

1
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

KERRY D. FRITZ II,)	No. CV-F-07-377 OWW/TAG
)
)	MEMORANDUM DECISION GRANTING
)	IN PART WITH PREJUDICE, Plaintiff,)	GRANTING IN PART WITH LEAVE
)	TO AMEND AND DENYING IN PART vs.)	DEFENDANTS' MOTIONS TO )	DISMISS SECOND AMENDED
)	COMPLAINT (Docs. 54, 55, 56,
KERN COUNTY, CA, et al.,)	57 & 58)
)
)
Defendant.)
)
)

Pursuant to Memorandum Decision filed on August 30, 2007 (Doc. 49) (hereinafter August 30 Decision), Kerry D. Fritz II, proceeding in pro per, filed a Second Amended Complaint (SAC) on October 1, 2007.

The SAC names as defendants the County of Kern, Crestwood Behavioral Health Inc., the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Kern, Kern County Deputy Sheriff Phillip Garza, and Public Defenders Phil Begelin and Dana Kinnison. As discussed infra, the SAC fails in every respect to

1 comply with Rule 8(a)(2) and is very difficult to follow, despite 2 direction to Plaintiff to provide a concise and clear statement 3 of his claims. However, the gravamen of the SAC is that 4 Plaintiff was arrested without probable cause and/or on 5 fabricated evidence for a misdemeanor violation of a temporary 6 restraining order pursuant to California Penal Code § 166(4), 7 which temporary restraining order was obtained against Plaintiff 8 by one of his neighbors; that Plaintiff was subjected improperly 9 to mental competency proceedings pursuant to California Penal 10 Code § 1368, which resulted in his remand to Crestwood; that 11 Plaintiff was kept at Crestwood longer than he would have been 12 incarcerated if he had been convicted of violation of the 13 temporary restraining order, which resulted in the dismissal of 14 the misdemeanor charge; that, while detained at Lerdo, Plaintiff 15 was denied x-rays for a back injury which would have shown that 16 his back was broken; and that Plaintiff was denied the effective 17 assistance of public defenders.

18 A. GOVERNING STANDARDS.

19 A motion to dismiss under Rule 12(b)(6) tests the 20 sufficiency of the complaint. Novarro v. Black, 250 F.3d 729, 21 732 (9th Cir.2001). Dismissal of a claim under Rule 12(b)(6) is 22 appropriate only where "it appears beyond doubt that the 23 plaintiff can prove no set of facts in support of his claim which 24 would entitle him to relief." Conley v. Gibson, 355 U.S. 41, 45-25 46 (1957). Dismissal is warranted under Rule 12(b)(6) where the 26 complaint lacks a cognizable legal theory or where the complaint

1 presents a cognizable legal theory yet fails to plead essential 2 facts under that theory. Robertson v. Dean Witter Reynolds, 3 Inc., 749 F.2d 530, 534 (9th Cir.1984). In reviewing a motion to 4 dismiss under Rule 12(b)(6), the court must assume the truth of 5 all factual allegations and must construe all inferences from 6 them in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party.
7 Thompson v. Davis, 295 F.3d 890, 895 (9th Cir.2002). The court 8 must construe a pro se plaintiff's pleadings liberally in 9 determining whether a claim has been stated. Ortez v.
10 Washington County, State of Or., 88 F.3d 804, 807 (9th Cir.
11 1996); Eldridge v. Block, 832 F.2d 1132, 1137 (9th Cir. 1987).
12 However, legal conclusions need not be taken as true merely 13 because they are cast in the form of factual allegations. Ileto 14 v. Glock, Inc., 349 F.3d 1191, 1200 (9th Cir.2003). Immunities 15 and other affirmative defenses may be upheld on a motion to 16 dismiss only when they are established on the face of the 17 complaint. See Morley v. Walker, 175 F.3d 756, 759 (9th 18 Cir.1999); Jablon v. Dean Witter & Co., 614 F.2d 677, 682 (9th 19 Cir. 1980) When ruling on a motion to dismiss, the court may 20 consider the facts alleged in the complaint, documents attached 21 to the complaint, documents relied upon but not attached to the 22 complaint when authenticity is not contested, and matters of 23 which the court takes judicial notice. Parrino v. FHP, Inc, 146 24 F.3d 699, 705-706 (9th Cir.1988).

25 Rule 8(a)(2), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, requires 26 that a pleading set forth a short and plain statement of the 1 claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief. Under Rule 2 8(a)(2), a pleading must give fair notice and state the elements 3 of the claim plainly and succinctly. Jones v. Community

4 Redevelopment Agency, 733 F.2d 646, 649 (9th Cir. 1984). A 5 complaint that is verbose, conclusory and confusing does not 6 comply with Rule 8(a)(2). Nevijel v. North Coast Life Ins. Co., 7 651 F.2d 671, 674 (9th Cir. 1981). However, before a district 8 court's dismissal of a complaint without leave to amend will be 9 affirmed, the district court must have first adopted less drastic 10 alternatives, such as advising plaintiff of the deficiencies in 11 the pleading and giving leave to amend to correct them. Id.

12 1. PROCEDURALLY IMPROPER ALLEGATIONS.

13 The SAC contains numerous procedurally improper allegations.
14 Paragraph 10 alleges: "All Counts/Causes of Action are based 15 upon, in part, Attachment C to docket entry # 38 and Attachment C 16 to docket entry # 39 in this action. Counts/Cause of Action IV 17 is based, in part on the aforementioned, as well as docket entry 18 # 20-25." The SAC also incorporates by reference various 19 paragraphs alleged in the First Amended Complaint:

20 11) I. Paragraphs 8 through 123 and 21 paragraphs 139-140, 145-149, 153, 158-159, 22 161-162, 167, 170, 172, 200, 234, 250 and 256 of docket entry #5 are hereby incorporated by reference

23 ...

24 27) II. Paragraphs 141 through 143, 151, 25 186-187, 189-190, 199, 221-222, 228-233, 235-26 236, 252, 256-257, and 259-260 of docket entry # 5 are hereby incorporated by reference

1 ...

2 30) III. Paragraphs 263 through 386 of 3 docket entry # 5 are hereby incorporated by 4 reference

5 ...

6 38) IV. Paragraphs 245 through 251, 253-254, 7 and 261-387 of docket entry # 5 are hereby 8 incorporated by reference

9 ...

10 42) V. Paragraphs 140, 148-150, 153 of 11 docket entry # 5 are hereby incorporated by 12 reference

13 ...

14 44) VI. Factual paragraphs 133 through 136, 15 144-145, 168, 171, 173, 177-183, 185, 188, 16 191-198, 201-218, 223-227, 238-251, 253-254, 17 276-289, 286, 295, 299-300, 317-319, 326, 18 342, 344-346, 350-352, 354, 360-364, 372-378, 19 380-381, and 386 of docket entry # 5 are 20 hereby incorporated by reference to this 21 count/cause of action

22 ...

23 48) VII. Paragraphs 3 through 421 and the 24 materials referenced therein of docket entry
25 # 5 are hereby incorporated by reference 26 herein

The SAC also contains numerous citations to statutes and cases.

In the face of Defendants' objections to this type of pleading that the SAC is vague, ambiguous and confusing, Plaintiff asserts that these objections are "inappropriate considering Fritz, following the court's order in docket entry # 49, only incorporated anything by reference if the court or opposing counsel had any questions and per pleading standards Fritz had previously argued for inclusion but was denied and

1 therefore only incorporated by reference."

2 Plaintiff cannot proceed in this action with the SAC as it 3 is presently pleaded. Rule 15-220, Local Rules of Practice, 4 provides in pertinent part:

5 Unless prior approval to the contrary is 6 obtained from the Court, every pleading to 7 which an amendment ... has been allowed by 8 Court order shall be retyped and filed so 9 that it is complete in itself without 10 reference to the prior or superseded 11 pleading. No pleading shall be deemed 12 supplemented until this Rule has been 13 complied with. All changed pleadings shall 14 contain copies of all exhibits referred to in 15 the changed pleading.

16 Plaintiff was specifically advised in the August 30 Decision:

17 Although Plaintiff is proceeding in pro per, 18 Plaintiff is required to familiarize himself 19 and comply with the Federal Rules of Civil 20 Procedure, the Local Rules of Practice for 21 the Eastern District of California, and any 22 Court orders. Rule 83-183(a), Local Rules of 23 Practice, provides in pertinent part:

24 Any individual representing himself 25 or herself without an attorney is 26 bound by the Federal Rules of Civil ... Procedure and by these Local Rules. All obligations placed on 'counsel' by these Local Rules apply to individuals appearing in propria persona. Failure to comply therewith may be ground for dismissal ... or any other sanction appropriate under these Rules.

27 Neither Defendants nor the Court can evaluate and respond to 28 the SAC as presently pleaded. The August 30 Memorandum Decision 29 held:

30 The FAC is 94 pages long and is comprised of 31 425 paragraphs which took over an hour for

1 the Court to read. The portion of the FAC
2 entitled "Common Factual Background" runs 3 from Paragraph 8 to Paragraph 397. The 4 "Common Factual Background" is essentially a 5 narrative description of virtually everything 6 Plaintiff alleges happened to him, on a blow 7 by blow basis. The FAC includes references 8 to alleged events that preceded any 9 conceivable factual or legal basis for 10 Plaintiff's claims and that have no real 11 relevance to his claims, references, 12 practically word by word of conversations 13 Plaintiff allegedly had with numerous 14 persons, letters that Plaintiff allegedly 15 wrote or received from various persons, 16 telephone calls he allegedly made, references 17 to information that appears to have no 18 relevance or materiality to any claim(s) 19 Plaintiff may be attempting to allege. Both 20 Defendants correctly argue that the FAC does 21 not comply with Rule 8(a)(2). The FAC
22 appears to allege that Plaintiff was arrested 23 without probable cause and/or on fabricated 24 evidence for a misdemeanor violation of a 25 temporary restraining order pursuant to 26 California Penal Code § 166(4), which temporary restraining order was obtained against Plaintiff by one of his neighbors; that Plaintiff was subjected improperly to mental competency proceedings pursuant to California Penal Code § 1368, which resulted in his remand to Crestwood; that Plaintiff was kept at Crestwood longer than he would have been incarcerated if he had been convicted of violation of the temporary restraining order, which resulted in the dismissal of the misdemeanor charge; that, while detained at Lerdo, Plaintiff was denied x-rays for a back injury which would have shown that his back was broken; and that Plaintiff was denied the effective assistance of public defenders.

Defendants cannot be expected to respond to a pleading of such length and prolixity, containing many irrelevancies and ambiguities. Plaintiff is ordered to file a Second Amended Complaint. The Second Amended Complaint must clearly and succinctly allege only those facts relevant to his claims, clearly name only those employees or officers

1 of Defendants who Plaintiff contends violated 2 his constitutional rights and what they did 3 or did not do to violate his rights, and must 4 clearly state the legal basis for the claims.
5 A complaint is not a novel - background 6 allegations and evidentiary detail are simply 7 unnecessary and violate Rule 8(a)(2). Short 8 and plain statements of the elements of the 9 claims showing that Plaintiff is entitled to 10 relief and giving the Defendants fair notice 11 of those claims are required. Plaintiff is 12 advised that a continued failure to comply 13 with the requirements of Rule 8(a)(2) is 14 grounds for dismissal of an action without 15 further leave to amend.

9 The SAC intentionally evades this ruling by the expedient of 10 incorporating all of the allegations of the FAC which violated 11 Rule 8(a)(2). Plaintiff cannot proceed in this fashion. This 12 intentional evasion of the Court's express instructions to 13 Plaintiff display willfulness and an intent to harass, which may 14 be grounds for sanctions up to and including dismissal of the 15 action with prejudice.

16 Defendants also understandably complain of the confusing 17 format of the SAC. It is extremely difficult to determine which 18 averments pertain to which causes of action, what the causes of 19 action are, and which defendants are sued in the respective 20 causes of action. Rule 10(b), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, 21 provides:

22 All averments of claim ... shall be made in 23 numbered paragraphs, the contents of each of 24 which shall be limited as far as practicable 25 to a statement of a single set of 26 circumstances; and a paragraph may be referred to by number in all succeeding pleadings. Each claim founded upon a separate transaction or occurrence ... shall be stated in a separate count ... whenever

1 separation facilitates the clear presentation 2 of the matters set forth.

3 The August 30 Decision clearly advised Plaintiff of the 4 pleading requirements to satisfy Rule 8 and Plaintiff knowingly 5 failed to comply. The August 30 Decision stated: "Plaintiff is 6 advised that a continued failure to comply with the requirements 7 of Rule 8(a)(2) is grounds for dismissal of an action without 8 further leave to amend."

9 Plaintiff must comply with Rule 8(a)(2). Plaintiff cannot 10 incorporate by reference allegations in prior pleadings.
11 Plaintiff must allege only those facts which are necessary to 12 allege the required elements of the claims for relief he is 13 alleging against the various Defendants; narrative, background 14 non-essential evidentiary allegations or citations to statutes or 15 cases are not authorized. Plaintiff is advised that any 16 continued failure to comply with Rule 8(a)(2) will result in the 17 dismissal of this action.

18 The SAC prays for "an amount similar to attorney's fees 19 under 42 U.S.C. section 1988 for the past and present cases in 20 this matter and/or under Fed. R. Civ. P. 1, and L.R. 1-3."

21 A pro se litigant is not entitled to an award of attorneys' 22 fees under Section 1988. Kay v. Ehrler, 499 U.S. 432, 435 23 (1991); Elwood v. Drescher, 456 F.3d 943, 946-948 (9th Cir.2006).
24 Consequently, Plaintiff is not entitled to "an amount similar to 25 attorney's fees" under Section 1988. Plaintiff's references to 26 Rule 1, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and Rule 1-3, Local

1 Rules of Practice, do not provide any authority for award of "an 2 amount similar to attorney's fees." Rule 1, Federal Rules of 3 Civil Procedure provides:

4 These rules govern the procedure in the 5 United States district courts in all suits of 6 a civil nature whether cognizable as cases at 7 law or in equity or in admiralty, with the 8 exceptions stated in Rule 81. They shall be 9 construed and administered to secure the 10 just, speedy, and inexpensive determination 11 of every action.

12 There is no "L.R. 1-3." As discussed infra, Plaintiff argues 13 that he is suing as a "private attorney general". If Plaintiff 14 is allowed to proceed in this action as a "private attorney 15 general", he will not be entitled to attorneys' fees as a 16 "private attorney general" pursuant to California Code of Civil 17 Procedure § 1021.5. Atherton v. Board of Supervisors, 176 18 Cal.App.3d 433 (1986). This claim for compensation for 19 attorney's fees can never be stated by a plaintiff appearing in 20 pro per, as a matter of law. If it is repeated, Plaintiff will 21 be sanctioned.

22 B. DEFENDANT SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA FOR THE COUNTY OF 23 KERN.

24 The allegations of the SAC that appear to pertain to 25 Defendant Superior Court of California for the County of Kern are 26 as follows:

 48) VII. Paragraphs 3 through 421 and the materials referenced therein of docket entry
 # 5 are hereby incorporated by reference here. Substantive Due Process. Violation against County of Kern Superior Court System.

1 What happened to Plaintiff Fritz, where the
2 included paragraphs show a pattern or policy, 3 whether associated with only the Plaintiff or 4 upon further discovery it can be seen that Kern County and Crestwood has performed the well-established law violations on others as well.

5 49) In addition to the above causes of 6 action/counts, this substantive due process 7 violation result is also requested in the totality of the circumstances for:

8 I. - Superior Court of the County of Kern, 9 Taft-Lamont Division's granting a civil 10 restraining order to the first person who 11 reached the courthouse; even in the face of 12 evidence at the hearing or innocent or 13 protected activity or no harassment in the 14 respective sense that it was happenstance and/or the product of fabrication via paranoia or projection or malice, and where
Mr. Martin was allowed to rest on the laurels of his [initial] pleading without proving such allegations;

15 ...

16 3. - Superior Court of the County of Kern
17 allowing conclusory, unreliable,
18 untrustworthy, conflicting, ambiguous and/or 19 outright false and/or slippery-slope and 20 conclusory allegations to count as probable cause, without independent judicial review of the executive branch's decision and without allowance of a Franks v. Delaware type of hearing even after habeas corpus writ application evidence;

21 4. - Superior Court of the County of Kern
22 punishment or bias against Fritz for 23 exercising his 6th Amendment right to represent himself under Faretta and its progeny;

24 5. - 6th Amendment violation policy where 25 County of Kern Superior Court System did not 26 allow confrontation with the witnesses against him in both the:

a. - PC 166(4) underlying criminal

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 charge context;

b. - PC 1368 context

6. - Superior Court of California, County of Kern allowing prosecutorial misconduct and subversion or prosecutorial vouching in getting off the subject with respect to how the 'Answer' to the restraining order was served, to instead that of the contents of that properly served 'Answer', where it had little or nothing to do with the criminal charge;

...

8. - bias or prejudice (in the relevant incorporated paragraphs) of the County of Kern Superior Court's judges involved vexatiously multiplied the proceedings.

9. - County of Kern's policymakers of that [Taft] area conspiring to persuade the Superior Court of the County of Kern to afford no adversarial process to be allowed to determine the truth in both PC 166(4) and PC 1369 contexts;

10. - the County of Kern Superior Court's judges involved not providing Fritz with a means to clear his name/establish his innocence otherwise provided for under well-established law (since 1972) in the PC 1368 context such as Jackson v. Indiana, 406 U.S. -, 92 S.Ct. 1845;

II. - using the 1368 process for an improper purpose such as:

a. punishment or purposes unrelated to whether Fritz understood the charges against him and how to rationally defend against them, and;

b. where Fritz asserted innocence and did not take the plea bargain of 19 days, etc., retaliation for the exercising of the 6th Amendment's [sic] right to go to jury trial;

1 12. - 'speedy trial' issues not addressed in
2 Pederson v. Superior Court, 130 Cal.Rptr.2d
3 289, but can be shown under the Barker v.
4 Wingo standards;

5 ...

6 50) These actions and associated causes-of-
7 action/counts' factual predicates of the 8 course of events shocks the conscience of any 9 reasonable person and/or which the Plaintiff 10 or any other person should never have had to 11 have endured and for which Fritz suffered the 12 prolonged pretrial incarceration damages
13 spoken of in Gerstein v. Pugh, 420 U.S. 103
14 ... (1975)

15 The SAC prays for compensatory and punitive damages and prays for 16 the following declaratory and injunctive relief:

17 59) Plaintiff requests Injunctive relief in 18 the form of a reversal or sealing of the 19 record in the matter of Fritz's commitment to 20 Crestwood, as it was against constitutional 21 due process requirements listed throughout 22 Counts V., VI., and VII. [sic] and caused a 23 stigma-plus damages with respect to the 24 listed preferred profession unavailability.

25 60) The Plaintiff requests declaratory and 26 injunctive relief against the Superior Court of California's policy to not make an independent determination of probable cause and not allowing the affiant officer's or the private citizen's veracity to be questioned, as stated in Count VII.

27 The Superior Court of California for the County of Kern 28 moves to dismiss the SAC against it on the basis of the Eleventh 29 Amendment to the United States Constitution.

30 The Eleventh Amendment provides:

31 The Judicial power of the United States shall 32 not be construed to extend to any suit in law 33 or equity, commenced or prosecuted against 34 one of the United States by Citizens of 35 another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of 1 any Foreign State.

2 Claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 are limited by the scope of the 3 Eleventh Amendment. Doe v. Lawrence Livermore Nat. Laboratory, 4 131 F.3d 836, 839 (9th Cir.1997). "States or governmental 5 agencies that are considered 'arms of the State' for Eleventh 6 Amendment purposes' are not 'persons' under Section 1983. Will 7 v. Michigan Dep't of State Police, 491 U.S. 58, 70 (1989). The 8 Eleventh Amendment bars Plaintiff's claims against the Superior 9 Court for the County of Kern or its employees. See Simmons v.
10 Sacramento County Superior Court, 318 F.3d 1156, 1161 (9th 11 Cir.2003).

12 Plaintiff argues that dismissal of the Kern County Superior 13 Court pursuant to the Eleventh Amendment is not required because 14 the SAC is not seeking any damages from the State of California 15 and the SAC is not seeking the type of relief which the Eleventh 16 Amendment bars.

17 Plaintiff asserts that "suits against state ... officials to 18 enjoin them from invading constitutional rights which they 19 subjected Fritz to (or were misled into subjecting the Plaintiff 20 to in the larger context of the action)" is relief not barred by 21 the Eleventh Amendment.

22 Plaintiff relies on Ex Parte Young, 209 U.S. 129 (1908).

23 Ex Parte Young held that the Eleventh Amendment does not bar 24 suit against a state official acting in violation of federal law:

25 [I]ndividuals who, as officers of the State, 26 are clothed with some duty in regard to the enforcement of the laws of the State, and who

1 threaten and are about to commence 2 proceedings, either of a civil or criminal 3 nature, to enforce against parties affected 4 an unconstitutional act, violating the Federal Constitution, may be enjoined by a Federal Court of equity from such action.

209 U.S. at 155-156. However, the Supreme Court cautioned:

5 In making an officer of the State a party 6 defendant in a suit to enjoin the enforcement 7 of an act alleged to be unconstitutional, it 8 is plain that such officer must have some 9 connection with the enforcement of the act, or else it is merely making him a party as a representative of the State, and thereby attempting to make the State a party.

10 209 U.S. at 157. The Ex Parte Young exception applies only to 11 ongoing and continuous violations of federal law. Papasan v.
12 Allain, 478 U.S. 265, 277-278 (1986); Green v. Mansour, 474 U.S.
13 64, 68 (1985). Furthermore, "[a]s Ex Parte Young explains, the 14 officers of the state must be cloaked with a duty to enforce the 15 laws of the state and must threaten or be about to enforce and 16 unconstitutional act." Snoeck v. Brussa, 153 F.3d 984, 987 (9th 17 Cir.1989).

18 The SAC does not name as defendants any individual officials 19 of the State of California. Plaintiff's reliance on Ex Parte 20 Young to overcome the bar of the Eleventh Amendment is misplaced.
21 See also Pennhurst State Sch. & Hosp. v. Halderman, 465 U.S. 89, 22 100 (1984) ("[I]n the absence of consent a suit in which the State 23 or one of its agencies or departments is named as the defendant 24 is proscribed by the Eleventh Amendment").¹

25 26 ¹In Pennhurst, supra, 465 U.S. at 104, the Supreme Court announced that Ex Parte Young allows prospective relief against

1 Plaintiff further asserts that "the decisions of the three 2 Superior Court of California, County of Kern Judges Moench, 3 Phillips, and Kelly can fairly be said to represent County of 4 Kern unconstitutional policy, custom or usage of the County, 'not 5 the word or deed of the state.'"

6 Plaintiff cites Allen v. Baltimore & O. R. Co., 114 U.S. 311
7 (1885), as authority for this proposition. However, Allen
8 involved a suit against an individual state official threatening 9 to enforce allegedly unconstitutional taxation. The SAC does not 10 name as defendants any individual state officials.

11 Further, judges of the Superior Courts of the State of 12 California are not employed by or agents of the County of Kern.
13 The acts or omissions of judges of the Superior Courts of the 14 State of California do not represent an allegedly 15 unconstitutional policy or practice of the County of Kern. The 16 judges are state officials.

17 Plaintiff argues that the SAC does not seek "any damages 18 from the State of California and is instead in a 'private 19 attorney general' capacity ... asking the State of California to 20 take money back from the County of Kern for having violated 21 Fritz's procedural and substantive due process and equal 22 protection rights listed within the Counts/Causes of Action 23 section within the SAC and the State has been named as 'only

24 _____ 25 state officers only to vindicate rights under federal law. To the 26 extent that the SAC can be construed to vindicate an asserted right under state law, Pennhurst dictates that the claim be dismissed.
See Spoklie v. Montana, 411 F.3d 1051, 1060 (9th Cir.2005).

1 nominal parties' and where Fritz is 'not trying to sue the 2 [state] government 'behind its back.'"

