(Vol. 583 U. S.)

ANTITERRORISM AND EFFECTIVE DEATH PENALTY ACT OF 1996. See Habeas Corpus.

APPEALS.

Raising constitutional claims on direct appeal after a guilty plea.—A guilty plea, by itself, does not bar a federal criminal defendant from challenging constitutionality of his statute of conviction on direct appeal. Class v. United States, p. 174.

ARRESTS. See Qualified Immunity.

ASSET TRANSFERS PURSUANT TO CHAPTER 11 BANKRUPTCY PLAN. See Bankruptcy.

ATTORNEY'S FEES.

Attorney's fee awards in criminal cases—District courts.—In cases governed by 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(d), which provides that “a portion of [a prevailing prisoner's civil rights] judgment (not to exceed 25 percent) shall be applied to satisfy the amount of attorney's fees awarded against the defendant,” district courts must exhaust as much of judgment as necessary to satisfy statutory cap. Murphy v. Smith, p. 220.

AVOIDANCE OF PREFERENTIAL TRANSFERS. See Bankruptcy.

BANKRUPTCY.

1. Bankruptcy trustee's limited power to avoid transfers by a debtor—Safe-harbor provision for securities transfers.—When determining whether Bankruptcy Code § 546(e)'s securities safe harbor saves a transfer that trustee seeks to invalidate under trustee's “avoiding powers,” only relevant transfer is transfer that trustee seeks to avoid, not component parts of that transfer. Merit Management Group, LP v. FTI Consulting, Inc., p. 366.

2. Creditor also an “insider” of the debtor—Mixed questions of law and fact—Clear-error standard.—The Ninth Circuit was right to review the Bankruptcy Court's determination of non-statutory insider status for clear error (rather than de novo). U. S. Bank N.A. v. Village at Lakeridge, LLC, p. 387.

CAPITAL MURDER. See Habeas Corpus.

CIVIL RIGHTS. See Attorney's Fees.

CLEAN WATER ACT.

COLLECTIVE-BARGAINING AGREEMENTS.

Interpreting collective-bargaining agreements—Ordinary contract-law principles—Vesting of retiree benefits.—In interpreting an unambiguous collective-bargaining agreement, Sixth Circuit should have employed ordinary principles of contract law under M&G Polymers USA, LLC v. Tackett, 574 U.S. 427, instead of relying on inferences to presume that the agreement vested retiree benefits for life. CNH Industrial N. V. v. Reese, p. 133.

COMPENSATION FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES. See Attorney's Fees.

COMPETENCY. See Habeas Corpus.

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW.

Separation of Powers—Congress may not exercise judicial power—Law stripping federal courts of jurisdiction.—D. C. Circuit's judgment affirming dismissal of Patchak's suit—which challenged Interior Secretary's Indian Reorganization Act authority to take land into trust—for lack of jurisdiction in light of Congress' enactment of Gun Lake Trust Land Reaffirmation Act is affirmed. Patchak v. Zinke, p. 244.

Securities-law violations—Definition of “whistleblower.”—Act's anti-retaliation provision does not extend to an individual, like Somers, who has not reported a securities-law violation to SEC. Digital Realty Trust, Inc. v. Somers, p. 149.

HABEAS CORPUS.

1. Granting of habeas relief in capital case—Finding of competency to be executed.—Eleventh Circuit erred in granting habeas relief where state court's determination—that respondent was competent to be executed because he recognized that he would be put to death as punishment for murder he was found to have committed—was not an unreasonable application of this Court's case law nor an unreasonable assessment of evidence before it. Dunn v. Madison, p. 10.

2. Question of entitlement to certificate of appealability—Claim of juror's racial bias—Procedurally defaulted claim.—Eleventh Circuit erred in basing its refusal to issue a certificate of appealability in petitioner's habeas corpus case on ground that jurists of reason could not dispute correctness of District Court's ruling on petitioner's procedurally defaulted juror bias claim. Tharpe v. Sellers, p. 33.

3. Question of reasonable application of clearly established federal law—Amended complaint in criminal case.—Federal law as interpreted by this Court did not clearly establish that state court was required to impose lower sentence that respondent would have received under a criminal plea agreement but for State's amendment of criminal complaint. Kernan v. Cuero, p. 1

IMMIGRATION LAW.

Detention of undocumented immigrants—Entitlement to bond hearings.—Title 8 U. S. C. §§ 1225(b), 1226(a), and 1226(c) do not give detained Beaver County Employees Retirement Fund*, p. 416.

SENTENCING. See Habeas Corpus.

SEPARATION OF POWERS. See Constitutional Law.

SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY.

Jurisdictional immunity of foreign states—State sponsors of terrorism.—Title 28 U.S.C. § 1610(g) does not provide a freestanding basis for parties holding a judgment under § 1605A to attach and execute against foreign state's property; rather, for § 1610(g) to apply, property's immunity must be rescinded under a separate provision within § 1610. Rubin v. Islamic Republic of Iran, p. 202.

STATUTES OF LIMITATIONS.

1. Federal supplemental jurisdiction over state claims—Limitations period to refile state claim.—Title 28 U.S.C. § 1367(d)'s instruction to “toll” a state limitations period while a supplemental state-law claim is pending in federal court means to hold it in abeyance, i. e., to stop clock. Artis v. District of Columbia, p. 71.

2. Statute of limitations for filing notice of appeal—Treatment of extensions of time to file as jurisdictionally barred.—Seventh Circuit erred in treating as jurisdictional Federal Rule of Appellate Procedure 4(a)(5)(C)'s 30-day limitation on extensions of time to file a notice of appeal. Hamer v. Neighborhood Housing Servs. of Chicago, p. 17.
