoted as having offered the Soviets any information he had acquired as enlisted radio operator.

On June 28, 1961, Mrs. JAMES E. TAYLOR, 4936 Collingwood Street, Fort Worth, Texas, stated that on or about July 1, 1959, she rented her upstairs west, partly furnished, apartment, to Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD. With Mrs. OSWALD wore her two sons, ROBERT and the subject of this case. Mrs. TAYLOR stated that she had never known the third son, Mrs. TAYLOR stated also that she had never known any member of this family prior to July 1, 1956.

Mrs. TAYLOR stated that subject was a student in Arlington Heights High School and was only about 16 or 17 years of age when the OSWALDS moved to this address. She stated that ROBERT later married and moved with his wife to another address. Mrs. TAYLOR stated that subject was a peculiar boy inasmuch as he read a great deal and kept very much to himself. She stated that she has heard Mrs. OSWALD state that subject read books which were "over his head." Mrs. TAYLOR explained this to mean that he read "goop" books. She stated that she does not know the titles of any of this material which he read. Mrs. TAYLOR stated that she got the impression that subject obtained some of this reading material through the mail. Mrs. TAYLOR stated that she actually felt sorry for the subject inasmuch as it appeared to her that he had few if any friends and no social life. She stated that she pitied the boy because he had never known his father who had died before his birth. She stated that Mrs. OSWALD worked continuously in an effort to support her two boys. Mrs. TAYLOR remarked that she has never seen any one stay at home more closely than did the subject. She stated that Mrs. OSWALD often quarrelled at home for staying at home so closely and on occasion urged him to get out and seek employment but that he preferred to sit at home and read.

Mrs. TAYLOR stated that Mrs. OSWALD was in poor health and extremely nervous and that she often quarrelled very loudly with both ROBERT and the subject.

Mrs. TAYLOR stated that the OSWALDS came to Fort Worth from New Orleans, Louisiana. Mrs. TAYLOR stated that both ROBERT OSWALD and Mrs. OSWALD were extremely shocked and hurt by the action which subject took discovering his United States citizenship and claiming citizenship in Russia.

Mrs. TAYLOR stated that subject enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps while he was residing at 4936 Collingwood Street. She advised that Mrs. OSWALD moved from this address on or about May 1, 1954, and that she has had no contact with the OSWALDS in recent years.

On June 30, 1961, JAMES P. MEHIG 3120 West Fifth Street, Fort Worth, stated that for a period of several months three or four years ago Mrs. ELIZABETH OSWALD resided at 3124 West Fifth Street. He stated that so far as he knows subject had never resided at 3124 West Fifth and MEHIG was unable to furnish any information of value to this investigation.

On June 23, 1961, Dallas Confidential Informants T-3 and T-4 advised that their knowledge of subject is limited to newspaper accounts reporting subject’s defection to Soviet Russia. Dallas T-3 and T-4 advised that subject was not a member of the Communist Party (CP) at Fort Worth and that they have never heard his name mentioned in connection with CP membership.

It is noted that the Communist Party, USA (CP), has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States, pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

O. V. Campbell, Vice President, Texas School Book Depository, Elm and Houston Streets, Dallas, Texas, furnished the following information:

Lee Harvey Oswald, while employed by the Texas School Book Depository from October 16 to November 26, 1963, was paid semi-monthly in cash. He received two payments of $104.41 each on October 31, 1963 and November 15, 1963. In addition he now has pay due him of $63.37 which is unclaimed.

Troy C. Bond, principal, public evening school located at Crozier Tech High School, 2218 Bryan, advised their records indicated Lee H. Oswald, 605 Elbeth, a commercial photographer for Jagger's Printing Company, 532 Browder, enrolled at their school on January 14, 1963. He advised that his age was 23 years and he had gone to high school but did not wish high school credits for this course. He enrolled in a beginner's typing course from January 28, 1963 until he dropped on April 8, 1963. He said he took the course each evening from 6:15 P.M. to 7:15 P.M., and Mrs. Yokum was his teacher. He said the course primarily dealt with the general knowledge of the keyboard. He said he paid a $9.00 tuition fee on January 28, 1963 under Receipt No. 24817.

Mr. Bond advised that Mr. Sealey of the Secret Service talked to them this morning about Oswald's record and they also interviewed Mrs. Yokum, Oswald's teacher, who recalled she kept a little black book on all of her class pupils, but could not recall whether or not she had commented about Oswald. He advised that the Secret Service intended to get in touch with Mrs. Yokum at a later date when she had a chance to review her little black diary.

Honorables J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, Northeast
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

This will confirm a telephonic request received by Mr. George H. Scatterday of this Bureau from Mr. Norman Rodlich of your staff on September 11, 1964, regarding cartons at the Texas School Book Depository;

The approximate weight of each of the Rolling Readors' cartons with contents was eight pounds.

The average weight of each of the other two cartons at the window with contents was fifty-five pounds.

Mr. Roy S. Truly, Warehouse Superintendent, advised there were no cartons on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository which could not be handled by one male individual.

Mr. Scatterday furnished the above information telephonically to Mr. Rodlich on September 11, 1964, pursuant to Mr. Rodlich's request.

Sincerely yours,

Commission Exhibit No. 1131
BARBARA DAUGHTERY, Clerk, Customer Service - Personal, Main Office, Lone Star Gas Company, Service Records, 301 Harwood Street, advised gas service was turned on at 214 West Wesley on receipt of a request made by LEE H. OSWALD. Miss DAUGHTERY advised that from the records she was unable to determine if this had been by phone or had been in person inasmuch as their records did not reflect the manner in which the request had been received, but stated it was the policy of the Lone Star Gas Company to connect service and then request a deposit by mail.

On the date service was connected, March 4, 1963, a letter was addressed to LEE H. OSWALD, 214 West Wesley, requesting a deposit of $10.00. This $10.00 deposit was received by the Lone Star Gas Company on March 8, 1963 and credited under Deposit No. B 91453.

No payments were ever made by OSWALD following his posting of this $10.00 deposit.

Miss DAUGHTERY advised their records reflected the following bills had been mailed to this address from the date service was connected until it was disconnected on October 11, 1963:

- March: $4.15
- April: 2.03
- May: 1.53
- June: 1.53
- July: 1.53
- August: 1.53
- September: 1.53

Since no payment had been received and the unpaid bills exceeded the original $10.00 deposit, on October 11, 1963 service was disconnected and the original $10.00 deposit plus 25% interest which had accrued, was applied toward this $13.83 bill, leaving a balance of $3.48.

Mrs. H. B. DILLARD, Adjustment Clerk, Dallas City Water and Sewage Department, City Hall, Room 103, advised the Dallas City Water and Sewage Department had a signed contract bearing the name L. H. OSWALD, Account No. 15-08-5675, reflecting a $5.00 deposit had been made on March 4, 1963 for service on Meter No. 46016 located 214 West Wesley, Dallas, Texas.

On March 28, 1963, a gross bill of $3.27 was mailed to L. H. OSWALD at 214 West Wesley Street, reflecting service from March 4, 1963 to March 20, 1963 when the water meter had been read. This bill bore a notice that the discount date extended to April 9, 1963 and payment before that time would be $2.97.

Mrs. DILLARD stated that the $2.97 which went through their bookkeeping system on April 4, 1963, would indicate that it was probably paid that day. She did state, however, that bills actually paid late in the afternoon of one day would be run through the bookkeeping department on the following day. Mrs. DILLARD stated there was no method whereby they could definitely ascertain whether or not this $2.97 had been paid late in the afternoon of April 3, 1963 or paid on April 4, 1963.

The next bill mailed by the Water Department to L. H. OSWALD, 214 West Wesley Street, was in the amount of $4.00 net. This bill was not paid by OSWALD. Service continued until May 20, 1963, when service was disconnected and at that time an additional $2.51 bill had accumulated for service, making a total of $6.51. At the time service was disconnected on May 20, 1963 and the $5.00 deposit was applied to this amount, the records of the Water and Sewage Department reflected $1.51 still owing unpaid.

At the time service was disconnected, the apartment was vacant, and, having received no forwarding notice, the original $5.00 deposit was applied toward the accrued water bill.

Commission Exhibit No. 1133
Mrs. DIXIE L. WILSON, Principal Clerk, Selective Service Local Boards 111-114, Houston Building, advised that Selective Service records reflect that LEE HARVEY OSWALD registered on September 14, 1959, with Local Board 114, Ft. Worth, and he has SSN 41-114-39-532. OSWALD was born October 18, 1939, at New Orleans, Louisiana, and resided at 1124 W. 5th Street, Ft. Worth, when he registered. He listed as his nearest relative, a brother, ROBERT OSWALD, 7313 Davenport Street, Ft. Worth. OSWALD served in the U. S. Marine Corps from October 24, 1959, to November 7, 1959, when he was honorably discharged. In the military service he was an electronics operator and his civil occupation was that of a radio operator. On February 2, 1960, OSWALD was classified IV-A.

A newspaper clipping reflected that OSWALD attended Arlington High School one year before he entered the U. S. Marine Corps and he went to Moscow five weeks after his discharge from the Marine Corps.

With regard to Selective Service card bearing the same LEE HARVEY OSWALD, SSN 43-254-39-37, Mrs. WILSON advised that the numeral 43 is a prefix for the state of Vermont and 354 is the indicated Local Board. The state of Vermont has only 14 Local Boards therefore this appears to be an altered card.

With regard to Selective Service card bearing the same ALEX JAMES KIDELL, SSN 42-234-39-5321, Local Board No. 4, Ft. Worth, Texas, Mrs. WILSON advised there is no Local Board No. 4 in Ft. Worth. She stated the numeral 43 is a prefix for the state of Utah and 224 is the indicated Local Board. The state of Utah has only 39 Local Boards therefore this appears to be a fictitious registration card.

Date 12/6/63

Mr. M. W. STEVENSON, Deputy Chief, Criminal Investigative Division, Dallas Police Department, advised that a review of their records failed to reflect that they had ever had LEE HARVEY OSWALD as a suspect in any case in the Dallas Police Department and that OSWALD was unknown to them prior to November 22, 1963, at the time he was arrested in connection with the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY.

Special Agent JOHN H. GRIMES, U. S. Secret Service, made available U. S. Postal Money Order Number 2202120468, in the amount of $21.45, payable to Klein's Sporting Goods, signed A. HIDEH, Post Office Box 2015, Dallas, Texas, issued March 12, 1963, at Dallas, Texas, and endorsed in favor of First National Bank of Chicago by Klein's. This postal money order bears Klein's stamp Number 5991144. The initials of the employee issuing this postal money order are not discernible but appear to be "A.I."

This money order was hand carried to the FBI Laboratory where it was turned over to Special Agent JAMES T. FREEMAN.

It is noted this money order had been handled by various Post Office Department and Secret Service personnel.
H. W. MICHAELIS, Office Manager, George Rose and Company, Inc., 1225 South Grand Avenue, advised that Smith and Wesson .38 revolver, Victory model, with Parkerized finish, bearing serial number V 510210, and assembly number 65248, had been a part of a shipment in one of five cases of similar guns purchased by his company from Empire Wholesale Sporting Goods, Limited, 350 Craig Street West, Montreal, Canada. It was shipped by the latter company to Rose on December 15, 1962, and received by Rose on January 3, 1963, via Acme Fast Freight. This gun originally had a five-inch barrel, but it had been shortened to two and one-half inches, and the original sight then was replaced on the gun by Gunsmith M. L. JOHNSON, 13440 Burbank Boulevard, Van Nuys, California, exact date unknown. This gun was originally received by Rose as a .38 Special with no re-chambering done locally, and no alterations made by Rose's gunsmith, other than to shorten the barrel and reset the sight. MICHAELIS located and furnished a printed mail order form clipped from a publication, which he could not identify, which had been received by his company ordering one "38 ST. W. 2nd BELT" for $29.95. This order transmitted $10 cash, bore an illegible name, which appears to be A. O. or A. J. HIDEEL, age 20, date of order, January 27 (no year shown), Post Office Box 2915, Dallas, Texas. The order was filled out in ink and witnessing the statement thereon that the person ordering the gun was a U. S. citizen, not convicted of a felony, was a name which appeared to be D. E. DITZEL. Also written in ink on the order form was an order for one box of ammunition and one holster, but a line was drawn through these items, cancelling that portion of the order.

The above order was mailed to, and shipped out under the name of Seaport Traders, Inc., 1221 South Grand Avenue, Los Angeles, which MICHAELIS stated is the name under which his company does mail order business.

MICHAELIS also furnished Seaport Traders invoice number A 5371, prepared under date of March 13, 1963, to ship "S & W .38 Special 2" Commando" to A. J. HIDEEL, Post Office Box 2915, Dallas Texas, balance c.o.d. $19.95.

The following information was obtained November 22, 1963, by SA KENNETH J. HASEN from records at the Office of Special Consular Services, U.S. Department of State (USCS):

Records of this agency disclosed a copy of a letter dated March 6, 1960, from Mrs. MARQUERITE OSWALD, 1005 5th Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, to Congressman JIM WRIGHT of Texas, in which she explained her son, a former member of the U.S. Marine Corps (USMC), had gone to Moscow, Soviet Union, in October, 1959, three days after his discharge from the USMC. Her letter explained she had written to her son and enclosed a check for $20 but he had replied by letter advising he was unable to cash the check but needed money. She advised the Congressman she would like assurance that if her son changed his mind he would be in a position financially or otherwise to return home. She sought the assistance of the Congressman for any information he could learn concerning her son. This letter was acknowledged by communication March 21, 1960, to Congressman WRIGHT and by letter March 30, 1960, to Mrs. OSWALD in which it was stated the American Embassy in Moscow had been requested to submit a report concerning his whereabouts. USCS sent a follow-up letter to Moscow June 22, 1960.

This file also contained a memorandum of a conversation January 26, 1961, concerning a meeting attended by Mrs. MARQUERITE OSWALD; Mr. EDWARD J. HICKEY, Deputy Director, Passport Office; Mr. DENNIS F. STANFIELD of the Office of Special Consular Services, and Mr. D. E. BOSTER, Office of Soviet Union Affairs, USCS. This memorandum of conversation is as follows:

"Mrs. OSWALD came in to discuss the situation with regard to her son, LEE OSWALD, who had gone to the Soviet Union and attempted to renounce his citizenship in a visit to the Embassy on October 31, 1959. Mrs. OSWALD said she had come to Washington to see what further could be done to help her son, indicating that she did not feel that the Department had done as much as it should in his case. She also said she thought there was some possibility that her son had in fact gone to the Soviet Union as a U.S. secret agent, and if this were true she wished the appropriate authorities to know that she was destitute and should receive some compensation.

"Mrs. OSWALD was assured that there was no evidence to suggest that her son had gone to the Soviet Union as an 'agent' and that she should dismiss any such idea. With respect to her son's citizenship status, Mr. HICKEY explained that he had not yet taken the necessary steps in order legally to renounce his citizenship. At the same time, we did not know whether he had taken any action which would deprive him of his American citizenship under our laws. Mrs. OSWALD conceded that there was a good possibility that her son was acting in full knowledge of what he was doing and preferred the Soviet way of life. If this were the case, she would respect his right to do so.

"It was agreed that the Department would send a new instruction to the Embassy at Moscow asking that the Soviet Foreign Ministry be informed that Mrs. OSWALD had not heard from her son in several months and was very anxious to have word from him.

"Mrs. OSWALD said that her address at the present time was Box 305, Boyd, Texas."
her son since December, 1959, when he was residing at Hotel Metropole, Moscow. The Embassy was requested to return home and whether she was advised to write to him. By return letter April 7, 1961, SCS advised Mrs. OSWALD there was no reason why she should not communicate with her son and in addition she was briefly informed of the contents of a message set out below dated March 24, 1961, received from the American Embassy in Moscow.

On March 24, 1961, the American Embassy, Moscow, advised the Department of State of the receipt of a letter from OSWALD dated March 20, 1961, and bearing the postmark of Moscow, Russia, and the postmark of Moscow, Russia, dated March 17, 1961. The letter related to the position there and he saw no reason why preliminary inquiries of the Embassy could not be sent to him by questionnaires.

The American Embassy stated in its message March 24, 1961, to the Department of State that the Embassy had written to OSWALD pointing out it was the position of the Soviet Government to interpose no objection to visits to the Embassy by American citizens residing in the Soviet Union; furthermore, in order for the Embassy to determine his citizenship status, a personal interview was desired with OSWALD in order that pertinent statements could be taken under oath before a Consular officer.

By letter April 9, 1961, Mrs. OSWALD advised SCS she felt the inconvenience in coming to Moscow from Minsk and she noted that for her trip to Washington she had borrowed $135 on her life insurance. She further claimed she had been forced to sell personal belongings in order to move back to Fort Worth, Texas, to find work. She said she had a 1954 automobile which she would be willing to sell in order to help her son if such were necessary. She added that a brother of LEE OSWALD had told her LEE had gone over the same accord, so let him get back the same way. In her letter to SCS she stated there were lots of extenuating circumstances in the case.
By communication May 26, 1961, the American Embassy, Moscow, advised the Department of State of the receipt of an undated letter from OSWALD bearing a postmark May 16, 1961, Minsk, Russia. In this OSWALD stated he desired full guarantees he would not be persecuted under any circumstances for any acts pertaining to this case, should he return to the U.S. OSWALD stated if this "condition" could not be met he would try to have relatives see about getting something done in Washington. In this letter OSWALD stated he was married to a Russian woman who wanted to accompany him to the U.S. He added his status with the Soviet Union was the same as before, "without citizenship." The Embassy letter pointed out that if OSWALD's designation as "without citizenship" was so described in his Soviet internal passport, such would be prima facie indication the Soviet Government would not regard him as a Soviet citizen. The Embassy stated it thus appeared OSWALD had not yet expatriated himself under Section 349 (a) (1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952. The Embassy cautioned against mailing OSWALD's passport to him and stated the Embassy would request instructions from the Department of State before granting him a passport or a Certificate of Identity; further inquired whether OSWALD should be considered entitled to protection of the U.S. Government abroad under these circumstances. By letter June 21, 1961, the Department of State Security and Consular Services furnished a brief summary of this matter to the mother of OSWALD.

By communication July 11, 1961, the Embassy in Moscow reported OSWALD had appeared at the Embassy July 8, 1961, relative to his desire to return to the U.S. with his wife. On that occasion he executed a questionnaire concerning possibly expatriating acts and lengthy questioning of him furnished no evidence of any action which might have caused him to lose his U.S. citizenship. On this occasion OSWALD exhibited to Embassy officials his Soviet internal "stateless" passport number 311479 issued January 14, 1960, at Moscow, considered to be prima facie evidence OSWALD was not regarded as a Soviet citizen. On the occasion of this interview OSWALD claimed he never had applied for Soviet citizenship and he related that since January 13, 1960, he had been employed at the Belorussian Radio and Television Factory, Minsk, as a metal worker in a research shop. He further claimed he took no oath and signed no papers for employment and he asserted his earnings were 90 rubles a month. OSWALD stated he did not join any trade union organization; never had been called upon to make any radio, press or personal statements concerning his decision to live in the Soviet Union. He stated he had been interviewed briefly at the Metropol Hotel in Moscow on the third day after his arrival by Radio Moscow but only a few routine contacts were made of no political significance.

This communication dated July 11, 1961, from the American Embassy further advised OSWALD claimed never to have been subjected to questioning or briefing by Soviet authorities concerning his life before entering the Soviet Union and he had never provided such information to any Soviet organization. He further stated he doubted that he would have given any information acquired as a radar operator in the USHC despite statements made at the Embassy on October 31, 1959. The Embassy communication stated OSWALD exhibited some anxiety over possible imprisonment for his remaining in the Soviet Union and OSWALD was told informally by Embassy officials they did not perceive on what grounds he might be prosecuted leading to lengthy imprisonment; however, OSWALD was clearly informed Embassy officials could give him no assurances concerning prosecution and this was understood by OSWALD.

OSWALD further advised the Embassy he was married April 30, 1963, to KARINA NIKOLOEVA PICHKOVA, a dental technician, and he was arranging for his wife to join him in Moscow for the purpose of an interview concerning possible arrangements to come to the U.S. OSWALD's passport was returned to him made valid only for return to the U.S. for the purpose of his making an application for a Soviet exit visa in Minsk. The Embassy communication continued with the comment, "Twenty months of the realities of life in the Soviet Union have clearly had a maturing effect on OSWALD."

He stated frankly that he had learned a hard lesson the hard way and that he had been completely relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union at the same time he acquired a new understanding and appreciation of the U.S. and the meaning of freedom. Much of the arrogance and bravado which characterized him on his first visit to the Embassy appears to have left him." Oswald on this occasion stated that he had been in contact with his mother and a brother in the U.S.; that he had about 200 rubles and he and his wife would save more money for eventual costs of travelling to the U.S.

By letter August 16, 1961, the Office of Special Consular Services (OSS) informed Oswald's mother briefly of this report from the American Embassy in Moscow, citing his desire to return to the United States with his wife and at the same time noting that he had been in touch with his mother and brother.

By communication October 12, 1961, the American Embassy furnished to the Department of State the texts of three letters from Oswald received between July, 1961 and October, 1961 in which Oswald detailed his difficulties in obtaining Soviet exit visas for himself and his wife and noting they were subject of increasing harassment in Minsk. He requested the Embassy to make some official inquiry concerning the visa applications of himself and wife but the Embassy advised it had informed Oswald there was no way of influencing Soviet action on applications for exit visas. The Embassy also noted it had advised Oswald his wife's visa petition to come to the United States had not yet been approved.

By communication January 16, 1962, the American Embassy in Moscow forwarded copies of correspondence between Oswald and the Embassy, the Embassy noted he had been issued a new Soviet residence permit valid until July 5, 1962 and that Oswald had been assured by Soviet authorities of exit documentation upon request, valid for 45 days. This communication further advised OSS of notification by Soviet authorities of the assurance of a foreign passport for Mr. Oswald together with an exit visa valid until December 1, 1962. It was stated Oswald desired to delay his departure until his wife's application for an immigration visa to the United States was in order and Oswald further advised his wife was expecting a child in March, 1962. The Embassy stated Oswald also raised the question of a loan of money for repatriation and the Embassy requested the Department of State to furnish appropriate advice. In reply the Department of State advised the American Embassy in Moscow that Oswald's mother was endeavoring to raise money but her success appeared to be doubtful; further, a loan would not be approved without receipt of an application according to regulations.

By letter January 25, 1962, the Security and Consular Services advised Oswald's mother of the last developments and requested her advice concerning the source of repatriation funds.
The SCS file reflected that on January 24, 1962 the Department of State telephoned the International Rescue Committee (IRC) at 251 Park Avenue, New York City concerning possible payment of transportation costs for the Oswald family from the Soviet Union. In reply the IRC advised the State Department it had received information concerning this case but was unable to take any action; however, any event IRC would not furnish funds for return since this organization handled only refugee cases. On February 1, 1962 SCS, in reply to an inquiry from Mrs. Oswald, advised her that IRC assistance would be possible only for the wife of Oswald and further pointed out it was doubtful that her suggestion of publicizing her son's story with an appeal for help would offer any solution to his problem.

On February 9, 1962 SCS forwarded to Senator JOHN T. TOWER of Texas copies of correspondence between OSWALD and SCS dating between July, 1961 and January, 1962. It was noted that copies of correspondence sent to Senator TOWER by OSWALD were not available. The file reflected in correspondence between the American Embassy and the State Department during February and March, 1962 concerning details of the repatriation plan that a daughter had been born to the wife of OSWALD on February 15, 1962. It was noted as of January, 1962 the address of the mother of OSWALD was Box 505, Vevan, Texas.

The SCS file contained a letter May 25, 1962 from the mother of OSWALD at 316 East Dennett, Crowley, Texas, in which she explained the inability to raise funds; pointed out that OSWALD had spent three years in the Marine Corps and a brother had spent four years in the United States Air Force and that the circumstances which sent LEE to Moscow are the same as those keeping him there - lack of money. In a letter to Mrs. OSWALD in Texas dated June 1, 1962 she was advised that her son and his family were departing Moscow on that date en route to Rotterdam, Holland, where they would sail on the SS "Maasdam" due to arrive in New York City June 15, 1962.

Records of the Office of Finance, United States Department of State (OF), reviewed by SA KENNETH J. HASER on November 22, 1963 reflected LEE HARVEY OSWALD signed a promissory note June 1, 1962 at the Embassy of the United States, Moscow, Russia, for the loan of $395.71 for purposes of transportation of himself and family to the United States. This loan record account number for LEE HARVEY OSWALD is 56210 and reflected as of July 26, 1962 an original debt of $395.71.

SA HASER on November 27, 1963 ascertained information concerning the repayment of OSWALD's promissory note to the Department of State:

A remittance of $10 cash dated August 7, 1962 was received August 13, 1962 from OSWALD at 7313 Haven Street, Fort Worth, Texas. Receipt of this payment was posted August 14, 1962 and identified as Deposit Document Number 50 dated August 15, 1962.

Another remittance dated September 1, 1962 was received September 5, 1962 and consisted of a United States postal money order for $9.75, money order number 11-5584762 from OSWALD, 2703 Mercedes Street, Fort Worth, Texas. This record was posted in Department State records September 6, 1962 and payment is reflected on State Deposit Document 78 dated September 7, 1962.

A remittance consisting of a $10 postal money order number 11-5584856 was dated October 6, 1962 and received October 10, 1962 from OSWALD, 2703 Mercedes Street, Fort Worth, Texas. This payment was posted October 11, 1962 and recorded on State Deposit Document 177 dated October 12, 1962.

United States postal money order number 11-55838702 for $10 dated November 19, 1962 was received November 19, 1962 from OSWALD, Box 2915, Dallas, Texas. This payment was posted to the account November 20, 1962 and payment recorded on State Deposit Document 171 dated November 21, 1962. On December 11, 1962 a remittance dated December 7, 1962 in the amount of $100 was received in two postal money orders in the amounts of $100 and $90. These were postal money orders bearing numbers 11-55838496 and 11-55838457, respectively; both from OSWALD, Box 2915, Dallas, Texas. The payments were posted on Department of State records December 12, 1962 and recorded on State Deposit Document 199 dated December 13, 1962.

On January 9, 1963 a $100 postal money order number 2-202000060 dated January 5, 1963 was received from OSWALD, Box 2915, Dallas, Texas. The payment was posted on State Department records January 10, 1963 and recorded on State Deposit Document 220 dated January 11, 1963.

On January 29, 1963 a payment of $106 was received in the form of two money orders dated January 25, 1963. These postal money orders were serial numbers 2,192,693,534 and 2,202,000,535 in the amounts of $100 and $6, received from OSMAND, Box 2915, Dallas, Texas. The payments were posted February 7, 1963 and the account marked "paid in full" recorded in State Deposit Document 258 dated February 11, 1963.

Files of the Office of Finance, Department of State reflect that on January 11, 1963 the Department of State wrote to OSMAND at Post Office Box 2915, Dallas, Texas, noting there had been mailed to him a receipt for $10 which should have been for the amount $100 and apologized for the error. This file also contains five undated letters and one letter dated December 29, 1962 in which were enclosed notifications of credit for his various payments to his account.

It will be noted that when the Department of State Office of Finance ledger card on the OSMAND account originally was reviewed, the final bookkeeping date was shown as 2/7/63, but a later review of this record reflects the Department of State has corrected this date to 2/7/63 which is the correct date as reflected by supporting documents.

With regard to the five United States postal money orders dated September 1, 1962, October 6, 1962, November 14, 1962 and December 7, 1962, Mr. HERBERT MARKS, Finance Office, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., advised SA JOHN J. GOMAN on November 29, 1963 the originals of the five money orders presently are located at the Post Office Money Order Center, Kansas City, Missouri.

With regard to the three money orders dated January 5, 1963 and January 25, 1963 the following information was obtained by SA GOMAN on November 29, 1963:

Mr. CHARLES E. MC CUNGER, Federal Records Center, Alexandria, Virginia, made available the originals of three United States postal money orders described as follows:

Money order number 2,202,000,050 dated January 5, 1963 was issued at the Dallas, Texas, General Post Office in the amount of $100 payable to the Department of State. This money order reflected the signature of the purchaser as LEE H. OSMAND, Box 2915, Dallas, Texas. Money order 2,203,025,934 dated January 25, 1963 in the amount of $100 payable to the Department of State was purchased at the Dallas Post Office and the name and address of purchaser did not appear thereon. Money order number 2,203,003,536 dated January 25, 1963 in the amount of $6 was purchased at the General Post Office, Dallas, Texas, on that date and made payable to the Department of State. It was noted the name and address of purchaser did not appear on this money order.

Additional information noted by SA HASEN in the file of the Office of Special Consular Services, United States Department of State reflected a copy of the promissory statement signed by LEE HARVEY OSWALD on June 1, 1956 at Moscow and witnessed by WINDFRED WILLIAMS at the American Embassy. This statement outlined the cost of transporting his family as $418 plus 106,96 rubles. OSWALD contributed 50 rubles toward the price of his rail tickets so the total obligation amounted to $418.71. At this time OSWALD agreed to repay this sum with the understanding he would not be furnished a passport for foreign travel until his obligation to the United States Government was liquidated. In this statement he also authorized repayment of his loan from any moneys due him from the Veterans Administration or any other United States Government agency.

On November 23, 1963 SA HASEN ascertained the Bureau of European Affairs, Department of State, had additional information concerning OSWALD. It was noted the American Embassy, Moscow had notified the Department of State of the receipt of a letter dated November 3, 1959 from OSWALD, then at the Metropole Hotel, Moscow, Russia. This letter from OSWALD is set forth as follows:

"I, Lee Harvey Oswald, do hereby request that my present United States citizenship be revoked.

I appeared in person, at the consulate office of the United States Embassy, Moscow, on Oct. 31st, for the purpose of signing the formal papers to this effect. This legal right I was refused at that time.

I wish to protest against this action, and against the conduct of the official of the United States consular service who acted on behalf of the United States government.

"My application, requesting that I be considered for citizenship in the Soviet Union is now pending before the Surpudey Soviet of the U.S.S.R. In the event of acceptance, I will request my government to lodge a formal protest regarding this incident."

"/S/ Lee Harvey Oswald"

With regard to this letter from Oswald, the American Embassy advised the Department of State that reply was being made to Oswald, reiterating his right to renounce citizenship but pointing out that only renunciation in a manner prescribed by law would be valid and as he had been informed on October 31, 1963, if he appeared at the Embassy on a normal business day and made the request, necessary documents for his citizenship renunciation would be prepared.

Files of the Bureau of European Affairs also contained a memorandum dated January 24, 1962 from the American Embassy in Moscow advising that Oswald had informed the Embassy on January 15, 1962 he would not consider proceeding to the United States alone for any reason, particularly since it seemed his passport would be confiscated upon his arrival. It further pointed out Oswald pressed for action on the petition for an American visa for his wife and in support thereof submitted affidavits stating he was fully employable in fields of metals and engineering. The Embassy advised on this occasion Oswald had been informed there was considerable doubt about the adequacy of his supporting affidavits and suggested that in order to meet the public charge provision of his wife's admission to the United States, he should get supporting affidavit from a close relative in the United States.

Mr. JOHN E. HEVRON, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, New Orleans Public Service, Inc., 317 Baronne Street, advised that his company's records show that the electric and gas meters at the apartment rented by LEE HARVEY OSWALD, 4907 Magazine Street, were read on May 24, 1963, and a bill was rendered for $2.85 which was due on or before June 17, 1963. The records do not show the date this bill was paid or whether the payment was made by cash or check.

The electric and gas meters were read on June 25, 1963 and a bill of $2.23 was rendered and was paid in cash on July 17, 1963. The electric and gas meters were again read on July 25, 1963 and a bill for $5.54 was rendered, which bill was paid in cash on August 12, 1963.

The meters were again read on August 26, 1963 and a bill for $10.32 was rendered. This bill was not paid on or before September 17, 1963, the due date, and therefore the penalty was added to the bill, which on that date became a total of $11.30.

The meters were read again on September 25, 1963 and a bill of $11.02 was rendered, which was due to be paid on or before October 17, 1963. This bill was not paid and therefore after October 17 the penalty of $.79 was assessed, making the total amount owed to the New Orleans Public Service $12.17. Deducting the deposit of $10 which was made by Oswald at the time he applied for electric and gas service, plus the interest earned on this deposit of $.20, the net amount owed to the Public Service was $12.97.
Patrolman ROBERTS, JR., advised he is currently assigned to the First District, New Orleans Police Department, having been formerly assigned to the Intelligence Unit. He said he resides at 7754 Abajia Street, home telephone number Y/K 3-6174.

Patrolman ROBERTS said that Le was one of the several officers who attempted to interview OSWALD at the First District Station following the arrest of OSWALD on August 9, 1963 for disturbance. He said OSWALD was not interviewed separately but in the presence of the three Cubans also arrested and the arresting officers. He said he was actually present with OSWALD for approximately 15 minutes and that in his opinion, the interview was highly unsatisfactory due to the numerous individuals present and the confusion of the moment.

Patrolman ROBERTS stated that he did recall OSWALD answering questions in a mechanical manner, much like a machine that could be turned on and off. He said OSWALD refused to furnish information about members of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee in the New Orleans area and would not, in the presence of Patrolman ROBERTS, state whether he was a communist. He said OSWALD informed him that he could not understand the attitude of the United States toward Cuba. In this regard, OSWALD was said to have indicated he had joined the Fair Play for Cuba Committee to help foster "good relations" between these two countries. OSWALD had paid a $5.00 membership fee to join the Committee and did have a SS0-00 membership card to join the Committee and did have written to OSWALD that he would like to have interviewed him and joined OSWALD's committee, but OSWALD said he could not understand the card and would not answer questions directly.

Patrolman ROBERTS said that he did not recall OSWALD stating that he had been laid off from his employment with the Luaianne Coffee Company. Patrolman ROBERTS concluded by saying that he did not recall OSWALD stating that he had been in Louisiana.

PATRICIA LA CAZE, 4908 Danneel Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised that she has been engaged to ROGER J. HAYDEL, JR., 1935 Upperline Street, for the past two years. She said that she met HAYDEL in November, 1961, just after his release from Angola or the Orleans Parish Prison, where she had served eight months for bad checks. She said that they had been steady companions since that time. She said that she was residing at 311 Lopes Street at the time she met HAYDEL and moved to 5003 Magazine Street a month later. She said she stayed there a short time and then moved to her present address. She stated that HAYDEL operates his business, R. J. Electrical Service, from her residence (telephone 891-5365) for approximately two years.

She said that she has an invoice, Number 18643, from the Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation, 1530 Carondelet Street, showing that R. J. Electrical Service purchased four ultra nylon white tires, 800 x 14, amounting to $101.80 on November 21, 1962. She said that HAYDEL went to the Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation personally to purchase these tires and had to open up a charge account in order to pay for them. She said that she knows all of HAYDEL's friends and is sure that LEE HARVEY OSWALD is not one of them. She said that she believes HAYDEL had never seen OSWALD until his picture appeared in the newspapers and on television during the investigation of the assassination of President KENNEDY.

She said HAYDEL signed several forms at the Lee Rubber and Tire Corporation at the time he opened this account and was sure that his handwriting could be verified in order to definitely establish that it was he who bought the tires at that establishment and not anyone else.

not in a position to furnish any more identifying data concerning this employee without examining his file.

HEVRON stated that to the best of his knowledge, Secret Service Agent VIAI informed him that supposedly R. J. HAYDEL, JR., was connected with the R. J. Electric Company at 4909 Daneel Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, and requested that this address and name be searched through Public Service files to determine if any record might be found of service at this location. HEVRON stated that a check revealed that no service had been installed at 4909 Daneel Street, however, application for installation of such service had been made on March 22, 1962, by a person who listed his name as J. LACAZE, 4909 Daneel Street, who identified his former residence as 5306 Magazine Street, Apartment 7, and furnished the following telephone numbers:

TW. 9-0334

HEVRON stated that the subject of the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY had such a profound effect upon him that he had followed very carefully all newscasts and newspaper accounts and added that if he was not mistaken, he recalled hearing a report somewhere that circulars bearing the words "Hands Off Cuba" had been passed out at New Orleans, Louisiana, by OSWALD sometime in August, 1963, and some of these circulars bore the name HYDEL or HAYDEL with a Post Office Box at New Orleans, Louisiana, of 30016.

Mrs. ERNA L. DEILMACY, Traveler's Aid Society, 211 Camp Street, advised that a review of her records under the name LEE JAMES OSWALD, LEE JAMES HIDELL, ALEX under the name LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AL EX JAMES HIDELL, ALEX J. HIDELL, A. J. HIDELL, A. T. HIDELL, O. H. LEE and Y. T. LEE, failed to locate any reference in her records to such names.
Mrs. KATHERINE M. JUBIN, Director of Community Information Service, Social Welfare Planning Council, 211 Camp Street, advised that a review of her records under the names LEE HARVEY OSWALD, ALEX JAMES HIDELL, A. J. HIDELL, A. T. HIDELL, O. H. LEE and V. T. LEE failed to locate any reference to her records to such names.

Mrs. JUBIN advised many times that people not eligible for benefits from the Louisiana Department of Welfare were referred to her to determine what, if any, agency such people could receive aid from. Mrs. JUBIN pointed out that OSWALD would not have qualified for benefits from the Louisiana Department of Public Welfare and she was of the opinion that the Traveler’s Aid Society would have been the most likely agency that she would have referred OSWALD to had he come to her for counsel. Mrs. JUBIN advised she generally makes a record of all individuals coming to her service but on occasion when her only connection was simply to refer a person to another agency that no record would be kept.

He is the investigator for the Retail Credit Company, New Orleans.

After viewing a copy of a report dated May 16, 1963, concerning LEE HARVEY OSWALD, 737 French Street, New Orleans, he said he had conducted the investigation concerning OSWALD under Account No. 6605, which is the number for Standard Coffee Company, New Orleans. He stated that the notation at the top of the report "two associates and two personal associates of Osvald" made reference to the fact that he had interviewed OSWALD's aunt in addition to two personal associates.

Under Item No. 1 "informants", the notation "1½ yrs - 2yrs" meant the two associates he interviewed knew OSWALD for 1½ years and two years respectively.

He said he had no recollection concerning the identities of the associates but that the aunt's name was something like MURIEL and lived on French Street, New Orleans.

DESMARE said the requesting company, in this case Standard Coffee Company, made a card listing the names of references and associates which he assumed were taken from application forms. It was his opinion that the names of the associates he interviewed were probably on the application in the files of Standard Coffee Company.

It was later brought to his attention that the two associates listed on the application were Sgt. ROBERT MURIEL, on active duty with the U. S. Marines and Lt. J. EVANS, on active duty with the U. S. Marines, in addition to JOHN MURIEL, 737 French Street, New Orleans.

DESMARE said he was unable to explain this other than to say that he must have interviewed someone at some place or he would not have reported it.

He said if he had interviewed the Marines he could not recall where it might have been other than possibly the Custom House in New Orleans.

Mr. VINCENT IMBORNONE, Clerk, Retail Credit Company, Room 302, 2151 Canal Street, furnished a carbon copy of a Retail Credit Company report, form 1630 dated May 18, 1963, and authorized that duplicate copies of this form could be made by the FBI but requested that the form furnished be returned to his office.

He stated that at the top of this form the notation "intv Aust and two personal associates of subject" apparently meant that the individual who conducted the investigation relative to this report and wrote this report had interviewed an aunt of LEE HARVEY OSWALD as well as two personal associates of OSWALD in New Orleans.

He advised that the report furnished bore the initials "HCD" and explained that the person writing this report for his company was HENRY COR DESEMBA, residence 2635 Ursuline Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, residence telephone Hunter 8-7570. He added that this individual was a supervisor for the Retail Credit Company.

Mr. IMBORNONE stated that a search of the files of this company for the following listed names was made and no records identifiable with these persons were located: A. J. HIGGINS, ABA HIGGINS, ALEX HIGGINS.

Miss CECELIE GARDNER, Supervisor of File Unit, New Orleans Retailers' Credit Bureau, Masonic Temple Building, advised her records reflect a file on a Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD.

Miss GARDNER related that on May 17, 1964, Maison Blanche Department Store, New Orleans, requested a credit clearance on Mrs. OSWALD. At this time the credit bureau's file failed to reveal any previous record for this individual.

A telephonic inquiry was made by Operator 32 which developed the following information:

Mrs. OSWALD was described as a white female, 40-45 years of age, and a widow. Her dependent at that time was shown as one son "not further identified". Her employer was listed as Burt's Shoe Store, 1117 Canal Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, which business was a shoe store. Mrs. OSWALD was reported to have been a saleslady at that store and had been employed in that capacity for a two month period. The report showed that Mrs. OSWALD had a record of steady employment. Further that her character, habits and morals were well regarded. In addition to this, no information was developed indicating any illegal practice on the part of Mrs. OSWALD at any time. Her income was shown as $40.00 per week and that she resided.

Miss GARDNER further stated that the following comments were made with reference to Mrs. OSWALD at this time:

"Subject came to this city years ago and has resided at the above address for two months. She was formerly employed by Lady Orrs Hosier Shop, NY Co. for 9 months as a saleslady but for the past 2 months has been employed as above. Subject also has 2 sons in the service."

Miss GARDNER advised her records failed to reveal any credit experience with individuals having the names of A. T. HIBELL or O. H. LEE.

Miss GARDNER said that her records did indicate a credit file on a LEE OSWALD, whose wife was MARGUERITE OSWALD. This individual was identified on January 25, 1934 as having been an Agent for the previous seven years with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. She stated that this account has not been active since 1939.

Mrs. EARLINE DOBRONICH, Credit Manager, Bennett’s Photographic Store, 320 Baronne Street, advised that when picture of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was shown on television she said to herself she had seen that individual before. She related that it was her recollection that either two or three months ago, date unrecallable, and no way to pinpoint the date, this individual had come to her department and submitted a credit application. She said that the reason she remembered it so well was that the person who had applied for credit had the last name of OSWALD. What this person’s first name was she could not say. Why the person was applying for credit, she could not recall, but added it must have been for supplies since it was her recollection that the credit card which was partially filled out was yellow in color. This is the type of card that would be used for supplies rather than credit for equipment. Mrs. DOBRONICH said this person left but did not return. She kept the partially completed application on her desk for sometime. When she decided that the person apparently was not coming back she did something with the application, but could not recall what. She said that she had looked through all of her records but was unable to locate the application. She said there was a possibility that she had destroyed this application.

Mrs. DOBRONICH could not recall any of the details that were on the application and since she could not find the application, she now questioned in her own mind whether the person’s name was actually OSWALD.

Since she could not locate this application she said that she called the New Orleans Retailers Credit Bureau and inquired as to whether or not BENNETT’s even made an inquiry concerning LEE HARVEY OSWALD and was informed that they had no record whatsoever of OSWALD. Mrs. DOBRONICH said that it is a normal procedure when she makes an inquiry with reference to someone in the Credit Bureau that even though a record is not found, the Credit Bureau does prepare a card on the individual indicating that an inquiry had been received by BENNETT. She added that if she had been able to locate any record on OSWALD it was her plan to call the FBI, but since she could locate nothing in her files, she did not contact the FBI since the question in her mind now was whether or not the individual she had in mind was actually named OSWALD.

Mrs. DORRONICH examined all the applications for employment in BENNETT's and could find no application for OSWALD.

A photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD taken August 9, 1963 by New Orleans Police Department, New Orleans, Louisiana, their number 112723 was displayed to Mrs. DORRONICH. After seeing the photograph she could not associate this face with the individual that she thought was OSWALD. She related that a further effort would be made to locate the application she had in mind and if it was located she would immediately advise the FBI Office.

Miss CECILE GARDENER, in charge of file department, New Orleans Retailers Credit Bureau, Masonic Temple Building, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised that file clerk MARGARET BUDENICH had informed her that on November 22, 1963 she had received an inquiry from the Credit Office of Bennett's Photographic Store, 320 Baronne Street as to whether or not they had made any previous inquiry on LEE HARVEY OSWALD. Miss GARDENER said that BUDENICH informed the caller that they had not.

Miss GARDENER said she inquired of BUDENICH the identity of the caller from Bennett's. BUDENICH was not able to tell her the individual's name, but said that she recognized the voice as being the person who always called Bennett's from their Credit Department.
Mr. Joseph B. Toner, manager, New Orleans Retailers' Credit Bureau, Inc., Masonic Temple Building, advised that Mr. J. D. Vinson of the Isaac Detective Agency, Room 408 Richards Building, New Orleans, had come to the credit bureau on November 27, 1963 and requested that the following names be checked through the files:

Lee Harvey Oswald, Wife Marina
Robert Lee Oswald
A. J. Hidell, Post Office Box 30016
Forrest B. La Violette
Leonard Reissman
Carlos Bringuier, 501 Adell Street

Mr. Toner stated he told Mr. Vinson that his inquiry regarding Oswald would be reported to the New Orleans FBI Office.

II. INVESTIGATION RELATIVE TO SUBJECT'S TRAVEL

NO T-2 informed that Mexican Tourist Card No. 24085, good for fifteen days' travel in Mexico from the date of issuance, was issued on September 17, 1963, to LEE HARVEY OSWALD, of 4907 Magazine Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. This application reflected OSWALD was 23 years of age, married, a photographer by profession, and allegedly employed at 840 Rampart Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. He showed proof of American citizenship by presenting a birth certificate and claimed to be taking $300.00 to Mexico as an in transit tourist for a period of fifteen days and that his travel would be via bus.

NO T-2 stated that the "in transit tourist travel" means that the traveler, namely OSWALD, intended to travel out of Mexico to some other country; however, his records did not reflect to what locale OSWALD would travel.

He stated two copies of the tourist card are issued, one would be picked up by Mexican Immigration authorities at OSWALD's point of entry into Mexico and the second copy would be picked up at the time he left Mexico. He suggested that if OSWALD traveled by bus, as indicated in his application, he would have entered Mexico most probably at Laredo or Roma on the Mexican border.

He stated there is no return made to the New Orleans Mexican Consulate concerning this issued tourist card but that the tourist card is returned finally to Mexican Immigration Authorities, namely Secretaria De Governacion, Calle Bucareli # 99, Mexico D.F., Mexico. He stated these records would show if OSWALD traveled to some other country after arriving in Mexico.

In addition to the fifteen day tourist cards issued by the Mexican Consulate, there are six-month tourist cards issued, which cards would be used within ninety days from the date of issuance but which are valid for a period of six months in Mexico from the date of entry. These tourist cards are issued for $3.00.

Both the fifteen-day tourist card applications and the six-month tourist card applications were reviewed and they failed to show any references to HIDELL, RUBY, or RUBENSTEIN.

In addition to the tourist card issued to OSWALD on September 17, 1963, there were nine additional fifteen-day tourist cards issued and there were nine additional six-month tourist cards issued.

The FM-8 bears No. 24085 and was issued on September 17, 1963, by the Mexican Consulate General in New Orleans, Louisiana. As noted above, it was issued in the name of LEE, HARVEY OSWALD. It would appear that the comma was placed on the card in error inasmuch as the signature appearing on the original and duplicate portions of the FM-8 is LEE H. OSWALD. OSWALD listed his profession as "photographer," stated that he was 23 years of age and married, and presented a birth certificate as proof of his citizenship. The FM-8 was valid for a single journey to Mexico for a period of fifteen days.

Persons departing Continental Trailways Bus, Houston, Texas, at 2:35 A.M., arrive at Corpus Christi, Texas, at 5:15 P.M. At that point, they change buses, boarding bus No. 304, and departing Corpus Christi at 6:30 A.M. This bus then travels to Alice, Texas, arriving at 10:05 A.M., and connects with Continental Trailways Bus arriving from Dallas and San Antonio. Bus No. 304 then departs Alice, Texas, at 10:15 A.M., arriving at Laredo at 11:20 P.M.

At the top of the manifest the name, Transportes Frontera, is handwritten, and in Spanish the following headings are printed:

RESERVATIONS FOR 13 O’CLOCK, DESTINATION Laredo, DEPARTURE NO. 2,
ON BUS NO. 340, DATE 2, MONTH, October of 1963.

The underlined portions are blanks which had been completed in ink.

Following the list of passengers is the notation:
"9 Laredo, 7 Monterrey."

"DRIVER, DIGNISIO REYNA, FCO. SAUCEDO," as well as the numbers "13 - 2."

On the left-hand margin of the manifest are the handwritten figures, "78" and "19." At the top right-hand corner thereof are the numerals "136," "41" and under these "227." On the backside of the document are the numbers "143.30" and "108.50" and thereunder, as though a column of addition, "235.10."

The following information was made available by T-13 on March 9, 1964:

On March 5, 1964, GILBERTO LOZANO GUZAR advised that he is the manager of the Mexico City terminal of the Transportes Frontera bus company, Calle Buenavista No. 7, which has a franchise for "through service" between Mexico, Laredo.
D. F., Monterey, and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, but is not permitted to sell tickets or pick up passengers at intermediate localities.

LOGANO stated a complete study of Transportes Frontera bus company records and procedures had been made which resulted in the conclusion that the person designated as "OSWLD" on the October 2, 1963, passenger manifest did not purchase a ticket and could not have traveled on the trip to which it relates. He pointed out that the passenger reservations, tickets sold, and passengers actually boarding the bus in Mexico, D. F., are recorded on the form which is provided for that purpose and maintained on a clip board on the counter from which ticket sales normally are made by the ticket salesman and dispatcher, FRANCISCO ALVARADO. He admitted that ALVARADO occasionally is assisted during rush hours or a temporary absence from the counter by the baggage handler, LUCIO LOPEZ MEDINA, who may receive and record reservations on the manifest but does not handle the actual receipt of payment for tickets.

FRANCISCO ALVARADO, ticket salesman and dispatcher for Transportes Frontera, advised that he prepared most of the handwriting on the October 2, 1963, manifest on which the name "OSWLD" and destination "Laredo" appear opposite seat No. 4. He stated he did not write the "OSWLD" reservation information and it was his opinion the reservation had been made and the information recorded by the baggage handler, LUCIO LOPEZ. With respect to the manifest for October 2, 1963, ALVARADO furnished the following explanation:

He was quite certain that the individual designated on the list as "OSWLD" did not purchase a ticket and did not travel on the trip relating to that manifest. No ticket number was recorded for that person, and a search of the company's records in Monterrey had failed to locate a ticket stub which was not otherwise accounted for in connection with that particular trip.

time, and Robert Oswald furnished shelter and food for the subject and his family. This information was furnished by Robert L. Oswald during a personal interview on November 27, 1963.

August 6, 1962 (Approximately) to August 17, 1962

When the Lee Oswald family moved from the Robert Oswald home at 7313 Davenport Street, Fort Worth, Texas, they moved into an apartment at the Rotary Apartment Building, 1501 7th Street, Fort Worth, Texas, where Lee's mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, was living. There are some discrepancies in the information available as to the date that this move took place. Robert Oswald states that Lee and family lived with him for about two months upon their return to Fort Worth from the Soviet Union, which would make the date of this move sometime in early August 1962. Marguerite Oswald, mother, stated when interviewed on November 27, 1963, that she thought the date of the move would have been early in July 1962, since her birthday is July 17 and it is her recollection that Lee was living with her on her birthday.

Mr. James Young, Trust Department-Rental Division, Fort Worth National Bank, Fort Worth, Texas, furnished the information that his records show that Marguerite Oswald first rented Apartment 110 at the Rotary Apartments on August 6, 1962, and that at some subsequent date she moved to Apartment 301 at the same address and lived there continuously until November 1, 1962. It would therefore appear that Lee Oswald could not have moved there before August 6, 1962. This apartment building is located on the southeast corner of Summit and 6th Street, Fort Worth, Texas, and on December 3, 1962, the present manager Mrs. Christine Talarico, 602 Summit, Fort Worth, was interviewed.
She advised that she has acted as manager only since October 9, 1962, and has no records or knowledge concerning the dates that the Oswalds may have lived in the building.

Telephone Number ED 3-0755, found on a slip of paper in Oswald's possession, was found to be listed to a pay station located in the Lobby at 1501 7th Street, Fort Worth.

On November 1, 1962, Marguerite Oswald filed a change of address card from 808 Summit, Apartment 401, to 7313 Davenport Road, Fort Worth, Texas, and a copy of this change of address card was obtained and is attached. 808 Summit is around the corner from 1501 7th Street, Fort Worth, and is another apartment in the same building. On August 30, 1962, Lee Harvey Oswald filed a change of address card from 7313 Davenport Street, Fort Worth, Texas, to 2703 Mercedes Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas. A copy of this change of address card was obtained and is attached.

August 12, 1962 to October 7, 1962

As noted above, Oswald filed a change of address to 2703 Mercedes Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, on August 12, 1962. His mother Marguerite Oswald furnished the information that he made this move to be within walking distance of his employment which was at the Low-R-Fax Division of Leslie Welding, Inc., 206-4 Yacek Street, Fort Worth, Texas.

The Mercedes Street address is a duplex located at the southwest corner of Carol and Mercedes Streets in Fort Worth, and the property is owned by Mr. C. A. Nigg of Orbit Industries, Fort Worth. Mr. Nigg was interviewed at his office and furnished the following information. These duplexes are furnished and rent for $59.50 per month. For these reasons he experiences a high rate of turnover and he does not maintain any record of the names of tenants. His records indicate only the income which he receives from each rental unit. Mr. Nigg is unable to determine the date, but he did recall that Lee Oswald had contacted him by telephone inquiring about the unit at 2703 Mercedes Street. A "For Rent" sign had been exhibited in front of the building giving Mr. Nigg's name and telephone number. Arrangements were made for Oswald to view the building and the shelling. Mr. Nigg stated that he had a child and they rented the duplex known as 2703 Mercedes, paying $59.50 in cash for one month's rent. It is Mr. Nigg's recollection that he issued Lee Oswald a receipt, handwritten on the back of a blank check. Mr. Nigg never observed the Oswalds with an automobile but occasionally observed Lee walking back and forth to work at a welding company on Yacek Street in Fort Worth. Mr. Nigg stated that he did not obtain an application and no contract was made at the time the duplex was rented and he is unable to furnish any other background information except that he understood from O.G. the Oswalds, Lee or Marina, that they had purchased a television set from "La Louvre" in September 1962. He believes Marina had a child "silas" residing here...he collected rent in cash from her on one or two occasions. He also saw Lee Oswald at the house, but when he did, Lee was preoccupied in reading and Mr.
Nigg does not recall that he ever spoke. Mr. Nigg also recalled the Postal Inspection Service making some inquiries regarding subversive literature while the Oswalds were occupants of 2703 Mercedes.

On October 12, 1962, Lee Oswald filed a change of address with the Post Office from 2703 Mercedes to Box 2925, Dallas, Texas.

Credit: Hurley. Fort Worth. Texas. Mrs. Grace Scruggs, Assistant Manager, Retail Merchants Credit Association, Fort Worth, Texas, was interviewed December 3, 1963, and she advised that the FBI contacted her office on February 27, 1963, February 7, 1963, and November 22, 1963, regarding Lee Harvey Oswald. This is the only record concerning Oswald which she has been able to find in her office. She was Question-ated regarding the television set Mr. Nigg claimed was purchased by the Oswalds at Montgomery-Ward Co. She stated Mr. E. L. Carter, Credit Manager of Montgomery-Ward Co., had checked on her behalf and the responsion of the President to inquire about Oswald's credit. During this conversation he stated his office had been unable to locate a credit file on Lee Oswald.

On December 4, 1963, Mr. Carter was contacted by telephone and he advised he has now located an application for credit and had furnished the information to the FBI. The application shows that on September 22, 1962, Lee Oswald, residing at 2703 Mercedes, Fort Worth, Texas, applied for credit in connection with the purchase of a television set. He listed employment as Leslie Welding Company, sex: Settlement Road.

Fort Worth, and claimed to have been employed as a welder there under Supervisor Tom Tate at $250 per month for a period of four months. He listed prior employment as U. S. Marine Corps, El Tore, California, and said he had been so occupied for a period of six years. He listed his wife's name as Marina, stated he had no previous charge account at Montgomery Ward Company and no credit or personal references. His brother Robert Oswald co-signed the application. The application shows that on an unknown date Oswald's address was changed to P. O. Box 2915, Dallas, and in October 1962, the account was closed and a refund voucher issued. His brother stated this indicates the television set was returned to Montgomery Ward Company but the files reflecting this information have not yet been located.

Records at the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Fort Worth, disclosed that there is no record that Lee or Marina Oswald ever had telephone service in Fort Worth, Texas.

October 7, 1962 to October 19, 1962

As noted above, Lee Oswald filed a change of address on October 12, 1962, from 2703 Mercedes Street, Fort Worth, Texas, to P. O. Box 2915, Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. Marina Oswald had furnished the information that Lee Oswald had stayed at the YMCA in Dallas during this period. Mr. Russell Grisham, Executive Secretary, YMCA, 605 E. Ervay Street, Dallas, was interviewed and he advised that he was not able to furnish the exact dates of Oswald's residence there, since the file had taken all of his records that would show this information. He did verify that Oswald had stayed there sometime during October 1962, and his recollection was that the dates were October 15 through 19, 1962.

Inquiry with the FBI, Dallas, disclosed that records in their possession show that Oswald was registered at the Ervay Street YMCA from October 15 through 19, 1962.

Oswald's last two paycheck stubs from the Leslie Welding Company, Fort Worth, are dated October 6, 1962, and October 13, 1962, and were mailed to him in care of Post Office Box 2915, Dallas. Undoubtedly Oswald's endorsement on the back of these two checks, appears the address 3519 Fairoin Street. This check bears bank stamps dated October 16 and October 24, 1962, respectively, and they were cashed at the Mercantile National Bank of Dallas.

On December 1, 1963, inquiry was made at 3519 Fairmount Street, Dallas, and a Mrs. Gates, the present manager, was interviewed. She advised that she had just recently assumed the manager's position and she had no knowledge of the tenant residing there prior to the time she became manager. She furnished the name of Mrs. Elizabeth Handal, 3121 Beverly Drive, Dallas, who had been the building manager in October 1962. Mrs. Handal was then interviewed and she stated that Oswald's name was not familiar to her, and that if he had stayed in the building, he apparently stayed in an apartment with some other registered tenant. Mrs. Handal telephoned the owner of the apartment building, Mrs. Edith Bardwick, 3529 Normandy Road, Dallas, and Mrs. Bardwick advised that she had never heard the name Harvey Oswald as a tenant, and her records did not show his name as having occupied an apartment at 3519 Fairmount Street.

On December 10, 1963, Mrs. Bardwick was interviewed at her home, 3529 Normandy Road, Dallas, and her records were examined. These records showed that a Gary Taylor occupied Apartment 12 and later Apartment 12 at the Fairmount Street address, and he was living there during October 1962. Mrs. Bardwick's records indicate that Gary Taylor and a Mr. O. A. Hes had both occupied Apartment 12 during October 1962. Therefore, Mr. Hes was located and interviewed at his present address, 2200 Tucker Street, Apartment B, Dallas, and he advised that he and his wife had occupied Apartment 12 at 3519 Fairmount Street from sometime in June until October 1962, at which time they moved to their present residence. Mr. Hes confirmed that he did not know Gary Taylor, that he had never heard his name before, but he did state that he knew someone else was moving into Apartment 12 as soon as he moved out.

It was determined that Gary Edward Taylor is presently living at 4315 Falls Drive, in the Oak Cliff Section of Dallas. Taylor is described as a white, male, 6'0", 195 lbs., brown hair, hazel eyes, medium complexion, and he was born December 24, 1939, at Wichita, Kansas. Taylor's name and the Fairmont Street address were found listed in a book among Oswald's possessions.

Taylor was interviewed at his home on the evening of December 10, 1963, by Special agents Mike and Miller and at that time he furnished the following information: He was married to a daughter of George J. Schmidt, and late in September or early October 1962, the de Hohenschlicht attended a concert of Van Cliburn in Fort Worth. The de Hohenschlicht invited Taylor and his wife to meet them at the Oswald home on Harwood Street in Fort Worth after the concert. That was the first time Taylor had met the Oswalds. During the conversation, Lee Oswald mentioned that he was moving to Dallas and it was suggested by the de Hohenschlicht that Marina Oswald and her child could stay with the Taylors until the Oswalds found an apartment, and the Taylors agreed. Mr. Taylor advised that it was probably that same evening that he drove the Oswalds to Dallas. Lee Oswald was left at the YMCA on Ervay Street, and Marina Oswald and her child stayed at the Taylor home for about two weeks, after which time she went to the home of Mr. El Camell in Fort Worth. Sometime later, and Mr. Taylor was not certain of the date, he checked the Oswalds again at Mrs. Hall's home in Fort Worth and picked up Marina Oswald, her child, and their belongings and moved them to an apartment near Zang Boulevard and Davis Street in Dallas. This is the apartment at 601, Elizabet Street.

It is Taylor's recollection that during the time Marina Oswald lived at the Hall residence in Fort Worth, Lee Oswald continued to live at the YMCA on Ervay Street in Dallas, and that he lived there until the time they moved to the apartment on Elizabet Street.
Taylor stated that he saw the Oswalds on several occasions after they moved to Dallas, and the last time was in late spring or early summer, 1963, when he stopped in at their apartment and talked briefly with Marina. Lee was not at home.

Taylor also stated that during the time Marina Oswald lived at Mrs. Hall’s residence in Fort Worth, he drove Lee Oswald over there on one occasion. He added that he had never driven Lee Oswald anywhere outside of Dallas on any other occasion than those mentioned. He also said that Oswald did not know how to drive an automobile. Taylor is presently employed at the Pollard Recording Studio, 2102 Jackson Street, Dallas. A signed statement was taken from Taylor on December 11, 1963.

Mrs. Mona Hall, 1760 Trail Lake Drive (Telephone No. 372-21), Fort Worth, Texas, was interviewed by Special Agent Miller. Mrs. Hall stated that she had seen the Oswalds through a mutual friend, George Boue, a retired accountant. Both Boue and Mrs. Hall speak Russian.

Mrs. Hall continued that Mrs. Oswald moved in with her sometime between October 1 and October 15, 1963. Shortly thereafter, Mrs. Hall was involved in an automobile accident and was hospitalized for a period of time. On October 31, 1963, Mrs. Hall left for a trip to New York State, and Mrs. Oswald was staying at the Hall home at that time. Then Mrs. Hall returned from her trip, about November 15, 1963, she found that Mrs. Oswald had moved out, and she subsequently learned that the Oswalds were living in an apartment at 5061 Elizabeth Street, Dallas.

A signed statement was taken from Mrs. Hall by Special Agent Miller on December 3, 1963.

Mrs. Hall and her husband John N. Hall now operate the Brown and Bridge Prosthesis, 1333 S. Sam Houston Drive, Fort Worth, Texas.

Mrs. Marina Oswald was interviewed on December 11, 1963, by SA Gopadze and she was specifically asked about her residence at the Taylor apartment at 2101 Polk Street, Dallas. She recalled that she had lived with the Taylors at that address for a short period of time, probably less than a week, in November 1962. Mrs. Oswald stated that it was also her recollection that during the period from the time they left Herndon Street, Fort Worth, until they moved into 5061 Elizabeth Street, Dallas, her husband was staying at the YMCA in Dallas.

November 21, 1962 to March 2, 1963

5061 Elizabeth Street, Apartment 2, Dallas, Texas. On December 1, 1963, Special Agent Blagoy and Carter interviewed the managers of this building, Mr. and Mrs. Robin F. Tobias, Sr., at 5061 Elizabeth Street, Apartment 7, Dallas, and they furnished the following information:

00-2-31, 030 Page 6

On November 3, 1962, Lee Oswald paid a $5 deposit on Apartment 2, but he did not return to occupy the apartment until about a week later. Several days after they moved in, he received a telephone call from a man named George, later identified as George Boue, and he carried on the entire conversation in a foreign language.

Oswald paid his rent promptly each month and he always paid in cash. The apartment rented for $68 per month. Mrs. Tobias stated that Oswald’s Russian wife frequently visited her apartment during the day when Oswald was away at work, that she appeared to be lonely but did not have much to say.

Mrs. Oswald told Mrs. Tobias that her husband did not want her to tell people that they spoke Russian, because if anyone found out, some men would correspond to see them. The Tobias received several complaints from other tenants that Oswald was beating his wife, and that they were very noisy. Mrs. Tobias described Oswald as odd, stating that he never spoke to any of the other tenants, and would not even return a greeting. The Oswalds did not have a telephone in the apartment, and they used the telephone in the Tobias apartment for all their calls. They did not make any long distance calls from the Tobias telephone.

Mrs. Tobias recalled only a few visitors having been at the Oswald apartment. On one occasion a woman described as white, 35 years, 5’11”, 140 lbs., dark brown hair, olive complexion, came to the building and told Mrs. Tobias that the Oswalds had called her because they did not have any money for the baby. This woman stated that she was Russian and that she worked in downtown Dallas. She was later identified as Lyudmila Zhdanuk who now lives at 1942 Kent Street, Fort Worth, Texas.

About a month after the Oswalds moved in, Mrs. Tobias noticed an automobile in the driveway and it appeared that someone was moving out, so Mrs. Tobias went outside to determine who was moving. She described the automobile as a cream-colored convertible, of a late model. The man who was loading this automobile was described as white, 6’ tall, 160 to 190 lbs., 45 years or older, dark brown hair, and neatly dressed in a brown suit. This man told Mrs. Tobias that Mrs. Oswald was moving out, and Mrs. Tobias recalled that she had been asleep in bed and some baby clothes were already loaded in the car. This man was later identified by Mrs. Oswald as George de Mohrenschildt. Mrs. Oswald also stated that she was moving out at that time along with her husband, and she moved in with a friend, Mrs. Arne Moller, 2912 Vista, Dallas, telephone 214-2210. After staying with Mrs. Heller for about a week, Mrs. Oswald moved back with her husband in the Elizabeth Street apartment.

It was Mrs. Tobias’ recollection that the Oswalds had moved out of that apartment on Elizabeth Street sometime around the first few days of March 1963.
March 2, 1963 to April 23, 1963

308 W. Ervay Street, uptown, Dallas. On March 2, 1963, Lee Oswald paid $50.00 for a month's rent on this apartment. It is not known exactly that date he moved in, but probably on that same date. Mr. H. B. George, who owns Ervay Street, Dallas, the owner of the property, was personally interviewed and furnished for examination his rent receipts. Mr. George continued that Oswald had called him by telephone in response to a sign placed in front of the rental property. Mr. George in 1963, Oswald at the apartment at which time Oswald agreed to rent the apartment and paid $50.00 in cash. On April 3, 1963, Oswald paid another $50.00 cash for rent to Mr. George. This payment would have paid for the rental of the property through May 2, 1963. Mr. George recalled that several days after the rent was due on May 2, 1963, he went to the apartment to collect the rent, and found it vacant. He had no idea, therefore, when the Oswalds moved out, and had no other contract with them.

Mr. George furnished the information that a George B. Drew had lived in the downstairs apartment at 322 W. Ervay Street, Dallas, during the entire time that the Oswalds lived upstairs. The Gray family has now moved and Mr. George does not know where they moved to.

It was determined that the photograph of Oswald found in his effects and showing him holding a rifle, was taken in the backyard at the Ervay Street address. On November 29, 1963, accompanied by Captain Bill Fritz and Detective B. C. Brown, Police Photographer, Dallas Police, SID Sorrels and SA Blake went to that address and took photographs of the backyard area.

April 12, 1963 to May 3, 1963

757 French Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. Oswald was fired from his job in Dallas, Texas, on April 5, 1963, and on April 12, 1963, he made a claim for unemployment benefits at the Texas Employment Commission, 2206 Main Street, Dallas, Texas. A copy of that claim has been obtained and is attached to this report. On April 29, 1963, Oswald made a claim for unemployment insurance through the Louisiana Employment Commission, New Orleans. Therefore, he apparently moved from Dallas to New Orleans sometime between April 12 and April 29, 1963.

SA Vial, New Orleans, in his report dated December 3, 1963, furnished the information that during the first four days Oswald was in New Orleans, he lived with relatives at 757 French Street, New Orleans. Mrs. Mildred Barnett, sister of Lee Oswald's mother, was interviewed at 757 French Street, New Orleans, on December 2, 1963, and she furnished the information that probably sometime in May 1963, Oswald came to stay at her home for a few days during that he was in town looking for a job. Several days later Oswald advised that he had found a job and shortly thereafter, Mrs. Oswald and child arrived in New Orleans with Mrs. Ruth Paine of Irving, Texas. The same day they arrived, Lee Oswald left the residence of Mrs. Barrett, starting that he had found a job for his family at 490 Magazine Street, New Orleans. Mrs. Barrett stated that she had never seen any of the Oswald family since that day.

May 4, 1963 to September 20, 1963

4907 Magazine Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse James

January 11, 1963 Magazine Street, New Orleans, furnished the information that Oswald had rented the apartment from them on May 9, 1963, and that he had moved in either that date or the following date. His wife and child moved in with him within a few days, having been brought to New Orleans by Mrs. Ruth Paine of Irving, Texas.

Records at the New Orleans Public Service Co., Inc., show that Oswald made application for gas and electric service at 4907 Magazine Street, May 9, 1963, and paid a $5 deposit. The records also show that this service was discontinued on October 7, 1963, when the caretaker of the building telephoned to notify that the apartment had been vacated. Copies of these records were obtained and are attached to this report.

Oswald last paid his rent on August 9 for the month ending September 9, 1963. During September 1963, Oswald advised Mrs. Garner that his wife was going to Texas to have her baby.

Mrs. Garner stated that on September 22, 1963, Mrs. Oswald and her child departed by station wagon with the same woman who had first brought them to New Orleans. It has been established that this was Mrs. Ruth Paine of Irving, Texas. Oswald was seen once in the neighborhood after his wife had left, and on September 28 or 29, 1963, Mr. Garner entered their apartment and found it vacant.

When Mrs. Ruth Paine drove Marina Oswald and her child back to Irving, Texas, Mrs. Oswald moved in with Mr. Paine and continued to reside with her until the day of the assassination. During the time Oswald lived in New Orleans, he received mail at F. C. Co. 3005.

September 24, 1963 to October 1, 1963

The newspaper publisher of Mexico City stated in a newspaper account dated November 30, 1963, that Lee Harvey Oswald had entered Mexico at Juarez Harbor on September 26, 1963, and that he returned to the United States by the same route on October 3, 1963. The newspaper accounts of this trip are attached to this report. This information has been verified by Dallas Bureau.

October 2, 1963 to October 4, 1963

Information was received that Oswald had stayed at the YMCA, 605 N. Harvey Street, Dallas, on the night of October 3, 1963. This information was verified by Mr. Russell Urquhart, Executive Secretary of the YMCA on December 3, 1963.

October 4, 1963 to October 6, 1963

It is believed that Oswald spent this time with his wife and child at the home of Mrs. Ruth Paine, 2315 N. 5th Street, Irving, Texas. Mrs. Paine has stated that she recalls Oswald being at her home for several days and stating that he had been in Houston, Texas, seeking employment and that he has returned to Dallas several days prior to his arrival at the Palms home.

October 7, 1963
On this date, Oswald rented a room from Mrs. Mary Ellen Easley, at 212 E. Harrell Street, Dallas (Telephone 6-18-36), and paid $7 for a week’s room. He told Mrs. Easley that he was married, that his wife lived in Irving, Texas, and that Oswald made several telephone calls to his home at the same time. On the following day, Oswald was nearly arrested and he told Mrs. Easley that he was looking for a job. He made part of his time later around the halls, and then Mrs. Easley complained that he was jeopardizing her position at this time and that he would be asked to leave. On Friday of that week, October 11, 1963, Oswald stayed in the house all day. On Saturday, October 12, Oswald took a shower and prepared to leave, asking Mrs. Easley to clean his room, and telling her that he would be back. At that time, she told him that she did not want to rent the room to him any longer. On Sunday, October 13, Oswald returned and moved all of his belongings out of the room. Mrs. Easley added that Oswald did not make any long distance telephone calls from her room during the time he lived there, and left nothing in the room which has since been rented to a woman. He did not receive any mail or visitors, and Mrs. Easley does not think that he worked at all during that week.

On November 22, 1963, Mrs. Easley had come downtown in Dallas to see the President, and after the parade passed her location, she walked to 1121 Main and boarded a bus near the Athletic Club to return home.
Somehow along the route, probably about 1:40 a.m. when Oswald got on the bus, and took a seat near the rear of the bus. After riding only a few blocks, Oswald got up off the bus and left the bus so soon after getting on. It is Mrs. Easley’s speculation that Oswald was wearing an old wool coat, with holes in the elbows of the sleeves, and possibly with the hairballs hanging out.

October 19, 1963 to November 20, 1963

1024 N. Beckley, Dallas, Texas. On October 14, 1963, Oswald used the name of the Eiler room for $6.00 a week from Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shannon, the property at that address. The Shannons have room for 4 tenants at their home, but the tenant they rented to him did not know as Lee was not usually rented out. He saw this room for the use of their grandchildren when they came for a visit. The room is quite small, about 12 feet by 10 feet, and is located just off the dining room. Mr. Johnson stated that he did not want to rent the room to Lee since in 1900 he left a very calm, cool, and uninterested about a room and was told there were vacancies. When he came back the second time, Mr. Johnson decided to give him the room.

Several days later when a larger room was vacated, Mr. Johnson told Lee that he was moving. Mr. Johnson turned a room 1023 N. Beckley, and rented it to Lee. This room was on the second floor of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and their housekeeper, Mrs. Carol Roberts, all described Lee as a quiet person. He had no visitors, received no mail, and spent most of his free time, when not working, in his room. He usually made one or two telephone calls on returning from work each evening and always spoke a foreign language. Mrs. Roberts stated that Lee did not receive any telephone calls.

Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Roberts both advised that Lee never spoke to any of the other tenants that he was through the night in the living room with them watching television.

During the time Lee lived there, he usually did not spend his weekends there. On one occasion, probably the week-end of November 15 - 17, 1963, he did spend the week-end at 1024 N. Beckley, and it is Mrs. Johnson’s vocabulary that he was seen only a few minutes at a time over the whole week-end. Mr. Johnson also added that Lee did not use his room on the night of November 22, 1963, the night before the assassination.

Mrs. Roberts stated that in the early afternoon of November 22, 1963, she was sitting in the living room of her home watching television and the news about the attack on the President. About 1:00 P.M. the man she knew as Lee came in from the front door and came directly into a house. Mrs. Roberts made some remark to him but he did not reply. He went directly to his room and returned a minute later. He has put on a dark-colored jacket and was spinning up the front of the jacket as he called out the front door. Again, he did not speak to Mrs. Roberts. Several minutes later, Mrs. Roberts looked out the front window and saw Lee standing by the bus stop on Beckley Street, and she did not see him again.

About 30 minutes later three Dallas policemen came to the house looking for Lee Harvey Oswald. Since Mrs. Roberts did not know that was "Lee" there was some discussion about the various tenants who might fit the description the police had.

A few minutes later, Oswald’s picture was shown on television and at that time Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Roberts informed the police officers that was the man they knew as Lee, and they directed the officers to Lee’s room. While the Dallas Police Officers were searching the room, the FBI agents arrived and assisted in the search. These officers removed all of Oswald’s belongings from the room and made a complete search.

A signed statement was taken from Mrs. Roberts covering her knowledge of the evening of November 22, 1963, and that statement is attached to this report.
November 21, 1963

Lee Harvey Oswald spent the night of November 21, 1963, at the home of Mrs. Ruth Palmer, 2515 N. 5th Street, Irving, Texas, where Oswald's wife and children had been living. Oswald rode there after work at the depository with Paul Hekalow, another employee at the depository, who also lives in Irving.

November 22, 1963

On the morning of November 22, 1963, Oswald rode from Irving to his job at the depository with Frasier. Oswald remained at the Texas School Book Depository, 611 Elm Street, Dallas, until a few minutes after the assassination. Oswald was at the place at about 12:30 P.M. Oswald was taken into custody by officers of the Dallas Police Department at the Texas Theatre, 231 N. Jefferson Street, Dallas, at about 2:00 P.M.

Oswald was in custody at the Dallas City Jail from that time until the morning of November 23, 1963, at which time he was shot to death in the basement of the Dallas Police Building.

Employment

It appears that Oswald was unemployed from the time of his return to Fort Worth about June 10, 1962, until July 12, 1962. During that time he was living with his brother Robert Oswald, who furnished support for Lee Oswald and family.

July 12, 1962 - October 8, 1962

Lowell-Ithaka Division, Leslie-Wolding Company, Inc., 200 North Vashon Street, Fort Worth, Texas. On July 13, 1962, Oswald filled out an application for employment with this firm and he went to work as a sheet-metal worker on July 17, 1962. A copy of the application for employment was obtained and shows the following information: Age, 22; born October 19, 1939; Social Security Number 433-04-579; residence, 1521 7th Street; 5'10", 150 lbs.; dependents, wife and one child; 6 months; claimed 2 years experience as a sheet metal worker; and service in the United States Marine Corps from 1956 to 1962, having been honorably discharged with disability. He further stated on the application that he had attended the 11th grade Grammar School in Fort Worth, Texas, and Madison Senior High School, New Orleans, from 1953 to 1956. He listed as references Peter Philpot, Continental Life Building, occupation Consultant, all engineering, and Robert Oswald, Home Brick Company, Junior Executive.

Payroll information record shows the additional information that Oswald began work at this job on July 17, 1962, at the rate of $1.25 per hour, and he was classed as a sheet metal helper. A copy of his Form 1-4, Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate, was obtained and is attached.

A copy of the Termination of Employment Record was also obtained and is attached. This form shows that Oswald terminated on October 8, 1962, for the reason that he had secured a higher paying position and that he would be eligible for rehire. Also obtained was a copy of a letter in Oswald's handwriting, undated and advising that he wished to terminate his employment. He requested that his check be forwarded to him at 1515, Dallas, Texas.

Through the Internal Revenue Service, Intelligence Division, Dallas, Texas, copies of thirteen payroll checks issued to Lee Harvey Oswald were obtained. These checks are dated from July 23, 1962 to October 13, 1962, and cover Oswald's entire period of employment. These checks show that Oswald's take home pay was in the range of $40 to $55 per week.

On November 27, 1963, Mr. H. L. Connery, manager of the lowe-Ithaka Division, Leslie-Wolding Co., Inc., was interviewed at his office, 200 N. Vashon Street, Fort Worth, Texas. Mr. Connery advised that Oswald's employment were mainly layout work in the assembly and production of various sheet metal items, and further that Oswald was one of the best employees he had ever employed in that particular type of work.

October 14, 1962 - April 6, 1963

Jagers - Miles - Stovall, 322 Broadway Street, Dallas, Texas. On October 20, 1962, Oswald completed an employee identification questionnaire at this firm and signed the same information on the payroll employment application he made at the Leslie-Wolding Company.

On December 9, 1963, Mr. H. L. Connery, co-owner of this firm was personally interviewed and he furnished the following information: Oswald was referred to this firm by the Texas Employment Service and actually started work on October 15, 1962. Oswald worked as a trainee making photostatic prints of advertising material. He did not adapt himself to this type of work and did not even try to grasp his duties. His termination was corrected the last week of March 1963, and his employment was terminated on April 2, 1963.

Copies of twenty-six payroll checks issued to Oswald during this period of employment were obtained and are attached. These checks and copies of other records were obtained through the Internal Revenue Service, Intelligence Division, Dallas, Texas. The checks show that Oswald's take home pay varied from $40 to $70 per week at that time.

On April 12, 1963, Oswald filed a claim for Unemployment Compensation with the Texas Employment Commission, 2000 Main Street, Dallas, Texas, furnishing the information that he was residing at 1515 Elm Street, Dallas, and that he had been laid off from his employment at Leslie-Wolding Company for lack of work. There is no indication of the disposition of this claim.

On April 29, 1963, Oswald filed a claim for unemployment insurance with the Employment Security Agency, New Orleans, Louisiana, furnishing his address as 757 French Street, New Orleans. At the same time he completed an application for employment, stating that he had experience as a shipping clerk and as a photographer.

The record further shows that Oswald’s claim was active from April 29, 1963, to June 25, 1963, at which time it became inactive. The claim was active again from July 22, 1963, until October 10, 1963, at which time it again became inactive. During the time that the claim was active, Oswald claimed no earnings and he received unemployment benefits for these periods which totaled 12 weeks. It appears from the record that he received his last benefits for the week ending September 27, 1963, but the claim did not become inactive until October 10, 1963.

May 30, 1963 to July 19, 1963

William R. Deal Co., Inc., 605 Magazine Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. On May 9, 1963, Oswald completed an application for employment with this company, furnishing the following information: That he resided at 757 French Street, New Orleans, and had lived there for the past three years; born October 18, 1919, 5’9”, 180 lbs., and in excellent health. He further stated that he had attended Boguere and Junior High School, and Warren Eastern Senior High School from where he graduated in 1939. He stated that he was married and had one child, 15 months of age.

He signed references, John Hurrett, 757 French Street, New Orleans, Sr. Robert Pitchell, on active duty with the U. S. Marine Corps, and James H. Thompson, Active Duty U. S. Marine Corps. He also stated that he had made application for this job as a result of a newspaper ad he had seen. He was accepted for employment and went to work on May 10, 1963, at the rate of $1.25 per hour.

Copies of his Application for Employment, curriculum vitae, Employee’s Wartime Exception Certificate, and Safety Instructions to Employees, signed on May 21, 1963, were obtained and are attached.

Oswald’s job with this firm was as maintenance man, and he was principally engaged in cleaning and maintaining various machinery. The firm handles a brand of coffee known as “Lamias Coffee.” He earned a total of $40.41 during the period of this employment which was terminated on July 19, 1963.

From July 22, 1963, to October 25, 1963, Oswald was apparently unemployed. As noted above, he was receiving unemployment benefits payments from July 22, 1963, through September 27, 1963, and as far as is known, this was his only source of income during that period.

DETAILS:
On December 3, 1963, NY T-1 made available a Post Office Department Form 3578, unstamped, addressed to "Worker", Box 28, Madison Square Station, New York 10, New York. The reverse side of this card reflected a new address for LEE H. OSWALD, dated November 5 (year not indicated), and showing OSWALD's new address as Post Office Box 6225, Dallas, Texas, but same did not indicate his old address. NY T-1 also made available an Addressograph type label bearing an address for "Lee H. Oswald, 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, 7-20-64-MR-W CR". The code indicates Oswalt had a twelve month subscription to the "Worker" expiring February 20, 1964.

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist newspaper.
Mr. HOWARD KIEVAL, Executive Director, Big Brothers Inc., 223 East 30th Street, New York, New York, furnished the following information:

On November 26, 1953, Big Brothers Inc. received a referral from the Domestic Relations Court, Bronx, New York. The subject of this referral was LEE HARVEY OSWALD and Mr. KIEVAL stated that the case worker who handled this matter was MR. WILLIAM E. GROTE, 99 Metropolitan Oval, Bronx, New York, who is presently retired.

Mr. KIEVAL furnished a copy of their record pertaining to LEE HARVEY OSWALD which reflected the following:

"OSWALD, LEE "19335
"REFERRED: Bronx Children's Court - 12/1/53. See Court papers for details.

"12/1/53 Received telephone call from Mr. Carro, Probation Officer, referring Lee Oswald of 225 East 175th Street for Big Brother supervision. Requested that Mr. Carro send us a copy of the Court papers. WSD

"12/15/53 Delay due to illness. Called at the home of Lee Oswald. Not finding anyone there, left card in door. WSD

"12/17/53 Received telephone call from Mrs. Oswald who stated that she found our card on returning home from work and wished to know the reason for our contact. Explained to her that Mr. Carro, Probation Officer of the Children's Court had asked that we become interested in her son Lee. She seemed quite disturbed stating something to the effect that how long was this thing going to last because since the boy had returned from Youth House, he had been attending school each day and from all accounts was doing well. Could sense that Mrs. Oswald was quite disturbed about this matter and tried to give her an idea of what the Big Brother program was. She seemed to calm down.

"considerably and suggested that Lee stop in at the office some time during the Christmas holidays. She did not take too kindly to this idea and advised that we would stop in at the home some evening as soon as possible.

"12/23/53 Called at the home of Lee Oswald but no one was at home. Will call again.

"1/ 4/54 This evening about 7:30 called at the home. Met Mrs. Oswald and Lee. Mr. Oswald stated that he was going to New York to work and that he would return to New York as soon as possible. Lee was friendly, although it was apparent that he was also displeased with the idea of being forced to join various "y" organizations about which he cared little. During the conversation, Mrs. Oswald stated that she had quit her job and planned to return to her former home down in New Orleans. Advised Mrs. Oswald that before she took this step, that she contact Mr. Carro by phone the following morning to get his advice as to what she should do about getting a release from the Children's Court. She said that Mr. Carro had agreed that she could move to New Jersey and she could see no difference between moving to New Jersey or New Orleans. Explained to Mrs. Oswald that there was a right way and a wrong way of doing things and that under existing circumstances, felt that she should notify Mr. Carro at once of her decision to move.

"1/ 5/54 - Received telephone call from Mrs. Oswald who stated that she had contacted the Children's Court as suggested and that Mr. Carro was on vacation and he talked with Mr. Dunn who was handling Mr. Carro case who while he was away. She stated that Mr. Dunn advised her that the Court had supervision over the boy and that she should bring the boy...
"to the Court on Monday morning 1/11 when Mr. Carro was expected to be back in his office. She stated that she would be glad to go down there alone, but hesitated to take Lee with her because she felt that if she did they would probably remind him or in some way not allow him to return home and inasmuch as her rent is paid up to the 15th of the month, she wanted to move some day before that time. Later on in the day talked with Mr. Dunn about this and he stated that the boy must appear before the Court before permission is granted for him to leave the city. WEG

"1/6/54 - called at the home of Mrs. Oswald. Explained again to her what Mr. Dunn had advised should be done, but she was most skeptical about taking Lee before the Children's Court. Suggested to her that inasmuch as she felt this way, that she contact Mr. Carro upon his return, as the boy was on parole to Mr. Carro and be guided by what suggestions he made. Suggested to Mrs. Oswald that we would be happy to hear from her if she wished to write when she got located and settled in New Orleans. WEG

"1/10/54 - Learned from Mr. Carro, Probation Officer of the Bronx Children's Court that he had written to Mrs. Oswald so that the boy could be brought in for a hearing and that the letter was returned to him marked 'moved - left no address.' This evidently means that Mrs. Oswald carried out her intentions which were told to the writer on 1/5. At that time she said that she would not report to Mr. Carro because he might take Lee away from her and all her plans would be upset. Please CLOSE, WEG"
On December 3, 1963, JOHN J. ABT, an attorney with offices at 320 Broadway, New York City, acting as attorney for ARNOLD S. JOHNSON, furnished SAS JOSEPH V. WATERS and ROBERT G. OPTEDAL with items of correspondence between LEE H. OSWALD and the Communist Party (CP) and "The Worker." JOHNSON was present during the interview with ABT.

ABT stated that the items which he was making available to the Special Agents represented all of the material which JOHNSON could locate in the way of such correspondence. He requested that the material be returned to him when it had served its purpose and he also stated that any questions which might arise concerning this correspondence should be referred to him for reply.

The items of correspondence made available are set out as follows:

"Dear Sirs:

"As a long time subscriber to the Worker I know I can ask a favor of you with full confidence of its fulfillment.

"I have formed a 'Fair Play for Cuba committee' here in New Orleans, I think it is the best way to attract the broad mass of people to a popular struggle.

"I ask that you give me as much literature as you judge possible since I think it would be very nice to have your literature among the 'Fair Play' leaflets (like the one enclosed) and pamphlets in my office.

"Also please be so kind as to convey the enclosed 'honorary membership' cards to those fighters for peace Mr. Gus Hall and Mr. B. Davis.

"Yours Sincerely,

The date at the end of the above letter appears to have been written as 1962, but because it is in handwriting it is possible 1963 was written.

This letter contains notations in a different handwriting, evidently made on receipt "send catalog and limited supply" and another notation, "Lit. sent".

Apparently in response to this letter there was sent the following communication which was made available in the form of a carbon copy:

"Please advise me upon a problem of personal tactics."

"I have lived in the Soviet Union from Oct. 1958 to July 1962."

"I had, in 1959, in Moscow, tried to legally dissolve my United States citizenship in favor of Soviet citizenship, however, I did not complete the legal formalities for this.

"Having come back to the U.S. in 1962 and thrown myself into the struggle for progress and freedom in the United States, I would like to know whether, in your opinion, I can continue to fight, handicapped as it were, by my past record, can I still, under these circumstances, compete with anti-progressive forces, above ground or weather in your opinion, I should always remain in the background, etc., underground.

"Our opponents could use my background of residence in the U.S.S.R., against any cause which I join, by association, they could say the organisation of which I am a member, is Russian controlled etc.
I am sure you see my point.

"I could of course openly proclaim, (if pressed on the subject) that I wanted to dissolve my American citizenship as a personal protest against the policy of the U.S. government in supporting dictatorship, etc. But what do you think I should do? Which is the best tactic in general?

"Should I dissociate myself from all progressive activities?

"Here in New Orleans, I am secretary of the local branch of the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee", a position which, frankly, I have used to foster communist ideals. On a local radio show, I was attacked by Cuban exile organisation representatives for my residence act, in the Soviet Union.

"I feel I may have compromised the FPC, so you see that I need the advice of trusted, long time fighters for progress. Please advise.

"With Perpetual Greeting
Sincerely

"Lee H. Oswald"

Since I received your letter of September 1st indicating that you are moving to Baltimore, I suggest that when you do move that you get in touch with us here and we will find some way of getting in touch with you in that city.

"While the point you make about your residence in the Soviet Union may be utilized by some people, I think you have to recognize that as an American citizen who is now in this country, you have a right to participate in such organizations as you want, but at the same time there are a number of organizations, including possibly Fair Play, which are of a very broad character and often which is advisable for some people to remain in the background, not underground. I assume this is pretty much of an academic question now, and we can discuss it later.

"Since than my personal plans have changed and I have settled in Dallas, Texas for the time.

Through a friend, I have been introduced into the American Civil Liberties Union Local chapter, which holds monthly meetings on the campus of Southern Methodist University.

The first meeting I attended was on October 25th, a film was shown and afterwards a very critical discussion of the ultra-right in Dallas.

On October 25th, I attended a ultra-right meeting headed by General Edwin A. Walker, who lives in Dallas, this meeting preceded by one day the attack on A.F. Stevenson at the United Nations Day meeting at which he spoke.

"Could you advise me as to the general view we had on the American Civil Liberties Union? and to what degree, if any, should attempt to heighten its progressive tendencies?

"This Dallas branch of the A.C.L.U. is firmly in the hands of 'liberal' professional people, (a minister and two law professors conducted the Oct. 25th meeting.) However, some of those present showed marked class awareness and insight.

"Respectfully Yours
/a/ Lee H. Oswald"

Party will form a new committee known as the GUS HALL

The information set forth hereinafter was furnished by Mr. ELMER E. BILBAY, Supervisor of Revenue Accounting, Continental Trailways Bus Company.

A one-way bus ticket purchased at New Orleans, with the final destination of Brownsville, Texas, would normally be handled in this manner. The selling office sends a portion of the ticket with an agent's report to Continental at Alexandria, Louisiana. The final destination bus driver would pick up from the passenger the passenger's portion of the ticket, and this ticket would be sent with a driver's report to Mr. C. WALTERS, who is in charge of the accounting of Continental tickets at 2805 Logan Street, Dallas, Texas. There are several Continental Division offices throughout the United States. The Division Office for New Orleans is at Alexandria, Louisiana, and when tickets are sold at New Orleans, the number is prefixed by the letter "S."

In regard to ticket S377012 purchased on September 25, 1963, for a one-way trip from New Orleans, Louisiana to Brownsville, Texas, Mr. BILBAY stated a thorough search of his records failed to locate that portion of the ticket which the passenger would normally turn over to the final destination bus driver, who in turn would make out a report which would reach Dallas, Texas, with the passenger's portion of the ticket. Mr. WALTERS' employees sort the thousands of tickets and route them to the various Continental division offices throughout the United States.

Because of the thousands of tickets involved, and by manner in which they are handled, it is not unusual to be unable to locate the passenger's portion of the ticket. Mr. BILBAY stated there are many reasons why a ticket could be missing; perhaps the passenger never used the ticket or perhaps it was misrouted by Dallas or lost or misplaced when it reached one of several Continental division offices.

1. Available tickets furnished by Mr. ELMER R. BILLRAY, Supervisor of Revenue Accounting, Continental Trailways Bus Company, Alexandria, Louisiana, were searched in an effort to locate Continental Trailways Bus Ticket 377012, which was sold on September 23, 1963, at New Orleans, Louisiana for a one-way trip to Brownsville, Texas. This search was undertaken to locate the passenger's portion of the aforesaid ticket; however, the search was unproductive.

The information set forth hereinafter was furnished by ELMER R. BILLRAY, Supervisor of Revenue Accounting, Continental Trailways Bus Company General Office, 425 Bolton Avenue.

The General Office of Continental Trailways Southern Bus Company is in Alexandria, Louisiana. Continental Southern's western route goes as far as Houston, Texas.

Referring to a prior interview on November 29, 1963, Mr. BILLRAY stated that when the office receives the agent's ticket report with the seller's ticket stub and the purchaser's ticket stub that has been picked up by the final destination bus driver, the agent's ticket report is checked against a sampling of the purchaser's stubs that have been picked up by the final destination bus driver. After this cross-checking and sampling is completed, the tickets are destroyed at Alexandria, Louisiana.

If a ticket was sold by an agent of Continental Southern, for example, the Continental Bus terminal at New Orleans, the seller's copies of the ticket and the passenger's portion of the ticket that was picked up by the final destination bus driver would ultimately come to the general office at Alexandria, Louisiana, where they are cross-checked, sampled, and destroyed.

Within the Continental Southern System, it is possible to identify the driver of a given bus if the time and date the bus left a given location is known. For example, it is necessary to know the time and date a bus left New Orleans for Houston, Texas in order to run down and identify the bus driver.

When a passenger has luggage to be checked aboard a bus, he shows his ticket to the baggage agent, who punches or marks the ticket to indicate that baggage has been checked. The baggage agent has a two-section baggage ticket and he gives one section to the passenger and the other is attached to the baggage. It is possible for the purchaser to travel in one bus and his baggage to travel in another bus. At the destination point, the passenger gives his baggage ticket to the baggage clerk, who checks the number against the number of the ticket attached to the baggage and then after verifying that the two numbers are the same, he gives the baggage to the passenger and destroys the two matching stubs.

MAJOR J. GREEN, Terminal Manager, Continental Trailways Bus System, Dallas Avenue, stated that the schedules referred to have been in effect since March 1, 1961. He offered the following information:

One bus daily leaves New Orleans, Louisiana at 4:40 p.m. and arrives at Laredo, Texas at 1:20 p.m. the following day.

One bus daily leaves New Orleans, Louisiana at 11:25 p.m. and arrives at Laredo, Texas at 7:25 p.m. the following day.

GREEN stated that one bus arrived daily at Laredo, Texas, at 9:35 a.m. but emphasized that this bus had departed the same day from Houston, Texas, at 12:00 p.m.

He examined additional records and advised that the bus route from New Orleans to Laredo passed through Houston, Texas, Beaumont, Texas, Corpus Christi, Texas, and Alice, Texas, prior to arriving at Laredo, Texas. He stated for information that the total cost of bus passage from New Orleans, Louisiana, to Mexico City, Mexico, is $30.25 and stated that exactly $10.00 of that total charge represents the cost of bus transportation from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico City, Mexico. He added that the round trip fare is $54.45.

GREEN stated a passenger can carry a small parcel onto the bus and in this case no record is ever made of this baggage. He also said the passenger can check his baggage, and in this case a baggage ticket stub is furnished him and another stub attached to his baggage. He stated no baggage ticket stubs are retained by his bus lines for later reference. He also stated that a customer need not be a passenger to utilize the Continental Trailways "Express" Service as the customer can ship baggage following the same procedure as set out above, but in addition, two copies of a shipping order are made for future reference by his bus company. He stated an audit copy of this shipping order is kept by the Continental Trailways System and forwarded to the District Office of the bus lines, 425 Bolton Avenue, Alexandria, Louisiana. He added

The information set forth hereinafter was furnished by Mr. ELMER R. BIRLEY, Supervisor of Revenue Accounting, Continental Trailways Bus Company Drive, General Office, 425 Bolton Avenue, Alexandria, Louisiana.

Mr. BIRLEY furnished the following information concerning the Continental bus which left New Orleans at 4:40 PM on September 25, 1963, and was due to arrive at Laredo, Texas, at 1:10 PM on September 26, 1963.

Continentai bus Number 5120 left New Orleans at 4:40 PM on September 25, 1963, and was driven by W. D. CARMACK, who resides in a house trailer c/o General Delivery, Buras, Louisiana. Mr. CARMACK drove this bus to Lake Charles, Louisiana. Prior to arriving at Lake Charles, Louisiana, bus number 5120 stopped at Kinder, Louisiana, so that persons travelling to points beyond Lake Charles could transfer to Trailways Bus Number 5133.

The bus which picked up the passengers at Kinder, Louisiana, was bus number 5133, which originated at Jackson, Mississippi. This bus was driven from Jackson, Mississippi, to Alexandria, Louisiana, where bus drivers were changed, and bus driver CHARLES B. ALBRIGHT, 1804 Magnolia Drive, Alexandria, Louisiana, drove bus number 5133 from Alexandria, Louisiana, through Kinder, Louisiana, and on to Beaumont, Texas. At Beaumont, Texas, drivers were switched, but the same bus, number 5133, was used. The name of the new bus driver at Beaumont, Texas, is D. B. WELLS, 1402 Caplin, Houston.

From Houston, Texas, and other points west, it is not known at Alexandria, Louisiana, what bus numbers or drivers were used to make the trip to Laredo, Texas.

Mr. BIRLEY is going to locate the drivers' trip reports which show the number of passengers boarding and getting off the bus along the route.

from the point beyond Kinder, at one time, he was unable to furnish any information whatsoever concerning the passengers. He stated there are no rest stops between Kinder and Beaumont, Texas, nor is there a rest stop at Beaumont, Texas, at that hour of the morning.

From time to time on infrequent basis, ALBRIGHT has taken passengers that were destined ultimately for Laredo, Texas; however, Mr. ALBRIGHT could not remember any of these passengers or the month or day they may have been passengers on his bus.

ALBRIGHT said he did not recall any of the four passengers showing a ticket with the destination of Laredo, Texas, or Mexico City, Mexico.

Mr. WOODROW D. CAMMACK, General Delivery, Buras, Louisiana, advised he is employed as Bus Operator for the Continental Trailways Bus Line, New Orleans, on the regular run from Venice, Louisiana, to New Orleans. However, every Wednesday he handled the 4:40 PM run from New Orleans to Lake Charles, Louisiana, as an extra trip.

CAMMACK advised that he did drive the 4:40 PM Trailways Bus from New Orleans on September 25, 1963, however he is not able at this time to recall anyone resembling LEE HARVEY OSWALD having been a passenger on this bus. He pointed out that he has handled the Lake Charles run since the middle of this year and he does not recall ever having a passenger present a ticket to him which showed destination Laredo, Texas, or Mexico City, Mexico.

Any passenger having a destination past Lake Charles, Louisiana, would have to change to another Trailways bus at Kinder, Louisiana, where the Lake Charles bus makes contact with the Trailways bus out of Alexandria, Louisiana. He advised that this contact is usually made at 9:55 PM at Kinder and all the passengers going west board the other bus, which bus is usually driven by the regular driver out of Alexandria, CHARLIE ALBRIGHT, who resides in Alexandria, Louisiana.

CAMMACK advised that if any luggage is checked onto the bus, he and the other driver would have to change the luggage from one bus to the other and he does not recall handling any luggage checked through to Laredo, Texas, at any time.

He viewed a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and was not able to identify OSWALD as having been on Trailways Bus leaving New Orleans at 4:40 PM September 25, 1963.
On December 18, 1963, WF T-1 said he learned that a Washington, D.C., bookstore which handles subscriptions to Soviet publications, recently made an annual review of its files and noted that in September 1962, LEE H. OSWALD, 2703 Mercedes Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, requested a subscription to the Soviet humor magazine "Krokodil." OSWALD forwarded $2.20 as payment for the subscription. This request was forwarded to Mezdunarodnaya Kniga (International Book), Moscow, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, and a subscription for the period October 1962 - September 1963 was ordered for OSWALD.

WF T-1 said that on October 27, 1962, OSWALD notified the Washington, D.C., bookstore by postcard that his address had been changed to Box 2915, Dallas, Texas. Mezdunarodnaya Kniga was notified of this change of address.

WF T-1 further advised that in January 1963, OSWALD again wrote the Washington, D.C., bookstore and requested subscriptions to "Ogonek," a Soviet picture and story magazine; to "Sovetskaya Belorussiya," a publication relating to life in general in Belorussia; and to "Agitator," a magazine of communist political thought. OSWALD enclosed $13.20 as payment for the subscriptions; and Mezdunarodnaya Kniga was requested to send OSWALD "Ogonek" for the period March - December 1963; "Sovetskaya Belorussiya" for the period March - December 1963; and "Agitator" for the period January - December 1963.

Captain J. W. FRIZZ, Homicide and Robbery Bureau, Dallas Police Department, released to the FBI the herein-after described personal property of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, which was taken from OSWALD at the time of his arrest on November 22, 1963.

A receipt for same was executed by Special Agents JAMES W. BOOKHOUT and GEORGE W. H. CARLSON to W. M. DICKER and D. W. RUBEN, Property Clerks, Dallas Police Department, on Property Clerks Invoice Number 11379G:

Mr. BARRY M. COHEN, appearing voluntarily at the Dallas Office of the FBI and advised his telephone number was EM 1-7270, COHEN is a member of the American Civil Liberty Union (ACLU) and is presently attending the University of Texas working on his Master's Degree in Russian history. COHEN who is very active in the ACLU advised he had been discussing with Mr. DREG OLDS, home phone AD 1-0841, office phone AD 5-3353, about Lee Harvey OSWALD joining the ACLU. OSWALD picked up a blank membership and mailed the membership with a $2.00 fee to the National Headquarters of ACLU in New York.

Approximately one month prior to the President's assassination, OSWALD attended a meeting of the ACLU, but COHEN was not at this meeting. COHEN started an investigation to determine why OSWALD attended this meeting and found that a Mrs. PAINE with whom OSWALD's wife was residing, invited OSWALD as her guest to this meeting.

Confidential Informant, Dallas T-7, advised Special Agent CHARLES T. BROWN, JR., that LEE H. OSWALD rented Post Office Box 6225 located at the Terminal Annex Post Office Station, Dallas, Texas, on November 1, 1963. In his application for rental of this box OSWALD indicated the name of his firm as, "Fair Play for Cuba Committee," and another firm was indicated as, "American Civil Liberties Union." He indicated the type of business as "Non-profit." According to informant, Postal records indicated OSWALD rented this box for the period November 1 through December 31, 1963, and paid $3.00 rental in cash for the box on November 1, 1963.

Informant advised that on December 5, 1963, he examined Post Office Box 6225 at which time he ascertained the only item contained in the box was the December 6, 1963, issue of "Time" Magazine. The magazine was addressed to LEE H. OSWALD, Box 6225, Dallas, Texas. The mailing strap on the magazine indicated OSWALD's subscription expires in December, 1963. Informant stated that since the afternoon of November 22, 1963, a close watch has been maintained on this box. On the afternoon of November 22, 1963, a 24-hour physical surveillance was placed on the box by Postal Authorities which lasted until midnight, November 24, 1963. According to informant no one appeared at the Post Office to ask for any mail in this box. Informant stated that a continued close watch has been maintained and will continue to be maintained for any persons attempting to obtain mail from this box.

Informant stated that it is his understanding that OSWALD had a key to Post Office Box 6225 in his possession.
pocket at the time of his arrest on November 22, 1963. Informant stated that he was at the Homicide Detail Room, Dallas Police Department, on November 22, 1963, and observed the key in the possession of an unidentified Homicide Detail Detective. The detective told informant that the key had been found on OSWALD at the time of OSWALD’s arrest.

Informant stated that he questioned numerous Postal employees after November 22, 1963, regarding any mail, packages, magazines, or other material received through Box 6225 by OSWALD and none were able to recall any material of any kind being placed in the box with the exception of one employee whose name informant was unable to recall. This employee told informant he thought on one occasion he had placed some type of Russian newspaper in the box but the employee was unable to specifically recall placing the item in the box and he was not able to recall a date on which it had been done, if it had actually been done. Informant stated that upon examining the box on the afternoon of November 22, 1963, it was determined there was dust in the bottom of the box indicating no mail had been received through the box.

Informant concluded by saying that on November 24, 1963, OSWALD admitted renting P. O. Box 6225 and P. O. Box 2915 in Dallas, Texas. He also admitted to informant that he rented P. O. Box 30061 in New Orleans, Louisiana. OSWALD did not make any admissions to informant concerning his use of this box nor did he admit receiving a gun at any time through any of the aforementioned Post Office boxes. He denied receiving any mail addressed to A. WIDEL through any of the Post Office boxes and denied that anyone else had ever received any mail through these boxes. He admitted to informant that on one or two occasions he may have given his Post Office Box key to Box 2915 to his wife for her to obtain the mail from the box and bring it to him.
addressed to 910 Wellington, Dallas, copy of which was furnished to Chief's office. Oswald was employed by Mrs. R. Kelley Co., 4601 North Main Street, New Orleans, distributors of 'Joseph Sylvester Coffins,' from May 10, 1961, to July 10, 1963. During this period he earned a total of $4,316.84. The information relative to inclusive dates of employment and total earnings was obtained from AHD Joseph Sylvester, Federal Bureau of Investigation, New Orleans, on 16-7-63, inasmuch as all records pertaining to such employment had been turned over to that office by the employer. In a telephone conversation with Mr. L. Frischer, Personnel Manager, R. H. Kelley Co on 1-12-64, reporting agent was informed that Oswald had been properly paid but his employment record was not being available when needed. Mr. Frischer stated that there were numerous occasions when Oswald would be needed to do a certain job and he could not be located by his supervisor. He said there would be times when Oswald would be gone for periods of six hours or longer and when questioned he could not furnish a plausible explanation as to where he had been during these periods of absence from his job. Mr. Frischer stated in reply to questioning that he was not aware whether Oswald would leave the plant on such occasions or whether he was in some remote section of the plant. Mr. Frischer also stated that Oswald would not communicate with his co-workers, indicating that he held himself aloof from those around him.

Investigation by this office and the FBI to disclose any other employments in New Orleans during the time Oswald was residing here from approximately 4-20-63 to approximately 9-21-63.

On 1-12-64 Mr. Paul T. Greene, Customs Agent in Charge, New Orleans, furnished this office for review the secondary manifest of the American Steamship "KING LYES". A freighter owned by Lyes Bros. Steamship Company, which departed New Orleans on September 5, 1959, arriving in Southampton, England, carrying four passengers, including "Lee H. Oswald", and 43 seamen, Voyage No. 110. The itinerary was furnished as follows: LePallice/Bordeaux/St. Nazaire/Leb Havre/Dunkirk, France/Brussels, Holland/Fremont/Bremen, Germany, with cargo to be discharged at Le Havre, France.

The Passenger Revenue Manifest - Voyage Report of Passengers, copies of which were obtained, listed Mr. Lee H. Oswald, male, 20 yrs., U. S. citizen, permanent address Fort Worth, Texas, Passport No. 1739242, port of embarkation - New Orleans, port of debarkation - Le Havre, France, Ticket No. 6761. The other three passengers were listed as: "Mr. H. International male, 32 yrs., U. S. citizen, permanent address Midland, Texas, Passport No. 1650407, port of embarkation - Le Havre, France; Mr. George S. Loa, male, 61 yrs., U. S. citizen, permanent address Tampa, Florida, Passport No. 1605283, Ticket No. 6761. (The number of Billy J. Lord's ticket was 6759).
In reply to our inquiry, Mr. and Mrs. Garner stated that Oswald was frequently in and out of his apartment; that he would leave but not be gone for very long periods of time. They said that he would use the buses for transportation about the city. They advised that the Oswalds left their apartment in a filthy condition, Mrs. Garner adding that she had to discard the mattress upon which they had used in their apartment because of the condition in which they had left it. Mr. Garner stated that after the Oswalds had moved he discovered that the apartment stove and electric refrigerator had been damaged during their stay, the hinges on the freezer door being broken on the refrigerator and the handles on the stove being broken off.

The Gar were repeated information previously furnished by them to the effect that Oswald kept to himself and read quite a lot. From time to time Cary was questioned, that they had never observed Oswald carrying any package which could have contained a rifle.

Mr. Garner stated that Oswald and his wife had been observed by him or at least two occasions in a nearby super market buying fairly good supplies of groceries. Mrs. Garner stated that the Oswalds had no telephone in their apartment, but that Oswald at no time made any attempt to use the Garners' telephone.

Mrs. Garner stated that an FBI agent, name believed to be Milton Teuch or Reach, was investigating Oswald during the time he lived at 4907 Magazine St.; that he had interviewed her about four or five times about Oswald. She said this FBI agent had called on her the day after Oswald had moved; that he had never indicated in any way nor was he checking on Oswald but that she came to believe that Oswald might have been suspected of being a Communist, especially after he had displayed pre-Castro circulars on the porch of his apartment.
be the Latin type; that he spoke with a Spanish accent and that he had a hand a number of pre-Castello circulars of the type which Oswald had displayed on his porch. (The individual referred to may have been Carlos Quiroga, mentioned on Page 4 of Mr. Villal's report of 12-3-63.)

As mentioned on Page Four of my report of 12-4-63, when contacted on 12-2-63 Mr. Garner stated that she recalled that Oswald had been visited on about three occasions, always late in the evening or about dark, by a middle aged, grey haired man who was rather thin; not very tall; had a receding hair line; very fair complexion; neat dress and was, as previously reported, on one occasion this man was accompanied by a woman, whom she could not describe. She said the man referred to always arrived in the same car; that it definitely was not a station wagon; that it appeared to be a heavy car and it was her recollection that it was light blue in color; from this together on one occasion the Oswalds and Mr. Garner realized that this man had gotten into this car and driven away with the unknown middle aged man, this being on a Saturday. The license number of this car was not observed by Mrs. Garner.

At 4903 Magnolia St., New Orleans, on the night of 1-14-64 SAC Rice and I interviewed Mr. and Mrs. Alexander F. Edick, next door neighbors to the Oswalld during the time the latter couple occupied a small apartment at 4907 Magazine St. In reply to questioning, Mr. and Mrs. Edick stated that they had never observed Oswald carrying any kind of package which may have contained a rifle.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Edick stated that a woman in a two-tone blue station wagon had visited the Oswaldo on two different occasions, several months apart. They stated that the woman had brought Mrs. Oswald and her small daughter to the apartment at 4907 Magazine St. during the day and that several months later a man had picked up Mrs. Oswald and her child. It was their recollection that the woman had spent two or three days with the Oswallos on both visits; that the woman had two small daughters and they stated that Oswald remained at 4907 Magazine St. for several days after his wife and child left with the woman in the station wagon. They stated that Mrs. Oswald and her child left about mid-day; that Oswald must have left at night as they did not see him when he left.

Mr. and Mrs. Edick stated that Oswald would not talk with any of the neighbors and kept to himself. Mr. Edick stated that he was on the front porch one evening shortly after the Oswallos had moved into the apartment next door; that while he was on the porch Mr. and Mrs. Oswald passed on the sidewalk. Mr. Edick stated that he noted Oswald the time of day but that Oswald looked straight ahead and did not speak. Both Mr. and Mrs. Edick stated that Oswald spent much time in reading; that he was frequently observed sitting on his second floor porch reading; and on other occasions they could see him seated in his living room reading. (Mrs. Edick stated of 4907 Magazine St. that she had been 77 years living there.)

Mr. and Mrs. Edick stated that Oswald had very few visitors; that they recalled one occasion when a representative of WDSU radio station visited Oswald at his apartment. This was about the time Oswald had a radio debate with Bob Edwards on WDSU, a New Orleans radio station, an anti-Castro Cuban refugee, over this radio station. The Ebner couple stated that while they were sitting on their front porch one Sunday evening they observed a middle aged man and woman bringing the Oswald couple and their child home in a car. They stated that judging from appearances it seemed as if the Oswallos had spent the night with this couple; that they had several zipper type overnight bags with them. They also stated that they had observed no activity in the Oswald apartment the previous night, giving rise to the belief that the Oswallos had spent the night away from their apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Edick stated that on occasion the Oswallos would shop at a Winn Dixie store (super market) located at 4902 Prytania St., several blocks from their apartment. They stated that Oswald was in and out of his apartment during the day but would usually at home at night. They stated that when he left his apartment, he usually boarded a bus at the corner from his apartment, which would take him to the downtown business area.

Mr. and Mrs. Edick stated that Oswald always spoke in a foreign language, possibly Russian; that at times the Oswallos appeared to be arguing in a foreign language, which they could not understand. They had never heard Mrs. Oswald speaking in English.

On 1-14-64 SAC Rice and I interviewed Mr. Eric Rogers, who occupies the small front apartment at 4907 Magazine St. in New Orleans. Mr. Rogers stated that he and his wife had moved to this apartment about June or July 1963 and that the Oswald couple were occupying an apartment at this same address when they moved in. Mr. Rogers stated that Oswald had several visitors at various intervals, one of whom appeared to be an American; that the others appeared to be foreigners and were the Latin type.
Mr. Rogers stated that he had never had any conversations with Oswald, who would speak to no one and kept to himself. He said that Oswald read a lot and that he was a neat dresser.

Mr. Rogers stated that he understood that Oswald had left owing the New Orleans Public Service, Inc., for utilities.

In reply to questioning, Mr. Rogers stated that he would frequently leave his apartment during the day but that as a rule he would not be gone for very long. On such occasions, he would use buses as a means of transportation.

Mr. Rogers stated that he was at home on the occasion when Mrs. Oswald and her child left in a light brown Ford or Chevrolet station wagon with a man and woman. He said the man was about in his 40's and was short and stocky. In reply to questioning, Mr. Rogers stated that he is certain there was a man present on this occasion. He said that Oswald left about 7:00 PM on the day after his wife’s departure; that Oswald had two pieces of luggage (large traveling bags) with him when he left; that Oswald was in a hurry and ran to catch a bus at the corner of Magazine and Upperline Sts., almost directly across the street from his apartment. This bus would have proceeding from the uptown section of New Orleans to the downtown business section of the city.

Mr. Rogers stated that Oswald always talked with his wife in Russian or some foreign language; that he had never seen Oswald with any package which may have contained a rifle. He mentioned the fact that Oswald had on one occasion put up some pro-Castro pamphlets or circulars on the screened porch adjoining his apartment. He said that on occasions Oswald displayed a bad temper and appeared to be abusive toward his wife, judging from the manner in which he would speak to her. He said that Mrs. Oswald seldom left her apartment.

No information was received from any of the above-mentioned individuals which would indicate that meetings had been held at the Oswald apartment at 4907 Magazine Street.

PROOF

This case will be considered closed at New Orleans, unless we are advised that additional information is desired.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at her place of residence, 11611 Farrar Street, Dallas, in the English language.

She stated she could not furnish any information as to where OSWALD had resided during the period October 19, 1962 to November 2, 1963, when they had moved into 6012 Elsbeth Street, Dallas, Texas. She stated that prior to living at 6012 Elsbeth Street with her husband, she had resided with Mrs. JOHN R. HALL at Fort Worth, Texas. On the day she moved into their residence on Elsbeth Street, she spent that day until the night at the residence of Barbara and Claude HENRY RAY, who lives at 4524 Alta Vista Lane, Dallas. She did not, however, spend the night at the RAY home. She estimated she spent six or eight hours there.

MARINA advised that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had not owned a brown and white pull-over sweater or white dungarees or white canvas shoes.

MARINA was questioned concerning cameras which were owned by LEE HARVEY OSWALD and her. She said that they had owned two cameras. One of these cameras was a Russian camera which had been purchased by LEE HARVEY OSWALD at Minsk in September, 1961. This camera had been cheap in price but it was a good camera. This was a box-type camera. This camera was brought by the OSWALDS to the United States when they returned from Russia and was among the effects of the OSWALDS at Dallas on November 22, 1963. MARINA and OSWALD had purchased this camera after he had left another camera in a cafe in Minsk and had lost it.

The other camera owned by the OSWALDS was a United States made camera which LEE HARVEY OSWALD had owned prior to his entry into the U. S. Marine Corps and this was the camera which he had taken pictures with when he was in the Marine Corps. When he went to Russia, OSWALD left this camera with his brother, ROBERT OSWALD. When OSWALD and MARINA returned from Russia, ROBERT returned the camera to OSWALD and it was among the effects the OSWALDS had on November 22, 1963.

MARINA was exhibited a photograph which is item 378 of an inventory list prepared by the FBI which photograph depicts two cameras, one a "Cueva - 2" and the other a "Realist". She said the cameras depicted in this photograph appear to be the cameras which were owned by her husband. She said the "Cueva - 2" camera appears to be the Russian camera and the "Realist" appears to be the American made camera.

MARINA stated OSWALD also had a light meter she believes. She said she does not know such cameras or cameras. She said this light meter had probably been left by LEE HARVEY OSWALD with his brother, ROBERT, along with the Realist camera, when OSWALD went to Russia. She does not know what the name of this light meter is.

MARINA traced some of her activities again for the dates November 22-24, 1963. She said on Friday, November 22, 1963, she had spent the night at the home of Mrs. Paine and that MADGE RAY, the mother of her husband, had also stayed there that night. On the night of November 23, 1963, Saturday, she and her children stayed with MRS. JESSIE CURRY in a hotel in Dallas. On Sunday night, November 24, 1963, she spent the night at The Inn of Six Flags in Dallas-Fort Worth, Texas. She recalls that on Saturday, November 23, 1963, in the morning, she went to see LEE HARVEY OSWALD at the Police Station at Dallas. She r-called on Sunday morning, November 24, 1963, she went to Chief JESSIE CURRY's house in Dallas for a period c' one and one-half to two hours for the purpose of changing her children's clothes and to make a telephone call. She said while she was at the CURRY home, she called Mrs. Paine and asked the latter to bring to the Police Station, none of her clothing, some baby clothing and bottles, her husband's wedding ring and the wallet with money, which was in the dresser drawer in the room occupied by MARINA OSWALD at the Paine home.

On Monday, November 25, 1963, while she was living in the Inn Six Flags, a Secret Service man, who does not recall the name, gave her the wallet with the money.

She counted the money and found that it contained $100.00, $70.00 of this money had been saved by her husband LEE HARVEY OSWALD.
OSWALD in New Orleans and Dallas. $10.00 of this money had been given to Mrs. PAINE for MARINA on Saturday, November 23, 1963. Mrs. PAINE gave the money to MARINA on that day and MARINA placed it on top of her dresser in the room in which she stayed in the PAINES' home. Later Mrs. PAINES put the money in the wallet with the $175.00.

After receiving the $180.00 at The Inn of Six Flags, MARINA OSWALD kept it and it is now spent.

OSWALD was interviewed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. DEAN FORD, 14057 Brookcrown Drive, Dallas, with whom she is temporarily residing. Mrs. FORD is of Russian descent and speaks the Russian language and has been previously identified by MARINA as a close friend of hers.

MARINA was questioned concerning the photographs which LEE HARVEY OSWALD had taken at the General WALKER home at Dallas, which photographs appear in inventory item number 14 - photograph 1 and inventory item 369, and have been identified as being photographs of the WALKER home.

MARINA stated that she had originally seen these photographs about two or three days after the WALKER shooting. On this occasion, she smelled smoke in the house which they rented on Noel Street. She investigated and found LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the bathroom burning pages from a loose-leaf notebook. OSWALD identified the paper he was burning as being the place for the making of the General WALKER. MARINA stated these pages came from a loose-leaf notebook with a blue cover. She has seen this loose-leaf notebook about the house since the WALKER incident and knows that OSWALD did not destroy the notebook also. She also recalls seeing a bus timetable in the notebook at the time he was burning the pages. At this time, OSWALD had in his hand some photographs. She asked to see the photographs and then asked OSWALD what they were. He identified them as being photographs which he had taken of the WALKER home. MARINA is of the opinion that OSWALD developed and printed the photographs himself as he had available material for such work at his place of employment and because he did not trust anybody else to do the developing and printing.

MARINA is not sure which camera OSWALD took the photographs of the WALKER house. She reiterated that OSWALD owned two cameras; one a Russian made camera with the trade name "Smens 2", and the other a U. S. made camera. The "Smens 2" camera was previously identified as the "Guer - 2" camera. "Smens 2" is the English translation of the Russian trade name of this camera.

Special Agent WALLACE B. HITEMAN - g 7

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is issued to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.
A photograph of the "Smena - 3" camera, which is item 378, which bears Serial Number 677250 was exhibited to her and she identified the camera depicted therein as identical with the Russian camera the OWSHAD owned. She was also shown the photograph of the Stereo Realist, which is item number 378, which has Serial Number A60799. She could not identify this camera.

She stated it was not the property of OWSHAD as far as she knew. She advised to her knowledge she had never seen this camera. MARINA advised she could identify the other camera which OWSHAD owned. She believed the U.S. made camera made larger photographs than did the Russian camera. She recalled OWSHAD had said something about the difficulty of obtaining film for the Russian camera. She believes the photographs of the WALKER house were taken with the U.S. made camera. She advised she does note have in her possession at this time, any negative photographs. MARINA stated she had a photo album among other personal effects in the garage at the FORD house and asked if she should look among these effects. She was asked if she would search the effects to determine if she had any negative photographs therein. MARINA went to the garage and brought out the effects which were contained in a small brown suitcase. She went through the effects which included several U.S. magazines published since the assassination and other personal papers. She found a small baby photo album. She looked through it but could not find any negatives.

MARINA was exhibited the photograph of a Minox light meter with case, which is item 375. She could not identify this light meter as being the property of OWSHAD.

MARINA was further questioned concerning OWSHAD's rifle.

She said OWSHAD had packed the rifle in New Orleans several days prior to the time she left for Dallas. She said she presume that the rifle was transported by her and Mrs. RUTH PAINNE in the PAINNE station wagon when they returned to Dallas from New Orleans in September, 1963. She recalls the next time she saw this rifle was in the PAINNE garage about a week after she had arrived in Dallas in September, 1963. She said this was the occasion that she has previously related when she was in the garage looking for a part of JUNK's baby bed and saw something wrapped up in a blanket. She undid the package enough to pull back a corner of the blanket. She noticed that the article in the blanket was OWSHAD's rifle. She said that she does not recall actually seeing this rifle again until it was exhibited to her by the Commission investigating the assassination of President KENNEDY during her interrogation in Washington. MARINA recalls that there were two duffle bags left in the station wagon by her and Mrs. RUTH PAINNE when they were unloading the station wagon following their trip from New Orleans. She does not know who moved these duffle bags from the station wagon to the garage but presume it was either MICHAEL PAINNE and/or RUTH PAINNE. She said she was pregnant and did not pick up any heavy things.

MARINA classified RUTH PAINNE as a very talkative person and one to whom you could not tell a secret because she could not keep the secret. She said RUTH PAINNE was not the type of person to whom you would tell things to.

She said she had never told RUTH PAINNE or MICHAEL PAINNE that OWSHAD owned a rifle. She does not believe that OWSHAD ever told either of the PAINNE that he owned a rifle. She does not believe that either of the PAINNE knew that OWSHAD had a rifle although she is not positive of this.

She advised she is well aware that Mrs. PAINNE frequently made notations on her calendar about appointments, events and other items. She stated that she knows nothing about Mrs. PAINNE making a notation on her calendar such as "OCT 23 - JFK purchase of rifle". She said she does not know what this notation means nor does she recall seeing it on Mrs. PAINNE's calendar. She never talked to Mrs. PAINNE about OWSHAD's ownership of the rifle.

MARINA was questioned concerning any target practice that OWSHAD may have engaged in with his rifle.
MARINA advised OSWALD had told her after the WALKER incident that he had practiced with his rifle in a field near Dallas. She said further that in the beginning of January, 1963, at the Neely Street address, he on one occasion was cleaning his rifle and he said he had been practicing that day.

MARINA was asked if she had ever seen OSWALD take the rifle from the house and she replied that she had not. She was then asked if it were true then that she had never seen OSWALD take the rifle from the house nor knew any occasion when he might have had the rifle at a place other than at home. She then admitted that she did know of such an occasion. She said this occasion occurred on an evening in March, 1963. On this evening, she and JUNE and OSWALD left the house at about 6:00 PM. OSWALD had his rifle wrapped up in a raincoat. They walked out of the house on Neely Street to the corner of Neely and Elizbeth Streets. There, they turned left and walked two blocks and turned right and walked two blocks at which point OSWALD boarded a bus which he believes is the "Love Field" bus. He did not return until about 9:00 PM. She was enroute to the small fish store and ice cream store nearby and after OSWALD boarded the bus, she proceeded to the store.

When OSWALD returned about 9:00 PM, he told her he had practiced with his rifle. She said she stated that he had better watch out because the Police would arrest him. He replied there had been no people around to hear him practice with the rifle. MARINA advised she had not told the Commission in Washington about this incident. MARINA was asked if she knew if OSWALD ever practiced at a target range or public place. She said that she did not know that he had so practiced and doubted if he had because of his secretive nature.

She was asked if there were other occasions when she knew that OSWALD had taken his rifle out to practice firing with it. She said that she could not recall any other occasions but there were times when OSWALD would walk from the house saying he would return soon. She thinks it entirely possible that he did practice firing with his rifle on some of those occasions.

MARINA said she did not know OSWALD had intended to attempt the assassination of General WALKER. She said she had not heard of General WALKER prior to his admission to her on the night of the attempted assassination nor did she know even then who WALKER was until he explained WALKER's identity to her. She said she had never discussed the WALKER incident with anyone until questioned about it by persons investigating the assassination of President KENNEDY. She said she had never mentioned the incident to Mrs. RUTH PAINE.

She stated that she had known about OSWALD's trip to Mexico about a week before he had taken the trip. She said she had been aware of the interest of the interviewing agents in the trip of OSWALD to Mexico because of the questioning done by the interviewing agents concerning this trip. She said she had not told the interviewing agents about the trip and had, in fact, stated that she did not know about the trip whereas in truth she had known because she did not like the FBI and she had wanted to save something to tell the Commission.

She said that when questioned concerning the OSWALD trip to Mexico by the Commission, she realized the interest of the Government in this trip and being under oath, told the truth about the trip whereas she previously had not.

MARINA stated she had not liked New Orleans and had told OSWALD she wanted to return to Dallas. She thereupon wrote RUTH PAINE requesting that Mrs. PAINE help her to return to Dallas. RUTH PAINE wrote that she would be in New Orleans to pick her up and return her to Dallas. MARINA stated it was OSWALD's intention at the beginning to return to Dallas with her and Mrs. Paine. Later, however, he conceived the idea of going to Mexico for the purposes of entering Cuba. He wanted to go to Cuba because he was interested in that country and because Cuba and Russia were friendly nations. He told her that the only way he could get to Cuba was through Mexico. MARINA did not want to go to Cuba but said she would probably have gone if OWSWALD had been admitted and had later asked for her and JUNK to join him there. It was her opinion that OWSWALD, if admitted to Cuba, would become disillusioned there as he had become in Russia and he would return to the United States and support his family in a normal way.

She advised she had not told RUTH PAINE or anyone else about OWSWALD going to Mexico and she feels certain OWSWALD did not tell RUTH PAINE or anyone else about his trip to Mexico. While he was in Mexico, he wrote her no letters because he did not want anyone to know he had gone to Mexico.

She said OWSWALD had informed her he had traveled to Mexico from New Orleans by bus and had returned to Dallas from Mexico by bus. He mentioned that his return trip had cost him less than his trip to Mexico. He took with him somewhere between $160.00 and $180.00 and he returned to Dallas with about $70.00. She was questioned as to why she knew the amounts of money he took and returned with, when she had previously stated she knew nothing about money matters and OWSWALD did not tell her anything about money matters. She said OWSWALD had told her when she left New Orleans that he had about $160.00 to $180.00. He told her when he returned to Dallas that he had about $70.00. She said it is true that she did not handle the money and she could not spend money unless OWSWALD gave her permission but she did know of these matters as above related. She was asked how much money she had in her possession at the time she returned to Dallas from New Orleans. She replied she had no more than $10.00.

OSWALD told her he had gone alone to Mexico and had returned alone. He did not mention making any acquaintances enroute or in Mexico or on return trip. He said he had contacted the Cuban Embassy in an attempt to obtain permission to enter Cuba but had been unsuccessful. He said he had been turned down by the Soviet Embassy with request to return to Russia by way of Cuba although he did not intend to actually go to Russia but rather stay in Cuba. He was again unsuccessful. In MARINA's opinion, he returned to Dallas convinced that he would not be able to enter Cuba.

MARINA said OWSWALD told her he had visited several museums in Mexico and had done some sightseeing. She does not know in which hotel he stayed. He told her that there were many poor people in Mexico and that there were a lot of prostitutes. He said the American people lived well in Mexico. He told MARINA he had enjoyed his trip to Mexico. MARINA stated it seemed to her that OWSWALD was ready to settle down upon his return from Mexico and he started saving money to buy her a washing machine.

She said upon OWSWALD's return to Dallas, he also began saving money again and putting it in the wallet which was maintained by him in a dresser drawer at the Paine house.

MARINA stated that she was not aware if the bracelet OWSWALD had given her as a present following his return to Dallas in October, 1963, had come from Mexico. She said it was very possible this bracelet had been purchased by OWSWALD in New Orleans. She said she did know that OWSWALD had purchased some scenic postcards in Mexico and had brought these postcards back with him to Dallas and had shown them to her. She said she knows nothing about a phonograph record possibly purchased by OWSWALD in Mexico.
Lee Harvey Oswald

Mr. Lee W. Robertson, Postal Inspector, Room 2002, Main Post Office, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised on April 8, 1964, that the records of the Post Office show that Lee H. Oswald paid box rental of $3.00 on June 3, 1963 for the period June 3, 1963 through June 30, 1963. Lee H. Oswald paid $3.00 box rental on June 25, 1963 for the quarter beginning July 1, 1963. Both payments were made at the Lafayette Square Substation for the rental of Post Office Box 30061.

A copy of Oswald's application for a post office box is attached.

Commission Exhibit No. 1158
Re: Lee Harvey Oswald
Internal Security - R - Cuba

On April 8, 1964, James M. Josoff, Public Relations Director, Travellers Aid Society, 204 East 39th Street, New York, advised Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (SA of the FBI) that his records indicate that Oswald and his family were met at the pier in Hoboken, New Jersey, on June 13, 1962, by a representative from their office and transported to the Port Authority Terminal at 41st Street and 8th Avenue, New York City. He stated that this transportation was via Travellers company limousine and was free of charge. He stated their limousine service only operates between the Port Authority terminals and the piers and that is the reason why Oswald was not taken directly to the office of the New York City Department of Welfare. He advised that the record further indicates that their representative accompanied Oswald and his family from the Port Authority Terminal to the office of Special Services, New York City, and that they travelled via taxicab. He commented that inasmuch as Oswald's file does not contain a request for reimbursement for this taxi fare, he would assume that Oswald paid for the fare.

Mr. Josoff remarked that it would appear from the record that Oswald and his family stayed at the Times Square Motor Hotel, 8th Avenue and 43rd Street, New York City. He also remarked that since Oswald did have some money in his possession, any meals consumed during the period that he was in the company of the Travellers representative, Oswald would have paid for himself.

Lee Harvey Oswald

In connection with the taxi fare from the Port Authority Terminal to the Department of Welfare, Max Weiss, President of the Broad Street Taxi Owners Association, Incorporated, 44 Whitehall Street, New York, advised an SA of the FBI on April 10, 1964 that the fare for this trip would have been approximately $1.50.

On April 8, 1964, Miss Dorothy Downing, Supervisor, Special Investigations, New York City Department of Welfare, advised an SA of the FBI that since their files do not reflect any expenditures by the department on behalf of Oswald and his family, it can be assumed that any transportation to and from the office of the Department of Welfare and any meals consumed during the period of Oswald's association with the department, were paid for by Oswald himself.

She stated that the file does contain a request from a Department of Welfare worker for reimbursement for himself for $3.50 spent on transportation to and from Idlewild Airport, Queens, New York, aboard a Carey bus. She commented that it would appear that Oswald, his family, and the Welfare worker proceeded to Idlewild aboard a Carey bus and that Oswald paid his whole fare.

Miss Downing stated that Oswald left the Special Services branch office of the Department of Welfare, 47 Franklin Street, registered at a Times Square hotel and subsequently returned to the Special Services office on June 14, 1962, at which time he was accompanied to the Western Union office, 428 Broadway, which is only a few blocks from the Special Services office, where he obtained the $200 sent by his brother from Texas.

In connection with the above itinerary, Miss Downing was unable to furnish any information concerning expenditures by Oswald.

Although Oswald’s means of transportation from Special Services office, 47 Franklin Street, to his hotel at 8th Avenue and 43rd Street, on June 13, 1962, and his return trip to 47 Franklin Street on the following day are unknown, it is to be noted that if he, his wife, and their four month infant child took a taxi cab, the approximate fare each way would have been $1.50. This estimate was furnished on April 10, 1964 by Max Weiss, herefore mentioned. As indicated above, the Western Union office where Oswald received his $200 is within walking distance from the Special Services office and in all probability, no transportation expenses were incurred in connection with this travel.

It appears from the Welfare file that Oswald left the Western Union office and proceeded to the West Side Air Terminal to obtain his airplane tickets. Since there is no information available regarding his means of transportation, it can only be assumed that if he travelled via taxi, the fare would have been $1.50, according to Mr. Weiss.

The West Side Air Terminal is located at 10th Avenue and 42nd Street, and is within walking distance to the Times Square Hotel, 8th Avenue and 43rd Street, and in all probability Oswald incurred no expense in connection with this travel.

On April 9, 1964, Ethel Zilliken, Chief Ticket Agent, Delta Airlines, West Side Air Terminal, advised an SA of the FBI that their files reflect that on June 14, 1962, Oswald purchased two tickets totalling $283.04 or $14.12 for each ticket. She stated that there is no charge for an infant. She commented that Oswald’s flight number was 821, and was scheduled to land at Love Field, Dallas, Texas.

On April 9, 1964, John Huber, Jr., Manager, Times Square Motor Hotel, 8th Avenue and 43rd Street, New York City, advised an SA of the FBI that their files reflect that L. Oswald registered at their hotel on June 13, 1962, and checked out on June 14, 1962. He stated that Oswald’s bill, totalling $15.21, included $10 for the room, $.50 tax and $4.71 for telephone calls. He stated that the telephone toll cards are destroyed after six months and the only information available regarding these calls is that one long distance call amounting to $2.31 was placed on June 13, 1962 and one long distance call amounting to $2.20 and one local call amounting to $.20, were placed on June 14, 1962.

On April 10, 1964, Edward L. Braune, Security Supervisor, New York City Telephone Company, advised that their records pertaining to the period June, 1962, have been destroyed and there is no information available concerning these records.

The Welfare file indicates that Oswald left his hotel on June 14, 1962 and proceeded to the East Side Airlines (ESAL), First Avenue and 38th Street, New York City, via taxi. In connection with this taxi transportation, Mr. Weiss, previously mentioned, estimated that this fare would have been approximately $6.85. The file revealed that Oswald and his family apparently travelled from ESAL to Idlewild Airport via Carey bus.

On April 10, 1964, inquiry at Carey Transportation Company, ESAL, First Avenue and 38th Street, New York City, disclosed that the fare from ESAL to Idlewild Airport in June, 1962 would have been $1.75 per person with no charge for infants.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Dallas, Texas
April 13, 1964

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

By letter dated April 3, 1964, the President's Commission on the Assassination of President KENNEDY requested further additional investigation for the purposes of obtaining additional information concerning the expenditures of LEE HARVEY OSWALD during the period July, 1962 to October 3, 1963.

The President's Commission letter specifically requested information concerning the monthly rental charges for certain residences at Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas, as well as information concerning the utility payments at such residences.

On April 13, 1964, CHESTER ALLEN RIGGS, JR., 250 Carroll, Fort Worth, Texas, furnished the following information:

LEE OSWALD rented one side of a duplex at 2703 Mercedes Street, from about July, 1962 to October, 1962. RIGGS does not have old rental records to reflect exact date of occupancy. OSWALD paid $59.50 a month for this duplex and always paid his rent in cash.

All the utilities at this address were in the name of RIGGS. OSWALD paid the water, gas and electric bills, in addition to his rental of $59.50. The utility bills came to RIGGS and he, or one of his employees, would take them to OSWALD. Sometimes OSWALD would pay RIGGS, or one of his men, in cash for the utilities but, in most instances, RIGGS paid the utility bills direct to the companies in Fort Worth. RIGGS stated OSWALD did not have a telephone in this duplex.

The utilities averaged approximately $12.00 a month for gas, water and electricity. RIGGS does not have any of the old records to reflect the exact figures on the utilities. He rented some similar-type apartments with utilities and he always charged an extra $12.00 a month to cover these bills. He had kept a record of the utilities on similar-type duplexes and they would average about $12.00 per month.

On April 8, 1964, Mrs. WANNIE M. TOBIAS, 602 Elizabeth Street, Apartment 7, Dallas, Texas, furnished the following information:

LEE HARVEY OSWALD was required to make utility payments for electricity only during the time he resided at 604 Elizabeth Street, Apartment No. 2, Dallas, Texas, between November 3, 1962, and March 3, 1963. All other utility payments were included in the rental amount of $68.00 per month.

Mrs. TOBIAS stated that electricity was furnished at this address by the Dallas Power and Light Company, Dallas, Texas.

On April 9, 1964, Mrs. PAT DOUGLAS, Personnel Section, Dallas Power and Light Company, 1506 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas, advised that the records of this company reflect that Account No. 700-1-2780-2 indicates that this account number was assigned to LEE H. OSWALD, 604 Elizabeth Street, Apartment 2, Dallas, Texas. She furnished the following summary of transactions in this account:

Mrs. DOUGLAS advised that the records of the Dallas Power and Light Company disclose that no deposit was ever placed with this firm by LEE H. OSWALD.

The following investigation has previously been reported as set forth on pages 106, 109, 110 and 112, in the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. GEHRZELING, dated December 10, 1963, at Dallas, Texas. A summary of expenditures made by LEE HARVEY OSWALD for rent and utilities while residing at 214 West Nealy Street, Dallas, Texas, as previously reported, is set forth as follows:

On April 8, 1964, JOE R. MC REE, Secretary, Young Men's Christian Association, 605 North Ervay, Dallas, Texas, advised that LEE HARVEY OSWALD paid a total of $9.00 for room rent at the YMCA in Dallas for the period April 15, 1963 through October 15, 1962. OSWALD's room rent for this period was $2.25 per day. MC REE advised OSWALD paid $2.25 for a room he rented on October 3, 1963. He advised payment for all of the above was made in cash on a daily basis. MC REE said he had previously furnished information regarding OSWALD's room rental payments to an Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and had made Photostats of the receipts for October 15, 1962 - October 19, 1962, and sent them to the President's Commission staff in Dallas.
Honororable J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President’s Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, N. E.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of March 31, 1964, which was received by this Bureau April 6, 1964, requesting that further investigation be conducted in New Orleans, Louisiana; Fort Worth, Texas; and Dallas, Texas, concerning the receipts and expenditures of Lee Harvey Oswald during the period June 13, 1962, through November 22, 1963.

Enclosed for the Commission are two copies of a memorandum dated April 10, 1964, at New Orleans, Louisiana, which sets forth results of our inquiries in this particular matter in New Orleans, Louisiana. Our inquiries in Fort Worth, Texas, and Dallas, Texas, are continuing and the results of such investigation will be promptly forwarded to the Commission upon receipt at our Headquarters.

Sincerely yours,

cashed any other checks for Oswald since he does not cash personal checks for anyone. He only cashes payroll checks and unemployment checks.