3 Plaintiff cites Osborn v. Bank of U.S., 22 U.S. 738 (1824).
4 Osborn has no applicability as that case involved an action 5 against a state official to enjoin the state official from 6 executing a state law in conflict with the United States 7 Constitution.

8 Further, the SAC contains no allegation or reference to 9 Plaintiff as a "private attorney general". The prayer for 10 damages in the SAC does pray for "an order for the return of all 11 local, state, and federal originating reimbursement funds taken 12 by the defendants on behalf of Fritz." The purpose, scope and 13 authority for this prayer for relief is unascertainable.
14 Further, Plaintiff has no standing to assert such a claim. The 15 claim shall not be re-asserted and is dismissed without leave to 16 amend.

17 Plaintiff, citing Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Department, 18 901 F.2d 698 (9th Cir.1990), and DeShaney v. Winnebago County 19 Department of Social Services, 489 U.S. 189 (1989), argues that 20 "[t]here existed a 'special relationship' ... between his 21 client(s) and Fritz in the past incident's cause of damage to 22 Fritz and the nature is one which allowed the re-occurrence which 23 is still pending, and therefore capable of repeating itself and a 24 potential for 'irreparable harm.'"

25 In DeShaney, the Supreme Court held that "a State's failure 26 to protect an individual against private violence simply does not

1 constitute a violation of the Due Process Clause." 489 U.S. at 2 197. The Supreme Court reasoned:

3 [N]othing in the language of the Due Process 4 Clause itself requires the State to protect 5 the life, liberty, and property of its 6 citizens against invasion by private actors.
7 The Clause is phrased as a limitation on the 8 State's power to act, not as a guarantee of 9 certain minimal levels of safety and 10 security. It forbids the State itself to 11 deprive individuals of life, liberty, or 12 property without 'due process of law,' but 13 its language cannot fairly be extended to 14 impose an affirmative obligation on the State 15 to ensure that those interests do not come to 16 harm through other means.

17 Id. at 195. As explained in Johnson v. City of Seattle, 474 F.3d 18 634 (9th Cir.2007):

19 The general rule announced in DeShaney that 20 members of the public have no constitutional 21 right to sue state actors who fail to protect 22 them from harm inflicted by third parties 'is 23 modified by two exceptions: (1) the "special 24 relationship" exception; and (2) the "danger 25 created exception."

26 The special relationship exception arises when the government enters into a special relationship with a party, such as taking the party into custody or placing him into involuntary hospitalization. The danger created exception arises when affirmative conduct on the part of the state places a party in danger he otherwise would not have been in. L.W. v. Grubbs, 974 F.2d 119, 121 (9th Cir.1992), cert. denied, 508 U.S. 951 (1993).

In Balistreri, supra, the Ninth Circuit held:

Several courts have held that, to determine whether a 'special relationship' exists, a court may look to a number of factors, including (1) whether the state created or

1 assumed a custodial relationship toward the 2 plaintiff; (2) whether the state 3 affirmatively placed the plaintiff in a 4 position of danger; (3) whether the state was 5 aware of the specific risk of harm to the 6 plaintiff; or (4) whether the state 7 affirmatively committed itself to the 8 protection of the plaintiff

9 As the district court noted, Balistreri 10 alleged neither that the state had created or 11 assumed a custodial relationship over her, 12 nor that the state actors had somehow 13 affirmatively placed her in danger. There 14 were no allegations that the defendants had 15 done anything to 'ratify, condone or in any 16 way instigate' the actions of Balistreri's 17 ex-husband ... However, Balistreri did allege 18 that state actors knew of her plight and 19 affirmatively committed to protect her.
20 Specifically, she alleged that the state 21 committed to protect her when it issued her a 22 restraining order.

23 In the recent case of DeShaney v. Winnebago 24 County ... Department of Social Services ..., 25 however, the Supreme Court limited the 26 circumstances giving rise of 'a special 27 relationship.' Joshua DeShaney fell into a 28 life-threatening coma after he was severely 29 beaten by his father. Prior to this beating, 30 the social services agency recorded multiple 31 incidents indicating that someone in the 32 DeShaney household was physically abusing 33 Joshua and temporarily placed Joshua in the 34 custody of the juvenile court. In the course 35 of explaining its holding that Joshua 36 DeShaney and his mother failed to make out an 37 actionable § 1983 claim, the Court explained 38 that its previous decisions recognizing 39 'affirmative [constitutional] duties of care 40 and protection ... stand only for the 41 proposition that when the State takes a 42 person into its custody and hold him there 43 against his will, the Constitution imposes 44 upon it a corresponding duty to assume some 45 responsibility for his safety and general 46 well-being ... The affirmative duty to 47 protect arises not from the State's knowledge 48 of the individual's predicament or from its 49 expressions of intent to help him, but from 1 the limitation which it has imposed on his 2 freedom to act on his own behalf.' Id. 109 3 S.Ct. at 1005-06. We conclude that the 4 state's knowledge of DeShaney's plight and 5 its expressions of intent to help him were no 6 greater than its knowledge of Balistreri's 7 plight and its expressions of intent to help 8 her ... DeShaney is therefore controlling in 9 Balistreri's case. Accordingly, we hold that 10 Balistreri failed to allege 'a special 11 relationship' and affirm the district court's 12 dismissal of Balistreri's due process claim.

13 901 F.2d at 701.

14 Plaintiff's reliance on DeShaney and Balistreri in the 15 context of his claims against the Kern County Superior Court is 16 without merit because of the bar of the Eleventh Amendment. He 17 has no special relationship with the Kern County Superior Court.

18 Individual judges of the Kern County Superior Court are not 19 defendants in this action. Their actions as judicial officers 20 performing their judicial duties are absolutely immune from 21 liability. Even if judges of the Kern County Superior Court 22 "rubber-stamped those agents' decisions without giving Fritz an 23 opportunity to cross-examine, etc." and that "Fritz had listed 24 the Ca PC section 1368-1370 hearing and that the judge knew of an 25 actual conflict and denied a Marsden motion, the functional 26 equivalent of refusing to cure, which prejudiced Fritz where 'but for the constitutional errors, the result of the proceedings would have been different' (citation omitted) and/or 'prejudice per se' (citation omitted)." Plaintiff's remedy was to appeal in the state civil and criminal cases.

Judges and those performing judge-like functions are

1 absolutely free from liability for damages for acts performed in 2 their official capacities. Ashelman v. Pope, 793 F.3d 1072 (9th 3 Cir.1986). Judicial immunity applies no matter how "erroneous 4 the act may have been, and however injurious in its consequences 5 it may have proved to the plaintiff." Id. at 1074. Judicial 6 immunity is not affected "by the motives with which their 7 judicial acts are performed." Id. at 1077. "A judge will not be 8 deprived of immunity because the action he took was in error, was 9 done maliciously, or was in excess of his authority; rather he 10 will be subject to liability only when he has acted in the clear 11 absence of all jurisdiction." Stump v. Sparkman, 435 U.S. 349, 12 356-357 (1978). A judge is not immune from liability for damages 13 if he performs an act that is not judicial in nature. Ashelman, 14 793 F.2d at 1075. An act is judicial in nature if it is a 15 function normally performed by a judge. Id. To determine if the 16 judge acted with jurisdiction, courts analyze whether the judge 17 acted clearly beyond the scope of subject matter jurisdiction.
18 Id.

19 A judge is not immune if a plaintiff seeks prospective 20 injunctive relief. Pulliam v. Allen, 466 U.S. 522, 541 (1984).

21 Defendant Kern County Superior Court, responding to 22 Plaintiff's arguments apparently seeking review of decisions and 23 orders of the judges of the Kern County Superior Court, cites the 24 Rooker-Feldman doctrine.

25 The Rooker-Feldman Doctrine was established in Rooker v.
26 Fidelity Trust Co., 263 U.S. 413 (1923) and District of Columbia

1 Court of Appeals v. Feldman, 460 U.S. 462 (1983). As explained
2 in Bianchi v. Rylaarsdam, 334 F.3d 895, 898 (9th Cir. 2003), 3 cert. denied, 540 U.S. 1213 (2004):

4 Although the principal that federal courts 5 lack jurisdiction to hear appeals from state 6 court decisions was firmly established in 7 Rooker v. Fidelity Trust Co. ..., it was not 8 until ... D.C. Court of Appeals v. Feldman 9 ... that the now-familiar test was 10 articulated:

11 If the constitutional claims 12 presented to a United States
13 District Court are inextricably 14 intertwined with the state court's 15 denial in a judicial proceeding of 16 a particular plaintiff's 17 application [for relief], then the 18 District Court is in essence being 19 called upon to review the state 20 court decision. This the District 21 Court may not do.

22 ...

23 United States District Courts ...
24 do not have jurisdiction, however, 25 over challenges to state court 26 decisions in particular cases arising out of judicial proceedings even if those challenges allege that the state court's action was unconstitutional.

27 ...

28 Rooker-Feldman is a powerful doctrine that 29 prevents federal courts from second-guessing 30 state court decisions by barring the lower 31 federal courts from hearing de facto appeals 32 from state-court judgments. If claims raised 33 in the federal court action are 'inextricably 34 intertwined' with the state court's decision 35 such that the adjudication of the federal 36 claims would undercut the state ruling or require the district court to interpret the application of state laws or procedural rules, then the federal complaint must be

1 dismissed for lack of subject matter 2 jurisdiction ... Simply put, 'the United 3 States District Court, as a court of original 4 jurisdiction, has no authority to review the 5 final determination of a state court in 6 judicial proceedings.'

7 There is no legally cognizable claim assertable by Plaintiff 8 that can be stated against the Kern County Superior Court. The 9 claims against the Kern County Superior Court are DISMISSED WITH 10 PREJUDICE AND WITHOUT LEAVE TO AMEND.

11 C. DEFENDANTS PHILLIP BEGLIN AND DANA KINNISON.

12 The SAC sues Public Defender Phillip Begelin and Public 13 Defender Dana Kinnison in their personal capacities. Defendants 14 move to dismiss the SAC for failure to state a claim upon which 15 relief can be granted.²

16 The only allegations in the SAC that appear to pertain to 17 Defendants Begelin and Kinnison are as follows:

18 44) VI. Factual paragraphs 133 through 136,
19 144-145, 168, 171, 173, 177-183, 185, 188, 20 191-198, 201-218, 223-227, 238-251, 253-254, 21 276-289, 286, 295, 299-300, 317-319, 326, 22 342, 344-346, 350-352, 354, 360-364, 372-378, 23 380-381, and 386 of docket entry # 5 are 24 hereby incorporated by reference to this 25 count/cause of action concerning Ineffective 26 Assistance of Counsel Phil Begelin and Dana Kinnison. Failure to Train, Control or Supervise Court Appointed Counsel by Kern County policy allowing Mr. Begelin and Mr.
Kinnison's acts or edicts had been fairly seen to represent County of Kern policy, custom, or usage in the Taft and Lamont areas of the County, respectively, where that policy acts or omissions included:

²Although these Defendants moved to dismiss on the ground of improper service of process, at the hearing on February 25, 2008, Defendants expressly waived this ground for dismissal.

1 1. - Conflict of Interest of Phil Begelin as 2 a matter of law and/or acts and failures 3 prejudicial to the Plaintiff's 14th 5th 6th and 4 9th Amendment rights were:

5 (a) PD Begelin did not move to 6 withdraw or for an appointment of 7 counsel in favor of competency 8 where he knew he was a defendant in 9 an [sic] habeas corpus writ 10 application at least one week 11 before and also during the actual 12 PC 1368 commitment trial and that 13 therefore his and Fritz's interests 14 were in conflict.

15 (b) - PD Begelin only ever asked 16 Fritz questions from Fritz's 17 'Answer' to a civil restraining 18 order and then apparently did not 19 believe Fritz's answers but also 20 failed in his duty to investigate 21 the facts upon which he based his 22 'amateur opinion' and which 23 influenced Judge Moench prejudicial 24 to Fritz liberty interest and 25 interest in proving his innocence 26 in the underlying criminal matter where PD Begelin was not Fritz's attorney, but forced onto Fritz for the purposes of determining incompetency to stand trial status for the prosecution and the court (Judge Moench) on January 10th, 2006.

