

strength, skill, and knowledge to make a real difference in fighting the international drug trade. I am proud of both of these choices.”

NOTE: Biographies of the nominees were made available by the Office of the Press Secretary.

Nomination for Resolution Trust Corporation Chief Executive Officer July 13, 1993

The President announced today that he will nominate Florida businessman Stanley Tate to be the Chief Executive Officer of the Resolution Trust Corporation.

“Under the leadership of Deputy Treasury Secretary Roger Altman we have instituted a program of reforming RTC’s operations that is already beginning to take hold,” said the President. “With his deep understanding of real estate markets and abiding commitment to public service, Stanley Tate will continue that process of saving the taxpayers money.”

NOTE: A biography of the nominee was made available by the Office of the Press Secretary.

Nomination for Director of the National Science Foundation July 13, 1993

The President announced his intention today to nominate Dr. Neal F. Lane, the provost of Rice University, to be the Director of the National Science Foundation.

“By providing financial support to our Nation’s scientists and engineers, the National Science Foundation fuels the engine of creativity that helps us to increase our economic potential and our base of knowledge,” said the President.

“Neal Lane, with his considerable experience as a scientist and administrator, will provide the leadership necessary to foster the great talent, ingenuity, and potential of the American research community.”

NOTE: A biography of the nominee was made available by the Office of the Press Secretary.

Nomination for United States Representative to the European Community July 13, 1993

The President nominated Washington lawyer Stuart E. Eizenstat today to be the Representative of the United States to the European Community, with the rank of Ambassador.

“Stuart Eizenstat has been an important and highly respected voice in national and international policy debates for many years, and I have frequently found his advice to be invaluable,” said the President. “As our country’s representative to the European Community, he will ensure that our interests are well represented as the process of change continues on that continent.”

NOTE: A biography of the nominee was made available by the Office of the Press Secretary.