Remarks at a Dinner for Senator James M. Talent in St. Louis, Missouri June 2, 2005

Thank you all for coming. Thanks for the warm welcome. Please be seated. My arm still hurts from the last time—or one of the last times I came to St. Louis. I tried to fire a 90-mile-an-hour fastball on opening day—[laughter]—got up there about 60, maybe. [Laughter] But I love coming to your town. Thanks for having me. Thank you all. Those of you who have traveled—I want to thank those of you who traveled from outside this great city of St. Louis to come to support Talent.

The “Show Me” State—my attitude is, show me a good Senator, and I’m going to back him. And we’ve got a great Senator in Jim Talent. I appreciate his spirit. I appreciate his working with the White House. He’s an independent enough guy to tell us if we're not doing right. In other words, he is the kind of person you want from a State of strong, independent people: Tough, principled, unwilling to yield when he stands for—when he believes he's correct. And that's the way Jim Talent is. Every time I'm with him, he's always talking about the citizens of Missouri. I say, "What about Texas?" He says, "Well, they're all right down there." [Laughter]

So I'm proud to stand here with him. And I think the people of Missouri will be wise to send this good man back to the United States Senate.

And Talent married well—[laughter]—Brenda, I appreciate you being here. It's good to meet your mother-in-law. It's a smart thing to bring the mother-in-law through the photo op line. [Laughter] Not only is he a good Senator, he's a smart son-in-law. [Laughter] I was also thrilled to meet Michael and Kate and Chrissy, Jim and Brenda's children. See, what's important to the Talents is putting their family first. That's what I like about Jim Talent. He's got his priorities absolutely straight—faith, family, and the United States of America.

He married well, and so did I. And Laura sends her love to all our friends here in Missouri. You might have noticed that she's become quite a comedienne. [Laughter] More importantly, she's a great First Lady. I was proud of her trip recently to the Middle East. She's sending a strong message as part of the freedom movement, and that is, you can't be free unless women have a free role in society. So not only is she a great comedienne, she's a great diplomat. But more importantly, she's a wonderful mother, wonderful wife, and a great First Lady for the United States.

And I want to thank the senior Senator. That's appropriate to call you senior, but you are a little older than Talent, at least. [Laughter] Kit Bond has served this State with great distinction for a long time. He's a great friend and a great man. I appreciate you being here, Kit, and his wife, Linda Bond.

And I'm proud of your Governor. It still amazes me that you are old enough to meet the age requirement. [Laughter] He's the youngest looking Governor in America. It turns out he's a young-looking man who can get a lot done. And I appreciate your leadership in the statehouse, Matt. Good job. And the Lieutenant Governor is with us, Pete Kinder. I've known Pete a long time, and I appreciate your serving, Pete, and joining Matt and making this State be all that it can be.

I want to thank Congressman Kenny Hulshof as well, and his wife, Renee. Kenny is a bright star in the House of Representatives from the great State of Missouri. I love talking to Kenny. He's a thoughtful fellow. Every time I see him he says "soybeans." [Laughter]

I thank Mike Gibbons and his wife, Liz. Mike is the State senate president pro tem. I want to thank Rod Jetton, the speaker of the statehouse, and his wife, Cassie. Thank you all for coming. I want to thank all of you all who serve.

Somebody told me they thought Ambassador Danforth would be here tonight. I hope so. I do want to say that he represented our country so well. Jack, thanks for coming, and thanks for serving. Thanks for serving so admirably in the United Nations. As well, thanks for taking on a tough assignment. I asked Jack Danforth from the State of Missouri to help resolve the Sudan civil war, the conflict between north and south. And unfortunately, Darfur has obscured the great progress that Ambassador Danforth made on behalf of peace. And when it's all said and done, Jack, your contribution to helping solve that problem will go down in history as one of the great humanitarian gestures by our country, led ably by you. Thank you, sir.

I want to thank all the folks who helped put on this fundraiser. It's an incredibly successful evening and—which speaks not only to your hard work but also to the
