BLOCK, Senior District Judge:

Pursuant to a settlement agreement, the claims against defendant Nursing Personnel Home Care ("Nursing Personnel") were dismissed on February 17, 2010. On November 15, 2010, the Court awarded Maurice Keshner attorney's fees and costs in the amount of $185,962.12, to be paid by Nursing Personnel. Nursing Personnel appealed the award, and the Second Circuit has directed the Court “either to enter a partial judgment under Rule 54(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure . . . or to place on the record an explanation why a partial judgment should not be entered.” Order of Nov. 7, 2013.¹

The Court previously declined to enter a separate judgment on the award on the ground that Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 58(a) does not require one. That decision, however, was based on the assumption that the settlement completely disposed of the case. In fact, claims against four defendants remain pending.

Under Rule 54(b), a district court may direct entry of a judgment disposing of fewer than all claims or parties if it “expressly determines that there is no just reason for delay.” The Court so finds, and directs the Clerk to enter partial final judgment in favor of Maurice Keshner and against Nursing Personnel in the amount of $185,962.12. The judgment shall bear interest at the governing rate of 0.13% per year until paid. See 28 U.S.C. § 1961(a).

SO ORDERED.