He advised that he did not know if Oswald attempted to cash any other checks in his restaurant because he does not recall Oswald at all. He said that his brother-in-law, Anthony Martin or his wife Mrs. Rose Martin, remembers that Oswald used to eat lunch there but that he, himself, cannot place him. Mr. Martin said that he understood from speaking to his wife or brother-in-law, that Oswald spent about 50¢ a day for lunch and he does not know how often Oswald visited his establishment. Mr. Martin could furnish no further information regarding expenditures made by Oswald. Anthony Martin, Martin's Restaurant, 701 Tchoupitoulas Street, advised on April 10, 1964, that he remembers seeing Oswald eat lunch in the restaurant and recalled that he always sat by himself. He usually ordered a hamburger and a soft drink for lunch and would normally be in the restaurant from about 11:30 to 11:45 AM almost daily. He said that a hamburger costs 35¢ and a soft drink 8¢ and that this was the usual expenditure made by Oswald for his lunch. Anthony Martin did not recall cashing any checks for Oswald and said that the only time he saw Oswald in the restaurant was when he came there for lunch.

Mrs. Rose Martin, wife of Roland Martin, 701 Tchoupitoulas Street, advised on April 10, 1964, that she does not recall Oswald at all. Neither can she remember cashing any checks for him.

Mr. J. D. Fuchs, Manager, Winn-Dixie Store #1425, 4303 Magazine, on April 10, 1964, identified the following checks as having been cashed at his store:

Mr. Fuchs advised that either he or his assistant, J. S. GUILLOT approved these checks for cashing. He said that no fee was charged for cashing these checks. Mr. Fuchs advised that he did not know if any other checks were cashed for Oswald but he doubts that there were. He said that a person cashing a check would have to have some form of identification such as a Social Security Card. He said that Oswald did not have a Winn-Dixie Courtesy Card which would permit him to cash checks at the store, because if he had a courtesy card, the front of the check would bear the number of the Winn-Dixie Courtesy Card. Fuchs advised he did not know whether or not Oswald had attempted to cash any other checks at his store. He stated that he did not know whether or not Oswald made any purchases at his store and said that he had checked with each one of his employees, including all the cashiers, and that none of them remembered Oswald being a customer in the store. He advised that he did not know how often Oswald actually visited the store and could furnish no information concerning Oswald's expenditures.

Mr. R. W. Massey, Manager, Winn-Dixie Store #1404 3920 South Carrollton Avenue, on April 13, 1964, identified Texas Employment Commission Warrant #G386726 in the amount of $33.00 as being cashed at his store. He said that actually the check was approved for cashing by Henry H. Murphy, Sr., a clerk, but in all probability, Murphy obtained his, Massey's, authorization to cash the check. He said that no charge was made for cashing the check and noted that the front of the check bore the notation "USA Card 1653230." He advised that this indicated to him that Oswald had used his Marine Corps Card as identification in order to cash the check. He said if Oswald had used a Winn-Dixie Courtesy Card, that the number of the card would have been placed on the front of the check. He said that he did not know if Oswald had cashed any other checks at his store; however, he does know that Oswald did not fill out an application for a courtesy card at his store because he checked these records and could find no application in the name of Oswald. He stated that he did not know if Oswald had attempted to cash any other checks at his store. He informed that he did not know if Oswald had made any purchases at his store; however, he thought that probably Oswald had made a small purchase when he cashed the above Texas Employment Commission Warrant, because he doubts seriously if Murphy would have okayed the check for cashing if Oswald had not made any purchase. Mr. Massey was unable to state the number of times Oswald may have visited his store. He said that he had checked with all of his employees and that none of them recall seeing Oswald. He was unable to furnish any further information concerning Oswald's expenditures.

Robert Templet, Manager, Winn-Dixie Store #1439, 4901 Prytania Street, on April 13, 1964, identified the following checks as having been cashed at his store:

He said the first check was approved by him for cashing and the second check was approved by Mrs. Ahea Drago. He said that no charge was made by the store for cashing these checks and that he did not know of any other checks cashed by his store for Oswald. Mr. Templet recalled that Oswald had tried to cash a check which he thought was issued by a coffee company in New Orleans in the amount of approximately $56.00 in either May or June, 1963. He refused to approve the check for cashing at which time he gave Oswald an application for a courtesy card which would permit him to cash checks at the store. He stated that he had searched his records, but was unable to find the application. He said that he thought that Oswald had made purchases at the store but he, himself, was unable to state how often or in what amount. He was unable to furnish any further information concerning Oswald's expenditures.

Ruth Beck, Cashier, Winn-Dixie Store #1439, 4901 Prytania Street, advised that Oswald himself appeared at the store at least several times a week to purchase milk and bread. She thought that he made larger purchases accompanied by his wife, but she was unable to recall the amounts of these purchases or the number of occasions that they were made.

Dorothy Boykin, Cashier, Winn-Dixie Store #1439, 4901 Prytania Street, advised on April 13, 1964 that she recalled that Mrs. Oswald had shopped in this store about twice each week during the Summer of 1963; sometimes she was accompanied by her husband and always she was accompanied by the child. She stated that their purchases usually amounted to about $5.00 and as best as she can recall, these purchases were made about twice a week.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

In an effort to ascertain whether LEE HARVEY OSWALD had obtained a safe deposit box in either of the two banks in Laredo, Texas, the following persons were interviewed:

On April 14, 1964, Miss SYLVIA ADALEPE, employee of the Union National Bank in Laredo, advised she was in charge of the safe-deposit section during September and October, 1963. She was shown a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and she informed that to her knowledge she had never seen this individual.

On April 14, 1964, Mrs. EMA TORRES, Secretary to the President of the Union National Bank, checked the records of renters of safe-deposit boxes of that bank and advised she was unable to locate any record of LEE HARVEY OSWALD having obtained a safe-deposit box under the name of OSWALD or O. H. LEE or any other similar name.

On April 14, 1964, Mrs. CLARICE M. VELA, in charge of the safe-deposit boxes of the Laredo National Bank, checked the records of that bank and advised she could not locate anyone with the name of LEE HARVEY OSWALD or O. H. LEE or any similar name having obtained a safe-deposit box at that bank. She was shown a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and informed that to her knowledge she had never seen him.

Lee Harvey Oswald

On April 14, 1964, a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was displayed to Mrs. MARGARET D. MC CARTY, FBI Operator who on occasion would rent safe-deposit boxes at the Laredo National Bank. She advised she had never seen OSWALD to her knowledge.

On April 14, 1964, a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was shown to Mrs. ROSSIE GOODMAN at the check order desk who on occasion had rented safe-deposit boxes at the Laredo National Bank. She stated that to the best of her knowledge she has never seen LEE HARVEY OSWALD.
The following investigation was conducted at Houston, Texas, for the purpose of determining whether Lee Harvey Oswald or a member of his immediate family may have rented a safe deposit box in a Houston bank subsequent to Oswald's return from Russia in June, 1962.

In making inquiries at the banks listed below, checks of appropriate records were made concerning any persons having the surname of Oswald and any persons using the name A. Hidell, Alex James Hidell, or G. H. Lee. In each case, the person having access to appropriate bank records made checks of such records against the above names. In addition, a photograph of Oswald was displayed to bank employees who control access to the safe deposit area and who observe persons entering and leaving the area. The identities of the banks contacted at Houston, Texas, were obtained from the 1964 edition of the "Texas Banking Red Book" published by the Banker Digest, Empire Bank Building, Dallas, Texas.

The banking institutions at Houston, Texas, at which investigation was conducted are set forth below, along with the identities of the bank employees who were interviewed and the dates on which such interviews were conducted. As a result of these interviews the respective employees of each bank reported that no record could be located indicating that Oswald or any member of his immediate family using his own name or any of the names set out above in this memorandum had ever rented a safe deposit box in Houston. These bank employees also reported after viewing a photograph of Oswald that they could not recall having seen him in the banks where they are employed.

The following investigation was conducted at all known banks at Dallas, Fort Worth, Irving, and other suburban towns in the metropolitan Dallas - Fort Worth, Texas, area, for the purpose of determining whether LEE HARVEY OSWALD or a member of his immediate family may have rented a safe-deposit box in any of such banks subsequent to OSWALD's return from Russia in June, 1962.

The investigation consisted of a check of the records of each of the listed banks on the dates indicated for any record of a checking, savings, or loan account or a safe-deposit box rental in the names LEE HARVEY OSWALD, A. HIDEAL, A. J. HIDEAL, ALEX J. HIDEAL, ALEX JAMES HIDEEL, H. O. LEE, HARRY OSWALD LEE, O. H. LEE, ALIENOS OSWALD, L. H. OSWALD, LEE OSWALD, LEE H. OSWALD, LESLIE OSWALD, MARGARET OSWALD, ROBERT OSWALD, LEE OSWALD and JOSEPH R. OSWALD. A photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was exhibited to each of these individuals, except where otherwise noted, for the purpose of determining if OSWALD may have made use of the bank's safe-deposit box facilities under any other name. A photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was not exhibited to a bank official who had nothing to do with the actual rental of a safe-deposit box and whose location in a bank was not within the proximity of the safe-deposit box section. In each such instance, a statement is included noting that a photograph was not exhibited to the bank official contacted.

All of the following checks in this matter were negative in all respects, except where otherwise stated hereinafter:

The following investigation was conducted:

On April 20, 1964, Mr. D. S. WATERS, Store Controller, Montgomery Ward, West 7th Street, Fort Worth, Texas, stated his company had cashed the following Leslie Welding Company payroll checks which were payable to LEE OSWALD:

Cash any other checks in his store. He explained that when an individual cashes a number of checks the cashier usually prepares a name card so they may refer to it. He stated he had made a search and found no such name card for LEE OSWALD which indicated to him that OSWALD had cashed only payroll checks at his store. He also stated it was his company policy for payroll checks to be cashed only at the cashier’s office. He stated he had a frequent turnover in employees in the cashier’s office and there was only one employee working there now who cashed some of the above checks. He identified this employee as RUTH THOMPSON. He stated from his records he would say that LEE OSWALD had not attempted to cash any other checks. He stated in his retail store there are more than two hundred salesmen. He stated it would be virtually impossible to determine if OSWALD had or had not made any purchases from his store or how often he had visited this store. He stated OSWALD was residing in July, August and September 1962 at 2703 Mercedes Avenue, Fort Worth, which is only a short distance from his store which, in his mind, explained why OSWALD had cashed the above payroll checks. He stated, also, that the Leslie Welding Company is located only a short distance from his store and because of this his company frequently cashes payroll checks of employees of the Leslie Welding Company. He stated he had no other information that might assist in tracing any of OSWALD’s expenditures.

On April 20, 1964, Mrs. RUTH THOMPSON, 233 Hallbrook Drive, Fort Worth, Texas, stated she had been employed for the past three or four years by Montgomery Ward at their 7th Street Store as a cashier. She is employed in the cashier’s office. She stated she and the other employees in the cashier’s office are the ones who cash all payroll checks which are tendered to the store for cashing.

She stated she recalled cashing some of the Leslie Welding Company payroll checks for LEE OSWALD. She explained that during the time she has worked in the store she has cashed several checks for only two individuals who used a passport for identification. She stated because of this she remembered LEE OSWALD cashing some of his payroll checks during the months of July, August and September 1962. She furnished these dates after refreshing her memory by examining the photosheets of the Leslie Welding Company payroll checks during those three months, which checks were issued to LEE OSWALD. She stated so far as she can remember, these are the only checks she ever cashed for LEE OSWALD.

She stated after the assassination of President KENNEDY she saw LEE OSWALD’s picture on television and immediately recognized him as the individual who had used a passport to cash payroll checks issued to him by the Leslie Welding Company. She stated she has no other information concerning LEE OSWALD and this is the only transaction she had with him.

On April 20, 1964, Mr. RAYMOND L. BOYD, Assistant Cashier, West Side State Bank, Fort Worth, Texas, stated, after examining Leslie Welding Company payroll check number 6422, dated August 4, 1962, in the amount of $57.27, payable to LEE OSWALD, that this check was cashed at his bank. According to the stamp on the check, he stated, it was cashed by his teller number 5 on August 10, 1962. It bears the following endorsements on the reverse side of the check:

"LIE O. OSWALD, R. L. OSWALD, 7323 Davenport"

Mr. BOYD stated this indicated to him that ROBERT OSWALD had cashed this check for his brother, LEE OSWALD. Mr. BOYD stated ROBERT OSWALD had an account in his bank up until March 1963, at which time he closed the account.

Mr. BOYD stated so far as he knows, LEE OSWALD never did any banking with his bank. Mr. BOYD stated naturally there would be no charges for cashing this check as ROBERT L. OSWALD had an account at the bank.

He stated he had no other information concerning LEE OSWALD.

On April 11, 1964, Mr. MAX FURMAN, 8602 Edgemere Road, Dallas, Texas, advised he is the owner and operator of

He examined photostats of the following checks, all of which are Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall, Incorporated, payroll checks to OSWALD, except check number 4288170, which was OSWALD's 1962 Income Tax Refund check. All checks were cashed by LEE HARVEY OSWALD, and Mr. PACTOR identified them as having been cashed at his store:

He was shown the following additional Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall, Incorporated, payroll checks of OSWALD which were cashed by LEE HARVEY OSWALD, and advised these checks were not cashed at his store. He said they appeared to have been cashed at the Mercantile National Bank:

Mr. PACTOR advised that from store records and his own recollection, the following information was all he had concerning OSWALD's other possible transactions:

A fee of ten cents is normally charged by Mr. PACTOR for cashing checks to persons other than regular customers. He could not recall OSWALD as a customer and assumes he must have charged him a ten-cent fee for each check.

She said since this was the first time she had seen OSWALD in the store, she called the Assistant Manager, CARL SELD, to the cage and he authorized her to cash the check. LEE HARVEY OSWALD

The following information is being set forth for the purpose of formulating an approximation of expenditures which LEE HARVEY OSWALD possibly made during his travel and stay in Mexico from September 29, 1963, to early morning hours of October 3, 1963:

1. MONEY EXCHANGE IN MEXICO

For cost computations,

T-1, a confidential source abroad, advised that the present monetary exchange between the United States and Mexico is 12.49 Mexican pesos to one U. S. dollar. To simplify computations, the exchange rate of 12.50 pesos to one dollar is commonly used in Mexico and conversions at the 12.50 rate can be made by simply multiplying the number of Mexican pesos by eight; therefore, one Mexican peso amounts to eight cents in U. S. currency and ten Mexican pesos equal eighty cents U. S. currency.

Hereinafter the peso and contavo (canning cent) amounts refer to Mexican currency, and the U. S. dollar equivalent set forth in parenthesis behind the peso amount was computed at the 12.50 exchange rate.

2. COST OF BUS TRAVELS IN AND OUT OF MEXICO

A. Travel from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico, D. F.

T-1 advised that ALEXANDRO SAUCEDO, Manager of the Las Línea, "Servicios Unidos Autobuses Blancos, Flecha Roja, S. A. de C. V.," (The Unified Services of White Autobuses Red Arrow, Inc.) located at Avenida Insurgentes No. 137, Bar, Mexico, D. F., in the name of M. H. O. Lee for travel from Laredo, D. F., to Laredo, Texas, on October 2, 1963. His order No. 14618 reflects that M. H. O. Lee, who is considered identical with OSWALD, paid 53.75 pesos ($3.50 U.S.) for travel from Mexico, D. F., to Laredo, Texas, on the Transportes del Norte bus line.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD is considered to have made both the above and the following travel under the name of M. H. O. Lee.

B. Travel from Mexico, D. F., to Laredo, Texas

T-1 advised that on April 1, 1964, TERESA SCHAEFFER BEQUERIEN, Manager of "Agencia de Viajes, Transportes Chihualhenses, S. A. de C. V.," (Chihualhenses Transportation Travel Agency, Inc.) located at Paseo de la Reforma No. 50, Room 5, Mexico, D. F., made available reservation and purchase order No. 14619 issued to "Autobuses Transportes del Norte" (Transportation Autobuses of the North), commonly referred to as the Transportes del Norte bus line, located at Avenida Insurgentes No. 137, Bar, Mexico, D. F., in the name of M. H. O. Lee for travel from Mexico, D. F., to Laredo, Texas, on September 26 to 27, 1963.

(LEE HARVEY OSWALD was reported as having traveled on a Flecha Roja bus line from Nuevo Laredo to Mexico, D. F., on September 26 to 27, 1963.)

C. Travel from Laredo, Texas, to Dallas, Texas

T-2, a confidential source abroad, advised that

District of the Mexican Federal Capital) stated on April 15, 1964, that the bus line he manages is commonly referred to as the Flecha Roja bus line. In September, 1963, this bus line charged 71.40 pesos ($5.71 U.S.) for the trip from Nuevo Laredo, State of Tamaulipas, Mexico, to Mexico, D. F. SAUCEDO said this did not include a 3.00-peso (62c U.S.) charge for travel from Laredo, Texas, across the Rio Grande River (commonly referred to in Mexico as the Rio Bravo del Norte) to Nuevo Laredo.

The total cost from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico, D. F., via the Flecha Roja bus line in September, 1963, would have been 74.40 pesos ($5.95 U.S.).

TERESA SCHAEFFER REQUEREBI also made available on April 1, 1964, Greyhound International Exchange Order No. 48399 issued to Mr. U. O. 123 by the "Agencia do Viajes Transportes Chihuahuenses, S. A. de C. V.," for travel by Greyhound bus from Laredo to Dallas, Texas. This order reflected that it was issued on October 1, 1963, for the amount of $55.00 pesos ($12.50 U.S.). SCHAEFFER REQUIEREBI stated Mr. W. O. 123 paid, 2,500 pesos ($60.00 U.S.) in cash to the "Agencia do Viajes Transportes Chihuahuenses, S. A. de C. V." for travel from Mexico, D. F., to Dallas, Texas.

3. COST OF LODGING AT HOTEL DEL CONCRETO, MEXICO, D. F.

T-3, a confidential source abroad, advised that GUILLERMO GARCIA LUNA, owner and manager of the Hotel Del Concreto, located at Cilla (Forest) Bernardino de Sahagun No. 19, Mexico, D. F., stated OSMALD registered at the Hotel Del Concreto on September 27, 1963, and was assigned Room No. 13 (with bath) on the third floor at a daily rate of 16.00 pesos ($1.28 U.S.). OSMALD paid for his room on October 1, 1963, which, according to GUILLERMO GARCIA LUNA, was an indication that OSMALD was entitled to and probably slept at this hotel on the night of October 1-2, 1963, and departed therefrom during the morning of October 2, 1963.

OSMALD stayed at the hotel from September 27, 1963, to October 2, 1963, for five nights' lodging at 16.00 pesos ($1.28 U.S.), which amounts to 96.00 pesos ($7.68 U.S.).

On April 18, 1964, GUILLERMO GARCIA LUNA commented that the room prices at the Hotel Del Concreto had been raised due to the local publicity which this hotel had received since OSMALD stayed there and that the price for Room No. 13 is now 19.00 pesos ($1.56 U.S.).

4. APPROXIMATE FOOD COSTS WHILE IN MEXICO

A. Food Costs While Traveling to Mexico, D. F.

T-1 advised that ALEJANDRO SAUCEDO, Manager of the Flecha Roja bus line, stated on April 15, 1964, that meals are available for passengers at bus stops on route from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico, D. F. ALEJANDRO SAUCEDO advised that the Flecha Roja bus No. 516 which departed from Nuevo Laredo, State of Tamaulipas, Mexico, at 2:00 PM on September 29, 1963, would have stopped at Monterrey, State of Nuevo Leon, Mexico, at 6:00 PM on the same date for thirty minutes and passengers could have eaten at that time. This same bus, while en route to Mexico, D. F., would have stopped at Saltillo, State of Coahuila, Mexico, for thirty minutes at 8:00 PM on the same date when passengers could have eaten the second time. ALEJANDRO SAUCEDO added that there is only a ten-minute stop for this bus at San Luis Potosi, State of San Luis Potosi, Mexico, from 3:00 AM to 3:30 AM and that passengers generally are sleeping at this time and do not normally eat again until after their arrival at Mexico, D. F., usually at 9:30 AM.

He stated that the price of meals available to passengers en route to Mexico, D. F., varies from 6.00 to 12.00 pesos ($0.50 to $1.50 U.S.) or more, depending on individual eating habits.

T-2 related that on April 21, 1964, ERNESTO FERNANDEZ, co-driver with bus driver ROBERTO NOALEZ on Flecha Roja bus No. 516 on September 29 to 27, 1963, from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico, D. F., advised as follows with regard to bus stops and meals eaten by passengers on route:

Bus No. 516 makes stops at Salinas Medieval, State of Nuevo Leon; Monterrey, State of Nuevo Leon; Saltillo, State of Coahuila; San Luis Potosi, State of San Luis Potosi; Matamoros, State of San Luis Potosi; and San Juan del Rio, State of Queretaro, before arriving at Mexico City. It was said that food is available for purchase by passengers at each of these stops. The stops are for five to ten-minute periods, except for the stops at Monterrey and Saltillo where the bus stops for thirty minutes. Passengers generally can obtain a meal at any of these stops for 10.00 pesos ($0.80 U.S.) depending on the individual. He advised that bus No. 516 skirted the main downtown area of San Luis Potosi even though it does stop there briefly.

B. Food Costs While in Mexico, D. F.

2-3 advised that, from information developed at the Hotel Del Comercio and neighboring restaurants, a breakfast generally costs 3.00 to 4.00 pesos (4.25 to 5.50 U.S.), mid-afternoon meal, 5.00 to 6.00 pesos (6.49 to 7.85 U.S.), and any light meal in the evening, 4.00 to 5.00 pesos (5.15 to 6.29 U.S.). The price of a meal in the neighborhood of the Hotel Del Comercio would vary dependent on the person's eating habits.

2-3 related that in a more fashionable area located close to the travel agency "Agencia de Viajes, Transportes Chihuahuenses, S. A. de C. V.," at Paseo de la Reforma No. 52, Room B, Mexico, D. F., food at neighboring restaurants would cost 6.00 to 10.00 pesos (8.64 to 14.68 U.S.) for breakfast, 10.00 to 15.00 pesos (13.80 to 21.20 U.S.) for lunch, and 15.00 to 20.00 pesos (21.20 to 28.60 U.S.) for dinner.

2-3 advised that Mrs. HOLLIE RALPH, VDA. (naming her as "Mrs. Ralston," owner and manager of the "Ponderosa," immediately adjacent to the Hotel Del Comercio, clearly recalled on March 4, 1956, that LES HARVEY OSWALD had appeared at this restaurant. OSWALD generally arrived at the restaurant after 2:00 in the afternoon when the noon rush was over and always ate sparingly.

She remembered that OSWALD ordered with care and apparent consideration for the cost, having soup, salad or eggs, and used, but declining either a drink or coffee and dessert. OSWALD usually spent from 5.00 to 6.00 pesos (6.49 to 7.85 U.S.) for each meal. OSWALD has said always and never made any contacts or was seen anyone else.

C. Food Costs While Traveling to Laredo, Texas, From Mexico, D. F.

2-3 advised that RICARDO MEDINA REYMAN, Manager of the Mexico City terminal of the Transportes del Norte bus line, stated on April 17, 1956, that meals are available for passenger buses from Mexico, D. F., to Laredo, Texas, at bus stops when there is time to eat and the meals generally cost 10.00 pesos (14.68 U.S.).

MEXICAN REYMAN indicated there is a daily bus departure at 6:30 AM from the Transportes del Norte terminal in Mexico City on route to Laredo, Texas. A twenty-minute stop is scheduled at 2:00 PM on the same date at San Luis Potosí, State of San Luis Potosí, Mexico, where passengers can eat. Subsequently this bus stops for about five minutes at 7:55 PM at Saltillo, State of Coahuila, Mexico, and later stops for thirty minutes at Monterrey, State of Nuevo Leon, Mexico, at 9:30 PM where passengers may have a meal. This bus arrives at Laredo, Texas, at about 2:00 AM the following morning where passengers may again have time to eat.

5. BULLETIN ADVISORY PRICES

2-4, a confidential source advised, that bullfight cartels have been held regularly at the Plaza Mexico and El Toro arenas in Mexico, D. F., but during September and October, 1963, only the cartel of the "Bulllillas" (literally meaning - bautisms of young bulls) was held at the Plaza Mexico, reportedly the largest bullfight arena in the world with a seating capacity of 30,000. The El Toro arena, which is located just outside of Mexico, D. F., was closed during September and October, 1963. The Plaza Mexico is in the Federal District of Mexico and located a large bounded by streets named Avila Camacho, Rodin, Balderas, and Cortesino, n. to the Ciudad de los Deportes (Sporting Events City) or Avenida Insurgentes Sur, in Mexico, D. F.

Source explained that the "Bulllillas" season is that portion of the bullfight season in which young or smaller bulls are used, consequently, the admission prices are not as high as admission prices for cartels featuring professional bullfighting.

T-4 advised that the Plaza Mexico is an encircled arena and the price of tickets is divided primarily according to the shady and the sunny side of the arena, as listed above. T-4 noted that the prices on the sunny side of the arena always are more nominal. The choice seats are those which are in the far rear close to the arena and, accordingly, the "Primero Tendido" is followed by the "Segundo Tendido" to the General admission section, which are the sections higher up and farther away from the arena, with the prices respectively cheaper as an individual sits further away from the arena.

It was the opinion of T-4 that American tourists in Mexico, D. F., generally pay the price of 15.00 pesos ($1.20 U.S.) to attend a "Novillada" at the Plaza Mexico and O'BRIEN may have paid this price for admission to the "Novillada."

6. LIKELY MUSEUMS ATTENDED IN MEXICO, D. F.

T-1 advised that the March 14-20, 1964, issue of "Esta Semana Que Ver, Que Hacer, Donde y Como" (meaning This Week-What to Do, What to See, Where and How) magazine printed in Mexico set out on pages eleven and twelve the names of the following Museums in Mexico, D. F.:

3) Museum of Natural History, located at Dr. Enrique Gonzalez Martinez No. 10. This museum includes the specimens and studies of all types of animals from the pre-Columbian era to present times. This museum advertises its special collection of "dressed fleas." Visiting hours are from 9:00 AM to 1:00 PM daily. Free admission.

4) National Museum of Anthropology, located at Moneda No. 18. This museum includes interesting monoliths, manuscripts, and pre-Hispanic objects. Visiting hours are 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM, Mondays through Saturdays, and 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM, Sundays and holidays. Admission is 2.00 pesos ($0.16 U.S.).

5) National Historical Museum, located at the annex of the Castillo de Chapultepec (meaning the Chapultepec Castle). This museum maintains historical objects from the time of the Conquest of Mexico to the present time. Visiting hours are 9:00 AM to 5:30 PM, Mondays through Saturdays, and 10:00 AM to 1:30 PM, Sundays. Admission is 2.00 pesos ($0.16 U.S.), except for Fridays when admission is free.

7. TRANSPORTATION COSTS WHILE IN MEXICO, D. F.

A. Transportation to the Point Designated in Mexico, D. F., from the Hotel Del Comercio, Calle Bernardino de Sahagun No. 19

8. COST FOR TELEPHONE CALLS IN MEXICO, D. F.

T-1 advised that the cost of a telephone call made at a public telephone in Mexico, D. F., is 20 centavos ($0.02 U.S.).

T-3 related that GUILLERMO GARCIA LUNA, owner and Manager of the Hotel Del Comercio stated there are no telephones in the room at this hotel and OSWALD was not known to have used the hotel telephone maintained at the front desk.

The amount of money expended by OSWALD through the use of public telephones, which are available throughout most of Mexico, D. F., is dependent upon the number of calls he made, each of which would have cost him 20 centavos ($0.02 U.S.).
9. COST FOR SIX POST CARDS

CHESTER ALLEN RIGGS, JR., 250 Carroll, furnished the following information:

LEE HARVEY OSWALD rented one side of a duplex at 2703 Mercedes Street, from about July, 1962 to October, 1962. RIGGS does not have old rental records to reflect exact date of occupancy. OSWALD paid $59.50 a month for this duplex and always paid his rent in cash.

All the utilities at this address were in the name of RIGGS. OSWALD paid the water, gas and electric bills, in addition to his rental of $59.50. The utility bills came to RIGGS and he, or one of his employees, would take them to OSWALD. Sometimes OSWALD would pay RIGGS, or one of his men, in cash for the utilities but, in most instances, OSWALD paid the utility bills direct to the companies in Fort Worth. RIGGS stated OSWALD did not have a telephone in this duplex.

The utilities averaged approximately $12.00 a month for gas, water and electricity. RIGGS does not have any of the old records to reflect the exact figures on the utilities. He rented some similar-type apartments with utilities and he always charged an extra $12.00 a month to cover these bills. He kept a record of the utilities on similar-type duplexes and they would average about $12.00 per month.

Mrs. HANNAH M. TOBIAS, 602 Elizabeth Street, Apartment 7, furnished the following information:

LEE HARVEY OSWALD was required to make utility payments for electricity only during the time he resided at 604 Elizabeth Street, Apartment No. 2, Dallas, Texas, between November 3, 1962, and March 3, 1963. All other utility payments were included in the rental amount of $68 per month.

Mrs. TOBIAS stated that electricity was furnished at this address by the Dallas Power and Light Company, Dallas, Texas.

JOE R. MC REE, Secretary, Young Men's Christian Association, 605 North Ervay, Dallas, advises that LEE HARVEY OSWALD paid a total of $9.00 for room rent at the YMCA in Dallas for the period October 15, 1962, through October 19, 1962. OSWALD's room rent for this period was $2.25 per day. MC REE advised OSWALD paid $2.25 for a room he rented on October 3, 1963. He advised payment for all of the above was made in cash on a daily basis. MC REE said he had previously furnished information regarding OSWALD's room rental payments to an FBI Agent and had made photocopies of the receipts for October 15, 1962 - October 19, 1962, and sent them to the President's Commission staff in Dallas.

H. G. WRIGHT, Assistant Postmaster, General Post Office, 400 North Ervay, Telephone No. RI 9-3365, furnished the following information:

On May 14, 1963, OSWALD gave up the Post Office Box and no refund was made, since the Post Office works on a quarterly basis and less than three months was left on the box rental.
Mr. D. S. WATERS, Store Controller, Montgomery Ward, West 7th Street Store, stated his company had cashed the following Leslie Welding Company payroll checks which were payable to LEE OSWALD:

Mr. WATERS stated he could identify these checks by his company's stamp on the reverse side of the checks. He stated there was no fee charged for cashing any of these checks. He stated that according to his records, LEE OSWALD did not cash any other checks in his store. He explained that when an individual cashes a number of checks the cashiers usually prepare a name card so they may refer to it. He stated he had made a search and found no such name card for LEE OSWALD which indicated to him that OSWALD had cashed only payroll checks at his store. He also stated it was his company policy for payroll checks to be cashed only at the cashier's office. He stated he had a frequent turnover in employees in the cashier's office and there was only one employee working there now who cashed some of the above checks. He identified this employee as RUTH THOMPSON. He stated from his records he would say that LEE OSWALD had not attempted to cash any other checks. He stated in his retail store there are more than 200 salesmen. He stated it would be virtually impossible to determine if OSWALD had or had not made any purchases from his store or how often he had visited this store. He stated OSWALD was residing in July, August, and September, 1962, at 2703 Mercedes Avenue, which is only a short distance from his store which, in his mind, explained why OSWALD had cashed the above payroll checks. He stated also that the Leslie Welding Company is located only a short distance from his store and because of this his company frequently cashes payroll checks of employees of the Leslie Welding Company. He stated he had no other information that might assist in tracing any of OSWALD's expenditures.

Mrs. RUTH THOMPSON, 233 Hallbrook Drive, Fort Worth, Texas, stated she had been employed for the past three or four years by Montgomery Ward at their 7th Street store as a cashier. She is employed in the cashier's office. She stated she and the other employees in the cashier's office are the ones who cash all payroll checks which are tendered to the store for cashing. She stated she recalled cashing some of the Leslie Welding Company payroll checks for LEE OSWALD. She explained that during the time she has worked in the store she has cashed several checks for only two individuals who used a passport for identification. She stated because of this she remembered LEE OSWALD cashing some of his payroll checks during the months of July, August, and September, 1962. She furnished these dates after refreshing her memory by examining the photostat copies of the Leslie Welding Company payroll checks during those three months which were issued to LEE OSWALD. She stated so far as she can remember these are the only checks she ever cashed for LEE OSWALD. She stated after the assassination of President KENNEDY she saw LEE OSWALD's picture on television and immediately recognized him as the individual who had used a passport to cash payroll checks issued to him by the Leslie Welding Company. She stated she has no other information concerning LEE OSWALD and this is the only transaction she had with him.
Mr. MAX FACTOR, 8602 Edgemere Road, Dallas, Texas, advised he is the owner and operator of the Merc Discount Liquor Store located at 415 South Ervey Street, Dallas, Texas. He examined photocasts of the following checks all of which are Juggars-Chiles-Stovell, Incorporated, payroll checks to OSWALD except check No. 4288170 which was OSWALD's 1962 Income Tax Refund check. All checks were cashed by LEE HARVEY OSWALD, and Mr. FACTOR identified them as having been cashed at his store:

1. Date   | Check No. | Amount
--------|-----------|---------
1/23/63  | 4203      | $56.10
2/20/63  | 4781      | 70.69
3/6/63   | 5072      | 56.91
3/13/63  | 5217      | 67.59
3/20/63  | 5364      | 70.69
4/2/63   | 4288170   | 57.40
4/3/63   | 5663      | 74.38

Mr. FACTOR advised he identified these checks through the store stamp which is used by him for all cash checks cashed at his store.

He was shown the following additional Juggars-Chiles-Stovell, Incorporated, payroll checks of OSWALD which were cashed by LEE HARVEY OSWALD and advised these checks were not cashed at his store. He said they appeared to have been cashed at the Mercantile Bank.

2. Date   | Check No. | Amount
--------|-----------|---------
2/27/63  | 4922      | $57.98
3/27/63  | 5511      | 74.38

Mr. FACTOR advised that from store records and his own recollection the following information was all he had concerning OSWALD's other possible transactions:

2. A fee of ten cents is normally charged by Mr. FACTOR for cashing checks to persons other than regular customers. He could not recall OSWALD as a customer and assumes he must have charged him a ten cent fee for each check.

3. LEE HARVEY OSWALD did not cash any other checks at his store.

4. LEE HARVEY OSWALD did not attempt to cash any other checks at his store.

5. LEE HARVEY OSWALD did not make any other purchases from his store, to the best of his knowledge.

6. LEE HARVEY OSWALD visited his store apparently only to cash the above checks.

7. Mr. FACTOR stated he had no other information which may be of value in tracing LEE HARVEY OSWALD's expenditures.

7. ERWIN stated he had no information regarding OSWALD which may be of value in tracing OSWALD's expenditures. He did state that Mrs. RUTH FAIRD, a resident of Irving, Texas, is a regular customer of A & P Store No. 72 and shops in the store about three times a week.

1. Mrs. TARRANTS stated as best as she recalls, on Thursday night, October 31, 1963, LEE HARVEY OSWALD appeared at the cashier's cage and presented the above check to her and requested that it be cashed. She stated the check was endorsed on the back LEE H. OSWALD and since the check was payable to L. H. OSWALD she had him place that endorsement above the endorsement LEE H. OSWALD. She said since this was the first time she had seen OSWALD in the store she called the assistant manager, CARL SELF, to the cage and he authorized her to cash the check. Mrs. TARRANTS said this was the only occasion she recalls ever seeing LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

7. Mrs. TARRANTS said she had no information that would be of value in tracing LEE HARVEY OSWALD's expenditures.

Mr. Phillip Barone
President’s Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy
200 Maryland Avenue, N.E.
Washington, D. C. 20002

Dear Mr. Barone:

In reply to your request in our telephone conversation of April 24, I have examined data on the expenditures of young couples with annual incomes after taxes of $3,000 to $1,000, as reported in our Survey of Consumer Expenditures in 1960 in Dallas. This is the income class in which a person with income of $3,600 for a 16-month period would have been classified. Although the samples for subclasses of families in this income group, i.e., young families, renting families, etc., are small, the average annual expenditures for the income bracket $700 to $775 would amount to about $950 to $1,000 for a 16-month period.

This estimate for a low-income young couple in Dallas is generally consistent with the average food expenditures reported by all families in this income class in the Southern Region in the 1960-62 survey. It is also consistent with the cost of food budgets at low- and moderate-cost levels, as estimated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in January 1963 for the Southern Region. The low-cost food budget for a couple, aged 20-34 years, was estimated at $28.20 per week, or $984 for a 16-month period; an infant under 1 year would have added $1.60 per week, or $59 for a 16-month period. At the moderate-cost level, the weekly cost for the couple was $35.70, or $1,202 for a 16-month period, with an additional $3.50 per week, or $68 for 16 months, for an infant.

The 1960 expenditure survey in Dallas and the Bureau’s standard budget studies in Houston indicate that a couple would spend approximately $100 to $150 during a 16-month period for personal care goods and services, e.g., haircuts, cosmetics, etc. Transportation expenditures for families who did not own automobiles amounted to about $300 at that time.

Dear Martha:

As I promised over the phone, I am enclosing two copies of TIME labels as they would have appeared on Lee O'Dwell's magazines.

The last order we received on this subscription was for 39 weeks and turned out to be a renewal, setting the new expire at December, 1963. Payment on this order in the amount of $3.83 was received March 1, 1963. Active service on this subscription was discontinued with the first issue of January, 1964.

You originally expressed a desire for a copy of the order for the above subscription but this, of course, is not possible because we only keep orders for a short while. However, this being a charge subscription it might be possible to get a copy of O'Dwell's check that we received in payment. I am having this checked through the bank in Cleveland and if we turn up with anything I will get in touch with you.

If there is anything else we can do, let us know.

Sincerely yours,

F. S. Waterman

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 11/25/63

Detective EDWARD E. CARLSON, assigned to the Identification Bureau of the Dallas Police Department, furnished the following information:

He has been acquainted with JACK RUBY since approximately 1952, at which time RUBY was operating the Silver Spur Club at 1717 South Ervay. This club included a dance hall and beer was dispensed to patrons. CARLSON described RUBY as being a very friendly, good-natured person who was very well known to many members of the Dallas Police Department. CARLSON expressed his understanding that RUBY was from Chicago, Illinois. While he was in Chicago, Illinois, he was a organizer in the Unions.

CARLSON stated he had never known RUBY to have been involved in any felony investigations although CARLSON had arrested RUBY on December 5, 1954 at the Silver Spur Club on which occasion RUBY was charged with investigation of the violation of State Liquor Law. CARLSON described the offense by stating that RUBY was allowing two of the club's patrons to drink beer after curfew. Following CARLSON'S arrest of RUBY and during an interrogation of RUBY, the latter denied having any previous criminal record. When the identification record of RUBY was made available to the Dallas Police Department, CARLSON noted that RUBY's denial of previous criminal history was correct.

CARLSON mentioned that he, personally, has always been rather favorably impressed by some of RUBY's traits. He mentioned that he has never known RUBY to lie and he has never known RUBY to make derogatory remarks about other individuals even when they are persons whom RUBY is known not to like. CARLSON also described RUBY as being an impulsive individual and a man of strong convictions. CARLSON stated RUBY would go to any lengths for a friend, but at the same time CARLSON stated he would not want RUBY to be his enemy. CARLSON stated from his knowledge of RUBY, he (CARLSON) does not find it difficult to believe that RUBY carried out the shooting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD because if RUBY felt strongly enough in his own mind that what OSWALD had done appeared to warrant his own death, RUBY might very well take it on himself to kill OSWALD.

At no time during his acquaintance of RUBY was there any indication that RUBY had any homosexual or bisexual tendencies. He stated he had heard rumors from other officers that RUBY may be a sexual pervert. He stated on one occasion he actually confronted RUBY with the fact that he may be a homosexual which RUBY emphatically denied. CARLSON is of the opinion that RUBY enjoys the company of women and knows of several instances where he was extremely fond of two or three different women.

CARLSON was queried as to any association between JAMES ROBERT TODD. CARLSON advised that he was very well acquainted with TODD as TODD was a well known Dallas police character. CARLSON advised that RUBY was the type of individual who would not allow a person of TODD’s status to frequent his clubs in such as it would be harmful to his business as well as to bring to the attention of the local law enforcement agencies that this might be a known hangout for local police characters.

CARLSON was also queried as to RUBY’s association with JOE BONDS. CARLSON advised that he knows of no association whatsoever between BONDS and RUBY and feels certain if there was such an association he, CARLSON, would be aware of it.

CARLSON advised he has no personal knowledge of any political or religious convictions on the part of RUBY.

CARLSON is of the opinion that he, CARLSON, knows more about RUBY than any other officer of the Dallas Police Department.

RE: Telephone Interview of Rabbi Hillel Silverman

Rabbi Hillel Silverman was called by me at 11:20 (EST) with reference to Jack Ruby's religious activities. He was asked how long Ruby attended synagogue following the death of his father and replied that Ruby attended services, twice daily, for eleven months. I then asked whether an FBI report (4,338) that Ruby went for eleven days was incorrect, and Rabbi Silverman said that it was.

Rabbi Silverman was asked about Ruby's familiarity with Hebrew, and he responded that Ruby had great difficulty in reading Hebrew and probably employed transliterated versions of the Kaddish when he recited it.

Rabbi Silverman also stated that while Sam Ruby is a member of the Temple, he has not attended services in many years and that Jack and Dva came to the Temple [illegible] on High Holidays. Rabbi Silverman stated that although he originally reported that Ruby was at the Temple both on Friday night, November 22, 1963 and Saturday morning, November 24, 1963, he subsequently learned that Ruby was only there on Friday night, coming near the end of the services.

Rabbi Silverman stated that Ruby told him that he frequently engaged in physical combat with persons making derogatory remarks concerning his Jewish background. However, Rabbi Silverman stated that he knew of no specific incident, prior to November 22, 1963, evidencing Ruby's sensitivity to his Jewishness.

PAUL ROWLAND JONES, 1418 Eastcrest Drive, Charlotte, North Carolina, home telephone 536-1907, was interviewed at the Charlotte office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, where he had come in response to telephonic request.

At the outset of the interview, he was advised by Agent UNDERHILL that some of the items to be covered would probably have reference to past criminal activities on his own part, and that he was not required to furnish any information or make any statement, that he had a right to talk to a lawyer before making any statement, and that anything he did say could be used against him in court.

JONES stated he was willing to answer questions under these conditions.

JONES stated that he himself had started in gambling operations in Dallas, Texas, about 1942. He continued in this, primarily handling juke boxes and slot machines, until the end of 1946. During this time he was connected with Southwestern Amusement Company, Western Amusement Company, and Delta Amusement Company. He owned approximately 30% of these companies and other owners were:

BURLY ATKINS, who had some interest in all three companies, and who was subsequently killed in Chicago, Illinois;

SAN YAROS, who owned part of Southwestern Amusement Company and is now deceased, having died a natural death;

MARK LIPSKE, who had part ownership in all three of these companies and is believed now living in Los Angeles, California;

NECK DE JONES, who had part ownership in all three companies and is now dead, having been killed in San Francisco in an apparent gang murder.

JONES stated that all of these individuals were connected in one way or another with the "Chicago syndicate" of gangsters.

JONES also connected with illegal activities in Dallas and Dallas County had been other representatives of the "Chicago syndicate", including PAT MANN, who handled policy gambling and is believed now living in Chicago; the FISCHER brothers, who handled whiskey and beer and are believed now living in Chicago; and PAUL MANN, who produced wire systems for juke boxes and pinball machines and who was understood to have control of the market on this material. Also in general charge for the "Chicago syndicate" slot machine operations was EDDIE VOZEL, who did not live in Dallas but visited there occasionally. He is believed now living in Chicago.
According to JONES, illegal operations in Dallas of an organized nature had been carried on with the consent of Sheriff SNOOK and various members of the Dallas Police Department. JONES said he had no knowledge that any payments were made to either Sheriff SNOOK or Police Department members by any of those persons including himself operating illegal activities. Payments were made to Attorney T. K. BROWN of Dallas, who is believed to be still living, and it was understood that BROWN then transmitted the payments to appropriate persons.

In about June 1946, JOHN GUTHRIE won the Democratic primary for the office of Sheriff of Dallas County, to take office the beginning of 1947. Also, at the same time the man who had been District Attorney of that county for many years was retiring, and a "reform" candidate was coming into office. JONES said he had become convinced that it would not be possible to operate illegal operations under the new administration as in the past, and he had planned to discontinue his. However, sometime during the summer of 1945, JONES was contacted by GEORGE BUTLER of the Police Department Vice Squad, who said that Sheriff-elect GUTHRIE wanted to talk to him. JONES said he had after more than one contact by BUTLER agreed to see GUTHRIE and contacted GUTHRIE at the latter's home, together with BUTLER. JONES stated all his subsequent contacts with GUTHRIE had been in the presence of BUTLER.

JONES said GUTHRIE had indicated he was interested in receiving money and was willing to let JONES and others continue their illegal operations as in the past. JONES said he had talked to the others concerned in illegal operations in Dallas and had also gone to Chicago and talked to the "top people" in charge of these matters and they had decided to go ahead and deal with GUTHRIE.

JONES had continued negotiations with GUTHRIE and PAT RAINO and JACK RAPPI had also taken part in these talks. JONES emphasized that these individuals represented different portions of the illegal operations and were spokesmen for their sections. He said he himself had always been present at all conversations with GUTHRIE, and BUTLER had also.

This period of discussions and arrangements covered a period of about four months during which time he had made some direct payments of cash and gifts to GUTHRIE in anticipation of more regular arrangements after GUTHRIE took office. During this period of time there had been other "Chicago syndicate" representatives in and out of Dallas, apparently in anticipation of operations that would begin later. He emphasized that these were not considered the "top run" but were representatives of various sections.

Among those who had been in Dallas were:

PAUL "NEEDLE NOSE" LABRICOLA;

JIMMY WEINBERG;

DEANSELLO, known as "DEEY The Bee";

DANNY LAKIND;

MARY GUSZ, known as "MARY The Ox";

And others whose names are not recalled.

JONES said these individuals did not have any conversations with GUTHRIE, but were hanging around Dallas in his opinion giving a bad impression, so he had requested the "top men" in Chicago to have them leave Dallas, which they did.

Just before Christmas 1946, JONES was indicted on bribery charges and learned that recordings had been made of most of his conversations with GUTHRIE and BUTLER. JONES expressed the opinion that BUTLER and GUTHRIE had been in earnest and actually wanting a pay-off when the conversations first started, but he believed, although he offered no proof of this, that their efforts had been found out by some representative of the Texas Rangers and that they had then been persuaded to go along to build up a bribery case against JONES and others. JONES said that PAT MANKO and JACK NAPPI had been indicted along with JONES, but they were never brought to trial.

JONES said that positively during these conversations he had never mentioned the name JACK RUBY, and that he could be sure of this, because he had never heard of JACK RUBY at this time. He said that he is sure that neither MANKO nor NAPPI had mentioned RUBY during the conversations and negotiations with BUTLER and DUBRUE, as JONES had been present at all of them.

He stated in addition the conversations had not had to do with exactly who would be operating what in the Dallas area, and thus there would have been no occasion for discussion of RUBY or anyone else as the person who was to operate a restaurant at Industrial and Commerce Streets. According to JONES, the substance of the arrangements made was simply that the syndicate group would run the county and the sheriff was to take their orders and that the syndicate group would provide sufficient people to handle the operations.

JONES said that at the time of his trial in early 1947 the recordings had been played and it took several days to play them, as they were very extensive. He repeated he was sure that the name RUBY had not been mentioned at any time during these recordings and that he had never to his knowledge even heard the name at this point.

JONES stated that although the recordings had been played they had never been officially entered in Evidence, and accordingly no transcripts of them had been made at his trial and when the case was appealed the information in the recordings was not made a part of the appeal record since it had never been a part of the official trial record.

Following the conviction of JONES in early 1947 on the Bribery charge, he was released on appeal bond and shortly thereafter while making a business call on South Irving Street had noticed a building being remodeled. On casual inquiry of the man he was talking with, he was told this was to be a big supper club and that it was to be operated by a woman from Chicago who was in Dallas selling salt and pepper shakers and who had a lot of money, in partnership with a Dallas Chiropractor named DUNCAN. It was JONES' recollection that the man who told him this was a labor organizer. JONES said in view of his slot machine and juke box operations he had a general interest in such places and he made some casual inquiries about DUNCAN, since he had never heard of his having any previous connection with the restaurant business. He said his inquiries had developed that DUNCAN was not respected and was considered a dishonest individual. From the same motives of general interest and curiosity, JONES had gone to where the place was being built and had met the woman who told him she was EVA GRANT from Chicago. Either from her or later he learned that she had come to Dallas as a representative of her brother, NORM RUBENSTEIN, who had a plant in Chicago that manufactured salt and pepper shakers, and he did a very good business throughout the country. It was his impression she had been in Dallas less than a year at that time, but that she liked Dallas and wanted to settle there.
A short time later JONES went to Chicago in connection with the appeal on his trial and had been in company with PAUL LABRIGOLA and JIMMY WEINBERG and possibly DANNY LAMINCO. They had been in the Congress Hotel to see a man there and met RUBY, whom JONES did not at that time know, coming across the lobby of the hotel. Those with JONES had addressed RUBY by name and introduced him to JONES. JONES commented he did not know whether RUBY lived in that hotel or not. When the comment was made that JONES was from Dallas, RUBY had said that his sister, EVA GRANT, was there and that she was in a business enterprise with a “phony” doctor, and RUBY did not like it. RUBY had asked JONES what he knew about the doctor. The others accompanying JONES had told him that RUBY was “O.K.”. JONES told him that the doctor had a bad reputation and also in the opinion of JONES this was a poor location for a supper club.

RUBY had expressed gratitude for this information and said that he was planning to go to Dallas to straighten his sister out and asked if JONES would help him if he came. One of those accompanying JONES had again repeated that RUBY was all right and urged JONES to help him, which JONES had agreed to do.

So far as JONES knew, this was strictly a chance meeting with RUBY.

JONES commented that he had taken these assurances that RUBY was all right to mean that he was known to the other individuals to have some acceptance at least by the syndicate. JONES said he never did know and had never asked, as it was not good policy to ask, exactly what relationship RUBY may have had but did understand that RUBY had been working in Chicago as some kind of organizer for the Scrap Iron Workers Union. He knew that “the syndicate” had an interest in this union and presumed this was RUBY’s connection. He emphasized this did not mean that RUBY was in any way a top man or a dominant figure in the syndicate but merely that he was accepted and to a certain extent his business operations controlled by the syndicate, at least during the time he was in Chicago. He added that so far as he knew RUBY had not had any direct connections with the syndicate after he went to Dallas. He noted that he would consider RUBY to have been at a bottom position in the very broad pyramid representing the syndicate, and that persons in such a position very frequently were completely unknown to others, who also occupied low positions in some other phase of the syndicate operations.

A few days later, JONES returned to Dallas, Texas, and about the same time RUBY appeared in Dallas. He apparently was planning to stay in Dallas, because he contacted JONES and asked for assistance in locating an apartment, and he did settle down there. RUBY persuaded his sister to disassociate herself from the Chiropractor and RUBY took over and completed the remodeling of the apartment, and operated it himself. JONES believed this had been under the name “The Silver Spur”. RUBY had charged it from a supper club to a regular night club, featuring hillbilly bands and had made a success of it. RUBY later opened several other clubs. JONES emphasized that most of RUBY’s operations occurred after JONES left Dallas.

JONES said that he himself had been indicted in 1947, while he was still on appeal from the Bribery conviction, on a Narcotics conspiracy charge. He said he had actually not been guilty in his mind of anything in this matter, but that two individuals had approached him for help in selling some sixty pounds of pure opium they allegedly had brought in from Mexico. He said he refused to have anything to do with it, but when they were later arrested, they told of having talked to him concerning serving it and he was charged with Conspiracy. He was tried in Federal Court in Laredo, Texas, and received a three year sentence, serving something over two years in Leavenworth Federal Penitentiary. His Bribery appeal was lost, and after leaving Leavenworth he went to Texas State Prison at Huntsville on the Bribery conviction and served about eighteen months, being released in March 1952.

He stated that during this period of approximately five years while he was in prison he had no contact with RUBY or EVA GRANT. He further stated that he had never considered RUBY other than a business acquaintance and had only limited contact with EVA GRANT. Sometimes during the period JONES had been in the penitentiary, RUBY had opened a restaurant at Industrial and Commerce Streets, but JONES repeated he was sure no discussion about this had been had at all during his Bribery negotiation with STEVE GUTHRIE.

After JONES was released from the penitentiary in 1952, he contacted representatives of the syndicate in Chicago, seeking some help in getting himself established. He said he had no desire to go back into the slot machine or gambling business, but wanted to get into the food brokerage business. He said he had been in the eggs and poultry producing and brokerage business since the time he was about 30 years old and had continued some dealings in this business in Dallas while he was also operating slot machines from 1942 to 1946. With support of the Chicago group he had briefly operated a shrimp brokerage business in 1952, but closed this out and opened about six small beer taverns in Dallas. At this time RUBY was doing well in his night club business, and had been of some assistance to JONES in getting established in his taverns. He had recommended some waiters and had given some general advice about the tavern business, which JONES had never actually operated before. He said RUBY had no financial connection with him, but just a friendly interest. JONES had discontinued the tavern business after some six months and left Dallas about 1953. Thereafter, JONES had been in Moab, Utah, for about a year promoting uranium mines; then in Birmingham, Alabama, about two and one half years, and then was in Charlotte for about three years, where he operated a chicken farm, which was primarily concerned with research into production of disease free eggs. He returned to Birmingham, Alabama, about 1960, and has just recently returned to Charlotte.

Beginning about 1960 his business interest had primarily been promotion of low cost housing developments for rental to low income families. His operation while in Birmingham was under the name, Vulcan Homes Company.

During the time from about 1953 to the present he said he has been back in Dallas only three to four times a year briefly. On most such occasions he would stop by once at a club being run by JACK RUBY and see him casually. He said he had no business connections with him. He would also occasionally see EVA GRANT at one of the clubs, which at least a part of the time she has been running on behalf of JACK RUBY. He said he does not recall the names or locations of the various clubs.

He said he has never had any personal or social dealings with EVA GRANT, but did on one occasion some years ago at her request furnish some business assistance without charge to her brother, HYMIE RUBENSTEIN, who was operating the salt and pepper shaker factory in Chicago. RUBENSTEIN wanted to get into the bootlegging business, and JONES had furnished him the name of a large customer in Oklahoma, whom he declined to name, to whom RUBENSTEIN shipped whiskey purchased in Chicago and transported in cases labeled to indicate they were salt and pepper shakers.

JONES said he does not know whether RUBY had or attempted to have any control in Dallas in gambling or the racketeers. So far as he knew RUBY did not have any connection with gambling. He emphasized that he himself had been away for five years in the penitentiary and thereafter had spent most of his time away from Dallas and does not know just what the operations there have been. He commented that very probably RUBY must have had to make some kind of pay-off to operate the "strip shows" at his night club, but he does not know what the arrangements were.

JONES said he has no knowledge of any connection that EVA GRANT may have had with gambling or other underworld activities in Dallas. He said he does not know the name of RALPH PAUL, and has no knowledge of him in connection with underworld activities in Dallas.

Concerning LEWIS J. McWILLIE, he said this individual had been connected with gambling in Dallas long before 1945 and for many years thereafter. McWILLIE was associated with Fred BROWNING, and their main operation was a night club and gambling house called the "Top of the Hill Club," between Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas. So far as JONES knew, the change of county administration in 1946 did not affect McWILLIE or BROWNING and this club. JONES had never had any direct business dealings with McWILLIE, but knew him as above stated. He said he had no knowledge that McWILLIE or BROWNING had any connection with JACK RUBY or EVA GRANT. He said he has no knowledge whether or not RUBY had any connection with the Chicago underworld since coming to Dallas in 1947.

JONES said that during the time he was in Charlotte from about 1958 to 1959 he was, as previously stated, operating an egg research farm to produce disease free eggs with the aim of eventually getting control of the egg market by being able to show that he was producing the only disease free eggs from disease free and cancer free hens.

Associated with him in this enterprise had been HARRY M. HOXSEY, who operated a cancer clinic in Dallas for many years until his operations were declared illegal, and JONES would go to Dallas to consult with him. During at least part of this time JONES maintained an apartment in Dallas because of these trips.

JONES said that he last saw JACK RUBY about a week before the assassination of President KENNEDY on November 22, 1963. JONES had been in Dallas about two days, staying at the Lynn Hotel, and on his last night in town stopped at RUBY's club and spoke to him just briefly and generally. RUBY had said something to the effect he was having some trouble with his enemies (or competitors). JONES had made a casual inquiry whether it was anything that RUBY could not take care of, and RUBY had replied that he could take care of it. JONES said nothing further was mentioned as to what it was about, and RUBY had not appeared concerned. He said RUBY always had been a nervous individual who could not sit still, and that he did not appear any different on this occasion.

JONES said he did not recall the exact date this had been, but that he had left Dallas and gone to Shreveport, Texas, where he spent about one day in connection with a housing project of Vulcan Homes. Then he went to Cleveland, Ohio, to confer with his financial backers on this project, spending a day and a night, then to Birmingham, and as he recalled he arrived in Birmingham the day before the assassination. He had been traveling by plane.

Concerning his previous comment that RUBY was "capable of doing anything to accomplish what he set out to do," JONES said he could not supply anything very specific, but had always considered RUBY a fairly rough man who acted as his own bouncer in his night club. He knew that RUBY always carried a gun in the night club and presumably elsewhere. He commented that RUBY had run what JONES called a real "clip joint", in that unsuspecting customers would be charged extremely high prices for drinks they bought for girls who frequented the place. When such a customer would put up a protest, RUBY would take charge of the man and apparently always managed to collect the amount charged. JONES commented that he had never seen any indication that RUBY ever backed away from any dispute of that nature and felt that RUBY had the self confidence to go ahead if he decided to do something.

JONES stated he could only suppose as to why RUBY had killed OSWALD. He said he had no knowledge whatsoever that RUBY had ever known OSWALD before, and that he himself had never heard of OSWALD. He said from his acquaintance with RUBY he doubted that he would have become emotionally upset and killed OSWALD on the spur of the moment. He felt RUBY would have done it for money, but had no knowledge of who might have offered such money.

JONES said that he felt if there was some underlying motive or conspiracy in connection with the killing of OSWALD by RUBY, he could develop such information by conversation with EVA GRANT and other members of the family. He said he would be willing to go to Dallas, Texas, and undertake such inquiries if the Government would pay his expenses.

He commented that one thing he would do if he went to Dallas would be to talk to JOE SAVELLA, whom he considers currently the head of "syndicate" operations in Dallas, because he said that if RUBY had been promised protection in connection with the killing of OSWALD and had been given orders by anyone to do this killing, SAVELLA would know about it, and JONES believed SAVELLA would tell him.

JONES said he himself has not been back in Dallas since approximately a week before the assassination, as previously set out.

He added that he himself is currently under indictment for perjury by Federal Grand Jury in New York City, which indictment was returned in 1960, and he doubts anything is going to be done about it. He said this had arisen out of the trial of over twenty individuals in New York in 1959 concerning the Texas Adams Oil Company. The motion for a new trial had been made on the basis that JONES could have provided testimony helpful to the defense. JONES had submitted an affidavit in support of this motion to the effect he had been traveling and had not been in contact with the defense attorneys and did not know his presence was desired, and he stated this was the basis for the indictment against him.
Mrs. MARTAN CARROLL, and Mrs. ANN WOLFEIC, were interviewed at their home, 104 West Loyola Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Both women expressed a desire to be interviewed together and would not submit to interview separately.

Both advised they have regained some of their composure and are able to furnish more information concerning the background of their family as well as the background of their brother, JACK RUBY. They stated they are still in seclusion and otherwise invisible to visitors.

They stated that JACK RUBY was born April 25, 1911 in Chicago, and at that time, the family resided near 14 and Newberry Streets where they lived for about one year, following which they moved to about 25 and Halsted Streets which they described as a Jewish Immigrant neighborhood. After residing there for sometime, they moved to Miller Street between 12th and 14th Streets. Following that, they lived at either 102 or 104 West Morgan Street across from the Holy Family School. They then moved to about 1109 Marshfield Street and after residing there for a short time, they moved to approximately 1120 Sacramento Boulevard where they lived for about two years. The family then moved to 1551 Clifton Park where they lived for a short time and then moved to 729 Kostner. Following this, they moved to 722 Independence Boulevard where they stayed for one and one half years and then moved to 86 Independence Boulevard where they resided from 1933 to 1941. In 1941, they moved to 3650 West Lexington where they lived until 1948. They then moved to their present address.

They said their brother, JACK, attended Smith Grammar School and started at Marshall High School where he dropped out after two years.

To the best of their recollection, JACK entered the United States Air Force in about 1942 or possibly 1943. He was released in 1946.

Fertaining to their mother, FANNIE, they advised she died in 1942 at the age of 68. They stated that in about 1936, their mother was a patient in the Elgin State Hospital at Elgin, Illinois where she was being treated for a nervous disorder which they believed to have been brought on by a Thyroid-dooter condition which was aggravated by Menopause. They advised that this hospitalization was for a duration of approximately two months after which their mother returned to their home. They also commented that her mental condition was possibly further aggravated by the death of her last born son at the age of approximately two and one half years. This child, while sitting in a high chair, pulled a pot of boiling chicken soup onto himself and subsequently died from the burns. They stated that they knew of no other mental disorder of their mother and also stated that none of the other nervous disorders suffered by any of the children. They advised she was not a diabetic.

Fertaining to their father, they advised that he had been a carpenter and followed this craft throughout his entire life until he died in 1938 at the age of 89 years.

Fertaining to any injuries of their brother, JACK, they stated they knew of no serious illnesses, either physical or mental, suffered by him. They stated that he had not been wounded during his military service, and that to the best of their knowledge, he spent most of his military career at Keeeler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Mississippi. They advised that they did not believe that JACK had any type of plate in his head and commented that inasmuch as he was nearly bald, they are sure they would have seen such a scar.

In regard to their brother, JACK's methods of making a livelihood, they recall that from the time he left high school until the time he entered the military service, he could be classified mainly as a peddler or salesman. He was always making or selling some new project in the novelty line, sold pennents at the ball games and scalped tickets. He sold miniature cedar chests and even after the war and while engaged in the night club business in Dallas, he always was interested in promoting new lines of this type.

Mrs. CARROLL interjected that the days before the war were depression years and at one time prior to the war, JACK obtained a job selling magazines and journeyed to San Francisco with the crew where he stayed for only a short time.

Following his military service, JACK joined his brothers, HYMAN and EARL in the operation of the Earl Novelty Company, however, they had a falling out over the operation of this company as JACK, at times, would buy what they called queer merchandise for which there was no market and which would require an extensive outlay for manufacture. They then recalled that it was at approximately this time that JACK decided to move to Dallas, Texas to assist his sister, EVA, in the operation of the Silver Spur Night Club. Mrs. CARROLL stated that in this venture, she invested $1,000, but had never received any dividends in return for this investment. She commented that she had always sent money to assist in the maintenance of their father until the time of his death in 1958.

Both women advised that they had been reading articles in the Chicago papers linking their brother, JACK, with nightclubs and hoodlums in the Chicago area prior to his going to Dallas, Texas. Both women emphatically stated that to their knowledge he was never affiliated with, operated, or owned or managed any nightclubs or taverns in the Chicago area. Furthermore, he never knowingly associated with any known hoodlums unless per chance they may have grown up with him in the neighborhood. Specifically, Mrs. CARROLL stated she has heard the name LEONARD PATRICK, who is considered to be a Chicago area hoodlum, and stated perhaps he grew up in the area with J ACK but is quite sure they would have no more than a speaking acquaintance. Regarding other associations and activities, they advised that in about 1939, he became acquainted with Mr. LEON COOK, an attorney who was the son of a junk dealer and organized a junk handlers union. They recalled that COOK felt that the junk handlers were not making enough money and JACK was hired by COOK to help organize the union. COOK was murdered in Chicago, according to the women, by a hoodlum named MARTIN EVY in this case. Mrs. CARROLL stated possibly JACK was questioned by the police, but he most certainly was not arrested, nor detained in any manner in the case. They also pointed out that their brother JACK's association with this union did not exceed a period of two months.

They commented that during the period when he attended Marshall High School, he became known as Sparky because of his youthful appearance and energetic attitude.

Also, during the period before the war, they recalled that he had gotten into a fight with a group of Nazi sympathizers in the area of White City, a Chicago neighborhood. They stated JACK should not be considered a street brawler, however, he did not hesitate to take someone's part in a fight if he felt the individual was unjustly wronged. They also stated their brother, JACK, always had a strong feeling of affection and admiration for people in the public eye. They commented that he had had busts of ROOSEVELT and MAC AYRE made which he kept in his room, and they classified him as a "patriotic kid."

Pertaining to his move to Dallas, they advised that the club he joined his sister in operating, was the Silver Spur and this was a "set up" club, where dancing was promoted. Since that time he has branched out into other clubs and in fact he had the first key club in Dallas. The Key club was frequented by many doctors, lawyers and was the favorite of many politicians. They stated that in this regard their brother, JACK, had recently staged a stag party for the benefit of the Texas Bar Association. They reiterated that their brother, JACK, was a very popular and well known figure among police officials in the city of Dallas, Texas.

As pointed out above, both women requested to be interviewed together and during the course of the interview corrected each other as to the times, dates, and events that took place in their collective lives, and therefore all statements set forth above, can be credited to each. It is noted MARIAN CARROLL at times would break into tears in describing this situation in Dallas. Both stated they were great admirers of President RONALD REAGAN and feel greatly for his widow and children. Once again they stated that they can offer no plausible reason why their brother shot LEE OSMOND, other than that he was a great admirer of the President and is an emotional man.

Both women commented that they feel their family are very patriotic Americans and are exceedingly happy that their parents had been admitted to this country prior to 1940, and they have felt remorse for relatives that they know stayed behind in the old country, whom they have never heard from and assumed were murdered by the Nazis.

Mrs. MARIAN CARROLL, 1044 West Loyola Street, sister of JACK RUBY, advised she was born June 30, 1906, at Chicago, Illinois, and has been employed by the United States Treasury, Savings Bond Division, Chicago, for 22 years. Her husband, NATHAN CARROLL, from whom she is separated, is a part time bartender, whose present whereabouts are unknown to her.

She stated she last saw JACK RUBY last summer at the airport, Chicago, for a few hours, when he was returning to Dallas from a business trip to New York, where he was allegedly contacting actors' agents for entertainment for his night club. She saw him about two years ago in Dallas when she stayed there overnight with her brother, SAM RUBY. She visited the Carousel night club that night. She stated that JACK RUBY telephones their home almost every week to inquire about members of the family. He phoned on November 22, 1963, and spoke to her and her brother, HYMAN. He told her he was very upset about the President's assassination, stating that the President was a wonderful man who was doing so much good for everybody. He said he was going to close his place of business out of respect for the President and that he was going to a memorial service to pray for him. She said he did not mention LEE OSWALD and did not indicate that he intended to take any action against him.

She said she had never heard of OSWALD or the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" until the recent newspaper publicity and knew of no connection between her brother JACK and this organization. She said she knew JACK as an extremely patriotic man.

She said that prior to the time JACK entered the U. S. Army, he was a salesman of novelties in the Chicago area for the Earl Products Company owned by his brother EARL. She knew of no trouble which he had ever been in, nor did she ever know him to have any hoodlum associates.

Mrs. CARROLL appeared to be in a highly emotional condition and stated she could not be specific regarding the background of RUBY. She declined to furnish any additional information at this time.

Mrs. HAROLD KAMINSKY, also known as KILEEN KAMINSKY, nee RUBENSTEIN, 6724 North Talman, stated that on November 22, 1963, sometime between 1 and 3 P.M., her brother, JACK RUBY, called her from Dallas, Texas. He was emotionally upset and crying about the assassination of the President. He asked if she had heard the news and how the people in Chicago were taking it. He sounded completely unnerved about the incident and commented he was going to close his business that night. He made no threats against anyone. He thought very highly of the President. He is not known to have been active in politics.

During the conversation which lasted about five minutes, she told RUBY to be at the home of their sister, EVA GRANT, about 9 P.M. and she would call. She called her sister later that night, but JACK had gone to the synagogue.

Mrs. KAMINSKY said JACK had resided in Dallas, Texas (Oak Cliff) for the last 17 or 18 years. He was in Chicago for short periods during the illness and decease of father about five years ago. He also attended her wedding in 1947.

According to Mrs. KAMINSKY, she visited JACK, her sister EVA GRANT, and brother SAMUEL RUBY in Dallas, Texas, during the last two weeks of August. 1963. She traveled round trip by Santa Fe railroad and stayed with her sister, EVA GRANT, while there. She left Chicago on about August 19, 1963, and returned to Chicago, September 1, 1963. While in Dallas, she heard JACK make no radical statements against anyone or any group. He mentioned on several occasions that one RALPH PAUL, a Dallas businessman, was a friend of his. Mrs. KAMINSKY said PAUL was not otherwise identified and that she never met him. JACK seemed to be friendly with and well known to Dallas police officers. While on an automobile ride, a number of policemen waved to him or would yell "Hi, JACK."

Approximately a week before Mrs. KAMINSKY went to Dallas in August, 1963, JACK stopped through Chicago for an hour or so at stopover between New York and Dallas. He had been in New York on business to obtain "talent." He was traveling via American Airlines and was visited for a short time at O'Hare Field, Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. KAMINSKY characterized her brother, JACK RUBY, as a patriotic American. To the best of her knowledge, JACK has not been a member of, or has never been associated with, any subversive group or the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee." He has never been known to have been arrested or to have associated with hoodlums. JACK RUBY has never mentioned Lee Harvey OSWALD and she never heard the name until November 22, 1963.

Mrs. KAMINSKY said she had no knowledge why JACK would shoot Lee Harvey OSWALD. She said it was not like him to do something like that. She suggested that he might have been so emotionally upset and disturbed that he suffered "temporary insanity." She said JACK never referred to possessing a firearm and she never saw a firearm in his possession when in Dallas.

Mrs. KAMINSKY said JACK assumed the surname "RUBY" in the late '40's or early '50's for business reasons. His true surname is RUBENSTEIN. He had a friend named LEON, full name unknown, who died. Out of respect and remembrance of him, he uses "LEON" as a middle name. JACK was born in Chicago, Illinois, and is 52 years of age. He is single and a "confirmed bachelor."

Mrs. KAMINSKY appeared in a highly emotional condition and stated she could not be more specific regarding the background of RUBY. She declined to furnish any additional information at this time.
Dr. HYMAN I. RUBENSTEIN, Pediatrician, 2335 West Devon, advised SA NEAFSEY on November 27, 1963 that he is first cousin of JACK RUBY, as his father and JACK RUBY's father were brothers. Stated that he was close to JACK RUBY's family when he first came to this country from Poland in 1920 at the age of twelve. Stated he was closest to JACK RUBY's older brother, HYMEN RUBENSTEIN. Declared that he never treated JACK RUBY's mother as he had not received his degree in medicine by the time she died. Declared he recalled JACK RUBY's mother as running an irregular household. He said she appeared to be a rather disturbed person of poor personal appearance with no incentive for cleaning or cooking. He recalled her goiter condition and believes she was operated on for this condition but cannot recall by whom. He stated that the two families grew further apart and he has maintained contact only with HYMEN RUBENSTEIN. He stated he has not seen JACK RUBY for fifteen or eighteen years, but heard from HYMEN or EVA that JACK was in Dallas, Texas operating a tavern. He said he got impression that over the years that JACK RUBY was not a very fixed person as he seemed to deal in many things rather than have a single occupation.
Personnel at the Military Personnel Records Center, St. Louis, Missouri, made available a record pertaining to JACK RUBENSTEIN, Serial Number 36666107, showing that he was inducted into the U.S. Army Air Corps on May 21, 1943, and entered on active duty May 28, 1943, at Camp Grant, Illinois. He was honorably discharged February 21, 1946, as a Private First Class at Fort Sheridan, Illinois, by reason of demobilization.

RUBENSTEIN served in the Enlisted Reserve Corps, inactive status, from May 21, 1943, to May 27, 1943.

His military occupation was reflected as airplane engine mechanic and his civilian occupation as manager-owner and salesman, Earl Products Company, location not shown. It was also reflected in this record that the Earl Products Company was engaged in the sale of novelties and premiums.

During his period of service RUBENSTEIN was stationed at the following places:

June 10, 1943 to September 3, 1943 - Company AAF, Military Police, Recruit Training Center, Keesler Field, Mississippi.

April 26, 1944, to June 7, 1944 - D-2 Static Crew Section, Bluestenthal Field, North Carolina.

November 27, 1945, to December 7, 1945 - 301st Air Force Base.

RUBENSTEIN came from a large fatherless family, and was always hustling. CORN and COOKE had fathers who made it possible for them to receive additional education, while RUBENSTEIN was always working to support his mother.

After COOKE received his law degree, he organized the Waste Material Handler's Union. CORN advised RUBENSTEIN was an organizer for COOKE and the only other employee of the union known to CORN.

CORN could not recall exact dates, but remembered the union was organized during the mid-thirties after the National Recovery Act was declared unconstitutional. CORN had lost track of RUBENSTEIN after the CORN family had moved from the area while they were still in school.

CORN took over his father's business and was running an open shop. RUBENSTEIN, without CORN's knowledge, started organizing CORN's employees into the union.

CORN discovered RUBENSTEIN talking to his employees in front of their place of business, and it was then he became aware that RUBENSTEIN was acting as an organizer for COOKE.

CORN's business was organized as a union shop and thereafter RUBENSTEIN was in regular contact with CORN while acting as the union representative. This continued for a couple of years until COOKE was killed, probably during the late 1930's. After COOKE's death, the union movement and the plant became disorganized, but some months later RUBENSTEIN appeared at the plant and advised CORN he was reorganizing the employees, presumably in the same union.

RUBENSTEIN was at the plant regularly for a few weeks, but complained to CORN that his "heart was not in it" speaking.

of the new union. He told CORN he was going to quit the union. CORN did not know anyone besides RUBENSTEIN connected with the reorganization of the union.

CORN claimed only hearsay knowledge of RUBENSTEIN thereafter. He said he had not seen or talked with RUBENSTEIN since long before World War II. He had heard from an unrecalled source that after RUBENSTEIN got out of the service, he settled in Dallas. He seemed to recall that RUBENSTEIN had been in Texas while in the service and decided to settle there.

CORN said to his knowledge, RUBENSTEIN was not involved in organized crime or the racket and pointed out that RUBENSTEIN always was a poor man, never lived expensively or wore good clothing or drove an automobile.

CORN said the only thing he knew RUBENSTEIN to do in addition to union organizing was to sell gadget and premium type objects. CORN observed that RUBENSTEIN always had been emotional and was "soft hearted", but never indicated he could be vicious. CORN considered RUBENSTEIN a true, loyal American, who had never had anything to do with movements such as Communism.

CORN commented that RUBENSTEIN had been fatherless, and the shock of the assassination and knowledge that the KENNEDY children would also be without a father, could have motivated the murder of LEE HARVEY OSWALD.
ERWIN HORNITZ, 6922 Jeffery, Chicago, Illinois, was interviewed at his office room 1702, 130 North Wells Street. He advised that he is the building commissioner of Cook County Illinois. He furnished information concerning JACK RUBENSTEIN as follows:

He knows JACK RUBENSTEIN as SPARKY and last saw him and lost touch with him approximately 15 years ago. He was born in 1911, the same year of birth for RUBENSTEIN. Both lived in the same neighborhood in the vicinity of Polk Street and Roosevelt Road and later in an area further west near Roosevelt Road in what became known as the "LaSalle area.

He described SPARKY as a likeable and personable but terribly excitable person, not stable in temperament. He said that SPARKY was active physically and was prone to engage in arguments usually about sporting events and if the argument did not go to his liking, he was liable to use his fists or pick up a stick or any other weapon that came to his immediate attention. He said, in short, that SPARKY was quickly moved to violence but when the altercation was over, he immediately returned to his usual likeable self. He said that SPARKY was always a "hustler" and a good salesman. He said that he remembers SPARKY being present at almost all sporting events and particularly at the fights which were held at Marigold Gardens in Chicago. He said that SPARKY always had tickets to every sporting event and that as long as he can remember, SPARKY scalped tickets to fights, baseball and football games, etcetera. He said that SPARKY never, to his knowledge, stole anything, never carried a gun, nor did he associate with any of the persons from the old neighborhood who later became known in varying degrees as criminals.

He recalled one instance that probably occurred when SPARKY was age 15, when SPARKY attempted to sneak into the Dempsey-Tunney fight and a police man hit him in the head causing a rather severe injury that required hospitalization. He said that his memory was indistinct but that he recalled that SPARKY had a metal plate installed in his head as a result of this injury. He said that SPARKY's older brother, TINY, is the only person that he knows that might have first hand information about this injury.

MORRIE KELLMAN, 6929 North Kennedy Avenue, Skokie, Illinois, Owner and President of Globe Glass Manufacturing Company, 235 East 33rd Street, Chicago, Illinois, advised 34 GRAND MAN WOODEY he was acquainted with and knew JACK RUBENSTEIN but had not seen nor heard from him since 1946. He said he first met RUBENSTEIN about 1930 when they were both kids in the same neighborhood (Lawndale Avenue and Roosevelt Road) on the west side of Chicago. KELLMAN said he knew RUBENSTEIN only by this name and indicated the name JACK RUBY was not known to him. He said that during the late 1930's RUBENSTEIN would pick fights with anyone showing a Pro-Nazi attitude and if he would hear of a German Bund meeting being held, he would go to the place and attempt to break up the meeting. He would take on all comers and would hold his own against two or three others bigger than he. KELLMAN said he never knew RUBENSTEIN to carry a gun and never heard that he had ever carried a gun. He said RUBENSTEIN was in the novelty business in Chicago with his brother and was known to deal novelty items at various sporting events in Chicago, and was also known to be engaged in the scalping of tickets at various sporting events. He said that RUBENSTEIN spent a period of time in the U. S. Army and advised that he knows of no communist affiliation or connection on the part of RUBENSTEIN and to his knowledge he had no connection with the hoodlum element. KELLMAN said that RUBENSTEIN was a great admirer of former President FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT but knew nothing additional of his political feelings because he last saw RUBENSTEIN about 1946. KELLMAN said he has had no contact with RUBENSTEIN since he left Chicago and further stated that he does not know of any connection RUBENSTEIN may have had with a union in Chicago. He said the only business that he recalls RUBENSTEIN being in was that of the novelty business and the scalping of tickets. Know nothing about any contacts EVE GRANT may have had.

EPSTEIN advised that he personally was a bookmaker until approximately 1951 and that he is now retired, managing real estate holdings. He has known JACK RUBENSTEIN, better known to him by the name SPARKY, since his high school days. He believes SPARKY may have been in the same high school class. Both lived in the old Roosevelt Road-Lawndale neighborhood, which is now occupied by Negro residents. He first recalled having become acquainted with SPARKY at a barber shop and at the Lawndale Pool Room, both utilized as neighborhood hangouts.

Sometime in the early 1950's, he and SPARKY were together on a joint business venture wherein they had radio programs printed and sold these programs from a newsstand at Van Buren and State Streets in Chicago. He advised that they did this with a City permit that was issued by a brother-in-law who was at that time a precinct captain in the old neighborhood. He said that he recalled that SPARKY on one other occasion was involved in a small amount of trouble for selling Christmas wreaths or something of this nature on the sidewalk without a permit.

EPSTEIN said that SPARKY did not drink or smoke, but was "sort of a health nut", who spent a lot of time at the Young Men's Christian Association. He said that SPARKY was likeable and personable and was the type who knew many many people. He said the most apt description would be the word "gregarious". He said also that SPARKY had a quick temper, but was not likely to pick a fight, but on the other hand was quick to accept any challenge regardless of the odds against him. He said that after the war, possibly as late as 1946, he heard that somebody in Chicago loaned SPARKY a relatively small amount of money which SPARKY planned to use in going into the candy business. He said he never did know any more about SPARKY's business or personal affairs and to the best of his knowledge, he last saw SPARKY or at least knew something about him in 1941 or 1952 in Chicago.

He said that he was definitely aware that SPARKY was in Dallas and he had heard that he was successful there and was under the impression that he owned one or more taverns in Dallas. He said that, because SPARKY grew up in the old Lawndale neighborhood and because of SPARKY's gregarious nature, SPARKY would undoubtedly know most of the persons of his immediate generation, both good and bad, who came from that area. He said, however, that Sparky, though he might become involved in things of a shady nature, was definitely not a hoodlum. He did not carry a gun, he did not become involved in burglaries or robberies and to his knowledge never expressed any particular interest in any political philosophy. He said that Sparky did have a tendency to be quick tempered, intolerant in his likes and dislikes and a strong affinity for being "where the action was".

EPSTEIN said that he was watching television when the shooting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was portrayed and that he did not at first recognize RUBENSTEIN, but when the name was verified on news broadcasts and the program was replayed, he was able to recognize the person he shot OSWALD as his former acquaintance, RUBENSTEIN. He said that the realization that the perpetrator of this deed was a person within his acquaintance came as a physical blow. He said he knew nothing about EVA GRANT.

RAVEL KAPLAN, 6214 North Washtenaw, Chicago, Illinois, was interviewed in the office of the Building Commissioner of Cook County, room 1702, 130 North Wells Street, Chicago, Illinois.

He advised as follows:

He grew up in the old Roosevelt Road-Halstead neighborhood, later moving to Lawndale, further west on Roosevelt Road. He advised that because he was the same age and from the same locality, he knew JACK RUBENSTEIN by his nickname, SPARKY. He characterized RUBENSTEIN as likable, gregarious, physically active, unstable and temperamental, quickly moved to violent acts or words. He said that RUBENSTEIN was never criminally inclined or interested in politics to his knowledge. He said that he was simply a salesman of various products dealing in a style usually referred to as " Hustling" in the Chicago area. He said that he would find it inconceivable to believe that RUBENSTEIN had any criminal connections and he said that he had no knowledge of RUBENSTEIN's activities since he left the Chicago area a number of years ago.
SAM GORDON, 755 Crescent Drive, Palm Springs, California, owner of seven restaurants operated under the name, Sam's, in Sacramento and San Francisco, with office address, 1668 "a" Street, Sacramento, advised on November 26, 1963, as follows:

GORDON, in 1935, met JACK RUBENSTEIN, also known as SPARKY, working around the baseball park, Chicago, Illinois, where they were both selling novelties and scalping tickets to the games. SPARKY lived with his parents, names and addresses not recalled. SPARKY and GORDON double dated and went to dances together. GORDON could not recall the names of any of their associates.

In 1935, GORDON moved to San Francisco, and by chance, again ran into SPARKY, and they renewed their friendship. SPARKY lived in San Francisco with his sister, EVA [HUS], at some cheap apartment house, address not recalled, which apartments had a common dining room for all the tenants. GORDON recalled seeing EVA around the dining room, but did not know her associates or employment. During this period, SPARKY was employed as a door-to-door daily newspaper subscription solicitor, and had five or six boys working for him, who also resided at the same apartment house. GORDON could not recall any of their names. SPARKY returned to Chicago in 1940, and GORDON has not seen or heard from him since.

He did hear, some years ago, from an unrecalled source, that SPARKY had a "spot" called Silver Spur in Dallas, Texas, but GORDON has never been in Dallas, and does not know any of his associates there. SPARKY, during the time GORDON knew him, never exhibited any extremist or radical views, never carried a gun, was not mixed up in any illegal activity, never exhibited any particular interest in political activities, and never started any arguments or fights even though he was quite "good" with the fists. Neither SPARKY nor his sister, EVA, was ever mixed up with AL CAPONE or anyone in that group, and was not forced out of Chicago by the underworld. SPARKY always associated with "Jewish" people, but never exhibited any great interest in religion. GORDON recalled SPARKY as a clean cut, honest kid, and said he would stake his life that SPARKY had no connections or contacts with anyone concerning his killing LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

It is GORDON's belief that, because of his being upset emotionally over the death of the President and being in a position, he, without malice or forethought, had, on the spur of the moment, shot OSWALD. Mr. GORDON said he wanted to cooperate in every way possible with the FBI, especially since his brother-in-law, JACK FLEMMING, is an FBI Agent in Seattle, Washington.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.
DON GLASS, Owner of Daniel Imports, Randolph and State Streets, Chicago, Illinois, furnished the following information:

GLASS said he knew a SPARKY RUBINSTEIN or RUBY during the 1930's and part of the 1940's. He said this relationship was casual and developed when RUBINSTEIN used to drop into a novelty store which GLASS operated on State Street. He said RUBY was quick-tempered and would fight if insulted. RUBY was a known ticket scalper and primarily made his living by this means. On occasion, RUBY would peddle cheap costume jewelry. GLASS said that he was extremely surprised when RUBINSTEIN was named as ONSAID's killer.

GLASS described RUBY as a "character" and certainly not the type of person who would ever use firearms. He said RUBY was a "lone wolf" and fancied himself as a "lady's man," GLASS knew of no close associates RUBY might have had in Chicago and knows of no criminal element with whom RUBY might associate. GLASS said RUBY never discussed politics or belonged to any organizations as far as GLASS knew. GLASS said RUBY hated the name SPARKY and would fight if called it.

GLASS said he had no information regarding RUBY's residence, employment, or family relationships, except for the aforementioned items. He said RUBY lived somewhere on Chicago's West Side and frequented a restaurant called LeSalleau, located near Roosevelt and Independence Streets. RUBY was also seen at the Glass Hat Bar in the Hotel Congress.

GLASS said that a good friend of RUBY's during the 1930's was SAM GORDON, owner of a chain of restaurants in Sacramento and San Francisco, California, called "Sam's Houseman." GORDON is reportedly identical with the person who paid $5,000 for the baseball which ROGER MARIS hit for his 61st home run. GLASS said that GORDON is very wealthy. GLASS said that he recalled GORDON's name when someone remarked that a wealthy Californian was going to get RUBY out on bond. GLASS stated that this particular rumor reportedly originated from a radio newscast made on November 23, 1963. He said if this rumor were true GORDON would be the logical person because of his close relationship with RUBY in the past.

On November 25, 1963, SOLLIE ZIV, co-owner of ZIV'S Theatre Ticket Sales, 159 North Dearborn, advised RICHARD BARRY SMITH and SANFORD A. NOON that he was a casual acquaintance of RUBY's during the 1930's and early 1940's. ZIV said he became acquainted with RUBY when he (ZIV) had a ticket sales office at 111 North Clark.

ZIV said RUBY ran around with a crowd who never had any money but were always trying to "make a buck" by scalping tickets or peddling cheap watches or jewelry. ZIV described RUBY as a "small timer" who never had anything. He said RUBY was a "lone wolf" and had a quick temper. On one occasion in 1956, he hit ZIV's brother, LEO ZIV, without provocation.

RUBY reportedly lived on Chicago's West Side, near Morgan and Roosevelt Streets and attended Smyth Grammar school, 13th and Blue Island.

He allegedly was a gambler but his primary income was from ticket scalping at football and baseball games. RUBY was never in any difficulty while in Chicago so far as ZIV know. He said RUBY worried about his dress and tried to be immaculate at all times.

ZIV said he never heard any rumors that RUBY was forced to leave Chicago. He said he doubted whether RUBY was the type that associated with Chicago's underworld. RUBY never discussed politics with ZIV nor did he appear interested in it.

ZIV emphasized that his relationship was most casual and he has no information regarding RUBY's family, close associates or other employment aside from that previously mentioned.

He said he has not seen RUBY since the middle 1940's, but heard he had gone to Dallas to work for his sister in a night club.

ZIV expressed surprise that RUBY was involved in any scalping as he, "is not the type."
HARRY SOLAVIT, 4754 Claremont, advised that he has known JACK "SPARKY" RUBENSTEIN and family practically all his life.

He related his most frequent contact with SPARKY occurred while both were employed as newspaper subscription salesmen in the San Francisco, California, area, between the years 1936 and 1939. He recalled that he met SPARKY and his sister EVA GRANT in San Francisco about 1936, at which time SPARKY and his sister were at first employed by the San Francisco Call - Bulletin Newspaper and later by the San Francisco Examiner Newspaper.

He related SPARKY left San Francisco about 1938 and he did not see him again until he saw him in Chicago right after World War II, where SPARKY was engaged in a business known as Earl Products, with his brothers EARL and SAM RUBENSTEIN. He stated Earl Products manufactured and sold miscellaneous items such as salt and pepper shakers, screw driver sets, etc. He said SPARKY subsequently left this business following a family dispute and went to Dallas, Texas, where his sister, EVA GRANT, had opened a night club. He related he is not certain when SPARKY went to Dallas, but believes it may have been in 1947 or 1948.

He recalled that he loaned EVA GRANT $500 to help her open the Dallas night club and SPARKY was not yet in Dallas when he went there in 1947 to see EVA and the club. He advised he did not see SPARKY again until SPARKY's father died and he saw SPARKY at the funeral in Chicago. He said his last personal contact with SPARKY occurred in Chicago about one year after the funeral.

He stated he has never known SPARKY to have had any hooligan connections or associates and he related he has never known SPARKY to belong to any subversive or hate group type organization. He said to his knowledge SPARKY RUBENSTEIN never gambled, smoked or drank in excess. He said he heard that SPARKY had had some connection with a union in Chicago before he went to San Francisco, but he does not know what that connection may have been.

SOLAVIT was unable to furnish the identity of any associates of SPARKY not already known and interviewed.

Date 11/29/63

MAURY CAHN, Twenty East Delaware, Chicago, advised SA ROBERT L. BUCKINGHAM on November 24, 1963, that he is a former associate of RUBY. Both, he and RUBY, used to double date. CAHN could not recall RUBY ever being associated with the union, nor could he recall RUBY being connected in any way with the shooting. CAHN advised that the name of LEO COOKE was unfamiliar to him. CAHN said that of all the people he knew, RUBY was the least likely to be associated with violence.

CAHN recalled that RUBY, at one time, worked for his uncle in approximately 1934 or 1936 in a clothing store located near Halsted Street and Roosevelt Road in Chicago. After this employment, he sold premium items, that is, such things as razor blades, and so forth.

CAHN used to see RUBY regularly as both would attend the fights at Marigold Gardens, Chicago, every Monday night. CAHN stated that HAROLD RYAN, member, Illinois State Boxing Commission, IRA COLITZ, owner of the Clover Bar, and LOUIS SCHNITZ were friends of RUBY. In fact, the last time CAHN saw RUBY was at the Clover Bar about five. Even at the time was interested in booking an entertainer and was inquiring of COLITZ and CAHN whom he could contact in New York.

Commission Exhibit No. 1199
HARRY M. EPSTEIN, 9411 Kilpatrick, advised that he became acquainted with JACK RUBY in Chicago in the late 1920's, when they were both about 16 years of age. They were close friends until approximately 1940, when they drifted apart.

EPSTEIN stated he has seen RUBY no more than five times in the last 20 years, the last time being about five or six years ago when they had a very brief conversation upon the occasion of RUBY's visit to Chicago to attend the funeral of RUBY's father, JOSEPH.

EPSTEIN recalled that RUBY made his living as a young man in Chicago by scalping tickets, later becoming engaged in a business venture in Chicago with his brother, EARL manufacturing aluminum salt and pepper shakers. This business was reportedly quite successful, but eventually RUBY sold out his interest to his brother EARL and went to Dallas where he went into business with his sister, EVA, who was already established there in the night club business.

EPSTEIN stated that RUBY was not a gambler and was never known by him to be involved in any gambling or other criminal activity or association and that to the best of his knowledge, he left Chicago for Dallas voluntarily. EPSTEIN described RUBY as a fairly even tempered individual and not one who would pick a fight with anyone, but who would rather avoid a fight if he could.

EPSTEIN stated he never visited RUBY in Dallas and has no direct knowledge of any of RUBY's activities there. He stated the only other person known to him to have been close to RUBY was one MARTIN GIMPLE, who died approximately one-half years ago. EPSTEIN recalled that GIMPLE had maintained his friendship and association with RUBY until his death and was understood to have lived off and on with RUBY in Dallas prior to the time of his death.

HERSHEY COLVIN, Bartender, Vertigo Key Club, Lawrence and Broadway, owned by JOSEHOCELIN, small-time Chicago bookie, advised he was long-time associate of JACK RUBENSTEIN and served in the U. S. Air Force with RUBENSTEIN while both stationed at Keesler, Mississippi. COLVIN stated, upon return from Air Force, he ran Show Time Lounge at Madison and Hamlin, during which time lounge was frequented by RUBENSTEIN'S sister, EVE GRANT and RUBENSTEIN. COLVIN described RUBENSTEIN as a "hustler", who sold numerous cheap types of merchandise in an attempt to make a profit.

COLVIN stated RUBENSTEIN is definitely not connected with Chicago outfit and was a person of good moral standards, although he did display a quick temper on occasions. From his knowledge he, RUBENSTEIN, COLVIN stated in his opinion, was loyal to his country without qualification. He volunteered that RUBENSTEIN, who had a sensitive nature, most probably "flipped his lid", subsequent to the assassination of the President and in a fit of passion did what he thought was right in taking the life of Lee Harvey Oswald. COLVIN concluded by stating that RUBENSTEIN, during the time he had known him was positively not a radical or extremist, but a loyal citizens of the United States.
LEONARD PATRICK, 2820 West Jarlath, was interviewed regarding any knowledge of JACO RUBENSTEIN. (It is noted that on November 24, 1973 information was received to the effect that PATRICK ran RUBENSTEIN out of Chicago).

PATRICK advised he had known RUBENSTEIN as a neighborhood chum, who was about two years older than PATRICK. Both attended Shepard Grammar School, located at Fillmore and Francisco Streets, but were not close friends.

PATRICK frequently saw RUBENSTEIN in the neighborhood and always spoke with him, as did everyone else who grew up in the west side.

PATRICK said he actually had little to do with RUBENSTEIN after they got out of grammar school. PATRICK was in prison from 1913 to 1940 and, upon his release, heard that RUBENSTEIN had been involved in the investigation into the murder of LEON COOKS "but had been cleared." He heard that this investigation was the reason RUBENSTEIN left Chicago to about 1939.

PATRICK claimed he knew nothing about RUBENSTEIN until after the war when he was selling premium items, such as salt shakers, with his brother, whose name PATRICK did not know. PATRICK did not know that RUBENSTEIN had been in the service during the war. He did state he was certain RUBENSTEIN had never operated a book or had anything else to do with any racket. PATRICK stated that "no matter how much you investigate, you'll never learn nothing, as he had nothing to do with nothing."

PATRICK denied having anything to do with running RUBENSTEIN out of Chicago after World War II and said RUBENSTEIN just found something better elsewhere. PATRICK said that if RUBENSTEIN had any racket he would never have left Chicago, and said further if RUBENSTEIN had been run out of town he would never have returned periodically as PATRICK said he heard RUBENSTEIN did. PATRICK said he had last seen RUBENSTEIN about ten or twelve years ago and had heard that he had been back to Chicago since that time to visit relatives. PATRICK said their friendship was not such that they would visit each other, but if they met on the street, they would visit.

PATRICK said he had never been in Dallas, Texas, but he had heard RUBENSTEIN had a joint there. He did not know MARY's sister.

MIKE NEWZIN, 6332 North Mozart, Chicago, sole proprietor, Weiner’s Department Store, 1548 West Roosevelt Road, Chicago, advised that he knew JACK RUBENSTEIN, also known as Sparky, through RUBENSTEIN’S brother, EARL. NEWZIN stated that RUBENSTEIN frequented the New Lawndale Pool Room on Chicago’s West Side and also frequented Mercy Center, Sixteenth and Avers and Sixteenth and Springfield Streets, where the West Side Jewish crowd gather.

NEWZIN stated that while he knew JACK RUBENSTEIN, JACK never was steadily employed, but was a ticket scalper and sold pennants and other peddler’s items at sporting events. This was during a period from the late 1930’s to early 1940’s. The following people were in the New Lawndale Pool Room crowd: BARNEY ROSS, MARTY ERHIT, a used car dealer known as the “Sultan of Swap” on a Chicago television station, and IRA COLITZ. NEWZIN could not further identify COLITZ.

NEWZIN knew of no hoodlum connection of JACK RUBENSTEIN and of no hoodlum activities on the part of JACK RUBENSTEIN. NEWZIN stated that he, JACK RUBENSTEIN and others in the New Lawndale Pool Room crowd had broken up Bundest meetings on the West Side during the late 1930’s, but other than those activities, knew of no violence on the part of JACK RUBENSTEIN and stated that he never knew JACK RUBENSTEIN to carry a gun during this period.

NEWZIN stated JAY RUBENSTEIN was in Dallas, Texas, at the time JACK RUBENSTEIN went to Dallas to be with his sister. NEWZIN knows no associate of JAY RUBENSTEIN past or present.

DONALD MEDLYKEIN, Manager, New Chez Pares Corporation, 4000 North Wabash Avenue, residence, Apartment 52 O, 2801 North Sheridan, Chicago, advised he grew up with JACK RUBENSTEIN in the Maxwell Street area of Chicago and that he last saw RUBENSTEIN in 1948. He said he recalls RUBENSTEIN as an individual who was selling novelties on the streets in this area. He said RUBENSTEIN’S father was known as “Poppa Joe” and was a neighborhood carpenter and drunk.

MEDLYKEIN stated that he had heard that RUBENSTEIN had been a fanatic in regard to the late President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, however, was not aware of his feelings toward the late President KENNEDY.

MEDLYKEIN states that RUBENSTEIN’S reason for leaving Chicago was that he was very close to his sister who resided in Dallas, and decided to go to Dallas to live with her.

MEDLYKEIN had no knowledge of RUBENSTEIN’S political activities or any connection with a labor union in Chicago. MEDLYKEIN was of the opinion that RUBENSTEIN was not the type of individual who could have perpetrated such an act as killing COWARD and it was quite a shock to him to learn of this act.

To his knowledge, the only individuals who might have some background on RUBENSTEIN would be JAY SCHAEFTZ who is now the General Manager for radio station WTMQ, Chicago, Illinois, and DAVE HALPER, who is working in some capacity at the Riviera Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada.

JERRY FEINGOLD, 2904 West Greenleaf, co-owner of Shopper's Corner, 150 North State Street, Chicago, furnished the following information:

FEINGOLD advised that he was a casual acquaintance of JACK RUBENSTEIN, also known to him as RUBY and SPARKY, from 1933 to 1941 and in 1946. He stressed that his acquaintance was only casual and consisted in seeing RUBY at various hangouts and in attendance at Chicago sporting events. FEINGOLD could not recall any hangout in particular, but recalled that those were restaurants, pool rooms, and the like. FEINGOLD said RUBY was a reputed ticket scalper and this was his only source of income as far as he knew. He said RUBY used to frequent the Glass Hat, located in the Congress Hotel, 520 South Michigan, Chicago, but he does not know anyone who would be acquainted with RUBY. RUBY also frequented the Lawndale Restaurant, located near Roosevelt and Independence Streets. Occasionally RUBY could be observed in attendance at the fights held in the Marigold Gardens. FEINGOLD stated RUBY fancied himself a "lady's man". He was also a reputed gate crasher at baseball and football games. FEINGOLD said that RUBY was always broke and never had any substantial funds. RUBY was described as a "nice fellow" who did not associate with any of the known hoodlums in Chicago's West Side where he lived. Mayor RUBY was RUBY ever active in any political affairs. FEINGOLD knew of no organization or groups to which RUBY belonged.

FEINGOLD expressed surprise that RUBY was involved in any shooting incident as he had "too much common sense for that". FEINGOLD stated he knows of no one in Chicago who may know RUBY aside from FEINGOLD's former business partner, DAN GLASS, owner of Daniel's Imports near Randolph and Wabash Streets. FEINGOLD also said he has no knowledge as to RUBY's past residence, employments, close associates, or family relationships.

Commission Exhibit No. 1205
DAN KAY, a former Chicago Policeman and president of the Rogers Park Ford Agency, was contacted and KAY advised that he knew JACK (SPARX) RUBY casually in the late 1930's as a person in his neighborhood. RUBY was known by KAY to frequent the Lawndale Pool Room and other neighborhood hangouts in the vicinity of Roosevelt Road and Lawndale Avenue.

KAY has not seen RUBY nor had any person contact with him since RUBY left Chicago in approximately 1947, but he has had contact with the Chicago members of the RUBENSTEIN family.

HAROLD RABINSON, a brother-in-law of JACK RUBY, is employed by KAY as an auditor on a one-day-a-month basis.

Other members of the RUBENSTEIN family have been introduced as automobile purchasers.

In the late 1930's, RUBY was known to KAY as a scalper and hustler who was always looking to "make a buck". KAY did not know RUBY to be a member of any "bath" group, subversive organization or a member of the Chicago hoodlum element. KAY stated that to the best of his knowledge, RUBY was "not connected".

Prior to departing the Chicago area, JACK RUBY was in business with EARL RUBENSTEIN, his brother. JACK and EARL had a falling out over business matters resulting in JACK'S divorcing himself from the business and leaving the Chicago area. JACK RUBY presumably traveled to the West Coast and remained there. KAY has not had any personal contact with JACK RUBY since his departure, but has been advised concerning him by members of the family.

According to KAY, EARL RUBENSTEIN was confined to the Elms Veterans Hospital, Chicago, for a one week period approximately a year ago. He was hospitalized due to a suicide threat. JACK RUBY'S sister, MRS. RABINSON, made a trip to Dallas, Texas, and on returning to Chicago, remarked to KAY about the preferential treatment afforded her by the Dallas Police Department. She mentioned that due to her relationship with JACK RUBY, she was met at the place by the Dallas Police and given the "VIP treatment".

MR. ART PETAQUE, reporter, Chicago Sun Times, advised relative to his article appearing on page 4 of November 25, 1963, issue of the Chicago Sun Times, captioned "Ruby a Misguided Patriot, Kin Say Here", he interviewed RUBY'S brothers HYMAN and KARL RUBENSTEIN November 24, 1963. They told him their brother killed LEE OSWALD for only one reason, "He's a good patriotic American, and he got carried away". They said that they telephoned their sister, MRS. EVA GRANT in Dallas immediately after hearing that RUBY had slain OSWALD and she related RUBY came to her house immediately after President KENNEDY was assassinated. He broke down and cried at MRS. KENNEDY's anguish. They said he had no doubt that OSWALD killed the President and he believed OSWALD would be put in a mental institution. He felt this was not enough and he wanted to avenge MRS. KENNEDY. They related that RUBY had contributed to President KENNEDY's campaign fund and he believed President KENNEDY was the Nation's greatest leader. HYMAN told PETAQUE that RUBY would not kill OSWALD to become a hero, he did it to set an example of how a person like OSWALD should be punished. RUBY's brothers and other people acquainted with his related that RUBY was an ardent admirer of President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT and would fight with anyone who made a slurring remark about ROOSEVELT.

PETAQUE said he knew RUBY around 20 years and that about 17 years ago, he went to Dallas to manage a tavern for his sister and later became owner of this tavern. He believed RUBY changed his name because of anti-semitism in Dallas and not because of anything he had done in Chicago. He recalls that RUBY grew up in the Roosevelt Avenue area of Chicago where hoodlums lived and operated and that like anyone living in that area, he was acquainted with most of the hoodlums. He believes RUBY never closely associated with any hoodlums and recalls that he never got himself involved in any serious trouble; at most, he was involved in a punch board operation but never was arrested in this regard. He had the reputation of a street brawler. He never had a steady job but occupied himself as ticket scalper, salesman of assorted goods, small-time promoter, program hawkers at sporting events, etc.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is issued to your agency and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.
TERRY LEONARD, Manager of the Playhouse Cafe, 530 North Clark Street, advised that he has been associated with the operation of strip joints in Chicago for over twenty-five years. He advised that he knew practically every owner and male employee in such business over the years. He advised that JACK RUBY was never associated in the night club business in any way in Chicago for the past twenty-five years.

LEONARD advised that he feels that it is likely that RUBY may be confused with one BARRY RUBENSTEIN, who was a successful strip joint owner from 1966 to sometime in the 1970's. BARRY RUBENSTEIN had a reputation for violence and was involved in at least one murder for which he was later acquitted. LEONARD is positive that RUBY and BARRY RUBENSTEIN were never associated in any way.

JAMES ALLEGRETTI, reputed to be top local organized crime figure in Chicago, was contacted at Wesley Memorial Hospital by SA's AUGUST C. KEMPFF and JOHN W. ROBERTS, JR. ALLEGRETTI, a patient at this hospital, stated that he had no knowledge of JACK RUBY and does not recall anyone by that name being in the Chicago area. ALLEGRETTI said that RUBY was active in the Chicago area, he may have seen him but does not remember the name. ALLEGRETTI made a point of stating if RUBY had been "connected", he would have known him. ALLEGRETTI was then asked whether RUBY could have been active in the Capone organization and ALLEGRETTI replied by stating, "I just told you he was not connected". In a further discussion concerning JACK RUBY on the murder of OSWALD, ALLEGRETTI was asked whether he had any knowledge of an association between RUBY and the Dallas Police Department. ALLEGRETTI stated that he had no knowledge of such associations and did not know anything concerning RUBY except what he had read in the newspapers and seen on television.

During this interview of JIMMY ALLEGRETTI, it is noted that there were four other visitors present, one of whom was identified as BILL VASSILE, a known associate of ALLEGRETTI and gambling payoff man. The others were unidentified, however, none of these persons admitted to knowing of JACK RUBY or having any information whatsoever concerning him.
FRANK "BUTCH" LOVERDE, a former champion prize fighter, who, according to previously received information, was acquainted with RUBY.

MITCH WOLOFF, 2552 North Pine Grove, Chicago, a former restaurateur in the Chicago area, advised SAM ROBERT L. MALONE and JERRY B. BREIDENFELD on November 25, 1963, that he had known RUBY since about 1928, when they were both single and living in the Division and Western neighborhood. He stated that he had been acquainted with "SPARKY" RUBENSTEIN on a social basis and worked with him selling peanuts at ball games. WOLOFF stated he had stayed with him in WOLOFF's home on many occasions. WOLOFF stated that he moved to Florida in 1934 and since that time has seen him on a very infrequent basis. He stated that in 1939, "SPARKY" RUBENSTEIN told him that he was working with LEO COOK in the Wastehandlers Union and when LEO COOK was killed, he wanted very badly to take over that union. WOLOFF stated that was the last time he had ever seen RUBENSTEIN. He stated that he has never known RUBENSTEIN to be the same RUBY.

WOLOFF stated that he considered RUBENSTEIN to be a true patriot who would defend America at any time and that he loved America very strongly. He stated that his acquaintance with RUBENSTEIN was such that he could not believe that RUBENSTEIN could kill anyone and that he knew him to be a patriot.
JAMES HARRIS, NightClub Operator, New Port, Kentucky, advised that he knew subject twenty years ago in Chicago when subject was connected with various night clubs, names unrecalled, on State Street, Chicago. HARRIS considered RUBY "Nutty", who liked to play the big shot with club operators and police. According to HARRIS, RUBY's job at that time was to keep the club girls in line and to protect them and that he eventually got in trouble with club operators because of his "stealing" girls from other clubs.

HARRIS had no knowledge that RUBY knew or was connected with LEE OSWALD. Also RUBY is not connected as far as HARRIS knows, with big time racketeers in Chicago. Also no known association of RUBY with subversive element. HARRIS' opinion of the shooting of OSWALD was some sort of "grand stand play" by RUBY. HARRIS has no recent information regarding RUBY and no inking as to what may have motivated alleged action on his part.

Mr. HARRY THOMAS, 705 Arizona Street, El Paso, Texas, advised he was associated with The Associated Press in Chicago, Illinois, in the early 1930's and resided for a time at The Olympic Hotel, 1060 North Clark Street, Chicago. The hotel was operated by a man named RUBENSTEIN, who used various first names, namely, HARRY, JACK and ABE.

Mr. THOMAS advised RUBENSTEIN had a violent temper and was seen beating up an unidentified individual one occasion. RUBENSTEIN reportedly was part-owner of a number of night clubs up and down Clark Street, including McGovern's Liberty Inn, and was reportedly tied in tightly with the racketeers in Chicago.

Mr. THOMAS said he did not know if the above-mentioned RUBENSTEIN was identical with the man who shot LEE HARVEY OSWALD in Dallas, Texas.
BILL POKOIK, Gotham Hotel, 835 Turk Street, San Francisco, advises he resides in San Francisco at the above address, is employed at the Fun Center Arcade, 723 Market Street, San Francisco.

He states he was born and attended school in Chicago, Illinois, residing in the vicinity of Pears and Maxwell Streets. He stated he recently has seen the photograph of the man known as JACK RUBY in San Francisco newspapers and national television. He stated he immediately recognized this person as a man whom he knew for many years and who was known in Chicago as JACK RUBENSTEIN. He stated RUBENSTEIN was also a carpenter in Chicago. He stated he had not seen RUBY or RUBENSTEIN for many years until 1961 in Dallas. He advised he was traveling from Chicago to Miami, Florida and stopped at the Lom Alts Hotel, Dallas, and was recognized by RUBY on a Dallas street. He advised he visited with RUBY and told RUBY he was residing in San Francisco at that time. He advised he has never seen RUBY in San Francisco and does not know if RUBY has ever resided in San Francisco.

POKOIK stated he is aware RUBY was the owner or operator of the Vegas and Carousel Clubs, Dallas, and stated he would have no reason to think RUBY was connected with any subversive activities or activity contrary to the best interests of the United States.

POKOIK described RUBY as an outgoing, extroverted person who seemed to be quite nervous. He stated he was astonished to read RUBY was charged with the murder of LEE HARVEY OSSWALD and recalls nothing in connection with RUBY's background that would contribute to RUBY's actions in this matter.

POKOIK has not RUBY's sister, EVE or EVA, but he stated he cannot recall further information concerning RUBY's family. He stated he vaguely recalls hearing the possibility that RUBY and his sister did reside in Los Angeles, California, and date of residence not known to POKOIK.

JOE KELLMAN, 2733 West Jarlath Street, Chicago, Illinois, advised he was in Durham, North Carolina, on November 27, 1963, undergoing testing at Duke Hospital. He furnished the following information:

About 1943 he met JACK RUBENSTEIN through his brother, MORRIS KELLMAN, and a cousin, ARTHY WEINER, also known as ARTHY WAIN in Chicago, Illinois. All together he saw RUBENSTEIN 5 or 6 times socially. He remembered RUBENSTEIN as a health fanatic and KELLMAN exercised with him once at Post 360 in downtown Chicago. KELLMAN was not certain, but said he thought RUBENSTEIN worked as a jeweler as a place KELLMAN could not remember.

KELLMAN stated he never knew him to be connected with a night club profession and remembered him as such a mild mannered person that the idea of his connection at that time with any Chicago mobster or Capone group appeared preposterous.

KELLMAN said he never knew RUBENSTEIN'S sister, EVA GRANT, or other relatives nor had he heard anything at all from RUBENSTEIN or other sources. KELLMAN said he was not aware that RUBENSTEIN had left Chicago until he recognized a full view photograph of RUBENSTEIN when he was identified as OSSWALD's assassin. He never heard anything to indicate RUBENSTEIN had possibly been connected with hoodlum elements. KELLMAN knew no groups, organizations, or associates of RUBENSTEIN's and said he never heard of OSSWALD until the President's assassination.

KELLMAN advised that RUBENSTEIN had appeared to him to be a quiet, well mannered, almost effeminate type of man who lisped. The idea that he could become a strong armed bouncer and an affiliate of gangsters was totally at odds with the impression KELLMAN said he formed of RUBENSTEIN 20 years ago.
HAURY JACK GOLDBAUM, 4642 North 8th Drive, telephone 279-3932, who is a real estate developer for self, advised he has known JACK RUBY for about 30 years. He said he and RUBY grew up in the same neighborhood on West Side of Chicago, and RUBY attended John Marshall High School at same time as GOLDBAUM’s wife.

GOLDBAUM said RUBY is known in Chicago as “Sparky” because of his volatile disposition, and inclination to fight at least provocation, although RUBY was usually friendly and well-liked in neighborhood.

GOLDBAUM said he soon moved from the neighborhood, but heard from now unrecalled sources that RUBY became active in 24th Ward Democratic politics. He knew of no actual employment of RUBY in Chicago, but said RUBY seemed to be always well off financially, and former friends often wondered where he obtained his income.

GOLDBAUM said he further recalls having heard from unrecalled source that RUBY and other unknown persons formerly engaged in approaching couples parked in cars at Stickney, Illinois, and shining flashlighters in cars. They would then reportedly “shank” the male occupant, leaving the implication that RUBY and friends might be police officers.

GOLDBAUM advised RUBY’s main hangout in Chicago was Lawndale Pool Room on Roosevelt Road east of Independence Boulevard, and believed RUBY would be well-known at this location.

GOLDBAUM stated he lost track of RUBY after moving to Phoenix in 1945, but later heard from a mutual acquaintance that RUBY had moved to Dallas. He said that when he and his family were on route from Memphis to Dallas in December, 1957, he recalled this information, and telephoned RUBY, who visited him and family at a Dallas motel. RUBY indicated he had moved to Dallas to make money, and told GOLDBAUM he was doing well operating a night club. He claimed he had some difficulty with hoodlums who frequent his type of establishment, but was able to take care of them.

GOLDBAUM said he last saw RUBY about three months ago, when in Dallas on business. He went to the Carousel during the afternoon, and walked upstairs to RUBY’s office, at which time he heard RUBY shouting in extremely vile and filthy language at a Negro carpenter. RUBY quietened down when he entered the office, and GOLDBAUM remained there talking with RUBY for about one hour. During this time, RUBY was taking care of three small dogs for an unknown doctor, and had dogs in the office. The female dog was in heat, and RUBY told GOLDBAUM he would show him something interesting. RUBY then proceeded to sexually excite one of the male dogs by masturbation. GOLDBAUM objected, and told RUBY to cease as it was making him sick.

GOLDBAUM said he has not seen or heard from RUBY since last visit to Dallas.

GOLDBAUM said he knows of no Un-American sympathies or activities on part of RUBY, and advised RUBY always expressed himself as ardent supporter of late Presidents ROOSEVELT and KENNEDY. He knew of no hoodlum associates of RUBY, but believed it possible he may have been associated with hoodlums in Chicago.

GOLDBAUM said he does not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD, and knows of no association between OSWALD and RUBY.

He further knew of no close associates or friends of RUBY in Phoenix area, and does not know of RUBY ever having even visited this area.

GOLDBAUM advised that CHILE PANITZ, a “box man” at Thunderbird Hotel, Las Vegas, formerly worked in Dallas, and is believed to be a close acquaintance of RUBY.

GOLDBAUM is of the opinion that shooting of OSWALD was motivated by anger of RUBY because of assassination of late President, and of the opinion that RUBY probably mentally unbalanced at times, as exhibited during dog incident in RUBY’S office.
Charles G. Watters, certified public accountant, 211 Pasco de las Delicias, Torrance, California, an accountant in the accounting firm of Alexander Grant and Company, 541 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, advised that he had been correlating at his residence from a heart attack on the weekend of the assassination of President Kennedy. On Sunday, November 24, 1963, when he saw the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald on the television and the assailant was identified as Jack Ruby, he suffered another heart attack which hospitalized him until December 5, 1963. He advised that the identity of Ruby in the shooting of Oswald had particular significance for him because his accounting firm had previously handled Ruby's account in Dallas.

He advised that he had been a partner with W. Boone Good in the firm of W. Boone Good and Company in Dallas, Texas, and that he had kept the books for Jack Ruby when he operated the Vegas Club in Dallas. Mrs. Rita Smirka, a bookkeeper with the firm, handled the day-by-day paper work on Ruby's account and when she was fired in 1959 or early 1960 Watters believed she took the Ruby account with her as Ruby did.

Watters stated that he did not know Ruby socially but only on a business basis.

However, on one occasion he did learn either from Ruby or through Smirka that Ruby was dating the secretary of a prominent Dallas man. Watters did not remember the name of the secretary or her employer.

Watters advised that during the period his firm handled Ruby's account which also included preparing tax returns, Ruby's income was never large and fluctuated between roughly $2000 and $10,000 per year. Watters advised that these figures worried him because he could not understand how Ruby could maintain himself on this income. Because of this, Watters checked Ruby's records very closely and compared the ratios with other night club accounts handled by Watters and could find no serious discrepancies. Watters stated that he continually hammered at Ruby to determine if he had other income as Watters was most anxious to protect himself in regards to this matter for tax returns. In this regard Ruby only said that he was receiving additional financial aid from his brother. The extent of this aid and name of brother was not revealed to Watters by Ruby.

Watters advised that Ruby was always neat and well dressed and appeared very sensitive about his personal appearance...almost to the point of being effeminate, but definitely otherwise very hard and tough. Watters stated he never knew Ruby to express any political opinions. He found Ruby very pleasant and genial. Watters stated...that he observed Ruby to be very nervous, jumpy and emotionally high strung. He described Ruby as a "longer" who apparently did not have any close associates or outside interests other than his club. He advised that he did not know Ruby's background, family or police connections if any, nor had he heard of Lee Harvey Oswald prior to the assassination of the President.

Watters stated that if he had to venture an opinion as to Ruby's reason for shooting Oswald he would say it was an emotional spur of the moment thing.

Mr. MAURICE MEDLEVIN, also known as Frenchie Medlevine, advised he has residence telephone OR 77310. He furnished the following information concerning JACK LEON RUBY.

He was acquainted with RUBY in Chicago, Illinois, when both were children together and attended public schools in that city in the 1930's. He believes RUBY may have attended Smith School at the same time that MEDLEVIN attended Garfield High School in Chicago. As a youngster, RUBY was well liked, particularly by the female set in Chicago. MEDLEVIN has not seen or heard from RUBY for possibly the last six to eight years.

On the last occasion MEDLEVIN saw RUBY was at the Chez Paree Night Club in Chicago which was then owned by MEDLEVIN's brother, DON MEDLEVIN. At that time, RUBY was accompanied by a young male Negro boy who was entertaining as a singer and dancer.

MEDLEVIN knows of no gambling connections, business connections or associates of RUBY, or of any subversive interests on the part of RUBY. He has never known him to possess or espouse any radical or extremist views.

RUBY's older sister was believed by MEDLEVIN to own a salon in Dallas, Texas, and RUBY worked for her. MEDLEVIN was acquainted with RUBY's father who was a carpenter in Chicago but did not know his mother.

MEDLEVIN left Chicago in 1960 and although he has been to Dallas he has never seen RUBY in that community.

MEDLEVIN expressed the personal opinion that RUBY may have been "a little shell shocked" following military service. He has never known him, RUBY, to have a temper or engage in fist fights as a youngster.

When he heard about RUBY being charged with the killing of LEE HARVEY OSWALD following the assassination of President KENNEDY in Dallas, Texas, MEDLEVIN could not believe it because in his opinion conduct of this type was entirely foreign to RUBY's nature, as he knew him as a youngster.

MEDLEVIN denied that he ever engaged in a fight with RUBY and he reiterated that he has never had any personal knowledge of RUBY ever having been in trouble. He repeated that RUBY was popular with the girls as a youngster. He has had no contact with RUBY in his adult years and could furnish no information concerning criminal activities, hoistium or gambling activities of RUBY, if any exist.

He stated that SPARKY assisted him to some extent in referring customers to his shop. In regard to SPARKY’s political beliefs, he stated that he is not familiar with them. He knows of no contacts that he had with the underworld. He stated that he realized he has not seen SPARKY since 1948, but does not believe that he is the type of individual to have committed such an act unless he was temporarily insane. Commission Exhibit No. 1220
WEISBROD advised that during this period he became convinced that RUBY was "crazy" in that he purchased western clothing, attempting to act as a Master of Ceremonies, got up on the stage and attempted to entertain the customers with a guitar, and otherwise attempted to imitate the former owner. He characterized RUBY as wanting more than anything else to be in the movies and stated RUBY sought to always be in the spotlight and stated further he was a "show off" and a "Damon Runyan type character".

He advised he has never known RUBY to discuss politics and while he has had no contact with him during the past several years (he estimated he has seen RUBY five times in the past five years), he felt certain that RUBY has no political interest and has no subversive qualities or associations.

He said RUBY has always operated night clubs, and once had a lounge called Hernandez's Hideaway which was located on Greenville Avenue, however, he does not recall specifically the period in which he operated this club.

WEISBROD advised he knows that JACK RUBY has a brother named SAM whom he believes also uses the name "RUBY", who resides near the Preston Forest Shopping Center in Dallas, and he does not believe that JACK RUBY "gets along" with this brother. He also knows that RUBY has a sister named EVA who manages or operates the Vegas Club on Oak Lawn Avenue, but he does not know her last name.

WEISBROD stated during the period when he first became acquainted with JACK RUBY, and during the period in which he spent considerable time at the Silver Spur Lounge, he knew one ADRIAN HUGH, whom he described as "hanger on" at the Silver Spur who "soothed" drinks. He has not seen ADRIAN HUGH in several years, knows that he came from Chilokasha, Oklahoma and that he possibly operates a liquor store in Oklahoma City. He does not feel that HUGH was closely associated with RUBY.

He does not know with whom RUBY may have associated closely within the past several years in view of his lack of contact with him and advised the only persons with whom he is acquainted who also associated with RUBY would have done so several years ago.

He advised RUBY had a girlfriend years ago whose name was ALICE and who was secretary or stenographer for some Dallas attorney whose name he did not know.

He believes RUBY is excitable, highly emotional, and a high-strung individual who acts spontaneously with out thinking and who is later filled with deep remorse at having lost his temper. He explained that RUBY was in frequent fights with both patrons and employees during the frequent periods of their association, and on one occasion, following a fight he recalls that RUBY was so upset that, while not physically hurt during the fight, he held onto an automobile and vomited uncontrollably.

He advised in view of his former knowledge of RUBY and in view of publicity given by television and newspaper coverage pertaining to the shooting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD by JACK RUBY on November 24, 1963, he feels it is logical that RUBY committed this crime due to a highly emotional state of mind into which he may have "worked himself".

WEISBROD advised that any rumor which indicates any connection by JACK RUBY with "Chicago gangsters" is, in his opinion, completely fictional and that this same opinion applies to any rumored suggestion that RUBY may have any subversive connections.

He stated he is certain that RUBY's only interest is in connection with the operation of his night club because of the nature of people that it brought him into contact with in show business. He further stated that during the entire time he was acquainted with RUBY that he, RUBY, "wanted to know everyone in town, and wanted everyone in town to know him". He explained that he has ridden in an automobile with RUBY on occasion and RUBY was driving during which, without any warning, RUBY would slam on the breaks, get out of the car, and hand a business card to someone on the street or sidewalk and introduce himself and invite that individual to his club.

He stated that RUBY has always appeared to do so many favors for many people by giving them money or work, but that his own feeling is that RUBY always to a man and that by these gestures RUBY hoped to ingratiate himself.

with the people whom he helped.

WEISBROD emphasized that he has had no current contacts with JACK RUBY and that his appraisal of RUBY is based on his acquaintance with him several years ago.

Date 11/29/63

Mrs. STELLA COPPAN, 13121 Twin Oaks, Mesquite, Texas, advised that she has been a very close friend of JACK RUBY since 1968. Mrs. COPPAN related that she was employed by RUBY at the Silver Spur as Head Waitress from 1968 to the early part of 1973. She stated that she left in 1973 after getting married and leaving the Dallas area.

Mrs. COPPAN stated that she continued to keep in touch with RUBY when returning to the Dallas area to visit relatives. Mrs. COPPAN stated that, in her opinion, JACK RUBY was a very nice individual, generous to employees and friends, and well liked by persons who knew him in the Dallas area.

Mrs. COPPAN stated she knew of no out-of-town visitors acquainted with RUBY; however, related that RUBY knew numerous officers of the Dallas Police Department, including Officer TIPPITT, who was killed by LIE HARRY OSWALD. She stated that Officer TIPPITT petitioned the area of the Silver Spur and made numerous visits to the club and was a close friend of JACK RUBY. She further stated that RUBY was acquainted with numerous detective of the Dallas Police Department; however, she was unable to furnish specific names.

Mrs. COPPAN advised that, to her knowledge, JACK RUBY had no interest in political affairs and she has never known him to discuss or show any interest in political issues.

Mrs. COPPAN stated she did not know LIE HARRY OSWALD and she did not think RUBY was acquainted with OSWALD.

Mrs. COPPAN does not know MORA MILLER; however, she recalls an individual by the name of MORA, possibly MOIRA MILLER, was a part-time waitress at the Silver Spur during part of the time she was employed at this club.

SAM LASSER, Partner, Mode Imports. 114 Parkhouse, who resides at 4500 Cedar Springs, advised that he and his partner, NORMAN N. (NEED) WEISBERG, with whom he has been associated since approximately 1950, met JACK RUBY during either 1948 or 1949, at which time RUBY operated the Silver Spur Lounge at 1717 South Ervay Street in Dallas. He does not recall specifically how he may have been introduced to RUBY, but recalls that RUBY was originally from Chicago, as was he and WEISBERG, although they had never known each other in Chicago.

LASSER and WEISBERG were both bachelors, were traveling salesmen, and on weekends when in Dallas, Texas, spent considerable time at the Silver Spur. He recalls that a year or two after first meeting RUBY, that RUBY purchased or obtained control of the Bob Mills Ranch House, a night club located on Industrial Boulevard in Dallas, and offered WEISBERG and LASSER the concessions operated at this night club. He said he and WEISBERG invested considerable money in photographic equipment and instituted a photography concession, following which RUBY attempted to "kick them out". He said at the insistence of MY PADER, a partner or financial backer of RUBY in the operation of the Ranch House, he and WEISBERG were permitted to retain their operation of these concessions for a brief period of time, possibly one year or less. He stated their relations with RUBY were strained and that his recollection of this period of association is that RUBY insisted on thousands of photographs of himself be made and given to him at no cost. He said during this period RUBY wore western gear and attempted to act like a guitar-playing cowboy, but that RUBY could not speak, sing, or play the guitar.

He stated RUBY always attempted to impress everyone with whom he came into contact with the "connections" which he had in show business and sought the spotlight in all of his endeavors. He said he feels that "everyone in town" knows JACK RUBY and that this is the direct result of efforts by JACK RUBY to become well known.
During the period of time in which RUBY operated the Ranch House, he had "first class" entertainers including TEX RITTER, a western singer, Tennessee ERNIE FORD, and "top-notch bands", including ARTIE SHAW and other well known entertainers. He recalls that RUBY attempted to short-change the performers and on one occasion had considerable trouble when he tried to cheat TEX RITTER out of $200 of the amount due him.

He advised he does not know exactly how to contact MR. PADER, but is of the opinion he is currently in California and is operating either an exterminating business or is engaged in the renovation of old hotels, and he does not recall the source of this information.

LASER advised he has absolutely no use for JACK RUBY and characterized him as a man of high temper, a show off, and a "real tough guy". He says he has seen RUBY engage in flat fights which were not called for and said he believes RUBY "acts without thinking" and thinks afterwards and feels deep remorse at many of his actions.

He said he has had no recent contacts with RUBY although he saw him about three months ago in the Carousel Club and that while he had not seen him at the time in possibly a year or more, RUBY exhibited some degree of animosity toward him, and he left the Carousel Club. He pointed out that he and his partner, NUD WEISER, have begun the manufacture of a device called "Tite-N-Temple", which is designed to cause eye glasses to fit more snugly on the wearer. He said they displayed this item on a display card which bears his, LASER's, photograph. He stated he had learned that JACK RUBY has attempted to market a very similar item using an identical display card except for the photograph of LASER. He said he believes that RUBY saw one of these display cards and the product, and had recognized the photograph of LASER, had decided it was a good product, and "those boys have a good thing going", and decided to steal the product.

LASER stated he feels certain RUBY has no connection with any hoodlum element and no association with any subversive organization.

Based on his former association with RUBY, he believes it is entirely possible that RUBY could have extremely strong feelings of sympathy for the family of President KENNEDY, but that he cannot conceive RUBY having any political leanings one way or another. He stated he knows RUBY is a highly emotional individual and that RUBY cannot stand to be unable to dominate anyone in his presence.

LASER advised in view of his lack of contact with RUBY during the past five or six years, he does not know anyone with whom RUBY might be closely associated at the present, and that the comments which he has made relative to the case of RUBY are based on his knowledge of RUBY during the period of their association from approximately 1948 to 1952, and on a casual basis from 1952 to 1956.
Mr. PETER LUCAS, Manager, Lucas B & B Restaurant, Oak Lawn and BovacF Street, advised that he was born and raised in Dallas and educated here and has lived in Dallas all his life. He stated that he has been acquainted with JACK RUBY, also known to him as JACK RUSSELL, for several years and more particular since RUSSELL has been owner of the Vegas Club located in the same block with B & B Restaurant. He stated that he knew JACK RUBY as a loud mouth obnoxious person who is very beligerent. RUBY used to frequent the coffee shop section of the B & B Restaurant and on one occasion created a disturbance with another customer. He, at that time, ordered RUBY out of the restaurant and told him not to ever come back. He stated that in his opinion, RUBY is a homosexual and a person of very poor character.

Mr. LUCAS stated that he knowd of no particular associates of RUBY other than the fact that he has been seen him on several occasions in the company of Dallas Police Officers and riding in Dallas Police Department Squad cars.

Mr. LUCAS stated that several months ago, RUBY opened the Carousel Club in downtown Dallas and turned the operation of the Vegas Club over to his sister EVA and has spent very little time in the Oak Lawn area of Dallas since that time.

Mr. LUCAS observed a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and stated that he has never seen OSWALD in the company of JACK RUBY.
Mrs. SITA JEAN SMREKAR, 9875 San Lea, Dallas, Texas, furnished the following information:

In March, 1958, Mrs. SMREKAR entered the employ of the W. B. Goode & Company, an accounting firm, Dallas, Texas, as a bookkeeper. In approximately August, 1958, W. B. Goode & Company merged with Alexander Grant & Company, Certified Public Accountants, Dallas, Texas. Mrs. SMREKAR terminated her employment with Alexander Grant & Company in April, 1960.

During the period March, 1958 through April, 1960, she handled the records and books of numerous small business concerns as routine work in her employment. One such account was that of the Vegas Club. Once a month, JACK RUBY would bring his account books from the Vegas Club to Alexander Grant & Company and, on this basis, Mrs. SMREKAR became acquainted with JACK RUBY.

Mrs. SMREKAR had no other contact with RUBY and has no information concerning his associates, acquaintances or personal affairs. She has had no contact with RUBY since she terminated her employment with Alexander Grant & Company in April, 1960. Commission Exhibit No. 1226

Joe Bonds, Texas Department of Corrections Number 151515, upon interview at Wynne Prison Farm, advised as follows:

Bonds is serving a sentence on a sodomy charge out of Dallas, Texas.

He has known Jack Ruby from 1948 until 1954. Bonds introduced Ruby to the owner of the Silver Spur Night Club in Dallas, Texas in 1948, and Ruby subsequently bought this club. In 1950, Ruby became a partner with Bonds in the Vegas Club, Dallas, but bought Bonds out several months later for $2500. Bonds described Ruby as not interested in politics, but more interested in money and publicity in connection with business ventures. Ruby had a bad temper, would fight with night club customers, and considered himself a "tough guy". Ruby was very friendly with police officers, and this began when an officer names Johnny Sides was killed. Ruby held a benefit for Sides at his club and turned the proceeds over to the family of Sides.

Ruby, according to Bonds, would encourage police officers to frequent his clubs, and he gave some of them off-duty paying jobs in his clubs. He would also give free dinners and drinks to officers, and made women available to officers who were both entertainers and customers. Bonds furnished no identities of police officers so favored, but indicated they were primarily members of the Dallas Police Department. Bonds further commented that during the Korean War Ruby welcomed service men at his club, and he treated them to free meals and drinks.
IRVING ALKANA, 26031 18th Street, advised that he was a resident of Dallas, Texas from approximately 1959 to 1955. He stated that he frequented various night clubs in Dallas in 1952. During one of these visits to an unrecorded night club, he was introduced to JACK RUBY. He purchased the Studio Lounge, 3508 Oaklawn Avenue, Dallas, and renamed it the Club Vegas. This purchase was made sometime in the latter part of 1952 or early 1953.

ALKANA stated that he was having difficulty running this club, and he was approximately $6,000 in debt to the United States Government. He agreed to a lease purchase sale agreement with RUBY whereby RUBY obtained the third interest in the Club Vegas. This sale was made in 1953. The lease purchase option ran until December of 1953.

RUBY had complete control over the operations of the Club Vegas and he operated the club together with a close friend of his, JOE BONDS. In September of 1953, RUBY advised ALKANA that he, RUBY, could not obtain funds needed for the purchase of the Club Vegas prior to December of 1953, and he, therefore, offered to cancel his option for a one third interest in the Club. ALKANA stated that he agreed to this arrangement when he took over the management of the Club. ALKANA stated that between September, 1953 and June 19, 1954, he had numerous disagreements with RUBY regarding the operation of the Club Vegas.

ALKANA stated that on one occasion in April or May, 1953, he had a fist fight with RUBY at the Club Vegas. RUBY was arrested and booked at the Dallas City Jail. ALKANA stated that he does not know the exact charge but believes that it was for carrying a concealed weapon since at the time of the fight, RUBY had a .38 caliber snub nose revolver in his possession. ALKANA states that RUBY always carried a revolver with him, claiming that he did this since he carried large sums of money.

ALKANA states that after he sold his two third interest in the Club Vegas to RUBY on June 19, 1954, he saw RUBY on several occasions before leaving the Dallas, Texas area in 1955. ALKANA states that he has only seen RUBY once since 1955 that being on a visit he made to Dallas in 1960.

This document contains no recommendations or conclusions of the PDI. It is the property of the PDI and is licensed to FBI Agency. It and its contents are not to be distributed outside our agency.
ALKANA stated that RUBY had a violent temper and that he witnessed several fist fights between RUBY and customers at the Silver Slipper which was owned by RUBY and on one occasion a fist fight between RUBY and a customer at the Club Vegas. ALKANA stated that on all of these occasions, the customers were intoxicated and were attempting to disrupt entertainment activities at the clubs. He stated that on these occasions, RUBY would remove the customer by hitting him with anything at his disposal and immediately remove him from the premises. He stated he cannot recall ever seeing RUBY pull his revolver on anyone and has never heard that RUBY had, in fact, ever threatened anyone with a gun.

ALKANA stated that his only fist fight with RUBY occurred in April or May of 1954 and that the reason for this fight was that RUBY thought that he was making money with the Club Vegas and was not giving RUBY his share. He stated that RUBY telephonically contacted him at his residence in Dallas and told him that "if you're man enough, I'll meet you down at the Club Vegas and we'll settle this matter with our fists." ALKANA stated that he then called the Dallas Police Department, advised them of the statement made by RUBY and the fact that he was going to go to the Club Vegas and meet RUBY and that he expected trouble. He stated when he arrived at the Club, RUBY immediately began throwing punches and that after several minutes, he succeeded in securing a head lock on RUBY and held him until police arrived. He stated that during this altercation, RUBY at no time threatened him with the revolver which the police discovered on RUBY's person.

ALKANA stated that he considered RUBY to be an individual who always wanted to be the biggest man in Dallas and who is always looking for a "big score." He stated that by the words "big score" he means RUBY would always be looking for some way to own the biggest and best night club in the Dallas area. He stated he knew of no criminal activities on the part of RUBY other than the various difficulties that RUBY had with city officials over violations of city ordinances concerning serving drinks at his club after curfew hours. He stated he did not believe that RUBY ever knowingly violated these regulations but that customers of his were responsible for the violations and since RUBY was the owner of the night club, he was held responsible by city officials. ALKANA stated he cannot furnish any specific information concerning these violations.

ALKANA stated that RUBY always appeared to him to be a person who sought the spotlight in any matter in which he could possibly become involved. He stated that RUBY often frequented the Dallas Police Department and wanted to be in on every important matter concerning the City of Dallas.

ALKANA stated that his best description of RUBY would be that he is completely unpredictable in his actions.

The record reflects RUBENSTEIN arrested December 5, 1954 for investment of violation of the State Liquor Law.
Paul Dorfman, former head of scrap iron and junk handlers union local 20467, AFL, is quoted in IRV KUPFERTH'S column "Chicago Sun Times" dated November 25, 1963 as advising RUBY worked as an organizer of the union for a short period but was unsatisfactory.

Joe Jacobs, labor attorney and attorney for local 20467 scrap iron and junk handlers union, until five years ago, advised SA C. Leonard Trevisans on November 24, 1963 that he does not know RUBY nor does he recall his being associated with the union during late thirties or early forties.

An extensive search of the records of Chicago police department did not reflect any references to JOHN MARTIN, JACK RUBY or JACK RUBENSTEIN or to murder of Leon Cook.

Irvndi Schenwald, former boxing promoter, 1313 West Randolph, Chicago, advised SA John R. Bassett on November 25, 1963, that Harold Ryan, who is believed to be working for the Illinois state athletic commission, is currently on a cruise and will visit Europe. He is expected to return to Chicago in December, 1963. Ryan has telephone number Mrdinac 7-1254. This number is listed to Monroe Ryan, 740 North Melina, Chicago. Schenwald did not know Jack Ruby, "Sparry", or Jack Rubenstein.

Sas Petros A. Koyos and John E. Dalmann attempted on November 25, 1963, to contact Ryan through telephone number Mr 7-1254 with negative results.

Art Winch, member, Illinois state athletic commission, 160 North La Salle Street, Chicago, advised SA Koyos on November 25, 1963, that Harold Ryan is no longer with the commission. Ryan was an office administrator for over ten years and was let out when the political administration of the state of Illinois changed approximately two years ago. Ryan is currently employed with the Metropolitan Sanitary District, Chicago. Winch had no knowledge or information regarding subject Ruby.

Mr. Ted Laughran, guard, Metropolitan Sanitary District, 100 East Erie, Chicago, advised SA Dalmann on November 25, 1963, that Mr. Harold Ryan, secretary to Mr. Mahoney, who is in charge of construction there, was presently on a Mediterranean cruise and would not return to Chicago until about December 1, 1963.

He could furnish no additional information.

On November 25, 1963, Miss Mary E. O'Connor, Chicago Tribune Morgue, 435 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, advised SA Byrce S. Plesner that a check of their records reflects an article stating that Leon R. Cook died on January 5, 1940. He resided at 1135 South Sacramento, and was the founder of the Iron and Junk Handlers Union, even though he held no office with said union. In December 6, 1939, Cook went to the office of the Iron and Junk Handlers Union, 319 South Roosevelt and while talking to John Martin, president of this local, was shot as a result of an argument involving amount of pay given to union members. The article points out that Cook went to the hospital under his own power and gave a statement to the effect that while talking with Martin he had complained that the union members were not receiving adequate salaries and Martin became angry and pulled a gun and shot him. The article pointed out that Martin resided at 8023 South Wolcott, Chicago, and that after Cook's death, Martin and his secretary, Mrs. Gladys Walsh, thirty-five, 405 Walnut, Hinsdale, Illinois, could not be located. The article stated that they subsequently did appear at the police station and that in the trial Martin maintained that he shot Cook in self-defense as it was Cook who had the gun at the time he appeared at Martin's home on December 8, 1939. Mrs. Walsh testified that she saw the two men arriving and struggling, but could not see who had the gun or how it was fired.

This article states that much of the information about this matter was received from Jack Rubenstein on December 9, 1939, Rubenstein, secretary of this union, stated that he was only a collector for the union.

Miss O'Connor stated that a second article reflected that on January 16, 1940, union president John Martin was freed of the charge of murdering Leon R. Cook. She stated that no other information is available concerning this matter.

On November 25, 1963, Louis E. Schnitz, 2270 Garrison, Evanston, Illinois, advised SA John E. Dalmann that he does not know Jack Ruby or those allegedly associated with him. Schnitz stated that he has a cousin named Louis Schnitz, 1010 Wyon Drive, Westwood, California, who might know Ruby.
RONALD DENNIS MAGID, 1204 Agnew Street, telephone 626-4385, advised that he is the nephew of JACK RUBY of Dallas, Texas. He further advised that his mother is EVA GRANT of Dallas, Texas, who is JACK RUBY's sister.

