I. In General.

1. Courts-martial—Civilians—Uniform Code of Military Justice.—Former serviceman not subject to trial by court-martial for offense committed while in armed forces; Art. 3 (a) of Uniform Code of Military Justice unconstitutional. Toth v. Quarles, 11.

2. Self-incrimination—Immunity Act.—Immunity Act of 1954 valid; non-judicial function not imposed on District Court; federal immunity from state prosecution for crime valid. Ullmann v. United States, 422.

3. Necessary and Proper Clause—Federal prisoners—Mentally incompetent.—Validity of commitment, pursuant to statute, of person charged with federal offense who is mentally incompetent. Greenwood v. United States, 366.

II. Federal-State Relations.

1. National security—State sedition laws—Enforceability.—Federal Smith Act, prohibiting advocacy of overthrow of U. S. Government by force and violence, superseded Pennsylvania Sedition Act. Pennsylvania v. Nelson, 497.

2. Immunity Act—State prosecution.—Federal Immunity Act, concerned with national security, validly granted immunity from state prosecution. Ullmann v. United States, 422.

3. State taxation—Corporations—Federal obligations.—New Jersey tax was on corporate franchise and valid though federal obligations were included in measure of tax. Werner Machine Co. v. Director of Taxation, 492.

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW—Continued.III. Double Jeopardy.

What constitutes double jeopardy—Nature of proceeding—Surplus Property Act.—Recovery by United States under § 26 (b) (1) of Act was civil in nature and did not put twice in jeopardy one who had paid criminal penalties arising out of same transactions. Rex Trailer Co. v. United States, 148.

IV. Eminent Domain.

Navigation improvements—Just compensation—Water power.—Just compensation for lands taken by United States for navigation improvement does not include value of water power in flow of stream. United States v. Twin City Power Co., 222.

V. Full Faith and Credit.

Judgments—Divorce and alimony.—Ohio decree granting wife alimony did not deny full faith and credit to husband's Florida divorce decree which did not adjudicate right to alimony. Armstrong v. Armstrong, 568.

VI. Commerce.

1. Interstate commerce—Federal regulation—Hobbs Act.—Hobbs Act valid as within power of Congress to protect interstate commerce against injury from extortion. United States v. Green, 415.

2. Interstate commerce—Workmen's compensation laws.—Commerce Clause did not preclude Arizona from applying Arizona Workmen's Compensation Act to injury in Arizona, though employee of interstate carrier was covered by California law. Collins v. American Buslines, 528.

VII. Due Process of Law.

1. State employees—Federal privilege.—Summary discharge, pursuant to § 903 of New York City Charter, of public school teacher who invoked Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination, unconstitutional. Slochow v. Board of Higher Education, 551.

2. State taxation—Liens.—Constitutionality of State's priority of lien for highway use tax vis-à-vis security interests of conditional vendors. International Harvester Credit Corp. v. Goodrich, 537.

3. Criminal cases—Indictment.—Indictment of defendant in federal court valid though sole evidence before grand jury was hearsay. Costello v. United States, 359.

4. Criminal cases—State courts.—Louisiana law as to time for raising objections to composition of grand jury held valid as here applied. Michel v. Louisiana, 91.

5. Criminal cases—State courts.—Georgia law requiring defendant to raise objections to grand jury before indictment held invalid as here applied. Reece v. Georgia, 85.

6. Criminal cases—Right to counsel—State courts.—State prisoner's allegations of invalidity of conviction under Federal Constitution entitled him to hearing on habeas corpus petition in state court; hearing cannot be denied merely because allegations contradicted by prosecuting officers. Herman v. Claudy, 116.

7. Criminal cases—Right to counsel—State courts.—Due process denied where circumstances of appointment of counsel in capital case preclude effective aid. Reece v. Georgia, 85.

8. Criminal cases—Procedure.—Petitioner for habeas corpus in federal court entitled to hearing on complaint that state supreme court heard his appeal in capital case upon fraudulently prepared transcript of record. Chessman v. Teets, 3.

VIII. Equal Protection of Laws.

1. Racial discrimination—Public education.—Injunction which District Court issued but suspended pending appeal, reinstated so far as it restrains exclusion of petitioners from state university on ground of race or color. Lucy v. Adams, 1.

2. Racial discrimination—Graduate schools.—Negro entitled to prompt admission to graduate professional school of State, under rules and regulations applicable to other qualified candidates. Hawkins v. Board of Control, 413.
