

LETTER
FROM
THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,

TRANSMITTING,

In compliance with section 194 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, a list of names of the clerks and other persons employed in the several bureaus of the Treasury Department during the calendar year ended December 31, 1882.

MARCH 2, 1883.—Ordered to lie on the table and be printed.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
March 1, 1883.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith, in compliance with the provisions of section 194 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, a list embracing the names of the clerks and other persons employed in the several bureaus in this Department during the calendar year ended December 31, 1882, and showing the time each was actually employed and the sums paid to each.

So far as I am informed the persons were usefully employed.

I am not advised that an extended reduction of the number of employes in any of the bureaus could be made at this time without detriment to the service.

I am not advised that a general or extended removal of individuals and the appointment of others in their stead is required at this time for the better dispatch of business.

There are cases where persons, on account of old age and physical and mental infirmities, are not as efficient as younger men would be; but these persons have been employed for years in the public service, and have rendered faithful labor to the government. Their removal would be accompanied with great hardship to them personally, and I do not feel justified in making the changes.

In the event of vacancies occurring which it was not absolutely necessary to fill at once, I have refrained from filling them until the service required it should be done. By this means some $40,000 have been saved to the government since the beginning of the present fiscal year. I shall continue this practice whenever the public business will permit; but such instances are only temporary, and give no indication that a permanent reduction of the force can be made.

Very respectfully,

CHARLES J. FOLGER,
Secretary.

HON. DAVID DAVIS,
President of the Senate pro tempore.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.