Mr. MAGID advised that he was born in Chicago, Illinois, in 1931, and that his wife's name is TRUDY MAGID. He further advised that his mother and father HYMAN MAGID were divorced when he was one year old and that his father still resides in Chicago. HYMAN MAGID is a co-owner of MAGID and MILLIAN Butcher Company on Greenview Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Mr. MAGID advised that his grandmother FANNY RUBENSTEIN died in 1942 and that his grandfather JOSEPH RUBENSTEIN died in 1959. He further advised that in addition to his mother EVA GRANT, JACK RUBY has the following brothers and sisters:

Brothers - HYMAN RUBENSTEIN, 1014 Loyola Street, Chicago, Illinois; EARL RUBENSTEIN, Dry Cleaning Plant, Detroit, Michigan; and SAMUEL RUBY, Dallas, Texas.

Sisters - MARION CAROL, whose husband NORMAN CAROL believed to be in Veterans Administration hospital, Sawtelle, California; ANN VOLTERT, 1004 Loyola, Chicago, Illinois, whose husband RAUL is deceased; and EILEEN and husband HAROLD KAMENSKY, Chicago, Illinois.

He also advised that he has one relative living in the Los Angeles area who is ARTHUR VOLTERT, 20891 Kelvin Place, Woodland Hills, California, who is the son of ANN VOLTERT.

Mr. MAGID also advised that his uncle EARL, SAMUEL and JACK had their names legally changed from RUBENSTEIN to RUBY sometime in the late 1940s in Chicago, Illinois. He advised that

HYMAN RUBENSTEIN is the older brother and considered the head of the family and has a "family apartment" in Chicago where he presently resides. He stated that prior to the present location, the "family apartment" was considered to be at 3650 Lexington Street, Chicago, Illinois, and that his uncle JACK RUBY has lived in both apartments off and on during the years.

Mr. MAGID advised that his earliest recollection of his uncle JACK RUBY is when he and his mother traveled to San Francisco in 1933 or 1934 with JACK RUBY. His uncle and mother worked for a newspaper obtaining subscriptions and he believes they lived in an apartment in or around the Powell and Eddy Street area. He recalls that his uncle left the newspaper subscription business and went into the linen business while in San Francisco and believes that he worked for himself. He does not recall how long JACK RUBY stayed in San Francisco and his memory of JACK RUBY until JACK "went into the Army" is quite vague. Mr. MAGID stated that his mother while residing in San Francisco married FRANK GRANT in 1938 and divorced GRANT in about 1940. He advised that his knowledge of GRANT was that he lived in Los Angeles.

Mr. MAGID stated that JACK RUBY served in the U.S. Army Air Force as an enlisted man and was quite proud of the fact that he had obtained a "set of wings" which he sent Mr. MAGID to wear at the time.

After military service MAGID recalls that his uncle came back to Chicago, Illinois, and went into partnership with his brothers SAMUEL and EARL in a business known as Earl Products Company, 701 North Sangamon Street, Chicago, Illinois. This was a novelty manufacturing business which made premium merchandise for sales incentive type programs. SAMUEL and EARL bought JACK out of the business in about 1948 when JACK moved to Dallas, Texas. He believes that during the time his uncle JACK RUBY resided in Chicago from his discharge from the military service until 1948 he resided in the Congress Hotel.
MAID advised that his mother during the 1940s had moved from Los Angeles, California, to Dallas, Texas, and owned and operated the Singapore Supper Club in 1948. Prior to this she was in the import and export of steel and other raw materials in Dallas, Texas, under the name of Grant Sales. Immediately before this he advised that his mother was in the novelty distributing business under the name of Berger - Grant Sales which was also located in Dallas, Texas.

He advised that the reason JACK RUBY moved to Dallas in 1948 was to help his mother manage the Singapore Supper Club which was failing at the time. He stated that his uncle felt that Chicago had nothing to offer him. He advised that he does not know what the financial arrangements are between JACK RUBY and his mother. He advised that he believes that they changed the name of the Singapore Club to the Silver Spurs and advised that his mother and uncle have owned numerous clubs over the years in Dallas, Texas. He advised that the Carousel Club which JACK RUBY presently runs was formerly the Sovereign Club which was a membership type club. He advised that his mother EVA GRANT has some business interest in these clubs. He advised that to his knowledge there is no "outside money" involved in the ownership of these clubs.

MAID advised that the last personal contact he had with his uncle was during a vacation visit to Dallas for five days in May 1953. He stated that his prior contact with his uncle was during the funeral of his grandfather in Chicago in 1959.

Mr. MAID advised that he knows of no contacts with the hoodlum element on the part of JACK RUBY except that he used to hang in a tough Chicago neighborhood from which many gangsters originated. He does not know of any direct association with this type of element however.

Mr. MAID further stated that he would sincerely doubt any subversive associations or activities on the part of his uncle JACK RUBY because of his patriotic attitude and also the fact that JACK liked money too much to embrace a communist philosophy. He further advised that he has no knowledge of the fair play for Cuba organization and was not aware of its existence until the publicity it received as a result of the assassination of the President.

He advised that most of the RUBENSTEIN family are Democrats in their political outlook. He advised that his uncle HYMAN RUBENSTEIN to his knowledge was the most active in political circles and knows of no political activity on the part of JACK RUBY.

Mr. MAID further stated that his uncle JACK RUBENSTEIN has always been on friendly terms with policemen. He advised that at one time the law made it mandatory in Dallas, Texas, to have a policeman on the floor of any club while the club was open. He advised that the clubs were required to close at midnight and that at that time the policemen assigned to the club would have only worked four or five hours. Since the police had no place to go he advised that his uncle used to keep his club open strictly for the use of police officers after the 12 o'clock closing. He believes that this was the case at the Carousel Club which later became the Silver Spur. He advised that he also knew quite a few policemen in Chicago and use to park his car when on business in downtown Chicago and was never given a ticket.

MAID advised that he had no knowledge of LEE HARVEY OSWALD until the news broadcasts of the assassination of the President. He stated that he knows of absolutely no connection between OSWALD and his uncle JACK RUBY. He also advised that he had no knowledge that his uncle carried a gun.

He advised that his uncle has a close friend IRVING or ISADORE KAPLAN whose wife’s name is SYLVIA who live in Los Angeles. He believes that KAPLAN lives possibly on Beverly Glen Boulevard in Beverly Hills, south of Pico Boulevard.

Mr. MAID stated that he has always liked his uncle JACK RUBY and has nothing bad to say about him. He advised that when he talked to his mother on the telephone after the shooting in Dallas she said that JACK had been very upset about the President’s assassination and had been crying.

advised that JACK Oswalz a lot of people and right after World War II originated a copyrighted placard which consisted of a blue background with the Statue of Liberty printed in silver ink and the words "Remember Pearl Harbor." He advised that his uncle sold busts of President ROOSEVELT with an excerpt from his 1932 inaugural speech and also busts of General MacArthur during this time. He advised that he is sure his uncle saw the opportunity for making money on these but also commented that he thought they were a good thing. He further advised that he considers his uncle a very patriotic, honest man. He stated that his uncle respected the office of the President and believes his uncle wished he could be President but knew he did not have the proper background. He advised that he believes his uncle’s actions were motivated by emotional factors.

Mrs. J. MOSSELL, Records Librarian, Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, Illinois, advised as follows:

FANNIE RUBENSTEIN was first admitted to the Michael Reese Out-Patient Clinic, on September 25, 1933. Her date of birth was indicated as March, 1878, and her residence was shown as 739 Kosmier Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Her treatment was not indicated. There was no record of FANNIE RUBENSTEIN in the Psychiatric Division of Michael Reese Hospital.

It is the procedure at Michael Reese Hospital to destroy records for out-patients if the patient is not treated within the last five-year period.

It was indicated that FANNIE RUBENSTEIN was admitted as an in-patient at Michael Reese Hospital on April 4, 1944, with arterio-sclerotic heart disease, followed by complications of terminal bronchial pneumonia. She died at Michael Reese Hospital at 7:20 PM, on April 11, 1944.

Microfilm copy of her death certificate indicated she was a white female, born on an unspecified day of March, 1878, at Lomzer, Poland. Her maiden name was FANNIE RUTKOWSKY. Her residence was shown as 3650 Lexington, Chicago; also, she had been the wife of JOSEPH RUBENSTEIN. Her attending physician was shown as Dr. J. MEYER.

FANNIE RUBENSTEIN was previously admitted to Michael Reese Hospital on July 15, 1943, for treatment of arterio-sclerotic heart disease. She had been discharged from the hospital on October 24, 1943.

It was indicated her physician had difficulty in obtaining her medical history from her. This history showed that she had suffered from a thyroid condition and had a thyroidectomy performed thirteen years previously. Her medical history indicated that she had told of no record of diabetes or nervous or mental conditions.

It was also reflected that FANNIE RUBENSTEIN was the mother of JACK RUBY, who was then serving in the United States Army. Mrs. MOSSELL also advised she believed that FANNIE RUBENSTEIN's attending physician, indicated as J. MEYER, was Doctor JOSEPH C. MEYER, 55 East Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois. (Doctor MEYER advises he was not the physician).

BENNIE BARRISH, 597 Fourth Avenue, stated that he resided at 1643 Lawndale, Chicago, Illinois, during his youth. BARRISH stated that he was acquainted with JACK RUBENSTEIN as "SPARKY" and as a young man who lived in the vicinity of his address. He stated that both he and RUBENSTEIN "hung out" in a pool hall on Lawndale but were never close associates. He stated he recalled knowing and seeing RUBENSTEIN during the period of 1927, 1928 and 1929. BARRISH stated he did not attend school with RUBENSTEIN.

BARRISH stated that he left Chicago, Illinois, in 1930, and came to San Francisco, California, on a fighting tour and stayed here. BARRISH stated in 1933 or 1934 RUBENSTEIN came to San Francisco with his sister, EVA GRANT, and her son. He stated that as he recalled, EVA had just obtained a divorce. He stated he believed EVA's son's name was ROW or RONNIE.

BARRISH stated that JACK and EVA resided at 335 Jones Street, and that he resided with them for approximately two weeks when they first arrived. BARRISH stated he moved when EVA started talking about their getting married and also due to the fact that she continually talked. BARRISH stated he recalls that EVA and JACK also resided at an unrecalled address on Turk Street. He stated this was in the same area as the Jones Street address.

BARRISH stated that as he recalls, he knows RUBENSTEIN resided in San Francisco for at least two years. BARRISH stated that in all probability, RUBENSTEIN lived in San Francisco until approximately 1938, the year he, BARRISH, got married. He stated he vaguely recalls seeing RUBENSTEIN in San Francisco up until his marriage in 1938, but cannot be positive.

BARRISH stated that RUBENSTEIN was employed selling subscriptions for "The San Francisco Examiner", "The San Francisco Chronicle" and "The Bulletin" newspapers during the time he resided in San Francisco. BARRISH stated he did not recall RUBENSTEIN having any other employment.

BARRISH stated he had no knowledge of the amount of money RUBENSTEIN made, as each salesman was paid only a commission.

BARRISH stated he sometimes made as much as $100.00 to $150.00 per week. He stated that each salesman would various sale pitches, including giving away cups and saucers and a 50 cent rebate to the subscribers. He continued that they also would sell the same subscriber a different paper the proceeding month as the salesman themselves would switch from one newspaper to another and that during this time, they worked for all three San Francisco newspapers. He advised that RUBENSTEIN was on his crew part of this time and that he, BARRISH, was crew chief.

BARRISH stated that he knew of no close associates of RUBENSTEIN, that he remembers RUBENSTEIN as a "loner". BARRISH stated RUBENSTEIN hung around boxers and gyms.

BARRISH stated he did not know RUBENSTEIN's parents, nor did he know where they were born. He stated he believes RUBENSTEIN had a younger brother but does not know his name or present whereabouts.

BARRISH stated he heard from an unrecalled source that when RUBENSTEIN left San Francisco, he had gone to Texas to help his sister run a club that was going broke.

BARRISH stated the last time he saw or talked with RUBENSTEIN was more than 25 years ago. BARRISH also stated that he had not heard from any source that RUBENSTEIN has recently been in San Francisco.
JIM CAIRNS, 5719 North Eighth Place, Phoenix, Arizona, no telephone, an employee of the Medical and Dental Finance Bureau, First Street and Willoita, Phoenix, furnished the following information:

CAIRNS advised that between 1942 and 1947 he was the operator of a juke box route in Chicago, Illinois for the Universal Automatic Music Company. He stated the latter concern was owned by a JOSEPH PESKIN. He stated this route extended from north of the Chicago River which would be approximately Grand Avenue to North Avenue and west between Michigan and Franklin Avenues. In this area there were many second-rate bars, strip-team clubs and bookie joints. He stated among the establishments serviced by him on this route was the place known as McGovern's which it was his recollection was operated by a brother of the former prize fighter, TERRY McGovern. He stated McGovern's was a bar and bookmaking establishment that was frequented by gamblers and hoodlums.

He stated he generally arrived at this stop on his route between 2:00 and 3:00 PM; at which time, it was crowded with horseplayers who were either waiting the results of races run or placing bets on races to be run. He advised that among these horseplayers was an individual who he knew as JACK RUBENSTEIN. He stated his acquaintance with RUBENSTEIN was very casual, but he learned from either RUBENSTEIN or other patrons of McGovern's that RUBENSTEIN either had an interest in or was employed in some managerial capacity at a strip joint known as the French Casino located between Sixth and Seventh Streets on North Clark Street. He advised RUBENSTEIN was well known to others frequenting McGovern's and it was rumored that he was also a connection for narcotics traffic in the area.

He advised it was his recollection that he last saw RUBENSTEIN in about 1946 or 1947. He stated he cannot recall whether RUBENSTEIN disappeared while he was still operating his route or whether the termination of his employment with Universal Automatic Music Company did away with the necessity for him to visit McGovern's and thus did not see RUBENSTEIN. He stated he left Chicago in 1948 and he has neither heard nor seen RUBENSTEIN since that time. He stated he had no knowledge of RUBENSTEIN leaving Chicago for Texas nor did he know of any connections that RUBENSTEIN might have in the latter state.

He stated he had thought nothing more of this individual in fact until viewing the November 25, 1963 issues of Phoenix newspapers which carried photographs of JACK RUBY as the killer of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, murderer of President JOHN F. KENNEDY. He stated that upon viewing these photographs, he felt in his own mind that RUBY was identical with the individual he knew in Chicago as JACK RUBENSTEIN. Additional newspaper photographs of RUBY were exhibited to CAIRNS and he advised he still was of the opinion that RUBY is identical with JACK RUBENSTEIN.

He stated he knew nothing of RUBENSTEIN's background other than the fact he frequented McGovern's. He stated he did not know where he lived, whether he was married or whether he had ever been arrested.

He stated that to the best of his recollection, RUBENSTEIN would be described as follows:

- Race: White
- Sex: Male
- Age: 30 to 35 years (1946-47)
- Height: 5' 6.75"
- Weight: 180 lbs
- Build: Chunky
- Hair: Black (not receding)
- Dress: Flashy

He stated photographs of RUBY contained in Phoenix newspapers revealed his hair to be receding to a much greater extent than it was his recollection of RUBENSTEIN.

CAIRNS stated he knew nothing of RUBENSTEIN's political philosophies, nor did he know him to be emotionally unstable. He stated his contacts with RUBENSTEIN were limited strictly to his appearances at McGovern's and the sole interest of all patrons on those occasions were the results of horse races being run on that particular day rather than any political discussions.
THA COLITZ, 1000 North Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, Illinois, Owen, folding chair concern, Green Bay Wisconsin, with offices in Furniture Mart Building, Chicago, furnished the following information:

JACK RUBY grew up in Halsted Street, Roosevelt Avenue area of Chicago and in 1930's moved to the Roosevelt, Kedzie, Independence Avenues section of Chicago along with other Jewish people from the former area. BARNEY ROSS was a prominent boxing figure in the area and COLITZ met RUBY there due to mutual friendship with ROSS. Due to ROSS' notoriety, he attracted a group of people with like interests in that these individuals gained a livelihood from various endeavors involving sales and promotion of a legitimate but somewhere "shady" nature. RUBY was no exception and was a promoter of various sales products. He could have been described as a "hustler" and interested in anything to make a "buck." He was also a "ticket scalper" and if he ever arrested it was probably in connection with ticket scalping.

COLITZ knew RUBY from the early 1930's until 1946 when he last saw him. At that time, RUBY was in business with his brother, EARL, and was selling salt and pepper shakers. During the latter 1930's, this same crowd, who were all of the Jewish faith, but not necessarily staunchly adherents to same, congregated in the vicinity of the Sherman Hotel, Chicago.

RUBY never exhibited an interest in political matters; however, he was somewhat overbearing regarding the rights and feelings of others. He was greatly upset at slanders, phrases made about people's origins and was ready to fight or protect in some way the recipients of same. RUBY had a strong feeling regarding civil rights and was extremely proud of his country. Following his discharge from military service, he carried a chip on his shoulder, so to speak, in that if anyone spoke in a derogatory manner to the military service of the United States he immediately was ready to fight or receive apologies. He was not so strong, however, regarding his religious convictions.

RUBY could not agree with his brother in the operation of their business and this prompted him to leave Chicago in 1946 or shortly thereafter. He supposedly took over his sister's bar business in Texas. His sister whom he, COLITZ, had met, was strictly a businesswoman and unlike her brothers. COLITZ also knew RUBY's other brother, HY, who was employed by the city or state in an unknown capacity. He did not know RUBY's parents.

COLITZ is certain RUBY was never connected with the racketeers or with hoodlum matters in Chicago. Due to various promotions in which RUBY was involved, it is possible that they could have been assumed as being somewhat shady but he, COLITZ, was involved in some capacity and only a living was obtained, which is unlike the financial success usually attributed to the racketeers. He never knew RUBY to make other than a normal type living. Several years ago he heard that RUBY was still in the bar business in Dallas, Texas, and had not heard of him until the most recent publicity given him. Their only mutual friend is (PHU) PEINOLD, who operates a novelty shop on the northeast corner of State and Randolph Streets, Chicago. COLITZ has lost all contact with other common associates.

According to COLITZ, RUBY's killing of LEE OSWALD was unbelievable from his past knowledge of him. He could easily understand, however, the possible motives felt by RUBY toward OSWALD and his desire to inflict pain on him but would never have believed he would resort to such drastic action.
MARCUS KAHN, also known as Marty Kahn, 20 East Delaware, was interviewed, at which time KAHN advised he first met JACK RUBY, when he knew a SPANKY HUGHSFELT in about 1939. At that time, RUBY was employed as a clerk at a clothing or shoe store on West Roosevelt Road near Halsted Street in Chicago. He believed this store was operated by a LOUIE SCHNETZ.

In about 1939, RUBY’s family moved to the vicinity of Independence Boulevard and Roosevelt Road in Chicago, which was in KAHN’s neighborhood. He and a group of young men, all of high school age, frequented the Jovinisto Restaurant located in the Jovindo building on West Roosevelt Road. Included in this group were RUBY, BOSS, famous prize fighter, who now resides somewhere in New York City; INA COLITO, now a furniture manufacturer with offices in the City; RUBY Furniture Mart and Vice President of the Lake Shore Synagogue, Chicago; JOE and MARGIE KELMAN, who now operate the Globe Glass Company in Chicago; JUDY MC DONALD, who later became a bookmaker and is now deceased; COLLETT HINTY, a prize fighter who is now deceased, and FRUCHY and DON MELL甑IEN. FRUCHY MELL甑IEN was operating a saloon in Los Angeles, California, since moving there some years ago and RUBY MELL甑IEN is now operating the new Chez Paris Night Club in Chicago.

Between the years 1931 and 1939, various members of this group went to the prize fights almost every Monday night at the Marigold Gardens, Grace and Broadway Streets, in Chicago. The prize fights have not been held there for some years. A HAROLD RYAN was the Chief Inspector for the Illinois Boxing Commission at that time and became well acquainted with the group.

He believed that RUBY attended Marshall High School in Chicago; however, he did not recall seeing him there during the time he was in attendance. During the time he was well acquainted with RUBY, which was up until 1939, RUBY was employed by the clothing store previously described for a short period of time, and like the rest of the group, later “hustled” to make a living. This included such activities as scalping football tickets in South Bend, Indiana, and Chicago, selling carnations and other flowers at night clubs and on the streets of Chicago’s Loop, selling song sheets for $1 a piece at factories and in The Loop, and any other type of job that was available. He never knew of any other employment RUBY might have had.

He never knew of RUBY being arrested and if he had been it would probably be for scalping tickets or peddling without a license. He doubted records would be kept of these arrests, as when such arrests were made, the men would usually be brought to the police station and released shortly thereafter.

RUBY never gambled to his knowledge, drank very little, did not smoke, and if he had any vices it was women. At that time he knew RUBY was anti-communist and he believed he may have been one of the members of his group who broke up what was thought to be a communist meeting in his neighborhood during the late 1930's.

He could recall nothing further at this time concerning RUBY, his associates, or activities.

KAHN advised he is the editor of a weekly news publication containing information relative to events of the week for the convenience of Chicagoans and visitors, called "Right Life in Chicago."

From a review of this publication, it appears that ads are solicited and published from various night clubs, restaurants and "strip tease clubs" in the Chicago area. KAHN stated he has numerous friends and contacts among Chicago saloon keepers, liquor store owners and night club owners, and public officials.

MICHAEL LEVIN, Attorney, 30 North LaSalle, Suite 614, advised that he has known the RUBENSTEIN family, also known as RUBY, since 1919. Due to the age factor, he was closer to EARL RUBY, SAM RUBY and HYMAN RUBY than he was to JACK or the sister, however, feels that he knows JACK RUBY well.

LEVIN and RUBENSTEIN family grew up on "East side of Chicago," which he said was generally the Roosevelt and Maxwell Street and Halsted areas. As youngsters, the boys, including JACK RUBY, engaged in street brawls and were members of gangs, however, JACK RUBY was not prone to pick fights or go out of his way to find trouble. Conversely as a youngster and even more so as he matured, JACK RUBY was more inclined to make friends.

During the years RUBY was in Chicago, he was employed by his brother, EARL RUBY, as a salesman for a while and was characterized as a "promoter" pushing whatever he could find to make money with. LEVIN characterized RUBY's personality as friendly, volatile, and industrious.

EARL RUBY was characterized as the most intelligent member of the family and LEVIN indicated that the other members of the family including JACK RUBY, appeared to be mentally slow, but not retarded or necessarily deficient.

Concerning the political feelings of JACK RUBY, LEVIN stated that he was not strongly inclined toward either Democrat or Republicans, Socialists or Communists, but due to the circumstances and environment of the 24th ward wherein he was raised, JACK RUBY was probably a Democrat.

LEVIN stated that neither JACK RUBY nor any member of his family have, to his knowledge, been affiliated with any party or organization which would be deemed subversive. It was his opinion that the family was not of sufficient intelligence or interest to be politically involved.

LEVIN said JACK RUBY was not connected with any "hoodlum" element nor did he owe allegiance or ties to any known "hoodlums". He finally stated that RUBY was not "run out of town", but left some fifteen years ago of his own accord for Dallas, Texas. He could not explain why he selected Dallas, but stated that after JACK RUBY went to Dallas other members specifically EVA and SAM RUBENSTEIN, followed JACK RUBY into the Dallas, Texas area.

LEVYN stated that the family life afforded the RUBENSTEIN children obviously left much to be desired, indicating that the mother was not particularly bright and the father drank heavily. He stated that prior to the mother’s death, she became senile.

LEVYN stated that he is completely unaware of any evidence of insanity or mental illness in connection with any member of this family and has no knowledge of anyone being treated by or admitted to a hospital by a psychiatrist. He has no knowledge or information other than newspaper accounts concerning an injury to JACK RUBY’s head.

LEVYN said that his opinion of JACK RUBY would be to sum his personality up into a statement of “desire for recognition” elaborating further that RUBY had always attempted to seek recognition, but until such time as he became affiliated with the entertainment field, he has never achieved the recognition he wanted. Apparently after his moving to Dallas, he found the recognition so vital to his personality and that this could have been a motivating factor for the action which RUBY took toward Oswald. In his opinion, RUBY acted on impulse and without meditation or malice aforethought. LEVIN stated that he feels RUBY would pursue the line of defense claiming temporary insanity and that in LEVIN’s honest opinion, he feels this may well have been the case.

BARNEY ROSS, former prize fighter, New York City, on November 25, 1963, advised as follows:

He has known RUBY as “SPARKY” RUBENSTEIN since about 1927, as ROSS and RUBY grew up in the same area of the 24th Ward, Chicago, Illinois. RUBY used to hang around Lawndale Restaurant in Chicago, which ROSS frequented. RUBY also was usually present when ROSS boxed as an amateur and later as a professional fighter. RUBY was never on ROSS’ payroll and never borrowed money from ROSS. ROSS did not have any employment, but acted as a free-lance salesman selling small items of jewelry. RUBY has telephonically contacted ROSS several times a year over the past ten or twelve years from Dallas, Texas. The purpose of these calls was attempts made by RUBY to secure talent for RUBY’s club in Dallas, as ROSS is associated with a talent agency in New York City. ROSS last heard from RUBY telephonically about three months ago. ROSS never did secure any talent for RUBY.

ROSS last met RUBY accidentally about two years ago in Chicago. ROSS described RUBY as well-behaved, quiet, an individual who was never a troublemaker, and who was never involved with any law enforcement agency, and never involved in any subversive activities.

Investigation by the New York Office reflects JACK RUBY, giving address 223 South Ewing, and Carousel Club, Dallas, Texas, checkered into the New York Hilton Hotel, 10:59 PM, August 4, 1963, and departed 4:00 AM, August 6, 1963. RUBY told registration clerk he was in New York City to look for “talent” for his club in Dallas. Interview of other hotel employees concerning the purpose of RUBY’s visit to New York City was negative.

While at the hotel, RUBY made the following long distance telephone calls.

Los Angeles, Area Code 213, 5230930, 8/4/63; 2 calls to Area Code 213, 2740031, 8/4/63 & 8/5/63;
Dallas, two calls to Area Code 214, 7527262, 8/4 & 8/5/63; Call, 8/5/63 to 5287775; 8/5/63, one call to Ft. William, Canada, Area Code 807, 2734091.
JACK KEISTER KELLEY, age 54, operator of the King Kurl Drive-In Restaurant, 2000 Court Street, advised that he was the individual who had been contacted by newspaper reporters yesterday, and had indicated that he had known JACK RUBY several years ago. He stated he knew RUBY primarily in Chicago. He stated that the information he furnished the newspaper reporter was substantially the truth as it appeared in the press.

It was noted that he had indicated to the press that he was a former entertainer and night club master of ceremonies and an ex-comic in Chicago, that he had known RUBY in 1944 and had scoffed at the ideas of a patriotic motive being involved by RUBY in the slaying of OSWALD. He reportedly stated that he "could not see RUBY as pushing a thing through like this out of patriotism. That he might do it for publicity or might do it for money."

JACK KEISTER KELLEY advised that he had been a club comic and entertainer and master of ceremonies in night clubs and taverns in Chicago for most of the years of the 1940's and that he has been employed in various night spots, actually throughout the Nation, for short engagements of a week or two, and that he has used the stage name of "M. T. HEAD,"

He related that he is actually only a casual acquaintance of RUBY, that RUBY first came to his attention in Chicago about 1943. He stated he first knew JACK RUBY as JACK RUDENSTEIN and that he believed that RUDENSTEIN had legally had his name changed to RUBY, and believed that one or two of his brothers and sisters had done likewise. He recalled that he first knew of RUBY, who was subsequently to be referred to as "SPARKY" RUBY when he was playing as an entertainer in the Famous Door, Broadway and Diversey Streets in Chicago. He stated that "SPARKY" RUBY was employed there as a bouncer. He stated the Chicago Famous Door was owned by PAT MC CLAREN. He stated he heard a year or two ago that Mr. MC CLAREN had suffered a heart attack and may now be deceased. He related that Mr. PAT MC CLAREN apparently owns several night spots and could not have them all actually in his own name, under various state or Federal laws, and that he recalled the Famous Door, at the time he was there, was managed by SAMMY HAAS, whom KELLEY now believes to be deceased. During the time he first knew of "SPARKY" RUBY at the Famous Door, KELLEY related that he noticed that at times, RUBY was seen by him to be wearing a hearing aid. At times, he was not wearing the hearing aid, but seemed to hear alright without it. KELLEY stated that at the time he did not know RUBY well, but inquired of persons who apparently had prior knowledge of RUBY, as to RUBY's wearing the hearing aid, and he received replies to the effect that RUBY's hearing was not impaired but that RUBY was evading service in World War II or the draft.

KELLEY related he next knew of RUBY at the Club Aloha, on West Madison in Chicago, beyond Western, in 1944 or 1945. This club was operated by JOHNNY MEROLA. KELLEY was not sure if RUBY was employed there or just hung out there.

KELLEY next recalls seeing RUBY about 1945 or 1946 in the Gaiety Club, on northwest side of Chicago near the elevated tracks, where RUBY was selling combination gambling tickets on a horse race, the race being referred to as the "Stars and Stripes Race" at a local Chicago track. KELLEY could not recall the name of the owner or the manager of the Gaiety Club at that time.

About 1946, KELLEY stated he next knew of RUBY in the Argyle Lounge. He stated that this was a Mr. EPTIN'S place, and was located under the elevated tracks in Chicago, where RUBY was either hanging out or was possibly employed as a bouncer. Mr. KELLEY related that EPTIN was shot in his place about four or five years ago and he believed that he was shot dead at the time or died as a result of the shooting.

KELLEY related that he next knew of "SPARKY" RUBY about 1948, when he (KELLEY) was engaged to act as master of ceremonies by a man from Hammond, Indiana, who had previously owned or did own at the time, the Zig-Zag Tavern in Calumet City, Illinois.

KELLEY stated this man, whose name he cannot now recall, bought a small night club in Calumet Heights, Illinois, and engaged KELLEY to act as master of ceremonies.  Mr. KELLEY recalled that this club was closed in ten weeks because it was losing money, but that during two weeks of this ten weeks, RUBY was employed there as the bouncer.

KELLEY related that he had not seen or heard of RUBY since 1948, until about 1958 or 1959.  KELLEY related that he was seeking employment and was looking up "show people" in Los Angeles, Las Vegas and other points, and happened to run into RUBY in Dallas, Texas.

KELLEY related that he was not only seeking employment by visiting various cities and stopping in at taverns and small night clubs having entertainers, but was also stopping by these places to merely say hello to the "show people" and hoping that he might run into someone he know.  He stated it was by this activity on his part that he accidentally entered the Carousel Club in Dallas, and happened to run into "SPARKY" RUBY again.  KELLEY related he did not know that RUBY was in Dallas, Texas, that he visited with him for a few minutes and drew the conclusion at the time that RUBY was either the owner or manager of this club.

KELLEY recalls that "SPARKY" RUBY was a rather quiet man, that he had no particular male associates or friends.  He stated, however, that he was always interested in girls and that he almost always had a girlfriend with him but had never went steady with any one girl.  He stated these girls were always of the caliber found in small night clubs, acting as entertainers or hostesses in these type places.  KELLEY stated that since he had heard of the assault on OSWALD, that this had been the first he had heard of RUBY since he had seen him in Dallas about 1958 or 1959.

KELLEY stated that he would actually know of no person in Chicago or elsewhere who would be considered to be a friend or associate of RUBY and that he certainly has no information regarding the recent activities or associations of RUBY.

KELLEY related that he certainly could never consider RUBY as being a person overly patriotic and that he would base this opinion on what he had learned about RUBY back in 1943 and 1944 when he drew the conclusion that apparently RUBY was a draft dodger.  KELLEY stated that neither could he consider RUBY to possess any un-American sympathies.  He stated he did not believe that RUBY was at all interested in politics of any kind and certainly that he had not displayed any un-American sympathies in any way at the times he had known him.

KELLEY related that he does not believe that RUBY would therefore kill OSWALD out of sheer patriotism, but stated that he might do it for publicity or that he might do it for money or might do this due to his temper when overly excited.

KELLEY stated that RUBY was usually a quiet man, that in acting as a floor-walker or bouncer in the night clubs, he was usually quiet and easy to get along with, but that when RUBY lost his temper, he would do things that he might not ordinarily do if he could control his temper.  KELLEY related that apparently it is due to his hot temper that he gained the nickname of "SPARKY" RUBY.

Mr. KELLEY stated that he has, himself, spent considerable time in small Chicago night spots, and has been in Peoria, Illinois, on several occasions, working as an entertainer.  He stated he had ever heard of RUBY in Peoria; however, he recalled on one occasion, and he was not able to recall the exact night club, that while he was entertaining, he believed that he had noted this man, RUBY, to appear in the audience with what appeared to be a show girl, that he noted the man momentarily and thought it was RUBY, and after he had finished his performance, he was seeking out RUBY in the audience but did not locate him.  Mr. KELLEY related that apparently, RUBY was merely passing through Peoria, and insofar as he can ascertain, RUBY would not be known to anyone that he could think of in Peoria, as he had never known RUBY to be in Peoria, other than possibly just passing through.
Mr. KELLEY related that these particular clubs in the Chicago, Illinois, area where he had known of RUBY to either hang out or to be employed occasionally as a bouncer, were, to the best of his knowledge, clubs that were independently owned and were not in any way that he knew of, connected with any of the alleged organized crime outfits or syndicates in Chicago. KELLEY related, therefore, that he would consider that RUBY had no connection with any organized crime in the Chicago area. He stated, of course, he would be unable to relate what his associations have actually been over the years, as he did not know him well, other than as a casual acquaintance and certainly would not know of his associations in Dallas, Texas.

On November 26, 1963, PHIL UDELL, also known as "FIEFEL", owner of Lakewood Iron and Metal Company, 1305 West Belmont, advised he had known "SPARKY" RUBENSTEIN for approximately thirty-years. UDELL described RUBY as a clean-cut individual who did possess a hot temper and was good with his fists but who was, however, 100 per cent patriotic. UDELL stated RUBY was a ticket scalper and all around "hustler" who was not, however, connected with organized crime or the "syndicate" in Chicago. UDELL recalled RUBY was partner of HARRY EPSTEIN in a punch board business.

UDELL admits knowing Lennie PATRICK, West Side hoodlum and stated RUBENSTEIN also knew PATRICK, claimed, however, neither worked for PATRICK. He recalled RUBY obtained a job with Scrap Metal Union from a man who was later killed and replaced by PAUL DORFMAN. UDELL recalled during approximately 1946, he and RUBY and others were en route to a boxing match at White City, Illinois, when they approached a small Nazi bund rally consisting of uniformed bund members. UDELL recalled this irritated the group and they broke up the meeting.

UDELL concluded by describing RUBY as a sports fan, a lady's man, who enjoyed dancing and a clean living individual who neither drank nor smoked. He stated he was shocked over the murder of OSWALD by RUBY and stated it was his opinion that RUBY was simply overwhelmed with sorrow at the President's death and inasmuch as he had easy access to the Dallas Police Department, he committed an act which "a lot of us would have liked to have done".

GEORGE M. PERKINS and LENARD A. WOLF:

AT CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

On November 25, 1963, SPERIO PALADINO and ALEX MAKAROPLOUS, operators of Club Rouge, advised that it was

HARRY RUBENSTEIN who had formerly operated this club as well as the Brass Rail and Hollywood Clubs. They stated that HARRY RUBENSTEIN is not, as far as they have been able to determine, related to JACK RUBENSTEIN.

On November 28, 1963, AL MILSTEIN, operator of Stop-Light Lounge, 4750 West Roosevelt Road, Cicero, Illinois, advised that he had never met JACK RUBENSTEIN but that he had heard of him. He said that he believes RUBENSTEIN, around 1949 to 1950, had operated the Club Rouge, a strip-tease joint on Madison or Randolph, between Dearborn and Clark Streets. He said that this club is still in existence. He said that he believed RUBENSTEIN had also operated another tavern in Chicago at the same time.

MILSTEIN was asked if he knew if the RUBENSTEIN who operated the Club LaBouge was the same man who had been arrested for the shooting of LEE OSWALD. MILSTEIN said that the same was the same, and he assumed they were the same individuals.

The following investigation was conducted by SAs

JAMES A. ABRUTZ and CHARLES L. BROWN, Jr.:

MAISHI BARK, operator, H and H Restaurant, LeBalle Street (a known hangout for Chicago bookmakers, gamblers, "juice" men, and petty hoodlums), advised that he knew JACK RUBY about 17 years ago when they were " hustlers" in the Elkswell Street market area. He stated he has not seen RUBY since that time and refused to comment further, stating that he does not know anything and does not want to " get involved". RUBY tried to reach his attorney before talking with Agents, with negative results, and became incensed to think that the FBI would come to him concerning RUBY.

HERBERT BOEBOR, liquor store operator, 794 McAllister Street, San Francisco, California, residence, 560 Arlington, San Francisco, advised as follows:

BOEBOR said that he was acquainted with RUBY, whom he knew as "SPARKY," having met him sometime in the early 1930's in San Francisco. They were both from the same neighborhood in Chicago but were not acquaintances in that city. BOEBOR resided with RUBY and his sister, EVA GRANT, for about one year when they lived in an apartment located at 343 Jones Street, San Francisco. This residence occurred approximately 1938.

BOEBOR worked with RUBY as a newspaper subscription salesman for the San Francisco "News," a daily newspaper. RUBY may have been employed in a similar capacity by other San Francisco newspapers. They were part of a group of young men who came from Chicago to San Francisco at approximately the same time and did similar work in San Francisco. His immediate circle of friends numbered about fifteen.

At the time of his residence with RUBY at the aforementioned address, RUBY's sister, EVA, had a son named RONNIE, approximately five years of age, residing with them.

He said that RUBY was a well-mannered, likeable individual who was soft-spoken and meticulous in his appearance and appearance. He has never known RUBY to have engaged in any illegal activity, and RUBY never expressed an interest in any type of political activity, particularly anything of a "radical" nature.

BOEBOR identified RUBY with the Dallas killings as a result of reading news articles concerning these incidents. He said he probably never would have recognized RUBY's photograph in the newspaper, since he has not seen or heard from RUBY since approximately 1939. He advised he was aware that RUBY was in Dallas, having heard this from a son of his San Francisco acquaintances. He stated that RUBY was known only as JACK RUBENSTEIN when he was in San Francisco.

ROBERT LEE SHERMAN, 339 Magnolia Avenue, Long Beach, California, advised he knew JACK RUBY at the Carousel Club in Dallas, Texas, prior to about May, 1932. Prior to this date SHERMAN was a band leader who worked at the Carousel Club. At about the time the relationship between SHERMAN and RUBY terminated, RUBY attempted to have SHERMAN invest about $4,000 in RUBY's business. SHERMAN said he wanted no part of this deal as he had heard RUBY had had many partners in the past, but that these individuals had realized no return on their investment. Because of this and because of RUBY's general bad temper, these individuals had gradually broken with RUBY. SHERMAN did not know the names of any of these former partners of RUBY.

SHERMAN advised that on one occasion, date not remembered, he observed RUBY and another individual, not known to SHERMAN, who came from Chicago and beat a patron at the Carousel Club with their fists and throw him down the stairs at the Carousel Club. SHERMAN did not observe the patron after his eviction, did not know the extent of the injuries inflicted, if any, or the outcome of this matter.

SHERMAN advised that the patron, who was evicted from the Carousel Club, was a well dressed middle-aged man, possibly a businessman, who had gotten into an argument at the bar in the Carousel. SHERMAN did not know the cause of the argument, but thought it might have concerned an overcharge.

SHERMAN did not know who helped RUBY but assumed him to be an off-duty police officer as he did not know him to be an employee of the Carousel. This individual was in civilian clothes and SHERMAN said he could not imagine another patron coming to RUBY's assistance. SHERMAN stated he also observed that police officers on duty or off duty did not pay for their drinks. He felt that because of this a police officer would feel obligated to assist RUBY.
Mr. STEVE GUTHRIE worked for 820 Big Town, Mesquite, Texas, advised that his name was formerly S. GUTHRIE but he had legally changed his name some years ago to STEVE GUTHRIE. Mr. GUTHRIE furnished the following information:

He was elected sheriff of Dallas County in July, 1946, and was to go into office in January, 1947. He was an ex-policeman and had returned from the service a short time previous to his election. He served as sheriff of Dallas County in 1947 through 1948.

Shortly after his election in July, 1946, a man identified as PAUL ROLAND JONES, contacted him on a Dallas golf course and asked him how he would like to make some big money. He stated he could supply 2 or 3 murders a month which looked like murders by gang. JONES told GUTHRIE that between them they could make approximately $40,000 per month.

This contact by JONES was made since he was the spokesmen for the "syndicate" of Chicago and the "syndicate" was planning to move into Dallas and take over the vices. There were approximately 25 "thugs" hoodlums from Chicago in Dallas from time to time.

GUTHRIE got in touch with Dallas Chief of Police BANNON, GEORGE BUTLER, a detective of the Dallas Police Department and the Texas Department of Public Safety to see if they could make bribery cases on the "thugs" who had planned to take over the vices in Dallas. With the assistance of these officers, they wired GUTHRIE's house for sound and made numerous recordings of conversations had in GUTHRIE's house with a number of hoodlums from Chicago. Included in the names was SONNY LAFRIZOLI and a LIPSTE. As a result of this investigation, a great number of records were made.

GUTHRIE advised he has never heard a good thing about JACK RUBY to the best of his knowledge. He believes RUBY has operated some prostitution activities and other vices in his club since RUBY has been in Dallas.

GUTHRIE further informed he has heard and believes it is fairly well known around Dallas that either Mayor CAPPELL or City Manager CRULL ordered Chief of Police CURRY to "put on the show for TV" of transporting OSMOND from the City Jail to the County Jail. He said as a result of this, CAPPELL will not discharge CURRY since CURRY was acting under orders.
The following investigation was conducted by IC

The following investigation was conducted by SA
REID M. LEISHMAN at Chicago, Illinois:

Poland as a nation did not exist and Warsaw at that time was under Russian control.

Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) investigator RICHARD PLEAZ, Chicago, Illinois, advised on December 2, 1963, that 1940 alien registration cards in their office reflect that JOSEPH RUBENSTEIN was born in Poland in 1871, exact date not listed. JOSEPH RUBENSTEIN had INS File Number A-558-201. Alien registration card for FANNY RUBENSTEIN reflected she was born in Poland in 1873, exact date not listed. She had INS File Number A-558-201. PLEAZ advised those files were located at Central Office, INS, Washington, D. C. and that he had requested them by telecopy on November 26, 1963, that they be sent to INS, Chicago. They have not as yet arrived.

PLEAZ further advised that JOSEPH RUBENSTEIN, according to a Chicago newspaper death notice, died on December 24, 1958, at 1044 Loyola, Chicago. This notice listed him as the husband of the late FANNY RUBENSTEIN and listed the following children:

HYMAN RUBENSTEIN, 1129 Sacramento, Chicago
ANNA VOLKERT, 1041 Loyola, Chicago
MARIAN CARROLL (Mrs. NORMAN CARROLL), 1044 Loyola, Chicago
FRAN RUBENSTEIN, 1162 Rachel, Dallas, Texas
EARL RUBENSTEIN, Detroit, Michigan
EVA GRANT, Dallas, Texas
JACK RUBENSTEIN, Dallas, Texas
EILEEN KAMINSKI (Mrs. HAROLD KAMINSKI), no address given.

PLEAZ further advised that a check of naturalization records, United States District Court, Chicago, failed to reflect that JOSEPH or FANNY RUBENSTEIN were ever naturalized in that court. Naturalization records did reflect that HYMAN RUBENSTEIN, 1129 South Sacramento, Chicago, born December 28, 1901, in Poland, was naturalized in United States District Court, Chicago, on July 9, 1926, and received Certificate of Naturalization Number 2531714. He entered the United States at New York in 1904. PLEAZ stated he has also requested HYMAN RUBENSTEIN's file from the Central Office, INS, Washington, D. C.

EDWARD J. NERAD, Chief Administrative Officer, Family Court of Cook County (CCC), 225 West Roosevelt Road, Chicago, advised that the files of his office would contain certain limited information regarding an individual he believed identical with subject RUBENSTEIN but that before he could release the information, he felt that he must first obtain permission from FCCC presiding Judge ALFRED J. CILELLA. NERAD then stated that almost simultaneously with DAVID P. BRICK 1's initial contact with his office, he had learned that the "Chicago Sun Times" newspaper had apparently received information similar to that obtained by this Bureau concerning RUBENSTEIN's connection with the FCCC. NERAD declined to identify the reporter or the employee of the office of the Clerk of the Cook County Circuit Court at the FCCC who was involved but stated as follows:

A clerical employee of the Clerk of the Cook County Circuit Court at the FCCC had reviewed the Master File Card in NERAD's office yesterday on the individual NERAD believes identical with subject RUBENSTEIN, and had made the information available to a reporter of the Sun Times. NERAD stated that this little specific information would be obtained from the card but that it would indicate the Circuit Court Docket Case Number, the child's name, date of birth, the names of his parents, and nature of the proceedings and possibly the dispositions involved. NERAD stated that the detailed background information developed by probation officers on his staff concerning children's appearances before the FCCC would be contained in the "Social Files" which are destroyed periodically and which in RUBENSTEIN's case would have been destroyed years ago.

NERAD stated that the official "legal" records of the proceedings of the FCCC are maintained by the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Cook County and that legal records concerning RUBENSTEIN and any member of his family would have been reduced to microfilm which are located at the Cook County Court House, Chicago, Illinois.

After having received permission from Judge CILELLA to make available any information concerning RUBENSTEIN and his family NERAD furnished for review four FCOC Master File Cards to SA BRICK. The cards bear the following FCOC Docket Case Numbers respectively:

90342 (last two digits illegible and uncertain)

NERAD stated that Case Number 90342 related to the individual he believes identical with the subject RUBY.

FCOC Master File Card Case Number 90342 reflected that JACOB RUBENSTEIN, date of birth April 21, 1911, first appeared before FCOC predecessor, the Juvenile Court, on July 10, 1923, on dependency hearing. His father was indicated as JOSEPH, residing at 1250 South Morgan, his mother as PANNY, residing at 3647 Roosevelt Road, both Chicago. At the time of the first appearance, the child's father was ordered to pay support and the boy was committed to the Jewish Home Finding Society.

On November 28, 1924, the above order was vacated and the petition dismissed. The proceeding was continued on four successive dates: December 8, 1924; December 15, 1924; January 13, 1925; and January 27, 1925.

On April 8, 1925, the proceeding was continued "generally" (NERAD advised that this meant the case was pending inactive but that it could be reactivated at a future date if the court so desired). The only other notations on the card were "see EVA" and the number 83383 and the surname of the probable case officer HUNEMENTHAL. NERAD advised that HUNEMENTHAL is unknown to his office.

FCOC Master File Card Case Number 90340 was for SAM RUBENSTEIN, date of birth December 28, 1912. This card bore identical notations in every respect to that for JACOB RUBENSTEIN, case number 90342.

Master File Card Case Number 60011 was for HYMAN RUBENSTEIN, date of birth December 28, 1912. This card bore the notation also "see EVA, number 83383." There were only two juvenile court appearances indicated on this card. The first was for May 1, 1913, in which

MICHAEL P. HENDRICK, Chief Probation Officer, Family Court of Cook County, (CCOC), stated that according to instructions received by him from EDWARD J. HERNDEN, Chief Administrative Officer, CCOC, he was making available the following information obtained from the legal files of the Cook County Circuit Court Clerk's Office, which relates to subject M.R. and his brothers and sisters:

CHICAGO stated that JACOB HENDRICK's legal record, Case Docket Number 90012, reflects that he was incarcerated in Juvenile Court, Chicago, on a dependency hearing, July 10, 1925, and that this was the first time his name appeared in court records. The petition which had been filed was to the effect that HENDRICK, age 12, had had proper parental care. At the time he was in the custody of his mother, MARGARET HENDRICK, 467 Roosevelt Road. He was residing at 1520 South Morgan. Judge H. BEUGELFELD finding a finding of dependency and appointed the Jewish Boys' Aid Society (JABS) guardian with the right to place. The child's father was ordered to pay the Clerk of the Court $10 per week to be drawn by the JABS. On November 21, 1925, Judge W. M. CLARK (a county worker) ordered that the case be reopened. A re-hearing before Judge WILLIS F. ARNOLD was held November 24, 1925. At the time the second dependency petition was filed naming JACOB HENDRICK and his brothers and sisters. Judge ARNOLD vacated all previous orders and set them aside. He continued the hearing on the new petition to December 8, 1925. The hearing on the second petition continued on the following dates: December 13, 1925, January 13 and 27, 1926, and April 7, 1926. On April 8, 1926, the hearing was continued "generally" advised that continuing the hearing generally meant that for all intents and purposes the case had been closed. He further stated that the effect of the motion on November 20, 1924, would have been to return the child to his parents.

There was no additional information in the legal files concerning JACOB HENDRICK, CHICAGO stated.

With regard to ITCHAM HENDRICK, the legal file, docket number 90011, who was age 14, on December 23, 1925, HERNDEN stated that on May 1, 1916, a delinquency petition was filed in Juvenile Court to the effect that the boy was incorrigible. His parents were indicated as JES and FLORENCE HENDRICK, 1332 South Morgan, Chicago. The finding on the hearing was "delinquency" and ITCHAM HENDRICK was ordered placed on probation to live at the home of his mother who was in court that day. On February 14, 1918, Probation Officer LURA J. ROBIN recommended that the child be released from parole to live at the Deborah Boys Club, 2030 South Park Avenue. On February 20, 1918, Judge FOREMAN signed a formal discharge for ITCHAM HENDRICK.

With regard to the legal records concerning JACOB HENDRICK, the brother of JES and FLORENCE HENDRICK, Case Docket Number 90012, and ERA HENDRICK, Case Docket Number 90013, HERNDEN advised that their files were identical in every respect but their names with that for JACOB HENDRICK.

With regard to ERA HENDRICK, Case Docket Number 90013, HERNDEN stated that the file appeared in Juvenile Court on September 23, 1921, on a dependency hearing. She was indicated as 16 years of age at the time and her father, JES, resided at 1620 South Dearborn, and her mother, FLORENCE, resided at 1220 South Dearborn. The hearing was continued to October 6, 1921, at which time LURA J. ROBIN was appointed EVA's guardian with the right to place her. Her father was ordered to pay the Clerk of the Circuit Court $10 per week to be drawn by LURA J. ROBIN.

On March 22, 1926, a recommendation was made in Juvenile Court that the guardianship be removed and that EVA HENDRICK was to be allowed to reside with Mrs. B. BUCKELEN, 1339 South Lawrence.

On April 21, 1926, Judge ARNOLD signed the release.

LARRY LAWRENCE, Executive Director, Jewish Children's Bureau, 110 North Franklin, advised that the file concerning MADDISON's contacts with JACOB HUBENSTEIN, born April 25, 1911, and his family had been destroyed because of age. She stated, however, that the "master file cards" had not been destroyed and that they indicated that JACOB HUBENSTEIN as well as his siblings, ISIDOR, IDA and SAMUEL had been wards of the Jewish Boys Finding Society, the predecessor organization of the Jewish Children's Bureau, for a short time in 1922-23. She stated that her master file cards contain little information relative to the HUBENSTEIN other than that apparently there had been a considerable amount of parental discord in the family inasmuch as the master file card bears several notations to the effect that between 1916 and 1921, the subject's father, Joseph, had appeared in court on disorderly conduct, and Schiffer and battery charges were of which appeared to have been filed by JACOB HUBENSTEIN. Mrs. LAWRENCE stated that her records are so sketchy that she could make no definite statement as to dates and course for JACOB HUBENSTEIN's appearance in court. Mrs. LAWRENCE stated the only additional specific item appearing in her records was a notation that JACOB HUBENSTEIN had visited the Institute for Child Research on July 6, 1922, under their Case Number 677. She stated that the organization was a state agency dealing with children's mental problems. She stated she did not know what significance this notation had but was mentioning it for what it was worth.
ISRAEL HORWITZ, who admitted using the stage name of JACK HOWARD, was contacted at Jack Howard’s Music City, 1106 West Lawrence Avenue. HORWITZ stated that he has known JACK RUBENSTEIN for about 30 years but has never known him as JACK RUBY. He stated that RUBENSTEIN was never considered to be a fighter or a “strong armed guy.” He advised that to the contrary RUBENSTEIN would always back down when offered a challenge.

HORWITZ stated that he never knew RUBENSTEIN to work as a bookmaker as such, even though he knew him to hang around the lobby of the Sherman Hotel and the Gym Club and accept or make bets amongst the group of individuals who used to frequent both locations. HORWITZ explained that both he and RUBENSTEIN were raised on the West Side of Chicago and both frequented the Sherman Hotel and the Gym Club, as did the majority of individuals of the same age group from the West Side of Chicago. HORWITZ stated that the Gym Club was formerly located behind a cigar store on North La Salle Street and for the most part the group that used to frequent the Gym Club currently hangs around the H & N Restaurant located on North La Salle Street, Chicago.

HORWITZ stated that he never knew RUBENSTEIN to be employed at 54 West Randolph Street, Chicago, nor has he ever known him to be connected with the entertainment business in any capacity in Chicago. He stated that he knew of no alleged hoodlum connections of RUBENSTEIN in Chicago or had never heard the rumor that RUBENSTEIN was “run out of Chicago.”

EDWARD KASTIL, 7728 North Keeler, Lincolnwood, Illinois, furrier in the Chicago area, advised that he has known JACK RUBENSTEIN as “SPARKY RUBEN” for approximately 18 years. He first met RUBENSTEIN when they both used to participate in physical exercises at the Skyline Athletic Club, 188 West Randolph, Chicago. He has not seen SPARKY for approximately three and one-half years having had dinner with him in Chicago at that time.

He recalls SPARKY as being a ‘class-type of individual, soft spoken and a person who did not have an argumentative or violent nature. It was a complete surprise to Mr. KASTIL when he heard that JACK RUBY was the man that killed OSMOND because, he reiterated that RUBY was not a violent type of individual. Mr. KASTIL reasons that RUBY possibly became overwrought at the death of President KENNEDY and felt that the best way he could do anything was to kill OSMOND.

Mr. KASTIL advised that HY ZIMMERMAN, owner of Zimmerman Liquors, West Randolph Street, Chicago, Illinois, should know RUBY.
BARNEY ROSS was interviewed at the New York Office on November 25, 1963. He resides at 301 East 86th Street, Apartment 10E. Home telephone Pl 2626. He is employed by the Milton Blackstone Advertising Agency, 221 West 57th Street, Manhattan, New York, telephone Cl 7-4915.

ROSS furnished the following information:

He is a former prize fighter. He has known JACK LEON RUBY for 35 years or since about 1927. RUBY was not a close neighbor of ROSS, but they both grew up in the same general area of the 26th Ward in Chicago, Illinois.

ROSS was an amateur boxer beginning 1926 for several years and then boxed professionally until 1938. While both an amateur and professional boxer, ROSS frequented the Lawndale Restaurant in Chicago, Illinois, and RUBY also used to hang around this restaurant.

RUBY was almost always present when ROSS fought both as an amateur and a professional. RUBY also traveled to any out of town fights in which ROSS was engaged, including championship fights in New York during the 1930s. ROSS never knew RUBY to have any gainful employment. He was never on RUBY's payroll and ROSS never gave him any money or loaned him any money. RUBY seemed to make a living as a free lance salesman in Chicago selling small jewelry items and other miscellaneous small articles.

ROSS pointed out that he knew RUBY as "Sparky" RUBENSTEIN although he had no knowledge of how RUBY happened to have this nickname.

ROSS left Chicago in 1942 and went to military service. He returned to Chicago for a few years at the end of 1944 when he was released from service.

ROSS believes that RUBY left Chicago 10 or 12 years ago, Went to Dallas, Texas, where RUBY operated a night club owned by a sister or some relative of RUBY's.

He further advised that he knows nothing concerning activities and/or associates of RUBY in the Chicago area.

ROSS has had very little association with RUBY over the past 10 or 12 years. He did see RUBY two years ago when they both met accidentally in the lobby of the Shamin Hotel in Chicago. They only had a brief visit at that time.

RUBY has telephonically contacted ROSS at New York from Dallas several times a year over the past 10 years. These calls concerned RUBY's attempts to secure talent for his club and the problems RUBY was having in securing talent for his club. ROSS pointed out that the advertising agency he works for also handles some talent bookings. ROSS never did actually secure any talent for RUBY. ROSS described RUBY as a well behaved quiet individual whom he did not consider as a constant in manner or the type of person who was a troublemaker. He had never known RUBY to be involved with any law enforcement agency and also never had been involved in any subversive activities.

ROSS added that he was unable to offer any explanation as to why RUBY shot OSWALD. ROSS had never known RUBY to carry any firearms.

In view of numerous allegations from various sources that JACK L. RUBY operated night clubs in Chicago prior to coming to Dallas, and the inference of possible confusion of RUBY with HARRY RUBENSTEIN, the Chicago Office has advised as follows:

HARRY E. RUBENSTEIN, 420 Melrose, Chicago, born 1895, Seattle, Washington, advised Special Agent MAURICE J. WHITE on November 26, 1963 and November 27, 1963, that he has never heard of JACK RUBY or JACK RUBENSTEIN. He stated he knew or knows of everyone of any consequence in the 1930's and 1940's in this business in above general areas, and the positive subject is not so connected. RUBENSTEIN claimed he operated and partly owned Olympic Hotel, 1015 North Clark, 1925 to 1956, and ran Harry's Royal Palm, a night club in the building. He operated Hollywood Show Lounge, Randolph Street in Loop, under wife's name, 1946 to 1950. Also, he operated Hotel Bencourt Hotel, same location, later placed a steak house at this spot, and also operated Sunny Italy Restaurant nearby. The building was demolished in late 1961. He operated and claimed "piece of" breakfast club, a speakeasy on Erie Street, near north area, about 1930 and operated 225 Club, 225 East Superior, about 1934. He also had additional rooming houses in Chicago. He lived at Maple Manor Hotel, 1925 to 1950, at 65 West Maple, owned by now divorced wife.

RUBENSTEIN was arrested 1945 for shooting and killing a man at Olympic Hotel and charged with manslaughter, later exonerated.

RUBENSTEIN admitted knowing or knowing of most of hoodlum element who frequented clubs in this area, many of whom eventually "muscled in" to many of them. He denied personal association with them. He recalls Polies B merges Club on Superior Street between Clark and Dearborn around 1940, but it lasted less than a year. It was operated by LEONARD LEON, an old time night club operator in Chicago known to many in the trade. LEON would be about 80 years old, but he is quite sure he is dead. He stated LEON considered to be primarily night club operator, however, he said he had to have bootleggers especially during prohibition in an effort to operate his clubs, as did all night spot operators at that time.

RUBENSTEIN believes the French Casino was located on Clark between Erie and Ontario in the mid forties. This club was operated by HARRY BOSSES and was closed by then Mayor KELLY or KENNEDY and never reopened.
RUBENSTEIN stated he has never been to Texas and is no relation to the subject. He stated he has never heard of JACK RUBY, also known as "SPARKY," and is sure RUBY never operated, managed or was connected with clubs in Chicago.

RUBENSTEIN stated that he personally was well known in his day to police and politicians in the old 42nd ward, where his hotel was located. He stated it is possible RUBY is being confused with him.

Nineteen Forty-seven Chicago Crime Commission report reflects Olympic Hotel was owned by DORSEY CROW, 42nd ward Alderman, and managed by HARRY RUBENSTEIN. HARRY RUBENSTEIN allegedly kill three men although only one killing definitely linked to him. The report also reflects LEONARD LEON, described as ex-convict, operated 5 O'Clock Club, 512 West Diversey, Chicago, at this time.

EDWARD SHARP, 221 Explanada, Capitola, California, was interviewed and advised as follows:

He stated he operated Ben's Country Store at 221 Explanada and also operates a similar establishment at Pacifica, California. During the period 1937 to 1939, SHARP was a crew manager for a group of individuals selling subscriptions for the San Francisco "Call-Bulletin," a daily newspaper. JACK RUBENSTEIN, who was known as SPARKY, was a member of SHARP's crew. EVA GRANT also worked for SHARP for part of this period. Both GRANT and RUBENSTEIN had a good reputation according to SHARP. They occupied most of their time attempting to sell newspaper subscriptions door to door. The group of individuals so employed, including RUBENSTEIN and GRANT, spent considerable time in Foster's Cafeteria then located on the corner of Illes and Jones Streets in San Francisco. SHARP states that RUBENSTEIN appeared to be an honest forthright person. He did not know him to associate with any hoodlum element although RUBENSTEIN and many of his friends did associate with the sports crowd including those involved in professional fighting. RUBENSTEIN had no radical leanings. He seemed to be completely patriotic. He had a personal liking for law enforcement.

SHARP is of the opinion that had RUBENSTEIN been somewhat larger physically, he would have liked to have been a police officer. SHARP advised that he recognized the photograph of the subject which appeared in daily newspapers and on national television following the murder of LES HARVEY OSWALD in Dallas as being identical with the individual he knew in San Francisco as JACK "SPARKY" RUBENSTEIN.
The following investigation was conducted at Houston, Texas by SA JAMES W. MUSSELL November 27, 1963:

On November 27, 1963, SCOTT SUDDEN, Food Manager, Shamrock Hilton Hotel, Houston, advised that in late 1962 or 1963, he recalled seeing subject in Houston. He believed subject was in company of GENE WHALEN, and he did not know the nature of subject's business in Houston. On November 29, 1963, GENE WHALEN, Entertainment Booking Agent, Shamrock Hilton Hotel, advised he has no recollection of ever having met subject RUBY. WHALEN noted he does not book strippers.

The following investigation was conducted at Dickinson, Texas on November 27, 1963, by SA CARLOS L. KIRBY, JR.

EVELYN LOUISE DOMAHO, waitress, T & C Club, Town and Country Hotel, Highway 75, residence 716 South Main, Pasadena, Texas, advised near the end of November, 1962, she had a job at a small bar in Dallas, name not recalled, located four or five blocks from a skating rink. The owner then introduced her to the new owner who was JACK RUBENSTEIN. She worked for him about one week and left as customers were of small income and tips very few. She recalled subject was quick tempered, and that he would appear at the bar with a white female, age 29 to 30, 5'8" in height, bleached blond hair, name not known, whom she assumed was subject's wife. She related to her knowledge subject did not know victim OSWALD.

Lieutenant GEORGE BUTLER Juvenile Section, Dallas, Texas Police Department, was interviewed regarding the attempted bribe of STEVE GUTHRIE in approximately 1946, when GUTHRIE had been elected Sheriff of Dallas County. Particularly the purpose of the interview was to ascertain whether or not JACK RUBY had any connection with this bribery attempt. Lieutenant BUTLER informed that he did considerable investigation on the case that PAUL ROLAND JONES drew a sentence to serve two years or more as a result of.

BUTLER stated, however, that RUBY was not involved in the bribery attempt and in fact he had never heard of RUBY until after the investigation and trial had been completed. He stated that the way RUBY came into the picture was a number of the individuals who were involved in the bribery attempt and in particular PAUL ROLAND JONES began "hanging out" at RUBY's club after the sentence. He pointed out that JONES appealed his conviction and took it to the Supreme Court. BUTLER stated that this took approximately two or more years and during this period of time JONES and other hoodlums were known to frequent RUBY's night club.

During the course of this interview Lieutenant BUTLER advised that he came onto the Dallas Police Department with Chief of Police CURRY. He added that in his opinion, CURRY is too level-headed to have attempted to transfer LEE HARVEY OSWALD to the County Jail with all the news media present and in the way it was handled when OSWALD was shot. Lieutenant BUTLER said that he feels that Chief CURRY was pressured and ordered to bring OSWALD out and transfer him while the news media was there to get a story. BUTLER also said that he does not feel that the present City Manager would have ordered CURRY to bring OSWALD out under these circumstances but he did not state who he felt was responsible for the transferring of OSWALD under the circumstances at that time.

"HEINZ EISEN, 3228 Pine Grove Avenue, Apartment 201, Chicago, Illinois, was contacted at his employment in the United States Postal Station at 227 West Ontario, where EISEN is employed as a Postal Carrier.

EISEN advised that he is well acquainted with JACOB RUBY. Due to the fact that years ago, he, EISEN, was a close friend of MARTIN GINSBERG, who was a close friend of RUBY. He recalls that RUBY grew up in the neighborhood of the west side of Chicago and was well known to many people there by the nickname of "SPARZINO."

EISEN advised that in 1949 and again in 1950, he and GINSBERG visited RUBY in Dallas, Texas, where RUBY at that time was operating the Silver Spruce. GINSBERG died in September of 1952 and following that EISEN went to Dallas to tell RUBY about GINSBERG's death. He lived with RUBY for approximately a week to ten days but spent part of this time.

EISEN advised that due to the fact that RUBY grew up under hard financial circumstances during the Depression days, he was always hard up for money and as a result "scratched for money all his life." To the knowledge of EISEN, RUBY never had any kind of a salaried job in his life. He purchased football tickets and scalped them and EISEN also recalls that RUBY sold little plastic busts of President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT. EISEN recalls RUBY as being a very good street fighter and a man who was very successful with women.

EISEN also knew RUBY as being a "very, very emotional man and tens was very moody and sentimental." EISEN stated that RUBY could go very quickly from depression to happiness and vice versa. He was a dog lover and very loyal to his friends. EISEN feels that RUBY's act in killing OSWALD was "his way of expressing a patriotic gesture" and that RUBY was "crazy" about what he felt was a terrible thing and did this on the

Mr. CARL C. SLOAN, 4926 West Quincy, advised that some thirty years ago he went under the name of VINCE "SPARKY" REAFLY. He has known JACK RUBY as "SPARKY" for at least 25 years having known him from the old West Roosevelt Road neighborhood of Chicago, where their respective families resided. He stated those were the days when this part of Chicago was a "tough" area and a man had to be able to take care of himself. "SPARKY" was the name he used to take care of himself, but was not known to SLOAN to be a violent or aggressive type of person.

SLOAN advised that he was not closely associated with RUBY; however, he recalls RUBY was well liked by those who knew him and made his living in those days, the middle 30's, by "scalping tickets" and "hustling" whatever commodity he could sell at the time. He advised he has not seen "SPARKY" since World War II and has no personal knowledge of his activities since that time.

SLOAN continued that he has no knowledge of "SPARKY" being in trouble with the law, stating that he was no thief and was not a "tough guy" or a "puck." SLOAN emphatically stated that he and "SPARKY" were never involved in a rape charge in Chicago, adding that "SPARKY" was not the type of individual, as he recalls him, who would commit such an act.

He further stated that "SPARKY" was not the type of individual who would commit any act of violence, and it was a great shock to him, SLOAN, when he learned that "SPARKY" was the person who shot LEE HARVEY OSWALD because he could not imagine him committing such an act.

Mr. HARRISON CANTON, 13037 Bee Street, Dallas, Texas, advised as follows:

He is employed as manager for Midway Liquor Company, Dallas. He has known JACK RUBY since approximately 1949 but has never had any close association with RUBY. When he first met RUBY, he operated the Theatre Lounge, a burlesque club, at Dallas. RUBY at that time operated a dancehall. RUBY contacted him in an effort to obtain information and advice so that he, RUBY, could convert his dancehall which was possibly the Silver Spur Club into a burlesque club. He gave RUBY the desired information and subsequently had occasional contact with RUBY.

He and his wife last visited RUBY's Carousel Club about two weeks prior to November 24, 1963, but did not see RUBY as he was not there that night. In recent years, he has seen RUBY approximately every six months, usually changed, meetings. He has not seen RUBY for the past few months.

He does not know of any close friends, either male or female of RUBY. He said that every one in RUBY's type of business is usually well acquainted with many people but very frequently not intimately acquainted with anyone. He does not know anyone who could furnish information concerning RUBY's recent activities or concerning RUBY's activities during the period of November 22 to 24, 1963.

He never heard of LEE HARVEY OSWALD prior to the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY.

He has never known RUBY to carry a gun.

He has no information concerning the shooting of OSWALD.

Mr. HAY PARROTT, 1210 Glewmich Lane, who is reported to be a former employee of RUBY furnished the following information:

PARROTT is a musician who has played in various night clubs in the Dallas area since the late 1940's. He first met JACK RUBY during 1952 or 1953 when he went to work for him as a musician at the Silver Spur Club. PARROTT worked at the Silver Spur for approximately two or three years and later worked intermittently at the Sovereign Club for RUBY in Dallas.

PARROTT knew RUBY on occasion and did not associate with him on a social basis. PARROTT was shown a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD at which time he advised that OSWALD was unknown to him.

PARROTT recalls that numerous uniformed policemen were in and out of the Silver Spur and Sovereign Club each evening but he could not recall any policemen with whom RUBY was particularly close.

PARROTT had never discussed politics with RUBY and did not know whether or not he had any particularly strong political beliefs, however, PARROTT did consider RUBY a loyal American and knew of no subversive activities on RUBY's part.

Agent ROBERT TAYLOR, Bureau of Federal Narcotics, 433 West Van Buren, Chicago, Illinois, made available on December 5, 1963, their file for the following pertaining to PAUL ROLAND JONES, MAURICE COSTELLO MELTON, and TAYLOR CROSSLAND. These three individuals had contacted and were associated with JACK RUBY and his brother, HYMAN RUBENSTEIN, while in Chicago during 1947:

TAYLOR CROSSLAND was arrested on August 27, 1947, Laredo, Texas, by U.S. Customs for having 48 pounds of raw and smoking opium brought into Texas from Mexico in his possession. CROSSLAND implicated MAURICE C. MELTON and PAUL ROLAND JONES. MELTON and his brother, JOHN MELTON, were arrested October 29, 1947, at Houston, Texas. MAURICE MELTON corroborated the information given by CROSSLAND implicating PAUL ROLAND JONES and JONES was subsequently arrested October 24, 1947, Dallas, Texas, by Federal Narcotic agents as was MELTON.

Prior to these arrests, the above subjects were surveilled during the course of this investigation and they checked into the Central Plaza Hotel, Chicago, on August 2, 1947. While at this hotel, they made several telephone calls which were checked out and the number of RUBENSTEIN was listed to HYMAN and JACK RUBENSTEIN, 3650 West Lexington, Chicago. The RUBENSTEINS were subsequently interviewed by Federal Narcotic agents, Chicago, and the results of these interviews are set forth as follows:

"I, HY RUBENSTEIN, having been informed by ALBERT E. AMAN known to me to be an agent of the Bureau of Narcotics of the Treasury Department of the United States, and ARTHUR M. ADAMS, known to me to be an agent of the Bureau of Customs of the Treasury Department, that I may decline to answer any questions propounded to me by him on the grounds that the answers thereto may tend to incriminate me; and having also been informed that this statement may be used in evidence against me in criminal or other proceedings; and no threat of any character having been made against me and no physical violence having been used against my person; and no reward nor immunity having been promised to me in consideration for my making said statements by said AMAN or any other person acting for or on behalf of the United States, I do freely and voluntarily make the following statement:

"My name is HYMAN RUBENSTEIN, I am forty-six years of age, born in Warsaw, Poland, and I was naturalized about 1922, in Federal Building, Chicago, Illinois, my occupation is the candy and novelty business and I am the proprietor of the Victory Products Company, 3650 Lexington Street, Chicago, Illinois.

"I reside with my father, my brother, JAMES, my sister, MARIAH, and a nephew named MARTIN at 3650 Lexington Street. I lived in Chicago since I have been two and a half years of age, at which time my people migrated from Poland.

"Question: I hand you three photographs, will you examine them and inform me whether or not you know these people?

"Answer: I met TAYLOR CROSSLAND and MAURICE COSTELLO MELTON only once. PAUL ROLAND JONES I have known for about a year or less.

"Question: When was the first time you met PAUL JONES?

"Answer: About ten months ago. He called me at my house and said he was a friend of my sister, JWA GRANT, and that he would like to see me if I wasn't too busy. We met at the Sherman Hotel in the Culver Room and our conversation was merely general subjects of the day. The last time we met was on a Sunday morning, after he called me at my home and this meeting was held at the Sherman Hotel in the Culver Room. He introduced me to TAYLOR CROSSLAND and MAURICE COSTELLO MELTON and we all had breakfast together.

"The latter meeting held at the Sherman Hotel, Celtic Room, took place during the first week of August, 1927. During this period of time, the conversation was about general subjects. We walked around the Loop for about an hour and I pointed out places of interest to the men. Later I suggested driving them to the airport because I wasn't busy and inasmuch as they said they were going to Wichita, Kansas. While in my automobile, KILTON and CROSSLAND asked me if I would get them a connection on steel pipes and I said I would let them know tomorrow, which I did, and mailed them the sample (3/4" pipe) to PAUL JONES at 3904 Junius Street, Dallas, Texas. I also wrote him a letter with specifications and prices. I never heard a word from him since.

"During the period of time spent with JONES, KILTON and CROSSLAND, a discussion came up about lumber inasmuch as KILTON asked me. KILTON suggested that he could get many carloads of lumber at a very good price. I believe a brother of his had a connection in a lumber mill. I suggested if he would cut off a one foot sample slab so that I could show it to some people in Chicago, we might be able to do some business. He promised me he would, but I never got a sample.

"While we were waiting for the plane, TAYLOR suggested something about a gold mine that he had with an engineer partner on the Pacific Coast of Mexico. I told him that it took too much money for a guy like me. He said 'Do you think you can find somebody?'. I told him there was only one party that I knew who was a prospector and a miner and knows more about that business than I do, and I gave him the name of JOSEPH CUNNINGHAM, located at Room 428, Roman Building, 458 Spring, Los Angeles, office telephone Van Dyke 4044.

"CROSSLAND said he would have his engineer write to CUNNINGHAM as he knows more about the details of gold mining. No more was ever heard on this subject. (Residence telephone Chapman 5-2801).

"During this conversation, PAUL JONES said that he would like to pick up some new cars if any contacts could be made, but I never tried to make any and that ended that.

"The next time I met PAUL JONES was on or about the 15th of October and he remained in Chicago approximately a week. He called me upon his arrival at my home and asked me to meet him in Room 674 at the Sherman Hotel, which I did. He introduced me to a Mr. WAGNER and the importance of my meeting with him each day that he came was that Mr. WAGNER was the inventor of a new type of rubber fabric to be used for recapping tires. PAUL JONES said that he met and talked with JACK KEESHIN of the Keeshin Motor Express Corp. and that JACK KEESHIN was going to give it a trial. PAUL JONES also said that he made a trip to Canada and attempted to interest the Goodyear Rubber and the United States Rubber Company in this product, but was informed that he would have to take the matter up with the United States Office in Ohio.

"During this week, PAUL JONES asked me if I could get him seven hundred gallons of bulk four year old whiskey. I wrote him a special delivery air mail letter after he left Chicago and I told him I could get him the whiskey—to find out from his people what they would pay and to let me know immediately. I never heard from him on this matter either."
"During these several meetings that I had with PAUL JONES, I never mentioned opium nor any other narcotic drug to him, nor did CROSSLAND or MAURICE MILTON.

"For the Government's information, I want it to be known clearly that I am a businessman, that I have never been arrested on any charge, and that I absolutely know nothing about opium or narcotics in any shape, manner or form, nor the illicit traffic of narcotic drugs."

"/s/HYMAN RUBENSTEIN"

"Witnessed by: /s/ALBERT AMAN, Narcotics Agent, Chicago, Illinois, October 30, 1947"

A further review of the above Narcotics Bureau file reflected that Agent AMAN of this Bureau interviewed JACK RUBY on October 27, 1947. RUBY was a permanent guest of Room 6-142 of the Congress Hotel, Chicago. RUBY identified the photograph of PAUL ROLAND JONES and has known him for the past four to five months inasmuch as PAUL JONES is a friend of his sister, EVA GRANT, Proprietress of the Singapore Supper Club, 1717 South Eddy Street, Dallas, Texas. He was introduced to PAUL JONES by EVA GRANT.

JACK RUBY had talked to PAUL JONES on numerous occasions while visiting his sister in Dallas but he never had any conversations with him relative to narcotic drugs nor has he ever talked to PAUL JONES in the City of Chicago either personally or via telephone. According to JACK RUBY, he was visiting in Dallas on October 2 and 3, 1947, which are the dates that PAUL JONES, TAYLOR CROSSLAND, and MAURICE MILTON were in Chicago.

JACK RUBY is a sales promoter and calls himself a merchandise distributor. He is 36 years of age, 5' 9" tall, 160 pounds, wavy hair with a high receding hairline, a large pointed nose, a fashionable dresser, born in Chicago. He is also the brother of HYMAN RUBENSTEIN who is previously interviewed.
TAYLOR CROSSLAND, 4173 East Bohynor, advised he does not recall ever having known JACK RUBY or JACK RUBENSTEIN personally. In 1947, when he said MAURICE MELTON brought a load of opium from Mexico to Dallas, Texas, MELTON contacted PAUL JONES in an effort to dispose of the opium. JONES took him and MELTON to an unknown motel in Dallas, where JONES introduced them to an individual who might possibly have been identical with RUBY. JONES and this man went into the motel for about five minutes and then JONES returned to the car and said, "We'll have to go to Chicago to dispose of the stuff." No further reference was made regarding the individual who might have been RUBY.

MAURICE COSTELLO MELTON, 10273 Timbertrail, advised that to the best of his recollection he has never met JACK RUBY and is certain he has not met him during the past few years.

He advised it is remotely possible that he might have met RUBY as JACK RUBENSTEIN in either Dallas, Texas, or Chicago, Illinois, or this man's brother HYMAN RUBENSTEIN in Chicago back in 1947, but, if so, he does not recall meeting these men by name. He explained that in 1947 he was involved in a federal narcotics violation with TAYLOR CROSSLAND and PAUL JONES, with regard to the transportation of narcotics from Mexico to Chicago, Illinois. In an attempt to sell this narcotic, JONES contacted a number of people, might have contacted JACK RUBY or his brother HYMAN RUBENSTEIN in MELTON's presence as several individuals were contacted. If such were true, however, he does not recall these individuals by name.

MELTON also advised he was not acquainted with EVA GRANT, whom he now knows is RUBY's sister.

HEYER H. ABLON, 3064 Walnut Hill Lane, voluntarily furnished the following information:

In about 1955 he owned a night club called The Chateau and one evening JOE BONDS, who owned the Sky Club, brought JACK RUBY into his club. RUBY invited him to visit the Vegas Club and thereafter he visited RUBY at the Vegas Club on numerous occasions. RUBY also visited him numerous times at his club, The Chateau. This all occurred between 1955 and 1957. Their relationship was strictly personal and he has never had any business dealings with RUBY, nor did they ever discuss the possibility of doing any business together. JOE BONDS rented The Chateau from him in 1956. He believes RUBY asked BONDS to help him run the Vegas Club but did not know if this happened or if BONDS was ever in business with RUBY. He has not seen or talked with RUBY in the past four or five years.

RUBY was a very nervous individual and could not sit still for any length of time. He always had to be doing something. He recalled that on one occasion when he was in the Vegas Club a customer who had had too much to drink became rather noisy. RUBY attempted to quiet him down in a nice way but when the customer became smart with RUBY, RUBY grabbed him by the shirt and escorted him out of the club. He believed RUBY was the type of person who was not afraid of anyone and if given good reason he would fight. He never knew RUBY to carry a gun or to be in any trouble with the Police Department. He described RUBY as a very likeable and friendly fellow. He never recalled seeing RUBY in the company of a girl. He has heard that RUBY was from Chicago but knows no further information regarding RUBY's background.

He has never heard anything concerning RUBY attempting to bribe or pay off any police officers or any other person to obtain favors. He does not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD, nor does he know of any association between OSWALD and RUBY.

Commission Exhibit No. 1275

Mr. AL GOLDEN, Westube Corporation, 1920 East Maple Street, El Segundo, California, upon interview advised as follows:

He stated that he formerly resided at 1355 Western Avenue, Northwest Section, Chicago, Illinois, and attended Schley Grammar School located at Oakley and Patomac Street, Northwest Section, Chicago, Illinois.

Mr. GOLDEN states that to the best of his recollection he attended this school in the early "1950's" and added that JACK RUBENSTEIN was also in attendance at this grammar school. He stated that after graduating from Schley Grammar School he and RUBENSTEIN, who was generally known as "Yankie" among the other school children, then went to Sabin Junior High School.

Mr. GOLDEN advised that it was his recollection that he attended this latter school for one or two semesters and withdrew as his family moved to another section of Chicago, Illinois. He added that while attending Schley Grammar School he became involved in an argument with RUBENSTEIN, nature unrecalled, in the school yard of Schley Grammar School, whereupon RUBEN "knocked the hell out of me".

Mr. GOLDEN described RUBENSTEIN during that period as being a "real nice kid but somebody you should not mess around with". He stated that RUBENSTEIN had a "trigger temper" and stated that if other school children took advantage of RUBENSTEIN it was the general rumor among the school children that "you were in for trouble and a beating".

Mr. GOLDEN added that from a temperament standpoint RUBENSTEIN was no worse than the other kids but his temper was "triggered real quick" and by the same token he, RUBENSTEIN, "calmed down just as fast" and held no grudges against any of the kids with whom he might get in an argument with.

Mr. GOLDEN stated that after he and RUBENSTEIN engaged in a scuffle they became the best of friends while in attendance at the above schools as previously indicated.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is issued to you for your convenience, but it contains no information that may be withheld under the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act.
He described RUBENSTEIN as a kid who would "give you the shirt off his back". He added that while they were attending Sabin Junior High School together it is his recollection that the RUBENSTEIN family moved to the West side of Chicago, Illinois, and he, GOLDEN, advised that he last saw RUBENSTEIN in the early 1920's on the West side of Chicago while he, GOLDEN, was passing through that area. He stated that they did see other the time of day and talked very briefly and he, GOLDEN, advised that this was the last occasion on which he has seen RUBENSTEIN personally.

Mr. GOLDEN advised that to his knowledge there is no connection or acquainanceship between LEE HARVEY OSWALD and JACK RUBENSTEIN.

The following investigation was conducted by SA J. MASON HELVIN:

AT WEST YELLOWSTONE, MONTANA

On December 4, 1963, EDWARD MORRIS, Jr., owner, MORRIS MOTEL, advised that he is, no doubt, the person who was overheard to remark that he, MORRIS, could call Chicago, Illinois, anytime and get all the information he wanted on JACK RUBY. MORRIS pointed out that he had been drinking at the time on November 24, 1963, but he pointed out that he had formerly resided in Chicago and, when he had seen the picture of RUBY on TV, he is sure that this is the same person who ran the TORCH CLUB, or the bar next to the TORCH CLUB, about 18 to 20 years ago. The TORCH CLUB was located on the northwest corner of Walton and Clark Streets in Chicago. The bar next to it is not believed to be any longer in existence. At that time RUBY was not using the last name of RUBY and the name he was using may have been RUBENSTEIN or similar.

MORRIS also believed that this man had worked as a bouncer at other places in Chicago. MORRIS said he is going back to Chicago next week for a visit and, if he learns any information there, he will contact the Chicago FBI Office. MORRIS stated that there was a rumor to the effect that this man, whatever his name, was run out of Chicago by "the syndicate."
ISAAC KAPLAN, 1541 South Beverly Drive, advised that he and his wife, SYLVIA, were employed by the "San Francisco Call Bulletin" as solicitors, from about 1933 to 1938. He stated that JACK RUBY and his sister, EVA GRANZ, were also employed as solicitors by the "San Francisco Call Bulletin" for a short while, and their work was managed by him.

Mr. KAPLAN stated that RUBY came to San Francisco from Chicago. He stated that he believes he, KAPLAN, had other solicitors under his management who had come to San Francisco from Chicago, and it was probably through one of these people that RUBY became known to him.

Mr. KAPLAN stated that his wife, SYLVIA, has never met JACK RUBY, as they were not solicitors at the same time. He stated that he had not seen RUBY nor has he heard from him since that time. He stated that EVA GRANZ was in Los Angeles, about four years ago, and visited with them for a few days.

Mr. KAPLAN stated that LEE HARVEY OSWALD was unknown to his wife and him.

Paul J. Hoffman, 1221 North LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois, advised as follows:

Hoffman had never known JACK L. RUBINSTEIN by the name JACK RUBY. His first knowledge that JACK RUBY had changed his name from RUBINSTEIN to RUBY was when he was so advised by LAW D. BURKE of the Chicago Sun Times column, who telephoned HOFFMAN in Palm Springs, California. DRUBINSTEIN was arrested when he was told by MEYERNE that it was RUBY who had killed LEE OSWALD. HOFFMAN had seen the shooting of OSWALD on television but did not recognize RUBY as the RUBINSTEIN when he had known.

HOFFMAN has never considered RUBY as a friend or associate because he, HOFFMAN, who is 68 years of age, was probably 19 or 20 years older than RUBY. No first saw RUBY as a "neighborhood kid" who lived with his parents on Chicago's West Side, somewhere on Independence Boulevard. HOFFMAN could not recall the name of any school RUBY may have attended. On the name of his parents, other than their last name was KAPLAN WALTER. HOFFMAN could recall no names of RUBY's associates, relatives, employers or neighbors.

HOFFMAN has not seen RUBY since about 1930, except maybe "a couple of times" when he had seen him on the street. The last time he saw RUBY was about 15 years ago and he only learned through RUBY's brother, that RUBY had gone to Dallas, Texas, and was running a cabaret.

About 1940, RUBY was working as an organizer for the Chicago Waste Material Handlers Union. He had been originally employed by JACK MARTIN who was then president of the union. HOFFMAN does not know MARTIN's present whereabouts, but MARTIN used to work for the Chicago Sanitary District.

To HOFFMAN's knowledge, RUBY was never a salaried employee of the union but probably drew some expense money from collected dues. RUBY was not a very successful organizer and finally voluntarily left his employment with the union in 1940, about two months after HOFFMAN was appointed to run it. RUBY probably left this employment because he was not making... any money. There was only about $6.00 in the treasury when DONWAN "took over". DONWAN even had to take $1.50 out of his own pocket to pay the salary of a female employee, whose name he cannot recall.

DONWAN considered RUBY to be an emotional type of person who was either easily excitable or not capable of dealing with people. As an example, when RUBY was with the union, he would become personally concerned and involved with complaints so to a degree that he became very excited over matters which did not appear to be important.

The only other persons who may have known RUBY in the union were JOE BRINICLE (Ph) and HARRY O'NEILL (Ph), both now deceased who were Regional Directors of the Union.

DONWAN was appointed by BRINICLE in about 1940 to head the Union. This occurred after an argument between LEVIN, who was president of the Union and his organizer LEON COOK, which resulted in LEVIN shooting COOK, who subsequently died. According to DONWAN, COOK was a man about 25 years younger than LEVIN, and when COOK challenged LEVIN, LEVIN shot him in self-defense. LEVIN was tried in a Chicago Court and was found not guilty because the shooting was in self-defense.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

In reply to your letter of February 12, 1964, I am enclosing herewith a letterhead memorandum and a complete set of medical records of Fanny Rubenstein (mother of Jack Ruby) which were obtained from Ernest S. Klein, M.D., Superintendent, Elgin State Hospital, Elgin, Illinois, on February 14, 1964.

You will note that Dr. Klein has requested that these records not be made public without a court order or the written consent of some member of the Rubenstein family.

Sincerely yours,

Commission Exhibit No. 1281

On February 14, 1964, Ernest S. Klein, M.D., Superintendent, Elgin State Hospital, Elgin, Illinois, made available to Special Agent Larry A. Walker, of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, records microfilmed containing a complete record pertaining to Fanny Rubenstein as it appears in the files of the Elgin State Hospital.

Doctor Klein advised that he was happy to cooperate with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the President's Commission investigating this matter. Doctor Klein pointed out, however, that the medical records concerning Mrs. Rubenstein could not be made public without a court order or the written consent of some member of the Rubenstein family. Because of this, Doctor Klein requested that if the situation arose in the future where information contained in those records was considered for publication that one of the two steps outlined above be taken prior to such publication.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It is the property of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Resume of Court Hearing: 7-16-37, Daughter in court agreed.
PSYCHOPATHIC HOSPITAL
SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

Reason for admission:
The patient was brought here from home by sheriff Everman at the advice of a doctor from the Michael Reese Hospital where the pt. had been residing on and off for many years. The pt. has become unmanageable, and goes into hysterics and sobs and shouts day and night.

Information was obtained from the pt's daughter, Mariva, a miscon-ceptually young girl about 30 years of age, the second fairly intelligent, but reluctant about giving accurate statements. She said that Michael Reese claimed she would have a much more complete history than she could give.

Social situation: The family occupies a 7-room flat, which rents for $25 a month. The family consists of the pt. and her husband and 7 children. The informant, Mariva, and one son, Jimmy, to support the family.

FAMILY HISTORY

Parents died in Passion, from old age.

The one house living in Illinois in Denver Colorado.

The inf. knew nothing else about the pt's family history or background but states that to her knowledge there was no insanity or other nervous disorder.

PERSONAL HISTORY

The pt. was born in Russia, in 1870. She came to the U.S. 51 years ago and has been residing in Chicago all of that time.

Relatives: Many years ago pt. was at the Franco Villard Hospital where the informant did not know the nature of her illness or the operation she had undergone. In 1903 she was at Michael Reese Hospital for an operation for colitis.

Education: The pt. is illiterate, and makes very little English.

At about 45 she took to night school, to learn to sign her name but could not even do that.

Employment: The pt. has never worked for remuneration. In 1893-94 she worked for a Jewish Infants Training School, where she did some fancy-work.

Habits: The pt. never used alcohol, tobacco or drugs.

Marital: The pt. and her husband married 33 years ago Russia. They have four children and four sons. The children are known to the natives are all single, living at home. They are apparently all in good health and normal. In 1921 pt.'s husband left her and lived away for 10 years. This separation was what caused the pt. and her husband could not get along. The husband is a cook at the Oriental Hotel.

trade, and worked fairly steadily up to about 1909, since which time he had not worked at all, the children having to support him. Two of the two children, only, are married, and have been unable to support pt. any longer, so in April 1920, they asked him to come back to live with them. The first two months at home, he was quiet and peaceful, but after that he started to argue and quarrel with constantly. The pt. stayed at his all the time.

Personality: The inf. said that the pt. was very temperamental, demanding and self-centered, and he had to have his way. Her temper was bad, and when she was not granted, she went into a regular tantrum—became disagreeable and would argue with anyone. The pt. has never been any kind of a housekeeper, was careless with money, and never took much interest in the children's affairs. The inf. said that the pt. procured two quite well-to-do people, and that she had been guards and households. The only happy pt. had was crocheting, and that she could do all day long.

From since inf. can remember, the pt. was extremely difficult to get along with. She was selfish, jealous, disagreeable, and never cared to do anything in the house (but around and about the home was very particular about her meals. She could not eat—most the rest of the family did. She has been accused her husband of being interested in other women. Some years ago she was declared that she swallowed a fish-bone, and since then has been complaining constantly about her throat being sensitive. She has been admitted to Michael Reese.
Clinic, but pt. did not like anything, or something was in the way, she cursed in Jewish— anything undesirable. In the last years, since the children have grown up, she has been accusing any who was being liberal, and that one of their clients—Mrs. Mary Boswell had a house of prostitution, and that was why they went, and she tells this to everyone she meets— neighbors and friends, etc.
The family can never have company, for fear that she will embarrass the family before the company.

The patient has been increasingly worse, each year, and the family begins to get along with her unless under the same roof, under all effective control. They are not in position to place her in a private institution, or pay for her keep easy from home. The pt. does not manifest any sadness, tears, or hearing voices, and has made no threats to any one, but is always saying that she does not like her children.

PLRT Undecided. The informant says they have to talk it over with the rest of the children.
COPY OF LETTER RECEIVED FROM MICHAEL RESE HOSPITAL, CHICAGO, CHICAGO

JULY 10, 1937

Miss Lore Ambergay, Director, Psychiatric Hospital
Social Services Dept., CHICAGO

My dear Miss Ambergay,

At your request we are sending you the following information about Mrs. Fanny Rubenstein, who is now under observation at your hospital.

Mrs. Rubenstein has been known to the Psychiatric Hospital since December, 1936. She was admitted to the Psychiatric Hospital in 1935 because of the absence of organic findings to account for her feeling of a sickness and anxiety during a period of five months. She insisted there was no disease. At the time of the original examination the patient was very fleshy and excited. The diagnosis at that time was psychoneurosis with marked anxiety state. There was also some suggestion of some degree of mental retardation.

Since the time of the original examination, the patient has returned to the Psychiatric Hospital at intervals, sometimes voluntarily, and in the past four years at the request of her sons and daughter. She has found her behavior increasingly difficult in the home. During the past four years the patient has been exceedingly careful, nursing, and markedly suspicious of the motives of her family. She has consistently expressed the idea that her sons are conspiring against her and influencing the other children to be incontinent and cruel toward her. Her accusations included the destruction of her clothing by the children and, more recently, their striking her and pouring hot water on her.

At the time of the recent examination on July 1st of this year, she related many paranoid ideas, including that of concealment of her daughter with her. The patient talks incessantly and in anger frequently transfers articles at members of the household. Mrs. Rubenstein claims that her husband has tried to deal with the situation in various ways, including an arrangement whereby she might live apart from the relatives and thereby be something removed from the immediate sources of her irritation. They have not reached the conclusion, however, that there is no possibility of care for the patient in the community. The psychiatrist made a diagnosis of psychoneurosis and strongly recommended commitment to a state hospital.

To have no social information on this family makes it difficult to discuss that contained in a letter from the Social Services Bureau of CHICAGO. Mrs. Rubenstein has been divorced from her husband over a period of many years, with occasional returns to the household. The support of the family was supplied by the children, all of whom are over six and reside in one of the suburbs. All are married and have families.

MENTAL EXAMINATION

APPEARANCE AND MANNER:

Patient is a short, obese, red-haired, Jewish woman, of about 65 years, who breathes with difficulty and complain of headaches and pains in the eyes at night for ten years. She is simple, pleasant, and cooperative, but extremely talkative, in a very rapid stream, so that it is with difficulty that she is kept to the point. She is very friendly and appreciative of anything that is done for her. She is effusive and extremely emotional in a demonstrative way, laughing and crying easily.

She lives on Hamilton Avenue where she cooperates well with the routine. She does no work, but crochets assiduously and well, and proudly displays her handiwork.

Her answers are for the most part relevant, but her voice is monotone even when she tells of her troubles and woes while doing so. She speaks English poorly and with a marked Jewish accent but a complete history is obtained by the use of both languages.

REASONS FOR REFERRAL:

Patient gives her age as 62, born in Poland, in October but cannot give the year. She has one younger brother, in Russia, and two sisters in Poland. One sister died in Poland of malnutrition during the World War. The other died in infancy, cause unknown. Father, a physician, died at 60. Mother at 60, of overwork. (The patient was sickly child, but grew up to be a healthy young woman, who worked as a housemaid after her parents lost their money. She married at 24 to Joseph Rubenstein, 30, the match being made, as customary, through a professional matchmaker. Married life was unhappy, because her husband was never in love with her, but ran around with other women and spent his money on them. She came to the United States at 30 years (1906) at which time she had two children and had a nice cottage at five months. Seven children were born in this country. She has eight living children, one having died at 30 months of sickness. The youngest is now 34, says that since 26 years ago, a thigh bone has been knocked below her right ear and that something is caught near her left conjuctiva from the former accident, her vision has become impaired, and her teeth were lost. She had a thyroidectomy at Michael Reese Hospital, in 1920, because of shaking hands and trembling in the throat and chest. These are worse when she has troubles.

Her Max was so beaten by his father when he was 10, that he was placed in a boy's home by the Jewish Aid Society. Her husband drank and beat her and the children. She has been going to the Jewish Aid Society since coming to this country. Her son, now 36, she says slept in bed with his two sisters and she implied that he had sexual intercourse. She says that when she remarried with him, he beat her and threatened to send her to Dunning. Incidents and injuries are denied. Hearing has been.

Summary:

The patient is a short, obese, illiterate, Jewish woman, of about 50 years, born in Poland, one of seven siblings, three of whom are living. No nervous or mental disease known in family. Birth and early development normal, except for patient's statement that she was a sickly child. She became a healthy woman, however, married at 24 to a man of 30, through the services of a professional matchmaker. According to the patient, marriage life was very unhappy from the first, because her husband philandered and spent his money way from home. She came to the United States in 1910 at thirty years. Had ten pregnancies, including a miscarriage at nine months, eight living normal children.

She was always temperamental, domineering, and self-willed, having tantrums, if not indulged. Nagged constantly at husband. Selfish, jealous, and lazy.
In 1937, she began going to Michael Reese clinics because of attacks—sensations in the throat, interpreted by her as being due to a fish bone. Patient says a thyroidectomy in 1930 did not relieve it. Says it has impaired her vision. Has been attending psychiatric clinics ever since. Originally was diagnosed psychoneurosis with marked anxiety state, with possible mental retardation.

In the past four years, she has become increasingly paranoid and suspicious of her family, accusing them of destroying her clothing, and pouring hot water on her. Accuses her daughter and husband of collaborating. The clinic diagnosed it paranoid condition and recommended commitment.

Upon her admission here, 7/14/37, physical examination revealed dysphagia, impaired resonance, moist rales in both bases, unilateral horner's, impaired hearing, and abnormal obesity. She has a 2 in. rectoscope and 3rd° cystoscope, and an eroded cervix. The blood pressure was 118/60. (At the Psychiatric Institute it was recorded as 154/140.) Menses ceased in 1932.

Here, the patient is cooperative and pleasant, but rather childish, and highly emotional.

The mental examination was done on August 12th. Hallucinations were not elicited. Patient continues to express delusional ideas about the ribbone in her throat, of theanness of her children, and of her husband's unfaithfulness. She believes her sons and daughters are coherentating. She has a number of times invoked the aid of the Jewish charities because of her difficulties with her husband and at one time tried to get a divorce. For an illiterate woman, she performs intellectual tests well. It is felt that her handicap had not made it difficult for her to comprehend the questions.

Conclusion:

The patient is a 62 year old woman, of simple and emotional makeup, who has never adjusted well in life, and since 1913, has been attending psychiatric clinics because of unfounded somatic complaints and paranoid delusional ideas. The latter have become much worse during the last four years since the menopause.

Diagnosis:

The classification offered is paranoid state with involutional changes.

Prognosis:

The prognosis is poor because of the poor personality of the patient and the long duration (24 years) of her mental abnormality.

Treatment:

The treatment is custodial care. She has had hydrotherapy and enemas.

Conclusion: (Continued)

The treatment is custodial care. She has had hydrotherapy and enemas.

Impression:

Fannie was alone and had a package of fancy work with her. She was quite talkative and explained in broken English that she was making this for a friend and she wanted to give it to the doctor and social worker some time. She was garrulous, reti- culated freely and then began expressing personal ideas about her husband. She told that he had lived with different women and that she did not wish to have him around. She talked she stimulated considerably and it was necessary to put an end to the interview. She has no insight. The prognosis is poor.

SUMMARY OF INVESTIGATION PREPARATORY TO PAROLE

1. Environment
   a. Home
      The family has a comfortable, well furnished apartment on the third floor of a six flat building. It faces the boulevard, providing a pleasant outlook. The neighborhood is rather good.
      The family consists of patient, her husband, two daughters and the young son of one of them, and four sons. A married daughter is living away from the home.
   b. Neighborhood

2. Employment
   a. Nature of Employment
   b. Attitude of Employer
   c. Indefinite Possibilities

3. Supervision
   There are plenty of persons to give patient supervision but she does not get along with any of them, and continues to prove a problem in the family.

Worker found patient busy in the living room, crocheting on a tremendous piece of work. She speaks very little English and seems to understand little. However, she talked much of the time anyway.

It had been planned that patient and her 28 year old daughter would take an apartment together, but the daughter's work now appears uncertain. Patient finds fault with this daughter too, but not to the extent that she does with the others.

If patient and her husband got along well, they could easily have a small apartment for themselves. However, they haven't spoken to each other for years. Informant was wondering about the advisability of sending patient to Denver to be with her married brother or her, as he has seemed to get along with him very well. It developed, however, that patient only sees him about once in five years. Worker advised against sending patient so far away as she would probably become restless for her home and family.

The family also wondered if there is an inexpensive home of some type where everyone in the family is working and they can afford this. Worker suggested that it might be tried, but pointed out that it patient could not be much of a problem and be kept in such a home.

Worker called to see patient and to talk with patient's divorced daughter, Eva Rubenstein. The latter is a very attractive young woman who is quite concerned about her mother. She is going to work soon, to support her young son and the patient will be alone during the day. The sister, Marion, who took the mother out of the hospital, does nothing about making any other arrangements for the patient.

The informant has been keeping house for the entire group. The patient will not eat in the same room with her husband and she stays in the front part of the house while her husband stays in the back part. Even so, they yell back and forth at each other, using foul language. It is necessary for informant to carry all meals to patient. Patient eats a great deal. She refuses to do any cooking, washing, etc. She crochets all the time. If she ever does cook something, she leaves the entire kitchen in such a mess that it takes hours to clean it up. Worker suspected that patient be alone during the day and that perhaps she would do some of the work. Informant was shocked at this, saying patient would not eat then, until someone came home at seven o'clock to cook it for her.

The family is very ashamed of patient having been sent to a state hospital and told everyone she had taken a trip to convalesce. They make patient talk all about her divorce. They do not wish to return patient to bigin, though some of the sons are willing to do so. Informant seemed to feel that it was worker's

MARTIN BRAUNER was interviewed at the Hotel Peabody, Memphis, Tennessee, where he is currently a guest in Room #827.

BRAUNER advised that he is a resident of Chicago, Illinois, residing at 1219 North Spaulding Street, Chicago, Illinois. He is employed as a District Sales Manager for the Feldco Publications, Incorporated, 612 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago 11, Illinois, and travels throughout the Midwest and South selling telephone book covers to various hotels, motels and business firms.

BRAUNER advised that he has known JACK LEON RUBY of Dallas, Texas for approximately thirty-nine (39) years. BRAUNER pointed out that he is currently fifty-four (54) years of age and estimated RUBY to be fifty-two (52) or fifty-three (53) years of age, stating that they originally met while they were young men both living in Chicago, Illinois in the neighborhood of Division and Oakley Streets in Chicago. He advised that they first met on a playground in this area and that they used to play ball together and used to hang around the same cafes, frequent the same dancehalls, swimming beaches in the Michigan Avenue area in the years immediately prior to 1931. BRAUNER and JACK RUBY used to sell football and other athletic event souvenirs together. They used to visit various Big Ten football games during the fall season and scalp tickets and sell souvenirs. RUBY at that time went by the last name of RUBENSTEIN. BRAUNER knew little about RUBENSTEIN's home life other than that he was Jewish, had an older brother namely HYMAN RUBENSTEIN whose nickname was "Mess." "Mess" was older than JACK RUBY and used to assist them in scalping football tickets in the Chicago area. BRAUNER knew nothing concerning RUBY's parents and did not recall ever having visited in his home in the Chicago area.

BRAUNER worked his way through law school in Chicago and subsequently married in 1931 and practiced law for a period of approximately twenty-five (25) years thereafter prior to taking his present position. Following BRAUNER's marriage he drew away from RUBY and RUBY's associates, names not recalled since RUBY had never married. He would occasionally see RUBY on the street but stated that during the middle and late 1930's he did not know what RUBY did for a living. He did recall that approximately seventeen to eighteen years ago RUBY left the Chicago area to go to Dallas, Texas.

About one year ago BRAUNER heard through an unrecalled source that JACK LEON RUBY was operating a night club or strip-tease type entertainment establishment in the Dallas area and when BRAUNER went to Dallas on business and stayed at the Baker Hotel, he began calling various night clubs in an effort to locate the one operated by RUBY. When he called the Carousel Night Club he learned that RUBY was operating this club. Thereafter he got together with RUBY; they reminisced concerning their boyhood days; ate supper together and RUBY invited BRAUNER as a guest at his night club which at the time featured a series of strip-teasers. BRAUNER also during this brief Dallas visit visited RUBY in RUBY's apartment, exact address not recalled but he did recall that they had to cross a bridge to get to the apartment. RUBY was living by himself and had approximately nine dogs for whom he was caring at the time including six Dachshund pups.

About five months ago BRAUNER again made a business trip to Dallas, again staying at the Baker Hotel and again contacted RUBY at the Carousel Club. Again RUBY served as host for BRAUNER and they ate several meals together and on one occasion BRAUNER recalled visiting RUBY's apartment and waiting for him to get dressed prior to going out for the evening. A television newscast came on depicting in part the results of a presidential press conference participated in by the late United States President JOHN F. KENNEDY. RUBY who was then in the process of shaving came out and watched with apparent awe KENNEDY's answers at the press conference. He remarked to BRAUNER that he greatly admired KENNEDY and put him in the same category as the late FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, claiming that both of them had been true humanitarian and always stood up for the "underdog" and for this reason he "truly loved them."

BRAUNER explained that RUBY has always been an extreme egomaniac, a very vain individual who never has had much money but has taken his pay in life in the form of any type personal recognition which he could receive from anyone. He liked to hear people call him by name and went out of his way to get to know people, both prominent people as well as the "man on the street." RUBY has always had an "underdog" complex and, has always become very emotional when he saw someone who appeared to be destitute. He also became emotional even as a youth when he saw someone in a fight who seemed to be taking a severe beating. He would oftentimes intervene in the fight and attempt to assault the aggressor or the person who appeared to be winning the fight, particularly if the adversary appeared to be smaller or more handicapped in his approach. He stated that he would not say under any circumstances that RUBY was a bully. He recalled that RUBY as a young man was extremely strong and in good physical condition and could hit "like a mule" with his fists when he had to. He said he would never start a fight but would never run away from a fight. He recalled RUBY as being a "terrific" swimmer and one who had always worked out a lot in various gymnasiums.

BRAUNER stated that being from Galena he is familiar with much of the general vice and corruption with regard to the so-called underworld in Chicago, much of which has been publicized in various news media and that when he visited RUBY in Dallas he asked RUBY if he had to "pay off" to any of the city or county officials in the Dallas area in order to operate his night club.

RUBY replied that he did not have to make "pay offs" to anyone. He did state that when he first went to Dallas years ago that Dallas was a "wide open town" insofar as vice was concerned and that he had to make small "pay offs" to various unidentified officials but that in recent years Dallas had been an extremely clean city from the standpoint of vice and that he did not have to pay any tribute to anyone. He gave BRAUNER to indicate that he was operating strictly on his own, that he was not in partnership with anyone and gave BRAUNER no indication whatsoever that he had any underworld or criminal syndicate type connections.

BRAUNER recalled that on the last trip to Dallas RUBY briefly introduced BRAUNER to RUBY's older sister, EVA GRANT, who also had a night club, name not recalled, in Dallas. BRAUNER stated that he did not remember EVA GRANT from his earlier Chicago days, although she stated that she thought that she remembered seeing him as a young man. She recalled enough about him to know that his nickname was "Muggsy." BRAUNER stated that he knew nothing concerning EVA GRANT, her background or activities in recent years other than the fact that RUBY told him that EVA had at times helped him in the operation of the Carousel Night Club.
BRAUNER reminisced that RUBY is a "born gate-crasher type." He stated that RUBY could coax his way into anything -galas, dances, political rallies, etcetera. He stated that RUBY was never bashful and he was impudent almost to the point of being rude when he wanted anything. BRAUNER gathered from his two brief visits with RUBY during the past year that RUBY was extremely well-known in Dallas, explaining his basis as the fact that when they would walk down the downtown streets of Dallas near the Baker Hotel that numerous persons along the street would speak to RUBY, calling him by name. He stated that RUBY was an extremely egotist and that the fact that people remember him, call him by name and show his little courtesies or attention furthered his ego. On one occasion when he visited RUBY at the Carousel Club, he saw two uniformed officers come into the club and speak to RUBY but they appeared to be merely checking the club for any evidence of drunk or other possible law violations. RUBY gave him no indication whatsoever that he had any tie-ups or connections with the Dallas Police Department or any of his representatives.

BRAUNER has never known RUBY to be involved in any political, economic or sociological type organizations and has never given him to be a "deep thinker." He stated that he has never had any reason to believe that RUBY has had any affiliations with any organizations which could be considered un-American, either to the "right" or to the "left." He recalled that during the late 1920's or possible early 1930's that RUBY was always very emotional in being against any form of totalitarianism.

At no time did RUBY ever mention the name of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and based on BRAUNER's knowledge of RUBY he has no reason to believe that RUBY had ever heard of or had ever knowingly seen OSWALD prior to OSWALD's arrest and subsequent charge with the assassination of the late President KENNEDY. RUBY has never given BRAUNER any indication that he has made any trips outside of the United States. He did comment when BRAUNER saw him in 1963 that he had made one or two trips to New York City in connection with working out booking arrangements for various entertainers in his night club. He recalled that RUBY was a very generous individual and that while at the Carousel Club during 1963 visiting with RUBY, a strip-teaser, name not recalled, came to RUBY begging him for money with which to pay her room rent and RUBY gave her $20.00, commenting after her departure that he would never see the $20.00 again.

BRAUNER pointed out that while he realized it had no real significance that he personally feels that RUBY shot OSWALD only for reasons of impulse and emotion he feels certain that RUBY would have had no ulterior motive in shooting OSWALD. He stated that he felt that this impulse and emotion coupled with RUBY's extreme ego and his alleged strong admiration for the late President KENNEDY probably prompted him to engage in this unfortunate act.

BRAUNER stated that despite the fact that he disapproved of what RUBY did, he still felt sorry for RUBY and sometime back wrote him a letter while he was in jail indicating that he was still friendly with him and would be willing to help him in any normal manner.

BRAUNER was queried as to any knowledge of one VICKIE BRAUNER whose name was found in the personal effects of JACK LEON RUBY following his arrest at Dallas, Texas, November 24, 1963. MARTIN BRAUNER stated that he had no idea as to the identity of VICKIE BRAUNER, that he had no relatives by this name and had never heard of the name previously.

Mrs. MARY LAWRENCE, Executive Director, Jewish Children's Bureau, 1 South Franklin, Chicago, Illinois, presented the following information concerning records in her possession relating to JACOB RUBENSTEIN, also known as JACK RUBY, and his family:

All actual records relating to the RUBENSTEIN family is possession of her office have been destroyed because of fire, with the exception of a face sheet and several copies of Circuit Court of Cook County Juvenile Court records.

Mrs. LAWRENCE advised that because of the passage of time the face sheet reflecting contacts with the RUBENSTEIN family was the only actual record her office still maintained. The face sheet she had in her possession was for JOE and FANNY RUBENSTEIN and their children: HYMAN, date of birth December 21, 1901; ANNA, date of birth May 10, 1904; MARY, date of birth June 3, 1906; EVA, date of birth 1909; JACOB (JAYE), date of birth April 25, 1911; SAM, date of birth December 25, 1912; ISADORE, date of birth May, 1914; and IDA, date of birth July 11, 1917.

Mrs. LAWRENCE advised that the Cook County, Illinois, Juvenile Court docket numbers for the RUBENSTEIN children were as follows:

HYMAN  Number 60011
JAKE       Number 90342
SAM        Number 90340
ISADORE    Number 90341
IDA         Number 90343

Mrs. LAWRENCE stated that the Cook County Juvenile Court records in her possession relate to scheduled hearings November 21, 1924, and another hearing scheduled December 8, 1924, before Judge VICTOR F. ARNOLD. Mrs. LAWRENCE advised that the court documents in her possession which are mentioned above provide no information relating to the disposition of the hearings. She further stated that all of the court documents in her possession for each of the RUBENSTEIN children were similar in nature and bore the same dates.

Mrs. LAWRENCE made available for copying the original face sheet she had in her possession concerning the RUBENSTEIN family, along with the Circuit Court of Cook County juvenile records also relating to the RUBENSTEIN family. She requested, however, that these records not be sent out of Chicago, but that they be copied in Chicago and be returned to her before the close of business March 13, 1964.

On review of the reverse side of the face sheet of the RUBENSTEIN family, which she had in her possession, Mrs. LAWRENCE stated that she could not interpret all of the notations appearing therein. She stated that in spite of the fact she has been connected with social work in the Jewish community in Chicago, Illinois, for over 40 years, she could not identify all the notations on the face sheet.

With regard to the requests by the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy for reports on the RUBENSTEIN family entitled as follows: "JFS 11-25-32, JSSB C 3-32, Best Harris 6-11-30, JFS 7-13-29, WL 6-30-27, JHFS 2-15-26, KTB Racine 3-25-24, JFR 43-76 7-6-22," Mrs. LAWRENCE advised as follows:

The initials JFS could possibly relate to the Jewish Free Employment Bureau, now called the Jewish Vocational Service headed by WILLIAM GEIZMAN, second floor, 1 South Franklin, Chicago, Illinois. The initials JSSB probably relate... to the Jewish Social Service Bureau, now known as the Jewish Family and Community Service, 1 South Franklin, Chicago, Illinois, headed by Mr. SIDNEY BERKOWITZ. The name Nest Haven is the former name for the Schrak Rehabilitation Center at California and 16th Streets, Chicago. The executive director of the Center is IRA GOLDENBERG. The initials WL probably relate to the Women's Loan Association, which is now a part of the Jewish Family and Community Service above. The initials JHFS relate to the Jewish Home Finding Service, which was the parent agency of the Jewish Children's Bureau headed by Mrs. LAWRENCE herself. The initials and name MRS Racine undoubtedly, in Mrs. LAWRENCE's opinion, relate to the Chicago Municipal Tuberculosis Sanitarium, Racine Avenue Branch. The initials IJR in the opinion of Mrs. LAWRENCE relate to the Institute for Juvenile Research at Chicago, Illinois.

At this point, Mrs. LAWRENCE advised, as she had previously, the only significant information which she felt appeared on the face sheet of her office's record in relation to the RUBENSTEIN family was the notation relating to IJR as, "I.J.R. 7-6-22 Exan Number 4376 Jake."

With regard to the Cook County, Illinois, Juvenile Court records in her possession concerning the RUBENSTEIN children, Mrs. LAWRENCE said none of them related to ETHAN RUBENSTEIN, Juvenile Court Docket Number 80011.

In regards to his association with Jack Ruby, Colvin recalled that during the Summer of 1943, he was a corporal in the training unit at Keesler Field, Mississippi, and was an instructor in marksmanship, rifle lore and calisthenics. He advised that during the Summer of 1943, Jack Ruby arrived from the induction center at Camp Grant, Illinois, and was assigned to Colvin's unit. Colvin advised that he had known Ruby from the old neighborhood on Roosevelt Road bounded by Kedzie and Crawford, and was pleased to have him in his unit.

He stated that, as best he could recall, Ruby possessed no real close associates during the training period although he was a likable individual and was on a friendly basis with nearly all of the men in the unit. Colvin advised that he considered himself to be Ruby's closest associate during the training period and recalled that he and Jack Ruby traveled to New Orleans on several weekends. He advised that they checked into hotels, danced at the Roosevelt Hotel, and spent other leisure time at the beaches in the New Orleans area.
Colvin advised that from what he could recall of Ruby's general makeup during that period, he considered him an intelligent, likable individual but who left the impression that he was nervous, high-strung and, as Colvin described, "taut as a fiddle". He stated that Ruby left the impression that he found it impossible to relax. He recalled that Ruby carried on conversations in an excitable manner. He stated, however, that Ruby, although newspaper accounts report otherwise, was not the type of person to start a fight on his own. He stated that he would become highly irritated if anyone made degrading remarks against the Jewish faith.

In regard to Ruby's political interest, Colvin recalled that Ruby, during the time he knew him, voiced an extremely high regard for former President Franklin Roosevelt. He stated, although he did not consider Ruby to be an active Democrat, he spoke often of his high regard for Roosevelt. Ruby never discussed local politics as best he could recall.

Colvin considered Ruby's sexual behavior to be absolutely normal, stating that he positively did not possess any perverted attitude toward sex. From his own observations, Colvin stated that, "if Jack could make a broad in a gentlemanly manner, he would". Colvin advised he considered this to be perfectly normal.

In regards to criminal associates of Ruby, Colvin advised that he knew of none. He stated Ruby had been affiliated in some capacity with a Chicago union but he knew of nothing derogatory in this regard. He stated he definitely did not hang out with known hoodlums and was positively not a criminal or "a heist guy". He reiterated that Ruby was known as a hustler who scalped tickets at athletic events and attempted to make a profit from the sale of cheap merchandise.

Colvin advised that, in his opinion, the newspapers have "ballooned up" stories of Ruby's vicious fighting nature, criminal associates, and involvement in foreign intrigue. He stated, in his opinion, Ruby definitely did not have criminal instincts and was a loyal American citizen. He stated he considered Ruby to be normal except that he appeared unusual in the sense that he was extremely sensitive and hot-tempered.

Colvin stated that, in view of the length of time that has elapsed since his association with Ruby at Keesler Field, he is unable to recall specifically instances which would illustrate Ruby's quick temper and sensitive nature.

Colvin advised that during 1952 when he operated the Showtime Lounge in Chicago, Illinois, Jack Ruby and his sister, Eva, appeared there on several occasions. He stated, however, that he never cultivated a close friendship with Ruby after their Army days and he saw him only very infrequently during 1952.

Colvin advised he is unable to recall any close associates of Ruby at Keesler Field, stating that he considered himself to be the closest friend of Ruby during that period of time. Colvin further stated that he could not recall any evidence of Ruby possessing a hearing defect or Ruby wearing a hearing aid during the time he knew him at Keesler Field, Mississippi, or prior to his entry into service.

Colvin concluded by stating that Jack Ruby's brother, Hy Rubenstein, who sells floral supplies in Chicago, possesses much of the same temperament as Jack Ruby and he stated that this individual could probably be the best illustration of the nervousness and excitable demeanor that Jack Ruby possesses.

Federal Bureau of Investigation

Interview with Barney Ross Concerning Jack L. Ruby

Barney Ross was interviewed at the New York Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on June 4, 1964. He furnished the following information:

He resides at 301 East 86th Street, Apartment 10E, New York, New York, and is employed by the Milton Blackstone Advertising Agency, 201 West 37th Street, New York, New York, where he is engaged principally in public relations work. He is 54 years of age. His true name is Barney Rosofsky, and in his early boxing days, he also used the name Barney Ross. He never has had his name legally changed to Barney Ross.

Ross pointed out that in his autobiography although he stated that he had at one time worked for Al Capone, he never did actually work for Capone.

When he began his boxing career as an amateur about 1926 in the 26th Ward of Chicago, Illinois, he associated with a group of about twelve youths, among whom was Jack Ruby who had the nickname "Capone". One of the people with whom Ross and others of this group became acquainted was Al Capone. Ross did not realize at the time that Capone was a big time racketeer and he is sure that others of this group also did not realize Capone was a big time racketeer. Later about 1927 when Capone began receiving a great deal of publicity, Ross did realize that Capone was a big time racketeer and had very little association with Capone after that.

When Ross first began his career in boxing, he trained and boxed at the Kit Howard Gymnasium located in the "loop" area of Chicago, Illinois. When Ross sought, tickets for the fight were sold for about 25 cents each and Capone, on several occasions would buy all the seats in the gym and then give the tickets away to fans who supported Ross. He estimated the seating capacity of the gym was about 125.

Commission Exhibit No. 1285

Jack L. Ruby;
Lee Harvey Oswald - Victim

He recalled that occasionally Capone would give Ross or one of the members of the group with whom he associated a dollar to run "pimpolos" around. He mentioned that on several occasions Capone would give one of them a dollar to deliver an envelope to someone in the downtown section of Chicago. Ross believed that these envelopes, which were sealed, did not contain any messages or anything of value. He believed that Capone did this in order to make them think they were earning a dollar and in order to keep them from hanging around the streets. Ross observed that when he would run such an errand for Capone, the envelope he carried did not appear to contain anything.

Ross never had any financial support from Al Capone or any business dealings with Capone other than indicated above. He furnished the names of the following as associates of Al Capone who were fans of Ross, but Ross said he would not describe them as close followers:

Ralph Capone
Matty Capone (who are brothers of Al Capone)
Murray Humphries
Frank Nitty
"Thin Tony" Capesio
"Machine Gun Sam" Hunt

The only persons whom Ross could recall as being friends of Jack Ruby, who followed and supported Ross, were Ira Collins, who he believes has an interest in the furniture mart in Chicago, and Lou Koppel who still resides in Chicago, Illinois. Ross described Lou Koppel as one of his closest friends who has known Ruby since Ruby was about five years of age and, in fact, knew Ruby before Ross did.

Ross knew that Eva Grant was a sister of Jack Ruby, but he hardly knew her. He would have recognized Eva Grant if he had seen her in the street, but he was never closely associated with her or any other members of the Rubinstein family. He knew that Jack Ruby had two other brothers, but he had very little contact with them and did not even know their first names. Ross could not recall ever being in the Rubinstein home.

Jack L. Ruby;
Lee Harvey Oswald

Ross believed that Ruby might have seen Capone at the Kit Howard Gymnasium in Chicago, Illinois, about 1926 and might have run innocuous errands for Capone, but he had no knowledge of any other relationship between Al Capone and Jack Ruby.

He did not know of any criminal activities ever engaged in by Jack Ruby, and he pointed out that among the group there he and Ruby associated with, none of them had ever carried a knife, gun or other dangerous weapon.

Ross had no knowledge that Jack Ruby was ever involved in the illegal sale, possession or use of narcotics.

JACK L. RUBY

He bought the Clover Bar next to the Sherman Hotel on Clark Street after selling the Realto Rail and operated that bar from 1948 until 1953. In 1953 and part of 1954 he operated a distributorship for the Blatz Brewery in Chicago. In 1954 his cousin who was a prominent lawyer in Chicago wanted him to leave the bar business. His cousin purchased the Porcor Factory at Green Bay, Wisconsin, and gave him stock in it and a position in the firm. That firm makes folding chairs and tables and he handles sales for that concern, in Chicago with offices at the American Furniture Exchange, 866 North Lake Shore Drive in Chicago.

To his knowledge he does not have an arrest record, however, in the latter 1930s he was involved in a number of brawls involving the German American Bond and on several occasions spent the night in jail, being released the following morning without charges being filed.

Colitz recalled that he knew of Jack Ruby two or three years before he was aware of his name. Ruby frequented the same neighborhood as he and he frequently saw him in the neighborhood area. Ruby is a few years older than he is and naturally in their younger days, they travelled in somewhat different groups. In about 1938 he first recalled knowing Ruby's exact identity inasmuch as Ruby and his partner Leon Cook attempted to persuade the 'Ike peddlers to form a union'. Colitz's father was considered a wealthy scrap iron dealer and had a large yard located at 3700 South Kedzie, Chicago. Leon Cook's father operated a small yard and sold material to Colitz's father. Leon Cook was an attorney by profession and also assisted his father in the operation of his scrap iron business. In their attempt to unionize the scrap peddler, Cook and Ruby were somewhat successful and made considerable headway in this venture. Subsequently Cook was killed while resisting a robbery attempt and Ruby was unable to carry on the organization. Later on, Paul Doffman took over the organization which eventually led to the formation of the Junk and Waste Material Handlers Union. It is Colitz's opinion that Cook was a very high type individual and solicited Ruby's help in this union in that he believed the peddlers needed to be organized for protection of their business as well as to gain a sufficient wage. Colitz's only association with Ruby in connection with the organization of this union was the fact that Ruby and Cook attempted to organize his father's employees in their yard. Colitz also believes one reason for Ruby's leaving the union was that progress was too slow and Ruby was more interested in making a "fast buck".

During the years 1941 and 1942, while he was engaged in the bar business, Ruby frequently visited his bar along with many other friends and acquaintances they mutually knew from their neighborhood area on Chicago's west side. Colitz left his father's business primarily because his father demanded regular hours of him and since he also wanted to engage in a venture on his own without his father's intrusion.

Shortly before he entered the United States Army, two southern college students visited his bar and made insulting remarks to the colored piano player he utilized for entertainment. These remarks were somewhat uncalled for and on this particular night, Ruby happened to be in the bar and took offense at these remarks. A scuffle occurred between Ruby and the two students which he finally settled by asking the college students to leave. He had always realized that Ruby had a quick temper and was always trying to help anyone who was attacked by any means. He also realized that Ruby involved himself in situations in which he was not invited. Ruby as well as others in their Jewish crowd spent considerable time at the Lawrence Hotel, which was also known as a good restaurant prior to World War II and which was frequented by prominent people. It was a place to meet as was Duke Miller's Restaurant and the Club, at 12th and Kedzie Avenue. Miller was a former boxing referee, was an older individual and was somewhat of a leader among the Jewish group on the west side. He was also considered as a gambling house of the area and was always a soft touch for a couple of bucks for anyone who was in need of financial assistance. He was a well-liked man, respected and interested in sports.

There was no certain time when Colitz was in contact with Ruby or any others in the Jewish group. There were usual meeting places where they would congregate and oily occasion they would not see one another for two weeks at a time. Ruby was a natural-born salesman and took great pride in being able to sell most anything. He spurned regular employment for a nominal wage in preference to being able to travel throughout the country selling novelties, notions, knickknacks, and anything which might sell for a specific occasion. He was also considered a good ticket scalper and travelled to various sporting events to ply this trade. Ruby made most of Barney Ross’ fights and frequently travelled to New York to scalp tickets on same.

Ross during the 1930s was idolized by the west side group of Jewish people which included Ruby, Colitz and their crowd. Ruby’s closer friends were those who were also more interested in selling. As in Ruby’s case, it was necessary for him to continually earn money in order to help support his family which was unlike Colitz, inasmuch as his family had some wealth and he did not have to contribute to same. Colitz does not feel that Ruby could have been described as a “lone” inasmuch as he was readily accepted by their crowd and was liked by all. Because of his enthusiasm and interest in most everything, he received the nickname “Sparky.” During the middle 1930s Ruby was away from Chicago—often and spent some time in California with Solly Schulman, a former fighter from the west side of Chicago who seemed fond of Ruby. Schulman had a restaurant in San Francisco but died about eight years ago.

Ruby and his sales promotions, although appearing to be somewhat “shady” in nature, were legitimate and he was able to induce people into buying various wares that could be classified as seconds or irregulars but still were first class merchandise. Being a good salesman he was obviously somewhat of a con-man, however, he was not the type to take advantage of someone who could not afford it. To his knowledge Ruby had no close associates in any of his selling adventures and preferred to be on his own.

During the late 1930s there were many meetings in the Chicago area of the German-American Bund. These meetings occurred throughout the city of Chicago and were generally against the Jewish people. Upon learning that a Bund meeting was being held, that information would be telephoned to places like the Lawndale Pool Hall, Dave Miller’s Restaurant, and other hangouts of the Jewish following and they would automatically go to that meeting and attempt to break it up using violence. During these brawls, invariably some of the Jewish crowd including himself, as well as Ruby, ended up in jail and generally stayed overnight. To his knowledge seldom were charges preferred against him and he, Colitz, was never convicted nor were charges filed against him for this involvement.

The Jewish participants in these attacks on the Bund varied in number and there was no organization of same to handle this type of action. This was a spur of the moment reaction to knowledge that a Bund meeting was taking place and the Jewish people felt it necessary to attempt to prevent same. No individuals with communist or socialist leanings were in their groups to his knowledge. In addition no meetings were had to plan such attacks. Ruby, like himself, was only one of many participants and neither was a leader. Dave Miller’s participation in same was primarily that of advising the group that he was aware a Bund meeting was being held and he in turn would call other gathering spots to alert them of this fact.

While operating the Clover Bar, Colitz recalled that Ruby visited his bar on only one occasion while being in Chicago and away from his business in Dallas, Texas. In 1946 while operating the Realtor Rail Lounge, he was visited by Ruby who had just been released from the military service. Ruby saw the praises of the military service and his country. Colitz realized he was somewhat unusual in that many other individuals had also served in the military service and did not have the enthusiasm which Ruby showed. At that time Ruby asked Colitz to loan him $5,000 inasmuch as he wanted to invest in his sister’s bar in Dallas. Colitz refused this loan and subsequently received a telegram from Ruby asking for $2,500. This he also refused.
Since about 1948 he has not seen Ruby and his only knowledge of same until the recent publicity given him was that on occasion friends would remark that they had visited Dallas and had seen Ruby.

Colitz is acquainted with Joe and Morris Kollman, John Mc Donald, Sally Schulsman, previously mentioned, Frenchie and Don Medivione, Art Wayne, Buzzie Riffkin, Frank Howard, Jack Howard, Irwin Berke, Ben Epstein, Bennie Barrisch and Lou Graverman. He knew these individuals from Chicago's west side and to his knowledge Ruby was no more acquainted with them than himself. That acquaintance was out of their coming from the same area and travelling together as a group. Colitz cannot recall the identity of Martin Gimple, Mike Nenestin, Alex Gruber, Sam Gordon, Harry Epstein and Seymour Chazin. He is not aware if Ruby could have been close to these individuals. He recalled that Buzzie Riffkin was somewhat close to Ruby as was Bennie Barrisch. Riffkin now is employed in nightclubs on Chicago's near north side, while Barrisch is in the Los Angeles or San Francisco, California, area and employed by a whisky company.

Maurz Kahn, editor of a nightlife magazine in Chicago, should know Ruby inasmuch as he was also one of the group who traveled in a west side crowd. Colitz knows of no close relationship Ruby has had with anyone in Chicago since leaving here in 1945.

The above grades are under the system of A for average, E for excellent, G for good, and P for poor.

Rubenstein's grades for 8A were not shown, but the record reflected he was promoted to grade 9B. The name of the school to which he was promoted was not shown.

Rubenstein was absent six days in grade 7A, twelve and one half days in 8B and twenty days in grade 8A.

Mr. O'Connell advised that his records contain no other information and that he does not know where Rubenstein attended high school.

Dr. John F. Byrne, Principal, John Marshall High School, 3250 West Adams, Chicago, advised on June 8, 1964, that he has made a complete search of his records and that he was unable to locate a record for Ruby. He stated that his files contain the records of John Marshall High School and the former Manley High School.

Mr. A. W. Shapiro, Assistant Principal, Crane High School, Chicago, advised on June 8, 1964, that his files, which include Crane High School, Medill High School and McKinley High School, contain no record of Ruby.

Stanley Murphy, Assistant Principal, Cregier High School, 1829 West Grenshaw, Chicago, advised on June 8, 1964, that his files, which include Cregier High School and Manley Vocational High School, contain no record of Ruby.

Miss Kathryn O'Brien, Secretary to Dr. Thaddeus Lubera, Associate Superintendent, In Charge of Instruction, Chicago Board of Education, 228 North LaSalle, Chicago, advised on June 9, 1964, that in November, 1963, Dr. Lubera attempted to verify the education of Ruby and that he could not locate any record of Ruby attending high school in Chicago. She advised that Dr. Lubera stated that he believes that Ruby advised the newspapers that he attended Medill High School in Chicago.

It is to be noted that the records of Medill High School were checked, and no record of Ruby was located.

PERSONAL

Below is a resume of the data collected and clinical evaluation done at the Institute for Juvenile Research on Jack Ruby in 1922.

The report consists of three sections. Section one contains a systematic presentation of the data as it was recorded in the case record. Section two contains a psychiatric evaluation of the data contained in the case record. There is no evidence in the record that such an evaluation was made by the psychiatric staff at that time. You will also note that it is our impression that the material in the case record is sketchy according to current psychiatric standards. With these qualifications the following report is hereby submitted.

CASE RECORD SUMMARY

Name: Jacob Rubenstein
File No.: 4376

Institute for Juvenile Research

1. Factual Data - Based on the material compiled from the case history.

4. Background Information: Jacob was admitted to the Institute for Juvenile Research on June 6, 1922. He was 11 years and 8 months old at the time and April 26, 1911, (ChICAGO) was stated as his birthdate. The family was described as "pathetically dependent" and their address listed as 3647 Roosevelt Road, Chicago. The family occupied a five room apartment with electric light and gas, with a bathroom inside in the hallway. The monthly rent was $3 2. Patient slept in the same bed with two brothers. The referral was made by the Jewish Social Service Bureau and the reason was given as follows: "truculence and insubordinate at home." He was described as quick-tempered and disobedient. At the time of admission Jacob attended 5th grade.

a. Background Information (cont'd):
7. Sam, 9 years in school, grade not known, described as nervous.
8. Steve, 7 years in school, truant from second grade.
9. Ida, 5 years

b. Clinical Information: The clinical data and part of the basis information apparently was collected through semistructured interviewing methods. The bulk of the record, however, consists of two identical sets of self-administered questionnaire forms. One set filled out by the mother and the other presumably by the patient (obviously someone filling it out for the patient). Some of the questions produced information more or less significant but most of the questions were irrelevant. Among other things this questionnaire form reveals that patient always had a taste for eating at home, did not belong to any clubs, was not a member of any athletic team. He was not fond of his parents, but still preferred his father to his mother. The question "do you like girls?" was answered with "no" on the other hand the question whether he liked boys or whether he had any friends with "yes." It was evidently from the questionnaire that he was not a sleepwalker and a bedwetser but he did bite his nails. Both mother and patient felt he was bigger than other children in his class but contrary to his mother's statement, patient found that he was stronger than others. He also differed with author about his department which in his opinion was good. Jack felt that his classmates were picking on him and he gave his nickname as "Jack" whereas his mother thought that his nickname at school was "Jackass." Jack indicated that he wanted to be a mechanic but felt he was too little to know why he chose this occupation. He also felt that he did excel in athletics and swimming and that his work was at least as good as that of others. Though he had friends, he could not get along with them. He was described as being a good ballplayer and was proud of making a home run. In general, patient tended to describe himself on more negative terms than the boy's self-description indicated. The mother complained mainly about his disobedience at home and school. She did not consider him a leader and thought he ignored his friends to lead him. The mother answered with "yes" the question whether he ever broke his word or whether he ever planned to injure anybody. Mrs. Rubenstain also indicated that though she was fond of patient she was not proud of him.

The educational history reveals that he entered the public school system at the age of 4 years and he always attended public school. At the time of the examination he was in the low fifth grade and it was stated that he never repeated a grade. His best subject was arithmetic. His worst subject was spelling and history. His department at school was considered not too good. The statement that he did not go to Sunday School probably refers to the fact that he did not have religious education outside of the public school system.

A psychiatric interview with patient yielded the following additional data: "He is cooperative, talks freely and states that he does not like to live at home because he does not like his mother. States his mother likes to him and he beats him so he runs away. It was also mentioned that there were frequent quarrels between patient and mother. He would give no other good reason for running away from school except that he went to different parks. He has some sex knowledge and is greatly interested in sex matters. He stated that the boys in the street tell him about these things. He also claims that he can lick everyone and anybody if anything he wants to do." It was also noted on the "mental test" that he reacted quickly, often carelessly, his attention was apt to wander so that he had to be held to task. There was no evidence of sex delinquency, though it was mentioned that patient masturbated frequently.

Psychological Examination
A Stanford-Binet Intelligence test was administered on July 6, 1922, and yielded an IQ of 94.

Physical examination revealed that his height was 51.3 inches and his weight was 64.7. He was well developed but not well nourished. The physical examination was essentially negative except for the following two items:
1. The thyroid gland was found to be somewhat enlarged.
2. Bithacites were not completely descended yet.

Follow-up Action taken by the Institute
On July 10, 1922, the following letter was addressed to Miss London, Representative of the Jewish Social Service Bureau then located at Follow-up Action (cont'd).

1800 South Street. The letter which summarizes the diagnostic conclusions and makes recommendations reads as follows:

"Dear Madam: This boy was examined by me on July 6, 1922.
Physical examination showed no findings of special importance.
By mental test he gave 10 years, 7 months and his IQ is 99.
This boy was cooperative and tallied freely his attention wandered and he states that he does not like to live at home because he does not like his mother. States his mother_beats him so he runs away. He could give no adequate reason for running away from school but said that he wanted amusement parties. He has seen more knowledge and is greatly interested in sex matters. He stated that the boys in the gang tell him about these things. This patient is egocentric, states that he can lick everyone and is as good as anybody at anything he wants to do. The boy is egocentric and expects much attention and is unabashed as to what there are many children at home. His behavior is colored by his early sex experiences, his great interest and the gang situation in the street. From a superficial examination of his mother who was harsh with him, it is apparent that she has no insight into his problem and that she is inadequate in the further training of this boy. It is therefore necessary that he be put into a new environment where his characteristics will be understood and where he will get adequate supervision and recreation.
This will tend to take the IVIS interest away from the street gang and will be a good substitute for his sex delinquency."

On March 9, 1923, the Jewish Social Service Bureau inquired at the Institute about the progress of the boy. They complained that they had not received a written report and had to rely on several telephone contacts.
They reported that he had been referred to the Jewish Welfare Society for placement and that placement could be arranged. It would be necessary for the agency to have a report from the Institute.
The case at the Institute was closed with the following letter to the agency:

"In our last conference with regard to this boy the conclusion reached was that the mother's mental and general behavior is such that it is impossible for her to adequately give this boy the right kind of training and supervision. In our last conversation with the boy it was noticed that he felt that his mother was inferior, therefore, he did not have to abide by her rules. Placement in a home where intelligent supervision and discipline can be given him is recommended.

Director
Institute for Juvenile Research"

III. Evaluation of the factual information

From the point of view of current psychiatric knowledge the above data is sketchy and contains many gaps so that it is not possible to make a diagosis with any degree of certainty. A few facts, however, seem firmly established.

1. Family relationships were characterized by a high degree of instadibility and disorganization. The family's ability to care for children was impaired. All the children were involved in some form of deviant behavior. This seemed to be related to the nature of the mother's disturbance.
She might have been an emotionally

2. The unstable and disorganized home could not provide the boy with the necessary control and discipline. His relationship to both parents was apparently poor and while he claimed that he preferred his father, he evidently had serious conflicts with his mother.

The evaluation does not contain a formal diagnosis. The term used in place of diagnosis "egocentric" would be very hard to translate into any of the modern diagnostic categories. It is strongly implied, however, that the poor social environment and the emotional, possibly

Evaluation of the factual information (cont'd)

also material deprivation were considered as causative factors. The gross maternal inadequacy and the complete breakdown of limit setting and disciplinary parental functions were obviously considered as the main causative agents. It is also hinted that father's absence from the home might have played a role. Jack's contacts with delinquent or quasi delinquent sub-cultures, street gangs, etc., might also have been contributing to the problem.

4. The data failed to yield any definite information concerning any possible Central Nervous System damage. Electroencephalographic examinations were not yet available in 1922, neither were any clear concepts formulated yet as to how central nervous system dysfunction might influence the more subtle aspects of behavior. Consequently, the data contained in the record do neither support, nor rule out the presence of some mild degree of central nervous system involvement.

5. No physical condition of any local importance is mentioned in the record. The note on enlarged thyroid glands appears to be a very marginal finding with a questionable significance. The only medical finding of some interest is the undescended testicles. This may be of a certain physical as well as psychological importance.

6. Measured by contemporary standards the clinical methods utilized to gather the information were inadequate. The testing methods, e.g., the self-administered questionnaire forms are grossly outdated and many of the questions asked were outright naive from the point of view of our current knowledge. Such isolated data for instance as "May average IQ 96" convey little useful information. It can be stated, however, in summary, that even on the basis of very incomplete and even archaic clinical data, it was possible to formulate certain valid conclusions about Jacob Rubenstein's background and family situation.
Re: JACK L. RUBY;
LEE HARVEY OSWALD – VICTIM

Local 20467, about 2½ years ago, became affiliated with the International Union of the United Transport Service Employees, AFL-CIO, 444 East 63rd Street, Chicago, Illinois, and therefore, it is no longer a federally chartered union.

Mr. Yancy explained that the original seal and charter are now at the AFL-CIO headquarters at the AFL-CIO Building, 815 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., under the custody of Mr. William Schutzler, Secretary. Several years ago when Local 20467 was investigated by a United States Congressional Committee, all of Local 20467 records were shipped from this office to the AFL-CIO headquarters. As a result, none of the old records are available in Chicago.

Concerning the general nature of the activities of Local 20467, Mr. Yancy cited page 7 of the "Report and Recommendations of AFL-CIO Vice President Joseph A. Belzne, Hearing Officer to President George Meany, Regarding Charges Against Waste Material Handlers Local 20467 and Paul Dorfman" dated July 30, 1957, which reads as follows:

"Dorfman's testimony was quite lengthy. According to his testimony, the Waste Material Handlers Union, then known as the Scrap Iron Handlers Union, was in existence before he was connected with it. Prior to 1939, Dorfman had been a business agent for the Retail Clerks Union in Chicago and had also worked for the Painters Union and other unions in the Chicago area. In 1939, the Local Union, which had been largely a shake-down operation, collapsed as a result of a fight between the two men who were running it. Dorfman was asked by the Regional Representative of the American Federation of Labor to take over the Local and attempt to reorganize it. He went

... work in the industry and was subsequently elected as Secretary-Treasurer of the Local. At that time, the Union had no assets and virtually no organization.

