

---

---

AMENDMENT TO
FEDERAL RULES OF APPELLATE PROCEDURE

---

Effective October 1, 1972

---

The following amendment to the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure was prescribed by the Supreme Court of the United States on April 24, 1972, pursuant to 18 U. S. C. §§ 3771 and 3772, and was reported to Congress by THE CHIEF JUSTICE on the same date. For the letter of transmittal, see ante, p. 980. The Judicial Conference report referred to in that letter is not reproduced herein.

This amendment became effective October 1, 1972, as provided in paragraph 2 of the Court's order, ante, p. 981.

For earlier publication of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure and the amendments thereto, see 389 U. S. 1063, 398 U. S. 971, and 401 U. S. 1029.

---

---

THE JOURNAL OF THE ROYAL ANTHROPOLOGICAL INSTITUTE

Volume 1, 1871

The following papers were read at the meetings of the Royal Anthropological Institute, held at the Royal Society, 1, Whitehall, London, during the year 1871.

1. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.

2. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.

3. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.

4. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.

5. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.

6. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.

7. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.

8. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.

9. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.

10. On the comparative anatomy of the human brain, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter.