CHAP. 178.—An act for the relief of Thomas Snell

Preamble.

Whereas, the circuit court for the southern district of Illinois did at the January term, eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, render judgment against said Snell for the sum of ten thousand dollars, in favor of the United States, on a bond dated May eighteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty three, on which bond said Snell was surety for Captain S. H. Lunt, as quartermaster; and

Whereas the judge of said court, and the district attorney, have since certified that it is extremely probable that there was no defalcation on said bond; and