Mr. Yancy pointed out that subsequently, Paul Dorfman was removed as Secretary-Treasurer of Local 20467 and the Local was placed in trusteeship.

Mr. Yancy stated that he has never been a member of Local 20467, and he is not personally acquainted with Jack Ruby. The only individuals he could suggest who might be helpful are Mrs. Gladys Walsh, the Office Manager of Local 20467, and Harry Young, an original member of Local 20467 who is now working for the Lissner Paper Grading Company in Chicago.

Mrs. Gladys Walsh, Insurance Administrator, Local 20467, 72 East 11th Street, Chicago, Illinois, furnished the following information on June 8, 1964:

She has been employed as a clerk in the office of Local 20467 since 1939.

Mrs. Walsh made available a copy of the second charter issued to Local 20467 by the American Federation of Labor on August 19, 1941. This charter was issued to the Waste Material Handlers Union, Local 20467, for the purpose of changing the name of the union from that of Scrap Iron and Junk Handlers Union, Local 20467, which union was originally chartered by the American Federation of Labor on March 11, 1937.

The names of the following officers, without title designation, are contained on the face of the above charter:

further recalls the talk in the office at the time was that Joe Medill was the name of a west side boxer, and there was speculation in the office that the individual who was working with Ruby as an organizer was using the name of Joe Medill as an alias. She has no idea where Medill is today, and she never heard of him after he and Ruby left the union. She suggested that perhaps Ruby might know Medill's present whereabouts.

Mrs. Walsh explained that she is the only old-time employee left at Local 20467. At about the time Ruby was there, the membership totaled an estimated 300 to 400 members. There were no business agents, just the two organizers, Ruby and Medill. The members of the union were employed by contractors handling rag, scrap and paper.

She can recall nothing concerning the reputation of Ruby except to say that she heard nothing adverse about him. Ruby seemed to her at that time to be a very normal person. Both Ruby and Medill were in their mid-20's at that time. She only recalls one strike involving Local 20467, and she believes that was during the time when Paul Dorfman was the Secretary-Treasurer. She does not believe that Ruby was with Local 20467 at the same time that Dorfman was associated with it but rather, that Leon Cook, deceased, was the Secretary-Treasurer when Ruby was there, which she believes was in about 1939.

Mrs. Walsh identified the following individuals, in addition to Cook, as possibly being the officers of Local 20467 at the time Ruby was employed there:

Jack Martin, President
(deceased)

Harry Young, who is still a member of Local 20467.

When she first went to work for the union, it was located at 188 West Randolph Street, Chicago, in the year 1939. Shortly after she commenced her employment, the union moved to offices at 3159 West Roosevelt Road, Chicago, also in that same year, 1939. Subsequently, the union moved to 130 North Wells Street, Chicago, year unrecalled, where it remained until April, 1968, at which time the union moved to its present address at 72 East 11th Street, Chicago.

Harry H. Young, Assistant Foreman, Lissner Paper Grading Company, 1050 North Branch Street, Chicago, Illinois, furnished the following information on June 8, 1964:

He did not join Local 20467 until Paul Dorfman became an officer in the union in about 1941. He never met or saw Jack Ruby, and he never saw or knew of a Joe Medill.

Sometimes after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in November, 1963, he believes he participated in a conversation with Jerome Snyder, who is the owner of Huron Paper Stock Company, 2334 West Fulton Street, Chicago, Illinois, and Austin Sullivan, a fellow employee at the Lissner Paper Grading Company, at which time he understood Snyder to recall the following incident:

About 25 years ago, Jack Ruby was attempting to organize the employees of the Lissner Paper Grading Company at their plant at 1801 North Leavitt Street, Chicago, Illinois. Leon Cook was with Ruby and an argument developed as the result of which Ruby pulled a gun.

Other than the above, he never had any association with Ruby and did not know him by reputation. He does not know the whereabouts of any of the former officers of Local 20467 (listed above).
Mr. Moyer Lissner, an official of the Lissner Paper Grading Company, 1050 North Branch Street, Chicago, on June 8, 1964, advised that he did not know Jack Ruby very well, but that he does recall on one occasion about 25 years ago when Ruby accompanied Leon Cook on a visit to the company office. Although Ruby just sat there during the conversation, he nevertheless left him with the impression that he was sort of "nutty" at the time. He could furnish no further basis for this impression. He never heard of Ruby pulling a gun on anyone.

He never heard of a Joe Medill, and he said that other than Leon Cook, he did not know any of the union officers (listed above) when Ruby was with Local 20467.

Austin Sullivan, Assistant Foreman, Lissner Paper Grading Company, 1050 North Branch Street, Chicago, advised on June 8, 1964, that he has been employed by the above company since 1920. He joined the union in about 1937, and he specifically recalls that Harry Young, also still employed by the Lissner Paper Grading Company, was the union steward at the time. He believes the union had a good reputation in 1942 and prior to that time.

He never knew Jack Ruby, and he does not know the whereabouts of any of the former officers of the union (listed above). He never heard of Joe Medill.

1 Sullivan specifically denied having had a conversation with Jerome Snyder of the Buron Paper Stock Company, and he never heard any story to the effect that Ruby had pulled a gun on anyone. He does not know a Joe Medill, or of anyone by a similar name ever being connected with Local 20467.

Sullivan identified Forrest Williams as an old-time member of Local 20467 who is presently employed by the Lissner Paper Grading Company.

Forrest Williams, laborer for the Lissner Paper Grading Company, 1050 North Branch Street, Chicago, Illinois, advised on June 8, 1964, that he has been employed with this company since 1930, and that he joined Local 20467 sometime during the 1930's. However, he does not know Jack Ruby, Leon Cook or Joe Medill. He never heard anything about Ruby until November, 1963. He recalls that Leon Cook was a former officer of that union. He does not know the whereabouts of any of the former officers of Local 20467 (listed above), and stated that it is his belief that Local 20467 had a good reputation in 1942 and prior thereto.

He recalls Jack Ruby as an organizer for Local 20467 about 25 years ago, and he believes that Ruby worked for Local 20467 with another individual, "possibly" his (Ruby's) brother. At the time he, Snyder, was employed by the Lissner Paper Grading Company at 1801 North Leavitt Street, Chicago. Ruby did make an effort to organize the employees there on one occasion. At no time did Ruby engage in any type of violence, to his knowledge, and Ruby never pulled a gun on anyone, to his knowledge. Furthermore, he has never made a statement to anyone to the effect that Ruby pulled a gun on someone. He has not had a conversation with Harry Young or Austin Sullivan concerning Ruby.

He does not know the whereabouts of any of the former officers of Local 20467 who held their jobs when Ruby was employed by that Union. He never heard of a Joe Medill. At the time Ruby was connected with Local 20467, the union had a good reputation, as far as he can now recall.

JACK L. RUBY; LEE HARVEY OSWALD - VICTIM

AFL-CIO Local 20167, Chicago, Illinois, by communication dated February 2, 1961, directly affiliated with the United Transport Service Employees of America. This affiliation became effective January 26, 1961, and was attended to by Daniel J. Leary, Regional Director, AFL-CIO.

Mr. Kimmel advised that the National Headquarters did not maintain a record of individual union membership, and therefore, he could not produce any records which would identify individual union members of a local for a specific year. He explained that they also do not maintain any list of union officials or business agents other than that which is included on the original charter record.

Mr. Kimmel advised that during the period 1937 to 1951, while Local 20167 was affiliated with the AFL-CIO, it could not have been jointly affiliated with any other national or international union in such dual membership was not permitted. He stated that this did not rule out the possibility that this local had been affiliated with another Chicago Labor Federation which was city-wide and not national in scope.

Mr. Kimmel stated that when Local 20167 transferred its affiliation in January, 1961, it had a total of 814 members as compared to its original membership of 60. He explained that any disciplinary action such as the expulsion of a member is handled entirely by the Executive Board on the local level and that the National Headquarters would not be informed of such action. The only way in which such a matter would come to the attention of the National Headquarters would be if the particular member filed a grievance petition with the Headquarters. Such a petition would be maintained in the file of the individual local union.

Mr. Kimmel recalled that following the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald by Jack L. Ruby, articles had appeared in the local press concerning Ruby's prior affiliation with Local 20167. He stated that these clipping had been placed in another file which concerned legal action involving this particular local. He explained that in 1956, the committee on ethical practices of the AFL-CIO had conducted an exhaustive inquiry and investigation into the activities of Paul Dorfman, the Secretary-Treasurer of Local 20167. As a result, Dorfman was suspended and the Union placed in trusteeship. Among the material compiled by the committee which was used in this hearing were photostatic copies of the minutes of the meetings held by Local 20167 during the period encompassing February 3, 1949, to June 3, 1954. Examination of these minutes contained only one reference to one Jack Rubinstein. The minutes of this particular meeting are set forth below:

"Minutes of Meeting, 2/3/49

A meeting of the officers and Executive Committee of the Scrap Iron & Junk Handlers Union No. 20167 was held on Friday, Feb. 3, 1949, at 8 p.m. in the offices of the Chicago Federation of Labor, 665 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, Illinois.

"Brother Driegel acted as chairman.

"The Executive Committee present were Mr. Paul Dorfman, Sec.-treas.; Mr. Jack Rubinstein and Miss Walsh. Our president, Mr. Mallon was not present due to illness.

"The Executive Committee present were Miss Kettie Johnson, Mr. Alf Johnson, B. D. Bauman, Clarence Evans & James Logan. Miss Doris Ellis asked permission to attend the meeting to report to the members at her plant that the union is still in existence & not disbanded as rumors have it. Permission granted.

"Brother Driegel called the meeting to order. Brother Ercan was unable to attend the meeting owing to the fact that it was the opening night of "The Fiend," one of the largest affairs of the Labor Organization. He then spoke on the organization of our union from the beginning, with a short summary of its activities & explained that his aim in the future is to have a good union that will demand for its members fair wages, good working conditions & a clean union. He said that the American Federation of Labor was going to use to it that we have a clean organization. Iu. Briendel gave a few illustrations where unions were not being run in the order they should, and pointed out where unions have made contact with the members if a union clause was in the agreement.

"Brother Briendel then addressed the Executive Committee & told them they should have no animosity toward the American Federation of Labor & that they would go on, with the guidance of the Executive Briendel, cooperation of all officers in the organization to be placed with the members, if they have any grievances, to bring them up at the meetings, and not to be afraid of their job, as some of them seem to do. He also cited a few cases he has had before the Wage & Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor.

"Brother Briendel then brought up the subject of conducting meetings & instructed the members that he would give them any advice desirable in such matters and that an open report would be read at each meeting.

"Brother Frock, who is also steward at his plant, reports that some of the members who are in favor of the union, but he thought that 60% of them were for the union. He also brought to light the fact that the union agreements should make the minimum rates of wage for pressure, pickers, incentives, etc.

"Herman Ellis reported that members at Joba Paper Company complained that the rate of union dues of $1.00 was too high & in his opinion should be reduced to $1 per month.

"Brother Briendel explained to him that the aim of the union in the future is to increase wages to the point where their investment would only be a small part of their earnings.

"Slater Johnson asked for something definite to report to her plant in regard to vacations, etc. & Bro.

Jack E. Riedy; Lee Harvey Oswald - Victim

Briendel assured her that he would keep this in mind but could make no definite promises at this time.

"Brother Briendel continued the members that the main objective of the union at this time was job security, with a seniority roster set up & also advised that all agreements before being presented to plants for consideration be adopted by the union. He then brought out the question of Local 626 & explained to the Executive Board that they have a right to select leadership of men outside of the craft in the case of Brother Rodriguez of the United States, law & other workers as a precedent.

"Then came the question of Local 626 & explained that all of which are to be taken up at the next meeting to be held at the Rubber Workers Hall, 1024 S. 16th Street, Monday, Feb. 17th at 8 p.m. Brother Briendel explained that he is having circulars printed & distributed through all of the plants as to the meeting & asks the Executive Committee to advertise as much as possible.

"Reporting on the case of Brenda Carter, Bro. Briendel explained that after the investigation, he found she was only hired during the busy season.

"Bro. Briendel, after asking for any more questions or suggestions, moved that the meeting be adjourned. So ordered.

"Meeting adjourned.

Mr. Kimmel advised that a thorough examination had been made of all records maintained at the National Headquarters for Local 2900, and that the only instance in which the name of Jack Rubenstein has been maintained. He noted that in the minutes of any previous meetings prior to February, 1960, there is no evidence of the possibility that they could still be maintained by the Local under their present affiliation with the United Transport Service Employees of America, Chicago, Illinois. He stated that was no additional information in their records to indicate that the nature of the union's activities had ever been other than the collection and processing of scrap materials.

Mr. Kimmel advised that based upon the information contained in the minutes of local 2900 meetings, it would appear that Jack Rubenstein had not been present at any Meetings subsequent to February 2, 1960. He noted that Rubenstein had not been a union official and that the fact that his name had been mentioned in the minutes of a particular meeting would possibly indicate he had been present for a special purpose.

He noted that if any disciplinary action had been taken against Rubenstein, such as his expulsion from the Local, it would not necessarily appear in the minutes of the meeting, due to the fact that activities of this type are often conducted off the record.
Mr. STEPHEN ANDREW BELANCIK, 8 Murphy Avenue, Bristol, Rhode Island, occupation machinist, J. C. BLISS COMPANY, 97 Constitution Avenue, Bristol, Rhode Island, recounted that he was born August 18, 1917, at Torrington, Connecticut. He served in the U.S. Air Force from May, 1942, to November, 1945, at which time he was honorably discharged as a Staff Sergeant with U.S. Army Serial No. 310747056.

Mr. BELANCIK recalled that he first met JACK RUBY sometime in the period April to June, 1944, when he and RUBY were stationed at Blueenthal Field, Wilmington, North Carolina. At that time, JACK RUBY was known to him as JACK RUBENSTEIN and was a P.O.W. with a military reputation as aircraft mechanic assigned to the 31st Fighter Squadron. Mr. BELANCIK recalled that RUBY had told him he originally came from Chicago, Illinois, and prior to World War II he had been engaged in a wholesale toy and novelty company with his brother in Chicago.

RUBY was single. At no time during his association with RUBY was BELANCIK aware of any sexual interests or practices on the part of RUBY. BELANCIK never remembers RUBY having a date with members of the opposite sex, and at that time RUBY never displayed any homosexual tendencies.

He pointed out that shortly after he met RUBY he moved from the barracks to the base to join his wife in quarters off the base and therefore had less contact with JACK RUBY.

BELANCIK said he had no information which would indicate that RUBY during the period he knew him had any criminal associations. He recalled that RUBY liked to gamble but his gambling activities were usually confined to card games and dice games in or near the barracks. RUBY never gave any indication of any intense interest in politics and appeared to be an adherent of the Democratic Party. In BELANCIK's opinion, RUBY was not favorably disposed to communism or any other radical political system. He recalled RUBY as an emotional person who was quick to lose his temper whenever

IRVING ZAKARIN was interviewed at the offices of Lee Yao Belt and Novelty Company, 5th Floor, 135 West 27th Street, Manhattan, New York, where he is employed as a foreman by this firm. He furnished the following information:

He resides at 14 Spector Lane, Plainview, Long Island, New York, with his wife and children.

He was in the United States Army Air Force during World War II, and in 1944, he was stationed at Blueenthal Field, North Carolina. He was transferred about June, 1944, from this Field to another Army Air Force Unit, at Chatham Field, Georgia. He could not recall the name or number of this unit with which he was stationed at Chatham Field. Also transferred with him from Blueenthal Field to Chatham Field was JACK RUBY.

He served at Chatham Field with JACK RUBY for about one year, and then ZAKARIN was transferred to another Field and had no further contact with RUBY after leaving Chatham Field.

At Chatham Field, ZAKARIN served as an airplane mechanic with about 15 other men, including JACK RUBY. These men were also transferred to Chatham Field about the same time. They sprangled F-47s which were classified as "transit aircraft", and there were usually about six of these planes handled by their service group.

While at Chatham Field, ZAKARIN was probably RUBY's closest friend. They frequently went on liberty to nearby Savannah, Georgia, usually to meet some girls.

NY 44-974

One of the places they frequented was known as "Be Pep", a bar owned by a man named GULLY. They also frequented the De Soto Hotel, the Ogletorpe Hotel, and the USO (United Service Organization) Club, both in Savannah and Savannah Beach, Georgia.

RUBY did not smoke or drink, but was the type of person who liked to go out and have a good time and be with other people. RUBY was friendly, good natured, and readily loaned money to his close associates. RUBY appeared to him to be a normal male insofar as his sexual behavior and interests were concerned. There was never any indication that RUBY was homosexual.

ZAKARIN felt that RUBY was very emotional. He recalled that when President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT died in April, 1945, RUBY had cries and expressed great admiration for President ROOSEVELT. Although he was the type who would do anything for his friends, he could on occasion become violent when aroused. On one occasion, when he was working on an airplane and a minor accident occurred, RUBY and another crew member became involved in an argument. This crewman, who was a Buck Sergeant and came from Texas, and whose name was unknown, called RUBY a "new bastard". RUBY then attacked this Sergeant and beat him with his fists. This was the only occasion that ZAKARIN could recall when RUBY became violent, and ZAKARIN was surprised as he had never expected that RUBY would become so angry when he was called a name by another person.

RUBY was about 24 years of age at the time and the oldest man in the group. RUBY always worked harder than the younger men in the group in order to prove that he could keep up with them, which he always succeeded in doing. When they were required to train on an obstacle course and were supposed to go over the course once, RUBY would frequently do the course twice in order to prove that he could keep up with the younger men.
RUBY frequently brought up the fact that he was closely associated with BARNEY ROSS, former welterweight boxing champion, and displayed pictures of himself with ROSS, which were apparently taken at the time ROSS was welterweight champion in the late 1930s. ZAKARIN believed that RUBY had displayed photographs of himself with other well-known personalities, whose names ZAKARIN could not recall.

ZAKARIN never knew RUBY to engage in any criminal activity and had no known criminal associates. RUBY did speak of his upbringing in a poor section of CHICAGO, and had mentioned that he sold newspapers to earn money when he was young.

ZAKARIN described RUBY as a loyal American citizen, and he never knew him to engage in any political activity. His interests seemed to center around sports.

ZAKARIN could only recall the name of one member of the service group, and that was a Sergeant (first name unknown) LOGISSEN (phonetic), who was a "Line Chief" in their service group. The man in charge of the group was a Lieutenant or a Warrant Officer named ROSENSWIG (phonetic). There were two pilots who were stationed at Cuahna Field, Georgia, and who flew the P-47s serviced by this group. They were Major DONING and a Captain DAY, and ZAKARIN believed they were stationed at this base for quite a few months while he was stationed there.

ZAKARIN believed that RUBY's parents were deceased at the time, but RUBY was apparently fond of his sister, named EVA, who frequently sent him packages of food.

On June 15, 1964, George W. Gamboney, 5132 West Madison, Chicago, Illinois, advised he was a member of Local Draft Board 124, Chicago, during 1940-1942. Frank M. McKey and William S. Wilcox were also members of the board and a Mrs. Carey was the Clerk during that time. He advised that the other members of the board were "fly by nights" and never actually participated in the board's affairs but were merely members in name only. To his knowledge both Mr. Wilcox and Mr. McKey are now deceased. Both they and the other individuals connected with the board were in their sixties during the early 1940's and he was the youngest man connected with it. He is now sixty-two years of age. The person who would most likely recall if Jack L. Ruby was registered with the Board would be Mrs. Carey, the former Clerk. He personally had never heard of Jack L. Ruby or Lee Harvey Oswald prior to the assassination.

On June 15, 1964, Mrs. William S. Wilcox, Jr., 5131 South Campbell, Chicago, Illinois, stated her father-in-law, William S. Wilcox, had been deceased for the last ten years. She stated that he, Mr. George Gamboney and Frank M. McKey were the active members of Local Draft Board 124 in Chicago. She advised that Mr. McKey was deceased. She stated, however, that Mrs. Bernard Dempsey, 2221 West 103rd Street, Chicago, William S. Wilcox's daughter, could probably furnish information concerning the location of Mrs. Carey.

On June 16, 1964, Mrs. Bernard Dempsey, 2221 West 103rd, Chicago, advised that her father, William S. Wilcox, George Gamboney and Frank M. McKey were the only active members of Local Draft Board 124 to her knowledge. She stated her father has been dead for ten years and Mr. McKey has been dead for about the same length of time in Chicago. She was able to furnish information up to the location of Mrs. Clarence Carey, former Clerk of Local Draft Board 124.

On June 16, 1964, Mrs. Clarence Carey, 4221 Newcastle, Chicago, stated she was the Clerk of Local Draft Board 124 from September, 1940, until May, 1947. Mrs. William S. Wilcox was the Board Chairman and Frank M. McKey and George Gamboney were members of the Board. Harold Meckel was also a member, but he never attended the meetings. She recalled that Alfred W. Anderson and William A. Boll were also members but they took no active part in the operation of the Board. She was quite certain that the only surviving member of the Board was George Gamboney.

Mrs. Carey stated that the Board handled 6,000 registrants during the war years and she personally could not recall Jack L. Ruby. She stated she had never heard of Ruby or Lee Harvey Oswald prior to the assassination.

July 10, 1927.

Miss Ethel London, Social Service Bureau, 1600 Selden Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Miss London:

This boy was examined by us on July 6th.

Physical examination showed no findings of special importance.

By mental tests he graded ten years seven months, and his intelligence quotient is 97. This is adequate intelligence.

The boy was cooperative and talked freely, his attention was good, and he stated that he does not like to live at home because he does not like his mother. States his mother beats him and so he runs away. He could give no adequate reason for running away from school, but said that he went to numerous parks at this time. He has some sex knowledge and is greatly interested in sex matters. He stated that the boys in the street tell him about those things. This patient is apathetic and states that he can lick everyone and is as good as anybody at anything he wants to do.

The most important factor in this boy's problem is the home situation. He is apathetic and expects much attention, but is unable to get it as there are too many children at home. His behavior is further colored by his early sex experiences, his great interest and the gang situation in the street. From a superficial examination of his mother, the one here with him, it is apparent that she has no interest into his problem, and that she is thoroughly inadequate in the further training of this boy.

It is, therefore, very advisable that he be put into a new environment where his characteristics will be understood, and where he will get adequate supervision and recreation. This will tend to take his interest away from the street gangs, and will be a good substitute for his sex delinquency.

Very truly yours,

Acting Director Institute for Juvenile Research.

RE: Jacob Rubinstein

Dear Madam:

In your last conference with Dr. Sherman, regarding this boy, the conclusion reached was that the mother's mentality and general personality were such that it was impossible for her to adequately give this boy the right kind of training and supervision.

In our last conversation with the boy it was noticed that he felt that the mother was inferior and that he, therefore, did not have to abide by her rules.

Placement in a home, where intelligent supervision and discipline can be given him will in all probability improve his present behavior and his future conduct.

Yours very truly,

Mr. GILES MILLER, 3415 Westminster, University Park, Texas, residence 3416 St. John's Drive, Highland Park, Texas, furnished the following information:

In approximately the fall of 1959, he met JACK RUBY through a former business associate of his, MILLER, J. D. "JACK" SCHATZ.

He advised SCHATZ told him that RUBY was a friend of his who wanted MILLER to meet. He said he and SCHATZ went to the Sovereign Club and while there, in conversation with SCHATZ, he recalls RUBY saying that he had been exiled from Chicago and although he wanted to go to California, he had been directed to come to Dallas.

MILLER advised he did not pay too much attention to the foregoing conversation as RUBY impressed him as a "typical Chicagoan".

He said subsequent to the meeting with RUBY, he received a membership card to the Sovereign Club and thereafter, visited the club on six or seven occasions, the last time being in April or May of 1960. He said he only recalls seeing RUBY in the club on three or four of these occasions.

MILLER advised RUBY appeared to be trying desperately to get people with money, or influence to join his club.

"MILLER advised he recalls seeing BLACKIE SHECH, a sports writer with one of the Dallas newspapers at the Sovereign Club on one occasion.

MILLER advised he does not recall ever having seen LEE HARVEY OSWALD with RUBY or at the Sovereign Club.

ARTHUR DOUGLAS COHEN, permanent residence 10450 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, part owner in the Douglas Furniture Corporation, 1920 East Maple, El Segundo, California, was interviewed in his hotel room at the Reef Hotel, Honolulu, where he is currently vacationing.

COHEN advised that he was in the furniture business in Chicago, Illinois, for many years up to November, 1951, when he moved to Los Angeles, California. At a time, best recalled as sometime between 1930 and 1945 and extending over a period of five to ten years (he was unable to fix this period more accurately), COHEN was acquainted with SPARKY RUBENSTEIN, then age thirty, who has since been identified by him through newspaper photographs as identical with JACK LEON RUBY. COHEN first met RUBENSTEIN as a customer in the same barbershop which both regularly patronized at the corner of Landale and 12th Streets in Chicago. The two barbers in that shop, HARRY GILBART and HARRY STURMER, were well acquainted with RUBENSTEIN in those days and are believed to know his closer friends in that period.

The barbershop was frequented largely by persons active in sports and had a long line of regular customers. Through this contact and frequent contacts through the five to ten years, COHEN came to know RUBENSTEIN as only a casual acquaintance and had no separate social contacts except occasion having a drink together in a nearby cocktail lounge. COHEN emphasized that RUBENSTEIN only had soft drinks on these occasions and was never known to either drink, smoke, or curse. He apparently resided with his family somewhere on Independence Boulevard near Harrison Street section in the so-called eastside of Chicago, while COHEN resided about one mile distant on the "westside." COHEN never had occasion to visit RUBENSTEIN's home nor meet members of his family.

The two barbers are both presently in business and residing in the Beverly Hills, California area. HARRY GILBART, who is considered the "Number One Barber in Beverly Hills," operates the Rothschild Barbershop on Beverly Drive, while HARRY STURMER is associated with either the Beverly Hilton Barbershop.

or Comb and Shears Barbershop, both located in the Beverly Hilton Hotel or in the latter-named shop at its Beverly Drive location.

COHEN recalled that RUBENSTEIN left Chicago ahead of his own departure prior to 1951, approximately 1948, and at the time indicated he was going to Dallas, Texas, to run a bar for an older sister.

During this period in Chicago, RUBENSTEIN was never known to be regularly employed but was like some other younger men who frequented the above barbershop, a so-called "hustler," buying various merchandise items such as watches at special prices and reselling at discount prices. He was described as good looking, dapper, clean-cut, a person of very good manners, and very gentlemanly with women on the few occasions COHEN observed him in female company.

Specifically, COHEN was never aware of any association by RUBENSTEIN with any known or suspected hoodlum elements nor was he ever suspected of any un-American sympathies or affiliation with any suspected leftist or extreme rightist groups.

COHEN never attended the same school with RUBENSTEIN since they resided in different neighborhoods, and they did not meet until after RUBENSTEIN was out of school. COHEN believes that at one time RUBENSTEIN aspired to being a prize fighter, but he was never known to have entered into training. RUBENSTEIN could suggest no close acquaintances or friends of RUBENSTEIN pointing out that his only known associates were others patronizing the barbershop, but he believed that the two barbers, above, could provide further information on RUBENSTEIN's closer associates in that period.

Following his last contact with RUBENSTEIN in Chicago about 1948, COHEN had never seen or heard about him until the news story broke regarding his shooting of OSWALD.

COHEN recalled that one AL GOLDEN, an employee of the Westube Corporation at 10450 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, involved some problem regarding the night club business.

JONES stated he has known Captain FRITZ, Dallas Police Department, for 30 years and Police Chief CURRY for a number of years. He does not believe CURRY has ability or the desire to do the job and that if Captain FRITZ had been handling the OSWALD arrest with complete authority, OSWALD would not have been killed. He said he does not know how RUBY was allowed to be in the police department and reiterated the opinion RUBY must have been paying off someone in the police department.

He said he is not aware of any of RUBY's activities other than those in the Dallas area.

He had never heard of OSWALD prior to the assassination of the President and had no knowledge of any relationship whatsoever between RUBY and OSWALD.

The following descriptive and background data concerning JONES was obtained during this interview:

Dear Mother,

In the past few days I have received 5 letters from you dated Nov. 25, 1951, and one on Dec. 12, also an envelope bearing the postmarks of Nov. 28 and Dec. 12. It seems a little surprising that you have just now written to me.

I am grateful to have your letters, which are always welcome. I hope you and the baby are well. The letter from you on Dec. 12, I think, was written on Dec. 10, and the baby was born on Dec. 11. I am glad you have enjoyed the Christmas season and have had a good time.

I am enclosing a letter from the doctor on Dec. 20, 1951, in which he speaks of the baby's progress. The doctor is very pleased with the baby's condition and expects it to continue to improve. He has also mentioned the possibility of the baby's first birthday celebration, which I hope you will be able to participate in.

I am grateful for your constant support and encouragement. I will do my best to carry on with my work and will keep you informed of any developments.

With warmest regards,

[Signature]

Dear Mother

In the last few days I have received 5 letters from you dated Feb. 25 clippings and Mar 1st also in one letter some more clippings thanks a lot for them

I'm glad you know about the baby also.

They seemed to write a lot about me in the paper's, Rob talked too much, but I'm glad to see you supported me in your own way.

I had written a letter to the Secretary of the Navy in Jan. 1962 I got a reply yesterday from som General telling me about the reversal of my honourable discharge into an undesirable one.

we should be in the States in May at the latest the Embassy has agreed to loan me $500.00 for the trip, and also they excepted my own affidavit of support so yours won't be necessary after all, however don't try to get that business man friend of yours to cancel his affidavit, it may come in handy some day.

as you say my trip here would make a good story about me. I've already thought about that for quite awhile now, in fact, I've already made 50 pages of longhand notes on the subject.

All is well with Marina and the baby, her length at birth was 50 centimetres (I don't know how many inches that is but everything is normal, right down to June's little fingernails

I don't think well be at this address much longer so it is not advisable for you to write here.

The reason for the delay in some letters and the speed in others is because of the Russian censor who reads all letters.

I was not aware you sent other letters to me in the Hotel when I lived in Moscow as I left there for Minsk after I wrote that letter.

I cannot say where we shall go at first probably directly to Vernon.

Love xxx

Lee

June is getting big now allready 2½ months old.

She's real cute. I know you'll like her.

Who is Mr. Phillips? Since you work at a new place now, do you still have contact with him?

who will the elections for governor be in Texas?

Do you get any word from Pic?

Write soon.

They had spent my diplomacy, but I hope you understand. I am sorry to hear you are not well. I hope you are better now.

Dear Mother,

Sorry to take so long to write but I thought sometime might have come up but we're still waiting.

I received your birthday card on the 14th thanks for the thought.

I'll be glad to get any books you send in the future you might include some fashion magazines for Marina also if you remember it.

Marina's maiden name was Pr Provsakava, her aunt and uncle address in Minsk is

Minsk
Ut. Kalirina 42, Apt 20
Proocakoria

they don't speak any English, howe her uncle is an army colonel, soo to retire.

You needn't worry about my losing American citizenship I only do that if I want too, and I don't want too.

For my birthday Marina sent me a gold and silver cup with the inscription "to my Dear Husband on his birthday 18/8/61" very nice don't you think, Marina is on her vacation now, she is spending it with her aunt in the city of "KHAPNOV" about 600 miles South-East of here. Shes just relaxing and taking it easy from work and the house work.

We both agreeded that she should go to a new enviroment on her vacation, but she comes back in a few more days on the 29th of October. Her aunt Palina's address is the city of "KHAPKOV"

VEZO TREENKLERA
HOUSE 5, APT. 7
MIKHAILOVICH, P.

Marina, unfortionily, doesn't speak any English at all, I would like her to learn, and I've bought some books for her on the subject but for now she doesn't want to learn, she speaks a little French already, (she learned in grammer school), and she doesn't want to study another language for now, she really does not have the time you know, what with her working from 10-5 and then the house-work but it doesn't matter for now.

Well, thats about all for now.

I'll try to write more often.

Love,
Lee

Did you recive my letter with some pictures of Minsk in it??

The following investigation was conducted in Chicago, Illinois, November 24, 1963:

NATE ZUCKERMAN, bartender at the "Front Page", a Chicago tavern owned by JAMES ALJERSTEIN, advised SA AUGUST C. KEMP that he had known numerous members of the Chicago criminal element for the past twenty years but does not recall JACK RUBY or JACK HUBRENSTEIN. ZUCKERMAN stated that the only HUBRENSTEIN he knew was HARRY HUBRENSTEIN, the former owner of the Olympic Hotel.

ERVIN "BUD" RIPKIN, Manager, "La Bistro", a near northside Chicago night club, advised SA JOHN R. BASKETT that he was a good friend of JACK "SPARKY" HUBRENSTEIN. He stated that HUBRENSTEIN had attended Marshall High School in Chicago many years ago at which time RIPKIN first met his acquaintance. According to RIPKIN, HUBRENSTEIN was not connected with the criminal element in Chicago and made his living while in this city by the purchase and sale of low cost merchandise.

RIPKIN advised that HUBRENSTEIN was a good friend of ART WAYNE, a singer whom he believed might reside in Hollywood, California. Another close friend of HUBRENSTEIN was one YVIE (phonetic) JACOBS, a small-time entertainer whose whereabouts is unknown to RIPKIN.

RIPKIN advised that a few years ago HUBRENSTEIN came to Chicago accompanied by a young Negro boy seven or eight years old for whom HUBRENSTEIN was acting as a manager. RIPKIN stated that the young Negro boy made a television appearance on some show, the identity of which he could not recall.

RIPKIN indicated that he had not seen HUBRENSTEIN for the past two or three years, but frequently hears from him. He stated that he has frequently referred female friends, who are visiting Dallas, to HUBRENSTEIN, and HUBRENSTEIN occasionally refers girls to RIPKIN when they visit Chicago from the Dallas area.

Lt. HARRY SMITH, Chicago Police Department, advised SA JOHN R. BASKETT that he recalled "SPARKY" HUBRENSTEIN as having preceded him by a few years at Marshall High School. He stated that as long as he had known HUBRENSTEIN, the latter was completely "legitimate" and had no known criminal connections.

FRANK KLECKMAN, Special Assistant, United States Attorney, Chicago, advised the Chicago Office of the following information:

He had received on that date from JACK WILNER, a crime reporter on the Chicago Daily News, information that WILNER indicated he had received from his "syndicate sources" information reflecting that JACK RUBY in the mid 1950's was associated with JOE KANSOW and LOU SIMON, the latter being presently in Las Vegas, Nevada. WILNER had been given to understand that RUBY, KRASNOW and SIMON had been involved in a "bookmaking" arrest in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, between 1933 and 1935. Following this arrest, RUBY returned to Chicago and according to WILBUR's source was arrested once with HARRY KNEHOSHE on charges of "confidence games".

Mr. KRASNOW also furnished the following information received from JACK WILBUR, above:

WILBUR stated his "syndicate sources" reflect RUBY was reportedly involved in 1947 with JACOB STERN, PAUL BAKIOLA, MARSHALL KATZ and PAUL RONALD JONES, in effort to take over gambling in the Dallas, Texas area. Also involved allegedly were SYDNEY GUTTENBERG, Sheriff of the county, and one GEORGE BUTLER. WILBUR advised information on this situation appeared in the KEMPFAUER hearings in 1950 and that several individuals were convicted in Dallas in the above connection. (In connection with the above, one GEORGE BUTLER, Dallas Police Department, is known to have been an investigator for the late Senator KEMPFAUER in connection with his investigation of criminal activities a number of years ago.)

The Chicago Office has advised that DAVID BYRON, General Manager, Automotive Products Division, Federated Industries, Antioch, Illinois, appeared on a television program of ALFRED DREIS on the afternoon of November 24, 1953, indicating knowledge of RUBY.

BYRON on interview by Special Agents of the FBI stated he met RUBY as JACK KUHNESTEIN as a neighborhood acquaintance in the Humboldt Park area of Chicago and knew him casually from about 1928 to 1931. He did not know his family or employment. He stated after his, BYRON's, absence from the neighborhood and state he returned to Chicago and sometime during the period 1939 to 1942 recalled reading in Chicago newspapers which had accompanying photographs of HUBERSTEIN, known also to BYRON as "BUCKY", that HUBERSTEIN had been president of some "junk dealers' union" in Chicago and outsiders were trying to "mushle his out" of the union. A shooting occurred, and HUBERSTEIN was charged with killing a man. He was arrested, convicted and sentenced in Chicago on this charge and served in prison on a location unknown for "a little over a year".

BYRON did not see HUBERSTEIN during this period in Chicago and understood he left Chicago about 1943 or 1944. In about 1946 when he intended a business trip to Dallas sometime in Chicago suggested he look up JACK KUHNESTEIN who was said to be at the "Silver Spur" or "Golden Spur", South Airways Street in Dallas. He did so and between 1946 and 1950 stopped in the "Silver Spur" on perhaps ten occasions.

In 1946, HUBERSTEIN told BYRON he had changed his name to JACK RUBY and asked BYRON not to tell anyone in Chicago of his whereabouts as he was "trying to live down" his Chicago background. He said RUBY mentioned that his sister, un married, owned the "Silver Spur". He said he never met relatives or business associates of RUBY in Dallas. He said he had no information that RUBY was involved with hoodlums in either Chicago or Dallas, that he had any form of subversive sympathies and that RUBY had no homosexual tendencies to his knowledge.

A check of records of the Chicago Police Department reflected one HARRY HUBERSTEIN, hotel owner, Chicago, was convicted of manslaughter in 1946, sentenced to one year probation.

Indics of the Chicago Office contains no information identifiable with LEO SIMON, JOSEPH KRASNOW, TEDDY JACOBS, ART WADDE or HARRY KNEHOSHE.

JOHN JEROME CAPONE, brother of ALPHREDO CAPONE, (deceased), advised SA JOHN R. BASSETT on November 25, 1953, that he did not know JACK RUBY, also known as Jack Huberstein, although he was generally acquainted with many of the "so called criminal element" in the Chicago area. CAPONE volunteered he was highly incensed over the killing of LEE HARVEY OSWALD prior to his trial for the assassination of President KENNEDY. He said he felt RUBY must have been insane or motivated by subversive groups. He added that if such was not the case and that if this killing had any criminal overtones, he would attempt to elicit this information from associates and advise SA BASSETT should such be the case.

Detective RICHARD K. SWAIN, JR., Dallas Police Department, advised that shortly after the shooting of JACK RUBY of LEE HARVEY OSWALD on November 24, 1963, he had been instructed to proceed to a parking lot located on the northwest corner of Main and Pearl Streets where RUBY had parked his vehicle, described by SWAIN as a 1960 white, two door Oldsmobile. After arriving at the place where the vehicle was parked, SWAIN and other detectives proceeded to examine the vehicle and located the key to the trunk in the glove compartment along with identification papers for JACK RUBY as well as other items, and on opening the trunk found the ignition key and numerous other papers belonging apparently to RUBY as well as a paper sack which contained $837.50. In addition, there were located in the trunk two pair of aluminum knuckles and various items of advertising and SWAIN advised such items were brought to the Homicide and Robbery Division of the Dallas Police Department and subsequently lodged in the property room of the Dallas Police Department under lock and key.

On November 24, 1963, Detective GUS ROSE, Homicide and Robbery Detail, Dallas Police Department, was contacted and advised that department had in their possession numerous items taken on November 24, 1963, from a 1960 Oldsmobile owned by JACK LEON RUBY.

JACK KANT, Salesman for Baruh Liqueur, 4001 Suy Street, advised on November 27, 1963, that he met RUBY in 1932 or 1933 at San Francisco after RUBY had come from Chicago. He states RUBY was close friend of BENNIE BARRISH, who was being managed at the time by KANT. KANT only knew RUBY casually, recalled he lived in Tenderloin Area, San Francisco, and attained income from selling fight tickets and selling watches. RUBY lived with his sister in San Francisco and departed San Francisco in the late 1940's. His whereabouts thereafter unknown to KANT. KANT stated no indication of any un-American leanings or beliefs on part of RUBY.

ART POSNER, Patrolman, San Francisco Police Department, home address 35 Wanda Street, San Francisco, California, advised SA WILLARD E. BASEMAN on November 27, 1963, he recalled meeting JACK LEON RUBY, whom he knew as JACK and "SPARKY" about 1935 when he, POSNER, worked on a newspaper circulation crew. RUBY, BENNIE BARRISH and BILLY VEPRIN (phonetic) all came to San Francisco from Chicago together at the same time and all were in the newspaper circulation business. He recalled RUBY was a circulation crew manager but he did not recall which San Francisco newspaper RUBY was affiliated with. In those days, there were four newspapers in San Francisco, "The Evening Call", "The News", "The Chronicle" and "The San Francisco Examiner" and a good circulation man, although working for one newspaper, could sell a subscription to another paper and still receive the commission. He was only a casual acquaintance of RUBY and believes that he saw him around San Francisco until around 1936 or 1937. BILLY VEPRIN, he believed, went to Guam prior to World War II and became quite wealthy in the laundry business, returned to San Francisco and was a partner in Tommy's Joynt, a Hoffbrau Restaurant, in partnership with TOMMY HARRIS in San Francisco. This restaurant was sold subsequently to SAM GORDON, a former friend of RUBY from Chicago. He has not seen RUBY since the late 1930's and had not heard anything of him until November 24, 1943.

On November 27, 1963, Mr. REUBEN ARIAN, residence 3789 Fillmore Street, San Francisco, owner "Supply Sergeant", a surplus store at 1550 El Camino Real, Redwood City, California, advised SA WARREN M. RICHMOND as follows:

Mr. ARIAN in the 1930's resided in San Francisco and worked as a circulation supervisor for the "San Francisco News". He stated that in this capacity, one of the people that worked for him was EVA GRANT. He said that also working off and on for the "San Francisco News" during the Depression was a person he recalled as EVA's brother and known to him as "SPARKY" RUBENSTEIN. Mr. ARIAN stated that SPARKY, as he knew him, was then a good looking man, well liked by man with a good personality who was able to earn two or three dollars a day by door-to-door sales of newspaper subscriptions. Mr. ARIAN advised that he was not particularly close to SPARKY at that time and knew EVA GRANT much better since she worked directly under him attempting to get newspaper subscriptions for the "San Francisco News". Mr. ARIAN stated that RUBENSTEIN was nicknamed SPARKY because of his short temper, but none the less he was well liked and a good, door-to-door salesman. ARIAN recalled that EVA GRANT, when he knew her, lived on Jones Street in San Francisco between Ellis and Eddy in an apartment above Foster's Cafeteria. At that time she was married, lived with her husband and son RONNIE, then six to eight years of age.

Mr. ARIAN recalled that SPARKY, whom he recognized from recent newspaper articles and pictures as JACK RUBY, resided nearby, perhaps on Eddy Street in The Herald Hotel. ARIAN recalled EVA to be an excitable person, always talking and agitated. ARIAN stated that to his recollection SPARKY had no interest whatsoever in politics and did not recall that SPARKY had ever expressed admiration for President ROOSEVELT or any criticism or any other person or any other philosophy of government. According to ARIAN, although he did not know SPARKY well, SPARKY was never arrested while in San Francisco. ARIAN advised that he has not heard of SPARKY until the end of the last week end.

AS far as ARIAN could recall, SPARKY was not married and principally associated with a JACK STEVENSON and HARRY SOLLIVANT (phonetic). ARIAN recalled that like SPARKY SOLLIVANT came from Chicago. It was ARIAN's recollection that SOLLIVANT indicated he had known gangsters in Chicago prior to coming to San Francisco and he did not recall that SPARKY had ever professed knowing any gangsters in Chicago.
ARIAN reiterated that although RUBENSTEIN was known as SPARKY when in San Francisco, and was given that name because of a temper he knew of no occasion when that temper had caused any difficulty for SPARKY. ARIAN recalled SPARKY as using the name of RUBENSTEIN and did not know him as RUDY.

Mr. RUDY located Irving Sport Shop repair tag number 18374, which is undated and contains the name "OSWALD" as the owner of the gun being repaired. The tag reflects the work as being "drill and tap $4.50" and "bore sight $1.50" for a total of $6.00. The tag contains no additional information, is prepared in pencil, is not dated and Mr. RUDY stated this is the only record in existence of this transaction. RUDY said the tag was prepared by himself. He pointed out that as there is no record of sale of mounts or other items this would reflect that customer OSWALD brought in the gun scope and mounts with it, only work being performed which was drill and tap and bore sight. Mr. RUDY stated that the work for OSWALD was performed between November 1 and 14, 1963, and the only other person employed in the store during that period was CAROL BERRY, a clerk who resided at 2392 Druid Drive, Irving, Texas.

Mr. RUDY stated he has no recollection of mounting a side mount of the type on the gun used to assassinate President KENNEDY but pointed out that during the past few weeks he had attached a tremendous number of scopes, therefore, it is possible he did mount this scope and does not have any recollection of it at this time.

Mr. RUDY viewed a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, taken August 9, 1963, after which he stated that he cannot be positive that OSWALD has been a customer in the Irving Sport Shop but is quite sure that he has seen and/or talked to OSWALD probably in the store. He stated that he associates OSWALD's picture with that of an individual who brought in an Argentine made rifle about two weeks ago and he, RUDY, attached a scope on that gun. He pointed out that an Argentine rifle of the type he has in mind has a different bolt assembly than does the gun used to assassinate President KENNEDY, therefore he cannot be definitely sure that the person he has in mind is identical with LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Miss CAROL BERRY, 2302 Druid Drive, Irving, Texas, stated she is employed as a clerk by the Irving Sport Shop, 221 South Irving Boulevard.

After viewing a photograph of the gun used to assassinate President KENNEDY and a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD taken August 9, 1963, she stated she cannot recall either the gun or OSWALD ever being in the shop. She stated she has no recollection of a gun being in the shop during the recent past that had a side mount carrying strap but pointed out that a carrying strap can be detached with relative ease, therefore, she cannot be sure the assassin’s gun was not in the shop.

Mr. DIAL D. HYDER, 2208 Harvard (BL 3-4876) stated he is employed as service manager, Irving Sport Shop, Irving, Texas. Mr. HYDER advised that he has never known LEE HARVEY OSWALD and only has some recollection of talking to an individual who he believes was OSWALD and thinks that the person was probably a customer in the sport shop. Mr. HYDER said he believes he has met LEE RUBY, this being several years ago at some of the Dallas night clubs but has no specific recollection of ever meeting RUBY and said that he, HYDER, has no knowledge of any acquaintanceship or association between LEE HARVEY OSWALD and LEE RUBY.

Mr. DIAL D. HYDER, 2208 Harvard (BL 3-4876) stated he is employed as service manager, Irving Sport Shop, Irving, Texas. Mr. HYDER stated he has Irving Sport Shop repair tag #18374 which is undated and contains the name “OSWALD” as owner of the gun to be repaired under that particular repair tag. He stated he has no specific recollection as to the customer whose gun was repaired under that particular repair ticket and cannot state that the customer was or was not LEE HARVEY OSWALD and said he cannot be positive OSWALD has been a customer in the sport shop but is quite sure that he has seen and/or talked to OSWALD probably in the store. He said repair ticket #18374 was utilized some time between November 1 and November 18, 1963, but he has no recollection of the customer being accompanied by a woman and two small children. He said he does not associate the customer with any automobiles as he is usually in the workshop that is located in the rear of the store, therefore, he seldom sees the customers arrive and depart. He said he cannot recall the individual who he believes was OSWALD driving any type of car and does not associate him in any way with a blue and white 1956 or 1957 Ford or Plymouth.

The gunsmith said that insofar as he could remember the customer Oswald bought no ammunition from him.

He said Oswald could have been in his shop on other occasions but Oswald has a 'common face for this part of the country' and he couldn't say for sure he had seen the man.

"The work done on the rifle consisted of drilling three holes - at $1.50 each - to mount the telescopic sight and the bore sighting. Bore sighting consists of locking the rifle in a vise and sighting to a mark through the barrel and adjusting the sight to agree with that sight."

"No actual firing of the rifle is required for bore sighting. The price for that service was $1.50."

On Sunday, December 1, 1963, telephonic call was made to the home of Dial D. Ryder. He stated that he was leaving his home with his family and would not be available for interview until Monday. However, he stated that the newspaper story as reported above was in error and that he was satisfied that he had not done any work for Oswald. He said that he had an undated work slip indicating that sometime ago he mounted a sight on a rifle for a man named Oswald and that the slip indicated that he had drilled 3 holes in the receiver of a rifle for telescopic mount at $1.50 a hole and had bore sighted a rifle for an additional $1.50, making a total charge of $6.00. Ryder claims that he cannot recall what kind of mount, scope or rifle he worked on. He claims to have been misquoted in the newspaper article and he is certain, after viewing the photographs of Oswald, that he had never done any work for him and, in fact, had never seen him. He further stated that he had examined a Carcano 6.5 mm rifle only the day before and is now certain that he has never, at any time, done any work on such a rifle. He also stated that he has been informed that the mounted type on Oswald's rifle was of a Japanese manufacture and he has no such mounts in his shop as he uses only the following makes: Redfield, Bushnell, Weaver and Bausch and Lomb. Ryder stated that he had been interviewed by an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on Monday, November 25, 1963, and that on Wednesday and Friday had been interviewed by a woman who stated that she was from the White House Press. On her last interview with him she informed him that the rifle used by Oswald had been sold by Klein's of Chicago, complete with a mounted scope.

Ryder resides at 2028 Harvard Street, Irving, Texas, telephone IL 1-6876 and operates the Irving Sport Shop, 221 E. Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas, telephone IL 3-5399.

DISPOSITION

No further inquiry will be made of Ryder unless directed otherwise.

Gunsmith Attached Sight for Man Named Oswald

By JOHN HEBRERIS
NEW YORK TIMES

DALLAS, Nov. 29 — A gunsmith from Irving, Tex., said, that he equipped a 6.5-mm caliber telescope sight to a pistol that Oswald had been seen holding over his head on Nov. 6.

The gunsmith, Dick D. Ryder, said he could not remember the name of the customer.

Mr. Ryder found a record showing that he had mounted and adjusted a sight on a gun that President Kennedy would have been equipped with a telescopic sight the day he was assassinated.

Statements by persons familiar with the circumstances of the killing showed that Oswald had no way of knowing when he took the job at the Texas School Book Depository that it would provide a vantage point for assassinating the President.

Oswald returned to Dallas early in October after a mysterious trip to Mexico and began looking for work, according to persons who saw him daily at that time.

It had been announced here on Sept. 28 that President Kennedy would visit Dallas, but no parade route was disclosed. The parade route was not decided on until shortly before the President's arrival and it was not published until the morning of his death.

White Oswald was looking for work. His Russian-born wife and child lived with him.

Mrs. Oswald spoke no English.

Oswald's wife, was at home when the police arrived, according to persons who saw her daily.

She was not present when the police arrived, according to persons who saw her daily.

The police and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation refused to disclose information about another gun that Oswald was supposed to have and child lived with him.

Oswald was a friend of a Russian-speaking woman who had been trying to reach her to offer to take her and her daughters into her home.

Mrs. Oswald says she doesn't speak English.
that night and were interviewed. They advised that they had been in business there since 1953; that they are only involved in the importing of eye glass frames and that they are in no way involved in the manufacturing of ordnance optical equipment. They also stated that they had no information to any industries by the name of Ordnance Optics Incorporated. Their files were checked for the names of Lee H. Oswald and Willi Randall but they were not of record there.

November 23, 1963, St. Horn interviewed Lt. Manuel Pena, Robbery Division, Los Angeles Police Department, Serial No. 3266 and his partner, Sgt. Jesus Gonzales, Serial No. 3924. Through their information it was determined that a Frank J. Bartley, owner of the Better Gun Shop, 11029 Washington Blvd., Culver City, deals in telescopic gun sights and that he would be the logical person to whom to speak. It was known that Rattin obtained his sights from a European company and that these scopes were used in great amounts on hunting guns.

That date, Lt. Pena, Sgt. Gonzales and St. Horn went to Rattin's Gun Shop, 11029 Washington Blvd., Culver City, and interviewed Mr. Rattin. He stated that he is the sole importer of the gun sights that bear the inscriptions of "Lee B. Coste, Optician Optics Inc., Hollywood, California, 625 Japan with a cloverleaf with the initials enclosed of OGC." He advised that he had telephone the FBI, Los Angeles, on November 22 and advised them of this fact after he had seen a picture of the assassination weapon on television. Mr. Rattin stated that he has been selling these sights for the last three or four years, mainly to Klein's Sporting Goods, a mail order house of 6514 West Madison, Chicago 24, Illinois. Mr. Rattin also advised that he had sold a quantity of the sights to Dave's House of Guns, 25th Elm, Dallas, Texas, but stated that Klein's Sporting Goods would be the logical place of business that Oswald would have purchased the gun sight as well as the gun. Rattin said that the gun and sight are usually sold in a package deal for something less than $200.00.

Rattin said that the weapon used was a modified model of an Italian Carcano, a Carcano made in Tardi, Italy. Rattin stated that the rifle is called a Carcano and or a Turdi and that these names are interchangeable.

Records of Mr. Rattin were checked for the years 1960-63 but no records of Lee H. Oswald or Willi Randall were found.

This information was immediately relayed to SAIC Spanan by St. Horn. SAIC Spanan then telephoned SAIC Buck and advised him of the above data.

DISPOSITION
Investigation on this matter is being concluded at this time.
The following investigation was conducted by SAs HENRY J. OLIVER and LOUIS M. KELLEY.

Mrs. SUE HUGHES, employee, Retail Merchants Association, Irving, Texas, on December 12, 1963, advised that the only person named OSWALD in the files of this credit association is JERRY A. OSWALD, 423 Hughes Street, Irving.

LEON POWERS, Chief of Police, Irving Police Department, Irving, Texas, on December 12, 1963, advised the records of this police department contain no arrest record in the name of OSWALD. Mr. POWERS also checked with the city water department but the only OSWALD located was JERRY A. OSWALD, 423 Hughes Street.

A check of the City Directory and the telephone directory of the city of Irving, Texas, revealed only one person named OSWALD. This person was listed as JERRY A. OSWALD 423 Hughes Street.

Commission Exhibits No. 1332
The following information is set forth in connection with a request of Mr. W. J. Liebeler of the President's Commission, with respect to the determination as to when the interview with Mr. Dial D. Ryder, Irving Sport Shop, Irving, Texas, occurred with regard to publicity concerning Ryder having a repair ticket for an individual by the name of Oswald.

On November 25, 1963, Mr. Dial D. Ryder, 2028 Harvard, Irving, Texas, employed as service manager, Irving Sport Shop, Irving, Texas, viewed a photograph of the gun used to assassinate President Kennedy, after which he stated he did not sell the gun on that gun as this is not the type of gun handled by the Irving Sport Shop and he did not recall the gun.

Mr. Ryder located Irving Sport Shop repair tag number, 1837%, which is undated and contains the name "Oswald" as the owner of the gun being repaired. The tag reflects the work as being "drill and tap $4.50" and "bore sight $1.50" for a total of $6.00. The tag contains no additional information, is prepared in pencil, is not dated and Mr. Ryder stated this is the only record in existence of this transaction. Ryder said the tag was prepared by himself.

He pointed out that as there is no record of sale of one or more items this would reflect that customer Oswald brought in the gun, scope and mounts with only work being performed which was drill and tap and bore sight. Mr. Ryder stated that the work for Oswald was performed between November 1 and 14, 1963, and the only other person employed in the store during that period was Carol Berry, a clerk who resided at 2302 Druid Drive, Irving, Texas.

Mr. Ryder stated he has no recollection of mounting a side mount of the type on the gun used to assassinate President Kennedy but pointed out that during the past few weeks he had attached a tremendous number of scopes; therefore, it is possible he did mount this scope and does not have any recollection of it at this time.
LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mr. Ryder viewed a photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald, taken August 9, 1963, after which he stated that he could not be positive that Oswald had been a customer in the Irving Sport Shop but he is quite sure that he has seen and/or talked to Oswald probably in the store. He stated he associates Oswald's picture with that of an individual he brought in an Argentine made rifle about six weeks ago and Mr. Ryder, obtained a scope on that gun. He pointed out that an Argentine rifle of the type he has in mind has a different bolt assembly than does the gun used to assassinate President KENNEDY; therefore, he cannot be definitely sure that the person he has in mind is identical with Lee Harvey Oswald.

The results of this interview are reflected on page 305 of the report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemeling, at Dallas, dated November 30, 1963.

A review of newspaper clippings pertaining to the assassination of President Kennedy reflects that the "Dallas Times Herald" issue of November 29, 1963, carried an article captioned "Oswald's gun sighted in Irving," which newspaper article indicates that Dial D. Ryder had told a newspaper reporter information similar to that reflected in his interview above.

On December 18, 1963, Mr. Dial D. Ryder was again interviewed. Mr. Ryder stated he has Irving Sport Shop Repair Tag No. 10374 which is undated and contains the name Oswald as owner of the gun to be repaired under that particular repair tag. He stated he has no specific recollection as to the customer whose gun was repaired under that particular repair ticket and cannot state that the customer was or was not Lee Harvey Oswald and said he cannot be positive Oswald had been a customer in the sport shop but is certain that he has seen and/or talked to Oswald probably in the store. He said repair ticket number 10374 was utilized sometime between November 1 and November 14, 1963, but he has no recollection of the customer being accompanied by a woman and two small children. He said he does not associate the customer with any automobile as he is usually in the workshop that is located in the rear of the store; therefore, he seldom sees the customers arrive and depart. He said he cannot recall the individual whom he believed was Oswald driving any type of car and does not associate him in any way with a blue or white 1956 or 1957 Ford or Plymouth.

The results of this interview are reflected on page 66 of the report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemeling, at Dallas, dated December 23, 1963.

COMMISSION EXHIBIT NO. 1334
Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Texas, was contacted at his home, at which time he stated that he had, on November 23, 1963, found a repair tag bearing the name "OSWALD". Ryder and the Agent then proceeded to the Irving Sports Shop, where the pertinent repair tag was examined by the Agent and the interview continued, which interview is reflected on page 395 of the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. GEMBERLING, dated November 30, 1963, at Dallas, Texas.

On May 13, 1964, RAY JOHN, Television News Department, Channel 8, WFAA-TV, corner Young and Houston Streets, Dallas, Texas, advised that he recalls that on the afternoon of Sunday, November 24, 1963, following the shooting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, he arrived at his office at approximately 1:00 P.M. to coordinate the recent news events.

JOHN advised that he received a telephone call sometime between 3:00 and 3:30 P.M. of that day from an anonymous male caller, who stated that he believed "OSWALD" had had a rifle sighted at a gun shop located in the 200 block on Irving Boulevard in Irving, Texas. JOHN advised he interpreted the name "OSWALD" to mean LEE HARVEY OSWALD. He stated he recalled asking the anonymous caller where he obtained this information and that the caller declined to elaborate. The caller did not support his statement by any other corroborating information, and for that reason JOHN did not place too much credence in the story.

JOHN advised, however, he decided to offer this information to law enforcement for whatever it might be worth, and he, accordingly, called the office of J. WILL FRITZ, Captain, Homicide and Robbery Division, Dallas Police Department, at about 3:45 P.M. and furnished this information to Detective PAY TURNER of that Division.

JOHN advised he could recall the anonymous caller had a very husky, deep bass voice and was definitely a male.

JOHN stated he has never had occasion, to his recollection, to talk to either MR. GREEENER or MR. RYDER of the Irving Sports Shop, either in person or by telephone, and in any case feels he would be unable to recognize the voice of the anonymous caller if he heard it again.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

JOHN advised the caller was on the line only a matter of seconds and that no other conversation took place, to the best of his recollection.

On May 4, 1964, MR. CHARLES WOODROW GREEENER, 205 Rosebud, Irving, Texas, was interviewed at the Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas, which GREEENER stated he owns.

MR. GREEENER stated he cannot recall stating to anyone that he could fix the date that the Irving Sports Shop repair tag bearing the name "OSWALD" was prepared between November 4 and 8, 1963, and does not recall stating it appears the gun for that tag was brought in between those dates. He said he only recalls stating he was out of Texas during the period November 1 through 13, 1963, and he is confident that if the gun represented by that tag were brought in, it was brought in while he, GREEENER, was out of the store as he has no recollection whatsoever regarding the transaction.

MR. GREEENER was asked if there is any question in his mind that a gun represented by the repair tag bearing the name "OSWALD" was brought into the store. MR. GREEENER said he had answered the previous question as he did as he was recently interviewed by a representative of the President's Commission and that person pressed him, GREEENER, on the point of whether the pertinent repair tag represented an actual gun and repair job. MR. GREEENER said it is his opinion that the repair tag represents a bona fide transaction, pointing out that DIAL RYDER has been employed by him, GREEENER, for the past six years; and during that period he has found RYDER to be a good, steady, reliable employee and he has never known of RYDER doing anything wrong; therefore, he has every confidence in RYDER. He said he, GREEENER, goes away and leaves the entire business in RYDER's care and "I never worry a minute about the business."

MR. GREEENER stated that the number on the pertinent repair tag means absolutely nothing and is of no use whatsoever in attempting to fix the date that the repair tag was prepared. He stated the repair tags come in boxes of approximately five.

hundred, and when they open a box they dump them out on the workbench and make no effort whatsoever to use them in sequence. He stated that when work is brought in, the person accepting the work will reach over, pick up a repair tag, and fill it out and they may take a tag from any part of the batch of tags lying on the workbench.

GRESHAM stated that the fact that the claim check portion was still attached means nothing because in nine out of ten cases the claim check stub is not detached from the repair ticket and given to the customer. He pointed out that he has found that to require a claim check is not practical as most customers will not bring the claim check with them when they pick up their equipment; therefore, he does not make any effort to require claim checks.

Mr. GRESHAM stated that he did cause a review to be made of his cash register tapes for the ten-day period in early November 1963 when he was away from the store, and found several entries for even $6.00 amounts. He pointed out that due to the number of $6.00 entries found, he realized that would be of no help in determining when the work called for on the pertinent repair tag would have been picked up; therefore, he made no record of the $6.00 entries located.

Mr. GRESHAM stated that they, the GRESHAMES, have checked every way possible to pin down the date that the above referred to repair tag was prepared and/or the item picked up by the customer, and "there is no earthly way the date can be more closely established."

On May 4, 1964, DIAL D. RYDER, 2028 Harvard, telephone number BL 3-4876, Irving, Texas, was interviewed at his place of employment, Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas. Mr. RYDER said he first noticed repair tag number 18374, which bears the name of "OSWALD" as the owner of the gun to be repaired, on Saturday, November 23, 1963. He stated that on that occasion he, RYDER, was cleaning off his workbench, it being cluttered with various tools, shop towels, and repair tags, and it was during this cleaning up that he noticed the tag bearing the name "OSWALD". He pointed out that the tag attracted his attention as the name "OSWALD" had been mentioned frequently in the news on November 22 and 23, 1963.

Mr. RYDER stated that prior to finding the repair tag, he had no recollection of doing any work for a person named OSWALD, even though he had heard the news of the arrest of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and had seen his picture on television on numerous occasions on November 22 and 23, 1963.

Mr. RYDER said he usually prepares repair tags in pen as he carries a ballpoint pen in his shirt pocket, but does recall that on one occasion on an unrecalled date during the first two weeks of November 1963 he had used a pencil during the greater part of a day. He recalled that on the date he had used a pencil he made a trip to Cullum and Boren Company, Dallas, Texas, and picked up some items of unrecalled nature. He said he has not made any review of his records to try to identify the day that he used a pencil and visited Cullum and Boren Company in downtown Dallas as it would be very difficult to determine that date from his records. Further, if the date were determined he questions that it would be of any real significance as far as establishing the date that he prepared repair tag number 18374, because he does not use a pen exclusively, pointing out that frequently a customer will bring a gun or rather work into the store and he, RYDER, will pick up a repair tag and pencil from his workbench and prepare the tag. He stated that on other occasions he will sign items in pencil if a pencil is handy or if someone hands him a pencil when giving him an invoice or other item to be signed.

Mr. RYDER stated that there is no other sports shop located within several blocks of that area and the Irving Sports Shop is the only place that has a gunsmith located within a few blocks distance of the furniture store formerly operated by Mrs. EDITH WHITFORD on East Irving Boulevard.

On May 4, 1964, Mr. J. R. CLEMENTS, Office Manager, Cullum and Boren Company (C&B), 1509 Elm, telephone number RL 2-6115, Dallas, Texas, made available for review each invoice. that reflects a sale to Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas, during the period November 1 through 14, 1963. The review of the invoices reflects the following pertinent information:

1) C-B Invoice Number 27263 signed by DIAL RYDER in pencil on November 6, 1963, acknowledging receipt of the material identified on the invoice. The order was picked up at the C-B Gun Shop and consisted of gun and real parts with a total price of $3.10.

2) C-B Invoice Number 27264 signed by DIAL RYDER in pen on November 7, 1963, thereby acknowledging receipt of the items listed on the invoice. The total amount of the invoice is $138.40 and was picked up by RYDER at the main store.

3) C-B Invoice Number 27392 is signed by DIAL RYDER in pen, thereby acknowledging receipt of the material called for in the invoice on November 8, 1963. The material called for on the invoice consisted of parts and was picked up by RYDER at the C-B Gun Shop.

4) C-B Invoice Number 27897 was picked up by RYDER at the C-B Gun Shop on November 12, 1963, at which time RYDER signed the invoice in pencil, acknowledging receipt of the items listed therein. The parts called for in the invoice are gun parts with a total cost of $19.87.

6) C-B Invoice Number 28030 was signed by DIAL RYDER in pencil with the items called for in the invoice... the descriptions of OSWALD's wife and children, Mrs. WHITWORTH then thought she recognized the OSWALDS as a family that had been in WHITWORTH's furniture store in the recent past and whom Mrs. WHITWORTH referred to a sports shop. She said her mother mentioned the family that came into the furniture store had two small daughters, as Mrs. WHITWORTH said she told that family that they her, WHITWORTH's, daughter should get together as the HOLLANYES had two small sons.

Mrs. HOLLANY said she understands there was another woman in the furniture store at the time the above-referred to family came into the store, but she, HOLLANY, does not know the identity of that person.

Mrs. HOLLANY said her mother undoubtedly referred the family to the Irving Sports Shop as that was the only sports shop in that area of Irving, Texas.

On May 5, 1964, MRS. EDITH WHITWORTH, 315 South
Jefferson, telephone number BL 3-2538, Irving, Texas, stated she formerly operated the Furniture Mart, a furniture store, at 149 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas, having closed the business during the latter part of January 1964.

Mrs. WHITWORTH said she is confident in her own mind that the man, woman, and two small children who visited the Furniture Mart on November 5, 7 or 8, 1963, as she has previously related, were LEE HARVEY OSWALD, MARINA OSWALD, and their two small children.

Mrs. WHITWORTH stated that on the occasion of the visit LEE HARVEY OSWALD entered the store and asked for an uncalled part for a gun. Mrs. WHITWORTH said she told him the gun shop had moved and directed him to a gun shop that had a gunsmith that was located nearby. She stated she does not specifically recall which gun shop she referred OSWALD to, but in all probability referred him to the Irving Sports Shop, which was only one block east of the Furniture Mart. She stated she might have referred him to Ed's Pawn Shop, 616 East Irving Boulevard, which is operated by ED FULBRIGHT. She explained that WARREN GRAVES

previously operated a gun shop in the space occupied by the Furniture Mart, but GRAVES sold out to FULBRIGHT in early 1963 but continued to work for FULBRIGHT at Ed's Pawn Shop; therefore, she might have referred OSWALD to that shop in view of her acquaintance with GRAVES.

Mrs. WHITWORTH recalled that after she gave OSWALD directions to the gun shop he noticed that she had furniture and stated he would be needing some furniture within two or three weeks and started looking around. She said she started showing him used furniture and talking to him, trying to determine what he was really interested in, and during this period they were joined by a woman who was carrying a baby and accompanied by a two-year-old girl. She said she later saw pictures of the woman on television and in the newspapers, and now knows her to be MARINA OSWALD, wife of the late LEE HARVEY OSWALD. She started talking about the children and LEE HARVEY OSWALD told her that the baby was two weeks old at that time, which brought to mind her grandsons, as one was born October 10, 1963, and the other was born October 28, 1961, which made his birthday near that of the OSWALD baby. She further pointed out that her older grandson was near the age of OSWALD's older daughter.

Mrs. WHITWORTH stated she knows that the couple who visited the Furniture Mart on the above occasion were LEE HARVEY OSWALD and MARINA OSWALD. She said LEE HARVEY OSWALD was wearing a white shirt and a dark sweater, while MARINA was wearing a car coat, believed to be blue. She said she has no recollection how the two-year-old daughter was dressed and only recalls the baby was wrapped in a blanket of unknown color and description.

On May 5, 1964, EDWARD FULBRIGHT, owner, Ed's Pawn
Shop, Irving, Texas, was interviewed at his place of business, 616 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas. Mr. FULBRIGHT stated he bought out W. A. GRAVES in January 1963, at which time GRAVES was operating a small gunshop in the space occupied by the Furniture Mart on East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas. FULBRIGHT stated that GRAVES continued to work for him, FULBRIGHT, for a period of four weeks after he bought the business, with GRAVES being terminated on February 16, 1963. He stated during this period of time, GRAVES worked at Ed’s Pawn Shop, 616 East Irving Boulevard, as a gunsmith and he, FULBRIGHT, has not had a gunsmith or performed any repair work on guns since GRAVES was terminated.

Mr. FULBRIGHT stated he has observed numerous photographs of LEE HARVEY OSWALD during recent months, and he has no recollection whatsoever of ever meeting or seeing LEE HARVEY OSWALD, and specifically has no recollection of OSWALD ever visiting Ed’s Pawn Shop or making inquiry regarding any type of gun repair.

On May 5, 1964, Mrs. GERTRUDE (J. T.) HUNTER was interviewed at her residence, 141 South Hastings, Irving, Texas, at which time she furnished the following information:

Mrs. HUNTER stated she visited in the Furniture Mart, a furniture store previously located on East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas, frequently during the latter months of 1963. She explained the Furniture Mart was operated by Mrs. EDITH WHITWORTH and she, HUNTER, would go to the furniture store on Wednesday and/or Thursday afternoon of each week to make plans with Mrs. WHITWORTH for attending the Irving High School football games that were held on Friday evenings. She said she always arrived at the Furniture Mart between 1:00 and 2:00 P.M. and would leave between 4:00 and 4:15 P.M.

Mrs. HUNTER recalled that on one of her visits, which she feels sure was November 6, 7, 13 or 14, 1963, she was at the Furniture Mart visiting with Mrs. WHITWORTH when a young man who Mrs. HUNTER later learned was LEE HARVEY OSWALD, came into the store and asked if the gunsmith was in, explaining that he, OSWALD, wanted something fixed on his gun, but Mrs. HUNTER does not recall the nature of the work he wanted performed. Mrs. HUNTER said she does not recall that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had a gun in his hands at the time he was in the store. She recalled Mrs. WHITWORTH referred OSWALD to an unrecalled gunshop which had a gunsmith, and she only recalls the place to which OSWALD was referred is located east of the Furniture Mart in Irving, Texas.

She recalls the place to which OSWALD was referred is to the east as OSWALD started to turn east onto Irving Boulevard when he left, noting that Irving Boulevard is a one-way street west. She said that she, HUNTER, told OSWALD it would be necessary for him to proceed west on Irving Boulevard to the traffic light, turn left one block, and then back east to the gun shop to which he had been referred.

Mrs. HUNTER recalled that during the conversation with OSWALD, who was accompanied by his wife and two small girls, Mrs. EDITH WHITWORTH had jokingly referred to trading a little boy for one of the OSWALDS’ little girls so each family would have a boy and a girl. She stated that in referring to the little boys, Mrs. WHITWORTH was making reference to her grandsons.

Mrs. HUNTER stated that on the occasion of the visit to the Furniture Mart, LEE HARVEY OSWALD, his wife and two children were the only persons in the car driven by OSWALD, and she recalls the car as being a 1957 or 1958 Ford, two-tone blue and cream. She said she is confident that LEE HARVEY OSWALD was driving the car as there was no one else in the car with LEE HARVEY OSWALD, MARINA OSWALD and their small daughters.

Mrs. HUNTER said she is confident the car was a blue and cream 1957 or 1958 Ford as she has friends in Houston, Texas, who own a blue and white 1958 Ford, and her brother-in-law has a 1957 Ford; therefore, when the OSWALDS parked in front of the furniture store, she observed the car and immediately thought of her friends in Houston, Texas.

Mrs. HUNTER said she is definite that the man and woman with small children who visited the Furniture Mart on the above-referred to occasion were LEE HARVEY OSWALD and MARINA OSWALD with their children. She said when she, HUNTER, first saw pictures of the OSWALDS on television and in the newspapers, she was sure she had seen them, but could not immediately place the occasion that she had seen those persons. She said that a few days later she again visited the Furniture Mart, and at that time she recalled the couple who had visited the store and realized they were LEE HARVEY OSWALD and MARINA OSWALD. She said she then mentioned this to EDITH WHITEWORTH and Mrs. WHITEWORTH told her that she, WHITEWORTH, had previously realized the couple who visited the store were the OSWALDS, but had not mentioned this fact to Mrs. HUNTER.

Mrs. HUNTER stated that on the occasion of visiting the Furniture Mart, MARINA OSWALD was not neatly dressed, wearing a jacket of unrecalled description, but believed to be either orchid or purple in color. She stated she recalls LEE HARVEY OSWALD was neatly dressed, wearing unrecalled casual clothing and a jacket of unrecalled description.

As reported on page 218 of the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. GEMBELLING, dated November 30, 1963, at Dallas, Texas, Mr. H. S. AIKEN, Bookkeeper, Texas School Book Depository, Dallas, Texas, made available the official payroll records for the Texas School Book Depository, which records specifically covered employment of LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

These records reflected that OSWALD first worked for this company on October 16, 1963, and worked continuously at eight hours per day from October 16, 1963, through November 22, 1963, without missing any day’s work. During this period of time he was off only on Saturdays and Sundays, and November 11, 1963, which was a company holiday.

As reported on page 328 of the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. GEMBELLING, dated November 30, 1963, at Dallas, Texas, Mr. ROY S. TRULY, Warehouse Manager, Texas School Book Depository, Dallas, Texas, advised that the men working at the warehouse of Texas School Book Depository have regular working hours of 8:00 A.M. to 4:45 P.M., five days per week, with a lunch period from 12:00 noon to 12:45 P.M. He stated, however, that they do not have to punch time clocks, and there was no one who kept a strict accounting of the time they took for lunch. Mr. TRULY advised that LEE HARVEY OSWALD was one of these employees, and these are the hours he was assigned to work.

On May 8, 1964, records of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Fort Worth, Texas, which office covers the Fort Worth Suburban area, as well as the Metropolitan area, reflect the only unpublished telephone number in the name of OSWALD was that of Lieutenant JAMES R. OSWALD, 97th Bomb Wing, Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, for PE 7-3453, connected June 1963. This number was changed to PR 7-4368 on February 18, 1964, and was disconnected March 31, 1964.

On May 8, 1964, the records of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Dallas, Texas, reflect the only unpublished telephone number presently on record in the Dallas Metropolitan and Suburban area in the name of OSWALD is that of MARINA OSWALD, 292 West Belt Line Road, Richardson, Texas.

Records of this office further indicate no unpublished numbers in the name of OSWALD during October—November 1963.

On May 7, 1964, MISS NAOMI GABRIEL, Administrative Assistant to Sales Manager, R. L. Polk and Company, 7168 Envoy Court, Dallas, Texas, publishers of Polk’s City Directories for the Dallas-Fort Worth area, furnished the following information relative to preparation of the City Directories by her firm:

MISS GABRIEL explained that the Dallas division of R. L. Polk and Company covers a six-state area of the southwestern portion of the United States and that the company employs in this area approximately two hundred travel enumerators who are continuously compiling resident information of principal communities throughout this six-state area. Groups of travel enumerators are dispersed to these areas where scheduled compilations are made and the company enumerators then hire local individuals in their respective communities to conduct a door-to-door canvass to obtain the desired information. Each resident is asked to supply the following information: head of household; wife (or spouse); number of residents 18 years of age or older; occupation of all occupants at each address; whether household owns home or rents; whether residence has a telephone.

MISS GABRIEL advised the canvass is so comprehensive the company estimates less than one-half of one per cent of all residents of a community are not listed and this is usually at their request. In many of these instances a household may desire not to be listed in the directory, but in such cases the available information regarding the household is listed anyway, unless he furnishes a personal, signed letter to R. L. Polk and Company confirming this request. A check of these records by MISS GABRIEL revealed no such letter having been received from an OSWALD.

MISS GABRIEL stated, further, that upon completion of the compilation, the results of the canvass are reviewed by checkers at the Dallas office for correct spelling and other entries and are then sent to the R. L. Polk and company printer in Hutchinson, Kansas, for final assembling and binding.

MISS GABRIEL advised her records reflect that the 1963 Irving, Texas, Directory canvass was started December 3, 1962, and was completed January 5, 1963, and the completed directory was delivered to R. L. Polk and Company customers in April 1963. The canvass for the 1963 Dallas Directory was started September 22, 1962, and completed January 12, 1963. The completed directory was delivered to Polk customers June 21, 1963.
The canvas for the 1964 Dallas Directory was initiated December 1963 and completed March 19, 1964, and is presently being printed at the R. L. Polk and Company plant, 1 South Lorraine Street, Hutchinson, Kansas. This directory is expected to be delivered to directory customers around June 1, 1964. The canvas for the Irving, Texas, Directory was started May 4, 1964, and is expected to take five weeks to complete. It is contemplated this directory should be ready for distribution in August 1964.

The Fort Worth Metropolitan Directory was delivered to directory customers in November 1963 and the Fort Worth Suburban Directory was delivered October 6, 1963. The canvas for the 1964 Fort Worth Metropolitan and Suburban Directories has not yet been initiated.

Miss GABRIEL advised the results of the canvas for the 1964 Dallas Directory which is now being printed are not available at the R. L. Polk and Company Dallas office, and a proof copy of the composite directory is not expected to be received by their office until the end of May, 1964.

On May 8, 1964, a review of the Greater Fort Worth Alphabetical Telephone Directory of March, 1963, by a Special Agent of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation revealed the following individuals having listed telephones with the surname OSWALD. It is noted this directory covers outer suburban areas, as well as Metropolitan Fort Worth:

Mrs. C. OSWALD, 705 Dugan, Arlington, Texas;
C. E. OSWALD and SHERRY OSWALD, 3520 Labadie Drive, Richland Hills, Texas;

R. L. OSWALD, 7313 Davenport, Fort Worth, Texas (known to be brother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD).

On May 8, 1964, a review of the March, 1964, Fort Worth Alphabetical Directory by a Special Agent of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation revealed the following individuals having listed telephones under the surname OSWALD:

C. E. and SHERRY OSWALD, 3520 Labadie Drive, Richland Hills, Texas;
J. G. OSWALD, Jr., 1824 6th Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas;
W. C. OSWALD, 2220 Thomas Place, Fort Worth, Texas (known to be MARGUERITE OSWALD, mother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD).

The above-listed persons, with the surname OSWALD, with the exception listed in the next paragraph, have been interviewed and each specifically denied having any repair work performed at the Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas, during the Fall of 1963.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Regarding the above, it is noted that MARGUERITE OSWALD, mother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, was not contacted regarding work performed at the Irving Sports Shop during the Fall of 1963. Further, it was determined that Lieutenant JAMES R. OSWALD, formerly with the 97th Bomb Wing, Carwith Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Texas, is presently residing at Post Office Box 1203, Bryteville, Arkansas, and efforts are presently being made to contact him.

On May 15, 1964, Detective FAY M. TURNER, Homicide and Robbery Division, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised he recalls that on the afternoon of Sunday, November 24, 1963, following the shooting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, he was on duty in the offices of Captain J. WILL FRIED and he received a telephone call from one RAY JOHN, whom he knows to be a member of the news staff for Channel 8, WFAA-TV, Dallas, Texas. To the best of his recollection, this call was received in his office at approximately 3:45 P.M. to 5:00 P.M.

He advised JOHN told him that he, JOHN, had just received a call at the Channel 8 offices from an anonymous caller to the effect that "OSWALD" had taken a rifle to a gun shop located in the 200 block on Irving Boulevard on November 21, 1963, to have the rifle "sighted-in." TURNER stated he checked the city directories in his office and determined that the Irving Sports Shop was located at 221 East Irving Boulevard in Irving, Texas, and this appeared to be the only shop of its type within several blocks of that address. TURNER stated he contacted the Irving Sports Shop and talked to a Mr. GRESNER, manager of that establishment, regarding this information as received from the anonymous caller and that GRESNER told him he and his employee, HYDER, had discussed the matter of the assassination in connection with repair work they may have done in their shop but that neither could remember having done any work for LEE HARVEY OSWALD and in particular could not recall having performed any work on a Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, which rifle was believed at that time to be the assassination weapon.

TURNER advised he has no information whatsoever indicating the identity of this anonymous caller other than that furnished to him by Mr. Ray John of Channel 5 news and, in fact, was not aware of whether the caller was a male or female prior to this interview. Turner advised, further, that he has discussed the matter of this anonymous call in connection with the Irving Sports Shop with other members of his department and none were able to furnish any substantial information leading to the identity of this individual.

Pages 446, 447 and 448 of the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. GEMERLING, dated March 10, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, reflect an interview with MARINA OSWALD on February 18, 1964, and it is noted that in paragraph one of page 447, she said to her knowledge OSWALD had only one rifle and that rifle is the one he maintained in the PAINE garage during her residence with Mrs. PAINE, and the same rifle she identified in her testimony before the President's Commission investigating the assassination. She said he had received this rifle by mail. At the time he received the rifle, they were residing on Neely Street. She said she now can remember this definitely and is sure in her own mind that she did not see OSWALD with a rifle in January 1963.

Pages 192, 193 and 194 of the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. GEMERLING, dated January 22, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, reflect an interview with ROBERT LEE OSWALD, brother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. Paragraph two, page 193, reflects that ROBERT said the only firearm he knew LEE to own was an inexpensive little .22 caliber rifle when he was a boy. He sold this rifle to ROBERT and never appeared to have any particular liking for or attraction to firearms. Even after he returned from the Marine Corps, during the time he was in Fort Worth, he did not talk about guns, shooting or anything that would in any way indicate an inclination on his part to do serious physical harm to anyone.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On May 18, 1964, Mr. DIAL D. RYDER, 2028 Harvard, telephone number BL 3-4876, Irving, Texas, was interviewed at his place of employment, Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas.

Mr. RYDER stated that he definitely had not talked to any representative of any newspaper or other news service prior to being contacted by a Special Agent of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 25, 1963. He stated he found the Irving Sports Shop repair tag bearing the name "OSWALD" as customer on November 23, 1963, but had not told anyone, other than his wife, about finding the tag prior to being interviewed by a Special Agent of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 25, 1963.

Mr. RYDER stated that he has no recollection of talking to any reporter or representative of the "Dallas Times Herald" newspaper at any time and definitely did not talk to any representative of any newspaper or news service prior to the article appearing in the "Dallas Times Herald" on November 28, 1963. He stated that at approximately 7:30 A.M., November 28, 1963, his telephone rang, and, when he answered it, the person on the phone identified himself as being with a newspaper, believed to be the "Dallas Times Herald", and asked Mr. RYDER if LEE OSWALD had any work performed at the Irving Sports Shop. RYDER stated that he told the individual that he "had no comment", at which time he hung up the phone and immediately removed the receiver from the hook, thereby making it impossible for other calls to be made to his, RYDER's, residence. RYDER explained that when he received this telephone call, he was asleep; therefore, he was somewhat drowsy at the time he answered the phone, resulting in his not recalling the name of the person calling him on that occasion.

Mr. RYDER stated that he was contacted on November 28, 1963, by representatives of CBS-TV, at which time pictures were made that later appeared on television. In addition, he was contacted on the same date, November 28, 1963, by a reporter, name recalled, who represented some newspaper located in Washington, D.C. He stated these were the first occasions of his being contacted by representatives of news services.
Mr. RYDER stated that he was very disturbed and is still quite irritated over the article that appeared in the "Dallas Times Herald" newspaper on November 28, 1963, in which he, RYDER, is quoted as furnishing information contained in the article. He stated that he did not furnish the information appearing in that article, has no idea who may have furnished this information, and concluded by stating that if he can learn the identity of the reporter who prepared the article, "the reporter will have me to fight".

Mr. RYDER specifically denied making any telephone calls in which he did not identify himself to anyone advising that OSWALD had any repair work performed or gun sighted-in at the Irving Sports Shop.

On May 18, 1964, Mr. CHARLES WOODROW GREENE, 2015 Rosebud, Irving, Texas, was interviewed at his place of business, Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas.

Mr. GREENE stated that he first saw and learned of the existence of an Irving Sports Shop repair tag bearing the name "OSWALD" on a date that he is confident was November 29, 1963. He explained that he recalls this occurred on a date when the store was closed that was a few days after the President was assassinated; therefore, he is sure that it was Thanksgiving day, November 29, 1963. He said he was contacted by representatives, names unknown, of a television station and he accompanied them to the Irving Sports Shop where pictures were made, which pictures later appeared on a television program.

Mr. GREENE said he was also contacted by a reporter of the "Dallas Times Herald" newspaper, who said he, the reporter, had talked to DIAL RYDER by phone regarding the work performed for someone named OSWALD before RYDER had been interviewed by a Special Agent of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mr. GREENE stated that he does not know the name of the reporter and has no knowledge as to how this reporter might be identified other than the fact he assumes this reporter is the individual who wrote the article that appeared in the "Dallas Times Herald" of November 28, 1963.

Mr. GREENE stated that he has absolutely no idea who might have made the initial calls regarding the possibility that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had had work performed by the Irving Sports Shop. He stated that he does know that a Mrs. WHITWORTH, who previously operated the Furniture Mart on East Irving Boulevard, about one block west of the Irving Sports Shop, has stated that OSWALD, his wife and children were in the Furniture Mart in early November 1963 looking for a gunsmith, therefore, suggesting the possibility that Mrs. WHITWORTH may have made the initiating telephone call.

Mr. GREENE specifically denied making any telephone calls in which he did not identify himself to anyone advising that OSWALD had any repair work performed or gun sighted-in at the Irving Sports Shop.

On May 18, 1964, KENNETH SMART, City Editor, 4th Floor, "Dallas Times Herald", Herald Square, Dallas, Texas, was exhibited a clipping taken from the "Dallas Times Herald" edition of November 28, 1963, captioned "OSWALD GUN SIGHT MOUNTED IN IRVING". SMART advised, upon perusal of this article, that on Thursday, November 28, 1963, he was at home as a result of a virus infection and, therefore, did not read the rewrite on this article which was routed over the City Editor's desk. SMART advised the reporting and rewrite of this article could have been handled by the following reporters:

GEORGE CARTER, police reporter, attached to the Dallas Police Department and Dallas County Sheriff's Office every day except Thursday and Sunday;

DARWIN PAYNE, alternate police reporter who handles Police Department and Sheriff's Office on Thursday and in the absence of CARTER;

BEN STEVENS, rewrite desk, who may have handled the rewrite of this article. STEVENS presently is on vacation;

JAMES LEHNER, city reporter;

HUNTER SCHMIDT, JR., county reporter, who handles all outlying areas on a roving reporter basis, including Irving, Texas.

The above-noted article was exhibited to GEORGE CARTER, DARWIN PAYNE and JAMES LEHLER, and all advised they did not write this article and could not recall anything else concerning it. JAMES LEHLER, however, stated he recalled this matter had been handled by HUNTER SCHMIDT, JR., and that SCHMIDT had written the article upon receipt of information which he believed was based upon an anonymous tip.

On May 11, 1964, HUNTER SCHMIDT, JR., county reporter, "Dallas Times Herald", Herald Square, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed regarding an article appearing in the November 28, 1963, edition of the "Dallas Times Herald", captioned "OSWALD GUN SIGHT MOUNTED IN IRVING". SCHMIDT advised he recalled writing this article on the morning of November 28, 1963, in his offices on the fourth floor of the Times Herald Building. He stated that on the morning of November 28, 1963, he arrived at work at 7:00 A.M., as is his usual custom, and, as he entered the city news room, he was advised by other reporters already on duty, to the effect that information had been received by them that the Dallas Police Department was in possession of information that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had had a telescopic sight mounted on his rifle, at a suburban gun shop. He stated he was told that a gunsmith by the name of "RYDER" had mounted a scope on a rifle for an individual by the name of "OSWALD" and that this matter was currently being investigated by the Dallas Police Department. SCHMIDT stated the gun shop allegedly was located in the suburban community of Garland, Texas, and this matter was brought to his attention inasmuch as he was assigned to handle the outlying suburban areas.

SCHMIDT advised he checked city directories for Garland and surrounding areas and was unable to locate a gun shop employing an individual by the name of RYDER. He stated he then checked city directories for the name RYDER and determined that DIAL D. RYDER of Irving, Texas, was employed by the Irving Sports Shop, located on Irving Boulevard in that city. He stated he attempted to contact the Irving Sports Shop by telephone but, after receiving no answer, then called DIAL D. RYDER at his residence. SCHMIDT estimated the time of his call to be between 7:30 and 8:00 A.M. on the morning of November 28, 1963.

SCHMIDT advised the telephone was answered by an individual claiming to be DIAL D. RYDER of 2028 Harvard Street, Irving, Texas, and that, after identifying himself fully as a reporter for the "Dallas Times Herald" newspaper in Dallas, Texas, he then asked RYDER if he had attached a telescopic sight to a rifle for a man named OSWALD. SCHMIDT advised that it was obvious from the opening conversation that he had awakened RYDER and RYDER made mention of the fact that he was quite sleeping and had not slept well the night before. RYDER, however, was very helpful and cooperative in answer to SCHMIDT's questions, and appeared to be very happy to furnish answers to any questions submitted by SCHMIDT.

SCHMIDT stated RYDER advised him he was employed at the Irving Sports Shop, located on Irving Boulevard in Irving, Texas, and that part of his duties consisted of performing repair work on rifles and other weapons for customers of that sports shop; and, in the course of his business, he recalled having attached a telescopic sight and bore sighted a foreign-made rifle for a customer named OSWALD about a month prior to that time. RYDER told him he could not recall the make of the rifle, although he believed it to be foreign made, but would be unable to further identify it.

RYDER explained to him that he had located an undated ticket made out to one OSWALD reflecting the notations, drilling and tapping $.50, and bore sighting $1.50, total charges $6.00. RYDER explained this ticket could only reflect that he had drilled and tapped screw holes for mounting a telescopic sight and that, according to the charges reflected on the ticket, the work done on the rifle would consist of drilling three holes for which he charges $1.50 each, and the other $1.50 would reflect charges for bore sighting.

SCHMIDT advised RYDER went on to explain to him in detail the significance of the term "bore sighting", which SCHMIDT interpreted to mean the alignment of the telescopic sight to the rifle bore for accurate shooting.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

SCHMIDT advised he recalled RYDER volunteering that insofar as he could remember, the customer OSWALD bought no ammunition for this rifle from him.

SCHMIDT advised he recalls specifically questioning RYDER as to the further description of this OSWALD for whom RYDER allegedly performed this work, but that RYDER explained to him that he had performed work of this type on a great many rifles during that time of year as the hunting season was approaching, and he had no recollection whatsoever of the individual named OSWALD for whom he performed this work. SCHMIDT advised that at the conclusion of the interview, RYDER appeared very cordial and he recalled RYDER inviting him to recontact RYDER at any time in the future in the event he desired further information in this regard.

SCHMIDT stated that, based upon the information received from RYDER, he immediately sat down and wrote the article captioned "OSWALD GUN SIGHT MOUNTED IN IRVING", and, that after submitting it to the rewrite department for approval, it was dispatched by messenger to the press rooms immediately thereafter so that it could be included in the next edition of the "Dallas Times Herald". SCHMIDT explained that he believes this article came out in the 11:00 A.M. edition, although he could not be positive as there are five editions a day of the "Dallas Times Herald". SCHMIDT advised the article appeared in the lower left-hand corner of the front page, but did not carry his by-line. He stated, however, the article was well received and he recalled answering several inquiries that day from other members of the press and television media.

SCHMIDT advised that while at his residence the evening of November 28, 1963, he observed a taped television interview on the 10:00 o'clock news of CBS Television, in which RYDER denied furnishing any of the information to a "Dallas Times Herald" reporter as set forth in the article, and, although RYDER indicated the possibility existed the Irving Sports Shop could have performed work for LEE HARVEY OSWALD without the knowledge of RYDER, RYDER did not mention the work ticket or any of the items listed thereon as he had to SCHMIDT early that morning and, in effect, denied having furnished the contents of the article as written by SCHMIDT.

SCHMIDT advised he was naturally upset over the denial by RYDER, and the following morning, November 29, 1963, at approximately 9:00 to 10:00 A.M., he telephoned the Irving Sports Shop again and spoke to Mr. GREENER, the owner of the shop. He advised GREENER that the information set forth in his article of the preceding day was exactly as related to him by RYDER and that he had no other source of information. He asked GREENER if RYDER had discussed this matter with him and inquired as to the reasons why RYDER had denied furnishing him, SCHMIDT, this information. SCHMIDT stated GREENER advised him that he, GREENER, was completely unaware of any of the information set forth in the article of November 28, 1963, until he was contacted by CBS Television reporters on the afternoon of November 28, 1963, and, after being interviewed by the television reporters, he confronted RYDER with the facts set forth in the newspaper article, but that RYDER denied furnishing any of these facts to any reporter at any time.

SCHMIDT stated GREENER told him that RYDER did admit receiving a telephone call in the early morning hours of November 28, 1963, but that he denied furnishing any information to the caller.

SCHMIDT stated that as a result of the conversation with GREENER and the denials of RYDER, he did not pursue the matter any further and wrote nothing else about the Irving Sports Shop.

SCHMIDT advised the only time he has ever spoken to RYDER was on the morning of November 28, 1963, and the only occasion he has had to converse with Mr. GREENER was on the morning of November 29, 1963, as related above. SCHMIDT denied having any other source of information for the article of November 28, 1963, and reiterated the fact that all the information set forth in this article was furnished to him solely by DIAL D. RYDER in the course of their telephonic conversation between 7:30 and 8:00 A.M. on the morning of November 29, 1963.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

It is pointed out that DIAL D. RYDER and HUNTER SCHMIDT, JR., the reporter for the "Dallas Times Herald", were interviewed simultaneously by different Special Agents of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on May 18, 1964, at which time they were not aware of the information being furnished by each other. It should be noted that HUNTER SCHMIDT, JR. states he called RYDER between 7:30 A.M. and 8:00 A.M., November 28, 1963, at which time RYDER reportedly furnished the information contained in the "Dallas Times Herald" article of that date, captioned "OSWALD GUN SITE MOUNTED IN IRVING", while RYDER admits receiving a call at approximately the same time on November 28, 1963, but denies having furnished any information whatsoever.

Lee Harvey Oswald

Miss Campbell stated that Mrs. Whitworth was certain that the individual who entered her shop was Lee Harvey Oswald and that a short time after he entered the store he was joined by his wife, their two or three week old infant, and an older daughter about two years of age. Mrs. Whitworth advised Miss Campbell that Oswald was neatly dressed, exact attire unrecalled; that his wife was wearing a short purple coat, had her hair worn in a ponytail style, and in general did not appear to be too meticulous attired. Miss Campbell commented that her notes do not reflect any information concerning the attire of the Oswald children.

Miss Campbell stated that Mrs. Whitworth remarked that Mrs. Oswald, upon entering the store, remained by the doorway and did not participate in the conversation which ensued after Mrs. Whitworth referred Oswald to the sports shop and at which time Oswald, while looking at furniture in the store, mentioned that he was interested in a bedroom and drawing room group of furniture. Miss Campbell advised that, according to Mrs. Whitworth, said free from the discussion pertaining to furniture, there was no small conversation exchanged between Oswald and herself except for some facetious remarks concerning an exchange of one of the Oswald daughters for a grandchild of Mrs. Whitworth. Miss Campbell stated that Mrs. Whitworth's grandchildren, both boys, were approximately the same age as the Oswald children and that this was the reason for Mrs. Whitworth's remarks concerning an exchange of a girl for a boy.

According to Miss Campbell, Mrs. Whitworth stated that the Oswalds left the store and entered a two-tone blue and white Ford believed to be a 1957 model.

Mrs. Whitworth advised Miss Campbell that the only other individual present in the store during the Oswald visit was an acquaintance of Mrs. Whitworth's, one Mrs. Gertrude Hunter. Miss Campbell remarked that she interviewed Mrs. Hunter approximately the day following the interview with Mrs. Whitworth. Miss Campbell added that during this interview she was accompanied by Paul Matthian, a reporter for the Paris-Match Magazine.

Miss Campbell stated that Mrs. Hunter advised that on either Wednesday, November 6, or Thursday, November 7, 1963, she visited Mr. Whitworth at the latter's store on East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas. Mrs. Hunter was certain that it was on a Wednesday or Thursday because she devotes Mondays and Tuesdays to her cleaning and household chores and had contacted Mrs. Whitworth on either Wednesday or Thursday relative to their attending a football game on the succeeding Saturday.

Mrs. Hunter informed Miss Campbell that while she was conversing with Mrs. Whitworth, a young man entered the store and stated, "Is this a gun shop? I want a plunger for a gun". Mrs. Hunter remarked to Miss Campbell that she was certain that the young man who entered the store was Lee Harvey Oswald and that shortly thereafter he was joined by his wife and children. According to Miss Campbell, Mrs. Hunter stated that Oswald was wearing a white shirt, dress pants and a tan jacket, and that Mrs. Oswald was wearing an orchid colored skirt or coat and was holding her infant child in her arms.

Mrs. Hunter informed Miss Campbell that after Oswald had asked Mrs. Whitworth for the "plunger", Mrs. Whitworth referred him to the Irvington Sports Shop. At this point, Miss Campbell remarked that she was not certain if Mrs. Hunter actually stated that Oswald was referred by Mrs. Whitworth to the "Irvington Sports Shop" or to "the sports shop back there", indicating in the direction of the Irvington Sports Shop.

Miss Campbell stated that Mrs. Hunter advised that Oswald then proceeded to look at some furniture in the store and that Oswald made the remark, "Most people are buying Early American furniture now".

Mrs. Hunter further stated, according to Miss Campbell, that when the Oswalds left the store, Marina placed the older child into a 1956 or 1957 two-tone blue and white Ford or Chevrolet and then entered the vehicle herself with her infant daughter. Oswald entered the vehicle, sat behind the steering wheel, and turned the vehicle around and proceeded in the direction of the Irvington Sports Shop. According to Miss Campbell, Mrs. Hunter related that Oswald, in doing this, was proceeding the wrong way on a one-way street and had to turn the vehicle around again.

Lee Harvey Oswald

Mrs. Hunter advised Miss Campbell that only Mrs. Whitworth and herself were present in the store during the entire time that the Oswald family was present therein.

Lee Harvey Oswald

On July 6, 1964, Miss Jean Campbell, U.S. Political Correspondent, "London Evening Standard", was interviewed concerning the details of her contact with Mrs. Edith Whitworth and the alleged visit of the Oswald family to Mrs. Whitworth's store in Irving, Texas. During the interview with Miss Campbell, the results of which are set forth in New York memorandum dated July 7, 1964, she advised that in addition to her contact with Mrs. Whitworth, she interviewed Mrs. Gertrude Hunter who was present in the Whitworth store during the alleged Oswald visit. On this latter interview, she was accompanied by Paul Matthian, a reporter, for the Paris-Match Magazine.

In view of Mr. Matthian's presence during the interview between Miss Campbell and Mrs. Hunter, he was contacted by a Special Agent of the New York Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on July 8, 1964, at his office 22 East 67th Street, New York City, and furnished the following information:

He stated that he accompanied Miss Jean Campbell on an interview with a Mrs. Hunter in Irving, Texas, regarding Mrs. Hunter's comments concerning the visit of the Lee Harvey Oswald family to the store of Mrs. Edith Whitworth, an acquaintance of Mrs. Hunter.

Matthian recalled that Mrs. Hunter, in attempting to determine the date of the Oswald visit to the store, associated the date with a particular bus trip that her husband had taken, and she decided that the Oswald visit must have occurred on either Wednesday, November 6, 1963 or Thursday, November 7, 1963, a day or so subsequent to her husband's bus trip.

He advised that Mrs. Hunter stated that she devoted more attention to Marina Oswald than to Lee Harvey Oswald because Marina was carrying an infant, approximately two to three weeks old, in her arms. Mrs. Hunter voiced some nice remark about the baby and recalls that Marina did not reply to Mrs. Hunter's comment. Mrs. Hunter then stated, according to Matthian, that Oswald spoke to Marina in a foreign language, apparently apprising Marina of Mrs. Hunter's comments.

Matthian advised that he does not recall whether Mrs. Hunter mentioned exactly what it was that Oswald needed for his gun. He also stated that he does not recall whether Mrs. Hunter stated that Mrs. Whitworth referred Oswald to the "Irvington Sports Shop" or merely indicated in the direction of the Irvington Sports Shop.

Matthian stated that when Mrs. Hunter remarked that the Oswalds entered a 1957 or 1958 two tone blue and white Ford, he asked her why she remembered the type car used by the Oswalds. He stated that Mrs. Hunter's reply was that Oswald, operating the vehicle, made a "u" turn and was about to proceed in the wrong direction on a one way street. Matthian did not recall whether Mrs. Hunter stated that she informed Oswald of the illegal turn or he became aware of his error in some other way but he does believe that Mrs. Hunter stated that Oswald was then instructed to back the vehicle down the street toward the Irvington Sports Shop.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

By letter dated June 30, 1964, the President's Commission requested the interview of Miss JEAN CAMPELL, American correspondent for the "London Evening Standard" in order to ascertain from her the details of her contact with Mrs. EDITH WHITWORTH, including the full particulars about the alleged visit of the OSWALD family to Mrs. WHITWORTH's store in Irving, Texas. During the interview of Miss CAMPELL, she advised that JERRY HERALD, a photographer for the "Paris-Hatch" magazine, accompanied her during her initial contact with Mrs. WHITWORTH.

On July 17, 1964, Mr. JERRY ALLEN HERALD, mailing address Box 81, Gonzales, Louisiana, was interviewed by a Special Agent of the New Orleans Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mr. HERALD advised the interviewing agent that he had destroyed his notes and tapes made of interviews of persons regarding LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Mr. HERALD advised that on November 22, 1963, he arrived in Dallas, Texas, at approximately 4:45 PM on an assignment from the New York office of the "Paris-Hatch" magazine to make photographs regarding the assassination of President KENNEDY. He advised that approximately five days after arriving in Dallas he and Miss JEAN CAMPELL, a correspondent for the "London Evening Standard," were in Irving, Texas, to contact persons regarding Mrs. OSWALD. He stated that as he and Miss CAMPELL were driving down the street they noticed a sign that said "Gun Shop" and decided to stop at this place to see if anyone there might know OSWALD. Upon entering the shop, they found that it had been converted into a used furniture store and was no longer a gun shop.

He advised that they talked to a woman in the store, Mrs. EDITH WHITWORTH, and asked her if she knew the OSWALDS.

Mrs. WHITWORTH advised them that LEE HARVEY OSWALD was in her store on a Wednesday or Thursday afternoon about the first week in November, 1963. Mrs. WHITWORTH told them that OSWALD asked her for a gun part, and Mrs. WHITWORTH specifically named this part, calling it a "plunger." Mr. HERALD advised that Mrs. WHITWORTH then stated that OSWALD became interested in some of the furniture in this store, and a woman entered the store whom she assumed to be OSWALD's wife, and this woman had two children with her, one being a very young baby.

Mr. HERALD stated that he recalls that Mrs. WHITWORTH gave a very detailed description as to how Mrs. OSWALD was dressed, and she also stated that the man conversed with this woman in a foreign language. Mrs. WHITWORTH advised HERALD and CAMPELL that OSWALD talked of furniture and stated that he would need some furniture for an apartment or a house in about three or four weeks.

Mr. HERALD advised that Mrs. WHITWORTH stated OSWALD had remained in the store for approximately twenty minutes and that when he and his wife left they entered a 1955 blue sedan, possibly a Ford, which automobile was parked directly in front of the window of the store. He stated that Mrs. WHITWORTH said that OSWALD did not bring any weapon in the store and that she did not see him with any weapon of any kind at that time. He stated that Mrs. WHITWORTH advised them she had seen OSWALD on television and his pictures in the newspapers, and she was certain that he was the person who had been in her store.

Mr. HERALD stated that Mrs. WHITWORTH advised them that there was another woman in the store at the time the OSWALDS were in there. He advised that he and Miss CAMPELL, upon leaving the store, telephonically contacted this other woman, and she told them basically the same story that Mrs. WHITWORTH had told them. Mr. HERALD further advised that Mrs. WHITWORTH had referred OSWALD to a local sporting goods store in Irving.

Previous investigation has been conducted concerning an allegation that Lee Harvey Oswald had a scope mounted on a rifle at the Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas, in early November, 1963. In connection with such investigation, Mrs. Edith Whitworth has claimed she directed the Oswald family to the Irving Sports Shop in early November, 1963.

By letter dated June 30, 1964, the President's Com-mmission requested that a check be made of the public records of births for the area which encompasses both Dallas and Irving, Texas, to ascertain the names and addresses of female babies born on October 20, 1963. It was requested that parents of these babies be interviewed to determine whether any of these families have an older female child approximately two and one-half years old and whether any of these families were in Mrs. Whitworth's furniture store in early November, 1963, and under what circumstances.

It should be noted that in connection with the requested investigation no contact was made with parents of female babies born on October 20, 1963, where it was established this was their only child. Furthermore, where difficulty was encountered in locating parents who had moved from the addresses they had on October 20, 1963, such individuals were not located and interviewed where investigation to locate them had established they did not have a car fitting the description of a blue and cream or blue and white 1957 or 1958 Ford, and where the physical descriptions of the mother and father of such female babies did not in any way fit the descriptions of Lee Harvey Oswald and his wife, Marina Oswald.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On July 8, 1964, Mrs. Earlize Prator, Deputy in the Dallas County Clerk's Office, Bureau of Vital Statistics, Dallas County Records Building, Dallas, Texas, advised that all births occurring in Dallas County excluding the city of Dallas are registered at the Dallas County Clerk's Office, Bureau of Vital Statistics. She stated those records of births cover the area which encompasses Irving and all other towns in Dallas County with the exception of the city of Dallas itself. Mrs. Prator advised records of births occurring in the city of Dallas are maintained by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Dallas City Health Department, 1936 Amelia, Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. Prator made available the Birth Index Book which covers the period of May, 1963, through December, 1963, and lists all legitimate white babies born in Dallas County excluding the city of Dallas which were reported during this period. She pointed out that there is sometimes a delay by doctors and hospitals in registering births, but the delay usually never exceeds several weeks. She stated the above Birth Index Book would refect the names of all legitimate babies born in Dallas County excluding the city of Dallas on October 20, 1963. She stated the birth certificate itself has been placed on Recordak film reels and would be available for review.

According to Mrs. Prator, illegitimate babies born in Dallas County are not entered in the Birth Index Book. These births are filed under the mother's name, which name would be needed prior to any search of the records and Texas State Law requires a court order in each instance to get information regarding illegitimate births in the state of Texas.

Those births recorded in the Birth Index Book for Dallas County on October 20, 1963, are as follows:

Cynthia Diane Anderson

This birth was recorded on Recordak reel B2, Frame 21,

Mrs. Hardee stated the Andersons are a very young couple and had one daughter born in the fall of 1963, whom they named Cynthia Diane. She stated this is their only child.

Mrs. Hardee advised the reason the Andersons vacated their apartment was because they were having marital difficulties, and Mrs. Anderson went to live with her parents and she believes Mr. Anderson went to live with his parents.

Mrs. Hardee advised that Lawrence Arthur Anderson was employed by Jones-Blair Paint Company, 6969 Denton Drive, Dallas, Texas. She stated the Andersons had one automobile, which she recalled was a Chevy II.

Henry stated both he and his wife were previously married and that his wife had one son, Teddy Lovelady, age 17, by her former marriage. He said by his former marriage he had two children, Yvonne, age 12, and Pamela, age 9. Henry stated he and Juanita have one child, Elena, born October 20, 1963.

Henry stated neither he nor his wife was in Irving, Texas, during the year of 1963. He said neither he nor his wife was acquainted with Mrs. Edith Whitworth, who formerly operated the Furniture Mart located at 140 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas. He stated he is positive that neither he nor his wife, either alone or together, visited the Furniture Mart in Irving, Texas, during November, 1963.

On July 8, 1964, Mrs. Maurine Lann, Acting Registrar, Bureau of Vital Statistics, Dallas City Health Department, 1936 Amelia Street, Dallas, Texas, made available register sheets listing the parents and their addresses of all legitimate white babies, as well as the sex of the baby, born in the city of Dallas, Texas, which were reported during the period October 19, 1963, through December 31, 1963. It is to be noted these sheets also reflected the number of children in the family. Mrs. Lann pointed out that there is sometimes a delay by doctors and hospitals in registering births, but the delay, usually, never exceeds one month. She stated the above register sheets would reflect the names of the parents of all legitimate white babies born in the city of Dallas on October 20, 1963. She advised that all other babies born in Dallas County, but outside the city of Dallas, are maintained in the Dallas County Clerk's Office, Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. Lamm stated the parents of illegitimate babies born in the city of Dallas are not reflected on the above sheets, but are filed under the mother's maiden name, which name would be needed prior to any search of the records. Further, Mrs. Lamm stated, Texas State Law requires a court order, in each instance, to get information regarding illegitimate births in the state of Texas.

A review of the register sheets listing the parents and their addresses of all legitimate white babies as well as the sex of the babies born in the city of Dallas on October 20, 1963, which were reported during the period October 19, 1963, through December 27, 1963, reflected the following female births registered during the indicated period:

He appears slightly withdrawn and in view of the lack of detail within the drawings this may assume a more significant characteristic. He exhibits some difficulty in relationship to the maternal figure suggesting more anxiety in this area than in any other.

Under conditions of emotional stress and strain he appears increasingly defensive suggesting some concern orally and in general incapable of constructing an effective ego-defense.

Moscow-Peking Dispute Enters a New Stage

[The following is the last of a series of articles on the Sino-Soviet dispute adopted by the United Nations Commission on International 13 July 1963.]

The interruption of the " protobufocols" of 1950 which were signed in Moscow between the representatives of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and the Chinese Communist Party and which opened a new phase in the Sino-Soviet relations is the result of Stalinism. The new phase became clearer from the publication of the "Protocols" on June 14, 1933, of the 31 P.D. concerning the general line of the international communist movement, of the Central Committee of the CCP and the "Open Letter" of the Central Committee of the CPSU, etc.

The Fourth International, the world party of the Socialist Revolution founded by Lenin and Trotsky considers it necessary to state publicly the stand it takes on these questions in the discussion between the Communist Parties of the Soviet Union and the Chinese Peoples Republic. It is not that any more necessary as the CPSU, "Open Letter," explicitly refers to the positions of the Trotsky movement. This is the case with the Chinese Communist Party of "acting according to the old line" which attributes to the Chinese representatives of the Fourth International the role of contact with the faction of Edmund Samozamyslosh, which is an instrument of the bourgeois international (Trotskyites)," and to the decision of the Central Committee of the Communist International has sent an Open Letter which states: "the Chinese Communist Party completely opposing Pe- kking.

The position of the Fourth International is that the Sino-Soviet Protocol is embodied in a document adopted by the Central Committee of the Sino-Soviet "socialist camp" and objectively represents the policy of the Soviet Union. This Protocol is not an international public debate on all the basic problems of the new world socialist revolution only of the interests of the Chinese Communist and Soviet countries, and therefore strengthens the struggle of all the anti-capitalist forces in the world. It is indeed a step forward that the discussion is now finally tak- ing place in the world. The world socialist revolution is at the height of the pitiful spectacle of Khrushchev's adulation of the old Stalin regimes on Albania and Mao and Musin's adulation of the Chinese regime. It is a turning point when, however, the main debate for the future of the world is moving to the CPSU.

The discussion on ideological differences within the world revolu- tion is shifting from the "protection of the world socialist movement being alien to the Marx-Lenin- Trotskyist international" to the specific discussion in Lenin's time, either because Stalin's position has been repudiated after it, were weighed by Lenin and the Bukharinists in public, for the benefit of all workers and Marxists, to the thoroughgoing revision of the Khrushchev's "socialist development" of reorganize within the CPSU.

HOW TO CONTAIN THEM? A basic dividing issue between Peking and Moscow is how to hold back Washington's war drive. Chinese fear Khrushchev would make deals with Kennedy at their expense.

...Moscow-Peking Rift Enters New Stage

Such a criticism of Khrushchev would be very welcome and very popular among the communists and workers in the Soviet Union and other workers' states. The CPSU's Open Letter correctly states that the mass of the Soviet people certainly support de-Stalinization. Any attempt by the Chinese to fight de-Stalinization will only cut them off completely from the rank-and-file workers and communists in all workers' states.

The Fourth International can under no circumstances support the position of the Chinese CP on de-Stalinization. We seek to develop our criticism of the Khrushchev leadership in the opposite direction. We firmly maintain that only a political revolution will restore real Soviet power in the Soviet Union. The liquidation of the abuses and privileges of the bureaucracy will immensely strengthen the Soviet Union and international communism.

We also reject the Chinese campaign against the Yugoslav communists and their characterization of the Yugoslav state as a capitalist state. The Chinese are correct in their denunciation of the extreme right-wing deviation of Yugoslavia in her foreign policy. But the nature of the state in Yugoslavia as elsewhere is determined by the property relations. The property relations in Yugoslavia are those of a workers' state as much if not more so than in 1945 when the Chinese CP also considered Yugoslavia a "socialist country."

The Chinese communists are, of course, justified in their denunciation of Khrushchev's non-Marxist theory of "the state of the people" as a substitute for the dictatorship of the proletariat in the Soviet Union. They are right in denying the validity of Khrushchev's also Stalin's! — theory that a classless society has already been established in the Soviet Union. They point out correctly that there are still two classes [workers and peasants] in the Soviet Union, thereby exploding the theory that the building of socialism has already been accomplished in that country. But when the Chinese quote extensively from Lenin's State and Revolution in order to prove that as long as classes exist, the state will also exist, they seem to "forget" the other dictatorial part of this fundamental truth, also developed by Lenin in State and Revolution: the dictatorship of the proletariat is a "state of a special type," a "state which begins to wither away," because more and more state functions should be exercised collectively by the mass of the working people. The Chinese do not seem to insist, as Lenin insisted, on the necessity of a constant development and increase of socialist democracy, on the necessity of fighting again and again against bureaucratic deformation and degeneration by placing real power in the hands of the mass of the workers. Why? Perhaps because it is the Yugoslav "revisionists" who have made the greatest progress in this field? Or is it because in China itself there are powerful bureaucratic deformations and the mass of the workers do not exercise direct state power as elaborated in State and Revolution?

IV

This in brief represents the Trotskyist position in the present "great debate" within the world communist movement.

The Trotskyists extend wholehearted but critical support to the Chinese and the left-wing tendencies within the various CP's in their fight against the right-wing opportunism of their pro-Khrushchev leaderships in the colonial countries as well as in the imperialist countries.

We critically support the Chinese call for a revolutionary orientation of the CPs in the capitalist countries as the only means of effectively fighting imperialism and imperialist preparations for a nuclear war. But contrary to the tendencies of Khrushchev and Mao the Trotskyists defend the principles of Marxism-Leninism against any attempt to revise them to suit the immediate interests of any bureaucratic group or caste, or to distort them to reflect the temporary advantages of any workers' state. We strive to develop the theory of Marxism-Leninism so that, within the great revolutionary upheaval mankind is passing through in the present epoch, it can reflect the general historical aspirations of the international working class and of mankind as a whole. We repeat, mankind's only way out of the present crisis is a successful international socialist revolution.

The present crisis reflects the urgent necessity for the world communist movement to come out of the morass in which Stalinism had sought to drown it in order to answer the demands of the present period. We repeat our concrete proposal to all communists throughout the world:

Forward to an international conference of all organizations owing allegiance to Marxism-Leninism! Forward to a new revival of Marxism-Leninism through workers' democracy and international debate.

President Is "Patient" With Alabama Racist

By George Levan

With the ending of Governor Wallace's defense of federal authorities, the school desegregations arrived in Birmingham and three other Alabama cities.

Administration publications are praising Kennedy for having "touted" without federal protection. "Outnumbering" consisted in these trousers of sending federal marshals to enforce the court-ordered integration which Wallace delayed for a week.

Though Northern Democrats are touting as Kennedy's strategy to avoid "playing into Wallace's hands," Southern Democrats are praising it as proof of Kennedy's desire for using federal forces to enforce Negro rights in the South.

Neither of the above explanations, however, corresponds with the truth. His "monumental falsehood," as the New York Times describes it, in the face of Wallace's provocations, was dictated by Kennedy's policy of avoiding the white-supremacist Southern Democrats for the coming presidential elections, but doing it cleverly enough to alienate Negroes, win in the pivotal Northern primaries.

Discourse to Negroes

Yet Kennedy's "forbearance" or "passivity" has been the case of Negro who have been "integrated" for four years without living with their lives when he leaves speech, just as they don't now. Perhaps nothing will happen to them from that time on, the time which is being risked in the pre-election maneuvering.

It should not be forgotten that it was in Alabama that William Moore, the Baltimore potman, was murdered for carrying a pro-union newspaper. The mob of whites was still to try other whites thus "integrated" with their lives.

The total effect of Kennedy's "forbearance" policy is to embolden the KKK, while Citizens Councils and assorted racist groups and individuals, Wallace's defense and followers, are still at large and unpunished. (Kennedy, the Northern politicians, are saying "fall into the trap" of making a show of Negro rights, to save him as he desires and for which sufficient legal grounds exist.) Didn't that mean that such a show of federal laws and court rulings upholding Negro rights will also be gone unpunished?

The Kennedy administration has given more positive proofs of its failure. The only holdovers in the white supremacists than the "forbidden" are, as the only two federal prosecutions in the South are civil rights which are confidently expected in and convictions and executions.

Both prosecutions are of Negroes. In the South Carolina case, the trial is over. In the case of a bomb, the Negro General Kennedy ordered him to resign. The case is against nine leaders and members of the embattled Alabama Movement. Attorney General Kennedy himself himself to confering to a federal grand jury. The evidence that up claims the Alabama Movement has been providing that had been used against a Negro in a bomb he had been used in was smashed. The same reason it was picked on white people — refused to hire Negroes.

The token integration of schools of this last day has been the token integration of over 99 percent of the Negro people and the token integration of over 100 people of the Negro people who are in integrated schools. The Negroes in the same room in the schools. The Negroes in the same room in the schools.

Limited and symbolic as this token integration is, its spirit this year — about 140 districts in for the Deep South as well as in the Deep South communities — is the last day of the last day of the last day of the last day of the last day.

Since only a few dozen of the districts initiating token integration this year are being complained of court order, it is apparent, they are the high-water mark of nationwide demonstrations by Negroes. The decade of Kennedy's reign is coming to an end with this March on Washington and has not abated since.

Fighting Stand by Teachers Bring's Gains in New York

By Tom Leonard

NEW YORK — Ever since negotiations began last April for a new contract affecting more than 40,000 school teachers, the AFT-CIO United Federation of Teachers conducted a battle N.Y. School Board, which ultimately forced the union to the brink of a city-wide strike.

Aided by the daily press, radio and TV, the school board, headed by Superintendent Dr. Kenneth G. Groess, attempted to whip up anti-union hysteria against the teachers. The majority of New Yorkers, however, remained sympathetic to the teachers' cause and the board relied increasingly on injunctions and anti-labor laws to threaten and intimidate the UFT.

The most vicious law at their disposal is the Condon-Wedlin act which prohibits strikes by public employees and calls for immediate penalties — without right to appeal — of all violators. In addition, teachers would have been subject to a fine of two days' salary for every day on strike — up to $300.

The courts had also issued injunctions to prevent the teachers from going on strike. The court, however, has not been able to prevent the teachers from going on strike. The court, however, has not been able to prevent the teachers from going on strike. The court, however, has not been able to prevent the teachers from going on strike.

The city's schools were closed for a meeting of more than 1,000.

A Special Offer to New Readers

The recent March on Washington registered a high-water mark in the Freedom Movement. Leaders of the march all agreed that it was a beginning not an end to the Freedom New Movement and have given major coverage to its significance. It will continue to dominate the news. What this news will be combined with analysis as the movement marches forward to a confrontation with the forces which stand in the way of the full achievement of freedom. We hope that the News will be able to help expand our circulation by informing our readers of the movement to attract new readers to the News and bring additional support to the freedom movement to free men. We have received this offer to new readers to bring additional support to the freedom movement to free men.
Kennedy's Attack on Students Who Defied Cuba Travel Ban

In ominous fashion a federal grand jury has begun an inquiry into the recent student trip to Cuba. A Brooklyn grand jury — investigating allegations over New York's (LW) Edict, which from the students left for Cuba — subpoenaed several members and leaders of the Progressive Labor Movement, an independent socialist organization, to appear at hearings starting Sept. 10. The trip to Cuba was sponsored by the Student Committee for Travel to Cuba.

Most of those subpoenaed by the federal grand jury were not members of the student committee. Still they were officially and indirectly "commanded" to bring with them the records of that committee.

Simultaneously, five students who had travelled to Cuba were subpoenaed to appear before the House Unamerican Activities Committee in Washington Sept. 12. Four of these five were also members of the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), although the great majority of the 58 students who saw Cuba for themselves had no political affiliations.

Those subpoenaed by the federal jury include Fred Jerome, editor of the monthly magazine, Progressive Labor, Milton Rosen, executive director of the Student Committee, and PLM vice-chairman.

The band of the Kennedy Administration stands clearly revealed by the depth and breadth of this new attack in which the real issues of freedom to travel will be obscured.

The indicated such intentions in a statement at his Aug. 8 press conference that "Communists" among the student travelers may have been "de facto agents of the enemy." TheHUAC hearings, which usually serve no legislative purpose but from which testimony may be used by courts, will only reinforce this administration effort to convince the public that the Cuba trip was a "Communist-engineered plot."

The Kennedy's don't want to look like they are persecuting a group of students who wanted to see Cuba. There might be too much sympathy for such students. So they are going to try to drag in the leaders of the Progressive Labor Movement. The Kennedy's enforcers of the McCarran Act — want to make for record-keeping, a secret, that will keep them in good with the worst of the witch-hunters.

The Kennedy's don't fight to issue the interest of freedom to travel in the courts on its own merits. There is too strong a civil-libertians tradition still in this country for government control of travel to be a very popular cause.

That's why, when Robert Kennedy initiated the prosecution of Afro-American newspaper William Worthy, he concentrated on the technicality that Worthy had refused to go to the country "without a valid passport," not that Worthy had been in Cuba and had the "valid passport," a procedural trick — which is the real gripe the Kennedy's have against him.

The Kennedy's seen bent and sneer and becloud to becoming the most famous of the students who visited Cuba.

We denounce this needless harassment of persons who assert that they have the right to visit Cuba. We denounce the suborning of persons not connected with the Cuba trip to appear before the grand jury.

Let no one be misled by red-baiting. This case should become a rallying point for every civil libertarian and believer in the rights of the individual man. It should be seized to establish for good and all the right of Americans of all political persuasions to go where they wish and to inform themselves on whatever concerns them.

N.Y. Times Doesn't Care for Idea of Freedom Now Party

Cites Labor's Dependence on Major Parties as 'Wise' Example

By Tom Kerr

As apologist and defender of the Times, Kerr writes in the New York Times of August 28 that the Times' non-endorsement of the Freedom Now Party is based upon the proposal for the organization of the major parties. Such a party, it avers, world-wide and ruled by "the ex- "alibi" of the whites of goodwill," who try to seat themselves in the lap of the big business American people.

To justify this argument the Times points to the labor movement as an example of the kind of political wisdom the Negroes should emulate in their fight for freedom and jobs. "The labor movement is a "black center," he says, "long realized that a labor political party would be self-defeating because it would lose votes and money to the far-left. Mounted Police Assault N.Y. Civil Rights Picketers

By Fred Halsted

NEW YORK—Mounted police twice broke up peaceful civil rights demonstrations here last week and on the Fourth of July, the second time when thousands of Negroes were addressing the United Nations in New York City.

The first police attack came in the UN's Hammarskjold Plaza, with some 600 picketing demonstrators forming one line to protest against civil rights demonstrators in New York City.

Participants included members from such groups as the Congress Against Racism, the National Law Enforcement Coordinating Committee, the Freedom Now Party, Young Socialist Alliance, the National Conference of Human Rights, the Progressive Labor Movement, and Youth Against War and Fascism. Sessions ranged from "Unholy Human Rights" and "Arrest Gov. Wallace" to "Kennedy is Responsible."

"Federal Troops to Alabama," and "Armed Self Defense is the Only Guarantee That the Negro Will Be Protected."

The plaza is around the corner from and out of sight of the UN buildings where Kennedy was speaking, and some large demonstrations there are usually ignored by the police. The pickets therefore decided to move there for safety and visibility. UN leaders are said to have presented their grievances directly to the UN Security Council.

In front of the U.S. Mission, following the same pattern, the pickets were attacked when they closed the picketing line.

The demonstrators were moving up the block in accordance with police instructions when the cops saw them a bridge and the mounted police charged into the line. In the event, 18-year-old CCBM member Willie Blackmon was arrested, and charged with carrying a double-edged hatchet.

The demonstrators regrouped and decided to march a half-block to the Plaza, where Blackmon was supposedly to be held. There, they were told the prisoner was a man who had committed other crimes. They marched there and set down the pickets, and were then arrested by 32 mounted police at the police station. At this point another group of pickets from the original line, and two more demonstrators, Thaddeus Beebe and Calvin Hicks were arrested.

Both Beebe and Blackmon are professional labor leaders and demonstrators who have been arrested at such protests as in Chicago and elsewhere. They were described as follows: Beebe, 32, arrested by the police because they said he was blocking traffic, or anything, just sitting on the sidewalk. Blackmon, 19, the police said they were trying to arrest because he was holding a picket sign.

Militants favored the picket at 250 pickets, but many more were on the plaza.

James Baldwin

LUCY YAZA RUSHTON called for a massive campaign of civil disobedience, denounced the New York police for using horses against civil rights demonstrators (see story this page), and said that if the federal government doesn't protect them,Negros "would not be listened to even if they had their wigs on if they did not take what ever action was necessary to protect themselves or to get the world to take them seriously."

At the Foley Square meeting, Rushton, a militant, lumina speaker and was besieged by autograph-seekers after her talk.

After pointing out to the audience that Negroes are used as a source of cheap labor by Northern as well as Southern capitalists, and that these interests control the two major parties, Rushton declared:

"I will not vote for any Republican candidate as long as the Republican party contains Goldwater."

"There is no difference between the Democratic Party and the Republican Party."

"We have been tied up with this lesser-of-two-evils theory. I myself was so terrified of that sake we didn't even consider the Northern Negro. We have been tied up with this lesser-of-two-evils theory."

"All of us from Kennedy's election was a circus. They say it was awesome, but when it comes to Cuba they can act like a circus too."

"I have heard a lot of people who say God, its not by law, by the act of the United States, the agents and the bank. They say God, it's just by law and God. This Christian nation may never have hear the Bible but it understands the money what would happen if Harlem refused to pay the rent for a month?

"So bad at the Town Hall meeting, Baldwin blasted the FBI and said they had 'interviewed' the mattress of a single bomber after 20 bombs had been planted in Harlem. Why don't they can't afford to. If they did have that information they could have prevented the...." (Continued on Part II)

Negro Group to Demonstrate Against Robert Kennedy in N.Y.

NEW YORK—The national committee for a Freedom Now Party has called on all New York area civil rights organizations to join in picketing Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy Sat., Oct. 5, 3:30 p.m. at 88th St. between 6th and 5th Ave.

The Col. Vigo Post of the American Legion is honoring the President's brother at a banquet there.

After Conrad Loyal, chairman of the Negro committee, also spoke to picketing Robert Wagner to withdraw at the main speaker, Loyal added:

"Under pressure of the Jim Crow American Legion it would be mockery of justice for the mayor of the city with the largest Negro population to picket the attorney general who permits withdrawal of Negroes, North and South."

"Only recently in Albany, Ga., Lyon added, "the attorney general obtained trumped-up indictments to prevent Negroes from participating in the Albany Movement for alleged 'conspiring with the Negroes to commit violence that does not exist for black men.'"

"I have heard the piddling of what the state movement might do. I have heard the piddling of what the state movement might do. I have heard the piddling of what the state movement might do."

"I have heard the piddling of what the state movement might do."

Negro Unions Speak Up
Answer Attack by Bureaucrats

By Jim Campbell
DETROIT, Sept. 9 — A front-page editorial in the Detroit Free Press — newspaper of the Trade Union League of America, one of the main labor leaders of the Negro American Labor Congress—announced the formation of a Negro labor bloc within the United Auto Workers Congress, thereby making the attack on Negro unions by the TUC, initially by UAW Local 600 President Carl Starlia in First Facts (reported in the Sept. 2 Militant). The editorial, signed by C. F. TULC president, the source of the attack going farther, was directed to every Solidarity House (TULC international headquarters). It named the TULC president, the source of the attack, and the president of the United Auto Workers Congress, thereby making the attack on Negro unions by the TULC, initially by UAW Local 600 President Carl Starlia in First Facts (reported in the Sept. 2 Militant).

Actually, the story of the TULC president, the source of the attack, goes back to the last Presidential election campaign. Certain UAW international representatives are going around the country, advocating local unions to send delegates to presidential nominating conventions, against Horace Sheffield and TULC-President Jim McCreary, is probably the most important one of the duo.

What caused this rupture between the UAW and the TULC was the presence of the Negro apparatus of the UAW apparatus of which they are part?

Undoubtedly the mark that the Negro labor blocs will strike, as the "Letter in the July Vanguard calling on the labor leaders to clean up their own house by membership standards, is the count of a number of leaders of the American labor movement to avoid a struggle with the union leadership. The TULC belatedly — only this year — assumed an action program in the Negro people's civil rights situation. When the TULC, which as a UAW branch, is now being used to spread the word of the UAW and the TULC, and the Socialist Workers Party, in order to avoid a struggle with the union leadership.

Even so, it has allied itself with the conservative wing of the Negro organizations, in the formation of a Negro labor bloc, and thereby prevented Detroit from becoming an open battlefront.

Four Indicted in Test Of Cuba Travel Ban

The federal grand jury in Brooklyn which for a month has been investigating efforts to fly Cubans to US by American students, handed down four indictments on Sept. 27. The charges are "conspiracies to recruit and arrange for the trip."

The announcement of the indictment, made in Washington by Attorney General Robert Ken- nedy and by the federal prosecutor's office in Brooklyn.

Three of those indicted — Lewis Lopate, 26, of the Students for a Free Cuba, and Steven Martin, 23, both from the New York State Political Action Committee, and Daniel Schaefer, 28, from the Yale University political group, were named as co-conspirators but were not indicted.

The indictment alleged 31 overt acts of conspiracy, such as organizing a committee to promote the "Cuba travel trip" to New York and Buffalo, distribution of pamphlets.

There is no law forbidding travel to Cuba, but a State Department edict. Thus, the prosecution had to base the indictment on "conditions prevailing in Cuba — "national emergency"" encompassing the State Department to forbid such travel. Prosecutor Joseph P. Lynch told the court that the recent trip by seven students to Harford, Conn., who was using the State De- partment's edict for "national emergency" to deny them the right to travel to Cuba. Since that time, the number, stated, had for Cuba, could have a bearing on the students' case.

"It has been a constant postenement till Dec. 2."

The defendants pleaded not guilty. Boudin asked that they be released on their own recognizance (Schaefer is represented by fal- len lawyer.)

AN IMPORTANT SPEECH BY CASTRO

Affirms Cuba's Intent to Foreign Policy

In an important policy speech Sept. 28, Fidel Castro made it clear that Cuba would continue its policy of revolutionary oppo- sition to US efforts to crush its government. He said that while Cuba welcomed the current exiling of world opinion, it could not ac- cept a situation where at the very moment they were increasing its efforts to "deafen the noise" around Cuba.

"Clearly this situation determin- es our conduct," he said a gath- ering at the Plaza of the Revolu- tion in Havana celebrating the third anniversary of the founding of the Committees for the Defense of the Revolution. Organized to combat the counter-revolutionaries on a block-by-block basis, the rank-and-file committees also play a major role in administrating the country's reeducation system and in recruiting new members to defend the revolution.

The rally was also at- tended by delegations from the con- gress of the International Union of Architects meeting in Havana. "We will not allow this to go forward," Castro declared, "in such ten- dencies ... in the service of the imperialists."

The Cuban government, in a report to the United Nations and the Organization of American States in New York, said that Cuba was working to prevent the "cubanization" of the island, which it was determined to defend against.

WHAT IS THE REASON FOR THE CHALLENGE TO CONGRESS AND THE Administration?
THE TWO-PARTY TRAP

Labor's Failure to Prove Negroes Can't Gain from Democrats

By Tom Kerry

The Negro Freedom Now struggle is one of the most important strug- gles in all of American politics. Conservative leaders, who have until now placed upon the move- ment their stamp of futility, are com- pelled to react to the Kennedy administra- tion's renewed commitment to the march restricted within this period. The Negroes are com- pelled to evaluate their political growth in light of the federal pressure. The prospects of civil-rights leg- islation are more hopeful than is generally believed as the Kennedy measures are shown to be more than before the March. With the pressure deflected from the Negro in the less vulner- able Congress, the head of the Democratic Party is more willing to play politics as-usual with the civil-rights issues. To either feel the feeling among the delegates at the ar full congress, he shall, in the future, will again prove to be the ground- breaking of civil-rights legitimacy. Handler reports that Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, "ought to re- assure the delegates," that "con- tinue to glorify forecasts a strong dovish emergence from Congress." Some illusions die hard. Espe- cially those which weblock embody a "leader" who has lost touch with the people. The idea that the Adam Clayton Powell Jr. of Man- hattan needs to make a statement as much wishful thinking as is the present condition. "Assured the convention that Con- gressional Modern Atlanta's" Kennedy's bill this year and that he will continue to work everything be ever intended to give to the electorate.

Inevitable Result

"From now on east," Powell added, "the Negroes must them- selves create a political party and that party must be led by a man of liberal standards from the present. The past reliance upon the Ken- ndy Administration and the Democratic Party will work to the disad- vantage of."

Eventually, the Negroes, who have led to one disheartening compromise after another, are reaching a point of such desecrating compromises is to lead the Freedom Now move- ment into a blind alley.

"The delegates' gloom," reports Handler, "was deepened during the convention by repeated asser- tions that the Negroes have been betrayed by Democrats and that the Democrats are not prepared to face the problem that has been dubbed or have desired our non-involvement."

A political movement of the size of the civil-rights movement has no place for a struggle. In the South it involves a bitter struggle for the right of the Negro to vote in the North, where Negroes have acquired the nominal right, it involves the question of how best to use this weapon to advance the fight for Negro equal- ity.

This is certain — so long as the conservative leaders remain in control of the freedom issue and are able to impose their policy of non-involvement on the whole of the Democratic and Re- publican leadership, the Democratic and Republican leaders will be unable to abandon the belief that Negroes are not a political force. This belief is further reinforced by the realignment of the Democratic Party's base.

Poor Example

One need only look at the drafty remarks of the leaders to see the political pressure they have imposed upon their followers to prove that at least mission that past are: "Kennedy and the Democratic Party have come to an impasse of their own making."

The so-called two-party system to the greatest political hoax ever perpetrated upon the people of this country. Both capitalist parties are charmed by the appearance of the monied interests. The sham which they are so specifi- cally engaged in is so much dust that it makes a beautiful tattered carpet as real character as representative of the American institution. The one class whose privileges, power and prestige are the real power of labor, white and black, who fe- maled and defeated workers, incited food, and depression and find the party politicians as being the tools to serve their needs. For Negroes and the white working class the two-party system is a monopoly of the party. The re- publican party's monopoly of the two-party system. The two-party system itself is a bar to the Negro's participation in the two-party system. The needs of the Negro and both Democratic and Republican leaders, is to be served by the Negroes themselves.

Is this not so for the Negroes themselves? As a result, Kennedy calls to the Democrats, the liberal trend to Kennedy, the union officials and others call to the Negroes to the two-party system, with all the "lib- erals" in one party and the "con- servatives" in the other.

The right to a decent job is an essential in- gredient in establishing Negro equality. Kennedy has promised Negro equality. Negroes face two-party opposition to effective program to expand job opportunities.

The immediate political task is to get the Negroes to the polls. In the election of 1964, we can expect the conservative leadership will have an organization of Negroes for the first time.

The argument that the Negroes, as a majority of the population, are therefore unable to take the initiative in the formation of their own political party is perfectly false and downright dishonest. What benefits have been brought the Negro people by being includ- ed in the majority Democratic Party political coalition? What benefits has it brought the white working man who is not included in the other minorities? By boldly taking out on their own, the Negroes can spark an awareness of their own country, capable of lighting the way of crossroad between a Freedom Now program and an independent Negro and republican program. That is the only realization of revolutionary socialism for the worths of fighting for.

DETERMINED PARTNERS. Kennedy and Martin may expect no issues but they are equally de- cated to advancement of the party that is the source of political power for both of them.

But the Negro Freedom Now fights are learning through bitter experience that they will have to spend more than mere talk before they achieve their goal of full and complete political, eco- nomic and social equality.

The great merit of the Freedom Now Party is that it will mean the shifting of the reac- tive coalition that serves as a prop for the whole Jim Crow system. It provides a way out of the blind alley in which the civil-rights struggle is being led by the conservative Negro leadership.

It gives proper perspective to the struggle for Freedom Now. Also, it can serve as the road for a genuine alliance between the exploited working classes and Negro people, both of whom con- ceive a common interest to overthrow white power structure, otherwise known as the American capitalist ruling class.

The argument that the Negroes, as a majority of the population, are therefore unable to take the initiative in the formation of their own political party is perfectly false and downright dishonest. What benefits have been brought the Negro people by being includ- ed in the majority Democratic Party political coalition? What benefits has it brought the white working man who is not included in the other minorities? By boldly taking out on their own, the Negroes can spark an awareness of their own country, capable of lighting the way of crossroad between a Freedom Now program and an independent Negro and republican program. The Test-Ban Treaty

The Senate vote on the limited nuclear-test-ban treaty occasioned no celebrations by Americans because its ratification was regarded as a foregone conclusion. The common people of this country — and of the world — are overwhelmingly for such a ban because they want an end to the poisoning of the earth's atmosphere. They also hope that this marks the beginning of nuclear disarmament.

But it would be a grave misconception to think the 80 senators who voted for the treaty — or the Kennedy administration which submitted it — were motivated by such feelings.

The pack of cold warriors, jingoists, crooks, racists, demagogues and hired hands of big business, who constitute the Senate — and the administration — would go on poisoning the atmosphere indefinitely if it were to their collective profit. They certainly did not ratify the treaty out of hopes of disarmament. They regard war preparations as "the health of the state" and the economy.

They voted for it for other reasons. Its greatest merit in their eyes was that it drove a wedge between the Soviet Union and China. The Soviet Union and China were regarded as the Cold War's twin lions with this treaty they are definitely going to slacken. Even Senator Kennedy and Mr. Khrushchev have scored a great political victory.

But despite some discordant notes, it is obvious that a majority of mankind, so great is the power of the atomic bomb, that there is no possibility — at least this winter and until new ultrasonic explosives generated by this treaty — that the two superpowers would be a more appropriate weapon of the world's leaders in the future. There was an important rati^' on needs for schottian "peace-loving and concerned-for-the-welfare-of-humanity" make-up at little real cost.

That four-fifths of the truculent Senate voted for the treaty — even if since then they have used every trick in the book and in the force of U.S. surrendered little or nothing. The top brass reassured the generals that the原子 bomb could never be forced from the worse of the USSR in the deal. Undergraduate testing — the U.S. specialty — remains unlimted and will be stepped up. (It also means that the great dust of the corporate and nuclear wastes, which is toxic, is falling on the people mainly in the South.)