19 (c) - On February 23rd, 2006 PD
20 Begelin went to court 'on reports' 21 against Fritz's wishes, never took 22 copies of said 'reports' for Fritz, 23 lied to Judge Phillips about 24 Fritz's wishes for a jury trial and 25 that Fritz did not want to talk to 26 him where PD Begelin never attempted to talk with Fritz between that date and the week prior when he (PD Begelin) told Judge Moench that he would go to jury trial when Fritz informed Judge Moench that PD Begelin was a defendant in an application for a

1 writ of habeas corpus, and;

2 (d) - knew that two of the so-3 called 'specialists' had not given 4 Fritz any 'Competency Assessment
5 Tests' (CATS) and did he not [sic] 6 stress that Fritz passed the 7 evaluation which did give the 8 procedurally and professionally 9 required CAT's, and this was 10 prejudicial to Fritz;

11 (e) - knew of but hid the evidence 12 sent to him by Kern County Expert 13 Promotion Center of Fritz having 14 gone to Indonesia and Sri Lanka 15 which PD Begelin apparently had 16 previously not believed and had not 17 investigated before his 'amateur 18 opinion' of Fritz having 'grandiose 19 delusions';

20 (f) - provided no 'adversarial 21 process';

22 (g) - never asked Fritz questions
23 designed to test whether Fritz
24 understood the charges against him 25 and/or how he was going to 26 rationally defend against them;

(h) - did not make any motions provided for to establish Fritz's innocence or other motions provided for in the PC 1368 statute, and;

(i) - did not perform his duty to inform the Plaintiff of his right to appeal or help him to do so in those section 1368 proceedings.

45) PD Dana Kinnison not investigating the case after it was transferred to him where:

(a) - he didn't even talk with the Plaintiff prior to representing him,

(b) - did not advise the court of the limits of confinement according to PC 166(4)'s maximum period as 1 well as that even if Fritz would 2 have been convicted that he would 3 have only spent 90 days

4 incarcerated due to a first offense 5 status,

6 (c) - did not perform his duty to 7 advise Fritz of his appeal rights 8 or help him to do so in that 9 section 1368 context.

10 46) Kern County Public Defender's Office does 11 not train, control, or supervise their 12 subordinates in investigating negating
13 evidence, even after Fritz having written a 14 note to that office early in the 1368
15 proceedings once Phil Begelin was forced onto 16 the Plaintiff, nor did the policymakers of 17 that office later answer Plaintiff's phone 18 requests or provide timely access to the 19 courts because of such training, control, or 20 supervisory policy failures or deliberate 21 indifference to their subordinate's acts or 22 edicts or failures to act or investigate.

23 Defendants complain that the use of the term "Attorney 24 Malpractice" and the use of the term "Ineffective Assistance of 25 Counsel" is ambiguous. Attorney malpractice is a state cause of 26 action while ineffective assistance of counsel is a "[c]riminal appellate defense." Defendants assert:

Since Ineffective Assistance of Counsel is clearly not a civil cause of action, PD Defendants can have no civil liability. In the unlikely event that the Court is inclined to equate apples and oranges, PD Defendants [sic] liability is still absent based upon the allegations of the SAC. A review of the SAC reveals that the allegations against the identified Public Defenders are based upon their alleged representation of Complainant despite Complainant's desire to be unrepresented. The Public Defenders acted under Court appointment, and according to Complainant, the Public Defendant 'was not [Complainant's] attorney, but [was] forced onto [Complainant].'

1 Moreover, a cause of action for Attorney 2 Malpractice is a state cause of action 3 traditionally unrelated to a § 1983 action.
4 Here, the alleged Attorney Malpractice arises 5 from a set of facts separate and distinct 6 from the § 1983 allegations. Litigating this 7 unrelated state issue will consume an 8 inordinate amount of judicial and trial time, 9 and will serve no useful purpose since the 10 issue can independently be litigated in state 11 court. PD Defendants respectfully request 12 that the Attorney Malpractice cause of action 13 be dismissed, without prejudice, thereby 14 allowing Complainant to re-file in state 15 court.

16 Defendants' position appears to be without merit. In Barner 17 v. Lords, 24 Cal.4th 676 (2000), a public defender was sued for 18 legal malpractice by his client, who was wrongfully convicted of 19 bank robbery in a case of mistaken identity. In pertinent part, 20 the California Supreme Court held:

21 Allegations of deficient performance by 22 counsel ... are encountered routinely in 23 connection with claims of ineffective 24 assistance of counsel made in the course of 25 appellate and collateral review of criminal 26 convictions. The Sixth Amendment confers a right to the reasonably effective assistance of counsel acting "within the range of competence demanded of attorneys in criminal cases." ... The same standard of care governing claims of ineffective assistance of counsel applies in a civil legal malpractice action.

27 24 Cal.4th at 689. Citing Wiley v. County of San Diego, 19 28 Cal.4th 532, 545 (1989), the Barner Court noted that "a deputy 29 public defender's exposure to liability for legal malpractice is 30 circumscribed by the requirement that a defendant in a criminal 31 action must prove his or her actual innocence by a preponderance 32 of the evidence before prevailing on a claim against his or her

1 attorney for negligent misrepresentation in the criminal 2 proceeding." 24 Cal.4th at 691.

3 It is not clear from the SAC that the claims against the 4 Public Defender Defendants are based solely on the state law 5 claim of legal malpractice. If Plaintiff intended to sue these 6 Defendants under Section 1983, a public defender does not act 7 under color of state law when performing a lawyer's traditional 8 functions as counsel to a defendant in a criminal proceeding.
9 Polk County v. Dodson, 454 U.S. 312, 325 (1981). See Cox v.
10 Hellerstein, 685 F.2d 1098 (9th Cir.1982):

11 In 1980, Cox filed a civil rights complaint 12 alleging that Hellerstein and appellee James 13 F. Hewitt, Federal Public Defender, as 14 Hellerstein's supervisor, violated Cox's 15 federally-protected rights during the course 16 of Hellerstein's court-appointed 17 representation of Cox. In his complaint, Cox 18 alleged that Hellerstein was 'ineffective, 19 inadequate, incompetent, and unprofessional' 20 as defense counsel. Cox alleged that 21 Hellerstein failed to call witnesses who 22 should have been called, worked for the 23 prosecution to obtain a conviction, and 24 divulged confidential matters to the 25 prosecution. The district court granted 26 Hellerstein's motion to dismiss, and Cox 27 appeals. We affirm on the ground that Polk 28 County v. Dodson, 454 U.S. 312 ... (1981) is 29 controlling authority that the district court 30 lacked subject matter jurisdiction over Cox's 31 civil rights action.

32 See also Miranda v. Clark County, Nevada, 319 F.3d 465, 468 (9th 33 Cir.), cert. denied, 540 U.S. 814 (2003).

34 The allegations of the SAC against these Defendants 35 establishes that neither were "state actors" for purposes of 36 Section 1983.

1 An otherwise private person acts "under color of" state law 2 when engaged in a conspiracy with state officials to deprive 3 another of federal rights. See Dennis v. Sparks, 449 U.S. 24, 4 27-28 (1980); Tower v. Glover, 467 U.S. 914, 920 (1984).

5 The caption of the SAC alleges "Conspiracy to Violate Civil 6 Rights". However, there are no allegations in the SAC from which 7 it may be inferred that either Defendant Begelin or Defendant 8 Kinnison conspired with any other state officials to deprive 9 Plaintiff of his federal rights. Consequently, the SAC does not 10 state a claim upon which relief can be granted under Section 1983 11 against Defendants Begelin or Kinnison. "To establish a 12 conspiracy, a plaintiff must demonstrate the existence of an 13 agreement or 'meeting of the minds' to violate constitutional 14 rights." Mendocino Envtl. Ctr. v. Mendocino County, 192 F.3d 15 1283, 1301 (9th Cir.1999). "The defendants must have, by some 16 concerted action, intended to accomplish some unlawful objective 17 for the purpose of harming another which results in damage." Id.
18 This agreement or meeting of the minds may be inferred on the 19 basis of circumstantial evidence, such as the actions of the 20 defendants. Id. A showing that defendants committed acts that 21 'are unlikely to have been undertaken without an agreement' may 22 support the inference of a conspiracy. Id. Conclusory 23 allegations of conspiracy, however, are not enough to support a 24 Section 1983 conspiracy claim. A plaintiff must allege specific 25 facts to support the existence of the claimed conspiracy. See 26 Olsen v. Idaho Bd. of Medicine, 363 F.3d 916, 929 (9th Cir.2004).

1 Allegations that identify "the period of the conspiracy, the 2 object of the conspiracy, and certain other actions of the 3 alleged conspirators taken to achieve that purpose," Marchese v.
4 Umstead, 110 F.Supp.2d 361, 371 (E.D.Pa.2000), and allegations 5 that identify "which defendants conspired, how they conspired and 6 how the conspiracy led to a deprivation of his constitutional 7 rights," Harris v. Roderick, 126 F.2d 1189, 1196 (9th Cir.1997), 8 have been held to be sufficiently particular to properly allege a 9 conspiracy.

10 Defendants argue that the requirement in Rule 9(g), Federal 11 Rules of Civil Procedure, that items of special damage "shall be 12 specifically stated" has not been followed in the SAC.
13 Defendants refer to the prayer "for replacement of personal items 14 stolen and replacement or repair of vehicles damaged or by virtue 15 of sitting idle of 13,000 dollars" and "[o]ther compensatory/lost 16 income opportunity during such time of incarceration of 10,000.00 17 dollars."

18 "General damages typically are those elements of injury that 19 are the proximate and foreseeable consequences of the defendant's 20 conduct. Special damages are those elements of damages that are 21 the natural, but not the necessary or usual, consequence of the 22 defendant's conduct, and typically stem from and depend upon the 23 particular circumstances of the case." Wright & Miller, Federal 24 Practice and Procedure: Civil 3d § 1310, pp.346-347. "Most 25 courts now take the position that allegations of special damage 26 will be deemed sufficient for the purpose of Rule 9(g) if they

1 are definite enough to enable the opposing party to prepare his 2 or her responsive pleading and a defense to the claim" Id., 3 § 1311, pp.354-355. Plaintiff must describe the personal items 4 stolen and the vehicles damaged by vandalism or standing idle and 5 must specify the lost income opportunities lost during his 6 incarceration.

7 Defendants Begelin and Kinnison's motion to dismiss the SAC 8 is GRANTED WITH LEAVE TO AMEND.

9
10 D. DEFENDANT CRESTWOOD BEHAVIORAL HEALTH, INC..

11 The only allegations in the SAC that appear to pertain to 12 Defendant Crestwood Behavioral Health, Inc. are as follows:

13 30) III Paragraphs 263 through 386 of docket
14 entry # 5 are hereby incorporated by 15 reference. Crestwood Behavior [sic] Health, 16 Inc., by and through its agents, employees, 17 spokespersons, and subcontractors Victoria 18 Haner, Laura Collins, and Dr. Sanjay Vaswani, 19 along with Kern County actors Meghan Hamill 20 and Kern County Patient's Rights Advocate's 21 Office, pursuant to Crestwood's policy of 22 taking as true whatever they receive from the 23 court with respect to the charges against 24 underlying M.I.S.T. clients as well as a 25 policy that eventually all clients are 26 required to take medications, coupled with Kern County's policy of holding M.I.S.T. clients at Crestwood for at least three to six months from arrival, irrespective of whether they are determined to be ready for court by Crestwood case managers, was the driving force or cause of compelling defendant Crestwood agents to deny Fritz his rights (alternative or totality of the circumstance's [sic] elements of this claim/count) as follows:

31) I. 14th and 1st Amendment right to be free from retaliation for:

1 (a) the exercise of his right to 2 free speech by requesting return to 3 court once he was certified by an 4 agent/case manager of Crestwood
5 according to professional standards 6 to do so;

7 (b) pointing out when Crestwood
8 employees and/or subcontractors
9 were violating the Patient's Bill 10 of Rights and/or their own rules 11 and/or instances pointin-out [sic] 12 various violations of clearly 13 established law being violated by 14 Kern County policy in Fritz's own 15 case, when Crestwood's agents 16 stated to get the Kern County 17 Patient's Rights Advocate to fill-18 out [sic] an application for a writ 19 of habeas corpus or Public 20 Defender's Office, but then 21 conspired with the former and Kern 22 County Forensics Dr. Hamill in said
23 violation and chilled Fritz's 24 rights with the specter or [sic] 25 forced medication.

