REPORTER'S NOTE

The next page is purposely numbered 901. The numbers between 841 and 901 were intentionally omitted, in order to make it possible to publish the orders with permanent page numbers, thus making the official citations available upon publication of the preliminary prints of the United States Reports.

Summary of the

The first part of the report, entitled "The situation in the United States," contains a summary of the work of the Bureau of the Census for the year 1901. It is divided into two main parts, the first of which deals with the general conditions of the country, and the second with the results of the census. The second part of the report, entitled "The situation in the foreign countries," contains a summary of the work of the Bureau of the Census for the year 1901. It is divided into two main parts, the first of which deals with the general conditions of the foreign countries, and the second with the results of the census.