While those agitated for a test ban may justifiably feel gratified — inadequate though the treaty is — they must not slacker the anti-war struggle on the assumption that communism has now prevailed in Washington and things will automatically get better. They must make the banning of the test-ban treaty a total nuclear disarmament their objectives. And above all they must be on the alert for any moves against China or Cuba.

Why Bosch Was Overthrown

The military coup which overthrew Dominican President Juan Bosch is typical of the alternating pattern of army rule and phony democracy in most of the Latin American countries, a note of regular U.S. surrendered little or nothing. The top brass reassured the generals that the atom bomb could never be forced from the worse of the USSR in the deal. Undergraduate testing — the U.S. specialty — remains unlimited and will be stepped up. (It also means that the great dust of the corporate and nuclear wastes, which is toxic, is falling on the people mainly in the South.)

While those agitated for a test ban may justifiably feel gratified — inadequate though the treaty is — they must not slacken the anti-war struggle on the assumption that communism has now prevailed in Washington and things will automatically get better. They must make the banning of the test-ban treaty a total nuclear disarmament their objectives. And above all they must be on the alert for any moves against China or Cuba.

The leaders of the United States are far more important than the people. They do not, at least, all the small or no new cases of tuberculosis. The U.S. imperialism's "image" some badly needed "peace-loving and concerned-for-the-welfare-of-humanity" make-up at little real cost.

The extremes of poverty and wealth in the Dominican Republic and most other Latin American countries are too great to permit the common man to enjoy the benefits of those native ruling classes there can maintain their economic dominance and the law and order which is possible in the United States. The government for an extended period of time, the impoverished masses of workers and peasants would redress too many of their problems even if the bourgeoisie were to completely. There is no large middle class in these countries on which the capitalists and landowners can safely base a political democracy.

So a military or "strong-man" regime is the basic and "normal" form of government. But when a dictator becomes too discredited or is toppled, an interim regime is needed. Such a regime can bring some social and economic reforms and is permitted to operate under the trappings of democratic rule. But its tenure of office is intended to last only until the popular effervescence has quieted down enough to allow the reinstatement of dictatorship.

In the first months of the Cuban Revolution the moneyed classes, in most cases, tried to stay in power by forming a military junta of clasc type. They believed they would soon forget all his talk about change and would go back to their "normal life." But the revolution was too strong for them. In the end they were discredited and were overthrown.

But the Cuban Revolution and its leader were not of the familiar type of military junta and Washington learned a bitter and terrifying lesson.

But Bosch is the kind of reformed Washington Zapatos. He served his country, professorship and as a politician, and was a respectable and was a respectable and respectable ambassador to the U.S. He was a typical example of the kind of man who can be trusted to do his job in office — it was a bit shady! Since the Cuban government publicized its secret plans to nationalize foreign-owned companies and have more economic control, Bosch was even more worried. He was more than a little worried.
What Is Our Line in this Situation?

The following is a text of a speech delivered by Fidel Castro on the occasion of the 26th anniversary of the Revolution, celebrated on November 13, 1987. Castro is a Cuban revolutionary and politician who has served as the President of Cuba since 1959. The speech is a reflection on the historical events of the Cuban Revolution and discusses the role of the working class, the international community, and the future of Cuba. The speech was delivered in Spanish and was translated into English. The speech is a significant piece of historical commentary and analysis, and it provides insight into the mindset and policies of the Cuban government at the time.

Kennedy Administration Seeks "Democratic" Latin Dictators

Suspicion that the Kennedy administration intends to recognize the military usurpers in the Dominican Republic and Honduras, without what liberals consider a "decisive" interval of mourning for the "democratic" regimes they overthrew, has stirred a protest in the press during the last few weeks. Senator Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) has introduced an amendment to the foreign-aid bill barring Aid for Progress funds to Latin-American regimes which have taken power by coups this year. It would also cover future military overthrow—except in Cuba and Haiti.

Morse's amendment would apply only to "Alliance for Progress" aid; the White House would not be hampered in giving funds and supplies to the military dictators under such programs as expert-import bank loans, general economic-support aid, except agricultural commodities and military aid.

Latin-American regimes are not charged with U.S. diplomatic policy as one of withholding recognition of military regimes. Most of them and their leaders have been "elected" by the military as the pretext for accepting recognition.

In an Oct. 6 policy statement, Edwin Mechem Martin, Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs, indicated the U.S. would not pressure policy, with a few beguiling frills, the White House tends to follow.

Martin warned against being too unfriendly toward the Latin-American military alike. "We must use our leverage to keep those new regimes as liberal and considerate of the welfare of the people as possible," he said. "In addition, we must support and strengthen the civilian components against military influence and press for new elections as soon as possible.

The Nixon administration has approved the re-election in Argentina and Peru, where the military produced what he calls "two of the most progressive regimes either country ever had," and in Guatemala and Ecuador, where he claims the military has announced "reform programs of substantial significance."

Martin’s statement and the briefing provided something of an upswing, they were just too pat and too. More recently, Martin was laying down a "smokescreen" for recognition of, and aid to, the dictatorships which had just taken over in the Dominican Republic and Honduras.

Quarried about the State Department line at his Oct. 9 press conference, Martin said he was "up for a tussle" with anybody’s mouth. He defended Martin’s statement. He also claimed it represented "American policy," as it was defined, which he defined as one of abhorrence of military dictatorships.

The White House intends to follow the same line toward Latin America that it is taking toward Africa and Asia. But the White House must be careful not to confine its concern to those who have been deposed. When President Kennedy on his recent "non-political" speaking tour to the Philippines, Japan, and Australia, particularly in the Philippines, the Japanese, and the Chinese, what happens there has become the most ominous of all, and the White House must be careful of the dictators who have been replaced by the automated machines, Kennedy had nothing to say about the

Kennedy and Automation

The elimination of jobs through automation and other technological changes is helping maintain a permanent army of about five million unemployed workers. Instead of benefiting man, automation can increase the hands of big business— is breeding misery and poverty.

The most effective immediate solution would be to reduce the work week and pay a 50% cut in take-home pay. This would create new jobs for those displaced by the automated machines. Miliant in the unions have popularized this under the slogan of 30-40, i.e., a 30-hour week 49 hours' pay. The trade-union leaders have given lip service to the idea of some reduction in the work week.

When President Kennedy on his recent "non-political" speaking tour to the Philippines, Japan, and Australia, particularly in the Philippines, the Japanese, and the Chinese, what happens there has become the most ominous of all, and the White House must be careful of the dictators who have been replaced by the automated machines, Kennedy had nothing to say about.

Linus Pauling, Bertrand Russell Urge Support for Indicted Young Socialists

The Committee to Aid the Birmingham Students has announced that both Linus Pauling, two-time Nobel Peace Prize winner and prominent opponent of nuclear testing, and Bertrand Russell, famous British philosopher and pacifist leader, have sent their personal Goodwill missions to the southern city. CAIRN is a nationwide or- ganiza- tion of students in the American University of Cuba who have been committed to the cultural and intellectual development of the United States.

The indictments were based on reports from witnesses at a campus meeting where the young socialists were asked to explain their actions. One of the witnesses was a national officer of the YSA, who spoke on the civil-rights movement. This fall, some 90 academic and cultural figures have endorsed the proposals of CAIRN by becoming members of the support committee. They include such prominent persons as Prof. H. B. Evi a. Messick, Murray Kempton, Ray Ginger, and Prof. Fowler V. Harper of Yale Law School.

CAIRN has been a leader in the fight for civil liberties and is actively engaged in the struggle for educational freedom on the campuses of the United States. It has been successful in organizing students and faculty members to work together for a more just and free society.

CASTRO: U.S. Can Aid Victims

Of Storm by Lifting Blockade

By William Bundy

OCT. 23 — Fidel Castro reported to the Cuban people over radio and TV Oct. 23 as the effects in Cuba of Hurricane Flora was a sober, but fighting and inspiring report. Describing the storm as the worst natural disaster ever to hit the island, the prime minister said Cuba had received "gigantic aid" from "socialist countries, and aid from capitalist countries as well." Cuba had received advanced aid, he said, from only "one" state government, that of the United States, which the whole world knows is trying to destroy us.

"What we demand is not aid from the United States," said Castro, "what we demand is that they open the blockade against our country. And we put the government of the United States on trial before world public opinion, so that the criminal blockade, which they maintain against our country, which has suffered a natural disaster," the U.S. government, said Castro, "has created for itself a very delicate and difficult moral situation before the whole world, which knows their policy of blockade, and which is quite naturally ex- tending to us solidarity and aid at this time. It is logical that the U.S. government would want to try to appear to have a heart. They present themselves here with a policy of isolation and paint themselves as good-hearted, as noble human beings. But they are being very dishonest, and the people of Cuba refuse this cynical and disgraceful whiteness.

Proof that the U.S. government is engaging aid on Cuba at the very time it is making its hypocritical claim that Cuba aid appeared in an article in today's New York Times describing the straf- ing by Cuban planes of an Amer- ican passenger plane near the western tip of Cuba. The article quotes "highly placed in- formants" in Washington — which means U.S. government spokes- men. They claimed the J. Loist

From the beginning of this two- front crisis early this month, the African government tried to avoid fighting by negotiations. Al- banian Foreign Minister Boutique- fushi met with his Moroccan con- terpart at the border town of Oujda. Two days later, Oct. 7, a agreement to halt clashes was signed. Morocco supposedly agreed to withdraw its troops, but a border incident occurred the next day and Morocco, instead of withdraw- ing troops, canceled further talks and mobilized its army.

Monitor Revelation

An Oct. 12 Associated Press Monitor dispatch from Morocco told how troops were being ar- rived in areas near the Algerian frontier in "C-110 cargo planes piloted by members of the United States Air Force training mission. It added: "Official sources said the resupply was being done exclusively under Moroccan command, but asked to help out because Morocco still lacks enough planes to meet its needs. (It should be recalled that Hassan visited Washington earlier this year.) The State Department has denied all reports that any per- sonnel are involved in the attack on Algiers.

But by Oct. 12 Ben Bella was sending troops to the capital. The first of the FSPF uprising in the Khalifa government had not only fired a shot but had continued- ally appealed to the FSPF forces not to use government-ordered arms in the two-day campaign, in which its troops occupied three Khalifa towns in which the FSPF had planned to set up rival political- ical structures. Its troops were two dead and three wounded. From the attitude of the military forces, which was ill received by the people, the government concluded that no large occupation- ary force was needed and most of the troops were withdrawn by day after entering the FSPF "base." By Oct. 12 Ben Bella was sending troops to the capital to suppress the FSPF uprising. The FSPF forces were split, with the Khalifa uprising in the essentially counter-revolutionary- cism theme of the FSPF. The go-
THE MILITANT

By Tom Kerry

An immediate task of the current dispute between Beling and Trotsky is to bring the two sides into the controversy of the Trotskyist movement.

Each accuses the other of having succumbed to the Trotskyist "virus.

Both resort to the most outrageously unfounded, tendentious abuse, vilification and calumny.

Neither side dares tell the truth for the truth would be damaging to both. But truth is on the march: For the whole Trotskyist world is polarizing its political and social-political confrontation irreversibly to a radical confrontation.

Leon Trotsky

The concessions of the revisionists. It was upon these concessions of Trotsky's that his strategy of world revolution embodied in the documents of the first four congresses of the Third International was based.

The concept of "peaceable coexistence" in which socialists would come together on a world scale for the purpose of "rationalization" was and is simon-pure internationalist reformism, in contrast with either Marxism or a Trotskyist conception of world revolution. The key condition that international road to power is central among the issues in the Sino-Soviet conflict.

S. Ivanovich, author of the new four-part "new" Trotsky, has been swept from the world party of the Trotskyist movement. Trotsky has been turned out of his mansion in Britain. Trotsky's death, even more than his presence, has been a "revival" of the Fourth International.

The Fourth International had not been a "new" Fourth International in 1938 by Trotsky and his co-conspirators. Trotsky's death in 1940, the Fourth International recently held a re-organization, it is often the overemphasis of the majority which is the character of our epoch of world revolution. Pierre Frank deals with this crude version of Lenin's concept.

Changed Relations

S. Ivanovich, "he observes, writing in his article the power of the socialist camp as a new factor in world politics. We were pleased to note this, for the concept is quite familiar to us. In truth the Fourth International was the very first in the world to call attention to the change in the relationship of forces in favor of socialist folk.

The Fourth International as a service to its readers the article has been translated into the English by the Paris labor press, in an exhibit Sept. 27 issue. The following issue, Oct. 4, contains a translation of "New Fourth International." It is pointed out, unlike Mr. Ivanovich, we are not ready to recognize that these imperialist countries where we have seen the capitalist world movement of the workers in peaceful take-over, feedback, feedback. We think that Fidel Castro was completely right when he claimed that the world has not yet seen a revolution in any aspect of capitalism, only a putting aside to capitalism from socialism.

What Marxist would deny, Frank asks, "that in a context limited to economic competition the victory would inevitably go to socialism?" The historical justification of more than a century of struggle by the working class against capitalist exploitation resides precisely in this economic context. But what is capitalism?

The crucial question.

Frank affirms, "whether capitalism, with its forces and positions still at its disposal, has the alternative but to gradually accept the perspective of doom of its system in a peaceful economic evolution. An alternative which, for example, particularly - which we think Mr. Frankston will agree a 'peacenik' that has nuclear teeth. The key condition that international road to power is central among the issues in the Sino-Soviet conflict.

The authors of "On the Questions of the Party" encompass a pure and simple situation of the Chinese revolution that has now been revealed; they have not been given the opportunity to read Marx's writings in the original; they have not read the works of the Chinese in many fields. Among other things, it is evident that they should "also give some bad counsel in the form of a few bad examples" to the "original" movement. These mistakes caused serious damage to the party and the International Communist movement.

When the authors turn to their "hard and difficult situation," this heavy veil of distortion to prove that the Fourth Congress of the Chinese CP on some important questions was not aggressive but a "bloc" situation among the leaders. This is the situation of the Stalins in many fields. Among other things, it is evident that they should produce some "correct" claim that these supporters are "smashed" and the work of the socialist country is "astonishing.

But Stalin's "hard counsel" was in many ways, and in the most important of all cases, and in 1946 he opposed even Tsiao-

Pravda Reprints Latin Attack on Chinese Reds

Costa Rican Warning on Shooting Quoted

SOUTH AMERICA TODAY for an accusation that the Communist Chinese are training guerillas on Soviet Commissary.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper reproduced a resolution adopted recently by the Com\alutant of Costa Rica. The resolution said: "Attacks on the main hubs of the world sewer system and training grounds on the vanguard of the world Communist movement on any pretext cannot be regarded as other than a breakup of the unity of the socialist camp."

The reference is training guer-\nilla units to exploit the war against the United States.

Pravda denounces the Chinese and Soviet Reds as "war criminals.

TRENDS CHANGED

World affairs, he said, "seemed to be entering a more peaceful climate a few days ago, but now this trend has changed with attacks."

He accused the United States of spying and "double-crossing and doling policies." He added, "The United States is always ready to negotiate and make promises which later it will not honor. This has happened in promises made during the October crisis. They have been broken, they can be seen with new attacks.

I hope this is leading to a very dangerous situation that could lead to a war across the Atlantic."

Castro then launched into a discussion of the U.S. domestic scene, saying he expects no change in Washington's foreign policy even if there is a change in administrations after the 1964 presidential election. But he said: "We are not interested in gaining a foothold in U.S. domestic politics."

Havana (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro predicts the 1964 presidential election will pit President John F. Kennedy against Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona—"both cheap and crooked politicians."

"We have heard Goldwater is tough," said Castro in an impromptu interview at a Brazilian embassy reception this weekend.

"Well, if he is elected let him try his tough policies on Cuba. We will know how to defend ourselves and we will not be afraid to face him."

At this point Castro ended his discussion of the presidential election, saying he was not interested in getting involved in United States politics.

However, he noted earlier, he expected no change in U.S. foreign policy if there is a change in administrations.

Goldwater has been an outspoken critic of Kennedy's Cuban policy. Last week he called on the Senate not to ratify the limited nuclear test ban treaty unless the Soviet Union agrees to pull all its forces off the island.

Bitterly denouncing what he called recent U.S.-prompted raids on Cuban territory, Castro said:

"We are prepared to fight them and answer in kind. United States leaders should think that if they are aiding terrorist plans to eliminate Cuban leaders, they themselves will not be safe.

"The United States is always read to negotiate and make promises which later it will not honor. This has happened to promises made during the October crisis. They have been broken as can be seen with new attacks."
$2 Wage Floor Law Is Urged by Parrish

RICHARD PARRISH, only Negro running for Council-man at large in Manhattan in the special election Nov. 5, called for a $2 an hour minimum wage, in a partial program announced last week.

The program includes:
- Low-cost, integrated public housing
- Repeal of the Condominium Law
- A Public Works Program to put New York back to work
- Increased aid to public schools
- New opportunities for minority groups
- Street endorsement of building and rent control

Mrs. Helen Maxey, Levi Travis of Los Angeles was also sentenced as a Negro and was returned to Cuba in 1962. Her indictment was stayed on June 20, 1963, and she is now awaiting trial.

Cuba's Peace Policy Described by Castro

HAVANA (Tass)—At a meeting held to mark the third anniversary of the triumph of the Cuban Revolution, a speech on the problems of Cuba's internal and international policies was made by Fidel Castro, first secretary of the national leadership of the United Party of the Socialist Revolution and Prime Minister of Cuba.

Cuba has played a significant role in the development of her resources as well as her international distribution of labor. He also stressed the aid to Cuba by socialist countries.

Then he said:

"Imperialists are trying to bring a steadily increasing pressure to bear on us. They are trying to tighten the ring around Cuba, to lighten the blockade in recent months this policy was stepped up. We cannot watch with indifference a policy which is aggravating here while it is relaxing in other places. No, we do not want aggravation of tension in the world. We are glad that it is diminishing, but we cannot rest content with that.

"This situation will determine the position of the international arena. This is not a policy of war but a policy of peace. We are not responsible for the war which is being waged against us. We are not responsible for the current blockade established against us.

THE LUXURY liner America remains in dock and may not sail any more. That is the talk of the shipping industry today. The leaders of the Paul Hall-dominated Marine Engineers Beneficial Association blocked the removal of Louis Neurhr, her captain, for a week. The sailing of the America, scheduled to leave from New York on July 29, was put on hold for some hours before departures were finally postponed.

After nine months of appeals to companies to dump Neurhr because of his racist activities — such as locking a toilet to the Negroes and Puerto Ricans, refusing to let the Negroes and Puerto Ricans on his watch, insults to his crew members and encouraging women crew members — the workers took recourse to the only action left.

The captain engaged the ship. But her next scheduled voyage on Oct. 18 was canceled because of bad weather in the West Indies, and the Captain Neurhr, Kebbi, a commentator in the NMU's刊物, described the situation of the captain Neurhr, Kebbi, as "proof of the power of the racist Neurhr," But Kebbi and his union, the Marine Engineers Benevolent Association, which advised Captain Neurhr, advised by Captain Neurhr, advised that he did not appear to doff himself.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, NOVEMBER 22, 1963.

Dallas, Texas
May 22, 1964

DALLAS, TEXAS

The President's Commission, by letter dated May 13, 1964, requested certain additional investigation concerning photographs purporting to depict the house of Major General Edwin A. Walker. One of such photographs has been identified as Commission Exhibit 5 and has Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, which has been mutilated in such a way as to obliterate the license number on an automobile which appears in the photograph.

On May 18, 1964, James M. English, Captain, Property Bureau, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised he recalled a transfer of the material from the Dallas Police Department to the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 26, 1963, but he did not physically observe any of the evidence or material contained in the boxes. He advised he was told the evidence was obtained from the residence of Lee Harvey Oswald, 1026 North Beckley, Dallas, Texas, and from the residence of Mrs. Ruth Paine at Irving, Texas.

Captain English related that he remained at the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation during the time the inventory was taken of the evidence, but he does not recall observing the photograph of the house of Major General Edwin A. Walker, which has been marked as Commission Exhibit 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369.

On May 18, 1964, Mr. Herman W. Hill, Clerk, Property Room Section, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised Commission Exhibit No. 1351.

Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

he accompanied the evidence from the Dallas Police Department to the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 26, 1963, but he did not physically touch any of the material contained in the several boxes, nor did he actually assist in the inventory of the material.

After viewing the photograph of the residence of Major General Edwin A. Walker, which has been marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, he advised he had never observed this photograph previously. MILL related that inasmuch as the photograph is contained in the inventory taken on November 26, 1963, it must have been present in the material that the Police Department released to the Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 26, 1963.

On May 18, 1964, Captain John W. Fritz, Homicide and Robbery Bureau, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised he did not personally review all of the material and evidence that was seized by his officers from the residence of Lee Harvey Oswald, located at 1026 North Beckley Street, Dallas, or the material recovered from the residence of Mrs. Ruth Paine in Irving, Texas, in that it was only in his possession approximately two or three days.

After viewing the photograph depicting the residence of Major General Edwin A. Walker, which has been marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, Captain Fritz stated he does not recall this photograph among the material he reviewed prior to turning it over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 26, 1963.

On May 18, 1964, Mr. Richard S. Stovall, Detective, Homicide and Robbery Bureau, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised he was one of the four officers who searched the residence of Mrs. Ruth Paine in Irving, Texas, for material that belonged to Lee Harvey Oswald. He stated he was assisted in this search by Detectives Guy F. Bose, John P. Adair, and Henry M. Moore.

Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

After viewing the photograph depicting the residence of Major General EDMIN A. WALKER, which has been marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, he advised he recalled observing this photograph on November 23, 1963. He stated this photograph had been found in a cardboard box, along with several other photographs, which was allegedly the property of LEE HARVEY ONSLARD.

He stated at the time he observed this particular photograph, he surmised that ONSLARD had evidently taken the license plate number area out of the photograph to keep anyone from identifying the owner of that automobile. STOVALL stated he does not recognize the residence in the background of the photograph and he has not conducted any investigation to identify the owner of the automobile. He advised he is positive the photograph was mutilated as shown in Commission Exhibit Number 5 at the time they recovered it at the OINE residence. STOVALL stated he did not participate in the search of LEE HARVEY ONSLARD's residence, located at 1026 North Beckley, Dallas, Texas.

On May 18, 1964, Mr. GUY F. ROSE, Detective, Homicide and Robbery Bureau, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised he had been present and assisted in the search of the residence of Mrs. RUTH OINE at 2515 West 5th Street in Irving, Texas, for property and evidence belonging to LEE HARVEY ONSLARD. He stated Detectives JOHN F. ADAMCIX, HENRY M. MOORE and RICHARD B. STOVALL were the other officers present during the search. He advised he recalls finding a box containing photographs at the residence and taking it to the police station.

After viewing the photograph depicting the residence of Major General EDMIN A. WALKER, which has been marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, ROSE stated he recalls observing this photograph at the time they had seized ONSLARD's material from the OINE residence. He advised at the time, he had noted that someone had torn out a section on the automobile, which area contains the license plate for the 1957 Chevrolet. He advised he did not recognize the residence in the background and that he has done no investigation to determine the owner of the vehicle. He stated he definitely recalls that this photograph, marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5, was one of the photographs recovered from the OINE residence and that it had been mutilated at the time they had recovered the box containing the photographs.

On May 18, 1964, Mr. JOHN F. ADAMCIX, Homicide and Robbery Bureau, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised he was one of the officers that searched the residence of Mrs. RUTH OINE, located at 2515 West 5th Street in Irving, Texas. He stated as he recalled, he was assisted by Detectives GUY F. ROSE, HENRY M. MOORE and RICHARD B. STOVALL. He stated they gathered up a considerable amount of material from this residence, but he does not personally recall any of the photographs that were obtained from this residence.

After viewing the photograph depicting the residence of Major General EDMIN A. WALKER, which has been marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, he advised he did not recall this particular photograph. He stated he is positive that if he had handled this photograph and noted that the license plate number area on the automobile had been ripped out, he would recall seeing this particular photograph.

On May 18, 1964, HENRY M. MOORE, Detective, Homicide and Robbery Bureau, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised he was one of the detectives who searched the residence of Mrs. RUTH OINE at 2515 West 5th Street in Irving, Texas, to recover the material at that residence belonging to LEE HARVEY ONSLARD. He stated he assisted three other officers, Detectives GUY F. ROSE, RICHARD B. STOVALL and JOHN F. ADAMCIX, in the search, but he does not recall any particular photograph recovered from that address.

After viewing the photograph depicting the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER, which has been marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, he advised he had never seen this particular picture prior to May 18, 1964.

On May 18, 1964, Mr. FAY M. TURNER, Detective, Homicide and Robbery Bureau, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised he was one of the officers who searched the residence of LEE HARVEY OSLWALD, which was located at 1026 North Beckley in Dallas. TURNER stated he vaguely recalls recovering several photographs from this residence. After viewing the photograph of the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER, which has been marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, he stated he does not recall this photograph being among the material taken from the Beckley Street address.

On May 18, 1964, Mr. WALTER E. POTTS, Detective, Homicide and Robbery Bureau, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, advised he assisted in the search of LEE HARVEY OSLWALD’s residence at 1026 North Beckley, but does not recall recovering any photographs at this address. After viewing the photograph of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER’s residence, which has been marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, he advised he had never seen this photograph before.

Physical observation of the rear of the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER, 4011 Turtle Creek Boulevard, Dallas, Texas, was made by Special Agents of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on May 18, 1964. It was determined from this observation that the photograph depicting the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER, marked as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369, is identical with the rear of WALKER’s residence.

Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

Physical observation on May 18, 1964, of the alley behind the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER and comparing the photograph taken by a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on February 1, 1964, determined that the photograph listed as photograph number 2, Item Number 7, was taken in the alley at the northeast edge of the property line of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER’s residence looking to the southwest.

On May 18, 1964, physical observation of the Missouri, Kansas, and Texas Railroad tracks, which are located in the vicinity of the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER, was made by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It was determined that photograph number 5, Item Number 6, was taken with the individual taking the photograph facing south by southeast approximately sixty-seven yards from where the curb line of Newman Street, if extended, would cross the railroad tracks. It is noted that Newman Street runs in a southeasterly to a northwesterly direction and it would intersect the railroad at a point almost due east of the Dallas Theater Center.

In the photograph marked as photograph number 5, Item Number 6, the bridge railing observed in the middle of the picture is identical with the one which crosses over Lemmon Avenue East. The building in the left center of the photograph is identical with the Stoneleigh Hotel. What appears to be a building or structure to the left of the Stoneleigh Hotel and just to the right of the metal utility pole (which is on the left-hand side of the photograph) is a large air conditioning water cooler. To the left of the metal utility pole is a dark object, which appears to be a building. This is identical to the apartment house roof line of the Turtle Creek Apartments. In the middle of the photograph and just to the right of the railroad bridge railing an electric utility pole with a transformer can be observed extending above the trees. Also observed on the right-hand edge of the photograph are telephone poles with a heavy telephone cable running between the poles. In the physical observation of the area all of the above items were noted by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

By automobile mileage from the parking lot at the Dallas Theater Center, which is located approximately two hundred feet from where the photograph was taken, it is 0.7 mile from Major General EDWIN A. WALKER’s residence.

It has been determined from examination that the picture identified as Photograph Number 2, Item Number 7, depicts the alley behind the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER, 4011 Turtle Creek Boulevard, Dallas, Texas. On the right side of this photograph in the background there is depicted a multi-story building that is under construction, which building has been identified as 21 Turtle Creek Square, 3883 Turtle Creek Boulevard, Dallas, Texas.

On May 20, 1964, BEN S. PASSMORE, 314 Cottonwood, Richardson, Texas, telephone number AD 5-2838, stated he is a Construction Inspector with the Dallas Housing Administration, 1621 Main Street, Dallas, Texas.

Mr. PASSMORE said he has been assigned since sometime in 1962 as the inspector on a high-rise apartment now being com-mpleted at 3883 Turtle Creek Boulevard, Dallas, Texas, same being known as 21 Turtle Creek Square. Mr. PASSMORE said he maintained daily construction progress logs on the construction of 21 Turtle Creek Square.

Mr. PASSMORE viewed Photograph Number 2, Item Number 7, and identified the high-rise building under construction depicted in that photograph as 21 Turtle Creek Square. Mr. PASSMORE, with Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, visited the area where Photograph Number 2, Item Number 7, was taken, at which time Mr. PASSMORE viewed the building

Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

known as 21 Turtle Creek square as it now appears from that position and compared its present appearance to the view depicted in Photograph Number 2, Item Number 7.

Mr. PASSMORE produced a 35 millimeter slide, taken by himself, that depicts 21 Turtle Creek Square, and said this slide was made at the time the building was completed to its full height, but before the penthouses were constructed. After studying the slide and Photograph Number 2, Item Number 7, Mr. PASSMORE stated Photograph Number 2, Item Number 7, appears to show one more bay on the construction elevator tower than does his slide. From this, Mr. PASSMORE opined that Photograph Number 2, Item Number 7, was taken after the twenty-second floor of the building was completed and the form for the shear wall was being raised on the northeast corner of the building so the concrete could be run, thereby forming the supports for the roof.

Mr. PASSMORE then referred to his daily construction logs and determined that the building was at the stage of construction referred to above on March 8 - 12, 1963. He pointed out there do not appear to be any workmen depicted in Photograph Number 2, Item Number 7, which suggests that the photograph may have been made on a weekend, as they did not work on Saturday and Sunday. Mr. PASSMORE referred to his calendar and determined that March 9 and 10, 1963, were a Saturday and Sunday.

On February 1, 1964, Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation proceeded to the alley area located behind the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER at 4011 Turtle Creek Boulevard, Dallas, Texas, and took photographs from an automobile of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, proceeding slowly through the alleyway. Such photographs were taken at approximately 10:00 A.M. on February 1, 1964. At approximately 10:30 A.M., these same Agents returned to the area on foot and took two photographs looking south by southwest down the alleyway behind Major General WALKER’s residence toward Avondale Street, Dallas, Texas.

Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963. DALLAS, TEXAS

After returning to the automobile, the same Agents proceeded through the alley once again at approximately 10:45 A.M. and took another photograph of the rear of the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER. At approximately 11:15 A.M., another trio was made through the alley and another photograph was taken of the rear of the residence of Major General WALKER.

Photographs numbered on the back as DL 36 depict rear views of the residence of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER, and is the same residence as depicted in Commission Exhibit Number 5 and marked as Federal Bureau of Investigation Inventory Number 369. Photographs numbered as DL 35 depict the alleyway looking south by southwest from the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints parking lot, which is located adjacent to and north of the property of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER. In the left-hand side of the photographs of the alleyway a driveway is located, which is the driveway leading to the rear of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER's residence. The Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation used a 35 millimeter Robot camera.

In one of the photographs depicting the rear of Major General EDWIN A. WALKER's residence and marked on the back of the photograph as DL 36, a 1954 Ford bearing 1963 Texas License PL 9139 is observed on the right-hand side of the photograph.

Mrs. JOE MOBLEY, clerk, Dallas County Tax Office, Dallas, Texas, advised on May 21, 1964, that 1963 Texas License Plate PL 9139 was issued to a 1954 Ford two-door, owned by JOSEPH R. DRAKE, 11720 Alston Lane, Dallas, Texas.

The Dallas, Texas, City Directory for 1963 does not contain the name of JOSEPH R. DRAKE under the alphabetical listing and numerical listing by street.

Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963. DALLAS, TEXAS

The indices of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are negative concerning the name JOSEPH R. DRAKE.

In connection with the photograph listed as Commission Exhibit Number 5 and as FBI Inventory Number 369, it is noted a 1957 Chevrolet is sitting in the driveway and that the area containing the license number has been mutilated. In an effort to identify the owner of this vehicle, Detectives H. M. HART, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, was contacted on May 21, 1964, and advised as follows:

HART stated that in investigation that he has conducted concerning visitors to the WALKER residence, he had ascertained that CHARLES F. KILNER of 2046 Rosebud Street, Irving, Texas, has frequented the WALKER residence. HART stated that KILNER is the owner of a 1957 Chevrolet two-door, bearing 1964 Texas License Plates EM 2893.

The indices of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are negative concerning the name CHARLES F. KILNER.
Interview with Assistant Chief Charles Batchelor, Dallas Police Department, conducted by Kurt W. Griffin from approximately 3:30 P.M. to 5:30 P.M., Monday, March 23.

Chief Batchelor explained the organizational system of the Dallas Police Department and promised to provide a table of the personnel which has later been marked as "Exhibit 5000" covering personnel list for the Dallas Police Department in November, 1963.

We talked at some length about the Special Service Bureau of the Police Department. This Bureau consists of approximately 57 men and is divided into 4 departments: Intelligence, including subversive activities, Narcotics, Vomals and Night Club operations. The Department is headed by Captain Gammage. Regular police officers do not work in the night club section of the Special Service Bureau. This night club section supplies police men for night clubs and dance halls. When an operator of a night club desires to employ a police officer he contacts the Special Service Bureau. He may either request that the Special Service Bureau appoint a person to work in his establishment or he may suggest a particular individual. In all cases employees of the Special Service Bureau are not employees of the Police Department in any other capacity and are simply ordinary citizens with an extra part-time job which is cleared through the Police Department. If the night club operator desires to hire a particular person not previously used by the Special Service Bureau, the Special Service Bureau conducts a background check on the man. This special night club policeman is paid directly by the Police Department; however, the Police Department is paid a similar amount by the night club operator.

Batchelor was candid in stating that he imagined these officers might also receive something extra on the side from the night club operator.

We talked somewhat about the operation of Ruby's Clue. Batchelor indicated that officer Jack Serrille is most familiar about Ruby's operations. Batchelor stated, however, that Ruby's operation has not been a troublesome one for the Police Department. He further volunteered that the crime and vice problem in Dallas was not a substantial one and that gambling is a small element in Dallas. He did state, however, that the underworld problem in Fort Worth was much more severe.

Chief Batchelor outlined his experience as follows: 26 years on the force. Assigned to the Traffic Bureau 1936 to 1941; Sgt. of the Patrol 1941 to 1943; Patrol Platoon Commander 1943 to about 1946; Instructor at the Training Academy 1946 to 1951; Deputy Chief in Charge of Traffic 1951 to 1957; Deputy Chief in Charge of Patrol 1957 to 1960; Assistant Chief January 20, 1950 to present. Batchelor described me as an intelligent, imaginative and honest police officer.

Commission Exhibit No. 1353
At the time President Kennedy was shot Batchelor was at the Trade Mart. He learned about the shooting of the President over the police radio. Batchelor states that just before Curry reached the Triple Underpass he asked a question over the police radio about the men who were standing on top of the Triple Overpass. After the shooting was announced over police radio City Manager came out of the Trade Mart and asked Batchelor what had happened. Batchelor told him. The next news Batchelor heard of significance was over Radio Station KRLD which announced that the President had died. He told the City Manager about this death and he promptly left the Trade Mart.

Batchelor then located Chief Stevenson at the Trade Mart and Batchelor and Stevenson took a minister to Parkland Hospital. This minister is head of the Dallas Council of Churches. From Parkland Hospital Batchelor and Stevenson went to Love Field. Batchelor returned to City Hall via Parkland Hospital at about 3:00 or 3:30 P.M.

When Batchelor arrived at Parkland Hospital he said the third floor of the Police Department was packed with Press representatives and city employees. TV cables had already been extended from Commerce Street up to the third floor and through Chief James' office. As Batchelor entered the third floor another TV crew was beginning to string TV cables through Captain King's office from the Harwood side of the Police Department. Batchelor attempted to clear the hallway of all but Press, officers and people whom he thought had legitimate business. He later assigned records room people to issue passes to persons who had legitimate business on the third floor. He further instructed them not to allow others to go up. He said that he stationed men at the elevators and the stairways.

On Friday and Saturday Stevenson's job was primarily to relieve the administrative load from Chief Curry who remained in touch with Homicide Batchelor made arrangements for special clerical personnel and took over routine duties of the day to day management of the Police Department. He said he was constantly being approached by newspaper people. In addition, the telephone switchboard was flooded with calls from people wanting to talk to Chief Curry, volunteer suggestions, criticize the Police Department, or other such things. Much of Batchelor's time was spent answering such telephone calls. He said that there was very little time for any planning, and that there were constant requests for information, documents, access, etc. by the various federal investigatory agencies.

Batchelor said the Press was generally not allowed into the offices occupied by the various Chiefs of Police at the Commerce end of the third floor hallways. Although some got into the secretarial room which separates each of these separate offices from the hallway. He said that it was agreed at a probably early point between himself and Chief Curry that the only comments to the Press would be made by Chief Curry.

On Friday Batchelor said that he checked with the people manning the jail to make sure there was a personal guard on Oswald at all times. He said that on one occasion certain reporters attempted to gain admittance to the third floor of the Police Department and that they were not permitted to come up. Batchelor finally provided each with a note which admitted them to the third floor. Eventually guards were stationed at the elevators, the stairways, in front of the Homicide Bureau door and near the dispatcher. He said that the dispatcher's radio was not audible in his office so far as he knew and that the speakers were not on. Batchelor acknowledged that it was his responsibility to decide where the various guards for access to the third floor were placed, and that on one occasion he requested help from the Patrol unit. He said that what was designated as a second patrol or second shift was held beyond its regular tour of duty until approximately 5:00 or 6:00 P.M. on Friday. These men stayed generally in the area of the assembly room on the first floor.

Although the Press monopolized corridor space on the third floor, all the various Detective Bureaus which occupy the third floor were in use. Apparently, members of the Press were not allowed in those offices on a regular basis. There is a Press room on the third floor and some telephone lines were available to the Press on that floor and on occasion Batchelor remembers members of the Press using telephones in his set of offices. Batchelor stated that two TV cameras were on the third floor in the foyer in front of the elevators. These cameras were pointed in the direction of the Homicide office which is on the Main Street side of the building. The TV cameras were manned at all times and it was his recollection that they were the cameras of TV stations KRLD and WFAA.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

I am responding to your letter of March 24, 1964, concerning the Department's contacts with the Secret Service.

The Department's Office of Security is charged with responsibility for continuing liaison with the Secret Service. The Division of Protective Security in this Office maintains continuing contact with the Office of the Chief of the White House Detail and the Office of the Chief of Protective Research of the Secret Service. Enclosed is an internal Departmental memorandum dated December 7, 1963, covering the Division's liaison responsibilities with the Secret Service.

The Division maintains a "crank and threat file" of all letters and other materials received by the Department which contain threats to any Government official. This file is cross-referenced to similar files maintained by the Protective Research Section of the Secret Service.

In addition, all reports from Department posts throughout the world concerning any assassination or attempted assassination of a foreign ruler or other official are delivered immediately upon receipt to the Protective Research Section of the Secret Service. Enclosed with my letter to you of January 16, 1964, were nine such assassination reports. All "crank or threat letters" received by the Department that contain even a remote reference to the President or the White House are also immediately delivered to the Protective Research Section.

General Counsel
President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy,

The Protective Security Division in the Department's Office of Security also furnishes, upon request, support to the Secret Service in connection with Presidential trips abroad. This assistance includes assignment of electronic engineers to prevent compromise of discussions of classified information by the President or members of his party at U.S. installations, and arrangements for Marine Guard protection for the classified documents which accompany the President on his trips abroad. The Division has also, on occasion, obtained additional Marine Guard protection for the President's residence abroad. Finally, a copy of every Department telegram relating to a Presidential visit abroad is immediately delivered to the Secret Service upon receipt.

I am enclosing a copy of a lecture concerning Presidential trips, trips by the Secretary of State, and conference security, delivered by Mr. K. O. Lynch, Chief of the Division of Protective Security. This lecture is included in a manual sent to all Department Security Officers throughout the world. Also enclosed are three Department airgrams concerning Presidential trips abroad. At the request of the Secret Service, these airgrams were sent to all diplomatic and consular posts abroad.

The Protective Security Division also works with the Secret Service on security measures relating to every ceremony, dinner or movement, in which the President and the Secretary of State or the President and a visiting dignitary are together. Secret Service agents and agents of the Division conduct a joint survey of the area involved on each such occasion, and on the basis of this survey, agents of the Division are assigned to cover specific spots. In this work the Division and the Secret Service act as a team, but the Service is always in charge of the operations.

The Domestic Operations Division of the Department's Office of Security assists the Chief of the White House Secret Service Detail, upon request, when the President visits State Department buildings in Washington. This assistance generally includes inspection of the areas to be visited by the President, assignment of General Services Administration guards to aid the Secret Service and any other duties that may be requested by the Secret Service. I am enclosing Departmental memoranda dated February 10, 1961, February 20, 1962, May 11, 1962, and August 9, 1962, discussing this function of the Domestic Operations Division.

Finally, I should emphasize that all Office of Security personnel in this country and abroad are instructed to participate in the personal protection of the President only when requested to do so by the Secret Service. They are also instructed to transmit any information which concerns the safety of the President immediately to the Secret Service.

In response to the last paragraph of your letter, we do not have any specific recommendations to make regarding possible improvements in any aspect of Presidential protection. Department officials would be pleased to discuss this matter with you or your representatives, however, if you believe this would be helpful.

Please let me know if we may be of further help in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR COUNSEL, DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

SUBJECT: Arrangements for Safeguarding the President

1. Reference your attached memorandum, dated 31 March 1964, and the enclosed request from the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy, dated 24 March 1964.

2. Defense Intelligence Agency activities are, in the main, oriented on intelligence information relative to foreign governments. Domestic intelligence is not within DIA's normal milieu. From time to time domestic information of security interest may become available. Such information is passed laterally to one of the military services if it affects service security or to the Federal Bureau of Investigation if of non-service import.

3. Intelligence Agency maintains active community relationships with other intelligence services or agencies, both through official boards or committees and through formal or informal liaison. The Federal Bureau of Investigation is a participant agency in these activities. The Secret Service is not a member of the intelligence community as such. Since the Secret Service is not within the so-called intelligence community, Defense Intelligence Agency has no formal or recurring informal ties with that service.

4. In view of these considerations, Defense Intelligence Agency had no written description of criteria employed in determining what information coming to the attention of Defense Intelligence Agency should be furnished to the Secret Service.

5. No written description existed at the time of the assassination for procedures to be employed in carrying out liaison with the Secret Service in connection with safeguarding the President.

6. No memorandum on matters set forth in paragraphs 4 and 5 above have been prepared since the assassination.

7. The involvement of the United States government in many military and quasi-military activities overseas, coupled with the uncertainties de-riving from racial and social changes with the United States, suggest that assassination attempts and violence directed at key figures in all echelons of the United States government may have an upward swing. It is suggested that a central clearance house be publicly established at the Department of Justice, which would be known to the civil population as well as Federal, State and community agencies as a refer to which information related to possible violence could be directed. This office would, admittedly, receive a large input of crash mail. At its worst this would permit identification of such material. At its best such an office might very well develop information that would defeat the plans of an assassin.

Such an office would insure liaison between agencies, maintain appropriate records, accomplish investigations through existing agencies and facilitate and minimize the possibility that information on a planned assassination could be overlooked.

8. This DIA memorandum is also in answer to your request to JCS.

MEMORANDUM FOR GENERAL COUNSEL, DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

SUBJECT: President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy

Reference is made to memorandum, Office of the General Counsel, Department of Defense, 31 March 1964, with inclusion, concerning a request for information from the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy (incl 1).

Department of the Army policy and guidance for liaison with other agencies, including the United States Secret Service, are prescribed in the following regulations or manuals, copies or extracts of which are attached (incl 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6):

a. For Military Police Activities. Paragraph 9, AR 195-10; paragraph 3, AR 22-160; Section VII, FM 19-10, Military Police Operations.

b. For Intelligence Corps Activities. AR 381-113; FM 30-17.

No study has been conducted, since the assassination of President Kennedy, of the procedures in conducting liaison with the United States Secret Service or any Federal or civil law enforcement agencies as they concern the safeguarding of the President. Existing procedures in the Department of the Army as they pertain to coordination appear to be adequate for the purpose intended.

Recommendations from the Department of the Army regarding improvement in the matter of safeguarding the President are considered to be inappropriate, inasmuch as the official and legal responsibility for this vital function rests with the United States Secret Service. The United States Army is prepared to furnish any support or assistance in connection with the establishment of any additional procedures to safeguard the Commander in Chief, as required or directed.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DEPUTY GENERAL COUNSEL, OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

Subj: President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy

In response to your request of 31 March 1964 regarding information desired by the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy, the following is submitted.

The Office of Naval Intelligence has for many years maintained a close and continuing relationship with the U. S. Secret Service. Information forwarded to this office by the field components of ONI, regardless of its minuteness, that pertains to the laws enforced by the Secret Service is made available to that Service by the most expeditious means available.

This office has received many so called "crank" letters, both signed and anonymous, alleging harm or disrespect to the President. Letters of this type, if written by naval personnel, are investigated and the results made available to the Secret Service. If they are of the anonymous type or written by persons not under the investigative jurisdiction of this office, they are referred to the Protective Research Section of the Secret Service for their action.

This office further cooperates with the Secret Service, at their request, in connection with the physical protection of the President in locales outside of the Metropolitan Washington area. For many years the Philadelphia District Office has assisted during the President's visit for the annual Army Navy football game; the Charleston, South Carolina District Office assisted during the visit of the late President Kennedy to Cape Canaveral on 15-16 November 1963 and the same office again assisted during the visit of President Johnson to the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Florida on 26-27 February 1964. Previously, Naval Intelligence assisted when former President Truman was in residence at Key West, Florida, and former President Eisenhower vacationed at Newport, Rhode Island.

In the law enforcement field generally, the relationship between the Secret Service and the Office of Naval Intelligence has always been mutually harmonious. This office conducts many inquiries abroad for the Service in areas in which a Treasury Department representative is not located. Joint investigations are frequently conducted regarding forgery of government checks by Navy and Marine Corps personnel, and this office has conducted counterfeit investigations abroad involving military personnel. Liaison with the Secret Service at the national level is rarely, if ever, by mail. Reports, memos, and currency, etc. are delivered by hand by a Special Agent qualified to discuss problems of a mutual interest.

Other than continuing the close relationship described above, this office has no specific recommendations regarding Presidential protection.
The OKI issued instructions to its field offices world-wide to assure compliance with the directives which are referred to above as Attachments 1 and 4. Specifically, OKI commanders were reminded that only mature and experienced agents are to be utilized on such operations, and that they are to be proficient in the use of small firearms.

In addition, the above instructions requested OKI commanders to revise existing operating procedures which must include measures containing photographs and available information on Communist groups and/or personalities, agitators, agitprop, etc., known to be on bases or immediately contiguous to Air Force installations who are apt to cause trouble during operations of this nature. This material is furnished the USSS at such time as the President is scheduled into the area. In addition to liaison with the USSS, close liaison relations are maintained with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and local law enforcement agencies with regard to the performance of protective measures.

Because of the proximity of the LBJ Ranch to Bergstrom Air Force Base, Texas, it was anticipated that the President would be a frequent visitor to that base. In this connection, the OKI directed its Texas field office to prepare a comprehensive and detailed operations plan to be used in assisting the USSS as much as possible in planning for the protection of the President on his anticipated visits to the LBJ Ranch. Additionally, a cadre of OKI personnel in Texas is being given refresher training in specialized defensive measures, crowd control procedures and firearms training for the purpose of having OKI personnel engaged in these duties operationally ready to augment the USSS upon request.

Representatives of OKI have discussed with the USSS means by which the Air Force could improve its capabilities for a national agency in protecting the President. At the request of OKI, USSS has agreed to have selected senior staff officers from OKI attend their training course in the near future. This training will enable these officers to better assist and guide OKI field personnel.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy

SUBJECT: Policy and Criteria for Dissemination of Information to the Secret Service; Recommendations of the Central Intelligence Agency Relative to Presidential Protection

1. I refer to your memorandum of 16 March 1964, requesting any information on CIA policy and criteria relative to the dissemination of information in the matter of Presidential protection.

2. The formal regulations and established policies of this Agency provide for maintenance of liaison with other U.S. Government agencies on security, counterintelligence and other matters falling within their specific responsibilities. CIA liaison channels exist with the Secret Service. Intelligence on threats to the Presidential and Vice-Presidential households, whether of foreign or domestic origin, as well as data on the counterfeiting of United States currency, is promptly passed to the Secret Service when received.

3. Since 1955, the CIA has been cooperating very closely with the Secret Service when U.S. Presidents travel to foreign countries. In June 1963, the CIA thoroughly reviewed and formalized its procedures with respect to furnishing intelligence support to the President on his trips abroad and providing briefings and other assistance to the Secret Service. Provision was made at that time for the elaboration of intelligence requirements and daily dissemination of all intelligence bearing on Presidential trips, including the President’s physical security, to the Secret Service and other agencies concerned.

4. Because of its strict concern with overseas activity, CIA is most likely to obtain information on threats to the President’s safety while travelling abroad, or data on plots against his physical well-being that are planned abroad for execution outside the United States. On occasion, however, CIA sources have provided intelligence on plans, originating abroad, that allegedly were to be carried out in the United States. Such reports have been immediately disseminated to the Secret Service.

5. With regard to your request for recommendations on the matter of Presidential protection in the future, we submit comments only on those areas that relate directly to this Agency’s jurisdiction. A check with the CIA component responsible for dissem-nation of CIA intelligence information to other agencies reveals that the Secret Service has filed no formal requirements for intelligence information. Formal requirements held on file for its parent organisation, the Treasury Department, include requests for information on United States currency and the counterfeiting thereof, and the smuggling of any items readily convertible into cash. These Treasury requirements do not include a request for information dealing with the personal security of the President. As noted above, however, the CIA has been furnishing the Secret Service with this type of information as it comes to our attention.

6. CIA does not have detailed knowledge of Secret Service procedures for the processing of incoming intelligence. This Agency has come to appreciate, however, that prompt processing, review and distribution of information received, is a function that can be efficiently performed only by a unit charged with that responsibility within the action component.

7. Finally, as you know, the Commission has been briefed on the application of CIA’s experience in electronic data processing to the type of problem the Secret Service may face in planning the

ROBERT LEE OSWALD, also known as ROBERT L. OSWALD, 1009 Sierra, brother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, advised that on January 15, 1964 JAMES HERNIE MARTIN, business manager for MARINA OSWALD, told him that MARINA had told MARTIN that when RICHARD NIXON visited Dallas, date unknown, MARINA found out that LEE HARVEY OSWALD intended to shoot NIXON.

MARTIN indicated to ROBERT OSWALD that MARINA had looked LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the bathroom the entire day that he planned to shoot NIXON to prevent him from doing so.

ROBERT OSWALD stated that on the same date that MARTIN related the above information to him MARINA also told him the same thing during a trip to the cemetery to visit the grave of LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

ROBERT OSWALD does not know where LEE HARVEY OSWALD and MARINA were living at the time that LEE HARVEY OSWALD planned to shoot NIXON and does not know when this incident occurred but vaguely recalls NIXON's visit to Dallas as being in the summer or early fall of 1963.

ROBERT OSWALD stated he does not recall MARINA stating how she knew that LEE HARVEY planned to shoot NIXON.
A map is attached showing location of each officer together with a copy of a statement from each officer.

A statement from Captain P. W. Lawrence is attached which sets out the instructions which he gave to these officers prior to their assignment in which they were told to closely observe the crowd for any unusual activity or anyone attempting to throw anything that might constitute a threat to the President. They were told that their primary duty was crowd control. These instructions were given to the men between 9:00 and 9:30 a.m. in our Detail Room on the morning of November 22, 1963.

2. You also asked for a copy of any written standing instructions or General Orders of procedure which the Department may have issued governing these matters.

Since Presidential visits happen so infrequently, no General Order has ever been issued on this particular subject; however, crowd control is one of the major responsibilities of a police officer and one in which he engages frequently. We do have a special course of instruction on crowd control. A copy of one of the instruction pamphlets is attached for your information.

It should also be noted that at 12:19 p.m., 289 requested an ambulance for the 100 block of North Houston, an epileptic seizure. The epileptic seizure occurred in front of the hotel on Houston, approximately halfway between Elm and Main on the west side of Houston. The ambulance departed from the 100 block of North Houston with the epileptic seizure just prior to 12:25 p.m.

The following officers working in the vicinity of Elm, Main and Houston were drawn from their assignments to give assistance to the epileptic and to clear the ambulance through the crowd: Sergeant D. V. Hackett, Officers J. B. Allen, W. K. King, J. M. Smith and W. H. Denham. These officers returned to their posts after the ambulance left – not more than 5 minutes before the Presidential motorcade came through.

4. Attached is a copy of General Order #81 governing police dealings with press representatives and a copy of a memorandum dated February 7, 1963, issued to all members of the Department calling attention to the policy set forth in General Order #81.

You also asked for a collected set of instructions on policy and procedure to be followed in the absence of specific orders to the contrary. Attached is a copy of our General Order book, a copy of our Code of Conduct and a copy of Departmental Operating Procedure.

None of these instructions has been modified since November, 1963, as a result of the assassination. The copies attached are up-to-date manuals.

There were a number of deputy sheriffs in the crowd near the scene of the assassination; however, as far as we know, they did not have any specific assignments but were available for assistance. Information on their assignment and location may be obtained from Sheriff Bill Decker.

SUBJECT: Officer W. H. Denham — Statement — November 22, 1963

Sir:

I had a Grand Jury subpoena for 6:30 a.m. this date. On completion of the Grand Jury assignment I returned to the City Hall to the Traffic Office and received my assignment from an unknown sergeant who informed me that I was to work traffic at Main and Houston.

I arrived at Main and Houston about 9:45 a.m. Officer Allen was standing on the northeast corner on my arrival and I went over and spoke to him. We stood on the northeast corner looking at the buildings and at the crowd waiting the arrival of the President.

Officer W. K. King arrived later in the morning on a 3-wheel motorcycle and we asked him what the position was at that time. At approximately 12:15 a.m. an unknown witness hollered at us that a man was having an epileptic seizure. Allen and I rushed to the man's assistance and Officer King radioed for an ambulance. The man was approximately 100 to 150 feet north of Main Street on the west side of Houston on the grass. After the ambulance was loaded and gone, I went to the northeast corner of the intersection to help with crowd control and watch for any unusual incidents. The motorcade came west on Main Street, made a turn north into Houston. The motorcade was approximately halfway past my position when I heard the first shot. I did not know where it was coming from.

SUBJECT: Statement of D. V. Harkness

Sir:

On November 22, 1963, I was working 260 and was assigned to crowd control for the parade. I was assigned on the parade route from Main and Field to Main and Houston. At approximately 12:19 p.m., an ambulance was dispatched to 100 N. Houston for an epileptic seizure victim who was on the west side of the 100 block north Houston. The ambulance departed from this location just a little before 12:25 p.m. To the best of my knowledge, the parade was in the downtown area at this time. The parade was crossing Lamar at Main at 12:26 p.m.

When the first shots were fired, I was with Officer W. K. King and we were walking with the crowd west on Main on the north side, just west of Houston Street. We heard 3 shots. We were inside at that time to determine where the shots originated from.

Our instructions regarding our assignments were for crowd control and keeping the way clear for the motorcade.

Respectfully submitted,

SIR:

On the morning of November 22, 1963, instructions were to make detail at 8:45 a.m., which I did, and then I received my assignment to work traffic at Elm and Houston and also assist in the control of the crowd in that vicinity. I was to report to my assignment no later than 10:00 a.m.

My instructions were from Captain F. H. Lawrence to hold all the traffic up when the motorcade was approaching. I was to assist in handling of the crowd — more specifically to be on the lookout for anyone throwing things from the crowd.

At approximately 11:30 a.m. there was a white male who had an epileptic seizure on the esplanade which was between Elm and Main Street on Houston. I went from my assignment down to see if my assistance was needed. After the man was put into the ambulance and sent to the hospital, I reported back to my assignment.

I was standing in the middle of Elm Street from the southeast curb of Elm and Houston Streets at the time of the shooting. I heard the shots and thought they were coming from bushes of the overpass.

On the morning of November 22, 1963, which was on Friday, I made 9:00 a.m. detail. My assignment was the railroad overpass over the Stemmons Expressway, and I got specific instructions from Sergeant Irish to walk the south sidewalk on this overpass and not let anyone on the railroad right-of-way or overpass. I arrived at that assignment about 9:30 and where I remained during the shooting and after.

I heard the shots and they seemed like they were coming high from the direction of the Bank Depository Building. There was a terrific echo.

SUBJECT: Officer W. K. King - Statement

Sir:

On November 22, 1963, I was working 289 patrolling Main Street from Houston to Field and was clearing all delivery trucks and passenger cars. I had assignment to cut all traffic off of Main Street, west of the Triple Underpass. This was later changed by Sergeant Harkness because his radio was out and I had Channel 2 on my motor. Officer H. W. Williams took my assignment on Main Street, west of the Triple Underpass and I worked intersection of Main and Houston.

At approximately 12:19 p.m. I called for an ambulance in the 100 block north of Houston for an epileptic seizure. The ambulance departed approximately 12:25 p.m.

When the first shots were fired, I was with Sergeant Harkness at the intersection of Main and Houston. He both ran into the park west of Houston between Lin and Main. At this point I do not know where Sergeant Harkness went. I went on over to Elm Street to try and control the crowd. About this time emergency units were running and I returned to the intersection of Main and Houston and was there approximately 2 hours before relieved and my instructions in detail were to clear Main Street of all parked vehicles and to work crowd control.

On November 22, 1963, I was detail at 9:00 a.m. at the downtown Police Department where we received instructions from Captain Lawrence and I was assigned to the corner of Main and Houston and received instructions at that time to keep the traffic back, hold the crowd back, watch for anything unusual or suspicious in the crowd and the buildings in our area and to keep anybody from throwing at the crowd.

I reported to my assignment a few minutes before 10:00 a.m. At that time I checked the crowd to see if anybody looked suspicious and looked over the buildings in the surrounding area and did not see anything that looked out of the ordinary.

At approximately 12:15 p.m. a white male had an epileptic seizure on the west side, in front of the plaza of the 100 block of north Houston Street. I administered first aid and returned to my assignment at approximately 12:23 p.m.

Sirs:

On the morning of November 22, 1963, I was assigned to the parade route of President Kennedy to assist him in the protection of the President and for crowd control. My assignment was for 10:00 a.m. on the Stevans Overpass northbound at the Rin Street entrance and my assignment was to keep all persons from gathering on the bridge and to not allow any cars to stop as the motorcade came under the underpass.

The assignment was given to me by Captain P. N. Lawrence. Nothing did stop — no cars or persons were on the bridge until after the shooting had occurred, because traffic had backed up from below me where the motorcade came onto Stevans.

I could see the President’s motorcade from my position and heard the shots but did not see from where they came. There were two other officers on the overpass with me. I do not know who these officers were but think they were three-wheel motorcycle officers. They were assigned 100 feet to 150 feet south of my position to slow northbound traffic on Stevans as the motorcade entered the freeway.

SUBJ: Presidential Motorcade Assignments – November 22, 1963

Sir:

Before the individual traffic assignments were given to each man on the morning of November 22, 1963, I personally talked to the men assembled in the detail room.

I told the officers the approximate time of the arrival of the President at Love Field, where he would arrive and the approximate number of vehicles in this motorcade. I also advised them that Chief Lapkin would be in a white Ford with the Secret Service personnel, approximately eight or ten blocks ahead of the motorcade and that all officers on assignment should be alert for this vehicle and pull Chief Lapkin's vehicle through any lights and block off all traffic for the approaching motorcade. I then stated that the motorcade would have an advance motorcycle escort; that the first one in the escort would be Chief Gerry's vehicle, followed by the President's vehicle, and that motorcycle escort in front would be just to the rear of the President's car on each side. I advised them that the last vehicle in this motorcade would be a white marked 4-WD car and all officers operating motor vehicles should remain on Channel 2 for radio communications.

I then went over the route of the motorcade from Love Field through the downtown area and stated that some of the officers would have assignments before and during the parade and some officers on assignments at the start, near Love Field, would then have assignments in the trade center area; also that other assignments would be made after the President left the trade center. All of these officers would be given directions on their individual assignments. I also advised officers that supervisors would be available in their particular area for any problems that might arise.

I then told the officers that their primary duty was traffic and crowd control and that they should be alert for any persons who might attempt to throw anything and although it was not a violation of the law to carry a placard, that they were not to tolerate any actions such as the Stevenson incident and arrest any person who might attempt to throw anything or try to get at the President and his party, paying particular attention to the crowd for any unusual activity. I stressed the fact that that was our President and he should begiven every respect due his position and that it was our duty to see that this was done.

At the time of these instructions Deputy Chief J. H. Landry was present in the Assembly room. I then left the individual detail assignments to Lieutenant H. F. Southard and requested all of the solo motorcycle supervisors and solo motorcycle officers meet with me outside the Assembly room for special instructions on their position in the Presidential motorcade.

I then went outside the Assembly room and reviewed with the solo supervisors and all of the solo officers their motorcade assignments with instructions that they were to keep the crowd back from the President's car and other vehicles in this motorcade; specifically instructing the officers on each side of the President's car to be alert for any unusual movements in the crowd so that they could move their motorcycle up into position alongside the President's vehicle if necessary for his safety. The solo supervisors were then handed copies of the assignments for their men.

I made detail in the basement of the City Hall at approximately 9:15 a.m., November 22, 1963. I was assigned traffic at the corner of Houston and 41st streets by Captain R. W. Lawrence. Captain Lawrence also gave instructions to keep the crowd back from the street so as to allow the motorcade to pass through, he also stated to keep an eye out for suspicious activity. He told us that it was legal for citizens to carry pistols but not to be on the alert for anyone, should they attempt to throw them at the President.

I got to my traffic corner at approximately 10:00 a.m. and took a position at the east corner of Houston Street at exactly thirty feet south of bln. between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 12:15 p.m., I remained at my corner checking the crowd and the windows of the Texas School Book Depository for any suspicious activity but did not see any.

SUBJECT: Assignment on FBI of President Kennedy's Assassination

Sir:

On November 22, 1963, I was assigned, along with another officer, to work the railroad tracks over the Trinity Overpass. I was given this assignment by Lt. W. F. Southerland. As I recall, he instructed me to keep all persons off the overpass. It was my understanding that I was to keep all unauthorized persons away from this location. However, I do not recall whether Lt. Southerland used the word "unauthorized." Sgt. D. V. Harkness told one of us to get on the east side of the overpass, and the other on the west side, and for us to keep all unauthorized persons off the overpass. I was on the west side of the overpass.

A Texas and Pacific freight train was traveling north on the railroad tracks between the parade and me. I did not hear the shots. I did not see any of the parade until some motorcycles and a couple of cars cut out of the parade went west from under the overpass. There was no one on the west side of the overpass watching the parade, but there were some railroad employees on the east side of the overpass watching the parade. As soon as the train cleared the tracks, I turned to where the search was being made, I went to the location to help block off the building.

Subject: Assignment on Date of President Kennedy's Assassination

Sir:

On November 22, 1963, I was assigned to work the railroad tracks over the Triple Underpass. I was given this assignment by Lt. J. V. Southard. As I recall, he instructed me to keep all persons off the Overpass at this location during the parade. It was my understanding that I was to keep all unauthorized persons away from this location; however, I do not recall whether Lt. Southard used the word "unauthorized."

There were several railroad employees working on the railroad tracks at this location when I arrived on my assignment. Several of these employees came to the Overpass just prior to the parade's arrival, and were standing near me along the east side of the Overpass. I do not recall any specific instructions regarding railroad employees. However, I checked all of these persons to be sure they were working for the railroad yards. After I had checked with them, I assumed it to be permissible for them to stand at this location. I was standing in back of them so I could watch them.

Since the railroad employees were working in the vicinity and some of them were working directly on the Overpass, it did not occur to me that there would be anything wrong with my allowing them to go to the Overpass at the side of the tracks to watch the parade, because I knew that this was railroad property.

While I was on assignment at this location, two other persons, who were not railroad employees, attempted to come on the Overpass, but I would not allow them to do so.

After the motorcade turned from Houston Street to Elm Street, I was watching the railroad employees very closely so that I would be in a position to prevent any incident. When I heard the shots, I was standing directly in back of these railroad employees and I then moved to the railroad Overpass letters to see what was happening. I then saw the President slumping over in the car and other persons falling down on the grass in the vicinity of the President's car. The President's car and a couple of other cars hit the scene instantaneously at a high rate of speed with a motorcycle escort. I then observed some officers running toward the building on the northeast corner of Elm and Houston. I immediately ran towards the same building and assisted in blocking off the building.

n will follow the mandate of the Supreme Court in those actions now pending and in the future conduct of such libel suits. It is hoped that the State Courts will not allow retaliation against the press in order to punish the views which are unpopular in any given locality, that they will not continue to use the power of the State to harass the press. And if the State Courts follow this policy of freedom of the press, no matter how unpopular the views expressed, and I have every hope that they will, then this decision will be of the utmost significance. The case of Sullivan vs. The New York Times holds great hope for freedom of the press and continued strength and vigor in the years ahead.

Thank you very much for this opportunity to appear here today and for the privilege of representing ASNE.

President Bruenner: Thank you, Mr. Rogers for being with us and for what you said. It is good to have you aboard.

DALLAS REVISITED

Mr. Black: As I said in the Fol report earlier this morning, looking at this whole field I think one of the great threats that we face today is in the growing clamor for restrictions of coverage or criminal proceedings in the courts, both before trial and during trial.

The threat is too much of actual legal restrictions on the press itself, because there you run into the First Amendment. Rather, it is taking two or three or other directions, which all of you I am sure are aware of.

One is, that we're being asked to join with the legal fraternity in adopting codes by which we would agree not to publish certain information, just agree voluntarily.

The second thing, of course, is the courts do have the contempt power, which is being used somewhat more widely, it seems to me.

The third thing, and the direction this whole trend is taking now, is in the passage, or the request for passage, of legislation which would put restrictions on our news sources. That is, these restrictions would deny police officials and public officials—anybody connected with the courts and even some of the lawyers—the right to give certain information to the press.

A good number of the complaints about the press were summed up very dramatically at Dallas. We all agree, I think, that there was some great newspaper work in the events at Dallas and afterwards. But, as you are aware, there have also been a number of very bitter complaints about the performance of the news media there.

We have assembled here today a group of people who can speak on the Dallas situation from firsthand knowledge and experience and sympathy towards the press, but who, at the same time, are concerned about what went on in Dallas.

I will introduce these speakers later and tell you a little bit about their background and their association with the press as we go on. But the main charges that grew out of this situation at Dallas, as far as the press was concerned, I think, can be summed up as three.

The first one was that there was just some bad reporting. We know that there was some good reporting, some great reporting, but there also have been some charges from within the press itself that there was just some sloppy, bad, inaccurate, sensational reporting.

The second charge was that the press itself, by its demands upon the police and by the way it came into Dallas with great mobs of people, actually contributed to the killing of Lee Oswald.

The third charge was that the press then also had made it impossible for Oswald, had he lived, to have received a fair trial.

As I say, these charges sum up some of the criticism that we hear in increasing frequency about the performance of the press. We think it would be very worthwhile to examine them in the context of this specific incident at Dallas and also to have them examined by people who, as I say are friends of ours and not perennial critics.

We've asked Joseph Costa, a longtime friend of the American Society of Newspaper Editors to lead off the program.

Joe, who attends our conventions regularly, is chairman of the board of the National Press Photographers Association. We've asked him to gather some slides of the events at Dallas in order to give us a bit of background, a little bit of the feeling of it. So, Joe, will you please show us those slides now and make your comments. After that we will present our speakers. It is our plan to allow time for questions after the program is concluded.

(Mr. Costa showed 25 slides of various scenes in Dallas from the period shortly after President Kennedy's assassination until the conclusion of the Ruby trial.)

Mr. Costa: If you think the pictures you have just seen reflect a pretty bad situation, bear in mind that you have been exposed to only part of the story.

When these pictures were viewed by the American public in their own living rooms, there were two more dimensions added, namely, motion and sound; motion, which undoubtedly heightened the feeling of confusion, and sound, which completed the job of creating the feeling of pandemonium.

These scenes are not new by any means. Nor do they reflect a condition that just happened overnight. Anyone whose vision was anything short of being totally blind has watched this condition building up for the past 20 years or more.

I had the honor of addressing an ASNE convention in this same hotel back in 1946. Those of you who may have heard me will remember that I pleaded that something be done to prevent the public image of news gatherers from deteriorating any further.

To date we have permitted a situation to develop that would confound the most learned scholars. While industry at large spends uncounted millions every year in public relations efforts aimed at improving the public image of industry generally, the world of communications does just the opposite. While it makes little or no constructive effort to bring home to the American people a deeper conviction that freedom of the press is something that belongs to all the people collectively and individually, television, by putting live cameras on the scene on those rare occasions of major news stories, makes it certain that the worst possible side of the communications industry is brought into the living room. Then by replaying the event, television makes it doubly certain that anyone who may have missed the scene on the first broadcast has any number of additional opportunities to view it.

Guideline, I regard this as one of the most serious and threatening problems journalism has had to face in many generations. The responsibility for some action that will correct this situation rests squarely on all of our collective shoulders.

I have been in the news-gathering profession for more than 40 years. As far back as I can remember people were badgered by reporters, hounded into a corner and pelted with questions, some relevant and many inconsequential and downright foolish. However, there was no radio or live television in those days. There were only writers and photographers. As a result, by the time the story or the interview appeared in print, all of the irrelevant questions had been distilled from the story. The public never knew the badgering circumstances under which the answers to the questions had been obtained.

Today's saturation coverage of major news events, coupled with the addition of radio and television, has proliferated the number of news-gathering personnel on any major news story, while the equipment used by the new media adds greatly to the clutter and the confusion thus created.

Naturally at such an event of staggering moment all order tends to break down. Nevertheless, responsible forces within the profession must...
Our editors have asked us, "Jo, don't we keep in line?" Well, today it isn't only photographers, as you all know. Besides, a voluntary professional society such as the National Press Photographers Association can only recommend guidelines for the public conduct of news gatherers. We cannot force anyone to obey them. It is up to the editors and publishers and the corresponding executives in all the other media to lay down some rules of conduct and insist that all its employees follow them to the letter.

It is time for the news profession itself to suggest how it can continue to inform the public without incurring public resentment. If we, in the public arena of new gathering, do not come up with some tangible procedure for professional self-discipline, we may well go down in history as the last generation. That is, the generation which lost the hallowed privilege of press freedom to arbitrary and fettering controls. We will have failed all of our forebears and the very people we profess to serve. Indeed, we will have failed democracy itself.

For my part I congratulate ASNE for scheduling this discussion at this convention. However, you cannot, you must not skip here. Discussion must go forward in league with all the other media until a workable plan of action evolves. I can pledge you the complete cooperation of The Dallas Times Herald as always of the NIPA.

Mr. Showalter: We all know, of course, what a big story the Kennedy assassination was in our own shops. We can only imagine what it was in Dallas itself.

Felix McKnight, the editor of the Times Herald, certainly needs no introduction to this group, because he is all of you know, one of our past presidents. I'm sure you know too, somewhat, of Felix's feeling of some of the performance of the press, because of his article in the Bulletin earlier this year. We have asked Felix to lead off this discussion this morning.

Mr. Felix R. McKnight, Dallas Times Herald: On November 22, 1963, the President of the United States was assassinated in my city of Dallas. The violent, senseless end of John Fitzgerald Kennedy brought the generation's most sensitive moment.

Dallas became the reluctant capital of sorrow. It became a symbol of evil because a man committed, in derangement, an act of total horror. And it became, merely by the click of a reporter's typewriter key, or a spoken word of a broadcaster, a "city of hatred."

Now, in the first aftermath, it is a city of "pride and prejudice."

Today, some five months later, I assure you that Dallas gropes along with the rest of the world for some answers. But I think this morning, we should confine ourselves most urgently to the thought that the people want answers to the questions concerning the communications field.

As an American newspaperman, I stand in the midst of partial disillusionment, seeking not answers, but reaffirmation of an old principle—that reporters are observers, not participants.

Just for a few moments, go back with me about 43 years, and I will attempt to start making my point. Not even the wire stand of crystal radio was known on September 6, 1910, the day when a President of the United States had last fallen before assassin's bullets. On that day, as you know, at the Pan American exposition in Buffalo, William McKinley was shot down at a reception.

The bell of a Morse telegrapher's key gradually edged word of the McKinley assassination around the world. There was no instantaneous chain communication. If you were not the employee of a newspaper somewhere, you did not have access to the information rattling off an empty tobacco can near the telegrapher's ear. You did not know that on the morrow, with the first publication in a newspaper, the world would restlessly shudder at old problems. In the endless intermin of hours, editors and printers labulously created their single edition of the day.

Finally, many hours later, the world knew the emptiness, the void, the scar that was many, many hours into history.

Today, in the single rush of a man's breath borne by the mystery of electronics, you knew that you had lost your President; and the world had lost a man who sought the peace. In another 30 or 40 minutes, you read of it in depth. And then for hours and days and weeks and months, you heard and read new details that literally flowed in by the minute.

Men of scientific skill have improved the tools of communication, from the magnetic tapes and computers of the newspaper, to the bouncing beams of the satellite hung in the sky. But what of man himself? The editor, the reporter and the commentator?

I think no happening should give greater test to editorial skill than the violent death of a President.

Believe me, gentlemen, if newspapers are to remain in emotion, in meaning and significance, anything that could have happened to you as an editor. Yet, when the greatest degree of fidelity to purpose was demanded, I think many of the American press faltered.

In some rare instances, there was raw, planned, distortion of facts. Others came hundreds and thousands of miles to perform "firsthand" reporting of a momentous event, with the superficiality that comes from pawing through local newspaper carbons, or interviewing their reporters—reporters, who, incidentally, worked almost continuously four days and nights, in the superb blanketing of countless newsbreaks.

It is now not, nor ever has been my purpose to edit another man's newspaper, or to feud with old friends. My concern, after these first edgy moments of sensitivity has gone far deeper than civic pride or personal hurt.

May I, in restraint, I hope, and with total objectivity, pose a few questions this morning that I think need the best examination by our editorial minds.

We are now confronted in the newspaper business with new and relatively unexplored areas of news coverage. Perhaps some of you will disagree with me, but if you give it very honest appraisal you will find, as we did, that the climate of the time, the mood of the world, forces upon editors, decisions that were not encountered just a brief decade ago.

The moments of history are brief but monumental. We are no longer in business to cover fires, murders, the Chamber of Commerce, the State Legislature, the City Hall, the Congress of the United States, with a little dash of foreign news thrown in. We now cover history. It can be domestic with the thin emotions of civil rights: the assassination of a President; the partisan winds of politics that blow through the deep issues of our period; the involvements of distant conflict that chip away the lives of our men; the wrath of nature that weeks one of our states; the holing of man into one-hundred mile skies; and on and on.

Outside our own troubled land, no nation is without a volcanic potential. Modern mass, or saturation coverage, in my opinion, will not meet tougher tests than the two Dallas events: the assassination of the President and the subsequent murder trial of Jack Ruby.

President Kennedy was accompanied by more than 70 Washington correspondents and Texas newsmen when he landed in Dallas at 11:25 a.m., on November 22. Twenty-four hours later more than 300 representa-tives of the various media from over the world were in Dallas.

Newspaper, radio and television offices were invaded. Reference files were scattered over newspaper offices; some permanently lost. Photo departments bulged with outsiders wanting to process film, buy photographs and so forth. Magazine and foreign newspaper representatives "busted" individual photographers with very tempting offers for exclusive pictures. In the instance of one of our men, Bob Jackson, who shot the remarkable and historic instant of death, when Jack Ruby killed Lee Oswald, we simply had to declare Jackson and our photo department "off limits."

Our city, in some instances, has taken a printed licking these last five months. But as I look back, during those incredibly busy days in our own shop, I can say in almost complete honesty that we did not resent the presence of a single man in our office.

"Inconvenient," yes, to have your switchboard tied up at times with Gentlemen, I know of no other way of putting it. It was just bad manners.

The Dallas newspapers have had to start over with new reference files on such persons in our community as the district attorney. Other personalities involved in the story needed new reference files. Our files were disarranged, to say the least. But oddly enough, we didn't get mad. We just don't quite understand some of the bad manners that seem to have come into reporting these days.

Now, I mention this only as a part of the total problem of this new mass saturation coverage problem we face when we lump hundreds of men, microphones and cameras on the stories of today.

I need not remind you of some of the slides you just witnessed. I think this problem reached the point of the unsolvable dilemma upon the arrest of Mr. Oswald. Television cameras, cables, microphones, newsmen's credentials, still cameras, reporters, technicians, and even Jack Ruby, cluttered the corridors of the Dallas City Hall. Identification badges, most of them issued for the Presidential visit prior to the assassination, were partially augmented after the assassination through a system that I think needs some explaining to you.

You have seen in Mr. Costa's slides, some of the confusion encountered—not by the hour, but by the moment, for four days and nights. Much has been said and written about the use of a public relations firm in Dallas, both on the arrangements for the Presidential visit and for the Ruby trial.

Now to clarify, and to ask possible pointers to the future, I think its function should be explained.

First of all, it was not a free job. It was a paid performance. This agency, which was filled with former newspapers, volunteered to assist in the handling of the visiting press. It met with the editors of both Dallas newspapers, the bureau chiefs of the wire services, representatives of television and radio and with the representatives of the Secret Service, who came to Dallas some ten days prior to the President's arrival.

We sat with these people, and it became obvious immediately that neither newspaper had the facilities to handle such a crowd. As I say, the agency volunteered and helped, in setting up physical arrangements, accreditation and so forth.

The active newspapermen of both Dallas newspapers and the wire services were always consulted before any moves were made, working in coordination with the Secret Service. It was a very large undertaking, I know. And it was rather demanding of the editors who had their own coverage of the Presidential visit to plan.

It now seems, as we look back on a very bad dream, that there was no way to win. If we had not provided adequate facilities, we would have been criticized. We used professional former newsmen to make the arrangements, because the local newspapers had their own problems, and some of the hatchet writers called us exhibitionists for employing public relations persons.

Gentlemen, I ask you in all honesty—is there a single person in this room, who would assume the responsibility for settling press rooms, wires, straight telephone lines and other facilities for more than 370 individuals who sought to cover the Ruby trial?

I think not. The public relations firm was not serving as a publicist for the judge. It was, I assure you, only trying to handle a very difficult arrangement. There were 111 news gathering organizations and 24 television, radio and newsreel agencies, with 321 accredited individuals on hand.

In the fairest manner possible, the 144 courtroom seats were distributed to organizations actually involved in the coverage of court proceedings. As most of you recall, it was originally planned to hold the Ruby trial in a smaller courtroom, making possible the seating of only 48 accredited members of the press. We were able to switch courtrooms. As most of you also realize, courtrooms are not built for use by the news media, only for the systems of justice. We were able to get just a little larger courtroom and 144 seats available.

Each person had a badge, listing the name of the organization only, permitting flexibility in rotating work assignments for members of their own staffs. The badges were transferrable and used by each organization as it saw fit.

One very special concern was that of the foreign press. At various times, during the course of the Ruby trial, 31 foreign news organizations were represented by 48 individuals from 14 foreign countries—England, Canada, Australia, France, Italy, West Germany, Spain, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Israel and the Netherlands. Nine British newspapers were accredited, as well as seven foreign television film and broadcasting agencies.

Domestically, we had 308 news men, and 18 television and radio outlets were represented. We set up a temporary pressroom in probable court on the same floor, with all the equipment for handling the news story—straight-line phones, printers, television and radio outlets, added power for TV cables, etc.—arranged by the public relations firm.

Outside all of these facts, I remind you again that mass coverage or so-called saturation coverage, believe me, carries many, many problems with it.

To return to my original remark, and we can get into it later with questions if you care to, I only pose this problem. I'm sorry I didn't come with some answers—and we have diligently sought them in Dallas. I do not know the answers. It is the right, certainly, of every newspaper, television and radio outlet to cover any news story, but I think it also becomes the concern of the media to assure responsible conduct and editorial integrity.

There were more embarrassing scenes that the American public witnessed after the verdict in the Ruby trial—the shouting, the lighting for microphone positions, the clambering over courtroom furniture, the inane questions and comment generally undermining professionals. Like Mr. Cosa, I think we have some answers to give.

Mr. Black said the judge of the court agreed after a conference with the networks, to permit the televising of the verdict only. He said later he had their promise that immediately after the verdict was announced, they would go off the air. He adjourned the court, dismissed the jury, left the courtroom. If you were a privileged American television viewer that day, you then saw the pandemonium.

Mr. Belli made a speech, to put it mildly, and there was general confusion and certainly nothing for us to be proud of. Everybody was in the act.

Again, I can only give you this incident, the incredible happenings of the Pope's journey to the Holy Land, which we saw on television, the Garst farm fiasco and other failures to ponder. I suggest that we as a group come forth with an answer, and very soon.

The Police Captain View

(Cross-examination)

Mr. BLACK: Nobody bought the presence of this mass of newsmen in Dallas more than the Dallas Police Department. I told the people who have agreed to be on this program, that our purpose here is not to continue to criticize Dallas, but to try to examine some problems that the press is interested in. Of course, it is no secret that the Dallas Police Department has come into its share of criticism.

At the same time, it has been charged by a number of people that the pressure put on the police department, which was certainly not accustomed to having as many out-of-town newsmen as it might have expected if it had known at the time, was a direct contributing factor to the death of Lee Oswald. We have with us this morning somebody, I think, who

SUBJECT: Trade Mart Decision

Please be advised that the decision to use the Trade Mart in preference to the Women’s Building at The Fairgrounds for the luncheon on November 22, 1963, was made by the SAIC Behn of the White House Detail of the United States Secret Service by Mr. Kenneth O’Donnell, Special Assistant to the President.

SAIC Behn in turn notified SA Lawson in Dallas of the decision on November 14, 1963.

Increased Seating Readied
For Kennedy Luncheon

Exhibitors at the Trade Mart will be using increasing the capacity of the luncheon room at the Trade Mart and the Women’s Building to accommodate another 1,500. The increase in capacity will not change the number of tickets available for the luncheon, or the number of President on the Friday morning. The present room can accommodate 2,000 people, and the additional tables and chairs have now been added.

White House staff gave final approval to the Trade Mart as an alternative after Secret Service agents visited the fairgrounds on November 22, 1963. The luncheon will be held in the Trade Mart and the Women’s Building at Fair Park from 12 noon until 1:00 p.m. The lunch will be served by the trade mart, and the entire lunch service will be handled by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. The luncheon will be served in the Trade Mart’s grand ballroom and will be attended by all invited guests.

The White House also approved the luncheon in another building if the Trade Mart does not have enough space to accommodate the crowd. The luncheon is expected to be attended by all invited guests and will be attended by all invited guests. The luncheon will be served in the Trade Mart’s grand ballroom and will be attended by all invited guests.

Yarborough Gets JFK Table Spot

By JIM LEHRER
Staff Writer

The controversy over an alleged "shab" of Sen. Ralph Yarborough was settled Tuesday with the official announcement that he has been invited to sit at the head table at the Friday luncheon in Dallas for President Kennedy.

Spokesmen for the three sponsoring organizations said that both Yarborough's request and Texas Governor John Connally's will have been considered.

Yarborough, a Democrat, understands he will be present at the Trade Mart for the non-military, invitation-only affair. The Chairman of the Luncheon Committee has said he has no plans to attend.

SECURITY PLANS

Detailed security arrangements became public Tuesday also as the official motorcade route from Love Field to the Trade Mart was announced.

Further, Police Chief Jesse Curry said that between 175 and 200 uniformed and un-uniformed officers and agents of the Dallas Police Department will help enforce the President's security needs.

He said Dallas County sheriff's deputies and officers of the Department of Public Safety will help with traffic control and security at Love Field, along the motorcade route and at the Trade Mart.

Sheriff Bill Decker and DPS Major Guy Smith have been in charge of security details.

ROUTE REVEALED

While the formal announcement of the details of the President's Texas and Dallas trip was to be made in Washington at 4 p.m., a White House representative said that the President will arrive in Dallas at 1:40 p.m. at Love Field.

The motorcade, he said, will then proceed to downtown Dallas, past Dealey Plaza, then west on Elm Street to Mockingbird Lane, then to Turtle Creek, turning south to Stemmons Freeway to the Trade Mart.

The return trip will be much shorter, going directly from the luncheon site to Harry Hines Memorial Hospital and then to Love Field.

PUBLIC TO BE KEPT OUT

Authorities said that all but the main entrance of the Trade Mart will be sealed off to luncheon goers. The many exhibit room passageways that lead into the main courtyard where the luncheon is being held will be roped off and manned by guards.

People—without tickets—will be allowed to sit in the three high balconies overlooking the courtyard area, but guards will be on hand there also, to insure that only those with tickets are admitted.

The spokesman said it looked "unlikely" at this point that a platform and a public address system would be set up at Love Field, so the President could say a few words to his greeters at plane-side.

The head table seating announced closed argument that in an unruly fashion or who had been raged over complaints tender in the conduct of both prior that Sen. Yarborough, who is uplifted and public meetings.

Dallas released the motorcade route.

The motorcade will then pass through downtown on Harwood and then west on Main, turning back to Elm at Houston and then out Stemmons Freeway to the Trade Mart.

The return trip will be much shorter, going directly from the luncheon site to Harry Hines Memorial Hospital and then to Love Field.

Yarborough Seating Pondered

By CARL FREUND

Sponsors of the Dallas luncheon for President Kennedy pondered Monday what they should do with U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Leaders of groups sponsoring the Friday luncheon conferred in an attempt to decide whether to invite the senator to sit at the head table.

The tentative seating arrangement for the head table did not list Yarborough. Presumably, if the senator attended the nonpartisan luncheon in the Trade Mart, he would sit with congressmen at the No. 2 table.

This brought protests from Yarborough supporters. They argued that, as a senator, he rated a seat at the head table. And they charged that sponsors of the luncheon were "snubbing" Yarborough because of his political views.

ASKED IF Yarborough had been deliberately relegated to a lesser table, a spokesman for the sponsoring groups told The Dallas News Friday, "We have not been informed officially that he will be here."

There was speculation in political circles Monday that Yarborough would protest privately to President Kennedy if not invited to sit at the head table here or to attend an Austin reception.

(There is no problem involving Sen. John Tower, a Republican. He has stated he does not plan to attend the luncheon.)

President Raymond Buck of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring a Friday breakfast for President Kennedy, said Sen. Yarborough has been invited to sit at its head table.

MEANWHILE, Police Chief Cato Hightower of Fort Worth announced the route the President's motorcade will follow from the breakfast at Hotel Texas to Carswell Air Force Base on the city's west edge.

Hightower said the motorcade would move north on Main, swing around the Tarrant County Courthouse, and then go west on Belknap. It will proceed over Jacksboro Highway and River Oaks Boulevard to the Carswell south gate, the chief said.

The route will take the President through areas with a heavy Democratic vote.

President and Mrs. Kennedy will board a jet airliner at Carswell for a short flight to Dallas Love Field. It will arrive here about 11:30 a.m.

DEMOCRATIC leaders say they are hopeful the President will "make a few impromptu remarks" outside the Fort Worth hotel after the breakfast there and at Love Field upon arriving here.

Hightower said he anticipates "there may be some pickets" in Fort Worth during the President's visit. The chief said state laws give citizens the right to picket peacefully and officers will not interfere as long as they do so.

Hightower joined Dallas officers in expressing hopes they can avoid "incidents" during the Kennedy visit.

THE NEWS LEARNED Monday evening that the presidential motorcade will travel 10 miles to the Trade Mart using this route:

From Love Field to Mockingbird Lane, along Mockingbird Lane to Lemmon, then Lemmon to Turtle Creek. Turtle Creek to Cedar Springs. Cedar Springs to Harvey, Harwood to Main, Main to Houston. Houston to Elm. Elm under the Triple Underpass to Seamans Expressway and on to the Trade Mart.

The return trip will be more direct: Seamans to Harry Hines. Harry Hines to Mockingbird and on to Love Field—a distance of 43 miles.
Yarborough Invited To Travel With JFK

By CARL FREUND

President Kennedy has invited Sen. Ralph Yarborough to fly into Dallas aboard the presidential jet airliner Friday, The Dallas News learned Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the three groups sponsoring the nonpartisan luncheon for the President announced they have invited Yarborough to sit at the head table.

The developments came after Yarborough's supporters charged that Gov. John Connally and conservative leaders were trying to force the liberal senator to "take a back seat" during Kennedy's visit to Texas.

DALLAS SPEECH

U.S. Stronger, Wealthier Than Ever, Says Johnson

By LEWIS HARRIS

Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson, in a hurried prelude to the presidential visit this week, hustled through Dallas Tuesday with a glowing tribute to President Kennedy's administration.

Despite widespread presidential administrative criticism in recent days, the nation is "stronger and wealthier than ever before," Johnson declared.

He was addressing the convention of American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages at Market Hall.

Johnson candidly told his audience "I am here to give you a report from the horse's mouth" on the three years under President Kennedy.

Then, noting that "I would like to feel I have had some responsibility here," Johnson ticked off these points:

-There have been "fascinating gains in defense forces," with more realized from each dollar spent. This includes a 45 per cent increase in combat-ready divisions, doubled nuclear capability and a 600 per cent jump in counter-insurgent strength.

-The economy "is sound." Personal income is up 10 per cent, compared to only a 7 per cent increase in living costs; factory workers are averaging a 40-hour plus week, highest of any peacetime economy. 70,000,000 people are working, 2,500,000 more than three years ago.

-Businessmen "have not been hurt" in the process. Corporation profits are up 35 per cent, the national gross product up 20 per cent.

Johnson told the story of the hillbilly who said about the holes in his roof, "when the sun shines, they don't leak; when it rains, I can't get on the roof to fix them."

There are "some holes" in the picture of growth, Johnson said. Foremost is the 4,000,000 unemployed.

Here he beat the drums for the administration's proposed tax cut. He asserted that the $11,000,000,000 cut would produce "a return of $20,000,000,000" in the economy, increasing production and jobs.

President Kennedy decided to operate, and will continue to operate, from "a position of strength:" in his dealings with Russia, Johnson emphasized.

"If the Soviet Union wants our cooperation, she can earn it. If she wants our hostility, she can provoke it.

The proof that this approach is working, he added, "can be found in the fact that the Russians tucked their tails between their legs, gathered up their missiles and went home from Cuba."

Communism has not crossed any of the lines drawn against it since the Kennedy administration took over. Johnson asserted. And he rapped again those "prophets of gloom and doom;" and those who "would have you think we have nothing but the ugly American image abroad."

Johnson said he had visited 40 countries as vice-president, "and I have never shaken an unfriendly hand. We are the most beloved nation in all the world."

The vice-president told the bottlers that as businessmen, Democrat of Republican, you "should participate in your government. You are Americans first. Vote your convictions."

Storm of Political Controversy Swirls Around Kennedy on Visit

Love Field Braces for Thousands

By CARL FREDRIK

DALLAS—Police said Thursday night they expected that "thousands of well-wishers" would join Love Field to greet President Kennedy when he arrived late Friday morning.

Police Chief Tom Long and officials of the airport were making final plans to handle the potentially large crowd that was expected to be at the airport to welcome President Kennedy to Texas late Friday afternoon.

Rex Johnson, attorney for the Johnson-Johnson Publishing Co., said it was not known who would carry the President's briefcase on Air Force One from the airport to the RSDA Inn.

President To Visit Dallas, 3 Other Texas Cities Soon

Political Motive Hinted

By BOB LINGSHOF
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy is planning to test Texas' political waters with a whirlwind tour of the state that would include a Dallas appearance. The Times Herald learned Friday.

Still in the talking stage, the presidential trip would be a conclave affair with a breakfast speech in Dallas, a lads-luncheon in Fort Worth, an afternoon coffee in San Antonio and another in Houston. On a visit to Dallas last April 22, Vice President Lyndon Johnson said The Times had been to the Secretary of the trip last week.

The trip would serve the dual purpose of winning hearts for the Democratic party—such appearance would be a 26-state affair—picking up the resume in advance of the 1964 election.

No Date Set
No date has been set, although a suggestion has been made to Texas Democratic leaders that it be scheduled within the next month.

A trip to Texas, one of the bellwether states in electoral vote contests, would be another in a growing series of visits being set up in doubtful states.

The planned trip would be the first since national polls began to show a rising of Kennedy's strength, primarily because of the civil rights conflict and the emergence of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater as the leading GOP contender for 1964.

President Kennedy will launch a five-day trip into the heart of Goldwater country later this week and Thursday announced a one-day stop at St. Augustine for Oct. 2.

NARROW MARGINS
Significantly, all the trips—while billed as non-political—are being made into states where there was only a thin margin between victory and defeat in 1960.

As President, Kennedy has made four trips to Texas. One was a luncheon, two-hour trip to Dallas to visit the dying Sam Rayburn at Baylor Hospital; others were to Lubbock for the Rayburn funeral, to Houston in the

Kennedy's Texas Visit Confirmed

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo.—White House sources have confirmed that President Kennedy will visit Texas this fall, as reported exclusively in The Times Herald Sept. 13.

White House sources told The Times Herald Thursday that as of now, the schedule calls for the President to be in Texas Nov. 21 and 22. Likely cities on the itinerary are Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth and San Antonio.

Only new development in the plans for the visit was the setting of tentative dates.

(On Sept. 13 The Times Herald in a front page headline story from Bob Hollingsworth, its Washington correspondent, announced the Kennedy trip to Texas and the tentative itinerary. The other Dallas paper reported next day, Sept. 14, that it was unable to confirm the presidential visit. It now has confirmed The Times Herald story 13 days later in an “exclusive” dispatch.

White House sources indicated the door was left open for revision of the schedule to include other cities. Details are expected to be worked out when Gov. John Connally sees the President on a forthcoming visit to Washington.

Contrary to the current presidential tour, the Texas trip in November will be admittedly political. Kennedy carried Texas only by 46,000 votes out of nearly 2.3 million in 1960 and the Republican party is planning a grand assault on Democrats in office in Texas next year.

Kennedy would like to help the entire ticket, including Sen. Ralph Yarborough, who is up for re-election and is sure to have a Republican opponent next fall.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A small plumbing truck, its driver screaming “I want to see the President, the Communists are taking over in North Carolina,” crashed through iron gates to the White House today. The President was touring in the West today.

Driven by a man identified as Doyle Allen Hicks, 38, of Waynesville, N.C., the truck finally was brought to a stop almost at the north portico of the executive mansion by a White House guard.

Hicks, who was unarmed, was taken into custody by Secret Service agents and later carried to the D.C. General Hospital for observation.
Kennedy to Visit Texas Nov. 21-22

By ROBERT E. BASKIN
News Staff Writer

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo.—White House sources told The Dallas News exclusively Wednesday night that President Kennedy will visit Texas Nov. 21 and 22.

The visit will embrace major cities of the state, including Dallas.

Kennedy is currently on a tour of the Midwest and West.

The White House sources said the Texas trip would be political, although they did not reveal the particular political mission.

The final White House decision to make the trip to Texas came late Tuesday night, these sources said.

Although specific details have not been worked out, it was considered likely that the President will visit Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth.

If there has been speculation for some time that the President was contemplating a visit to Texas, but the final decision has just been reached, The News learned.

It has been known that numerous Texas Democratic leaders have urged Kennedy to come to the state to repair what they regard as a deteriorating party situation.

The presidential decision may have been prompted by what he has seen on his current tour: a strong trend toward conservatism and Republicanism in the Western states. He is believed to feel that he must cope with this situation in preparation for the 1964 campaign.

Earlier Wednesday at Billings, Mont., Kennedy recaptured his old campaign oratory in his best-received appearance in two days of intensive, nonpolitical campaigning across the country.

In a straight-forward, rather far-reaching address to some 18,000 persons, Kennedy gave a resounding vote of confidence to Montana's veteran Mike Mansfield, Senate Democratic leader, and won cheers when he explained why he sought the nuclear test ban pact.

And he was obviously in high spirits as a result of the House's approval of the tax cut bill, news of which reached him just before he began his talk.

For the first time since he left Washington, he was applauded in the course of a speech. The subjects that won him applause, however, had nothing to do with conservation—the announced reason for his 31-state tour. Foreign affairs got him his best hand.

Kennedy said Mansfield, up for re-election in 1964, was responsible for ratification of the test ban treaty Tuesday. He added that Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., had been helpful.

He recalled his confrontations with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in 1961 and 1962 and how war has been avoided.

"What we hope to do," the President said, "is to lessen the chance of a military collision between these two great powers which together have the power to kill 300 million people in a day. That is why I support the test ban treaty."

From Billings the President flew on to Jackson Hole for an overnight stop.

Earlier in the day at Cheyenne, Wyo., Kennedy claimed that his New Frontier administration "has been able to make a start . . . at getting our country moving again."
Mr. President

WE THINK the people of Dallas, no matter how they feel about the man wearing the title, will be glad to receive the President of the United States as a guest when he comes.

In the first place, it may do both Mr. Kennedy and Dallas good to see each other face-to-face again. Dallas, some may not remember, turned out enthusiastically for Candidate Kennedy, so there is no built-in animosity as such.

However, Mr. Kennedy has let some people represent him who have irked Dallas somewhat. Coming down here himself may polish some of the tarnish off that side of the "image."

Dallas didn't vote for Mr. Kennedy in 1960, may not endorse him in '64. But he owes it to himself and one of the nation's largest cities to take a personal look-see from time to time.

And we owe it to the President of the United States to act like the congenial hosts we traditionally are regardless who holds the office.
Kennedy Should Be Ready For Questions, Alger Says

By ROBERT E. BASKIN
Washington Bureau of The News
WASHINGTON—Rep. Bruce Alger—said Wednesday that President Kennedy should be prepared to answer questions about Dallas' long-stalled federal center, the movement of the Veterans Administration offices and other local matters when he visits Dallas in mid-November.

At the same time Congressman Ralph Yarborough of Texas expressed the hope that Kennedy would not face any demonstration as that encountered by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson at the Adolphus Hotel during the 1960 campaign.

ALGER SAID the President so far has failed to answer questions he has posed to him in a letter about Dallas relations with the federal government.

"We would welcome him if he's prepared to answer questions and get away from pious platitudes," the Dallas Republican said, "He owes us that courtesy."

Alger said that the President's visit will make it necessary for him to delay a luncheon he had scheduled for Nov. 22 for his annual report on his congressional activities. He said he probably will hold the luncheon the first week in December instead.

"It won't hurt a great deal, however," Alger said, "since Congress will still be in session."

ALGER DECLARED it would be appropriate for the President to hold a press conference in Dallas so that questions could be submitted to him in public. (The President has not made it a practice to hold such conferences on other trips.)

Pool said, in a statement, that he hoped Texas would give the President a good welcome.

"I have not been invited to be with the President when he visits Texas," Pool said. "I do not know whether I will be or not."

"While I disagree with the Kennedy administration on much legislation, I feel that he is President of the United States and believe that the people of Texas will extend to him a courteous reception . . .

"I AM SURE that he will not have any discourteous demonstrations, such as occurred in Dallas in 1960 during a visit of our vice-president, Lyndon B. Johnson, and his wife.

"Everyone, both Democrats and Republicans, regrets the 1960 incident, and I for one am hopeful that his visit will receive a typical Texas welcome."

Pool said he would be glad to join other public officials in welcoming Kennedy and escorting him on any inspection trips he may want to make.

THE PRESIDENT will be accompanied by Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough on his Texas trip, but invitations to other Washington political leaders have not been extended yet. A number of Texas congressmen probably will get invitations.

Gov. John B. Connally, who was scheduled to arrive here Wednesday night, is expected to nail down some of the details of the presidential visit while here. He will see the President sometime Friday, the White House said.

It will be Connally's first visit to Washington since he resigned.

Mayor Flays 'Far Right Blast Follows Adlai Affair'

By KENT BIFFLE

Mayor Earle Cabell delivered a hard shot to the Far Right Saturday.

He lashed out at the city’s ‘radical’ who have become ‘a cancer on the body politic.’

He referred to right-wingers who insulted U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson here Thursday night.

Stevenson was spat upon and hit with a picker’s sign here for a U.N. Day event at Memorial Auditorium.

Apologies Sent

Cabell earlier joined scores of other Dallas business and political leaders in extending apologies to Stevenson for the spectacle of the ‘socalled patriots.’

Meanwhile, the attack on the diplomat and resulting apologies were displayed in photos and stories on the front pages of leading newspapers in New York, Chicago and other major cities throughout the nation.

‘These are the people,’ said Cabell, ‘who beat their school boards over the head with minor phrases from school books, who see Communists behind every artist’s brush, who write bitter letters to the editor...’

Imaturity Seen

Cabell said such people demonstrate their political immaturity by beating and smashing political signs.

They blamed their kind of thinking for another splitting incident when Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson and his wife visited downtown Dallas while Johnson was still a senator.

Cabell blamed the extremists for defeat of his proposed public housing program for poor people.

‘These are not conservatives,’ said Cabell. ‘They are radicals.’

He added, ‘We have an opportunity to redeem ourselves when the President pays us a visit next year... Whatever our political affiliation, whatever our political color, the presidency of the United States is the world’s highest office and the man who holds it should be accorded the highest possible respect.’

Cabell said, ‘This cancer on the body politic must be removed.’

‘There is a precedent. Dallas was remember with pride when the Ku Klux Klan in the early Twenties burned through the South, Dallas was the Southwest's capital of Dallas.'
Mayor Asks City Reject Hate Groups

BY KEITH SHELDON
Political Writer

Mayor David Gambale on Tuesday asked Dallas to reject the radicals who abused Adlai Stevenson Thursday night just as the Free Press was reporting in the early '70s.

“Callings os the ‘70s to return shop,” Frank Neumann, mayor of Dii, said he was appealing to the residents, building others of Dallas to help reduce the city.

“The constructive thinker and his builder, although in the majority, has been denounced in the rage and has verbally and indirectly to protect the image of our city in the world at large,” Mayor Gambale said.

“Does not enough,” he said. “This is the real public must be removed.”

The early 1970s, Dallas was the Southwest for capital of Paris, he said.

“Bills and women of good will are being cleaned. They are the ones to come in. They stood against this witchcraft of hate, repudiated it, and saw it fade and die. What has been done can and must be done again.”

REGRETS STILL COMING:

Without regret continued to be voiced by Dallas spokesman Saturday. Efforts to determine the culprits, if any, behind the demonstration in which the U.S. ambassador was hit and spat on were fruitless.

Two of those identified in the disorder, Frank McGhee and Bobby Sherwin, both denied there was any preplanning, to the knowledge Mr. Neuber did not even think of possible reasons.

Chief Hits Critics Of Adlai's Escort

U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson's police detail had noisy demonstrators under control until the ambassador broke step with the escort and went into the crowd to shake hands. Police Chief Jesse E. Curry said Friday.

Firing back at criticism that Dallas police mishandled Stevenson's safety, the visibly irked Curry declared:

"The crowd was well back and the corridor was cleared all the way to his car. About 15 feet from the car, he (Stevenson) turned and left his escort and walked over to the crowd to shake hands.

"There is no way to protect a person who does this if he insists on going into a crowd of unfriendly people."

Curry said Stevenson exited from the Cantor Street side of Memorial Auditorium surrounded by eight officers. Special part officers blocked off spectators who surged toward Stevenson's car when they saw it parked at the entrance.

Police reported they had purposely left the car parked at the front of the auditorium until the last minute to make demonstrators and supporters of the ambassador alike believe Stevenson would be leaving by the front entrance. On a signal, the car was whisked to the side door.

With the car door open and two motorcycle officers ready to escort it, Curry said the ambassador had only to walk 30 feet.

"Had he gone all the way with the escort we would have had him in the car and out in no time with no trouble," Curry said.

Night police Chief Jack Tanner, highest ranking officer on the scene, said all was proceeding according to plan up to the moment Stevenson left his escort.

Tanner said Stevenson's move toward the crowd increased excitement and the throng surged through policemen to meet him.

Formal protests to Curry's office by mid-afternoon Friday numbered only one telephone call and two telegrams. One—from the president of the San Francisco chapter of the American Association for the United Nations—declared:

"Shocked Dallas police unable to adequately protect U.N. Ambassador from extremists. Incident does injustice to Texas and the nation."

A Waco resident wired: "Stevenson incident blot on Dallas law enforcement."

LARGE POLICE GUARD PLANNED FOR KENNEDY

Signs Friday pointed to the greatest concentration of Dallas police ever for the protection of a high-ranking dignitary when President Kennedy visits Dallas next month.

Police Chief Jesse E. Curry said Friday he is considering calling in more than 100 off-duty officers in order to provide a covering force of 200 or more officers for the nation's chief executive.

The Stevenson incident and the criticism leveled against police in the wake of it did not influence his decision for a heavy police force for Kennedy's visit, Curry said.

The deployment of the special force, he said, is yet to be worked out with the U.S. Secret Service.
Kennedy to Make 5 Stops During 2-Day Texas Tour

By DAWSON DUNCAN
Austin Bureau of The News
AUSTIN, Texas — President Kennedy's Texas visit Nov. 21-22 will include five stops—in San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas and Austin—Gov. John Connally announced Thursday.

The governor said the plans he outlined were "as firm as can be at this time" immediately after conferring with the White House.

First stop in the President's tour, in which he will be accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy and Vice-President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, will be in San Antonio on the afternoon of Nov. 21.

Main purpose of the San Antonio stop will be dedication ceremonies for the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooks Air Force Base. The President will land at Kelly AFB, which is on the same side of San Antonio. Plans now do not include a trip downtown.

From San Antonio the President and his party will go to Houston for a dinner in the Rice Hotel that night, honoring Rep. Albert Thomas, veteran legislator from Houston.

The governor said it had not been determined where Kennedy will spend the night of Thursday, Nov. 21. Alternate plans will be made for either Houston or Fort Worth, where he is to attend a breakfast at 8:45 a.m. Friday in Hotel Texas. Sponsors of the Fort Worth breakfast will be that city's Chamber of Commerce.

From Fort Worth the President will go to Dallas for a noon luncheon. Sponsors will be the Dallas Citizens Council and the Graduate Research Center.

Connally said the site is uncertain so far, because the Secret Service had not cleared the matter. Under consideration are the Trade Mart, with a seating capacity of 1,800 but with security difficulties, and the Women's Building at the State Fair which is larger, Connally said.

Where the President will spend the night has not been determined.
He will attend an 8:45 a.m.
breakfast on Nov. 22 at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth with the Fort host.

As noon luncheon spouses the Dallas Citizens Council and Graduate Research Center, luncheon is still uncertain.

Gov. Connally said the Trade Mart, with a capacity of 1,500, is being perused but presents access problems because of its front and 30 doors. The Women's Building on Fair Park is another possibility.

Robert B. Cullum, president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, said the chamber would not be one of the committee for the President's visit but that the Dallas Assembly would. The governor made no mention of the Assembly, which is an organization similar to the Citizens Council for younger men.

The Graduate Research Center was invited to be a co-host.
he said, because Gov. John interest in education and the constant of the Citizens Council and Assembly made it appropriate.

From Dallas, the President will fly to Austin, arriving at Berg-jamin Air Force Base at 4 or 4:30 p.m.

He will attend a reception at the Governor's Mansion from 6 to 7 p.m. and a 10-course Democratic party fund-raising dinner at the Austin Municipal Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Plans are being made on "a very tentative basis" for the Preident and his party to spend the night of Nov. 22 in Austin. Gov.
Connally said he does not know when the President would leave.
He said he knows of no plans at time for him to visit Vice President Johnson's ranch 70 miles west of Austin.

Invitations for the reception at the Governor's Mansion will be extended to Democratic state officials, including members of the Texas Legislature and statewide elected office holders only.

Gov. Connally said facilities at the mansion are limited and that invitations will be staggered on a reasonable basis to allow all guests to meet the President during the conference period.

Some 2,000 invitations have been sent out by Democratic state executive committee headquarters.

Democratic headquarters reported the announcement that Mrs. Kennedy would accompany the President has raised tremendous interest in the visit and in the fund-raising dinner.

All Democratic party congressmen are expected to attend the dinner. Gov. Connally said he would be satisfied if 2,500 tickets for the $10 affair are sold.

Police Chief Puts Dallas on Notice

Police Chief John Green announced Wednesday that Dallas police will institute a new procedure—now dubbed "Operation Greenlight"—and arrest men if they choose to stay in a car.

Chief Green explained that under the new procedure any man who refuses to leave his car after being questioned will be arrested.

He said, "Many people have asked why we are taking such drastic measures. The answer is simple. We have been told by Dallas police that it is their duty to protect the public and enforce the law."

"The new procedure is designed to protect the public and ensure that only law-abiding citizens are allowed to drive our city streets," Chief Green said.

"We will continue to enforce this policy until we see a reduction in the number of crimes committed in our city.

"Dallas police have a duty to protect the public and enforce the law. If you refuse to leave your car after being questioned, you will be arrested."

Detailed Security Net Spread for Kennedy

By JAMES EWELL

More than 400 officers—including 40 state patrolmen—will be deployed for Friday’s presidential visit in what police officials described Wednesday as the most elaborate security arrangement ever made here.

Dallas police, as expected, will shoulder the heaviest part of the security.

Police Chief Jesse E. Curry said 130 Dallas policemen—almost a third of the force—will be assigned to the Kennedy guard detail.

This detail will be headed up by the 40 state officers and 15 Dallas County sheriff’s officers.

Curry earlier had estimated a police detail of about 200. But he said the 1,800,000-square-foot Trade Mart, site of the presidential luncheon, requires additional officers to be properly secured.

The security detail will include about 100 detectives, most of whom will be assigned to the Trade Mart, Curry said.

Warning potential agitators, Curry said police have orders to take immediate action.

“Dallas will be the focus of national attention during President Kennedy’s visit. Because of the unfortunate incident which occurred through downtown Dallas and on its outskirts, police are intensely aware of the need for complete cooperation.”

Car-to-car communications will enable the motorcade to alert the police of unexpected events along the route, such as a traffic jam or heavy crowds, police said.

“Nothing must occur that is disrespectful or degrading to the President of the United States. It is entitled to the highest respect and the law enforcement agencies are in the emergency of the area going to do every possible thing to insure that such an incident be prevented,” Curry said.

A scout car occupied by Deputy Chief George Lampkin, and two other Boeing 707 jets will travel about a mile ahead of the Kennedy motorcade coming into downtown Dallas.

Incident-Free Day Urged for JFK Visit

By KENT BIFFLE

Dallas leaders urged Saturday against any demonstrations or incidents during President Kennedy's visit here Friday.

President and Mrs. Kennedy and Vice-President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson will ride in a motorcade through Downtown Dallas to a luncheon for 2,500 in the Trade Mart.

Robert B. Callahan, president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, said: "The President of the U.S. represents the highest and proudest office in the world and he will be welcome. Our reputation as the first city in Texas and the friendliest town in America has been earned and won by Dallas people through the years."

"These good citizens will greet the President of the United States with the warmth and pride that keep the Dallas spirit famous the world over."

J. Erik Jonsson of the Dallas Citizens Council said:

"I think that we must extend every courtesy to our distinguished visitors regardless of individual political differences. Representatives of both political parties will be invited to the luncheon here."

"Let's show them what true Texas hospitality is. Whether we agree with our guests' political party or performance, let us have no incidents that will reflect on Dallas or Texas."

County Republican Chairman John Lacken said: "I think the City of Dallas should extend its normal, warm hospitality to the President of the United States on his visit here."

COUNTY JUDGE W. L. Sterrett said: "I am hoping we won't have any kind of demonstration here. I have confidence that there won't be anything of that sort. That kind of thing can give a city and county a black eye."

Sherriff Bill Decker said: "I believe that Dallas, the great city that it is, can welcome the President and his lady in a cordial way, putting aside any differences of political opinion that might exist."

Baxton Bryant, a Democrat who is protesting arrangements for the President's visit, said any demonstration by his group would be entirely pro-Kennedy.

BRYANT ASSERTED that rank-and-file Kennedy workers are being snubbed on the guest list for the luncheon. The luncheon will be sponsored by the Dallas Citizens Council, the Science Research Center and the Dallas Assembly. A "caucus" of all Democrats has been called by Bryant for 8 p.m.

Carlson Calls For Civilized Reception

Maurice Carlson, former county Republican chief, called Monday for a "civilized, nonpartisan" welcome this week for President John F. Kennedy.

Addressing the Oak Cliff Lions Club in the El Chico Restaurant, Davis and Zang, Carlson said: "Kennedy is "doing the most difficult job in the world -- and all of us, Democrats and Republicans alike, should extend him our good will."

Carlson also spoke against allowing either political party to invade City Hall, although he described the rivalry between the veterans' associations as "healthy for Dallas."

He charged that "in many respects Dallas County has started itself from the main stream of life in the world in this decade."

In his diagnosis of what ails Dallas today, Carlson said any move for broader leadership for future Dallas inevitably will include the same type of financial, social and economic leaders as now in the forefront.

"But the leadership team should be broadened to include professional men -- attorneys, doctors, architects, spiritual leaders who can include their voice in the development of the city," he said.

I presently reside at 500 East Avenue, Dallas, Texas. I was born on September 14, 1945, in Dallas, Texas. I am a member of the white race. I am presently employed as an orderly filler at the Texas School Book Depository Building and was so employed on 11-22-63. When President John F. Kennedy was shot I was standing on the grassy area directly in front of the Depository Building approximately thirty feet from the President's car. However, I could not see the President's car when the shots rang out. To the best of my knowledge there were three shots and they came from the direction of the railroad tracks near the parking lot at the west end of the Depository Building. I was alone when the shots were fired and I did not see Lee Harvey Oswald at that time.

On the morning of 11-22-63 about forty-five minutes before the arrival of the President's Motorcade I met an elderly white man at the entrance of the building who asked me to direct him to a rest room. I helped this man up the steps of the Depository Building and showed him a public rest room. The man was very old and feeble and could hardly make it up the steps. About five minutes later I saw this man leave the building and enter an old Buick automobile with three elderly white women. The Buick then drove north on the service street in front of the Texas School Book Depository Building, made a right turn on Elm Street, and drove west through the underpass. I would describe this man as a white male, approximately 60 years old, white hair, and wearing a brown suit and light colored western-style hat. He had a thin build and was about five feet nine inches in height. I never saw this man before 11-22-63 and have never seen him since that day.

"After the President was shot I entered the Texas School Book Depository Building and was questioned by some Dallas police officers. At about one o'clock in the afternoon

"I was told to go to the Dallas Police Station for an interview by the police. I left the building at that time and did not return until the following day.

I was standing at the window with an elderly woman from the MacMillan Company office. I cannot recall her name. I did not hear any shots or any loud sounds that sounded like rifle fire.

I have never met Lee Harvey Oswald and would be unable to identify his photograph. I am employed as Office Manager and Accountant by Allyn and Bacon, Inc., Room 301, Texas School Book Depository Building, 611 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas. At approximately 12:15 pm on November 22, 1963, I left the Depository Building and took up a position along the parade route on Elm Street about 150 feet west from the Depository Building entrance and viewed the Presidential Motorcade in company with Mrs. Mary Lea Williams, Mrs. Herman H. Also in our group was Mrs. John Hawkins, wife of an agent for Allyn and Bacon, Inc., and her son, John, age 4. Mrs. Hawkins resides at 2719 Cumberland Drive, Desquite, Texas.

I recall that just seconds after the car in which President John F. Kennedy was riding passed the position where I was standing, I heard a shot. At first I thought it was a salute to the President, but when the second shot was fired and I saw the President fall down in the car I knew someone was shooting him. Then I heard the third shot I turned and fled back into the Depository Building and immediately went to my office on the third floor. According to the clock on the office wall the time was 12:34 P.M.

"I am an Indian female and reside at 503 So. Marsalis, Dallas, Texas. I was born on May 31, 1943 in Wright City, Oklahoma, and have been employed at the Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm, Dallas, Texas as typist in the billing department since the 1st of July, 1962.

"At approximately 12:00 p.m. on November 22, 1963, I left the Depository building and walked down toward the Stemmons expressway underpass west of the building approximately fifty yards and took up a position on the curb on the south side of Elm Street to await the presidential procession. I was accompanied by Sharon Simmon, now Mrs. Nelson, and Jeanne Holt, both employees of the Texas School Book Depository. I was still standing on the curb at the time President John F. Kennedy was shot. I do not recall seeing Lee Harvey Oswald at any time on November 22, 1963 and did not see him at the time of the assassination.

"I did not observe any strangers in the building on the morning of November 22, 1963.

"Following the assassination of the President, I tried to return to work in the Texas School Book Depository, but was told by other employees that no one would be allowed in the building so I did not return to work that day.

"I did not personally know Lee Harvey Oswald although I recall seeing him on several occasions in the lunchroom.

Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"I am of the Caucasian race, 20 years of age and reside at 915 Sunnyside St., Dallas, Texas. I am employed by the Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm St., Dallas, Texas.

"On November 22, 1963 I left my office, Room 200, Texas School Book Depository Building, about 12:15 P.M. to go outside the building to watch the President's Motorcade pass which was to pass along Elm Street in front of the building. I was with Miss Jeannie Holt, 2521
Pleasant Drive, Dallas, Texas, and Miss Stella Jacob, 508 South
Marsalis St., Dallas, Texas both employees of the Texas School Book Depository. We walked to the southwest corner of Elm and Houston Streets and were joined by Mrs. Bonnie Richey, 220 South Marsalis, Apt. 117, Dallas, Texas, Mrs. Carolyn Arnold, 3325 South Tyler St., Dallas, Texas and Mrs. Betty Dragoon, 2507 West Brooklyn St., Dallas, Texas. I was standing at this point on the sidewalk near the edge of Elm Street at the time President John F. Kennedy was shot. I heard three explosions which sounded to me like firecrackers. I did not immediately recognize these sounds as gun shots.

"After President Kennedy was shot I returned to the building but was unable to get inside as the front door of the building was locked. I did not see Lee Harvey Oswald at anytime this day. I do not know Oswald and do not recall ever having seen him.

"I do not recall seeing any strangers in the building on November 22, 1963. I remained in the area just outside the building until approximately 2 P.M. when I left to go to my home.

"I, Mrs. George Andrew (Polonee Arlene) Kounas, freely furnish the following voluntary statement to Eugene F. Petrasik and A. Raymond Switzer, who have identified themselves to me as Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

I am a Caucasian female, born October 16, 1931, in Sioux City, Iowa, and presently reside at 865 Arapahoe Circle, Dallas, Texas.

I am presently employed as a clerk-typist by McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, third floor of the Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas, and was so employed on November 22, 1963.

I recall that on the afternoon of November 22, 1963, I left the Depository building at about 12:15 PM in anticipation of viewing the Presidential Motorcade which I knew was scheduled to pass the Depository building. I was accompanied by Mrs. Roberta Parker and Mr. Lloyd Viles, both employees of McGraw-Hill and we took up a position along the parade route which I recall to be about fifteen feet west of the southwest corner of Elm and Houston Streets.

I recall that moments after the car bearing President John F. Kennedy passed my position, I heard a loud report which I first thought to be a firecracker. Following the second shot, however, I then heard screaming and saw people running and I then believed the reports I had heard were gunfire. Although I was across the street from the Depository building and was looking in the direction of the building as the motorcade passed and following the shots, I did not look up at the building as I had thought the shots came from a westerly direction in the vicinity of the viaduct.

I recall that, following the shooting, we crossed the street to the Depository building and stood in front of the building listening to radio reports coming over a motorcycle policeman's police radio. I stayed in the vicinity of the Depository building until about 3:00 PM, and then we entered the building to get our coats and I immediately left the building and went home.

"I, Billy Nolan Lovelady, freely furnish the following statement to Eugene F. Petrakis and A. Raymond Switzer, who have identified themselves to me as Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"I am a Caucasian male and reside at 7722 Hume Drive, apartment C, Dallas, Texas. I was born on February 19, 1927, in Kyrtle Springs, Texas.

"At approximately 12:15 PM, November 22, 1963, I walked out from the front entrance to the Texas School Book Depository where I am employed as a stock clerk on the first floor. I have been so employed since December 16, 1961. I walked out in front of the building to await the Presidential Motorcade which I knew was due to pass the Depository building about 12:30 PM.

"At the time the Presidential Motorcade passed the Depository building heading west on Elm Street, I was standing on the top step to the far right against the wall of the entranceway to the Texas School Book Depository building. At that time I recall that William H. Shelley, who resides at 128 South Tatum, Dallas, and Mrs. Sarah Stanton, also of Dallas, Texas, both of whom are likewise employed by the Texas School Book Depository, were standing next to me.

"I recall that following the passing of the Presidential Motorcade, as the car in which the President was riding traveled down the Elm Street extension, I heard several loud reports which I thought to be firecrackers and which appeared to me to be in the direction of Elm Street west just ahead of the Motorcade. I did not at any time believe the shots had come from the Texas School Book Depository building. I am acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald as a fellow employee only and I recall that on the morning of November 22, 1963, I was on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository putting down a new wooden floor when Oswald came over to me and asked where a certain book was stored. I don't recall name of book but told him that book was out of stock. That is the last time I saw Oswald prior to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

"I do not recall seeing any strangers in the building on the morning of November 22, 1963.

"I recall that following the shooting, I ran toward the spot where President Kennedy's car had stopped. William Shelley and myself stayed in that area for approximately five minutes when we then re-entered the Depository building by the side door located on the west side of the building. After several minutes we were asked to stay in the building by a police officer and at approximately 1:45 PM, I and several other employees accompanied a police officer to City Hall for questioning. I returned to the building briefly at 4:30 PM to pick up my coat following the interview at City Hall and immediately departed and went home.

I, Mrs. Robert E. (Pauline) Sanders, Sr., freely furnish the following statement to Eugene F. Petrakis and A. Raymond Switzer, who have identified themselves to me as Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

I am a Caucasian female employed as a clerk-accountant at the Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas. I have been so employed for the past 6 years. I reside at 4226 Delmar Street, Dallas, Texas, and was born November 6, 1906, Moran, Kansas.

At approximately 12:20 PM on November 22, 1963, I left the lunchroom on the second floor of the building and went out the front entrance to await the arrival of the Presidential Motorcade which I knew was due to pass the Depository building at about 12:30 PM. I took up a position at the top of the front steps of the Depository building facing Elm Street. To the best of my recollection I was standing on the top step at the east end of the entrance.

I recall that while standing there I noticed Mrs. Sarah Stanton standing next to me, but I am unsure as to the others. Mrs. Stanton is likewise an employee of the Texas School Book Depository.

To the best of my recollection I did not see Lee Harvey Oswald at any time on November 22, 1963, and although I knew him by sight as an employee of the building I did not know him by name and had never spoken to him at any time.

I do not recall seeing any strangers in the Texas School Book Depository building at any time on the morning of November 22, 1963.

After the motorcade par carrying President John F. Kennedy passed, I remained a moment on the steps, then walked out to the concrete island in front of the Depository building to see what had happened. I remained there a moment and then returned to the Depository building through the main entrance. I then walked to the second floor where I usually work.

I have read this and the two preceding pages of this statement, initialed each page and each correction and find it true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

"I am of the Caucasian race, thirty-seven years of age and reside at 1228 South Tatum St., Dallas 1, Texas.

"On November 22, 1963, I left my office in the Texas School Book Depository and walked just outside the front entrance of the building to watch the Presidential Motorcade pass. This was about 12:15 P.M. I recall that as the Presidential Motorcade passed I was standing just outside the glass doors of the entrance. At the time President John F. Kennedy was shot I was standing at this same place. Billy N. Lovelady, who works under my supervision at the Texas School Book Depository, was seated on the entrance steps just in front of me. I recall that Wesley Frazier, Mrs. Sarah Stanton and Mrs. Carolyn Arnold, all employees of the Texas School Book Depository, were also standing in this entrance way near me at the time Pres. Kennedy was shot. I did not see Lee Harvey Oswald at the time Pres. Kennedy was shot.

"I did not observe any strangers in the building at any time during the morning of November 22, 1963.

"Immediately following the shooting, Billy N. Lovelady and I accompanied some uniformed police officers to the railroad yards just west of the building and returned through the west side door of the building about ten minutes later. I remained in the building until about 1:30 P.M. when I was asked to go to the Dallas Police Dept. to furnish an affidavit. I returned to the Texas School Book Depository Building about 5 P.M. I did not leave the building until about 7 P.M. that day.

"Lee Harvey Oswald worked under my supervision. He was at work when I arrived for work on November 22, 1963 at about 8 A.M. I specifically recall seeing Oswald on the first floor about 11:50 AM, this day. He was going about his regular duties filling orders at that time. I did not see Oswald again after this until I saw him at the Dallas Police Dept.

"When President John F. Kennedy was shot I was standing in front of Mullendore's Cafeteria, 601 Main Street, watching the President's motorcade. Standing there with me were Charles Givens, 4908 First Avenue, Dallas, an employee of the Texas School Book Depository Building, and James Lacy, an attendant at the Classified Parking lot on Main and Record streets. I had left the Texas School Book Depository Building warehouse, 1917 North Houston Street, at about twelve o'clock noon to watch the parade. I am employed at the warehouse as a shipping clerk and was so employed on 11-22-63. I was still standing in front of Mullendore's Cafeteria when I heard three loud sounds which I thought was a truck engine backfiring. Lacy ran down to the Depository building and he came back with the word the President had been shot. I did not see Lee Harvey Oswald at the time the shots were fired. I did not see Lee Harvey Oswald at any time on November 22, 1963. I recall seeing Oswald several weeks before the assassination at the warehouse parking lot; however, I never met him and he never spoke to me. I, SANDRA K. STYLES, make the following free and voluntary statement to J. HALE MC MENAMIN and RAYMOND J. FOX, who have identified themselves to me as Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

I am a white female, born February 6, 1940, at Dallas, Texas and reside at 2102 W. Grauwyler, Irving, Texas. I am employed as Office Service Representative at Scott, Foresman and Company located at room 401 in the Texas School Book Depository Building, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas.

On November 22, 1963 I was in my office at a window facing Elm Street watching the Presidential motorcade at the time President Kennedy was shot. Also present at this window with me were DOROTHY GARNER, ELISIE GODWIN, and VICTORIA ADAMS all of whom are employed at Scott, Foresman and Company.

I never knew LEE HARVEY OSWALD, not even by sight as an employee at the building, and did not see him at the time the President was shot. I do not recall seeing any strangers in the building on the morning of November 22, 1963.

I recall that on the afternoon of November 22, 1963, while watching the motorcade at sometime between 12:15 PM and 12:30 PM, possibly about 12:20 I heard this but thought at the time that they were fireworks. I was unaware of the place the shots came from. I saw people running and others lie down on the ground and realized something was happening but did not know exactly what was happening. VICTORIA ADAMS and I left the office at this time, went down the back stairs and left the building at the back door. We then went around to the side of the building where we saw a policeman talking to someone whom I did not recognize. I was told by a policeman to go around to the front of the building and out of that area. I then re-entered the building through the front door, took the elevator to the fourth floor and returned to my office. I did not see any strangers or LEE HARVEY OSWALD between the time I left my office and returned to it inside the building, however I saw many persons milling around outside the building and did not recognize any particular person.

I believe I left the Texas School Book Depository Building at approximately 2100 FM on November 22, 1963.

I have read the above statement and it is true and correct.

"At the time President John F. Kennedy was shot I was standing with Mr. Campbell in the street just in front of the building entrance. On November 22, 1963 at the time the Presidential Motorcade passed the Texas School Book Depository Building, I was standing on the top step against the railing on the east side of the steps in front of the building. I do not recall who was standing at either side of me but I do know that Mrs. Robert E. Snyder, also an employee of the Texas School Book Depository, viewed the motorcade.

Just after the Presidential car passed the building and went out of sight over the Elm Street embankment I heard three loud blasts. I thought these blasts or shots came from the direction of the viaduct which crosses Elm Street. I did not then know that President John F. Kennedy had been shot. I remained momentarily on the steps and then returned inside the building.

I do not recall seeing Lee Harvey Oswald on November 22, 1963. "I, Steven F. Wilson, make the following statement to Penrod W. Harris, who has identified himself to me as a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This statement relates to a matter of interest to the Government, that is, the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

"As a matter of identification, I am 60 years of age, having been born April 1, 1903, at Jackson, Tennessee. I reside at 903 Carney Drive, Garland, Texas, a suburb of Dallas, Texas. I am presently on a business trip, which is my reason for being in Corpus Christi. I am of the white race, and a college graduate.

"I am vice president of the Southwest Division of Allyn and Bacon, Inc. This is a school text book publishing company. My office is located at Room 301 Texas School Book Depository Building, located at 411 Elm Street in Dallas. My office has been at this location for four years or so.

"On Friday, November 22, 1963, I had a coke and some cookies in my office around the noon hour. The motorcade with the President and other officials was to come by Elm and Houston Streets at around 12:30 p.m. The motorcade was to pass in front of the Texas School Book Depository Building.

"In September, 1962, I had a heart attack. For that reason I decided to stay in my office to see the motorcade rather than mingling with the crowds on the street. Also,"

On 3/25/64 or Corpus Christi, Texas Filed Date 3/25/64

"I wanted the employees in my office to have the opportunity of viewing the motorcade and the officials from a close position on the street or sidewalk. The other employees had left the office and I was there by myself.

"My private office is located on a corner of the building (Texas School Book Depository Building). It was subsequently ascertained the fatal shots at the President were fired from storage area which is three floors directly above my private office, that is, from the sixth floor of the building.

"I left my private office and went in my company's main office, so I could watch the safe and other property in the office. Also, I could get equally as good a view from this position as from my private office on the corner of the building. I sat next to the window on the Elm Street side, in front of my secretary's desk. I raised the venetian blinds. The window was not open, as it was secured with screws because of the air conditioning in the building.

"From my position, I watched the motorcade as it approached, moving north on Houston Street, and turned west on Elm Street. I saw the President and other dignitaries in his car, and I saw the roses in Mrs. Kennedy's lap.

"As the motorcade proceeded, my view of President Kennedy and his car and the other occupants became obscured by some trees which are on Elm Street.

"In a matter of ten seconds or less after the President's car and occupants were obscured from my view by the trees, I heard three shots. I am positive there were three shots, no more and no less. It is my opinion there was a greater space of time between the second and third shots than

"Between the first and second. The three shots were fired within a matter of less than five seconds. The shots sounded to me like rifle shots.

"At that time it seemed the shots came from the west end of the building or from the colonnade located on Elm Street across from the west end of our building. The shots really did not sound like they came from above me.

"My impression was the sounds were definitely not firecrackers exploding or automobile backfires. I saw a man, who it seems to me was wearing a white shirt, run across the street and I realized then something was amiss.

"I stayed at the window quite a while. Some of the girls in my office returned and were crying. This was the first I knew that the President had been shot.

"I heard nothing unusual in my office or in the building at any time shortly before, or after the sounds of the shots, or at the time of the shots other than the shots themselves.

"I went to the rest rooms on the second floor. I returned to my office and lay down on a couch in my office, as I felt so upset. A little later I lay down again for a few minutes.

"A number of officers came to my office and questioned all of those present as to where they were at the time of the shooting. Later we were told the building was to be evacuated, and we were instructed to leave everything as it was. There were several different groups of officers who came to the office."
"When we were told we could leave, the other employees and I left the building. Before this, I had furnished my name and other information to officers in the building. I left to go home about 2:30 p.m.

"I would like to say that at the time the President's car and its occupants went out of my view, being obscured by the trees, as mentioned above, the car was not as far as 100 yards from me. A person in the same position in the building as I was in, only on a higher floor (above the third floor), could probably have seen over the trees and could have kept the President's car in view.

"I did not know Lee Harvey Oswald by name, or by sight. After the publicity about the shooting of the President, it seemed to me I had possibly seen him standing in the lunch room door on the second floor of the building on one occasion. Also, it seemed to me, I possibly saw him pass by the shipping desk on the first floor of the building when I may have been going to see about someone's parking in my space in the parking lot we use.

"As mentioned above, I did not see Lee Harvey Oswald or anyone else at the time of the shooting or shortly before or after.

"On the morning of November 22, 1963, I did not see any stranger in the building, and I observed nothing unusual, so far as I was able to recall.

"I have been told by some of my associates that a picture was taken around the time of the shooting of the President. I do not know if it was supposedly taken before or after the shooting. It is my understanding I could be identified in this picture, and there were two Negroes also in the picture, some place above me and to the west in the building. I have not seen this picture and do not know that it exists. I think Mrs. Billie Clay, who works in my office, may have mentioned seeing this picture.

"I would have no objection whatsoever to appearing before the President's Commission and to testifying under oath to the information as set out in this statement.

"I would be happy to help in this matter in every way possible. I have no other information which I consider of any possible pertinence in connection with the shooting of the President.

"I have read this statement and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

Witness
/s/ Penrod W. Harris, Special Agent,
F.B.I., Corpus Christi, Texas"
Mrs. JOHN EDWARD (MARGARET) PIC, also known as MARGE was interviewed at her residence 7306 Westville, San Antonio, Texas, in the presence of her husband, Staff Sergeant JOHN EDWARD PIC, Air Force Serial Number AP131239. Sergeant PIC insisted on being present, stating that Mrs. PIC is quite nervous, did not desire to be interviewed alone and would not in all probability disclose information if interviewed out of his presence.

Mrs. PIC stated she first met her husband's mother, MRS. MARGUERITE OSWALD and her son LEE HARVEY OSWALD in about October, 1952 when they came to visit the PIC's who were then temporarily living in Mrs. PIC's mother's apartment at 325 East 92nd Street, New York, New York.

Mrs. PIC stated that Mrs. OSWALD privately advised her that it was her desire that she and LEE HARVEY OSWALD should live permanently with the PIC's. Mrs. PIC stated that she privately but politely advised Mrs. OSWALD that such an arrangement would be entirely unsatisfactory and that it was her, Mrs. PIC, intention that she and Sergeant PIC would acquire a place of their own and would not in all probability live in it alone. Mrs. PIC stated that this discussion with Mrs. OSWALD occurred very soon after Mrs. OSWALD arrived in about August, 1952 at the apartment where she and Sergeant PIC were living and that her positive unfavorable reaction to Mrs. OSWALD's suggestion irritated Mrs. OSWALD and from that moment on Mrs. OSWALD did everything she could to turn everyone against Mrs. PIC and particularly to turn Sergeant PIC and LEE HARVEY OSWALD against her. She said Mrs. OSWALD consistently started minor household matters, details of which are not now recalled by Mrs. PIC. Mrs. PIC said she did remember though, that the day after Mrs. OSWALD and LEE HARVEY OSWALD arrived in New York City, Mrs. PIC came out of her room crying and said LEE HARVEY OSWALD had slapped her because she had asked him to look out of the window to see if their car was all right.

Mrs. PIC said that during one argument, now believed to have developed because Mrs. PIC objected to LEE HARVEY OSWALD playing a television set owned by Mrs. OSWALD, LEE HARVEY OSWALD did pull out a small pocket knife with a blade opened and moved toward Mrs. PIC in Mrs. OSWALD's presence. Mrs. PIC said this scared her, that she backed away and LEE HARVEY OSWALD did nothing more. Mrs. PIC said she reported this threat to Sergeant PIC when he returned from work but Mrs. OSWALD denied that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had threatened her with a knife. Mrs. PIC said Sergeant PIC was probably confused as to what the truth to the matter was and she felt at the time that Sergeant PIC did not believe her.

Mrs. PIC stated that after the incident wherein LEE HARVEY OSWALD threatened her with the knife, she told Mrs. OSWALD to either get out of the apartment or device would have her brothers come and have her thrown out and this precipitated further immediate bitterness which Mrs. OSWALD threatened to jump out of a window.

Mrs. PIC stated that several days after the above incident, Mrs. OSWALD and LEE HARVEY OSWALD did move away and some weeks thereafter Sergeant and Mrs. PIC went to visit them in their new place in the New York City area, address now un recalled, and at this time LEE HARVEY OSWALD remained secluded in his room during their entire visit.

Mrs. PIC recalled on one occasion while Mrs. OSWALD and LEE HARVEY OSWALD were staying with her and Sergeant PIC that LEE HARVEY OSWALD was damaging a $200 box case owned by the PIC's by placing his glasses therein and that she protested to Mrs. OSWALD, which protest was ignored by Mrs. OSWALD. Mrs. PIC said she could not recall any other damages inflicted to their clothes or any other furnishings in the apartment by Mrs. OSWALD or LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Mrs. PIC said she had never described LEE HARVEY OSWALD to anyone as an "extremely coddled child" and she never so regarded him, her impression being that Mrs. OSWALD actually had no feeling for any of her sons except for what she could get out of them.

February 4, 1964

Dear Mr. Rankin:

I am attaching to this letter copies of the school records relating to Lee Harvey Oswald which have been furnished to me by the New York City Board of Education.

Judge Florence Kelley, Administrative Judge of the Family Court of the State of New York, has informed me that after conferring with Presiding Justice Bernard Botein of the Appellate Division, First Department, she turned over all of the records in the possession of the Family Court, the successor to the Domestic Relations Court, dealing with the case of Lee Harvey Oswald to John F. Malone, Assistant Director in Charge of the New York City office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mr. Malone's office has advised me that these records were delivered to the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy.

If there is any other way I can be of assistance to you and to the Commission, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Robert F. Wagner

by Alice Rossby

The cavernous Metropole Hotel lobby in Moscow smells of sweet Russian tobacco and heavy varnish, and it was noisy with foreign tourists when I hurried through the revolving door that November day in 1954. Falling snow was softening the harshness of the Soviet streets, but the atmosphere in Moscow and the hotel lobby was far from cold.

Mir y dushiha (peace and friendship) was the symphony that Premier Nikita Khrushchev was conducting at that time, and the once forbidding Soviet capital had an air of relief from cold war tension.

As a foreign correspondent for United Press International, I had seen Soviets and Americans reaching out their hands to each other at the American Exhibition in Sokolniki Park that summer. I had toured the Soviet Union with the then Vice President Richard Nixon to friendly Russian receptions from Leningrad to Novosibirsk in Siberia.

The once-closed Soviet Union had just burst wide open to hordes of invading foreign tourists, and packs of them, cameras around their necks, chattered and milled around the Metropole reception desk. But I had come through the snow to the old-fashioned hotel to see another type of American tourist, a defector who did not want to be part of that gay crowd.

I had heard at the American Embassy that a young American named Lee Harvey Oswald, 20, had walked in Oct. 30, slapped his passport on the consular officer's desk and announced he'd "had enough of the United States." On Nov. 2, he had signed an affidavit saying, "I affirm that my allegiance is to the Soviet socialistic republic.”

Commission Exhibit No. 1385

After calling all hotels where foreigners are placed by touristist, the Soviet tourist agency, I finally found Oswald at the Metropole and, over the telephone, arranged to interview him in his room.

I went up in the creaky elevator to the second floor and down the hall, past the life-sized nude in white marble, the gigantic painting of Lenin and Stalin and the usual watchful floor clerk with her prim navy blue dress and brown braids wrapped around her head.

An attractive fellow answered my knock on the door of room 233.

"I am Lee Oswald," he said, with a hesitant smile.

When I murmured some pleasure that it was nice of him to see me, when others in his position had shunned the press, he said, "Yes, other reporters have been trying to set up here."

I couldn't tell if he was boasting or truthful.

Then he said, "I think you may understand and be friendly because you're a woman."

I speculated whether he just wanted me because he was eager for publicity or if he preferred to talk to women because he resented men and the newspaper authority they stood for.

The young man I saw was 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighed about 150 pounds and had a slight build. He had a sallow complexion, brown eyes and dark brown hair parted on the side. He was inexpensively but well and neatly dressed in a suit, white shirt and tie, that all had the air of his 'Sunday best.'

He was polite, but not particularly warm or cordial, and seemed a bit awkward. I selected a red plush chair by the window.
- he sat opposite me in another chair in the baroque room with gilt clocks and chandeliers. It was the standard $30-a-day room with meals that all tourists must buy.

For two hours in that old Russian setting, I talked with Lee Harvey Oswald of Fort Worth, Texas, about his philosophy, his life and why he was there.

As he spoke he held his mouth stiffly and nearly closed. His jaw was rigid. Behind his brown eyes I felt a certain coldness. He displayed neither the impassioned fervor of a devout American Communist who at last had reached the land of his dreams, nor the wise-cracking informality and friendliness of the average American. Sometimes he looked directly at me, other times at the plush furniture. Now and then he gazed out the tall windows, hung with lace curtains and gold draperies, to Sverdlovsk Square and the Lenin Museum and the gold onion-shaped domes of the ancient Kremlin churches beyond.