26 32) 2. Access to the courts and right to petition the government for the redress of constitutional violations where. [sic] Fritz was left in a position of reliance on Crestwood to perform a duty to petition the County of Kern Superior Court to discharge the Plaintiff, when they knew to be the normal course of one who was mistakenly admitted and/or understood the charges against him and how to rationally defend against them and where rules for discharge are clearly stated within Crestwood materials given to the Plaintiff and within professional standards and there was no reasonable or rational basis for the denial of access to the courts where transportation to Lerdo law library or some other easy and/or means of access could have been provided.

33) Crestwood failed in this duty and psychiatric standards when it falsely imprisoned Fritz when they did not perform such duty of discharge or petition the court

1 for such in a timely manner and psychiatric 2 professional duty was deliberately 3 disregarded by both the actors-employees as 4 well as Crestwood due to their policy
5 entwined with the Kern County CA policy of 6 keeping M.I.S.T. clients at least three to 7 six months prior to being certified by the 8 County to return to court.

9 34) The force of this policy or usage between 10 Kern County and Crestwood Omnicare [sic] is 11 apposite [sic] to Adickes v. Kress & CO.
12 [sic], 398 U.S. 144 (1970) and its progeny.

13 35) This policy agreement with the County of 14 Kern CA was the driving force of Crestwood 15 actors, agents, employees, and/or 16 subcontractors in violating Fritz's rights 17 by:

18 (a) filing a petition for a 19 medication order against the 20 Plaintiff without first indicating 21 that they wanted him to take any 22 medication at all or attempt to 23 consent.

24 (b) this action was also malicious 25 or intentional or a pretext as the 26 stated actors would have had to 27 have lied in order to be able to 28 receive such an order and/or was 29 done in spite of knowledge that the 30 Plaintiff's pro per appeal was 31 perfected against the same judge as 32 they applied to for the medication 33 order and;

34 (c) was violative in other ways 35 relating to the nature of the 36 alleged offense's maximum period of 37 confinement with respect to timing.

38 36) These actions were not only a violation 39 of Ca PC 2900.6 and PC 1370 and is brought, 40 in pari materia the 1st and 14th U.S.
41 Constitutional Amendments' [sic] and case-law 42 principles listed, as well as in the context 43 of conspiracy to violate Fritz's 9th 44 Amendment's right to bodily integrity and 45 privacy, but also under Ca Civil Code §§ 43, 46

1 52.1(a)(b), 52.3, and Ca. Institutions Code 2 §§ 5325(h)(i), 5325.1(c), 5326.3, 3 5326.5(b)(d), 5326.55: [sic]

4 37) Crestwood policy nexus with County of 5 Kern CA and the coerced or conspired acts in 6 the furtherance thereof, including County of 7 Kern's Patient's Right's Advocate's Office
8 [sic] visitors to Fritz where they were not 9 supposed to have integral relations with the 10 treatment plan of the plaintiff, and have a 11 chilling effect to the Plaintiff exercising 12 his 14th and 1st and 9th Amendment rights, as 13 well as those listed or implicated within the 14 incorporated by referenced [sic] paragraphs 15 and evidence in discovery, especially since 16 those professional standards and factual 17 factors incorporated or listed above were 18 known or reasonably should have been known by 19 the defendants but were disregarded and not 20 corrected by Crestwood hierarchy, whose care 21 the Plaintiff was involuntarily placed into a 22 position to rely on Crestwood not to be 23 entwined with the local government in 24 unconstitutional policies of this case of 25 action parallel to the cases cited in Ruhlman 26 v. Ulster County Dept. of Social Services, 234 F.Supp.2d 140 (N.D.N.Y.2002) and Ruhlman
v. Smith, 323 F.Supp.2d 356 (N.D.N.Y.2004) - as well as the conspiracy to violate the maximum incarceration period of Ca PC 166(4) of Count IV.

18 Crestwood argues that the SAC "fails to establish subject 19 matter jurisdiction" over it or to state a claim upon which 20 relief can be granted under Section 1983. Crestwood contends 21 that, as a "private actor", it cannot be liable under Section 22 1983 unless Plaintiff pleads facts from which it may be inferred 23 that Crestwood deprived him of a right secured by the 24 Constitution and acted under color of state law. See Collins v.
25 Womancare, 878 F.2d 1145, 1147 (9th Cir.1989), cert. denied, 493
26 U.S. 1056 (1999).

1 "Whether a private party engaged in state action is a highly 2 factual question ... Crucial is the nature and extent of the 3 relationship between [the Defendant] and [the Bakersfield Police 4 Department]." Brunette v. Humane Society of Ventura County, 294
5 F.3d 1205, 1209 (9th Cir.2002), cert. denied, 537 U.S. 1112 6 (2003). Three tests have developed to evaluate whether a private 7 actor has engaged in state action. The "joint action" test 8 examines whether private actors are willful participants in joint 9 action with the government or its agents. Id., at 1210. The 10 "symbiotic relationship" test asks whether the government has so 11 far insinuated itself into a position of interdependence with a 12 private entity that the private entity must be recognized as a 13 joint participant in the challenged activity. Id. The "public 14 functions" test inquires whether the private actor performs 15 functions traditionally and exclusively reserved to the States.
16 Id. As explained in Brunette, in a symbiotic relationship:

17 [T]he government has 'so far insinuated 18 itself into a position of interdependence 19 (with a private entity) that it must be 20 recognized as a joint participant in the 21 challenged activity.' Burton, 365 U.S. at 22 725 ... In Burton, for example, the Supreme 23 Court found state action on the part of a 24 privately-owned restaurant which refused to 25 serve African-American customers. Id., at 26 716 ... The restaurant was located in a public parking garage, benefitted from the Parking Authority's tax exemption and maintenance of the premises, and in turn, provided the Parking Authority with the income it needed to maintain fiscal viability. Id., at 710-20 ... Although the Parking Authority had no part in the restaurant's discriminatory policies, the Court found that its relationship was one of 1 interdependence; the Parking Authority had 2 placed its power, property, and prestige 3 behind the restaurant's discrimination, and thereby had become a joint participant in that discrimination. Id., at 725.

4 Burton teaches that substantial coordination 5 and integration between the private entity 6 and the government are the essence of a 7 symbiotic relationship. Often significant 8 financial integration indicates a symbiotic 9 relationship ... For example, if a private 10 entity, like the restaurant in Burton, 11 confers significant financial benefits 12 indispensable to the government's 'financial 13 success,' then a symbiotic relationship may exist ... A symbiotic relationship may also arise by virtue of the government's exercise of primary control over the private party's actions. See Dobyns v. E-Systems, Inc., 667 F.2d 1219, 1226-27 (5th Cir.1982) (finding symbiotic relationship where the government controlled a private peacekeeping force engaged in government-directed field mission in the Sinai Peninsula).

14 294 F.3d at 1213. With regard to the "public function" test, 15 Brunette explains:

16 Private activity becomes a 'public function' 17 only if that action has been 'traditionally 18 the exclusive prerogative of the State.' 19 Rendell Baker, 457 U.S. at 841 ...; see also 20 Vincent, 828 F.2d at 569 (finding repair of 21 fighter jets a traditional function of the 22 government, but not one of its exclusive 23 prerogatives). If private actors hold 24 elections ..., govern a town ..., or serve as an international peace-keeping force ..., they have been held responsible as state actors. On the other hand, if private actors educate 'maladjusted' youth ..., or resolve credit disputes, they have not been held to perform an exclusive prerogative of the State, and, thus, they have not been held responsible as state actors.

25 Id. at 1214. With regard to the "joint action" test, Brunette 26 explains:

1 To be engaged in joint action, a private 2 party must be a 'willful participant' with 3 the State or its agents in an activity that 4 deprives others of constitutional rights ...
5 A private party is liable under this theory, 6 however, only if its particular actions are 'inextricably intertwined' with those of the government ... A conspiracy between the State and a private party to violate another's constitutional rights may also satisfy the joint action test.

7 294 F.3d at 1211. In Degrassi v. City of Glendora, 207 F.3d 636, 8 647 (9th Cir.2000), the Ninth Circuit explained:

9 ... Under § 1983, a claim may lie against a 10 private party who 'is a willful participant 11 in joint action with the State or its agents.
12 Private persons, jointly engaged with state 13 officials in the challenged action, are 14 acting 'under color' of law for purposes of § 15 1983 actions.' Dennis v. Sparks, 449 U.S.
16 24, 27-28 ... (1980). However, a bare allegation of such joint action will not overcome a motion to dismiss; the plaintiff must allege 'facts tending to show that [the defendants] acted "under color of state law or authority."' Sykes v. State of Cal.
(Dep't. of Motor Vehicles), 497 F.2d 202 (9th Cir.1974).

17 See also Sutton v. Providence St. Joseph Medical Center, 192 F.3d
18 826, 834-836 (9th Cir.1999).

19 Crestwood argues that the SAC, when viewed in the most 20 liberal light, attempts to allege that Crestwood and Kern County 21 had similar policies in an attempt to show a conspiracy to 22 violate Plaintiff's constitutional rights but fails to adequately 23 allege that Crestwood was a willful participant with Kern County 24 officials to keep Plaintiff incarcerated. Stating that Crestwood 25 had a policy which compelled it to deny his rights is a 26 conclusory statement. Crestwood argues:

1 Plaintiff's SAC provides no details of, or 2 factual basis for, this alleged conspiracy 3 between Crestwood and Kern County.
4 Furthermore, it fails to demonstrate that 5 there was a meeting of the minds between 6 Crestwood and Kern County, a foundational 7 requirement for such a claim ... Instead, 8 plaintiff simply refers to two independent 9 policies maintained by Crestwood and Kern 10 County which he contends have a vague 11 resemblance. He suggests that the combined 12 existence of these independent policies in 13 itself constitutes a larger policy.
14 Furthermore, he erroneously suggests that any 15 independent, non-mandated or non-directed 16 compliance by either entity with its own 17 policy that may resemble, in whole or in 18 part, the other's policy is done so at the 19 direction of the other party and in 20 furtherance of this supra policy plaintiff 21 has concocted. Plaintiff's conspiratorial 22 diatribe fails to identify how, if at all, 23 Crestwood conspired with Kern County in a 24 manner or executed the conspiracy which might 25 possibly constitute action under color of 26 state authority by Crestwood.

1 At the hearing on February 25, 2008, Plaintiff explained his 2 claims against Crestwood. He argued that, after he had been at 3 Crestwood for approximately three weeks pursuant to a court 4 order, Crestwood evaluated him and stated that Plaintiff was 5 competent to return to the Superior Court. However, the County 6 of Kern did not show up to interview Plaintiff to go back to 7 court. Plaintiff stated that he tried without success to contact 8 an attorney representing Crestwood to advise the attorney that 9 Crestwood was entwined with the County's alleged policy of 10 keeping persons at Crestwood past the return date to court, past 11 the maximum sentence, and that Crestwood was entwined with the 12 County's alleged policy when Crestwood keeps persons committed to 1 the facility for three to six months, no matter if the person is 2 ready to return to court or not. Plaintiff argued that 3 Crestwood's duty was to "get their lawyer on it" and that "[n]o 4 attorney for Crestwood was ever assigned to Crestwood to train 5 these people into not entwining themselves into this type of 6 policy until I filed the litigation." Plaintiff stated that 7 Crestwood employees told him that the County does not work for 8 Crestwood and that they can't make the County come out to 9 interview Plaintiff to return to court.

10 Plaintiff's allegations suggest that Crestwood was acting 11 for its own purpose to allegedly keep County mental health 12 patients longer than necessary. It is not alleged that the 13 County had any participation in or could benefit from Crestwood's 14 alleged prolonged holding of County defendants. Crestwood was 15 acting under contract with the County and impliedly the County 16 and Crestwood had a duty to timely review the status of mental 17 health detainees and return them to court have a determination of 18 competency decided. This claim is best addressed by summary 19 judgment. The SAC may state a claim against Crestwood if 20 Plaintiff Plaintiff complies with Rule 8 and this Memorandum 21 Decision.

