"The transfer by the President of the administration of this Act so far as the employees of the Alaska Railroad are concerned to the general manager of the Alaska Railroad shall not divest the United States Employees' Compensation Commission of jurisdiction hereunder, and any claimant shall have the right of appeal from the decision of the general manager of the Alaska Railroad to the United States Employees' Compensation Commission, and the Commission shall, upon such appeal, and may at any time, on its own motion, review the decision of the general manager of the Alaska Railroad, and in accordance with the facts found on such review, may proceed as provided in section 37 hereof. The United States Employees' Compensation Commission shall provide the form and manner of taking such appeals."