He talked almost non-stop like the type of semi-educated person of little experience who clutches what he regards as some sort of unique truth. Such a person often does not expect anyone else to believe him and is contemptuous of other people who cannot see his "truth." A zealot, he is not remotely touched by what anyone else says. In fact, at times in my two hours with Lee Harvey Oswald I felt we were not carrying on a conversation, but that two monologues were being delivered simultaneously.

He was pleasant and well-mannered but he sounded smug and self-important. And so often was that small smile, more like a smirk...

As the light already began to fade in the mid-afternoon over the Square, Oswald began by rather formally announcing his desire to stay in the Soviet Union. It sounded to me as if he had rehearsed these sentences, and they had a tone of childish defiance and pretentiousness.

"Soviet officials have informed me that either in the event of rejection or acceptance of my first application, I won't have to leave," he began in good English with only a slight southern accent.

"They are investigating the possibilities of finding me an occupation. They think it would be best to continue my higher education."

He said he had "put in my application to the supreme soviet" for Soviet citizenship Oct. 16, the day after he arrived in Moscow. He added, "I had my first meeting with officials three days later."

Oswald said he was born Oct. 18, 1939 in New Orleans, where, like most of the south and far southwest of the United States, a tradition of violence runs through the town like the Mississippi River.

Behind the lacy facades of its picturesque French quarter, New Orleans is a tough town. It is emotionally divided by the cleavages between its old rich, who gathered their money through cotton and land, the new rich who amassed theirs through local politics which for years had a strong underworld cast; between the poor white ignorance of Louisiana's agriculture up-country and the much more sophisticated city, and, hanging over everything else, by the fierce, slashing hatreds between Negroes and whites.
Oswald said "I lived for two years in New York... where I saw the luxuries of Park Avenue and the workers' lives on the East Side" and then his widow mother took him and his two brothers to Fort Worth, Texas, back to New Orleans and Fort Worth again.

Oswald painted a verbal picture of a boy who grew up with an "old" mother and without the discipline, love and care of a father.

"My mother died before I was born," he continued. "My mother works in shops mostly, in Fort Worth and around. I finished high school, I played baseball and football..."

I asked if he had formed many friendships in school.

"Oh, I had a certain amount of friends, but I don't have many attachments now in the United States. I travelled a lot. He moved from one city to the next. Besides, I was a bookworm."

And what did he read?

"Marx," he said. "I'm a Marxist," and he added that eagerly as if the label gave him pride and importance.

"I became interested about the age of 13. From an ideological viewpoint. An old lady handed me a pamphlet about saving the Rosenbergers..."

He xxix glanced out the lace-curtained window and was quiet for a moment.

"I looked at that paper and I still remember it for some reason, I don't know why," he said.

"Then we moved to New Orleans and I discovered one book in the library, 'Das Kapital'. It was what I'd been looking for. It was like a very religious man opening the Bible for the first time," he said. His eyes shone like those of a religious enthusiast.

"I read the 'Mannifesto'. It got me interested. I found some dusty back shelves in the New Orleans library, you know, I had to remove some front books to get at the books."

"I started to study Marxist economic theories. I could see the impoverishment of the masses before my own eyes in my own mother, and I could see the capitalists. I thought the worker's life could be better."

"I continued to indoctrinate myself for five years. My mother knew I was reading books but she didn't know what they were about.

"I would not care to live in the United States where being a worker means you are exploited by the capitalists. If I would remain in the United States, feeling as I do, under the capitalist system, I could never eat ahead."

"I could not be happy. I could not live under a capitalistic system. I would have a choice of becoming a worker under the system I hate, or becoming unemployed. Or I could become a capitalist and derived my profit and my living under the exploitation of workers."

"I will live now under a system where no individual capitalist will be able to exploit the workers. I will feel that I'm working for all the people and not for an individual capitalist making a profit for himself," he said, rushing from one sentence to another.

"Communism is an aggressive ideal as well as an economic system. Capitalism is only an economic system, and can only be offensive. Capitalism will shrink but within the borders of the United States the country is also shrinking."

I did not quite understand that last remark, but I was too busy trying to take down his words in shorthand to puzzle through his train of thought.

"Capitalism has passed its peak. Unemployment is growing. An era of depression is on the way ---- uh, or perhaps not."

"The forces of communism are growing. I believe capitalism will disappear as feudalism disappeared. A young man in the United States looks forward as a millionaire, when he's young, and he gets old he looks forward as a worker.

"The hysteria in America has gotten worse. If practice makes perfect, the U.S. is getting better," he said sarcastically. "You know, fashions, moe-e, clothes, food -- and hating communists or niggers. You go along with the crowd. I am against conformism in such matters, such as fashionably hating minority groups. Being a southern boy, I've seen poor niggers. That is a lesson, too. People hate because they're told to hate. Like school kids. In Little Rock they don't know the difference between a nigger and a white man but it was the fashion to hate niggers so they hated them. People in the United States are like that in everything."

I finally got a word in edgewise to inquire if we were a member of the Communist party.

"Communist?" he asked surprise. "I've never met a communist. I must have seen a communist once in New York, the old lady who gave me the pamphlet, save the Rosenbergs."

I asked him what he thought about communist party members in the United States, or even socialists.

"I don't want any socialist people to act for me," he said, his voice heavy with scorn. "I dislike them as I know they have the United States. You don't just sit around and talk about it. You do out and do it. I just haven't got out of university and read about Marx. I've seen all the workers on the east side."

"Of course, the conduct of America towards the communists is harsh," he added. "That was to be expected. My sympathies are with them as the underdog. That's natural, too."

"The Soviet Union has always been my idol, as the bulwark of communism. The communists have been a minority in the United States, and have to rely on outside power and moral support from the Soviet Union. American communists can look to the Soviet Union as a sort of an ideal. The Americans are right in assuming that communism all over the world is tied with the Soviet Union, like the Catholic Church has ties with the Pope."

"I tried to steer his conversation back to his mother and his early childhood. Did early poverty influence his decision to come to Moscow?"

"Well---lil," he said in a sort of mock drawl, "My childhood allowed me to have a few benefits of American society. I was not completely hamstrung in enjoying life."

"But seeing my mother always as a worker, always with w as money such could use, , ,"

"You see," he said, ignoring the question and speaking slowly to emphasize his words, "my coming here, well, it was, uh, a matter of intelligence. I couldn't care to ramble. One way or another I'd lose in the United States. In my own mind, even if I'd be Oswald also indicated that life as he saw it in the U.S. Marine Corps convinced him he should move to the other side of the Iron Curtain. For the Marine Corps, and for United States policy, he showed intense hatred.

"After I finished high school, I joined the Marine Corps at 17," he said. "I was in Japan, the Philippines. I was discharged when I was 20, in Santa Ana, California. I was a radar operator."

American Embassy officials had said Oswald told them he would reveal to the Soviets all he knew about American radar.

"I joined the Marine Corps because I had a brother in the Marines. I had a good conduct medal," he said.

Oswald did not have smooth relationships in the Marines, however. He later learned he had been-arrested twice before a military court for breaking regulations. At the end of his three years in uniform, he still was a private first class.

But he was skilled with guns. In classes he qualified as a sharpshooter, which is the second of three gradings for shooting ability in the Marine Corps.

The Marines put him on an inactive reserve list when he was discharged but later struck off his name as an undesirable.

But this he did not mention, of course, that anony November day as we sat in his hotel room in Moscow.

This week a Fort Worth policeman who went to school with Oswald commented that "he was always opposed to any kind of discipline. He seemed to hold it against people up there -- any authority." This apparently applied to his three years in the Marine Corps.

HE SAID,

"In the Marine Corps I observed American leaders in certain foreign countries. The Russians would say "military imperialism." Well, the occupation of one country is imperialistic. Like Formosa. The conduct of American technicians there, helping drag up guns for the Chinese. Watching American technicians show the Chinese how to use them -- it's one thing to talk about communism and another thing to drag a gun up a mountainside.

"If you live with that for three years, you get the impression things aren't quite so right.

"I guess you could say I was influenced by what I read, and by observing that the material was correct in its thesis, both in civilian life and military."

Oswald said that while in the Marines he continued to read Marxist books and laid careful plans to go to Russia.

"I thought it would give me a chance to observe that which I had read," he went on.

He said intensely, "When I was working in the middle of the night on guard duty, I would think how long it would be and how much money I would have to have. It would be like being out of prison. I saved about $1500."

"For two years I've had it in my mind, don't form any attachments, because I knew I was going away. I was planning to divest myself of everything to do with the United States."

"I've not just been thinking about it, but waiting to do it. For two years, saving my money."

"I'm sincere in my ideal. This is not something intangible. I'm going through pain and difficulty to do this."
I asked if his buddies in the Marines knew of his plans to give up his country.

"Nobody knew how I felt about things," he said. "I felt very strongly. My superiors thought I was just interested in a foreign language. My commanding officer, a major, was studying Russian and we used to talk about it."

Outside the hotel window, Muscovites, bundled against the snow in heavy soba and fur shapkas, were queuing up for buses and hurrying through the swirling snow.

"Now that you're in Moscow," I said, "do you think Soviet society works as well in reality as Marx had it on paper?"

"Considering Russia of 50 years ago, I can see the Soviet worker of today is remarkably well off," replied Oswald.

"Now, I personally would not say every person who thinks of himself as a communist should migrate to Russia. The drawbacks are many. But the basic ideas that brought me here are sound. The United States has more light bulbs and hot water heaters, but I don't feel that will be the case in 20 or 30 years. I would like to spend the rest of my life getting a normal life here, and if that means a marriage and so forth, okay."

I asked what his mother thought about his decision.

"She doesn't know," he said. "She's rather old. I couldn't expect her to understand. I guess it wasn't quite fair of me not to say anything, but it's better that way. I don't want to involve my family in this. I think it would be best if they would forget about me. My brother might lose his job because of this."

I asked how he thought he would get along in a foreign country where he did not know the language.

"Oh, I've been in a lot of classes in Russian," he said. "I want to expand my reading and writing. I can get along in restaurants but my Russian is very bad. The only barrier here is learning absolutely fluently the language. "I have Soviet friends. I've gone to museums and theaters. They are very sympathetic to me."

He thought a moment and chuckled.

"I am an ignorant immigrant. I never thought I'd be an immigrant from the U.S. to some other country. Like a German living in America."

Two hours had passed. When he started in on the ebb and flow of communism again, I got up and said I had to go. I was tired of listening to what sounded like recitations out of Stalin's Chariot.

As I put on my coat, I thought about how Oswald appeared totally disinterested in anything but himself. He never once asked what I was doing in Moscow, or how we foreigners lived there.

I also thought about a boy trying to digest that Metropole Sherry hotel food every night, a stranger in a foreign land without family or close friends. Perhaps if he came to my apartment where he would see other westerners, he might think twice of his decision...

"Thank you," he said to my casual invitation to come to dinner some night. It was obvious he had no intention of seeing me again.

I had talked to other defectors in Moscow, and, later at my office, I compared Oswald with them. While Khrushchev was allowing a steady trickle of Soviet citizens to rejoin relatives in the west, there also was traffic in the other direction. In fact, in our UPI bureau in Moscow we had filed marked "Defectors: east-west" and "Defectors: west-east." Our Soviet translators filed articles with never a glance as to which file was getting fatter.

Defectors appear to fall into two categories, but I was not sure Oswald belonged in either. The first type is the high-level official who had played an important role in his country and decided to transfer his knowledge to the Soviet side, defecting because of fear of discovery of his sentiments or a change in the political climate. This category could include the English defector colony in Moscow, such as journalist Harold Philby, and the late Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean. Some of these also had personal problems which may have contributed to their change of address.

I saw Burgess several times in Moscow before his recent death. There were - and still are - various translators, journalists, minor government workers and others who moved to Russia from America and other western countries during the depression and either can not or do not want to leave.

I call these persons members of the "twilight zone." They are not full-fledged members of either the Soviet or foreign worlds. They belong nowhere. Some of them socialize with foreign correspondents and diplomats, but they still are regarded as being in a special category. Some journalists and embassy officials shun them outright, and their histories are a subject of gossip and debate.

The Soviets do not accept fully the "twilight zone" members, either. One American-born woman, brought as a child to Moscow during the '30s, married a Soviet factory official. She told me that until 1950, when Soviet-American relations began to improve, her husband more or less kept her out of sight.

The Russians are suspicious by tradition, and completely trust no for igners, including defectors. Even prominent officials such as Guy Burgess are given only routine non-sensitive jobs, such as translators in publishing houses. During the worst terror days under Stalin, many foreign-born persons were imprisoned, including the entire staff of an English-language newspaper. One staff writer told me he was released after a year but for years could not get a job, a type of McCarthyism in reverse. Now he works as a translator in Moscow and, despite his past anguish, is a loyal Soviet citizen.

Once I was discussing with a Soviet intellectual the case of a girl secretary at the U.S. Embassy who defected, married an American and actor and wrote a book blistering the Embassy. Despite her obvious fidelity to the "undying principles of Marxism and Leninism," my Soviet friend remarked patronizingly that "she is not very happy here. She doesn't really fit in, and never will."

"Yes, she speaks good Russian, but," well, you know, we'll always have that accent..." he exclaimed.

The second category of defector is the romantic variety, who flees behind the Iron Curtain in the hope of escaping personal problems, but soon flees out again. During the American Exhibition of 1959 in Moscow, one technician with a bad marriage back home fell in love with a pretty Moscow hotel elevator operator. In his mind, what better way to solve the mess that to stay in the Soviet Union? After a six-month idyll, however, he appeared at the American Embassy to help him get a Soviet exit visa. I heard he finally returned to the United States.

Another defector we journalists called "Kathy," because he resembled the title character in the film of that name - large, lonely, helpless. Like others in this category, Kathy had had trouble holding a job in the U.S. His marriage failed. He desperately came to "Mother Russia" hoping he would be taken care of under "communism." But Mother Russia has no use for maladjusted defectors unless they have a special skill or information to benefit the state. As days dragged by and Kathy received no Soviet reply to his request for citizenship, he realized Russia didn't want him.

he had signed away his U.S. citizenship and spent frantic days trying to get it back. He ran out of money; he was lonely and frightened. He couldn't speak Russian and he was not used to the drabness of the Soviet capital. Another journalist and I virtually supported "Marty" for two weeks until he received money from his sister and finally a Soviet exit visa to return to the United States. Even when frantically busy on stories, we had to drop by the Ukraine Hotel with food in bags or money for Marty.

Oswald appeared to be a one-man third category. Like the "romantic" defectors, he was a man of no particular experience or value to the Soviet state. But instead of defecting for economic or love reasons, he apparently had made the plunge for the glory he might receive in Moscow that he had not received in his own country.

I had known other men of Oswald's type. In Montana where I grew up and in cities such as Seattle, Phoenix and San Francisco where I worked as a beginning reporter I had seen Oswald's counterparts — young "loners" or "Mavericks." They worked as cowhands and longshoremen, served in the Marines or the Army, went from town to town and from job to job, married casually or not at all, got drunk and into fights, always seeking recognition and some way of expressing their frustrations.

The swift pace of American life had passed them by for one reason or another, and they resented it. Emotionally dulled, they never found a true cause although they may have dallied in some. Their main goal was to be somebody, to achieve some sort of personal glory. One such man might become a street corner rowdile, another an Army deserter in Korea, a member of the Ku Klux Klan, the American Nazi party or the pro-or anti-Castro clubs; a third a hunger-on in a political or religious movement. They never are leaders, and, as in Oswald's case, not even members. Their cause gave meaning to their lives. It was a way of expressing their fury against a world that did not give them what they had expected. In their own eyes they were nothing but chips tossed in the fast mainstream of America, and when they talked in their tight-lipped way they displayed their grudges, bitterness and self-righteousness.

Oswald had kept saying he was "sincere" in his beliefs, and obviously he was concerned about how they were presented to the public and as to how he fared in the first limelight of his life. A rival correspondent was queried by his London office about my interview on Oswald. He immediately telephoned me, not to suggest dinner, but to complain. He objected because I stressed that he was affected by his mother's plight. "If we weren't poverty-stricken," he said indignantly, "I am here because I believe in Marxist ideas. It's a matter only of ideology. You don't understand."

We never got together for dinner. Once I saw Oswald at a Moscow theater across a lobby. I felt sorry for him and wanted to say hello, but before I could reach him he was a shadowed up in the crowd pushing around the ice cream stand and snack bar.

I had a feeling that the Soviets would not want this confused young man around Moscow. I never saw him after that. Later we heard he had been shipped off to unglamorous Minsk.

Oswald never followed his plans that he so excitedly outlined to enter college and study electronics. He worked in a factory in Minsk. Then he married a petite blonde nurse, Marina, and they had a child. The Soviets, as could have been predicted, ignored his plea to become a citizen of the first communist state.
Nine months after his arrival in Moscow, Oswald, a man who could have been predicted, asked the Soviets in July, 1960, for an exit visa and a reply to the U.S. Embassy for the return of his passport.

Like the American Exhibition love-struck technician, or martyr, he was probably disillusioned with life in Russia, homesick and had found he could not leave his personal problems behind just by stepping behind the Iron Curtain. But most important of all, Oswald had discovered that he failed to find in Russia the glory that he had found in his own country, and for which he had given up his passport.

When a Soviet exit visa was not forthcoming, Oswald, the lad who had scorned the U.S. government and marine corps and vowed to me he would live forever in the Soviet Union, wrote to Sen. John Tower of Texas in January, 1962. The letter, with various misspellings, was:

"My name is Lee Harvey Oswald, 22, of Fort Worth, up till Oct. 1959, when I came to the Soviet Union for an adventures (sic) stay. I took a residencial (sic) document for a non-Soviet person living for a time in the USSR. The American Embassy in Moscow is familiar with my case.

"Since July 20, 1960, I have unsuccessfully applied for a Soviet exit visa to leave this country. The Soviets refuse to permit me and my Soviet wife (who applied at the U.S. Embassy, Moscow, July 8, 1960, for immigration status to the USA), to leave the Soviet Union. I am a citizen of the United States of America [passport number 1733242, 1953], and I beseech you, Senator Tower, to resolve the question of holding by the Soviet Union of a citizen of the U.S. against his will and expressed desires. Yours very truly, Lee H. Oswald.

"Hit, the Senator's help, the State Department decided to provide the usual loan of $435.71 for Oswald, his wife and child to return to Texas. They received a Soviet exit visa and left Moscow May, 1962.

Oswald was a man who had never been noticed, and who obviously still wanted to be. Back in New Orleans his unstable philosophy was from one notion to another. He campaigned with anti-Castro, then Castro forces. He applied for a new passport to travel to Eastern Europe and Russia again.

On Aug. 21 he appeared on a New Orleans radio program, claiming to be the secretary of the New Orleans chapter of "The Fair Play for Cuba Committee," which the committee brands an outright lie as he was no secretary and there is no New Orleans chapter.

The program pointed up t. a. t. Oswald had done a 180-degree switch from many ideas he had expressed to me. He also sounded to me more confident than when I knew him, and, at least, apparently he had learned a few more things about communism and the Soviet Union than he knew in 1954. But I heard still the same cockiness in his voice during the radio interview.

(text of interview attached if needed).

*********

The night of Friday, Nov. 22, 1963, on a teletype in the UPI "wire bureau, where I now am stationed, I read a dispatch that President Kennedy had arrested a suspect in the assassination of President Kennedy. The suspect had lived for a while in Russia and had a Russian wife.

"My mind raced over the parade of defectors and twilight-zoners I had known in Moscow. Not Marty, surely, but Oswald---

"During the night my office telephoned me at home that the suspect was granted Lee Oswald that you knew in Moscow." I was not surprised.

In a trunkful of papers and momentos of Moscow, I found a tan notebook labeled, "defector." In the notes began, "Lee Harvey Oswald, Fort Worth, room 235, Metropole..."
he looked just the same as in the newspaper photographs I saw in the morning. But I disagree with the captions which say, "glaring at photographers defiantly."

Oswald was not glaring angrily. I have a feeling that in a way he was enjoying every minute of it. There was that same tight-lipped secretive manner mark he wore when he related his self-imposed mission to me that snowy day in Moscow so far from Texas.

That same little smile was on his face when he walked out of his cell for the last time to face reporters and photographers, but the smile changed to the grimace of pain and death.

If he was guilty, why did he not confess in jail? In my opinion he did not confess probably because he felt nobody would understand him. Nobody ever had.

For 24 hours--from the time somebody raised a rifle from the 5th floor window of a warehouse where Oswald worked and aimed it at the passing figure of one of the world's most popular leaders, until his own death at the hands of an enraged striketeam club owner--Lee Harvey Oswald at last found the place in the sun he had been seeking.

Airmen Second Class PALMER E. McBride was interviewed at Air Police Headquarters, Patrick Air Force Base, Florida, and furnished the following signed statement:

"Patrick Air Force Base, Florida
November 23, 1963

'I, PALMER E. McBride hereby furnish the following free and voluntary statement to JOHN R. PALMER who I know to be a Special Agent of the FBI. I have been advised that this statement can be used in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me.

'I was born on November 29, 1937, at New Orleans, Louisiana. I enlisted in the United States Air Force on November 25, 1960, and since June 15, 1961, I have been assigned to Patrick Air Force Base, Florida. I am presently an Airmen Second Class assigned to the 6550th Maintenance Group with Air Force Serial Number AF 25589222.

"In about June, 1955, I went to work as a dental messenger for the Prister Dental Laboratory Company in the 200 block of Dauphine Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. In about December, 1957, a young man named LEE OSWALD was employed in the same capacity. Because we both enjoyed classical music I invited him to my home at 1410 Baronne Street, New Orleans, and he did visit my home perhaps two or three times. I was living with my parents at that time, and during his visits we would listen to records in my room.

"During his first visit to my home in late 1957 or early 1958 the discussion turned to politics and to the possibility of war. At this time I made a statement to the effect that President DWIGHT EISENHOWER was doing a pretty good job for a man of his age and background, but that I did feel more emphasis should be placed on the space program in view of Russian successes. OSWALD was very anti-Soviet, and stated that president BIDENHOLZ was exploiting the working people. So then \( \text{he denied a statement to the effect} \) that \( \text{he would like to kill president BIDENHOLZ} \) because he was exploiting the working class.

This statement was not mild in content, and OSWALD was in a serious frame of mind when this statement was made.

"LEE OSWALD was very curious about the virtues of Communism, and discussed those virtues at every opportunity. He would say that the capitalists were exploiting the working class and his central theme seemed to be that the workers in the world would one day rise up and throw off their chains. He praised RUSSIA's sincerity in improving the lot of the workers."

"In early 1958 I took OSWALD with me to a meeting of the New Orleans Amour Astronomy Association at the home of WALTER GHRENIER, 208 Hector Ave., Metairie, Louisiana. This meeting was presided over by the Association president, WILLIAM EUGENE WULF, Jr., 2107 Annunciation Street, New Orleans. At this meeting I recall that Mr. WULF told OSWALD that if he liked Russia so damn much why didn't he go over there. I do not know what OSWALD had said to bring forth this remark from WULF."

"On one occasion I took OSWALD to the WULF residence. OSWALD and Mr. WILLIAM EUGENE WULF, Sr., a naturalized citizen of German origin, argued because OSWALD was telling him of the glories of the Worker's State and saying that the United States Government was not telling the truth about Soviet Russia."

"In another conversation OSWALD stated to me he was not a member of the Communist Party but he suggested that both of us should join to take advantage of their social functions. I did not join the Communist Party, but I do not know whether he did or not."

"During the period I knew OSWALD he resided with his mother in the Senator Hotel or a rooming house next door to the Senator Hotel in the 200 block of Dauphine Street, New Orleans. I went with him to his room on one occasion, and he showed me copies of 'Das Kapital' and the 'Communist Manifesto'. OSWALD stated he had received these books from the public library, and seemed quite proud to have them."

"In April or May, 1958, OSWALD stated he was moving to Ft. Worth, Texas, with his mother. In about August, 1958, I received a letter from him saying he was employed as a shoe salesman in Ft. Worth. In this letter he also stated he had gotten mixed up in an anti-Negro or anti-Communist riot on a high school grounds in Ft. Worth, Texas. OSWALD did not elaborate on this statement."

"I did not answer this letter, and I have not had further contact or communication with OSWALD."

"On the evening of November 22, 1963, I heard a radio commentator state that LEE OSWALD had been arrested as a suspect in the assassination of President J. F. KENNEDY. Upon hearing the name I recalled my association with LEE OSWALD in New Orleans, and upon seeing a full face photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the November 23, 1963, issue of 'The Miami Herald' newspaper I am now quite certain that they are one and the same individual. I particularly recall the large ears, the mustache, and the receding hairline."

"I also recall that OSWALD made statements favoring Russia and Communism to other employees at the Pfisterer Dental Laboratory Company. I do not recall specific statements but his central theme always concerned the workers throwing off their chains.
"I have read and initialled each page and all corrections on this six page statement. I declare that it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

"/S/ PALMER EDWIN McBRIDE

"Witness:

"/S/ WILLIAM J. SIMS, S/A, CSI, 23 Nov 63

Cocoa, Florida, November 23, 1963."

Airman McBRIDE said he made no report of OSWALD's statement concerning President EISENHOWER to any law enforcement agency. McBRIDE now assumes that at the time he felt the statement was made by OSWALD to emphasize his anti-EISENHOWER feelings and not made in the nature of an actual threat on the life of the President.

McBRIDE stated that Mr. LAWRENCE WILLIAMSON, Bookkeeper, and Miss AMELIA (Last Name Unknown), Secretary at Pfisterer Dental Laboratory Company, would probably recall remarks made by OSWALD favoring Russia and Communism. Other company officials or employees named LEVEQUE, CAGLE, BISCHOFF and KLLEN would probably recall his remarks. He also stated that he was not acquainted with OSWALD's close associates and never attended any type of meeting with him except the one meeting of the Astronomy Association.

Mr. JOHN G. MARTIN, 5512 Memphis Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, and principal of Beau regard Junior High School, 4621 Canal Street, New Orleans, advised that his records are negative for a student by the name of ARTHUR, ARTHUR, or ARTHUR ABEAR, an ever attending Beau regard Junior High School.

When advised that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had submitted this name to Warren Easton High School as being a friend or associate, MARTIN stated that he was of the opinion that OSWALD was mistaken in the spelling and that the pronunciation of HEBERT in the New Orleans area is "ABEAR.

He further advised that his records show that an ARTHUR ALBERT HEBERT attended Beauregard Junior High School from 1952 through 1955. He stated that HEBERT was in the eighth and ninth grades with LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

He also stated that his records show that the only course HEBERT and OSWALD had together was ninth grade art with Miss JULIA SHIDER who has left teaching and is residing somewhere in New Orleans.

He further advised that his records do not show what high school HEBERT attended subsequent to Beauregard Junior High School, but advised that this information could be obtained from the Department of Census and Child Accounting, Orleans Parish School Board, 705 Carondelet Street, New Orleans, Louisiana.
Miss HARRIET MUNTZ, Supervisor, Department of Census and Child Accounting, Orleans Parish School Board, 703 Carondelet Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised that her records reflect that ARTHUR ALBERT HEBERT, 721 Hidalgo Street, telephone number MU 6-644, New Orleans, attended Beauregard Junior High School from 1952 to 1955. She said the records show that he attended Fortier High School from 1955 to 1958.

She further advised that her records do not contain the name of any ARTHUR, AMBER, or ARTHUR ABEAR.

ARTHUR ALBERT HEBERT, 1524 South Carrollton Avenue, New Orleans, Louisiana, and employed by Tennco Oil Company, 2515 Canal Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, furnished the following information:

He stated that he attended Beauregard Junior High School, New Orleans, Louisiana, from 1952 through 1955. He said that he vaguely recalls LEE HARVEY OSWALD but never associated with OSWALD outside of school.

He further advised that he does not believe OSWALD would list him as a friend or associate inasmuch as he had no contact with OSWALD outside normal contact during class. He said he believes he was in the same ninth grade art class with OSWALD but had no contact with OSWALD outside of seeing him in class.
Mr. GREG OLDS, 1316 Timberlake Circle, Richardson, Texas, employee of Richardson Echo, advised him to the president of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) affiliate in Dallas, Texas. He stated that he had never seen or heard of LEE HARVEY OSWALD until President KENNEDY was assassinated. OLDS stated that after it had been reported in the newspapers that OSWALD was a member of the ACLU, he tried to verify this fact and finally determined from the New York office that an application for membership had been submitted by OSWALD to New York. This application had been received in New York however he believes on November 4, 1965. OLDS stated that he no longer nothing to describe the application form had come from OSWALD and he picked up this form at a meeting of the ACLU on October 25, 1963. He has heard from some source, name not recalled, that OSWALD did attend a meeting of the ACLU on the night of October 25, 1963, which meeting was held on the campus of Southern Methodist University (SMU). It is believed by Mr. OLDS that OSWALD was brought to this meeting by MICHAEL PAINÉ. He has intended to talk to PAINÉ about OSWALD but has not had an opportunity. He advised that he, OLDS, was present at the meeting on October 25, 1963, and does not recall seeing OSWALD and certainly does not recall him entering into any discussions. He has heard, but once again he cannot confirm the sources, that OSWALD did have something to say at this meeting. He, however, does not know what OSWALD was supposed to have said.

OLDS stated he has not made any investigation regarding OSWALD but he has been following the background of OSWALD through the press with the information of everything about him that he can. He stated he could not furnish any information at all regarding OSWALD since he did not meet him and stated he does not know JACK RUBY and knows of no association between RUBY and OSWALD.

He does not know of any of the other ACLU meetings which OSWALD might have attended and stated the only person other than PAINÉ he knows that might have talked to OSWALD in a meeting was a Reverend BYRD HELLOAS, 4012 St. Andrews Drive, Dallas. He does not believe, however, that HELLOAS can furnish any information regarding OSWALD and believes that HELLOAS just either spoke to him or was introduced to him.

Commission Exhibit No. 1388
Lee Harvey Oswald

By letter dated May 7, 1964, the President's Commission advised that it appeared Lee Harvey Oswald first became acquainted with members of the so-called "Russian Community" in the Dallas-Fort Worth area through his contacts with Mr. Peter Gregory and Mr. Max Clark of Fort Worth. This letter reflected that Mr. Clark had testified that he thought that Oswald had obtained his name, as well as Mr. Gregory's, through the Fort Worth office of the Texas Employment Commission.

The President's Commission requested that Mr. Clark's testimony be verified by interviews with appropriate personnel of the Texas Employment Commission office in Fort Worth. The President's Commission also expressed a desire to know the identity of the person or persons who provided Oswald with the names of Gregory and Clark and the reasons they did so.

On May 13, 1964, Mr. Peter Paul Gregory, Geologist, Continental National Bank Building, Fort Worth, Texas, was recontacted and furnished the following information:

Gregory recalled that when Lee Harvey Oswald first contacted him, he told him that he had obtained Gregory's name from someone at the Fort Worth Public Library. Gregory has conducted classes in Russian at the Fort Worth Public Library for about four years. He stated he had made inquiry at the Fort Worth Public Library but had been unable to locate anyone who had talked to Oswald and might have given his name to Oswald.

On May 13, 1964, Mr. Max Clark, attorney, Ridgley State Bank Building, Fort Worth, Texas, furnished the following information:

Clark recalled that during the first interview he was not sure as to the source of Oswald in obtaining the name of

Re: Lee Harvey Oswald

Mrs. Clark, but first thought it might have been the Fort Worth Public Library. He later talked to his wife, Mrs. Gail Clark, and she said that when Oswald called her the first time he told her he had obtained her name from some person at the Texas Employment Commission. Clark further advised that his wife vaguely recalled that Oswald might have told her the name of this person was Smith, but she was not certain as to this information. Clark advised that his sister works at the Texas Employment Commission and one of his aunts was employed there for many years until her death three years ago. He related that many persons at the Texas Employment Commission are acquainted with him and also know that his wife is from France and is of Russian descent. Clark stated he and his wife had made some inquiry out of curiosity to try to learn the name of the person who gave Mrs. Clark's name to Oswald, but they had not been successful.

On May 13, 1964, Mr. Arliss Hixon, Manager, Fort Worth Public Library, Fort Worth, Texas, furnished the following information:

He and his assistants had checked all library records in the past but had failed to develop the names of any individuals at this library who might have given the name of Peter Gregory to Lee Harvey Oswald. Hixon was unable to furnish any information concerning any person who might have given this name to Oswald.

On May 13, 1964, Mrs. Virginia Hale, 6475 Fortune Road, Fort Worth, Texas, employed in the Job Placement Division of Texas Employment Commission, Fort Worth, Texas, furnished the following information:

She recalled Lee Harvey Oswald quite well and she sent him out on the job to the Leslie Welding Company. Mrs. Hale stated she did not give the names of Max Clark or Peter Gregory to Oswald, but she believed that Mrs. Annie Laura Smith of Texas Employment Commission might have furnished the name of Clark to Oswald.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On May 13, 1964, Mrs. ANNIE LAURIE SMITH, 301 South Bowen Road, Arlington, Texas, employed as a Counselor at the Texas Employment Commission, Fort Worth, Texas, furnished the following information:

She has been so employed for the past nine years. She interviewed LEE HARVEY OSWALD in June 1962 when he came to this office seeking a job. OSWALD had not been to the employment office before and was not sure as to his qualifications for any particular type of job. In applicants of this type, the Counselors interview these persons to obtain their background, their job experience, and try to advise them the type of job they might best be qualified for. Mrs. SMITH talked to LEE HARVEY OSWALD on two different occasions. She recalled that at times he was quite cooperative, then other times he acted rather moody and did not want to furnish some of the information.

Near the close of the last interview, LEE HARVEY OSWALD mentioned to Mrs. SMITH that his wife was from Russia; that she could only speak the Russian language, and he would like to get acquainted with any person in Fort Worth who might speak the Russian language, and in this way his wife could talk to them and maybe they could make more friends in Fort Worth. Mrs. SMITH advised she is personally acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. PETER PAUL GREGORY, and she wrote the name of Mr. GREGORY on a piece of paper showing the office number and phone number of Mr. GREGORY and she gave this to LEE HARVEY OSWALD. During part of this conversation, a Mrs. HALL, sitting at the next desk to Mrs. SMITH, overheard the conversation and mentioned to Mrs. SMITH that Mrs. MAX CLARK, who lives in Fort Worth, is of Russian descent and speaks Russian and also French. Mrs. SMITH recalls Mrs. HALL wrote the name and phone number of Mrs. CLARK on a slip of paper, handed it to Mrs. SMITH, and she, in turn, passed it on to LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Mrs. SMITH advised she was not personally acquainted with Mr. or Mrs. MAX CLARK, but had heard of them. She stated that Mrs. HALL never talked to OSWALD and she only furnished the name of Mrs. CLARK to Mrs. SMITH, and she, in turn, gave it to OSWALD.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mrs. SMITH stated that LEE HARVEY OSWALD did not discuss any politics or anything about the governments of the United States or Russia, and that she only talked to him about his past employment and the type of work he had done prior to going to Russia; also, the work he had done in Russia, and if he had done any work since he had returned from Russia. She stated he wanted the names of these individuals so that he and his wife might visit them and OSWALD's wife would then be able to talk to these people in Russian since she could not speak any English.
The records of the United States Post Office, Terminal Annex, reflected four documents pertaining to post office box rental and change of address filed by LEE H. OSWALD.

These documents are described as follows:

(1) Application for Post Office Box dated October 9, 1962, pertaining to the rental of Post Office Box 2915, General Post Office, Dallas, and signed LEE H. OSWALD.

(2) Change of address order signed LEE H. OSWALD made to the Postmaster, Dallas, Texas, postmarked New Orleans, Louisiana, May 9, 1963, reflecting the change of address effective May 12, 1963, to 4907 Magazine Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, from Post Office Box 2915, Dallas, Texas, and signed LEE H. OSWALD.

(3) Application dated November 1, 1963, pertinent to the rental of Post Office Box 6225, located at the Terminal Annex, Post Office Station, Dallas, Texas, and signed LEE H. OSWALD. This application also reflects the names of firms as "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" and "American Civil Liberties Union," and kind of business as "nonprofit."

(4) An additional card signed LEE H. OSWALD pertaining to the rental of Post Office Box 6225 was stapled to the application itself.

The above information is available only upon issuance of a subpoena duces tecum directed to Mr. HARRY HOLMES, U. S. Postal Inspector, Terminal Annex, Dallas, Texas.

H. D. HOLMES, Postal Inspector, advised his records reflect information not previously furnished by his office. He stated a change of address card has been found dated October 10, 1962, instructing that all mail from 2703 Mercedes Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, be forwarded to Post Office Box 2915, Dallas, Texas. This card reflects the name LEE H. OSWALD.

AFFIDAVIT

I, Ivan D. Lee, being duly sworn, depose as follows:

In my performance of duties as a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, I was assigned to take photographs of the rear of Major General Edwin A. Walker's residence at 4011 Turtle Creek Boulevard, Dallas, Texas.

On February 1, 1964, accompanied by Special Agent W. James Wood, I proceeded to the alley area located behind the residence of Major General Walker and took photographs from an automobile of the Federal Bureau of Investigation proceeding slowly through the alleyway. These photographs were taken at approximately 10:00 a.m. on February 1, 1964. At approximately 10:30 a.m., I returned to the area on foot and took two photographs, looking south by southwest down the alleyway behind Major General Walker's residence toward Avondale Street, Dallas. After returning to the Bureau automobile, we proceeded through the alley once again at approximately 10:45 a.m. and took another photograph of the rear of the residence of Major General Edwin A. Walker. At approximately 11:15 a.m. another trip was made through the alley and another photograph was taken of the rear of the residence of Major General Edwin A. Walker.

Photographs numbered on the back as DL 36 depict rear views of the residence of Major General Edwin A. Walker, and is the same residence as depicted in Commission exhibit number 5 and marked as FBI inventory number 369. Photographs numbered as DL 35 depict the alleyway looking south by southwest from the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints parking lot which is located adjacent to and north of the property of Major General Edwin A. Walker. In the left hand side of the photographs of the alleyway, a driveway is noted, which is the driveway leading to the back of Major General Edwin A. Walker's residence.

I used a Federal Bureau of Investigation owned 35 millimeter Robot camera in taking the above photographs.

The original page of these notes has been forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination.

Photographs numbered on the back 1 through 47 were exhibited to MARINA OSWALD at her place of residence, 1161 Farrar Street. These photographs were made available to SA JAMES E. MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at the home of JAMES
HERBERT MARTIN, 11611 Fannin Street, Dallas, Texas, telephone
DAVIS 7-8569.

MARINA OSWALD furnished the following background information concerning herself. She was born July 17, 1941, as a member of the Russian Orthodox Church. She was born in Sverdlovsk (formerly called Sverdlovsk), Arkhangelsk Oblast, USSR. She does not know who her father was. Her stepfather is ALEXANDER IVANOVICH MEDYEVEV. Her mother is KLYAVIA VASILEVNA MEDYEVEVA. She moved from Sverdlovsk when she was an infant and went to live in Arkhangelsk, Arkhangelsk Oblast, where she lived with her maternal grandmother, TATIANA YARILEVNA PROSAKOVA, now deceased, and her grandfather, VASILI PROSAKOV (sometimes spelled PROSAKOVA). She remembers her grandfather working on a farm and her mother always told her that he was a Captain First Class. Her grandfather died when she was about 4 or 5 years old and she continued to live with her grandmother until she was about 7 years old. When she was 8 years old, she went back to live with her stepfather and mother at Zguritsa, Moldavian SSR (formerly called Bessarabia). A half-brother, PIOTR ALEXANDROVICH MEDYEVY, was born at Arkhangelsk in 1945 or 1946, and a half-sister, TATIANA ALEXANDROVNA MEDYEVEVA, was born in 1949.

At Zguritsa she went to school for 4 years. Then the entire family moved to Leningrad in 1952 where she entered the 5th grade. It was in this town that her stepfather was born and he had now returned home. Her stepfather was by training and profession an electrical worker. He was skilled, and in Leningrad at this time had a job maintaining equipment in a gas producing plant. He had, before the war, been employed in the Moldavian SSR at an electrical station. During the war he was mobilized and had spent the war at the front. She believes he was some sort of an Army Officer. Meanwhile, her mother worked in a hospital. She does not know where.

She attended the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades of a 10-year school called the 374th Women's School at Leningrad. At the conclusion of her seventh grade she wanted to go to a specialized school because her mother was quite ill and she felt that she might need a specialty in order that she might be independent. She was allowed to enter a specialty school, which she did following the conclusion of her seventh grade work. She entered the Pharmacy Technical School in Leningrad in 1955 and graduated with a diploma as a pharmacist in June, 1959. During her last year in pharmacy school she had also worked in a drug store in Leningrad. This drug store was a central drug store located on Nevasky Prospect (a main street in Leningrad). Her mother died when she was in the second year of pharmacy school. She continued to reside in her stepfather's home although she felt like a stranger in the house. She explained that she and her stepfather did not get along well together and that this had been a situation of long standing. She explained that this situation was probably more due to her actions than to those of her stepfather. She said she had been "fresh" with her mother, particularly, and the stepfather had not liked this. She said she was not amenable to discipline and was generally a source of concern to her stepfather.

She advised that during this time while she was attending pharmacy school after her mother died she took meals away from the stepfather's home although she slept there. She explained that upon the death of her mother the children had come into a pension, and that this was divided three ways.

MARINA said she did not feel that her childhood was a happy one because of the friction between herself and her stepfather.

Upon graduation from pharmaceutical school in June, 1959, she was assigned work in a pharmaceutical warehouse in Leningrad. This work consisted of packing and preparing pharmaceutical orders. She did not like the work and quit after one day. She explained that generally a person had 3 days in which to decide whether or not to retain a professional type job and that it was not a black mark to quit a job during this first three days. After quitting this job, she took a two months' vacation, and just enjoyed herself. She was residing in her stepfather's house in Leningrad.

Toward the end of August, 1959, she bought a railroad ticket to Minsk, Belorussia, USSR, as she had decided to go live with her aunt and uncle who reside in Minsk. Minsk is a 24-hour railroad ride from Leningrad. This uncle is ILIA VASILIEVICH PRUSAEKOV, who is now about 52 years of age, and the aunt is VALENTINA GUREVNA PRUSAEKOV, who is now about 37 years of age. This aunt and uncle had lived in Arkhangelsk when she lived there. Her grandmother had lived with this aunt and uncle for a while prior to her death. There was a mutual liking between this aunt and uncle and MARINA. This uncle had graduated from college as an engineer, specializing in lumber. He had been in the Armed Forces in World War II and after the war was assigned to the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Belorussia, in Minsk, and is presently in charge of the department which deals with lumber. Although he works as an engineer, he has the rank of a Colonel or Lieutenant Colonel and always wears a military uniform. Everybody in this ministry wears a uniform. For example, a medical doctor who lives in the same apartment house as does her uncle and who works in this ministry also wears a military uniform.

Her aunt, VALENTINA, had no children, and she spent her time at the apartment.

When she arrived at the apartment of her aunt and uncle, they had a general discussion about her, MARINA’s, future, and it was agreed that she could remain at the apartment if she wanted to do so. MARINA said that she was going to look for a job. The aunt said that MARINA would probably get married soon, but the uncle was opposed to an early marriage by MARINA. MARINA was 18 at this time. MARINA said she herself was opposed to marriage at this time and desired only to get a job and go to work.

She had previously had male admirers in Leningrad and had only recently broken up with one particular boy. This boy’s mother was very interested in her son marrying MARINA, but neither the boy nor MARINA felt that their relationship was close enough for marriage. MARINA refused to give the name of this boy at this time.

Concerning the uncle’s apartment, MARINA said it was one of the best in the apartment house, which was for the employees of the Ministry of Internal Affairs. It was located on the 4th floor and had a kitchen, one bath, a foyer, a study, one bedroom, and a combination living room and dining room. The rooms were large although the kitchen was rather small.

In October, 1959, MARINA went to work in the drug section of the Third Clinical Hospital in Minsk, which is located on Lenin Street, in the central section of Minsk. She worked there for one year, until October, 1960, at which time she had earned a month’s vacation. She took this vacation in a rest home near Leningrad. This rest home had several cottages in forest-like surroundings. The sexes were separated. The persons at the rest home ate, slept, relaxed, and had fun.

Concerning her social life, MARINA said, as stated before, that she had had several male admirers in Leningrad but had not been interested in matrimony. She pointed out, parenthetically, that at that time her teeth were in good condition and she took pains with her appearance and she believed that she was attractive to men. She said that at the present time she has lost several of her teeth as a result of her two pregnancies and does not feel that she is as attractive as she once was.

She advised that while living in Leningrad she had visited Minsk on vacation on several occasions. On one of these occasions her uncle had introduced her to a young man who lived in the same apartment as did her uncle. This young man, in turn, introduced her to another young man. Then this last young man introduced her to many young men and women with whom he associated socially. These young people were for the most part students in the schools of architecture, medicine, and engineering. Their social life was taken up, in good part, by getting together in cafes where they would sip coffee, exchange gossip, and read newspapers. Also, very heated discussions were carried on among the students about different architectural designs or other professional topics. Also, on occasion various young people would get together at someone’s house and listen to records. She said that the crowd more or less ran together and that she, MARINA, did not desire to pair up with any particular boy friend. This was an enjoyable period of her life and she found her social associations very pleasant.

Concerning the two young men to whom she was first introduced, MARINA advised that she did not care to divulge their names. She said that the first young man to whom she had been introduced by her uncle and who resided in the same apartment house as her uncle spent his vacations in Minsk although he studied in Leningrad. The second young man to whom she was introduced by the first young man is a student at Minsk at some technical institute. The first boy's father is an engineer in the Ministry of Internal Affairs and the father of the second boy is a professor of Science in a technical institute in Minsk.

She advised that she once was invited by some medical student friends to attend an affair which was a combination social and cultural event to be held at the Palace of Culture. She stated that the Palace had been evidently rented by the medical institute for this purpose. She said she decided to go to this affair and spent a good deal of time dressing and preparing for it. When she finally was ready to go she decided not to go. Then her uncle said that as long as she was already dressed and ready that she should go, so she went. She said that she arrived at about 10 o'clock, which was three hours after the affair had started. MARINA pointed out that the first part of the evening had been devoted primarily to a lecture by a Russian woman who had visited the United States as a tourist. Her lecture had dealt with her impressions of the United States. MARINA arrived too late to hear this lecture. The woman lecturer had a son who was a medical student in Minsk and this son was in attendance at this affair on this occasion. This son was an acquaintance of LEE OSWALD.

When MARINA arrived at the affair, as she described it, well dressed and pretty, LEE OSWALD almost immediately saw her and told his medical student acquaintance that he would like to meet her. She was introduced to OSWALD by this medical student.

student and OSWALD immediately asked her to dance. She accepted OSWALD's invitation and they spent much time together that evening.

She said that OSWALD's Russian, although good, bore a definite accent. She thought that he probably had come from one of the Russian speaking Baltic countries.

At this point MARINA interposed that she had attended this affair about the middle of March, 1961, and she had married LEE OSWALD on April 30, 1961.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date December 11, 1963

(1)

MARIANA OSWALD was interviewed at the home of JAMES HARRELL MARTIN, 1461 Park Avenue, Dallas, Texas, telephone
Davis 7-6800.

She stated that after OSWALD returned to Dallas in early October, 1963, she found a room in Oak Cliff, that he had called her an average of twice a day to inquire about her condition as her second child was due about October 14, 1963. She said OSWALD had returned to job at the Texas School Book Depository on October 15, 1963. She said Mrs. FAINE had talked to one of her neighbors about OSWALD needing a job and a woman neighbor said that she was a principal in the school where her brother was employed, and suggested that OSWALD contact this person. Mrs. OSWALD does not recall the name of the neighbor. However, a person in the Oak Cliff, she was told, that she could not locate this person. She finally was able to locate this person by telephone, and upon inquiring about possible employment for OSWALD was told that OSWALD should call Mrs. FAINE. Mrs. FAINE advised the date of contact by Mrs. FAINE of her occupation as the Texas School Book Depository must have been on October 24, 1963, as she knew OSWALD got to the Texas School Book Depository on the following day, which was October 15, 1963, and got a job.

The weekend following his return to Dallas, which was the weekend of October 15-17, 1963, OSWALD had no job. He spent that weekend at the FAINE residence and MARIANA believe it was during that weekend sometime that Mrs. FAINE talked to her neighbor, LWINN, about the job for OSWALD.

She recalls he came to the FAINE for the weekend on October 18, 1963, as this is OSWALD’s birthday. He spent the night of October 18th at the FAINE home, spent all day Saturday and Saturday night and returned to that location on October 20, a Sunday, Mrs. FAINE went MARINA to Parkland Hospital as her baby was due. OSWALD stayed with the children at the FAINE home, and was released from hospital on Tuesday, October 22, and FAINE brought her back to her house. When she returned to the FAINE, OSWALD was at work.

While she was in the hospital, OSWALD visited her on Monday night, October 21, with Mrs. FAINE and the children, but only OSWALD was allowed to see her and the newborn baby.
She believes that he stayed about 7 or 8 oclock in the evening and stayed for about 11/2 hours. She said that after her visit OSWALD returned with Mrs. FAINE and the children to the FAINE residence where they stayed overnight.

Following her return from the hospital to the FAINE home, OSWALD visited her each weekend, with two exceptions, and would usually call her at least once a day. He usually came on Friday, as he worked with Mrs. FAINE at the School Book Depository and would return to work on Monday morning with this same neighbor. On the exceptions noted, one occurred when OSWALD called her from work on Monday, exact date not remembered, to inform her that he had an appointment in the morning, and she said she had another job she would do. On Saturday, and therefore would not be at the FAINE residence that night. Friday.
He said that he could not get the job at the Texas School Book Depository and went to work to find another job, but that he did not want Mrs. FAINE to know it as she had helped him get the job at the School Book Depository. He said he had been an ad in the newspaper and was going to answer that ad. MARIANA said that was due to her photographic executive. She said OSWALD had appeared at the FAINE residence on that Saturday, and said that he had applied for the job but had been unsuccessful.
He arrived at the FAINE residence on that day before lunch.

Concerning his job at the School Book Depository, OSWALD told MARIANA that his job was to fill out orders and pack them in boxes. He said he did not like his work and it was for that reason that he was looking for other work.

MARIANA asked OSWALD about the people at the School Book Depository and each time she would try to engage him in conversation about his fellow employees, he would turn her questions around on himself, that he was not sure how he had come to be there. She asked him about his boss and he said the boss was a nice man. She said she told OSWALD that she should make friends at the School Book Depository but she knew that he was not interested in making friends. OSWALD continued to tell her that they had coffe breaks at the Depository and that the atmosphere down there was very congenial. He did not tell MARIANA on which floor he worked.

The other weekend on which OSWALD did not visit the FAINE residence occurred on November 15-17, 1963. On this Friday, November 15, 1963, OSWALD called MARIANA and she told him not to come that weekend because one of the FAINE children was ill.
was having a birthday and Mr. FAINE would be over and it was not convenient for OSLAND to spend the weekend. He did not come to the FAINE house that weekend. MARINA advised her became lonesome that weekend and on Sunday, November 17, 1963, had Mrs. FAINE call the telephone number where OSLAND was staying as she wanted to talk to him. Mrs. FAINE called the number and asked the person who answered the telephone for LEE OSLAND, but could not locate OSLAND at that number. She advised the next day, Monday, November 18, 1963, OSLAND called her about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. She told her that she had tried to locate him the day before and had Mrs. FAINE call the number he had left. OSLAND then became angry and told MARINA that Mrs. FAINE should not have called for him under his right name, LEE OSLAND, because he was staying there under another name. MARINA asked him why he was staying there under another name and he replied that he did not want people asking questions. MARINA became mad at OSLAND because he was staying at this house under another name. OSLAND also was mad. He told MARINA to tear his telephone number out of Mrs. FAINE's book and MARINA refused to do this. She then hung up the telephone on OSLAND.

On Thursday, November 21, 1963, OSLAND appeared at the FAINE residence, at about 5:45 p.m., with the neighbor who worked at the School Book Depository and with whom he usually caught a ride. He asked her why he had come and he replied that he had gotten lonely. He wanted to make up with MARINA. She said that she was still mad at him because he was staying at his rooming house under a false name. Even though OSLAND wanted to make up, she did not make up, and as a consequence he did not talk to him much during that evening of November 21. She said that OSLAND had played with the children outside for a while and then had gone to bed about 8:30 in the evening. She said that she retired about midnight. She advised that she did not know if OSLAND went to the FAINE garage that night, but advised he could have easily done so because he was outside with the children a good deal. She said that generally OSLAND would go to the garage on the weekends because many of their things were stored there and she would ask him to get something for her from these things. She said she did not pay any particular attention to when he went or what he did if he went to the garage.

On the morning of November 22, 1963, the alarm rang at 6:40 a.m. and she and OSLAND got up and she woke OSLAND and told him he had better get up as he would be late for work. He got up and as he finished dressing, said he would take care of his own breakfast. He then went into the kitchen, but she does not believe he fixed anything because the coffee pot was not warm when she went in, later about 7:30, and she saw signs of breakfast preparations. She had just last night she saw OSLAND was when he left her bedroom to go to the kitchen.

On November 21, 1963, the evening evening, OSLAND told her that he would not be able to come to the FAINE residence on the coming weekend, November 22-24, 1963. She asked him why and he said it was not convenient to disturb people so often. She also remembers that on November 21, she came running from the kitchen house to the kitchen house to the kitchen house and asked him that he should not be a real live President. She was referring in the right of President KENNEDY, scheduled for the next day. OSLAND was extremely short in his answer, said something like "I don't know," and abruptly terminated the conversation. Mrs. OSLAND said she liked President KENNEDY and JACKIE KENNEDY, because both of them appeared, in their photographs, to be very sympathetic people. She said that she would give her OSLAND the captions under photographs of President OSLAND and JACKIE. She said she admired them both. She stated she had asked OSLAND on one occasion what kind of a President Mr. KENNEDY was and he had said President KENNEDY was a good President. She said OSLAND never gave any indication that he was intended any harm to the President.

She said she feels unfortunately that if OSLAND was trying to kill the President, but was not what would have been enough, and that she feels, therefore, that he might have been aiming at the other person [referred to as OSLAND]. She said OSLAND never mentioned any possible plans that he might have about assassinating the President. She said she cannot understand this thing.

She recalled on her last visit, quite a while ago, she made the remark to OSLAND that she couldn't imagine one person killing another. She asked him if he could kill another person and he replied "HITLER needed killing," and implied that by killing HITLER, others could be saved.

The rifle that was owned by OSWALD she had seen many times. She recalled specifically seeing it when they lived on Wesley Street, and she knew that OSWALD had the rifle in the garage at the FAINE residence. She advised she did not know that the rifle had a scope on it. She recalls that she had asked OSWALD why he had the rifle and he told her that it was for hunting purposes. She replied that she could not expect to go hunting if he did not have a car. He assured her that one day they would have a car.

MARINA, advised that the only sources of income that OSWALD had, to her knowledge, were his pay for his employment and previously his unemployment compensation. She said that he was paid each 2 weeks when he worked at the School Book Depository and she believes he received about $100 each pay day. She also said OSWALD got one $33 unemployment check after he began work at the School Book Depository.

She said that when she was at the police station in Dallas, following the assassination of the President, she talked to Mrs. FAINE and asked her to bring something to her at Mrs. Chief's request, where she spent the night. She told Mrs. FAINE that OSWALD had been carrying money in a wallet which was in one of the drawers of a chest in the FAINE house and asked Mrs. FAINE to bring that to her also. She said the wallet and the other things were brought to her at the police station and she extracted the money from the wallet, counted it, and found it to be $170. A life reporter who was standing nearby threw in $10 and that made $180. She said this is the money that OSWALD had saved, beginning in New Orleans.

Mrs. OSWALD advised she had been thinking about how OSWALD had come to the FAINE residence on the first occasion following his return to Dallas in early October, 1963. She said upon reflection she believed that OSWALD had called from the bus station, stating that he was already in Irving and asked Mrs. PATNE to pick him up. She said Mrs. FAINE was busy at the time and could not go. OSWALD later appeared at the house and said that he had hitchhiked a ride with a Negro on a truck.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at the home of JAMES HERBERT MARTIN, 11611 Farrar.

She took employment at Minek, at the Third Clinical Hospital on Lenin Street, in October, 1959, and her last day of work at this place was in December, 1961. She explained that she married OSWALD on April 30, 1961, and beginning in late December, 1961, went on maternity leave, which would normally end two months after the birth of the child. Her first child, JUNE, was born on February 15, 1962, (which was two weeks earlier than scheduled) which would mean that she would normally be entitled to maternity leave which would end approximately April 15, 1962. She, however, did not return to work after the birth of her child.

Her duties at the Third Clinical Hospital consisted of filling prescriptions. She explained that the work would vary. One week she would work on liquid prescriptions, the next week on powder prescriptions, and next on medicines for external use. She said a woman was in charge of her section. When asked for this woman’s name, MARINA refused to give it. She explained her pay was 45 rubles per month. She was paid every two weeks. She was allowed to use all of her money for her own purposes, as her uncle and aunt refused to take any money from her.

She met OSWALD in the middle of March, 1961, as she has previously explained, at a social function at the Palace of Culture for Professional Fathers. At this first meeting, OSWALD evidently took a fancy to her and asked if he could see her again. She stated that she was execiive at this point, and there OSWALD asked if she would be coming again to the Palace the following weekend. She replied that she perhaps would return the following weekend. However, no definite date was made. She explained that each Saturday and Sunday dances and other events were held at the Palace, and that one could buy tickets to attend these events.

She said a week later, on either Saturday or Sunday, she does not remember which, she and a girl friend, whose name she declined to give, went to the Palace to attend the dance. Upon entering the hall, she saw OSWALD waiting for her. She and OSWALD joined company and spent the evening dancing at the Palace and following that, she allowed OSWALD to take her home. He took her to the apartment house of her uncle, but did not enter the house, leaving her at the entrance. She pointed out that the girl who had accompanied her to the dance had had a boy friend in the orchestra. This girl friend and her boy friend kept company and were not with OSWALD and MARINA during the evening.

Upon questioning, MARINA said she felt that OSWALD would be at the Palace that evening, and that was the purpose in her returning. She said she did not tell her girl friend who accompanied her about OSWALD because she did not want to feel silly if OSWALD were not there.

She said that she had introduced OSWALD to the girl friend that accompanied her.

She advised she had made arrangements with OSWALD to meet the following Friday on a certain street corner in Minsk, although no definite arrangements were made concerning what they would do.

During that week, on about Tuesday or Wednesday, her aunt told her that a boy named ALIX (ALECK) had called her on the telephone and said that he could not keep the appointment for Friday; although he did not leave his last name, MARINA knew to whom her aunt referred. MARINA pointed out that ALIX in Russian is a nickname for ALEXEI, which the Russians called OSWALD in preference to LEE. The pronunciation of the name LEE is foreign to the Russian ear. The aunt advised that ALIX had said he was in the Fourth Clinical Hospital, at the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Department. This hospital was located on the outskirts of town. ALIX told the aunt that he could be visited Sundays. By way of explanation, MARINA said that she had not been at the apartment to receive the telephone call as she had dates with two different young men that week, and it had also been necessary to spend some time with other friends.

She visited OSWALD at the Fourth Clinical Hospital on Sunday at 3:00 PM. He was in the hospital for ear trouble, which later developed into glandular trouble. OSWALD was in the hospital for ten days. She visited him every day, although visiting hours were only on Sunday. She explained that because she wore a white uniform in her work, she was able to pass right through into his room and see him.

On her first visit to the hospital to see OSWALD, she asked him some questions about America. OSWALD said he preferred America to Russia because he could not take hard winters. OSWALD said he did not think he could live through another hard Russian winter. MARINA said that later when OSWALD left the hospital, they would take walks and OSWALD would get so cold that he would dodge into door entrances to warm up.

She asked him why he had come to Russia, and he replied that as Russia was considered the leader of the Socialist world, he wanted to see it. He did not say how long he was going to stay in Russia. She asked him on this first visit to the hospital if he could return to the United States, and he said no, he could not return. He said he had given up his American documents to the American Embassy, and told the American officials that he would never return to America. She asked him if he was an American or a Soviet citizen. It was in answer to that question that he told her he could not return to the United States. She said that later, after they were married, he said he had been offered Soviet citizenship prior to their marriage, but he had refused it.

She said she had found out that OSWALD was an American, at their first meeting at the Palace, through a third party.

She said that OSWALD never definitely told her that he had lost his United States citizenship. He gave no other reasons for coming to Russia other than that mentioned above. She believes that he was sorry that he had come to Russia.

MARINA advised that she was interested in the United States while she lived in Russia as she was interested in all foreign countries. She said that she knew that OSWALD could not return to the United States because he had said he could not return. At this point, she volunteered the statement that she had married OSWALD because she loved him, not because he was an American or for the purpose of going to the United States.
The discrepancy in her pay as a skilled professional of approximately 45 rubles a month, and his pay as a non-skilled worker of 80 to 90 rubles per month was discussed with MARINA. She said she could not explain this discrepancy. She volunteered the information that she knew licensed, medical doctors who earned not more than 65 rubles a month.

She was asked why OSWALD was employed in Minsk. Her reply was that he had been sent from Moscow to work in Minsk.

With regard to her earlier comment that ALIK called her aunt to say he could not keep the Friday appointment, she was asked if it was the usual thing to have a telephone in Minsk. She said that only high officials had telephones, as they were rather hard to get. She said that having an important position certainly helped. She said that bribery was also used to obtain telephones.

During the questioning concerning her first visit with OSWALD in the hospital, MARINA made the remark that OSWALD in Russia did not smoke or drink or discuss politics with her, or, to her knowledge, with other persons with whom he associated.

Concerning OSWALD's work in Minsk, MARINA said he had worked as a metal worker in a radio factory. He was an unskilled worker and earned between 80 and 90 rubles a month.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Farrar Street.

MARINA stated that when OSWALD visited the PAINE house on Thursday evening, November 21, 1963, he did not bring anything with him when he arrived at the house. She said he had departed from his work at the Texas School Book Depository and had been driven to the PAINE house by the young neighbor of the PAINE's who also worked at the Texas School Book Depository.

She advised further that she does not know of anything that OSWALD took with him from the PAINE house to work the next morning, November 22, 1963.

SA McELVANY exhibited to MARINA the replica of the sack found at the window from which the assassination shots were fired. She examined this sack and said she had never seen anything like it and that she had not seen such a sack or such paper in the possession of OSWALD on November 21, 1963, or at any time prior thereto. She was asked if such wrapping paper or paper tape which had been used to seal sections of the sack were used around the PAINE house. She said that she had not seen any paper like this around the PAINE house. She advised she had seen paper cuts like this around the house. She said that about the time of New Year's last year, OSWALD had purchased some wrapping tape at some store in Irving or Dallas. She said they had used such paper cuts for wrapping paper for any packages they mailed at that time.

MARINA reiterated that she had not seen OSWALD again after he left her bedroom on the morning of November 22, 1963, to enter the kitchen at the PAINE house.

MARINA was also shown the original paper sack found near the window from which the assassination shots were fired and she stated she had, to her knowledge, never seen this sack or one like it.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Fairway Street.

Prior to her marriage, MARINA did not discuss possible domicile with OSWALD, assuming they would move into his apartment. Following marriage, they did this.

Prior to marriage, OSWALD told her he would like her to know he would not be able to provide for her as well as he would like to provide and that he would never be a rich man. He wanted her to know this and know that she was marrying him on this basis. She said that inasmuch as OSWALD did not make much money, she continued working, although OSWALD did not approve of wives working if they did heavy work. MARINA described her work as being painstaking as she had to fill each prescription accurately but it was not heavy work.

They did not take a honeymoon after their marriage and spent the three days each of them had been given as vacation in Minsk. The weather was nice. They ate in cafes and generally enjoyed themselves.

She said she had not, in fact, ever cooked meals in Russia after their marriage, as both she and OSWALD ate out nearly every meal in nearby cafes or at work.

After her marriage, she moved into OSWALD's apartment which was located at Communist Street #4, Apartment 24, in Minsk. It was in the center of the town. The apartment house was occupied by workers of the plant where OSWALD was employed. OSWALD had obtained the apartment sometime prior to their marriage. He lived there at the time they met.

In this connection, she related a coincidence, the first part which had occurred two years prior to their marriage when she had visited Minsk on a vacation. She said she was walking along the river and noticed an attractive apartment house with little balconies overlooking the river. It was discovered that this same apartment house was the one in which she lived after their marriage and she had one of the little balconies which she had admired at that time.

The apartment was on the fourth floor of the five story building. There was no elevator. The rent was 7.50 rubles per month, which included electricity, gas and water. There was no telephone. By way of comparison, she said her uncle's apartment, which was much more spacious, had rested for 30 rubles per month, which was a considerable amount to pay. The OSWALD apartment consisted of (1) a combination living, dining and bedroom, (2) a kitchen, (3) a bath and (4) a foyer. The kitchen contained a table with a space for utensils underneath, a gas stove, a sink and two chairs. They usually ate in the kitchen if they ate at home. The bathroom had a sink, a toilet and a bath tub. The big room had a sofa which opened to make a bed, a cocktail table on which they kept the record player, a combination book shelf - closet, which they used to store linens and a table and chair. The apartment was very suitable for one person, perhaps a little crowded for two, and was unsuitable when the baby came. They had a balcony which was partitioned from other apartments, entered from the living room, and was of ample size and overlooked the river. When they entertained, they did so on the balcony when possible.

The apartment house was occupied mostly by younger people up to the age of about 40. It was five stories high and was about ½ block by ½ block in size.

MARINA advised OSWALD's salary was adequate in comparison with people his age and in his line of work. She said that as an unskilled laborer working in the radio factory, he was paid by piecework and as a consequence, made more than persons paid by salary or certain professional people. She said the government had promised that such inequities were being studied and would be corrected. MARINA said OSWALD was a little bit lazy and did not have his heart in his work. She said he had been offered a transfer to another department in the factory where he could make more money but by the time he received this offer, he was thinking of returning to the United States, and there was no stimulus to him to make the change.

MARINA said that in contrast to this, OSWALD had been anxious for work in the United States and anxious for overtime.

She advised OSWALD had not been paid more because he was an American. She stated that the fact he was an American played no part in the amount of compensation he received. He was paid by what he produced.

The said OSWALD was the only American she knew to reside in Hinsk. She understood another American had resided in Leningrad. She recalled that while she was in the American Embassy in Moscow, she was told that this American had been repatriated. She said she had not heard of OSWALD before she met him and had not heard that an American was living in Hinsk.

Concerning their social friends, MARINA stated that she had girl friends visit them in their apartment and OSWALD objected to her male friends visiting there. She said there was one couple who visited on occasion, a girl friend of hers and her husband. Their guests were generally after working hours or on Saturday or Sunday. Many times on Saturday or Sunday, they would gather at their apartment or one of their friend’s apartment and prepare a co-operative meal. They had no friends in their apartment house. OSWALD had two friends who, on occasion, visited at the apartment. One was a medical student who was interested in learning the English language and found their association to be beneficial. A second worked in the same plant as OSWALD and attended a technical school. She declined to give the names of these two friends of OSWALD’s. She said OSWALD was hospitable but was not a good conversationalist.

For entertainment, there was the opera, concerts, the circus and the films. They had no automobile and were transported by bus or taxi or walked to their destination.

MARINA stated that she was a member of the Medical Workers Union (MlU). She was considered a member of the Komsomol for one year when she worked in the Drug Section of the Third Clinical Hospital but was thrown out when she failed to pick up her membership card. She attended no meetings of the Komsomol and had no interest in it. She belonged to no other organization.

OSWALD may have been a member of the union at his plant. She is not sure. He belonged to no other organizations. Her uncle is a member of the Communist Party. His wife is not. Neither her stepfather nor her mother were members of the Communist Party.

OSWALD did not go out of the apartment by himself. Occasionally, a friend would visit him and MARINA would urge that they go to a concert or a film without her. This was while she was pregnant.

OSWALD’s health, while not robust, was not bad. He frequently had the sniffles. She said that on one occasion, he had a heavy cold with temperature and she was afraid it might develop into pneumonia. It did not.

She said OSWALD did not have a particularly lively personality and was on the pessimistic side rather than the optimistic. She said he was short tempered and difficult to get along with. He knew that he had a difficulty in getting along with people and he did not care. He preferred to be by himself or with MARINA. He did not care for his mother and had no non-like feelings for her. This surprised MARINA. She told him he should respect her as a mother.

She advised she loved OSWALD as a husband but did not share his political views or even understand them. Digressing, she said that she recalled that OSWALD had brought home with him in New Orleans some throw-aways about Cuba. He told MARINA he wanted to help Cuba. MARINA said Cuba did not need his help. A copy of the pamphlet labeled “Hands Off Cuba” bearing the rubber stamped name and address, “HIDELL, P. O. Box 30016, New Orleans, La.”, was exhibited to her. She said this was one of the throw-aways he had brought home to New Orleans. She said she did not know anybody by the name, HIDELL. She advised she thought this was a fictitious name made up by OSWALD. She ventured the thought that the name, HIDELL, was phonetic with FIDEL (meaning FIDEL CASTRO). She said OSWALD was a great admirer of FIDEL CASTRO.

After their marriage, OSWALD’s proficiency in the Russian language improved. He, however, never lost his accent, nor did he always speak grammatically; she classified his Russian as good. She added he knew how to curse in Russian. His written Russian was poor.

MARINA said she never knew OSWALD to speak of or attempt suicide. She does not think that he was capable of suicide and she did not believe he had ever attempted suicide.

MARINA said she recalls seeing a scar on the inner left wrist of OSWALD after they were married. This scar was completely healed. She asked him about this and he evaded answering her.

About three months after their marriage, he spoke of his desire to return to the United States. MARINA agreed to this; thereafter, he advised the American Embassy at Moscow of his marriage and expressed his desire to return to the United States and requested permission for approval for MARINA to accompany him. She, meanwhile, wrote a government department in Hinsk, requesting Russian documentation to depart for the United States. Her request was forwarded to the Foreign Office in Moscow. She received papers from Minsk and also from Moscow to complete. She completed the papers and forwarded them as directed. She then wrote to the American Embassy, requesting permission to depart for the United States with her husband. She believed that they had written the U.S. Embassy in July, 1961, but she is not sure of the date.

* Sometime after writing the American Embassy in Moscow, she and OSWALD were requested to appear for interview in Moscow. She believes it was in late summer, 1961, she and OSWALD flew to Moscow. OSWALD was interviewed by an American official at the Embassy while she waited outside. Later, she was interviewed by an American official. She advised the American official that she desired to depart for the United States with her husband.

MARINA advised she had never been contacted by any Russian Intelligence employee in Russia prior to or subsequent to her marriage in Russia, nor has she been so contacted in the United States. She advised that she has not been contacted by any other Russian officials in Russia or the United States. She said she made application with the appropriate Russian officials to obtain documentation to leave the country. She advised that she has nothing against Russia or against the United States. She said she would not carry out an espionage or intelligence assignment for either country if she were asked because she wants to lead a simple, plain life. She said she had seen a Russian official at the time of her departure from Russia and he had given her her passport. She had signed it and a Russian official wished her a pleasant trip and that was all.

She advised that she had not discussed with anyone the possible presence of an American in Minsk prior to the time she met OSWALD. She advised that after meeting OSWALD and discovering that he was an American, she was surprised. She asked him which of his parents was Russian. She did not believe he would be allowed to enter Russia otherwise. She said that she knew of no contacts of OSWALD by Russian Intelligence agencies or other Russian governmental officials and that his contacts had been known to her. She said none of OSWALD's activities in Russia or the United States would indicate that he was in contact with Russian officials, particularly, those of intelligence agencies, and she did not believe he had been given any assignments to perform, either in Russia or the United States.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at Heil Farrar Street.

MARINA advised she and OSWALD had left Minsk in July of 1961 and gone to Moscow and visited the American Embassy where OSWALD spoke to officials at the American Embassy concerning his desire to return to the U.S. She advised that she also had been interviewed by some American official at the American Embassy concerning her application for visa to go to the U.S. with her husband.

She advised she had applied in May of 1961 to the Russian officials at Minsk and Moscow for official papers which would allow her to leave Russia and depart for the U.S. They received permission from the U.S. officials first, and then they waited in Minsk for the Russian papers to arrive. The Russian paper for MARINA to depart for the U.S. arrived about New Year’s of 1962. OSWALD had been granted permission by the Russian officials earlier and had been advised by the American Embassy that he could depart for the U.S. She said the American authorities had suggested to OSWALD he could depart without MARINA, but he had refused to do so as he desired to take his wife with him when he departed. MARINA received her exit permit from the Russian government about the middle of May. They shortly thereafter left Minsk with the baby and arrived in Moscow about May 20, 1962. They spent about ten days in Moscow. While there, they stayed in the hotel and tended to the baby while OSWALD tended to the formalities which were necessary to facilitate their departure to the U.S. While in Moscow, they stayed first at the Hotel Ostankino which was quite remote from the center of Moscow. They later stayed at the Hotel Berlin which was closer to the center of town. While in Moscow, they exchanged sufficient rubles to obtain one hundred and eighty U.S. dollars. OSWALD used this money to buy rail tickets from Moscow to Amsterdam. They departed from Moscow by train about May 30, 1962 and traveled through Poland, Germany and Holland. In Holland, they boarded the ship for the U.S. They arrived in New York on June 13, 1962.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11011 Fair Park Avenue.

The English translation of a letter originally written in Russian was read to her. The letter was re-translated into the Russian language as it was read by IA SOUHILAV. This English translation had been translated to the FBI Office at Dallas by the U.S. Secret Service.

Upon the reading of the letter, MARINA stated immediately it was a letter written in the original by LEE OSWALD in the Russian language. She stated she had found the original letter in a room at the former OSWALD address on Neeley Street in Dallas. She related the incident concerning this letter as follows:

One night during the spring while she and OSWALD were in residence at the Neeley Street address, she became worried about OSWALD because he had not returned to their home very late in the evening. She said OSWALD had informed her that he was going to a typewriting class at the Dallas Evening School that evening. When he had not returned by 12:00 o'clock, she went into a room in which he kept his personal things and in this room she noticed a letter handwritten in the Russian language. This is the letter which is referred to above. She stated the letter gave her certain instructions concerning a Post Office box and other family matters and appeared to be a farewell letter.

She advised that about midnight that night, OSWALD came running into the house in a very agitated and excited state and his face was very pale. As soon as he entered the house, he turned on the radio. Later, he laid down on the bed and MARINA again noticed how very pale he was. She asked him what was wrong and he confessed to her that he had tried to kill General WALKER by shooting at him with a rifle but didn't know whether he had hit him or not. She wanted to find out on the radio whether or not he had hit him. MARINA said she became angry with OSWALD for shooting at General WALKER and she replied to her that General WALKER was the leader of the fascist organization here and it was best to remove him. MARINA said she was quite relieved when she found out that OSWALD had missed General WALKER with the rifle bullet. She said she and OSWALD were listening to the radio reports about the incident at General WALKER and OSWALD was translating the reports for her.

She stated OSWALD did not have the rifle with him when he returned to the house. She also advised that OSWALD to her knowledge did not take the rifle with him when he left the house that evening. She stated she thought OSWALD had used the same rifle he had at the house on Neeley Street and at the FAIR PARK house.

She said that the following evening she talked to OSWALD about the attempted assassination of General WALKER again. OSWALD told her that he had hidden the rifle which he used to shoot at General WALKER in some bushes or in the ground, she did not remember which.

MARINA advised that she told OSWALD she was going to keep the letter written in Russian by OSWALD, which was evidently a farewell letter, in order that she could use it against him if he ever had another "crazy" scheme. She said that if OSWALD started to do anything like this, that she would go to the police with the letter. She also made OSWALD promise that he would never do anything like this again.

She advised that for a period of about a month before this attempt on WALKER's life, OSWALD had been very agitated and had closed himself in his room for long periods of time while he wrote and read. She said that it was evident that he had been thinking about the assassination attempt for some period of time. She said OSWALD did not mention General WALKER in her presence before the night of the attempted assassination. She said they did not speak of the incident again after the second night following the assassination attempt.

She said that she had insisted that they move from Dallas to another city because she felt that if they moved OSWALD would be less likely to repeat such a deed.

MARINA asked OSWALD how he had arrived at the WALKER house on the night of the attempted assassination.
He said he had gone there on foot. He said that after he fired the rifle, he ran away and that he could run very fast. He said the police thought he would be assassin had an automobile. He came home on the bus.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Farrar Street.

She stated OSWALD at the time he confessed to the attempted assassination of General WALKER was employed at a printing type company in Dallas. She does not remember the name of the company. OSWALD was also attending a typewriting class at the Dallas evening school for either two or three nights a week. On the nights that he went to typewriting class, MARINA recalls she had supper about 6:00 following which OSWALD would leave the house about 7:00 in the evening and go to class. He would generally return to the house about 9:00. During this period they were living at the Mesley Street address.

On the evening that OSWALD attempted to assassinate General WALKER, OSWALD came home at the usual time as best as she can remember, and on that evening he said that he was going to his typewriting class. OSWALD left at the usual time as best as she can remember. OSWALD when he came home from work that evening did not bring anything home with him. When he left supposedly for his typewriting class, he did not have a rifle or anything else with him.

She recalls he was wearing when he left the house that evening a white shirt and black or gray business type suit. She is not sure whether or not he wore a tie.

She stated OSWALD had not mentioned anything to her about General WALKER before his confession that he had tried to kill General WALKER. She said that she did not even know of General WALKER's existence before this confession.

MARINA was asked if she could now state when the photograph she had taken of OSWALD showing him in a pose with a rifle in his hand, a newspaper in his hand and a pistol at his... belt was taken in relation to the time of the attempt on General Walker's life. She said that she can recall that she took the picture about the same general time as the attempt on General Walker's life, that is within a few weeks. She cannot recall whether or not the photograph was taken before the attempt on General Walker's life or after.

She recalled that she asked Oswald the evening following the attempt on General Walker's life if General Walker had a family. She was very pleased to find out that he had neither a wife nor children.

MARINA said she believes the rifle used by Oswald in his attempt to kill General Walker is the same rifle she had seen at the Nesley house and the rifle he had wrapped in the blanket at the garage at the Paine house. She cannot recall ever hearing Oswald state that he was going to fire the rifle in practice or that he had fired it in practice. She said that the only time she knew that he fired the rifle was the time he confessed that he had tried to kill General Walker by shooting at him with a rifle. She said the only time that she believes he could have practiced firing the rifle would have been when he was supposed to have been attending evening typewriting class.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 1111 Farrow Street.

MARINA said she can recall only one occasion when she and Oswald spent the night away from their residence in New Orleans. This was an occasion when Mr. Charles Murry, the uncle of Oswald, came to their house on Magazine Street one Saturday and took them to Mobile, Alabama. They stayed at a motel in Mobile on Saturday night and returned to New Orleans with Mr. Murry in his car on the next day, Sunday. The reason they went to Mobile was in order that Oswald could speak before the students of the seminary in Mobile which "GERM" (believed to be the cousin of Oswald) attended. She cannot recall that they spent any other nights away from their residence while they lived in New Orleans.

She said the Murrys took them out on several occasions. She can recall going crabbing with the Murrys. She said that on one crabbing trip particularly there were a lot of mosquitoes and had bothered them while they were crabbing.

Concerning long distance telephone calls, MARINA advised she can recall only one that she received while she lived at the Paine residence. This call was from a man in Ft. Worth. This man called MARINA at the Paine residence and said he had been told by a friend of Mr. Paine's, named Frank, that a real Russian lived with Mrs. Paine. This man said he had spent about 20 months in Russia during the war and had learned to speak some Russian and would like to become acquainted with MARINA. He asked if he could come over to see her. This man identified himself as some kind of a colonel. MARINA agreed for him to come and a date was set for a week later. MARINA is able to fix the date of this call because she recalls that the date the man was supposed to come to the Paine house was on the Tuesday before the President's assassination. The man had called the previous Tuesday to make the appointment.

She does not recall any other long distance calls received by her at the PAINE house.

Mr. JAMES HERBERT MARTIN, who resides at 11611 Farrar Street, and in whose house MARINA OSWALD is residing, advises MARINA OSWALD had retained the services of an attorney on his recommendation. This attorney is JOHN W. THORNE of the firm of Thorne & Leech, Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law, 302 W. College Street, Grand Prairie, Texas, telephone numbers AN 2-2608 - office, and AN 4-1896 - residence.

Mr. MARTIN advised that MARINA OSWALD continued to receive a number of letters containing checks and money orders for cash and that he had been handling this money for MARINA. He said that to date $5,928.15 has been received and these amounts have been deposited in a savings and a checking account in the First National Bank of Dallas. In addition, $1,000 has been collected by a Rev. Allen of the First Methodist Church in Houston for MARINA and $500 has been collected for MARINA by a group in Ft. Worth.

He stated he has a tentative appointment with a reporter representing the Huntley-Brinkley Report for December 5, 1963, concerning the appearance of MARINA in an interview on this program. He said that if arrangements can be worked out an interview with MARINA will probably be filmed at the Inn of the Six Flags, Ft. Worth-Dallas, where Mr. MARTIN is Resident Manager, sometime around December 6 or 7, 1963.

Mr. MARTIN made the statement that he had heard that Mrs. PAINE had received $5,000 for giving an article to Look magazine and that he felt MARINA should also get whatever money she could on behalf of her children. He said that he believes that MARINA should give only a copyrighted interview and for that reason he felt the services of an attorney were needed.

MARTIN said that he considers himself as the agent of MARINA.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Farrar Street.

MARINA stated OSWALD had never spoken much of his trip to Moscow when he first arrived in Russia. She said she recalls that when she and OSWALD and JUNE went to Moscow before departing for the United States they stayed at the Hotel Berlin. OSWALD remarked that he had stayed in the same hotel when he first came to Moscow. MARINA believes the Hotel Berlin is now called by another name.

She does not know how long OSWALD stayed in Moscow when he first arrived in Russia. She said she, of course, cannot say why he was sent to Minsk to work. She pointed out that Minsk had the television-radio factory where OSWALD was assigned to work. She also said that Minsk has a considerable foreign population, particularly immigrants from Argentina.

MARINA furnished further information concerning the hospital stay of OSWALD in Minsk, details of which she has previously given. She recalled that OSWALD stayed in a room with two other persons. He was receiving specialized attention from an ear, eye and nose specialist, but to her knowledge received no preferred attention because he was an American.

MARINA said she and OSWALD had discussed the Cuban situation while in Russia and both had agreed that FIDEL CASTRO was a good man because he was trying to do something for the common people. She said OSWALD and she had no argument about Cuba because they were both in favor of the Cuban Government under CASTRO. MARINA pointed out that she is not interested in politics. She said she likes CASTRO and KENNEDY and that she liked KENNEDY. She likes any kind of a government as long as the common people are benefited.

MARINA advised she had told OSWALD once she would like to go to Cuba. OSWALD told her this was impossible as travel to Cuba was forbidden. Later when they were living in the United States she recalls OSWALD stating that he would like to go to live in Cuba. MARINA at this point made the parenthetical remark that she knew that OSWALD would not like Cuba and in fact the only place he would like would be the moon where there are no people.

OSWALD never stated that he was making plans to go to Cuba. He did not mention that he had made application for a visa to go to Cuba. He did not state in September when MARINA left New Orleans that he intended to go to Mexico or to go to Cuba.

She recalls that shortly after OSWALD was arrested in New Orleans for passing out throwaway deals with the Cuban government that a man came to their house and asked for OSWALD. OSWALD spoke to him but she does not know what they talked about. MARINA asked OSWALD who this man was. OSWALD said the man had identified himself as a sympathizer of the Cuban government and wanted to know about the organization that OSWALD was trying to form in New Orleans. He wanted to know how to join this organization. OSWALD told MARINA he did not believe that this man had a sincere interest in his organization. He thought the man was an FBI agent or a man from some anti-Castro organization.

MARINA said this person looked like an American and not like a Cuban.

MARINA said she does not know of any Cuban friends or other connections with Cuban organizations that OSWALD had either in New Orleans, Dallas, or Ft. Worth. She said she really doesn't know anything about the organization that OSWALD was trying to form in New Orleans. She said that she knew that it was a pro-Fidel Castro organization but believed that he was the only one in the organization.
She said that the "Hands Off Cuba" throwaways had been sent to OSWALD through the mail and he had received them at the mailbox in New Orleans. She believes they came from New York.

She was asked if she had any suspicion whatsoever whether OSWALD was in contact with any person from Cuba or was acting on the behalf of the Cuban Government. She said she did not think so. She said his only contact with affairs of this sort was his attempt to form the pro-Castro organization in New Orleans.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at her place of residence, 11611 Farrar.

She was questioned in an effort to obtain a more accurate date for her previous statements concerning the weekend on which OSWALD did not visit her at the FAINE house until a Saturday instead of his usual Friday. She advised that she believes that this Friday on which OSWALD did not appear at the FAINE house was on November 8, 1963. She places the date of this Friday as a week before the weekend on which OSWALD was asked not to come to the FAINE house, as the FAINE children were having a birthday party, which was the weekend of November 15-17, 1963. She said that she could not recall any specific detail that would place the above-mentioned Friday on November 8, 1963, but seems to remember that it occurred the weekend before the FAINE children's birthday party.

MARINA was asked if she or OSWALD knew JACK LEON RUBY, and she said that neither she nor OSWALD knew RUBY or had ever seen him to her knowledge. She was exhibited a photograph of RUBY which was taken by the Dallas Police Department on December 5, 1954, Number 36398. She said she could not identify this person as anyone that she or OSWALD knew.

MARINA stated OSWALD did not believe in God, and as a matter of fact spoke in a very sarcastic vein of his cousin, EUGENE MURRAY, from New Orleans, Louisiana, who is attending a seminary at Mobile, Alabama.

MARINA was exhibited a photograph of JOB R. FRANKLIN, photograph being taken September 26, 1960, by the Sheriff's Office, Dallas, Texas, Number 106892. She said this photograph is not of any person known to her or of any person who was known to her former husband. She did not recall this name. She specifically stated that she does not recall FRANKLIN accompanying her husband to visit her on October 19, 1962.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at the home of JAMES HERBERT MARTIN, 11611 Farrar Street.

She was exhibited the handwritten letter, written in the Russian language, which was furnished to the FBI Office at Dallas by the United States Secret Service at Dallas on December 3, 1963. This letter has been forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination.

Upon viewing the letter, MARINA stated that the letter was in the handwriting of OSWALD and she knew that it had been written by him. She stated that she had found this letter in the room in which OSWALD kept his belongings in the house on Neely Street in Dallas. She said she found the letter in this room on the night that OSWALD confessed to her that he had tried to assassinate General WALKER by firing a shot at him with a rifle.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Farrar Street.

MARINA advised that on the evening of November 21, 1963 which was the evening that OSWALD had spent at the FAINE house with her, he did not seem to be particularly excited or agitated like he was for the long period of time before he had attempted to assassinate General WALKER.

She said OSWALD had calmed down considerably after the attempt at WALKER's life and she thought that he would not be involved in any political activity again until he became involved in passing out throw-aways in New Orleans on the Cuban situation. She said, however, that she was glad that he was merely passing out pamphlets because this was like play compared to trying to assassinate General WALKER.

She stated that on November 22, 1963, which was the day of the President KENNEDY motorcade in Dallas, she and Mrs. FAINE were looking at the motorcade on television at the FAINE residence. She said while they were looking at the motorcade, it was announced on television that the President had been shot. She said that Mrs. FAINE was translating the announcements for her. She asked Mrs. FAINE who had shot the President. Mrs. FAINE said that she did not know, that it had not been announced. When Mrs. FAINE said that an announcement had been made on television that the shots at the President had supposedly come from the Texas School Book Depository building, the thought immediately entered her mind: "Did my crazy one do it?" referring to OSWALD. When this thought entered her mind she immediately went into the garage at the FAINE house, as she remembered that that was where OSWALD kept his rifle wrapped up in the blanket. She went to where the rifle was kept and saw that the blanket was in its usual place and it appeared that the rifle was in it as the blanket had the same shape as before. Then she thought to herself, "that maybe there was another 'crazy one' in Dallas. She went to the FAINE house to take her, MARINA, to the police station, she was... almost in a state of collapse and hoped that OSWALD was merely a suspect in the matter.

She said it was amazing how one man could leave so many unhappy people and that it had all been caused through foolishness. MARINA mentioned the President's widow and the Dallas policeman's widow.

She said that there had been many quarrels and scenes between her and OSWALD which developed because she would scream at him to try to convince him to try to amount to something. She said that she had tried for a long time to convince OSWALD that he was not a stupid man and that if he turned his attention to other things, he could amount to something.

She admitted that OSWALD had on several occasions struck her during these arguments.

She said that she had thought of going back to Russia but was afraid that if she went back to Russia, that somehow OSWALD would get her child. She said OSWALD loved the child. MARINA told OSWALD that if there was to be a divorce, that she would take the child. OSWALD told her that he would not let her take the child. MARINA said it was amazing the contrast shown here between his love for his child and his foolishness in other ways. She said that he had the potential to be a good man, but probably because of poor environment and inattention on the part of his mother, he had turned out bad.

Concerning the rifle, MARINA said that she thought that the rifle used by OSWALD in the attempt to assassinate General WALKER was the same that he had on needle Street and in the garage at the PAINE residence, when it was wrapped up in the blanket which she has previously described.

MARINA was asked if she could recall quarreling with OSWALD on occasion at the Neely Street residence in the presence of another male individual. She said she could recall no such incident. She said, in fact, she could not recall any male visitors that they had when they lived on Neely Street.

She said the only man who came to see them when they lived on Neely Street was GEORGE DEGRAFRAND who came with his wife on JUNE's birthday and brought her a big toy. She said also that the owner of the house on Neely Street and the owner's wife visited them once to see how they were getting along.

MARINA advised she recalls OSWALD had a street map on which he marked previous places of residence, where certain acquaintances resided, and their present residence. She stated he had this map when they lived on Neely Street and also when they lived on Elzebeth Street. She said the map had been torn by JUNE when she played with it. She said the map had subsequently been pasted together. MARINA advised that she could not recall whether OSWALD had taken this map with him to New Orleans and had brought it back to Dallas. She said she could not recall seeing it when she lived with Mrs. PAINE.

MARINA advised that she could not recall OSWALD making application for employment at the Trans-Texas Company.

MARINA stated OSWALD did not talk much about his past military service. She said that on occasion he would talk about his service in Japan and would mention the Japanese girls. He never told her that he was a good shot with a rifle. She said that when they came to the U. S. from Russia, OSWALD's mother showed her OSWALD's medals which he had earned as a Marine and there was one for good marksman-ship.

MARINA said OSWALD was right-handed and his brother, ROBERT, was left-handed. MARINA said she had never seen OSWALD practice with his rifle or any other firearm and he had never told her that he was going to practice with his rifle or any other firearm. She said that she had never seen any ammunition around the houses in which they had lived.

She said OSWALD had attended the Dallas Evening School in the spring of 1963. He had taken typewriting classes at the school. She said he did not complete his course.
Found among the effects of Lee Harvey Oswald at Dallas, Texas, was a Russian hunting identification booklet. The data found in this booklet reflected that Oswald was a member of the Byelorussian Society of Hunters and Fishermen, Collective No. 3, and had registered a weapon, caliber 16 N 64621, manufactured by IZHKS9. The data indicated the weapon had a single barrel.

Inspector Kelley advised that the two Russian language books and the letter in the Russian language were turned over to Captain Paul Barger of the Irving, Texas, Police Department by Mrs. Ruth Paine on November 23, 1963, as part of the personal effects of Mrs. Marina Oswald. These two books in the Russian language and letter were turned over to the United States Secret Service for delivery to Marina Oswald on December 2, 1963.

Commission Exhibit No. 1403
RUTH PAINE, 2515 West Fifth Street, furnished the following information:

On November 30, 1963, at about 4:30 PM, she went to the Irving, Texas, Police Department with two books and left them with an officer she believes is a captain for delivery to MARINA OSWALD. She stated that one of these was a white cover book and is a book in the Russian language giving advice concerning the raising of children. The other is a larger blue-bound book which contains in the Russian language advice on several matters, including cooking and sewing.

She stated that she recalled that MARINA OSWALD often referred to these books and therefore thought that she might want them, and this motivated her taking these books to the station. The books were not in the same place in her home, and she believes that the white book was on top of the secretary in the southeast corner of the kitchen. She believes that the blue book was on the top of the chest of drawers in the southeast bedroom, which previously was occupied by MARINA OSWALD.

She thought that MARINA might have use for these books since MARINA does not read English.

On December 2, 1963, about 7:30 PM, two Secret Service Agents came to see Mrs. PAINE and asked her about a message written in Russian that she allegedly had sent to MARINA OSWALD. She told them that she did not send any message, and they then showed her a piece of paper on which Russian words were written. She stated to them that she had never seen the paper before and knew nothing about it. The agents then mentioned that it was found in a book, and Mrs. PAINE then stated that she had sent MARINA OSWALD two books, but she did not know that there was any paper such as the one exhibited to her in either of the books.

Mrs. PAINE advised that she is sure she had never seen this piece of paper before, and that while the Secret Service Agent held it up she read the first line or two but did not get to complete it. She recalls reading something to the effect that "there is the key to the post office". She was not able to read any further since the Secret Service Agent took the paper down from where he was holding it in her line of vision.

Mrs. PAINE made available the following items which were still in her home that belonged to MARINA OSWALD:

1. A cook book in Russian located inside the secretary in the southwest corner of the kitchen.

Found in this book between pages 138 and 139 was a slip of paper which has two numbers, W.A. 6-3741 and P.B. 7-5402.

A prescription on a form of Baylor University, College of Dentistry, Dallas, Texas, dated October 10, 1963, signed A. F. Staples, DDS, was found between pages 100 and 101. This prescription reflects the patient as MARINA OSWALD, 6628 Drucker, Chart No. 3146, narcotic registration number 6047, and reads: "Empirin compound number 3, Disp. tabs No. VI label: take tablet ---- 3-4 hours p.r.n. for pain.

2. An envelope addressed to New Orleans Public Library, New Orleans, Louisiana, inside of which was a printed card reading:

"New Orleans Public Library

The Directors wish to acknowledge with appreciation your gift to the New Orleans Public Library."
"All gifts are accepted with the understanding that they will be utilized to the best interest of the Library in the judgment of the staff.

"We hope you will remind others that we are always interested in acquiring materials which will be of value in extending the Library’s program."

Also inside this envelope was a letter reading as follows:

"New Orleans
Public Library

"Dear Sirs:

"Through a clerical error of yours, you claim some books which I borrowed and returned several weeks ago are still out.

"The books may have been returned without a card, since my young daughter sometimes got a hold of the books and played with them, but the point is the books have been positively and absolutely returned! I repeat returned!

"I'm sure you shall resolve this question by uncovering your mistake in handling the returned books.

"Yours Truly"

The above letter was not signed, and the envelope had no stamp on it. Apparently it was never mailed. It was found by RUTH FAINE in the second drawer of a chest of drawers which sits on the west wall of the southeast bedroom.

A folded card entitled "Rules for Betting" published by Hipodromo De Las Americas, S. A., Mexico, D. F. This was found in the same drawer by RUTH FAINE as above.

A paper edition of the University of Chicago Spanish-English, English-Spanish Dictionary, Book No. 6188, Pocket Books Inc. An examination of this book shows the following:

a. On the fly leaf appear the figures 5.80, apparently reflecting the price in Mexican pesos.

b. At the top of page 5 appear jottings in pencil showing addition of 450 and 450, the total of 10. Also close to this is a penciled notation, which is what appears to be an arrow or triangle followed by two zeros.

c. At the top of page 9 is penciled writing of the number 3, followed by what appears to be 5 5/40.

d. On page 91, a small triangle appears opposite the word "estadio" (stadium).

e. On page 174, a small triangle appears just above the word "pupila" (pupil, of the eye).

f. On page 175, at the top of the page appears "Que", which has been scratched through.
g. On page 210 appears to be a mark similar to a star by the word "topes" (one meaning is to gamble).

On the same page appears a small mark following "tonteria" (foolishness, stupidity).

h. In the back of the book on a blank sheet is written what appears to be a list reading as follows:

"phone embassy get bus tickets eat (watch Jai-lai game
"buy silver bracelet
" record"

Below this appears an illegible notation, one word of which appears to be "eopsa" (soup).

Also found in this book were six picture post cards, on which nothing had been written and on which no stamps had been placed. These are as follows:

Latin Tower, Mexico, D. F.
Bull Fight in Mexico (four scenes) Revolution Monument, Mexico, D. F.
Panoramic view of Mexico, D. F.
Bull Fight in Mexico (one scene) Monument of the Revolution (aerial view)

...
(6) Also found was a small silver bracelet with an expandable band and the name MARINA written in a crude fashion on the top name plate part of the bracelet.

(7) Also found were two envelopes, one plain and the other being an air mail envelope, which possibly have indented writing on them.

All of the above items were found in the second drawer from the top of the chest of drawers in the bedroom in the southeast corner of Mrs. RUTH PAINE's house, and she stated that all of these items belonged to Mr. and Mrs. LIE GEORGE OSWALD.
Detective JOHN LOOPER, Irving Police Department, advised that on December 2, 1963, Assistant Chief of Police LEON POWER, Irving Police Department, turned over to him two Russian language books, two letters addressed to MARINA OSWALD, and two bags of toys. On December 2, 1963, at approximately 2:00 PM, he turned these items over to a Special Agent of the U. S. Secret Service at their office in Dallas, Texas.

On December 9, 1963, SA ARTHUR E. CARTER examined the patient records of the Baylor University College of Dentistry and determined that Mrs. MARINA OSWALD, address 6628 Dickens and 6628 Dickens, telephone EM 3-1365, was treated at the hospital on three dates, October 8, 10, and 15, 1962.

A search of the telephone directories and Cross-Criss Directories of the Dallas Division by SA ARTHUR E. CARTER determined that 6628 Dickens and telephone number EM 3-1365 are listed to "G. DE MOHRENSCHELDT."
Dr. HARVEY WALDO ALLEN, DDS, graduate student of oral surgery, Baylor University College of Dentistry, 800 Hall Street, advised he recalled treating MARINA OSWALD, who first came to his attention on October 8, 1962, when she appeared with a lady whom he could not identify except that she acted as an interpreter for Mrs. OSWALD. Examination disclosed that Mrs. OSWALD's teeth were in very poor condition. He recalled he examined her together with Dr. A. F. STAPLES, Head of the Department of Oral Surgery, and they recommended on the first visit that she have her teeth cleaned and a full mouth x-ray survey.

He said she re-appeared on October 10, 1962, and three extractions were performed. He said he believed Dr. STAPLES gave her a prescription for a mild sedative to prevent her from having any pain after the extraction. He said the patient returned on October 15, 1962, and two more extractions were performed. He said he seemed to recall that the lady who accompanied her acted as an interpreter because Mrs. OSWALD did not speak English. He said there was no significant personal history in her historical background statement which was taken at the time of her first admission for treatment and observation. He said he seemed to recall that the lady, or man and lady, who accompanied the patient paid the bills, but a search of the hospital records could not determine whether they were paid by cash or check.

The hospital records failed to reflect any information on LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

He said he was not acquainted with LEE HARVEY OSWALD and did not know JACK RUBY.
Dr. ALBERT FRANKLIN STAPLES, DDS and DMD, Associate Professor of Oral Surgery, Baylor University College of Dentistry, 800 Hall Street, Dallas, advised he had reviewed the medical history and patient record of MARINA OSWALD, 6628 Dickins, telephone EH 3-1365, and there was little personal background concerning this patient in her medical history statement. He said he recalled her teeth were in very poor condition. She had many cavities and needed much dental attention. He said that he had no personal recollection of giving her a prescription, but he felt sure that he would have given her a prescription on October 10, 1962, when she had three extractions. He said in such cases it is the usual practice for him to give a prescription for codeine or combination of codeine and aspirin to keep the patient comfortable after such work.

Dr. STAPLES said he had no personal knowledge of JACK RUBY or LEE HARVEY OSWALD, and he did not have any friends or acquaintances to his knowledge who had ever associated with them.

He said he seemed to recall that MARINA was accompanied by a lady on two occasions and possibly a man and a lady on one occasion during the three trips she made to the College of Dentistry for dental attention.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Farrar Street. She was questioned as to why the Soviets had permitted her to leave Russia. She said that when she first applied for permission from the Russian Government to leave Russia, that she did not have high hopes of being able to depart. She said that she had not heard of any specific difficulties that had to be overcome by a Russian citizen requesting permission to go abroad to live, but that she thought generally she would have a hard time obtaining the permission.

She said she knows that the ZIEGER family which had originally emigrated from Argentina and had lived in the Soviet Union for 20-25 years had decided to go back to Argentina. Mr. ZIEGER, who was an engineer, was advised that he had to fulfill the terms of his contract of three years with the firm with which he was employed at Minsk. The ZIEGERS had taken out Soviet citizenship.

She said she had received a standard letter from Russian authorities in answer to her initial request for an exit permit from Russia. She said after she received her exit permit that her friends would not believe she had actually received it. She recalled an occasion when just prior to her departure when she was being examined by a medical doctor, that the doctor asked her why she was taking the physical examination. The doctor asked her if she were going to Germany. When MARINA replied she was going to America, the woman doctor said, "Stop joking. I'm too old for this kind of joke," implying that she too did not believe that MARINA had been granted permission to go to the United States.

MARINA said again that she had met OSWALD in March and they had been married on April 30, 1961. At the time she met him and at the time she married him, she was of the impression that OSWALD did not want to return to the United States.
States. She said OSWALD had prior to their marriage told her that he thought he could not return to the United States. He had told her he had written the American Embassy letters about returning to the United States, and they had not answered the letters. She said OSWALD was therefore of the impression that he could not return. MARINA said that if she had known of any desire on the part of OSWALD to return to the United States at the time of their marriage, she probably would not have married him.

With regard to the date that she had first applied for exit documentation from Russia, MARINA said she knew that application was made not before May, 1961, and probably later than that. She reiterated she did not know of OSWALD’s desire to return to the United States until about three months after their marriage. Following her application for exit permit, she received about New Year’s, 1962, a communication from the Russian Government that permission would be granted to her to depart for the United States. In this communication, she was requested to submit photographs and other necessary documents on which to base her exit permit. She said in May, 1962, she received the actual exit document.

MARINA was asked if she knew what the normal procedure was concerning the handling of foreign persons who had come to Russia to live. She advised she did not know what procedure was followed. She said that tourists and foreigners were generally treated in a very nice way in Russia and, in fact, many times were treated better than the citizens. She said the best hotels were reserved for foreigners and foreigners did not have to stand in line for many things as did citizens. She said the Russians have always been known for their hospitality. She said OSWALD had arrived in Russia on a tourist’s visa, and she believes that while he was in Moscow at the beginning of his Russian visit, he informed Russian authorities of his desire to stay in Russia. She said she does not know how long OSWALD was in Moscow but presumes that he stayed there until shortly before the time he began employment at the Belorussian Radio and Television Factory in Minsk, which was about mid-January, 1960, she believes.

She said OSWALD had stayed at the Hotel Metropole and later the Hotel Berlin in Moscow. He spent eight hours a day studying Russian and also walked around quite a bit, visiting museums and other places of interest. She said he did not have much money upon his arrival in Moscow, and after a few weeks ran out of money. After he ran out of money, he charged his room and meals at the Hotel Berlin and ran up quite a sizable bill. She said later the Russian Government paid off this bill and then sent him to Minsk to work. She also advised that various Russian people in Moscow had helped him out financially, but she does not know to what extent.

In connection with his residence at the Hotel Berlin, MARINA told of an occasion when she and OSWALD were in Moscow prior to their departure for the United States. The occasion of their visit was at the same time of the film festival and rooms were at a premium in Moscow, OSWALD, who was well known at the Hotel Berlin, immediately got them a room without trouble. She said OSWALD had no choice as to where he would be sent. She advised he probably was sent to Minsk because workers were needed there, particularly in the factory he was assigned to work in. She said that Moscow and Leningrad were over-populated, whereas Minsk, which had been almost destroyed during the war, was in a period of rebuilding and needed people and workers.

MARINA does not believe OSWALD had any trouble obtaining official Russian documentation to leave Russia. She said generally speaking, foreigners who reside in Russia do not have such difficulty. She feels sure there was no deal between OSWALD and the Russians for OSWALD to furnish information to them in return for being permitted to leave Russia. She said OSWALD had been given certain preferential treatment while in Russia which most foreigners are allowed. For example, he was permitted to live in an apartment rather than a dormitory in Minsk, when probably it would have been better that he be required to live in a dormitory so he would actually know what Russian life was like.

He never mentioned to her that he was questioned by Russian authorities in Moscow. She does not believe there was any such questioning of OWSWALD by Russian authorities. She believes he was observed and perhaps his neighbors and associates were questioned concerning his beliefs and his activities. She said there is a possibility that there will be speculators and espionage agents among tourists and immigrants in Russia. She said for this reason that tourists and immigrants are investigated to a degree in Russia. She advised the Russian authorities were undoubtedly upset because of OWSWALD's decision to return to the United States. She said OWSWALD had been received hospitably, given certain preferential treatment, had been furnished work, and yet had made a decision to return to the United States. This indicated that he was dissatisfied with the Russian way of life. She said, however, she did not believe the Russian authorities had made any attempt to dissuade OWSWALD from his decision to return to the United States.

MARINA was questioned concerning post office procedures in Russia. She said normally mail is delivered very promptly. She stated that inasmuch as OWSWALD was a foreigner that his mail would undoubtedly have been checked. She said undoubtedly letters mailed by OWSWALD to the American Embassy were checked and that probably these letters took a lengthy time to arrive at their destination.

After OWSWALD and MARINA made the decision to apply for permission to go to the United States, OWSWALD decided to go to Moscow to see the American authorities as his letters had not been answered. He went to Moscow alone in July, 1961. He telephoned her in Minsk later the same day he arrived in Moscow and told her to take the next day's plane to Moscow. She did and arrived in Moscow the next day. It was then that she was interviewed by the American official at the American Embassy concerning her request for American visa.

She said none of their friends or even her relatives had been told of their desire to go to America. She said she had not even told her aunt. When they returned from Moscow in July, 1961, OWSWALD told no one of his efforts to return to the United States. MARINA, who had taken three days off from work, told her aunt and certain of her friends that she had made application of American authorities to go to the United States. She said she had been criticized in pharmaceutical union meetings for her action. She said certain strong Communist friends had tried to convince her to remain in Russia. She said some of these people threatened to expose her to the newspaper. She said she wanted to experience life in another country and was adamant in her decision to go to America. She told the people who threatened her that she did not care. She said jokingly that when asked who her husband was, she would reply that he was an espionage agent. She said certain adult acquaintances of hers were actually afraid they would be officially criticized by the government for MARINA's action in attempting to leave Russia. She stated there were some of her girl friends who were jealous of her because they would like to travel too and they were particularly fond of the American clothes.

After they had obtained permission to leave Russia and were in Moscow making the final preparations, she had changed what rubles they had saved into U. S. dollars. She said this was necessary because dollars being international currency could be used on their trip from Russia through Poland and Europe to Amsterdam. She said they could not have used rubles on this trip.

MARINA advised of an occasion on their trip when they were in Poland and gave a Pole a U. S. dollar, and he in turn gave them enough Polish money to purchase food for a long while. She said the American dollar was much valued in eastern Europe.

She said OWSWALD had told her on one occasion after their marriage that he had been offered Russian citizenship, but he had refused it. She said OWSWALD did not tell her why he had refused it, but she believes he had refused because everything in Russia had not turned out as he had expected it. OSWALD never told her who had made this offer of citizenship to him or when or where it had been offered him.

She said OSWALD had received an official permit to purchase a rifle in Russia, and he had done so. She recalls only one occasion when he went hunting. On this occasion several people at the plant where he worked took a bus to a forest nearby for a hunting trip. He went on this trip but was unsuccessful in bagging any game.

OSWALD did not to her knowledge attend any specialized school for training in radio or photography. She said he was very inept in basic electronics and could not even fix a broken iron. He did not have any secret writing equipment nor microscopes.

MARINA said she had made no deals with Russian authorities to perform assignments in the United States, and she said OSWALD had made no deals with Russian authorities to her knowledge to perform such assignments in the United States.

MARINA said PAVEL GOLOVACHOV had been a fellow worker of OSWALD's at the television and radio factory. She did not like him at first but later he became quite a friend of the family. GOLOVACHOV at the present time is attending the Technical Institute in Minsk, where he is studying electronics. He is a very able student. GOLOVACHOV's father is a Russian Air Force General and has been twice decorated for bravery.

MARINA stated she had taken a vacation with an aunt who lived in Kharkov, Russia, after she was married. This aunt, who lives in Kharkov, is named POLINA VASILIEVNA MIKHAILOVA. She said this aunt's son (her cousin) might have been in love with her.

In view of the apparent farewell note OSWALD left for MARINA on the occasion of his confessed attempt to assassinate General WALKER, MARINA was asked if she knew whether OSWALD had left any such note for her on November 21 or 22, 1963. She said that if any such note had been left by OSWALD that she did not know about it. She said she had been shocked when she discovered the police had found her husband's wedding ring when they searched the PAINÉ residence on November 22, 1963.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Farrar Street.

She advised she recalls an occasion during that period of time when the OSWALDS were living at 424 Neeley Street in Dallas that Mrs. GEORGE DE MOHRENSHKLITZ visited her. She recalls that on this particular visit she showed Mrs. DE MOHRENSHKLITZ a rifle which OSWALD had bought. This rifle was standing in a corner or on a shelf in the house on Neeley. She said she had mentioned casually to Mrs. DE MOHRENSHKLITZ that OSWALD had purchased this rifle and she cannot recall any further conversation they had about the rifle at this time. MARINA stated this is the same rifle OSWALD later kept in the garage at the Paine residence in Dallas.

MARINA said OSWALD had belonged to a hunting club composed of workers at the Belorussian radio and television factory in Minsk, Russia. There were many members of this hunting club. By virtue of his membership in this club, he had received a permit to own a weapon. OSWALD had purchased a weapon by use of this permit and kept the weapon at their apartment in Minsk.

MARINA said she did not know much about firearms. She said she could not explain the difference between a shotgun and a rifle. She said she could not tell the difference between a shotgun and a rifle by merely looking at it. She said she had always referred to the weapon which OSWALD had in Russia as a rifle. MARINA was questioned as to what Russian word OSWALD had used in referring to the weapon he had in Russia. She said she could not recall he used any particular word and probably used some word which could be a general term meaning a fire arm. She said this because OSWALD's Russian was not adequate enough to classify a weapon in an accurate manner in referring to it in conversation.

The hunting club to which OSWALD belonged engaged in the hunting of rabbits, squirrels, and birds as there is no large game such as deer and bear around Minsk. MARINA stated the hunting trip on which OSWALD had gone with his hunting club and to which she has previously referred was a hunting trip near Minsk and was for the purpose of hunting squirrels.

MARINA was shown a Remington 12 gauge, short barreled pump shotgun and a small caliber bolt action rifle with scope. She said the rifle with scope was of the type and, in fact, looked very much like the rifle OSWALD had at the house on Neeley Street and the Paine house. She could not definitely state either the shotgun or the rifle shown her closely resembled the weapon OSWALD had owned in Russia. She was shown the difference in the bore of the weapons and in the mechanism generally, but she could not say whether the weapon OSWALD owned in Russia was a rifle or a shotgun. She said she thought the weapon OSWALD had in Russia looked more like the rifle shown her if the rifle had no scope attached to it. MARINA was very indefinite in her statements concerning the weapon OSWALD had in Russia, and it is apparent that she cannot recall accurately the weapon OSWALD had in Russia.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Ferrar Street.

MARINA was again questioned concerning the events surrounding the attempted assassination of General WALKER by OSWALD. She said OSWALD had confessed to her on the night of the attempted assassination that he had attempted to kill General WALKER by shooting at him with a rifle. On the following evening after the attempted assassination, they again discussed that event. OSWALD told her he had originally gone to the WALKER house three days or more prior to the night of the assassination attempt. He had gone on that prior evening to the WALKER house to shoot General WALKER but had changed his mind. While he was in the vicinity of the WALKER home or while on a bus route there, or in some manner, OSWALD had heard there was to be a gathering at a nearby church to the WALKER house and he had postponed his assassination attempt until this evening of the gathering at the church because he wanted more people around when he attempted the assassination. It was for this reason he chose the night that he did.

OSWALD did not say what he had done with the rifle on his first trip to the WALKER home to commit the assassination. She said that she did not see OSWALD with his rifle or any other weapon either before or after that first trip. She repeated OSWALD had not had a rifle or any other weapon with him when he left the house on the night that he fired the shot at General WALKER.

MARINA said she had asked OSWALD when he returned home on the night of the attempted assassination what he had done with the rifle because she was worried lest he had left it somewhere where it would be found. OSWALD said he had buried the rifle in the ground far from the actual spot of the shooting. He then mentioned a field and the fact that the field was near a railroad track. She said

OSWALD had remarked there had been a number of people around on the evening of the shooting. OSWALD did not say and she did not ask him what he had done with the rifle after the first evening when he went to shoot at WALKER but had changed his mind.

She recalls OSWALD returned to the NEELY Street home with the rifle wrapped in a raincoat on the Sunday following the night of the assassination attempt.

MARINA said that a few days after the assassination attempt, GEORGE DE MOHREN SCHILDT was in their home at Neely Street and made a joking remark to OSWALD to the effect, "How is it that you missed General WALKER?" (He referred to the rifle shot which had been fired at General WALKER but had missed him.) When GEORGE DE MOHREN SCHILDT asked OSWALD this, the latter visibly paled and looked at MARINA as if she might have told GEORGE DE MOHREN SCHILDT about his confession that he had tried to kill WALKER. The OSWALDS changed the subject of conversation immediately, and nothing more was said about the WALKER incident to her recollection. MARINA said she did not know if OSWALD had spoken to GEORGE DE MOHREN SCHILDT of his dislike for General WALKER. She does not know why DE MOHREN SCHILDT made this remark other than that he had said it for a joke.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 1161 Farrar Street.

A photograph of the sling which was attached to the rifle found on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository building on November 22, 1963, was exhibited to MARINA, and she advised she did not recognize this sling.

With regard to the rifle which OSWALD had at the NEELEY address and at the PAINE garage, MARINA advised she did not recall when OSWALD had purchased the rifle, nor did she know where she purchased it until she found this out from the publicity resulting from the assassination of the President.

She recalls OSWALD’s rifle was kept at the NEELEY house in the room where OSWALD had some personal effects. She does not recall how it was transported from Dallas to New Orleans when the OSWALDS moved to the latter city. She said OSWALD had left Dallas for New Orleans about two weeks before she had. Before he left for New Orleans, OSWALD packed some of the effects of the OSWALDS. On the day before he left by bus for New Orleans, several boxes of these effects were taken to the bus station by OSWALD and shipped by bus on his ticket. The rest of the effects consisting of mostly MARINA’s personal things and the baby clothes and equipment were left with MARINA. MARINA stayed at the PAINE residence until she was taken by Mrs. PAINE to New Orleans to join OSWALD. She does not recall whether the rifle was taken by OSWALD by bus to New Orleans or if it remained in a box already packed at the PAINE house and was subsequently transported in the PAINE station wagon to New Orleans.

She recalls seeing the rifle again after they were settled in New Orleans. OSWALD had a small room in the house on Magazine Street in New Orleans where he kept his correspondence, papers, and other effects. In this room he also kept the rifle. This was the same room in which he kept the "Hands Off Cuba" throw-aways when they arrived by mail.

MARINA did not see OSWALD either take the rifle from the house in New Orleans or bring it back with him to the house on any occasion. She never saw him clean it, nor did he ever hold it in her presence as best she can recall.

She cannot recall that he ever practiced firing the rifle either in New Orleans or in Dallas. She does not think he did practice in New Orleans because as a rule he stayed home when he was not working. When he did go out, she did not see him take the rifle.

OSWALD did not have any ammunition for the rifle to her knowledge in either Dallas or New Orleans, and he did not speak of buying ammunition.

MARINA also advised she does not know how the rifle was transported back to Dallas from New Orleans. She opines that the rifle was probably wrapped up in a blanket and was packed by OSWALD when he was packing other effects in New Orleans. She stated that it could have been packed and transported in the PAINE station wagon from New Orleans to Dallas and placed with the other effects in the PAINE garage, but she does not recall that to be the case. She said on the other hand OSWALD may have brought it back. She does not recall that he brought the rifle with him when he returned to Dallas from New Orleans.

After leaving New Orleans, she recalls the next time she saw the rifle was on one occasion when she was in the PAINE garage looking for some steel legs which fitted on her baby JUNE’s bed. She noticed the blanket with something wrapped up in it, and she opened one corner to see what it was. She then noticed the stock of the rifle.

She said, as she has related before, on the day of the assassination of the President after Mrs. PAINE told...
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Harrar Street.

MARINA recalled other particulars relating to the evening during which she found what she considered to be a farewell note from OSWALD, following which OSWALD had entered the house and made a confession that he had tried to assassinate General WALKER. She said that on the evening in question, OSWALD had departed from the house on Neely Street ostensibly to attend his typewriting class. He usually returned about nine o'clock from these classes. On this evening when he had not returned by ten o'clock, she became worried. She said intuition led her to the room where OSWALD kept certain personal effects and to this room on a small end table she found the farewell note and on the same table was a key to the mailbox. She stated when she read this note, "her hair stood on end." She could not understand what OSWALD meant by his reference to being taken prisoner. In her mind there was a definite connection between the note and OSWALD's tardiness in returning home. She did not know what to do or to whom to go as she did not speak English. She walked around the apartment, bathed her daughter JUNE, and waited. She does not now recall exactly what she did with the note on the evening of the attempted WALKER assassination but recalls that sometime later she put the note in her cook book, and it stayed there until later found by investigators. There is no doubt in her mind that the author of the note is OSWALD.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Farrar Street.

MARINA said she had insisted on several occasions that OSWALD purchase an automobile, but OSWALD had said they did not have enough money to buy an automobile and furthermore the automobile would require repairs. MARINA does not recall any occasion when OSWALD talked to anyone about buying a car. He never mentioned to her that he had seen anyone about the purchase of a car. He did not mention to her that he intended seeing any person about the purchase of an automobile. She does not recall that he talked to anyone about the purchase of liability insurance on an automobile.

MARINA stated OSWALD spoke Russian well and read it well, but his writing of the Russian language was very poor. She said OSWALD could not speak or understand any other language except English. He could not speak nor understand Spanish. She recalls she had purchased a self-study book on the Spanish language while in Russia, and on occasion OSWALD would try to pronounce Spanish words, but his pronunciation was very bad, and she laughed at his attempts to speak the language. In this connection she said OSWALD had difficulty pronouncing the Spanish "R." She said OSWALD did not speak French nor German, nor did he understand either of these languages by ear or by sight.

MARINA stated that her knowledge of the Russian language is excellent, but she neither understands nor speaks any other language.

MARINA recalled OSWALD rarely spoke about his military service. In his brief recollections to her of his military service, he left the impression with her that he had enjoyed that service. She recalls he mentioned on several occasions the pretty Japanese girls he had met while serving in Japan with the Marine Corps.

MARINA furnished other particulars concerning her vacation trip to Kharkov, Russia, in 1961. This was a trip allowed her by the government as an annual vacation. The trip was of three weeks duration and was during the period including October 18, 1961. She recalls this date because it was OSWALD’s birthday. She returned to Minsk from the trip about five days after October 18, which would be October 23, 1961. Her transportation from Minsk to Kharkov and return was paid by her aunt with whom she visited in Kharkov. This aunt’s name is POLINA VASILIEVNA MIKHAILOVA, and her husband’s name is YURI MIKHAILOV. (She does not recall her uncle’s middle name.) During this vacation trip, she was pregnant and as a result engaged in very little activity. She recalls that she ate and slept and generally rested. During the first week of her trip, her aunt and uncle were visiting in the Caucasus, and some domestic relatives hired by her aunt and uncle had done the cooking and cleaning in the uncle’s apartment.

Her uncle, YURI MIKHAILOV, holds a very responsible position as an engineer in the building trades program in Kharkov. She believes he is a member of the Communist Party. The aunt and uncle have a large three room apartment. The aunt and uncle’s son, to whom she has previously referred as having an amorous interest in her, is named VALENTINE VORIEVICH MIKHAILOV.

MARINA advised OSWALD had never consulted her concerning the material he was writing. He kept his writing a secret, and frequently would close himself in a room while he wrote. She said she thought OSWALD was writing a book or was compiling notes on which to base a book. She did not consider OSWALD’s writings a diary because she did not gain the impression that he wrote daily or by date. She said OSWALD’s writings were in English, and she could therefore not read them. She said OSWALD was the type person who allowed his imagination to run riot. She said that although she could not read OSWALD's writings, she would imagine that certain of his descriptions concerning his life in Russia and in the United States would not be completely true because he very rarely missed an opportunity to glorify himself. She said OSWALD had an obsession to get his name in history and that everything he did was toward that end. She said that as an example of this, OSWALD had stated he was a Marxist. She believed he was not a Marxist, but he made this statement only to draw attention to himself.

MARINA denied that she had ever been talked to by Soviet Intelligence. She said that if OSWALD in his writings claimed that she was talked to by Soviet Intelligence, that he was either mistaken or was intentionally telling an un-truth because she had not been interviewed by Soviet Intelligence.

MARINA stated that the sexual relationship between herself and OSWALD had been completely normal. She said there had been a published report that OSWALD was a homosexual but that was completely false.

She laughed at many of OSWALD's ideas and expressions of political philosophy and often made him mad when she taunted him. As a result, they had frequent quarrels, and on occasion OSWALD would physically mistreat her. She said that she would laugh at his political ideas in front of other people, and this, of course, made OSWALD very mad. She said she had wanted a divorce from OSWALD, and the principal reason for wanting this divorce was because of the crazy ideas and political opinions that OSWALD held. She said she never quarreled with OSWALD about his failure to provide an adequate living for the family. She said that although the average American man was making much more than OSWALD was, she would have been perfectly willing to live on the approximately $200.00 a month that OSWALD made when he worked.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at 11611 Farrar Street.

She advised that in the late fall of 1962 when she and OSWALD were living at the Elsiebath Street address in Dallas, they had a quarrel. MARINA decided to move away from OSWALD. She contacted GEORGE DE MOHREN SCHILD, who came to the Elsiebath Street address in his convertible and took MARINA, her daughter JUDE, and a few baby things to the ANNA MELLER house at 5930 La Vista. OSWALD was supposed to come to the MELLER house where they could talk over their domestic problems, but he did not. Later the same day, GEORGE DE MOHREN SCHILD took MARINA back to the Elsiebath Street address, where she packed up some belongings. GEORGE DE MOHREN SCHILD then took her back to the MELLER house. She stayed there about six days with ANNE MELLER, and then stayed for a while with KATHY FORD, the wife of DECLAN FORD, who lives at 14057 Brookcrest. (Page 5)

MARINA was questioned concerning information which had been received indicating she had visited with OSWALD and her two children a furniture store in Irving, Texas, in early November, 1963. MARINA said she never visited a furniture store with OSWALD at Irving. She said the only time she can remember that she and OSWALD and her two babies had visited a store together was once in Irving, Mrs. FAINE had taken them all to a general store. There MARINA bought a pacifier for the baby. While they were in the store, they lost OSWALD. Later they found OSWALD and her daughter JUDE at the cafeteria counter eating.

MARINA stated she could not recall any occasion when OSWALD told a sales lady the date of her daughter, RACHEL'S, birth. (Page 6) not have been permitted to speak. She recalled that OSWALD had compared the two governments of the United States and Russia with a somewhat objective view. He would point out that each government had bad things about it and each government would have good things about it. She said she does not remember that OSWALD was particularly critical of the United States Government or the United States people.

MARINA advised OSWALD had told her after their arrival in the United States from Russia that he had received a monthly stipend from the Russian government while he had been in Russia. He did not say the money came from the Red Cross. He said the money came from the Russian government. MARINA did not think this unusual inasmuch as all foreign students in Russia receive government aid and in many cases those persons of foreign nationality who have come to reside in Russia have also received aid from the government until they can get their feet on the ground.

MARINA recalls the name Col. NIKOLAI AKSIYONOV, who she believes was a high official in the Ministry of Interior at Minsk. She is not sure but believes AKSIYONOV is the person with whom she was granted an interview. MARINA had requested this interview in an effort to expedite the granting of an exit permit for her to leave Russia. She said OSWALD had also made an attempt to see Col. AKSIYONOV but had been unsuccessful. He was not granted an interview.

When questioned as to whether her relationship to her uncle, who was also an official in the Ministry of Interior, may have aided her in seeing the official of the Department of Interior, she agreed that this family relationship may have aided her. She said, however, her uncle was not the type to presume on his official position for personal favors. MARINA said she could recall that her uncle would not even get extra firewood, which he could do by presumption on his position. MARINA's aunt often tried to get special favors because of her husband's position, but her actions were not condoned by the uncle.

6. LEV FRIZENTSEV, Kondratievsky #7, Apt. 63 or #63, Apt. 7, Prospect, Leningrad. MARINA met FRIZENTSEV at the rest home near Leningrad. This person had an amorous interest in IRINA VOLKOVA, below listed, who was also at the rest home near Leningrad. Unfortunately VOLKOVA was already married.

7. ROBERT ALEXANDROVICH IVANOV, Podbelsky Street #7, Apt. 2, Leningrad. MARINA believed she met this person also at the rest home at Leningrad. IVANOV was a chauffeur although a graduate of law school.

8. IRINA VOLKOVA, Ligovsky Lane #131, Apt. 9, Leningrad. VOLKOVA was also at the rest home. (See No. 6 above.)

9. ANTONINA VLADIMIROVNA KOBELEVSKAYA, aka ANTONINA VLADIMIROVNA GOLIBINA, Prospect #10, Apt. 7, Stalino Lane #122 - office (bookkeeping), telephone E8-0915. (Or Chernishevsky Sq. #12, Apt. 3.) All addresses in Leningrad. MARINA met ANTONINA at the rest home near Leningrad.

10. SERGEI (LNV), a pianist. Was one of MARINA's friends.

11. OLEG PAVLOVICH TARUSIN, Kirovsky Oblast; Shabolinsky Section; Ukazinsky SSR.

12. TAMARA NIKOLAEVNA TADEUSH, Belomorskaya # 174 "A", Apt. 2, Leningrad. MARINA described TAMARA as a friend who worked with her in the same hospital. TAMARA worked as a gynecologist.

13. Mrs. ANNE MÜLLER, 59305 La Vista Drive, Dallas, Texas, telephone TA 3-2219. MÜLLER is a Russian woman married to an American, and the OSHALDS became acquainted with them through their other Russian acquaintances in Dallas.
MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at the office of her attorney, WILLIAM A. MC KENZIE, Fidelity Union Life Building. MR. MC KENZIE was not present during the interview.

MARINA was questioned further concerning alleged target practice of Lee Harvey OSWALD.

She advised she had been mistaken on February 17, 1964, when she said she recalled OSWALD cleaning his rifle at Neely Street, at which time he made the statement he had been practicing. She said she is now able to place the date that she saw OSWALD cleaning his rifle as being shortly before the WALKER incident, and at the time they resided on Neely Street.

MARINA retracted at this time every incident she can recall concerning OSWALD’s cleaning or practicing with his rifle. She said she can now recall that OSWALD cleaned his rifle on about four or five occasions during the short period of time which elapsed from the time he acquired the rifle on March 6, 1963, until his attempted assassination of General WALKER. She can recall that he cleaned the rifle at least once time after the General WALKER incident and before their trip to New Orleans.

At one of the four or five times that she observed OSWALD cleaning his rifle at their home on Neely Street, before the WALKER incident, he told her he had been practicing with the rifle but he did not say when he had practiced. On the other occasions of his cleaning the rifle before the WALKER incident he did not say he had been practicing. MARINA deduced that he might have been practicing with the rifle. She cannot recall any incidents connected with the rifle cleaning which would indicate to her now that he might have practiced. She can recall nothing unusual in his routine at the time. She said this period between his purchase of the rifle and the WALKER incident was the period of time he was attending night school. She said it would have been entirely possible for him to have practiced on any of the times that he was away from the house ostensibly attending school and if he had practiced on such occasions, it would have been without her knowledge.

had practiced in a "field". Through the association of these ideas she had concluded that it was the "Love Field" bus he boarded.

MARINA furnished further information concerning the photograph of OSSWALD which she took and the camera with which she took it. She advised that she believed she took the photograph with the American camera which OSSWALD owned. She repeated OSSWALD owned two cameras- one an American camera and the other a Russian-made camera, which she has identified as the Scene 2. She said the American camera had a grayish color, somewhat like aluminum. It was a box-type camera. She is not completely sure however as to whether the camera had an extending bellows. She can recall that she sighted the camera by looking down into a viewer at the top of the camera. She said she did not know where this camera is now. MARINA advised she could identify this camera.

MARINA advised she had jotted down the license number of the automobile used by SA JAMES F. HOSTY, JR. on an occasion when he had called at the PLANE residence. She said she had jotted the number down on a piece of paper and given it to OSSWALD. She had written the number because OSSWALD had told her to jot down the license number of any FBI agent who came to the house in order that he would know that it was a FBI car.

MARINA advised she had not informed MB, or MBN, PLANE that OSSWALD owned a rifle not had she informed either of the PLANE's of OSSWALD's attempt on the life of General WALKER. She felt sure that OSSWALD had not informed either of the PLANE's of these matters.

MARINA said she had not informed SAS BOGOSLAV and HEITMAN previous to December 3, 1963, of the WALKER note or the attempt on WALKER's life by OSSWALD because in the first place she was OSSWALD's wife, and in the second place, because OSSWALD had not killed WALKER in the attempt, for which she was very happy.

MARINA did not know who NIXON was and does not recall OSSWALD ever mentioning his name. She did not care who he was but knew she had to act fast. She went to the bathroom and called OSSWALD. He came to the bathroom and as he entered she quickly jumped outside the door closing it as she left the bathroom. She forcibly held the door shut by holding on to the knob and bracing her foot against the wall. OSSWALD attempted to pull the door open.

MARINA was interviewed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. DECLAN F. FORD, 14057 Brookcrest, Dallas, Texas. During this interview, Mr. WILLIAM A. MCKENZIE, Attorney for MARINA, was present for a short time. His law partner, Mr. HENRY BARK, was present for the entire interview.

MARINA was asked if she had repeated information to her brother-in-law, ROBERT OSSWALD, and to JAMES EUGENIUS MARTIN, her former manager, concerning an incident in which she had supposedly locked her husband in the bathroom in order to keep him from seeing RICHARD NIXON. MARINA advised that while at the MARTIN residence she had told MARTIN and his wife who OSSWALD was and had subsequently told ROBERT OSSWALD. She cannot recall now if she told ROBERT in the presence of the MARTIN's or to him alone.

She advised the facts of this incident were as follows:

About two weeks after the WALKER incident and while the OSSWALDS were residing at the Nealy Street address, LEE and MARINA OSSWALD arose late one morning about 10:00 a.m. OSSWALD put on the coffee and then dressed in the clothes that he normally wore about the house. He went downstairs to get a newspaper and buy some doughnuts. He came back to the apartment and together they drank coffee and ate doughnuts while OSSWALD read his newspaper. After they had finished this breakfast, MARINA began cleaning up and dusting the apartment. She noticed later that OSSWALD had dressed himself in a suit and tie which was most unusual as he very seldom wore a tie and as at this time he was unemployed and she did not know where he was going. She also noticed that he placed a pistol underneath his jacket in his belt or in a scabbard, she cannot recall which. She asked OSSWALD where he was going and he replied as best as she can recall, "NIXON is coming and I'm going to take a look and I'm going to shoot NIXON." MARINA replied to OSSWALD words to this effect: "After the WALKER thing, I know you look." She was alarmed because she thought OSSWALD was going to shoot NIXON.

MARINA did not know who NIXON was and does not recall OSSWALD ever mentioning his name. She did not care who he was but knew she had to act fast. She went to the bathroom and called OSSWALD. He came to the bathroom and as he entered she quickly jumped outside the door closing it as she left the bathroom. She forcibly held the door shut by holding on to the knob and bracing her foot against the wall. OSSWALD attempted to pull the door open.

but because of her strength she was able to keep him from leaving the bathroom for a period of about three minutes. She said she had heard something similar happen to the baby (she was pregnant). She told OSWALD he was not going to shoot at anyone else. She said if he wanted to come out of the bathroom he would have to walk across her body. She reminded him of his promise to her made after the WALKER incident that he would not try to do anything else like that. She said something like “How can you deceive after you gave me your word?” She explained she meant OSWALD had promised her not to repeat anything like the WALKER incident - to not shoot at people.

MARINA said she does not recall that OSWALD ever said the word “shoot” but she presumed that that is what he intended to do when he put the pistol in his belt.

After they had struggled with the door for about three minutes at the most MARINA said she would open the door if OSWALD would give his word to remain in the bathroom and not go anywhere and if he would undress and give her his clothing and pistol. OSWALD agreed to do this and thereupon took off his outer garments including shoes and gave these garments and his pistol to MARINA. She then went to the apartment door which led to the hallway and locked it.

While he was undressing, OSWALD had asked that she give him a book to read. She got him a book and handed it to him in the bathroom. It was a book he had been reading. He thereupon sat in the bathroom on the stool top reading for approximately the next three hours. She presumed he was reading as the door was shut.

MARINA advised the door of the bathroom opened to the inside of the bathroom. It did not look from the outside. She believes it had some sort of lock on the inside. She stated she is strong but feels that perhaps OSWALD could have forcibly opened the door if he had applied his full strength against her. She said she believes she kept OSWALD in the house on that day by persuasion. She said this is one of the times OSWALD did something that she wanted him to do.

MARINA recalls after OSWALD handed the pistol to her she put the pistol underneath the mattress. She does not know whether the pistol was loaded or not. Later that day after OSWALD had left the bathroom he retrieved the pistol from underneath the mattress and placed it back on the shelf where he normally kept it.

MARINA advised she did not recall OSWALD ever talking about NIXON prior to the time of this incident. She did not know who NIXON was. He did not give any reason why he wanted to go see NIXON. He did not say why he was taking a pistol. During the time OSWALD was sitting in the bathroom and subsequently on that day which OSWALD spent at home, they did not speak further of the incident or of NIXON. She said she could not recall that they ever again mentioned this incident or talked about NIXON. MARINA said she now knows that NIXON once ran for the presidency but still knows very little about him.

After OSWALD had remained in the bathroom for about three hours she told him he could come out of the bathroom if he desired. This was about 4:00 p.m. OSWALD left the bathroom and went to the living room where he continued to read in his shorts. He did not leave the house that day.

MARINA was asked if she could now recall anything which might have indicated to her that OSWALD was to do anything unusual on November 22, 1963. She was reminded OSWALD had confessed to her his attempt on WALKER’s life and had left a note for her on the occasion that he made this attempt. She was reminded that she had seen OSWALD put a pistol in his belt and say that he was going to take a look at NIXON. She advised she could not remember anything that would indicate to her that OSWALD was about to do anything unusual on November 22, 1963. She repeated that the news of OSWALD’s arrest on November 22, 1963, came as a “thunder-clap” to her.

MARINA was requested to advise concerning any other incidents or escapes in which OSWALD participated during the time they were married. She said she could recall an incident that she has not previously told about. She said while they resided in New Orleans on Magazine Street toward the end of August or early in September, 1963, and lasting for a period of about two weeks, OSWALD was making plans to hijack an airplane and force the pilot to take him to Cuba. MARINA stated OSWALD wanted to go to Cuba because it was a socialist country and because Cuba and Russia had diplomatic relations. His plans at first were for him to hijack the plane by himself. He spent a great deal of time studying a large world map which hung in a converted porch in the Magazine Street house. She recalls he had a ruler and would speak about distances between places. She calls that he mentioned the name "Key West." He said he would have to hijack a plane with enough gas to get them to Cuba. He said it would be better to hijack a plane that was going inward from the coastal region of the United States because it would be less suspicious than boarding a plane on an international flight.

OSWALD’s plans were to take a plane leaving New Orleans for another place in the United States and thereafter transfer to another plane which would be the one that he would hijack.

OSWALD also wrote out the tables of airlines, supposedly, on a piece of paper. MARINA does not know where this map or this piece of paper are. She cannot recall seeing them since she left New Orleans.

OSWALD subsequently revised his plans to the extent that he included MARINA as part of the plan. He told MARINA that he, OSWALD, would sit at the front of the airplane with the pistol which he owned and MARINA would sit at the back of the plane with a pistol which he would buy for her. They would have their daughter, JUNE, with them. They would then force the crew to fly the plane to Cuba, OSWALD told MARINA that she was to stand up at the back of the airplane at the appointed time and yell out "hands up" in English. She told OSWALD she could not say that in English. He replied for her to say it in Russian and to stick the gun out and everybody would know what she meant.

MARINA said she told OSWALD that "only a crazy man would think this up." She refused from the inception of the plan to have anything whatever to do with it. OSWALD has said he would buy MARINA a light-weight pistol for her to use in the hijack scheme.
She recalls on one occasion OSWALD told her he had seen some lightweight pistol but she told him not to buy one because she would not participate in the scheme. OSWALD had said he wanted her to at least learn how to hold a pistol but she refused.

MARINA urged OSWALD to give up his scheme of hijacking an airplane and suggested he try to get to Cuba in a legal way.
OSWALD gave up his scheme to hijack an airplane. For about a week prior to the time she left New Orleans for Dallas with Mrs. PAINE, OSWALD made plans to go to Mexico for the purpose of obtaining permission to enter Cuba legally. She said it was not in his planning for her to accompany him either to Mexico or to Cuba.

She said if OSWALD had been accepted in Cuba and had sent for her later she would have gone to Cuba with JUNE to join OSWALD.

MARINA said OSWALD had mentioned he had heard over the radio stories about airplane piracy. She advised OSWALD, to her knowledge, did not "buy another revolver. He did mention to her as above related that he had seen some light-weight pistole. She said OSWALD tried to talk her into participating in the hijack scheme on at least four occasions. She cannot recall that OSWALD ever went to the airport at New Orleans while he was making these plans. She does not think he ever boarded an airplane during this time. She believes he called some airlines about schedules. She cannot recall which airline this was. She cannot recall that OSWALD had written plans for this scheme such as he had in the WALKER incident. She stated the passengers on the plane were to be held until they arrived in Cuba. She cannot recall that OSWALD had further plans for the passengers.

During the time he was planning to hijack this plane OSWALD began taking physical exercises at home for the purpose of increasing his physical strength.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

In the May 24, 1964, issue of the "New York Herald Tribune", Magazine Section, there appeared an article by DOM RONZEDELLI captioned "The Picture With a Life Of Its Own." This article refers to the controversial Associated Press photograph of the Presidential motorcade wherein an individual resembling LEE HARVEY OSWALD appears in the doorway of the Texas School Book Depository. Previous investigation has identified this individual as BILLY NOLAN LOVELOCK. This article reflects that J. W. ALTGENS, a veteran Associated Press photographer in Dallas, Texas, recalled shooting the picture. The article further commented that ALTGENS had never been questioned by the FBI.

On May 25, 1964, the Chicago Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation advised that there appeared in the "Chicago American", page 7 of the Monday, May 25, 1964, issue, in the column entitled "Daily Diary", the following:

"Isn't it odd that J. W. ALTGENS, a veteran Associated Press photographer in Dallas, who took a picture of the KENNEDY assassination — one of the witnesses close enough to see the President shot and able to describe second-by-second what happened — has been questioned neither by the FBI nor the Warren Commission?"

The Chicago office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation advised that the author of the "Daily Diary" column is MAGGIE DAILY.

Commission Exhibit No. 1407

Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

On June 2, 1964, JAMES W. ALTGENS, 6441 Pemberton Drive, telephone number Emerson 8-7766, Dallas, Texas, advised he is employed as a wirephoto operator - photographer by Associated Press, Room 353, Dallas News Building, Dallas, Texas. ALTGENS said he sometime acts in the capacity of the News Photo Editor. He said he has been employed by the Associated Press for 26 years. ALTGENS advised he was born April 20, 1919, at Dallas, Texas.