22 Crestwood's motion to dismiss is GRANTED WITH LEAVE TO 23 AMEND.

24 25 E. DEFENDANT PHILIP GARZA.

26 Kern County Sheriff's Department Deputy Philip Garza moves

1 to dismiss the SAC for failure to state a claim upon which relief
2 can be granted.³

3 In Plaintiff's opposition to Defendant Garza's motion to 4 dismiss the SAC, Plaintiff concedes that the only claim against 5 Defendant Garza is set forth in "Count I". "Count I" alleges:

6 11) I. Paragraphs 8 through 123 and
7 paragraphs 139-140, 145-149, 153, 158-159,
8 161-162, 167, 170, 172, 200, 234, 250 and 256
9 of docket entry # 5 are hereby incorporated 10 by reference. County of Kern Sheriff's 11 Department Failure to Train, Supervise and/or 12 Control/Retaliation-Chilling Effect/Turning a 13 Blind Eye/Probable Cause slippery-slope where 14 Cmdr. Randy Turman, Sgt. Camps, and Sgt.
15 Winnery personally knew of the arresting 16 officer's (Deputy Wright's) propensities for 17 writing inaccurate reports with respect to 18 Fritz, but recklessly, intentionally, or by 19 gross negligence or with deliberate
20 indifference to Fritz's 14th and 1st
21 Amendments' [sic] rights allowed and approved 22 Deputy Wright's writing false and/or 23 ambiguous reports concerning Fritz in 24 retaliation for, or to chill Fritz's assertion of, those rights to complain about such deputies and/or policies in the past where:

12) the actual report of the arresting Deputy Wright contained 26 anomalies, outright falsities, or points of contention and was written at the same time (December 13th, 2005
- 3 days after the alleged event) as the second probable cause declaration of Deputy Garza's probable cause affidavit, which was:

13) substantially different from Deputy Wright's first probable cause declaration of December 10th, 2005 and the subsequent police report of Deputy Wright, where Fritz does not own an 'ATV' vs. earlier probable cause

25 ³Defendant Garza moved to dismiss the SAC for insufficiency of 26 service of process but expressly waived that ground for dismissal at the hearing on February 25, 2008.

1 affidavit of arresting deputy [sic] Wright
2 stating 'BMW' and the second probable cause
3 affidavit was, in the incorporated by 4 reference paragraphs and materials, an 5 embellishment of even Deputy Wright's false 6 report where Deputy Wright knew of but 7 disregarded that Fritz:

8 a) was on two different roads vs.
9 water tower road only;

10 b) admits east of park south-side
11 of town but a simple map shows road
12 to water tower is north of park;

13 c) didn't look at the scene of 14 allegations to see valley (or two)
15 and distance layout even if Fritz
16 was on 'water tower' road, it is 17 farther south than where alleged 18 victim was located;

19 d) slippery slope conclusion
20 between 'seeing' each other and 21 'being within' prescribed distance
22 and;

23 14) Deputy Wright and Deputy Garza's probable
24 cause affidavits and report factual
25 circumstances were contradicted in favor of 26 the Plaintiff at the restraining order hearing by the alleged victim on December 13th, 2005, where all of these persons turned a blind eye for fear of what they would see or with deliberate indifference to the truth and where they did not believe the Plaintiff to be guilty.

...

16) This spirit of animosity condoned by said supervisors reached its zenith in pari materia the context of the allegations of the alleged violation of the temporary restraining order/PC 166(4) contempt of court charge on Dec. 10th, 2005 and subsequent positive injuries and causing Fritz to be subjected to other Kern County constitutionally violative policies.

17) The climate produced by these supervisors

1 allowed their junior officers to effect
2 conclusory probable cause affidavits and to
3 have one officer write a false probable cause 4 affidavit from another officer's report in an 5 attempt to insulate the initial affiant but 6 where the second probable cause affidavit
7 writer Deputy Garza 'except[ed]' to 8 everything with respect to personal belief in 9 swearing as to the truth or falsity of that 10 which was relied on in writing that second 11 probable cause affidavit.

12 18) These supervisors do not train their 13 junior officers that a ten year old child
14 whom they had only known from when they spoke 15 with him about not riding illegal motorcycles 16 on the street and/or around Fritz's house, is 17 not a 'previously trustworthy or reliable
18 witness', nor do these supervisors train 19 their junior officers how to question such 20 class of persons to protect the innocent
21 public from false charges.

22 19) These supervisors do not also train their 23 junior officers that a proper service of 24 process with respect to restraining order
25 'Answer' is not a violation of a temporary 26 restraining order.

27 20) This training or supervisory failure was 28 personally approved by Sgt. [sic] Winnery and 29 he allowed Deputy Garza to charge Fritz with 30 a violation of the temporary restraining 31 order after he was arrested, and which 32 influenced the prosecutor ADA Ingrum in that 33 he intended to use the second false 34 allegation as additional evidence.

35 ...

36 25) Other events since that time includes a 37 false accusation on or about February 12th, 38 2007 where minimal detention then release was 39 performed after an adequate investigation as 40 well as a false accusation on August 11th, 41 2007, the latter of which is ongoing and the 42 arresting officer was Deputy Garza whose 43 propensities to write false probable cause 44 affidavits, etc. are alleged to have been 45 known from the past event and more recently 46 by the present supervisors Chief Wahl and

1 Sgt. Downs.

2 26) The present supervisors also know the
3 present events' solicitation of a conspiracy 4 with private actors by Deputy Garza in 5 retaliation for Plaintiff's exercising his 6 1st and 14th Amendments' [sic] rights to 7 report disturbances of the peace and 8 intimidation of Fritz for having done so
9 early Saturday morning the 11th of August, 10 2007 and the falsities or omissions within 11 police report SR07-27926 by that deputy and 12 another deputy's reliance on that false
13 information to write three four false charges
14 from that report.

15 In opposing the motion to dismiss, Plaintiff asserts:

16 Fritz previously only had a badge number 17 (#917) and illegible [worthy of handwriting 18 analysis] signatures of this defendant from 19 the first incident where Fritz had not 20 previously met Garza until August 11th of 21 2007, the early morning hours of Saturday 22 when [falsely] arrested by him.

23 In his reply brief, Defendant Garza states that, until the 24 opposition was filed, it was believed that the SAC alleged 25 Garza's involvement in the 2005 arrest was one of the primary 26 issues in this litigation. Now Garza asserts that "[i]n addition to the recent arrest, the SAC alleges that Garza prepared a probable cause affidavit at an unknown time." With regard to the allegations in the SAC concerning the August 2007 arrest, Garza cites Heck v. Humphrey, 512 U.S. 477 (1994) and Wallace v. Kato, ___ U.S. ___, 127 S.Ct. 1091 (2006).

27 In Wallace v. Kato, the Supreme Court, with regard to false 28 arrest, held that such a claim requires "detention without legal 29 process" and accrues once legal process is initiated. 127 S.Ct.
30 at 1095. The Supreme Court, limiting the Heck deferred accrual

1 rule, held that, regardless of subsequent events, the statute of 2 limitations for false arrest claims begins to run when a claimant 3 is wrongfully detained pursuant to the legal process. 127 S.Ct.
4 at 1100. Heck does not toll the statute of limitations. The 5 Supreme Court specifically rejected the argument that the statute 6 of limitations for false arrest begins only after "an anticipated 7 future conviction ... occurs and is set aside." Id. at 1098.
8 The Supreme Court explained that "[i]f a plaintiff files a false 9 arrest claim before he was convicted (or files any other claim 10 related to rulings that will likely be made in a pending or 11 anticipated criminal trial), it is within the power of the 12 district court, and in accord with common practice, to stay the 13 civil action until the criminal case or the likelihood of the 14 criminal case is ended. If the plaintiff is ultimately 15 convicted, and if the stayed civil suit would impugn that 16 conviction, Heck will require dismissal; otherwise, the civil 17 action will proceed, absent some other bar to suit." Id. at 18 1098.

19 Based on Wallace, Garza requests that the SAC be dismissed 20 against him without prejudice or that the action be stayed as 21 against him pending resolution of the 2007 criminal matter.

22 Although not clearly articulated, the SAC alleges that 23 Defendant Garza prepared a second probable cause affidavit in 24 connection with the 2005 criminal proceedings against Plaintiff.

25 It is not clear that the SAC asserts a claim against Garza 26 and the County of Kern with regard to the allegations about the 1 2007 arrest for disturbing the peace. If Plaintiff intends to 2 allege claims for relief based on the 2007 arrest, Plaintiff must 3 clearly so allege so that the Court can determine whether to 4 exercise its discretion to stay those claims pending the outcome 5 of any criminal proceeding based on that arrest. The SAC is so 6 unclearly and confusingly alleged that it is very difficult to 7 ascertain exactly what Plaintiff is alleging. With regard to the 8 allegations against Defendant Garza asserting a 2005 probable 9 cause determination based on false statements by the deputy, the 10 SAC may state a claim if Plaintiff complies with Rule 8 and this 11 Memorandum Decision.

12 Defendant Garza's motion to dismiss is GRANTED WITH LEAVE TO 13 AMEND.

14 F. DEFENDANT COUNTY OF KERN.

15 The allegations in the SAC against Defendant County of Kern 16 are as follows:

17 11) I. Paragraphs 8 through 123 and
18 paragraphs 139-140, 145-149, 153, 158-159,
19 161-162, 167, 170, 172, 200, 234, 250 and 256
20 of docket entry # 5 are hereby incorporated 21 by reference. County of Kern Sheriff's 22 Department Failure to Train, Supervise and/or 23 Control/Retaliation-Chilling Effect/Turning a
24 Blind Eye/Probable Cause slippery-slope where 25 Cmdr. Randy Turman, Sgt. Camps, and Sgt.
26 Winnery personally knew of the arresting officer's (Deputy Wright's) propensities for writing inaccurate reports with respect to Fritz, but recklessly, intentionally, or by
gross negligence or with deliberate
indifference to Fritz's 14th and 1st
Amendments' [sic] rights allowed and approved
Deputy Wright's writing false and/or
ambiguous reports concerning Fritz in retaliation for, or to chill Fritz's

1 assertion of, those rights to complain about
2 such deputies and/or policies in the past
3 where:

4 12) the actual report of the arresting Deputy
5 Wright contained 26 anomalies, outright
6 falsities, or points of contention and was
7 written at the same time (December 13th, 2005
8 - 3 days after the alleged event) as the 9 second probable cause declaration of Deputy 10 Garza's probable cause affidavit, which was:

11 13) substantially different from Deputy 12 Wright's first probable cause declaration of 13 December 10th, 2005 and the subsequent police
14 report of Deputy Wright, where Fritz does not
15 own an 'ATV' vs. earlier probable cause
16 affidavit of arresting deputy [sic] Wright
17 stating 'BMW' and the second probable cause
18 affidavit was, in the incorporated by 19 reference paragraphs and materials, an 20 embellishment of even Deputy Wright's false 21 report where Deputy Wright knew of but 22 disregarded that Fritz:

23 a) was on two different roads vs.
24 water tower road only;

25 b) admits east of park south-side
26 of town but a simple map shows road
 to water tower is north of park;

 c) didn't look at the scene of
 allegations to see valley (or two)
 and distance layout even if Fritz
 was on 'water tower' road, it is
 farther south than where alleged
 victim was located;

 d) slippery slope conclusion
 between 'seeing' each other and
 'being within' prescribed distance
 and;

 14) Deputy Wright and Deputy Garza's probable cause affidavits and report factual
 circumstances were contradicted in favor of
 the Plaintiff at the restraining order
 hearing by the alleged victim on December 13th, 2005, where all of these persons turned
 a blind eye for fear of what they would see

1 or with deliberate indifference to the truth
2 and where they did not believe the Plaintiff
to be guilty.

