TREASURY DEPARTMENT, December, 1869.

SIR: This report is made to conform to the requirements of section 2 of "An act making appropriations," &c., approved March 3, 1869.

This division as organized is paid from appropriations for expenses of loans and treasury notes, and, as a consequence, has no definite number of clerks assigned.

The number of clerks employed December 1, instant, is as follows:

One chief of division.

One principal clerk.

Six clerks of class 4.

Four clerks of class 3.

Three clerks of class 2.

Two clerks of class 1.

Fifty-nine clerks (females) of class nine hundred dollars per annum.

In all seventy-six clerks of all classes.

The increase during the year consists of one principal clerk, one clerk of class 3, and one of class 2, in all three clerks.

The decrease during the year consists of two clerks of class 1, and forty of class nine hundred dollars per annum, in all forty-two clerks.

This makes an actual reduction of thirty-nine clerks, and decreases the expenses of the office thirty-two thousand nine hundred dollars ($32,900) per year.

The statement accompanying this report gives the number of clerks employed during the preceding fiscal year—when employed, and when discharged, and the amount of compensation received by each.

No deduction can be made at present in any of the grades without detriment to the service, and as the work of this office depends entirely upon the amount issued and redeemed of the various securities of the United States, the probability of an increase of force being necessary is about as great as that of a decrease. Number of desks in this division, thirty-five.

Respectfully submitted.

W. V. S. WILSON,
Chief Division Accounts, &c.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,
Washington, January 18, 1870.

SIR: In reply to your circular letter of December 14, 1869, I transmit herewith a statement showing the number of clerks employed in this office during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1869, the compensation paid to each, and the number of desks in use.

By reason of the reduced amount appropriated for the last fiscal year, much inconvenience has been experienced in transacting the business of this office. On account of the insufficiency of the force, recourse has been had to some extent to detailed clerks; consequently I cannot recommend any reduction of force.

Very respectfully, yours,

H. R. HULBURD,
Comptroller.

Hon. GEO. S. BOUTWELL,

REMARKS.

I am of opinion that no reduction can safely be made in the number or grades of clerks employed, and that the full number authorized by the acts of March 3 and April 10, 1869, should be continued, with an increase of compensation.

R. W. TAYLER,
Comptroller.

DECEMBER 7, 1869.

The number of desks in the First Comptroller's office is fifty-eight, the business of several of the clerks requiring two desks, while several of them are used for reference where the larger books used in the transaction of the business of the bureau are kept.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
THIRD AUDITOR'S OFFICE,
December 29, 1869.

SIR: In compliance with request in your letter of 4th instant, I have the honor to furnish herewith a statement showing the number of clerks employed in this office during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1869, the time when employed, when discharged, and the amount of compensation received by each. The number of desks in use in the bureau is 250, and the number of clerks 243. It is not deemed advisable at this time to reduce the number of clerks in this office, in view of the fact that there is still a large number of unsettled property returns (Quartermaster's Department) awaiting adjustment.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. M. GANGEWER,
Acting Auditor.

Hon. GEO. S. BOUTWELL,
Secretary of the Treasury.

TREASURY OF THE UNITED STATES,
Washington, December 15, 1869.

DEAR SIR: Inclosed herewith please receive the statement called for by your letter of the 4th instant.

For several years past clerks, especially females, were placed in the Treasury Department, and in some of the bureaus belonging thereto, in numbers beyond what the business of the office required. The same course was attempted upon this office, but was resisted and prevented by a refusal to receive more clerks than were required for the prompt dispatch of the public business.

For this reason large reductions in the personnel of some of the offices have taken place, while no decrease of force could be made in this office.

At the close of the last fiscal year the employes of this office, myself included, numbered two hundred and seventy-nine, being an increase of one within that year.

I had hoped that this force might be somewhat reduced within the current year. It was, however, soon found that although some of the employes worked nine hours instead of six required by department regulations, yet the work could not be kept up; and so the force of the office has already been necessarily increased to three hundred and fourteen, being thirty-five more than were employed on the 30th day of June last, and one more than was employed during the last fiscal year.

The rapid returns of the old, and its simultaneous replacement by new currency, will, without doubt, require the employment of still more additional female clerks for some time to come.

All the notes returned require to be assorted by kinds and by denominations, the fractional currency alone into eighteen separate parcels; and every note requires close scrutiny in order that its genuineness may be clearly ascertained. The new issue of currency adds much to the labor of assorting. So, too, the late detection of several new kinds of counterfeit coupons necessitates greater care and more time than formerly in their arrangement and counting.

Persons who are familiar with the labor that it costs to change the circulation of a single bank, will be able to form a faint idea of the great work that will be required to replace all the currency of the United States. It exceeds the amount outstanding of more than seventeen hundred national banks by nearly one hundred million dollars. In numbers of separate pieces of paper money it is six times greater than that of all the national banks combined. It exceeds in the numbers of pieces what the circulation of ten thousand such banks would be. The outstanding currency of the United States numbers about two hundred and sixty million pieces.

All this is said in justification of a course that unexplained might seem strange, but when rightly understood will be seen to be unavoidable.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, yours,

F. E. SPINNER,

Treasurer United States.

Hon. WM. A. RICHARDSON,

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.

BUREAU OF STATISTICS,
TREASURY DEPARTMENT, U. S. A.,
Washington, D. C., December 13, 1869.

SIR: In compliance with instructions contained in the letter of the Secretary of the Treasury under date of the 4th instant, I have the honor to transmit herewith a tabular statement exhibiting the names, clerical or other capacities, terms of service, rates of compensation, and total compensation of all persons employed in this bureau during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1869, with remarks pertinent to the same.

In respect to the recommendations which I am instructed to make as to the amount of clerical force, if any, which can be dispensed with, I would say that the present aggregate has been rendered necessary by large arrears which have not only been thrown upon the present force, in addition to current work, but have served also to complicate and retard that work itself. I have every reason to believe that by the first proximo all the accounts of the office will have been so far brought up as to enable the clerical force to be reduced to its proper minimum.

The minimum number of desks for the various services with which the bureau is charged, I would state as follows:

Chief clerk	1
Chiefs of the divisions of examination and compilation.....	2
In the division of compilation as follows:
Home consumption and imposts accounts.....	4
Import accounts.....	3
Export accounts.....	2
Re-export accounts.....	1
Warehouse accounts.....	2
In transitu and indirect trade.....	1
Navigation accounts.....	2
Unattached.....	2
Division of examination.....	4
For the numbering of the merchant marine under the act of July 28, 1866.....	3
All others:
Mail clerk.....	1
Translation and revision of statements.....	2
Publication.....	1
Corresponding clerk.....	1
Librarian and files keeper.....	1
For the examinations of magazines and newspapers.....	1
Copyists.....	3
Mail carrier, messengers, and laborers.....	4
Total.....	41

Such a reduction of the force of the office would imply that all clerks retained were of good clerical capacity, and, as far as possible, experienced in the conduct of their work. I do not think it would be possible to reduce the bureau below this point without injuring its efficiency, and the value of the results.

I would add that, although I have indicated but three copyists, the total number of ladies now employed in the bureau is seven. On the scale given above I should not recommend that the services of any of these ladies be dispensed with. Of the remaining four ladies two are employed in the division of examination, one upon the accounts of warehouse transactions, and one as mail clerk.

My observation is that their several duties are discharged as efficiently as those which are performed by men in this office.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

FRANCIS A. WALKER,

Dep. Special Commissioner of the Revenue in Charge.

Hon. G. S. BOUTWELL,
Secretary of the Treasury.