ALTGENS advised that on November 22, 1963, he was assigned by Associated Press to take up a position along the motorcade route for the purpose of obtaining pictures of the President and the Presidential motorcade. ALTGENS related he left his office at 11:15 A.M. and proceeded to the triple overpass above Elm and Main Streets where he intended to take his pictures. He said he arrived there about 11:25 A.M. and was advised by uniformed police officers that, even though he had his press credentials, he would not be permitted to take photographs from the triple overpass. ALTGENS stated he then went to the intersection of Main and Houston Streets, arriving there at approximately 11:40 A.M. He said he remained at this location until the motorcade arrived.

Just before the Presidential limousine passed, ALTGENS stated he stationed himself in the intersection on the south-west side and took a picture of President and Mrs. KENNEDY as their limousine turned onto Houston Street. ALTGENS advised he then ran diagonally (northwest) downhill over the grassy area that separates Main and Elm Streets, stopping on the south side of Elm Street and crossing the street from the stairs leading down from the colonnade located on the north side of Elm Street, to get in front of the motorcade again. ALTGENS stated it was from this position that he took the photograph of the Presidential car and motorcade scene. He said this picture also depicts an individual standing in the doorway of the entrance of the Texas School Book Depository building who resembles LEE HARVEY OSWALD. ALTGENS related he was standing about thirty feet from the President when he took this photograph. He recalled that at about the instant he snapped the picture, he heard a burst of noise which he thought was firecrackers. He advised he does not know how many of these reports he heard since they had no significance to him at the time, and he was unaware of what was happening.

After taking the above photograph, ALTGENS stated he then turned the film in his camera, adjusted the focus to 15 feet and was raising his camera to eye level when he heard another report which he recognized as a gunshot. He said the bullet struck President KENNEDY on the right side of his head and the impact knocked the President forward. ALTGENS stated pieces of flesh, blood and bones appeared to fly from the right side of the President's head and pass in front of Mrs. KENNEDY to the left of the Presidential limousine. ALTGENS stated Mrs. KENNEDY grabbed the President and ALTGENS heard her exclaim, "Oh, no!" as the President slumped over into her lap. ALTGENS said he also observed blood on the left side of the President's head and face. ALTGENS stated he was staring in utter disbelief at what he had just witnessed and was so aghast that he froze and did not snap the picture. ALTGENS advised he was about fifteen feet from the President at this time, was sure the shot came from somewhere behind the President, and in positive thin was the last shot fired. He said the President's car was proceeding at about ten miles per hour at the time.

ALTGENS advised he did not know Governor CONNALLY had also been shot since his attention was focused on the President. He said he learned from the wire services that Governor CONNALLY had been shot.

ALTGENS stated the driver of the Presidential limousine apparently realized what had happened and speeded up toward the Stemmons Expressway. At this point, ALTGENS advised he took a photograph which depicted a Secret Service man standing on the back of the Presidential limousine, left side, assisting Mrs. KENNEDY back to her seat. ALTGENS stated the whole area seemed to be utter confusion. Police came from everywhere as the President's car disappeared from sight.

ALTGENS advised that as the President's car disappeared he observed some Secret Service Agents and police officers with drawn guns on the north side of Elm Street running in the direction of the top of the triple overpass. He said he thought they were chasing someone who had fled from somewhere behind the President. ALTGENS related he also ran in this direction. After proceeding across Elm Street and up toward the triple overpass, ALTGENS stated he met the police officers returning. At this juncture, ALTGENS advised he then ran to a nearby telephone and informed his office that the President had been shot and that he had witnessed it. He then sprinted to his office in the Dallas News Building with the pictures he had taken. ALTGENS stated the pictures showing the President slumping in his seat with Mrs. KENNEDY bending over him "moved" on the Associated Press Wirephoto Network at 12:57 F.M., which was seventeen minutes after the first news bulletin was sent out by Associated Press.

ALTGENS advised the above three pictures he took were all turned in to Associated Press, and received wide publication and circulation, both in the United States and abroad. ALTGENS said he used a 35 mm Nikkor camera with a 105 mm lens (telephoto lens). He said the camera was loaded with Eastman Kodak Tri-X film.

Regarding the article which appeared in the Magazine Section of the May 24, 1964, issue of the "New York Herald Tribune" by DON BONAFEDE captioned "The Picture With a Life Of Its Own", ALTGENS related the following:

On May 11, 1964, while he was at his residence, he received a telephone call from an individual who identified himself as DON BONAFEDE. He said he was staying at the Adolphus Hotel in Room 1210 and was in Dallas doing a story on the Associated Press photograph taken by ALTGENS, wherein it appeared that an individual in the doorway of the Texas School...

Book Depository building resembled LEE HARVEY OSWALD. ALTGENS said BONAFEDE informed him that he had been to Washington and to the President's Commission and had seen a "blown up" shot of this picture. ALTGENS stated BONAFEDE asked him a number of questions about the picture, about his position at the time he took this photograph, and what he had witnessed of the assassination of President KENNEDY. ALTGENS said he answered these questions for BONAFEDE. He said BONAFEDE also asked him a number of questions about how the people of Dallas felt about the assassination of President KENNEDY in Dallas, and what effect the assassination would have on the city of Dallas.

ALTGENS stated that on May 14, 1964, BONAFEDE again telephoned him at his residence and went over some of the questions he had previously asked in addition to asking him other questions.

ALTGENS stated he did not know and he did not have any contact with BONAFEDE prior to May 11, 1964, and none subsequent to May 14, 1964. He stated that BONAFEDE had told him that if he were going to quote him, ALTGENS, directly, he would call and clear any quotations with ALTGENS. ALTGENS said he never received any call from BONAFEDE in which he cleared any quotation.

ALTGENS advised that on May 21, 1964, at about 11:30 P.M., he received a telephone call at his residence from an individual who identified himself as JOHN GOLD of the "London Evening News." He said he presumed GOLD was telephoning from New York City. He said GOLD informed him that BONAFEDE had written an article and that it was going to appear in the Magazine Section of the "New York Herald Tribune" on May 24, 1964. ALTGENS stated he knew the article written by BONAFEDE would be published, but said this was the first information he had received as to when the article was to be published.

ALTGENS stated he is not acquainted with and, to his knowledge, has never had any contact with JONES HARRIS. ARNOLD

He took the picture to a detective friend who dabbled in photography to see if it could be enlarged. The detective suggested that he obtain a positive copy of the photo. "Four or five days later I went back to Wide World and told them I had a wirephoto picture and wanted a positive print made from the original negative," Harris said. "Everything was fine except when I showed them the wirephoto, a white-haired, elderly woman told me, "Oh, my, I believe that picture is in Washington for photographers' contest."

"I then went to a short, balding man who seemed to be in charge of the office. He was curt and abrupt and said he didn't know when the picture would be returned. He pointed to several stacks of pictures and said what I wanted could be in there but he doubted it. For two and a half hours I went through those files of pictures before I found a clear, positive copy."

Through a newspaper friend Harris learned of Bernard Hoffman, a free-lance photographer with the reputation of being a fine craftsman. Hoffman looked at the positive print, remarked it was fair and offered to see what he could do with it. Shooting through an intricate system of microscopes he produced a blow-up, bringing into sharp focus the Presidential limousine and the crowd behind. Harris became more convinced than ever that the question of the man in the doorway deserved to be asked and answered.

Harris next sought to solicit official action. He thought about Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, whom he had met socially. Senator Cooper would be an ideal contact as he was a member of the Warren Commission, appointed by President Johnson to conduct a definitive inquiry into the assassination. "I called Senator Cooper," Harris said. "He was busy but suggested that I come to Washington and call his office and he would come off the Senate floor to see me if he could. I didn't want to do that."

"I had known [former Supreme Court Justice] Felix Frankfurter, so I called his secretary. I knew he was sick. She said to put my information in a letter. I didn't think I should do that."

"Early in February, Harris told his story to his attorney, Arnold Krakower, a New York lawyer with offices on East 53rd Street. Krakower, a 48-year-old Harvard Law School graduate with rugged features, vividly remembers the day Harris called on him. "The moment I saw the enlargement I became interested. It was obvious the public had to be told whether it is or is not Oswald. If it is Oswald, how can he be upstairs firing bullets? I'm not interested in whether Oswald was a Communist, a Fascist, or whatever. I'm only interested in who did it. This country is mature enough to be told the whole truth."

The attorney said he had previously been puzzled by conflicting reports concerning the case. "We seem to have been fed a lot of pop about sound police techniques," Krakower said. "First you read that the gun aimed by Oswald when he was captured in the movie theater had misfired, that you could see the imprint of the hammer on the cartridge case. Almost at the same time they tell you another officer had put his finger between the hammer and the cartridge, preventing the bullet from being fired. One of these stories can't possibly be true. And there is no explanation why Tippit, the officer they say Oswald killed, was one and a half miles off his beat, or why Tippit suspected Oswald in the first place. There are too many blanks in the case. I thought about the picture I don't know how long. I decided if Harris had this thing, others did too."

Krakower was dead right about others having the picture, and wondering about it. Weeks before Harris came across the picture browsing in Doubleday's, well-informed conversations in New York, Dallas and Washington turned on the identity of "the man in the doorway" of the Depository. On December 2, in fact, only ten days after the assassination, the Associated Press had circulated to member newspapers and magazines an enlargement of the picture with a circle drawn around the face in the doorway. "Photo arouses new interest," the caption read. "The photo seems to show the accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald standing at ground level behind the motorcade at the entrance to the Texas School Book Depository...." The caption went on to say, "Authorities said the man in the picture is not Oswald but another employee of the Depository."

Despite his avid researches in the AP files, Harris had not known of the AP's caption. And even if he did, subsequent events suggest, it would not have discouraged Harris from pursuing the matter. He was looking for positive proof, not undetailed assertions. Krakower wrote to the Warren Commission and told them he wanted an appointment with J. Lee Rankin, the commission's chief counsel—"and not the FBI or anybody else. The commission replied and agreed to see Krakower and Harris. Expenses were offered but declined. On February 24 the two men kept an 11 a.m. appointment at the commission's headquarters in the Veterans of Foreign Wars building in Washington. They met first with Charles Shaffer, a commission staff member on loan from the Justice Department. Harris recalls that (Continued on next page)
Shaffer was extremely cordial and that he and Krakower discussed legal matters. "Then he turned to me," Harris said, "and asked if I'd like a Miles Hirson. I said no, but that I was known by his brother Roger when we both attended Friends Seminary in New York City." Harris is still baffled at how Shaffer knew of his long-ago acquaintanceship with a schoolmate.

The two showed Shaffer the blown-up assassination picture with the mystery figure in the background. Shaffer simply asked how Harris had gotten the picture and the process used in its enlargement. Afterwards, the three men were called into J. Lee Rankin's office. Perfunctory greetings followed and Rankin inspected the picture. "He did not say one word while we were in there," Krakower said later. "He didn't register a thing."

The three men returned to the other office and Shaffer brought out a huge photograph of the same scene. "They obviously had been studying this from every angle," remarked Krakower. "Shaffer said he didn't know it if was Oswald, but that the commission was fascinated by it. I told him my client was thinking of writing an article for publication on the subject. He asked if I would please not write anything or release any publicity about it and to cooperate with the commission. I agreed."

The three next had lunch together. Shaffer gave Krakower telephone numbers where he could be reached at his home and at his Justice Department and Warren Commission offices. His report had been seized, but he had told them to call or write to him at any time and assured them that he would keep in touch with them.

Harris and Krakower then returned to New York. A few weeks later Harris finally learned that the man shown in the doorway had been reliably identified as one Billy Lovelady, a warehouseman at the Book Depository who had worked with Oswald. Unknown to Harris and Krakower, Lovelady had been identified as the figure in the picture by the FBI the day after the assassination. (This was, apparently, the source for the AP caption put out on December 2.)

This development did not deter Harris and Krakower. "What we want is conclusive proof that the man is not Oswald, not just the bland assurance it is Lovelady," Krakower says. "There should be a total investigation of this facet of the case. The president of the American Bar Association recently urged us to encourage counsel to Lee Harvey Oswald by the Warren Commission. He should be allowed to cross-examine Lovelady as if Oswald were alive and on trial and had introduced this picture as evidence in his defense. God, I hope it isn't Oswald in the picture. But I want it established beyond any doubt at all."

For some weeks after their Washington meeting, Shaffer and Krakower continued to communicate by mail and telephone. In a letter written early in March, Krakower pointedly referred to an article published by the Atlanta Constitution, which raised several provocative questions relative to the assassination and the investigation. He has not since heard from Shaffer or anyone else in the Warren Commission.

Because he believes the commission did not act in the rush to make conclusions, Krakower no longer feels bound to keep his pledge of silence. "In this case, involving the assassination of the President of the United States, if the commission is a shambles, the very fact that was concealed and I was in a position to contribute one scientific of evidence and didn't do it, wouldn't be able to live with myself," he commented. "Where do I get off backing the commission? Maybe better minds are right, but you always end up saying the truth is the truth and no S.O.B. has a right to say it is not Oswald unless he supplies proof. That's all we are asking."

Both Harris and Krakower have taken precautions against someone trying to haul their private crooks. Krakower has written letters detailing his involvement in the case, to be held in escrow against the chance that something happens to him. Harris has placed a positive print of the assassination scene in a Manhattan bank vault. He keeps all his photos, corre-respondence dealing with the case, magazine articles and other paraphernalia in a sea-lion skin traveling bag.

The last month Harris hired a young man named Bill Beckman, of Fort Worth, to go to Dallas and attempt to get a picture of Lovelady. It wasn't long before Lovelady realized he was being shadowed. He would spot Beckman sitting in a pickup truck near the loading platform of the Book Depository or trailing on foot. He always managed to elude Beckman or duck just as his picture was about to be snapped. This by-play went on for almost three weeks. Beckman, however, was determined to succeed. One Friday as Lovelady was about to quit work, Beckman stationed himself outside on the sidewalk. He later described the episode in a report: "At 4:40 I saw L. and a blonde (20 years old), I edged back and waited, camera poised. The girl, from around the corner, stomped up in a rage and slapped my right forearm and began an abusive tirade." The "blonde girl," as Beckman later learned to his surprise, was Lovelady's wife. Lovelady, meanwhile, had called a patrolman who was directing traffic and the three were taken to police headquarters. They were then transferred to the police surveillance office and after some questioning were released. Beckman was advised to leave Dallas.

Lovelady is flatly unwilling, understandably, to say anything about the Commission. He himself has drawn heavy enough to chew on. "Some crazy S.O.B.'s come by here drawing pictures of me, but I think I'm just a middle-aged drunk. I do, in fact, bear a similarity to Oswald. He is about an inch shorter, stockier and his hair, sparse like Oswald's, is a bit darker. But an impressionistic camera image could minimize these differences. "Hell, I'm better looking than he was," Lovelady enjoys saying.

Lovelady maintains it is he standing in the doorway at the moment of the assassination. "I was standing on the first step," he told me when I interviewed him two weeks ago in Dallas. "Several people in the picture saw me. That lady shading her eyes works here on the second floor."

Lovelady recalled that shortly after the assassination when Oswald's image appeared and reappeared on television programs, his two stepchildren, a boy six and a girl four, would point to the screen and say, "There's daddy." He said that while watching the motor-cade from the doorway of the Book Depository he distinctly heard three shots—"there was one, then a pause and two fast ones." In the confusion that followed, he is not sure if he heard what he supposed was the Presidential limousine had been, "but, man, they were going by that time." He returned to the warehouse and a roll call was taken of the dozen or so men in his work gang. Only Oswald was missing.

Lovelady woke at 6 a.m. on the morning of Noember 22, the day of the assassination, he had seen Oswald in the sixth floor of the warehouse. "I was putting in some flooring and he came over and asked about some book orders. We had a 10 o'clock break, then went back to work until noon, when we knocked off for lunch and to see the President." He said he, could not recall whether Oswald went downstairs with the rest of the men because both were working on different jobs. And besides, Oswald didn't mingle much.

...Lovelady maintains it is he standing in the doorway at the moment of the assassination. 'Hell, I'm better looking than he was,' he says...

Lovelady does not attempt to disguise his dislike of Oswald. "He was quick, carried on no conversation. He'd keep to himself mostly. He might read a book or a magazine or something but he'd have nothing to do with anybody. He'd ask a question about the orders, maybe, but that's about all. I can talk to a guy a couple of minutes and tell whether I like him didn't like Oswald."

Lovelady is more than a little irked by the attention he has received over the picture that still haunts Jones Harris. "The FBI, Secret Service, and the Warren Commission have all questioned me I don't know how many times," he remarked. "I remains dead against having his picture taken. "I got a wife and three kids to take care of and don't want trouble by having my mug in a newspaper," he explains.

J. W. Allgeen, veteran AP photographer in Dallas, recalls shooting the classic assassination picture in great detail. "I was about 30 feet in front of the President's limousine on Mrs. Kennedy's side. I remember wearing what I thought was a forecaster at the instant I snapped the picture. I was going to make another picture, the one I was really set up for, when I realized what had happened and I froze, again."

Ten days ago, still brooding over the picture, Jones Harris flew to Dallas, met with Lovelady and talked with him for about a quarter of an hour. Lovelady told him, yes, it war he standing in the doorway. Lovelady also told him that the FBI had taken several pictures of him, presumably to compare in the AP print of the assassination. Lovelady also said that on November 22 he was wearing a red-and-white striped sport shirt buttoned near his knees. Harris left Dallas still unconvinced. "I admit there is a strong resemblance between Lovelady and the blow-up of the figure standing in the doorway," he said. "But the figure in the picture does not appear to be wearing a striped shirt and it is bottomed very low, showing much of his white T-shirt. Why don't the FBI or the Warren Commission have Lovelady pose in the doorway and have Allgeen take a picture from the same distance and with the same camera in November 22?"

Allgeen, one of the very few witnesses who was close enough actually to see the President, is able to describe in minute detail what happened at that terrible moment. Yet, has never been interviewed by the FBI or the Warren Commis-ion.

The Warren Commission is expected to release its final report on the assassination of President Kennedy in a matter of weeks, perhaps before June is out. Jones Harris hopes the report will resolve all his doubts about the identity of the man in the doorway. Until then, Harris insists on doubting "It's all very strange," he says.

"The FBI told the Herald Tribune that it had turned over to the Warren Commission everything it had on the assassination and that it could not furnish a picture of Billy Lovelady at this time."

Subject: An Unidentified White Male Passing Out Pro-Castro Literature at Main and Ervay Streets

May 19, 1964

Sirs:

On some day in late spring or early summer of 1963, which was about a year ago, I received a call to meet Officer W. A. Finigan at Main and Ervay Streets regarding an unidentified white male passing out pro-Castro literature.

I went to the Special Service Bureau and informed Lt. Jack Revill of the situation. I told him that I was going to Main and Ervay and that I was going to try to find out the name of the person.

I went west on Main Street. As I approached Ervay Street, I pulled to the curb and got off of my three-wheel motorcycle. The white male ran into H. L. Green Department Store and fled. I could not get a good description of the man because he ducked behind a post in the entrance to the store, which was across the street on the northwest corner of the intersection. He was also going away from me and I observed him very briefly. He appeared to be medium build and he had on a white shirt. I could not identify this man.

Officer Finigan was going to give pursuit, but I told him "let him go."

Respectfully,

B. V. Harkness

Subject: An Unidentified White Male Passing Out Pre-Castro Literature at Main and Erasy Streets

Sir:

On a day in late spring or early summer of 1963, which was approximately one year ago, I was on the northeast corner of Main and Erasy Streets and observed an unidentified white male on the northeast corner of Main and Erasy Streets. This white male was passing out some sort of literature, and had a sign on his back which read "Viva Castro".

I went to the phone in Dreyfus & Son and called for Sgt. D.V. Harkness to meet me on the corner. While I was waiting for Sgt. Harkness, U.S. Commissioner W. Radden Hill came across the street and said "Something should be done about that guy passing out literature". Mr. Hill seemed to be very angry.

About this time, Sgt. Harkness drove up on his three-wheel motorcycle and stopped on the northeast corner where I was standing. As we started to discuss the situation, the white male removed the "Viva Castro" sign and ran into M. L. Brown Company. I started after him but was told by Sgt. Harkness to let him go. Another unknown white male told us that when Sgt. Harkness came up, this unidentified white male said "Oh, hell, here come the cops."

This unidentified white male was of medium weight and height and had on a white shirt and was bare headed. I can not identify this white male because he was across the street and I was waiting for Sgt. Harkness to make the initial contact with him.

Respectfully,

W. R. Finley

J. D. ANDERSON, the owner of the Milers Service Company, 225 Magazine Street, was shown a photograph of LEE H. OSWALD taken by the New Orleans Police Department on August 9, 1963, and identified OSWALD as the individual who came to ANDERSON's company on June 3, 1963, and ordered 300 offset printed copies of an application form.

ANDERSON does not remember whether the original layout was printed, typed or handwritten. ANDERSON said he had not retained the original layout which OSWALD brought in and does not know what happened to it.

ANDERSON said the name he wrote on the bill for OSWALD was LEE OSPRIN. He said he could not remember whether this was the name given to him by OSWALD or whether when he was told the name he misunderstood and wrote OSPRIN instead of OSWALD.

ANDERSON said OSWALD had been sent to him by Mr. GLYNN A. YOUNG of Direct Mail Enterprises, Inc., 424 Gravier Street. He said that apparently YOUNG sent OSWALD to him as his company was too busy at the time to handle the order.

ANDERSON said that at the time OSWALD came into his shop, ANDERSON's mother and father were on vacation in Miami, Florida, and he had no one to type up the paper master copy for this printing job so he took it to Mr. GLYNN A. YOUNG of Direct Mail Enterprises, Inc., who had one of his girls type it up and then the printing job was done at Milers Service Company.

ANDERSON said the job order for the above order showed that OSWALD received the printed matter on June 5, 1963. He said he recalled OSWALD returned and picked up the package which he gave to OSWALD and OSWALD paid $9.34 cash for the order.

ANDERSON said sometime later, date unknown, OSWALD again came to his company and ordered 300 copies of a 2 1/4” x 3 1/2” card which appeared to be some type of membership card.

ANDERSON had retained the original printed layout for this card which OSWALD gave to him by OSWALD. ANDERSON said that this order was typed and run off in his shop and OSWALD returned a couple of days later to pick this order up. At the time he picked the order up, OSWALD was not satisfied with the job as he had wanted it on card type paper rather than the thick paper used. ANDERSON said, however, that OSWALD accepted the 300 copies and paid $3.50 cash at this time. He said OSWALD had not returned to his shop since that time.

ANDERSON said a complete search of the records of the business turned up no record for this sale and because of this he could not determine the date OSWALD brought in the original printed layout for this "membership card," nor could he determine the date OSWALD picked up the completed order. ANDERSON said he is fairly certain OSWALD must have come in either the latter part of June or during July or early August.

ANDERSON said OSWALD did not reorder any more copies of the application form or the membership card, nor did OSWALD place any other job orders at his shop.

ANDERSON furnished a printed copy of the application form entitled, "The Fair Play for Cuba Committee, New Orleans, La." ANDERSON also furnished the original layout of the "membership card" and also furnished a printed copy of this card.
A printed copy of the application for membership form for the Fair Play for Cuba Committee has been forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination.

The original handprinted layout of the membership card in the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, New Orleans Chapter, and one printed copy of this card has been sent to the FBI Laboratory for examination.

The following pages contain exact reproductions of the application for membership form, the handwritten layout of the membership card and the printed copy of the membership card.

August 4, 1964
BY COURIER SERVICE

Honorable J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, N. E.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of July 9, 1964, requesting that this Bureau investigate the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald, either alone or with others, may have distributed Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature in the vicinity of a United States aircraft carrier which was docked in New Orleans, Louisiana, approximately June, 1963.

Enclosed are two copies of a memorandum dated July 16, 1964, at Washington, D. C., and two copies of a memorandum dated July 22, 1964, at New Orleans, Louisiana, which set forth results of our inquiries in this matter. You will note in the enclosed memorandum of July 22, 1964, it is reported that Patrolman Girod Ray, Harbor Police, New Orleans, Louisiana, stated he believes Lee Harvey Oswald distributed literature in the vicinity of the Domeine Street Wharf in New Orleans. You will also note that copies of the literature obtained by Patrolman Ray from the individual he believes to be Oswald are included in our memorandum of July 22, 1964.

In connection with the handbill made available by Patrolman Ray, entitled "HANDS OFF CUBA!" which he obtained from the individual he believes to be Lee Harvey Oswald, your attention is directed to the report of Special Agent Warren C. deBrouux dated December 8, 1963, at Dallas, Texas, in the Oswald case which sets out data on pages 393 through 401.

Commission Exhibit No. 1412

Honorlable J. Lee Rankin

regarding the handbill containing the same caption "HANDS OFF CUBA!" which was ordered by Lee Harvey Oswald from the Jones Printing Company, 422 Girod Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. A copy of this handbill entitled "HANDS OFF CUBA!" and copies of other literature ordered by Oswald in connection with his Fair Play for Cuba Committee activities in New Orleans, have been furnished to the Commission in our Evidence Exhibit Number D-31.

This concludes our investigation in this particular matter.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Enclosures (4)
It will be recalled that a Mr. Martin Samuel Abelow advised that in or about June of 1962, while on a vacation trip in New Orleans, Louisiana, he observed a young man distributing Fair Play for Cuba Committee leaflets to a crowd waiting to board a United States aircraft carrier, which was docked in New Orleans at that time. It will also be recalled that in a letter to Mr. V. T. Lee, then National Director of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, Oswald said that "we also managed to picket the fleet when it came in and I was surprised at the number of officers which were interested in our leaflets."

Pursuing the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald, either alone or with others, may have distributed Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature under the circumstances indicated above, inquiry was made at the Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI).

*On July 14, 1964, Wilbur Sartwell, ONI, Potomac River Naval Command, telephonically advised a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), that the files of his office contain no information that would relate to the subject and the incident described above. He indicated any such record would be at Headquarters, ONI.

On July 15, 1964, Mr. Don Gorham, Acting Chief, NCISC-3, United States Naval Counter Intelligence Support Command, ONI, made available to a representative of the FBI, the Headquarters, ONI files pertaining to the subject.

A review of these files, on July 15, 1964, failed to disclose any record, or reference to, the circumstances described previously in this communication. This also includes a summary of information available in the file relating to the subject up to the period of the assassination.
On July 21, 1964, Mr. Lloyd Beck, Office of Naval Intelligence, Eighth Naval District, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that according to the records of his agency, the aircraft carrier "USS Wasp" (CVS-18) visited the Port of New Orleans from June 13, 1963 to June 20, 1963 and during this period of time, was berthed at the Dumaine Street Wharf. Mr. Beck informed that the "USS Wasp" was one of six U.S. Naval Vessels visiting the Port of New Orleans during this period and that the "USS Wasp" is currently at its home port of Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. Beck informed that no information had been received by his agency that during the period that the "USS Wasp" visited the Port of New Orleans, any individual was engaged in distributing leaflets in the vicinity of the "USS Wasp" or any other Naval Vessel.

On July 21, 1964, Raymond Martinas, Harbor Master, Port of New Orleans, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that he recalled the visit of the aircraft carrier, the "USS Wasp" to the Port of New Orleans during June, 1963. Mr. Martinas informed that no information had come to his attention that any individual had been distributing leaflets near the "USS Wasp" during the period of time this ship was visiting the Port of New Orleans.

On July 21, 1964, Lieutenant Roy Allman, New Orleans Harbor Police, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that his agency in no way connected with the New Orleans Police Department, but is a separate and distinct law enforcement agency. He informed that his agency is under the control of the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans, an agency of the State of Louisiana.

Lieutenant Allman advised he recalled an incident wherein an individual was distributing leaflets on the Dumaine Street Wharf at the time the "USS Wasp" was berthed during June, 1963. Lieutenant Allman stated that he recalled that Harbor Patrolman Girod Ray had been contacted by a member of the United States Navy and requested to locate an individual who was passing out leaflets on the Dumaine Street Wharf near where the "USS Wasp" was berthed. As a result, Patrolman Ray located this individual, name unknown, and asked this individual to leave the premises. Lieutenant Allman stated that no arrest was made and that this person upon request, did leave the Dumaine Street Wharf. Lieutenant Allman informed that Patrolman Ray obtained two leaflets that this unknown individual had been passing out and recalled that one of these leaflets had "something to do with Cuba" but could not recall any additional information.

Lieutenant Allman stated that he did not personally observe the individual passing out the leaflets and that he could furnish no additional information regarding this incident. He stated that the records of his agency do contain a brief, type-written report made by Patrolman Ray, and also one copy each of the pamphlets that this unknown individual was distributing. Lieutenant Allman furnished copies of these pamphlets, together with a copy of Patrolman Ray's report, which are set forth in the attached pages.

On July 21, 1964, Patrolman Girod Ray, Harbor Police, advised a Special Agent of the FBI he recalled the incident in June of 1963 wherein he requested an individual to leave the Dumaine Street Wharf, after this individual was observed passing out leaflets in the vicinity of the "USS Wasp."

Patrolman Ray stated that he could not recall the day of the week, but believed it was either on a Saturday or a Sunday and that he had been assigned to a roving patrol in the area of the Toulouse and the Dumaine Street Wharves. He said this was a special assignment, inasmuch as the "USS Wasp" was berthed and that there were visiting hours for civilians who desired to go aboard this ship. Patrolman Ray stated that late in the afternoon, possibly between 3:00 pm and 5:00 pm he was approached by an unknown enlisted man from the "USS Wasp" who told him that the officer of the Deck of the "USS Wasp" desired Patrolman Ray to seek out an individual who was passing out leaflets regarding Cuba and to request this individual to stop passing out these leaflets. Patrolman Ray stated that he was between the Toulouse and Dumaine Street Wharves when he received this information and thereafter, immediately went to the Dumaine Street Wharf where he saw an unknown white male passing out leaflets which were white and yellow in color. He described this unknown individual as a white male, age late 20's, 5'9" tall, 150 pounds, and slender build. He said this individual was distributing these leaflets to U.S. Naval personnel in the area and also to civilians who were leaving the "USS Wasp." Patrolman Ray stated that he approached this person and asked him if he had permission to distribute the leaflets. This person replied that he did not have permission to do this and felt that he did not need anyone's permission since he was within his rights to distribute leaflets in any area he desired to do so. Patrolman Ray stated that he told this individual that the wharves and buildings along the Mississippi River, encompassing the Port of New Orleans, are operated by the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans, and that if this individual received permission from the Board of Commissioners, he could distribute these leaflets. Patrolman Ray stated that after informing this individual of this information, this person kept insisting that he did not see why he would need anyone's permission and thereafter, Patrolman Ray informed this individual that if he did not leave the Dumaine Street Wharf, Patrolman Ray would arrest him. Upon hearing this, this person then left the Dumaine Street Wharf.

Patrolman Ray stated he could not recall how this person was dressed, other than that he was well groomed and that this unknown individual was alone and was not assisted in the distribution of these leaflets by any other person.

Patrolman Ray stated that he could not now recall whether he looked at some type of identification of this individual, but believes he may have done so. Patrolman Ray stated that he feels sure that he wrote this unknown person's name on a slip of paper, but that apparently he had lost this piece of paper.

As he did not include this individual's name in his typewritten report and that he could not recall the name.

Patrolman Ray stated that he feels that this unknown individual who was distributing the leaflets was Lee Harvey Oswald. He said he bases this on the fact that subsequent to the incident, he had observed photographs of Oswald on television and in the newspapers and that from these photographs he observed, he believes that the individual on the Dumaine Street Wharf was Lee Harvey Oswald.
On January 16, 1961, the United States Government imposed a ban on travel by U.S. citizens to Cuba. Failure to abide by the ban is punishable by a fine of $5,000 or 5 years in jail or both. (8 USC 1188, 22 USC 725.) This is in clear contradiction to remarks made by President Kennedy before the United Nations on September 22, 1961, when he deprecated action by any nation which “builds a wall to keep truth a stranger and its own citizens prisoners”. It seems also to violate the spirit of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations in 1948 which states “Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own and return to his country”.

What mysterious features exist on this tiny island of 60 million people to become so taboo for American eyes? Although the policy of the Castro government is to promote tourism everywhere in Cuba, our government innocently explains that the travel ban is to safeguard our welfare.

- Why then does it allow American citizens to travel in such trouble spots as Sumatra’s Nicobar islands?
- Why has it exempted Americans such as "certain" businessmen and "certain" reporters from the ban when they are the very ones most likely to become involved in international incidents?
- Why then do other Western countries such as Canada, Mexico, England, France, West Germany, etc., find that the safety of their nationals does not require restrictions on travel to Cuba?

Our government states that another reason for the ban is travel to Cuba. If we then are travel allowed and even encouraged to admittedly Communist countries such as Poland, Yugoslavia and even the Soviet Union?

In short, WHAT IS THE GOVERNMENT HIDING?

As a result of the Cuban Revolution stopping the flow of Cuban wealth to the United States, Cuban real estate has long been purchased by the government of the Cuban nation.

- Can it be that the new schools, houses and hospitals of revolutionary Cuba might contrast severely with the Cuba that served as a U.S. plantation and might weigh heavily on the American conscience?
- Can it be that we would also see the effects of the recent invasion which was supported by 43,000,000 dollars of our tax money?

WE MAINTAIN THAT THE TRUTH ABOUT CUBA IS IN CUBA AND THAT WE HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBSERVE AND JUDGE FOR OURSELVES WHAT IS HAPPENING THERE!

If you agree:
- Seek permission from the Passport Office to go there. When it is denied, ask why.
- Write to the U.S. State Department and President Kennedy asking that our government adhere to concepts of justice and international law and expressing your opinion on the travel ban.
- Read books which present the side of the story you haven’t been told such as 90 MILES FROM HOME by Warren Miller and LISTEN YANKEE by C. Wright Mills.

Both of these books are in pocketbook editions and can be purchased at the bookstores.

INTER-OFFICE COMMUNICATION

DATE: June 16, 1963

TO: Chief L. Deutschman

FROM: Patrolman Girod Ray

SUBJECT: Distribution of Propaganda Literature

While working a special assignment at Dumas St. Wharf I was approached by a U.S.S. Navy Officer from the U.S.S. Wasp, who stated that he saw a white male adult subject handing out the enclosed pamphlets to persons visiting the Wasp, berthed at Dumas St. Wharf.

I immediately looked for this subject and found him distributing these pamphlets and asked him if he had received permission from the Dock Board to issue these papers. He stated that he thought as an American citizen he did not need anyone's permission. I ordered this man off of our property and told him he would have to refrain from issuing anything on Dock Board Property without their express consent.

Honorable Jimmie H. Davis
Governor of Louisiana
Baton Rouge, Louisiana

Dear Governor Davis:

As you may know, President Johnson on November 29, 1963 established this Commission to study and report upon all the facts and circumstances relating to the assassination of the late President, John F. Kennedy, and the subsequent killing of the man charged with the assassination.

It would be helpful to the work of the Commission if you would obtain from the St. Tammany Parish School Board and the City of New Orleans for the Commission’s review, copies of any documents they have in their files relating to Lee Harvey Oswald. We are particularly interested in obtaining Oswald’s educational files. In this connection, we are informed that Oswald attended the following Louisiana schools: The Old Covington Grammar School, Covington, Louisiana from September 19, 1946 until January 29, 1947; Beanregard Junior High School, New Orleans, Louisiana, in 1951; and Warren Eastern High School, New Orleans, Louisiana, from September 8, 1955 until October 5, 1955.

In addition, the Commission would like to review any related psychiatric reports, any records maintained by the New Orleans Police Department and any other information in any State or local agency’s possession which would assist the Commission in learning as much as possible about the background of Lee Harvey Oswald.

The Commission of course realizes the confidential character of much, if not all, of this information and hastens to assure you that it and the numbers of its staff will be accordingly governed in its use.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel

DEPARTMENT OF POLICE
INTEROFFICE CORRESPONDENCE

TO: Major Freely J. Trosclair, Jr.       DATE: August 12, 1963
FROM: Sgt. Horace J. Austin & Patn. Warren Roberts

SUBJECT: Interview of four male subjects at the First District Police Station, on Friday, August 9, 1963, after their arrest from Canal Street.

Sir:
The following information is respectfully reported relative to the interview of four arrested subjects in the First District Police Station, beginning at about 4:15 P.M., Friday, August 9, 1963. Three of the four subjects, identified as Lee Harvey Oswald, WW, age 23, residing 4507 Magazine Street, had allegedly been exposing communist literature on Canal Street, and three Cubans, the other three arrested subjects, had become involved in an altercation with Oswald, which resulted in the arrest of the four subjects.

Lee Harvey Oswald furnished the following information when interviewed:

He is a member of The Fair Play For Cuba Committee, whose address is 795 Broadway, New York 3, N. Y., Telephone UN-8295.
Oswald was in his possession a National Membership Card issued on 5/28/63, and the president's name on this card was "E. T. Lee." Oswald had also a local membership card dated 6/6/63 (N.O. Chapter of the FPPCC), and the president of the local chapter, whose name was on the card was "Ma. Riedell."

Oswald presented his Social Security Card, which did not bear his signature, and the number of this card was 433-52-3093.

Oswald presented his U.S. Marine Corp. discharge card (Honorable bearing service number 2653230), and date of active duty from Oswald stated he was born in New Orleans on October 18, 1939, that he is about 5' 9" tall, about 120 lbs., and is a mechanic by trade. He stated he did mechanic work in the Marine Corps, and that he is presently unemployed and has been so about three weeks.

Before he was laid-off, Oswald stated, he worked at the Louisiana Coffee Company for about three months, and before that he had worked at Fort Worth, Texas, at a sheetmetal place. Oswald stated he worked in Fort Worth at the sheetmetal place for several months, but was very evasive in answering any further questions of employment prior to that time.

Oswald stated that he lives with his wife, whose maiden name was Marina Prus, WW, age 21. They were married in Fort Worth, have one child seventeen months of age, and reside presently at 4507 Magazine Street, lower center, New Orleans.

Oswald stated that he has two brothers, who reside, like his mother, in Fort Worth, Texas. He stated that his father, John Lee Oswald, is deceased.

Oswald's mother: Maryette Oswald, resides by herself in Fort Worth, Texas.

Oswald's brothers: Robert Oswald, WW, age 27, and John Oswald, WW, age 32.

Oswald stated he had talked to Major Trosclair about setting a permit for F.F.P.C.C. and the Major advised him to consult his attorney.
Oswald said he never did go and see about a permit at city hall.

Oswald further stated the Cubans came up to him where he was giving out the leaflets and began to tear them up and throw them in the street. Oswald stated that they started to yell that he was a communist and about that time the officers from the First District came up and a crowd had gathered. Oswald stated he joined the Fair Play for Cuba Committee when he found a leaflet on the street one day and read what was on it, and sent $5.00 to the address which was in New York city and after a brief period of time he was sent material through the mail and contacted the committee and attended to attend the meetings, which he stated were held in each others homes. Oswald stated they, the members, got together and talk about how it would be to visit Cuba, life in Cuba, etc.

Oswald denied the organization was communist, or a communist front, when asked by Captain James Arnold, Commanding Officer of the First Police District, who came in during the interview, but Oswald said he was a participant and was carrying a piece of cardboard with "VIVA VIVA Fidel" painted on it and the paraphernalia he was handing out was pasted on this cardboard also. Oswald stated he has never been to Cuba, and it appeared as though he is being used by these people and is very uniformed and knows very little about the organization that he belongs to and its ultimate purpose or goal. Oswald stated that the people that attend these informal meetings are working class people, such as clerical, trades, etc.

The three Cubans were interviewed and furnished the following information:

1. Celso Yacario Hernandez, WW, age 47, D.O.B. 1/8/16, Social Security number 205-76-8756

Hernandez stated he came to the United States via Miami, Florida, on October 9, 1962, with his family and he was a traveling hickory man in Cuba. He came to New Orleans on January 8, 1963, and resides at 510 Adele Street, New Orleans with his family. He has not had any employment except for a few days of manual labor in Miami, Florida, and is presently on relief or welfare.
The names of the family of Calso M. Hernandez are as follows:

- Kifte: Maria De La Caridad Valero, WP, age 41 (Maiden name)
- Daughter: Maria De Los Angeles, WP, age 14

The Truth about Cuba

IS IN CUBA!

On January 16, 1961, the United States Government imposed a ban on travel by U.S. citizens to Cuba. Failure to abide by the ban is punishable by a fine of $5,000 or 5 years in jail or both. (8 USC 1185, 72 USC 275.)

This is in clear contradition to remarks made by President Kennedy before the United Nations on September 22, 1961, when he deplored action by any nation which "builds a wall to keep truth a stranger and its own citizens prisoners". It seems also to violate the spirit of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations in 1948 which states "Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own and return to his country".

What mysterious features exist on this tiny island of 6½ million people to become so taboo for American eyes? Although the policy of the Castro government is to promote tourism everywhere in Cuba, our government innocently explains that the travel ban is to safeguard our welfare.

1. Why then does it allow American citizens to travel in such trouble spots as Somosa's Nicaragua?
2. Why then does it exempt Americans such as "certain" businessmen and "certain" reporters from the ban when they are the very ones most likely to become involved in international incidents?
3. Why then do other Western countries such as Canada, Mexico, England, France, West Germany, etc., find that the safety of their nationals does not require restrictions on travel to Cuba?

Our government states that another reason for the ban on travel is that it is in the national interest to combat Communism by preventing travel to Cuba.

1. Why then is travel allowed and even encouraged to admirably Communist countries such as Poland, Yugoslavia and even the Soviet Union?

In short, WHAT IS THE GOVERNMENT HIDING?

As a result of the Cuban Revolution stopping the flow of Cuban wealth to the United States, Cuban oil, industry and manpower has been put at the disposal of the Cuban nation.

1. Can it be that the new schools, homes and hospitals of revolutionary Cuba might contrast severely with the Cuba that served as a U.S. plantation and might weigh heavily on the American conscience?
2. Can it be that we would also see the effects of the recent invasion which was supported by $3,000,000 dollars of our tax money?

WE MAINTAIN THAT THE TRUTH ABOUT CUBA IS IN CUBA AND THAT WE HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBSERVE AND JUDGE FOR OURSELVES WHAT IS HAPPENING THERE!

If you agree:
1. Seek permission from the Passport Office to go there. When it is denied, ask why.
2. Write to the U.S. State Department and President Kennedy asking that our government adhere to concepts of justice and international law and expressing your opinion on the travel ban.
3. Read books which present the side of the story you haven't been told such as GO MILE'S FROM HOME by Warren Miller and LISTEN YANKIE by C. Wright Mills.

Both of these books are in pocketbook editions and can be purchased at the bookstands.

INTEROFFICE CORRESPONDENCE

TO: Major P. J. Trosclair Jr.  DATE: November 27, 1963

SUBJECT: Relative to Oswald Case - Interview with one

Sam Newman, this date. Commission Exhibit 1413

The undersigned officers respectfully report that at about 2:30 P.M., Wednesday, November 27, 1963, they arrived at 4114 St. Charles Avenue, an apartment house managed by Mr. Sam Newman, a W&F, residing 1337 Walth Village Street. Newman is also the owner of the offices at 54th Camp Street, and the purpose of this interview was to learn of the leasing of one of the offices at 54th Camp Street by the organization known as the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

Upon being questioned about the above, Mr. Newman stated that about fifteen months ago he leased an office at 54th Camp Street to an organization known to him as the Cuban Revolutionary Society. Mr. Newman stated that this group was run by young Monteleone of the Monteleone Hotel. Newman also stated that Guy Banister was well acquainted with this organization.

When asked if he knew either Lee Oswald or a man named Kundell, Mr. Newman stated that he did not know anyone by name associated with this group. Mr. Newman did state however that this organization was in his office for only about 4 or 5 months, and since they fell behind in their rent, he put them out. He also stated that after this, someone who had the key came into this office and when he, Mr. Newman, asked them what they were doing there, this man stated that he was taking over the office. Mr. Newman stated that he took the key from this man and put him out. Mr. Newman described this man as a white male, blond hair, and red complexion. When asked, Mr. Newman stated that he knew nothing about the organization, Fair Play for Cuba.

Mr. Newman showed the officers a page in a small notebook which he took from his pocket. On this page were the following names: Louis Habek, who Mr. Newman stated headed the Cuban Revolutionary Society, (a telephone number appearing by this name and was recorded by the officers as 657-5544). The other name on this page was: Mr. Grimmendor, who Mr. Newman stated had an auditing office in the Audubon Building. (telephone number by this name was 524-2388) Mr. Newman received a check for the rent of this office from Mr. Grimmendor.

Mr. Newman stated that he had given all this information to the F.B.I. and the Secret Service.

This interview was completed at about 2:30 P.M.

the C.A.P.C., Voebel stated that he did not know of any. When asked if he had ever heard of the Eagle Squadron, Voebel stated that he had not. When asked if he, Voebel, had ever flown with Dave Ferrie, Voebel stated that he had not, but other boys had made local flights with him. When asked if he knew of Ferrie flying on long trips, out of this country, Voebel stated that he did not.

Voebel gave the name of one other person, a member of the C.A.P.C. in 1955, as John Rondell (not sure of the spelling of the last name). Voebel stated that Capt. Ferrie wanted Rondell to get a radio license for use in the C.A.P.C.

Voebel stated that he remained a member of the C.A.P.C. about one year.

Other facts obtained from Voebel relative to himself are as follows:

Voebel was graduated from Fortier High School in 1958. He then attended the Marion Military Institute, Marion, Alabama, in 1959 and 1960. He then served six months in the U.S. Army, taking his basic at Ft. Chaffee, Arkansas, and serving the remaining time and being discharged from Ft. Gordon, Georgia. Voebel presently resides at 4916 Canal Street, where he assists in the operation of the Quality Florists at that address. Voebel is presently in the Reserves, Unit 7515, at Camp Leroy Johnson, New Orleans.

Voebel also stated that he has been interviewed by members of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Secret Service and by members of the news media. Voebel was also interviewed publicly on WNL-TV a day or so after the arrest of Lee Oswald in Dallas, Texas.

This interview was concluded at about 12:10 P.M.

ASSASSIN OF PRESIDENT John F. Kennedy

INVESTIGATION MADE AT:

New Orleans, Louisiana
December 1-5, 1963

INVESTIGATION MADE BY:

SA Anthony V. Gerret and SA Roger B. Counts

SYNOPSIS:

Extensive investigation conducted thus far has failed to establish that Lee Harvey Oswald ed offices at 554 Camp Street, New Orleans. He has likewise been impossible to find anyone who recalls ever seeing Lee Harvey Oswald at this address.

DETAILS OF INVESTIGATION

Reference is made to report dated 12-3-63, submitted by SA A. G. Vial and covering investigation conducted during the period November 22, 1963, through December 5, 1963, by SA's A. G. Vial, Anthony V. Gerret, and Roger B. Counts, as well as SA John V.
Rice.

On pages 14 and 15 of the above mentioned report, evidence was made on the address
"554 Camp Street, New Orleans, La. ", which appeared on some of the literature in the possession of Lee Harvey Oswald when he was arrested by members of the New Orleans Police Department on 12-3-63 for fighting with several civilians. Mention of the address
"554 Camp Street" is also made on page 2 of my report of 12-5-63, covering investigation conducted by SA John V. Rice and myself during the period November 22-27, 1963.

On 12-4-63, reporting agents interviewed Mr. Ernesto N. Rodriguez, Sr., 1205 St. Charles Avenue, New Orleans, Telephone: 523-1720.

Mr. Rodriguez, Sr., is 72 years of age, having been born in Havana, Cuba, on 5-15-91. Jr.
Rodriguez stated that he attended the Colegio Institute (no longer existent) at New Orleans, completing a high school course and specializing in English. This was about 1917. He said he subsequently attended the Oulee Business College, New Orleans, graduating therefrom in September, 1929, having completed a 2-year commercial course.
He said he returned to Cuba and subsequently established himself in the wholesale electrical business. He said he continued in the electrical business in Havana until Bureau of Certification, Police Department, New Orleans, La.

Mr. Rodrigues, Sr., stated that Sergio Arceo Smith, mentioned on Page 15 of CA Vial's report of 12-3-63, was formerly the New Orleans delegate of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, with offices at 535 Camp Street, Room 96, second floor, New Orleans, La. He said that Arceo was "fired" from his position as New Orleans delegate to the "C R C" by the organization's main office in Miami, because practically all Cubans in New Orleans were raising funds and his activities - not because he was cooperating with Castro but because of his dishonesty. According to Mr. Rodrigues, Arceo was misappropriating the organization's funds. Mr. Rodrigues was of the opinion that Arceo may possibly be now in Miami but not at all certain as to this.

Mr. Rodrigues, Sr., stated that Carlos Quiroga, mentioned on Pages 14 and 20 of CA Vial's report of 12-3-63 knew Arceo well and was with him frequently (in a very close connection) at 535 Camp Street. Mr. Rodrigues did not know what happened to Quiroga's connection with Arceo after the latter was fired.

Mr. Rodrigues stated that Arceo made frequent visits to the office of Nosen Calle, then located at 705 Cepal Ave., New Orleans. He said Nosen Calle was the principal organizer of the organization known as "CUBASE TO PROD CUBA COMMITTEE," with headquarters at Nosen Calle's office and not at 535 Camp Street. He said that Nosen Calle had prevailed upon Arceo to join or become a part of the "CUBASE TO PROD CUBA COMMITTEE" and that Arceo was connected with the "CUBASE" even after he was fired as New Orleans delegate to the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL," against the opinion of the Cubans.

According to Mr. Rodrigues, Sr., Carlos Quiroga was not an actual member of either the "CUBASE TO PROD CUBA" or the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL" but participated in meetings held for the purpose of promoting unity among or between the several local anti-Castro organizations such as the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL" and the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL." Mr. Rodrigues, Sr., stated that the "CUBASE TO PROD CUBA COMMITTEE" was founded primarily to raise funds with which to buy arms and supplies for use by the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL" and that the "CUBASE" has no actual revolutionary activities of any kind against Castro. He added that the "CUBASE" was, however, definitely opposed to Castro and would offer cooperation in the overthrow of Castro.

Mr. Rodrigues, Sr., stated that Nosen Calle had a quantity of pamphlets or circulars printed, which he had distributed by hand, soliciting funds for the "CUBASE TO PROD CUBA COMMITTEE." According to Mr. Rodrigues, Nosen Calle showed that contributions were to be sent either to 535 Camp Street or to the Post Office Box of Sergio Arceo.

Mr. Rodrigues, Sr., said that he had never seen Oswald in his life and only knew that Oswald had had a fight with Carlos Brindger and two other Cubans on Canal Street, New Orleans, for which he had been arrested on 8-9-63. He said that he had no idea why the "FAIR PLAY 2 CRU CUBA COMMITTEE" was using the address of 535 Camp Street, New Orleans, former address of the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL," an anti-Castro or anti-Communist, versus the "C R C" was pro-Castro. Mr. Rodrigues said he did not know of anyone who had belonged to the "C R C."
Mr. Ravel stated that he was formerly connected with the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL," 5th Camp St., New Orleans, and had been the new orleans delegate to the organization when Sergio Arceca Smith was "fired" from that position. Mr. Ravel said he had never seen Lee Harvey Oswald personally and could furnish no information about him. Mr. Ravel was shown a copy of the booklet entitled "The Crime Against Cuba" but could furnish no information as to why the rumor stamp impression: "P C C 5th Camp St. NEW ORLEANS, LA." appeared on this booklet.

Mr. Ravel stated that the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL" had left behind quite a few propagandists leaflets or pamphlets at 5th Camp Street when they moved into a larger quarters, at which time the headquarters for this organization were moved to his home at 6001 Markey St., New Orleans.

Mr. Ravel stated that Billy Montealegre, of the Monteleone Hotel, New Orleans, had been Chairman and Sponsor of the "CHASSE TO FREE CUBA CUBANITAS." Mr. Ravel stated that Sergio Arceca Smith had a poor reputation for honesty in all financial matters, because he was suspected of having embezzled some of the funds of the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL." He said that Arceca had allegedly gone to jail about a year or so ago after he had been fired as delegate at New Orleans by the "M C G." On December 2-3, 1963, a reporter received a telephone call from Mr. Amos E. Rodriguez, Jr., New Orleans, telling him that the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL," 5th Camp St., New Orleans, had been occupied by the police at 5th Camp Street at about 11:30 p.m. Sunday, December 1, 1963. It was reported that police were occupying the premises.

On December 2-3, 1963, a reporter received a telephone call from Mr. Luis Ravel. He stated that he had looked up some records and determined that he had taken over as delegate for the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL," 5th Camp St., New Orleans, in February, 1962, and a short time thereafter had the organization's office from 5th Camp Street to his home. He said that the "CHASSE TO FREE CUBA CUBANITAS" was organized shortly thereafter and lasted only about a month. He also stated that the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL" in New Orleans, 5th Camp Street, was still in existence, the present delegate being FRANK HART, 1000I Landry Ave., New Orleans, and that the "CUBAN REVOLUTIONARY COUNCIL" had been a delegate for the "STUDENTS' REVOLUTIONARY LIBERATION" at New Orleans.

During interviews with Luis Ravel he informed me that he had left New Orleans about a year or so ago and gone to New York to take part in the anti-Castro movements in that country; that he had received his strength by working very hard in such activities and suffered what could be classed as a nervous breakdown. He said he was presently under the care of a psychiatrist and to have divorced himself from any anti-Castro activities whatsoever because of his health.

On December 2-3, 1963, a reporter received a telephone call from Mr. Robert Davis Hurst, Secretary-Treasurer, and Mrs. Helen McCarthy, Office Secretary, with negative results. They stated that they had never seen Lee Harvey Oswald and knew nothing of the

"FAI PLAY FOR CUBA CUBANITAS" ever being at this address.

On December 2-3, 1963, a reporter received a telephone call from Mr. Robert Davis Hurst, Secretary-Treasurer, and Mrs. Helen McCarthy, Office Secretary, with negative results. They stated that they had never seen Lee Harvey Oswald and knew nothing of the "FAI PLAY FOR CUBA CUBANITAS."
he had seen Oswald and for that reason he could not be positive in identifying Oswald's photograph that he was the man he had in mind. Mr. Caire could furnish no information re Oswald using 58th Camp Street as an address.

During the interview with Mr. Randy Caire, he stated that Sergio Arceca may have been seen on a few occasions that Arceca allegedly drove a car from New Orleans to Miami. On 12-6-63 reporting agent interviewed Mr. Robert E. Lewalle, Director of Finance, City of New Orleans, also Mr. Joseph Orlech, Secretary to the Director of Finance, to determine whether the "FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE" had applied for a permit from the City of New Orleans to operate in New Orleans. It was found that this organization was not on record with the Director of Finance.

On 12-6-63 SABC radio inquired of FBI Special Agent Paul Alker, New Orleans, as to the results of any investigation which they may have conducted in an attempt to connect Lee Harvey Oswald and the "FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE" with the address 58th Camp Street, New Orleans, SA Alker advised that they had checked the angle out thoroughly but with negative results.

The overall investigation with reference to Lee Harvey Oswald is being continued at New Orleans and in the event any information is developed which would place him at 58th Camp St., New Orleans, it will be the subject of another report.

THE DOCTORS’ HARD FIGHT TO SAVE HIM

By Earl Ubell
Science Editor

The bullet that crashed through President Kennedy’s neck and head probably took with it blood vessels and nerves leaving his entire body stunned and helpless. The chances are that he felt no pain. The Dallas doctors tried to massage his heart from the outside, to no avail.

In Dallas, Dr. Malcolm Perry, 34, attendant surgeon at Parkland Hospital who attended the President, said he saw two wounds—one below the Adam’s apple, the other at the back of the head. He said he did not know if two bullets were involved. It is possible, he said, that the neck wound was the entrance and the other the exit of the missile.

Dr. Perry said that the President arrived in a critical condition and already was moribund. Probably because breathing centers in the brain were affected, the President was having trouble breathing. To help him breathe, Dr. Perry performed a tracheotomy: he slit the President’s windpipe from the outside and placed a tube in the throat.

The doctor and his colleagues also marshaled an oxygen pump to keep as much of the vital gas flowing to the President as possible.

Against the possibility that air might have infiltrated the President’s chest between the lungs and the chest wall, the doctors insert tubes to help him breathe.

Dr. Kemp Clark, the hospital’s chief of neurosurgery and one of the ten physicians summoned, was on hand in case some brain repair was necessary. By the time he arrived, the President’s heart had stopped.

It was at this point that Dr. Perry attempted to get the heart going again by pressing on the President’s breastbone from the outside. This maneuver squeezes the heart muscle and keeps blood flowing to the brain and the rest of the body. It is the method of choice, preferred to opening the chest and massaging the heart directly.

To make up for the blood loss and possible internal hemorrhages, the doctors also gave blood transfusions, reported of type B, Rh positive. They also administered salt solutions by vein in the hopes of keeping up blood pressure.

Finally an electrocardiograph machine was attached to the President to keep track of his heartbeat. It was this device that finally recorded on a slip of paper the final pulse of the stricken President’s heart.

The doctors, too busy to notice the clock, later arbitrarily set the time of death at 1 p.m. The President had lived 40 minutes from the time of the shooting.
James L. Simmons, 1325 Rosemont Street, Mesquite, Texas, was interviewed at the Union Terminal Company, 500 South Houston Street, Dallas, Texas. Simmons advised that he is a car inspector and on November 22, 1963, he was standing on the Elm Street viaduct with some fellow employees waiting for President John F. Kennedy's motorcade to come into view. Simmons stated when the President's car started down Elm Street he heard three shots ring out. President Kennedy slumped forward in his seat and appeared to have been hit by a bullet.

Simmons said he recalled that a motorcycle policeman drove up the grassy slope toward the Texas School Book Depository Building, jumped off his motorcycle and then ran up the hill toward the Memorial Arches. Simmons said he thought he saw exhaust fumes of smoke near the embankment in front of the Texas School Book Depository Building. Simmons then ran toward the Texas School Book Depository Building with a policeman. He stopped at a fence near the Memorial Arches and could not find anyone.

Simmons advised that it was his opinion the shots came from the direction of the Texas School Book Depository Building. He stated that immediately after the shots were fired, people were running in every direction through the whole area and there was a scene of mass confusion.

POTTER advised that he is a hostler helper for the Union Terminal Company, and, on November 22, 1963, he was standing on the Elm Street viaduct with some fellow employees awaiting the motorcade with President JOHN F. KENNEDY. POTTER stated that when the President's car had turned west on Elm Street and had driven past the Texas School Book Depository Building, he heard three loud reports which sounded like firecrackers. He then saw President KENNEDY slump over in his car and the Presidential car drive through the underpass. POTTER said he recalls seeing smoke in front of the Texas School Book Depository Building rising above the trees. POTTER said there were people running in every direction and he noticed a policeman drive his motorcycle up the slope towards the Texas School Book Depository Building. POTTER said he could not determine from which direction the shots were fired.

He had no further information of any value.
Mr. RICHARD CALVIN DODD, 1216 South Tyler, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed at Lamar and Henning Street in Dallas, and furnished the following information:

Mr. DODD stated he is employed as a track supervisor for the Union Terminal Company, 500 South Houston Street, Dallas, and was so employed on November 22, 1963. On this date, he took up a position on the Elm Street railroad viaduct overlooking the route used by the Presidential motorcade on this date. Mr. DODD stated that when the motorcycle escort and the automobile carrying President KENNEDY approached the area where he was standing his attention was directed on President KENNEDY. He stated he first realized something was wrong when he saw President KENNEDY slump forward and simultaneously heard shots ring out. He stated he did not know how many shots were fired, but that the sounds were very close together. Mr. DODD advised that his attention remained on President KENNEDY; he did not look up and did not know where the shots came from.

Mr. DODD stated he did not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD and had never met or seen JACK RUBY.

THOMAS J. MURPHY, 9515 San Benito Way, Dallas, Texas, advised he is employed as a mail foreman, Union Terminal Company, 500 South Houston Street, Dallas. MURPHY said he was so employed on the morning of November 22, 1963 when he and some of his co-workers stood on the Elm Street overpass to watch President JOHN F. KENNEDY's Motorcade drive by. MURPHY said that they watched President KENNEDY's limousine turn down Elm Street past the Texas School Book Depository building and start towards them. He stated he then heard what sounded like two shots and he saw President KENNEDY and Governor CONNALLY slump in their seats. MURPHY said in his opinion these shots came from a spot just west of the Texas School Book Depository Building. He said there was very much confusion in the area after the shots were fired and he saw many people running towards the parking lot west of the Texas School Book Depository Building. MURPHY said he could not recall seeing any unusual activity near the Texas School Book Depository Building itself. MURPHY stated he does not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD and to the best of his knowledge he has never seen him before. He had no further information of value.
Mr. CLEMON EARL JOHNSON, Box 211 (Belt Line Road), Kleberg, Texas, was interviewed at 500 South Houston Street, Dallas, Texas, and furnished the following information:

Mr. JOHNSON stated he was employed as a machinist for Union Terminal Company, 500 South Houston Street, Dallas, and was so employed on November 22, 1963. On this date, he took up a position on the Elm Street viaduct overlooking the route taken by the Presidential motorcade on that date. Mr.
JOHNSON stated his attention was attracted to the motorcycle escort and the automobile carrying President KENNEDY as this section of the motorcade came into his view. He stated he first realized something was wrong when the motorcycles began moving from their regular course and at or just before this he heard sounds that could have been shots. Mr. JOHNSON stated at that time he did not know that it was shots and he could not say how many shots he heard. His attention remained on the vehicle carrying President KENNEDY and he observed this car until it sped away. Mr. JOHNSON stated that white smoke was observed near the pavilion, but he felt that this smoke came from a motorcycle abandoned near the spot by a Dallas policeman.

Mr. JOHNSON stated he did not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD and had never met or seen JACK RUBY.
Mr. GEORGE A. DAVIS, 1443 North Beckley Street, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed at 500 South Houston Street, and furnished the following information:

Mr. DAVIS stated he was a signman for the Union Terminal Company, 500 South Houston Street, Dallas, and was so employed on November 22, 1963. On this date, he took up a position on the Elm Street viaduct overlooking the route taken by the Presidential motorcade. Shortly after the motorcycle escort and the Presidential car came into view and was at a point just east of the viaduct, Mr. DAVIS heard a sound which he described as similar to firecrackers exploding. He stated they did not sound like rifle fire because they were not loud enough. All shots were very close together and he stated it was impossible for him to determine the number of shots. He stated his first impression was that someone had played a prank, but then he saw some in the hands of the Secret Service Agents with President KENNEDY, saw President KENNEDY slumped forward, and the police motorcycle escort maneuver swiftly about the area and he realized it was not a prank.

Mr. DAVIS stated his attention was directed to the motorcycle escort and the car in which President KENNEDY was riding, and he saw very little, if any, other activity in the area at that time.

Mr. DAVIS stated he returned to the same spot he had occupied on November 22, 1963, at a later date and from this spot attempted to observe the Texas School Book Depository window from which the rifle shots were reported to have been fired. He stated he was unable to see this window from the position he had occupied on November 22, 1963, because the branch of a tree obscured the vision from this point.

Mr. DAVIS stated he did not know JACK RUBY and had never met or seen LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Date: 3/18/64

Charles F. Brehm, 1619 Kings Highway, was interviewed at his residence at which time he furnished the following information:

He and his five-year-old son went to downtown Dallas to view the President's motorcade, and they parked their car in the Main-Houston Street area about 15 minutes before the motorcade was due to come down Main Street. He took a vantage point on the northwest corner of the intersection of Main and Houston Streets and from that point, he was able to watch the car in which the President and Mrs. KENNEDY rode, making a right turn from Main Street into Houston Street.

After the President's automobile had rounded the corner into Houston Street, he picked up his five-year-old son and ran across the grass from Main Street over to the downhill curved portion of Elm Street which leads from Houston Street to the Stemmons Expressway. He and his son stood right at the curb on the grass and saw the President's car take a wide swing as it turned left from Houston Street into Elm Street.

When the President's automobile was very close to him and he could see the President's face very well, the President was leaning forward when he stiffened perceptibly at the same instant what appeared to be a rifle shot-sounded. According to Brehm, the President seemed to stiffen and come to a pause when another shot sounded and the President appeared to be badly hit in the head. BREHM said when the President was hit by the second shot, he could notice the President's hair fly up, and then roll over to his side, as Mrs. KENNEDY was apparently pulling him in that direction.

BREHM said that a third shot followed and that all three shots were relatively close together. BREHM stated that he was in military service and he has had experience with bolt-action rifles, and he expressed his opinion that the three shots were fired just about as quickly as an individual can maneuver a bolt-action rifle, take aim, and fire three shots.

BREHM stated he definitely knew that the President had been shot and he recalled having seen blood on the President's face. He also stated that it seemed quite apparent to him that... the shots came from one of two buildings back at the corner of Ela and Houston Streets.

Immediately after the third shot rang out, BRENN expressed his opinion that between the first and third shots, the President's car only seemed to move some 10 or 12 feet. It seemed to him that the automobile almost came to a halt after the first shot, but of this he is not certain. After the third shot, the car in which the President was riding increased its speed and went under the freeway overpass and out of his sight.

As soon as the President's car went on its way out of sight, numerous reporters and police officers came running down the hill to the general area where he was standing and many of them gathered around him and began asking him questions. He answered questions of reporters and police officers to the best of his knowledge and recollection, after which he was escorted up to the Dallas police station where he was interviewed some more. He estimated that he was detained at the Police Department for a period of two hours before he was finally permitted to leave.

MARY ANN NOORMAN, 2832 Ripplewood, telephone number DA 1-0300, advises that she and a friend named JEAN KILL, 9402 Bluff Creek, Dallas, Texas, watched the President KENNEDY parade from the grassy area in the parkway between Main and Elm Streets, and at approximately 12:25 p.m., as well as she recalls, she took a photograph of the procession as it proceeded toward her. She took this photograph with a polaroid camera, and the photograph showed the police motorcycle escort preceding the President's car. In the background of this photograph she said the Texas School Book Depository Building was visible.

She took a second photograph of the President as his automobile passed her, and just as she snapped the picture, she heard what she at first thought was a firecracker and very shortly thereafter heard another similar sound which she later determined to have been gunfire. She knows that she heard two shots and possibly a third shot. She recalls seeing the President "sort of jump" and start to slump sideways in the seat, and seems to recall President KENNEDY's wife screaming, "My God, he's been shot!"

Mrs. NOORMAN states that she and her companion fell to the ground, but does not new recall what prompted her to fall unless it was the reports and the commotion in the President's car. She says she must have instinctively realized that there was shooting, but does not recall actually thinking about it. She states that she could not determine where the shots came from, and her next recollection is of people running more or less aimlessly, it seemed to her. She recalls that the President's automobile was moving at the time she took the second picture, and when she heard the shots, and has the impression that the car either stopped momentarily or hesitated and then drove off in a hurry.

She stated that as the President's car drove off she started to leave the grassy area and was stopped by a Mr. FEATHERSTONE, a newspaper man with the KDIL Radio and TV Station who questioned her concerning her observance of the incident.

Mrs. NOORMAN advises that the photograph she took showing the police motorcycles preceding President KENNEDY's car and also showing the Texas School Book Depository Building was given by her to Secret Service Agents JOHN JOE HOWSETT and BILL PATTERSON shortly before 4:00 p.m. November 22, 1963. The second photograph taken at the time she heard the shots showed the President slumping sideways in the automobile. She furnished this photograph to Bureau Agents.

Mrs. NOORMAN advises that she saw no one in the area that appeared to have possibly been the assassin, and could furnish no additional information.

Mrs. JOSEPH EDDIE DEAN, 7227 Darden Lane, advised as follows:

She is employed by The Macmillan Company on the third floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building, 411 Elm Street.

At approximately 12:40 p.m., on November 22, 1963, she and some other employees in the building were standing on the steps of the building facing Elm Street, when a motorcade in which President JOHN F. KENNEDY and Governor JOHN CONNALLY of Texas were riding, was passing by.

President KENNEDY had just looked in their direction and waved when she heard a rifle shot. Shortly thereafter, she heard another rifle shot and then a third. During these moments, she observed President KENNEDY slump down into the car. After the first or second shot, she observed President KENNEDY reach to the back of his neck just before he slumped down.

When she realized the shots came from above her, "he ran out into the street, but did not look up at this time. Everyone was running in various directions and some were falling to the ground, as if to avoid being shot. Everyone was very excited, including herself."

She returned to the steps of the building and met Mrs. MADIE B. REESE, her office manager, and then accompanied Mrs. REESE to the National Bank of Commerce, making a deposit.

After viewing photographs of LEE HARVEY OSWALD on television, she could not recall ever having seen him before. She could furnish no further pertinent information.

Mr. JACK FRANZEN, 10572, Cromwell Circle, telephone FL 7-3717, who is employed by the Fox and Jacobs Construction Company, 9106 Sovereign Row, was contacted in response to a telephone call received from him at 1900 Main Street.

Mr. FRANZEN advised he and his wife and small son were standing in the grass area west of Houston Street and south of Elm Street at the time the President's motorcade arrived at that location at approximately 12:30 P.M. on November 22, 1963. He said he heard the sound of an explosion which appeared to come from the President's car and noticed small fragments flying inside the car and immediately assumed someone had tossed a firecracker inside the automobile. He heard a second and third and possibly a fourth explosion and recognized these sounds as being shots fired from some firearms. At the same time he noticed blood appearing on the top and sides of the head of President KENNEDY. He noticed a colored family consisting of a man, woman and small child nearby and at the sound of these shots the man picked up the small boy and ran with the woman west on Elm Street toward the overpass. During the ensuing confusion he remembers looking at the side of the building occupied by the Texas School Book Depository, located across Elm Street from his position but does not remember seeing anything of a suspicious nature with regard to that building. He noticed the man, who were presumed to be Secret Service Agents, riding in the car directly behind the President's car, unloading from the car, some with firearms in their hands, and noticed police officers and these plain clothesmen running up the grassy slope across Elm Street from his location and toward a wooded and bushy area located across Elm Street from him.

Because of this activity he presumed the shots which were fired came from the shrubbery or bushes toward which these officers appeared to be running.

He looked over the crowd which had assembled along both sides of Elm Street in this block but noticed nothing which appeared unusual among these spectators.

Mr. FRANZEN advised he is aware that the information which he has furnished may not be of any particular significance.

Commission Exhibit No. 1428
CHARLES HESTER, 2810 Keybold Street, furnished the following information:

At approximately 12:30 p.m., November 22, 1963, HESTER and his wife, BEATRICE, were standing along the street at the point immediately preceding the underpass on Elm Street where President JOHN F. KENNEDY was shot. HESTER stated he saw the President slumped in the seat of the car and that he heard two shots fired from what appeared to be a building located on the corner of Elm Street and Houston Street. He stated he and his wife were closest in a direct line of the fire and he immediately grabbed his wife and shoved her to the ground. He stated he thereafter immediately escorted his wife across to the north side of the street on an embankment in an attempt to gain shelter.

HESTER stated he did not see anyone with a gun at the time the shots were fired and that after the President's car had pulled away from the scene and officers started toward the aforementioned building, he and his wife proceeded to their car and left the area.

PATRICIA ANN LAWRENCE, 302 North Windemere, Dallas, Texas, advised that she is employed as a stenographer for the MacMillan Company in the Texas School Book Depository Building.

Miss LAWRENCE advised that she is not acquainted with LEE HARVEY OSWALD and had seen no one of his description at all in the building on November 22, 1963.

When the President's motorcade passed the Texas School Book Depository Building, Miss LAWRENCE said she was standing with LUCY WHITAKER in the front row of people on Elm Street at Houston. When the motorcade passed she stated she was looking at Mrs. KENNEDY who was looking to the other side of the car. The President was looking in her direction and she had waved. She heard the shot fired as the President was waving. Thereafter she heard two additional shots, shots which seemed to have come from right over her head. She said she looked up and saw nothing. Later she returned to the building but at this time had not seen anyone identifiable with OSWALD coming from the building.
FRANCIS GAYLE NEWMAN, 718 W. Clarendon Street, advised that at the time President KENNEDY was assassinated Governor CONNALLY was wounded and she was standing on the north side of Elm Street between the triple underpass and Houston Street. Also standing there were her two children, ages 2 and 4, and her husband, WILLIAM GAYLE NEWMAN, Jr. She estimated that when the limousine, carrying the Presidential party was about 50 feet from them she heard * 7 reports and the President seemed to rise up in his seat. A few seconds later she heard another shot and saw that the President had been hit in the head because she saw blood flowing from his body. She said a man had been standing back of them on a pedestrian near an arcade taking photographs and there were a couple of people east of them on the north side of Elm Street.

She stated that after the President was shot officers and probably Secret Service men started running toward the arcade near the point where the photographer was taking his pictures. She believed there were first two shots in succession, a pause, then another shot was fired which struck the President. She said the limousine was a three seated one carrying Governor CONNALLY and his wife in the middle seat and the President and Mrs. KENNEDY in the back seat. She did not notice the occupants of the front seat as she had her eyes on the President when she had come to see. After the shots were fired, she and her husband each grabbed a child and lay down on the grass fearing that they might be hit by gunfire. She noticed that Governor CONNALLY seemed to be lying down in the front seat holding his stomach when he passed directly in front of them. She was taken with her husband to the WFAA Studio where they waited a short time after the announcement came that the President was deceased and she and her husband were interviewed. They later made statements to Deputy Sheriffs concerning their eye-witness account of the assassination of the President and the wounding of Governor CONNALLY.

The shots were fired as the President and Governor CONNALLY about 12:30 p.m. on November 22, 1963. She said she did not see LEE HARVEY OSWALD during that time.

WILLIAM EUGENE NEWMAN, Jr., 718 W. Clarendon, who is an unemployed electrician, advised that at the time of the assassination of President KENNEDY he and his wife, LUCILE, and their two children were standing on the north side of Elm Street about mid-way between Houston Street and the triple overpass. There were very few people on that side of the street. One man was standing on a pedestrian near an arcade to the rear of them taking movies and he believed that two women were a few steps up the street from him. He believed that when the President's car was approximately 50 feet from him, he was standing in a westerly direction on Elm Street he heard the first shots fired. It was his belief that two shots were fired in rapid succession which he thought at the time was a firecracker.

The car was proceeding toward him and it seemed that the President's arms went up and that he raised up in his seat and started to look around. The car proceeded to a point about even with him and he could see Governor JOHN CONNALLY was holding his stomach. About that time another shot was fired which he estimated was ten seconds after the first shot was fired. At that time he heard the bullet strike the President and saw flash fly from the President's head. He noticed that Governor CONNALLY was lying back in the seat of the car and that his eyes were real big. NEWMAN first thought that President CONNALLY was playing some kind of game, but he suddenly realized they had been shot and that he was perhaps in the line of fire because doctors started running toward the arcade directly back of him and his wife. He grabbed his child and his wife the other. They both lay down on the grass until after the procession passed. He stated he did not see any blood on Governor CONNALLY or President KENNEDY and that the limousine in which they were riding was a three seated limousine with Governor CONNALLY and President KENNEDY sitting on the side nearest him and the one nearest the Texas School Book Depository building from where he learned later the shots had been fired. President KENNEDY was seated in the back seat with his wife and Governor CONNALLY and his wife were in the middle seat of the limousine. He could not recall any of the bullets hitting the car but he said the report of the rifle was very loud and clear. He was later taken to the offices of WFAA studio in Dallas and they interviewed him concerning his eye-witness account of the assassination of the President and the shooting of Governor CONNALLY.

He was also interviewed by Deputy Sheriffs and gave a statement as to what happened. He recalled that when the President was shot Mrs. KENNEDY seemed to grab him and pull him toward her. He was positive this occurred because when all shots were fired at the President he had his eyes directly on him. He could not state whether Mrs. CONNOLLY was helping her husband or not but he seemed to be lying down when he passed them.

He said the President was hit on the right side of the head with the third shot and he heard the thud when the bullet struck the President. He did not see any rifle in the possession of anyone whom he thought might be responsible for the shooting. He has seen pictures of LEE HARVEY OSWALD on television and stated he had never seen him insofar as he knows.

The assassination of the President occurred about 12:30 p.m. on November 22, 1963.

JEAN (Mrs. PURSER EDWARD) NEWMAN, 3893 Clover Lane, telephone FL 2-4222, advised that she in employed by Rheem Manufacturing Company which the Company was in the process of moving from Lofland Street to 1222 Profit Drive. She stated that as the company was in the process of moving she left work at about 11:30 a.m. and drove to Oak Cliff taking a friend home and turning through the downtown Dallas area to her home in north Dallas. As she proceeded through the downtown area, she noticed crowds gathering in connection with President KENNEDY's visit to the area. She stated she, on the spur of the moment, decided she would like to see the President so she parked her car in Simmons Parking Lot #2 located at the northwest corner of the Dallas County School Book Depository Building. She then walked in front of the building and turned right on Elm Street and stood on the curb on the north side of the street immediately west of the Stemmons Expressway sign. A car carrying the President and other persons had just passed her when she heard a report and saw the President jump, raising his hands to his chest area. She stated she assumed the report to be a firecracker and thought how "human the President was that he too would react by jumping at a sudden noise. She stated the car had proceeded to approximately 12 feet to her right when she heard a second report and saw the President slump to the front of the car. She said the only other person in the Presidential car that she recognized was Mrs. JACQUELINE KENNEDY who immediately jumped to her knees over the President when he slumped.

Mrs. NEWMAN stated she only heard the two shots but cannot definitely state that additional shots or shots were not fired as people around her realizing what had happened began milling around and screaming. She stated that when she realized the reports were shots she immediately turned and looked up the hill to the north toward the parking lot but did not see anything after which she proceeded back up the hill and walked in front of the Dallas County School Book Depository Building to the parking lot to get her car where she was questioned by an officer and eventually taken to the Dallas County Sheriff's Office where she made a statement.

Mrs. NEWMAN stated that after the shots were fired she was in the area of the school Book Depository Building for some minutes and actually walked immediately in front of the building in returning to the parking lot but did not see or hear any person emerging from the building in such a manner as to attract her attention but pointed out all persons in the area were very excited at the time.
Mrs. Newman viewed a photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald taken on August 9, 1963, after which she stated that she has no recollection of ever seeing the individual depicted in that photograph and said she does not know Oswald, has never met him to her knowledge, and does not know any of his associates.

Pauline E. Sanders, 4226 Delmar, a Clerk, Texas School Depository, 411 Elm Street, advised she arrived at work at 6:45 A.M. on November 22, 1963, and immediately reported to the main office where she was employed. She said she was acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald who worked in the warehouse section and she has seen him three or four times during lunch breaks in the lunch room but did not talk to him on any occasion. She said he was very quiet and she had never seen him talking to any of the other employees that she could recall. She said she would not be in a position to observe what time he arrived at work or the way he arrived.

She said on the morning of November 22, 1963, she went outside to watch the Presidential parade at about 11:25 A.M. She said she did not see Oswald during this time and she stood in the last line of spectators nearest the door to the Texas School Book Depository building. She advised she could not recall the exact time but immediately after the Presidential parade passed she heard three loud blasts and she immediately realized that the shots or whatever it was came from the building above her. She said within a matter of ten seconds a uniform police officer in a white helmet ran into the building but she did not observe him any further and could not state where he went in the building.

Mrs. Sanders advised that Mr. Campbell, Office Manager, arrived shortly after the police officer entered the building and she told him she believed the blasts came from the upper part of the building however he insisted the shots came from the embankment. She advised she did not pursue the matter any further and she entered the building within five minutes of the blast. She said she did not observe Oswald in the lobby but the lobby was crowded with people at this time. She said she did notice a uniform police officer talking to an individual dressed in grey clothing with a silver type construction helmet and he claimed to be an engineer. She said he definitely did no work in the building and she had never seen him before. She said the police officer appeared to be taking his name and address. She said she did not observe whether the elevator was in use or not and she could not recall whether it was on the first floor or she did use the stairwell and walked to the second floor where their offices are maintained. She said she could not recall seeing Oswald the entire day and at this time the only thing that was on their minds was whether the President had died.
Mrs. SANDERS advised that this morning she called GERALDINE REID, another employee, telephone number PE 1-6617, who told her that the police officer who had first entered the building gave into the lunch room where Mr. TRULY, the warehouse manager, and OSWALD were evidently lunching. The police officer put his gun into OSWALD's lunch box but TRULY advised the police officer that OSWALD worked for him. Police officer turned away and evidently left the area. She said according to REID, OSWALD then went to the main office and REID, although she had not observed the initial incident with the police officer, told OSWALD that the President had been shot. According to SANDERS, Mrs. REID claimed that OSWALD just mumbled something and then left the office. She said REID did not mention how OSWALD left the office or for what matter if she knew how he might have left the building. SANDERS advised that the stairwell would probably have been the easiest way to leave without being too noticeable since the stairwell is in need of repairs and employee had been instructed not to use the stairwell.
Date 11/25/63

DOLores Kouns, 825 Arpaco Circle, employed as a clerk-typist by McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, third floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building, Elm and Houston Streets, Dallas, Texas, furnished the following information:

She examined a photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald and stated she cannot recall ever having seen him. She stated that the building in which she works has offices on the lower floors and that she goes to the third floor via an elevator in the east end of the building which runs only to the third floor.

On November 22, 1963, she had left the building about 12:00 noon. She stated she went to a spot on the southwest corner of Houston and Elm Streets to watch the presidential motorcade pass. She was approximately 100 feet south of the Texas School Book Depository Building and observed the motorcade of President Kennedy pass in front of her and proceed west toward the Triple Underpass. After the car had passed her point and was almost to the underpass, she heard a noise like a firecracker. She stated there were three of these noises which she now knows were shots equally spaced by a few seconds and that it sounded as though these shots were coming from the Triple Underpass. She stated she looked in that direction but was unable to see the car in which President Kennedy was riding due to the mass of people in front of her.

She stated that after standing there a few minutes she walked across the street toward the Texas School Book Depository Building but was not allowed to go in the building until about 3:00 p.m.

She stated during the time she was watching the motorcade, before and after the shots were fired, she did not look up at the Texas School Book Depository Building and thus did not know whether there was anyone in the windows in that building. She stated it did not sound like the shots were coming from that direction but rather from the Triple Underpass.

Honorble J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of July 23, 1964, requesting that the distance from eye witness Howard Brennan's location appearing on Commission Exhibit No. 477 to the sixth floor window of the Texas School Book Depository from which shots were fired be determined.

The line of sight distance from Brennan's location to the sixth floor was determined to be approximately 129.2 feet. This measurement was determined from a geometric outline prepared from technical data contained on structural plans of the wall upon which Brennan was sitting, on surveyor plats and from measurements made at the assassination site which were utilized in the construction of a one-quarter inch scale model of a portion of Dealey Plaza, Dallas, Texas. Enclosed are four glossy prints of the above-mentioned "geometric outline" and the copy of the Commission's Exhibit No. 477 furnished in referenced letter.

With the submission of the enclosed material, this now completes your request.

Sincerely yours,

Prelude to Tragedy:
The woman who sheltered Lee Oswald’s family tells her story

by Jessamyn West

(The distinguished Quaker writer Jessamyn West is the author of “The Friendly Persuasion,” among other books, and is the editor of “The Quaker Reader.”)

In the black days last November when murder followed assassination, a third and contradictory act was reported in the press. This act was reported because it also had to do with Lee Oswald, Friday’s alleged assassin and Sunday’s victim. A Mrs. Ruth Paine, a Quaker, had taken in Lee Oswald’s pregnant wife and baby daughter while he was out of work; and on weekends Lee Oswald himself had sometimes visited his family in Mrs. Paine’s home in Irving, a suburb of Dallas. It was from the Paine home that Oswald, carrying “curtain rods,” went to his job Friday morning in the School Book Depository on Elm Street.

There are people, I have discovered, who missed these accounts of Ruth Paine. All their available emotional energy was spent on the principals in the tragedy—the President, his wife and the President’s murderer. There was scarcely enough emotion left, even, for more than consternation when Jack Ruby shot down Lee Oswald.

I thought about Mrs. Paine, however. What she had done stuck in my mind more even than what Oswald or Ruby had done. Perhaps this was because of some personal need to associate myself with what is creative, not destructive; with what is responsible, not irresponsible. But it was also, I think, because such an act was so desperately needed in that weekend of violence and destruction; it was needed not only morally, as a reminder to us that the desire to foster human life as well as to destroy it still survived in the world; it was needed aesthetically, as the knocking on the door in Macbeth is needed after the bloody events that have preceded it. The spectators who, because of television, were very near to being participants required emotional rest. And the happenings of that weekend, looked at as drama, required, after assassination and murder, Mrs. Paine’s “concern” (to use a Quaker word) for the Oswalds if those happenings were to give any balanced account of the human condition.

Now, history, of course, has no interest in giving balanced accounts of human nature. History can go for long stretches without ever bringing to attention those acts of kindness, of unselfishness, of brotherly concern, that are always coexistent with acts of violence and bloodshed. Some of us on occasion may be capable, as Mrs. Paine was, of doing unto others as we would be done by. But when it comes to reading matter, we want what is bloody and violent. It is entirely possible, on the weekend when we all watched the assassination of President Kennedy and the shooting of Lee Oswald, that hundreds or even thousands of women were doing exactly what Ruth Paine was doing: offering food, shelter and friendship to a family in need of it. These women will never be known to us. They did not befriend the family of a man accused of assassinating the President.

We should not delude ourselves about this. I would not have gone to Dallas to talk to a woman who for six years had taken care of her bedridden stepfather and his older half-blind sister. Though her act might, in a scale assaying human devotion, outweigh Mrs. Paine’s tenfold. You would not be reading my account of that visit. We are interested in what Mrs. Paine did because Lee Oswald and his family were the recipients of Ruth Paine’s hospitality. From a bedroom in her home Lee Oswald rose that Friday morning; in her kitchen he made and drank his morning coffee. From her garage he picked up his rifle. With a neighbor of hers he rode to his work, rested, refreshed, well-armed.

vision, honor unselfishness; but we have a hard time getting around to reading about them unless they are somehow bloodstained and tear-splashed. When Ruth Paine was returned to Maria Oswald that she escaped a trip back to Russia that Maria did not want to make, and which Lee Oswald was suggesting, by sharing Mrs. Paine's home, she was all unknowing, guaranteeing that her act of hospitality meet these requirements.

I wrote Mrs. Paine a letter asking if I could interview her, and followed the letter with a phone call. The letter, I later discovered, had put Mrs. Paine off. Because I had read some accounts charging Mrs. Paine with everything from un-Jewish behavior, to that to outright cooperation, I was at pains to let her know that I was not such a one, Mrs. Paine, as a result, was afraid that my desire was to place her on a pedestal. This she did not want.

During my phone call I formed such a definite picture of Ruth Paine that really spoke to me, had been the feeling that I was dealing with someone else. I am not sure what elements had contributed to my original picture. It was her father, maternal, that I collected; or her diaries, cultivated; or her court notes, which, in spite of her lack of enthu-isms for my project, never failed. The picture I had of her, the woman reported by the press, the "Quaker and housewife." Now, I know that Quakers and housewives come in all sizes and colors; and that motherliness, which had attributed to her because of her solicitude for the young Marina Oswald, has more than one configuration. Never the less, I had seen Ruth Paine so clearly that I was surprised to meet her as a tall girl, five-feet nine or ten, with a long brown bob, looking more like the campus than the kitchen and built more like a dancer than a Quaker (whatever that may mean, except that her outlines were more rakish than restrained), I was for the first hour to accept her as a Mrs. Paine. I talked with her as if she were someone empowered to speak for Ruth Paine.

On my first evening in Dallas, Mrs. Paine asked me to come to her place at six for dinner. I left my hotel at five thirty. My taxi driver, a former track driver, was in his third day of taxi driving, and while he could have taken me merrily to California, he had some difficulty finding the Paine home.

The Paines live in a house through was advance, in the city put with building's Openness and the one-time grandeur were lost in the parking of subdivisions and shopping centers and passes.

"Is this the chief road between Irving and Dallas? I asked the driver.

"I don't know," he answered. "I've driven down this highway, then, Oswald had ridden that Friday morning, past pole oaks and hackberry trees, leafless then as now, past signs for Corn Dogs and Taxi beer and weekender specials on coffee and margarine and steak. It was this remembered fact, I thought, as well as the smoky gloom of the room, the smell of cigar smoke and the domestic beauty not yet achieved, that made me feel sorrowful and apprehensive.

I was there late; the ex-driver was not yet accustomed to locating private homes. He pulled up finally in front of a small, light gray frame house. A young man waited at the curb to greet me. Since I understood that Ruth Paine was separated from her husband, I had no idea who he might be. He was tall, slender, and in the snap judgments that come to one at first blush, tall, fair, dark, came as probably intelligent and possibly moody.

He turned out to be Ruth Paine's husband, Michael, from whom she had been separated for a year or more before the investigation but who had since joined his family. He took me up the short pathway to the house and I experienced the shock of the first contact with such a Quaker who looked more like the campus than the meetinghouse-the mother built more like a dancer than a housewife; the vous-tage, the air of distance. We sat on the couch, with the Paines except for the fact that their lives had been touched by violence.

Michael and I went to the living room, both had met each other for the first time. We talked for an hour about the past, what had been and what was now, 14 by 16 at the most, and it showed signs of occupancy by children. We were talking in the Paines' home, which was a room that had entered into no competition with the Joneses; objects in that room would not take precedence over persons. A sofa occupied most of the space against the wall, was pushed up to the wall, and was against the vision set. Here Ruth Paine and Marina Oswald had first learned of the President's assassination. Here Lee Oswald had spent his last two weekend afternoons sprawled on the floor, watching sports events.

My eyes, in spite of themselves, went to that spot on the floor. Ruth Paine is not a woman to denounce others. But one of the few "good" things she could find to say about Lee Oswald had to do with his television viewing. He watched football. When I told him that he did so with Christopher, let Christopher climb over him as he sprawled on the floor.

I told Michael that Ruth's 'kindnesses' to the Oswalds (and Ruth herself) were not permitted me to use this phrase without reminding me that she had gained as much in her association with Marina Oswald as Lee Oswald gained in his greatest significance for Americans not as an act in itself but as a symbol of a way of life we were losing: the old way of life when as a rule the frontiers of our neighbors were serenely concerned for the welfare, the fortunes and misfortunes of our neighbors.
The man helped by the Good Samaritan might have survived without help—who knows? But how about the Samaritan—could he have survived? What would have been the state of his heart and character had he ignored the man in the street instead of providing a "good" man, necessarily a "bad" but simply an "indifferent" Samaritan?

What lies ahead for us if we follow our present "indifferent" morality? All of us represented by slotted and numbered cards in the IBM machines, but also from any emotional involvement with each other? Ready to provide an adequate donation, the appropriate bureaus, the efficient machinery to care for all human predicaments. But not a hand, not a heart. What will be the result of this continuing dehumanization? Is it possible that the death of a president does not present the threat to our country presented by the deaths of individual hearts? That we have less to fear from the violence of an occasional crackdown than we have from the wholesale drying up of all genuine concern for our neighbors? I agree to Michael Paine of these feelings, while Ruth was out of the room. He agreed with me that there was a need for more openness, more sharing, more risk-taking, more inquiry. Michael Paine had not seen much of Lee Oswald. But he did see him on Friday nights, when Michael was acclimated to vitro and have dinner with his family. On those nights Lee Oswald usually came out from Dallas to spend the weekend with Marina, might also be there.

"I sometimes wonder if I gave up too soon," he said. "I wonder if my patience had held out longer, or my desire to help him had been stronger, if I could have done something for him."

He had tried to talk to Oswald. He was genuinely interested in Oswald’s reasons, first for leaving America, then for leaving Russia. Oswald was either indifferent to, or incapable of, that kind of conversation which, through shared insights, advances to an understanding of a subject that is impossible to either man alone.

"Oswald," said Michael, "had picked up some pat political opinions, mostly from his Marxian reading. And once he had expressed these, he lost all interest in the conversation. He had no ability or desire to examine specific cases or to determine whether or not they cast some doubt on the generalization he was quoting. He didn’t want his generalizations disturbed." It was not surprising to me that a man of Oswald’s reported IQ (around 163) did not make a stimulating conversational partner. And it is interesting to think that Michael once took Oswald to a meeting of the American Civil Liberties Union. Oswald, when he found that the organization was non-political, that it had no program other than to protect the constitutional rights of individuals, was not interested.

"In one of our arguments," Michael said, "I told Lee that all the civilized world is fighting to keep alive the possibility of free arts of violence. But he held such human values in contempt, the same contempt in which he held most human beings, that he was simply amenable to the situation. Joining us, Ruth recalled some of her own feelings when she had heard Michael argue with Oswald about his philosophy and politics.

"I thought that Lee was really much more moved by his feelings than by his ideas. I felt that meeting his arguments with some logical response wouldn't touch him, that the only way his life would ever change would be through matters that affected his feelings. As long as he had trouble holding a job and was worried about money, he wouldn’t ‘indict the society in which he lived.’"

"Do you think ten thousand dollars a year might have cured Oswald of his murderous impulses?"

"I asked her.

"Of course, I had no idea or hint that he had murderous impulses. Now I think that economic security would not have been enough. But I thought then that any attempts at reconciliation would have to begin there."

We parted early that evening. Michael, an engineer at the Bell Helicopter Company, had a job to go to next morning. Ruth and I had a date to meet at 9:30 at my hotel room in Dallas.

My driver for the trip back to town was a raspy, wavy-haired chub who appeared to be about 15. He looked freshly bathed and combed, and he had a spectacular ability to drive the back seat. He told me that he was the youngest of 12 children, 11 still alive and was worried about money, he said, "I would never have the outsides of town, he said, "Have you seen where it happened?"

"No need to ask what," he said.

"I’ll show you," he said, I wanted to see and I didn’t want to see.

"Do you know what happened to me two nights before it happened?"

"No," I told him again.

"I was sitting talking with my wife. Suddenly something hit me, ‘Honey,’ he said, ‘the President will never leave Dallas alive.’ What I said surprised me as much as it did her, my wife."

Later in the week I told Ruth this.

"There were many who reported the same thing," she said.

"After it happened they said they remembered these premonitions of numbers or names or what they called friends or written letters."

My driver, though he continued to face me, was silent for a while, seeming to groove on the strangeness of this sort of thing. He was clear, laid an unclouded moon and the neon glare of a big city. The car drifted as before. Suddenly the police began familiarizing themselves in a dream when you say to yourself, ‘I have been here before,’ but can’t for a minute remember how or when. Then when I saw the sweeping curve, the overpass, the building to my left as we went inward bound, I remembered when I had been there and why—many, many times on television—the movement of the cars during the assassination attempt, and in order to demonstrate the pos-

The Paines came to Irving, to the town and the house where they now live, before the birth of their first child, Ruth, who was born little more than a year after the first. Two years after Christopher's birth and for reasons I did not discuss with Ruth, the Paines separated. When she first met the Oswalds, Ruth Paine was a woman with two small children and separated from her husband; a woman accustomed, until her marriage, to many purposeful meetings with adults. She was undoubtedly lonely, and felt the evolution from the world and its happenings that many young mothers, their days devoted to young children, feel.

Towards the end of February, 1963, Ruth received an invitation from a Dallas friend to attend a party at which Lee Oswald, a man who had interested her, originally intending to stay, was coming to talk about his experiences.

"How did you happen to be invited?"

I asked her.

"I know the host. We had sung English madrigals together."

The Paines both are singers. Michael sings with a church choir in Dallas now, and Ruth had toured Europe with a group of American singers. Ruth, on the evening of my first visit with the Paines, had delighted me by singing a cerial commercial as a round with the Dallas Cantata Society.

"The host invited me," Ruth recalled, "because he knew I was interested in learning the Russian language well enough to read it. Lee Oswald told about his experiences in the Soviet Union, where he met and married Marina. He talked to a clutch of people around him for perhaps an hour, and I had spent half of my time getting acquainted with the kitchen crowd. He talked about the censuring of his mail. He realized after he got home that he had sent several letters that never reached him. He said that all mail from foreign countries addressed anywhere in the U.S.S.R. must go first to a Moscow office for reading. "I wasn't sure as he talked whether he was dissatisfied with the Soviet system or simply wanted to make it clear to his listeners that he was not blind to its defects. He did say that he had gone there because he thought their system superior to ours, and that while there he tried to reorganize his citizenship. But our embassy refused to surrender his passport to the Soviet government. If they had, it's doubtful that he could have come back to this country with his wife and their baby."

"I was impressed by the good feeling of the party. She was trying to get June, their one-year-old, to sleep. She explained that she didn't like to leave June with a baby-sitter. I remember wondering if it was possible that there was no existing child again, though it occurred to me. I can't imagine. Perhaps it was because although she said she liked her, she refused a drink. She had quit smoking when she was expecting June. She always put her children first. I got her address and wrote, asking if I could come to her home, and I hoped for a chance to practice Russian and thought I might help her with English.

"Why were you so interested in Russian?"

"Not for the reasons I've seen attributed to me by the press—to forward Soviet-American relations. Goodness knows that has something to do with it. But I'm interested in the languages. I believe that American society and our government is encouraging language study. I think we'd be better off if more of us could communicate with people from other countries more directly."

Marina Oswald wrote back inviting Ruth to visit, and she did, taking her children, Lynn, then three, and Christopher, two.

"We took all three children for a walk in the park near their apartment. Marina was very pleased that her June felt the same way about going for a walk. The child was often afraid of strangers, but when I came she took an interest in my children and their toys and hardly noticed me."

"On this first visit Ruth found that Marina was expecting a baby in October. "We visited two or three times after that and began to confide as friends. Marina said that while ago her husband had suggested they might go back to the Soviet Union. I didn't know whether this was said in the anger of a quarrel, whether he was really tired of her or whether he simply resented the expense. He had written to the Soviet embassy to inquire about going back. When they wrote to ask why, she didn't answer. She dropped the subject. She never told me what her husband had planned for her and she hoped to learn enough English to become part of the life here—to get a job."

Ruth felt sorry for Marina Oswald. She struck Ruth as a person of pride, capability and sensitivity. It seemed unfair to her that a girl be made to return to the Soviet Union simply because she had no alternative. Oswald meanwhile had lost his job in a photography shop in Dallas. Marina suggested to her husband that he look for a job in New Orleans, the city where he was born.

Ruth arrived at the Oswalds' apartment in late April for what she thought would be another visit with Marina similar to the previous ones. She found Oswald packed to go to New Orleans. He had informed Marina that she was to wait at a friend's apartment until he found a job and a place to live.

"I suggested that instead of waiting there she come and stay at my house, where she could phone when he had word."

Ruth also offered to drive Oswald's family, the 500 miles between Dallas and New Orleans in her 1956 Chevrolet station wagon. She had driven the car three times before. She suggested this, she says, because she thought the bus trip would be difficult for a pregnant woman with a small child. The thought of the family trip in an old car, the first half of the trip with three small children and a pregnant woman, would have difficult for her seems not to have crossed his mind.

"Did Oswald ever make any contribution toward the support of his family while they were with you?"

That April he left some money with Marina, which she put toward groceries and incidentals. It was used up before the two-week stay was over. In the fall when Marina was with me, he gave her no money. She appealed to me to pay for some new shoes for her."

"Was Marina helpful?"

"Very. She worked hard around the house. I only wished my Russian were better so we could talk more freely. She'd have to explain her jokes, even though she told mine easily enough. One day Chris and June were quarreling over a toy and I commented:'Soviet-American cultural exchange.' She laughed and said, 'Don't say it!' I didn't think I was ever able to convince her how valuable it was to me to have a resident nonpaid tutor. She was never comfortable accepting bed and board of me."

On May 9th, Lee Oswald called to say that he had a job and had rented an apartment. So with her station wagon loaded with Oswald belongings, Ruth Paine set out for New Orleans.

The apartment Oswald had obtained was on Magazine street, old, ugly and full of cockroaches. The Oswalds quarreled—about petty things, it seemed—to Ruth—for the two days she was there, and she was glad to leave.

Back in Irving, Ruth had a letter from Marina saying that she might yet be sent back to Russia. Ruth got the name of a fellow Quaker in New Orleans and found her to look in on the Oswalds. But the Oswalds' relationship bettered and Marina wrote that all was well.

In August, Ruth drove East on vacation. On her way back to Irving, in September, she stopped in New Orleans. Lee Oswald had by this time lost his New Orleans job.

Ruth suggested that Marina come to Texas and she and her husband came to a house in Mexico. The Oswalds lived with her for a month before and after the baby's birth.

Oswald appeared relieved to have the problem of his wife's care before and during her confinement solved. He told Ruth that he was going to Houston to look for a job. Instead, as she learned after the assassination, he went to Mexico and tried to get a visa for a trip to Cuba—whether long or short, no one can now say.

Until after the assassination, Ruth believed that Lee Oswald deceived both Marina and herself about the trip to Mexico. Now she is not so sure. How much knowledge of the trip Marina had.

Some time after October 4th, when Oswald had called the Paine home to say he had been in Dallas, that he had stayed in a room there and was looking for work, he asked to use Michael Paine's drill press in the garage. He wanted to bore a hole in the floor, so that Marina could run a chain around her neck. After the assassination, when officers of the law gathered together in many of the Oswalds' effects left in the Paine home, Ruth saw what it was that Lee Oswald had drilled—a Mexican peso.

On October 4th, about two weeks before Marina's baby was due, Oswald phoned, talked to Marina and asked her whether Ruth could pick him up in downtown Dallas. Ruth heard Marina tell her husband that this would be impossible, that Ruth had just returned from the Parkland Hospital, where she had given one of the two pints of blood asked for by doctors from the friends of maternity patients. Marina was receiving prenatal care there; and there where John Kennedy and Lee Oswald both were to die, Ruth Paine had been donating blood in behalf of Oswald's wife. So Oswald had to hitchhike that day to the Paine home.

Hitchhiking was easy for Lee Oswald, Ruth said. He was clean, slightly built and could probably be taken for a college student. On the afternoon of October 4th and on the 5th, Ruth Paine had told the driver of her two weeks' separation from wife and child, to the Paine door. Oswald came out regularly each weekend from that first one until the weekend of Oct. 8th to 11th.

I did get a very vivid picture of Lee Oswald from Ruth. This may be in part a result of the fact that he wasn't a kind driver delivered by the fact that it was painful for Ruth Paine to think about him. She was, I could not help seeing, a much more worn and depressed person at the end of our week's talks than she had been at the beginning of this talk. Her first met her.

"Did Oswald talk? Was he a talker?"

"No. Not to me, at least. He didn't like to talk English with me. I'd start in English, he'd answer in Russian."

"Did he ever talk politics with you?"

"No. I never did try to communicate ideologically, and besides, I couldn't in Russian. I made no special effort to be kind to Lee or to sympathize with him. I did try to teach him to drive, and I think he appreciated this. He could see that there was no self-interest in giving up blood for her?"

"Lee understood how hard it is to find Russian and how useful it was to someone speaking it to me in the house."

"Did he ever offer to pay for groceries?"

"Not when he was my guest, but he did when I was his guest in New Orleans. And then when I had to buy a new tire before I could start home, I thought he looked embarrassed not to be able to make some contribution."

She wanted a vacation to get away from it all. But instead she found enough adventure and romance to last her a lifetime. Turn to page 123.
It was on November 1st, ten days after Marina returned from the hospital, that an agent of the out that he had tried to defect, and that this might cause him to lose his job. He didn’t want me to tell the people at Parkland Hospital when he had had a job. He was unwilling at first even to go there to see his wife after the birth of their second child.”

“Did you tell the hospital that he was working?”

“Yes. I didn’t try to preach to Lee about right or wrong. I simply told him that I was the kind of person who had never given up to that I didn’t think I’d better begin trying to be new.”

“Did he think that the hospital might cut off the help it was giving him if it was known he was employed?”

“Yes, I believe he thought that. It was after I told him the hospital already knew he was working that he agreed to go and see Marina at Parkland.”

When Ruth awakened on the morning of November 22nd it was seven thirty, and the house was quiet she was afraid Oswald had overslept and missed his ride to work. When she went to the kitchen she saw the empty coffee cup, which told her that Oswald was up and gone. She then turned on her television so that she could see the Kennedys in Fort Worth and Dallas. She left the set on for Marina when she went with her daughter Lynn for an early dentist’s appointment. Marina was watching when she got home.

“She thanked me for leaving the TV on. She had nursed Rachel about six times, while Lee offered to go back she said, and then gone back to sleep. Next time she woke up she was feeling tired, but the thrill and excitement of watching Kennedy’s arrival at the Dallas airport had made her feel better.

The two women were together on the living-room sofa watching television when the announcement was made of the shooting. Lunch was on the table but it was forgotten. Ruth lighted some plain candles and Marina asked her if that was a way of praying. Ruth told her it was one way. When the word came that President Kennedy had died, the two women grieved together.

“Marina said,” Ruth told me, “What a terrible thing this is for the country! Kennedy! How sad it is that her children will have to grow up without a father!”

The two women were still in front of the television set when six men arrived with the police department with the news that Lee Oswald was in their custody, charged with the murder of police officer J. D. Tippit. They were escorted to a police car, though Ruth, with her Civil Liberties training, knew that they should have a warrant, she told them they could search.

Michael had moved that gun, wrapped in an old blanket, out of his way more than once. Of course, he didn’t know it was a gun.”

“Didn’t he feel it to find out what it was?”

“You don’t go prying into your guests’ belongings.”

“What would you have done if you had discovered that Oswald had a gun?”

“Lots of men hunt in Texas.”

After some further thought Ruth added, “I think, if I had discovered the gun, I would have just told him to start it at our place. It was legal for him to have it, but I had a right, since I don’t like the use of firearms, to tell him to keep it elsewhere.”

“Except for the light in the garage there was nothing unusual in your memory of the evening?”

“No. Lee went to bed earlier than Marina and I. We sat up talking together for some time. But Lee did something unusual that night or the next morning which I didn’t learn about until later. He had a second watch of the FBI, which I already knew, but I thought it was a small thing. He was living in America. The FBI routinely offers protection of this sort to emigrés from Iron Curtain countries about a year after they have come to America. My respect for the FBI, which was already great, went up after that visit. We discussed the difficulty in a free society of politely watching people with quite possibly dangerous ideas. Unlike a congressional committee, the FBI never makes their suspicions of an individual public until they have evidence that will stand up in court.”

The agent also asked Ruth and Marina for Oswald’s working address, which they gave him, and for his home address in Dallas, which they did not have.

“Did you give him Oswald’s phone number?”

“No. Why not? Were you trying to protect him?”

“Of course not. I took it for granted that the FBI knew all about him and should know all about him, and that Lee, having tried to renounce his citizenship, would have to expect to live with FBI checking the rest of his life. It didn’t occur to me that the telephone number would help them. I wish now it had been.

Frankly, I thought they must know where he was staying. After the FBI visit I gave Lee the FBI man’s name and phone number so that Lee could get in touch with them. He told me he had tried to do so, but it was not until weeks after the assassination that I found out from the FBI that he had lied about this also.”

“Did you ever feel that Oswald was really dangerous?”

“I didn’t care for him. I thought he was an inflexible, dogmatic oddball. But I thought that of him as dangerous, I have children to think about. I wouldn’t have invited his wife to stay with me if I had thought he was dangerous.

On the day he spent three days instead of the usual two, during the Veterans Day weekend, at the Paine’s. Marina herself appeared to feel that he had stayed over his welcome this time, and asked him not to return the next weekend. It was during this absence that the two women discovered through their phone call that Oswald was living under an assumed name. His return call was on Monday, November 18th. On Tuesday and Wednesday, November 19th and 20th, Oswald did not phone Marina as he usually did on weekend evenings.

“He thinks he is punishing me,” Marina said.

But on Thursday evening, November 21st, when Ruth returned home from shopping for groceries, she found Oswald, just arrived from Dallas, standing on her lawn. He had ridden out with the brother of the woman who had suggested there might be work at the School Book Depository. This was the first time Oswald had ever come without first asking Ruth if a visit would be all right. Marina told Ruth privately, that she was sorry that Lee had not asked permission, but both women thought that this unscheduled visit was to make up for his anger about the phone call.

“How did he appear?”

“Just as usual. After we had gone inside, I remember, I spoke to him about my excitement and pleasure at the prospect of the President’s visit next day.”

“What was his response to this?”

“He just said, ‘Oh, yeah’ and walked past me into the kitchen.”

“Did you have nothing whatsoever to mark this visit from any other?”

“No. He ate supper as usual. I did notice one thing, though. He had been to the garage that evening. I put the children to bed, and after I had done that, I went to the garage to paint some blocks for the children. I noticed that he had been there and had left the light on.”

“Did you have any idea he had a gun in the garage?”

“No. They had a lot of their stuff stored there. Books. Household things

Ruth lighted some plain candles and Marina asked her if that was a way of praying. Ruth told her it was one way. When the word came that President Kennedy had died, the two women grieved together.

“Marina said,” Ruth told me, “What a terrible thing this is for the country! Kennedy! How sad it is that her children will have to grow up without a father!”

The two women were still in front of the television set when six men arrived with the police department with the news that Lee Oswald was in their custody, charged with the murder of police officer J. D. Tippit. They were escorted to a police car, though Ruth, with her Civil Liberties training, knew that they should have a warrant, she told them they could search.
Their first question was, "Did Lee Oswald own any guns?"

Ruth translated the question to Marina, and to her horror Marina answered yes. She said that she had known Lee had a rifle and that a couple of weeks ago she had seen the hilt of a rifle wrapped up in a blanket on the garage floor. She added that she had not told the police of the officers. I felt sure that the rifle must still be there. But when the officers picked up the blanket roll, it hung limp. Whatever firearm it was had been taken from the home. It was at that moment that it came to me that Lee Oswald was probably the man who had killed the President, and I was filled with great anger.

"Anger?"

"I was angry because of his terrible deed and because he had made use of my home and had gone from it to kill a man I honored. Any man would have been better.

But John Kennedy! I didn't want to leave a sick untended in my house or elsewhere in finding how and why this was done."

The police filled two car trunks with the possessions of the Paines and the Oswalds. And after getting a baby sitter the two women got into the police car and were driven off to the police station.

On this trip into town one of the officers, in the front seat of the car turned around and asked Ruth a question. It was a question I also had asked her early in my talks.

"Are you or have you been a Communist?"

Ruth told the officer, "No, I am not. And I don't feel the need of taking the Fifth Amendment, either.'"

The officer, hearing this, smiled and turned around.

At the police station Ruth was relieved to find they had a Russian translator. Anger, shock and grief had made it difficult for her to translate for Marina.

The police asked her why Oswald had spent only weekends at her home. Her answer was that he had not been invited to spend more time there. My question was the opposite. Why hadn't Marina and her baby gone to Dallas to spend the weekends with Oswald?

"In one room?" Ruth asked.

This did not seem so great a hardship to me. Having the entire Oswald family, and Oswald's presence—in Ruth's own words a "definite strain"—in the three rooms of the Paine home. But putting her own comfort first was not a habit with Ruth Paine.

"How did Marina react? Did she cry?"

"No. She was very quiet, ashes in color. On the way to the police station she had asked me if the penalty for killing wasn't the electric chair. I said it was.

"At the police station I made a statement to the police which they typed up and had me sign. They got impatient with me when I wanted to correct some of the grammatical mistakes in the typescript."

Mrs. Oswald, Lee's mother, came to the police station while they were there. She was a practical nurse in Fort Worth, and I heard about Lee's arrest on her radio. Oswald had not wanted his mother to know where he lived; and had not let Marina, who wanted to send her mother-in-law the news of the birth of their second child, know where his mother lived. Mrs. Oswald, after the questioning, went home. And Marina and I spent the night on the sofa in the Paine living room.

Ruth Paine's position was now painful on several counts. I had not stricken by the death of the President. I thought he was doing a remarkable job. There had never been a death in my immediate family. No one I cared about so much had ever died before. I felt it personally, not just as a citizen. Then my sorrow was offended, was soiled, by this association with the assassin, with anger and horror that the man who killed the President had left my house to fire that shot.

"But I could not give way to my grief in a way that would have eased me. For three weeks newspapers were constant papers and magazines and that he had never criticized the President to her."

The next day Marina Oswald and Lee Oswald's mother left Ruth's house for Dallas. That same day I went over and talked to her.

Later the same day, Ruth Paine had some phone calls from Oswald himself. The first phone call came around 4 P.M. She had never heard his voice. I asked Ruth what she had said. "Did you ask him whether he had done the terrible things of which he was accused?"

"Why?"

"I think I believed he had done them."

"What was said?"

"He said, 'This is Lee.' I answered, 'Well, hi.' His reply was, 'Ah, yeh.'" "Shamefaced? Guilty?"

"No. About as usual. More in the manner of a boy who thinks if he believes the lie he is telling, others will believe him too."

"What did he want?"

"He wanted me to call a lawyer named Aht. I had heard on television that he wanted a New York lawyer, John Aht, to represent him. I rescinded Lee's asking me to do anything for him at that point. I believe he had a right to counsel, so I told him I'd try the phone numbers he gave me for this lawyer. I did call, but wasn't able to get Mr. Aht. About nine o'clock Lee phoned again. This conversation opened in Russian and he asked for Marina. I told him she was not with me but that I thought I knew where I could reach her. He asked me if I would try to get in touch with her and if I would tell her that he wanted her to return to my place."

"Why did he want this?"

"Simply because she would be more available to him if he wanted to talk with her. This is what I think, anyway."

"Did you get her?"

"When I phoned the motel where I thought they might be staying, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald answered."

"What did she say?"

"The gist of it was that she thought it would be better for Lee not to know where they were and that there were other things to think of than Lee's convenience."

Ruth Paine did not speak with Lee Oswald the next day. She spoke to him with many of the rest of the nation, saw Jack Ruby shoot and kill him.

"How did you feel when this happened?"

"I was glad."

Nothing Ruth Paine had said had amazed me as much as this. I couldn't believe my ears.

"There goes your halo," I said.

"What do you mean?"

"You were afraid that I was going to present you as a saintly Quaker. There is nothing remotely saintly or even Quakerish about being glad that one man has murdered another man. Were you glad because you had been angry with Oswald?"

"No, that had nothing to do with it. I thought that Lee's death this way would be so much easier for Marina."

"Surely you couldn't put that in the balance against him? Against due process of law? Against this added proof to others and to ourselves that we are a lawless, violent people?"
"I wasn't glad Jack Ruby killed him. I was just glad it was over. I was glad he was happy."

"Of course, it was the easiest way out for Lee Oswald." I wasn't thinking of an easy way out for Lee Oswald. And I don't believe that we live our lives in time only. Only Lee Oswald's life in time was finished with that shot. Since then I've regretted the fact that his death has prevented me from ever knowing what he might have told.

Perhaps it was unforgiving of me to harry Ruth about her reaction to Oswald's death. After all, the very "gladness" was so contradictory to everything she had worked for and believed in, in the past, that I wanted to try to understand it. She was a woman who was opposed to violence, to killing, to capital punishment.

A very honest woman, Ruth Paine didn't try to justify her reaction. "In the past few years," she said, "I have thought a lot about killing and violence. I have come to think of right and wrong in terms of what helps the individual soul and what harms it. I don't like blanket statements. I prefer to have all judgments upon the individual case. I don't see right or wrong in absolute or general terms. It's far too complicated a matter." "Did you go to his funeral?"

If Ruth's "gladness" had shocked me, this question shocked her. "Go to his funeral? It would have been an affront to my sorrow! Go to mourn the man who had killed the President?"

Then after a pause she said, "I didn't know about it. I asked a stutterer. "I've learned since that there was no one there to translate for Marina. If she had asked me to go, if my presence there would have helped her, I would have gone."

I couldn't help John Kennedy by staying away."

But she wasn't at the funeral. Mail, checks and gifts began to arrive for Marina, and these Ruth delivered to the Secret Service via the local police. She also sent notes in Russian to Marina.

"Did you hear from her?"

I didn't. I went to see her at Christmas. She thanked me again for everything and said how sorry she was—things had ended so badly. She asked me to write, which I did."

Ruth also sent Marina two books. "When Marina was with me, she had sometimes read to me from two books she had in Russian on child care. It occurred to me that she might like to have these books with her."

"How did the police happen to miss them when they gathered up the Oswald belongings? Two books in Russian?"

Ruth laughed. "I don't know. They gathered up my folklore dance and left behind the books in Russian. Anyway, they didn't. No, they took the books down to the police station to be sent on to Marina. I thought she might need them. She referred to them all the time. I remember her quoting to me from one of the books: 'Nursing the baby's right and the mother's pride.'"

"Did you ever hear from her about them?"

A day or so after I had left them at the Irving police station, two Secret Service men called on me. One of them spoke Russian. They said that something very important had happened and showed me their file at several pages of writing. The page they showed me had no salutation at the top. The Russian-speaking Secret Service man talked to me in Russian. I think he wanted to test my skill in the language. Then he asked me if I had ever seen this particular piece of writing and if I could identify the handwriting.

"The writing was in Russian and I wasn't given the page to read, but simply to look at. I said that I had never seen that piece of writing before and that I did not recognize the handwriting. I had been able to read the first sentence of the page shown me. The sentence was, 'This key is for the post-office box,' and whoever had written the sentence had used the English word for key, putting it into Russian letters.

"The translator said to me, 'Mrs. Paine, we know that you sent this note to Marina.'"

"I said, 'You know more than I do.'" The translator then told me, 'Mrs. Paine, this note will be best for you to be frank and honest as possible.'

"I told him that I was honest at all times and that I was being honest then. Up to then I had no idea where the note had come from. After that the conversation with the translator ended and I learned from the other Secret Service man that the note had been found in a book. I then remembered the two Russian childish books I had sent Marina and supposed that the note had been found in one of them. When the Russian translator and I had discussed the writer's failure to use the Russian word for key, I told him, 'The writer should have used Fluch.'"

"Do you think this was what convinced them that you didn't write the note?"

"I don't think they believed at any time that I had written it. I asked the Secret Service men if they believed the note to be current. They replied that they didn't know."

Late in December, Ruth read an article in the Houston Chronicle concerning a note Oswald had written to Marina just before his attack on General Walker. "I recognized it in the note I showed me by the Secret Service man. Marina's business manager told the press that when Oswald came home on the evening of April tenth and

by Helen Harrington

had confided to Marina that he had tried to shoot General Walker, this threatened to show this note to the police if ever it showed signs of doing such a thing again."

"Do you think Marina really believed that her threat to Oswald to show it to the police could prevent him from making any more such attacks?"

"Yes. This may not seem realistic, but she was very young, in a foreign country, a wife, a mother, a teacher. Facing, without the help one would expect from a husband, terrible decisions and events.

"She was quite without counsel. Her religious views were like a tender green shoot. Only since the death of her mother had she come to believe there was a God. She had no faith to help her in the absence of a personal counselor. I've heard that she has recently been attending church. These happenings may have created a major crisis in her religious thinking."

"Will your experience with the Oswalds make you more wary in dealing with other people?"

"I don't think so. I don't want to be mechanical and programed in my responses to people. Not every impulse to respond can be analyzed. There are responses that one has to go on an instinct."

"Life is a chance-taking enterprise. When you stop taking chances, you stop living.

I asked a cruel question. "Do you think it possible that by relieving Lee Oswald of expenses, by giving him time, a storage place for his gun, you made it easier for him... do with what he did?"

"What if Lee Oswald and his mother had, from the beginning of their lives, expected..."

"I have been over and over in my mind. I think the chances involved were beyond anybody's anticipating."

"Of course, we can never know whether or not what you did might not at some moment almost have counterbalanced Oswald's determination to kill."

"I expect it was too late in Lee Oswald's life for him to be changed fundamentally by what anyone did—or didn't do."

"What if Lee Oswald and his mother had, from the beginning of their lives, expected..."

"They were silent for an instant and then she rephrased her question."

"Would I open my home again to another woman I liked, a woman who needed—friendship and a place to live?"

"They probably always will. If only I had known that Lee Oswald had hidden a rifle in my garage. If only I had realized that this man was capable of such an act. If only quite by accident I had or had not done a dozen things. But then, suppose I had not answered the prompting of the Spirit to let all of loving kindness you offered the Oswalds?"

"Who can say? Of course, I think we'd all be better if what we gave and what we received was, from the beginning, love, trust, openness."

I asked Ruth Paine only one question on the day I said good-bye to her. "Would you do it all over again? In spite of the sufferings, the interruption of your life, the misery, the publicities?"

She was silent for an instant and then she rephrased her question."

"Would I open my home again to another woman I liked, a woman who needed—friendship and a place to live?"

They probably always will. If only I had known that Lee Oswald had hidden a rifle in my garage. If only I had realized that this man was capable of such an act. If only quite by accident I had or had not done a dozen things. But then, suppose I had not answered the prompting of the Spirit to let all of loving kindness you offered the Oswalds?"

"Who can say? Of course, I think we'd all be better if what we gave and what we received was, from the beginning, love, trust, openness."

The End
CLARENCE A. RECTOR, 422 Connally Street, Sulpher Springs, Texas, advised SA JAMES L. WILLIAMSHEON he was in Houston temporarily in connection with his automobile transporting business.

He advised he has known JACK RUBY as a club manager in Dallas since about 1950 and has frequented his places of business since then.

He advised he went to Cuba for two days in late 1959 and in early 1960 he was back in Dallas and went to the Vegas Club and saw RUBY. He mentioned he had been to Cuba and RUBY stated he had recently been to Cuba himself, as he and some associates were trying to get some gambling concessions at a casino there but it did not work out.

He stated he was at the Vegas Club on this occasion with CHESTER MYERS (phonetic), a head waiter who resides in an apartment about the 5000 block of Hall Street in Dallas. He said MYERS appeared to be well acquainted with RUBY.

RECTOR stated that he had no other information concerning RUBY, as his knowledge of him is so limited.

COMMISSION EXHIBIT NO. 1443
NY 105-38431

On April 8, 1964, JAMES H. JOSSEFF, Public Relations Director, Travelers Aid Society, 204 East 59th Street, New York, advised that his records indicate that OSWALD and his family were met at the pier in Hoboken, New Jersey, on June 13, 1962, by a representative from their office and transported to the Port Authority Terminal at 41st Street and 6th Avenue, New York City. He stated that this transportation was via Travelers company limousine and was free of charge. He stated their limousine service only operates between the Port Authority terminals and the pier and that is the reason why OSWALD was not taken directly to the office of the New York City Department of Welfare. He advised that the record further indicates that their representative accompanied OSWALD and his family from the Port Authority Terminal to the office of Special Services, New York City Department of Welfare, 48 Franklin Street, New York City, and that they travelled via taxi cab. He commented that inasmuch as OSWALD’s file does not contain a request for reimbursement for this taxi fare, he would assume that OSWALD paid for the fare.

Mr. JOSSEFF remarked that it would appear from the record that OSWALD and his family stayed at the Times Square Motor Hotel, 8th Avenue and 43rd Street, New York City. He also remarked that since OSWALD did have some money in his possession, any meals consumed during the period that he was in the company of the Travel ... representative, OSWALD would have paid for himself.

In connection with the taxi fare from the Port Authority Terminal to the Department of Welfare, MAX WEINS, President of the Broad Street Taxi Owners Association, Inc., 48 Franklin Street, New York, advised, on April 10, 1964, that the fare for this trip would have been approximately $4.50.

On April 8, 1964, Miss DOROTHY DONNING, Supervisor, Special Investigations, New York City Department of Welfare, advised that since their files do not reflect any expenditures by the department on behalf of OSWALD and his family, it can be assumed that any transportation to and from the office of the Department of Welfare and any meals consumed during the period of OSWALD's association with the department, were paid for by OSWALD himself.

She stated that the file contains a request from a Department of Welfare worker for reimbursement for himself for $3.50 spent on transportation to and from Idlewild Airport, Queens, New York, aboard a Carey bus. She commented that it would appear that OSWALD, his family, and the Welfare worker proceeded to Idlewild aboard a Carey bus and that OSWALD paid his own fare.

Miss DOWLING stated that OSWALD left the Special Services branch office of the Department of Welfare, 42 Franklin Street, registered at a Times Square hotel, and subsequently returned to the Special Services office on June 14, 1962, at which time he was accompanied to the Western Union office, 428 Broadway, which is only a few blocks from the Special Services office, where he obtained the $200 sent by his brother from Texas.

In connection with the above itinerary, Miss DOWLING was unable to furnish any information concerning expenditures by OSWALD.

Although OSWALD's means of transportation from Special Services office, 42 Franklin Street, to his hotel at 8th Avenue and 43rd Street, on June 13, 1962, and his return trip to 42 Franklin Street on the following day are unknown, it is to be noted that if he, his wife, and their four-month infant child took a taxicab, the approximate fare each way would have been $1.50. This estimate was furnished on April 10, 1964, by MAX WEISS, herefore mentioned. As indicated above, the Western Union office where OSWALD received his $200 is within walking distance from the Special Services office and in all probability, no transportation expenses were incurred in connection with this travel.

It appears from the Welfare file that OSWALD left the Western Union office and proceeded to the West Side Air Terminal to obtain his airplane tickets. Since there is no information available regarding his means of transportation, it can only be assumed that if he travelled via taxi, the fare would have been $1.50, according to Mr. WEISS.

The West Side Air Terminal is located at 10th Avenue and 42nd Street, and is within walking distance to the Times Square Hotel, 8th Avenue and 43rd Street, and in all probability OSWALD incurred no expense in connection with this travel.

On April 9, 1964, ETHEL ZILLIKEN, Chief Ticket Agent, Delta Airlines, West Side Air Terminal, advised that their files reflect that on June 14, 1962, OSWALD purchased two tickets totalling $183.04 or $91.52 for each ticket. She stated that there is no charge for an infant. She commented that OSWALD's flight number was 621, and was scheduled to land at Love Field, Dallas, Texas.

On April 9, 1964, JOHN HUBER, JR., Manager, Times Square Motor Hotel, 8th Avenue and 43rd Street, New York City, advised that their files reflect that L. OSWALD registered at their hotel on June 13, 1962, and checked out on June 14, 1962. He stated that OSWALD's bill, totalling $15.21, included $10.00 for the room, $.50 tax and $.71 for telephone calls. He stated that the telephone toll cards are destroyed after six months and the only information available regarding these calls is that one long-distance call amounting to $2.31 was placed on June 13, 1962, and one long distance call amounting to $2.20 and one local call amounting to $.20, were placed on June 14, 1962.

On April 10, 1964, EDWARD L. BRAUNE, Security Supervisor, New York City Telephone Company, advised that their records pertaining to the period June, 1962, have been destroyed and there is no information available concerning these records.

The Welfare file indicates that OSWALD left his hotel on June 14, 1962, and proceeded to the East Side Airlines (ESA), 37th Avenue and 38th Street, New York City, via taxi. In connection with this taxi transportation, no information available regarding his means of transportation, it can only be assumed that if he travelled via taxi, the fare would have been $1.50, according to Mr. WEISS.
NY 105-38431

Mr. WEISS, previously mentioned, estimated that this fare would have been approximately $85. The file revealed that OSWALD and his family apparently travelled from ESSL to Idlewild Airport via Carey bus.

On April 10, 1964, inquiry at Carey Transportation Company, ESSL, First Avenue and 50th Street, New York City, disclosed that the fare from ESSL to Idlewild Airport, in June, 1962, would have been $1.75 per person with no charge for infants.

On February 6, 1964, BARRY GRAY, Radio Commentator, Station WNYC, New York City, made a statement during his radio program to the effect that a source, whom he did not wish to identify, but described as a responsible newsman, had informed GRAY that he, the source, was working on a story about LEE HARVEY OSWALD having been trained in Russia by a Soviet group which was anti-KHRUSHCHEV and pro-Chinese.

In connection with the above information, BARRY GRAY was interviewed by SAS JANES O. INGRAM and JCN JANES O'FLAHERTY, on April 17, 1964, and furnished the following information:

GRAY advised that he recalls making the statement concerning subject, as referred to above, and stated that his source was SENIOR FLIEGERS, European Correspondent for Hearst Publications, "New York Journal American" newspaper. He remarked that on January 16, 1964, while in conversation with FLIEGERS and one LESTER FELDBSHON, described as a New York City realtor, and an acquaintance of FLIEGERS, a statement was made by FLIEGERS to the effect that there was an anti-KHRUSHCHEV, pro-Chinese group in the Soviet Union that was not in accord with KHRUSHCHEV's "coexistence" policy and that this group had trained OSWALD for the assassination of the President in an effort to bring KHRUSHCHEV into line. GRAY stated that he did not ask FLIEGERS where he had obtained this information nor did FLIEGERS state his source or sources; however, GRAY added that FLIEGERS made his statement in a categorical manner.

GRAY stated that he asked FLIEGERS what he was going to do with this information and FLIEGERS replied but that the Hearst Publications would not allow it to be published.

GRAY voluntarily remarked that he personally gives more credence to the idea of a "plot" behind the fact that OSWALD planned and committed the act entirely by himself. He added, however, that he has no basis in fact personal opinion.

On April 17, 1964, in an effort to locate the present address of correspondent SENIOR FLIEGERS, SA FRANCIS J. O'REILLY telephonically contacted DAV BRIGMAN, Trend Editor, "New York Journal American" newspaper, New York City. BRIGMAN advised that FLIEGERS' present address is care of Press Wireless, 8 Rue Edmond VII, Paris 9, France. BRIGMAN added that it is the opinion of responsible individuals at the "New York Journal American" that FLIEGERS is "one of the biggest faker's in the business and anything he says has to be taken with a large grain of salt."

It is to be noted that information previously received by the New York Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) disclosed that on November 24, 1963, Radio Station WHN, New York City, carried a broadcast by SENIOR FLIEGERS from Vienna, Austria. FLIEGERS, described as the Chief European Correspondent of Hearst Newspapers and a Broadcaster for Mutual Broadcasting System, interviewed a Mr. "X" concerning the OSWALD case. Mr. "X" expressed the suspicion that OSWALD had been trained as a Soviet intelligence agent during his visit to the Soviet Union and that the assassination of President KENNEDY may have been done on behalf of an anti-KHRUSHCHEV and pro-Peking faction in the Soviet Union.

In connection with this information, a confidential source abroad advised that on December 2, 1963, SERGEI FLIYERS stated that the information used in his broadcast, as referred to above, was received from an unofficial contact in Vienna who visits Prague from time to time and may have, in turn, received his information from a source in Prague. FLIYERS stated that he often refers to his "intelligence sources" meaning unofficial contacts who furnish him with "intelligence information." He admitted that this is misleading since it implies that his sources are official intelligence sources. FLIYERS stated that he doubts strongly, but volunteered to recontact his source, if possible, to determine if he is willing to have his identity revealed. He stated that it is impossible for him to contact this source in Vienna by telephone, and, therefore, it may take some time to receive an answer.

On February 6, 1964, STANLEY ROSS, Editor of "El Tiempo," a New York City Spanish language weekly, appeared as a guest on the BARRY GRAY radio program, Station WINS, New York City. During the course of the program, ROSS made a comment to the effect that he thought CASTRO was responsible for the death of President KENNEDY, directly or indirectly, or both. ROSS also remarked during the program that "El Tiempo" had published a story to the effect that JACQUELINE ONassis had been in Cuba twice since CASTRO came to power.

In connection with these statements, STANLEY ROSS was interviewed by SA FRANCIS J. O'BRIEN, on April 24, 1964, and furnished the following information:

He stated that he recalls the statements he made on the BARRY GRAY radio program and explained that his statement pertaining to FIDEL CASTRO'S responsibility, directly or indirectly, for the assassination of President KENNEDY was prompted by the fact that on or about November 25, 1963, one PASCUAL ENRIQUE RuedO GONZORa, a Cuban, was detained by Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), New York City, and through arrangements with the Spanish Consulate in New York City, was deported to Spain. He advised that when he had heard of GONZORA'S detention, he contacted his friend, Mr. GARCIA BAKON, the Spanish Consul, who confirmed that GONZORA had been detained by INS and at the request of unidentified United States officials, Spain agreed to accept GOGORA for return to Cuba.

ROSS stated that he was informed by Mr. BANON that during an interview with GOGORA the latter stated that he was one of five or six groups sent to the United States to assassinate President KENNEDY at the direction of FIDEL CASTRO. GOGORA reportedly stated that CASTRO was fearful that President KENNEDY was trying to assassinate him and further stated that the United States had been involved in previous assassinations, such as the assassination of the husband and brother-in-law of Madame NNU of Vietnam.

ROSS advised that through his correspondent for Cuba, one ENRIQUE CERVANTES, he had ascertained that Cuba would not accept GOGORA from Spain because Cuba did not want to get involved in the investigation concerning the assassination of President KENNEDY.

ROSS further advised that relative to his statement that JACK RUBY had been in Cuba twice since CASTRO came to power, he explained that he received this information from one ROLANDO MANSFIELD, who had obtained it from Dr. CARLOS MARQUEZ STERLING, who, in turn, obtained the information from a letter received from Cuba.

It is to be noted that Dr. CARLOS MARQUEZ STERLING had previously been mentioned by NATHANIEL WEYL, 4201 Ocean Boulevard, Delray Beach, Florida, when WEYL was interviewed by Special Agents of the Miami Office of the FBI, on March 13, 1964. WEYL was interviewed at that time relative to a statement he made to the effect that JACK RUBY had made a trip to Havana, Cuba, to deal with an individual named PRASKIN. WEYL stated that he had received this information from an old friend, CARLOS MARQUEZ STERLING.

On April 20, 1964, Dr. CARLOS MARQUEZ STERLING, 355 East 72nd Street, New York City, New York, advised FRANCIS J. O'BRIEN that he is not the original source of the information pertaining to a visit by JACK RUBY to Havana, and his alleged meeting there with one PRASKIN.

STERLING stated that he saw the letter which contained this information and he identified the original source of this information as EVIDIO PEREIRA. STERLING stated that PEREIRA formerly lived in Miami, Florida, and while he was residing there, STERLING instructed him to furnish this information to STERLING's friend, NATHANIEL WEYL.

STERLING remarked that PEREIRA is employed in a factory in Newark, New Jersey, but added that he does not know his address. He commented that PEREIRA is a member of the Free Cuba Patriotic Movement, of which he is, STERLING, the leader.

STERLING stated he would obtain PEREIRA's address and advise the FBI of same.

Subsequently, STERLING furnished PEREIRA's address and on May 4, 1964, EVIDIO PEREIRA ACOUSTA, 3750 Broadway, New York City, was interviewed in the Spanish language and furnished the following information:

He advised that he has no firsthand knowledge concerning the statement that RUBY was in Cuba and in contact with one PRASKIN. He explained that this information was contained in a letter that he received from a friend in Cuba. He exhibited the letter which was written in the Spanish language and dated December 3, 1963, Havana, Cuba, and it was noted that the first paragraph reads as follows:

“Notify the Pentagon of this information: RUBY—murderer of OSWALD was in Havana a year ago. He is a friend and client of a named individual named PRASKIN—owner or manager of a tourist shop situated in Prado E/. Animas y Trocadero in front of the S.-illa.”
He commented that he is unable to furnish any additional information regarding KGB's alleged presence in Cuba and contact with one FRASKIN other than the information contained in the letter as received from his friend in Cuba.

In an effort to determine the present whereabouts of PASCUAL ENRIQUE RUEDOLO CONGORA, heretofore mentioned, and to interview him concerning his remarks, the following investigation was conducted:

On April 27, 1964, inquiry at INS, New York City, determined that CONGORA had been deported to Cuba via Spain on November 28, 1963, but subsequently had been unable to obtain travel documents to return to Cuba and was, therefore, returned to the United States at New York City, on February 21, 1964. INS advised that CONGORA was subsequently committed to Bellevue Psychiatric Hospital, New York City, and later transferred to Creedmoor State Hospital, Queens, New York, where he is presently confined.

On April 28, 1964, Mr. ROBERT WALKER, Superintendent, Bellevue Psychiatric Hospital, New York City, advised that hospital records disclose that CONGORA had been admitted to the hospital on March 1, 1964, for observation; that CONGORA's diagnosis was reflected as Paranoid Schizophrenia and that he was discharged from Bellevue on March 23, 1964, and transferred to Creedmoor State Hospital, Queens, New York. Mr. WALKER stated that CONGORA was transferred from Bellevue because it had been determined that he was in need of further psychiatric treatment and that Creedmoor State Hospital had more propitious facilities for such treatment.

On April 28, 1964, inquiry at Creedmoor State Hospital, Queens, New York, disclosed that CONGORA is presently confined to the Disturbed Ward, Building S10, and is expected to remain at Creedmoor for further treatment for probably at least another six months.

It is to be noted that the New York Office of the FBI had previously conducted an investigation concerning PASCUAL ENRIQUE RUEDOLO CONGORA, also known as Pascual Ruedato, and such investigation reflected the following:

A letter addressed to Mr. ROBERT KENNEDY, Washington, D.C., "The House Painted White", postmarked New York, N.Y., dated October 13, 1963, 7:00 p.m., was received by Attorney General ROBERT KENNEDY on October 21, 1963. The return address reads:

"Pascual Ruedato

The reverse side of the envelope bears the slogan:

"Cuba Yes, Yankees No."

"New York, October 18, 1963

Mr. Tony Varona must remember him because his daughter was one of the victims of the Balart who, today, is living at 15 North East Street and Biscayne, Miami, with the full support of this country, which does not know about this or does not want to know.

RAFAEL DIAZ BALART, referred to above, may be identical with the former head of the anti-Castro organization in New York City named "The White Rose."

TONY VARONA, mentioned above, may be identical with the TONY VARONA who is a prominent official in the Cuban Revolutionary Council.

On November 12, 1963, ARNOLD FOX, 500 West 14th Street, New York City, advised he is the lessor of 500 West 14th Street, and that he operates a bar and grill on the first floor and rents out the rest of the building consisting of a barbershop on the first floor and 27 rooms upstairs. He stated he has rented room number 6 to one PASCUAL RUEDOLO since October 4, 1963, at $12.00 per week. He stated he had advised the New York City Welfare Department he had a vacant room and that the Welfare Department sent RUEDOLO. He stated that GONZORA's rent is paid by the Department of Welfare. He described GONZORA as white male, about 50 years old, 135 pounds, five feet seven inches tall, gray hair and usually badly in need of a shave. GONZORA speaks Spanish but very little English. FOX advised he had no knowledge of GONZORA's political sentiments and that in his very limited association he appeared sane. He advised he had just hired a new building superintendent but that he would not know GONZORA and that he felt none of the other tenants would know him.

Sources familiar with some phases of Cuban activities in the New York City area were contacted but were unable to furnish any information concerning GONZORA.

Records, Credit Bureau of Greater New York, as furnished to IC RAYMOND DAVID BECKER, on November 19, 1963, were negative concerning GONZORA.

Records, Bureau of Special Services and Bureau of Criminal Identification, New York City Police Department, as furnished to SA AUGUST J. NIEZK during November, 1963, were negative concerning GONZORA.

On November 22, 1963, a confidential source advised that records of the New York City Department of Welfare, 271 Church Street, New York City, file number HR2268921, reflect that one PASCUAL RUEDOLO GONGORA appeared at the Welfare Department and informed authorities therein that he was undomiciled and unemployed. His residence was given as 500 West 14th Street formerly 23 West 65th Street, 610 West 111th Street, 169 Beach 115th Street, Rockaways, Brooklyn, and 237 West 109th Street, New York City. GONGORA claimed he had palpitations of the heart, headaches, a blood condition and acknowledged a past history of psychiatric care in Cuba and stated he had been arrested on August 25, 1963, on a narcotics offense. He stated he reports to Roosevelt Hospital for a case of syphilis he received in Cuba in 1956.

On November 29, 1963, JOSEPH R. MC HUGH, INS, made available file number A12 322 950 concerning PASCUAL ENRIQUE RUEDOLO Y GONGORA. This file reflected GONGORA was born March 11, 1918, in Cuba, and that he entered the United States at Miami, Florida, on April 28, 1961, as a refugee. He had Cuban passport number 17422. The file contained English translations of letters written in Spanish by GONGORA to the Miami Police Department, INS and the President of the United States, some obscene and all expressing dissatisfaction with the United States and a desire to be returned to Cuba. He was described as five feet seven inches, 140 pounds, blue eyes, gray hair, Social Security Number 129-34-1094 and his FBI number was given as 5923E. He was arrested October 25, 1961, by the 10th Precinct, New York City Police Department for felonious assault (knife) and on February 8, 1962, sentenced to three months in the workhouse. On August 23, 1963, he was arrested for possession of a hypodermic needle and desoxyn, and on September 16, 1963, given six months' suspended sentence. He was arrested on November 14, 1963, for carrying a concealed knife. No disposition shown.

