

NATHAN RANDALL.

[To accompany Bill H. R. No. 637.]

MAY 29, 1858.

Mr. O. A. MORSE, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, made the following REPORT.

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of Nathan Randall, report thereon as follows:

The petitioner states that he enlisted in the service of the United States as a private in company G, commanded by Captain Robert Anderson, in 3d regiment United States artillery, commanded by Colonel Gates, in September, 1846, for the term of five years, and that he was honorably discharged on or about the 21st day of September, 1851. That while in service, and in the line of his duty, at the storming of Chapultepec, in Mexico, he was wounded in the forehead by a musket ball. That the wound has affected his brain and caused attacks of fits, which he has ever since been afflicted with. Also, that, while in the city of Mexico, in September, 1847, he was attacked with Mexican diarrhoea, which became and continues to be chronic. That he is, by either one of these diseases, rendered unable to obtain his subsistence by manual labor.

These facts, in the opinion of the committee, are sustained by the proof. James Brooks, a non-commissioned officer, and John A. Bingham, a private, both in the same company with the petitioner, each testify to the facts as stated in the petition.

Jeffrey R. Thomas, M. D., and Henry W. Bearet, M. D., certify as to the present condition of his wound and diseases, and state that, in consequence thereof, he is totally disabled from obtaining his subsistence by manual labor. Among the papers accompanying the petition are two letters from the Pension Office, in which it is stated that the petitioner was a private in company G, 3d regiment artillery.

The committee deem this a proper case for relief, and accordingly report the accompanying bill, and recommend its passage.

MAY 25, 1900

Mr. G. A. Moore, from the Committee on Internal Revenue, made the following

REPORT.

The Committee on Internal Revenue, to whom was referred the petition of Nathan Barnard, report as follows:

The petitioner states that he enlisted in the service of the United States in 1891, in company B, commanded by Captain Robert Anderson, in the regiment of United States Cavalry, commanded by Colonel James H. Anderson, 10th in the line of the 1st Cavalry, and that he was honorably discharged on or about the 1st day of September, 1891. That while in service, and in the line of his duty, he was wounded in the chest, and the wound has effected his health and caused attacks of his which he has been since been afflicted with. That while in the city of Boston, in September, 1891, he was attacked with a violent attack, which became and continued to be chronic. That he is at this time of these chronic, febrile attacks to obtain his subsistence by manual labor.

These facts in the opinion of the committee, are sustained by the proper parties, a non-commissioned officer, and John A. Thompson, a private, both in the same company with the petitioner, each of whom are listed in the petition.

Further, it appears, Mr. D. and Henry W. Brown, Mr. H. Smith, as to the present condition of his health and illness, and state that in consequence thereof he is unable to obtain from obtaining his subsistence by manual labor. Among the papers accompanying the petition are two letters from the Pension Office, in which it is stated that the petitioner was a private in company B, of regiment of Cavalry.

The committee deem this a proper case for relief, and accordingly report the accompanying bill, and recommend its passage.
