William White has requested me as Circuit Justice to stay the judgment and mandate of the Supreme Court of Florida pending filing and disposition of his petition for a writ of certiorari. A state trial court convicted White of first-degree murder and sentenced him to death. The Florida Appellate Court upheld both the conviction and sentence. 41th So. 2d 719 (1982). It denied rehearing on July 5, 1982, and stayed the mandate until August 9, 1982, requiring White to seek any further stay from this Court.

In his application for a stay, filed by counsel, White requests that he intends to file a petition for a writ of certiorari because the judgment affirming the conviction and sentence is "in violation of [his] rights secured by the Constitution of the United States." His application does not suggest any legal specific basis for seeking the writ. The only recent ad-
