
SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1913.

At the opening of Court The Chief Justice said:

It is my sad duty to announce to the gentlemen of the bar the death last night of Mr. James H. McKenney, the clerk of this court. He was associated for more than 50 years with the work of the court, and the expression of our sorrow needs no elaboration. As a mark of respect to his memory the court will do no further business to-day, and will adjourn until to-morrow morning.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1913.

ORDER: It is hereby ordered that James D. Maher be appointed clerk of this court in the place of James H. McKenney, deceased, and that he forthwith take the oath of office and give bond conditioned according to law.

The Chief Justice then said:

In entering the order appointing a clerk because of the death of Mr. McKenney, the court is unwilling to let the occasion pass without making some note on its records of the character of the services rendered by Mr. McKenney to the court and the country for so long a time, and also without expressing for permanent record the sorrow which the members of the court feel at the loss which has been occasioned by the death of Mr. McKenney. Mr. McKenney became connected with the work of the court as far back as 1858, first as a junior clerk, then as acting
