ORDER

Before BACHARACH, BRISCOE, and MORITZ, Circuit Judges.

We raise sua sponte the question of whether this court has jurisdiction to consider these 17 appeals. See Amazon, Inc. v. Dirt Camp, Inc., 273 F.3d 1271, 1274 (10th Cir. 2001) (noting that we have an independent duty to examine our own jurisdiction).

Federal Rule of Appellate Procedure 3(c)(1)(B) provides that the notice of appeal must “designate the judgment—or the appealable order—from which the appeal is taken.” “Rule 3’s dictates are jurisdictional in nature, and their satisfaction is a prerequisite to appellate review.” Smith v. Barry, 502 U.S. 244, 248 (1992).

On October 20, 2022, Craig Ivan Gilbert filed a notice of appeal with the district court listing 28 of his district court cases. In his notice of appeal, Mr. Gilbert indicates that he appeals “from denial futile negotiations for appointment special criminal prosecutor.” Although the district court entered an order denying a similarly-titled motion in some of Mr. Gilbert’s many district court cases, Mr. Gilbert did not file that motion, and the district court did not enter such an order, in the cases underlying these 17 appeals. Because Mr. Gilbert has not designated the order he is appealing in these 17 cases, we lack jurisdiction to consider these appeals.

It appears that Mr. Gilbert listed a litany of cases on his notice of appeal without regard to whether the district had entered the order he wishes to challenge on appeal in those case or not. It takes an inordinate amount of judicial resources, both in the district court and in this court, to process such a deficient notice of appeal. Mr. Gilbert is warned that filing future notices of appeal that fail to comply with Rule 3 may result in the imposition of filing restrictions in this court.

APPEALS DISMISSED.