3 15) These supervisors condoned a spirit of 4 animosity towards the Plaintiff for having 5 (a) complained about the arresting 6 officer within the six months prior 7 to arrest, and participated in and 8 facilitated retaliation against Fritz for petitioning them for redress concerning those incorporated by reference events and documents, as well as;

9 (b) the general climate of turning 10 a blind eye to the Derby Acres 11 disturbances of the peace, 12 disorderly conduct, fighting words, 13 assault and battery and/or 14 attempted intimidation of a witness 15 to the aforementioned criminal 16 activities' [sic] occurrences, and 17 (c) suggested to the law-breakers 18 to file restraining order on Fritz 19 for his protected or innocent 20 activities.

21 16) This spirit of animosity condoned by said
22 supervisors reached its zenith in pari
23 materia the context of the allegations of the 24 alleged violation of the temporary
25 restraining order/PC 166(4) contempt of court 26 charge on Dec. 10th, 2005 and subsequent
positive injuries and causing Fritz to be subjected to other Kern County
constitutionally violative policies.

17) The climate produced by these supervisors
allowed their junior officers to effect
conclusory probable cause affidavits and to
have one officer write a false probable cause
affidavit from another officer's report in an attempt to insulate the initial affiant but
where the second probable cause affidavit
writer Deputy Garza 'except[ed]' to everything with respect to personal belief in
swearing as to the truth or falsity of that
which was relied on in writing that second

1 probable cause affidavit.

2 18) These supervisors do not train their
3 junior officers that a ten year old child
4 whom they had only known from when they spoke
5 with him about not riding illegal motorcycles
6 on the street and/or around Fritz's house, is 7 not a 'previously trustworthy or reliable
8 witness', nor do these supervisors train
9 their junior officers how to question such 10 class of persons to protect the innocent
11 public from false charges.

12 19) These supervisors do not also train their 13 junior officers that a proper service of 14 process with respect to restraining order
15 'Answer' is not a violation of a temporary 16 restraining order.

17 20) This training or supervisory failure was 18 personally approved by Sgt. [sic] Winnery and 19 he allowed Deputy Garza to charge Fritz with 20 a violation of the temporary restraining 21 order after he was arrested, and which 22 influenced the prosecutor ADA Ingram in that 23 he intended to use the second false
24 allegation as additional evidence.

25 21) Kern County policymaker advisors Kern 26 County Counsel John Erby also knew of Fritz's complaints about Deputy Wright's propensities and probable animosity against Fritz, as well as thereafter: Kern County Sheriff's Department Internal Affairs Division, Kern County Board of Supervisors and at least Judge Moench and Judge Kelley, knew of this fact as well as some of the Franks v.
Delaware probable cause affidavit correction test evidence, within the said incorporated-by-reference paragraphs and their incorporated evidence and more, to be shown upon further discovery, and continued to do nothing even after the March 10th, 2006 or June 10th, 2006 date(s) in which Fritz would have been released even if he would have lost at any trial.

22) These policy failures caused the special damages positive injury to Fritz in allowing the public to help themselves to Fritz's personal and business possessions in and 1 around his house where the junior officers on 2 patrol would turn a blind eye when Fritz's 3 house was plainly seen to have been broken 4 into and they knew Fritz was incarcerated.

5 23) The chilling effect and positive injuries 6 resulted from this failure to train, control, 7 and/or supervise and was the proximate cause 8 of the Plaintiff's injuries and which 9 subjected Fritz to the other County 10 policymaker's acts or edicts and/or causes of 11 actions' violations.

12 24) It is believed and averred that such 13 supervision faults have or will more likely 14 than not result in others' civil rights 15 violations which could have reasonably been 16 prevented by these supervisors by 17 constitutionally adequate training in the 18 afore-mentioned areas of well-established 19 1st, 4th and 14th Amendment law.

20 25) Other events since that time includes a
21 false accusation on or about February 12th, 22 2007 where minimal detention then release was 23 performed after an adequate investigation as 24 well as a false accusation on August 11th, 25 2007, the latter of which is ongoing and the 26 arresting officer was Deputy Garza whose propensities to write false probable cause
affidavits, etc. are alleged to have been
known from the past event and more recently
by the present supervisors Chief Wahl and
Sgt. Downs.

27 26) The present supervisors also know the 28 present events' solicitation of a conspiracy
29 with private actors by Deputy Garza in 30 retaliation for Plaintiff's exercising his 31 1st and 14th Amendments' [sic] rights to 32 report disturbances of the peace and
33 intimidation of Fritz for having done so
34 early Saturday morning the 11th of August,
35 2007 and the falsities or omissions within 36 police report SR07-27926 by that deputy and
another deputy's reliance on that false
information to write three four false charges
from that report.

27) II Paragraphs 141 through 143, 151, 186-187, 189-190, 199, 221-222, 228-233, 235-236,

1 252, 256-257, and 259-260 of docket entry # 5
2 are hereby incorporated by reference.
3 Deliberate indifference to prisoner's serious 4 medical needs where Kern County 'Lerdo' 5 Pretrial Facility's doctor (whose name is 6 unknown), as gatekeeper, failed to give Fritz 7 timely x-rays with respect to a back injury 8 suffered while at Lerdo.

9 28) Apparently it is a policy to not approve 10 such tests due to its cost and such policy 11 was the driving force behind said 14th 12 Amendment violation and the Plaintiff's 13 continued constant arthritic-like pain when 14 an operation of T-5 and T-6 in Fritz's spine 15 was performed too late, was not complete in 16 that the fracture to T-1 was never repaired 17 and there was never any physical therapy.

18 29) Plaintiff Fritz also suffered chronic 19 pain and the threat of paralysis for 20 approximately 3 (three) months after the 21 gatekeeper knew or reasonably could have 22 known of Fritz's condition within 1 (one) 23 month, and are the proximate cause of the 24 Plaintiff's previous and continuing pain from 25 the delayed and incomplete operation either 26 by that gatekeeper and/or the County of Kern CA. in its denial of the state claim supplement for which this action was filed within six months release of incarceration.

30) III Paragraphs 263 through 386 of docket
entry # 5 are hereby incorporated by reference. Crestwood Behavior Health, Inc.,
... along with Kern County actors Megham
Hamill and Kern County Patient's Rights Advocate's Office, pursuant to Crestwood's policy of taking as true whatever they receive from the court with respect to the charges against underlying M.I.S.T. clients as well as a policy that eventually all clients are required to take medications, coupled with Kern County's policy of holding M.I.S.T. clients at Crestwood for at least three to six months from arrival, irrespective of whether they are determined to be ready for court by Crestwood case managers, was the driving force or cause of compelling defendant Crestwood agents to deny Fritz his rights (alternative or totality of 1 the circumstance's elements of this 2 claim/count

3 ...

4 33) Crestwood failed in this duty and
5 psychiatric standards when it falsely
6 imprisoned Fritz when they did not perform
7 such duty of discharge or petition the court
8 for such in a timely manner and psychiatric 9 professional duty was deliberately disregarded by both the actors-employees as well as Crestwood due to their policy
entwined with the Kern County CA policy of
keeping M.I.S.T. clients at least three to six months prior to being certified by the County to return to court.

10 34) The force of this policy or usage between 11 Kern County and Crestwood Omnicare is 12 apposite to Adickes v. Kress & CO., [sic] 398 U.S. 144 (1970) and it's progeny.

13 ...

14 38) IV. Paragraphs 245 through 251, 253-254, 15 and 261-387 of docket entry # 5 are hereby 16 incorporated by reference. Equal Protection 17 under the 14th Amendment. Fritz, as a 'class 18 of one' under Village of Willowbrook v.
19 Olech, 528 U.S. 562 (2000) ... and Valley
20 Outdoor, Inc. v. City of Riverside, 446 F.3d 21 948, 955 (9th Cir.2006) in that he was denied 22 equal protection by Kern County's policy, 23 custom, or usage of both the Ca PC §§ 1368-24 1370.01(c)(1)(A) as well as Ca PC § 166(4) state law statutes in treating Fritz differently from similarly situated persons, whereby Ca PC 166(4) carries only a 6 month sentence (180 days) maximum and Fritz was incarcerated for 9 months (270 days) and there was no rational basis for the difference in treatment where state law creates a liberty interest under such apposite cases as Wolf v. McDonnell, 418 U.S.
539, 57 [sic] (1974) and Gerstein v. Pugh, 420 U.S. 103 (1975) and;

25 39) that 180 day maximum would have been 26 reduced to 90 days due to any unlikely conviction would have been considered a 1 'first offense' eligible for 'half time'

2 under California law.

3 40) This was also considered to be an equal 4 protection violation on the basis of wealth 5 where Fritz had not bailed himself out due to 6 circumstances before the PC 1368 proceedings.

7 ...

8 42) V. Paragraphs 140, 148-150, 153 of 9 docket entry # 5 are hereby incorporated by 10 reference. Procedural Due Process violations 11 of the 14th Amendment as well as in the 12 context of the 5th Amendment.

13 43) Kern County's policy, custom, or usage of 14 both the Ca PC §§ 1368-1370 as well as Ca PC 15 § 166(4) state law statutes in that the 16 County's policy, custom, or usage did not 17 comport with the well-established law with 18 respect to the nature and duration of 19 confinement, which bore no reasonable 20 relation to its purpose under Jackson v.
21 Indiana, 406 U.S. 715, 738 (1972), and were 22 the cause of the 14th, 5th, 6th and 9th 23 Amendment's violations against Fritz and is 24 responsible for the subsequent and natural 25 damages requested and where the relevant 26 policymaking officials were informed by Fritz during the respective time periods before, during, and/or a reasonable time after such violations against well-established law in similar circumstances such as Zinermon v.
Burch, 494 U.S. 113 (1990) in the Ca PC 1368-1370 context, but unreasonable determination of the facts and no investigation into how even matters of law should have been seen to violate the Plaintiff's liberty, privacy, and procedural due process interests, thereby also causing a loss of his property interests where said policy, custom, or usage was also against the CA state's interest to get an accused to trial and CA state and federal constitutional protections under said well-established law.

...

46) Kern County Public Defender's Office does not train, control, or supervise their

1 subordinates in investigating negating
2 evidence, even after Fritz having written a
3 note to that office early in the 1368
4 proceedings once Phil Begelin was forced onto 5 the Plaintiff, nor did the policymakers of
6 that office later answer Plaintiff's phone
7 requests or provide timely access to the
8 courts because of such training, control, or 9 supervisory policy failures or deliberate
10 indifference to their subordinate's acts or 11 edicts or failures to act or investigate.

12 47) The Kern County policy of not training, 13 controlling and/or supervising their 14 subordinates prejudiced Fritz by allowing 15 their subordinates in this case to act 16 irrationally and arbitrary [sic] and to hide 17 evidence favorable to the Plaintiff's liberty 18 interest and the interest to be free of 19 stigma, plus their attached detrimental 20 effects, and which policy failures were the 21 proximate cause of Fritz's prolonged pretrial 22 incarceration and allowed the 23 constitutionally violative acts or omissions 24 listed herein of the individual defendants.

25 48) VII. Paragraphs 3 through 421 and the
26 materials referenced therein of docket entry
5 are hereby incorporated by reference herein. Substantive Due Process. Violation
against County of Kern Superior Court System

What happened to Plaintiff Fritz, where the
included paragraphs show a pattern or policy,
whether associated with only the Plaintiff or
upon further discovery it can be seen that Kern County and Crestwood has performed the
well-established law violations on others as well.

