CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Expressing the sense of Congress in support of National Days of Dialogue associated with the national celebration of the birth of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. to improve understanding and cooperation across race, ethnicity, culture, gender, religion and creed.

Whereas America is a pluralistic nation comprised of individuals of different races, ethnicity, cultures, genders, religions, and creeds;

Whereas this diversity is a source of strength for America, but also a source for forces that can pull the nation apart;

Whereas these forces play on uncertainty, prejudice, and ignorance to advance their cause at the expense of the greater social good which can flow by abiding to principles of tolerance, justice and equality;

Whereas silence perpetuates division, conscientious dialogue is a pre-requisite to resolving differences and ending prejudice because it not only increases understanding and cooperation, but also creates a context in which individuals can develop respect, empathy and compassion for one another;

Whereas such dialogue helps people to see others as unique individuals, not just as someone who is a particular race, ethnicity, culture, gender, religion, or creed;

Whereas such dialogue is an essential ingredient in our nation's ongoing effort to improve relations between individuals because it emphasizes listening and seeks to identify areas of agreement in order to bridge the divide that too often separates Americans;

Whereas such dialogue builds on the message of non-violence espoused and practiced by the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., who dedicated his life to bridging differences between people and addressing deeply rooted divisions;

Whereas the work of Dr. King created a basis of understanding and respect and helped communities, and the nation as a whole, to act cooperatively and courageously to restore tolerance, justice and equality between people;

Whereas the effectiveness of such dialogue has continually been demonstrated across the country during times of crisis, including successful efforts organized in Los Angeles following the polarizing effects of the Rodney King verdict and O.J. Simpson trials;

Whereas the convening of National Days of Dialogue, particularly in association with the celebration of the birth of Dr. King, will significantly increase the number of American citizens who take personal responsibility to improve understanding and cooperation by organizing small group dialogues in which individuals of different race, ethnicity, cultures, genders, religion and creed will both learn from each other and identify ways to work together to solve common problems;

Whereas National Days of Dialogue will help create a profound and positive shift in the nature of human relations in our country and lay the groundwork for the ongoing cooperation that is needed to solve difficult problems; Now, therefore, be it