MC HUGH advised that GONGORA had departed the United States at Idlewild Airport on Iberian Airlines, Flight Number 954 at 6:00 p.m., on November 28, 1963, destined for Havana, Cuba, via Madrid, Spain. He stated GONGORA had departed under INS deportation order.

STERLING E. MOSSMAN, temporarily domiciled at the Knickerbocker Hotel, Hollywood, California, advised he is the owner of the Queens Surf Barefoot Bar, a night club at Waikiki, Honolulu, Hawaii. During the summer of 1961, RUBY, under the name of JACK RUBENSTEIN, invited MOSSMAN to the table occupied by RUBY and two unidentified white males in MOSSMAN's night club. The unidentified males were in their late forties, one was from Dallas, the other from Chicago. MOSSMAN said he assumes RUBY and the other two men stayed at the Royal Hawaiian or the Hilton Hawaiian Village Hotel in Honolulu.

MOSSMAN said the discussion he had with RUBY was not of a subversive or controversial character. RUBY told MOSSMAN he owned the Carousel Club at Dallas. The whole discussion related to the possible increase in the number of dancers at the Carousel Club and the possible use of the dancing girls by RUBY at his Dallas night club. RUBY did not drink any intoxicants. He appeared normal but talkative. MOSSMAN said this one occasion was the only time he has talked to RUBY and the conversation lasted only about 45 minutes.

MOSSMAN said he could not say whether the men who were with RUBY were business associates, and he knew of no way of identifying them.

MOSSMAN advised that in the event further interview of him was desired, he will be temporarily residing at the Lexington Hotel in New York City.

The "Honolulu Advertiser" ran a story on November 25, 1961, that STERLING E. MOSSMAN was interviewed on November 24, 1961. He stated he set JACk LEIGH RUBY when RUBY came to Honolulu in June, 1961, to seek talent. RUBY was with two unidentified persons who accompanied him. RUBY allegedly corresponded with MOSSMAN concerning a possible appearance at RUBY's night club in Dallas, and he saw RUBY later that year in Dallas.

MOSSMAN, temporarily domiciled at the Knickerbocker Hotel, Hollywood, California, was interviewed and advised he is the owner of the Queens Barefoot Bar, a night club at Waikiki, Honolulu, Hawaii. During the summer of 1961, RUBY, under the name of JACK RUBENSTEIN, invited MOSSMAN to the table occupied by RUBY and two unidentified white males in MOSSMAN's night club. MOSSMAN said he could not say whether the men who were with RUBY were business associates, and he knew of no way of identifying them.

The Honolulu Office advised as follows on November 25, 1963:

The Honolulu "Advertiser", November 25, 1963, carries a story indicating JACK RUBY while in Honolulu in June, 1961, tried to recruit entertainers for his Dallas burlesque house, The Carousel. He went to the Barefoot Bar, a respectable night club at Queen's Surf, Honolulu, and approached STERLING E. MOSSMAN, who is the leader of the Barefoot Go-Go Entertainers, about coming to Dallas. RUBY was interested in girls, not musicians, and told MOSSMAN, "the more they shake the better," and that he could use six Tahitian dancers. MOSSMAN later went to Fort Worth and stopped to see RUBY at The Carousel. MOSSMAN, who is a former Honolulu police officer, but now a singer, musician, Master of Ceremonies, decided none of his entertainers would sign a contract with RUBY. MOSSMAN quoted as saying RUBY stayed at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and was accompanied by two out of four friends. MOSSMAN is currently at the Knickerbocker Hotel, Los Angeles.

FBI Honolulu check at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel reflects no record of RUBY or ROSENFELD as a guest at the Royal Hawaiian or other Sheraton Hotels, 1960, 1961, or 1962, and identity of two traveling companions unknown.

Investigation by SA J. STERLING ADAMS on November 25, 1963, further revealed that MARTIN, a local Negro musician, met RUBY during 1961 visit and two male companions, both Caucasians, early 30's, a man and a Mexican type, but names unknown and no pertinent background known.

Honolulu "Star-Bulletin," on November 25, 1963, carries a story that FRANK PEPI, a member of Topnotchers Entertainers Group now at Copacabana, Honolulu, knew RUBY slightly when they played the Adolphus Hotel, Dallas, across from RUBY's Carousel. PEPI stated, "He dropped in one night to catch the show, and after we were off, bought us a drink and invited us to drop in at The Carousel. His place stayed open later than the club we were playing, and I guess we went over a dozen times or so. Sometimes he'd send us over a drink. The Carousel wasn't a very nice place, but RUBY tried to give..."
KIRK, THOMAS STEWART PALMER, 2728 West Davis, telephone
FD 1-3746, employed as branch manager, American Guild Variety Artists, Inc. (AGVA), 1500 Jackson Street, telephone RZ 2-8992, voluntarily appeared at the Dallas Office and furnished the following information:

KIRK, PALMER has been branch manager of AGVA at Dallas since May, 1962. He was preceded in this position by JACK CONRAD BROWN who uses the stage name of ALTON SPEEN, who performs as a magician. BROWN currently resides at 1422 Sedgwick, Chicago, and was branch manager of AGVA, Chicago Branch, from May 1962 until approximately November 21, 1963. BROWN is also a cousin of WILMA E.
HUGHES, Secretary AGVA, Dallas.

PALMER advised that at approximately 9 a.m. on November 24, 1963, MRS. HUGHES telephonically advised she had just talked by telephone to JACK CONRAD BROWN who had asked her to contact PALMER and ask PALMER to deliver a message to JACK RUBY in Dallas. PALMER advised as nearly as he can recall, the exact request which he received was "tell JACK not to send the letter today, it would be awkward in Chicago".

PALMER advised he does not know the significance, if any, of this message and stated the most logical purpose for the message is that JACK CONRAD BROWN was discharged or suspended from his position as branch manager of AGVA in Chicago on about Thursday, November 21, 1963, and the letter referred to in this message may well be a letter which JACK RUBY may have offered to write to other officials of AGVA in behalf of JACK BROWN to petition AGVA to reinstate BROWN.

PALMER advised that in any event, regardless of the purpose, he did not contact and had no intention of contacting JACK RUBY to deliver this message.

He advised following the later incidents which occurred on November 24, 1963, he felt it advisable to contact the FBI and to report his receipt of the request to convey the above message to RUBY.

2

He advised JACK CONRAD BROWN is a former resident of Dallas and it is his impression he was employed by the Veterans Administration in Dallas until about three years ago when he perfected a magician's act and became associated with AGVA.

He said he has known JACK RUBY for approximately one and one-half years as the operator of the Carousel Club and in this connection has had contact with RUBY in supplying performers for the entertainment offered by the Carousel Club. He said he has recently learned but cannot confirm that JACK RUBY is the owner of the Carousel Club but is instead a front man for RALPH PAUL whom he has described as a short-squat, elderly man who "shacks up with a TALIH TRUE. He said he does not know, but may be able to locate, the address of TALIH TRUE in Fort Worth, Texas. He said he does not know if RALPH PAUL is the actual owner of the Carousel Club.

He advised he has heard from JACK RUBY indications that RUBY considers himself "quite a gambler" and a person who "knows all the angles" but in the only incident which he recalls hearing about involving RUBY's gambling activities was from some source which he does not now recall, he heard that on one particular night, date not recalled, RUBY lost $600 in a card game to an individual who had "shaded" a dock on RUBY and that RUBY was "not even smart enough to know it".

He advised JACK RUBY has a sister named EVE, whose last name is not known by him, who owns or operates the Vegas Club on Oak Lawn Avenue. He remembers one incident possibly six months or a year ago in which JACK RUBY had a disagreement with EVE in which he struck her or slapped her around. He does not remember the reason for this difference but he feels sure it was over money matters.

He advised the only known associates of JACK RUBY are associated with him in the operation of the Carousel Club, these being RALPH PAUL, previously mentioned; GEORGE SCHULER, a roommate of RUBY's who is employed as a doorman the Carousel Club; and a "colored boy" whose name he cannot recall, but who tends bar at the Carousel Club and upon whom RUBY depends for administrative assistance in managing the business of the club.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is leased to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.
He said he knows of no close association of RUBY with any law enforcement officer but he does know that RUBY has often boasted of his contacts at City Hall, as well as his contacts all over the country.

He said he does recall one incident in which RUBY was involved in a fight at the Burgundy Room at the Adolphus Hotel in which the other party in the fight was taken to the hospital and RUBY was taken to jail. He said later the same night RUBY was released either on bond or otherwise and after getting released was boasting around town about his contacts and stated "if you ever have any trouble (presumably with law enforcement officers) come to see me."

He said in the one and one-half years that he has known RUBY, he has never seen him with a gun and has never received any indication from RUBY that he owned or carried a gun.

He said he had never seen or heard any indication from RUBY of any political interests, either national or in city affairs, displayed or voiced, and had the definite feeling that RUBY had no political preferences whatever and was interested only in whether or not he could make any business or money to his competitors.

He said he has not seen or been in contact with RUBY since Monday night, November 18, 1963, when he went by the Carousel Club to pick up the wages due by RUBY to a performer. He said on this occasion RUBY was extremely cool to him and he could think of no reason for this attitude unless it was because he was there to pick up money.

He said he does not know when RUBY came to Dallas but that RUBY has stated he was formerly a labor organizer in Chicago.

He said RUBY is a peculiar person in that he has done many favors for people who were broke or "down and out" and yet he fears these favors were done primarily to impress these persons that he (RUBY) was a man of considerable influence. He said he considers JACK RUBY to be a "schmier" and that he "never does anything, except to engage in fights."

"without first thinking about it". To his knowledge, RUBY does not confide in anyone and possibly in closer to RALPH PAUL than to anyone else in this area. He said he has heard RUBY mention that he "is RALPH's boy" and that RALPH would like to have him as a son.

He said he has never seen anyone associated with the Carousel Club during his connection with AGVA whom he would consider as a "thug", except that about one year ago an alleged friend of RUBY from Chicago worked for about one week as a doorman and that he considered this fellow to be "a real sharpie". He said he does not remember this man's name but does recall that RUBY said he was a nice guy who was temporarily out of work.

MULDER advised he knows of no reason and can find no logic in the shooting of LEE OSWALD by JACK RUBY on November 24, 1963. He said he has never seen or heard of OSWALD prior to the assassination of President KENNEDY and the ensuing publicity and knows of no association or acquaintances between OSWALD and RUBY.

MULDER advised it is inconceivable to him that JACK RUBY would shoot anyone as a result of any grief which he might feel as a result of the assassination of President KENNEDY since he feels it is not in keeping with the character of RUBY to have or to express any strong feelings in this regard, but that any strong feelings elicited from RUBY usually dealt with the question of whether someone tried to "chisel him out of money".

MULDER advised in the event he secures any additional information which may be helpful in this matter, he will gladly furnish it to this office.
JORDAN HAYDEN, Business Representative, American Federation of Musicians, Local 47, 817 North Vine, Hollywood, California, residence 6820 Fulton Avenue, Van Nuys, California, advised the following:

HAYDEN knew JACK RUBY, owner of the Carousel nightclub and Vegas Club in Dallas, Texas, for approximately five months beginning in March, 1961, professionally, and semi-socially when HAYDEN was then business manager of the Dallas area of the American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA). RUBY in the opinion of HAYDEN talked and dressed like a Chicago hoodlum, but had no known hoodlum connections. No gambling was observed in the clubs operated by RUBY and the latter was not known to be engaged in any gambling, prostitution, or other racket. HAYDEN had no knowledge of any use of liquor, narcotics, possession of homosexual tendencies, or of any sexual deviations on the part of RUBY. The latter was not known to have been engaged in any grafts or pay-offs to the police or public officials. RUBY obtained a license to operate the Carousel Club shortly after HAYDEN met him and there was no indication that the license was obtained in other than a normal manner.

HAYDEN through AGVA furnished variety acts which did not go to well, which resulted in RUBY introducing "strip" girls at the Carousel Club, which acts were not handled by AGVA. No acts were furnished at the Vegas Club which was a "rock and roll" dance club in a rough part of town, and which catered to what RUBY described as a rough clientel.

Vice Officers from the Dallas Police Department checked out the Carousel Club frequently. RUBY appeared to be friendly with both uniform and plain clothes Dallas policemen. He solicited their business but was not known to admit them gratuitously to the club, but uniform policemen on occasion were observed in the back of the Carousel Club drinking coffee with RUBY. The latter spoke of visiting the Dallas Police Headquarters from time to time where he passed out advertising cards. He was also observed several times waving and speaking to police when driving around Dallas as though he knew them personally.

RUBY also appeared to be friendly with the press in Dallas in the promotion of his nightclubs, particularly nightclub columnist TONY SOPHY.

RUBY was residing with a sister whose first name HAYDEN recalled was EVA, at the time HAYDEN met RUBY. EVA appeared to have the business sense and handled the bookkeeping work. RUBY was not to literate and did not display any good business knowledge. This was evident in HAYDEN's contract negotiations with RUBY. The latter spoke of a brother, name not recalled, who operated a laundramat in Dallas. HAYDEN never met this brother and had no knowledge of any of the other members of RUBY's family.

HAYDEN questioned RUBY on one occasion as to why he did not get married whereupon RUBY informed him that he was once engaged to a Dallas girl, but her identity was not further furnished. RUBY had not been married to HAYDEN's knowledge. RUBY appeared to like women, particularly the entertainers, but he was not known to go out with any particular woman.

Based on HAYDEN's business contacts and occasional coffee visits and breakfast with RUBY, HAYDEN formed the opinion that RUBY was extremely emotional and moody, and was an individual who in a short period of an hour would flare up, calm down, yell at people, and calm down again. He was almost fanatical in this respect. Whenever anybody opposed him or furnished a point of view with which RUBY was not in agreement, he would be almost fanatical. RUBY appeared to have a sense of humor except when the humor applied to him at which time he would become upset. It appeared that RUBY had a persecution complex thinking that anyone who disagreed with him or opposed him was against him.

RUBY was extremely sensitive to his personal appearance. He would frequently ask HAYDEN whether RUBY looked alright, how his suit fit, and he appeared interested in whether he, RUBY, gave evidence of any offensive body odor.

RUBY never engaged HAYDEN in any political, religious, or similar type of discussions and did not express any "extremist type of viewpoint." He never discussed any subversive organizations and had specifically never mentioned the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. RUBY had no foreign connections or had never visited in a foreign country to HAYDEN's knowledge.
RUBY never mentioned President KENNEDY or any other government officials to HAYDEN. He appeared to be interested primarily in Dallas, show business people, and the welfare of his club. He claimed that he wanted to develop the Carousel Club to the point where it would be the best club in Dallas, which would make him a lot of money and he could afford to get married.

RUBY displayed a keen interest in dogs and kept several in the apartment in which he lived in the rear of the Carousel Club. RUHY drove an old blue Oldsmobile, beat up appearance, about a 1954 model. HAYDEN observed RUHY take a hand gun, out of the trunk of the Oldsmobile on one occasion and place it on the seat of the Oldsmobile at the time RUHY was carrying funds from the nightclub and got the impression that this was a normal practice for RUHY whenever transporting funds.

HAYDEN had no knowledge of any threats on the part of RUHY against anyone and had no knowledge of any physical attacks or fights on the part of RUHY during HAYDEN's acquaintance with him.

HAYDEN stated that he felt sorry for RUHY and felt the latter would eventually have an emotional break down. When HAYDEN did not see RUHY for several days the latter would accuse HAYDEN of not liking him and would get upset to the point that when HAYDEN left Dallas he did not even tell RUHY goodbye as he felt that there would be a scene. RUHY had a habit of making a scene when a master of ceremonies or other entertainers left the Carousel Club, RUHY taking the position that these persons leaving did not like him. HAYDEN was unable to furnish any specific details in this respect.

Most of the mutual acquaintances of HAYDEN and RUHY appeared to regard RUHY as a sort of a “kook” which in the opinion of HAYDEN was based on RUHY's emotional outbursts from time to time. RUHY was well known to entertainers and people in the entertainment industry in the Dallas area although RUHY did not have any name personalities work at his clubs to HAYDEN's knowledge.

Hayden recalled one man whose first name he recalled to be DAVID, a male white, age in his 60's, small stature, 5'7", 125 pounds, who used to come to the Carousel Club and claimed to have been a friend of RUHY's of long standing. This DAVID claimed to own a barbecue stand or restaurant in Fort Worth, Texas, and to have formerly owned the nightclub in a hotel which HAYDEN believed was called the Blue Bonnet Hotel, located near the Carousel Club, but which hotel has now been demolished. DAVID remarked that he considered RUHY a highly emotional person, but DAVID knew him and understood him. DAVID was observed driving about a 1959 or 1960 four door Pontiac automobile on one occasion in the vicinity of the Carousel Club.

HAYDEN said that he had some recollection, exact source of information not recalled, possibly from a newscast, either radio or television, and possibly a television interview by the press with RUHY's sister EVA, to the effect that RUHY had visited Los Angeles four or five weeks prior to November 23, 1963. HAYDEN, however, had no knowledge of any such visit by RUHY to Los Angeles.

HAYDEN stated he has no knowledge whatsoever of any acquaintance between LES HARVEY OSWALD and RUHY.

Date, Dec. 13, 1963

Miss JUDY SMALLEY, secretary to DOCTOR GEORGE T. SHIRE, University of Texas, Southwestern Medical School, 3333 Harry Hines Boulevard, who resides at 1019 North Winnietta Street, Dallas, advised as follows:

In approximately October, 1962, she and PAT WALLACE, who has since married, married name unknown, moved into Apartment 108 at 223 South Ewing Street, Dallas. Miss WALLACE was married in August, 1963, and on September 1, 1963, Miss SMALLEY moved to her current address.

From approximately October, 1962, until Miss SMALLEY moved on September 1, 1963, JACK RUBY occupied an apartment, number unknown, in the building at 223 South Eving.

She said during the first few months she resided at the Ewing Street address she saw RUBY occasionally and outside of exchanging greetings, had no conversations with him.

Several months after moving to this address, she recalled, Miss SMALLEY's cousin was visiting her in Dallas. While Miss SMALLEY and her cousin were in their apartment one evening about 9:00 or 10:00 p.m., RUBY knocked on the door. When Miss SMALLEY answered, RUBY said he merely wanted to introduce himself to her cousin. Miss SMALLEY said neither she nor her cousin appreciated RUBY being in their apartment that time of night or at any time, and Miss SMALLEY tactfully ended their brief conversation, and RUBY left. She said RUBY was a gentleman and made no suggestions or advances whatsoever on that occasion or at any time she knew him.

During her residence at Ewing Street, she frequently saw RUBY around the apartment building and more frequently running himself at the apartment swimming pool, especially when women were at the pool. She added that often times, RUBY would walk his dogs, and she believed he "laid" his dogs to start conversations with others.

on 12/11/63 at Dallas, Texas

by Special Agent JAMES E. GAREIS/ehh Date dictated 12/13/63

This document contains neither recommendations nor opinions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to you merely for your convenience; it shall not be copied or used outside your agency.
On January 22, 1964, RUBY THOMAS KILLAN, 8114 Newport Avenue, Tampa, Florida, employed Wheels, Inc., Tampa, advised SA JOHN R. BRITT he had been in JACK RUBY's club in Dallas approximately three times and did not know RUBY well. He said he considered RUBY to be a violent man, basing this on two incidents, one being when his wife, an employee of RUBY, fed some pizza to RUBY's dog and RUBY became so enraged that Mrs. KILLAN was afraid he was going to attack her.

On another occasion KILLAN overheard a bartender telling RUBY about some customers heckling the excon, and RUBY asked the bartender why he did not hit them in the head. KILLAN stated he had no information on RUBY's background or associates that he did not know LEE OSWALD, and knew of no connection between RUBY and OSWALD.

Miss PATRICIA TAYLOR, 223 Exile, Apartment 114, Dallas, advised on December 3, 1963, that she has known JACK RUBY for approximately one and one-half years; however, she related, that she was not aware of the fact that he was residing in the same apartment building.

Miss TAYLOR stated that she had not known JACK RUBY well until January, 1963. She continued it was at that time she and friends, names unrecalled, were at the Vegas Club when an amateur "strip tease" contest was being held. She related that on that particular night, she had been drinking heavily and, due to her intoxicated condition, entered the contest and was awarded first prize. Miss TAYLOR stated that after the contest, she went to a dressing room where she was approached by JACK RUBY and offered a job as an "exotic dancer" at the Carousel Club. Miss TAYLOR stated that she declined the offer and since that time, RUBY had called her on numerous occasions attempting to interest her in working for him as a "stripper" and also "going out with him."

Miss TAYLOR related she would never date RUBY or work for him, as she is afraid of him. She further related that she is of the opinion that he is "weird" and possibly a "bi-sexual," explaining that he had no preference of sex in his sexual relations. Miss TAYLOR further related that in addition to her fears of RUBY, she would not consider dating him inasmuch as she was "going steady" with Patrolman JOHN WAYNE BARNETT of the Dallas Police Department.

Miss TAYLOR advised that RUBY is an "emotional-type person" and becomes excited easily. TAYLOR further advised that to her knowledge, RUBY has no interest in political issues and is not a member of any political organizations.

Miss TAYLOR stated that RUBY is acquainted with many police officers and due to this fact feels that he had no trouble entering the police department on the day LEE HARVEY OSWALD was being transferred to the Dallas County Jail. TAYLOR advised that she is of the opinion that inasmuch as RUBY is so well known by police officers of the Dallas Police Department, officers did not challenge him as "they" would never have considered him capable of shooting anyone.

Miss TAYLOR related that "RUBY is a nice guy once you get to know him, however, he is different."

DON RUBBER LEASURE was interviewed at The After Glow, at which time LEASURE was advised of the identity of the interviewers as Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He was advised that he did not have to make a statement and that any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law. He was advised of his right to consult an attorney.

LEASURE was asked whether he was acquainted in any way with JACK RUBY or GEORGE SENATOR, whereupon he advised that in 1955 when LEASURE came to Dallas he met JACK RUBY at RUBY’s club, the Carousel, in Dallas. LEASURE further advised that he met GEORGE SENATOR at the Smuggler Bar located at 4440 Gaston. LEASURE stated that his acquaintance with JACK RUBY has been very casual and he has not had occasion to go to the Carousel or the Vegas Club very often. He noted that his current employer, JUNE RIPKEY, was formerly employed as a dancer by JACK RUBY approximately four or five years ago. LEASURE advised that Mrs. RIPKEY was recently interviewed by FBI Agents concerning her employment by RUBY.

LEASURE stated that he did not know and never met LES HAIRY OSWALD, and he never observed OSWALD prior to seeing his picture in the Dallas press following the assassination of President KENNEDY. LEASURE never observed JACK RUBY or GEORGE SENATOR in the company of LES HAIRY OSWALD at any location at any time.

LEASURE furnished the names of the following persons whom he claimed are acquainted with JACK RUBY:

JIM BABBITE, Operator of the Joker Restaurant, 6102 East Mockingbird Lane, Dallas, Texas.
Mr. JAMES G. BcBRETAGHAN,
Operator of the Town Pump,

Mr. JULIAN EDGAR KAHN, II, also known as DUDE KAHN, was contacted at his place of residence, Apartment 358/41, Lincolnwood Apartments, located on Inwood Drive, Dallas, Texas, telephone AL 6-5013, at which time he advised that he is the roommate of SIDNEY SIMS. He stated that SIDNEY SIMS was not at home at that time but expected him sometime the following day. Mr. KAHN further advised that SIDNEY SIMS had mentioned to him that the FBI had contacted his mother, name unknown, in relation to the assassination of President KENNEDY and the shooting of LEE HARVEY ONSWALD. He related that he was not aware if SIDNEY SIMS had been a close friend of JACK RUBY nor could he give any information regarding SIMS association with either RUBY or OSWALD. He stated that SIDNEY SIMS would be home the following day and that he would have him contact the FBI Office, Dallas, Texas.

Mr. KAHN continued on to say that although he knew of no association between SIDNEY SIMS and RUBY, he personally has been acquainted with JACK RUBY for approximately nine years. He stated that he could not recall the exact circumstances surrounding the meeting of RUBY; however, he could recall that he was introduced to RUBY by an individual known to him as JOE JOHNSON, a local musician. KAHN stated that he was attempting to work his way up in the musical business and for this reason had become quite friendly with several of the night club owners around Dallas. He was aware that JACK RUBY was the owner of the Carousel and the Vegas Club and in connection with this felt that RUBY would be an excellent contact for musical business.

Mr. KAHN stated that "one thing lead to another" and finally sometime around 1956 he began working in the band that was employed at the Vegas Club. He went on to say that his employment at RUBY's club lasted approximately three months and was terminated around 1958 when KAHN decided to travel the country. KAHN advised that he could not recall any specific incidents that took place during his employment with RUBY and stated that it was just another musical job. He stated that RUBY at one time had written an article in the "Dallas After Dark" column of the "Dallas Morning News" concerning KAHN and what a good musician he was. After the article had appeared RUBY made it a point to advise KAHN that the article cost him approximately $50.00. Shortly after this writen in the paper, KAHN gave RUBY a picture of himself; but could not recall if RUBY had actually asked for the picture or if he had given it to him for a gift. KAHN went on to say that he has not worked for RUBY since 1956 and has only stopped by the clubs to pass the time of day.

In regards to any information he possessed concerning RUBY's background, Mr. KAHN advised that he has no personal opinions concerning RUBY's character, but that he could not substantiate his opinions for any particular facts. He described RUBY as being a highly emotional and tense individual who continually gave the impression that he was "keyed up". Whenever he observed RUBY, either working at his place of business or in a social circle, KAHN noticed that RUBY was continually excited and nervous. He went on to say that a few years ago he saw RUBY at the Cotton Bowling Palace and during the conversation RUBY began to rub a napkin between his fists as if he was trying to ask a question that might embarrass him. KAHN's first impression was that RUBY was "making eyes at him", but stated that he was never approached by RUBY in any manner. KAHN went on to say that RUBY never seemed to date many girls and for some reason he gained the impression that RUBY was a little on the "gay side", explaining that a "gay person" is one who is attracted to the same sex. Although he had no personal knowledge concerning any of RUBY's desires, KAHN advised that he often heard remarks indicating that RUBY had displayed feminine actions and was often referred to as a "nicey". KAHN stated that sometime ago he met RUBY in the parking lot of the Cotton Bowling Palace and noticed that a young attractive girl was accompanying RUBY. KAHN went on to say that he, KAHN, smiled at her and started to engage in a conversation when all of a sudden RUBY butted in and stated something to the effect that "you ought to quit playing with yourself!" or "you ought to go home and play with yourself!". KAHN thought that it was a very unusual statement to make under the circumstances and could not help believing that RUBY was a little "nutty". Other than seeing RUBY with a girl on this one occasion, KAHN could not recall any other time that RUBY may have been accompanied by a female. In addition. KAHN stated that he had never heard of RUBY dating any of the strippers that had worked for him but did know that a very close friend of RUBY by the name of ASR WEINSTEIN, who is the owner and manager of Abe's Colony Club, had dated several of the strippers that were employed both at the Carousel and the Vegas Club. In regards to any association of RUBY, KAHN advised that an individual by the name of JOHNNY BACHMIR, a former promoter for night club entertainment, was a very close friend of RUBY. He added that BACHMIR was "a little weird" and gave him the impression of being a little feminine. KAHN went on to say that a local musician by the name of JOE JOHNSON has been a close friend of RUBY during the past years and could recall overhearing a remark to the effect that RUBY had taken the house payments on JOHNSON's home. He added that JOHNSON has his own band and was of the opinion that JOHNSON had worked for RUBY for approximately seven years. Other individuals identified as being in JOHNSON's band at the time that they were employed by RUBY were TILLIX CROSS and HAROLD ROBINSON.

In regards to any type of relationship between RUBY and OSWALD, Mr. KAHN stated that he is not acquainted with OSWALD and for this reason would not be aware if there was any relationship. He added that RUBY to the best of his knowledge had never mentioned the name of OSWALD and had heard nothing since the shooting of OSWALD that would connect RUBY and LEE HARVEY OSWALD. He stated that he did not have any information that would be pertinent to the assassination of President KENNEDY or the shooting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and if he did hear of anything of importance he would immediately contact the FBI.
ROBERT E. MITCHELL, 3205 Frederick Street, Owensboro, Kentucky, advised that about four years ago he worked for BARNET WEINSTEIN at Theatre Lounge and ABE WEINSTEIN at Colony Club, Dallas, as a doorman and bartender, for a period of about eight months. While working at the Colony Club he met JACK RUBY who owned a dance hall and was getting ready to open the Carousel Club. MITCHELL talked to RUBY three or four times at the Colony Club about entertainment field as RUBY was interested in lining up girls to work in the Carousel Club. MITCHELL has no information on RUBY's personal life or political associations. MITCHELL has no information to indicate that RUBY was a homosexual. The piano man at the Colony Club, name unrecalled, once told MITCHELL that RUBY was a great admirer of President ROOSEVELT.

MITCHELL has worked at Lill's Jockey Club, Danville, Illinois, several times, the last time being about 15 months ago. MITCHELL does not recall mentioning RUBY to LIL LODRICK and stated the only reason he would have mentioned RUBY would have been to state that RUBY was opening a new strip club in Dallas, referring to the Carousel Club.

Mrs. WILLIAM C. B. HILLIARD, 4612 Fairfax, Dallas, Texas, voluntarily furnished the following information:

Approximately three years ago, she resided at 4812 Alcott, Dallas, Texas. At this time, she resided with SHERRI BENNER, PAT DE LONG and FRANCES WARLICH, all of whom were employed as stewardesses by Braniff Airlines. While residing at this address, which is the Continental Apartments, one of the girls found a small dog and brought it into the apartment. About a week later, a man by the name of JACK RUBY, who resided in the Continental Apartments but she believed his address was on Houser Avenue, told them that the dog belonged to him. RUBY told them that they could keep the dog but that he would just like to know where the dog was at.

She never had any conversation with RUBY as she recalls, and with the exception of SHERRI BENNER, he was just a casual acquaintance of her roommates. She explained that SHERRI BENNER was not closely associated with him but was more friendly than the other girls.

RUBY invited her and her roommates to his club, which was called the Vegas Club, and as she recalls, he seated them in the Club but there was not too much conversation. She stated she had the opinion that RUBY was a "nissey" due to his voice. As far as she knows, none of her roommates ever went out with RUBY or had any association with his other than small talk around the swimming pool.

She advised that SHERRI is now Mrs. DONALD RAMSEY and resides at 2919 Elmwood Avenue, Kansas City, Missouri.
He reiterated he did not know RUBY, had never engaged in homosexual activities with RUBY nor had he been "kept by or lived with" RUBY.

Commission Exhibit No. 1459

Miss ELINE ROGERS, 1728 North Pittsburgh, Apartment 101, furnished the following information:

Miss ROGERS has lived in Dallas, Texas, for the past three years and has been employed by the Bell Telephone Company in Dallas. Shortly after her arrival in Dallas, Miss ROGERS met JACK RUBY through a girl friend, MARYLYN ROONE, who worked for RUBY.

Miss ROGERS was never an employee of RUBY's and saw him only infrequently when she went to the Carousel Club or the Vegas Club in Dallas to visit MARYLYN ROONE. Miss ROGERS never dated RUBY, although on each occasion that she saw him he would ask her for a date. Soon after meeting RUBY, he started telephoning her several times each week. On each occasion, RUBY would ask Miss ROGERS to cut him in on his conversations with RUBY and read poetry to her over the telephone which was suggestive in nature but not obscene. Miss ROGERS could not recall the text of this poetry. As RUBY continued to call, his conversations over the phone became progressively more obscene. The obscenity of these calls progressed to the point where they were completely obscene, and Miss ROGERS felt RUBY obtained sexual gratification from the conversations had over the phone. RUBY began each obscene conversation with furnishing Miss ROGERS a detailed description of his private parts. He told her that he had begun circumcised and this would enable him to give her greater pleasure. RUBY would then describe in minute detail how he would have sexual intercourse with her and describe in great detail the pleasure she would derive from this act. Miss ROGERS indicated that the longer RUBY talked the more excited he became, and as indicated above, she felt that he derived sexual pleasure from these phone calls. RUBY made two or three additional calls at which time very similar conversations took place as described above. He finally quit making these calls when Miss ROGERS refused to listen. In view of RUBY's almost continuous occupation with sex and his continuous attempts to impress all of the girls with how great a man he was, Miss RUBY feels very strongly that JACK RUBY is a homosexual.
Miss ROGERS was shown a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and advised that he was unknown to her. The last time Miss ROGERS saw RUBY was on Wednesday night, November 20, 1963, when she went to the Carousel Club with a date by the name of HERB KRAVITZ, 4030 Cole Avenue, Dallas, Texas. Prior to going to the Carousel Club, KRAVITZ told Miss ROGERS that he was well acquainted with JACK RUBY and was afraid to see RUBY because of some argument they had had. Mr. KRAVITZ did not explain the nature of the argument with RUBY to Miss ROGERS. Miss ROGERS does not think RUBY shot OSWALD because of any feeling of patriotic duty but feels that it is merely another attempt on the part of RUBY to be a "big man."

Miss MOONE advised she had known JACK RUBY for approximately four years as she had worked as a waitress in numerous clubs in Dallas including the Vegas Club which is operated by RUBY's sister. She bade two weeks ago with RUBY as a stripper.

Miss MOONE described JACK RUBY as follows:

She said that he gave the first impression that he was a playboy and lady's man; that he "came on strong" however, she later thought him to have homosexual tendencies and was overly aggressive toward people to give the opposite impression and to cover up a bad inferiority complex. She stated that sometime after she had first met RUBY he began calling her on the telephone, and he would recite poetry to her which was very suggestive and almost obscene. She stated that he talked a great deal regarding sex but again she stated that she felt it was merely to cover up his homosexual tendencies. She said that RUBY also telephoned a girl friend of hers, ELAINE ROGERS, who presently lives at 1728 North Fitzhugh Street, and talked to her over the telephone regarding sex in a similar manner.

Miss MOONE advised that she knew no particular policeman or newsman whom RUBY knew personally as it was her understanding that he knew a number of Dallas police officers.

Miss MOONE was shown a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, and she advised that she had never seen OSWALD. She said that it would be very difficult for anyone on stage at the club to recognize faces in the crowd due to the lighting arrangements. Miss MOONE advised that she did not feel that RUBY shot OSWALD out of any sense of patriotic duty but felt it was just another attempt on his part to make everyone think he was a "big man."
FRED SEXAUER, 400 Andrews Street, Apartment 223, Hawthorn Apartments, Dallas, Texas, states he is employed as a Dallas City Patrolman by the Dallas, Texas, Police Department. He has been on duty at the Dallas Police Department on November 24, 1963, at the time Lee Harvey Oswald was shot by Jack Lee Ruby. He states he was attending church at the “Dallas 4-Square,” 1240 S. Oak Cliff Boulevard, Dallas.

Officer SEXAUER stated he knew RUBY as an apartment 223 at Marsalis Place, 223 S. Weing, Dallas, Texas, at the time he, SEXAUER, was also an apartment 223 at 223 S. Weing. He states he did not attempt to become friendly with RUBY, inasmuch as he considered him repugnant and so overly friendly, that he made people suspicious. He further states RUBY did not at any time visit in his apartment, but on one occasion, RUBY did offer him tickets to his night club, but he cannot recall whether or not he used the tickets.

Officer SEXAUER states RUBY frequently had girls at his apartment, presumably girls who were employed at his night club as “stripners.”

Officer SEXAUER stated it was rumored that the Marsalis Place Apartments that Jack Lee Ruby was homosexual and had on occasion been a partner in homosexual activities with the roofer at Room 206, Marsalis Place Apartments. Officer SEXAUER stated he does not know this roofer’s name and never had occasion to inquire of it.
JACK HENNER, Apartment 101, 700 Bitterweet, Chicago, Illinois, advised the following:

He is a former resident of Dallas, Texas, having resided there for approximately 10 years. He left Dallas approximately two years ago. While in Dallas he and his wife used to go to the Vegas Club, which was owned by JACK RUBY. He met RUBY at the club at various times. Moreover, he does not consider himself to be a good friend of RUBY's.

He recalls reading in a Dallas newspaper approximately four years ago that RUBY and another individual were arrested for sodomy.

He considers RUBY to be the lowest type of a character. I believe that he is a homosexual and is of the opinion that RUBY killed CORDLAD merely for publicity and personal gain. He does not believe RUBY is a patriot but a ruffian and he believes that RUBY killed CORDLAD in order to gain publicity. He recalls RUBY's Vegas Club was famous for cheating customers, such as serving watered drinks.

He does not know of any connection between CORDLAD and RUBY and does not have any connections between RUBY and the Dallas Police Department other than he feels that RUBY is known by the majority of the police officers due to the type of business RUBY was engaged in in the Dallas area.

Several times during the interview, Mrs. KIRILENKO affirmed the fact that she was furnishing above information concerning JACK RUBY at the Carousel Club, noting that she definitely recognized him when she observed him on television. She could recall the names of no associates or employees other than BRONYA and CARMEN set forth above.

Mrs. LEONA KIRILENKO, 3903 Camino del Valle SW, was reinterviewed concerning the homosexual allegations she previously made concerning JACK RUBY on December 2, 1963, and December 23, 1963. It was pointed out to her that RUBY did not operate the Carousel Club in Dallas until approximately sometime in January, 1960, and apparently did not venture into the operation of a strip tease club until approximately that date. Photographs of RUBY were displayed to her, and after carefully viewing them she said she is in error concerning the homosexual allegations previously made by her against RUBY. She said she is of the opinion now that she does not know JACK RUBY and was confusing him with someone who is very similar in appearance. Mrs. KIRILENKO was questioned concerning the identity of this individual whom she is confusing with RUBY, and she stated she cannot now recall. She said she has performed as a strip tease in as many different clubs for short two-week contracts over a period of years that her recollections concerning specific individuals are now vague.

She stated to her recollection she has never performed in the Vegas Club or the Silver Spur Club in Dallas. She reiterated the fact that she does not know JACK RUBY and she was in error in stating that he had homosexual tendencies.

Mr. J. L. "JACK" CAMPBELL, Owner and Operator of Humble Service Station, 3501 Oak Lawn, Dallas, advised that he has known JACK RUBY for several years and while JACK was personally running the Vegas Club, JACK was a regular customer of his service station which is located across the street from the Vegas Club. JACK RUBY would leave his car parked at the service station when he came to work and he, CAMPBELL, kept the car serviced for RUBY.

CAMPBELL stated that in his opinion, RUBY is a homosexual and has a tendency to associate with young boys rather than with women. It is his opinion that the women who work for JACK RUBY as strippers in his club are merely employees and are treated as such by RUBY and there is little or no personal associations between then and RUBY.

CAMPBELL stated that about six months to a year ago, RUBY opened the Carousel Club in downtown Dallas and turned the operation of the Vegas Club over to his sister IVA and since that time has spent very little time in the vicinity of the Vegas Club.

Mr. CAMPBELL advised he is not acquainted with any of the friends or associates of RUBY. He has, however, on a number of occasions, seen RUBY associating with Dallas police officers and riding with them in Dallas Police Department squad cars.

CAMPBELL stated that he has talked to RUBY on a number of occasions but RUBY has never indicated to him that he was opposed to the American way of life or had any liking for any foreign ideology. He stated that he did not feel in his opinion that RUBY was the type of person, however, who would have killed OSWALD for the sake of saving Mrs. KENNEDY any inconvenience since he appeared to be a self-centered person interested only in himself and making money.

After observing a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, he stated that he has never seen OSWALD with RUBY.

Commission Exhibit No. 1467
He stated that RUBY is acquainted with practically all of the known gamblers in the Dallas area, but that he has no business dealings with them at all. He pointed out that RUBY had on several occasions cautioned him, TURMAN, about setting up a "sucker" for any of the gamblers, stating that this would cause difficulty with the police department and, therefore, hurt their night club business in many ways. He stated that he had never known of RUBY being a procurer of women, and that he had engaged in several physical fights with known pimps in the Dallas area, who had tried to recruit or enlist the girls that RUBY had working at his club.

TURMAN stated that he is surprised that RUBY has lived as long as he has due to his extremely short and high temper, and due to the fact that for some unknown reason, RUBY thinks that it is somewhat his duty to correct any wrong that he sees take place. He said that RUBY has an odd outlook, and that on one hand he has a high regard for most of the police officers, and yet on the other hand, will attempt to take the law into his own hands on many occasions.
Mrs. JEAN BASH, 5724 Old Ox Road, Dallas, Texas, advised that she had worked for JACK RUBY as a waitress for approximately three years, from 1954 to 1957. She stated that this employment was at the Vegas Club, which to her knowledge was owned by JACK RUBY. She stated that she recalled RUBY as a very kind man but a person who became angry when anyone acted up in the club or did anything which might cause him difficulty with local authorities.

She said that RUBY was engaged to a woman by the name of ALICE (SNU), who had a teen-age daughter. She said he had gone so far as to give ALICE an engagement ring, and to her knowledge this was the only woman RUBY was ever really closely associated with.

She said she had never known RUBY to carry a gun, nor had she ever seen him with a gun in his possession. She described RUBY as an individual who always wanted people around him and gave the impression he was an individual who felt insecure. She said that if he liked people he would open the doors of the club to them and furnish them with everything on the house.

She recalled that he and his sister, EVA GRANT, and brother, SNU, were very emotional and high-strung people. Although very close to each other, they would often shout at each other and give the impression they were on the verge of a knock-down drag-out fight. Apparently, however, such emotional scenes which often took place in her presence would die down as soon as they had started, and the impression she gained was that there was not anything that they would not do for each other.

She said RUBY had never made any comments concerning politics in her presence, nor had he ever expressed an opinion as to the function of Government. She never knew of his having been associated with any police characters but had seen him refuse many characters with police records from gaining admission to the club. Although these individuals would beg for entrance into the club, once RUBY had made up his mind he stood firm and was seemingly afraid of no one.

Mrs. BETTY JEAN SIMS, residence 11361 Hermosa Drive, Fullerton, California, was contacted at Room 8, Hospital Cables Hospital, Bellflower, California, and advised that in 1956 she was fourteen years of age and observed a "Help Wanted" notice on the window at the Silver Spur Cafe, 4001 Elvas Street, Dallas, Texas.

She stated she applied for a job as a waitress and was hired by JACK RUBINSTEIN and his sister, ROSE, last name unknown. She stated she had never known him before. She knew his name to be JACK RUBY. She advised she was under age. She pretended to be eighteen years of age in order to get the waitress job. She worked there one night, during which time RUBINSTEIN attempted to rape her in the cafe kitchen. She stated she finished the night as a waitress but never returned to collect her pay. She advised she did not see RUBINSTEIN again until 1956 when she ran into him at the Vegas Club in Dallas, Texas, for a moment.

Mrs. SIMS stated she has no information to indicate that LEON HARVEY OSWALD and RUBINSTEIN were acquainted. She knew very little about RUBINSTEIN's background except that he came from Chicago, Illinois. He told her she Silver Spur Cafe was the first place he opened in Dallas, Texas. She advised she knew of no hoodlum or gambling connections or Dallas Police Department connections RUBINSTEIN may have had. She likewise stated that she did not know of any subversive connections that RUBINSTEIN might have had.

She related that she knew none of his relatives except his sister, ROSE, last name unknown, who helped him run the Silver Spur Bar where she was cashier. She knew of no friends, associates or girlfriends he may have had.

She stated that she knows nothing regarding RUBINSTEIN's parents and advised that inasmuch as he attempted to rape her when she hired him in 1946, she considered him a lush and a vulgar person with whom she would never want to again be associated. She advised she could make no further comment on his emotional stability other than the foregoing.

Commission Exhibit No. 1469
SLOAN stated that he believed JACK BUMY was in business in Dallas through money either:

- Linked to a money laundering operation.
- Connected to the John Doe's scheme.

The circumstances of Jack Bumy's disappearance and the money laundering operation were investigated by the Commission.
DAVID ELATKIN, Olympic Hotel, 230 Eddy Street, former fight manager, advised he knew RUBY in Chicago in the late 1920's and early 1930's as JACK RUBENSTEIN. RUBY did odd jobs to make a buck. He does not know why he left Chicago. He advised he last saw him in Cuba in 1959, when both met there accidentally while on a five-day vacation tour. ELATKIN stayed at the Capri Hotel. RUBY invited ELATKIN to Dallas and he went there in 1960 and visited the Commerce Club and the Vegas Club. He states RUBY is 100 per cent American and liked by everyone. RUBY became emotionally upset on occasions when conversations would become sympathetic, such as regarding poor people or the like. ELATKIN saw RUBY's sister EVA in Los Angeles in 1960. He advised he knows little about her. RUBY exercises two hours a day, and keeps in very good shape.

ROBERT ROOSEVELT BEALS, age 41, 2000 Foster Street, Evanston, Illinois, advised, at the Warwick Manufacturing Company, Niles, Illinois, the following information:

BEALS stated that during the latter part of 1948 he was under a show business contract to one JACE STARR. STARR was the owner of Jack Starr's Show Bar, located west of Dallas, Texas. BEALS stated his act consisted of doing a record pantomime where he would mimic certain well-known performers as their record was playing in the background. BEALS stated there were three individuals in the act, consisting of RANDY HAYES and BEALS, who are Negro males, and JACE STARR, who is a white male.

BEALS said through one BENNY JAMES, another Negro entertainer, he was introduced to JACE RUBY, who was then the owner of a night club which served setups in the 1200 block of South Ervy Street in Dallas.

BEALS said RUBY hired him along with BENNY JAMES to do three acts a night of record pantomime and RUBY also hired one HAM PRATT, a Negro male, who was a tap dancer.

BEALS stated that RUBY appeared to be a sincere individual in assisting BEALS and JAMES to "build up their act", and RUBY took a personal interest in improving BEALS' act. RUBY, at his own expense, placed several ads in Downbeat Magazine and Variety, both show business periodicals, in order to publicize the act, which was popularly known as ROOSEVELT BEALS AND UNCLE BENNY. RUBY also went as far as having still pictures of this act shown at movie theaters in Negro neighborhoods in order to give them additional publicity.

BEALS stated he saw RUBY almost every night for nearly a year during the latter part of 1948 until August of 1949. BEALS said he would characterize RUBY as a good businessman and as a person who would help people. BEALS said that RUBY was the type who would "give the shirt off his back to you". BEALS said, however, that RUBY appeared to be a perfectionist insomuch as he wanted things done "just right" in connection with the act. RUBY would also make suggestions as to the type of material used in the act and if the material was not used, RUBY would become very angry and at times say things to BENNY JAMES that the entertainer should listen to him and do what he wanted since his suggestions were what was good for the act.

BEALS said that RUBY could defend himself with his fists; however, he was friendly but stern with customers that got out of hand at the night club. BEALS saw RUBY get into one fight where RUBY threw out a customer who became very sarcastic and caused trouble at the club. BEALS said RUBY appeared to be an emotional type of a man inasmuch as at times RUBY would discuss things with BEALS in connection with World War II. RUBY appeared very interested in BEALS when BEALS told him that he was in combat during World War II and received injuries to his hand in connection with an explosion. RUBY mostly would talk of how the act was progressing and how business was doing and very rarely discussed politics. However, RUBY appeared very emotional at times when he discussed the atrocities committed by Fascists and Nazis during World War II. RUBY would talk about the war and how HITLER ordered millions of innocent people to be killed and tears would come to RUBY's eyes.

BEALS said that he remembered RUBY stated that "We lost a great man when ROOSEVELT died." Otherwise, RUBY did not express any opinion as to his political beliefs.

BEALS stated that RUBY had a gun, which was believed to be a Smith & Wesson .38 caliber with a six inch barrel. This gun was maintained on a shelf under the cash register.

BEALS said that in August of 1949 he received word that his father had died and RUBY voluntarily gave him money, approximately $35.00, in order to attend his father's funeral.

BEALS said (FNU) ALLEN, the piano player, who had a barber shop on the 4200 block of South Wytla Street in Dallas would be another individual who would know RUBY.
DAVID S. LEVENTHAL, Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Agent, Field Audit Division, IRS, Corrigan Towers, 212 North St. Paul, Dallas, Texas, advised that his office is located on the 8th floor of the Corrigan Towers and his telephone number is 810-8561, extension 2445. He stated, however, that he has never talked with JACK RUBY on this extension. He related that he knew there is no DAVE ROSENTHAL employed by the IRS at Dallas and that he knows of no one by that name. He advised that another IRS Agent, OLEN STINNETT, has talked with RUBY on this extension several times in the recent past concerning a tax compromise with RUBY.

LEVENTHAL advised that he does not know RUBY, however, and he first met RUBY in approximately 1951 or 1952 when LEVENTHAL was a public accountant. He said RUBY hired him at that time to handle his account for which LEVENTHAL did for about one year during 1951-52. He said RUBY was operating the Silver Spur Club in Dallas at the time and RUBY was not very successful in that business venture. He stated that in 1952 he was employed by a private firm and did not subsequently handle RUBY's account. He stated that as a result of the above service, RUBY owed LEVENTHAL money which he never paid. He added, however, that in subsequent years RUBY offered to pay LEVENTHAL but LEVENTHAL told RUBY to forget about it.

He related that in approximately 1954 RUBY and RUBY's fiancée, name unrecalled, invited him to accompany them to a boxing match in Dallas, which he did. He stated that outside of this association, he had no social contacts with RUBY. He added the only subsequent contacts with RUBY were occasional greetings exchanged when he saw RUBY on the streets of Dallas. The last time he saw RUBY was about two years ago when LEVENTHAL and LEVENTHAL's wife visited RUBY's Carousel Club in Dallas.

LEVENTHAL said nothing ever came to his attention reflecting that RUBY was engaged in any illegal activities and it has been his impression that RUBY was a law-abiding citizen, a serious minded businessman, and he operated a "clean," legitimate business. He related that his conversations with RUBY pertained primarily to business matters and RUBY never discussed his personal life or politics. He believed that RUBY is completely loyal to the U. S.

LEVENTHAL advised that RUBY is somewhat "hot tempered" but he has never seen him in a violent state or strike anyone. He added that RUBY likes "show business" and being his own boss.

LEVENTHAL stated he knew none of RUBY's close associates or acquaintances and he did not know if RUBY had friends on the Dallas Police Department.

LEVENTHAL did not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD and knew of no association between RUBY and OSWALD. He had no idea how RUBY gained entrance to the basement of the Dallas City Hall on November 22, 1963, or why RUBY killed OSWALD.

JAMES HENRY DOLAN, 101 North Edgewood, Dallas, Texas, interviewed Dalles, Texas Police Department, Furnished the following Information:

DOLAN has known JACK RUBY since 1957. From 1957 to 1960, DOLAN was union representative, American Guild of Variety Artistas, 510 Interurban Building, Dallas, and during this time he saw a lot of JACK RUBY. He has visited RUBY at his club on several occasions. DOLAN was shocked when he heard that RUBY had shot LEE HARVEY OSSWALD as he did not believe in to the type of individual who would so such a thing. He recalled that RUBY was "an intense fellow", and "hot tempered", however, he considered him to be a nice guy, cordial and a free spender who freely gave money to friends and acquaintances. Based on his knowledge of RUBY, DOLAN does not believe RUBY to be the type who would plan to murder someone. He has always known RUBY to be law abiding and RUBY was always strict in observing union regulations in connection with contacts with entertainers. RUBY was very high tempered and on occasion, would "flare up" and punch someone but he would get over these flare ups quickly.

DOLAN knew RUBY to be very friendly toward all police officers and it was his impression that RUBY was trying to abide by the law in the operation of his club. DOLAN does not know of any particular police officer with which RUBY was particularly friendly.

DOLAN had not been in RUBY's club in over a year and he last saw RUBY about three months ago at the Town and Country Restaurant in downtown Dallas.

During the time DOLAN was in contact with RUBY, RUBY never discussed politics and did not indicate any interest in politics. RUBY liked to impress people, he was an "attention getter". He was interested in prize fights and during the short time that DOLAN promoted fights in Dallas, RUBY always wanted to be on the front row of these fights. RUBY seemed to be a fanatic on physical fitness and muscle building and DOLAN considered this to be unusual for a man of RUBY's age.

To DOLANs knowledge, RUBY did not have many outside connections and he has no knowledge of any travel by RUBY.

DOLAN recalled that sometime ago, RUBY had some difficulty with an entertainer at the Carousel Club and she made a complaint to DOLAN as union representative for AGVA. DOLAN said such complaints were common during the time he was union representative and he does not recall any details concerning this particular incident.

DOLAN said he considered RUBY to be a rather unstable individual as evidenced by his apparent desire for attention and publicity. It is his opinion that RUBY is not the type of individual who would plan to commit a violent crime and that the shooting of LEE HARVEY OSSWALD was a "flash action" on the part of RUBY.

DOLAN said he could furnish no additional information concerning JACK RUBY. RUBY, to his knowledge, was not acquainted with LEE HARVEY OSSWALD and there was no connection between these individuals.

DOLAN had never seen or heard of LEE HARVEY OSSWALD prior to the assassination of President KENNEDY.
WILLIAM EDWARD HOWARD, age 61, operator, Stork Club, 3118 Oak Lawn Avenue, residence 4029 N. Central Expressway, furnished the following information:

HOWARD has known JACK RUBY for about 12 years and first met him when RUBY was operating the Silver Spur Club. He has been with RUBY many times socially and both have visited at each others homes. He last saw RUBY on about November 12 or 13, 1963, when RUBY stopped by the Stork Club in the afternoon to tell HOWARD the trouble he had had recently with a scripper named "Jada", and how he, RUBY, had outsmarted her.

HOWARD was not surprised when he heard RUBY had shot LEE HARVEY OSWALD, as RUBY is capable of anything, because he is a head strong and impulsive individual. RUBY always carried a gun, a black, snub-nosed revolver, believed to be a .32 caliber in a .38 frame.

RUBY spoke often of JOHN F. KENNEDY and his family and expressed a great deal of personal admiration for the late President. RUBY also admired FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, as a great image. RUBY was not active in politics and was not a politically minded individual.

RUBY is a "one man operation" and a real "lone wolf" type of individual. HOWARD is certain RUBY had no assistance of any kind in the slaying of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, as RUBY would not trust anyone. HOWARD is sure RUBY committed the slaying of OSWALD on the spur of the moment and made no elaborate plans, if he made any plans at all. HOWARD believes RUBY "lived for the moment" and was a real Damon Runyon character. RUBY did not smoke or drink and had alot of color and "moxie" with girls, since RUBY was an extreme extrovert. RUBY never had a steady girl friend, but instead played the field.

RUBY definitely does not have any homosexual tendencies.

RUBY knows almost all of the Dallas Police Department and explained to HOWARD that this was only good business in light of RUBY operating night clubs.

RUBY used to give the Police small gifts and favors, but never did expect any specific favors from the policemen. HOWARD could not recall any specific instances where gifts were given to policemen by RUBY.

JOHN C. JACKSON, 201 Delphine, Lafayette, Louisiana, who is employed as Vice President of the National Research Corporation, advised that he became acquainted with JACK L. RUBY in November, 1956 in Dallas. JACKSON stated he had gone to Dallas to attempt to obtain financial backing for some experiments that he was conducting on degenerative diseases. He stated that his connections in Dallas had fallen through and that the man he had contacted had turned out to be a promoter who had no money and he was in Dallas then broke, and not knowing which way to turn. At about 3:00 AM, he was in Pull's Delicatessen when RUBY came into the delicatessen. RUBY spoke to practically everyone in the place, both individuals with whom he was acquainted and strangers and as a result, he and RUBY became engaged in conversation. JACKSON stated that he told RUBY his problems and RUBY insisted that JACKSON go to his apartment and gave him the key to his apartment, which was located at about 310 Hawthorne in Dallas. JACKSON said he accepted the key and went to the apartment and ended up living in RUBY's apartment until the end of 1957. During this period, JACKSON stated that he was engaged in trying to raise capital to continue his experiments and his acquaintance and association with RUBY at the Vega Club provided him with contacts in this regard. JACKSON stated that he worked some at the Vega Club, usually on weekends, but spent most of his time trying to raise money for his experiments. He stated that he spent quite a lot of time with RUBY during this period, but had had no contact with RUBY since May, 1958. He described RUBY as a "very complex person." He stated that RUBY was a proud person, proud of his Jewish background and became very angry if anyone made any uncomplimentary remarks about Jews. He was a neat dresser, but his apartment and his club were both messy and not well maintained. RUBY sometimes would take two or three showers a day, but his automobile, a 1951 Buick was a dirty "rattletrap" and RUBY would drive this car anywhere.

RUBY did not like violence and could not stand to see people suffer, but engaged in many fights, some that he was responsible for starting. RUBY liked to be recognized.
and liked to appear in a good light and seemed to have a need to be before people. He would often go on the stage at the club to introduce star performers, lead the applause or introduce prominent guests or customers. RUBY seemed to like people and talked to almost everyone. JACKSON related that RUBY seemed to have trouble reaching a decision and related that on one occasion he was with RUBY when RUBY went to buy some toothpaste, at a drug store. RUBY solicited the opinions of all the employees in the drug store and of the customers also before purchasing the toothpaste. On another occasion, JACKSON accompanied RUBY to purchase flashlight batteries and RUBY again went through the same procedure of soliciting opinions before purchasing the batteries.

When RUBY went to downtown Dallas, he would usually walk through the lobby of the Hilton Hotel, which was usually out of his way, just to see people and to be seen.

RUBY had what JACKSON described as a "defender complex" RUBY seemed to like to picture himself as a protector of good from evil and in the operation of his club would let some of the customers go too far in getting drunk, rowdy and creating a scene. After letting things go too far, RUBY would then become abusive with the customers and force the customer to either "crawl" or fight. RUBY was very strong and agile and a very good fighter and usually the customer would have to crawl. RUBY apparently pictured himself as protecting his customers from the rowdy individuals.

RUBY always carried a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson snub nose revolver when at the club and had this pistol in a bank bag when he went to the bank.

RUBY told JACKSON that he was from Chicago and had been raised on Maxwell Street, a tough area in Chicago; had grown up with and had been a lifelong friend of DANNY THOMAS, the television star. RUBY still maintained contact with

THOMAS and they occasionally talked to each other on the telephone. RUBY had a brother in Chicago whose name was not known to JACKSON, but who, from comments of RUBY, apparently had a lot of money.

While in Chicago RUBY advised that he had been instrumental in organizing the Drink Handlers Union and in this venture, had taken as a partner a "hugie" man, whose name JACKSON did not recall. RUBY and his partner were contacted by "The Syndicate" and informed that the organizing of the union would proceed much more smoothly if they would permit the syndicate to furnish the secretary. They agreed to this and as a result were forced out. RUBY and his partner fought back and as a result the partner was killed by a machine gun and RUBY apparently got out of the picture for fear of receiving the same treatment. JACKSON advised that RUBY always seemed to be apprehensive when Sicilians would come to his club or would hang around. JACKSON stated that he felt that RUBY was fearful of harm or trouble from Sicilians either in Chicago or in Dallas, but that he did not know why RUBY had this apparent fear.

JACKSON advised that RUBY was, in his opinion, a poor night club operator who had an income of about $150.00 to $200.00 a week during the time that he was in Dallas. JACKSON stated that RUBY gave away a lot of money and drinks which prevented him from making more money at the club. He stated that he did not believe that anyone who knew RUBY would finance him in a night club venture. There was a question in his mind as to the source of the money and the financing of the Carousel Night Club which RUBY was reported to own. He advised that if the financing of the Carousel Night Club could be satisfactorily explained, then it would be his opinion that RUBY had murdered OSWALD in an effort to put himself in a good light in the eyes of the public as an average and defender of good from evil. He stated that as RUBY seemed to be quite fond of policemen, it seemed entirely possible to him that RUBY shot OSWALD because OSWALD had shot a policeman and out because he was alleged to have murdered President KENNEDY.
JACKSON advised that RUBY did not, to his knowledge, have any underworld connections. He related that RUBY's friends were very few, though he had lots of acquaintances in all walks of life. In addition to DANNY THOMAS, he mentioned that RALPH PAUL, who worked at the Vegas Club was a friend of RUBY as was GEORGE SENATOR, who hung around the Artists Club and (FNU) MC WILLY, who resided in the Maple Terrace Apartments.

JACKSON stated that he did not recall RUBY ever exhibiting any interest in or discussing politics, communism or the racial situation. He related that RUBY did not have any homosexual tendencies to his knowledge, though he did have some slightly effeminate characteristics, bathing several times a day and being immaculate in his drees. He stated that RUBY had girl friends, but was peculiar in that after he had gone to bed with a woman, he was ecorful of her and would not go out with her again.

JACKSON advised that Miron was composed of mineral water with enzymes added. He stated that this product had been created by him and that he and RUBY were going to try to market it, but that they were unsuccessful in doing so, as Miron was not a marketable product.

JACKSON advised that he was not acquainted with LEE HARVEY OSWALD and had never heard of him before his name appeared in the news in connection with the assassination of President KENNEDY. He stated that he knew of no connection or association between RUBY and OSWALD.

JACKSON advised that RUBY had been in the Army Air Corps during World War II and seemed to take a great deal of pride in this fact. He said that RUBY had said that he was glad that his family had decided to come to the United States when they immigrated to this country.
GLADYS CRADDOCK, 710 North Ewing Street, Apartment 112, has been employed in the Classified Ad Department of the Dallas Morning News since August 26, 1962.

In this capacity she became acquainted with JACK RUBY who frequently placed an advertisement with that paper. Beginning approximately six months ago RUBY began asking her for dates. At first she was impressed over these offers knowing that he ran a "girlie strippe show".

Approximately one month ago GLADYS, in seeking night employment to supplement her wages, asked RUBY where she could get night work. He invited her to work for him at the Carousel Club as a hostess at this time telling her that "despite what she had heard all she had to do was keep an open mind".

During the first week of November beginning on November 4, 1963 she went to the club at night and worked as a hostess for three nights then missed Wednesday and Thursday nights, worked Friday night and again the following Monday, November 11, 1963 at which time she left the club and informed RUBY she could not continue this work.

During her work at the club she stated RUBY's only association and contact with the "strippers" was strictly business, that he did not date any of the girls, did not associate with them on a social scale and did not even introduce her to these girls.

CRADDOCK stated that the argument with "JADA" arose when RUBY had to turn off the lights during JADA's act when JADA took off her "G" string which would have caused RUBY to lose his license. She also stated that RUBY informed her that JADA was using the club to prostitute.

On the second date CRADDOCK had with RUBY he discussed his great admiration for President KENNEDY, his wife and family, and she stated that she knew he was a great admirer of the KENNEDY family as well as the United States having frequently made statements as to his childhood in the "tough part" of Chicago where he had one time lived on noodles and water and it would be a day of feasting when the family acquired a spoiled herring.

CRADDOCK stated that RUBY had a healthy respect for authority and police and that she definitely did not believe that he did or ever would have any connection, tie-up with any organization which was against the American Government.

CRADDOCK further stated that in her opinion his shooting of OSWALD was purely an impulsive and emotional act and if RUBY could have foreseen the criticism his action would bring against the City of Dallas that he would never have shot OSWALD.

CRADDOCK stated that he always was seeking "class" and was considering opening a private club on Maple Avenue in order to get away from the girlie shows.

She further stated that he had always treated her as a lady and on one occasion had kissed her on the cheek and patted her on the back when telling her good night and had never made any amorous advances.

CRADDOCK also stated she did not believe RUBY knew OSWALD and his only male friend known to her was RALPH PAUL.

CRADDOCK last saw RUBY around 11:00 a.m., Friday, November 22, 1963 when he was in the Classified Ad Section preparing advertisements for his Carousel Club, and she had received no message of any sort from him since the assassination of President KENNEDY.

Commission Exhibit No. 1479
KAY HELENColeman, see Harvey, stage name KATHY KAY, 323 North Flang, Dallas, Texas, currently appearing at the King's Club, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, advised she had remained at her residence in Dallas, Texas, until December 2, 1963, at which time she was booked at the King's Club in Oklahoma City. She denied departing Dallas, Texas, hurriedly after JACK RUBY shot Lee Harvey Oswald.

Coleman advised she was employed as an exotic dancer by Jack Ruby approximately two and one-half years ago and has worked for him at the Carousel Club since that time with the exception of a brief period during 1962 when she worked at the Colony Club in Dallas, Texas.

Coleman advised Ruby did not date the dancers at the club to her knowledge and that Ruby had never made advances to her at any time. She described Ruby as a person with definite opinions who felt a person who did not agree with his views, therefore, against him. She stated Ruby had never discussed politics with her or in her presence and advised the club business was apparently Ruby's main interest in life.

Coleman advised she had never seen Lee Harvey Oswald in the Carousel Club in Dallas and was certain there was no connection whatever between Oswald and Ruby.
She stated on first hearing that Ruby had shot Oswald she felt he had done it for the publicity but after further thought she had been unable to arrive at any reason Ruby may have had.

Coleman advised she has dated Harry Olsen, Patrolman, Dallas Police Department, presently hospitalized at the Methodist Hospital in Dallas, on a regular basis for over a year. She stated she and Olsen had discussed marriage but due to her occupation no wedding plans had been made.
She advised Olsen's father is a preacher and though she has met Olsen's family they are not aware of her occupation.
Coleman stated Harry Olsen did not like Jack Ruby and seldom came to the Carousel Club. She pointed out Ruby discouraged boyfriends of the dancers at the club frequenting the club.

DELORES SILVA was interviewed at the home of her mother, MARIA M. SANTOS, 155 Bradley, San Antonio, Texas, and she advised the following information:

SILVA stated she is an entertainer and uses the stage name, Dior Angel. Her act is as a striptease dancer and she worked at the Carousel Club, Dallas, Texas, for three or four weeks in April 1963. She stated she could not recall the dates, but the engagement started on Monday after Easter Sunday. Her employer at the Carousel Club was JACK RUBY. She stated she had very little association with RUBY, other than business but indicated she had dinner with him on Easter Sunday and he later showed her around Dallas. She also advised she asked him to be her partner, but he refused. She said he seemed very lonely and wanted companionship. SILVA stated that on other occasions she and other entertainers in Dallas at that time went out as a group and RUBY often went along, but she had little close association with him.

SILVA further advised she does not know OSWALD and can recall no one resembling OSWALD ever being at the Carousel or any other place she has worked. She stated she knows of no connection between OSWALD and RUBY. She added that, to her knowledge, they did not know each other and she has heard no one mention that they may have been connected in any way.

SILVA stated that during the time she worked in Dallas her boyfriend was CARLO PETRILLO, a member of Carne and Paul Comedy Team. She added that she does not know where they are at present, but about two weeks ago they were at a hotel (name unknown) in Great Falls, Montana. She advised that PETRILLO does not resemble any of the photographs she has seen of OSWALD. She also advised that PETRILLO told her that the FBI had talked with him regarding RUBY. She further advised she was interviewed by FBI Agents in Massachusetts a few days after the President was assassinated.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is issued to your agency if the circumstances are not to be distributed outside your agency.

SILVA indicated that RUBY wanted to let little things bother him and was emotional at times. He was loud at times and seemed to be trying to attract attention to himself. She said at times he was like a little boy in his desire for companionship. She added that she was surprised when she heard that RUBY had shot OSWALD because she did not think of him as a person who would do such a thing. SILVA also stated that she never knew RUBY to carry a gun, but guessed that he did on most club owners who carry large amounts of money.

SILVA advised that she plans to leave San Antonio December 26, 1963, for a four-week engagement at the Show Bar, New Orleans, Louisiana.
JOSEPHINE ANN BUNCE, 3024 Walnut Street, advised she is now employed as a dismissed at the 39 Club, Main and 39th, Kansas City, Missouri. She advised she has worked as a dismissed and dental assistant. She is 20 years old, however, represents herself as 24 in order to gain employment. She has never married and has an illegitimate child two years old.

Miss BUNCE advised that during January, 1963 she and three others decided to go to Las Vegas, Nevada. They purchased an old automobile for $50.00. They left Kansas City on January 26, 1963, but got only as far as Dallas, Texas. Her companions on this trip were: 1 - JAYNE BARTLETT, who is now in Baton Rouge, Louisiana; 2 - BONNIE CAVIN, who is now married and living in Dallas, Texas; 3 - AL BOTER, a hair stylist. BOTER was the only male, however, she learned on the trip that he was more homosexual than heterosexual. In Dallas BOTER sold the automobile for $50.00, but left Dallas keeping the money; his whereabouts are unknown.

Miss BUNCE advised that when the above group arrived in Dallas they stayed for approximately one week at a motel, the address she cannot recall, and said the name was "El." They left the motel owing a bill of approximately $90.00.

Miss BUNCE advised she answered an ad in the newspaper for employment at the Lavender Room where she met GEORGE SENATOR. She does not know the name of the proprietor of the Lavender Room who interviewed her concerning the job, but through GEORGE SENATOR she obtained a job at the Carousel Club. SENATOR introduced her to JACK RUBY, the proprietor of the Carousel Club. This was while she was residing at the motel. She was the only one of the above group who obtained employment.

Miss BUNCE advised she initially dated GEORGE SENATOR and BONNIE CAVIN dated a roommate of SENATOR, name recalled only as STAN.

Miss BUNCE advised she was employed at the Carousel Club for two weeks as a "Champagne Girl." She left the employment of the Carousel Club for a better position at the Club Royal, however, she was not there long and also worked at the Smugglers Lounge, Cavan Club and Tom & Jerry's. During the second week at the Carousel Club she started dating JACK RUBY, by whom she meant that after work several of the employees would go out to breakfast and then she would accompany RUBY to his apartment. After she left the Carousel Club she still dated RUBY two or three times a week by going out to dinner and/or being in his apartment.

Miss BUNCE advised that she cannot recall the address or telephone number of RUBY's apartment and she has destroyed the address. The apartment she recalled was on the third floor, the first door at the top of the stairs. SENATOR had an adjoining apartment. During the time she associated with RUBY he did not have a roommate. Miss BUNCE advised that she had been intimate with RUBY and that he was a "straight man" and did not resort to any acts of perversion. He owned about three dogs and on one occasion while she was in his apartment she received a telephone call from a person unknown to her who apparently made allegations that RUBY had sexual relations with his dog. After hanging up the telephone, RUBY made a joke of these allegations and in effect made denial to her of such actions.

Miss BUNCE further advised that she never met anyone either male or female at RUBY's apartment. While in his apartment she did not view any photographs or other items which might identify his associates. RUBY always carried a revolver, which was explained to her as being common practice for someone in his occupation as a means of protection.

Miss BUNCE advised she does not recall the name LEE HARVEY OSWALD being mentioned by RUBY or any of his associates at the Carousel Club. She has seen photographs of OSWALD on television and in the newspapers and the resemblance is not someone who she might have seen before, but not necessarily at the Carousel Club, in association with RUBY, or even in Dallas.

Miss BUNCE added that RUBY never gave her any reason to believe that he had any communist sympathies. He was devoted to his business in addition to having a good time. He was a highly emotional unpredictable person, particularly at work. For instance if a girl dropped a bottle of champagne, 1 would fly off the handle. Also while in his apartment she never noticed any literature which she could identify as communist. On the night stand beside his bed she noticed on one occasion a leaflet, about 8" by 11", which was written in a foreign language and which she thought might be Yiddish since RUBY is Jewish.

Miss BUNCE advised that she did not know of any other weapons in RUBY's apartment and she did not know if he ever practiced with the gun which he carried.

Miss BUNCE advised after leaving the motel, she and her two girl friends lived in an apartment at the Fontaine Villa at Junis and Collett Streets. Neither JAMIE nor BONNIE were ever in RUBY's apartment, however, they were at the Carousel Club on occasion. BONNIE was in GEORGE SENATOR's apartment which was next door to RUBY.

RICK MORRISON, 4402 Colgate Lane, and 318 Magnolia Street, Garland, Texas, advised he was currently employed by the Inter-Continental Manufacturing Company, Garland, Texas. He said he had no knowledge of LEE HARVEY OSWALD by name or description and had seen this man's photograph numerous times on television and in the newspapers, and was certain he had never met him.

However, he had met JACK RUBY on one or two occasions when RUBY operated the Las Vegas Club in Dallas. These meetings were not connected with any business, but he had heard RUBY had pistol-whipped a friend of his, and he wanted to meet him to see if he was really tough as people said he was. He knew of no connection between RUBY and any element which might be considered subversive and he had heard of no association between JACK RUBY AND LEE HARVEY OSWALD.
Mr. Wynn Warner, 8400 Tuscan, Playa del Ray, California, residence telephone 328-9297, a musician who currently is appearing at the most International Restaurant, 201 World Way, Los Angeles International Airport, Los Angeles, California, advised that he had first met Jack Ruby in Dallas, Texas, in about 1958 having been introduced to him at a restaurant known as Luna's B & B Restaurant. Mr. Warner advised that he did not recall who introduced him to April 1968 for a short time during that year until he left for about six months returning to Dallas in July or August four occasions and found him to be a very personable, friendly type individual. Warner said that when he returned to Dallas that he, Warner, was opening with his band at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Dallas. He said Ruby was very happy to hear this and remarked what a wonderful opportunity it was for Warner. Warner commented that Ruby is such a personable individual that everybody in Dallas knows him and that Ruby makes it his business to know what is going on in Dallas. Warner said that he remained in Dallas, Texas, until May 1961 at which time he left and has not returned to Dallas, since that time. He said that he therefore has had no contact of any kind with Ruby since May of 1961.

Warner said that he never considered his contacts with Ruby to be more than just a casual acquaintance as Ruby was an easy individual to get to know on that basis. He said that he never visited Ruby's home and that Ruby never visited at his residence. Warner said that he believed that Ruby had been to the night clubs operated by Ruby on one or two occasions for a very brief period. He recalled that on one instance he stopped in at the Vegas Club to hear a Negro band known as the Johnson's Group. Warner informed that he met Ruby's sister on three or four occasions but never really became acquainted with her. He said that this was the extent of his association with Ruby.

Warner stated he never heard Ruby mentioned the Dallas Police Department and he advised that he knew nothing whatsoever about any contacts Ruby might have had with the Dallas Police Department. He said that he knew little about Ruby's background and he commented that Ruby was the type who tried to obtain all the information he could about Warner, but also on the other hand close mouthed about himself. He said that Ruby was an individual with a very inquiring nature. Warner recalled that Ruby was from Chicago and that Ruby's father had died. He said that Ruby appeared to be a religious man because after his father's death Ruby visited the Jewish Synagogue every morning for a long time thereafter. Warner said he knew this because Ruby had told him and Warner stated that he recalled having seen Ruby at the Jewish Synagogue on one of the Jewish holidays. Warner said that he was of the opinion that Ruby was a rather religious man.

Warner stated he knew nothing whatsoever about any hoodlum, gambling or subversive connections of any kind which Ruby might have. In addition, he knew nothing about any radical or extreme views Ruby might have inasmuch as Ruby never expressed any interest in any organization of any kind to him. Warner said that the only relative of Ruby's whom he had met was his sister and furthermore, he knew nothing about any close associates of Ruby. He said that it was his impression that Ruby was a lone operator and he could not recall Ruby ever introducing him to anyone. Concerning girl friends of Ruby, Mr. Warner said that he believed Ruby seemed to like to be in the company of women but that he never knew him to have any actual girl friends. He also informed that he had never met Ruby's parents and he could not recall Ruby ever discussing his parents other than to indicate that he visited the Synagogue after his father's death.
Mr. WARNER commented that he had been watching on television at the time RUBY shot and killed LEE HARVEY OSWALD. He said that he was shocked when he learned that the identity of the man who had shot OSWALD was RUBY. He said that in speaking about the man he came to the conclusion that RUBY who prided himself on being a self-made man, possibly felt that his whole world was shattered by the assassination of President KENNEDY. WARNER explained that RUBY may have felt that everything he had worked for and accomplished in Dallas would be wiped out as a result of the assassination of President KENNEDY. He further explained that since Dallas is a rather small town whose permanent residents do not frequent night clubs, a great deal, he would suffer from the publicity resulting from the assassination. He added that this in turn would have the effect of keeping visitors and conventions away from Dallas thereby hurting business in general and particularly businesses of the type operated by RUBY. WARNER said that this was pure speculation on his part.

In addition, WARNER described RUBY as an aggressive type individual who was somewhat demanding and also one with very strong feelings. WARNER said that he had the impression that RUBY was one who was always ready to come to the aid and assistance of someone who was taking abuse of one kind or another. He stated that RUBY felt strongly about religious abuse. He further described him as an individual with a very inquiring nature but was rather close-mouthed about himself. Mr. WARNER said that in retrospect he considered that RUBY was possibly an individual with a split personality. He said that he recalled that a person could talk to RUBY but that RUBY sometimes appeared to be thinking about things other than what the conversation was about. Mr. WARNER said that he could furnish no further information.

speaks little concerning himself with this type of information. Rabbi SILVERMAN said he had never had any political conversation with RUBY, as RUBY was not a close follower of political involvements. Rabbi SILVERMAN said RUBY was highly complimentary toward all persons of any esteeem in the public eye. To his personal knowledge of JACK RUBY, Rabbi SILVERMAN said RUBY thought the President of the United States was the greatest individual in the world; not because of the President himself, but due to RUBY's respect for the position involved and of his high respect for the American Government. RUBY had often spoken to him of his love for the United States and its people.

Rabbi SILVERMAN said, in his opinion, JACK RUBY was a highly emotional man. To further emphasize this statement, Rabbi SILVERMAN recalled that over the past Jewish Holydays the latter part of September, 1961, EVA GRANT, the sister of RUBY, did not sit in church with RUBY during the first of the two day religious ceremonies. RUBY became very upset emotionally and confided in Rabbi SILVERMAN concerning the fact that his sister did not sit with him, inasmuch as RUBY was going with a girl whose sister, EVA, considered too young for RUBY. EVA, in not approving of this relationship, had caused a scene which ended in a heated argument and, consequently, the sister would not go to church with RUBY. He stated RUBY came to him telling him of this problem and of his opinion that families should be together on such an occasion. RUBY begged Rabbi SILVERMAN to ask EVA and ask her to have lunch with RUBY, which he, Rabbi SILVERMAN, did. He stated that, in this manner, he had patched up the quarrel between RUBY and EVA and they attended the rest of the services together. Rabbi SILVERMAN advised he is certain that JACK RUBY has no communist affiliations or beliefs, as RUBY is too proud of being an American and always boasted his patriotism for America. Rabbi SILVERMAN said another reason for this statement is that, in his opinion, RUBY is not a smart man and did not know enough about communism to adopt the communist ideology. He said RUBY was very sentimental and has, in his words, a nostalgia for certain things. To emphasize this, he said RUBY cried more over the death of former President KENNEDY than RUBY did at the death of his own father.

Rabbi SILVERMAN said he did not know JACK RUBY carried a gun. He advised he heard RUBY carried a gun to protect large amounts of money which he carried on his person, however, could not confirm this information.

WAYNE M. KELLER, 406 Paul Brown Building, 818 Olive Street, St. Louis, Missouri, telephone number Central 1-7766, advised he is the owner of Wayne Keller Theatrical Agency at the above address. He furnished the following information:

KELLER has not met JACK L. RUBY of Dallas, Texas, in person, however, has had several long distance telephone conversations with RUBY. During December of 1961, RUBY telephoned KELLER in an attempt to locate a comedian for the Carousel Club, Dallas, Texas. Since that time he has had three or four telephone conversations with RUBY concerning talent for his club.

Approximately three or four weeks ago, probably during the first of November, 1963, he received a long distance telephone call from RUBY wanting to book a comedian by the name of BILL DESMAR, and who is currently playing at the Carousel Club in Dallas.

RUBY talks fast in machine gun-type language, meaning he talks swiftly. A lot of times the conversation would last thirty to forty minutes, during which time they discussed various theatrical talent. RUBY would be talking swiftly and almost in the middle of the sentence would change the thought of the conversation and begin talking about something entirely different. In talking to comedians who had played in RUBY's club in Dallas, RUBY would instruct the comedians not to tell any Jewish jokes since RUBY stated "my people have suffered enough." RUBY would often heckle comedians during their act by shouting at them, "don't tell that joke.

KELLER did not have any knowledge concerning the friends or associates of RUBY. KELLER volunteered that prior to coming to St. Louis he was manager of the Louisville Office of Pinkerton Detective Agency for five years.

Mr. LEE NETKER, 308 North Delaware, Irving, Texas, furnished the following information:

In the winter of 1951, exact month and date not recalled, BILL CAMPBELL, a friend of NETKER and a member of the Furniture Workers Union at that time, requested NETKER and JIM WARD, another friend, to go with him as he was expecting trouble from JACK RUBY. NETKER, CAMPBELL and WARD went to the Estwell Cafe, 1404 Main Street, Dallas, and were seated at a table with a sandwich when JACK RUBY and three other individuals, identities unknown, came to the Estwell Cafe. RUBY and two of his friends came in the cafe and one of the group with RUBY stayed out.

RUBY proceeded to the table where NETKER, CAMPBELL and WARD were seated and attacked CAMPBELL, stating in effect, "I'll teach you to call anyone a kike Jew." One of the men with RUBY then became involved in a fight with JIM WARD. NETKER tried to pull the two men out of the fight until the third man with RUBY and the second man with RUBY jumped on JIM WARD and he then entered the fight long enough to pull one of the men off WARD. The fight lasted several minutes and BILL CAMPBELL was severely beaten before the Dallas police officers arrived.

During the fight and before the police arrived, BILL CAMPBELL and JIM WARD told NETKER that they had seen a German Negro pistol drop out of JACK RUBY's pocket while he was fighting; however, when the police arrived there was no pistol in sight and NETKER told the policemen that RUBY had a gun in his pocket. NETKER did not observe that the police searched RUBY for a pistol at that time and to his knowledge, RUBY was never checked to determine if he was carrying a concealed weapon. RUBY and BILL CAMPBELL were taken to the police station and WARD and NETKER followed in NETKER's car. It is NETKER's recollection that BILL CAMPBELL had to post bond; however, he does not recall what disposition was made concerning RUBY at that time or the final disposition in this case.

NETKER had never seen JACK RUBY prior to that time and has not seen him since that time. NETKER said he believes JIM WARD presently resides in Houston, street address unknown, and he does not know the present residence of BILL CAMPBELL although he has moved from the Dallas area.

GILBERT R. TRIESCH, 718 Morningside Drive, stated that he is a manufacturer's representative for Castle Neckwear, Los Angeles, California, and deals with Lilly Dache line of clothing.

TRIESCH advised that he was at a man's fashion convention in Dallas sometime during April, 1963 while leaving his hotel one night with another man, he observed two well-dressed men and a woman arguing in front of the Carousel Night Club located across the street from the hotel. He and his companion crossed the street and told the three people who were arguing that they had better quiet down before causing a scene and getting arrested. At this point, the three individuals walked away and Jack RUBY stepped out of the Carousel Night Club and said to TRIESCH, "My name is Jack Ruby. I just saw that you did and would like to invite you in for a drink."

TRIESCH introduced himself and his friend and they went in with RUBY and had a beer. While drinking the beer, RUBY stated that one of the waitresses needed a ride home and he had told her that he would give her this ride. He also stated that because he was a bachelor he would appreciate it if TRIESCH and his companion would go with him. They did and after taking the waitress home and driving back towards the center of town, TRIESCH commented that he wanted to get some bozos and eggs and then go to bed. RUBY replied that he would be more than happy to make some coffee in his apartment and then call a cab for TRIESCH and his partner. They went to RUBY's apartment, where RUBY showed the man his belts and other equipment used to develop the body, and drank a cup of coffee and then took a cab back to the hotel.

TRIESCH stated that during the conversation RUBY had said that if he ever had guests in Dallas that he could bring them to the Carousel Night Club and they would be personal guests of RUBY's. That night TRIESCH was in the lobby of the hotel and he was talking with a number of individuals, one of whom was Mayor DOMINICK, who is the Mayor of Del Rio, Texas. TRIESCH had said that he knew the man who owned the Carousel Night Club and any time he wanted to bring visitors over there he could do so. The other men began to kid him and jokingly told him what a big man he was. He said that "if you think that I am kidding let's take a walk across the street and I'll prove to you that I know RUBY." They did this and upon walking into the Carousel Night Club RUBY approached TRIESCH and said, "How's it going GL? I see you have brought some friends along." TRIESCH advised that at this point they all laughed and sat down and had a beer. RUBY did not join them nor did TRIESCH have any further conversation with RUBY that night.

He stated that he has never heard or seen RUBY since those two nights in April when he was at Dallas on business. He described him as being a very nice and friendly gentleman and was quite surprised when he heard that RUBY was responsible for the murder of LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

The following description was obtained through observation and interview:

Name: GILBERT R. TRIESCH
Address: 716 Morningside Drive, San Antonio, Texas
Date of birth: July 7, 1919, New Braunfels, Texas
Height: 6'
Weight: 172
Occupation: Manufacturer's representative, Castle Neckware, Los Angeles, California.

JERRY JENSEN, Assistant Executive in Charge of Supervising Physical Education, YMCA, 605 North Ervay Street, furnished the following information:

JACK RUBY has been a member of the YMCA Health Club from time to time in the past several years, usually on a three-month membership basis. His last three-month membership was in September, 1962.

JENSEN stated RUBY was always interested in weight lifting and usually chose to handle the weights during workouts.

There was nothing unusual about RUBY's actions around the YMCA and conversations between JENSEN and RUBY from time to time were short and general with no specific topic discussed.

JENSEN stated that since RUBY's membership had expired, his gym shoes, personal tollity articles and related equipment were removed from the regular dressing room and placed in a box for storage following RUBY's arrest on November 24, 1963, by the Dallas Police Department on murder charges.

Examination of RUBY's personal effects by JENSEN in the presence of Special Agents WILLIAMS and SAYERS disclosed a slip of paper bearing the telephone number ME 1-1700 and "CHARLIE." No other information was developed from examination of each item in the box.

JENSEN stated he did not know RUBY other than through association with him at the YMCA.
ROBERT KIRKWOOD, 1777 Elyria Road, Columbus, Ohio, was interviewed at his request. KIRKWOOD, a patient at Grant's Hospital, Columbus, furnished information to the Columbus Police Department that he formerly knew JACK RUBY. KIRKWOOD explained he left home, St. Louis, Missouri, in 1959, hitchhiked to Venice, Texas, to visit a girl. KIRKWOOD arrived in Dallas several days in advance of the scheduled date and stayed at the YMCA where he met JACK RUBY in the weight-lifting room. RUBY learned KIRKWOOD was without funds and gave him a job as a cleaning man at the Vegas Club, Dallas, and furnished him a room at his residence. KIRKWOOD stated there were three bedrooms at this residence, the location not recalled, with RUBY sleeping in one bedroom, KIRKWOOD another and an unidentified man in the third room. KIRKWOOD stated he never met the third individual and did not recall his name.

KIRKWOOD did not know any associates of RUBY, other than employees whose names he could not recall who worked at the Vegas Club. He described RUBY as a nice person with a very hot temper. He never heard RUBY engage in political discussions and described him as a local American. KIRKWOOD stated he did not know OSWALD or any of his associates.

KIRKWOOD advised he cannot read or write and stated on November 24, 1963, he was interviewed by a Columbus, Ohio television station concerning his acquaintance with RUBY.

EDWARD HUGH GODDARD was interviewed this date at his residence which is a house trailer located behind an abandoned house numbered 472 Jefferson Boulevard, Pittman, Nevada. He was questioned concerning his knowledge of, and/or, his association with, JACK RUBY of Dallas, Texas.

GODDARD recalled that he knew RUBY well about ten years ago in Dallas, Texas, at which time RUBY was operating the Silver Spur Club in Dallas. He advised that he knew RUBY for about one year at that time, and that he has seen RUBY only once in the past nine or ten years when he and his wife passed through Dallas about five years ago. He added he had never seen RUBY in the Las Vegas, Nevada, area nor has he ever known RUBY to have been in Nevada.

GODDARD related that during his one year association with RUBY he bore no name RUBY as a "bouncer" at RUBY's Silver Spur Club. He said RUBY was a "shady type" character, a sharp operator and a con man.

He recalled that RUBY had a girl friend at that time whom he knew as ALICE. He said RUBY liked show girls and characterized RUBY as one who had a lust for "strip tease." GODDARD stated that during his association with RUBY, he, GODDARD, wrestled professionally under the name "TEEMAN." He related that for a brief period during this time, RUBY and he roomed together at the local YMCA in Dallas and that RUBY frequently worked out in the gym.

GODDARD advised that he was surprised when he heard over television and radio that JACK RUBY had been charged with the killing of LEE OSWALD. He attributed his surprise to the fact that he could not believe RUBY could kill anyone on the spur of the moment. He added that he had never heard of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. He said that he never knew RUBY to be associated with any political organization.

FRED B. ASCHE, JR., 1725 Coral Gardens Drive, Wilton Manors, Florida, after being advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent, advised that he was born on February 28, 1929, at Houston, Texas. He stated he operated an import-export business from his residence. He advised that he formerly resided in Dallas, Texas, and worked for LINK CHANCE VAUGHT in that area. He left there in May, 1960, but his divorced wife, BARBARA MOODY ASCHE, still lives there with their two children, ages 4½ and 3 ½. MRS. ASCHE maintains an apartment at 3020 Knight Street, Apartment 102, Dallas, Texas. ASCHE advised he has gone back to Dallas several times since 1960 to visit his children and the last time he was there was in August, 1963.

ASCHE advised he has known JACK RUBY since about 1956. He said RUBY owned the Las Vegas Club on Oak Lawn Street just off Lenoir Street in Dallas and featured good jazz entertainment. He visited this club because he was a jazz buff and got to know RUBY. ASCHE advised he also lifted weights at Hugh McKenzie's All American Gym near the Dallas Police Department and RUBY also worked out at this gym. He stated this helped to develop their acquaintance.

ASCHE advised that after the Las Vegas Club venture RUBY opened the Carousel Club on Commerce Street in Dallas. This is a private club that did not do too well and RUBY converted it into a strip club about 1958.

ASCHE stated that RUBY never discussed politics in his presence, but he was sure he had no communist or erratic political tendencies. He stated that RUBY was an excitable, impetuous man. He did not believe that RUBY had any real close friends, although he had a long list of acquaintances. He said he understood that RUBY had the reputation of knowing a "toughcrowd" from Chicago.

but as far as ASCHE knows, RUBY had no criminal record. ASCHE stated that he had taken the trouble to check into RUBY's background a little bit because he, ASCHE, was active in the Chamber of Commerce in Dallas, and they ran several functions at RUBY's club.

ASCHE advised he did not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD, had never seen him and knew of no connection between OSWALD and RUBY, and, in his own mind, he is sure that there was none.

ASCHE described himself as follows:

Race: White
Sex: Male
Date of Birth: February 28, 1929
Place of Birth: Houston, Texas
Hair: Brown Eyes: Blue Height: 5'9½"
Weight: 185 pounds
Wife (Divorced): BARBARA MOODY ASCHE
2 children
Residence: 1725 Coral Gardens Drive
Wilton Manors, Florida
Graduated from Amsher College Occupation: Import and Export Business.
BRUCE MCLEAN, Trichologist, Operator of McLean Hair Experts, Room 1323, Dallas Athletic Club Building, 1805 Elm Street, advised he was acquainted with JACK RUBY in a professional relationship only, in that RUBY had been a patient of his in connection with RUBY's attempts to restore hair. RUBY is approximately 80% bald and was taking treatment to prevent any advance of this condition.

RUBY took ten treatments during 1950. Since June, 1958, been treated regularly on an almost weekly basis. His records reflect RUBY took treatments on the following dates:

8/1, 8, 15, 25/63;
9/5, 12, 25/63;
10/4, 10, 22/63;
11/6, 20/63

Each treatment took approximately one-half hour and RUBY usually arrived between 6:00 or 6:30 PM for these treatments.

In connection with RUBY's treatment on November 20, 1963, MCLEAN recalled that nothing out of the ordinary occurred and RUBY's main interest seemed to be his business in connection with the Carousel Club. RUBY made no mention of the intended visit of President KENNEDY to Dallas, Texas, on the following Friday.

MCLEAN was not acquainted with RUBY, other than his professional association. He was not acquainted with OSWALD and knew of no association between OSWALD and RUBY.

Recently, a representative with Time Magazine has interviewed him, at which time the representative indicated an interest in whether or not it appeared RUBY had an operation on his skull or caused by the insertion of a silver plate. MCLEAN told the man it was his recollection that RUBY had no scars on his head which would indicate that such an operation had been performed.

Mrs. JOHNNIE HAYDEN, aka MAY HAYDEN, Professional name MAY WILLIAMS, a concert signer and currently employed by the American Guild of Variety Artist, in Hollywood, California, residence 5610 Fulton Avenue, Van Nuys, California, advised the following:

Mrs. HAYDEN visited her husband JOHNNIE HAYDEN in Dallas, in June of 1961, at the time he was there about June 5, 1961, when she was appearing as a concert signer at the Fair Park Auditorium in Dallas. During this visit she met JACK RUBY at the Carousel Club and she had conversations with him at his office at the rear of this club. Her knowledge of JACK RUBY was that he was a highly emotional individual who seemed to be over sensitive to his dress and his appearance. He claimed to love dogs and had several, which he kept at the rear of the Carousel Club. She recalled observing a picture of FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, the late United States President, in what she believed was the office of JACK RUBY and she mentioned to RUBY that she thought ROOSEVELT was a great man and that RUBY stated that he "loved Roosevelt". She did not recall RUBY mentioning the late President KENNEDY or engaging in any political discussions or mention any organizations or anything which would cause her to question his loyalty to the United States Government.

She had no knowledge of any association whatsoever between IEV HARVEY OSWALD and RUBY.

Mrs. HAYDEN said that she was not acquainted with any other phases of RUBY's life and that the above was in substance the extent of her knowledge of him.

Commission Exhibit No. 1495

On 12/6/63 at Los Angeles, California by Special Agent
LESLIE F. WARREN/eh
Date dictated 12/6/63

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be duplicated outside your agency.
Mrs. FANNIE BIRCH, 9100 Metz Drive, was contacted at her residence and immediately advised of the official identity of the investigating Agents, the fact that she did not have to make any statements, that any statement made by her could be used against her in court and of her right to counsel.

BIRCH furnished the following information concerning her association with JACK RUBY:

The BIRCH family moved from Seabright, New Jersey, to Dallas, Texas, in late 1946 or early 1947 to an address on South Ervay Street, almost directly across from the Silver Spur Night Club. This nightclub was operated by JACK RUBY and FANNIE BIRCH visited this nightclub and struck up an acquaintance with RUBY. A year or two later, RUBY sold the Silver Spur and purchased the Vesges Club, which FANNIE BIRCH also visited. The youngest daughter of Mrs. FANNIE BIRCH, who is now Mrs. PATRICIA KONS, 2232 or 2232 Riverview Apartments, was employed by RUBY as a stripper at the Carousel Club, which RUBY later acquired, and was known by the stage name of PENNY DOLLAR.

At the present time, PENNY DOLLAR is in rehearsal for an act to open at Lou Ann's Club, Greenville Avenue, Dallas.

During her employment at the Carousel Club, PENNY DOLLAR was forced to complain to the American Guild of Variety Artists in order to collect two weeks' salary from RUBY, and she won her case and received an extra $125.00 from RUBY.

Mrs. FANNIE BIRCH was also employed by RUBY at the Carousel and the Vesges Club as a stripper approximately three years ago or for about two months and performed only on Friday evenings. She performed under the name of FRANCINE. Mrs. BIRCH stated she considers JACK RUBY to be highly unstable and irrational due to his actions in and around the Carousel Club which she witnessed while employed there.

RUBY, at various times, has forcibly ejected customers and, apparently, for no sound reason. One evening RUBY knocked down a man inside the club and knocked him down a flight of approximately twenty stairs and did not even attempt to determine if the man had been injured.

About two years ago, when the television show "Route 66" came to Dallas to teleview scenes, a stunt man employed by the Route 66 Show visited the Carousel Club, and RUBY had his picture taken with this man, evidently for the purpose of some free publicity. RUBY later showed up at a party given by the TV crew at the Marriott Hotel in Dallas and spent the entire evening sitting on a couch by himself reading a book.

Several other inconsistencies noted by Mrs. BIRCH were the fact that RUBY was continually adjusting the air conditioning in the clubs and could not seem to be able to leave them alone. It seemed when the temperature became comfortable he would adjust the air conditioner so that the room soon became stuffy; the bartender or the maître at his clubs would have to count the night's receipts out to him and he would tell his employees how to count the money; RUBY's erratic behavior in that he would sometimes welcome the same guests very warmly and at other times would tell his guests to leave his club, again without reason.

Mrs. BIRCH stated that RUBY also seemed to get frustrated whenever large crowds would occupy one of his clubs and he would go from table to table setting down his hat and then immediately picking it up and going to another location.

Mrs. BIRCH noted that it was reported in a newspaper article that RUBY did not drink but that she has seen RUBY on several occasions completely inebriated. Mrs. BIRCH said that the shooting of OSWALD by RUBY did not surprise her because of her knowledge of RUBY's erratic behavior and the fact that she believes herself to be psychic. Mrs. BIRCH told her family at the time OSWALD was to be transferred to the County Jail that OSWALD would never make it alive, and that she also had a feeling concerning President KENNEDY at the time she heard of his visit to Dallas.

Mrs. BIRCH stated she did not believe RUBY belonged to any clubs or organizations, but that on several occasions, dates unrecollected, during the time she was employed at the Carousel Club, she noticed a group of six or seven men seated at a table and she also noticed these men to have a tattoo design of what she took to be a dagger, located between their thumb and forefinger. Mrs. BIRCH thought this was what she took to be a pachuco mark. She stated these men never paid for drinks and that RUBY was familiar with these men and talked with them at their table.

Mrs. BIRCH stated she is currently undergoing treatment for a nervous condition under the care of Dr. B. PEARSON, JR., M. D., 1326 Stemmons Avenue, Dallas, Texas.
and that she is required to remain very quiet and does not normally leave her husband except to visit the doctor and an occasional trip to the store.

Mrs. BIRCH advised that during her employment at the Carousel Club, it was common practice for police officers in uniform to visit the club, talk with JACK RUBY and the girls and to come back later in the evening dressed in civilian clothes and apparently accompanied by girl friends. The only officer known by Mrs. BIRCH by name was officer SWARFORD, and the others, by face only.

JACK VAN KAMPEN, also known as DEL CAMP, 3007 Lemmon Avenue, operator Dale's Restaurant, this address, furnished the following information:

JACK VAN KAMPEN has known JACK RUBY casually since about 1948 when RUBY was operating the Silver Spur Club on South Ervay, Dallas. He is not a close associate of RUBY. However, he has attended RUBY's clubs frequently, including the Silver Spur, Vegas and Carousel Clubs. VAN KAMPEN formerly operated Del Camp's Dance Studios and on one occasion a group of dancers from his studio performed at the Carousel Club. VAN KAMPEN has no knowledge of any close associates of RUBY, with the exception of one individual, possibly RALPH PAUL, who seemed to be in partnership with RUBY in operation of the Carousel Club.

VAN KAMPEN has no knowledge of any activities of RUBY other than operation of clubs in Dallas. RUBY, in connection with operation of his clubs, acted as his own bouncer, and VAN KAMPEN has seen him involved in a number of fights in his club whenever a patron would become unruly. He noted that on some of these occasions RUBY displayed a violent temper and, in VAN KAMPEN's opinion, would in some cases take more severe action than the situation seemed to warrant. He noticed RUBY seemed to have an uncontrollable temper for brief periods. He never saw RUBY instigate any fights or become involved in any fights outside of his club.

VAN KAMPEN did not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD and has no knowledge of any connection between RUBY and OSWALD.
BARRY HERBERT JAMES DEAVENFORD, 98th Kenwood, Inglewood, California, was interviewed at the offices of architectural firm of Leach, Cleveland, and Associates, 6950 Melrose Avenue, Los Angeles, California. He furnished the following information:

He formerly resided in Dallas, Texas, has been in the Los Angeles area about 1½ years, and is employed as an architect. He is acquainted with Jack Ruby by reputation only, having frequently gone to clubs in Dallas operated by Ruby. On occasion he would have to sign the membership register to gain admittance to some of these clubs, the names of which he cannot recall. He never liked Ruby personally, one reason being that about five or six years ago, Ruby pistol-whipped a good friend of his. On several occasions when in Ruby's clubs, he observed Ruby strike a customer from behind.

He has no knowledge of any association between Ruby and Oswald, never knew Oswald and has no idea as to why Ruby killed Oswald. On many occasions when he was in Ruby's clubs, he observed Dallas police officers present and frequently in conversation with Ruby, but could not identify any of these officers by name. He suspected at the time that Ruby paid off some of these officers because of the prostitutes, thugs and gamblers who were permitted to hang around his clubs, but has no basis for this suspicion other than hearsay information he obtained from unacknowledged sources and his own intuition.

Several years ago, he happened to be in the Egyptian Lounge operated by the Campisi Brothers, and overheard one of the Brothers make a statement that he was financing Ruby, or words to that effect. His (Deavenford) father is an attorney in Dallas.

He is described as follows:

Mrs. PATRICIA KORS, née PATRICIA ANN BIRCH, stage name "Penny Dollar," 3222 Riverview, Irving, Texas, advised that she had known JACK RUBY for approximately 15 years. PATRICIA, who is 21 years of age, stated she had worked for RUBY as a "dancer" for one week and three days, approximately 1 1/2 years ago. She quit as a result of disagreements with RUBY and had to go to the American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA) to collect her salary, and RUBY was fined $50 by the AGVA, which $50 Mrs. KORS received.

Mrs. KORS stated RUBY had a violent temper and recalled one occasion when he jostled and shoved a woman down the stairs and struck her, who was a much smaller individual. On another occasion, he struck a cab driver who came to the club to collect for a fare and inquired as to where the customer was.

Mrs. KORS further stated that KENNETH SPEVAY, a known homosexual, was known to be "quite friendly" with JACK RUBY. She stated that on one occasion KENNETH SPEVAY had accompanied her, her sister JANE BIRCH, and her mother, FRANCES BIRCH, when they had all visited the Carousel Club, being operated by RUBY.

Mrs. KORS also stated that she, as well as her sister and mother, had been present on one occasion on an unrecollected date at a party given in some duplex, address not recalled but located in the Oak Cliff addition of Dallas, when RUBY had gotten drunk, and had taken off his clothes and rolled on the floor naked. Mrs. KORS also stated that RUBY was evidently very proud of his physical build and would frequently come back to the girls' dressing room with his shirt off, pat his chest, and ask the girls if they didn't think he had a good physical build.

Mrs. KORS concluded that she had never observed LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the Carousel Club while she was employed there, that she did not know OSWALD and did not know of any association between JACK RUBY and LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Date December 20, 1963

James K. Dunne, II, 21 Indian Hills Trail, advised he first met Jack Ruby in the summer of 1943 on a visit to Dallas. Ruby was then proprietor of the Yagan Club and a club with "Silver" in its name. Dunne visited clubs as a customer. In 1954, Dunne moved to Dallas, operating a lounge known as the Ritz Bar in 1955 and 1956. Dunne has been in and out of Dallas since that time. His main interest is insurance. He was never a close associate of Ruby but came to know him as a "Guy you see around town." He would see Ruby in the business section of town and in various night spots. Ruby spoke to everyone and everyone knew Ruby.

In the late fall of 1959, Dunne loaned Joe Slattery, a friend in Dallas, approximately $5,000 which Slattery was going to use to establish his private club in downtown Dallas. As preparations were being made to open the club, Dallas newspapers blasted private clubs as a result of gambling at one private club. Slattery felt that private clubs were in disrepute, that success of the club was doubtful, and that more capital would be needed. Jack Ruby had looked at the club during the time it was being decorated and equipped and expressed an interest in the club. As a result, Joe Slattery took Ruby in as a partner.

The club opened as the Sovereign Club in January or February, 1960, to the best of Dunne's recollection. It was not a success. Slattery, with Dunne's consent, got out of the club, letting Ruby have the entire operation. Dunne received nothing on his loan to Slattery. Ruby later changed it to a public club with strip team acts and changed the name to the Carousel. Dunne is of the opinion that Ruby put up $10,000 initially, and Slattery indicated that Ruby lost $5 to $10,000 in operation before he made it a public club.

Dunne indicated that he frequented the Sovereign Club during the period when Slattery was associated with the club which was only about a month and a half after it opened. He saw more of Ruby during this time than before or after.

Commission Exhibit No. 1500
DUCK stated that he had no part in the management of the club.

RUBY impressed DUCK as a man who came from very poor circumstances. He was, in a great inferiority complex and wanted to better himself. The Sovereign Club, DUCK believed, impressed RUBY as a step up from the type of clubs he had been operating. RUBY had a great respect for authority and for success as exemplified by a bankroll and good clothes. RUBY was at his worst in a crowd when he would be loud. Alone, he was quiet.

DUCK noted that RUBY's treatment of policemen at his club was not an attempt on his part to buy favor, but was merely an indication of his respect for authority. RUBY intimated but never directly stated that he had "important" connections in Chicago. He dropped names of underworld figures who were mentioned in newspapers. DUCK stated that he also was acquainted in Chicago although not in the underworld, and that he never found anyone in Chicago who knew RUBY.

RUBY once took periodic trips to Chicago. He would intimate that he had to go to Chicago to see his connections. DUCK suspects that "RUBY was merely following Jewish custom" of paying his respects to his father.

DUCK stated RUBY is not as rough as new reports indicate. He would eject any customer from his club if the customer was causing trouble and he would protect his interests but he was not aggressive or quarrelsome. To the contrary, he seemed to want everyone to like him.

While RUBY and SLATTON had the Sovereign Club, RUBY had a blue .38 caliber sub-nosed revolver which he carried in his money sack when he carried money. RUBY indicated he feared being robbed, that he had been robbed at one time or threats to rob him had been made, and that he was going to protect himself.

RUBY also intimated that he had had to leave Chicago because he had offended some of "the big boys" but actually, DUCK believes RUBY was simply not smart enough to make a living in his field in Chicago.

DUCK indicated he believed RUBY in basically a simple, lonely man who was easily motivated and swayed. He indicated that RUBY was easy to handle in business deals. DUCK does not believe RUBY was "ribbed" into shooting OSWALD. DUCK believes rather that RUBY may have been influenced by bitter talk he must have heard from police, plus the attitude evidenced by OSWALD. RUBY may have seen his shooting of OSWALD as the one great act in his life and his one great chance to amount to something.

DUCK recalls no political comment by RUBY whatsoever. He is certain RUBY had no radical or extremist views. RUBY exhibited such admiration for financial success that he could have had no socialist sympathies whatsoever. DUCK has no reason to believe RUBY had any connection with the Fair Play for Cuba Committee or any other organization of a similar character. DUCK had never heard of OSWALD prior to the assassination of President KENNEDY and has no information as to any prior connection between OSWALD and RUBY.

DUCK stated he did not know of RUBY's ever having dates with girls but he had never noticed anything which caused him to suspect RUBY of being a homosexual, although DUCK particularly considered this possibility because RUBY did not seem to have dates with females.

DUCK knows that the current roommate of RUBY, GEORGE SENATOR, did date girls.

Another associate of RUBY was a man named RALPH, whose last name DUCK does not recall. This man, probably foreign born, operated a drive-in restaurant at Grand Prairie, Texas. During dealings with SLATTON regarding the Sovereign Club, RUBY indicated he was getting money from a brother in Chicago but DUCK suspects that RALPH was furnishing RUBY money. RALPH is in his late sixties or seventies.

DUCK recalled that during the Sovereign Club period, RUBY was visited by a man from Miami, Florida, who talked like a millionaire but who was apparently broke and who boasted of having operated night clubs in Florida.

RUBY employed a Dallas attorney named KAUFMAN to draw contracts regarding the Sovereign Club.
DUNNE knows none of RUBY's relatives. He last saw RUBY about two years ago in Dallas and then only to say hello. DUNNE has never been in the Carousel Club since it has been so named.

TONY ZOPPI, a columnist for the Dallas Morning News, writes a daily column on entertainment life in the Dallas, Texas area with emphasis on amusement spots and night clubs.

ZOPPI has known JACK LEON RUBY, also known as Jack Rubenstein, for approximately 12 years. He stated RUBY first came to Dallas from Chicago, Illinois. ZOPPI is of the opinion that he was using the name, JACK RUBY, upon his arrival in Dallas.

ZOPPI stated RUBY is first associated with the Plantation Club where he would appear nightly dressed in a cowboy outfit and would at times act as Master of Ceremonies and came to be known as "the Chicago Cowboy".

After approximately one year RUBY obtained the Vegas Club and still owns this club which is allegedly managed by his sister, EVA GRAND or EVA GRANT.

In addition to the ownership of the Vegas Club,
RUBY also now operates the Carousel Club, but has requested ZOPPI not to refer to him as the owner of the Carousel Club.

Recently ZOPPI stated that RUBY informed him, "Business is good and I have moved into a prestige apartment." RUBY's roommate is GEORGE SENATOR (who was picked up for questioning by the Dallas Police Department on the after-

For approximately the past two years RUBY allegedly has been going with a Dallas girl (name unknown to ZOPPI).

ZOPPI "has heard rumors" as to the possibility of RUBY being homosexual, but has no definite information on this.

ZOPPI described RUBY as "highly emotional" and stated that he could change from one mood to another instantly and when in an angry mood "would not reason".

ZOPPI stated that RUBY had employed a Master of Ceremonies by the name of WALLY WESTON, with whom he had had a disagreement and presumably WESTON had left as a result of this disagreement. WESTON is presently believed to be in Louisville, Kentucky working in some club as a Master of Ceremonies.

ZOPPI also stated that "he believed" that IVYMO MAZZIE, District Director of the AGVA, Los Angeles telephone number 213/661193 (up until three weeks ago when he was fired) to have information concerning RUBY.

ZOPPI stated that in his opinion RUBY had no political beliefs one way or another, and in his opinion was strictly a character out of "Guys and Dolls".

ZOPPI further informed that in his opinion RUBY was not the type of individual who would plan an act such as the shooting of LEE OSWALD, but was capable of doing such an act on the spur of the moment.

ZOPPI stated that he knows from recent conversations with RUBY that RUBY had been very concerned about the KENNEDY children, CAROLINE and JOHN, JR., and his sister, EVA GRAND OR GRANT, allegedly had made the statement "someone ought to shoot him", referring to OSWALD.

ZOPPI also stated that he believed RALPH PAUL, age approximately 65, who formerly ran the Miramar Motel and now resides in either Irving or Grand Prairie, Texas, was, to some extent, financial backer of RUBY.

ZOPPI concluded that JACK RUBY was 52 years of age, single, and had recently had an argument with a night club striper, JADA, who had gone to the Justice of the Peace Court in Dallas, Texas and through this court obtained her last week's salary which RUBY had refused to pay her because of her failure to show up for one night's work.

Sergeant JERRY HILL, Personnel Office, Dallas Police Department, advised that he became acquainted with JACK RUBY approximately ten years ago when he, HILL, was employed as an amusement writer for the Dallas Times Herald, and he advised RUBY ran the Silver Spur, also known as the Fatti Club on South Ervay. He stated he had no close contact with RUBY for the first few years and became more closely acquainted with RUBY when he opened the Carousel Club on Commerce Street in Dallas, and he, HILL, was assigned duty in the downtown district. He stated that he recalled shortly after RUBY opened the Carousel Club he employed three Turkish dancers whose appearances only lasted two days. He stated the dancers were taken into custody and deported by immigration officials. He stated that he recalled having talked with EARL NORMAN, a former master of ceremonies for RUBY, who stated that one time the question—on the Mississippi integration problems was being discussed and that RUBY expressed his opinion that any decisions which were made by the United States Government should be abided by and that anyone who opposed the government or took the law into their own hands was wrong.

HILL stated that RUBY is a man with a violent temper which he has often let explode toward patrons of the business and employees at the club. He said he only recalled one incident where RUBY ever used firearms. A man by the name of JOK BONDB, a night club owner and known to be associated with lewd parties, and homosexual acts, became engaged in a quarrel with JACK RUBY. He stated this involved the purchase of some air compressor and during the quarrel which ensued, RUBY got a pistol from the club and chased BONDB down an alley shooting at him two or three times but not hitting him. He stated as he recalled this was approximately nine years ago and was shortly before HILL became a policeman.

HILL stated that he was not present at the shooting by RUBY of LEE HARVEY OSWALD as he was in San Antoni, Texas, attending the Texas Municipal Police Officers Convention. He stated that upon returning to Dallas at about 6:30 p.m. on November 24, 1963, he began inquiring among members of his department and ascertained that two detectives, R. L. LOWERY and W. J. CUTHCHAW, both of the Juvenile Department, were present at the time of the shooting of OSWALD by RUBY. He stated that they related that just before the shooting, a television camera for Channel 5 was tipped over while being brought to the scene where OSWALD was shot. He stated that LOWERY and CUTHCHAW stated they recalled three men pushing the camera through a doorway leading into the basement area through which OSWALD was to be assorted. He stated that at approximately the same time RUBY dashed from the front and to the left of OSWALD and fired the fatal shot. He stated that Detectives LOWERY and CUTHCHAW recalled glancing in the direction of the camera for Channel 5 and noted that there were only two individuals with the camera at that time. He stated that they were of the opinion that possibly RUBY was one of the individuals who had accompanied the camera into the area and had made his move from this position. He said that he had contacted a man by the name of TIMMON (First Name Unknown), the sound engineer for the Channel 5 camera, who told him that the other individual assigned to the camera with him was one JOHN ALEXANDER and that he, TIMMON, recalled no other individual assisting them in placing the camera in the location before the fatal shot. TIMMON said it was very possible that someone else was present and immediately behind them. He stated that he had not had an opportunity to speak with ALEXANDER.

HILL said that not being present at the time of the incident, he would not know what security measures had been taken for the protection of OSWALD.

HILL said that he recalled a girl by the name of WINNIE (Last Name Unknown), who works at the Colony Club and was beat up by RUBY a few months ago. In talking to her, she had mentioned a girl by the name of ALICE who lived in North Dallas with whom RUBY had resided for a time. He stated he had further determined that this was not the ALICE who used to work at RUBY's club. HILL said he had been transferred from the downtown section to the Personnel Section of the Police Department in October of this year and had not seen RUBY since that time. He described RUBY as a person of many moods; an individual who could be very congenial or one who could explode in a moment’s notice and seemingly without provocation. He said the first time he met RUBY after his Egyptian act had been broken up he had talked with him and RUBY had told him of the hard time he had getting started in Dallas after coming from Chicago. HILL related that he was born and raised in a tough neighborhood where a person had to get along by fighting at an early age.

HILL said that he knew of no hoodlums with whom RUBY associated and knew of him to have no top hoodlum connections. He said he had no indication that RUBY was a homosexual. He did recall, however, that RUBY resided with a GEORGE SENATOR, a man of questionable reputation. He advised that SENATOR, in his opinion, would do anything for a dollar and always had some type of a gimmick which he was trying to operate to fleece the public. He stated that SENATOR worked for RUBY as a ticket taker and general assistant around his night club. He advised that he had never heard of any intimacies between RUBY and SENATOR; however, he considered this a possibility since learning that RUBY and SENATOR resided together. He stated he heard that RUBY had a silent partner by the name of RALPH PAUL who retained RUBY’s current attorney after the shooting of OSWALD. He said he had never heard of RUBY giving gratuities to any officer other than the fact that he would let officers and close friends come into his club without paying the cover charge. He said that it is his opinion that RUBY is an individual who would do anything to gain public recognition. He offered as an example the fact that RUBY's business had been closed by authorities for three days sometime ago and that RUBY had published this in the paper apparently to gain publicity. He said that his association with JACK RUBY consisted strictly of contacts with RUBY on business matters.

HILL questioned RUBY concerning the possibility he had had a relationship with a Negro woman who worked as a nurse. RUBY denied any such relationship, but said he did employ a Negro woman as a nurse and had paid her $25.00 per week.

HILL questioned RUBY concerning the possibility he had had a relationship with a Negro woman who worked as a nurse. RUBY denied any such relationship, but said he did employ a Negro woman as a nurse and had paid her $25.00 per week.
Mr. EDWIN CARRELL, 7123 Vivian Avenue, who is employed by the Robert Eastman Company, an advertising firm, advised he had known JACK RUBY for eight or nine years. He had business dealings with him in connection with a recording titled, "The Olde Monster," which was published by Cascade Records of California. This firm is now non-existent and was owned by J.L. KARPEN and FBRS PARKER, the movie star. Neither KARPEN nor PARKER is known to be acquaintances of RUBY, however.

CARRELL stated that JACK RUBY was the manager of J.M. JOHNSTON, a band leader who recorded this record. JOHNSON and RUBY were supposed to get a cut of the proceeds from the sale of the record but, as no royalties were collected, they received no money. CARRELL stated that RUBY came from Chicago and, during conversations with him, impressed him as knowing several people in the musicians' union there. He is the type of individual who one minute would do anything for you and the next minute would get up and over some little thing. CARRELL has never heard RUBY discuss politics and stated that he knew nothing which would indicate RUBY has any sympathy to communism.

RAYMOND H. MYERS, 431 Mardouex Street, telephone EXchange 1-5942, Dallas, stated that he formerly was a bondsmen and during 1956 made a $5,400 bond for a man named JOSEPH BONDS who is also known as JOE LOKONTO who was charged at that time by Dallas County authorities for sodomy and fled the Dallas area, resulting in MYERS having to pay the $5,400 bond. He stated that he searched for JOSEPH BONDS from 1954 until he was apprehended in the East during 1959 and, as far as he knows, JOSEPH BONDS is still in the Texas State Penitentiary, Huntsville, Texas, serving an eight-year sentence.

Mr. MYERS stated that regarding the connection between JOSEPH BONDS and JACK RUBY, BONDS, prior to 1959 definitely was associated with RUBY in various night club ventures and that another individual by the name of RALPH PAUL was associated with the same group who predominately hung out at the Sky Club. He stated he believes RALPH PAUL is living somewhere now in New York City and that as far as he knows, all three, JACK RUBY, JOSEPH BONDS, and RALPH PAUL are homosexuals.

Mr. MYERS then stated that JOSEPH BOND'S wife, RUTH COLLINS BONDS, may be in the Dallas area, and that she has performed in night clubs under the stage name of DALE BELKONT. He went on to say that RUTH BONDS, prior to 1954, was very closely associated with JACK RUBY and if she is in the Dallas area she would likely have much information concerning him. He stated that, as background information, JOSEPH BONDS' mother is VIRGINIA LEGERTO, 333 East Nokola Parkway North, Bronx, New York, and that RUTH BONDS' last known address in 1959 was 11736 College View Drive, Silver Springs, Maryland.

Mr. MYERS then stated that as to any possible connection or relationship between JACK RUBY, HARVEY OSWALD prior to the assassination of late President KENNEDY, he had no information to offer and prior to the assassination he had never heard of OSWALD.

MYERS went on to state that he overheard from some source unrecalled (either radio or television) that OSWALD was allegedly seen in the Vegas Club about two nights prior to the assassination.

to the assassination, and that the Vegas Club is allegedly owned and operated by RUBY as far as he knows.

SHORMAN advised RUBY told him he was born and brought up on the northwest side of Chicago, Illinois. In later years, RUBY lived hand to mouth working floating crap games in the Chicago area. RUBY made vague reference to leaving Chicago in 1948 for Dallas, Texas "when things got too hot". An unreliable source told SHORMAN RUBY had been dumped in a garbage can and left for dead in Chicago. Upon arrival in Dallas, RUBY changed his name from RUBENSTEIN to RUBY.

SHORMAN advised the only hoodlum connections known to him was a mention once in the past of RUBY that he had known the brother of JOHN GALLO (phonetic), the lead alto for the Ralph Martiere Band. SHORMAN was a musician in the Martiere Band prior to playing for Garber. The brother of JOHN GALLO, name unknown, had several names, one of which was GALLO, and was under indictment in Chicago around 1948 for some unremembered offense. MARTIERE'S recordings allegedly were pushed by the crime syndicate and MARTIERE received preferential treatment from unions, and received engagements because of the syndicate's monetary interests in his earnings.

SHORMAN advised police officers, uniform and plain clothed, on duty and off, frequented the Carousel, and SHORMAN never saw a police officer pay for a drink. The only police officer SHORMAN knew by name was an older detective, last name FRITZ, whom he saw on one occasion at a table in the Carousel. SHORMAN estimated he saw between 150 to 200 police officers at the Carousel at one time or another, however, none of these he identified as police officers because they were associating with known police officers off duty at the Carousel. Whenever there was a case of unusual interest in Dallas, RUBY would run down to the police station to find out what was going on. He told SHORMAN he was "in" with the police department. SHORMAN advised it was common knowledge RUBY had been arrested for carrying a concealed weapon but it was also common knowledge that RUBY still carried a .38 caliber revolver, although SHORMAN did not see RUBY with any weapons.

RUBY never gave any indication of being pro-communist or anti-American. His interests were entirely limited to making money. He was never heard to make mention of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee nor did SHORMAN ever hear of LEE HARVEY OSWALD during that period.

RUBY appeared to have no more or less the attitude of most individuals of his class and locale for Negroes. He spoke of them in disrespectful terms such as "niggers, spades, and niggers" and refused on one occasion observed by SHORMAN to admit to the Carousel a mixed group of Negro and white businessmen. However, SHORMAN never heard RUBY explicitly express hatred or make inflammatory remarks concerning Negroes.

SHORMAN did not know RUBY's family other than to hear RUBY state that his father was past 80 years. RUBY stated that he had several brothers and sisters and one brother, name unknown, who operated the Vegas Club for RUBY elsewhere in Dallas. RUBY was apparently on speaking terms with many apparently affluent individuals who came slumming to the Carousel but apparently had no close friends or associates. SHORMAN believed RUBY had approximately 50 ex-partners in and around Dallas and there appeared to be a constant turn over of partners. SHORMAN broke relations with RUBY when RUBY attempted to get SHORMAN to invest $6,000 in his business.

SHORMAN advised RUBY played the field and attempted to date various entertainers and waitresses employed by him. The girls were expected to mingle with the guests and to double as B girls. RUBY had no apparent lasting interest in any girl.

SHORMAN characterized RUBY as a JEWISH and HYDE personality, affable and genial when it served his purpose but apt to fly into a rage at the most insignificant remark or

Miss JUANITA DALE PHILLIPS, also known as Candy Barr, Box 373, Edna, Texas, advised that she first became acquainted with JACK RUBY at Dallas, Texas, in approximately 1952. At that time she was working as a stripper for BARNEY WEINSTEIN at the Theater Lounge. She said that after the Theater Lounge closed, she frequented the Vegas Club, an after hours club operated by RUBY. From 1952 until 1957 when she left Dallas, her association with RUBY was very casual. She said that she never worked for him and never associated with him outside of the Vegas Club and the Silver Spurs Club, which was also operated by RUBY.

After being paroled from the Texas Department of Corrections, on April 1, 1963 and returning to Edna, Texas, she has been telephonically contacted by RUBY on approximately ten occasions and he visited her at Edna on two occasions in May, 1963. She said that the telephone calls and visits were of a friendly nature and that she suspects he may have been interested in employing her as a stripper if he had the time and people to strip the club, which she said has no intention of doing.

She said she recalls RUBY has a sister, name unknown, residing in Dallas, but knows nothing more of his background. She said she knows of no connection between RUBY and the Dallas Police Department; she does not know of any connection between RUBY and LEE HARVEY OSWALD; and RUBY has never indicated a radical tendencies or sympathy for any form of government other than that of the United States.

She said after hearing OSWALD’s name and seeing his photo on television, she is certain that she has never seen or heard of him before.

MICHAEL SHORE was contacted at his place of business, Reprise Records, 1347 Cahuenga Boulevard, Los Angeles. He stated that his home address is 102 Almont Drive, Los Angeles, and that his telephone number is 276-0043. He stated he did recall receiving a telephone call from JACK RUBY at his home within the past several months, exact date not remembered. He stated he had never met JACK RUBY but that he knew his brother, EARL RUBY, in Chicago in the 1930’s when they were growing up together. He stated he used to play baseball with EARL RUBY when they were about 12 - 14 years of age. When SHORE was about 14 years of age, he ran away from Chicago and typically would return there and would see EARL RUBY, although he never visited in his home and never knew his parents. He stated he only vaguely recalled knowing that EARL had an older brother. SHORE stated that he had an office in Chicago in connection with "Mad Man Munts" for whom he, SHORE, did the advertising. EARL RUBY had a novelty manufacturing business in Chicago and SHORE last saw him in about 1953 or 1954. EARL moved from Chicago where he set up a laundry business in Detroit.

SHORE stated that the first time he ever heard from JACK RUBY was about a half year ago when he received a telephone call from him in Dallas, when he identified himself as "SPARKY", EARL RUBY’s brother. RUBY stated he owned an artist by the name of JOHNSON, who had a Negro band, and he stated he was going to send SHORE a record for him to play to see if he could promote the artist. RUBY did send the record under a Joel label, which SHORE played, but did nothing about because JOHNSON was already on a label. SHORE stated that RUBY seemed to want to promote something and to “make a buck” and on about a dozen occasions since that time, RUBY has called him in connection with some type of sales promotion with some product of which he had knowledge. On one occasion, RUBY sent him some Wilkinson razor blades and he called him on the telephone about the blades. Most of the time he called SHORE at his telephone office, Hollywood 6-6211.

SHORE stated he was staying at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City between October 23 and 26, 1963, and he received a call from Dallas from RUBY at that time. RUBY had

First called Los Angeles to attempt to locate him. He was willing in connection with trouble he was having with the American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA), whose headquarters are in New York. AGVA had sent him communications, telling him he would be in trouble if he continued to use amateur talent at his club in Dallas. Ruby told Shore he had ceased using this talent but that in the competition in Dallas he had continued to use them and was having his business. He made the statement, "They're killing me," Shore asked him if he did not have an attorney to handle the matter and Ruby stated he did, and that he was going to approach his connections with a lawyer. Ruby became very upset about the AGVA situation and spoke "hyper-thyroid," Shore stated, "I don't know what to do." He apparently felt that because Shore was in show business, he might have the right connections.

Ruby called Shore again in Los Angeles about the same situation and Shore told him that he would contact William Phillips of Phillips Oil Company in Beverly Hills, California, who could contact AGVA's headquarters in New York. Phillips later told Shore that AGVA was aware of the Dallas situation and they would make the other club close down using the amateur strippers. Shore stated Phillips was not contacted by Ruby.

On one occasion, Ruby indicated he had flown from Dallas to New York to try to settle the AGVA problem. Shore stated Ruby impressed him as being a man who wanted to "get things done."

During some of the conversations with Ruby, he indicated he was "well connected" in Dallas but he did not explain what connections he had. Ruby did tell Shore that if he ever came to Dallas or ever needed anything in Texas, Ruby would help him out.

Shore stated he knew of no mutual acquaintances except that on one occasion when talking with Ruby he indicated he knew a well-known bandleader in Chicago by the name of Jimmy D. Warden, who was also known to Shore. "This fellow had heard about the trouble he was having with AGVA but Shore replied, "What can he do?" Shore did not know..."
SAULADORE VINCENT GIAMBONE, professional comic at WINKY, night club comician, presently performing at the Copper R. Trel, Minneapolis, and residing at the Imperial Hotel, advised he has been acquainted with JACK RUBY for approximately two and one-half years. He first met RUBY through a WALLY WENSTON, who is supposedly a friend of RUBY. WENSTON recently completed an engagement at the Carousel Club, Dallas, Texas, and his present location was unknown by GIAMBONE.

GIAMBONE obtained an engagement at the Carousel Club, Dallas, October 21 to November 3, 1953, through "PAPPY" DOLSON, Theatrical Booking Agent, Dallas.

GIAMBONE described RUBY as an explosive, violent person, who is capable of extreme behavior when angered. RUBY was very strict about types of jokes comedians could use at his club and forbade ridicule of great persons and minority groups. During his last engagement at the Carousel Club, RUBY strongly represented him for telling a joke about the late President KENNEDY.

RUBY frequently associated with and had utmost respect for Dallas Police Officers; however, GIAMBONE did not know the identity of any specific police officers. GIAMBONE never knew RUBY to have a gun. GIAMBONE does not know ONSWALD and knows of no association between ONSWALD and RUBY. GIAMBONE never heard RUBY make any comments of a political nature or give any indications of radical or extremist views or activities. GIAMBONE knows of no other close friends or close associates of RUBY.

Mr. ROBERT T. BROWN, 410 West Way, was contacted at his office, 3000 McKinney Avenue, at which time he advised that on October 21, 1953, while he was in Amarillo, Texas, on business, a man contacted his secretary, RUBY DREXON, and identified himself as JACk RUBY. RUBY expressed his desire to see the one story commercial building located at 2417 Maple Avenue, which is owned by Mr. BROWN. Mr. BROWN stated that his secretary refused to show RUBY this property in that she wanted to clear it with him first.

Mr. BROWN related that he returned from Amarillo on October 22, 1953, and sometime during the day was telephonically contacted by RUBY who indicated he wanted to rent the building, claiming as his purpose, that he wanted to open a night club at that location. BROWN further related that he told RUBY that he would not rent the building for that purpose but was willing to sell the property. Mr. BROWN stated that RUBY requested to see the building and was permitted to do so later that day when he, RUBY, met his secretary at the location of the building along with an individual that RUBY claimed to be his decorator. Mr. BROWN advised that he has never seen RUBY, knows nothing about him and had not been contacted by him since that day.

LYNN N. BURK, Assistant Supervisor, Texas Liquor Control Board, 351 West Jefferson, Dallas, Texas. BURK advised his records reflect that JACK L. RUBY, operator of the Silver Star Club, received a six-day suspension in 1949 which was reduced to a five-day suspension on March 7, 1949, by his superiors in Austin on a charge of "Agents - Moral Turpitude". He stated in February, 1954, RUBY received a five-day suspension for "levend vulgar show, strip tease act, consumption of alcohol and beverages during prohibited hours". Further, that in 1954 RUBY in an application stated he had been investigated for violation of curfew but the case was dismissed. He stated his records show in 1955 RUBY received a five-day suspension for obscene performance and in 1954 received a ten-day suspension for allowing a drunk on the premises. These records reflect that JACK RUBY was born March 25, 1911, at Chicago (Cook County), Illinois, 5'9\frac{1}{2}" tall, 190 pounds, brown hair and eyes, residence 1740 South Bray Street, Dallas, from 1947 to 1955, formerly resided at Chicago, marital status single. He gave as character references STANLEY W. KAUFMAN, 1520 Mercantile Security Building, Dallas; ALICE NICHOLS, 8707 Redondo, Dallas, and HAIL COLLINS, JR., 4510 Glenleigh.

These records also show RUBY as the owner and operator of the Vegas Club, Dallas, Texas.

Mr. BURK stated he has known RUBY for approximately ten years and has been in his place of business on numerous occasions as an undercover agent and in his official capacity of Supervisor of the Liquor Control Board. He has always found RUBY very cooperative with his office although he is aware that RUBY is quick tempered and liable to whip customers that do not get along with him. He stated he knows of no organization or interest on the part of RUBY with the exception of women and knows of no connections. BURK stated he did not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD and never saw him in RUBY's company or place of business.

Mr. BURK made available the file on the Carousel, 1312 1/2 Commerce Street, File No. BG200876, which showed the Carousel to be owned by the S & R Corporation, owners.

FRANK DEVERA, residing 4907 Parkside, Memphis, Tennessee, on interview advised as follows:

DEVERA is currently the Memphis, Tennessee, representative of Encyclopedia Britannica, Incorporated, which is owned by WILLIAM BENSON and the University of Chicago. He is in the process of taking over as Memphis area manager of another branch of Britannica known as Great Ideas Program, with offices at 3387 Poplar Avenue, Memphis.

DEVERA, a native of New York City, and now 49 years of age, was until the late 1950's a professional ballroom dancer and ballroom dance instructor. His wife KITTY DEVERA, a native of Jepsonia, Arkansas, teamed up with him as his dancing partner. During the 1940's, the DEVERAS operated a dance studio in Washington, D.C. In 1948 they moved to Dallas, Texas, where they opened and operated the Devera Dance Studio, teaching ballroom dancing. In 1949 they had an exhibit at a Dallas Home Show, and put on several ballroom-type dancing demonstrations. There FRANK DEVERA made the acquaintance of JAMES LEON RUBY who came to the home show with EDIE DICKER, a one-time U.S. Representative from the Dallas area, and a prominent builder in Dallas. RUBY, he recalled, was a personable, gregarious and inherently friendly individual.

Later around 1951 or 1952 FRANK and KITTY DEVERA, in an effort to advertise and promote their dance studio, began putting on dancing demonstrations at country clubs, hotel ballrooms and other functions frequented by ballroom dance enthusiasts. During this period RUBY was operating a dance hall in Dallas, believed to be known as the Silver Spur. The DEVERAS, for about two months, would, once a week, put on dancing exhibitions at Ruby's Club. This would probably have been around 1954 or 1955. DEVERA said actually the name of RUBY's dance hall at that time may have been the Texas Club on Oaklawn Street, Dallas.

Later around 1956 DEVERA who by then had two dance studios went broke when his landlord broke a lease in the Commerce Bank Building Studio.

RUBY, on hearing of DEVERA's bad financial plight, loaned him $200.00. DEVERA claimed he later repaid the $200.00 loan to RUBY.

About this time KITTY DEVERA went to Jepsonia, Arkansas, to live with her parents. During this period, RUBY, being his usual generous self, offered to allow FRANK DEVERA to share his apartment. DEVERA claimed he declined the offer.

Later DEVERA went to work for Encyclopedia Britannica in the Dallas area and later transferred to the Little Rock, Arkansas, territory.

Around 1959 or 1960, RUBY opened up a private club known as The Carousel. This was open to members who had paid dues and dues. The Club permitted members to leave their whiskey at the Club, permitted dancing and, on occasion, would provide live entertainers in the form of comedians and exotic dancers. FRANK DEVERA was a member of this club for a short time, immediately prior to moving to Arkansas about 1960.

DEVERA said that The Carousel Club has since become a public place of amusement and RUBY has provided live entertainment such as strip-toss type dancers. He claimed not to know the details of RUBY's business operations in recent years.

During the above-mentioned period, FRANK DEVERA became fairly well acquainted with RUBY.

Both DEVERA and RUBY were members of the Downtown YUCA in Dallas. Both used to engage in physical exercise at the "Y." But not necessarily together. DEVERA recalled that RUBY did not drink, carefully watched his diet in order to not become over weight. He opined that RUBY keeps in reasonably good physical condition, but was never a fanatic regarding his physical well being.

RUBY never manifested any unusual sexual or moral tendencies. RUBY was interested in women and, in fact, once sold DEVERA to him a secretary in Dallas, name not recalled.
On occasion RUBY would tell DEVERA that he was having trouble with Dallas authorities concerning his liquor license in that on occasions he would be charged with selling to minors or serving liquor after hours. DEVERA said he did not know any of the details.

RUBY appeared to know many of the Dallas city police officers. He would frequently have them as guests at his clubs. Also on Friday and Saturday nights and on other nights of heavy patronage, RUBY would frequently hire off-duty Dallas police officers to serve as glorified bouncers or guards in his clubs. DEVERA did not know the identities of these officers.

DEVERA said he had not personally seen or talked with RUBY since about 1960 despite the fact that DEVERA has been to Dallas several times in recent years to attend sales meetings of Encyclopedia Britannica, in the latter's divisional office.

DEVERA said that in retrospect he can recall no indications in any of RUBY's utterances or actions to indicate that RUBY has ever had any pro-Communist or pro-Cuban sympathies, associations or affiliations. Similarly, he has never had any reason to believe RUBY to be connected with any extreme type of conservative movements. RUBY has never given any indication of holding any extreme views nor has RUBY ever manifested any apparent racial or religious prejudices.

DEVERA was last in Dallas in March or April, 1963, to attend a divisional sales meeting of Britannica. He did not see RUBY during that visit.

DEVERA said he never heard of LEE HARVEY OSWALD prior to the appearance of his name in the press following his arrest and being charged with the assassination of the late President, JOHN F. KENNEDY.

Based on reading of OSWALD's background and pro-Communist connections, DEVERA said it was incomprehensible in his mind that RUBY could have previously known OSWALD. DEVERA theorized and conjectured that RUBY undoubtedly shot OSWALD of his own volition, probably motivated by emotion or the desire for publicity.
DEVERA said that he was not familiar with the fact that RUBY allegedly "bad the run of the Dallas Police Department" as reported by various news media. He said that this was possible in that RUBY was so well known in downtown Dallas and evidently knew so many individual police officers.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

SHARI ANGEL WESTON, also known as SHARI ANGEL, Apartment 13, 4017 Snauve Boulevard, advised that she is 29 years old and has known JACK RUBY, also known as JACK RIKENSTEIN for over 14 years. She said that her husband, WALLY WESTON, has worked for RUBY for about one year and two months and has known him for the past three years. She said that RUBY runs the Carousel Club and his sister runs the Vegas Club, which is also owned by RUBY presumably.

Mrs. WESTON said that she has observed that JACK RUBY is a very unusual person who has very few close friends or associates. He has a violent flaring temper which causes him to commit acts without reason and then to regret them. She recalled that he has a knack for promotional devices and executes them always for his selfish personal gain. She noted that he promotes the few friends that he has for his personal gain and in spite of his impetuous actions he is always sympathetic after he hurts anyone and tries to make amends with those persons whom he hurts.

She said that she had never heard him express anything about his political beliefs, but he has gone into "insane rages" on many occasions and rumor has it in the not too distant past, he beat his sister quite severely. She stated that she knows of no club membership or lodges or civic groups that he might belong to and he has never expressed any views which she would consider to be Un-American, pro-communist, or radical as far as political expressions are concerned. She said he has never criticized the American form of Government or its leaders in any manner and has never been sympathetic toward any country which is not democratic in its form of Government. She recalled that he refused to allow jokes to be told by the players in his club which had to do with politics or racial matters and along this line she definitely recalled that he was extremely sensitive toward his "Jewish background". Mrs. WESTON said that RUBY has an extreme inferiority complex and it is her first impression after hearing of the murder of OWSWALD that this act was occasioned by an intense desire on the part of RUBY to make a name for himself and obtain the nation-wide publicity which would accompany such a horrible situation. She said it was also possible that he may have built up a fit of anger against OWSWALD by having observed OWSWALD at the jail over an extended period of time and he may not have been able to control his emotions and impulses when he saw OWSWALD and had a run in his possession.

personal opinion that RUBY was a man with a "big heart" who would do anything for anyone if he liked ther.

She said with regard to the information that BILL DE WAR, an entertainer presently appearing at the Carousel had seen LEE HARVEY OSWALD at the Carousel, that she personally felt this might be a publicity attempt on the part of DE WAR. Mrs. WENSON continued "you must remember we are all entertainers and some of us will do almost anything for publicity purposes." She said from her own experience working at the Carousel Club, it was difficult for her to understand how DE WAR could have recognized OSWALD by merely observing him as a customer at the Carousel.

Mrs. WENSON said she has not seen RUBY since the President's assassination on November 22, 1963 and she is unable to account for his whereabouts since that time.

She said that she had been known to go with some of the people who worked for him as entertainers very briefly and it seemed that he had no real desire to be with women, however, it was common knowledge that whenever he made acquaintance of a feminine he would ask her if she believed him to be masculine or to have a good physique. She said he seemed to be conscious of the fact that he is getting older which had made him more eager to win the favor of women by asking them questions as to whether they thought he had a good physique. She said this more or less demonstrated his hidden inferiority complex in her opinion.

She further advised that girls he had dated had complained about his uncouth manners and untidy dress and it was for this reason few girls desired to have any dates with him. She also stated as far as she personally was concerned she found him an extremely difficult person to even talk to since he always spoke in a very loud manner which was irritating to the person he was talking to. She stated she presumed he carried a pistol with him because he always carried the club's receipts with him, but she had never observed him when he was carrying the gun. She said she was unable to name any of the persons who might adduce information she had furnished about him except her husband, WALLY WENSON, who perhaps is his closest friend at the time. She stated it was her