49) In addition to the above causes of
action/counts, this substantive due process
violation result is also requested in the
totality of the circumstances for:

I. - Superior Court of the County of Kern,
Taft-Lamont Division's granting a civil
restraining order to the first person who
reached the courthouse; even in the face of
evidence at the hearing or innocent or
protected activity or no harassment in the

1 respective sense that it was happenstance
2 and/or the product of fabrication via 3 paranoia or projection or malice, and where
4 Mr. Martin was allowed to rest on the laurels
5 of his [initial] pleading without proving 6 such allegations;

7 8 2. - Kern County Child Protective Services
9 not investigating children whose parents 10 condoned and encouraged them to break the law 11 and where such child(ren) ultimately injured 12 the Plaintiff;

13
14 3. - Superior Court of the County of Kern
15 allowing conclusory, unreliable,
16 untrustworthy, conflicting, ambiguous and/or 17 outright false and/or slippery-slope and 18 conclusory allegations to count as probable 19 cause, without independent judicial review of 20 the executive branch's decision and without 21 allowance of a Franks v. Delaware type of 22 hearing even after habeas corpus writ
23 application evidence;

24
25 4. - Superior Court of the County of Kern
26 punishment or bias against Fritz for 27 exercising his 6th Amendment right to 28 represent himself under Faretta and its 29 progeny;

30
31 5. - 6th Amendment violation policy where 32 County of Kern Superior Court System did not 33 allow confrontation with the witnesses
34 against him in both the:

35 a. - PC 166(4) underlying criminal
36 charge context;

37 b. - PC 1368 context

38 39 6. - Superior Court of California, County of 40 Kern allowing prosecutorial misconduct and 41 subversion or prosecutorial vouching in 42 getting off the subject with respect to how 43 the 'Answer' to the restraining order was 44 served, to instead that of the contents of 45 that properly served 'Answer', where it had 46 little or nothing to do with the criminal 47 charge;

48 7. - County of Kern's policy of allowing the 1 prosecuting attorney of attempting to 2 introduce additional evidence of a properly 3 served 'Answer' to a Restraining Order 4 'Request' against a defendant without 5 consulting 'proof of service' filings in the 6 record.

7 8. - bias or prejudice (in the relevant 8 incorporated paragraphs) of the County of 9 Kern Superior Court's judges involved 10 vexatiously multiplied the proceedings.

11 9. - County of Kern's policymakers of that 12 [Taft] area conspiring to persuade the 13 Superior Court of the County of Kern to 14 afford no adversarial process to be allowed 15 to determine the truth in both PC 166(4) and 16 PC 1369 contexts;

17 10. - the County of Kern Superior Court's 18 judges involved not providing Fritz with a 19 means to clear his name/establish his 20 innocence otherwise provided for under well-21 established law (since 1972) in the PC 1368 22 context such as Jackson v. Indiana, 406 U.S.
23 -, 92 S.Ct. 1845;

24 II. - using the 1368 process for an improper 25 purpose such as:

26 a. punishment or purposes unrelated to whether Fritz
understood the charges against him and how to rationally defend against them, and;

b. where Fritz asserted innocence and did not take the plea bargain of 19 days, etc., retaliation for the exercising of the 6th Amendment's [sic] right to go to jury trial;

12. - 'speedy trial' issues not addressed in Pederson v. Superior Court, 130 Cal.Rptr.2d
289, but can be shown under the Barker v.
Wingo standards;

13. - County of Kern hiring 'specialists' in the PC 1368 context who do not give the statutorily and professionally required CAT's

1 [sic].

2 50) These actions and associated causes-of-
3 action/counts' factual predicates of the 4 course of events shocks the conscience of any
5 reasonable person and/or which the Plaintiff
6 or any other person should never have had to 7 have endured and for which Fritz suffered the 8 prolonged pretrial incarceration damages
9 spoken of in Gerstein v. Pugh, 420 U.S. 103
... (1975) and physical back sufferings, emotional stress, and stigma-plus circumstances where Fritz's visa into the countries he has already traveled or plans to travel may be denied as a result of the County of Kern's classifying him as a recent former mental health patient.

10 In Monell v. New York City Dept. of Social Services, 436 11 U.S. 658, 692 (1978), the Supreme Court limited a local 12 government's liability under Section 1983 to those cases where 13 "some official policy 'causes' an employee to violate another's 14 constitutional rights."

15 [A] local government may not be sued under § 16 1983 for an injury inflicted solely by its 17 employees or agents. Instead, it is when 18 execution of a government's policy or custom, 19 whether made by its lawmakers or by those whose edicts or acts may fairly be said to represent official policy, inflicts the injury that the government as an entity is responsible under § 1983.

20 Id. at 694. Since "Congress did not intend municipalities to be 21 held liable unless action pursuant to official municipal policy 22 of some nature caused a constitutional tort[,] ... a municipality 23 cannot be held liable solely because it employs a tortfeasor - 24 or, in other words, a municipality cannot be held liable under § 25 1983 on a respondeat superior theory." Id. at 691. A 26 municipality will be held liable under § 1983 only if "the

1 municipality itself causes the constitutional violation at 2 issue." Canton v. Harris, 489 U.S. 378, 385 (1989). "City
3 policy 'causes' an injury where it is 'the moving force' behind 4 the constitutional violation ... or where 'the city itself is the 5 wrongdoer.'" Chew v. Gates, 27 F.3d 1432, 1444 (9th Cir.1994).
6 However, "[c]ity policy 'need only cause [the] constitutional 7 violation, it need not be unconstitutional per se.'" Id.

8 To prevail in a civil rights claim against a local government 9 under Monell, a plaintiff must satisfy a three-part test:

- 10 (1) The local government official(s) must have 11 intentionally violated the plaintiff's constitutional rights;
- 12 (2) The violation must be a part of policy or custom and 13 may not be an isolated incident; and
- 14 (3) There must be a link between the specific policy or custom to the plaintiff's injury.

15 Id. at 690-92. There are a number of ways to prove a policy or 16 custom of a municipality. A plaintiff may show (1) "a 17 longstanding practice or custom which constitutes the 'standard 18 operating procedure' of the local government entity;" (2) "the 19 decision-making official was, as a matter of state law, a final 20 policymaking authority whose edicts or acts may fairly be said to 21 represent official policy in the area of decision;" or (3) "the 22 official with final policymaking authority either delegated that 23 authority to, or ratified the decision of, a subordinate." 24 Menotti v. City of Seattle, 409 F.3d 1113, 1147 (9th Cir. 2005).
25 The Ninth Circuit has held that a municipal policy "may be 26 inferred from widespread practices or evidence of repeated

1 constitutional violations for which the errant municipal officers 2 were not discharged or reprimanded." Id.

3 A municipality may still be liable under Monell for a single 4 incident where: (1) the person causing the violation has "final 5 policymaking authority;" (2) the "final policymaker" "ratified" a 6 subordinate's actions; or (3) the "final policymaker" acted with 7 deliberate indifference to a subordinate's constitutional 8 violations. Christie v. Iopa, 176 F.3d 1231 (9th Cir. 1999). It 9 is well established in the Ninth Circuit that an allegation based 10 on nothing more than a bare averment that the official's conduct 11 conformed to official policy, custom or practice suffices to 12 state a Monell claim under Section 1983. See Karim Panahi v.
13 L.A. Police Dept., 839 F.2d 621, 624 (9th Cir. 1988); Shah v.
14 County of L.A., 797 F.2d 743, 747 (9th Cir. 1986); Guillory v.
15 County of Orange, 731 F.2d 1379, 1382 (9th Cir. 1984).

16 A municipality's failure to train an employee who has caused 17 a constitutional violation can be the basis for § 1983 liability 18 where the failure to train amounts to deliberate indifference to 19 the rights of persons with whom the employee comes into contact.
20 City of Canton v. Harris, 489 U.S. 378, 388 (1989). The issue is 21 whether the training program is adequate and, if it is not, 22 whether such inadequate training can justifiably be said to 23 represent municipal policy. Id. at 390. Municipal liability for 24 failure to train may be imposed even where trained professionals, 25 such as lawyers or doctors are involved. Long v. County of Los 26 Angeles, 442 F.3d 1178, 1187-1188 (9th Cir.2006); Miranda v.

1 Clark County, 319 F.3d 465, 471 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 540
2 U.S. 814 (2003).

3 "Policies of omission regarding the supervision of employees 4 ... can be 'policies' or 'customs' that create municipal 5 liability under Monell, but only if the omission 'reflects a 6 "deliberate" or "conscious" choice' to countenance the 7 possibility of a constitutional violation." Gibson v. County of 8 Washoe, Nev., 290 F.3d 1175, 1194 (9th Cir.2002), cert. denied, 9 537 U.S. 1106 (2003).

10 There are allegations in the SAC from which it may be 11 inferred that Plaintiff is seeking to hold the County of Kern 12 liable for alleged constitutional violations by Kern County 13 District Attorneys.

14 To hold a local government liable for an official's conduct, 15 a plaintiff must first establish that the official 1) had final 16 policymaking authority "concerning the action alleged to have 17 caused the particular constitutional or statutory violation at 18 issue" and 2) was the policymaker for the local governing body 19 for the purposes of the particular act. McMillian v. Monroe 20 County, Alabama, 520 U.S. 781, 785 (1997). State law defines the 21 official's "actual function...in a particular area" for section 22 1983 purposes and this function must be evaluated to determine 23 whether he or she acts for the state or county. Id. at 786. In 24 Pitts v. County of Kern, 17 Cal.4th 340 (1998), the California 25 Supreme Court concluded that a district attorney acts on behalf 26 of the state rather than the county in preparing to prosecute

1 crimes and in training and developing policies for prosecutorial
2 staff. Pitts involved section 1983 claims brought against Kern 3 County, its district attorney and employees by persons convicted 4 of child molestation whose convictions were reversed on appeal.
5 The Ninth Circuit has also concluded that "under California law a 6 county district attorney acts as a state official when deciding 7 whether to prosecute an individual. Weiner v. San Diego County, 8 210 F.3d 1025, 1030 (9th Cir. 2000). Therefore, to the extent 9 that the SAC attempts to impose Section 1983 liability on the 10 County of Kern for decisions of the prosecutors, the SAC does not 11 state a claim against the County upon which relief can be 12 granted. These claims are DISMISSED WITH PREJUDICE AND WITHOUT 13 LEAVE TO AMEND.

14 The same conclusion is reached to the extent that the SAC 15 seeks to impose Section 1983 liability on the County of Kern for 16 the actions or inactions of judges of the Kern County Superior 17 Court. Judges of the Superior Courts of the State of California 18 are not employed by or agents of the County of Kern. The acts or 19 omissions of judges of the Superior Courts of the State of 20 California do not represent an allegedly unconstitutional policy 21 or practice of the County of Kern. See Franceschi v. Schwartz, 22 57 F.3d 828, 831 (9th Cir.1995). These claims are DISMISSED WITH 23 PREJUDICE AND WITHOUT LEAVE TO AMEND.

24 The balance of the allegations against the County of Kern 25 upon which Moneil liability might be predicated appear to state a 26 claim upon which relief can be granted as the alleged unjustified

1 detention claim, assuming Plaintiff's compliance with Rule 8 and 2 this Memorandum Decision. It is well established in the Ninth 3 Circuit that an allegation based on nothing more than a bare 4 averment that the official's conduct conformed to official 5 policy, custom or practice suffices to state a Monell claim under 6 Section 1983. See Karim Panahi v. L.A. Police Dept., 839 F.2d 7 621, 624 (9th Cir. 1988); Shah v. County of L.A., 797 F.2d 743, 8 747 (9th Cir. 1986); Guillory v. County of Orange, 731 F.2d 1379, 9 1382 (9th Cir. 1984). It is important to recognize that 10 Plaintiff acknowledges that he does not have specific knowledge 11 whether others have been subjected to the alleged policy.

12 Except as set forth above, the County of Kern's motion to 13 dismiss is DENIED.

14 CONCLUSION

15 For the reasons stated above:

16 1. Defendant Kern County Superior Court's motion to dismiss 17 the SAC is GRANTED WITH PREJUDICE AND WITHOUT LEAVE TO AMEND;

18 2. Defendants Phillip Begelin and Dana Kinnison's motion to 19 dismiss the SAC is GRANTED WITH LEAVE TO AMEND;

20 3. Defendant Crestwood Behavioral Health, Inc. motion to 21 dismiss is GRANTED WITH LEAVE TO AMEND;

22 4. Defendant Philip Garza's motion to dismiss the SAC is 23 GRANTED WITH LEAVE TO AMEND;

24 5. Defendant County of Kern's motion to dismiss the SAC is 25 GRANTED IN PART WITH PREJUDICE WITHOUT LEAVE TO AMEND AND GRANTED 26 IN PART WITH LEAVE TO AMEND;

1 6. Plaintiff shall file a Third Amended Complaint as stated 2 above within 20 days of service of this Memorandum Decision.
3 Failure to timely comply will result in dismissal of this action.
4 There shall be no further opportunities to correct the multitude 5 of pleading defects about which Plaintiff has been advised.

6 IT IS SO ORDERED.

7 Dated: May 12, 2008

/s/ Oliver W. Wanger
UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE

8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26